Court To Hear Redistricting Case March 27

New VA Hospital Director Named

Donald D. Van Meter, area director of administrative service for the Veteran's Administration medical office in St. Paul, Minn., has been named the new hospital director at the Big Spring VA Hospital. Date of his transfer has not been set. Van Meter takes over a post vacated Feb. 2 by V. J. Belda, who went to San Fernando, Calif., as director of the VA hospital there. Belda had served here 3 1/2 years. Van Meter, 51, attended Madison College, Madison, Tenn., and served in the Army from October, 1942 to October, 1945, attaining the rank of major.

His hospital experience includes: superintendent of the Newberry County Hospital, Newberry, S.C.; assistant director of the Atlanta, Ga., VA Hospital; assistant director of the Chamblee, Ga., VA Hospital; assistant director of the VA Hospital in Richmond, Va., and assistant director of the Memphis, Tenn., VA Hospital. Other positions he has held include Director of Administrative Services in the VA area medical office in San Francisco, Calif., from February, 1960 to February, 1963. He has held his present position since that time.

Republicans Authorized To Intervene

HOUSTON (AP)—The three-judge panel of the Houston Federal District Court says it will hear final arguments March 27 on its ruling that the Texas congressional districting law is unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr petitioned the court to delay the effective date of the Oct. 19 order until after the November general election.

The three judges Tuesday also authorized 23 Republican candidates to intervene in the case. The court earlier had granted permission to Bob Looney, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman-at-large, to intervene.

The Republican candidates and Looney ask that the court put its order into effect immediately.

OCT. 19 OPINION

The court declared in a 2 to 1 opinion Oct. 19 that Texas' redistricting law is unconstitutional and ordered the state not to hold any more elections under it. It said the state should either redistrict immediately or elect each of its 23 congressmen this year on an at-large basis.

The U.S. Supreme Court agreed on March 2 that the Texas law was unconstitutional. It said, however, Texas could seek relief from the Houston court because the filing deadline was Feb. 3 for candidates in the May 2 primary.

RURAL AREAS FAVORED

In its ruling, the federal district court said that present Texas congressional districts are unconstitutional because they favor rural areas and discriminate against urban areas.

Texas now has one congressman-at-large. The other 22 districts had 1960 populations ranging in size from 951,527 for the Dallas district to 216,371 for the Fourth District, once represented by the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn and now represented by Ray Roberts, a Democrat.

No Change Ordered In Allowable

Aiming To Resume Diplomatic Ties

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos have begun negotiations for resumption of diplomatic relations, Premier Nguyen Khanh said today. Other sources said Khanh met delegations from Cambodia and Laos in the mountain resort of Dalat over the weekend to arrange further negotiations. Khanh told a news conference he is ready to meet with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, "at any time, anywhere, except in a Communist country."

"With respect to Laos," Khanh continued, "we are ready to send a representative to Vientiane as soon as possible. We want to normalize diplomatic relations there. We are not like Ngo Dinh Diem, who refused to maintain diplomatic relations with Laos after they recognized North Viet Nam. We are ready to receive the ambassador of Laos in Saigon."

The U.S. government has long urged normal diplomatic relations between Thailand, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and Laos. A U.S. spokesman said today his government "very definitely supports" the negotiations.

Cambodia broke relations with South Viet Nam last August after Diem's police raided Buddhist pagodas in Saigon.

Khanh said the talks with Cambodia would cover current frontier problems, presumably including infiltration of Viet Cong units into South Viet Nam through Cambodia. The discussions also will cover the status of islands in the South China Sea claimed by both Cambodia and Viet Nam.

Forecast Of Increases In Oil Demand

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission ordered today that oil production be held again to 29 per cent of potential during April.

The order was adopted at the monthly statewide proration hearing. At the hearing, the commission also heard leading executives of major oil companies predict 1964 will see an increase of from 2 to 3 per cent in the nationwide demand for crude oil. The commission invites the "state of the industry" reports annually.

APRIL ORDER

The April order sets next month's allowable production at 2,931,746 barrels daily. March production was ordered held to 2,932,222 barrels daily under a 29 per cent order, and the average calendar day allowable was 2,931,746 barrels Saturday.

April, 1963, production was ordered held to 2,832,143 barrels daily under a 28 per cent formula.

Three of 13 major oil purchasers appearing at the hearing asked for a 29 per cent order. Six based on 28 per cent; two on 27 per cent and two for 26 per cent.

Purchasers' nominations in barrels per day, by percentage, with the total change from Saturday's statewide allowable for each, are:

29 per cent (no change)—Gulf, 207,500; Atlantic 80,020; Texaco, 140,000.
28 per cent (57,620 barrels daily decrease)—Indiana 253,000; Sun 103,225; Standard of Texas 153,300; Mobil 232,200; Humble 403,530; and Sinclair 101,400.
27 per cent (115,240 barrels daily decrease)—Continental 26,500; Shell 163,300.
26 per cent (172,800 barrels daily decrease)—Cities Service 80,700 and Phillips 125,481.

PRE-HEARING

Pre-hearing nominations were for the purchase of 2,533,925 barrels daily during April, a decrease of 8,688 barrels daily from March. The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast of April crude demand is 2,535,000 barrels daily, down 65,000 barrels daily from March.

Twenty-four executives from major purchasers of Texas crude reported to the commission their stocks of crude oil, gasoline and kerosene on hand March 1 and their February refinery runs to stills, and February imports.

They reported a total of 177.8 million barrels of crude oil on hand March 1, a total over the desired level by 1.48 million barrels. Several major companies, including Humble, Phillips, Pure, Sinclair, Mobil, Standard of California, Standard of Texas, Texaco and Tidewater, reported the stocks on hand were below the desired level.

LEADS PARADE

Robert Bent, vice president of Atlantic, led the parade of executives predicting an increase in crude oil demand during the year. Bent predicted the 1964 demand would be 2 per cent above 1963. Bent pointed to an unseasonable warm winter in some areas as a deciding factor in keeping the 1964 demand from even greater growth.

Two per cent gains during 1964 also were seen by B. R. Dorsey, executive vice president of Gulf; and Carl Drescher, president of Sinclair.

Increases of 2.5 per cent were predicted by D. B. Kimball-Cook, executive vice president of Shell; J. K. Jamieson, president of Humble; Fred H. Moore, president of Mobil; and George W. Goad, oil purchasing department manager for Tidewater. Three per cent gains were predicted by John M. Houchin, executive vice president of Phillips.

De Gaulle Proposes Big Exchange Plan With Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle proposes that France and Mexico join in a big exchange program but says it wouldn't cut into Mexican relations with the United States.

De Gaulle told a joint session of the Mexican Congress Tuesday that the exchange program would be for scientific, cultural and technical exchanges and become "true and good companions in the work of civilization."

Precedents Are Broken

MEXICO CITY (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle has broken more precedents—or has had them broken for him—than any other chief of state to visit Mexico, informed sources pointed out today.

Although in Mexico just a little over twenty-four hours, these deviations from official protocol have been noted:

De Gaulle spoke from the presidential balcony of the National Palace Tuesday—the first visiting chief executive ever granted this signal honor.

He changed his first-day schedule and visited a trade exhibit Mexico is proud of—the Home Fair.

De Gaulle upset security officers by plunging through a line of guarding soldiers, mingling with an enthusiastic crowd at the Monument to Independence.

When the entertainment at a social security housing project dragged on too long, he reportedly asked aides to cut it short.

For the first time, photographers were not permitted to use flash bulbs to take indoor pictures. De Gaulle suffers from poor eyesight.

At a banquet at the National Palace by Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, four former presidents were invited. They included Emilio Portes Gil, leftist Lazaro Cardenas, rightist Miguel Aleman and Mexico's last president, Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. Never before have ex-presidents gathered to honor a foreign chief executive.

And De Gaulle still has two and a half days to go.

Bomb Scare Empties School

DRYDEN, N.Y. (AP)—A total of 1,200 pupils missed two hours of classes Tuesday because of a bomb scare at Dryden Central School—but they'll have to make up the lost time, school officials say.

The officials declined to say whether they suspected a pupil was behind the high-pitched voice which called the school in this village east of Ithaca and said: "There is a bomb in the school."
No bomb was found.

day that Latin America is forging into "the foreground of the stage of world affairs." He made it clear that he wants to increase French influence in the region.

The 73-year-old French leader suggested Mexico and France begin a large-scale program of scientific, cultural and technical exchanges and become "true and good companions in the work of civilization."

De Gaulle ends his four-day state visit Thursday and will stop off at French colonies in the Caribbean before returning to France.

"Without a doubt such a rapprochement implies that the aim, the attitude, the action, in a word the policy of Mexico City and Paris, should not only be prevented from diverging, but should actually be attuned," he said.

Before Congress and at a presidential luncheon at the National Palace, De Gaulle tried to ease fears in Washington that his visit might affect the closeness of U.S.-Mexican relations.

Any special relations between Mexico and France, he said at the luncheon, are not intended "to put an end or even to diminish the relations that bind us to our neighbors."

Before Congress he spoke of "Mexico which, without in any way underestimating the fact that her massive relations with her great northern neighbor are both natural and fertile, still feels attracted toward the European countries by all kinds of affinities and, in the first place, may I dare add, attracted to my own country."

De Gaulle concluded his second busy day in Mexico by attending an elegant candlelit dinner in a Spanish setting. He, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos and their wives dined on pigeon, crab salad and champagne on a gallery overlooking a patio filled with 2,000 guests.

Firemen Race Against High Winds Forecast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Firemen raced today against forecasts of more high winds to secure boundaries of three disastrous brush fires before gusts can churn them up again.

Three wind-whipped fires were contained Tuesday after destroying at least 20 homes and charring 11,600 acres of brush.

Gusts up to 100 miles an hour fanned the blazes Monday in the foothills northeast of Los Angeles.

Insurance companies estimate damage at $4 million. Looking at forecasts of 25 m.p.h. winds for today, County Fire Chief Keith Klinger said: "It's a race against time to make sure that all hot spots are extinguished."

Two hundred firemen remain on duty today to guard against another 300 mopped up hot spots on the severely-hit Burbank-Glendale areas, just 12 miles from downtown Los Angeles in the Verdugo and San Rafael Hills.

All the homes burned were in the vicinity of the two cities, in the 7,000-acre Verdugo Hills fire and the 2,100-acre San Rafael Hills blaze.

The third fire swept to within three-quarters of a mile of the San Fernando Valley community of Granada Hills before firemen held the line. No structures were damaged there.

