LBJ Announces New Slash In Budget Deficit

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson announced Saturday a further $500-million cut in the 1964 budget deficit—the third such downward revision since January.

Johnson told a news conference at his ranch the reduction came about through lower-than-expected spending and rising tax income.

This latest announcement scaled the deficit for the just-ended 1964 fiscal year from the $11.9 billion anticipated by the late President John F. Kennedy in January 1963 to $8.3 billion—a drop of $3.6 billion.

President Rakes Clandestine Hate

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson condemned "clandestine hate organizations" Saturday and pledged that the federal government would step in wherever local authorities fail to halt violence, terror and savagery.

Johnson said the federal government "will always promptly assist local authorities to maintain order as long as the lives and security of our fellow citizens are in danger."

Johnson said the federal government "will always promptly assist local authorities to maintain order as long as the lives and security of our fellow citizens are in danger."

Johnson's blunt declaration, voiced at a news conference on the front lawn of his ranch home, was directed at groups which he said are trying to intimidate Negroes from claiming their constitutional rights.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

After preoccupation with the Republican doings faded away turned out that the biggest news of this week—or of almost any week—is the Colorado River Municipal Water District's definite move toward construction of a new and larger reservoir on the Colorado River in Coke County, near Robert Lee.

When permits are granted and everything goes according to schedule, the District will have supplies to help West Texas grow for a good many years with a lake that, when full with 14,950 surface acres, would be the largest in all the West Texas area.

Announcement of more water prospects affects a dry area like the sight of an oasis would a famished desert traveler. No question about it, the country is dry, and farmers are beginning to be fearfully concerned.

Crops, Livestock Hurting In Texas

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Crops and livestock are reported on a sharp decline across most of Texas despite a cool front and scattered showers that brought the state a little relief from the dry heat last week.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said at midweek crops and range conditions are "very poor," where many cattlemen must feed.

In the Panhandle, showers helped crops in places. Range conditions are below normal, but cattle conditions are generally good.

SOUTH PLAINS

Rain is badly needed on the South Plains, but a few areas of dryland cotton are progressing. Some farmers have begun the first cotton irrigation. Castorbeans, sesame, forage crops and vegetables are progressing.

Lack of rain and heat are taking their toll of crops and ranges in North Central Texas. Corn is suffering. Ranges are almost completely burned and stock water is short in several areas. Cattlemen are starting to feed. Good yields are reported on early sorghum. The full harvest is expected in a few days.

The quality and quantity of Northeast Texas crops are being reduced by the dry, hot weather. Grasses are dwindling. Markets are weaker due to increased sales.

Far West Texas needs a general rain. Irrigated crops are good, but ranges are short of grass, and livestock conditions are declining.

Senator Attacks Foreign Aid Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said Saturday he plans "to raise a little hell" in the Senate next week about "serious abuses in a multimillion-dollar presidential contingency fund for foreign aid."

The Louisiana senator said in an interview about $300 million could be slashed from a pending authorization of nearly $3.5 billion without damaging the nation's security or its long-term foreign aid program.

Listed for Senate floor action this week ahead is a $3,466,700,000 foreign aid authorization which is only $50 million less than President Johnson requested.

Coyanosa Pay Due Sept. 1

MIDLAND (AP)—First production from the rich Coyanosa Field in Pecos County is expected about Sept. 1. Mobil Oil Co. said Saturday.

R. D. Hanley, vice president in charge of Mobil's Midland Division, said the production involves a cycling plant now nearing completion 22 miles northwest of Fort Stockton.

The plant has an initial capacity of 35 million cubic feet of gas per day, and will allow extraction of 7,000 to 8,000 barrels of liquid daily from the Wolfcamp Reservoir.

Mobil discovered the field in early 1962. Gas cycling operation may yield 50 million barrels of liquid from the reservoir over and above that which would have been obtained by primary depletion.

Hanley also disclosed plans for construction of two other plants at the Coyanosa Field—a gasoline plant and a treating facility to sweeten sour gas.

Ellender said that $50 million had been used from the emergency fund for a development payment to Brazil and $38 million for military aid to South Vietnam.

The senator questioned whether either qualified as an unforeseen emergency.

Ellender also conceded that his prospects for a half-billion-dollar aid cut were not bright in the Senate.

WATER SHORTAGE

Drought and heat hurt crops, pastures and livestock in the West Central sector. Water is critically short in many areas. Many ranchers are selling their breeding stock. They lack pasture and water. Cotton, 4 to 6 inches tall, is blooming. Grasshoppers are extensively damaging crops and pastures in the Brady area. Some farmers have started shearing goats.

Grasses are dry and short in Central Texas. Moisture is short, but cotton prospects appear good despite insects. Corn is maturing but showing effects of the drought. Some grain sorghum is mature. Only half of the peanuts are planted, because of dryness.

About three-fourths of the vegetables in the East Texas area have been harvested. Rain is needed. Ranges are below average and stock water is short, but cattle are in fair condition. Cutting hay, cotton irrigation and vegetable harvest kept farmers busy.

FAIR CONDITION

Stock water is short in South Central Texas, but livestock are still in fair condition. Dry weather is causing some pecans to shed. The first load of rice was harvested at Victoria, yielding 22 barrels per acre. Sorghum yields are good. The hay harvest is in full swing.

In the upper Gulf Coast and southeast, maturing corn is beginning to dry. Cotton is maturing. Cattle are losing weight and rain is badly needed.

Moisture is short in most of the Winter Garden area of South Texas, and varies from short to adequate in the Coastal Bend. All Valley counties are short of moisture. The sorghum harvest is nearing completion in the Valley. Citrus is in good condition.

In short, says the Extension Service, unless Texas farmers and ranchers get rain soon, outlooks for livestock markets are dim for the rest of the year.

Texans Again Told Need For Tough College Agency

AUSTIN (AP)—For the third time in 13 years, Texans have been told their state college system is lacking because the schools won't work together.

And for the third time in 13 years, Texans have been told they need a tough state agency to police the college and make them spend state tax funds only where needed.

The first time, in 1951, Texans did nothing.

The second time, in 1954, the Texas Commission on Higher Education was created.

Last week, Gov. John Connally's study committee dismissed the commission's accomplishments as "limited" and recommended a stronger agency.

The fate of this third attempt rests with the 1965 legislature.

Some leading legislators are predicting that regardless of its merit, the proposal will require supreme effort to be enacted and probably will be diluted to meet objections of powerful college figures.

FOR ADOPTION

Connally has pledged to fight hard for adoption of the proposal.

He also has made it the focal point of his program to make Texas education excellent.

"I am not willing to recommend higher spending until we get a board to control the effective economical administration of our colleges," he said last Tuesday.

"Our apprehension is not that it will cost more money," Texas A&M President Earl Rudder, a committee member, said of the committee's far-reaching report, "but that if the money is given, whether it would be applied to buy excellence and not pay more for mediocrity."

What sort of a state agency would be needed to harness the 22 state senior colleges into an obedient team?

One committee member, J. M. Odum of Austin, compared the committee's proposed new coordinating board to "General Motors—which brought together different automobile manufacturers, each doing a fine job with interchangeable parts and the best fiscal management."

INDEPENDENCE

The fear of colleges in losing their independence to a strong state agency has hampered early studies of Texas higher education.

Connally's committee cited the establishment of six new colleges in eight years, and overlapping course offerings in such subjects as home economics and library science.

"It is not surprising," a member of Connally's committee reported, "that in the absence of adequate authority, the commission's accomplishments of the last few years have left a good deal to be desired."

NO AUTHORITY

The committee found the legislature "gave" the commission "no authority to enforce its program decisions, no effective means to sustain its budget recommendations." The committee also said junior and senior colleges should be put under one agency. Junior colleges now are under the Texas Education Agency.

Commission backers agree it has no power to enforce program decisions—but they point out it never had any college refuse to comply with a ruling on

Miss Texas? Perhaps.

At any rate, the engaging statistics—picked at random from a press kit—belong to Susan Conine of Dallas. She is a University of Texas senior who will represent Austin in the Miss Texas Pageant beginning Wednesday.

Susan is one of 58 beauties appearing in the four-night competition.

The winner will be crowned Saturday night before a state-wide television audience.

The new queen will succeed Miss Jeanne Amacker of Beaumont, a University of Texas coed.

The 1964 queen will represent Texas at the Miss America Pageant and preside over scores of state functions.

The prize list includes a $1,000 scholarship, a trip to Mexico City for two, a $3,000 wardrobe, and a contract with Casa Manana Musicals.

The contestants include: Janice Kinnard, Abilene; Peggy Lee Judd, Amarillo; Sharon McCauley, Athens; Charlotte Anders, Big Spring; Carolyn Sue Revier, Burkburnett; Sue Gregory, Collin County.

Mrs. Mossler In Minnesota

HOUSTON (AP)—Mrs. Candace Mossler, who fled from public view a week ago, is a patient at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., a clinic spokesman said Saturday.

She has been sought by investigators to talk with her further about the June 30 slaying in Miami of her millionaire husband, Jacques Mossler, 69. She is 45.

The woman's nephew, Melvin Powers, 27, was arrested here four days after the slaying and charged with murder.

The clinic spokesman, Dr. James Eckman, said: "Mrs. Mossler is registered here, is a patient here and is now at the clinic in Rochester."

He would not say how long she has been there, the nature of her illness or her condition.

Mrs. Mossler left St. Luke's Hospital here a week ago, saying in a note she wanted to get away from the "carnival" and "circus" atmosphere she said had surrounded her since her husband's death.

