NEW MANAGEMENT ASSIGNMENT

Cosden To Operate Fina Refineries

Effective immediately, Cosden Oil & Chemical Company will assume responsibility of executive management of refineries owned and previously managed by American Petrofina Company of Texas. These plants are located in Mt. Pleasant, Wichita Falls and El Dorado, Arkansas.

This announcement was made Saturday by R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden, on behalf of Harry A. Jackson, president of American Petrofina, Incorporated, which has its headquarters in New York City. Its two principal wholly-owned subsidiaries are Cosden of Big Spring and Dallas-based American Petrofina Company of Texas. The latter recently lost by resignation its senior vice president, Jack M. Shea, who was in charge of refining and marketing.

The offer of additional refinery management responsibilities was tendered to and accepted by the board of directors of Cosden at their meeting in Dallas last Friday. J. K. MacKinnon will continue as plant manager of the three Petrofina refineries. He is a Petrofina vice president and has his headquarters in Mt. Pleasant. George Grimes, manager of the two Cosden refineries, will remain in Big Spring to supervise operations of Big Spring and Colorado City refineries as in the past.

For the foreseeable future the computer center for the two refinery groups will remain in Dallas but will be a component of Cosden's coordination and technical department, which is headed by C. W. Shouse, Cosden vice president and executive assistant to Tollett.

Tollett told The Herald that the new arrangement does not envision any immediate change of personnel, as between the Dallas headquarters of Fina of Texas and Big Spring, although it does put into wider scope the operational experience of those long associated with Cosden.

No official announcement was made, but indications were that renewed emphasis will be placed on Cosden's long-established role of custom refining.

Gore Lashes Rights Bill As 'Defective'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fate of the civil rights bill may rest with border state senators, and Saturday one of them took the Senate floor to label the measure "seriously defective and potentially dangerous."

What caused Tennessee's Albert Gore to lash the administration-sponsored and House-passed bill more than three hours is a section that would permit the President and other officials to cut off federal aid funds if a state or local agency engages in racial discrimination.

REPRISAL

In the hands of some future president, Gore contended, this could be a wedge for political reprisal. And so broad is the provision, he said, a state's entire school lunch or welfare funds could be cut off if a single district is found in violation.

Then, in a broader assessment of the complex measure, he declared: "There are simply too many uncertainties."

"It is surely unrealistic," Gore continued, "to hope that all bias, preference and prejudice can be eliminated from our private lives."

PRINCIPLES

"And it would be contrary to generally accepted principles of individual freedom for government to attempt to compel it."

A Democrat, Gore voted for the civil rights bills of 1957 and 1960, but said he cannot support the current legislation in its present form.

Nineteen Southern senators are dead set against civil rights legislation and are dedicating their oratorical energies to trying to talk the bill to death. If they can persuade 15 colleagues that the bill should not be passed, attempts to choke off debate—now in its 40th day—would be impossible. To invoke cloture, 67 have to be in favor if all 100 senators show up and vote.

Leaders hope to drive a wedge into the talkfest Tuesday or Wednesday by calling for a vote on their amendment to provide jury trials in discrimination cases.

Joe Moss Elected Veep Of Cosden Oil-Chemical

Joe A. Moss, assistant chief counsel of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, has been elected vice president and chief counsel effective May 1. In addition to these duties he will continue as secretary of the company, it was announced Saturday by R. L. Tollett, president.

Moss succeeds Nelson Phillips Jr. of Dallas, who will remain on the Cosden directorate after his retirement May 1. Phillips will also serve as a consultant to the company. He is a veteran of some 26 years with Cosden.

Joining Cosden Petroleum Corporation in October 1953 as land attorney, Moss became assistant secretary in 1957. Four years later he advanced to secretary and assistant general counsel.

Moss, who is a native of Waco but was reared in Austin, holds the BBA and LLB degrees from the University of Texas. In 1960 he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. He is affiliated with the Texas and Howard County Bar Associations, having been president of the latter.

He is active in community affairs, being a trustee of the Big Spring Independent School Dis-

Greeks Slam Turkish Posts

SAINT ELIAS, Cyprus (AP)—Greek Cypriot fighters launched a surprise pre-dawn attack Saturday on Turkish Cypriot positions in the rugged Kyrenia Mountains and advanced five miles toward the strategic pass.

At least three Turks and one Greek were killed and three Greeks and one Turk wounded in a five-hour running battle which started at 3 a. m., the United Nations reported.

French-Canadian dragons in armored scout cars rolled between both sides as dusk fell. But military observers believed the battle for the pass and the heavily fortified Saint Hilarion Castle 10 miles north of Nicosia would resume.

The number of Greeks involved in the fighting was estimated at between 300 and 400. The strength of the Turkish opposition was not known.

In fighting elsewhere during the day a Greek Cypriot was killed in the village of Ayios Theodoros, 30 miles south of Nicosia. British troops with the U. N. force came under fire again as gunfire rattled through Nicosia itself.

French May Quit NATO Navy Ties

LONDON (AP)—Allied diplomats said Saturday night they understand President Charles de Gaulle is planning to end active French naval cooperation with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization except in time of war.

These reports came after France's representative, Adm. George Cabanier, stayed away from a meeting of the committee of NATO's Channel Command held Thursday in The Hague.

Vice Adm. Jean Witrand, naval attaché at the French Embassy in London, said he had no information when asked by a newsmen if there was any explanation for Cabanier's absence.

Viet Nam Routs Crack Cong Unit

BINH CHANH, South Viet Nam (AP)—Striking with a vigor praised by their U. S. advisers, Vietnamese troops routed the Communists' veteran 514th Battalion Saturday from one of the most complex defense positions ever seen in South Viet Nam.

Bodies of seven Viet Cong remained draped over bunkers when government forces overran the entrenchments, foxholes, tunnels and machine-gun nests that had been dug into the rockhard terrain of this Mekong River delta area in near perfect order.

"They must have been mighty unhappy to give these up," an American officer said with a smile. "We sure are giving the 514th hell."

The Red veterans, who have roamed the northern part of the delta for years, pulled back under harassment by government units that moved on quickly to other designated targets.

A Viet Cong attack on two government outposts Friday set off the battle near Binh Chanh, about 35 miles southwest of SAINT ELIAS, Cyprus (AP)—As a result of that session, the President said, he would send to Congress on Monday legislative proposals for Appalachian aid. He said it would be based on recommendations by these governors and other members of a special commission that reported on the area's needs earlier this month.

Johnson said his proposals would call for $220 million for the 1965 fiscal year that begins July 1. He said the amount already is budgeted under a contingency fund.

On other major points, the President said: —The federal government has abandoned hope of selecting by May 1 an aircraft manufacturer to develop a supersonic airliner. He said none of the proposals made by manufacturers would be economically practical or meet the minimum requirements for a plane capable of flying 4,000 miles with a 30,000 pound payload.

NEW SEARCH

The President said he remains convinced that such a plane can be developed. And he ordered a new search for contract proposals.

—The administration's anti-poverty program, in Johnson's view, is "adequate under the circumstances." He said it would be fine to do more but that the effort must be kept within practical and realistic bounds.

Johnson said that if those members of Congress who question the program had accompanied him on his tour Friday "they would be bending every effort to pass the program."

He termed it "must" legislation which would permit a substantial start toward eradicating poverty.

Fabled Russian City Threatened

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union rushed army engineers Saturday to central Asia to try to save the fabled city of Samarkand, threatened with destruction by earthquake-caused floods.

The lives of 225,000 persons were in danger, and the government ordered their evacuation.

Texans Trek To Polls Next Saturday; Record Expected

Texans vote next Saturday, closing a primary campaign that started slow, proceeded cautiously under threat of congressional redistricting, ran into poll tax complications and closed with a flourish.

An estimated 2,960,000 Texans are qualified to vote. The turnout is expected to total a record 1,800,000.

For Texas Republicans, the primary election has more encouraging signs, including these firsts: A full slate of candidates for Congress; a presidential preference poll; primary elections in all 254 counties; and possibly the highest number of voters in a GOP primary.

For Democrats, the ballots have only 27 candidates for 15 statewide offices.

ASSASSINATION

The campaign started slow in a political moratorium following the assassination in Dallas of President Kennedy.

A dozen candidates waited until the last day to file.

Gov. John Connally started politicians by saying his delay in filing resulted from serious consideration not to seek reelection. Don Yarborough bucked labor's plans for not opposing Connally and entered the race. The AFL-CIO political arm made no endorsement in the governor's race.

Yarborough's entry failed to shake a reported agreement among forces of President Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and conservative Democrats' long search for a strong opponent for Sen. Yarborough failed when Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen declined to make the race.

FINAL DAY

Kilgore's decision, on the final filing day, brought two late filings: Jack Cox, Houston Republican, and Gordon McLendon, Dallas Democrat, for the Senate race.

(See Complete Local Election Data, Pages 1, 2, 3-D)

Cox, who polled 715,000 votes against Connally in 1962, upset plans of the other candidates.

High-Living Bridegroom Jailed For Bank Thefts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A car-loving bridegroom, charged as the mastermind of a bizarre scheme to rob four Houston banks with the aid of unsuspecting messengers, said Saturday he had planned to go into business for himself—"maybe opening up a bank."

Only one of the messengers, however, managed to deliver the cash, about $12,000 to a mystery man who hired him.

John L. Burke, 27, of Las Vegas, Nev., was charged with bank robbery before U. S. Commissioner Billy Costa, who set bond at $50,000. It was not posted.

"I had enough money for me and my wife to last a couple of months," Burke told newsmen. "And in a couple of months, I was planning to go into some kind of business, maybe opening up a bank."

Burke, who identified himself as a former gossip columnist for a Las Vegas magazine, was arrested early Saturday at a Houston apartment.

Police quoted Burke as saying the first purchase with his new riches was a three-pound jar of caviar which he ate for lunch Friday.

Officers said Burke signed a statement admitting he planned to rob the four suburban banks Friday by sending messengers with letters threatening children of four tellers with death unless the money was handed over.

Messengers appearing at the Harrisburg National, Spring Branch Bank and MacGregor Park National got nothing, but one scored at Belfort State Bank, where the teller stuffed about $12,000 in a bag.

When detectives arrested Burke, they found more than $10,000 in his room and $494 in his billfold.

A tipster, whom police declined to identify, told detectives a man answering the description broadcast after the robbery was living in the apartment.

who had filed much earlier: George Bush, Houston oilman; Dr. Milton Davis, Dallas surgeon; and Robert Morris, Dallas lawyer.

McLendon, a radio executive with no political experience, waged an active campaign and picked up endorsement from several metropolitan daily newspapers. McLendon's campaign was termed "the dirtiest political race we have had since 1954" by Sen. Yarborough.

Another late filer, Dan Sullivan of Andrews, also in his first statewide race, was boosted by endorsements from liberal Democrat and Spanish-speaking groups. Sullivan and Houston lawyer Robert Baker are trying to retire Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., seeking a second term as congressman-at-large.

AT DESK

Although Senate and congressman-at-large campaigning has been fairly active, Don Yarborough has had the gubernatorial campaign almost all for himself. Connally said his best campaigning would be hard work at his desk, and restricted his efforts to statewide telecasts, slightly increased public appearances, and a last-week group of receptions.

Another factor dampening the campaigning ardor was a federal court threat of a special legislative session to redistrict or at-large congressional races. The question was settled April 1 when the courts agreed to a delay.

Thirteen congressmen, including Republicans Bruce Alger of Dallas and Ed Foreman of Odessa, are uncontested in primary elections.

JUNE RUNOFF

Any contest not settled Saturday will go into runoff elections June 6.

Confusion followed the ratification of the federal poll tax amendment in January.

Tax collectors resorted to various means to issue free registration certificates to about 70,000 persons from Feb. 5 to March 6. Party leaders produced a wide variety of ballot styles to accommodate holders of the free certificates, which allow voting only in federal elections.

Lynda Bird's Wedding Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The engagement of President Johnson's daughter, Lynda Bird, to Navy Lt. (j.g.) Bernard Rosenbach has been broken by mutual agreement.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, the First Lady, confirmed Saturday the engagement had been broken. She said Rosenbach, 23, was in Washington last weekend and Lynda Bird, 20, returned his ring at that time.

Rosenbach, stationed at Mayport Naval Station near Jacksonville, Fla., said when asked about the broken engagement: "Yes, that is true."

Mrs. Carpenter said religion was not a factor.

It was learned that friends had been expecting the engagement to end for several weeks.

Rosenbach is a Roman Catholic. Lynda Bird is an Episcopalian.

The engagement was first disclosed in June 1963 when her father, then vice president, gave a party for her and remarked that she was wearing a diamond ring given her by Rosenbach.

Rosenbach is assigned to the destroyer Ingram, based at Mayport. Mrs. Carpenter said he returned there after spending last Saturday and Sunday in Washington.

Rosenbach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard W. Rosenbach of Comfort, Tex. His father operates a lumber business there.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

As badly as we need a three-inch rain, news that R. L. Tollett is to head up the refining division for American Petrofina is even more welcome here. This will firm up and perhaps strengthen the (Cosden) refinery role here. It's a real morale booster.

And about that rain — we had just as soon be dry as to experience the battering that the Brownwood area has been getting the past week. High, turning (See THE WEEK, P. 8-A, Col. 1)

GOP Ignores Jibe To Keep Up Scramble For Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson poked a bit of fun at the Republican party during the week. It didn't seem to bother GOP politicians intent on finding a candidate to whip him.

Johnson, showing a bouncy spirit that had been submerged during the first few months of his presidency, declared gaily, "I am a fellow who likes small parties and the Republican party is about the size I like." Also, at a spirited rally of the Democratic faithful in Chicago, Johnson disputed any thought that the Midwest yearns to vote for Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater for president.

"This is Democratic country," Johnson contended. "And it is going to be Democratic country in November."

MISTAKES
On the other hand, GOP Chairman William E. Miller declared at Dayton, Ohio, that the Republicans mean to profit by the mistakes that hurt them in 1960.

In 1960, Miller said, Republican Richard M. Nixon lost the presidency to Democrat John F. Kennedy because the Republican party lacked muscle and organization.

"This year the party is going to be strong enough to carry the candidates, rather than the candidates carry the party," he added.

But who will the candidates be? Here is a rundown on the situation now as to the contest for the presidential nomination—little thought has been given yet as to whom the Republicans will run for vice president.

Sen. Goldwater of Arizona—he said he figures he already has 500 to 525 of the 655 GOP National Convention votes needed to nominate, and might win on the first ballot at San Francisco in July.

LAST HURDLE
Former Vice President Nixon—Goldwater said he feels "Nixon will be my last hurdle. He'll be in the convention pitching when the chips are down." Associates of Nixon said he has not yet decided whether to make formal organizational moves toward an active candidacy.

AMBASSADOR
Henry Cabot Lodge—He is doing extraordinarily well in presidential preference polls, and even his opponents say he may look truly impressive in Oregon's primary May 15. Lodge supporters also announced plans to try for 500,000 names on a California petition to draft their man for president.

ROCKEFELLER
Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York—He ranked fifth in an Associated Press poll of Republican county chairmen who are speculating on who's likely to be nominated. Rockefeller hopes for a boost from the June 2 California primary.

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—For a while this week he made news by carrying to the Supreme Court his effort to get on the California primary ballot to oppose Rockefeller and Goldwater. Then the court shot him down Friday on a 6-3 vote.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania—He's being looked on by Republicans with growing interest as a potential nominee, said Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California. Kuchel is Rockefeller's No. 1 supporter in California.

CONVENTION
The AP poll of Republican county chairmen and other leaders drew 1,606 participants from the 50 states and District of Columbia. Asked whom they expect the convention to nominate, those who stated opinions replied:

Nixon 526, Goldwater 427, Lodge 189, Scranton 159, Rockefeller 30, others 19.

On a companion question—Who would you personally like to see nominated?—Goldwater piled up a runaway score of 722 votes to 301 for Nixon, his closest competitor.

The question of who'll be Johnson's running mate turned during the week to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. The secretary dodged the issue like an old political pro—in fact, like Johnson himself.

McNAMARA
First, the President was asked about the possibility of the choice falling on McNamara despite the fact that he is said to be, or to have been, an independent Republican.

Johnson replied that McNamara is an able man and a great American but he—Johnson— isn't giving much thought to the vice-presidential matter and won't until the Democrats convene in Atlantic City in August.

McNamara ducked, too. He said Johnson hasn't spoken to him about any post except the one he now holds, and it would be presumptuous for him to speculate about the vice presidency.

Nevertheless, reporters carried away the impression that McNamara might be available—if Johnson says the magic word.

Hess 70 Today; Oft Times Howls

BERLIN (AP) — Rudolf Hess, once Adolf Hitler's deputy, sometimes howls like a wolf in his prison cell, says a man in a position to know.

Hess will be 70 Sunday. He has been behind bars 23 years. First he was in British captivity after flying to England on a "peace mission" in 1941. Then he was sentenced to life in the Nuremberg war crimes trial.

For 17½ years he has been in the allied war crimes prison in the Berlin suburb of Spandau. An officer who saw him recently says:

"Hess looks every day of his age. His skin is deeply wrinkled. His dark, glaring eyes are deeply sunken.

"His mental state has not improved with the years. Some nights he howls like a wolf in his cell.

"The soldiers on guard can hear him plainly and sometimes they get so fed up with it that they howl back at him."

Other inmates include Baldur von Schirach, the former leader of the Hitler Youth, 57, and Albert Speer, Nazi munitions minister, 59. Both complete 20-year terms in 1966.

IN FULL
Hess is in for life. Nuremberg rules require sentences to be served in full.

The Western powers would probably be glad to shut down what is likely the world's most expensive prison per capita—but the Soviets have blocked all moves to grant clemency to the three men.

When Hess explodes into one of his rages, Speer and Von Schirach try to calm him down. "Pull yourself together," they hiss at him in defiance of the no-talking rule.

One source says Hess likes getting his guards into trouble. He wheedles some favor out of a guard and then denounces him to an officer for breaking the rules.

Hess astounded the world by parachuting out of a fighter plane over Scotland May 10, 1941.

HUMANITY
The British said Hess announced he had come on a "mission of humanity". He wanted to persuade the British they had lost the war and should make peace with Nazi Germany.

Hitler was enraged and disowned his favorite. The Nazis said Hess had become "the victim of hallucinations."

At Nuremberg Hess was convicted of plotting against peace and planning, inciting and carrying through aggressive war.

At his trial Hess said he considered Hitler "the greatest son produced by the German people in 1,000 years."

Coahoma Bands Slates Outings

COAHOMA (SC) — A social for the Coahoma High School band has been scheduled for May 14 at Moss Creek Lake.

The fifth and sixth grade band members will be entertained with a skating party April 30, according to plans developed at the last meeting of the Band Boosters here this week.

The band is due to participate in the Tumbleweed Festival parade in Colorado City on May 9. The treasurer of the Boosters reported $701 in the treasury, and it will be used toward buying instruments. First meeting of the next school term will be Sept. 3.

Johnson was honor guest at the club's 79th annual white-tie dinner at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Among the 500 other invited guests were former President Harry S. Truman, members of the Cabinet and the Supreme Court, top-ranking diplomats and distinguished persons from throughout the country.

ONE TOAST

In accordance with tradition, there was only one toast—to the President. By the same tradition, Johnson's response was off the record.

So too were speeches by Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., the House majority leader speaking for the Democrats, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, replying for the Republicans.

Fletcher Knebel, Washington correspondent of Cowles Publications and president of the 50-member Gridiron Club, set the tone of the evening in the club's traditional "speech in the dark."

