Bandannas For Buyers

Linda Shaw, left, Coahoma FFA chapter queen, and Dolores Lankford, 4-H steer expert, show how bandanna handkerchiefs are to be tied on buyers of show stock to be sold at the big auction tonight.

Auction To Climax Stock Show Today

High grade livestock will bring king-sized prices tonight at the Howard County Fair grounds. The occasion will be the big auction sale which officially brings down the curtain on the 1964 Howard County FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show. (See page 8-A for results.)

The sale opens at 7:30 p.m. with Randall Sherrod and Dub Bryant sharing the gavel in disposing of the 17 choice steers and 70 selected lambs which qualified for sale. Last year Maxwell and Mark Barr topped the sale with $1,175 for the best steer.

Downed Fliers Reported Safe

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Three American fliers shot down over Communist East Germany are reported alive. The United States is trying to get them back and denies a Soviet charge that they were spying.

A nurse at a hospital in Gardelegen, East Germany, said the three officers aboard the jet bomber—which the Soviet Union admitted shooting down—survived and one was brought to the hospital Tuesday night.

NOT SERIOUS
"He wasn't hurt much," she said by telephone Wednesday. "He joined his other comrades."

The nurse declined to say who took the pilot away. She said she did not know his name.

The three Americans are Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit.

The United States and the Soviet Union exchanged formal protests over the incident in which the RB66 reconnaissance bomber was shot down 30 miles inside East Germany Tuesday. The crewmen parachuted.

U.S. officials denied the spy charge and insisted the plane was on a routine training flight with orders to stay away from the Iron Curtain frontier. The United States coupled an apology with the protest.

The Soviet note claimed that "special reconnaissance equipment for aerial photography and radiotechnical reconnaissance" was found in the wreckage of the twin-engine, high-altitude bomber.

Over 100,000 Flee Before Flood Waters

Nine Persons Perish In Destructive Rising River

By The Associated Press
Disaster headquarters were established in Cincinnati, Ohio, today to assist some 110,000 persons in five states made homeless by the swirling, murky flood waters of the Ohio River and its tributaries.

The gushing floods dealt death, destruction and misery to thousands of persons, closing schools and roads and even creating a new pastime in Cincinnati.

NINE DIE
At least nine persons have perished in the flooding. Some 27,175 families have been evacuated in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Approximately 12,000 persons are living in 53 American Red Cross shelters.

Seven persons have been killed in Ohio, where 15,000 families in 22 counties were driven from their homes. One flood death was reported in Indiana and one in Kentucky.

On the other side of the nation, a strong cold front rushed inland from the Pacific Ocean, prompting the U.S. Weather Bureau to predict a potent storm which will envelop the southwestern United States by Saturday.

Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has asked President Johnson to declare 30 counties disaster areas.

SANDBAG LEAK
National Guardsmen averted disaster Wednesday when they sandbagged a leak in the Louisville floodwall. Flood waters from the rising Ohio River inundated low areas of the downtown section.

The Ohio hit 16.9 feet above flood stage in Louisville. The Army Corps of Engineers took over direction of the 17 1/2-mile protection system.

Hundreds of persons were evacuated from homes outside the floodwall.

Eighty per cent of West Point's 2,300 population was evacuated as the Salt River overflowed and isolated the community. The river began a slow retreat from Shepherdsville and Taylorsville.

Workers began a massive cleanup job in Falmouth, hit by the worst flood in the northern Kentucky community's history. The river crested at 20 feet above flood stage and forced 1,500 of the town's 2,600 residents to move out.

DISASTER BID
In Indiana, Gov. Matthew Welsh asked President Johnson to declare disaster areas for 20 southern counties.

More than 1,000 persons were flooded out of their homes in New Albany where an "extreme emergency" was declared before a leaking floodwall gate was sandbagged.

Thirty-four highways were closed by flood waters in the state.

The Ohio River was expected to crest at 66 1/2 feet in Cincinnati, 14 1/2 feet above flood stage. Some refugees began moving back into their homes in some areas of the state.

The floodwall at Parkersburg, W. Va., was expected to prevent heavy damage there as the Ohio near 46.5 feet, about 10 feet higher than flood stage. But downtown Wheeling, Huntington and Point Pleasant were hit by high water, which forced 1,350 families to flee.

ANXIOUS EYE
Residents in southern Indiana kept an anxious eye on predicted crests since several towns lie across the river from Louisville. About 4,000 already have been evacuated in the state.

Streams were returning to their banks in western Pennsylvania and the Ohio was due to fall below the 25-foot flood stage at Pittsburgh. Harrisburg remained a trouble spot as the usually serene Susquehanna River invaded low-lying sections of the city and its suburbs.

India Denounces Red's 'Mad Urge'
GENEVA (AP)—India bitterly denounced today the "mad urge" of the Chinese Communists to possess their own nuclear bomb.

In a speech to the 17-nation disarmament conference, the Indian delegate, Vishnu C. Trivedi, avoided mentioning Red China by name, but his meaning was clear.

Johnson-Kennedy 'Feud' Called Silly
WASHINGTON (AP)—A close

associate of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today reports of a feud between Kennedy and President Johnson are "just silly."

"There is no feud between the two," the aide told a reporter. "The attorney general and President Johnson have never been very close. But they are no farther apart today than they were three months ago. This talk of a feud is just silly."

RIFT REPORTS
Informed sources said Johnson and Kennedy had not discussed personally the feud talk. Reports of a rift have engrossed official Washington in the wake of a robust drive to get Kennedy's name written in as Johnson's vice presidential running mate in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

The reports persisted although Kennedy had issued a statement last week saying he wished to discourage any efforts on his began receding. The Ohio was expected to fall below 25-foot flood stage at Pittsburgh by tonight.

In Kentucky, outside the Louisville area, at least two towns were virtually isolated. Another dug out from its worst flood in history.

Damage, not officially estimated, was expected to run into the millions of dollars. Typical of hard-hit towns was Shepherdsville, Ky., south of Louisville, where eight feet of water covered downtown.

At Louisville, National Guardsmen helped city workers and firemen install flood gates. The quick-rising river jumped through one opening, at the foot of 10th Street, before it could be plugged. The affected area is on lower ground than the main downtown section but some businesses were affected.

A crest of 46 1/2 to 47 feet was expected Friday morning at Louisville but the wall was being readied to stand one of 48 feet. The river was only about a foot below the predicted crest early today and about 18 feet over flood stage.

Water Everywhere

Downtown Marietta was under water as the surging Ohio River overflowed its banks. Communities in 22 Ohio counties were similarly affected by the muddy waters. Officials say damage from the flood will run in the millions of dollars. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Federal Pay Hike Bill Has Strong Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strong support from House leaders has greatly improved chances for passage of a federal pay increase bill that includes big boosts for members of Congress.

Before a final vote comes today, however, a move may be made to trim from $10,000 a year to $7,500 the increases that would go to members of Congress and other high-paid government officials. A total of 1.7 million federal employees would benefit under the bill, with the average mailman and government secretary getting a $450-a-year raise.

The House spent Wednesday debating the issue of whether it deserved an increase after going nine years without one, and heard a resounding "yes" from Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma and assistant Democratic leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana.

It also heard some equally rousing "no's" and demands that the House stand up and be counted on a roll call vote instead of trying to pass the bill by a nonrecord vote.

The members, who needed no such reminders, were told repeatedly by the bill's supporters that they faced "a hard and disagreeable task" in voting to raise their own $22,500-a-year salaries.

Albert told them the duty to set federal salaries was put upon them by the Constitution and could not be evaded. Holding down congressional pay, Albert said, would depress all salaries, since they are fixed by tradition in rigid relationships.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., a chief sponsor of the bill, told his colleagues "we are important people." He said he is tired of having Congress downgrade itself and praised the bill as "the first effort in history to bring order into the federal salary scale."

Many Republicans, however, said Congress could not in good conscience vote itself a big increase just after cutting taxes and urging frugality in government spending.

Hoffa Given Eight Year Prison Term
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, professing his innocence to the last, was sentenced today to eight years in prison for seeking to tamper with a federal court jury. He was fined in addition a total of $10,000.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson, who quietly told the stocky labor leader that he had been convicted "of tampering with the very soul of this nation," could have sentenced Hoffa to 10 years in prison. The fine was the maximum under the law.

Three men convicted with Hoffa were each sentenced to three years in prison. They could have been sentenced to five years and fined a total of $5,000 each.

Many Republicans, however, said Congress could not in good conscience vote itself a big increase just after cutting taxes and urging frugality in government spending.

After the sentencing, Hoffa said, "I understand the sentence perfectly and I will make my appeal." The conviction and sentence could mean eventually the loss of Hoffa's job as head of the Teamsters Union.

The judge continued bond for Hoffa and the others, pending appeal, and asked the lawyers to file motions for an appeal within the next 10 days.

In passing sentence, Judge Wilson told Hoffa: "The feeling of the court is that the verdict is clearly supported by the evidence and that your knowingly and corruptly attempted to bribe a jury."

Hoffa told newsmen that he would appeal the sentence.

Clergyman Testifies For Ruby As Trial Nears End

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Jack Ruby's religious leader, Rabbi Hillel Silverman, described Ruby today as being in "a sort of trance" on the night of President John F. Kennedy's assassination in Dallas, Nov. 22.

Rabbi Silverman was a defense witness as Ruby's murder trial neared the end. Ruby is charged with killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as Kennedy's slayer.

The clergyman said that about 1,000 people came to Shearith Israel Temple on the night of the assassination. After the services, he said, they lined up, as is customary, to speak briefly with him. He said Ruby was in the line.

TRANCE
"He seemed to be in a sort of trance," Silverman testified. "I expected him to say something about what we all were feeling. Instead he thanked me for visiting his sister Eva Grant, in the hospital. I thought this very bizarre."

As other witnesses have related, Rabbi Silverman said he was present at an instance when Ruby "began to sob, cry and moan" because of a remark about his dogs. Only a few moments later, Rabbi Silverman said, Ruby was calm again.

POSED QUESTION
At one point, defense lawyer Joe Tonahill asked Rabbi Silverman: Q. Have you an opinion, Dr. Silverman, based on your experience, training and ability, and based on your own knowledge of Jack Ruby, whether Jack Ruby at the time of the shooting knew right from wrong?

A. There have been times in the past when Jack Ruby did not know right from wrong and in my opinion at the time of the shooting he did not know the difference between right and wrong, and during the past few months and right now he does not know right from wrong.

In cross-examination, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade drew from Dr. Silverman testimony that in the past he had recommended that troubled members of his congregation see a psychiatrist.

"During the 10 years you knew him, did you ever recommend that Jack Ruby go to a psychiatrist?" Wade asked.

"Jack Ruby never came to my office with a problem," Rabbi Silverman replied. So the answer is no.

Dr. Walter Bromberg of New York told the jury he believed Ruby was in a state of "suspended consciousness" when he killed Oswald, accused presidential assassin.

He described Ruby, whom he examined in December and again in January, as "an extremely emotional, unstable person."

Lawyers for both sides agreed as the session began that testimony would be completed today. Ruby has not taken the witness stand and there were no indications that he would.

Bromberg's testimony preceded that of Dr. Robert Schwab, a Harvard psychiatrist called by the prosecution.

In cross-examination, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade brought out that Dr. Bromberg left a Mendocino, Calif., hospital after a dispute with his superiors there.

Bromberg testified he had worked on at least two previous cases with Bell and that his fee for these services is $350 a day. The witness repeated his diagnosis of psychomotor epilepsy in relation to Ruby and said he also was subject to manic psychotic depressions.

Weighty and contradictory psychiatric testimony has been given for both sides by specialists.

West Germany, which is not a U.N. member, will contribute about $500,000, diplomatic sources said.

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The prospects for a U.N. peace force for Cyprus improved today as Secretary-General U Thant found himself over the halfway mark in his fund-raising campaign.

Britain warned it would not carry the police burden alone much longer on the troubled Mediterranean island.

As Greek Cypriots denounced the United States and Britain in Nicosia Wednesday, those two countries announced they would contribute half the estimated $6 million needed to keep the force on Cyprus for three months.

Prospects Of Peace Force For Cyprus Are Improved

Britain offered $1 million but warned it would pull its troops out of Cyprus, letting the Greek and Turkish Cypriots fight it out unless there is quick relief for British soldiers.

Amid cheers from both Labor and Conservative members, Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys told the House of Commons: "There is a limit to the dangers and indignities which we have a right to ask them (British soldiers) to endure."

Sandys said Britain had given Thant until today to report some progress in putting together the international force authorized by the Security Council to relieve the bulk of the 7,000 British troops on Cyprus. Britain has offered to keep some soldiers on Cyprus and to provide quarters for the international force at its permanent bases on the island.

The State Department said it would donate up to $2 million from an Agency for International Development contingency fund. This is in addition to an earlier U.S. offer to provide transportation and some supplies for the force.

The State Department noted that an obstacle to creating the force was the financial problem but added, "It is essential to move promptly to stop further needless loss of life."

Losers Entered In Two Man Contest

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The California primary June 2 will be a two-man contest between the big losers in New Hampshire—Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

It's too late for the surprise winner in New Hampshire, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, or any one else to enter this state's primary in search of its giant bloc of 86 votes.

Write-in votes, which gave Lodge his victory in New Hampshire, are not allowed.

Satellite Up

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—An Atlas-Agena satellite rocket, a combination used in Atlas or Midas reconnaissance satellites, was launched Wednesday. The Air Force gave no further details.

Leaders Want Lodge To 'Fish Or Cut Bait'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Republicans on Capitol Hill say Henry Cabot Lodge ought to come home and campaign or else declare himself out of the GOP presidential race.

