Isolated Alaskan Villages Send Death Toll To 178

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Shattered Alaska counted more dead today and reports from backwater villages indicated there may be still many more victims of the great earthquake.

washed away the little town. Civil Defense said it could neither confirm nor deny the report based on stories from survivors flown to Cordova.

has recorded more than 60 shocks since the big quake. SUPPLIES An airlift was under way from the Seattle, Wash., area carrying emergency supplies to stricken cities.

day was out with cargoes ranging from diapers to electrical equipment. Commercial airline service was fully restored to Anchorage, a major air center. The Alaskan Highway was reported in fair condition.

The toll of dead and presumed dead mounted to 178 in a tally released by Alaska Civil Defense. Officials noted some of the deaths could not be confirmed.

The picturesque island of Kodiak, southwest of Anchorage in the Gulf of Alaska, appeared to be the state's hardest hit area. The report showed 72 or more dead or presumed dead as a result of Friday evening's quake and tidal waves.

Port facilities throughout the Gulf of Alaska were generally unusable. The grim task of adding up casualties occupied both civilians and military.

Bob Hilliker, shellfish specialist for the state's Department of Fish and Game, said perhaps 25 crabbing boats—each with four or five men—could have been away from Kodiak Island.

The Kodiak toll was based on reports furnished by state police after a tour of the island's torn and twisted villages. LOST IN RACE Omitted from the Civil Defense list was the community of Chenaug on Prince William Sound. Reports from Fairbanks indicated half the town's population of 45 may have been lost in a desperate race for higher ground against an 80-foot tidal wave.

The list seemed to confirm the belief that scores of fishermen and seaside residents had died in waves that smashed the south central coast. A number of isolated areas — mainly on the Alaskan peninsula or in the Aleutian Islands — were described "situation unknown."

Meantime, the St. Louis office of the National Red Cross wired the Big Spring office that relief operations are under way in the earthquake zone. Sixty-one staff members are on hand and an additional 75 are standing by. Already on hand, when the special crews arrived, were 13 Midwestern staff officials and 26 additional workers.

He said another 10 boats may have been out of Seldovia, 140 miles southwest of Anchorage. There was no word from Adak, far out in the Aleutians. The Coast Guard, combing isolated inlets, found two deserted cabins where people may have been swept away. These were on Prince William Sound, near the quake's epicenter. An aerial check was made of remote villages.

The Fairbanks reports said two persons were known dead and 20 missing after the wave.

New after-shocks rocked the Gulf area. The seismograph at the University of Washington Businessmen dug undamaged goods from ruined stores and prepared to reopen at new locations. Mayor George Sharrock told newsman Anchorage would be surveyed by geologists to determine which areas were safest. He said relocation of the business area was a possibility.

Gov. William A. Egan, similarly hopeful, made a 15-minute radio address to the state Monday night. He said he had found in his tours of the disaster zones "almost unbelievable courage and determination to begin building an even greater Alaska."

A "ham" radio operator in Midland today ended a wearisome telephone vigil which Mrs. F. A. Gibbs, 1402 Birdwell, has maintained since Friday. The ham, whose name Mrs. Gibbs was too excited to remember, called at 9:32 a.m. today from Midland.

PVT. RICHARD GIBBS

The wire added that donations for relief are welcome and all offices are asked to accept gifts of money. Clothing gifts are not needed or desired due to shipping problems. The wire added that two civilian and two military hospitals are still functioning in Anchorage with adequate doctors. Nurses have been recruited by the military, and the Red Cross has flown in 1,000,000 water purification tablets and 2,000 comfort kits. In Crescent City, Calif., ravaged by tidal waves, relief activities are also under way by the Red Cross, the telegram stated.

Residents in the Big Spring area with relatives in Alaska may get collect long distance telephone calls at any time. Communications in the Alaska area have been "just words" in the past few days, but "ham" radio operators are beginning to make some contacts — from Alaska to this area. No contacts are available from here to there yet.

"I thought you'd be willing to pay for a long-distance call," said the Midland man, "rather than wait to get a letter. I have just been in contact with a fellow amateur radio operator and he has a message for you from your son, Pvt. Richard Gibbs, in Anchorage, Alaska. The message reads: 'Am alive but injured, not seriously. Will phone. Letters to follow.' Mrs. Gibbs and her husband, an employe at Cabot Carbon, and young Gibbs' wife, who is in Austin, have been anxiously awaiting word from Richard since the first word of the Alaskan earthquake reached here. The man said he received the message at 9:30 and it was two minutes later he gave the message to me," said Mrs. Gibbs. "He'll never know how grateful I am to him." She immediately telephoned young Gibbs' wife in Austin. "He may be hurt," she said, "but even broken bones heal. We're too happy to know he's alive to worry too much about his injuries. Besides," she pointed ed out, "he said he was not seriously injured." Young Gibbs, in the U.S. Army, has been at Fort Richardson, near Anchorage, since November. He has been in the Army a year. He attended junior high school and high school here. The Gibbises have lived in Big Spring 12 years. "I hope I can find out that Midland man's name so I can thank him properly," said Mrs. Gibbs. "I was so excited when he called, I may not have told him how deeply grateful I am."

for people in the West Texas area. Bub Reeves, WSEZG, and Weldon Low, KSPK, have sifted through and relayed messages from amateur operators in Alaska to persons in West Texas. "General welfare traffic comes only one way now because of the tremendous load in Alaska," Sanderson said. "In the meantime we can only try to pick up traffic of importance to residents of this area, and call relatives long distance collect. We hope relatives will understand it is the only way we can handle messages in which they are interested. At this time we cannot get messages through to Alaska."

SOUTHEASTERN STATES New Freeze Poses Death Threat To Peach Crops

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A second straight hard freeze threatened to kill completely the peach crops of five Southern states and pushed frost warnings deep into Florida. The peach crops of South Carolina and Georgia appeared to be a $32.5-million liability with dire predictions that the trees which survived Sunday night's frigid blasts would not last through Monday night. Peach crops in Alabama, Tennessee and North Carolina, while less extensive in area, also appeared doomed. Not even south Florida, usually safe from spring frosts, was expected to escape frost damage. Frost warnings included areas as far south as the Everglades.

million crop, face devastation. ALABAMA — A. W. Todd, Agriculture Commissioner, predicted that Monday night temperatures may "eliminate any hope whatever for producing any fruit crops in central and north Alabama." He estimated the peach loss at $3 million.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern senators battling the House-passed civil rights bill prepared to speak up again today after leaving the field for a day to the other side. After 16 days of preliminary skirmishing, formal debate got under way Monday with Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., making lengthy speeches in support of the measure.

Living Cost Has First Dip Since 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, as measured by the government, dropped last month for the first time since December, 1962. The Labor Department reported today the decline was one-tenth of one per cent, putting the consumer price index at 107.6.

The spring freeze, coldest since 1955 in most sections, promised temperatures at least as cold as Sunday night in the northern portions of Dixie. Extreme southern portions were warned of colder temperatures than those of Sunday night. This meant that crops in the southern portions which escaped Sunday night faced possible ruin. The last complete peach kill in the Southeast was in 1955.

TENNESSEE — Horticulturist B. S. Pickett at the University of Tennessee said the entire east Tennessee peach crop, about 100 acres, appears wiped out. NORTH CAROLINA — An apparent total loss was reported in Montgomery County, heart of the state's $2.7 - million peach crop. Clyde Auman of West End, director of the North Carolina Peach Growers Society, said about 10,000 acres appear to be a total loss.

AGREEABLE Humphrey said the Southerners asked to be heard today. He said proponents were agreeable to this arrangement but nonetheless intend to use up most of this week presenting their case for the bill. At a luncheon meeting of Republican senators, GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois planned to discuss amendments he intends to propose to the bill's fair employment practices section.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the major factor in the decline was gas service funds ordered by the Federal Power Commission in voluntary gas price reductions following the recent federal tax cut. BASE PERIOD The February index of 107.6 means that it cost $10.76 to purchase the goods that cost $10 in the base period of 1957-59.

Most of the remainder in the decline in the index was due to a 7 per cent drop in transportation costs as gasoline prices and used car prices went down in a usual midwinter pattern. Food prices, rents, home ownership costs, consumer service prices and medical costs continued to rise, Chase said.

He said that before he can support this part of the bill, as many as a dozen amendments may be necessary. Dirksen also has called for changes in other sections of the measure. Before the Senate voted last Thursday to take up the bill, most of the speechmaking was by Southern senators who have vowed to wage an all-out fight.

Red Cross Has 27 Inquiries

The Howard-Glasscock County Red Cross Chapter has sent 27 emergency inquiries to "quake ravaged Alaska asking information about relatives and friends of residents of this county. Today, according to Mrs. Valie Parker, acting secretary, one reply has been received. She said that a wire has arrived advising Jim Owens, Big Spring, that his brother-in-law, John W. May, in Anchorage, is safe and well.

Chase said the index will probably go up a little this month because of increases in food, clothing and other prices. The bureau said that about 100,000 workers will receive cost of living wage increases of one cent an hour based on quarterly reviews of the old consumer price index.

North Pacific Tremor Noted

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The University of California seismograph recorded a "moderate to severe" earthquake at 1:05 a.m. PST today in the North Pacific near the epicenter of Good Friday's devastating Alaska quake. Seismologist Tom Turcotte said the tremor was estimated to be about 900 miles north-west of the Berkeley campus—placing it between Queen Charlotte Island and Vancouver Island off the Canada coast.

Officers Disarm Terrorist Bombs

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Police Monday found and disarmed two bombs believed planted by Communist sympathizers. One was found near a transformer on the Pan American Highway east of Caracas. The high-powered time bomb failed to explode because of a faulty clock mechanism, police said.

Testimony Nearing End In Redistricting Case

HOUSTON (AP)—Texans expected to learn from a three-judge federal court today whether the state will be allowed to delay congressional redistricting until after the 1964 elections. If the court refuses to delay putting its Oct. 19 redistricting order into effect, Texas' 23 congressmen will be elected at large until steps are taken to reapportion the state. If the court grants a motion for delay, normal election preliminaries such as the May 2 primaries will continue. The legislature will have an opportunity to redistrict at its regular session in January. TIME FOR APPEAL The three judges split 2-1 in ordering reapportionment on a population basis last October. This ruling was upheld March 2 by the Supreme Court, but it gave Texas officials until April 1 to seek relief. Feb. 3 was the deadline for candidates to file for the primaries. A hearing on the state's motion to delay redistricting began Friday. It was expected to end today after the completion of final arguments by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and William Cassin, chief lawyer for Republican plaintiffs. Cassin was expected to discuss a written proposal by Republicans who filed the original redistricting suit against Gov. John Connally, Carr and other officials. AS SCHEDULED Carr said he again would urge the court to let 1964 elections be held as scheduled and give the regular session of the legislature in 1965 an opportunity to handle the redistricting. U.S. Circuit Judge John Brown said Monday the court may wind up managing both the Democratic and Republican parties in effect. He made the comment after Asst. Texas Atty. Gen. Hawthorne Phillips opened the final arguments by saying he does not believe an immediate special session of the legislature can remedy the situation because 1964 election procedures are already under way. AUTHORITY Brown interrupted to say state executive committees of the major parties surely had some authority to solve the problem. After observing the court might wind up as manager of the parties if the legislature and party officials fail to act, Brown asked Phillips: "What is to be lost in making a try with a special session?" "Time is running out," Phillips replied. "There would be utter chaos." Brown pointed out the court has "no authority to order a special session except through the threat of at-large elections." "The big problem," he said, "is getting a legislative compromise to take four semi-rural congressmen and give them to the four major cities." POSTPONEMENT Wouldn't it be simple, he asked, to postpone the first primary and runoff a month. Phillips said that offered a serious difficulty. "The only matter I see of consequence is the expense, and there is no way to balance the Constitution against the dollar," Brown replied.