Reporting that the world is in a mood of love, Knebel said the Democrats have closed down the Bobby Baker investigation, saying it didn't prove a thing on anybody—and just in the nick of time, too.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Turning to love in foreign affairs, Knebel offered this advice to a small African nation worried that Uncle Sam doesn't seem to know it exists:

"The answer is simple," Knebel said. "Take his money, burn down his embassy, flirt with the Communists and then sue him for nonsupport."

A Gridiron actor dressed as a carnival pitchman portrayed Baker, the former Senate aide who declined to tell Senate investigators how he accumulated a fortune he estimated at $2 million.

The Baker impersonator explained what a great country this is "when a poor kid from South Carolina can come up North and fleece the Yankees out of enough to pay Edward Bennett Williams' legal fees."

LOVE THEME

Carleton Kent, Washington correspondent of the Chicago Sun-Times and the Gridiron music chairman, introduced the theme of love by bringing on the club chorus decked out with pink hearts and preceded by cupids. They sang:

"Love is bustin' out all over, All over Paree and Timbuktu. China's breaking out with flowers. For the quaking major powers. They will love us clean to death before they're through." Johnson's order to cut down on the White House electric light bill was the subject of a couple of skits. In one a Gridiron songster portraying White House aide Walter Jenkins, who was said to operate best in the dark, told about the place where he works to the melody of "Just Picture a Penthouse."

"Just picture a White House enfolded in murk. And bats playing tag with a late-slaving clerk. And Thomas A. Edison thrown out of work. Cut those lights."

Orthodox Jews Rocked By Rabbi's Rejection

LONDON (AP) — Orthodox Jewry in Britain was rocked today by a dispute over a 43-year-old rabbi, who rejects the Old Testament teaching that God gave the Ten Commandments to Moses.

The rabbi, Dr. Louis Jacobs, has been denounced as a heretic by some British Jews and acclaimed by others for his "modern approach" to theology. The storm raging about his head is believed unprecedented in the 300-year history of the Jewish community in this land.

Dr. Jacobs was greeted by a large congregation when he entered the new West End Synagogue as its spiritual leader. Earlier, the chief rabbi of Britain, Dr. Israel Brodie, had vetoed the appointment.

As a result, the Council of the United Synagogue of Britain ordered the removal of the entire elected board of the West End Synagogue.

Dr. Jacobs hit back Friday night with this statement: "The chief rabbi has refused to allow me to serve as minister because I accept the findings of modern Biblical scholarship."

"As a rabbi in Israel, responsible by Jewish tradition to God alone and to no other rabbi, I shall of course continue to expound my views, confident that very many thinking Jews in this country and outside it have too much love and respect for Judaism to wish to see it tied to such a theory."

Dr. Jacobs does not accept what he regards as the medieval view that the five books of Moses in the Old Testament were dictated by God to Moses.

He believes that modern scholarship has shown that the five books must be viewed as the result of a long process of development in which different human beings played a part.

CRMWD Has Revenue Gain

Revenues for the Colorado River Municipal Water District continue to show a gain through the first quarter, but virtually all of the increase is represented in a new customer.

Member cities showed a slight increase in revenues for the period, but with the exception of Sun Oil Company which took its first water in July of 1963 the oil companies have taken substantially less water than a year ago.

In March the member cities paid in $113,982 for water, making $341,184 for the first quarter, a gain of about $9,000.

The oil companies paid $83,478 in March and $252,536 for the first quarter, a gain of $121,000 for the period. The Sun Oil payment for the period was $127,000, which was more than the gain.

Recreational facilities brought in $1,448 in March, $25,187 for the first quarter. This was about $800 less than for the first quarter of last year.

Operating expenses for March totaled $60,897, making $191,332 for the first quarter. This was about $33,000 more than for the first quarter of last year, and again most of the increase was due to serving the Sun Oil project.

For the first quarter the district has accumulated $428,541 net revenue which has been applied to debt service.

Through the first quarter water deliveries amounted to 2,140,144,000 gallons, compared with 1,737,790,000 for the same period a year ago. With the exception of 70,000,000 gallons from the Martin County well field and 9,740,000 from city well fields, all of the production came from Lake J. B. Thomas.

Roberts' Interesting Find--An Old Newspaper

By SAM BLACKBURN

A copy of Vol. 1, No. 1 of the Coahoma News, a weekly newspaper which appeared on the Coahoma horizon Nov. 10, 1916, has been found by J. A. Roberts Jr., 1406 Johnson.

Old-timers say there have been three efforts to establish a newspaper in Coahoma over the years. The first, apparently, was the News. Another attempt was made in the 1920's and a third, strange to relate, tried to make a go of it in the depths of the Depression. None of the three papers long survived and few remember them.

SHORT HISTORY
It is doubtful that the News published very many weeks. It was printed in Big Spring by the Cordell Printing and Engraving Co. The editor is not named on the masthead.

Tommy Jordan recalls that his father bought out the Cordell company in late 1916 or early 1917 and he doubts that the publication of the Coahoma News continued after the transfer of ownership.

Copies of the newspaper, naturally, are rare. Roberts' copy is in excellent condition considering that nearly a half century has passed since it was printed. Roberts also found a fragment of another issue, but it is so worn and ragged as to add little information to the News' history.

Roberts found the neatly folded copy in papers accumulated by his mother, Mrs. J. A. Roberts Sr., who died a few months ago. The Roberts family came to Coahoma in 1906 and were well established residents Nov. 10, 1916 when the News made its brave entrance on the community scene.

LOOKING UP
Things must have been looking up in Coahoma that November.

There were so many automobiles on the town's streets that it was described as too dangerous to be safe.

The population of the town was boastfully described as being 500. Its list of enterprises included three general mercantile stores, one hardware-furniture store, one garage, (made necessary no doubt by the increasing number of automobiles); one blacksmith shop, one drug store, two gins, two barber shops, one lumber yard, one meat market, one millinery shop, one bank, one hotel and one new brick high school "that would be a credit to a town of much larger population." There were also five churches.

You could buy a 10 pound bucket of Fairview Honey for $1.25 and for the ladies, D. C. Riley was advertising regular 12 1/2 cent gingham for sale at 10 cents and 12 1/2 cent outings for a dime a yard. The Coahoma Mercantile Company, keeping a close eye on the trends of the times, announced that it had a fresh car load of Grand Saline salt, which was available at 75 cents a hundred. "Hog killing time," warned the store, "is coming. Better lay in a supply now."

SELL CHEAP
Riley countered with a boast that he had a car load of Michigan salt that he would sell cheap. Coahoma Garage, for some unexplained reason, displayed the picture of a bridled mule on its ad, and announced that it was "the place to take your car to get service and satisfaction at reasonable prices."

Probably that is where Keith and Howard Birkhead and Oscar Poe headed when they had walked the weary distance from Jatan Tank one day that week. It seems they went joy riding with Misses Mae and Minnie Kennedy and Lois Murphy of Big Spring and their car broke down. Poe and the Birkheads walked to town for repairs.

NEWS OF NEARLY HALF A CENTURY AGO

Joe Roberts Jr., and issue of long defunct Coahoma News

People were uncertain, it seemed, as to whether it was "Big Springs" or "Big Spring." The name appears both ways.

It was also nice to know that Warren and Thomason, who were described as "our up-to-date barbers," had just installed a modern bathroom "in connection with their line of work."

"Coahoma," it was added, "needs more of the improvement spirit."

Old Newspaper Brought Back Lots Of Memories

"It brought back a lot of memories," J. A. Roberts Jr., 1604 Johnson, said, "when I found that 48-year-old copy of the Coahoma News and began reading its columns."

Roberts, who was born in Coahoma, is a 22-year veteran with Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. He is a graduate of the Coahoma schools and spent most of his earlier life in the town.

"I got a kick out of seeing that ad on the front page advertising my brother's hardware and furniture store," said Roberts. "And as I read through the columns I found

Morris Lindley Dies Friday, Rites Monday

Mrs. Violet Lindley of Big Spring was called Friday to Norman, Okla., where her brother, Morris S. Lindley, died at 4 a.m.

Mr. Lindley was a prominent automobile dealer in Norman. Burial will be in Durant, Okla., the family home, probably Monday, but arrangements were incomplete pending arrival of California relatives.

Besides the sister here, an employee of First National Bank, Mr. Lindley is survived by his widow; his father, R. C. Lindley of Durant; other sisters and brothers, Houston W. Lindley, Cecil L. Lindley, Mrs. Vera Scott, Mrs. Hazel Ruth Love and Quannah P. Lindley, all of Durant; Mrs. Fay Capbell, Arlington, Okla.; and Jack Lindley of Oklahoma City. There are also three nephews and six nieces.

Dentists Attend Annual Meeting

Seven Big Spring dentists will attend the Texas Dental Association meeting to be held Sunday through Wednesday at the Hotel Texas in Fort Worth. Registration begins Sunday, and there will be special speakers each day of the meeting.

Local dentists who will attend are Glenn J. Allen, W. B. Hardy, H. M. Jarratt, Robert H. Johnson, Dick Lane, C. N. Rainwater and Charles O. Warren.

The Permian Basin Dental Association also will hold a meeting in Fort Worth at the same time the dental association meeting will be convened. The assistants will meet at the Hilton Hotel in Fort Worth. Local delegates attending are Ida Mae Steel and Mrs. James Farquhar.

Help For Fishing

MOSCOW (AP) — Ghana's minister of agriculture, Krobo Edusei, has arrived in Moscow and will ask the Tass news agency reported, for Soviet experts to help Ghana develop deep sea fishing.

LEGAL TENDER

In those days, cotton seed, it is learned, "is legal tender in Coahoma."

It also raises speculation as to the outcome to read that "Carl Fletcher, Oma Salters and Shirley Rotan were out strolling (sic) with their lady love's Sunday evening—Look out, Mr. County Clerk."

There had been a big election just a few days ahead of Nov. 10, 1916. A new president was being elected but no one knew for certain who had won. It was several days before California reported its final vote and thereby assured the election of Woodrow Wilson. An alert establishment in Big Spring, noted the uncertainty about the outcome in its advertisement:

"Who's our next President is not as yet definitely decided," their ad proclaims on the front page of the News.

The advertiser, "H. H. Hardin & Com'y.," goes on to point out that there is no doubt in the minds of most people over Howard County that H. H. Hardin Co. is the place to buy their lumber, paints, oils, varnishes, window glass and etc.

Other stores in Big Spring, who had ads in the initial issue of the News, included the Rix Furniture and Undertaking Co. (a full-half page); A. G. Hall Saddlery Co. and McElhannon's Grocery. The latter proudly advised he had "feed and oil stoves." He also said that he bought and sold country produce.

Two firms listed telephones. Runyan and Sullivan, the garage operators, had Phone No. 10 and N. T. Wheeler, the J. R. Watkins man, could be reached at Ph. No. 19.

The sole attorney whose card appears in the paper was Clyde E. Thomas, Big Spring. W. C. Westfall, who operated the Coahoma blacksmith shop, was an advertiser. He asserted he had "a positive cure for all flesh diseases of both men and animals." Drs. Clements, Osteopaths, had an ad as did Dr. Buchanan, eye, ear and throat specialist. The medical professionals represented were from Big Spring.

Collins Bros. were the operators of Coahoma's sole drug store, they proudly announce.

LOWEST PRICES
You could buy furniture, oil stoves, heaters, hardware, guns, "ammunition," from E. C. Roberts, and the proprietor guaranteed the price was the lowest.

Griffith and Bly, grocers, boosted that everyone liked "Light Crust flour, but warned "better take advantage of the present prices. The next shipment may be higher."

It is duly chronicled that "J. E. Echols had to have one of his shoulders reset as a result of a horse falling with him a few days ago and dislocating it."

There is good news in the announcement that J. H. Carpenter shipped 13 head of horses to Clyde during the week—the first use made of the town's new stock pen.

A circus had played Big Spring early that week, and most of the loyal Coahomans were in the county seat to see the big show.

ELECTION
In regard to the election news, little note was given of the results. "J. M. Wolf was elected justice of the peace, Bly, cotton weaver, Cright, commissioner. Voting strength 125, Republican 2, Socialist 26," is the only comment.

Chat At The White House

Democrats Called Party Of Friction By Scranton

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania criticized the Democratic party today as a "party of friction that cannot govern effectively or consistently despite its superior numbers."

He called for a sweeping change in the operation of federal government, emphasizing "less bureaucracy at the top and more effectiveness at the state level."

Scranton considered a dark-horse contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination despite his insistence that he is not a candidate, made the remarks in a speech prepared for the annual luncheon of the Yale Law School Association.

UNENGINEERED
The governor has said repeatedly he would accept the nomination only in the event of an "unengineered draft" from the hearts of the people.

Scranton urged the GOP to adopt a national policy that would give maximum authority for implementation of federal programs to strong, effective governments.

He labeled the Democratic party a "party of dreams of the one hand, and a party of reaction on the other."

"The party when it dreams noble thoughts of shining cities, equal opportunities and social progress," he declared. "The party when it is reactionaries, who smash the dreams into tiny unrecognizable pieces."

Scranton accused the Democratic party of "failing to meet its responsibilities to American society because half of the party refuses to practice what the other half preaches."

SPECIAL GROUPS
"The Democratic party is a confederation of special groups, a marriage of convenience," he said. "They come together every four years to do common cause in the interest of electing a president. The rest of the time they barely speak to each other except in time of crisis."

As for his own party, Scranton said the GOP has allowed itself to be beaten at the polls by a billboard campaign that says little else than "Democrats care."

"Republicans can create a new political change if they not only show they care, but that they can do something about it," he went on.

Space Program Officials, Mahon To Visit Lubbock

Major figures in America's space program will visit Lubbock Tuesday.

James Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and Major Gordon Cooper, astronaut who made the last orbit flight, are to make several appearances. They are coming to Lubbock in company of Congressman George Mahon, for a program sponsored by the School of Engineering of Texas Tech.

There is to be a special breakfast at the Lubbock Country Club Tuesday morning, when Webb, Cooper and Mahon will speak. And there is also to be a noon luncheon at the Koko Palace, Lubbock, with about 1,000 expected to attend. Both these affairs are by ticket sales.

Congressman Mahon and the honor guests are expected to arrive in Lubbock Monday night, leave Tuesday afternoon to inspect NASA facilities at Houston and Huntsville, Ala., before returning to Washington.

In addition to the school groups, some other Big Springers plan to attend. Webb Air Force Base is to be represented by Col. A. F. Tauter, wing commander, and Col. Charles W. Head, base commander.

Paving Program Costs Still Due

Overall costs of the 112-block Phase IV paving program will not be known for about three weeks, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

He said costs for engineering, utility relocations and rights-of-way should be computed by then. The city already has released figures for the paving costs. This cost was $38,122.77 for the city and $112,253.89 for property owners.

Property owners share of the program had been estimated at $104,766.82. The city's portion of paving costs — $38,122.77—is about $40,000 less than the predicted costs.

Quintuplets Seven Months Old

The famed Fischer quintuplets, now seven months old, are shown at their home in Aberdeen, S. D. Their mother, Mrs. Andrew Fischer, in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, says the family doctor, James N. Berbos, believes that three of the quintuplets, Mary Catherine, Mary Margaret and Mary Magdalene, are identical. They are difficult to tell apart. The other two, Jimmy and Mary Ann, have different appearances and are believed to have developed from individual eggs. Jimmy is shown in the center. No identifications of the girls were given with the photo. (Copyright, 1964, The Curtis Publishing Co., via AP WIREPHOTO)

April Showers Find State Still Short Of Moisture

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—April showers have failed to supply needed moisture in widespread areas of Texas.

Rains varying from very light to downpours have fallen. These were heaviest from the Brownwood area eastward and northeastward, and at midweek were falling in north and north-east sections.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension service, reported, however, that the statewide soil moisture situation ranges from critical to short. Planting has made good headway, he said, but crops from central areas eastward southward would be materially aided by rain. Ranges all over the state need rain except in areas where showers fell.

The shortage of moisture and high winds are causing Panhandle wheat prospects to deteriorate. Some wheat fields are being sprayed for insect control. Ranges are below average but cattle generally are in fair to good condition.

SOUTH PLAINS
Light rains in the South Plains area failed to leave the needed moisture. Dryland grains need rain. Irrigated fields have reached the boot stage. Cattle have been turned back into over-planted wheat fields. Grain sorghum planting was moving ahead at a fast clip, some cotton had been planted, recent freezes killed some peach blooms. Ranges need rain. The labor shortage is critical in two or more counties.

The entire Rolling Plains District needs rain. Growth of grains has slowed. Wheat is heading in some counties but mites are damaging the crop. Most North Central Texas sorghum and cotton have been planted. Much is up to a good stand and making good growth. Rangelands improved with rain. The condition of livestock was fair.

Parts of Northeast Texas got rain, heavy from Van Zandt County northward. Other counties need moisture. Late frost had delayed vegetables and the strawberry crop. Planting of coastal Bermuda grass is a major activity. Insects are building up in many small grain fields. Pastures and livestock are improving.

Moisture was below normal in far West Texas, where a lot of rain is needed. Irrigated grains are heading, cotton planting is beginning and livestock feeding was needed due to slow growth of grass.

Rains in West Central Texas helped a great deal. Grains and pastures were hurting and moisture was needed for cotton and sorghum planting in some areas. Greenbugs and mites were damaging wheat. Pecans are blooming, livestock conditions are improving and sheep shearing is in full swing.

Northern counties of Central Texas got heavy rains but moisture is short in other counties. More than 30 per cent of the cotton is planted. A good general rain would help cotton which was up. Corn and sorghum are up and growing. Ranges and livestock generally are on the mend. Sheep shearing is well

RANGES NORMAL
Moisture again is short in East Texas but ranges are about normal. Moisture in South Central Texas is especially short for range vegetation. Corn, sorghums and peanuts are all planted. Cotton planting is at the finishing stages. Warm weather and rain would help. Flax looks good and harvesting will start soon. Rice planting is about complete, pecans are blooming, the carrot harvest is about over. The harvesting of strawberries and vegetables goes on at a steady pace.

Except for rice, most farm crops in the upper Gulf Coast and Southeast Texas district have been planted. Rice farmers are busy planting. Most crops are up to a good stand; farmers are baling hay. Livestock in general are in good condition. Most of the district could use a good rain.

Scattered showers in South Texas failed to relieve the severe moisture shortage. Cotton, corn and sorghums were making excellent growth with no serious insect troubles. Vegetable harvesting was slow and the market was weak. Ranges need rain but livestock are in fair to good condition.

Test Airliner Crash Shows 'People' Alive

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Despite the severity of Friday's DC7 airliner crash, safety officials say that if there had been any passengers aboard they could have survived.

They termed the experimental crash "highly successful" and said it was "almost as we planned it."

The crash turned out to be much more severe and spectacular than had been projected. Instead of coming to rest on the side of a 150-foot high hill, the four-engine craft skimmed over the peak and landed on the other side. A fire broke out as the fuselage ruptured, but it apparently caused little damage to the test.

Ike Hoover, an official of the Federal Aviation Agency from Washington, said the crash would have been survivable. He said passengers in the fuselage from the wings back could have lived.

Officials said there was only minimum damage to technical equipment.

It will take about two weeks to compile the data, and another six months to come up with conclusions.

Flight Safety Winner Listed

Falcon Flight of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB won the Flight Safety Trophy for 1963. The flight also won the first quarter award trophy for T-38 Talon flight safety.