This was the predominant view of Republican senators as they appraised the ambassador's upset victory in Tuesday's New Hampshire presidential preference primary.

Lodge, who has said he is not a candidate because of foreign service regulations, won the New Hampshire preference on a write-in campaign while he was at his post in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who stumped New Hampshire hard and finished second and third to Lodge, have challenged him to return and fight for the nomination.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who finished a distant fifth, wondered out loud how long Lodge could "remain a member of the Johnson administration and also remain as President Johnson's most likely Republican opponent for the presidency."

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., one of Goldwater's campaign advisers, said, "Lodge should declare himself. He either should say he is not a candidate or resign his ambassadorship and come back and debate the issues."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a supporter of Mrs. Smith, said he figured the New Hampshire results place Lodge in a position where "he has got to fish or cut bait, before very long. A man can't support the administration and be running against it at the same time."

WILL STAY

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., voiced a belief that Lodge will stay at his critical post in Saigon "as long as he feels he can do the job and the President wants him to remain."

Saltonstall made clear he will support Lodge if he becomes a candidate and expressed belief that a Lodge candidacy would be backed strongly by the Massachusetts delegation.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee and an avowed neutral at this point, said, "I would think that very soon Lodge will have to completely disassociate himself from any ambitions along this line, or declare that he does have these ambitions."

Johnson Leaves Decision Up To Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is operating as if Henry Cabot Lodge will stay on indefinitely as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Lodge's New Hampshire primary victory has boosted his Republican presidential nomination prospects, and stateside GOP candidates are calling on him to come home to campaign.

But State Department informants said the cable traffic between Lodge and Washington has been strictly business, that none of the Saigon dispatches has carried any hint the ambassador may resign and fight for the GOP nomination.

The word is that President Johnson has left it up to Lodge to say when and if he decides to forsake the diplomatic arena for the political.

Lodge said again Wednesday he does not plan to leave Saigon or resign. Citing foreign service regulations, he cabled Oregon authorities he was not a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in the state's May 15 primary.

Some figure that both Johnson and Lodge have reasons for avoiding a Saigon ambassadorial change now.

There is speculation that Lodge wants to know more about his nomination prospects before making any public commitment.

Johnson is described as satisfied with the way Lodge has been performing his duties. And Lodge, the 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee, represents a sort of political insurance against GOP attacks on the administration's handling of the war in Viet Nam.

Most All Saw Primary Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican party's old pros—its grassroots leaders—surveyed a topsy-turvy political scene today and tried to figure out what happened in New Hampshire and what it will mean.

Most of them saw it as a victory of one kind or another for their particular favorite in the apparently wide-open GOP presidential nominating derby.

Many of the state GOP chairmen polled by The Associated Press discounted Henry Cabot Lodge's write-in victory as little more than New Englanders giving a favorite son pat on the back to another New Englander.

Others took the view of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton: that Lodge is now one of the leading contenders "at the very least."

Some—particularly backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona—saw it as a blow to the hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's backers contended the governor was the one who gained most. They argued he finished close to the second-place Goldwater after having trailed badly in the polls at the start of the New Hampshire campaign.

Richard M. Nixon, who ran fourth in the primary via write-ins, gave his view of what happened at a news conference Wednesday night.

"That very independent Yankee spirit seems to favor candidates who were farther away than the ones who were there," Nixon said.

He also said it would be a mistake to count out Goldwater and Rockefeller and declared: "The battle is still to be fought."

Practically all the state chairmen felt the same way—that there was a lot more ground, and primaries, to be covered before the candidate would be picked at the July nominating convention.

Thus the spotlight swung across country from the icy land of New Hampshire to sunny California where Rockefeller is already at work mining votes for the June 2 primary there.

"This, Goldwater has said, will be the big one and he plans to follow his New York rival in California on Friday."

Masked Men Beat, Torture Official's Wife

HOUSTON (AP) — Four masked men broke into a fashionable Houston home Wednesday night, brutally beat, burned and shot the wife of a tobacco company official.

They also pistol-whipped the woman's husband and the governor and threatened to burn the couple's baby daughter with a heated-up knife used to torture the baby's mother.

After holding Mr. and Mrs. Mair Schepps and the governor's prisoner for three hours. The masked men escaped with at least $3,900 in cash and a five-carat diamond ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Schepps were taken to a hospital where neither was reported in critical condition.

Mrs. Schepps was shot in the thigh by one of the men and they left the house after the ransacking and torturing session.

She also was burned about the body. Schepps told police the men tortured his wife with an electric prod he said they plugged into a wall socket and that a heated butcher knife was also used.

Schepps told police they kept beating him, asking "where the $40,000 and the safe was." He said he did not know anything about $40,000 and that he did not have a safe in the house.

King Paul's Rites Today

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece was borne to his grave today, attended by six of Europe's seven reigning monarchs and other dignitaries from around the world.

The dead king's son and successor, King Constantine, 23, walked with his weeping mother, Queen Frederika, and his sisters, Crown Princess Irene and Princess Sophie, behind the flag-draped coffin on a caisson pulled by Greek navy sailors.

The foreign mourners were led by King Baudouin of Belgium, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, King Frederik of Denmark, King Gustav of Sweden, and King Olav of Norway. Only Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, who gave birth to her fourth child on Tuesday was absent. Her husband, Prince Philip, represented her.

Nearly 800,000 Greeks lined the mile and a half route of the cortege through downtown Athens.

Former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were there for the United States. Walking with them were 18 princes, 8 princesses, 7 dukes, 2 duchesses, 2 presidents — and envoys from Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union. Communist countries where royalty is considered a political curse.

In the line of march were former kings whose thrones no longer exist—Umberto of Italy, Michael of Romania and Simeon of Bulgaria.

Officers Seek Missing Ex-Con

PORT LAVACA (AP) — Ex-convict David Fred Hagler, 44, was the object of a widening search today, after a plane he piloted was found wrecked in Matagorda Bay.

Officers were also due to question again the plane's passenger, Mrs. Loretta Anderson of Euless, who told them she last saw Hagler clinging to a wing "and turning blue" while she swam to shore Tuesday night.

Sheriff D. B. Halliburton said, however, tracks in mud along the shore indicated a man and woman may have waded ashore at low tide.

A ranch hand, Arturo Torralba, said he and his wife picked up a man and woman on the beach Tuesday night and later took them to Port Lavaca. The wife said the man gave her a water-soaked $20 bill in appreciation.

Hagler failed to appear in a Dallas court Wednesday on a theft charge that he used another man's credit card for auto repairs.

Formerly from Fort Worth but now living in Dallas, Hagler was acquitted in 1956 on an Oklahoma murder charge. The murder victim, found in Hagler's burned station wagon Oct. 12, 1954, was never identified.

The state charged Hagler tried to make it appear he died in the fire so relatives and business associates could collect about $200,000 in life insurance.

Before officers finished questioning Mrs. Anderson Wednesday, she checked out of a Port Lavaca hospital where she was treated for exposure. Her husband, 39, said he would bring her today for more questioning.

Mrs. Anderson said she and Hagler were en route to take aerial pictures of Padre Island when their four-seater rented plane went down in the bay.

Coeds Without Curfews Is New UCLA Experiment

By DORIS KLEIN
LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA, which startled some parents with coeducational dormitories, has come up with another experiment—coeds without curfews.

Officials at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California said Wednesday they were dropping a curfew for women students over 21 and women graduate students.

Juniors and seniors in good academic standing also can stay out all night—with their parents' permission.

"I guess you might say we're a little more liberal than most universities around the country," said UCLA Dean of Women Mrs. Nola-Stark Cavette.

Sororities, however, aren't sure they'll accept the new regulation, added Mrs. Cavette. "They're talking it over."

Up to now, all women students living in dormitories had to be in by midnight on weeknights and by 2 a.m. on weekends. The rule now will apply only to freshmen and sophomores.

The new rules are an experiment, she said, as the dormitories were three years ago.

"We weren't sure what to expect then, either. But it's worked out."

"No one's been expelled for immorality—just a very few for having liquor in their rooms or breaking furniture."

Up to 800 young men and women live in the three coeducational dormitories—but they don't exactly live together.

"We have the men in one tower and the women in another. They mix in the public rooms—the cafeteria, living room, library and lounges—but each wing is locked separately."

A night clerk presses a buzzer to admit a young man or woman to their respective wing after they show identification cards, complete with photograph.

Nixon, Scranton Off Texas Ballot

AUSTIN (AP) — Two Republicans withdrew Wednesday from Texas' presidential preference poll in the state GOP primary May 2.

Former Vice President Richard Nixon and Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton sent word to withdraw their names.

Two other unannounced candidates are Henry Cabot Lodge and George Romney.

Announced candidates whose names will be on the May 2 ballot are Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and one Harold Stassen.

French Firm Sells To Cuba

LYON, France (AP) — The Berliet Company said Wednesday it would begin delivery of $8 million worth of trucks to Communist Cuba within the next few weeks.

Britain's Leyland Motors has contracted to supply $10 million worth of buses to Castro, but has not announced a delivery date.

The United States has protested both sales.

State Receives Well Penalties

AUSTIN (AP) — The state recovered $19,900 in penalties Wednesday from seven defendants accused of operating three illegally slanted oil wells in Rusk and Gregg Counties.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones entered the judgment which brought to $513,000 the total awarded the state in civil penalty suits stemming from the 1962 investigation of wells slanted to take oil from adjoining leases.

The judgment was entered against W. O. Davis Jr., Elba Oil Corp., Carter-Jones Drilling Co., Mary Kemp, Hunter Parks and Don Meabon, all of Gregg County, and Burk Royalty Co. of Wichita Falls.

Federal Officials Looking For Bank Failure Reasons

MARLIN (AP)—While Marlin residents recovered today from the initial shock of the failure of the 72-year-old First National Bank, federal officials began looking for reasons.

"I'm looking for any evidence that good money went out and bad loans came in," said Joseph W. Barr, chairman of the board of the Federal Deposits Insurance Corp., Washington.

INSOLVENT
The bank, which has been controlled by several Houstonians since last summer, was declared insolvent Tuesday by U.S. Comptroller of the Currency James L. Saxon, and its business halted.

Barr said a routine check by the federal currency comptroller's office first indicated the bank was in trouble. He said the examiners found the bank's loans were not up to par. The loans, he said, included some installment loans and mortgages and various other types of paper.

Before Barr returned to Washington Wednesday afternoon, he said the liquidation of the bank is proceeding smoothly, but it will be four or five days before the FDIC is ready to accept claims from depositors.

PAY OFF
Barr said earlier he "wanted to see for myself how quickly we can swing into action and pay off these people."

Barr also said that "outside trouble" caused the bank failure. "That's pretty obvious to me," he added. "If the money (controlling interest of the bank) had come from Marlin and stayed in Marlin, there would have been no trouble."

Chief National Bank Examiner Norman Dunn of Dallas said the bank was shut down because it could not pay off deposits. Controlling interest, he said, changed hands last summer and was held by persons outside Marlin.

DIRECTORS

In a January statement, bank directors were listed as J. J. Gallaher Jr., Mat D. Steiner, Mary Joe Steiner, Vincent San Felipe, S. S. Gafford, Tom Gallaher and Richard Donohoo. J. Gallaher is president and Donohoo is vice president and cashier.

The Houston Chronicle says Steiner and San Felipe were Houston residents who moved to California 10 days ago. Meanwhile the locks on the bank were changed Wednesday, the old keys thrown away and the new ones given to the man from Washington.

Missing Prisoners Face New Charges

DALLAS (AP) — Federal charges have been filed against two prisoners who escaped from the Dallas County jail Friday.

FBI agents are helping officers searching for Billy Brock, 35, and Randolph Hudnall, 21. They were among seven who overpowered three jailers and created havoc in the hallway near the Jack Ruby murder trial courtroom. All others were recaptured.

Both were charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Beauties Tell Giant Brains What To Do

NEW YORK (AP) — Beauty and electronic brains mix very well at a giant computer company where 1,200 "calculating females" tell the mathematical monsters what to do.

A prime example is dark-blond, blue-eyed Diana Rode, 23, a mathematics major from Pembroke who is a systems engineer for International Business Machines Corp.

Miss Rode, who could easily qualify as a model, has conducted seminars for brain surgeons and worked on physics projects with university professors.

Most of the women in IBM technical and professional jobs, such as systems engineers or programmers, are graduates of such schools as Vassar, Carleton College, Barnard, Stanford and Southern Methodist University.

The science of programming has been described as the analyzing of problems and reducing them to sequences which the computer can understand. For example, suppose a machine must be geared to perform a command like "pass the salt."

