Demonstrations Are Postponed

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—Negro student leaders had no guarantee today that Princess Anne restaurants would be integrated, but they did have the promise of lunch with the governor.

Students at Maryland State College said Friday they would give two restaurants until Tuesday to drop the color bar.

Mrs. Petty Is Hurt In Crash

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, is in Midland Memorial Hospital with a fractured knee cap, several broken ribs and a deep cut on the forehead. She was in a car accident at noon Sunday on the eastern outskirts of the Midland County seat.

Either that, they said, or county lawmakers would have to commit themselves to including Somerset within the state's public accommodations law.

Lacking one or the other, they said, demonstrations would resume.

Edmund G. Mester, the governor's civil rights trouble shooter, said the students had agreed to continue negotiations and to have a luncheon meeting with Gov. J. Millard Tawes Wednesday. Until then, he said, there would be no demonstrations.

Mester wouldn't say whether the county legislative delegation wants an equal accommodation law for Somerset.

State Senator Harry T. Phoebus said he would support extension of the law. None of the three delegates would commit himself.

Legislative courtesy, a tradition in the Maryland General Assembly, permits Somerset and 11 other counties to exempt themselves from the state public accommodations law when it was passed last year.

Student demonstrations here began 10 days ago.

Texas' Districting Laws Ruled Unconstitutional

Showers Are In Forecast

By The Associated Press
Heavy rains soaked sections in the eastern half of Texas today as a tornado alert period passed with no twisters reported.

A 2.61 inch rain drenched Lufkin with .70 of the total falling within an hour. Sherman reported 1.36 inches. Numerous points reported lesser amounts.

The southeast corner of the state was under a tornado alert but the 9 a.m. deadline passed with no twisters being reported.

The Weather Bureau warned in a special 3 a.m. advisory against a few severe thunderstorms and a tornado or two in a sector 100 miles wide and centering on a line from Beaumont to 40 miles north of Baton Rouge, La.

Showers activity was due to die down during the day but the Weather Bureau predicted a few showers by Tuesday in Northwest Texas. Temperatures were expected to remain mild.

Top readings Sunday ranged from 77 at Laredo down to 60 at Corpus Christi and Dalhart.

Delay Seen Until After '64 Elections

AUSTIN (AP)—State officials said today the Supreme Court ruling on the Texas congressional redistricting case apparently allows Texas to delay the enforcement of the ruling until after 1964 elections.

Several officials, who asked not to be quoted by name, said the decision is in line with the state's request to the high court.

NO PRESSURE
The officials said the ruling apparently relieves the state of pressure for a special legislative session at once, to realign congressional district boundaries. Gov. John Connally has said he did not want to call a special session.

In a brief filed shortly after the Supreme Court's Feb. 17 ruling on the Georgia redistricting case, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said "indescribable chaos" would result if Texas' 23 congressmen were forced to run in the state at large. Carr asked for a delay of the effect of any adverse ruling until after the elections.

The Supreme Court's ruling, which affirmed the Houston federal court's findings that Texas congressional districts are unconstitutional, jolted a traditional lethargy which has held redistricting to a minimum in Texas for 30 years.

LARGEST DISTRICT
Texas has the largest congressional district in the nation, the Dallas district with close to one million persons.

This district has almost as many people as the combined total of four other districts — 1, 3, 4 and 21—all mostly rural areas where population has declined.

These examples of unequal districting came about because Texas congressional districts remained about the same during the period when Texans started leaving rural areas to live in cities.

The present districts are much the same as those of 1933. The only redistricting since then was in 1957, when Houston got a second congressman and 11, mostly rural, counties were shuffled, leaving intact 12 of the 21 districts as they were in 1933.

CAME CLOSE
Spurred by a Supreme Court decision ordering Tennessee to redistrict its legislature, the last Texas Legislature came close to passing a redistricting bill.

House members approved a measure providing for a second congressman for Dallas, merging the districts (1 and 4) of Reps. Wright Patman of Texas and Ray Roberts of McKinney, and adding a South Texas district.

The Senate reduced the bill to one giving Dallas a second congressman and making a few other changes, and the matter died when the House rejected the Senate bill.

But Continued Stay Is Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision that Texas statutes establishing the state's 23 congressional districts are unconstitutional.

The high court said its decision was without prejudice to the right of state officials to apply, by April 1, to the U.S. District Court in Houston for "further equitable relief in light of present circumstances."

CIRCUMSTANCES
The circumstances, the Supreme Court said, include "the imminence of the forthcoming election and the operation of the election machinery of Texas as noted previously by the federal District Court in Houston in an opinion."

The high tribunal also ordered a continued stay in the case granted by Justice Hugo L. Black on Oct. 23, 1963.

This stay, the court ordered, will continue "pending timely application" for the relief mentioned previously in today's order and the final disposition of the case by the federal District Court in Houston.

The Houston court, in a 2-1 decision, found the Texas districts invalid, over objections by Gov. John Connally and other Texas state officials. These officials appealed to the Supreme Court asking reversal of the District Court decision.

INDEPENDENCE DAY
The high tribunal acted, by coincidence, on Texas' Independence Day. On March 2, 1836, Texas proclaimed freedom from Mexico.

The Supreme Court's un-
The appeal contended the special court erred in holding that population was the only factor which could be taken into consideration in apportioning congressional districts. It also said the special court erred in finding the present apportionment violates the constitution's guarantee of equal protection of law.

PROMPTNESS ASKED
Lawyers for five Houston Republicans, who began the litigation, filed a brief with the Supreme Court asking affirmation of the decision promptly so rights of the five "may be vindicated in time for the November 1964 general elections."

"Not since 1933 has Texas had a comprehensive congressional reapportionment," the brief said. "Population growths and shifts have resulted in a steadily worsening ratio between the largest and smallest congressional districts in Texas until today the state has the largest such ratio in the country: 44 to 1. Over two-thirds of the citizens in the state, in both rural and urban districts, reside in under-represented districts."

Mrs. Wagner Dies
NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Susan Wagner, wife of Mayor Robert F. Wagner, died today.

Four other jury candidates were excused during the morning.
Bell requested more peremptory challenges and the judge denied the request. "Just one?" Tonahill asked. The judge shook his head.

Bell tried to introduce into evidence more newspaper articles which, he contended, showed that Ruby cannot get a fair trial in Dallas and that the city feels itself on the "defensive."
The third week of the trial began today with attorneys still trying to complete the jury.
Eight men and two women have been sworn in as jurors. A special session Saturday failed to produce two more for the required panel of 12. In Texas, a 13th juror is not chosen as an alternate. If one of the 12 becomes incapacitated, the case becomes a mistrial.

All 85 Aboard Wrecked Airliner Reported Dead

TAHOE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Air searchers found the wreckage today of a four-engine plane where it crashed into a Sierra peak, east of Lake Tahoe, killing all 85 persons aboard.

A doctor, taken by helicopter to the remote scene at the 8,000-foot level of a snowy mountain, confirmed there were no survivors.

SNOW STORM
The Paradise Airlines Constellation vanished in a snowstorm Sunday while carrying 81 passengers to Nevada's casinos and ski resorts on a flight from San Jose, Calif.

Lt. Col. Alexander S. Sherry, deputy commander of the Western Air Rescue Center, Hamilton Air Force Base, told an airport news conference the wreckage was spotted just west of the hamlet of Genoa, Nev.

Just before the conference, a helicopter pilot told The Associated Press the wreckage was found 200 feet below the top of a rugged peak towering among those which rise up to 10,000 feet or more in the ski and gambling playland around Lake Tahoe.

Scene of the crash, first of a commercial airliner in the resort area, was just south of Genoa Peak.

17 'COPTERS
The spotting helicopter was one of 17 which flew out today over the rugged wilderness scene near the site of the 1960 Squaw Valley winter Olympics.

A ground party in snow tractors headed for the wreckage. Because of the weather conditions and the topography, there was no indication when the trip of more than 10 miles might be completed.

The Constellation wreckage was first seen by Capt. Leroy W. Marx of Stead Air Force Base, near Reno. He was flying a search helicopter when he came on the grim scene at 7:36 a.m. Pacific Standard Time.

Nevada's gambling casinos, theaters, bars and restaurants—only two miles from the airport at the south end of Lake Tahoe.

Fifteen other pleasure seekers—who had purchased $15.75 tickets for the 150-mile flight from San Jose—were unable to get seats. They were taken 50 miles to Oakland to board another plane—but were turned back with a report the weather was bad.

MYSTERY
Paradise Airlines President Herman Jones, 32, said, "We don't know what happened. As far as we can trace, the flight was all routine. There was nothing alarming about the weather at the time. However, the weather at Lake Tahoe was dropping. Snow showers. Pilot Norris never said anything adverse to the flight."

In contrast, residents of the area said it was snowing hard and winds were high and gusty—not unusual at this season in the high Sierra.

Investigator Ivan Stracener of the Civil Aeronautics Board said "the pilot reportedly had seen a hole in the overcast and was beginning his approach."

The weather was so stinking you couldn't search yesterday.

CHIEF PILOT
Norris was chief pilot for Paradise. He had flown Comies or similar planes about 16,000 hours in 16 years. He was familiar with the area in which his plane vanished.

Norris was a bachelor. He lived in Alameda.

The stewardess, Wynette McDowell, 29, had four children. Her home is in Pittsburg, Calif.

The other crew members: Donald Watson, 28, South San Francisco, first officer, and Jake Worthley, 33, Fremont, Calif.

The airline released the names of 63 passengers who boarded at San Jose, but said the names of 18 who boarded at Salinas had been mailed and would not be available until the list is received today.

MacArthur Hospitalized
NEW YORK (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur flew by plane today to enter Washington's Walter Reed Army Hospital for "observation and evaluation of abdominal complaints," an aide said.

The spokesman said the general flew in a military aircraft and was accompanied by his wife and Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, an aide.

Further details were not learned of the illness of the soldier who celebrated his 84th birthday Jan. 26.

MacArthur underwent a prostate operation at New York's Lenox Hill Hospital in January 1960.

He recovered rapidly from that and since has led an active life.

Rescue Teams Removing Bodies Of 83 Victims

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Helicopters took Austrian rescue teams to an Alpine ravine today to begin the grim job of removing the bodies of 83 victims from the wreckage of a British airliner which crashed Saturday.

A U.S. Air Force search plane spotted the blackened tail of the four-engine Bristol Britannia Sunday between two peaks.

Austrian officials said the airliner, trying to land through fog at Innsbruck Airport, slammed into 8,800-foot Mt. Gamslahner Spitz southeast of the resort where the 1964 Winter Olympics were held.

The big Turboprop plane, its fuel tanks still nearly half full, apparently struck the mountain at full speed and exploded. Debris and bodies were strewn over a 2,000-yard area in the gully between Gamslahner and Glungezer peaks.

The 75 passengers included 73 Britons bound for a skiing holiday, an Austrian and a Canadian. The airline, International Eagle, said there were 18 married couples aboard and at least five children. The plane carried a crew of eight.

Officials at the Innsbruck tower said radio messages from the plane showed the pilot "had everything ready for a landing and then suddenly veered off course."

"The plane's landing gear was down and the pilot was obviously planning to fly a downward leg to come in for the landing," the officials said. "Why he suddenly veered off the landing pattern is not yet known."

Apparently the pilot was prepared to land because he did not inform the control tower of any intention to divert to an alternate airport," Koehler said.

FOUR MAJOR AIR CRASHES

NEW YORK (AP)—The disappearance of a plane with 85 persons aboard in California Sunday followed three major plane crashes since last Wednesday.

On Saturday, 83 persons were killed when a British Eagle Airways turboprop liner hit a mountain in Austria.

On Thursday, 29 of the 42 persons aboard a Japanese airline's propeller-driven plane were killed when it overran a landing strip at Tokyo.

On Wednesday, all 58 persons aboard an Eastern Air Lines jet died when it crashed into Lake Postchartrain near New Orleans.

Psychiatrist Says Ruby Has 'Deteriorated Some'

DALLAS (AP)—A defense psychiatrist talked with Jack Ruby for more than an hour before court resumed today in Ruby's trial on a charge of murder with malice.

Dr. Manfred Guttmacher, chief medical officer for the Supreme Bench of Baltimore, told reporters he will examine Ruby again and he wants to study the electroencephalograms (brain wave tracings) taken on Ruby.

