How To Handle A Rattler

Bill Ransburger shows an audience the finer points of handling rattlers without being bitten. Here he tosses a long one up to get fangs away from him.

Hunters Nab 700 Rattlers

By M. A. WEBB
Around 700 writhing, striking and singing rattlesnakes had been brought to the Fair Barns in West Big Spring late Saturday, and more were being weighed in as closing time neared.
Some 2,000 persons were sampling fried rattlesnake meat, purchasing rattles and snake hides for 25 cents each, and watching snakes being weighed in, placed in the pit, milked, and then being handled in demonstrations.
Jaycee chairman of the roundup Walter Wheat said 65 hunters had registered, but that many more are expected to register before registration closes at 11 a. m. Sunday.
"Snakes may be brought in until 5 p. m. Sunday, and prizes and trophies awarded about 6 p. m.," he said.
Dalton Carr, 1601 Kentucky Way, leads in the number of rattlers brought in, with over 100. The longest brought in measures 65 inches, although there are several measuring fairly large in circumference.
Bill Ransberger, Sweetwater, demonstrated the handling of live snakes in a pit in the south barn. He lectured on types of poison venom and explained the difference between rattlesnake venom and that of other poisonous reptiles. He will lecture again today and show how live snakes are handled.

Shelie Downs, curator from Gainesville, Fla., took the job of milking the venom from the snakes. This is taken, by a team of U.S. Army research men, to Fort Knox, Ky., where it is used in research to find more effective treatment for snake bites.
Dr. B. D. Ashley and Dr. Jack Brown of the research division arrived Saturday. These men take the venom from the rattlesnakes back with them.
"The venom is kept cool as it is taken from the snakes," Dr. Brown said. "We take it back to our motel and place it in a deep freeze. When we leave we pack it in dry ice to insure its keeping qualities."
"The various components of the venom are studied in an effort to find better methods for treating snake bites. A lot has been done in this field, but a lot more must be done," he said.
The number of snakes brought in Saturday, and the number of hunters, ran fairly close to the 700 count last year in the first hunt sponsored by Big Spring Jaycees. More than 1,000 had been brought in at the close of the roundup in 1963.
No report of any hunter being bitten by a snake had been made at the show barns.

SURPRISE PANAMA MOVE

Johnson Is Ready To Review Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made a personal move Saturday to try to get talks with Panama back on the track.
Johnson walked unannounced into a routine briefing being held by press secretary George A. Reedy and surprised reporters by reading a detailed statement of his attitude toward the Panama dispute.

Johnson said: "We are prepared to review every issue which now divides us, and every problem which the Panamanian government wishes to raise. We are prepared to do this at any time and any place."

Although Johnson described the statement as a reaffirmation of U.S. policy, key phrases appeared to be sufficiently vague to leave ample room for maneuver in any settlement talks.

Initial Panamanian reaction was favorable.
Miguel Moreno, Panama's ambassador to the Organization of American States, said he would have to study the Johnson statement but commented, "It's what we have been working for since January."

Johnson said he was sending his statement to Juan Bautista de Laval, chairman of the council of the OAS who has been chosen to try to mediate the dispute. De Laval moved at once to set up a meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

After reading his statement, Johnson opened the floor to questions, launching what proved to be another impromptu news conference.

During the questioning, the President said that "obviously" restoration of formal diplomatic relations between the United States and Panama would have to precede any review of divisive problems.

Hurt Flier Released By Commies

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — Lt. Harold W. Welch, one of three U.S. Air Force fliers shot down over East Germany, was reunited with his fellow countrymen here Saturday after being held by the Communists since March 10.

The other two fliers remained in Communist hands. Welch, 24, a native of Detroit, had been hurt in parachuting from the plane.

The fate and whereabouts of his two comrades, Capt. David I. Holland, Holland, Minn., and Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, Philadelphia, were unknown. They are believed to be uninjured.

Welch, a navigator on the plane, was accompanied in the ambulance by Col. John A. Hennessen Jr., chief of surgery at Wiesbaden Hospital, who had visited the injured pilot twice in Magdeburg and had twice requested his release from the Russians. Both requests were denied at the time they were made.

Newsmen were not permitted to speak with either Welch or Hennessen in Helmstedt.

Those who saw Welch transferred from the ambulance to the plane in Hannover said he was wrapped in blankets and strapped to a stretcher. His right arm was covered with a white plaster cast.

They said Welch looked cheerful and gave all appearances of a "man who is happy to be back among his own."

United Nations Breakup Hinted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union stressed Saturday it would never help pay for the U.N. Congo and Middle East forces and hinted that any challenge to its General Assembly vote on that account might break up the United Nations.

A government statement issued by the Soviet delegation added that if any effort was made to withdraw its vote, "we may be obliged to reconsider our attitude toward United Nations activities."

The International Court of Justice has ruled against the Soviet Union, saying these are legitimate expenses which must be borne by all members.

The Soviet statement said any "groundless charges" prompted by Moscow's position would be regarded as "an unfriendly act towards the U.S.S.R."

The government said it would like to make "absolutely clear" it would regard any actions to take away the Soviet vote "as the actions of those who do not care for the United Nations and who do not take into account the prospect of its breakup as the result of such actions."

The Soviet Union is one of 18 countries that stand to lose their votes in the 113-nation assembly next fall if a controversial financial provision of the charter is applied. This provision, Article 19, says any U.N. member two years behind in its dues "shall have no vote" unless the assembly finds its non-payment stems from conditions beyond its control.

PRIVATE TALK
Diplomatic sources said the United States and Britain sought to head off a showdown over this article in a private talk with the Soviet delegation March 6.

They said the two proposed that the Soviet Union pay part of its Congo and Middle East assessments and accept a compromise giving the Security Council more power as against the General Assembly to start new peace-keeping operations, and creating a 15-nation assembly committee with big-power participation to arrange the financing.

The informants said the Soviet delegation had not yet had Moscow's reply to this proposal. But the statement seemed to herald a rejection.

CONTENTION
The United States and most other countries contend that Congo and Middle East dues must be counted along with regular budget assessments in figuring whether a country is two years behind.

They say that if the 18 countries now two years behind on that basis remain so when the assembly meets, they will automatically be without a vote unless, the assembly forgives them.

The Soviet statement said the government had come to know of talk lately in "certain circles connected with the United Nations" about restricting the Soviet vote under Article 19.

It said that article had "absolutely nothing" to do with the Congo and Middle East costs and such talk might "cause great and even irreparable damage to the United Nations."

SCREEN
It charged that the talk had been started by powers that had made the United Nations "a screen to cover their colonialist policies," "subjecting it to serious financial difficulties, and now were trying to shift the responsibility to others."

The statement said aggressors alone must bear the final consequences of their aggression.

INJUNCTION
Heads Off Rail Strike

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Louisville & Nashville Railroad obtained a temporary restraining order in U.S. District Court Saturday night to head off a threatened strike by four unions.

Judge Henry Brooks issued the order at the railroad's request and set a hearing for March 30.

The unions had threatened to walk out at 10:30 p. m. in a dispute over work rules.

The L&N issued a statement saying it had not received direct notice of the unions' intention to strike but obtained the order on the basis of statements which union officials gave to newspapers and press associations.

The walkout would have affected about 5,000 employees belonging to the Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Engine-men, Conductors and Brakemen and Railroad Trainmen's unions.

The L&N operates in Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Virginia and Illinois.

J. E. Wolfe, negotiator for the major lines in the long-standing work-rules dispute, said the temporary order, when granted, would be followed by a petition by Louisville and Nashville for a permanent injunction to keep the railroad operating.

Cubans Demand Return Of Copter, Defectors

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The military was reported investigating Saturday whether an armed Cuban helicopter, hijacked in Havana, slipped into Key West International Airport undetected by U.S. radar.

The Russian-built helicopter, armed with a 50-caliber machine gun, arrived Friday. The pilot was dead in the cockpit, wounded seven times by bullets.

SEIZED CRAFT
Two 20-year-old defecting Cuban army captains said they seized the craft in Havana. When the pilot refused to fly to the United States, the shooting started, they said.

The Cuban government demanded return of the helicopter and of the two defectors. The demand was delivered at the State Department in Washington. A Czech envoy contended that the two defectors had committed desertion, theft, treason and murder.

The Havana demand also asked the United States to hand over a third passenger who wants to return to Cuba.

REJECTED DEMAND
The United States rejected the demand. It said the helicopter was being held pending further investigation. However, a State Department spokesman said a U.S. plane was standing by ready to return to Cuba the body of the pilot and the crewman who wanted to go home.

The defectors could be returned only by extradition through the U.S. courts, the spokesman said.

They were taken to Miami for questioning, along with Sergio Roque, 17, a cadet gunner who witnessed the shooting. Roque said he wanted to return to Cuba.

Generally under international procedures, persons who seek asylum for political reasons are not forcibly sent back to the country from which they fled.

PLANNED CAREFULLY
The Cuban helicopter was flown to Key West by Guillermo Santos and Andres Izaguirre, both 20, who told U.S. authorities they had planned the action carefully in advance.

The pilot, Jose Marcia, was killed in a bloody battle over the Atlantic.

Unofficial sources in Key West said the helicopter apparently flew under the U.S. radar screen and that U.S. authorities were looking into the matter.

Apology, Protest Improve Relations

SAIGON, South Viet Nam. (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh's government protested to Cambodia on Saturday about the downing of a U.S.-piloted spotter plane by Cambodian fighters, but apologized for an attack on a border village of that neutralist neighbor.

Emphasis seemed to be on the apology.

Word from Phnom Penh, Cambodia's capital, was that the two nations appeared moving toward a settlement of their frontier dispute after nearly breaking up projected negotiations because of the related hostile incidents Thursday.

Cambodian sources said Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state, has been satisfied by the apology and by assurances from Brig. Gen. Huynh Van Cao, who heads the Vietnamese delegation in Cambodia, that the Vietnamese attack on Chantrea was a mistake.

The protest charged that two Cambodian T28 fighters chased and downed the L19 spotter plane that crashed on Vietnamese territory about 2 1/2 miles from the border. The Vietnamese observer was killed and the pilot was pulled seriously wounded from the burning wreckage.

"Viet Nam reserves all its rights to prevent such incidents happening again and to defend the integrity of its national territory," the Foreign Ministry warned.

Jury Finds Marion Guilty

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A jury Saturday night found James Lee Marion guilty of the murder of a Midland woman and fixed his punishment at death in the electric chair.

Marion, a 22-year-old Negro, sat impassioned as the verdict was read.

Asked later about the outcome of the trial, Marion said "I don't think it was a fair or proper verdict."

The jury returned its verdict approximately five and half hours after receiving the case but took time out for supper.

she mustered a happy smile.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Despite Winter's ugly effort to jerk the rug from under her, Spring put in her appearance last week. To be sure the mesquite and hackberry haven't confirmed it, but on the domesticated side golden forsythia, the flowering quince and yellow jasmine, the apricot and plum confirmed it. The mocking birds have, for several weeks, been trying to awaken everyone within listening to this happy prospect.

A spring shower, the first on the season, washed the record clean Wednesday. The display was boisterous and at times awesome, but welcome nevertheless. Gauges over the county caught .65 to 1.81 inches. The very next day, however, wind ascended from the west and before the day was out there was the makings of a good sandstorm, all less than 24 hours after rain. It wasn't unusual, for hard rain beats sand particles to the top, and the wind does the rest. The shower was a great boost to pastures just put.

1964 COUNTY SPELLING CHAMPION

Don Hickson Wins Title

By SAM BLACKBURN
Don Hickson, 13, a trim young seventh grader from Runnels Junior High School, is the 1964 Howard County Spelling Champion.

Don was declared champion of the county at the close of the Second Annual Howard County (Herald) Spelling Bee held Saturday morning in the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

He pushed steadily ahead through a grueling elimination to win the honor over 17 young spellers. Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hickson, 623 State, counted his victory of dual importance. First, he won the title and the attractive plaque that goes with it, and second he gave Runnels Junior High the honor of having the 1964 spelling champion.

Last year, the honor went to Goliad Junior High.

CHYRSALIS DID IT
Hickson, although he never faltered in his capable handling of the sometimes awesome polysyllables handed him by Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, the official pronouncer, had two determined opponents who fought hard to keep him from the title.

Goliad Junior High School-soft-spoken and slender Robert Chavez, 14, an eighth grader. Robert stayed grimly in the match only to fail in his spelling of "chrysalis." Hickson spelled the word his rival missed and clinched his title by spelling "codicil." Both youths were given a rousing round of applause by the well filled house.

MIGHTY MITE
The big thrill of the County Bee, though, was the amazing performance of tiny Susan Trim, 9, Susan, the champion of Washington Place Elementary School, gave her two boy rivals a run for their money and was in the contest almost down to the line. Susan, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Trim, 1417 Eelventh Place, is only a fourth grader. Her grasp of words won the admiration of the judges, the audience and her fellow spellers.

Susan dealt with the big words she was given with an aplomb that excited the listeners. When she finally met her Waterloo, there was a sign of disappointment from the audience. Susan sat quietly weeping for a few minutes, but when she was besieged by admiring fans later, she mustered a happy smile.

LBJ Riding High With Texas Voters

By JOE BELDEN
 Director, the Texas Poll
 Copyright 1964

President Johnson rides a high crest of popularity among his fellow Texans. Not only is he an overwhelming favorite for election to a full term of his own, but his general conduct of office is approved by more than eight out of 10, according to results of a Texas Poll recently completed.

If the general election were held today, the President could sweep Texas with at least three out of every four votes, no matter which of the most prominent Republican hopefuls ran against him. The survey also shows that Nixon could do as well as if not better than Sen. Barry Goldwater in carrying the GOP banner against the President.

This was the question interviewers asked: "Suppose the next election for President of the U. S. were being held today, and that the Democrats had nominated Lyndon B. Johnson and the Republicans had nominated Nelson Rockefeller. Which would you like to see win?" The same question was asked for Goldwater and Nixon. The results among potential voters were these, compared with replies in a similar survey made last December:

LBJ vs. Nixon:	Per cent
Johnson	75
Nixon	19
Undecided	6

LBJ vs. Goldwater:	Per cent
Johnson	77
Goldwater	17
Undecided	6

LBJ vs. Rockefeller:	Per cent
Johnson	85
Rockefeller	6
Undecided	9

The forthcoming presidential popularity poll to be included in the Republican primary May 2 will not carry the name of Richard Nixon because he withdrew it and because he is not an announced candidate. It is obvious from this survey, however, that a ballot that omits Nixon's name will hardly be a realistic reflection of the GOP potentials in the state.

Nixon's strength, relative to that of Goldwater, who has been heralded by his supporters as the number-one choice among Texas Republicans, is further demonstrated by an examination of our results among independents. It is the independent voter—who disclaims both Democratic and Republican party labels—upon whom the GOP must depend greatly in order to show strength on election day.

Among these independents, Nixon polls 35 per cent against LBJ's 32, and Goldwater polls 33 against LBJ's 55. Gov. Rockefeller's key weakness in Texas is also revealed by his poor showing among independents: 7 per cent to 74 for LBJ. The tabulation below is a combination of the people most likely to support Republican candidates (those who call themselves Republicans plus the independents):

LBJ vs. Nixon:	Per cent
Johnson	47
Nixon	42
Undecided	11

LBJ vs. Goldwater:	Per cent
Johnson	50
Goldwater	38
Undecided	12

President Johnson's great strength as a candidate in Texas today is due largely to the tremendous support he has within the majority party. More than nine out of 10 self-styled Democrats favor him over Nixon, Goldwater, or Rockefeller, respectively. How long this condition will last may depend a good deal on the fight now brewing in Congress over civil rights legislation instituted by President Kennedy and now espoused by Johnson. The Gallup Poll showed a sharp drop in favor of Kennedy in the South after the late President made his strong civil rights address in June 1963.

A Texas Poll on the program taken shortly after that indicated widespread opposition to the program in Texas.

Johnson's popularity in Texas has declined while he was vice president, right along with President Kennedy's. But today Johnson has bounced back to unprecedented heights.

Board To Study Bond Plans

A called school board meeting, to consider further plans and cost estimates for proposed buildings, additions, and alterations, has been set for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Gold Room at the Big Spring Country Club.

The meeting will be limited to the purpose for which it is called," Supt. Sam Anderson said. "The school architect will go over all phases of the proposed program and the board should establish priorities, determine the amount of a bond issue, and set the time for calling an election."

Atmar Atkinson, of the school's architectural firm of Atcheson, Atkinson and Fox, Lubbock, will be present with preliminary plans.

At its March 10 meeting the board authorized complete plans for additions to the high school.

Studies also include research on how to stop smoking, new anti-cancer compounds, treatment methods for restoring blood cells in irradiated animals experiencing bone marrow damage, lung cancer early detection, transplantation of bone marrow cells, stomach secretions in gastric disorders, secretions in gastric disorders, preventing spread of cancer cells during and after surgery, diagnosis of liver cancer, drug in combination with radiation therapy, effectiveness of thermography in cancer diagnosis.

C-City Lions To Present Opory Troupe April 2

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Lion's Club announced a Grand Old Opory Show at Colorado City for Thursday, April 2, at the high school auditorium.

The show will star Lefty Frizzell, country and western singer and Tex Ritter, well known Western singer.

Rose Maddox, another popular singer, will also entertain. A four piece western band will accompany the singers.

Advance adult tickets will be $1.50 but tickets sold at the door will cost $2.00. Tickets for children will be 75 cents. A Lion's Club spokesman said that tickets may be obtained by writing to Box 1149, Colorado City, Texas, with check or money order and stamped, self-addressed envelope enclosed.

Shows will begin at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. and mail order customers should state a preference. Proceeds go to the Lion's Club Boy Scout Troop.

Student Kills Self Electrically

TOKYO (AP)—A 17-year-old student electrocuted himself Friday with two copper plates and a time switch.

Police said Yuji Sakakibara attached one copper plate over his heart and another to his back with a wire. The wire was connected to the time switch.

Yuji's family said he recently suffered a slight nervous breakdown.

SIN BARS THE DOOR

Before he went back to heaven, Jesus said to certain ones, "... I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sin; whither I go, ye cannot come." (Jno. 8:21). Sin bars the door to heaven.

Thus we must either die before becoming guilty of sin, or else be saved from our sins, if we are to go to heaven.

If death comes "before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good" (Isa. 7:16), there is no doubt about his reaching heaven.

But it is a sad truth that all who live to become accountable before God, become partakers of sin (Rom. 3:10, 19).

Teen-Ager Killed

WACO (AP)—John Eugene Stell, 19, died last night after his car collided with another and crashed into a utility pole. The 16-year-old driver of the second car escaped with minor hurts.

Board To Study Bond Plans

Dr. Seybold also said 164 grants, totaling $3,675,069, have been awarded nationwide by the National American Cancer Society. The ACS has devoted more than $130,000,000 to cancer research since the support program began in 1945.

New grants made were for: Study of virus causation of cancer, how cancer-causing substances trigger the malignant process, immunological differences between tumor and normal cells, new methods to protect animals from developing leukemia, changes in lung tissue in animals made to smoke cigarettes, biochemical control mechanisms in leukemic white blood cells, action of steroid hormones, tumors of the endocrine glands in children, more precise classification methods of human tumors, biochemical changes in abnormal skin conditions, abnormal proteins in blood of cancer patients.

Annual Pageant Plans Announced

The current Miss Texas titleholder—Geanne Amacher—Beaumont—and Miss Abilene—Marilyn Kay Vandever—will be in Big Spring for the annual Miss Big Spring beauty pageant sponsored by the Japcees. The pageant will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 4 in the municipal auditorium.

The deadline for entering the pageant is April 1. Jaycee president Jim Wright, said. Entries and information may be received from Mrs. Kathleen Graves or Jack Orr, at the First National Bank. Mrs. Graves has also been named pageant chaperone.

Twelve girls had entered by Friday, Wright said, but more are encouraged to enter before April 1. The winner of the Miss Big Spring pageant will be entered in the Miss Texas pageant at Fort Worth July 14. She will also get a full wardrobe, donated by eight merchants; the trip to Fort Worth, $50 in cash, a trophy, and her crown. If she wins at Fort Worth there will be additional prizes.

Judges named, and who have indicated that they would serve, are: public relations director of Trans-Texas Airways, R. L. Merkel, and second vice president R. E. (Dick) McKaughan Jr., of TTA.

A party will be held at 7 p.m. April 1 at Cosden Country Club as a get-acquainted party, Wright said.

The first rehearsal will be held at 7 p.m. April 2; a dress rehearsal at 7 p.m. April 3, at the auditorium, and a parade at 11 a.m. April 4 in the downtown area.

"Following the parade a tea will be given at Cosden Country Club, about 11:30 a.m.," he said. "This will be to honor Miss Texas, her first runner up, Miss Abilene, and local contestants and judges."

President Grants Woman's Wish

MANILA (AP)—The wish of a woman said to be 111 years old to see her grandson freed from prison before she dies has been granted by President Diosdado Macapagal.

Macapagal signed a conditional pardon for Aristotle O. Rosales, sentenced in 1960 to serve 4 to 10 years for assault. The move had been recommended by the parole board.

Ranchman's Profit Hit By Tenacious Mesquite

If the rangelands of Howard County, now heavily infested with mesquite, could be cleared of this brush, the ranchers owning that land would be able to produce more beef and by producing more beef increase their income as much as $1.80 per acre per year.

The story goes like this: A mesquite requires from 1,700 to 1,900 pounds of precious water to produce a pound of growth. Better grasses need only 400 pounds of water to produce a pound of growth. An inch of rain spread over an acre of land represents 216,000 pounds of water. If mesquite did not exist on this acre, this inch of rain would produce 540 pounds of grass.

MORE BEEF

Experts say that 540 pounds of grass will produce eight to nine pounds of beef. At $20 per hundred, this amount of extra beef would bring the rancher from $1.60 to $1.80 additional revenue.

Nor is this all. Earl V. Hogan, range conservationist with the Martin-Howard County Soil Conservation District, points out the disturbing fact that mesquite brush is invading and taking over more West Texas range land each year. This invasion is moving faster than the brush is being controlled. Each year, this invasion takes thousands of dollars out of the pocket of ranchers. The situation, it seems, will get worse as time passes.

FIGURES

"If a rancher sprays his rangeland to destroy the mesquite," said Hogan, "the period this effort will be effective will be about 5 years. It will cost the rancher about $3 an acre to treat his mesquite with spray. In five years time, the tract which has been sprayed will produce enough additional beef to bring in $5 per acre to the owner. This will give him a $5 return on his $3 investment over the 5 year period."

Hogan said that all known measures of brush control will more than pay for the control cost. However, the more expensive measures, he pointed out, have a longer effective life. The income over the cost of brush control, therefore, where these methods used is not as great as with spraying.

BRUSH CONTROL

O. E. Hamlin, The Wilson Ranches, Lee Reed, Lorin McDowell, F. W. White, Edwards Brothers, and Dora Roberts Estate are some of the ranch operators who have carried on some brush control in the past year.

Chapman Attends Bankers' Meeting

Carlton J. Chapman, agricultural officer for the State National Bank, was guest of honor and special guest speaker at a meeting of the National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers in Abilene Saturday night.

Chapman discussed a system of banking forms which he has developed for expediting the handling of bank activities dealing with agriculture.

The forms, which have caused much comment in banking circles, were given national publicity in a bank magazine some months ago and, as a result, Chapman has had many letters relative to the system.

He took samples of the forms he uses with him to Abilene and they were projected to illustrate the special features. The meeting was in the Starlight Inn.

BURIED METAL BOX YIELDS REPUBLIC OF TEXAS MONEY

LAMESA (SC)—A weird box yielded what is believed to be a valuable cache of old Texas currency to a 14-year-old Dawson County youth recently.

Don Etheredge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Etheredge, Union Community, unearthed a rusty container near his home while playing basketball. Etheredge had to use a vise to open the 2x4-in. metal container, but found inside five Republic of Texas currency notes—all in perfect condition.

The five bills were in denominations of $50, $20, $10, $5 and $3 and some were signed by the first Texas president, Sam Houston. Dates on the bills ranged from 1837 to 1841.

