Inequities Pinpointed In High Court Ruling

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith says Monday's U.S. Supreme Court decision on legislative redistricting could result in some Texas Senate districts 300 miles across. "No senator could serve such a great area as adequately as three or four senators (or even one) can serve a single county. The costs of campaigning in a district of that size, or merely of visiting the county seats, would likewise show the practical inequities involved," he said. The Supreme Court ruled Monday that both houses of a bicameral legislature must have their seats distributed strictly on the basis of population. The Texas Constitution says no county can have more than one state senator, regardless of its population.

from Lubbock, said he plans to submit a resolution at the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors in New York Aug. 20-22 asking Congress for relief from the decision. "It would be an appeal to Congress. (For other aspects of the Supreme Court's ruling on redistricting, see Page 12-A of today's Herald) press for a thorough review of all the factors that make for genuinely equal representation in a legislative body," Smith said. "If Congress agrees that there are controlling factors in addition to population, it could submit a constitutional amendment making it clear that states can have a true bicameral legislature if they so desire, the same as our national Congress." Smith joined a number of officials, including Gov. John Connally, who blasted the decision. The lieutenant governor said the decision "will have a drastic effect on the Senate," of which he is presiding officer. "It appears that the five largest counties will have 12 of the 31 Senate seats, leaving 19 places to be allocated among the remaining 249 counties. We will have some Senate districts 300 miles wide," he said. "The high court's laudable aim of equal representation for all citizens cannot be maintained in such circumstances. The equality will be theoretical only."

BenJack Cage May Be Back

DALLAS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Henry Wade predicts that convicted insurance promoter Ben-Jack Cage will be the first American extradited from Brazil under a pending treaty. He said Wednesday the extradition would be "a test case" because of technicalities involved in the treaty regarding citizens of Brazil. Cage fled to South America five years ago after he was convicted in an $8 million insurance swindle and sentenced to 10 years. He forfeited $15,000 in bonds. Since then, he has been joined by his wife and both have become citizens of Brazil. "The treaty we have seen exempts citizens of Brazil from extradition," Wade said. "But another section of the treaty gives us some hope."

Thousands Return Home Following Earthquake

NIIGATA, Japan (AP)—Flames from blazing oil storage tanks were being brought under control in Niigata today. Thousands were returning to homes they fled after Tuesday's devastating earthquake. Firefighters said they hoped by tonight or Friday to be in control of the inferno the quake set off along the waterfront of the northern Japanese port, center of the domestic petroleum industry. Ninety of Niigata's 300 big storage tanks were set afire, but by noon today the columns of black smoke were lightening as firetrucks poured foam extinguisher into the flames. Most of the foam was supplied by U.S. forces and was flown from Tokyo. The people of Niigata, hardened to disaster like most Japanese, began picking up the threads of their lives. Thousands of uniformed men from the armed services joined local workers in clearing away debris and mending roads.

Tons of relief goods poured in. Donations came from abroad. The king and queen of Malaysia on a state visit to Japan, contributed $8,333. The first of some 20,000 evacuees began returning to their homes, or to what was left of them. Low-lying areas were still flooded from the tidal wave that poured in from the Sea of Japan after the quake. The national police reported 1,155 houses destroyed and 18,500 damaged by the quake, another 11,000 were flooded. Although the quake was the strongest in Japan since the 1923 quake that took 143,000 lives in the Tokyo-Yokohama area, experts attributed the remarkably low loss of life to the fact that the quake hit after lunch, when cooking stoves were off and there were no residential fires. The casualty toll was 25 dead and 11 missing although the damage was estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars.

Deadline Set For Reopening Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A federal court has given the Prince Edward County Board of Supervisors one week to appropriate funds to reopen and operate public schools. U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis Wednesday night ordered the supervisors to levy taxes and raise funds to open the schools, closed in 1959 to avoid racial desegregation. JUNE 25 Judge Lewis told the board to act by June 25, one month to the day after the U.S. Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward to reopen the schools. During an hour-long hearing Wednesday and at preliminaries Monday, Judge Lewis offered the supervisors the initiative in reopening the schools. They did not take it. His tough order followed. Judge Lewis declined to spell out exactly how much money the board should appropriate, as sought by Negro attorneys. He told the supervisors they must operate schools substantially equal to those in other rural counties. The court continued its injunction against the payment of tuition grants for private education in the county as long as the public schools remain closed. Lewis turned down a request by the Negro attorneys that he order the county to hire a public school faculty and school employees on a nondiscriminatory basis. He said the Supreme Court had not required it. He said, however, the schools must be operated on a nondiscriminatory basis for the pupils. A spokesman for the supervisors said in Farmville that he thought the board would meet before the weekend for a briefing by its special counsel, J. Segar Gravatt, and would reach some decision by June 25. Gravatt on Monday had asked the court what penalties the supervisors might expect if they "find it impossible to comply." Lewis said Wednesday that judgment was improper. "Just let them disobey it," he said. "I'll tell them then what the penalty will be." FUNDS CUT The supervisors cut off operating funds for the schools in 1959 after the U.S. District Court ordered Prince Edward to admit Negro pupils. Since then white pupils have attended private, segregated schools. Negro children were without education until last September when free schools supported by public contributions were opened on a one-year emergency basis.

July Oil Production Reduced To 27 Pct.

1st BALLOT VOTES

Barry Has Firm Pledges On 361

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has 361 Republican delegates bound to him by state laws or party convention actions. That's more than half of the 677 first-ballot votes credited to him by an Associated Press survey. The remainder of the votes in Goldwater's column come from delegates who say they favor the Arizona senator, including 35 who consider themselves personally pledged or committed and 28 who say they'll vote for him but are not personally pledged. Assuming that instructions and primary commitments will be followed, Goldwater can count on 361 first-ballot votes from the following sources: Primary election laws which require delegates to cast first ballots for the winner in California, with 86 votes, and Indiana, with 32. Besides that, the 86 delegates on Goldwater's winning slate in California also signed a personal pledge to vote for him until he releases them. Specific and formal instructions by state conventions in Alabama, 20; Arizona, 16; Georgia, 4; Idaho, 14; Louisiana, 20; Mississippi, 13; Nebraska, 10; Oklahoma, 22; South Carolina, 16; Texas, 56; Virginia, 18; and Wyoming, 12—a total of 213. In addition to these are some 40 delegates scattered across the nation who say they are personally pledged or committed to Goldwater and will stick with him no matter what. "We're really rounding up the delegates," Gov. William W. Scranton said today as he arrived in his state capital after his first campaign tour in quest of the Republican presidential nomination. He told a handful of well-wishers at the Harrisburg-York State Airport in the early morning hours that he felt his 11th-hour campaign for the nomination was "ripening beautifully." The governor and his wife, Mary, then drove 25 miles to the executive mansion at Indian-town Gap, Pa., where they plan to spend much of the day catching up on sleep. MAP STRATEGY Scranton also will meet with his aides to map strategy for the remaining three weeks of the campaign prior to the Republican National Convention. Scranton, in St. Louis Wednesday, accused Sen. Barry Goldwater of lacking the courage to face him in a television debate and then retracted the statement hours later in Denver. The attack was the Pennsylvania governor's sharpest ever on a political opponent. Scranton set a precedent in his own style of political campaigning at St. Louis when he said Goldwater "lacks the courage to face people." The question came up when Scranton was asked to comment on Goldwater's refusal to debate him on television. Scranton said Goldwater had insulated himself from the public by refusing to hold news conferences and using only prepared material in his addresses. "I don't consider that to be

Hearings Set On Proposal Of Fewer Wells

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said today it will hear oil industry comments next month on a proposal to encourage drilling of fewer new wells. The proposal would be a revision of the commission's "1947 yardstick" used in setting oil field allowances. The commission said the 1947 formula "gives incentive to and encourages the drilling of many unnecessary wells to the detriment of the industry and to the general public." A revised yardstick giving incentive to maximum efficiency in development pattern for future operations is worthy consideration, said a commission order made public at the production hearing today. The commission order said "it is recognized generally by the oil producing industry and by the commission that the present allowable yardstick, known as the '1947 yardstick,' which sets out a barrels of oil per day rate on a depth-acreage basis does not provide for equitable apportionment of demand and to fields where larger development patterns have been proven effective and adopted." The present yardstick, the commission added, "does not give adequate weight to acreage to support and encourage development on the pattern shown to be the most efficient pattern for a given field."

Lowest Point In 16 Months

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission ordered today that Texas July oil production be reduced to the lowest point in 16 months, limiting output to 27 per cent of potential. The commission acted in response to July purchasing forecasts outlined by 13 major companies at a monthly hearing. The commission set July maximum production at 2,788,685 barrels daily. The statewide calendar day allowable Saturday was 2,845,371 barrels. MARCH, 1963 The production ceiling is the lowest since March, 1963 when it was set at 2,459,486. The July 1963 ceiling was 2,836,337 under a 28.5 per cent formula. One spokesman for major companies asked for continuation of June's 28 per cent order which provided for a maximum of 2,872,308 barrels daily, but 10 sought a lower figure. Bruce Street of Graham, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO), asked a postponement of the allowable announcement until a decision on federal oil import programs is made. This was denied. Street appeared on behalf of TIPRO, as well as oil and gas associations in the Panhandle, Permian Basin, North Texas and West Central Texas. RELUCTANCE Expressing reluctance over whether to state his views, Street said recent conferences with oilmen have brought him to the conclusion that "independent producers are in very critical condition as to pipeline production and sloppy markets." Street said there are strong undertones of pipeline proration in the West Central Texas area. "The national oil supply is in one of the most precarious positions I have ever seen," he said. "In view of the critical nature of the supply stock situation and the importance of the relationship of the national scene to the Texas scene, I think it behooves the commission to consider the desirability of withholding setting of the July allowable until the new import control program is announced in the next few days." Companies' July purchasing nominations, by per cent, in barrels per day: 29 per cent—Sun 106,672; Texaco 140,000. 28 per cent—Humble 406,768. 27 per cent—Indiana 243,316; Atlantic 76,140; Mobil 235,500; Sinclair 100,000; Gulf 205,700 and Standard of Texas 35,700. 26 per cent—Shell 168,200; Cities Service 81,000; Continental 26,500 and Phillips 124,836. NOMINATIONS In nominations sent to the commission last week, purchasers said they plan to buy 2,530,901 barrels daily during July, 63 barrels daily above the June level. The Bureau of Mines forecast Texas July production at 2,570,000 barrels daily, down 59,000 from June.

Voting Tonight Or Friday Expected On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's long civil rights debate was in its dying hours today with a vote on final passage in prospect tonight or Friday. As the Senate convened, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said it appeared likely the final vote would come Friday although he was hopeful that it might be tonight. It was learned that some sen-

Human Salvage Program Proves Dismal Failure

Only 17.5 per cent of the rejected draftees even bothered to respond to the government's letters telling them where to get help. When first announced last January, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz hopefully called it "the most important human salvage program in the history of our country." Administration officials had hoped to assist some 35,000 young men in the first four months. While conceding some serious problems in the initial stage of the program, the Labor Department isn't giving up. Spokesmen say the biggest problem is getting in direct contact with youths who have been rejected for physical or educational reasons and convincing them there are federal programs that can help them. Selective Service officials have held the addresses of rejected youths are confidential and insisted on sending contact letters, rather than letting Labor Department counselors get in touch directly with the youths. The two agencies are now working on a procedure to get permission of the rejected youths to give their addresses to other federal agencies. The program was launched after a federal report estimated that one-third of the nation's 18-year-olds couldn't qualify for induction into the armed services.

