House's SS Bill Faced By Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-passed bill to increase Social Security benefits headed today into a Senate fight to add it to controversial health care provisions.

The House passed the measure Wednesday, 288 to 8, without the hospitalization features for which President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy had pleaded.

The measure as it stands would give a 5 per cent raise to the 20 million Social Security re-trees and admit more than half a million more persons to the rolls.

Here are a few examples of the proposed increases:

A retired worker now getting $40 monthly would get $42, one now getting $105 would get $110.30 and one now getting $127 would get $143.40.

UP TO $63

A man and his wife now getting $60 would get $63, a couple getting $137.50 would get $145.50 and a couple now getting $190.50 would get $200.10.

Senate supporters of the administration plan, however, were already at work on amendments to write into the measure a cut-down version of the hospitalization proposal, possibly as a voluntary option for some or all of the cash increases provided.

The proposals have not been put in final form. Similar moves earlier this year by the House supporters were abandoned in the face of certain defeat by the Ways and Means Committee.

Any such provisions are sure to meet stiff opposition and might block final passage of the bill this year, especially since Congress is driving to adjourn before the Democratic National Convention begins Aug. 24.

NEW SCALE

As passed by the House, the bill would increase Social Security payments about $25 million annually by setting a new scale of $42 to $133.40 for a single worker, up to $281.20 for a family with dependent children. The maximums would go up in future years, as high as $300 for a family.

The bill also would step up the Social Security tax paid by employers and employees, in part by increasing from $4,800 to $5,400 the wage base on which they are levied. The increase would amount to $31.20 each next year.

The bills would also add about 600,000 aged persons to the beneficiary rolls by relaxing coverage requirements for the benefit of persons, mostly widows, 72 and older.

It would also extend children's benefits to age 22 for surviving children who continue their education and would bring under Social Security coverage self-employed doctors of medicine and interns.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four of the eight congressmen opposing increased social security benefits were Texans.

The House passed the measure to boost benefits $1,500,000,000 by a 388 to 8 vote Wednesday. It now goes to the Senate.

Voting against the bill were Texas Reps. Ed Foreman, J. J. Pickle, Joe Poole and Walter Rogers.

Heavy Battle Erupts In Cong Ambush

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army officer was reported killed in a major Viet Cong ambush of a government battalion north of Saigon before dawn today. Government casualties were reported "extremely heavy," reliable sources said.

An American spokesman declined immediate comment but acknowledged that a major action had taken place.

If the American death is confirmed, it will be the fifth in South Viet Nam in the past three days and the 164th in action since December 1961.

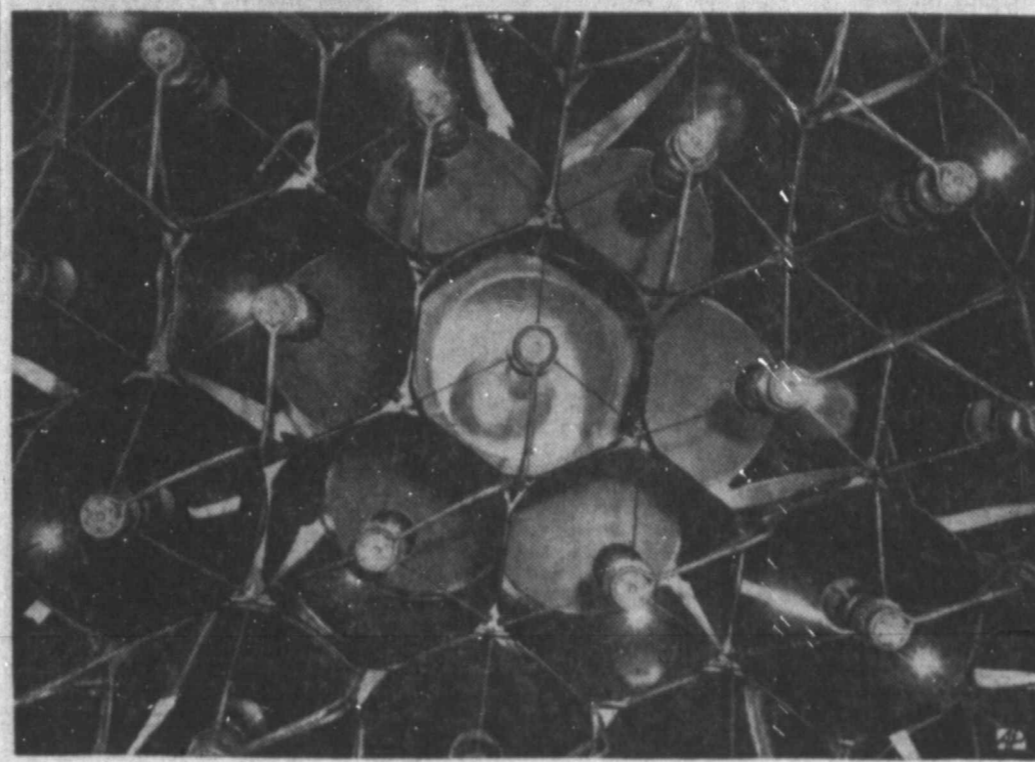

The Viet Cong ambushed a government unit moving from the regimental headquarters of Ben Suc to Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon, to begin an early morning operation.

Scattered action has been continuing in the Ben Cat region for three days, and the operation today was apparently planned to rout guerrillas still in the area.

However, the guerrillas moved first, ambushing the long line of convoy vehicles and inflicting heavy casualties before melting back into the jungle. Government pursuit forces were sent in but no contact was made.

In Saigon, combat engineers removed statues and inscriptions from the French war memorial which Vietnamese students had partially wrecked in a demonstration Tuesday night against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize South Viet Nam.

By removing all traces of France from the monument's shaft, the South Vietnamese government apparently hoped to forestall further student demonstrations.

Scientists Grow Confident As Ranger Whizzes Along

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists watched with growing elation today as Ranger 7 sailed peacefully through space with a cargo of cameras now given an 80 per cent chance of snapping history's first closeups of the moon.

Radioed information indicated all instruments aboard the 806-pound vehicle were in normal condition, including the television system designed to go into action just before impact at 8:25 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday.

There was no threat so far of technical troubles that foiled six previous Ranger shots.

Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory which made and is guiding Ranger 7 on its 228,000-mile voyage, says the insect-shaped spacecraft has passed the worst of its hurdles and has a four-out-of-five chance of success.

He upped the odds from 50-50 Wednesday after a minor trajectory adjustment 100,000 miles out in space aimed Ranger 7 at a 50-by-300-mile area in the Sea of Clouds, just southwest of the center of the moon.

Ranger 7 now is cruising while scientists determine whether one final correction must be made before the spacecraft plunges into the moon at 5,800 miles an hour.

Its six cameras, peering out a hole in the side of its cone-shaped body, must be pointed straight down when they begin snapping 4,000 pictures in the final 13 minutes of flight.

Pickering said the Sea of Clouds was chosen as a target because it is in the half of the moon that will be lit by the sun at time of impact.

Walker's Libel Award Reduced

FORT WORTH (AP) — District Court Judge Charles Murray today reduced former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker's jury award in his libel suit against The Associated Press from $500,000 to $500,000.

The judge also ruled that the Associated Press was not acted upon by malice in writing about Walker's activities on the University of Mississippi campus. The jury said The Associated Press was.

BELOW BILLION

Federal Jobs — For the first time since the Korean War, Defense Department civilian employees number below the one-million mark. Johnson said the figure stood at 997,864 on July 1 — about 6,000 below the goal for that date. He credited reductions chiefly to closing military bases, improving productivity and reducing the hiring of foreign nationals.

Civil Rights—Asked about the declaration of six civil rights leaders calling for a halt to racial demonstrations, Johnson said that "I would not argue with anyone who chose to pursue a policy of registration rather than demonstration." He called for all citizens to seek observance of the civil rights law and voiced hope that they would do nothing to incite or inflame passions.

The President was sitting behind his desk in his oval office when press secretary George Reedy called newsmen in.

Johnson said he had a number of things he wanted to relay, he was rather busy, and running behind schedule, but thought he should offer what he had to reporters.

He raced through statements on various subjects, then offered to answer questions. The first one was about a report that he would decide on a vice-presidential nominee by mid-August.

"I know of no such reports," Johnson said.

NO AUTHORIZATION

Told that they had appeared in the New York Herald-Tribune, Johnson said he hadn't seen the story, talked with its author, or authorized anyone else to do so.

To another query as to whether he had reached a decision, Johnson replied with a firm: "No."

He said that "when I feel something like that coming on," he would try to give newsmen due notice.

'MADE NO DECISION'

LBJ Lists Qualities, No Names For Veep

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he would want the Democratic vice-presidential nominee to be attractive, prudent and progressive with a passionate consideration for the welfare of the people—but "I've made no decision" on the choice.