Some of the bills also bore the Government of Texas title. The $20 and $10 bills were different than the other three, being promissory notes issued by an Act of Congress, Houston.

The Etheredge family has lived on the farm for several years and has no way of knowing how long the bills had been buried.

O'Donnell School Slates $275,000 Bond Election

LAMESA (SC) — Trustees of O'Donnell Independent School District have called a $275,000 bond election to finance a number of improvements—the second major construction program in the system in about two years.

The board called a bond election for April 4 after petitions bearing signatures of 64 qualified voters had been presented. Balloting will be done in the school auditorium from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. Patrons will also be picking two trustees from a field of three, including incumbents Julian Pirtle and Dick Franklin.

The building program proposed includes: $150,000 for a new 15,000 square foot gym seating 600; $65,000 for a 6-classroom addition to junior high; $22,000 to remodel and equip the cafeteria kitchen; $12,000 for architect's fees; $3,000 for bond financing; and $23,000 as a reserve, which will be used to remodel high school facilities and expand the transportation system if not required in the overall program.

Patrons in 1961 voted to construct the present junior high structure and remodel the old building for offices and 10 classrooms. The project, costing about $115,000, was completed in the summer of 1962.

Should the bond issue carry, a 25 per cent tax hike would be required. The hike would be due in part to an overall budget increase and not entirely for bonds.

SMILING APPEAL FROM CANYASSERS Kandis Long, Sheryl McLaughlin and Linda Kirby

Easter Seal Volunteers To Begin Contact Monday

Scores of volunteers will knock on doors Monday to appeal for support of the annual Easter Seal drive on crippling diseases. The city has been zoned into 10 areas, and contacts also will be made at Sand Springs and Coahoma, and at Elbow and Forsan. The objective is to call on every home between the hours of 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., inviting support of the campaign, explained Mrs. Rube McNew, Easter Seal chairman. Bulk of the funds remain in Howard County to be used by the local chapter. A small portion goes to the state organization for research and for treatment of those with crippling diseases.

Heading up the "Citizens Move on Crippling Diseases" is Ray White, chairman, with Mrs. Buford Hull and Mrs. Dwight McCann as co-chairmen.

The Future Homemakers of America are taking one division, with Kandis Long heading arrangements for the Senior High Chapter. Sheryl McLaughlin for Goliad Junior High, and Lynda Kirby, for Runnels Junior High. Others with divisions are Mrs. George Foster, Mrs. W. P. Edwards Jr., Garrett Patton and his Scout Troop No. 4, Mrs. Clinton Muse, Mrs. Jesse Hernandez, Mrs. D. E. Travis, Mrs. Joe Horton, Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Mrs. A. W. Gerhart, Julian Fisher and Mrs. Howard Dodd. Mrs. T. A. Harris Jr., Mrs.

Shriver Denies Any Buildup

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR. and JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver, chief of President Johnson's war on poverty, says he is "not particularly" interested in becoming Johnson's vice-presidential running mate next fall.

Shriver, in an interview, also denied that his selection by Johnson to head the campaign against poverty was part of any buildup for vice president, or any political office.

CHIEF ARCHITECT
The brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, widely acclaimed for his work as director of the Peace Corps, was chief architect of the program sent to Congress last Monday.

Shriver, 48, has been mentioned frequently as a prospective candidate for vice president.

In drafting the anti-poverty program, he said, there had been no pressure from Johnson for impressive results before next November's presidential election.

"That has never been suggested to me, even indirectly, as a factor to be taken into consideration in this program," Shriver added.

On other subjects, Shriver said:

DISAGREEMENT
—There was more disagreement in organizing the Peace Corps than there has been in planning the poverty program.

—He hopes the program will be acceptable to any Republican administration, if the GOP wins next fall.

—He feels it is technically possible to eliminate extremes of poverty in the United States. Some of the questions and answers:

Q The Peace Corps did not cost a lot of money, and most people were in favor of it. The poverty program is going to involve billions and may be very controversial. How would you compare the two programs?
A. First of all, I would have to disagree with the major premise that the Peace Corps was not controversial and everybody agreed with it. I can remember going to the Foreign Affairs Committee in the House and being told by leading Democrats that there were probably not more than two or three out of the 35 people on it in favor of it.

NO QUESTION
I would have to say there is no question in my mind that the Peace Corps was just as controversial, but perhaps not as conspicuous as the poverty program.

Now with respect to the amount of money involved, there is no question that this is a much larger program in terms of money. But I think you have to always put the money up against the number of people involved.

We estimate that the program could possibly reach 600,000 people in its first year, so that in terms of the number of persons involved in the program, this program in dollars and cents is not something out of proportion to the Peace Corps.

IN MEMORY

Moore School Bells Ring Today

School bells will ring in memory today at 1 p.m. in the City Park for former pupils of the Moore school.

Special memorial will be said for W. F. (Frank) Cook, who was principal of the school for many years, and for three young men who gave their lives in service to World War II—Joe Lusk, J. W. Payne and Joe Burchett. Last year's reunion honored Mrs. H. R. Debenport, one of the early teachers.

Should weather be against the outdoor function, the reunion will be held at the IOOF Hall at Tenth and Magnolia.

Those (and members of their family) who attended Moore school from its inception in 1906 until it passed out of operation four decades later, are urged to take part. Miss Bertha Willis was the only teacher in 1906 when a small frame structure was built to serve 15 pupils. As the enrollment grew the building was enlarged, finally succumbing to fire in 1949. By 1908 the school required two teachers, then three in 1921, four in 1934 and finally five in 1935. Later the district was combined with Big Spring Independent School District.

Land for the school was given by the late A. K. (Uncle Abner) Merrick, and all 10 of his children attended there, including three who later became teachers, Lillie (Mrs. H. G. Hill), Mrs. Faye Leatherwood, and Mattie Lou (Mrs. Robert Scherhorn of Dallas). Mr. Merrick himself served as trustee for many years as did 22 other men in that community.

Capt. R. E. Arent received the unusual honor of receiving four awards during the dining-in Friday for members of Class 64-F at Webb AFB. About 125 students, instructors, and civilian guests attended the meeting.

Capt. Arent received the outstanding achievement in officer training award from Capt. Alan J. Grill, chief of officer training for the 3561st Student Squadron; the distinguished graduate award from Col. Rex D. Fryer, Wing executive officer and acting deputy for training; the Commander's Trophy and the Well Done Trophy from Col. A. F. Taute, Wing commander. In addition, the captain will receive a congratulatory letter from Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, Air Training Command commander.

Capt. L. G. Hodge received the outstanding academic achievement award from Capt. Nelson Allen, academic instructor, and Capt. Philip Murphy won the outstanding flying achievement award, and a T-38 model for outstanding airman-ship, receiving both from Capt. Charles F. Luther, flight commander of Jaguar Flight. Major Walter H. Baxter, Maxwell AFB, Ala., was guest speaker for the program. He is a former Webb AFB training officer, serving here until last July when he was assigned to attend Air Command and Staff School.

Maj. Baxter was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy, class of 1950 and from January-August, 1952, he was with the 12th Fighter Squadron in Korea.

Basing his talk on personal experience as a combat pilot, Maj. Baxter emphasized that officers must seek responsibility instead of waiting until it is thrust upon them. He said that it is equally important to be a good officer and a leader as it is to be a skilled pilot. He said that the first responsibility of a training command is to produce pilots for the commands. Using the axiom the better the training the better the product, he told the graduating pilots never to underestimate themselves, for the U. S. Air Force produces the best trained pilots in the world.

AFA Chapter Here Receives Charter

The Big Spring Squadron of the Air Force Association was officially recognized Friday night as a member of the Texas Wing and the 14th squadron in Texas. At a meeting in the Webb AFB academic auditorium, Jack Cook, membership chairman, announced that the squadron had attained a membership of 249, making the Big Spring Squadron the fourth largest in the state.

Joseph H. Corbin, commander of the Amarillo Squadron of AFA, swore in the officers of the Big Spring Squadron—Lester Morton, commander; Walter Morrison, vice commander; Bill Crocker, secretary; and A. J. Statser, treasurer.

Guest for the evening was the Texas Wing Commander of the AFA, Jesse James Waldon Jr. (General USAF Retired.) Waldon said he had never seen a group organize so quickly or gain membership so rapidly as the squadron here. "Within a few weeks you have grown to be the fourth largest squadron in Texas, and with the excellent community relations you have between Webb AFB and Big Spring, you have the capability to become the number one squadron in Texas."

Waldon compared the squadron's growth with the growth of the Texas Wing. "Four years ago the Texas Wing of the AFA was formed and we stood in twenty-second place in voting strength. With the addition of the Big Spring Squadron, we hold second place in voting strength, and only the state of California has more squadrons. With a concerted effort, we can be the number one Wing in the nation."

Waldon presented Morton with the Squadron Charter, stressing the fact that the Air Force Association devotes itself to interesting young people in aerospace education; working with the Air Force to help retain trained men; protecting the interests of Air Force personnel; helping improve housing and pay allowances; and helping to get and retain the best equipment and military installations in the world.

The meeting closed with the showing of two Air Force films.

More Club Fliers Up

By M. A. WEBB
More individual club members signed up to fly club airplanes during the past week, but transient and distance flights have been scarce at Howard County Airport. A total of 26 flights, some long and some short, were listed on the schedule books.

One unscheduled flight, by Howard Loyd in the Big Spring Aircraft's Comanche, was made Thursday when he made an ambulance flight to Temple.

Webb Aero Club members up were: Cessna 150-O'Day (3), Kennard (3), Simmons (5), Norrington, and Strickler; Mooney—Kennard.

Big Spring Flying Club member flights recorded were: Colt—Wayne Bartlett, Dick Naiser; Skyhawk—Ralph Rogers (4), Bob Caffey (2), Bob Brock, and Wayne Bartlett.

National Health Program Called For By Union

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Declaring that medical care "can no longer be organized as private monopoly," the United Auto Workers Union Saturday called on its leaders to develop and promote enactment of national health programs for all, regardless of income.

Some 3,000 delegates to the UAW's international convention shouted approval of the proposal after a former prime minister of Saskatchewan reported a government-sponsored medical care program in that Canadian province had resulted in an increase of doctors, and better care.

T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic party of Canada and sponsor of the Saskatchewan plan that sparked a 1962 doctor's strike, said opposition politicians no longer propose to abolish medical care but insist their parties would improve it.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther then called up a resolution proposing medical care "within the framework of public programs assuring an equitable distribution of costs."

It asked both U.S. and Canadian leaders to "take the initiative in bringing together labor and other progressively minded organizations to develop and promote enactment" of national programs.

The delegates also approved another resolution endorsing group medical practice such as that provided by Community Health Association of Detroit, Health Insurance Plan of Great-

WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

Neurosis is defined as a mild emotional disorder in which you might experience feelings of anxiety, make compulsive acts and usually have physical complaints without specific evidence of disease. Psychosis is any major, severe form of mental illness.

Most everybody has a neurosis occasionally and sometimes a mild tranquilizer is prescribed to help ease the stress. With a psychosis, treatment calls for strong medication in many cases. ### Suggestion Winners

Suggestions Mean Money In Bank

It was money, money, money for some 20 military and civilian personnel who this year made suggestions through the Webb AFB Military - Civilian Incentive Awards program.

From a high of $70 to a low of $5 suggestors had improvement ideas that ranged from the flight line to the administrative offices. Franklin D. Shaw received a $70 check for his idea to improve methods in unloading freight in the commissary.

A sergeant and his wife each had approved suggestions. S. Sgt. John J. Kahler of Civil Engineers proposed a check and replacement of burned out street lights. His wife, Anna, who works in Support Squadron, suggested an improvement in the safety of automobile drivers. His idea was worth $25; hers $30.

Other suggestors were Mrs. Jeanine Fletcher, base hospital, $30 for an improvement in mechanized preparation of requisitions for the medical supply account.

T. Sgt. Charles D. Hoover, Organization Maintenance Squadron, $25, for an improvement in methods to change aircraft wheels and tires.

S. Sgt. James A. Craft, Field Maintenance Squadron, $25, for an elimination of a hazard in aircraft cockpit entrance and departure.

Airman 2.C. Duane D. Arnold, OMS, $25, for improvement in method to replace T-38 battery clamp screws.

Airman 3.C. Carl R. York,

$24, for improvement in cleaning aircraft parts.

Homer L. Conner, Support, $25, for improvement in painting interiors of dormitories and office buildings.

Fifteen dollar awards went to Mrs. Beverly Branch, Supply for improvement in method to process redistribution orders; Mrs. Margie N. Ferguson, Supply, for improvement in processing funded equipment type back order releases; Mrs. M. Joy Dugan, Support, procedures improvement to prevent disruption of utility service; and Miss Ruthie Harris, Air Base Group, improvement of method to prepare civilian personnel weekly strength report.

Also, $15 to Mrs. Birdie Westbrook, AB Gp., suggesting improvement of civilian personnel program; and Mrs. Ellen B. Wineinger, AB Gp., improvement in procedures used to process USAF Form 641, Position Survey Report.

Three received $10 checks: S. Sgt. George Power, Supply, for improvement of checkout procedures in exchange facilities; S. Sgt. Charlie Price, FMS, for an elimination of a possibility for pinched oil gaskets leaks and T. Sgt. Vernon R. Nofziger, Comm. Det., for elimination of a hazard on the firing range.

Five dollar awards went to S. Sgt. Albert McManus, Supply, for improvement of warehouse location markers, and S. Sgt. George Prodonovich, Weather, for an improvement to the method used to transmit and receive weather information.

Texas Crime Rate Climbs During 1963

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas crime rose to a new high in 1963 with increases reported in every major crime, the Department of Public Safety said Saturday.

"The ever-increasing disregard for law and order in this era cannot be blamed entirely on the increase in population, because the rise in crime is consistently outstripping the population increase," said Director Homer Garrison.

Crimes reported to the department totaled 229,254, an increase of 5.8 per cent over 1962 and an 88.6 per cent rise over the total 10 years ago.

Murder and homicide were up 8.5 per cent; rape 14.2 per cent; robbery up 10.6 per cent; burglary 4.9 per cent; aggravated assault 4.4 per cent; theft up 6.6 per cent and auto theft up 2.8 per cent over 1962.

The crime rate per 100,000 population rose from 2,621 offenses in 1962 to 2,393 in 1963. The 1963 crime rate was 1,583 crimes per 100,000 persons.

Garrison said the national crime increase, as measured by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was 10 per cent—higher than the rise in Texas crime.

The department said a murder occurred every 8 hours, a rape every 6 1/2 hours, a robbery every 3 hours, burglary every 9 minutes, aggravated assault every 39 minutes and an auto theft every 31 minutes.

"The constant rise in lawlessness in the past 10 years is a shocking and shameful commentary on the conduct of our society in our time," Garrison said. "It should serve as a challenge to every responsible Texan to examine every possible means of combatting this menace to his community and take appropriate action."

School Board Workshop Set At Texas Tech

A school board workshop, designed to help school leaders in their supervisory work, is set for April 16, at Texas Technological College. The meeting will start at 3 p.m. in the Student Union ballroom, and will conclude with a dinner.

Theme for the workshop is "Local Leadership for Public Education," and these topics will be discussed:

School board leadership for education, school program, program, professional personnel for the schools, school finance, school-community relations, local school problems.

POSTAL SCALES NEED UPDATING

W. A. Cooke, General Delivery Clerk, ponders problem

Parcel Post Rates Go Up

Rates on parcel post will be increased in April by 13.1 per cent according to A. A. Porter, assistant postmaster.

The new rate, the post office department estimates, will produce about $75,400,000 additional revenue per year.

At the same time, the rate for mailing catalogs will be upped about 13 per cent—which will mean an additional $2,400,000 a year.

The new parcel post rates, according to Porter, apply only to domestic parcels. Air mail parcel post and international parcel post will remain unchanged.

Porter said that the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the increased rate and that it is in accord with the efforts of the postmaster general to reduce the drain on the federal treasury, $100,000,000 annually.

The last parcel post increase was in 1960.

The new rates as applied here, according to Porter, can be illustrated by explaining a 6-pound package, for local area delivery, will cost 37 cents where the old rate, now applicable, is 32 cents.

One problem the new rate increase poses is in the tables on the postal scales for quick calculation of rates. The tables are so designed that a parcel placed on the platform is recorded automatically on the dial not in ounces or pounds but in fees.

All of the dials will have to be replaced with new figures to match the increased rates.

"We are hoping the new tables will arrive ahead of the date the increases become effective," said Porter. "We'll have a hectic time figuring fees if we do not have the new tables."

Rep. Heatly Has Surgery Friday

LUBBOCK (AP) — Rep. Bill Heatly, veteran member of the Texas Legislature and chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was listed in satisfactory condition today following surgery.

The operation took place Friday in a Lubbock hospital. It was for removal of his appendix and gallstones.

Heatly, serving his fifth term from the 88th District, lives in Paducah.

Accidental Death

DUMAS (AP) — Justice of Peace Bob Sims returned a verdict of accidental death after George Pete Eads, 46, was found shot to death at his home Friday. Officers said Eads was cleaning a gun when it discharged.

Who's Running Store? No One Knows In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — With India's problems mounting, no one in New Delhi seems capable of answering the biggest question facing the government today: Who's running the store?

A leadership vacuum has developed in India's capital. It is potentially more dangerous than the one that immediately followed Prime Minister Nehru's serious illness.

Hazy lines of governmental authority established after Nehru suffered a stroke Jan. 7 have been blurred even more since his partial recovery. He is not physically able to run the store himself but is fit enough so it is impossible for any one of his subordinates to do the job.

As a result, important decisions are delayed and on at least two major foreign policy issues India apparently is without meaningful, constructive direction.

In Parliament, all eyes dart from the minister who is acting as government spokesman to Nehru, sitting hunched over in his front row bench.

Does the spokesman have Nehru's backing? Is Nehru nodding in agreement? Frowning in disapproval?

In such ways the capital tries to determine how the governmental winds of decision—or indecision—are drifting.

It is fact of Indian political life that no politician can flourish, no leadership combination can flourish in Nehru's shadow—and he has cast a big shadow as the nation's only prime minister in 17 years of independence.

With Nehru in a sickbed, many Indians were genuinely surprised to see other potential leaders among the men who had followed in Nehru's footsteps for so many years. Some of the Congress party men around Nehru began to assert their ideas.

Then, Nehru's health improved enough to enable him to resume his seat in Parliament, and occasionally appear at public functions.

One effect was an immediate downgrading of the men who had moved in while he was ill. Lal Bahadur Shastri, Nehru's righthand man and once considered his sure successor, is not the strong figure he was even a month ago.

Foreign diplomats who see Shastri with their problems doubt they have talked with the real source of power in the Indian government. The diplomats aren't sure Shastri can put his finger on the button that makes things go.

Those seeking high-level governmental decisions try to touch all bases with calls to at least three ministries and, many times, to Nehru's garden for a hurried cup of tea. His physicians restrict visitors to 20 minutes.

Arkansas Republicans Like Winthrop, But Not Nelson

By WILLIAM SIMMONS
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Republicans like the idea of running Winthrop Rockefeller for governor.

But they prefer Sen. Barry Goldwater to Rockefeller's brother, Nelson A., in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

The varying attitude toward the two Rockefeller's has created an intraparty split among Arkansas Republicans which could keep Winthrop out of the governor's race again.

PREPARING
Rockefeller has spent 10 years preparing to run for governor as a Republican in this traditionally Democratic state.

He built his personal image with social, civic and industrial development work. He built the party with dollars, drive and determination.

Now he appears ready to run. He has been increasingly outspoken on political issues, increasingly critical of Democratic Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who is expected to be a sixth-term candidate.

But the specter of his brother, governor of New York, haunts him. Winthrop has been trying to line up Arkansas national convention votes for Nelson and this has aroused the wrath of Goldwater supporters, headed by William L. Spicer, the GOP state chairman.

FORCE NELSON
Spicer's group contends that Rockefeller is using his position as national committeeman for Arkansas to force Nelson on Arkansas Republicans.

Rockefeller denies this. He says he will support any GOP presidential candidate, even Goldwater, and he does not believe the presidential fight is worth disrupting the Arkansas party.

Winthrop says his candidacy will depend on whether Arkansas Republicans can put together a good slate of candidates for all state offices and not on what happens to Nelson.

But he cannot wait until Nelson's future is decided at the national convention in July to make up his mind about the governor's race.

The ticket for the Arkansas primaries closes April 29 and Winthrop must file by then if he wants to get his name on the general election ballot as the Republican nominee.

REAL BATTLE
Rockefeller's entry into the governor's race would give Arkansas its first real two-party battle since Reconstruction.

Only twice in the last 50 years has the Republican party polled as many as 100,000 votes.

John Whitmire Repeats As Borden Show Winner

Some 700 persons saw John L. Whitmire III repeat as winner of the annual Borden County Junior Livestock Show, held Friday and Saturday at Gail. His 1,000-pound Hereford steer was judged grand champion. The 15-year-old Borden County 4-H youth won the grand champion steer trophy last year with a Hereford that weighed over 1,000 pounds. The Luther lad also was presented the steer showmanship trophy Saturday. Shawna Wills, 14, Route B, Lamesa, showed the reserve champion steer, a 935-pound Hereford. Her younger sister, Debbie Wills, had the reserve champion crossbred lamb and reserve champion Southdown lamb.

BROTHER-SISTER
A brother and sister team, Tommy and Saundra Hancock of Route 1, O'Donnell, won top laurels for their champion and reserve champion barrows. Saundra's 175-pound Chester White was judged the champion. Tommy won reserve honors with his 225-pound Hampshire Borden County High School students from Gail swept the championship honors in the lamb divisions, but first place awards were divided equally between them and O'Donnell 4-H Clubbers.

Ricky Cunningham, Gail, captured the all-around showmanship award with his 106-pound champion fine wool lamb. Other Gail students who won championships were Kenny Bennett, for his 102-pound crossbred lamb; Jimmy Hodge, for his 80-pound Southdown lamb; and Mary Dennis, for her fine wool lamb (reserve). Deona Jones, Route 1, O'Donnell, claimed the swine showmanship trophy and a first place award with her heavy-weight Duroc barrow. The sheep showmanship trophy went to Bill Sneed, Gail, although his animal did not win championship or first place honors. Other first place winners: Lightweight steer — Bill Nunally, Route 1, O'Donnell (Hereford); lightweight fine wool lamb — Jacquie Dennis, Gail; other breeds lamb — Jimmy Don Hodge, Gail; Berkshire barrow — Tony Isaacs, Route 1, O'Donnell; lightweight Duroc barrow — Sandra Hancock, Route 1, O'Donnell; light Hampshire barrow — Tommy Hancock, Route 1, O'Donnell; Poland China barrow and crossbred barrow — Ken Don Jones, Route 1, O'Donnell.

Judge of hogs was Bobby Lee, vocational agriculture teacher from Wilson, and W. N. Day Jr., county agent from Rankin, judged the lambs and steers. The hogs were judged Friday night, and the other animals were judged Saturday. Borden County Agent J. W. Holmes said he "appreciated everyone's cooperation in making the show a success."

Free barbecue was served to all who attended. The show was sponsored by the Borden County Junior Livestock Association.

Mistrial Ruled In C-City Case

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Judge Austin McCloud, of 32nd District Court, dismissed an all-male jury after it failed to reach a verdict in the case of Anastacio Gutierrez, 33-year-old Mitchell County man. Gutierrez was charged in the Sept. 15, 1963, rape of a 13-year-old Latin-American girl from Westbrook. Judge McCloud said Saturday night that the case had not been set for re-trial. Judge McCloud said the case went to the jury at 9 p.m. Friday and that it worked until 2:45 a.m. Saturday. Jurymen then went to bed, and resumed deliberations at 8:30 a.m. They were dismissed at 1:30 p.m. Saturday and a mistrial declared.

Two Local Men Are Honored

AUSTIN—One hundred and 12 freshmen at The University of Texas have been elected to membership in Phi Eta Sigma, national honorary scholastic fraternity for male freshmen with outstanding grades. Spring initiates, announced by Arno Nowotny, dean of student life include: Dale Clay Bulough, 1600 Indian Hills Drive, and Tommy Jordan Gentry, 1200 East 18th, both of Big Spring.

