Milton To Nominate Scranton

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania announced today that Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the former president, will nominate Scranton at the Republican National Convention next week. Scranton opened a news conference with this statement: "I am delighted and pleased to announce that Dr. Milton Eisenhower will nominate me for president at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. Gen. Eisenhower knows about this and is very pleased about it. The general said that was the best news he heard yet."

Webb Man, Infant Killed, Wife Hurt

Mrs. John J. Buchfeld, who was seriously injured in the one-car accident that took the lives of her husband and 19-month-old son early Sunday near Fredericksburg, was reported improving rapidly. She was removed from the critical list this morning. Mrs. Buchfeld received multiple fractures and internal injuries, and hospital attendants at Lackland AFB this morning said she had regained consciousness.

Eight Claimed By Collision

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., (AP) — Eight persons died Sunday when a car, driven by a man police had arrested earlier for speeding, collided head on with a station wagon. The dead were: Willie Walker, 45, a Negro of Milwaukee, the car driver; Harold W. Marshall, 48, Kane, Ill., driver of the station wagon; his wife Clara, 47, and their daughter Janice, 24, St. Louis; Herbert Crawford, 34, Kane, a passenger in the Marshall's vehicle; and her sons, David, 4, and Lawrence, 14, and Catherine Goodall, 14, Kane, also a passenger in the station wagon. Highway patrol Sgt. Paul Volkmer said he arrested Walker 90 minutes before the accident near Mexico, Mo., about 50 miles from the accident scene.

More Reliable Reports Due In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's assumption of U.S. leadership in South Vietnam may bring more accurate—and perhaps more balanced—information to Washington on the course of the war. Reliable assessments from the field are imperative if the government is to be guided properly in its decisions on the conduct of U.S. efforts to help the South Vietnamese overcome Communist rebellion. Certain key American officials here have been skeptical about the estimates and reports sent in from South Viet Nam.

Four Shot In Melee At Texas 'Swim-In'

BREAKS RACIAL BARRIER AT MISSISSIPPI MOTEL NAACP board member Robert Carter registers at Jackson's Sun 'N Sord

Mississippi's Hotels Quietly Admit Negroes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negro leaders plan to move further into Mississippi today to inspect civil rights developments after quietly integrating several previously all-white facilities—including two hotels—in Jackson. Officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People registered with incident Sunday at two downtown hotels and a motel, then received service in the coffee shop of one—all without incident. Four unidentified Negro youths attended a previously all-white movie theater and more than a dozen Negroes in several cars were served at a drive-in cafe for whites. At the drive-in, all four tires on one car were slashed while its Negro passengers were inside. Charles Evers, state field secretary for the NAACP, said the four-day civil rights inspection tour would continue today with the group's officials leaving Jackson for Canton, then a visit to Philadelphia in the afternoon and a mass meeting in Meridian tonight.

of three civil rights workers, missing since June 21. The trio vanished after their release from jail, where they had been taken on a speeding charge. Biracial groups of more than a dozen board members and staffers of the NAACP arrived in Jackson on three different flights Sunday to begin the statewide inspection tour. The first racial barriers fell when two of the group checked into the Heidelberg Hotel. Detectives and newsmen witnessed the first registration of Negroes at a downtown hotel since reconstruction days. After spending 20 minutes in their room, the two returned to the main floor where they were joined by three other Negroes. All entered the hotel's coffee shop, and were served. Later, a five-member biracial group checked into the King Edward Hotel, a few blocks away. They caused little attention and no incident. About the same time, a six-member Negro group went to the Sun-N-Sun motel. The clerk said simply, "Sign in, please." Newsmen and detectives watched. Other guests paid little attention. The NAACP leaders said they would try to meet with Gov. Paul Johnson before leaving Jackson. Johnson said earlier he had no plans to meet with the group.

Riot Erupts At Texarkana Lake

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Four persons suffered gunshot wounds Sunday when violence erupted as Negroes sought to integrate a beach near here. Officers arrested 23 Negroes on charges of inciting a riot. One was charged with assault to murder. Sheriff Bill Dowd said the swim-in was planned in Texarkana, Ark. All the Negroes were from Arkansas, most of them Negroes have swum in Lake Texarkana previously without incident. The violence erupted when the Negroes came out of the water among a group of whites and began singing and clapping. Earlier, the same group swam for about 15 minutes without incident at a children's camp in another part of the lake. White persons there left the beach. PISTOL SHOT One white man was wounded by a pistol shot and three Negroes suffered wounds from shotgun pellets. None was injured seriously. "This was planned as a non-violent demonstration," Sheriff Dowd said today. "But they recruited some pretty tough characters. They came looking for trouble and found it." The sheriff said the demonstration was "conceived in Arkansas" and the group came to the lake in a caravan. Dowd said that if the Negroes had only wanted to swim they could have done so without incident at the children's camp. Charged with assault to murder was Clifford Dowd, 21, a Negro. Sheriff Dowd said he is charged with shooting a white man. INCITING RIOT Williams also was charged, along with the others, with inciting a riot. Five of those arrested were women. The Negroes were held in jail in Linden unable to make the $1,000 bond each set by Judge Wayne Brown. Lake Texarkana is five miles west of this northeast Texas city on the Arkansas border. Some Negroes had swum in the lake previously "without major incident." Cass County Sheriff Bill Dowd said from 80 to 100 Negroes and 150 to 200 whites were involved. They brandished bottles and hurled rocks that smashed car windows and headlights, Dowd said. BROKEN GLASS The site was littered with broken glass and other debris. Witnesses report this is what happened: The Negroes, who had been swimming in the lake for some time, began singing and clapping hands as they waded ashore. A lone white man waving a broken bottle confronted the group as they walked toward a parking area. Words were exchanged. Bystanders began milling around. "Come on, let's leave," one Negro woman said fearfully. The man heeled-the-bottle at the group. Both sides began heaving rocks and other missiles snatched from trash cans. Guns suddenly appeared, Lee Edward Johnson, a 21-year-old white, was shot in the leg with a pistol. "Then a white man reached into his car, pulled out a shotgun and fired two shots," one witness said. "A colored man tried to take it away from him, and it went off again." THREE NEGROES Shotgun pellets struck three Negroes: James Hutson, 17; Eugene Sumler, 15, and William Easter, 28. Police said the Negroes then sped to a Texarkana hospital in several cars. Officers who had learned of the disturbance by short wave radio said the Negroes ran several traffic signals. They were arrested at the hospital. Easter and Hutson were released after treatment and jailed with 14 other Negroes. Johnson and Sumler were hospitalized overnight. None was believed seriously hurt. No whites were arrested. Police said they found a pile of rocks in one Negro's car—no reason the group was jailed.