'Good Time For Gals'—Lady Bird

DENTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon Johnson told college girls today "this is a good time to be a woman" — in a world where there are unlimited opportunities and "so many roads to take." "You were born at the right time," she said in a speech at Texas Woman's University, where she received an honorary doctor of laws degree. "It is a good time to be a woman because your country, more now than at any time in its history, is utilizing your abilities and intelligence. The country does not exist, however remote, where you are without the revolution of rising expectations. And we have long since passed the time in the United States when men alone can be summoned to great duties." The President's wife said she thinks women today want more than ever before to help their countries find the way to peace and to learn how to get along together. Delivering her convocation address in cap and gown after participating in an academic procession, Mrs. Johnson urged women to take advantage of "the wide range of selectivity which no other generation had," but to remember "to remain faithful to the standards and ideals taught in the university."

Economy For Cubans Still Sliding Downhill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports reaching Washington indicate Cuba's foreign exchange fortunes have climbed but its general economy continues to slide downhill.

Official sources estimate that because of soaring sugar prices, Havana's foreign exchange holdings have risen from about $10 million at the end of 1962 to some $70 million now.

They predict another $50 million enrichment of Castro's coffers during 1964, but said this was not enough to meet much of Cuba's large needs to keep up a faltering industry.

These sources expect that the foreign exchange tide will turn against Cuba with a drop in sugar prices late this year or early in 1965. Meanwhile the Cuban living standards have continued to decline under pressure from the U.S. boycott, they said.

are in active opposition. The official sources said that while Castro may not be toppled directly because of economic difficulties, weakening Cuba's economy helps chances for internal opposition and reduces his ability to export communism to other Latin-American countries.

TWO WORLDS

To end the boycott policy, they contended, would be to give Castro the best of two worlds — he would have open access to free world markets and could draw on aid from the Communist bloc.

Sugar, Cuba's main income producer, was seen as a key element in the effort to reduce non-Communist trade with the island. With a worldwide shortage last year, the sources said non-Communist countries like Japan, Italy, Spain, Holland and Morocco had to buy Cuban sugar and most felt obliged to balance the trade by selling to Cuba.

Total non-Communist sales to Cuba during 1964 were expected to increase some from the $10-million level of the past two years. In face of the U.S. boycott, calls at Cuban ports by non-Communist ships were reported down 60 per cent in 1963 with a moderate decline in sight this year.

Cuba's sugar harvest was reported down to 3.8 million tons last year. The 1964 forecast was about the same.

Business Tempo Swings In High

DECREASE

Cuba's gross national product was estimated down 10 to 15 per cent from 1958, the year before Fidel Castro took power. Accounting for the island's population increase, that amounts to a drop in average living standards estimated at 15 to 20 per cent.

As for the current attitude of Cuba's seven million inhabitants toward the Castro regime, the official sources figured that perhaps 10 per cent are fanatically pro-Castro, 15 per cent are favorably disposed, the great bulk — around half — are disenchanted but passive about it, maybe 15 to 20 per cent are prepared to be actively opposed if the occasion should arise and 5 per cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Business ends the first quarter today on the upbeat. And the tempo is due to become even faster. It is now the longest sustained upswing in peacetime.

And many millions of Americans are sharing the prosperity. Statistics on the first three months' behavior will trickle slowly in coming weeks. But already there is evidence aplenty to tag this first quarter as one of the best, with the economy at a peak.

Many of the usual winter slowdowns in some industries didn't happen, or if they did the decline was so uncommonly moderate as to fall short of affecting the general upturn.

upturn in—such as too enthusiastic expansion, overbuilding of inventories, a rush to buy goods beyond personal capabilities to pay for them. Today's economic health, they hold, is due in large part to the moderation and caution with which almost everyone handled their affairs in the last 38 months.

Still others think that the bright performance of the immediate past is due in large part to an anticipation of the federal tax cut. Plans were made accordingly. And many of the predictions of future gains are based on the hope that the extra spending money will lead both consumers and business to put more into the economy, building a base for a notable advance.

FRESH WIND

The quarter had been billed to register a pause while business was gathering fresh wind for a big blow-off in the spring months. The results, however, have exceeded most expectations.

Predictions for the second quarter are being revised—upward.

There are some modest differences of opinion as to what is the real force behind the first quarter's performance.

Some hold that much of the upturn is due to the general momentum of an economic upturn that started when the last recession hit bottom in February 1961 and with a few periods of hesitation has climbed impressively since. Aging booms often look their best just before they're due to be retired.

HOME BUILDING

Much of the first quarter's performance would bear this out. The more striking gains were in home building, based on consumer confidence of meeting future mortgage payments, and in business planning for increased spending on new plants and equipment to meet future customer demands.

Both are tied to an almost general anticipation that the rest of 1964 will see business still climbing. The more optimistic predictions think that this will continue well into 1965.

AVOID EXCESSES

Others pat business and consumers on the back for their behavior. In most instances both avoided excesses of the kind that in the past have done an

Bar Unit Wants Belli Banned

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas State Bar Association asked the Texas Supreme Court Monday to hear arguments on a proposed order that would bar Melvin Belli from ever practicing law in Texas again.

Belli was lawyer for Jack Ruby in the recent Dallas trial in which Ruby received the death sentence for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

After the trial Belli criticized at length the conduct of the trial and the people of Dallas.

The state Supreme Court heard a group of Bar Association lawyers present their petition today for leave to file a petition for a permanent injunction against Belli.

The court gave no indication when it would act on the motion. If it grants leave to file the petition then a date will be set for arguments on the injunction.

Legal Institute Planned Friday

LUBBOCK — A one-day legal institute on creditors' rights will be held here Friday in the Continental Room of the Pioneer Hotel starting at 9 a.m.

Sponsored jointly by the State Bar of Texas and the Lubbock County Bar Association, the study will attract lawyers of 23 area counties.

Topics include judgment liens, perfecting chattel mortgages, representation of voluntary bankrupts and creditors in bankruptcy, liability of separate and community property for obligations of spouses. Institute lectures will be based on the Texas Bar-produced manual, "Creditors' Rights in Texas."

Peace Corps Tests Slated

Saturday, April 11, is the date of the next nationwide Peace Corps Placement Test, the Peace Corps has announced. It will be administered by the U.S. Civil Service Commission. It is no too late for people to apply for the Peace Corps and get into one of the summer training programs, officials report. This summer the Peace Corps hopes to train as many as 6,000 men and women at approximately 55 colleges and universities throughout the country. The intensive three-month training is required before trainees are finally chosen as volunteers for overseas assignments.

Examinations in this area will be offered in room 5, Federal Building at Abilene; room 16A, post office building at Lubbock, and the post office buildings at Midland and San Angelo. Starting time for the examinations is 8:30 a.m.

Johnson Holdings Raise Speculation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Newsmen reporting President Johnson's visit to Texas think they have found two more Texas ranches with the LBJ brand.

Four other property holdings have been reported in previous reports.

After Easter services in Fredericksburg the President's car departed, outspeeding and outmaneuvering most reporters who tried to follow. Two cars of Secret Servicemen accompanied. The cavalcade passed the LBJ Ranch at Stonewall and disappeared eastward toward Johnson City.

More than an hour later the presidential car, still accompanied by two cars of Secret Service men, emerged from a pasture gate about four miles west of Johnson City. Johnson arrived back at LBJ Ranch at noon.

Later, H. H. Jenschke, a rancher, said the presidential party crossed his property, to visit "two places that belong to Johnson." Jenschke said one tract consisted of 1,000 acres and the other of 800 acres. He said one was known as "Louie's place" and he did not know the name of the other.

Many times Texas ranches and land property are identified by the name of the original and not the current owner.

"You'll have to ask him that," Jenschke said when asked if the President had any cattle on the properties. The rancher added that several years ago he and the President "talked cattle trading once or twice but we never got together. I guess we were both too stubborn."

After becoming President, Johnson said all his holdings had been placed in a trust except for about 400 acres of the LBJ Ranch at Stonewall. A. W. Moursund, his trustee, once said Johnson and Mrs. Johnson had an interest in about 5,000 acres of Central Texas land.

Previous stories about Johnson have named four separate pieces of property in which he had an interest — the LBJ Ranch, the Schornhorst Ranch, the Haywood Ranch, and the Granite Knob Ranch. All are in the Johnson City-Stonewall area.

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marietta (Tex.) Telephone Co. will receive a $377,000 loan from the Rural Electrification Administration.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, drooping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, goosy, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

"Each year more than 30,000 Americans lose their sight forever, half of them needlessly", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Space Chamber

An artist's conception of the Manned Spacecraft Center environmental systems chamber, which can simulate conditions as expected in outer space. The big chamber to the right is large enough to hold the Apollo spacecraft. The smaller chamber to the left

Two-Man Spacecraft Test Set This Week

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The two-man Gemini spacecraft, with an astronaut and engineer sealed inside, has been scheduled for a 36-hour sea test this week 30 miles south of Galveston in the Gulf of Mexico.

Three astronauts and three Manned Spacecraft Center engineers will pair off in teams. Each team will be locked in the capsule for 12 hours at a time.

Although there are many experiments associated with the test, the principal objective is to see how the vehicle operates in salt water for the maximum period of its 36-hour power supply.

Test requirements are that waves be four to five feet high and the sea choppy.

It will be the first full-scale sea water test using a production Gemini capsule, weighing and equipped the same as a spacecraft returning to earth. Numerous tests with the capsule have been made in a huge tank at Ellington Air Force Base, near the Manned Spacecraft Center.

"These tests were in fresh water, and no waves," said a spokesman.

"We need to know exactly how the sea water effects instruments. How much water the capsule leaks if any. Whether the batteries will last 36 hours. The capsule's ability to float.

"In short we need to know everything that could happen if

First Aid Class Opens Wednesday

The Red Cross first aid instructors course for the Howard-Glasscock chapter is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the police station conference room.

M. G. Cole, Midland, certified teacher for Red Cross instructors, will be in charge of the sessions which will run for three hours until the 18-hour course is completed. Those at the first meeting will agree on a schedule for subsequent meetings. Those who are currently instructors or who hold an advanced first aid card are eligible to take the course.

Harris Units Bolt, Back Yarborough

By The Associated Press

Two Harris County labor unions now have defied the Texas AFL-CIO by supporting Houston liberal Don Yarborough for governor. The 500-member National Maritime Union local voted to endorse the youthful Democrat Monday.

In Dallas, meanwhile, Republicans hopeful of replacing U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough staged a shopping center get-together to iron out some wrinkles in party harmony.

H. S. Brown, state AFL-CIO president, has said the constitution of the Committee on Political Education is violated when locals support a statewide candidate not endorsed by COPE.

