Wind, Dust, Rain Fail To Dim Rodeo

Wind, dust, lightning, and a light rain scared off all but a handful of spectators for the opening performance of the 31st annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Wednesday. But the inclement weather only served to make the stock more contrary, and the cowboys had a tough time chalking up points or scoring low times.

Half of the bareback bronc riders fell in the mud, less than half the saddle bronc riders managed to hang on, and only three riders completed a ride on the big Brahma bulls.

PARADES

Although the weather held back attendance for the rodeo performance, thousands of Big Springers lined downtown streets for the afternoon parade under overcast skies. Many of these also went to the city park for the Kiwanis Club barbecue.

Kiwanis members reported this morning's barbecue was one of the most successful ever. Everything they had prepared was sold to an estimated 1,600 persons.

AWARDS

Outstanding visiting riding organizations were honored with awards, and the winning floats entered in the parade were named.

The first three place winners in the parade were given trophies by Charlie Creighton, president of the Big Spring Rodeo Association. First went to the Martin County Sheriff's posse, second to the Ector County Sheriff's posse, and third to Dawson County Sheriff's posse.

liminary events, and the Coahoma High School Band played the National Anthem to start the rodeo.

Around 1,000 fans were in the stands as the first event, bareback bronc riding, started. The wind, accompanied by dust and lightning and followed by a light rain, emptied most of the seats, although the rodeo proceeded as scheduled. As the wind died, and the threat of heavy rain diminished, some fans came back in.

The horses and bulls, provided by producers Jiggs and Elra Reuter of Oklahoma, were ready for the events as soon as the grand entry was over.

There is some difference of opinion over whether Goldwater's defeat of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in Tuesday's California primary carried the senator over his last big hurdle toward the Republican presidential nomination.

But if Goldwater is nominated at the mid-July convention here, the fireworks probably will start exploding even before the August Democratic convention goes through the formality of nominating the President.

All signs indicate that Johnson would welcome Goldwater as his opponent, the President, an experienced performer on the stump, might even be tempted into a television debate with Goldwater, who has been accused by critics in his own party of firing carelessly from the hip in some statements on major issues.

Because of the limitations on what a president can say publicly, Johnson has not indicated if he will debate his opponent on TV. But Johnson has shown a yen for the kind of crowd hopping and individual handshaking that Goldwater gives every sign of detesting. However, if Goldwater is the Republican nominee, he probably would have to campaign on the supermarket circuit.

In his California campaign, the senator laid out the pattern of the attack he could be expected to make on Johnson in a general election contest.

Among other things, Goldwater said the administration's foreign policies offered a "path to suicide," that the country faced "another Korea" in South Viet Nam and might lose all of Southeast Asia to the Communists.

"We are following the same path of appeasement that we followed in the 1930s," he said.

The Democrats have been making a book on Goldwater's utterances for several years. Any quotations they might have missed probably were dug up by Rockefeller's researchers and injected into the governor's attack on the senator.

Democratic speakers have only to quote Rockefeller's assertion that Goldwater's call for an end to foreign aid, his opposition to arms control measures and his proposal to quit the United Nations if Red China were admitted add up to a "blueprint for defeat and disaster."

Then there was the matter of civil rights, where Johnson is committed to all-out support of the bill before the Senate and Goldwater is opposed to some of its provisions.

No Dull Race With Barry Vs. Johnson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If the presidential race matches Sen. Barry Goldwater against President Johnson the November election campaign will have few dull moments.

There is some difference of opinion over whether Goldwater's defeat of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in Tuesday's California primary carried the senator over his last big hurdle toward the Republican presidential nomination.

Congratulations In Order

Major Gen. Paul A. Mayo, assistant to the commanding general of the Fourth U.S. Army, congratulates Sgt. L.C. Raymond J. Woolverton, left, Big Spring Army recruiter, on winning a Fourth Army award for recruiting Gen. Mayo presented a plaque to Sgt. Woolverton in ceremonies today.

Gen. Mayo Makes Award Here Today

Major Gen. Paul A. Mayo, assistant to the commanding general of the Fourth U.S. Army, presented a plaque for high recruiting effectiveness to Sgt. L.C. Raymond J. Woolverton, Army recruiter for Big Spring, today.

Sgt. Woolverton was recognized for conducting the top one-man recruiting office in the Fourth Army recruiting district during April.

Mayor George Zachariah and Col. Rex Fryer, deputy wing commander at Webb AFB, welcomed the general to Big Spring on his arrival at Webb this morning.

Gen. Mayo attended the noon luncheon of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club and afterward presented the award to Sgt. Woolverton at the Army Recruiting Station, 207 1/2 W. 4th.

The general was scheduled to leave this afternoon by plane for Dyess AFB, Abilene. He is on a tour of the Fourth Army area.

Accompanying him is Lt. Col. James Dickerson, commander of the Abilene Recruiting Station.

Sgt. Woolverton has 20 years military service, including service in the Navy during World War II. He participated in campaigns in New Guinea, Casablanca and the Philippines.

He has been Army recruiter for Big Spring about one year.

United States Should Have Sent Marines to Cuba

On several occasions, the President has suggested that Goldwater's proposed response to the water cutoff was most unsuitable to the threat. Johnson has said he found it much wiser to send one admiral to shut the water off by cutting the pipeline than to send in Marines to turn the water on.

A month ago, in Knoxville, Tenn., Johnson jabbed Goldwater on a different front. Talking about 1965 opponents of the Social Security program, the President said, "If those men had had their way, the 'for sale' sign would be on TVA this very hour."

Goldwater had once suggested a "for sale" sign for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In that same Knoxville speech, Johnson also took indirect issue with Nixon. Without mentioning names he scooped at those who had labeled his anti-poverty program "a cruel hoax."

That phrase had been used by Nixon a week earlier.

LBJ To Keep Rules Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The powerful House Rules Committee likely will remain under the tenuous control of administration Democrats in 1965 although it will have two or three new members.

One of the present 19 Democratic seats and probably two of the five Republican seats will be vacant when the new Congress convenes in January, assuming continued Democratic control of the House.

The Democratic vacancy will be the seat of Rep. Carl Elliott of Alabama, who was defeated for renomination in Tuesday's primary. One Republican, Elmer J. Hoffman of Illinois, is running for a state office and another, William H. Avery of Kansas, is running for governor but still could change his mind and seek re-election to the House.

All the remaining 12 members come from districts considered "safe" for re-election.

Avery and Hoffman, along with the other three Republicans, generally have teamed up in the past with two Democrats, Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and William M. Colmer of Mississippi, to form a conservative minority.

Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., reportedly has the inside track to replace Hoffman. No one has been prominently mentioned to take Avery's place.

Replacing Elliott may pose quite a problem since the Alabama seat normally would belong to the South. Not many liberal Southerners acceptable to the Democratic leadership are available or willing to take the political risk involved in House Rules Committee membership.

HIGH WINDS

Clouds Yield Little Moisture

Heavy clouds, with lots of wind and some lightning, dotted the Howard County area last night, but spilled comparatively little moisture.

Some hail was reported about a mile west of the Lees Store, where some young cotton was lost. No damage was reported in other areas. Heaviest rainfall was at Lee's Store with .90 of an inch falling.

Heavy clouds, with some lightning, hung over the Big Spring area this morning, and a light rain fell in parts of the city.

A bolt of lightning struck the parking area in front of the 31st FIS operations building at Webb AFB. Six airmen were affected by the bolt, but no serious injury resulted. An ambulance was sent from the base clinic along with a medical officer, Capt. Guillermo Rios. He examined the men at the scene and released Airman L.C. Kenneth Trantham, S. Sgt. Robert Baker and Airman L.C. Jimmy Warren.

Taken to the base hospital for further examination, and later released, were S. Sgt. Sydney S. Hart, Airman L.C. Will Parker and S. Sgt. William Higgins.

No damage to buildings or equipment resulted.

Forsan got 41 inch in about 20 minutes Wednesday when some small hail was reported along with high winds, but there was no damage. The Big Spring Experiment Station's gauge recorded .97 of an inch.

Stanton To Get Help For New Housing

STANTON — Stanton is in line to receive government aid to build up to 78 low rent homes with from one to four bedrooms — 32 of them for elderly families — costing up to $995,212. U. S. Senator Ralph W. Yarborough has advised the city that the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Public Housing Division, has approved the appropriation for the loan.

Mrs. Floyd Smith, manager of the Stanton office of Public Housing in Stanton, said no contracts had been made to secure lots or acreage for the buildings, and that it would be several weeks before a move is started to purchase necessary lots.

"We have selected Pace, Norris & Pace, of Midland, as architects, but they will not start on plans until sites have been selected," she said. "Plans will be drawn according to the housing administration and must be approved locally and by the district offices. This is not a part of the Urban Renewal program."

Mrs. Smith said the program is designed to provide decent homes for low-income families (those between $2,500 and $4,100) who can not afford to build or buy homes. Their rents will be based on income and the number in the families.

"It is merely a move to get the low-income families out of sub-standard houses and into better homes," Mrs. Smith said. "We will start making contacts in the next few weeks. We are not in competition with local realtors, or real estate men, or those who have houses for rent."

Grand Jury Seeking To Oust Wichita's Sheriff

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—The Wichita County grand jury Wednesday night indicted Sheriff Hammett (Ham) Vance for perjury and forgery and filed a civil suit seeking his removal from office.

The 52-year-old Vance, civic leader and president of the Law Enforcement Officers Association of Texas, faces a stiff reelection battle Saturday.

Judge Arthur Tipps said he expected to suspend Vance today. He was not arrested last night, pending formal service of the 12 indictments.

LIED TO JURY

One indictment charged Vance lied to the grand jury when he said he went alone to take custody of a prisoner in Florida in 1963. The grand jury said in its indictment that Vance was accompanied by a Mrs. Marie Cavet, convicted and given a five year probated sentence for killing her husband in 1962.

The indictments also alleged that Vance lied when he denied seeing or talking to Mrs. Cavet since November of 1963, and alleged that he forged receipts for motel and hotel bills.

The grand jury's action climaxed a three month investigation into what Dist. Atty. Stanley Kirk called the "overall situation" in the sheriff's office.

12 YEARS

"This ruins me politically," Vance said after the grand jury reported at 11:30 p.m. Vance has served 12 years as sheriff, though not consecutive terms, and was a Texas highway patrolman for 10 years. A former professional baseball player, he was a Marine Corps major during World War II, and is active in many civic clubs in this North Texas city of 140,000 population. He is married and has two children.

Six of the indictments were for forgery, three for perjury in the grand jury, and three for false swearing.

In its 31-count civil suit, the grand jury said Vance was "guilty of official misconduct, misappropriation of county funds, forgery, theft, gross carelessness and incompetence in the discharge of duties... warranting his removal from office."

NO IMPLICATIONS

The grand jury said it wanted to "make clear there are no political implications in the return of the indictments."

The district attorney said the grand jury probed the sheriff's office at its request "because of the many rumors, charges, and counter-rumors that have circulated in recent months regarding Sheriff Vance."

Kirk said Vance's name would

VA Does Not Sponsor Sales

Beware of telephone and door-to-door callers representing the Veterans Administration who are soliciting funds or selling products. That advice comes from Donald D. Van Meter, director of the local VA Hospital.

"The VA does not endorse any product, project or commercial endeavor for the profit of individuals, organizations or corporations," he said Tuesday after several inquiries had come from those approached by such salesmen.

Van Meter added that the VA neither endorses nor condemns door-to-door solicitations in behalf of the veterans. But those who suspect false claims should check with the Credit Bureau of Greater Big Spring in the Permian Building.

Wage Change Survey Slated

The Army - Air Force wage board has scheduled a wage change survey to collect current wage data from private industries in Big Spring, Midland and Odessa. This survey will be conducted by the civilian personnel office at Webb Air Force Base.

This data is used to establish pay rates for wage board employees at the base. If the information warrants, an adjustment in the wage board pay scale will be authorized.

Loan Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Housing Administration announced Wednesday a $905,212 loan for construction of 78 low-rent homes at Stanton, Tex.

ANOTHER LOOK: A second Senate inquiry into the impact on the nation's business of defense spending shifts and cutbacks was announced today by Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala.

"Skipper's shot. We've been shot. Tryin' to help," was the desperate cry on the tape released Wednesday by the Civil Aeronautics Board and the FBI.

The voice was identified as that of copilot Ray E. Andress. A revolver found in the plane wreckage was traced to one of the passengers who had taken out a large amount of flight insurance.