Traffic Toll Sets Record

By The Associated Press Traffic accidents took a record 488 lives during the three-day Fourth of July observance. The toll was counted across the nation during the 78-hour weekend period from 6 p.m., Thursday (local time), to midnight Sunday. The heavy death toll compared to the previous high of 442, set in a three-day Independence Day holiday period in 1960. There was a sharp increase in fatalities in the last 24 hours of the 78-hour holiday period, with more than 175 deaths reported. The National Safety Council had estimated the traffic deaths would total between 450 and 550. The council, until Sunday, had been hopeful that the final total would be below its pre-holiday estimate. But with millions of motorists homeward bound from resorts and vacations, the death toll rose far above the earlier pace.

Rescuer Killed By Electrocuton

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy running to the aid of two persons hurt in an auto accident was struck on the head by a power line and electrocuted Sunday, about 15 miles south of Sedalia. The victim was Marvin Allen Reid, son of Maj. Kenneth Reid of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. The auto involved in the accident had hit a utility pole, knocking down a 68,000-volt power line.

Four-Day Fire Finally Stopped

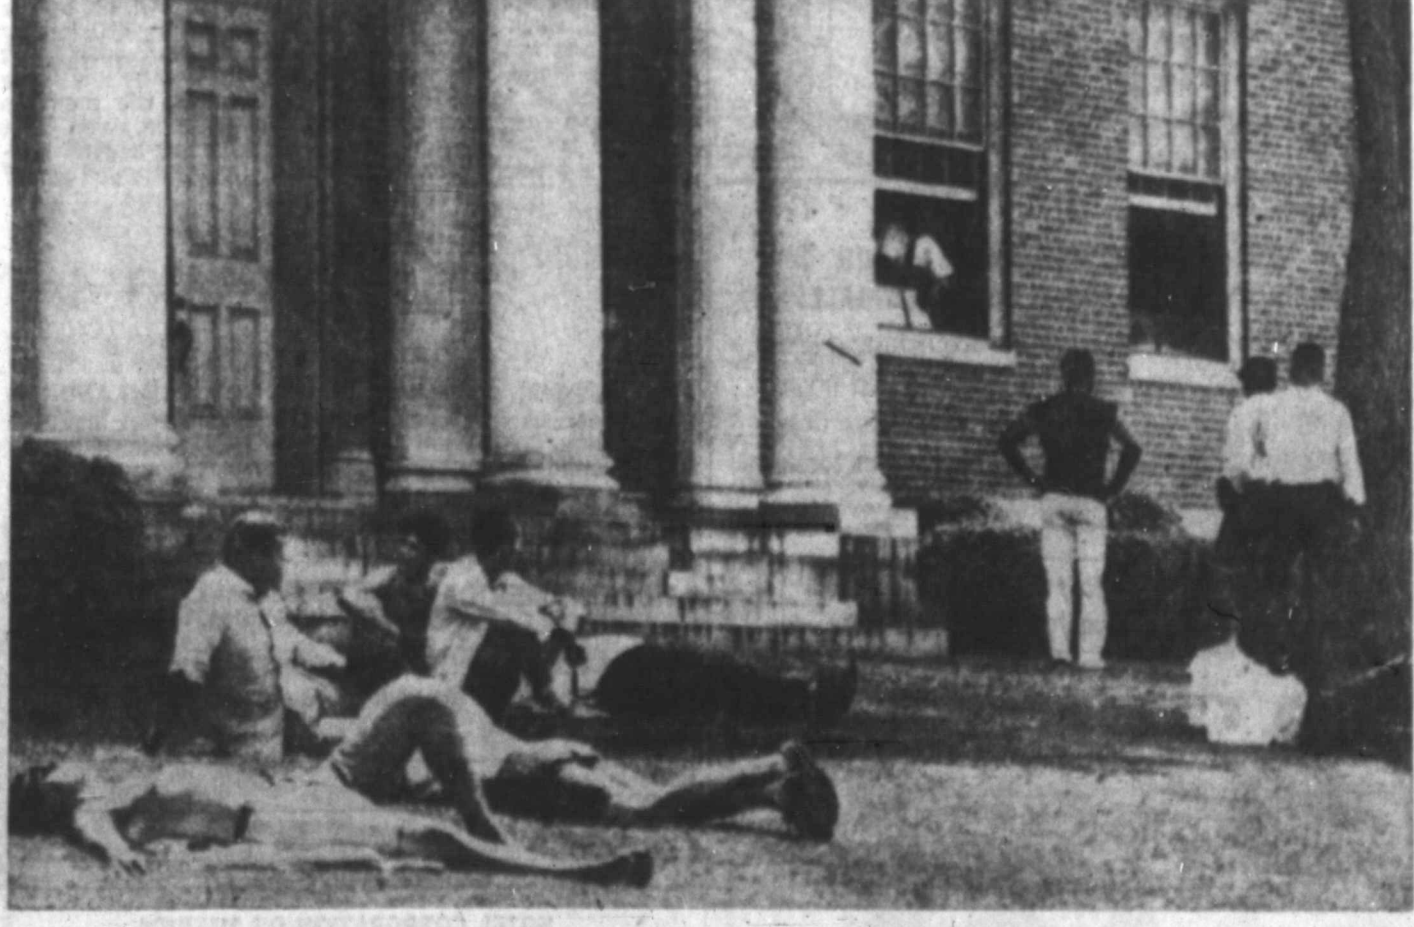

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A raging, wind-driven fire that whipped across 20 miles of canyons, grasslands, foothills and mountains has been battled to a standstill. Only smoking devastation remains where it raged for four days. The blaze, Southern California's first major fire of 1964, claimed no lives, no homes and inflicted no serious injuries. But it blackened 12,800 acres, mostly in the beautiful Angeles National Forest. Eight hundred fire fighters carved large firebreaks three times to stem the fiery tide—and three times the flames leaped the barrier and raced on, sometimes at more than a mile an hour.