Car Crashes Into 2 Cows

Two cows died on the Snyder Highway Saturday night, 2.2 miles north of Big Spring. Investigating officers said the animals apparently caused two accidents.

A car owned by Arvis Campbell, 3606 Hamilton, and driven by John Tibbets, 2401 Scurry, crashed into the animals at 7:50 p.m., officers said. Campbell was a passenger in his own car. It received considerable damage.

About five minutes later, officers said, a car driven by Dalton McCauley, Route 1, flipped over on its right side after the driver hit the brakes to avoid crashing into the car that struck the cows.

The impact with the cows knocked the lighting system out of Campbell's car and McCauley did not see the vehicle until he was almost on it, investigating officers explained.

Released On $500 Bond

Don Knightstep, 1317 Wood, was released from jail Saturday after posting bond on a charge of driving while intoxicated, police said.

Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter set $500 bond after the 20-year-old man was arrested at 10:45 p.m. Friday in the 2000 block of Gregg. His car crashed into a utility pole, according to police.

Locations of other accidents and drivers involved: 100 block of Gregg, Thomas Whately, Bob 1291, and Opal Newton, 702 Goliad, and Lenora Lamar, 710 Cherry; Ninth and Goliad, John Ferguson, 610 Tulane, and Jeanette Pope, Ponderosa Apartments; Seventeenth and Austin, Frank Pounds, 801 E. 13th, and Eugene Lorenz, 1007 E. 16th; Fifth and Main, Freddie Waggoner, 1302 Barnes, and Thomas Ledler, 1720 Purdue; FM 700 and Gregg, David Odie, Route 1, and John Steele, 106 Jones; 1600 Donley, S. Reed, 910 E. 13th, and parked car of Aaron Damron, 1608 Donley; 101 Cedar Road, Lloyd Ault, Webb AFB, and brick wall.

Police Check Complaints

Police investigated a variety of complaints Saturday.

A car believed to be owned by a prowler was impounded early Saturday, police said. The vehicle was picked up after a prowler fled from the vicinity of the Bowl-A-Rama, US 80 east. Police said the suspect apparently had been tampering with road equipment parked nearby. Five minors were arrested about 12:45 a.m. Saturday in the 400 block of Main. They were jailed for questioning in connection with possession of alcoholic beverages, police said. Vandals broke plate glass windows from three houses in the 4100 block of Muir and three houses in the 3900 block of Parkway Friday afternoon, according to Police Chief J. J. Banks.

Police said Mrs. John Hogg, 401 Penn., reported the theft of a boy's bicycle about 4 p.m. Friday.

Adopts Project

WESTBROOK (SC)—The Rev. Arnold Holley, pastor of Buford Baptist Church, was guest speaker at the monthly Brotherhood meeting in the Baptist Church here Thursday. The Brotherhood has set April 18 for a work project to install walks and curbs at the parsonage. Twenty members attended the meeting in Fellowship Hall.

RECEIVE PLAQUES
Col. E. V. Spence (left) and Joe Jacobs

Legion Honors Jacobs, Spence

Some 250 persons saw Joe Jacobs and Col. E. V. Spence presented with special plaques Saturday night at the American Legion Home on the occasion of the 45th anniversary and World War I reunion.

The event was attended by World War I Auxiliary and Veterans, Gold Star Mothers, past commanders, past Auxiliary presidents and the entire membership of the Legion and Auxiliary.

OLDEST VET
Gil Jones, master of ceremonies, presented Jacobs a plaque for being the oldest veteran of World War I present. Born Feb. 25, 1889, Mr. Jacobs was based in Ireland with the Navy during 1917 and 1918.

Col. E. V. Spence, manager of the CRMWD, received a plaque for community service. The citation read in part: "whose labor for water development has made him one of the outstanding citizens of his city and state."

Lt. Col. Jay Lauer, chief of personnel, Webb AFB, delivered the address. Seats were reserved for Gold Star Mothers, World War I Veterans and Auxiliary as they were the honored guests. Mrs. Johnnie Morrison, immediate past president of the Auxiliary, introduced the Gold Star Mothers.

SINGLED OUT
Members with 35 years' continuous membership were singled out for special recognition, and they received membership cards.

Dinner was served to those in reserved seats and the others present were served cafeteria style. The invocation and memorial to the deceased was given by Chaplain Donald Kenning, and past commanders and presidents were introduced.

Tim Jones, present commander, conducted the program, and Chaplain C. O. Hitt gave the benediction. Spence has had a distinguished career as engineer, city manager and water specialist. The Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers named him engineer of the Year in 1957 for his leadership of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, a $20,000,000 enterprise financed privately by the member cities of Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder. Last year the West Texas branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers conferred a life membership on him.

AGGIE
Reared on a South Texas ranch, he was graduated from San Diego High School and then from Texas A&M College with a degree in civil engineering in 1911. He was a practicing engineer at Alice until he enlisted during World War I and emerged in 1921 as a captain. Meanwhile, he had married Elizabeth Wright in 1918 and they settled at Alice where he served as county engineer and later as mayor. This excited his interest in municipal affairs and he re-entered A&M and took his masters degree in 1925 in civil engineering with a major in a new field—city management.

San Angelo immediately hired him as city manager, a post he left in 1929 to open a building materials business. He accepted a call to be city manager here in 1931 and served 10 years before resigning to re-enter military service, first with the Corps of Engineers at Chicago and then at Camp Swift. He was named to the state board of water engineers, later became its chairman, and then was named interstate water compact commissioner. The CRMWD, whose work he had encouraged as a state official, drafted him to be its first manager in 1951.

Buchanan Rites Set

Services for James Durwood Buchanan, 26-year-old Navy man who died from injuries received in an automobile accident north of Sterling City early Friday, have been set for 3 p.m. Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home chapel. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Buchanan died in a Sterling City hospital shortly after his car went out of control on a curve and turned over several times. He suffered severe internal and head injuries, investigating authorities said.

He was born April 2, 1937 in Big Spring, was graduated from Big Spring High School in 1955, and joined the Navy in Abilene. He was stationed on Okinawa 18 months, and was then aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ranger for a year before being assigned to the Naval Air Station at Lemoore, Calif. He was on leave when the accident occurred.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Odell Buchanan, 105 Lanham; the father, E. G. Buchanan, Dallas; two sisters; the maternal grandmother; paternal grandmother; several aunts and uncles.

THE WEEK

ting out spring grass and weeds; it may be less of a boon in the fields where wind-resistant clods were melted down.

Congratulations to Don Hickson, the spelliest speller in these parts. Don, who attends Rannels Junior High, nosed out Robert Chavez, Goliad, but Susan Trim from Washington Place was giving them a fit right up to the last.

There was tragedy to intrude, for James Durwood Buchanan, 26, died as the result of his car overturning when it left US 87 some 7 1/2 miles north of Sterling City early Friday. Sterling County sustained the record, we sustained the loss.

Big Spring, according to an Associated Press dispatch out of Washington, is one of 80 cities on the CAB list of cities not measuring up to minimum boardings to sustain commercial air service. Trans - Texas Airways representatives were surprised and said they thought we were hitting above the minimum. One thing is fairly sure, if a few people driving to Midland-Odessa to board would sacrifice just a little personal convenience for the sake of community service we would have more than the minimum in boardings.

Another of the spring signs was on the political front where organizations were clamoring to conduct rallies, a time honored custom of luring the candidate into cake auctions, etc. Joe Phillips, Lubbock, was here pressing his candidacy for the GOP nomination for the 19th Congressional District representative and to urge a large GOP primary vote. Demos announced a rally April 6, and by the oddest of coincidences this fell on the scheduled date of Don Yarborough to bring his campaign for the governorship here.

A week ago TF-856 came in for a perfect landing at Webb AFB and became the first T-38 to pass the 1,000-mile mark. Webb used to establish records with T-33s before shifting to the super-sonic jet trainer. We probably can set some more records if the parts situation loosens.

Friday evening the Big Spring chapter of the Air Force Association got off the ground with Lester Morton as its skipper. The chapter has 50 charter members, and the roll is bound to grow for this Air Force backer.

Veterans of World War I and II observed the 45th birthday of the American Legion by honoring the living. They conferred on E. V. Spence, a Legion member for 45 years and a colonel in the last conflict, its outstanding service award. The colonel, river manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, is still a bather—this time for the area's future through good water supply.

Jaycees, who stay almost as busy as the Band Boosters, are staging their second annual rattle-snake round up this weekend at Howard County Fair Barns. The intrepid may sample what the intrepid say is a delicacy—rattlesnake meat. The curious can see scores of the writhing rattlers in display pens and even see them milked for their venom. In our book, if we may paraphrase the pioneers, the only good rattler is a dead rattler.

Capt. R. E. Arent almost tempts us to pun that he really is. He is indeed the Distinguished Graduate of Class 64-F at Webb, he is winner of the Commander's Trophy, he is the outstanding officer trainee of the class. How's that for achievement? Capt. Phillip Murphy won top flying honors and Capt. L. W. Hodge academic honors. Speaker was Maj. Walter H. Baxter, former Webb officer, back home for the occasion.

Reports from the FBI for the statistical year 1952-53 reflect an overall decrease here in reportable major crimes of 26.7 per cent. This is a splendid record, but it is tempered by a 175 per cent increase in homicides against a state increase of 25 per cent. It's about time all of us took a hard look at this.

Donald D. Van Meter, who has been serving as area director of administrative services for the VA medical offices in St. Paul, Minn., will be our new VA Hospital manager here. He will succeed V. J. Belda, who now is at San Fernando, Calif. Belda, incidentally wrote friends last week that they were well settled in the big hospital there, but added wistfully that it wasn't Big Spring.

We have no records to substantiate it, but we doubt if our band members ever achieved such a notable record as 45 first division ratings. The Senior High band had 33 in solos and ensembles and Rannels and Goliad Junior Highs a dozen, plus a flock of second and third ratings. A splendid record.

SURVEYS FIRE DAMAGE
Pastor Jack Power peers into church attic

Church To Hold Services Despite Friday Attic Fire

Fire, apparently caused by a short in a neon sign, burned the attic at Trinity Baptist Church, 810 Eleventh Place, Friday night. Firemen received the call at 7:45 p.m. and had the flames under control within an hour.

The underside of the roof was burned, but the flames did not break through the top of the building. "We had 20 men there," Fire Chief H. V. Crocker explained, "and they were working as fast as they could to prevent the flames from spreading." The firemen entered the attic through a hole in the front of the building and fought the blaze with grappling hooks and two one-inch lines from the booster truck.

Most parts of the large auditorium were untouched by flames or water. Only 300 gal-lions of water from the booster truck were used in combating the flames, keeping water damage to a minimum.

The chief said two firemen remained at the scene through the night, cleaning up the building. Members of the church pitched in to help Saturday morning.

Some used rags to wipe soot off the pews while others swept and mopped the aisles. "It looks like we'll be ready for services Sunday," said the Rev. L. J. Power, pastor.

Neither Chief Crocker nor the pastor estimated the damage. All the electrical wiring was burned. Texas Electric Service Co. workmen cut off the power shortly after the alarm was given.

A new $35,000 educational building, under construction west of the auditorium, was not damaged.

FERRANTE & TEICHER

Series Finale Is Smash Hit

Sport fans would be goggle-eyed if a couple of batters stepped up to the plate and got solid wood on the ball every time — Bing! Bing! Bing! A single sometimes, a double, a triple or maybe a homer — but always a hit.

It would be less than accurate to say that Ferrante and Teicher did less than this in the concluding program of the Big Spring Concert Association season here Saturday evening. The famed piano duo hadn't been five minutes into the first selection of an exceedingly varied repertoire than one sensed the hit of the series was in the making. Their first number, written by Alexander Bodine nearly a century ago but made familiar in a less exacting form in "Kismet," touched off a firecracker of applause — which never let up all evening.

The two proved a delightful surprise here several years ago when they were little-known pianists, but Saturday night they came back as fullblown professionals, expert craftsmen, master showmen.

They proved their virtuosity but did not belabor the point with an evening of heavy classics. They played Debussy's "Claire de Lune" with such beauty and feeling that a whisper seemed sacrilege. They played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" with enough fervor to bring patriotic blood to boil and start feet itching to march.

All the while they kept their program moving flawlessly with a patter of good humor and quips, proving themselves smooth tongue-in-cheek comics as well as master musicians. Into an assortment of such favorites as "Moon River," Stephen Foster's immortals, "West Side Story," theme from "The Apartment," a touch of "Exodus," "Greensleeves," and others, they brought exciting novelties such as "Quiet Village," against a backdrop of tropical birds, songs. Their own composition of novel sounds on the piano brought out rhythm and effects ranging from the bongo to the harp, and in an infectious beat. It was one of those things which must be heard to be believed. Their movie for a theme, rather than vice versa, was a hilarious takeoff on the Wild West, with flicker effects.

So tremendous was their interpretation of George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" that although they plainly had all but exhausted themselves, the audience wouldn't let them go. Ferrante and Teicher were called back and back and back — and we hope they will be called back again on some future series. Until then the memory of the Rhapsody should linger, perhaps with a little fortification from their recordings. —JP

Goldwater Charges Policy Would Make Problem Worse

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater, winding up a border-to-border California campaign swing, said President Johnson's proposal to curb unemployment will worsen the problem.

"The only way to get at this problem, apparently, will be to vote some sense into the situation," said Goldwater, seeking California primary support in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

He said legislation proposed by Johnson "will" make it worse.

Goldwater said extension of the Minimum Wage law would mean "that many persons holding marginal employment would suddenly be priced out of the market."

He said Johnson's proposal to require double time for overtime in some industries would not create new jobs, only new costs.

"And when costs go up, prices go up, sales go down and so does the production on which jobs depend," Goldwater said in a statement.

He said the administration is "double talking" in its proposal to end job discrimination to increase employment.

Even if discrimination is ended, Goldwater said, the number of jobs would not change.

"The only thing that would change would be some of the people holding those jobs," he said.

Kicks Her Way Out Of Closet

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Mrs. Darlene Dietrich, 20, was in a closet at home Friday when her 2-year-old daughter slammed the door.

Mrs. Dietrich tried to open the door. She couldn't. Then she kicked the wall—again and again and again. Finally she smashed through a small hole. She started to crawl through. Then she stuck.

She took a clothes hanger, bent it into a hook, snagged her telephone, dragged it to her and called for help. Firemen and policemen arrived. It was about four hours from door-slam to freedom.

Mrs. Dietrich was treated at a hospital and released.

Rain Slows Tempo Of Operations

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Rain which spread across Texas this past week slowed the tempo of farm and ranch activities.

The previous period of open and warm weather had seen a noticeable pickup in farming operations and in the rate of growth of small grains, grasses and legumes, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Far West Texas still needs rain, reported Ray Siegmund from Fort Stockton. Range vegetation has made very little growth and preplant irrigation along with land preparation for spring crops was continuing. Cantaloupe and onions are being planted in the Presidio area.

GOOD GROWTH

Surface moisture in West Central Texas is generally adequate and cool season weeds and grass made good growth, advised Roy Huckabee from San Angelo. Prospects for a small grain improved with the additional moisture and fruit trees in the hill country are in full bloom.

With generally adequate moisture and warmer weather, small grains in Central Texas made good growth and are furnishing grazing, said R.G. Burwell from Stephenville. Fruit trees are beginning to bloom and land is ready for planting when fields dry. Pastures are providing an increased amount of grazing but some feeding is still necessary.

IMPROVEMENT

James Simmons at Vernon noted an improvement in growth of small grains due to warmer weather. Some damage from greenbugs was noted in one county.

The top soil moisture situation continues to improve in North Central Texas and small grains made excellent growth during the past week, reported

TRAIL OF THE LITTERBUG
Rural residents complain of trash dumpers

Litterbugs Being Sought

Rural residents are becoming increasingly annoyed at the growing practice of certain residents dumping trash and garbage on rural roads.

Sheriff Miller Harris said he has had numerous reports of these offenses in recent weeks, and that his deputies have been called out several times to country roads where huge piles of tin cans, broken bottles, trash and other rubbish have been unloaded on the sides of roads. Very often, he said, the trash is thrown out in front of farm homes.

He pointed out there is a state law making such actions a misdemeanor punishable by severe fines.

"We intend to prosecute any offender we catch," said the sheriff. "We ask that all rural residents keep their eyes open for trash dumpers. All we want them to do is to get the car license number on the car out of which the rubbish is dumped. We will do the rest."

Special Venire For Woodard's Trial

Emzie Woodard, charged with murder, will go on trial in 118th District Court Tuesday at 10 a.m. Judge Ralph Caton, presiding, announced Saturday.

Judge Caton said he had called a special venire of 175 to report to the court at that hour. The special venire was made necessary because the case is a capital one and because it was requested by the attorneys.

This will be the third time that an effort to try Woodard has been made in the court. Judge Caton said that it appeared this time the case would go to trial. Gil Jones, district attorney, said he was ready.

The two court appointed attorneys who are defending Woodard have said they will be ready Tuesday. The case was originally set for Monday but Jack Little, one of the lawyers named as counsel for the defendant, could not be in town on that date. R. H. Weaver, former county judge, is the other defense lawyer.

Woodard is accused of shooting Edward Lee Tillis to death last Oct. 25. The shooting, the state alleges, grew out of a dispute over a 25 cent bet. The tragedy occurred in front of a Negro pool hall on the north side of town.

'64 Chevy II Super Sport with V8 power

...and just the place to enjoy it

Find out for yourself what this Chevy II can really do. If there are hills nearby, let it give them a good going-over. Then see how quickly it gives slow-moving trucks the run-around. With its new extra-cost V8 all you ever have to do is give the accelerator an inch, and this Chevy II Super Sport Coupe will take a mile.

And this great highway performer looks the part it plays so well. A glance at its all-vinyl interior will tell you that. Those inviting bucket seats are made of ultra-soft foam cushioning. The door-to-door carpeting is so thick you can feel it through your shoes. There's your choice of either the floor-mounted Powerglide or Four-Speed Synchro-Mesh transmission.

Both are optional at extra cost, along with a Positraction rear axle, simulated wire wheel covers, AM-FM radio and a host of other accessories. And for all its new power, Chevy II rides so softly it seems to glide along the highway. That's because it has high-mounted independent coil springs in the front and Mono-Plate single-leaf springs in the rear. Its unitized well-insulated body by Fisher shuts vibrations out and keeps road noise down to a whisper.

With everything Chevy II Super Sport has going for it, it's no surprise your Chevrolet dealer is anxious to show you its price tag. Because that's the only thing about it that isn't super.

Bradley Triumphs In Finals Of NIT

By MURRAY CHASS
NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley's Braves, combining Joe Strawder's all-around play with an aggressive ball-hawking defense, rambled to a surprisingly easy 86-54 basketball victory over bewildered New Mexico Saturday afternoon for their third National Invitation Tournament championship.

The Braves previously won the NIT in 1957 and 1960. St. John's is the only other team with three titles.

Army finished third despite

Strawder, a 6-foot-9 senior, completely dominated his expected battle with New Mexico's Ira Harge. Harge, a 6-foot-8 senior, got into foul trouble early in the first half and fouled out with 13:37 left after scoring just eight points.

Strawder finished with 21 points and helped bottle up the Lobos, blocking several of their shots.

The Lobos went into the game

Varsity Golfer

Jim Patterson, Big Spring junior, brings much-needed depth to the golf team at North Texas State. The biggest golfer on the team at 6-3 and 190, Patterson played with the Odessa JC national champs before coming to NTSU. Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Patterson of 407 Edwards, won the 1963 Big Spring Invitational tournament.

Yank-Owned Team Spirit Triumphant

AINTREE, England (AP)—American-owned Team Spirit won the 123rd running of the Grand National Steeplechase today. Purple Silk was second and Peacetown third in the race on which the season's first Irish Sweepstakes was based.

The winner carried the colors of John F. Goodman, Tucson, Ariz.

A second American entry, Flying Wild owned by Raymond Guest, New York, finished far back. Guest was seeking to become the first American ever to win both the Grand National and the English Derby. He won the English Derby in 1962 with Larkspur.

The race, staged over a four-mile, 856-yard course with 30 tough obstacles, was called one of the most exciting in the history of the event.

Peacetown, a 100-1 shot, led most of the way and appeared to have the race won when Team Spirit's smallest horse in the field of 33, and Purple Silk made a powerful surge in the stretch.

Team Spirit won by a scant half-length. Peacetown was another six lengths back.

Team Spirit was an 18-1 pick. The race favorite was Time, a nine-year-old who challenged briefly at the start but soon fell back. Purple Silk was 100-6.

The course was heavy from recent rains and the footing was slippery, causing several horses to fall.

Team Spirit is owned by Goodman in partnership with Ron Woodward, Indianapolis, Ind., and another American, Gamble North.

It was Team Spirit's fifth try at the Grand National.

The race was worth $56,784 to the winner, but the prize money always has been regarded as incidental to the other money involved in the race.

About $14 million was invested from countries all over the world in the sweeps. Holders of winning tickets expect to collect $140,000.

The total prize money adds to around $8 million. The remainder is used to help Irish hospitals.

Eternal was fourth at odds of 66-1.

Team Spirit is a 12-year-old bay gelding by Vulcan out of Lady Walewska.

Only 15 horses finished the race. In addition to the first four, they were Pappagone's Cottage, Spingbok, John O'Groats, Out and About, Super-sweet, Sea Knight, Pontin Go, Baxier, April Rose, Claymore and Crobeg.

Then Eddie Jackson and Bobby West got hot, scoring 14 points between them. That helped take the Braves from a 14-13 deficit to a 30-17 lead, their biggest margin in the first half.

Levern Tart, 6-foot-2 senior, was named the tournament's most valuable player. He scored 54 points in three games.

Bradley finished the season with a 23-6 record. The loss was the worst of the season for the Lobos, who wound up winning 23 and losing six. Four of their regular season losses were by a total of seven points. The other was by eight points.

In the Army-NYU game, Barry Kramer's 28-point performance was offset by Silliman's crucial jump shot.

Silliman scored 16 seconds after he had fouled Kramer, whose two free throws put the Violets ahead 59-58. Silliman scored 24 points altogether for the Cadets.

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—The Houston Colts rapped out 19 hits off three Minnesota pitchers and received unexpected aid from rookie outfielder Jeff Talbott Saturday in beating the Twins "B" team 17-1.

Talbott's four errors in right field let in six Houston runs. He dropped two fly balls and let two base hits get through him.

A total of six Minnesota errors accounted for 10 unearned runs for the Colts, who put on their biggest offensive display of the spring.

They collected seven doubles, two by Walter Bond, and a triple by rookie Joe Morgan.

Ken Johnson went the first five innings for Houston, allowing four hits and the only Minnesota run on a long homer by Jimmie Hall.

Hughes Runs Hurdles In 18.7 At Carlsbad

CARLSBAD, N. M.—Johnny Hughes of Big Spring, a junior, won the low hurdles in the sensational time of 18.7 seconds in the Carlsbad Invitational Track and Field meet here Saturday. One clock had him in 18.5, but ran out of the money.

Johnny finished all by himself in the event. A teammate, Rickey Earle, was fifth in the same event with a 20.9 clocking. Sophomore Bobby Baker of the Steers qualified for the finals but ran out of the money.

S. Angelo Meet Starts Friday

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—With eight schools in the university class, the San Angelo Relays looks toward its greatest meet next Friday and Saturday.

At least four records appear likely to go by the boards in the university division while there should be a wholesale revisiting of the marks in the high school classes.

Abilene Christian is defending champion in the university divisions. Texas, Baylor, Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, North Texas State, Texas Tech and Texas A&M are the other entries.

There are 33 high schools entered with more expected. Fort Stockton and Denver City are the defending champions.

The shot put record of 57 feet, 7 1/2 inches is due to be cracked by Danny Roberts of Texas A&M and Frank Mazza and Jim Lancaster of Baylor. The discus record of 161 feet 1 inch should fall before Roberts, Roger Orrell of Abilene Christian and Lancaster.

