Greek Students Clash Before Ball

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A clash between police and thousands of Greek students trying to march on the U.S. and British embassies greeted Undersecretary of State George Ball on his Cyprus peace mission Monday.

Demanding union of Cyprus with Greece, the students demonstrated to underscore their opposition to the London-Washington plan for an international peace force to police Cyprus.

Ball was reported to have run into an unexpected check in trying to win Greek approval of the plan. He delayed his departure for Turkey, second stop on his mission.

Informed sources said Greece approved the peace force plan provided it first got approval of the U.N. Security Council. The Soviet Union, which opposes the peace force, could veto it in the council.

Government sources in Nicosia said the president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, was certain to reject the plan, unless the proposed force was placed under Security Council control. Makarios was said to have conferred with advisers on the best way to bring the Cyprus issue before the Security Council.

A British force has been trying to keep the peace between Turkish and Greek Cypriots, engaged in bloody clashes since last December. The United States and other Atlantic alliance nations would contribute soldiers to the peace force under the U.S.-British plan.

To meet Greek Cypriot objections, London and Washington agreed to some sort of link between the United Nations and the peace force, but have refused to consider Security Council control of it.

The clash between police and students erupted after Mayor Angelos Tsoukalas of Athens told a rally the Cyprus issue should be decided by residents of the island where Greek Cypriots outnumber Turkish Cypriots 4 to 1.

Student crowds, calling for union with Greece, hoisted placards reading: "We are ready for sacrifices, give us arms."

FOR JACK RUBY

Dallas Leaders Doubt Fair Trial

DALLAS (AP) — A series of defense witnesses, starting with the president of famous Neiman-Marcus store, testified today they doubt Jack Ruby could get a fair trial in Dallas on the charge that he murdered accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Stanley Marcus, president of the store, told chief defense lawyer Melvin Belli: "I have grave reservations whether the defense or the prosecution can get a fair trial in Dallas."

He said a fair trial would be "more likely some other place than here"—but he didn't know where.

"MOST DIFFICULT"

Clayton Fowler, president of the Dallas County Criminal Bar Association, told defense lawyers "it would be most difficult" to give Ruby a fair trial "while the nation is trying Dallas."

Ruby, 52, stepped out of a crowd of newsmen and shot Oswald to death on Nov. 24 as Oswald was being transferred from city jail to county jail. Oswald had been charged with murder in the assassination of President Kennedy and the killing of Dallas Patrolman J. D. Tippit two days earlier.

Fowler said he believes many people in Dallas feel "the two shootings were synonymous."

SECOND DAY

Marcus and Fowler testified in the second day of a hearing on a defense motion to move Ruby's trial to another city.

C. A. Drobny, a Dallas lawyer, testified he had represented Ruby at other times. Drobny said he received a threat on his own life the day Oswald was shot—after it became known the shooting was by Ruby, his former client.

Asked what he has learned from discussing the case with others, Drobny said: "They just feel like Jack Ruby must be convicted to clear Dallas' name. Let me put it this way—if I were to defend him I would want it moved out of Dallas County."

Ruby's murder trial is scheduled to begin here Monday. His defense is seeking a change of venue on grounds "there is a blueprint" in Dallas to deprive Ruby, 52, of a fair trial.

READY TO BEGIN

Belli said that if transfer is not granted, he will be ready to begin the trial on Monday.

Belli asked Marcus if a feeling that Ruby "brought down trouble on Dallas" might unconsciously play a part in deliberations as Dallas jurors.

Marcus replied: "There might be. . . . Dist. Atty. Henry Wade asked whether jurors in some other Texas city might not unconsciously try to protect the state's image."

"I don't think so," Marcus said. "Texas doesn't take this as a personal matter as Dallas does."

IMPARTIAL

Wade asked Marcus if he did not feel that 12 impartial jurors might be found among the one million residents of Dallas County.

"I think you could find anything in a million people," Marcus said, adding that he felt it would be more likely to find an impartial jury somewhere else.

LBJ Medicare Bill Locked In Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's main health proposal, enactment of a care plan for the elderly under Social Security, appeared to be locked today in the House Ways and Means Committee. Its predecessors have been locked there for years.

The committee plans sessions on the measure, perhaps as early as the first week of March but there was no sign that more than 12 of the 25 members' votes could be gained to send it to the House.

Friends and foes of the plan agreed its only chance—and a slim one—was that a compromise acceptable to Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., can be worked out.

HOSPITAL AID

However, another recommendation Johnson made in a special message to Congress Monday—a five-year extension and broadening of the program for federal help in building hospitals—had brighter prospects.

Chairman Orin Harris, D-Ark., of the House Commerce Committee, which handles hospital aid legislation, said "indeed we will" have hearings soon.

"We have to move fast because the present authorization expires June 30," Harris said.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, House Democratic leader, said he thinks the hospital program stands an excellent chance of enactment this year as it has "always been a popular program in Congress."

FINANCING

Johnson did not spell out his proposal for medical insurance for the elderly under Social Security financing. He presumably wants a program like the one the late President John F. Kennedy sought, which is embodied in the King-Anderson bill.

The bill calls for a guarantee of hospital, nursing home and some outpatient services to those over 65. The Social Security pay roll tax would be increased by one-quarter of 1 percent each on employers and employees and its coverage broadened to $4,800 of earnings to $5,700. For aged outside the Social Security System, general appropriations would pay the way.

NEW POLL TAX RECORD HERE

Final official Howard County poll tax and exemption certificate total is 11,458.

This is an all-time record high for the county. Nearest figure was in 1960 when the total hit 11,010.

Mrs. Zillah LeFevre, county tax collector - assessor, released the figures at noon Tuesday. She said there had been $385 poll tax receipts written and 2,373 exemption certificates issued. In addition to these voters, there are perhaps 1,000 additional voters in the rural areas, who are average and who vote without exemption certificates, in the rural boxes.

SURVIVORS OF AUSTRALIAN SHIP COLLISION
Crewmen of destroyer Voyager await rescue after ramming by carrier

Probe Ordered In Crash Claiming Aussie Warship

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies ordered a public investigation today in the sinking of Australia's first pushbutton destroyer, the Voyager, after a collision with the carrier Melbourne Monday night.

The navy said an air and sea search is continuing off the Australian coast for 85 missing crew members of the 2,500-ton destroyer. There were fears many went down with their ship. Nine of the Voyager's 17 officers were among the missing.

Calling the disaster shocking and unparalleled in Australia's peacetime naval history, Menzies said a normal navy inquiry was inadequate. He said he would appoint a judge to investigate.

IN HALF

The 20,000-ton Melbourne, the Australian navy's flagship, smashed into the Voyager amidship, breaking the destroyer in half. The Voyager's bow section sank within minutes. The after section remained afloat for nearly three hours.

The Voyager carried 324 officers and men. At least 239 were rescued.

No casualties were reported aboard the carrier. Its bow badly battered, the Melbourne continued under her own power to Sydney, 120 miles north. The collision occurred 20 miles off the coast, near the Jervis Bay naval base, shortly after 9 p.m.

Both ships were equipped with radar-controlled steering, and their modern equipment was a source of pride to the Australian navy.

LARGEST BUILT

The Voyager, launched in 1957

was the largest destroyer ever built in Australia. With her anti-aircraft guns as well as steering controlled by radar, the electronically guided vessel could go into action with all hands below deck.

Navy Minister Alexander J. Forbes said the accident occurred while the Melbourne's planes were carrying out touch-and-go exercises — swooping down on the deck, then taking off again without stopping.

The Voyager was standing by about a half mile astern of the Melbourne to pick up any fliers whose planes crashed into the sea.

The collision occurred as the Voyager cut across the Melbourne's bow when the carrier reversed course, Forbes said.

The Voyager's skipper, Capt. Duncan Stevens, was reported to have been on the bridge at the time. He is among the missing.

His widow found the body.

Killed By Rifle

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Virgil Harris, 53, was killed here today when a rifle he was reporting cleaning discharged. The bullet struck him in the head. His widow found the body.

ON ALASKA TRIP

Former Stanton Couple Dies In Auto Collision

STANTON (SC) — Two former Stanton residents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Robinson, were killed Saturday in a head-on highway collision in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, both U.S. Civil Service employees, were returning to Fairbanks, Alaska, after a month's vacation at Stanton. The wreck occurred near Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, and Stanton relatives were notified Monday. They left Stanton by auto Jan. 30.

Both Mr. Robinson and his wife, the former Ettie Henson, were reared in Stanton and attended schools here. They formerly owned and operated Stanton Cleaners. Mr. Robinson was active in Masonic affairs, and Mrs. Robinson was a member of Rebekah Lodge 287.

The couple had two sons, Jay Wayne Robinson, Fairbanks, and Morris Gale Robinson, Palo Alto, Calif.

cers and men. At least 239 were rescued.

No casualties were reported aboard the carrier. Its bow badly battered, the Melbourne continued under her own power to Sydney, 120 miles north. The collision occurred 20 miles off the coast, near the Jervis Bay naval base, shortly after 9 p.m.

Four Persons Injured In Two Howard Car Wrecks

Three young girls and a woman received injuries in two separate car wrecks within the past 24 hours.

Mrs. Marguerite Smith, 46, Box 302, received serious injuries about 8:30 o'clock this morning when her car crashed into an exit sign on IS 29 at Midway Road.

Injured when their car turned over on a farm to market road one mile south of Forsan about 7:15 p.m. Monday were: Linda Hodnett, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hodnett, Forsan; Carolyn McDaniels, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy McDaniels; Moss Creek Road; and Becky Forgas, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Forgas, 3101 Mesquite.

Investigating officers said Mrs. Smith apparently received serious injuries to the head and legs. She was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital for treatment by Nalley-Pickle ambulance. Hospital authorities said surgery was performed this morning.

A sales clerk for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, she was en route to work when the accident occurred, officers said.

Linda Hodnett and Carolyn McDaniels also were taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital and Becky Forgas was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation and Clinic by River-Welch ambulance. Hospital authorities said Linda and Carolyn were "doing pretty good."

Friends of the family said Linda sustained a fractured shoulder bone and Carolyn received lesser injuries. Becky Forgas received severe facial lacerations, but now is in excellent condition, according to hospital authorities.

Friends of the family said the girls all were in the same car. Linda Hodnett was operator of the vehicle. Officers said the vehicle apparently rolled over at least twice, and damage to the car was extensive.

The Kennedy Half Dollar

These are the front and reverse sides of the new half dollar honoring the late President John F. Kennedy. The coin bears a profile of Kennedy on its face. The presidential coat of arms forms the motif for the back of the coin. The Kennedy half dollar is not a commemorative coin, but is being turned out for regular distribution. The design was released today in Washington by the Treasury Department. (AP WIREPHOTO)

New Business Houses Going Up In Coahoma

COAHOMA—Work has started on two new business buildings in Coahoma. One will house six businesses, and the other will be a new lumber yard.

A restaurant, barber shop, real estate and insurance office, hardware store, women's dress shop, and a variety store will fill an $82,000 brick building being constructed on Broadway, just east of the Coahoma State Bank and post office. Leases have been signed for all six tenants of the 5,190 square foot building.

Jack Thorpe, Big Spring, and W. A. Brimberry and O. A.

Madison, both of Coahoma, are the builders.

Thorpe said the building would be all-electric, including refrigerated air conditioning and heating. Floors will be of terrazo tile, similar to the floors in the Howard County Courthouse. Brick color has not been decided.

Thorpe also said the building, financed through the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Big Spring, will be completed around May 15.

"We started work to secure a suitable lot and location about six months ago," he said.

"When we secured this we had to remove an old building from the location and clean off the area before work could start."

A new lumber yard, being built in by H. W. Brown, Ford Stockton, B. J. Cope, and T. R. Curlee, Colorado City, will be built on the US 80 access road at the western end of the Coahoma overpass. The business will be on a 120x200 lot purchased from Tom and Maryann Barker, with the Coahoma State Bank aiding in financing the new business.

"The new lumber yard will replace one burned about a year and a half ago," Bill Read, president of the bank, said.

Webb Airmen Do Same Things, Go Same Places

For the past 21 years the Neisig brothers, Tom and Jerry, have been doing much the same things and going to the same places. That is only logical since they are twins.

On Feb. 1 they matched each other again as both sewed a second stripe on their uniforms. Tom and Jerry are heavy equipment operators with the Base Transportation Division at Webb Air Force Base.

Tom Neisig was born Jan. 27, 1943 at 6:55 a.m. His brother, Jerry Neisig, was born two minutes later. From that day on, the two have been virtually inseparable.

They were together from the time they first chased one another to the same grade school until they graduated from Mary Carrol High School in Corpus Christi in May, 1962. Three months later they joined the Air Force and for the first time it looked as though they might be separated. They had intended to enlist under the "Buddy Plan," but forgot to turn in the slip of paper which said so. Fortune was with them, however, and when Class 3703 convened at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Airman Basic Tom Neisig and Airman Basic Jerry Neisig found themselves sitting opposite one another in the same room.

Assignments following completion of basic training brought up the hazard of a split-up again, but a check of their transfer orders showed that both read "3560th Support Squadron, Transportation Division, 3560th Pilot Training Wing, Webb Air Force Base, Texas."

Tom and Jerry, with their families, live at 818 W. 7th, Airman 2.C. Tom B. Neisig is married to the former Gladys Faye Gallia, and Airman 2.C. Jerry H. Neisig is married to the former Jannett Faye Rodgers. Both are formerly of Corpus Christi.

Library Fund Nears Million

BOSTON (AP) — Nearly $1 million has been contributed to the proposed John F. Kennedy Memorial Library.

The Merchants National Bank, which is receiving donations, said the total reached $979,215 last weekend.

The $10 million library will house the assassinated President's papers and correspondence. It will be built adjacent to the Harvard Business School.

The bank said the contributions range from $250,000 from a charitable fund to 11 cents.

Puzzle of Monday, February 16, Solved

Unity Of Organization

"There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father . . ." (Eph. 4:4-6).