Eager GOP To Shape Destiny Soon In Frisco's Big Cow Palace

EDITOR'S NOTE — Next month the Republican party will decide on "The man who..." will carry its banner in the November presidential election. The choice will be made at the national convention in San Francisco. The following first of two articles dealing with the Republican and Democratic convention sites, pictures the surroundings in which the Republican candidate will be selected.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Republican party, eager to take charge of the nation's future, shapes up its destiny soon in San Francisco, a city that is a proud prisoner of its past.

This seaport city, which a gold rush spawned and an earthquake couldn't kill, will be the mid-July mecca of 90,000 for the Republican National Convention—delegates, alternates, candidates, boosters, and news-camera, radio and television media.

The question whether the choice is to be Rockefeller or Goldwater or Nixon or Lodge or Scranton or someone else gets answered July 13-16 at the Cow Palace. The site for settling that 1964 issue, is on the city's southeast side, seven miles across town from the waterfront, where $2 million is being spent to restore the gas-light, sailing ship era of the 1870s, '80s and '90s at Aquatic Park.

IN DEPRESSION
The cavernous 16,000-seat Cow Palace, built in the depression years under the impetus of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal and named by a critic of the New Deal, is the last place the Republicans picked a winner—Eisenhower for his second term in 1956.

Finally opened in 1941 as a livestock pavilion, the $11-million, $15,200-square-foot, cream-colored structure since has crammed in crowds at the rate of more than 1 1/2 million a year for:

The swelling hymns of a Billy Graham crusade; the thud of boxing gloves; the groan of wrestlers; the swish of ice hockey skates; and the appearance of the late John F. Kennedy.

Its name dates from the depression years. Families were being evicted from homes, and a critic scoffed that was no time to be building "a palace for cows." The name stuck, was formally adopted.

WHITE CARDS
In July, the Cow Palace becomes a window for the world. On a desk in the fifth floor Suite K at the St. Francis Hotel, offices of the GOP arrangements committee, is a bulging stack of white cards listing who is coming, to view and to report.

The Soviet Union is sending writers for Pravda, Izvestia and Tass. Moscow radio will be represented. Also Poland's news agency, and Hungary's radio and television. Most of London's newspapers. Likewise Tokyo's. Writers from India, Australia, Spain, Sweden, West Germany — to name a few of the more than 65 foreign media. More than 150 United States newspapers will send staffs to fill most of the 952 working press seats on the convention floor. They, along with news association corps, will keep busy 325 teletypewriter lines and many of the 3,000 telephones.

At the moment, inside the pillarless, postless arena, hammers are banging and drills whirring at work on 100-foot-long anchor bolts being built over northside seats.

SWEEP CROWD
These 20-foot - deep stages—part of $4-million in Cow Palace work related to the convention—will allow television cameras of the major U.S. networks to sweep over the crowd.

Plans call for more than 100 video channels, 264 radio circuits, 45 channels of telegraph equipment, a hookup of more than 38,000 miles of communication wires.

This center of activity is a 67-acre area in Visitation Valley almost within earshot of Willie Mays' bat meeting the ball at Candlestick Park, eastward beside the bay. Baseball's National League Giants are among additions to the San Francisco pattern since the 1956 GOP convention.

Some San Franciscans look upon that as a symbol—that the city has gone "big league." Actually it hasn't, can't, and wouldn't. San Francisco, as newcomers at the convention will quickly see, is a happy prisoner of geography and tradition.

ALL RACES
Its 750,000 people of all races—three of every 10 either were born outside the United States or have one parent of foreign stock—are squeezed into the tip of a 32-mile-long peninsula. The population density is nearly 16,000 to a square mile.

That doesn't count more than 125,000 who commute back and forth over the bridges, freeways and rail lines to work.

Convention visitors who have been to San Francisco before will note a few changes. The Fairmont Hotel on Nob Hill now has a rooftop drinking spot a little higher than its neighboring rival Top of the Mark.

Conrad Hilton has added a hotel of 1,200 rooms to the more than 25,000 in the city's 500 hotels and 65 motels.

But the crabs are still boiled alive in water vats down at Fisherman's Wharf as they have been for half a century. In narrow Grant Avenue, heart of 116-year-old Chinatown, merchants peddle oriental wares that in many instances are embarrassingly stamped "Made in Japan."

arrests; cost the city an estimated million dollars; clogged the municipal courts; and caused more discussion of the civil rights issue—an inevitable big plank in the GOP platform—than many a San Franciscan ever dreamed necessary.

Down at the Cow Palace, its management is taking the convention in stride. While telephone technicians fidget over delays in getting to their work, a wrestling match—which often draws bigger crowds than political conventions—will be staged June 27.

And in August, soon after the convention paraphernalia is carried away, there'll be a different type of crowd - catcher: from London—the Beatles.

MELTING POT
One change in the life pattern has jolted San Franciscans. In a melting pot of 55,000 of Italian extraction, 50,000 Chinese, 10,000 Japanese and a host of other nationalities, Negro groups have staged demonstrations in support of demands for more jobs.

These have resulted in mass

Draft Notices Sent 2,000

AUSTIN (AP) — State Selective Service officials mailed Wednesday almost 2,000 notices to Texans 18 years of age in the first official call for physical and mental examinations of youths under the normal draft age of 22.

State Selective Service Director Col. Morris Schwartz said the 1,816 Texas 18-year-olds, will not be considered for armed forces service, but that the examinations are part of President Johnson's "war on poverty."

The 18-year-olds who fail the mental examination in July and subsequent months will be referred by draft board letters to local offices of the State Employment Commission, where they will receive advice on jobs. Youths failing the mental examination are not required to visit Employment Commission offices.

Schwartz said the examinations will not be given to 18-year-olds who are married, those in school or those planning to enter college. The examinations will be given primarily to those who registered with draft boards in January, Schwartz said.

In addition to the 1,816 18-year-olds, an additional 1,519 men, mostly aged 21 or 22, will be examined. Texas local boards have a quota of 262 men to deliver for armed forces service in July.

Mrs. Duncan Dies Wednesday

Mrs. W. A. Duncan, Greenville, mother of Mrs. Carlos Humphrey, Big Spring, died at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday while undergoing surgery in a Greenville hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey were at the hospital.

Services were set for 4 p.m. today at the Johnson Street Church of Christ in Greenville.

Sergeants Save Money With Idea

Two Webb Air Force Base sergeants combined their talents to effect a cost reduction idea in the preparation of the monthly Wing Analysis.

The sergeants, T. Sgt. James C. Pettit, NCOIC of the Management Analysis section, and S. Sgt. Raymond E. Bird, NCOIC of Base Reproduction, analyzed the preparation, labor and material cost required to publish this compilation of operating statistics.

Over a two-day period the sergeants evolved a system that reduced the total annual cost of preparation of the report by 52 per cent.

The booklet contains 35 pages of statistics from official documents, recurring reports and major programs and objectives. Its objective is to assist managers in achieving maximum efficiency and economy.

"Glaucoma cannot be cured, but if detected early and properly treated, it can be arrested and blindness prevented", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

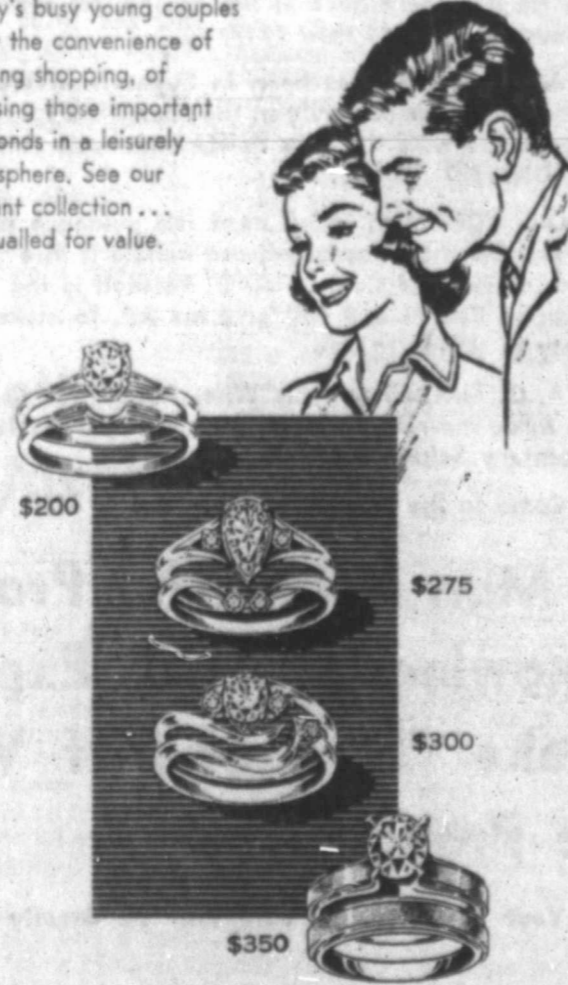

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Gill Is New Sands Coach

ACKERLY — Eddie Gill Jr. has been named head football coach at Sands High School, succeeding Arlen White.

White will concentrate on duties as head basketball coach but will assist in football, along with Roland Mullins. Mullins will double as head track coach and will coach the girls' basketball team here.

Gill is a former star fullback at Ackerly High School, which later consolidated with Knott High School. He lettered four years in the sport at Ackerly.

Gill graduated from Ackerly High School in 1955, attended Howard County Junior College through 1958 and took his degree from Sul Ross College in Alpine in 1962.

He taught and coached at Flower Grove for five years prior to returning to Ackerly. He will continue to teach Science in Sands High School.

Sands has reverted to eight-man football, after trying it in 11-man circles for a couple of years. The Mustangs launch fall workouts Aug. 17 and will scrimmage Garden City on regular play Sept. 11 on the road against Three Way.

Gill is married to the former Billy Ruth Freeman and they have two children, Eddie Wayne, age 5, and Walker Andrew, who is nearly two months old. Mrs. Gill formerly taught in the Sands school system but is concentrating upon her homemaking duties now.

Gill will have 22 players returning this fall, four of which are seniors. The seniors will be Eddie Herm, Alton Richter, Ray Long and Larry Chapman.

Sands schedule:
Sept. 11—At Three Way.
Sept. 18—Bulle here.
Sept. 25—Roaring Springs here.
Oct. 2—Gill here (C).
Oct. 9—At Dawson (C).
Oct. 16—Southland here (C).
Oct. 23—Kandika here (C).
Oct. 30—At Loop (C).
Nov. 7—Flower Grove here (C). (Homecoming game)
Nov. 13—At Wellman (C). (C)—denotes conference games.

Watch Out For Nicklaus And Palmer In Rye Meet

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus says he can't drive, and Arnold Palmer says he is so rusty his backswing creates little brown clouds.

That's enough to make them favorites in the Thunderbird Golf Tournament which opened today at the Westchester Country Club course.

The two big men of golf share that designation in any tournament they enter, and they have something extra going for them in the rich $100,000 test on the par 72, 5,573-yard course.

To start with, this is the tournament where both plan to begin getting ready for the U.S. Open, which comes up in two weeks on the Congressional course in Washington, D.C.

Add to that the fact that Palmer is the defending champion, and that Palmer and Nicklaus are two of only five golfers who have won two tournaments this year.

And add the $20,000 first prize. The two money machines are noted for refusing to leave that kind of cash around for the others.

Gary Player, the third member of the Mark McCormack stable, also is rated a good chance. He won the 500 Festival last week, and is another who has won two tournaments this year.

The other two with a pair of victories are Billy Casper and Mike Souhak, both in the field here. Open champion Julius Boros also is entered.

Among the others are British Open champion Bob Charles, and old Sam Snead.

Gartman Hurls Angels To Win

Mike Gartman slammed the door in the face of the Yankees after a two-run first inning in hurling the Angels to a 7-2 Sophomore league victory here Wednesday night.

Gartman yielded four hits to the Yanks, the same number his mates collected off two Yankee pitchers. He fanned 15 and surrendered only one walk.

The Angels struck for four runs without the aid of a hit in the opening inning and added the other three in the fourth. Banks, Thomas and Jenkins all had doubles for the winners.

Mays Miscues But Giants Win One

By MURRAY CHASS, Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays has dropped another fly ball for an error. Why 10 years ago he did the same thing.

San Francisco's great center fielder made the error Wednesday night, but it was harmless as the Giants blanked Pittsburgh 3-0.

Don Drysdale was the recipient of Mays' rare generosity with two out in the seventh inning. Mays ran back for Clendenon's fly ball, turned around and waited, ready to eat up the ball with his famous basket catch. His teammates already had started leaving the field when the ball fell into his glove. They came back when the ball fell out.

