Ball To Issue Greeks Note On Cyprus

GENEVA (AP) — President Johnson has ordered Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to fly to Athens to warn the Greek government of the serious view the United States takes of the sharpening crisis over Cyprus, American officials said today.

URGENT MEETING President Makarios of Cyprus, leader of the Greek Cypriots, called Tuesday night for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council meeting to "denounce threats of the Turkish government to invade our island."

Not Seen Much Any More

Mrs. Paul Hathaway, 713 Tulane, former Port Arthur resident, said she was accustomed to using umbrellas in the south-east Texas weather whether hot or wet, and she still finds them handy in the hot sun and 102 degrees.

tures have been recorded here, and the forecast indicates at least two more. The highest so far was 104 on Sunday. Tuesday's high was 103, and the other two days showed 102 degrees. Highs for today and Thursday are forecast from 100 to 105 degrees, with possible late afternoon or evening thundershowers. (Photo By Keith McMillin)

Lyndon Outlines Vast World Welfare Project

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—President Johnson said today many of the world's most urgent problems will persist beyond the cold war, and outlined a far-flung program for attacking them.

He took note of that in a speech prepared for commencement exercises at Holy Cross College. "Let this be the year of science, let it be the turning point in the struggle—not of man against man, but of man against nature."

development of the large-scale reactor offers the dramatic prospect of transforming sea water into water suitable for human consumption and industrial use.

strations and to reduce bail for a group of marchers arrested earlier. "Despite what happened, we are going to continue protesting unjust discrimination," said the leader of the march, the Rev. Andrew Young.

Johnson spoke of poverty, disease, and of diminishing natural resources in enumerating menaces to man's welfare. He said there is no simple solution of these problems. In the past, he added, there would have been no solution at all; but, today, "the constantly unfolding conquests of science give man the power over his world and nature which bring the prospects of success within the purview of hope."

He has talked about Scranton, suggesting the Pennsylvania governor would be well advised to consider the vice-presidential nomination.

Debate Shut-Off Carries, 71-29

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today, in a history-shattering move, to choke off the 75-day old Southern filibuster against the civil rights bill.

Each senator's time to debate the bill and all amendments will now be limited to one hour. This appears to assure Senate passage of the far-reaching bill, possibly before the end of next week.

ALL NIGHT The House passed the bill on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290-130. The Senate has been battling over it since March 9, with Southern opponents mounting a record-breaking filibuster against it.

The Senate's public galleries were packed as the crucial vote on cloture was taken. Tight security was maintained around the Capitol as additional persons pressed for a chance to get in.

The vote followed an all-night session of the Senate at which Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., made a marathon speech attacking the civil rights bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

The vote to apply the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule was 71 to 29. This was four more votes than the required two-thirds majority.

Byrd began his speech at 7:38 p.m. and continued until 9:52 a.m. When he finally quit, the Senate took an eight-minute recess, then went back into session. It had agreed Tuesday to meet at 10 a.m. today.

Since the adoption of the cloture rule in 1917, all previous attempts to use it to cut off a filibuster against a civil rights bill had failed.

Leaders of both parties became convinced in the face of the all-out opposition of the Dixie forces to the present bill that debate-limitation had to be obtained if the bill was to pass.

SUBSTITUTE BILL Just before the vote, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois introduced the leaders' substitute bill worked out with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Overnight, the substitute had been revised further to include the jury trial amendment adopted 51-48 in the Senate Tuesday.

The adoption of the amendment, sponsored by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., was credited with winning some crucial Republican votes for cloture.

Off-the-floor maneuvering continued right up to the hour of the vote.

Leadership hopes of mustering the two-thirds majority were bolstered by the Senate's rejection Tuesday of three amendments by substantial margins after a jury trial amendment was adopted by 51 to 48 count.

A chance to vote on the amendments before the cloture showdown was demanded by a group of Republican senators, led by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, whose support was regarded as essential if cloture was to be obtained.

DELAYING TACTIC Hickenlooper, chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee, said after the amendments were acted on that he would vote for cloture. Not to do so, he said, would be "only a delaying tactic."

Nearly 500 amendments have been proposed in addition to a package of amendments which Democratic and Republican leaders have drafted as a substitute for the House-passed measure.

Supporters of the civil rights measure won their biggest victories Tuesday in votes on the equal employment opportunity section, regarded as perhaps the most controversial part of the legislation.

By a vote of 64 to 33, the Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to strike out this section prohibiting discrimination in employment on account of race, color, religion, sex or national origin. It would apply to employers, labor unions and employment agencies.

Floods Receding With 30 Killed

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Montana's floodwaters receded today leaving behind a vast trail of death and destruction.

At least 30 persons were dead, 28 missing and thousands homeless as the massive flood crest moved down the Missouri River over lowland areas past Great Falls, the state's largest city.

As deadly floodwaters inched downward, weather observers expressed concern about conditions on the Missouri 200 miles upstream from Great Falls.

Normally shallow mountain streams still were running like rivers today on both sides of the Continental Divide, pouring thousands of cubic feet a second into flood control reservoirs.

There was no immediate danger to communities downstream from Great Falls although officials evacuated Loma, a community of 200 at the junction of the Teton River and the Missouri.

Pounding waters washed out a bridge at Loma, leaving only one major highway open into Great Falls. Two thousand were homeless in Great Falls.

School Supt. Bruce Milne said there were two known dead in the Valier area. Both were youngsters who presumably drowned in a flash flood that rushed down Birch Creek after a torrent of water broke an earthen irrigation dam.

Milne said 31 persons were missing in the Valier area. In nearby Conrad, the coroner listed seven more missing.

Most of the dead were north of Valier on the Blackfoot Indian Reservation. A Civil Defense official, Dick Kullberg of Cuthank, said he counted 26 bodies. Other dead included two motorists whose vehicles plunged into roaring streams.

Damage in the floods was in the millions of dollars and Gov. Tim M. Babcock, who said it would be at least $10 million, appointed disaster assessment teams to make precise estimates.

Babcock said he did not take into account damage to Montana's $100-million summer tourist industry and one of its chief attractions — flood-battered Glacier National Park.

The National Park Service said Glacier Park would be closed temporarily. Damage to one hotel in the park was estimated at $300,000 to $400,000 but damage to other facilities had not been listed.

Air Force helicopters plucked a ranch family of seven from its rooftop near Vaughn.

"We knew the water was coming in from the Sun River but didn't believe it could sweep over the land," rancher Terry Jackson told rescuers. "We lost 400 head of cattle, over 2,000 turkeys, 100 pigs and a number of sheep."

In the northwest, hit first by the three-day flood, waters receded and rescue teams started mopping up.

The Sun River crested 11 feet over its flood stage of 12 feet at midnight in this city of 70,000. A spokesman for the Air Force and National Guard's rescue operations estimated 2,000 to 3,000 persons were evacuated from homes here and in the flooded areas to the west and north.

Says Walker Was Helpless

FORT WORTH (AP)—A witness presented by Edwin A. Walker quoted the former Army major general as saying Walker was powerless to stop the University of Mississippi student riot if he had wanted to.

The trial of the $2 million civil libel suit Walker filed against The Associated Press resumed today.

Tuesday, Talmadge Witt, 43, former Pontotoc, Miss., deputy sheriff, testified he was near Walker on the University of Mississippi campus the night of Sept. 30, 1962 during a nightlong riot over admission of Negro James Meredith. Witt said he heard an Episcopal minister, The Rev. Duncan Gray, beg Walker to stop the student attacks on U.S. marshals, who fired tear gas in return.

Witt quoted Walker as saying: "I'm not here to break it up. I didn't come here to break it up. I couldn't break it up if I wanted to."

Witt said, on cross examination by J. A. Gooch, an Associated Press attorney, that Walker later told a group of the rioting students:

"Protest all you want to. They (the marshals) may run out of (tear) gas. Help is on the way. Thousands are coming."

Witt, and other earlier witnesses, said Walker was asked several times to lead a student charge on the marshals, but each time Walker said he was in Oxford, Miss., merely to observe.

THRESHOLD OF NOMINATION

Goldwater Eyeing Four Easterners For Veep

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater—standing on the threshold of the Republican presidential nomination—is eyeing four Eastern GOP leaders as he thinks about a running mate.

To his closest associates, Goldwater has mentioned these names as possible vice-presidential choices: —Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

—Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

—Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

—Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio.

Goldwater hasn't ruled anybody in or out of the running, a source close to the Arizona senator said today.

a moderate Republican from the East.

The four men associates say Goldwater has mentioned all fit that pattern.

Publicly, Goldwater usually bypasses questions about a vice-presidential choice. "I'm looking for delegates, not vice-presidents," is his stock reply.

He has talked about Scranton, suggesting the Pennsylvania governor would be well advised to consider the vice-presidential nomination.

