Record Rain Just In Time For Crops

Rainfall varying from .20 to over two inches splashed across Howard County just before midnight Thursday, snapping the heat wave and providing farmers with ample moisture for planting or encouraging young crops.

"The rainfall was a lifesaver to farmers who have been missed in previous spring rains," Herb Helbig, county agent, said this morning. In other

Federal Pay Raise Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fatter pay checks for most federal workers were in prospect today after House passage of a pay raise bill that includes $7,500-a-year increases for members of Congress.

By the surprisingly large margin of 243 to 157 the House reversed its earlier defeat of a similar bill and cleared the way for Senate action on the $533-million package of pay boosts.

It includes $7,500 a year raises for judges, cabinet officers and top federal executives, and increases ranging from 2.5 per cent at the top to 1.6 per cent at the bottom for 1.7 million government workers.

The average letter carrier would get a 5.6 per cent boost of $325 a year and the average government typist and file clerk would get a $310 a year raise.

The bill is expected to be one of the first called up in the Senate after it completes action on the civil rights bill, and no difficulties are foreseen in its passage.

A number of considerations prompted the House to pass the pay bill this time after defeating one, 222 to 184, last March. The size of the proposed congressional raise was scaled down from $10,000 a year to $7,500 and it was made effective next January, instead of this year, making it easier for members to vote for it.

Of major importance in the view of the bill's backers, however, was the fact most state primary elections are now over. Last March the primaries were still to be faced and too many members felt it politically unwise to vote raises for themselves and then face the electorate.

Strong support from President Johnson also helped put the bill over this time, as did a powerful lobbying effort by the postal unions.

An amendment designed to eliminate the pain of voting for its own pay raises in the future was adopted by the House Thursday. It was offered by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., and would provide automatic increases for Congress whenever the top Civil Service grade gets a raise.

Texas' Vote On Salary Hike Shows Division

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Texas members of Congress favored passage Thursday when the House voted 243-157 to approve a pay raise for 1.7 million federal workers.

Congressmen themselves get a pay boost in the bill. Texas Democrats for the bill included: Beckworth of Gilmer; Brooks of Beaufort; Casey of Houston; Gonzalez of San Antonio; Kilgore of McAllen; Patton of Texarkana; Pool of Dallas (at-large); Purcell of Wichita Falls; Thomas of Houston; Thompson of Galveston; Wright of Fort Worth and Young of Corpus Christi.

Texas Democrats voting against the measure: Burleson of Anson; Fisher of San Angelo; Mahon of Colorado City; Poage of Waco; Roberts of McKinney and Rogers of Pampa.

Texas Republicans against the raise: Aiger of Dallas and Foreman of Odessa.

Texas Republicans voting for the measure: None.

Recorded as against the pay raise but not actually voting: Democrats Pickle of Austin; Teague of College Station and Dowdy of Athens.

Reds Moving, Laos Flights Will Resume

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Souvanna Phouma said today that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Central Laos will resume in the next day or two because "important movements" of Communist forces are under way there.

The flights were suspended Wednesday at Souvanna's request.

"Unfortunately," the premier told a news conference, "recent information reaching us shows that important movements of Pathet Lao and Vietminh troops are taking place in these (Communist-controlled) zones."

CONDITIONS

"The flights will therefore be continued and if the Pathet Lao want them to stop it is up to them to create the necessary conditions."

Souvanna said he has no objection to armed American fighter escorts for the reconnaissance planes. He said Laos itself has no means to protect the flights.

Previously it had been believed that the violent objections from the Pathet Lao and Communist China to the flights, and particularly to the use of armed American escorts, had been a big factor in Souvanna's request that the flights be suspended.

But the premier said today, as he had Thursday, that he requested their suspension because there had been a "lull in the operational zone."

AIR STRIKE

Souvanna made no mention of an air strike Thursday on Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay reported by Red China's New China news agency.

The agency said six U.S.-made A7G and T28 planes of World War II vintage dropped six bombs and made strafing runs over the Pathet Lao center in the Plaine des Jarres.

Such planes are flown by the Royal Lao Air Force and are based at Savannakhet, in Southern Laos, under the control of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the right-wing Laotian leader.

A Pathet Lao statement quoted by the news agency did not identify the nationality of the planes but blamed the attack on "U.S. imperialism and its lackeys."

TTA CHALKS RECORD HERE DURING MAY

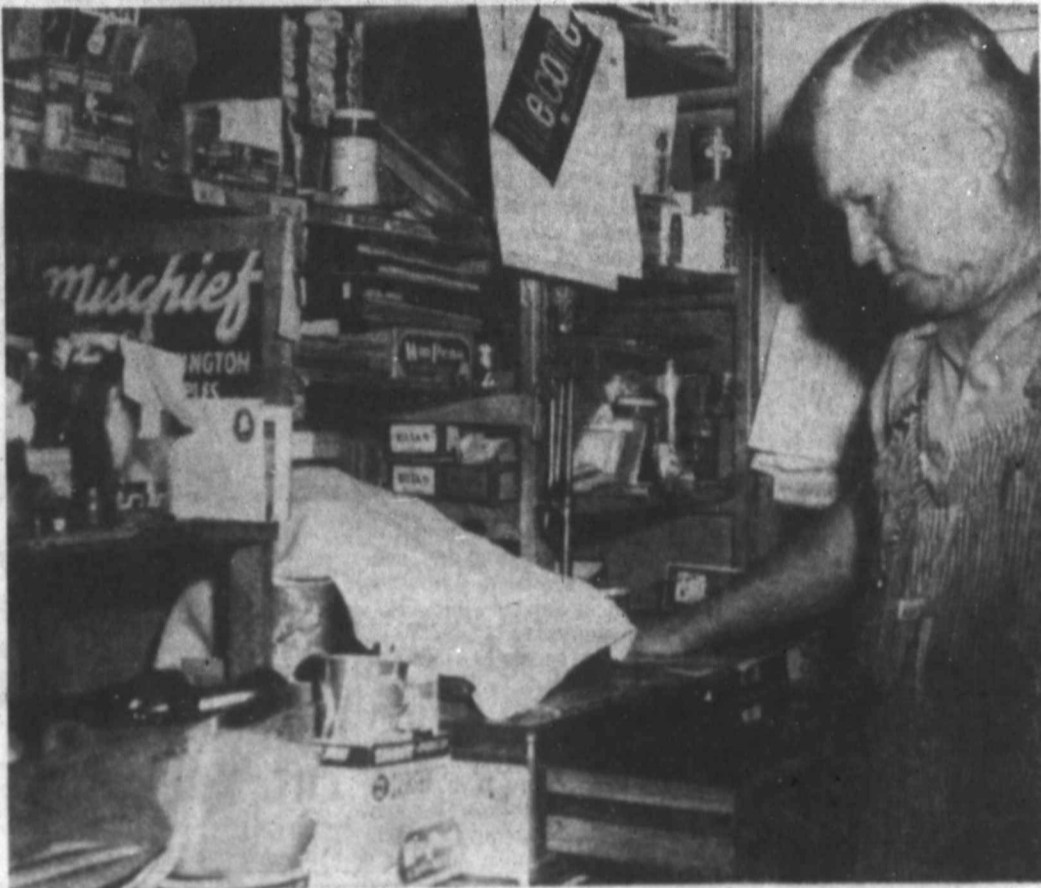

Passenger boardings at Big Spring's Howard County Airport during the month of May broke all records for the airport since service was begun by Trans-Texas Airways.

A total of 299 passengers flew TTA during the month, compared to 179 flights during the former record month of April, according to A. G. Kamel, TTA's assistant vice president of sales. TTA provides Big Spring with flights to other cities of the Southwest as well as connections to points all over the world, he said.

Officers Seek Killer Of Stanton Widow

Mrs. McDonald Robbed, Beaten

CASH REGISTER WAS EMPTIED
Dan McDonald, son of murder victim, looks at damage

STANTON — An intruder early today beat, attacked and murdered Mrs. Delzee McDonald, 82-year-old widow, in the grocery she operated at Camp Walker in eastern Stanton.

Currency, estimated at between $200 and $300, was missing from the cash register.

Mrs. McDonald, widow of W. S. McDonald, was found at 5:55 a.m. today when John Davis, a farmer, who customarily went by the store to get a pack of cigarettes and visit with Mrs. McDonald, found the door open and no one there.

Alarmed, he went to the home of her son, Dan McDonald, at 307 E. Santa Anna, about a block away, and together they returned to the store and living quarters opening off it.

Mrs. McDonald's body was on the bed, a plastic potato bag tied over her head. She had been beaten and stabbed four times, but these wounds appeared superficial.

Admittedly devoid of leads at the moment, officers began delving into the case. Police Chief Bob Smith and Deputy Sheriff J. B. Therwanger were called immediately to the scene, and others joined soon afterwards. Bobby West, investigator for District Attorney Gil Jones, joined in the investigation.

Justice of Peace Martin Gibson launched an inquest, but he was withholding a verdict pending an autopsy by Dr. Jarrett E. Williams, Abilene pathologist who was in Big Spring Friday morning.

Dan McDonald, who had helped his mother operate the court and little store, said he had last seen her alive at about 9 p.m. Thursday when she closed the store. Dr. J. M. Shy, Stanton, said after an examination of the body, that Mrs. McDonald appeared to have been dead about five hours when the body was found. She appeared to have been assaulted.

The bed in which Mrs. McDonald was found is in a room at the rear of the store. Officers said it has been her habit to keep the store door open until she retired.

A plastic bag was pulled over her head, but the rumpled covers of the bed had been pulled over the body. Dan McDonald said the room was in disarray as though it had been ransacked. The door to the bedroom was left slightly ajar.

The cash register had been forced open, said McDonald, who estimated $200 to $300 in currency was missing. Included were a number of $1 bills and $5 bills from two cigar boxes that had been hidden behind the register. Both boxes were left to the right of the register.