Awards for flight safety performance were made by Col. A. F. Tauter, wing commander.

Previously, the award program began in July, 1963 and the trophy was awarded to either a T-37 or T-38 flight with the highest standing.

The awards program was changed in January and the trophy was to be given to the flight that held the highest overall rating for the six-month period.

Falcon Flight had highest overall flight safety standing and was the longest accident free — 29 months on Dec. 31.

The session will be the first for the council since Col. A. F. Tauter has returned here as Webb's wing commander.

Discussions will be largely devoted to plans for annual Armed Services Day. All members of the Council are urged to attend.

Texas Measles Still Rampant

AUSTIN (AP)—The measles outbreak shows no signs of a let-up, the State Health Department said Saturday.

In the latest week for which the department has statistics, the seven-day period that ended April 18, a total of 5,104 cases were reported, nearly five times the five-year average of 1,034.

For the year, 38,139 measles cases have been reported, compared with 11,791 last year.

Accident Fatal

CENTER, Tex. (AP)—J. R. Kirby, 17, of San Augustine was killed Friday night in a two-car accident on U.S. 96 near here. Three persons were injured, one seriously.

Fire Losses Here Reported Down

Fire losses during the first quarter of this year are about one-fourth of the damage registered for the similar period last year, according to A. D. Meador, fire marshal.

He said losses this year include $29,031.28 for damage to buildings, and $2,990.48 damage to contents for a total loss of $32,021.76.

Garden Club Adds New Blossom To Long List

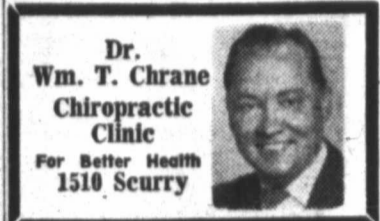

The Big Spring Garden Club, the oldest in years of service among local garden clubs, added two projects in the city during the Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up week, and National "Keep America Beautiful" month. The club has been credited with several projects in civic beautification over the years.

A committee composed of Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Marion Edwards and Mrs. George Peacock, went to work last week and supervised the landscaping and planting of shrubs and flowers, around the flag pole at the front of the administration building at Howard County Junior College.

The second was distribution of anti-litterbug posters to Big Spring schools to be used on bulletin boards. These colored posters point up the cost of litter cleanups all over the nation.

Other projects toward civic beautification, credited to the Garden Club are: promoted landscaping of the courthouse lawn; planted the rose garden in the City Park; shrubs in the planter box at Big Spring High School entrance; planted the rose garden at Big Spring State Hospital; worked with the Garden Club Council to landscape the patio in the rehabilitation center at the state hospital; sponsors a Junior Garden Club of 18 members.

The National Advisory Council, as represented in Big Spring, includes the Congress of Parents and Teachers; Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., and National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Kiwanians unloaded one of many boxes of garments given in drive

Kiwanis Club's Drive Nets Clothes Aplenty For Poor

The Salvation Army storage room of clothing for needy individuals is bulging today. Kind-hearted citizens responded to an appeal sounded by the Kiwanis Club for donations of used clothing in such numbers that the storage facilities were almost too small to handle the boxes and bundles hauled in Saturday.

Dr. H. Clyde Smith, chairman of the Kiwanis Club committee on the old clothes drive, said that he was gratified at the response shown and that Kiwanians, who made the house-to-house canvass of the town, were high in their praise of the cooperativeness shown by the residents.

Capt. William Thomas, commander at the Salvation Army citadel, said that the collection of clothing was just what the organization needed.

"I was delighted to see so many children's garments," he said. "We never have enough clothing for the needy youngsters. This drive, it seems, was particularly fortunate in the

Lamesa's Bank Deposits Stable

LAMESA (SC) — Spring bank deposits remained stable in Lamesa but dipped slightly in figures reported to state and national banking authorities.

Total deposits in Lamesa's two banks were pegged at $29,777,444, down $25,029 from a year ago. The record for a spring call was set in March of 1962 when the two institutions had combined deposits of $30,532,612.

Loans set a new record as the aggregate of $18,835,331 topped the previous mark, set a year ago, by $996,415.

quantity of children's clothing it provided."

He added that the quality and cleanliness of the gifts was also excellent and, on behalf of the Salvation Army and himself, he thanked the public for its generosity and the Kiwanis Club for its part in conducting the pickup.

This is the second year the Kiwanians have made the city-wide canvass for the Salvation Army and this year's results were better this year than last. The canvass this time seems to have been remarkably thorough. Dr. Smith said that less than a dozen calls came to the headquarters concerning bundles overlooked by the club cars on their first rounds.

The collection began at 10 a.m. and the last load reached the Salvation Army at 1:30 p.m.

Optimists To Inspect Bicycles Monday

The Optimist Club of Big Spring will conduct a bicycle safety inspection from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday at all of the local elementary schools.

Children whose bicycles are unsafe will receive advice on the type of repair that is needed. Optimist Clubs over the country have declared this week "Bike Safety Week" and are conducting free inspections in the interest of safety.

A spokesman for the club listed several items on a bicycle which should be checked for safety:

Handle Grips—replace worn grips and cement them tightly onto the handle bars; Saddle—adjust to body and tighten all nuts; Wheels—Eliminate wobble; Tighten wheel nuts and oil bearings; Reflector—Must be visible for 300 feet; Coaster Brake—Must brake evenly and should be adjusted by a mechanic; Chain—Check for damage links and clean and lubricate often. The chain should fit securely on the rotary wheel; Pedals—Lubricate and tighten pedals bearings and spindle and replace worn pedal treads; Crank Hanger—Keep clean and greased, and, if it wobbles, make adjustments; Sprocket

NO danger to eyes from plastic in Contact Lenses, says U. S. agency and others, to U. S. Senate Committee on April 6th, 1964.

THE U. S. FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION: Winton B. Rankin, Assistant Commissioner of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, testified before a U. S. Senate Committee hearing on April 6, 1964: No evidence has been found that the plastic in contact lenses is harmful to the eyes.

DR. MAURICE G. POSTER, CHAIRMAN OF THE AMERICAN OPTOMETRIC ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE ON CONTACT LENSES:

Dr. Poster, in a statement to the U. S. Senate Committee on April 6th, 1964, said that studies of lens materials had disclosed no impurities that could lead to eye damage. Also, he informed, "In all 50 states and the District of Columbia only Optometrists and Ophthalmologists are licensed to prescribe contact lenses. It is the long-standing position of the American Optometric Association that untrained laymen should not be permitted to fit contact lenses or instruct patients in their use, handling and hygiene. It is imperative that only a competent, licensed Optometrist or Ophthalmologist prescribe and fit contact lenses." (* Ophthalmologists and other legally qualified physicians

THE DUPONT COMPANY'S LABORATORY TEST OF CONTACT LENSES:

Mr. George A. Wilkins, Consultant of Technical Services Laboratory for DuPont, revealed the results of a chemical extraction test on contact lenses. He reports as follows: "It is not possible to detect any acidity in plastic contact lenses."

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN HAVING CONTACT LENSES FITTED, but have been frightened away by some recent, misleading news reports, in view of the above facts, you can dismiss your fears about the safety of plastic contact lenses. FOR CONTACT LENSES OF UNSURPASSED QUALITY AND ACCURACY OF PRESCRIPTION, backed by the experience of over 40,000 fittings, visit the DOCTORS OF OPTOMETRY AT TSO. ## Alabaman Nearing 100 Still In Confinement

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Behind the thick, dingy walls of Alabama's state prison is a man whose age is somewhere between 70 and 100. His name is Albert Burkett and he's been an inmate nearly 35 years.

Burkett lives only to be free again; it's the only hope he has. The Pardon Parole Board wants him to be free. But Burkett seems doomed to die in prison.

State law prohibits releasing a prisoner on parole unless he either has a job or has someone to take care of him. Burkett has neither. He's too old to work, and as far as he knows he has no family left. The law also prohibits him from leaving prison for the welfare rolls.

Burkett became involved in a poolroom argument 38 years ago Friday. He shot at a man but missed. He went home, armed himself with a shotgun and a rifle and headed back for the poolroom.

On the way back he encountered two deputy sheriffs who tried to stop him. A gunfight started and Deputy Andy Taylor fell dead. Burkett was sentenced to life in prison.

He was paroled in 1944, but that was revoked when he was arrested for drunkenness. He has not known a day of freedom since. Burkett says he's 98. Prison records list him variously as 92, 93 and 94.

Tech Receives Matador Seal

LUBBOCK (AP) — A major item for the Texas Tech collection about the Matador Land and Cattle Co.—the firm's great seal—has been received. The company which once sprawled over West Texas was liquidated in 1951. Tech has been collecting material on the ranch for a number of years, and has 314,000 pieces of material.

The seal, which contains the image of a large bull, was sent to the collection by J. W. Hatch, director of Lazard Brothers and Co. of London, the syndicate that purchased the land for itself and a number of American corporations.

Sylvan Dunn, collection director, reports that within the space of a few months the seal has been received, a large picture of an old Matador chuck wagon was brought to the collection, and the first major book based on the collection records was completed by Dr. William Pearce, Tech's academic vice president.

A group of Scottish businessmen, lured by reports of fantastic profits in American cattle raising ventures, organized the Matador in 1882. Near disaster came from drought, a drop in cattle prices and a severe blizzard.

The 35th annual meeting at the Howard County Fair Barn was attended by more than 250 members, their families and guests. A big barbecue dinner at 6 p.m. opened the meeting.

At the business session, $16,922.92 in dividend checks were handed to the active members of the organization. These were in two forms—one check which refunded $1 per bale to each member whose ginnings were handled by the plant and a second check for an out and out dividend on the Co-op's profits for the year.

BY-LAWS The members amended the by-laws to enlarge the board of directors to seven members with the president as one member. Four new directors were elected—Leonard Hanson, Ray Russell, Roy Bates Jr. and Jack Buchanan. Saturday afternoon the directors met and elected Buchanan as vice president and Russell as secretary. Lindell Newsom is the Co-op manager. Holdover members are R. E. Haney and L. B. Murphy.

The report made to the stockholders showed the Co-op had a most successful season in 1963. It gained 8,320 bales of cotton and earned a net profit of $26,047.24. The Co-op Gins of Big Spring came into existence in 1929. A group of cotton farmers under-wants him to be free. But Burkett seems doomed to die in prison.

State law prohibits releasing a prisoner on parole unless he either has a job or has someone to take care of him. Burkett has neither. He's too old to work, and as far as he knows he has no family left. The law also prohibits him from leaving prison for the welfare rolls.

Survey Given To Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally said Saturday he has received a final draft of a comprehensive analysis of Texas oil and gas laws.

The survey, prepared by the Texas legal committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, is one of several reports to the governor on oil and gas conservation, Connally said.

"We believe this will be the first thorough-going review of Texas' conservation policies as reflected in the statutes, court decisions and key administrative rules and orders," said Jim Langdon, Railroad Commissioner and committee chairman.

Mrs. Ina Hull Dies Saturday

Big Spring banks were hosts to the visiting delegates. Registration was above the 160 mark. Many of the delegates were accompanied by their wives. Saturday was devoted to a golf tournament on the country club course.

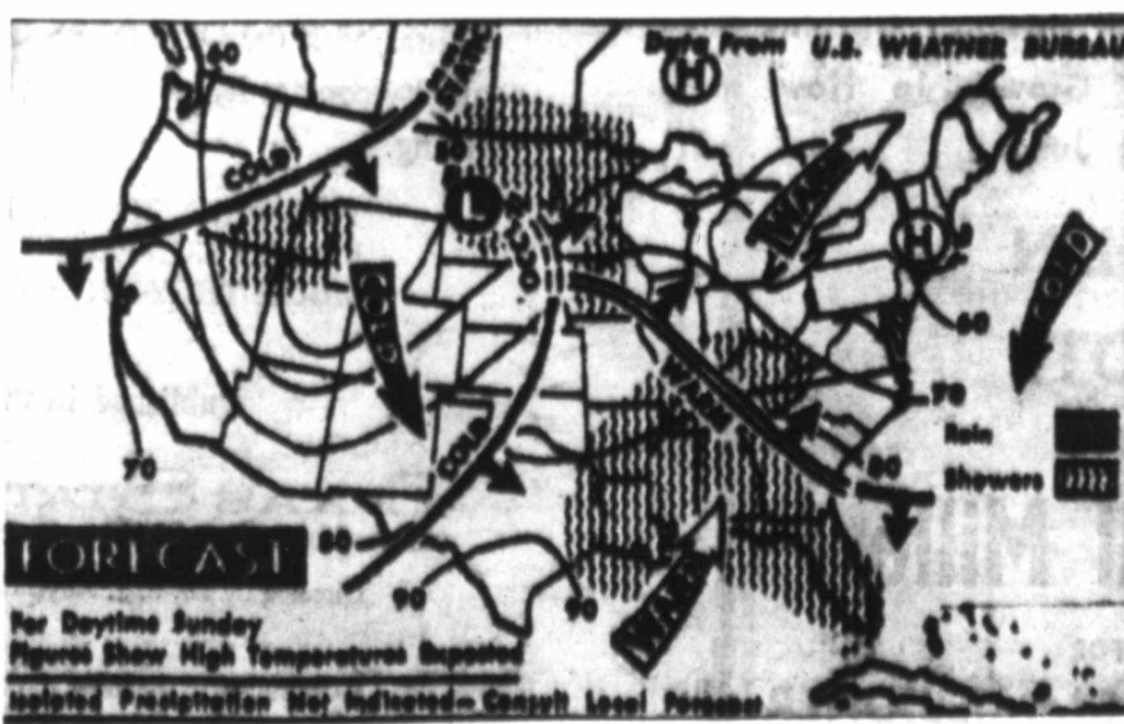

A dinner was served at the club for the visitors and their wives. After the meal, the women were entertained with a style show sponsored by Swartz's Millinery department. The men heard an address by R. H. Weaver, Big Spring attorney, on "Recent Changes in the Rights of Married Women in Contracts."

THE WEEK

bulent winds and terrific hail have accompanied downpours in that area. We did have some good chances here, but the winds were not right. We can't hope for much until the wind gets out of the southwest and west.

Our banks are in good condition, figures announced in response to the April 15 call showed. Deposits of $39,971,903 were up only $265,000 over the call date a year ago, when the date was a full month ahead of income tax paying time. Loans and discounts of $21,163,024 were up by $3,243,827, indicating a lot of capital at work. Cash and bonds together aggregated $25,000,000, so the banks are well fortified with immediate assets.

Our high school band and choir staged an exceptionally fine concert, according to all reports, then took off on a big trip to California. At the end of the week they were living it up, and telling everyone about their hometown.

Howard County Junior College served as host Saturday for the Region VI Class B Interscholastic League meet, and contestants came by the multiplied scores. If league officials were satisfied with operations of the event, perhaps we can have it again some day. We bat our heads sometimes to the town or the college nearly so much good.

Give a pat on the back to the Garden City Players for their benefit program Friday evening at the Big Spring City Auditorium. They went to a lot of trouble, in addition to bringing the show 30 miles, to lend a helping hand to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center. Bless them.

Albert Fierro, the hot-shot passer for the Big Spring Steers, finally signed a letter of intent last week. He is going with the University of Houston and will get to play games in the tremendous dome stadium. With no West Texas winds to bother him, he ought to be Honors were passed around last week at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Mrs. A. W. Moody and Mrs. I. R. Mundi were surprised with outstanding service certificates, and Mrs. Harry Lees received a silver pin for 2,500 hours of service. The Rev. James Puckett got his Wood Badge as a Scout, and those things are few and far between. Pete Perez has been named psychiatric aide of the year at Big Spring State Hospital.

The neighborly spirit of the old West isn't entirely gone. Last week with Joe A. Bayes of the Brown community laid up in the hospital and his land not put up in anticipation of a planting rain, his friends took over. Nine of them came with or sent their tractors, and by noon they had his 320-acre farm plowed.

Walker Bailey Elevated To Co-Op Gin Presidency

Walker Bailey, who has been secretary of the Co-op Gins of Big Spring, is now president of that organization. He was elected to that office Friday night at the 35th annual Stockholders meeting of the organization. He replaces Ross Hill who has served as president for several years.

The 35th annual meeting at the Howard County Fair Barn was attended by more than 250 members, their families and guests. A big barbecue dinner at 6 p.m. opened the meeting. At the business session, $16,922.92 in dividend checks were handed to the active members of the organization. These were in two forms—one check which refunded $1 per bale to each member whose ginnings were handled by the plant and a second check for an out and out dividend on the Co-op's profits for the year.

BY-LAWS The members amended the by-laws to enlarge the board of directors to seven members with the president as one member. Four new directors were elected—Leonard Hanson, Ray Russell, Roy Bates Jr. and Jack Buchanan. Saturday afternoon the directors met and elected Buchanan as vice president and Russell as secretary. Lindell Newsom is the Co-op manager. Holdover members are R. E. Haney and L. B. Murphy. The report made to the stockholders showed the Co-op had a most successful season in 1963. It gained 8,320 bales of cotton and earned a net profit of $26,047.24. The Co-op Gins of Big Spring came into existence in 1929. A group of cotton farmers underwrote the purchase price of gin already in operation here. It is recalled that the underwriters were paid off the first season.

REBUILT In the years that have passed the gin has been rebuilt and modernized on several occasions. The Co-op has purchased a second gin and both operated at top speed last year. The assets of the Co-op were listed in the financial report at $175,110.04. The organization owes $51,402.

Two charter members of the Co-op are still active in the organization—Walter Robinson, who was the first president and his brother Charlie Robinson. Special guests at the Co-op meeting were C. E. Bowles, with the Marketing Association Cotton Co-op, Lubbock; Dick McClung, Plains Co-op Oil Mill, Lubbock; Gene Howard, Plains Cooperative Compress, Sweetwater and George Babcock, with the Texas Plant Seed Association, Lubbock. All spoke briefly.

Welcome TO

BIG SPRING

WEBB PILOT TRAINING CLASS 65-G

Big Spring and all its people extend the friendly hand of a West Texas welcome to the student pilots of Webb's Class 65-G. These young men, here for a complete course of primary and basic jet-flying instruction, become citizens of our city for more than a year, and it is our earnest hope that they will find here a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere; and that when they must leave, they will do so with a kind feeling in their hearts for Big Spring, its business establishments, and all its population.

May we urge our new student pilots, as time permits them, to become acquainted with our town, to know about the churches and the schools, the facilities for leisure and enjoyment, the shops and the service establishments.

Particularly do we ask them to drop in and see us, just to let us get acquainted, and say in person what we are saying here. There's no obligation to buy at any time . . . we want to be of service, and of assistance if we can.

Yes, it's all wrapped up in one wholesome, hearty word . . . "WELCOME!"

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

Normalcy Back For California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Preparations for California's June 2 presidential primary returned to near normal today. But Harold Stassen, who stalled election machinery for two days in an attempt to get on the Republican ballot, vowed to keep trying.

The U.S. Supreme Court Friday turned down Stassen's appeal for a place on the ballot.

California's Supreme Court had previously upheld Secretary of State Frank Jordan's refusal to list Stassen. Jordan said the former Minnesota governor had fallen short of the required number of certified signatures.

But Stassen told a Republican editors' meeting in French Lick, Ind., Friday night that he has uncovered "new evidence" and will continue his investigation into what he called "unfair, wrongful and high-handed" action.

He did not say what the evidence was, or what his next step might be.

Jordan ordered clerks of the 58 counties to go ahead with printing of Republican ballots after he was informed of the high court's 6-3 decision, issued without comment.