That way, Goldwater said Sunday, if the ticket lost, the

Washington May Lead In Wealth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Lyndon B. Johnsons are doing quite well financially — what with an estimated wealth of more than $9 million—but don't get the idea they are the richest family ever to inhabit the White House.

Who, then, was our best-heeled president? It's hard to figure—because of the changing values of money and other factors—but all evidence points to George Washington.

When the father of his country died he left real estate valued then at $530,000, including the famous Mount Vernon. Translated into today's values that might mean $20 million or more.

SHORT OF CASH
Though Washington was rich in land, slaves and tobacco, he was sometimes short of cash. In fact, just before his first inauguration, he had to hit a fellow townsman in Alexandria, Va., up for a loan of 600 pounds, at 6 per cent interest.

"Short craps and other causes not entirely within my control" had temporarily strapped him, he said.

Second richest president may be Herbert Hoover, though this is not known with any certainty. An engineer and mining promoter, he rolled up a $6-million fortune as early as 1914. There is no exact information how this has grown since, though it is known that Hoover has made large gifts to education and charity.

Other well-to-do presidents:
John F. Kennedy—whose estate was reported to total something like $10 million, at least.
Franklin D. Roosevelt — $1,085,500.
Theodore Roosevelt — $811,000.

JEFFERSON
Thomas Jefferson died owing $40,000. He had really splurged fixing up that magnificent home, Monticello, at Charlottesville, Va., and was never a man to stint the pennies during his many years of ill-paid public service.

Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman are feeling no pain financially.

Back in 1952, during the presidential campaign, Eisenhower published a financial accounting showing a 10-year net income after taxes of $643,148. The bulk of this was a $476,250 net on his book "Crusade in Europe."

Truman has done well, starting his retirement by writing his memoirs for a net of maybe $250,000, and going right on.

All this delving into presidential fortunes, or lack thereof, is occasioned by a report in the Washington Evening Star Tuesday that the Johnson family is worth $9 million or more, in television and radio stations, land, banks and stocks.

Final Texas College Signs Negro Student

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sam Houston State Teachers College, last of the Texas state colleges to desegregate, has enrolled its first Negro student.

He is John Patrick, 1964 valedictorian of Huntsville's Sam Houston High School. Patrick began attending classes Tuesday.

His enrollment came three days after the Board of Regents of State Teachers Colleges handed down a ruling to the six colleges in the system, including Sam Houston State, that all qualified students were to be admitted regardless of race.

Other colleges in the system are West Texas University in Canyon, East Texas State College in Commerce, Sul Ross State College in Alpine and Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

The regents' policy was not announced until Monday afternoon, after two Negro women had filed a suit in a Houston court Friday alleging that they had been denied admission because of their race.

Newton Gresham, chairman of the board of regents, said Friday the regents had never had a policy of segregation, but had just issued the policy memorandum to make it clear the state teachers colleges were not segregated.

Gresham said Tuesday, "we advised the presidents of the colleges we thought the time had come for them to quit telling students to wait until the climate of the community was ready for integration."

Gresham's statement came after Gov. John Connally said all Texas state-supported four-year colleges and universities have been desegregated. He made the disclosure during a panel discussion Tuesday at the national governors conference in Cleveland, Ohio.

Patrick, 18, is enrolled at Sam Houston State as a chemistry major, and is taking mathematics and history courses during the first summer session.

DEAR ABBY

When Clothes Re-Appear

DEAR ABBY: I read about the kind, considerate woman who was given a box of good clothing that once belonged to her dearest friend who had died. She asked you if you thought it might sadden members of her friend's family to see their mother's clothing being worn by someone else. I was pleased that you told her to go ahead and wear them as it would give them pleasure. I lost a beautiful daughter in her early 20's. She had closetsful of lovely clothes. After she passed away, I divided them up and gave them to her friends. I was deeply hurt when I offered a brand new evening gown to one young woman and she replied, "Thanks a lot, but I don't think I could ever put it on. It would give me the creeps."

HURT DEEPLY

DEAR ABBY: When my father died we distributed his clothes to needy men all over town. Dad had a horse blanket type jacket he wore for fishing, which we gave to Old Rudy, the janitor who worked at our plant. One evening mother and I were walking down the street and I spied Old Rudy—who was exactly daddy's size—walking toward us in that familiar fishing jacket. My heart skipped a beat, and I tried to distract mother, not knowing how she would react. She saw him, of course, and then she said to me, "Oh, look. There's Old Rudy in dad's jacket. Wouldn't dad be pleased to know that Old Rudy is getting some good out of it? Dad always thought so much of him!"

DAD'S GIRL IN WAUSAU

DEAR ABBY: As is usually the lot of the eldest daughter, I was called upon to dispose of all my mother's usable clothing after she had passed away. My mother, in her lifetime, had always been a very generous person, and she was forever giving to those less fortunate than herself. I distributed her clothing among those who were needy. I gave a fine winter wardrobe to mamma's laundress. Several of my friends recognized my mother's good winter coat being worn by this woman. One friend said to me, "Doesn't it bother you to see your mother's clothes again?" I answered, "If I never wanted to see them again, I'd have given everything to the Salvation Army."

NOT BOTHERED

DEAR ABBY: Our mother was as pretty as a picture and was always dressed in the height of fashion and in the most elegant taste. Her weakness was beautiful hats, and she had dozens of them. She died, at 64, two years ago. We gave each of her friends one of mother's lovely hats. Some were ten years old, but still fashionable, and all were as good as new, in their original boxes and tissue. You cannot imagine the joy it brought us when we spotted eight of mother's beautiful hats in church on Easter Sunday.

Mailed Wallet Not So Simple

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The United States Post Office has returned Albert Washington's wallet to him, with the $205 in cash he had in it, but it wasn't simple.

Soon after Washington lost the wallet in January, with the $205 in a secret compartment, it reached the post office via a mail box. They mailed it to his Oakland address with 18 cents postage due, but he had moved and left no forwarding address. So it went back to the post office. After the required 60 days, workers stripped the wallet according to regulations and found the money. Postal officer Matt Higgins hunted around Washington's old neighborhood until he found someone who knew of his new address, and delivered the wallet and the $205 to him.

Higgins didn't even ask for the 18 cents postage due.

AP, Major Networks Joining For Quick Election Returns

NEW YORK AP)—The three major radio-television networks, CBS News election unit; and The Associated Press will pool the collection of election returns in the November presidential, senatorial and gubernatorial races.

United Press International was also reported considering participation in the program, to be called Network Election Service.

The Big Spring Herald is a member of The Associated Press.

The announcement Tuesday issued after a meeting of officials of the organizations, said the service will use more than 100,000 reporters to cover returns at the precinct or county level.

DIRECTORS
The announcement added: "Network Election Service will be administered by a board of directors consisting of one representative from each network. They will be Arnold Snyder, manager of election coverage for ABC News; William Eames, editorial director of the CBS News election unit; and Frank Jordan, manager of election coverage for NBC News. The Associated Press will participate as a nonvoting member of Network Election Service."

"Returns will be reported simultaneously to each of the three individual networks, which will post such returns on a state-by-state basis in their respective studios on election night. In addition, statewide totals in the presidential elections will be relayed to a single tabulating center in New York, which will maintain the running national tabulation on presidential returns. The tabulating center will then transmit its national totals to each network, so that the same national figure will be available to each network simultaneously."

"Under the agreement reached at meetings today, each network is free to continue individual election analysis systems, which in the main involve the analysis of returns from representative precincts. Each network will bear the responsibility of manning such precincts and communicating the results. These returns, however, will not be included in network election service returns posted by the networks."

Elmer Lower, president of American Broadcasting Co. News; Fred W. Friendly, president of Columbia Broadcasting System News; William R. McAndrew, National Broadcasting Co. executive vice president in charge of NBC News; and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, commenting on the step taken, said jointly:

"The creation of Network Election Service, is, we believe, a great step forward in the gathering and dissemination of news. The American voter and the public at large will be the beneficiaries of faster, and more accurate returns. At the same time, Network Election Service will do much to eliminate the confusion created by several different vote counts, based on reports from different precincts. We expect Network Election Service to become the authoritative source of returns in all future elections."

The meeting was held in the Columbia Broadcasting System headquarters.

no trump, North proceeded to six no trump.

West had heard the lecture about not doubling slam contracts but, inasmuch as the opponents had not mentioned any suits on the way up, he did not see how they could make 12 tricks at no trump. In the absence of his double, however, it is doubtful if South would have succeeded. If he makes the normal play of taking a heart finesse, he must go down to defeat.

West opened the queen of clubs taken in the closed hand. South drove out the ace of diamonds and took the club return with the king. He now had 11 top tricks. On the basis of West's double, declarer marked him with the king of hearts. If he had all of the missing clubs as well, a squeeze could be affected.

South ran the diamonds first, discarding the jack and queen of hearts from dummy. Now he cashed the spades coming down to this three card position:

On the jack of spades, declarer discarded the six of clubs. West threw his small heart in order to protect against dummy's seven of clubs. A heart was led to the ace dropping the king and the ten of hearts took the fulfilling trick.