Mossler was bludgeoned and stabbed to death in their luxurious apartment while Mrs. Mossler was out with her children on an early morning drive.

Damage By Fire Set At $225,000

GRAND PRAIRIE (AP)—Fire which swept the table manufacturing plant of Plasco Inc. Friday caused damages estimated at $225,000.

Forty firemen battled the blaze. No serious injuries were reported.

Fire Marshal Bob Johnson said children playing near the building may have touched off the fire.

Friendly Hawaiian Couple Visit Granddaughter Here

By SAM BLACKBURN
Meet Joe Uahinu — a man with a shiny new Hawaiian car plate and no car on which to attach it.
However, sometime between now and October, when Joe will be on his way back to Honolulu, he will undoubtedly have made use of the shiny metal tag he has so carefully lugged with him on his long journey from Oahu to Big Spring.

"BIG SMOKE" OF HONOLULU AND HIS WIFE
Hawaiian couple visit new granddaughter here

"I'll get a new car sometime before I leave," said Joe. "Perhaps one of this year's models — perhaps, if the 1965 models are out before I head for home, I'll get one of those."
VISITING HERE
Joseph Uahinu, a vigorous and contagiously happy Hawaiian, who with his equally pleasant wife, Ruth, is currently visiting in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Lt. Edwin Saiki and Sylvia. His real purpose in being here is to see his brand new granddaughter, Tracey, now two weeks old. Tracey, incidentally, beat grandpa and grandma to 91 B Ent by a single day, although the Uahinuis were travelling by fast jet plane. This proves, perhaps, that the stork is speedier than an airplane.

Tracey is much more interested in sleep and food than in the admiration she is getting from Joseph and Ruth.
Relative to the car tag, Joseph points out that it may be time for him to get a new automobile.
"I have a 1939 model now," he said. Just before he left the Islands, he said, a motion picture company shooting a film about the attack on Pearl Harbor approached him about renting his automobile.
"They needed one of that vintage," said Uahinu, "because the sequences they were shooting were supposed to have occurred prior to 1941."
REFUSED
He didn't let them have the veteran, however. "Something,"

he said, "might have happened to it."
He and Mrs. Uahinu will leave this week for Terre Haute, Ind., to see their son, Richard, his wife Cathy, and a grandson, Troy.
Uahinu is a Sino-Hawaiian. He was adopted by a Polynesian family when a child, however, and his name is strictly Hawaiian. His native language is Polynesian and he knows little or no Chinese.
Ruth, his wife, is Japanese, and Sylvia, his daughter, thus is Hawaiian-Japanese-Chinese and we Tracey, who does not bother about it at all, is a small model League of Nations.
"But how about that grandson of mine?" asks Joseph. "My son, Richard, is like Sylvia here. But, Cathy, my daughter-in-law, is a full blood German and Troy, their son, has added German to his other racial complexions."

Major Garland J. McClure has recently been assigned to Webb Air Force Base as officer-in-charge of the Quality Control Division under the Chief of Maintenance.

4-A Big Spring (Texas)

Maj. McClure Assigned Here

FAA EMPLOYEE
In Honolulu, Joseph is a long-time employee of the Federal Aviation Agency. He is superintendent of the FAA electronic repair service and has been with the bureau since before Pearl Harbor Day. In his long service, he has accumulated 4 1/2 months of paid-up vacation time—the happy days he is now spending in this country.

The Uahinuis have to be back in Honolulu by October.
Mrs. Uahinu is program chairman for a convention of homemakers slated in Honolulu that month. She is an active worker in this organization.
Joe devotes a lot of his time to Boy Scout work but his real love is Masonry. He is a member of all of the Masonic bodies in the Islands and an active member of the historic Progress De L' Oceanic Lodge No. 371. This celebrated body was founded in 1842 and has two distinctions—it is the oldest Masonic Lodge west of the Rockies and is the only Masonic Lodge in the world which at one time had a king as its Grand Master.

KING
The king who presided at the lodge meetings—doffing his royal crown for the tall silk hat of a Grand Master—was Kamehameha III, ruling monarch in the 1850's of the Sandwich Islands.

Uahinu is an enthusiastic booster for Hawaiian vacations and makes it sound as easy as a drive to grandma's house to visit the Islands.
"Get to know someone," he urges, "who lives in the Islands and try to make your home with them. That'll get you off the beach and let you see the real Hawaii. If you know anyone in Honolulu or Hilo, they'll be happy to have you come and visit them."
The daughter, Sylvia, has fallen in love with Texas and with Big Spring. "I love it here," she said. "I hope we get to stay a long time."
Her husband, also a native of the Islands, is connected with the administration of the officers club at Webb and is a career aviator.

Major McClure entered the service in 1944 as an Army Air Corps aviation cadet. He completed undergraduate pilot training at Williams AFB in 1949, graduating as a second lieutenant.

He has held successive assignments with the 42nd Air Rescue Squadron, March AFB, Riverside, Calif., as a SA 16 pilot; the 14th Air Rescue Group, in England; and as Flight Test Maintenance Officer, Andrews AFB, Wash.

Major McClure is a senior pilot and has logged 3,400 hours of military flying time. He also has 1,000 hours flying time in civilian light aircraft.
He was born in New Albany, Ind. and is married to the former Ellen Schuette, Fairbury, Neb. They have three daughters: Sheryl 19; Patricia 14; and Carrie 7. The McClures reside at 38-B Chanute Drive, Webb Village.

Applications are being accepted for the annual Howard County Farm Bureau queen contest Aug. 15, the bureau office announced Saturday.

The contest is open to girls 16 through 22 who are from farm families in Howard County and are not married.
The winning contestant will receive a loving cup and bouquet and will represent the bureau in the district contest in Midland.

The program will also include a contest for future queens and their escorts, open to girls and boys ages three to 16 years.
Entry blanks for the contests are available at the farm bureau office, 117 1/2 Runnels.

Navigation Class Slated

A complete course in aircraft navigation for Big Spring's CAP squadron will be taught by Capt. W. Kopecky, Webb Air Force Base academic instructor, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday.
Capt. Jay Lebcowitz, commander of the squadron, said the course would consist of approximately one-hour lectures every Monday night, at the Webb AFB Academic Building. Dead reckoning, VOR, celestial navigation, and all types of navigational aids will be discussed.
"We have just received our charter and have 15 members signed up," Lebcowitz said. "Several others have been attending our meetings and some have applications out now. We invite the public to attend the interesting discussions at Webb beginning Monday."

ADDITION TO SCHOOL NEARLY DONE
Grady School plant to have library-study hall plus classroom

Addition To Grady School To Be Ready For New Year

LENORAH—The Grady school plant, located on State Highway 178 between Tarzan and Lenora, will open the 1964-65 school year with a new addition, including a classroom, combination study hall-library, storage facilities and rest rooms. The work is now about 80 per cent complete.
The Grady patrons voted a $45,000 bond issue in February for the addition. At the same time they turned thumbs down on a $55,000 bond issue for remodeling and additions to the gymnasium, including bleachers and dressing rooms.

The new section will eliminate using the cafeteria for a study hall as was done last year. Supt. Elwyn Bass said the expected enrollment would be around 250 next year, since a steady rise had been noted each year.

Laboratory facilities at the school, which carries students through the eighth grade only, consists of portable equipment taken from room 10 room as needed. Remodeling plans called for providing permanent equipment in a regular room, after the new classroom is completed.
L-H Builders of Midland, holding the contract for the addition, said this week that most of the heavy work is done. Roofing was being installed, including a covered walkway between the new section and the old building. The 104 by 29-foot addition connects the existing two wings on the east to form an enclosed patio.
Construction is of concrete tile with brick facing to match the existing building.

An assembly line modernizes. A new machine replaces five or six men. New methods do away with certain jobs entirely. Something like this could happen to your job.
It's part of progress, of course. But progress has a partner—opportunity. Improved methods and techniques will, in turn, create many new jobs. However—
You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills
You'll have to be qualified to earn one of these newer, better-paying jobs. You'll have to re-train—acquire new skills and abilities. And if you begin now, you'll still have a head start on the future.
Don't wait for your present job to be replaced. Have a better job before it happens. The local office of your state employment service will gladly talk it over with you.

Welcome TO BIG SPRING

WEBB PILOT TRAINING CLASS 66-A

Big Spring and all its people extend the friendly hand of a West Texas welcome to the student pilots of Webb's Class 66-A. These young men, here for a complete course of primary and basic jet-flying instruction, become citizens of our city for more than a year, and it is our earnest hope that they will find here a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere; and that when they must leave, they will do so with a kind feeling in their hearts for Big Spring, its business establishments, and all its population.

May we urge our new student pilots, as time permits them, to become acquainted with our town, to know about the churches and the schools, the facilities for leisure and enjoyment, the shops and the service establishments.

Particularly do we ask them to drop in and see us, just to let us get acquainted, and say in person what we are saying here. There's no obligation to buy at any time . . . we want to be of service, and of assistance if we can.

Yes, it's all wrapped up in one wholesome, hearty word . . . "WELCOME!"

A "HOSPITALITY GIFT" For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

Pay Study Discussed Again, But No Action Is Taken

The city commission again considered but deferred action Friday night on the pay scale job classification proposal for city employees recommended July 1 by a San Francisco management consulting firm.

Discussion focused on possible adjustments in the salary scales for police patrolmen.

City Manager Larry Crow told commissioners that adoption of the July 1 proposal, with increases in pay for city employees from 2½ per cent to 7½ per cent, could be done within the money available, provided the increases were in yearly stages.