Police Dogs, Cattle Prods Quell Rioting Holidayers

By The Associated Press Police used tear gas, dogs and cattle prods to break up Fourth of July riots by youths at five places from coast to coast. About 200 persons were arrested. Several officers and rioters were injured. The riots occurred at Indian Lake, near Bellefontaine, Ohio; Newport, R.I.; Garnett, Kan.; West Yellowstone, Mont., and Pleasanton, Calif. At Indian Lake, an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 beer-drinking college youths staged boisterous demonstrations Friday and Saturday nights. LIKE DYNAMITE "These kids were like a keg of dynamite waiting for something to set them off," a sheriff said. More than 50 young men were arrested on the two nights. Tear gas was used to quell the rioting. Authorities said firecrackers thrown into the crowds, injuring several youths, probably triggered the Saturday melee. One police officer suffered a heart attack. Near Newport, R.I., thousands of youths attending the jazz festival started to whoop it up at a beach party. Beach house doors, beach umbrellas and a life-guard stand were among items tossed onto a huge bonfire, police said. HURL ROCKS About 100 youths were taken to jail when they hurled rocks and other missiles at officers. Police cleared the beach in about 90 minutes. At Garnett, Kan., about 2,000 beer-drinking youths started a riot on an outdoor dance floor Saturday night. Two officers were burned by exploding cherry bombs. Thousands had converged on the small Kansas town—pop. 3,000—for the annual sports car races. Police dogs bit several persons while helping to herd the unruly crowd to Garnett city park. CATTLE PRODS Police used electric cattle prods and nightsticks to get things under control. At West Yellowstone, Mont., about 30 residents used ax handles against a mob of 1,000 teen-agers and college-age youngsters Saturday night after the mob tore down fences, tipped over outdoor toilets and sings, and demolished a trailer for bonfire fuel in the resort town. Four young men were jailed. At Pleasanton, Calif., the annual Alameda County fair was disrupted Saturday night after officers tried to send home a half-dozen youths who "had been drinking, were throwing firecrackers, and were shouting and swearing," police said.

Goldwater Delegates Hold Firm

CLARE BOOTHE LUCE
... opening spotlight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate lines held firm today while Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's attempted blitz for the GOP presidential nomination showed no signs of catching fire.

With former Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce scheduled for the spotlight in the opening platform hearings tonight, Goldwater strategists remained so confident of his convention strength they made no move to break apart the Ohio and Wisconsin favorite son delegations from which they might gain additional votes.

As matters stood, Goldwater had 710 publicly committed votes in The Associated Press survey, a comfortable margin over the 655 necessary for the nomination. Scranton had 146, plus the 105 in the name of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and 45 committed to Henry Cabot Lodge, now the Pennsylvania governor's personal campaign adviser.

There remained 186 uncommitted delegates and 113 tied up to favorite sons, a relatively limited field in which Scranton could prospect. Of Goldwater's 700-plus, only a relatively small number were firmly bound by primary or convention action, but the others showed no signs of deserting him.

There were reports Sunday that Gov. James A. Rhodes had released Ohio's 58 votes from their first-ballot commitment to him as a favorite son. These reports were followed by others that Rep. John W. Byrnes would turn loose the 30-vote Wisconsin delegation. Either of these moves would have been interpreted as a sign of panic on the part of Goldwater's managers. Both were promptly denied.

The Arizona senator's camp has claimed nothing in either state. But in each there are indications that he would get more than half of the votes if the delegates were freed of their favorite son commitments.

Scranton, Lodge and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the governor's newly named convention manager, made some noise about delegate gains but nothing tangible came out.

As Scranton and Lodge had done previously, Scott hinted that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower might give the Pennsylvania governor a lift at the convention. Eisenhower has signed up as a television commentator and most politicians think this will make it difficult for him to take sides even if he chooses to do so.

Scott said it is his own judgment that Eisenhower's personal preference for the nominee is Scranton but "whether he says so is his own business."

Scranton, in a joint news conference with Lodge in Harrisburg, Pa., said Eisenhower expressed surprise "that the people of America would question who he (Eisenhower) is for" for the nomination. He said he had phoned the former president to report on the progress of his drive for the nomination.

Scranton opened a last-ditch two-day campaign today in Illinois, building an appeal for support in the home state of Abraham Lincoln around the civil rights issue.

Goldwater, who has been unavailable to newsmen recently, eluded them Sunday when he took off from the Phoenix airport, dressed in his Air Force Reserve major general's uniform, in a private plane for Las Vegas, Nev. There he planned to pick up an Air Force jet to log some flight time to Washington. He will not head for San Francisco until Thursday.

Dear Abby

Different Viewpoints

DEAR ABBY: I think you are wrong to agree that a girl should baby-sit with her own brothers and sisters for nothing. Why should she pass up a chance to make herself $2 or $3 just to stay home and do the same thing for free? If parents can't afford to pay sitters, they don't have any business having large families. I think it is terrible the way some parents make slaves out of their children. As for what children "owe" their parents, I can't see where they owe them anything. Children don't ask to be born. You can use my letter if you want to, but please don't use my name. "PAID"

DEAR ABBY: That greedy girl signed "UNPAID" should be ashamed of herself. I am not a girl. I am a 17-year-old boy, but I have been a sitter for my mother ever since I was 12 years old. I sat with three younger sisters and a baby brother six nights a week for four years while my mother worked. You see, Miss Abby, my father died and that was the only way Mom could manage. I wouldn't trade a bushel basket full of dollars for the good feeling it gives me to know that I was able to help my Mom when she had it so rough.

THE MAN OF THE FAMILY
DEAR ABBY: We have a healthy, able-bodied, 17-year-old daughter. She baby-sits all over the neighborhood for 75 cents an hour, but when we need a baby-sitter we have to hire one, because she is booked up with paid sitting jobs. She doesn't need the money because we give her a very generous allowance, but she is money mad. We think it is good experience for young people to earn money, but wouldn't you think a high school senior would realize that money is not as important as volunteering an occasional helping hand at home?

MONEY MAD'S PARENTS
DEAR ABBY: Please tell UNPAID that the best things in life are free. When I was in my teens (back in the 30's) I sat for many an hour and refused to accept pay when it was offered. I am not referring to sitting at home with my own brothers and sisters. I would never dream of accepting money from my parents for that had it been offered to me, which it assuredly was not! I used to volunteer to care for the neighbors' children because I wanted to do something for someone. I learned how to keep youngsters busy, entertained, and how to get them to behave without punishing them or even threatening to. The experience I received in handling children more than compensated for the time I devoted to it. It is almost impossible to give something without getting at least as much in return. Sign me.