The last time that happened was on Sept. 9, 1954, in the Polo Grounds against the Chicago Cubs. Ernie Banks was the batter.

Just one inning before the ball got away from Mays for his first error of the season, Mays had trouble getting away from the ball. As a result, he is in the middle of a protest lodged by Pirates' Manager Danny Murtaugh.

A ground ball hit by Willie McCovey in the sixth and called foul by the umpires struck Mays, who was at third base after hitting a triple. Murtaugh contended Mays should have been called out under the rules governing a runner hit by a batted ball.

"It hit him before the ball had a chance to go fair or foul," Murtaugh argued. Umpire Jocko Conlan ruled, however, that Mays was in foul territory and could not be called out for being hit by a foul ball.

While Mays was being hit, Philadelphia was having trouble getting hits but still nipped Los Angeles 1-0 in 11 innings. In the other NL games, Milwaukee edged Cincinnati 3-2 and St. Louis defeated Chicago 7-5. Houston at New York was postponed by rain.

Allowed to remain at third in the disputed sixth inning, Mays scored minutes later as Orlando Cepeda slammed his fifth home run. Cepeda later drove in Mays with a sacrifice fly. Ron Herbel limited the Pirates to four hits in winning his third game in four decisions, Pittsburgh starter Vernon Law was struck by a Herbel pitch on the right elbow in the sixth and had to leave the game. Law, however, isn't expected to miss his next pitching turn.

Don Drysdale held the Phillies to three hits until Cookie Rojas opened the 11th with a double. Ron Ferranoski relieved Drysdale with one out, walked Johnny Callison purposely, then got a force at second as Rojas moved to third. Rojas scored when Jim Gilliam fumbled Tony Gonzalez' grounder and threw wild to first.

Smith's To Play In Abilene Meet

E. C. Smith Construction Company, Big Spring, is selected to oppose San Angelo in the first round of the Abilene Softball tournament tonight at 9 o'clock.

Two defeats will be required to eliminate a team from title contention.

If Smith's wins tonight, it will return to action at 9 p.m. Friday against the winner in the Abilene Athletic Supply - Shepard AFB game.

If the Big Springers lose to San Angelo, they'll play the loser of that game at the same hour Friday. Two softball fields are being used to stage the tournament.

Ford Brightens Yanks' Outlook

By MIKE RATHER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Whitey Ford, said teammate Ralph Terry, wins because "he's got it in three places—here, here and here."

And Terry pointed to his head, his arm and his heart.

The trio allowed Minnesota only four hits Wednesday night, Ford keeping tight reins on the controls as he pitched the New York Yankees to a 3-0 victory and took over the American League lead in shutouts and earned-run average.

Making his 12th start, the 35-year-old left-hander brought his record to 6-1 with his fourth shutout and lowered his ERA to a sparkling 1.53. Ford also is tied for the No. 1 spot in strikeouts with Boston's Dick Radatz. Both have 68.

How does Ford, who had a 24-7 record last year, do it time after time?

Terry says it's the head-arm-heart triple play. He elaborates: "He's got a reason for every pitch. That's something you can say for very few pitchers, but you can say it about Whitey because he thinks out there on the ground. He can set up a hitter beautifully because he's got everything to do the job."

With all that, Ford still was touched for four hits.

Robin Roberts allowed six but rode a four-homer salvo to his fourth victory as the first-place Baltimore Orioles defeated Kansas City 5-1 for their sixth consecutive victory.

Team managers and fathers active in the American Little League program here will square off in a softball exhibition at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in the league park on the HCJC campus.

Johnny Hobbs will manage the majors' team while Marion Tredaway will mastermind the minor league club.

Mothers of players will serve as officials. Chief umpire will be Mona Lou Tonn. Assisting her will be Vada Carlile, Faye Price and Bonnie Barber.

Braves Crowd Past Yanks

The Braves went an extra inning to topple the Yankees, 9-8, in National Little League competition here Wednesday night.

Jay Bob Dement scored the winning run after leading off with a base on balls. Scott McLaughlin brought him home with a base-loaded, one-out single.

Dave Duncan collected three hits and Skippy Eggleston two for the winners. Tommy Fletcher had a pair of blows for the losers.

What Will It Take To Win?

The score it will take to win the second annual Big Spring Golf Open, which begins at the Country Club Saturday, seems to be the topic of conversation with the above foursome, all of whom are entered in the two-day meet. From the left, they are Bobby Wright, Obie Bristow, Eddie Don Harris and Tommy Wilkerson. Wright will team with Wendy Green and Wilkerson with Jimmy Patterson. Bristow and Harris will play together.

Ed Hopkins Added To Tourney Field

By TOMMY HART
Numbered among the 200 golfers who had entered the second annual Big Spring Open late Wednesday were 22 pros, any one of whom can win the $400 prize for being a member of the winning tandem.
The three twosomes which shift to the top when talk centers on the championship, however, are headed by Pros Horace Moore of Plainview and Wendy Green, Big Spring and Ed Hopkins, Dallas, an amateur.

Moore will again team with a fellow townsman, Jack Williams. Green's partner will be Bobby Wright, Big Spring.

Local Legion Defeats Denver City, 7 To 6

DENVER CITY — The Big Spring American Legion baseball team outlasted Denver City in the opening game of District 19, 7-6, played in chilly weather here Wednesday night. The game had been postponed from Tuesday on account of rain.

Jets Bombard Hawks, 8-1

The Jets made the most of nine hits in American Little League play here Wednesday night, flogging the Hawks by a score of 8-1.
Gary Hinds, the winning pitcher, helped his own cause with a fifth inning solo homer. Hinds also lashed out two singles.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Some of the golf pros who were planning to take part in the Big Spring Open this weekend will play instead in a similar meet in Socorro, N.M.
The cash prizes there are somewhat bigger than they will be here.
Tom King, newly elevated to the high school football coaching staff here, will attend summer classes at East Texas College in Commerce, working toward his Master's Degree.
In 1958, Melvin Lindsey's first year as a coaching aide at Odessa High, the Bronchos wound up tied for first place in District 2-AAA with Abilene.
One of the big wins Odessa scored that year was over San Angelo by a 6-0 tab. The Red Hoses finished on top despite the fact that they had the ball only three seconds during the first quarter—long enough to punt. San Angelo was on the march for the first 7:57 minutes of the contest, yet failed to score. Tommy Ford, later an All-American at the University of Texas, was in his senior year at San Angelo that fall.
Lindsey has quit the coaching ranks here to concentrate on a career in insurance.
Big Spring can't hope to get the top playoff games in football here until it improves dressing room facilities at Memorial Stadium.
The job could easily be finished this summer, if school officials would tackle the job.
Floyd Rood, the marathon golfer who paused here last week from the rigors of hitting a golf ball from California to Miami, says he came by his nickname "Lake" honestly—even if there was some rascality in the manner in which he went about it.
He recalls he would wade out into the lakes on golf courses around his home town, New Orleans, and retrieve golf balls after hours, defying the attitude of club officials who reasoned the balls were their own.
The American Football League reportedly now has 40 different groups in 22 cities seeking franchises in their organization. Seven of the assemblages are in Chicago, seven others in Philadelphia.
The television honey is attracting a swarm of bees.
L. E. McCulloch, the one-time Big Spring mentor who is now athletic director at Odessa College, watched his Wrangler cagers experience their first losing season the past year since he became the foreman over there.
Odessa College under McCulloch has never won any league championships but the Wranglers have always fielded rough basketball teams.
Officials of the Kiwanis Club here reason it would take about $3,000 to light the tennis court on the HCJC campus for night play. They helped build the courts.
Anyone have any ideas on how to raise the money?
Arnold Palmer is coining loot as if he had his own printing press. He recently was paid $2,000 for making a speech at a meeting of the Aerojet-General Corp. in Los Angeles.

Odessa College Golfers Trail In National Meet

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Odessa, Tex., defending national junior college golf and tennis champions, held on to a slim lead in tennis but slipped to second on the links after Wednesday's semifinals.
The Texans' 19 points gave them a four-point edge over Jackson, Mich., and Central Florida going into Thursday's tennis finals. Columbus, Ga., still has an outside chance with 10 points.
In a two-way golf race, Phoenix, Ariz., led Odessa 913 to 918 after 54 holes Wednesday. Miami Dade, Fla., was third with 948.
Georgia flash Jay Davis held the last Columbus rope as he swept into the net singles finals with a 6-1, led Odessa 913 to 918 after 54 holes Wednesday. Miami Dade, Fla., was third with 948.

Rodeo Tips Given Lions

Tips on the fine points of rodeo events, plus background on the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, were given Downtown Lions at their meeting Wednesday noon in the Settles.

E. P. Driver, secretary of the association and who has been in contact with the rodeo almost since its beginning, spoke to the club and answered a barrage of questions about the western sport.

His father, Ira Driver, was one of the founding directors of the local show, and as a lad, Pep Driver and his brother, the late Curtis Driver, were contestants in the show. Now his active days of rodeeing are over, but Pep Driver keeps his hand in things by not only helping with the local show but by serving as a director of the American Junior Rodeo Association.

Driver explained to the Lions how the calf roping event, how important a good horse is in helping the roper, and how the tie and wrap is usually made. He also touched on the points which judges check in naming winners in the riding events.

The Big Spring show, he reminded the Lions, is a non-profit venture with profits—if any—being plowed back into improvement of the show, or in activities which promote agriculture, youth work, etc. The charter is so written that no stockholder can benefit from his holdings.

Out Of Uniform

An unfortunate tangle with poison ivy prevented Daniel Levin, 23, from wearing his dress uniform for graduation from the U.S. Military Academy Wednesday, but it didn't prevent him from marching in the procession. The graduating cadet from Albuquerque, N.M., was allowed to remain coatless and wear a short sleeved shirt. No one could remember the uniform of the ceremony at West Point having been broken before. Levin was among 564 in the graduating class. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Monday Rights Balloting Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern Democrats turned down today a Senate leadership proposal to start voting Monday on the civil rights bill under a strict limitation on debate.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, asked unanimous consent for such voting after charges of Dixie forces that the bill's counterfitter to avoid a vote on pending jury trial amendments.

In objecting to the request, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the Southern leader, called it an attempt to put the blame for the failure to vote on opponents of the House-passed bill.

Mansfield's request was to limit debate on all of more than 300 amendments to a one-half hour each and on a leadership substitute for the House bill to two hours, beginning Monday.

If agreed to, this would have wiped out any need to try to carry out the plans to include the Senate's debate-limiting closure rule.

Russell said that the Southern caucus did not agree to the request because, he maintained, it would not allow adequate time to consider all the proposed amendments to the bill.

Senate leaders discounted suggestions that their chances of getting the Senate to vote on the tactical maneuvers of opponents.

At the same time Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, removed himself from the ranks of the uncommitted and announced he will vote next Tuesday—the day set for a showdown—to put the Senate's debate-limiting closure rule into effect.

A two-thirds majority will be required, or 67 votes if all 100 senators vote, to halt a Southern filibuster against the bill by clamping a tight limit on fur-

Motor Burns Out

Firemen answered a call at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to the Dr. O. Ellington residence, 1568 Rannels, when an electric motor in an air conditioner shorted out. There was no damage, according to firemen.

'Staying Till The End,' Vows Gov. Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says present indications are that Sen. Barry Goldwater will win the Republican presidential nomination on the first or second ballot at the national convention—but "I'm staying right in this to the end."

"There's a long time between now and the convention in San Francisco and it's hard to tell what is going to happen," he said.

At a news conference Wednesday, Rockefeller discussed his loss of 86 delegates to Goldwater in Tuesday's California primary and looked ahead to the Republican National Convention opening July 13.

In addition to declaring he will continue his campaign for the Republican nomination, Rockefeller reiterated that the GOP convention must adopt a "forward-looking" platform. He said he intends to fight for such a platform.

Rockefeller, in campaigning against the conservative senator from Arizona, has said this year's Republican platform should be similar to the liberal platforms of 1956 and 1960.

He said at the news conference that he thinks every Republican would support Goldwater if he ran on a "forward-looking" platform.

Rockefeller said he hopes public opinion will bring Goldwater into "the mainstream of American thinking," and added: "The senator said Wednesday night he was in the mainstream of American thought, and all I can say is that we've got a meandering stream. There are hazards in that river."

Rockefeller said he believes the Republican platform should be drafted first, and a candidate then selected to run on it.

Barry Skips To Hideaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the winner's circle, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater left the talking to his campaign spokesmen today and slipped out of sight at an undisclosed hideaway.