The President told a suddenly called news conference: "There are still many people being considered."

He mentioned no names. And in a session ranging over a wide assortment of subjects, Johnson said:

Economy—Economic and financial conditions are bright but his administration still is looking toward the future and giving a close look to heading off any renewed wage-price spiral or any slowdown of the economy. He conferred on these and kindred matters Wednesday with top government executives.

TEST BAN

Nuclear Tests—A year ago, a nuclear test-ban agreement was signed and now has more than 100 nations adhering to it. But even were it ended tomorrow, Johnson said, we would be "safer than we were before." And he said we now live in a world in which "terror does not govern our waking lives."

OAS—The inter-American system, the President said, "made it abundantly clear that the Hemisphere will not tolerate aggression by subversion," in a final resolution adopted by the Organization of American States.

Defense Contracts — Johnson said efforts are under way to ease the impact of shifts in defense contracts around the country and that government programs and a strong economy are helping. Additional measures may be needed, he said, and the Defense Department is making a survey to pinpoint problems and remedies.

Senator Engle Dies Following Lengthy Illness

Salinger May Get Appointment

Little Rain Was Reported In Howard

State Representative Ed Carpenter, at Vincent, received the heaviest rainfall reported after Wednesday night's threatening clouds hit the Howard County area. He got .50 inch. At Coleman's store in Vincent only a sprinkle fell.

Around Ackerly about .25 inch fell, Keith Bray, vocational agriculture teacher, said. He said that was the most measured in the Sands school district, where he checked.

The Wilson ranch in northeast Howard County received only a sprinkle, as was reported in most of the county. Sprinkles and traces were all that could be found over the Texas Electric Service Co. system in this area.

Heavy clouds, hovering over Big Spring and to the north and east, promised heavy rains late Wednesday night, but showed traces at the Big Spring Experiment Station and other measuring points.

Continued hot weather was forecast through Friday, with widely scattered showers possible.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., 52, forced by illness to abandon a fight for re-election, died early today at his home here.

There was speculation that Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California would name former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger to fill out the remainder of Engle's term.

Salinger won a hot primary battle from State Controller Allan Cranston last June 2 for the Democratic nomination to the Senate.

Despite a brain operation last summer, Engle had announced plans to run for re-election early this year.

But he withdrew after a dramatic episode in the Senate April 13 in which he tried to introduce a resolution and couldn't speak.

Aides privately had arranged for Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., making a prolonged speech on the civil rights bill, to yield to Engle for the resolution. Engle rose to his feet, assisted by two aides, stood silently for an agonizing minute and could utter only one audible sound — "a..."

Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., offered to introduce the resolution for Engle. The California senator nodded consent. After sitting quietly in his chair for a few minutes, he was virtually carried from the floor by his aides.

Facing a second brain operation April 24, Engle dropped his plans to try for a second term in the Senate.

He had been opposed in the primary by both Salinger and Cranston and nine others. Many of his former supporters had contended he was unable to campaign and carry out his Senate duties.

The senator had been bedridden since his second brain operation in April.

But he came to the Senate in a wheel chair last June to cast his vote in favor of the civil rights bill.

Engle's wife, Lucretia, and a physician were with him when he died early this morning.

When the Senate met, Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., announced that the Senate would adjourn out of respect to Engle.

East's Industrial Area Shapes As Battleground

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater appear to be preparing to make the Eastern industrial states a prime battleground in the election campaign.

Johnson signaled his intentions with Wednesday's selection by the Democratic arrangements committee—at the President's suggestion—of liberal Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island as keynote for the party's Atlantic City, N.J., convention which opens Aug. 24.

Goldwater told a news conference in announcing that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania will be host at a GOP summit conference at Hershey, Pa., next month that he intends to campaign in the northeastern states.

"I don't buy the argument that we don't have potential power in New York State," he said.

Johnson's choice of Pastore, an exponent of the administration's advocacy of civil rights and social welfare legislation, to state the party's case seemed likely to jolt further the support for the President in the South.

The arrangements committee countered this by naming Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia, who has predicted the Johnson ticket will carry his state, as chairman of the convention rules committee. This put a Southerner in a key spot.

Pastore, who worked closely with Johnson when the latter was Democratic leader of the Senate, summed up his position this way: "I see eye-to-eye with the President on his program."

Goldwater's choice of Ohio State Chairman Ray Bliss and former national party chairman Leonard W. Hall, a New Yorker, as members of a steering committee that will map strategy, brought two veterans of industrial state politicking near the top of his campaign organization.

Mayfield Leaves State Presidency

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Ray Phagan of Perryton has succeeded Henry Mayfield of Lamesa as president of the sheriff's association of Texas.

Phagan was chosen Wednesday and Odessa was picked for next year's convention.

Earl Franklin of Marshall, Mike Flournoy of Wharton and Cecil Turner of San Angelo were elected vice presidents.

King Asks 'Extremists' To Halt Demonstrating

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said today he hoped that "extremists" would curtail mass demonstrations in their civil rights campaign.

Dr. King made the comment as he went into another of a series of conferences with Mayor Robert F. Wagner on programs to alleviate conditions that led to recent racial riots.

King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was one of a group of Negro leaders who called Wednesday for a moratorium on mass demonstrations until after the presidential election Nov. 3. Some civil rights leaders expressed reservations on the call for a moratorium, however.

The group that met with King issued a statement critical of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, declaring he had injected racism into the campaign.

CLEAR ENOUGH "The senator himself maintains his position that civil rights matters should be left to the states — clear enough language for any Negro American," the statement said.

The Communist party, meanwhile, disavowed any connection with what it called "self-proclaimed Communists" in the Progressive Labor Movement, active in recent Harlem unrest.

Gus Hall, a leading Communist spokesman, said: "These people are not Communists. Their leaders were, in fact, expelled from the party some years ago after a long history of such adventurism."

Civil rights leaders in some cities expressed reservations about the call of the Negro "summit meeting" here for curtailment of mass demonstrations.

The conference members criticized what they called the states rights platform adopted by the Republican National Convention this month in San Francisco.

NO COMMENT

In Washington, press aide William Flythe said Goldwater had no comment.

Urging a shift in tactics, they called for "a broad curtailment, if not total moratorium, of all mass marches, mass picketing and mass demonstrations until after election day" and more emphasis on getting more Negroes registered to vote.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, took pains to make it clear that the "summit" statement should not be interpreted as an endorsement of President Johnson's candidacy.

He also said in answer to a question that the action had not been taken in order to reduce the so-called "white backlash," described as the resentment of whites reacting to mass demonstrations by Negroes.

A spot check by The Associated Press indicated that several civil rights leaders on the local level intend to go ahead with demonstrations when they feel they are required to get results.

IN HARLEM

Jesse Gray, leader of the Harlem rent strikes, said: "We'll continue to have demonstrations in Harlem in spite of what Wilkins says."

Gray's Community Council on Housing is under court injunction forbidding further demonstrations.

The summit statement was signed by Wilkins, Dr. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Whitney M. Young, executive director of the National Urban League; and A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the Negro American Labor Council.

The statement described the Republican national platform as a "states rights" platform authored by "the Goldwater forces."

BULLDOZER MOVES INTO MINE RESCUE WORK
Nine miners reached by three-inch shaft in France

Pilot Hole Taps Miners

CAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Nine men trapped in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France spent their first comfortable night in three days as rescue teams drilled through to their position 300 feet below the surface of Mt. Revel.

Food and wine were lowered to the entombed miners Wednesday along with first aid supplies for those who were slightly injured by the cave-in Monday. Playing cards went down to help them pass the time.

"We are all fine, but we are going to sleep now," fireman Andre Martine told his daughter Janine shortly after midnight through a microphone lowered through the supply tube.

Above ground it was the third night without sleep for many of the workers who hope to have the men out by the end of the week.

This morning a three-inch oil drill broke through into the mine 300 feet below and the rescuers made preparations to enlarge it into an escape hatch.

Champagnole Mayor Andre Socie said the guide drill had gone through hard, solid rock. He said this would slow up the work but meant the evacuation could be carried out with great safety.

"I place the blame for our present troubles squarely on the leaders. It's what the lying politicians have done and said, not the Negroes."

"The leaders — both white and black — have been more concerned with getting their (Negroes') votes and their money than with telling them the truth," he said. "There has been an awful lot of money lifted from the Negroes in this country for civil rights causes."

"All you hear about is rights, rights, rights. Nobody tells the Negroes responsibilities and duties go along with the rights. I've never seen a parade for duties."

"I place the blame for our present troubles squarely on the leaders. It's what the lying politicians have done and said, not the Negroes."