Nikita Vows To Solve Problems Or Quit Party

ODENSE, Denmark (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev vowed today that the Soviet Union's agricultural difficulties will be solved in seven or eight years or "I'll say I am not a Communist and I will tear up my party card." The Soviet leader, after a tour of prosperous Danish farms, swore that the Soviet Union would not be dependent for grain on capitalist nations in lean years. Khrushchev told an audience at the nearby Dalum Agriculture College that the Soviet Union has little to learn from Danish agriculture because the Danes' farming is on too small a scale. He advised Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag, seated next to him, not to depend on the Soviets were absent today and that this was the chief problem in trying to arrange a vote tonight. However, several senators were hoping that, if the final roll call is Friday, it could come at an early hour. They plan to fly to Mexico City in the afternoon for dedication Saturday of a new embassy in the Mexican capital. Passage of the bill by a wide margin was foreshadowed Wednesday night—in the 81st day of the long struggle—when the senators substituted, by a 78-18 vote, the package drafted by leaders of both parties for the bill which passed the House on Feb. 10. The substitute retains the basic antidiscrimination features of the original measure. It puts more emphasis on voluntary compliance and gives states with their own laws an opportunity to handle complaints before federal action is taken. If the Senate approves the measure this week as expected, House leaders hope to have it on President Johnson's desk before adjourning July 2 in advance of the Republican National Convention. The current House planning is to accept the Senate bill without change. Among those who have said there is a good chance the House will accept the Senate version is Rep. William W. McCulloch, R-Ohio, who has been called the chief architect of the bill in the House. Except for key portions of the section banning discrimination in employment, the bill will become effective as soon as the President signs it. Some provisions of this section would become effective immediately, others at intervals over the next three years. All of Wednesday night's votes against the substitute package were cast by Southern senators who banded together under the leadership of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., to wage an all-out fight against the legislation. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, was recorded as voting in favor of substituting the package for the House-passed measure, although he actually did not vote. He was paired with Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who voted against making the substitution. Russell called the substitute "more obnoxious" than the House version, saying it is "purely a sectional bill aimed at the South. Any way you look at it, it is a second effort at Reconstruction." Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., voted with the majority Wednesday when the Senate substituted the version of the civil rights bill prepared by leaders of both parties for the House-passed measure.

Demos Criticize CORE Plans For Picket Line

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California Democratic leaders have criticized the Congress of Racial Equality for its plans to picket a dinner honoring President Johnson Friday night. CORE officials had announced plans to picket the dinner to protest civil rights trials currently being held in San Francisco. "We feel that such a picket line would be highly irresponsible and a very real insult to our President who has been in the forefront in the fight for civil rights," five Democrats told CORE Chairman William Bradley in a letter Wednesday. Bradley said the demonstration would go on as planned. The letter was signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Senate nominee Pierre Salinger, Assemblyman Byron Rumford, a Negro vice chairman of the dinner, Roger Kent, Northern California Democratic chairman and chairman of the dinner, and Cyril Magnin, dinner finance chairman.

Police Chief Thomas Cahill called leaders of protest groups to a session and laid down strict limits for demonstrations during Johnson's visit. "There will be no talking, singing, chanting or anything that will interfere with the President's speech," he told representatives of CORE, the Committee for Non-Violent Action and the Committee to end U.S. Intervention in Viet Nam.

Cahill said the largest police detail in San Francisco's history will assist Secret Service agents during the President's visit. Between 400 and 500 city policemen will be on duty, he said, about 30 per cent of the force.

President and Mrs. Johnson are due to arrive at San Francisco International Airport at 10:55 a.m. Johnson's schedule includes ground breaking ceremonies for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District at Concord, a motorcade up Market Street, dedication of a new $38.5-million federal building and a $100-a-plate fundraising dinner at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel Friday night.

Elevator Opens, Wife Finds Husband Slain

NEW YORK (AP)—Only minutes after Selma Simpson saw her husband precede her into their apartment building, the self-service elevator returned to the lobby with his slain body. As the elevator doors opened, disclosing his body, face down, Mrs. Simpson screamed and said: "Oh, my God. Wait a minute. It looks like my husband."

HUSBAND SLAIN
Selma Simpson weeps

The victim of the macabre murder Wednesday night was Leonard Simpson, 63, a lawyer. Police said he had been stabbed once near the heart with a weapon similar to an ice pick. Just before the elevator doors opened, Mrs. Simpson and two men who also were waiting for it noticed a tall, gaunt Negro with a mustache, who came down the stairs, waved to them in a friendly way and left the building, located on 90th Street near Broadway. Police put out an alarm for him. Other tenants said he looked like a derelict.

Mrs. Simpson said she entered the apartment building a few minutes after her husband and found two men waiting for the elevator. It was stopped at the fourth floor, where the Simpsons' apartment is. They knocked on the shaft door. Finally the elevator started down, paused at the second floor and then reached the lobby.

Police said the victim's wallet, watch, tieclasp and pen were found on his body, along with about $1 in change. The wallet was empty of bills, although Simpson's younger son, Victor, 23, told police his father usually carried about $50.

Police Check Up On Story

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. June Maxine Duke of Baytown, Tex., rested under sedation in a hospital today while police tracked down her story that she killed a former next door neighbor who abducted her in a Baytown grocery.

Officers said Mrs. Duke told them she shot William Crawford, 36, with a gun he had bought earlier as he slept in a Wichita motel Monday night. She said he had threatened to kill her and take his own life. Police said they found a note in a service station in Oklahoma which tended to verify her story. She told them she left many notes on the two day trip from Baytown but most were retrieved by Crawford and none of her alarm signals to waiters or store personnel were ever interpreted correctly.

Mrs. Duke, 38, said she was on last minute errands in a grocery before leaving for a vacation with relatives in Little Rock. She said Crawford accosted her and forced her home to pick up her suitcase, already packed for the Arkansas trip. She had been reported missing at Baytown. Her car was found in the grocery parking lot. The woman said Crawford bought the pistol after arriving here. Upon returning to the motel, she said he fell asleep for the first time during the trip. She said she eased the pistol from beneath a pillow. He stirred and Mrs. Duke said she fired one shot in panic. Clad in a nightgown, she went to the motel office and asked that police and an ambulance be called. Mrs. Duke's husband was conferring here with officers. They have three children. Crawford had four.

Wallace Asks United South

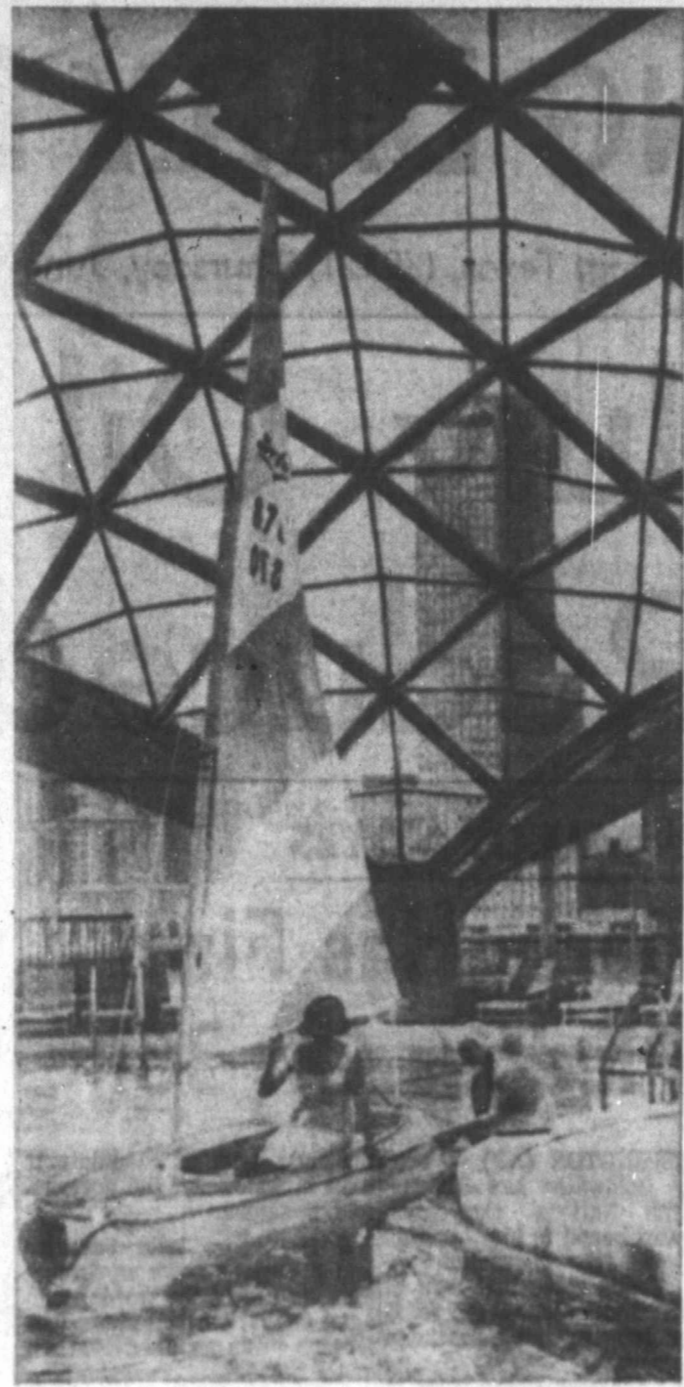

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace says a united South can be the balance of power in the November presidential election. Wallace, a candidate for president on the Free Electors ticket, told a joint session of the Louisiana Legislature Wednesday that no man could win the presidency without the seven Southern states carried by the Democratic party in 1960. "We can and we do have the balance of power in the presidential election," he said. "We can use the Electoral College to get the liberals off the backs of all the American people."

At a news conference, he said he planned campaigning in Virginia, Maryland, South Carolina, North Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia, Arkansas and perhaps Tennessee and Texas.

Gov. John McKeithen introduced Wallace. Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock was master of ceremonies. Former Governors Ross Barnett of Mississippi and Jimmie Davis of Louisiana also attended. Throughout the day, amid cheers, a parade, Confederate flags and rebel yells, Wallace attacked the civil rights bill, the U.S. Supreme Court, the "liberal press," and "social engineers" in Washington.

Wallace, smiling and confident, wound up his activities Wednesday night with a speech stressing Southern unity, states rights and free enterprise at a 25-a-plate banquet of the Louisiana Committee for Free Electors. About 1,000 persons gave him repeated cheers and applause. Wallace said he would be in the mainstream of American politics. Well, the mainstream leads right down the road to state socialism. I'm for getting out of the mainstream," Wallace said. Soviets To Modify Proposed 'Bonfire'

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union indicated a move today to meet the American position on a proposed "bonfire" of nuclear bomber planes. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told the 17-nation disarmament conference a forthcoming new Kremlin plan will modify the Jan. 28 Soviet proposal calling for total destruction of all bombing planes. The January proposal was rejected by the United States as impractical and unacceptable to the West. An American counterplan on March 19 called for destruction of 480 American B47s, matched by the destruction of 480 Soviet TU16s over a two-year period. The Soviets rejected the counterproposal. Zorin hinted today his new proposal will take into account the American objections to scrapping all bombers. "The Soviet delegation will present its views on how and in

Demonstrators Switch Tactics Again In Florida

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Negroes switched tactics again in their determined three-week siege against segregation in this city and marched singing through a white residential section in the middle of the night. What form the next demonstration might take in this strange struggle was a matter of speculation as a grand jury in special session continued its closed door investigation of racial unrest.

Wednesday night's march, covering perhaps two miles, was the longest, loudest, latest and least eventful since the night treks over St. Augustine's historic pavements resumed nine days ago. As usual, they had a heavy police escort. The march route, checked out in advance by state police, was deserted until the procession neared U.S. 1A, a major tourist route. A few white spectators watched, some perched on parked cars. No spectator said anything. The marchers wound into the parking lot in front of Monson Motor Lodge, the major target in sit-in attempts. They held a prayer service and returned to the church where the march began.

Test Flights On New Aircraft

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP)—Test flights will start next month for a transport able to take off vertically and hauled as promise of a new era in military and commercial aviation. Ling-Temco-Vought wheeled the craft—an XC142A—from a hangar for the first public inspection Wednesday. LTV officials call it a deflected slipstream type of aircraft, which also lands vertically and can fly faster than 400 miles an hour.

Earlier Wednesday, 35 Negroes staged a two-hour wade-in at St. Augustine beach. All the white bathers except a woman and young boy left the water. When a white man yelled for the woman to get out of the water, a city policeman told him: "You shut your mouth and keep out of this. This beach is integrated and there is no law against these people using it."

Sixteen Negroes were jailed in another integration attempt at eating places, raising to more than 200 the number arrested in the last nine days.