Jubilant over his victory in Tuesday's California presidential primary, Goldwater's aides talked of a first-ballot victory at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Goldwater stamped his approval Wednesday on a victory statement prepared by his campaign staff, inviting his beaten rival, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, to help unite the GOP for the November election fight.

"There are still roads to cross but with California's 86 delegates, we have taken a giant step toward winning the presidential nomination," the victory statement declared.

Denison Kitchel, Goldwater's campaign manager, said it was the final word from the senator for a while.

"He will be out of circulation for several days," Kitchel said. Kitchel said Goldwater will keep a date to address the commencement of Pennsylvania Military College in Chester next Sunday, and return to his Senate desk Monday.

Power Shuffle Seen After Volatile California Vote

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A reshuffle in the power structure of California's volatile politics shapes up in the aftermath of Tuesday's primary election.

Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, close as it was, put conservative Republicans in position to complete their takeover of the state GOP.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Democratic elements who backed State Controller Alan Cranston in the U.S. Senate race faced a challenge by the successful forces behind the winner of the Democratic nomination, Pierre Salinger.

The post-election motto in both parties was "united front." Prospects for achieving it, however, were uncertain.

Goldwater upset not only the pollsters but California's middle-of-the-road voting pattern in defeating Rockefeller, who styled himself a moderate and the Arizona senator an extremist.

Goldwater won by 59,433 on the basis of unofficial returns from all but two of the 32,861 precincts. He carried only 14 of 38 counties—but nine that went to him were in the big population area of Southern California.

The Associated Press totals: Goldwater 1,091,291; Rockefeller 1,031,558.

Goldwater made his most effective showing in Los Angeles County, where he outpolled Rockefeller by enough—155,150—to offset the governor's Northern California strength. A margin of nearly 50,000 in Orange County also contributed importantly.

Early moves are expected by Goldwater supporters to solidify what they can cite as an election mandate for the conservative cause.

There's little doubt that the Republican State Central Committee, only major party organization still not controlled by the Goldwater camp, will name a Goldwater backer as state chairman Aug. 1. He is Dr. Gaylord Parkinson of La Jolla, now vice chairman.

In addition, under state law, the 86-member Goldwater delegation to the Republican National Convention will select California's two GOP national committeemen for the next four years. They'll replace Joseph Martin Jr., of San Francisco, who supported Rockefeller, and Patricia Hitt of Orange, who was neutral in the presidential primary.

On the Democratic side, party chiefs acted quickly to mend the fences knocked down in the blistering Senate contest between Salinger and Cranston.

Pledging to support Salinger, Gov. Brown said Wednesday, "We expect to present a united front in November from the top to the bottom of the ticket."

Way People Feel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., took note of Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory in the California presidential primary by saying the Arizona Republican "represents the way the people feel in America."

Former Forsan Pastor Killed

FORSAN (SC)—A plane crash in Steward, Alaska, last Saturday killed a former Forsan pastor, the Rev. Aubry Short.

Rev. Short was landing his small private plane near the town when the crash occurred, according to information received by friends in Forsan this week.

Rev. and Mrs. Short had lived in Alaska the past 4½ years. The family had lived first in Fairbanks and later at Steward, where he was pastor of the Faith Baptist Church. He was a resident of Forsan and pastor of the First Baptist Church from 1938 through 1940.

Funeral services will be conducted in the First Baptist Church of Pineville, Ark.

Survivors include his widow; two children, Mrs. Freva Nell Dossman, Alexandria, La., George Short, New York; and four grandchildren.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3♥
Pass	4♥	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♦

A flaw in declarer's technique led to the loss of a game contract which the blessing of a favorable distribution had placed within his grasp.

North's two no trump opening is a shade unorthodox for, though he has the required 22 points, his spade holding does not represent a true stopper in the suit. North understandably feared that a mere one bid might be passed out. South's decision to respond to two no trump—which is not a forcing bid—was dictated by the conviction that his hand was worthless except at a heart contract. It was his intention to bid and rebid his suit in the hope that partner had the fitting values to make such a commitment plausible.

West opened the queen of diamonds and South permitted him to hold the trick. West observed that a continuation was not apt to be profitable, so he shifted to the ace of spades. East signaled with the nine and, after winning the continuation with the king which completed the defensive book, he placed declarer in the dummy by shifting to a trump.

South drew the remaining heart and ruffed himself in with a diamond so that he could trump out his last spade. He now led the ten of diamonds in the vague hope that the ace might fall establishing dummy's king for a discard. No honor came up, however, and South tried the club finesse next. North's queen of clubs held and declarer cashed the ace. When the king did not appear, he acknowledged that he was down one.

Since the club finesse must succeed if declarer is to have any chance at all, he should mentally assign the king of clubs to West, as well as the jack of diamonds with which he is pretty well marked from the opening lead. By removing the ace of diamonds from East's hand, South can transfer possession of that suit as well as the club suit to West.

After ruffing out his losing spade, it is suggested that South cash the dummy's last trump and then lead the king of diamonds. East is obliged to cover with the ace as declarer ruffs in his hand. He now proceeds to lead out the rest of his hearts. As the last trump is played, West is down to the jack of diamonds and the king and two small clubs. He must keep his diamond to protect against North's ten. But when he gives up a club, South finesses the dummy's queen, cashes the ace which drops West's king, and declarer's jack takes the final trick.

Maj. O'Leary Leaves Webb

Major Richard J. O'Leary, quality control officer of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB, is being transferred to Lorin AFB, Limestone, Maine, for an assignment with the 27th FIS.

He has been a member of the 331st FIS since August, 1962. Prior to his assignment at Webb AFB, he was assigned to the 32nd FIS in Soesterberg, Holland.

A command pilot, with 3,500 flying hours to his credit, Maj. O'Leary completed pilot training in 1948. From 1950 to 1951, he saw service with the 9th Fighter Squadron in Korea and logged 150 combat hours in the F-80 fighter aircraft. Among his decorations are the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters, the Purple Heart — all won during his service in Korea. He also wears the Air Force Commendation Medal awarded for his participation during the 1962 Cuban crisis.

He was born in Eagle Pass, and is married to the former Ellen Pearson, Austin. The O'Learys have two boys, Timothy, 12, and James, 8. Timothy attends the Marcy school and James, the Immaculate Heart of Mary School. The family plans to leave Big Spring June 10.

Maj. O'Leary was the first 331st FIS pilot to be checked out in the F-104A Starfighter aircraft at Webb AFB. All other 331st FIS pilots received training in this aircraft at other bases.

Cloudiness Of Hard Feelings Dims Celebration Of D-Day

PARIS (AP) — Western Allies will celebrate Saturday the 20th anniversary of the most formidable military landing in history — under a little cloud of hard feelings. The chief of state of the host country, the first to be liberated by the troops who swarmed over the Normandy beaches on D-Day, 1944, will not attend. Nor will President Charles de Gaulle send his premier, Georges Pompidou, although both plan participation in celebrations of the south coast landings by French troops Aug. 15 and the liberation Aug. 25 of Paris.

HJCJC Signs 313 Students

No official count has been made, but the two or three students who enrolled in Summer School classes at HJCJC Wednesday boosted the total enrollment to about 313, according to B. M. Keese, registrar.

He said registration was to be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. today and from 8 a.m. Friday until 5 p.m., when it closes.

The total enrollment is slightly higher than last year, he said, but still is under the record set about three years ago. Day subjects are business administration, biology, chemistry, geology, math, typing, English, history, physics, psychology, speech and government. Night classes are being held in English, government, history, math, psychology, sociology and speech.

The cost per student is $10.50 per semester hour.

Scouters Meet

Summer plans will be discussed at the meeting of the operating committees of the Boy Scout Lone Star district at 7:30 p.m. today at Cosen Country Club. R. L. Tolett, chairman, said one of the important things would be consideration of the summer program of cubbing, and of camping for Scouts. Another will be looking toward the American Heritage observance during July 18.

NEVER ATTENDED

In effect, De Gaulle has never attended a D-Day anniversary, although three times he saluted the French Tricolor in ceremonies near the spot where he personally came ashore on D-Day plus eight. Those celebrations were in 1945, 1946 and 1952. Churchill has not attended a D-Day observance, French officials point out, and the highest-ranking American to do the honors was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, while commander of Allied forces in Europe.

Pompidou recently blamed the absence of top French participation on a press of other business, and said it had nothing to do with French solidarity, which "is total in the face of any eventual aggressor."

Archbishop Hurt

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP)—Roman Catholic Cardinal Jose Garibi Rivera, archbishop of Guadalajara, was injured Tuesday in an automobile collision. He was hospitalized, but his condition was not serious.

The French delegation this year will be led by Jean Sainteny, minister of veterans affairs; Raymond Triboulet, minister of cooperation and chairman of the arrangements; and Gen. Charles Ailleret, chief of staff of the armed forces.

From the United States will come Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chief of the American D-Day troops and now President Johnson's representative; Cyrus R. Vance, deputy secretary of defense; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Gen. Matthew R. Ridgway, who parachuted behind the beachhead; and many other general officers and diplomats. Britain, Canada, Belgium, Holland and Norway also will send delegations of high officers and diplomats. They will begin the ceremonies Friday in the Sword and Juno beachhead areas, moving on to Omaha Beach the next day. Paul Reynaud, premier in 1940, in a radio interview last week, regretted lack of respect for "our Allies to whom, let's not forget, we owe our liberty."

Gasoline Bids To Be Received

The city will receive bids until 2 p.m. June 18 for the purchase of gasoline. About 30,000 gallons of Ethyl and 45,000 gallons of regular gasoline will be purchased over the next six months. The Mobil Company's bid for furnishing gasoline to the city expires July 1. Bids are advertised each six months, and the contract for purchase of both regular and Ethyl gasoline always is awarded to the same bidder.

This Is The Way

Mrs. Roger Smith teaches her daughter, Tracy, the correct method for serving tea, with an assist from her mother, Mrs. A. J. Dimmock. These two English women keep the traditional tea time every day.

English-American Dishes Concocted By Mrs. Smith

By MARY COCHRAN
 "West Texas is wonderful! The people are so friendly," said Mrs. Roger Smith, who came to Big Spring from London, England, only six years ago. The climate and the opportunities in this country have converted this homemaker into a real Texan.
 Shopping is different in this country and Mrs. Smith does find there are a few things she cannot buy for her American-English menus. Fresh salt water fish is the one thing she has not been able to get. In England, the homemaker relies heavily on seafood in the diet. Smoked kippers are available at the fishmongers, skate is a great favorite, and fresh herring is served in most English homes. It is traditional to serve cod for Easter. This homemaker said she was sure several varieties of fresh roe would be suitable though she hasn't tried them. First, she boils the egg sack in a cloth, then cuts it in slices, flours and fries in deep fat to create a delectable dish.
FINE MARKETS
 The selection of vegetables in the United States is more varied, Mrs. Smith said. She buys these foodstuffs fresh and prepares them in a variety of ways. At the Smith home at 3903 Hamilton, the family dines on meat, potatoes and appropriate vegetables. They are particularly fond of Western beef.
 Leg of lamb served with a mint sauce is another favorite. Mrs. Smith bakes it in a 250 degree oven with the skin on and bastes it with drippings from pork. The mint sauce is purchased commercially, for this homemaker, though quite a gardener, has not yet been successful in growing fresh mint.
 One English tradition she has clung to is afternoon tea. Hot tea is ready every afternoon at four o'clock for her mother, Mrs. A. J. Dimmock, who lives two doors down the street and friends who drop in. With it, Mrs. Smith serves tarts, scones or cookies.

 When this homemaker is using an English recipe, she has to make adjustments, for the measurements are given in ounces and the pint measure differs. Mrs. Smith said that when she converts these recipes for Americans to use, it can be rather messy. First she must weigh an ingredient and then transfer it to an American measuring vessel. In her daily routine, this poses no problem, of course, for her kitchen is equipped with scales and U.S. standard measuring cups, and she cooks with ease in English or American.
CHRISTMAS
 An interesting custom the family maintains is the traditional Christmas dinner. This consists of turkey, pork, Brussels sprouts, roast potatoes, creamed potatoes, cranberry jelly and plum pudding topped with a thin custard sauce. There must always be a bottle of English champagne on the table for special toasts. The Smiths and the Dimmocks order their pudding. If it had been made in England, often it would have silver coins in it as treats for the children.
 In England, the Christmas table was always decorated with cracker bonbons. These are similar to the round party favors used at children's parties that pop when strings are pulled. However the English varieties are much more elaborate and the favors and hats inside are suited to grownups. Mrs. Smith said they are often quite fancy in design and shaped like fans or in other decorative forms.