TO COURT
Guttmacher came to the court with Melvin Bell, Ruby's chief lawyer.

"I think he's deteriorated some," Guttmacher told reporters. "He doesn't look as well as the last time I saw him." Guttmacher examined Ruby Dec. 21 and 22.

change between Tonahill and Asst. Dist. Atty. Jim Bowie. He was fined $25.

Tonahill argued with Bowie over a point of law. Suddenly Tonahill took a pencil, broke it and threw the pieces on the floor. They bounced over toward the judge's bench.

APOLGIZED
Tonahill quickly apologized: "I am sorry, your honor. I got a little provoked."

The judge said quietly, "Mr. Tonahill, I cannot tolerate that."

Bell told the judge Tonahill "has the greatest respect for this court and all courts." Bell said the last time he had risen to defend a colleague who had been cited for contempt of court he found himself also cited. "I don't want that to happen again here," he said.

When he finished speaking, the judge told Tonahill, "I hold you in contempt of court."

The wrangling took place

when Bell was examining the day's first prospective juror, George Staton.

'HOGWASH'
Numerous prosecution objections to his line of questioning caused Bell to characterize the state's statements as "the same old hogwash we've been hearing for the last two weeks."

The defense used its 18th and last peremptory challenge to reject Staton. Two more jurors are needed.

Col. Nickerson Killed Sunday

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—A two-car collision Sunday night killed Col. John Nickerson, 49, Ft. Bliss, Tex., who in 1957 invoked the wrath of the Army by publicly criticizing its missile policy.

The crash 11 miles south of here on U.S. 54 also killed Mrs. Nickerson, 47, and injured the Nickersons' two sons, H. R., about 9, and Danny, about 12; and Terrell Adam White, El Paso, Tex., 16, a friend of the Nickersons; and the driver of the second car, Epi Gurule, 47, San Antonio, N.M.

Nickerson became a sensation when he "leaked" information at Huntsville, Ala., charging the defense program was being jeopardized through limiting the Army to development and use of short-range missiles.

He said the Army's Jupiter missile was far ahead of the similar Air Force weapon, although the intermediate-range missile was assigned to the Air Force.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of mishandling secret Army information and was fined $100 a month for 15 months and suspended in rank for a year.

In 1958 the Army restored his full security clearance and removed him from a "doghouse" assignment in the Panama canal zone.

He then was assigned to Ft. Bliss near El Paso.

Negro Running For Congress

JASPER, Ala. (AP)—For the first time since Reconstruction Day, a Negro is running for Congress from Alabama.

Mrs. Amelia P. Boynton of Selma qualified Saturday to oppose Rep. Kenneth Roberts of Anniston under the state's unique 9-8 elimination plan used to select Democratic nominees.

Alabama lost a congressional seat and was unable to reach agreement on redistricting. So each of the old nine districts nominates a candidate in the May 5 Democratic primary and the winners enter a runoff June 2 with the eight high candidates getting the nomination.

Mrs. Boynton, a native of Savannah, Ga., is an insurance agent in Selma.

Greek crew perished after the 15,800-ton tanker split in two under the battering of gale winds and 20-foot waves off the Nova Scotia coast Saturday. Five of the survivors were taken to a hospital on stretchers.

Capt. Stamantis Polemis, the Amphialos' skipper, said he and his men clung for hours to a rail of the stern section until they were picked up Sunday afternoon by the Canadian destroyer escort Athabaskan. A 300-foot bow section of the 630-ton ship floated away and sank.

The survivors were wrapped in navy blankets as they left the Canadian warship. Most appeared cheerful but tired. They shook hands with the Canadian sailors and in broken English expressed their gratitude.

Asked to confirm the number of men aboard his ship, Polemis said briskly, "We had 36. Now we have 34."

The rescue followed a chance observation by a Canadian air force plane during a training mission. The pilot, Lt. Laurie Friesen, spotted an oil slick about 220 miles southeast of Halifax—presumably from the sunken bow.

"A couple of minutes later we saw two ships," Friesen said. "The nearest was a navy ship—Athabaskan—and about eight miles away was another ship. The second vessel looked different from a normal ship."

As he swooped down, he made out the stern of a ship sticking out of the water.

"There were men clinging to the rails," Friesen said. "They began waving frantically."

Friesen radioed the Athabaskan. The warship's presence in the area was pure chance. The Canadian navy said no distress signal had been received from the stricken tanker.

The Athabaskan's skipper, Cmdr. Peter R. Hinton of Victoria, said a lookout spotted the floating stern a few minutes after the plane's report. Two lifeboats bobbed in the sea.

Hinton said most of the men in the lifeboats were too weak to climb nets hung over the Athabaskan's side. Canadian sailors scrambled down and aided them aboard.

Plunges Five Stories To Death

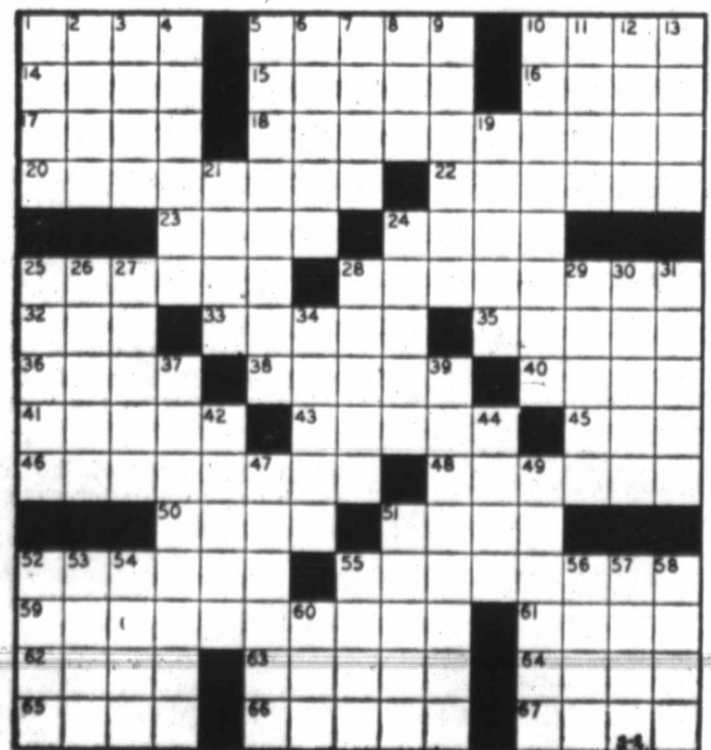

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say a 15-year-old Bronx boy apparently tried to leap 15 feet between the roofs of two buildings and plunged five stories to his death.

An open tube of airplane glue, which has a narcotic effect when sniffed, was found on the roof from which Michael Vance apparently jumped, police reported. His body was discovered Sunday atop a store between two tenements near his home.

Scranton Hoping To Avoid Contest

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today that after giving the matter the "deep thought" suggested by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, he hopes to avoid contesting for the Republican presidential nomination.

Moreover, Scranton said in an Associated Press interview, he would decline to accept the nomination for vice president if it were offered to him by his party. He had not previously made such a flat statement.

Scranton, limited by the Pennsylvania Constitution to a single term as governor ending in January 1967, is regarded as a likely compromise choice for first place on this year's national ticket by Republicans seeking a party moderate with appeal to big city voters to oppose President Johnson.

Wearing in the lapel of his impeccably tailored dark suit the bright badge of his professed reluctance to become involved in any such maneuverings, the 46-year-old governor patiently replied to questions about issues on which any GOP presidential nominee would have to take a stand.

Following is a partial text of Scranton's answers:

Q. What was the result of the "deep thought" you promised General Eisenhower that you would give in the matter of seeking the Republican nomination?

A. I haven't changed my opinion any, so far. I am still thinking I will feel very strongly that I don't want to do this. I am not a candidate, I don't want to be a candidate, and don't think it is necessary. I think you have got plenty of good ones.

Q. Do you have a preference among these others?

A. I don't have a preference at the moment. I assume that I will by the time I get to the convention.

Q. Senator Goldwater has said you ought to be seeking the vice presidential nomination. Would you accept it if it were offered?

A. I am not interested in any national office.

Q. Does that mean that you would not accept the vice presidential nomination if it were offered to you?

A. I think it means that I would not accept it if offered to me.

Q. How about presidential nomination?

A. I said that I would accept that if there was a sincere and honest draft, but I don't expect there will be one. That doesn't happen in modern political times.

Q. With the tax reduction now law, do you believe that federal spending should be reduced?

A. Yes, I do. I think if we have this shot in the arm approach in a good economic period that we can lead ourselves into inflation if we don't start cutting expenditures.

Q. Do you believe that compromises are going to be necessary or desirable to get Senate approval of the House civil rights bill?

A. As far as I am concerned, it is not necessary or desirable.

Q. What is your position on the use of troops to enforce federal court orders in civil rights disturbances?

A. I have said over and over again that had I been President Kennedy or had I been President Eisenhower in the cases involved and with my knowledge of the facts involved, I would have done the same thing. Let's be honest about it, it would entirely depend upon the situation at the time and what the conditions are and what the necessity for it is.

Q. How would you finance a federal program of health care for the elderly?

A. First of all, I would try and implement the Kerr-Mills Act in the states as much as possible. We have been doing an outstanding job in this in Pennsylvania and we are No. 1 in the nation. Secondly, I don't think this is enough to take care of the total need. A necessary, thirdly, I think we are fooling the public if we say the programs can be financed under the Social Security provisions. In my opinion, in order to do this job, you will have to do it under the regular taxing system. I may add that I think it is fairer.

Q. You do oppose federal aid to elementary and high schools?

A. I oppose it on this basis: I think we can take care of it on a state and local level. If you don't have to have too many governmental units involved in a given project, the better off you are.

Barry Opens Final Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater headed for New Hampshire today to open a six-day, last-week drive for the state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the Arizona senator's chief announced opponent, returns to the Granite State Tuesday night for a solid week of campaigning before the balloting March 10.

Meanwhile, a Newsweek magazine poll revealed that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, might whip both Goldwater and Rockefeller—if his name were on the New Hampshire ballot.

Supporters have been seeking write-in votes for Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon since neither is an announced candidate.

It was disclosed Sunday that Lodge's backers had mailed out 96,000 sample ballots, showing how to vote for delegates favorable to Lodge and how the ambassador's name should be written in on the ballot's presidential preference section.

The New Hampshire ballot lists only Goldwater, Rockefeller, Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and Harold E. Stassen.

Over the weekend, Goldwater gained 48 first-ballot votes from Republicans in North Carolina and Oklahoma, which became the first states to complete their convention delegations.

Gov. Scranton said in an interview with The Associated Press that his position remains that he wants no national office but would not turn down "a sincere and honest draft."

But Scranton said for the first time he would not accept the GOP vice presidential nomination if it were offered to him.

SCHOOL AID

Q. You do oppose federal aid to elementary and high schools?

A. I oppose it on this basis: I think we can take care of it on a state and local level. If you don't have to have too many governmental units involved in a given project, the better off you are.

Cancer Society Meets Tuesday

The Howard County unit of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc., will hold a meeting at the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. This will be the second meeting since organization was completed, and plans for full operation will be discussed and a program initiated.

LECTURE SIDE

Fascinating, Amusing Description Of Britain

NEW YORK (AP) — Only an anthropologist and insomniac would be likely to settle down by choice to watch, at 10 o'clock on Sunday night, a public affairs program with the title "Britain: The Changing Guard."

Because of that unpromising, heavy-handed title, one fears, many viewers missed a fascinating and amusing description of upper-class British life.

Theme of NBC's hour was that the age-old British upper class and its educational system are being challenged.

The empire once was ruled and governed entirely by a small, well-born minority educated in the right schools. Now it appears others are beginning to have a chance to take over.

The program, however, was primarily a peg for some great pictures of Britain's countryside and the great old houses—marvelous in color—and some delightful shots of young prep school students and Eton boys in their tall coats and high hats.

The vital importance of Eton, Oxford or Cambridge schooling was explained as well as the importance of the correct British accent.

ABC had some beautiful, dramatic photography in the third of its "Saga of Western Man" series Saturday night. This program told of events and circumstances that culminated in 1898 in the Spanish-American War and pushed young, muscular United States onto the world stage for the first time.

