Kennedys Visit Polish Cardinal

Crowds Cheer, Officials Chill On RFK Departure

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy's visit to Poland ended today with a noisy, tearful farewell from hundreds of Poles and a cold shudder from the Communist government.

Before leaving for London, en route to the United States, he issued a statement to newsmen urging "the reconciliation of Eastern and Western Europe in association with the United States" as "the only sure guarantee against nuclear war, whether by design or accident."

Settle UAW Contract In Detroit, Says Reuther

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther said today a new contract between the UAW and Ford Motor Co. "will be worked out in Detroit where cars are made, not in Washington."

Negotiations with the last of the big three auto producers—Chrysler—are scheduled to begin Thursday. First-round talks with American Motors start July 8.

The government was understood to be irritated at Kennedy's series of stump-style speeches to street crowds and his visit to Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, against the advice of government officials.

Trustees Recant June Expansion Decisions

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday took some second looks at decisions approved during a meeting June 16, and decided they may have moved too hastily.

Enrollment figures showed that the junior class of the past school year was almost double the senior class, which would require more classroom space.

Wendal Parks said he felt the board could realize some $200,000 saving on the high school plant bids, since construction prices seem to be going downward, and that this money could be used to start construction of the administration-service center to provide extra room at South Ward for temporary quarters to begin vocational instruction.

Success In Illinois Buoy Goldwater

Scranton Clings To Hope Of Eisenhower's Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton's supporters, rebuffed in Illinois, clung to the hope today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would help prevent Sen. Barry Goldwater from getting the top presidential nomination.

The survey shows 118 delegates committed to Goldwater by primary election laws, 257 instructed by state or district conventions, 82 personally pledged to him and 271 who favor him but are not bound or pledged to him.

Arizonan Adds Nine More Votes

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's smashing success with the Illinois delegation prompted his backers today to renew predictions of an early ballot victory for the Republican presidential nomination.

CONFIDENT OUTLOOK

Down Spiral Halted In Viet Nam — Lodge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that the "downward spiral" in the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam has been stopped.

Lodge said he couldn't give any details of his discussion with Eisenhower on political matters.

He said "we will win" if the United States and the South Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies.

KEEP UP

With the local news, even while you are away on vacation, you can do this by ordering The Herald's VACATION PAC. This means all your papers will be saved for you, and delivered upon your return in a handy, all-purpose plastic bag.

AIR STRIKES

Lodge did not spell out what additional steps might be employed against Communist forces in Southeast Asia. There has been considerable talk from U.S. officials in recent weeks about possibly carrying the war to North Viet Nam by air strikes, but he did not mention that.

St. Augustine Truce Agreed

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Racial peace returned to St. Augustine today after a month of turmoil.

Both sides in the dispute agreed to a truce while a secret biracial committee attempts to find a middle ground.

Gov. Farris Bryant said he had named the committee to function until a permanent biracial committee is established as recommended June 18 by a county grand jury. He declined to identify the interim group's members.

Burned But Lucky

Survivors of the worst disaster in the history of offshore oil drilling are assisted from a helicopter that brought them to a Morgan City, La., hospital. They are smeared with first aid salves for burns. Of the 43 men aboard the C. P. Baker, a $6 million floating oil drilling rig, 28 were feared dead. The rig went down in 180 feet of water 72 miles out in the Gulf after puncturing a shallow pocket of gas, which was ignited as it spewed up around the rig. (AP WIREPHOTO)

EASY VICTORY

Robertson and other Goldwater supporters said—the strong Illinois vote for the Arizona senator would have national impact and "should result in an easy first-ballot victory" for him.

The poll of delegates was taken after Goldwater and Scranton made separate appearances before the group at closed-door sessions Tuesday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who had been uncommitted, started the momentum for Goldwater by casting the first vote for him.

Before the meeting, Goldwater's Illinois strength had been listed at 29 votes in surveys by The Associated Press.

The 10 delegates who did not support Goldwater in Tuesday's session declined to back any candidate.

AROUSE PUBLIC

Scranton, although obviously disappointed, contended his poor showing did not deal a fatal blow to his candidacy. He said his decision to address the Illinois delegation was intended to "arouse the public" and not to gain delegates at this time.

He said the overwhelming Goldwater support in the Illinois delegation "did not surprise me or shock me."

Goldwater, although elated over the outcome, would not claim the nomination was wrapped up.

BIGGER MARGIN

Goldwater said he thought he has "maybe 600" delegates, or 25 more than required for the nomination, but added he would like a bigger insurance margin.

Mass Transit Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a five-year fight, Congress has passed its first program of federal aid for commuter mass transit systems.

President Johnson had strongly backed the measure. Final congressional action came Tuesday when the Senate voted 47 to 36 to accept House changes in the bill, which provides $375 million in grants to cities and states over the next three years.

Sponsors said it should help at least a few cities to rebuild or halt the decline of transit systems that have suffered from competition with the automobile. Opponents called transit a local problem, and contended it would cost $10 billion for the federal government to undertake to meet all needs in the field.

Under the legislation, Washington would put up two-thirds of the net cost of any project. The state or city would provide the remaining one-third. The federal funds could be used to buy land, right-of-way, parking facilities, buses, rail cars, signal equipment, stations and terminals.

Tourist Information Center

Gov. John Connally (white suit), speaks to a group assembled in the rotunda of the State Capitol Tuesday for the opening of the state's newest tourist information center. The information center, installed at the request of the Governor, will be manned by employees of the State Highway Department's Travel and Information Division. (AP WIRE-

Khrushchev Scandinavian Jaunt Becomes Pointless

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's 18-day visit to Scandinavia promises to be remembered as a journey into pointlessness.

Apart from some agreements to expand trade, Khrushchev's tour has produced no practical results of importance either politically or commercially. It is almost as if neither the Soviets nor the Scandinavians really see much use in trying to get on closer terms.

Khrushchev—mostly buoyant and high spirited but occasionally sour and sarcastic—at times has gone out of his way to scorn Scandinavian achievements and philosophies.

SMALL-SCALE
He upset the Danes by saying their farming methods were too small-scale to hold any lessons for the massive Soviet collectives. Denmark's Socialist Premier Jens Otto Krag was miffed by a Khrushchev dig at his capitalist state during an informal television program.

In Sweden, Khrushchev also wrote off a typical farm as "too small" and he flustered Premier Tage Erlander in an astonishing half-serious, half-jocular luncheon speech.

He demanded to know whether Erlander planned to join anti-Communist Ukrainian exiles in an attack on the Soviet Union. Khrushchev was angry because during his five-day stay one Ukrainian exile leader went to Sweden and laid a wreath at a statue of King Charles XII who invaded Russia at the start of the 18th century.

"Khrushchev doesn't realize that we just don't bar people from a free country like Sweden unless they are criminals or something," one Swedish official said.

CURIOUS PEOPLE
The visit, which ends Saturday, thus far has seemed to add no new dimensions to Soviet-Scandinavian relations. People have been curious to see the Soviet leader but there has been no enthusiasm.

Khrushchev's routes have not been published in advance for security reasons, which makes it difficult for crowds to assemble, but even when people did get a chance to gather near Khrushchev, there was blank reserve.

When Khrushchev left Denmark and Sweden, his first ports of call, there were sighs of relief from government and press.

Khrushchev left Sweden in an even more strained atmosphere

Jews Seeking Justice For Dead Nazi Officer

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A new youth center in the Ruhr bears the name of Kurt Gerstein, a lieutenant in the Nazi SS who had the job of supplying poison gas for the Auschwitz death mills.

Gerstein's cause is championed by a Jewish survivor of Nazi concentration camps and has been taken up by Jewish organizations.

"If there had been thousands more like Gerstein, there would have been no Auschwitz," says Issy Wygoda, 43, a Frankfurt fur dealer and onetime concentration camp inmate.

Gerstein died under mysterious conditions shortly after World War II, but he provided important evidence which was used at the Nuernberg war crimes trials. He risked his life to obtain much of it, Wygoda believes.

OFFENDER
Wygoda is incensed because West German authorities have classified Gerstein as a Nazi offender and have denied his widow a pension.

In 1940 a sister-in-law was killed as a mental patient under the Nazi "mercy killing" program and Gerstein began checking on Nazi killings. He joined the SS to gain inside knowledge of Nazi crimes, Wygoda says.

Gerstein had studied some medicine and chemistry. The SS needed men with his training and he eventually headed a section in the "Hygiene Institute." One of his jobs was to procure a cyanide gas used by extermination camps.

Gerstein tried to sabotage the operations in a limited way. Evidence shows he stopped one shipment of gas by marking it no good and ordering it buried. But, according to Wygoda, his main effort was to alert the world outside Germany to concentration camp horrors.

CLERGYMEN
A Lutheran, he got word to German Bishop Otto Dibelius of his church. Dibelius in turn informed Swedish clergymen.

He was allegedly turned away when he sought an audience with the Papal Nuncio in Berlin, and later wrote:

"Could one expect that an ordinary citizen can do something when even the vicar of Christ does not want to listen to me

Oklahoman New Methodist Bishop

DALLAS (AP)—The Rev. W. McFerrin Stowe, pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Oklahoma City, was elected a bishop of the Methodist Church Tuesday.

He was elected on the eighth ballot of the eight-state Central Jurisdictional Conference.

although tens of thousands are murdered." Gerstein's visit inspired German author Rolf Hochhuth in writing his largely fictitious play "The Deputy."

In 1945 Gerstein surrendered to the Allies and gave the most detailed report on Nazi crimes ever to reach Allied hands. As proof he supplied bills for the cyanide gas.

The Allies could not be sure of Gerstein's anti-Nazi efforts and he was interned. He died July 25, 1945, in a Paris prison. Officially the cause was suicide, but there have been recent rumors that he was murdered to silence an accuser.

APPEALED
In 1950, a German court ruled that Gerstein was a Nazi offender. His widow, Elfriede Gerstein, appealed but the appeal was rejected.

Wygoda heard of the Gerstein case just after he had successfully finished a 13-year struggle with authorities for recognition of his own German citizenship.

Struck by what he regarded as another case of postwar injustice, Wygoda got Mrs. Gerstein's permission to reopen her husband's case.

Jewish organizations in Germany and France have taken up the cause. German authorities have advised Wygoda that they will take another look at the Gerstein case.

Strike Hampers Wheat Unloading

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A strike by grain handlers halted the unloading of huge supplies of new wheat at 14 major terminal elevators in the Kansas City area Tuesday.

Hundreds of box cars and trucks had been bringing grain to the terminals. Elevator owners said if the strike over a new work contract continued, shippers would be told not to send grain here.

No action had been taken toward an embargo on Kansas City by the railroads.

Trucks were diverted to three elevators not struck, two of which are not union-operated. A third has workers who do not belong to striking Local 16 of the American Federation of Grain Millers.

Living In Space Has Complexities

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Five men entered a metal chamber last summer for a 30-day stay to test space life support systems.

On the second day, a sweet, pungent odor filled the cabin. Within three days all five men were sick. The test was called off on the fifth day.

Analysis traced the odor to plastic tubing used in the waste disposal system. Ammonia in the system reacted with the plastic to form nitrogen dioxide.

Other bad air came from paint, wood resin, bacteria from the water purification system and boron used in welding.

"Individually, these toxicants would have caused no trouble. But when brought together they created problems," said Dr. Eugene B. Konecni, chief of biotechnology and human research for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

REDESIGNED

The chamber was redesigned and a full 30-day, five-man test was completed successfully last April.

"It was a start," Konecni said. "But it only proved that we licked the problem in a field environment for 30 days. On future manned space flights of months or more, we have to consider the toxic properties of food oils, body odors, body wastes and other things."

"We must develop means of cleaning these up, or we are going to have serious trouble," Konecni's warning is applicable to nearly every phase of aerospace medicine, some aspects of which threaten to bar long-term manned space flights unless solutions are found.

Extensive laboratory work is being conducted by NASA to seek answers in the fields of toxicology, psychology, cabin atmosphere, food, sanitation and medical instrumentation.

Some answers can be found only by sending men into space. Among the major questions are effects of prolonged exposure to weightlessness, radiation and isolation.

SHORT PERIODS

American and Soviet orbital flights have shown that pilots can tolerate space living for short periods but extended voyages could be dangerous.

