Hold Elections 'As Is', Rules Court

Florida Police Jail Mother Of Governor

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Police quickly broke up another march of Negro school children today and the civil rights fight that sent the mother of the Massachusetts governor to jail raged on in this ancient city.

About 60 Negro pupils, some in their early teens, were stopped by city and county police with trained dogs shortly after they had moved out of the Negro district.

About 40 were loaded into a truck and hauled off to jails already crowded with Negroes and whites arrested earlier after demonstrations which began over the Easter weekend.

HOLD DOGS

The 20 others, guarded by policemen holding the dogs, danced and clapped in the street and sang. Some of the more boisterous were loaded into a car and taken away while policemen smiled and waved goodby to them.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, the 72-year-old mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, declined breakfast today after spending "a good night" in jail for her efforts on the Negroes behalf.

"Everybody has been fine," said the tall, white-haired wife of a retired Episcopal bishop. "I had a good night."

REFUSE FOOD

Racial demonstrators often refuse to eat in jail and Mrs. Peabody, one of more than 100 persons arrested Tuesday in the city of ancient racial barriers, joined the others in turning down a breakfast of sausage, grits, coffee and bread.

Police began leading white and Negro demonstrators out of the stockade, across the street from the jail, today and escorting them to the County Court for arraignment.

Among the first 16 to go were the Rev. William England, 32, Boston University chaplain, and the Rev. Donald Clark, 31, director of the Rolling Ridge Methodist Conference at North Andover, Mass.

JOHN SINGING

Herded along with night sticks and police dogs, the 16- and eight white and eight Negro could hear those inside the jail singing and joined in with them.

Mrs. Peabody indicated that she planned to go to court today and obtain her release on bond, but she didn't know when that would be.

She was charged with trespassing and violating a state law on undesirable guests when she and several Negro women companions declined to leave a segregated motel dining room. Her bond was set at $300.

She was arrested Tuesday while sitting with five St. Augustine Negro women and Mrs. Donald Campbell of Cambridge, Mass., wife of an Episcopal bishop, and J. Lawrence Burkholder, a Harvard theology professor.

Rights Forces Push Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate backers of the civil rights bill argue today that its voting rights section is a modest step toward winning the ballot for more Negroes in the South.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., gave this description of the section in a prepared speech, explaining that he personally "would prefer a more direct and positive approach to the problem."

"I would prefer, in fact, that postmasters or other local federal officials be made registrars whenever it is found that state or local election machinery is supporting voting discrimination."

But he conceded that "at the moment, it appears that a majority of the Congress is not prepared to take this step."

Hart was to be joined by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., in a bipartisan presentation of the voting rights section. Title I of the House-passed bill.

Tuesday, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., delivered the only major speech on the bill, centering his attack on the voting rights section. He held the floor 6 hours and 25 minutes, longest stint in the 18 days of debate so far.

FOREIGN POLICY

LBJ Gives Foe Icy Shoulder

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has cut off direct communications with Republican congressional leaders in possible miffed reaction to their criticisms of his foreign policy course.

Not since he asked them to the White House Jan. 29 to participate with Democratic colleagues in a discussion of the Panama crisis has the President talked to either Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois or House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

This provides sharp contrast with Johnson's demonstrated desire in the first critical weeks of his presidency to court Republican support for his actions.

In that period, the President often called Dirksen on the phone a half dozen times a day, summoned him to the White House frequently and talked over with him many of the legislative and other problems that were arising.

When an anonymous White House source criticized Halleck in December for blocking speedy House action on the foreign aid bill, Johnson had Halleck in for lunch. He apologized for the attack.

Now, however, the phones have gone silent and the White House invitations, informal and otherwise, have ceased.

Dirksen and Halleck are inclined to attribute the two months' hiatus in communications to the fact that it is a presidential election year. Their attitude is that they can get along very well without being consulted by a Democratic chief executive.

TRY FOR GAINS

Highly placed Democrats are convinced that developments at and since the Jan. 29 meeting have convinced Johnson that the Republicans intend to try to make political capital out of his troubles in Panama and elsewhere.

The meeting was described by participants as disappointing, so far as it concerned development of any unity of opinion on the Panama situation.

Subsequently, Dirksen and Halleck have been hammering away in GOP leadership statements at Johnson's handling of Panama and other international matters.

This was the sort of political barrage the late President John F. Kennedy used to take in stride.

Kennedy established a pattern of ringing up Dirksen a couple of times a week and inviting him to come by for a late afternoon drink. In these sessions, the President tried out some of his ideas on Dirksen.

"Once in a while I would tell him, 'Mr. President if you do that, I'll get up on the Senate floor and denounce you from stem to stern,'" Dirksen said. "He would just die laughing."

Won't Allow Wall, Says Ike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he never would have allowed the Communists to build the Berlin wall.

Eisenhower also told the first Republican party-to-people forum Tuesday:

"Any Russians who flew over United States or Allied territory and refused orders to land should 'pay the penalty'—presumably meaning they should be shot down."

—There never was a missile gap, as the Democrats had charged.

—The United States has considerably less prestige than when he left office.

—The United States is in trouble with its alliances, especially because we offend friends like French President Charles de Gaulle when we don't consult them.

Eisenhower headed a panel of top Republicans who are trying to find an American consensus on what is needed "for the peace and security of the United States." The consensus is to be put in the Republican platform.

TINY QUAKE ROCKS EAST

LANCONIA, N. H. (AP) — New England had a little earthquake today, apparently centered in the Lake Winnepesaukee area.

Residents in the sector awakened to sounds variously described as an airplane's sonic boom, a dynamite explosion, or a long rumble like thunder.

There were no reports of damage.

Records of the quake showed up on the seismograph of the Boston College seismograph station at Weston, Mass.

"A very small earthquake occurred this morning at approximately 6:32 a. m., EST," said the Rev. John F. Devane, S. J., chairman of the Department of Geophysics at Boston College.

Redistrict Order Set Back To '65

HOUSTON (AP) — The three-judge federal court ruled today that Texas can hold its 1964 congressional elections under procedures already under way.

The court postponed the effective date of an Oct. 19 order to Jan. 11, 1965.

The October order had held the current Texas statute on congressional districting unconstitutional. It ordered Texas to redistrict immediately or elect all of its congressmen on an at-large basis.

Despite postponing the effective date of its ruling until Jan. 11, the court said today it will keep the case on its docket and take further action unless Texas adopts a valid statute by Aug. 1, 1965.

The court's order said that unless the statute it held unconstitutional is replaced by valid legislation future congressional elections will have to be held on an at-large basis.

The court delayed the effective date of today's order until 11 a. m. on April 7. Associate Justice John Brown of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said this would give all parties sufficient time for appeal.

Brown said time does not permit written opinions by each of the three judges. But immediately after reading the order the three judges began dictating to the court reporter their reasons for signing the order.

The court's October ruling said the Texas statute on congressional redistricting is unconstitutional. The court in a 2-1 decision said no more elections could be held under the statute. It suggested immediate redistricting by the legislature or the election of all 23 congressmen on an at-large basis.

That order was upheld March 2 by the Supreme Court but stayed its execution until today to permit Texas officials time to seek relief in that Feb. 3 was the deadline for filing for the 1964 primaries.

The judges finished hearing arguments Tuesday on a motion by the state which asked the redistricting be delayed. The hearing began Friday and was originally expected by the judges to last but one day.

The court spent all day yesterday listening to arguments of seven attorneys on why or why not the state should be granted its motion for delay.

State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr ended final arguments asking the judges not to disrupt the 1964 election procedures already under way in the state.

President Goulart Flees Growing Brazil Revolt

Brazilian army troops arrayed against rebellion in Latin nation

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — President Joao Goulart fled Rio de Janeiro today in the face of a growing revolt and Acting War Minister Gen. Morais Ancora left to negotiate with rebel Gen. Amaury Kruei, an Army announcement said.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Embattled President Joao Goulart's government said it had dispatched troops to rebel points north and southwest of Rio de Janeiro today in an effort to smash a spreading revolt against his left-leaning regime.

As Goulart sought to rally forces loyal to him, Gen. Humberto Castello Branco, chief of the army general staff, and two other high commanders declared they had swung to the rebel cause.

Justice Minister Abelardo Jurema announced that units of the still-loyal 3rd Army had been sent from Rio Grande do Sul to attack the rebellious 2nd Army's base in the industrial center of Sao Paulo, 220 miles southwest of Rio.

Goulart also ordered troops to move against Juiz de Fora, in Minas Gerais State 80 miles north of Rio where the revolt erupted Tuesday, and against Belo Horizonte, the capital of Minas Gerais. A rebel radio proclaimed Juiz de Fora the "revolutionary capital."

CONVERGING

Rebel broadcasts said the vanguard of the 2nd Army commanded by Gen. Amaury Kruei and a force of 30,000 led by Gen. Olimpio Mourao, commander of the 4th Military Region at Belo Horizonte, were converging on Rio de Janeiro to try to depose Goulart.

A proclamation announcing their switch to the rebel cause was signed by the chief of staff and Gen. Arthur da Costa y Silva and Decio Palmeiro Escobar.

It charged that Goulart had "placed himself in open illegality through successive attempts against the just practice of the democratic regime."

DESERTED

Downtown Rio was virtually deserted this morning as a general strike, called by the Communist-dominated general confederation of workers in support of Goulart, paralyzed transport.

Government trains operating out of Rio were stopped and interstate buses were halted.

The chief of the Commercial Aviators Union went on the government network to urge pilots, navigators and other commercial aviation employees to stay off the job today.

International wireless companies continued operating. The Merchant Marine Union, dock workers and other maritime workers joined the strike in Rio. A spokesman for the union said all merchant ships had been placed at Goulart's disposal.

OPERATION

The newspaper Correio de Manha said War Minister Jair Dantas de Ribeiro, convalescing from a kidney operation, suffered a hemorrhage during the night and was in serious condition. Earlier he had issued a bedside communique saying he was resuming his post in support of Goulart.

Gov. Adembar de Barros of Sao Paulo State, long-time foe of Goulart, broadcast claims that six states had joined in the revolt and were sending troops against Rio.

Thirty tanks circled the War Ministry in Rio and additional troops reinforced the city's garrison.

Goulart's government announced a three-day nationwide school holiday.

18 Children, Man Injured In Wreck

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Eighteen school children and the driver of a dump truck were treated at hospitals today after a school bus overturned when it collided with the truck.

A spokesman said none appeared to be seriously hurt. The bus was en route to John Marshall High School and Pat Neff Elementary School.

Laos Okays Vietnamese Raids Against Commies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam has reached an understanding with the leader of right-wing forces in Laos that will enable Vietnamese troops to strike inside Laos against Communist Viet Cong bases and supply routes, informed sources reported today.

This development was said to have resulted from a recent meeting in Vientiane, the South Vietnamese hill station, between the rightist Laotian vice premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, and South Viet Nam's strongman premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Khanh reportedly gave his consent to Khanh's proposals only if the raiding parties were limited in size, were in hot pursuit of Communist Vietnamese, and if the targets were designated in advance.

Phoumi also reportedly insisted that he wanted no part of a military alliance with Viet Nam, a move that could bring down the Laotian coalition government.

For that reason, informed sources said, Laotian troops will not participate in any actions with the Vietnamese.

There also is no likelihood that the U.S. government will let American military advisers enter Laos with the Vietnamese raiders.

The South Vietnamese government has long wanted some kind of border agreement with both Laos and neighboring Cambodia to stop Communist infiltration.

Khanh is known to be trying to reach an agreement with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, for a "hot pursuit" agreement under which Khanh's forces could follow Viet Cong guerrillas operating in the Mekong Delta when they cross into Cambodia. Talks collapsed recently after the South Vietnamese attacked a Cambodian border village.

These include the Ho Chi Minh trail, an ill-defined maze of jungle trails which has long been a supply route from North Viet Nam to the Communist guerrillas.

CASUALTY FIGURES STILL IN STATE OF FLUX

Relief Pours In For Stricken Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The terror of earthquake and tidal wave was reflected today in casualty figures and pledges of help for stricken south-central Alaska.

The toll of dead and presumed dead changed almost hourly. The Alaska Emergency Health Office took over coordination of figures but its lists—like those of other state agencies which earlier counted independently—did not include a number of unofficial reports of deaths.

It might be weeks before an accurate total is obtained. The health office tally showed 24 dead and 79 presumed dead.

Labor Mediation Tiff Quaked Out

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A National Labor Relations Board case at Valdez, Alaska, apparently has been closed out by Friday's disastrous earthquake and seismic waves.

Ross McCoy, who had filed unfair labor practice charges against Valdez Dock Co. and North Star Stevedoring Co., was listed among the presumed dead. Thomas P. Graham, NLRB regional director, said there probably was "not much left" of either firm.

plus 55 injured. The known and presumed dead figures were up seven from a state civil defense total Tuesday night.

IN SUBURB

Omitted from the count was a Coast Guard-reported death at its Cape Elias station on Kayak Island. No effort was made to check deaths in the Turnagain suburb of Anchorage, where much of the residential area tumbled into the bay. There was word of at least one death in Turnagain.

Additionally, unofficial reports listed 31 persons missing who did not show on the health office list, including 23 at Chenega, 5 at Port Ashion and 3 at Port Nellie Juan.

In Anchorage, the state's largest city, a bright spring sun warmed crews removing wreckage from the Friday evening quake.

By this morning, most debris had been cleared. Workmen were preparing to remove what items of value they could from condemned buildings and start the mammoth job of reconstruction.

HURRY RELIEF

In Washington, federal agencies charged with meeting the emergencies of natural disaster were under orders from President Johnson to hurry relief.

Supplies were being rushed to the ravaged south central section of the state in a giant airlift by military and commercial planes.

The Air Force, Navy and Military Air Transport Service flew to both Anchorage and Kodiak. Four commercial airlines—

Another Local Man Is 'Safe'

A long-distance telephone call from a "ham" radio operator somewhere in Nebraska surprised Mrs. Donald Ellerbe, 1300 Blackman, at 12:50 a. m. Sunday. The caller informed her that her husband, Airman 2C Donald Ellerbe, who is stationed in Alaska, was safe.

Mrs. Ellerbe, in her excitement, said she failed to get the name of the "ham" radio operator and the Nebraska town.

Airman Ellerbe left Webb AFB, Big Spring, March 8 for Anchorage, Alaska. He cleared Elmendorf AFB last week and is now at a security base at Sperrvohn, about 400 miles west of Anchorage.

Mrs. Ellerbe and her son, who was born Feb. 29, are living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Roger.

Northwest, Alaska, Pacific Northern and Pan American—carried tons of food, hardware and clothing.

Edward A. McDermott, the President's director of emergency planning, was attempting to determine how much federal relief could be made available under existing programs and what new legislation would be required to restore the state stricken by the temblor and sea waves.

The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency announced plans to open an emergency office in Anchorage to speed programs of the Community Facilities Administration, the Federal Housing Administration and the Urban Renewal Administration.

Alaska Gov. William A. Egan said it may be necessary to call a special session of the state legislature next fall to meet problems of reduced tax income and increased state spending resulting from the tragedy.

The state's most famous industry — fishing — was more than 50 per cent destroyed. Some 4,000 Alaskans in the earthquake area were engaged fulltime in the fishing industry last year. Another 12,000 derived some income from it.