So we learn there is one body, just as there is one God. Of course there are many religious bodies in the world, as there are many gods which are worshipped.

"For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) but to us there is but one God . . ." (I Cor. 8:5, 6).

There is but one God to us who follow the Scriptures. It is also true that there are many religious bodies; but to us there is but one body. I Cor. 12:20 specifically states, "yet but one body."

"There is one body (Eph. 4:4); "but one body" (I Cor. 12:20). What could be plainer?"

Once Easy To-Approach Bobby Baker Hard To Find

WASHINGTON (AP)— Bobby G. Baker for years seemed part of the Senate's background. For senators and newsmen alike he was an easily approached and helpful source of information about legislative activities.

If you had to know the why and whereof, it was, "Ask Bobby, he'll know"—and he usually did and would help. A nice looking young man, he was soft voiced, seldom ruffled, the very picture of youthful confidence and competence.

Since he resigned last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, and came under Senate investigation, he has been a hard man to catch up with in person or by telephone.

He apparently travels quite a bit now, sometimes under an assumed name. A friend describes him as still in "good spirits" and quite a busy man.

He is 35, but seems younger, and the name Bobby fits him well. He says he was born Bobby G. not Robert G., and the G. stands for Gene. Practically no one who knows him calls him Robert, although in recent years he sometimes signed documents as Robert G. Baker.

A one-time Senate page boy from Pickens, S.C., Baker rose to the position of secretary to the Democratic majority in 1955. He resigned the post, after a $300,000 damage suit by a local vending machine company raised questions about his outside business and financial dealings.

The Senate Rules Committee is now in the midst of an investigation of whether he engaged in activities that conflicted with his Senate duties or involved other improprieties.

The committee's special counsel, L. P. McLendon, has reported that Baker has refused to talk with staff investigators.

Silent Coronary Artery Ailment Hits Millions

NEW YORK (AP)— Several million American men are walking around with silent coronary artery disease, two heart specialists said today.

This means arteries carrying blood to the heart muscle have started to narrow to a significant degree. This sets the stage for many heart attacks, which occur when the blood flow becomes blocked.

Some men have even had infarct heart attacks with no pain or any other signs, said Drs. Arthur Master of New York City and Arthur Beller of Englewood, N.J.

They urged all men over age 35 to have annual checkups, including X rays, to detect signs of the artery disease.

The checkup also should include electrocardiograms taken during or immediately after mild exercise, such as a two-step test or treadmill workout, the physicians told the New York State Medical Society.

An electrocardiogram taken when a person is lying down can fail to show signs of the underlying artery disease, they said.

They cited reports that 40 to 80 per cent of electrocardiograms taken during rest of persons with angina pectoris — caused by narrowed arteries — look quite normal. The angina patient gets pain on exertion or under emotional stress.

If silent disease is found, men can greatly improve their chances of escaping heart attacks by moderate changes in living habits, Dr. Master said.

JFK Feared Atom Danger To Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — The specter of a nuclear war snuffing out the lives of children — "who had no part and knew nothing of the confrontation" — was John F. Kennedy's greatest fear in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, his brother has disclosed.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said in a new foreword to the late president's book "Profiles in Courage" that he and his brother recognized the possibility of being killed but this "seemed so unimportant, almost frivolous."

"The one matter which really was of concern to him and truly had meaning and made that time much more fearful than it would otherwise have been," said the attorney general, "was the specter of death of the children of this country and around the world — the young people who had no part and knew nothing of the confrontation, but whose lives would be snuffed out like everyone else's."

NO CHANCE

"They would never have been given a chance to make a decision, to vote in an election, to run for office, to lead a revolution, to determine their own destinies," Kennedy added.

The late president wrote the Pulitzer Prize-winning "Profiles in Courage" when hospitalized in 1954-55 with a critical recurrence of his wartime back injury. A new edition of the book was published today by Harper & Row. The text of Kennedy's foreword is in the current Look magazine.

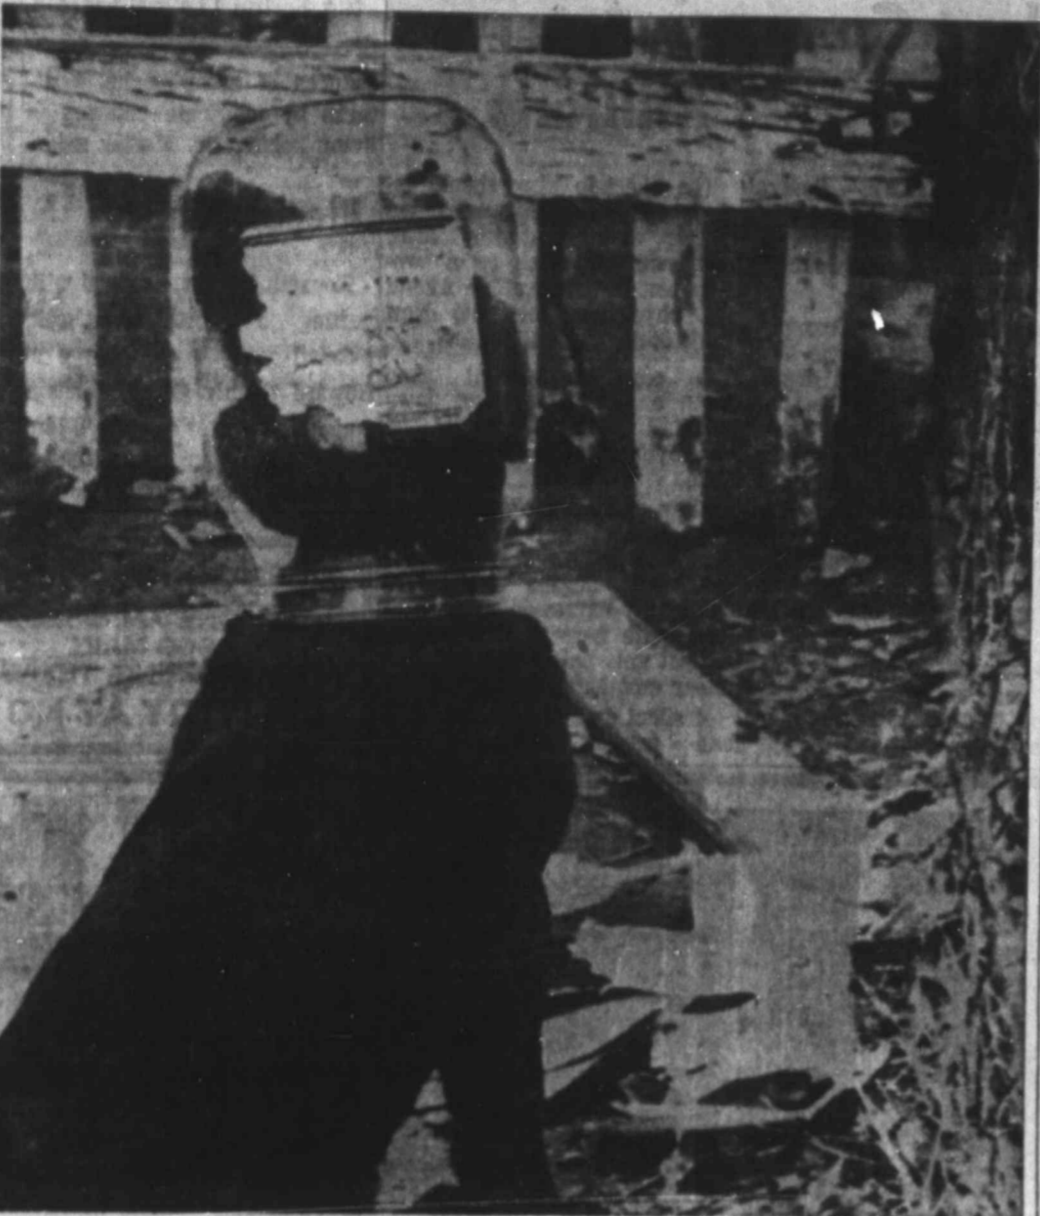

The attorney general finished writing it Dec. 18 — 28 days after the president was assassinated. In effect it, too, is a profile of courage.

INTENSE PAIN

"President Kennedy would be 47 in May of 1964," writes the attorney general. "At least one half of the days that he spent on this earth were days of intense physical pain. He had diphtheria when he was young, serious back trouble when he was older. In between, he had almost every other conceivable ailment."

But Kennedy says he never heard his brother complain, "never heard him say anything which would indicate that he felt that God had dealt with him unjustly."

"Those who knew him well would know he was suffering only because his face was a little whiter, the lines around his eyes were a little deeper, his words a little sharper. Those who did not know him well detected nothing."

Glass Doors Have Dangerous Aspect

Don't walk through a glass door or panel without opening it. It can be painful, downright dangerous, and definitely expensive.

An average of one person a month goes through glass in business building or home in the city, according to estimates of Western Glass and Mirror. Small children account for most of the home glass breakage.

The FHA now requires bars across glass doors or panels at eye level or below, or the temper-plate type glass installed in homes. Bars provide visual obstructions and the temper-plate glass is shatter-proof under normal pressure, or under sudden impact.

Some examples of happenings in Big Spring are:

Big Spring industrial firm when a man walked through a panel (now shielded by a large potted plant); drive-in grocery, when a customer used a glass panel instead of the door (now has a planter box and other visible obstructions); YMCA building, where glass panels were broken; and in several homes.

"An estimated 40 thousand persons a year try to walk through glass doors," Dr. J. E. Peavy, Texas State Department of Health, said in a bulletin this week. "Also included are glass walls and picture windows. Almost six thousand end up in the hospital, and some even die from severe cuts and loss of blood."

"Interestingly enough, on a statewide basis, over two-thirds of the glass door injuries occur to males. Children from five to 14 years account for one-third of injuries."

Chief In Hospital For X-Ray Check

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker was admitted to Medical Arts Clinic Hospital Sunday morning. X-rays of his stomach were to be taken Tuesday.

"I'll be out of here in a few days," he said Monday.

Local Rodeo Wins Sanction

The Rodeo Cowboys Association and The Girls Rodeo Association each have given official sanction to the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo this year.

This means that points earned in the Big Spring show will count toward the world championship for both cowboys and the girl contestants in barrel racing, pole bending, etc. Sanction opens the way for participation of some of the top performers in the country, E. F. Driver, secretary, pointed out. The rodeo this year will be held in the rodeo bowl in western Big Spring on June 2-5-6.

Water Recreation Group Preparing Final Report

HOUSTON (AP)—The governor's water recreation study committee has held the last of four public hearings across the state and now will draft a report for presentation to Gov. John Connally.

W. Marvin Watson, Daingerfield, chairman of the study committee, said Monday his group will begin drawing up its recommendations in Austin next week.

He said the public hearing held in Houston Monday marked the close of the six-month study. He said, however, sportsmen and other citizens who have suggestions for using Texas beaches and other water recreation facilities have until Monday to make themselves heard by writing the committee in Austin.

At a hearing Monday, R. C. Gusman, mayor of Bay City, said the Lower Colorado River Authority has set aside $210,000 for an Army Engineers study of the Highland Lakes region and the "waste water" areas near the Gulf.

"If we expect to get the tourists like Florida, we've got to get recreation facilities in these areas," he said.

"Matagorda County has 8,000 miles of river and bayou beaches, and 23 miles of river highway to the Gulf beaches. You can drive 70 miles per hour on those beaches below the four-mile dam, and there are hundreds of thousands of miles around the Gulf to attract tourists," he said.

"We have the potential. Now all we need is a little state help, a few jetties for the fishermen and the tourists will come."

Stick Horse Idea Gets Response

Making a contribution toward good will among peoples of the earth is the object of a project that was initiated by a 12-year-old boy in 1960. He calls it "Operation Friendship."

It began when Roddy Reynolds, son of School Superintendent R. W. Reynolds, Putnam, sent a hand-made stick horse he named Gold Dust on the "trail" to commemorate the 100th Anniversary of the Pony Express. An explanatory note was fastened to Gold Dust, stating that his mission was to "ride" all over the country in commemoration of the Pony Express Centennial.

To get Gold Dust started, Roddy left him at a roadside stop on US 66, east of Albuquerque, N.M. July 28, 1960. People were cooperative in playing the game and in seven months, Gold Dust had "carried the mail" to hundreds of places on five continents.

On March 13, 1961, Gold Dust came home from Johannesburg, South Africa, loaded with souvenirs, notes, and reports of honors he received. He also carried some pictures showing him posing with dignitaries from over the world.

After the excitement had subsided, it was decided that Gold Dust should ride again since he had been a good ambassador. After some consideration, it was decided that Gold Dust II would make the second trip.

So five months after Gold Dust came home, Roddy dispatched Gold Dust II to finish the "commemoration run" as he bears the motto: "My business is to make friends." This pony is still on the "trail." He has traveled through much of Europe, Japan, islands of the South Pacific, stopping at hundreds of places.

Written messages of good will in the log book Gold Dust II carries in his saddle bag has this example from the 84-year-old mayor of Maryborough, Queensland:

"Hi, young Roddy. Congratulations on your gee gee. He certainly has traveled and it is Maryborough's wish that his tour will help to bring a friendly spirit among all nations he passes through. We hope that he will cause good will and teamwork to be maintained for all. Good luck and a happy future. Yours sincerely, Bob Hunter, Mayor."

Roddy and the Gold Dusts have been honored by both state and national legislatures. He has received commendations from President Johnson, 39 of the 50 governors and others. Roddy has enough "messages of friendship" to fill two big books.

Recently the venture has taken on a new dimension: Roddy began a "World Friendship Wreath" to include artificial flowers sent in by anyone who has seen the "horse." Although he has just begun, it has received a good start with contributions coming in from Viet Nam.

Editor Predicts 10-Year Problem

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mississippi newspaper editor Hodding Carter said in an interview published Monday "I have hopes that before 10 years, the problem of racial segregation will be overcome."