Thant Lists Principles For Cyprus Peace Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant says the "terms of reference" of the U.N. Cyprus force are no problem. He alone will issue directives and he won't negotiate them with any government.

A spokesman said Tuesday night Thant has already sent the commander of the U.N. peace force a set of principles for the force assembling on the Mediterranean island.

Diplomatic sources said Thant decreed that the force:

—Should not interfere in the internal affairs of Cyprus.

—Should not use its arms to disarm Greek or Turkish Cypriots.

—Should only fire in self-defense.

—Should cooperate with but remain independent of the U.N. mediator who is to try to work out a political settlement between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Thant's spokesman said the secretary-general had reserved the right to issue directives personally because of "the purely international character and responsibilities of the force."

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys told the House of Commons Monday that talks were going on between Thant and the countries concerned to set up "clear and effective terms of reference which will enable the force to discharge its task."

Sandys seemed to indicate that until the limits of the force's powers and its mission were agreed on, Britain would not contribute troops.

Thant told the Security Council in a written report, however, that he expected to conclude arrangements with Britain for the United Nations to take over some of the British forces who have been trying to enforce a cease-fire in Cyprus since the Christmas fighting.

Thant hopes to build up a 7,000-man force by absorbing half of the 7,000 British troops policing the island and replacing the rest with soldiers from half a dozen other nations. He has pledged of 1,150 from Canada, 700 from Finland, 700 from Sweden and 500 from Ireland.

Paducah Ready For High Crest

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Paducah, vast major city along the overflowing Ohio River, prepared for a crest nearly nine feet above flood stage today but counted on its wall to prevent major damage.

Floods which began a week ago along the river, a 981-mile-long transportation link in the country's midland, caused $100 million or more in damages, took 15 lives and affected 110,000 persons.

Another 300 mopped up hot spots on the severely-hit Burbank-Glendale areas, just 12 miles from downtown Los Angeles in the Verdugo and San Rafael Hills.

All the homes burned were in the vicinity of the two cities, in the 7,000-acre Verdugo Hills fire and the 2,100-acre San Rafael Hills blaze.

New Demands For U.S. Fliers

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States made a new demand today for the release of three American fliers shot down in East Germany and warned that their continued detention jeopardizes U.S.-Soviet relations.

Charge d'Affaires Walter J. Stoessel presented the demand at the Soviet Foreign Office, coupling it with a denial of Soviet charges that the three men were on an espionage mission when their reconnaissance bomber was shot down on March 18.

A U.S. Army ambulance made a trip into Communist East Germany today. There was speculation here the trip has some connection with the injured U.S. Air Force officer in a Russian military hospital at Magdeburg.

Army and Air Force spokesmen declined comment on the purpose of the trip.

An embassy spokesman said Stoessel also warned the Russians that "further delay in release and return of the crewmen clearly jeopardized possibilities for expanding areas of U.S.-Soviet cooperation and can affect present efforts in cooperation in various fields."

The Russians have brushed aside several earlier demands for release of the airmen: Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, and Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit.

Soviet officials notified U.S. military authorities in Frankfurt Monday that one of the fliers was injured and said an American doctor could visit him.

An Air Force flight surgeon went to the Soviet military hospital at Magdeburg, East Germany. He found Welch suffering from fractures of the right arm and left leg. The Russians refused to release Welch for treatment in the West.

The Soviets have given no information about Holland and Kessler, who parachuted with Welch when the jet bomber was shot down. They apparently landed safely and are in Soviet custody.

Communist officials in East Berlin have hinted that the three men may be tried as spies.

Nehru Says India Is Ready To Fight

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told a cheering Parliament today that Indian troops will cross the cease-fire line in Kashmir if necessary to defend Indian territory against Pakistan.

"We are not prepared to go across the cease-fire line and attack the territory now under Pakistan occupation," Nehru said, "but obviously if it becomes necessary in the defense of our territory for them (Indian troops) to cross the line, then they will cross it."

Nehru's statement was the strongest made by any top official since the recent outbreak of skirmishing and raids across the cease-fire line in the disputed Himalayan state.

India and Pakistan fought over Kashmir in 1948 and have been quarreling over the state ever since.

Commenting on charges that the Pakistan government is investigating the border clashes, Nehru said: "I know it is a regular campaign."

Claims Pakistan Has Chinese Pact

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government has learned that Communist China and Pakistan have agreed to coordinate foreign and military policies affecting India, a high government official told the Associated Press earlier today.

The Indian official said his government considers these skirmishes potentially dangerous but does not think an escalation into a greater conflict is threatened.

On the Chinese frontier, he said, there is no indication the Communists will try anything big in the near future. Red troops, however, are consolidating positions they won in the 1962 border war.

India regards the China-Pakistan collaboration as so close that it believes the Communists are virtually certain to push a road from Chinese territory deep into Pakistan, perhaps to the capital of Rawalpindi, the official said. Such a road has been rumored in Pakistan.

"The Chinese are now in Pakistan, and the two will be moving together from now on," he said.

'Big Decision' Told Of Jack Ruby Trial

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade told Tuesday how prosecutors made the "big decision" of the Jack Ruby murder trial.

The decision: They would not call witnesses who swore they saw Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald together before a sniper assassinated President Kennedy here.

Testimony from these witnesses would have made worldwide headlines. And, if jurors had believed the testimony, it might have provided a motive for the slaying of Oswald.

Ruby slipped into the heavily guarded City Hall basement Nov. 24 and fired a single bullet into Oswald, who had been arrested two days earlier as the No. 1 suspect in the presidential assassination.

Wade said FBI agents and other investigators provided him with a list of witnesses who insisted they saw Ruby and Oswald together at various times. The district attorney said he decided not to call these witnesses because he had doubts about the accuracy of their statements.

"I knew that three of them had failed lie detector tests," Wade said. "We knew testimony from these witnesses could have had a big impact on the jury, one way or another. But I felt then—and still do—that there has been no proof Ruby and Oswald knew each other. As things turned out, I'm really glad we didn't put the witnesses on the stand. Jurors deliberated only two hours and 19 minutes before agreeing Ruby should die in the electric chair.

Ruby Impassive Following Verdict

DALLAS (AP)—At 11:30 a.m. Saturday, when jury foreman Max E. Causey neatly printed the letters "DEATH" with a ball point pen on the blank provided, Jack Ruby sat impassively in his jail cell.

Neither Ruby nor anyone else outside the jury deliberation room knew whether the 32-year-old former strip joint operator had been found legally guilty or innocent of the slaying of President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald.

Less than an hour later, Ruby and the world heard Judge Joe B. Brown speak the words "and assess the penalty at death." Courtroom observers noted that the defendant remained outwardly impassive.

Jack L. Ruby continues to appear impassive as the hours, and the days, slip by him in jail. He plays dominoes and cards by himself. He eats when food is served and shaves with a double-edged razor and takes a shower when so directed. Only Jack Ruby knows the Ruby thoughts.

Things Haven't Changed Much Since 1904

NEW YORK (AP) — They opened the box which had been sealed in the cornerstone of the old Times Tower in Times Square Tuesday, and read all 12 New York newspapers dated Jan. 18, 1904.

The papers reported trouble in the Far East and Panama. Commuters on the Erie Railroad complained of congestion. Broadway box-office practices were under fire. Brooklyn police were chasing the Mafia.

There were bloody uprisings in Africa, and editorials told of the dangers of cigarettes.

The box was opened because the Times Tower is being reconstructed as the Allied Chemical Corp. Tower.

Of the 12 newspapers only two are still published under the same names — the Times and the Morning Telegraph.

The Morning Telegraph is now a racing paper.

Women Voters Open Meeting

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Nominations for new officers were announced as the League of Women Voters of Texas opened their state convention here Tuesday.

More than 240 delegates from 37 leagues are attending the three-day meeting.

Mrs. Maurice H. Brown of Waco was nominated for reelection as state president. Also nominated are Mrs. C. M. Linehan, Midland, Mrs. Harold E. Murphree Jr., Dickerson, and Mrs. Robert E. Casderson, Lubbock, for vice president; Mrs. T. A. Pollard, Houston, secretary; and Mrs. W. D. Baden, Waco, treasurer.

Mrs. William E. Joor II, Houston; Mrs. Wilson Nolle, Austin; Mrs. E. S. Prashner, San Antonio; Mrs. Raymond Freedman, Dallas; Mrs. D. A. Ballard, Lake Jackson, and Mrs. James Brock, Odessa, were nominated for directors for the ensuing year.

Nominated for the steering committee were Mrs. Gerald Ashford, San Antonio; Mrs. Eugene Hughes, Houston, and Mrs. George Bolter, Galveston.

Police Drop Racial Barriers

FLORENCE, Ala. (AP)—The City Commission has dropped racial barriers on the city police force.

The commission announced Tuesday it has hired two Negroes who recently passed civil service examinations. They are Harrison Eugene Humes, 25, and Oscar Southard Jr., 32.

This northwest Alabama city of 32,000 has experienced no racial demonstrations.

Patrol Officers Lose Two Tons

ATLANTA (AP) — Members of the Georgia State Patrol have lost more than two tons in nine months in an effort to get down to normal weight.

The target: another ton and a half by September. Col. Lowell Conner, boss of the 418 troopers, ordered the loss in weight.

Young Friends Pitch In To Aid Elderly Recluse

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The big house with its 20 or more rooms was grand when it was built half a century ago and its owner gave it a splendid name: Stony Glen.

Years of neglect have reduced it to a haunted house for the very young, a target for the adolescent vandal, and a blight in the eyes of the city.

It looks vacant. Many of the windows are broken and the roofing is peeling off the once-fine gables.

But in the basement lives Miss Adelia McNeely Ashmore, an elderly woman who is almost a recluse.

The city Division of Public Health Engineering says the three-story house is unfit for human habitation and wants it cleaned up or Miss Ashmore out by next Monday.

She probably won't have to move, however, because her young friends are again coming to the rescue.

Every night for almost three summers, Paul Holmberg, 24, said he and three other young men have visited Miss Ashmore, guarding her from youths who heckled her, drove through the 13-acre yard, flashed lights, threw stones at the windows and made obscene phone calls.

The four were eventually joined by others, until about 25 had helped — three of them leaving the ranks of the hecklers.

They also cut the grass, cleaned the yard, painted and laid linoleum.

Miss Ashmore's brother, who lives in Branson, Mo., owns the house. He says as soon as he replaces windows, they are broken again by vandals. Miss Ashmore doesn't say much.

Last weekend when the city began pressing again that repairs be made, a group of teenagers began escorting groups through the house at a quarter apiece to raise money for the work.