Opening lead: Queen of ♣ South was a bit off the mark with his opening two no trump bid in today's hand inasmuch as he only had 20 high card points. He explained afterward that he had promoted his holding because of the attractive spot cards. Ironically enough, it was the seven of clubs held by his partner that played the decisive role in the deal for, without the presence of that card in North's hand, South could not have fulfilled his slam contract.

North's four club response was the Gerber convention asking for aces. North had 10 high card points which presumably assured the partnership of at least 32, and he decided that if the opponents did not have two aces, he wished to be in slam. When South admitted to three aces — by bidding four

THANKS

FOR YOUR VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Again I extend a warm and sincere THANK YOU to all that voted for me in the Democratic Primaries and "Special Thanks" to the many friends and loyal supporters who worked long and hard to help me lead the ticket and win in a field of six candidates for the important office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 3. I also want to congratulate my opponents for conducting fair and clean political races.

OPEN THURSDAY NIGHT 'TIL 8

A Devotional For The Day

In the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed. (Mark 1:35.)

PRAYER: Our Father, reach deep into our hearts and minds and cleanse us from all that is unkind and untrue. Lead us, O Lord, from the way of death to the way of life and peace. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Firmly In The Saddle

If it was not apparent after the California primary that Sen. Barry Goldwater was firmly in the saddle as the probable Republican presidential nominee, it is abundantly clear now that this is the case.

Efforts to put together some sort of "stop Goldwater" drive at the National Governor's Conference died after reports indicated former President Eisenhower had urged him to make himself more available. Signals must have been misread, however, for the next day Mr. Eisenhower virtually disavowed efforts to block Sen. Goldwater from the nomination, and came up with what amounted to a unity plea. Gov. Romney of Michigan made himself available as an alternate candidate, though this seemed an exercise in futility.

That he is firmly entrenched is further attested by Sen. Goldwater's cautious, wait-and-see attitude toward pronouncements on a platform. He may feel obliged to restate some views as a matter of practicality, but he gives every evidence of calling the shots largely on his own terms. The point of interest at the San Francisco convention some five weeks hence may be over platform and a running mate and not over the presidential nominee.

Buckley Bucked Off

A pleasing, if astonishing, upset in last week's scattered party primaries was the trouncing that two reform candidates for Congress, backed by New York Mayor Wagner, handed the nationally notorious Bronx boss Charles A. Buckley.

The political form sheets made Rep. Buckley and his county machine lieutenant and congressional colleague, the otherwise undistinguished Rep. James C. Healey, odds-on favorites for renomination and re-election. Buckley was an old-style "Last Hurrah" type ward boss who supposedly had the Bronx in the palm of his hand. Buckleyism was on the way to becoming a common noun in political parlance.

The septuagenarian Bronx boss had 30 years seniority in Congress that alone had made him chairman of the House Public Works Committee, a position of national power based on pork-barrel politics. Buckley's constituents would overlook his flagrant absenteeism in the House, it was thought, because it meant he was busy at home taking care of his own, which he was in the best of all possible positions to do.

Well, Bronx Democrats decided they had had enough of Buckleyism, whatever its immediate material advantages might be to them. It is a breath of fresh air in a political atmosphere of stale cynicism, and the country can hardly help but be better off with a new House Public Works Committee chairman.

Holmes Alexander Concepts Of Education

HEADQUARTERS, NAVAL AIR TECHNICAL TRAINING, MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Theoretically, the reporter is apt to be up in the clouds when too long in the seat of government, and apt to get weighted down with technical details when visiting the military hardware shops—but not always. A few days within what may be called the disciplined society of the armed services can cause a man to shove aside his notebook and start to theorize on the most serious problems of our Stressful Sixties.

INCONTESTABLY, our country is beset by enemies, outside and inside, and sometimes it seems that only our military is a match for both these sets of foes. In the famous October confrontation of '62, President Kennedy managed to stare down a Communist flanking movement which was plainly one of nuclear blackmail. He could checkmate this calamity only because of America's well-known military might and ingenuity. Today, the foe that threatens our society most immediately, using daily blackmail and violence in the streets, is a certain spirit of anarchy, and it may be that the armed services will be our ultimate protection and rescue.

BY NO MEANS is this a building argument for the use of Federal troops in local disturbances. Nothing could be more wrong in the governance of a republic than the military occupation which President Eisenhower visited upon Arkansas and President Kennedy visited upon Mississippi. Both these Presidents were supposed to be "modern" rulers, but their uses of the military were downright medieval. The employment of the military concept at home should be modeled, let's say, on Admiral Rickover rather than Admiral Mahan, on chalk talks rather than dreadnoughts. The help that the military can furnish against the internal foe gets down to one word—education.

I HAVE just come to this Navy school, which turns out technicians, after visiting the school of Pensacola, where the output is a far more sophisticated product—the modern overwater combat aviator. The educational intellect and the social level among trainees for technical and largely non-flying jobs is far lower than it is for supersonic jet pilots who must also be Navy officers. The average technician which the Navy gets for this school at Memphis has less than 12 years of education.

THE MILITARY approach to education, simply stated, is to train the youth for existing job openings. These openings run all the way from typist and chauffeur to pilots and aerospace physiologists, but there is never any doubt that the trainee is a needed person. This fact alone gives the military-student a sense of importance and direction that the civilian-pupil does not have.

Today it is almost unheard of for a military-trained technician or professional to find his skills unneeded in the civilian economy. The dynamics of employment have many times been shown to prove that the skilled laborer very nearly generates his own job. The military services have learned, and the civilian system has refused to learn, that almost every recruit can be drilled and disciplined into usefulness.

THERE ARE, of course, many differences between the civilian and military sectors of the economy, so that perfect comparisons are not possible. But a good many public educators are visiting the military schools and are impressed at what is being done with approximately the same human material which goes into waste and combustion at home. It may be that the military has a lot of answers for which we've been looking.

Billy Graham

Isn't the love of God quite different from human affection?—M. I.

In one sense, of course, it is different; in another sense, it is not. There are at least three ingredients in our love for God which are found also in our human affections.

The first is knowledge. You cannot deeply love a person unless you really know that person; and the same is true of God. To love God you must know Him—not just know about Him. And there is only one way to know God in a deep, personal sense. It is through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. The Bible says that the light of the knowledge of God's glory shines in the face of Jesus Christ (2 Corinthians 4:6); and those who love God most are those who know Him best.

Then again, human love depends on reverence and respect. You cannot genuinely love a person for whom you have no deep regard. And the same is true, in a far higher sense, of love for God. Our love for Him is kindled by the spirit of worship and adoration which compels us to bow in wonder before His majesty, holiness and grace.

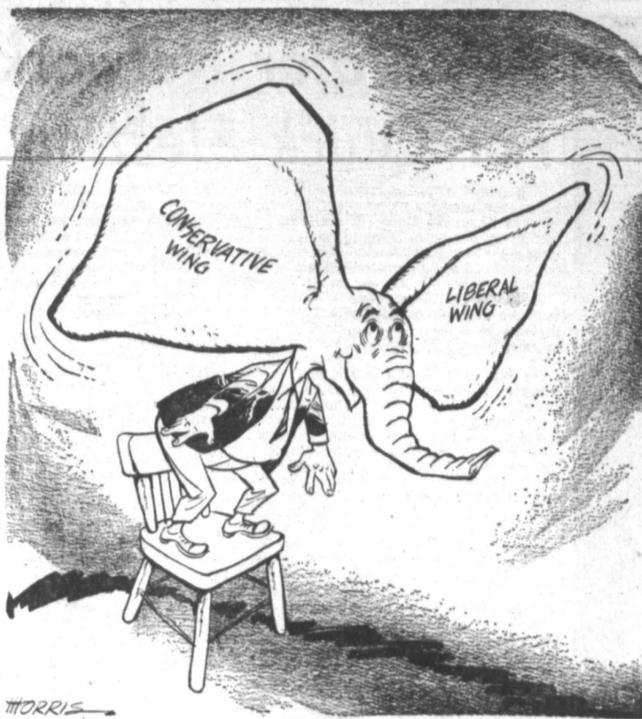

The third ingredient is gratitude. Our love for our parents arises, in part at least, from a sense of gratitude for all that they have done for us. And we love God for the same reason. "We love Him because He first loved us." (1 John 4:19) and I would add this: if you want to love God more, come to the Cross and learn afresh how great a debt you owe to Him.

Bad Eyesight

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—In 1889 the Boulder (Mont.) Age reported the arrest in Elkhorn of a man described as "troubled with some ocular disease that prevents him from recognizing or distinguishing any difference between brands on horses." Undersheriff Gibbs made the arrest.

Pioneer Fire

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—To keep fire from destroying log cabins, many Kentucky pioneers built chimneys so that a pull on a key log would collapse them if they caught fire.