"The situation is changing favorably," Carter said in the interview, published by Excelsior, a Mexico City morning newspaper.

He predicted President Johnson will win the coming presidential election "especially if the Republicans put up Barry Goldwater."

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Mr. and MRS. LARRY SHORTES and their children, Connie, Lynn and Larry Chris of Plainview were weekend visitors with the RAY SHORTESES and Jerry and MR. and J. P. GORDON. The young family was transferred to Plainview recently by Pioneer Gas Co. Their address there is 301 Zephyr St.

Visiting in the home of MR. and MRS. WILL BARON is her mother, MRS. PAUL MURPHY, of Columbus, O. Mrs. Murphy has been here a week and will likely stay several more.

We enjoyed having the WACIL MCHAIRS and their two sons, Terry and Lee, visit us Sunday from their home in Snyder.

While the men talked new oil wells and drove to the site of one we women entertained ourselves by going through the new houses that were open for inspection.

The families whose homes face on Washington Boulevard have come to the aid of their parkway. When the city decided to remove the forsythia, pyracantha and pampas grass from the center of the parkway they planned to fill the area with heavy gravel and large washed rocks. Some of the project had been completed before a hastily gathered committee got up the money to assist the city in putting in some sort of greenery.

While the rocks are pretty in some areas such as the intersection at Wasson Road and Marcy Drive where the cactus plants are used, Washington Boulevard residents found the rocks were too tempting to the youngsters who continually threw them into the streets and the yards.

Foundation Work Told

The Social Order of the Beauceant, social equivalent of Knights Templar, met Monday evening in the Masonic Temple with 18 in attendance. Mrs. E. J. Mann, worthy president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. O. L. Nabors reported on the dinner served by the group to the Knights Templar Feb. 7, where an annual inspection and exemplification of the work of the order was held.

A report was read from the Beauceant chairman of the Eye Foundation of the Supreme Assembly concerning the work of the Knights Templar Eye Foundation. It was noted that during the past year $16,792.22 was donated by the Social Order of Beauceant of the World to aid the blind.

Mrs. Harry Middleton will present the program Feb. 23.

Wendell Payte was chosen beau of the event and Mrs. Melvin Brown won the title of sweetheart. Rev. Clyde Campbell was guest speaker and showed slides of his European travels.

Those attending wore Hawaiian costumes. The room was decorated with palm trees and low tables carried out the island motif. Mrs. Preach True was dressed in an authentic native dress. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boatler were special guests.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Fill Plastic Freezer Bag The Easy Way

Dear Heloise: I had a terrible time filling plastic freezer bags with fruit (especially strawberries) until those wonderful wide-mouth quart jars were invented.

Now, I just put the correct amount of fruit (or whatever I am freezing) in the wide-mouth quart jar, fit the plastic bag over and around the top of the jar and flip the jar upside down. The fruit goes into the bag neatly... with no spills.

Be sure to hold the bag firmly on the jar before turning it over. So easy. No mess at all... Marsha Ridgeway

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: Here is a trick I do with my children's play mitts:

I cut the top and the foot off my husband's old socks and sew the "tube" to the wrist of the mittens. This makes the mittens longer and keeps the cold air and snow from the little ones' wrists.

I also make long mitts, up to the elbow, out of old wool socks. These are very nice for children to wear while playing during cold weather... Mrs. I. Fowler

Why doesn't some manufacturer just make a mitten up to our elbows? Great idea... Heloise.

Dear Heloise: When we recently moved into a lovely home, the wallpaper had to be scraped from the walls before we could repaper. Taking the paper off was no problem at all.

But... then came the colossal job of scrubbing the glue off the ceilings and walls of three rooms.

I was hard at work with a scrub brush, and getting very little accomplished, when your article about the nylon net mop flashed through my mind! I was so desperate that I went so far as to rip the net underskirt from my daughter's dress.

Wow! I felt as if I had inherited two extra days in time saved.

The glue was loosened quickly and painlessly. I put a liquid cleaner in my water and wet the area first with a cloth. The reason for this is that the net does not absorb water.

Then I took the netting and went over the area that had been dampened. The glue and remaining pieces of paper came off quick as a flash and the netting rinsed off easily.

I had tried metal sponges, but they took so long to rinse out that it was not worth it. Soap-filled pads were the same. With the net I did not even have to use hot water... Phyllis

You are wonderful to tell us this. The next time you "unpaper," try putting an old piece of terry cloth (such as a piece of old bath towel) inside the nylon netting. Then you won't have to wet the walls before scrubbing... Heloise

Dear Heloise: When I dry my nylon stockings outdoors, I pin the toes to the clothesline, leaving the tops hanging down.

I attach two or three clothespins to the top of each stocking. The weight holds the stockings down and keeps them from getting tangled under the clothesline... Mrs. Orlo Sasman.

Chamber Directors Hear Industrial Contact Reports

Reports on several contacts with potential industrial prospects were heard at the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting Monday.

Carroll Davidson, manager, detailed to the board several visits made on the strength of contacts suggested locally and elsewhere. He urged all residents of the city to supply the Chamber with suggested prospects.

"You are in a position to furnish leads," he said, adding that no one ever knows what fruit the follow-up will bear. Some time they lie fallow for a long time and then mature, he added, but they have no chance at all unless someone makes the initial suggestion.

Marvin Springer, city planner under the Master Plan program, has offered to develop a scheme for the Industrial Foundation's 200-acre tract east of town, President John F. Taylor reported. This may suffice instead of a detailed master-plan for the tract. Petrofina has asked for eight acres out of the tract rather than for five requested originally, but no definite announcement has come from the company as to plans for a truck terminal on the site.

Meantime, Taylor urged representation at a West Texas Chamber of Commerce Industrial conference Thursday in Midland.

Directors accepted with thanks, an offer from Ted McClung to furnish, for cost of operation only, a plane to be used in making industrial contacts.

Carlton Chapman reported that the conference in Washington with U. S. Department of Agriculture officials on research and release of new cotton pesticides had been rescheduled for Feb. 24-25.

Presentation of a T-Bird (T-33 airplane) by the Air Force to Big Spring will take place at 3 p.m. Feb. 24 on the HCJC campus, Champ Rainwater reported.

The board was reminded that Student Government Day, when young people will take over the reins of government, will be March 6.

Taylor said a committee had been set up and was at work to make a reevaluation of dues to the Chamber. It is felt that perhaps some concerns ought to be invited to have a more substantial share in the chamber program in view of their growth and development, he said.

Den Preparing For Banquet

Preparation of decorations for a Blue and Gold Banquet took up most of a meeting held Monday by Den 1, Pack 48. The group met in the home of Mrs. Andrew Baker.

Also, the Cub Scouts practiced Scouting fundamentals. The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Van Johnson. Dwayne Baker conducted the closing ceremony.

May 8 was agreed upon as a date for Big Spring to send a delegation to Austin for a one-day industrial seminary with the Texas Industrial Commission.

Civil Rights Bill's Provisions Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the main provisions of the House civil rights bill:

TITLE I—VOTING

The attorney general would be empowered to request a three-judge court to hear cases charging a denial of voting rights. An argument made for this provision was that cases are now heard by a single judge and delays of more than three years have resulted from their failure to act.

Registrars would be required to apply uniform qualification standards to white and Negro voters, and no voter could be disqualified for immaterial errors in qualification procedure.

A person with at least a sixth-grade education would be presumed to possess sufficient literacy to vote in any federal election.

All provisions apply only to federal elections.

TITLE II

PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS
All races would be entitled to equal services and facilities at certain places specifically mentioned, such as hotels, motels, restaurants, gasoline stations, theaters, and retail establishments that include eating facilities. In addition, coverage also would be extended to all public accommodations in which discrimination or segregation is supported by state action.

The attorney general would be authorized to bring a civil action seeking an injunction to halt any violations. No criminal penalties are provided, but a person continuing to violate a court order would be liable to contempt proceedings.

TITLE III

PUBLIC FACILITIES
The attorney general could bring suit to desegregate any public facilities owned, operated or managed by a state or local government. It is designed to cover such things as parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries.

In addition, the attorney general could intervene in any suit brought by a private party seeking equal protection under the law, as guaranteed by the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

TITLE IV—SCHOOLS

The attorney general would be authorized to sue to compel school desegregation. Both under this and under the previous title, many conditions must be met for the filing of suits, including receipt of a written complaint and a determination that the individual is unable to bring the suit himself.

The commissioner of education would be authorized to grant funds to help school districts carry out desegregation plans. The help would have to be requested by the local school officials.

TITLE V—COMMISSION

Extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission four more years to Sept. 30, 1968, and grant it new powers to serve as a national clearing house for information on matters involving discrimination.

TITLE VI—FEDERAL FUNDS
This would authorize federal agencies to take affirmative action to end segregation and other discriminatory practices in federally assisted programs. The action would be left to each agency to determine for itself and includes the power to cut off the funds. The course of action taken by each agency would have to be approved by the President.

TITLE VII—EMPLOYMENT
A Federal Employment Opportunity Commission would be created to investigate complaints of discrimination in employment activities because of race, religion, national origin or sex, by businesses or labor unions with 25 or more employees or members.

The commission would be empowered to seek voluntary compliance in cases in which it found discrimination but, voluntary compliance failing, could go into court and ask an enforceable order.

TITLE VIII—STATISTICS

The secretary of commerce would be directed to conduct a survey to compile registration and voting statistics by race, color and national origin, in areas specified by the Civil Rights Commission.

TITLE IX—COURTS

This would provide for an appeal from a federal court order returning a civil rights case to a state court.

TITLE X—MISCELLANEOUS
Several technical details are wrapped up in this section, including authorization for funds to carry out the act and prevent any conflicts between the act and existing laws.

WHAT KIND OF HEADACHE?

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.
To many people, excitement or any emotional disturbance will cause a headache. Fear, worry, overwork, loss of sleep or any other condition that saps the patient's vitality may result in a headache. In such cases the victim's reserve of vital energy is usually below par and the least deviation from the sufferer's normal life results in a headache.

Headaches may be located in different parts of the head, its location usually indicates the part of the body from which the headache originates. Other symptoms may confirm this reflex condition and a thorough spinal examination will reveal abnormalities or displacement of the spinal bones.

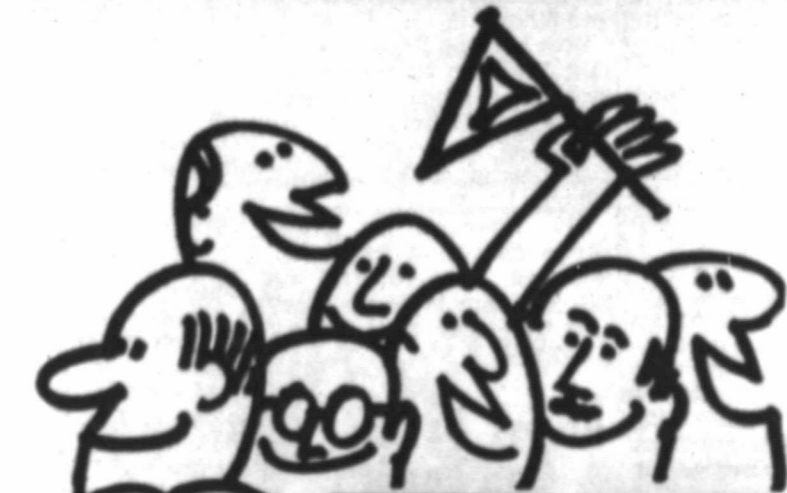

These displacements, by causing a pressure on the spinal nerves leading to the affected organs, interfere with the normal flow of vital energy necessary for their proper functioning, resulting in nerve root irritation and in turn, resulting in a headache. Irregularity of function must be traced to its source and corrected. Chiropractic adjustments correct the cause.

Take this case that came to our office over two years ago: This 41-year-old woman had repeatedly suffered from headaches—here today—gone tomorrow; never knowing just when her head was going to ache and to what degree the pain would be. She came at a time her head was hurting quite a bit. We examined and found the cause—and when she left the office the headache was gone. Each time she would push too hard in some manner, her headache would come back, but the headaches left as she learned how to live and as her spine strengthened. No. 1300.

You, too, can have your spine checked and the cause of your headaches removed. Call the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic across from Piggly Wiggly, AM 3-3324, for an appointment.

Co-Ops Favor Farm Support

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Foundation of Cooperatives has gone on record favoring continuance of government farm programs needed to stabilize agricultural income.

This stand was taken in resolutions passed Monday by representatives of the more than 500 cooperative members of the farmer federation.

Several allied organizations are holding a joint annual meeting here which ends today.

Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White, principal speaker at Monday's session, urged unity in agriculture and said the agricultural organizations in the state should form a common farm group which could speak for all of agriculture.

He said such an organization also should include representatives of groups which service agriculture.

He said a closer relationship should be established between farm organizations and business leaders.

This opportunity, White said, offers farm organization leaders one of the greatest challenges they have ever faced.

Bid Recommendations Expected On Sewer Line

Recommendations on bids received for Beal's Branch trunk sewer line are expected at a meeting of the city commission set for 7 p.m. today.

Clyde Construction Company, Odessa, is apparent low bidder on the proposed line with a base bid of $588,378. This bid is over $100,000 higher than a bid of $482,799 received in March 1962. Approved bond funds for the project total $327,000.

The recommendation will be made by representatives of Forrest and Cotton, consulting engineers for the city.

Another recommendation also is expected. It is for bids received on a series of retention dams and roadway base in the Edwards Estate Area. The apparent low bidder for this project was the W. D. Caldwell Construction Company, Big Spring, with a low bid of $131,790.88 for 44-foot retention dams and $154,955 for 64-foot widths.

Estimates by Clifton N. Bellamy, consulting engineer, prior to opening of the bids were about $20,000 higher than the actual apparent low bid received.

At the last commission meeting, the city governing body went on record approving the 64-foot width for roadway base, assuring Caldwell the city favored this width if a contract is let.