But he advised waiting on Democratic ballots pending the outcome of a similar court action by Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles. Yorty seeks to qualify a slate of delegates to oppose Gov. Edmund G. Brown on the Democratic ballot.

U.S. Sen. Clair Engle's return to a Washington hospital complicated the Democratic picture. Brain surgery last August left the California Democrat partially paralyzed and with a speech difficulty. Some party leaders have questioned his ability to campaign.

Paul Green, Engle's press aide, said the latest operation was successful, but did not give any details. However the senator's campaign chairman, Assemblyman Tom Carrell, said he assumed it was further brain surgery to cure the paralysis. He said Engle's campaign would proceed "unless there is a sudden change."

Wing Review Is Scheduled

A full scale graduation review honoring members of Pilot Training Class 64-G will be one of the highlights Saturday, May 9, when Webb AFB observes Armed Forces Day.

This, as has been the custom, will be open house at the base, and residents in this general area are invited to witness the colorful review and to inspect the numerous static exhibits, facilities and to see other demonstrations.

Flyovers by Webb AFB aircraft and representative aircraft from Tactical Air Command, Military Air Transport Service, and Strategic Air Command will be spaced at intervals between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

The graduation review is scheduled to get under way at 9 a.m. on May 9, and Col. A. F. Tauter, wing commander, expressed the hope that a large crowd would be on hand to witness this event and others scheduled for the day.

Ag Extension 50 Years Old

WASHINGTON (AP)—American agriculture observes next month the 50th anniversary of a unique educational system that has played a major role in the fabulous growth of the nation's farm productive capacity.

May 8 will be the half-century mark for the Agriculture Department's cooperative Extension Service—an agency which carries new knowledge of agriculture and new farming techniques to farmers. This knowledge and new techniques—flowing from work of scientists and experiments—have made this country's agriculture the envy of the world.

Founded in 1914, the Extension Service is a cooperative effort of federal, state and local people. At the top, is the federal Extension Service, in the middle is the state Extension Service and at the bottom, working directly with farmers and their wives, are the county agricultural extension and home demonstration agents.

The extension work is financed through federal-state-local funds—38 per cent federal, 39 per cent state and 23 per cent local. The federal share is about $80 million a year.

The educational work is carried on by a professional staff of nearly 15,000 and reaches into nearly all of the nation's 3,150 counties. A big factor making the extension service program possible is the sizable number of local lay leaders—totaling more than 1,000,000—that help direct and carry out its work.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Fliers Make Big Haul On Mexico Fish Trip

By M. A. WEBB

Eight Big Spring men, flying in two airplanes piloted by Clyde McMahon Sr. and Dr. P. W. Malone, came home Monday from a fishing trip to Guaymas, Mexico. They brought about 80 pounds of sea bass and yellowtail filets back with them. The catch, before being dressed, ran to around 250 pounds. Those traveling the 800 air miles were, besides the pilots, J. D. Elliott, Dub Caldwell, K. H. McGibbon, Lewis Price, Clyde Affgel and Roy Reeder.

Twenty Army helicopters on Desert Strike maneuvers in Arizona, stopped for servicing and refueling at Howard County Airport Thursday afternoon. The first six came in at 4:30 p.m. and the others at 30-minute intervals. Howard Loyd, airport manager, said the pilots told him they would be on the return trip in about a month.

Mike Donica, working toward his pilot's license under Loyd, made his first solo flight Thursday in a Piper Colt.

Dr. Clyde Thomas and Dr. P. W. Malone flew to the Texas Medical Association meeting in Houston this weekend. Other physicians going went by other transportation.

A sort of fishy story comes from the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Albuquerque, N. M. Intermountain Aviation, Inc., of Arizona won the contract to fly six million fish from Texas, Oklahoma and Arizona airfields and drop them into Lake Powell. This is the new lake on the Colorado River in Arizona and Utah behind the Glen Canyon dam.

A Wright C-46, equipped with four 500-gallon tanks, will make the first flight from Hondo at dawn next Wednesday. The water will be pre-cooled before loading, and oxygen will be introduced during flight. The plane will carry a million black bass. Subsequent drops will be out of Winslow, Ariz., with two million rainbow trout; another from Kingman with two million more rainbows, and the final from Ardmore, Okla., with another million bass.

Dr. Randolph Lovelace II, world's outstanding authority on aero-space and aviation research, will be honored at a reception and dinner at Scharbauer Hotel, Midland, April 27, beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Permian Basin Aviation Association will sponsor the gathering. Members of the medical profession, aviation enthusiasts, professional air force, journalists, professional scientists and interested laymen are invited.

Dr. Lovelace pioneered in space survival tests in 1943 when he jumped from a Flying Fortress at 40,200 feet on his first parachute jump, and landed 24 minutes later with a hand frozen. He lost a glove but proved that man could survive in space.

Warren Spahn Grabs First Win Of Year

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn fired a four-hitter for his first victory of the season and No. 351 of his career Saturday as the Braves dealt the staggering Los Angeles Dodgers another setback, 5-1.

The Dodgers, who have won only two of 11 games in defense of the National League pennant, suffered another crushing blow when southpaw Johnny Podres was hit on the left elbow by a Spahn pitch in the third inning.

Podres, making his first appearance of the year after overcoming arm trouble, left the game. However, X-rays disclosed only a severe bruise. Earlier this week, the Dodgers lost their ace southpaw, Sandy Koufax, for an undetermined length of time, when he suffered an injury to his pitching arm. He was hit on the left wrist.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Two dozen men have made application for the head basketball coaching job here vacated recently by Delnor Poss but one, Bill Vennor of Sul Ross College, withdrew after accepting the coaching job at Mac-

Arthur High School in Irving. . . If the job of athletic trainer opens up at the local school, and indications are it will be, one of the men interested is now in the Amarillo school system. . . Two other trainers have said they would be receptive to offers. . . If Big Spring's Albert Fierro receives an invitation to play in the Texas Coaches Association All-Star football game, he'd pass up that offer to perform in the Pennsylvania-Texas All-Star game in Harrisburg, Pa. . . This fall's Texas Western College football team, some observers say, may emerge as one of the most exciting in the school's history. . . Three Big Spring boys — quarterback Jerry Tucker and guards Jack Irons and Buster Barnes — will be members of the team, which opens play Sept. 19 in Denton against North Texas State. . . Some of the Miner veterans would trade bites with a tiger shark. . . TWC has abandoned its Winged T formation for the unbalanced line operating in front of an I formation. . . Tucker completed 70 passes in 131 attempts for 865 yards and three touchdowns last season. . . In addition, he led the team in scoring with 24 points. . . His leading receiver was Jimmy Evans, also of Big Spring, who picked off 36 aerials for gains totaling 480 yards and two TD's. . . Tommy Houston, 190-pounder from Overton, and two Hutchinson, Kansas, products, Ray Seymour and Joe Harrison, apparently will be Tucker's chief competition for the quarterbacking job at the El Paso school. . . Upwards to 35 women will compete in that $9,000 Midland Women's Golf tournament, scheduled for Nov. 5-8. . . The touring pros will be en route from Las Cruces, N.M., to the annual San Antonio Open.

Rice, Arkansas Will Vote 'No'

Chicago doctors feared once last year that the Cub's Ernie Banks had leukemia. . . Although the Rice University newspaper came out recently editorially for the University of Houston's admission into the Southwest Conference, the Houston U. people know that the two schools which would vote against them are Rice and Arkansas. . . Prospects for Houston's admission are brighter than they have been in some time, however. . . Wimpy McGuire, a former Big Spring athlete, visited relatives and friends in this area recently. . . He's now a carpenter, living in Palo Alto, Calif. . . Shed no tears for Sam Snead, the veteran linkster. . . He's president of seven corporations that gives him a gross income of more than $200,000 a year. . . Carl Furille, the former Dodger, now operates a grocery store in Flushing, N. Y., from which he can see Shea Stadium. . . He says he has no interest in adult baseball now. . . When the SMU alumni in Houston honored Matty Bell recently, one of the committee planning the party was Tom Gentry, whose father was principal of the local schools at one time. . . Carl Cook, the Odessa Permian baseball coach, says the San Angelo Bobcats (who play here Tuesday) have a better team than they had last year. . . Davis Love Jr., one of the first round leaders in the Masters Golf tournament, was born in San Antonio. . . The National Basketball Association may locate a franchise in this state in half a dozen years. . . The automobile Jim Hurtubise will drive at Indianapolis this year is called the Tomstone Life Special. . . They had to dig deep for that one. . . In case you've lost track of Harry (Suitcase) Simpson, the old fly-chaser, he's now performing in Mexico. . . Johnny Griffin, the former University of Georgia football coach, recently accepted a position as an associate member of an Atlanta insurance agency.

Bourland Has 'Killer Instinct'

Big Spring's R. L. Lasater, star of the East Texas College track team, will compete in the NAIA meet in Sioux Falls, S. D., June 5-6. . . That 9.9 100-meter race Lasater ran recently marked only the second time he had ever competed in the event. . . This one simply was a continuation of the 100-yard dash, in which Lasater was timed in 9.3. . . The last time any South-west Conference team other than Texas or Arkansas won an outright football championship was 1958, when TCU prevailed. . . Clyde Hart, the Baylor coach, believes he has found in freshman Dick Bourland the type of boy one needs to have for a great relay team. . . "He's got killer instinct," says Hart. . . Bourland is the boy who almost caught RCJC's Steve Langham in a mile relay event in the Texas Relays. . . A short time later, however, when they competed in an open 440, Langham showed Bourland his heels. . . Shortly before shoving off for the Drake Relays, the University of Houston shuttle hurdles relay team ran an electrifying 59.5 in practice, a tenth of a second over the Drake record. . . The National collegiate record is 57.5, set by Winston-Salem at Philadelphia in 1959. . . Two members of the Houston team, Tommy Wise and Kenneth Windham, wore HCJC colors in the National Juco meet here last year. . . USC's tennis team recently suffered a defeat for the first time in 33 matches. . . UCLA turned the trick. . . Some of the sponsors of the recent Houston Golf Open grumbled behind the scenes because such big-name players as Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Tony Lama, Billy Casper, Mason Rudolph and Tommy Jacobs didn't enter. . . For that reason, the dates for the Houston tournament may be shifted so that it doesn't follow the Masters by a week. . . Melton McMorris, the Martin County fight impresario, hopes to book a couple of his tigers into San Antonio shortly.

FRESH FROM 9.3 100

Lasater Eyeing Olympic Trials

R. L. Lasater, Big Spring's candidate for the "world's fastest human" honor will take part in the Olympic tryouts this summer with an eye on a trip to the International Games in Tokyo.

The 150-pound greyhound, a junior student at East Texas State College in Commerce, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Lasater, in the Klondike area this weekend. He and his teammates were given a rare weekend off by coach Delmer Brown before resuming competition in the Northeast Louisiana Invitational meet at Monroe, La., starting next Friday.

Only last week, R. L. bettered the world record in the 100 meters run in a meet held in Commerce, covering the distance in 9.9 seconds. He was favored by a slight tail wind and reasons it might have helped him by a tenth of a second, certainly no more.

Lasater and his fellow Lions are favored to win the 1964 Lone Star Conference meet at Nacogdoches May 8-9. The Big Spring product has twice been named the outstanding entry in that cinder shoe.

Lamar Tech in Beaumont is staging an invitational May 22-23 and the Lions will be present for that event. Then comes the Meet of Champions at Houston the last weekend in May and ultimately the NAIA meet in Sioux Falls, S.D., June 5-6, after which the Olympic trials take place.

Lasater, an All-American in high school, has added to his trunkful of trophies and medals with some spectacular victories this spring.

He was favoring a pulled muscle in his leg and didn't get to enter at Fort Worth but he ran a 9.4 record century in the All-College meet early in March at his home base and had a leg on the record-setting mile relay team that day.

He was second in the 100 in the West Texas Relays but ran on the winning 880-yard and mile relay teams at Odessa.

In the East Texas Relays in Commerce March 21, he won the 100 and 220 and had legs on two winning relay teams—the 440 and mile.

In the Texas Relays, he was second in the 100 after turning in a 9.4 effort in the prelims. (His time in the finals: 9.6.) Bill Stebbins of Grambling College beat him out.

In the Brownwood Invitational, he won the 100 and a mixup among the timers cost him a victory in the 220. They took away a full second from the time given to a competitor running in another time heat. He also ran on the winning sprint relay and mile relay teams that day.

Last week, he never ran better. He was timed in a wind-aided 9.3 hundred, in addition to the record breaking 100 meters. Also, he competed with the mile relay team which wound up first and for the second place sprint relay team. In the latter event, he made up all but a foot of a 12-yard deficit after taking the baton.

One clocker caught him at 9.3 for the 100 yards and two watches at 9.9 in the 100 meters. Few men anywhere have ever traveled faster afoot.

During the summers, R. L. helps his father farm several hundred acres of irrigated cotton. He likes the work and says he may take up that as a career when he leaves school. He also likes Big Spring and says it is conceivable he could settle here.

Although he dates Sylvia Garland, he says he has no marriage plans at the present time. "I'll have time to think about that when I leave school," he said.

At one time, he thought about coaching and teaching as a vocation but he said Saturday he'll be quite ready to enter another field after departing classes.

Lasater was widely famed for his slow starts and explosive finishes while competing for Big Spring High School but he says he has improved his getaways this spring and the results show in his improved times. Presently, he extends his arms almost directly under his body and recoils with more power and a smoother getaway at the start-er's gun.

Troubles Mount For Champions

Kentucky Run May Be Two-Horse Race

By KESLO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Will Watch Derby On TV

Tollie Jester, lone three-year-old at Sunland Park nominated for the Kentucky Derby, will miss the Louisville classic because of an injury. However, the Bradford horses as Hill Rise, the 8-5 Derby choice, and Northern Dancer, would scare off the opposition. But it didn't happen this year.

And if recent Derbies mean anything, those who decided to tackle the big two in the $125,000-added Derby have made the right decision. Carry Back and Tommy Lee are the only favorites in the past seven years to win the Derby.

The last two years showed that being a heavy choice to win the first jewel of the triple crown is little guarantee of success. In 1962 Ridan was the overwhelming favorite, but finished third. Last year was billed as the battle between Candy Spots, Never Bend and No Robbery, but all trailed Chat-eaugay to the wire.

Hill Rise, a California campaigner, and Northern Dancer, the richest horse in Canadian history, are perfect pictures of contrast in physical structure. Hill Rise owned by El Peco Ranch, which sent Decidedly to victory in the Derby two years ago, is a big strong colt. Northern Dancer, owned by J. P. Taylor's Windfields Farm of Toronto is a little colt. His biggest asset is his heart. He just doesn't know when to quit.

Other horses given a good chance of knocking down the top two are Rex Ellsworth's The Scoundrel, Rokeby Stable's Quadrangle, Cecil Carmis' Dandy K., Harbor View Farm's Roman Brother, Roy Sturgis' Mr. Brick and Mrs. Magruder Dent's Mr. Moonlight.

Others considered probable starters are Grand Garcon, Big Brigade, Clem Pac, Ishkoodah, Royal Church, He's a Gem, Extra Swell and Admiral Heart.

Listed as doubtful are Prince Davelle, the Arkansas Derby winner; Calumet Farm's Kentucky Jug, Dixiana Farm's Allen Adair, Dor-Mat-Pat Stable's Dunfee and Darby Dan Farm's Saltville.

Hill Rise, who has won seven straight races, will be ridden by Willie Shoemaker. The Shoe, who has been riding Northern Dancer, changed mounts without ever riding Hill Rise.

Northern Dancer, who has breezed past the best colts from New York to Florida, had victories in the Florida Derby and the Flamingo Stakes. He will be ridden by Bill Hartack.

Quadrangle, who ran a powerful race to win the Wood Memorial, and the Scoundrel, who ran a bang-up second to Northern Dancer in the Florida Derby, look like the biggest threats to the big two.

The sentimental favorite for the Run for the Roses will be Admiral's Heart, a sickly, bony little colt who is listed at 1,000-1 in the future book. The colt is winless in two starts, but the six Nocero brothers who own him are determined to send him to the Derby, if he says healthy that long.

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The probable start for the 90th Kentucky Derby May 2 with jockeys and owners.

Bowles; Admiral's Heart, no boy, Roger Nocero; Prince Davelle, Charley Burr, George Heitsinger; Royal Church, Harrel Ballin, E.A. Dost.

Dill Anxious To Advertise His Home Town

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Terry Dill, who wants to win in golf so he can advertise his home town of Muleshoe, Tex., was the sensation of the Texas open today.

Terry represents the Muleshoe Country Club for nothing because "they are such good people." And he talks at length on the little town in West Texas that was carved out of the famous XIT ranch.

"I have heard it was named Muleshoe because a mule lost a shoe there once," said Terry as he talked to the press following his second straight three-under-par 67 that put him into a tie with former National Open champion Gene Littler for the 36-hole lead.

He entertained the press with a sketch of his life in Muleshoe where he learned to play golf as a caddy.

"My father told me to go to work and I got a job in a grocery. But it only paid 25 cents an hour. Gosh, you had to work eight hours to make two dollars and I said that's not for me. So I went out to the golf course where you could make $4 to $5 in an afternoon and play golf, too."

Terry got so good the University of Texas called him in to play golf and one thing led to another—mainly Dill's start of the PGA tour three years ago.

The most he has won was $1,800 at Oklahoma City in 1962. But he said that ran out in about a month. "I got to spending too much on the girls," he explained. "So I quit the girls—I can't afford 'em."

This year he hasn't won a dime on the tour except what he could pick up in a pro-ammateur but he seems to be in line for a good check in the Texas Open.

Terry says helpful folks almost helped him off the tour giving him advice. But his coach, Harvey Penick of the University of Texas, said "start playing like Terry Dill instead of imitating whoever you have been trying to imitate."

So Terry wouldn't be surprised if he isn't on his way to glory in golf—the glory of Muleshoe.

Pro Gridder Victim Of Own Popularity

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Budde, a rookie guard of the American Football League's Kansas City Chiefs, had his skull cracked last month by an 18-inch piece of pipe during a brawl in a Kansas City tavern.

On New Year's Eve, Tony Parilli, a former member of the Washington Redskins, was killed by a policeman when he, Parilli, was involved in a fight in a suburban Chicago bowling alley.

Two teammates of the Philadelphia Eagles, halfback Ben Scotti and center John Mellekas, staged a vicious fight in a hotel room as the result of a derogatory remark.

Cookie Gilchrist, the Buffalo Bills' slashing runner, was arrested for resisting and assaulting an officer. The giant NFL tackle, Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, died of an overdose of narcotics.

Two of the NFL's brightest stars, halfback Paul Hornung, Golden Boy of Green Bay, and defensive tackle Alex Karras of Detroit, were suspended a year for betting on games. Other players have been disciplined and warned about association with unsavory characters.

What manner of men, anyway, are these muscle young stalwarts who ply their bonerattling trade on Sunday afternoon before packed arenas and millions of television viewers?

Are they carrying the vicious violence of the football field into their daily lives? Are they dangerous, unfettered animals loose on the city streets?

Is the prosperous, widely popular sport in danger of losing its national image because of this growing wave of indiscretions?

Not at all, say Commissioners Pete Rozelle of the National Football League and Joe Foss of the American League, the men saddled with the responsibility of becoming the image of the game.

Rozelle contends that the pro football star is the innocent victim of the intense popularity of the sport itself.