Crow said the first nine months of increases, considering July 1 as a retroactive date, could be carried out at a cost of about $38,000, which he said was within the amount anticipated when the 1964-65 fiscal budget was planned. The second year of increases, as many employees move to a higher level, would be a somewhat lesser amount, with the cost tapering off in the third year after many employees reached the top base pay.

The commission directed Crow to discuss the proposed system this week with Elmer Williams, representative of the Griffenhagen-Kroger firm who presented the system to the commission July 1. Williams will be in Big Spring this week and is to provide additional recommendations concerning possible adoption of the system for the commission.

Crow said the discussion Friday night would help eliminate some of the major problems of the proposed system, but that other parts of the scale needed further study prior to any action. He said the study would continue this week, and if completed would again go to the commission at the next regular session July 28.

The year-stage proposal would provide that no employee would be increased initially more than the 7½ per cent maximum, regardless of years of service. The employee would be increased to the next higher pay scale under the new proposal on the effective date, then would move to the next higher level the following year. This manner of putting the system into effect, Crow said, would keep the cost of increases within the city's fiscal capability.

Attention centered during the two-hour session on police patrolmen salaries. Crow said possible adjustments could be made both in the salary figures and in the work week. The work week is presently 47 hours, with one hour overtime, and could be adjusted downward, Crow said.

The proposed adjustments for police patrolmen involved possible increases extending over a longer period than previously proposed.

Commissioner John Stanley said he felt consideration should be given in any changes to aiding reduction in turnover of personnel.

"We probably have to spend more money in training men for police work than for training in any other department," Stanley said.

Police Chief Banks asked what would happen to the employees salary after he reaches the maximum at the end of two, three or four years, as provided in the system.

Crow said the system would have to be given periodic review for further increases and that the employee would benefit as previously from increased longevity based on years of service.

Included in the discussion was a proposal to retain the present longevity plan, but with payments twice annually, June 1 and December 1, as stability payments. Present longevity is $2 per month for each year of service, paid on a monthly basis.

Also considered was a proposal that with each pay increase a recommendation would be required from the employees' supervisor or department head that performance for the period since the previous pay raise has been satisfactory or better.

Stanley said he felt the city pay scale should be set on a level to attract permanent residents of Big Spring into work with the city departments.

"This pay scale will affect the entire city," Commissioner Paul Kasch pointed out.

"There were several points in the report which we all felt were not what we wanted, although the report generally was a good one," Crow told commissioners. "There are several classifications which I feel were rated too low."

Crow said that by adopting the system on a step-at-a-time basis, it definitely came within the city's fiscal capability.

"We all realize the report is not infallible," Commissioner W. L. Thompson said.

Another provision recommended by Crow was that the commission set salaries for supervisory and technical positions, with consideration both of salaries recommended in the plan and of performance, experience and qualifications of employees concerned, in addition to recommendations of the city manager.

Discussion also focused on the reasons behind the two-year levels for increases for some positions and four-year increases for others. Crow said the differential was on a basis of giving supervisory positions, or positions requiring the employee to learn his job over a longer period, a wider spread to encourage development by the employee.

Dallas Reports Racial Rumpus

DALLAS (AP)—Three white persons were menaced by Negroes, and a Negro was stabbed by a white man Friday night in separate incidents of violence with racial overtones.

Elbert Stegall, 22, a Negro, told police he was attacked and stabbed without provocation as he sat in his car at a traffic light. At a hospital, his condition was reported good.

Two attacks on whites by Negroes were reported within 25 minutes in the same neighborhood.

Wayne Kirkland, 29, told police a car with several Negroes forced him to halt his car, and he was suddenly surrounded by scores of cursing Negroes. He said something broke a window in the car and bruised his elbow.

Two blocks away, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arellano said a group of young Negro thugs standing on each side of the street threw soft drink bottles at their car.

One bottle struck Mrs. Arellano. Another broke and cut her husband.

Welcome Home, Barry

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee, listened to a musical salute upon his return to Phoenix Friday night from the GOP national convention in San Francisco. The senator addressed some 3,000 persons at Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport. He will spend the weekend in Phoenix, leaving Sunday night for Washington. (AP WIRE- PHOTO)

Greeks Close In On Turks

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Greek Cypriot forces — supported by artillery and armored cars — moved into positions around the Turkish village of Bemblos today.

The movement violated a disengagement agreement arranged by Canadian U.N. troops guarding tense northern Cyprus.

The Greek move was reported by a U.N. spokesman, who said Canadian officers reopened negotiations to prevent the possibility of a clash around Bemblos, at the foot of the Kyrenia mountains.

Breaching of the agreement came as the governments of Canada, Sweden and Denmark were reported giving urgent consideration to the continued presence of their contingents in the U.N.-Cyprus peace force in view of the continued buildup of Greek and Turkish mainland forces on the island.

The Bemblos area threatened to turn into a battleground Friday after Greek Cypriots moved in eleven 25-pound field guns, two antiaircraft guns and eight mortars and warned Turkish fighters to leave the village, which is packed with refugee women and children. The village was previously undefended neutral ground and Greek Cypriots insisted that about 80 Turkish fighters in Bemblos return to positions in the mountains.

The U.N. arranged a ceasefire and disengagement, and both sides began to pull back Friday night.

No Barry Funds

DALLAS (AP)—H. L. Hunt, multimillionaire Dallas oilman and food processor-packer, said Saturday he had not contributed to the Barry Goldwater campaign funds since 1952.

Rev. Laird Named Pastor

STANTON (SC)—The Rev. Don Laird is now serving as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Gramercy, La. He and his wife arrived there following his graduation May 15 at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Rev. Laird was born June 12, 1938 in Big Spring. He lived in Stanton 13 years before he and his mother moved to Rossville, Ga., in 1951. In 1957, he surrendered to the ministry and was licensed by the Calvary Baptist Church of Rome, Ga.

He entered college in the fall of 1956, and attended Furman University, Berry College and Shorter College. In 1960, he graduated with a degree in history from Shorter College. He entered the seminary in the fall of 1960 and graduated there this year.

He has been active in youth work, revivals, home mission work and music work. He spent one summer as a student missionary in Utah under the Home Mission Board. He was the protestant chaplain in a Boy Scout camp for two summers while in seminary, and was minister of music 1½ years in New Orleans. He has led revivals both as evangelist and music director.

Rev. and Mrs. Laird were married Aug. 30, 1963. She was the former Annette Kidd, Atlanta, Ga. He is the grandson of Mrs. George Shelburne, Stanton.

Dr. O'Brien To Guide Revival

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Rev. Caddo Matthews, pastor of the Plainview Baptist Church, four miles south of Colorado City on the Sterling City Highway, is announcing a revival for the week of July 19-26.

Dr. F. D. O'Brien, long time pastor at Big Spring, and once pastor at Colorado City, will be the evangelist. Dr. O'Brien is now living in Houston. Dwayne Clawson, Coahoma, is the singer.

Americans, Soviets Await Track Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United States and Russia meet in dual track and field competition next weekend for the sixth time, with Uncle Sam's athletes favored in the men's division and the Soviets in the women's class.
Such has been the outcome of this international struggle since the series was inaugurated in Moscow in 1958.
The two-day carnival, which should produce a distinct pattern of things to come in the Olympic Games in Tokyo in October, goes on Saturday and Sunday, July 25-26.
Each day's program is scheduled to start at 6:00 p.m., EST with an expected 80,000 or more gathered in huge Memorial Coliseum.

Pro 11's Are Eyeing Illini's D. Butkus

By JACK HAND

With Billy Ray Smith coming out of retirement, the Baltimore Colts are hoping that Gino Marchetti will decide to give it one more shot.
Smith's return at defensive tackle helps the Colts where they need it most. With Billy Ray back in action, Baltimore may have a chance to win it all in the Western Conference. This kind of thinking might lure Gino back to the wars.

HARLEY BYNUM

Pair Signed By Jayhawks

Two more track and field athletes have signed letters-of-intent with coach L. L. (Red) Lewis at Howard County Junior College.
They are hurdler Harley Bynum of Snyder and pole-vaulter Joel Conway of Hurst.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Teddy Tedford, the batting star of the Big Spring Merchants, makes his home in Midland but comes over here frequently to work out. He was an all-star player last year with an Abilene club.

SPIKE DYKES

Frank Gifford couldn't wait until it was time for the veterans to report at the New York Giants' camp at Fairfield, Conn. and showed up early. Jim Moran, a rookie offensive tackle from Idaho, checked in at 278 pounds the first day in the Giants' camp.
When the Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers meet Aug. 22 in Milwaukee it will be an exhibition in name only. It will be Paul Hornung's first chance to get even with the Bears for taking the Packers' title away last season. The clubs also meet in the opening game of the regular National Football League season, Sunday, Sept. 13 at Green Bay.