WELL PAID
DEAR ABBY: I would like to know how a child can justify accepting money from his parents for "sitting" with siblings. I happen to be the eldest daughter in a family where there were 14 children. I didn't just "sit" with the younger ones, either. I bathed them, dressed them, fed them, and did the diapers. If I had been paid for all the hours I "sat," I would be sitting pretty.

GERTRUDE
Lodge Stumps In Kansas, Missouri

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge today began a two-day campaign in Kansas and Missouri in an effort to win support for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for the Republican presidential nomination. Lodge flew here Sunday night after a strategy meeting with Scranton in Harrisburg, Pa. He told newsmen he was more convinced than ever that Scranton would win the nomination over Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

4-Year-Old Killed By Stock Racer

MANGUM, Okla. (AP)—A four-year-old Vernon, Tex., boy—Ricky Williams—was killed over the weekend when a racing stock car spun out of control and slammed through a fence. Eight other persons were injured in the accident. The car, driven by Robert Rittle, 24, of Lawton, had come out of a turn when it careened out of control. Officers said young Williams and his family had just walked up to the fence at the time.

'How's The Tone?'

Denver Pettitt asks his wife the question as they examine a new orchestra violin he has just completed. The parts for new instruments to be made in the future are spread before them beside a rare old instrument this artisan has restored to its original quality.

Local Artisan Builds Musical Instruments

By MARY CCHHRAN
If the story of Denver Pettitt's life were written it could be entitled "From Buggy Seal to Music Hall." He is an artisan who started out as a small boy making simple musical instruments from whatever material was on hand. Today he creates melo-toned, expertly finished violins.

The first music box he built was a mandolin made from the wood of an old discarded buggy top at his farm home near Hiram, Texas. The violins he makes today are created from German Spruce or Norwegian Mountain Spruce that has been carefully aged for 50 years. They are finely detailed and made with a know-how that has taken years of experience to obtain.

He starts with a triangular wedge of specially ordered wood and carefully matches the grain before hand carving the familiar curved back of the instrument. The art of knowing what tonal quality he will have when it is finished has taken many years to achieve.

EDUCATED HANDS
He first learned the basic principles of making real violins from an Austrian emigrant under whom he apprenticed for three years. This teacher once told him "Your hands have more sense than your head."

"Without the sound post and the base bar, a violin is nothing but a wooden box," Pettitt said. He explained that the art of knowing how to shape them and where to place these deceptively simple looking parts is the key to the music in that box.

His trade mark has become the English lion head that graces the end of the key board. In a year's time he can create about three instruments in his spare time. Also, he does repair work on old instruments that need restoring. He found a Hopf violin in a junk store and purchased it for $10. After tenderly restoring it he had a fine old instrument with a very beautiful tone. Many people have benefited from his talent and now have beautifully restored instruments that had been damaged to such an extent they seemed beyond repair. His family comes in for their share of his artistic endeavors as well. When he is off duty from his job at Texas Electric Service Company where he has worked for the past twenty years in the safety department, he may be drawing nature studies of animals to entertain his grandchildren. Indian Woman Aids Civil Rights Cause

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—This is a story of a civil rights movement which hardly anybody hears or talks about.

It concerns an ethnic group which reportedly is the poorest in the country, and is said to have the shortest life span and the highest disease rate.

Mrs. Shirley H. Witt of Ann

Arbor is one of the spearheads on behalf of her people — the thousands of Indians scattered across the country.

A Mohawk Indian, she is vice president of the National Indian Youth Council, an organization dedicated to making things right for the "forgotten Americans."

Mrs. Witt says Indians want the federal government to live up to the treaties it made with the various Indian tribes. And she says her people want freedom—freedom from poverty and disease.

IN DAM'S PATH

The Indians also want assurances that the white man will not flood out their property or take it away from them.

Another member of the Indians' crusade, John R. Winchester of Belleville, Mich., describes tribes in the Upper Peninsula living in miserable shacks with newspaper-covered walls and lighted by kerosene lamps.

Game prizes were won by Tammy Meeks, April and Debra Moore and Connie McChristian.

Home-made ice cream and cake were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth, and colorful balloons completed the decorations.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Mark Magazines For Later Reading

Dear Heloise: I am always eager to give the new magazines a quick once-over when they first come in, but when I go back for a more careful perusal I often miss something that I saw the first time and wanted to read more carefully.

Now on my first trip through, I have a few paper clips at hand. When I see an advertisement, recipe, small article, etc. that I want to come back to, I put a paper clip on the edge of the page as near as I can to the article. The long prong of the clip marks the side of the page on which the article appears.

Now, I can run my fingers along the edge of the magazine and instantly find the items that I want to see again.

When I have read or copied the article, I remove the paper clip. When the magazine is to be thrown out, I am sure at once whether or not I have missed anything in that issue that I wanted to read. . . . Aunt Fannie

Dear Heloise: Have you ever been all ready to go out and discovered that your shoes need a bit of polish? And then you smear paste polish on your hands in the process of polishing the shoes?

Here is a quick and easy way to get that polish off your hands: Use a bit of hand lotion and a tissue (instead of soap and water), and the polish disappears in a second. . . . Mrs. Clayton Malone

Heavens to Betsy! It works! I smeared some of my husband's shoe polish on my hand, used a facial tissue and a dab of my liquid hand lotion. With a couple of quick swipes, the polish came off immediately. . . . Heloise

Tomatoes Didn't Make It

Green tomatoes flew everywhere Saturday when this diesel truck plowed into the low underpass in Bells, Tex. It didn't take driver Daniel W. Heath of El Reno, Okla., long to decide his 13½-foot refrigerated trailer would not go through the 12-foot, 2-inch clearance. The truck loaded with 22,000 pounds of tomatoes bound for Winnipeg, Canada, penetrated the concrete railroad underpass 28 feet. (AP WIREPHOTO)

2 Yanks, Aussie Killed In Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two American Special Forces men and an Australian army adviser were killed today in what other Americans described as a magnificent defense of a central highland Special Forces camp under heavy Communist Viet Cong attack.