The First National Bank of Dallas, the city's fiscal agent, is expected to give a recommendation on the sale of Master Plan bonds. Commissioners have authorized the sale of $400,000 in revenue bonds on Feb. 25.

Other items on the agenda: (1) authorization for acceptance of condemnation of property on Mischler Street, (2) authorization to take bids on radio equipment, (3) authorization to take bids on three vehicles for police department, (4) authorization to take bids on sewer cleaning equipment, (5) resignation of Johnny Johnson from the park and recreation board, (6) consideration of change in taxicab rates, (7) consideration of zone changes on property owned by Ike Robb and W. A. Moore.

Choir Boosters Launch Member Drive Thursday

The Big Spring Choir Boosters Association will kick off its membership drive Thursday at 7 p.m. The city will be divided into sections, and students from the two junior highs and the senior high school will be covering the city. The membership fee is $1 per year.

The Choir Boosters organization was established last autumn to further the development of choral music in Big Spring. The association arranges concerts for various civic organizations, thus furnishing entertainment for the clubs and promoting the choral program.

The association also helps raise money for certain things that the local school system cannot provide. Awards are presented to students who have demonstrated high ability and willingness to work in the choir.

The association is presently raising money for the senior high capella choir's transportation to Los Angeles. The choir and the band have been invited to present a joint concert on the campus of UCLA.

The booster organization noted that this trip will be educational and inspirational for the students as well as good public relations for the school and community. Choir members, aided by parents, will seek to cover the city from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday.

Coahoma Students Enter Honor Society Ranks

COAHOMA (SC)—Eleven junior and senior high school students this morning were inducted into the National Honor Society here during ceremonies before the student body, their parents and special guests.

Five sophomores were presented as probationary members. The ceremonies were held at the high school auditorium.

The new members were called forward and given a carnation and a candle to be lighted from candles symbolizing scholarship, service, leadership and character, the attributes on which Honor Society members are selected.

Jim Shafer, president of the society, welcomed the new members and explained the purpose of the select group. Dwayne Fraser, Carolyn Wilson, Jim Shafer and Beatrice Torres, all senior members of the group, each discussed a different attribute of the honor student.

A reception was held in the student activity room after the ceremonies for new members, their parents and guests.

Inducted were Sandy Clanton, Cheryl Childers and James Polard, all seniors; and juniors Carolyn Conway, Judy Firezza, Olen Fryar, Martha Love, Leitha Mason, Tommy Menser.

Gym Night For Y-Indian Guides

The Y-Indian Guide Longhouse has scheduled a father and son gym night to begin at 7:15 p.m. today, Curtis Mullins, general secretary, said. Approximately 125 boys and dads will take part, and the families and friends are invited to see the fun.

Mullins said there were to be relays and races, but that the Chiefs' chariot races and the salmon swim would attract a lot of attention.

"The chariot races will feature the chief sitting on the little 12-inch square gym scooters and the braves pulling him across the gym," he said.

"Then the salmon swim will find the fathers and sons on their stomachs, on the scooters, going across the gym without letting their feet touch the floor. The most fun will come from the fathers who have grown a little around the waistline."

The salmon swim will be divided according to ages.

Coahoma Drops Out Of County Spelling Bee

The Howard County Second Annual Spelling Bee will not have representatives from the Coahoma Schools this year, according to Andy Wilson, Coahoma Independent School District superintendent.

"I have talked the matter over with my principals," Wilson said Tuesday. "They felt it would be more advantageous to us to concentrate our spelling activities on the Interscholastic competition this spring. As a result we do not intend to have entrants in the County Spelling Bee."

Decision of Coahoma to remain out of the competition will limit the spelling contest here on March 21 to champions from the Big Spring schools, Forsan County L I n e Independent Schools and to the parish school of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Pay Hike OK'd On Split Vote

A proposal to increase the pay of the two Big Spring justices of the peace by $22.50 a month was approved by the Howard County Commissioners Court at its Monday meeting. The vote was 3 to 1. Joe Hayden voted against the pay increase.

The two justices had appeared before the court in January with a request that their pay be increased. The application was approved but the law required it to be advertised for 30 days before final action. The 30-day period has expired. The pay boost is applicable with the payments for work in February.

James Grant Pleads Guilty

James Grant, charged with writing a worthless check, was sentenced to five days in County jail and a fine of $25 when he pleaded guilty in Howard County court. Wayne Burns, county attorney, recommended the sentence and Judge Lee Porter followed his recommendation.

Walkout Hits Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati School Board reported today there was approximately 35 per cent absenteeism as Negro civil rights groups staged a one-day boycott of public schools in protest of alleged de facto segregation.

The boycott went off peacefully through the forenoon. The school board said its tabulation showed 26,455 absenteeism normally is 10 to 12 per cent.

The board had no immediate figures as to how many who remained away from classes were Negroes.

The Congress of Racial Equality is sponsoring the boycott. Extra police were on duty although civil rights leaders continued to call for nonviolence.

School officials have denied the charge of segregation and have refused to go along with a request to appoint a biracial commission to study the charges.

About 37 per cent of the 83,000 students in public schools are estimated to be Negro.

There have been no previous boycotts in Cincinnati, which was the scene of a massive civil rights march last fall.

Cotton Forum Set Feb. 20

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Lone Wolf Electric Co-op, Colorado City, will sponsor a forum on cotton growing for profit in Mitchell and Nolan counties at the Lorex Theatre in Loraine, Feb. 20 at 1:30 p.m. The meeting is open to all farmers and to those interested in better farming practices and irrigated farming, according to James Hall, director of public relations for the Co-op.

The panel, with each speaker limited to 15 minutes, will include James H. Valentine, area soil chemist; Donald R. Rummel, area entomologist; Robert W. Berry, area plant pathologist; Wayne Keise, agricultural engineer; David W. Sherrill, irrigation specialist; John J. Selbert, area farm management specialist and John H. Shanklin, REA agricultural engineer and Myron W. Merchant, REA field representative, as special guests.

Trustees To Talk On Building Plans

Proposed expansion plans for the senior high school will come in for closer scrutiny tonight at a 7:30 p.m. meeting of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District. It will be held at 100 E. 10th.

Already the subject of much discussion, trustees are now at the point where they have to begin hacking away at the ideal high school to develop a plan which will meet the educational requirements of local youngsters, yet remain within the financial capability of the district.

The district can spend some $5 1/2 million maximum and trustees are seeking to keep upgrading of elementary and junior high schools, as well as the high school plan, within that figure, or below it.

Another subject slated for discussion tonight is the arrangement for collecting delinquent taxes. A committee of trustees tonight will report its recommendations for handling the collection contract and treatment of the accounts.

Salaries and contracts of administrative personnel, including that of Donald Robbins, athletic director, will come up for review and possible renewal at the meeting.

Other business will include a contract for a driver education car, approval of the 1964-65 school calendar, setting an open textbook adoption hearing, discussion of an agreement with the county on collection of taxes for the Gay Hill and Center Point areas and discussion of the coming district and county school board elections.

Grand Jury To Convene Wednesday

Howard County grand jury will reconvene Wednesday at 10 a.m. to act on a request of Gil Jones, district attorney, to re-indict Emzie Woodard, charged with murder.

Jones said he had requested Judge Ralph Caton to recall the grand jurors and that the members of the body were being notified today of the assignment.

Woodard, who was slated to have gone on trial Monday for the Oct. 25 killing of Herbert Lee Tillis, won a round in court when the indictment against him was quashed.

The bill was thrown out by the court when the defense attorney, Roger Brown, pointed out that it did not charge that Woodard "killed" Tillis. The document read "murdered" which is contrary to the legal form an indictment must follow in Texas to be valid.

Jones immediately announced that he would seek a new indictment in which the oversight of the first would be corrected. It is possible two or three other re-indictments may be acted upon Wednesday by the grand jury.

Ash Wednesday Services Slated

Episcopalians observe Ash Wednesday services tomorrow as the beginning of the Lenten season. Services at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 10th and Goliad, will be at 7 a.m. and 10 a.m.

The Penitential Office and Holy Communion with the imposition of ashes will be at 7:30 p.m. There will be a service of evening prayer with an address by the rector titled "How to Repent." These services begin the great fast of the church which continues until Easter.

Each day in Lent there will be a service of evening prayer at 5:30 p.m. These services will be conducted by lay readers. William Crooker Jr., Fred Doelp, Richard R. Lindsay, L. Col. Jay Lauer, Ralph McLaughlin, and Dr. Milton W. Talbot Jr.

No Injuries

Locations of accidents in which no injuries were reported, which were investigated Monday by police, and drivers involved: Nineteenth and Main, Oral Stonking, 1802 Scurry, and Opas Spry, 2100 Main; Sixth and Scurry; Dorothy Anderson, OK Trailer Court, and car of unknown motorist; Avant Grocery parking lot, Charles Hanson, Route 1, and Ramon Montez, 602 N. Gregg.

OIL REPORT

Wolfcamp Test Still Making Oil

United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Co. No. 9-1 Development, Ltd.-Hutto, Howard County prospector, continues to get new oil from the Wolfcamp on production attempts.

The latest unofficial reports are that it is making about four barrels of oil per hour, with pressures ranging from 80-120 pounds.

The project was drilled by Brandywine Oil Corp. as a farmout from U. S. Smelting, but was taken over by the latter for the completion attempt. It was drilled to 11,000 feet as a Fuisserman test, but was plugged back to test the Wolfcamp, which gave better indications of pay. Perforations are between 7,367-421 feet.

The apparent discovery is five-eighths mile west of the one-well Hutto (Wolfcamp) field. Location is 2,250 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the east lines of section 9-31-1, T&P survey, about eight miles east of Big Spring.

At a special meeting a week ago today, the architect's projections showed that the most desirable plan would cost nearly $4.1 million furnished. Atmar $41.1 million, school architect, was directed to determine what savings could be made in material selection, space requirements, etc. When this work is completed, perhaps by tonight, it will be up to trustees to decide where to cut at the plans to bring the total cost to the $3-3 1/2 million figure they said could be spent at that plan.

The district can spend some $5 1/2 million maximum and trustees are seeking to keep upgrading of elementary and junior high schools, as well as the high school plan, within that figure, or below it.

Another subject slated for discussion tonight is the arrangement for collecting delinquent taxes. A committee of trustees tonight will report its recommendations for handling the collection contract and treatment of the accounts.

Local Youngsters Get Good Prices

Linda Foster's third place Hampshire lamb, shown at the El Paso Fat Stock Show last week, sold for $2 a pound at the auction sale which closed the show.

Bob Adkins received 70 cents a pound for his lightweight Hereford which placed third in the show. Herb Helbig, county agent, said the prices were regarded as good.

LINE OF BEAUTIES
Blaine Larson shows Ward's refrigerators and freezers

Montgomery Ward Features The Signature Refrigerator

Signature refrigerators and freezers featured at Montgomery Ward in Big Spring are enough to delight the most fastidious housewife. They come in sizes to fit the big home, small home or apartment, and are available in white or copper-tone.

Combination refrigerator-freezers range up to 13.1 cubic feet, while freezers run up to 30 cubic feet. All are available on terms, with up to three years to pay.

SOMETHING NEW

Something new is now available in both refrigerators and freezers. They are the compact 6.4 cubic foot types designed to fit under a counter. They may be used in the kitchen, den, bar, recreation room, office or in hospitals for keeping medicines and chemicals.

With foamed, thin-wall insulation, freezer and refrigerators have many possibilities. White or copper-tone finishes blend well with kitchen cabinets and may be made a part of built-in features with walnut or white spatter tops. Both may also be made portable with optional casters. Both come with right or left-hand doors.

FROSTLESS

Refrigerator-freezers come with the "all frostless" feature designed to eliminate periodic defrosting which was often necessary in older models. This feature means that there is no frosting, ever, in the Signatures.

The designer series is a magnificent group of high-fashion Signatures refrigerator-freezer combinations. Wards design engineers selected a copper-tone finish to blend with natural woods and the latest decor colors. The design flair is enhanced with smart touches of gold-color trim.

FOOD STORAGE

The series incorporates every new food storage feature of modern home refrigeration, with Wards famous guarantee of complete satisfaction or your money back. The seven-day meat keeper assures that meat will stay fresh for a week without freezing. Chilled air directed against the pan provides correct air circulation, proper moisture, ideal temperature for meat. This saves freezer space and eliminates bothersome thawing. The work-saving feature, most wanted by every homemaker, is the frostless combination.

SIGNATURE

The Signature Supreme 18.1 cubic foot model comes with a 175-pound freezer. All doors have storage shelves for added convenience.

A covered dairy bar keeps butter and cheese correctly refrigerated; shelves have space for gallon milk bottles and bulky foods; storage door has space for half-gallon milk cartons; swing-out freezer baskets in many bottom-freezer models, and every door opens 90 degrees, even when flush with the wall.

Blaine Larson, appliance manager, said the store now has a full line of the new refrigerators and freezers on the floor.

Also, there are all kinds of appliances on display, including washers, driers, ranges, radios, record players, black and white and color televisions, combinations TV-AM-FM radio and record player sets with full stereo.

FURNITURE

The furniture department upstairs is set up for complete home furnishings, and the hardware department in the basement is filled with good buys.

On the first floor, west of the appliance department, is a full line of clothing, piece goods, millinery and shoes.

In fact, Montgomery Ward is Big Spring's largest department store, with thousands of items available on short notice from the catalog department.

Time To Get Sticker

With just a little over two months remaining, only 24 percent of Howard County's motor vehicles have been inspected for 1964, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

There are 22,100 vehicles registered, and only 5,357 had been inspected according to this week's report.

Jones Motor Co., 101 Gregg, is an official inspection station, and ready to see that everything required is in working order on the vehicles.

The deadline for affixing a sticker to the lower right hand side of the windshield is April 15.

Go by Jones Motor Co. and attend to the little chore before the rush lines start.

C-C Council Election Set For April 7

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Colorado City Council Monday set April 7 for the election of three councilmen; J. W. Watson was appointed election judge with Mrs. Watson and Mrs. B. Baker as assistants.