Ample Water Aids Hardin

AUSTIN (AP)—Hardin County in East Texas has a promising potential for industrial expansion because of abundant ground water supplies, the Texas Water Commission said Wednesday.

"The future development of water-dependent industries is indeed promising, owing to the availability of water approximately 200 million gallons per day of ground water," the commission said. "Two hundred million gallons per day is 20 times as much as the total present pumpage of ground water in the county, and it is, by way of comparison, 10 times greater than the combined municipal water use of Beaumont and Port Arthur."

The commission reported on a study conducted by E. T. Baker Jr., geologist for the U.S. Geological Survey. The study says the water's chemical quality is suitable for most public supply, industrial and irrigation purposes.

Board Okays Pool For Swim Meet

The city park and recreation board Wednesday approved the use of the main municipal swimming pool for an annual invitational swimming meet. The first one will be held July 18.

Mrs. H. W. Smith, who made the motion for approval, stipulated the event should be co-sponsored by the recreation department of the city and the Big Spring "Y" Aquatic Club.

Events will be grouped according to age, and medals will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in the various events. Some 100 persons from area towns are expected to compete.

City Manager Larry Crow outlined the status of negotiations for about 5 1/2 acres of land south of Northside Park (West). The property is owned by the Denton Estate. Crow said the land was offered to the city for about $1,500 per acre. He said, in his opinion, this was too high, and the parks board concurred with the opinion.

One member of the board stated about $500 per acre would be too much to pay for the property. The city is seeking the property to expand the park.

Parks Director Johnnie Johansen said the irrigation system for the back nine of the golf course has been operating smoothly for two weeks. Some of the fairways have been sowed with Bermuda grass seed.

There appears to be a good stand of grass at Westside Park, where seed was planted, he said. Except for Northside Park (West), playground equipment has been installed in the parks.

Concerning immediate plans and operations, the city has ordered 19 concrete picnic tables and three pavilions from McMahon Concrete Co. Plans call for a 32-foot by 28-foot pavilion to be placed at Moss Creek Lake, and two 16-foot by 20-foot pavilions in Birdwell Park. The smaller pavilions will be designed so that they can be enlarged later. City crews will prepare surfaces and pour slabs for these pavilions. The tables will be available in about three weeks.

Two small concrete toilets will be installed in Birdwell Park if the price is not too high. Some novelty playground items, such as welded steel climbers, steel pipe log walkers and concrete tunnels or "crawl-throughs," may be installed in Birdwell Park as an experiment. If successful, others will be placed in other parks.

Johansen said Jefferson Park, Washington Place on Jefferson Street, is equipped with playground equipment and is becoming popular with area residents. Swings are being installed in Circle Park, and shrubbery has been planted there, he said.

Crow said future potential plans could include the establishment of a children's zoo. Reports from other cities indicate zoos stocked with young farm animals are popular with children, he said. Johansen pointed out vending machines which dispense animal food are a good source of revenue for helping defray expenses.

An irrigation system and picnic facilities may be installed in a triangle area across the street from the City Park adjacent to the old museum building. Other future plans include the installation of a large sand bed between the croquet courts and the softball field fence at City Park and the construction of additional tennis courts.

State Hospital Cemetery Beautification Progresses

Excellent progress is being made on the beautification of the Big Spring State Hospital Cemetery, and now time is near for setting of grave markers.

Beautification of the long-forgotten burial plot has shaped up through Orville Shapland, chairman of the special project committee of the BSSH Volunteers Council.

Compensation Rates Are Up

HOUSTON (AP)—A report released by the Texas Manufacturers Association says workers' compensation insurance rates have jumped by 40 percent in Texas within 10 years, to more than $135 million in premiums this year.

A Texas AFL-CIO committee went over the recently released study Wednesday. The committee was formed last month to explore ways to improve the workmen's compensation act in the next legislature.

The report, compiled for the business association by an actuarial firm, also said that while Texas rates are slightly higher than New York State's, Texas pays only $35 in maximum weekly benefits contrasted to $55 in New York.

It said Texas pays a maximum of $12,000 for death, while New York has no limit—$55 a week for life or until the widow remarries.

One reason is that Texas industry has twice as many fatal accidents as New York and three and a half times as many totally disabling injuries, the report said.

Through efforts of the chairman, his co-workers and other volunteers who gave time or materials, a water line has been run from the hospital to the cemetery area just north of the new Interstate 20 route. The barren, eroded spot, grow up in a few scraggly weeds, was leveled and sodded. Now the grass has grown to the point that the burial area has a cover.

The hospital staff has provided four molds from which simple markers may be poured. These will have names of the deceased set in the concrete for permanency, and the simple stone will be placed over each recorded grave.

The committee, however, is in need of some organization which will volunteer to take on the pouring of the concrete molds as a project. Anyone who would like to help may contact Mrs. Hila Weathers, volunteer coordinator, at the hospital.

Cars Must Have Smog Controls

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Auto manufacturers wishing to sell 1966 models in California will have to add a device to eliminate a by-product of their unburned hydrocarbons in auto exhaust fumes.

Experts say these hydrocarbons are a major cause of smog. The State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board Wednesday approved four devices to control them.

D. A. Jensen, the board's executive officer, estimated that by 1967 the installation of the devices priced from $26 to $73 on new cars will have eliminated 25 per cent of the hydrocarbons in the Los Angeles basin's atmosphere.

Three Walk Away From Air Crash

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Three Texans walked away from the crash of their light plane into thick trees Wednesday night, near the Texarkana, Ark., municipal airport they had just left.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Holliman of Longview, and the 28-month-old daughter Lisa escaped with slight cuts and bruises. Their two-seat plane was demolished. Holliman said the cowling blew off at 400 feet. The family was en route to Marshall.

Economic Survey Given Commission

A community development survey containing economic information about Big Spring prepared by Texas Electric Service Company was presented last week to the Texas Industrial Commission for use in helping provide facts to industries considering new plant site locations.

It was one of 40 community surveys presented by Beeman Fisher, president and general manager of Texas Electric, to Harry W. Clark, executive director of the commission. The surveys include one volume for each community with more than 1,000 population served by the company.

"We feel it is important for the commission, which receives requests for information about prospective plant sites, to have these surveys," Fisher said. "It means that the communities Texas Electric serves can be better represented when industries and commercial enterprises go to the commission for information."

Clark said the commission will find the surveys useful because they provide information which has not been readily accessible in the past from the commission files.

The surveys are revised annually by the Area Development Division of Texas Electric in order to keep information up to date. Such surveys have been prepared by the company and made available since 1953 to the communities, industrial committees and community civic leaders, as well as to prospective new industries. Material which goes into the surveys is obtained directly from reliable sources in each city and from published data.

Important factors of interest that are given detailed coverage in the surveys include water supply, labor market, tax information, mineral resources, agricultural data and other statistics which are directly related to the basic economy of the area.

High Winds, Some Hail Sweep Lamesa, Lubbock

By The Associated Press
High winds and isolated small hail swatted the South Plains Wednesday night. A wide area was alerted for possible crop-damaging hail and rains but most of it failed to materialize.

Minor damage was done to roofs, buildings and to some crops around Lubbock and five miles southeast. Slaton, 10 miles southeast of Lubbock, on the tail end of the show, got some showers but not enough to hurt crops, the police department said.

Crosbyton, which also had been expecting hail, instead got a lot of wind. At Tahoka, the winds were very strong and brought for a short period driving hard rain.

A double garage was flattened near Brownfield at the Earl Foerster farm, leaving unharmed a desk, deep freezer, typewriter and an adding machine.

Mrs. Bob Hammond was slightly injured when the wind blew over her trailer house southeast of Lubbock. In Brownfield, three small houses were unroofed.

Lamesa was whipped by strong winds and had an eighth of an inch of rain but felt no relief. Most earlier weather turbulence Wednesday centered around East Texas and eastern parts of Central Texas.

Today, skies cleared over the western third of the state while clouds hung low over Central Texas. Some thundershowers were expected for South and West Texas today and Friday. Rainy weather continued today across scattered sections of the nation but storms which struck some areas during the night diminished.

Showers covered many areas in the West, except for the Southwest desert region. Showers and light rain fell in parts of Michigan, most of the Ohio Valley and in southern Florida. Nearly 2 1/2 inches of rain doused Moorcroft, in northeast Wyoming.

An inch of snow was reported in Leadville, more than 10,000 feet above sea level, in central Colorado. In Denver, east of Leadville, the mercury reached 89 Wednesday.

Severe thunderstorms swept areas of south-central Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and North Dakota during the night. At least one tornado caused minor property damage in extreme southwest Missouri and extreme northwest Arkansas.

One person suffered severe back injuries and several others had cuts and bruises from flying debris when the twister ripped the roof from a fishing dock at Bull Shoals reservoir in Arkansas.

Heavy rains in Jefferson and Ste. Genevieve counties in east-central Missouri caused flash flooding late Wednesday night. Eight families were rescued.

Floods which followed torrential rains in eastern Nebraska earlier this week caused property damages estimated at $6 to $8 million and were blamed for seven deaths.

DeVaney Urges Federal Funds For Worm Fight

WACO—Texas Farm Bureau President C. H. DeVaney said federal funds for screwworm eradication should be increased from $2.75 million to $5 million annually, without a matching requirement, since the program is now international in scope.

The American Farm Bureau Federation board of directors has added its support to the program by requesting such an increase, DeVaney said. The TFBF leader, a member of the AFBF board, has long been active in the eradication campaign, having served as chairman of the group which established the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation to fight the screwworm.

Since the Southwest eradication program began more than two years ago, the campaign has been termed fully effective. Program officials now propose establishment of a buffer zone of several hundred miles in Mexico to prevent reinfestation. Cost of this is estimated at about $5.5 million annually.

The House Appropriations Committee, in a report approving the value of a buffer zone, said it does not feel the federal government should provide the full cost, and recommended that the executive branch "explore the possibility of establishing a joint program with Mexico to provide the necessary protection." The measure is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Federal expenditures have amounted to $6.3 million since the program began. Texas has spent $2.7 million, and area livestockmen and sportsmen have spent in excess of $3.2 million over the same period.

DeVaney said the Farm Bureau recommends the cost of spot checking and determining infestation in this country to be borne locally, as is the practice now.

Residents Urged To Help 'Sell' Industrial Potential

Big Springers interested in helping "sell" the industrial potential of the city are being urged by Chamber of Commerce leaders to join in a banquet Monday evening, as climax to a special industrial development day in the city.

The affair will be at the Cosden Club beginning at 6:30, and reservations at $3.50 per plate.

should be made with the Chamber of Commerce. Harry Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, will be the speaker. Clark, along with perhaps a dozen other visitors—representing banks, utilities and press from Dallas, Fort Worth and other Texas cities—will be guests in Big Spring Monday for the day.

The visitors then will be honored at the Monday evening dinner. John Taylor, C-C president, said it is important that the community's interest in new industry be evidenced by a large crowd at the affair, and urged participation.

LBJ Plans Busy Swing Out West

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two political speeches, three dedication ceremonies, and one military inspection tour have been scheduled for President Johnson's three-day swing through California.

The White House made public today a detailed itinerary for the presidential trip, which begins Friday. It showed that Johnson will have free afternoons in San Francisco Friday and Los Angeles on Saturday—time he can use either to relax or meet with local Democratic leaders.

Johnson's first stop, at 9 a.m. Friday, will be at Edwards Air Force Base, where he will spend 55 minutes getting a secret briefing and viewing displays of military hardware.

The President then will fly to San Francisco International Airport, where he will transfer to a helicopter and fly to Concord, 30 miles east of the city, to break ground for a rapid transit system.

Returning to San Francisco airport by helicopter, Johnson will drive from the airport to the Federal Building, where he will participate in dedication ceremonies, before motoring to the Fairmont Hotel to spend the afternoon.

Johnson will attend a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner Friday night at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel.

After spending the night at the Fairmont, Johnson will fly from San Francisco airport by jet to El Toro Marine Air Base, south of Los Angeles, on Saturday morning. He will shift there to a helicopter and fly to the site of the University of California campus under construction at Irvine, where he will take part in a dedication ceremony.

The President will fly by helicopter from Irvine to the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, where he will spend the afternoon.