REGULATIONS

But Kirby Smith McDowell, Houston port agent for the maritime union, said the local's action did not run counter to COPE regulations. COPE is the political arm of Texas organized labor.

Local 103 of the Amalgamated Butchers Workers in Houston was the first labor group publicly to endorse Don Yarborough.

in his bid for the Democratic nomination for governor. He opposes incumbent John Connally. Brown has said locals taking such action will be expelled from the state labor organization.

The Texas AFL-CIO supported Don Yarborough against Connally in 1962, when Yarborough lost a runoff primary by 26,000 votes with more than a million cast.

MEETING HELD

Statements by Jack Cox that he is "the only candidate" who can beat Ralph Yarborough for the Senate led to a meeting of Cox, Robert Morris of Dallas, George Bush of Houston and Dr. Milton Davis of Dallas at a shopping center Tuesday night in North Dallas, blue ribbon territory for the GOP.

A spokesman for Morris said the statements by Cox, a Houston businessman, amount to an "attack on party strength and capability. It implies that should another candidate win the primary, the party will not be able to win in November."

On the Democratic side of the Senate race, incumbent Yarborough named Walter Hall Sr., a banker from Dickinson, as his campaign finance director. Dickinson has worked in senatorial campaigns for President Johnson and is a former member of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

HOLLYWOODITE

Gordon McLendon, Dallas radio executive opposing Yarborough for the Democratic nomination for the Senate, opened San Antonio campaign headquarters Monday. Hollywood personality Chill Wills was on hand.

In other statewide politicking: Joe Pool of Dallas, congressman-at-large, said in Houston that President Johnson will cut his foreign aid requests before the next appropriation session. He said the current figure was "too high."

Robert Baker, opposing Pool for the Democratic nomination, addressed the executive board of the San Antonio Building

Trades Council.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appeared in Midland at an evening rally sponsored by the Democratic Women's Club. Jim Langdon campaigned in Houston for election to his first full six-year term as a member of the Texas Railroad Commis-

Millard Shivers, candidate for the Democratic nomination for land commissioner, spent the day in Waco.

Spot cards may at times assume an importance in the play of the hand which it is not possible to calculate during the auction. In today's hand taken from the most recent World Title contest between the United States and Italy at the beautiful resort town of St. Vincent, possession of the lowly five of spades saved more than a thousand points for the Americans when they found themselves defending against a slam contract.

At one table, where the bidding proceeded as depicted in the above diagram, my teammates, Howard Schenken and Peter Leventritt, were seated North and South, respectively—representing the United States. They reached a four spade contract with North as the declarer. The king of hearts was led, and Schenken proceeded to make an overtrick by ruffing two hearts in dummy and taking a successful diamond finesse in order to establish that suit. In all, he lost only two trump tricks.

At the other table, Italy held the North-South hands and proceeded to reach a somewhat aggressive contract of six diamonds, and with the aid of some favorable distribution, South nearly succeeded in landing the slam.

Arthur Robinson, seated West for the United States, opened the three of hearts and Bob Jordan's queen forced out the declarer's ace. A small diamond was led and dummy's jack was successfully finessed. The king and ace of diamonds were played clearing up the trump situation.

Declarer led the nine of spades and West covered with the queen to force the dummy's king. The closed hand was re-entered with the ace of clubs so that South could put thru the seven of spades next. Robinson was careful to cover this spot with the eight, and North's ten won the trick. A heart ruff put the declarer in once more to lead the six of spades. West topped him once again as the jack drove out the ace.

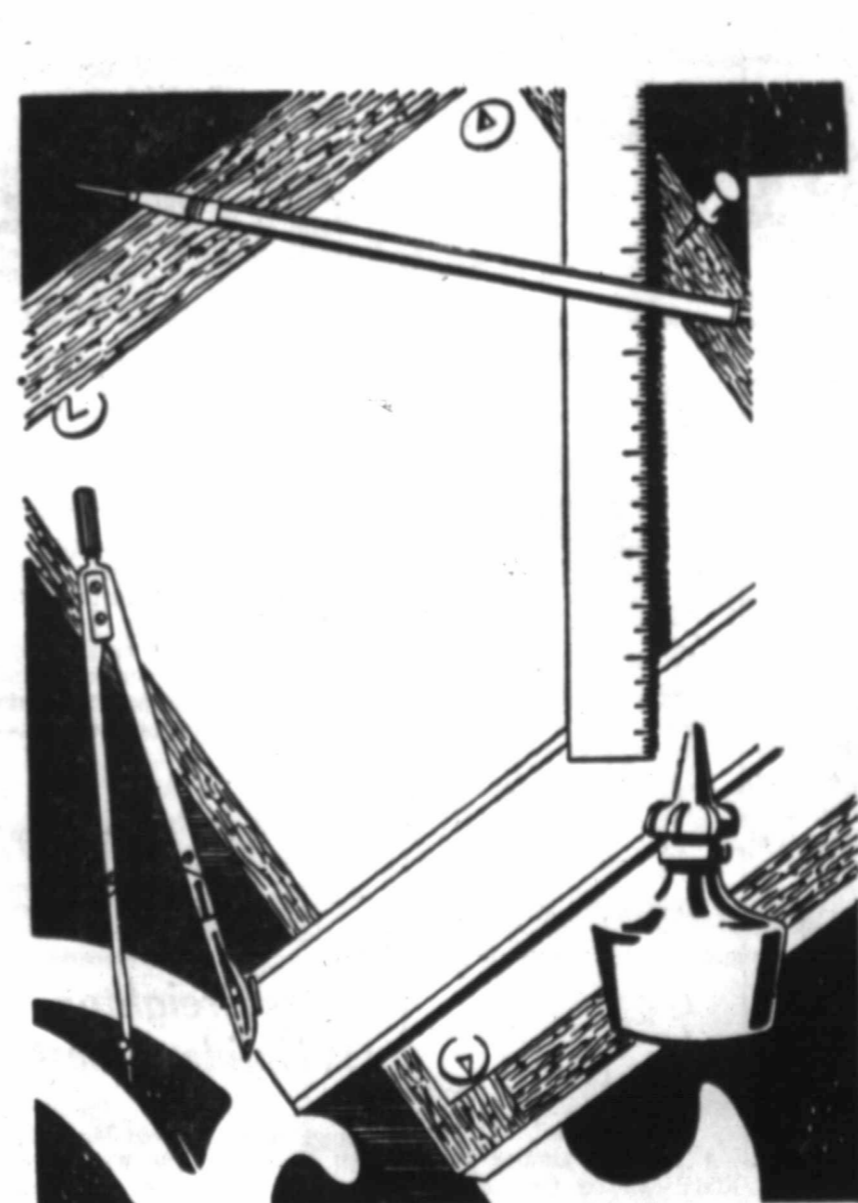

The only outstanding spades at this point were the dummy's four and West's five. Had their position been reversed, declarer would have had a parking place for one of his small clubs. As matters stood, he was obliged to play the king and another club in the hope that the suit would divide evenly. When East proved to have both missing clubs, however, he was able to take two tricks in the suit to set the slam contract.

Service Guild Hears Review

The Martha Wesleyan Service Guild convened Monday evening in the parlor of the First Methodist Church as they continued a study course led by Mrs. B. M. Keese.

The study featured Mrs. Ruby Martin's review of the book, "John Wesley" by Thomas S. Keppeler, which developed the study of Christian perfection. Mrs. Miller Harris asked questions relative to sanctification which were answered by Mrs. Martin.

Roll call was answered by a chosen scripture, followed by a responsive reading with Mrs. Keese as reader. Singing of the hymns, "Love Divine" and "Christian Life" was led by Mrs. Lina Flewellen. Mrs. Arla Cunningham worded the prayer.

Mrs. Bert Affleck gave a report of the Woman's Society of Christian Service conference at Plainview March 16-17 which she and Mrs. W. E. Moren attended as representatives. Next year's conference will be at Stamford.

After the dismissal prayer,

HINTS FROM HELOISE

New Method Works In Drying Dungarees

Dear Heloise: I wonder how many wives find it difficult to put wet work pants or dungarees on crease stretchers? (I think they are supposed to be called pants stretchers, and they are supposed to eliminate ironing a bit!)

I have now whipped that old problem. (Of course, the neighbors think I'm crazy...)

What I do is wash and dry the pants and then put them on the stretchers. This is quite easy when they are dry. I then take the dry pants (on the stretchers) out to the clothesline and pin them on the line with three clothespins.

And right here is where the neighbors take a double-quick look at me.

I turn the hose on the pants and just water (wet) them down good, and then let them dry. It works like a charm. This is much better than trying to put the pants on stretchers when wet or even damp-dry, and much easier, too.

Sound silly? Try it. It's wonderful.—Doris Hammer

Gals, it works. The dry pants do not weigh as much as the wet ones, which is a big help for women who do not have strength to lift heavy wet articles.

We also found that if you have an outside hose which can be attached to warm water, the warm water is better than cold.

We did find, also, that if you stood back about four feet and squirted the pants on strong spray that this took out more wrinkles than a fine spray. So, try it.—Heloise

Dear Heloise: I do hope that some friend of ours can come to my rescue. I am desperate. A nasty green coloring crayon got in my dryer by mistake and melted itself all over my laundry. It's a real mess.

How can I remove it? I just must have help. I will try anything suggested. With all my thanks to anyone who answers.—Mrs. O. N. D.

Does anybody have an idea on how to remove this? We get this question all the time, gals, and we know the preventive measure: "Check for crayons in pockets before putting clothes in the dryer."

But sometimes in our busy life we forget these measures. Now our problem is how to remove the crayon. If any of you have found a way we would sure appreciate hearing from you.

Write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Letters do not have to be signed to appear.—Heloise

Dear Heloise: When baking a pie shell, I place a throw-away pie pan inside the unbaked shell before cooking it, and fill the inside tin with navy beans.

This weighted, extra tin keeps my pie crust in perfect shape and the beans can be used again for this purpose.—Mrs. M.

Dear Heloise: I just solved a problem, and even though it is so simple, it may not have occurred to some of your readers.

Music Week Awards Set

Students in grades nine through 12 may win valuable musical awards by entering the 1964 National Music Week Essay Contest conducted by the National Federation of Music Clubs and supported by a grant from Broadcast Music, Inc.

The title of the essay must be "What Music Means to Me," and the required length is 500 words or less. Entries are to be postmarked not later than midnight, April 15, and mailed to NFMC Headquarters, Suite 1215, 600 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., 60605. Membership in the NFMC is not required, according to Mrs. Clifton J. Muir, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

100 AWARDS
A total of 100 awards will be given through the courtesy of Associated Music Publishers, Arlia Records, Boosey and Hawkes, C. F. Peters, Reader's Digest Association, and G. Schirmer Music Publishers. Each of the 100 winners will receive records and music including all nine symphonies of Beethoven on long-playing records; recordings of contemporary American and European composers; an alto recorder and instructions on how to play it; pictorial stories of several American composers; and "Great Operas of Mozart," to name a few. An Award of Merit will also go to the winner's school.

Students may submit more than one entry, and winners will be announced during National Music Week, May 3-10, 1964, said Mrs. Stanton Huber, Anderson, Ind., national chairman of National Music Week.