"This younger generation (of Negroes) has been misled. They have been told if it hadn't been for discrimination they would be in much better positions in the society."

"All we've done is teach them to be unhappy."

Abilene, Points East Swamped By Storms

By The Associated Press

The rains came Wednesday, in drenching amounts up to six inches that brightened the outlook of drought-plagued Texans but also caused some flooding and traffic problems.

Hugh L. Moore of Weatherford was killed during a hard rainstorm north of Lake Worth when his pickup truck overturned. Near by, at the Fort Worth suburb of Haltom City, up to 6.15 inches of rain was recorded.

Two Abilene hospitals called for help when waters rushed into their basements and first floors, and some houses in the West Texas city were waist-deep in water.

Police in canoes rescued two crippled children trapped in rising water at their Phantom Lake home, near Abilene.

WITHOUT POWER

At Texarkana, 400 miles to the east, much of the city was without power during a two-inch downpour that short circuited the system. Three small fires broke out.

A school bus overturned at Woodville, in Southeast Texas on a rain-slick highway, injuring 45 children and six adults but none seriously.

Doctors delivered a baby by flashlight at John Peter Smith Hospital in Fort Worth when power failed during the storm. Some parts of the city received up to three inches of rain.

In most North Texas cities, particularly in Dallas and Fort Worth, water swelled above curbs and underpasses and freeways were clogged with traffic snarls. High winds blew down many trees and, with the rains, knocked out power in many communities.

The rains ended early today. A few resistant weather movements, around Greenville, Weatherford, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells, dissipated before dawn, the Weather Bureau said.

HOT AGAIN

Hot temperatures were predicted again, after the brief cooling rains, and there were chances of more thundershowers everywhere.

The rains greatly relieved the Coahoma Masonic Lodge 992 will have a special meeting Friday evening when P. D. Ausmus, district deputy, will make his official visit. The Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of the Baptist Temple in Big Spring, also will speak.

The affair, said B. C. Bates, worshipful master of the Coahoma lodge, will be at 8 p.m. in the lodge hall. All master Masons and wives, members of the Order of Eastern Star and friends are invited to take part in the covered dish dinner and program.

Spacemobile Visit Planned

Space demonstrations, sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Texas Education Agency, will be presented for students and faculty at Coahoma High School Thursday, Aug. 6.

Phil Wynn, science teacher at the school, said the demonstrations will be presented by Robert Helton, a government employee, who is traveling across the country, introducing people to space science and the nation's space activities.

Helton carries the demonstration equipment on a "Spacemobile." The equipment includes models of launch vehicles and spacecraft, mechanical and electronic devices and other audiovisual materials. These aids are used in demonstrating basic scientific principles and how they apply to the nation's space programs.

For instance, the scientific principles of orbits and propulsion will be discussed, along with brief outlines of the men whose discoveries paved the way for space exploration.

In addition to sponsoring Spacemobile demonstrations in the United States, NASA has agreements with more than 60 nations.

Prior to joining the NASA Spacemobile program, Helton taught high school science and aerionics in Kansas high schools. He is a graduate of Fort Hays State College, Kansas, and Miami University of Ohio.

The center, built by Big Spring contractor Jack Thorpe, was occupied several weeks ago by all businesses except the restaurant, which was held up because of installation of some electrical appliances, and finishing.

Occupants of the center include Village Restaurant, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sellers; Brimberry & Madison, real estate and insurance; Paul's Barber Shop, owned by Paul Darrow; Howell's Dress Shop, owned by Mrs. Geneva Howell; Fred Adams' hardware store; D&S Variety, owned and operated by Mrs. Pat Shields and Mrs. M. P. Dorn Jr.

Off-street parking space has been paved in front of the center, on First Street, and on the north and south ends.

The structure, of concrete tile and face brick, has a covered walkway, or sidewalk, across the front, as a protection from sun and bad weather. Cooling and heating, as well as all appliances, are electric, including refrigerated air conditioning.

Denies Holding Ruby Evidence

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade denied Wednesday that his staff withheld evidence about Jack Ruby's mental condition when the striptease club manager faced a jury on a charge of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald. Defense lawyers said Tuesday Wade should have revealed that Ruby, 33, was treated in an Illinois mental hospital while a boy. They argued that the information was in an FBI report furnished to prosecutors and that it would have bolstered the defense plea of temporary insanity.

Dogs Thrive In Complex World Today

GAITHERSBURG, Md. (AP) — Are the complexities and congestion of man's modern world crowding his best friend out of the picture? Not on your life, says dog expert Alfred Dick, the new executive vice president of the American Kennel Club. "I think dogs are becoming more meaningful, more useful, more necessary for their companionship, the joy that can be anyone's who has a dog," he said. Isn't space becoming a problem? "You have to live in New York to see how valuable dogs are to people who live in small apartments. I have seen the biggest kind of dog come out of the smallest places," he said. Dick spoke on modern dogdom in an interview Wednesday night at the second annual conference of the Professional Handlers Association. It was a gathering of dog owners, handlers, show judges, and association members from 13 states and the District of Columbia. "It has too long been said that to have a dog you should live in the country," said Dick. "Dogs thrive in cities. Every dog I see in the streets of New York is happy. They must have a place in the lives of the people who own them. They have to walk them before work and in the evening, and that takes a lot of doing." Dr. Frank R. Booth, a veterinarian from Elkhart, Ind., offered these statistics: There are 25 million dogs in the United States. This country produces five billion tons of dog food a year. It takes 170,000 tons of steel to package only the canned dog food. Dog foods outsell baby foods and breakfast cereals combined.

Twenty-nine nations participated in the Second World Bridge Olympiad concluded recently in New York City. Every continent was represented including such far away places as the Union of South Africa, Thailand and Republic of China. Even one of the iron curtain nations, Poland, sent a contingent.

Alto form held up pretty well when England, United States, Italy, and Canada ultimately qualified for the semi-finals with the Italians once more emerging as the victors, many of the newer participants made a strong showing and produced some significant upsets.

Among the most recent entrants to the field of international competition is Israel whose maiden performance indicates that her players will be reckoned with from now on. Today's hand was taken from the match held between Sweden and Israel and contributed substantially to the latter's margin of victory.

When the Swedish players held the North-South cards, they reached a small slam contract in clubs and were defeated one trick, declarer losing a trump trick and the ace of spades.

When Israel was seated North and South, the bidding proceeded as indicated in the diagram. South was not inclined to insist on a club contract for, if that suit divided favorably, his chances should be just as good as no trump. In fact, North's suits might develop enough tricks to make a slam even without the clubs.

Against six no trump, West opened the eight of spades. East played the ace and returned a spade to South's king. Declarer could count twelve top tricks—one spade, four hearts, four diamonds and three clubs; however, with the adverse distribution and a slight communication problem, he wasn't in position to cash all of his tricks, without first applying a little pressure to the opposition.

He tested the diamonds first by cashing the ace and queen as East showed out on the second round. The king, queen of hearts came next, and then South played his top clubs. On the third round, West had no safe discard. If he threw a diamond, it would establish dummy's long card. To discard a heart, on the other hand, would enable declarer to overtake his jack with dummy's ace and the six of hearts would become the fulfilling trick.

Texas Tot Locked In Jail As Mom Can't Pay Fine

SHIOCTON, Wis. (AP) — "They gave her clothes and toys. She tried to grab everything, so sometimes they kept the door locked." Such was the description by Stephani Hernandez of the treatment given her 3-year-old daughter Sandra during the four days she and the child spent in jail. The mother was unable to pay a $25 fine for driving without a license. Sheriff Calvin Spice said they had no place to go, no food, no money. Alfred R. Eggart, the county welfare director, said his department had agreed to holding the child in jail. He said Mrs. Hernandez insisted she wanted the child with her. Mrs. Hernandez, 33, of San Antonio, Tex., and her daughter were released Tuesday by Judge Gustave Keller. The mother was then placed on probation.

A Devotional For The Day

My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When shall I come and behold the face of God? (Psalms 42:2. RSV.)
PRAYER: Give us, O God eternal, the blessing of finding Thee in lowly paths of service; for religion is not just a contemplation of Thy face, but the carrying on of Thy passion of love in a ministry of service. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Our Newest Industry

Prestige Aluminum, newest star in our industrial galaxy, is now in production. There is no doubt about its ability to market its output of window and door frames, for already there is a backlog of orders to more than absorb the immediate rated capacity of the plant. This industrial infant is in robust health and has great promise.

Naturally, this is a source of community pride. It is more than that, for the Prestige story is another chapter in the continuing lesson of practical industrial expansion. Issuing as it has, out of the GAMCO-Math Master operations and contacts, it underlines the axiom that one of the best ways to obtain industry is to grow or create it at home. This requires imagination, ingenuity and initiative. This also requires the key ingredient of local venture capital—money from men who are willing to invest in something that not only promises to be profitable but which also has promise of becoming a real community asset.