In the evening, Johnson will drive to the Palladium to address another Democratic fundraising dinner. He will spend the night at the Beverly Hilton, and is expected to return to Washington sometime Sunday.

STANTON (SC) — Tammie Leonard, three-year-old girl who suffered serious injuries June 10 as she accidentally walked into a whirling propeller of her father's airplane, is in good condition at a Midland hospital, according to Police Chief Bob Smith.

The girl suffered an injured eye, a fractured arm and numerous cuts and bruises in the accident.

Smith said Julius Leonard, father of the girl, has taken a job with A & A Welding Co. in Midland so he and his wife may be near the girl. They are staying at the BelAir Courts at 3000 West Wall in Midland. Relatives from California are keeping the two oldest children—Danny, 6, and Cindy, 4, Smith said.

The baby, 11-month-old Pee-wee, stays with Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Stanton, while the parents visit Tammie at the hospital, said Smith. At first, the children remained with Smith and his wife.

The Stanton officer said the Hapeville, Ga. man is trying to sell the airplane involved in the accident. The craft was parked at a service station on US 80 at Stanton when the accident occurred.

Damage Case Is Called To Trial

Trial of a damage suit brought by George E. Davis against Charles C. Arnold, is on docket today in 11th District Court. A jury panel was called into the court at 10 a.m. and the jurors to try the suit were qualified.

The case is the outgrowth of a collision on South Gregg Street Nov. 1, 1963. Mr. and Mrs. Davis seek $27,100 damages.

The case was called for trial when a compensation case, styled Thomas Jackson vs. Northern Assurance Co., was continued due to absence of a doctor witness.

McDonald Moved To Midland

STANTON — Daniel O. McDonald, charged in the murder of his grandmother, Mrs. W. S. (Deizee) McDonald, has been transferred to a Midland jail, according to Police Chief Bob Smith.

Smith said he did not know why McDonald was transferred. Bond on the capital offense case still is being refused by Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson.

McDonald, 19-year-old soldier stationed at Fort Carson, Colo., was charged with his grandmother's murder after her body was found Friday, June 12 in the living quarters of the small grocery store she operated on US 80 west of here.

Prisoner Returned

Joe Pat Anders, under indictment here for burglary, was returned from La Tuna Federal Prison last night and is being held in the Howard County jail. Anders was taken in charge by Sheriff Miller Harris at the federal prison near El Paso on Wednesday. Anders had completed serving a sentence in the LaTuna prison.

Attend Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Braune, 1108 N. Aylford, left Thursday for Corsicana, where they will attend a funeral Friday for her aunt, Mrs. Tommie Maxwell. Mrs. Maxwell died at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

First Bale Of Cotton Due Today

HARLINGEN (AP) — The Nation's first bale of cotton may arrive today. More than 70 field hands are picking cotton in an 80-acre field 14 miles east of Rio Hondo in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Oscar Mayfield and Sons planted the cotton Feb. 5.

The Harlingen Chamber of Commerce offers a $1,000 cash prize for the first bale, and guarantees it will bring $1,000 more when sold.

Redistricting Proponents Aim At Cities, Counties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jubilant over their big victory in the Supreme Court, advocates of the "one man, one vote" theory of government broadened their horizons today.

Their next target: such local government organizations as city councils, county boards of supervisors and even such units as water districts.

The Supreme Court, in a decision spelling great changes in the American governmental structure, ruled Monday that both branches of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population.

Aides in the office of Charles S. Rhyne, noted constitutional lawyer, said today the implications of Monday's rulings are even broader than most people realize.

Rhyne is former president of the American Bar Association and has been a kingpin in the drive on behalf of city residents and suburbanites to gain more voice in state legislatures, most of which are dominated by steadily diminishing numbers of rural residents.

Rhyne's office took the view that the Supreme Court decision points the way to wholesale re-vamping of city councils and other governmental units.

They pointed, for example, to a decision which the Ohio Supreme Court handed down even before the nation's highest court acted.

The Ohio court decreed that Cleveland's City Council must be reapportioned according to population. Cleveland has 33 wards, and there had been complaints that people in some wards were shortchanged in the matter of representation.

Rhyne's aides also said California's highest court had taken action looking toward the reapportionment of the Board of Supervisors in Monterey County, Calif. They foresaw much further litigation of this sort, wherever citizens can make a case that their vote is not worth as much as that of folks in some other part of the county or city.

There was no exact information on how many states must reapportion their state legislatures as a result of Monday's decrees. Estimates ranged from 24 to 40 or more.

The Supreme Court left a little leeway—though perhaps not much—in its guidelines. Some account can be taken of the problem of preserving existing county lines—but there must be substantially equal representation of city, suburban and rural populations.

Much litigation lies ahead, in the case of particular states. The Supreme Court left it to lower federal courts to decide each case on the merits, following which there may be further appeals to the highest bench.

Liner Charged On DWI Count

Paul Smith Liner Jr., charged with DWI second offense, was released from custody on posting $1,000 bond. Liner was arrested in connection with an episode at the Moss Creek Lake Tuesday night in which a car nearly plunged into the lake. The city police signed the complaint which was filed at noon Wednesday in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace. The case will be referred to the grand jury.

President Invited To Annual Peach Jamboree

STONEWALL (AP) — President Johnson's Gillespie County neighbors are getting ready for a downright peachy festival, their two-day Stonewall Peach Jamboree this weekend.

On tap for the affair are two rodeo performances in a newly built arena, sky-diving by the Austin Sport Parachute Club, crowning of a peach queen and a sock hop for teen-agers featuring the "Luci B," a new the Gillespie County area. Stonewall styles itself "Peach Center of Texas" in large signs greeting motorists approaching on U.S. 290. The jamboree was started in 1962 as a one-day affair and its success led the Stonewall Chamber of Commerce to expand it to two days and to include activities other than just those centered on the peach crop. Burg estimates there are about 3,000 acres of peach trees in the Stonewall area, which he expects to produce some 250,000 to 300,000 bushels this season. Jamboree activities also are scheduled to include a peach and pie eating contest, peach auction, pony rides and a barbecue.

Howard Delegates Backed Governor

Howard County Democratic delegation to the State Democratic Convention in Houston went down the line with the forces of Gov. John Connally, Frank Hardesty, county chairman, said Wednesday.

"Although we regarded ourselves as basically a liberal delegation," he said, "we felt that the governor, who had carried this county by better than two to one, was entitled to our support in his efforts to control his convention.

"Actually, there was only one test vote in which the liberal-conservative question was brought clearly.

"This was on the motion to adopt the State Democratic Committee report on delegates. It was actually a vote on credentials and the Bexar County liberals had been refused seats. We voted for the adoption of the report."

Hardesty said that the delegation's sympathy was with Albert Penna liberals but that it voted for John Pease's conservative slate in order to go solidly along with the governor.

Howard County backed successful efforts to have Charlie Thompson, Colorado City, as a delegate to the national Democratic convention. Thompson was chosen from the 29th State Senatorial district which is partially in the 19th Congressional District from which the total delegate slate is named.

Rep. George Mahon, congressman for the district, was an unanimous choice. Other delegates include Sam Richardson, Lamesa, for whom there was local support, also Calloway Hufaker, Tahoka, Dock Blanchard, Lubbock, and H. M. Purcell, Levelland.

There were sixteen Big Spring residents at the convention. Ten votes were held by the county. The delegation voted as a bloc.

Present for the meeting were Hardesty, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Jon Davis, W. D. Berry, A. E. Suggs, W. E. Thomas, H. D. Stewart, Alfred Goodson, Frank Parker, Mrs. Ray Bradford, D. A. Brazel, Lefty Morris, Frank Goodman and State Representative Ed Carpenter.

Goodson served as a member of the committee on national delegates. Hardesty said the convention was remarkably harmonious.

The next state meeting of the party will be Sept. 15 in Dallas when the state committeemen and committeewoman will be named and the state platform adopted.

Myers Loses Another Round

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The only chance for appeal on the murder conviction of John Edwin Myers is the appellate court. A circuit judge Wednesday denied a motion to set aside the conviction in his court.

Myers, 35, was sentenced to death for slaying Carol Ballard, 10, near Belleville. He was accused also of killing her father, an Iowa hitchhiker and a Missouri woman before his arrest in Midland in 1961.

Judge Joseph Fleming refused Wednesday to order a post-trial hearing on the subject of aggravation or mitigation. In denying previous motions, he contended the matter should now be handled by appellate courts.

Lawyers claim they will introduce relevant evidence which will affect the judgment.

Diphtheria In Pecos Kills Two

PECOS (AP)—Two girls, aged 16 and six, have died here since an outbreak of diphtheria in the Latin-American section of this town. Six cases were confirmed last month and health authorities advised citizens to take anti-diphtheria shots.

Visit To Sikkim Gives Treat Of TV's Potential

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sikkim is a sparkling little jewel of a kingdom set in the lofty Himalayas between Tibet and India. Most Americans probably had never heard of it until last year when 21-year-old Hope Cooke of New York married its crown prince.

Now, courtesy of the magic of television and the talents of NBC's imaginative producer Lon Hazam and his camera-writing team, millions of us know a lot about this tiny, beautiful Buddhist country—its rain forests and orchids, its principal export—cardamom, a fragrant spice—its market places and its royal palace.

The former Miss Cooke is now Sikkim's queen and her husband, Thondup, is its king. They were our guides Wednesday night during an hour's trip around the country. Color cameras made the most of the bold reds of the lamas, the uniforms of the palace guard, the burnished gold of the religious statues and of the magnificent mountain scenery.

special programs — "The Nile" a camera trip down U.S. Route 1 and a journey on the Orient Express — the program was a treat to the eyes, ears and mind and a reminder of television's potential as a real window on the whole wide world.

Confirming our worst fears, there is now a singing group called "The American Beatles." For disbelievers, they will be singing "School Days" next Saturday on ABC's "American Bandstand" show.

NBC's "Sunday" show on June 21 will include some highlights of the Army - McCarthy Senate hearings of 10 years ago.

Gov. William S. Scranton will be CBS' "Face the Nation" guest next Sunday.

ABC plans a series of four hour-long specials for sportsmen next season about hunting and fishing—lions, elephants, pheasants, tuna and trout among the quarry.

CBS - Radio's Arthur Godfrey is taping his way around the world. Recordings of his experiences during the six-week trip will be used on the daily show starting next Monday.

After Five Garden Club Has Annual Pilgrimage

Three gardens were visited by members of the After Five Garden Club during their annual garden pilgrimage Tuesday. The highlight of tour was the unified design achieved between home and yard in each of the gardens and the diversity of style in planning.

The William G. Hook garden at 2802 Navajo featured annuals, perennials and many plants unique in West Texas. In contrast, the Cal Williams home next door was landscaped with Southwestern planting and featured the use of rocks and cacti.

The John W. Garrison home at 807 E. 13th blended artfully with a small yard containing several raised beds. In bloom were phlox and dahlias, and special plants were on display in the greenhouse.

Mrs. J. E. Smith, president, announced the annual family picnic would be held July 21 at Jefferson Street Park, site of the club beautification project.

Refreshments were served in the Garrison home.

MRS. G. C. BAIRD, MARK, (Standing), MICHAEL, BRETT AND KEVIN

Husband-Wife Team Shares Ups And Downs Of Career

By JO BRIGHT

"How long have you been with the Air Force?" was the casual wording of the question asked this week of Mrs. G. C. Baird. Without hesitation, the answer came.

"I've been in the Air Force ten years—but my husband has been in since he was 18 years old," she said.

Capt. and Mrs. Baird may typify the average young Air Force couple in their thinking. Although she does not share her husband's responsibilities and cannot take credit for accomplishments pertaining to his career, Mrs. Baird, nevertheless, shares her husband's loyalty and enthusiasm.

The Bairds live at 11-A Al-brook where they are rearing, and enjoying four handsome sons. The boys are Michael, 9, Mark, 8, Kevin, 6, and Brett, 2. It is Brett who is receiving the most attention now, just as each boy was the center of attraction when he was the youngest. Their mother said that they are healthy energetic and have good appetites—as long as she keeps the food simple.