MUSIC WEEK
This 41st annual observance of National Music Week has the theme "Make Music Your Keynote for Living." Double, single, special, and honorable mention awards will be given for outstanding observances; awards are based on the annual reports and publicity given the observance in local communities. Radio and TV stations, service clubs, church choirs, industrial groups, hospital groups, school and college groups, and symphony orchestras are expected to participate.

The late President John F. Kennedy before his death had given his 1964 National Music Week message, as follows: "America has during the course of its history encompassed a rich range of musical expression, from the simple beauty of our folk songs to the intricate excellence of our great symphony orchestras and opera companies. This musical heritage is being carried on and expanded by the interest and varied talents of all those who are today studying and performing music in school, at home, and on the stages of the world. National Music Week is a fitting celebration of the importance of music in American life."

The state chairman is Mrs. Everett O'Dowd, 101 W. Shamrock Dr., Waco, Texas.

Grand Jury Called April 7

Criminal matters which have accumulated since the Howard County Grand Jury met in February will be considered by that body at a special called session April 7.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that he plans to lay the Ignacio Martinez homicide case before the grand jury. William Eugene Randle, 29-year-old Big Spring Negro, has been charged with the slaying of the Mexican farm worker on the night of March 22. Martinez was found in an alley on the north side of town. He was dead from gunshot wounds.

A second homicide which has occurred since the grand jury first met at the beginning of the present court term will not be given to the grand jury at this time. This is the case involving the shooting of Willard Scalf, a mail clerk employed at the Big Spring State Hospital. Miss Iris Elizabeth Bridges, 54, Odessa, was found wounded in the room with the dead mail clerk. She had been shot four times. According to her story, she was shot by Scalf and later, regaining possession of the pistol, she said she shot Scalf. There are many conflicting and confusing details in the case and Jones said that he is waiting until Miss Bridges has recovered sufficiently from her injuries before deciding the action to be taken in the case. Miss Bridges has signed an agreement to submit to a lie detector test as soon as her health permits. She has been dismissed from the hospital here and is now recuperating at her home in Odessa. The shootings occurred March 11.

New Trial Asked For Midland Man

LUBBOCK (AP) — A motion for a new trial has been filed for James Lee Marion, sentenced to death March 21 for the fatal beating of a prominent Midland woman.

Lawyers for Marion, a 22-year-old Midland Negro, pleaded temporary insanity at the trial. The motion for a new trial stated jurors' minds had been prejudiced by inflammatory prosecution testimony.

Mrs. Fred Turner Jr. was killed at her fashionable Midland home last Oct. 29. Police said she had discovered a burglar in her home.

Marion was found hiding in a tool shed near the house shortly after the slaying was discovered.

This is the long term of 118th District Court in this county, and it is customary for the grand jury to be recalled at least once during the term to keep the felony matters up to date on the docket.

During a visit to a Beverly Hills art gallery she encountered this modern impressionistic painting and her reaction left little doubt about her views. Equality Slowly Gaining In Stringent Birmingham BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Racial segregation—a way of life in Birmingham for nearly 90 years—is grudgingly giving way.

A year ago, Birmingham was properly called the most segregated big city in America. About the only place Negroes had public equality with whites was on city buses.

Today, golf courses, parks and other city-owned facilities, three schools and downtown lunch counters are integrated. A biracial committee, set up by the city government, is working at resolving racial issues.

Underscoring the change was an Easter service in Municipal Stadium where 35,000 white and Negro worshippers sat together to hear evangelist Billy Graham. The crowd was the largest integrated audience ever assembled in Alabama. Not one incident marred the service.

The Rev. Edward Gardner, first vice president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, said he is not completely satisfied with the present situation but he doesn't think "we'll have anything this year like we did in 1963."

The change didn't come easily. About 3,000 persons went to jail during racial demonstrations last spring. Seven Negroes were killed in bombings and racial strife accompanying the bombings. Nearly 100 policemen and firemen were injured trying to maintain order.

Now city fathers are optimistic. Glenn E. Taylor, director of the committee of 100, industry - seeking arm of the Birmingham area Chamber of Commerce, commented: "Our racial problems are behind us and Birmingham's image, at least industrially, is vastly improved over last year." Mayor Albert Boutwell said, "I have never been so sure and confident that Birmingham is well on its way to solving local problems at the local level and making way for greater economic progress in the immediate future."

There are still rumblings of discontent from Negro leaders.

Twins Picked For 2nd Spot By O's Boss

MIAMI (AP) — Blunt-spoken Hank Bauer, showing more courage than tact, picks the New York Yankees to repeat as American League champions. Moreover, he selects his own Baltimore club to finish third with the Minnesota Twins in second place.

"I know there'll be repercussions," said the dauntless Orioles manager. "But I'm just being honest about it. I suppose I could rose-color my way through the season but that wouldn't be me. I've always called a spade a spade."

The hard-bitten ex-Marine, never one to mince words, added:

"Every club in our league is confronted with its except the Yankees. They're set at every position. And they've got the strongest bench.

"I've got a good team, too, but I've got several ifs. It's highly possible we could win the pennant but we've got to have good years from Brooks Robinson at third, Jerry Adair at second and Jackie Brandt in center. We've also got to get a good year out of our right fielder, whether he's Sam Bowers or Willie Kirkland."

Here's how Bauer picked the order of finish:

- 1. New York. 2. Minnesota. 3. Baltimore. 4. Chicago. 5. Detroit. 6. Cleveland. 7. Boston. 8. Los Angeles. 9. Kansas City. 10. Washington.

The first-year pilot of the Orioles called the Indians the sleeper club, the Tigers the most improved but reserved the highest praise for the Twins.

"The reason I picked the Twins ahead of us is because they've got a real good hitting team, maybe the best in the league."

Agree To Attend

DENTON (AP) — North Texas State has received pre-enrollment agreements from two West Orange High School football players, Tim Chagnier and Robert Smith. Both were all-district selections.

WBA Prexy Talks To Senate Group

By G. MILTON KELLY Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Lassman, president of the World Boxing Association, appears before the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee today as the probe of the Clay-Liston championship fight draws to a close.

What were his reasons for suggesting the association strip Cassius Clay of the heavyweight title and bar Sonny Liston from another crack at it? And why did he withdraw the suggestion? The stated reason for the inquiry is to determine if the Clay-Liston fight points to a need to place professional boxing under tight federal policing.

Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., says the subcommittee already has heard enough of mysterious money deals and of possible underworld involvement in the staging of the bout so that "we've got the momentum" to pass legislation.

Sam Margolis, acknowledging a highly profitable friendship with Liston and an association with underworld figures Frank Carbo and Frank (Blinky) Palermo, swore Monday the fight "had not violated boxing rules."

He denied heatedly that he was "fronting" for Carbo and Palermo when he secretly obtained without paying a cent, one-half of Liston's stock in Intercontinental Promotions Inc., which had also secretly paid Clay $50,000 for the right to promote his next bout.

Robert Nilon, executive vice president of Intercontinental, whose brother Jack Nilon was Liston's unlisted manager, swore that even he didn't know that Liston had agreed to surrender half his purse for the bout to Jack Nilon, until this was disclosed in the hearings.

He insisted he saw nothing "incongruous" in the fact that no medical consultation was involved when Liston refused to answer the bell for the seventh round of the Feb. 25 fight, thereby losing the title to Clay.

Hart and S. Jerry Cohen, subcommittee counsel, suggested Liston seemed to have a lot of "aides" not publicly listed who were putting the bite heavily on his earnings. They noted that Liston had testified in 1960 that he could not read or write.

The Nilonos have testified that the secret promotional deals were violations of World Boxing Association rules. But they said the eagerness of states and cities for the prestige and profits involved in playing host to a championship fight make it unlikely that the association could do much about imposing meaningful sanctions against violators.

Hart said he did not plan to call either Liston or Clay as witnesses because he considers "the record is ample" to guide Congress.

Westex Loop Begins Play

The six-team Westex Softball League opens action April 18 with games slated in Big Spring, Abilene and Lubbock.

E. C. Smith, a local nine, will play the Abilene A's in Big Spring; the Abilene Merchants will meet the Big Spring Merchants in Abilene; and the Lubbock Cecils and San Angelo will go against each other in Lubbock.

The first of two rounds of contests will run for five successive weekends with the winner being declared after the games slated for May 16.

This is the first year of existence for the loop.

Dominguez Fights Davis Thursday

ODESSA—Henry Dominguez, who recently won the Texas lightweight boxing championship, has been matched against Horace Davis of Dallas in a 10-round bout on a professional fight card scheduled at the Odessa Coliseum Thursday night.

He won the title in a fight with Cincinnati's Bud Smith and lost it to the great Carlos Ortiz.

Two of the other three bouts on the card have been lined up, according to promoter Earl Gillingham of Houston.

In one, Roy Rogers, 210, of Levelland, goes against Phil Adams of Fort Worth, a 204-pound former Golden Gloves star who only recently turned pro.

Two Levelland fighters, Mel Cruz, 135, goes against Fred Brown, also 135. Both of these bouts are down for four rounds. The program gets under way at 8:30 p.m.

Ringside seats will sell for $3.75 each while box seats will go for $2.75. General admission will cost $1.50.

Tickets are on sale at the Albert S. Kelly Jewelry Store in Midland, as well as in Odessa.

The feature scrap, also down for 10 rounds, sends the former World's Lightweight titlist, Joe Brown of Houston, against popular Manny Gonzales of Odessa.

Like Gonzales, Dominguez is an Odessa product.

Dominguez will come in at about 135 pounds. Davis, who has had 13 fights, will weigh upwards to 140. Dominguez's record is 17-1-1 and he avenged both the loss and the draw on his record.

His latest victory was over Ollie Blackshear and was for the State 135-pound title.

Brown is a veteran campaigner. He's had 122 fights in his long career and has won 87 of those. He lost 23 and fought 10 draws while two of his bouts were ruled "no-decisions."

Players Will Be In Tryouts For Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — Four prominent college basketball coaches come to town today to handle the kind of teams every coach dreams about—each with the frustrating knowledge that he can't win.

The coaches are John Wooden of UCLA's national champion team; Amory (Slat) Gill, who is retiring as Oregon State coach; Jack Gardner of Utah, and John McLendon of Kentucky State.

They'll direct the four all-star college teams—three from the National Collegiate A.A. and one from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics—in the Olympic tryouts on the St. John's University court Thursday. Other teams in the three-day session are two all-star squads picked from last week's Amateur Athletic Union championships and two from the Armed Forces.

The college squads include most of the past season's All-America and Little All-America selections, six members of the UCLA squad and the tallest and most-talented college players from every sector. The NAAI squad represents smaller colleges, but physically it's just as big as any of the others.

The college teams will be playing under unfamiliar rules, which probably won't handicap them much. The big differences are the angled foul lanes, spreading 19 feet at the end line, and the international ball, which is a little heavier and harder to control than the American ball.