After only nine hours in space, astronaut Walter M. Schirra suffered from a pooling of blood in the lower legs as a result of weightless inactivity. Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. almost fainted after a 34-hour flight, longest for the United States to date.

Astronauts bound for Mars or other planets may be in space a year or more. After so much weightlessness, will the sudden plunge back to earth with resulting heavy gravity forces destroy body systems? Will a sudden shower of radiation from a solar flare fry them millions of miles from their home planet?

Will the absence of gravity in the inner ear, man's balancing mechanism, weaken their ability to concentrate or damage their brains? Will long isolation in cramped quarters affect them mentally? Will their bones and heart deteriorate?

ADDICTIVE

Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter termed weightlessness "so pleasant, in fact, that it tends to be addictive." Like heroin, it might prove insidious.

To learn more about weightlessness, the School of Aerospace Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex., has sent volunteer airmen to bed for periods up to four weeks.

Project Gemini late this year will have a major goal of investigating space problems. The first flight will be a five-hour mission. The flights gradually will increase to four days, seven days and 14 days. Each spacecraft will carry two men for comparative monitoring.

On the second flight, the pilots will open a hatch and one will poke his head into space, protected only by his space suit. If there are no adverse effects, on the third flight one astronaut will step into space on the end of a tethered line to determine how man can function away from his spaceship.

Divided Cyprus Keeping Fingers Crossed In Lull

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—This is the place to cross your fingers and knock on wood when all is quiet. That is the mood on divided Cyprus now.

It is as though the U.N. Security Council dealings with the problem of Cypriot civil strife and the impending visits of the Greek and Turkish prime ministers to the White House in Washington have paralyzed emotional hatreds for the time being.

The comparative lull isn't fooling anybody. All the mak-variance.

Since the Christmas time flareup, the Turks count 200 dead and 217 hostages missing. The Greeks estimate 100 dead and 39 missing. The United Nations Force reports 112 of the island's 620 villages damaged, some beyond repair. Restoration will be costly.

The Turkish Cypriots are barricaded behind 16th century walls in Nicosia and Famagusta Port. They have thrown up eight roadblocks on the 18-mile road from Nicosia to Kyrenia, where a 600-man Turkish regular army contingent also is deployed.

The Greek Cypriots, with the confident bloom of a government label and 80 per cent of the population, are roaming free but never make the mistake of pushing the Turks too far by penetrating their strongholds.

The situation seems to make ident Makarios is in a tough spot on the same score, knowing any serious move to disarm his own people may bring his political downfall. A hundred thousand Turkish Cypriots claim their guns are their life blood against the dominant Greek Cypriot majority.

3 Webb Women Join WAFS Observance

Three officers at Webb Air Force Base joined Tuesday in the observance of the 16th birthday of the Women in the Air Force. Capt. Marion R. Tibbetts, chief of personnel division; Capt. Margaret J. Wyatt, airman's branch, and 2nd Lt. Kathleen R. Morrissey, traffic management officer, are the three members of the WAFS stationed at Webb.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of the Air Training Command, sent a message to all ATC stations noting the occasion and adding that in the 16 year interval, "the WAFS has consistently made outstanding contributions of service to their country in support of the USAF mission of maintaining the peace."

Nine months after the Air Force became an autonomous organization, the WAFS came into being. Today it has 6,000 members, including more than 700 as commissioned officers.

Capt. Tibbetts served during World War II as a member of the Women's Air Force Service Pilots (WAFSPs). During this duty she became qualified to fly 35 different types of aircraft.

Her duties included flying aircraft from factory to overseas shipping points. In 1949, all WAFSPs who desired to obtain their Air Force reserve commissions were offered the opportunity to do so. In 1950 she was recalled as a first lieutenant and ordered to active duty at Hanscom Field, Mass.

Capt. Wyatt, now on temporary duty at Amarillo, was stationed at Ramstein, Germany, as WAF commander of the 7090th Air Base Wing, prior to her assignment at Webb AFB in 1962. In civilian life she was engaged in social work in Los Angeles County, Calif. Her home is in Long Beach, Calif. Capt. Wyatt attended the University of California at Berkeley from 1944-1946 and obtained a degree in business administration.

2nd Lt. Morrissey was assigned at Webb AFB in July 1963. She reported here from Officer Candidate School at Lackland AFB. She is a former enlisted WAF and spent more than two years as an airman. Her duties were in the intelligence field. She spent three months at the Officer Transportation Course School, Sheppard AFB, in 1963. She attended Midwestern University in Wichita Falls. Lt. Morrissey makes her home in Fargo, N.D.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Pherigo were in Cisco Saturday to bring their daughter, Linda, and Eddie Read, Mary Pipes and Rhonda Tiller home from the Christian Youth Camp. They visited in Abilene with Mrs. Rodney Tiller and Mark.

Mrs. J. B. Apple played the piano for the installation. Preceding the installation Mrs. Harold Talbot sang "I Believe" and "The Sound of Music" with Mrs. Leslie Green at the piano.

Mrs. Apple gave a tribute to the outgoing officers during which she read the poem, "Be Proud."

Mrs. Hart Phillips presided over the meeting, and Mrs. Florence Read was in charge of the program.

The tables, arranged in a U-shape, were decorated with the club colors of blue and white. A centerpiece of blue spider chrysanthemums and blue carnations with a large white candle in the center decorated the head table. Favors of blue and white felt tissue holders and miniature bottles of perfume were given each person attending.

Twenty-six members and five guests were present. Guests were Mrs. Beulah Crabtree, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Hubert Johnson and Mrs. Sue Alderson of Ector.

Duplicate bridge was held Tuesday at the Big Spring Country Club with seven tables in play. It was announced the Friday game will be held at 1 p.m. instead of 1:30 p.m.

Winners were Mrs. Ty Allen and Mrs. E. L. Powell, first; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. J. H. Holloway, second; Mrs. Fred Kasch and Mrs. Truman Jones, third; and Mrs. J. J. Havens and Mrs. Ayra McGann, fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, 20 Washington, and Mr. Roy Reeder, 901 Mountain Park, returned Monday from a weekend trip to Eureka Springs, Ark., and points in Kansas.

Ernie Hobbs Visit Cloudcroft, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hobbs and family, 1517 Sunset, were in Cloudcroft, N.M., Sunday. Their son, Clifford, will attend the YMCA Skyline Ranch for boys there for the next two weeks.

Ralph Flowers Give Fish Fry For 30

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Flowers, Route 1, entertained 30 family members and friends with a fish fry Sunday evening. The Flowers returned home Friday from a fishing trip to Port Aransas where they caught 500 pounds of fish.

Officers Installed

Altrusa Club members met Tuesday evening in the Big Spring Country Club for a program and installation of officers.

Mrs. W. U. O'Neal assisted by Mrs. Houston Cowden and Mrs. Loyd Wooten installed Mrs. C. R. Rhoades, president; Mrs. C. O. Nailey, vice president; Mrs. Ed Black, recording secretary; Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cheney L. Plummer, treasurer; Mrs. Modesta Simpson, director.

Mrs. J. B. Apple played the piano for the installation. Preceding the installation Mrs. Harold Talbot sang "I Believe" and "The Sound of Music" with Mrs. Leslie Green at the piano.

Program On Brazil Presented

A program entitled "Awakening Brazil" was given at a Royal Service meeting of the Women's Missionary Union Tuesday evening at Stadium Baptist Church.

Those participating in the program were Mrs. L. H. Sims, Mrs. Ed Broadway, Mrs. Arch Cameron, Mrs. C. L. McKinney, Mrs. Joe Peay, Mrs. DeWain Cox and Mrs. J. W. Arnett. Mrs. McKinney gave the call to prayer, and Mrs. Rex Edwards worded prayer for the missionaries.

According to the program presented, Brazil is a large and beautiful land which, for a long time, was called "the sleeping giant." Today there are 200,000 Baptists and 223 Southern Baptist Convention missionaries. In 1962 there were more baptisms in Brazil than in all the other Baptist mission fields.

The program was concluded with the nine members singing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mothers Express Opinions About Money For Children

By JUDY BARNEYCASTLE
Probably the question of American children's money—whether in the form of allowance or of wages—is as old as our nation. Then, as now, the main dilemmas must have been how to encourage wise spending and saving and, in the case of allowance, how much to give and when.

Child guidance counselors often contradict each other, but they agree that allowances should be given and not earned. They also contend that children should be paid for major household chores, such as extensive painting or putting up the screens, but jobs like washing dishes and taking care of their own rooms are simply their share of the family work.

According to a recent survey by the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, teenagers don't know how to use money wisely.

The program was concluded with the nine members singing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

pressed their opinions on the above points in interviews Monday. Each told of her family's methods of making sure their children had enough money.

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Don Farley, 1503 Kentucky, are given allowances and are expected to do household chores in return.

Essex, 11; Ann, 10; Mark, 8, and Tom, 5, receive money in amounts according to their ages. Essex and Ann started getting allowances at school age, but the two younger ones received their first allowance at about four or five.

"They spend their money the way they want to," Mrs. Farley said. "Sometimes they come to their father and me for advice, but we never tell them they have to do a certain thing with it."

"I believe very strongly in allowances," Mrs. Coppedge said. "We began giving our children money when they started school. Then it was about 50 cents a week and now about $5. From the beginning we encouraged them to save and to spend their money wisely."

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Coppedge, 1908 Morrison, have two children, Lloyd, 19, and Kay, 13. Lloyd, a sophomore at Texas Tech, usually takes care of his own expenses. Last summer he worked on road construction crews and earned a lot of money for his first year in college.

Kay is a ninth grader in Gollad Junior High School. She works in her mother's nursery and does most of the household chores, for which she is paid the salary of a regular maid.

July To Be Trial Month For America's Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—July may become a month of decision in crucial sectors of the American economy. On trial are the government's guidelines for labor wage scales and management pricing policies. The extent of the slump in steel output may give a better clue to the real strength of the factors feeding the business upswing. The trends of retail sales and consumer debt this month may finally tell the story about how Americans are reacting to the federal income tax cut. At issue: steady and calm growth, or quick boom and inflation. The reaction to the civil rights bill, once signed, may foreshadow what's in store for the nation. Business has a big stake, both in what turmoil could do to trade and in how individual firms must realign policies to meet employment, sales, promotion and production policies and pressures. The wage-price guidelines will get their most dramatic test this month in Detroit in the auto industry. The government's controversial guidelines are designed to suggest in a general way the limits of wage increases and price advances that can be reached without upsetting the general price structure and setting off once more the old wage-price spiral that became the badge of inflation in the early postwar years. In some industries, prices already have been creeping up—so far without setting off a general rise. Management in still others is talking of price increases if competitive conditions improve enough in coming weeks and months to make such hikes stick. Labor leaders always watch the trends set by auto negotiations. And business this time more than ever eyes the Detroit talks for clues of what they may expect.

Cuba Sagging Economically

HAVANA (AP)—A faded sign on a downtown building reads: "To consume what the country produces is to build the fatherland."

But more than five years after the Cuban revolution it is difficult to find much to consume in this once beautiful city, now grimy and rundown.

"That was one of the early slogans of the revolution," a Cuban commented. "It has been forgotten."

That slogan faded because Cuban Communists found it takes more than slogans and theories to operate an economy and produce goods for a growing population.

"I don't deny our errors and stupidities," said Fidel Castro in a recent talk with reporters at a diplomatic reception. "But this period has been our apprenticeship. It was useful, and necessary."

POLITICAL
 The first battle, which we won, was political. We had to prove to our people we could go ahead without the United States.

Now our battle is economic. The United States is obliging us to struggle, study and organize.

The battle cry here now is "social revolution was made for technical revolution."

What this boils down to is training of competent experts, administrators who can get things done.

Cuban officials have sadly admitted many times that getting plans from paper into practice had flopped because of a shortage of people with know-how.

With a shrug, Castro asked, "If we could have factories now, who would handle them? Industrialization first requires technical preparation of people."

Communist Cuba's economic history is a series of errors, confusion, waste and chaos. In its first race for industrialization, factories were ordered where raw material was not available, nor engineers and managers to operate them.

DIVERSIFY
 In agriculture, Cuba's main crop, sugar—the mainstay of its economy—suffered when the richest sugar land was taken out of production in an effort to diversify and get rid of dependence on the crop that had been identified with the United States' dominant influence in the economy.