Billy Pernelton of Abilene Christian will be expected to wipe out the pole vault record of 15 feet 1 inch.

Wranglers Take 13-Shot Lead In Circuit Play

Odessa College's No. One team took a 13-stroke lead after the first round of competition in Western Conference golf competition at the Big Spring Country Club here Friday.

The Odessa two-man team, composed of Leon Anderson and Tommy Knight, scored an 18-hole aggregate of 149. The weather conditions were not conducive to good golf—a high wind blew out of the north and it was cold. However, Anderson fashioned a two-under par 69.

A distant second in the campaigning are the Frank Phillips' No. One team and Odessa's No. 2 unit, each in with a score of 162.

Cecil Salazar of Odessa College, a freshman from San Angelo, finished second to Anderson in individual scoring with a 77. Jerry Keel of Frank Phillips was third, with a 78.

Howard County Junior College, playing without the services of Billy McQuarter, tied for sixth place with a score of 170. McQuarter was sick with a fever of 103 degrees.

McQuarter and Neil Robinson toured the Country Club course in a practice round earlier this week and finished with a respectable 150.

The next round of competition takes place in Levelland April 3, at which time South Plains Junior College will be the host.

Scoring:
1. ODESSA NO. 1 (149)—Leon Anderson 69, Tommy Knight 80.
2. The brothers FRANK PHILLIPS NO. 1 (162)—Jerry Keel 78, C. W. Howell 84; and ODESSA NO. 2 (162)—Bob Archer 85, Cecil Salazar 77.
3. AMARILLO NO. 1 (167)—Jimmy Smith 85, David Spitzer 82.
4. FRANK PHILLIPS NO. 2 (169)—Joe Cook-Burrows 81, John Kennedy 88.
5. The brothers H.C.J.C. (170)—Neil Robinson 81, David McCullough 89; and NAMAU NO. 1 (170)—Ben Bradley 84, Bill Butrick 86.
6. NAMAU NO. 2 (171)—Roger Camp 84, Rex Leman 87.
7. SOUTH PLAINS NO. 1 (176)—Gory Rush 91, Dick Tubb 85.

Goliad Grabs Blue Ribbons

SWEETWATER — Big Spring Goliad captured three first places in the three divisions of the Sweetwater Junior High School track and field meet here Saturday.

Kirby Horton, Goliad ninth grader, won the discus with a loss of 162 feet 11 inches and the shot with a heave of 51-9/16. The ninth grade Mavericks scored a total of 13 points to finish fifth. First was Abilene Franklin.

Kenneth Barfield, Goliad seventh grader, won the 120-yard low hurdles in 16.2. Mike Bethell of Goliad was fourth in the same event, at 16.6.

Goliad's seventh graders finished seventh, with 12 points. Abilene Mann won with 23.

Goliad's seventh grade 400-yard relay team was fourth in 32.3 and its 880 relay team was third in 1:51.3.

Goliad's eighth graders scored 12 1/2 points, good for fifth place. First was Merkel, with 21.

Don Wiggins of Goliad was fourth in the high jump with a leap of 5-1 and third in the broad jump, at 18-2. Goliad's eighth grade 440-yard relay team was second with a 50.2 clocking, and its 880 relay four-second third, in at 1:45.4.

In ninth grade competition, David Sparkman of Goliad was fourth in the 50-yard dash, at six seconds flat. Mike Williams of Goliad was fourth in the low hurdles with a 15.1 clocking and third in the broad jump, with a leap of 18-2.

Coach Resigns
LUBBOCK (AP)—Harry Buffington is quitting Texas Tech to become a coach with Edmonton of the Canadian League.

SMU, Ga. Tech Will Play In 1969
DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist University and Georgia Tech will meet in football in Atlanta on Sept. 20, 1969. Athletic Director Matty Bell of SMU announced Saturday.

The two schools played 10 games from 1950 through 1959. Georgia Tech won seven of them. SMU won one and two were tied.

Big Story Of Spring Workouts Is Hutch

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The best Fighting a courageous battle against cancer, Hutch is back story of the spring training season is Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Thurman Randle, the huge Big Spring tackle who wound up his high school football career in a blaze of glory, was invited to visit the Henderson County Junior College campus at Athens recently. He took a bus and stopped off at Henderson, Tex., instead. No one he asked could tell him where Henderson County JC was, so he returned to Big Spring feeling slightly frustrated. He'll try again to get to Athens soon, however. Chances are he'll be offered a full scholarship by the school. High school players throughout Texas can stand reminded: The use of mouth protectors will be required during the 1964 football season. Buddy Travis, the HCJC basketball mentor, traveled 1,100 miles on a recent weekend, scouting material for the 1964-65 season. He says the outlook is good. The high school state baseball playoffs in Austin don't take place until June 16-17 this year. District champions must be certified by May 29 and bi-district titlists by June 5. A total of 601 high schools in the state are fielding baseball teams, of which 120 are in Class AAAA, 96 in AAA, 96 in AA, 91 in A and 198 in B. Gary Player, the pro golfer, says his expenses run to $500 a week when he takes his wife and kids along with him on the tournament trail. Player never played a round of golf until he was 15. He grew up with the British games of rugby and cricket, thought golf was too dull. His father persuaded him to try the game and on his first round he parred the first three holes. He says that's the biggest thrill he ever experienced. In last week's track meet at Denver City, Snyder's Tigers placed in all 14 events, a rare accomplishment in this day and time. Six days after the basketball season ended, Texas A&M's Benny Lenox toured the Aggie golf course in the low 70's. Lenox will be one of three Aggies seeking berths on the 1964 U.S. Olympic team. The others: Shot putter Randy Matson, swimmer Ricky Nesbitt. Announcement that the University of Houston would use the domed stadium in 1965 had a profound effect on at least one person. He was Albert Fierro, the Big Spring quarterback, now said to be leaning toward the Houston school because of the prospect of playing all home games under ideal conditions.

CAMILO PASCUAL

It was typical of Hutchinson that he could laugh at himself and his tendency to yell at the umpires. There was a new hoarseness in his voice and he tapped his right chest to show where the treatment had left his skin tender. Writers asking Hutch about his illness are more embarrassed than he. Always a man to face up to his problems, Hutch talks frankly and pulls no punches. "I can see no reason to be afraid," he said. "You've got it. The next thing is how can you combat it? Other people have illnesses but because I am what I am (a big league manager) I get a lot of attention. You don't like to talk about it when so many other people are worse off than you." "I get a little tired," he said. "Sometimes I take a little nap in the afternoon. At night I conk out about 10 or 11. I'm ready to go to sleep. It's amazing how you can do it." The "old" Hutch flared up the other day when the Reds were playing an exhibition game against the Minnesota Twins. He had a few words with umpire Al Salerno of the American League. Before he knew it, he was out of the game then Coach Johnny Temple and finally the Reds' bench was cleared. "So far I am pleased with our club. If six of our pitchers (Joey Jay, Bob Purkey, Joe Nuxhall, Jim Maloney, Jim O'Toole and John Tsitouris) were in one of their numerous contract sessions when the subject came up. "I wanted to sign and get things over with, but we could not agree on my salary," said Colavito. "I had a trade clause in my Detroit contract, so I asked him to write one in my Kansas City contract and I'd sign. "He interrupted me right away — and he said I'd get $25,000 if I were traded," said Colavito. "Now he's made it sound like I said it, but I didn't. "Besides, he never put it in my contract," said Colavito. "He said he didn't think it would be right because everyone else would ask for the same thing." Colavito, acquired in an off-season trade with Detroit ended his holdout siege last week and reported last Sunday night. Colavito said he signed for less than he wanted. He had been reported seeking approximately $50,000. Asked for comment on the salary dispute, A's general manager Pat Friday said: "It's over now, and I don't think it would do any good to discuss it." "I was surprised when I got my first contract offer," said Colavito. "It called for a $6,500 cut. I couldn't understand that. First of all, when you are traded most clubs give you a token raise just to make you feel good. Secondly, I didn't have a bad year."

Mustangs Of '65 Face Big Foes

Dick Irons, the local footballer who has signed to attend Southern Methodist, and ex-SMU student Wade Choate sat in on the recent SMU spring game. Irons took note that during the 1965 season, when he becomes eligible for varsity play, the Mustangs will play the University of Miami in Florida, Illinois in Champaign, Ill., and Purdue in Dallas in addition to seven conference games. The SMU freshmen meet the Texas Tech frosh in Dallas Oct. 30 and the TCU first-year forces in Fort Worth Nov. 20, as well as Arkansas, Rice and Baylor. Jerry Shursen, one of the left tackles on the SMU varsity, lists his home as Big Spring. A 232-pound sophomore-to-be, Jerry is a brother to the ex-Big Spring cage great, Jan Londermilk. HCJC's chief competition in track and field in the Western Conference could come from NMMI, which beat South Plains and Amarillo in a triangular meet in Amarillo last week. The Bronchos loom reasonably strong in the 100, 220 and the weights.

National Ratings Don't Mean Much

The annual National Junior College basketball ratings obviously don't mean much. San Angelo College was rated first at the end of the regular season last year, yet failed to get out of Regional. This year, Coffeyville was ranked at the top but didn't qualify for the Nationals at Hutchinson. San Angelo carried a better record to the Nationals this year than it had last year, yet failed to land in the top 20 in final national rankings. Don Robbins, the local high school football mentor, is expecting about 60 boys to report for spring workouts in May. Stakes were recently laid off to see if a youth's baseball park would fit into the huge Boydston school area without crowding the campus and if it fit very nicely. Removal of the baseball field from its present location would enable the school to provide two more practice football fields for junior high and B teams. TOMMY McDONALD

Dallas Boasts Stellar Ends

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys figured they had the best crops of ends in the National Football League today with the addition of Tommy McDonald, the former Oklahoma star who has been one of the star pass receivers in the NFL for seven seasons. Dallas already had Buddy Dial, the ex-Rice All-American obtained in a startling trade with Pittsburgh. The Cowboys got McDonald from the Philadelphia Eagles Friday in exchange for three Dallas players—kicking specialist Sam Baker, center-guard Lynn Hoyem and defensive tackle John Meyers. Dial was acquired several months ago in exchange for draft rights to Scott Appleton, Pittsburgh, however, failed to sign Appleton. He went with Houston of the American Football League. Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys said: "I'd be foolish to say at this point that we are not well fixed with outstanding ends." Dallas still has Frank Clarke, Lee Folkins, Pettis Norman and Gary Barnes. Landry indicated Dallas was still seeking trades that would strengthen the defense.

Finley Wrong, Says Colavito

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Slugging outfielder Rocky Colavito charged today that the Kansas City Athletics — particularly owner Charles O. Finley — had given the public the wrong impression about his contract dispute with the club. "They had it put in the paper that I asked for $25,000 if I got traded," said Colavito. "That is not true. Finley made mention of that figure — not me. I just said I'd sign if he gave me the same clause I had in my Detroit contract." Colavito said he and Finley were in one of their numerous contract sessions when the subject came up. "I wanted to sign and get things over with, but we could not agree on my salary," said Colavito. "I had a trade clause in my Detroit contract, so I asked him to write one in my Kansas City contract and I'd sign. "He interrupted me right away — and he said I'd get $25,000 if I were traded," said Colavito. "Now he's made it sound like I said it, but I didn't. "Besides, he never put it in my contract," said Colavito. "He said he didn't think it would be right because everyone else would ask for the same thing." Colavito, acquired in an off-season trade with Detroit ended his holdout siege last week and reported last Sunday night. Colavito said he signed for less than he wanted. He had been reported seeking approximately $50,000. Asked for comment on the salary dispute, A's general manager Pat Friday said: "It's over now, and I don't think it would do any good to discuss it." AUSTIN (AP)—Tom Dennis, Eck Curtis, Roy Needham and Claude Kellam, pioneer coaches in the Texas Interscholastic League, will be inducted into the Hall of Honor at the Texas coaching school in Fort Worth Aug. 6.

Hawks Win 3-Way Track, Field Meet

ABILENE — Although they were operating without the services of ace sprinter-broad jumper A. J. Williams, Howard County Junior College humbled the freshman teams of ACC and Oklahoma City University in a triangular track and field meet here Friday. A. J., a freshman from San Angelo, missed the HCJC bus when it pulled out for Abilene, although his equipment was aboard. The Jayhawks scored 49 1/2 points to 44 for ACC and 30 1/2 for Oklahoma City. The wind and the cold weather proved unfavorable factors in the charting of times and distances. The meet went down to the final event, the mile relay, before the outcome was decided. HCJC's combination of Bruce Teagarden, Steve Brooks, Steve Langham and John Perry won that event in 3:28.4. Second place

Let's Talk About Yours

Rodriguez Predicts He'll Be Champ In Two Classes

NEW YORK (AP)—"You mark my words. In one maybe two years, I will be the welterweight and then the middleweight champion of the world." Welterweight contender Luis Rodriguez made the statement Friday night shortly after he had racked up an unanimous and decisive 10-round decision over veteran middleweight Holley Mims of Washington at Madison Square Garden. He boosted Rodriguez' perfect record over middleweights to 8-0. The 26-year-old Cuban's over-all record is 55-3. Mims' record is 58-28-6. Rodriguez, now a Miami resident, will get another tuneup with a middleweight before he meets welterweight champion Emile Griffith in a title fight at Las Vegas June 12. The ever-ready fighter agreed to oppose Jesse Smith of Philadelphia in a television 10-rounder at Miami Beach April 3. At 151 pounds to Mims' 158, Luis was just too fast and shifty for his 35-year-old opponent, now in his 17th year of pro fighting. There were no knockdowns although Luis had his aging foe in distress in the fourth and fifth rounds with his blazing barages to the body and head. The officials had Luis the winner by the following round scores: referee Ruby Goldstein, 6-3-1, judge Al Berl 8-2 and judge Joe Epp, 5-4-1. The Associated Press scorecard had Rodriguez in front, 8-2.

Table Netters In Tests Here

Reese AFB and Goodfellow AFB table tennis teams invade Webb Air Force Base this weekend for matches at the John H. Lees Service Club. Reese came Saturday and Goodfellow will be here today. Match time today is at 1 p.m. Last week the Webb AFB team placed fifth in the Air Training Command table tennis tournament at Randolph AFB.

Optimist Relays Are Slated Here April 18

Twenty-six junior high teams will take part in the Big Spring Optimist Relays, which will take place in Memorial Stadium April 18. A scratch meeting for coaching will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. in the dressing room at the stadium the day of the meet.

Trophies will be given to first and second place teams in each division. First place winners will earn trophies in relay events. Both eighth and ninth grades will take part in the meet and preliminaries begin at 9 a.m., the finals at 1 p.m. Scoring will be based on a 5-3-2-1 basis in individual events and 10-8-6-4 in the relay events. There will be no preliminaries in the longer races or the relay events. In those races, finalists will run against time.

Due to the large number of schools committed to attend, entries will be limited to two per school in each event and only one relay team.

Individuals can compete in three running and two field events or three field and two running events.

In the prelims, the best six will go to the finals. The 70-yard hurdles will be set up with five hurdles ten yards apart, spaced so that they will be 15 yards straightaway at the start and as much at the finish. In the 120-yard low hurdles, the barriers will be set up 20 yards apart.

Medals, rather than ribbons will be given this year to first, second and third place winners in each individual event.

Entries must be mailed to Jack Tayrien, Goliad Junior High School, no later than April 8.

Participating teams will be Mann, Madison, Franklin, Jefferson and Lincoln, all of Abilene; Goliad, Runnels and Lakeview, all of Big Spring; Austin, Alamo, Lee, San Jacinto, Carver, Midland Junior High and Cowden, all of Midland; Edison, Lee and Blackshear, all of San Angelo; Lamar and Travis, both of Snyder; Breckenridge, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Silver, McCamey and Coahoma.

State biologists are studying water samples from the Colorado River at Matagorda in an effort to find the origin of a brownish substance witnesses say killed fish in the area. Some of the dead fish reportedly seen by anglers were speckled trout weighing up to 5 pounds. "It's the most critical period of the year," says wildlife supervisor Pierce Uzzell, for birds and animals in the Texas Panhandle and Trans-Pecos. Now is the time when wildlife must seek food grown last summer that has become scarce through the winter months.

Lema, Sanders In Colonial

FORT WORTH (AP) — Tony Lema and former champion Doug Sanders head a list of 10 recent additions to the field for the $75,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament. Lema ranked fourth among the leading money winners last year with $67,112. Sanders won the 1961 Colonial.

Also accepting invitations for the May 7-10 event were Don Fairfield, Bobby Nichols, Johnny Pott, Phil Rodgers, Dan Sikes Jr., Fred Hawkins, Dave Ragan and Bob Rosburg. They bring to 25 the number invited to the 19th annual tournament. It plans a field limited to 70.

Julius Boros, the defending champion, is among those committed to play.

Rams Sidelined At Hutchinson

HUTCHINSON, Kansas — San Angelo College, Texas, was ushered out of the consolation round of the 1964 National JC Basketball tournament here Friday, losing to Centralia, Ill., 106-104.

The Rams thus, ended their season with a 27-5 won-lost record. Identical to that they achieved in 1962-63. The reversal gave the Texans an 11th place finish in the 16-team field.

Lenox Is Named Player Of Year

AMARILLO (AP) — Jimmy Dale Lenox of Clear Creek is winner of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce award for Texas' outstanding schoolboy basketball player.

Putt Powell, chairman of the selection committee and sports editor of the Amarillo News and Globe-Times, announced Lenox had won the second annual award.

Bob Glover of Dallas Jefferson, was the first winner.

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce annually honors athletes in football, basketball, track, tennis, golf and baseball. Lenox led Clear Creek to the Class AAA state finals after winning the state title last year. The 6-2 star, who scored 1,069 points as a junior and senior, was named on the all-tournament teams both seasons.

He averaged 41.6 per cent of his field goal tries and 58.7 per cent of his free throws.

Lenox is a nephew of Bennie Lenox, All-Southwest Conference player at Texas A&M, and Dwayne, a freshman star at Texas A&M. Jimmy Dale also is headed for Texas A&M.

Monterey Wins

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Monterey, which goes to Big Spring Tuesday to oppose the Steers, defeated Abilene Cooper, 5-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Gary Hughes here Friday.

Local Netters Are Kayoed

MIDLAND — Wayne Baird and Rick Price, Big Spring, defeated Kermit's Benny Bradham and Jimmy Steward, 6-2, 6-0, in the first round of Class A boys' doubles in the Midland High School Tennis tournament here Friday only to lose out in the second round.

Conquerors of Baird and Price were Bill Chamblin and Tommy Parks of Odessa Ector, who won by scores of 6-2, 4-0. Other Big Spring players lost out in first round competition. Tommy Hill, Odessa Permian, sidelined David Martine, Big Spring, in Class A boys' singles, 6-2, 6-0. Larry Baker, Andrews, decked Jim Butler, Big Spring, in the same division, 6-1, 6-4.

In Class A girls' doubles, Sharon See and Sherry Sloan, Lubbock Monterey, won over Molly Hefer and Linda Mason, Big Spring, 6-2, 6-1, and Susie Crain and Kay Young, Lubbock Hill, turned back Kathy Mason and Molly Goodman, Big Spring, 6-0, 6-0.

Jeff Brown To Depart For Baseball Camp

By PAT WASHBURN

Jeff Brown, a former star on the baseball diamond for the Big Spring Steers, will leave March 24 to attend the New York Mets' minor league spring training camp in Sanford, Fla. The camp, which lasts approximately one month, will be composed of 50-60 of the Mets most promising minor league ball players. It will give the New Yorkers a chance to overlook the crop and possibly select several to join the mother club in the Polo Grounds. Sanford (20,000 population) is located 125 miles northeast of St. Petersburg, the location of the Mets' Florida conditioning camp.

JEFF BROWN

Upon completing the month, Brown will report to Salinas in the Class A California League unless otherwise assigned. Salinas opens its season April 24. Brown has received an airplane ticket to the Florida camp and will get all his room and board while "going through a lot of sweat and spending 98 per cent of the time playing baseball." The tea mwill stay at the Mayfair Inn. He will have to provide his own spending money since the players are not salaried until the regular season begins.

The big outfielder, who has been a common sight this winter on the YMCA's handball and basketball courts in an attempt to stay in some type of shape, hit 210 last summer with Quincy, Ill., in the Class A Midwest League. It was his first year to play pro ball and he was a consistent starter throughout the season.

Although Brown didn't like Quincy, he did enjoy baseball. "I never want to go back there," he said. "It's really an all-American town. They have there's no telling where I'd spend this summer."

Only one thing stands in the way of Brown and what appears to be a fine baseball career. And although it's only temporary, he's not happy. He faces a tenure in the Armed Forces, if he passes the physical. "The big brass of the Mets keep sending out these letters to everyone urging them to join the reserves and get that active duty out of the way so their baseball career won't be interrupted. I've gotten two or three of them."

"I'll never forget the first one." He gave a big laugh. "At the top of the page in big letters, it said, 'We are disturbed. We lost nine players last year through the draft.' I can see where they'd be worried. I'm thinking about joining up when this season is over and getting that six months out of the way before the next season begins. All I would probably do is play baseball while I'm in there anyway. That's not bad."

Bobcats Shade Tigers, 10-4

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo's Bobcats won their second baseball game of the season by turning back Snyder, 10-4. Defensive clinkers cost the Tigers dearly. San Angelo outthrew the Tigers only by a margin of 6-4.

The Florida camp could be Brown's first big break and he's looking forward to it. When asked how he expected the food to be, he replied: "I talked to one guy who had been down there last year and he said they fed you on a starvation diet — mostly oranges. But in all seriousness, this could be what I've been waiting for. If I could show up good."

Sandhill Cranes Heading North

By JACK KEEFER Associated Press Writer

The sandhill cranes are in the air heading north, and observers say the rare crane should follow soon. About April 1, estimates Weldon Watson of the Parks and Wildlife Department, for the date when the flock will begin its journey to Canada from wintering grounds on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. One of the rare birds died recently at the refuge, the Interior Department reported. As nearly as can be determined, the department said, the number of wild whooping cranes now stand at 32, the same as a year ago. Large groups of from 200 to 300 sandhills have been seen moving north by Central Texas residents — "a real good sign the whoopers should be leaving soon," according to one sportsman.

harvest has increased from 265 in 1955 to 2,019 last year. State biologists are studying water samples from the Colorado River at Matagorda in an effort to find the origin of a brownish substance witnesses say killed fish in the area. Some of the dead fish reportedly seen by anglers were speckled trout weighing up to 5 pounds.

"It's the most critical period of the year," says wildlife supervisor Pierce Uzzell, for birds and animals in the Texas Panhandle and Trans-Pecos. Now is the time when wildlife must seek food grown last summer that has become scarce through the winter months.

Umpires To Name Officers Today

Members of the Big Spring Umpires Associati on will gather on the sixth floor of the Permian building at 2 p.m. again today. Election of officers will be the main topic of business but other phases of the summer's baseball and softball operation here will be discussed.

Umpires To Name Officers Today

A high-ranking German military officer showed some Texas sportsmen recently that he can handle a rifle. Gen. Alfred Zerbe, chief of staff of the West German army, took time out from an inspection tour to bring down a 165-pound Corsican wild ram on the Y. O. Ranch near Mountain Home in South Texas. The general got his ram with a difficult 150-yard uphill shot.

'Teen Rally' Will Feature Special Film

"Devil's Pit" is the title of the film to be shown during the "Teen Challenge Rally" at the First Assembly of God Church, West Fourth and Lancaster, Big Spring at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

This film was produced in actual teen gang infested territory. Stirring shots of baby-gang fights—teen-agers sniffing glue—drinking cough syrups—making and smoking marijuana cigarettes—drilling heroin into their veins—will be shown. Then will be seen the church in action as dedicated teen challenge workers, along with converted gang members and drug addicts, go into these crime ridden areas to preach, sing and testify of the saving power of Jesus Christ.