The NCAA squads have played a couple of exhibitions during the past week, but there'll be little time for practice as units under the different conditions.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: REX MOSS, 26-year-old golf champion of Israel who flew to Miami to play in the Doral Open, only to fail to survive the 36-hole cut:

"I became overwhelmed by the knowledge that I was playing in a tournament with the best golfers in the world. My game fell apart. I had eight three-putts greens the first day. I was demoralized. I wanted to fly back to Israel as quickly as possible and hide my face. I never wanted to play in another tournament. But after talking to some of the American pros, I don't feel so badly. They taught me a lot in the few days here. One important thing I have to learn is to hit the ball high and let it float to the green the way the Americans do. I always punched the ball low. Here I couldn't make my shots stay on the greens. I hope someday to be given another opportunity to play in this country."

GEORGE ZAHARIAS, husband of the late and lamented Babe, a well known wrestler in his own right years ago:

"A good wrestler could make quick work of Cassius Clay or Sonny Liston in a mixed match. One time fighter King Levinsky met wrestler Ray Steele in a mixed match. Levinsky wore boxing gloves, admittedly a handicap for a man-to-man brawl. Levinsky swung at Ray and cut his eye, but in less than a minute Steele grabbed Levinsky and pinned him. In the old days, they used to try to match Jack Dempsey against Ed (Strangler) Lewis but it never was arranged. That would have been a riot, but Jack wouldn't have had a chance. Neither would Joe Louis or Rocky Marciano have done anything against a good wrestler. I wish I were ten years younger. I'd take on Clay and Liston the same night in a mixed match and guarantee to pin 'em. . . Liston was dishonest in his match with Clay because he went into the ring without telling anybody he had a bad shoulder. Here he was fighting for a million bucks and he wasn't willing to give the fans a break. He'd not know what (promoter) Bill McDonald was thinking about when he guaranteed those fighters $625,000. They knew they were going to get their money from theater TV. I tell you, television is in charge of prize fighting. It tells them when to put on the fights. Sure, television is dropping the regular boxing cards, but it'll still offer the big ones."

RICHARD ROMO, ace miler for the University of Texas: "I developed my running style when I kept missing the bus when I was a schoolboy in San Antonio. I was always late for that bus, and I would try to head it off. It was a challenge. If I couldn't make it, I tried to beat it downtown."

JACKIE ROBINSON, former baseball great: "When Maury Wills joined my barnstorming team in '52 and '53, he had no more ability than the man in the moon. He made himself. Every kid in America should look up to Wills for what he did with little or no natural talent. He's a definite inspiration to the kids. It shows what you can do when you have the determination. The only thing he had back in those days was a strong arm. He couldn't even make my team except as a pitcher. His record of 104 stolen bases is unbelievable. I used to steal 20 to 40 bases a season and I thought that was remarkable. He doesn't even get a big lead. He does it with his tremendous start. . . I feel I retired from baseball at the right time. My legs were gone. They were so bad I couldn't have played even if I had wanted to. I had already damaged one leg and later it was almost to cost me my life."

FRANK HOWARD, Clemson football coach: "The more liberalized collegiate substitution rules in football will help standardize the so-called 'hard-nosed' type of play that has gained prominence in recent years. Coaches who depend on super-conditioning—like Alabama's Bear Bryant—are not going to like those rules. Under the new setup, you won't have to make a boy go all-out more than five minutes before you can rest him. That way, all-out conditioning won't be such a big factor. The new rules are sure to cut down on injuries."

TONY PENNA, McGregor golf executive: "If Jack Nicklaus stays in shape, he's got to become the greatest golfer since Bobby Jones. He's accomplished more now than most fellows do in a lifetime. What Nicklaus has in composure. It took Ben Hogan 20 years to get it."

Sure Point Getter

Jim Napier, freshman from Fort Worth, is a sure point getter for Howard County Junior College in almost any track and field meet he enters. Napier has done 150 feet 4 inches in the discus and 47 feet 3/4-inch in the shot put in competition this spring.

Azalea Winner Says He Is On His Way

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — "I should be a great player from now on. I've got every shot there is. I have a good swing now and hit good drives, good iron shots and I'm putting well." The speaker was Al Besselink, shortly after he slipped home a one-stroke winner of the $20,000 Azalea Open golf tournament Monday. It was the first tour victory in almost seven years for the 39-year-old husky Merchantville, N.J., blond who returned to the tournament trail after three years as a Philadelphia area club pro.

Bulldogs Could Figure In Race

COAHOMA—With the District 6-A track meet rapidly approaching April 11 in Sweetwater, the Coahoma Bulldogs find themselves increasingly getting the eye from the experts as possibly the team to beat. The die could have been cast last weekend. The Bulldogs attended an invitational track meet in Rotan, and although not winning the meet, they placed individuals in the finals of every event. They might have gone on to dominate the meet but with some boys out with flu and others just recovering, Coahoma didn't turn in the performances it was capable of running. Every district squad but Aspermont was on the scene. With a team consisting of all but three sophomores, Mike Mosley could probably be given the tag as the outstanding lead wearing the colors of the Bulldogs. Mosley, although only in his second year in high school, has hit a 2:02.0 this year for the 880-yard dash, which is one of the top times in the state. He should stand a good chance of going to the state meet in Austin.

Longhorns Seek To Even Record In Game At 4:00

The Big Spring Steers seek to even their won-lost baseball record at 7-7 in a 4 p.m. game with Lubbock Monterey in Lubbock today.

Roy Baird's team winds up pre-conference competition here next Saturday, at which time it plays two games with Eunice, N. M.

The Steers launch 2-AAAA competition here a week from today, at which time they tangle with one of the league favorites, Midland Lee.

Big Spring lost to Monterey, 9-2, in a previous start. The Steers' defense caved in after the two teams had fought to a standoff through five innings.

Either Hank Pope or Larry Broughton could get the mound call today, unless Baird decides to go with sophomore Gary Miers.

Other starters for Big Spring today could be Charley West behind the plate, Eddie Thomas at first base, Jim Hamilton at second, Baxter Moore at shortstop, Howard Bain at third, Robert Goodlet in left field, Van Griffin in center.

DEAR ABBY

To Beard Or Not To Beard

DEAR ABBY: The newly revived craze of the beard is the most ridiculous thing I have ever witnessed. Julius Caesar and Alexander the Great were beardless, and they did all right. Napoleon and George Washington were clean-shaven and they did all right. And wouldn't you say that John D. Rockefeller did all right? HATES BEARDS

DEAR HATES: What about Alexander Graham Bell, Abraham Lincoln and Sigmund Freud? THEY did all right, too. And the Smith Brothers coughed up a fortune.

DEAR ABBY: There are 33 students in my chemistry class, and only six of us do not cheat on tests. Our teacher grades on the curve and it is really unfair to those who don't cheat to get a lower grade because the others cheat. I suppose I have no reason to complain because I get A's on my tests regardless. However, some of the kids are mad at me because I won't let them copy from me. Is it MY responsibility to inform the chemistry teacher of what is going on? Or should I ignore it? I hope you print this, Abby, as it is a common problem.

CONFUSDD

DEAR CONFUSED: It is such a common problem that I can't understand why more teachers aren't aware of it. I do not recommend informing on others. Bide your time.

DEAR ABBY: We never go anywhere without first calling to see if we are welcome. But when we get there we are embarrassed to find that the people were just ready to retire or they are so exhausted they can't keep their eyes open. Why do they say, "Yes, we are going to be home—come over," when they are not in the mood to have company? I simply cannot understand this and wish somebody would explain it to me.

LIKES PEOPLE

DEAR LIKES: Most people lack the courage to be completely honest. When folks WANT company, THEY do the inviting.

DEAR ABBY: I have been following the discussion in your column about whether or not a clergyman should be offered a cash gift for marriage counseling. Someone signed "BURNED UP IN ST. PAUL" told you off, saying clergymen were a prosperous lot. Then you turned around and told her off. Don't worry about BURNED UP. Abby. She is—and will be.

'First Name' Term Ousted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court reversed today a contempt conviction in an Alabama court of a Negro woman who refused to answer questions unless she was addressed as "Miss Hamilton," instead of just "Mary."

The woman, a field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality, had been called into court with a large number of Negroes who faced charges growing out of racial demonstrations in Etowah County, in June, 1963.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People appealed to the Supreme Court on behalf of the woman. It asked the high tribunal to strike down the practice in some Southern courts of addressing Negroes by their first names in court proceedings.

District 3-AAA Meet Scheduled

LAMESA (SC) — The annual District 3-AAA meet has been scheduled for April 10-11 in Brownfield. Schools participating include Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Brownfield and San Angelo Lakeview.

Literary events consist of prose reading, debate, numbers sense, typing, poetry, science, slide rule, spelling and plain writing, ready writing, shorthand, persuasive speaking, extemporaneous speaking and one-act play.

Athletic events slated include golf, tennis, track and field and volleyball.

Complete Rebuilding Seen For Alaska Rails

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Alaska Railroad, 470-mile supply lifeline for the state's interior, will have to be brought back from the near-dead.

Tracks and equipment at the Seward starting point were a mass of twisted steel and burning railroad cars as a result of Friday night's earthquake. Seward's rolling stock was so twisted and melted by the quake and resulting fires that it was impossible in some cases to tell ward City Manager James W. Hamilton.

The railroad, government owned and operated, runs from Seward on the Gulf of Alaska to Fairbanks. The last 100 miles of track into Fairbanks was reported undamaged.

"Our railroad facilities here are a total loss," reported Se-cars from engines. Half a mile from Seward, where the railroad crosses a lagoon, only two broken rails on ties dipping up and down with the tide were left to mark the route.

Postal Project

COMMERCE (AP) — The General Services Administration was to award a $58,000 contract today for air conditioning and lighting of the post office here. Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney said the contract would go to Fincher Construction Co. of Dallas.

Collegians Begin Trek Back Home

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Many of the estimated 75,000 college students that packed this resort city on their annual Easter vacation started moving north Monday, leaving some behind to face police charges.

City police, working 12-hour shifts seven days a week since the students started arriving two weeks ago, had to call for state highway patrol reinforcements Sunday to quell a blanket tossing party. An undetermined number of students were arrested on disorderly charges when they failed to move on quickly enough to suit officers. The disturbance resulted when a small blanket tossing party, where someone — preferably a girl — is tossed high in the air from a blanket held by several boys, got out of hand. Police Chief A. O. Folsom Jr. said arrests averaged around 100 a day since the students started arriving. However, there were no incidents resembling the riots and mass arrests that occurred at Fort Lauderdale in 1961. Police in Fort Lauderdale said the 6,000 college students there were "very quiet."

ANALYSES OF THE SMOKE OF SAMPLES OF CARLTON CIGARETTES ARE MADE PERIODICALLY BY AN INDEPENDENT RESEARCH LABORATORY. ANALYSES DURING THE MOST RECENT TEST PERIOD PRIOR TO THE MANUFACTURE OF THE CIGARETTES IN THIS PACKAGE AVERAGED:

"TAR"*	2.5 MG	PER CIGARETTE
NICOTINE	0.4 MG	PER CIGARETTE

*SMOKE COMPONENTS COMMONLY BUT INACCURATELY CALLED "TAR".

Look again.

This is Carlton, the unusual new cigarette from The American Tobacco Company. Everything about Carlton is selected and crafted to produce this one result: (Low "tar" and nicotine, with real smoking pleasure.) It is so low in "tar" and nicotine we print test results on all packs and cartons. ■ Carlton has a distinctive blend, high porosity paper, special air vents, and a new "flavor filter" with activated charcoal which actually enriches the taste. ■ We believe you'll want to try Carlton. We also believe you will find it a new and pleasurable smoking experience. Give Carlton the time it takes you to smoke a carton.