"I learned to cook 'southern style' and that is the way they like it," she said. "In traveling with us, they have been exposed to elaborate dishes and I occasionally serve fancier things at home, but they still prefer the flavor of good food, simply cooked."

Mrs. Baird, an only child, said that she learned to cook by helping her mother, Mrs. C. W. Fitzgerald of Charleston, S.C., and by taking homemaking when she was in high school. She sews but said she did things in "dibs and dabs."

"I knit in the winter and embroider in the summer," she remarked, "but only as the mood strikes me. I don't get so involved with something that I can't lay it down."

In speaking of embroidery, Mrs. Baird described a top bed sheet brought to her by her aunt, Mrs. R. L. Fitzgerald, who is a guest in their home this week. The sheet is hemstitched and edged with crochet and has an embroidered pattern in the center. Mrs. Baird said that she used to take fancy handwork for granted because it was used as a matter of course in southern homes, but that it is so scarce now she treasures all she receives.

In operating her home and kitchen, Mrs. Baird shops once a week for staple supplies—every Tuesday—and makes one or two quick trips during the week for fresh foods. The men in her family prefer pie for dessert but do not get it as often as they would like because the cook says it takes too many to fill them up. If not pie, they receive frozen desserts—homemade ice cream as often as they can get it. (The electric freezer will pay for itself this summer.)

The Bairds lived in Tripoli, Libya, for three years and Mrs. Baird was enchanted with the area and its customs.

"Living in Tripoli was a good experience for all of us," she said. "It was almost like living in Biblical times, and for those people who did not expect state-side conveniences, it was refreshing and thought-provoking."

Mrs. Baird shared several recipes that are simple and quick which you'll want to try when time is limited—or you're feeling lazy.

FRUIT SALAD
1 cup Mandarin oranges (drained)
1 cup pineapple chunks (drained)
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1 cup flake coconut
1 cup sour cream
Refrigerate for at least 4 hours or overnight before serving.

"SLOPPY JOES"
1 lb. ground beef
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 cup chili sauce
Salt and pepper to taste. Sauté beef in 1 tablespoon oil only until meat loses red color. Add cheese and chili sauce, mix thoroughly and remove from heat. Fill hot dog buns with mixture, wrap in foil and place in oven until heated through. These may be made and then frozen for later use.

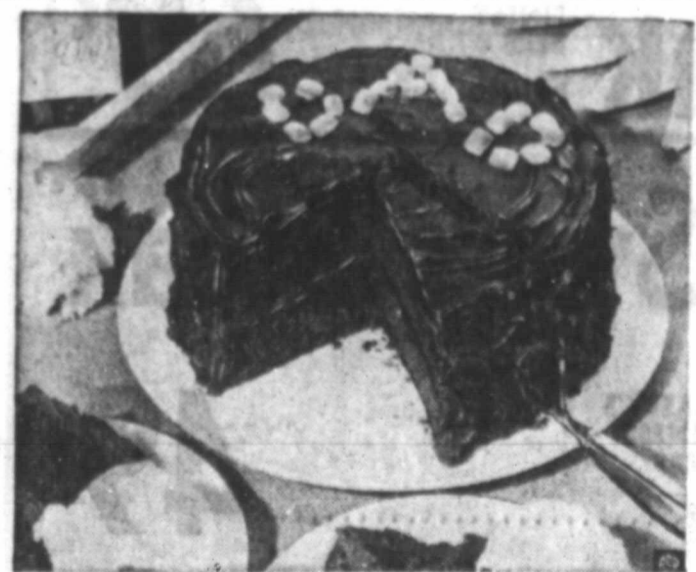

OPEN FACED SANDWICHES
Toast bread or buns. Cover each slice with:
Pork and beans
Minced onions
Tomato slice
Slices of bacon
Cook in broiler 'til bacon is done.

HAWAIIAN PORK CHOPS
Brown chops in skillet and place in pan to bake. On each chop place:
1 slice pineapple
1 slice onion
1 slice green pepper
Pour over the chops:
¾ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup vinegar
Salt and pepper to taste
Bake in moderate oven for 1 hour. Serve with rice.

CREAMY DESSERT HAS FRUIT BLEND
A make-ahead dessert will please guests and family.

PINEAPPLE CREAM
1 can (1 lb., 4 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup strained orange juice
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup heavy cream, whipped
Drain pineapple until there is 1 cup of syrup and about 1½ cups fruit. In a medium bowl, soften the gelatin in the orange juice. Heat pineapple syrup just to boiling point and add to softened gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Add sugar and stir until dissolved.

Chill until slightly thickened; beat until fluffy. Fold in drained pineapple and whipped cream. Turn into a 1-quart mold; chill until firm; unmold. Serve with custard sauce. Makes 8 servings.

CHOCOLATE FAVORITE
An Easy-to-make Cake for Dad

Make Father Happy With Dazzling Cake

Surprise Dad on Father's Day with a chocolate cake you made yourself. Serve it with his favorite ice cream—and make the presentation complete with a thoughtful gift, and a carnation for his jacket. What father would not be pleased with all this—especially if the cake is his favorite flavor made with an easy-to-do fudge coconut cake mix! The frosting needs no cooking; just beat, beat, beat it until it's smooth and creamy. Mints form that loved word "Dad."

DAD'S FUDGE COCONUT LAYER CAKE
1 pkg. fudge coconut cake mix
6 tbsps. butter or other shortening

3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
¾ tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. salt
2½ sqs. unsweetened chocolate, melted
5 tbsps. milk (about)
Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Bake in two each addition. Add vanilla, salt and chocolate; mix well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with milk, until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Then beat vigorously until mixture is creamy. Makes 2½ cups of frosting. Spread filling between layers, on top and sides of cake. Write "DAD" on top with mints or miniature marshmallows.

Shake-Up Liked By Teeners

"Shake-ups" are current favorites with the teen crowd. Here's a fad to be encouraged since milk and ice cream give this summer drink important nutrients.

TEA SHAKE
1 cup milk
2 tsps. instant tea
2 tsps. sugar
Pour milk into an electric blender. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and blend for 15 seconds. Serves 1. If using a jar be sure to shake vigorously.

Don't forget the many other beverages that are so popular with the young and old alike. There are new twists to coffee, milk drinks and even lemonade.

LICORICE CHOCOLATE MILK
1 quart chocolate milk
2 tsps. anise seed
Heat milk to boiling point. Add anise seed and cook over low heat 3 to 5 minutes. Chill. Strain and serve. Garnish with licorice stick straw, as desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SAN FRANCISCO FLOAT
Everyday lemonade can be varied, too, by different garnishes. Garnish tall glasses with small bunches of seedless grapes, or fresh strawberries. Mint sprigs, maraschino cherries and whole-cinnamon sticks can be used.

1 6-ounce can frozen concentrate for lemonade
2 eggs
3 cups milk
1 pint strawberry ice cream
Beat concentrate for lemonade and eggs together until well blended. Gradually add milk, beating constantly. Pour into glasses.
Top with scoop of ice cream. Serve with straws and spoons. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Summer Weddings Deserve Special Menu For Bride

Here's an inexpensively beautiful home wedding party idea that will compete with the bride herself for first honors of the day! The feathery, fragile face of babies'-breath shadowing a lovely old planter used as a beverage holder and cooler, a bouquet of Calla Lily Wedding Appetizers, and a Wedding Ring Sandwich Loaf any guest will want to slip around his tongue. Here is a table of the whispery message of a wedding. Just try it on for taste!

CALLA LILY APPETIZERS
2 large white turnips
2 tsps. chopped chives
4 1¼-oz. wedges of Roquefort Cheese or 1 5-oz. jar of Blue Cheese spread
1 small carrot
Watercress
Pare turnips. Slice them very thin. Pare carrot and cut into thin strips. Cut strips about 3 inches long. Combine cheese and chives. Bring opposite edges of turnip slices together, overlapping ends to form a cone shape. Fasten overlapped ends with a toothpick. Chill in ice water for 5 minutes.
Remove, and fill with cheese mixture and chill. Cover with damp paper toweling until serving time. Then insert a carrot strip for stamen of lily and garnish with watercress. Makes 36 to 40 lilies. Best if not kept more than 2-3 hours. Serve as separate dish or garnish another dish like Wedding Ring Sandwich Loaf with Calla Lily Appetizers.

WEDDING RING SANDWICH LOAF
1 loaf fresh regular sliced bread
2 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
1 cup mayonnaise
2 medium-sized cucumbers
1 cup chopped watercress
1 tsp. curry powder
Pare cucumbers. Grate them on medium grater. (Makes about 2 cups). Combine cucumber, chopped cress and cream cheese. Blend well. Trim crusts from bread slices. Press 9 trimmed slices into the bottom and up onto the sides of a 1½ quart ring mold. (Bread will completely cover bottom and outer inside edge of mold.) Spread this bread generously with cream cheese mixture using a little over half of mixture. Press to smooth firmly and evenly. Cut remaining bread slices in half.
Arrange half of them over cream cheese layer. Spread with remaining cream cheese mixture. Then top with the rest of the bread, cutting it where necessary to completely cover the filling. Cover with waxed paper and chill at least two hours. Then blend together mayonnaise and curry powder. Unmold sandwich ring onto a large chilled serving plate. Spread it with the curry mayonnaise and garnish with watercress. Slice at the table with a sharp serving knife. Makes 16 to 20 servings.

SILVERED FRUITED BRIDAL CAKES
Serve the guests their individual, fruited bridal cakes... from a double or triple-tiered muffiniere. Decorate the top shelf of the server with pastel flowers... white and yellow roses, lacy fern.

1 pkg. fruit cake mix
Handful of drazees
1 pt. whipped cream
Prepare fruit cake mix according to directions on package. Put into muffin pan. When finished, decorate these like small individual wedding cakes. Frost or coat them in whipped cream and put dragees (tiny candied silver shot) over the top or sides as you wish.

SPICY ICED COFFEE
3 cups hot, double strength coffee

HOME PARTY
Beauty and budget combined in festive menu

2 cinnamon sticks
4 cloves
4 allspice berries
Pour coffee over spices. Let stand an hour. Strain and pour over ice in four tall glasses. Serve with cream and sugar.
A basic iced coffee recipe can be varied in many ways. Stick cinnamon makes a fine stirrer for a glass of frosty coffee. Bitters are a tantalizing blend of many spices and a drop or two added to coffee, gives an exotic taste. Or add 1 to 1½ teaspoons maple syrup to each iced tea serving.

For those who like their coffee sweetened, simple sugar syrup is ideal. Or a teaspoon or two of chocolate syrup can be used as a sweetener. This makes a fine mocha cooler. Whipped cream is as tasty a topping for iced coffee as for hot. Sprinkle a dash of nutmeg over it.

If ice cream is added to iced coffee, be sure to leave out the ice cubes. Continentals rarely use cream in their coffee but they often add a twist of fresh lemon peel for flavor. Try it with iced coffee without cream.

Wins Performance Award

Mrs. Betty F. Weir is presented with a certificate of sustained superior performance, by Capt. Robert H. Epperson, (left), commander of Det. 2, 2053 Communications Squadron, Webb AFB. Mrs. Weir also was presented with a check for $100 as part of her award for superior job performance during the past year.

DEAR ABBY

A Time To Run—

DEAR ABBY: Last night I received a call from the mother of a 15-year-old girl. She said our 14-year-old son gave her daughter a black eye and a split lip. I was shocked and told my husband, who then gave our son a good beating. I have seen the girl, and is a good six inches taller than our son and at least 30 pounds heavier, so it was not a very fair match. Our boy said this girl started calling him names and, when he ignored her, she started hitting and kicking him. He said he didn't want to fight her, but he wasn't going to stand there and let her beat him up, so he hit her in self-defense. Do you think our boy was wrong? What was he supposed to do?

I think they are doing a friend a favor when they go in gangs to visit them in a hospital? My sister recently had a baby and six of her friends came at exactly two P.M. and they stayed the full two-hour visiting time. When more came, nobody left—they just crowded in, sitting all over the bed and the window sill. They laughed and talked among themselves and made a regular party out of it. When nighttime came, my poor sister was so exhausted she had to have a hypo to put her to sleep. Whose fault is this? I say the nurses should not allow visitors to wear the patients out.