James Marlow Goldwater Views Show Inconsistency Over Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater provided Republican governors with a booklet when some of them wanted clarification on where he stood on the issues. This wasn't a very flattering thing to do to them.

It was like telling them they would know where he stood if they had paid attention and read this booklet: "Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out on the Issues." It had been in circulation nationwide for weeks.

NEVERTHELESS, Goldwater has not always been consistent in what he said over the past few years. This doesn't bother him. He himself has said: "Consistency is not necessarily a virtue."

He said there was something wrong with a public man who didn't change his mind "to meet the developments of the times." In the 1950s he said former President Harry S. Truman had "fathered all the misdeeds of recent years" and was the "architect of everything wrong with America today."

In 1963, he said America needs another decisive president like Truman who, he thought, would go down in history as one of the greatest presidents.

In 1963, Goldwater, who proudly calls himself a conservative, said the true one seeks progress based on proven values of the past while the "so-called liberal" is one who seeks change for the sake of change alone. In 1964 he said he thinks history will rate him a liberal.

In 1962, he said as president he would seriously consider transporting Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops from Formosa to the Red China mainland for an invasion. But the next year he said the problem was how to get them there.

Last February he was for using warships to halt the shipment of British buses and French products to Cuba but a month later said he would try to discourage Allied trade with Fidel Castro by "example and use of diplomatic pressure."

In 1961, Goldwater talked of landing armed forces in Cuba to throw out Castro and in 1963 of a blockade, support of Cuban exile attacks, and invasion by the Organization of American States and by "ourselves."

He even thought, he said, he would be for doing "anything necessary to get rid of that cancer (Castro). If it means war, let it mean war." But this year he said "the suggestion that we must either accept communism in Cuba or invade Cuba is defeatist and dangerous nonsense."

He had said it was improper for the government to intervene in school desegregation or to use troops to enforce desegregation orders of the courts. But by last month he changed his view, said "I'm glad when I can recognize I'm wrong."

WHEN HE FIRST came to the Senate in 1953, he was all for changing the filibuster rules to cut off lengthy debates. He changed and now says he won't vote to end the anti-civil rights filibuster now in its 75th day.

He said if he was president he would break off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union but last January added he would need Senate approval to do this. He couldn't have been more wrong.

The Senate must approve treaties but not breaking off diplomatic relations.

Between 1960 and 1964 Goldwater said so many times he would not seek the Republican presidential nomination that as late as Sept. 15, 1963, he said, "I've said a thousand times I'm going to run for the Senate, nothing more."

BUT JUST 11 days before that The Associated Press reported Goldwater had rented the entire 15th floor of a hotel in San Francisco for next month which is when the Republicans hold their nomination convention there.

Then on Jan. 3, 1964, he announced his candidacy and at the same time said he would run for the Senate from Arizona, although he had derided Lyndon B. Johnson for running for the vice presidency and the Senate in 1960.

He had said he wouldn't seek both. Now he says he will give up the Senate race if he gets the presidential nomination.

To Your Good Health Artificial Sweeteners Not Harmful

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Should persons on a low-sugar diet drink sugar-free soft drinks? The advertisements state they are good for all, yet on the bottle in small print it says that the drinks are only for those who are required to use a substitute for sugar.—Mrs. E. B.

The small print on the bottle I just looked at reads, "artificial sweeteners which should be used only by persons who must restrict intake of ordinary sweets."

This is a bit ambiguous, because you can read it in either of two ways—that only sugar-restricted people should use these artificial sweeteners, or that such people should use ONLY the artificial sweeteners and not sugar.

The latter makes sense. The other—well, the need for avoiding sugar may be nothing but a matter of being overweight, and that can include a great many people.

I know of no instance in which anyone has been harmed by using the artificial sweeteners in ordinary amounts.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can you furnish any information concerning psoriasis?—M. K.
Quite a few readers have asked the same question lately, and frankly there isn't much I can tell you. The cause of psoriasis simply is not known, but the condition isn't contagious and doesn't do any damage except for appearance. And it's itchy.

Dermatologists have evolved various treatments which will stop the itching and soften the scaly surface so it will slough off and leave the skin smooth even though the redness remains. It's well worth the effort in terms of comfort.

Whether it "cures" the psoriasis is another matter. Psoriasis has the annoying habit of coming and going spontaneously, so if it happens to disappear while being treated, you never know whether the treatment had anything to do with it.

Around The Rim Never Say Never

One Saturday evening, 25 years and a week or so ago, my wife and I drove toward the Herald for what promised to be another long, tiring night.

We had been watching a thunderhead billow in the northeast. At first it was no more than Elijah's cloud, but steadily it seemed to swell angrily.

"We might get some rain out of that," she ventured.
"Never," I said. "We never get rain out of a thunderhead from that direction."

AND THAT SETTLED it until it began to rain.

At first there were big drops, widely spaced, and enough winds to weave the trees. Soon raindrops began to pepper down, and the trees tossed wildly. Then the deluge came in great folds of water, sometimes driven almost horizontally by the winds which mustered gusts of 60 miles an hour.

The water began to blow around the molding of the windows at the office, and the plate glass seemed to shudder. Suddenly the streets were curb full, and the torrent spilled over. Then we realized that some streets were draining backwards, so great was the volume of water on the slope where they normally emptied.

FOR 40 MINUTES this made outpouring whipped back and forth, punctured by violent flashes of lightning and occasional blackouts. By the time it was over, the downtown section had experienced the worst damage on record from water. There had been times when water rose higher, but never with such suddenness and violence.

From Main to Goliad and from about Fourth Street north, there was not an intersection which could be traversed by a car. Runnels Street, where the punishment was the worst, had more than four feet of water. Store owners, trapped at home, could not get downtown fast enough to barricade the doors, although one grocery did save its stock by bagging the entrance with sacks of flour.

GIANT SLABS of the pre-mix topping were ripped from the streets and were stacked in disarray. Opposite the Settles and Douglass Hotels (Howard House), these slabs whipped broadside of parked cars, literally funneling the raging river into the hotels. Soon the Settles basement had four feet of water in it, and all power failed. Elevators were motionless and the tall building stood dark and dead. The Douglass had most of its utility lines under water. Across the street the LaMode (now the Kid Shop) was hopelessly under water, and then a drugstore next door lost its fight to the rampaging flood.

ALL THE WAY to the track on Runnels and in the 100 block of Main, merchants saw water seep under their doors. Down Third Street water could not drain from the new annex to Shroyer Motor Company fast enough, and weight of the water collapsed the roof.

Birdwell Tank caught full and a regular river roared around the spillway. The railroad yards were inundated and the T&P depot had water coursing through it. Most of Scurry Street south of 10th was a wild cascade, and water threatened to pour into the Ritz Theatre. Third at both Goliad and Benton Streets was impassable for a long time.

SOUTH OF TOWN the T&P (Cadden) lake was almost bone dry, and presto! it was full. The draw through the city park got out of banks, toppled rock posts, spread out a couple of hundred yards wide in spots.

There were no official gauges downtown, but estimates were that three inches had fallen in 40 minutes. North of the city the U.S. Experiment Farm measured 1.50, west of town the airport was only .22 of an inch and on the east, Coahoma had .25. Freakish though it was, this storm was enough to teach me never to say "Never."

Richard Starnes After 45,000 Miles—

WASHINGTON—Mr. Potter of Peabmarsh is today's hero, having won the plastic hypertrophy for taking a flying dive at the Organization and bouncing off with nothing worse than a small bump of notoriety.

Mr. Potter (John) of Peabmarsh (England) objected to the cost of a new top for his secondhand car. So he contrived a new top himself—a thatched top, as one sees on wayside taverns in fair Blighty.

MR. POTTER of Peabmarsh, may his tribe increase, is a man after my own heart. Most of my time for the past 80 days has been spent in trying to keep my Flinders Frump in operating condition. My education has been expensive, but I have come to learn that the Organization considers it more than a little subversive of a chap to try to keep an automobile going after 45,000 miles.

My travail began when I undertook to buy a set of new tires and discovered that my front end, that is to say my Flinders' front end, was as out of line as a fighting drunk at a Sunday School picnic.

I IMPORED the front-end man to fix this malaise at once, and he grudgingly agreed to do so. "But it won't do no good unless you get new shocks," he warned darkly.

"I've had several new shocks since setting foot in this establishment," I murmured, "but go ahead. Do whatever is necessary to restore the bloom of youth to my Flinders."

The bill came to $139 and change, and I now own an automobile that swerves sharply to the right when I remove my hands from the wheel momentarily to light my calabash pipe.

ONE HAS to admit that this experience was no startling revelation. The motor mechanics, who are near spiritual kin to front-end men, have also had their trocars into me with a right good will.