The guest speaker will be evangelist Carl King, who has ministered among young gangsters, drug addicts and beatniks in Chicago, New York City and other cities. Rev. King began his career as a minister at the age of 16 and received his theological training at Central Bible Institute and Seminary, in Springfield, Mo. He has also traveled in several states as an Assembly of God evangelist.

Pastor Homer Rich extends a cordial invitation to the public.

SPRING FEVER traditionally sets off a surge of activity anywhere there is youth. The senior year of high school is something to savor and warm weather means swimming, picnics or just driving somewhere. "Captain" Holland and Bill Worley have conned their fair friends into helping take care of their transportation. Providing the polish are Jan Anderson, Diane McEwen and Tommie Lou Hutto.

FISH ARE JUMPIN' and the livin' is easy when a fella has friends and they know where catfish are hiding. A fancy rod and reel has replaced the conventional cane pole but a day spent fishing still brings out the best in a boy. Looking for a likely spot to catch a big one are Sammy Jones, Cris Gilbert and Steve Smith.

THE BOATING BUG bites even in arid West Texas. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Beale, 112 Canyon Drive, bought this 22-ft. cabin cruiser — their second — two years ago. The Beales have spent as much as a month vacationing on the boat while cruising the coastal area near Padre Island where they like to surf fish. During the summer they do their boating at Lake Thomas or Possum Kingdom where they can take the grandchildren along.

SPRING IS HERE

YOUNGER THAN SPRINGTIME are little girls who take part in the Easter Parade and more than a few can thank Grandmother for their finery. Mrs. Billy Casey made the smocked yellow crepe dress which her tiny granddaughter, Laurie Welch, shows off with the help of her mother, Mrs. Jimmy Welch. Mrs. Casey measures the hem of a navy blue linen coat for her niece, Tina Amato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Amato Jr.

BEAUTIFUL BLOSSOMS are well worth the hours spent planting and pruning. The warmth of spring days works wonders with plants that are ready to burst into bloom. Floyd Green has helped hundreds of homeowners produce lawns to be proud of. Here he works with Mrs. Denny Turner, 1710 Yale, as five-year-old Jay watches from the garden wall.

'Average' Air Force Family Believes Their Life Best

By JO BRIGHT

"Basically, we are an average Air Force family," said Col. August F. Taute. "It has been good to us, and we have been happy being a part of it. I can't think of a career I'd rather have — or one that would be more rewarding to a young man."

It was almost 6 p.m., the dinner hour for many families, when Mrs. Taute was a gracious hostess in their home at No. 1 Albrook. The day's work was over for most Air Force men, as it would be for Col. Taute, after one more meeting.

If the family truly is typical, then the Air Force is in fine shape.

Col. Taute is a jet pilot, used to getting where he is going fast. Apparently, this has become second nature for, in reasoning or conversation, he takes the shortest way home. As an Air Force career man, he realizes that the force is not an island—it touches the lives of many people not directly connected with the service. In its basic role of protector, it automatically assumes responsibilities as friend and sponsor.

"I firmly believe that understanding is the answer to most problems," he remarked, explaining his intense interest in the Air Force Association and the International Good Neighbor Relations Council.

While serving as an Air Force instructor at Fort Bliss, El Paso, and later as training wing commander at Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, Col. Taute became intrigued with the progress achieved through the council. He was soon working with the group and actively engaged in furthering understanding between the United States and Mexico.

"This is why it was hard for us to leave El Paso," added Mrs. Taute. "We had the feeling of being needed there and felt confident that progress was being made in the area of international understanding."

The 21st general assembly of the Good Neighbor Council will be held during May in Mexico. Col. and Mrs. Taute expressed a desire to attend if it seems feasible at the time.

The Tautes attended the same high school in Brookings, S.D. and were both graduated from South Dakota State College. She is the former Virginia Chester and taught home economics for two years prior to their marriage in 1941. They have two children, August (Chip) Jr., a student at Southwest Texas Junior College, and Annette, a dainty, thirteen-

MR. AND MRS. AUGUST F. TAUTE AND ANNETTE year-old blonde who attends Goliad Junior High School. Chip is described as an easy-going, good-natured young man while Annette is quite conscientious in anything she undertakes.

Col. Taute feels that he has been stationed at very few bases during his career, however, he has been stationed at nine in Texas alone, has had training in Kansas and Alabama, and held posts in Lima, Peru, and on Okinawa.

As a result, perhaps, of her home economics training, Mrs. Taute uses her creative ability to turn their various houses into homes. She sews, knits, constructs hats and is making a beautiful hooked rug in sections so that it may be used, too, as a hall runner. In making her own drapes, she tries to design them so that they may be salvaged if the next move brings windows of a different size.

"I like to do anything with my hands," she said, expressing the thought that it was also a wonderful way to get better acquainted with younger Air Force wives, for whom she has a deep concern. At Lackland AFB, Mrs. Taute was in charge of the "Blue Yonder" workshop where wives received three days a month of indoctrination and familiarization concerning the way of life their husbands had chosen.

home are a smooth blending of styles, but the first impression and overall effect is of an oriental mood. The low tables were made from a hunk of mahogany which Col. Taute flew over from the Andes; a series of framed prints in delicate colors tells the story of rice; and the airy, folding screen was fashioned by Mrs. Taute.

There was a time when the colonel considered accepting the opportunity for a career in what might be a more glamorous field.

"The offer was tempting," said Taute, "but I feel that I gained by staying in the service."

The Air Force gained something, too.

"This came to mean very much to me," she continued, "for it is so important that an Air Force wife know how to occupy herself constructively while her husband is away on duty."

Lighting Alters Color, Test Before Buying

We tend to preserve some of the colors around us.

But before we dash out and buy a bucket of paint or a bolt of fabric or rolls of wallpaper in the azure blue of the summer sea or lush green of the country mountainside, we must take a good long look at our home, and decide whether we are on the right track or just merely sentimental.

Color can give completely different values under different kinds of light. If you buy color under a fluorescent light or yellow light and have rosy-hued light in your home, you'll have a different color under your home light than you did when you made your purchase. Test a swatch of the fabric or paint before making a definite decision.

Color can influence the emotional and physical well being of individuals, so it must be planned to fulfill many functions—create a background for the individual, serve as an outlet for the creative impulse of the family, provide a restful and relaxing atmosphere for living.

How color is born fashionwise could be a subject for great debate. Some experts believe that it is a question of evolving color when the timing is considered right by designers and manufacturers (so that a color coordination runs through all the markets at the same time). Others may contend that "a new color may start any place in the world, spread rapidly from one field to another so that the same colors are used in several fields at the same time."

One great barrier to trends in color is that people do not see color in exactly the same way. Color is in the mind of the beholder. It begins as light and is a process going on in the brain, allowing us to see one color or another.

Lower Necklines Influence Jewels

Since contour is everything in the sudden rage for the plunging neckline, Paris fashion designers are carefully placing jewelry in order not to detract.

At the house of Venet, for example, the sparkle is at the nape of the neck. A crescent-shaped pendant, studded with rhinestones and topped with a pearl, dribbled down one model's back during the spring shows.

A necessary adjunct to this new jewelry penchant is an up-swept hairdo—or who could see it?

Bridge Club Honors Mrs. B. F. Yeargin

Duplicate players held an "Honor Marty Yeargin Night" at the Webb Officers Club Thursday evening and presented the honoree with a birthday cake and gift. Nine and one half tables were in play.

The next meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Cosden Country Club.

North-south winners were Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. Rogers Hefley, first; Mrs. Ron Kibler and Mrs. B. F. Yeargin, second; Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, third; and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nalls, fourth. East-west winners were Mrs. R. R. McEwen and Mrs. E. L. Powell, first; Mrs. George C. Baird and Capt. Ron Kibler, second; Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, third; and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. Bill Emerson, fourth.

Smokers Seek Aid Of Buddies

NEW YORK (AP) — If you make a deal with your husband to go through the agonies of cigarette withdrawal together, both of you will have a better chance of shaking the dangerous habit.

The Buddy system has been found to be most effective among the thousands who jammed the auditoriums at Hunter College campus recently for the National Health Foundation's five-day How To Stop Smoking course.

As with alcoholics, fellow cigarette sufferers understand each other's tensions and are sympathetic. They can fight their problem together, and they can check up on each other.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MARILYN WILSON

Make your reservations for the April 2 OWC luncheon, by calling Mrs. G. E. Hartwell AM 4-7318, or Mrs. D. E. Wilson, AM 4-8102, before noon Tuesday, March 31. Wives of M and S will be the host group.

The Nominating Committee will meet Tuesday at the Officers Club to prepare a slate of officer candidates to present before the membership at the April luncheon. If you are interested in running for office, notify the committee. Permission must be obtained from a prospective nominee.

Come out to the club Wednesday, March 25, at 10 a.m. for the Hi and Bye Coffee hosted by wives of Class 65-D.

Visiting from Stockton, Calif., is Mrs. Ralph H. Elliott, mother of Mrs. Gary Heartsill. Lt. and Mrs. Heartsill have promised her a new grandchild any day.

From Omaha, Neb., comes word from Mr. and Mrs. Stuart D. Howerter, that a little sister, Susan Blair, arrived March 3 to join her two brothers and happy parents. Capt. Howerter, as we remember him, has left the service and now resides at

The Treasures of TRIUNE by Drexel

THE NEW FURNITURE CLASSIC

Discover the treasures of Triune . . . Drexel's latest triumph! Trace its historic legacy back through three centuries of furniture design . . . then admire how skillfully designers Henry and David Warren have blended 18th and 19th century elegance with 20th century function. The enduring woods feature genuine sable mahogany with smartest accents of walnut burl. You'll love the Italian marble top insets. You may also elect to have many special pieces finished in Triune white or Triune blue. Triune is impressively correlated for living, dining and bedrooms. There's so much to be seen . . . upholstery fabrics by Scalamandre, bunching chests, pedestal dining table and marble top night tables. All these and so much more — yours in Triune.

This Is My Favorite

Miss Lillian Jordan and her niece, Judy Jordan, have happy times looking at all the pretty little spoons this teacher has been collecting for the past 38 years. They are nice to have for the many tea parties and breakfasts served at 1204 E. 16th.

Demitasse Collection Never Stops Growing

By MARY COCHRAN
A trip to Caribbad Caverns in 1926 started Miss Lillian Jordan on a hobby that she has enjoyed ever since. She purchased a demitasse spoon as a souvenir, little realizing that she would be the proud owner of 104 such mementoes in years to come.

This collection contains spoons from two-thirds of the states in the nation including Hawaii, and from nine foreign countries. One of her most treasured spoons is a gift from Eugene Rush, a former student, that he brought back from the South Pacific. He knew of her interest in miniature spoons and obtained a hand made item that he carried in his mess kit throughout World War II.

Other countries represented in the collection are Turkey, Morocco, Germany, Switzerland, England, Canada, Mexico, and there is one from the Vatican in Rome. Miss Jordan purchased a few spoons while she was teaching homemaking from 1938 to 1943 in the Big Spring High school. She selected different sterling patterns to use in the teaching of silver selection. It was then that students learned of her hobby and began sending her gifts from many places. She estimates that 75 per cent of her collection are gifts from traveling friends and former students. She left the teaching field for 13 years to be manager of the T. E. Jordan Printing Co. and returned to her chosen profession in 1958 as a sixth grade teacher at College Heights school. When the class has a hobby day Miss Jordan delights the children with stories about the many places and people involved in her collection. She keeps a written record on each spoon but has committed to memory the story behind each one. Miss Jordan has a collection of demitasse cups that include antiques, Irish Beleck, china and gold leaf. They are as varied in style and decoration as the spoon grouping. When nieces and nephews visit for a tea party or dine with her at breakfast, it is a special treat for them to use the tiny cups and spoons. Special family celebrations with her brothers' and sisters' families take up many leisure hours for this collector. Also, she sends birthday cards to a long, long list of former students and friends. There is seldom a day she is not sending notes or greetings to her many acquaintances, and she can recall from memory well over a hundred birth dates. "Youth is really my hobby," she states, and her continuing interest in them fills her life.

Newcomers Celebrate

Mrs. Deryl W. Johnston, instructor of the Newcomers Bridge Study Group, was surprised with a birthday celebration when she honored members of the group with a party in her home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Leland Pierce was high score winner and refreshments were served to 16 members. The final meeting of the study group will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Mrs. Johnston's home, 2919 Bunbels. All members of the Newcomers Club and their husbands are invited to attend.

29th Azalea Trail Open In Houston

The 29th annual Azalea Trail is now underway in Houston with 10 gardens and five homes in the River Oaks area on display. Of historical interest is the River Oaks Garden Club Forum of Civics building, formerly the old Smith County School house that has been restored and used as a horticultural center.

Paul Soldans Have Nebraska Guests

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Soldan are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rhea of Chester, Neb. Joining her parents and grandparents for the Easter holidays, will be Kathleen Soldan, a student at Texas Western College in El Paso.

Lloyd Is Luncheon Speaker

Larson Lloyd, president of Security State Bank was the guest speaker Thursday at the regular luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club.

Using the topic, "Credit in Banking," Lloyd told of the processes by which some of the largest corporations in the world use credit. He said that credit buying has become a way of life for many people. Lloyd was introduced by Mrs. Tom Marr. Mrs. E. O. Worthan presided.

A letter was read from Joe Pickle thanking the club for the purchase of a child's membership at the YMCA. Also, correspondence from the VA hospital thanked the group for donations used in the gift shop. An invitation was received from the San Antonio Credit Women's Club inviting the local club to attend a one-day credit conference during May. Twenty-four members attended, including a new member, Mrs. Ernest Welch. The next meeting will be April 2.

Leonards Announce Birth Of Grandson

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Leonard have received word from Wichita, Kan., that their son, Bob, and his wife are the parents of a boy, Steven Edward, who topped the scales at 8 pounds, 2 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sneath of Corsicana. The J. E. Leonards will leave Friday to visit their son and family, Rev. and Mrs. William Leonard at Barker. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Lois O'Barr Smith who will spend Easter with her daughter and family, the Jim Lowrys of Cypress.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

From Salisbury, South Australia, comes word from our friend, PAT FISHER, who is "down under" on a Syncom tracking assignment. He spent several days in Fukuoka, Japan, visiting his parents and also toured Tokyo and Hong Kong. In June he will go to New Delhi, Bangkok, Cairo, Jerusalem and will spend three months touring Europe before returning to the states in September.

Pat finished high school here in 1937 and took a degree in electrical engineering in 1961 from Tech and is employed now by Hughes Aircraft in California.

Here today for the Bykota Class Pre-Easter breakfast are MR. and MRS. W. T. IRWIN, Dallas, her mother, MRS. GEORGE B. SAVAGE, Brownwood, and MR. and MRS. BROOK PAGE, Odessa. They are the guests of MR. and MRS. JOHN C. IRWIN. Mr. Page is Mrs. Irwin's brother.

Our No. Three son is in Midland visiting Ricky Stark. He plans to return here this afternoon.

Please Teen-Agers With Pillow Gift

A gift with special appeal to teenagers: musical pillows. Sporting brightly colored corduroy covers, they're shaped like musical instruments and contain musical units that tinkle at the slightest motion. Shapes available include a piano, violin, guitar, and telephone pillow which also doubles as a head rest.

MRS. MERLE KING and her daughter, Debbie, were through Monday on their way to San Angelo where they are now making their home. They had lived in Slaton.

MR. and MRS. DON PICKLE of Albuquerque, N. M., have a new red-haired son who was born Wednesday morning according to word received here by MRS. L. A. PICKLE, the baby's great grandmother. The Pickles have two other children, Kay Lyn and Max.

MRS. CHES ANDERSON, since her retirement, has her home in many places and this weekend she has chosen to come back to Big Spring to visit friends and to attend the Moore reunion. Most of her time is spent at Gilmer where her son, GERALD, is recovering from injuries sustained in a tractor accident. He is in a steel brace from his hips over his neck.

With Mrs. Anderson are her brother and sister-in-law, MR. and MRS. LAWRENCE MELOY.

The women who arranged the tea to honor past presidents of the Parent-Teacher Associations which was held here Thursday are to be commended. If all had come who were eligible there would have been an overflow. None enjoys such gatherings more than MRS. DELLA K. AGNELL who started in educational work in 1912.

I can remember well the years she taught at old Central Ward and seem to still see her patting her foot and clapping her hands in time to the music played on the Victrola for the children to march by as they went into the building.

Others who were there who had served in presidential capacities were MRS. L. S. PAT-

Hurrah for the Irish! An 8 pound, 2 1/2 ounce boy named Robert William Braatz Jr. was born St. Patrick's Day to Lt. and Mrs. Robert Braatz of 65-D.

Ginger Holland has been in the Stanton Hospital for several days.

Jan Hall has returned home from the Stanton Hospital following surgery.

Morgan Hall is in Temple where he is undergoing tests at the hospital clinic.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bridges have been Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Vest, Brownfield; Mrs. Mary Bridges and Mrs. Vera Patterson, Big Spring; the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Williams, Courtney; and Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Vest, Brownfield.

Forum Elects Slate Of Officers For '64

Mrs. Jack Y. Smith was elected president of the Woman's Forum Friday at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Lucian Jones. Mrs. Bert Shive was co-hostess.

Others on the new slate of officers are Mrs. Wayne Vaughn, vice president; Mrs. Max Fitzhugh, recording secretary; Mrs. Bert Shive, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Merrill Creighton, treasurer.

Announcement was made of the first place won by Mrs. Jack Johnson's president's written report at the Western District Convention held last week in Odessa.

The Forum voted to make a $25 donation to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center, and also discussed the merchant's plans for decorating the city during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Charles Sweeney spoke on allegiance to the Texas and national flags and parents' duty to their children to instill a feeling of pride in these emblems that represent their nation. She read George B. Harper's "Toast to the Texas Flag."

Reports from the convention were given informally by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Cecil McDonald and Mrs. Lonnie Coker.

Spring hats and men's ties were collected for distribution at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Twenty members were served refreshments during the social hour.

Rook Club Gives Guest Luncheon

A guest day luncheon was held by the Rook Club Friday in the home of Mrs. W. D. McDonald, 1408 Eleventh Place. Mrs. N. W. McCleskey and Mrs. Bobby McDonald were hostesses.

Abby Tells 'The Trouble With Teen-Agers'

EDITORS NOTE: This talk delivered by Abigail Van Buren (DEAR ABBY) at the annual symposium presented by Continuing Education in Medicine and Health Sciences of the University of California School of Medicine in San Francisco on Saturday, March 21, 1964.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

There was a time, and if you are over 40 you will remember, when teen-agers were known simply as adolescents. They were known then, as they are now, sensitive, mercurial, and self-conscious. But the adolescent inspired no headlines, no individual advertising campaigns, no special legislation and no seminars. You gave him a bar of Cuticura soap, told him to keep his face clean, and prayed for the best.

Why, since World War II, has so much attention been focused on the teen-ager? While his parents are trying desperately to guide him, society is attempting to "understand" him, and the cop on the beat is trying to "control" him.

We speak of teen-agers as though they were bananas, or a collection of look-alikes, freshly turned out of a duplicating machine. Conformists though they are about some things, the "typical" teen-ager is not to be found, because there is no such creature.

It seems odd that we must constantly remind ourselves that teen-agers are people — not roaches or grasshoppers or mosquitoes. Or something for which a new pesticide should be devised. They are young people deluged with problems at an age when they are least able to resolve them.

CODES CHANGE

Not too many years ago the moral code was designed for an agricultural society. Youngsters could — and did — marry when nature ordained it. Today we are living in an industrial and urban society in which marriage is deferred. So the changed social system and the unchanged nature of man's biological urges have combined to play a dirty trick on us. The most sexually ambitious and virile period of our lives are the teen years, and our teen-agers enter that period only to find that the door that leads to fulfillment has been slammed shut in their young faces.

During the eight years that I have become a journalistic waiting wall I have received about four million pieces of mail. Twenty-five per cent of the letters I get are written by teen-agers. And more than half of those writers have been afraid, or ashamed, or reluctant to sign their names. But even though the names were missing, the facts were there.

Teen-agers have told me things they could not tell another soul. Not their mothers, or their fathers, friends, clergymen or doctors. Some signed their names and begged for an answer "right away," while others wrote, "You don't need to answer this, Abby. I guess I just had to tell somebody, and gee, it sure felt good to get it off my chest."

While many of the 20 million teen-agers in this country share common problems, what an amazing variety of things disturb and perplex them! I must get about 100 letters every week that sound exactly like this one:

TYPICAL NOTE

"Dear Abby: I am a girl of 14 who is very much in love with a boy 15. When I see him in the halls at school I say 'hi' and then he says 'hi,' but if I don't say 'hi' he never says 'hi.' Who should say 'hi' first? Then from Asheville, N. C., came a letter from a girl of 15 whose hi-jinks made Christine Keeler look like Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm. And in the same batch of mail was a frantic query from an 18-year-old in North Platte, Neb., asking if a girl could get pregnant from kissing with her mouth open!

From the first-person, handwritten appeals that find their way to my desk I have culled those that are the most frequently repeated. Here are the problems that lead the list:

How can I get my parents to trust me?
Will a boy respect you if you give in?
I can't get along with my brothers and sisters.
I'm too fat.
I'm too thin.
I've got pimples.
My parents won't let me do the things my friends do.
Don't tell me to talk to my parents — they don't understand!

My parents are too strict. If a girl isn't a virgin when she gets married, will her husband know the difference?

What is the legal age to leave home?

And the saddest commentary on our times is the most frequently asked question of all: "How can I be popular?" Not, "How can I be a more worthwhile person?" or, "What can I do to serve my fellow man?" but, "How can I be popular?" Where do these shabby, shallow values that so many of our teen-agers embrace come from?

I believe the actions and reactions of today's teen-agers reflect the styles and the tastes of society as a whole. If teen-agers have a sub-culture of their own it only mirrors the world of their elders. And the 60's have added a new range of pressures — a range that runs from mama to Madison Avenue!

WHERE'S MAMMA

Let's talk about mamma: Years ago someone wrote, "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world." Who is rocking the cradle today? Nobody. Automation has invaded the nursery. You push a button and the cradle rocks itself.

It's no secret that in the typical modern American home mamma wears the pants. Mamma makes the decisions, passes out the privileges and lays on the punishments. Papa may pay the bills, but he is no longer the towering figure of authority.

So, in recent years, the kids have seen less and less of papa. But I have worse news. In more recent years the kiddies are beginning to see even less and less of mamma. She is either holding down a full time job outside the home or she's absorbed in golfing, playing bridge, crusading for some cause or socializing.

Consequently we now have a generation of guilty parents who are substituting material things (clothes, cars, spending money) for the love, guidance and supervision they know they should be giving their children — but are not.

Parents must expend energy and invest time in being parents. And this many parents are unwilling to do.

Thirty years ago men and women of 40 and 45 made their beds and were content to lie in them. Parents of teen-agers who realized that some of the magic had gone out of their marriage considered it no great sacrifice to stay together for the sake of their children.

Not so today. Many men and women of 40 and 45 are vigorous, attractive, adventuresome and are just getting their second romantic wind. They're better off financially, and have more free time. They look, feel and behave much like their teen-age children. (Who hasn't attended a wedding recently where the mother of the bride stole the show because she was so much better-looking than her daughter?)

DIVORCE

There is in America today a small army of parents who have been tranquilized into believing that it is better to junk the marriage than to raise children in an atmosphere of quarreling and bickering. (It occurs to few to do their quarreling and bickering in private, and to work harder at preserving the marriage.)

A 16-year-old Detroit girl, who signed herself "Mixed Up," wrote:

"Dear Abby: How does a girl know when she is really in love? Don't tell me to ask my mother because she is now in the process of divorcing her third husband. She is only 38 and her love life is so fouled up it is pitiful."

Do you know there is a booklet available entitled "How to Tell Your Child You are Getting a Divorce?" It contains all the well-worn phrases: "Honey, daddy and I just fell out of love. We still LIKE each other, but we no longer LOVE each other. I know you are a little too young to understand now, but you will when you grow up." And that, I presume, is supposed to explain satisfactorily why daddy doesn't live here any more.