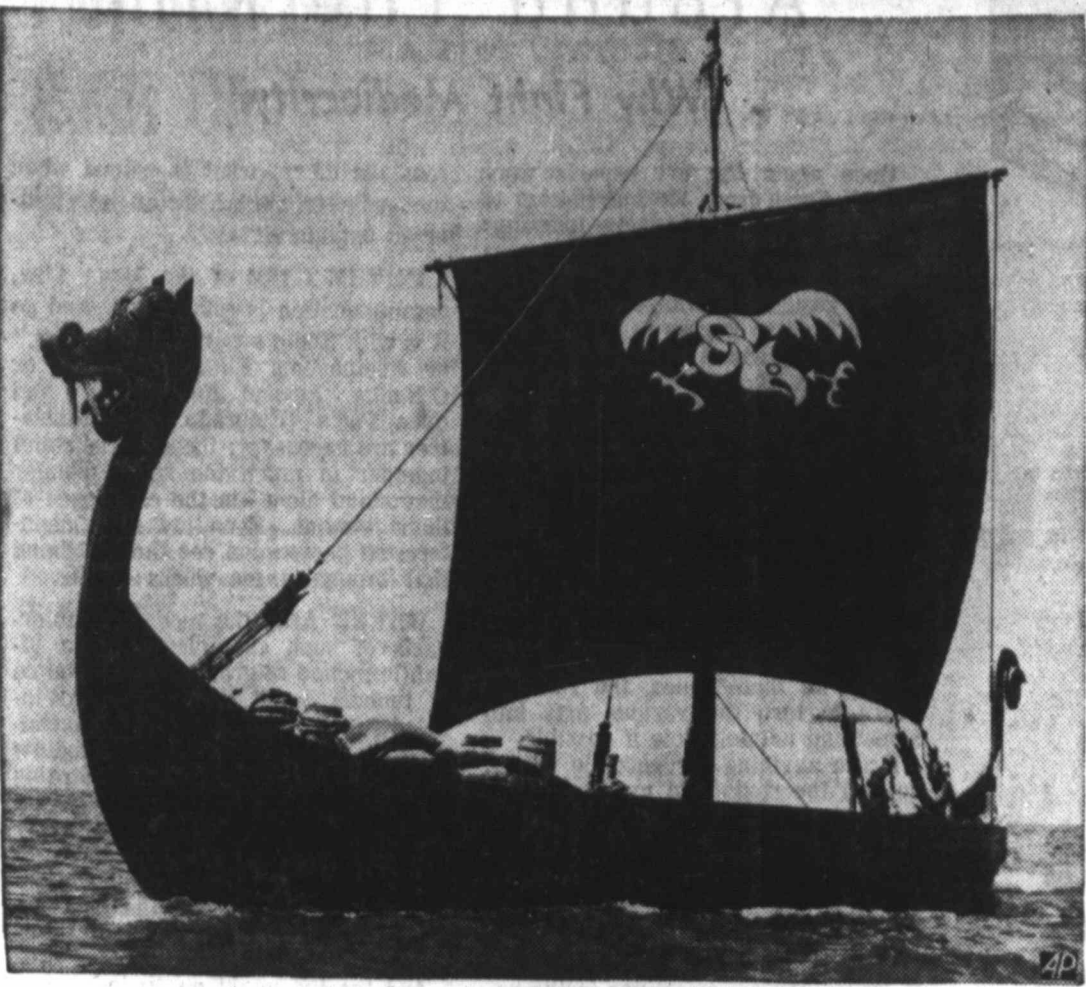

It's a matter of painstaking detail: Extend right hand over table. Poise right hand over shaker. Lower right hand to shaker. Close right hand on shaker—and so on, until the operation is completed.

Miss Rode, a native of Bristol, Conn., said Wednesday that in her job it is a matter of knowledge, judgment and "a little bit of feminine intuition."

No More Need To Wear Masks

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—After 46 years, it's legal to go unmasked in Elko's public buildings.

A city ordinance enacted in the 1918 influenza epidemic required all persons to wear masks in public buildings. Someone noticed the law still was on the books, so the city council repealed it Tuesday night.

VIKING LONG BOAT To make trans-Atlantic crossing

Young Adventurer To Sail In A Viking Ship

By MILTON MARMOR
LONDON (AP)—Robert Marx is a young American adventurer who comes straight out of the story books. His latest plan is to sail a replica of a Viking ship across the Atlantic.

This 30 year old who was deep-sea diving at 13, seeks to prove that long before Columbus, or even the Vikings, the Phoenicians and Carthaginians sailed the Atlantic to the Americas.

ANCIENTS
"The Viking ships were no different in shape, construction or equipment from the ancients," he said. "My voyage from Lisbon to Yucatan in Mexico starting April 15 will be made in a replica of one of the 10th Century Gokstad ships excavated in Norway in 1880."

"The open decks, shallow draft and square sail were common to most early vessels before the great age of discovery. And since a few seals, hieroglyphics and frescoes provide the only clues to the design of ancient Mediterranean ships, the Viking 'long ship' is the most accurate copy of a pre-Columbian vessel possible."

Marx observed that many experts claim that the Viking ships could not have made the long ocean voyage because they would have broken in two in the huge ocean swells.

NO AIDS
"This voyage without a nautical compass or other modern navigational aids should dispel this belief," he commented.

Marx, who was born in Pittsburgh and raised in Los Angeles, now uses the American Embassy in whatever country he is in to receive mail.

He is in London doing research at the British Museum, Maritime and Admiralty Museums and public records office.

"I want to have a United Nations crew of 9 to 15," he said. "One from each country, if possible. I have had hundreds of requests to join but the majority come from people who have never sailed. Also, 50 women offered to sail with me. I'm not taking women along."

SQUARE SAIL
The long ship he is using is 72 feet long with a 16 foot beam. It draws only 2 1/2 feet. He's not using oars, just a square sail.

Marx in 1962 sailed a copy of Columbus' ship Nina as pilot-navigator from Spain to the Bahamas. It took four months.

He also has served three years in the U. S. Marines, run a hotel and hunted treasure in Mexico. He has served as an underwater cameraman on feature films, on a two-year world tour dived for undersea mineral samples, worked in Yucatan as an archaeologist, and meanwhile wrote two books on the Nina—"The Voyage of the Nina II" and "Following Columbus."

RESEARCH
He has just completed a two-volume history of the Spanish treasure fleets. He also has completed research for a book on pre-Columbian voyages to America.

Marx estimates that it will take about two months for the western crossing. Then he plans to sail to New York, to Newfoundland, Greenland, Iceland, the Faroe Islands and Bergen, Norway. It'll all take about five months, he says.

The only modern items on the trip will be a few cameras and life saving equipment—and tobacco for smokes. He's taking an hour glass to keep time.

Marx points out that his ship will not be the first to make an Atlantic crossing in Viking style.

THE FIRST
"But we will be the first Viking vessel to cross absolutely authentically, just as the Vikings themselves would have done," he said.

"The previous ships not only added modern sails to their vessels, but also modern rudders and all sorts of other modern gear and, of the four that crossed since the first in 1893, three used auxiliary motors. They also navigated by modern means, selected the best routes near shipping lanes, and carried modern food and drink."

Marx is taking all kinds of live animals to slaughter as food, as well as salted meat and salted fish, dried fruits, cheese, nuts and honey.

Warns Of Confusion On Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., warned his colleagues of "confusion, instability and chaos" if they refuse to send the civil rights bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The result of such a refusal, he said today in a Senate speech, would be to "greatly endanger, if not completely destroy, the efficiency and integrity of our legislative processes."

McClellan was the opening

Southern speaker in the fourth day of debate on the House-passed civil rights bill.

The Senate so far is considering only the motion to take up the bill. The Dixie forces are believed willing to permit this to come to a vote by the middle of next week.

Once it is adopted, there will be a move to try to shunt the bill to the committee.

Democratic leaders have pledged to defeat this move if possible. They contend that the committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., has demonstrated in this Congress as in previous ones that it has no intention of acting on any civil rights legislation.

Allen J. Ellender, D-La., and Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., spoke on civil rights Wednesday. Several other senators talked on other subjects.

May Step Up Raids On Red Mainland

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Charles de Gaulle's recognition of Red China and Formosa's split with France have brought the possibility Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists will step up their guerrilla raids against the Chinese mainland.

The effect also has been to revive talk of a small-scale invasion of the mainland—an action which would put the United States on the spot.

Experts here say the Nationalists have the military capability to attempt an invasion big enough to establish a beachhead on the Communist coastline. They doubt the Nationalists could maintain a beachhead across the Formosa Strait without American support.

Any abortive invasion attempt would confront the United States with a grim choice—to come to the rescue of the beleaguered Nationalist invaders, or to abandon them.

That's one of the last decisions Washington wants to make. But some Chinese officials here express fear that France may have set off a diplomatic chain reaction, and they feel their only hope of survival as a sovereign power is to force the United States to make that decision.

Officially, Chiang has been committed to an invasion of Red China since the Communists swept him off the China mainland 14 years ago.

American officials estimate the Nationalists could drop one regiment of airborne troops—about 3,000 men—on the China mainland without the knowledge of U.S. officials here. Given a full-scale invasion attempt, they could ferry about 25,000 men across the strait by sea.

"But amphibious landings are a very sophisticated business," a high-ranking American here said. "The Nationalists just don't have the facilities to supply a mainland beachhead, to provide air cover and to keep shuttling reinforcements and more supplies."

The Chinese Nationalists have proportionately more men under arms—600,000—than any other country. But Red China has an army of 2.6 million.

According to reliable estimates available here and in Hong Kong, the Chinese Communist navy totals 1,000 ships and its air force 2,900 combat aircraft, 2,500 of them jets. Some 750,000 Chinese troops supposedly are deployed to a depth of 200 miles along the China coast facing Formosa.

The Nationalists stage frequent guerrilla raids on the China mainland.

Almost Frozen, But Recovers

TULSA (AP) — A woman whose temperature dipped so low it couldn't be measured was recovering today.

Mrs. Marie Adams, 43, was brought to Hillcrest Medical Center early Monday after apparently lying in freezing temperatures all night on a street.

"Many of us thought she was dead and some of the policemen left because they thought she was," Dr. Edward Jenkins said. Jenkins and Dr. Joe Roberts administered closed heart massage and other emergency treatment for more than two hours.

A device called a pacemaker, which stimulates the heart by use of electrical impulses, was put into use.

A "hypothermia blanket" was filled with heated water and wrapped around the woman. Adrenalin was shot directly into her heart twice and she was given transfusions of blood warmed to 102 degrees.

More than an hour after doctors began working over the woman, her temperature was recorded at 67 degrees. Normal body temperature is about 98.2 degrees.

Mrs. Adams regained consciousness Monday and her temperature reached 96 degrees.

The lowest temperature ever recorded in a person who recovered was 60.5 degrees, recorded after Dorothy Stevens, 23, was found virtually frozen in zero weather in Chicago Feb. 8, 1951.

Committee To Promote Bobby

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A committee to promote the candidacy of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for vice president was incorporated in Wisconsin Tuesday.

Papers were filed with the secretary of state by Percy Silver of Milwaukee. Silver, a Milwaukee insurance man, identified himself as chairman and the committee as: "Draft Robert F. Kennedy for Vice-President of the United States, Grass Roots, Ground Swell Committee."

Ballet Dancers Offer Protests

MOSCOW (AP) — Dancers of the Bolshoi Ballet complained Tuesday they are suffering from too many accidents while training and dancing.

They blamed the accidents on the pressure to produce more and better dances. Some dancers are forced to dance while they are ill, the complaint said.

The complaint was signed by some of the top bolshoi stars and published by the official medical newspaper, Medical Workers.

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Housing Administration has approved a $125,000 loan to the Celeste, Tex., housing authority to build 10 low-rent homes. Four of the units will be designated specifically for the elderly.

Two-Pronged Swan Drive

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP) — Residents of Burlington have begun a two-pronged swan drive. They want to buy a mate for a beautiful and obviously lonely ly swan that swims in the Fox River, and they want to engage an expert to find out what kind of a mate to buy.

The expert is needed because no one has been able to get near the bird, which stretches to its full five feet and ruffles its feathers at the slightest provocation.

Trial Reset

AUSTIN (AP)—The trial of Filiberto Salinas, former Starr County deputy sheriff charged in connection with alleged voting irregularities in the 1962 election, has been reset from March 23 to June 1.

Salinas was indicted here in December, 1962 after the attorney general's office investigated Starr County absentee balloting.

Big Spring To Push Cotton Promotion

Local emphasis will be placed on cotton during National Cotton Week, May 11-16. A preliminary planning meeting was called by Jimmy Taylor, chairman of the Cotton Week committee, at 10 a.m. Thursday. More details on the climax of the promotion, which will possibly be a style show, beauty contest or a mixture, will be worked out by the retail committee during a special meeting to be called within a week. Suggestions were read from other cities, including Plainview and Levelland, where the weeks have been observed for several years. Literature was also received from the National Cotton Council and the Plains Cotton Growers Association. One of the particular features suggested was the crowning of Prince Boll and Princess Blossom, chosen from pre-school-age children.

Martin, Andrews People Seek Pollution Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Pollution Control Board will hear testimony May 27 on whether the disposal of oil field brine in Andrews and Martin counties is polluting the underground fresh water supply. On March 5 following a public hearing on an eight-county area of the middle High Plains, the board ordered oil operators in Dawson, Terry, Hale, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lynn and Swisher counties to quit disposing of salt water in unlined pits by Sept. 1. The order was requested by conservation and farm groups in the area, which complained that the brine seeps through the soil and pollutes their water supply source.—The Ogallala formation underlies all or parts of 48 counties and is the main water source for those counties, most of which also are large producers of oil and gas. The board began consideration of possible pollution problems in the Ogallala area last September after a staff geologist recommended that the unlined pits be eliminated. The oil industry suggested that rather than divide the Ogallala area at a single hearing which might take weeks, the 48-county area be divided into five smaller areas for consideration at separate hearings. Andrews County is by far the most complex area to be considered in this vast Ogallala area," a spokesman for the oil industry said. He said 7,500 oil and gas wells are in the county.

Police said Donny Grimes, an employee, was using a telephone in the warehouse when he heard a noise at the west end of the building. Checking, he discovered a man lying on his back between the railroad tracks and the warehouse. Grimes told him to get in his pickup, but the man fled. The suspect also was described as five feet, nine inches in height with a weight of about 160 pounds. The tattoos were across the backs of his hands, police said. Tools were found at the west side of the building, according to officers, who said entry was not gained.