See for yourself.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1964 SEC. B

Young Pilot Logs 4,600 Flight Hours

1st Lt. Gary Heartsill, instructor-pilot at Webb Air Force Base, has logged more hours flying, both as an Air Force pilot and as a civilian, than most fliers of his age.

Lt. Heartsill, who celebrates his 26th birthday today, has more than 4,600 hours flying time to his credit. This record includes 1,300 hours as an Air Force pilot and 3,000 hours as USAF uniform.

Actually, young Heartsill has enough flying hours to represent 192 24-hour days of flying time—which is a lot of air travel and represents a tremendous number of miles.

Flying has been this young officer's life.

Planes the lieutenant has flown include the Piper Cherokee, Piper Colt, Mooney, Piper Pawnee, Swift, the Piper L-4, PA-11, PA-18, PA-22, PA-23, and J-3; Cessnas 120, 140, 150, 170, 171, 172, 180, 182, 195 and 310; Stinson, Luscomb, C-47, C-54, and L-17, Aeronca, T-29 and T-34.

Military aircraft flown include T-37, T-33, and T-38.

He even proposed marriage to his wife in the air. She was a passenger in a plane he was flying. The lieutenant had met Jean L. Elliott, Stockton, Calif., at Oklahoma State University.

It is recorded that Lt. Heartsill continued the flight with his bride-to-be until he had been accepted. Then, and then only, did he land the plane.

After their marriage, they left for South Texas on a honeymoon—travelling, naturally, by air.

His home is in Ardmore, Okla., where his father, Maj. Hobart L. Heartsill and his mother make their home. His father is in the U. S. Army.

Heartsill was recently assigned to Webb AFB as instructor pilot in Green Flight. He and his wife, Jean, and their daughter Kelly, 2½ years old, live at 64 Chanute.

Heartsill is a graduate of Webb Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 62-G which completed its work here in May, 1962. Since then he has been a T-37 instructor pilot. Last October, he went to Randolph for T-38 pilot instructor training. He has been an instructor on T-38's since January. Recently Heartsill was awarded his master instructor certificate. In order to qualify for this distinction, the recipient must have at least 1,000 hours of flying time free of accidents attributable to pilot error — of which 800 hours must be acquired instructing students.

The young Oklahoman graduated from the Oklahoma State University with a degree in Air Science in May, 1960. While at OSU he was flight instructor for the ROTC. During the summers he spent his time spraying cotton. Naturally, his call sign at Webb is "Cropduster."

Lt. Heartsill's sights on flying began when he was a youngster. In the early 1950s he was an Air Scout and attended two Air Explorer Encampments at Vance AFB, Okla. He rose to top Eagle Scout.

He also participated in the Civil Air Patrol program in Oklahoma and held the rank of colonel.

Some of the experiences recalled by Lt. Heartsill are:

Flew on an ROTC encampment flight from Stillwater, Okla., to Luke AFB, Ariz. in a Champ without radio. Flight took 25 hours round trip with the average ground speed — 86 miles an hour.

Was the only student pilot at Webb Aero Club.

While in the Aero Club he gave light aircraft instructions to two Webb officers, both of whom had Air Force wings (and the lieutenant was still a student in UPT).

Sweetwater Rock Said Asteroid

HOUSTON (AP) — Manned Spacecraft Center scientists say a four-pound meteorite found near Sweetwater probably came from the asteroid belt between the planets or from a meteorite shower flung to earth by a comet's tail which crossed the earth's orbital path.

The strange-looking rock was found by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Nepper on their farm north of Sweetwater about two years ago.

Scientists in the lunar surface technology branch said the meteorite was 15 per cent nickel iron and the rest rock.

The space agency is seeking any rocks that look as if they might be meteorites. It is trying to determine what the moon's surface is like.

Treasury Sees Crisis In Coins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The coin shortage will reach a crisis stage within the next two or three years.

This is the view of government officials who direct the manufacture and distribution of billions of coins and it is based on the assumption that demand will continue to expand at an incredible rate.

How soon will the shortage have a noticeable effect on business, and produce serious inconvenience for the public?

"We believe that some banks are already stocking up on coins for next Christmas," a Treasury official said.

25 YEARS

Of the 55 billion coins manufactured by the government since 1792, about 44 billion have been minted in the past 25 years. On the average, a coin stays in circulation for 25 years.

Alaskans Are Reported Safe

Anchorage, Alaska, relatives of one Big Spring family are safe and sound after the giant earthquake—although a bit inconvenienced.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Comiskey sent word to her sister, Mrs. Lester Beauvais, 615 Highland, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Look of Grand Junction, Colorado, who are visiting here, that the quake shook their home to some extent but there was no major damage to it.

However, the Comiskys, like all Anchorage residents, are without water, heat or lights. They reported that a number of friends, whose homes were wrecked, were temporarily staying with them, using sleeping bags and other camping gear.

The Comiskys said food supplies were adequate and that Mr. Comiskey was attempting to reach his station at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Anchorage's airport. This section was reported virtually destroyed by the tremor.

Although the spray is still in the stage of future proposed aids for postmen, the aerosol spray would be made up of a mixture of mineral oil and pepper designed to discourage the ferocious dog. (AP WIREPHOTO)

UT Coed Named Bluebonnet Queen

AUSTIN (AP)—Cecile Autrey, University of Texas senior from Waxahachie, will reign as queen of the Bluebonnet Festival in Ennis April 25.

Gov. John Connally signed a proclamation calling attention to the event Monday. Miss Autrey presented him a bouquet of bluebonnets.

Langdon For Railroad Commission

Among the important state posts to be filled via the elections this year is that of Texas Railroad Commissioner...

Texas generally has been blessed with men of strong stature on the Railroad Commission, and they have been of outstanding public service.

One of these, The Herald believes, is Jim C. Langdon, who is up for election to fill the unexpired term of Bill Murray...

Langdon is a man of sound background, having been a district judge.

We'll All Be Taken Care Of

WASHINGTON — Any sane person is bound to be enchanted by two proposals made practically simultaneously a few days ago.

One, advanced by a precious panel of wool-gathering liberals sailing under the colors of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions...

THE OTHER, proposed in a white paper submitted to Commons by Home Secretary Henry Brooke...

These two splendid ideas, reinforced by a heavy meal of sauerkraut and knockwurst, produced the following double-feature nightmare...

(THE SCENE is The Crutch and Gout, an ancient London pub carefully perched within the sound of Bow Bells.)

MRS. JIGGINS — My 'erbert 'ad a bit of luck.

MRS. O'MEACHLEY — Coo, now, did 'e? Hit the pants after all these years of trying, eh?

MRS. — Not a bit of it, hen. Truth is 'erbert was making 'is way 'ome through Morbus Mews last Whitsuntide...

MRS. O'M. (spitefully) — Fog? Twasn't the least bit foggy, love.

MRS. (sweetly) — No, but 'erbert was. Anyway, they packed 'im off to St. Flinders Infirmary and stitched 'im up...

MRS. — Not at all, duck. 'oos to say what really 'appened? 'erbert claims two Teddy boys coshed 'im and took 'is last tuppence in a crime of violence...

SCARCELY HAD I finished crying out in my sleep over that one, when the following subconscious photoplay was spun off:

State Department On Sino-Soviet Rift

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just as the State Department was explaining how good it is to see the fight between the Soviet Union and Red China...

This Sino-Soviet split is one of the major reasons why, the State Department told Congress Monday, the United States is ahead in the cold war.

It lists these reasons: 1. The big showdowns with the Soviet Union have turned out favorably. Examples: Russia's efforts to squeeze the Allies from Berlin...

2. The Sino-Soviet conflict. Moscow's control of world communism has been weakened; with Russian help shut off, Red China has suffered economically and militarily...

3. The military balance. RUSSIA'S DRIVE with its nuclear and space programs has slowed down, the department said...

4. Communist economic setbacks. The department said in this field "all the countries of the Communist camp have suffered setbacks in recent years..."

5. Eastern Europe moving a bit. The department sees a "trend toward liberalizing political controls," a growth of nationalism, more independence...

6. Western Europe safer. FAR LESS danger of a Communist takeover since the 1940s, despite some Allied differences.

7. Communist decline in Middle East. Since 1960 "the ability of local Communist parties to influence national affairs has been on the wane..."

8. South Asia as a trouble spot. The department crosses its fingers here, says "probably on balance events of past three years" show net improvement in Indian subcontinent...

9. INDIA and the United States have drawn closer while Pakistan, a U.S. ally, resents American aid to India. Communism now is no threat in either place...

10. Communism is making new friends and contacts in Africa. Here the department sees the picture mixed, with need for concern in some areas...

11. Latin America, a sudden major arena of the cold war. The department thinks, on balance, the non-Communist world is winning the cold war in Latin America...

12. Brazil is a sore spot. SALOONS HAD two entrances — one for "Ladies"—and if you asked a bartender for a martini he thought you were either kidding him or trying to show off.

FOR BEAUTY OR FOR PLEASURE
Thixton features lawn mowers and motor scooters at 908 W. 4th

Spring Brings Need For Lawn Care Equipment

One can't ride a motor scooter and push a lawn mower at the same time, but he can divide his time between the two for a beautiful lawn, or a pleasant trip. Cecil Thixton, 908 W. 4th (Highway 80), has both in stock in popular sizes.

There are both rotary and reel type mowers, with the well-known Briggs & Stratton engines—all four-cycle. The Kingston rotary mowers, with 20 and 22 inch blades, are available in the push type with 2½ horsepower engines, while the Cooper Klipper, reel-type mower, with 18 and 20 inch blades, come with the same 2½ H. P. engine. Reel-type mowers are self-propelled. The reel-type come with either five or six blades and the height of cut is adjustable from seven - sixteenths to two and seven-eighths inches. Adjustments are made in front and on the roller at the rear.

The rotary mowers have die-cast aluminum housing with blower-action cutter blade. The blade is completely guarded, even to protective bars across the grass chute. The mower trims flush to walls, trees, or fences, eliminating the greatest drudgery of lawn care—hand trimming. While most of these come in the push type a 21-inch self-propelled mower is available with rear-wheel drive, V-belt with no high speed gears, and with a three horsepower engine, and recoil starter. A Safe-T-Wind starter is optional. Finger-tip control rotates the engine on the frame for clutching action.

The self-propelled mower has eight-inch front and 10-inch rear wheels, with direct shaft drive to the suction-type blade. It also has the Cyclo-Mulch attachment for reducing leaves to mulch.

Thixton is also equipped to repair mowers, rebuild and repair engines, sharpen or replace blades, and to straighten the shafts in rotary mowers where they become bent when striking a solid object. Blade sharpening also includes balancing to prevent vibration.

On the other side of the wall a whole room-full of Schwinn bicycles are available, from the shortest youngster to the tallest man.

These bicycles come in assorted frame heights and with assorted speeds for all kinds of riding. The Ladies' and Men's Varsity Tourist models come with easy-to-operate 10-speed, 38 to 96 gear bikes. They come in Flamboyant Lime, Radiant Coppertone, Sky Blue or Terra Cotta colors.