Of course not all mothers are

either absent from the home or too busy with their own romantic problems to counsel their teen-age children. There is another type of modern mother who has contributed significantly to the shaping of teen-agers' values. She is the permissive mamma, the one who wants her children to be "happy." She gives in, letting her offspring do what "everyone else" does without even knowing who "everyone else" is.

She condones, or even encourages, going steady because she is told it contributes status in the young people's social set.

She sanctions the all-night party at Prom time, even though her instincts and every working brain cell tell her such parties breed trouble. But she doesn't want to be a spoil-sport and cast the veto that would embolden other mothers to object. Why, this could mean that her daughter would be ostracized by her friends!

She gussies up her 12-year-old daughter in high heels, a padded bra and more powder and paint than a burlesque queen would wear, and sends her off into the night with a boy who just got his driver's license last week.

Almost every boy, upon reaching the legal age to drive, has a car of his own, or can borrow one at a moment's notice. The automobile has become the modern tribal symbol of manhood. With five gallons of gas our young people are transported into a private world of their own in 20 minutes. Wise guys say small wonder our kids multiply before they can add two-and-two.

HAPPINESS

Then there is this happiness kick. Many parents are over-impressed with the importance of keeping their youngsters happy. When a 17 or 18-year-old goes off to college, the first time he telephones home he is asked immediately "Are you happy there?"

Twenty years ago those who were lucky enough to be sent away to college were told, "Work your head off, kid, and make the most of this opportunity to get an education."

Teen-agers today are "different" from adolescents of yesterday. Why? The problems that our teen-agers face are different.

A generation ago about all the average high school graduate needed in order to go to college was the money—and he could pick his college. Today the competition is killing. Today's youngsters are tested to exhaustion two and three years before they are ready to enter college, and some of them become nervous wrecks before a college accepts them. When they are finally enrolled, they are plagued with the fear that they will be in the 20 per cent of the freshman class that is doomed to be washed out by the end of the first semester.

It's not much of an exaggeration to say that between mononucleosis and the nervous breakdown, college infirmaries do a bigger business than the libraries. And it is no secret that the psychiatric services in our institutions of higher learning are understaffed and overburdened.

Teen-agers today are also faced with the eerie problem of whether there really will be a tomorrow. And if there will, what effect the fallout will have on future generations.

It is not surprising, therefore, that many parents try so frantically to make their children happy.

In an essay, The Real Reason For Being Alive, Leo Rosten put it this way:

"Ask any American mother what she wants most for her child, and the chances are she will reply 'To be happy.' But there was a time when what we wanted most for our children was to amount to something. What is this myth 'happiness' that has bamboozled so many of us? And what is this idiotic thing 'fun' which so many chase after? Where people once used to say, 'Good-bye,' they now say, 'Have fun.'"

"Where was it ever promised that life on this earth can ever be easy, free from conflict, uncertainty and pain?"

Those who seek the folly of unrelieved happiness, and do not know the dignity of occasional depression, can find bliss easily enough in tranquilizing pills, or in senility. "The purpose of life is not to be happy. The purpose of life is to matter. To be productive, to have it make some difference that you lived at all."

And now we come to Madison Avenue. Those who would minimize the impact of modern advertising on children should be enlightened by this letter from a ten-year-old boy in San Francisco:

AD IMPACT

"Dear Abby: How can I improve my image?"

Eugene Gilbert, the president of the Gilbert Youth Research, which specializes in advising business concerns on policies of marketing for the teen-age customer, estimates that the buying power of high school and college students is about TEN BILLION dollars a year!

Advertisers today do a masterful job of stimulating teen buying. Hear this:

"Be the first in your crowd to own an Elvis Presley pillow case. A life-sized picture of Elvis beside you every night—and for only five dollars!"

When I was a teen-ager and asked for something and was told, "No, we can't afford it," I knew it was so, and that was the end of it. Today, with two cars in every garage, a TV in every room, stereo and instant credit, it is almost impossible to convince a child that he can't have something because his parents can't afford it.

I received this letter from a 16-year-old boy in Phoenix, Ariz.:

"I asked my dad if I couldn't have a car of my own because I didn't flunk a thing, and he said it was out of the question because we couldn't afford it. Then all I said was, 'I didn't know we were THAT poor,' so my father got mad at me and sent me to my room, so please excuse my writing because I am in my closet with the door closed, and I am also holding a flashlight."

NO SECURITY

Teen-agers actually suffer from a lack of security if they don't have everything their contemporaries have, whether they need it or not. The point is illustrated well in a letter from a girl in Oak Park, Ill. She wrote: "Dear Abby: I am a 10-year-old girl who needs a bra. I don't have any but yet, but I need a bra anyway because all the girls in my room have them, and most of them don't need one either. All except Debbie Schwartz who says she is up to a 34B but we think she's lying."

There are teen-agers who are immune to the virus of vulgar advertising, and those who are spared pushy parents, but when we observe the temptations with which they are faced while growing up, it is a miracle they aren't in more trouble than they are.

Can anyone deny that much of our entertainment and popular literature have never been more saturated with sex? Our advertising never more suggestive and tasteless? Our young people never more stimulated to do what comes naturally?

Almost every newsstand and drugstore displays an assortment of magazines and paperback books filled with stories of murder, rape, perversions, and photographs of bosomy girls in living color — and nothing else. This literature is well within the budget of our teen-agers, with no restrictions on who may buy it.

BAD BOOKS

Outraged adults periodically protest. The objectionable material may go under the counter briefly. But it turns up again. And even though we must have court actions to refine our legal attitudes toward free art and expression, can we not stop the purveyors of obvious pornography from reaping profits by corrupting teen-age minds?

I know it is not easy to say who should judge what is right or wrong, obscene or decent, and where censorship should start and where it should end. I do know that unless it is done, we are guilty of feeding garbage to growing children, while we deplore the spread of crime, unwed motherhood and venereal disease among our youth.

When are we going to gather the courage to come out and say that something is filthy if that's what we think it is? When are parents going to realize that in order to have moral children they must be raised in a moral climate, with moral examples to follow? When are we going to quit blaming teachers and society and everyone but ourselves for our children's failure to measure up?

I am reliably informed that researchers have at long last discovered the "missing link" between the anthropoidal ape and civilized man. It is us! And although it is not pleasant to confess it, the answer to the trouble with teen-agers should trouble us all. And I hope it does. It is also us!

Dating, Marriage To Be Panel's Subject

"Dating Practices, School Drop - Outs, and Early Marriages," will be the topic for a panel discussion at the county-wide meeting of Howard County Home Demonstration Clubs March 24. The meeting, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church, is being sponsored by the education committee of the Howard County HD Council.

The panel members will be Sam Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring schools, Judge Ralph Caton, and Rev. Max Maguire, chaplain at the Big Spring State Hospital. Mrs. Sony Shroyer will be the moderator.

BACKGROUND

Supt. Anderson, a native of Clifton, has been associated with the local school system since 1956 and has served as superintendent for three years. He holds a BS degree from North Texas State University, Denton, and a MS degree from Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville. He and Mrs. Anderson have one daughter and the family attends the Methodist Church. Anderson is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, YMCA, Masonic Lodge, Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Boy Scouts, Howard County TB Association and other civic organizations.

Big Spring in 1959 from Stanton. They have two children and reside at 619 Colgate. He is a native of Waco and received a BA degree from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and a degree in law from Baylor University. Caton has been district judge since January, 1960.

CHAPLAIN

Rev. and Mrs. Max Maguire, 2302 Marshall, have one daughter. He is a native of Wichita, Kan., where he received a BA degree from that university. He holds a Bachelor of Divinity degree from San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Francisco. He did his residency for chaplaincy at Topeka State Hospital, Topeka, Kan., and Meninger Clinic, Menniger, Kan. He served a residency for supervisory chaplaincy at the Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Va. Rev. Maguire is an ordained minister in the United Presbyterian Church and has been associated with the County Society for Crippled Children and Adults for the past three years.

Education chairmen from the home demonstration clubs will assist with the program and a nursery will be provided.

Home Demonstration Clubs Schedule Tea

Home Demonstration clubs in the community made plans to attend the tea to be given by the education committee of the Howard County Home Demonstration Council March 24 in Fellowship Hall at the First Methodist Church.

FAIRVIEW CLUB
Craft articles made by members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club were displayed at the meeting held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. F. O. Sorrells.

A roll call on current events was answered by 15 members. Mrs. Shirley Fryar won the special prize, and Mrs. John Sutherland, recreational leader, conducted a food quiz.

Plans were made to attend the council tea scheduled March 24. Secret pal names were exchanged and Mrs. L. A. Yater was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. D. F. Bigony will be hostess at the April 7 meeting.

ELBOW CLUB
"Master-Mix Quick Meals" recipes were prepared and served in a demonstration by Mrs. Bud Nichols at the meeting of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club Thursday.

Mrs. Ray Shortes presided at the business meeting and announced 1200 cookies and 20 garments had been presented by the group to the Big Spring State Hospital. Each member gave a love offering for a needy family.

Mrs. Ross was hostess to 15 members and a guest, Mrs. M. E. Green.

The next meeting will be April 2 in the home of Mrs. Jack McKinnon.

COLLEGE PARK CLUB
A "Scrapcraft Day" program was initiated by members of the College Park Home Demonstration Club Thursday at the meeting held in the home of Mrs. Brandt Balze. Scraps will be sold to club members and proceeds will go into the treasury.

Miss Audrey Klaus presented the program, "Color In Clothing," and illustrated her talk with slides. Members brought old nylon hose to be given to the Veteran's Administration Hospital.

Refreshments were served to 15 members at a table covered with a white cloth and decorated in the St. Patrick's Day theme. Mrs. John Bivins and Miss Klaus were guests.

The April 7 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jess Crane Jr. 908 Nolan.

LOMAX CLUB
Plans to attend the council tea scheduled March 24 were made by members of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club Thursday. Mrs. Lawrence Atkins was hostess to the group.

Mrs. J. T. McIlvain presided, and eight members answered roll call with a current event.

The next meeting will be April 9 and Mrs. Waymon Etchison will serve as hostess.

Bird Films Presented At Forsan

Films on the wild life conservation movement in the nation were shown to members of the Forsan Study Club Thursday in the Forsan School Cafeteria.

Mrs. Bob Cowley introduced Mrs. James Blake who was in charge of the program. A film, "Wild Life and the Human Touch," dealt with good forest management and wild life preservation. "The Whooping Crane," a film on the nesting habits of the bird, pointed out efforts of conservationists to save this species from extinction.

Mrs. J. C. Ferguson was in charge of the meeting, and introduced a new member, Mrs. Jesse Louis Overton. Mrs. Don Murphy gave the devotion.

Fifteen members were served at a table covered with an ecru lace cloth centered with an arrangement of flowering quince. Crystal appointments were used.

The next meeting will be April 2 at the cafeteria when a program on physical fitness will be demonstrated.

HD Group Hears Talk On Cancer

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mitchell County's Home Demonstration Council met Thursday afternoon to hear a talk by Martin Weaver, administrator of the Root Memorial Hospital, on April's Cancer Crusade and to elect delegates to the District Convention in Floydada, April 30th.

Mrs. Don Blessingame, Mrs. Emory Sweatt and Mrs. Dave Womack were selected as delegates and Mrs. Arthur Sheppard, Mrs. J. R. Erwin and Mrs. W. C. Harlow as alternates.

Mrs. Raymond Wheeler of Lorraine was elected as THDA Chairman for 1965. She will replace Mrs. Don Blessingame in January of 1965.

Mrs. J. D. Gibson, president of the Council announced a book review in May by Mrs. H. J. Steakley.

Bluebonnets Blossom In South Texas Fields

AUSTIN (AP)—It's too late to plant bluebonnets, but the Highway Department has offered tips today for next year's gardening plans.

Generally, the first flowers open about March 15 in South Texas and in the north about May 1. The flowering period lasts about a month, the department said.

Seed mature about six weeks after the last flowers fade and should be harvested before the seed pods burst and scatter them. They may be planted at once after harvest or may be stored.

Planting should be done before Nov. 1 so the seed may germinate and grow a heavy root system during the winter months.

Bluebonnets grow best in soils that contain lime and are moderate in fertility and well drained, the department said.

Leg Allure Noted In New Stockings

The French and Americans may disagree on NATO and China, but they do agree on legs. They like them. In fact, all over the world men like to ogle long, pretty legs, which are accentuated by short skirts, open shoes, high heels and, most important, stockings.

Leg covering is vital. White, lace and plaid stockings are the rage among chic young Continentals.

Make These Now

Here are three pieces you can wear now, like a dress, and at the same time anticipate the good old summertime. No. 3177 comes in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. In size 14 and 44-inch fabric the little shell of a blouse and the shorts each take 1 1/4 yards; the skirt, 3 1/4 yards.

Send 35 cents plus 5 cents postage for this pattern to IRIS LANE (care of Big Spring Herald), Box 1490, New York 1, N.Y. Add 15 cents for first class mail and special handling. Our Pattern Book is 50 cents.

Pilgrimage Scheduled

The historic city of Jefferson is making preparations for their 17th Historical Pilgrimage April 10-12. Forty homes, churches and structures that have been awarded the Texas State Historical Survey Committee medallion will be on view.

The event is in commemoration of the Texas civil war centennial and is dedicated to Texans who served the Confederacy.

Special tours of plantations and homes are scheduled with tickets on sale at the American Legion Building. Hostesses in costumes will greet visitors, and special programs and a parade are scheduled for the event.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Judith Ann Lyster to Airman 2. C. Howard Berry is announced by her parents, S.M.Sgt. (ret.) and Mrs. E. O. Lyster, 1902 Alabama. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Berry, Narberth, Penn. The couple plans a June wedding.

Merchants Renew Downtown Area With A Shopper's Mall

By GENE HANDSAKER

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — Is your town's downtown feeling rundown? Are businesses shabby looking, poorly patronized or folding? Are they losing out to suburban shopping centers that offer acres of free parking?

Downtown decay is a common problem. Pomona has come up with an answer — spearheaded by private enterprise — that delegations from 150 U.S. and foreign cities have come to see.

NINE BLOCKS

It's a shoppers' mall — nine beautifully landscaped blocks where pedestrian is king. It's in the heart of the 76-year-old community's downtown section. Autos are banished to nearby parking areas. Every other crosswise street is closed to traffic.

Kids play in safety on the mall while parents shop. Music floats from loudspeakers. Stone-and-concrete planters are green with shrubs and tall, overhanging trees. Water whispers in six ornamental fountain pools. Shoppers rest on long stone benches.

The mall cost $680,718. Property owners assessed themselves $120 per front foot without resort to the public treasury, to pay for it.

VALUES UP

Property values have doubled. Merchants say business is up "substantially" or "phenomenally."

About $8 million in new investment capital has been attracted. That includes a $4 million Buffums' high-fashion department store, the first downtown department store development in 10 years. It replaced three blocks of substandard buildings, some of them 70 years old.

There's a gleaming, new six-story savings- and - loan building. Another such firm is building nearby. And 13 mall stores have been remodeled at a cost of $80,000.

"The mall has rejuvenated the entire downtown area and kept us alive," says jeweler Larry Wellins.

Two years ago Second Street, the main downtown shopping thoroughfare which is now the mall, was, in one merchant's words, "dying on the vine." In pre-freeway days it was a highway from Los Angeles, 33 miles to the west, to this lush valley community once so agricultural it was named for a Roman goddess of fruit. The area's attractions include a group of colleges and the annual, million-visitor Los Angeles County Fair.

WAS DYING

Mayor Harry Faulstich says that downtown Pomona was "virtually derelict, with empty shops, neglected store fronts, discouraging owners and declining real estate values."

Twenty-six buildings on Second Street stood vacant. Pigeons and bats inhabited the top floor of an abandoned bank. Angle-parked cars choked what traffic there was. A shopping center 1 1/2 miles east was taking its toll.

APPEALED

Business leaders had been talking mall for several years. They asked Millard Sheets, internationally famed artist and designer, perhaps Pomona's most creative native, to design a mall.

"I told them, 'No, you're not in the proper frame of mind,'" he says. "You've got to decide what you're trying to accomplish. The mall idea is all right, but you've got to become dedicated to really revitalizing the area, not just garnishing it."

Sheets, 58, an eminently successful artist who talks bie-busness men's language, explains:

"You can't belong to a collection of shopping areas that has no sense of centrality. A mall is only a symptom, a promise of good things to come, a means of showing the dedication to making this place alive and good."

Finally the mall proponents convinced Sheets they had developed what he calls "this wonderful sense of we'll-sink-or-swim-together."

Twelve or 15 men held mall planning meetings for three years, Sheets says, and "it was a thrill the way these people gave of themselves."

MEETING

At a long meeting one night, one leader said what the mall idea needed was for some big, outstanding successful firm to announce it was moving into the mall.

"A pump-priming job," he called it, "something to catch the imagination. A big-business man to say, 'I'll do it. We've got so many skeptics who don't have the nerve.'"

Sheets said he thought he knew just the man. When he got home at 2:30 a.m. he decided his hunch couldn't wait until morning. He telephoned his friend, Howard F. Ahmanson, chairman of the board of Home Savings and Loan Association, "America's Largest." Sheets had designed buildings for the company.

"I knew Howard's habits," he says. "He suffers from insomnia and doesn't get to sleep until about 3 a.m. 'I told him, 'I want you to buy the best block in the center of town and develop it in the way an old, broken-down block ought to be developed. It will cost about $1 million. I know you don't have any special reason to come to Pomona—except you're my friend and I need your help.'"

LET'S GO

A luncheon was arranged at which Ahmanson told the Pomonans: "I like what you guys are trying to do. Let's go."

About 15 town leaders chartered a plane, flew to Sacramento, pounded desks and got a Pomona franchise for Home Savings. The delegation included officials of two rival savings- and - loan associations in Pomona.

"These men realized that everything is better if you work together," Sheets said. "The moment they did this every kind of small, selfish interest in Pomona seemed to break down."

Sheets designed a mall and it was built between April and October, 1962.

Harold B. Pomeroy, Home Savings' Pomona manager, sitting beneath an enormous lobby mural done by Sheets, his friend since boyhood, who designed the six-story building, said:

"Whether this will save downtown Pomona, only time can tell. If this can't, I don't know what can."

REDEVELOPMENT

Pomona's redevelopment includes a police- and - fire headquarters building near completion and civic structures being planned — library, city hall, health building, civic auditorium, etc.

The rejuvenation began as far back as 1950 with a street-improvement program. Three under-passes have been completed beneath railroad tracks where in 1926-60 there were 235 auto-train collisions, with 18 deaths. Union Pacific has moved its tracks 40 feet north to tie in with a downtown transportation terminal.

The parking problem has been another target in recent years. Parking districts, financed by businessmen, have developed 18 lots with about 2,000 parking spaces.

FACTORY

The removal of old structures for parking room goes on. Soon to fall will be the city's 61-year-old Fraternal Aid Opera House, once the scene of Schumann-Heink triumphs but in recent years a brasserie factory. There still are six empty buildings on the mall, and Pomona doesn't claim the mall is the whole answer to its problem.

Some shoppers complain about the mall's straight-line layout. Park at one end, they say, and, unless you repark, you have to walk a round trip of 18 blocks to shop at both ends.

Charles McCrea, controller of the Orange Belt Emporium, a 63-year-old department store, says: "You still have to work hard — by advertising, customer services, giving values."

But there's an exciting civic fever of progress in Pomona today.

A Devotional For The Day

And when he (Jesus) entered Jerusalem, All the city was stirred, saying, "Who is this?" (Matthew 21:10. RSV.)
PRAYER: O Lord, grant that we may answer with conviction, with truth and understanding, those asking who Thou art. Grant that at Thy name every knee shall bow and all tongues confess that Thou art the Lord, for the glory of our Father God. In Thy spirit we ask. Amen.

Use Or Lose The Air Service

A bit on the stunning side is an indication out of Washington that Big Spring may not be demonstrating its need for air service.
 The Civil Aeronautics Board has a policy called "use it or lose it" and says that if a community doesn't board an average of five passengers per day, then it loses its air line facilities.
 The government, of course, has an interest in airline routings because it is involved in subsidies, and it looks out after the "public interest."
 It had been felt in Big Spring that when Trans-Texas Airways replaced Continental Airlines, and offered more schedules, business would pick up here. Matter of fact, the Trans-Texas people themselves have been satisfied with patronage in Big Spring, since starting service just a few months ago. It has been over the minimum for three months, below it last month. It would seem that some improvement has been made here. A matter of fare variance was ironed out, and efforts continue to bring about more convenient schedules. Admittedly, the hours of departures here have not been exactly what the air traveling public wants.

 If these could be improved, we feel that the use of air travel can grow, well past the minimum standard set up by CAB.
 It is pretty difficult to argue against the economics of the "use it or lose it" system. If people don't use the air service, why have it? Apparently the railroads have adopted a similar policy, and as there have been fewer train passengers, there has been declining passenger service.
 The community will have to face up to this, and by working closely with the air service people, there ought to be some program established to prove that Big Spring needs and will use its air service.

A Realistic Approach

A realistic approach to the fact that the nation is increasing in population of its elderly people is seen in the Health Insurance Institute report that guaranteed lifetime health insurance for persons at or near retirement age is increasing in volume and in scope.
 There are 95 companies which offer 191 separate forms of health coverage for a class of people considered un-coverable only a short number of years ago. This is possible, of course, because of two things: the longer life span with better health of elderly people; and the willingness of responsible companies to take a fair, competitive look at this type of business.
 Some of the new policies accept people 80 years old and older. There are even group plans which enroll people at 100 and past. Some policies for people under 65 carry clauses providing that at 65 they are paid up for life.
 It is new demonstration that there are ways for private enterprise to meet the health insurance program, at least for all those who are not completely impoverished. It is more realistic than throwing the whole program, like a blanket, over all the older people with government money. It is shown to be working, it can be shown to work better.

David Lawrence An Exposition On 'Civil Rights'

WASHINGTON—Perhaps the clearest exposition of what is involved in the "civil rights" bill pending before Congress has just been given by a retired justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Charles E. Whitaker, in an address before the Southeastern Missouri State College.
 While not attempting in any way to pass judgment on the constitutionality of the bill or to forecast any decisions, Mr. Whitaker explained just what is the pro and con in the public debate. He declared:
 "Today there is a wide tendency to speak argumentatively through the use of catchwords. Some of those that are commonly heard are terms of fairly definite meaning, such as 'segregation,' 'discrimination' and 'integration,' but even they are often used with little fidelity to their true meaning. Others are advanced as terms of definite meaning, or of art, when in fact, as often used, they are meaningless."
 "THE TERM 'segregation' is, in legal effect, but another synonym for prohibited 'discrimination.' The term 'desegregation' is a coined one of awkward and dubious meaning."
 "But the term 'integration,' though commonly used as a synonym of 'antidiscrimination' or 'antidesegregation,' actually has a very different meaning, and embraces the concept of mixing—well illustrated by the transfer of schoolchildren from their home district to a distant district for the purpose not of avoiding 'discrimination' but of affirmatively 'integrating' the races."
 "THERE IS, as the Supreme Court has held, a clear basis in the fundamental law of our land, and particularly in the Fourteenth Amendment, for striking down 'state acts' of 'discrimination' and hence 'segregation' in all 'public' institutions, including state public schools, as violative of that amendment's guarantee of equal protection of the laws. But, as the law stands today, there is no federal—distinguished from state—legal basis for compelling integration."
 JUSTICE WHITAKER pointed out that the Supreme Court, in the only opinion which it has rendered on the point, held unconstitutional an attempt by an act of Congress "to establish a code of municipal law regulative of all private rights between man and man in society." He said that the court ruled that this "was not within the powers delegated to the national government by the states and the people through the Constitution, and was therefore beyond the power of Con-

Caution Against Overheating The Economy

Although President Johnson is now making much of poverty, he is bound in the months ahead to make more of prosperity. This is a presidential year.
 If the present expansion continues through October, he'll be able to boast in the concluding days of the campaign that once again the Democrats have produced a 45-month skein of economic advance, matching that which started under Truman in October, 1949.
 THE PRESIDENT has confidence and optimism working for him. The main danger is over-confidence and over-optimism. Have you noticed cautionary phrases creeping into economic commentary—"overheating" or "over-stimulation" or "too far too fast?"
 Yet so far this advance has been gradual. Industrial production has increased 24 per cent in 37 months. In only one previous postwar expansion (from March, 1954 through February, 1957) has the gain been less, as you can see:

TO ADD TO confidence, the index of industrial production notched upward 0.4 points to 127.6 in February, the fifth consecutive monthly advance. Housing starts continue at a robust seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,643,000, a 5 per cent drop from January rate, but 19 per cent above the year-ago figure. Such a rate is probably more sustainable than one above 1,700,000. For the topper, nonfarm employment increased by 200,000 in February, normally a down month.
 Corporate reports for 1963 add to confidence. Profits for the most part are well above 1962. And this already has been reflected in corporation intentions to build new plant and install new equipment.
 FORECASTS of capital outlays for 1964 are 10 per cent higher than actual expenditures in 1963—about $43 billion against $39 billion. And this level could move higher as the year moves along. General Motors has just announced a two-billion dollar capital program for this year and next—the largest in its history.
 Why? Because profits reflect consumer demand—what the Period	No. of Months Increase	Pct.