"The incidents involving pro football players are rather infrequent," Rozelle said. "However, when they occur, the intense popularity of the sport and its participants incurs considerable publicity."

"The typical pro is well-educated and exercises good judgment."

Bumps Are Gone On Indy Track

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Speedway will open for its 54th season Friday with the bumps gone from the backstretch, the seating capacity expanded to 140,000, and the front-engine versus rear-engine argument headed for a showdown.

Jimmy Clark of Scotland, who dominated world road racing last year, also shook up American closed courses—notably by finishing a close second to Parnelli Jones in the Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day.

Clark drove a rear-engine Lotus-Ford, Jones a conventional but highly modified front-engine Watson-Offenhauser.

The reliable old four-cylinder Offenhauser rear-engines have been put in a dozen American-built cars this year. Two have been driven at fantastic practice speeds by A. J. Foyt and Len Sutton.

Ten rear-engine cars will carry a new Ford engine, including a couple of Colin Chapman's Lotus.

tuses from London with Clark and Dan Gurney as the drivers.

There also is a rear-engine Chevrolet, along with a couple of front-engine Studebaker-Novis, one with a four-wheel drive.

There still are 34 conventional Indianapolis roadsters, with Offenhauser engines up front, among the 60 entries which will be permitted to start practice and drivers' tests Friday.

The argument over cars still is so far from settled that owners have entered both roadsters and new rear-engine cars for eight drivers — Jones, Roger Ward, Don Branson, Roger McCluskey, Johnny Rutherford, Bobby Marshman, Chuck Hulise and rookie Bob Wente.

There's no argument so far as the 43-year-old Ward is concerned. The two-time 500 winner is convinced the rear-engine cars are here to stay.

It will be a month of experiments. The experimenters will include at least four former winners, Ward, Foyt, Jones and Troy Ruttman. Jim Rathmann, another former winner, hasn't been nominated but he'll probably get a ride in the chase after Memorial Day's half-million-dollar purse.

Charley Johnson Stunned By Ovation At Banquet

The Daily Herald points with pride to an article which appeared in a recent edition of the El Paso Times about one of Big Spring's favorite sons, Charley Johnson of pro football fame, and reports it here.

UNIVERSITY PARK, N.M. — "I just thought I'd come down here and tell a few jokes and that's about all," the gentle-looking young man, now almost blushing, told his audience here Friday night. "I never expected anything like this. I just don't know what to say."

It wasn't an ordinary young man stammering his way out of an overwhelming situation. He conducts a Sunday School class with aplomb; he is nearing his Ph.D. in a little-known branch of chemistry; and he is rated one of the finest and potentially one of the greatest quarterbacks in National Football League history.

Charley Johnson came back to University Park, to New Mexico State University. Ostensibly he was to be the featured speaker and to show films of St. Louis Cardinal football games as part of the annual awards banquet staged by the Aggie Booster Club.

But it turned out to be a tribute to Charley Johnson. And it overwhelmed the soft-spoken youngster from Big Spring, who found additional joy in the fact his parents could be in the crowd of 496 folks who turned out for the occasion. It was the largest banquet crowd ever assembled at New Mexico State.

GOT RISING OVATION
To begin with, Charley was given a rising ovation when he was introduced by Dr. Roger Corbett, president of New Mexico State. And Dr. Corbett was not stinting in his praises. He expressed openly the admiration which was felt by the assembled audience.

Later, after his "speech," Major General Pershing Jolly, on behalf of New Mexico Gov. Jack Campbell, read a proclamation making Friday "Charley Johnson Day" throughout New Mexico.

And the frosting of the cake came when coach Warren Woodson announced the retirement of No. 33—Charley Johnson's old number—from play at New Mexico State, and handed him the jersey.

It was almost too much for the quiet young man who can handle huge scientific terms and huge opposing linemen with equal facility. He was close to choking up when he received the jersey.

Charley didn't make a speech. He just talked to the crowd, as though to a handful of friends. They loved it.

He credited Woodson with the creation in him of the fierce competitive spirit which turns professional football players from seemingly lazy louts during the football camps into veritable supermen when the season actually opens.

"to do everything the best I possibly can."

"My father tried to teach this to me," he said, "but he was a little sparing on my feelings. But at the same time I came to New Mexico State another man arrived, and he was not so easy on my feelings. He taught me to never leave the field feeling unhappy, or feeling they couldn't do a little better."

As for the St. Louis Cardinals, Johnson said they had had a 4-9-1 record his first year with the club, improved to a 9-5 mark with a shot at the title until late in the season last year, and this season "we're a cinch."

Woodson introduced to the banquet audience the lettermen from the 1963 Aggie team and also presented a number of junior college transfers and special guests from high school teams from the Southwest.

Dennis Ganstine, selected by a pre-banquet program ballot, was named the outstanding senior athlete.

Basketball coach Presley Askew introduced the cage lettermen, and also introduced as special guests some freshmen expected to enroll here next fall. Included was 7 foot 3 John Spears from a Mississippi high school.

After the banquet and the speeches and the ovations, and while the crowd was dispersing to the auditorium to watch the films, Charley Johnson was still shaking his head.

"I just don't know what to say," he murmured.

DIDN'T SPARE FEELINGS
He explained it as the desire to do everything the best I possibly can."

to do everything the best I possibly can."

Is Windbreaker Portion Of Baseball Uniform?

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Bobby Bragan of the Milwaukee Braves has raised an interesting question: When is a major league baseball player in uniform?

Bragan lodged a formal game protest on the grounds that Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills was out of uniform for wearing a windbreaker under his uniform shirt Friday night during the Braves' 6-3 victory over the Dodgers.

The Braves' triumph wiped out the protest announced by plate umpire Al Forman with the score tied 2-2 in the top of the third.

However, it stirred up plenty of comment about the section of Rule 1.11 which reads: "No player whose uniform does not conform to that of his teammates shall be allowed to participate in a game."

Bragan noticed the sleeves of the windbreaker bulging from under the short sleeves of Wills' shirt in the first inning—when the temperature was 37 degrees. The umpires had a lengthy discussion with Wills and Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston and decided to let the Dodger shortstop wear the jacket after he pushed up the sleeves.

"I finally decided to play the game under protest," Bragan explained later. "I admit it was a technicality, but legally you can't wear something that sticks out. If he wore the windbreaker so it didn't bulge, it might have been okay. As it was, I didn't want to take a chance on him getting hit by a pitch on the jacket's sleeve and then being awarded the base."

Wills said the umpires "just told me to tuck the jacket sleeves under my shirt."

"I've worn the jacket before during cold weather."

"The Braves just wanted to have something to pop off about."

Leo Durocher, the Los Angeles third base coach, was ejected in the last of the fifth for uncomplimentary remarks to Forman.

After the Braves' protest was announced, Durocher contended the Milwaukee batters should be barred from wearing a glove at the plate.

A few of the Dodgers also wore a protective glove.

The game was reset for 4 p.m. Thursday, which means that the Steers will be playing three times the coming week.

The Longhorns next see action here Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock against the league leading San Angelo Bobcats.

Roy Baird's Longhorns wind up the week's play by starting second round play against Lee in Midland next Saturday.

Freddie Mears, a strong arm righthander who has had an ailing flipper, probably will be on the firing line against San Angelo Tuesday. If he isn't pronounced ready, chances are Charley Burdett will get the mound call.

Drilling Prospects Look Encouraging

HOUSTON (AP) — Oilwell drilling contractors are encouraged.

More rotary drilling rigs have been in use this year than in the early weeks of 1963. The American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors credits the substantial boost in operations to a flurry of activity in Ohio and southern Louisiana.

The association's "Drilling Contractor" says January-March rotary rig activity this year probably averaged about 1,425 to 1,430, compared to 1,394 in 1963.

"The fact rotary rig activity has not fallen to the low level which was experienced last year is encouraging," the publication said.

"The lowest level of rig activity so far this year has been the 1,358 rigs on February 10, contrasted with a low of 1,306 in late January, 1963."

Warren Baker, executive vice president of the contractor trade group, said 1964 rotary rig activity would be very low without the increases in Ohio and south Louisiana.

"These two areas have 125 more rigs running than a year ago," Baker said. "But the United States total is only 50 higher than a year ago. Large decreases in some other areas darkened the local picture."

An oil drilling boom has been under way in Morrow County, Ohio since last fall.

"The situation in Ohio is amazing for several reasons," Baker said. "It is one of the older producing states and nothing spectacular has happened there in a long time, furthermore, cable tools have always been predominant in that area until now."

Baker said there were 96 active rotary rigs in Ohio on March 23 compared to an average of 5 to 10 a year ago.

South Louisiana had 162 rigs operating March 30 compared to 143 a year earlier.

"South Louisiana has the greatest concentration of rig activity in the nation," Baker said. "All phases of south Louisiana rotary rig activity are up from last year."

Baker said Oklahoma and Colorado have experienced some increase in rig activity but Texas has suffered the largest decrease.

"The 461 active Texas rotaries on March 30 were 38 below year earlier levels," he said.

The Oil and Gas Journal indicated well completions in the United States April 11 totaled 11,409, compared to 12,167 a year earlier.

L. M. SHURTLEFF

Fina Driver Is Honored For Life Saving Action

DALLAS — L. M. (Jim) Shurtleff, an American Petrofina truck operator from Mt. Pleasant, has been named Texas truck driver of the year by the Texas Motor Transportation Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Shurtleff's honor came as a result of action taken on Aug. 15, 1963, when he pulled a passenger from a wrecked, burning automobile five miles north of Gilmer. The passenger, William T. Lowrey of Hallsville, was trapped in the back seat of the wrecked car with a broken hip and in an unconscious state. Highway patrolmen investigating the accident credited Shurtleff's action with saving Lowrey's life. The official award will be made to Shurtleff at a TMTA meeting in Corpus Christi in June.

erty Oil Company, an American Petrofina predecessor in March, 1950. He has compiled a record of eleven years and over 1,100,000 miles of safe driving. During that time he has had no moving violations. He hauls both gasoline and asphalt for American Petrofina from its Mt. Pleasant refinery.

This is the second time a Fina driver has been rewarded for his safe driving in recent years. Russell Brown was named National Driver of the Year in 1960. Brown is also headquartered at Mt. Pleasant.

RECENT QUOTABLE QUOTES

Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon, talking about oil wastes and water pollution: "It used to be said that the safest political platform was one that came out strong for God, Mother and the Flag. In Texas, it is now highly desirable to add: 'and against water pollution.' I'd like the record to show that I am against it, too."

"Fresh water supplies must and will be protected to the extent of the Commission's scope and authority."

Lt. Gen. William O. Senter of the Defense Department talking about the oil industry:

"Our methods and procedures and our degree of preparedness received a realistic workout during the Cuban crisis. The emergency was a real object lesson to the fact that petroleum continues to be the critical item of supply which concerns every commander. The explanation is obvious — petroleum availability is the limiting factor to the capacity to wage modern war. . . . There won't be one plane, tank or ship immobilized for lack of adequate petroleum logistics planning during the early — and critical — and perhaps decisive phase — of a nuclear war."

"We fully recognize that an extended emergency demands adequate petroleum products for the civilian economy if the military effort is to be industrially supported. Information available today indicates that, with few exceptions, military equipment will continue to derive energy from liquid petroleum and its products for some time to come."

Meeting Is Slated In Odessa, May 15

Water resources in West Texas and new developments in controllers and analyzers will share the spotlight on the program for the annual Permian Basin regional meeting of the Natural Gas Processors Association, scheduled May 15, at the Lincoln Hotel, Odessa.

The principal speaker of the one day meeting will be Jerome J. O'Brien, vice president, Union Bank, Los Angeles, Calif., who also is a recent director of the Office of Oil and Gas, Department of Interior. Sharing the platform with O'Brien will be E. W. Kilgren, chief plant engineer, Pan American Petroleum Corp., an NGPA vice president, who will open the morning session for the technical program.

The morning session in addition to a discussion of water resources and water problems in West Texas by Col. E. V. Spence, Colorado River Municipal Water District, Big Spring, will include "Design Operation and Economics of Anhydrous Ammonia Plants" by Roy Campbell, Leibrock, Landreth, Campbell and Callaway, Midland, and "Recent Developments in Electronic Ignition," by Ralph Warner, American Bosch Arma Corp., Springfield, Mass.

Following O'Brien on the afternoon session will be a panel discussion "New Developments in Controllers and Analyzers"

Secret Wildcat Begins Boom

VICTORIA (AP)—A wildcat oil well being drilled under tight security wraps, has set off a boom in land leasing in this area and has caused widespread speculation.

The Amerada R. F. Tally No. 1 is in the Wood HI community.

The extra-deep wildcat nine miles southeast of here is reported to have a permit for 22,000 feet, and speculation is that the well may be drilled in excess of 25,000.

The exploration has already created boom signs with lease and royalty transactions of such magnitude to indicate this will not be an ordinary year for the area petroleum industry, already a major contributor to the economy.

Talk of leases selling as high as $50 an acre is not uncommon now. There are unconfirmed reports circulating that $300 and more has been paid recently per royalty acre.

Increase Is Being Noted

An increase of 21 units was noted on the Friday survey by Reed Roller Bit Co. of rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin Empire.

The total was 212 as compared with 191 a week earlier and was two below the 214 recorded on the comparable 1963 count.

Lea County, N. M., the largest and most active county in the region, gained four, moving from 35 to 39 to retain first place on the tally.

Pecos County showed an increase of two, jumping from 18 to 20, to take second position and Ector County with 15, an increase of four over 11 units the prior week, was third.

The county-by-county tabulation, with last week's figures in parenthesis, is:

Young Laborer Booked In For Career Girls Murders

NEW YORK (AP)—A 19-year-old unemployed laborer was charged with homicide today in the brutal slayings of career girls Janice Wylie and Emily Hoffert last Aug. 28 in their upper East Side Manhattan apartment.

The suspect, George Whitmore Jr., a Negro, stood poked-faced in Brooklyn Criminal Court as he also was charged with homicide in the stab slaying of a Brooklyn woman April 14.

Whitmore was arrested Friday morning in connection with an attempted purse snatching on a Brooklyn street the day before.

QUESTIONING

During questioning, police said, Whitmore admitted killing 46-year-old Minnie Edmonds, a Negro, stabbing her twice in the face and twice in the chest. Later he told them he had slain Miss Wylie and Miss Hoffert.

Police said Whitmore, in a statement, said that on the morning of the double murder he went by subway from Brooklyn to 42nd Street, Manhattan, and somehow got up to the East 80's where the girls lived in a $200-a-month, furnished three-room apartment.

Whitmore was quoted as saying he got into the apartment building by a rear stairway and saw the door of apartment 3C ajar.

RUMMAGING

Whitmore's statement said he entered the apartment, made his way to the kitchen and was "rummaging around" when Janice came out of the bathroom wearing a towel, saw him, and screamed.

The statement said he picked up a soft drink bottle, struck her with it until she was unconscious, then tied her.

When Miss Hoffert returned, the statement said, Whitmore also struck her with a bottle and tied her. But she came to and started to scream.

Whitmore's statement said he then got three carving knives from the kitchen and stabbed Miss Hoffert repeatedly. Police said Whitmore told them he also stabbed Miss Wylie but for no apparent reason.

Whitmore further was quoted as saying he then thoroughly washed the knives and his hands and left the apartment, getting to the street by the rear stairway of the building.

NEW JERSEY

Whitmore is 5 feet 9 and weighs about 140 pounds.

His brother, Gerald, 18, told newsmen that Whitmore came to New York from Wildwood, N. J., with other members of his family in 1961. Most of the family returned to Wildwood last December.

Their parents and a sister, Geraldine, 17, now live in Wildwood. The three brothers in the family, George, Gerald, and Shellee, 23, have been living in New York.

Miss Wylie, 21, an aspiring actress and niece of author Philip Wylie, was employed at on East 88th Street with a for-Newsweek magazine. Miss Hoffert, 23, was a teacher. They Tolles, 21.

Most City Taxes Are Collected

Approximately 86.75 per cent of the 1963 tax levy had been retired, according to Perry Johnson, city tax assessor-collector.

The levy for fiscal 1963 (which runs from April 1, 1963 to March 31, 1964) was $791,555.40. Of this sum, the city has collected $722,887.95, leaving a balance of $68,667.45.

Actual cash collected totaled $704,224.64, the difference is accounted for by the discount given for early payment.

The 1963 taxes will not become delinquent until July 1. Actually, the taxes are set up on a calendar year basis in accordance with state law, although the city fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31.

Tax notices for calendar 1963 were mailed Sept. 30, 1963.

Frank Tate Dies After Long Illness

Frank C. Tate, 61, long-time resident of the Fursan area where he was production superintendent for Felmont Oil Corporation (formerly American Maracibo), died in Midland Memorial Hospital early Friday after a long illness.

Services will be held at the First Baptist Church in DeLeon Sunday morning, with burial in the DeLeon Cemetery. He is survived by his widow, a son, Frank C. Tate Jr., and several brothers and sisters.

Autos Collide, Damage Heavy

Extensive damage was caused to two cars but the drivers were not injured early Saturday in a collision 1.3 miles north on the Andrews Highway.

Highway patrol officers reported that Ida Broughton, Rt. 1, was en route to Big Spring in a 1962 sedan.

Guillermo Hernandez, Coahoma, was en route north. He told the patrol he was looking in his rearview mirror and swerved to one side. His car and the Broughton car crashed.

CONTEST forms are studied by Capt. W. R. Schmidt, one of six judges, Mrs. W. R. Brown and Mrs. Dick Wilson. Capt. Schmidt was a winner in the Tumbleweed Toastmasters local contest and went on to win first place in the Area No. 4 contest held in San Angelo.

OFFICERS OF the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club met last week in the home of Mrs. Thomas C. Seebo, right, to review the agenda for the two-day council meeting. Mrs. Seebo is president of the local club, and Mrs. Hank McDaniel, left, is vice president. Shown center is Mrs. Lewis who serves the group as treasurer.

Love Of Language

By Jo Bright

The Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club is the hostess group this weekend for Council No. 7 of the Southwest Region, International Toastmistress Clubs. Mrs. Thomas C. Seebo, president of the local club, is serving as coordinator.

Business and educational programs were scheduled at Holiday Inn with the speech contest banquet being held Saturday evening in the ballroom at Cosden Country Club. Mrs. Lee O. Rogers and Mrs. Seebo directed registration Saturday morning and Mrs. Dick Wilson was speech contest chairman.

Guest speaker for the Saturday luncheon was Mrs. Frank Hoyt, a director of ITC and a member of its public relations committee. Mrs. Hoyt will install new officers following a luncheon today. Speaker for the luncheon will be Mrs. Mike Kaduk of Tulsa, Okla., supervisor of the South Central Region, which includes eight councils.

Mrs. N. N. Meyers, of Amarillo, chairman of Council No. 7, is conducting the meeting which is being attended by representatives from nine member clubs. The clubs are located in Liberal, Kans.; Hobart, Okla.; Altus, Okla.; Clovis, N.M.; San Angelo, Lubbock, and Big Spring.

The Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club was chartered in December, 1957. The creed is "To love our language and to use it with grace and facility." Leadership training is emphasized, and three years in local club work covers all aspects of development as a speaker.

The training is invaluable not only to club and business women, but to those who participate in Parent-Teacher Associations, Scout work or church groups. Each of these activities require the ability to listen analytically and express one's thoughts clearly.

DETAILS NEED attention and plenty of prior planning. Shown at a work session last week, when programs covers were constructed, are

Mrs. Joseph Johnson, Mrs. James L. Hudson Jr., Mrs. E. F. Sieja and Mrs. R. P. Bateman.