Court Case Melts Away

CHICAGO (AP) — A suit against a skating rink was dismissed in Circuit Court Tuesday when a judge decided the problem had literally melted away.

Frank P. Lawler sought $5,000 damages and asked the court to close a private skating rink on the grounds the skaters made too much noise and damaged his property.

Judge Cornelius J. Harrington dismissed the case, noting "the unseasonably warm weather has solved the problem by melting the ice."

Belli Heads For Mexico, Leaving Flurry Of Invective

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico (AP) — Attorney Melvin Belli, still damning Dallas, left this Mexican border town Tuesday by railroad for Mexico City.

The white-haired San Francisco lawyer earlier in San Antonio, Tex., told a newsman, "All I want to do is get that stinking Dallas out of my nose."

Arriving in Laredo by train, Belli said, "Dallas is sicker now than it was when the President was killed. This trial will go down as the greatest rape of American justice in history."

Belli was referring to the trial in Dallas of Jack Ruby, who was convicted of murder in the slaying of President Kennedy's accused assassin and given the death penalty. Belli headed Ruby's defense counsel. An appeal will be filed soon by Phil

Burleson, a Dallas member of the defense staff.

Belli was told of remarks made Tuesday night by Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr to a group of law students at the University of Texas in Austin.

Carr told the students Belli had become panic stricken upon receiving a verdict adverse to his client... he lost complete control of himself, and in a shameful exhibition proceeded to insult the opposing attorneys, the court, the jury, the whole city of Dallas, and thus our state.

"If this politician is right," the California lawyer rejoined, "Then the judge was completely wrong. The judge (Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas) said he considered me the most brilliant lawyer to have practiced in his court."

"It's the habit of politicians to rise on death verdicts," Belli added "he is obviously protecting Dallas," he said of Carr.

"I think his remarks are in shocking bad taste..."

Belli assured newsmen at every stop that he "loved Texas, but not that Dallas."

He planned a day's visit in Mexico City with attorney Victor Velasquez before returning to San Francisco.

Carr said "It is almost a certainty to state that, had Mr. Belli acted so irresponsibly in the courts of his state or in the federal courts, he would have promptly been held in contempt and heavily fined and, or, placed in jail," he said.

"I am confident the history books of the future will record the story of a supposedly renowned lawyer who, at his 'high moment in history,' lost his sense of judgment and responsibility and forever classified himself as something less than great," Carr said.

"Dallas and Texas were here before Mr. Belli initiated his abuse, and they will still be here long after Mr. Belli has regained his composure and good manners."

Belli was in Austin Tuesday, but cancelled a speech to law students because, he said, he did not want to raise a fuss.

New 'Brand' Goes Up

Clyde McMahon Jr. and John Berry of the Y's-Men's Club bolt down the new sign at the YMCA. This new 18-inch "brand" replaces a former 5-inch letter sign on a planter at the right of the entrance. The former sign could not be kept intact because youngsters used it as a ladder. The new sign is out of reach. The sign, a gift from Cosden, was made by M. H. (Slick) Boatler and his welders in a Cosden shop.

VISIBLE CHURCH

In the days of the apostles of Christ, when there were no denominations, the Lord's church existed in congregations. They assembled together, sent out evangelists, and in general carried out an efficient program of church work. See Acts 11:26; 13:1-3; 14:23; 14:26, 27.

Thus we have proof that the church can exist and function effectively, without denominational machinery.

Today, there exist churches of Christ with no other organization than that prescribed in the New Testament for the congregation. These congregations have no inter-congregational organizations; no official publications; and no earthly headquarters.

The Lord's undenominational church still has a visible existence.

Visit one of the undenominational churches of Christ in the area. Do it Sunday!

The Call Of Lent

One of the most frequently quoted statements of Christ is his well-known invitation: "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

The rest which Christ offers in these words is, of course, not the immediate freedom from all the cares and trials of life.

Ours is a difficult world, and on our way through it we shall meet many trying and painful experiences. It is not a rest from trial which Christ offers but a rest in trial.

It is the rest and peace which come from the certain knowledge of sins forgiven; that deeper rest and peace which come from knowing that we are God's children, forgiven through the life and death of Christ.

The man who has found pardon for his sins through faith in Christ has found a peace and rest which are beyond the grasp of the unbeliever. There is nothing in life that can harm him. Sickness, loss of wealth, calamity—none of these can disturb that perfect rest which comes from the sure conviction, "I am at peace with God."

Many people today who are at their wit's end, who are leading lives of futility and frustration, who are on the verge of despair and nervous collapse, are in need of just this assurance of the Christian Gospel.

Peace, quiet, confidence—these are to be found in the full acceptance of the Lenten message. "Come unto Me," says Christ, "... and I will give you rest."

THAT'S WHAT YOU GET PLENTY OF WITH YOUR TELEPHONE

Your phone makes it so easy to get things done. Calls to order things, to find out things, to tell the news, to organize activities—or you name it.

The busier you are, the more helpful the telephone is. Day in and day out, your phone is an important part of your busy life.

When you stop to think about it, is there really anything else that helps you so much for so little? Or that is of so much personal value?

Connally May Have Arm Cast Removed

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally, critically wounded when a sniper assassinated President John F. Kennedy last Nov. 22, may get a cast removed from his arm here today.

Tuesday in Galveston, the governor was not wearing his arm sling which had been almost a trade mark since the shooting up of a Dallas motorcade.

He was to visit Southwestern Medical School here today, but the exact time of the visit was not clear. Connally's Austin office said the governor would be examined by physicians at the school this morning.

But late Tuesday, one of the physicians said he believed the examination could be undertaken.

Connally spoke Tuesday at a Galveston news conference after earlier in the day speaking at a dedication luncheon in Texas City for a new wing of the Galveston County Memorial Hospital.

"I do not plan a stumping tour of the state, although some political speeches will be made," he said. He believes himself "unable to hold up under a strenuous campaign," he told newsmen.

Among other remarks Connally made at the news conference: —The Republican primary in Texas would have "little or no effect" on the Democratic primary.

—He has received frequent threatening letters and telephone calls since the assassination, he told newsmen, some from out of state.

—Congressional redistricting may require a special session of the legislature. He still believes such redistricting can best be done during a regular session.

—San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli's comments were "calculated to do harm to Dallas, Texas and the jury's verdict." He said Belli's statements after the Jack Ruby murder trial were "uncalled for."

—The governor said Texas' rapid growth presents constant problems and challenges.

—"We live in a 'boom' state, a section of growing population, expanding industry, cultural advance and educational improvement."

He said, "We have not been asleep" . . . but "We have tended to outgrow our trousers. Changes have come upon us so rapidly and with such force that sometimes we find ourselves ill-equipped to meet the situation as quickly and capably as we should."

Flying Grandfather Rescued From Greenland Icecap

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Max Conrad, America's flying grandfather, is reported in "fine shape" after being rescued from the Greenland icecap where he crashlanded a single-engine plane.

It was the 62-year-old pilot's first crossing in nearly 14 years of criss-crossing oceans delivering single-engine planes to customers.

By his reckoning, he was making his 100th transatlantic solo flight Tuesday. Apparently trouble with the Italian Procaer Picchio F15 he was ferrying from Italy to Canada forced him down on the barren icecap in subzero weather.

The flier was less than five hours out of Reykjavik, Iceland, when he came down on terrain he described in a magazine article 12 years ago as "mountains, ice, rocks, no iron, no coal, no trees, nothing that man could use."

Luck was with him. He was on the ice only a short time before an Icelandic airliner spotted him. Another plane dropped warm clothing and food.

An Air Force spokesman in Washington said Conrad walked across a glacier from the wreckage of his plane to the spot where a small fishing boat took him off the icecap. He was transferred to a Danish amphibious plane and flown to a U.S. air base in southern Greenland. He was to be flown to the Air Force base at Goose Bay, Labrador.

It was Conrad's first serious accident in 35 years. The last one, in October 1929, happened on the ground. A woman passenger alighting from his plane walked into the propeller and was killed. Conrad tried to rescue her and the still-spinning blade fractured his skull. The injury blanked out his memory for three years and he had to learn to talk again.

Conrad, who lives in Winona, Minn., has crossed the oceans so many times that he remarked last year that he was getting bored with the ferrying job.

In 1961, he and his son Terry, 17, set a record for small planes by flying around the world in 8 days and 18 hours.

Howard County Junior College is within $45,000 of achieving its estimated revenues for the year. Because tuition has exceeded estimation, no difficulty should be encountered in exceeding revenue estimates for the year.

Expenditures also were well within budget estimates through January, according to the monthly financial statement.

Expenditures in February (for the year in parenthesis) follow: General administrative expense $3,903 ($15,614), general operating expense $6,669 ($26,750), instructional $22,244.99 ($114,949.42), intramural sports $80 ($80), public services none ($1,204), library $2,001 ($10,746), auxiliary activities $256.17 ($1,657.12), athletics $3,733.25 ($9,412.96), capital outlay $203.07 ($15,291.43), contingency fund $981.05 ($3,283.35); total $49,348 ($28,410.66); excess of general fund revenues over disbursements $243,504.25.

During January the interest and sinking fund received $3,837. Disbursements for the first five months of the fiscal year amounted to $23,432.19, leaving an excess of revenues over disbursements of $42,230. This with current surplus leaves a balance of $82,138, whereas the remaining obligation for the year is $40,773.

Almost 40 Boy Scouts advanced in rank at the Court of Honor for Troop 4 held Tuesday evening in the ballroom at Cooden Country Club. The troop is sponsored by Cooden.

"We have had the best organized year and the best adult leadership we've ever had," said Garrett Patton, scoutmaster, in expressing appreciation to men who have helped the troop. Patton announced the advancement of Frank Horn to junior assistant scoutmaster and Gordon Marchant to senior patrol leader.

Four Parks Share In Improvements

Improvements are under way at three city parks. The overall cost, about $20,000, will be charged to the bond fund, and city crews are performing the labor.

The modest program for the main City Park includes repairs to the tennis court ($1,000), a sprinkling system ($350), a pavilion ($250), grading of surfaces for parking ($100) and three iron grill cookers ($70). Assistant city manager Roy Anderson said the pavilion may cost slightly more than is expected, but an insecticide machine cost less ($1,007.52 with trade-in for an old machine) than the anticipated $2,500.

The parks and recreation board has approved spending $12,000 on improvements at Moss Creek Lake. Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said a site on the south side of the lake near the beach area has been cleared for a pavilion. Another site, probably on the same side of the lake, will be cleared later, he said. Cost of the pavilions is estimated at $5,000.