In a five-hour battle characterized by hand-to-hand fighting by troops and courage by a group of Vietnamese women nurses, at least 5 Vietnamese Special Forces men were killed, in addition to the Americans and the Australian.

And tangled over broken barbed wire of the outer perimeter of Nam Dan camp, 30 miles west of the northern city of Da Nang, were 48 Communist Viet Cong bodies, by the latest American count.

It was the third major Communist attack in the central highlands within a week.

On Saturday, Red guerrillas overran a U.S. Special Forces training camp for Vietnamese troops at Potei Krong, killing 45

Vietnamese and wounding 25 defenders, including two Americans.

Last Wednesday, Communist guerrillas attacked a large government army convoy near the high Mang Yang Pass. Twenty-nine government troops were killed, 24 were wounded and five were listed as missing. The convoy was saved from complete annihilation by the guns of two U.S. helicopters.

The battle Monday at Nam Dan camp raised the number of Americans killed in combat in South Viet Nam since late 1961 to 151, with two others missing and presumed dead. Ninety-six other Americans have died in accidents.

A Devotional For The Day

"Judge not, that you be not judged. For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and the measure you give will be the measure you get." (Matthew 7:1-2 RSV.)
 PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, as we face this new day, help us to take advantage of our opportunities to be kind, considerate and understanding. Help us to avoid hasty judgments which lead to unkind remarks and injured personalities. Rather, give us compassion which prompts us to help those in need. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

The Expert

One of the classic headlines of the past week noted that Khrushchev Says Swedes Can't Teach Him Anything About Fertilizer.
 You can say that again. He's been spreading it for years.
 But don't mistake all this buffoonery for befuddlement. Khrushchev and his advisors have taken a new tack on the farming problem in Russia. Instead of seeking to solve their low production through expansive agriculture, they are now planning on more intensive farming of the better lands. One of the keys to this situation is the production of more chemical fertilizers, and an ambitious goal has been set up for the next seven years.

 Observers are inclined to think that this offers the most promising hope of success in a number of years, but there is still a big, big question mark in the form of the Russian farmer. The application of manpower on the Russian farm is notoriously inefficient. Part of this just may be his stubborn resistance to collective programs which take away his freedom to till his own soil. Khrushchev's verbal fertilizer has not yet been able to cure this phase of the farm problem.

Law And The Spirit

The civil rights bill has been signed into law, and the initial responses have been encouraging. Numerous reports reflected a yielding with respect to law even though with reluctance or personal opposition.
 But the outcome of this epochal step will not be settled in the matter of a few days, weeks or even months and perhaps years. It faces tests both as a matter of law and to a greater degree as a test in human reasonableness.
 Heretofore, the American Negro has had largely to rely upon moral persuasion for his opportunities and basic rights. Moral persuasion, however, is not the force of law. Now that there is the force of law, this does not mean any lessening of the imperative need for the great undercurrent of appeal to moral conscience.

 A moderate, reasonable approach to the problem of enforcement is in order. The colored citizen here has a great responsibility, for being backed by the law does not warrant a resort to unlawful acts to bring about enforcement of the law. Hence, temperateness in creating tests is needed, for there is a fundamental difference between orderly tests and those for harassment.
 The law is now on the books, but the spirit of the law—like the kingdom of God—must be manifest in the hearts of men through understanding, respect, good will.

J. A. Livingston Takes A Computer For Shopping

The careful shopper at the supermarket needs more than money nowadays, though money has not lost all utility.
 She has to have the coupons that she clips from the newspapers, granting an extra 50 stamps with the purchase of ten pounds of potatoes or seven cents off on a fast-mixing flour or an extra loaf of bread with a coffee cake.
SHE MUSTN'T FORGET the special super-duper coupons which offer 500 trading stamps if you buy ten dollars worth of merchandise, nor the card to be punched at the checkout counter to participate in "Happiness," the game that gets you something for nothing.
 Nor is that all. She must keep a fix on the bargains! Brand X margarine brings 50 extra stamps, Y margarine a free bottle of salad oil, Z margarine a 12-cent discount on cake mix. Which fits her purse and needs best?
 She must also weigh the purchase of three loaves of bread which gets her back a quarter if she sends in the labels to the company against one loaf of bread free with a jar of Barbell strawberry jam at some other market.
SHE MUST CARRY with her the coupons found in the letter box, promising a ten-cent rebate on two pounds of coffee or eight cents on a packet of nonumping flour, or two extra cakes of super-gentle soap with every purchase of Wudsy-Sudsy detergent.
 Only a walking digital computer, counting on her fingers or using an abacus, can shop successfully these days.

by product for future use and clip the newspaper coupons.
 On a single day, coupons in one evening paper totaled $2.44 in cash discounts or rebates, on top of which were gifts for June brides, a free hamburger patty maker, rebates on tickets, and a chance to appear on a TV talent show. All that and comics too for the price of the newspaper!
MEANWHILE, let's give credit where it's due. Supermarkets have made a tremendous contribution to the education of American womanhood. Once a housewife learns to shop in these halls of commerce, she'll have no excuse for not balancing a checkbook.

Billy Graham

If I become a Christian, do I have to give up everything I enjoy? A friend of mine gave me this bit of Scripture—Jesus said: "Whosoever be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple." How do I interpret this? — M. R. W.
 It simply means that to be a true disciple of Christ's that we must put Him and His kingdom first. Half-hearted Christianity is no Christianity at all. If you love someone with all your heart, soul, mind and strength, you delight to share your all with them. For that reason the marriage vow includes these words: "Forsaking all others . . . until death do us part." I have married a lot of couples, but never have I had a bridegroom ask before the ceremony: "Does the marriage vow mean that I really must forsake everything for that woman I'm about to marry?" They don't ask that because they are willing to give their all to the one they love.
 If you leave love for God out of religion, it becomes a meaningless thing. It does seem a harsh saying: "Forsake not all that he hath," but what we forget is that the rewards of being a Christian are much greater than the sacrifices required. Just as a young man who loves a girl very dearly knows that what he forsakes is little compared to what he gains in a life of happiness, so a person giving his life to God gains much more than he may be called upon to give up.