Couple Recite Vows In Lamesa Ceremony

LAMESA (SC)—In a candle-light ceremony at 8 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church of O'Donnell, Miss Daphne Hogg became the bride of W. L. Snellgrove. Rev. Calvin C. Partain, pastor, officiated the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hogg and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snellgrove, all of O'Donnell.

The couple repeated nuptial vows beneath an archway covered with greenery and flanked with baskets of white stock. Four candelabras holding seven tapers completed the altar scene.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white chantilly lace over white peau de soie. The bodice was accented with a portrait neckline and long slim petal sleeves coming to points over the hands. The bodice front and points of sleeves were accented with seed pearls and dipped to a "V" in the back and flowed into a modified chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of hand-rolled silk illusion was attached to a fitted Juliette cap of re-embroidered alencon lace and tulle and adorned with tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses intermingled with stephanotis and streamers of English ivy.

Mrs. Joe Blasingame of Big Spring, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Jerald Barton, the bride's sister of O'Donnell, Mrs. Gerald Aldridge of Lubbock and Ann Locke of San Antonio. Katrina Sanders, O'Donnell, served as flower girl. Eddie Blasingame of Big Spring served as ring bearer. Jerald Barton of O'Donnell was best man.

A wedding reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Wedding guests were registered from Lamesa, Ackerly, Big Spring, Ira, Lubbock and O'Donnell.

For traveling the bride chose a white dress accented with pink flowers. Her belted shift was styled with three-quarter length sleeves and a sleeveless jacket of pink linen.

The bride is a graduate of O'Donnell High School and attended Texas Technological for a year. The bridegroom is also an O'Donnell High graduate and attended Texas Technological. He is presently engaged in farming.

The couple will make their home in O'Donnell following a wedding trip to Arkansas.

Fortissimo

Contemporary walnut with a Continental accent . . . more than 70 design-mated pieces . . . come see them all!

designed by Merton L. Gershun AMERICAN OF MARTINSVILLE

Here a new richness and elegance are achieved by combining classic themes of the 18th and 19th centuries with today's scale and function. The silken-finished walnut is enhanced by the intricate grain of Carpathian elm burl inlays and is accented by brass grided doors and original-design brass pulls. Several of the pieces are fitted with imported marble tops.

Fortissimo pieces do not repeat each other in design, but are, instead, interesting variations on a basic theme. Thus, some pieces have black pilasters, some have solid bases, some have tapered legs . . . and all go together in lovely harmony. By the way, many of the pieces are also available in antique white with hand laid gold accents. We couldn't picture all of the open stock group, but we have pieces for living room, bedroom and dining room. Come soon, see the complete collection.

Art Festival Set In Austin

The Women's Art Guild of Laguna Gloria Museum, Austin, is sponsoring its annual Fiesta in the historic grounds of the Museum on May 16-17. Through-out the Mexican Village created for the occasion, eminent Texas artists will have an opportunity to display and sell their wares—oils, watercolors, case-ins, ceramics, mosaics, metals, pottery, or other art media.

In addition, carnival fun for the whole family is provided: raffles, auctions, prizes, balloon trees, paddle-boat rides on the lake, food, music, and frolic to suit every taste.

Many fine Texas artists have already reserved booths and others are cordially invited to do so. Merry Blue Loomis is coming from San Antonio to display paintings and collages. John Burgess and Ann Page from Waco are bringing their paintings, and Phyllis Davis from Dallas will offer her oils and case-ins. From El Paso comes Dorothy Geyer with her oils and watercolors. G. Bryant from Port Aransas will be there.

Austin artists include Lillian Alexander with plastic butterflies and mirror murals, Ishmael Soto's pottery, Mary Ledesma's paintings, and Mary Ramsey's oils, watercolors, and mosaics.

At four o'clock on May 16, guests may be present when the Texas Fine Arts Association gives the awards for the Spring Jury Show on exhibit inside the Museum or browse through the Junior and Senior High School Art Show also on view. There is a dance on Saturday night to Nash Hernandez's Band, and the climax of Sunday's festivities is a variety show with Cactus Pryor as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. D. J. Sibley is this year's Fiesta chairman, and Mrs. James H. Leech is president of the Laguna Gloria. All proceeds go to Laguna Gloria Museum, 3809 West 35th Street.

Texas artists who are interested in reserving booths may make arrangements with Mrs. Leslie King, P. O. Box 5023, Laguna Art Museum, Austin, Texas.

Receive Awards

Mrs. Winifred Greenlee, right, presented Lester Morton with a "Boss Of The Year" award during the NSA barbecue Friday evening. At left is Mrs. Bill Stone who was named "Secretary Of The Year."

Award Presented At NSA Western Party

The Horace Garrett Ranch, south of town, was the scene Friday evening for a Bosses Night Barbecue sponsored by the Big Spring Chapter of the National Secretaries Association.

Approximately 80 persons, including NSA members, their husbands, and bosses and their wives, gathered at the ranch for the climaxing event in the local observance of National Secretaries Week.

Lester Morton, president of the First National Bank, was named "Boss of the Year" during a program following the informal dinner. The award, presented by R. W. Whipkey, came as a surprise to Morton who had been acting as master of ceremonies. His name was submitted in the competition by his secretary, Mrs. Winifred Greenlee.

Mrs. Bill Stone received the title of "Secretary of the Year" for her work in the NSA program.

Mrs. Stone is secretary to A. K. Guthrie.

Awards of merit, presented by Mrs. Herbert Heath, Mrs. J. R. Farmer and Mrs. Aubrey Bryans, went to Col. Rex D. Fryer, Col. G. E. Franks, Clyde Angel, Dave Hodson, Col. M. E. Frantz, R. L. Beale, Maj. J. E. Bold, Paul Meek, Joe Ackley and Maj. R. G. Edwards.

Also, Cecil Guthrie, Kimbell Guthrie, Lewis Loe, J. M. Hatter, Dick Ream, Maj. G. E. Hartwell, Pat Porter, Zell Smith, Whipkey and Morton.

Highlighting the program was a square dance demonstration performed by members of the Big Spring Squares. They were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Connally, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Chap Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Graves and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lamb. Afterward, the dancers were joined by guests as they executed simple routines.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Crayon Color Ruins Wash

Dear Heloise: Please, my child left crayons in the pocket of his blue jeans and I put them in the dryer. What can I do? . . . Mother

Dear Folks: We have had so many letters like this that we have written to an excellent home economist and here is her answer:

Dear Heloise: "On the crayon question, which is a fairly common one . . . we sometimes despair. However, there are certain things that can be done. As you undoubtedly know, crayons are much like lipstick. They contain grease, wax and dye. The grease and wax can be easily removed by cleaning the clothes in any good dry cleaning solvent, but sometimes the dye remains. This dye may be taken out if the clothes are cleaned with a dry cleaning fluid immediately and, of course, a good non-flammable solvent will remove the stains from the dryer."

"If any color remains in the dryer itself, you can use a good diluted chlorine bleach to dissolve the color. Many times if the clothing is white, a short soaking in well-diluted chlorine bleach (if applicable to the material) will remove the dye stain from the material itself."

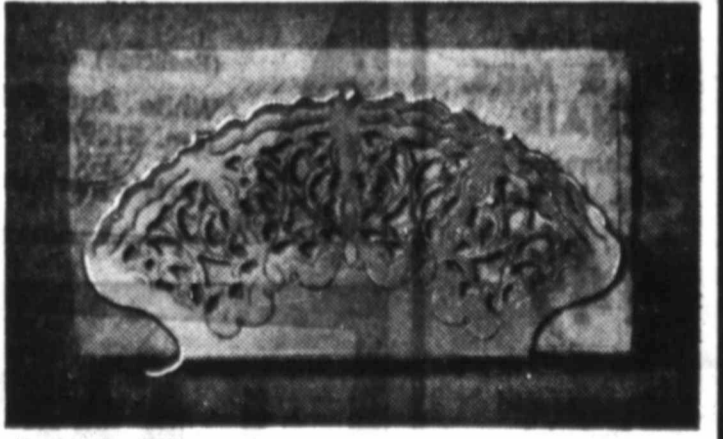

"Another suggestion — sometimes a safe, all-purpose, all-fabric sodium perborate bleach (this is powdered and is sold under various names) will help."

"For persistent stains such as this dye from the crayons, I make a sort of paste of the powdered perborate bleach (be sure it is NOT a chlorine bleach) and put this on the moistened fabric where the stain is. Keep it moist and give it time. Often the dye comes out."

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Base Tour Is Taken By Wives

The wives of Detachment 2, Communications Squadron personnel at Webb Air Force Base, were recently hosted to a tour of all facilities operated and maintained by the unit.

The wives met at the Webb NCO Open Mess where Capt. Robert H. Epperson, detachment commander, gave a short briefing on the unit mission and operation of the various facilities.

M. Sgt. Billy R. Smith, host for the tour, kept up a running commentary on operation of the control tower and ground controlled approach (GCA) unit, and the other flight facilities of the unit. T. Sgt. Charles F. Reynolds briefed the wives on his operation in the base communications center.

Achieves New Look

NEW YORK (AP) — Ask makeup man Eddie Senz why Lady Bird Johnson described him as a miracle worker and he'll blush—with pride.

But he'll deny that the First Lady needs a magical formula to get across a lovely image.

"She's the most charming, warm, gracious woman," Senz says. "She has all the qualities a woman needs for loveliness. I gave her a little beauty advice and she follows it, that's all."

Any talk about Mrs. Johnson's charm revolves around her mouth and eyes, Senz says.

"She has the most delightful twinkle in her brown eyes and a most expressive mouth, so these two features that key her personality were the ones to accent," he explains.

Senz minimizes makeup, as in the case of her olive skin: but he evolved an inauguration makeup for her that would be compatible on television, and he suggested the hairdo she now wears.

He advises Lynda Bird and Lucy Baines and some of their friends, and no one is more appreciative and complimentary about his efforts than President Johnson.

"He wants them to look well but not theatrical," Senz explains. "He often has said that he likes his women folk to look attractive and stylish, but doesn't want to overdo it."

MRS. JOE DOUGLAS PARKER

Parker, Graves Rites Performed At Chapel

Marriage rites were performed Friday evening for Miss Reba Joyce Graves and 1st Lt. Joe Douglas Parker at the Webb Air Force Base Chapel by the Rev. Darrell Robinson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Baker, Coahoma, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Parker, 1821 Adams, Pecos.

The bride was accompanied to the altar by her step-father where double ring vows were repeated by the bridal couple before an arch entwined with greenery. Baskets of white and yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked candelabras. Lighting the altar tapers were Johnnie Ray Baker, Coahoma, brother of the bride, and Mike Baker.

The bride's gown of white peau de soie was fashioned on princess lines with long tapered sleeves. Lace applique accented the bodice and full skirt styled with a chapel train, and a flat bow decorated the waist in the back. The elbow-length veil of tulle cascaded from a queen's crown of openwork pearls with teardrop and pearl sprays. White Japette orchids and tapered layers of white gamelias formed the bridal bouquet and topped a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Norma Jean Narramore of Albuquerque, N. M., served her cousin as maid of honor. Her street-length gown of yellow peau de soie was topped with a yellow lace jacket. Miss Jenine Hodnett, Vincent, and Miss Sandra Jean Nixon wore matching gowns and served as bridesmaids. The bridal attendants carried love knot bouquets of yellow pompon chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's brother, Fred R. Parker, Los Alamos, N.M., served as best man, and groomsmen were Capt. W. J. L. King and 1st Lt. C. T. Davis, Chandler, Ariz.; 1st Lt. Arthur L. Warren and 1st Lt. William P. Stewart were ushers.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a three-piece suit of aqua and gold tweed. White patent accessories completed the costume and she wore the orchids from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Bentwaters, England, in mid-summer where he will be stationed. They will leave Big Spring in May for special assignment before going abroad.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and was employed until recently at Webb Air Force Base. He is a Pecos High School graduate and is presently an instructor pilot at Webb.

RECEPTION

A reception held at the Officer's Open Mess followed the ceremony. In the receiving line were the bridal couple, their mothers and the bridal attendants. House party members were Mrs. Roy Jones, Mrs. Billy Carl Reid and Mrs. E. J. Roberts. Mrs. William J. Thompson had charge of the guest register.

The bride's table was covered with yellow linen with an underskirt of white. An arrangement of white carnations and yellow pompon chrysanthemums were flanked with two crystal punch bowls on the table, and the three-tiered cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Parker, Pecos; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hanson, San Angelo; Mrs. Bertha Montgomery, Loving, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Dorsey, Harrold; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dorsey, Sweetwater; and Mr. and Mrs. H. Baker, Perrin.

Two-Wheelers Catch Fancy Of Easterners

NANTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — Young people who complain about the high cost of car upkeep should investigate another mode of travel, such as the trusty old bicycle.

After watching bicycle brigades on the island of Nantucket one is convinced the bicycle is here to stay and is a mighty useful vehicle. It may even be the most fun for travel.

Young visitors ride bicycles everywhere. You are considered gauche if you use a car, one college boy pointed out. There are few classy chassis here, although there are plenty of cars, and old homes that reflect money and good taste.

"I pestered dad for a sports car, but when I get back home I'm going to promote bicycles in my crowd," says Jan Johnson of Virginia. "It's a great way to keep in shape."

She says a bike is the simplest form of mechanism, wheels and axles, practically nothing to repair.

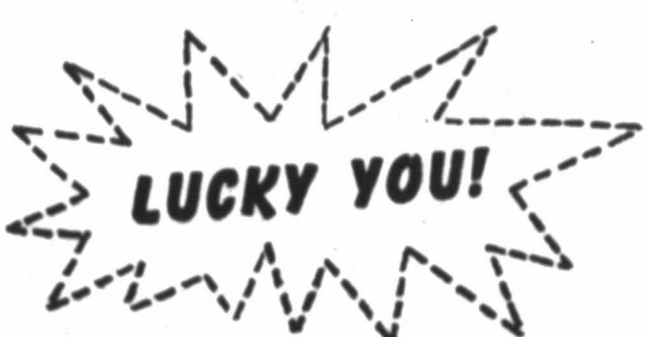

At church, movie house, snack bars, restaurants, library and museum, there are bike parking spots. And it isn't just teen-agers who ride them. When mother, dad and family get off the ferry from Massachusetts they head for one of the many bicycle shops, put in their bid for rentals and, like ducklings, go off with dad in the lead. Everyone has a basket strapped in front of a bike and in it they are likely to carry groceries, books, picnic lunches, and in summer, skin diving equipment, bathing suits.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

MR. and MRS. HORACE GARRETT flew to New York last week for the opening of the World's Fair, and what did they see—rain, and more rain. Thursday she wrote that "this is the first day the sun has shown! We took advantage of this pretty day and went to look the Fair over. It is so wonderful—but very incomplete. A few months should finish it. We are having such fun in New York that a few days should finish us."

May I suggest that with the warmer evenings coming on, you and your friends could go window shopping. Big Spring stores have some beautifully done windows to show their wares, and the displays are done with the customer in mind . . . and looking is free. You might see something you have always been looking for.

There's everything but a Pickeland Band in the windows of Zack's, and they are literally full of Pixies. The clever little cloth cuties were made by hand for Mrs. Zack by a talented and cherished friend . . . just because she wanted to. They are colorful, button-eyed and completely captivating. These are strung up the corners, hanging upside down and right side up from the ceiling and everywhere there in space. In fact, there are 93 perky pixies in the display. All over the business areas, you'll find real bright and ingenious displays.

MRS. RUTH LEWIS of Dallas and MRS. LENA BLANTON of Boerne were guests of the A. W. MOODYS the past week for a trip to Cloudfroft, N. M. The two women returned to their respective homes after arriving here with the Moodys Saturday from the New Mexico resort.

A delightful weekend party came to a close late Saturday for members of the Gordon family. Four sisters, MRS. CLYDE E. YOUNG of Tulsa, Okla.,

MRS. PAT COPE of Hobbs, N. M., MRS. CARL MADISON and MRS. BOB SATTERWHITE drove to Granbury Thursday to visit their aunt, MRS. BYRD GORDON WEIR who lives on the old Gordon home place. There was a possibility that the only brother, BILL GORDON of Baytown, would be able to join the family gathering.

MR. and MRS. JIMMY D. JONES and son, JIMMY, MR. and MRS. JOHN WHITAKER, parents of Mrs. Jones, and TONY HOLLAND were to return from Fort Worth where they have spent the weekend at Six Flags Over Texas.

MRS. R. E. LLOYD was a little shaken but had no broken bones after taking a fall at her home, 1406 Runnels, Thursday.

MISS CARRIE SCHOLZ is in Brady with her sister, MRS. JOHN DECKER, who is hospitalized there. Mrs. Decker's home is in Menard.

MRS. FLORENCE McNEW and MRS. L. E. RUSH were in Dallas for the weekend visiting in the home of MR. and MRS. ARTHUR F. JONES. Talking with Mrs. McNew Friday we gathered the high point of the visit would be to see FREDDY JONES, nine-month-old son of the former PEGGY ISAACKS and her husband. He is the great-grandson of Mrs. McNew and the grandson of Mrs. Rush.

After watching a young man casually drop four used napkins on the grounds at a local drive-in recently the thought occurred to me that perhaps the managers of the establishments might drop a hint by serving litterbags with the orders. Of course the customer might drop the litterbag out the window of the car also. But some of them might gather up the mess instead of littering up all the surrounding area.

Miss Jeanne Gammel Weds Lt. David I. Davoren Jr.

Miss Jeanne Claire Gammel and Lt. David I. Davoren Jr. exchanged wedding vows Saturday morning during nuptial rites performed in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

The bride is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Hans P. M. Gammel, 18 N. Albrook, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Davoren Sr., 169 Congress, Milford, Mass.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James R. Plummer before a background of green palms. Large baskets, tied with yellow bows, held white gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums, and pews were marked with yellow ribbon and fern. Mrs. Leslie Green, organist, accompanied Mrs. Harold Talbot as she sang "Blessed Be This Day," "Ave Maria," and "Thanks Be To God."

Maj. Gammel escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her formal gown was of white candlelight satin with lace appliques, embroidered with beads and sequins, extending down the skirt from the molded bodice. The gown was styled with rounded neckline, petal point sleeves and a detachable chapel train. Her waist-length veil of illusion fell from a satin pillbox encrusted with beads and sequins. Her single strand of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom's parents, and she carried a handkerchief provided by Mrs. John H. Gardella, a great-aunt of the bridegroom.

The wedding bouquet was a cascade arrangement of feathered white chrysanthemums encircling white orchids.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Cheryl Gammel, her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Smith of Odesa and Miss Paula Jenks. Their gowns were of yellow silk organza, styled with fitted bodices, belled skirts and short sleeves. They wore matching slippers, gloves, and headbands of yellow organza and tulle. Each carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Serving his brother as best man was Paul Davoren of Milford. Ushers were Lt. John Diven, Lt. Johnny Arceroux, Junior ushers were Mike Gammel, brother of the bride, and Dennis Davoren, brother of the bridegroom.

Close cooperation between businessmen and the county attorney's office, together with the use of due diligence can make this plan effective. If elected, I will use the influence of my office to see that drunken and dangerous driving in Howard County is cut to the smallest possible margin, and lend my best efforts to see that vandalism, burglary and theft are sharply reduced through concerted prosecution of all offenders.

COMMENTS ON UNIT SYSTEM

As you probably noticed in last Sunday's paper, all commissioners answered both questions very similarly.