Three mercury vapor lights have been installed at the lake park. Two were erected on the south side of the lake and one was put up at the concession stand. Two lights will be erected at the fishing dock on the west side of the lake and two others are being installed on the east side, Lillard said. He estimated the cost of lights at $950. The director of public works said another fishing pier or two will be constructed sometime after spring if there is enough money left.

BIRDWELL PARK Improvements at the Birdwell Lane Park near the YMCA are expected to cost $6,822. Johnnie Johansen, parks director, said ditches have been dug for 1,121 feet of four-inch pipe and 3,487 feet of two-inch pipe for a sprinkler system, three tables with benches and three picnic cookers. In addition, the park is to be sowed in Bermuda grass and 20 more trees planted. Total estimated cost is $1,482.20.

Small House Lost To Fire Tuesday

Flames destroyed a small three-room abandoned stucco house at 910 N. Gregg about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the blaze apparently was caused by children playing in the house. "All of the windows had been knocked out prior to the fire," he said. There was heavy damage inside, but the house was insured. Meador added the C. A. Miller Estate is owner of the one-story structure.

Firemen also answered three other calls Tuesday and two calls Wednesday. Heavy damage resulted from a fire in a welding truck at 4000 US 80 west about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. Firemen said the motor was a total loss. The vehicle was unattended at the time of the fire, and firemen were unable to locate the owner. A short in the heating unit at the M. C. Case residence, 1738 Purdue, at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday resulted in smoke in the house, firemen said. There was no damage.

A weed fire got out of control on a vacant lot at Second and Birdwell Lane about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to firemen, who said there was no damage. Carelessness with a cigarette apparently caused a chair to burn in one of the cabins at the Key Motel, US 80 west, at 8:35

A cigarette also was blamed for damage to a car seat at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday morning. The vehicle, owned by John Huckleby, caught fire in the 500 block of East Third, according to firemen, who said there was only minor damage to the seat.

Lakeview Y Plans Drive

Membership campaign for the Lakeview YMCA will be launched March 27, the Y board was told Tuesday when various reports were given at the monthly meeting. Jim Smith, Lakeview secretary, said a barbecue event will be the kickoff, and that prospects are bright for a successful effort.

Among new adult activities at the YMCA, directors were told, is an English class for Spanish speaking people. This was started Tuesday evening, and sessions will be held Tuesdays and Fridays for several weeks.

On March 19-21, a number of Big Springers will attend the Southwest Area Council meeting at Corpus Christi. Curt Mullins, Jim Smith, Arnold Marshall, Clyde McMahon, and possibly others plan to go.

On March 25, the local organization will host a YMCA invitational volleyball tournament, to be held at the Webb Air Force Base gym. Some 20 teams may participate. Committee reports indicated an increase in activity in various Y programs, both for youths and adults, and in the physical fitness activities.

Ware Undergoes Eye Surgery For Detached Retina

Rad Ware, former staff member of Pioneer Gas Company here, is beginning to be wary of Friday 13. Last week, he was back in St. Paul's Hospital at Dallas for surgery on his right eye. Six months ago he and Mrs. Ware went to Dallas for surgery on the same eye on a Friday 13.

He was admitted this time on March 8 and has been flat on his back since then, waiting for the detached retina to settle back in place. The surgery was performed last Saturday morning.

This is the fourth operation on this eye and his fifth eye operation since January of 1962. His doctors think he has a 50-50 chance of seeing from the right eye as a result of the surgery, barring complications.

His room is No. 418 in St. Paul's Hospital at Dallas. Mrs. Ware has an apartment at Tanglewood North, 3919 Inwood Road, Apartment 110-A, fairly near the hospital.

Over 2,000 Military Air Crashes Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than $1.8 billion in U.S. military planes have been lost or badly damaged in crashes over the past three years, it was learned today.

Pilot error and "material failure" were listed as the chief causes in more than 2,000 major military aircraft accidents in 1961-1963.

This data was contained in an analysis provided by the Defense Department. The Associated Press asked the report in connection with a running dispute over the relative reliability of missiles and manned aircraft.

Critics of U.S. missile systems have suggested, among other things, that there is much more assurance about the reliability of manned aircraft because of many years of experience and thousands of flights.

The Pentagon report said the Air Force suffered some 1,100 major accidents over the past three years causing damage totaling $1.1 billion. This averages out to about $1 million per accident.

During that same period more than 900 Navy and Marine Corps planes sustained major damage or were destroyed. The dollar estimate: something over $700 million.

The Army, which uses mainly helicopters and other relatively inexpensive aircraft, reported more than 200 major accidents with $27 million in damages.

In a rundown of causes, the Navy said human error was responsible for 60 per cent of all accidents to Navy and Marine Corps aircraft. Pilot error was blamed for 48 per cent and 12 per cent by "other persons."

Material failure accounted for 28 per cent, weather base facilities and miscellaneous causes the rest.

The Air Force said pilot error caused 31 per cent of its accidents, material failure 39 per cent, weather 1 per cent, maintenance 8 per cent, supervision 5 per cent and the remainder undetermined and miscellaneous.

Army statistics, which were not broken down, were reported

LIFE IN U.S.

Only Television Tells This Story

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — If a stranger from abroad suddenly found himself in front of a television set in the United States, he could get a weird impression of this country and its inhabitants.

He could be forgiven if he decided the only really fine men of the nation were lawyers, doctors, school teachers, social workers, public and private eyes and peripatetic ranchers.

He might deduce that crime lords operate everywhere through connivance with corrupt politicians; that rich old men always live in enormous houses of Spanish mission-English Tudor architecture, have bars in every room, unfaithful young wives and are deeply involved in shady deals.

He could conclude logically that every corporation has a mousy accountant on the verge of absconding with company funds; that moderately successful young businessmen live in the suburbs and are putty in the hands of antiseptic, Machiavellian blonde wives.

His impression of our average citizens, if he studied television commercials, might send him scurrying home in despair.

Our men are usually depicted having ecstatic moments shaving, applying hair oil or lighting a cigarette upon completion of a parachute jump or a deep-sea dive.

Our women are shown spending most of their time fretting over cleanliness—of their laundry, their dishes, their floors, their plumbing and their faces—if they aren't in anguish from nagging headaches or in tears because their gray hairs keep husbands from taking them dancing.

It isn't really that way, friends, just in television land.

There is an unfortunate conflict tonight between the two most promising programs of the week. They are NBC's "Little Moon of Alban," a dramatic special and "CBS Reports" live debate between Democratic Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina on the civil rights bill. Both programs will be broadcast at 7:30 p.m., EST and both are recommended.

Showers Fall Across State

Lightly scattered showers fell over Southwest Texas during the night, and the band swept into South Central Texas today.

Most skies were cloudy, and were due to continue overcast through Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said the showers would ease into north central and northeast parts of Texas by tonight, bringing slightly cooler temperatures.

Early morning readings varied from 65 degrees at Del Rio to 39 at Dalhart.

Russia Resumes Selling Gold

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union resumed selling gold in West Europe again Tuesday — apparently to raise cash for North American wheat.

Market sources said about $4.5 million worth of Soviet gold was put up for sale, mainly in Paris but reaching London before the market closed.

DEAR ABBY

Fifty-Fifty On Color

DEAR ABBY: Do gentlemen really prefer blondes? Do blondes have more fun? Why do men act so silly over girls with hair that is bleached until it looks like straw? Wouldn't they rather see a natural redhead, or a girl with shining black hair, or chestnut-colored hair with golden highlights? Why do men rave over a girl just because she has blonde hair? I would like to know the answer to this, and so would a lot of other women. NO DYE HARD

DEAR NO: Men like hair that is (a) clean, (b) well-groomed, (c) fragrant, (d) shiny, and (e) soft. If it is all of these things, men don't care whether it's black, brown or gray. I know a girl who has been both blonde and brunette, and she didn't have any more fun as a blonde.

DEAR RUINED: When you ordered, your husband should have asked the waiter to make up separate checks.

DEAR ABBY: Last week I was a witness in court. As I approached the witness stand this 65- or 70-year-old judge shouted at me, "Say, if you're gonna testify in this court, speak loud and with respect!" Then he fell back in his chair, put his feet up on his desk about six inches from my face, and lay back like he was dead. While I was talking, he suddenly jerked his feet off his desk, sat erect in his chair and shouted at the top of his voice, "SPEAK LOUDER!" Do you think I should send this judge a bed and a hearing aid?

WITNESS

DEAR WITNESS: "Judge not, that ye be not judged." Matthew 7:1.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and another couple went to a dinner show at a night club. Our income requires that we budget carefully. My husband and I ordered the least expensive dinners, and one drink apiece. The other couple ordered the most expensive dinners and they each had four drinks. When the waiter brought the check, the other man just divided it in half and said, "Your share is $19.90." The floor show was on at the time, so my husband said nothing and paid up. On the way home he told the other man that he had some money coming, and explained why. The other man became indignant and said, "If you can't afford an evening out, you should stay home." Of course he was wrong, but how could this have been avoided?

Could Halt Traffic Deaths

DALLAS (AP)—Traffic deaths in Texas could be stopped within six months, a Highway Patrol inspector says, but it would not be practical.

"All we'd have to do is get bulldozers to dig dips every 100 feet in the highways so no one could go over five miles per hour," Inspector C. G. Conner said Tuesday.

He moderated a safety panel of the Texas Safety Conference, which ends today.

He warned, however, that something must be done about the mounting traffic deaths. Texas marked up a new total of 2,729 deaths in 1963—1,800 in rural areas.

More patrolmen, he said, may be one of the answers. Earlier in the day, Col. Homer Garrison, head of the department, urged the legislature to increase the number of officers 100 per year until the force reached 2,000 men.

Heart Defects Blamed For Brother-Sister Deaths

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — A congenital heart defect was suggested today as the possible cause of the deaths of a brother and sister within two hours of each other here. In two generations, six other members of the same family also have died suddenly.

In Richburg, N.Y., a rare heart defect caused the death of Darrell Thompson, 11, whose two brothers had died previously from the same ailment.

Edward Ambrose Martin, 15, a husky sophomore at St. Augustine's St. Joseph High School, collapsed and died Monday after running only 300 yards of a mile-and-a-half cross-country event.

His sister, Angella Diane, 14, at home recovering from mumps, appeared to go into shock when her parents told her of his death. She was rushed to a hospital, where breathing was restored, but she was dead within two hours.

Another sister, Penny, 9, was found dead in shallow water in which she had been wading during a family outing in 1957. The cause of her death never was determined.