The abrupt, harsh change from capitalist to Communist government shattered the economy. Many of the nation's best economic experts and organizers fled. Enthusiastic but inexperienced revolutionaries took over, contributing to the disorganization.

Hundreds of Russians, Eastern Europeans and Chinese technicians and advisers poured in. But their unfamiliarity with tropical geography and temperament often produced additional frustrations. The United States economic ban has had and is still having a powerful effect.

SPARE PARTS
 Transportation has been badly crippled for lack of spare parts. Machinery in many factories came to a standstill. Shelves in stores became bare.

Shifting of supply lines from sources 90 miles distant to countries thousands of miles away meant growing shortages, and increasing costs.

Long journeys of Soviet tankers bearing oil to Havana prevented a complete paralysis of the country.

Cuban officials now say the worst is over. They say they don't believe the U.S. ban or their own mistakes can do worse than has been done.

Grocery shelves are filled mainly with dreary rows of disinfectants and flavoring syrups. People stand in line to buy their monthly quota of four eggs per person. Housewives crowd around empty meat counters waiting resignedly for their ration of three-fourths of a pound of meat per week per person.

For each person the monthly ration includes an eighth of a pound of butter, six pounds of rice, four pounds of sugar and one pound of lard, when available.

BLACK MARKET
 Shortages have produced a black market, where unrationed eggs cost 25 to 40 cents each. Clothing and shoes are rationed. A man gets two pairs of trousers and two shirts per year.

There is a growing effort to reduce Cuba's trade and economic dependence upon Russia, Eastern European and China. Cubans are asking for more technicians from Western Europe. Recently increased trade with England and France and, to a lesser degree, with Holland and Spain has delighted Cubans.

Informed sources say the Russians are pleased at the prospect of having some Western countries ease the burden of holding up the Cuban economy.

But trade with Western Europe is still far from significant. The U. S. ban remains a giant obstacle.

Castro, still holds powerful personal control over the revolution. He says, "Compare life in Cuba 20 years from now with that of other Latin American countries."

A Devotional For The Day

Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation; and uphold me with Thy free spirit. Then will I teach transgressors Thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto Thee. (Psalms 51:12-13.)
PRAYER: We thank Thee, dear Father, for the privilege of being workers together with Thee. Help us to be watchful for opportunities to be of service to anyone in need, overlooking such things as differences in race, color or creed. In the name of Jesus, our Savior, we pray. Amen.

Property Tax Reform Overdue

Gov. Connally does not share the widespread skepticism over the practicality of getting the state out of the property tax field, properly leaving that source to local governments that are heavily dependent upon it.

He recognizes, of course, that this tax reform will not be easy. There always will be pressing state need for the $40 million plus revenue, and he will fight state abandonment of ad valorem taxation out of fear their interests would be hit by the tax substituted to replace that revenue. "This simply means," Connally told a meeting of the Texas Municipal League, "it will take a little more courage to do what should be done."

There is little question among students of Texas governmental affairs that this should be done. The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy urged in December, 1962, that the state get out of property taxation. The Hale-Aikin School Study Committee made the same recommendation in 1958.

During the past generation, constitutional amendments have moved in that direction: Providing for the $3,000 homestead exemption, reducing the state ad valorem rate, and in 1951 abandoning the state property tax for general revenue. The 42-cent state rate now goes to the Available School Fund, the College Building Fund, state office buildings, Confederate and Ranger pensions.

As service of building bonds is involved, the state property tax would have to be phased out gradually, with the last revenue replaced from other sources. But that process should begin, Connally said, at the next session of the legislature.

Parceling out the state property tax take among the thousands of local governmental units would not go far in relieving their financial squeeze. But it would help, certainly, and it would encourage equalization of ad valorem taxation based on county rolls which is now avoided because of the added money which usually would mean sending to the state treasury. It also would discourage the proliferation of special districts to handle responsibilities the counties cannot meet without hiking evaluations and thus increasing their contributions to the state government.

Property taxation has steadily declined from a major to a minor source of state revenue. But the state will have to abandon that field entirely before counties can develop stronger and fairer tax structures. There will never be a "convenient" time to improve state-local tax relations. Hence, the next session is as propitious a time as any to start the effort to get the state entirely out of what is essentially a local tax source.

Grasping Locals

National union officials would be well advised to crack down on some of their locals in the New York area in the interests of improved public relations. Organized labor is getting tarred with the brush of disfavor invited by the attitude of all-the-traffic will bear (and then some) by a number of short-sighted locals.

For instance, it is generally accepted that some of the construction groups dogged it on the job so that completion by opening time was impossible without vast amounts of overtime and doubletime for weekend work. Now the cost of maintenance and repair work has reached the point of absurdity. This is being reflected in prices that is hurting the fair.

Repairmen's hourly rates range from $10.39 for painters to $17.16 for plumbers, with some getting double-time past mid-afternoon. The pay is computed on a portal-to-portal basis. The repairman is accompanied by an assistant (unskilled laborer gets $8.76) driven to and from the job by Teamster whose hourly rate may run higher than the repairman's.

Pavilion managers report padded crews, excess hours tacked on to bill, badly botched jobs, loafing, arrogance and intimidation. One operator reported that untopping a sink cost $150. A church pavilion turned to volunteer workers when it got a cleaning service estimate of more than $4,000 a week.

Such practices are giving labor an international black eye, and organized labor deserves better than this. The New York Fair is designed to reflect the world of tomorrow, and if this is part of tomorrow, it is a disconcerting forecast indeed.

The Deepening Deficit

WASHINGTON—Congress has just found itself compelled to raise the public debt limit to $324 billion—the highest in American history.

The Treasury Department, moreover, has predicted that another $6 billion will be added to the debt in 1965 and another $3 billion in 1966. Only vague hints are being given that maybe some day the budget will be balanced, and there is no sign as yet of any effective steps being taken to achieve that goal.

THE MOST significant aspect of the whole problem is the general indifference with which the American people are treating the unsound trend in government finance. Maybe it's because people do not know what is really involved and what the dangers are that lurk behind the steady increases in the public debt. Maybe it is because many government officials of the so-called "liberal" school of thought have been successfully "brainwashing" many citizens into believing that it doesn't matter how high the deficits are piled up and that an artificial prosperity can continue indefinitely when it is based on money borrowed to pay deficits.

FEW DISSENTING voices are being heard. Notable among them is that of Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. In his speech to the Senate on the raising of the debt limit he called attention to the fact that the proposed increase is the largest in 19 years. He said:

"We needed a debt limit of only $300 billion to finance World War II. That was reduced to $275 billion when the war was over. Now a limit of $330-billion-plus is in clear prospect."

Republicans Building Box For Themselves

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up. Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson who, since no ruling against one of them, has to run against a runner like the inside of a box.

They have to climb over Viet Nam, civil rights, words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle.

Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

FOR 10 MONTHS Henry Cabot Lodge, as U.S. ambassador, was the Kennedy-Johnson administration's chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam.

He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track. And he said more: he doesn't see how Viet Nam could become a campaign issue.

But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

THEY CRITICIZED the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was "why win?"

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them, since as ambassador he was part and parcel of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart.

FOR A WHILE it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizona if he got the nomination.

This seems out the window now for Scranton has reached the point of saying Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How, now, could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile, Goldwater, by his vote against the civil rights bill, has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern Whites.

BUT IF HE should try to appease Northern Negroes, or help Northern Republican politicians, by saying if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose what he gained among Southern whites without persuading Northern Negroes. There's no indication he has anything like this in mind.

Upon his return Monday Lodge hinted he would try to get Dwight D. Eisenhower to come out for Scranton before the Republican convention opens July 13.

Johnson must be enjoying the show. News out of the White House says he won't be traveling much in July, the Republican convention month.

Too Much Parking

MAYFIELD, Ky. (AP)—Most towns search for more parking space but the trend was reversed in Mayfield.

Graves County Fiscal Court voted to plow up a 35-car asphalt lot in the courthouse yard and sod it as part of the lawn.

Judge Allen Clark said removal of the lot would add beauty to the downtown area as well as eliminate traffic and fire hazard.

Are You Still Young?

NEW YORK (AP)—Some people don't know whether they are young, middle-aged or old.

For these conditions aren't always a matter of physical age, emotional feeling or mental elasticity.

Here's a checklist to help guide you. The chances are that you're still young in heart, and perhaps in body, if—

WITHOUT THINKING about it, you automatically yield a seat on the bus to an older person—instead of racing him for it.

Most of the girls in the office call you by your first name, rather than address you as "mistress."

When he's lonely, the kid in the apartment down the hall asks if you won't go out and play catch with him.

When you daydream at your office desk, your mind turns to thoughts of adventure in romantic lands—instead of how soon you'll get your pension.

Why Calorie Charts Can Differ

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I compared your calorie chart with one from the Department of Agriculture, and there is a vast difference. Your chart lists rice bread at 75 calories, compared to 55, a difference of 20 calories. For egg there is a difference of 5 calories. Marmalade or jelly, your chart lists 100 calories compared to 55.

At the end of the day there is a lot of calories involved to confuse a person. Which one is correct?—MRS. R. L.

For you, neither chart is correct. For other people, either is correct.

The difference of 5 calories in an egg, of course, doesn't amount to anything, because not all eggs are the same size. That's why in some places eggs are sold by the pound instead of by the dozen.

What about "a slice of bread"? Take one of these big, round loaves, and slice a center slice with butter and jam, and you can easily reach maybe 350 calories, meantime consoling yourself that you had "just one slice of bread."

"Marmalade and jelly? My chart reads, 'Up to 100 calories' for a spoonful, because to some people a "spoonful" means the biggest load they can balance on the spoon long enough to get it on the plate.

An "average serving," depending on who's idea of average is involved, can differ by a factor of three or four to one.

Besides that, some people pretend to "count calories" and then put sugar on the tomatoes, mayonnaise on the lettuce, cook bacon with the string beans and mash the potatoes with cream and butter.

They virtuously write down the figures for plain tomatoes, beans and lettuce, and potato without cream and butter, and say they are eating "only" so many calories.

The way to use a calorie chart is to accept it as a comparative guide. The actual total that you wind up with doesn't make any difference. If you keep on gaining weight, you'll have to eat less, and the calorie chart points to the things that are fattening, and lets you know which foods, when substituted, will be less fattening.

NOTE TO E. N. C.: That anti-fungus drug I mentioned is griseofulvin, which is now available under several trade names, most of them including the "gris" syllable one way or another. It's very useful. But it doesn't attack all types of fungus. Just some. The drug requires a prescription.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

An Exceptional Report

The recent city audit was unique in the annals of these annual reports, for this one turned out to be in reality a report of city operations as well as an accounting of its fiscal affairs. For this reason, I think it deserves special mention.

FROM ANY AUDIT it is possible to tell how much money the city took in, the principal sources from whence the revenue came, where the money was expended, the transfers between funds, and how much balance or deficit resulted from the activities of the year.

But this is not the whole story of a city. The hard, cold figures most frequently do not tell what money purchased other than regular services. In this particular report, there is special mention of several capital improvements such as 25 blocks of streets stabilized, 145 blocks of streets seal coated, 209 blocks of alleys cleaned, 15 new sewer man holes constructed, almost two miles of water lines, and half a mile of sewer line installed, sewer cleaning equipment purchased, 205 new water taps and 139 new sewer taps made, a garbage container system purchased and put into use.

OR INSTALLATION of a traffic signal at the FM 700-Birdwell intersection, a new lighting system for the softball park, new fishing pier at Moss Creek Lake, a Fine-o-Meter system installed to simplify payment of parking tickets, new billing machine purchased for the water office, radio system installed for the public works department, meter readers, garage and sanitation department employees put in uniforms, old trucks and equipment replaced, fire prevention and building codes adopted, a new system of maintenance records established at the city garage.

OF COURSE there are the usual critically important summaries such as $1,096,004 revenues, plus $220,000 transferred from the water and sewer revenue fund for total receipts of $1,316,004, or $62,069 more than anticipated; disbursements of $1,257,322, or $22,664 less than estimated, giving an $82,733 margin for the year's operations in the general fund. Or the figures which show a net gain, after depreciation of $680,743 in capital assets, making $6,047,130 which the city has invested in permanent assets. Or the issuance through March 31, 1964 of $2,735,000 ($1,195,000 revenue and $1,600,000 tax) of the Master Plan bond issue, leaving $1,505,000 ($1,035,000 revenue and $470,000 tax) bonds still to be issued.