Gibbs Has A Broken Ankle

Mrs. F. A. Gibbs, 1402 Birdwell, learned today that Pvt. Richard Gibbs, USA, Anchorage, Alaska, suffered a broken ankle in the earthquake which struck that city Friday.

A letter from her son to her daughter-in-law in Austin told of the building where Gibbs was at the time of the tremor. He is in an Air Force hospital in Anchorage, he wrote, and his condition is good.

Mrs. Gibbs received a "ham" radio message from her son Tuesday but the message said merely that he had been injured but not seriously.

TIDAL WAVES

The awesome power of two 80-foot tidal waves which swept away the entire village of Chenega — with the sole exception of the school — was described by Christine Madson, a school-teacher.

She said 23 of the villagers, including 10 children, were swept away.

"Babies were carried right out of their mothers' arms," the Long Beach, Calif., woman said. "The waters swept in and went back out, carrying away the houses and buildings. Not even debris remained."

Dear Abby

Ready For The Church

DEAR ABBY: Will you please give a couple of poor saps some information? I believe there must be hundreds of people in our shoes. We have been living together since 1941. We do not belong to a church because we do not feel we are worthy of going to church. Yes, we do have children. Abby, we want to get married and live right and, after all these years, we don't know where to turn except to you. Is there a state that doesn't require a three-day waiting period? We couldn't be married too near here as we are very well-known. God bless you, Abby, if you can help us.

SINNERS

DEAR SINNERS: The very fact that you are troubled by the way you have been living proves that you are worthy of going to church. A church is not a museum for saints — it's a hospital for sinners. Go to a clergyman, whether you belong to a church now or not, and let him chart your course. You will be amazed at how easily you can legalize your union quietly, without publicity. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: My parents are very old-fashioned. I am 12 years old and I have a paper route. I earn my own money and think I should be able to do what I want with it. I want a motor scooter but my parents are against it. I could buy one for $90 and I already have most of the money saved, but they won't let me buy one because I am not old enough to get a license yet. Don't you think I should be able to buy one just to ride around the dirt roads? I need someone to stick up for me.

WANTS A MOTOR SCOOTER

DEAR WANTS: It doesn't matter if you can afford a Cadillac. Your parents' permission is more important than the money. Listen to them, son, and you'll never regret it.

DEAR ABBY: When our son got off the chartered bus from Fort Leonard Wood to start his first leave since enlisting in the Army, I smelled spirits on his breath for the first time. While home, he casually remarked, "The new recruits go over to the PX at night, have a few beers and get kicked out of shape."

Is it just big talk, or is this what Uncle Sam offers our 17-year-old sons whom we have given permission to join the service? Had we known this could happen, we would not have signed for him. What is the truth about this situation, Miss Abby?

ONE BOY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I am advised that malt beverages above 3.2 per cent alcohol are NOT sold on the military reservation and that 3.2 beer is NOT sold to anyone under 18½ years of age. In doubtful cases I.D. cards are required. Twenty-one is the minimum legal drinking age in most states, uniform or no uniform. It takes two to violate the system — the seller AND the buyer.

Dawson Asks Work For 87

AUSTIN (AP) — Delegations from Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth asked the Highway Commission Tuesday to approve projects costing $42 million.

The commission took the requests, and those made by groups from Dawson and Rusk counties, under consideration.

The bulk of requests came from Houston, with requests for a six-mile extension of the La Porte Freeway from Interstate 610 into the central business district, to help serve rapid expansion near the National Aeronautics Space Administration Center; and a five-mile extension of Interstate 610 beyond the South Loop east of the city, costing $16 million.

The La Porte Freeway or Texas 225, project would cost $23 million.

Rusk County asked for $16 million in improvements, including 14 miles from Kilgore to the Henderson traffic circle, on U.S. 259; 7 miles from the Rusk-Gregg County line at Elderville south 1.3 miles and from the intersection with U.S. 259 north 5.7 miles; 9 miles from Cherokee County in a northeast direction; 15 miles, from Texas 149 at Tatum to Farm 1716.

Dawson County asked for a $2 million improvement on U.S. 87 from U.S. 180 southeast of Lamesa southeast 17 miles to the Martin County line.

GOP Trio Raps Bill

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla.,

says the civil rights bill is a Democratic attempt "to capture the Northern Negro vote."

The Southern filibuster, he said "is going to bring out a lot of booby traps in the bill which have not been brought out before this."

Belcher said chances of the bill for passage will diminish as debate continues.

Speaking as a lawyer, Belcher called the civil rights bill unconstitutional and said if passed in its present form it would create more problems and more racial strife. Rep. James Battin, R-Mont., agreed, saying the proposal "is not in the best interest of either the white people or the colored."

He called it an infringement of individual rights. Rep. Pat Martin, R-Calif., said the bill totally ignores individual property rights which he said are among America's most precious rights.

The public accommodations bill is the most dangerous part of the bill, Martin said, "because it forces a man to open his doors to anyone... under a court order."

The congressmen are on a tour of the South.

BACK TO THE OLD DRAWING BOARD FOR FINA?

Well, if you're going to be scooped, it might as well be by the classiest store in the country. (We notice they also scooped our ad style, which is highly flattering, even if they did over-do the exclamation points a trifle; but that's just one oil company's opinion.) We were delighted to give our permission.*

However, ask yourself this: can you fill your tires with their stuff? Not on your tin-type. Besides, theirs only smells pink.

No, nice as Neiman-Marcus's Pink Air (Room Freshener, can you stand it?) is, it is no substitute for the real thing. You can't compare a development like that to the pneumatic equivalent of breaking the sound barrier; not when you consider all the gruelling scientific know-how our Pink Air will take before it's ready on May 12, 1966.

However, their stuff has one advantage: they've got it now. So maybe you'd better go ahead and order some from them to tide you over. Also we notice that they are offering a Neiman-Marcus account if you have a Fina one. Go on, don't mind us. Meanwhile, if you're walking, we mean driving... and you need gas or something, please stop in.

Rives Elected President Of Local Radio Club

S. Sgt. Marion T. (Bub) Park's east entrance south of Rives, 3312 Drexel, is the new president of the Big Spring Amateur Radio Club. He was elected Monday night and succeeds Lee Young. The new club president is an aircraft maintenance man and technician with the 331st FIS at Webb AFB.

Rives came to Big Spring four years ago from Anchorage, Alaska. He has 17 years service to his credit in the Air Force. His radio call letters are WSEZG.

The Big Spring Radio Club's transmitter in W5AW. The club has its own quarters — a club house on the south edge of the city.

In the time that Rives has resided here, he has taken an active part in civic and community affairs. He has been vice president of the club for the past year.

Other new officers are Fred Coleman (W5DSC) vice president; Lee Young (W5IKG) treasurer; and Weldon Low (K3POK) replaces L. R. Sims (W5NUP) as secretary.

The club meets every Monday night at the club building across US 87 from Big Spring.

City To Begin Painting Stripes On New Streets

The city today was scheduled to begin putting traffic stripes along the streets recently paved under the Phase IV paving program, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

He said work on the highway divider stripes would begin at 10 o'clock today at FM 700 and Birdwell Lane. The center stripe would be laid on Birdwell Lane from the south property line of FM 700 to the south property line of Twenty-Fifth, and from the south property line of Third to the north property line of Fourth.

Divider marks on Twenty-Fifth would be from the east property line of Birdwell Lane to the east property line of the alley east of Central Drive. Other streets to receive the center stripes will be painted later.

In connection with Third and Fourth on Birdwell, Lillard said plans for a third channelized traffic lane at the location must await approval by the city commission.

Measles Good Enough Excuse

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When Mrs. Sarah S. Isaac was called for federal court jury duty recently she filled out a form saying there was no reason why she couldn't serve. But by the time she got to court there was.

"Since I sent in my questionnaire, I have been exposed to measles," she told the judge. She was excused.

Revisions Set In Gas Statutes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission has announced a number of revisions in its Natural Gas Act regulations, effective May 1.

One change is designed to provide information in annual reports which will enable the commission to make a continuing review of natural gas reserves of interstate pipeline companies and assure continuity of service to customers at the lowest possible price.

Others are designed to speed processing of contested natural gas pipeline certificate cases and provide small distributors a simplified form to use in seeking authority to serve a single customer.

Beer Output Up

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican breweries produced a record 855,535,000 liters of beer in 1963, an increase of 5.5 million liters over the previous year, a report published Tuesday showed. A liter is approximately a quart.

India To Free Kashmir Group Despite Fight

NEW DELHI (AP) — In a major reversal of policy, the Indian government announced today it will free Kashmiri nationalists it imprisoned because of their militant fight to separate the disputed Himalayan state from India.

Among those to be released is Sheikh Mohammed Abdullah, the Moslem "Lion of Kashmir" whom Prime Minister Nehru's government ousted from the premiership of the state 11 years ago and jailed.

Lal Bahadur Shastri, minister without portfolio and Nehru's right-hand man, told Parliament Abdullah and his followers would be released in an effort to "stabilize" the tense political situation in Kashmir. He didn't say how many would be freed.

Shastri's statement came six days before a scheduled meeting of Indian Home Minister G. L. Nanda with the home minister of neighboring Pakistan, which long has charged Abdullah's detention was an example of Hindu India's repression of the Kashmir people, most of whom are Moslems.

Pakistan disputes India's claim to Kashmir.

Filipino Police Pounce On Yanks

MANILA (AP) — Mayor Antonio Villegas sent the police off on a ticketing spree against U.S. Embassy officials today in retaliation for alleged harassment of Philippine diplomats in Washington.

About 100 tickets for traffic violations were reported issued to drivers of American cars bearing diplomatic license plates.

One car was that of Minister Richard Service, the deputy chief of mission.

Luci Baines Candidly Tells White House 'Bad Points'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Baines Johnson, 16-year-old daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, thinks the "bad points" of living in the White House may outnumber the "good points."

"Maybe I just don't appreciate the good points to the extent that I may some day," Luci told reporters at an informal news conference following the White House musicale at which she and her 20-year-old sister Lynda Bird presided Tuesday.

"I don't really realize I am a President's daughter and that I represent American youth," she said. "If I did, I would go out of my mind trying to represent the best of American youth."

She said it's best to "be yourself" even "if you sometimes make mistakes as I may be doing right now talking to you."

Registration Up

MEXICO CITY (AP) — About 75 per cent of Mexico's 14.5 million eligible voters have registered for the July 5 general election, the National Electors Registry said Tuesday.

It said the number probably would increase substantially before registration closes in two weeks.

LUCI BAINES JOHNSON ... 'can't be goody-goody'

Luci said she doesn't always like what she reads about herself in newspapers — especially reports that her great love for dogs is reflected in the stuffed animals she has in her room.

"That just isn't me," she said. "I like dogs but just the same as everyone else likes dogs." She said also that sometimes when she thinks she is talking privately she finds her remarks in the papers.

Another bad point, Luci said, is that "I am not politically oriented as my father, mother and sister are."

As the President's daughter, Luci said she wants to present "a good image to the public" but she doesn't want it to be "so sweet and goody-goody, it isn't me."

Asked about her scholastic and career interests, she said: "I am basically interested in science. I'd like to be a laboratory technician, but you know there are the haves and the have-nots. I'm among the have-nots scholastically."

She said her grades are good in science but not in math. But when a reporter suggested she get a tutor in math, she replied: "Oh, I'm not that bad."

Gruenther Quits Red Cross Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, 65, retired as president of the American Red Cross Tuesday—a job he had held for seven years and three months.

At a farewell ceremony in the lobby of the Red Cross building he told his staff goody and was presented a certificate citing his "distinguished service."

E. Roland Harriman, national chairman, also presented a certificate to Mrs. Gruenther.

Film Shown Rotarians

A film, "Reach for Tomorrow," was shown Rotarians Tuesday by James Thompson, Howard County Rehabilitation Center. It was produced through the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The film showed the various methods of treating children and adults, who were victims of cerebral palsy, infantile paralysis, and other crippling afflictions, and how they were prepared for active service in various fields in business and professional endeavors, through education, information and research.

President E. P. Driver asked all Big Spring Rotarians to attend the district conference at Sweetwater next Thursday night, Friday and Saturday. The conference will be invited to meet in Big Spring in 1965, and invitations have gone out to all clubs in the district.

"We need your help, through your attendance at the conference, to bring the meeting here next year," Driver said.

Strike Averted

MEXICO CITY (AP) — An agreement reached Tuesday averted a threatened strike at midnight by pilots of Compania Mexicana de Aviacion.

Boundary, Water Chief Succumbs

EL PASO (AP) — Col. Leland H. Hewitt, 69, who retired in 1962 after eight years as U.S. member of the International Boundary and Water Commission, died Tuesday night.

Prior to his appointment as a commissioner by President Eisenhower, Hewitt had been an Army Engineer. He was a 1918 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy.

Four Die In Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Four children of one family died in a four-alarm fire Tuesday that swept nine frame tenement houses in Brooklyn.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscle aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upset or day to day stress and strain. And folks who get out and drink DeWitt's powerful relief pills...with that relief, uncomfortable feelings...

The bidding:

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
Declarer's blind spot in today's hand induced him to stub his toe when he was on the very brink of triumph.

North's two club response is, of course, the artificial method employed to probe for a major suit fit after an opening bid of one no trump. South is expected to show a four card major if he has one, and to bid two diamonds if he does not. Observe that North is not in position to bid spades directly himself, for a response of two spades is reserved for a hand containing less than eight high card points; whereas a jump to three spades promises a minimum of 10 points.

West opened the queen of diamonds and, when the dummy appeared, South experienced a slight regret at not being in three no trump. With eight top winners, he need score but one trick in clubs to increase the total to nine.

Declarer decided his best chance was to strip the hand and compel his opponents to do some of his work for him. He proceeded to win the diamond lead in the dummy and then drew the trumps in three rounds. A diamond was led to the ace and a diamond ruff completed the preliminary operations.

A club was led from the dummy and the jack was inserted from the closed hand, losing to the queen. West was reluctant to open up the heart suit, so he exited with a club. East played the ace and another club and South was back in.

Declarer led a small heart from his hand in the hope that West had the king in which case dummy's queen would stand up for the 10th trick. East turned up with the missing high card, however, and South could not avoid losing another trick.

Had declarer cashed the ace first, and then led the small heart, East would have had the dubious choice of returning either a club or a diamond, enabling South to discard his remaining heart as he ruffed in the other hand.

Pace Quickens In Statewide Races

By The Associated Press
The pace appears to be perking up a bit in the Texas campaigns for governor and congressman-at-large. Candidates

Retiring State Senator Feted

QUANAH (AP) — State Sen. George Moffett, retiring at the age of 69 after long service, heard Gov. John Connally applaud him Tuesday night as one of the chief framers of Texas farm legislation.

About 1,200 persons attended a dinner honoring the Chillicothe lawmaker, who was credited by Connally for spending more years in the House and Senate than any other man.

Moffett received the Progressive Farmer Award sponsored by the agriculture magazine. It was presented by V. E. Hafner, a former Chillicothe classmate.

In addition, it was announced that Moffett is winner of the Farmer of the Year award to be presented at an October meeting of the Texas County Agents Association.

"I have been governor only one year of his 34 years in the legislature, but our relationship goes back a long time and I will miss him," Connally told the crowd. "His successor will have big shoes to fill."

"He has been our most effective leader in the development of expanded uses through research for cotton and cottonseed products."