Dr. James J. Devito, the family doctor, said "several other members of the family have expired suddenly, with no known cause. Five children from two sisters and three adults have been stricken under similar circumstances in two generations."

He suggested that the ailment might be a congenital heart defect.

The body of young Thompson, of Bolivar, N.Y., was found on the lawn of a garage at his school in Richburg.

Dr. Edwin F. Comstock Jr., coroner, said the boy had an enlarged heart. So did two of his brothers, Dana, 7, and Ray, 8, who died in 1955 and 1959, respectively.

Dr. Kurt Zinner, a Wellsville, N.Y., cardiologist, said the ailment was "not due to any known cause." He described it as "familial"—peculiar to some members of certain families.

Gov. Wallace Enters Race In Wisconsin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are today's political developments, in brief:

Goldwater — Continuing his campaign for California's June 2 Republican presidential primary, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater said he would not change his conservative views to get votes. In a speech at the Chico Fair Grounds Tuesday night, Goldwater said President Johnson is "so indebted to the left-wing element I don't see how he can get away from it." The senator headed today for Lakewood, Auburn and Stockton.

Wallace — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace told his supporters in Wisconsin they should expect to be "smeared" by the "liberals and the left-wing press." The segregationist governor opened his campaign in the state's April 7 Democratic presidential primary Tuesday in Appleton where he said the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, a Republican, had accurately forecast communism's threat to the United States.

Kennedy — Atty. Gen. Robert R. Kennedy said in Scranton, Pa., he was undecided whether to accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination if asked to run by President Johnson. "I haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do," he said. Kennedy received a rousing welcome in Scranton, where he addressed a St. Patrick's Day dinner and made several public appearances.

Accidents Minor

Police investigated only two motor vehicle accidents Tuesday. Locations and drivers involved: Fifteenth and Settles, Daniel Fiveash, 1104 Barnes, and Lois Land, 1106 Johnson; Dartmouth and Tulane, Helen Dawson, 605 Colgate, and Mona Tonn, 1721 Purdue.

GAIL—Livestock will start arriving here Friday afternoon for the annual Borden County Junior Livestock Show.

Animals are due to be in place by 3 p.m., and Friday evening Bob Lee, Wilson vocational agriculture teacher, will place the swine in the show.

Saturday morning W. M. Day, county agent at Rankin, will judge the scores of lambs in three classes and the steers.

The traditional sale, which sponsors hope will attract a number of buyers from Big Spring and other neighboring cities, is set immediately after lunch.

Mothers of the boys will serve lunch in the school cafeteria. They also will operate concessions in the newly enlarged show barns.

E. E. Wallace, Clarendon, is to cry the auction sale, and Dub Bryant, Big Spring, will be available for an assist.

Grand champion trophies will be given in each of the lamb

Reynolds Moves Up In Rodeos

DENVER—Some 73 big-hatted winners cut up an overall $49,565 in prize money after the annual Phoenix, Ariz., rodeo ended four-day competition Sunday night.

Biggest share of the rodeo payoff went to Montana cowboy, Benny Reynolds, Dillon,

Don't Cry, See Doctor

BOSTON (AP)—How are your contact lenses feeling these days?

If they don't make you cry, you've nothing to cry about. If they do, better see your ophthalmologist.

That's the advice of Dr. William Stone Jr., a pioneer in the development of plastic contact lenses who warns that too many unqualified persons are prescribing and fitting lenses.

Stone's comments came Tuesday night after a spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration, quoting Stone, said 14 persons have been blinded or become partly blind because they wear contact lenses.

Stone said the blindness is caused by an element in the plastic used to make the lenses. In some persons tears activate the chemical in the plastic which can cause blindness.

He said a tendency toward blindness should be indicated in the first few hours a new patient wears the lenses.

Stone said many persons suffering from eye infections are the victims of bad advice. "Some persons are told to wear their lenses night and day," he said. "A man in Belgium wore his contacts for five days in succession, then went blind."

Stone, chairman of the contact lens committee of the American Medical Foundation for Eye Care, says lenses should be removed every four or five hours.

who shrugged off a cracked rib and minor head injury to scoop up $2,929.

The 28-year-old Reynolds, pro rodeo's top money winner in 1961, notched his winnings with a second in steer wrestling action and a first place tie in bull riding with California's Bob Robinson.

Reynolds' new loot hiked his earnings this season to $7,998. Honors for money snared in one event went to Idaho's genial giant, Harry Charters Jr., who swept steer wrestling for $2,191.

Event leaders are:

All-around — Harry Charters, Melba, Idaho, $10,090, and Reynolds, $7,998; saddle bronc riding — Marty Wood, Bowness, Alta., Canada, $5,277, and Jim Tescher, Medora, N.D., $5,181; bareback bronc riding — Jim Houston, Omaha, Neb., $6,714, and John Hawkins, Twai Harle, Calif., $6,317; bull riding — Bernis Johnson, Cleburne, Texas, $4,649, and Reynolds, $4,475; Olin Young, Albuquerque, N.M., $8,202, and Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, $6,365; steer wrestling — C. R. Boucher, Burkburnett, Texas, $8,861, and Harry Charters, Melba, Idaho, $7,081.

Says U.S. May Gain The Most

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen Tuesday that the United States probably would gain more than the Soviet Union in an exchange of atomic energy information.

He said the Soviet Union has an advantage over the United States because more American research results are published and the Russians have a highly efficient system of screening foreign technical journals.

Artists Hear Discussion Of Symbolism

Las Artistas Art Club met Tuesday in the Texas Electric Service Co. building. The 15 members present saw a film on the use of color in interior decoration, furniture and fashions, shown by Ken Clark of Sherwin-Williams, and Mrs. Bill Unger lectured on "The Language of Symbolism," discussing 20 basic symbols which she illustrated and pointed out in a number of prints by well-known artists.

Mrs. Unger said the painter's communicative instruments are essentially those of color planes and symbols by which the painter projects messages of physical, mental or emotional reality. She said subconscious reactions occur to certain types of symbolic designs incorporated consciously by the painter in his composition, modified and enhanced by color combinations to induce a mood.

Plans for the Texas Fine Arts exhibition were almost completed, with registration of paintings to be from 2 to 5 o'clock, April 24, at the Community Room of First Federal Savings and Loan building. All West Texas artists are invited to enter this competitive show which offers the $100 Cosden purchase prize as its top award. Mrs. Don Bohannon is chairman of the exhibit, and Mrs. W. L. Patton, co-chairman.

Announcement was made of the April 1-14 Permian Basin exhibition held in Midland at the Dellwood Shopping Center, with registration April 1. Mrs. Frank Hartley will carry paintings to Midland for those who wish to enter. The Permian show opens to the public April 5, Sunday.

FANCY RIG FOR YOUNG DRIVERS

Stony and Scotty Casselman and home-built sulky

A Few Old Bike Parts And Pipe—And Presto! A Sulky

Take two bicycle front wheels complete with forks, add a few joints of light weight piping, a strip of metal lath, several pieces of light but strong metal sheets.

Put these things together and what've you got?

Well, if you were J. W. Coots, 1016 E. 21st Street, with a long career back of you in the black-smithing field, the finished product would be as fancy a sulky as any 32-inch-tall Shetland pony ever pulled around.

And, if you were J. W. Coots and Mrs. Coots, and you had a couple of young grandsons who liked to ride in a sulky, it's almost certain that you would put the above named materials to use in the way best calculated to produce the needed vehicle. The only one at the 'Coots' place who isn't delighted with the trim little two-wheeled cart is Apache, Apache is a furry-coated two-year-old Shetland. He had just as soon, if he had his rathers, not pull Stony Casselman, 2, and Scotty Casselman, 4, the 'Coots' grandsons, around in the new sulky.

Nevertheless he does pull them and everyone, including Joe Coots, 16, who is the owner of Apache, likes the sulky just fine.

Except, of course, Apache.

Cattle Men Are Atop Powder Keg

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's cattle industry is operating over an economic powder keg which, if exploded, could bring distress for much of agriculture and headaches for Democrats in the November elections.

The number of cattle on farms is the largest on record. This is causing concern not only among cattlemen but Johnson administration farm leaders as well.

DROUTH

Widespread drouth in cattle areas could set off a liquidation movement this summer that could pull the bottom from under meat animal prices. Effects would be felt throughout much of agriculture.

Concern over the possible dangers has been heightened by weather reports telling of abnormally low soil moisture supplies in many parts of the lower Midwest and Southwest. This region is heavily populated with beef cattle which need a season or so of good grass pastures before fattening in grain feed lots for the slaughter market.

Should drouth parch pastures this summer, many livestockmen would have no course but to unload animals on the market, which could force sharp declines in cattle prices.

LIQUIDATION

The effect of such a liquidation would be felt in non-drouth cattle feeding areas because prices of grain-fattened animals would be brought down—along with prices of the younger, leaner ones moving to market from grass areas.

So if severe drouth should develop in major cattle states, the results could become the major farm issue of the 1964 presidential campaign.

Adversely affected would be hog producers because a sharp increase in supplies of cheap beef would help bring down hog prices.

Refugee Dressed Like A Man

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A pretty refugee said today she fled Cuba by stowing away on a cargo ship dressed as a man.

The petite brunette, Nelida Del Pilar Fernandez, 21, said she was aboard the Lebanese vessel Toula, carrying Greek crewmen, when it left Havana last November.

In British Honduras, she was discovered, the stowaway said, but was permitted to continue after the ship's captain paid a fine for her. She said she left the ship in Jamaica and was there three months.

She was one of 41 refugees arriving in Miami Tuesday.

king in dummy in order to attempt the spade finesse; however, East administered a rude jolt to South when he trumped with the seven of spades. A heart return put West in to give his partner another diamond ruff, and East completed the damage by cashing the ace of clubs to set the contract.

South was admittedly unlucky to run into the extremely bad diamond break, but it was a somewhat risky proposition to open that suit up so early in the play when one of the opponents was apt to be short.

Another and safer means of gaining access to dummy is via a heart ruff.

Observe the effect obtained by South if he permits East to hold the first trick with the king of hearts. The West hand becomes permanently retired from the play and East is unable to inflict any damage thru his own efforts. Suppose that he returns a heart. South plays the ace and then trumps his last heart to enter the North hand. The spade finesse is taken, and declarer may—if he chooses—overtake the ten of spades with his jack in order to cash the ace.

The defense will be restricted to a maximum of three tricks—one spade, one heart, and one club.