Officers Probe Fatal Shooting

A non-committal verdict of death from gunshot wounds was returned here today in the death of Willard Scalf. Scalf, mail clerk at the Big Spring State Hospital, was found on the floor of his cabin living room on the hospital grounds early Wednesday. Miss Iris Kathleen Bridges, 54, was found shot in an adjoining bedroom. Slaughter's verdict kept the door open on further investigation. Gil Jones, district attorney, said that clothing of the two principals had been sent to Texas Department of Public Safety laboratories for study. Miss Bridges, shot four times, underwent surgery at Malone & Hogan Clinic Hospital yesterday, and her condition was described this morning as satisfactory. It will be several days before she can be questioned further on the weird incident which took place in Scalf's apartment. Doctors removed one bullet from Miss Bridges' chest. Another was found on a stretcher, and two apparently passed through her body. Wounds were on her left side. Scalf was said to be left-handed. She told officers Wednesday she came here to talk with Scalf because her dogs had been poisoned. An argument followed, and then shooting. Scalf was found fully dressed, clean shaven, his glasses on, and pipe near his mouth, indicating he was leaving to go to work. Several years ago he had been a patient at the hospital, but later he returned to become a faithful employee. Scalf's body is at the River-Welch Funeral Home. Services are to be at 2 p.m. Friday. Chaplain Max Maguire of the State Hospital Staff, will officiate. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park. Scalf was born in Atchinson, Mo., Jan. 7, 1913. He had lived in Big Spring since 1955. Prior to that he lived in Odessa and was formerly a taxicab driver in Fort Worth. He has no known survivors according to A. L. Weir, Odessa, who has been his friend for many years. Pallbearers are to be Claude Carpenter, W. B. Grant, John Knowles, E. C. Starling, Ralph Perez and Ralph Williams. Weir told Sheriff Miller Harris he knew both Scalf and Miss Bridges well, and that the two had been acquainted about 15 years and had visited on occasions. Saturday Scalf was in Odessa. Weir continued, but he did not think he saw Miss Bridges at that time. She lives in a small apartment at the rear of a residence in Odessa. She works for an Odessa lumber yard as a bookkeeper. Insofar as Weir knows, Miss Bridges, like Scalf, has no relatives.

Borden Test Has Shows, Trouble

Another Sawmie Robertson recovering nine barrels of oil on an open well test during the first hour. Five barrels of oil were recovered the second hour and the flowing tubing pressure was 50 pounds. Operator had plugged back to 7,968 feet from a total depth of 8,500 feet and swabbed 18 barrels of load oil through perforations at 7,831-33 1/2 feet. Arizona Leads In Farm Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arizona led all the states, as it has done for a number of years, in the average realized net income of its farms in 1963. The figure was $20,697 and represented the amount left operators after deduction of their production and operating costs. Unlike many of its sister states, Arizona is made up largely of big ranches and operating units. This accounts for its leadership in the income average. The Arizona average was up 14 per cent from 1962 compared with the average of $3,430 for the nation as a whole. California was second last year with an average of $9,495.

The 1963 average realized net incomes per farm and the percentage change from 1962, respectively, by other states included: New Mexico $5,166, down 7; Oklahoma $2,408, up 7; Texas $3,900, up 6; Arkansas $4,400, up 23; Louisiana $3,290, up 20.

Almost Made It

Sharon Harrison showed her choice Hereford steer to the championship of the heavy-weight division and had the show judge scratching his head before he finally decided that this animal was reserve rather than grand champion.

Dolores Lankford Shows Grand Champion Fat Steer

It was a field day Wednesday for tiny Dolores Lankford, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lankford, Gail Route.

She copped top honors at the 27th Annual Howard County FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show with her medium weight steer. The judge pinned the coveted purple on the big red and white animal as grand champion.

A few minutes earlier this same steer had won first place in the medium weight division in the same competition, another steer shown by Dolores took second honors.

Tonight, Dolores plans to sell both steers. The grand champion, of course, will be the piece de resistance of the big auction this evening, and a fat price likely will be paid for the steer. Because of the rules, Dolores' second steer, will have to be peddled at resale prices. This means he will bring his young owner the market price plus a small bonus.

CLOSE CONTEST
Dolores, now completing her second year as steer showman, won her title in a touch-and-go struggle for that honor over a fellow 4-H Club member—Sharon Harrison. Sharon's steer, which had won first honors in the heavyweight division, won the reserve grand championship.

Sharon is the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Harrison, Gail Route. Both she and Dolores have made remarkable records in their careers in 4-H Club work.

Dolores has been four years in club work. Her important winnings include a third place steer in Odessa; a reserve championship steer shown in Paso and a second place in showmanship. Sharon has scored a reserve championship in the 1962 county show; a second place heavy-weight steer in Odessa and a third place medium weight steer at the Texas State Fair.

BEST OF COUNTY
Third place in the competition Wednesday went to Johnny Middleton. His steer had won first honors in the light weight division. He also won the $100 bond and a plaque annually given to the boy or girl who shows the best county bred steer in the local show. James and Robert Crenshaw showed the second best county bred steer.

Dolores' victories so far have netted her two purple ribbons a purple grand championship pennant and a towering gold plated trophy awarded by Zale's. This is the first year this trophy has been given.

Her victory was watched by a large crowd which took advantage of the near perfect weather to crowd into the big show barn for the steer judging. Ray Sims, the judge, worked with rapidity. He had completed his task of selecting the top animals from the 19 entries in less than an hour.

OTHER WINNERS
Dolores and Sharon, joined by the winners of the three lamb championships, had a field day after the judging closed. Photographers kept the kids posing for an hour.

The sheep championships were awarded to Nancy and Charlotte Mann. Southdown lamb; Buzz Mann showed the reserve champion. Dixie Coleman took the championship with the best fine wool lamb. Mike Brady showed the reserve champion.

GIRL MONOPOLY It's A Man's World?

Was it Darwin who observed that the female is the more deadly of the species?

The boys who competed against the girls in the Howard County Fat Stock Show on Wednesday support the eminent naturalist's theory 100 per cent.

The girls grabbed off every championship—including the highly coveted grand championship and reserve champion steer. It was the girls who took the titles in the three lamb divisions.

And it likely will be girls who pick up the fattest checks for stock to be sold tonight at the big auction which closes the show.

In the steer competition, Johnny Middleton, showing a lightweight calf, won first place honor in that class. He was the only boy in the competition to win a purple ribbon, but his steer placed third in grand championship ratings.

In the lamb division some boys did win firsts in the several divisions but it was girls whose lambs took high honors when the chips were down.

Buz Mann, for example, had the best heavyweight Southdown lamb. Look who took the Southdown championship—Buz's two sisters, Nancy and Charlotte, who showed the first place lightweight Southdown in the same competition.

Johnny Stone showed the best heavyweight crossbred lamb but Linda Foster took the grand championship with her lightweight entry.

Mike Brady won the lightweight honors in the fine wool lamb competition. Nevertheless, it was Dixie Coleman's heavyweight fine wool which won the purple ribbon.

And so it went all day. Thursday night, two more awards are to be made. These are highly coveted and much interest has been stirred on who will take them.

They are the showmanship trophies.

Will these little goldplated statuettes go to the girls, too? That's what's bugging the boys.

Reckon They're Girl Lambs, Too?

Girl showmen dominated the county livestock show in Wednesday judging, and in breed classes for lambs, they took all honors. At left is Dixie Coleman with her fine wool

Preliminary Report Due On School Study

AUSTIN (AP) — A preliminary report can be expected from Gov. John Connally's Higher Education Study Committee around May 9, chairman H. B. Zachry of San Antonio says.

He said Wednesday the preliminary report, which will be circulated among some legislative and educator groups before being put in final form, will be available to newsmen.

KEPT OUT

News reporters have been kept out of most of the committee's meetings, but were allowed for about an hour Wednesday to sit in on presentation of statistics comparing Texas public colleges and universities with those in some other states. The reporters left when the committee began deliberating the figures.

Zachry said the committee will assemble its tentative recommendations for improving higher education in Texas at a meeting April 18. The final draft must be approved and sent to the printer 90 days before the Sept. 1 deadline for submission to Connally and the legislature as required, Zachry said.

Zachry discussed the committee schedule at a news conference after the meeting Wednesday.

APPROVED

The committee approved some tentative recommendations on statistical measures of educational excellence and on junior college policy. The policy of closed sessions also was discussed, with no conclusions made.

"No decisions (on news policy) were made in the absence of several of our members," Zachry said. "There was a difference of opinion among those present," he added, indicating some members felt reporters should be admitted to the meetings.

Zachry reiterated his position that the committee will be more productive if members can voice their ideas without fear of being quoted in the news media.

Dr. Ben Jones, president of Navarro Junior College, outlined recommendations his subcommittee on junior colleges had offered to the full committee. Some were adopted, some changed, Zachry said, declining to specify which ones.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Some of the recommendations were:

1. That junior colleges not be elevated to four-year status. Jones said if a senior college is needed by a locality, a new one should be built.
2. That a state coordinating

Put Chaplain On KP Duty

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — If the Army wants to know how it can cut down on cussing in the mess halls, the 1st Brigade of the 2nd Infantry Division has found a way—put the chaplain on KP duty.

The chaplain, Capt. Dule R. Jernigan of Oklahoma City, Okla., was challenged by the 1st Brigade cooks when he chided them for their language.

If the cooks couldn't go a week without cussing, they each would contribute $2 to the chaplain's fund. If they could, Jernigan would go on KP.

Half a dozen purple-faced cooks groped for words to express themselves for seven days. On the eighth day, Jernigan spent the day elbow-deep in dishwater.

Applicants Sought For Journalism Scholarship

The West Texas Press Association is receiving applications until April 15 for its 1964 journalism scholarship which will be worth $600 to some West Texas high school graduate who studies newspaper journalism for four years in college.

All applications for the scholarship should be sent by interested seniors by April 15 to the WTPA scholarship chairman, Jim Cornish, publisher of the Post Dispatch at Post.

Announcement of the scholarship winner will be made by May 10.

Students who desire to apply for the scholarship should talk with their high school principal and editor or publisher of their hometown paper, who will help with necessary application details.

The scholarship winner receives $150 per year ($75 per semester) for each of the four years of his or her college career, providing satisfactory academic requirements are met.

The WTPA has offered this journalism scholarship each year since 1956 and have had as many as five students in college at one time drawing scholarship funds.

Applicants must be in the upper 25 per cent of the class, must have demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism and a desire for a newspaper career. Several copies of all rules concerning application for the scholarship have been mailed to each high school principal in West Texas and interested students may secure full details at their high school office.

Ten West Texas colleges and universities have been designated for scholarship winners by the West Texas Press Association but the scholarship committee will consider making an exception for other colleges or universities if they have a qualified journalism course of study.

The ten designated schools for scholarship recipients are Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, Howard Payne College, McMurry College, Midwestern University, Sul Ross College, Texas Tech, Wayland Baptist College, West Texas State University and Texas Western College.

Scorpions Do Not Even Like Their Friends

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—1,608 deaths during a 36-year period. Central and South America also have death-dealing species. In North Africa, deaths from scorpion stings outnumber deaths from snake bites.

Scorpions are more than a match for other predators, such as the tarantula and praying mantis. They do their dirty work by holding their enemy or prey with the crab-like pincers. Next, the long tail is brought up and over the scorpion's back and the victim is gently but firmly pricked and paralyzed with the stinger.

With humans, scorpions are not aggressive. They sting only in self defense. The unwelcome guests are sometimes found in bathtubs, breadboxes, shoes, bed clothes, damp rags or wandering on the floor. They prefer brick or rock houses.

Despite the scorpion personality, entomologists classify scorpions as beneficial in keeping other bugs in check. This is because they feed on such pests as flies, cockroaches, crickets, ants, moths and beetles—even small mice.

Fortunately, scorpions are not a common household pest. If they are encountered, A&M entomologists recommend removal of boards lying around, loose rocks and rubbish. Then spray the premises with chlordane, dieldrin or lindane.

The most popular control is the heel of a heavy shoe, wielded like a swatter, in the hands of a terrified housewife.

You are not alone, scorpion hater. Scorpions don't even like each other.

Texas A&M University entomologists have found the scorpion is "devoid of social instinct."

But it doesn't take social instinct to survive. The scorpion has been around a long time—fossilized specimens have been found that are judged to be 400 million years old.

A&M researchers believe that when two of the bugs are found under the same rock, or in one of your shoes, they are either romancing or trying to eat each other.

Nature must have been feeling bad the day it designed the scorpion. The creature looks like a cross between a spider and a crawfish, with a skinny, jointed tail thrown in as an afterthought.

No one but an entomologist or another scorpion could find anything interesting about scorpions.

Scorpions are found throughout the world but are more numerous in arid and tropical regions. A&M entomologists say that nearly all specimens found in the United States just hurt when they sting. However, certain people may be allergic or hypersensitive to the venom, and the sting can be dangerous.

Southern Arizona and Old Mexico have types which are deadly. The Durango scorpion (Mexico) was responsible for Sugar Baron Panamanian Storm's Eye With U.S.

PANAMA (AP)—In a second-floor suite of Panama's presidential palace sits Roberto F. Chiari, 59, wealthy sugar baron, cattleman and 32nd man to hold the office of president in the 60 years this little country has been a republic.

Chiari is the storm's eye around whom Panama's differences with the United States have been swirling.

Like almost all responsible Panamanians, he has been engulfed in an unprecedented wave of nationalistic wrath over the killing of 25 Panamanians in the Jan. 9-11 violence near the Canal Zone border.