ONE OF THE most interesting sections contains statistical tables which detail the assessed values, estimated true values of both real and personal property, and the ratio of total assessed value to the total estimated true value during the last 10 years (it has decreased 16.23 per cent during that interval); the tax rates and levies of all taxing agencies (local school, county, junior college, state and city) for the 10 year period (the city alone has shown a decrease of 35 cents, which kept the combined tax rate of $5.27 only 2 cents higher than in 1954). The combined tax levies however, climbed from $1,534,219 in 1954 to $3,502,772 in 1963.

OTHER FACTS include an increase in accumulated delinquent taxes from $78,015 in 1954 to $169,214 in 1963, yet a decrease in the ratio of accumulated delinquent taxes to the current tax year by over 2 per cent to a present 21.37 per cent.

These tables also include comparative data of the agencies of bonded debt to assessed valuation (the city's 4.34 is highest of the group, exceeding the school's 3.79, which will rise sharply with passage of its own master plan); year-by-year expenditures of the city for general government, public safety, streets, sanitation, public health, recreation. There are many other pertinent tables to make this far more than a mere audit. No wonder Auditor N. G. Hilliard went in the hole on the job, but it was a labor of love and one that will chart a course for subsequent reports. At least it should.

Warning: Death Rate 100 Pct.

WASHINGTON—The Federal Trade Commission has ordered the manufacturers of cigarettes to amend labels and advertising to warn users that the product is dangerous and may cause cancer or other diseases.

FTC stoutly maintains that it is legally entitled to do this, and one must suppose that the courts will support its stand. The courts are no more able to resist dabbling in our folkways, mores and vices than any other tentacle of government is.

LUNG CANCER will probably turn off 50,000 Americans in a good year, although no man alive can tell just how many of these deaths can properly be laid to tobacco.

Certainly a number of virtuous men and women who have never once smoked so much as a solitary coffin nail will succumb to big casino, as well as to bronchiectasis and emphysema, the latter distempers also being ones that may be triggered by excessive cigarette smoking.

THERE SEEMS to be considerable scientific evidence that cigarettes may be partly responsible for all the vile plagues alluded to supra, and for the sake of argument let us assume they are. But then, in fairness, shouldn't the assumption also be made that demon rum is also ruinous to the health if taken in large doses?

It is widely believed in the doctor trade that excessive use of alcohol will make a chap's liver start to bang, and this may be true. It may also be true that too much of the lovely tumbstone polish will cause stomach ulcers.

THE QUESTION, however, is this: Since a case can be made that over-use of ardent spirits can harm the gibles, why isn't the FTC entitled to paste a skull and crossbones on every jug of whisky that's offered for sale? If the state is obliged to protect the brutish proles from killing themselves with cigarettes, why isn't it equally duty-bound to take the same step with respect to alcohol?

And now that that's settled, let us draw attention to the fact that more than 50,000 Americans will be killed in automobile accidents this year, that perhaps 1.5 million will be injured, and that of the latter number approximately 150,000 will be permanently disabled. Having established that the automobile is a hazard to public health, it seems clear that the government ought to do something about it.

OUR SUGGESTION here is a sticker for the dash of every auto put up for sale which would contain something like the following language:

"WARNING: Improperly used, this vehicle may cause death or injury. All passengers and operators are cautioned to avoid use of this contrivance when overly fatigued, when drunk, when angry with wife or children, under conditions of poor visibility, or when roads are slippery."

Same, indeed, for everything. The only logical extension of the FTC order is for the soothsayers in Washington to order that every newborn American infant be indelibly tattooed as follows:

"YOUNG MAN (or woman), you are alive which is the most dangerous enterprise ever discovered by man. The fatality rate, which is 100 per cent, makes living an extremely hazardous occupation, and one which your government hereby warns you against."

And, of course, the tattoo would be signed "Big Brother."

Views On The Poverty War

WASHINGTON—After Civil Rights, we have the War on Poverty. The bill called the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 has been favorably reported by the House Education-Labor Committee. The same bill is before a Senate Labor-Welfare special committee, on its way to floor action.

ANTICIPATING these events, I spent a week in the Navy Air Training Command where college-educated aviators, and school-educated maintenance crews, are lifted from civilian life and submitted to boys-into-men transition. I felt that the Poverty Warriors could learn about this educational process from the military.

Two letters, one from Sargent Shriver and one from a Texas newspaper editor, carry the idea a little further. Mr. Shriver, the director designate of the Poverty War, writes that the military's experience is "an invaluable resource" on which he expects to draw in training the poverty-retarded youths who will come under his charge. But he has these reservations:

THE POOR CORPS youths are largely "military rejects" who are drawn from the "most deprived stratum"—the one-fifth of the nation that is poverty-marked. One purpose of the anti-poverty drive is to teach these boys enough to make them militarily acceptable.

But the camps and centers of the Poor Corps will be run, says Shriver, on a basis of "permissive" discipline.

Since all the boys will be volunteers, he hopes they will do as they're told. He hopes to keep them so busy, both in class and at physical labor, that desertion, insubordination and malingering will not be serious problems.

WELL, MAYBE. But I was a school teacher in the 1930's, and it's hard to imagine a school system without some form of punitive control. I have interviewed a two-star admiral who, in that same period, was a Navy lieutenant (j.g.) in the New Deal's Civilian Conservation Corps at Plattsburg. He said that the boys ran riot until the camp imported a contingent of six-footers from the N.Y. State Police. The cops restored discipline.

THE TEXAS editor writes that he has "been pounding many years" for peaceful use of the military in training unemployed youth and dropouts. He feels that this could be done in the home towns, as a supplement to and improvement of our public school system. He feels very strongly that part of the $2 billion a year that we invest in National Defense should go to salvaging the dross of our young man-power. These boys go to schools where there is "no discipline," "no aura of excellence" and "no incentive except for those who have the very strong desire. And those who don't, the very ones who need direction the most, are dropped by the wayside, and become public charges on the unemployed rolls, or in care of the police."

Rights Leaders Mapping New Court Suit On Dallas Schools

DALLAS (AP) — Civil rights leaders say they will prepare a court suit seeking across-the-board desegregation of Dallas schools, now open to all races through the fourth grade.

The decision to put top priority on desegregated schools came Tuesday night at a meeting of the coordinating committee on civil rights, in which the spring and early summer's activities were reviewed.

Dallas schools began a peaceful integration in 1961, and last year 182 pupils attended integrated schools. The school board said recently however, it is reclassifying two schools with the heaviest Negro population from integrated to Negro.

"We lost two-thirds of the gains previously made, there's no other way to sum it up," said a white Presbyterian minister, The Rev. F. K. Mullendore.

COURT ACTION

The committee agreed to incorporate court action, demonstrations, and "education of the general public" in its fight to completely open the schools. No immediate demonstrations were scheduled and one leader said the most effective demonstrations will not come until school opens.

The Rev. Earl Allen, Negro Methodist minister, said the month-long picketing of the Piccadilly Cafeteria gave the Negro cause to identify with and also brought support from many whites.

He estimated that 300 to 400 persons participated in the daily picketing. In addition to the Piccadilly agreement to integrate when the civil rights bill passes, Allen said at least 14 other establishments quietly desegregated.

WITHOUT HELP

Allen also called significant the fact that the agreement was reached without help from the bi-racial committee of the powerful Citizens Council.

The Citizens Council is composed of more than 200 of the city's most influential businessmen and is not connected with white racist groups of the South. Its bi-racial committee handled the school integration problem and has been active in bringing about desegregation of parks and some restaurants.

But Allen said in an interview that the keynote of the relationship between the Negroes and whites has been one of "paternalism" which has "promoted disorganization and lack of structure" on part of the Negroes.

BEST INTEREST

"The Citizens Council has stifled interests of the whites in civil rights by pointing to its bi-racial committee and saying, 'Here we have a group that has the best interest of the city at heart, so leave them alone, don't rock the boat.'"

Two Wrecks In An Hour

That car which tangled with a Texas & Pacific Railway Co. passenger train early Tuesday morning should rate as one of the least lucky vehicles in this area.

It had two wrecks in the span of an hour.

Arvin Henry, state highway patrolman, said that the 1955 Olds was owned by Mrs. Jayne Wampler, 22. On the night of the mishap, Mrs. Wampler and Edna Polk, 17, were riding around in the car. As they approached the crossing on Dort's Siding about five miles west, the Olds, for some reason unknown, turned over on its side in the ditch alongside the T&P tracks.

Neither Mrs. Wampler nor Miss Polk were injured. They left the car and started walking to town to get help.

The car had landed in such a position that part of it stuck out almost to the rail line of the tracks. As a result, when T&P train No. 28 roared around the curve the projection of the car was struck by the diesel and the luckless vehicle given a vigorous shaking.

Henry said that Mrs. Wampler and Miss Polk had reached the edge of the city limits at the time of the second mishap to their car.

Damage to the sedan was extensive both from the first mishap and from its contact with the train.

The bidding: East South West North
3♠ 4♥ Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♠
The sabotage wreaked by East against South's four heart contract was boldly conceived and brilliantly executed. East deserves a full measure of commendation for the fortitude he displayed in adhering firmly to a program which he had mapped out for himself.

East decided to preempt by opening the bidding with three spades since his holding appeared to offer little in the way of defensive prospects. South was not to be denied his opportunity, however, and he bid four hearts which became the final contract.

West could not open his partner's suit, so he led the ace of diamonds to inspect the terrain. East was void of diamonds; however, before playing to the trick, he paused to study the situation. One question reiterated itself "Why hadn't partner opened a spade?" East couldn't figure any holding that West might have where he would prefer to make the blind lead of an ace in preference to the suit in which East had announced strength.

East finally came to the inescapable conclusion that his partner must be void in spades, and with that decision his course became clear. He ruffed his partner's ace and returned the queen of spades. West trumped and, even though he knew that South was now out of diamonds, too, he led back another diamond. (If East by some chance had the ace of clubs he would surely have led a small spade as a suit preference asking for the lower ranking side suit.)

East did not take any chances on the second diamond; he trumped with the king of hearts which he was certain would hold the trick. South helplessly discarded and now another spade back enabled West to score with the seven of hearts to defeat the contract.

Family Reunion Attracts 66

The Holleys and the Underwoods—66 of them in all—got together Sunday afternoon for a barbecue supper and a family reunion. The gathering was in the Big Spring City Park, and the occasion was to celebrate the visit here of three members of the family who live in California.

The visitors were the daughters of H. M. (Mack) Underwood of Big Spring and his former wife, Mrs. Edith Underwood. She lives in Los Angeles. Mrs. Harry Gibbons, one of the daughters, lives in Norwalk, and the other, Mrs. Joel Towler, in Inglewood. They were accompanied to Big Spring by their husbands and families.

An elaborate barbecue dinner was served for the reunion. R. L. Holley, head of the Holley clan, prepared the dinner. The Underwood members are descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Underwood, who came to Howard County in 1907. The Holleys still live here. Mack Underwood has two sisters living here—Mrs. L. B. Kinman, 610 Settles, and Mrs. Jones Lamar, 604 Lancaster.

Out-of-town guests included the W. W. Holleys, San Angelo; the J. D. Fairleys, Lubbock; Mrs. Viola Starr, Lubbock; the Bob Looneys, Abilene; the Bill Roberts, Lubbock; and the L. V. Holleys, Lamesa.

Mahon Urges Approval Of Weevil Funds

WASHINGTON — Congressman George Mahon urged Monday before the Senate Committee on Appropriations to urge the inclusion in a Senate money bill of $1,000,000 to be used for the purpose of combating the advance of the boll weevil into the High Plains area.

The President last week sent the $1 million budget request to Congress for the boll weevil program. Mahon, chairman of the house appropriations committee, had asked the President and the Secretary of Agriculture several weeks ago to approve the request for the necessary funds. The funds would be available only if matched by a similar sum from area farmers, and High Plains farm groups have made such commitments.

The House of Representatives May 20, in the absence of a budget request, approved for the same purpose a sum of $200,000 in its Agriculture Appropriation bill. If the Senate approves the increase of $800,000 above the House bill, it will then be sent back to the House for further consideration.

