

Military Voting Rights Remain Unchanged

By SAM BLACKBURN
A few of Big Spring's many residents attached to Webb AFB have expressed the hope that the ratification of the amendment to the United States Constitution, banning poll tax payments as a prerequisite for voting in federal elections, may privilege them to take a bigger part in local elections.

They have expressed the impression that the special non-paid poll tax receipts now being issued by the county tax assessor-collector's office can be issued to them.

Unfortunately this hope is in vain and the impression that they may be eligible for the special limited voting permits dubbed "non-paid poll tax receipts" — is in error.

NO CHANGE

The ratification of the constitutional amendment relative to poll tax and voting in federal elections did not alter or abolish a Texas constitutional provision which bans military personnel from voting in Texas elections. The situation facing military personnel in the community is unchanged from what it was prior to the day the 37th state ratified the voting amendment in the federal Constitution.

"I have said that the Texas law which keeps persons in the military from taking part in the elections in their communities is a bad law and in need of change," said Gil Jones, district attorney. "Nevertheless it is the law and it is still in effect. The new amendment to the federal Constitution has not changed anything."

The Texas constitutional provision dealing with members of the armed forces and elections has been on the books a long time. It goes back to the days when the civilians were doubtless fearful that in communities with a heavy concentration of military personnel, the military might control political matters if permitted a local voting privilege.

PROVISION

The provision reads: "Any member of the Armed Forces of the United States or component branches thereof, or in the military service of the United States, may vote only in the county in which he or she resided at the time of entering such service so long as he or she is a member of the Armed Forces."

This bars nearly 100 per cent of the airmen and officers (as well as their wives) at Webb from taking part in elections here. The one exception would be if an airman happened to have enlisted in the Air Force in Howard County and then was assigned to Webb.

If the airman enlisted in Tarrant County, for example, he may vote in elections in that county (provided he has obtained a poll tax receipt there) if he wants to vote absentee. If he is from another state he can be a qualified elector in his own state and vote absentee in elections in that state, but he cannot take part in local elections in this county.

Because many Webb airmen and their wives are, relatively speaking, long-time residents of the community, they have an interest in local elections. They send their children to schools here; they often own their own homes and pay city, county, state and school taxes. Therefore they are deeply interested in governmental affairs in the community. Due to the Texas law, they cannot voice their views in elections.

LOST CONTACT

Since many of these persons have been away from their old home communities and states for many years, they have lost contact with affairs in these communities and are not interested in how elections go back there. They want to take part in elections which are pertinent to them.

No poll tax receipts could be issued to Webb personnel during the regular period for such tax payments. And now, even with the new federal amendment which permits citizens opposed to payment of poll tax to vote without paying the tax in elections where a president, vice president or other federal official is being elected, the military personnel is still kept from voting.

The new election code adopted for Texas in anticipation of the ratification of the federal anti-poll tax amendment, definitely continues the barrier against the voting man or woman in military service.

The code reads in part: "Qualifications and requirements for voting for federal offices: Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code or the Constitution of this state, the payment of poll tax shall not be required as a condition for voting for United States senator, for United States representative, or for president, and vice president, or electors for president or vice president, of the United States, in any general, special or primary election."

"To be qualified to vote for such offices, a person must be a qualified elector under the Constitution and laws of this state in all other respects."

DEATH BLOW

This last sentence is the death blow to any hopes a member of the Armed Forces may have of equipping himself with a special non-paid poll tax receipt for voting in the federal elections this year in the county where he is stationed.

The phrase "a qualified elector under the constitution" is the clincher.

The Texas constitutional provision keeps military personnel from being qualified electors in any other place than the county (or the state) where they were enlisted into the military forces.

Jones, discussing the problem, said that in the case of a service wife, the question becomes more difficult.

If the service man registered to vote in his home state this fixes his place of residence, for that purpose, in that state, Jones noted.

"The rule of law," he pointed out, "is that the wife's legal residence will follow that of her husband in most cases. Therefore, if the serviceman has registered to vote in his old home state, then his wife's right to vote will probably be only in that state."

NO WAY

Jones said that until the Texas constitution is changed, there seems to be no way that the serviceman on active duty can vote in any election—other than by absentee ballot in the state or distant county from which he originally entered the service.

Roy Thruston Elected As Garden City School Head

GARDEN CITY—Roy Thruston, elementary principal at Garden City, has been elected superintendent of schools. He will succeed B. L. Murphy, who has resigned to retire to a place he has in Northeast Texas.

Thruston's election was announced by the board of trustees headed by Sidney Hirt, St. Lawrence.

A veteran staff member in the Garden City schools, he said that "my greatest desire is to do the best job possible for all the children of Garden City schools."

As a lad, Thruston attended elementary schools in Lamesa and high school at Olton. He took his BS degree at Texas Tech in education with a speech major at Sul Ross.

Guard To Step Up Recruiting

Big Spring National Guardsmen will intensify recruiting, using as a springboard a Feb. 22 observance of George Washington's birthday — a date symbolic of the establishment of the hometown militia.

Capt. Johnnie P. Hooper, unit commander, outlined plans for a six-week program to acquaint young men with the National Guard, and more specifically, with the role the local unit plays in the nation's defense. The goal will be to bring Battery A, 3rd Battalion, 132nd Artillery to its authorized strength.

The Big Spring Guard unit is a part of the 49th Armored Division. Its history traces to Civil War times, with service in every major conflict, including the Cold War call-up of the 49th in 1961.

Service in the Guard offers young men an opportunity to fulfill their military obligation in Big Spring, or in another location, while they complete their college education. Capt. Hooper said. Men without prior service must undergo training to fill a variety of skills in the armored unit. Many veterans already possess training and knowledge to qualify them for immediate appointment to leadership positions.

During the six-week recruiting campaign, members of Battery A will contact every young man considered eligible to join the Guard. They will explain the opportunities of the National Guard. Young men 17 years of age and older are invited to visit the Armory on FM 700 for more information first hand from men of the Battery.

The unit will mark Washington's birthday anniversary with special ceremonies. The public is invited to attend.

in Castro County and taught in several schools before coming to Big Spring from San Angelo. He taught in junior high at Big Spring for three years before being elected principal of the elementary school at Garden City in 1959.

Thruston is a past president of the Toastmasters Club in Big Spring and currently is lieutenant governor for the West Texas district of Toastmasters. Mrs. Thruston is a teacher of the third grade.

New Plant Set In Brownwood

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally was notified Friday that the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. plans to purchase a 100-acre site in Brownwood to build a plant to manufacture reflective liquid and plastic films for marking and emblems.

The governor said the plant will be in operation by February 1965 and will create 100 to 150 jobs within a year. "I am delighted that Brownwood was selected as the location, he said. The governor sent a delegation to St. Paul, Minn., in January to request officials to locate the proposed plant in Texas.

Odessa Man Gets Engineer Award

Charles R. Fulkerson, Odessa, was named "Engineer of the Year" by the Permian Basin chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers Saturday evening.

The presentation was a highlight of the banquet at Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland to mark the kickoff of National Engineers Week. Fulkerson was presented a bronze plaque recognizing his professional achievement. Ken Esmond, Odessa, president of the Texas Society and master of ceremonies for the evening, did the honors.

O. H. Ivie, Big Spring, president of the chapter, presented Bascom Lynn, Midland, with a past president's pen.

Fulkerson is district engineer for Pioneer Natural Gas Company. He has lived in Odessa since 1953.

He is a native of Lamesa and attended public school in Tahoka. He received his degree in engineering from Texas Technological College in 1953.

In receiving the award, Fulkerson was cited for having been active in his community and his profession. He is now serving as American Business Clubs' representative to the Odessa Community Chest and United Fund, and is a director of the Downtown American Business Club. He is a member of the board of stewards of St. Luke's Methodist Church, and teaches a Sunday school class there. He also serves as radiation instructor for Civil Defense.

Union Okays Stoppage On Wheat Ships

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department gave informal approval today to a resolution to halt loading ships carrying wheat to Russia.

Thomas Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, told a news conference: "We will issue the orders on Monday not to load the ships."

A spokesman for the department said the resolution would be formally adopted Monday by the department before the AFL-CIO Executive Board opens its meeting here.

The resolution said it was "superficial and stupid for the United States to forbid commerce with utterly dependent Russian satellites, like Cuba, while at the same time nourishing and strengthening the economy of Russia itself."

The department covers 29 affiliated unions comprising 600,000 members. Major members are the Longshoremen, the Seafarers International and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

Rain, Balmy Days Boost Texas Agriculture Scene

Widespread rain and snow, followed by mild weather, had added optimism for agriculture in most sections of Texas. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the overall soil moisture situation has greatly improved but a few dry spots remain and stock tanks are still low.

The mild temperatures and the moisture gave grains, especially wheat, great help, he said.

Oats and clovers have also taken on new life. Pastures are greening and even providing limited grazing. But livestock feeding still is heavy.

MOISTURE
The Panhandle reported rain and snow left from 1 to 2.5 inches of badly needed moisture. Wheat will benefit greatly. Feeding was heavy. Some stockmen had great difficulty getting feed to their animals but cattle losses were extremely light.

Southern counties of the South Plains are dry and ranges are below normal. Snow in the northern counties was heavy enough to help but more moisture is needed. Irrigated grains look good but those on dryland need rain. Livestock are in good condition with considerable feeding.

Moisture is adequate in the Rolling Plains. Grains have taken on new life and grazing should improve.

WHEAT GROWTH
Moisture in North Central Texas has improved and wheat is making excellent growth. Oats haven't responded as much due to damage from cold. Stock water is still scarce and feeding is necessary.

The outlook improved in Northeast Texas due to the fairly general rains of 1.5 to 2 inches. Stock tanks are still low and a problem. Grains and clovers have started growing and some pastures are providing limited grazing. Tomatoes are being planted in hotbeds.