One of the weaknesses of our industrial efforts in the past has been a disposition to sit and hope for some distant, major concern to pick us out from the thousands of cities in the country as a site for a line of smokestacks. The Lord helps them who help themselves was nowhere more true than on the industrial front.

The payroll and added community resources have their importance but these are secondary to the fact that we have here another institution contributing to the region's and the nation's productivity, which is providing an employment opportunity for more people who want only a chance to show what they can do, and which has every prospect of growing in output and versatility.

Reshaping The Alliance

Outside forces, including the effect of the sanctions against Cuba (with four negative votes) by the Organization of American States as well as the outcome of the November election, could affect the course of the Alliance for Progress.

Regardless of what may come from either or both of these, the Alliance program is undergoing and should continue to undergo basic reorganization. Thomas G. Mann, head of Latin American affairs for the State Department, is plugging for no lessening of support of the program on the grounds that funds are desperately needed for hemispheric development. He is quietly shaping some changes which promise to overcome some of the crippling mistakes in formative years and to obtain better use of funds while enlisting broader support for Alliance goals in Latin America.

The Alliance for Progress' Inter-American Committee, meeting recently in Mexico, approved a plan to make that committee the central agency for guiding regional development. Under the plan, it would continually evaluate each country's cooperative effort and recommend dispersal of U.S. aid and international credits as performance justifies.

That new approach would aim at making the Alliance a genuine partnership in which Latin America would have a decisive voice in the policies and actions affecting its own future. Experience over the past three years argues that this is necessary to make the most effective use of U.S. aid and to encourage Latin Americans to greater self-help efforts.

Equally important to the Alliance's eventual success is the Inter-American Committee's decision to shift more emphasis from aid to the promotion of trade that will stimulate the accumulation of both domestic and foreign investment required for sustained economic development. Ultimately trade must be relied upon both to replace aid and repay the credits now being extended.

Allies Fail Us In Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON — Many high officials and several newspapers in Europe have begun to meddle in American political affairs as they take sides publicly on the attitude of the presidential candidates on questions of only a smokescreen to divert attention from the tragic manner in which Great Britain and France have failed to back up the United States in Southeast Asia.

SCORES OF American boys are being killed and the lives of many thousands of United States troops in Viet Nam are being endangered by Communist guerrillas who are being supplied arms and ammunition by Red China. Yet the Peiping government has recently been recognized by General de Gaulle of France, while the British continue their diplomatic relations with the Communist Chinese. Instead of joining in a trade and diplomatic embargo, the European governments are seeking increased trade with Red China, which inevitably will help to bolster its economy.

war. President Johnson has again and again expressed the same sentiment.

BUT THE Europeans are concerned lest the United States apply some of its firmness in Europe by insisting that Great Britain and France join an economic and diplomatic embargo not only against Cuba but also against Red China.

It was the Red Chinese who, in the latter part of 1950, entered the Korean war in support of the Communist-inspired aggression there. The Soviet government openly boasted it supplied the arms which were used against the United Nations forces. Talk of general disarmament and of "neutralization" of Laos is, therefore, purposeless as long as aid is given by both the Soviets and Red China to military forces which threaten the independence of smaller nations of the world in Asia, in Africa and in Latin America.

IN CONTRAST, the Organization of American States in this hemisphere has just decided on diplomatic and economic measures designed to isolate Communist Cuba. This is the kind of international co-operation which could change the whole course of the "cold war" if the European governments wholeheartedly joined such an effort in Asia.

The European critics are mistaken in their widely publicized fear that the political campaign in this country is related in any important way to possible changes in American foreign policy. There is no essential difference between the viewpoint of the Republican and Democratic parties in their earnest desire to see peace maintained with all nations. But there is discussion in this country as to whether the European type of appeasement—which helped bring on World War II—might, if applied today, result in another world conflict. Senator Goldwater, for example, insists that firmness and resoluteness are vital and that a craven attitude can bring on

THE DEVICE of employing trade boycotts or arms embargoes has been repeatedly suggested to Britain and France, but the businessmen of those countries evidently have enough influence to prevent their respective governments from interfering with money-making even if Americans are being killed in Southeast Asia with arms being supplied by Red China.

The idea of developing trade and diplomatic relations with Red China has the support of some "liberals" in this country, too, but it is basic in the tactics of almost all of the ruling parties in Europe today. This is what is alienating American public opinion. If Senator Goldwater does gain political strength on foreign policy questions, it will be largely due to resentment among the people of the United States over the manner in which Britain and France have isolated themselves from a fundamental principle of American policy—that freedom-loving nations should make every sacrifice to present a United Front against Communist aggression.

Billy Graham

I am puzzled by the Bible verse which says that Christ was made perfect through suffering. Please explain.

D. F.
That verse, found in Hebrews 2:10, does not teach that Jesus was imperfect in the moral sense. He was the sinless Son of God, and the only being ever to walk on the earth of whom it could be said that there was no sin in Him. The Bible, in this place, teaches that the sufferings of Christ were essential to His saving work on our behalf. Without suffering, He would never have been the Saviour, for we are not saved by His life and teachings . . . we are saved by His death.

The word "perfect" has confused many people. In the Bible sense, it means maturity or completion. It does not mean what our present day definition of the word means. That is why we can believe that Jesus was morally without any fault from the beginning, otherwise He would have needed salvation. But in this case, the Sinless One became sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him.

Presidential Debate Still An Uncertainty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The day after John F. Kennedy squeaked through to victory in the 1960 elections his brother and campaign manager, Robert F. Kennedy, said it couldn't have happened if Vice President Richard M. Nixon hadn't agreed to those four debates on nationwide television and radio.

The next day President-elect Kennedy said the same thing.

A few months later the delegates to the Republican National Convention in 1960 were polled by the Indianapolis News which asked what they thought had caused Nixon's defeat. The consensus of 780 of the 1,331 delegates was that the big mistake was Nixon's debates with Kennedy.

MUCH LATER President Kennedy said he would debate his Republican opponent in 1964. But by then Kennedy had enormously built up his popular support. President Johnson, in office only a little more than eight months, is still trying to build up his.

The lesson of 1960 can hardly be lost on Johnson, a man who figures the angles. Only this week it became known he is thinking of making few barnstorming trips in this year's campaign, explaining to his Cabinet how highly successful President Roosevelt was in the 1936 and 1940 elections when he tightly limited his electioneering.

It's no wonder he hasn't responded yet to Sen. Barry Goldwater's challenge to debate in front of the nation or that his press secretary, George Reedy, told newsmen Wednesday such a debate is not a matter the Democrats would consider until the campaign begins next September.

Friends And Diets Conflict

NEW YORK (AP) — So far as I know, science has never undertaken a study of the relations between dieting and friendship.

Well, there is quite a relationship, and it boils down to this: No matter what he does, a fat man cannot please his buddies.

Suppose you are named Alfred, and you are over 400 pounds of fat, and you weigh a pudgy 217 pounds. Let us suppose you are also tired of having lifelong friends prod fingers into your bulging stomach and saying:

"What is that—a watermelon or a conference room?"

"DON'T YOU get tired of carrying it around all day?"

"Alf, all that blubber is making you old before your time."

"Alf, if you won't take that pot off for the sake of your own health, take off for the sake of all the friends who love you. We don't want to lose you."

Well, this last flattering appeal strikes home to the heart. After all, who wants to let his old pals down? Nobody.

So you bravely announce you are going on a diet and slim down. Immediately your friends surround you with glad cries and helpful suggestions.

"Alf, I'm proud of you."

"Alf, you'll feel like a new man."

"ALF, TRY eating nothing but whipped cream and cole slaw for a week. I guarantee it."

"Alf, eat a quart of dry bran for breakfast, a hardboiled egg for lunch, and a pickled pomegranate for dinner."

So in a month you take off 15 pounds and are down to 202. You are rather proud of yourself, but when you meet old friends they say things like:

"It looks like you're putting it on again, Alf. I thought you said you were going on a diet."

"What do you mean you lost 15 pounds? Where?"

THIS MAKES YOU angry. You really buckle down. You cut out the pickled pomegranate and the whipped cream. You concentrate on the hardboiled egg, the cole slaw, and the bran. You strain the can of sauerkraut juice through an even older piece of old lace to be sure to get rid of every possible calorie.

You join a gym club. You take steam baths. You work out twice daily with barbells.

At the end of three months of this you can lift a 100-lb. weight overhead with either hand. Your stomach is ridged and hard like a washboard. And you are down to a trim 172 pounds, just what you weighed when you played substitute halfback in college.