Councilmen with terms expiring in April are Mayor H. I. Berman, Dr. John Chinn and R. J. Hoback. The deadline for filing for the council race was set 30 days prior to the election.

The council also tentatively approved a plat for a new housing development submitted by Bobby Kimmel, local lumberman; and voted to relocate water lines which cross the property at a cash cost to the city of approximately $1,166.

Heard a request from Charles Root and J. W. Randie, representing the Colorado City Industrial Foundation, for a long term lease on 40 acres of city property to be used by the Industrial Foundation as a lure for industry seeking a home. The matter will require a legal opinion from city attorney John Worrell.

Discussed the possible extension of a water line under Interstate 20 to serve a service station and bowling alley at an approximate cost to the city of $1,600, with the city supplying its own material and labor.

Was informed that J. S. Craddock and J. C. Pritchett would not accept new terms as members of the Colorado City Housing Authority and that replacements would need to be found.

Mitchell County Assessments Set

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Mitchell County Democratic Executive Committee met Monday afternoon and set candidate assessments for two primaries at about $3,000. The cost of holding the primaries will be shared among candidates according to the salary the office pays.

R. H. Ratliff, county Democratic chairman, said the committee appointed Keith Williamson to fill the unexpired term of W. H. Gregory as chairman of Precinct 2. Ratliff said the committee also voted to build an election board for posting election returns.

WHEN TUBERCULOSIS STRIKES

Sad, Silent Home Greets Knott Parents

By SAM BLACKBURN
The Victor Garzas came back to Knott Monday night to a strangely sad and silent house. Their humble home normally rings with the voices and laughter of their 13 children. Last night it was quiet. Victor Garza and his wife, Aurora, did little to break the silence. They were too sad and worried to do more than quietly fix their simple meal and go to bed.

Nearly 100 miles away, the

Barry Gets Local Nod

Howard County Republicans have reiterated their endorsement of Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination.

The executive committee of the local Republican forces adopted a resolution praising Sen. Goldwater as "the foremost exponent of the principles of personal freedom and individual responsibility set forth in the Constitution of the United States (and that he) exem- plifies the principles of the Republican Party of Texas."

Howard County Republicans last October had endorsed Sen. Goldwater. Besides the executive committee action, county chairman Ralph Gossett added his personal endorsement. Mrs. J. M. Hogg, president of the county women's organization, concurred in the executive committee resolution.

Grant Boardman, chairman of the Howard County Goldwater for President Committee, regarded the executive committee resolution as "reflecting the true sentiments of all conservatives in Howard County. We have taken a significant step toward a delegation to the Republican national convention pledged to Sen. Goldwater."

Ranger Stricken

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Texas Ranger Zeno Smith, 61, was in fair condition today after being stricken with a heart attack.

Garza children, ranging in age from Victor Jr., 15, to tiny David, just five months old, were equally sad. They were also frightened and worried. For they were in the McKnight Tuberculosis Hospital at Sanatorium, near San Angelo.

Today, the physicians and technicians will begin a series of examinations and tests which could continue for a month before they are completed. The tests are to determine how many of the Garza children are infected with tuberculosis. There seems to be no doubt that two of the 13 — David and 14-month-old Gloria — are certainly victims of the plague and there is a grim probability that most, if not all, of the others are also tubercular.

One of the prides of the elder Garza's humble life was the sleek black curls which adorned his young daughters' heads. He wept openly at the hospital as attendants cropped off the long black locks to short bobs. The hospital officials explained that short hair cuts are essential to make caring for the patients easier.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, Sheriff Miller Harris and Mrs. Ethel Sherill accompanied the Garza family to Sanatorium. Mrs. Phillips, county public welfare officer, and Mrs. Sherill, county-city health unit nurse, initiated the effort to get the family in the state institution when a local physician called to examine Gloria found damning X-ray evidence that she was not suffering from a cold as thought but from tuberculosis.

X-rays of the entire family followed and all showed enough evidence to justify their being admitted to the McKnight hospital for more thorough examination. Strangely enough the X-rays of their mother and father showed no signs of the disease.

All of the Garza youngsters will be gone at least a month and some, if not all of them, may be gone from home much longer than that. It all depends on what the doctors at the big hospital discover in the tests they are now making.

Meantime, the mother and father will have to become accustomed to a quiet house and to the absence of a happy din which has featured their home life for so many years.

At McKnight hospital, Dr. Richard F. Allison, superintendent, said that it is not unusual for all the children of a family to be admitted to his institution.

"However," he added, "we never had as many youngsters from one family at one time as the Garzas. About the largest number we have ever had before was seven."

Air Force Association Meeting Set Here Feb. 20

A meeting to initiate organization of a Big Spring Squadron of the Air Force Association will be held here Feb. 20. While notices of the affair are being mailed to various persons who have direct or indirect connection with Air Force activities, it is being emphasized that the meeting is open to any interested person.

The session will be held in the academic auditorium at Webb Air Force Base, beginning at 7:30 p.m. While Webb officers will explain aims and purposes of the association, it is primarily a civilian affair, and military people hold inactive memberships. There is only a nominal fee attached, and the annual participation includes subscription to the magazine "Air Force and Space Digest."

Members of the military reserve, those interested in aviation and all others who advocate a strong aerospace establishment for the nation's security are joining in the local endeavor.

Purposes of the Air Force Association include these:

To assist in obtaining and maintaining adequate aerospace power for the security of the nation and the free world;

To keep members and the public abreast of aerospace developments;

To preserve and foster a spirit of fellowship among former, present and future members of the U.S. Air Force, together

Uncertainty Slows Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Cotton Advisory Committee said today cotton consumption in the United States is being held back by uncertainty over possible changes in government price policies.

The House has passed legislation which would make U.S. cotton available to domestic mills as cheaply as to foreign buyers.

The latter get the benefit of an export subsidy payment. The committee is an agency which advises 48 member cotton exporting and importing nations on development in the world cotton market situation.

A committee report also said competitive losses to man-made fibers appear to be the greatest deterrent to increased cotton consumption.

with civilians of similar interests.

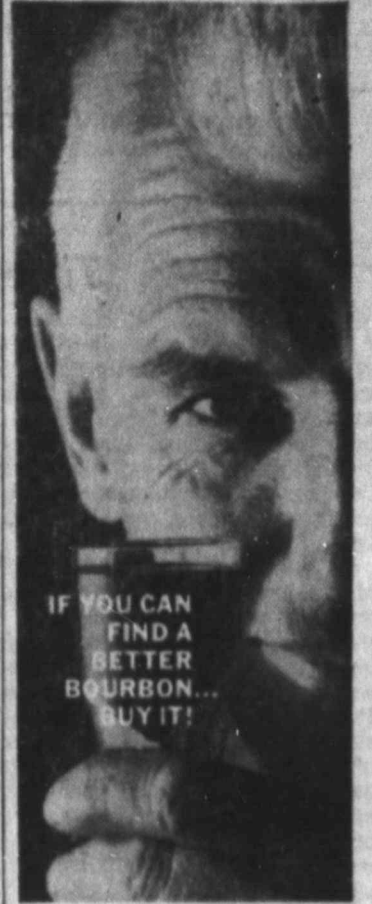

The national organization, which has some of the nation's most distinguished former airmen as its leaders, breaks down into regional groups, these into state "wings," and these, then, into local "squadrons." The Big Spring squadron would be headed by a commander, a vice commander, a secretary and a treasurer. Various activities will function through committees.

National president of the Air Force Association currently is Maj. Gen. J. M. Montgomery (ret.). Southwest regional vice president is Joe L. Shoshid, Fort Worth; and deputy commander of the Texas Wing is Brig. Gen. Jack Gordon (ret.), San Antonio.

A freckle-faced miss invites a playmate over . . . Dad tracks down a hard-to-find gadget for the workshop . . . Mom gets a recipe from a friend. Whatever the need, people take it for granted their phone will work. What else that you use so often is so dependable?

Making telephones so reliable takes complex equipment, technical improvements and, above all, carefully trained telephone people.

The payoff for these things comes when you pick up the receiver and your phone works, and works well. Our goal is telephone service that continues to grow in dependability, convenience and personal value.

A Devotional For The Day

Mine eye seeth thee. Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes. (Job 42:5-6.)
PRAYER: We acknowledge before Thee, O God, that we have sinned. We thank Thee that Thou hast the power to redeem us. Give us the assurance of Thy forgiveness, for we ask in the name of Christ, the one who died to redeem us from sin. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Time Has Come

For years there has been a spate of warnings about swiftly rising pressure of enrollment in our colleges and universities. The public has been told again and again that such institutions would need more help if they were to cope adequately with the increasing demand for higher education.

Despite these repeated expressions of concern, many people will doubtless feel surprise at being told that the situation about which they have been warned is upon us. The matter was put this way by Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard University, in his annual report to the board of overseers: "The long-anticipated cresting wave of young people of college age is now beginning to break over us. The next four years will see many of the nation's colleges inundated with students."

edged, is not entirely dark. He noted one hopeful sign—that Congress seems to be changing its attitude and now believes that higher education has become indispensable for continued national well-being. It also can be said that the manifest desire of a great number of young people for a college education is in itself a good sign.

During the past session Congress addressed itself to this problem with a limited aid bill to colleges, and more and broader provisions may be expected this session. But the problem is not one for the federal government alone. Indeed, the State of Texas has a huge responsibility which it has not yet honestly and fairly faced. Perhaps the localities, the institutional bodies, and even private interests have stake. The problem is here and it is not going away.

The System And Words

An indictment for murder has been quashed in 118th District Court because the presentation charged that the victim was murdered rather than that he was killed by the defendant.

In ordinary things this would be a bit of nit-picking over semantics. In the realm of legalism, however, there is sound precedent for the ruling. Courts have ruled on similar points before, and the rule of case must be followed. Although the county had gone to the expense of indictment and of calling a venire to hear the case, it is better that the ruling be had here rather than to go to further expense of a trial and then suffer reversal of it on this point.

Still, this is an example of the need of reform of the State's criminal code. For many years Texas courts would not convict defendants for having made or possessed home brew on the grounds that it was not established that home brew was an intoxicating beverage. Finally, the Texas Supreme Court got embarrassed and held that it would no longer hold itself to more ignorant than the common run of man regarding the effect of home brew. There also was the celebrated reversal of a murder conviction on the grounds that the state never proved the defendant, who allegedly drowned his victim in a borrow ditch, did the drowning under water (it could have been wine, you know). Also celebrated is the case where the victim had been stomped to death, but the state had not shown he was stomped with the feet.

Trial courts cannot be criticized for playing it safe, but the system is fair target for debate. Whether murdered or killed, a victim is just as dead. The code which quibbles over a word that does not do violence to facts is straining at the gnat and swallowing the camel.

Marquis Childs The Lyndon-Lady Bird Combine

WASHINGTON — The Lyndon-Lady Bird treatment is paying off. That is the conviction in Capitol Hill as Congress moves on the tax cut and civil rights at a pace that a short time ago seemed inconceivable.

Privately leaders on the Hill are saying that with the progress rolled up thus far on the eve of the Lincoln's Birthday round of oratory the President may even get his civil rights bill through the Senate. This is an indication of the way the atmosphere has changed in little more than a month.

IN WINNING FRIENDS and influencing members of Congress Mrs. Johnson is given almost as much credit as the President himself. A recent incident illustrates the way her warmth and patience have developed over the years as an invaluable asset to her husband.

Around midnight at the end of a stag dinner in a downtown hotel the President invited two Senate friends, who happened to be opposite ends of the political spectrum, to come to the White House with him for a night-cap. The President's mansion was as dark, the Senators noted, as a lonely farmhouse in accord with the Johnson order about keeping unnecessary lights turned off. In an upstairs sitting room the President got out the drinks and they settled down to the staple of Washington conversation — politics.

AROUND QUARTER to one the President disappeared. He returned shortly with Mrs. Johnson, who looked as cheerful and as ready for the fray as though it were high noon. "I knew Lady Bird was the one you really wanted to see," the President said in effect, "and so I went and woke her up."

That is a test before which any wife might flinch. But after 30 years of marriage to the dynamo, as a close Johnson friend put it, Lady Bird is a saint. And she is also a knowing political partner who works as tirelessly at the great game of politics as does her husband.

THE EFFECT on the distaff side has been notable. Several Republican wives have been heard to say that under the Eisenhowers they never got beyond the East Room at formal receptions and then only once or twice during the two Eisenhower terms.

Under the previous administration there was resentment on Capitol Hill over what seemed to be the Kennedys' preference, when they entertained, for bright, amusing people out of the jet set or for articulate intellectuals. The Kennedys were said to have a low boring point and Congressional wives in particular resented what appeared to be a circle of exclusivity.

WHILE ALL this is frosting on the cake, nevertheless the care and feeding of wives is an important department in the Washington rule book. The real effort is in the unremitting pressure the President maintains on every single individual in the Congress who can by any stretch of the imagination be susceptible or even interested.

FOR MANY liberal Democrats the measure was a hard pill to swallow since it gives so much more to business and proportionately to the upper bracket taxpayer. As a counter certain of the amendments, notably that of Sen. Abraham Ribicoff granting a tax credit for college costs, had a powerful attraction. When one of his leaders spoke wistfully of how much he would like to go for the Ribicoff amendment, the President rounded on him:

"What's the matter? Are you a Johnson man or aren't you?"

THE AMENDMENT was defeated by a vote of 48 to 45. So were other proposals that the Treasury feared would greatly reduce revenues and thereby increase the Federal deficit. The President is determined to keep the economy image and the goal of a balanced budget well to the fore.

Billy Graham

How can we teach our children morality and clean living when all they see on television, in film, and in books, whets their appetites for lewd living?—M. M.

If your children become Christian, it will be in spite of these influences and not because of them.

Modern parents must select the mental and spiritual fare of their children as carefully as they select their food. Parents don't leave poison medicines out where children can consume them, and they shouldn't allow their children to read harmful literature or to view television programs that stimulate them harmfully.