Barry Hints Rough Campaign Against Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has indicated that if he gets the Republican presidential nomination his campaign against President Johnson will be rougher than those of recent years.
 But he has been moving cautiously in his double task of trying to cool any opposition to him among Republicans while going ahead with his efforts to sew up the nomination.
 The Associated Press recently asked him his position, on a number of issues. The answers, prepared by his staff from some of his recent statements, were released over the week-end.
HE WAS ASKED what the main campaign issues will be. Several were listed and wound up with this: "The dark shadow of scandal that hangs over the White House itself." There has been no scandal talk in recent campaigns.
 There was no explanation for what Goldwater meant. But, since he considers this a main point, it can be assumed he would hammer away at it.
 If Goldwater gets the nomination, which looks likely, he will need not only all the Republican votes he can get afterward but also those of the usually Democratic Southern states. He has said a Republican couldn't win without them.
 Rights bill angered a number of Republicans already against him. So far as can be seen it lost him none of his supporters. It probably endeared him to a lot of Southern whites.
 He said the bill, voted into law July 2, flies in the face of the Constitution and enforcement of some of its sections would need a "federal police force of mammoth proportions."
 He meant the sections prohibiting discrimination in public accommodations and employment. But his "no" vote gave Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, his leading opponent for the nomination, an issue at the Republican convention opening next Monday in San Francisco.

Poor-Visioned Americans

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.
 At the age of 25, some 35 per cent of Americans need to wear glasses.
 What are the goals of teenage girls? A study showed that most want to be either housewives or airline hostesses. Only one in five preferred office work.
TEENAGE BOYS, on the other hand, showed interest in careers in aviation, professional athletics, business, the armed forces and engineering. Missing among the top 20 occupational choices of male high school seniors were roles as scientist, newspaperman, doctor, minister, teacher—or president of the United States.
 Twenty million Americans are taking care of 650 million pet fish.
Quotable notables: "Worry affects the circulation, the heart, the glands, the whole nervous system. I have never known a man who died from overwork, but many who died from doubt." — Charles H. Mayo.
NATURE NOTES: Rodents cause more property damage than tornadoes. A rattlesnake usually grows two, not one, rattles each year. Meadowlarks aren't true larks—they belong to the blackbird family. Giraffes have such poor voices they "talk" to each other by switching their tails.
 UN medical studies indicate that the United States "now" has passed France as the world's most alcoholic nation. One out of 20 Americans is thought to be a problem drinker.
 "There are more oil glands per square inch on a woman's face than there are oil wells in Texas," says Dr. John R. Haslerick, Cleveland skin specialist.
 The originator of the presidential "whistle-stop" campaign was William Jennings Bryan. In 1896 he traveled 18,000 miles by railroad and made 600 speeches. William McKinley waged a back-porch campaign—and won handily.
FOLKLORE: If you see a red-haired girl, you will soon see a white horse. If you throw a small fish back into the water, it will tell the other fish, and no more will bite. It is bad luck to kill a daddy-longlegs or a ladybug. If a girl gets the front of her dress wet while doing her laundry, she will marry a drunkard.
 It was Oscar Wilde who observed: "The books that the world calls immoral are books that show the world its own shame."

To Your Good Health

Ease Babies Into Self-Feeding

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: I have two granddaughters, one a year old and the other 28 months. When the older girl was a year old the young mother decided it was time for her to feed herself. She put the baby's food in front of her and let her eat as best she could, which ended up in a horrible mess, and I don't think the child got enough to eat.
 Am I wrong in believing children should be fed until they want to do it themselves, and given easier foods first? Is there a certain age when their bodies and minds co-ordinate? Am I too old-fashioned and worrying for nothing?
 These parents are now threatening to do the same to the smaller child. I am afraid the children will end up with impaired health because the young people of today are too lazy to care for their poor innocent children. — MRS. D. E.
 Slow down just a little minute, Worrying Grandma. Let's see if there's anything to worry about.
 There isn't any set rule to when babies are ready to feed themselves. About 12 or 14 months is average—some start sooner, some later. Messy? Sure, they're messy. So mothers clean 'em up. Remember?
 My personal preference is for easing a baby into self-feeding, but I don't think there's much of a health aspect involved. Unless there is some gross neglect, I don't think we're justified in accusing young people of being "too lazy." In fact, sometimes all we do is show our age by complaining about the younger generation.
 Dear Dr. Molner: What causes osteomyelitis? Could it be some childhood disease like scarlet fever? What can be done for it, and is there a cure or not? — A. L. C.
 Osteomyelitis is an infection that has invaded the bone, and it can develop from a variety of infections in other parts of the body. Yes, scarlet fever is one. I have known it to follow severe tonsillitis and extraction of infected teeth. Tuberculosis can be a cause.
 The ailment is usually chronic, and in the form of a draining sore which is in communication with the infected bone. X-ray will show the defect in the bone.
 A combination of treatments is generally required for a lasting cure: Surgery, to clean up the diseased bone and to remove infected soft tissues; and antibiotics chosen to stilt the particular infection present—because various germs can be involved.
 Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
 Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Women Take To Cheroots

One thing and another: The cigar trade vouches for this story:
 The stogie industry is booming as it never has before, principally because an estimated half-million women in this land of ours are puffing away contentedly on cigars behind the lace curtains of their homes.
 Business is up in the cheroot business until something like $680 million worth is sold annually. A few years ago, only 40,000 women in the U. S. of A. were bold enough to smoke cigars.
THE TOTAL number of cigars consumed in this nation last year was 7.3 billion. The U. S. surgeon general's report on the evils of cigarette smoking last February proved to be only good tidings for the cigar industry.
 Many women conscious of their lungs and the reported dangers of cigarette smoking switched to cigars.
 A spokesman for the industry predicts men and women in the country will be smoking 15 billion cigars by 1974, which will return the manufacturers $1 billion annually.
 AN AMERICAN serviceman, recently returned from Europe, was asked by a friend how he liked Venice, Italy.