Actions taking place in Washington are an outgrowth of the discovery last spring that the boll weevil had wintered on the fringes of the High Plains. Farmers became concerned and formed a boll weevil committee to push for action last April. Mahon joined an area farm group backed by the Plains Cotton Growers, and appeared with them before the House Appropriations Committee to ask support for a cooperative program between farmers and the Department of Agriculture to combat the weevil threat.

In view of the President's supplemental budget request, Mahon said he is optimistic that favorable action will be taken in the Senate and that the funds will be provided in the final version of the bill to be worked out in a House-Senate conference.

Topping Next On Paving Project

LAMESA (SC) — The State Highway Department here has accepted and assured control of an 18-mile paving project from the city limits of Lamesa north to the Terry County line in Dawson County. Contractor was James C. Kerr Construction Co., Lubbock, who was awarded the contract on a low bid of $319,000.

Started in January, the grading structures and base was finished 60 days ahead of schedule. The final hot mix asphalt cover will be done in about one year.

Strikes Again

Fire struck an awning at the J. C. Penney Co., 307 Main, for the second time in two days Wednesday. Shortly after midnight, firefighters were called to extinguish a blaze apparently caused by someone who flicked a lighted cigarette onto the awning. A similar fire at the firm was extinguished Tuesday morning. Damage in both fires was minor, according to firemen.

Quit NATO, Nikita Asks Two Nations

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev made a public bid Tuesday night for Norway and Denmark to quit the North Atlantic alliance and join Finland and Sweden in a Nordic zone of neutrality.

An audience of 900—including government ministers, members of Parliament and diplomats—did not applaud Khrushchev's plea in an address at the Oslo Concert Hall.

"We think it would be a contribution toward peace in the north if Norway and Denmark were not bound by military obligations toward states which have nothing to do with this area," the visiting premier said.

"We think that the participation of such countries as Norway and Denmark in the military plans of the West has been created through a mere set of circumstances.

"From our point of view, the most reliable guarantee for the security of such countries as Norway and Denmark, Sweden and Finland is a policy of neutrality which both sides would recognize — both the Western powers and the Socialist countries."

Pay Study Report Due Soon

Arrangements were pending this morning at City Hall for a meeting of the city commission concerning the pay study and job classification report under way since March.

City Manager Larry Crow said a meeting of the commission with Elmer Williams, a representative of Griffenhagen-Kroeger and Associates, San Francisco management consulting firm preparing the report, would be arranged either late today or sometime this week.

Copies of the firm's report have been sent to city commissioners, according to Crow. The meeting this week will involve discussion of the report by commissioners and the firm representative, Crow said.

The study involves an analysis of all city jobs and pay scales. City officials have previously said the report would include comparisons of work duties and pay of city employees with similar duties and pay of private industry in this area as a basis for recommendations.

Cost of the study is more than $4,700. During April each city employee prepared a questionnaire concerning job duties and the firm completed interviews.

The study was authorized by the city commission in February. At the time the study began, Crow said the report would point out inequities in city pay scales, as well as contributing to more efficient city organization.

Sergeants Retire Here

Three master sergeants, with a combined 11 years at Webb AFB, took their retirement from the Air Force Tuesday evening.

They are M. Sgt. James A. Caire, M. Sgt. Barry Schonaerts and M. Sgt. Paul Sudnick.

Sgt. Caire, accounting and finance supervisor in the command section, has been assigned here since June, 1962. His home was in Natchez, Miss. He and his wife, Anna, and their three sons, William, Andrew and Raquel, resided at 1444 Dow, Webb Village.

Sgt. Schonaerts, manpower technician in the headquarters squadron, was assigned to Webb in May, 1963. His home was in Everett, Wash. Sgt. Schonaerts and his wife, Lucille, and three daughters, Jean, Susan and Patricia, resided at 160A Fairchild Drive.

Sgt. Sudnick has been an aircraft maintenance technician in field maintenance at Webb since August, 1958. His home is in San Angelo where his wife, Etta, and their three daughters, Pauline, Patricia and Deborah have resided at 308 Cottonwood.

New Staffers At VA Hospital

Two doctors will join the staff of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital Monday. Both will serve on the surgical staff.

Dr. R. H. Alonzo has just completed his residency at the Huron Road Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio. Dr. J. A. Roberts will be coming from the staff of the Chesapeake & Ohio Hospital, Huntington, W. Va.

Postal Receipt Lag Continues

Postal receipts in Big Spring continued to lag in June as they have each month since 1964 began, Elmer Boatler, postmaster, said today.

June receipts were $40,314 which was more than $3,600 less than June, 1963. The first six months of this year, receipts have been $217,003.32, which is $47,849 less than for the same half-year in 1963. Boatler said that the major contributor to the drop in postal receipts was the removal of the billing office operations of Cosden from Big Spring to Dallas.

Equalization Hearings Draw Many Complaints

Property owners, whose property valuation for tax purposes has been changed from last year or who feel that an adjustment is required in their taxes, were on hand in generous numbers today for the opening sessions of the county-city-school equalization board meetings.

The corridor on the second floor of the county courthouse was well crowded with taxpayers who were waiting their turns to go before the boards with their problems.

The county commissioners court is acting as equalization board for the county while a special board, comprising Bill Sheppard, Dick Collier and Lawrence Robinson, is serving in the same capacity for the schools and the city.

Nois Womack, employed by all three agencies as a tax man, was on hand with one of his aides to consult with the property owners and with the boards on the tax problems.

Demonstration Friday On Destroying Rodents

How to destroy prairie dogs—as well as other damage producing rodents—will be demonstrated by experts Friday at 9 p.m. on the Bill Phillips ranch, 17 miles north of Big Spring on US 87.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, urged all farmers' and ranchers to attend this demonstration.

"Last year," he said, "was a little unusual in that the county produced a banner crop of prairie dogs."

He pointed out that, as a problem, the prairie dog is no major enemy and that there are only a few scattered dog towns in the county. However, this year, due to the flourishing season the dogs enjoyed in 1963, ranchers are concerned over the possibility the pests may become numerous again.

This demonstration on the Phillips place will be conducted by V. R. Smith, district field assistant for the Predatory Animal and Rodent Control Service.

Smith will demonstrate how to destroy prairie dogs and at the same time, show the farmers and ranchers the approved methods for poisoning rabbits, gophers and field rats.

The materials which should be used will be discussed and displayed. Also, Helbig said, a supply of treated crimped oats—the poison recommended — will be available at the scene for purchase. Instructions will also be given on the proper way the farmer or rancher should follow in preparing grain sorghum for poisoning purposes.

Helbig pointed out that this year, for the first time in several years, his office in the county courthouse will no longer have a supply of poisoned grain to sell to farmers and ranchers. Nor will any be available in the county except at demonstrations in the field such as the one Friday. Other demonstrations of this kind will be scheduled if the situation develops where they are needed, Helbig said.

In addition to minor threats being posed by expanding prairie dog populations, farmers have been complaining that the jackrabbit crop is higher this year and that tender young cotton is being raided by the rabbits.

Glue Sniffer Is Sentenced

A new episode of "glue sniffing" has been discovered and one of the sniffers, a 12-year-old Lathrop-American youth who has been in much trouble with the law, is on his way to Gatesville Reformatory today.

According to information given by Bob Darland, juvenile officer, to Wayne Burns, county attorney, the 12-year-old with two other youths, a year older than himself, stole a sack of airplane and hobby glue tubes from the Wacker Store.

They engaged, Darland said, in an orgy of "glue sniffing"—the after climax of which was extreme nausea.

The two 13-year-old youths, who had no bad records, were probed by Juvenile Judge Lee Porter. The 12-year-old, who on another occasion about a year ago had been caught in the same practice, was ordered removed to the reformatory.

Officials say that the glue used in building model airplanes and for other hobbies is in high demand by many youngsters for the effect they get from breathing fumes from the containers.

Continued use of the glue for this purpose is often fatal. Darland took the boy to the boy to the reformatory Wednesday morning.

Col. Atkinson Speaker For 331st Dining-In

Col. G. G. Atkinson, commander of the Oklahoma City Air Defense Sector, Air Defense Command, was guest speaker at a dining-in held Tuesday evening by officers of the 331st Fighter - Interceptor Squadron. The formal affair was held at the Webb AFB officers club.

Colonel Atkinson reviewed the organization and activities of the squadron, citing its capability in time of emergency, and noting that its quick response to the 1962 Cuban crisis won it a unit citation.

Guests included Lt. Col. Jack C. Price, squadron commander who is leaving next week for an assignment with the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs; Lt. Col. M. W. Shareck, who succeeds Colonel Price here; Lt. Col. Lester F. Kress, commander of the 683rd ACW Squadron, Sweetwater; Col. Rex D. Fryer, wing executive officer at Webb, and a number of civilians who have participated in base-community activities.

Water Usage Low, Temperature High

Tuesday's high temperature of 100 degrees found 417,000 gallons less water pumped into storage in Big Spring than the 9,628,000 gallons pumped Monday when the thermometer went only to 97 degrees. Only 9,211,000 gallons were pumped to the clear wells Tuesday.

The city received 9,737,000 gallons from Lake J. B. Thomas. Backwashing the filter plant required 140,000 gallons Tuesday.

The 9,737,000 gallons received was still 260,000 gallons below the 9,997,000 received May 4, which has been the high day for the year.

Final Rights Vote Expected On Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes Thursday on the revised civil rights bill. Overwhelming approval is expected which would send the measure to President Johnson for a symbolic July 4th signing ceremony.

Tuesday night, a pro-civil rights bloc on the House Rules Committee, by a 10-5 vote, cleared the 126-page bill for House floor action.

The House approved the original version on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290 to 130. House members now will vote on the Senate version of the bill.

The idea of a Fourth of July signing ceremony moved a Rules Committee member, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., to declare "I think it would be a desecration."

Another Southerner, Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, Jr., D-La., predicted that the civil rights bill and the racial issue "is going to be the issue whether you want it or not" in the November presidential election.

"The Democratic party hoped for a me-too Republican candidate, so the line never would be drawn," he said. "Now it appears that it won't be a me-too candidate, and the line is going to be sharply drawn."

He mentioned no names. But Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP nomination, voted against the civil rights bill in the Senate and said parts of it were unconstitutional.

The bill was not changed in any basic way in the Senate. Its 11 sections include bans on discrimination in public accommodations, employment and federally aided programs.

It gives the attorney general power to speed desegregation of public schools, parks and playgrounds, and to help individuals secure equal protection of the law.

Oil, Chemical Strike Off

DENVER (AP)—A threatened nationwide strike of workers at major oil and chemical plants was averted Tuesday night when the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union agreed to a delay pending further negotiations.

O. A. Knight, president of the Denver-based AFL-CIO union, said he had acceded to a request from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service for a 10-day delay.

Oil companies involved in negotiations include American Cities Service, Continental, Gulf, Phillips Petroleum, Pure Oil, Richfield, Shell, Sinclair, Socony, Standard Oil of California, Indiana, New Jersey and Ohio, and Texaco, Tidewater and Union Oil.

William E. Simkin of the federal agency telegraphed the request to Knight expressing the hope that mediation might be increased.

Knight said that in the event of a strike such installations as refineries and pipelines would chiefly be affected although such things as local distribution plants eventually could be affected.

Tax Agent Explains New Standard Deduction

The new minimum standard deduction has confused and alarmed a number of taxpayers, stated Joe Gordon, administrative officer of the Big Spring Internal Revenue Service Office. The IRS is getting calls from a number of taxpayers who feel that their taxes have been raised instead of lowered.

Gordon said, "most of these taxpayers who call are confusing the $600 personal exemption and the new minimum standard deduction." The $600 personal exemption rate has not been changed, but because of the minimum standard deduction, the amount that a taxpayer can earn, without paying taxes, has been increased. He explained the new minimum standard deduction as follows:

- (1) You can still take the 10 per cent standard deduction with a $1,000 ceiling or $500 each for married taxpayers filing separately.
- (2) The new law provides that the standard deduction shall not be less than $300, plus $100 for each exemption over one.

For example, a married couple with four children whose adjusted gross income is $5,000, will have a $800 standard deduction (formerly $500). They would also get $3,600 in personal exemptions.