Start having family devotions as an antidote for all of the filth of these days. J. Edgar Hoover recently said: "This generation has allowed religious practices to slip into oblivion. As a result family life has been weakened, and the nation has suffered. . . . My hope for the future of the nation is predicated upon the faith in God which is nurtured in the family."

Dad, you are to be the priest of the home. Gather your little brood together, read the Word of God, and have prayer together. They may be shocked, but it will leave an impression upon them that will fortify them against the pressures of this Godless age.

James Marlow Civil Rights, Medicare To Test Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two iron tests of President Johnson's ability — compared with President John F. Kennedy's — to get what he wants from Congress will lie in what happens to two of his major programs.

These—civil rights and medical care for the aged—are Johnson's two most controversial programs, as they were Kennedy's. Kennedy never got to first base with either of them.

There had been some preliminary action on civil rights by the time he died. Medical care remained frozen and unbudged in Congress for his entire presidency.

THE TEST OF Johnson's leadership with Congress is not in just getting passage of some kind of civil rights and medical care bills. The test is whether these bills, if and when passed, have strength and meaning.

When Johnson took office Congress was already fiddling with Kennedy's civil rights bill and one other major program, a tax cut. Johnson at once pushed them both as his own, exactly as he had inherited them.

By the time Kennedy died last November he had already lost hope on the medical care bill for 1963. Monday Johnson went Congress his own message on medical care, asking for its passage this year.

BUT—THERE IS one thing to be noted about this Johnson message. He didn't say he was asking for exactly the same bill Kennedy proposed. It seems fair to say he was suggesting a bill somewhat similar to Kennedy's.

The heart of Kennedy's proposal had been hospital insurance based on Social Security payments. Monday Johnson said this "is clearly the best method."

But he didn't spell out any of it in detail, whereas Kennedy did in each of his messages since 1961. For instance: 90 days of hospital care with a maximum of $90 to be paid by the patient.

THE KENNEDY bill faced granite opposition both in Congress and from the American Medical Association. Presumably, Johnson's will, too, if he tries to get exactly what Kennedy wanted, although he nowhere said he would.

If he can get a truly meaningful medical care bill through Congress this year, it should do him good with a lot of voters in the November presidential election. There are 17.5 million people over 65 in this country.

The civil rights and medical care programs should reveal before the year is out how much Johnson means to fight for legislation with teeth or how much he is willing to compromise.

HE CALLED himself a compromiser once when he explained: "I'm a compromiser and a maneuverer. I try to get something. That's the way our system works."

He compromised a lot when he was leader of the Senate Democratic majority from 1955 until 1961 but he got a lot of legislation through, probably more than any other single member of Congress could have.

The fact that he did not spell out in detail what he wanted in a medical care bill may be a tip he is willing to compromise on this measure more than Kennedy.

IN HIS LESS than three months as president, Johnson already has been impressive in handling Congress. He got Congress moving on both the tax cut and civil rights.

The Senate approved the tax cut last week. The House had already done so. It will become law shortly when the two houses iron out their differences. The House, after only nine days' debate, Monday night passed a stronger civil rights bill than Kennedy had originally asked.

The real test for Johnson on civil rights comes when the Senate tackles it and Southern Democrats try to kill it—or to force a compromise until the bill is gutted—with a filibuster.

After that gets through, in whatever shape, Johnson can begin his fight for medical care.

Hal Boyle Dream Of Movie Resurgence

NEW YORK (AP)—Ely A. Landau, 44, is a big man with a big dream.

The thick-set film producer, little known to the public, has become something of a landmark in the entertainment world in recent years.

His dream? "In 1946 about 80 million people went to the movies each week," he said. "By 1962 the figure had fallen to 42½ million a week. I wanted to do something to help recover that vast lost audience."

FIRST, LET'S have a little background on Landau.

"My life is a rags to tatters story," he said, but it isn't at all.

Landau, son of a waiter, was born on the Lower East Side of New York and went to work after graduating from high school.

"I went from store to store selling flavors, extracts—anything a fellow could do to try and find himself."

During World War II he spent four years in the Air Transport Command, emerged as a sergeant, then tried to become corn-chip king of the metropolitan area. He didn't.

"I PICKED the wrong brand of corn chips," he recalled.

After a brief period with an advertising agency, Landau raised a couple of thousand dollars to form a pioneering company in film syndication for television.

In a few years the company owned three television stations, was producing 20 film or tape series, and was doing an annual business of $25 million.

In 1959, the firm which Landau had founded for $2,000 only five years before was sold by him and other shareholders for $14 million.

LANDAU THEN invaded the film field, bought two small movie houses in Manhattan, and plans to produce 10 pictures over a three-year period.

Those who feel that Hollywood has become tradition-bound and out of touch with modern-day audiences find a ready ally in Landau.

"There is no greater wasteland in the entertainment world today than the movie wasteland," he said.

The answer, he feels, lies in $700,000 to $900,000 quality pictures with an adult appeal. To him the industry's reliance on $20-million to $30-million blockbuster epics is "a form of Russian roulette."

To Your Good Health Hypoglycemia May Come From Too Much Insulin

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My condition has been diagnosed as hypoglycemia. How can I avoid weak spells? My arms and legs frequently go to sleep and I have a slight soreness in my chest. — G. C.

Hypoglycemia means that the blood has less than its normal amount of sugar. At times, that is, when the sugar level declines, the patient feels weak and may have other symptoms: Headache, irritability, nervous sweating.

While there are various causes of hypoglycemia (liver disease, adrenal deficiency, a "dumping syndrome" because of removal of the stomach), two-thirds of the cases result from overproduction of insulin by the pancreas.

The symptoms usually come on several hours after eating—the supply of sugar has been pretty well consumed.

The answer, you might think, would be to eat some sugar, but this isn't correct. Yes, the sugar will "pick you up," but it also will stimulate the pancreas to secrete still more insulin, so you get into a vicious circle.

The answer, rather, is to eat something which contains more protein and little sugar. This protein will, eventually be converted into blood sugar, but not as rapidly, and the pancreas will not be shocked into producing more insulin. The blood sugar, hence, will not be used up at an excessive rate.

Along with this, a mild sedative often is given, because from experience we know that the intense, hard-driving go-getter type is more often found to be the victim of hypoglycemia. (The same is true of peptic ulcers.) If the patient's attitude or circumstances change, or the trouble frequently clears.

The person with hypoglycemia simply MUST adjust his activity and living habits to the situation. Only in that way can he maintain his physical efficiency. And that, of course, will reflect itself in his mental and emotional efficiency.

The patient with hypoglycemia should be checked periodically for diabetes, because in some cases the low blood sugar is a forerunner of the reverse — too much blood sugar.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Democracy At Its Best

(On this date in February, 1947, I wrote a brief dissertation on Abraham Lincoln which was published in the newspaper where I then worked. Later on this same article was entered in a state editorial writing contest and won. Maybe you may find it interesting.)

TO THOSE SNOBBISH and stubborn worshippers of "blood line" and "background" Abraham Lincoln is a complete and utter impossibility.

To their way of thinking, he just couldn't be. They have tried hard to get around the simple truths in his case; indeed they have even stooped so low as to try to prove that Lincoln was an illegitimate child. They have struggled ponderously to show that he was not Tom Lincoln's son.

LINCOLN SHOULD have stayed, if their theory is sound, as a tall, gaunt ragged backwoods farmer. He should have lived out his span of years in the log cabin of his father; spent his life in colorless surroundings; accomplished nothing.

He should have been just another poor man in a throng of poor men—poor in wealth, indifferent in spirit, achieving nothing.

But despite the frantic efforts to find another answer, Lincoln stands as a lasting rebuff to those who refuse to recognize the fundamental principles on which this nation is founded.

FOR HE IS the ultimate in the proof of the premise of the common equality, the common unalienable rights of man. The life of Lincoln is the basic synopsis of the American legend.

From a humble shanty in the woods, through a drab and colorless boyhood, the uneasy and uncertain growth to manhood, to the highest honor in the land—the pattern is clearcut and unmistakable.

And even that sorry thing that happened in a gas-lit and tawdry theater in 1865 is a part of the same pattern—the dramatic climax to the tale.

In these days of cynicism, we are inclined to sneer at thoughts of equal opportunity, freedom and even patriotism.

WE INSIST on measuring greatness in dollars and cents; success in terms of property held; achievement has become a synonym for profit.

We deride as outmoded and romantic, the old principle that in a democracy any man has the opportunity to become the first citizen.

But Lincoln stands as a constant denial of our realism. An historic proof of the golden fundamental of the democratic theory. For Lincoln lacked wealth; he had no "background" (if we accept the false definition of this misused word); he lacked lineage as the snobs and self-appointed bluebloods regard lineage.

HE WAS NOT trained in empty social gestures; his boundless understanding of humanity was not the product of a stuffy class room.

Happiness was not his lot—those whom destiny calls in time of crisis are not granted the boon of happiness. Even the passing thrill of high honor was denied him. He was reluctantly chosen by his fellows and his elevation to the high place was not regarded as any great accomplishment.

Half the land was already breaking away from the other half, half the land was already assembling arms and making ghastly preparations to bathe the nation in blood. . . .

THERE ARE MEN who live too long.

So perhaps it was actually the flash of Booth's murderous pistol that set ablaze the eternal light which casts so great a shadow of Lincoln across the pages of history.

It doesn't matter. For Lincoln is the perpetual example of democracy at its best; the unanswerable proof of the common greatness of men.

J. A. Livingston Stockholders Debate Right To Smoke

Celebrating her 80th birthday, Sophie Tucker offered a simple prescription for longevity: "Keep breathing."

Lewis D. Gilbert, America's determined and dedicated stockholder, has an equally simple formula for getting his name in the news: "Keep talking."

HE KEPT TALKING the other day in the Georgian Room of the Garden City Hotel, Long Island, where 250 stockholders of the Franklin National Bank of Long Island showed far more interest in the right of employees to smoke than in a projected drop in earnings.

You can credit this extraneous concern to Gilbert, who garnered such headlines as "No Smoking Rule Ignites Controversy" and "Smoking Ban Burns Stockholder."

ARTHUR T. ROTH, chairman of the bank, and a bold, unconventional, determined fellow like Gilbert, decreed no-smoking for employees during office hours on bank premises. Employees who must drag the bag could do so in the washrooms.

Gilbert, the nation's No. 1 Knight of "corporate democracy" and champion of the underdog stockholder, quickly championed the underdog employee. "Undemocratic" he exclaimed, waving a lighted cigarette.

ROTH was unimpressed. He said that the bank must do everything possible to improve its assets and "our greatest asset is our employees' health."

Gilbert refused to take a backward breath. "The medical profession says that tomatoes were poison," he objected. "I myself am a moderate smoker, but I say personal liberty comes first."

THE SMOKING ban would save the bank $100,000 a year, retorted Roth. Time lost due to illness would be reduced. Cleaning costs — sucking up dust and dust and emptying ash trays — would be lower. And there'd be less burnt furniture to repair.

When Roth called for a voice vote, only Gilbert, "nay-ed." Said Gilbert afterward: "What do you expect? Most of those present were employees. They had to vote that way. And do you know before the meeting they debated whether to have ash trays. The ash trays won out."

THIS COULD HAVE been a worthy protest, had Gilbert kept to one point: The bank might hurt business. Employee morale might fall. Recruiting difficulties could increase. Franklin National might get the reputation as a Spartan, paternalistic place to work.

Instead, Gilbert wrapped around himself the banner of freedom, liberty and democracy. This is not a cause for a stockholder.

TIME AT A stockholders' meeting is akin to the space on a proxy form. The stockholders' province is profits and dividends, not social philosophy, unless the philosophy hurts the business.

Holmes Alexander Outlook For Bobby Kennedy

WASHINGTON — "He's Kennedy now . . ."

These three words, with the appropriate emphasis and reference, tell succinctly why Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy cannot fail to make his bid for second place on the Democratic national ticket this year.

THE WORDS were spoken by a friend who has been at his side almost continuously since the Dallas tragedy that took President Kennedy's life. They were spoken in knowledge of Bob Kennedy's benumbed state of grief, of the Atlas-like load of family responsibility that he feels as the father of eight young Kennedys at Hickory Hill and the fatherless orphans of his slain brother.

But the words, also, were spoken by a man who was with RFK amid the sympathetic, cheering crowds in Japan and the Philippines, Indonesia and Malaysia, at the gathering of airmen and GI's where the plane stopped to refuel at an American base in France, on the trip to his sister's grave in Britain, on the sentimental visit in London to the living place and school site where the sons and daughters of Ambassador Joe Kennedy spent happy, expectant times before violent death claimed three of them.

"He's Kennedy now . . ."

WHENEVER HE goes overseas, RFK will be reminded that foreign peoples believed President Kennedy had their welfare and freedom at heart, even though there were disappointments and failures. This is important because President Johnson is identifying himself as a domestically oriented leader.

Bob Kennedy is following the standard procedure of a non-candidate who expects to hear the call. He makes no public avowal. He rebukes premature enthusiasts who want to push him. But, as the spokesman-friend says for him:

"IF BOB DOES run for public office, it will be an office that is meaningful and useful to the United States. Of course, he doesn't want anything now, but events may propel him."

But the propelling events, including the Far East trip and, perhaps, other trips in prospect, will have to surmount or demolish a foreboding set of obstacles. They are, in order of magnitude:

THE MEMORY all over this town, and surely in the President's mind, of a Dump Lyndon Movement which Bob Kennedy allegedly fostered; the political enmities among Democrats which Bob incurred as his brother's campaign manager; the hostility of Southern Democrats, notably House members, who shudder at running for re-election with RFK on the national ticket; Bob's record as a lightning rod—and a truncheon—in every failure and fracas which marked John Kennedy's regime; finally, and questionably, whatever antipathy the nation feels toward the perpetuation of a Dynasty that was founded upon a family fortune.

THESE ARE obstacles no greater, perhaps, than those which did not stop John Kennedy, whom nobody but the Kennedys believed could become President—until he had it made.