Out of this episode has been fashioned an unyielding official demand that the United States negotiate a new canal treaty if Panama is to restore diplomatic relations.

Almost all Panamanians seem convinced the 1903 treaty fashioned by President Theodore Roosevelt deprives this country of rights in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone and is also responsible for other injustices.

Some of Chiari's critics doubt that by himself he would have reached the sudden decision to break off diplomatic relations with the United States at the height of the disturbances.

Others hold that Chiari's and the government's positions were so grave he had to do something dramatic to stem a tide of emotion which might have toppled the government.

Those close to the president like to point to his family's background and tradition of "standing up to the Yankees" as a clue to a possible factor in his decisions. His father Rodolfo, the sixth Panamanian pres-

Turning Toward Educational TV

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico, which spends far more on education than for defense, is turning to television as a weapon against illiteracy.

Special programs will be beamed from Mexico City, at first, to Mexico's central area. Later they will be extended to every corner of the country, officials say.

Ten hours of programs are planned daily. Initial expenses are expected to be $2.2 million.

Television sets will be installed when possible, in schools. If schools are not adequate, the sets will be put in town and village squares.

Literature will be distributed to supplement the programs.

About 57 per cent of the population is expected to be reached. Of the 1960 census population of around 35, an estimated 7 million were illiterate, the government reported. The figure is probably higher but is declining.

The mechanical aspects of the TV program—distributing sets, arranging channels and transmitters—will be handled by the Communications Ministry. Programs will be supervised by the Education Ministry.

ident, threatened to resign in 1928 if American troops were sent in—under terms of a constitutional amendment later abrogated—to supervise presidential elections which were threatened with violence.

The 5-foot-10, 145-pound president puts in a 12-hour day in the three-story, unpretentious looking palace. He likes semi-classical music and is an avid sports fan. In the big leagues he likes the San Francisco Giants. Asked about the Yankees, he smiled and replied "I am a nationalist."

Chiari had a good training for the presidency. He once was an aide de camp to his father.

Chiari cannot succeed himself in the presidency. He has remained aloof publicly from the political campaign leading to elections in May.

Flying Fingers Fashion Fabric Into Linens

Ten full bolts of Indianhead fabric were cut, sewn, pressed and fringed when members of the Ladies Golf Association spent all day Monday at Big Spring Country Club making new spring linens for the club.

The pink and yellow fabric produced 40 banquet cloths, 15 luncheon cloths, 15 bridge cloths and 14 dozen napkins. Over 200 yards of material were used. The project began at 9:30 a.m. and the cloths were finished by 5 p.m. Members brought picnic lunches for the noon meal.

Shown at the session are left, Mrs. A. Swartz, who cut the fabric to proper sizes and top right, Mrs. A. F. Tautz, who spent the day manning a portable sewing machine.

At bottom left are Mrs. M. M. Edwards, Mrs. B. E. Reeder and Mrs. Fred Lurting, as they fringed the napkins. At right are Mrs. Robert Stripling, who pressed as Mrs. Clyde Angel turned hem.

Other workers were Mrs. Gil Gingold, LGA president; Mrs. Ralph Caton, Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, Mrs. E. L. Powell, Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. Morris Patterson.

Girl Scouts Hostesses For Father-Daughter Banquet

A program exploring the world of Girl Scouting was presented at the Girl Scout Father-Daughter Banquet for Neighborhood I held Tuesday evening at Couden Country Club.

Over 500, including Scouts, their fathers and guests were seated in the ballroom for a box supper. Table arrangements varied as each troop decorated its own table.

The program opened with the flag ceremony performed by Cadette Troop No. 378 and the invocation by the Rev. Clair Wiederhoft. Honored guests were Mrs. D. M. Costlow, district advisor; Mrs. Russell Bennett, district chairman; and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, city publicity chairman.

Brownie Troop No. 92, presented "Welcome to Our Fathers," followed by Brownie Troop No. 134 singing "Pick a Bale of Cotton." "I'm an Old Cowhand" was presented by Brownie Troop No. 136.

"Our American Heritage" was the theme of a skit given by Brownie Troops No. 68 and 235. Junior Troop No. 131 used a pioneer theme, and Junior Troop No. 301 presented a style show of uniforms throughout the world.

Cadette Troop No. 378, led by Mrs. Charles Houston, gave the history of Girl Scouting in the United States and modeled uniforms worn in the formative years.

Nancy Thomas of Senior Troop No. 300 told of her experiences at the national convention and encouraged younger girls to continue in the Scouting program.

Representatives from each troop presented a contribution to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund which is collected each year at this time.

Most of this money goes into the International exchange plan. Every year, Senior Girl Scouts and adults are sent abroad, some to international gatherings, some to camps and conferences, and some to visit Guides in their homes.

The Brownie and Girl Scout pledges were led by Pam Little and Denise Bryant. The program concluded with the flags being retired by Cadette Troop No. 378.

Children of the Music Study Club members were featured on the program at the group's session held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. L. Christensen, 2509 Lynn.

The program leader, Mrs. B. F. Meacham, introduced the topic, "Adventures in Texas Music in The Home." Glynn Jones gave a piano number, "Arab Horseman." Two piano numbers by Texas composers, "Bicycle Ride" and "Chocolate Soldiers" were given by Pamela Marcum. Denise Heinze played "Toy Ballerina" and Lynn Christensen presented "La Danza."

Mrs. C. W. Wilbanks and Mrs. Verdell Turner assisted Mrs. Christensen in serving refreshments to 15 members and four guests. A green and white St. Patrick's Day theme was used.

Refreshments and a business meeting. Mrs. J. B. Johnson gave a report on the "Garden Therapy School for Exceptional Children" and Mrs. C. O. Hitt gave a report on the planting at the sun dial at Howard County Junior College.

The next meeting will be held April 8 in the home of Mrs. Albert Hohertz. Mrs. Obie Bristow will be the guest speaker, and members will present modern arrangements for criticism.

Cotton Maid Search Begins

Officials of the South Plains Maid of Cotton Selection have begun a search for a young woman who can best represent the South Plains cotton industry at the National Maid of Cotton Selection in December.

The selection to be conducted at Lubbock April 10-11 will be to choose a potentially good model who is photogenic and exemplifies the young American woman at her best.

Another important attribute is the Maid's ability as a model. Candidates in the South Plains Selection will be given instruction in the proper use of make-up, walking, posture and speech. To prepare her for the National Selection, the South Plains Maid will be featured in fashion shows and will make other public appearances on the South Plains and across Texas from the time of her selection until December.

Selection representatives emphasized that the South Plains and National Maid of Cotton Selections are not just beauty contests. The candidates never appear in public in a swim suit. Qualifications state that candidates must have never been married, not be less than 19 years of age or over 25 as of January 1, 1965, and be at least 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall without shoes.

Candidates must have been born in a cotton producing state, have her home residence in one of the following South Plains counties: Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum, or be a student in a school or college in one of the afore mentioned counties. She must be a resident of Texas.

The winner of the South Plains Selection will receive a $1000 all-cotton wardrobe, an all expense paid trip for her and a chaperon to the National Selection in Memphis in December. The first alternate will receive a $200 gift certificate and the second alternate a $100 gift certificate.

Some 20 young women will be selected as finalists on the basis of their qualifications as stated in an application and photographs. They will be presented for final judging on April 10 and 11 at the Lubbock Country Club and at the Maid of Cotton Show in Municipal Auditorium in Lubbock April 11.

Application forms are available at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Deadline for filing an application with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is 5 p.m., Wednesday, March 25.

Cigarette Case Locks

The case against the cigarette fiend—the clock-regulated cigarette case—is suddenly a hot item in New York specialty stores.

Although not new, it was usually purchased as a gag (at about $10), until the "Smoking and Health" report of the advisory committee to the surgeon general of the Public Service stirred thousands into re-evaluating their tobacco intake.

There are several different kinds of these cigarette cases but all operate on the principle of remaining stubbornly shut until released by a clock mechanism. The nicotine-enlaced soul, it is hoped, can cut down by setting the clock for intervals of from 10 minutes to two hours.

However, there is no device as yet to keep him from bumping other people's smokes in the meantime.

One time-locked case is equipped with a tiny alarm that signals the glorious moment of smoking enjoyment.

Gift certificates will be given as prizes, and net proceeds will go to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center. Admission will be $1, and play will be on a rubber basis. Players may make their own table or tables will be made at the party. Hoping for good cards are Mrs. W. K. Edwards, general chairman; Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, ticket chairman; Mrs. Hudson Landers, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Jack Irons, table chairman.

White linen covered the U-shaped refreshment table where an arrangement of carnations was used as the centerpiece. The flowers were sent by Mrs. Charles Eberley who was unable to attend. Mrs. G. B. Pittman won the St. Patrick game contest and was presented a four-foot green snake which was a table decoration. The group chose the Bennett House as a project and will do general volunteer work there. The visiting committee for April will be Mrs. R. J. Michael, Mrs. Harry Lees, and Mrs. W. E. Carnrike. Serving on the telephone committee will be Mrs. G. C. Graves, Mrs. H. F. Williamson and Mrs. J. D. Benson. The distributing of star sister gifts closed the meeting. The next will be in the tearoom April 14.

Andrews, Dalton Rites Pledged In Monahans

Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Andrews are at home at 205 S. Calvin, Monahans, following their wedding Friday evening at the Monahans Church of Christ. The bride is the former Debra Faye Dalton, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Dalton, Monahans, and J. M. Dalton, 1004 E. 14th, Big Spring. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Andrews, 702 W. Sealey, Monahans.

Andrews is a graduate of Monahans High School and attended Odessa Junior College and Eastern New Mexico University.

The reception was held at McLain's restaurant in the dining room with Miss Phyllis Coudring and Miss Linda Holder presiding at the bride's table. A white lace cloth was used, and the three-tiered cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom and blue and silver wedding bells. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Miss Kathy Stevenson registered the guests.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar arranged with baskets of white gladioli and greenery. Miss Joan Cox sang "I Love You Truly" and various nuptial selections.

RECEPTION

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white chiffon gown fashioned with full sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her Juliet cap of pearls held a forehead veil and she carried a white Bible topped with white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Andrews served the couple as best man and matron of honor.

For a wedding trip to El Paso, Mrs. Andrews chose a blue wool knit sheath with white accessories.

The bride attended Big Spring High School where she was active in Future Homemakers of America and Tri-Hi-Y. An-

Follow This Method For Stain Removal

Dear Heloise:

Here at the National Lumber Manufacturers Association we recommend these methods to remove pet stains from hardwood floors. If such accidents are not promptly wiped up, the urine penetrates the finish and stains the wood. If the stain has not penetrated too deeply, it can be removed by sanding. Where the original finish is a floor sealer (a penetrating finish, not a surface finish) the sanded area of exposed wood is recoated with sealer and buffed to a smooth finish with fine steel wool.

out the edges about four inches, and bleaching the stain with oxalic acid solution.

Apply the oxalic acid solution (use a saturated solution, that is, all the oxalic acid that will dissolve in a cup of water), and let it stand on the floor for one hour. Then rinse thoroughly with clean water. If the spot refuses to yield, a second application may be necessary. If it is, let the area dry, then sand with No. 3-0 sandpaper and again apply the oxalic acid solution. Rinse thoroughly and let dry.

Before refinishing buff lightly with No. 3-0 sandpaper to remove the raised grain and roughness. Apply a matching finish, feathering out into the surrounding floor area, then buff with fine steel wool and wax.

If the spot is still objectionable the only remaining remedy is to replace the stained flooring. . . . Hugh J. Mullins, Manager, Consumer Information Dept.

NOTE: ABOUT OXALIC ACID: 1. Take caution in using oxalic acid. IT IS POISON. Use rubber gloves and KEEP OUT OF THE REACH OF CHILDREN. Read Joe Blow's directions (U.S. Department of Agriculture's Handbook No. 294—"Wood Floors for Dwellings"). 2. Oxalic acid is a bleaching agent. When used, the floor may require retainting to match the original color of the finish.

Dear Heloise: You know those cardboard rolls that come inside foil and waxed paper? Well, my three children decided that they make wonderful telephones! They put the rolls over their mouths and yell through them . . . or tape two or three of them together and roll marbles, small toys, plastic trunks, etc., through the "tunnel." But the best of all is when I want the children and they don't hear, I take one of the rolls and call through it! My, does that backfire! . . . Mother

Dear Heloise: My husband's T-shirts always got frayed around the neck band before the rest of the shirt was even worn. He would not wear them this way. Now I turn the band back half way, and with small stitches I sew it to the original seam where the band is connected to the shirt itself. The stitches do not show, and the result? A good T-shirt with only a slightly smaller band. . . . Goldie

Dear Heloise: Leftover mashed potatoes, thinned with a little milk and some butter, with a little onion or celery added, makes a wonderful potato soup! . . . M.L.C.

Teachers May Have Year's Internship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Teachers may soon be required to serve an "intern year" on the job before being graduated at Ohio State University. Donald P. Cottrell, dean of the College of Education, believes that an extra year of education is becoming increasingly necessary for teachers. Under the program, he said a bachelor's degree could be omitted with graduates receiving a master's degree instead.

Lefthanders Could Keep McCovey On Low Ration

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Willie McCovey, who threw a few prophets for a loss by becoming the regular left fielder of the San Francisco Giants, was asked what's to keep him from hitting 50 home runs this season.

"It's between me and the left-handed pitchers," he said. "I feel if I can do better against them I'll improve my home run output."