Moisture improved in eastern counties of the far West Texas but other parts of the district are dry. Goat shearing, lambing and calving are under way.

Moisture is adequate in West Central Texas and grains are beginning to grow. Winter weeds and grass are making some progress and furnishing some grazing for sheep. Feeding is heavy.

LIMITED GRAZING
Surface moisture is adequate in Central Texas and grains furnished limited grazing. Livestock are fair, grazing is short. Moisture is adequate in East Texas but ranges are below average and feeding is very heavy.

Warm weather helped pasture vegetation and moisture is generally good in the southeast and upper Gulf coastal area. Rice land is being prepared.

Moisture in South Texas ranges from short to adequate, harvesting of vegetables continued in the Lower Valley and Winter Garden. Vegetable planting and plowing for cotton were major activities. Livestock are in far to good condition but feeding is necessary.

Some 700 Pupils Study For Annual Spelling Bee

It's just five weeks until the 21st when the 17 school champions will go to bat at the HCJC auditorium.

FREE TRIP
The county champion will win a free trip to Lubbock to compete in the regional spelling bee. Winner of the regional contest gets a free trip to Washington in June and a chance at the National Spelling Bee Championship.

Howard County's champion last year was Burma Gentry, who was first of all champions of Goliad Junior High and then Howard County title-holder. She made a good showing at Lubbock but did not win the regional title. The regional match involves the county champions from 23 West Texas counties.

A number of youngsters who took part in the first annual county spelling bee are strong contenders for the championship this year. One such contender is Betty Ross, now in Forsan Junior High at Elbow. She was the Forsan champion in 1963.

Twelve of the elementary schools in Big Spring are preparing eliminations to select champions, and the two junior high schools are engaged in shaping up their own school elimination contests.

The Immaculate Heart of Mary parish school will have its champion ready.

The official spelling book for the Bee, containing the words which will be used at all levels from classroom eliminations to the national championship—is on hand at the Herald office at 15 cents a copy.

Winners of the classroom championships in the schools will compete for the school title. The winner of each school contest with one alternate will be entered in the Howard County bee to try for the county championship. The county champion will be decided March 15.

Former Webb Airman Enters Flying Business

By M. A. WEBB
A former member of the Webb Aero Club and an airman at Webb AFB is now Skyway's Aviation Supply Field representative for Oregon, Washington, Idaho, northern California, and southwestern Canada. He is based at Troutdale, Oregon, and covers his district in a Cessna 172.

"Dick Francis started his training for a private license Jan. 25, 1963, and received his license in March just before he was discharged," Howard Loyd, Big Spring Aircraft instructor, said. "He made it in less than three months. It was his ambition to get into some sort of aircraft business when he left the service, and looks like he made it."

Flying by club members was still down this week. Only three out of six airplanes, owned by the two clubs, were used during the week. Webb Aero Club members flying were: Cessna 150 - Kennard (3), Fennel (5); the Colt, Tri-Pacer, and Mooney were not in use. Big Spring Flying Club members up were: Colt-Jo Polonski, Cutler, Warren, Curtis (2), Bobby Coffey (new member who purchased Buster Weaver's membership); Skyhawk - Marchbanks, Dowlearn, Betty Ray Clifton.

Bobby Coffey, the new member, has started training for his private license.

Joseph Dawes, math teacher at Goliad Junior High School, received his private license Monday. He has been in training for some time. Another trainee is scheduled for his final test as soon as he can go to Lubbock.

Dr. P. W. Malone flew to Austin this week for a meeting of the State Association of Junior Colleges board. He then flew to Dallas and Louisiana on business in connection with the new Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital clinic now under construction. Dr. Malone flew an A. P. Kasch & Son Comanche.

Falls On Tracks; Not Badly Hurt

Aaron B. Carver, 62, Odessa, was treated at Howard County Hospital Foundation and released Friday night following injuries received in the T&P railroad yards. A River-Welch ambulance took him to the hospital after railroad workmen found him between tracks in the yard.

He was coming into the yards from the east on a freight, attempted to get off, tripped and fell, he told officers. His injuries were not serious.

only one complaint from area home owners, the superintendent said. The line serves about 20 houses.

Nuckels said city crews built a manhole while the paving was out. The job will be completed when street department employees fill the hole.

Sewage stoppages can be cleared quicker with power rodders, and manholes enable repair workers to get at the trouble spot more easily, Nuckels said.

In this connection, city commissioners have authorized bids for a power rodder. The bids will be received March 5.

Sewer Line Opened To Clear Stoppage

City workers had to cut into a six-inch sewer main in the 1200 block of Johnson recently to clean out a stoppage, according to Lee Nuckels, superintendent of the water department.

"This is the first stoppage that has occurred in that part of town in several years," he said.

It occurred a week ago Saturday. The line had to be cut open because the stoppage could not be cleared from the surface with a hand-operated rodder, Nuckels explained.

He said water was flowing through the main again Tuesday. The stoppage resulted in

DEAR ABBY

Cream Of The Crop

DEAR ABBY: I hope you put this in your column because lots of guys have the same problem and you could do a couple of million of us a big favor by answering this one question: Why don't parents want their daughters to have anything to do with a man in uniform unless he is an officer? Enlisted men are just as good as officers and a lot better than most civilians, yet we are treated like dirt. I have come to the point of dressing in civies and lying to girls' parents so I can take a nice girl out, because if most parents knew I was an enlisted man they'd run me off the place. What do people have against enlisted men?

ENLISTED MAN
DEAR ENLISTED: Most parents don't make any distinction between an enlisted man and an officer. They simply rule out all men in uniform because they are skeptical of a man who is here today and who could be gone tomorrow. The cream of any nation's crop wears the enlisted man's uniform (for a time, at least) and I would remind parents that they could be passing up gold because it doesn't look as good as brass.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married five years and we have four children. (Two are twins.) Well, my mother-in-law complained to her son right in front of me that we were having too many children. I am 26 and he is 28 and I think we are old enough to know what we are doing. Don't you think my husband should have told his mother to mind her own business? Or do you think it was okay for him to have laughed it off as a joke and said, "They are cheaper by the dozen, Mom!"

NOT LAUGHING
DEAR NOT: Sharpen your sense of humor instead of your claws and you'll be a lot happier. Your mother-in-law probably meant no offense.

DEAR ABBY: The item in your column about the mailman who was shocked to find some women on his route in their bathrobes at two in the afternoon floored me.

What is that supposed to prove? If she happens to be changing clothes when the doorbell rings, what is she supposed to answer the door in? Or should she just go to the door in whatever state of undress she's in at that moment?

The mailman's wife said that SHE always got up in the morning and put on a foundation garment, hosiery and a fresh house-dress to do her housework. Well, bully for her! I can just see myself putting on my girdle and hose to crawl under the beds to mop, or to scrub my floors. Phooey on him!

'64 Corvair Monza by Chevrolet

It's got a frisky new engine

(that puts superior traction under you)

Some cars do their best out on the highway. Others seem tailor-made for driving on city streets.

Then there's Corvair—that gets along just great most anywhere. Swishing along a highway. Scouring around in traffic. Or wading through a soggy trail.

Take highway driving. Corvair's got a bigger new engine with horsepower up nearly 19% in the standard version. But in case Corvair for some faraway places. You'll get the message.

Take city driving. Corvair's trim size, light steering (because the engine weight's in the rear) and flat cornering make anything from rush-hour driving to parking a cinch.

Take back-road driving. The weight of Corvair's engine bearing down on the rear wheels gives them remarkable gripping power on most any kind of surface, whether it's loose, solid, dry, wet—or even snow covered.

Something else you can take note of, too: There's no radiator to overheat or run dry. No hoses to check or replace. No need for antifreeze. The engine's air cooled, the brakes self-adjusting.

Beginning to sound like a car you can really warm up to? Then there's only one thing left to take: a ride in one at your Chevrolet dealer's.

15-Year Retirement Quest Finally Ends For Bill Mead

OFFICIALLY RETIRED, BUT... Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mead keep busy

BY JOE PICKLE
Fifteen years ago W. L. (Bill) Mead began to retire; now he finally has got around to it. For the first time since he came here 25 years ago, Mr. Mead has no direct business operations. He now attends to his affairs in an office space at the family home, 703 Texas, and confines his "business" activity to a couple of trips a day to town to have coffee with friends. Last month he sold his last interest, the Mead's Auto Supply, to Everett Wegman and Jimmy Jennings. Oddly, it was in 1949 when he acquired the business as he made plans to begin to retire. In May of that year he had sold his interest in Mead's Bakery to his brother, E. P. (Doc) Mead, but by August he had acquired the auto supply store.

TO BOERNE
Nevertheless, he didn't give up the retirement idea, and later he and Mrs. Mead moved to Boerne in quest of peace and quiet. Within 16 months they were back; it was too quiet for Bill Mead. Soon he had more irons in the fire. One of them was a partnership in a furniture store, which later became Good Housekeeping. Another was a warehouse operation, Morehead & Mead, which expanded into moving and eventually became Morehead Transfer and Storage, owned by G. G. (Gibby) Morehead. Through the years, he maintained a vigorous role in religious matters, so much so that sometimes it appeared business was his sideline. For one thing, he was instrumental in founding the Gideon International Encampment here. He became a leader and later a deacon in the First Baptist Church. He supported several mission causes and did much personal witnessing.