For married persons filing separately, the minimum on each return is $200, plus $100 for each exemption over one. Neither may use the minimum unless both do.

You can still itemize your personal deductions (for taxes, contributions, interests, etc.) if this is to your advantage.

A single person without dependents has no tax liability until income reaches $900 ($675 under old law). A married couple without dependents, or a single taxpayer 65 or over, has no tax liability on income under $1,600 ($1,325 under old law).

Lyndon Okays Extensions Of Several Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson approved extension of a batch of excise taxes Tuesday—just hours before they were due to expire.

The action assured the government of annual revenues of $1.9 billion from the taxes, on such items as liquor, wine, beer, cigarettes, automobiles, local telephone service and airline tickets.

Earlier in the day, the extension had received voice vote approval from the House and passage on a 75-10 roll call in the Senate. The taxes were originally applied during the Korean War and have been extended annually since.

Other excise taxes on such things as jewelry, furs and cosmetics were not subject to renewal. The Senate voted to repeal these but the amendment was tossed out Monday by a Senate-House conference committee.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed Tuesday on a compromise authorization of more than $5.2 billion to continue the nation's space program—including the man-to-the-moon project.

The compromise retained $33 million of the $52 million which the Senate added to the authorization previously voted by the House for the fiscal year which starts today.

The committee's action is subject to approval by both houses. Funds will be supplied by a later appropriation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the new U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, plans to leave Saturday night for his post in Saigon.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, with only Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., in opposition, approved Taylor's nomination Tuesday.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan left for London today and said he would try to convince the Commonwealth prime ministers and Western nations "about the dangers in-

Incomes Show Slowdown For First Of '64

NEW YORK (AP) — A slowdown in the growth of personal incomes for the first time in months is about the only sour note in the lulling chorus of good times.

Most business news has been so much better than expected in the spring now ending that about the only worry has been: Is it too good to last?

Personal spending is the biggest bulwark of the economy. It is broader than either government or business spending. The steady climb in personal income totals has strengthened this bulwark. This in turn has bolstered industry and trade and above all has inspired hopes that the general upturn will continue into the foreseeable future.

UP IN MAY

And personal income did climb in May. The only disappointment is that its growth was only about half that of April. Available signs show June pretty much like May.

If May is a new trend rather than an exception the question becomes: Can personal consumption expand enough, and fast enough, to justify all of the high hopes on which business is now basing its planning?

Personal debts are rising. And these often represent prior repayment claims when the weekly paycheck is up for distribution.

The May figures for personal incomes put the total at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of about $485 billion. This would be about $1.25 billion above the revised April rate, which at first was estimated to have topped March by $2.2 billion.

PAYROLLS

One reason that personal incomes are expected to go on rising, at whatever rate, is that the very business boom itself will generate expanded payrolls. If all of the corporate plans for spending on new plants and equipment are carried out, there will be new jobs and longer work weeks.

And employment totals did go up in May to a record 71 million, with 81,000 new jobs in manufacturing alone. The factors work week was the longest and the overtime hours the highest for any May in nearly 10 years.

He said he was quitting because of "harassment of his family by politically motivated persons."

Cow Coptered Off Expressway

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Traffic was heavy during the evening rush hour Tuesday when a cow meandered onto a north expressway.

A helicopter pilot, relaying traffic conditions to a radio station, saw the bovine. Hovering over it, he herded the cow from the road and into a nearby field.

Farm Control Foes Uneasy Over Goldwater Showing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of the administration's farm programs are showing concern over the controversy among Republicans over the showing Sen. Barry Goldwater would make in the presidential election if he is the GOP nominee.

Many of those who want to reduce the government's role in farming figure that the 1965 session of Congress could be the one in which they could mark up significant victories.

These groups recognize that Goldwater would back them up should he reach the White House. As a senator he has been a persistent foe of federal farm controls.

Pure Oil Co. Studies Offer

DALLAS (AP) — President Robert L. Milligan of Pure Oil Co. says the offer of a Dallas oil company and a Delaware investment company to buy Pure Oil will receive careful consideration.

Milligan gave the assurance in a statement in Chicago Tuesday after Jack Crichton of Dallas announced the firm of Crichton and Co. and Laird and Co., a Wilmington, Del., investment banking concern, had offered to purchase Pure Oil.

No price was mentioned, but it was assumed to be larger than the $700 million offered by three other companies last week. Milligan said that a condition of the offer is that "current Pure Oil management be available to operate the new company and the present employees be retained to the maximum extent possible."

Crichton said the offer would result in a distribution to present stockholders of Pure Oil a minimum of $65 per share plus the right to participate in ownership of a new company to be formed. The new firm would own all of Pure Oil and operate four refineries.

In 1963 Pure Oil reported a net income of $29.7 million on revenues of $733.1 million. Its assets were valued at $678.8 million.

Announcement of the offer was made Tuesday after the close of the New York Stock Exchange, where Pure Oil closed at $50.87.

But after the announcement the stock advanced more than $8 per share on a rush of sales on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange in San Francisco.

Whew! Right Idea But Wrong Skunk

WINTHROP, Wash. (AP) — This case of mistaken identity had a certain air about it.

John Dabritz was missing one of his pet deodorized skunks. He thought he spotted the animal in a pit near a neighbor's house. Dabritz hopped into the hole to pick up the little rascal and hopped back out in a hurry. Wrong skunk.

Pope Paul's Program Of Action Still Taking Form

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has entered his second year as Pope his pontificate already notable but his program still taking form.

At noon June 21, 1963, a white wisp of smoke rose from a chimney over the Sistine Chapel to announce that the cardinals had selected Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan, as successor to John XXIII.

In the year since, the pontiff has continued John's Ecumenical Council and its related goal of closer contacts among Christians. He took the name Paul, revered by all Christians, to emphasize his interest in Christian unity.

UNITY MOVEMENT

His unprecedented Holy Land pilgrimage gave the unity movement a tremendous impetus. On the Mount of Olives he and Patriarch Athenagoras of Constantinople — Istanbul — embraced in the first meeting in five centuries between heads of the Roman Catholic and Orthodox churches.

These were historical events of the highest order.

Many observers have been waiting for an encyclical outlining the program of his pontificate. There has also been expectation that he would call a consistory for the creation of cardinals and use the occasion for a policy allocation.

Pope Paul has by no means failed to give indications of the direction he is taking.

CLOSER CONTACTS

His actions and his frequent speeches, taken together, show he aims to bring the Roman Catholic Church into closer contacts with non-Christians as well as non-Catholic Christians.

At the same time he is moving to change the face that the Roman Catholic Church presents to the rest of the world. In doing this Pope Paul has indicated a willingness to push forward the church renewal begun by Pope John.

The Pope has set up a secretariat to deal with non-Christian religious leaders. He has said there is a need to reform and internationalize the Vatican Curia, the central church administration. He has stirred a debate on the question of bishops' sharing authority with the Pope. He has displayed a willingness to strip the Vatican of some ceremonial trappings such as the Noble Guard.

PAPAL TRAVELS

It is generally believed that his Holy Land trip was only the beginning of papal travels.

Pope Paul's pronouncements on communism have indicated his relations with the Communist world are still evolving.

In several speeches, highlighted by a Good Friday discourse, Pope Paul has rebuked communism in words reminiscent of Pius XII.

At the same time Pope Paul has maintained Vatican diplomatic moves started by Pope John in Eastern Europe.

Pope Paul's pontificate—like John's—has a decided pastoral emphasis. He has made frequent visits to churches in Rome and to hospitals, orphanages, and even the city jail.

Bond Sale Postponed

The city's fiscal agent—First National Bank of Dallas — has recommended postponing the sale of $470,000 in water and sewer revenue bonds until October. City Manager Larry Crow said today.

City commissioners authorized the sale of the bonds in April, but the bonds were never sold. This is the second time the sale has been postponed—both times upon the advice of the fiscal agent.

According to the Master Plan program, the money is earmarked for expenditure on the Beal's Creek trunk sewer line, a reservoir in the State Park, and a booster pump station at City Park.

Crow pointed out the money would not be needed before October since plans on the sewer line will not be ready for advertisement before then. Forrest & Cotton, consulting engineering firm for the city, is working on a new set of specifications for the line.

Crow said the new specifications would provide a new route along Second Street and include two lift stations. Bids on two previous specifications for the line were rejected by commissioners as being too high.

No Parking Plan Wins Approval For Birdwell

Jerry Worthy was elected chairman of the Big Spring Traffic Commission, during a regular meeting Tuesday.

Other members present were Paul Soldan, Jack Y. Smith, Coy Nalley and Bob Brock.

Acting on a motion by Smith, seconded by Brock, the commission approved the prohibition of parking on Birdwell Lane from Yale to Eleventh Place for 90 days on a trial basis. The ruling will continue in effect after the trial period, if commissioners are satisfied with it.

The board also voted to prohibit parking on the west side of State near the intersection of Ridgeroad. Soldan made the motion for approval, and it was seconded by Nalley.

policy to about three lot owners in the area. The no parking rule will cover only a small area—to allow clearance for two lanes of south bound traffic on State.

A new traffic signal was installed at the intersection about 10 days ago, according to Roy Rogan, city electrician, who said the cost was about $850. Contacted Wednesday morning, Rogan said a "few bugs have to be ironed out" before the light is operating at maximum efficiency.

No action was taken on a plan for a stop sign at the intersection of Ninth and Nolan. The board asked Lillard to study traffic at Fifth and Scurry for the feasibility of relocating a signal light at the intersection.

DUKE OF WINDSOR
70 years old

Duke Feted On His 70th Anniversary

PARIS (AP) — The Duke of Windsor was 70 years old Tuesday.

The former King Edward VIII of England had a few friends over to his mansion on the edge of Paris, but nothing lavish.

The duchess was there, as always the perfect hostess, leading conversation on the world of fashion, the arts, and international society.

Chances are no one spoke of the duke's abdication in 1936, when he stepped down to marry the American-born, twice-divorced, Wallis Simpson, whom Britons still refuse to accept as a duchess.

CEASED WORRY

All that is history. In the 27 years since he left the throne the British public has ceased worrying about it. School children have to be told what it was all about. The Windsors themselves are not interested in speculating what might have happened—if.

The duke dislikes bringing up his age in public, and declined all requests for birthday interviews. He believes such stories, a spokesman said, smack too much of obituaries.

What counts now are the years since the duke was set on French shores from a British warship—an exiled monarch.

On his own for the first time, he set out to carve himself a private life. In one way it was easy—he had a large private fortune. In another it was difficult—the royal family and a big part of the British public were hostile about his becoming the third husband of a commoner.

NO REGRETS

There has never been any sign from either that they regretted the marriage that took place June 3, 1937, less than six months after the abdication.

In those happy years the world press followed them from yacht trips off Florida to chateaux in France to hunting lodges in Germany — always waving, always smiling. At the start of World War II the duke became a liaison officer in France, and in 1940-45 was commander in chief of the Bahamas Islands. He has since had no public or private job. But the ex-king works on the portfolio from which he supports his lavish life gentlemanly spending.

It takes money to support a score of servants in his small though palatial mansion, and his weekend retreat outside Paris, a converted mill with a brook running through the specially designed garden.

OWN MANAGER

The duke is his own investment manager. Although his mansion and mill are both rented, his real properties have ranged from a ranch in the Canadian Rockies to villa sites on the Spanish coast. He and the duchess have made money from memoirs and the story of their romance.

The personal fame they have lent to other enterprises has become well known. Their names at the top of the guest list have spelled success for many a charity function.

In later years they have slowed down somewhat. The duchess still attends many high fashion showings, sometimes setting the fashion herself. Sitting far back in their several-years-old American limousine, she still goes to parties and teas in the most chic neighborhoods.

SPORTS EVENTS

The duke, about as tweedily British as possible with pipe, cap and shooting stick, attends the topnotch sports events with genuine interest.

The couple spends several months a year in the United States, mostly in sunny resorts and New York.

The duke visits Britain occasionally, his last official trip being in 1952 for the funeral of his brother, King George VI.

He sees his niece, Queen Elizabeth II, once in a while, but his visits are mostly restricted to business. He always leaves the duchess outside Britain but hurries back to her after two or three days away.