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Nurses cannot police every room. Most hospitals have rules limiting the number of visitors each patient may have, and how long they may stay. Furthermore, surely a friend would not take offense if the patient, on becoming tired, frankly told her guests she wanted to nap a bit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO R. F. J.: Living need not cost you any more today than it did 40 years ago. That is, if you don't mind living like they did 40 years ago.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR BEWILDERED: If your husband married another woman while he was still legally married to you, HE is the bigamist, not YOU. See a lawyer and find out where you stand.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

DEAR ABBY: Why do people

Dr. Lemmons Leaves VA

Dr. Ronald E. Lemmons, assistant chief of surgery at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital under Dr. Houston J. Zinn, is leaving Saturday to go into a private practice in Mantowoc, Wis. He has been one of the 15 doctors at the hospital since July 1, 1962. A native of Longview, he graduated from high school there in 1951 and attended Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Va., as a pre-med student. He received his medical training at Tulane Medical School in New Orleans between 1954-1958, and then served a one year internship and three year residency at Touro Infirmary in New Orleans. He then came to Big Spring. His two years at the local VA hospital have been spent in preparation for taking an exam making him a member of the American Board of Surgeons. It will be taken in December. He is married to the former Miriam Weathersby, New Orleans, and they have five children, Robert, 12, Linda, 11, Mark, 10, Kevin, 7, and Robin, two-months. Lemmons is active in the First Baptist Church.

Students Can't Find Summer Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — Many college students are finding it harder than usual to get summer jobs. In most areas there just aren't enough to go around. Upperclassmen taking professional training are having the most success, an Associated Press survey of major colleges indicates. Girls who can do office work also are in demand. Thousands of jobs at the New York World's Fair are attracting collegians from around the country. While business conditions are excellent, they haven't provided as many job opportunities as expected. Automation has eliminated some unskilled jobs but it has created others, such as in computer processing.

Dog Bites Lad

A dog bit Tim Watts, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon E. Watts about 6 p.m. Tuesday as the boy rode his bicycle in the 1500 block of Cherokee. Mrs. Watts today said her son's ankle was swollen, but no stitches were taken. Animal Warden Bob Baker said the dog would be placed under observation.

The bidding:
 North East South West
 1♣ 1♦ Pass 2♥
 Pass 3♦ Pass 3NT
 Double Pass 4♠ Double
 Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
 In order to foil declarer's efforts in today's hand, the defenders were obliged to make their spades separately—no mean feat considering the scarcity of their trumps.

North thought his opponents had committed a serious miscalculation when they bid aggressively to reach three no trump, and he doubled. South, who had remained discreetly silent to this point, was aware that he could contribute nothing to the defense. As a safety measure, he decided to sacrifice at four spades. Holding an eight card suit, he was convinced that the loss would be slight and he was confident that he could achieve a substantial saving if it proved that the opponents could make their bid.

West opened the queen of diamonds and the ace was played from the dummy. Since the declarer was confronted with two sure trump losers even if spades broke, it was essential to take some discards on North's high hearts immediately if he were not to concede defeat without a struggle. The ace of hearts was cashed followed by the king on which South discarded a diamond from his hand. Next came the queen of hearts which was ruffed by East's queen of spades as South threw the ten of diamonds.

The natural course at this point for East would be to play the king of diamonds. However, the latter was convinced that declarer was now void of the suit and, since South obviously held a great many spades, there appeared to be little profit in playing a forcing game. East shifted to a small club and West put up the ace. The latter now led a fourth round of hearts enabling his partner to score with the king of spades, as South helplessly underruffed. West's ace of trumps took the setting trick.

Observe that, if South had discarded his singleton club along with one diamond on the dummy's hearts, he would have gone down to defeat anyway. When East ruffs in with the queen of spades, he can cash a high diamond and, on the continuation of that suit, West will make the ace of spades on an overruff. The king of trumps now defeats the contract.

More State Parks Being Proposed

AUSTIN (AP) — "To survive and win the race for inner space," Texas is adopting a public recreational program designed to increase park acreage seven times within the next 35 years, a parks official said today.

"A new era is needed, and has been initiated since a willingness to proceed has been expressed by the governing bodies of the state," said W. M. Gosdin, assistant parks director of Texas.

He spoke to the American Association for Conservation Information, holding its national convention here.

Gosdin said a plan has been completed expanding the present 62,000 state park acreage to 435,000 acres by the year 2000, and added: "It is a bold plan. The price is reasonable and will properly guide future developments."

"They (the parks) should be water-oriented if possible, for 60 per cent of the recreation in the United States is water-oriented. One American out of 24 owns a boat, but one out of 13 Texans owns boats and in dry West Texas the ratio is even higher," Gosdin said.

"What does Texas have to offer? Texas has an environment that includes the subtropics of the South, the Rio Grande and gateway to Mexico; arid deserts in the West, rugged canyons and mountains, spreading plains, pine forests in the East; scenic hill country, the Gulf Coast with 370 miles of coast line, Cypress swamps, and man-made reservoirs.

Henry LeBlanc Sr., Port Arthur, told the group, "In this era of space exploration a more concentrated program for natural resource management and use is needed—or else there won't be enough space on this earth for the people and those animals which share it with them."

LeBlanc, president of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, said "if we are to have more hunters and fishermen as we surely will, we must concentrate all our efforts toward creating habitats which will support greater numbers of game animals and other forms of wildlife.

"It is only natural that some of the least desirable species such as carp, buffalo fish, rice-bird and nutria should be controlled in order to make more room for what we might consider the better species."

Regional Bridge Tourney Slated

FORT WORTH — A regional red point duplicate bridge tournament is to be held at the Texas Hotel from July 1-5. About 2,000 bridge players, many nationally known, are expected to compete for the master points and silver trophies.

The Fort Worth Duplicate Bridge Club is sponsoring the event and it has the sanction of the American Contract Bridge League of New York. Leo Seewald and Alvin Landy, president and executive secretary of the 175,000 nation-wide ACBL membership are to be present and participate.

Electorate Often Could Care Less

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Sometime on Nov. 3, the American voter will step into a private enclosure and cast his ballot.

His political reasoning — his expectations, his hates, his dreams and his frustrations — is melted down into that one act. It has been called "a helluva way to run a country," but it works.

Looking at the American voter under a microscope, he becomes a boiling brew of fact, superstition, prejudice and fantasy. But standing back and looking at the whole man, the total electorate, he becomes the marvel of the age.

PICTURES

Analysts at the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research have been compiling their picture of why the American votes since 1948 — with pre- and post-election interviews. They have also stood back to look at the whole man.

Politics — essentially the running of the government — appears to be only on the edge of his consciousness, the outer limits of his world, a low mark on the priority list of personal affairs.

Over half of the voters — the interviewers found — live their lives without becoming involved in party politics to any great extent.

There are some who will deny this — shame them for their ignorance and disinterest, said Prof. Angus Campbell, who heads the SRC.

In a sense, these voters have abdicated their responsibility — but in another sense they have not.

EXPERT

In an early, simpler day everybody could be an expert in public affairs, Campbell said. But today politics has become complex and has more competition with other arenas of life.

You can't be informed about anything without cost. As public affairs have become more complicated — probing space, nuclear energy, medicare — the cost goes up.

Finally when so many things go on that the voter can't understand, he is forced to delegate responsibilities.

And at times, it becomes quite difficult to see the voter's mind. On Medicare, for example, "I doubt very much if 10 per cent of the voters have an active interest in it," Campbell said. "Yet if you ask them, they will say, 'Yes.'"

For many voters the picture is the instinctive one.

REACT

"By and large, the thing that people do react to is some sense that things are not going well — that the economy is going badly, or that foreign events are going badly, or that there is corruption or dishonesty in government," Campbell said.

In fact the voter seems to have a stockholder-management idea of the whole thing. If the management seems to be doing its job honestly, if things are going well, the voter is apparently satisfied and votes to keep the management in, or abstains from voting.

If things are going badly, he votes the old management out. The campaign often is pictured as a sort of college debate, in which two bright men trade arguments on the issues before an intelligent, informed audience.

NOT THE CASE

But the extensive interviews with the voters shows this is not the case. The debate may favor the image of one candidate over another, however. Many people cited the 1960 debates as improving the Kennedy image, for instance.

Whatever the issues were, the debates for most Americans seemed to be a clash of personalities. For some, they were even less than that.

Said one strong Democrat for Kennedy: "I just watched them for a little while. I don't even know what they were talking about. I really didn't listen very much. I'm sorry. I suppose I should — but I just don't."

And one man — embarrassed apparently after admitting to the interviewer how little he knew of the political picture — said, "If I had known you were coming, I'd have studied up."

And so it goes. From Washington, D.C., the politician sallies forth to debate issues, to argue philosophies, to convince and explain.

But to the American voter the deciding questions are his own political convictions or lack of convictions, his sense of the nation's course at the moment — and the personalities of the men on the ballot.

In times of calm, the voter buoys up the ship of state on the placid sea of his own indifference and apathy. But in times of trouble, the sea rises up — becomes a tide of indignation and frustration, and the politician learns who is master of the ship.

Russians Are Growing Foods In Window Boxes

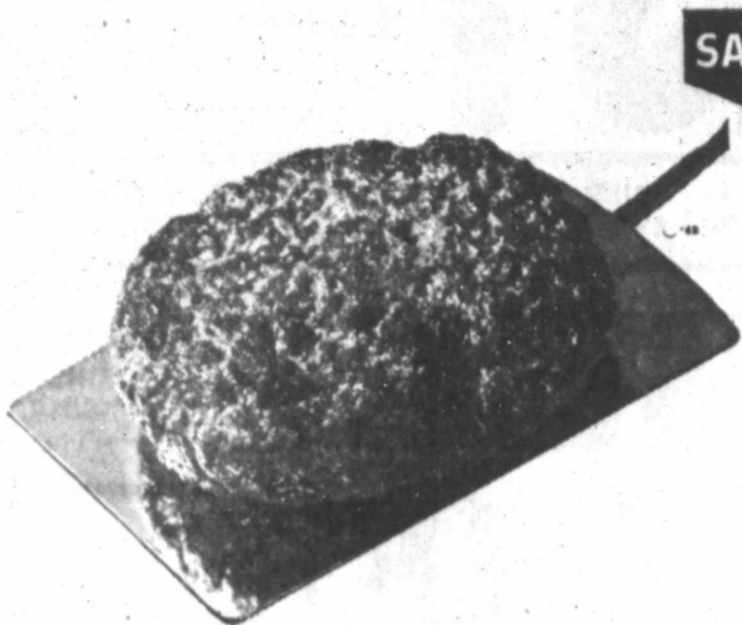

MOSCOW (AP) — Vegetable plants are coming up in the window boxes of apartment buildings that house most of Moscow's 6.4 million residents. Flowers are growing gaily in the many parks that dot Mos-northern summer. Trees transplanted most of the year turn overnight into dense canopies of green.

Grass along the wide boulevards is more than lush — it is unkempt in most places. The city devotes much effort to keeping streets and walks clear of snow during the long winter. Men and, predominantly, women are out shoveling. Some of them, including the women, dig ditches in the summer. Few are deployed with lawn mowers.

If the city does not cut the grass, no one does. Living in apartment houses is not conducive to taking pride in a well-kept yard.

That is one of the problems of the Soviet Union. Collective ownership leads to a lack of personal interest. The country's cousins of Moscow residents produce an estimated half of the national agricultural value on the 3.3 per cent of farmed land that is private kitchen plots. All the collective and state farms supply only half.

Recommends Silver Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prompt minting of 45 million new silver dollars was recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The group included this proposal in an annual appropriation bill to supply $6,240,423,000 of operating funds for the Treasury and Post Office departments and the White House executive office.

The total is $15,003,000 more than allowed by the House but $23,268,000 below President Johnson's budget requests.

When the House acted on the bill, it rejected requests by Western congressmen for minting of silver dollars.

But Western senators, led by Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, pressed the committee for minting dollars. No silver dollars have been produced since 1935.