MR. MEAD
Mr. Mead had moved here in 1939, and he and his family learned something about flash floods. Five days after their arrival in May, he and Mrs. Mead and a daughter had gone to the Ritz Theatre before going to the bakery for the late Saturday check-in. They heard it thundering but gave it no thought. When they started out of the lobby later, it was under water. The water was so high and swift that it was almost midnight before they could get out. He marvels at the modern bakery machinery, which almost dictates that the operation has to be a large one to survive. No longer are things done by hand; indeed from the mixing of ingredients to the boxing of bread, hands never touch the product. "If bread was baked as we did it when I started," he said, "a loaf of bread would cost 50 to 75 cents." He plowed thousands of dollars back into the church and religious activities. Not long after coming here, he became interested in the First Baptist Church and its new pastor, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, and before long he had joined it. He became one of its staunchest members. He also supported the Biblical Research Society, which develops and distributes the evangelical material to intellectual Hebrew circles; the Central American Mission (he has a letter from a doctor telling of how his hospital in Honduras had 229 conversions last year); and many others. It was not uncommon for him to get in his car and drive several hundred miles to tell some friend, for whom he had become burdened, about what Christ had done for him. He had joined the Gideons in Wichita Falls, and when he came here, he got a group of laymen together to organize an encampment.

Only 40 Special Receipts Issued

Only 40 persons have applied for the special non-paid poll tax receipts which will enable them to vote for a president, vice president, U.S. senator or U.S. congressman in elections to be held this year.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, tax assessor-collector, said that interest in the special receipts is low. Deadline for obtaining such permits expires March 8. The receipts were made necessary in order to permit persons opposed to the payment of poll tax as a requisite to voting to cast their ballots in federal elections.

CHIN FOR YOUR LIFE, TOO Jim Gilbert watches Clyde McMahon Jr. strain

Y Offering New Exercise Program

The YMCA has some advice for men who might become candidates as cardiac cases. Jim Gilbert, physical director, states it simply: "Run for your lives." This advice applies to anyone above 26 years of age. That's when "middle age" begins to set in, he says. Starting Wednesday the Y's "Run for Your Lives" exercise program is getting underway, and Gilbert hopes a substantial number of men will take part. This is no ordinary program, for it is aimed at obtaining circulatory fitness and development of the heart muscle. Classes will meet for one hour a day, Monday - Wednesday - Friday, starting at 5:30 p.m. They will be under the supervision of Gilbert, who underwent special training in this field while on the Y staff at Tulsa, Okla. The first 20 minutes will be spent in warm up exercises, including walking around the gym, adding extra movements such as swinging the arms, twisting, kicking the legs, slipping ankles, etc. By this time body heat should have come to maximum, and the hard exercises will begin. After 20 minutes of rigorous workout, the men will then begin a final 20 minutes of tapering off exercises. Of course, most or all participants won't be able to follow this regimen completely at first. They will more or less set their own pace, each day trying to add just a bit more until they have reached a maximum safe level. On the days classes do not meet, they will be encouraged to do some exercising on their own. For some men leading sedentary lives coronary difficulty may start, although completely unsuspected. This program is designed to help avoid that, according to Gilbert. In one of his programs, he reports, a man with a record of a heart attack entered. He could hardly walk around the gym without breaking into a cold sweat. After a long period of conditioning, he was walking a brisk three miles regularly. All of this, Gilbert emphasizes, is done under close supervision. He hopes later that equipment might be available which would help keep a record on a heart action of participants. Persons interested may contact him at the Y.

Lawman Held In Dope Raid

BOSTON (AP) — A twice-cited Boston patrolman was arrested early today as he reported for duty, bringing to 15 the number of persons seized in connection with narcotics raids in the city. Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara said the raids by federal, state and local authorities broke up the "most extensive narcotic ring ever to operate in the New England area." Patrolman Robert T. McCreary, 41, of Roxbury, a nine-year veteran on the force cited twice for outstanding police work, was arrested at the South End station. McNamara said a small quantity of marijuana had been found at McCreary's apartment. McCreary's wife Janet, a bride of three weeks also was arrested. Both were charged with unlawful possession.

How to save for a rainy day — and help your country now

Someday, sometime, you may have an emergency which will affect the future of your family. It will be comforting to you to know that you have a fund standing by to help you meet that emergency.

In a sense, such an emergency exists now that your country has to meet. It comes up every day—here and all over the world. The emergency of keeping peace and standing up for freedom.

You can help meet both these needs with U.S. Savings Bonds. Your money in Bonds grows steadily to help you provide for college, a new home, an unexpected illness. And as the money grows, your country uses it to help protect our freedom.

Americans are holding $47 billion in Savings Bonds—for rainy days, and sunny days, too. Why not join them? Start buying Bonds now, and see if you don't feel pretty good about the whole thing.

It's easy to buy Savings Bonds on the Payroll Plan where you work. A $50 Bond costs $7.50, a $25 Bond $3.75, and you can buy them in installments for a few dollars a week. Or buy them outright at any bank. No charge for the service.

Some nice things about Series E Bonds

- You get 3 1/2% more money when they mature
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- You can get your money when you need it
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed

Garza Children May Have Virus Rather Than TB

There is a very good chance that the 13 Garza children of Knott may not have tuberculosis after all.

It will be two weeks or more before the final decision will be announced, but Dr. Peter R. Walsh, clinical director at the McKnight State Hospital at San Antonio, said Saturday he has high hopes that the youngsters may prove free of the disease.

The 13 boys and girls, sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Garza, Knott, were taken to the hospital a week ago by Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, and Mrs. Ethel Sherill, county-city health unit nurse. X-rays had shown signs indicative of tuberculosis.

"Symptoms certainly looked like tuberculosis," commented Dr. Walsh at the state hospital. "Negative results on skin tests, however, pretty well rule out tuberculosis. We have noticed shadows on the X-rays are clearing already, and this does not normally happen in tubercular cases."

The hospital is taking blood samples and will send these off for extensive analysis. Results should be known within two weeks.

The Garza brood will remain at the hospital pending the outcome of the tests, Dr. Walsh pointed out.

"If things turn out as we believe they will," he added, "then these children can be sent home a lot sooner than we anticipated when they first came here."

Mr. and Mrs. Garza, according to Mrs. Phillips, have moved into town. Garza who does not have a regular job has been kept fairly busy, she said.

Klondike Gym Work To Begin

KLONDIKE—A new roof is to be erected over the Klondike school gymnasium. The school board met Monday night and approved plans for an arch-type roof, submitted by Architect Howard Allen, Lamesa. Barkowsky, principal of the school, said work would start in about eight days, at a cost of $100,000.

The roof of the new gymnasium collapsed last Sept. 5, about 2 a.m., before the structure was put into use by the school.

"Our school opened Aug. 30," Barkowsky said, "and the girls suited out to use the basketball court Sept. 3. It was raining, and leaks in the new roof prevented use of the court. The rain continued and the roof caved in on the fifth. The cafeteria, vocational agriculture section, and the dressing rooms, were not damaged and have been in use."

Barkowsky said the school district had to take the matter to court to get satisfaction from the contractor before a new roof could be constructed.

"The new roof will be built with arched beams and supports," the principal continued. "We will not have to do anything to the adjacent buildings, but the gymnasium floor will have to be replaced. We will have the new gym in time for next season's use."

Workmen have been cleaning debris around the building, and removing the metal roof, to permit the crumpled beams to be taken down.

Crash Produces Minor Injury

Walter Wells, 20, Odessa, was treated and released at the Malone & Hogan Foundation Hospital Friday afternoon following a two-car accident at Second and Scurry. His injuries were painful but not serious. The car he was driving and one driven by Boone Horne, 1604 Indian Hills, were in collision at the intersection at 2:24 p.m. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $750.

Locations of other accidents, and drivers of vehicles involved, were: 900 block East Third, Rudy Gilbert Srygley, Livingston, Texas, and Larry Corbett Hewitt, 1707 Purdue; Second and Scurry, Jerry Waller, 1904 Winston, and parked car owned by R. J. McCullough, 205 Willa.

Bonds Are Posted

Pantelon Trevino Gonzales, indicted by the Howard County Grand Jury for failure to stop and render assistance after an accident, posted $1,000 bond Friday and has been released from custody.

Joe Hodge, charged with a misdemeanor theft by bailee, has been released on $500 bond.

Heavy Losses Are Reported

Alligator shoes valued at $130, 10 records valued at $10, and three charms valued from $25 to $30 were reported stolen from a car parked in front of the First National Bank Friday night. Ernie Turner, 1026 Birdwell Lane, told Big Spring police that the items were taken while he was at a local theatre, and that possibly he had failed to lock one door of the car. Stolen items belonged to three other people.

A 1955 automobile, owned by Airman Charles R. Gall, 907 Scurry, was reported stolen between 10:45 and 11:45 p.m. Friday. The car was found abandoned at Second and Birdwell Lane at 12:05 a.m. Saturday.

A tool box, containing about $130 worth of assorted tools, was reported stolen from a pickup parked on the Cowper Clinic-Hospital lot between 7:30 and 7:55 p.m. Friday. The owner was Alfonso Lopez, Luther, who said he was in the hospital only a short time.

Four hubcaps, valued at $45 were reported stolen from a car owned by Kenneth Collier, and parked in front of his home at 136-B Dow Drive, Webb Village.

All Democratic Candidates Pay

All candidates who had filed for office subject to the Democratic primaries have paid their primary costs assessment and their names are assured of places on the ballot.

Frank Hardesty said that the last of the office seekers made the required payment on Friday night and beat the deadline by 24 hours.

He said that his committee will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Howard County Court room to draw names in contested races. This is important to some on the theory that voters unfamiliar with names on the ballot may choose the one on top.