So when you bump into those lifelong friends you expect a chorus of congratulations. But what happens? You have done an unforgetable thing—you have become slimmer than they are.

THEY CAN no longer feel smugly sorry for you in the old way. So they have to find a new way to feel sorry for you.

So they say things like:

"Alf, you look so haggard I hardly recognized you."

"Gee, kid, I didn't know you'd been sick. Why didn't you let me know. I'd have sent you a get-well card."

"You seem tensed up, Alf. Whatever happened to that old bubbly sense of humor you used to have?"

The best thing to do then is to kick their feet out from under them, step firmly on their jealous, mushy-mouthed faces—then celebrate by going into the nearest drugstore and ordering a double chocolate malted milk, extra thick.

Around The Rim

Well, Now, Not Every Year

Although the voice on the other end of the line was cheery, there was an underlying sombre note. He told me that he was with the Internal Revenue Service and had been assigned to check my income tax return.

This happens to Americans every day and I suppose most all come out unscathed. But it was my first time to be checked and all manner of doubts flashed through my mind. I had several days before I had to report, and each day I worried a little more about every figure listed in my return.

DID I DEDUCT that popsize purchased while on vacation as a business expense or not? Would he allow it? And what about the 30 cents interest from the bank for our savings account? Did I forget to put it on the return?

Every night, I checked over the figures of my tax return, adding columns of figures while my good wife Joyce searched the closets and vanity drawers for lost receipts and check stubs. I kept wondering if he would accept notations on the backs of used envelopes as bona fide receipts. And through it all, my Darling Daughter discovered the adding machine tape made an excellent toy, making spaghetti out of a carefully prepared list of gasoline purchases.

FINALLY, everything was shipshape—or so we thought. I bundled all the tickets and accounting forms into a truck and hauled them down to the examiner's office. The fellows there were friendly, and pretended not to notice the cold sweat on my forehead or my shaking hands. No one said a thing when I lit two cigarettes at the same time.

I answered the questions as best I could and searched frantically for receipts when called for. Finally, he suggested I could go back to work and he would search for the tickets and lost figures. I suspect he figured I was far too nervous to be of any help.

LATER IN the day, he called to say I could pick up my accounting forms. And when I arrived, he had a few notes for me to look over. Sure enough, he had found a couple of items. Alas, I owed the government some money. My return was inaccurate. As he pointed out the errors, I was seeing the gates of Fort Leavenworth opening up in the back of my mind. It was difficult to keep my mind on the figures he was pointing out.

Sure enough, he was right; I had made an error or two. As nonchalantly as possible, I glanced over my shoulder at the door to see if they had already locked it to prevent my escape. It looked clear.

BUT HE POINTED out that I would merely pay the amount of tax I owed, plus interest, and that would be all there is to it. I was so elated to escape the clutches of the warden at federal prison, I barely noticed how much I had to pay.

All in all, the visit to the examiner's office was educational and not at all as I expected. Actually, they have no rack or cat o' nine tails, and the examiners are merely matter of fact in checking over the tax return and its figures. Near as I could tell, the examiner was not trying to discover a discrepancy; but merely checking to be sure everything was in proper order.

THE PERSONNEL of the office is more polite than in many retail stores, and certainly more helpful. Although I had to cough up some taxes, the error was mine and should not have escaped the careful checks we had made in preparing the return.

I wouldn't mind going back every year—well, make it every other year or so.
—V. GLENN COOTES

Think Machines Not Yet Here

WASHINGTON — In an earlier incarnation we undertook to teach a Univac computer to pick horses, or more specifically to pick horses that would win races.

Toutwise the machine laid an egg. It turned out to be a pure chalk player, which, if you have ever played horses, you know is as dependable a method of going broke as has been devised in 4,000 years of recorded history.

IT COMES to pass, however, that computers are very big in the business of winning elections. The first time they were used to any degree was in 1960, when Mr. Kennedy's sorcerers employed them in an attempt to solve some of the knotty problems confronting him. A great deal of baloney has since been written about the use of the electronic wizards in political enterprises, notably "The 480," a novel by Eugene Burdick.

THE 480 are the 480 categories into which American voters are arranged by the people who program computers to probe the country's political psyche. One of the 480, for example, might be a white, male, unmarried Protestant, age 25, from the urban Northeast. The theory of the popular literature is that the machines, aided by superhuman and perhaps faintly diabolical manipulators, can tell how Americans will react to issues and candidates. With this information, of course, a shrewd politician could tailor his pitch to the prevailing breezes with an accuracy not heretofore possible.

THE FACTS—and a dry, largely incomprehensible set of facts they turn out to be—found in a soon-to-be published book, "Candidates, Issues, and Strategies—A Computer Simulation of the 1960 Presidential Election" (the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Press).

The report frankly undertakes to correct the "lurid fantasies" that have understandably flourished in the wake of this infant black art.

IT WOULD make it impossible for the man of principle to survive in politics, for it would quickly reduce political candidacy to a squalid contest to see which oily blatherskite could best appeal to the mess of half-truth, suspicion, bigotry, prejudice and emotion which in the average boob voter passes for informed opinion.

It is argued that this has already taken place, that the shrewd journeyman political hack already does this by virtue of crude (and generally grossly inaccurate) polls and by the exercise of the jungle instinct. At best this is a half-truth. The candidate can never be certain when a mass onset of good sense will afflict the electorate, nor when the aroma of Gorgonzola surrounding his political philosophy will become so overpowering that even the veriest clopdate voter can smell it.

IF THE DAY of the political computer is really here, a candidate would not need to be guided by moral considerations, ethics or any other manifestation of wisdom.

Rule by thinking machines is an old science-fiction nightmare, but it still seems to be a comfortable distance from reality.

Dodd As LBJ's Running Mate

WASHINGTON — "Dodd is my copilot," was the derisive quip some two years ago when Moise Tshombe, the West's best African, attempted to come to this country for some speechmaking and was stiff-armed by the State Department. But now Tshombe is the Congo Prime Minister, and there's an incipient boom to make his American sponsor, Senator Tom Dodd (D., Conn.), co-pilot on the Democratic ticket, as running mate with President Johnson.

THERE ISN'T any single incident that has put the stormy, white-crested New Englander into orbit. It's Dodd's whole record in House and Senate, as well as a political pedigree that looks better every day with the approach of next month's Democratic Convention. Dodd has taken conspicuous positions on just about every controversial issue of the 1950's and 60's, and he's always been proved right by the events of history.

BESIDES, he is the one Northern Democrat who anticipated or complemented Senator Goldwater's anti-Communist positions at home and abroad. Dodd would cancel nearly every advantage of Congressman Bill Miller, Goldwater's running mate. Both are Eastern, both are Catholic, both are orators, both helped prosecute the Nazi war criminals, both are anti-Red extremists and both have attractive young families.

IN ADDITION, Dodd would give the President the chance to make an early start at founding a Johnson Administration, without any Kennedys, without any peace-bongers and tired Liberal blood that runs in the veins of Hubert Humphrey and Adlai Stevenson. In Dodd the President would get a teammate who has been so strong for internal security that we might see a mad rush by State Department security risks to scurry down the wharves and jump into the Potomac.

I WOULDN'T be surprised if a computer would show Tom Dodd to have more of the top attributes for the national ticket than any Democrat in town. His Civil Rights record is pluperfect, and he shoots in the upper 90's on all domestic ratings by the Americans For Democratic Action. But he proves that a Liberal can be a popular anti-Communist. Dodd called Castro a Red when Fidel was a two-party Robin Hood.

WHAT WILL the Democrats be worrying about in the autumn campaign? If it's "crime in the streets," Dodd had a bill to prevent mail-order gun sales long before the Dallas tragedy. If it's juvenile delinquency, he has been at war for years against TV violence programs and the drug traffic. If it's race riots by either race, he has sulphurous opinions, privately but frequently expressed, against governors, mayors and police chiefs who can't keep order in their communities. He's given me his one-word prescription for the indispensable ingredient of political leadership: "Nerve!"

All of this makes Dodd a Johnsonian "can-do" man. A Johnson-Dodd ticket would be a dramatic shift into conservative territory.

Penicillin Should Not Be Used Promiscuously

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: At 18 months my daughter had an infection of penicillin, and in a few days her legs and feet were very swollen.

Is there any sure test to prove that she is allergic to this drug? Also I understand that this drug is in measles vaccine. Should she have it? — MRS. R.A.B.

THIS is a gratifying letter to receive because it shows that some people are aware penicillin MAY cause an allergic reaction.

Most of the time the drug doesn't, of course. Just as the majority of us do NOT have hay fever. But some of us DO.

I hope we are past the time when people demand "a shot of penicillin" for just about any old ailment or discomfort, from colds to upset stomachs. Too many persons have been sensitized by the promiscuous use of penicillin.