 Smith was stationed in the Air Force in England where he met a perky young red-head. Romance blossomed and an international alliance was made when they married there and made their home. Six months after their daughter, Tracy, was born he came to Big Spring where he was stationed at Webb Air Force Base. Following his discharge from the service he was joined by his father-in-law and they went into the service station business.
 "We plan to go back to England for a visit in five years, but not to stay. We feel this is the land of opportunity," Mrs. Smith said. Another trip is in the offing, for a sister has made a home in Australia and they would like to visit her.
 Here are some recipes Mrs. Smith has adapted to American measure you will want to try.
ENGLISH AFTERNOON FRUIT SCONES
 2 cups flour
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. soda
 1 tsp. cream of tartar
 1-3 cup butter or margarine
 1/4 cup dried fruit
 1 egg
 2 tbsps. sugar (if desired)
 Milk to mix
 Sift dry ingredients, cut in fat and add dried fruit, and sugar if desired. Stir in one-half beaten egg and a little milk to give a soft dough. Then place on a lightly floured board, roll or pat dough out very lightly to about 1 inch thick. Cut out, using plain tuck. Then put scones on greased tin well spaced out, brush tops with remainder of egg and bake in hot oven at 450 degrees for 7 to 10 minutes.
DATE CRUNCHES
 2 cups of flour
 1 cup rolled oats
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 1/4 cups margarine
 12 ozs. dates
 Grated rind of one lemon
 2 to 3 tbsps. water
 Put flour, oats and sugar into basin. Melt the margarine, and add to the dry ingredients. Chop the dates, mix with grated lemon rind and water into pan and heat until mixture is of a soft consistency. Spread half the dry mixture over the bottom of a Swiss roll tin, then spread with date mixture. Sprinkle rest of dry mixture on top. Bake in 375 degree oven for 1 hour. Turn out on a board, and when cold cut into fingers.

CREAMY FISH PIE
 1 lb. cooked fish (boiled)
 1-3 cup margarine
 2 tbsps. flour
 1 1/2 cups milk
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1 tsp. parsley
 Squeeze of lemon
 Creamed mashed potato
 Skin and bone fish and flake finely. Melt fat, stir in flour and cook for a few minutes without browning. Stir in milk and bring to a boil. Add seasoning, parsley, lemon juice and fish. Put in baking dish and cover with creamed mashed potato. Dot with butter and heat in moderately hot oven at 400 degrees for about 20 minutes.
RICH CHERRY CAKE
 2 cups flour
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. baking powder
 3 oz. glace cherries
 1 1/2 sticks margarine
 3/4 cup sugar
 2 eggs
 1/4 tsp. vanilla essence
 Milk to mix
 Grease one loaf tin. Sift flour, salt and baking powder into basin. Cream fat and sugar, beat eggs separately and add. Then stir in dry ingredients lightly. Add a little milk to mix and lastly add vanilla essence. Blend mixture thoroughly. Put into loaf tin and bake in 350 degree oven for about one hour or until firm to touch and golden brown.
Try This Sauce Of Soft Custard
 This sauce is made with the whole egg rather than just yolks.
THICKENED CUSTARD SAUCE
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 tbsps. cornstarch
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 2 cups milk
 1 tsp. vanilla
 In the top of a double boiler, stir together thoroughly the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add egg and mix well. Gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Cook and stir constantly over boiling water until thickened. Cool; stir in vanilla. Chill. Makes 2 cups.

No Mixing Of Bread Necessary

The wonderful aroma of home-baked bread—not to mention its delicious taste—is with us again. Housewives by the thousands are surprising their families with bread and rolls warm from the oven, golden, crusty and irresistible.
 It's bread like grandma used to make, only there's none of the long mixing and kneading and hoping things would turn out right — which often they didn't. That part of the bread-making process has been taken over, lock, stock and flour-sifted, by the Morton Frozen Food people.

The return to home-baked bread has been made possible by the introduction here of frozen dough. With it, the homemaker simply lets the dough thaw and rise, pops it into a pan, and bakes it for 35 minutes. Easy as pie? Actually, a lot easier than pie.
 The frozen dough is placed in a greased bread pan, the surface is brushed with butter or shortening, and the pan is covered lightly. Then the dough is encouraged to rise.

This can be done in any of three ways: Simplest is to put the pan in the refrigerator overnight, and then set it in a warm place next day to let the dough rise 3/4 inch over the pan—about an hour and a quarter. Or, the frozen dough in the pan can be put in the same warm place (85-110 degrees) four to six hours. Quickest method is to preheat the oven to about 325 degrees, turn off the heat, and pop in the bread. In three hours, it will have risen.
 The dough can then be baked exactly as it is. On the other hand, it can also be punched down and then shaped in any way that tickles the housewife's fancy.

Regardless of shape, the bread is baked in a preheated oven for about 35 minutes, at which time it will be golden brown and will have pulled free from the sides of the pan. Brush with melted butter if desired, cool on a wire rack for 20 minutes, and let appetites do the rest.
 In addition to making wonderful bread, the dough forms a base for delicious pizzas. This recipe, and several others, follow. In all cases, thaw the dough and let it rise. Then punch it down and use according to directions. All recipes are for one piece of dough.
HOME-BAKE PIZZAS
 Divide punched-down dough into two or three parts depending on size of pan or cookie sheet to be used. Roll and pat dough into very thin circles to fit pan. Pinch edge of dough to make a small rim. Without letting dough rise, spread immediately with your favorite pizza sauce, mushrooms, meat balls, salami, anchovies or whatever you prefer. Top with oregano and grated cheese and bake in a 425 degree oven for about 25 minutes, until crust is brown and filling is bubbly. Cut and serve at once.

STICKY PAN ROLLS
 Bake a batch of Old-Fashioned Pan Rolls as described above. Combine 4 tablespoons honey and 2 tablespoons melted butter. When rolls are removed from the oven, drizzle the honey-butter mixture over the tops. Let cool.

Fish, Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. Ty Allen. Placing second were Mrs. Jack Irons, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, Mrs. Hudson Landers and Mrs. Morris Patterson. Winners were announced for the Variety Pairs Series. They were Mrs. Floyd Mays, first; Mrs. Ayrn McCann, second; Mrs. Ray McMahen, third; Mrs. Anne Hardy, fourth; Mrs. Ben McCullough, fifth; Mrs. B. B. Badger, sixth; and Mrs. A. Swartz, seventh. A new series will begin next Wednesday for the best four out of six games. The series will continue through July 15. The Friday game will be held at 1:30 p.m. following the golf association luncheon.

Trinity Lutheran Women Convene

Mrs. Milton Engelbretson, 1902 Hale, was hostess Tuesday to the Trinity Lutheran Church Women at a business session. Mrs. John Branscum presided and announced that the Bible school was scheduled June 15 from 9 to 11 a.m. The workshop will be at the church June 5 at 2 p.m. Refreshments were served by the hostess to eight members.

Lanes Hold Reunion In Abilene

The Lane family reunion was held Friday and Saturday in the state park at Abilene with over a hundred people attending.

During the two-day event, music was furnished by Jerry Harbor of Comanche and gospel songs were sung by a quartet from the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, Big Spring. Baseball and other games were played.

Officers to plan future reunions were elected following the Sunday lunch. They were Jess Lane, O'Donnell, president and Verna Lane, O'Donnell, secretary. The 1964 president was Ray Tubbs, and the former secretary was Juanita Lewis, both of Big Spring.

Trophies were given to the oldest and youngest persons there and to those having the largest families and traveling the longest distance for the affair. States represented were Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Louisiana and California.

Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Wright and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nile Cole and family, Mr. and Mrs. Maxie Cole and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lewis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tubbs and family, and Mrs. Clarence Daves and daughter.

Next year's reunion will be held at the park on the same dates.

Families Convene At Jones Reunion

The Jones family reunion was a Sunday event, and approximately 200 members attended from California, Texas and New Mexico. Troy Jones was named president, and Mrs. Jack Cathey was selected secretary. The group met at the Rebekah Lodge Hall and traveled to Lake Thomas for a picnic.

Lake hosts were Troy, B. R. Carl, J. W. and Raymond Jones. Fifteen of the guests were from out of town.

Practice Session Held By Chapter

Members of the Order of Eastern Star, Big Spring Chapter 67, made preparations Tuesday evening for an installation service to be held Friday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Charles Graham and Mrs. W. D. Peters directed the practice session when 48 members met in Masonic Hall. The formal installation service will be held at Cosden Country Club.

Texan's Wives Busy On Political Scene

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—Wives of Texas members of Congress are almost as busy as their husbands these days.

They are being called upon to help show visiting constituents around the nation's capital. And with the New York World's Fair to draw them East, Texans are arriving in record numbers this year.

"That's one way we can take some of the load off our husbands," commented the wife of Rep. W. R. Poage, (D, Waco). Mrs. Poage might have added that, like some of the other wives who once worked as secretaries, she sometimes pitches in to help clear up the correspondence that piles up in her husband's office.

As an example of what the wives do when the visitors arrive, Mrs. Poage recently managed to get tickets for four Waco women to attend a breakfast honoring Lady Bird Johnson, the First Lady. Later that day they were guests of Mrs. Poage in the House restaurant at the Capitol.

The four, here for a conference of Democratic women leaders, were Mrs. Ray Hicks, Mrs. George Nokes, Mrs. Virginia Smith and Mrs. John Sheehy.

Recent overnight guests of the Porges were Dr. and Mrs. Bob Miller. He is head of Baylor University's political science department. His wife, teaches English at the University. They were en route to Europe.

Mrs. George Mahon, whose husband recently became chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, also goes fre-

Mission Program On Brazil Held By Baptists

The Royal Service program for the Woman's Missionary Society at Westside Baptist Church was held Tuesday, and Mrs. C. L. Kirkland was in charge of the study on Brazil.

The missionary work and the problems of the Brazilian people were discussed. Those on the program were Mrs. W. E. Holman, Mrs. J. O. Murphy, Mrs. E. O. Sanderson and Mrs. James Hollis.

Mrs. Earl Hollis read the prayer calendar, and Mrs. T. E. Sanders worded the closing prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kirkland to 10 members.

D. Wileys Attend 'Sound Of Music'

Mrs. and Mrs. Don Wiley, 3203 Cornell, have returned home from a trip to Fort Worth and Dallas. They attended the performance of "Sound of Music" at Casa Manana while in Fort Worth.

Queen Candidates To Be Entertained Here

Entertainment is being provided this week for rodeo queen candidates, their escorts or chaperones and parents.

Scheduled today was a picnic lunch at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. C. Grigsby at Lake J. B. Thomas with the afternoon to be spent boating.

Friday morning there will be free bowling and a theater party will be held in the afternoon.

quently to Capitol Hill to escort constituents from the Lubbock area.

"Everybody's coming up for the New York World's Fair and stopping in Washington on the way," she observed.

Rep. Lindley Beckworth, (D, Gilmer), whose wife is kept busy at home with their five children, often leaves the House floor to greet constituents and to show them around the Capitol.

Judge and Mrs. Fred Erisman of Longview, here for Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's conference on ball and criminal procedures were guests of Beckworth at the House restaurant after they had heard President Eamon de Valera of Ireland address a joint session of Congress.

The day before, the Rev. and Mrs. Jared I. Cartledge, Gilmer Baptist minister, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Marshall of Gilmer were escorted on a tour of the Capitol by Beckworth.

Is Guest In Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Ronnie LaDuque visited his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Knight over the weekend en route to his home in Seminole for summer vacation. He is a student at Texas A&M College.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Wash and family were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boothe, Lana and Lanette of Kyle and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Russell of Lubbock.

Mrs. M. E. Petree and Bob of Crane are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cowley, Brenda and Stevie have been to Dallas to visit Six Flags Over Texas.

Visitors in the E. M. Bailey home Sunday were Dr. and Mrs. Berlie Fallon, Judy, and Laine of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fallon of Big Spring.

Mrs. Vera Harris spent the past weekend in Robert Lee with Mr. and Mrs. James Craig, Jamie and Jimmy.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifton Clanton Jr., Gail Rt., announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Marie, to Larry Dean Fryar. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fryar, Rt. 1. The couple will be married July 3.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Make Peg Board Jewelry Display

Dear Heloise: I bought a square piece of peg board from my local contractor supply store and fitted it into the end of my clothes closet (I have a sliding door type). These could also be fitted on the inside of any regular closet door.

HELOISE

One of your fans.

Dear Heloise: Don't throw away the ends of that loaf of bread!