Eisenhart Not In Baylor Brochure

Texas Football magazine lists ex-Big Spring Jack Eisenhart as one of the newcomers to the Baylor university football team this fall but the Baylor brochure mailed out by publicist George Wright doesn't make mention of him, which leads one to believe that Jack will be red-shirted this fall because of an abundance of ends in the Bruin camp.
Eisenhart, who played here as a sophomore and then transferred to San Antonio, was on the All-SWC freshman team last year.
Fleet John Kennedy definitely will not play with the San Angelo Bobcats this fall but earlier reports that Pat Brown of Odessa High would give up football in favor of track and baseball are not true, according to Odessa scribes visiting here last week.
Brown is the fastest boy in District 2-AAAA. He developed a sore arm in baseball last spring, according to reports, a factor that could have cooled off some of the baseball scouts who were after him.
Byron (Whizzer) White may be approached to take the high commissioner's job in baseball, after Ford Frick retires next year. White is now a member of the United States Supreme Court.
The former Snyder grid great, Jack Spikes, now in pro football, makes his winter home in Levelland.
A Houston syndicate is working toward a National Basketball Association franchise as early as the 1965-66 season, when the league is due to expand.
Fred Hutchinson's bout with cancer is more serious than he lets on.
The Cincinnati manager may have to give up his duties with the Redlegs.
Scott Rogers, the Midland Lee fullback, will attend TCU this fall on scholarship.
Rogers was slowed by injuries his last year in school but he won three grid letters with the Rebels.
Leo Attar, an international track and field follower, has predicted the U. S. men will beat the Russians in their track meet in Los Angeles this week, 129 points to 107, but that the Soviet women will win, 71-36.

REVENUE REDUCTION? Colleges Fret Over TV Threat

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
The colleges now are embroiled in another argument with professional football over televising games on Friday nights and Saturdays. The junior colleges and high schools also have been drawn into it.
The reason the colleges are making a pitch is because they know that if pro football is televised on Friday nights and Saturday afternoon and night, it will cut deeply into their revenue; also will hurt the junior colleges and high schools. Some say most of the colleges will have to give up football.
Pro football wants to televise in these periods on several premises. One is that the colleges haven't any right to tell the people what television they are to receive and the people are entitled to see the pro football games on TV.
The other is based on the claim that pro football needs the Friday and Saturday telecasts because in early season there is a conflict with baseball. It seems some pro clubs use baseball stadiums and it's October before baseball gets out of the way.
The first question posed by the colleges: If pro football is so concerned with giving the people what they want in television why is there a blackout locally, thus forcing the fans to pay their way into the parks?
Another question is: If pro football has a conflict in the use of stadiums with baseball why doesn't it build its own stadiums? Pro football is prospering enough to have its own facilities.

Cage Game Punishes Its Standouts

There's nothing official about it yet but the basketball rules committee may finally get around to doing something about charging the statute which fouls out some of the game's better players.
Basketball and hockey are the only two sports where a player is barred from playing because of rules infractions and in hockey the disciplined party can come back in two or three minutes.
In baseball you won't find Mickey Mantle or Willie Mays sitting out the rest of a game because of a hard slide into second base.
A pitcher isn't ousted for brushing back a hitter.
The foul rule in basketball is especially tough on teams which have only one or two outstanding players and one or both of those are banished.
Cage coaches devise plays to trap and compel opposing players to foul.
A proposed amendment to the rules would give the ball to the team which has been fouled after one player had been saddled with his fifth penalty, in addition to receiving a free throw.
Doug Jones, the former Big Spring, recently carded his fourth hole-in-one at the Abilene Country Club.
John Conley, the former Snyder football mentor, last week fired a 76 to win second flight honors in the Lubbock

Sanford Surgery Said Successful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An operation to restore full blood circulation to San Francisco pitcher Jack Sanford's throwing arm was termed successful Friday with hopes he'll be back in action this campaign.
The surgery Friday corrected a five-inch blood vessel blockage in Sanford's right arm.
Team physician Dr. E. C. Sailer said an examination in three or four days will probably determine when Sanford can return to action.
The circulatory impairment, blamed on an injury during Sanford's military service in 1955, became acute on June 25. The 1962 World Series hero had blanked Los Angeles for five innings when his right hand became cold and numb.
Sanford, who posted a 24-7 record in 1962, was 5-7 for this campaign with a 3.30 earned-run-average.

MORE NUMBERS THAN EVER BEFORE But Some Not Listed

Although there are more numbers than ever before listed in the new telephone books distributed last week, there are almost 400 residents with telephones not listed. These represent residents who asked the telephone company to give them an "unlisted number."

Not even the telephone company operators have the unlisted numbers, and the numbers are not given to calling parties under any circumstances.

Harry Sawyer, business manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. here, said that this is not the best service and that customers requesting an unlisted number are warned of the disadvantages, but not discouraged.

"Unpublished numbers are fine for privacy," Sawyer said, "but the service is not flexible. If a party calls for a number that we do not have listed, he is out of luck."

"The number is never given out, and for extreme emergencies there is a long procedure which we must go through to notify the customer," he added.

MEN IN SERVICE

Evelyn Sue Pope, Journalist Second Class, daughter of Mrs. Kitty Andrews, 310 Austin St., recently re-enlisted in the Navy for six years.

Miss Pope graduated from Big Spring High School in 1960. She enlisted in the Waves through the Big Spring Navy Recruiting Station in 1961. She recently began a three-year tour of duty as the Navy Wave recruiter in New York City.

WALTER P. HEARIN

Airman J. C. Walter P. Hearin, son of Mrs. Virginia R. Hearin, Colorado City, has graduated from the technical training course for new members of the Air Force Medical Service at Greenville AFB, Miss.

Airman Hearin, who studied base hospital procedures and emergency medical treatment, was selected for further training in the medical service field at Gunter AFB, Ala.

The airman is a graduate of Midland High School and a former student at Texas A&M University.

Polk, La., paratrooper training at Ft. Benning, Ga., and parachute rigger training at Ft. Lee, Va. He was selected for Army Special Forces Group in April.

Students At McMurry Class

Two Big Spring band students, Gordon Gilstrap and Judy McMullen, are attending a summer band and twirling school at McMurry College in Abilene. The school began July 13 and will end July 25.

Instruction is being given in all instruments and in all phases of twirling. Some 480 musicians and twirlers are enrolled in the school. Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, director of the McMurry College Indian Band, also directs the school. The faculty includes 30 high school band directors from West Texas.

Students of the school will present a series of band and twirling numbers Friday night, July 24, in Indian Stadium, at which time the top twirlers of the school will be announced.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMullen, 3217 Eleventh Place. Gordon is the son of Mrs. Lena Gilstrap, 1410 Lancaster.

Club Stages Friday Hay Ride

The Mates and Dates Square Dance Club staged a hay ride Friday evening to Pete Jinkins' ranch, "The Ponderosa." The 32 members met at Arvil Henry's home, 1423 E. 6th. Mrs. Henry, Pete Jinkins and Danny Kennimer played the guitar while everyone sang. Later the group went to the Henry's residence and danced.

The members of the Mates and Dates Square Dance Club thanked Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jinkins for helping with the hay ride, and the club sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Henry, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wanner and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Merrell.

Jamboree-Bound Scouts Are Seeing The Sights

Some 20 Big Spring Boy Scouts and their leaders are having an eventful trip to the National Jamboree. They are among the 160 Scouts and adult leaders from the Buffalo Trail Council, who left Midland in four chartered buses July 6 for the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

Reports from the group include some of their adventures. They made a tour of the Ford Museum and Greenfield Village at Dearborn, Mich.

"At the village, we saw a vast array of historical items," one boy said. He told of everything from musical instruments and sewing machines to classic cars and 600-ton steam locomotives; homes and stores, including Edison's laboratory; Henry Ford's workshop, and the shop in which the Wright Brothers created the first airplane.

"A tour of the Ford assembly plant was a lesson in the assembly line system," he said. "We saw cars being made, from ingots to finished automobiles."

After crossing the Ambassador Bridge into Canada, the young travelers spent the night at a YMCA in Hamilton, Ontario. They started July 11 by going to Niagara Falls. Some took the west tour behind the falls, while others rode the "Maid of the Mist," a boat going beneath the falls. After passing through to the American side, the buses headed through Buffalo, N. Y., then to Cortland, N. Y. The mayor, local Scout executives, and newspaper reporters were on hand to greet the boys at the National Guard Armory, where they spent the night.

"Sunday church services started the day off for them July 12, and then they started for New York City and the World's Fair. All the Scouts

MRS. THOMAS RICHARD YOUNG

Miss Kenny Kay Stephens Weds T. R. Young Friday

A double ring ceremony performed Friday evening united Miss Kenny Kay Stephens and Thomas Richard Young in marriage. The vows were read in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Bert Affleck of Abilene officiating.

The bride's parents are Mrs. Boyd Bryans, 1404 Aylford, and K. H. Stephens, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. Loice Young, Ellis Homes, is the mother of the bridegroom.

The altar was graced with a sunburst spray arrangement of white carnations and gladioli flanked by candelabra. Matching arrangements were placed on each side of the altar and banked with emerald fern trees. Morris Robertson, uncle of the bride, accompanied his niece to the altar.

Traditional wedding music, "I Love You Truly," and "Oh Promise Me" were played on the organ by Miss Annette Fitzhugh.

The bride wore a two-piece white knit suit trimmed in white pearls at the neckline and wore a seed pearl crown adorned with a face veil. She carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley arranged with white satin streamers. She wore elbow-length gloves and white silk slippers.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Robert Mahoney, matron of honor, was attired in a yellow polished cotton frock and wore white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Miss Gwyn Davis, maid of honor, wore a green knit suit and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Kenny Kesterson was best man, and ushers were Dickie Carlton, Jerry Richbourg, Robert Mahoney and Danny Coates.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore her wedding suit with accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. Following the honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 1003 Abrams.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School where she served as cheerleader for three years and was affiliated with Tri-Hi-Y, Future Homemakers of America and the Order of the Rainbow for Girls. She attended North Texas State University, Denton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College and is presently employed at the State National Bank. He belonged to Hi-Y, Future Farmers of America, and was active in school sports.