JAY GOOCH

Jay Gooch Is Made Delegate

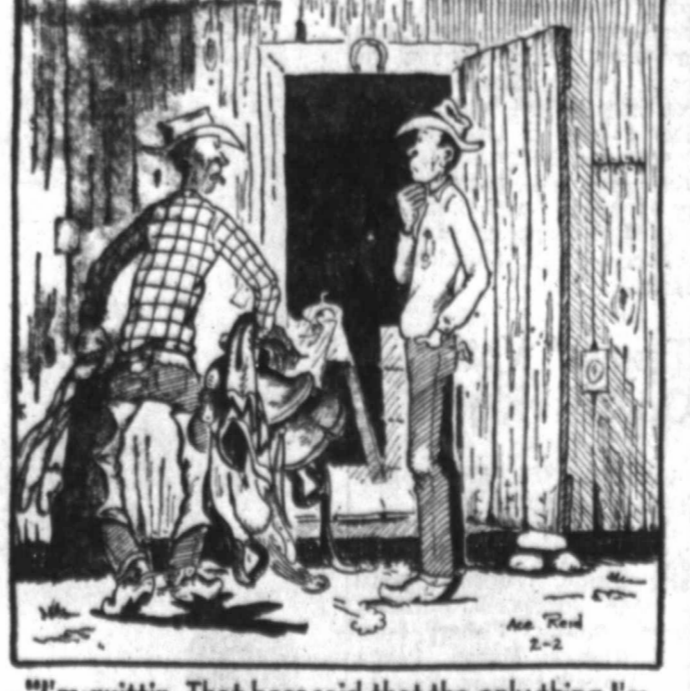

Jay Gooch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel M. Gooch, 1000 Birdwell, has been named representative of the Lone Star District among the Buffalo Trail Council delegates to the national Explorer's Conference.

The council will send eight delegates to the party, set for August in Kansas City.

A brother, James, recently was a council representative for Scouting's report to Gov. John Connally.

Jay has been an outstanding Scout and Explorer, having come up from the Cubbing program. He attained the highest rank in Scouting — the Eagle — when he was still 12 years of age, and he is due to receive his first palm to the Eagle. He also served as a senior patrol leader, is a member of the Wesley Methodist Church, and makes exceptionally good grades in school. Jay also has served as secretary of Air Explorer Post 236, with Elmer Giles as its advisor.

Additions Proposed For Grady School

A classroom, storage, and library-study hall, will close the gap between the center building, and the wing on the left of the photograph. Dressing rooms will be added to the inside wall of the gymnasium on the right. Supt. Elwyn Bass, left, explains additions to a Herald reporter.

Grady School District Schedules Bond Election

By M. A. WEBB
LENO RAH — Needed improvements and additions to the Grady School plant, on State Highway 176 between Lenora and Tarzan, have resulted in the school board's calling a special bond election for Feb. 29. The total bond issue calls for $100,000.

Qualified voters will be asked to approve three propositions on the ballot: $35,000 for a new classroom, combination library-study hall, storage, and remodeling other facilities; $45,000 for remodeling the gymnasium, adding bleachers, and dressing rooms, and for tax rates regulated by Senate Bill 116.

Supt. Elwyn Bass said the board approved plans, for additions and improvements, submitted by architects Neuhardt and Babb of Midland at the Monday night meeting. The board also called for the election. He said Grady school's present main plant was built in 1951. The cafeteria was added later.

The enrollment, which was increased each year, now stands at 230, with 252 expected next year.

The only laboratory equipment now available is a small portable facility being moved from room to room. Two study halls per day are being held in the cafeteria, and the students have no library facilities there.

The school, with 10 teachers including the superintendent-principal, carries students through the eighth grade. High school students go to Stanton and Flower Grove.

Carrier Johnston, representative of Rauscher - Pierce and Co., the school's bond fiscal agent, told the board that the proposed expansion would call for a slight increase in the tax rate. He pointed out that the total real assessed valuation in the district is approximately $18,000,000 but that property owners were assessed on only 25 per cent, or $4.5 million at $1.50 per $100. There are 315 square miles in the district.

In citing provisions of SB 116, Johnston told the board that districts may assess owners up to $1.50 per $100 for maintenance and operation. The district may also have a bonded indebtedness of up to seven per cent of the actual assessed valuation. If bonds required exceed seven per cent, the maintenance and operation rate is reduced 10 cents for each one per cent over the seven. The bill permits the district to go over the seven per cent, but will reduce operational tax rates.

Voters must approve the proposition on SB 116 or the other two propositions will be voided. At the same time, approval of SB 116 will protect the district if unforeseen costs arise.

Grady school board members are: Homer Howard Jr., president; Isa Mae Cox, secretary; Coy Welch, Mrs. Delmer Ham, Buster Haggard, Lloyd Mims and Marvin Standifer.

The board took the position that the plant must be expanded to meet the growing enrollment and provide facilities for proper education of students. The bond issue was the only route open.

Residents of the district, who hold poll tax receipts, and who own property which has been rendered for taxation, are qualified to vote in the Feb. 29 election.

Four Burglary Suspects Still Held In Jail Here

Four suspects in burglaries at Lake J. B. Thomas, dating back to 1960 and involving property valued at thousands of dollars, remained in county jail here Friday while two others were free on bond. Area law enforcement officers are continuing the investigation of what they believe to be the operations of two separate gangs of lake burglars.

In jail here, charged with burglary, are: William Clark, 17, 905 Abrams; John Thomas Lee Long, 18, 1011 W. 8th; Sidney Kibbie, 31, Odessa; and Wendal Webb Jr., 19, 905 Abrams. Sheriff's authorities said bonds for the men were set in Borden County.

John Jacobs, 19-year-old airman, was released Monday and Curtis Dean Atkinson, 23, Route 1, was released Wednesday, both on $1,500 bond, according to sheriff's authorities.

Also in jail in connection with alleged lake burglaries are Horace Atkinson, 20, Route 1, cousin of Curtis Atkinson, and Jack Dorton, 18, Sand Springs. Detectives said they are being held in Scurry County on charges of burglary.

Investigating officers said arrests to date have cleared 17 burglaries at the lake and several burglaries and attempted burglaries in Howard County. The investigation ultimately may clear other offenses and result in further arrests, detectives said.

Horace Atkinson, Webb and Clark were arrested Feb. 1 in Sterling City after being halted for a routine traffic violation. A capias warrant, charging burglary, was issued for their arrest by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter after further investigation implicated them in the burglaries, detectives said.

A warrant also was issued for the arrest of Jacobs, the airman, but he was not arrested until police picked him up here Feb. 5. Police said they went to Odessa Jan. 30 to take custody of Kibbie, who was arrested there earlier.

Curtis Atkinson and Long surrendered here Feb. 8 after a warrant, charging burglary, was issued for their arrests in Borden County, detectives said.

Dorton, apprehended Feb. 6 in Dickens, was charged the following day by Wayland Holt, district attorney of Scurry County, with burglary.

Detectives said all the suspects eventually will be charged and tried in either Borden or Scurry County since the alleged burglaries occurred in the two counties. Lake Thomas extends into both counties.

One alleged gang, detectives said is composed of Dorton, Webb, Jacobs, Long, Clark, the two Atkinsons and a 14-year-old youth, who has been turned over to Juvenile Officer Bob Darland.

The investigation now centers on the suspects in the other gang, detectives said.

Kibbie is believed to be a member of a second alleged gang, detectives said, although he is the only one of those arrested who has not made a statement.

Two suspected members — Glen Sharp and his wife, Ruth — have been charged with burglary in Borden County and are out on bond, detectives said. The husband was arrested last month in Midland on a warrant out of Weatherford charging theft by bailee, and his wife was apprehended here last month, detectives said. The burglary charges were filed against both suspects subsequent to the theft by bailee charge, investigators said.

The investigation is being conducted by Big Spring detectives Jack Jones and Wayne Tollett, Texas Ranger Sgt. John Wood, Midland; Skeet Schooling, superintendent of Lake J. B. Thomas; Norman (Slim) Sneed, deputy sheriff of Borden County; and authorities from Mitchell, Martin and Scurry counties.

Most of the items taken in the burglaries were disposed of, but the remainder was returned to the owners, detectives said.

Many Residents Sign Up For Air Force Association

A sizable number of people in Big Spring already are signing up for membership in a new local squadron of the Air Force Association, as a result of announcement of such organization.

A session at which aims and purposes of the Air Force Association will be outlined is scheduled for Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Academic Building at Webb Air Force Base.

Every person interested in the movement is urged to attend.

The Air Force Association was incorporated in 1946 as a non-profit aerospace organization dedicated to help maintain national security and world peace. It functions through local squadrons, which in turn are under state and regional units. It currently has some 45,000 members, the largest independent airpower organization in the U. S.

The association publishes the magazine "Air Force - Space Digest" and all members receive this publication. It gives up-to-date information on the progress of air power and its function for national security.

On the local level, the AF squadron would participate in various community programs, such as Air Explorers, civil aviation, Civil Air Patrol, youth and adult education, airpower development, etc.

Sponsors of the local squadron said they expect a large, active unit here. They urged attendance at the Thursday night meeting.

Hilliard Named For '63 Audit

Howard County Commissioners have awarded contract for the 1963 audit of records and books of the county offices to Neil G. Hilliard, local certified public accountant. Hilliard can start the audit as soon as he desires, according to Judge Lee Porter.

The audit of the books for the 1963 period was submitted to the court last week by George Thorburn, another local CPA, who has the audit contract for that year. The commissioners court makes a custom of passing the audit contract to the local accountants who want a hand at it.

The audit just completed cost the county $2,941. Porter said this is about average cost for the annual check of the county records.

World War I Vets, Auxiliary Have Installation Rite

Officers were elected and installed for both the Veterans of World War I and its auxiliary at a meeting Thursday evening.

Installed by Fred Akers were T. F. Walker, commander of the barracks; L. R. Mundt, senior vice commander; J. L. Swindell, second vice commander; Fred Aker, treasurer; A. E. True, quartermaster; Joe Jacobs, junior adjutant.