Wrap the ends up in their own individual bread wrapper and put them in your freezer. Since they are from your favorite brand of bread, they make the best hamburger buns you can buy!

They are especially good for weight-watchers because they are only half as thick as a regular hamburger bun, yet the baked brown ends prevent the juice of the hamburgers from seeping through. . . . Juanita Black

From this day on I will never throw a heel away. Better yet, when you open the bread wrapper, stick the heel in a plastic bag in your freezer right away. And thanks, Juanita. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: When you write your grocery list underline the item itself. (For instance, three cans of peaches, underline peaches, etc. This saves time and confusion when doing that shopping. . . . Ermal Collins

Dear Heloise: I preheat my clothes dryer before putting in my starched pieces. I find that the cold, wet clothing does not strike against the warm dryer as much as they do a cold dryer, thus eliminating the loss of some of the starch. . . . P. R.

Dear Heloise: When I need pieces of bacon to cook with my food, I do not take out a whole strip of bacon and dice it. Instead, I cut the fat end off as many slices as I need, and still have the slices of bacon to cook for breakfast.

Besides, the resulting shorter strips fit into the frying pan better. . . . Eulalie

Dear Heloise: Your famous nylon net again! Have you ever tried making a wind scarf? Just cut the net as large as you want, fold it back and forth to make pleats, sew a ribbon tie on each end, steam press, and it's ready to wear. They make lovely gifts, too. . . . E. H.

Dear Heloise: Because my wife is not able to walk up and down the stairs, I do the laundry.

Our washing machine is a front loading washer so I made sacks of nylon mesh about 24 by 30 inches, put one sheet in each bag and tied the loose ends.

I learned to put the sheets in a case with a bath towel and then run them through the regular cycle, and believe me, there is no wadding or twisting and each sheet turns out cleaner and less wrinkled than I ever saw before!

Your nylon mesh is wonderful. Thanks to you for your daily visit in our home via your column. . . . Bud Whitmer

Furniture Needs Proper Moisture

A new iron food chopper needs to be "conditioned" before use in order to remove an oily protective finish applied at the factory.

First wash it in hot soap or detergent suds. Then—using all the cutting attachments—grind a piece of suet followed by some crackers or dry bread.

Finally, re-wash all the parts thoroughly in clean hot suds and rinse water. Wipe dry and allow to air before reassembling the parts.

Orndorffs Visit In Basden Home

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Orndorff and Buford Orndorff III arrived Monday from El Paso, to visit with the elder Orndorffs daughter and family, the Wayne Basdens.

Mrs. Orndorff and Mrs. Basden left today to accompany Mrs. Basden's brother to Dallas where he will explain for points in Missouri. The women will return Sunday.

Senior Citizens To Have Camps

CHICAGO — Day camps for Grandpa and Grandma will be as commonplace as day camps for junior in another ten years, predicts an expert on nursing homes.

Chicago's Morton Textiles and Furniture has just finished a nursing home job which features a "day camp" set-up for senior citizens who will spend the day at planned activities and go back home at night.

Morton's president, Julius Greengoss, claims it is the beginning of a trend and said that in another decade whenever junior goes off to day camp, Granny, too, will go to hers.

Shock Treatment Tried By Artist

PARIS—Iris Clert, the most successful of France's new art-gallery owners, has announced that she will exhibit only works that shock both herself and her painters.

"There is beauty in everything," she said. "I showed no paintings or sculpture at my first exhibition but suggested that visitors admire the bare walls of my gallery. Everybody had a stimulating experience."

Dear Abby

Better Sober Up

DEAR ABBY: There is a very attractive bachelor living in my apartment building. I am single, too. We have become quite friendly of late, and have invited each other in for a drink, conversation and television. I drink nothing but ginger ale, but whenever he serves it to me I have had the feeling that it was spiked. When I accused him of this he became very indignant and swore he never did. I've watched him carefully but haven't been able to catch him at it, yet I continue to get that high, exhilarated feeling when we're drinking together. Could it be my imagination?

FEELING HIGH
DEAR FEELING: If he is not spiking your ginger ale, he is even more dangerous because he is intoxicating you with his company. Stay out of his apartment.

DEAR ABBY: I always believed that honesty was the best policy, but it cost me a friend. You see, my best friend bought a dress and asked me what I thought of it. I told her I thought it was too short, too tight and the color was wrong for her. I told her in a very nice way, but she got mad and now she won't even speak to me. Should I have told her the dress was nice even if it wasn't? Please print this, Abby. I know a lot of people who have the same trouble.

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: When a woman asks a friend what she "thinks" of something after she has already bought it, she doesn't want an honest opinion—she wants a compliment. If your best friend quit speaking to you on this account, it could not have been much of a friendship.

DEAR ABBY: Our beautiful 23-year-old daughter is engaged to a fine young man whom she has dated all through college. She is our only daughter and we have the means to give her a storybook wedding. The problem: The young man's mother is an invalid and seems to be fading fast. He wants to be married at a quiet ceremony at his mother's bedside as her doctors say she cannot leave her bed or stand too much excitement. Do you think this is fair to our daughter? Deep down in her heart I know she must be terribly disappointed, but she readily agreed. I am heart-sick, and so is our entire family. Why can't the couple have a quiet ceremony at his mother's bedside and then be married again at a beautiful church wedding? Others have been married by a Justice of the Peace and then remarried in a church. If any of your readers have ever faced this problem, I'd appreciate knowing how they handled it.

A MOTHER IN BURLINGAME
DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter is showing more good judgment and compassion than you are. You "storybook" wedding, following a bedside ceremony, would reduce the church ceremony to a performance.

Ten Attend Y Parley

Eight young people and two leaders are participating this week in a YMCA leadership development conference on the SMU campus in Dallas. Jim Gilbert, physical education instructor at the Y, is on the faculty of the school, and Dave Glinesin, volunteer leader, is taking part in the sessions for adult leaders.

This is one of three pilot projects in the United States to ascertain if definite programs can upgrade effective leadership. Last year's session created a big demand for leadership. Young people who take part are checked subsequently in their places of club leadership in order to evaluate the training program. Instruction is open to boys and girls of 12-16 years of age.

Among those attending from the Big Spring Y are Cliff Cook, Lee Clemens, Mike Irons, Debbie Black, Vicki Morrow, Roberta Duncan, Ruthie Russell, and Linda Cathey.

Honor Pilot

Lt. Robert K. Wagner received the award of instructor pilot of the month at Webb Air Force Base from Wing Commander Col. A. F. Taute recently.

Kremlin May Be Studying Severing Chinese Links

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist newspaper Pravda indicated today that the Kremlin may be thinking of formally severing ties between the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and China.

"The threat of a split is a reality which the world Communist movement must reckon with," said an article in the party newspaper.

Soviet statements yet on the Moscow-Peking feud. But Western diplomats in Moscow do not believe a break in party relations would mean a break in relations between the Soviet and Chinese governments. The diplomats believe the Soviets want to keep some lines of communication open.

Pair Charged In Smuggling Of Marijuana

EDINBURG (AP)—A former Alamo, Tex., police chief, his brother and a Mexican man have been charged with violating tax laws through the smuggling of marijuana into the United States.

Roy Avila, 39, Alamo police chief until he resigned under pressure from the City Council May 15, was charged with four counts.

Avila had been Alamo police chief four years. He previously worked on the Donna Police Department and was a guard at the state prison in Huntsville. The trio was held in Hidalgo County Jail in lieu of $25,000 each following a hearing Wednesday.

Cotton's Past, Present, Future Theme Of Meeting

WACO (AP)—Up to 500 delegates are expected at the American Cotton Congress at its two-day meeting beginning here Friday.

Leaders of government, production, ginning, marketing and research in the cotton industry will take part, Burriss C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the congress, said today.

Jackson will keynote the convention theme, "Cotton's Past, Present and Future," in the opening address of the 25th annual meeting.

Dr. M. K. Horne Jr., chief economist of the National Cotton Council of Memphis, Tenn., will be another morning speaker, will discuss foreign and domestic cotton markets under the new U.S. cotton program.

Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, also president of the Commodity Credit Corp., also will be a morning speaker as will Leonard Mobley, Washington, D.C., foreign trade expert.

Wilson Reeves, of the U.S. Research Laboratory, New Orleans; Earl Berkley, Spartanburg, S.C., and George Pfeiffer, Lubbock, Tex., will discuss "25 years in cotton research" during Friday afternoon's session.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, chancellor of Texas A&M University, will replace Jackson as chairman for the afternoon sessions.

Jackson said Saturday speakers will include R. L. Gastineau, director of the U.S. Agriculture Department's foreign service, speaking on American Agriculture and its place in the European Common Market.

Methodist Mission Home Expansion Wins Approval

HOUSTON (AP)—Delegates to the Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church have voted approval of a $222,488 capital funds program to build more quarters at the Methodist Mission Home of Texas at San Antonio.

The program will cost $700,000 and the five other Methodist conferences within Texas will be asked to participate. The drive would end May 31, 1969.

In other action Wednesday, delegates to the conference, which represents 600 churches in the Gulf Coast-East Texas area, heard a Disciples of Christ minister challenge them to become Christians first and Methodists or Protestants second.

Dr. Karl Parker, executive director of the Association of Churches of Greater Houston, told the Methodists their denomination stands in a key position to conduct meaningful dialogue among Christian groups.

Churches should ask themselves if they are ready to conduct a spiritual reformation within their own ranks and whether they just want to co-exist with other denominations or really cooperate.

COL. JOSEPH J. RATTIE

Col. Rattie Transferred

Lt. Col. Joseph J. Rattlie, chief of maintenance, 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB, is being transferred to Berhenfeld, Germany.

Col. Rattie has been a member of the 331st since July, 1961. Prior to his assignment at Webb AFB, he was chief of Air Defense Division, Combat Operations Center, Headquarters 17th Air Force, Ramstein, Germany. From 1954-1956, he was squadron commander of the 330th FIS at Stewart AFB, N. Y. This squadron was a sister unit of the 331st FIS which was later transferred to Webb AFB.

A command pilot, Col. Rattie was a member of the 4th Fighter Wing during the Korean conflict. He has logged over 4,182 flying hours.

He completed pilot training in April, 1944. In March, 1957 he attended the command and staff school of the Air University at Maxwell AFB.

Among his decorations are the bronze star awarded in Korea; Korean service medal with three battle stars; Air Force Outstanding Unit Award; a United Nations Service Medal.

Col. Rattie was born in Mount Airy, N. C. and is married to the former Margaret Hill, also of Mount Airy. They have two children, Joseph Rattie Jr., 17, and Beth Rattie, 13.

The Ratties plan to leave Big Spring for Germany this month.

Records Sent To Appellate

ANGLETON (AP)—Records of a habeas corpus hearing for convicted car-bomb slayer Harry Washburn have been sent to the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin.

Washburn, 47, is trying to set aside a 99-year prison sentence he is now serving for the 1955 car-bomb slaying of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, his mother-in-law and a wealthy San Angelo socialite.

Dist. Judge G. P. Hardy Jr. announced the records would be sent to the appeals court Wednesday at the close of the two-day hearing.

Judge Hardy said he was not supposed to make any findings of fact or express his own opinion but that he was going to send along his opinion of the witnesses and their testimony.

When asked outside the courtroom by newsmen which way his opinion leaned, the judge said: "I think he ought to stay in jail."

Mrs. Ruby Mitchell, a one-time Austin carhop, who the defense contended could give Washburn an alibi, could not be found by officers.

The habeas corpus motion included a purported affidavit made by Mrs. Mitchell in November 1962 saying Washburn had asked her for a date at the Austin drive-in where she was working the night the bomb was wired to Mrs. Weaver's car.

Texas Ranger Lester Robertson of Dallas testified that Mrs. Mitchell was not working according to drive-in records that night—Jan. 18, 1955.

D. R. Kinnibrough, Mrs. Mitchell's former husband, was located by officers and testified. He said a defense attorney, Clyde Vinson, visited his wife shortly before Washburn's trial.

"She told Vinson she felt she had seen him (Washburn) and waited on him at the drive-in," Kinnibrough testified.

Washburn, a former Houston contractor, was not scheduled to return immediately to the nearby Ramsey prison farm.

He was sentenced to three days in jail and assessed a $100 fine for contempt of court the first day of the hearing. He shouted out that a witness was lying when he talked of Washburn visiting a house of prostitution.

Carrying Pistol

DALLAS (AP)—Edward J. Lyden, 64, a retired postal worker from Tucson, Ariz., was charged Wednesday by FBI agents with carrying a pistol aboard an aircraft. He was released on $1,000 bond. An American Airlines captain radioed Love Field officers that a hostess had been threatened by Lyden.