I could not say yes or no to either question so I didn't answer this inquiry. The reason I didn't answer is simply this: The questionnaire required my signature and I do not like to sign a letter and turn it over to another party to use as they see fit. I have previously stated that I am in favor of a unit system. I am certainly in favor of unitizing our county and city government, in this way we can use the same engineer.

If I am elected as your next commissioner I will see to it that the engineer in question will be under the commissioners' supervision at all times.

full scale primary election. In the last general election year, a partial primary vote was cast by the Republicans, but this will be the first time a county-wide effort has been made.

HEAVY VOTE

Frank Hardesty, Democratic committee chairman, anticipates a heavy vote. He thinks that the interest generated in local races—particularly the sheriff's contest and the county commissioner races—plus state-wide interest in the campaign for governor and U. S. senator, will bring out more than a normal turnout of voters.

Ralph Gossett, the Republican County Committee chairman, said his party expected to poll around 500 to 600 votes and "possibly more." He said that interest is much increased this year over last time.

"We have never before attempted a full-sized primary in this county," he added. "We will have nine voting places in as many voting precincts. Unfortunately, we could not establish boxes in all precincts due to the lack of judges and other personnel. This may cause a problem—a Republican residing in one of the areas where we do not have a box, will not be able to vote in the primary since the law prevents precinct lines from being overlapped."

POTENTIAL

The poll tax and exemption rolls this year are heaviest in history with 11,491 potential voters on the list. Both parties have scheduled voting precinct conventions to follow the primary election voting.

These conventions are preliminary to the county conventions which fall one week later.

Gossett has announced that all Republican precinct conventions will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and all will be held in the polling places listed. Certain important resolutions will be offered at these conventions. Gossett urged Republicans to make special efforts to attend the conventions.

Hardesty said precinct conventions will be held by the Democratic party in all 16 voting precincts. All city boxes—1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 15 and 16—will hold their conventions at 8 p.m. All other boxes will convene at 7 p.m. Hardesty said that certain resolutions will be laid before each precinct meeting for consideration. Endorsement of President Lyndon Johnson is certain to be one of the resolutions offered.

MAY 9

Howard County Democratic

Convention will meet in the Howard County district courtroom at 8 p.m. May 9. The Republican County Convention will be at 11 a.m. on the same date and probably in the same room.

As is traditional, most of the political interest on the part of the public has been focused on the race for sheriff. However, this year the contest for county commission seats in two precincts has also stirred more than usual interest.

And the campaigns waged for the post of district attorney, county tax assessor and county attorney—races in which there are two contenders for each post—have been more than usually intense. Four of district court clerk and have been particularly active. In other years, the interest in this particular office has usually been listless.

Candidates, as usual just ahead of voting day, complain they are having difficulty getting the pulse of the voters. As is often the case, comment on the part of the public at large, relative to the election, is seldom heard.

ABSENTEES

Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that her staff would be busy Monday and Tuesday with the closing days of the absentee voting period. They will prepare the election precinct boxes Wednesday and Thursday and presiding judges are invited to come in late Thursday or Friday for boxes and election supplies.

Ample ballots for any sort of vote have been prepared and the boxes will be well supplied with all needed material.

Mrs. Petty will keep her office open Saturday night to receive returns and to accept the ballot boxes from the precinct judges.

Both parties will bring their boxes to the clerk's office after the polls close at 7 p.m.

Perez Is Honor Aide

Pete Perez will be honored Monday evening at the auditorium of the Allied Building on the Big Spring State Hospital campus.

Perez has been chosen Psychiatric Aide of the Year and will receive the sixth annual award of the hospital.

He was chosen for the honor by the Texas Association for Mental Health. Moreover, he was one of two selected in the entire Texas system by the National Association for Mental Health.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will speak.

The public is invited to join with the Big Spring State Hospital and staff in the presentation of the award.

McMurtry Gains Double Honors

Larry McMurtry, nephew of Mrs. Mae Franklin, 1601 Johnson, has figured in the news again on two fronts.

McMurtry, now a lecturer in English at Rice University and formerly a member of the Texas Christian University faculty, scored his first big success when he wrote "Hud," which later was made into a movie. Now Robert Mulligan, who directed "To Kill a Mockingbird," is dickering for rights to film McMurtry's latest book, "Leaving Cheyenne."

McMurtry also was announced as one of nine Texans to receive a fellowship awarded by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation. His award was for creative writing in fiction.

GEORGE H. BUSH

Bush Brings Campaign Here

George Bush, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate from Texas, will be in Big Spring Tuesday in the interest of his campaign. Plans now call for a 9 to 10:20 a.m. meeting with voters in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association Building.

Bush, a native of Connecticut, came to Midland with the Dresser Industries in 1948. He later formed Bush-Overbey Oil Development Co., Inc., and still later was co-founder of Zapata Petroleum Corp. He moved the headquarters of the Zapata Corporation to Houston in 1959.

He is a Navy veteran of World War II and served as a torpedo bomber pilot. He is married and the Bushes have five children, all born in Texas except the oldest son.

Big Spring and area Republicans are invited to meet Conservative Candidate Bush Tuesday.

Foreign Trade Parley Slated

MIDLAND — Delegates arriving in Midland to a Foreign Trade Conference April 28 will be greeted by five natives of foreign lands, now residents of Midland.

The purpose of the conference is to encourage business men to experiment with exporting some of their goods to foreign countries. Sponsoring agencies are the Permian Basin Chamber of Commerce, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, U. S. Department of Commerce, Regional Export Expansion Council, and the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Among those coming for the conference will be John E. Chadwick, first commercial minister of the British Embassy in Washington, D. C., accompanied by G. S. W. Gush, British consul at Houston. Other speakers will include Harry Clark, director of the Texas Industrial Commission; Harold M. Young, past chairman of the Regional Export Expansion Council; Dan Dillingham, president of the Masters Corporation of Abilene; and Paul Mason, president of the First National Bank of Fort Worth.

The official hostesses chosen to greet those attending the conference are Mrs. Sam Sweet Jr., representing Korea; Mrs. Clyde C. White, Germany; Mrs. Peter O. Lap, Holland, and Mrs. M. J. Brennehan, Italy. A representative from Mexico will be chosen before the meeting.

The meeting will open at 9 a.m. at the Midland Ranchland Hills Country Club and last until noon. A luncheon will be served after which members of the panel will be available for individual consultation.

County Has Over 11,491 Persons Eligible To Vote

Who can vote in next Saturday's primary election?

Well, 11,491 (or more) Howard County residents are eligible to vote if they want to go to the polls.

That many voters paid their 1963 poll tax or claimed their exemption certificates as elder citizens. This total can be augmented by several score. Only in Big Spring are older voters required to obtain exemption certificates. Men and women past 60 who are residents of other voting precincts than those in the City of Big Spring do not need exemption certificates to vote.

Texas law makes it essential that a voter must have paid his poll tax if he is to vote. For a time last fall, it was possible the poll tax in Texas might be abolished. This failed to jell, however, and the poll tax is still the basic proof of qualification for voting for the average Texan.

State law provides that all citizens of the state, who are 21 years of age or older, who have lived in the state for as long as one year, and who have lived in the county for six months, can ballot in all elections—provided they have paid their poll tax or hold an exemption certificate.

When the voter goes to the polls, the judge will stamp his poll tax receipt to show that he voted either Democratic or Republican. The stamp on the poll tax will be the admission card to the voting precinct conventions that will follow the election.

The stamped mark on the tax receipt also prevents a voter from attempting to vote in both Democratic and Republican primaries.

This year, there is only one approved method of voting—the voter must mark out all of the

Tremors Noted

HEMPHILL, Tex. (AP)—Earth tremors shook several Sabine County communities in East Texas early Friday.

"A good many people are upset about it—they don't know what's happening," deputy Sheriff W. J. Barlow said.

Lakeview Extends YMCA Campaign

The Lakeview branch YMCA membership drive, which was scheduled to end with an awards banquet and final report meeting April 29, has been dragging, Mrs. Bobbie Williams, chairman, said Friday. The drive will be continued through May.

"All workers have been busy," she said, "but somehow the goal of $1,300 is not nearly reached. A total of only $257 had been reported this week. Thurman Randel's team, out for teen-age memberships, is leading the adults."

The YMCA board of directors granted an extension on the drive to try for the full amount of the goal.

Hendrix Plans Area Programs

Jack Hendrix, chairman of the music department at Howard County Junior College, will direct the piano section of the southwestern division of Music Teachers National Association meeting in Albuquerque this week.

The meeting opens on Wednesday and continues through a week from today. The southwest division includes the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

En route to Albuquerque, Hendrix will judge piano auditions in Artesia, N. M. At the divisional convocation, he will be responsible for arranging the music for each of the general sessions, the banquet and programs for two sessions on senior piano.

He is scheduled to judge auditions in Van Horn on May 7 and in Pecos on May 8-9. He is faculty member for the National Guild of Piano Teachers auditions at HCJC May 11-16.

Hendrix also is accompanist for the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Choral. Big Spring members of the Choral include Ira Schantz, instructor of vocal music at HCJC, Mrs. Joyce Bradley, Mrs. Marilyn Newsom, Mel Ivey and Hubert Murphy. There are several Big Spring people also who are members of the symphony orchestra.

A Devotional For The Day

Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. (Psalms 84:4.)
PRAYER: Dear Father, we are grateful for the church. When new calls to serve and deeper loyalties have been required, we have been made stronger. Keep us ever faithful to Thy church and to Thee; for the sake of Jesus, in whose name we pray. Amen.

It's All Up To You

Before the week is out, voters will go to the polls in the Democratic and Republican primaries to select party nominees for the general election in November.

These are important events for they are the initial steps toward selecting officials and representatives who will serve at all levels of government.

With the exception of two offices where the Republicans have fielded candidates for local office, there will be special emphasis attached to the Democratic primary because the selection of a nominee will mean only one name on the general election ballot for that position.

In any event, the exercise of a choice for candidates is a serious matter — a matter of judgment and conscience for the voter. Thank God, no one can tell him how he must vote and then see that he votes that way. He is a free moral agent to choose, and as such he is the real source of sovereign power in this nation.

The heat of campaigning ranges from simple claims of long residence vague innuendoes and intemperate efforts to put horns on the opposition.

Somewhere in between these extremes ought to lie the ground for selecting a man or woman on the basis of whom the voter honestly believes is equipped to give the best service. This cannot be achieved with perfection because of reasons of friendship, obligation, and personality. But insofar as we are able to be objective in our choices, our country, state and nation will be better served.

There also is the matter of precinct conventions by both parties. While the voter is sovereign in selecting nominees, he is not necessarily so at controlling party machinery and shaping policy. Unless he makes the extra effort to attend and participate in his precinct convention, he cannot truly say that he has done all that he could do. The spectacle of a few score shaping the partisan programs for hundreds or thousands is not a wholesome one, no matter whether the few do act wisely.

So as a matter of personal responsibility as a citizen in a free nation, vote in the primaries and participate in the precinct conventions.

Needs To Be Done

Once before we called this to mind, but it is repeated because of what we feel is the long range importance of it.

Paving of the southern extreme of Scurry Street should have a high priority in street paving programs.

This street carries an exceedingly heavy volume of traffic, a volume that will increase when commercial development takes place at the south end of Scurry.

Because of the temporary surfacing done as preventative maintenance, signing the street for bona fide paving may not be easy, but it should be planned and attempted.

Lodge Backers Want Ike

WASHINGTON — If Henry Cabot Lodge is to have any real chance to get the Republican presidential nomination he must have a big assist from the only man who can pull together the confused and divided forces in the moderate wing of the party.

From former President Eisenhower thus far has come a characteristic Eisenhower silence. Whether it is caution or modesty or indifference or a fear of offending some of his rich conservative friends or a compound of these elements, the general is playing golf at his Palm Desert retreat and saying nothing.

THE LODGE backers are beginning to ask plaintively: "Where's Ike?" They recall that it was Lodge who early in 1952 went out on a long limb to give public assurance that Eisenhower would be a candidate. He took part in the machinations that upset the handwagon of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft just as the Taftites believed the prize was in their grasp.

He won the bitter enmity of the conservative faction. This may have been the reason, or so the Lodge followers believe, for his defeat when he ran for re-election to the Senate in the fall of '52. His opponent was John F. Kennedy, a young member of the House from Boston.

LETTERS TO Eisenhower from Lodge supporters get a bland non-committal response.

If Lodge has any plans to return to the White House by the convention in San Francisco on July 13, his principal backers profess to know nothing about it. He has little to gain and much to lose by leaving his post in Saigon in the immediate future.

THE JOHNSON administration is doing everything possible to insure that Lodge as ambassador to Viet Nam is in charge of policy and execution. The ambassador recommends a particular general. That general is put where the ambassador wants him. The ambassador asks for certain personnel in the Embassy and his request is complied with at once.

Under a standing order his telegrams are answered without delay. And obviously these telegrams are the official record of how the administration has bent over backward to give the ambassador shaping policy on the spot everything he asks for. The belief is, in short, that it would be difficult if not impossible for Lodge to come back in MacArthur style and charge that he was not given full support in trying to win the war.

BESIDES New Hampshire, almost certainly Oregon and probably Massachusetts, Lodge backers claim a scattering of delegates in Kansas, Iowa and even in Illinois. But by the most optimistic count this is under 100. And that looks puny alongside the 550 the Goldwater forces claim.

Paul said that the cross was "to the Jews a stumbling block, and to the Greeks, foolishness." In other words, to "take up our cross" is still not an act for which we are applauded by the world. It still has its reproach; it still has its pain; it still has its unpopularity.

But the follower of Christ takes the long view, the sensible view of life. He well knows that there is no reward without suffering, and no crown without a cross. So he takes up His cross, not just in duty, but in love, and carries it with His Savior.

Bearing the cross means that we go back into the world ready to bear whatever reproach there may be for being a Christian. Sometimes it means death.

We Must Use All Our Productive Potential

By now, Sir Roy Harrod, one of Great Britain's outstanding economists and both a biographer and disciple of John Maynard Keynes, is back at Oxford after a stay at the University of Pennsylvania, where he served as visiting professor. He left a parting precept for Americans: Grow.

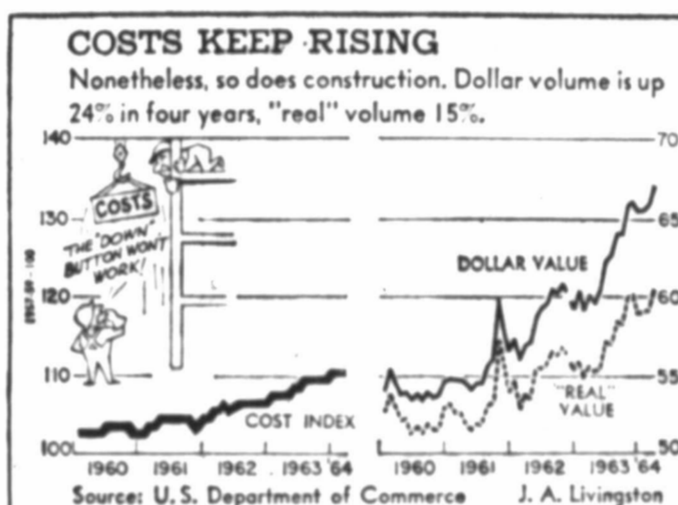

This is neither new nor foreign doctrine. In the 1964 Economic Report, Walter W. Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, lamented the $30,000,000,000 gap between the nation's economic potential and its actual output in 1963.

TO PROF. HARROD the theory of economic growth is a logical extension of Keynes' economic thinking. "Keynes has done his work," said Sir Roy. "He pointed out that government, that society, has a responsibility to prop up demand when there is underconsumption and unemployment. But now economic theory had gone beyond that."

"We want to insure that the productive potential is fully utilized. If plant capacity is idle, we must use it to increase total output and living standards. And, since populations are growing and plant capacity is becoming more efficient, it is essential that growth keep pace with an ever widening target."

"KEYNES SAID that it is the government's responsibility to guard against unemployment during recessions — to prevent the recession from spiraling into a depression. Today, it is equally important for the government — by appropriate policy — to guard against an insufficiency of growth and hence against pernicious and continuing unemployment and underutilization of resources."

Applying this to practice, Heller wrote in the last Economic Report: "Merely avoiding recession or even maintaining (the recent) rate of expansion will not close the gap or eliminate excessive unemployment. Only a significant acceleration of expansion can enable the nation to make full use of its growing labor force and productive potential. The choice of appropriate fiscal and monetary policies to achieve this goal is one of the problems challenging the Federal Government in 1964."

ADOPTING THAT philosophy, President Johnson urged on Congress the broad tax reduction proposed by President Kennedy and got it.

In arguing for the tax reduction, Heller and others asserted that the government invests in progress. As the total output of goods and services — Gross National Product — advanced, revenues would increase even at the reduced rate of taxation.

But history suggests caution. Have we learned to take prosperity sately? Will people exercise restraint? Won't they overborrow, overspeculate and overbuild?

PROF. HARROD is most insistent that when resources are fully utilized, when orders exceed capacity, it is acceptable to raise interest rates and curb credit expansion. "But," he warns, "you have to be careful that in your effort to stop speculation you don't curb growth." Right there is the dilemma.

Take one instance. In the United States, construction has been expanding steadily. Housing starts, though not at an absolute peak, are close to it. Some apartment houses in New York, Philadelphia and other places are looking hard for tenants.

ALL THE WHILE construction booms and prices tend to

Around The Rim

Will You Clarify That?

Among other things we have to watch with a cautious eye, as the world keeps spinning faster, is the mounting volume of paper work.

Used to be only the government required nine copies of everything, and I believe the catacombs of federalia still lead all the rest, but it's rather amazing to know how every type of operation seems to require more records, more reports, more detailed analysis, more projections.

IT TAKES specialists to build up files of paper, just like it does anything else.

And the more specialists we have, the more paper work they require.

Some contemporary newspaper recites the fact that this breed of cats—the paper specialists, that is—have also developed their own jargon. This takes some interpreting, and I understand running around the halls of Washington bureaucracy is a lexicon something like this:

CONCUR GENERALLY—I haven't read the document yet and don't want to be bound by anything I might say.

IN CONFERENCE—I don't know where he is.

PASSED TO HIGHER OFFICE—Pigeonholed in a more sumptuous office.

APPROPRIATE ACTION—Do you know what to do with it? We don't.

GIVING HIM THE PICTURE—A long, confusing and inaccurate statement to a newcomer.

UNDER ACTIVE CONSIDERATION—We have never heard of it.

However, we'll try to find it in the files.

HAS RECEIVED CAREFUL CONSIDERATION—A period of inactivity covering a time lag.

HAVE YOU ANY COMMENTS?—Give me some idea what it's all about.

THE PROJECT IS IN THE AIR—I am completely ignorant of the subject.

THE PROJECT IS OFF THE GROUND—We gave it to somebody else.

YOU WILL REMEMBER—You have forgotten, or never knew, nor do I.

TRANSMITTED TO YOU—You hold the bag awhile, I'm tired of it.

IT IS RECOMMENDED—We don't think it will work, but you go ahead and stick your neck out and try it.

IT IS ESTIMATED — This is my guess—now you guess.

FOR COMPLIANCE—Sure it's silly, you gotta do it anyhow.

FOR NECESSARY ACTION—We don't know what they want, so you do it.

FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION—We have stalled it long enough, now you do something about it.

BEING FINALIZED—Just hold on, we'll get to it when we can.