104 House Seats Contested For Upcoming Demo Primary

By The Associated Press
A total of 407 candidates have filed for the 130 seats in the Texas House of Representatives to provide 104 House contests in Democratic primaries and eight in GOP primaries May 2.

Among the House members who face opposition are Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler, with Democratic and Republican challengers, and eight of 19 members who hold key committee chairmanships.

Races for seats in the upper chamber, however, have not developed in most districts. Six state senators are unopposed for renomination, and only four of the nine Senate primary contests are considered to produce highly spirited campaigns.

Two veteran senators, W. T. Moore of Bryan and Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, are opposed by House members. Their opponents are Rep. Joe Cannon of Groesbeck and Rep. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi.

THREE HOPEFULS

Three Fort Worth Democrats including Rep. Don Gladden and city councilman Doyle Willis are trying to unseat Sen. Don Four Democrats and a Republican have filed for the Senate seat vacated by Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso. They are Louis Anderson and W. E. Snelson of Midland; Rep. George Cook of Odessa; Joe Christie of El Paso, Democrats; and Republican S. L. Abbott of El Paso.

Eighty-three Republican candidates filed for 74 House races, close to the record 1962 showing. A total of 324 Democrats filed for House seats.

Opening lead: Eight of ♠
An alert defensive maneuver by East in today's hand brought about declarer's defeat in a most unusual manner.

After two passes, North opened the bidding with one diamond and East overcalled with one spade. South lacked by a good bit the requirements to make a free bid at the two level in a higher ranking suit, but his partner was sufficiently well heeled to reopen the proceedings with a take-out double. East erected a mild preemptive barricade by rebidding his spades, but South was not to be shut out of the delayed opportunity to speak, and he freely bid three hearts. Although South's previous pass had limited the strength of his hand, North had enough in reserve to carry on to game.

West opened the eight of spades, and East cashed the first two tricks with the top honors. A brief examination of the dummy revealed that there was virtually no hope of winning any further tricks in the side suits. East's void in hearts did suggest, however, that West's trump holding might prove useful. In an effort to attack declarer's trump suit for his partner, East continued with a third round of spades, even though this presented South with a ruff and discard.

Declarer trumped in his hand to preserve North's heart holding, and West discarded a diamond. The queen of hearts was led on which West played the ace and East showed out. The diamond return was taken in the dummy and South ruffed himself in with a diamond.

A small heart was led next and, when West played low, North's eight was successfully finessed. The king of hearts was cashed, and all that remained for declarer was to get back to his hand so that he might draw West's last trump. When he attempted to trump another diamond, however, West overruffed with the ten of hearts to score the setting trick.

East's play of a third spade permitted his partner to discard a diamond early in the hand. Had East shifted to another suit, West would have been obliged to follow suit as the declarer ruffed himself in with diamonds, and the ten of hearts would have succumbed tamely to South's drawing of trumps.

Man Held In Burglary, Theft Charges Here

Richard Ellis McCord, who has been sought all over Texas and adjacent states for the past several months, has been arrested in Stephenville and is being returned to Howard County this week by Sheriff Miller Harris.

McCord is wanted here for a number of charges which all began with the alleged burglary of the Wilbanks and Rutter offices, 2300 Scurry. In this burglary, a quantity of paycheck forms—of a type no longer used by the firm—was stolen.

The sheriff alleges that the burglar then rented a check-writer and a typewriter from a local business establishment which he took with him when he left. He is also connected with the theft of a license plate and possibly another burglary, the sheriff's office said.

Four of the checks were filled out and cashed here for an amount in excess of $1,000 according to Aubrey Standard, chief deputy. Others of the checks have been cashed in numerous towns, Standard added. Standard said that Stephenville officers agreed to turn the man over to Howard County but that charges are being filed against him in that city as well.

Bad Check Department Scores A Busy Month

The worthless check department in the office of Sheriff Miller Harris has now celebrated its second birthday and records show it has recovered $74,449.99 from writers of bad checks.

The department began operating in January, 1962. It has averaged a little better than $3,000 a month in collections in the 24 months of operation. In the same period of time, scores of worthless check cases have been filed by the department in the county and district courts and dozens of defendants have been prosecuted and assessed jail time and fines.

January, 1964, was no exception to the other months in the history of the department. Three hundred and twenty-eight checks were processed during the month and 159 bad checks paid off. This represents 47 per cent collection on the total checks handled.

Total collections for January hit $2,162.21 compared with $2,528.49 in December. For January, 1962—first month the department was in operation—collections were $2,827.40.

In addition to the collections in the department office, an additional $1,017.85 in bad checks were paid off during January to the merchants who had taken the checks. This, according to the merchants, results from the pressure of the check department on bad check writers.

During the month, 18 misdemeanor worthless check cases were filed in county court and eight felony cases in district court.

City Gets Two Bills

The city got two bills over the weekend. They are William D. Close and William E. Jennings, two new members of the fire department.

Close, a native of Hodgenville, Ky., has lived here two years. He was employed as a truck driver, prior to going to work for the city. He served in the Air Force from 1956 to 1960, and he and his wife reside at 1009 Sycamore.

Jennings, 223 Kindie, attended junior high school and high school here although he was born in Trinity. He also is a veteran of the Air Force, having served from 1959 to 1963. He and his wife are parents of two children, Jennifer, 1 1/2, and Joel, two months.

Mayor, Finley Still At Odds Over Pact

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mayor Pius W. Davis has put the city's stadium lease dispute with Charles O. Finley in the laps of the American League club owners by refusing impartial arbitration, offered by league President Joe Cronin.

Finley refused to disclose his reaction to the arbitration proposal. The club owners have given Finley until Saturday to sign a lease in Kansas City, or face exclusion from the league. The original deadline of Feb. 1 was extended two weeks.

It's questionable whether the league owners are prepared to follow through with this order and take over the franchise of the Athletics.

Finley himself has said "there's not a chance in the world they can take my franchise away from me." Finley threatened to go to court, after the league rejected his bid to move to Louisville Jan. 16.

A minority of the owners and Cronin were known to favor a compromise of some type, such as a three-year pact or arbitration, before the last negotiation session Feb. 6. But Finley stuck to his insistence on a two-year pact and Davis wouldn't budge from his four-year proposal.

Finley announced after the meeting he would ask for another league meeting "to bring the league up to date." A league meeting could be forced by Finley plus two other owners, or it could be called by Cronin. So far the league has simply ignored Finley's request for a meeting.

With the deadline close at hand, Davis took a strong stand Monday, asserting there would be no opening day in Kansas City unless he has a four or five-year lease on his desk. He offered this view:

"Our only issue with Finley comes down to this. Are we going to be a stopping off point for a couple of seasons (for Finley) while other cities build stadiums? ... We are not going to be a patsy. ... If you show weakness toward this fellow, he will stall us further."

Davis said he turned down arbitration first because the city has no legal right under state law to settle it that way and second because "I think we have gone as far as we can go with this fellow (Finley)."

The mayor contends bankruptcy won't be a factor when the league signs a package television deal giving each club more than $1 million a year. The city offered Finley a bankruptcy clause but he declined because the club is a division of his insurance business, based in Chicago.

"Our last offer of five years, the first two free, is the best ever in organized ball," Davis said. "Finley himself said the rent isn't the issue, that it's peanuts. The fans can't be expected to turn out without a long-term lease, to remove the threat of the club leaving."

Finley said any comment on arbitration would have to come from the league, that he had informed the league of his position on it.

The biggest changes involved defending national champion Chicago Loyola, which dropped out of the Top Ten, and Oregon State, unranked a week ago and now No. 9.

Loyola lost both outings last week, 65-60 to Wichita and 71-69 to St. John's of New York. Oregon State improved its record to 20-3 with a pair of victories over Portland, 97-88 and 95-61.

UCLA, 19-0 for the season, beat California twice, 87-67 and 53-56, and gained 347 points in the poll on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, eight for third and so on.

Michigan, 16-2, got 298 points, including one first place ballot, despite an early week 86-85 setback by Ohio State. Kentucky, 17-2 through the weekend, was a close third with 282 points.

Davidson beat Georgia Southern and William and Mary and moved up one notch to fourth while Duke, which gained the only other first place vote jumped two places to fifth. Davidson is 18-1 and Duke beat North Carolina State and Maryland for a 15-3 mark through the weekend.

Wichita and Villanova, each an upset victim, each dropped two places. Wichita fell to sixth after losing to Bradley 76-74 and Villanova slipped to eighth after losing to LaSalle 63-59.

Vanderbilt, which scored over Alabama, Tulane and Louisiana State, moved up one to seventh. Oregon State took over ninth and DePaul is 10th.

Reserve Robert Hammack (above), a reserve on the HCJC basketball team, excels at "keep-away" when the Jayhawks have a lead and are trying to hold it. Hammack is a sophomore. He'll be in uniform here tonight when the locals host Frank Phillips College of Berger.

Bruins Still Atop AP Poll

By The Associated Press

The UCLA Bruins, bombing along unbeaten, remain atop the weekly Associated Press basketball poll virtually without challenge.

The Bruins, the only major college basketball team still unbeaten, polled all but two of the 35 first place ballots cast Monday by a special panel of sportswriters and sportscasters throughout the nation.

Mighty Michigan and on-rushing Kentucky remained in the second and third place slots but most of the other teams in the select crew were shaken up in the weekly voting.

The biggest changes involved defending national champion Chicago Loyola, which dropped out of the Top Ten, and Oregon State, unranked a week ago and now No. 9.

Hawks Host Phillips Plainsmen Tonight

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks still in the thick of the battle for the Western Junior College Conference basketball title, take to the home boards tonight at 8 o'clock and entertain the visiting Frank Phillips Plainsmen.

Judging by all statistics, the Hawks should have a pretty easy time. The Plainsmen are 7-13 on the season and have only garnered one loop win. The Hawks, meanwhile, have been making tracks showing a glamorous 16-7 season mark and nine wins in 10 starts in the conference. Their only loss came to the San Angelo College downed the Plainsmen, 93-69.

It is doubtful that the Jayhawks can put the exact dramatic punch in this game that they have shown in their two previous encounters with New Mexico Military Institute and Odessa. The Hawks won both of those games, but by one point apiece—and head coach Buddy Travis had some nervous moments on the bench.

The HC starters are doubtful, but could look like this: Terry Williams and Keith Bond, guards; Jim Oldham and Thomas Carter, forwards; and Charles Cumber, center. Carter is the most consistent scorer on the team as he is leading in the point making department.

For the Plainsmen, the lineup should show: David Bennefield; Jimmy Reagan; Bobby Meyer; Billy Grace; and Frank-lyn.

The Jayhawks have barely eked out wins in their last two Western Conference games. They scored a field goal in the final two seconds to skim by New Mexico Military Institute, 74-73. Against Odessa College last Friday night, they nudged the Wranglers, 68-67.

Overall, the Hawks are 16-7. The only Texas schools they have lost to are Lon Morris and San Angelo.

Dupas Is Floored By Emile Griffith

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The string may be running out for Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans swifty who has spent almost half of his 28 years in the fight game.

Dupas, a crafty stylist who had been stopped only twice in his first 124 bouts since turning pro 13 years ago, was a knockout victim for the third time in six months Monday.

Welterweight champion Emile Griffith floored Dupas three times in the second of a scheduled 12-round non-title meeting here, then took the veteran out at two minutes of the third heat.

Dupas said he'll lay off boxing for four or five months, then make up his mind about the future.

Dupas, who has been out of the United States for seven months, said he will return home in March after taking a holiday in Australia.

Dupas' head struck the canvas on the fourth and final knockdown and an anxious Griffith spent the next five minutes at the fallen fighter's side.

An ambulance crew rushed into the ring and, with Dupas' handlers, mopped blood from the unconscious fighter's face and applied ice packs to the back of his neck.

Dupas finally came around and the two fighters left the ring.

Griffith said later he wasn't thinking of Benny Paret's death under similar circumstances, while Dupas was out. But there was no doubt that the Virgin Islands-born champion was concerned deeply.

Paret, one-time welterweight champ, died after being battered and then knocked out by Griffith in an April, 1962, title fight.

It was Dupas' second loss to Griffith, who decided the Louisiana campaign in a 1962 title go. Ralph has won 99, lost 22 and fought to draws eight times. He may be ready to call it a career after Monday's third straight 10-count.

Lucas joined the Cincinnati Royals at the start of the current campaign after sitting out last season. The 6-foot-8, 230-pounder had been a three-time All-America at Ohio State and was the Royals' 1962 territorial draft choice.

The transition from the collegians to the pros ranks hasn't affected the play of Lucas, who tops the NBA in field goal percentage and is the fourth leading rebounder.