"He put his name on the Texas livestock feed law, the Texas branding law, the law to find title flaws in ranchland purchased by Texas stockmen, numerous animal disease control laws and a great volume of research programs in many phases of farming and ranching."

Former Gov. Coke Stevenson was among those at the dinner.

In other races aren't exactly dragging their feet either.

Gov. John Connally stayed busy Tuesday at two functions in Northwest Texas. He helped dedicate a new pants factory at Olney and paid tribute to retiring State Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe at a testimonial dinner in Quanah.

Don Yarborough, who opposes Connally in the Democratic primary, went handshaking at San Antonio while Republican gubernatorial candidate Jack Crichton sought to drum up support in the Rio Grande Valley.

Two rivals took verbal pot shots at Rep. Joe Pool, Dallas Democrat seeking re-election as an at-large member of Congress.

Dan Sullivan of Andrews, a Democrat, asserted Pool's voting record "marks him as almost as good a Republican as Rep. Bruce Alger and Rep. Ed Foreman," the two Texas Republicans in the House. Sullivan spoke in San Antonio at a meeting of the Bexar County Democratic coalition.

Robert Baker, Houston lawyer in the race with Pool and Sullivan, declared the man winning the post should represent all parts of the state and "not just a few vested interests in Dallas." Baker also cited his 10 years in the legislature as he spoke to backers in Abilene.

Candidates for U. S. senator and other statewide offices put in much of their time conferring with campaign aides or getting acquainted with voters at shopping centers in various cities.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough opened Dallas campaign headquarters today and arranged to set up offices elsewhere this week. Gordon McLendon, his Democratic opponent, moved on from Houston to Beaumont.

Among Republicans who hope to succeed Sen. Yarborough, Jack Cox proceeded from a round of Waco campaigning into Houston while George Bush skipped from Dallas to Pecos. Fort Stockton, Kermit and other points in far West Texas.

Dire Poverty, Wild Promises For Panama

PANAMA (AP)—Five years ago Candido Aizpurua was welcomed as the one millionth child born in Panama. He came to town the other day with his father Pedro, who was unemployed and looking for help. Nothing had come out of the pledges of lavish gifts—among them, 100 acres of government land—that attended the fanfare of 1959. "All he's got after all these promises is a very bad cold," said the 30-year-old father. The story of the plight of the millionth child received scant attention in Panama's newspapers, probably because it was the season for colds—and also the season for promises, for this is election year. Misery isn't news to Panamanians anyhow. Gilberto Arias, a candidate for the vice presidency, says four out of every five Panamanians are living in abject poverty. In a campaign speech, Arias warned of a violent upheaval unless there is a more equitable distribution of the national wealth. FOUR PAPERS Arias' remarks were prominently displayed in the press. His family owns four of the eight daily newspapers in Panama City. But his statement wasn't news to less privileged Panamanians. They've heard the same tune, if not exactly the same lyrics, before, usually at election time. It's difficult to find people who believe their political leaders can change the established order. But Panama's unemployed and underemployed thousands eagerly look forward to elections every four years because the voting means government jobs may be available. "It's like the lottery," said a veteran reporter on the Arias payroll. "One keeps on playing it with the small hope something will come out of it." CHANCES As in the lottery, there'll be plenty of chances for the 400,000-plus eligible voters in the May elections for president, new Chamber of Deputies and municipal councilmen. There are 2,394 candidates for 42 deputy seats. There are 19 parties with little politically to distinguish one from the other. Some Panamanians scornfully refer to them as "employment agencies." This year's voting gets extra attention because of the controversial personality of Dr. Arnulfo Arias, the frontrunner among six candidates for the presidency. He is the younger brother of the man regarded as the greatest statesman in Panama's history, the late ex-President (1932-36) Dr. Harmodio Arias Sr. The younger Arias was ousted from the presidency twice, in 1914 and 1951, but his following borders on fanaticism. "Because he is the man," is the usual explanation. If one insists on a more specific reason, the answer either is the quizzical frown reserved for ignorant tourists or simply: "Because he'll change everything." CONSTITUTION This worries many topdrawer Panamanians. Uncomfortably they recall how Arnulfo tossed out the constitution in 1951 because it seemed to interfere with his governing. He has promised to go after $121 millions he says leading Panamanians owe in back taxes. Nephew Roberto (Tito) Arias, British admiralty lawyer who once led a Castroite invasion of Panama, is directing his uncle's campaign. He has told reporters the present constitution needs overhaul to give the executive more power in fiscal matters. He also advocated extension of the presidential term to one reelection. It's now limited to a single four-year term. A probable result of Arias' strength is the collapse of an antigovernment coalition backing Juan de Arco Galindo's presidential bid. Another Arias nephew, Gilberto, is Galindo's vice-presidential running mate. There have been persistent reports this ticket's top backers are planning to bolt to the government coalition, backing Marco A. Robles for president, in a new strategy to stop Arias. By and large, Arias' popularity displaces the product of an existing political vacuum. Sands Slates Senior Play Plans were nearing completion today for the annual Sands High School senior play. It will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday at the high school auditorium in Ackerly. Mrs. Ansel Harry, teacher of bookkeeping, typing and English, is sponsor of the play. Admission is 50 cents for children and students, and 75 cents for adults. The name of the play is "Take Three Girls," a three-act comedy. Members of the cast, with the characters they are to portray listed in parentheses: Johnny Merrick (Dwight), Velva Bodine (Mae), Linda Fowler (June), Ovell Campbell (April), Bobby Gaskins (Jonah), Sue Bledsoe (Hester), Doris Martin (Tracy), Vicky Menix (Aunt Bernine), Don Boyd (Clinton), Glynda Fleming (Madam Zola) and Wanda Gaskins (Wanda). Carl Barnfield Has Heart Attack Carl Barnfield, 712 Lorilla, who had a heart attack while on the way to Houston March 15, is reported to be much improved. He is in Room 102, Huntsville Texas Memorial Hospital. His family said his physician advises that he will remain hospitalized about two weeks. He was on vacation from his position with the Texas Highway Department when he suffered the attack. He had started to visit relatives.

Giant Hatred Wave Hits India, Pakistan

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—A great wave of hatred and fear is sweeping a section of the Indian subcontinent.

Entire families, some clutching only a few bundles, a brass pot or a prized rooster, are on the move across the dusty Assam Plain of India and the rice paddies and jute fields of East Pakistan.

Hindus and some Christians are leaving Moslem Pakistan for India in a tragic replay of decades-old religious, economic and social strife.

The Moslems are moving the other way, from Hindu areas of India to Pakistan.

Each fleeing family, each refugee train, carries with it a powder keg of pent-up emotion that could touch off rioting like that which followed such migrations in the past.

BLOOD

Blood already has been spilled.

No one can say with accuracy

how many persons are on the move or what the death toll has been in sporadic clashes that have broken out when frightened, fleeing Hindus met frightened fleeing Moslems.

The Pakistan government said earlier this month that more than 122,000 Moslems had registered as refugees from India—but the borders are unmarked in places and unguarded in others.

Many thousands just walk across.

Indian officials say as many as 10,000 line up daily in Dacca to apply for permission to enter India. There has been no real attempt by either Pakistan or India to publish reliable casualty figures and estimates of the toll of last month's big riots range from hundreds to thousands. In some areas, bodies are simply tossed in rivers and not counted.

TO LEAVE

Here in Dacca, where thousands of frightened Hindus await permission to leave, there is an air of impending crisis, of mob violence only narrowly kept in check.

The whack-whack of police sticks hitting ragged backs sounded in the center of town Tuesday as constables fought to maintain control of an estimated 5,000 Hindus standing impatiently under the sun in front of the visa office.

There is an ever-present danger of an escalation into serious conflict between India and Pakistan.

The two nations, already bitter enemies, almost daily charge each other with practicing, or at least condoning, religious persecution and shoving unwanted minorities across the border.

HOLY WAR

Calls for a jihad or holy war against infidels are being shouted in sections of Pakistan. Both countries have moved troops to border areas.

Webb Building Dedicated To General's Memory

The name of Brig. Gen. Howard J. Withycombe was linked permanently to Webb AFB with dedication Tuesday of the academic building to his memory.

Mrs. Withycombe unveiled an oil portrait of her late husband after Lt. Gen. William S. Stone, deputy chief of staff for personnel headquarters USAF, had eulogized him.

Gen. Withycombe, who was Webb AFB commander, died in a traffic mishap here Jan. 5. Student officers had initiated the event by commissioning the painting.

Scores of Big Spring residents joined with a large number of former military associates of Gen. Withycombe and with Webb personnel in the memorial ceremony which formally made the building Withycombe Hall.

knowledge to others.

"This building," he declared, "will be a standing testimonial to all present and future students of Webb AFB."

Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander at Webb, presented Gen. Stone and asked Mrs. Withycombe to unveil the painting. With her two sons, Jim and Keith, flanking her, she hesitated a moment, then parted the curtains to reveal the likeness of the departed commander. Immediately it was removed by an honor guard of students to the foyer of the building where henceforth it will hang.

FLYOVERS

As the crowd emerged from the auditorium and building to the accompaniment of the Air Force march by the band from Amarillo AFB, two flights of jet T-37s and F-104s streaked over in salute, followed by a third flight of T-38s with one plane missing from the formation.

At the Officers Open Mess, Col. Taute, Mrs. Withycombe, Jim, a student at TCU, and Keith, a second-year man at Air Force Academy, together with Gen. Stone received the large number of friends who had come to pay tribute to the memory of Gen. Withycombe.

Gen. Stone's memorial was a simple tribute to the qualities which made Gen. Withycombe "the epitome of a fine officer and a true gentleman in every sense of the word." He recalled that his experience with Howard Withycombe had shown that he did his best in such a way as to challenge others, that he was deeply concerned with training, that he was considerate but frank, smiling but firm, and that he instinctively went beyond the call of duty. Chaplain Benjamin F. Meacham offered prayers at the dedication.

De-Salt Water Seen By 1975

WASHINGTON (AP)—By 1975, large combined nuclear power-desalination plants could be pumping out low-cost water along the U.S. coast, a government task force said today.

Oceanographer Roger Revelle told a news conference that waste heat from the plants could be used to make unpleasantly cold ocean water comfortable for swimming.

Revelle was chairman of the task group, established by the President's Office of Science and Technology to evaluate proposals from the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratory that very large nuclear-electric power plants might be combined with water desalting plants to convert fresh water from sea water at relatively low cost.

Revelle said the technology now exists to produce fresh water from sea water in such huge plants at an estimated cost of 20 to 25 cents per 1,000 gallons. The cost of sea water conversion now is $1 to $1.50 per thousand gallons.

Among those here for the ceremonies were Brig. Gen. Robert F. McDermott, dean of the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.; Brig. Gen. D. Van Sickle, deputy chief of staff of Flying Training, Air Training Command; Col. William C. Lindley, wing commander at Williams AFB, Ariz.

Other former associates from out of town were Col. Louis T. Seith, Col. John E. Horne, Col. Hugo Zimmerman, Col. E. J. Stealy, Col. C. W. Sampson, Col. Richard Hane, Col. O. M. Scott, Col. Victor J. Ferrari, Lt. Col. J. T. Hargrove, Capt. E. Rex Shain, S. Sgt. Jim Nicely, Robert James, Mrs. K. Freyachlag.

Parent Pledges Attendance

Analo Granadas, 46, of 1106 W. 4th, charged with failure to require a minor to attend school, told Wayne Burns, county attorney, this morning that he would make immediate amends.

He said his 11-year-old son, Mariano, who is the minor cited in the charge, will be in school tomorrow and that he will keep him in school, Burns said.

In the meantime, the charge is still on file. It is based on a complaint signed by Bob Darland, juvenile officer, who has been working with school authorities on the case.

Burns said that the law provides that a parent who does not comply with the state compulsory school attendance law can be fined $5 for the first day the child misses school, $10 for the second day, and $25 for each additional day.

Crab Industry Damaged Little

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Gov. William A. Egan said today that Port Wakefield—center of one of the world's largest crab packing industries—came through Alaska's earthquake and seismic waves with little or no damage.

Port Wakefield is on the north side of an island between Afognak and Kodiak islands, in the heart of the earthquake zone. The king crab catch provided more than $5 million in wages and commissions in Alaska in 1962.

Car Tag Business Holds Good As Deadline Nears

Business was good but not frantic in the two auto tag offices of the Howard County courthouse today—the last day motorists can acquire 1964 plates for cars and trucks.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that the substations are doing a land office business however. She said that more than 300 sets of plates have been issued by the Newsom Food Store alone in the past three days.

The deadline for car plates is midnight tonight. Mrs. LeFevre said that the car tag office on the southwest corner of the courthouse will be open until 9 p.m. today as a service to motorists who have to obtain transfers of titles.

The substations will continue to dispense tags until regular closing hours. These stations are at the Newsom Food Store, the four Lewis variety stores, and at the Eason Garage on West Fourth Street.

The law specifies that a car without current tags must not be operated on any state road or highway after midnight April 1. Owners who have not obtained plates by deadline time must leave their vehicle parked where it is. Such owners can go to the tax office Thursday, make an affidavit they have not operated their car, and thereby buy a license.

Under such conditions, the license may be obtained tomorrow without penalty. If the motorist drives the car after midnight, however, the license plates will cost him 20 per cent penalty. This a set of car plates which would cost $20 today will cost $25 Thursday for the owner who drives his car after midnight.

Failure to have current plates on a car after midnight also makes the owner of the car liable for arrest by highway patrolmen, police and peace officers in general if the car is sighted on a public road or street.

Combined business at the two car tag offices and the substations Tuesday hit a high for this rush period of $59,460.65. This was the biggest day's business of March, Mrs. LeFevre said.

Kathy Lost To State Champ

Kathy Seddon, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Al Seddon, Big Spring, may actually be second place winner in Texas in the annual American Legion-sponsored Americanism speech contests. The boy who won over her at the San Angelo contest was Gary Prior, 16, a junior at Tivy High School, Kerrville.

"He was one of the best I have ever heard," Roscoe Cone, local director of the American Legion contest, said. "We have high hopes of his going to the national meet."

"He will compete in Houston Monday with winners from Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, and the winner of that contest will go to the national competition in Washington in June," Cone said. "Young Prior is classed as one of the outstanding orators to have won the Fourth Division title in many years."

Kathy Seddon is scheduled to make her talk before the 19th District Convention of the American Legion in Seminole April 19.

Randle Takes Second Test

The results of a polygraph (lie detector) test, given Tuesday to William Eugene Randle in Midland, were similar to the results of an earlier test given the accused man in Lubbock, police said this morning.

"We didn't learn anything new," said Detective Jack Jones.

Randle has been charged in the death of Ignacio Martinez, itinerant farm laborer. Police took him to Midland in hopes of gaining additional information. The results of both tests were positive, police said.

Police this morning said the results of polygraph tests cannot be introduced as evidence in court unless attorneys for both sides agree.

Randle was charged with murder shortly after Martinez' body was found in a north side alley a week ago Sunday. He is being held in lieu of $10,000 bond. He was arrested on the night of March 24. Police said the 29-year-old Negro probably would be transferred to county jail sometime today.

Traffic Lanes Are Approved

The traffic commission Tuesday approved a plan for channelized three-lane traffic for both north and south bound traffic on Birdwell Lane between Third and Fourth. The plan will be recommended to the city commission for its consideration at the next regular meeting.

As explained by Ernest Lillard, director of public works, a third channelized lane would enable south bound motorists to turn left onto Fourth and north bound motorists to turn left onto Third.