Replied he: "I didn't stay there very long. It was flooded."
THERE'S A self-processing camera on the way which will produce black-and-white pictures in the space of about 60 seconds, price of which will amount to about $20.
HAVE YOU HEARD about the doctor who, passing on pearls of wisdom to an intern, said he believed that a man who sings at the top of his voice for an hour a day would never be troubled by chest complaints in his old age?
 To which the intern replied: "He probably wouldn't ever be troubled by old age."
THE U. S. DEPARTMENT of Health, Education and Welfare reportedly is carrying out an intensive research and testing program to determine the effectiveness of a mung bean product in the treatment of burns, sunburns, poison ivy and poison oak dermatitis.
 And there's a preparation available now called Kenalog known to give most poison ivy sufferers excellent relief. It's available by prescription only. — TOMMY HART

Brink But No Bluff

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon Johnson has taken us to the brink of war in Southeast Asia. That much we know, but there is an unusual situation in Washington. The President is not leaking stories to his friends of the press, not putting up trial balloons to see how the winds of political opinion are blowing, and is not attempting to create his own climate so that his action will seem acceptable. No doubt, he is giving ear to many advisors, but his voice to few, for otherwise we would have much more to write about. LBJ is going this one alone.
THAT IS ALL to the good. Some of us know exactly how the President feels about an invasion of Cuba. He feels that the U.S.A. couldn't invade it without risking a counter-crisis in Berlin. We know how he feels about the British selling buses to Castro. He feels that Sir Alec Douglas-Home is acting to bring profits and jobs to Britons because he has a tough election coming up in October.
 But on these Asian matters, we might as well confess ignorance. Why did the President choose the time he did to accept Lodge's resignation as Ambassador in South Viet Nam and thus signal a change in the Kennedy policy of tough football there? Why is he replacing Lodge with General Taylor and thus indicating a wartime attitude toward the entire Southeast Asia area?
WE HAVE to write from intuition for a while. We have to use indices, instead of information. For myself, I rely on these two historical points of references:
 The Democrats in this century are the war party. Wilson, Roosevelt and Mr. Truman got us involved, not because they were bellicose adventurers, but because they were adventurers.

first in the affairs of Europe and Asia, and later in those of the United Nations. Wilson did not foresee that our entrance into World War I would bring Fascism to Europe, nor did Mr. Roosevelt envision turning East Europe and Continental China over to communism. Mr. Truman did not perceive how much unfinished business he would create by not winning the whole war in Korea. The aftermath, in each case, betrayed the Democratic administrations.
SO, WE'D BETTER hope that Mr. Johnson knows the perils of meddling, and sees the Southeast Asia war in its entirety. It is said that we cannot "afford" to let the Communists extend their sway into the neutralist nations of old Indochina, Burma and India. It is said that such a Red conquest would end our position as a Pacific Ocean power and would endanger the Philippines and Hawaii and Alaska.
IF THIS IS true, then we must fight Red China as we failed to fight her in the Korean conflict. But if this argument is exaggerated geopolitical brainstorming, as it often seems to me, then we should ask whether we can better "afford" to spread ourselves farther over the world's map or to consider that we cover enough territory in the Western Hemisphere and Atlantic Basin.
 The other reference point is Mr. Johnson's character. He is playing the brinksmen, but he is not a bluff.
 Very soon, however, President Johnson will have to let us in on what we're in for. The only thing he can do wrong at this point is to do nothing, letting a bad situation grow worse. And LBJ, whatever else, is not a do-nothing man. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

— And Cut The French Fries

WASHINGTON — Britain has once again pointed the way onward and upward for civilization. Having abandoned rack, thumbcrew and gibbet, Fair Blighty has now turned her humanitarian attention toward one remaining atrocity—the french-fried potato.
 The commanding officer of HMS Albion, Capt. John Adams, was dismayed to discover that his ratings all had come to assume the configuration of barrage balloons. He quite correctly laid the epidemic of obesity to chips, which is what Englishmen call french fries. He is now conducting a campaign to reduce his crew's consumption of chips.
ANY MAN with lingering affection for the lining of his stomach has to celebrate Capt. Adams' brave ambition. Chips or french fries—call the vile veg. what you will—are a blight all over the English-speaking world.
 In the United States it has become impossible to escape from any carnivorous without being confronted by a lowering heap of french fries, seething balefully in the bath of used engine oil in which such things are cooked. If you would care to essay a disheartening experiment that has been tried by one foe of this gastronomic outrage, the directions follow:
SELF, (knowing better, but determined to try)—And pray, madam, no french fries with my hamburger.
WAITRESS—Aww.
 (Then the waitress returns. The plate she carries contains a hamburger—and a tangled welter of french-fried potatoes guaranteed to contain not less than 75 per cent cholesterol by volume.)
SELF (more than usually dejected)—Uh, I said no french fries.
WAITRESS (more than usually dense)—I figured you'd change mind. If possible (and it isn't) England is more thoroughly hooked by the chips habit than America. Fish and chips joints are as numerous in the U.K. as drive-ins are in the U.S.
 Someday, it is my conviction, medical science will discover the real reason Eskimos, Fiji Islanders and Chinese coolies don't pop off with coronaries with quite the appalling frequency that we do is that happy accidents of geography have denied them access to the french-fried potato.

THE REAL QUARREL with french fries is that they are there. They are there with your eggs in the morning every time you breakfast outside the security of your own home. They are there without exception when you decide to save calories by just grabbing a sandwich at lunch. And they are there in oily profusion should hunger pangs compel you to stop on the way home from the flicks at night.
 No man alive in the United States (or England) has any hope of escaping the temptation of french-fried potatoes. Few who are exposed can resist pigging the infernal morsels, hence, Q.E.D., nobody can escape the bane of overweight and chronic grease poisoning. The government should bar french fries forthwith. People need to be protected from their slack wills. Bullly, say we, for H. M. Navy. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Lane Returned

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Somehow, Lovers Street doesn't sound as romantic as Lovers Lane, commissioners of Stark County have decided.
 So they have voted to go against previously determined policy, which says each "lane" in the county is to be redesignated "street." And 45 North Canton area residents who had been living discontentedly on Lovers Street since the name change are happy once again to have a Lovers Lane address.

BILLINGS (AP) — Billings may have the biggest birdbath in the country.

Diaz Ordaz Sweeps Quiet Sunday Vote

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Government candidate Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, 53, was chosen Mexico's next president Sunday in one of the quietest elections in the nation's history.

His lone opponent was Jose Gonzalez Torres, 44, of the Party of National Action—PAN—which charged voting irregularities in a dozen states.

The federal electoral commission and high officials said it was a clean election and there were no disturbances.

The final count will not be known for days. Only fragmentary returns were announced Sunday night. These were overwhelmingly for Diaz Ordaz, but not the 90 per cent lead he had been expected to get.

SIX YEARS

Diaz Ordaz pledged himself to give his full efforts to his new job, which he will take over Dec. 1 for six years.