Location shots in Cuba recreating the battle of San Juan Hill among others, were imaginatively done, but the narration was a bit on the classroom lecture side.

"Destry," ABC's new Friday night series, has turned out to be a hit in the ratings in spite of its late start. The marked resemblance to "Maverick" is

Johnson Visits Flock Of Friends

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Lyndon Johnson dropped in on a flock of his Texas friends Sunday.

The President came to an advance Texas Independence Day celebration by the Texas State Society of Washington.

There was a lot of talk about football, and films of some of the games which brought the University of Texas the national championship were shown.

Coach Darrell Royal of the Longhorns was an honor guest. He and his wife and two sons were entertained at the White House Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

The President and Mrs. Johnson gave the Royals a personally conducted tour of the White House.

About 800 Texans who live in the nation's capital jumped the gun one day in marking the anniversary of the day Texas proclaimed its independence from Mexico.

Johnson, a former president of the Texas State Society, dropped by the Statler Hotel affair for a few minutes en route from church services. He shook hands and nodded greetings to several score of the early arrivals, then left for the White House.

U.S. Dist. Judge Homer Thornberry of El Paso, here to receive an award this week from Gallaudet College, world famed school for the deaf, received an ovation. He and Mrs. Thornberry are White House guests.

This was the first time the state society and the Texas exes organization have joined in the independence celebration.

At the end of the meeting each elected these officers for 1964-65: Texas State Society: Everett Hutchinson, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, president, succeeding Frank Ikkard, president of the American Petroleum Institute; Mrs. Howard Burris and Rep. Graham Purcell, D., of Wichita Falls, vice presidents.

Texas exes, Washington chapter: Rep. Jack Brooks, D., of Beaumont, president; Bill Moyers, aide to President Johnson, vice president; Harold Kennedy, secretary-treasurer.

King Paul Has Setback

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece suffered another medical complication today, and Premier George Papandreou was summoned urgently to Tatoi Palace where the monarch lay.

Palace doctors announced that the king, 62, who had been convalescing from a stomach ulcer operation two weeks ago, suffered a blood clot in his left lung.

The palace disclosed Sunday that the king had developed a blood clot in his right leg and had been put back in bed because of painful swelling.

The palace medical team said that despite the clots the monarch's general condition was "presently not a cause for concern."

The day before King Paul underwent surgery, he named his only son, Crown Prince Constantine, 23, as regent to act in his place.

Editor Goes To Court Over Consolidation Case

By JOE PARSLEY ORANGE (AP) — Editor J. Cullen Browning of the Orange Leader goes to court today to tell Dist. Judge Eugene Hoyt why he should not be held in contempt.

The jurist's order for Browning to appear this afternoon is an outgrowth of long dispute over proposals to consolidate various public school districts.

Lawyers for the West Orange Independent School District asked Hoyt to cite Browning for contempt. They claimed that through articles published in The Leader, the editor prejudiced jurors now hearing testimony in a suit dealing with a school district merger.

In the suit, the school district seeks a declaratory judgment authorizing a request for voters to change it back to a common school district. This step would permit the county school board to attach the Orange district to the smaller but much richer West Orange district.

County board members repeatedly have invited any of the county's eight school districts to revert to common status so that they may be attached to a neighboring district. Consolidation elections have failed in several districts.

Countywide school consolidation has been an off-and-on issue in Orange County, one of Texas' smallest, for more than a decade.

Last Tuesday the Orange Chamber of Commerce made public a 25-page report based on a six-month study of countywide school consolidation proposals. Three persons from each district participated in the survey—either school trustees or superintendents.

The report showed a majority of the participants favored a countywide system.

The Leader gave its story about the report top display Tuesday. It also carried a feature article quoting H. D. Howard Jr. of Bridge City, chairman of the study committee, in an appeal for use of material in the report toward solving school problems rather than compounding them.

Since Tuesday the newspaper has published a boxed article daily, covering in detail each of the six main divisions of the study committee's report. The last of three articles is due to appear Tuesday.

West Orange lawyers claim that Browning is causing publication of these articles, prejudicing jurors, and Browning should be held in contempt of court.

James B. Quigley, publisher of The Leader, and J. K. Davis, circulation manager, have been ordered to appear along with Browning in Hoyt's 163rd District Court.

Hoyt has ordered lawyers for the two school districts to avoid referring to related cases now pending in other courts.

The West Orange District has filed a civil rights suit against the Orange District and county school trustees, alleging they are taking part in harassment moves to keep the West Orange District from selling $2 million in bonds approved by voters in a recent election.

Filing of the rights suit followed attachment by county trustees of the common school district of Bancroft to the West Orange District. This attachment voided a pending sale of $1.6 million in bonds approved by West Orange voters in January.

The enlarged West Orange District at once called another election on the $2 million bond issue, and it was approved by voters.

An appeal then was threatened by residents of Winona Park—in the Bridge City district—that they be detached from the Bridge City district and attached to West Orange.

It was at this point that West Orange filed its civil rights suit in order to sell the $2 million bonds issue, claiming any further attachment would block sale of bonds which have been approved.

Orange countered in federal court with a motion to suppress taking of depositions, alleging adequate time had not been allowed for preparing its case.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Fisher has said there will be no action on such litigation before his court until after Hoyt's court has acted finally on its case.

10 DISTRICTS Ten years ago there were 10 school districts in Orange County. Today there are eight, the smallest being Cove District of 3.1 square miles.

The West Orange and Orangefield districts are wealthy, because of taxes on industrial and oil valuations. Resources of other districts are considerably smaller.

Expresses Optimism On Redistricting Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, dean of the Texas congressional delegation, said the Supreme Court ruling in Texas redistricting case today means the Federal Court in Houston will have to be asked to stay its decision until the state legislature convenes next year. The lower court held Texas' congressional districting is invalid.

Expressing optimism that the Houston District Court would grant a stay, Patman said: "The reasons Gov. John Connally and the attorney general have given for such a stay are persuasive."

"I think they will file an appeal with the District Court by April 1, and I feel optimistic that the court will grant a stay."

"It would be virtually impossible to take action on a redistricting bill in time for the general election in November."

"It would take 30 days for the governor to call a special session, and from a practical standpoint it would be five to six months before a new law could go into effect. That would bring you up so near the November election there wouldn't be time enough left to hold a primary election."

Should the lower court then rule against a motion for a stay, Patman added, another appeal could be taken to the Supreme Court.

The effect of the lower court decision, if it is sustained and enforced in the forthcoming balancing, would be to make candidates for the 23 Texas House seats all run on a statewide basis against each other.

Rep. Bruce Alger, Dallas Republican, disagreed with Patman about the court ruling and what the Texas Legislature could do about the situation.

Predicting any effort to stay the effectiveness of the lower court redistricting order would fail, Alger said: "I say that those who have been predicting otherwise have been misinterpreting the Supreme Court decision."

"I think the governor should call a special session immediately. Any moves to further delay or stall action on this issue would be a reflection on the State of Texas."

Charles E. Yarnell Sr., 78, was found dead in his home at 1115 Willow in San Angelo Sunday night.

He had lived here until the early 1930's, having been associated with his father in operation of the Big Spring Steam Laundry.

Arrangements are pending at Johnson's Funeral Home in San Angelo.

Mrs. Earle G. Green went to Mr. Yarnell's house Sunday evening to check on him after she had not heard from him during the day. The house was locked, so she got his landlord to open the house. He was found face down by the door, but all the doors were locked. Peace Justice Glenn J. Jenkins said an autopsy would be performed.

From all appearances, said Detective C. L. Ellis, Mr. Yarnell had died of natural causes. He and his wife had lived in Roswell, N.M. until her death about three years ago. He moved to Enid, Okla. for a short time to live with a son, Charles E. Yarnell Jr. Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Edythe Dean of California.

Firemen answered six calls including one false alarm during the past three days.

They were called to Cowper Clinic-Hospital about 1:20 a.m. today, firemen said, when the motor on a heating and refrigeration unit gave off flames. There was no damage.

A butane tank and tractor burned at 7:30 a.m. today on the Joe Myers farm about 14 miles north of town. Firemen said the blaze occurred as a hired hand was pouring butane into the tractor. The tank and tractor were a complete loss, firemen said.

A grass fire of undetermined origin occurred about 5:25 p.m. Sunday at First and Gregg. Children playing with matches caused grass to burn on a vacant lot at 1100 NW 7th about 3:20 p.m. Saturday, according to a fire department report.

Another Saturday night, at 8:35 p.m., consumed a two room shack on the Harold Talbot farm off US 87 north. Firemen said the shack was a total loss and the cause of the fire unknown.

The false alarm occurred at 5 p.m. Saturday when firemen were called to 600 Tulane.

One cow was killed, another injured and a car damaged Sunday night when the vehicle crashed into cattle on US 87 near the Forsan turnout.

Highway patrol officers said that Danny Thomas was driver of the car and that his Thunderbird suffered $500 to $600 damage as result of the crash.

Yeggs Saturday removed two cases of beer, a bottle of whiskey and a jacket valued at $27.75 from the car of J. L. Johnson, Lamesa, while it was parked in the 300 block of Northwest Third, according to a police report.

Mrs. Susie Tigar, wife of Airman 2 C. Lawrence R. Tigar, 3560th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, Webb AFB, remained in the Base Hospital Monday for observation.

She received minor bruises in a two car collision about 3 p.m. Sunday at Third and Gregg. The mishap occurred while she was a passenger in a car driven by Gussie Cunningham, 1301 Harding, police said. Driver of the other car was Carol Ann Parchman, 1104 Pickens. Police said both vehicles were traveling west.

Locations of other accidents not previously reported and drivers involved: 1400 E. 4th, Deborah Hunter, 1730 Locust, and Gary T. Tryouts for the comedy, "George Washington Slept Here," will be continued at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Prairie Playhouse in the City Park.

There are several characters, both men and women, in the cast, and a large turnout is expected for the Tuesday night tryout.

Anti-De Gaulle Leader Expelled From Switzerland

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss government announced today it has expelled Jacques Soustelle, a political leader of the anti-De Gaulle underground.

The announcement said Soustelle was arrested in Lausanne Saturday. The government did not say how Soustelle entered Switzerland or to what country he was sent.

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The Balzan Foundation isn't going to award its five $50,000 cultural and scientific prizes for 1963 after all.

Col. Aldo Danielli, secretary-general of the foundation's governing body, announced Sunday the other prizes couldn't be given because of "interference" by the Swiss and Italian governments.

The Swiss government froze the Swiss - Italian foundation's funds because of a dispute between the organization's directive council and its prize committee over the way the 1963 Peace Prize of $151,000 was awarded to the United Nations Feb. 20.

The freeze on the funds did not affect the payment to the U.N.

The Swiss government is investigating the dispute within the foundation.

Ramos Slaying Trial Opens

Abel Ramos, accused of murder in the knife death Sept. 14 of Rena Ray Gutierrez, is on trial today in 118th District Court.

At noon an attempt to seat 12 jurors from a panel comprising only 27 members, was under way.

If the 27 members on the panel prove insufficient to fill the box, the court will have to order talesmen or send out for those panel members who failed to report for duty and who did not offer any excuse for their absence.

Ramos, represented by Del Barber, Colorado City, went to trial when the case of Emzie Woodard, scheduled for trial had to be continued to March 23.

Woodard showed up in court with the plea that he had no attorney, because he and his lawyer had parted.

Judge Ralph Caton appointed R. H. Weaver to represent Woodard, who had signed a pauper's oath that he could not hire a lawyer. Weaver, when the case was called, asked that he be given 10 days in which to consult with his new client and find out what defense he could offer.

Gil Jones, district attorney, protested the continuance. When Judge Caton granted the defense request, Jones immediately asked that the case be reset for trial. Judge Caton set the matter for March 23. Weaver said the defense would try to be ready.

This is the second time that Woodard has been called up for trial and the second time his trial had to be continued. The first time the indictment against Woodard was faulty. The grand jury was recalled and reindicted the defendant.

Woodard is accused of murder in the shooting Oct. 25 of Herbert Lee Tillis. Tillis was slain at a Negro pool hall. The shooting was allegedly the climax to a quarrel over a 25 cent pool game bet.