Ruby May Remain In Jail Despite Treatment Plea

DALLAS (AP) — Judge Joe B. Brown said Tuesday that Jack Ruby may stay in the county jail despite the claim of defense lawyers that the 33-year-old convicted slayer needs hospital treatment.

Ruby is now awaiting appeal of his conviction of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Judge Brown said he doubts he can send Ruby to a hospital under Texas law unless a jury finds him insane.

The judge expressed doubt also that he could find a hospital willing to accept the slayer for temporary treatment.

Officials of Parkland Hospital have informed Judge Brown they lack facilities to care for Ruby.

And Dr. George Castner, superintendent of Rusk State Hospital, has said he did not believe the state hospital for the criminally insane could legally accept Ruby unless a jury ruled him mentally ill.

Clayton Fowler, Ruby's chief defense lawyer, says he will ask Judge Brown to order Ruby moved to a hospital within the next two weeks. Fowler says, however, that he does not want

On The Trail Of Plant Pests

Scientist Dies

LAMESA (SC) — Stanley J. Mulder has been assigned by the plant pest control division of the Agriculture Research Service of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture to a 5-county area with permanent headquarters here.

Mulder's main job will be seeking out the pink bollworm —primarily checking gins to make sure that there is no possibility of the worm being carried out of a contaminated region.

He will be in charge of Dawson, Borden, Gaines, Terry and Yoakum counties. His office will be in the basement of the Lamesa post office.

Mulder said he would run various surveys on plant pests required by the state and federal governments. He was an inspector for the USDA in North Carolina for five years before moving here recently.

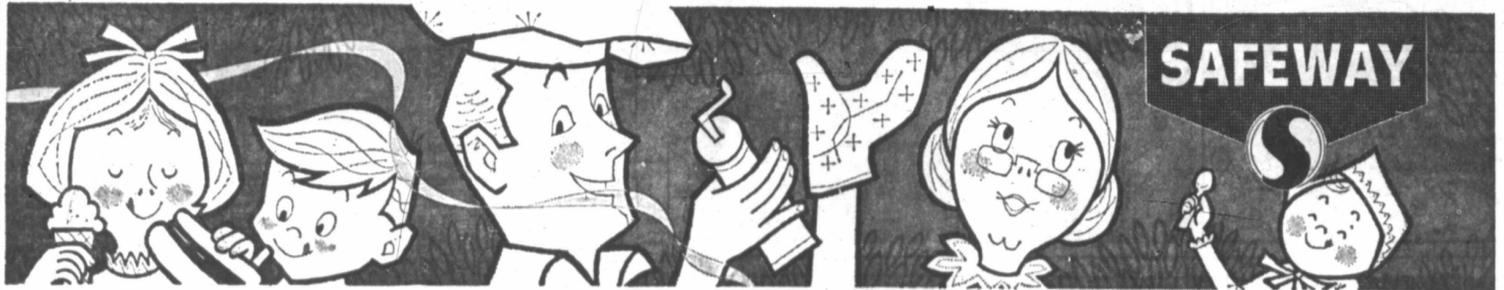

Married, Mulder attended La

Sierra College in Arlington, Calif., and studied zoology at Walla Walla College in Washington.

Kindergartens To Desegregate

The decision puts integration of the city's free public kindergartens eight years ahead of a federal court-ordered grade-a-year plan.

Goering-Built Factories Look To Reds For Profits

SALZGITTER, Germany (AP)—Huge factories that Hermann Goering built to arm the Nazis now are looking for orders from the Soviets to make them profitable again.

"There's no place more advantageous to ship from," Salzgitter and its vast industrial complex lie on the Great Mittelland Canal, which flows into Red-ruled East Germany less than 50 miles away. "If we could ship freely to the East," says Paul Rheinlander, who runs Salzgitter's steel division, "There's no place more advantageous to ship from." West Germany, despite its anti-Communist stand, does more business with the Soviet bloc than any other Western country does, and is working to develop still more trade. The Communists need steel and steel products but they have little to ship in exchange. In trade among Western nations, the normal solution would be to offer long-term credits, but West Germany stands with the United States in refusing to wait more than five years for payment from the Communists.

Doing more business with the Communists could help turn the Salzgitter industrial concern into a paying proposition. One of the largest businesses in Europe, it had a turnover of $846 million last year. But since 1962 it has paid no dividends to its only stockholder — the Federal Republic of West Germany.

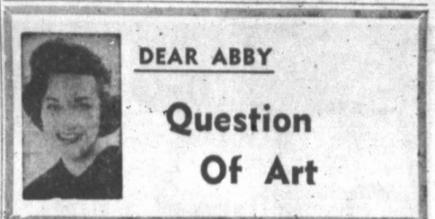

This is a legacy from the Nazis, the Salzgitter works were started in 1937 to make Germany independent of foreign

Search Called Off For Woman

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard has abandoned a two-day search for Britt Sullivan, 29, who reportedly disappeared Sunday, the fifth day of her attempt to swim to Europe.

Planes, cutters and helicopters of the Coast Guard searched the Atlantic Ocean off Long Island but found no trace of her. She had failed to rendezvous with an escort boat.

DEAR ABBY

Question Of Art

DEAR ABBY: My very lovely sister-in-law is an art student, and she has just entered her broad brush syndrome. Her oils resemble an explosion in a paint factory. She is now doing a portrait of my wife, and we both agree that it is an atrocity. When it is finished, must I hang it in the living room and suffer an aesthetic jolt every time I set eyes on it? Or should I risk a family donnybrook and send it to the attic, where it clearly belongs?

APPALLED
DEAR APPALLED: Prop it up somewhere downstairs for a reasonable length of time, then banish it to the attic. If the artist complains, tell her you couldn't bear to hang your wife in the living room.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who worries himself half-sick over what to buy his mother for Mother's Day, and then turns around and says to his wife, "Don't buy me anything for Father's Day because I am not buying you anything for Mother's Day."

BOILING OVER
DEAR BOILING: Your husband apparently feels that his mother eagerly anticipates a Mother's Day gift, and would avoid disappointing her—even though he disapproves of the idea generally. If you think he is discriminating, and it bugs you, tell him! Or would you rather just go on "boiling"?

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I give a party, our invitations are "RSVP," which everyone knows requires an answer. We have about six or seven couples with whom we are quite friendly. Some of them assume that just because we are so close they need not respond. We are just supposed to "know" that they will be there. Abby, I am so tired of having to call up half a dozen invited guests the night of my party to find out whether they are coming or not. We had the same problem when our daughter was married last summer. About a dozen of our relatives felt so "close" that they didn't think it was necessary to let us know that they were coming. Please state in your column the legitimate reasons one may use for ignoring an "RSVP."

READY TO SCREAM
DEAR READY: As far as I know, there is NO "legitimate" reason to ignore an RSVP. Even in illness, one can always have a telephone call made, expressing regrets.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Report Shuns Import Limits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Tariff Commission released Tuesday a report on imports of beef but made no recommendations regarding possible action to restrict foreign supplies.

The report was based on recent commission hearings and investigations requested by the Senate Finance Committee. The committee has before it legislation backed by strong cattle interests that would impose strict controls on imports.

The investigation followed a sharp break in cattle prices in this country, starting early in 1963 and continuing this year.

The Johnson administration opposes the legislation, contending that imports already are being reduced voluntarily. It contends also that increased domestic production of beef cattle, rather than imports, is the cause of the price decline.

The 170-page commission report outlined various factors.

It said nearly all the table beef consumed in this country, even in recent years of rising imports, is supplied by domestic producers. Imported beef, it said, goes mostly into manufactured meat products.

The report has been transmitted to the Senate committee.

Pressure for the legislation has eased a bit the past few weeks as cattle prices have strengthened somewhat and foreign supplies have declined.

Long Innings Pain To Tribe Hurlers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mrs. Doubleday's little boy Abner decided the game ought to be played with three outs in every inning. Cleveland pitchers would be all right if they needed only two.

The Indians' staff wasn't having much trouble getting those first two outs Tuesday night against Chicago. The 12-3 White Sox romp came while the Indians' staff was chasing that elusive third one.

Cleveland owned a 1-0 lead through four innings but with three outs and two in the fifth, Ron Hansen also drove in a pair with two hits.

the roof fell in. Three hits, a hit batsman and a walk later the White Sox had seven runs. Then came out No. 3.

There were two out, and a man on second in the sixth when three White Sox hits produced three more runs. And in the seventh, an error, two hits and a walk accounted for Chicago's final two runs—all after two were out.

The hitting heroes for the White Sox were Gerry McNertney, whose grand slam homer climaxed the seven run fifth, and Pete Ward who rapped two out and two in the fifth, three hits, driving in two runs.

Ron Hansen also drove in a pair with two hits.

Juan Pizarro went the distance, winning his 10th although touched for John Romano's two-run homer.

In other AL action Tuesday, New York swept a two-night doubleheader from Los Angeles 4-0 and 3-2, Minnesota topped Baltimore 3-1, Washington edged Detroit 6-5 and Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1.

The White Sox shelled four Indian pitchers for 13 hits, 10 of them coming after two were out.

The victory left Chicago five games back of the Orioles who saw their seven game winning streak ended by a five-hitter hurled by Gerry Arrigo and Al Worthington.

The Twins got all their runs on singles. Bob Allison drove in one in the first and then Jimmie Hall delivered the other two in the third after Steve Barber had wild pitched the runners into scoring position.

Roger Maris tagged five hits for the Yankees including the game-winning homer in the eighth as New York swept two from the Angels. Jim Bouton fired a four-hitter in the opener and Al Downing, winning his first game in over a month, took the second game.

Mickey Mantle drove in two runs in the first game and Bouton never allowed more than one base runner in any inning. Cleve Boyer's sensational game-ending catch bailed Downing out of a two-out spot in the ninth.

Rocky Colavito drove in both Kansas City runs with a homer and a double and three Athletic pitchers combined for a two-hitter.

Moe Drabowsky and Wes Stock permitted just one Red Sox hit over the first eight innings but Carl Yastrzemski's ninth homer of the season broke the shutout in the ninth. John Wyatt came on to end it.

John Kennedy crashed a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth as the Senators came from behind to beat Detroit. Kennedy, who also singled home a run in the seventh, ruined Dave Wickersham's bid to become the major league's first 11 game winner.

Inmates Buy All Equipment For Baseball

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Reds may not be leading the Pimlico Little League, but they're drawing the biggest crowds.

The Reds have a captive audience, you might say, in their generous sponsors — inmates at the Maryland Penitentiary.

The prisoners chipped in $150 for their meager earnings to buy uniforms and equipment for the team, which plays some of its league games in the prison yard.

Although they have only a 4-7 record, the Reds have shown their appreciation by winning both games before their sponsors.

Hundreds of inmates were on hand Monday evening as the Reds scored a 3-1 victory over the Cardinals. Vari-colored penitents were strung between buildings to decorate the yard for the kids.

Inmates acting as umpires were treated the same as umpires everywhere — without feeling. Boos and catcalls greeted their decisions, even when they favored the home team.

The idea to sponsor the team originated with the inmate members of Bird's Nest 954 — a fan club for the Baltimore Orioles which also promotes interest in baseball and softball at the penitentiary.

The president of Bird's Nest 954, named after the penitentiary address of 954 Forrest Street, is inmate John Young. The chairman of the board is outsider Willie Miranda, former major league shortstop who played with the Orioles and now works in the area.

Parents attending Monday's game were enthusiastic about their children playing in the penitentiary.

"The kids enjoy this, and I'm sure the men do, too," said Mrs. Ramona Rinn. "It's a good experience for the boys — they look forward to coming here."

Errant Slider Costs Jackson A No-Hitter

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning of Philadelphia, one of the few men to pitch a perfect game, and Ken Johnson of Houston, one of the few to lose a no-hitter, faced each other.

So, who came closer to perfection? Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs.

The Bunning-Johnson duel failed to materialize at Houston Tuesday night. Bunning lost his bid for a perfect game in the first inning and Johnson never survived it—the victim of three errors that led to five runs and an 8-1 Philadelphia victory.

At Chicago, however, Jackson had a perfect game for six innings against Cincinnati and admittedly had started thinking seriously of a no-hitter.

"For the first time in my life I really felt I had a chance," said Jackson. "The thought just raced through my mind that I could do it if I went through the order one more time."