The drug is, and perhaps always will be, a very useful antibiotic. But it has to be given with reasonable regard for the fact that some people will be allergic to it.

Can you make tests to see whether a certain patient is sensitive to it? Yes. The simplest one is to inject a very small amount of diluted penicillin between the layers of the skin (called an "intradermal injection") and note whether a wheal, or reddish, rashy spot results there. More sophisticated tests can be made, but for practical purposes this one gives a very good idea.

Stunning Blonde New Miss USA

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The new Miss USA, a math whiz once serenaded by television star Ricky Nelson, competes tonight against beauties of 58 nations for the Miss Universe crown.

She is blue-eyed, blonde Bobbi Johnson, a stunning 19-year-old from Washington, D.C.

She probably is one of the calmest beauty winners on record. Eight thousand people watched her step smoothly from the line of 15 semifinalists and receive the Miss USA crown without a tear.

Bobbi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duane B. Johnson, kissed her backstage, told her she had had some "tough competition," then set about congratulating the winners.

Tall Diane Balloun, Houston, Texas, first runnerup; Patricia Marlin, Fairbanks, Alaska, second; Janet Joy Erickson, Salt Lake City, third; and Johana Ruth Reid, Paducah, Ky.

The winner's eye-catching dimensions, 35-23-35, are more than skin deep. Bobbi is a National Science Foundation scholar and attended the University of Kansas last year as an honors program mathematics major. She wants to program electronic computers.

One of Bobbi's most talked about experiences is her serenade from Ricky Nelson, singing son of Ozzie and Harriet.

"He crowned me Kansas City Auto Show Queen of 1963. He kissed me and he serenaded me," she said hesitantly. "He was very nice."

Jury Given Extension At Pasadena

HOUSTON (AP) — The grand jury investigating suburban Pasadena's fiscal affairs has been granted a 90-day extension and its foreman indicates some indictments will result from the probe.

"I am satisfied there will be some indictments but I am not in a position to say anything further," Kraus Earhart, grand jury foreman, said Wednesday at a news conference shortly after Dist. Judge Wendell A. Odom granted the extension.

Earhart said the jury will investigate alleged tax irregularities in the City of Houston's tax department during its hold-over period.

The jury will finish regular business Friday and then take a two-week vacation before it begins holdover activity tentatively set for Aug. 18. It will hold weekly sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Earhart said the jury decided to ask to be held over after it heard considerable evidence concerning city government in Pasadena.

Earlier Wednesday, the grand jury heard testimony from N. A. Smith, Pasadena attorney, and Jesse R. Lovelace, a Pasadena contractor. Earhart did not comment on their testimony.

A former Pasadena mayor, Comer Whitaker, testified May 28 that Smith had received paybacks from Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith amounting to about $60,000. The firm is Pasadena's bond agent.

Whitaker made the statement at a court of inquiry. Smith later refused to take the witness stand in the court of inquiry and was found in contempt by Justice of the Peace Dave E. Thompson.

Smith was jailed for a night and is now free on $500 bond pending appeal to the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Federal Suits Attack 15 Tuscaloosa Restaurants

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — far on two tests of the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act, signed by President Johnson less than four weeks ago.

The action, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Birmingham, charged that owners and managers of the 15 places have violated the law by refusing to serve Negroes.

Earlier Wednesday, Negro attorneys in South Carolina filed suits against two Orangeburg movie houses. The lawyers charged that Negroes were turned away from ticket windows where whites were accommodated.

The Tuscaloosa suit demanded that restaurants and lunch counters in the University city be forbidden to discriminate against Negroes. It also requested a preliminary injunction against the defendants.

There was no immediate ruling. Court sources said a hearing would not be held until October because of a crowded court docket for the three federal judges in Birmingham.

The suit covers virtually every sizable restaurant and lunch counter in Tuscaloosa, except a hotel restaurant and a cafeteria that dropped their racial barriers after the law took effect.

In the suit, Kennedy is resorting for the first time to a provision of the Civil Rights Act which permits him, rather than private individuals, to initiate a suit when he finds a "pattern or practice" of discrimination. It also marks the fourth major legal test of the controversial public accommodations section.

There have been rulings so the law.

Soviet Still Won't Ante Up For Missions Of U.N.

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today the Soviet Union apparently is sticking to its decision not to pay the $52.6 million it owes for U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Thant discussed the matter Tuesday and Wednesday with Premier Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. "I did not get the impression that the Soviet government is prepared to change its policy on this matter," Thant said.

He said his talks had covered wide ground — the future of the United Nations, the financial situation, disarmament, Southeast Asia and the Caribbean.

"Mr. Khrushchev is sincere in his desire to strengthen the United Nations. He wants to see it develop into an effective instrument for the maintenance of peace. But his approach to the problem is different from that of some other member states," Thant said.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia has sent a stiff note to the U.S. government on the Senate's approval of legislation repudiating the Australian-American meat agreement.

Informed sources said the note pointed out that cancellation of the agreement would have a potentially serious effect on relations between the United States and Australia.

The legislation, which now is awaiting action by the House of Representatives, would reduce quotas on imports of beef and other meats to counter a decline in prices of domestic products.

LONDON (AP) — The House of Commons sat all night for its longest session of this Parliament. The session lasted 18 hours and 26 minutes, four minutes short of the longest sitting in the past 10 years. Only 12 members were still in the House when it adjourned at 8:40 a.m.

The debate officially was on what to do with public funds set up by George III in 1787. By tradition it is the one occasion when members can talk on any subject they wish.

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Hayato Ikeda told the new U.S. high commissioner to the Ryukyu Islands today that Japan has no objection to U.S. military bases on Okinawa because they "are an important element in maintaining world peace."

But both Ikeda and Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shina stressed to Lt. Gen. Albert Watson II that Japan feels the United States should grant the Okinawans more autonomy in civil affairs.

Bouton Shellacks Los Angeles, 5-0

By The Associated Press
Jim Bouton, who made baseball news last winter by demanding a 100 per cent pay raise — and was refused — continues his mastery of the pesky Los Angeles Angels.
Bouton, the New York Yankees' determined pre-season hold-out, stopped Los Angeles 5-0 on four hits Wednesday night, extending his scoreless inning string over the Angels to 37.
The victory was Bouton's 11th against eight defeats, making him the second biggest winner for the American League leaders. Whitey Ford is the biggest with 12.
The 25-year-old right-hander wasn't in much of a mood to do any winning for the Yankees during their contract hassle in March.

Bouton, remaining at home in New Jersey, wanted a 100 per cent increase in salary to $20,000 for his 21-7 performance in 1963. New York offered a top figure of $18,000.
Then, General Manager Ralph Houk issued Bouton an ultimatum: Either he report to spring training camp or have $100 per day lifted from his pay.
Finding no other way out, Bouton gave in.
All of the hits off him Wednesday night were singles and he let only one Angel past first base.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore outlasted Minnesota 4-3, Detroit nipped Chicago 3-2, Boston edged Kansas City 3-2 and Washington downed Cleveland 4-1 in 12 innings.
The Yankees grabbed a 3-0 lead against starter Bo Belinsky, with two runs scoring in the second on Jim Fregosi's two-base throwing error and Clete Boyer's sacrifice fly and another coming home on Mickey Mantle's single in the third. Elston Howard drove in the last two with a bases-loaded single in the seventh.
The Orioles remained one game behind the Yankees in the AL race. Homers by Sam Bowens, with one on in the third, and Norm Siebern, none on in the seventh, supported clutch relief pitching by Harvey Haddix and Stu Miller. Harmon Killebrew slammed his 35th homer, a two-run blast, in the fourth.
Detroit came from behind on Gato Soto's eighth-inning two-run homer off Frank Baumann, who replaced starter Ray Herbert after Al Kaline singled with one out. Until that inning, Herbert had a four-hitter. Norm Cash homered for the Tigers in the seventh while Gerry McNertney connected for Chicago in the top of the inning.
Don Lock drove in all of the Senators' runs in their 12-inning victory. He homered in the sixth, then crashed a three-run blast off Gary Bell in the 12th.

The Roundtable

DR. FRED HOVDE, president of Purdue University, one of the two Big Ten schools never to have played in the Rose Bowl: "All the other presidents in the conference have told me what a king-sized headache the Rose Bowl game is. But I'd like to find out firsthand."

Boxer TONY GALENTO reminiscing: "I coulda busted JOE LOUIS up real good if my manager woulda let me go out here and hit him all over. You know what I mean, hit him all over and explain later. But him and kick him around and do anything you can do. It's a fight, isn't it?"

TONY GALENTO

Hurdler HAYES JONES, when asked why he prefers racing indoors, replied: "I'm only 5'10" and outdoors everybody's bigger than I am. When I get indoors, though, the spring in the boards and the spring in my legs makes me seven feet tall and I'm bigger than anybody."