A third murder case, charged against George Ives, charged with murder of Loma Flippen O'Neal, shot to death last March 31, was also on today's docket. Some important witnesses in the case were not available.

Ramos' case will be pushed through in the court and will probably be the only case to be tried this week.

Two Leap Year Babies Born Here

Two Leap Year babies were born here Saturday, both at the Webb AFB Hospital.

Clinton Todd, son of Airman 2 C. and Mrs. Frances D. Ellerbe, 1300 Blackmon, was born at 11:31 a.m., weighing six pounds and nine ounces.

Christine Marie, daughter of Airman 1 C. and Mrs. Tommy L. Witt, 2102 Grace, was born at 2:05 p.m. and weighed seven pounds and one ounce.

These youngsters may be faced with a problem (but not really) similarly to Eddie Whitaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Whitaker, 707 Abrams. Eddie is typical of those with Leap year birthdays. Saturday he had his sixth birthday, quite an achievement considering he is a senior at Texas A&M University. He was born Feb. 29, 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittington, 401 Simmons, Euless, also are parents of a Leap Year baby. The eight pound seven ounce boy, named Shannon Mark, arrived at 4:30 p.m. Saturday in a Fort Worth hospital.

Glenn Whittington is a former graduate of Big Spring High School and was a Steer football player. Married to the former Patricia Kay Haase, Iowa, Whittington is now employed by Bell Helicopter, Fort Worth, as an IBM Computer programmer.

This is the second time that Woodard has been called up for trial and the second time his trial had to be continued. The first time the indictment against Woodard was faulty. The grand jury was recalled and reindicted the defendant.

Woodard is accused of murder in the shooting Oct. 25 of Herbert Lee Tillis. Tillis was slain at a Negro pool hall. The shooting was allegedly the climax to a quarrel over a 25 cent pool game bet.

A third murder case, charged against George Ives, charged with murder of Loma Flippen O'Neal, shot to death last March 31, was also on today's docket. Some important witnesses in the case were not available.

Ramos' case will be pushed through in the court and will probably be the only case to be tried this week.

Two Leap Year Babies Born Here

Two Leap Year babies were born here Saturday, both at the Webb AFB Hospital.

Clinton Todd, son of Airman 2 C. and Mrs. Frances D. Ellerbe, 1300 Blackmon, was born at 11:31 a.m., weighing six pounds and nine ounces.

Christine Marie, daughter of Airman 1 C. and Mrs. Tommy L. Witt, 2102 Grace, was born at 2:05 p.m. and weighed seven pounds and one ounce.

These youngsters may be faced with a problem (but not really) similarly to Eddie Whitaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Whitaker, 707 Abrams. Eddie is typical of those with Leap year birthdays. Saturday he had his sixth birthday, quite an achievement considering he is a senior at Texas A&M University. He was born Feb. 29, 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittington, 401 Simmons, Euless, also are parents of a Leap Year baby. The eight pound seven ounce boy, named Shannon Mark, arrived at 4:30 p.m. Saturday in a Fort Worth hospital.

Glenn Whittington is a former graduate of Big Spring High School and was a Steer football player. Married to the former Patricia Kay Haase, Iowa, Whittington is now employed by Bell Helicopter, Fort Worth, as an IBM Computer programmer.

Ramos Slaying Trial Opens

Abel Ramos, accused of murder in the knife death Sept. 14 of Rena Ray Gutierrez, is on trial today in 118th District Court.

At noon an attempt to seat 12 jurors from a panel comprising only 27 members, was under way.

If the 27 members on the panel prove insufficient to fill the box, the court will have to order talesmen or send out for those panel members who failed to report for duty and who did not offer any excuse for their absence.

Ramos, represented by Del Barber, Colorado City, went to trial when the case of Emzie Woodard, scheduled for trial had to be continued to March 23.

Woodard showed up in court with the plea that he had no attorney, because he and his lawyer had parted.

Judge Ralph Caton appointed R. H. Weaver to represent Woodard, who had signed a pauper's oath that he could not hire a lawyer. Weaver, when the case was called, asked that he be given 10 days in which to consult with his new client and find out what defense he could offer.

Gil Jones, district attorney, protested the continuance. When Judge Caton granted the defense request, Jones immediately asked that the case be reset for trial. Judge Caton set the matter for March 23. Weaver said the defense would try to be ready.

What'll I Do?

That seems to be what Barstow's Joe Garcia is asking as an unidentified Talpa-Centennial player goes unharmed for an easy two-point layup. Action was in last weekend's Region VI-B basketball tournament in the Howard County Junior College gym. Talpa-Centennial got by Barstow, 71-55, and went on to capture third place in the tourney. Schoolboys Journey To Austin Playoffs

Six former champions are in the field that goes to Austin this week for the Texas schoolboy basketball tournament. Four of them will be among the favorites for 1964 titles.

Houston Austin, which will enter the Class AAAA tournament with the top record—35-1—was state champion in 1961. Fort Worth Haltom, Dallas Adamson and San Antonio Lee furnish the opposition.

Two ex-champs are in the Class AAA tournament—Clear Creek, which won last year, and South San Antonio, the kingpin in 1961. Graham and Kilgore are the other teams.

Canyon, which might well be the favorite in Class AA, was Class A champion in 1950. Lancaster, Sour Lake Hardin-Jefferson and San Diego are the other three in the Class AA division.

There isn't a champion in the lot in the Class A tournament teams. Talco, which took out defending state champion West Sabine in the regional tournament, will rate the favorite's nod in this division. It will have Sanford-Fritch, Henrietta and East Chambers to contend with McAdoo, with a 33-3 record and four starters back from the team that won the Class B title in 1963, will be an easy choice to repeat. McAdoo has been a two-time state champion.

Opposing McAdoo's efforts will be Hawley, Celeste, Frankston, the state champion in 1961.

Hutto and Wall. All-state players are quite numerous among the tournament teams. Haltom has Billy Arnold, Austin has Ken Spain and San Antonio Lee has Larry Miller.

There also are three all-stars in Class AAA—Mike Lochner of Graham, Jimmie Henrietta (25-2), Talco (32-4), East Chambers (21-7).

Class B—McAdoo (33-3), Hawley (32-5), Celeste (30-6), Frankston (34-5), Hutto (24-5), Wall (26-6).

Season records of the state tournament teams:

Class AAAA—Haltom (25-4),

Dallas Adamson (25-4), Houston Austin (35-1), San Antonio Lee (27-4).

Class AAA—Graham (20-3), Kilgore (24-3), Clear Creek (24-6), South San Antonio (32-3).

Class AA—Canyon (28-0), Lancaster (28-4), Sour Lake (28-5), San Diego (28-2).

Class A—Sanford-Fritch (28-5), Henrietta (25-2), Talco (32-4), East Chambers (21-7).

Class B—McAdoo (33-3), Hawley (32-5), Celeste (30-6), Frankston (34-5), Hutto (24-5), Wall (26-6).

$48,000 ASKED

Pascual Unsigned, Wants Big Raise

MIAMI (AP) — Camilo Pascual, the refugee from Cuba who has made Miami his permanent home, threatened today to stay there a11 summer unless the Twins agree to his demand for a $10,000 increase in salary.

The 30-year-old pitcher, who is generally regarded as the best right-hander in the American League, twice has returned a proffered contract calling for $40,000. This represents a $2,000 increase over his earnings last year when he won 21 of 30 decisions and led all pitchers in his league with 202 strikeouts.

"I think I'm entitled to a good sized increase," Pascual said. "I have won 20 or more games two straight years and in the last three I led the league in strikeouts. Right now I'm at my peak. If I don't make it now, when will I make it? When I'm 40?"

"After I sent back the contract for the second time, Mr. Griffith (Twins' President Calvin Griffith) called me on the telephone and said I was money hungry.

"I am asking for the $10,000 raise not only because the club made money last year," he said, "but also because I produced. I reminded Mr. Griffith that I won 21 games although I was out more than three weeks because of a shoulder injury."

Hawks To Play

Howard County will meet South Plains in the regional junior college tournament Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Amarillo College fieldhouse.

Hard Work Ahead

The two girls above have just finished competing in the YMCA regional championships in El Paso. Members of the local Y's Aquatic Club, Debbie Black (left) and Gina Swift are two of Big Spring's most promising 12-year-old swimmers. They work out three times a week.

Hawks Favored In Track Meet

LAREDO (AP)—Texas track legions looked toward Laredo today as Baylor arose as chief challenger to Texas A&M for the Border Olympics championship.

The Golden Bears, with a glaring point potential in the field, swept up the Southwestern Recreation meet at Fort Worth last weekend, beating Abilene Christian, the defending champion here, quite badly.

As a result, Abilene Christian faded as the projected favorite in this meet under the Rio Grande stars next Saturday night.

Texas arose as another stiff challenger when it captured a triangular meet with Texas A&M and Rice. But the Aggies appear to have a better chance here and probably will be the favorites.

A record-shattering meet is anticipated here. Half a dozen universities — Houston, Rice, Baylor, Texas A&M, Abilene Christian and Texas—along with nine colleges, headed by power-packed Texas Southern, and 10 junior colleges will swing into town Friday for the start of the big cinder show.

Then there will be 50 or more high schools, with Baytown defending its championship. The schoolboy class could contribute mightily to the record parade.

Entered in a golf meet which starts Thursday are 13 high schools, with Corpus Christi Carroll defending its championship, and 16 colleges and universities, featuring Houston.

The overall shot put record appears to be in the most danger. Danny Roberts of Texas A&M already has pitched the steel ball 58 feet 9 inches and Jim Lancaster of Baylor has tossed it 57-3. The record is 57-5 1/2.

Loy Gunter of Texas should wipe out the 880-yard record of 1:52.7, Richard Romo of Texas could endanger the mile mark of 4:09.2, Roberts and Roger Orrell of Abilene Christian might tumble the discus record of 167-9 and Billy Foster of Southern Methodist, who won the 100 at Fort Worth Saturday in a blustery 9.5, might take dead aim on the Border Olympics record of 9.4.

George Hunt of Texas Southern equalled the record for the 880-yard run in the college division—1:53.2. He did it while Texas Southern was wiping up the opposition in the Southwestern Recreation meet. David Harris of Texas Southern broad jumped more than 24 feet and the overall record here is 24-9.

Howard County, the national junior college champion with probably its best team yet, should sweep up the junior college division and contribute quite a few records, including Bob Parker in the high hurdles, the 440-yard relay team, and the mile relay team; Steve Langham in the 440 and A. J. Williams in the broad jump. Gilbert Smith of Blinn should trim the 220 record.

Then there will be 50 or more high schools, with Baytown defending its championship. The schoolboy class could contribute mightily to the record parade.

Wall Takes First Place

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Art Wall had the right idea when he predicted that the pro with the hottest putter would win the Bogota International Open Golf Tourney.

The 40-year-old former Masters and PGA king backed up his forecast Sunday with a sharp performance on the greens of a wind blown course and took top money in the $13,000 event.

"I had awful good putts at the end," the Pocono Manor, Pa., vet said after posting a one-under-par 71 that gave him a two-stroke edge on fast-closing Al Besselnik. Wall finished with a 72-hole total of 280. Besselnik's final round 70 gave him a 282.

The victory was Wall's second in three tourneys on the Caribbean tour, which winds up with the Puerto Rico Open this week.

Then there will be 50 or more high schools, with Baytown defending its championship. The schoolboy class could contribute mightily to the record parade.

Mason Leads In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mason Rudolph goes into today's final round of the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament with a four-stroke advantage over big Jack Nicklaus.

Tied for the lead the first day, Rudolph took sole possession of first place the second day and kept it Sunday. His 54-hole score was 68-71-70—208.

Nicklaus, who rates the Lake-wood Country Club course, at 7,020 yards, as one of the six toughest on the PGA tour, carded an erratic 72 Sunday.

Wes Ellis Jr. stood one stroke behind Nicklaus, with a 213 after shaving five strokes off par Sunday with a 67—best round of the tournament.

Rudolph threatened to run away with the lead until he came to the 18th hole, a long par four. For the first time Sunday, he missed a green.

Nicklaus was the only one of golfing's elite to fare well.

Arnold Palmer, nearing the half-million dollar mark in winnings, scrambled to a 72 with what he called a very miserable round.