It happened that I was en route to a meeting of ancient wool-gatherers in mid-April when my Flinders coughed once and perished on the spot. My luck with mechanics held, however, for the mishap occurred virtually at the driveway of a hiram who had only just recently graduated from the farriers trade into the profession of mending internal combustion engines. The rapture of the passing-out ceremony still cling to this bumpkin's shining face as he told me that nothing less than a total overhaul would cure my trouble.

I AUTHORIZED him to go ahead. The bill came to $204; the engine now sounds like the croup ward of a large children's hospital at midnight; and my Flinders now consumes motor oil with the single-minded dedication of a Pentecostal deaconess drinking a cooking sherry.

These major stemperers are not the whole story of my experience in automobile geriatrics. Not a fortnight ago my Flinders developed a nervous tic in its turn indicator. Well, of course, a chap who owns an automobile that willfully veers toward the shoulder of the road can't afford to be without a turn indicator, so repairs were in order. Cost: $17.80.

ON MY WAY to the office this morning the radio that came with my Flinders uttered a cry one would normally expect to hear only while watching a brace of frustrated lovers leap into the maw of a volcano, and then emitted only silence.

Well, sir or madam, I may learn slow, but what I learn I learn good. I know what to do about the radio that has been suddenly stricken dumb: Nothing, that's what. I may be a tone deaf, but I'll be a solvent tone deaf.

David Lawrence Reaction From Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON—Maybe the Southern states will not be so unhappy, after all, if a "cloture" motion to close debate in the Senate is approved by a two-thirds vote this week. It could, of course, hasten final action on the "civil rights" bill because the proponents are sure of a 51 percent majority to pass the measure itself.

The sooner the bill is enacted, however, the quicker will be the nationwide reaction to its enforcement set in and the sooner will come the public demands for repeal or substantial amendment of the law. For the moment the actual enforcement of such a far-reaching "civil rights" measure starts, there will be general concern from coast to coast due to a variety of reasons.

FIRST, THERE WILL be in Congress a controversy as to how much money should be appropriated to augment considerably the federal police force as well as the legal staff of the Department of Justice.

Second, many lawsuits will be filed on every side, not only by the government but by private parties. The government, to be sure, will have the right to intervene in many of the latter cases.

THUS, FOR EXAMPLE, the owner of a rooming house which will be pressed into a policy of integration with respect to admission of guests may challenge the constitutionality of the new law on the ground that it does not apply equally to all rooming houses.

The same principle of authorized discrimination by reason of race or color or religion or sex applies in connection with the equal-employment sections of the bill. For the provisions of the proposed law would give the federal government, under the guise of searching for discriminatory actions, the power, in effect, to control employment practices in various businesses.

It will be up to the Department of Justice to prove in suits before the Supreme Court just why it is supposed to be constitutional to permit discrimination in a business with less than 100 employees and yet forbid discrimination in a business where there are more than 100 employees.

THE GENERAL HOPE in Washington has been that enactment of the pending bill would end street demonstrations. There will, of course, be an appeal by the administration here to the Negro leaders to stop the demonstrations and give the law-enforcement machinery a chance to function. But there may be new controversies. While several states, for instance, have their own "civil rights" laws, some of these statutes do not go as far as the bill pending in the Senate.

IF ISSUES growing out of the enforcement problem become a matter of public agitation during the summer and autumn months, this could have an effect upon the national campaign, especially in certain congressional districts and states where members of Congress have voted for the "civil rights" legislation and now may have to face a protest vote at the polls.

Mrs. Sieja Heads Slate Of Talkers

Mrs. Eugene Sieja was elected to head the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club at a dinner meeting held Tuesday evening in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club. Mrs. Thomas G. Seebo presided during the election and business session.

The new slate will be installed during a dinner party for members and their husbands at Cosden Country Club June 23. To be installed with Mrs. Sieja will be Mrs. W. R. Brown, vice president; Mrs. Robert Bateman, secretary; Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, treasurer, and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, club representative.

Members adopted the standing rules and agreed to cancel summer meetings following the installation. A party will be held in August and regular meetings resume in September.

It was noted that the International Toastmistress Club dues are due July 1 and will be collected June 23. Local dues will be suspended until September.

During an instruction workshop, Mrs. Brown presented the third speech requirements. Mrs. Sieja gave opening type exercises and Mrs. Wilson suggested points to be used in being a toastmistress.

Guests were Mrs. James Brooks and Mrs. James Simon.

Dallas Resident Is Guest Here

C. R. McAdams of Dallas arrived here Monday to spend a week with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, 2308 Roberts, and his grandchildren, Larson Jr. and Lisa.

FREE COURSE IN SEWING

The drapery course, offered by the homemaking department of Gollad Junior High School, will be June 15-19 under the direction of Mrs. Jack Alexander. The course is free and is from 9-11 a.m. Those taking the course who want help in measuring windows are asked to call Mrs. Alexander at AM 4-7470 or AM 4-7295.

Annual Reports Heard By WSCS Members

Annual reports were heard at the general meeting Tuesday morning of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, First Methodist Church. Mrs. Neil Norred presided, and Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh led the opening prayer.

Following Mrs. E. P. Driver's treasurer's report, Mrs. H. H. Stephens, secretary of student work, noted that June is being observed as Student Recognition Month. Mrs. Carl Ribherd, secretary of children's work, said that the vacation church school will be held July 6-17.

Mrs. C. R. Moad, secretary of supply, presented the conference request for funds, above the regular pledge, which goes to support foreign and home mission work. Suggestions were given by Mrs. Paul Kionka for the 1964-65 study, which will be selected soon by the program committee.

Mrs. Norred said that the annual mission school will be July 27-31 at St. John's Methodist Church in Lubbock. Reservations must be made by July 17, and those attending will be housed in a Texas Tech dormitory.

"Interrelatedness of Study" was the program presented by Mrs. Robert C. Hill, following scripture reading by Mrs. Charles Bell. She reviewed the past year's work and stressed the need for worship, study and action in a well-balanced program.

Guests were Mrs. Gary Sims, Mrs. Mike Simpson and Mrs. Bill House. There will be no general meeting in July and August.

Mrs. Tippy Anderson Sr. gave a devotion entitled "Forgiveness" to the Lydia Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church which met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. C. E. Neal.

The opening prayer was said by Mrs. G. G. Morehead, and Mrs. T. K. Price, teacher, was cohostess. Sixteen members, two associate members and one guest, Mrs. H. B. Reagan, were present.

A swim in the pool was followed by a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. J. H. Eastham, president, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. T. K. Price said the closing prayer.

MRS. ROGER DEAN MALONE

Miss Jeanette Bice Married In Tulia

TULIA (SC) — Miss Opal Jeanette Bice became the bride of Roger Dean Malone at 6 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church of Tulia. Double ring vows were read by the Rev. Merle Weathers of Canyon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bice of Route N, Tulia. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jim Malone and the late Mr. Malone.

The setting for the wedding included a pair of candle trees with jade greenery, white glad-joli, and blue satin ribbon bows and streamers, with a basket of the same floral arrangement on each side. Blue satin bows marked the bridal aisle.

H. M. Baggary, organist, played traditional nuptial selections. Mrs. John Simpson sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ray Brown. Wearing a street length dress of white silk peau de sole and Chantilly lace that she designed and made, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bodice of pear de sole overlaid with Chantilly lace was fashioned with a scalloped portrait neckline and short sleeves and featured a midriff of pear de sole.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a crown of pearls and crystal beads and she wore a string of cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis cascading from phalaenopsis orchids.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Edwin Bice, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Calvin White of Brady, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmatron. They wore dresses of pale blue with boat necklines, brief sleeves, and bell shaped skirts. Their headpieces were circles of white carnations with blue veils. They carried cascades of blue carnations with white lace trim.

Claud Hyatt was best man. Tommy George of Kress, uncle of the bridegroom, served as groomsman. He shared ushering duties with J. C. Malone, brother of the bridegroom.

Bart Bice, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

RECEPTION
A reception was given in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with blue roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The attendants' bouquets formed the centerpiece flanked by white candles in crystal candelabra. The table was laid with a white organdy cloth over blue.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride traveled in a three piece beige and brown suit with beige accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live at 404 N.

Girl Scout Campers Filling Boothe Oakes

Tuesday at 2 p.m., the first Girl Scout campers of 1964 began checking in at Camp Boothe Oakes, in Sweetwater, the established camp of the West Texas Girl Scout Council. Miss Fane, district adviser in the West Texas Council, will again be camp director.

The land for Camp Boothe Oakes was purchased in 1952. The camp, all of its buildings and fixtures were purchased from the profits of the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale. The camp is located eight miles southwest of Sweetwater in Nolan County, and there are facilities in permanent units for 80 campers each session.

Session I will last 12 days, beginning June 9 and ending June 20. Other sessions in 1964 are Session II (June 21-27), Session III (June 30-July 11), Session IV (July 12-18), and Session V (July 19-25).