It doesn't really require much improvement. McCovey tied Hank Aaron of Milwaukee for the National League home run title last year. Besides hitting 44 homers, he also drove in 102 runs, batted .280, ran up 319 total bases and had a .566 slugging percentage.

But one thing troubles him.

"I hit 36 home runs off right-handed pitchers," he said, "and just eight off left-handers."

"Now, any time a left-handed batter hits 44 home runs, you expect him to get more than eight off left-handed pitchers. I think I'd have to get at least 12, or maybe 15, off left-handers to finish up around 50."

"I think I'm capable of hitting a little more. But I'm not telling you I will. I'm not saying I'm going to."

"I'd be satisfied with another season like last year. But I would like to improve my average a little. Anybody wants to hit .300."

Willie is almost a dead pull hitter, and he seems to suspect that by pulling the ball so consistently he may be pulling down his average.

Troubles Piling Up For Liston

DENVER (AP)—Troubles are piling high for Sonny Liston, who lost his heavyweight boxing title to Cassius Clay last month.

Municipal court officials said he will be tried between March 17 and April 10 on charges of speeding, reckless and careless driving, carrying a concealed weapon and driving without a valid operator's license. He was arrested Tuesday and released on $300 bond.

Liston's former manager, George Katz of Philadelphia, filed suit in New York City Wednesday asking $1.3 million from Liston for breach of contract.

In another action, federal marshals served Liston with papers Wednesday in a suit for $116,000 filed in Chicago by Ben Bentley, also known as Ben Goldberg, who said he was hired as publicity agent by Liston and Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc.

Jack Nilon, Liston's present advisor, and his brothers, Robert A. and James F. Nilon, and Inter-Continental also were named as defendants in Katz' suit. He charged that the Nilon brothers induced Liston to displace Katz as manager and replace him with Jack Nilon.

To accomplish that, Katz said, Inter-Continental was formed with Liston holding 47 1/2 per cent of the stock and Robert and James Nilon the balance.

Bentley said he was hired by Inter-Continental in December 1962 at a salary of $330 a week. He asked $16,001 in back salary and $100,000 which he said he lost because the firm did not grant him three Chicago outlets for closed-circuit television of the Liston-Clay fight.

The ex-champ was arrested Tuesday night by traffic officer James Snider, who said radar in his patrol car registered Liston's Cadillac speeding 76 miles an hour in a 30 mile an hour zone.

Texas Boasts Two Quintets In Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Texas style, not one but two teams from the Lone Star State remain among eight survivors of the 16-day NAIA Basketball Tournament.

Pan American of Edinburg and St. Mary's of San Antonio reached the quarter-final round Wednesday night.

Their rivalry is about the only similarity they share in this tournament which began with 32 teams.

Pan American won the NAIA crown last year and is seeded No. 1 this year. The Broncs came here with a 24-5 won-lost record. They had barnstormed the country playing and beating many of the schools who annually send teams to this 27-year-old meet.

Big Lucious Jackson, a Little All-America standing 6-foot-9, averaged 24 points a game in the regular season. Last year he was chosen the NAIA's most valuable player. He's the core of the Pan American attack.

On the 11-man Pan American squad four hail from New York, including starters Jim McGurk, Vince Marino and Marty Urand.

St. Mary's muddled through a regular season of 11 wins and 11 losses. Only by winning two games after East Texas State knocked them over in the first of a three-game playoff did St. Mary's qualify for the tourney.

St. Mary's didn't wander outside Texas during the regular season. It had never made an NAIA Tournament trip before.

Only one starter lists a home address outside Texas. Buddy Meyer calls Davis, W. Va., his home.

So, in the tournament's opening game St. Mary's shocked Central Connecticut 64-62. The Nutmeg State team was the only undefeated entry in the tournament.

In the second round Wednesday St. Mary's upset No. 3 seeded Grambling, La., 72-66. A raft of free throws, 16 in a string in the second half, was too much for Grambling.

Pan American had a battle all the way against St. Cloud, Minn. State Wednesday night, winning 81-76. Jackson scored 37 points.

Here's Thursday night's quarter-final pairings (EST):
6:15 p.m.—St. Mary's of Texas vs. Rockhurst, Mo.
8 p.m.—Pan American vs. Mansfield State, Pa.

Coleman Meet Lures HC Hawks Saturday

Fresh from impressive victories at Fort Worth and Laredo, the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks turn their attentions to a brand-new cinder carnival at Coleman this weekend.

The Hawks, who won for the sixth straight year at Laredo last Saturday, will be competing against some of the state's finest university freshmen teams at Coleman.

Coleman recently built itself a cinder track and is inviting a crack high school field, as well as the collegians.

Coch L. L. (Red) Lewis took only 14 of his boys to the Border Olympics last week and scored a total of 70 points. The Jayhawk squad has been

Surprise Of Meet

A. J. Williams, freshman from San Angelo, shown here with his track and field coach at HCJC, L. L. (Red) Lewis, scored 17 points in leading the Jayhawks to an impressive victory in the Border Olympics at Laredo last weekend. Williams is a sprinter and broad jumper. He's come along faster than expected.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Scott Appleton was given everything but the Houston city hall by the AFL Oilers when they signed him to a football contract.

Tommy Ford, however, was extended no inducements by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL when he agreed to play pro ball. Tommy, who visited here along with Scott recently, is small as a pro back goes. If heart will do it, Ford has it made. Regrettably, the management often looks for excuses to cut the smaller boys adrift.

If Ford doesn't make it in pro ball, he'll go into coaching. His wife doesn't particularly want to move to Pittsburgh, by the way.

Neither boy will graduate from the University of Texas this spring, incidentally. Tommy changed his major a couple of years ago, which forced him to take an extra year of schooling.

Who'll be the No. One quarterback for the Big Spring Steers next year?

Not even the coaches know, but Van Tom Whitley, Benny Kirkland and Joe Jaure will all get a chance at the position in spring training.

Credit Angelo Dundee with forcing Cassius Clay to stay in the ring with Sonny Liston in their recent championship fight. A cornerman for Clay, who preferred not to be mentioned by name, says Clay tried hard to quit after the fourth round. That happened even before he started complaining about his eyes. He was hurting from Liston's body punches.

Dundee, says the second, made Clay continue.

It's now official.

Big Springer Charley Johnson finished as the fifth leading passer in the NFL, with 3,280 yards gained in 222 completions (of 423 throws). Twenty-eight of his aeriels went for touchdowns.

Johnson completed one more toss than Y. A. Tittle of New York, who replaced Bart Starr of Green Bay as the No. One aerialist in the league, and only Johnny Unitas of Baltimore threw for more yards — 3,481.

Charley, who wears the livery of the St. Louis Cardinals, unloosed more pitches than any one else in the circuit.

Midland Lee, with four returning lettermen, is getting the nod in District 2-AAAA basketball next season. The Rebels' chief competition could come from cross-town rival Midland High.

One of Midland High's returning regulars is Doug Russell, who has a good chance to rate the 1964 U.S. Olympic swim team.

The first annual Cap Rock Girls' Volleyball Tournament opening at HCJC here today deserves your support, if for no reason than it has the fine promotional hands of Arsh Phillips and Anna Smith written all over it.

The two teamed up to give the local high school some excellent tournaments a few years ago.

Misses Phillips and Smith are hoping this will be a sustaining meet and it will be if the volleyball buffs back it up.

Del Shofner, the former Baylor grid star who is now a big item in pro football, is scheduled to conduct a football clinic in Puerto Rico shortly.

A big league baseball player who made a run on the circuit batting championship last fall came in for some rather acid criticism from a teammate after the season because of his penchant for thinking only of himself.

His critic was used to making a major effort for the team's sake and felt his teammate was very selfish, thinking only of his own batting average and the argument it would offer at the salary conference table this spring.

The player voicing the criticism was brought up in the Southwest, where his coaches taught him that full throttle was the only way to play.

Griffith Vows Not To Fight In Rome Again

ROME (AP)—The boos of the fans still rang in welterweight champion Emilio Griffith's ears today as he declared "I shall never again fight in Italy."

This apparently won't make the Roman fight fans as mad as the drab no decision affair involving the New Yorker and Argentina's Juan Carlos Duran Wednesday night in the beautiful, high-domed Sports Palace.

Irate fans in the crowd of 12,000 brought a sudden end to the scheduled 10-round nontitle bout in the seventh round when they littered the ring with bottles, oranges, shoes and garbage in protest of the dull cat-and-mouse bout. At times some fans yelled "Fix."

There was so much junk in the ring that referee Fernando Pica couldn't kick it all out. Then Pica, who had warned both fighters several times to show some life and throw more punches, stopped to consult with the three judges.

They decided to end the bout because of "the intemperance of the crowd."

Police swarmed into the ring to protect the fighters and escort them to their dressing rooms.

The boxers probably will get their purses since the decision to suspend the bout was based on the crowd's conduct rather than on the lack of action.

Griffith, who chased the evasive Argentine most of the way, was leading on The Associated Press scorecard, four rounds to one, with one even.

The Argentine, who now lives in Italy, also was upset.

"I'm ready to meet Griffith again in Milan without asking a cent," he said. "I have been eager for so long to fight a big name boxer that I am ready to fight for nothing. But if Griffith is a world champion then I am a universal champion."

R. L. Lasater Impressive In Meet For East Texas

COMMERCE — East Texas State cinder men will journey to Odessa Saturday for the West Texas Relays with hopes of continuing the winning performances which helped them to a second-place finish in the All-College Meet in Commerce last weekend.

The Lions will be competing against 1963 Lone Star Conference champion Lamar Tech, Arlington State College, Texas Western, McMurry, Hardin-Simmons, Sam Houston, and Southwest Texas State. Coach Delmer Brown expects the toughest competition for his team to come from Lamar Tech and Texas Western. "Lamar won the LSC last year and has a large squad; Texas Western has a lot of good sprinters," Brown said.

In looking toward the West Texas Relays, Coach Brown believes his squad will be strongest in the sprints, the hurdles, and in most of the field events.

Last week at the All-College Meet, East Texas won seven events but finished second to Northeast Louisiana in team points, 75-73. R. L. Lasater of Big Spring won the 100-yard dash in 9.4, the 220 in 21.4, and then teamed with Morris Kysar,

Longhorns, Snyder Meet Here Friday

Snyder brings a 1-2 won-loss record here Friday afternoon to do battle with the Big Spring Steers. Time of the seven-inning baseball engagement is 4 p.m.

The Longhorns, 3-1 on the year, also have two o games booked for Saturday.

The double-header, which will be unreel here starting at 1 p.m., will pit the locals against Colorado City. This will be the only game of the season between Snyder and Big Spring. Ordinarily, the two nines played four to six contests a year.

Snyder, coached by the veteran Milton (Speedy) Moffett, is again the District 3-AAA favorite. The Tigers are the New York Yankees of that conference — they rarely fail to wind up in first place.

The Tigers have played all their games to date against Lubbock high school teams.

They've split with Lubbock High and lost to Lubbock Monterey.

In their last outing, the Bengals dropped a $-1 decision to Lubbock High. Previously, Moffett's club had toppled the Westeners, 5-1.

Big Spring is 3-1 for the year and has played all its contests against Andrews High. In a double header here last Saturday, the Steers won by scores of 6-4 and 8-3.

Either Charles Burdett or Freddie Mears is due to hurl against Snyder. Others who could see mound action for Big Spring include Hank Pope, Larry Broughton, Ronald Robey and Mike McAlister.

Coach Roy Baird is likely to start a lineup consisting of Charley West behind the plate, Eddie Thomas at first base, Jim Hamilton at second, Baxter Moore at shortstop, Howard Bain at third and Tony Emerson, Robert Goodiet and Skipper Sabbato in the outfield.

YMCA Loop Sees Action

Three games were played Monday night in the YMCA winter basketball league.

Temple Baptist topped the Y Optimists, 72-58. First Baptist raced past the Jaycees, 52-33, and Lakeview Y Men's Club edged out Stanton Walgreen, 60-59.

Next week's games, the last on the schedule, will have Y Optimists meeting the Jaycees, Temple Baptist playing Stanton, and First Baptist going against Lakeview.

The standings:

Team	Record
First Baptist	7-2
Temple Baptist	7-3
Stanton Walgreen	4-4
Lakeview Y Men	4-4
Optimists	3-4
Jaycees	2-7

Rifle Club Has Match

VINCENT—The Mesquite Gun Club held a shoot Sunday at the rifle range seven miles west of Vincent as 29 shooters were on hand to compete in two big bore high-powered rifle classes.

In the scope class, Horace Reagan, Big Spring, took the top trophy, with Bill Crow, Vincent, and Dr. Harry Ward, Snyder, taking second and third respectively.

Ray Ford took top honors in the metallic sights bracket and two other Big Springers, Reagan and Walter Wheat, joined him for second and third.

The next shoot will be held March 22 at 2 p.m. It will be a rim-fire match.

The club will hold a meeting March 16 with an election of officers slated. The place and time of the meeting have not been set.