Then, for birthday presents, let the youngsters take a look at the new Schwinn Sting-Ray V-belt with no high speed

Electrical Check Needed For Home Safety's Sake

Electrical systems, during the coming summer months, will be compelled to carry heavier loads.

Air conditioning units, plus the many other modern electrical conveniences in today's modern homes and businesses, need a modern electrical system in order to operate properly.

The staff at Haston Electric, 1606-B Gregg, suggests that now is a good time to have your electrical system inspected for safety's sake. This will be done without any obligation, and an estimate of the cost of additional circuits, or of modernizing the old system, can be furnished. Quality workmanship is stressed by Haston Electric. All work meets the strictest requirements of the electrical code and good craftsmanship. Blowing fuses, appliances not working properly, and the television flickering when the refrigerator comes on, all are some of the danger signs that a system is overloaded. Many of the systems installed in older homes are not adequate to handle the multitude of appliances now being used in all homes.

Although the firm handles many large jobs, it also welcomes the opportunity to do small jobs.

Gene Haston has been in the electrical business for many years and knows what is required for residence and commercial buildings. He maintains a staff of qualified and courteous electricians who will be glad to service your electrical needs.

Call Haston Electric at AM 4-5103 for information, and estimates on a new job or one for safety.

Impatience Hangs Over Nikita Visit

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

An air of impatience hangs over Soviet Premier Khrushchev's visit to Hungary this week for talks with Communist leaders.

Communist parties around the world are choosing up sides in the Soviet-Chinese dispute, and it would not be surprising if Moscow decided to excommunicate certain elements and thus blow the lid off the controversy over ideologies.

The Budapest meeting may not produce the fireworks, but they do not appear far off. Some Red leaders are frantically seeking to avert a climactic show. The French party is calling for a world meeting soon.

Moscow, which has opposed the idea of a world meeting, may be coming around to the idea that it must be held. It is unlikely, however, that the Red Chinese would favor a Moscow-sponsored convention.

That Khrushchev is running out of patience is indicated in an attack on him published by Red Flag, Peking's theoretical journal. The attack is signed by pro-Chinese V. G. Wilcox, secretary-general of the New Zealand party. He accused the Russians of threatening to expel parties disagreeing with Khrushchev's cautious, long-term strategy for the world revolution.

Wilcox says Mikhail A. Suslov, Soviet party theoretician, voiced the threat during a Moscow meeting with a New Zealand delegation.

When their talks ended, Suslov said, according to Wilcox: "You are wrong. We had hoped you might change. If you change, you will remain within the ranks of the fraternal world parties of Marxism-Leninism. But if you do not change, then, of course, you will be outside the excluded."

This is the picture around the world:

ASIA
The powerful Indonesian party has gone over to the Chinese side. It disagreed with Moscow on the pace of world revolution, echoing the Chinese in proclaiming the time ripe for violent revolutionary action in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The Japanese party is split, but the majority seems to lean to the Chinese.

In India, a pro-Chinese wing is becoming increasingly vocal. In North Viet Nam, Ho Chih Minh's party increasingly echoes the Chinese line against "revisionism." North Korea's party frequently supports Red China.

The Chinese are engaged in a campaign apparently aimed at freezing Soviet influence out of the revolutionary movement in Africa, similar to a parallel effort to impress upon Asia that the Soviet Union is not an Asian nation. The Chinese aim in Africa is to provoke immediate attacks on all aspects of Western influence and to produce constant revolutionary ferment.

LATIN AMERICA
The Cuban party, which Communists consider the vanguard of the revolution in Latin America, is split on the question of revolutionary policy, but Cuba relies heavily on Soviet aid.

Pro-Chinese wings are emerging in Latin America. The most obvious split is in Brazil, a nation chronically on the edge of trouble.

EUROPE
Chinese money is reported to be financing a new periodical in France called "Revolution," and opposing Soviet policy regarding the world movement.

In Belgium, a violent wing under Jacques Grippa, apparently in control of a party newspaper called People's Voice, has issued a broadside against the Moscow wing.

Scandinavian parties are divided.

In Italy, a small but vocal pro-Chinese wing is causing trouble for Palmiro Togliatti.

The Chinese infection has spread swiftly, and it may be too late for the Kremlin to apply any remedy except drastic surgery.

Tempting Target

Laura Lane Robinson, 15 months, might have spilled milk on Mom's new rug, but she provides a tempting target for a soft spanking. Actually, she was showing off her new wardrobe when Dad, photographer Ed Robinson of the Alabama Journal and Montgomery Advertiser, clicked the shutter. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Many-Sided Federal Action Aiding Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP)—A many-sided federal disaster relief program was being shaped up for Alaska today. It apparently will include congressional action to enlarge enormously the available emergency funds.

Edward A. McDermott, coordinating the efforts of a dozen agencies as President Johnson's disaster chief, said property damage estimated at $350 million to $500 million is "much greater than I ever expected it to be."

Noting that this year's disaster appropriation is only $20 million—some of which is already earmarked for Ohio River flood relief—McDermott told a news conference Monday that "it is probable that additional legislation will be required."

Price Goes Up For Longhairs

LONDON (AP)—Fed up with long-haired adults and teenagers with flowing manes, Britain's barbers voted today to charge double to customers who go more than four weeks with out haircuts.

"After four weeks since the last haircut on most men with a full head of hair it becomes a 'reshape' and the price should go up," a spokesman said. The price for a haircut now ranges from 49 to 63 cents.

"I cannot tell you now what the form of extent of federal action will be. This situation is unprecedented in our experience," McDermott said.

A sympathetic response from Congress seemed certain. Senators from every part of the nation rose on the Senate floor Monday to pledge their individual support for "whatever has to be done."

McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, summoned federal agency leaders to an emergency session shortly after his return from a flying survey of the Alaskan areas ravaged by earthquake, tidal waves and fire.

Then, meeting reporters, he disclosed that Johnson has instructed him to prepare a report which would include McDermott's recommendations, if any, for special legislative action.

Johnson has been kept informed on developments by frequent telephone reports, McDermott said, and has repeatedly voiced "his concern and his determination to see that federal assistance is expedited."

The OEP chief said there will be no difficulty in getting the $20 million appropriation for federal disaster aid increased by Congress, but left open the possibility that extraordinary measures may be proposed to Congress to help get the Alaskan economy running again.

What makes Alaska's plight unprecedented, he explained, is the fact that such basic industries as fishing and canning are prostrate in the major centers of activity. Thousands of residents face the prospect of payless weeks or months, he said.

Quake Crushes State's Business

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The earthquake and sea waves, which battered the major centers of south central Alaska Friday night dealt a crushing blow to the economy of this young state.

Alaska was looking forward this year to a banner tourist season, with the Southeast Marine Highway (ferry) system in full operation.

Business conditions were steadily improving. The outlook for the fishing industry, one of the most important segments of the state's economic base, was very promising after last year's dismal results in the important Bristol Bay red salmon fishery.

Then came the earthquake. The business district of Anchorage, the state's largest city, was laid waste. The vital railroad of Seward was virtually wiped out, as was the town of Valdez. Kodiak lost 75 per cent of its business community. Cordova was hard hit. Men who had worked at paying jobs on Friday found themselves unemployed on Saturday.

The private economy reeled, and so did that of the state government. The major setback to the government, will come through loss of individual and corporate income taxes, business license taxes and raw fish taxes.

What the total drop in revenue will be, no one is prepared to state at this time. Gov. William A. Egan, haggard after touring the worst damaged areas, said he could not even make a guess until a full assessment is completed.

The governor did estimate damage at more than $350 million, but that was to actual property, without relation to taxes which will not be produced.

The closest thing to an actual estimate of revenue loss was made by Robert D. Stevenson, state commissioner of revenue. Meeting with a joint Senate-House Finance Committee in emergency session at Juneau, Stevenson said in reply to a question that the result could be a 20 per cent drop in the state's income expectations in fiscal 1964-65.

For a state that had estimated its general fund revenues at a modest $62,158,319 during the 12 months starting next July, this could be a critical loss.

Eagles Schedule Several Events

Several affairs have been scheduled by the Fraternal Order of Eagles here.

Today, a social is being held from 7:30 p.m. to 12 midnight for members, wives and guests. Entertainment will consist of bridge, dominoes, forty-two, and dancing.

Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. the semi-monthly regular meeting will be held, and members are requested to be present.

Saturday at 8:45 p.m. and continuing to 1 a.m. Sunday, an informal dance will be held for members and guests at the Settles ballroom. Music will be furnished by an orchestra, and tickets may be secured from members for $2 per couple.

Young Demos To Organize Here

Organization of a Howard County Young Democrats Club will be attempted at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday on the second floor of the county courthouse.

Mrs. Betty Stalon, Sweetwater, state Democratic committee woman for this district, will be present for the event, together with possibly some other party volunteers. All young people, including those of high school or college age, are invited to be present for the organizational meeting.