Feb. '46-Jul. '48	29	31
Oct. '49-Jul. '53	45	50
Mar. '54-Feb. '57	35	21
Apr. '58-May '60	25	25
Jan. '61	37	24

Why then, if this rise to date has been moderate, the concern about over-stimulation? Simply this. In its 38th month, this recovery still rolls on and upward (see chart). Optimism has never—well, hardly ever—been greater. And on top of all that, we have a tax cut to feed prosperity.
 HEADLINES about the war on poverty have not dismayed consumers. Retail sales continue at record or near-record levels. Only the other day, the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan reported a seven-year high in its Index of Consumer Sentiment with this observation: "Optimistic attitudes are almost as widespread among consumers as during the boom of 1955-56."
 However, consumer intentions to buy automobiles were down somewhat. Perhaps here's an explanation. The interviews were conducted in January and February—before passage of the tax bill. After the tax cut, buying intentions might have been changed. The latest sales figures promise a record year, better than 1955.

 In such cases, more plant is indicated. And when "profits roll in, finance committees are generous. At the same time, investment bankers and commercial bankers are willing to grant credit liberally. The up-cycle—capital spending—progresses.

AND THAT IS the reason why words such as "overheating" and "too much too fast" creep into the economic jargon. The Johnson administration wants to reduce unemployment and raise production, employment and gross national product. That's good economics and good politics. The economic slowdown in 1960 hurt Richard Nixon and helped John F. Kennedy.
 The danger is that the recovery, which has been orderly and persistent, might burst into boom. Prices might rise, Wall Street speculation heighten, bank loans expand.
 IT'S A CLICHE to say that prosperity sows the seeds of its own destruction. The Billie Sol Estes and Tony DeAngelis are products of overconfidence and carelessness. In any period such as this the President of the United States and the presidents of corporations and banks have a common problem and objective: To keep their feet on the ground and their sights on high.

The Voices Of Spring

How do you know when it's Spring? The astronomers have their scientific findings on it, and can give a precise and detailed explanation about the earth's relationship to the sun. Little boys have their built-in senses to know when it's Spring. They don't need a calendar. All of a sudden there's a compulsion for tops or marbles to appear, or, principally, it's overnight kite flying time.

THE LOVERS of flowers seem to know, without consulting almanacs. By some miracle, the soil seems warmer, softer; the inner urge asserts itself, and, magically, digging and planting and nurturing is being done.

I know when Spring is here when I first hear the underworld talking. It's not the underworld of shoot-'em-down fiction. It's the underworld of the bugs and insects, those critters, who, as I have reported before, sooner or later will conquer the world.

WELL, I HEARD 'em last week. It was the day that patience broke after having heard repeated reminders from the Queen of the Household that it's time—and past—to fertilize the lawn, get the weeds out, spruce the place up. Women generally are impatient about these things, and prone to rush the season; but there comes a time when excuses no longer are valid, further delays cannot be dreamed up, and resistance collapses.

So, armed the $40 worth of plant food and bug poison, and equipped with all the gadgetry that only nursery, garden and implement people can dream up, I finally essayed to the task.

THAT'S WHEN I heard the underworld characters. I cannot identify them as to name or species, because that takes an expert. All I know is I know familiar voices when I hear them.

 As I mixed the materials from the garden store, there was a regular off-stage convention of those bugs.

"I THINK we're about to get our feeding," one said to the other. "And high time, too. It's been a long winter."

"Yes, and look what he's using this year. That new brand which we have been trying to get for so long. What a feast! Better let all the neighbors know."

"Yep," said the other. "He's putting together a new recipe. He thinks that I will take care of his yard for all year. I can't wait to taste it!"

"HOPE HE lays it on thick. Last time, he spread it so thin there wasn't enough for seconds. How does he expect a normal, thriving insect to live adequately without a sufficiency of vitamins?"

"Better back off for a little while, or dig in deeper. I think he's about to start his broadcast. Say, I've got an idea! Let's tighten our belts and not touch the stuff for a week or so, and let him think we've been had. Then the celebration! We can ask all our friends in—regale ourselves without letup! He'll never notice until it's too late. He'll think there's a strange breed moved in on him, and go down and buy some more of what he calls poison. It may be a new delicacy that we've never sampled."

"GEE, LOOK! The way he's spreading it on, we've got enough to last us all summer. Talk about poverty, huh, it's not for us bugs. Not as long as we have an above-ground friend, who takes care of us like he does."

And that's Spring. I know. I heard the voices.

We Satirize Ourselves

WASHINGTON—In movie houses across the country long lines wait to see two films that are far from the customary froth of Hollywood. "Seven Days in May" and "Dr. Strangelove or How to Stop Worrying and Learn to Love the Bomb" have both stirred the kind of controversy that in another day grew out of such pictures as "The Grapes of Wrath."

"SEVEN DAYS," a real thriller that tells how a plot by top brass in the Air Force to take over the government was foiled, has been attacked by right-wing publications. Noble words about democratic government and the privilege of free choice are spoken by the fictional President as he strives to hold the reins of authority against military usurpers opposed to a disarmament treaty with the Soviet Union.

But it is "Dr. Strangelove" that has set off the loudest critic firecrackers. On the one hand indignant critics sputter that if this can be shown, as representing American military and civil authority, then nothing is sacred. Others have said that it is one of the most exciting films ever made—bitter, Swiftian satire of a mad age that reckons casualties in a third World War at a hundred million on each side.

THE MOST-POINTED criticism has come from movie reviewers but from serious commentators. They say that this wild farcical satire of the American military, a bumbling President and, off screen, a simple-minded Soviet premier will do America great harm when it is shown abroad. They point out, too, that the film in showing a mad Air Force general starting the war ignores improved fail-safe procedures making this impossible. But "Dr. Strangelove" is, after all, a satire and its aim is to jolt the imagination and jar those who may gradually have come to accept the belief that a nuclear war would not be very much different from other wars. In this it seems to one observer to succeed admirably.

PERHAPS THE best answer to the anti-American charge has come from England where the picture is also showing to crowded houses. The distinguished weekly, The Economist, writes:

"Except in the sense that anyone who is already anti-American to begin with will probably read his own anti-Americanism into it (as a hot-under-the-collar adolescent will probably read pornography into "Lady Chatterley's Lover") this is nonsense. That it is nonsense is shown by the fact that the one really unforgivable act of top-level idiocy committed in the film is committed not by an American but by the Russian prime minister, who switches on the "doomsday device," thus insuring that the whole world gets blown up without telling anybody . . ."

THERE IS still another answer to the anti-American charge. Except for the most uncritical audiences, who would probably not get the point in any event, the fact that the picture has been made by Americans about Americans shows that we are free to satirize ourselves. We can turn savage laughter against the folly of an era that has at enormous cost built the means of its own self-destruction. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Southern GOP Hasn't Given Up

SAVANNAH, Ga. — No Ramblin' Wreck is Sen. Barry Goldwater in these southern parts, despite his collision with near disaster in New Hampshire.

A few days spent among articulate conservatives in South Carolina and Georgia soon convinces the visitor that the Arizona senator's troops have just begun to fight. They do not accept his poor showing in the nation's first primary election as proving anything except what they knew already. They never doubted that the battle for the GOP nomination is one of Goldwater vs. the hated Northern wing of the Grand Old Party.

TYPICAL OF the New Breed Republicans in Dixie is state Sen. Joe Tribble, one of six of his party in the Georgia legislature. A practicing engineer, a young family man with four children, Tribble is currently running hard for the post of state Republican chairman. He wears a lapel emblem of the GOP elephant which, in turn, wears an oversized pair of black-horn-rimmed spectacles. Here, as nearly everywhere in the South, the Republican leaders are the Goldwater leaders. Of the 279 Southern delegates who will attend the San Francisco convention, an estimated 250 are solidly for the Arizona. Combined with the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Republicans, they are the hard corps of Conservatism. They intend that the old Mc-Too cartel, which rejected Robert Taft and other Old Guardsmen, shall not get away with that managed surrender of principle again.

THE SURRENDER in times past was managed by the Eastern money men and manipulators in days very different from these. New Breed Republicans don't want to rattle the bones in cobwebbed party closets, but all of us not born yesterday remember when Republican delegates from the one-party South were mostly Negroes, or Negro-keepers. The fares a expenses for the conventions were paid, and their votes could be had for folding money out of Northern pockets.

In a word, the Southern delegations at Republican conventions were up for auction. They often were the deciding factor that allowed what is now the anti-Goldwater groups to write platforms and to name candidates.

WELL, MONEY WON'T buy the New Breed of college-bred, ex-Democratic, hard-principled Republicans who will largely represent the South in the '64 convention. If they can join with their fellow partisans west of the Mississippi River and nominate Goldwater, these Southerners are very confident they can carry their states against what they call the "warm-over Kennedyism" of President Johnson's ticket.

To this reporter's expressed opinion that Southern stalwarts like Senators Russell and Talmadge, Eastland and Stennis, McClellan and Sparkman and assorted governors may deliver the South to LBJ, Joe Tribble and other New Breed spokesmen reply that this is also day-before-yesterday reasoning. The national Democratic party is gasping its last in the South, it is being told, not because of its racial liberalism, but because of its political radicalism and irresponsibility, and—more than anything—because of its yellow-streak foreign policy.

SHOULD GOLDWATER be defeated in San Francisco—and nobody down here seems to believe it possible—the two major parties may well face another Southern Secession. It will be nothing like the Dixiecrat party of 1948, which was a white man's walk-out on the Truman civil rights promises. This one promises to be a walk-out on the two-party system which has knuckled down to socialism at home and communism abroad. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Billy Graham

My problem is this: are Christians supposed to hope and pray that Jesus Christ our Lord will come back to earth very quickly and very soon? Or are we to have a natural desire to live our lives out here on this earth? I find myself praying that Christ will come, but inwardly hoping that He will delay His coming. Am I wrong in this?

N. H.

While it is natural to want to continue our existence here on this earth, Christians are endowed with a love for Christ, and therefore, a love for His appearing. We, the Church, are likened in the New Testament to the Bride of Christ. What bride would not wish for the Bridegroom's return? We are inseparably bound to Him by love, and our hopes, our dreams, and our future are closely related to His coming.

If a waiting bride has been indiscreet, then she may have some fear of the bridegroom's return. If, as you say, you publicly pray for His coming, and privately fear it, then I would examine my heart for the reason for the fear.

If you live up to the New Testament ideal: "Whom having not seen, we love," then you will not find the thought of His coming distasteful. If we walk with Him "in the spirit," it will be joyful to walk with Him in the flesh. When all of the barriers are removed you will be able to say with John: "Even so come, Lord Jesus."

Don't Worry When Heart 'Skips A Beat'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Doctor: What happens when the heart skips a beat? Could an aneurysm near the heart cause this?—F. C. P.

Not much of anything happens when the heart "skips a beat," because this "skipping" is quite frequent and it isn't really a "skip," but a change in rhythm.

Ordinarily the heart goes thump - pause - thump - pause-thump-pause.

Sometimes it goes thump - pause - thump - thump - pause-pause.

The heart beats once a second or thereabouts. As you have probably read, hearts can be stopped for a few minutes and be started again without any permanent harm. So a pause of a second or so is of no consequence.

I don't want to get too technical, but yes, an aneurysm might have some effect in causing a "skip," but that would be rather rare. Let your doctor decide.

such as drinking too much and excessive smoking.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am heartbroken after finding that my 13-year-old boy sniffs glue. He denies it but I can smell it on his breath and his clothes are full of it. What makes a bright boy do such a disgusting thing?—DISCOURAGED MOM.

Glue - sniffing doesn't seem to me to be disgusting. It is foolhardy. Damage to the liver is the most immediate danger, and the damage often is lifelong. If the boy can be made to realize that this can shorten his life, and perhaps make him an invalid, he will probably stop. It is important to find out where he picked up this trick and how many of his friends are doing the same thing.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a married woman with an embarrassing problem. Once in a while I wet the bed. Could it be that I have had kidney trouble? To consult a doctor who would see me while I was telling this would be most embarrassing. Can you help me?—S. M. Some kidney or bladder infection (not necessarily a bad one now) could be the answer. Perhaps if you told him you were having "occasional loss of control," you might find it less embarrassing. You aren't the only adult who has had this trouble, and if some infection is involved, the quicker you start having treatment, the better, because if not treated these things tend to get steadily worse.

NOTE TO P. V.: Cancer cannot be transmitted by towels, sheets, etc. In fact, no means has yet been found by which cancer can be transmitted from person to person.

However, when an open cancer is draining, it usually is—or at least may be—infected with ordinary germs, just as any open wound is likely to become infected.

Thorough laundering is all that you need to make towels or bed linen of such a patient completely safe. Hospital laundering, naturally, is done with sufficient heat so that all such germs are destroyed. This is true of commercial laundering, too.

County Scholastics Show A Gain For Year Of 298

There are 298 more boys and girls of school age in Howard County this year than in 1963. The total for 1964 as shown on the scholastic census is 9,521. This compares with 9,223 for last year.

Mrs. Helen Acuff, secretary to the Howard County School superintendent, has just completed the census rolls and is sending them to Austin.

She noted that Big Spring Independent School District figure for 1964 stands at 8,183—which is 478 greater than shown in the 1963 totals. In 1963, however, Gay Hill Common School and Center Point Common School were listed separately and had 265 scholastics. This year, both of these schools have been absorbed by the Big Spring district. The scholastics from the two schools are now listed on the Big Spring roll.

TO BORDEN COUNTY
Last year, too, Vealmoor Common School had 37 scholastics on the census. In the interval since the 1963 census, Vealmoor has consolidated with Borden County Independent School District. The Vealmoor scholastics, for 1964, are now credited to Borden County.

Big Spring district, counting the gains it made from Gay Hill and Center Point is 478 ahead of the 1963 total. The Big Spring total for this year is 8,183. In 1963 it was 7,705.

Coahoma Independent School District has increased its scholastic total by 125. Last year it had 819. This year the figure is 944.

Dawson's Spelling Bee Set Monday

LAMESA (SC) — Twenty-one spelling experts from seven Dawson County schools will contest for the county title here Monday at 4:30 p.m. in the South Elementary school cafeteria.

Schools entering contestants include South Elementary, V. Z. Rogers, Knott, Ackerly, Klondike, Union and Dawson (Welch). The winner will be enrolled in regional competition at Lubbock.

Spelling coaches from the seven schools will serve as judges. Wayne Smith and R. B. Snell will serve as pronouncers.

ent School District has 394 scholastics this year—three less than its figure for last year. In 1963 Gay Hill recorded 117 scholastics, Center Point 148, 1963 totals.

Compiling School Rolls Old Story To Mrs. Acuff

The one person in Howard County who undoubtedly knows more about the scholastic census records of the county than anyone is Mrs. Helen Acuff, secretary in the county superintendent's office.

This past week, Mrs. Acuff completed figuring out the scholastic census figures for 1964 and sent them to Austin. She had filled out these annual reports each year, with a single year's exception, since 1928.

"It was in 1928," she said, "that Howard County first reached the point where it had the minimum scholastics—3,000—which made it necessary the office of county superintendent be established."

She was engaged in other work in 1929 when census tabulating time rolled around. However, the following year, Mrs. Acuff was again on the old routine. There have been many changes in the 33 years, she recalls. One of the accomplishments she is proudest of is that the first scholastic census forms dated March 1928 are still intact and on file in her office.

"There was a suggestion to destroy these old files," she said, "but I talked them out of it. They are still on hand."

In 1954, she recalls, the form was changed in size. However, this did not prove satisfactory and in 1955 the old forms were resumed.

When Mrs. Acuff first began making up these annual reports more than a score of schools were on the county map.

Today, the scholastic census involves only three school districts—Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan.

ROBERT MORRIS

GOP Senate Candidate Is Due Thursday

One of the major Republican candidates for the U.S. Senate from Texas, Robert Morris of Dallas, will be in Big Spring Thursday for campaign conferences.

Local supporters have scheduled a coffee period from 4 to 6 p.m. in the community room of First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and are extending an open invitation for the public to meet Morris.

The candidate had scheduled an appearance here some time ago, but had to cancel it when his mother died in New York City.

An attorney, lecturer, writer and educator, Morris has been chief counsel and special counsel for the U.S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, has served as minority counsel to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was in Naval Intelligence during World War II, and has a broad background in security investigative work. He served as president of the University of Dallas in 1960-62, and more recently has been associated with the Defenders of American Liberties.

Only Nine Days Left To Get Tags

Approximately half of the motorists of Howard County have just nine days left in which to replace the 1963 car plates now on their cars and trucks with 1964 plates.

Mrs. Zilah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said Saturday her office has collected $190,542.33 in car registrations since Feb. 1.

Deadline for payment of car license fees is April 1. As of that date last year, the tax office had collected $434,961.74. This would indicate less than half of the cars and trucks in the county have as yet been provided with new plates.

Mrs. LeFevre warned motorists that their cars cannot be legally operated on the roads and highways after midnight April 1 if they are not equipped with current plates.

She pointed out that the grand rush for tags always builds up the last 10 days before deadline. She does not think there are any greater number of untaxed cars now than there were a year ago at the same date.

She called attention to the substations in the city where car plates can be obtained. Newsum's Food Store on South Gregg Street can issue passenger car plates only. The four Lewis 5-and-10 stores are equipped to issue plates for passenger cars and for light trucks as is the station at the Eason Bros. Garage on West Third.

Mrs. LeFevre pointed out that these substations are open Saturday, but the offices in the courthouse are not. The substations also stay open later than the courthouse does.

Total car registration collections for the tax office in 1963 was $520,143.58. This year's collections will be equal or larger, Mrs. LeFevre believes.

The county road and bridge fund, under state law, receives $175,000 — it can receive no more than that sum. Counties with many times the cars this county has, get only $175,000. Counties with too few cars get only a percentage in accordance with the amount collected.

The first $50,000 collected goes to the county, Mrs. LeFevre pointed out. The state shares none of this money.

The next $250,000 collected is divided equally between the state and the county. When the county has received a total of $175,000 the remainder of the car registration money goes to the state.

For example, of the $520,143.58 collected for car registration in 1963, the county received $175,000 and the state $345,143.58. By the end of this week, the county's share of $175,000 will have been reached.

Meantime, Mrs. LeFevre said that she hoped motorists would make every effort to get current tags as soon as possible. Each year at this season, long lines of belated car owners form er shows up, starting Monday, the shorter the lines will probably be, Mrs. LeFevre pointed out.

DEAR ABBY

Dear Abby Tells All

DEAR READERS: I am continually receiving letters from readers who ask, "How can you give advice to parents on child rearing when you are an old maid yourself?" Or, "The lady next door told me that the picture you use with your column was taken before World War I."

Others have asked, "Are you married? Have you any children?"

I have on numerous occasions, answered these questions in my column, but for those who apparently still do not know, I offer a few vital statistics:

Abigail Van Buren is a pen name for my own choosing. I was born on the fourth of July in 1918. In 1939 I married the same fine man to whom I am still married. We have two offspring—a daughter 21, and a son 19. The picture over my column was taken about a year ago. I stand five feet nothing, and weigh 100 pounds. I was raised on Iowa corn (no remarks, please) and now reside in southern California. Any more questions?

DEAR ABBY: My husband insists on making a liar out of me every time I open my mouth. I can be talking to friends, relatives, our children or to strangers. He is a good man in many other ways, but his habit of contradicting me is getting me down. I don't even feel like talking in front of him any more. When I started to tell my doctor how I felt, my husband interrupted me, saying, "She doesn't really feel weak and dizzy, she feels tired and nervous." I am never right. Is there a cure for a man like that?

NEVER RIGHT
DEAR NEVER: Your husband may not be aware that he is constantly contradicting you. Tell him! And if he's as good a man in the many other ways as you say he is, he'll make an effort to be a better man in this way, too. If he's just looking for a fight, use reverse English and give him the old, "You're right, Dear." He'll catch on.

DEAR ABBY: You once gave me your recipe for Southern pecan pie. I baked one for my family, and they just raved about how delicious it was. Then

Earnings Are Up For Oil Companies

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — A world wide surplus of oil still exists but most major oil companies are reporting record earnings. Most also are optimistic about prospects for 1964. Annual financial reports now being distributed to stockholders make frequent references to depressed crude and products prices. Gulf Oil Corp. has reported record net earnings in excess of $371 million for 1963 even though the wholesale price of regular grade gasoline has been on a downward curve since 1958. The Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) had record total revenues and net earnings.

Texasco Inc. had record production, refining and sales as consolidated net income exceeded the one-half billion mark the first time in history at $545 million. Indiana Standard's report reviewed net earnings and rate of return trends. "The company's rate of return on invested and borrowed capital increased slightly, for the fifth consecutive year, to 6.7 per cent," said John E. Swearingen, Indiana president. "This rate of return is still too low and management will not be satisfied until it is improved substantially."

Swearingen said a study of financial and operating results the past 10 years shows that 1958, the second lowest year for net earnings in the decade, was a turning point which has been followed by sustained increases for five years. "Only once before in its recent history, in the 1930s, has the company had five successive years of increases in net earnings," he said. "Net earnings are 55 per cent higher than they were five years ago, despite the fact refined product prices have declined 6.5 per cent, and average wage and benefit costs per employe have increased 20 per cent."

But Swearingen said prospects for the industry in 1964 are generally good even with perennial difficulties with costs, prices and regulations. "Even though prices for crude oil and refined products continue under pressure, we believe there will be no substantial changes in 1964," he said. "Record levels in industry operations, along with further gains in earnings, appear likely." Gulf's report to stockholders said its annual rate of increase of net earnings over the past 10 years has been 8.5 per cent despite a decline in petroleum prices which are determined by competition and are beyond any company's capacity to control. Augustus C. Long, Texas

Computers Aiding Risky Business

Early oilmen often relied on such things as hunches, dreams and divining rods to help them decide where to sink a well. Their present-day counterparts, by contrast, are turning increasingly to electronic computers for the same kind of help. Yet despite such modern-day marvels, the search for new deposits of oil and gas remains highly risky. Only one wildcat well in nine finds any oil or gas at all and not even the most advanced computer can tell a driller exactly where he should sink his well—any more than could the divining rod of old.

Computers do, however, provide quickly and accurately, information which can help decide if a particular site is promising enough to warrant the heavy expenditure of drilling. There is a wealth of available information—much of it geological—which oil company scientists can analyze to help determine whether a rock formation thousands of feet below the earth's surface might contain oil or gas.

In fact, so much information has been accumulated over the years that a geologist might spend days gathering data from company and public records before finding what he needs to know. It is to avoid such time-consuming activities that companies have begun transferring geological and other valuable information to computers. Using such devices, a geologist can now obtain in a matter of minutes the data he might have spent days seeking, leaving far more time for the important job of interpretation. Indicative of the interest in the prompt retrieval of information is the decision by a board chairman, said a four per cent increase in 1963 gasoline demand—the best in the United States since 1955—resulted largely from record sales of new automobiles, consumer preference for higher horsepower cars, and the general expansion of business activity.