GABE PAUL, Cleveland Indians' president, on Houston's new domed stadium: "It will revolutionize baseball; it will open a new area of alibis for the players."

BITSY GRANT, former southern tennis champion: "One day one of those seven-foot guys is going to take up tennis instead of basketball and he'll be everybody else off the court. Think of the advantage he'll have just on the serve and at the net."

BOB PETTIT, St. Louis Hawks' all-pro forward, after a successful U.S. basketball tour of Europe: "Those people thought there was no difference between amateurs and professionals. Now they know."

A. J. FOYT, Indianapolis 500 winner, on the hazards of auto racing: "I know I feel safer on a racetrack with the traffic going in the same direction and good drivers behind the wheels than I do on the Houston expressways."

Kansas City Chief football coach HANK STRAM discussing the possibility of signing basketball's WILT CHAMBERLAIN to a football contract: "I have no reservations about a man going two ways in professional sports if he's 7 feet 1 and weighs 290 pounds. Imagine the advantage he would have over the defensive backs in the AFL. FRED WILLIAMSON of Oakland is the tallest and he's only 6 feet 2."

BARRY GOLDWATER, Republican nominee for President, talking about participation in sports: "There is too much importance placed on winning. It's gotten so you nearly have to be a professional to play anywhere."

CLURE MOSHER, a Miami, Fla., sportscaster, who is going to join a New York station: "I'm going to New York because there are nine times as many people there to hate me. The first thing I'm going to do is blast YOGI BERRA, RALPH HOUK and CASEY STENDEL all in one sentence. Then I'm going out and apply for a license for a submachine gun to protect myself."

Stengel Is Celebrating 74th Birthday Today

NEW YORK (AP) — It would have been impossible to foretell back in 1910 that Charles Dillon Stengel, known to millions of baseball fans today as Casey, would some day become a big league manager, let alone one of the most successful who ever lived.

As a busher in Maysville, Ky., in the Blue Grass League, he was better known as a clown than as a ball player. He wore loud ties with his baseball uniform and he insisted on practicing sliding as he trotted to his position in the outfield.

There was an insane asylum near the park across from the center field fence and the inmates always cheered when they saw him slide. Casey's manager used to tap his head, point to the asylum and say: "It's only a matter of time, Stengel."

Gags and all, Stengel has outlasted all his 1910 contemporaries. As a player, he lasted 15 years and was a star in the 1923 World Series. It was as a manager that he earned undying fame. The Old Professor was 74 years old today, give or take a year and depending on which record book you believe and ev- ery one of his years, 54 in baseball, has been crammed with vibrant living.

CASEY STENDEL
"Baseball will never be the same"

He is completing his third year as manager of the National League doormat New York Mets after having won 10 pennants and seven world championships in 12 years as man-to millions, he has his own special language, his own inimitable mannerisms and his own rules on managing. He has been praised and criticized, gloried and ridiculed.

He has the appearance of a shaggy St. Bernard but is a gentleman of social graces. He has been called a clown, yet he is a bank president.

So much has been written about this man that he has become a baseball legend. He is a natural born comedian but behind his clownishness is a baseball brain second to none in wisdom.

On and off, Stengel has been managing baseball teams since 1926. How much longer he will continue as a manager is problematical. He shrugs off any direct query as to his future with the retort: "Most men my age are dead by now."

He is well fixed financially and at around $100,000 a year, he must be the highest paid manager in the history of the game. But no man is more dedicated to the game.

One thing is certain. Shea Stadium, the Mets, the National League, all of baseball, will never be the same when Casey is gone.

McCovey Is Hero In Giants' Victory

By The Associated Press
You're Dennis Bennett, the Philadelphia Phillies' hard-throwing young left-hander. Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's slugging first baseman is at bat.

Bennett fanned Cepeda in the second inning of Wednesday night's 6-3 Giants' victory over Philadelphia and it led to Willie McCovey. For the Phillies, that meant nothing but trouble.

Cepeda wrenched his right shoulder chasing Bennett's pitches and had to leave the game in the top of the sixth inning. Giant Manager Alvin Dark inserted McCovey, who's been fighting a season-long slump and the move paid off handsomely.

McCovey looked like the same old 203 hitter striking out in the sixth but in the eighth, his two-out double scored Willie Mays with the tying run as the Giants pulled even at 3-3.

Two innings later the Giants had loaded the bases against Phillie relief ace Jack Baldschun. McCovey worked the count full and then rapped a two-run single up the middle putting the Giants on top to stay.

Sharing the hero - roles with McCovey were Juan Marichal, whose four-hitter throttled the Phillies, and Jim Ray Hart, who belted a pair of solo homers to balance circuits by Richie Allen and Ruben Amaro in the early innings.

Elsewhere in the NL, Pittsburgh beat Houston 2-1, St. Louis whipped Chicago 9-1 and Milwaukee turned back Cincinnati 6-2. New York and Los Angeles were rained out.

"You never know about this game," said Dark after McCovey's hits bailed the Giants out and moved San Francisco back within a half-game of the Phillies.

For Marichal, the league's second 15-game winner, it was a strong performance. He retired the last 19 men he faced and didn't allow a hit after the fourth inning.

Roberto Clemente, the NL's leading hitter, raised his average to .345 with two hits and drove in a pair of runs in the Pirates' victory. Bob Friend went the distance for his ninth win in 19 decisions and his hat-removing Jim Pagnaroni, belted a home run.

WILLIE MCCOVEY

Houston's Dick Farrell, who hasn't won in six weeks, lost his seventh against 10 victories.

Farrell became the major leagues' first 10-game winner June 14 and has failed to win 10 starts since then.

St. Louis sent 12 batters up in a seven-run seventh inning to rout the Cubs. The spurge came against Lew Burdette, Bobby Shantz and Lindy McDaniel, all former Cardinals.

Curt Simmons didn't allow a hit for 5 1-3 innings and picked up his 11th victory as the Cardinals won their fifth straight.

The Braves jumped on Joe Nuxhall for five quick runs in the first inning and that was all Tony Cloninger needed to coast to his 10th victory. Joe Torre's two-run double was the key hit in the big inning.

Chico Ruiz, brought up from San Diego last week, drove in both Reds' runs with a single and a double.

The Mets led the Dodgers 3-0 after one inning before rain forced postponement of their game.

Operation Needed To Save Footballer

By The Associated Press
Tom Franckhauser, a 27-year-old defensive back for the Minnesota Vikings, was saved from death by a dramatic emergency operation at Bemidji, Minn. Wednesday night in which the time factor was crucial. He had suffered a brain injury in an afternoon scrimmage.

Franckhauser, who previously played with the Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns, was reported improved, but still in a critical condition after the operation performed by Dr. William DeWeese.

Dr. Kent Olson, a neurosurgeon from Minneapolis called in for consultation, said Franckhauser's condition is "as good as anyone could possibly hope for under the circumstances. In cases like these, of course, you have to worry about complications. But he responds to stimuli and the outlook seems good."

"In these cases it's just a matter of minutes," Dr. Olson continued. "The time factor was crucial in this case and they relieved it in time." He referred to the pressure caused by a broken blood vessel. The injury followed by only three days Sunday night's auto accident that killed two Chicago Bear players, Willie Gailmore and John Farrington.

Franckhauser, a former Purdue University player in his third year with the Vikings, tackled rookie fullback Bill McCawley of North Texas State hard in the scrimmage.

Viking Officials said he got up slowly and said he was all right. He collapsed a few days later and was taken to the hospital when he complained of being dizzy.

Elsewhere, the professional football teams in both the National and American leagues stepped up the tempo of their drills with the opening of the exhibition season only a week hence.

Dial Will Miss Exhibition Games

DALLAS (AP) — Buddy Dial, the wizard pass-receiver obtained by the Dallas Cowboys from Pittsburgh, will sit out the exhibition games this year.

Dial will undergo an operation for a torn thigh muscle in his right leg, probably entering the hospital Saturday.

He came home from the Cowboys training camp because of the injury, which he found called for only a minor operation. But it will keep him out of action for four weeks. However, he expects to be ready to go when the first National Football League game is played Sept. 12.

Dial said he didn't expect missing the pre-season games would be much of a handicap to him in working into the Cowboys team.