Commissioners also suggested sand bags be placed at the Birdwell Lane—Twenty-Fifth Street intersection to delineate a traffic lane for motorists, who desire to turn left onto Twenty-Fifth.

Lillard told the commission that in his opinion the state would not approve a traffic light at Third and Birdwell Lane until through traffic on Third can be re-routed along the IS 20 bypass.

No other official action was taken, although the commission discussed control devices at East Fifth and Franklin, Calvin and Alameda, Tulane and Rodgers, and First and Gould.

Commissioners agreed to set up a policy of criteria governing the designation of controlled intersections, before taking action on traffic controls at intersections.

Less Share Of Funds For Most Area Counties

Most counties in this area will have slightly less shares in the state's local fund assignment under the school minimum foundation program.

Allotments, were announced Tuesday by the State Board of Education, and—in some quarters where sharp increases were noted, protests were voiced.

One fifth of the estimated $55,000,000 cost of educating the 2.5 million Texas school children is assigned to the various counties and then to the districts.

This is done on the basis of an economic index which determines a county's income by totaling the value added by manufacturing, value of minerals produced, value of agricultural products, payroll from retail, wholesale and service establishments. State and federal payroll are not included.

The local fund assignment is deducted from the amount which the state calculates is required to furnish the minimum foundation program.

Howard County's new assignment is $537,240, down 8 of one per cent. Glasscock County is $61,050, up 17 per cent; Mitchell County $145,410, up 8 of a per cent; Sterling $32,190, unchanged; Martin $112,110, down 9 of a per cent.

Others in the area are Ector, $971,360, down 35 of a per cent; Midland $750,360, up 4.2 per cent; Nolan $324,120, down 10.2

per cent, Reagan $206,460, down 13.1 per cent; Scurry $844,710, down 6.9 per cent; Tom Green $449,350, up 5 of a per cent. Indications were that less of production contributed to the decline in most of the areas.

JCC Approves Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner has recommended approval of a Santa Fe Railway application to acquire the properties of three of its wholly owned subsidiaries.

It was erroneously reported Tuesday that the ICC had given the transaction final approval. The recommendation, by examiner Elden Miller, won't become effective until the entire commission has acted on it.

The Santa Fe, in an attempt to unify its corporate structure, asked the ICC for authority to acquire the "properties, franchises, rights and powers" of its subsidiaries, the Panhandle & Santa Fe (Panhandle), Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe (Gulf) and the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient (Orient).

The examiner, who treated the intra-firm transaction as a merger, said its consummation "will result in more efficient utilization of facilities, equipment and manpower."

Train service will not be affected, Miller said. His recommended ICC order stipulated that the Santa Fe must take adequate steps to protect workers and their families affected by the consolidation.

Most of the Moslems are fleeing—or being pushed—from the West Bengal and Assam states and the border areas of Tripura in India into northern and eastern areas of East Pakistan.

Hindus, surrounded by Moslem neighbors in East Pakistan, are moving toward West Bengal and the city of Calcutta.

Some Catholic tribesmen from the Halaugat area of East Pakistan have left for Assam. Indian officials talk in terms of tens of thousands while reports from the Pakistan side of the border put the number closer to 1,000-3,000.

MIGRATIONS

The large-scale migrations started last month when an orgy of killing, looting and rape erupted in parts of both India and Pakistan.

In rural areas outside Dacca are burned out houses and untilled fields of Hindus who fled Moslem neighbors suddenly descended on them in nighttime raids. The owners—those who lived—fled with what they could carry.

The same thing happened to Moslems in parts of India.

STILL VIVID

For those who saw no violence, reports of trouble or just wild rumor are enough to make them pull up stakes. Still vivid are the memories of 1947 when, by some estimates, a million persons died in the Hindu-Moslem rioting that accompanied the partition of British India into the separate nations of Pakistan and India.

Though religious hatred undoubtedly played a major role in the rioting, there is evidence that some mobs ran wild simply in search of loot or in attempts to drive out minorities who were competing for scarce jobs.

In addition, Indian government officials in New Delhi speak privately of "panic" that seized the Indian state government in Assam and say some Assam policemen seemed to see Chinese Communist spies in every Moslem village.

Neither India nor Pakistan is equipped to feed and house thousands of refugees.

Defense Begins Presentation

Defense testimony was being heard by a jury trying a damage suit brought by George McGann against the Fire Insurance Exchange and others today.

The testimony of the plaintiff was closed at 4 p.m. Tuesday and Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, recessed the session until 10 a.m. Wednesday. The case began Monday afternoon.

McGann, former owner of a house at 434 Edwards, seeks $25,200 from the insurance company on policies he claims he had on the property which was destroyed by fire March 24, 1963.

The jurors in the case are: Luciano Lamas, Charles Modsette, Donald G. Mason, R. J. Walker, Thomas F. Kirkpatrick, Claude Ramsey, Sylvia Robertson, Ola Mae Oldham, Lloyd Ballard and P. O. Russell.

Another Voter In City Election

Another early voter cast his ballot at the city secretary's office Wednesday morning, boosting the total number of votes cast absentee to six.

C. R. McClenny, city secretary, reminded residents today that 3 p.m. Friday is the deadline for casting absentee ballots in the April 7 city election. Mail votes from outside the county will be counted if they are received by 10 o'clock Sunday morning, he said.

Only persons who will be out of town on election day and who are qualified voters under the general election laws of the state may cast absentee ballots.

Rehearsals Thursday For Annual Beauty Show

More than 20 candidates for both junior and senior Miss Big Spring gathered at Cosden Country Club Tuesday for a pep party. They received first instructions on their parts in the pageant to be held Saturday night. The first rehearsal will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the city auditorium.

A swim party is scheduled for 7 p.m. today at the Jerry Worthy home, north of Big Spring. The final rehearsal will be held at 7 p.m. Friday.

After the girls became acquainted last night, Jaycee president Jim Wright gave some of the important pointers for the pageant. Mrs. Kathleen Graves then instructed the girls on poise, walking and other appearances, as they come before an audience.

Four more young entries are being introduced today.

Robbie Merle Brown, 16, a junior at Sands High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Rt. 1, Knott, has entered as a Junior Miss Big Spring contestant. Her measurements are 34-22-34. She is five feet, six inches tall, weighs 112 pounds, has blue eyes and light brown hair.

She plans to major in home economics at Texas Tech when she is graduated from high school. In citing some of her activities Miss Brown said: "I am a member of our local 4-H Club and have gone to state competition in Dallas with my clothing projects, where I won the State Wool Award for the most outstanding wool garment, and was chosen as alternate to the national competition in Chicago. I also take part in school activities, and am secretary-treasurer of the Student Council."

Joanna Patterson, 18, Big Spring High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Patterson, 407 Edwards Blvd., will be a senior candidate. She is five feet, seven and a half inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has blue eyes and blonde hair, and her measurements are 35-24-35.

Miss Patterson, who has studied music, speech, voice, dramatics and painting, says she wants to go to Baylor University to major in speech, with a minor in government, and to become a speech instructor.

She has been named a Senior Favorite, is corresponding secretary for the Student Council, nominee for school beauty, nominee for Key Club sweetheart, was entered in Junior Miss Big Spring pageant last year, is a Thespians, and member of the Radio Club and Future Teachers of America. She lists her hobbies as painting, swimming, golf, bowling.

Linda Kay Gibson, 17, a senior in Big Spring High School, is the daughter of W. E. Gibson Jr., 1906 Eleventh Place. She will compete for the Miss Big Spring title as a senior.

Miss Gibson has studied music and voice and lists her talent as singing. She wants to continue her education at Howard County Junior College. She measures 37-25-37, is five feet, six inches tall, weighs 135 pounds, has green eyes and brown hair.

The contestant made "all-state" on the clarinet quartet in ISL competition, is a member of the Church Group, Future Homemakers of America, Science Club, choir, and the Tri-Hi-Y. She lists horseback riding as a hobby.

A contestant for Junior Miss Big Spring title, Lana Susan Baker, 15, is the daughter of Mrs. Denja Baker, Route 1, and is a sophomore in Big Spring High School. She plans to attend Texas Tech upon graduation from high school.

She measures 38-25-38, is five feet, seven and a half inches tall, weighs 135 pounds, has brown eyes and dark brown hair.

Miss Baker has studied modeling, and has been a member

Reynosa Market Place

The Reynosa, Mex., market place has its charms and the charms are aimed at the tourists from north of the border. The stalls are filled with jewelry, paintings and leather goods tourists look for in Mexico. Shopping and looking over the goods in the market are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pitzer of Lutsen, Minn. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Charms Of Reynosa Have Twin Standards

REYNOSA, Mexico (AP)—The Reynosa market place has its charms and the charms are aimed straight at the tourist from north of the border—but only at one entrance. The market is nestled in the heart of this city just 10 miles south of McAllen. The main entrance is designed with the tourist in mind. The stalls are filled with jewelry and tooled leather goods tourists look for in Mexico. MEXICAN WIFE The other three entrances are aimed for the Mexican housewife going about the business of filling the needs of her family. Some persons from north of the border would find the more prosaic portions of the market somewhat disagreeable—the open meat markets, for instance. But the hubbub of bargaining between the merchants and purchasers is fascinating. Sometimes the purchasers of the two nations meet elbow to elbow, as, for instance, at the pottery stalls. These draw a large portion of their income from tourists hunting mugs, bean pots and vases. The Mexican housewife, however, is the mainstay of the stall's economy. DOUBLE SET In the tourist section, most shop owners have a double set of prices. One set leaves room for little profit. This is for the Mexican. The other price is the one marked on the goods. It is for the tourist and is jacked up a bit, but a little bargaining can pull it down. Ezequiel Hurtado, sub-secretary of the Market Proprietors' Association, said he marks almost all his goods with an extra 10 per cent which he will take off in order to make a sale. "The best way to bargain, though," Hurtado said, "is to buy several things and then ask for a flat 10 per cent off the total." BARGAINING A spot check showed that most proprietors are willing to bargain. A hand-tooled lady's purse of good leather marked at $15.50 can be purchased for $13.00 with a little talking. A set of silver cufflinks with a tie bar was marked $3.85 but the price fell quickly to $3.50. Employees of the stalls usually speak and understand English. Their comprehension falls off only when the foreigner starts trying to bring down the price. If one merchant refuses to drop his price, his competitors across or down the aisle may be more receptive to bargaining. HIGH MARKUP The numerous sidewalk salesmen, armed with trays of jewelry, usually have a higher markup on their goods. They will often quote a price 50 per cent higher than the one they will accept. A licensed guide can be helpful in bargaining sessions. The state of Tamaulipas warns that tourists should demand to see a guide's credentials before hiring him. He should be accredited by the national union, which keeps a close watch on its members.

Leslie Wins Cosden Award

James A. Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leslie, 211 Creighton, is the winner of the Cosden Oil & Chemical Company's 1964 award in chemistry according to Raymond L. Tollett, president of Cosden. Leslie, an honor student at Sul Ross State College in Alpine, is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College. He is a member of the American Chemical Society Student Affiliate and Gamma Sigma Epsilon, a national honorary chemical fraternity. The award was established in 1961 to honor the outstanding junior student in chemistry at Sul Ross. Previous winners were David Karvonen, now a student at the University of Illinois, and James Dobie, a graduate fellow at the University of Texas. The 1964 award will be presented at a dinner at the Caravan Motel in Midland April 14.

Pair Slain At Midland

MIDLAND (AP)—An Andrews grocer shot and killed his wife and then took his own life in a car parked at a drive-in restaurant Thursday night. The two were Onis Hilliard, 58, a former Corpus Christi resident, and Mrs. Beatrice Osburn Boyce, 58, who had worked as a dietitian at a Midland hospital. Justice of the Peace D. M. Ellis ruled it was a case of murder and suicide. Ellis said Hilliard shot Mrs. Boyce twice in the right shoulder, sending at least one bullet into her heart, and then put a bullet in his brain. Detective Ray Robbins said Hilliard hid in the back seat of his car until Mrs. Boyce stopped it at the eating place. Robbins said a note in Hilliard's wallet, dated Tuesday, told of troubles between the two.

Slow Down, Press Corps Implores LBJ

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Memo from the White House press corps to the man in the White House: Please ease up on the throttle; it's a tough job trailing a president and an impossible one at 75 miles an hour. Besides, with the traffic casualty figures what they are, we'd all breathe a little easier if you'd confine your hard-driving to your White House desk. Not that anyone can exactly prove Lyndon B. Johnson is a bit heavy footed when he gets behind the wheel of his big, luxury car. But newsmen found over the Easter holiday that when they trailed him at 60 to 65 miles an hour they were only doing exactly that—trailing.

If this weren't cause enough for dismay, a reporter who tried to trail Mrs. Johnson from the LBJ Ranch to the hairdresser one day estimated her driver was zipping along at 75 to 80. In New York, the World-Telegram and the Sun, in a story from Johnson City, quoted an unidentified veteran White House photographer as saying his own speedometer read 90 as he "was keeping up" with Johnson's car after church Sunday. The newspaper also said that on a drive Saturday the President was reported to have covered his speedometer with his broad-brimmed hat when a passenger remarked that the needle was pointing to 85.

The matter was brought up to White House press secretary George Reedy. He said he was unaware of it if the President was hitting the reported 80 or 85. In any event, all this is old hat to the White House press corps. They used to hit 100 at times trying to stay up with President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

MacArthur Keeping Up Stiff Battle For Health

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur continues to inch his way back from the shock of a rare chain of surgical crises. His doctors paid tribute to the "strength and fiber" of their 84-year-old patient, reported his heart beat and other vital signs are steady, but his condition is still critical. The condition of the five-star general of the Army has never risen above critical since his first emergency operation March 23, brought on by severe bleeding in his esophagus. The prime problems now are the decreased functions of his kidneys and a sporadic recurrence of the bleeding. In their last report Tuesday, doctors said "he is holding his own." When the impaired kidney function was first noted more than 24 hours ago, doctors called it a matter of grave concern. The kidneys are important regulators of blood factors, and depots for the removal of waste products which otherwise poison the body. Since then, there has been slight improvement in kidney function. The bleeding is still controlled by a small balloon attached to tubes that extend through the throat and into the stomach. The balloon exerts pressure against the ruptured varicose veins, believed to be the source of bleeding. Doctors have also suspected the possibility of a stress ulcer in the stomach—brought on by the five medical problems of the past month, three of them major surgical operations, and the latter two of those, under emergency conditions. The general continues to receive life-supporting treatment—with solutions of sugar-water, salt water, medications and blood transfusions fed into his veins. The doctors said they have not found any malignant tissues so far in the course of their operations. They also said that the general's advanced age was not a major problem. The general came to Walter Reed Army Medical Center March 2, suffering from severe jaundice. An operation was performed March 6, removing the gall bladder and gall stones, to correct the obstructive flow of bile causing the jaundice.

K Sends Regrets

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has sent a condolence message to President Johnson over the earthquake "in neighboring Alaska," close to Siberia. The message, made public here today, asked Johnson "to accept our profound sympathy and to convey the Soviet people's sincere condolences to the population of the affected state."

Dry Is Too Wet

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Charles W. Dry, 41, Salt Lake City, was fined $150 in City Court Tuesday for drunken driving. The fine was imposed by Judge M. H. Morris after Dry pleaded guilty.