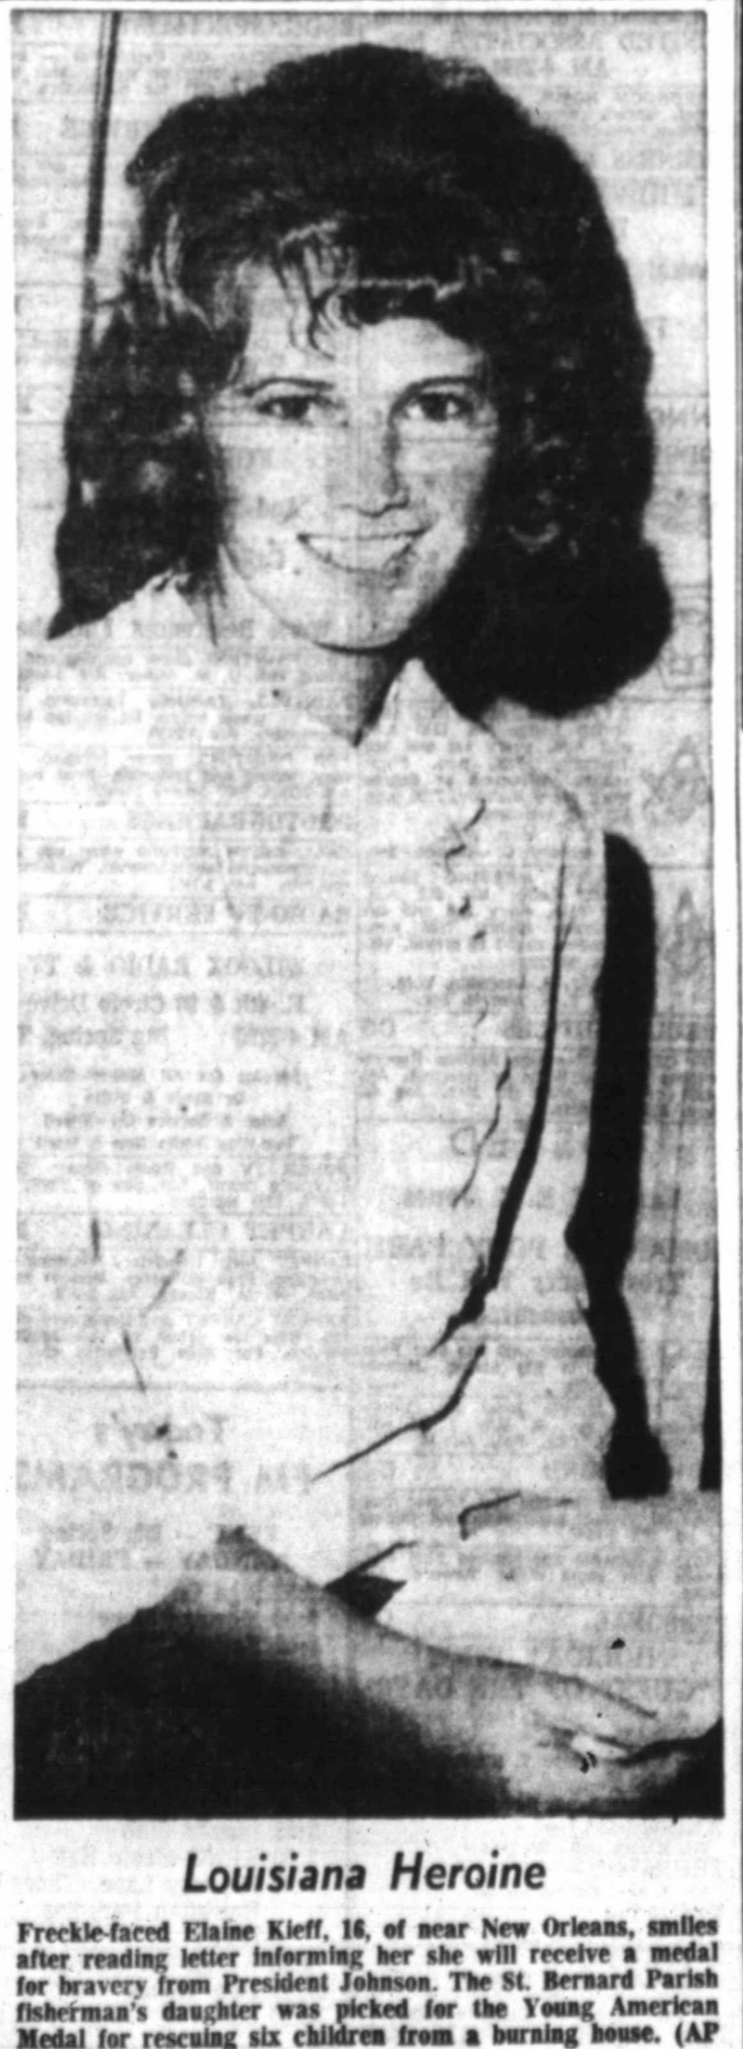

Damages Asked

T. R. Rose contends in a petition filed in 118th District Court today that on Sept. 14, 1963, Mrs. Rose bought a glass of iced tea in the Lewis 5-and-10 Variety store in College Park Shopping Center. He claims there were sharp fragments of broken glass in the tea and that Mrs. Rose was seriously injured as a result. He is suing for $25,000 damages.

City Absentee Ballots Climb

The number of absentee ballots cast for the city election was boosted to five this morning in the city secretary's office.

C. R. McClenny, city secretary, said Friday is the deadline for casting absentee ballots in the election. However, votes mailed in from outside the county will be counted if they are received by 5 p.m. on April 5.

Town Cuts Missing To 7

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP)—The number of persons missing since Saturday's fatal tidal wave was trimmed to seven today as Crescent City residents continued picking up the pieces of their smashed lives.

"I have no doubt we will find more dead," Del Norte County Sheriff Ozzie Hoygaard said. Eleven are known dead. Fifteen were originally listed as missing, but eight of those—some of them unaware that they were unaccounted for—turned up Monday.

Searchers picked through a giant logjam, strewn lumber, crumpled cars and smashed homes for more victims of the devastating tidal wave that was spawned by the Alaska earthquake.

Four waves swept through 29 blocks of this northern California fishing and lumber town of 3,000, doing damage that has been estimated at nearly $50 million. The sheriff's office said 400 persons were left homeless.

Three Local Beauties Enter Miss BS Running

JIMMIE LA NELL MEREDITH NANCY LYNN HARALSON MARY ANN ANDREWS

Three candidates for Junior Miss Big Spring announcing today are Jimmie La Nell Meredith, 17; Nancy Lynn Haralson, 17, and Mary Ann Andrews, 16. They are three of 12 candidates entering the Miss Big Spring pageant Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the municipal auditorium.

The winner of the Miss Big Spring title will compete for Miss Texas in Fort Worth in June. The young lady named as Junior Miss Big Spring will have gained experience which may later be used in entering the Miss Big Spring contest.

MUSIC STUDY
 Jimmie La Nell Meredith is the daughter of James A. Meredith, 3218 Cornell. She is a student in Big Spring High School and plans to attend Texas Tech when she is graduated in 1966. She has had nine years of music study, and some of her activities include the study of piano. She is a member of Future Homemakers of America and of the Tri-Hi-Y.

Miss Meredith is five feet four inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has blue eyes and brown hair. Her measurements are 34-23-35 inches.

Nancy Lynn Haralson, 17, a junior in Big Spring High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haralson, 701 W. 17th. She wants to further her education, after graduation from high school, at Texas University, North Texas State University or Texas Tech.

HONOR SOCIETY
 She has been active in extracurricular affairs in school and outside. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, Future Teachers of America, a capella choir, is on the tennis team, and has been named to Who's Who. She is secretary of the French Club, was FFA Sweetheart, Lion's Club Queen, and enjoys painting, sewing, swimming and diving.

Miss Haralson has studied ballet, tap, Hawaiian, and ballroom dancing. She has received training in the a capella choir, and her church choir.

Her measurements are 35½-22-36. She is five feet four inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has blue-green eyes, and brown hair.

FRESHMAN
 Mary Ann Andrews, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Andrews, 1421 Tucson Road, and is a freshman in Runnels Junior High School. She has played saxophone, bass clarinet, cello, and viola during three years in the school band.

Miss Andrews wants to continue her education at Texas Tech when she has completed her high school work. She is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, has hazel eyes and blonde hair. She measures 36-24½-36½ inches.

The contestant enjoys skating, fishing, band work, square dancing, dancing, reading, and horseback riding.

'Huntley Beef' Falls By Wayside

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. and commentator Chet Huntley have agreed that he should withdraw his name from a brand of beef claimed to be of high protein content.

NBC said Monday it had been decided that all advertising and promotion of "Chet Huntley's nature fed beef" will be discontinued.

Huntley, partner of David Brinkley on a nightly television news show, concurred in the announcement.

Huntley said cattle fed at his farm in Stockton, N.J., will be sold in the open market and will not carry his name for promotion purposes.

The agreement followed disclosure on March 20 that Huntley had discussed on radio the beef industry's price structure the same day that "Chet Huntley's nature fed beef" was formally introduced.

Flame Cultivation To Be Discussed

R. D. Cutright, with the Warren Petroleum Corporation, Fort Worth, will meet with the agriculture committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce at 10 a.m. April 7 to show a film demonstrating "flame cultivation." M. L. Patterson, chairman, said anyone interested is invited. Cutright has spent a number of years in developing and improving the flame cultivation method of de-weeding crops.

Wreck Kills Pair

HOUSTON (AP)—A car and a truck collided in northeast Houston Monday night killing both occupants of the car.

Housewife's Din, Helpful Mockingbird Save Bunny

DALLAS (AP)—You've heard about the cat with nine lives. Now let Mrs. Hazel Jones, 34, tell about a baby cottontail rabbit that must be equally hardy.

She saw a big, black bird fly over her back yard with the struggling bunny Monday.

"I could hear him squeaking," said Mrs. Jones, "and I could see him wiggling in the bird's beak. It looked like an oversized crow."

A mockingbird flew in noisy pursuit. Mrs. Jones remembered the pizza pan in her hand. "I started yelling and banging on the pizza pan," she said.

The startled black bird, 30 feet up, opened its beak and down tumbled the rabbit, just three inches long. After its lost prey swooped the black bird.

Mrs. Jones shouted and the mockingbird fussed. The black bird beat a retreat.

It appeared the rabbit was dead. Mrs. Jones put him in an old straw hat and left to run an errand.

"I was gone about an hour," she said. "When I got back and drove into the driveway I was telling myself that I was going to find that little rabbit dead and have to bury him."

Instead she found the tiny bunny hopping nimbly about inside the house.

He became the new pet of Ray Reeves, 9, and his sister Sherry, 7, Mrs. Jones' nephew and niece. They named him "Beatlebomb."

"Lady of Spain"

"Mantilla"

The Espana Collection...

by Callaway, "The Label of Luxury"

Bring the beauty, splendor and pageantry of Spain into your bath with Callaway's luxurious Espana Collection. Two stunning towels with the same rose pattern.

"Mantilla" is an extravagant all-over, reversible jacquard... the other, "Lady of Spain" is a reversible solid with a wide woven border of the same roses. Both in rich, yard dyed colors, gold/orange, rose/pink, camellia/red, verde/mint, beige/white or black/brown combinations... both flounced with flamenco fringe. Both so thick... so ultra absorbent.

Mardi Gras Meeting Held

Cub Scout Pack 48 held its monthly meeting last week at the First Presbyterian Church with the "Mardi gras" theme. The opening ceremony by Den 3 featured all pack members parading in Mari gras costumes. Humorous skits were presented by Den 4. Den 5 sang a song for the closing ceremony.

Advancements were given by Cub Master Sam Robertson to: Den 1—Wolf badge and arrow to Van Johnson and Dwayne Baker; Den 2—Arrows and Wolf badge to Mark Sweeney, Bert Bouillion, Bob Currie, John Taylor Jr., Denner's badge to Mark Sweeney, and assistant Denner's badge to Bert Bouillion; Den 3—Wolf badge to Randy Cockrell, silver arrow to Jesse Armistead and Stephen Ray. Stephen Ray also took the Denner's badge, and Randy Haller the assistant Denner's badge; Den 4—Arrow to Jackie Doland; Denner's badge to Preston Harris, and assistant Denner's badge to David Robertson; Den 5—Denner's badge to David Lewis, and assistant Denner's badge to Pat Wheeler; Den Chief's shoulder cord to Mike Spradling, Den 5; Cubbing award to Den 2 by Eb Bouillion for best attendance.

State Park Stays Open

Big Spring State Park has returned to a full-fledged, nighttime operation.

Park manager Burrell Cramer said the popular mountain-top facility is being kept open from dawn until 10 p.m., the same hours that are observed by other parks in the Texas system. For the past few years, the local park was shut down at dusk due to vandalism, drag racing and other after-dark mischief.

Cramer said that highway patrolman Jimmy Parks is making rounds through the state park after dark, and Cramer urged the public's cooperation in helping keep the park on the new dawn-to-10 p.m. schedule. He reminded visitors that state rules prohibit alcoholic beverages in the park and also pointed out that trash barrels are liberally located throughout the park.

Attend Funeral

STANTON (SC) — C. S. Bevers Jr., Martin County superintendent for the Texas Highway Department, Mrs. Bevers, and two daughters, Charlene, attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. C. S. Bevers Sr., 66, in Lubbock at 10 a.m. today. Mrs. Bevers had undergone surgery in a Dallas hospital, but died Sunday morning. She is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters.