Officers of the auxiliary were Mrs. T. F. Walker, president; Mrs. Ruby Simpson, first vice president; Mrs. Ruby Unger, second vice president; Mrs. A. E. True, chaplain; Mrs. Lee Castle, secretary; Mrs. Lola McElroy, conductress; Mrs. Alma Avery, guard; Mrs. Frank Muligan, treasurer; Mrs. Joe Jacobs, publicity. Installing officer was Mrs. Swindell.

The group had Dutch supper at the Downtown Tea Room and then adjourned to the Odd Fellow Hall for the business session, which was followed by a recreation period.

She was a resident of Golden Years Rest Home in Christoval. Besides her son, she is survived by three grandchildren.

OWC Readies Benefit Show

By JO BRIGHT

Rehearsals have become a way of life for many members of the Officers' Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base. For two weeks now, home life in Webb Village has been at a standstill while the wives—and husbands, too, have had a taste of show business.

The curtain goes up Feb. 21 and 22 on "Red Stocking Revue," the benefit show which is beginning to shine as it acquires a professional polish.

Joe Landis, a director with the Jerome H. Cargill Producing Organization, has guided the cast through daily and nightly rehearsals. Landis is a veteran of Broadway musicals who studied modern ballet under Agnes DeMille and fencing with Cornel Wilde. He has been with Cargill for seven years, staging a dozen productions annually. He feels it is a real challenge to tap the talent of communities and produce a professional show in three short weeks.

A highlight of the show will be the naming of a maharaja from among representatives of service and civic clubs. The decision is made by popular vote, each costing a penny. The winner will be featured in one number of the show.

Tickets are on sale at $2 each at many downtown and neighborhood stores. Anyone wishing to donate $5 or more to the show is listed as a patron. Proceeds of the show will be used locally for OWC welfare activities.

New Bride Honored

Mrs. Jo Bob Kitching was honored at a bridal shower Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. E. A. Fiveash, 803 E. 14th.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, Mrs. Fiveash, Mrs. Cleo Guy, Mrs. M. T. Staggs, Mrs. T. A. McGuffey, Mrs. Delbert Burchett, Mrs. Gene Haston, Mrs. J. W. Garrison, Mrs. B. M. Estes, Mrs. J. W. Bryant and Mrs. D. E. Clemens.

The refreshment table was covered with a white net cloth. A sweetheart theme was carried out by a white satin heart topped with red carnations and flanked by white candles in silver candelabra. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Mrs. Kitching is the former Sygale Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Compton of Keller, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kitching, former residents of Big Spring. Their marriage was an event of Dec. 14 at the First Baptist Church in Keller.

Siesta, deep sleep, or just plain get-away-from-it-all... you'll find it more refreshing in your new Monterey bedroom. There's a definite Spanish feel to the spindle-on-spindle bed headboard, the square-turned posts at head and foot. The nightstand, too, speaks español, its framed door panels looking as if they had come from the walls of a long-ago nobleman's manor house. FOR HD CLUBS
Programs Presented On Line And Design

"Line and Design in Clothing" was the subject of talks given this week by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, agent, when she was guest speaker at Home Demonstration Clubs. The following is a brief resume of her presentation.

Line is a useful tool employed by dress designers since figure variations demand different styling. To be well dressed a person must choose clothes to suit themselves and the occasion. This is principally a matter of knowing what lines, colors and fabrics are complimentary.

Line is used to create optical illusion when the figure is not perfect. Vertical lines give the illusion of height, and horizontal lines add apparent width. A dark or dull color shade makes the figure look smaller than bright shades. Bulky fabrics add weight and a smooth fabric has a slimming effect.

Miss Janet Lou Thomas became the bride of Osbon Kermit Fortune Jr. in a double ring ceremony performed at 7 o'clock Friday evening in the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. B. A. Patton, Mesquite, uncle of the bride, officiated at the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Zennia Hare, 1667 Virginia, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Fortune, Lenora.

An arch of bridal vine centered the altar and, on each side, red satin hearts with white net overlay featured a line design of long stemmed white carnations. Seven branched candelabra held cathedral tapers which lighted the altar rail as the couple knelt on a satin prie dieu.

Accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Bob Spears, Eddie Peterson sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "As The Years Go By." Given in marriage by her brother, Jackie Thomas, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin brocade with a rounded neckline and molded bodice. The fitted sleeves ended in petal points over the hands, and the box pleated skirt extended into a chapel train. Her waist-length veil of illusion was secured by a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. The bride wore pearls belonging to her mother and used the traditional items that were old, new, borrowed and blue.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white hyacinth blossoms atop a white Bible.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Joyce Thomas; the matron of honor was Mrs. Jackie Thomas; and the

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

When Cupid pulled his arrows from his quiver this Valentine's Day he could have saved himself the trouble of putting the arrow in the bow as far as some of the youngsters were concerned.

Friday morning dawned brightly and it was a good thing as there were many mothers out early rounding up a supply of greeting cards for their small fry to pass out at the class parties at school. Many a mother stayed up late on Thursday night and some right on in to Friday morning baking heart-shaped cakes for the students and their teachers.

The romantic theme of the day of St. Valentine appeared to have been lost so far as a great number of the small fry were concerned... they could not have cared less about who got the most Valentines.

But if the theme of the day were lost on the children it did prove a wonderful theme for two coffees for the women Friday morning.

To introduce her neighbor and the wife of a new colonel at Webb, Mrs. GEORGE FRANKS entertained at her home for Mrs. E. L. MASTERS with a gay mid-morning affair. Red and shades of pink were used in floral decorations and a number of the guests looked the part of Valentines with their pretty red and pink dresses and suits. Mrs. Franks wore a rosy pink shirtwaist dress to greet her guests... Mrs. REX FRYER chose a deep red jacketed dress to assist in serving.

MRS. JACK HARALSON'S suit was of ruby red silk and Mrs. H. W. SMITH wore a brilliant red dress. She was happily anticipating her trip to Ann Arbor, Mich. Leaving next Wednesday, she will be away for several weeks visiting in the home of CAPT. and MRS. CLEVELAND PUCKETT who are awaiting the arrival of a second child. Capt. Puckett is working on his master's degree in mechanical engineering. When the Edwardses who have lived in Big Spring the longest entertained to introduce the newest Edwardses (Mrs. W. P. Jr.) to the city at a coffee there was a great gathering of old timers and newcomers. And we concluded the newcomers can talk as long and as animatedly as the old timers. The Big Spring Country Club was really glowing with happy people.

MRS. RAYMOND RIVER was the picture of springtime with a knit suit that combined shades of green, gold and yellow. The ensemble was topped off by her straw hat that blended perfectly with her suit. MRS. GEORGE McALISTER'S two piece suit was of rosy pink. MRS. JACK COOK, in the houseparty, wore a sheath of orange silk.

MRS. CARL STROM, MRS. LEE ROGERS, MRS. FRED LUTTING, MRS. TOMMY GAGE who added a bright yellow scarf and yellow slippers for a color highlight and MRS. TRUMAN JONES contrasted her white with deep pink scarf and slippers. MRS. HACK WRIGHT brought her daughter, MRS. DON BARTON of Lubbock, who is visiting her and Mr. Wright.

MRS. ERNEST DORSETT is a patient in Baylor Hospital in Dallas after undergoing eye surgery Monday.

MR. and MRS. JOE CARPENTER have a new daughter-in-law as of Feb. 1. Son EUGENE CARPENTER and MRS. MARY HUDSON were married at 2:30 in the afternoon on Saturday at a Baptist Church in Cincinnati, Ohio, by the Rev. John M. Wall. The couple is making their home in Cincinnati where he is employed by the Marpro Products, Inc.

MRS. ISLA DAVIS is up and about again after having a slight setback following eye surgery.

MRS. EUGENE GROSS was in Dallas last weekend to see her infant twin grandchildren but she didn't get to cuddle them... they were most uncomfortable with the chicken pox.

Word comes from SAMMIE SUE McCOMB daughter of the SAM McCOMBSES, that she is to teach grammar and English in Cuzco, Peru, through July. Sammie Sue has been working with the Peace Corps for the past year.

MRS. LUCILLE SPEERS of Dallas has been the guest of her sister, MRS. GEORGE HALL.

MRS. HAYDEN GRIFFITH has been hospitalized during the week after suffering an injury to her back last Sunday.

MR. and MRS. W. F. TAYLOR, accompanied by their daughter, MRS. O. B. CAVE of Rotan, returned Thursday from a business trip to Dallas. While there, they were visited by MR. and MRS. BOB GEORGE, former residents of Big Spring and who are now in business at Hurst, east of Fort Worth.

THE HERALD

Highlight Of The Day

"When you've been home with Mom all day, it's sure good to have another man in the house," is expressed without words by Doug, las Rider, shown with his parents, Lt. and Mrs. Ray Rider.

From The Northwest, Rider Family Arrives

The Great Northwest is the country from where the Ray Riders come. No. 9 is their apartment at Park Hill Terrace, 700 Marcy, and residing with them are their son, Douglas, six months old, and a blue-eyed, Siamese feline named Moose. Mrs. Rider's home is Portland, Ore., and Lt. Rider's, Sunnyside, Wash. They met at Oregon State University where she received her degree in science education and Lt. Rider in mechanical engineering. After their marriage, Rider was associated with the Handford Atomic Plant in Richland, Wash., but not for long. He was accepted by the Air Force soon after. Mrs. Rider cancelled a contract with the public schools at Richland to accompany her husband to his first station at Albuquerque, N. M.

The Riders, their son and Moose arrived in Big Spring about mid-January, and Mrs. Rider says they are happy to be here "... where my husband is near water." It seems that he is an avid water-sportsman—sking and boating. His wife goes along just for fun. Another attractive note in the Big Spring scene is the nursery at Webb which is set up to care for infants. This accommodation was not a feature of the Albuquerque base, so with this facility at hand, Mrs. Rider hopes to become active in the Officers Wives Club affairs.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Net Prolongs Life Of Scouring Sponge

Dear Heloise: Please tell Mr. and Mrs. America to try wrapping nylon net over their sponges to prolong the life of them and to note how much easier it is to do a better cleaning job on pots, pans, tubs, lavatories, tile, wood or plaster walls, windows, etc., etc., etc.