Muslim Boss Denies Unit Link With Police Fracas

DALLAS (AP)—An acknowledged spokesman for the Muslim movement said Tuesday four Negroes jailed after fighting Fort Worth police had no connection with his organization. He is a 240-pound Negro who likes to be called William X or Brother William. Formerly he went by the name of William Edward Adams. Speaking of the quartet jailed in Fort Worth, he said: "According to the Holy Koran, anyone who goes astray from the guidance of the messenger of Allah loses the protection of Allah." William X said the messenger of Allah is Elijah Muhammad in Chicago. As Muslim minister for the Fort Worth-Dallas mosque here, William X said the Fort Worth quartet has "no relationship with the mosque." After a clash with police in Benbrook Lake Park, Maurice Shah, David Miles, John Muhammed Scott and his wife were jailed at Fort Worth. One policeman was struck on the head with a hoe and another was kicked in the stomach. William X scuffled with a pair of the Fort Worth renegades in December. The windshield of his car was smashed. "It was a personal misunderstanding," said William X, denying it involved Muslim affairs. William X, 36, is a salesman for a line of women's lingerie and is a route manager for the Dallas Express. He is the father of four children.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

How to get away from it all including the high cost of travel!

If you're looking for a way to get the whole family there and back on a small vacation budget, this is the station wagon that can do it. You see, a Chevy II is one of the most inexpensive wagons you can own. It goes so many miles between gas stops you'll think we built in a spare tank. Garage stops, too, are far, far apart. And you get 76 cu. ft. of cargo space for less money than you'd expect to pay for most sedans. Big enough to handle fat rowboats and tall fishing poles. Powerful enough to tote fully loaded trailers. And all Chevy II's come with Chevrolet's money-saving, easy-care features. Like Body by Fisher, rust-resisting flush-and-dry rocker panels, battery-saving Delcotron generator and self-adjusting brakes. Besides wagons, of course, there are Chevy II sedans and coupes. The Super Sport Coupe comes with a wide-range of engines, bucket seats, door-to-door carpeting and either an extra-cost floor-mounted Powerglide or 4-speed transmission. So although Chevy II's are economical to buy and own, they certainly don't look it. And now that it's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's, you'll never find a better time to look into Chevy II. Look under its hood. Slam its solid doors. Bounce on its thickly padded foam-cushioned seats. But above all else—try it on the highway. It'll give you a good run for your money.

Rocky, Barry Converge New Attacks On Lodge

By The Associated Press
Campaigning in the West, Republican presidential hopefuls Nelson A. Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater have hit out at Henry Cabot Lodge — the man who beat them in the New Hampshire GOP primary.
Rockefeller told a news conference in Eugene, Ore., Tuesday that Lodge should come home and "explain to the Oregon voters the reasons for the failure of the Democratic administration's program in South Viet Nam." Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the Southeast Asian country, is not a declared candidate for his party's presidential nomination.
The New York governor predicted that Lodge would be unable to repeat his New Hampshire write-in triumph in Oregon's May 15 primary unless he campaigns actively.
Goldwater, in a speech to a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner at San Francisco, said another absentee victory by Lodge in Oregon would be "a very sad commentary on the American political mind."
The Arizona senator said that Lodge was not an acceptable nominee because he ran a lackluster campaign as the Republican vice presidential candidate in 1960.
But Goldwater urged his supporters to back whomever the Republicans choose because "whether I'm the nominee or somebody else is the nominee or somebody else is better than what we have."

Burning Grease Calls Answered

Firemen answered two calls Tuesday that resulted from grease burning on stoves. The loss, in each instance, was limited to smoke damage in the kitchen and burning of material around air vents in the ceiling.
The first call was received at 6:40 p.m. when firemen were summoned to the Raymond Smith residence, 2702 Lynn. At 9 p.m., they were called to the F. M. Browning residence, 600 Drake.

Balloon Recovered

Nixon In Saigon

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Saigon today to discuss the war in Viet Nam and U.S. politics with his 1960 running mate, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Senators Differ On Missile Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators who studied Nike, Bomarc and Atlas missile costs disagree strongly on the profits involved. Five of them say profits ranged up to 178 per cent, two others challenge these figures.
The Senate Investigations subcommittee made its 5-2 split report Tuesday on weeks of hearings which ended May 25, 1962. The probe covered contracts over the years 1950 to 1962.
The majority report, filed with the Senate by Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., figured that some of the contractors who developed and produced the missiles received profits as big as 178 per cent by "pyramiding" practices. Dissenting reports by Sens. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., and Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., challenged these figures. Ervin said the evidence did not sustain them. Curtis said the committee was ignoring established methods of computing profits, and employing "retrogressive" accounting methods which gave a distorted picture.
The majority report voiced sharper criticisms of the Pentagon for failing to hold down the profits than for the companies which got the profits. There was no immediate Pentagon comment on the report.

Tiff Rises Over Who'll Remove Unwanted Phones

ELKHART, Tex. (AP) — A rural telephone rate squabble has become a question of who will remove the equipment of the Texas Telephone & Telegraph Co. from homes and businesses that want them taken out.
The Methodist minister leading a protest over rate boosts, the Rev. Colin Furr of Elkhart, said Tuesday he will assume responsibility for customers of T&T who want to disconnect their own phones if the company refuses to do so.
A company spokesman in Houston said willful destruction of its facilities would result in prosecution under federal and state laws.
The telephone controversy has been going on since Feb. 1, when the company raised rural rates from $4.50 to $6 a month. It serves 13,500 subscribers in 22 East and Central Texas counties.
Spokesmen said the company was forced to raise rates for maintenance and to meet payments on a $10 million Rural Electrification Administration loan.
The Rev. Mr. Furr and members of the Telephone Subscribers Association maintain a 33-1-3 per cent increase is too much and assert they would rather do without phones than pay it.
The minister said 2,600 subscribers have signed termination slips to have their phones removed.
"If the company wants to punish anyone, I will take full responsibility, since I issued the directive as head of the association," he said. "They can sue me or send me to prison if they want."
Francis Winters of Houston, executive vice president of T&T, said the company will not remove any phones until requested to do so individually by customers.
He said 85 per cent of the subscribers are satisfied and the company will stand firm on its rate increase.

Hungry Thief Loots School

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A thief with all the symptoms of a tape worm broke into the kitchen of the Young Elementary School overnight Tuesday.
Police listed the following items missing: 45 pounds of hamburger, 16 dressed chickens, 20 pounds of sugar, 8 pounds of graham crackers, 2 pounds of canned cherries and a pound of potato chips.
Total value: $39.86. Nothing else was taken.

Relative Dies

Funeral for Mrs. H. W. Bryans, sister-in-law of J. C. Bryans, 1401 Johnson, is pending in Wichita Falls, where she died Tuesday night after a lengthy illness. Other survivors include the husband and one son, H. W. Bryans Jr.

"Cataract, the clouding of the lens within the eye, is the greatest single cause of blindness in the country, and frequently afflicts older people", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Treasury's Bills Show Market Signs

NEW YORK (AP)—You may never have owned one but U.S. Treasury bills are rated as today's most important money market instruments.

They often serve as a barometer for what your future borrowing costs will be, and how readily you'll find lendable funds when you want them for your business or consumer needs.

There are about $52 billion worth of these Treasury bills outstanding now, compared with around $17 billion at the end of the war. The yields they bring at the Treasury's weekly auctions often foretell the course of interest rates in general, and of the current supply and demand conditions in the money market.

DIRECTION

The ups and downs of such auctions over a period of time also often reveal in which direction the money managers want interest rates and the supply of credit to go.

Return on Treasury bills has been strong for months. Part of this was because Washington monetary authorities wanted to discourage any outflow of idle dollars to foreign markets where yields are higher. Another reason for keeping rates high could be a desire by the authorities to head off speculative fever in the stock markets or in business and consumer borrowing.

This week the yields have turned down. One week doesn't make a trend. But dealers in government securities say the Federal Reserve System has been buying up bills fairly heavily of late, thus increasing the demand and pushing prices up—and yields down. The reasons for this activity weren't announced.

FIXED SUM

The yields work this way: A Treasury bill is a government obligation to pay the bearer a fixed sum on a specific date within a year of issue. They are sold at a discount through competitive bidding. The return is the difference between the face value of the bill and the amount you pay for it.

This week's auction saw the average discount rate on 91-day bills fall to 3.525 per cent from 3.550 per cent the previous week. On 182-day bills the rate fell to 3.710 per cent from 3.740 per cent. Another Treasury bill, with a one-year maturity, was not auctioned this week.

The drop in rates seems small to the average person. To government security dealers, to commercial banks, corporation treasurers and some individual investors who regularly bid for them, the drop is being watched closely to see if a trend develops and credit policies are changing.

DISCOUNT RATE

Even at 3.525 per cent the discount rate on the bills is above the 3.5 per cent at which the Federal Reserve lends money to member banks—a discount rate often governing charges by bankers and other lenders to the borrowing public.

The advantages of the auction system of handling this form of Treasury debt are listed by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond in this order of economic significance:

In these Treasury auctions money market conditions set the price. The very fact that the bill market—at $52 billion—is so enormous keeps the weekly fluctuations within workable bounds. It is one of the least painful ways for the Treasury to raise the cash it needs. It can add to or subtract from its weekly offerings if its needs rise or decline.

RESERVES

For the Federal Reserve buying or selling these bills is a prime method for increasing or decreasing the reserves of commercial banks—and hence the supply of credit.

For others, the bills offer excellent temporary investment at an attractive rate and little risk of trading loss.

It's the trend in the yields of these bills that the economists watch when guessing which way credit and interest costs may be heading.

Oil Production Rises Slightly

TULSA (AP) — U. S. oil production was up less than one per cent in this year's first quarter over 1963, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Production through March 28 averaged 7,628,000 barrels per day, compared with 7,571,000 last year, an increase of 57,000.

Production last week averaged 7,569,390, down 11,420.

Oklahoma gained 1,059 to 558,850. Arkansas produced 74,000. Colorado 98,000. Louisiana 1,506,530. New Mexico 305,200 and Texas 2,643,400.

A Devotional For The Day

We have this as a sure and steadfast anchor of the soul, a hope that enters into the inner shrine behind the curtain, where Jesus has gone as a forerunner on our behalf. (Hebrews 6:19-20. RSV.)

PRAYER: Eternal God, lover of our souls, we thank Thee that Thy love is eternal and eternal life the gift of Thy love. In the tests of life, may the living Christ abide with us, clearer than our sight and surer than our hopes. In His name. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Fitting Memorial

The dedication of the academics building at Webb AFB as a memorial to the late Brig. Gen. Howard J. Withycombe is a fitting tribute to the former commander of the base. Before his untimely death, Gen. Withycombe displayed a warm appreciation for the vital importance of people who make up the Air Force. He stressed over and over the necessity of sound character and keen minds. Of all the facilities at the base, it seems most appropriate that one dedicated to the excellence of the mind should be the one chosen to memorialize the general.

Helping Hand

Once again the forces of nature have reminded us how fragile are the lives and things of men. Almost in the twinkling of an eye, scores of people lost their lives in the great Alaskan earthquake of last Friday evening, and almost the whole of industry of the 49th state was wiped out.

That the death toll did not run into the multiplied hundreds is a miracle of mercy. When surveying the fantastic material losses, the blessing of minimum injury and loss of life should be borne in mind.

Already the military and Civil Defense agencies have stepped into the breach to provide emergency aid. There is every prospect that additional federal appropriations will be asked and granted to help supply the herculean needs of rehabilitation and restoration.

This will not meet, nor should it, all the needs of the residents of the stricken areas. Agencies such as the American Red Cross will be doing the unsung but humanitarian work of dealing not only with emergency aspects but with the re-establishment of homes. This can be done only as people everywhere respond to appeals with a generosity seldom required of us who were fortunate to have been spared this ordeal.

Holmes Alexander Somebody Loses In The Poverty War

WASHINGTON—"I agree with you that there is a natural aristocracy among men," wrote Jefferson to John Adams when both were in retirement and looking back on life from the wisdom of their years. "The grounds of this are virtue and talents."

IT IS THIS "natural aristocracy"—four-fifths of the nation—which is likely to be the casualty of President Johnson's War on Poverty. This Elite of Accomplishment, in general, fits the description given by Jefferson in agreement with Adams. There are approximately 145 million Americans who practice the virtues of citizenship and exert their talents to the extent of not being "poor." In general, these "aristocratic" families earn substantial incomes, keep decent homes, plan their children's education, provide medical and dental care, and take a responsible interest which prevents their neighborhoods from turning into slums.

THEY ARE the opposite of the one-fifth, the 35 million persons in nine million family groups, whose miseries have been described by the President, by Sargent Shriver, by Labor Secretary Wirtz and by chairman Walter Heller of the Council of Economic Advisors.

The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 (H.R. 10440) is called a "war," but more properly it is a "revolution." Not all revolutions are evil—this country was founded by a good one—but the planning behind Economic Opportunity is suspect on many counts.

AMONG THE extraordinary powers which the House bill called the Poverty Package is one which would give the Opportunity Director the right to disseminate data and information, in such form as he shall deem appropriate to public agencies, private organizations and the general public. "If the director abused no other power than this one, he would still be the mightiest non-elective potentate this country has ever enthroned. By disseminating 'information' about the friends and enemies of Poverty, he could become a domestic Voice of America, a propagandist chief for the administration such as we have never had in war or peace.

Inevitably, the revolution must take the form of transferring funds, privilege and status away from the Jeffersonian "natural aristocracy" in order to bring about the improvement of the poor.

DR. HELLER statistically describes the poor as being a conglomerate of family heads with only grade school education of being second-generation relief rollers, of living on non-subsistence farms, of being non-white. The Poverty Package plans to educate and train these unfortunate, to buy them better farms, to provide the farms with better stock and equipment, to subsidize poor people in business ventures and tend their health. None of this can be done without making it harder for the offspring of the non-poor to get into the crowded colleges, without leveling down the privileges which have resulted from somebody's virtue and talents.

BUT CONGRESS, if it doesn't panic under all these pressures, may yet save the day. What is needed to help the poor is not a "war" that antagonizes or revolutionizes or sets up a potentate which some day may be filled by a lesser man than Sargent Shriver. The nation, I think, would be willing to do for its own people what it has done for so many foreign peoples. By using the best elements of the Marshall Plan as a model, we should be able to aid areas like Appalachia, and large segments of the population like Negroes, but only if they are willing to plan for themselves and work for themselves as the West Europeans did.

THE WHOLESALE, overdramatized, election-year eradication of poverty should make people wonder if some of that "shooting from the hip" ascribed to a certain Republican candidate isn't being practiced by a certain Democratic candidate—and with live bullets.

Should Have Known

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — State Court Judge James V. Riddell Jr. had been in his office in the new courthouse four years when he decided he should have curtains for the office windows.

Checking for a place to install the curtains, he pulled back a narrow drape at a window and found that draw drapes were already in place, installed when the office was furnished.

Military Academy

KADUNA, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria has opened its first military academy in this northern capital to provide academic and military training to army and navy personnel.

Many officers in Nigeria's 9,000-man army have been trained in British and other foreign military academies and Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Bewlewa said "we could not depend indefinitely upon the generosity of friendly countries."

Billy Graham

Sometimes life closes in on me and I feel like running away from it all. The road that passes by my house seems to beckon to new places and new experiences—away from the reality of responsibility. Should a person feel this way?—E. R.