He is believed to be a bit more to the right than President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. In campaign addresses he promised to continue the moderate policies of the present administration.

Diaz Ordaz was born in a village in the nearby state of Puebla March 12, 1911. His father was a schoolteacher and is a government accountant.

Educated in Oaxaca, Guadalajara and Puebla, Diaz Ordaz became a lawyer and was named to a minor state post.

He was elected to Congress in 1946 and served in various positions in the powerful Interior Ministry until Lopez Mateos named him interior secretary in 1958. His outstanding work in the ministry was the breaking of several major strikes early in the Lopez Mateos regime.

ALL STATES

He was nominated for the presidency by the government Party of Revolutionary Institutions — PRI — last November. He campaigned intensively throughout Mexico's 29 states although the PRI has never lost a presidential election.

Gonzalez Torres also is a lawyer, from nearby Michoacan, and also campaigned hard.

Some officials predicted a record vote, far above the nearly 10 million ballots cast in 1958 when women voted for the first time. An estimated 13.5 million registered.

PAN is expected to pick up more seats in the Chamber of Deputies. It now has six of the 178 and may get up to 20, some observers say.

Alaska Crash Fatal To Five

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP) — All five crewmen aboard a twin-engine Coast Guard search plane were killed when they crashed into a mountain, only a minute or two from their base at nearby Annette Island.

The burned and battered wreckage was spotted from the air late Sunday. It was mashed into the woods 2,000 feet above the Pacific Ocean and 200 feet from the top of Dall Head on Gravina Island.

The Coast Guard reported there was no chance that any of the fliers survived.

The last word from the amphibious Albatross plane — returning in the dark and murky drizzle Friday night, after a search for a grounded fishing boat — was a request to turn on landing strip lights at Annette Air Station.

Aboard the plane were the pilot, Lt. Joseph N. Andrassy, Port Angeles, Wash., and copilot, Lt. (j.g.) Robert A. Perchard, 27, Westwood, Mass. Other crewmen were Harry W. Olson, 39, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Donald C. Malenn, 29, Monongahela, Pa.; and Edward D. Krajniak, 22, Parma Heights, Ohio.

British Minister

LONDON (AP) — Sir Gerald Campbell, 84, British minister to Washington and director-general of British information services in New York during World War II, died Saturday. He also served for 18 years as consul-general in Philadelphia, San Francisco and New York during the 1920s and 1930s.

High Priest Dies

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Malatius Mufleh, 76, first Melkite priest in the nation elevated to the rank of archimandrite, died Saturday. Msgr. Mufleh was pastor of St. Elias Melkite Catholic church in Cleveland for 34 years until his retirement in 1955. He was born in Kirbet Kanafar, Lebanon.

Successful Author Kept Busy On Garbage Truck

BOSTON (AP) — James J. Fahey turns down invitations to literary teas on Beacon Hill and cocktail parties at Boston's Ritz because he's too busy at his job as a garbage man.

The invitations started to come in when Houghton Mifflin Co. published Fahey's "Pacific War Diary, 1942-1945," a year ago this month.

The invitations increased with news the fifth printing is nearly sold out and a sixth printing is planned.

Still, Fahey says "I'm not an author. I've been a garbage man for the City of Waltham for 14 years. I still drive a garbage truck and, I guess, I always will until I retire with my civil service pension."

LITERARY FREAK "I'm not a writer, never was, never will be. The book was a literary freak."

Admirals, naval historians and literary critics praised the book as a touching sailor's-eye view of the war from the Solomons through the Marianas and Philippines campaigns to Japan.

A bachelor of 45, who was orphaned when he was 3, Fahey still lives with his sister, her husband and their three children in suburban Waltham, 10 miles west of Boston.

His bedroom measures 10x8 feet—and because I'm such a great collector there's hardly room to turn round in there," Fahey says. "I guess I save everything but money."

Money Fahey collects from the sale of his book goes to charity, he reports. Royalties to date are estimated at some $15,000.

His first royalty check went to a Presbyterian minister in Waltham, the Rev. Wyeth Whillard, to help him in his church work.

SOUTH INDIA Money now goes to a Roman Catholic priest, Father K. S. Michael, in the village of Metupatti in Dindigul, South India, to build a church that will seat more than 2,000.

Fahey lives on his pay as a garbage man—a take-home income of less than $90 a week. Fahey owns neither a typewriter nor a desk. He writes off his knee.

He wrote his diary surreptitiously on board the light cruiser Montpelier. Because it was illegal to keep wartime diaries—lest they fall into enemy hands—Fahey wrote on scraps of paper and, when the brass was around hid the notes inside his

New Phone Books Due Wednesday

Copies of the 1964 Big Spring telephone directory will be mailed to customers Wednesday.

Sawyer also said the new telephone book will feature a drawing of three F-104 Starfighters from the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB.

This year's telephone directory has 84 "white" or alphabetical pages and 140 classified or "Yellow Pages."

Old directories should be thrown away when the new ones are received, but Sawyer cautioned customers to check them carefully before consigning them to the wastebasket.

"Quite often," the manager said, "customers will keep out-of-town address and telephone number lists, pictures and even valuable papers between the pages of the telephone book. Then they throw the old book away without checking it first."

As a result valuable keepsakes, important papers and out-of-town lists are lost forever."

Chinese Beatles Trimmed Down

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Police broke into a house in Taipei early Sunday and found four teen-agers with Beatle hairdos entertaining a swarm of fans.

"The four Chinese Beatles were even noisier than the British Beatles," said a policeman. "The quartet was taken to a police station, and their parents summoned. The parents made one request and police cheerfully complied."

They shaved the youths' heads.

Naval Chief Ricketts Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, 58, vice chief of naval operations, died today at the Bethesda Naval Hospital of a heart attack.

The Navy Department said Ricketts had entered the hospital Friday.

A naval aviator, Ricketts commanded the 5th Amphibious Force during the invasions of Tarawa, Eniwetok, Saipan, Tinian, Iwo Jima and Okinawa and took part in the occupation of Japan at the end of World War II.

Born Feb. 23, 1906, in Greene County, Mo., he was a 1929 graduate of the Naval Academy. He became a pilot in 1932.

Funeral plans have not been completed. Survivors include his widow and two sons, both naval officers, Lt. M. V. Ricketts and Ens. James B. Ricketts.