Course Petition Is Circulated

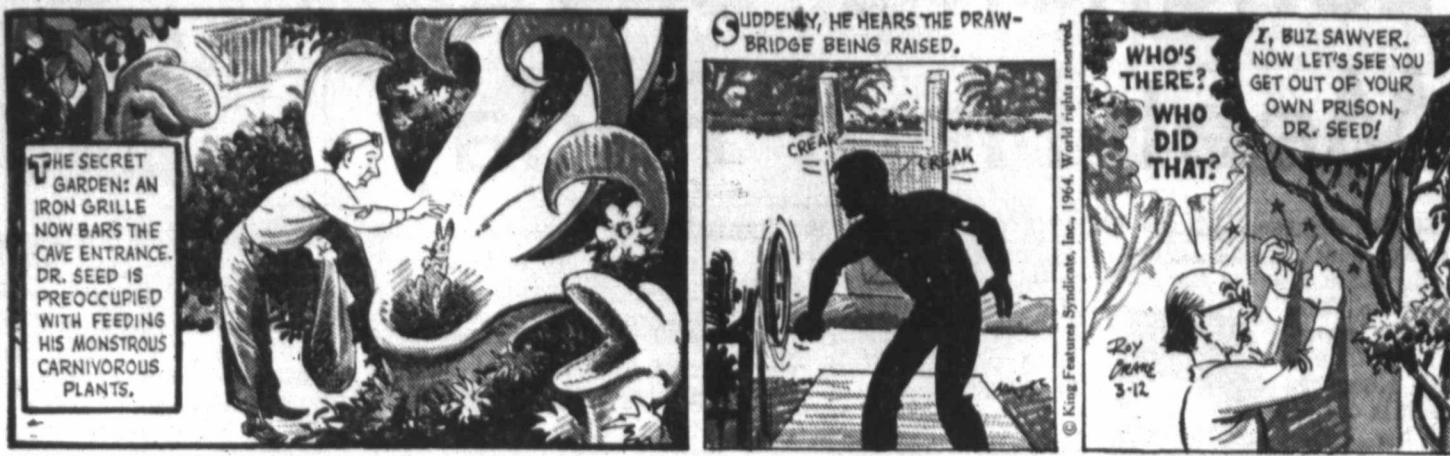

LAMESA (SC)—A concentrated effort to obtain more than 600 signatures on petitions calling for a Dawson County bond election to finance a proposed municipal golf course here is well under way.

Course proponents indicate they have located an ideal plot of land for the golfing facility. Although other sites are still being considered, backers believe a 60-acre tract 1 1/4 miles from Lamesa is the most suitable.

Earlier this week 325 signatures had been placed on the election petitions, leaving almost 300 needed for the required 70 per cent of registered voters.

A 9-hole layout is proposed on the 60-acre site. The course would be 3,130 yards long and would include a 325-yard driving range and putting green.

Triple Threat Cooks

Mrs. Billy Gaskin, and Mrs. Alton Underwood peel potatoes as Mrs. Ralph White sorts beans in preparation for the barbecue to be held at the FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show sale. These three home demonstration members represent a total of 27 years' service in their individual clubs. It is not a new task for them to oversee the preparation of large amounts of food. The 80 pounds of potatoes that will go into the salad and the 40 pounds of beans will "Be a breeze."

Texas Cooks Prepare For Junior Stock Show Meals

When the Howard County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show got under way Tuesday, the youngsters and their animals were not the only ones in a flurry of activity.

Approximately 70 home kitchens were full of delightful smells as home demonstration members prepared foods to be served at the stock barn during the three days of the show. The big feed is tonight when a barbecue meal will be served to 400 buyers, their families, show participants and members of the Junior Livestock Association.

This meal will be akin to the food one finds at county fairs where everything is home cooked and the ladies seem to outdo themselves in preparing mouth-watering dishes.

The menu will include barbecue made from prime meat and donated by adults interested in the project. There will be pinto beans and delectable potato salad, cooked by the HD members from ingredients donated by the Jaycees, under the chairmanship of Louis McKnight. Onions, bread and pickles will complete the meal.

For dessert, home cooked pies can be purchased at the HD concession stand. This fundraising booth has been open throughout the show with prices for homemade chili and sandwiches set a minimum level. The ladies maintain this stand as a service project to young exhibitors and adult workers. Beverages and snacks are also available.

SPECIAL COOKS

Mrs. Billy Gaskin, Knott chairman of the HC council finance committee, is in charge. She is well acquainted with preparing food for a crowd. Her activities in church work find her on call for many big meals. The 1,308 jars of food she prepared last summer went into the cellar or deep freeze for use when her two teen-agers bring a crowd home for meals or, or when some family needs food. She cans her own ketchup and tomato relish, and freezes tamales and barbecue in portions to serve 25 or 30.

Mrs. Ralph White, Coahoma, is active in church work and community volunteer service. She is very busy when canning time rolls around, and specializes in preparing fruits and vegetables. Some of her specialties are pear preserves and prickly pear jelly. She is always on call for food at the church.

Mrs. Alton Underwood, Big Spring, is an active worker in her church, takes part in many civic activities and finds time for bridge, bowling and golf. She finds it is helpful to plan her family menus by one or two week schedules to lessen shopping time. For daily meals, she avoids all fried foods and prefers broiling meats.

The following recipes from these seasoned cooks will be of interest to all who like Texas cookery.

MRS. GASKIN'S BARBECUE
10 lbs. boneless stew meat
3 tsp. salt
1 tsp. black pepper
2 tsp. sugar

1 1-oz. can paprika
2 chili pods
2 large bottles catsup
2 medium bottles Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup dry mustard
4 tsp. ground comino
2 tsp. celery seed
1 1-oz. can chili powder
2 to 4 large cans of tomato juice

1 cup smoke sauce
Mix all above ingredients excepting tomato juice together into large pan or halve equally into two pans, add enough juice to cover meat. Take large spoon and mix thoroughly to get all the dry ingredients mixed well into the liquid. Put into 350 degree oven. Timing depends on the size of the diced meat. If fairly small allow 4 hours. If larger allow more time. As sauce cooks down, add more tomato juice instead of water for a good thick sauce. This will serve around 25 to 30 people and can be frozen.

ACCENT BURGERS
Beans, beef and burgers are tops

Mexican Hamburgers Suit Texans' Taste

Borrow a recipe from Mexico featuring beans and ground beef, add a measure of all-purpose barbecue sauce—the kind that's mellow and mildly sharp—and you've created a new and tasty treat. Thanks to bottled barbecue sauce, it's easy to prepare these hearty burgers and still be sure they will be seasoned to perfection.

MEXICAN BURGERS
2 tbsps. butter
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 lb. ground beef

1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 can (1 lb.) pork and beans or baked beans
1/2 cup barbecue sauce
1/4 cup water
6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

Melt butter in a skillet. Sauté onion until tender. Add beef and cook until browned, breaking up meat with a fork as it cooks. Add remaining ingredients, except buns, and simmer 5 minutes. Serve on toasted buns. Makes 6 servings.

MRS. GASKIN'S TAMALES
6 lbs. lean stew meat
6 chili pods, seed and all
2 tbsps. chili blend
2 tbsps. chili powder
1 tsp. powdered comino
1 garlic clove
1 small size onion
Cook meat medium done. Grind garlic and onion. Boil chili pods in enough water to cover. When tender, grind and add to meat. Add remaining ingredients to meat. This makes a meat mixture for 25 dozen.

SHUCKS
Cut off ends of shucks, clean, silk and soak in boiling water 1 hour.

TAMALE DOUGH
5 lbs. tamales or 3 qts. cornmeal
3 cups rendered tallow or lard
3 tbsps. paprika
Salt to taste
2 tbsps. black pepper
Take one gallon broth from meat, add two quarts meal; mix other ingredients together, add meal until dough is stiff and thick enough to spread on shucks. Knead mixture well. Spread 1/4 inch layer of dough about 1 1/2 by 4 inch size on upper part (small end) of shuck. Put meat down the center, roll like cigarette. Place upright, folded end down, in a large pan. Tamales may be tied into bundles of six. Use enough water or broth to steam 1 to 2 hours or until shucks and dough separate easily when one is unwrapped.

MRS. WHITE'S CORN BURGER PIE
4 cups boiling water
1 tsp. salt

Tart Sauce Is Simple
You don't have to be a whiz at mathematics to take one cup of unsulphured molasses and multiply it into the best basic barbecue sauce available. Simply add an equal amount each of prepared mustard and vinegar. The sum total is three cups of a delicious barbecue sauce that can be made ahead of time and stored without benefit of refrigeration.

Unsulphured molasses is the plus factor of any barbecue sauce. It aids in browning meats during cooking. Its sweet, distinctive flavor is a perfect contrast to the tart ingredients. Too, unsulphured molasses has the golden-brown color of barbecue sauces and provides the meat with a gleaming, appetizing glaze.

1-2-3 BARBECUE SAUCE
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup prepared mustard
1 cup vinegar
Combine molasses and mustard, mix thoroughly. Stir in vinegar. Yield: 3 cups. One cup of sauce is sufficient to barbecue eight broiler-fryer chicken halves, or two dozen hamburgers or frankfurters.
Note: For Tomato Barbecue Sauce, add 1 cup catsup or chili sauce to Basic Barbecue Sauce. Yield: 1 quart.

garlic, chili powder, sugar and tomatoes. Thicken slightly with flour and pour into the corn meal "shell" in baking dish. Cut diamonds or other designs from the thin layer of cold mush and arrange on top of meat mixture. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 30 minutes. Yields 6 servings.

1/2 cup green onion, chopped
1/2 tsp. garlic powder
1 1/2 cups milk
1 lb. sharp cheese, shredded
1/2 cup salad oil
Mix all ingredients and pour into pyrex bowl with lid. Cook 45 minutes at 325 degrees with lid on. Remove lid and cook 15 minutes more.

MRS. UNDERWOOD'S ONION BREAD
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1 cup creamed cottage cheese, heated to lukewarm
2 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. instant minced onion
1 tsp. butter
1 tsp. dill seed
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. soda
1 egg, unbeaten
2 1/2 to 2 3/4 cups flour
Soften yeast in warm water. Combine in mixing bowl the cottage cheese, sugar, onions, butter, dill seeds, salt, soda, egg and yeast. Add flour to form a soft dough, beating well after each addition. Cover and let rise in warm place (85 to 90 degrees) until light and doubled in size (50 to 60 minutes). Stir dough down. Turn into well-greased 8-inch casserole. Let rise 30 to 40 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes until golden brown.

Easy-To-Prepare Stew Is Western Favorite
A steaming stew on a cold winter's evening is about the most welcome satisfier for any wind-whipped appetite. This almost-a-meal combination lets you experiment with different flavors, too. However, you may have put off making stew because preparation tasks seem time-consuming. Say good-bye to those woes with an easy-to-cook stew using modern convenience foods. Frozen and canned vegetables end your peeling and scraping duties. Instant minced onion saves your tears. Even the beef is often already cut into cubes by your retailer. On the market, too, are frozen packages of stew vegetables. (If you use them in this recipe, omit the mixed vegetables and potatoes.) Also available are small envelopes of seasonings especially for a stew. Be sure the liquid slowly

Beef Adds Sparkler To Muffins

Need a simple new idea for a ground beef dish? Beef Muffins are the answer. The beef is mixed with crushed potato chips for body and red dinner wine for flavor accent. Pack the meat into muffin tins, top with bacon and bake until savory brown. Simple and delicious for the whole family—the alcohol disappears as the "muffins" bake. Catsup or chili sauce is a good topping for the meat. Complete the meal with crusty bread, your favorite vegetable and glasses of the same red dinner wine used in the recipe.

BEEF MUFFINS
1 lb. ground beef
1 cup finely crushed potato chips
1/2 cup red dinner wine
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 strip bacon, cut crosswise in eighths
Catsup or chili sauce

(Serves 4)
Mix all ingredients except bacon and catsup blending well. Pack mixture into 8 muffin tins; top each with a piece of bacon. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Let stand 2 or 3 minutes before removing "muffins" from tins. Serve with catsup or chili sauce.

1/4 tsp. onion powder
3 tbsps. grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 to 1 cup toasted filberts
Melt the butter in a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat. Add the rice biscuits, sprinkle with hickory salt and onion powder, mixing well. Toast, stirring often, until lightly browned. Remove from heat; sprinkle with cheese and mix well. Turn out on brown paper to cool and crisp; mix with filberts.

Food Buys In Texas

By The Associated Press
Poultry, eggs, cheese and most cuts of beef and pork are attractive food buys at most Texas markets this week. Egg prices paid to producers have dropped more than 10 percent in the last few weeks. Fed beef is particularly abundant. Broilers are plentiful at low cost, the Department of Agricultural Marketing Service reports. Most apples are in abundance. Banana supplies are fully ample. Strawberries are increasing with lower price tags. More cantaloupes are available.

Good-buy fresh vegetables include cabbage, carrots, greens, green and dry yellow onions, potatoes, radishes and turnips. Adverse weather and late season supplies have resulted in higher prices on some vegetables such as celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Cabbage and green beans are lower. New crop yellow onions are selling in some Texas areas. Asparagus shipments are increasing.

Use Large Pieces For Stored Meat

Cooked meat will keep better if left in larger pieces and not cut until ready to use. Covering prevents drying of the meat which has lost some moisture during cooking.

Fix Corn Bread Mix For Varied Dishes

By The Associated Press
If you enjoy the satisfactions of making things "from scratch" we urge you to try this homemade corn bread mix recipe. You can concoct delightful corn bread and other good things in jigtime once the basic mix is at hand.

You'll need a really large mixing bowl and sifter. If these aren't at hand, you can pinch. For example, we've used a huge bowl from an old-fashioned washstand bowl and pitcher set, and a big fine-mesh strainer.

Store the mix in a tightly covered container in a cool dry room and its staying power will be four to six weeks. If you want to keep your mix in the refrigerator, as we do, make absolutely sure it is very tightly covered; every time you take out the mix to use, double-check to make sure it is tightly covered when you put it back.

Although this mix does not call for sugar, the corn bread made from it browns nicely. And it has a faintly sweet flavor that comes from the nonfat milk solids used.