A .22 calibre revolver, owned by Dan McDonald, lay apparently untouched to the left of the register. It was loaded with eight cartridges, none of which had been fired.

Officers said that Mrs. McDonald had bruises on her face, head, arms, chest and hands in addition to the four stab wounds about an inch deep. They could have been caused by an ice pick or some similar instrument officers added.

Evidence in the case, including the bag, cigar boxes, etc., were turned over to the Department of Public Safety, which also was helping on the case. Police Chief Smith said there were no suspects but he felt the intruder must have been someone with a knowledge of the situation.

Mrs. McDonald had operated the store with her husband from 1943 until his death in 1948. Since that time her son had assisted her in the operation.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Arrington - Gilbreath Funeral Home. The only survivor other than the son, Dan McDonald, is a daughter, Mrs. W. H. (Myrtle) Thomas, Tennyson.

Ammo Blast Fatal To Four

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Explosions rocked military ammunition dumps across the Ozama River from Santo Domingo through the night.

Officials said four persons were killed and 112 wounded. Flames set by the blasts still raged today, preventing firemen, troops and police from getting close to the dumps.

The explosions caused damage in the city. Donald Reid Cabral of the government junta said three and possibly five dumps at the army's 27th of February barracks were destroyed. He said investigators were trying to determine the cause.

Scranton Finally Jumps Into Race

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania today announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination "to offer our party a choice."

The 46-year-old governor and former congressman has been saying for almost a year that he would accept only a "sincere and honest draft."

In an 11th-hour speech arranged only Thursday night for the Republican State Convention of Maryland, Scranton declared the Republican party "is in danger if we let an exclusion-minded minority dominate our platform and choose our candidates."

OFFER CHOICE

"I have come here to offer our party a choice. I reject the echo we have thus far been handed, the echo of fear, or reaction, the echo from the never-never land that puts our nation backward to a lesser place in the world of free men," he said.

Jack Conny, the governor's press secretary, said the governor had been mulling over his decision for several days.

Reminded that Scranton said previously he never felt "stirred" before any presidential aspirations, Conny was asked if the governor was "stirred" now. "He's stirred," Conny replied. Conny said Scranton made up his mind finally at 8:23 p.m. Thursday.

DECISION

As to what impelled him to make that decision, Conny said: "You'll have to get the specifics from him."

Asked who Scranton talked with after the decision was made, Conny replied: "Name any big name and they would be it."

Asked specifically about Eisenhower, Conny said he thought Scranton talked with the general but couldn't say for certain.

Those close to Scranton described him as deeply disturbed over the leadership trend within the GOP. The sources said he would tell the Maryland organization he will continue to fight for the nomination until the issue is settled.

The announcement by Scranton would put him in direct opposition to Sen. Barry Goldwater. The Arizona Republican presently holds a commanding lead in the battle for national convention delegates.

A key factor in Scranton's decision, sources said, was Goldwater's vote on Wednesday against ending the filibuster in the Senate on civil rights legislation. Scranton long has been an outspoken advocate of civil rights.

Goldwater voted against cloture on the filibuster, saying: "I have never voted for cloture on anything." He has said he hopes to be able to vote for the bill, but it would depend upon its final form; it would have to be amended.

CONTENDERS

In announcing his candidacy, Scranton would join a field of GOP contenders that includes Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen.

Goldwater was not available immediately for comment. In New York a spokesman for Rockefeller said the governor will not change his position "one bit."

Michigan Gov. George Romney, an outspoken opponent of many of Goldwater's views, has said he is not seeking the nomination, but will campaign for a strong platform along lines of the 1960 platform.

He had no immediate comment on Scranton's plans. Such a Scranton announcement would be a reversal of his long-stated position that he was not seeking the nomination, but would accept a "sincere and honest draft." Last

Romania Wooing West, Cutting Soviet Ties

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Bucharest streets with Russian names are getting new ones. The Russian language is no longer compulsory in Romanian schools. Soviet book stores and institutes are being closed or renamed.

There are hints of bitterness between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Romania's longtime Communist leader, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej.

Since Romania signed an agreement last week to trade more with the United States, there has been increasing speculation in the West that Romania may be moving away from the Communist bloc. Cautious Western diplomats in Bucharest believe Romania won't break away from the Soviet Union and other Communist countries—or follow the Yugoslav model. But they say that disagreements are tenuous at any time since Romania became Communist in 1947.

RICHEST
Romania probably is the richest of all East European Communist countries in raw materials. She has Europe's largest oil production outside the Soviet Union, and gold, bauxite, extensive wood supplies, methane gas, water power, uranium ore and salt.

For years, most of these raw materials went to other Communist countries.

In 1960 Gheorghiu-Dej decided on a large-scale plan of industrialization. Because Romania could not get the first-class equipment from the Soviet bloc, they started trading their products in the West, and began buying industrial plants in West Germany, Britain, France and Italy.

Romania's rapid industrialization and its increasing Western trade has not pleased Khrushchev. Since 1962, he has been trying to persuade the Romanians to come back fully into the Communist camp and integrate their economy with Comecon—the economic organization of East European states.

Instead, Gheorghiu-Dej has shunned many Comecon meetings and increased trade with the West.

In April, when the Communist leaders were attending Khrushchev's 70th birthday celebrations in Moscow, Gheorghiu-Dej stayed home and met with his Romanian Workers' (Communist) party. In a statement the party attacked Soviet interference in the affairs of Communist countries.

TRADE MISSION

Gheorghiu-Dej then sent his trade mission to the United States. Additionally, Romania has:

1. Inquired about possibilities of joining GATT, the West's general tariff and trade agreement.
2. Considerably relaxed regulations for Western (but not Eastern) tourists to enter the country, obviously to encourage more hard currency from them.
3. Expressed interest in buying two nuclear power plants from Britain or the United States.
4. Quietly cut down Soviet influence in schools and cultural institutions.

Amendment Hopes Waning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern foes of the civil rights bill have virtually abandoned hope of winning adoption of any additional amendments of consequence.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Dixie forces, said today that the bill's supporters evidently are not going to take any more amendments.

This was confirmed by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager. He said in a separate interview that there might be some technical changes but nothing of substance.

"I don't think we have much chance on any of our amendments," Russell said, but he added that the Southerners will continue to offer them to put the Senate on record, even if they get only 29 to 30 votes.

"This is bad legislation, and we are going to give those who are pressing this cup to our lips a chance to make a record," said Russell.

A Southern filibuster against the House-passed bill was shut off Wednesday when the Senate voted 1 to 29 to put its debating closure rule into effect.

Under this each senator has only one hour to speak on the bill and all amendments.

Russia, East Germany Sign Friendship Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev announced to a cheering audience in the Kremlin today that the Soviet Union and East Germany have agreed on a treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance.

The Kremlin, apparently to soften the impact of the latest treaty, had forewarned the governments of the United States, Britain and France.

NOT CRITICAL

The three Allied governments consulted on the development, agreed the new pact was not to be considered a peace treaty and therefore created no new critical situation.

The Soviet premier, his voice hoarse from speaking, said the treaty would be signed "in a few hours."

He said it reflected the desire of Socialist states to work together, and provided for noninterference in the affairs of one another. He spoke at a Soviet-German friendship meeting in the Kremlin. "The unsettled German question can absolutely unexpectedly provoke a catastrophe. If we want to avoid it, sooner or later statesmen will have to muster enough courage to appraise soberly the really existing situation," he said.

"Formalization of the actually existing situation that has already taken shape is the only point in question. This would not demand any sacrifices or losses from either side."

The Soviet Union, East Germany and the other Communist countries have struggled and will struggle for a German peace settlement and normalization of the situation in West

Berlin on this basis, he added. At one point he digressed to accuse Communist China of wanting a world war "in order to spread communism but depending on the Soviet Union to win the war."