Election Troubles Seen In Meat Import Squeeze

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caught in the squeeze of international trade negotiations, the Johnson administration may be stockpiling some election troubles by resisting legislation to cut meat imports.

Republicans contend that the Western prairies are on fire with protests of cattle and sheep raisers. Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., contends some cattlemen are "going broke" because of boosted imports of beef, veal and mutton under voluntary agreements with Australia and New Zealand.

That there is Democratic concern over the matter was demonstrated by the action of Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in proposing quotas which would limit such imports to the average of 1959-63 base period. Mansfield is seeking re-election in November.

Thus far, testimony in support of quotas of one kind or another has been taken by the Senate Finance Committee from North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Nebraska, Vermont, Virginia, Oklahoma and Hawaii.

Hruska and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman got into a shouting match about the matter in a hearing Tuesday before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

Freeman testified that he is opposed to any legislation to place quotas on meat imports. He said the United States should wait to see if voluntary agreements with Australia and New Zealand don't strengthen domestic meat prices.

The secretary contended that only 15 per cent of the decline in prices paid to cattle raisers was caused by imports. He said 85 per cent could be attributed to an increase in domestic production. He promised to review the situation again next year.

Hruska said the cattlemen can't wait.

"The patience of those people directly involved, who will be broke and bankrupt, will run out and they will say, 'You have to legislate,'" he declared.

Freeman broke in to say that the Nebraska Republican, who is seeking re-election this year, was making "a campaign speech."

"I resent that very much," Hruska fired back. "This is not a political speech. That is the feeling of the people of the Midwest."

Freeman retorted that he knew a political speech when he heard one because "I make enough of them."

Unmentioned in this exchange was the fact that the Johnson administration is trying to keep its record clear of quota restrictions when it goes into international negotiations in Geneva in mid-May seeking to get the European Common Market to lower some of its barriers against American farm products.

A measure of success in such endeavors would be calculated to raise the administration's standing among farmers generally. It would not necessarily mitigate the resentment of cattle and sheep raisers at the low prices they still may be receiving in November.

Leaving St. Patrick's Day Dinner

New Look At Aid Bill Is Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's plans to give the controversial foreign aid bill a new look were shelved after a quiet little White House dinner about six weeks ago, a high source reports.

The main decision involved whether to split the economic aid program from the military aid program and present them to Congress separately. The idea was to change the image of the program and make it more palatable to congressmen and voters.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara led off the after-dinner discussion by stating the case for making military aid separate, a source who was present said.

He was followed by others who favored this approach, among them Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The case for splitting economic and military aid proceeded smoothly as though the decision were "on the rails," the source said, until the President called on Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"Mr. President, if you want to lose the foreign aid bill on the floor of the House, then fragment it," Morgan told Johnson.

Morgan then repeated his long-held views that the military assistance portion of the foreign aid bill is the only thing that gets it through Congress each year, and that to separate the two sections would be an open invitation to the program's foes to decimate the economic aid, or "foreign aid giveaway," as they call it.

Other important voices backed Morgan's view, the source said.

President Johnson's foreign

Points To Dream Of America

NEW YORK (AP)—A self-styled "Irishman by osmosis," President Johnson told a St. Patrick's Day dinner "I have found our nation's greatest strength lies in the dream of America — America, the land of hope; America, the land of opportunity."

"All the slings and arrows of our opponents in the world have never succeeded in destroying that image," he said Tuesday night.

With jest and with serious talk, Johnson spoke to more than 2,500 members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in a Waldorf-Astoria Hotel ballroom festooned with green streamers hanging from crystal chandeliers. The headtable was scarcely visible behind green carnations.

Explaining why he is Irish by osmosis, the President spoke of the Irishmen in high government places — associates in the White House, the speaker of the House, and the Senate Democratic leader.

"I woke up this morning," he said with a smile, "and suddenly realized that the Irish have taken over the government. And I like it."

He said the dinner was supposed to be a nonpartisan affair, but remarked that the Democratic party is "so peaceful the Irish may move to the Republican party where the feuding is really going on."

Then, turning serious, the President said St. Patrick's Day is one in which America shares in a very definite sense because the Irish who came here had a dream of freedom and dignity.

"Here a man could hold his head as high as any other," he said, "and worship his God as he chose, without ever accounting to a soldier with a bayonet."

To an audience that interrupted frequently with applause, Johnson said nothing is more important to him than making this a land whose compassion will be an example to the world's other 119 nations.

School Marriages Often Flounder, Speaker Says

School marriages are comparatively numerous, may be a product of the times and frequently don't work out, Dr. Berle Fallon told the Rotary Club here Tuesday.

Dr. Fallon, member of the Texas Tech faculty and son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fallon of Big Spring, spoke on "Early Marriages in Our Society Today." His address was based on findings of a two-year study in 238 Texas school systems to find out how marriages had occurred, why and what happened to them.

"We found a total of 770 marriages in the schools studied," he reported. "About 80 per cent of them involved girls in school, who frequently married older or out-of-school boys."

He also said that, of 240 couples in one sample, only 16 remained together after five years of marriage.

Causes given for the early marriages listed the feeling of insecurity of the times, teenagers establishing adult sub-culture for themselves because they wanted adult privileges without the adult responsibilities, call for personal happiness, escape from difficulties, glamor of marriage, acceleration of adult status caused by parents pushing their youngsters up the social ladder, going steady, and automobiles.

Dr. Fallon said youngsters had a tendency to turn fads into trends and habits, leading to conformity.

"The system of mate selection in this country leaves it all to the youngsters," he continued. "The ease of getting a divorce helps to promote early marriages. The youngsters know that they can be separated if things don't go well."

The speaker said the study indicated the need for a good look at American home life, and the need for better communications between parents and youngsters. He said most youngsters, according to the study, would welcome a good firm "no," when problems arise in which they wanted their own ways.

A Devotional For The Day

Awake to righteousness, and sin not. (I Corinthians 15:34.)
PRAYER: O God, our Father, we rejoice in our aliveness in Christ, thanking Thee that we have passed from spiritual sleep to our awakened condition. Thanks be to Thee, O God, who hath given us the victory through Jesus Christ our Lord, in whose name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Unwise Fodder

Sit-ins and boycotts are two weapons used widely by integrationists to gain attention or to exercise leverage in behalf of demands. They produce varying results, but in the absence of more effective instruments, we may expect to see more of them.

However, there is one area in which the boycott is being used unwisely and that is by involving school children as participants. Mass absenteeism does not impress school trustees and other officials dealing with this problem. It only disrupts the learning schedule for children, and in many instances inflicts costly financial losses which most districts can ill afford.

None in authority is persuaded by using children as pawns in the game of pressures, and the distractions and emotional upheavals mean that only the children are losers while none is the winner.

Make Haste Slowly

The Supreme Court decisions concerning prayers and Bible reading in schools have produced a lot of protest, and currently efforts are being made to develop a legislative answer.

However worthy the motives, it is well to make haste, ever so slowly here in light of what the decisions really say. The matter of prayers does not abridge the right of prayers but rather the official requirement of prayers or the recitation of official prayers. Similarly, required reading of the Bible or reading of it as a school function are precluded.

law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. . . . If a devotional, with Bible reading, is permitted in a public school classroom the question immediately arises, is this a religious exercise? Of course it is, and a specific religion at that. Then who will read the Talmud or the Koran, and when?

We suddenly find ourselves in deep water indeed. Is it not far better to permit children and citizens to pray silently, to read the Bible when they choose, and to worship their God in their own church? Can we forget that most of the early settlers were fleeing from religious conformity in the Old World? With independence the framers of the Constitution clearly saw the necessity for preventing the federal government from having any voice whatsoever in the free exercise of religion.

It is conceivable that two-thirds of the members of Congress would approve a constitutional amendment on this subject, making it clear that the exercise is to be on a voluntary basis, and three-fourths of the states would ratify it. But will the American people thus willingly relinquish the freedom of religion now granted by the First Amendment?

The First Amendment plainly states that "Congress shall make no precious freedom will be lost if our Constitution is amended to give preference to one or more religions over others.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Score one for French President Charles de Gaulle. Big Charley, in his uniform and military cap, did all right without laying a glove on President Johnson.

In his first jostle with Johnson the Frenchman came through smelling like a rose, even though they were miles apart in their encounter, while the American President put the Latin Americans in a tizzy.

Johnson arranged to make a major speech to Latin-American ambassadors at the Organiza-

David Lawrence An Inflationary Move

WASHINGTON — The maneuvers in Congress could bring on a severe inflation and break down the national economy are sometimes hidden away in proposed legislation that outwardly appears to be designed to serve a beneficial purpose.

Do many people realize, for instance, that the unions are asking for the passage by Congress of a bill which, if enacted, could conceivably add at least $8 billion a year—and possibly several billions more—to the current expenses of American business and inevitably force prices upward to absorb such costs?

would be increased by billions of dollars more.

PLAINLY, minimum wages should in many cases be higher from the standpoint of humanitarianism. But there is a right way and a wrong way to go about it. The moment the federal government, by act of Congress, fixes the minimum wage, it engages, in effect, in wage control for all categories, and this, in turn, means price rises. Congress, however, for political reasons, doesn't want to set up an over-all system of wage control, as this would be opposed by the trade unions with big voting strength in the electorate. Business managements are against price control because they believe the laws of supply and demand in a free-enterprise system are effective only when not interfered with by government action.

ALTHOUGH IN a free enterprise system the government, except in wartime, isn't supposed to fix wages or prices, Congress is being urged to raise the minimum wage throughout the country from the rate of $1.25 an hour to $2. On the surface this looks like an inconsequential item. Also, who doesn't sympathize with the objective, which is to help in the "war on poverty" and give a better wage to many of the unskilled workers who are in the lower grades of employment?

But to move a person working a 40-hour week from a rate of $1.25 an hour, or $50 a week, to $2 an hour, or $80 a week, doesn't affect just those particular individuals. It means an overhauling of virtually the entire wage structure and a raising of wage rates all along the line.

BUT, IT WILL be asked, what of the low-wage earners? Should they be deprived of their increase? The answer is that, if Congress will undertake wage control and forbid any further increases in wages in other grades of employment, the minimum wage could readily be raised gradually and benefits given to the deserving workers. But since Congress will not tackle the wage-and-price-control issue across the board, there is only economic trouble ahead for the nation. A dangerous inflationary trend can be anticipated if the innocent-looking increase in minimum wages from $50 to $80 a week for unskilled workers is adopted.