Van Dyke's Emmy Follows A Long Line Of Failures

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's not in the cards for Dick Van Dyke's Emmy to go to his head. He has been too familiar with the sour smell of failure. Dick can match his failures with any star in the business and have a few flops left over. Dick got in more or less by default. He and a pal tried to start an advertising agency in Danville, Ill., after the war but the town wasn't big enough to support one. The pair began playing around the area with a record act—miming to the records of famous personalities. Encouraged by their success, they came to California and scored a hit in several small night clubs. Then they were booked into the bigtime—Slapsy Maxie's, where Martin and Lewis made their Hollywood debut.

"It was a disaster," Dick recalled. "A lot of big stars were there opening night. I remember Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz and Barry Sullivan. They just sat and looked at us. We didn't get a laugh in the whole show. When we came offstage, we were handed our sagaries and told to leave."

The act also was canceled out of the Blue Angel in New York, and Dick and his partner, Phil Erickson, took to the road for jobs. That wasn't easy, since they had two wives and six children between them. They finally broke up the act in Atlanta in 1952, and Dick took a job as announcer with a local television station.

He started his own show which he wrote and performed for two hours each week, painting the scenery on weekends. A New Orleans station lured him away. Then he was tapped by CBS to join its stable of promising young comics.

Instant stardom? Nope.

"I was on the first panel of 'To Tell the Truth' as the comic relief, only it didn't turn out that way," he said. "I was fired after four shows. Then I did another panel, 'Laugh Line,' and a daytime show in which I was supposed to be the new Tom Brennan. Each was dropped after the first possible cancellation time, 13 weeks."

For a whole year he did nothing but mow the lawn, play golf and collect his CBS check. Finally he told the network he wasn't getting anywhere, and the contract was dissolved. Dick tried a play in Bucks County, Pa., then landed a Broadway revue with Bert Lahr, Nancy Walker and Shelley Berman. Dick got great reviews. The show lasted 15 days.

Dick hunted for other acting jobs. A television spectacular led to "Bye Bye Birdie" on Broadway, which led to his award-winning CBS series plus movie roles such as his current one in "The Art of Love."

Despite his success, he instinctively glances backward now and then. "The whole thing could blow up at any time," he says.

Beef Facts

Safeway beef prices are down. This you can check for yourself. Safeway beef sales are up. Up twice as much as the U.S. increase in beef consumption, proving the effectiveness of Safeway promotions featuring the outstanding values that beef offers. Safeway does not own, raise or feed any livestock, either directly, on contract or in any other way—and does not own or operate any meat slaughtering plants. Safeway has everything to gain by working for, not against, the prosperity of beef producers. Families of producers, feeders, shippers, and local businessmen directly dependent on agricultural income are very important to us as customers—and we need strong producers to supply us with the quality and quantity of beef required to satisfy our customers.

Oil Firms Win A Victory

AUSTIN (AP) — Major oil firms attempting to recover for oil allegedly taken from under their leases by slant-hole operators won a small victory Wednesday in the State Supreme Court.

The court ruled no appeal can be made from Dist. Judge A. R. Stout's order transferring a damage suit from Rusk to Smith County because of prejudice.

Stout, of Waxahachie, set aside a February 1962 Henderson jury verdict freeing operator H. L. Long from any damages sought by Humble Oil Co., calling the jury finding "a rank miscarriage of justice." Stout then transferred the $475,000 suit to adjacent Smith County.

Long appealed Stout's ruling to the Texas Court of Civil Appeals, which said the order cannot be appealed. The Supreme Court agreed Wednesday.

Humble asked for the change of venue because "there is a combination against us by influential persons with interest in leases on which the directional wells are surfaced."

The ruling affects five other cases, which were consolidated in the Long case. The suits are all by Humble, against John Baton, W. O. Davis, Elba Corp., Burk Royalty Co. and Nortex Oil and Gas Corp.

Tedious And Frustrating

One of the possibly unexpected popular discoveries arising from our involvement in the defense of South Viet Nam is this: Guerrilla and anti-guerrilla tactics cannot be learned at West Point.
Military experts discovered this long ago, of course. The British were never prepared at Sandhurst, the British army equivalent of West Point, to cope with the American frontiersman. Even our own frontiersmen might never have been able to cope with the American Indian if we had not had the overwhelming advantage of numbers and firepower.
The only adequate training ground for our officers and men is on the ground, in the vast rice paddy areas of the Mekong Delta or the jungle and mountain forests of Viet Nam.
The lot of the serviceman in South Viet Nam is, if anything, less rewarding than his role in Korea. In Korea at least he was a full-fledged combatant and his exploits were not ignored by his countrymen. In contrast, the American serviceman in South Viet Nam is nominally an adviser. On rare occasions he may be in control of a localized engagement. But the decisions on strategy and tactics are made by the South Vietnamese. Our advice may or may not be followed. Frustration on the part of our men is heightened by failure to follow our advice. Morale has not been a serious problem.

When military men discuss the situation in South Viet Nam, after postulating that the population's will to continue the fight will be sustained, they speak of a campaign of 10 or more years duration. Yet at home some politicians and armchair experts are demanding a quick settlement—even to the extreme of provoking a general war.
The race between patience and persistence on one hand and impatience for victory on the other is on. There is no one now who is willing to predict with certainty the outcome.

Challenge For Ingenuity

President Johnson's "war on poverty" has produced varied reactions. Those friendly to his crusade hold that nothing is impossible to a nation capable of harnessing nuclear power. There are also scoffers who cry, "Phony!" and that this is tied to the politics of an election year.
The debate is not new. Half a century ago Charles Booth, in a provocative survey among London's working people, laid low the then generally accepted theory that poverty's major causes were laziness, drunkenness and parasitic tendencies. These, he disclosed, accounted for only a small percentage of poverty, main causes being low wages, illness and large families. To these has been added, in our time, the decline in the number of unskilled jobs due to automation and other factors.

As Henry George once said, "The association of poverty with progress is the great enigma of our time." No one would willingly end poverty at the expense of progress. Our task is to learn how to continue progress without poverty. American know-how is the envy of the world. We do not lack the capacity to rid our affluence of poverty's barnacles of shame, degradation and despair. We will have to exercise our great capacity for ingenuity.

Holmes Alexander Goldwater And Civil Rights

WASHINGTON — Everybody, remarked a cynical Frenchman, talks about true love and the apparition of spirits—but nobody has ever seen either. Americans feel that way about the Man Who'd Rather Be Right Than President. They've heard about him, but have never seen him—till Barry Goldwater came along.
For being right, at the risk of not getting the Republican nomination, is exactly where the Senator stands on the Civil Rights bill today.

"I WANT to vote for the thing," he tells me. "On 9 of the 11 titles, I have no qualms at all. Especially the parts dealing with education and the right to vote. You give the Negro protection of his voting rights, and if he exercises the rights, he can pretty well take care of himself."
"But two of the Civil Rights titles, the ones of public accommodation and fair employment, I can't take. Not as they're written now. The Mansfield-Dirksen substitutes for these titles look to me like a hoax. They delay the process of Federal intervention, but they still permit the Government to poke its long arm into State affairs. I'm a business man. I just wonder how many Federal agents it will take to police a small enterprise with about 2,000 workers."

GOLDWATER SEES the Liberals using the Civil Rights bait to entrap the country into a police state, a censored society. He has studied the State Fair Employment Practices laws. They all move toward a quota system under which compulsory hiring is based on the ethnic percentages of the population. To Goldwater, this system isn't bestowing any "right" upon an individual, but it is taking a very basic right away from the employer. He says that if you deprive an employer of the right to hire whomever he chooses, you will soon drive him out of business—deprive him of his property.

BUT A VOTE against this bill, the interviewer reminded the Senator, might cost him the Republican nomination.
"That's all right with me," said Goldwater.
He'd like to be President, but he'd rather be right. He thinks he can be both, because the GOP Liberals who are still trying to stop him are only a "handful." Nothing succeeds like a primary victory. Before the California showdown, he had 55 House members announced, in public or private, for his candidacy. Today he has more than 100 Republican members. If the Civil Rights bill is passed and signed by the time of the Republican Convention, Goldwater will accept it as the law of the land. But if he votes against it, and a lot of people see him as a Repeal candidate, that'll be all right with Barry, too.

Billy Graham

Although I believe the Bible I don't have peace or assurance in my heart. What is wrong?—F.S.

Have you confused faith in the Bible with faith in the Christ revealed in the Bible? A Christian not only believes the written record—for it is there that we find God's marvelous revelation of truth we can find in no other way—but we must believe in Christ and trust Him as Savior and make Him Lord of life. Peace comes to our hearts when we realize that Christ has died for our sins and that He forgives us and saves us if we trust in Him. Assurance comes through faith, faith in Christ's word to do what He has promised.

We place confidence in the word of a friend whom we trust. How much more should we believe what God has promised. Let me urge you to read your Bible faithfully and every time as you begin reading ask God to speak to your heart.
And remember this: God expects us to be obedient to His revealed will. The devils believe and tremble but Christian believe and obey. When you do this God will give you peace and assurance in your heart.

Pin-Up Babies

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Even the ugliest babies are to become pin-ups at a hospital here.
To avoid any possible mix-up among new-born babies at Johannesburg gynaecologist photographs them within minutes of their birth, and hands the photograph to the mother.

"In no time at all," he said, "the mother has the new-born infant in one hand and the picture in the other. It's amazing how many mothers are frightened they may get the wrong baby."

He said two hospitals in Australia had recently introduced the same checking method.

This Is The Army

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—An Army reservist who doesn't want his name known attests to the following sequence.
His unit commander received a directive to initial any erasure or an official paper. A second order countermanded this but a third directive reinstated the initialing of erasures.
Then an official document, with an erasure and the proper initials, bounced back with this directive: "Erase the initials and initial the erasure."

James Marlow Opens Double Revolution

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has opened the doors to a double revolution in American life—and given it a new sense of justice—by stepping into a vacuum in race and politics.
The first revolution began just over 10 years ago when the court on May 17, 1954, declared the principle of racial segregation unconstitutional by outlawing segregation in public schools.
The second revolution began with three decisions — one in 1962, two this year — that elections to state legislatures and the House in Congress must be made more democratic by trying to give all voters an equal voice.

THE COURT has been accused of usurping power. If Congress thought so, it would have tried to curb the court. It did not. Instead, it accepted as law what the court did and has sought to conform to it.
It was the court, not Congress, which in 1954, finally said an end to unequal treatment of citizens. If the court had not acted, there was no indication Congress would have acted for another half century.
For the first 60 years of this century American politicians largely ignored that other priceless American possession: Full enjoyment by all citizens of the democratic process, meaning equal representation.

Why? Because these politicians would not yield power. In those 60 years there had been vast shifts in populations from cities to suburban areas.
FOR EXAMPLE: A state's rural legislative district, which years ago might have contained far more people, now had 20,000. A city district, which years ago might have had far fewer people, now had 100,000.
But each of those two districts under arrangements set up back in 1900, was entitled to only one state representative in the legislature. Thus each farm vote was now equal to five city votes.
Although state constitutions in many cases had provided for such conditions, by requiring reapportionment every 10 years or so to provide more or less equal voter representation, state politicians ignored their constitutions, did nothing.
NOR DID CONGRESS, whose members come from the states, do anything. Citizens protested but got no action. This went on for years. Finally, between 1962 and last Monday the court stepped in.

Say The Opposite
NEW YORK (AP) — If you really mean something, it's perfectly alright to think it — but don't say it.
In most cases, say just the opposite.
That is the only safe and sane rule for polite conversation. It is also the whole art of double-talk, skill in the use of which can advance you in the worlds of society and business and win you a reputation for warm sincerity.
Here are a few more useful examples:
"You're the only one I know who gave up smoking and didn't gain weight." When a bucket is already full of lard, how can you put anymore in?
"Senator, I don't know where we'd be without me like you, selflessly dedicated to the public interest." We'd be better off.
"Far once, let's pick a candidate we can all take pride in." For once, let's pick one who can get elected.
"I just adore backyard cookouts." And now that I've seen how you broil your steaks—I think I'll have some of that yummy charcoal instead.
"There isn't a single gray hair in your head, Ed. How do you keep it that color?" It looks like you use brown shoe polish on one temple, and black on the other.
"The thing I like about Grace is how she always says things in such an amusing way." Half a wit is always funnier than none.
"Oh, what a perfectly darling, darling, darling baby!"—Ugh—this one ought to set back parenthood half a century.
"Mind you, George, I'm not saying you're not worth more money to the firm." What I'm telling you, George, is that you are not going to get any more, now or later.
"According to the boss, young Abernathy looks like a real comer." So let's protect ourselves and gang up on him before the situation gets out of hand.
"Alice, your husband must be a real dolt to surprise you on your anniversary with such a stunning mink stole." So the gossip must be true — the old fool is cheating on her.
"Those sunglasses make you look like a movie star, Rose-marie." But they don't hide those big dark bags under your eyes, baby. How late were you out last night?
"Since you took that health course, Ronald, you've looked like a million dollars." Now what are you going to do to improve that 10-cent mind?