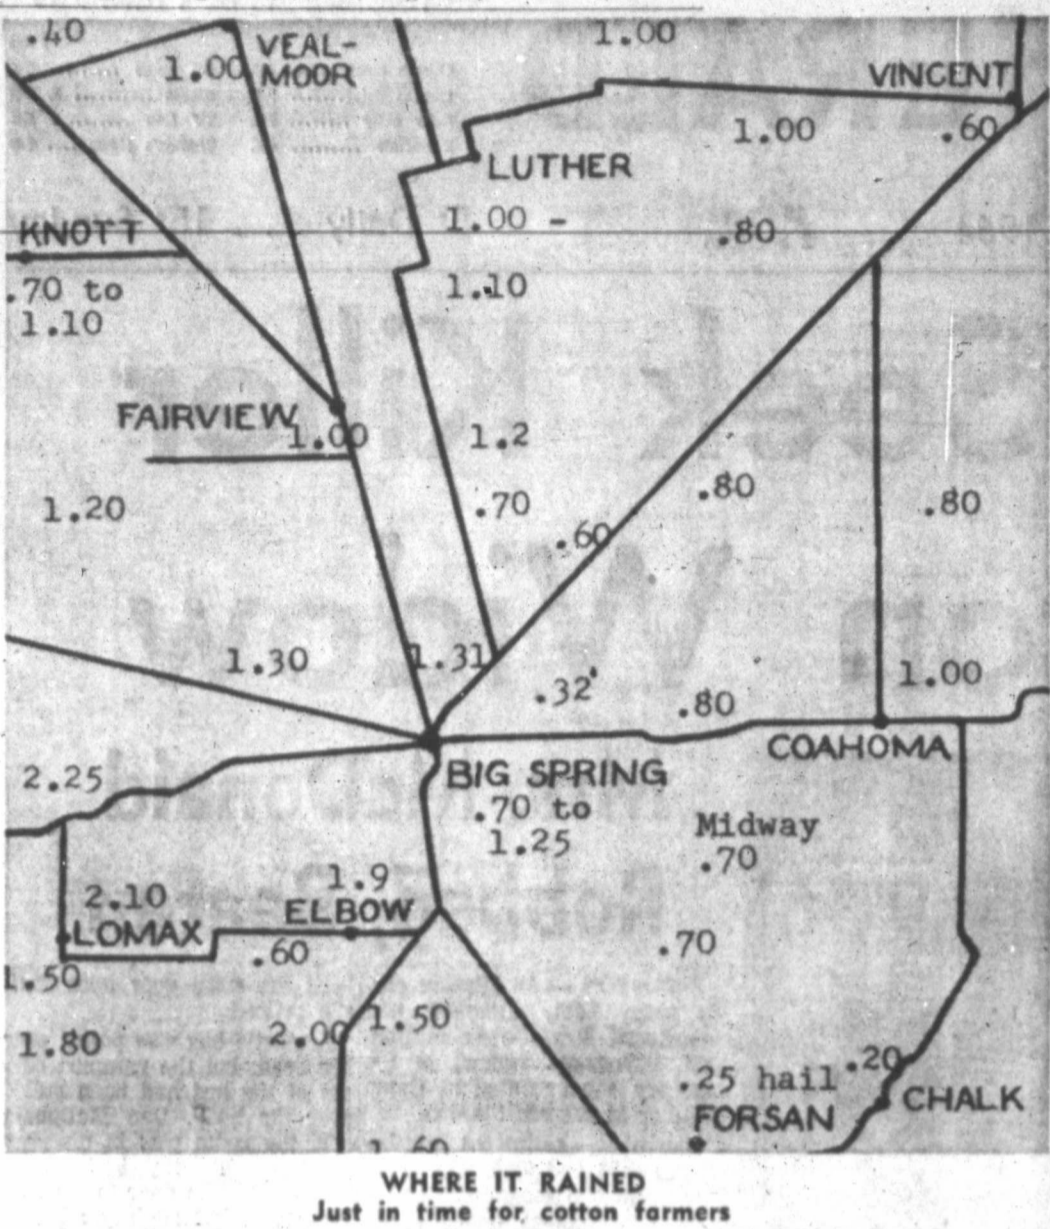

"When we have a chance, we will use all our influence so there will be no war," Khrushchev declared.

A man would have to be insane to call for war in the time of nuclear weapons, he went on, saying that the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima is now considered a toy and who knows what a 190-megaton bomb would do?

Khrushchev said the United States claims it has enough nuclear weapons to kill each Russian three times. It also says, Khrushchev added, that the Soviet Union has enough nuclear weapons to kill each American once.

"We don't need any more than that," he commented as an audience of 6,000 laughed and applauded.

Biggest U. S. Building Rises In Swampy Cape

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Rising from the swamplands of Cape Kennedy is a great steel skeleton which is being forged into the world's largest building. More important than its size, however, is that this structure will be the assembly area for the giant Saturn 5 rockets which will ferry American astronauts to the moon.

The Vertical Assembly Building—VAB—will not be the tallest structure ever built. At its highest point, 524 feet, it will be less than half the height of the Empire State Building.

But the VAB will measure 710 feet long and 513 feet wide. These dimensions will enclose 125 million cubic feet, making it the biggest man-made structure, from the standpoint of volume, anywhere.

GREAT PYRAMID

It will dwarf the present record holders—the great Pyramid of Cheops in Egypt, 96 million cubic feet; and the Pentagon, 77 million.

When completed in 1966, the VAB will be the dominant feature of the sprawling 750-million moonport the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is constructing here for manned lunar flights starting late in this decade.

The price tag on the VAB is more than $100 million.

Designing required the combined work of 200 engineers from four New York firms.

Max O. Urbahn, head of one of the firms, said: "The paperwork alone was monumental. Approximately 2,500 separate drawings were submitted. The final specifications, drawn up and duplicated for the firms who bid on the construction, took a train carload to deliver from the printer."

POLISHED BOX

"As an architectural structure," Urbahn said, "the VAB will be little more than a slick, polished box covering eight

Construction of the VAB began with a process called surcharging.

Sand was dredged up from the nearby Banana River by the Army Corps of Engineers and piled to a depth of 46 feet over the eight-acre site. The weight of this so-called surcharge bore down on the soggy swampland, squeezing out the water and firming the ground for foundation footings.

Pile drivers hammered 4,225 steel tubes, each 16 inches in diameter, into the bedrock 150 to 170 feet below the surface.

Broke, Disillusioned Trio Returns From Soviet Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Disenchanted and broke, Morris and Mollie Block have returned home after five years in the Soviet Union, where they had gone to find a better life.

The couple told of loneliness, poverty and lack of freedom in Odessa. They spoke to newsmen at Kennedy Airport. With them was their adopted daughter, Joanna, 13.

"We would never return to that hell," said Block, 43. Asked when she became disillusioned with the Communist system, Mrs. Block, 52, said: "It took me three months. It took my husband two years."

"Socialism as expounded by Karl Marx has been completely refuted in the Soviet Union," she said.

The couple said they left the Soviet Union because "of the lack of freedom, poverty and intimidation of the people."

Their combined income of about $184 a month wasn't enough, they said. Block was a machinist; his wife a laboratory assistant in a clinic.

The couple did not renounce their U.S. citizenship. Mrs. Block said she had been a Communist before going to the So-

A Devotional For The Day

It came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray. (Luke 11:1.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we would pray aright, that we may serve Thee. Grant us the gifts we ask if they are in keeping with Thy will. Teach us to pray aright, as Jesus prayed. In His name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Anticipate The Event

Rapid progress is being made on the huge Interstate 20 loop at the north edge of Big Spring, and prospects are that late this summer or early in the autumn it will be opened to traffic.

This suggests a number of things. First, efforts to secure signs on both approaches will require the progressive pressure that the Chamber of Commerce advertising committee has brought to bear following an exhaustive study. These are intangible things, but experience in other places has indicated that they are necessary and definitely beneficial in alerting cross-country travelers that here is a good place to break the trip.

Another thing that the impending opening suggests is the efficacy of soon planning for appropriate ceremonies. Understandably, some whose livelihood is geared to direct contact with traffic along US 80 view the loop with mixed emotions, but again experience elsewhere has indicated that after the initial shock from the plunge into the cold waters of reality, there is a gradual and ultimate recovery of traffic. Nevertheless, this six to seven million-dollar project is of such magnitude and importance that it deserves special commemoration upon its completion. We are persuaded that in the long run, the proximity of the Interstate 20 loop to our city is every bit as vital in this day as a railroad connection was and is.

If plans are not made for assessing the adjustments resulting from opening of a loop, it occurs to us that here would be an excellent case study either by the community or the State Highway Department, or both. It would be useful to us and to many other places.

Better For The Children

Response to the Citywide Summer Recreation program so far has been excellent.

Learn-to-Swim classes considerably exceeded the 240 goal established early by the staff on the basis of close adult instruction and supervision. Now the limits of 160 each in two Space Clubs under the summer fun program have been pushed up to 180 each, and there is every prospect that these will be reached with possibly a small waiting list. One of these two clubs already has as many registered as participated in this particular activity last year. Present trends point to a minimum increase of 50 per cent enrollment.

None of these figures include the program in the northern parts of town where registration likely will not assume concrete proportions until Monday. Between the swimming and the summer fun activities, several score others will be registered.

An accurate assessment cannot be made until the end of the program, but the plan developed by Jim Gilbert, who is directing the program, gives promise of increased quality. Youngsters should come out of the summer activity with a good, creative experience.

For all this you can thank your governing boards and administrators of the City of Big Spring, the Big Spring Independent School District, the YMCA and your United Fund. They are doing together what perhaps no one of them could do well alone.

A Way To Curb Federal Power

WASHINGTON — Former President Eisenhower has put his finger on one of the biggest weaknesses in the operation of the American constitutional system today. In his latest pronouncement he did not mention the arbitrary use of power by the Supreme Court, but he did emphasize the centralization of power in Washington by both the executive and legislative branches of the government.

AS A REMEDY for this situation, Mr. Eisenhower, in speaking before the Conference of Governors held at Cleveland this week, called attention to a provision of the Constitution which has never been used but which could put an end to usurpation of power in Washington. No longer would the Supreme Court be able—if the states object—to continue to tell the state legislatures or county supervisors or governing councils of American cities that they must, in effect, appropriate money for this or that purpose—a ruling which was proclaimed only a few weeks ago and is unprecedented in American history.

THE PROVISION in Article V of the Constitution to which Mr. Eisenhower referred reads as follows:

"The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress . . .

ONLY ONE of the two methods prescribed in the above article has ever been used. After a two-thirds vote of both houses, Congress has submitted various amendments to the states for their ratification or rejection. There has never been a constitutional convention called by Congress at which one or more amendments could be proposed.

THE DIFFICULTY, however, with Article V quoted above is that Congress still remains as a part of the amending process and at present could block the calling of a national constitutional convention even if one were requested by the states. To overcome this, the National Council of State Governments — an unofficial body which has for many years been supported by charitable foundations in an effort to carry on nonpolitical studies of ways and means to strengthen the state governments—came forth in 1962 with a resolution proposing a method which would not require any action by Congress itself. It would revise Article V to read in part as follows:

"WHENEVER applications from the legislatures of two-thirds of the total number of states of the United States shall contain identical texts of amendments to be proposed, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall so certify, and the amendment as contained in the application shall be deemed to have been proposed, without further action by Congress . . .

The foregoing proposal has since been endorsed by at least a dozen state legislatures. But adoption of such an amendment first requires action by Congress. This means that only if public opinion in America now is sufficiently aroused against the usurpation of power in Washington can there be enough pressure exerted to cause Congress to pass an amendment to the Constitution that bestows upon the states their right to initiate a constitutional amendment.

Billy Graham

I became a Christian by reading the New Testament. Is it necessary for me to join a church? If so, how can I choose the right one?—L. H.

You have made a wonderful start, and your being converted through reading the New Testament is living proof that the word of God is quick and powerful.