Texas Economy Shows Steady Money Flow

DALLAS — Although the Texas petroleum industry has "pockets of depression" which are painful to many drilling contractors, service and supply firms, and numerous operators, it has generated a steady flow of dollars for the Texas economy, averaging more than $3.5 billion a year for the past decade, James L. Sewell, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, pointed out Saturday.

"We are encouraged that the dollar value of production from Texas oil and gas wells in 1963 was at an all-time high, with the exception of 1957, the year of the Suez crisis," Sewell said. "The steady decline in the number of wells drilled, however, has adversely affected many operators, drilling contractors and suppliers."

"We can't overlook the fact that we are in a period of transition in adjusting ourselves to the markets for energy in this country. During such periods of change, the conservation principles laid down by the Texas Legislature and the Railroad Commission are proving their worth as a stabilizing influence for the Texas economy and the general public," Sewell commented. "Our over-all improvement is slow, but there are no safe short cuts, and prudent operators are wary of overnight cure-alls."

In the past ten years, the total value of Texas crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids has moved from $3.4 billion in 1953 to $4.1 billion in 1963, according to U. S. Bureau of Mines value estimates. Sewell pointed out. In 1957 when European demand was heavy for Western Hemisphere oil, due to the cut-off of Middle Eastern supplies by the blocked Suez Canal, Texas produced a record amount of crude, valued at $3.3 billion, at a higher per-barrel price. Total oil-gas-liquids value then was $4.2 billion. Since then both crude price and volume have slipped. Principal gains have been made in the increased price and output of natural gas and the ever increasing output of liquid hydrocarbons from natural gas, Sewell said. Since 1954 the annual value of Texas natural gas has risen from $387 million to some $761 million last year; liquids from $361 million to $447 million.

"The significant change has been in the form of the fuel that Texas is supplying to the U. S. energy market," Sewell said. He cited figures showing that in 1954 crude oil accounted for 80 per cent of the total dollar value of Texas well output; natural gas, 11 per cent; liquids, 9 per cent. In 1963 the ratios had changed to 71 per cent for crude oil; 18 per cent for gas; and 11 per cent for liquids.

"Until Congress removes the wellhead sale of natural gas from control by the Federal Power Commission, the improvement trend will continue slow and operators will continue to be plagued by the high costs involved in legal and paper work in selling their gas," Sewell said.

Netherlands Opens New Gas Reserves

Manufacturers and suppliers of natural gas production, storage, transmission equipment and appliances face an immediate challenge in the new multi-million dollar market in the Netherlands and other European countries. An intensive campaign to help U. S. firms take advantage of new export opportunities stimulated by recent discoveries of unusually large natural gas reserves in the Netherlands was announced recently by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges. "The commodities the Dutch will need to effectively exploit these gas reserves—reportedly the largest in Europe and one of the largest in the world," the secretary said, "constitutes a new source for the sale of American products they will need."

"Although the impact of these discoveries on the Netherlands economy and on that country's import demands will be felt for many years, it is important for U. S. suppliers to get into the market this spring, before industry equipment patterns are broadly established and user preferences are formed," he said. The Commerce Department's program to help U. S. businessmen exploit this market potential is timed to coincide with the opening of the Royal Netherlands Industries Fair in Utrecht March 9, when an unusual number of trade inquiries are expected at a Business Information Center and special commercial library that the Department's Bureau of International Commerce has planned for the event. The Utrecht Fair will run through March 17. Interested firms are encouraged to send a representative to Utrecht in the next week or ten days to do their own market development work.

Moving in on this new market is up to us.

Many Oklahoma and Texas firms who have manufactured products and equipment for the natural gas industry for many years in this area have an excellent opportunity to sell firms in the Netherlands because of their past experience.

The Dallas Field Office, 500 South Ervay Street, Dallas, Texas, will assist businessmen who take action promptly according to Harry C. Meyers, Director of the Commerce Department's Dallas Office.

A special list of Dutch firms interested in importing U. S. equipment, received from the U. S. Embassy in the Hague, has been released to the Department's 39 Field Offices throughout the United States, of which the Dallas Field Office is one.

213 ROTARIES

Lea County Leads Week's Rig Count

There were 213 rotary drilling rigs operating in the Permian Basin Empire, according to the Friday survey of Reed Roller Bit Co., a decrease of two from the 215 recorded a week ago.

This also is a decrease of 21 from the 234 reported on the comparable survey in 1963.

Lea County, N. M., remains in first position with 44, an increase of six over the 38 listed a week ago.

Pecos County, with 17, a decrease of one from 18 a week earlier, was in second and Ector County gained three over last week's 11 to be in third place with 14.

The county-by-county total, with last week's figures in parentheses, is:

Andrews 10 (10), BORDEN 2 (2), Chaves 2 (1), Cochran 1 (1), Coke 0 (1), Concho 0 (2), Crane 9 (8), CROCKETT 6 (4), CULBERTSON 0 (2), DAWSON 8 (8), Ector 14 (11), Eddy 8 (11), Fisher 1 (2),

Gaines 8 (11), Glasscock 0 (1), Hale 0 (1), Hockley 1 (0), HOWARD 2 (3), Kent 6 (8), Lea 44 (38); Loving 1 (0), Midland 1 (2), MITCHELL 1 (2), Nolan 2 (3), Pecos 17 (18), Presidio 2 (2), Reeves 5 (3), Roosevelt 2 (1), Runnels 5 (5), Schleicher 3 (3); Scurry 4 (5), STERLING 5 (4), Stonewall 3 (3), Sutton 2 (1), Terry 1 (1), Tom Green 3 (3), Upton 3 (5), Ward 9 (8), Winkler 11 (11), Yoakum 11 (10).

Oil Production Down Slightly

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—U. S. oil production remained fairly steady last week, falling 4,430 barrels a day from the previous week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Borden County Well Finaled

Pennzoil Company of Midland has completed No. 1 Belew as a Strawn oil discovery in Borden County, four miles southwest of Fluvanna.

It potential to flow 143 barrels of 42-gravity oil per day, through a 34-64-inch choke from a series of perforations between 7,831-7,833 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 664-1 with flowing tubing pressure of 50 pounds after a 5,500-gallon acidization.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 480-97, H&TC survey.

NEW PROJECTS

Three locations have been filed with the Railroad Commission.

Cahoon & Schneider of Midland will drill No. 1 J. W. Gardenhire to 7,000 feet by rotary tool in the Spraberry Trend area of Borden County. The project spots 660 feet from the south and 467 feet from the east lines of section 26-32-6n. T&P survey. It is 16 miles northwest of Gall on a 320 acre lease.

In Howard County, D. L. Dorland will go to 2,500 feet to test the Howard-Glasscock field. No. 6 F. A. Lee locates 990 feet from the north and 1,650 feet from the west lines of section 20-33-2s. T&P survey. It is two miles west of Lee's Store on 160 acres.

A Mitchell County project, John A. Coffee No. 3 Tom Morrison, will be in the Westbrook field. The well spots 992 feet from the east and south lines of section 36-29-1n. T&P survey. It is five miles northwest of Westbrook on a 160 acre lease.

Spiva & Doss of Abilene will drill No. 1 Hans Gottschalk as a 3,600-foot King sand wildcat in Runnels County, six miles southwest of Winters and 3/4 miles south of the Winters, West multipay field.

Separated from this region by failures, it is 660 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of Thomas M. Fowler survey No. 440.

Texas Inc. has spotted location for No. 51 Montgomery Estate-Davies as a 1/2-mile north outpost to the Levelland (San Andres) field of Hockley County, eight miles northwest of Levelland.

The 5,050-foot project is 694 feet from south and west lines of labor 17, league 73, Val Verde County School Land survey.

Phillips Petroleum Company will drill No. 108 University-Andrews as a 1 1/4-mile east outpost to San Andres gas production in the Andrews County sector of the Andector multipay field.

Location is 21 miles southwest of Andrews and 1,993 feet from south and 678 feet from east lines of section 31, block 10, University Lands survey. Contract depth is 4,300 feet.

D. C. Tankersley of Abilene has slated No. 1 Nitsch Estate as a 1/2-mile northeast offset to the five-well Chick-Inn (King sand) pool of Runnels County, 1/2 mile south of Winters.

Contracted to drill to 2,600 feet, it spots 467 feet from south and 3,753 feet from east lines of J. Poitevent survey No. 1.

FIGHT HYPOKINESIA*

*Hypokinesia—that's the medical term for soft, weak, flabby muscles. Its cause: lack of exercise. And it's a threat to many youngsters. Those who spend long, inactive hours watching television. Those who don't participate in sports. Those who ride when they should walk. Those who have every modern comfort. The physical decline of American youth must be stopped. Parents should insist on nothing less than 15 minutes of vigorous activity every day at school—for every boy and every girl. Contact your school officials. For information about a basic program used successfully by many schools, send for the free leaflet offered by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

Brenda Sorrels and Keith, representing the sophomore class, were named Ranch Queen and Foreman March 13 at the Ranch Week Dance at Howard County Junior College.

HCJC Slates Career Day

By CLAUDIA RICHARDSON
Career Day is scheduled at HCJC Monday morning. Hundreds of seniors from area schools will converge on the campus at 9 a.m. Career areas include business, communications, engineering and sciences, fine arts, home economics, medical services, skilled trades, social services and teaching and educational fields.

Several HCJC science students went to Texas Tech Friday to hear faculty members discuss various aspects of their science department.

Wesley Fellowship sponsored a hayride Friday at Moss Creek Lake.

The Jayhawk debaters will enter the State Tournament at Del Mar College in Corpus Christi April 8-9.

The HCJC Women's Recreational Association made $231.50 for their scholarship at the first annual Caprock Volleyball Tournament last week.

The tournament was directed by Sue Lewis and Elaine Patterson. WRA is sponsored by Miss Anna Smith.

The fifth annual Round Robin Volleyball Tournament was held at HCJC this weekend. The Howard County Jayhawk Queens were defending champions. Other teams entered were Abilene Christian College, South Plains, Wayland, Hardin-Simmons University and McMurry.

There will be a Phi Theta Kappa meeting in the parlor Wednesday during activity period. All new members are urged to attend and pay dues.

Classes will be dismissed Friday and next Monday for Easter vacation. There will be classes Thursday night.

The "A" honor roll for the fourth six weeks was published in the school paper. It included Richard Cabellero, senior, and Diane Massingale, freshman.

The talent show will be held April 3. Anyone who would like to participate is asked to advise Mr. Ables or any member of the junior class.

Sophomores are Beth Biggs, Betty Glaspie, Larry Haggard, Edwin Mike Hall and Sandra Jones.

Seniors listed are Rodger four members will represent the junior Tri-Hi-Y Club. The deadline for registration fees is March 30th. The fee is $12.00 per person.

Monday night the senior Tri-Hi-Y Club will have a Hootenanny in the all-purpose room. The Junior Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y will be responsible for the program April 6. A program will be given by the International Wives Club April 13.

Goliad Homemakers Attend Meeting

By DENISE HEAD

The gaily decorated Easter bonnet taken by FHA girls to Midland Saturday was a work of art. Fifty Goliad students and two mothers made the trip to the Area II meeting. Linda Pritchett, voting delegate, attended the luncheon for the House of Delegates. The group was registered by Shirley Avrette and roll call was answered by Jo Frazier, who displayed the millinery creation.

The final in the spelling bee were held at Howard County Junior College. Robert Chavez represented Goliad.

The band, which did so well at the solo and ensemble contest, journeyed to Odessa Saturday, to participate in the Interscholastic League contest. The popular choir of Goliad also made the trip and will participate against the choirs from schools of Region VIII. There will be solo and trio renditions as well as group selections.

The eighth grade achievement tests will be given all day Tuesday and Wednesday. The results of these tests assist in pupil placement next year, as well as give the teachers an insight into the pupils as a result of their teaching.

The eighth grade representatives of the Student Council, Linda Gray, Thomas Land, Gary Don Newsom and Sonia Whittington, left Wednesday night for Houston where they represented Goliad at the Texas Association of Student Councils. Each year a scrapbook covering the activities of the school is submitted, and last year Goliad won second place. The group will return to Big Spring today.

The track teams competed at Sweetwater in a meet Saturday. Approximately 60 boys are on the teams coached by Mr. Taylor, King, Marcus, Hagood, Stevens and Robinson. They have been practicing daily and show great promise, according to their coaches.

Mr. C. W. Tanner and Mr. W. H. Hallmark attended a Drivers' Education convention and workshop Monday and Tuesday in Dallas. They discussed the problems encountered in instructing teen-agers to drive, as well as learned the latest principles and methods prescribed for teaching the course.

Make-up TB tests for those eighth grade pupils who were absent when the original tests were given in February will be offered Monday at 8:30 a.m. Each student desiring to take the test must have a permission slip signed by a parent or guardian. The results of the tests will be read Thursday.

Friday the senior class of Big Spring High School sponsored a faculty basketball game. The male teachers from Runnels and Goliad battled those from BSHS. This was a return match, the first having been won by the junior high faculty. The cheering students from the three schools had a gala time.

Brain-weary and knowledgeable students completed their nine weeks tests Thursday. The results of their labors will be visible on the report cards which will be distributed Wednesday.

This week the spotlight is on the science department. The seventh grade classes study animal life starting with one-celled invertebrates. Their studying progresses through the five classes of vertebrates to the human. The nervous system and circulatory system is given special emphasis.

The eighth grade concentrates on energy and its production. This includes electricity, batteries, magnets, and various fuels. The ninth grade science classes are divided into two groups—biology and physical science. The biology course is a more detailed study of animals and plant life. In their study of individual organisms, crayfish and earthworms were used to illustrate the general characteristics, external features and the different systems of each. The physical science course includes chemistry, machines, weather, and rocks.

School will be dismissed at 2:45 p.m. Thursday for Easter vacation and will resume Tuesday morning.

Sophisticated Comedy Stars Jane Fonda

The approach to an age-old question provides hilarious entertainment in "Sunday in New York," starring Cliff Robertson, Jane Fonda and Rod Taylor, with Jo Morrow and Robert Culp in co-starring roles. It opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

The comedy was one of Broadway's big stage hits and is even funnier and visually more far-reaching in depicting a variety of locales which could only be talked about within the confines of a stage.

Much of "Sunday in New York" was filmed on locations in New York City, with sequences showing Jane Fonda boarding a Fifth Avenue bus on which she first meets Rod Taylor, a scene in which they row on Central Park Lake and another colorful sequence which takes place at the skating rink at Rockefeller Center.

The story concerns pretty, young Eileen (Miss Fonda) who comes to New York from Albany to get advice from her jet-pilot brother, Adam (Cliff Robertson). She has broken off with her fiancé, Russ (Robert Culp) because she refused to get as "modern" about dating as he insists is standard procedure. She wants to know whether her morality is obsolete. Adam, forgetting that his girl friend, Mona (Jo Morrow), has left some lacy lingerie in a closet of his apartment, assures his sister that she is absolutely right and that he himself would never compromise a girl.

Having delivered this hypocritical preachment, Adam has to face up to the facts of life when shortly afterwards Eileen plays host to Philadelphia sportswriter Mike Mitchell (Rod Taylor) whom she has picked up on the bus when her pin gets tangled in his jacket. Having been caught in a sudden down-pour, they are drying off in bathtubs. Disillusioned with Adam's fake philosophy, Eileen now decides she may as well "join the crowd" and leads a somewhat baffled and reluctant Mike on.

Russ takes this inopportune moment to arrive at the apartment from Albany. He has come to the conclusion that Eileen was morally right and wants her to marry him. In order to protect Eileen, Mike introduces himself as her brother, which makes things more complicated when the real Adam arrives on the scene.

Chester Limp Off Last Time

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the third and last (?) time, Dennis Weaver has limped down the dusty road that leads out of Dodge City.

Dennis, the gimpy deputy Chester of the long-running "Gunsmoke," says cautiously: "Nothing is irrevocable, but I do believe that this time my departure is final."

Two years ago Dennis announced his leave - taking because CBS was hot for him to head up an hour-long variety show. It didn't materialize, and he returned to "Gunsmoke" for 15 of the Saturday night hours. Then CBS put him in an hour show about a high school vice principal. The pilot aroused a lot of interest but no sales. Again, back to "Gunsmoke" for another 12.

This time NBC has signed, piloted and slotted him for Saturday night at 8:30 in a half-hour tentatively called "Kentucky's Kid."

"I play a former horse racing man and veterinarian who is a free soul," Dennis said.

Visiting Hours

Walt Disney Has New Zany Film

In the vein of "The Shaggy Dog," "The Absent-Minded Professor" and "Son of Flubber," Walt Disney has produced another wacky feature comedy-fantasy, "The Misadventures of Merlin Jones." Not only is it in the best tradition of screwball screen entertainment, but it has the extra drawing power of its two stars, the popular teenage favorites, Tommy Kirk and Annette.

It opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Tommy plays the part of an oddball college student whose weird mental experiments involve him and his girl friend, Jennifer, in an unending series of hilarious situations.

For his side-splitting adventure, Disney has enlisted the light-hearted talents of some of Hollywood's best known pros in the comedy field. Leon Ames is a stern judge who has some unorthodox off bench hobbies. Stuart Erwin and Dal McKennon are perplexed plain-clothes policemen. Alan Hewitt is a befuddled professor, and Connie Gilchrist is the judge's lackadaisical housekeeper.

Also featured is Norman Grabowski in the part of an All-American lunkhead who manages to further complicate the activities of the junior scientist.

"The Misadventures of Merlin Jones" was directed for Walt Disney by Robert Stevenson, a master of pace and timing. Ron Miller was co-producer. Tom and Helen August wrote the screenplay.

An Admirer Tells Story Of President

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY.
By Jim Bishop. Random, $3.95.

Bishop had just completed the manuscript of this book when President Kennedy was assassinated.

The author had used his well-known "The Day . . ." technique. He says in a prologue that he wrote the account in the present tense in order to give the reader a feeling of being present in the White House. And after Kennedy's death he decided to let the manuscript stand just as it was.

The chronology begins at 7 a.m. and runs well past 11 p.m. In order to get the feel of one representative day, Bishop spent four consecutive days in research last October, with his wife helping him to take notes. Bishop had access to the private quarters of the White House.

There is a two-fold result from the author's procedure of piling hundreds of details into a flowing pattern. One is that he achieves a sense of intimacy through the little personal touches on family life, the small incidents and conversations involving Mrs. Kennedy, Caroline and John.

The other is that he gives the reader a close look at the step by step, operating techniques of the household staff and the President's official staff—the latter including Kenneth O'Donnell, the appointments secretary; McGeorge Bundy, the assistant for foreign affairs; Theodore Sorensen, the speech writer and advisor; Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, the private secretary; Pierre Salinger, the press secretary; and David Powers, the Boston Irishman who became the President's crony.

Bishop has written a frankly admiring portrait of the President and his family. He has not hesitated to give his personal reactions to what he observed. It is a picture that goes beyond black and white into color, and is all the better for that.

STAMP NEWS

Australia Releases Several New Issues

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newswriters

Several new sets of stamps—ranging from a variety of birds to old sailing vessels—have been issued by Australia. The bird set features a magpie framed by eucalyptus, a galah perched on a dead tree and a blue wren on a background of broken fern. All three stamps are in natural color. The ship set consists of two stamps. One depicts a portrait of Matthew Flinders with his ship, the "Investigator," in the background. The other adhesive shows George Bass with the whale boat in which he entered Bass Strait. These two stamps are part of the Navigators series which began with the recent Tasman issue. The simultaneous issue of stamps honoring Flinders and Bass recalls their voyage together in 1796 in the "Tom Thumb" and their later separate explorations. It is also appropriate that the Flinders stamp will be released on the 150th anniversary of his death.

India has issued a new commemorative stamp honoring the 15th anniversary of the birth of Madam Sarojini Naidu, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. Madame Naidu was known as a fiery orator and politician. She matriculated at Madras University at the age of 12 and later studied in England at Kings College and Griton College. She began her political career by making speeches to promote the "feminist" movement in India. She was the first woman ever to preside at an annual session of the Indian Nationalist Party. In the 1930s she joined Mahatma Gandhi in his now famous acts of civil disobedience. The climax of her political career was in 1947 when she became governor of the United Provinces. She died in 1949.

A two-color cachet of Trim Castle, County Meath, Ireland, will be sponsored for stamp collectors March 17 to honor St. Patrick's Day. The covers will be mailed in Ireland with attractive Irish commemorative stamps, postmarked Meath, where the castle is situated. This is the 13th consecutive cachet of the historical Irish castle series to be issued. Collectors in the United States wishing such covers may write to: Irish Cachet Covers, 947 East 32 St., Brooklyn, N.Y. Cost per cover is 55 cents.

Cast Announced For Next Play

Max Maguire, director of the April 17-18 Little Theatre production of "George Washington Slept Here," has announced the names of the people who will be playing the various roles in this Moss Hart-George S. Kaufman comedy.

Dan Whitmer will portray Newton Fuller, the hopeful city dweller who tries to get away from it all by taking to the woods. . . the would-be "Nature Boy" who trades city distractions for what he hopes will be old-fashioned family joys in the country. He meets some country "sickers" when he buys an abandoned farmhouse with crumbling walls, cows in the kitchen, and the deepest (and driest) well in the county.

Annabelle Fuller will be played by Joann Arnold. Annabelle is the despairing wife of a man who moves her into a Pennsylvania farmhouse without water, a bathroom, clothes closets or much comfort of any kind.

Ron Carr will be Uncle Stanley, a celebrated bore and professional guest. He descends upon one relative after another the year round and is forever repeating his exasperating stories about his childhood.

Chuck Lillie will be seen as Mr. Kimber, the "arm hand, handy-man and man-of-no-work who is the local doleful country almanac.

Mr. Prescott, the terrible tempered neighbor of the Fuller family, will be played by Dan Fiveash; and Madge Fuller, the romantic daughter of the hopeful country squire, will be played by Jan Bevins. The incorrigible nephew, Raymond, will be played by Carl Giles. Jay Lauer will be Clayton Evans, the summer theater actor who fascinates the women and himself. His wife, Rena Leslie, will be played by Sally Carr.

Others in the cast are: John Arnold, Ruth Ann Sandidge, Jackie Oswald, Harlan Sandidge, Andrea Askins, and Helen O'Day.

Maguire, chaplain at the Big Spring State Hospital is no newcomer to theatre work. Recently he directed the religious drama "Christ and the Concrete City" at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. He has worked in the Wichita Experimental Theatre in Wichita, Kan. where he was an undergraduate at the University of Wichita.

Course Slated For Instructors

A Red Cross First Aid instructors course will be launched April 1, the local chapter has announced. Some 10 prospects have indicated plans to join the course, and any other qualified people are welcome.
 The organizational session on April 1 will be in the instructors room of the police building, at 7 p.m., at which time a schedule will be established for subsequent classes.
 The course runs for 18 hours, and is open to all First Aid Instructors and anyone having a current Advanced First Aid card.
 M. G. Cole of Midland will be the instructor.

Highway Deaths Show Increase

AUSTIN (AP) — Highway deaths are up 16 per cent this year in Texas, the State Department of Public Safety said Saturday.
 A total of 487 persons died in 394 accidents through Friday, compared to 420 deaths in 339 accidents during a comparable 1963 period.

Naturalization Open To Foreign-Born Children

Some 35 Webb Air Force Base parents have attended base meetings explaining naturalization procedures for children who were born overseas while the parents were stationed there.

These children are registered by the U.S. Consulate as being citizens but do not have a certificate of U.S. citizenship.

Applications for getting this certificate are being taken until April 15 at the base personal affairs office.

Capt. Margaret J. Wyatt, base personal affairs officer, said immigration and naturalization officials from San Antonio would be at Webb in May.

Documents needed to prove the children are U.S. citizens are hospital certificate of birth, foreign birth certificate, record of registration of birth, verification of birth registry at the U.S. Consul, parents citizenship, marriage certificate, death certificate (if applicable) and divorce certificates (if applicable).
 If any of the birth documents are in a foreign language they must be translated and the