RECEPTION
Mr. and Mrs. Morris Robertson held a reception at Big Spring Country Club following the ceremony. Guests were received by the bridal couple, the bride's parents, the bridegroom's mother, and the attendants.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of carnations and gladioli. Silver and crystal appointments were used, and a white and silver tiered cake trimmed with roses and a miniature bride and groom was served.

Out-of-town guests were registered by Mrs. Herbert Johnson Jr. They were Mrs. R. E. Tamplin, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Trevey, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Walker, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Holden, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Holiday and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Drumm, all of Snyder.

House party members were Miss Judy Jones, Miss Jane Tamplin, Mrs. Jack I. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. R. E. Tamplin.

PARTY
The bridal couple were honored Thursday afternoon at a shower held in the State National Bank by the employees. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Kelly Vance, Mrs. Festus McElrath and Mrs. Ellis Poitvent.

Engaged Pair Complimented

A Saturday evening dinner party held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar Road, honored Miss Lou Parks and Dr. Glenn Rogers. The couple plans to be married Aug. 22 in the First Presbyterian Church at Lamesa. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Parks of Lamesa and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, 300 Washington Blvd.

there was used in decorating the poolside area where guests were seated at quartet tables spread with bright colored cloths and appointments. On the buffet table was a polystyrene centerpiece in modern design decorated with large, colorful hibiscus, and fresh hibiscus were floated in the pool.

In keeping with the casual theme of the party, the honored couple were presented with an assortment of accessories for patio entertaining.

Among the 35 guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Parks, Lamesa; Miss Marie Hall, Dallas; Dr. John Greer, Midland; Dr. Jim Prentiss, Wichita Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Liberty, Midland.

AMERICAN OF MARTINSVILLE designed by Merton L. Gershun

LEGEND

A style so versatile that it can be dressed up-or down-adaptable to either traditional or contemporary decor

Here's one of the most sophisticated design groups we've ever seen. It is contemporary, but with a delightfully appealing difference produced by a rich spicing of colonial design elements. Woods are walnut veneers enhanced with a warm, bronze-tone antiqued finish and rubbed to a soft gleam mellow as candlelight. Legend is at home in any room, no matter what the scale, because of the wide selection . . . over 50 pieces in different sizes and styles. Legend speaks Early American in today's language. This sophisticated early craftsmanship is clean, contemporary, versatile . . . at home with any decorative style.

Gingham and copper kettles . . . Damask and candlelight . . . Legend makes the perfect setting for either.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gonzalez, 286 NW 4th, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cynthia Angelina, to Oscar Zertuche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zertuche, Del Rio. The wedding will be held Aug. 22, at St. Peter, Prince of the Apostles, Catholic Church in San Antonio.

Affair Honors Miss Fanning

A gift shower held Thursday evening was a pre-nuptial courtesy honoring Miss Patricia Fanning, bride-elect of Charles William Prentis. The affair was from 8 to 10 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Dalton Johnston, 600 E. 16th.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fanning and the prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Prentis Sr. of Pelham, N.H. The couple plan to be married July 31 at Baptist Temple.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Travis Fuller, Mrs. Lee Lawdermilk, Mrs. Arvil Henry, Mrs. Hartman Hooser, Mrs. L. D. Keeler, Mrs. J. C. Eudy, Mrs. James Reynolds, Mrs. Tommy Wigginton, Mrs. Ronald Sutton and Mrs. Jack Jones.

The honoree, who was attired in a yellow sheath with matching print blouse, and her mother received corsages of yellow and white carnations.

A floor-length cloth of white organza covered the refreshment table, appointed with crystal, where 35 guests were served. Flounces were caught with wedding bells decked with white ribbon streamers. Centering the table were bride and groom figurines in a base of yellow roses, net and greenery, and flanking the arrangement were yellow candles in crystal holders.

TRAVEL TALK

Pack The Easy Way For A Trip Abroad

By HULIN FOWLER
You've planned your vacation—to Europe. South America—the Far East—and every minute of it has been fun. Suddenly, the fun becomes work. What to wear? What to pack?

Actually, packing for a jet trip, even around the world, is not as difficult as many people think if you keep two basic problems in mind—climate and weight.

Many people think the climate of South America is "hot" and it is—in December! Remember that the seasons of the two Americas are reversed—and that some high-altitude areas like La Paz, Bolivia, and Bogota, Colombia, are pretty cold most of the year.

In Europe, you will encounter many climates, but bear in mind that the northern countries will be cold in winter and cool in summer, while the Mediterranean lands will be mild in winter and warm in summer. Check your itinerary carefully before deciding what clothes to take.

In the matter of weight, you will be allowed 44 pounds from your city of departure on an international economy ticket, and 66 pounds on a first class ticket. In addition, you may carry a coat, camera, binoculars, purse and reading material which will not be weighed.

Granted that you know where and how you're going, the next thing to remember is to travel light. Concentrate on people, scenery, fun, places and ideas, not on being a "clothes horse." Don't waste your time packing, unpacking, dressing and changing or you'll miss out on a lot of the fun of the trip.

Although any travel service can suggest a basic travel wardrobe for any tour, here are a few tips on packing:

1. Choose a basic color scheme. Women should have blouses that are interchangeable with various skirts. Men should have sports coats that go with several pairs of slacks.
2. First, look in your own wardrobe. You probably have most of your basic items there.
3. Take easy-to-care-for fabrics. Nylon, dacron, orlon and others are a real boon for travelers of both sexes. They press, wash and dry easily and are durable.
4. If you wish to take a travel iron, choose a light one of dual voltage with international convertible plugs.
5. Take along a camera and plenty of film, as some countries do not have an adequate supply of good film, especially color.
6. Toilet articles are available in abundance now in most foreign countries. However, your favorite brand may not be, so you may want to pack enough to last your complete trip. However, remember that each article counts in your total weight allowance, so do not take more than will be needed.
7. If you need special medicines, carry an adequate supply. Your doctor will gladly tell you what additional medications may be needed while you're away from home.

Finally, be sure that you have such articles as your passport and vaccination certificates, and a supply of toilet articles, on your person during the flight. Some flights are rather long and you'll want to freshen up before landing, at which time you'll also need all your travel documents to go through customs.

Actually, packing for a long trip is not difficult at all and a little pre-planning and consultation with travel experts will save you the discomfort of forgetting important items.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Fowler will be happy to answer questions on travel and vacations. Please address your inquiries to him in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Juniors To Earn Funds For Prom

Junior Week, an annual fund-raising event, begins Monday when approximately 40 students at Big Spring High School will be accepting odd jobs to provide funds for the homecoming observance and prom.

The group will be available for mowing and edging lawns, window washing, housecleaning, baby sitting or any household chores. Help may be obtained by calling AM 4-8880 or AM 3-4766.

Tuesday the students have planned a car wash and a bake sale is scheduled Wednesday at the Safeway stores on Gregg and the College Park Shopping Center and the Furr's and Piggy Wiggly stores in the Eleventh Place Shopping Center.

For Thursday, plans include scrap iron and a house-to-house "egg" drive. Later activities will include the selling of car stickers, renting stadium seats, and a Powder Puff football game.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By SALLY HUDSON
Mrs. A. L. Warren was hostess for a bridge luncheon Wednesday.

A sherry party was held Wednesday in honor of Mrs. John G. Short. Dr. and Mrs. Short are leaving soon for transfer to San Antonio. The party, held in the Officers Open Mess, was given by Mrs. John Culbertson and Mrs. Dan Whitmer. There were approximately 15 attending.

A promotion party was given by Lt. Col. and Mrs. Rick M. Loeffler. The party was Friday evening with members of 331st and FIS attending. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Whipkey and Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Kinsey.

A meeting of the Medical Wives' Group was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Loose. There were two newcomers, Mrs. E. J. Took, being transferred from Oxnard AFB, California, and Mrs. Robert Marks, returning to Webb after three years in England. Those leaving were Mrs. J. A. Weinsinger, returning to Marion, Ohio; Mrs. M. Kressel, going to New York City; Mrs. T. J. Carroll, going to Sandusky, Ohio; and Mrs. John G. Short leaving for San Antonio.

BRIDGE WINNERS
The monthly bridge was held Thursday afternoon. Prize winners in the advanced division were Mrs. E. M. Bunn and Mrs. R. H. McManigill, first; Mrs. J. E. Price and Mrs. A. L. Warren, second; Mrs. T. J. Normile and Mrs. W. L. Meerdink, third; and Mrs. H. C. Hill and Mrs. J. L. Hudson, fourth.

Winners in the intermediate division were Mrs. Dave Glaser and Mrs. Kenneth Monroe, first, and Mrs. Steve Oka and Mrs. Charles Beck, second.

The travel prize was awarded to Mrs. Kenneth Monroe, and door prize was won by Mrs. Ray Rider.

PROMOTION
Lt. Col. and Mrs. Stanley Smith were host and hostess for a party in their home Saturday evening. It was a combination promotion party and get-together for members of DCM and their wives. There were approximately 45 people there to share in the dinner and cake (decorated in recognition of Col. Smith's promotion). New members of the group who were recognized were Lt. Col. and Mrs. G. A. Perron, Maj. and Mrs. G. J. McClure and Mrs. R. S. Meridan, bride of Lt. R. S. Meridan.

If you are interested in bridge and sewing don't forget the new classes. Bridge classes are held in the Officers' Open Mess each Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. and lasts until 11 a.m. Sewing instruction is given each Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Fireplace Room.