Your desire to escape the burdensome routine of everyday living is not abnormal. It is human to dream and hope for a place in time where burdens will be lighter and skies brighter.

But what you must remember is this: boredom is not something that happens to you—it is something you make yourself, and wherever you go, unless your attitude changes, it will go with you. Christ didn't always say: "Go ye into all the world," sometimes He said: "Go home to thy friends and tell what things the Lord hath done for thee."

Your longings, which you interpret as a desire for new places, and new environment, is in reality a cry for God. People have spent fortunes trying to get away "from it all," only to find that their guilt, their dissatisfaction travels with them. When Cain, the first murderer, sought to escape his guilt, he said: "I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond on the face of the earth." But new scenes and new faces never removed the inherent guilt from his soul.

Christ can be in your present "life situation"—He can be a part of all your day to day affairs. A change of environment will not help you!

'LET'S INTRODUCE AN ELEMENT OF FLEXIBILITY'

James Marlow Still Unanswered Is Viet Nam Thoroughness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has done the best job ever attempted by a government official to explain why the United States is so deeply involved in helping South Viet Nam.

But when you get through reading what he says—it takes up a whole newspaper page—it still boils down to a few simple reasons that have always been obvious.

One thing he can't answer is about the South Viet Nam government itself: How thoroughly and sincerely, through reforms, will it give the people a reason for not being indifferent to a Communist take-over?

McNAMARA, who made several trips to South Viet Nam in President John F. Kennedy's time, recently returned from another one, undertaken for President Johnson.

The purpose has always been the same: To see how the fight against the North Vietnamese Communists was going and what was needed to make it a success. Instead of getting better, the war has been getting worse.

After President Ngo Dinh Diem's assassination in a military coup last November, the junta which took over was in turn thrown out in a second coup which made Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh the strongman. He is still there.

BY THIS TIME, with the South Vietnamese government looking anemic and bewildered and with Communist military successes piling up, a long-asked question in this country became more intense.

Can South Viet Nam really win or survive? If not, why should American military "advisers" continue to give their lives there? And why continue American help, military and economic, which has now reached about $5 billion? This was asked when McNamara made his trip, along with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Upon their return the White House made a statement that Khanh "had a sound central plan" for prosecuting the war and "recognizes to a far greater extent than before the crucial role of economic and social as well as military action."

IT WAS AFTER this that McNamara made his talk which, although made to an industrial association and not to Congress, was the Johnson administration's explanation for its policy in Southeast Asia for the foreseeable future.

It went like this: Red China wants that whole area, which happens to be important to this country's outer defenses. Since, therefore, the South Vietnamese are trying to stay free, the United States, for its sake and theirs, should help. And it will.

COMMUNISM, for the time being at least, has ruled out world war, and local wars which might become worldwide, as too dangerous. But it advocates so-called wars of liberation, like the guerrilla war in Viet Nam.

So this war is a test of Red strategy. In saying all this, McNamara expressed high confidence in Khanh's ability to make the fight.

He said the general is not only building up his military and administrative forces but will put in broad programs of land reform, loans to tenant farmers, health and welfare services, economic development.

SINCE SUCH programs are what give an impoverished and backward people a reason for not accepting communism, McNamara said there can be no military success without them. It took this country a long time to learn something as elementary and fundamental as that.

If the United States under Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy had insisted long ago upon such reforms, as a condition of American help, President Ngo Dinh Diem might have still been alive for there would have been no discontent.

And, the war might now have been in a happier condition. It remains to be seen whether Johnson will be more insistent than his predecessors.

Hal Boyle Packaging Becomes Too Much

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—

Half the packages a person gets today are hardly worth the effort required to unwrap them. This is a civilization which seems to prize the art of packaging over the value of the contents.

People aren't as optimistic about the future. At least one doesn't run into as many readers of the "to be continued" stories in magazines as formerly.

WHEN FAMILY harmony survives the reading of a will, the estate probably wasn't large enough to be worth arguing about anyway.

Red-haired girls have more fun than either blondes or brunettes in this life—but they keep quieter about it than the others.

The shop talk of any trade, craft or profession is interesting with the possible shop talk of businessmen. Too many businessmen want to talk golf, about which they usually are less than expert.

The average wife gives her husband more advice during their second year of marriage than their twenty-second.

IF I HAD a son in college, I'd rather give him a 12-gauge shotgun on his birthday than a six-cylinder automobile. It would be safer.

Nothing looks more wistful or melancholy than an old farmhouse standing all alone in a wet field with cold rain coming down.

If you can't put vanilla ice cream on it, no dessert is really worth having.

It makes little sense to ban bullfighting or bear baiting in this country as long as we allow professional boxing matches.

WE CAN stand for every bureaucrat in the government except the fellow who never quite puts enough glue on postage stamps.

Whatever happened to girls who prided themselves on the taste of their divinity fudge?

Visitors to Manhattan often complain of the hurry and discourtesy here. They should come here on a Saturday in summer when the town has emptied out. Politeness flowers then. It's only the panic that comes from being rushed and crowded that causes most people to forget their natural good manners.

To Your Good Health Surgery Can Improve Hearing In Many Cases

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I read that it is now safe for older people to undergo a new type of surgery for deafness, and that such operations have been proven 90 per cent perfect. Is this possible in healthy people of 75?—H. Z.

Yes, but let's scratch out the reference that such operations have proven 90 per cent perfect. I don't like the word perfect, except as an ideal. We all want to be perfect, but we never achieve perfection. I also don't like generalized statements.

However, I listen carefully when some improvement is reported. Many little gains add up to a lot.

And so it is with treatment of loss of hearing. We have had a great many little gains and they have added up to enormous progress over what was possible 10 or 30 years ago.

There are quite a few causes and types of impaired hearing. If the nerve is functioning, a variety of operations can help. If the nerve is not functioning, nothing can be done.

So have an ear specialist examine you. He will discuss the possibilities in your case. Today such surgery is perfectly reasonable for a man of 75, even though it was not so reliable a couple of decades ago.

In many instances, these various operations result in an almost immediate improvement in hearing.

Careful tests in advance will separate the "possible" from the "impossible." Once that has been done, most of the "possibles" will be benefited. A few won't.

So listen carefully to what your doctor says: Does he say you "feel almost sure" he can help, or that an operation "probably" will help; or "may" help; or has "a chance"? The physician can give you a substantial idea, but he cannot be certain.

"Don't Quit Because Of Arthritis" is the title of my leaflet designed to help all who suffer the aches and pains of arthritis. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Big Decision Coming Up

The board of directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here Thursday in what will likely be the last session before it convenes for one of the most crucial decisions since it first voted to borrow money and let construction projects in 1951.

After several years of discussion, preparatory work, topographical mapping, engineering, and geological studies, the time is rapidly approaching when the board will be presented with a stack of facts and asked what is its will on a second lake on the upper Colorado River.

THE ISSUE MAY not be so much whether to build a dam as where to build it. However, before that decision can be made, the district will have to firm a lot of tentative inquiries into contracts, for when it comes to borrowing around 10 million dollars, some sort of revenue has to be in sight. The foreseeable market for water may have some bearing on location or size of the dam.

THERE ARE MANY other factors which will enter into this decision. For instance, some gypsum has been encountered in the sub-surface area of two prime dam sites. Whether these would pose any danger to the security of the structures or the continued effectiveness of the reservoir is something to be supported by experts and extensive geological studies.

Another angle will be the elevation and the distance of the reservoir in relation to points of greatest demand. The size of pipeline which will be required (probably 48-inches in diameter) will mean at least a million dollars for every 10 miles. The greater the height that the water must be lifted, the greater the cost of pumps and power.

THE TYPE OF dam will have something to do with it. Where there is no suitable natural emergency spillway, safety must be assured by installing costly concrete gates in the center of the dam.

The amount of water which may be caught behind a dam on an average and at capacity is a major consideration. Yet the critical factor is not so much the total volume of water but the estimated yield. For instance, evaporation takes about six feet of water a year in this country. Hence, the narrow, deep lake will yield more water in the long run than the bigger, shallower lake simply because more of the water trapped is held for use.

THE COST OF the site, not only for the dam but for the reservoir basin as well, the relation of roads and of facilities (oil wells, for example) within the basin area also will influence the ultimate decision. Beyond this, some account must be given to the future demands for water which may not be immediately pressing but which must be provided in advance to avoid having to build another dam anytime soon. When millions of dollars are at stake, all the elements have to be weighed with extreme care. Possibly within a couple of months the CRMWD board will come to historic grips with this matter. The future of the area will be riding on the outcome.

—JOE PICKLE

David Lawrence The Administration And Fulbright

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, wisely though belatedly, decided to let it be known on Saturday that the speech last Wednesday by Senator J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, must not be regarded abroad as the viewpoint and policy of the United States.

Although there had been previous intimations from the White House that Mr. Fulbright expressed solely his own views, much of the press of France and Great Britain promptly interpreted the speech as meaning that America "not only might stop bothering about Cuba but eventually would recognize Red China — all this because it is supposed to be the "practical" thing to do in these days of what the Arkansas senator describes as a recognition of "new realities."

FRENCH OFFICIALS immediately called this "Gaulism," especially the senator's suggestions about opening the door to Communist China. But Secretary of State Rusk, at a news conference two days after the Fulbright speech was delivered, negated the idea that the administration policy of economic isolation of Cuba has been a "failure," as charged by the Arkansas senator. The Secretary said that he thought the senator "underestimates the cooperation the free-world countries have given" in this matter. He also stated that there is no intention in the near future to recognize the Peiping government.

SEVERAL DEMOCRATS as well as Republicans in Congress severely criticized the Fulbright speech, but there is no doubt that he reflects a view prevailing among many of the so-called "liberals" in and out of Congress.

Mr. Fulbright has insisted that he is not condemning the use of the boycott against Cuba but is merely arguing that the United States must concede it has failed to make such a policy effective. He recommends that the United States should "come to terms," at last, with the realities of a world in which neither good nor evil is absolute and in which those who move events and make history are those who have understood not how much but how little it is within our power to change.

This point of view has come as a surprise because it is a contradiction of fundamental American principles and beliefs in the power of moral force—in disregard of material expediency—to affect the destinies of mankind. What Mr. Fulbright says, in effect, is that "everybody is doing it, so why not do it, too?"

SEN. FULBRIGHT argues that he is not "against the desirability of an economic boycott against the Castro regime but against its feasibility." He notes merely that the effort has been made and that the United States should admit and concede that the boycott policy has been a "failure." But defenders of the boycott idea assert that it has not as yet been given a chance. There is no clear evidence that the United States government, for instance, has exerted any real pressure on its Western allies, or that it has made an issue with Moscow over the continued help given to Castro or the building-up of a military base there, from which subversive units are being sent into different parts of Latin America. Richard Starnes For Status, Get A Truck

WASHINGTON—Do you sob yourself to sleep at night because you are not a social success?

Because you do not cause swooning fits among the noble females of your acquaintanceship?

Because other kids chuck rocks at your kids?

Because your spouse has let herself go, and now resembles a sack of oats wearing a Beetle wig?

Because you resemble a sack of oats wearing a Beetle wig?

IF YOUR REPLY to any of the foregoing questions is in the affirmative, draw nigh and take comfort. A cure has been discovered. With the flick of a pen (plus a modest cash outlay) all these regrettable shortcomings in your make-up can be reversed.

In spite of your manifest lack of talent for the role, you can instantly become the sort of swaggering, devil-may-care rake that other men envy and ladies cherish. Your kids may not be in the group in your neighborhood. Nay, they will become arbiters of who should be admitted to the in group.

HOW DOES one work this wondrous transfiguration? It's easy, chum. Buy a truck.

Don't laugh. I bought a truck a fortnight ago, and it is an event that has wrought personality changes that normally would have required a bilateral prefrontal lobotomy, whatever that is. I no longer cower behind the drapes when I am at parties. Look for the jolly chap with the lampshade on his head, doing the twist and surrounded by a signing flotilla of toothsome ladies, and it'll be my new, truck-owning self. See a gay, reckless youth whose formerly lackluster eyes now flash with wit and it'll be me.

ACTUALLY, of course, I had no idea that a truck would do all this for me. I bought it because I thought I needed it for a spot of rural rehabilitation I have undertaken. But the effect was magical.

First you will note that you sit up in the air a great deal higher than your drab, sedan-bound colleagues. This, of course, immediately engenders an unshakable aura of superiority. Next you will note that pneumatic young women in expensive convertibles smile and cast their eyes down modestly when you chug up beside them in your lorry.

YOU WILL at once become a hero to every kid in the neighborhood where you park the truck. No matter if you were previously regarded as the most intractable of curmudgeons. With a shiny new pickup truck in the driveway you will be the greatest thing, kidwise, since Dan Beard shuffled off to the great Boy Scout camp in the sky.

Your own children, of course, will at once be catapulted to the top of the pecking order of their peers. A nod from them is a ticket to ride in the cab of the only truck on the street. Already Pokey has become a sort of neighborhood Perle Mesta. If she invites you, you are in, and if she doesn't invite you, you are out.

STATUS SYMBOLISM, forsooth. Ask my neighbor, Chester Flinders, who just guffed away $5,000 for a Meachley Mushroom Cloud, and who now grinds his teeth in helpless rage when he finds his vulgar automobile resolutely ignored by the admiring throng clustered around my pickup truck.

Every man needs a truck, even if he lives in a high-rise apartment and owns no chattel that cannot comfortably be carried in a knitted rite. His ego demands it, his metabolism needs it, and his pride insists on it.

Grand Lodge reports were heard and general business executed when Rebekah lodges met separately Tuesday. JOHN A. KEE LODGE Highlight of the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge was Mrs. Ray S. Doty's report of the Grand Lodge meeting in Austin March 14-18. Mrs. Doty, junior past noble grand, told of the activities, and members examined her scrapbook which received a third place state rating. Additional accounts were given by Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, Mrs. O. G. Burns and Mrs. Jones Lamar. Mrs. Jarrett told of the presentation of state officers, including Jones Lamar, grand messenger to the Grand Assembly, and Mrs. Morgan Martin, lodge deputy. Next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Mrs. L. A. Griffith, state deputy president of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284, will make her official visit. She will present the program of Mrs. Georgia Woods, new president of the Rebekah Assembly. Mrs. Laverne Rogers, vice grand, presided in the absence of Mrs. Carl Wilhite, noble grand. She alerted members to the change in meeting time from 7:30 p.m. to 8 o'clock beginning April 7. Thirty-five attended and gave reports of visits to members who are ill. BIG SPRING LODGE NO. 284 Members of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge, No. 284, brought one hundred dozen cookies to be given to patients at the Big Spring State Hospital when they met Tuesday evening at the IOOF hall. Mrs. Akin Simpson Sr., noble grand, presided, and Mrs. Lonnie Griffith introduced the new deputy, Mrs. Delbert Lee. Her commission was read by Mrs. J. R. Petty. A letter from a former member, Mrs. Mary Delbridge, was presented. The meeting time will be changed to 8 p.m. on Tuesdays, it was announced. Refreshment committee members for April are Mrs. C. D. Herring Sr., Mrs. Claud Gilliland, Mrs. Jerry Hughes and Mrs. Wayne Moore. Twenty-two visits to the sick were reported by the 25 members present.