A Devotional For The Day

But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. (II Corinthians 9:6.)
PRAYER: Our Father, grant that we may out of grateful hearts joyously, generously, and unreservedly put our lives and resources to work for good in Thy kingdom. We pray in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From the 'Upper Room')

Close But A Crucial Win

Outcome of the California presidential primary will be subject to considerable analysis and conjecture by political experts, but the simple fact of the matter is that Sen. Barry Goldwater nailed down the 86 delegates from that state and thus has practically assured himself of the Republican nomination six weeks hence.

Like the Democratic convention, the main element of suspense is who will be named as the vice presidential nominee. And in both cases, this is largely a decision which requires the presidential nominee's blessing. In the case of the Republicans, however, there may be a lot more jockeying involved, for here Sen. Goldwater, in a concession to healing inter-party ruptures and seeking to close ranks of the right and moderate wings of the party, may do a lot of conferring between now and the time the convention comes to this decision. This is a practical side of politics, particularly where margins are as close as was this one. Whether this will effect any major change in the complex of the GOP remains to be seen.

One interesting aspect of the primary vote in California was the relative equality of total vote as between the parties. The Republicans had a much hotter show going between Sen. Goldwater and Gov. Rockefeller than did the Democrats between State Treasurer Alan Cranston and Pierre Salinger, the former White House press secretary. Another interesting factor is the apparent role that suburbia played in deciding the issue, Sen. Goldwater's managers shrewdly concentrated in these populous areas, recruited a hard-working force and built up a lead that saw him through in his most crucial test.

Pool Deserves Re-Election

By the time the elections of 1966 roll around, Texas is due to see a complete new map of congressional districts. Meanwhile, the state has a congressman-at-large, and his post in Congress is just as important as are those of his colleagues elected from specified districts.

Joe Pool of Dallas is up for re-election this Saturday to the at-large position, and we think he deserves to win.

He came within the proverbial hair's breadth of lapping the entire field in the first primary, when the vote was heavy, thus indicating that the majority of Texans favor him.

Pool has a sound legislative record, having served for several terms in the state legislature at Austin, and now having gained substantial experience in Washington.

He has demonstrated a sound, conservative viewpoint on most important issues, reflecting, we believe, the opinions of most of his statewide constituents.

Thus we recommend a vote for Joe Pool Saturday. His is the only state race on the Democratic ticket. Republicans, in turn, must choose a U.S. senatorial candidate from George Bush and Jack Cox of Houston. Both rate as competent men. It would seem that the Republicans' immediate decision is to select the man they think can represent their party in the strongest manner in the November tilt with Democrat Ralph Yarborough.

Main Problem: Western Unity

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it is obvious is overlooked, if not avoided. The real need today, in coming to grips with the problem of Southeast Asia, is not so much for a strategy conference on how the United States is to fight the war singly and with America alone making the sacrifices, but to get unity among the Western powers and find ways to pinpoint Red China's responsibility for the chaos that her policies have produced in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

IT IS NOT the obligation of just the United States to help the people of Southeast Asia to emerge from the state of oppression imposed upon them by a powerful country north of their borders. The real enemy in Southeast Asia is Red China.

Today the realistic fact is that the smaller nations of Southeast Asia, as well as those in other parts of the world, are helpless by themselves to preserve their independence or to develop their economic opportunities. Two major powers—Soviet Russia and Red China—threaten weaker nations by infiltration, by subversion, and even by military intervention as puppet armies and guerrillas are organized to stir up trouble. Russia's role in Cuba and Latin America generally is as reprehensible as Red China's aggression in Asia.

THE UNITED STATES had hoped that some means of preserving international peace could be achieved by the United Nations, but this body has failed to measure up to its responsibilities. The organization has become the victim of insidious infiltration by the Communist regimes of Peiping and Moscow.

The only recourse today is to tell the story to the people of the world so that opinion may be mobilized everywhere behind a group of nations willing to take the lead in bringing about the independence of the smaller countries.

THE UNITED STATES cannot conduct the crusade alone. It must have help from Great Britain and France and from all the countries which have achieved progress in self-government and can supply military and economic assistance.

Under the charter of the United Nations, any group of countries may undertake measures collectively to preserve the peace.

Around The Rim

Adjustment And Continuation

By the end of this month, city officials will have in hand the first of a three step plan that, in effect, will provide the makings for a working personnel policy—the first the city has ever had. The firm of Griffenhagen-Kroeger is expected to complete its pay and job classification study before the month is out and deliver it to the city commission. This study is expected to advise the city fathers where they stand now in regard to pay scales, and make recommendations where adjustment is felt advisable. In addition, the study will relate various city jobs to one another.

THE SECOND STEP will be to implement the results of the study, which is in the hands of the city commissioners. Some $40,000 is available if a decision is reached to increase pay scales. At this point, the study indicates there are some inequities in the payroll, but the figures are not complete. At the same time, there are indications that compensation is fully adequate in other job positions. No one can say at this time, just how much implementation of the study can be done when the report is made. But those closest to the study agreed that it will cost something.

THE THIRD STEP will be to make the results of the study the foundation for a continuing program which will be updated annually, keeping the classification of jobs current as well as the comparative pay studies. This will require considerable work on someone's part, and may lead to the organization of a full scale personnel office or officer for the 250 city employees. This is a sore need, and one that has been put off year after year because of costs. On the face of it, the study and its resulting benefits will obviously bring joy to most city employees. It isn't a secret that city pay scales, by and large, are in many instances quite low. Loyalty, more than the pay, has held these public servants at their posts.

ON THE OTHER side of the coin, it is going to cost the taxpayers some money. At first, the jump may be high, but it should level off and annual increases will not necessarily be high, comparatively. But this extra cost should reap many less obvious benefits—trained employees can be expected to stay here rather than seek higher pay, better trained employees will be attracted in the first places—all giving the taxpayer more for his tax dollar, and after all, modern complex cities require better trained personnel than those of many years ago.

OUTSIDE OF ALL that, there appears to be little reason why an employee of the city should expect to earn less than those employed elsewhere—or why taxpayers should ask them too. —V. GLENN COOTES

Barry Vs. Johnson Would Give Wide Choice

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater gets the Republican presidential nomination and runs against President Johnson, voters will get a choice that hasn't been given them in years.

It will be a choice between two distinct philosophies of government as represented by the candidates if not exactly by the parties.

The liberalism of Johnson and the conservatism preached by Goldwater, although some consider the conservative label far too liberal for Goldwater.

EVEN SO, the difference between the two men would be so apparent that no one could miss it. Every four years Democrats and Republicans put on a song-and-dance — a so-called discussion of the issues — which is supposed to point out the difference between the two parties. In reality any difference is hardly visible.

The Democrats and Republicans are for the same party and for the same reason. Both have their own batch of liberals and reactionaries but the majority in both are conservatives.

So for years in election after election voters have not really been choosing between parties as much as between individual candidates and then not on issues but on personality.

THREE EXAMPLES tell the story: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, when he opposed Adlai E. Stevenson in 1952, was a national military hero, widely known and highly popular. Stevenson was a likeable man, too, but he had neither Eisenhower's prestige nor fame.

It so happened that Eisenhower was elected on the Republican ticket. But can anyone doubt he would have won just as overwhelmingly if he had run as a Democrat? The same two men went through the same routine again in 1956.

In 1960, there was little difference between the expressed philosophies of John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Kennedy's record in the Senate had been only moderately liberal. Nixon talked the same.

UNFORTUNATELY for Nixon, he had a knack for antagonizing people who had never been closer to him than a television screen. And Kennedy, a much more relaxed and friendly figure, won but only by a squeak.

Yet, when Kennedy sent some of his liberal programs to a Congress run by big Democratic majorities in both houses, they got stuck by conservatives of his own party. Medical care is an example.

This year, at least, even though the two parties retained that same twin-like look, two candidates like Johnson and Goldwater would be definitely different in what they stood for.

GOLDWATER as a presidential candidate would have to organize his thinking far better than he has so far while campaigning as a would-be candidate if he is going to present any clear-cut, comprehensive philosophy of government.

Up till now he's been mostly critical of the Democrats without offering any detailed and constructive program of his own.

The campaigns he and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller put on have been almost incredible for a sober, political standpoint. They went in more for pep talks than programs. They didn't talk issues. They talked generalities.

Their whole show was, for those reasons, primitive politics.

Admiration For Country Dogs

NEW YORK (AP)—The more I see of big city dogs the more I admire country dogs.

The trouble with big city dogs is that they act more like people than they do like dogs. They acquire all the vices of human nature while abandoning most of the virtues of their canine nature.

If you were to be granted a second term on earth, you could hardly have it easier than to be reborn a dog in New York City. Here, dogs have their day 365 days of the year.

THERE ARE several hundred thousand dogs here, and a more pampered lot of creatures you could hardly find elsewhere on earth, except perhaps among the worshipful white elephants of Siam. Half the dogs in Manhattan probably live a richer, fuller, more carefree life than do half the people.

The average dog here certainly has a more nutritious diet than the average person. It gets more exercise and more sleep.

If it falls sick, a dog can get into a dog hospital with far less red tape than it takes for a person to be admitted into a people's hospital.

SMALL WONDER, then, that big city dogs are often spoiled, selfish, and impossibly smug.

Caring for them has become a profitable industry. It costs more to get a dog a hair cut than a man. You'd be surprised how many dogs here have mink jackets to protect them from the cold.

Once I was in a large jewelry store with a friend who was buying a gift for his wife. The salesman showed a beautiful, gem-studded gold necklace priced at $1,750.

"Who can afford these?" my friend asked. "You'd be surprised," replied the salesman. "I sold one last week to a customer who bought it to surprise her dog on its birthday."

YOUR COUNTRY dog is full of cockleburrs, fleas and high-spirited enthusiasms. When it goes for a stroll with you, it chases gleefully after squirrels, rabbits or wandering cats, and comes back panting with joy.

Whereas the country dog enjoys the duty of serving its master, the big city dog seems at times to get most of its pleasure out of bullying its owner and turning him into a slave.

To Your Good Health

Psychological Factor Common In Rapid Pulse

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a man of 40, above average in health, but have had a heart rate of 100 standing, 80 lying down after a night's rest, since I was a young man.

I first learned about this when taking a physical for the Air Corps in 1942. I was turned down because my blood pressure was also slightly high—150-80, I was later accepted by the Army.

This rapid pulse rate apparently has had no adverse effects.

My question is will it affect my length of living and physical activities to such a condition? I have fairly regular checkups, and my doctor says my blood pressure is O.K. Are there other cases like mine or am I an exception?—E.J.M.

There's nothing very unusual about your case.

There are various reasons for a rapid pulse, but the psychological factor is very common. This shows up when people are examined for insurance, or jobs—or volunteering for the Air Corps. The pulse (or heart rate) is very likely to speed up because of nervous stress, and the same is true of slightly elevated blood pressure.

The fact that you did your Army service without difficulty is good evidence that there was nothing seriously wrong with you then. Your regular checkups reinforce the indications that you are healthy now.

Doctors sometimes have difficulty persuading some patients to slow down and "adjust daily living and physical activities."

Other times they have nearly as much trouble convincing patients that they have no need to slow down, and will in fact be better off if they just keep on living naturally and stop worrying. So, E.J.M., I think you are worrying needlessly.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am three months pregnant and have found out that I have pinworms. Will this hurt my unborn baby in any way? If so would it be safe to treat them in my condition?—MRS. N.E.

The pinworms won't hurt the baby, but you should be treated anyway, to try to rid yourself (and other members of the family) of them before the baby is born.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it healthy to keep small plants in the living room and kitchen windows, or, as a friend of ours claims, do they take our oxygen away and affect our health?—MRS. D.C.

Such oxygen as may be used is so slight that you needn't worry. Some people have a cat. Some have a dog. Some have children. Some have relatives living with them. Some have visitors. Anyone uses a lot of oxygen, but there's still enough for everybody. So don't worry for a minute about your plants.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

The Day The GOP Disappeared

WASHINGTON — Like Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt before him, President Johnson finds himself with an idealistic social adventure at home, which is now threatened by entanglement in a far-off war.

There is every sign that Johnson is on the verge of a decision in Asia that is the equivalent to Wilson's arming of merchant ships which drew us into World War I, and to Roosevelt's decision that we must not allow Britain to fall before Hitler.