He couldn't get past the next batter. Pete Rose, leading off the seventh, ripped a slider into center field for a single. That was it for the Reds, however. Jackson set the final nine men down in order, winning 1-0 over Jody Jay, who was touched for only two hits.

"I threw Rose a slider down low," Jackson explained, "but it was through the middle and I imagine he guessed with me."

Jackson's one-hitter made him the sixth 10-game winner in the National League and put him in an exclusive group of seven NL pitchers or one-hitters this season, surpassing the entire 1963 total.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry also turned in a shutout, blanking the New York Mets 3-0 on three hits as the Giants remained one-half game in front of the Phillies. Milwaukee edged St. Louis 5-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Bunning, knocked out in his last start Friday, posted his first victory since his June 21 perfect game against the New York Mets by checking the Colts on five hits. Any thoughts of another perfect game left after the leadoff batter drew a walk and any prospects of a no-hitter disappeared when Nellie Fox, the second man up, singled. Johnson, meanwhile, never had a chance. Walt Bond dropped a fly ball hit by the Phillies' leadoff batter, Tony Taylor, and later in the inning added a throwing error while Joe Gaines also dropped a fly ball in the Phillies' five-run burst. Bunning, now 8-3, chased Johnson, 6-7, with a two-run single that wrapped up the rally.

Jackson, 10-5, allowed only five balls to be hit to the outfield as he outdueled Jay, 4-4. Jay became the loser when the Cubs scored in the sixth on a walk to Dick Bertell, Jackson's sacrifice and a single by Jimmy Stewart.

Perry retired 19 consecutive Mets at one stretch, brought his record to 6-3 and lowered his earned run average to 1.65 as the Giants won their 10th game in the last 12. Perry received home run support from Orlando Cepeda and Tom Haller.

Hank Aaron collected four hits for the Braves, including a homer, before pinch hitter Ty Cline clinched it for Milwaukee with a two-run homer in the eighth. It was Cline's first homer of the season and tagged Cardinal reliever Roger Craig with the loss.

Stars Nudge Hawks, 8-6

The Stars got off to a four-run first inning on their way to an 8-6 American Little League victory over the Hawks here Tuesday night.

Six of the Stars' 12 hits were doubles. Ronnie Williams collected three hits, including a two-baser, for the winners, Grady Ray, Ray Lynn Wright, Bill Davis, Terry Darden and David Englert also smashed doubles for the Stars.

Randy Sundry clouted two doubles and David Humphrey one for the Hawks, who had five safeties in all.

Jodie Sabbato Is Medalist In Meet

Jodie Sabbato fired an 82 Tuesday over the 18 holes of the Big Spring Country Club, one stroke better than Curt Thurman, and took medalist honors as the 1964 version of the women's club championship got under way.

In all, 21 players are vying for the top trophy which was won only a year ago by Billie Dillon, one of the top feminine linksters in Big Spring. But she did not enter this year's tourney and the field is wide open as several women are given a better than average chance of being the new champ. Top contenders will be Mrs. Gil (Betty) Jones, Carrie Magee, Thurman and Sabbato.

There are three flights in this year's action which extends through Friday—a championship division along with a first and nine-hole flight. All action is medal play.

Other scores shot in the 18 hole flights Tuesday were Mickey Marcum, 103; Bettye Jones, 86; Libby Saunders, 104; Edith Ramsey, 106; Polly Mays, 110; Harriett Zike, 121; Carrie Magee, 96; Gloria Edwards, 116; Peggy Marshall, 99; and Ernestine Smith, 100.

In the nine-hole flight, Bee Zinn topped all qualifiers Tuesday with a 50. Other scores recorded were Mauvis Jones, 56; Dorothy Bell, 58; P. D. Heith, 63; and Dottie Redden, 66.

Jim Bunning In Charge As Phils Rip Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Jim Bunning checked Houston with a five-hitter Tuesday night as the Philadelphia Phillies ran over the Colts, 8-1.

Three Houston errors helped the Phillies score five runs in the top of the first.

It was Bunning's first victory since he pitched a perfect game 10 days ago. He is now 8-2.

Bunning tapped a two-run single in the first that sent Houston starter Ken Johnson to the showers. Johnson, who pitched but lost a no-hitter earlier this year, is 6-7.

Outfielders Walt Bond and Joe Gaines dropped fly balls in the first that set up the five-run spree. Bond also committed a throwing error.

Singles by Richie Allen and John Herrstein produced two of the five runs. Clay Dalrymple lifted a sacrifice fly for another and then Bunning cracked his single.

The lone Colt run came in the second on a walk and singles by Rusty Staub and Jerry Grote. Bunning allowed only two hits after that.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

Some people have all the fishing luck. Take the case of DWIGHT MATCHETT of Conway, Ark. Two weeks ago he was trying out the Arkansas River 16 miles north of Little Rock with a 75-pound test line connected to a deep-sea rig. On one of his casts out of the boat he hooked a 175-pound alligator gar which later turned out to be 7 feet long. He and his companion, JACK ROACH, also of Conway, quickly rowed to shore, and after a 40-minute fight got it close enough to shore for a killing shot to the brain with a .22 pistol. After letting it hang up for a day for everyone to see, it was given away for a barbecue. Incidentally, if you're curious, the world's record for this fish is 279 pounds, and appropriately it was caught in Texas. The record fish was hooked at Rio Grande, Dec. 2, 1951. This corner heard of the catch from JOE MOSBY, Daily Herald wire editor, who happened to be visiting in Arkansas at the time. Matchett is his wife's cousin, so he got to see a lot of the fish.

MATCHETT'S GAR

When LEW BURDETTE of the Chicago Cubs recently beat the Mets in Shea Stadium some of the losers thought the ex-Milwaukee ace might be tossing some spitballs at them. But CASEY STENGLER, Met-manager, just commented: "He's got a way of perspiring on it."

Twenty-five of the 150 golfers who teed off on the first day of this year's U.S. Open put balls into the water on the 10th hole at Washington's Congressional course. It's a 459-yarder. I guess that proves that everyone's human.

SANDY KOUFAX, ace hurler of the Los Angeles Dodgers: "Sometime we pitchers on the Dodgers feel like we're training for the Olympics, but I believe our pitchers are always in shape. JOE BECKER, our pitching coach, is a great believer in having us do a lot of running."

There were nine below-par 70 rounds in this year's U.S. Open. Two each were turned in by ARNOLD PALMER and GAY BREWER. Others under par for one round were winner KEN VENTURI, TOMMY JACOBS, BOB CHARLES, BILLY CASPER and DON JANUARY.

WENDEL PAYTE, coach of the Stars in the American Little League, recently got a letter through the mail from one of his players who is participating for the last year in the loop because of his age: "Thank you for three years of your time and lots of effort spent with me. I know we boys have caused you lots of worry and sleepless nights, and maybe a few gray hairs, but I will always remember my three years in 'little league' with you. We have had lots of fun and I will never forget the day you chose me to be on your team. Boy, I had it made, I thought. Ha. And how lucky I was to be on your team. I've enjoyed every minute of it and I'm sorry I can't be with you and the boys next year. But I wish you lots of luck! You are a wonderful coach. And a grand guy!" Here's Wendel's comment: "Just this one letter makes every minute of those five years I've spent in little league mean something. I'll treasure this letter for the rest of my life." Sometimes you can't attach a price tag to the most valuable things in life. Wendel is a rich man.

Giants Nip Orioles, 3-2

The Giants pushed across a run in the first extra inning Tuesday night in the Sophomore League on two walks to Tom Ryan and Jerry Ryan and a double by Junior Alamazon as they defeated the Orioles, 3-2.

Benny Chabarris was the winner, going the distance tossing a four-hitter and giving up four singles to different batters, while Luven Flores was the loser. Junior Alamazon was the game's top hitter as he rapped two doubles while teammate Johnny Hedges tapped a triple.

McKinley Tangles With F. Stolle

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the defending Wimbledon tennis champion, faced a right-handed opponent today for the first time since the tournament's opening round—and his foe was the last barrier between McKinley and a berth in the final.

The American ace met Fred Stolle, the tall Australian he beat for the title a year ago.

Top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia played Germany's Wilhelm Bungert in the other semifinal.

McKinley, Davis Cup star from San Antonio, Tex., said he wasn't bothered by having to play four left-handers in succession. He reached the semifinals by defeating southpaws Tomas Koch of Brazil, Torben Ulrich of Denmark, Billy Knight of Britain and Abe Segal of South Africa.

"I take every match on its merits," McKinley said. "Right or left-handed, I just take them as they come."

Gov. Connally Says Action Probable On Key Projects

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally says he thinks the 1965 legislature can act on some recommendations of his higher education study committee as well as the vexing issues of redistricting, teacher salaries and state spending.
The governor made the statement Tuesday at a news conference, his first since March 4. The committee's report is due on his desk Aug. 31. Last week Connally spent a full day reviewing with the group a preliminary draft of its report.
"I'm going to have to be selective in the recommendations I make to the legislature (on higher education)," he said. "I certainly have not made up my mind as to what I want to recommend." He said it is not certain yet what the committee's recommendations cost to put into effect.
Connally said, "I hope other issues won't force a delay in action" on the recommendations. "They're going to be submitted. I hope that with a lot of hard work and advance planning we can knock out a good many of these programs."
In other remarks, Connally said he believes there will be a surplus of from $75 million to $80 million in the general revenue fund by August 31, 1965, the end of the present biennium. He said he hopes it will enable Texas to abandon eventually the state ad valorem tax on property, which brings in some $40 million annually.
He said he hopes to make goodwill visits this year to Mexico's northern tier of states and South America. "We've had the governors of the Mexican states here. I think it's time for the governor of Texas to visit them," he said. "And I'm hoping for closer ties with Latin America."
He indicated he may ask the legislative council to study problems involved in reappointing Texas House and Senate seats in view of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision that state legislatures must be apportioned only on a population basis.
At the present time he has no plans to recommend civil rights legislation for Texas, although "if making progress in that field indicates action on my part or by the legislature would help in a solution to a difficult problem, I might make some recommendation."

Tech Scientists To Study Cosmic Dust

Two Texas Tech geosciences department faculty members have received a $24,474 grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to finance studies on cosmic dust particles.
Dr. F. Alton Wade, professor of geosciences, is the principal investigator on the project. Dr. Thomas E. Bridge, an assistant professor of geosciences, will be a co-investigator.
"Cosmic dust collectors designed by Dr. C. L. Hemenway, director of the Dudley Observatory, Albany, N.Y., will be sent to space in crafts during several Gemini flights," Dr. Wade explained. "They will be attached to the outer skin of the crafts by astronauts after they go into orbit and later removed to the interior of the capsule before re-entry."
These will be the first pure samples of cosmic dust according to the Tech geoscientist. When the spacecraft returns to earth, a portion of the dust collected will be sent to Tech for observation and analysis.
Dr. Wade added that these pure samples will enable true standards of comparison of terrestrial and cosmic dust particles to be established.
"The fall of dust particles on the earth's surface is estimated at more than 10 million tons annually," Dr. Wade said.
Although the original grant to Tech will be for one year, Dr. Wade indicated that NASA anticipates the project to be a continuing one in the future. As part of this program, Dr. Wade and his colleagues will collect dust particles during an extended trip to Antarctica which will begin in October.
"We anticipate that this program will eventually include collection and analysis of dust particles from the moon during Project Apollo," he added.
Dr. Wade thinks that the first samples will be available early in 1966. Prior to this date, the two Tech geoscientists will carry out preliminary research to develop procedures and techniques for studying the surface features and shapes and for determining the dimensions of the particles.

Four Die As Plane Falls

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—A Muskogee pilot, his daughter and two Muskogee youths were killed in the crash Thursday night of a light airplane south of here.
The dead were identified by the Oklahoma Highway Patrol as Bill Schumacher, manager of the Schumacher Airport and pilot of the plane; his daughter, Carol, 15; Larry Featherston, 17; and Jerry Barlow, 12.
The patrol said the plane, a Cessna-470, crashed shortly after taking off from Schumacher's air field. A trooper said there was some indication the plane may have exploded in the air.
The plane burned after it crashed, making identification of the victims difficult.
Father of the Barlow youth, Cletus Barlow, was admitted to a Muskogee hospital for treatment of shock after witnessing the crash.