HOMEMADE CORN BREAD MIX
5 cups sifted flour

1-3 cup baking powder
4 tbsps. salt
5 cups white corn meal
2 cups nonfat dry milk solids
1 cup shortening
Sift together three times the flour, baking powder, salt and corn meal. Stir in the nonfat dry milk solids. With a pastry blender, cut in the shortening until the mixture looks like coarse crumbs. Store in a tightly covered container in a cool dry place. Makes about 13 cups.

EXTRA SPECIAL CORN BREAD
1 egg
1 cup water
2 1/2 cups homemade corn bread mix
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted

In a mixing bowl, beat the egg to combine yolk and white; add water and beat to combine. Add the homemade corn bread mix and melted butter; stir only until the mix is dampened. Pour into a greased cake pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/2 inches). Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for 25 minutes or until golden brown and a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cut into 20

CORNMEAL DUMPLINGS FOR MEAT STEW
1 egg
1-3 cup water
1 cup homemade corn bread mix
In a small mixing bowl, beat the egg enough to blend yolk and white. Add water and beat to blend. Add the mix; stir lightly until blended. Drop by tablespoonfuls (in 8 portions) onto boiling meat stew. Cover tightly; cook 12 to 15 minutes without lifting cover; serve at once. Or drop batter by tablespoonfuls (in 8 portions) onto extremely hot meat stew. Bake in cake tester inserted in center a hot (425 degrees) oven about 20 minutes; serve at once.

Quick Bean Dish

Texas casserole featuring savory ranch style beans combined with sliced cooked turkey is a thrifty main dish to plan during the busy season just ahead. When generous main dish meats are left over, create tasty and filling casseroles with canned foods and seasonings for appetizing and quick family dinners.

Texas Style Beans Tantalizing To Taste, Prove Budget Wise

Main dish meats such as roast turkey, duck, chicken or ham are likely to be "left overs" that need a bit of "planning over" thoughts in order to be ready for quick dining.

One suggestion when doing the marketing is to keep the pantry shelf well stocked with an abundance of staple items and the family's favorite canned foods.

A popular item as a main dish or savory side dish are ranch style beans which can prove handy and delicious as a shortcut to meal preparation, particularly in casserole dishes. Trifly yet abundant in flavor, these canned beans combine with many other foods and meats.
RANCH STYLE CASSEROLE
2 cans ranch style beans

3 tbsps. chopped pimento
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 medium onion, chopped
4 cups cooked turkey slices or other leftovers
1/2 cup sour cream

Mix onion, pimento and celery together. Place one can of beans in baking dish or iron skillet. Arrange mixed vegetables atop beans, saving portion for topping. Arrange turkey slices as next layer. In bowl, mix remaining can of beans with sour cream. Pour bean and cream mixture in baking dish and garnish with remaining onion, celery, pimento. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees) for thirty minutes or until well heated through and flavor are blended.

The wonder of this recipe is that cooked chicken, ham or beef can be substituted for turkey.

When planning casseroles or other dishes to utilize left overs from main dish meats, remember to keep meat slices as large as possible to create a more appetizing dish.

Another suggestion if stuffed poultry is planned for a meal is to remove all stuffing from the bird as soon as possible after the meal. Refrigerate the meat and stuffing separately. Or, if you have a freezer, it's a time saver to remove meat from the carcass of the bird and freeze meat in meal-sized packages.

Department Gives Tips On Raising Bluebonnets

Each spring as the Texas countryside becomes bathed in the beauty of Bluebonnets, Texas Highway Department mail grows heavy with requests for information. Hundreds of people in every section of the state want to know about the planting and care of the world famous Texas State Flower.

So the Texas Highway Department has compiled information which will assure the "green thumb" crowd the opportunity to include Bluebonnets in their gardening plans for 1965. It's too late to plant for this year.

The Bluebonnet blooming date is influenced to some degree by the weather. In general, the first flowers open about March 15 in the southern part of the state, and in the more northern section the first flowers may not show before May 1. The length of the flowering period is about one month.

Seed should be planted prior to November 1 so that they may germinate and grow throughout the winter months. During this period a heavy root system and a sturdy plant is developed to produce an abundance of spring flowers.

It is extremely important to inoculate Bluebonnet seed prior to planting. This procedure is necessary because Bluebonnets require the presence of certain bacteria in order for its root system to form the nodules (knots) on its roots and to carry on its nitrogen fixation process. These bacteria cultures, called inoculants, may be purchased through commercial seed stores. Be sure that the seedsman is told that the inoculant is for Bluebonnets. Dampen the seed with a small amount of water and mix the inoculant by stirring it into the wet seed. Plant the seed soon after inoculation.

Bluebonnets grow best in soils that are sweet (contain lime), moderate in fertility and most important of all, well drained.

Beetles And Bugs In For Hard Time

The Chinese elm beetle, mosquitoes and other pests are in for trouble.

The machine is the city's answer to the beetles, mosquitoes and other seasonal pests. City officials say the machine can operate either with a spray or dust load. It cost $2,185 less $380 trade-in for an old machine.

City Manager Larry Crow said the city has received a new turbine spraying machine. It

Council Approves Airport Limousine, Picks Points

The City of Big Spring taxicab ordinance may be revamped as a result of Tuesday night's action by the city commission (commissioners approved Mrs. Doris Guy's request for an airport limousine franchise.

According to an attorney for Mrs. Guy, there may be a need for additional points in the city where airport limousines can pick up passengers for transportation to the airport.

The present ordinance designates three places (Crawford Hotel, Settles Hotel and Howard House) where limousines may pick up passengers. Taxicab service differs from taxicab service in that it is restricted to carrying passengers from and to the airport. Passengers taken to the airport may be picked up now at only designated places.

Another point which may come up later concerns the rates charged for carrying airport passengers in limousines. There is no flat rate for the service, although taxicabs are required by ordinance to charge $1.50 from the airport to the courthouse and vicinity.

Mrs. Guy was asked by commissioners to apply for a franchise when she appeared at the last meeting of the city governing board. At that time, her attorney contended a previous franchise issued to her may be valid.

She said she resumed operation of the limousine service the first of this year. City ordinance requires the payment of $10

Culture Makes Brothers Rich

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Three brothers from Milan are peddling culture to the man in the street at a boom rate that is making them rich and has sociologists puzzled.

Dangling the lure of learning on the installment plan, the Fabbri brothers are flooding newsstands with serialized versions of such classics as Dante's Divine Comedy in competition with comic books and movie magazines. Another top seller rolling off the Fabbri presses is the Bible, printed in 150 weekly installments available at 40 cents each.

Artistically illustrated series such as "Masterpieces of the Centuries" and "Masters of Color" also are going like hot cakes, and rival publishers are trying to get in on the boom.

The Fabbri — Giovanni, 44; Dino, 42; and Rino, 37 — hope to spread out until they cover almost the entire range of human knowledge.

Prompted by their success, the big Milan publishing house of Rizzoli has launched an ambitious new series called "The Great Religions Illustrated." Another publisher is doing his own serialization of the Divine Comedy.

Experts are baffled by the fact that workers are willing to spend in the long run, six times the base bookstore price for the Divine Comedy and the equivalent of $77.50 for the Fabbri's leather-bound, seven-volume Bible.

Some sociologists have decided that the sudden thirst for culture represents a status symbol or a desire for something once available only to the wealthy. They also suspect that many buyers are attracted more by elegant bindings than content.

The Fabbri hit on the idea of culture for the masses in 1945 when they began printing textbooks, a field monopolized by the state during the Mussolini era.

In agreement with foreign publishers, they are funneling their publications into France, Britain, Israel, Turkey, the Congo and 14 Latin American countries in the language of each land.

Aid Did Not Filter Down To Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The crewcut young American slogged his coffee with his spoon and reluctantly declared: "We were shocked to learn that what we had begun to suspect about the program was true."

He was talking about the strategic hamlet program which he, as a field officer for the U.S. aid mission, examined carefully after the Ngo Dinh Diem regime was overthrown last November.

Diem officials lied about the number of hamlets they were building in the countryside, he said. Worse still, scores of tons of aid supplies were stockpiled in dozens of warehouses around Saigon.

"This aid we gave was just not getting down to the people," the American said.

The Diem regime was cast into oblivion four months ago, but Americans in Viet Nam still see no noticeable improvement in the general policy governing strategic hamlets.

Most Americans with anything to do with the $500-million program that began with a blaze of publicity two years ago say that it continues to deteriorate.

The second military coup Jan. 30 threw into confusion what little coordination there was in the countryside.

The hamlet program, backed to the hilt by the United States, was conceived as the answer to Communist raiders roaming the countryside.

In the northern part of Viet Nam, this seems to work. In the south, the highly populated Mekong River delta and the crowded areas to the north of Saigon, the hamlet program has stagnated and virtually died, Americans close to the program say.

The hamlet concept called for the erection of defense perimeters around groups of houses followed by the rapid injection of economic aid.

Most Americans Rather Be Moved

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—"For the children's sake I might rather be somewhere else, but our place is with my husband and his work is in Saigon," Mrs. Charles Eberhardt said, pushing her cart along the supermarket aisle at the post exchange.

Mrs. Eberhardt, wife of a U.S. Embassy official, is one of the 2,500 American civilians living in this bomb-threatened capital and seems typical of the dependent wives here.

Six Americans have been killed and 87 wounded in terrorist incidents in South Viet Nam this month.

Some Americans are scared, but most continue to crack jokes and mention the weekend traffic toll back in the States.

The bombings have changed some things. Since Monday, the American school has been ringed by U.S. guards with automatic rifles. These guards stop and search Vietnamese regarded as suspicious. This is the first time Americans have directly assumed a police function in Saigon.

Military policemen are riding shotgun on American school buses.

Some recreational facilities are curtailed, and Americans are supposed to avoid crowds. How do the Americans feel?

Thomas Bready of San Mateo Calif., station manager for Pan American World Airways, has lived here 4½ years with his wife and three daughters.

Barbara, 15, was cut up by the bomb explosion at the Capital Kin-do Theatre recently and required seven stitches. She and two sisters were all in the same theater Sept. 21, the last time a bomb exploded there. No one was hurt that time.

"So far, my family has survived two theater bombings, one attempted coup, one palace bombing, a cholera epidemic, and two coups in Saigon," said Bready.

"If someone offered me Copenhagen, I wouldn't turn it down. On the other hand, we'd rather live here than go back to New York. People who aren't in the foreign service can never understand this."

A defensive lapse induced by West's failure to fully appraise the prospects for his side led to declarer's success in a game contract today.

Against the routine bid of four spades, West led the five of diamonds, and North's king held the trick. The top trumps were cashed, and when East discarded a diamond on the second round the queen of spades was left outstanding.

Declarer played the ace of diamonds on which he threw one of dummy's small clubs. Now he exited with a spade, presenting West with his trump trick.

West, having noted the club discard on the ace of diamonds, now shifted to a club away from the king. South won with the queen, following with ace and another club ruffing in dummy. He subsequently conceded two hearts in fulfillment of his contract. It would have done West no good to shift to the ace and another heart, for that would have established the dummy's heart suit for two club discards from declarer's hand.

When West is in with the queen of spades, he must shift to a small heart, retaining his ace. East is in with the king of hearts and now a club lead thru South's ace-queen establishes West's king for the setting trick.

West should realize that the best hope of defeating the contract hinges on finding his partner with either the king of hearts or the ace of clubs. In order to properly test both possibilities, he should first underlead his ace of hearts, for, if it turns out that declarer has the king of hearts, there will still be time to make a club play subsequently.

West was guilty of placing all of his eggs in a single basket.

Puzzle of Wednesday, March 11, Solved

DEAR ABBY

Face Up To A Sad Fact

DEAR ABBY: What does a mother do when a son she loves almost forgets she exists? His wife writes all the letters from both of them, and they all go like this:

"Hi" (no "Dear Mother"—nothing, just "hi"): We are fine. How are you? It is raining out. Just had coffee with a friend. (No name) Bye now. I have to get supper."

Signature of both by wife.

How can young people forget all their mothers did for them? Where is their appreciation? It hurts to be treated this way. Is there a solution?

ACHING HEART

DEAR ACHING HEART: Although the letters are rather meaningless, an effort is being made to communicate with you. You can't get love, attention, respect or anything else from an offspring who doesn't wish to give it. There is no solution, but the less you dwell upon it the less your heart will ache.

DEAR ABBY: I have been considering giving my daughter dancing lessons. She likes ballet and toe-dancing. My sister recommends the dancing school she has sent her daughter to for 12 years. She says the teacher says her daughter is a marvel.

Every year this dancing school holds a recital, and all the students canvass the town selling tickets for it. If a dancing student wants to do a solo, she has to put up $25 extra, besides paying for lessons all year. I am wondering why a girl would have to pay $25 to dance alone on a stage if she is such a marvel. If you were in my place, would you send your daughter to such a school?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: It sounds like a very costly way to keep a girl on her toes. Find a dancing school without gimmicks.

DEAR ABBY: I have a girlfriend who has a boy friend who lives on my street. This girl friend writes notes to this boy every day and sends them to him by me. I don't know what these notes say, but he doesn't seem too glad to get them and he never sends any back to her. I am tired of running these notes, and want to know how I can get out of it without getting her mad at me.

MESSENGER GIRL.

DEAR GIRL: That's easy. Tell your friend you think she is being too forward. (She is.) That the boy doesn't appear to appreciate her notes. (He doesn't.) And you are tired of running notes. (You are.) And if she "gets mad," she's not much of a friend.

CONFIDENTIAL TO RENE: Your friend appears to have two hats. One to wear and the other to talk through. Hand him the first one!

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