UNHAPPILY, it seems to me, we no longer have in American public opinion that strong spirit of pride and self-sufficiency which some call nationalism and some call isolationism. True, it was not strong enough to prevent Wilson from muddling into a conflict that he sincerely abhorred, or to scuttle Roosevelt's machinations to join what he grandiosely termed "the war against the tyrants." Nevertheless, nationalistic isolation, a traditional and appropriate policy for this great continental Republic of those days, did provide some necessary opposition. And when war became a reality, this spirit that would have kept us out of other people's squabbles blossomed into a glorious patriotism — and Americans went on to win mighty battles, the latest celebration of which will soon observe on the 20th anniversary of D-Day.

BUT HERE in the Sixties, Lyndon Johnson's decision is not helped and balanced either by the folksy common sense which scorns foreign brawls or by the assurance that, once forced into a fight, our patriotism will catch fire and go heliborn for victory.

Modern pacifism is not nationalistic, it is psychic. It seeks surrender. It shuns victory to the unbelievable extent of handicapping and sacrificing our sons by sending them to battle in obsolete aircraft. Pacifism expresses itself in receding with intellectual horror at the thought of using our best weapons.

FOR THESE REASONS, as well as for others, Johnson — and the country — have less chance to win a war than Wilson, Roosevelt and preceding generations had. He will have to overrule the No Win policy-makers who have given us, since 1961, the Bay of Pigs, the Berlin Wall and the sickly tough football game in Southeast Asia.

To lay the matter on the line, we are on the verge of entering a war which we may be unwilling or unable to win. Merely to state the proposition is to demonstrate how intolerable it would be. Many of us see Lyndon Johnson as the strongest leader this country has had in a half-century. We must also see that it will take just as much strength in him to swing back to a policy of Western Hemisphere priority as to swing into full action in Asia.

THE ONE WEAK thing that Johnson could do is to continue in the tremulous footsteps which have brought us to this brink. He—and we—are in the worst fix of the century. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Day The GOP Disappeared

WASHINGTON — The scene is Lafayette Square, across the street from the White House, the time is four years from today, the hour is twilight. Slowly through the gathering gloom the dramatic personae appear.

There are two players, both overweight, both clad in threadbare suits that Brooks Bros. would stonily disavow, both wearing greasy paduasoy vests embroidered in tarnished pinchbeck dollar signs.

FIRST PLAYER (pointing with a tattered Goldwater - or - bust hammer) — There he is. Look at him—skipping rope!

SECOND PLAYER (savagely) — And turning off lights! Good grief, how many photographers do you suppose he has with him?

FIRST P. — Kids, dogs, photographers? What difference does it make? Look at him now — he's on the trampoline with Harry Byrd on one side and Hubert Humphrey on the other. Maybe he'll break his neck.

SECOND P. — Might as well get on with plans for the convention. Where'll we put it this time?

FIRST P. (bitterly) — How about right here? There are only two of us left.

FIRST P. (excitedly) — Look, there he goes! In that solid-gold helicopter of his. What mischief is he up to this time?

SECOND P. (disconsolately) — It's been all over the papers. He's going to Knott County, Kentucky, to dedicate the National Poverty Museum. You can't trust the man — I thought he'd at least leave us Knott County. Even That Man left us Maine and Vermont.

FIRST P. (mocking a fellow American as drawn) — And so, my fellow Texan, having abolished the last trappings of poverty in this great country of ours, it behooves us to establish a National Poverty Museum, so that we shall never forget the curse of want that has been lifted from our great people.

SECOND P. — You got to give him credit, though. Making McNamara Prime Minister of South Viet Nam was a master stroke. Wish we'd thought of it.

FIRST P. — I wish we could think of anything. We can't even think of a place to hold a convention.

SECOND P. (in high excitement) — I've got it! We'll hold it in the Museum of Natural History. Two can play at that museum game. Fossils, mastodon skeletons — we'll fit in famously.

FIRST P. (rubbing his hands) — Good. I'll keynote, and we'll nominate you on the first ballot.

SECOND P. (horrified) — Me? I did it last time. This time I'll keynote and we'll nominate you.

FIRST P. (gibbering in terror) — Me? No, no, not that! I'll give you anything — the gold standard, a balanced budget, J. Edgar Hoover—anything. (He weeps unashamedly, and as the curtain falls a beagle with unduly long ears chases both men from the park, nipping playfully at their heels as they go.) (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Limb On Line

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Sport fisherman Charles (Chip) Bailey didn't have much luck on a Hillsborough River outing, but at least his catches were consistent.

A cast went wild and Bailey's lure snagged on an overhanging tree branch. He yanked the line and the limb broke off.

After more than an hour without a nibble, Bailey felt something and reeled in eagerly, his rod bent nearly double. When the "catch" broke the surface it proved to be a water-logged tree limb from the riverbed.

Vanishing Cakes

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Almost everything went fine at the Polk County, Fla., youth fair.

Youngsters who exhibited poultry found themselves harboring egg dividends each day, due to force of habit on the part of their prolific layers. They sold the eggs for a nickel each to Rotary Club members who were managing the food concessions. Some of the girls who entered cakes for judging apparently did too tempting a job of baking. Someone—Judges? Pilferers?—made several of the cakes vanish before it was time for the contestants to take them home.

Make Texans Happy With Favorite Food

Corn bread is almost as basic in Texas meals today as it was when Indians cultivated the arid Southwest plains. But there is no comparison between primitive and modern methods of corn bread preparation.

The modern homemaker, however, benefits from extensive scientific research by leading manufacturers of corn meal.

A basic corn bread mix can even be made in advance from self-rising corn meal. This can be used for several variations of corn bread which are created by the addition of a few ingredients to the basic mix. Preparation of home-baked corn bread favorites then becomes a matter of minutes.

BASIC CORN BREAD MIX
To make the basic mix, simply add 1/4 cup sugar to each 2 cups of self-rising corn meal. Make in sufficient quantities to use in several corn bread recipes.

Store the basic mix in covered containers. Refrigeration is not necessary. Make corn bread variations from the following tested recipes.

CORN BREAD
2 cups basic mix
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1/4 cup melted shortening
Mix ingredients. Pour into greased 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 20-25 minutes.

CORN MUFFINS
2 cups basic mix
2 eggs
1 1/4 cups milk
1/4 cup melted shortening
Mix ingredients. Fill greased muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 25 minutes.

CORN BREAD STICKS
2 cups basic mix
1/2 tsp. soda
1 cup sour cream
2 tbsps. melted shortening
Mix ingredients. Pour into greased, pre-heated corn-stick pan. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 25 minutes.

SOUTHWESTERN TREATS
Make corn bread mix for easy fixings

Give Peas Dash Of Bell Pepper

Give an everyday vegetable this fresh treatment.

PEPPER PEAS
1 medium or large green pepper.
1/2 cup boiling water
1 pkg. (10 ozs.) frozen green peas

1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. butter or margarine
Wash and seed pepper; cut into about 1/2-inch squares. In a saucepan bring green pepper and boiling water to a boil; boil several minutes to pre-cook. Add frozen peas, salt and sugar; bring to a boil; cover and boil gently for several minutes or just until peas are tender. Drain if necessary. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Moderate Cooking

Some good cooks like to use a moderate (350 degrees) oven for roasting ribs or beef rather than the slow (325 degrees) temperature commonly recommended nowadays.

New Seafood Recipe For Daring Cooks

By The Associated Press

Something new — and it's worth baking and eating.

All too often much-touted recipes are disappointing. Well, this one was enjoyed by every single taster at our house.

One kitchen note: you'll notice the recipe calls for hot water. When we prepared the batter, we used warm water from the tap; it was about as warm as one uses for dry yeast (105 to 115 degrees). But our recipe editor told us later that she used water brought to the boil, taken straight from the stove and poured directly into the flour, shortening and cheese. Muffins made both ways turned out well, so—for this recipe anyway—it doesn't seem to matter how hot "hot" is.

Interested in how this new recipe came into being? The batter for these Shrimp Muffins was inspired by the Hot Water Pastry sometimes used in England; shrimp muffins made with the standard American muffin batter turned out "too dry to let the shrimp flavor come through."

HOT WATER SHRIMP MUFFINS

2 cans (4 1/2 ozs. each) shrimp
1 tbsp. lemon juice
2 cups sifted flour
2 1/4 tsps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup grated mild cheddar cheese
3/4 cup hot water
1 egg yolk
2 tbsps. grated onion
1 tbsp. minced fresh parsley
Drain and rinse shrimp; cut each one in half or, if extra large, in three pieces; sprinkle with lemon juice. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; cut in shortening until fine; stir in cheese. Add hot water all at once and with a fork stir it in rapidly. Add egg yolk, onion and parsley; mix in well but quickly. (Don't stir more than necessary after the water is added).

Carefully fold in the shrimp just enough to distribute evenly. Turn into well-buttered muffin pans filling about three-quarters full. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Allow muffins to stand in pans about 5 minutes; remove with small spatula, loosening around edges, and serve hot with butter. Makes 12 if muffin-pan wells each hold 1-3 cup.

Ear For Sound Aiding Many In Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spelling, as in music, many youngsters have an ear for sound.

That's the opinion of Dr. Richard R. Baker, professor of philosophy at the University of Dayton, Ohio, who as pronouncer for the 37th national Spelling Bee is the sound for the boys and girls who must spell the tongue twisters he tosses at them.

At day's end Wednesday, Baker had pronounced, defined and frequently used in sentences, 494 words.

Of the 70 youngsters from 33 states and the District of Columbia who started the competition only 27 remained for today's final rounds. The 27 survivors were 17 girls and 10 boys.

The contest started with 41 girls and 26 boys competing for the $3,700 in prizes, including a first prize of $1,000 and a weekend trip to the New York World's Fair.

This is the fourth time Baker has acted as pronouncer for the bee which this year is sponsored by Scripps-Howard papers in 16 cities and 53 other daily and Sunday papers.

Many of the youngsters guessed at some of the words and heaved a sigh of relief after finding out their guess was correct. A misspelled word meant the sounding of a small bell by three judges and elimination of the contestant.

Cave-In Kills Two Miners

SUNNYSIDE, Utah (AP)—Two veteran miners died Wednesday in a rock cave-in deep inside a central Utah coal mine.

A third escaped unhurt, but four rescuers suffered minor injuries in a second rockfall as they tried to remove the two victim's bodies.

"I was smacked by some rock and coal," said Paul Pero, 55, of Price, Utah, who survived the cave-in. "I heard Marzo say: 'Let's get the hell out of here.'"

Morris Marzo, 47, also of Price, and Leland Huntsman, 49, of Castle Dale, Utah, were identified by company officials as victims.

Pero said he and the other two miners had just begun their shift when the cave-in hit. "I started crawling away," he said. "I looked back. I couldn't see anything but dust and debris. I just kept crawling away."

Rescuers worked six hours—much of the time by hand—removing rocks and debris that fell on the bodies in the 1,500-foot deep mine shaft.

Jack Porter Lends Aid To Senate Hopeful Bush

By The Associated Press

George Bush gained the support Wednesday of a former Republican national committee man of Texas in his campaign against Jack Cox for the GOP Senate nomination.

Only two full days of campaigning remain before the runoff elections Saturday.

Jack Porter said he had concluded that Bush "will make an outstanding senator and that he has the best chance of defeating U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough."

He said "two good conservatives" are contending for the nomination and he believes "either would more nearly represent the sentiments of the people of Texas than does the incumbent," Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Cox repeated his request that Bush clarify campaign expense reports he said indicated Bush got five contributions over the legal limit of $5,000. At an Austin news conference, Cox warned that if Bush wins the nomination, Yarborough could challenge him on the contributions.

Both Cox and Bush hailed the California victory of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the presidential primary and each interpreted the Goldwater sweep as a boost to his own campaign in Texas.

The state Republican chairman, Peter O'Donnell Jr., said that although "some obstacles remain, I am confident that Goldwater will win the presidential nomination on the first ballot."

Pool as an extremist and as irresponsible.

He said in San Angelo that Pool is "caught up in the main stream of irresponsibility so that he can't be considered as a conservative or a Republican."

He said Pool praised President Johnson on his weekend trip to Texas but "once the President was out of Texas, Pool attacked his program as socialist."

MAJORITY

In the congressman-at-large race, incumbent Democrat Joe Pool said he may run up a three to one majority in Saturday's runoff if his opponent will "just cuss me enough."

Pool said he beat Robert Baker two to one in the first primary "and it may get three to one if he keeps cussing me." Pool said Baker has tried to make an issue of the fact that he voted against the civil rights bill. "I've got news for him," Pool said, "four out of five Texans are against that bill."

SUPER MARKETS

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model-year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)...or luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about! Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)