To Your Good Health Croup Occurs Principally In Very Young Children

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My four-year-old daughter recently went to bed feeling fine, but she woke up at midnight having difficulty in breathing. She could also hardly speak.
The doctor said it was croup and that when she got over it she should have her tonsils out. What causes croup? Can she get it again? What does a tonsillectomy have to do with it?—MRS. D. E. N.
Croup, which usually comes on as suddenly as you describe, is a spasm of the larynx, resulting from an acute infection of throat, larynx or upper bronchial tubes.
These infections can develop with startling abruptness in children. Since their respiratory passages are very small, the spasm makes breathing difficult. Why croup occurs principally in very young children, and seldom past the age of 5 or 6, is not known, but that is the case. It occurs primarily at night, also for unknown reasons, but it can happen at any time of year.
Removing tonsils will not stop croup; however, if they are chronically infected, they can be a source of sore throat (meaning infection) and can have an indirect bearing.

What to do when croup develops? Both you and the child are, naturally, frightened. But don't panic. Call the doctor; antibiotics or other medications usually are indicated.
Steam, with or without some aromatic material such as tincture of benzoin compound, either in an improvised tent or just in the child's room, is very helpful. A cough mixture may help if the child is old enough to take one.
Here's one old trick I found to work very well with my own youngsters—hot packs or plasters on the chest. Butter a piece of flannel with one of the medicated pastes, (pneumozine and antiphlogistine), and spread it across the chest. It eases the cough and sometimes helps the child drop off to sleep.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can I be about three months pregnant without my doctor being able to tell? He told me I wasn't, but I'm not convinced as I'm gaining quite a bit of weight, mostly around the stomach.—MRS. B. L.
When it is difficult to tell for sure, a laboratory test can be

Around The Rim Texas Looks To Her Parks

A plan to increase Texas parks is under way that should expand such acreage seven-fold in the coming years, according to parks officials. To which I would add "good work and it's about time."

FOR ALL THE state's vast area, it is pitifully poor in park areas. And most of the better developed parks are either maintained by the federal government, or city and county governments. Probably as big a step as any other is for the state to seek the funds to maintain the parks it already has designated. More parks, maintained no better than some of those now in existence, would still leave the state relatively park-poor.
We have an excellent example close to home. Although plans may be stirring to improve the situation, the Big Spring State Park has all but disintegrated. Such improvements as did exist were largely destroyed by vandals, and although a watchman is now stationed here, little money has been appropriated to begin a solid program of improvements.

COMPARE IT with the city-owned park, which will, in turn, compare with any in West Texas. In recent years, this park has been continually improved — with new playground equipment, sprinkler systems, pavilions, etc. There is probably not a

Richard Starnes The Picking Of A Cabinet (?)

WASHINGTON—Sometime between the disaster at the Cow Palace and the deluge in November, the following playlet is guaranteed to take place as the candidate and his brain trust soar high above reality in their campaign airplane.
THE CANDIDATE (briskly) — All right, you guys, you've had 24 hours to come up with some Cabinet nominations. Let's hear them.
FIRST AID (plucking nervously at a sleeve garter) — Well, Senator, we agreed that Defense was the toughest, and we thought...

CANDIDATE (with deprecating gesture) — Tut, tut. Defense is no problem at all. We'll offer it to Gen. Walker.
FIRST AID (aghast) — Gen. Walker for Secretary of Defense?
CANDIDATE (truculently) — He's pro-blue, isn't he? What's next?
SECOND AID — Attorney General is a difficult one. Lots of tidying up needs to be done in justice...
CANDIDATE (crossly) — In justice to whom?
SECOND AID — Justice Department, Senator.
CANDIDATE — Oh. How about Bob Welch? We owe him something.
FIRST AID — We were going to suggest Gov. Ross Barnett.
CANDIDATE — Both good men. Let's flip a coin. I have a pine tree shilling here someplace.

FIRST AID — You know, Senator, the Cabinet isn't the whole problem. You've got to have a press secretary to take care of things impossibly cutting off debate — was voted in the Senate the other day, this not only assured the early passage of the bill by the Senate but meant its enactment into law before the Republican convention opens on July 13 at San Francisco.
But there are many obstacles in the way, and lots of things can happen to delay final enactment until after the August. About the only way that any haste will be made is by the "steamroller" method.
IN FACT, the basic principles of the whole legislative process are about to be ignored just to meet the political exigencies arising out of the highly controversial "civil rights" legislation.
Theoretically, a bill of such major importance which has been materially changed in the Senate ought to be debated thoroughly by members of the House. At least they should be given time to study the exact effect of the changes.
BUT SO GREAT is the desire here to jam the measure through the House, in precisely the form it is finally agreed upon in the Senate, that the parliamentary maneuvering being discussed relate, not to the opportunities for consideration by the House, but to the best way to avoid any further changes by the House.
Usually, when a bill comes over from the Senate, the House manager of the bill asks unanimous agreement of the House that it be sent to conference, but a single objection can upset this procedure. When that occurs, the bill automatically goes to the House Rules Committee, which happens to be presided over today by a chairman who is not anxious to hasten the measure through to passage and might want hearings on the amendments. If the measure did go to conference, it is feared that changes might be made to meet the viewpoint of the House members. All this the Johnson administration and the "civil rights" leaders in Congress wish

David Lawrence 'Steamroller' For Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON — Just when will a "civil rights" bill finally be passed? Inquiries on Capitol Hill bring a variety of responses. The country has been told that when cloture — cutting off debate — was voted in the Senate the other day, this not only assured the early passage of the bill by the Senate but meant its enactment into law before the Republican convention opens on July 13 at San Francisco.
But there are many obstacles in the way, and lots of things can happen to delay final enactment until after the August. About the only way that any haste will be made is by the "steamroller" method.

UNDER THESE circumstances, the bill doesn't have to go to the Rules Committee, where it could be held up. The control over suspension of the rules is by the Speaker himself. He schedules action for certain Mondays. Usually, there is a total of about 40 minutes' debate, and passage requires a two-thirds vote of the members present. Inasmuch as the House bill was originally passed by more than two-thirds, the theory is that, even with the acceptance of the Senate changes, a two-thirds majority could again be attained.
The big question is: When might this take place? The situation varies from day to day, and about all that can be said with certainty is that ultimately a "civil rights" bill will be enacted into law. The exact day this summer is still anybody's guess.

Meat Research Citations Made

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Live Stock and Meat Board awarded research citations to two college professors for "distinguished achievement in the field of meat research."

Receiving one citation was Dr. Sylvia Cover of Texas A&M University, who developed methods of measuring meat tenderness before cooking. She also studied the effects of cooking temperature and time on the tenderness of roasts.

The other citation went to Dr. Pearl Swanson of Iowa State University. Dr. Swanson studied the relationship of sound nutrition to human health, and has done research on the nutritional needs and problems of the aged.

WHEN CODE REVISED

No-Carcass Dragging

By PRESTON MAYNARD

Residents may soon be allowed to drag a dead carcass through the streets of Big Spring.

Or leave home lights burning all night.

If some old ordinances are abolished in the revision of municipal laws now under way, these are some new freedoms local citizens will obtain, for both are now limited by two ordinances on the books.

An ordinance passed on Sept. 2, 1929, includes a section prohibiting residents from dragging a dead carcass through the streets. Another ordinance requires turning out lights as a precaution against enemy bombers. It was enacted in 1942.

Revision of the city code is being carried out by city officials and a Florida firm specializing in such work. Completion of the project will make available for the first time all city ordinances in printed, bound volumes available to all city department heads.

OVER 1,200

The city now has more than 1,200 ordinances, according to John Burgess, city attorney. The revised code will contain 13 articles, including more than 90 sections. Only ordinances of a general or regulatory nature will be included.

"It's a step toward maximum efficiency in the operation of the city," Burgess said. He and other city officials have directed study preceding work by the Florida firm.

At present the only complete volumes of all ordinances are in the city secretary's office, with the ordinances in chronological order. The printed copies will provide an indexed system.

The revision involves few changes in the law itself, Burgess said, although health, sanitation and food ordinances are being updated to meet requirements of state and national health laws. Terminology is also being changed in some ordinances.

One old ordinance permitted use of fans, in addition to screens or enclosures, to keep flies away from food in eating places. Under the revised code, fans will not be allowed.

REPEAL-RE-ADOPT

To put the new code into effect, it will be necessary to "wipe the slate clean" and re-adopt the entire city code, Burgess said. The City Commission will consider the revised code at a public meeting. Some new or broadened ordinances will be included.

The city's dog ordinance is being expanded to include cats as well. Cats "found running at large in violation of this section may be impounded under the terms and subject to the same conditions as provided in sections 4-23 through 4-26 for dogs."

And city officials expressed hopes that no longer will some ordinances contradict others.

Ordinances which have been repealed or superseded by other ordinances are being omitted. A single maximum penalty of $200 for code violations, the maximum allowed for municipal fines under state law, has also been set. The code now carries maximum penalties of varying amounts. The provision concerning operation of the municipal auditorium has also been revised and included.

COST OF PROJECT

Cost of the revision and printing is estimated by Burgess at $4,500. Galley proofs have been received and will be read by city officials and returned to the firm, the Municipal Code Corporation of Tallahassee, Fla. The firm previously had the city's ordinance books in its Florida offices for study by its legal staff.

Burgess said the city should have the printed volumes by fall. Bids were first taken on the project in December, 1962. Last November Burgess met for two days with Robert Ussery, vice president of the firm, to study the ordinances. They also met with several city department heads and some Chamber of Commerce committees, Burgess said.

Health ordinances were studied with Dr. R. E. Johnson, Howard, Midland and Ector counties health officer. Burgess also prepared a memorandum for the City Commission on possible changes.

An advantage of the bound volumes will be that new ordinances can be inserted in the loose leaf books. A price has also been specified for each added page.

"Many cities, particularly our size and larger, are revising codes," said Burgess. This is the first time Big Spring has attempted to revise its city code.

New Stations Are Getting Calls

Firemen at the two new stations answered fewer calls during the first month the stations were in operation, according to Fire Chief H. V. Crocker.

He said Station No. 5 at 1603 Wason Road sent a truck to a false alarm May 23, eight days after the stations opened. The other new station, No. 6 at 2906 W. 13th, also answered a call on May 23—to a house fire, Crocker said. Firemen from this station also extinguished another house fire on May 26, and they were called to a car fire June 7.

"They're beginning to take the load off other stations," Crocker said. The chief pointed out the new stations will enable firemen to reach the scene of fires in the west and south part of town much quicker.

The new stations also were a factor in the reduction of the city's fire rate from 22 cents to 19 cents.

Calls Barry Political Fanatic

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A senatorial candidate of the government Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI) says that he believes Barry Goldwater is a poor candidate because he is a "political fanatic." Labor leader Jesus Yuren, the candidate, said Wednesday that a Mexican presidential candidate, Jose Gonzalez Torres of the National Action Party (PAN) is worse.

Roofer Admits Several Rapes

DALLAS (AP)—A 24-year-old roofer admitted Wednesday he is the early-morning rapist who has had the area on a frightened alert for months, police said.

Roy Tyrone Stanford, who came to Dallas from Chicago about five months ago, signed statements concerning three rapes, including the attack on a 13-year-old girl, and, according to Police Capt. Will Fritz, told of "several more rapes—he's not sure how many."

Stanford was arrested Tuesday after a traffic violation.