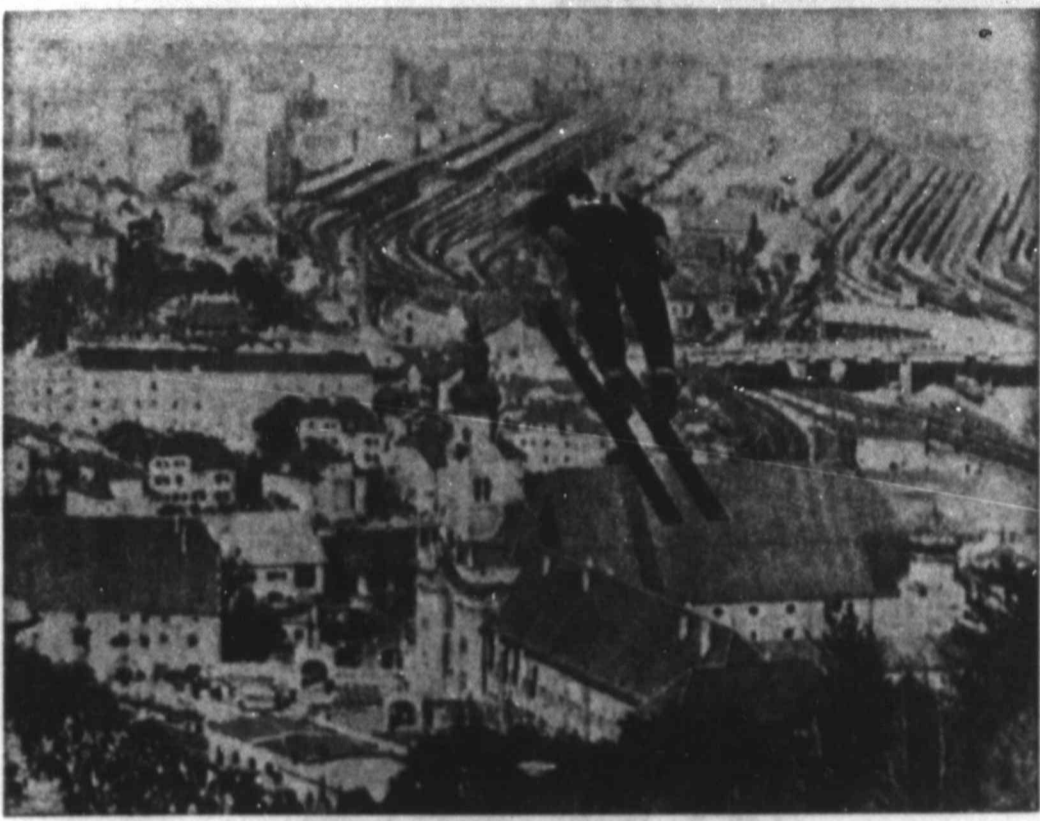

Lucas has hit on 397 field goal attempts in 757 attempts for a 524 mark, league statistics showed today. He has grabbed 958 rebounds in 58 games for a 16.5 average.

The Royals' sharp-shooter also reached the 1,000-point figures this past week with 1,031 points for a 17.8 average.

Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco continues to lead the scoring parade with 2,978 points, averaging 35.8. Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson is runner-up with 1,771 markers and a 30.5 average.

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas A&M Athletic Director Hank Foldberg said Monday that the Aggies and Ohio State will meet on the football field again Sept. 26, 1970, at Columbus, Ohio. The two schools played for the first time last fall.

was an easy 76-65 victor. The Bulldogs were simply too tall, too quick and too many for the Steers.

Overall, the Steers are 10-13 and need a sweep in their final three games to finish with a 5-00 won-loss record.

Probable starters for Big Spring tonight include DeeRoby Gartman, Ronnie Banks, Charley West, Albert Fierro and Monty Clendenin or Simon Terrazas.

Midland is apt to go with a lineup consisting of Clyde Jones, Bill Wood, Randy Kerth, Doug Russell and Earl Barnes.

At 6-feet-7, Kerth is the tallest member of the Midland club. Barnes was hottest against the Steers last time out, scoring 22 points. He hit from everywhere on the court.

After tonight, the Steers have only two game remaining—against Abilene High here Friday night and San Angelo there next Tuesday.

B teams of the two schools square off at 6:15 o'clock this evening.

ABILENE — The Sands Mustangs were outgunned in the semi-final round of the 13th annual Hardin - Simmons Girls Basketball Tournament Saturday, 67-52, by Baird.

Baird's big boost came from all-tournament performer, Paula Corn, who dropped in 47 points on 15 field goals and 17 free shots. Zelda Bodine was high for the Mustangs with 31.

Baird advanced automatically into the finals with the win over Sands, but here they got the tables turned as Trent pulled an 81-64 upset and retained their title which they had captured in 1963. The loss was Baird's first in the last 31 games.

Two Sands girls walked away with the awards—Bodine being selected as the Most Valuable Player, while Darlene Wright was chosen the recipient of the Sanner Sportsmanship Award.

The all-tournament first team was: forwards, Corn; Diana Lewis; Trent; and Bobbye Watts; guards, Gayle Jones, Lueders; Nancy Hollar, Haskell; and Gail Cooley, Hawley.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: JIMMY CANNON, New York columnist: "The beauty of snow has long been promoted by the poets. They're the greatest liars our civilization produces. My antipathy to cold can't be measured as the unique impulse of the eccentric. I never heard of a rich man who retired to an igloo in Baffin Bay. I'll become a winter sport when the millionaires quit Palm Beach for Neme in the wintertime. Any real millionaire owns more bathing suits than earflaps. And don't tell me how pretty the girls are who go for winter sports. Even herring looks good on ice."

TONY WEITZEL, Chicago writer: "Cassius Clay, poor wight, makes no secret of his friendship with the Black Muslims. Which promises an odd spectacle... a lad who doesn't trust pale-faces matched against a champ who doesn't trust anybody."

SONNY LISTON, who meets Clay Feb. 25, discussing the $250 price tag on ringside seats for the bout: "Good thing I'm gonna be in the ring. I sure wouldn't pay that much for a seat."

JESSE BOWDRY, Liston's sparring partner: "Sonny is the strongest man I've ever seen. The champ has the strength of a bull and the grace of a ballet dancer and is the greatest fighter that ever lived... I've got to keep him used to taking punches so he doesn't lose the feel. But I don't think I ever hurt him. Nobody can hurt that man. Sometimes I think he doesn't even feel my best punches... Cassius sure ought to show Sonny more respect. He has no business in the ring with Liston... Actually, he doesn't hit me very hard. He's just working on speed and timing. If Sonny wanted to hit me hard, he could knock me clear out of the ring into the seats."

LOU NOVA, former boxer who practiced the "cosmic" punch: "Joe Louis would have knocked out Sonny Liston in one round. Tony Galento also would have beaten Sonny."

JOHN P. CARMICHAEL, veteran Chicago columnist, writing about a one-time Big Spring pitching ace, Willard Ramsdell: "Names that are now almost forgotten kept popping up at the Old-Timers 46th annual dinner. One of 'em was Willie Ramsdell, who used to pitch for the Reds and Cubs. One day he was facing Stan Musial of the Cardinals with the tying run on base and Luke Sewell was managing the Reds. On the first pitch Musial broke a seat in the upper deck, only the ball went foul. The next one he put on top of the roof, also foul. The third toss took off like a jet and broke another seat upstairs and it also was foul. By this time Sewell couldn't stand it any more. He called time and waved in a relief pitcher for Ramsdell. As Luke reached for the ball, which Ramsdell was flipping up and down, the pitcher growled: 'First time I ever heard of a pitcher being taken out for a foul ball.'"

JOE TORRE, the big leaguer: "The toughest pitcher for me to hit is Bob Friend, not Sandy Koufax. He always outguesses me."

Bufs Take Road Trip

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes travel to Water Valley tonight, with both the boys' and girls' squads needing victories.

The girls, tied for first place in District 83-B with the Garden City Bearkittens, play a must game at 6:30 with the Wildcats. A loss this late in the season could prove their undoing as far as district championships go. The Buffalo Queens are 24-2 overall.

The boys need a win in the 8 o'clock game to stay in contention for the 83-B title. The Bisons are currently in second place.

Probable starters for the boys are: Kenneth Soles, David Robertson, Donnie Gooch, Kent Sneed, and Alexander.

DEAR ABBY
Thought For The Day

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with you? First you advise a young married couple, who ask if it's proper to "tip" their minister for helpful counseling, to give a "donation" to the church instead. Then some preacher's wife writes in crying poor mouth and says, "No, giving the church a donation for services performed by the minister makes about as much sense as sending a 'tip' to Conrad Hilton because you got good service in his hotel." And you agreed with her! You must know that no self-respecting clergyman would accept money for performing a service that is part of his job. And another thing, most churches today are so rich they don't know what to do with their money next.

BURNED UP IN ST. PAUL
DEAR BURNED: It's difficult to speak for "all" clergymen, and "most" churches. But according to my mail, "most clergymen have a struggle making ends meet. And "most" churches know only too well what to do with their money.

DEAR ABBY: Since when should the people who belong to a church pay the preacher extra if they call on him to perform a service? If the preacher should be paid for counseling, or marrying, or burying, then by all means let's pay the teacher for holding special conferences with parents, and let's tip the dime store clerk who looks under the counter for something, and the mailman for delivering the mail.

FROM A TEACHER MARRIED TO A PREACHER
DEAR ABBY: To say that the letter from "A Clergyman's Wife" infuriated my husband is putting it mildly. Granted, the clergyman and his family can use money. Who can't? But to expect payment for a service that is part of one's training in the service of God—this is asinine. My husband would rather live on beans and rice, and wear turned collars on his shirts than take money for himself for baptisms, marriages, funerals and counseling.

PASTOR'S WIFE, FT. BRAGG, N.C.
DEAR ABBY: You were right the first time. When a member of a congregation receives professional services from his pastor, he should not feel compelled to give him a personal gift. If the pastor's salary is inadequate, this should be remedied, but a clergyman should not have to depend on "fees" or "gratuities" in order to make an adequate salary. Perform a double reverse. The fuel is regular. The performance is premium.

Premium performance doesn't cost a nickel extra in a '64 Dodge. Because under that handsome hood lurks the largest standard engine in the low-price field (318 cu. in. V8). It doesn't cost you extra at the gas pump, either! Regular grade fuel suits it just fine. Dodge is as luxurious as it is lively. The Polara 2-door hardtop above, for instance, features a rich saddle-grain vinyl interior, a comfort-providing flip-down center armrest, foam seat padding, and thick wall-to-wall carpeting—all standard equipment. Yet it's priced right with comparable models of Ford and Chevrolet. In all, there are twenty-two Dodge models to choose from. In

Johnson Nearest Presidential Link To Perpetual Motion

EDITOR'S NOTE — The "style" of a president and his family—the way they do things—has come to attract almost as much interest as their politics. This is the beginning of a three-part series on the Johnson style. Written by a team of Associated Press White House reporters who have observed the Johnsons at close range. Today's story focuses on the personality of Lyndon B. Johnson.

thought Kennedy was something of a whirling dervish shake their heads in astonishment at Johnson.

How can this man who suffered a jolting heart attack in 1955 bear up under the presidential pace?

For one thing, associates say that while he hasn't had a complete physical check-up since he became President, his doctors insist his heart has healed fully and he is in fine health.

For another, they say he has a faculty for instant sleep—he drops off in the barber chair, on a rubbing table, or for three minutes of a five-minute car ride—and awakens with new vigor.

NO ESCAPISM
Yet they say he goes in for no escapism activity.

"Movies are out," one presidential assistant said. "The idea of reading a detective story doesn't occur to him. He does go through seven or eight newspapers every morning. On TV, he watches the news shows."

It was only when someone told him to, that Johnson snapped on the television set in his office recently, watched a now grown sixth grader he once taught—and spanked—on the CBS "I've Got A Secret" show, then put in a call to the New York studio to invite him to drop in and see his old teacher.

The President's only real break away from the White House was the 12 days he spent at the LBJ ranch in Texas over the holidays. He wanted to go down in the hill country and commune with himself, he said.

Then when he got there, he worked a lot, slept a little. He kept a federal budget constantly in his coat pocket, conferred with official visitors, entertained friends, rode horseback, drove a speedboat, hunted deer, gave barbecues, ran up the phone bill, held a news conference, whirled around by helicopter, conducted tours of his ranches, dedicated a synagogue, kissed babies, pumped hands, gave away sombreroes and ash trays, and dropped in on four New Year's Eve parties in Austin, 65 miles away.

CAMP DAVID
In Washington, he has gotten away for a couple of abbreviated weekends at Camp David, a presidential hideaway in the Catoctin Mountains 60 miles northwest of the capital. But each time he and the First Lady have had visitors, such as Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Robert S. McNamara.

The Johnsons like to have people around. Nobody else ever gave a party for 200 congressmen on three hours notice. Nobody else ever has shown people through the family quarters of the White House—even to the bedrooms with the pajamas laid out on the beds.

The place may not have as much flair and elegance and intellectualism as it did in the Kennedy days. But there's a joy and hominess about it, and less reserve.

Johnson bristles a bit, though, at being characterized as corny, or folksy. It wasn't corny, he says, when he had famed Texas pianist Van Cliburn play at a barbecue for Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of Germany.

'BEING MYSELF'
"I'm just going to keep on being myself," he says.

Being himself means he will keep on being a man of contrasts and contradictions.

He can be proud, vain, stubborn, crude, tough, a tyrant, with a tongue that can cut like the lash of a Texas bull whip.

He can be self-deprecating, droll, warm, kind, sentimental, with a gentle way with children.

He passes word he wants his assistants to stay off the cocktail circuit but enjoys a scotch and water himself now and again.

He can bark at a Secret Service man and he can send the agent's stay-at-home wife Texas pralines at Christmas time. He purrs at praise but he's as quick to bestow it himself as he is to criticize.

He pulls daughter Lynda

Tipsy Jumbos Raising Havoc

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Drunken elephants are terrorizing railroad workers based at a small station in South Africa's Kruger National Park, a large game reserve.

At this time of year some elephants get drunk after eating fermented berries which have dropped from the Maroela trees growing in the park. Like some humans on a bender, some pickled pachyderms become extremely aggressive and unpredictable.

One worker was returning from a party with friends when a drunken bull elephant tossed him off his bicycle and stamped the machine into the ground. The African suffered two broken ribs and cuts on his face, but escaped.

Another worker was sitting on his veranda when he heard a crack in the backyard.

"An old outcast bull elephant we call 'Patrolman' was tearing some fruit trees apart," he said. "Suddenly the wind changed and he came for me. I shut the kitchen door just in time."

"He ran around the cottage for about five minutes, trumpeting and flapping his ears, drunk as can be. Then he stormed off into the bush."

Sets Meeting
The zoning board of adjustment will meet at 4 p.m. Thursday in city hall to consider a request for a variance to a sideline setback requirement.

J. H. Eastham, 1015 Nolan, has requested permission to build a metal carport on the side of his residence, extending to three feet, three inches within the side property. City ordinance requires sideline setbacks of five feet.

Owners of property located within 200 feet of the affected property have been notified.