The regular monthly "Hi and Bye" Coffee will be July 23, this Thursday. It will be sponsored by Class 65-G. The theme will be beatnik and dress will be casual. Everyone is welcome, so plan to be at the Officers' Open Mess at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Freezer Foods Make Convenient Meals

HD CLUBS

Variety in program study was conducted by Home Demonstration Clubs in the community this week.

The Wasson Road Club held a study on freezer meals that a number of the groups have currently are considering. The average homemaker spends about one third of her time in planning, preparing and serving meals. Colorful, appetizing meals can be prepared in minimum time if properly managed and planned, with special use of freezer food.

WASSON ROAD CLUB

Mrs. F. A. Gibbs was hostess Monday afternoon to members of the Wasson Road Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Carl Mangum presented a program on freezer meals and gave members recipe books on quick meals.

The devotion was worded by the hostess and Mrs. Mangum gave the council report. Volunteer delegates were sought for the Home Demonstration State Convention Aug. 16-17 to be held in Houston. The roll call was answered by "What is a good neighbor?"

Mrs. Melvin Newton displayed plastic plaques and costume jewelry she had made.

Herb Helbig will be the guest speaker when the club meets Sept. 14 in the home of I. O. Collins.

AIRPORT CLUB

The Airport Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Marshall E.

Cooks Leave For 10-Day Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook and their daughters, Jackie and Sue, left today for a tour of the northwestern states. They plan to see Denver and San Francisco and come back through North and South Dakota.

Cook's mother, Mrs. R. L. Cook, will accompany the family as far as Fort Sumner, N.M., where she plans to visit her sister, Mrs. E. C. Cook.

The family, who resides at 1706 Harvard, plans to be away for 10 days.

Brown, 1503 Robin, to attend a candle making demonstration presented by Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Several models were exhibited by the speaker. Refreshments were served to 11 members and three guests. They were Mrs. Travis Waller, Miss Juanice Key and Mrs. Wilson.

The next meeting will be held Aug. 4, in the home of Mrs. S. A. Wilson, 2500 Seminole Drive. Mrs. Bill Bunn will demonstrate basket making.

LEES CLUB

Summer plans were made by the Lees Home Demonstration Club when five members met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. E. L. Newsom.

A cake and ice cream supper was planned for Friday evening and a club picnic, scheduled for Aug. 14 in the City Park. The next regular session will be held Aug. 11 with Mrs. J. J. Overton serving as hostess.

Members answered roll call by listing their most expensive food buys, and Mrs. V. E. Phillips spoke on family life as program narrator.

4-H Group Organizes

The Big Spring 4-H Club Sewing Group met for the first time Thursday in the home of Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Gail R. Robbie Brown, Knott, who was in state-wide 4-H Club competition last year with a dress she made, taught the members of the group how to model.

They will present clothes they made in the county-wide dress review this week in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Participating in the program were Debra Anderson, Terry Soechting, Brenda Heard and Velma Cozart. Guests were Ladena Riddle, Jeannette Nichols and Mrs. Robert Brown, all of Knott.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Lovejoy, D. G. Hewett

Miss Donna Lovejoy became the bride of Donald Gene Hewett in a candlelight ceremony at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Midland. The double ring ritual was read by the Rev. Francis W. Fowler.

Vows were exchanged before altar arrangements of white majestic daisies, gladioli and stephanotis flanked by candelabra entwined with daisies and greenery. White satin aisle markers were caught with small bouquets of daisies.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lovejoy, 2010 College, Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hewett, Rt. 2.

Following a program of traditional nuptial selections presented by Clair Foster at the organ, Mrs. George Harley sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

SILK GOWN

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown of imported silk delustered satin. A scalloped neckline was etched with re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls which extended down the princess bodice into a pleated V-shaped cummerbund. Long sleeves tapered to petal points over the wrists and tiny covered buttons fastened the bodice at the back. The bouffant skirt which swept into a chapel train, was enhanced by scattered motifs of the same lace and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion fell from a pillbox of pleated satin accented with lace and seed pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis encircling a white orchid.

Miss Sandra Lovejoy of Midland attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandy Lee, Fort Worth; Miss Kathy Nelson, Midland; Mrs. Ron Davis, Dallas; and Mrs. Jerry Hewett, Big Spring, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore dresses of jasmine yellow peau de soie. The street-length sheaths featured portrait necklines, elbow-length sleeves, and full-length belted overskirts coming to inverted V's in front. The back waists were accented with butterfly bows, and headpieces were bows of matching peau de soie attached to bluish veils of silk illusion. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white majestic daisies.

Dawna Day, Midland, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

MRS. DONALD GENE HEWETT

Her dress was fashioned similar to those of the attendants and her headpiece was a bandeau of Marguerite daisies. She carried white daisies in a white basket.

Jerry Hewett, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsman were Edgar Phillips, Abilene; Wade Simpson, Midland; Ron Davis, Dallas; and Ed Pfeiffer, Tatum, N.M. Mike Musgrove, Fort Worth, and Tommy Welch, Big Spring, were ushers. The ring bearer was Rance McKee, Big Spring, nephew of the bridegroom, and acolytes were Danny Herd and Bobby Senning, both of Midland.

RECEPTION

Parents of the bride and bridegroom joined the honored couple and the attendants in receiving guests at a reception held in the church hall. Guests were registered by Mrs. Abe Richmond, Fort Worth.

The bride's table was covered with white satin and an overlay of white net. Scallops were caught with daisies and the centerpiece of Majestic daisies and greenery was flanked with candelabra. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with white and yellow daisies.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Bertha Day, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker and Sue, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Herrell, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Day, Graeme and Cordy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mathis and Machelle, and Miss Ann Gilbert, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McKee, Verilinda and Rhonda and Mrs. Oscar Lawson, all of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Abe Richmond, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien and Peggy, Olney; Mrs. Zack Dennis, Wink; Miss Ann Mehaffey, Breckenridge; Mrs. Edgar Phillips, Abilene; Mrs. Rita Schroter, Schneckady, N.Y. and Mrs. Fred Baxter, Albany, N.Y.

GULF COAST

When the couple left for a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the bride was wearing a beige silk suit, cocoa brown alligator accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple plan to reside on Rt. 2 in Big Spring.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. The bridegroom, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College and Texas Technological College. He is presently engaged in stock farming near Big Spring.

Mrs. Hila Weathers views a glass beauty

Mrs. Hila Weathers Makes Life Exciting

By MARY COCHRAN
There is no such thing as boredom for the young in heart and Mrs. Hila Weathers fits into this category like a glove. She has a lively interest in her work at the Big Spring State Hospital, her hobbies and the human race.

Apathy is a word that is not in her vocabulary. She approaches life with enthusiasm and finds an interest in many different things. Her spare time is spent in the pursuit of a number of fascinating hobbies which include needlework, stamp collecting and acquiring interesting and unusual paper weights.

The acquiring of paper weights actually began when she was just a child. Her father, the late Iceberg Reeves of Sherman, brought his young daughter a little metal dog from Arkansas. She was fascinated with the bauble and treasured it through the years. As she grew older it was stored away with other childhood mementoes.

An interesting sidelight on her father is the fact that when he was serving as state representative from Grayson County, he was the originator of the bill that brought into being the State School for the Feeble Minded, now called the Austin State School. It is a coincidence that his daughter now is serving as coordinator in one of those state institutions.

FIRST FEVER

While Mrs. Weathers, affectionately known as Stormy, was serving as manager of the San Marcos Chamber of Commerce, a friend suggested she start a collection of paper weights and presented one for her office desk. It was then she recalled the little dog her father

James Doyles Blend Home, Job, Hobbies

Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle of 1908 Eleventh Place are never at a loss for something to talk about or do. First in their interests is a seven-week-old son, Chris, to tenderly care for and enjoy.

Doyle is deeply involved in his new job as a pharmacist at Leonard's Prescription Pharmacy, and there is a new home in a new town for the young couple to get acquainted with. Mocha, their handsome red poodle must be acclimated to his surroundings, and several tanks of beautiful tropical fish must be properly installed.

The Doyles moved to Big Spring recently from Clinton, Okla., and are making the adjustment to becoming Texans with ease.

Mrs. Doyle is a native of Clinton, and attended Southwestern State College at the neighboring city of Weatherford. In the process of getting her degree in elementary education, she met a dark-eyed young man from Chickasha who was getting his BS degree in pharmacy. That meeting at a school dance evolved into a romance and they were married in her home town Aug. 2, 1963.

SPORTS-MINDED

Doyle is a hunter and fisherman, and in those courtship days found he had much in common with his sweetheart's father and brothers. When he could find time off from school and a job at a pharmacy in Clinton, they were off to the country to hunt quail and doves. There were several lakes in the vicinity where he always managed a bit of time to fish.

This newcomer is looking forward to trying his luck at the Blue Quail that abound in West Texas and see how the deer hunting around Mason differs from that in his native state.

The fast running Blues will not be a problem to this hunter, for he likes to cover lots of territory and did not even use hunting dogs as most people do when hunting Bob Whites in Western Oklahoma.

"I'm learning to be an outdoorsman," said Mrs. Doyle, "but a gun still scares me a bit."

Fish have not only furnished sport for Doyle but also an avocation. During his high school days he operated a shop where he sold tropical fish. His dad was the backer in the firm, but the operation of the business was all his own.

BIG COLLECTION
"I have personally had as high as 500 different fish," he said. "Now my collection is rather small but I plan to add to it." He pointed with pride to a shimmering veil black lace angel variety that he predicts will grow into a big spectacular specimen. There is a brilliant Beta Siamese fighting fish in one of his tanks and a myriad collection of small brightly colored species.