Palmer was tied at 219 with Julius Boros, U.S. Open champion, who will turn 44 Tuesday. Boros carded a 73.

South African Gary Player three-putted three greens and ballooned to a 74 for a 223—barely surviving the cut for the final 18 holes.

Basketball Game

A local team, made up mainly of ex-Howard County basketball players, will meet the Harlem Stars Tuesday night in the HCJC gym at 8 o'clock. A preliminary game will take place at 6:30. The event is sponsored by the Howard County Exes Club.

Big Spring's Best

VMI Makes NCAA Basketball Field

By The Associated Press

National Invitation Tournament officials have nothing against the Wichita basketball team, but they're hoping the Wheatshockers go to the NCAA tournament.

That's why the NIT selectors will be rooting for the Shockers tonight in their Missouri Valley Conference game with North Texas State.

If that's confusing, consider the tournament situation from Wichita's standpoint. Under a conference penalty, fifth-ranked Wichita can play in the NCAA if it wins the MVC championship, but it can't play in the NIT under any circumstances.

To win the league title, the Shockers first must beat North Texas. That would put them into a first-place tie with Drake. A playoff Friday at Lawrence, Kan., then would decide the NCAA representative.

That brings the situation back to the NIT. If Wichita wins the NCAA berth, the NIT instantly would invite Drake. But if the Bulldogs win the NIT would lose both teams.

The strange ban was placed on Wichita last Aug. 29 for an allegedly illegal recruiting maneuver. The MVC fined Wichita $1,000 and imposed a two-year ban against post-season competition in "other than NCAA sponsored and sanctioned events."

League Commissioner Norval Neve later explained that meant the NIT.

Virginia Military, a consistent loser in the basketball wars, ignited the loudest explosion in entering the NCAA by way of the Southern Conference championship.

VMI's 61-56 victory over George Washington in the conference final Saturday night gave the Keydets a 12-11 record. That marked the first time in 21 years and the third in 34 that

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

Strange things can happen at horse races. Take Haleah, for instance, down in Florida.

Pari mutuel Director J. RIGGS MAHONEY tells this one:

"Just the other day a horse player approached a cashier's window, tossed down a ticket and said, 'Here you are, it's worth $15.50.'

"The cashier told him he was mistaken—the ticket called for only $14.30. The patron casually agreed. 'Oh, yeah, that's right,' and walked away with the money. In the exchange of conversation the cashier didn't notice that he had been handed an old and worthless ticket."

When a big daily double hits, there are fans who try to keep the Internal Revenue Department from discovering their good fortune. The holder of a $2 ticket worth $600 or more must sign an income tax form.

"We've had winners of $602 say, 'Just give me $599 and keep the other three bucks,'" Mahoney said. "Naturally we can't do that."

Frequently a man will buy a win ticket on each of 12 horses in a race, explaining that he wants to be sure of a trip to the cashier's window. Unless the winning horse pays more than $24, the "plunger" loses dough.

One old lady handed in a $2 ticket and when the cashier gave her $7.20, she indignantly protested. "See here, young man. It distinctly says in the program the purse for the race was $3,500."

More than once, a fan will come up to the man at the information desk, and—in all seriousness—ask who'll win the next race. The track man explains politely that he doesn't know, the fan gets mad and snorts, "You're supposed to be the information man."

BOB SHAW, San Francisco righthander who led the American League in pitching while with the Chicago White Sox in 1959:

"When you're with a lower division team, you lose a game and you tell yourself, 'It's the team's fault. This is a lousy team.' But with a club like the Giants, every game means something. You've got to pitch your best... anything but an excellent performance doesn't measure up to their standards. You can't get in a comfortable rut of just taking your turn on the mound."

SONNY LISTON talking about golf.

"You can get killed playing that game."

Before the recent Clay fight, Liston was informed for the first time that top-rated seats would be $250. He gasped:

"I'm lucky I'm in the ring. I couldn't afford to be in the audience."

Aggies Should Wrap Up Conference Basketball

By The Associated Press

They wrap up the Southwest Conference basketball season this week, even if there is a playoff.

The playoff doesn't appear likely. Texas A&M, leading the race by two games over Texas Tech, would have to lose both its remaining tests—against Texas Christian at Fort Worth Tuesday and Texas at College Station Thursday.

In addition, Texas Tech would have to win its last two games—against Rice at Lubbock Tuesday and Baylor at Waco Thursday.

If that should come about, Texas A&M and Tech would clash at Dallas Saturday to determine the NCAA representative for the Midwest regional.

The Aggies beat Texas Tech 87-70 and Southern Methodist 75-70 last week to clinch at least a tie for the championship.

Tech beat Arkansas 87-86 Saturday night to stay in the running for a share of the title.

There are eight games closing out the campaign this week. In addition to A&M's and Texas Tech's two, SMU and Baylor tangle at Dallas while Arkansas and Texas play at Austin Tuesday. Southern Methodist and Rice close out at Houston and TCU and Arkansas meet at Fayetteville Thursday.

Dear Abby

What's In A Name?

DEAR ABBY: Our son's wife just produced a third son. They named their first after my son, Thomas. They named their second son after her father, Richard. Naturally, the boys are called "Tom" and "Dick." Now, just because of that silly expression, "Tom, Dick, and Harry," they went ahead and named the third little fellow "Harry." I thought it was disgraceful and told them so. They think it's cute. I would like your opinion. This is no gag.

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: Harry is a good solid name, and I see nothing "disgraceful" about it. Some years ago, a woman in Trenton, New Jersey gave birth to triplets, which she named "Eenie, Meenie and Mine-ee" because she said there wasn't going to be any "Moe." (This is no gag, either.)

DEAR ABBY: I found a young girl's picture in my husband's wallet. He said she was a girl he danced with at a bar in town. To prove himself, he took me there, pointed her out, and then danced with her once, "just to talk to her." Afterwards he brought me home, pledged his love and tore up the picture. The next night he was out 'til 4 o'clock in the morning. When he was asleep, I checked his wallet and found another picture of the same girl. Also her telephone number. After he left for work, I called her. He had told her he was single, that I was a neighbor who kept his bachelor apartment clean, and whom he had taken out just to be nice. Abby, I love him. Should I give him a divorce so he can marry her? Or should I live with him for the sake of our two babies, and sleep apart?

VERY VERY HURT
DEAR HURT: Don't assume he WANTS a divorce. Tell him you know, and insist that he accompany you to your clergyman, a marriage counselor, or to The Family Service Association, which has qualified counselors. Sleeping apart will only provide him with an excuse for sleeping elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: I know that I would make a very good salesman, but I can't get a job. Everywhere I apply I am told that they are looking for a young man with experience. Abby, how can I get experience if no one will hire me? I can sell anything. NO EXPERIENCE.
DEAR NO: You cannot "sell anything" if you can't sell yourself. A man is not likely to hire a person to sell for him if that person takes "no" for an answer, without attempting to convince him to say "yes."

DEAR ABBY: How true it is that kissing someone who has no teeth is nothing. I am the one without teeth (occasionally) and my husband tells me that kissing me when I do not have my dentures in is like drinking flat beer.

SOMETIMES TOOTHLESS

They're Exclusive But Not For Long

Coco Chanel's hottest number in her fall collection in Paris this summer was an easy double-breasted boy jacket with notched lapels, and an A-1 line skirt.

In record time this style has filtered through the price ranges. A mere two weeks after line-for-line copies were introduced in New York City at more than $200, an enterprising department store was offering its version for $25.

Coffee Cans Furnish Beautiful Canisters

Dear Heloise: I found a very good use for the one pound coffee cans with the new plastic tops:

I covered them with adhesive-backed plastic paper in a pattern to match my kitchen colors. Each can is labeled with a marker to show what it contains. These make an attractive addition to your kitchen shelves.

I use them for rice, grits, brown sugar, macaroni, starch, etc. My shelves look lovely, neat and orderly now that all my containers match.

After you have a good supply of these cans fixed up, save the extra plastic lids to put on the bottom of each canister! This keeps the canister from rusting on your shelves!—Essie Horne

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: At the end of each day when I bathe my little boy, I sit on the edge of the bathtub with my feet in the water!

This surely saves my back

Dear Heloise: When baking a chocolate cake, I dust my cake pans with a mixture of part cocoa and flour instead of only flour, which tends to leave a white powder on the cake. I cannot taste the mixture and no white film is left on the cake.—Marjorie Thomas

Dear Heloise: We have aluminum screens in our home. They slide into hinges on one side and swing open from the inside of the house.

Each fall, I buy 50 feet of inexpensive plastic film. I pull these screens into the house, cover them with plastic film, tape each corner with plastic tape, and return all of the screens to their proper places. These make perfect storm windows.

There is some difference between expensive storm windows and MY storm windows.

When I find a hint like this which saves money, it is one of the things that makes raising eight children a challenge and an adventure I wouldn't miss! Naturally I am a Heloise fan. —No signature

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Sec. B Big Spring, Tex., Mon., March 2, 1964 Sec. B

Juror's Illness Could Nullify Time, Expense

DALLAS (AP)—The expense and time poured into the selection of a jury for the Jack Ruby murder trial could be wiped out by illness of a single juror.

Texas law does not provide for alternate jurors and 11 jurors cannot render a verdict in a criminal case in this state.

This was the situation as the state prepared to present its case against Ruby for the Nov. 24 slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

The trial began Feb. 17.

Should the legislature ever pass a law providing for an alternate or 13th juror, it could create an expensive problem. Under Texas law, all jurors must sit in the jury box.

In states where an alternate juror is permitted, the panelist may sit outside the jury box.

"Every courtroom in Texas, fashioned for 12 jurors, would have to be remodeled," a judge pointed out.

Should a juror become sick in the Ruby trial, it would be up to Judge Joe Brown to determine if the illness were serious enough to dismiss the juror and thus disqualify the entire jury.

"The judge would have authority to hold a jury so long as in his opinion it was best to do so before discharging them," said C. M. Turlington, an assistant district attorney.

"And he certainly could provide for the juror to receive medical attention in the jury room."

Should it become necessary for a juror to go to a hospital, Brown would have to call a mistrial at once. It is mandatory that jurors be kept together at all times.

Should a juror's child or other relative become seriously ill, there is one route that could prevent a mistrial.

An outside legal authority, not connected with the case, said the sheriff could take the panel as a group to the hospital "providing it was done under the direction of the court."

Should a mistrial occur for any reason, Brown would set a new trial date.

Malaysian Dispute Talks Set Tuesday

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Another round of ministerial talks on the Malaysian dispute begins in Bangkok Tuesday with little hope of solution as Indonesia hurled new threats of extermination at Malaysia.

As the foreign ministers of Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaysia prepared to meet, the Indonesian Information Ministry said President Sukarno's government is still determined to wreck the young federation of former British colonies. But the statement added that the dispute should be settled peacefully.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, Indonesia's defense minister, denounced anew Britain's retention of military bases in Malaysia, whose Borneo border with Indonesia is guarded by British as well as Malaysian forces.

Charging that British bases bring "chaos and conflict" throughout Asia and the Middle-East, Nasution said Asian bases should be manned by Asians.

He denied that Indonesia wants to seize Malaysian territory, saying:

"Indonesia's only aim is to free the people there from imperialism."

Malaysia ordered more troops to its Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah because of reported new clashes along the frontier.

Malaysian officials said the situation along the 800-mile border with Indonesian Borneo was "rapidly deteriorating."

They reported Indonesian-backed terrorists killed six persons over the weekend.

At the foreign ministers' meeting, Malaysia will demand that an estimated 200 anti-Malaysian guerrillas in Sarawak and Sabah be withdrawn or disarmed, and that the cease-fire negotiated by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in January be made effective.

NEWS NOTES

Manned Missiles Are Already Being Flown

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MANNED MISSILE: The United States is already flying 11 or 12 of the newly unveiled "manned missile." All jet fighter planes and they have successfully passed numerous tests, according to Sen. Richard Russell.

The Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation" Sunday that he had known of the 2,000-mile-per-hour plane since work on it started in 1959.

In announcing development of the A-11 Saturday, President Johnson said its performance "far exceeds that of any other aircraft in the world today."

Burglars Smash Coin Machine

Burglars hit the West Texas Compress and Warehouse Company on Northwest Tenth Sunday night. Police said they took an undetermined amount of change from a coin operated machine.