THIS IS WHY the AFL-CIO unions—who really don't have many members in the lower grades of employment—are pushing hard for such a bill. The truth is that, if a worker who now gets $1.25 an hour is paid a rate of $2 an hour, the wage-earner who already has been receiving $2 an hour—because he or she is supposed to be of higher grade than the minimum-wage employee—will feel there should be a corresponding advance in pay.

BUT WHAT ARE the general effects? The AFL-CIO says all this would increase purchasing power. Unfortunately, however, many employers will find themselves unable to afford the higher wage costs. Prices would have to go up. This could mean less business and hence fewer jobs in the end.

If the federal minimum-wage law affected only the workers in the minimum-wage class, the cost of raising these workers alone to $2 an hour would mean an extra cost of around $8 billion a year to business. But when the wages of the higher-paid groups also are to be boosted, the new expense total confronting management

THE BIBLE says: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee." The Christian life is, among other things, a way of thinking. As you mature, you will find that God will help you replace most of these "bad thoughts" by good thoughts.

The Bible also says: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." The little verb "let" indicates that we can control our thought patterns. Just as previously, you have allowed evil thoughts to possess your mind, you may also let Christ control your thinking. The New Testament writers had a great deal to say about this problem. Paul wrote to the Philippians saying: " whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely . . . think on these things." Christian thought, like good art, comes through practice.

Terrible thoughts keep going through my mind. Does God hold us responsible for our thoughts? I want to please Him, but it distresses me that these awful thoughts come to me.

As long as we live in a world whose atmosphere is evil, bad thoughts may come to your mind. I have never yet met a person who told me they never had an evil thought. But there is a difference between "having a bad thought," and entertaining it. One may have an undesirable guest in one's home, but one doesn't need to hand the welcome sign out for undesirable.

TRA-LA, TRA-LA, SOMETHING TO CULTIVATE

James Marlow De Gaulle Smelling Like A Rose

WASHINGTON (AP) — Score one for French President Charles de Gaulle. Big Charley, in his uniform and military cap, did all right without laying a glove on President Johnson.

In his first jostle with Johnson the Frenchman came through smelling like a rose, even though they were miles apart in their encounter, while the American President put the Latin Americans in a tizzy.

Johnson arranged to make a major speech to Latin-American ambassadors at the Organization of American States on the very day, Monday, that De Gaulle landed in Mexico, uniform and all.

IF IT WENT right, Johnson would get as much front-page play in Latin America as De Gaulle since his talk was on how the United States and its southern neighbors could pull together better. But it didn't go all right.

While De Gaulle did all the nice things in Mexico, Johnson didn't do them here, or at least the ambassadors didn't think so. One reporter, who knows the ambassadors, said they were shocked and astonished at Johnson's speech.

This is how it happened. For weeks a special OAS committee had been trying to get Panama and the United States to settle their dispute over the Panama Canal Zone.

The night before the Johnson speech the OAS announced the two sides had agreed to sit down and discuss and negotiate their differences.

Latin-American diplomats said before the OAS committee released its announcement it had sought and got the approval of Thomas Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

U.S. officials now tell another story: That there had been no agreement, that Mann hadn't approved the announcement, that he had said he would need time to consider it, and that he consulted Johnson.

AT ANY RATE—this was Sunday night—a few hours after the announcement Republican senators denounced it. They didn't think the administration should agree to "negotiate" on the treaty. They said it looked like surrender.

The next day, Monday, Johnson went to the OAS to make his speech. He had it all prepared in writing. It turned out not to be a very good speech. It was hardly more than a collection of friendly and pious statements.

EVEN SO, if this had been all, while it might have disappointed the ambassadors it wouldn't have been enough to astonish them. Johnson proceeded to astonish them by injecting something that wasn't in the prepared speech.

He made official what the "high source" had said the night before. He said there had been no meeting of the minds with Panama.

Thus, in a talk which was supposed to be all about cooperation of Panama and (2) in effect he (1) injected the sore subject, told the OAS to its face that its special committee's announcement was all wet.

Hal Boyle Brings Bouncy Zest

NEW YORK (AP)—In show business they're never happy all the way until they prove themselves on Broadway.

That's the way Steve Lawrence felt. He had made it big as a television, recording and night club star.

He is starting now in a musical about a young Hollywood heel who throws away love and friendship — and just about every other decent human virtue — to keep from being "a loser."

It is a show that didn't stand the drama critics on their ears, but the public is going for it.

The big reason is the bouncy zest that Steve brings to the title role. In every ambitious human heart, there is a bit of willingness to sacrifice others to win our goals, and Steve brings the point home in a memorable way.

Lawrence, who could be making a lot more money singing to supper audiences, is having a ball on Broadway.

"It's a very rewarding feeling," he remarked, over a luncheon of a bloody mary and a pot of tea. "It has a separate kind of glow."

"But I think it would be harder for a performer to go from Broadway to the night clubs than vice versa. The night club field is a lot rougher one."

He is hopeful the musical will be a stepping-stone to the films.

"The more fields you can perform in the more you increase your chances of longevity. You don't want to outwear your welcome with the public, and you're less likely to do this if you are active in more than a single medium."

Lawrence, the son of a Brooklyn cantor, sang in choirs as a child, quit school in his senior year because a best-selling record put him in the $150-a-week bracket as a club singer. Earlier he had worked as a singing bus boy at summer resorts.

During a two-year stint in the Army he subsequently studied his way to a high school diploma.

Life is a three-ring circus to Lawrence. Married to singer Edie Gorme — they have two children—he writes songs and runs a recording company in his spare time. His hobby is watching horror and science fiction films with his wife.

"To me life is largely a compromise," Lawrence said, "and it's lived pretty much on the 50-yard line of a football field. You never quite make a touchdown."

"Everybody has to compromise between what he'd like to have and what he actually gets. But you have to pick your own level of compromise."

"Most people defeat themselves. They either go about a situation wrongly, or they give up too soon."

"But I believe anybody who puts honest dedication, intelligence, and perseverance into his work will wind up with something better than a kick in the face. He'll have some measure of success."

Lawrence has the lead role in "What Makes Sammy Run?"

proved considerably in recent years. Since 1947, an old drug, colchicine, is still very useful, but new ones, principally benamid, give us other ways to control gout. Correct combination of the new and the old drugs gives excellent results. The first purpose is to prevent further attacks; the second purpose is to stop them quickly if they occur.

I think it is a mistake to assume that ALL cases of gout are going to be agonizing. Like most other diseases, this one test verified what was obviously your doctor's original suspicion. Accept his judgment and he will work out a program of medication which will keep the gout under satisfactory control. There may be some flare-ups, but they will be subdued.

Discard the idea that gout is the worst thing that can happen. It isn't. And it is less bad these days, by far, than it was 15 or 50 years ago. We have better drugs now.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have fibroids in the womb. My gynecologist says I should not be alarmed, as he will check them periodically to watch their growth. Are they ever cancerous?

Do you feel I should consult another doctor? Is this the usual thing to do?—L. L.

No, it isn't the usual thing to do. There are times when consultation with another doctor is very wise, but this isn't one of them.

Fibroids are not cancerous. A great many women have them, and while it is wise to check them periodically, there is no reason to remove them unless they cause discomfort or trouble of some sort.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

To Your Good Health New Drugs Help In Gout Treatment

Dear Dr. Molner: Following a blood test, our doctor diagnosed my husband's toe pain as gout. This has been a blow because he recalls the pain that an uncle of mine had with gout around 1947.

What causes this disease? Is it curable? What is the customary treatment?

My husband's work requires him to do a lot of walking in all kinds of weather. Do you think that another doctor might give a different diagnosis, or is the blood test final?—MRS. F.P.

A patient with severe gout will put on quite a show of the pain he is experiencing—and I don't blame him. It can feel like sticking your toe into a bucket of bees.

A high concentration of urates (salts of uric acid) is characteristic of gout. The urates form into small deposits at various joints, the big toe being a favorite site but not the only one. We don't know what causes this. It is not "curable." But the treatment for gout has im-

Around The Rim A Plea For The Plidders

For a long time, we appeared to be in a trend which in effect made a great leveler of the educational process. In an effort to make certain that the least talented had every chance to learn, we may have slighted the exceptionally gifted or failed to challenge them.

istrators and committees on entrance seek to skim the cream off the cream. Naturally, with limited places available, they want them to be filled with those which seem most likely to make the grade.

THEN CAME a period in which it was popular to decry a passion for mediocrity, to insist that the brilliant pupils and students be winnowed from the great common herd so that they might be given special academic fare. And why not, if it is done wisely? There is no use wasting the talents of these young people or inflicting boredom upon them through lack of challenge.

BY THIS METHOD and these standards, however, Banting would never have made medical school, and hundreds of thousands of people might have gone to premature graves because of the absence of the insulin he discovered. The example could be expanded, for many of the discoveries of medicine have been made by the late-bloomers, the plidders, the slower-movers who nevertheless had new approaches, new dreams and tenacity.

But this can be and has been carried too far. It is overlooking elements in human beings which may not be measured by A, B and C. We are prone to rate a child's ability by his IQ, or by his grades. Both may be exceptionally high, and yet the individual be lacking in that spark that ignites the real genius.

THOMAS A. EDISON lacked the blessing of formal education, and he would never have made it into a modern lab had he had to depend on grades. The genius Steinmetz might well have been one of the culls.

WHERE THIS business misses the mark is not so much that it may produce a sort of intellectual snobbery, but that it cuts out of opportunity those who move at a different pace and in a different way than we are now able to measure. Nevertheless, some of our schools—and particularly our professional schools—use grades, IQs and other academic tests as the screen to separate its incoming students.

PERHAPS IT MEANS we need more medical and other professional schools. As costly and as difficult to staff as these are, they would be a small price to pay for assuring ourselves that our children have a chance to achieve the best that is within them. The final test is not the ability to reflect an academic echo, but rather to perform. —JOE PICKLE

It is getting where you almost have to be a straight A to get into medical and dental schools (and it has to be a strong A at that before you can be considered). Every year entrance gets tougher and tougher as admin-

ing to reflect an academic echo, but rather to perform. —JOE PICKLE

Holmes Alexander Freedom As Usual

WASHINGTON—It's too bad that the Supreme Court ruling in a case involving the New York Times' slandering of an Alabama police commissioner didn't happen in a better cause.

The court now makes it less risky of a libel suit for a newspaper to print damaging, even untrue material about a public figure, so long as the reporting isn't willfully malicious as well as being false.

America, just recently, a fine magazine editor, Robert Hotz, would not give us advance information on the hush-hush aircraft, A-11, because he was restrained by conscience, not by any fear of his government.