Mrs. Doyle is involved with her home and baby at the present time but has a deep love for teaching, particularly in the lower elementary grades. She taught for two years in Clin-

Ray Tollett Departs For Tour Of World

Ray Tollett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tollett, departed Friday from Dallas on the first leg of an around-the-world trip. Wednesday was the last day with Cosden for Mrs. James Crawford. She and her family have moved to League City near Houston.

Also farewells were bade Mrs. David Henry Wednesday. She and her husband will move to New York at the end of July. Meanwhile they are off for a vacation at Disneyland. Accompanying them were her sister, Neva Jean Bedwell, Big Spring, and his niece, Lois Havlena, New York.

Katherine McClure, Topeka, Kan., arrives this afternoon to spend a week here with her grandmother, Mrs. Hester Green, and her uncle's family, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Green, Lynn and Paula.

Mrs. G. T. Guthrie underwent surgery early this week in John Sealy Hospital. She is expected home next week.

The H. C. Stipps left at mid-week for Durango, Colo., for a visit with their son and family, the Louis Stipps. Their grandson, David Stipp, accompanied them after having visited here.

Arlene Hartin will leave early Monday for a week near Sedalia, Colo. She will assist in a church youth camp at Silver State.

The Jerry Jenkinses have returned from a vacation in Ruidoso, N. M.

Bill Montgomery plans a train trip into Mexico next week on vacation. He will proceed from Presidio to Mazatlan and on to Durango.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson and family are going to Jacksonville, Ark., for a visit with their son and family, the David Lee Wilkersons, who have a new daughter.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Archie Schafer, stillman at the styrene unit, who died Thursday after an extended illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rip Merrell have as houseguests her brother and family, the William Bolkas, Ely, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller and family will be in Dallas next week on vacation. They plan to see a summer musical.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baird and family are headed for a week of fishing in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Beauvais and family are in Colorado this week visiting his family.

The Tom Yeats family is vacationing with relatives in Gadsden, Ala.

Matthew Stewart, Ed Howard, Tony Malkotsis and Bill Duncan, all of Canadian Petrofina Limited of Montreal, have been here this week.

Carey Bizzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bizzell, participated in the YMCA swimming meet Saturday.

Bill Gibson has been touring the Mt. Pleasant refinery of American Petrofina this week.

Doug Warren is attending the Air Force Reserve Training Camp at Dyess AFB in Abilene for two weeks.

Wayne Vaughn attended a meeting of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers Friday in Austin.

JIMMY COKER AND HIS POTENTIAL CHAMPION
Youngster finds calf feeding interesting and educational

Inventive Youngster Feeds His First Calf

By SAM BLACKBURN
Jimmy Coker may not win the grand championship for steers at the Howard County Junior Livestock show next March, but if he doesn't, it won't be because he didn't work at it.
Jimmy, 13, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Coker. He lives five miles north and west of Big Spring on the Gular Ranch, where his father is foreman.
This is Jimmy's initial year as a calf feeder and because of the way things were, he has had to do things the hard way.
INVENTIVE
Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that young Jimmy is a remarkably adept and inventive youngster. He was provided with a calf selected from the Wilkinson Ranch Herefords. When a lad has a calf he is to feed for the show, he needs other things. He needs a shed for his animal, and a fenced-in area where it can exercise.
Jimmy was short on money.

but long on ingenuity. Making use of scrap materials he found on the ranch, he built a sheet iron shed, with a separate feeding compartment, and he fenced in an adequate tract adjacent to the shed. Lacking metal cutting tools, an old axe proved sufficient to hack off the second hand corrugated iron to fit the specific lengths required. Weathered timber and discarded fencing served well in closing in the corral.
Some youngsters who feed calves for these annual shows have elaborate quarters for their pampered pets. Some even have air conditioners. Running water, for most of these kids, is taken for granted. You have to have it.
CARRIES WATER
Perhaps so.
Jimmy doesn't have running water available for his shed. He hogs fresh water at frequent intervals to fill the drinking bucket in the stall where his calf, Feller, is steadily growing fatter and fatter, sleeker and sleeker. No air conditioning for Feller, but there's usually a cool breeze whipping across the ranchlands, and openings in the shed keep Feller comfortable.
Jimmy was busy last Wednesday polishing Feller's already gleaming red hair to a new sheen. He was cleaning up all around the shed and corral in preparation for the visit Saturday of the annual Howard County 4-H Club calf tour. A hundred youngsters and adults were at his place Saturday and Jimmy had everything spick-and-span for company. He joined the tour on the next leg of his journey after the visit to his place.
This is Jimmy's first year as 4-H Club boy as well as his first experience as a calf feeder. Helbig said that the lad is doing well.

FOUR SISTERS

He and his family have lived in Howard County three years, coming here from Baird. His father has been with Gular for many years. Jimmy is a seventh grader and will go to Rannels Junior High School this fall. He has four sisters.

Jimmy doesn't talk much. He replies to your questions politely but volunteers nothing. It may be he is too busy—a calf feeder has a lot on his mind.

Like remembering exactly how it was that Mr. Helbig said the steer should stand when posing for a picture, for instance. Or how to get Feller in just a little better shape in time for the big county show.

Webb Exceeds Savings Goal

In keeping with the Department of Defense cost consciousness policy at every level of command, Webb Air Force Base has come through with a saving of twice the goal set for fiscal year 1964 which ended June 30.
Six areas at Webb AFB contributed substantially to the program. They are telecommunications, major equipment items, transportation and traffic management, equipment maintenance management, military housing management, and real property.

Healthy Exercise Is Mixed With Lively Conversation

By JUDY BARNEYCASTLE
A group of Big Spring businessmen have found a way to mix a lively discussion of world problems with some needed exercise. About six a.m. each day, they hike around the paved loop of Scenic Mountain, setting a five mile-per-hour pace.

E. B. McCormick is founder of the unique group. He began walking the five-mile track several years ago. Others have joined in the trek, and today, over a half dozen are regulars.

WOMEN TOO

And close behind McCormick's contingent, a group of women have started making the walk, agreeing with the men that the exercise is proving beneficial to their health.

"Every day I passed by the home of Dr. P. W. Malone," McCormick said, "and every day he kept promising to join me in the walk. One day he did, and he has not missed a day since."

That was about three years ago. Now nine walk the 2 1/2 miles around the mountain in 35 minutes flat. They leave the gate at 6 a.m. sharp and walk around the mountain counter-clockwise.

"We walk the same way every morning," McCormick explained, "so that if one of us is late, he can start clockwise and meet us for the last stretch."

Some of the walkers drive their cars from home to the gate, but several walk the whole distance.

REGULARS

Regular walkers in the group are Clyde Angel, Roy Reeder, Dr. Malone, McCormick, Dr. James E. Box Jr., Merrill Creighton, Bill Pool, Bill Johnson and Hubert Stipp. Several others walk occasionally.

In the other group are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hayward, Mrs. Hubert Stipp, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Ann Ratliff, Ara Cunningham and Wilrena Richbourg.

Ralph McLaughlin jogs (slew run) the distance each morning. He runs the four miles from his home, around the mountain and back in 45 minutes.

McCormick explained that it is important for walkers to dress properly in order to enjoy the exercise.

"During cold weather," he said, "we wear insulated underwear with our clothes, but during this time of year, we wear walking shorts."

"We always wear shoes made especially for walking. They have composition soles with just a little flexibility and built-in arches. We would not have much fun if our feet hurt!"

Dr. Malone said that walking is good exercise.

RECOMMENDS

"I heartily recommend walking for better health, but I do not want it to get so crowded on Scenic Mountain that I can't continue my daily routine," he laughed.

"We have walked that course in summer and winter," he said. "In the winter I have seen so many clouds on the mountain top that we could not see a light in the city. We also walked many mornings in zero-degree weather."

But the walkers, he explained, dress accordingly and take hot showers when they get home so they can enjoy the sport every day.

The early morning exercisers walk for physical stimulation, better health, or because they enjoy it. Early hours, according to McCormick, are best for walking because the rest of the day's activities are not interrupted. Of course, the weather is cooler then, he added.

"I walk because it makes me feel good," McCormick said, "and as a result I sleep well at night. When I walk five miles in the morning then work all day, I'm ready to sleep when the time comes—and it usually comes pretty early."

Mrs. Reeder said she walks for her health.

"It is good for me to keep moving," she said. "Of course, the walk, if for no other reason, is delightful because of the birds, wildlife and panoramic views of the city in the early sunlight."

CONTAGIOUS

Miss Ratliff, who walks to lose weight, said that the walk is like a disease.

"I began walking about three weeks ago. It is invigorating, and it gives me energy for the rest of the day."

"The other day I came home and mowed my lawn in 15 minutes. It usually takes an hour and a half," she said.

Reeder has been walking for almost three years—every morning that he doesn't play 18 holes of golf. He said that the air is stimulating and that the walk tones up his muscles.
"The walk from my home and back is about three miles—that makes the bacon, eggs, toast and coffee taste good when I get home to breakfast," he said.

YOU SHOULD KNOW THIS ABOUT MEDICINES

There have been frequent reports about serious consequences resulting from overdoses of medicines given to infants and children. A five grain tablet of aspirin can be a poisonous dose to an infant. Almost any household remedy can be dangerous if improperly taken.

Subject to variation, it is important to know that an average dose for a one month infant is 1/20th of an adult. For a one year child it is 1/7th and a five year old about 1/3rd. Now you can see why it is important to read directions carefully and follow your physicians instructions exactly.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Cadillac

YOU MAY BE LOSING MONEY BY PAYING LESS

There are many cars that cost almost as much as a Cadillac. But it is a matter of fact that the decision to buy one of them could be a false economy.