It is a handy timesaver to have one gadget that will scour as well as wipe up!

Oh, yes, also do have the ladies try nylon net-covered sponges when bathing their children. For that matter, all members of the family should try it. The exhilaration derived from using a nylon net-covered sponge while bathing will help them get off to a good, clean, vibrating start on their daily chores. . . . Thomas Somers, Jr.

They can also be frozen. I halve mine, de-seed them, wash and wipe them dry. I then cut them in quarters or slices, wrap them in layers of waxed paper and put them in our freezer. When completely frozen the pieces can be put in any kind of container.

The peppers stay in separate pieces and you can take out as much or as little as you need—thus saving more money and you have peppers when you want them. . . . Doris Neff

Why not lay them out on a cookie sheet, freeze, then bottle? After frozen they won't stick together. . . . Heloise

Shattering Bullet Fails To Dim Life For Six-Year-Old Cindy Thompson

By JOE BEYER

Cindy Kay Thompson has an amazing capacity for life.

On Nov. 29, 1963, six-year-old Cindy was accidentally shot through the head at close range with a .38-calibre pistol. Technically, she died once on the operating table. That she should survive was unbelievable, said her treating physicians. That she should go on to what promises to be an almost complete recovery was too much to hope for.

It is no wonder that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caldwell, 2300 Runnels, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carpenter, at that same address, refer to her as their "miracle child."

Today Cindy romps about the house almost as freely as any other child her age. Her brown hair is still cropped close, reflecting the surgery performed, and the eyelids of her right eye, through which the nearly-fatal bullet entered, are sewed partly shut, but otherwise there is little indication that she was the victim of a tragic accident less than three months ago.

The Caldwell family lived in Phoenix, Ariz. at the time of the tragedy. They have since returned to Big Spring, their previous home. Mrs. Caldwell formerly worked at the sheriff's office here. Mr. Caldwell was an employee of Kent Oil Co. and also worked with Western Glass and Mirror before entering police work in Phoenix.

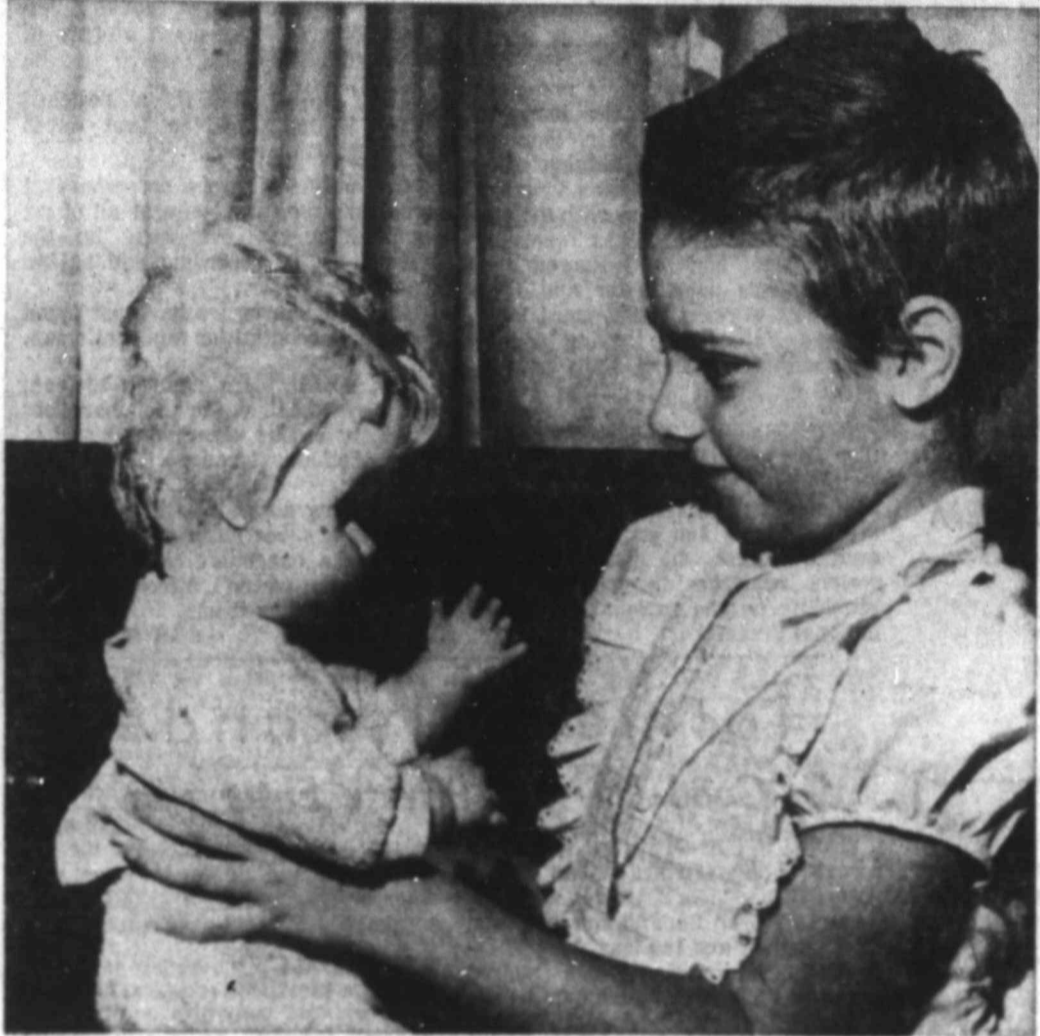

There was nothing unusual about that Nov. 29, Mrs. Caldwell recalls. The family had gone out that evening to look at cars and after they returned her husband began to clean his pistol. Cindy had always enjoyed watching him perform this daily chore. Then the unexpected happened. The pistol roared in his hand and a .38-calibre bullet ripped through Cindy's right eye. Cindy still has a two by four centimeter hole in her skull where the bullet made its exit.

IMMEDIATELY
"My husband's police training and the fact that we got her to the hospital almost immediately probably did much to save her life," Mrs. Caldwell said. Within 20 minutes surgeons at St. Joseph's Hospital in Phoenix were desperately trying to keep Cindy alive.

The Barrow Neurological Wing of the large hospital was

More than once her activity was the cause of concern. On one such occasion when Cindy disappeared from her room, she was found looking for one of the nurses with whom she had become close friends. She still wears about her neck a medal given to her by staffers at the hospital.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Movie producer-writer Sidney Barlett, 55, was sued for divorce Thursday by his wife Carol, whom he married in Las Vegas, Nev., last Aug. 3.

Permian Bldg. Remodeling Plans Begin

One of the city's major office buildings is undergoing a complete "dressing up."

Odell Ingle, newly assigned to be in charge of the Permian Building in Big Spring (as well as other properties) by its owners, Flato Realty Investments, has been here for several days making arrangements for major projects.

He said a new roof is being put on the Permian Building, the air conditioning system is to be completely overhauled, improvements made to the elevator, and that every room in the building is to be repainted and renovated.

"We propose to make the Permian offices attractive to those seeking office space," said Ingle, "and we want our property here to be an asset to Big Spring. We're here to be a 'part' of local development."

Ingle, long-time resident of Corpus Christi, where he was active in civic and governmental affairs, now resides in Dallas, but plans to spend one week out of each month here, supervising the Permian Building. It is one of many vast properties held by the Flato interests over the nation.

Committee Meetings Set

Three Chamber of Commerce committee meetings are scheduled for next week in the chamber conference room.

The civic development committee, with Dr. Lee O. Rogers as chairman, will hold an organizational and planning meeting at 5 p.m. Monday. Dr. Rogers calls for suggestions for projects to improve the appearance of Big Spring.

Russell Bennett has called a meeting of the advertising and promotion committee for 4 p.m. Tuesday. He announced reports from sub-committees on the highway sign program, along with other business.

The wholesale distribution committee will meet at 5 p.m. Wednesday. Mel Stinson, chairman, said the first meeting would take up proposals to build up wholesale and distribution activities in Big Spring.

Patient Released

HOUSTON (AP)—The man who underwent the first successful kidney transplant in Texas at the Methodist Hospital here Dec. 18 has been released. Doctors say Lindsey M. Spillman, 35, of Seymour, Tex., has progressed well since he received the kidney from his mother.

Man Dies In Mishap

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Tom O. Pruitt, Brownfield, was killed and Charles Hutchinson, 52, of Odessa was injured in an industrial accident three miles south of Silver about 9:15 a.m. Friday.

The two men were employees of the Kelley Copping Company of Odessa and were installing a water injection pump over an injection hole in the Jameson Field. They were caught between the flywheel of the pump and a truck. Pruitt was dead on arrival at the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City and Hutchinson was suffering from a fractured pelvis. He is not otherwise seriously injured.

Pruitt's body was at the Kiker and Son Funeral Home in Colorado City, but was to be transferred to Mineral Wells for burial.

Sued By Mate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Movie producer-writer Sidney Barlett, 55, was sued for divorce Thursday by his wife Carol, whom he married in Las Vegas, Nev., last Aug. 3.

She is a native of Virginia. She did her graduate work in psychiatric nursing at TCU.

IF IT'S TOO QUIET—TURN ON THE RADIO

Some of the finest comments that come to us from owners of 1964 Cadillacs concern the car's extraordinary quietness of operation.

A Cadillac owner remains comfortably insulated from the distraction and din of the heaviest midtown traffic. And we think that this remarkable characteristic tells a great deal about the quality and goodness of this extraordinary new Cadillac creation.