Big Spring girls attending Session I are Diana Lu Currie, Constance Foster, Michele Haralson, Elizabeth Healy, Connie Jones, Susan Jones, Elizabeth Lipscombe, Helen Phillips, Pat Phillips, Deborah Shaw, Deborah Steger, Pat Stinson, and Karen Tindol.

Attending Pioneer Unit from Big Spring are Janet Allison, Becky Bright, Nancy Fuller, Linda Helton, Judy Houston, Marianne Lipscombe, and Halona Wozencraft.

During the course of the five sessions this year, there will be a total of approximately 420 Girl Scout campers at Boothe Oakes. Rebecca Morrow of Lamesa will be Unit Leader of the Pioneer Unit this year, and Georgia King of Sweetwater will be the Assistant Unit Leader. Leaders of the four established units during Session I are Mrs. Jack Dumphy, Big Spring; Miss Burnell Hargrove, Rotan; Miss Jan Baethe, Baytown; and Miss Alma Agee, Lamesa.

Older members of the American Auxiliary Juniors honored younger members with a swim party Tuesday at Moss Creek Lake. Cakes and cookies were served to the 23 members present. The older group planned a dance to be held June 19 at the Legion Hut. Admission will be 50 cents per person and one dollar per couple.

Guests were Mrs. Gary Sims, Mrs. Mike Simpson and Mrs. Bill House. There will be no general meeting in July and August.

Mrs. Tippy Anderson Sr. gave a devotion entitled "Forgiveness" to the Lydia Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church which met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. C. E. Neal.

The opening prayer was said by Mrs. G. G. Morehead, and Mrs. T. K. Price, teacher, was cohostess. Sixteen members, two associate members and one guest, Mrs. H. B. Reagan, were present.

A swim in the pool was followed by a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. J. H. Eastham, president, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. T. K. Price said the closing prayer.

BIG SPRING BUSINESS and INDUSTRY

7-A BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1964 7-A

HIGH POWERED EQUIPMENT READY TO ROLL
Pest Control Service has plenty of tools to eradicate insects and odors in buildings and yards

Mack Moore & Son Can Control Pests, Odors

Do you have ants in your pantry, termites in your floors or walls, or even a skunk odor permeating the atmosphere around your home? These undesirable pests and odors can be eliminated by calling AM 4-8190, or AM 3-6514.

Mack Moore & Son, pest control experts, have equipment and the knowledge of pesticides to take care of such worries you may have around your home or office building.

Did you know that termites can do as much damage to concrete as they can to wood? Did you know that insects and pests can develop immunity to pesticides and chemicals, and that new ones have to be used to exterminate them?

Mack and Max Moore keep abreast of the constant changes and know just what to use to rid your home of ants, roaches, termites, moths and other insects. They have equipment to get the chemicals into the most difficult places.

New pressurized portable equipment enables them to get under concrete slabs, air hammer to drill into concrete foundations and slabs where pressure forces chemicals into the entire area to exterminate termites.

If you have been using insecticides which once did the job, and you find they no longer control the pests, Mack Moore & Son have what it takes to kill and control them.

If you have an offensive odor around the place, caused by smoke, skunks, or anything else, the firm has chemicals to rid the air and premises of the odor.

Three pressure tanks, on trailers, carrying 50, 100 and 200 gallons of chemicals, are ready to roll, along with two trucks carrying necessary tools.

Mack Moore & Son own and operate the business and keep up with all new methods and chemicals. They are members of the Texas Pest Control Association, and are ready to go anywhere in the Big Spring area. The men do not leave your house in a "mess" when they go after pests. They believe in leaving things clean, and "just as they were," when the job is done. They keep clean and then clean up after the job to keep their standards high.

If you suspect pests around the premises, give them a call.

Armco Products Handled By Bettle-Womack Firm

Armco products, tops for business, are available at Bettle-Womack Pipe Line Construction Co. on Snyder Highway. These include guard rails, pipe, bridge planks and conduits. They are made by Armco Steel Corporation, with plants in Houston and Oklahoma.

Coupled with the Armco-type boring equipment, the pipe can be laid under highways and roads without cutting the pavement for culverts or for conduit.

Piping can be had up to 96 inches in diameter in standard lengths of 30 feet. Other lengths may be purchased to fit needs.

Standard galvanized corrugated metal pipe in 16-to 8-gauge carries two ounces of galvanized coating per square foot on both sides. Additional coatings of bituminous material are available for extra protection. For severe conditions asbestos bonded or paved invert pipe is recommended.

Armco Smooth-Flo Sewer pipe provides for top flow capacity, and is used with fittings and connecting bands to meet specific needs. This pipe is widely used for culverts, storm sewers, stream enclosures, underpasses for pedestrians and livestock, and conduits for steam, water, and for gas lines and cables.

Hel-Cor Pipe, made on automatic machines, is also available. The corrugations are formed diagonally around the pipe instead of at right angles to the length. The continuous helical, lockseal joint and pipe come in sizes from six to 21 inches in diameter, in 15- and 16-gauge Zingrip. Bituminous coatings may be added.

Another important kind is Hel-Cor Perforated pipe used for wet road bed draining where sub-surface water is a problem, for frost boils and heaving, to prevent land slides and slips, for grade crossing, yards and terminals, airport runway drainage, recreational area drainage and for retaining walls, dams and levees.

Some major railway companies use the pipe for stabilizing road beds for high-speed trains. It is a riveted, perforated pipe, coming in sizes from eight to 96 inches in diameter.

Flex-Beam Guard Rails, seen along many major highways, are used for bridge rails, protection for bridge trims, for roadway dividers, barricades

Convenience First At Security State

Banking with a personal touch was uppermost in the minds of Security State Bank officials when they located the bank at Gregg and Fifteenth Streets. They made it easy to get to the bank, get inside, and then make contact with officers and personnel. If a customer wanted to remain in his car two drive-in windows were available.

The motto, "It's Easy To Do Business With Security State," was not a second thought — it was first.

Off-street parking on Gregg and Fifteenth, and a convenient parking lot at the rear, plus the drive-in space, made Security State the first bank in Big Spring with all-around customer convenience. Friendly service inside, and availability of all personnel, is combined with convenience.

Welcome TO

BIG SPRING WEBB PILOT TRAINING CLASS 65-H

Big Spring and all its people extend the friendly hand of a West Texas welcome to the student pilots of Webb's Class 65-H. These young men, here for a complete course of primary and basic jet-flying instruction, become citizens of our city for more than a year, and it is our earnest hope that they will find here a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere; and that when they must leave, they will do so with a kind feeling in their hearts for Big Spring, its business establishments, and all its population.

May we urge our new student pilots, as time permits them, to become acquainted with our town, to know about the churches and the schools, the facilities for leisure and enjoyment, the shops and the service establishments.

Particularly do we ask them to drop in and see us, just to let us get acquainted, and say in person what we are saying here. There's no obligation to buy at any time . . . we want to be of service, and of assistance if we can.

Yes, it's all wrapped up in one wholesome, hearty word . . . "WELCOME!"

A "HOSPITALITY GIFT" For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

Placid Scandanavia Plans Rigid Security For Khrushchev Visit

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The heaviest security precautions of modern times in placid Scandinavia are being prepared for Nikita Khrushchev's visit to Denmark, Sweden and Norway.

The Soviet premier reaches Copenhagen on June 16 to start a 19-day visit to the three countries.

An attempt to blow-up the royal estate in Oslo where Khrushchev will stay, a reported threat by a Fascist organization in Sweden to assassinate him, the presence in Stockholm of a sizable colony of bitter refugees—all these have prompted an elaborate security screen.

Denmark's entire police force of 6,700 men will be on the alert. His only trip outside the Copenhagen area will be to the island of Funen, which has 150 secular policemen. Some 400 to 500 extra policemen will be sent in.

EXTRA POLICE

The Stockholm police chief has ordered 600 extra policemen from the provinces to reinforce his security forces. He is spending several hundred thousand crowns—about five crowns to the dollar—for new equipment to protect Khrushchev, including pistols, squad cars, radio-equipped motorcycles and several miles of rope to restrict crowds.

From the time of his arrival here the security question will overshadow all others with Swedish authorities. The quay normally used by ship arrivals borders the old town with its tall buildings. There are too many windows that cannot be effectively guarded.

Khrushchev's ship will moor instead at the small island of Kastellholmen near which the 17th century warship Wasa foundered (raised recently, it has become a tourist attraction). This island is connected with a larger one which has naval installations. In turn it is connected with the central quay by a single easily guarded bridge.

SHRUBBERY

All shrubbery on the island will be searched shortly before Khrushchev's arrival. The picturesque Haga Castle, where Khrushchev and his party will stay, has been sealed off for weeks. The shrubbery around the castle, situated on a peninsula surrounded by water on three sides, will be infested with watchdogs.

Norwegian security officials are concerned that a man who tried to blow up the village on the royal farm near Oslo, where Khrushchev will stay, is walking around free—and may not be found before the visit.