Consider the major items included in the basic price of a Cadillac that are usually extra on other cars: automatic transmission, high-performance engine, power steering, power brakes, automatic cornering lights, and power windows on most models.

Then think of what a new Cadillac can save you on operation and maintenance. Cadillac is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in gasoline efficiency—and it is so soundly built that it has reduced upkeep expense to the practical minimum.

You're ahead again—every mile you drive.

Finally, reflect on Cadillac's historically high trade-in value. No car at or near its price preserves so much of its owner's original investment through the years.

So add it all up. You'll see what most owners mean when they say you don't spend more for a Cadillac. You just invest a little more—and get a lot more back.

If a Cadillac has long been in your plans, visit your dealer and get all the dollars-and-cents facts.

Anniversary Gift For Tollett

Highlight of a dinner program held in Juarez, Mexico, Saturday night in observance of R. L. Tollett's 25th anniversary with the Cosden Oil interests was the presentation of a handsome desk set, pictured here.

gold, has two pens, a two-way clock, and a special mount bearing the emblem of the Cosden 25-Year-Club, with a .25 point diamond as its major embellishment.

Two Planks In Platform Find Favor With Oilmen

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP) — The 1964 Republican platform includes two items sought by many oilmen but omits one sought by most segments of the industry.

price of natural gas sold into interstate commerce. The platform calls for an end of power-grabbing regulatory actions by federal agencies and a drastic reduction in burdensome federal paperwork but makes no direct reference to Federal Power Commission (FPC) efforts to control well-head gas prices.

is practically the same as those of 1956 and 1960 but the imports section is stronger in that it specifically mentions oil and other commodities. The new platform does not mention the mandatory program to control oil imports but endorses the following: "Meaningful safeguards against irreparable injuries to any domestic industries by disruptive surges of imports, such as in the case of beef and other meat products, textiles, oil, glass, coal, lumber and steel."

Increase Forecast For Offshore Area

DALLAS — Drilling in the Louisiana offshore area will increase at the rate of 3 per cent a year throughout the current decade, both in completions and footage drilled, Petroleum Engineer says in its July issue.

between $3,500 and $8,000 a day for cutting holes off Louisiana. This depends, of course, on the depth of water and the size of rig. There are 75 to 80 offshore units working off Louisiana.

The 1960 Democratic platform also pledged support of practical measures to protect domestic industries from imports but the Democrats said inequitable depletion allowances were among conspicuous tax loopholes through which certain privileged groups escape their fair share of taxation.

Drillers To Offer Higher Pay Scales

MIDLAND — Twenty-six rotary drilling contractors in West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico are planning to raise hourly rates for drilling crew members by 25 per cent effective not later than Sept. 1.

stitute the 25 per cent hourly increase. They are: Hondo Drilling Co., Leatherwood Drilling Co., Rowan Drilling Co., Inc., Cactus Drilling Corp., Cactus Drilling Co., Braheyn Drilling Co., Forster Drilling Co., Inc., Warton Drilling Co., Big West Drilling Co., Sitton & Norton Drilling Co., Hissom Drilling Co., Convelin Drilling Co., Ray Morris Drilling Co., Marcum Drilling Co., John Drilling Co., Moran Oil Producing & Drilling Corp., Tom Brown Drilling Co., Inc., Loffland Brothers Co., Tri-Service Drilling Co., A. W. Thompson, Inc., McVay Drilling Co., Dual Drilling Co., McFarland Corp., B. L. McFarland, Inc., and Camy Drilling Co.

roughnecks is $2.26 per hour or $144.64 per week. Their proposed rate is $2.82 an hour or $180.48 for a 56-hour week. Contractors who plan to operate on a 48-hour week, using three regular and one relief crew, have set hourly rates of $4.13 for drillers, $3.15 for motormen and derrickmen, and $2.98 for roughnecks.

Under the present wage scale, drillers are receiving base pay of $3.14 per hour of $200.96 weekly, before taxes, for a 56-hour week, of which all hours over 40 are figured at time and one-half. The raise would boost the driller's base rate to $3.92 per hour or $250.88 weekly, less taxes. Similar hikes would find derrickmen and motormen getting $2.98 hourly or $190.72 per week. The present rate is $2.38-hour week. Present pay for...

What factors figure in the Louisiana offshore splash? Some within the operator segment are worried that not enough time remains to fulfill drilling commitments of 1962 lease sales. One major company analyst estimates that more than a million and a half acres remain to be drilled by late 1967 under all 1962 lease commitments. Offshore rigs, scarce at the time of the big 1962 sales, are scarcer now due to the offshore drilling boom around the world.

DEAR ABBY

It's Up To The Girl

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a girl who is engaged to somebody else. She had already accepted his ring when I met her, but she wasn't wearing it at the time. Not until I had fallen deeply in love with her did she tell me about her engagement because she didn't want to lose me. She says I am the one she loves, but she can't bring herself to hurt her fiancé by breaking off with him right now. I can't see any point in waiting around. Last night she asked me if I would return the ring. I have never met the man, and I don't think I should. My girl says he is a nice person and would do me no violence. I need some advice.

CONFUSED: Your are going to get more advice than you asked for. Your girl should break her own engagement. Furthermore, I hope you realize that you are "in love" with a person who accepted an engagement ring from one man, did not wear it, and encouraged another to fall in love with her. Doesn't this suggest something to you?

DEAR ABBY: I am eleven years old and I need to have a question answered. My mother has the world's best memory and is the world's biggest worrier. Can you tell me why?

CHRISTINA: Myabe she's the world's biggest worrier because she has the world's best memory.

DEAR ABBY: I have an only child who has just turned eight. She isn't spoiled, but she is used to being the center of attention. I just learned that I am going to have another baby and I don't know how to break the news to her. I have kind of hinted around, asking how she would like a baby sister or brother, and she says she does not want one. She is naturally quite a jealous child and becomes very upset when I hold her doll. Can you help me?

TROUBLED: Quit "hinting around" and tell her the truth. More important, when the new baby arrives, don't shove your daughter in the background. Give her plenty of attention entirely alone. Jealousy is natural for all children under the circumstances, but it can be minimized with intelli-

Bean Picking Party Monday

There are always stones, sticks, small clods and other miscellaneous material to be found in dried beans and when there are 200 pounds of such beans on hand, the accumulation of such undesirable litter is large enough to be important. The way to get rid of it is to "pick" the beans.

Jess Slaughter, president of the Howard-Glasscock County Old Settlers Reunion, is staging a big bean picking party Monday morning. Everyone is invited, he stated.

The 200 pounds of beans will be at the Old Settlers Pavilion in the Big Spring City Park at 9 a.m. Volunteers are needed to go through the lot handful by handful and separate the beans from the litter.

The beans will be joined by a ton of barbecued beef, a stack of barbecued goat, and other goodies Friday at the 40th annual get-together of the old settlers.

"We need help with these beans," pleaded Slaughter. "Come on out to the park and give us a hand."

Bennett House Rounds Out First Year Here

Bennett House, the city's first major venture into nursing home service, this month will round out its first year of operation.

On the whole, according to James Bruce Frazier, president of the B Corporation which owns and administers the 200-bed facility, the operation is moving ahead of schedule.

"We thought when we started our first unit we would be doing well if we had to open the second unit within a year," he said.

Optimists Hear Citizenship Talk

Bob Travis of Texas Electric Service Co. was the speaker at the Big Spring Optimist Club Wednesday in the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. He discussed better citizenship.

Guests at the meeting were Doyle Crick, W. D. O'Donnell, Paul Vaughn, and Allen Simpson. It was announced that there would be a district board meeting in Pampa and vice president Van Perry will represent the Big Spring Club. The club participated in an inter-club visit to Odessa last week to meet with the breakfast club of Odessa. Club President Don Wiley attended a meeting of all zone presidents in Odessa last Saturday to map plans for the coming year.

Plans are under way to challenge the Lamesa club to a softball game.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Quote of the day:

Jesse Hyde Sr., who recently walked the 200 miles from Birmingham to Buffalo, and now has started the trek home, explained how he stays fit at age 73: "Watch what you eat, exercise, get enough rest and maintain a proper mental attitude."

One reason for referrals, says Frazier, is that the home offers rehabilitation services (it has 14 cases referred by the State Rehabilitation Agency), and other special services such as for the senile terminal residents who are housed pretty much in a separate wing.

AGES VARY

Age of residents varies from four years to 97. Length of residence also varies widely, from vacation to permanent care and as expected, turnover is rather steady. If a person stays as much as three months, however, he or she likely will decide to make the center a permanent home. Some elderly couples have closed their own homes and moved to Bennett House.

FORMALLY OPENS

Bennett House was formally opened July 28, 1963 at an approximate cost of $500,000. It has, in addition, a laundry plant, which may have to go on shifts to handle its load; a dental clinic; a beauty shop; a repair and maintenance shop; air conditioning and other mechanical facilities. Officers of the corporation are Frazier, his wife, Jimmie, and his mother, Mrs. Neil Frazier. It's been a busy year for them, but they feel that their dream of a truly modern nursing home is daily gaining ground.

more substance and stamina. Meanwhile, the man who may have started it all—Shine Phillips—is still around. When the venerable druggist suffered a disabling stroke and had to go out of town for adequate care, Frazier began to think how it would be possible to bring his old employer back. Bennett House was the ultimate answer, and Shine was welcomed to the center the day before it had its formal opening. He's the old homesteader now as the operation enters its second year.