First of all, it indicates the car's high level of craftsmanship. Every 1964 Cadillac, in fact, now undergoes more than 1400 separate inspections.

It indicates, too, how Cadillac's combination of functional styling, scientific soundproofing and advanced new suspension have reduced to an almost unbelievable degree the sounds normally associated with travel.

And, even more importantly, it speaks of the car's great engineering. Cadillac's dynamic new engine operates with flawless precision, despite its record power. Its new transmissions, both the Hydra-Matic and the Turbo Hydra-Matic, translate that power into smooth, hushed response . . . and combined with exclusive True-Center drive line, virtually eliminate vibration.

If you have not yet driven a 1964 Cadillac, you will find it a most revealing experience. Your dealer will have one ready any time that's convenient. Just let the car's amazing quiet do the talking.

A Devotional For The Day

The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. (Matthew 8:8.) PRAYER: Spirit of God, turn upon us the light of Thy truth. In Thy light may we see light: and seeing, invite Thee to enter into our lives and take over their guidance. In Jesus' name. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Potential Bright Spot

Reports on construction started in January reflect a revival in this field. Although slightly less than a year ago, the totals for the month were considerably up from sagging figures during the last quarter of 1963.

thing under way during the year. Some sizeable commercial projects are in the offing. One hospital project is well along and another may materialize. While completion of the IS 20 loop may cause some dislocations during the third quarter, this venture also will stimulate several major building projects along the route and at its extremes.

Emerges Stronger Than Ever

After the shake-out from that hassle over keeping "harmony" among Texas Democrats this year, the man who emerges of stronger stature than ever is Governor John Connally.

throw their strongest support to John Connally, who must remain the leader of his party in Texas. Surely there cannot be a valid campaign against the first anti-loan shark legislation in Texas...

A Time And Place For Criticism

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is learning the hard way. He has naturally felt the weight of his responsibility as world problems have recently borne down on him.

known as the Monroe Doctrine, which Congress by resolution reaffirmed within the last few years. Had he and his predecessor accepted this advice, Khrushchev and the European group members would not now be aiding Castro, and the government of the United States would not have been placed as it is today in the humiliating position of being deprived of a water supply for its naval base at Guantanamo, which American troops occupy under specific treaty provisions.

IT MAY SOUND like a paradox, but the lever of spontaneous criticism by the people is the President's most valuable asset in arguing with foreign governments.

THE TENSION that preceded the famous Munich conference in 1938 wasn't dissolved by appeasement or by indifference to the critics, whose words had been heeded. These blunders helped to bring on World War II.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is experiencing, of course, for the first time the kind of criticism which is hard for any chief executive to answer when crises of various kinds are pressing him.

Billy Graham What can Jesus Christ do for me that no one else can? I wonder if it is really worthwhile to be a Christian — P. E.

Under a totalitarian form of government, the national parliament as well as the press is suppressed or required to take the same view as does the head of the government.

Yes, I will tell you of three things that Jesus Christ can do for you—and certainly no one else can do them. They are all contained in His own stupendous claim: "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by Me" (John 14:6).

Today the criticism of the administration's policy in Cuba is that it is weak and irresolute and that it can lead to further offenses by Castro against the United States unless he is dealt with firmly now.

Again, because of our sinful natures we are morally and spiritually blind. We do not know the truth about God. Our understanding is darkened. But Jesus says: "I am the Truth"—and that means He not only reconciles us to God, but reveals God to us.

MR. JOHNSON has been repeatedly advised by his critics to apply the historic policy of the United States

'BELLYACHE?—THAT'S NOT MY PROBLEM'

J. A. Livingston The Risk Of Promissory Capital

Washington Irving long has been lovingly associated with Rip Van Winkle, Ichabod Crane, Sleepy Hollow, and the rolling thunder in the Catskill Mountains along the Hudson. You do not think of him as a worry word or economic investigator. He was.

Disturbed by the crash of 1837 brought on by land speculation and the over-issue of currency by Andrew Jackson's "pet" state banks, Irving wrote in the April, 1840, issue of "Knickerbocker" magazine, an article called "A Time of Unexplained Prosperity: The Great Mississippi Bubble."

"All, to be sure, yet exists in promise; but the believer in promises calculates the aggregate as solid capital, and falls back in amazement at the amount of public wealth, the unexampled state of public prosperity!..."

LET'S HOPE it has no present-day pertinence. Yet this era can make common cause with past collapses. Restraint is unpopular. It is fashionable for congressmen and college professors to berate the Federal Reserve Board for apprehensions about the deterioration of credit.

ALL GREAT ECONOMIC expansions have been understructured by credit expansion. Prosperity of the golden 'sixties is no different. Federal, state, local government, corporate, partnership, and individual debt rises month-by-month.

"Every now and then the world is visited by one of those delusive seasons when the credit system, as it is called, expands to full luxuriance; everybody trusts everybody; a bad debt is a thing unheard of; the broad way to certain and sudden wealth lies plain and open, and men are tempted to dash forward boldly..."

DOES THIS make you think of the Billie Sol Estes? Or the Ira Haupt failure? Or the Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining bankruptcy? Do the troubles of some large real estate firms come to mind or the speculative gyrations of such stocks as Polaroid, Litton Industries, Data-Control, and Syntex?

Around The Rim Sixteen Years Of This—So What?

We're at an anniversary of a sort here. It was on this corresponding Sunday, back in 1948, that there was brought into being, to fill space on the northeast corner of this page, the offering known as "Around The Rim."

Sixteen years ago they included the late Dorothy Thompson, Walter Lippmann and Drew Pearson. Today there are David Lawrence, Marquis Childs, Holmes Alexander, Inez Robb and J. A. Livingston, who certainly present different points of view, and who seldom go in for levity.

THE REASON for the name escapes me, although I think somebody suggested it in recognition of a newspaper working situation, wherein various editors sit around the "rim" of a copy desk, guided by the chief news editor who becomes the "slot" man.

IF THERE IS that much reading matter of a serious nature, the "Rim" efforts have been calculated to be less so. The introductory column suggested that there would be no pretension, nothing necessarily dogmatic, perhaps not controversial or pugnaeous, and certainly nothing sensational. It voiced the hope that there could be a little entertainment, or at least to offer a few moments of what might be called "casual" fare.

SO, FOR 16 years, numerous individuals have made their contributions for better or worse. Three of the original writers remain—Tommy Hart, Joe Pickle, and yours truly. I believe only Hart holds the distinction of not having missed a contribution in the 16 years.

We have had, and continue to have, our critics. Some columns have evoked some strongly rebuking letters; others bring down storms of derision.

Other people have come and gone. The other writers of the inaugural week were Wacil McNair, then our city editor and now managing editor of the Snyder News; Adrian Vaughan, the wire-news editor now with the publicity department at Texas Technological College; and Billie Burrell, then the women's page editor and I believe now working at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, after having done a stint with the Wichita Falls newspaper.

JUST LAST WEEK, a postcard came to me, and the first words were, "You're a nut!"

THE FEATURE IS, admittedly, neither fish nor fowl. The Herald's editorial observations appear on the left side of this page. Also contained here are comments and analyses of more serious vein the developments and problems on the national and international scene.

Currently we have a correspondent who has taken dead aim at all of us, maintaining that everybody on the "Rim" list is dispensing nothing but tripe.

Holmes Alexander Good Day For Private Enterprise

WASHINGTON—Two rather footlose Frontiersmen had a bad day of it on February 5th. That was when the Federal Power Commission overrode its Chairman and the Secretary of Interior in the decision which favored private enterprise dam-builders on the Snake River, which divides Oregon and Idaho.

in the case by arguing that the entire Snake and Columbia River systems be reserved for a grandiose but unspecified Federal development.

Power Commission Chairman Joseph Swidler favored, as he always does, Public enterprise, in this case, the Washington (State) Public Power Supply System. Swidler, one of President Kennedy's most controversial appointees, was furious with his fellow Commissioners, whose decision he found "particularly egregious and unfortunate... mystifying and unreasonable."

MR. UDALL'S philosophy is almost that of a messianic complex. In many speeches and activities he has put himself forward as the savior of American water courses, bathing beaches, prairie lands, sand dunes and scenic vistas. Where private enterprise has developed these places for profit, and even where State agencies have been in charge, the Secretary favors rule by the empire of Federalia.

SWIDLER'S IDEA of one-man responsibility, the strong chairman concept, was upset because three of the five Power Commissioners as I understand their decision, put the Constitutional sanctity of "obligation of contract" above a Congressional statute. The Federal Power Act, a New Deal measure, says that States and municipalities shall be given preference over private utility companies in the use of water facilities, provided the plans are "equally well adapted."

He often flouts into platitudinous poetry—or his ghost writers do—in generalizing upon the theme that Government is almost more responsible to Nature than to the taxpayer.

ALLIANCE of big business and government, corporate, partnership, and individual debt rises month-by-month. Last year, mortgage debt alone rose by 20 billions, the year before that 20 billions.

BUT THE POWER Commission found 5 to 8 that his rhapsodic indictments did not apply to the High Mountain Sheep dam site on the Snake River.

Washington Irving was discomfited after the fact. Let us worry beforehand so that doubts don't accumulate into pessimism, faith doesn't sour into distrust, and confidence doesn't degenerate into collapse.

In short, the Commission reported "there is little if anything which would persuade us that Federal development of High Mountain Sheep was inherently superior to licensing it to the Pacific Northwest Power Company... Neither the record nor our general knowledge of the Columbia River System discloses any major benefits which would result from Federal construction..."

Marquis Childs Mrs. Smith Charts Her Own Course

LACONIA, N. H.—The lady from Maine is conducting what must surely be the quietest, most understated Presidential campaign in history. No bumper stickers, no loud-speakers, no buttons, no advance agents—just the slender, determined presence of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith as she picks her way between frozen snowdrifts in high spike heels, shaking hands with the passers-by.