WHEN THE American press gets angry with its government over news policy, the reason is usually a reaction against unfairness. President Kennedy, although immensely popular and undisputedly admired by the Washington press corps, was not spared the sometimes deserved charges of news management. President Johnson, who will call a press conference if he sees two reporters together at a drinking fountain, was chided by his best friends into going on live television—because these news writers felt he was being unfair to the TV media, their own competitor.

BUT THE SOUTH, and a good many of other ideological minorities, have suffered from slanted reporting and advertising. The liberal press has often been the offender. Still, it is good to have the First Amendment upheld.

We need not expect, I believe, that the American press, or its individual contributors, will be altered in the least by what the court has done. Only in rare cases of the grandstand play does any publisher or writer purposely lay himself open to a damage suit. Those of us who sometimes write in haste and anger, will continue to do so, for errors made in passion are rarely prevented by fear of consequences. Most of us who feel deeply and hit hard will not change these tactics, which are the thrusts of the terrible, swift sword of truth. The souls of the timorous and tiptoe writers will not be stirred by the license which the court has offered.

These are some of the fallouts that come from freedom. The press in its liberty exerts a discipline upon itself, and it exerts an influence for impartiality upon the government.

PERHAPS PUBLIC persons will now feel that the Supreme Court has declared an open season upon them, and that their loss of some legal protection will make life rougher than ever. But since all men and women in public life are volunteers, I never did feel much sympathy for those who are touchy about bad press notices.

Nobody in public life, I daresay, is in any more danger from the press than he was before the court made its ruling. It was a good decision, but it wrought no change.

WHAT THE COURT ruling does, I believe, is simply to endorse an existing situation in which the American press fraternity is entitled to some pardonable pride.

In Britain, the Official Secrets Act keeps the lid on many scoop stories which probably ought to be printed.

EVEN SO, if this had been all, while it might have disappointed the ambassadors it wouldn't have been enough to astonish them. Johnson proceeded to astonish them by injecting something that wasn't in the prepared speech.

The fable above is approximately the way such intrusions look to the people charged with responsibility for the defense of Russia. To them the morality of destroying the airplane is unassailable.

If our armed forces continue to show a healthy interest in what is going on in the invasion corridors of East Germany, and if the Soviet air defense command stays on its toes, more such incidents are inevitable.

IT MAY, as our officials rightly insist, be no more than poor navigation and/or some sly Soviet deception. But it is comforting to speculate that it might also be that our armers are taking a proper—and courageous—interest in just what those maneuvering Soviet forces are up to.

Richard Starnes The Right Of Self-Defense

WASHINGTON — Assume for the sake of argument that Mexico has been occupied by a hostile power.

Assume further that this potential enemy has a record for dropping nuclear bombs on people it is bad friends with.

With this stage setting it is not difficult to dream up an imaginary presidential press conference that might go as follows:

PRESIDENT—"Early this morning an interceptor command radar in the vicinity of San Antonio detected an unidentified aircraft approaching the border on a northeasterly heading from the general vicinity of Monterrey. Interceptor aircraft based at Laredo were scrambled and made visual contact with the intruder in the neighborhood of Artesia Wells, which is a small town about 150 miles south of San Antonio.

"The intruder aircraft turned out to be a Bear-type airplane, bearing the markings of the Soviet Air Force. The Bear is a bomber which often is fitted for long-distance reconnaissance flights.

"OUR INTERCEPTORS repeatedly ordered the Soviet airplane to land, both by voice radio and by the universally accepted signal of lowering landing gear within sight of the Russian pilot. The aircraft did not comply, nor did it alter its course, and so at 7:25 this morning the intruding airplane was taken under fire and shot down.

"The United States believes that the aircraft was deliberately violating U.S. air space on an aggressive reconnaissance mission, and I have directed our ambassador in Moscow to make the strongest possible representations protesting this grave provocation."

WITH ONLY a little poetic license, that is a mirror image of what has happened in East Germany twice within the past six weeks.

Both times the Soviet Union charged the United States with conducting snooper flights along the tender bor-

Press Week Opens With Fashion Show

DALLAS (AP) — Designers of women's fashions believe that the "no care" qualities of clothes will become even more prominent as summer approaches.

As the 14th annual national press week of the Texas Fashion Creators begins, signs of things to come include such items as dacron tapered pants, "Lady Bird yellow," blazers with brass buttons, swinging pleats, the hootenanny dress and the sailor collar.

Lorch of Dallas showed Monday such creations as tapered pants with companion long-sleeved blouse, white knit dresses that feature soft pleats and sailor tie, and "Lady Bird yellow" trim for a four-button blazer costume.

Koben-Ligon-Folz introduced summer petites by Jeanne Durrell in po-iron summer dresses with saddle-stitching and permanently pleated skirts.

Kabro of Houston, with its "strictly for the birds" offering, displayed colors of robin red, canary yellow, blue jay blue, and parakeet pink in a collection of denim skimmer with pleats, dress bodices with pin-tucks and lace bands and two-piece numbers with swinging pleats.

Raden's Judy Juniors and Judy Petites offered the hootenanny dress and a dacron-cotton dress with French influence in its bias tiered skirt.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Powder Puffs Save Floors

Dear Heloise:

When it's necessary to move a refrigerator or any other heavy piece of furniture over a floor of linoleum or highly polished wood of any kind...

Place a powderpuff under each leg of the piece of furniture to be moved. The furniture will slide along without scratching or marring any of the floor.

Cori Singer

HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

When poaching eggs I have found a simple way to poach as many as you want at one time.

Take a piece of foil about the size of a folded napkin. Lay the square piece of foil over a can of evaporated milk and shape it to fit the can. Lift the foil "cup" off the can (this will look like little cup cake liners) and put some melted butter inside the little cup.

Put about one inch of water in a pot or skillet. The size will depend on how many eggs you wish to poach. Let the water come to a boil.

Set these little foil cups (which have butter in them) on top of the boiling water and the butter will melt.

Drop an egg into each foil cup, season them and cover the pot or skillet tightly with a lid. Cook to suit your own taste!

This saves time and the eggs will not stick as they usually do in an egg poacher. Also, if the eggs are put on the plate right in the tinfoil, instead of removing it, they will stay hot longer.

Egypt Sees Shortage In Future

CAIRO (AP)—The prospect of a servant problem is looming in Egypt's distant future with the unthinkable prospect that heretofore pampered males might have to do the dishes.

To be honest, the problem is far away, but still its probable effects on Moslem Egypt are being studied by the Social Affairs Ministry.

The idea of hubby going into the kitchen to help out was forwarded recently by the Ministry's planning director, Mustafa Meslemany.

All this came about because of a recommendation to the ministry that servants be guaranteed the minimum industrial wage, which is about four dollars monthly.

If a minimum wage were enforced maids would be priced out of the market in a country where the starting civil service salary for a college graduate is only 30 dollars a month. That is the hot potato being juggled by Meslemany, who has agreed "in principle" to the minimum wage.

Only three offices have more than one candidate. J. E. Althart will be listed ahead of Conley Esmond in the Precinct 1 commissioner's race, and J. E. (Shorty) Hancock will appear above that of incumbent Henry C. Mayfield in the sheriff's race; challenger Ralph Ranson's name will precede that of incumbent Alton Addison in the Precinct 3 commissioner's race.

He said that Nix has contributed use of the big building.

Budget Passes First Test

LAMESA (SC)—Lamesa City Council March 16 adopted on first reading the 1964-65 municipal budget which calls for expenditures of $889,446. The total is $23,116 less than the revised budget for the current fiscal year.

Solons also voted to drop all but years 1960 through 1964 from the auto valuation list for this year's tax roll. Previously, vehicles eight years old were taxable, whether rendered or unrendered. It was explained that rendering the older model vehicles was costing more than the city was collecting in taxes.

Overall valuations of all vehicles was slightly reduced for the 1964 tax roll.

Don Yarborough Due Here April 6

Frank Hardesty, county Democratic chairman, has been informed that Don Yarborough, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, will be in Big Spring on April 6. He will arrive by private plane from Lubbock at 6:30 p.m.

Experts Answer Questions On New Tax Cut, Refunds

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of changes and delay in enacting the tax cut law, the taxes withheld from paychecks will fall about $800 million short of meeting the actual 1964 tax bills of Americans. Millions of taxpayers will get smaller refunds than usual a year from now, and a good many — especially in middle and upper income brackets — will owe Uncle Sam more money.

QUESTIONS

The Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service are being bombarded with questions about why this "under-withholding" happened, what it means to individual taxpayers and the economy in general, and why steps were not taken to avoid the discrepancy.

Here are some of the questions and the answers given by tax officials and other experts:

Q: Are all taxpayers being "under-withheld"?

A: No, not nearly all. For the great majority of taxpayers, especially at lower-income levels, the withholding will cover tax liability. More people will get refunds than will have to pay extra.

Q: Which ones are likely to feel the pinch?

A: In general, those with incomes upward of $9,000 to $10,000 a year. The higher the salary, the less likely that withholding will be adequate.

HOW HARD?

Q: How hard will it hit?

A: At $15,000 income, a married taxpayer with two children and $2,500 of itemized deductions was under-withheld $5 for 1963. For 1964, even though his taxes are lower, he will be about $165 under-withheld.

Q: Why does it happen?

A: The withholding rate is now only 14 per cent. The actual tax rate is higher; and since it becomes progressively steeper at higher income levels, the gap widens as income increases.

Q: Wasn't the gap foreseen?

A: In the original tax cut plan it was not so large. That called for reducing the old 18 per cent withholding rate to 15 per cent in the first year and 14 per cent in 1965.

Q: Why was it changed to 14 per cent from the start?

A: Congress didn't move fast enough to get the reduction started at new year's. For two months of 1965 taxes were withheld at the old rate, 18 per cent. President Johnson proposed that the rate be dropped to 14 per cent for the last ten months of the year.

Q: Why?

A: It could have. But then millions of taxpayers would have been over-withheld. They would not have received the full benefit of tax reduction until a year from now. And the spur to business and employment would have been lessened.

The wide discrepancy lasts only one year. In 1965 the second stage of the tax cut takes effect, and the income tax rates will move down somewhat closer to the withholding rate.

REMAINS SAME

Q: But the withholding remains the same in 1965?

A: That's right. The employee's take-home pay will stay just the same as now; the withholding will still be at 14 per cent.

Public Whippings Are Ruled Out

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A bill calling for juvenile lawbreakers to be punished by public whippings was killed Tuesday by the House Judiciary Committee. "I guess you could say we beat it to death," quipped Rep. Thomas Whinery, R-Grand Rapids, chairman of the committee.