If you will continue to read the New Testament you will find that Christian conversion finds fulfillment in church membership. In the second chapter of Acts we read: "Then they that gladly received his word were baptized; and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls." Conversion, after the receiving of the Word, was followed by the obedience of baptism, and uniting with other believers. The New Testament knows nothing of the solitary Christian. Just as our physical existence is enhanced by family life, so our spiritual lives are enriched by fellowship with other believers.

As to the matter of which church you should join, my advice would be to find a group of believers who have believed and received the Word of God; who depend upon the Holy Spirit; and who by life and walk give evidence that they have been with Jesus. I'm sure that you will find such a church, and that your life will be enriched by joining it.

Republican Maneuvers Leave Nation Confused

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania does today what he seems ready to do—tell the country that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination—it will be just one more twist in an already unforgettable week.

And if the public is no less confused after he does, the prime movers in the Republican party—Scranton not excluded—will have to share the blame.

For while Sen. Barry Goldwater was emerging as the GOP's only aggressive leader, they were looking more like caretakers than captives. They were sitting back, doing nothing, saying nothing now that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only top Republican willing to stick his neck out against Goldwater, seemed at the end of the line although he says he is still in the running.

WHILE GOLDWATER and Rockefeller were slugging it out in the primaries, there was always the fine chance the two would knock each other out of all consideration before the Republican nominating convention in July. That would leave the field wide open to those would-be president who said they'd accept the nomination but would not fight for it.

After Goldwater's California primary victory all but sewed up the nomination for him, they began to wring their hands. They showed concern for the nation and the party but never enough to really do anything about it.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was also concerned but he didn't show any more leadership than the others. He told The Associated Press Thursday his main concern is in seeing an open convention and a platform and ticket that would build the party to its maximum strength.

HE DIDN'T HIDE his reservations about some aspects of Goldwater's conservative philosophy but, as he put it, he wants to be in a position to pick up the pieces after the convention and help unite the party behind its nominee.

He had said he wouldn't interfere in the selection of a candidate but before the Governors' Conference opened in Cleveland this week he called Scranton and nudged him toward some activity.

Scranton had said he would not seek the nomination but would accept it if drafted. Eisenhower suggested he not be so rigid about waiting to be drafted.

Little Ordeal Of Wife-Waiting

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals for every husband is wife-waiting.

Earning a living for a wife, a fellow finds out, is one of the easier things about marriage. It takes only about eight hours a day.

This leaves a man 16 full hours for wife-waiting and other such essential chores as sleeping, shaving, eating, walking the dog and obeying his children.

THERE ARE several kinds of wife-waiting, but they break down into four general classes: Waiting for her to make up her mind, get to the point, to shut up after she does get to the point, and to get dressed so you can go somewhere together.

Getting ready is no problem to him. All he has to do is wash his face, put on a clean shirt, look in a mirror and say, "Oh, you handsome, money-making devil, you." Then he could be off at a gallop—if it weren't for that little problem of waiting for his wife.

Wives are a terrible lot of trouble to themselves. They never have anything to wear, they claim, but they always manage to summon up a different wardrobe for every possible function.

WHATEVER THE occasion, she has to outfit herself in a different manner. While she is putting on this, taking off that, then changing into something else, her husband is fuming himself into a state of high blood pressure.

Some husbands try to do something about it. "Why does it always take you so long to get dressed?" they demand peevishly. Then their own ears are bent for the next few hours.

No husband can point out a wife's fault to her without learning immediately of 612 major defects in his own character, some of which he never suspected.

Still other husbands try to improve themselves in some way while waiting for their wives. They take up hobbies, read long books or go next door and hold hands with a neighbor's wife.

ONE FELLOW took a correspondence course in ventriloquism during the long hours he had to spend while waiting for his wife to get dressed. He became quite expert at bird calls. He was accidentally shot during the quail season while imitating a bob white.

The most sensible attitude a husband can adopt toward wife-waiting is one of philosophic acceptance.

The problem of wife-waiting is pretty much like the problem of erosion: There isn't much any one man can do about it in his lifetime.

You begin to grow up in this world when you realize that some things can't be cured—they must be endured.

Dear Dr. Molner: I'm a pre-diabetic or a borderline case. The doctor did not prescribe insulin but he said I should lose weight. I've reduced from 137 to 128 and he wants me down to 120.

I guess I'm just afraid to ask, but can I go through a life without insulin? Will I always be on a strict diet? I'm worried about my future and my children's. Can they inherit? The doctor said I probably inherited it from my grandmother—Mrs. W. W. You don't say how old you are. When diabetes starts very early (in childhood) it is just about a fixed rule that insulin will be necessary. In milder cases, starting later in life but caught soon, it is often possible to get along well without insulin. Dieting to keep your weight steady at the proper level is the best way of avoiding the need for insulin later.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Waste Is Waste

Much more profound voices than ours may have many and varied opinions on what's wrong with the United States today. Some say racial discrimination, or growing moral looseness, or soft-soaping the Communists, or a half-dozen other problems.

We'd like to toss in one — waste.

FROM HOUSEHOLD level to the Pentagon, from private business to governmental operations, dollars and lots of them are dribbled away every day by simple, ordinary wastefulness. We've all heard of the absurdities of waste in government contracts, especially with the different branches of the service. The Army may dispose of a carload of bolts for three cents on the dollar as surplus, then six months later the Navy will issue a hundred-thousand-dollar contract for purchase of this same item.

BUT WHEN YOU come down to the brass tacks, this national problem of waste extends right on into our homes. Most of the time we overlook it. To a foreigner, one from a poorer country, it is amazing. Back in college days we knew a German couple who had fled the Hitler regime and was making good on a new life in our strange nation.

They both worked at modest jobs, their house was modest, but it was efficient. Nothing was wasted. Leftovers carefully went into the refrigerator for a weekly soup or stew. Worn clothing was skillfully repaired, reworked then finally cut up for use in quilts. And they lived as well as surrounding American couples making half again as much money.

MOVING INTO the public field again, one of the most wasteful things we ever laid eyes on was in another city, when a teacher took us to the high school basement and unlocked a storage room. There, being slowly ravished by dust, mildew, decay and disuse, was thousands of dollars of audio-visual education equipment.

This included three 16-mm. sound movie projectors, lantern slide projectors, boxes and boxes of films and tapes on academic subjects — and to top it off, a complete foreign language library with acoustic booths and earphones for the teaching of a foreign language to high school students.

THIS WAS OUR high school, the one we paid taxes to help operate, yet just a few months before the school board voted for the third straight year against installing foreign language as a subject; instead, another athletic coach was hired.

All this equipment came from state and federal sources, gifts to the local high school, but it was an unwritten school policy not to "waste the kids' time by showing them movies" of things like chemistry in action and teaching them Latin or Spanish. After all, if some clerk in the state capital wanted to ship down a $700 projector outfit, who cares, but let's not let it interfere with spring football workouts. Yes, the school had a winning football team and a losing season at the college entrance gate among its graduates.

BUSINESS, BIG and little, has waste troubles, too. No one seems to worry much if a machine shop worker fashions a nice-looking mailbox stand during working hours and with company steel — that is, if the boss does not catch him.

A Novel To Fit Scranton

WASHINGTON — If it were not for 175 pounds of affable human evidence to the contrary, any bookish voter might easily conclude that William Warren Scranton was an invention of novelist John O'Hara.

A biography of Scranton, who has emerged as the last hope of anti-Goldwater Republicans, reads like vintage O'Hara. From Fessenden School to Hotchkiss Academy to Yale University to the Governor's Mansion at Harrisburg, the 46-year-old Scranton's career might have been roughed out over a weekend by O'Hara.

O'HARA CHARACTERS tend to come from old, old, rich, rich families, and here again, Scranton fits the pattern. Scranton, Pa., was named for his forebearers, for the logical reason that they owned most of it. In 1928, for example, the family sold the Scranton Gas and Water Co. for $25 million 1928 dollars.

Any proper novelist would have contrived a wartime marriage for the tall and personable Scranton, and that's how it happened. His wife was, naturally, a childhood sweetheart, a Smith graduate, and a bright young woman who spent the war in intelligence work for the War Department.

SCRANTON, whose image now is that of a soft-spoken and faintly quizzical modern Republican, somehow earned the nickname "Wild Bill" when he took flight training at Maxwell Field, in Alabama, but there seem to be no reliable accounts of how he managed it. Wild or not, he spent a good part of the war ferrying fighter aircraft from Brazil to North Africa, and later served in the Middle East and in the China-Burma-India Theater. He was discharged as a captain (now a Reserve major) and returned to Yale Law School. In 1947, just as O'Hara would have wanted it, he joined the old Scranton law firm of O'Malley, Harris, Warren and Hill. He practiced little law, however, but soon began to win some small celebrity by his energetic attempts to combat industrial decline in the Scranton area. By the time he was elected to Congress in 1960, he had become director of an impressive roster of enterprises, including Northeastern Pennsylvania Broadcasting, Inc., the Lackawanna Railroad, the International Salt Co., International Correspondence Schools World Ltd., and the International Textbook Co.

AS ANY O'HARA addict would have sensed from Chapter I, Scranton, Pa., wasn't big enough for Scranton. In 1959, Scranton fixed his eyes on public service and went to Washington as an aide to John Foster Dulles. He stayed on when Christian Herter succeeded Dulles, and, inevitably, began to attract attention.

It was probably inevitable also that some of this early notoriety came from Time Magazine, whose president, James A. Linen, was married to Scranton's sister Sarah. (Young Bill Scranton was an only son, and had three elder sisters.)

HAVING KINFOLK on Time never hurt any budding young politician, but GOP judges of political livestock did not begin to take any deep interest in Scranton until he won his first race for Congress. In a heavily Democratic district he won by 17,000 votes while the man who headed the Republican ticket, Richard Nixon, was losing the same district to John F. Kennedy by 17,000 votes. In 1962 he beat Democrat Richard Dilworth by 471,000 votes in the gubernatorial race, and has been causing intermittent palpitations in Republican circles ever since.