The bombing incident occurred May 19. A night watchman discovered a man with a dog near the villa. The man disappeared through a fence when he was challenged. On the ground the watchman found a homemade bomb with four pounds of explosives, a fuse and a detonator.

UNDERGROUND

Stockholm's Expressen—Scandinavia's largest daily with us usually well-informed news sources—reports that an underground Fascist organization is openly threatening to kill Khrushchev.

The newspaper attributed this threat to the "Swedish-Croatian Association Croatia," an offshoot of a Yugoslav party during World War II.

Stockholm's colony of Baltic exiles and Hungarians who fled their homeland during the 1950 revolt is being closely watched. They plan an attempt to approach Khrushchev with a petition for the release of Balts held in Soviet prisons.

Jittery Swedish police recall that an anarchist was gunning for the last Russian leader to visit Sweden—Czar Nicholas II in 1909. The anarchist did not get close enough to the czar for the attempt. Instead he shot down a Swedish general on his way to a royal banquet.

In Norway, some organized resistance has developed against Khrushchev's visit. Two groups have asked the people to boycott all public arrangements connected with the visit. They called for empty pavements wherever the Soviet leader goes.

HUMAN RIGHTS
A group of Norwegian youths said in a pamphlet: "We cannot, without protest, witness a statesman who does not respect the recognized human rights, being welcomed to Norway as an honored guest."

During the visit the Norwegian Foreign Ministry will hand to the Soviet Embassy a list of Norwegians who have disappeared in the Soviet Union. A majority of these are Norwegians who disappeared while serving in the German army on the Russian front during World War II. The Khrushchev visit is considered the final chance to find out what happened to them.

As in Norway, a silent boycott of Khrushchev is being urged by two committees in Stockholm, one Swedish and one of Baltic exiles. They have distributed leaflets calling on the Swedes not to turn out. Several influential Swedish newspapers are clamoring for the government to raise with Khrushchev the question of missing Swedish seamen who are believed held by the Russians and of relatives of Swedes in the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev will be in Denmark June 16-21. Sweden will be his next stop June 22-27. He will spend three days in Stockholm and then go to Goteborg, the second city. He will visit Oslo June 29 to July 4.

Enrollment Continues For YMCA Activities

Enrollment continues this week in the YMCA's summer program of recreational activities, with several swimming classes to begin Monday. Ten women have enrolled in a beginning swimming class which began this week.

Classes will begin Monday in beginning and advanced swimming, lifesaving, diving, and physical fitness. Enrollment is open for all classes.

A ballet and tap dancing instruction class for ages three years and older began Tuesday and a tiny tot learn-to-swim class is planned for July.

Beginning swimming classes will be from 1 to 2 p.m. each Monday and Wednesday. Junior and senior lifesaving classes for advanced swimmers will be from 2 to 3 p.m. and a diving class from 4 to 5 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday.

Advanced swimming classes in the fish program will be from 1 to 2 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. Classes in the flying fish and shark programs will be from 1 to 2 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday and 2 to 3 p.m. Monday and Wednesday.

A "run for your life" physical fitness class for adults is planned for 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The Y will also be open for recreational periods through the summer. The swimming pool is open from 3 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Saturday for junior high school age youths and above.

A swim period is from 10 to 11:30 a.m. each Saturday for elementary age children. An open coed swim for adults is from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and family swim period is from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday and Friday.

The Y games room is open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for elementary age groups and until 6 p.m. for junior high age groups and above. Weightlifting equipment is available from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday for junior high age youths and above.

Woman Slays Four Children

MIDLAND, Pa. (AP) — A housewife, apparently distraught after a quarrel with her husband, shot and killed four of her five children today on the outskirts of this western Pennsylvania town, police reported.

The children, three boys and a girl ranging in age from 2 to 5, were each shot once through the heart as they lay in their beds in the basement of the family's partly constructed home in adjoining Ohioville Borough.

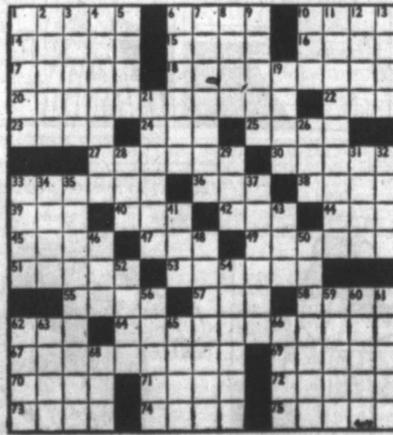

They were the children of Mitchell and Mary Zlatovich. He is the brother of the borough police chief, Bernie Zlatovich, who was the first to arrive at the scene just before dawn.

The chief said he was called by Mrs. Zlatovich, who is 24.

Coroner John Colavincenzo said the woman told him she would have shot the baby also but ran out of cartridges for a .32 caliber pistol.

Lions Romp Past Cubs

The Lions capitalized on seven Cub errors and six walks Monday night in the Texas Little League as they took a 14-1 decision from the Cubs in a game that was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule. Johnny Olague was the winning pitcher, giving up only a second inning single to Smith, while J. Canas was charged with the loss. Johnny Cerventes had a home run for the winners while teammate Santos Olague clubbed a double.

Coach Is Chosen

BEAUMONT (AP) — Darrel Shaver was named head football coach of Beaumont High School Tuesday night, replacing Jim Simmons, who resigned. Shaver comes here from Kilgore Junior College, where he was line coach for four years.

Middlecoff, Bolt Fail In Open Bid

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Golf lovers everywhere heaved a big sigh of relief today—Sam Snead made it. Slammin' Sammy, the man who has won a hundred tournaments but never the Open, will be trying for the 24th time when 150 of the world's best golfers tee off next week in the blue ribbon American championship at the Congressional Club in Washington, D.C.

Others were less fortunate, including former winners Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Lew Worsham and such well-known touring pros as Dave Marr, Bob Duden and Wes Ellis. Sam, now 52 but still strong and active and a sentimental favorite every time he tees up the ball in the Open, made the grade easily at Detroit, where big George Bayer led a strong field of the tournament stars with a score of 68-70-138. Snead's qualifying score was 71-73-144, five shots under the cutoff point for the 39 who made the grade at Detroit. It was at Detroit that Bolt, the 1958 winner, shot a 77 for

Missouri Mentor Is Wary Of Southern Cal Threat

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Missouri's tourney-wise seniors are in good position in their third spot at an "CAA baseball crown" but Coach H. Simmons is wary of Southern Cal, a team he's never beaten in the college world series. USC's defending champions, 40-13, had to use their two best pitchers to win a rain-suspended game from Mississippi 5-2. Walt Peterson went four innings Monday night and Larry Fisher finished Tuesday night. This disrupted their pitching rotation for tonight's big one with Missouri, which was im-

Sadecki Is Now Ace Of Cardinal Staff

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ray Sadecki certainly has matured quickly. Two years ago he was being called a 10-year-old boy. Now Sadecki's 23—and the hottest pitcher on the St. Louis staff. Sadecki gave still another indication of his transition Tuesday night, with a six-hit, 1-0 victory over Juan Marichal and the National League leading San Francisco Giants. It was the first shutout of the season and the sixth straight victory as a starter for the onetime bad boy of the Cardinal staff. Two years and four days before he had stepped to the mound against Cincinnati and faced just five batters. When he

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

For the avid sportsman, there's some good free items to be had in Big Spring that are worth taking advantage of. At Hemphill-Wellis, they're giving away some small cardboard cards that could prove real valuable for golfers, especially for those just beginning the game. They're called "Golf Coach." One side of the card lists 10 facets of the game that could be giving any duffer problems, and the reverse side lists the solution by showing with illustrations the correct way to succeed. The approximate yardage for each club is also listed. Originally there were 250 of the cards, but they have now dwindled to slightly more than 100... At any local Phillips 66 station, they've got an item of interest for fishermen. It's a 1964 fishing guide prepared by the editors of Field & Stream magazine which will supposedly "help you find — and catch — more fish no matter where you travel." Included are guides to fresh and salt water fishing, how to clean and cook fish, present world records in both fresh and salt water classes, and illustrations showing how to tie four fishing knots. It has 40 pages... Both items can be yours by just taking the time to stop by and get one...

DALE HOPKINS

When the Mobil Economy Run stopped in Big Spring some time ago, one of the men along for the run was racing representative at the Indianapolis 500. He arrived in the Indiana city early in April and spent two months publicizing Mobil products and seeing that anyone who came into contact with Mobil came away satisfied... BILL SHOEMAKER was 1963's most successful jockey as he topped all riders in purse money during the year. His mounts earned $2,562,925... For the confidence trophy of the year, we nominate pro golfer TOMMY BOLT. At the final hole of the pro-am before this year's St. Petersburg golf tournament, he hit a good tee shot and acknowledged the congratulations by saying: "You think that was something? Watch this." He whipped out his pencil, wrote a three on the card, and sent his caddy to the clubhouse to turn in the score before he ever finished. He then calmly hit a nine-iron shot eight feet from the pin and sank the putt...