In other activity, police investigated a complaint from a woman in the 1400 block of West First. She said a prowler was in the neighborhood, according to investigating officers, who said the suspect was gone on their arrival.

Justive of the Peace Jess Slaughter called police about 10 p.m. Sunday to report cattle on US 87 about 10 miles south of town. The highway patrol was advised.

Former Resident Dies In California

Mrs. J. V. Hanson, 82, a native of Big Spring who moved to Uplands, Calif. around 1907, died in Pomona, Calif. at 12:45 a.m. Sunday. She was the daughter of Dr. Baird, pioneer physician of Big Spring. Services were set for today with burial in Uplands.

Our Record Confronts Us

Our bad record in fire losses is catching up with us. The State Insurance Commission has announced that our credit has been reduced to five per cent starting April 1, all but erasing the maximum credit of 25 per cent we enjoyed in 1959.

When you stop to figure it more closely, we aren't losing just five percentage points a year, but actually our percentage of loss is substantially greater. For instance, the difference between the amount paid on a given amount of premium at 25 per cent credit and that of 5 per cent credit is not 20 per cent, but 27 per cent. The difference between a maximum credit of 25 per cent and a maximum penalty of 15 per cent is not 40 per cent, but rather 53.3 per cent.

Based on the five-year average premiums, we will be paying $28,000 more in fire insurance here than would be required had we retained our good fire rating. Let that shrink to a maximum penalty—as it surely will if we don't reverse our fire loss trend—and within about four years we'll be paying out over $50,000 in annual premiums that would not be necessary with a good fire loss record.

This is how it affects your pocket-book, and you ought to be concerned. But the real tragedy is in the irreparable losses that occur in any fire. There was never a fire which was 100 per cent covered, that did not result in loss of treasures and things with sentimental attachments, or that did not present the risk of someone being hurt or killed. And the worst tragedy of all is that in nearly every case the fires can be prevented.

Log Jam Broken

The first session of the 88th Congress conducted a prolonged sit-down strike last year, a futile filibuster against the many programs offered for action by the late President John F. Kennedy. Even during the closing days of the session the "Tuesday to Thursday Club" operated as usual and a Saturday session was almost unknown.

Contrast this record with the energy and dedication of the second session of the 88th Congress which is about to complete its second month. There have been Saturday sessions. Both the House and Senate have passed a tax bill signed by President Johnson. A strong civil rights bill has passed the House.

Why has a lackadaisical Congress transformed itself suddenly into an instrument of legislative action? There probably is no single answer, perhaps just a composite of two or more of the following possible reasons:

Frustration with the growing complexity of government and our involvement in world turmoil, watching the expanding power of the executive at the expense of the legislative branch, many congressmen have grown sullen and rebellious. They were in no mood to pass legislation which seemed always to enlarge the power of the executive.

The assassination of President Kennedy shocked the nation to its very foundations. Parochial considerations were immediately subordinated to the national interest. With the accession of President Johnson there was a spontaneous, bipartisan outpouring of good will and expressions of united support for the new President. The duty of Congress to act one way or another on Kennedy proposals was strongly and repeatedly impressed on members, individually and collectively, by Johnson. The congressional log-jam was broken.

The approaching presidential conventions—the Republicans in July and the Democrats in August—may have influenced some members of Congress to clear the legislative deck as early as possible. But this can be counted only as a somewhat minor consideration.

There may be other reasons, but they all add up to reassuring proof that Congress, when sufficiently moved by events, can rise above party politics and sectional or regional interests and devote its energies to business at hand. This is not to say that Congress should pass every measure introduced, but that it should proceed to debate and act on issues of substance.

David Lawrence Problem Of Presidential Succession

WASHINGTON—The United States has no vice president today, and no provision has as yet been made to fill the vacancy in that office. The American Bar Association, at its recent convention, passed a resolution which stated that a constitutional amendment is necessary not only to deal with such a contingency but to take care of presidential succession in the event of the physical inability or incapacity of an incumbent. Congress is holding hearings, but there is no consensus yet on what law or constitutional amendment should be passed.

THE BAR Association's proposal would put the selection of a vice president in the hands of the President himself. It is true that he would be submitting the nomination to Congress for its consent, but the Senate and House would have no voice in selecting the man to be voted on and would merely have to acquiesce in or reject the nomination.

It is being argued that a President who has just taken office on the death of his predecessor can speak for the country. But it is not characteristic of representative government to allow any one man to pick a leading executive. If it is not considered feasible to have a special election by the people to choose a vice president, the next best way is to allow the people's representatives in Congress to do the electing.

ices and of a desire of the people for a change.

A CONSTITUTIONAL amendment could provide that each party in Congress shall make a single nomination and that the President himself shall make an additional nomination of his own, and that the two houses in joint session shall elect as vice president the one considered by a majority of both houses to be the best qualified of the three nominees.

The trouble with the present succession law is that neither the Speaker of the House nor the President Pro Tem of the Senate nor the members of the Cabinet—all of whom could succeed to the presidency—have been chosen with that in mind. Certainly a man could make an excellent Speaker of the House or a President Pro Tem of the Senate and yet not be qualified for the presidency. The same is true of individual Cabinet members.

A CONSTITUTIONAL amendment could also give Congress a free hand to pick the man best fitted for the office, whether or not he was a member of Congress itself.

None of the amendments to the Constitution which have thus far been proposed covers all the contingencies that may arise when there is a vacancy in the office of either the President or the vice president. For it could conceivably happen that both a President and a vice president would die early in a presidential term. Certainly the American people under such circumstances ought to have a chance to vote directly on the choice of a President.

Billy Graham

My neighbor has been fighting me for seven years. His family has damaged my property and misrepresented me. They swear, and do not take their children to Sunday School and don't go to church, and they do all kinds of work on Sundays. What shall we do?—M. W.

It takes two parties to fight. Are you quite sure you haven't been making some contribution to this unfortunate conflict? If you are a real Christian, you should accept this as a challenge.

The Norwegian writer, Johan Bojer in the "Great Hunger" tells of a man whose little child was killed by a neighbor's dog. Revenge would not long satisfy this man, so he found a better way to relieve the agony—the Christian way. When a famine had plagued the people and the neighbor's field lay bare, and he had no corn to plant for next year's harvest, the troubled father went out one night and sowed the neighbor's field, explaining: "I went out sowing seed in my enemy's field that God might exist."

You see, your neighbors do not believe that God exists, and the only way they can know this is through you. Accept this antagonistic attitude on the part of these people as a challenge, and through your Christian reaction, show them that God lives—in your heart.

James Marlow Johnson Still Facing Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—After 100 days in office President Johnson is still feeling his way. In foreign affairs, with Congress, with the press, and in his own reaction to criticism.

He reached his 100th day Saturday but, while he searches, his standing in the public opinion polls is very high.

Johnson, an old Congress hand with 24 years in House and Senate, has seemed most sure with the men in the Capitol, and most successful. He still faces big tests there.

HE GOT OFF on the right foot by promising economy and offering a budget lower than President Kennedy's of last year. This pleased Congress, which rammed through a tax-cut bill for him, largest in history, and a foreign aid bill not too skimpy to live with.

A major test of Johnson's leadership with Congress will be in trying to get through intact the civil rights bill he asked. He also called for a program of medical care for the aged and a war on poverty.

He will be a miracle man if he can get approval of medical care and the war on poverty will be long drawn-out.

Foreign problems multiplied for Johnson faster than for Kennedy in the same length of time: Riots in Panama, trouble with Fidel Castro in Cuba, an ugly, deteriorating war in South Viet Nam.

Hal Boyle More Valuable

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

American working girls are going to town in a big way. Around 1900, one out of five employed women earned her pay on a farm or ranch. Today only one out of 40 does.

But the women are getting more valuable—they now are buying 20 per cent of all new life insurance policies issued in this country.

It has been found that dogs reflect the personalities of their owners. Cats, on the other hand generally lead their lives according to their own sense of discipline.

Fire is man's most warming friend—and still one of his most expensive foes. Annual property losses from fire have exceeded a billion dollars a year for the last seven years.

In ancient Greece, Aristotle once counted the teeth of his house-keeper and those of a male servant. He found the woman had four fewer teeth, so for hundreds of years it was taken for granted that men had four more teeth than women.

Our quotable notables: "A fanatic is someone who can't change his mind and won't change the subject."—Winston Churchill.

Japan is building a new $20-million imperial palace. It will have an underground garage for 150 cars, a dining room that will seat 500 persons and a front garden that will accommodate 18,000 persons for afternoon tea.

Folklore: To cure a sore throat, tie around your neck at bedtime a stocking you have worn during the day. If you trim your fingernails on Friday you won't have a toothache for a week. Wearing a silver ring will help protect you from fits.

Woodrow Wilson was the first U.S. president to earn his doctoral degree the hard way. His thesis on congressional government, published in 1884, ran into 15 editions and won him a Ph.D. from John Hopkins University.

The American Medical Association has warned that those who imbibe up to eight highballs daily may develop fatty liver no matter how well-rounded their diet.

Quickies: A tobacco seed in five months can produce a plant 20 million times its own weight. Insomnia is a problem to one out of two people. Five out of six nudists are male.

It was Francois Rabelais who said in his last will and testament, "I owe much; I have nothing; the rest I leave to the poor."

To Your Good Health Child's Improper Diet Can Lead To Rickets

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My son-in-law drinks a 16-ounce bottle of cola before every meal, and one at bedtime. He says he isn't hungry and that food doesn't taste good.

What I'm concerned about is my two-year-old grandson who sees his father with the cola. He is given some, too—and then he doesn't want to eat, either.

I say there are enough calories in 'e cola drinks to fill them up so they can't eat.

The child is thin and my daughter worries about him. She doesn't give the child this cola drink, but the father does and explains that "I can't bear to hear him cry."

They took the baby to a doctor and the problem was diagnosed as rickets. So I said, "It's about time you get some tonic in that child and throw the cola out." What advice would you give?—C.V.W.

About the same advice that you have given in vain, I guess!

Any of these soft drinks are sweet. That means they contain sugar. Sugar has a lot of calories. But it contains nothing which is used to build the body. It provides only "fuel." (Or will be converted into fat.)

I have nothing against soft drinks, but before meals isn't the time to drink them, any more than you would give a child ice cream and cake before dinner and then expect him to eat.

If your son-in-law wants to continue drinking cola, I don't suppose there is anything you can do about it. He's old enough to decide what he wants to do, right or wrong.

But teaching the baby to do so is something else. Your grandson has some rights. He is entitled to be taught to eat properly. Instead he is being taught the wrong things about eating.

This son-in-law should make it a point to eat his own dinner, and never let the baby see him drink another drop of soft drink before a meal. In fact, if he never lets the child see him drink any—let alone give him any—it will be better, because this little fellow has some unlearning to do.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can one take too many Vitamin B12 shots? Would two a week for five years, be harmful? If I have to take them for the rest of my life, will it be O.K.?

Someone told me you could take too many—M.H.D.

B12 can be taken all your life without harm, because any excess is eliminated by your system. (This is not true of all vitamins.)

B12 is used for various things. For pernicious anemia, it changes certain disability into normal life. It is helpful in certain types of neuritis, etc.

It is also used for a lot of other ailments and complaints in which it may (or may not) do any good but also does no harm.

NOTE TO E.R.S.: Polyps of the colon, unlike those in some other parts of the body, have a suspiciously high percentage of becoming malignant. Therefore, if you don't have this one removed, at least it should be watched carefully by your physician.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Crime—Public Utility

One thing and another: A Chicago sociologist named Saul D. Alinsky has classified his city's $2 billion-a-year crime syndicate as a kind of public utility.

"Their operations meet the market," Alinsky explains. "Many good people want these particular things—dames, gambling, whisky—and yet condemn the people who provide them. Crime prevention sometimes is a bigger racket than the rackets. A lot of the do-gooders really believe their own stuff."

Have you ever heard a grouch defined as a man who feels dog tired at night because he growls all day?

English has been described as a "hospitable" language—a sort of attic, with all sorts of ancient and interesting dust-covered things lying about, stowed away in old trunks and hanging from the rafters.

In other words, our language is a melting-pot wherein parts of all other tongues find their way into our speech—from Persian to Haitian Indian to Sanskrit.