HOW O'HARA would handle the climax of the Scranton story no one can say. Would he have him beaten for the nomination by that other old airplane driver, Barry Goldwater? Or would he have him win the nomination, and then take a licking from Lyndon Johnson, a character from Texas that even O'Hara's skill would have trouble making true to life? The trouble is that Scranton, Goldwater and Johnson are players in a serial, not a novel, and no one can peek at the last chapter to see how it all comes out.

The Unhappy Lot Of Governors

CLEVELAND—A governor's lot is not a happy one. He is hammered over the head by a thousand and one demands ranging from more schools to better stocking of trout streams and lakes.

He must wrestle with a horse-and-buggy constitution and a hostile legislature. As state indebtedness has gone up at a far more rapid rate than the federal debt he must scramble for new sources of revenue just to keep afloat. If he seems, as at this week's annual Governors' Conference, palsied by caution, his stature sadly diminished, it is small wonder.

THE PRESIDENTIAL politicking at this conference made another disadvantage of the governors all too obvious. Preoccupied with immediate day-to-day problems a governor seeking national office finds it difficult to paint with a broad brush the national and international picture.

This has been one of the handicaps under which Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania has suffered during the long struggle to push him in and then push him out of the Republican Presidential race. That struggle has at last come to an end, leaving Scranton, whether deservedly or not, looking foolish and futile. With no real desire for the Republican nomination for President he has marched up the hill and then marched right down again, not once but several times.

AS GOVERNOR of a big industrial state in a time of troubles Scranton has taken his lumps. In the midst of a long and bitter dispute over the state unemployment compensation law 15,000 union demonstrators demonstrated around the Capitol carrying "Scranton Must Go" signs. In the despairing search for more revenue the sales tax was raised to five per cent, with basic necessities exempted. Under Pennsylvania's antique constitution the Governor can serve only one term.

UNDER THE STERN terms of survival which they have had to learn the hard way the governors know that the first law of life is to save yourself. And that is the grim lesson which has been forced on the Republican governors once more. As they left the conference they knew they must find a way to live with a Goldwater ticket that in the industrial states seems at this writing to spell doom.

It has been a rather sorry session. Tea (or even stronger substitutes) and mutual sympathy have not been enough to counter the deep divisions that lie ahead.

Baptists To Break Ground For New Church Plant

Members and friends of the First Baptist Church Sunday evening will hold their first service on the site where soon will rise their new plant on Marcy Drive.

Ground for this building will be broken with Mrs. Norman Read turning the first shovel of dirt. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Willis, who was the last surviving member of the church, had performed a similar function on the present church location at Sixth and Main.

Unable to be present but sending greetings will be Mrs. Joe Barnett, eldest member of the church who was baptized into its fellowship in the summer of 1887, less than a year after the church was organized.

Mrs. Della K. Agnell, eldest of the members able to be present, also will be asked to turn one of the first shovels of earth. Committee chairmen and other long-time and revered members will be asked to turn spades, too, and then everyone will have an opportunity to do likewise. There will be no shortage of shovels, for the contractor, J. W. Cooper, is furnishing half a dozen new ones. His representative will be introduced as will the architects, John Gary and Daryle Hohertz.

Those attending the brief rites at 7:30 p.m. Sunday are asked to turn off Marcy Drive on to Coronado, from whence they will be directed to parking spaces. Officials have suggested that none park on Marcy Drive because of the congested traffic there.

The services, which will be the Sunday evening worship, will have a hymn, followed by the invocation and a statement of purpose by the pastor, the Rev. Robert F. Polk. Roy B. Reeder, chairman of the building committee, will describe briefly the 65,000-square-foot sanctuary and educational building. There will be an anthem by the combined church and youth choirs under direction of Glenn Faison, followed by a hymn of invitation. Rev. Polk will lead a prayer of consecration with the congregation kneeling, and then Reeder will present Mrs. Read for the symbolic act of starting the project.

Young people of the church will place a number of chairs on the ground for elderly people or those unable to stand. Explorers and Scouts will direct traffic, and the entire program is due to be over in less than half an hour.

Former Banker Heads Christian Science Church

A call to use "spiritual power" to help solve the world's "thorny problems of human relations and race inequalities" greeted Christian Scientists at their annual meeting in Boston this week.

Several thousand members from many states and countries attended the meeting in Boston, Mass.

A message from the board of directors reaffirmed the church's conviction that the mightiest force on earth is "the still small voice of universal Christian idealism."

The election of Edward Froderman as the new president of the church for the coming year was announced. His address to the gathering described "spiritual perception" as a necessity for meeting today's great human responsibilities.

Froderman is a former vice president of a Chicago bank, resigning in 1949 to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. He moved to Boston in 1956 to serve as manager of the church's department of branches and practitioners. In 1961, he was appointed as a trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society, a position he still holds. The new church president is a native of Bad-Salzungen, Germany, emigrating to the United States as a teenager.

Revived religious stirrings in Eastern Europe were reported to the meeting by the clerk, Gordon V. Comer. Applications from this region for membership have begun to arrive again, ending many years of no communication, he said.

The retiring president, Mrs. Helen Wood Hauman, noted the "unlimited possibilities" open to humanity through the "healing-power of goodness"—the power "inherent in justice, mercy, truthfulness, and love" to overcome sin and disease. This is "natural rather than miraculous," said Mrs. Bauman.

The 7,000 attending heard reports from several church departments—including an announcement that more copies of Mrs. Eddy's book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" were sold during the past year than in any other year since its first publication (1875).

Establishment of a new Christian Science Society in Nigeria during the past year brought to 54 the number of countries where branches of the church are located, it was noted. A record number of lectures was given during the past year. Added to the board of lecturers were Martin N. Heffer, Houston, and Thomas O. Poyser, Dallas.

Milking Contest Will Climax TU Contest

East Fourth Baptist Training Union is milking its summer attendance contest for all its worth.

In fact, the TU Summer Roundup race will be climaxed by a milking contest—maybe the wild cow variety. Officers of the department which is lowest on the totem pole after it is all over on Aug. 7 will have the privilege of drinking warm milk extracted during a milking contest.

The special emphasis to combat the summer slump will center around a Round Up race in which departments get points for attendance, visitors and bonus points for new members. After one Sunday, the general officers are trailing. Adult I and the nursery are setting the pace.

The 10-week contest will be followed by a Training Union barbecue which features the milking contest. The winning department gets a freezer of homemade ice cream for its very own.

Jesse Hayes is training union director, and Curtis McCartney is associated director.

The Woman's Missionary Union of Baptist Temple has been named one of 227 honor unions, among more than 24,000 Southern Baptist churches with such groups.

The WMU is an organization working primarily to promote mission programs and is composed of five groups, including a Woman's Missionary Society for married women, a Young Woman's Auxiliary for single women 16 to 24 years of age, junior and intermediate girls auxiliaries for ages 9-12 and 13-16 and a Sunbeam organization for girls 3 through 8.

The WMS of the Baptist Temple has achieved honor status for the past four years.

A point system is the basis for selection of the honor groups. The points are given for work in community missions, study of mission books, programs on mission work and prayer weeks.

President of the WMU at the Baptist Temple is Mrs. H. M. Jarratt. Chairmen for the four union circle groups are Mrs. W.

Officers Elected

Officers for the First Christian board have been elected for the year. Harold Canning is chairman; Don Williams is vice chairman; Clyde Hollingsworth, treasurer; Chester Cathey, financial secretary; and Russell Hoover, recording secretary. Hoover is a new officer of the board.

Baptist Temple Women's Organization Honored

L. Sandridge, Mrs. R. J. Stricker, Mrs. Joe Newnham and Mrs. Modehn Wyatt. Mrs. Stricker is also YWA director. Girls auxiliary director is Mrs. A. W. Page and Sunbeam director is Mrs. Bob Newsom. Mrs. James Puckett, Mrs. Ross Hill, Mrs. H. D. Henry and Mrs. Sandridge are chairmen for programs, mission study, community missions and stewardship. Secretary is Mrs. Max Legg and treasurer is Mrs. Dalton Johnston. Mrs. Alvis Harry is enlistment chairman.

8 Convicted Of Sabotage

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—The eight defendants in the South African sabotage trial escaped the death penalty today. All were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Death sentences given earlier to three opponents of South Africa's racial laws had caused a storm of protest abroad. The U.N. Security Council on Monday adopted a resolution appealing to the South African government not to execute the three and not to give death sentences to the eight who were convicted Thursday.

A ninth defendant in the trial was acquitted.

The eight men sentenced today included African national leaders Nelson Mandela and Walter Sisulu; Dennis Goldberg, a white civil engineer; four other Africans, and an Indian, Ahmed Kathrada.

BenJack Cage May Come Back To Serve Term

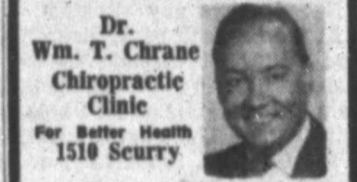

DALLAS (AP) — Convicted embezzler BenJack Cage may be brought back to Texas from Brazil soon to serve a 10-year-prison term, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade says.

Wade cited an extradition treaty between Brazil and the United States that was approved by the Brazilian Senate June 4.

"In our opinion, the treaty covers Cage and under its provisions we can get him extradited," the district attorney said Thursday.

Wade said the treaty was passed by the U. S. Senate in 1961. He added that it would go into effect after ratification by both countries.

Cage fled the United States and went to Brazil after a Dallas jury convicted him in October 1957 of illegal financial dealings through the ICT Insurance Co. complex.

T&P May Reduce Passenger Service

The Texas and Pacific Railway Company will file soon for permission to drop two of its passenger trains—Texas Eagle No. 21 and No. 22—between Fort Worth and El Paso.