'ROUND TOWN By LUCILLE PICKLE

No matter which way we go to work or take the youngsters to school we are greeted with the sight of beautiful, colorful spring blossoms. Some of the pretties that make our way more pleasant are the flowering peach trees in the yards of the ADOLPH SWARTZ, the J. H. FISHES and at 822 W. 17th; the redbud trees at the SAM ANDERSONS, and the GAGE LLOYDS; the wisteria tree in the PAUL DARROW yard and the wisteria vines on the fences at Westover and Lancaster and at the director's home on the VA Hospital grounds. This is just along our way. Over the city the same pretty sights are bursting out all over with the graceful willows providing a background for the yards as well as the numerous elms and other early leafing trees. The fruit trees are doing a wonderful job of adding to the beauty of the season. MR. and MRS. J. H. EAST-HAM returned Tuesday night from Houston where they spent the holidays with their son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. DOUG EASTHAM, both of whom are students in the University of Houston. En route home the Easthams visited her mother, MRS. SADIE HOLLEMAN, in Kerens. MR. and MRS. W. W. LAN-SING plan to leave Saturday night for Houston where they will visit MR. and Mrs. CARROLL GLENN and their son, BRYAN, who will be two years of age on Sunday. Family gatherings were held over the Easter holiday. One of the happiest was the dinner on Sunday and the birthday celebration for VERN ALLEN GERSTNER who had become four years of age on Holy Saturday. His parents, MR. and MRS. L. M. GERSTNER who moved here from Denver, Colo., on Feb. 8, were especially happy to entertain members of Mrs. Gerstner's family as they have not been near enough to be on hand for family meals and reunions. Mrs. Gerstner's parents are MR. and MRS. L. D. JENKINS and her grandmother is MRS. J. M. MORGAN. Fourteen were present for the Easter meal and birthday party that was complete with cake, presents and Easter eggs.

Marriage Announced Miss Darla Kaye Parker and Charles Ellis Colwell were married Tuesday evening in a ceremony performed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne H. Parker, 1607 E. 17th. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Colwell, Gainesville. The nuptial rites were read by T. H. Tarbet, minister of the Hwy. 80 Church of Christ.

Methodists Hold Study

Christian perfection was the study lesson presented by Mrs. W. A. Laswell at the Tuesday meeting of the Mary Zinn Circle of the First Methodist Church. She was assisted by Mrs. H. Stephens who talked on what is expected of Methodists. Mrs. H. F. Sefton, 1106 E. 12th, was hostess to 18 members. Mrs. Jackie Bishop gave the devotion with a scripture and poem, and Mrs. Laswell worded the opening prayer. The next meeting will be April 7 in the home of Mrs. Laswell, 111 E. 18th.

Life Study Presented

Mrs. Rex Baggett pointed out the need for renouement of self in presenting the study on spiritual life at the joint meeting of the Fannie Strippling and Fannie Hodges circles of the First Methodist Church Tuesday morning. Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington, was hostess and Mrs. L. B. Maulden presided and worded the opening prayer. Mrs. V. N. Norred, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, announced the spring district meeting will be held in Snyder April 9. Twelve members were served at a refreshment table covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink flowers. Silver appointments were used and Mrs. Maulden served.

Squares Called At Barn Warming

Square dancers in the area were entertained with a barn warming by Mr. and Mrs. Noble Welch, Tuesday evening. The newly constructed red barn on East Highway 80 was visited by approximately 100 guests and Harold Graves served as master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served by the host couple and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams. All visiting callers were invited to take part in the program and music was furnished by recordings.

TEXAS PROGRAM GIVEN By Tall Talkers Group

Texas was the program Speech Contest to be held in theme planned by Mrs. W. R. Brown and presented Tuesday evening at the dinner meeting of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club at Cosden Country Club. Mrs. Robert Bateman served as toastmistress and introduced the speakers. Mrs. Thomas Sebo gave a reading, "The Makers of the Flag," and Mrs. Hila Weathers spoke on San Marcos. "Alaskans, Go Home" was a humorous reading presented by Mrs. Hank McDaniel. Valuator were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Lee Rogers and Mrs. Alan J. Grill. Mrs. James Hudson was inducted as a new member by Mrs. Dick Wilson. Guests were Miss Edith Gay and Mrs. B. W. Tribolet. A report on the Council Wax For Shelves Rub a light coat of wax on shelves to make cleaning easier.

Colts Give Champs Cause For Concern

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

No immediate call for reinforcements is being considered, but cause for concern may be building at Los Angeles Dodgers headquarters over another shelling administered to the Untouchables.

For two straight days, the weak sisters of the National League Mob have fired a fusillade of hits and further shredded the Untouchable label attached to the Dodgers' four key pitchers — Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres and Ron Perranoski.

It was Podres' turn Tuesday as the Houston Colts ricocheted 11 hits around their Cocoa, Fla., base, came up with six runs in five innings and went on to a 6-3 exhibition baseball victory.

The day before, Drysdale had been subjected to a similar attack by the New York Mets, who belted the right-handed ace of the Los Angeles staff for eight hits and four earned runs in six innings.

In all, the Big Four—credited with 74 of the Dodgers' 99 victories en route to the National League pennant last season—has been tagged for 64 hits in 59 innings.

Even Koufax has not been safe. The brilliant left-handed strikeout artist who posted a 25-5 record, pitched 11 shutouts and had a 1.88 earned run average last year has given up 21 hits in 22 innings this spring and has a 3.37 ERA.

The hitting stars for the day were shortstops—Ron Hansen of the Chicago White Sox, Washington's Ed Brinkman and Philadelphia's Bobby Wine.

Hansen, who hit .226 last year, slammed two homers and drove in six runs as the White Sox edged St. Louis 7-6. Brinkman, a 228 batter, stroked two doubles and three singles, in the Senators' 11-5 walloping of Baltimore.

Wine, a .215 hitter, had been hitless in 18 previous trips to the plate when he came up in the 11th inning with the bases loaded and slashed a single that gave the Phillies a 4-3 decision over Cincinnati.

Ron Santo hit a homer and two singles in the Chicago Cubs' 6-2 triumph over Cleveland. Willie Stargell hanged a two-run homer as Pittsburgh belted the New York Mets 8-4 and Milwaukee's Hank Aaron homered for Milwaukee in a 6-3 victory over Detroit.

In other games, San Francisco walloped Boston 9-1. Kansas City edged the New York Yankees 5-4 in 10 innings. Minnesota shut out the Philadelphia B team 6-0 and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League 8-5.

Ex-Champ

Joe Brown (above), former lightweight boxing champion of the world, will fight Manny Gonzales of Odessa in Thursday night's main event in the Ector County Coliseum. The bout, which is being promoted by Earl Gilliam of Houston, is down for 10 rounds. Brown is shown with his championship belt.

Mavs, Runnels Meet Entries

Both Runnels and Gollad Junior High Schools of Big Spring will send their ninth graders with a sprinkling of eighth graders Saturday to the West Texas Junior Relays in Midland.

The meet, considered by local coaches as one of the top of its kind in West Texas, will have some of the top 16-and-under athletes in this area.

The Runnels Yearlings will have three boys that are given a better than average chance by coach Tommy Henry of finishing in the finals. Gary Rogers will be in the 330-yard dash (he's clocked a :37.0 this spring), Frank Salazar will be running the 660-yard run (he's done a 1:35.0), and James Carver will be putting the shot and throwing the discus (in which he's had a 51' and 132' respectively).

For Gollad, Kirby Horton should be the top performer for the Mavericks. He has put the shot put around 90' this spring.

Forsan Working Toward District

FORSAN — The Bronte Longhorns will be the favorite April 11 when the six track teams of District 83-B assemble in Big Spring's Municipal Stadium for the district meet.

The Forsan Buffaloes, with a 13-member squad, aren't expected to cop the team title but they do have some boys that could turn in creditable performances in the finals.

Kenneth Soles will be running the 100-yard dash in which he does around a :10.5. Donnie Gooch has done a .56.2 in the 440-yard dash; David Robertson has run the 100-yard dash in :10.7; Bill Seal has clocked a 2:20.0 in the 880-yard run; and Ray McKinnon has had a 5:20.1 in the mile run.

Soles and Gooch are the only seniors on the squad while there are only two juniors. With such a young squad, head coach Oscar Boeker is looking for better things in the future.

Bronte will be favored because of its fine performances this spring in meets in which Class A schools were competing.

Raiders In Romp For SWC Opener

WACO (AP) — Texas Tech is off and running in the Southwest Conference golf race.

The Red Raiders beat Baylor 4-2 Tuesday to get the championship drive moving with Richard Yates leading the way. Yates was the medalist with a 2-under-par 68. He beat Joe Pat Rickett, Baylor's No. 1 player, 2 and 1.

Texas Tech goes on to Austin to meet Texas today.

Mexicans Take Three Decisions

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three Mexico City fighters won 10-round bouts on the San Antonio boxing card Tuesday night.

Jorge Ceja, 132, outpointed Blackie Zamora, 132, of Corpus Christi, Tex.

Gaby Beltran, 115, stopped Sabino Mendez, 118, of Monterrey, on a technical knockout in the fifth round.

Cordova Rodriguez, 139, knocked out Juan Perales, 138, of Monterrey, in the eighth round.

FIGHT RESULTS

NEW YORK—Jimmy Dupree, 177½, New York defeated Dave Russell, 176, New York, 6-0.

NORTH HOLWOOD, Calif. — Auburn Copeland, 136, North Hollywood, outpointed Sergio Gomez, 135, Mexico, 18.

Kuharich Determined To Change Lineup

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—over the Eagles' coaching job under a four-year contract, unloading another old face Tuesday, trading quarterback Sonny Jurgensen to the Washington Redskins for quarterback Norm Snead.

In addition, the Eagles sent defensive back Jimmy Carr to the Redskins for his counterpart, Claude Crabb.

The four-player deal was the second major move by the Eagles in less than two weeks. On March 20, Kuharich swapped pass-receiver Tommy McDonald to Dallas for two young linemen and a place kicker.

The only reason Kuharich offered for the Jurgensen deal was that he had obtained youth in the 24-year-old Snead.

Jurgensen, a seven-year NFL veteran with one of the finest passing arms in pro football, is 29.

The Carr-Crabb swap also gave the Eagles an age advantage. Carr is 31, Crabb 24. Kuharich said the deal was "best in regard to our plans for the next four years or more... I know that Snead's record over the three years is impressive enough to indicate a very bright future for him."

On the other hand, Washington Coach Bill McPeak said he swapped youth for experience.

"Winning in 1964," said McPeak, "is imperative. Jurgensen, at this stage of his career, is more advanced than Snead, and I think, with the right supporting cast, he can take you all the way."

McPeak said he had not changed his prediction of future greatness for Snead, the Redskins' No. 1 draft choice in 1960.

Snead has been Washington's No. 1 quarterback since coming into the league from Wake Forest College in 1961. In three seasons the 6-foot-4, 215-pounder has completed 581 passes for 8,306 yards and 46 touchdowns.

Jurgensen, fourth draft choice of the Eagles in 1957, tossed 32 touchdowns passes in 1962 when the Eagles finished second in the East, but the one-time Duke great has been beset by injuries ever since. Last year he missed half the season because of arm trouble.

TWC Miners To Rebuild Without Evans, Pate

EL PASO—It must have been an athlete on a long bus or car trip who once offered the statement that, "all we do is eat, ride and warmup."

Regardless of the statement, it indeed does not fit what the Texas Western Miners face starting Friday when Coach Warren Harper and his staff open spring football training.

There will be eating, of course, before and after practice but the riding is as out of place as a horsefly at an automobile show and much work will follow said warmups.

In short, Harper plans to have a lot of hard knocking during his practice sessions in order to have an idea what to expect next fall when his Miners face the most ambitious schedule in the school's history.

To give some idea what the Miners face next season, Harper will take his hungry (for victories) crew on the road for the first four games. It will be like playing Russian roulette with six live rounds in the chamber when the Miners catch North Texas, West Texas, Arizona State and Wyoming on the road before returning to meet such home foes as Brigham Young, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado State sandwiched around a quick trip to Las Cruces to meet New Mexico State in the annual donnybrook.

Graduation will claim starting ends of the past two years, Jim Evans of Big Spring and Ulysses Kendall and Harper must find a replacement for starting offensive center Dexter Page of Big Spring who suffered a leg injury and has elected to forego athletics.

Harper is counting heavily upon his eight junior college transfers and an outstanding crop of sophomores-to-be to help the veterans plug the gaps.

The young Miner mentor expects great things from tackle Mart Adams, a hard working 220-pounder who has drawn starting assignments since his freshman days.

Another player whom Harper expects to be top drawer again this season is Louis (The Creeper) James who is one reason the Miners finished as the No. 1 pass defensive team in the nation last season.

Mets Rework Squad Roster

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The New York Mets completed a trio of conditional purchases, elevated relief pitcher Ed Bauta to the varsity and shuffled five players to their Buffalo farm club's training base today.

For Ron Swoboda, one of the quietest sent to the minor league camp, the move likely will result in a promotion. The 20-year-old outfielder, a standout in his first training camp, is currently assigned to the Mets' Class A, Auburn, N.Y., affiliate but appears ticketed for Buffalo's AAA team. He was a University of Maryland student a year ago.

The Mets finalized trial purchases of shortstop Amado Samuel and catcher Bob Taylor from Milwaukee by paying the Braves an additional $25,000 for each player, making a total of $30,000 for each.

Larry Elliott, bought conditionally from Columbus of the International League, also was officially added to the fold. He is on the Buffalo roster but has been training with the parent club.

Bauta was shifted from the Buffalo list to the Mets' roster. The Bisons received outfielder Pat Garrett in return.

Left-handed pitchers Willard Hunter and Steve Dillon were returned and optioned, respectively, to Buffalo. Grover Powell, another southpaw, will report to the minor league camp to work his rose pitching shoulder into shape. He remains on the New York roster.

Colts Slap LA Dodgers

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The World champion Los Angeles Dodgers played the ninth place Houston Colts Tuesday and each looked like the other.

With Bob Bruce pitching splendidly and Pete Runnels continuing to hit well, Houston coasted to a 6-3 exhibition baseball victory.

The Colts pounced on Johnny Podres for 11 hits and all their runs in the five innings he lasted.

Bruce pitched through the sixth for Houston, growing stronger after the Dodgers scored in the first on rookie Wes Parker's triple and Wally Moon's single.

Moon was thrown out at second on a play by Johnny Weakly to Nellie Fox.

Runnels collected a double and two singles in three trips. Rarely this spring has Houston shown such balance of pitching, hitting and defense.

Colorado City Beats Cooper

ABILENE—The Colorado City Wolves scored two runs in the seventh inning Tuesday and robbed the Abilene Cooper Cougars of a baseball win on the home diamond. The final score was 3-1.

The win left Colorado City 6-3 while the Cougars stand 7-3. Colorado City has won all three games it has played this season against Abilene competition.

Colorado City got to Abilene's Mike Choate in the seventh inning and touched the hurler for four straight hits after he had only yielded three hits for the first six frames. Larry Damborsky collected the win.

Top Hurlers Vie In Meet

AUSTIN (AP) — Two names involved in the 37th Texas Relays this weekend raise memories of hurdles record setters of the late 1930s.

The University of Texas track coach, host to the meet, is Jack Patterson, who won two national hurdles titles while at Rice.

And one of the star attractions at the relays Friday and Saturday will be Billy Hardin of Texas. He's the son of former Louisiana State hurdler Glenn Hardin, who set world marks while in college.