A noted semanticist, Samuel I. Hayakawa, has gone so far as to say that no word ever has precisely the same meaning twice, that each time it is uttered or written its meaning takes on subtle overtones and colorations that are imparted by circumstances unique to that moment and by the personal background of the person using the word.

Words that have special meaning for today's reader may bemuse the reader of only five years from now, to say nothing of the next generation. The word carpenter then would be advised to use simple tools, expertly applied, when at work.

Milton used a vocabulary of only 9,000 words, Shakespeare 17,500.

Kids can play rough, sometimes. In San Jose, Calif., last year members of a junior high school baseball championship team celebrated by tossing their coach fully dressed into a swimming pool. They then hauled him out with a fractured skull.

Far be it from me to say that all women are poor drivers. One crisscrossing my route of passage barreled through a stop sign the other day, missed my vehicle by a whisker and then turned to glare at me as if at a loss to understand why I was abroad at that particular hour.

I mention it because it reminds me of the woman driver who was being challenged by a traffic policeman because she had no license to putt-putt about.

"Don't you know you can't drive without one?" he asked.

"That explains it," she replied. "I thought it was because I was nervous and near-sighted that I hit two cars and ran into a fire hydrant."

—TOMMY HART

Holmes Alexander The Judases Of Our Country

WASHINGTON — In a book which does the all but impossible, by catching a joint Lenten spirit of God and country, the hero sends out 30 dimes ("thirty pieces of silver") to national leaders whom he regards as Judases.

On one side of the dime are the words, "In God We Trust." On the other side is inscribed E. Pluribus Unum: "Out of many, one."

THE BOOK, "Good Friday 1963" by Otis Carney, tells us: "Understand those two phrases, and you understand the U.S." To the President of the United States, the hero—an important scientist-advisor in the Defense Department—sends a paper Cross with the single word upon it: "Choose!"

Choose, that is, not between being a Liberal or Conservative, as the Republican presidential aspirants of 1964 seemed to be telling us. No, choose between being what the book labels "the joiners" and "the worriers."

"ONE CAMP," the Judas-columnist of the book explains, "believes that we'll never have to fight the Commies. Instead, we'll simply travel further down the path we've taken, until we're a fully socialist state. . . . grassroots American style socialism, you understand. Meanwhile, the Commies will have gained enough of the good things of life to move slightly away from their doctrinaire approach. Therefore, what'll there be left to fight about when we have almost the same systems in both major powers?"

THE OTHER CAMP—the worriers—"looks with anguish at the deteriorating position of the U. S. in the world, the patent failure of our democracy as a world system. This camp is running scared, believing that there will come a time when . . . we'll have to strike back. Question is whether it'll be too late."

This fictional columnist is a Judas, not because he has literally sold out the country, but because he is "just an objective reporter"—a neutralist. So is the labor leader of the story a Judas, who exercises his power to call a missile base strike—and why not, since we'll never fight the Commies anyhow?

SO IS THE industrialist who builds a little obsolescence into his products. Why not, else how are you going to sell next year's models? So is the Secretary of State, who knows that his Foreign Aid is loaded with graft to foreign politicians. Why not, since AID comprises so many "good things" that an "unavoidable slippage of democratic graft" is allowable?

Judases, too, are the town leaders who protest against the closing of a useless but lucrative military base. As are the wheat farmers, who live on government subsidies not far from Yellowstone Park, where the signs read: "Please do not feed the bears. If you feed them, they will stop foraging on their own and starve." And the plant worker, who glues a windshield on a car without any glue—because it's another man's job to pass him the glue.

IN THE LENTEN season of suffering, the book's hero, Dr. Matt Bone, whom the President is going to appoint Secretary of Defense, imagines that the Russians have announced they are willing to suffer another partial destruction of their country, if necessary, to fight a nuclear war. Would the U.S.A. be equally willing?

He imagines that a Russian neutron bomb, which kills people but spares property, is found in New York harbor. Would we have the nerve to send our bombers straight into battle? He imagines that he launches a truth-telling program, calling for Americans to recover their industriousness, integrity, frugality, faith and liberty—or death—fortitude. Would Americans respond? For how long?

THE BOOK is not a new one, but its message is enduring. Another Lenten season, another election year, is upon us. And we are still looking out for the leader whose actions "would become like a host of silver dimes, not flung in self-righteousness, but dropped quietly, firmly, ceaselessly into the pool of men's minds."

Richard Starnes Country Girl In The City

WASHINGTON — Now take the case of Miss Nancy Carole—with an E. Tyler, late of Loudoun County, Tenn. and presently a reluctant player in the seamy, true-life drama starring busy Bobby Baker.

When Carole, faintly tremulous but composed, walked into the Senate Caucus Room for her date with the investigators, one almost expected to hear the syrupy voice of an announcer asking, "Can a small-town girl find happiness in the big city?" while in the background the organ played something appropriately larded with vox angelica passages.

CAROLE IS AN archetype of every bucolic charmer who won a county fair beauty contest and was instantly dazzled by visions of the good life in Washington, or in New York, or in Hollywood. How she escaped the vile attentions of some oily chap with patent-leather hair and a business card identifying him as a talent scout for Vitaphone pictures no man alive can say. But escape she did, and before you could hum the first two bars of "Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl" she was secretary to Bobby Baker, another ornament to self-government bestowed by the rural South.

CAROLE IS TO be forgiven, indeed pitied, if her transition from Miss Loudoun County to the stylish and worldly secretary to the Secretary to the Senate Majority seems to have been taken from the script of an inferior B movie. How was a poor girl to know that perfecting her shorthand and polishing her typing would end up in the glare of bright lights and a lot of impertinent questions? It is enough to shake a beauty queen's faith in civil service.

The truth is that the Senators, who earlier had been downright churlish toward Bobby Baker, treated Carole with the sort of guilty deference that Victorian husbands reserved for ladies subject to frequent swooning.

COMMITTEE Counsel Lennox McLendon, who did all the questioning, did ask a number of questions that suggested all manner of diverting hanky-pank, but all he got from Carole was a careful, 40-word statement explaining why she wasn't going to answer. In all, she recited the statement 25 times, which ciphers out to 1,000 words signifying nothing.

In an opening statement, Miss Tyler charged that the "sole purpose" of the investigation "seems to be to bring down upon me and others the violence of public reaction because of my alleged past associations."

SHE DENIED any legal or moral wrongdoing, and declared that she had been made the victim of "worldwide intimations and suggestions that I have indulged in improper conduct, to say the least; and I have been held up to ridicule and disrepute . . . on many occasions."

She concluded by saying, "I pray that the public will keep an open mind regarding me in order to insure that no further irreparable injury results to my reputation."

IN SPITE OF the fact she had deprieved them of the show they had come to savor, Miss Tyler struck a spark of sympathy from the audience in the hearing room, and perhaps even from the assembled cold fish at the press table. She was, after all, pretty and 24 years old, and a long way from Loudoun County.

Traffic Kills 15 In Texas Over Weekend

By The Associated Press
Twenty persons died violently in Texas during the weekend, 15 in traffic.

The latest deaths included:

David Smeath, 23, of Irving was killed Sunday night when his car hit a bridge rail on a rural road west of Dallas.

A head-on collision killed Chester Hendrix, 42, of Fort Worth and injured three other persons late Sunday night southwest of Fort Worth on U.S. 377.

Jack Harral, 33, of Abernathy was killed by a pickup truck as he crossed an Odessa street Sunday.

Robert McCrary, 23, of Rhame, died at Fort Worth several hours after his car went into a ditch and caught fire Sunday night. The accident happened near the Bell helicopter plant outside Fort Worth.

Andrew Beam of Houston was killed Sunday night when his car ran off Texas 6, hit trees and overturned 3.7 miles north of Hearne.

Fire in a Dallas apartment Saturday killed two small children. Johnny Pride, 8 months, and his brother, Keith, 2, were the victims.

Charles Scheinick, 57, Lampasas cafe owner, was killed Sunday by a car as he started to enter his parked automobile. Charges of negligent homicide were filed.

Albert Galten, 57, died Sunday of injuries suffered in an auto accident near Round Rock Friday.

Theodore Moise, 38, was fatally injured Sunday when a pickup truck overturned south of Palestine.

A nightwatchman at Melissa in Collin County shot and killed a man he accused of trying to burglarize a store Friday night. The victim was identified as Jack Cesser, 29, of Dallas.

Richard Smith, 51, a Glade-water cook, died Saturday when his car collided with a truck 4 miles north of Glade-water on U.S. 271.

Robert Sellers, 19, died Saturday in Houston when his speeding sports car hit a sign post.

Sandblom Free On Bond

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Paul Sandblom, bankrupt insurance man charged with violating federal and state securities laws, was free under bonds totaling $125,000 today.

His father, E. T. Sandblom, said he did not know the younger man's whereabouts but assumed he was receiving medical attention. The son had complained of being ill.

Paul Sandblom, in custody since Jan. 12, was released from jail on bonds posted by six men. One bond, for $25,000, was on a charge by the Securities and Exchange Commission that he used the mails to sell securities without having registered with the SEC. The other bond, for $100,000 was on a state charge that he sold an investment contract in violation of the Texas Securities Act.

Three additional charges have been filed by State Securities Commissioner William King, Dist. Atty. Sam Jones said these charges would be referred to the Nueces County grand jury, which meets Friday to consider the original case against Sandblom.

Sandblom filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition Jan. 7. Bankruptcy officials said Sandblom's liabilities may run as high as $27 million and his assets were about $25,000.

The SEC has obtained an injunction in federal court to prevent Sandblom from carrying on business practices similar to those of which he is accused.

Sniper Kills Fuzzy The Bear

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Fuzzy, a lumbering polar bear befriended by thousands of children at the Point Defiance Zoo, is dead, felled by a sniper's bullets.

A patrolman heard some shots Friday night. Saturday morning, a zoo keeper found Fuzzy in his grotto and blood in his pool.

A veterinarian gave Fuzzy medicine to stop the external bleeding, but the 600-pound bear was too weak for surgery.

He died about 10 hours after he was found.

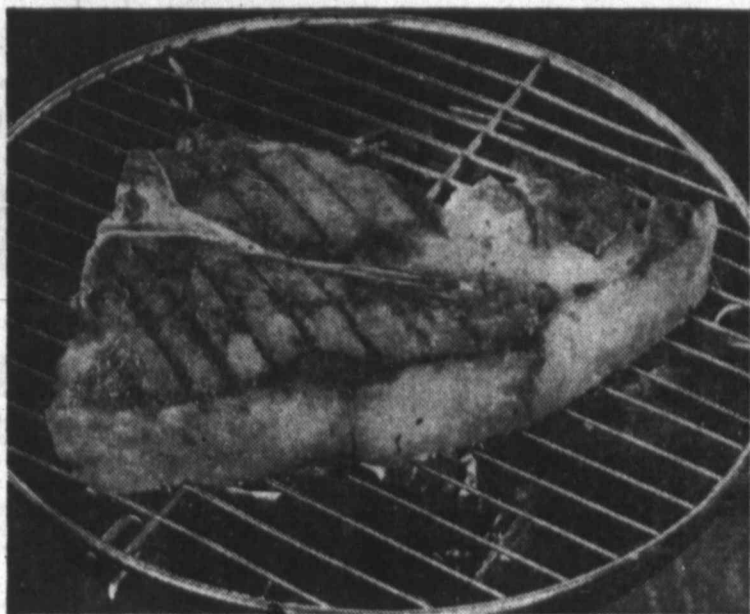

Cecil Brosseau, zoo manager, said Fuzzy had one bullet in his brain and another over his lungs.

"I can't understand the kind of a guy who would do a thing like this," Brosseau said. "It's a sadistic thing."

Hoffa Case Called Attack On The Jury System

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa's chief prosecutor argued today that he took part in "one of the greatest attacks on the jury system this country has ever known."

James Neal, chief prosecutor at the Teamsters' prosecutor's jury tampering trial, opened final arguments as the trial began its seventh week.

Hoffa and five others are accused of trying to bribe and corrupt the jury that heard Hoffa's 1962 trial in Nashville on a conspiracy charge. That jury never agreed on a verdict.

"It's unthinkable to punish the innocent," Neal told the jury. "But it is crucial to the innocent not to punish the guilty. Persons who seek to influence jurors are poisoning the very foundation of justice."