This is a move the company is reluctant to make, officials said, but a little matter of $100,000 annual operating loss on the Texas Eagles is involved.

Remaining will be trains No. 27, which will arrive at 5:15 a.m. and leave at 5:35 a.m. on its westbound journey, and east-bound train No. 28, which will arrive here at 2:40 a.m. and leave at 2:59 a.m.

It may be a month yet before T&P actually seeks permission to discontinue the other two trains on the current schedule.

A. C. Siler, executive general manager, Charles A. Roberts, assistant passenger traffic manager, and Al Malone, director of employe-public relations, were here Thursday to explain why the carrier is making the adjustment.

It's not that the railroads don't want to provide passenger service, it was noted, but rather that the public has turned to automobiles and other modes of travel which reduced traffic below break-even points.

"We have not abandoned the public," said a statement from the company, "but on the contrary, the fact that the public has turned to other forms of transportation has forced us to financial losses."

The T&P had made heavy expenditures in improvement of equipment and facilities in an effort to attract and hold traffic, but the total volume in West Texas will not justify the four trains.

Adding to T&P's passenger problem in West Texas are recent schedule changes at El Paso, nullifying connections for T&P's Texas Eagle trains to California.

In passenger transportation today, nine out of 10 trips taken between cities are by private automobile. This leaves all commercial carriers to compete for and divide up less than 10 per cent of the total travel volume.

"Our remaining two trains—27 and 28—can and will provide adequate service for our patrons in West Texas," said the railway spokesman, "and we hope our friends will better understand the conditions we face and why we are taking this action."

Churches of Christ today are striving to faithfully reproduce the church described in the New Testament in all of its identifying characteristics: purpose, authority, name, government, doctrine, conversion, worship, spirituality, and manner of life.

While history would indicate that Christ's unchangeable plan for His church has not been observed in every age, it is nevertheless the only divinely approved plan ever given to man.

Christ's will as revealed in the New Testament must be our sole and exclusive guide in matters of faith and practice as we endeavor to restore the 1st century church in all of its beauty, simplicity, and purity. Racial Mixing Finds 'Bama Tension Eased'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Three Negro girls take seats at the lunch counter in a Birmingham department store.

They order soft drinks. The white waitress promptly serves them.

Nobody pays any attention.

At the baseball park, Negroes and whites sit together in the stands, cheering the Birmingham Barons. Four of the Barons are Negroes. The team is having a great season, financially, and in the standings.

At Legion Field, Evangelist Billy Graham preaches to 35,000 people. The audience, the choir, the staff of ushers are integrated.

Three Negroes receive diplomas along with the white students in graduation ceremonies at two high schools. Their parents are in the auditorium. No incidents.

SUBCOMMITTEES

Negroes sit on nine of the 10 subcommittees of the Community Affairs Committee, a bi-racial group set up to study not only racial problems, but city administration in general.

Two Negroes ran for constable in a recent election. They lost to whites, but one race was close—1,641 to 1,894.

A new bank employs Negro and white tellers. Of its 14 security officers, 9 are Negroes.

While the racial situation in Birmingham is far from settled and the possibility of demonstrations still exists, there is much in the record of this city to make you rub your eyes in disbelief, remembering the situation as it was on June 2, 1963.

Thousands of Negroes demonstrating in the streets—firehoses, police dogs—jails overflowing—a community taut as a bowstring, especially at night.

A rickety truce ending the thunder in the streets, the bombings and shootings, "Dynamite hill" in the Negro residential district and finally, Sept. 14, four little Negro girls killed when their church was bombed.

Nevada Awaiting Oil Discoveries

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Vast riches of precious metals are trapped in Nevada rocks. Is a bonanza of oil hidden there, too?

That question is still unanswered a decade after the state's first oil discovery, but the infant Nevada industry has taken some wobbly steps forward.

A number of wells have been drilled since 1954, a handful successful, but geologists are still mystified by the Nevada oil geology.

"Each well makes it more confusing rather than helping to establish a pattern," says Robert Horton, secretary of the Nevada Oil and Gas Conservation Commission. "Our oil geology is unlike that of any place in the world."

Horton says there's a chance a rich pool is waiting to be tapped.

"I feel confident additional fields will be found . . . but will probably require extensive drilling," Horton says.

Nevada's 1963 oil production was 102,000 barrels, minute compared with major producing states. All of it came from the Eagle Springs Field in Railroad Valley, 65 miles southwest of Ely in east-central Nevada.

The oil is trucked to southern California since production is too small to make a pipeline or refinery pay.

Successful drillers in Railroad Valley went through more than 4,000 feet of valley fill into an area where the oil was trapped long ago. The depth of possible oil-bearing formations in Nevada makes exploration costly.

"You've got to be ready to drill to 10,000 feet to come into Nevada. This pretty much puts the little guy out," Horton says.

Dry holes drilled in Elko County, north of Eagle Springs, have gone past 11,500 feet. Shell Oil Co.'s discovery well at Eagle Springs in 1954 went to 10,358, but was plugged back to 6,750 feet where oil was drawn from tertiary volcanic sediments.

The Nevada Legislature offered a $25,000 reward in the 1940s for the man who drilled the first well in the state. The legislature withdrew the offer before 1953 when it went unclaimed.

Police Ease Racial Uproar

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Equal numbers of integration marchers and policemen came through almost unscathed as firm law enforcement methods kept order on the third straight night march through downtown streets.

With their leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, in jail as the result of a sit-in, the numbers of demonstrators Thursday night were about 200—half that of previous nights when they were attacked by gangs of 100 or so whites in a downtown plaza.

White men and youths who broke police lines to attack integrationists on earlier marches were held outside the demonstration area.

Kenneth Boatright, a State Highway Patrol trooper was splashed with a liquid which officers said smelled like sulphuric acid. It was washed off quickly and he was only slightly burned.

County officers arrested two white youths on charges of disorderly conduct and city police arrested five white males on charges of vagrancy and carrying concealed weapons—slingshots and weighted thongs.

At a church service where the marchers gathered, about 40 young men and women volunteered to join King and 17 other demonstrators in St. Johns County jail via sit-ins.

Memorial Rites Held For Pilot

A memorial service was conducted at 3 p.m. today in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base for 2nd Lt. David H. Leveritt, who was killed Sunday in the crash of his T-38 aircraft during take-off from Myrtle Beach AFB, S. C.

The service was conducted by Chaplain B. F. Meacham, base chaplain, assisted by Chaplain William H. Warren. Lt. Leveritt was from Decatur, Ga.

DEAR ABBY

Ladies, Men And Tramps

DEAR ABBY: With reference to the letter about why a man who has a lady for a wife, will pick up a tramp and treat her like a lady, and then will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp:

Some time ago you stated in the confidential section of your column: "The worse a man's morals are, the better he wants his wife's to be." How do you reconcile the two answers?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: A man whose morals are low wants his wife's morals to be high, but he prefers a tramp for a sweetheart because he has a feeling of worthlessness and inferiority with his wife—but not with the tramp. And because a man treats his wife like a tramp does not mean he wants her to behave like one. Married men who cheat with tramps have no desire to marry one. Comprehend?

DEAR ABBY: I am so unhappy I hardly know where to start. I am a middle-aged woman employed as a cook, housekeeper, companion and chauffeur to the most selfish, heartless woman I have ever known. She expects me to eat leftovers that should go into the garbage can. She finds fault with everything I do. When she is going out I have to help her dress, which is a chore, because she tries on a dozen dresses before deciding what to wear, and I have to tell her how "beautiful" she looks in every one or she gets mad. On my day off she lies in bed watching TV all day, and I have to prepare all her meals and put them within her reach. She is not an invalid. She plays golf. When she goes out I have to stay up and dressed to let her in, lock up the house and undress her and put her clothes away. She is a millionairess, but she goes around the house in a quilted robe with the heat turned off to save fuel. Once she made a toll call for me and took 15 cents out of my wages. Jobs are not easy to find. What should I do?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: If you remain with this woman, you do not deserve much sympathy. Jobs may not be "easy" to find, but if I were you I'd start looking for another one tomorrow. You could hardly do worse.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WANTS TO BE POPULAR": It is better to sit home for a few weeks—or months—than to date boys who want only a quick physical thrill. After they get what they want, the challenge is gone and you'll be sitting with a bad reputation and memories that will embarrass and burn. Get smart, and date only decent boys, or keep your nose in a good book. These are years for self-improvement—not self-destruction.

Cautious Pentagon Found With Censorship Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon was caught with its censorship down today.

Throughout last winter's Cyprus crisis—and in the current flareup as well—the Defense Department refused to say whether U.S. 6th Fleet units had moved into position off the island.

"We do not discuss movements of units within a fleet area," is the Pentagon's stock statement.

But the editors of an official Navy publication evidently had not heard.

The June issue of Naval Aviation News carried a chatty little item which spoke of a task force "standing off Cyprus since hostilities erupted earlier this year."

Topping the item was a picture of a landing craft crammed with men, bound for a visit to the giant nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise in the background.

Naval Aviation News is published by the Bureau of Naval Weapons and copies are distributed to reporters covering the Pentagon, as are other similar service publications.

As an official organ, the contents of Naval Aviation News are supposed to be submitted for clearance by "security review," the Pentagon's internal censorship office.

Asked whether the June issue had gone through security review, the Defense Department replied with a terse "no."

"We goofed," acknowledged one official ruefully.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Insect Repellent Keeps Patio Pleasant

Dear Heloise: We have a redwood picnic table in our patio which we eat on almost nightly. As the patio is concrete we have found that ants sometimes like to eat with us!