FOR SIGNATURE—I thought it up but you sign it and take the rap.

Nine copies of this sort of thing keeps everybody in the dark, all the time.

—BOB WHIPKEY

The Staff Around Johnson

WASHINGTON—Myer (Mike) Feldman, a tall tennis-playing Philadelphian, has been the de facto White House legal officer since January, 1961, but only since the departure of Ted Sorensen has he taken the title of special counsel to the President. Sorensen was essentially a speechwriter and idea-man.

FELDMAN'S UPGRADING tells something of the Johnson side of the quiet revolution, called by the President "continuity without confusion," which has occurred at the White House since last November. We read much about the departure of Sorensen, Schlesinger, Salinger, Reardon and Bellino. We read little of those Kennedy men who have stayed on with Johnson—and why.

Feldman was in an airplane over the Pacific when he heard the shocking news from Dallas. He immediately wrote out his resignation, unable to believe that he could ever transfer his loyalty to another man. In this feeling, and his subsequent change of heart, Feldman is like a number of others on the White House staff. They have now come to think of Johnson as the only man on earth to be the inheritor of their deep attachment to JFK.

HOW HAS Lyndon Johnson evoked this transference of loyalty? Quite obviously, his adoption of the Kennedy domestic program, and above that, his immense success in putting it over in Congress, have been the prime persuaders. Less known, but of greater emotional force, has been his fervid personal appeals, and those of Mrs. Johnson to the wives of the staffers, that they close ranks for the good of the country and for the consternation of all those, here and abroad, who wished to see the administration fall apart.

FELDMAN WOULD BE hard to replace because of his special experience as the President's personal lawyer. He studies all bills as they pass Congress and writes the legal opinion on whether they should be signed or vetoed and with what comment.

He writes all presidential proclamations and drafts the executive orders which frequently define the President's personal power in dramatic actions like strike intervention, the use of troops in foreign interventions, the recognition of quick-change governments, as recently became necessary in Brazil. All tariff decisions and all international air routes are the President's personal decision, and are the work of his chief counsel.

THREE OTHER White House staffers—specialists in matters affecting legislation, Latin American affairs and national military security—are today still lingering at the banks of their Rubicons, uncertain whether to stay with Johnson or leave him.

If they leave, it will be partly because their emotions have oriented toward JFK's attorney general rather than toward his former vice president. Strangely, whatever chasm that ever existed between Lyndon Johnson and John Kennedy has been bridged. But a chasm still yawns in the personal relations between the President and Attorney General Bob Kennedy. Perhaps it will not be bridged until we hear that the Democratic ticket for 1964 will be Johnson and Robert Kennedy.

Demonstrations And The Court

WASHINGTON — What's the difference between a "sit-in" and a "sit-in"? Did the New York City police violate "the law of the land"—as proclaimed by the Supreme Court of the United States—when demonstrators were arrested in and around the New York World's Fair?

These questions reflect the confusion that exists in the United States today as to what are the true limits of "street demonstrations" and just how far the exercise of the right of petition may go before it becomes a vehicle of violence.

BUT NO matter whether one approves or disapproves of these demonstrations, the point has been dinned into the ears of many Americans that what the Supreme Court says is "the law of the land." Small wonder that the "civil rights" demonstrators decided on a "sit-in" as a mere supplement to the rights granted them in court cases in connection with sit-ins and "marches."

The Supreme Court of the United States, for instance, on May 20, 1963, reversed the conviction of three Negroes and one white student who had been arrested for trespass when they refused to leave a lunch counter of a store in New Orleans. There was no ordinance requiring segregation, but the mayor had issued a statement previously in which he said that "the community interest, the public safety, and the economic welfare of this city require that such demonstrations cease and that henceforth they be prohibited by the police department."

SPEAKING FOR the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Warren concluded that this statement by a city official was state action and thus constituted denial of "equal protection." The arrest of the "sit-in" demonstrators was, therefore, held to be unconstitutional. Justice Douglas, in a concurring opinion, insisted that a restaurant "has no aura of constitutionally protected privacy about it." Certainly the same can be said about the "World's Fair pavilions."

IN ANOTHER CASE, decided on February 25, 1963, the Supreme Court reversed the conviction of 187 Negro students involved in a "march" around the State House in Columbia,

S. C. The local police had permitted the demonstration to go on for about 45 minutes and made the arrests for breach of the peace only after the students refused to obey an order to disperse when a crowd had gathered in the area and traffic was being impeded. The Supreme Court, by an 8-to-1 vote, held that this violated constitutional guarantees of free speech, free assembly and freedom of petition.

Demonstrators thus have been encouraged to block entrances and collect crowds that disrupt traffic—if only to gain notoriety or publicity for their cause. The right of any citizen to drive his automobile and stall it on a public highway is regarded by some Negro leaders as comparable to the court-approved right of "sit-in" demonstrators to block entrances to buildings.

STRICTLY SPEAKING, the police should be able to arrest persons either for a breach of the peace or for performing acts which threaten a breach of the peace. But the Supreme Court has declared otherwise, and the supporters of the "sit-in" idea have every right to invoke the existing Supreme Court decisions in defense of their demonstrations in New York City. It is true that the New York state court issued an order enjoining the "sit-in" demonstration. The mere existence of an injunction, however, is not sacred in the eyes of the Supreme Court if the person who violates it claims his objective is to obtain constitutional rights. This is an extreme interpretation, but the Supreme Court has made it. It now remains valid, legally speaking, until it is either reversed by the court itself or by a constitutional amendment.

THE DANGER of any demonstration involving hundreds of persons is one that poses a bewildering legal problem for the police. Shall they deal with a threatened demonstration and get a court order as a preventive, or must they wait until law and order have actually been disrupted and somebody has been hurt? The Supreme Court, for the time being at least, has decided things must reach the point of violence before the police can intervene. (Copyright, 1964, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

To Your Good Health

Contact Lenses Can Present Some Problems

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: I have been wearing glasses since the fifth grade. I am now 16 and fed up with them. I want contact lenses but my mother and our eye doctor are against it. He prescribes for me to wait until I am 18. He says the eyes can easily be injured by a careless move in the use of contacts.

This sounds to me as though he thinks I am irresponsible and do not know the value of my own eyes.

Is it true that the eyes seldom change after one begins to use contacts? My girl friend's doctor told her so.—B. H.

I'm not opposed to contacts but I think you are going overboard on this.

Age is not arbitrarily a barrier, but in practice it has been found that young people do tend to have more of some kinds of troubles.

One is that putting the lenses in place is a delicate chore. It can be done by people of 16 or younger—but I wish you'd try to sympathize with us old fogies who notice that in the past teens each passing year does add its bit to increased maturity and carefulness. The activities of young people are such that they are more conducive to losing a lens. And a contact lens has to be fitted so precisely—optically correct, but also fitted perfectly to your eyeball—that it is a costly thing to make. A lost contact lens is much more expensive to replace than a pair of spectacles.

Temperament plays a part, too. Some persons tolerate the lenses for long periods. Others find that the eyes become irritated and can wear the lenses only for short periods.

It is sometimes true that contact wearers can go longer between fittings than the wearers of ordinary glasses. At the same time, it is just wishful thinking to suppose that contact lenses never have to be replaced. As the eye changes beyond a certain small amount, the old contacts DO have to be discarded and new ones fitted.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am slightly overweight. Are there fewer calories in the artificial sweeteners than in sugar?—R. J. R.

There are NO calories in the artificial sweeteners. There are 16 to 20 calories in a teaspoonful of sugar.

NOTE TO W.O.A. AND OTHERS: I don't know what effect chewing tobacco may have on health, as compared to smoking—and from reading the Surgeon General's Committee Report on Smoking and Health I gather that nobody else has found the answer, either.

"Vitamin starvation" is possible even if you eat a lot. In order to check your diet to make sure you are getting necessary nourishment, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the pamphlet, "Vitamins—The Alphabet of Health." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always glad to hear from his readers, and whenever possible he uses their questions in his column, but because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, he cannot answer individual letters.

Students Get Awards Friday

By DENISE HEAD

Friday morning an awards assembly was held at Goliad to hand out certificates to members of the football, basketball, track, volleyball and tennis teams. These awards were presented by the coaches. Highlight of the assembly was the presentation by Don Robbins, head coach in senior high, of a plaque to the outstanding Goliad athlete, Richard Cauley.

Saturday two girls will go to the FHA meeting in Austin. This trip is a result of much hard work and extra hours expended by them in amassing points. The Future Homemakers of America of each junior high school annually choose two representatives for the convention.

At Goliad this selection is based on a point system. The girls earn points for such activities as collecting clothing for the needy, making tray favors for hospitals, participating in FHA week activities, making posters and calendars for school, etc. Karen Crooker and Donna Hale were the winners this year, and they will leave next Thursday for Austin. They will be accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. Fern Alexander.

At the monthly meeting of the FHA last week instructions were given to the delegates to the State Convention. The members then viewed a film on "Getting Along with Your Parents."

The ninth grade will have an assembly Tuesday to explain the transition from junior to senior high school. Harold Bentley, assistant high school principal, Wayne Bonner, counselor, and John Smith, principal, will give a short orientation course, including a discussion of schedules and subjects offered next year.

The newly organized tennis team will participate in its first meet this weekend. Tim Butler, Craig Frank, Mike Graves, Martha Jordan, Bobby Kibler, Beth Rattie and Gary Scott left Big Spring yesterday to go to Odessa High School. The team members were entered in three singles and two doubles matches. Joe Dawes, coach, hopes to have an opportunity for the group to compete in another match before the end of the school year.

The spring formal will be held Friday and the students are eagerly making plans to attend. The following rules will be in effect:

Every Goliad student is invited to attend. It is not necessary to have a date to attend. The cost will be 50 cents per person. If one wishes to bring a date from another school, he may do so, if he registers that person and the school that person attends. This must be done by Thursday. No dates not enrolled in school at the present time will be permitted. All parents are welcome. Dress will be optional. Boys should wear ties, but will not be required to wear coats. Girls may wear "dress-up" clothes or formals.

The event will begin at 8 p.m. No one will be allowed in before that time. The formal will end at 11 p.m. No one will leave the dance before 11 unless a parent comes inside and calls for his son or daughter.

This week's spotlight is on the art department which is under the direction of Mrs. Maurine Burks and Mrs. Ruth Ann Sandidge. The art classes are designed to enrich the personality of the student through a variety of creative experiences. The students are instructed in the various fields of art, namely drawing, painting, printing, design, sculpture, and art appreciation.

The primary purposes of art grades are to give the students a knowledge of art principles, processes and media, and to help the individual to be aware of the beauty of nature around him and of manmade art.

The ninth grade art students are given opportunities for experimentation with a variety of materials, including oil and tempera painting, sculpture, collage and mixed media. The student is encouraged to discover and develop art in his leisure time activities.

Midland Players Show Skill In New 'Caesar'

The Midland Community Theatre premiered a "modern" Julius Caesar Thursday, and it is one of the most unusual productions ever staged in this area. Beside the large Midland audience, a bus load of visitors from Jal, N. M., and less-distant towns attended. To Shakespeare followers the play may be a bit irrelevant, but it is highly entertaining. Director Art Cole's casting and directing job are typically outstanding. His backdrop lighting effects and his use of lights to isolate various stage areas is quite a feat, especially, since all the action from the Senate to Brutus' home to battlefield takes place on the same set.

Actors are dressed in appropriate modern-day clothes... business suits for politicians, sweatsuits for athletes and army uniforms for soldiers. Julius Caesar, played by Bill Davis, appears as the overbearing soldier-politician in a blue military uniform with striking red cape. Unmistakably Caesar, he is one of the stronger actors. The best actor is Charles Dixon as Brutus. His fine voice quality and accentless speech contribute much to his excellent portrayal.

As a non-pro company, the cast holds the mood well... no dropped line, no meaningless pauses, and actors appear on cue, a notable achievement in view of a large cast of 40. Despite a weak opening, the second act begins to come on strong during the murder of Caesar. However, the murder scene goes a little too fast and the actors could be more aware of the corpse as they converse on the steps where it falls. Then the late Caesar's yes-

man Antony makes a good funeral speech to an admirably well-acted crowd. Other leading actors are a very competent Larry Pine as Cassius and Mike Mitchell as Casca. The show is scheduled for 8:30 performances on Fridays and Saturdays, 2:30 on Sundays and 8:00 on selected week nights. —DOYLE PHILLIPS

Movie, TV Industries Are Married At Last

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A bit of history passed with scant notice earlier this month.

The Association of Motion Picture Producers and the Alliance of Television Film Producers announced they were combining to form a new organization called the Association of Motion Picture and Television Producers.

Not much was made of the news, yet it represents an important transition in the patterns of the entertainment industry. The wedding of movies and television is now officially sanctified with a marriage license.

Who could ever have foreseen such a happening? Certainly not Will Hays, the shrewd Hoosier who wielded czar-like power over the film producers he had kept unified. Perhaps not even his successor, Eric Johnston, who tried to maintain unity of a bedeviled industry.

Now both are dead and a new era begins. The upstart television has taken its official place as partner of the movie business.

The wedding could have come about only through the change of personnel and circumstances. The Louis B. Mayers and other film pioneers would not have countenanced it. They had carved empires by playing to masses in theaters; they could not understand giving entertainment away.

They thought if they ignored television it might go away. Their stars weren't permitted to appear on it. Television sets weren't even allowed in living room scenes.

But as television zoomed and movies declined, changes had to be made. First Columbia broke the ranks to make films for television, then Walt Disney. All of the others eventually joined in. But they were too late to effect a monopoly.

The vacuum which the studios had provided by holding back too long had been filled by vigorous new independents like Dick Powell's Four Star and MCA's Revue, which later swallowed Universal.

Trigger-Happy H-Bombing Theme In 'Strangelove'

Peter Sellers and George C. Scott are starred in Stanley Kubrick's "Dr. Strangelove or: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb," opening today at the Ritz Theatre. The film, a Columbia release, is called a "nightmare suspense comedy" by the producer-director.

Also starred are Sterling Hayden, Keenan Wynn, Slim Pickens and screen newcomer Tracy Reed as "Miss Foreign Affairs." "Dr. Strangelove or: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb" has a psychotic Air Force general triggering an irrevocable scheme, unleashing his wing of B-52 H-Bombers to attack Russia. The President of the United States, unable to recall the aircraft, is forced to cooperate with the Soviet Premier in a bizarre attempt to save the world.

THREE ROLES Sellers plays three roles in the film, as he did in Kubrick's earlier picture, "Lolita." The star is seen as the President of the United States, desperately trying to prevent the destruction of the world in the few brief hours between the unleashing of the bombers and the fall of the bomb itself; he appears in the title role as a German "nuclear wiseman" whose cold-blooded approach to the bomb is computer-like in its inhumanity; and he appears as an R.A.F. Group Captain acting as liaison with the U. S. Air Force.

Scott plays the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a man whose training and beliefs are at war with his own realization of what is happening, and what must happen. It is Scott, too, who shares one of the high spots of the film's continuing comedy when he first learns of the bomb's unleashing while dallying in the mirror-lined boudoir of "Miss Foreign Affairs," the shapely, bikini-clad Pentagon secretary played by Miss Tracy Reed.

GENERAL Hayden plays the Air Force general whose unreasoning fear leads him to his unilateral war, and Keenan Wynn is equally superb as the Army officer unable to think past his battle orders. Western actor and rodeo rider Slim Pickens plays the pilot of the H-bomber which manages to get through both American and Russian defenses, a role Sellers originally was to play but an injured ankle made Pickens' substitution necessary.

Screenplay for "Dr. Strangelove or: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb" was written by Stanley Kubrick, Peter George and Terry Southern, based on the novel, "Red Alert," by Peter George.

Newsstand A Fixture

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Most people in Hollywood come from somewhere else, and when they want to learn about where they came from, they go out to Palms Avenue and Hollywood Boulevard.

The stand's aged cash register can be heard ringing around the clock, and each hour brings a new pattern of purchasers—from the fry cooks, hotel help the musicians, strip teasers and insomniacs of late night.

For 25 years, the owners of the Universal News Agency, Simon Fanstein and Walter Spile, have been watching the never-ending parade.

"It's a fascinating business," said Fanstein. "You see people from all walks of life and from the four corners of the globe. We get 'em all. You talk about stars. They've all been here. That fellow who plays Perry Mason on the television—what's his name, Raymond Burr?—he comes by every week to pick up the latest art magazines."

STAMPS IN THE NEWS

Jersey Commemorative To Be Issued June 15

The five cent commemorative stamp honoring the tercentenary of the State of New Jersey will go on first day sale June 15 in Elizabeth, N.J.

The city of Elizabeth was chosen because it is also celebrating its 300th anniversary and is the oldest city in the state as well as the first capital. Depicted on the new five cent is a detail from a painting in the Union County courthouse showing Philip Carteret walking ashore at Elizabethtown with his men in 1664. The drawing overlays a sketch map of the state.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the New Jersey commemorative may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamp to be affixed, to the postmaster, Elizabeth, N. J. 97200. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be clearly marked "First Day Covers."

New Jersey Tercentenary Stamp. Requests must be post-marked not later than June 15.

Austria has issued a new set of six values commemorating the 1964 Viennese International Horticultural Exhibition. The multi-colored stamps depict various flowers on display in the exhibition. Also issued by that country is a series of stamps marking the 15th Universal Postal Congress held in Vienna, and a special stamp for the Second Parliamentary and Scientific Conference.

Indonesia has issued four new stamps featuring a portrait of President Sukarno. The values are 6, 100, 250 and 500 rupiah. The portrait was based on a painting of Sukarno by Basuki Abdullah.

WHERE HISTORY WALLS A LIBRARY—INSIDE AND OUT!

Books in the library of the University of Mexico cover that country's history back to the great Mayan Empires, centuries before Christ.

Outside, its walls are covered by Juan O'Gorman's colorful mosaic (made of more than 7½ million separate stones) depicting the history and culture of Mexico.

The school itself dates back to 1551, but its campus is one of the world's most modern. Built in 1954, it was designed by a team of Mexico's finest architects.

Even in a country known for its architecture, on a campus that is a collective example for the world, the library stands out.

Knowledge of our modern neighbor is important today. Send for the free 16-page booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 19.

DEAR ABBY A Word For Immigrants

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is writing this letter for me because I cannot read or write English. My dream of becoming an American citizen will soon come true, although I speak and write only Spanish. I just learned that it is possible for foreign-born people to take American citizenship tests in their native language, and I hope you will tell others who cannot read, write or speak English that this is so.

AN OLD BUT NEW AMERICAN

DEAR AMERICAN: Thank you for your letter. It is with much pleasure that I share the following information with all interested readers: "According to immigration law, persons born before December 24th, 1902, and have resided in the United States at least 20 years, can take their citizenship tests in their native tongue." Immigrants who came to America after the turn of the century, and who never learned English, should know that this opportunity is available to them.

DEAR ABBY: Every time we go to my brother's home my husband embarrasses me to death. He wrestles with my twin nieces, who are 19 years old. He just can't leave them alone for five minutes. He has to be grabbing one of them by her legs, pulling her out of her chair onto the floor, and trying to pin her arms down. When we leave there he always has the buttons torn off his shirt or his pockets torn. I know it's all in fun, but I think he ought to know better. Am I being overly critical? I am 24, my husband is 25, and I am not jealous.

WRESTLER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It's time YOU went to the mat with your husband and pinned HIS ears back. Tell him to keep his hands off the girls, and then have a long talk with the girls about