Altogether it was a gala occasion for private enterprise, and perhaps a sign that the conquests of Federalia are reaching a point of diminishing triumphs.

WHY IS SHE going through with this punishing dawn-to-dusk exercise? Why did she inject herself into a Republican primary race already so confused by so many entries that the outcome is likely to mean little?

There are obvious compensations for an effort that at the age of 66 cannot be taken lightly and particularly when her first appearance was on a street corner with the temperature registering 28 degrees below zero. She will go down in the history books as the first woman to make a serious try for the presidential nomination of one of the two major parties. And she says firmly that she is serious, intending to go into the Illinois and perhaps the Oregon primaries, ruling out California because that takes big money.

She says she wants to be President. She says she has a good right as anyone else in this mixed bag of contestants to go after the nomination and no one can dispute that. But the explanation would seem to be more complicated.

THE SENATOR is getting national exposure for this run at a cost that—apart from the physical demand of a 12-hour-a-day, five-day-a-week schedule—can be measured in gasoline and shoe leather. Here is the technique of the handshake, the friendly smile and the quiet exchange in 10-cent stores, supermarkets and hardware stores up and down the main streets of one small town after another.

SENATOR SMITH has always fought her own battles. It was no thanks to the Republican organization, dominated by males, that she became the only member of her sex ever to serve in both the House and the Senate. Her own steely determination, cloaked by a gentle New England manner that deceives only those who choose to be deceived by it, has put her where she is.

People like it, especially women. They have an exhilarated look after she passes by. Just to think, they say, as though it were incredible, that a woman, one of America's most-submerged minority, should be running for President.

What Mrs. Smith wants to prove in the New Hampshire primary is that neither of the so-called front runners, Sen. Barry Goldwater nor Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, can be nominated and elected. As to a third choice, Senator Smith keeps her own discreet silence.

For a woman of Mrs. Smith's will this is an idle speculation. She has her own dark suspicions of those waiting in the wings to grab the prize. But this does not deter her from following steadfastly her own appointed course.

To Your Good Health To Quit Drinking, Join Alcoholics Anonymous

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: I'm writing this with a hangover. I drink beer too much. I can't quit but I want to. I'm the mother of three children—11, 8 and 5 years old. There is always beer in the refrigerator. If I get disgusted with something, I'll open a quart and then go on and on. I'm sure I must be an alcoholic. I'm getting worried more now because I don't remember about the night before. Today, I drove through a red light. I have never done this before. Last weekend I woke up in a strange bed in a settlement house. I don't remember driving there but my car was parked on the wrong side of the street. The motor off but the key in the ignition and the parking lights on. How can I stop drinking? Isn't there a pill that makes a person feel sick even to look at beer? I need someone to put a good scare into me. Please frighten me into stopping—MRS. L. M. You certainly have the typical signs of a full-blown alcoholic and I'm glad you are worried because being that upset perfect reasons that are better. Their ages are 11, 8 and 5. Dear Dr. Molner: After a total hysterectomy, for cancer of the uterus, it is necessary to take hormone shots?—MRS. J. G. No, it isn't necessary in most cases. Rather, it is more a matter of relieving such symptoms of menopause as may occur from the operation—hot flashes, and so on. With somewhat older patients, there may be no occasion for hormones at all. In short, it is a question to be answered on the basis of the individual case. Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. Burl Ives As Genie Heads 'Brass Bottle'

With a puff of blue smoke, an Arabian Nights genie materializes from the just opened brass vessel, and with it start a series of hilarious incidents in Universal's "The Brass Bottle." Starring Tony Randall, Burl Ives and Barbara Eden, the color movie opens at the Ritz Theatre Thursday.

Ives as the genie who is released from captivity by Randall, a young architect in love with Miss Eden, insists on showing his gratitude. And, when a contemporary of Solomon operates in the Modern Civilization, many humorous situations evolve.

Typical are: the sudden change of his garret apartment into a sultan's palace complete with dancing girls when Tony invites his fiancée and her family to dinner; a camel caravan that arrives at Tony's home in a residential area, replete with Arab attendants carrying chests filled with uncut jewels, gold bullion, and American currency; a finished housing development that arises out of vacant land overnight. These and many more shenanigans, treated to wring out every laugh, make for rollicking entertainment.

Randall, under the careful direction of Harry Keller, under-plays the role of the perplexed Edward Andrews and Ann Doran, which, because of a contrast, makes it outstanding playing their roles straight. As a goalpost, fits the role of a lover, Kamala Devi offers to be genie in a period when dieting—come a member of Randall's Miss Eden is very convincing in her first motion picture role as a belly dancer. Newman, German Beauty Headline 'The Prize'

It's not often that you get a motion picture which is a suspense-thriller, a love story and a sophisticated comedy all rolled into one. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Prize," with Paul Newman, Edward G. Robinson and the beautiful European actress Elke Sommer, is just such a picture.

It opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre. Based on the best-selling novel by Irving Wallace and filmed in Stockholm, Sweden, "The Prize" concerns a young American novelist who comes to Stockholm to accept a Nobel Prize and walks into both murder and an unbridled love affair.

"Of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from conquest from without, but from decay from within."

Arnold Toynbee, British historian

Many Americans are concerned about the ease of life in our country today—and what it may do to our children. Will the "soft living" of our times bring a continuing decline in their physical and moral stamina? This could happen if our children aren't encouraged to develop their bodies as well as their minds. Parents should insist on a minimum of 15 minutes of vigorous activity each school day—for every boy and every girl. Tell your school officials about your concern. For information about a program that your school—any school—can put into effect promptly, write the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

'Destry' Gallops Onto Screen Amidst Big Odds

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Friday change of production personnel so that the concept wasn't clear at all.

"Destry" from the same Revue stable that has produced "Wagon Train" and "The Virginian," faced two hazards: 1. Television Westerns are on the decline. Seldom has a mid-season entry scored a success.

FIFTH IN A ROW These hazards are viewed realistically by John Gavin, fifth notable to play Destry, the reluctant hero—Tom Mix, James Stewart, Audie Murphy on the screen, Andy Griffith on Broadway.

"Of course I think it was a rat-fink trick of the network to put us on in midseason with the odds so heavily against us," said Gavin. "But I think we have a reasonable chance of succeeding." "At least our chances look better to me now that we have reached a semblance of agreement on what the character of Destry is to be. There was much confusion at the start and a

Comely Kathy Crosby Set On Finding Acting Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—Kathryn Grant Crosby, Bing's pretty, young wife, wants an acting job now—3,000 miles from home and husband—she is threatening drastic action if she doesn't get it.

"I'd love to do a 'Breaking Point' episode," she said, "and if they don't get me a part in 'Breaking Point,' I'm going to get on 'Dr. Kildare.'"

This is pretty drastic talk. Bing's company owns and produces "Breaking Point," ABC's psychiatric series, while "Dr. Kildare" is a rival doctor series on another network. Maybe there's a company rule about nepotism.

CHAIR HUNTING Kathy Crosby was in New York for three days this week, but so busy talking up her husband's CBS musical special on Saturday night and hunting antique French chairs that she didn't even have time to go to a play.

A hectic schedule is routine for the Texas-born brunette after five years of marriage to Der Bingle. In that time she has borne three children, completed a full nurse's training course at Queen of Angels Hospital, Los Angeles, learned to play golf, run four homes—and even has found time for an occasional television appearance.

Saturday night, as one of Bing's guests, she will make her public singing-dancing debut in a show taped over three months ago.

Kathy says that she "always wanted to be a nurse," but had detoured to a promising film career when she married Bing. She expects to take her state board examinations to become a registered nurse next month, but isn't quite certain how she will be able to use her medical skills.

DRESSMAKERS The summer and winter fashion collections of the top Paris dressmakers are created amid security precautions that would impress our Secret Service and in an atmosphere of hysteria that makes the Beatlemania look like Golden Age picknickers.

George Vicas, NBC's producer of special news programs in Europe, managed to overcome almost insurmountable objections and was allowed to film the entire process in the sewing rooms and salons of couturier Pierre Cardin.

Everyone connected with the NBC project, including technicians who would develop the film, had to sign a pledge of absolute secrecy. Film was labeled falsely and guarded like Fort Knox. When complete, the show was kept in a locked vault. The whole hysterical business which affects feminine waistlines and hem lengths the civilized world over, will be seen Sunday night.

German Officer Last One At Webb

2nd Lt. Gerhard H. Huml Friday achieved the unique status of becoming a first and a last officer to graduate from pilot training at Webb Air Force Base.

Lt. Huml is the first member of Class 64-F to graduate. The rest of the class is not scheduled to graduate until March 27. And he is the last German officer to graduate from Webb Air Force Base. He was graduated early from Class 64-F in order to enter the last class at Luke AFB, Ariz., for flying training in the F-84 aircraft.

As the F-84 is being phased out as a NATO fighter, Lt.

Huml will fly this aircraft for nine months in his home country and then make the transition to the F-104 Starfighter.

Webb Wing commander, Col. Rex D. Fryer, pinned on Lt. Huml's wings and congratulated him and his predecessors on being "extremely fine gentlemen and students of the highest quality."

Lt. Huml said, "I am sorry to leave Webb and would like to thank you for everything Webb has done for the German students. Every German is extremely proud of these silver wings."

Besides Lt. Huml, Webb has one more German student to graduate, S. Sgt. Norbert Kidelis. He will graduate with Class 64-G in May, and from that day forward the German students will be trained at Williams AFB, Ariz.

Previously all German students will be trained at the various pilot training bases in ATC, and were then sent to Arizona for advanced pilot training in the aircraft they were to fly in Germany.

Under the new system, they will receive all training in Arizona.