My wife hit upon the idea of tying a piece of cloth around the bottom of each table leg and saturating it with insect repellent. This has been our answer. Have you got a better one? ... Luther.

in each can. How about that? ... Heloise

Dear Heloise: My husband recently devised a perfectly ingenious way to deflate an air mattress for storage. It is so simple that I cannot imagine why someone has not thought of it before! After trying for an endless time to pat and flatten the stubborn thing, he connected the vacuum cleaner and placed the nozzle against the plastic opening of the mattress, pressed the switch (sucking all excess air out), and presto ... the flattest mattress you have ever seen folded neatly with no puffy little corners.

It now lies on the shelf until we will need it again. ... Teddy Laherty

And just what is the matter with deflating miniature swimming pools and swim rings this way? I think it is terrific. ... Heloise

Study Topic For Circle Is Psalms

The Peggy Potter Circle of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church continued its study of the liturgical Psalms Thursday in the home of Mrs. Marshall Field, 2225 Lynn.

Mrs. Al Seddon led the discussion of the Psalms. Each month the group studies one type of Psalm — Psalms of praise, of sorrow or individual laments.

Mrs. Seddon said that liturgical Psalms were similar to the responsive readings in the churches of today. Priests in the temples of David and Solomon would read one section and the congregation would respond with the next passage.

The next meeting of the circle will be in the home of Mrs. Birt Allison Jr., 2304 Morrison, July 14.

Champions In Cosden Golf League

Cosden Golf Champs Feted

Awards to winners in the Cosden Golf League were passed out during a banquet honoring the 80 players, held at the Cosden Country Club Thursday night. Bill Crooker served as emcee of the party. Jimmy Harper captained Team C, which scored 42 of a possible 60 points to set a record for consistency. Members of Harper's team included Claude Ramsey, Ralph Walker, Dan Greenwood, Harold Summers, Joe Sharpnack and Jack Muddell. Team squads deadlocked for second place. One was Team A, led by Walter Osborne. The other was Team F, captained by Jerry (Spot) Cockrell.

Large Turnout Due For Club Tourney

The tournament to determine the Big Spring Country Club golf champion will be conducted June 27-28 and July 4-5. Members of the course can qualify anytime between June 13 and June 25. Entry fee is $5. The price includes a ticket to a barbecue, which will be held at the conclusion of play July 5.

Stallcup Gets No-Hit Game

Roger Stallcup pitched a no-hitter Thursday night in the Junior League but still lost his bid for a shutout on a passed ball and two walks in the fourth inning as the Duncan Drillers beat the ABC's, 8-1.

Over the seven inning stint, Stallcup only faced 29 men as he romped home with the victory. Mitchell was the loser, giving up seven hits, two of them doubles by Stallcup and one a two-bagger by Mike Clark.

Stallcup was the only man to garner two hits. Eddie Don Harris is the defending champion in the meet and looms as one of the favorites to win the crown again. All matches will be decided by matched play. Since the club has nearly 80 more members than it had at this time last year, many more entries are expected.

Braves Slug Past Lions

The Kent Oil Braves slammed three doubles and a triple Thursday night in the Texas Little League and raced past the Stripling Lions, 12-1, in a six-inning contest. Fierro had the three-bagger while Martinez, Rodriguez and Evans had doubles to lead the way to victory. Rodriguez pitched the victory, going the route with a four hitter, three of the taps being extra-base knocks as Je. Olague and J. Cervantes had doubles and S. Olague collected a triple. J. Hillario was the loser.

Mother's of players in the American Little League will square off against maternal parents of farm club players on the league diamond at 8:30 p.m. Saturday night. The contest will follow regular A. L. L. action. The league park is located on the HCJC campus.

Lee Has Title Shot

Razor-thin victories by Sherman and San Antonio Lee Thursday put those teams in competition in the Class AAAA state schoolboy baseball tournament in Austin next week.

The AAAA 1964 state championship will therefore be one of these schools: Sherman, San Antonio Lee, Midland Lee or Freeport-Brazosport. In the AAA competition will be South San Antonio, Deer Park, Brownfield and Mt. Pleasant.

Ace Sherman pitcher Ken Perrin held Dallas South Oak Cliff to one hit Thursday and drove in the winning run as the Bobcats gained a 1-0 victory that gave them the best-of-three series.

Ferrin, with a 13-1 record, singled to drive in teammate Stan Thomas in the third. Mike Livingston, who has signed a letter of intent with Southern Methodist University, sustained the South Oak Cliff loss.

San Antonio Lee took both ends of a twin-bill with Corpus Christi Miller Thursday to gain a tournament berth. Lee won the games 3-2 and 1-0. Clutch hitting by Paul Kurth and Tony Brown spelled the margin of victory.

McBride Finds Relief Role To His Liking

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After laboring in vain for nearly two months, Ken McBride has gone on relief and hit the jackpot.

McBride, a 28-year-old right-hander, halted his 10-game losing streak as the Los Angeles Angels nipped Cleveland 5-4 in 12 innings Thursday night.

The one-time ace of the Angels' pitching staff beat Washington 4-0 on opening day, April 13, then lost 10 consecutive games in 12 more starts. His latest start—and defeat—was last Sunday.

Then, against the Indians Wednesday night, Manager Bill Rigney brought McBride in from the bullpen for his first relief appearance since April 19, 1962. He didn't give up a hit in 1 2/3 innings.

He relieved again Thursday night, coming on this time in the 4-4 game with two on and none out in the ninth inning. He got Vic Davalillo on a grounder and induced Leon Wagner to hit into a double play.

McBride pitched two more innings, allowing one hit, before leaving for pinchhitter Willie Smith in the 12th. Smith's single started the winning rally.

The season for McBride has been one of utter frustration. He won 13 games and lost 12 for the Angels last year and had a 3.26 earned-run average.

Elsewhere in the league, Baltimore defeated Chicago 3-1. New York whipped Boston 8-4 and Minnesota downed Detroit 4-2.

After singling for McBride, Smith was forced at second by Tom Satriano. Ed Kirkpatrick's single and an intentional walk to Jim Fregosi moved Satriano to third from where he scored on Lou Clinton's sacrifice fly.

Dean Chance started for the Angels and ran his scoreless inning string to 28 before Bob Chance singled home two runs for the Indians in the sixth. Dick Howser's two-run single tied it in the eighth. Joe Adcock and Felix Torres each drove in two runs for Los Angeles.

A two-run homer by Brooks Robinson in the eighth carried the Orioles past the White Sox. The blow off Hoyt Wilhelm broke a 1-1 tie. Luis Aparicio homered for Baltimore in the sixth. Tom McCraw got Chicago off to a 1-0 lead in the first with a homer off Milt Pappas.

Mickey Mantle slammed two home runs and Roger Maris one for the Yankees. Mantle connected with one on in the fifth, then slugged his 10th homer with the bases empty in the seventh. Maris' 10th came in the third. All of the blows were off starter Bill Monbouquette.

Ed Bressard and Felix Mantilla homered against Jim Bouton, who won his fourth game in nine decisions. Bouton doubled and scored in the fifth and belted a two-run single in the eighth.

Dick Stigman and reliever Garland Shifflett stopped Detroit on three hits as Earl Battey knocked across three runs. Shifflett pitched the ninth after Stigman walked leadoff batter Al Kaline. Bill Freehan and Don Demeter tagged Stigman for home runs in the fifth.

Battey slashed a run-scoring double in the third and smashed a two-run homer in the fourth.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

Professional golfer AL BALDING of Canada explaining why the United States is the golf power of the world: "The rest of the world can never catch up to the United States, because of your collegiate program, your great number of courses and your weather. I understand that almost 200 colleges in the United States give golf scholarships. In Canada, we don't have a single college which gives a golf scholarship."

PETE RUNNELS

"Then, too, the United States probably has as many courses as the rest of the world put together and, with your people on a 48-hour week, they have time to play and enjoy them. In many sections of the United States they play all year round. In Canada we play mostly in July and August and the courses are closed the rest of the year."

PETE RUNNELS, American League batting champ with the Boston Red Sox in 1962, who recently quit baseball after having a bad season with the Houston Colts and being benched:

"The National League is loaded with hard throwers—and if they can get you out with three pitches, they'll do it simply by bumping up and throwing the ball by you. Don't think I wasn't surprised more than a few times."

"Over there (in the American League) they get a strike and then work on you. I mean, they fish a little. They give you that low and away pitch, hoping you'll go after it, or come inside with a change-up. They run up more three-and-two counts. But over here it's one, two, three—all fast balls and all strikes. I'd wait for the curve they'd never throw. These (National League) pitchers don't bother to finesse you. They overpower you."

"It took me a long time to get with it. When I first broke in (1951), the American League was strictly a fast-ball league and in the National League the pitchers relied on curves and off-speed pitches. Now it's just the opposite."

From Sports Illustrated: "Strap a man in a fighting chair and hand him a heavy rod with a 12/0 reel. Let the sun blaze down on 50 fathoms of salt water. Let the fellow draw on the muscles of back, arms and legs until they ache. Let him fight his seldom-seen adversary to the point of blackout, being offered no help except an occasional sip of beer or whisky. Sometimes (but not always) let him bring the marlin in. That . . . is fishing."

"Take another man, suit him up in canvas waders, give him a whippy (but not too whippy) light rod, and send him to a stream where the water is not too high and not too low, not too muddy and not too bright, not too cold and not too hot. Send him alone, perhaps at the moment of a mayfly hatch, when the air seethes with flying bodies and the water boils with eager trout. That . . . is fishing."

"Between these polar extremes are men (and a lot of women) who fish comfortably on small lakes, uncomfortably at the edge of the sea, indomitably through holes packed in ice, noisily on party boats or drowsily from riverbanks. They hunt, like Ahab, for the whale, and they catch minnows."

"In one way they are alike—they are after fish or, as a sociologist might say, the 'fishing experience.' In every other way they are as isolated from each other as a jockey from a prizefighter, as far apart as left field and silly mid on. In short, one man's trash may be another man's poison."

Demo Convention Complaints Begin

AUSTIN (AP) — Four days before the State Democratic Convention in Houston, at least two liberal spokesmen from big counties are complaining about the seating of contested delegations.