The younger Hardin holds the best times among those entered here for both the 120-yard high hurdles and the 440-yard intermediate hurdles. He has been clocked at 13.9 for the highs and 52.7 in the intermediates.

That 13.9 time matches a 25-year-old mark set in 1939 by Fred Wolcott.

Preliminaries in the highs will be held Friday at 1 p.m. and the finals Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Those entered with Hardin and their best times include Ed Renfrow of Arkansas, 13.9; Bobby May of Rice, 14.3; Steve Sansom and James Cooper of Texas, 14.3, and Ronnie Biffle of Texas Tech, 14.3.

Among fine athletes from out of state who haven't competed outdoors this season are Gale Sayers of Kansas, Herman Gary of Southern Illinois, Gary Woods of Oklahoma City, Rocky Bilbo of Oklahoma State, Jack Hooker of Kansas State and David Bonds of McMurry.

Top billed with Hardin in the 440-yard intermediate field are Udel Casson of Drake, 53.5; James Cooper of Texas, 54; May of Rice, 54.5; David Bonds of McMurry, 55.1; Gary Collins of Rice, 54.6; Bill Tittle of Sul Ross, 55.2, and John Collins of Texas A&M, 56.3.

The 440-intermediate hurdles is a new event. The record for the 400-meter intermediate hurdles is 50.8, set in 1961 by Eddie Southern of Texas.

In addition to the regular relays and special events, two open events will be held. They are the 440-yard dash and the open pole vault. Both have attracted several college stars.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

FROM THE WORLD OF GOLF:
The next golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club comes up April 8 as approximately 50 women from surrounding towns are expected to invade the links for a one-day invitational. Swingers will arrive from San Angelo, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, and Andrews. There will be three 18-hole flights (based on handicap) and one 9-hole novice class. Trophies will go to the low net and low gross players in each flight.

The Congressional Country Club in Washington, D.C., where the U.S. Open will be played June 18-20, has guards on duty 24 hours a day in eight-hour shifts to prevent vandalism. During the past year, the club erected a six-foot link fence topped by barbed wire around the entire perimeter of the course with the exception of the front of the club.

For the Open championship, the William J. Burns International Detective Agency will furnish between 50 and 60 guards. A K-9 patrol will also be hired which employs guards and German Shepherd dogs. A dog can cover as much ground effectively as four or five walking guards.

Sounds almost like a prisoner of war camp.

GARY PLAYER

An avid golf fan telling about watching GARY PLAYER on TV as he took the ball out of the cup after sinking a five-foot putt on the last green to beat BOB GOALSBY by one stroke in the 1962 PGA.

"He did it just right. First, he practically pounced on the ball, like gangbusters. Then, just when he was lifting the ball, a change came over him. You could see that everything the tournament meant to him was flashing through his mind. He paused, looked slowly up at the sky, then thoughtfully at the ground, and then—it must have been 15 seconds later—then he seemed to realize where he was again and took the ball out of the cup. No one could have done it better. Not GREGORY PECK, not BURT LANCASTER, not even MAURICE EVANS. Say what you will but Gary's stuff on that green was the best dramatic performance I saw on TV all that year."

The space race has just about affected everything—even golf. Now a new golf ball has shown up on the market bearing the trademark "Energized." An ad of this particular brand states: "Each ball is treated with a special gamma energizing process which induces greater elasticity in the rubber through the use of special energizing equipment. Your driving can be wonderfully improved with this amazing energized golf ball."

The United States Golf Association took some impact velocity tests on the product. The results indicated that the ball is not superior in distance qualities to leading brands. A lot of people will get hooked, though.

JERRY GREEN, pro at the Big Spring Country Club, reports that the first rattlesnake of the year has yet to be seen. As some golfers who have played in past years know, this is slightly on the unusual side. Wildlife flourishes, though—two covets of quail are present, one around the 14th green and the other near the clubhouse. South African Golf magazine: "A golfer has one advantage over an angler. He doesn't have to bring the putt home." The Dorset Field Club, Dorset, Vt., claims to be the nation's oldest golf course. But no records are available to prove that it was actually founded in 1886. The oldest documented course in the nation is St. Andrew's Golf Club, Yonkers, N.Y. It dates from 1888. Big Spring's two golf courses are just a couple of the 6,804 9-or-18-hole layouts throughout the nation. These links take up 703,700 acres of ground. In 1963, 495 new courses were added to the total and 425 more are planned for this year. Eighty thousand golf carts are in use. In addition, there are 4,500 driving ranges across the U.S.

Saturday Sign-Up Time For American Leaguers

The American Little League expected to seek positions on the is in the process of clearing various teams this year.

The ALL playing field was fertilized in August last year and players. Those who are not already members of major league teams must report to Washington Place school between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. to attach their signatures to league contracts.

In addition to the six major league teams, the league will sponsor as many minor league clubs. The Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Johnny Hobbs; Jets, R&R Theaters; Johnny Newsom; Pirates, Harding Well Service Co.; Woody Rutledge; Hawks (formerly the Lions), W. R. Grace & Co.; Jerry Robinson; Stars, campus. Other officers include: Slim Broughton, vice president. Payte; and Cabots, Cabot Carbon, Wally Slate.

The Jets are the defending champion in the circuit. The season is scheduled to get underway April 27 and will run through early July.

'Where's MY NEWSPAPER'

When a newspaper is missing, more often than not, a man will say, "Where's my newspaper?" "My," not "the!" You've heard him say many times: "Now, my newspaper said . . ." "I read in my paper . . ."

A man's possessive about his newspaper. He takes pride in it. He gloats when his newspaper praises his favorite political candidate or sports team. Or, he groans when his newspaper differs with his choice of personalities or issues. He'll even write the editor when he feels strongly about a difference of opinion.

And, his wife feels just about the same. She looks forward to reading her pet features. Missing out on some ad or choice item of local news could "ruin" her shopping trip or leave her feeling left out during the chitchat over the bridge table.

Both men and women want their newspaper. In fact, they insist on it. They are sorely disappointed and disturbed when their newspaper isn't on the front step when they want it. Ask any carrier boy. He can tell you, because he hears about it if a delivery is late or missed.

This loyalty to a favorite newspaper didn't just happen. It came about because the newspaper is localized to meet a particular want and fill a definite need.

And, because the newspaper is viewed as a necessary companion and source of information, it makes a big difference in the lives of people of all ages, of all faiths and political preferences, of all levels of income and education.

YOU ARE HELPING MR. DOODLE CREATE? WELL, MY COOKING IS-- HE NEEDS ENERGY TO SCULPT. MY WORD, YOU EVEN SERVE HIM HIS MEALS ON A TRAY? YAS--SO HE DON'T HAVE TO STOP WORK. BESIDES--I LIKE TO WATCH HIS MOUTH WATER. MR. BETTER BRING SOME BICARBONATE NEXT TRIP.

Kremlin's U.N. Delegate Represents 'New Breed'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Nikolai T. Fedorenko has one thing in common with the five men who preceded him at the Kremlin's spokesman at the United Nations; he is regarded by his colleagues as a top-flight diplomat.

But the Soviet delegate, now beginning his second year at U.N. headquarters, represents a new breed. Suave, scholarly and affable, he bears little resemblance to such old Bolsheviks as Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Fedorenko, 51, wears a bow tie like an American college professor, wears well-tailored clothes, speaks English passably and has a doctorate in classical Chinese literature.

Because of the differences of style, objectives and the international atmosphere, it is difficult to measure him against the performances of his predecessors. His colleagues agree, however, that he is doing his job well.

Once or twice he has shown that, if the occasion calls for it, he can be just as persistent as Andrei A. Gromyko or Jacob Malik. But his main task is to reflect the atmosphere now emanating from Moscow, while their job was to fight the cold war bitterly.

Some Western diplomats compare him to Arkady A. Sobolev, who was perhaps the most popular of the Soviet permanent delegates. Sobolev, an electrical engineer by training and a one-time assistant secretary-general of United Nations, is regarded as the best negotiator among the Soviet representatives.

While Fedorenko seems to be well suited for the mission he has to carry out in 1964, one can only wonder how he would have done in 1946 or in 1950. Would he have been able to carry out the unpopular assignments given to Gromyko and Malik?

When Gromyko took over as the first permanent U.N. representative, he was 37 and already deputy foreign minister. Unsmiling by nature, he presented a grim picture as he hammered away at the West.

When Malik succeeded Gromyko, there was little change. Malik had a role in two historic events. He opened the door, in a television speech, to the armistice negotiations which led eventually to the end of the Korean War. Along with U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, he negotiated the end of the Berlin blockade in 1949.

Hungarian Boss Vows New Support Of USSR

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar pledged new support for the Soviet Union Tuesday night in a banquet toast to Premier Khrushchev here for strategy talks aimed at strengthening his hand against Red China.

"In the course of history," Kadar said, "fanatic bourgeois elements, fascists and domesticists have attempted to undermine our friendship, but they failed and finally suffered ignominious defeat."

Khrushchev responded with a toast to Soviet-Hungarian ties, which he hailed as an example of unity in the Communist camp.

The stress on Communist unity was considered a retort to Peking, which has stepped up its attacks on Khrushchev and poured forth propaganda deepening the ideological split in the Communist world.

The banquet in Khrushchev's honor followed the first round of talks which are expected to help set the stage for a summit meeting of Communist leaders on the Chinese issue in Moscow later this month.

Convention Off

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The Alaskan earthquake had another victim today—the state Democratic convention, scheduled for Fairbanks next weekend.

Frank Peratrovich, state Democratic Central Committee chairman, said it had been indefinitely postponed.

Dies Of Injuries

BALLINGER (AP)—Patricia Blackshear, 15, suffered fatal injuries as she played too close to an oil well pump and was pulled into the machinery Tuesday.

She died several hours later at a San Angelo hospital. Patricia was the daughter of Mrs. Bruce Blackshear of Ballinger.

Six More Vote Absentee

Six electors voted absentee Tuesday afternoon just ahead of the closing time for such balloting for the April 4 school board membership election.

This brought the total number of absentee votes cast at the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk, to 16. Votes were accepted for electors in Commissioner Precinct No. 3 for Hayes F. Stripling Jr., candidate for Howard County school board from that precinct, and for Charles R. (Chub) Jones and W. Ray Echols, candidates for school trustee at-large on the county board.

Jones and Echols' names also appear on one ballot alone and on another ballot with the names of H. C. Reid and Harvey Adams, candidates for county board member for Commissioner Precinct 4.

Another ballot used in the absentee voting is for the two vacancies on the Big Spring Independent School District board. Candidates are James E. (Jimmy) Felts, Jack Haralson, and Winston Wrinkle.

The fifth ballot lists the names of P. W. Malone and J. A. Coffey, who are candidates for reelection as members of the board for the Howard County Junior College. Two are to be chosen in the election.

Four Sign Bids Made

Four bids, for six 10x40-foot signs, were received by the advertising and promotion committee of the chamber of commerce Tuesday. Thomas Neon Co., Abilene, submitted the low bid, and provisions of the bid will be considered by the chamber's board of directors April 13.

Two of the signs, made of three-quarter-inch board, will be illuminated by quartz lights, while the other four will be Scotch-lighted.

"The signs are to be up by July 1, if the bid and proposals are approved by the board and means of paying the monthly leases set up," Bob Schaff, assistant chamber manager said.

"The agreement will include signs and art work, leases on property, insurance, day-to-day maintenance, and long lease agreement.

"The lighted signs will be placed on the east and west approaches to the city, at the bypass and business route interchange," Schaff said, "and the other four along the highway east and west at about five-mile intervals."

All art-work on the signs, if plans are approved, will be submitted to the advertising and promotion committee for final approval.

The other three companies submitting bids were Holley's Signs, Big Spring; Faulkner Sign Co., Big Spring; and Tesco Sign Co., Roswell, N.M.

Pleads Guilty

Ramon A. Nunez, charged with DWI, pleaded guilty before Lee Porter, judge of the Howard County court, today was sentenced to serve three days in jail and pay a fine of $50 and costs.

They Started Atlantic City's Parade

Eight contestants in the first Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N.J.—way back in 1921—line up on the boardwalk at the resort. Winner that year was Miss Washington, third from left. Today, in the 'shore resort, Mrs. Marie McCullough, member of board of directors of the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce, thinks the bathing beauty should be restored to her former position as the city's well-recognized trade mark. California's Democrats Split Wide In Senate Race

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—and the Democratic split over the party's contest for the U.S. Senate widened on all fronts today. Don Bradley, executive director of the Democratic State Central Committee, broke off with Gov. Edmund G. Brown to become campaign manager for Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary who leaped into the race March 20. Brown, backing State Controller Alan Cranston for Sen. Clair Engle's seat, was obviously displeased. He said Bradley, who managed his 1962 re-election effort, acted without his approval.

Honor Pilot

Two Killed, Two Missing In Boat Blast

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — At least two crewmen died Tuesday, as an explosion the captain said couldn't happen shattered a seismograph boat. Two other men are missing and presumed dead. The 91-foot craft went down almost at once in the Gulf of Mexico. It was the Terry Walker from Pascagoula, Miss., a fishing boat chartered for offshore oil exploration. Donald Martin, 37, of New Orleans died in the blast. The body was recovered. Coast Guard divers working in 40 feet of water found a second body this morning. It was identified as a Port Arthur mortuary as that of Irwin Ott, 32, of Biloxi, Miss. Missing and believed dead also were Tyrone Swack, 21, of Bossier City, La., and Paul Metcalf, 40, of Morgan City, La.

Soviet Still Won't Pay Up

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union will not compromise on its unpaid assessments for U.N. peace-keeping operations in the Congo and Middle East or even discuss its refusal to pay them, Pravda said today. Commentator Viktor Mayevsky wrote in the Communist party newspaper that the American-led effort to collect the assessments was "an overt line toward liquidation of the United Nations, toward undermining international cooperation." The article recalled a Soviet statement to U.N. delegates on March 21 that continued efforts to collect the assessments might force Moscow "to reconsider our attitude toward the United Nations activity." Under Article 19 of the U.N. Charter, nations owing the equivalent of two years' debts to the organization can be deprived of voting rights. The Soviet Union owes $52.6 million.

Visitor Hurt In Accident

Mrs. Percy Schultz, a Lannon, Wis., housewife, received bruises of the right shoulder about 9 a.m. Tuesday in a two-car accident at Fourth and Scurry. Police said she was a passenger in the car of her husband. The mishap occurred as Schultz was traveling east on Fourth, and John Anderson, 2204 Runnels, and driver of the other vehicle, was going north on Scurry. Mrs. Schultz was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation by private car, according to police. She was released following X-rays and treatment; hospital attendants said today. Damage to the Schultz car was estimated by police at $200, and damage to the other car was set at $300. Locations of other accidents and drivers involved: 300 block of North Gregg, R. L. Whately, 411 N. Runnels, and unknown motorist; 1806 Alabama, Pam Parker, 2402 Alabama, and parked car of James Shaw, 1806 Alabama. Employees of the Sands Motel, US 80 west, called police about 2 o'clock this morning to complain that an unidentified motorist had broken the guard post in front of a drainage ditch at the motel.

Oil Firm Cuts Crude By Nickel

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Derby Refining Division of Colorado Oil and Gas Corp., cut five cents today from its price for crude oil purchased from central Kansas producers. H. D. Moore, Derby president, said the reduction to $3 per barrel is in line with reduced prices posted recently by other companies.