Big Spring's DALE HOPKINS, state champion trap shooter in Class A, leaves today to go to Fort Worth where he'll try to retain his title at the 1964 state meet. The meet will run Thursday through Sunday with the first day set aside for what are called "preliminary events." They don't have any bearing on determining the champions but they do have trophies up for grabs. Last year, Hopkins won the championship by breaking 199 out of 200 birds but this year, he'll have to shoot at 500 birds in the Friday-Sunday competition. Two of the most hard-luck contestants at the recent Big Spring Open would have to be C. E. JOHNSON and his son KENNETH, who now works for Sears in Midland. The first day they both carded an eight on the par-four third hole and then the second day they hit the jinx again, both carding an eight on the par-five 17th. They still finished with a 69-69-138. Under the circumstances, that's great.

There are approximately 451,000 registered junior bowlers in the nation... In a game in the old Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri baseball league, an umpire's chest protector caught on fire suddenly and he was forced to put it out himself. Seems that no one wanted to help him. Baseball Digest, commenting on the incident later, said: "The fans no doubt booed him for making another bad decision."... The modern record for the most runs in one inning of a major league game was set June 18, 1933, when the Boston Red Sox had a 17-run seventh inning against the Detroit Tigers that saw 23 Boston batters come to the plate and get 14 hits during the 48-minute rout. The Red Sox won the game, 23-3...

Angels Slug By Dodgers

The Angels pushed across five runs Monday night in the National Little League and ripped past the Dodgers, 8-0, in a six-inning contest. Burkheart was the winning pitcher, tossing a three-hitter, while Pearce was the loser. There was only one extra-base hit in the contest, a double by the Angel's Jackie Cranfield.

Lions Roar By Yankees

The Lions rallied behind the two doubles of Jimmy Newsom Tuesday night and swept past the Yankees, 7-3, in Sophomore League action. Juan Armendarez was the winner, although he was only one of three Lion hurriers to parade to the mound, while Gary Irwin was charged with the loss.

Ciao, Williams Go To Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trader Bill McPeak, rebuilding his Washington Redskins under a "win or else" ultimatum, has all but shut up shop after swinging a deal for a much-needed pass receiver and a veteran defensive lineman. The trade Tuesday brought end Angelo Coia and defensive tackle Fred Williams to Washington from the Chicago Bears in exchange for the Redskins' No. 1 draft choice next fall. McPeak, who was told when he was signed for 1964 to produce a winner or he wouldn't be back for 1965, now has traded away four of the first 10 Redskins choices in the National Football League draft next fall. He also has traded away some mighty familiar faces—quarterback Norman Snead, defensive back Norman Snead, defensive end Andy Stynchula and half-

Daughter Born To Space Woman

By HENRY S. BRADSHER
MOSCOW (AP) — The world's only space woman, Valentina Nikolayevna Tereshkova, gave birth to a daughter last Sunday, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

The baby's father is Soviet spaceman Andrian Nikolayev, who orbited the earth in August 1962, with Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich. Valentina orbited the earth in company with Valery Bykovsky in June 1963.

Both mother and daughter are well, Tass said. Usually reliable sources said the baby weighed nearly 7 pounds.

Valentina and Nikolayev were married in Moscow last Nov. 3 and spent their honeymoon touring South Asian countries.

Although the baby is the first born to an astronaut couple, Gherman Titov was the first astronaut to become a father after orbiting the earth. His wife gave birth to a daughter, Tanya, last September.

Valentina, whose married name according to Russian custom is Nikolayevna-Tereshkova, is 27. Nikolayev is 34.

Three days ago the doctor for the Soviet astronauts, Dr. Evgeny Petrov, reported that Valentina was in the best of health. During her pregnancy she has been studying at the Military Aeronautic Engineering Academy and recently passed examinations in English and mathematics.

The astronauts were married in a televised white wedding at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages in Moscow. At the reception afterward, with Premier Khrushchev as host, the newlyweds were given a "symbolic present" by Soviet military leaders. It was a little doll—a girl.

Cave Dweller Up A Tree

Lyn Anderson, 19, who was evicted from her cave last week in Fort Worth, poses near the lakeside retreat where she lived nearly three weeks to "get away from people." Short Course For Farmers Is Scheduled GARDEN CITY — An entomology short course is planned June 12, 19 and 26 for cotton farmers in Glasscock and surrounding counties. The course will be at the St. Lawrence Community Hall, 10 miles south and four miles west of here.

Dr. Dial Martin, leader of the entomology research center of Brownsville, will discuss the boll worm problem in the first session at 8 p.m. Friday. He will also discuss the development of virus for worm control, use of black light and attractants for insect control.

Cotton insect control will also be the topic for the session June 19, with Weldon H. Newton, extension assistant entomologist, as speaker. Newton will discuss guide and control recommendations for insects found in this area. He will also discuss the effect of insecticides used in this area on the physiology of the cotton plant and possible reduction in yields by overuse.

In the final session, Donald R. Rummel, area entomologist with the Texas A&M Extension Service at Lubbock, will discuss common insecticides used and different types of insecticides, their toxicity, mode of action and types of formulations. The problem of pesticide residues on cotton due to use of insecticides will also be discussed.

Oliver F. West, Glasscock County agent, is in charge of the meetings, which will begin at 8 p.m. each day.

Liberals Joining To Push Yarborough Party Issues

AUSTIN (AP)—Liberal Texas Democrats in 50 counties have organized to push U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough's demands at the State Democratic Convention in Houston.

Convention delegates from the counties met Monday night and adopted a statement of principles similar to one Yarborough released before the May 9 county conventions, and announced plans for a convention-eve caucus.

The statement, issued Tuesday, calls for seating of "legally-elected delegates from San Antonio, Houston, and Randall and Hutchinson counties, where their forces were in control, as well as the delegates from the liberal rump, or contesting, convention in Dallas.

The statement by the group, which calls itself the Committee for a Fair and Loyal Convention, also calls for endorsement of the programs of the National Democratic party, to be written at the Atlantic City convention, and of President Johnson, as well as Johnson's candidacy.

Forces of Gov. John Connally, who say they have at least 1,873 of the 2,834 convention votes, favor support of Johnson with no commitment on the platforms of Johnson or the national party.

The committee also said it believes "delegates to the national convention should be chosen only from those persons who pledge affirmatively to support all party nominees from constable to president—and who similarly pledge support of the president's program."

Another committee contention is that all congressional district caucus choices of nominees to the convention's six committees should be honored.

The committee said it would consider at a Sunday night caucus Albert Pena Jr.'s request that the convention name specific legislation in the President's program it favors.

Pena, from San Antonio, is a member of an eight-man steering committee selected by the group. Others are Bill Kilgarrin and Francis Williams, Houston; Mike McKool, Dallas; Roy Engleke, Galveston; George Cowart, Jefferson County; Mrs. Lillian Collier, Robertson County; and Texas AFL-CIO President Hank Brown of Austin.

Brown warned several weeks ago failure to adopt such proposals at the convention could result in a contesting Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention.

Marina Likes U.S. Feelings

DALLAS (AP) — Marina Oswald, widow of the man accused of killing President Kennedy, said the American people are much like those in Russia, but they "have much opportunity to show what they feel."

The petite young widow, who was to leave today for Washington and her second appearance before the Warren Commission, said in a Dallas News interview that both Americans and Russians "are so very human, so thoughtful, so wonderful." She added:

"If I were in the same situation in Russia, people might be sorry, but they wouldn't dare show it. In America they've shown it, and if they only knew how thankful and appreciative I am."

She said letters still arrive regularly, many from men offering marriage.

One middle-aged midwesterner sent his picture and suggested he adopt her as a daughter. She has received only three or four letters that were not sympathetic since the assassination Nov. 22 in Dallas.

In Marina's early February testimony before the commission, she described her life with Lee Harvey Oswald and identified as his the rifle used to shoot Kennedy. Chief Justice Earl Warren said "She's a brave little woman. She has helped us immeasurably."

Rotarians See Gym Program

Rotarians were treated to exhibitions of tumbling as taught at the YMCA Tuesday when physical director Jim Gilbert put five of his youngsters through a series of acts. The youngsters had attended a training school in Dallas the week before, and told Rotarians of the advantages of advanced training.

Curtis Mullins, June program chairman, introduced Gilbert and thanked Rotarians for their part in helping to send the group to Dallas.

Bill McRee, scout executive, presented new charters for Boy Scout Troop 1, and Explorer Post 1, both sponsored by the Rotary Club. He explained that Troop 1, organized in 1911, is one of the oldest troops in the western area, and noted that the charter carried the over "half century" designation in gold. Explorer Post 1 was organized six years ago.