State Democratic Committee-man Maury Maverick of San Antonio recommended Thursday that Texas liberals send a rump delegation to the party's national convention if the liberal Bexar County delegation is not seated and the state meeting passes resolutions against President Johnson's program.

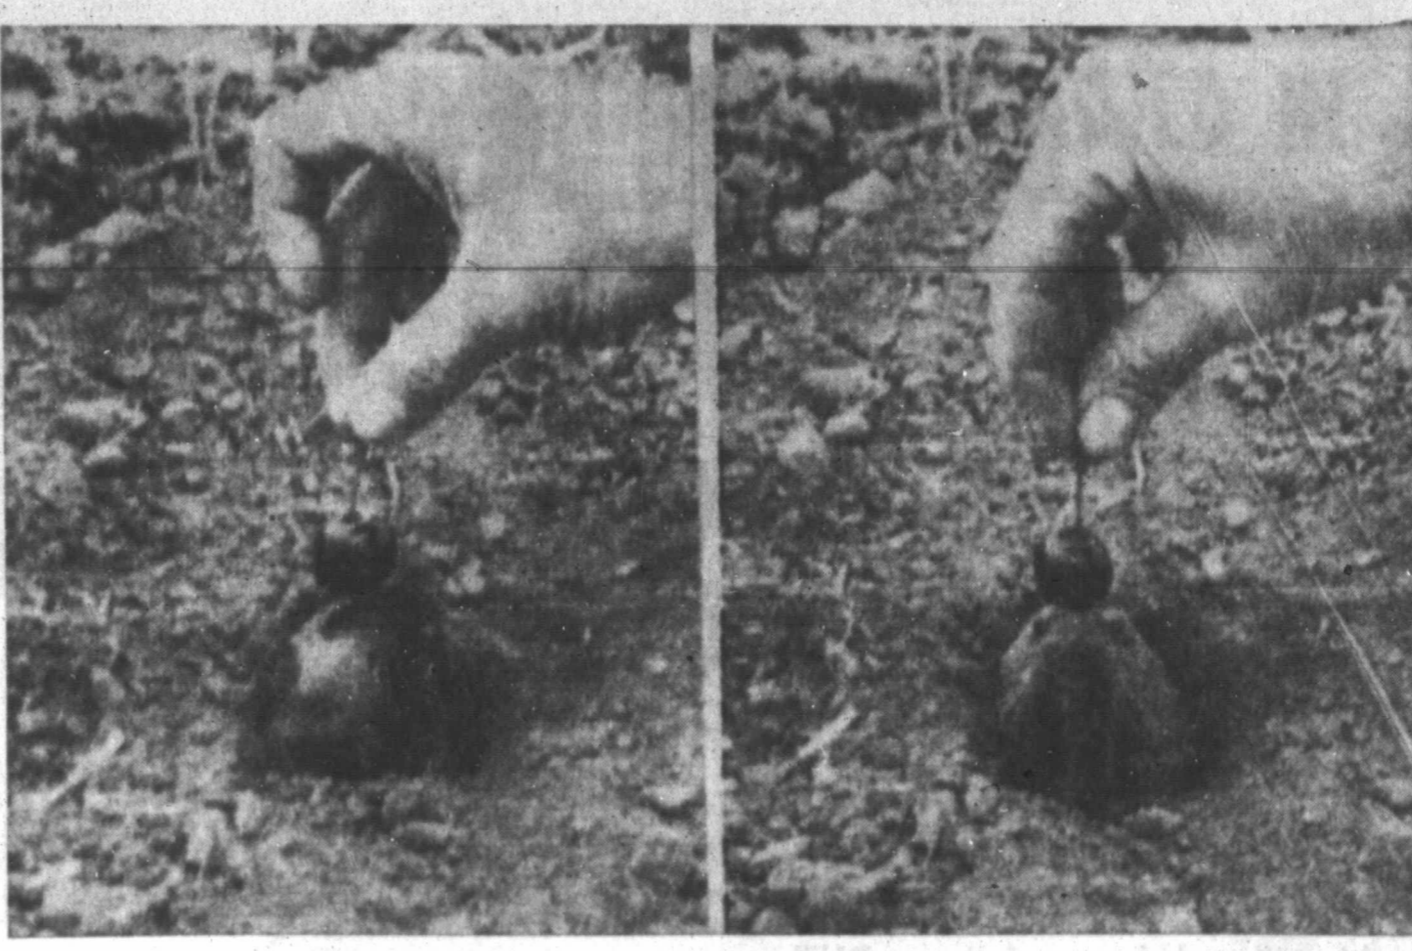

Harris County Chairman Bill Kilgarlin, also a liberal leader, already had said the State Democratic Executive Committee has failed to allot enough time for the contesting delegations' claims to be heard.

Contesting delegations were formed May 9 at the conventions in Dallas, Bexar, Harris, Hutchinson, Randall, Edwards and Sherman counties.

Kilgarlin also said plans for distributing credentials to contested delegations "look like an attempt to keep loyal Democratic delegates from getting on the convention floor in time to take part in proceedings."

In a statement answering Kilgarlin, Frank Erwin, State Democratic chairman, said the Harris County chairman apparently had not read the delegates' information bulletin. Erwin said the credentials subcommittee will devote "the entire day before the convention to hearing evidence regarding the delegations from the seven counties in dispute."

Maverick, who handed out a statement and then spoke at a news conference, said he recommends a contesting "exas delegation to the national convention only if the liberal Bexar delegation is not seated, and if the convention opposes Johnson's program, particularly in the areas of civil rights, medicare and the war on poverty."

Priest Blames Cardinal Of Malfeasance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A priest accuses James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of gross malfeasance in office and says he has written the Pope asking for the cardinal's removal.

Rev. William H. DuBay accused the cardinal of failing to speak out on the racial question. Father DuBay first made the charge in Ramparts, a Catholic journal for laymen.

"Cardinal McIntyre can continue to say that there is no racial problem in his archdiocese," the article said. "an incredible statement. No one who is in touch, who reads, who knows what is going on could make it with a straight face."

In his letter to the Pope, Father DuBay said:

"His Eminence has insisted that the civil rights issue in California is a purely political one, into which the Church has no right to interfere. His policy is to limit the Church's activity in integration to her own institutions and to preaching of Catholic principles of justice and charity."

Father DuBay, whose parish in Compton, Calif., is predominantly Negro, issued a written statement to news media Thursday, in which he regretted accusing his bishop publicly, but he said letters, petitions, phone calls and even sit-ins and pickets at the cardinal's office and residence had not moved the cardinal.

In Texas ... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Twisters, Crop-Damaging Hail Pummel Plains, West Texas

By The Associated Press
Twisters and high winds bearing crop-damaging hail pelted eastern New Mexico, the Texas South Plains and part of West Texas Thursday.

Four persons were hospitalized at Tulia, 75 miles north of Lubbock when a twister upset their trailer home. Joy Farmer, 13, was kept for observation while her relatives were released.

Winds up to 60 miles an hour and sheets of rain and hail raked Presidio, Pecos and Kermit late Thursday. As the storm moved northeastward, however, it lost most of its force and barely grazed Andrews, Midland, Monahans and Odessa.

Roofs of homes and businesses were ripped clear in Presidio between 7 and 8 p.m. School Supt. Oran Columbus estimated damage to the schools at more than $4,000. The 500 acres of cantaloupe in the normally arid area were badly damaged by wind, rain and hail officials described as the size of quail eggs.

DEAD STOCK
Early estimates of damage in the South Plains was estimated at $50,000 but the amount could soar with later reports of livestock deaths and ruined crops. The heaviest reported rain fell at Farwell, with three inches recorded within 35 minutes. Clovis was deluged but no flooding was reported.

At Kermit, an inch and a half fell in 30 minutes—the first rain recorded since a one-inch fall last Thanksgiving.

Debris littered streets in Tex-co, N.M., near where the storm formed, and also in Bovina and Farwell. Rains of .67 of an inch were measured at the Wink airport and .25 at Monahans, with an undetermined amount at Andrews and the Midland-Odessa area.

Highway patrol and sheriff's officers pooled their units to evacuate 500 Girl Scouts when a cloudburst soaked their tent camp 15 miles northwest of Odessa late Thursday night.

The actual rain wasn't much—upwards of .25 of an inch—but it fell within a half hour to dampen the "roughing it" setup for the Scouts, all from the Midland and Odessa region.

chance to profitably develop his own suit.

In the present case, if West had chosen to lead the ten of diamonds for example, he would have reaped a rich bounty. South's ace is driven out immediately, and now he must let the opponents in once more in clubs. Another diamond lead thru the dummy's queen allows the defenders to win four tricks in that suit which together with two spades and one club adds up to a tidy 300 point profit.

With the spade lead—a nimble performance was required of East. The latter put up the ace and continued the suit. West played the king and another spade to drive out declarer's stopper. East realized that West could cash his established spades only if he had an entry in the club suit. East's king of clubs was of no use to him, located as it was in front of declarer's holding; therefore, in an attempt to get out of his partner's way, East discarded the king on the third round of spades.

South was unable to establish his club suit without letting West in with the jack, and the latter cashed out his spades to defeat the contract. If East retains the king of clubs, he will be permitted to hold the trick when that suit is led from dummy. When declarer regains the lead, his ace and queen of clubs will drop West's jack and South is now able to run nine tricks.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 NT Pass 2 NT Pass
2 NT Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Four of ♠

An imaginative discard by East in today's hand overcame the favorable distributional feature which nature had presented to South in his three no trump contract.

Altho South had only the minimum 16 high card points prescribed for an opening one no trump bid, he accepted his partner's invitation to bid a game. The presence of a readily establishable five card suit was the deciding factor.

West opened the four of spades which was, perhaps, not the soundest choice. Holding a weak hand with no visible side entry, it is usually advisable to make a play for partner who is marked with the missing high card strength, and may thus have a better