Each side has been allotted five hours of closing arguments.

Neal used an hour and 20 minutes for his argument.

But later, attorneys for the president of the 1.7-million-member International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the nation's largest labor union, will get up and contend the government has proved nothing of the kind.

And by at least Wednesday the jury of four women and eight men should begin pondering which side is right.

Hoffa and his five co-defendants are charged with trying to illegally corrupt or bribe the jury that heard the labor leader's 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville. That case ended in a mistrial with the jury hung.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson spent the weekend preparing his charge to the jury, which has been locked up since the trial began.

Hoffa and each of his co-defendants took the stand during the trial to deny the charges against them.

The co-defendants are Larry Campbell of Detroit, Allen Dorfman of Chicago, Thomas Ewing Parks of Nashville, Nicholas J. Tweed of Huntington, W. Va. and Ewing King of Nashville.

If convicted, Hoffa faces a maximum sentence of 15 years in prison and a $15,000 fine. The others could get five years and $5,000 fines.

McCain Named Dawson Deputy

LAMESA (SC) — Ed W. McCain, veteran law enforcement officer, has been named chief deputy sheriff of Dawson County, succeeding G. B. Therwanger, who assumed the same duties in Martin County on March 1. The 47-year-old Lamesan served as police chief of Stanton four years, with the Pecos sheriff's office three years, served as a New Mexico peace officer for six years. Most recently was assigned as a deputy in Hockley County.

Dawson County Beefs Its Pollution Hearing Data

LAMESA (SC) — Armed with enough material to make a comprehensible preliminary study, Midland hydrologist Ed L. Reed and Lubbock attorney George McCleskey toured Dawson County Friday to obtain more first-hand information before taking a no-pit order request before the State Water Pollution Control Board in Austin.

Over 150 samples of well water were turned over to Reed by the Chamber of Commerce for analysis. Stacks of paperwork and other materials needed to support the request were also obtained.

Field trips were made to Key, Midway, Ackery and Welch, and statements were obtained from farmers who have experienced water pollution problems they believe to be connected with use of open pits by oil operators.

Photographs of open pit disposal of salt water brine, and copies of water studies dating back to 1938 were also obtained to substantiate Dawson County's request for a no-pit order.

Reed and McCleskey were employed by the Dawson County Water Pollution Control Board to present its case Wednesday.

Pro Chutist Killed In Fall

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Professional parachutist Richard Welsh shouted his familiar "Yeow" an instant after he leaped from a plane at 3,000 feet Sunday.

Moments later, he lay dead on the ground below. His parachute had failed to open. The shout conceivably might have brought his fate.

Frank Judge, a flier; David Monroe, pilot of the plane and Robert McDonald, a "chute jumper," agreed Welsh lacked a pocket for his ripcord handle, called a "D-ring."

"The ring was supposed to be in a little pocket of his rig," Judge said, "but Welsh had no pocket, so he held the handle in his mouth."

"When he yelled, the D-ring flew out of his mouth and over his shoulder," Judge said.

Welsh, dead when witnesses reached him, had made the jump on his 29th birthday.

"He of all people," said Monroe, referring to Welsh holding the D-ring in his teeth, "should have known that was very, very wrong."

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(1954, by The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠104♥K102♦AK1042♣752

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | | |
|-------|------|-------|------|
| North | East | South | West |
| 1♠ | Pass | 2♦ | 3♣ |
| 3♣ | Pass | ? | ? |

What do you bid now?

A.—On the surface it would appear that you did your full duty by the hand when you responded with two diamonds, for the hand is worth 11 points at diamonds, 10 in high cards and one for distribution. Nevertheless, we recommend carrying on to four spades. Your 10 high card points are readily usable by partner who has shown a very fine opening bid in bidding freely at the level of three. Speaking in terms of arithmetic, his hand should surely be worth 16 points at spades, so that the necessary 26 points for a game should be available.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♠A10843♥A85♦72♣843

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | | |
|-------|------|--------|------|
| South | West | North | East |
| Pass | 1♠ | Double | Pass |

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades a jump bid is in order, so that partner will recognize that the hand has game potentials. Any hand containing a five card major suit and two aces, opposite a partner who has doubled, presents bright prospects for game. Incidentally, this jump, in view of your previous pass, is not forcing, and partner may pass if his take-out double was borderline.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠AQ964♥7♦AK9842♣6

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | | |
|-------|------|-------|------|
| North | East | South | West |
| 1♥ | Pass | 2♦ | Pass |
| 2♥ | Pass | 3♦ | Pass |
| 3NT | Pass | ? | ? |

What do you bid now?

A.—With this highly unbalanced hand you do not want to play no trump and partner should be made to prefer one of your suits. The proper rebid is four spades, describing a five card suit. This will by inference indicate that your diamonds are six cards long inasmuch as you bid that suit first.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠A92♥AQ♦A84♣AK763

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | | |
|-------|------|-------|------|
| South | West | North | East |
| 1♠ | Pass | 1♥ | 1♠ |
| ? | ? | ? | ? |

What do you bid now?

A.—With this powerful hand an immediate slam signal is in order and the recommended call is a cue bid of two spades, forcing to game. Whether or not further vigorous action will be taken will depend in part upon partner's responses.

Q. 5—Neither side vulnerable.

As South you hold:

♠AKQ87♥K8♦75♣J1062

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | | |
|------|-------|------|-------|
| East | South | West | North |
| 1♦ | 1♠ | Pass | 2♣ |
| Pass | ? | ? | ? |

What do you bid now?

A.—This hand is somewhat better than what your partner might expect it to be on the basis of a mere nonvulnerable overall at the level of one. He has responded freely asking you to proceed. You should cooperate by going on to three spades, at least.

Q. 6—Both sides have 60 part score. You are South and hold:

♠KJ865♥AK742♣1093

The bidding has proceeded:

|------|-------|
| East | South |
| 1♠ | ? |

What do you bid?

A.—Since a fight may be anticipated, you should arrange to mention both suits if it becomes expedient to do so and the proper way to plan this is by a mere overcall of one spade. Something is bound to happen around the table on the first round and you should have a chance to mention the heart suit at a reasonably low level.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠AK53♥Q6♦AK87♣1043

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | | |
|------|-------|------|-------|
| West | North | East | South |
| 1♠ | 1♥ | Pass | ? |
| ? | ? | ? | ? |

What do you bid?

A.—The partner has made a mere overcall we would not be content with any final contract of less than game. To assure reaching such a contract, you must make a jump shift, and the suggested call is two spades, intending to support hearts if they are rebid, or to abide by a no trump contract if partner's rebid is in that form.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠9743♥Q62♦A10♣AQJ10

The bidding has proceeded:

| | | |
|-------|------|-------|
| North | East | South |
| 1♠ | 1♠ | ? |

What do you bid?

A.—A jump to three clubs is our choice, inasmuch as this hand is the equivalent of an opening bid, a mere free raise to two clubs, the ♠ designates a good hand, would be quite inadequate. A jump in no trump is not desirable without a spade stopper. A bid of one no trump may sometimes be made with a tentative stopper, but not a jump bid.

Predicting Good Times During '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Economic Committee today predicted good times in 1964 as tax savings spread through the economy.

But it cautioned that either prices hiked by private producers or excessive budget cuts by the government could spoil the picture.

And the Republican minority of the committee accused President Johnson's administration of unduly heating up the economy this election year, and thus risking a bust later.

The committee of senators and House members presented its study of the President's annual economic report in two sharply contrasted sections, with the Republican criticism running almost three times as long as the majority document.

The Democratic majority found special encouragement in the timing of the tax cut enacted last week, saying it "will accelerate an existing expansion instead of being called upon to counteract recession."

The Democrats said Johnson has shown that economies can be made while still increasing spending on vital national needs, and they especially praised defense economies. But they also said "an increase in unemployment is too great a price to pay for balancing the budget."

The Republicans, accusing the administration of compiling "a dismal catalog of economic failures," said the economy was rebounding with the assistance of "the wise policies of the previous administration" when the Democrats took over in 1961 so that subsequent prosperity is largely veneer.

"In its anxiety to insure a particularly good economic performance in 1964, the Johnson administration...offers... an economic policy which, by its own admission, will heat up the economy this year more than three times greater than in any other peacetime year," the Republicans said.

This policy, the minority charged, is "inviting inflation and other excesses," especially when 119 major collective bargaining contracts are up for renewal and unions are seeking substantial wage increases.

The Republicans concluded that "rather than cutting spending—as he claims to have done—the President is increasing expenditures but at a less rapid rate than in recent years."

AUSTIN (AP)—Carl Marley, 29, a plumber's helper charged with murder in the slaying of Austin policeman Donald Carpenter, was held without bond today.

Marley was arrested Wednesday as he watched a horror movie in an Austin theater.

He was charged Sunday after a second revolver was recovered from Lake Austin near the spot where police said Marley told them he threw two guns. The first gun was recovered from the lake Thursday.

Police Chief Bob Miles said ballistics tests would be made.

Carpenter was slain Jan. 22 as he and officer Bobby Sides investigated a tavern burglary in Austin. Sides was wounded but has recovered.

Mexico's Stock Has Big Hike

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Trading on the Mexico City Stock Exchange during the first two months of this year compared to 1963, the weekly financial newsletter Inside Mexico reports.

It said the Mexican exchange was the world's fastest rising last year and predicted it would reach new heights this year.

More than 1,750,000 shares were traded in January and February, compared to 223,014 for the corresponding months of 1963, the publication said. It said last year's total was 2,035,591 shares.

If the current trend continues, the publication said, more than 10 million shares will be traded this year.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Two high school students climbed the 90-foot high domes of a church at noon Sunday.

Police identified them as Raul Cardenas Argudin, 18, and Luis Alberto Diaz, 16, and said the two caused near panic when they started throwing pebbles down upon hundreds of churchgoers emerging after mass.

A hook and ladder brigade from the fire department and dozens of policemen were needed to force the pair down.

Billie Sol's Friends Begin Serving Time

AMARILLO (AP) — Two former associates of promoter Billie Sol Estes, himself bankrupt and under prison sentences, started serving their time behind bars Sunday night.

It was the end of a fight to stay free which began nearly two years ago for Coleman McSpadden, 47, of Lubbock and Ruel W. Alexander, 38, of Amarillo.

Along with Estes they were arrested March 29, 1962, on charges of mail fraud, based on dealings in mortgages secured by non-existent farm fertilizer tanks.

Estes, 39, under $140,000 in bonds, remains out of jail pending the outcome of appeals against state and federal prison terms totaling 23 years.

McSpadden drew 10 years in the penitentiary and Alexander six years on guilty pleas. Along with Harold E. Orr, 33, of Amarillo, also sentenced to 10 years, they were allowed to delay going to prison as long as they remained available to testify against Estes.

Orr was found dead Friday with the engine of a car running in a closed garage at his home, and a doctor said carbon monoxide poisoning caused death. A coroner's jury is due to weigh an inquest verdict Wednesday.

McSpadden and his wife drove here Sunday from Lubbock. After visiting the Alexander home, the two men called on the widow and parents of Orr before surrendering to Deputy U.S. Marshal Glenn Beaver.

They were lodged in the Potter County jail. Federal authorities would not say where the prisoners will be sent or when the transfer will be made.

It appeared likely that they will remain here until the March 16 trial of Robert E. Clements, 69, at Wichita Falls.

Clements, one of the founders of the Townsend old age pension plan, sold Superior Manufacturing Co. in Amarillo to Orr, McSpadden and Alexander. He was convicted of stealing a $37,600 check from the firm but recently won a new trial.

It was through Superior Manufacturing Co. a tank building firm, that Estes and his associates sold mortgages involving millions to some of the nation's largest finance companies.

Receives Degree

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mrs. Eva Samano de Lopez Mateos, wife of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, returned during the weekend from a trip to the United States. She received an honorary degree at Florida's Rollins College and visited education facilities in Philadelphia.

Shore Leave

MEXICO CITY (AP)—French cadets from two visiting schoolships anchored at Acapulco stayed busy here Sunday with protocol ceremonies but had free time to visit the city. Capt. Alfred Postec of the cruiser Jean d'Arc and Capt. Louis Carsin of the escort ship Victor Schoelcher head the party.