The 1964 city golf tournament is slated to begin on the municipal course Saturday with 80 men qualifying to play in one of the five flights. All qualifying rounds had to be played by dark Wednesday and Shorly Gideon, who operates the course for the city, made the pairings early Thursday morning. Bernard Rains, Tommy Wilkerson, Charles Bailey and Marvin Williams will be four men to watch as they will vie in the championship flight for the city title. A year ago, Bailey beat Rains in the finals for the crown. The pairings in each flight, with the qualifying scores in parentheses, are:

Hernandez Will Play

Players Fined For Mistakes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leon Wagner confirmed today that he and three teammates on the Cleveland Indians were fined heavily for base running boners in Wednesday's night 4-1 defeat at the hands of the Washington Senators. Manager Birdie Tebbets, obviously unhappy with the defeat after the Indians blew several scoring opportunities in the 15-inning affair, would neither confirm nor deny that fines were issued. But Wagner said he, Vic Davallilo, Dick Howser and Sam McDowell were fined. "We deserve it and probably should have paid more," Wagner said. Nobody would say how much it will cost them, but one of the four said he had never paid a larger fine in his professional baseball career. Wagner got in trouble over an easy pop fly he hit to right in the sixth inning. Wagner didn't run until Don Lock dropped the ball. Davallilo was forced at second, and the only reason it didn't turn into a double play was that Washington shortstop Ed Brinkman was just as amazed as Tebbets was by Wagner's performance and did not throw the ball right away. Tebbets said Wagner "is too good a ball player to let down the way he did tonight. This is the first time he hasn't given 100 per cent. He is a team man, a leader and a guy who is respected by all his teammates. Wagner said it would not happen again and added "I still think Birdie is the greatest manager in baseball."

Lema Has Become Top-Flight Golfer

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm third on the money-winning list but first on the money-spending list," Champagne Tony Lema told the dour Scots at St. Andrews. Before he had departed the crochety old course beside the Firth of Forth, Champagne Tony had the undemonstrative, golf-worshipping natives in the middle of his overlapping grip. They loved him. They loved his golf and they loved his sparkling personality, which bubbled like his champagne. They christened him the "Jolly Yank."

TONY LEMA

Lema, 30, a tall, good-looking ex-Marine from the little town of San Leandro, Calif., didn't have to win the British Open to establish himself as one of the most exciting figures in modern day golf. It merely embellished the image. Before flying to Scotland, Lema was the hottest player on the American tour. He had won four tournaments—two more than any other player—and had pocketed first prize money in two $100,000 events, the Thunderbird and Cleveland Open. He was pushing Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer for the year's money winning honors and at the same time building up a tremendous fan club with his natural, champagne-like effervescence. The champagne gimmick helped. Tony was playing in the Orange County Open in California in 1962 when he passed some reporters drinking beer. "If I win, I'll spring for champagne," he said. He won, and he did. It's become a trademark. For all his clowning, Tony has proved himself also a craftsman—with the boldness of a pirate and the nerve of a burglar. Lema came into golf without the amateur or early tournament background of most of his rivals. He got a job as a professional's assistant shortly after getting out of the Marines in 1955. He drifted into the tour and survived for a few years with the backing of businessmen friends. A classic swinger who is long off the tee and very accurate with his irons, Lema had five lean seasons, never winning more than $12,000, until his game suddenly jelled in the summer of 1962. Last year he collected $67,112.52. Lema scores long practice sessions and plotting of courses on a notebook, such as Jack Nicklaus does. He just tees the ball up and whales away, accepting the bad with the good. "I learned a long time ago it doesn't help to worry," he says.

Texan Is Ranked As Top Junior

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Match play begins today in the national junior golf tournament with a Texan—Vincent Glowacki of LaMarque—ranking highly. Glowacki was second in the qualifying Wednesday as he posted a 36-hole score of 141. John Miller of San Francisco led with 140. He had a three-under par 68 yesterday while Glowacki, who led the first round with a 69, took a 72 on the second 18.

Coaching School Sees Basketball

RANGER (AP)—The first climax of the Texas eight and six-man coaching school comes tonight when the all-star basketball teams clash. Merle Watson of Lone Oak is coaching the East and F. W. McDonald of Sterling City the West. The six-man all-star football game is Friday night and the eight-man football game is Saturday night.

SOUTH FAVORED

All-Star Game May Be Close

FORT WORTH (AP)—The all-star football game of the Texas Coaching School here Aug. 6 looms as a wide open offensive battle and the crowd ought to love it. The South has such luminaries as Warren McVea and Linus Baer, who scored 75 points between them when they met in a game at San Antonio. The North doesn't boast such highly publicized fellows but it has "deception" written all over its backfield. There are five fine quarterbacks. Fabled Mike Livingston of Dallas South Oak Cliff, Greg Lot of Amarillo, Pat Harkins of Amarillo, Tascosa, Rick White of Dallas Woodrow Wilson and Joel Johnson of Overton will be the men under as the North tries for an upset. Coach Charles Qualls of McKinney, realizing his team will be the underdog, won't be overlooking any tricks from these guys. Granted that it takes more than quarterbacking to win football games and in the case of the North this time, it will take gutsy defense. Stopping either McVea or Baer is considered a virtual impossibility. The North thinks they may be halted sufficiently, with such defensive line stalwarts as mighty A. Z. Drones of San Angelo, Dumas' two-year all-star Jerry Glover, Brownfield's all-star Randy Bishop and Greg Pipes of Fort Worth Paschal. The North defense will be strong at ends, linebacking and in the secondary, where some of those five quarterbacks also earned praise during their high school days. The North has some pretty fair offensive backs and the game might well turn into a scoring bee. Ralph Weaver of Garland, Jim Hagle of Corsicana, Jackie Anderson of Rockwall and Pat Hubbard of Denver City make the running attack fearsome. At least the game should get away from the recent defensive pattern that has seen each of the last five end with two touch-down-to-one decisions, the North taking four of them. In the all-time standings the North holds a 16-10 edge. Three games have wound up as ties. It is indeed unusual that the North should be the underdog this year but the main reasons are McVea and Baer. However, if the North should come to the line of scrimmage with four of those quarterbacks in the backfield at the same time, there might be a different story.

Computers Don't Agree

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The computers have Texas and Pennsylvania schoolboy football teams all confused. One of the electronic devices predicted the Pennsylvania would beat Texas 13-0 in the Big 33 football game here Saturday. Then another one said Texas would win 16-12. Coach Bobby Layne of the Texans takes the last vote—or at least he hopes it's like that. Coach Lefty James of the Pennsylvanians thinks it might be a good omen for him. "Remember that thing picked Gov. Scranton to win the Republican nomination on the fourth ballot," he pointed out. But what made it confusing more than anything else was the fact that the first computation came from feeding many individual statistics of the 66 players into the machine while the second came from gradings by the coaches. Who knows the most about it—the coaches or the players' statistics? It'll be settled Saturday to the satisfaction of 24,000 fans.

Pedro Does Well In Pro Workout

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Pete Pedro, who won fame at West Texas State with his sensational running, is taking up with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League just where he left off. Wednesday night Pedro was a sensation as the rookies played the veterans in the Boston training camp. He had a 40-yard touchdown sprint called back but made two dazzling runs on other occasions for the veterans as they whipped the rookies 33-6. MIDLAND — The Midland Eastern nine beat Big Spring's Newsum Giants Wednesday night, 4-3, in the semi-finals of the District 1 Sophomore League tournament.

Kelso Recalled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels recalled pitcher Bill Kelso from their Hawaii farm club of the Pacific Coast League Wednesday and to make room for him, sent left-hander Bob Meyer on waivers to Kansas City.

End Of Junior's Jant

George Henry Hearn Jr. is taken in tow by his mother as President Johnson is speaking during ceremonies honoring the boy's father. With a lollipop stuck in his mouth, the boy wandered all about the Fish Room as the President spoke at the swear-in of George Henry Hearn of New York City, as a member of the Federal Maritime Commission. Mrs. Hearn finally stopped the roving of her son when he came close enough to grab by the arm. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Cattle Prices Brighter After Senate's Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department offered a mildly optimistic forecast today on cattle prices for the next few months. The prediction came at a time when an administration-opposed but Senate-approved bill to restrict beef imports moved to the House for consideration.

In a report on livestock and meat, the department said fed cattle prices began moving up in mid-June after a decline of nearly a year and a half. It said the recent price gains are expected to hold at least through the summer months.

The Senate-approved bill would impose restrictions on imports of beef, veal and lamb that would hold imports this year 30 per cent below last year. Sponsors, as well as many cattlemen, contend a big increase in imports of meats in recent years had contributed heavily to the sharp decline in cattle prices which started early in 1963.

The administration asserts increased production of cattle in this country was largely responsible for the price setback. It argues that the legislation would embarrass this country in its present Geneva negotiations to get many countries to reduce tariff and other trade barriers. Anyway, it says, exporting countries have voluntarily reduced shipments to the United States.

The report said the recent upturn in prices reflected several actions and developments. They included government buying of beef for welfare programs, sales of beef abroad, action of feeders in selling fed cattle at lighter weights and the voluntary reduction in shipments to this country.

China Diplomacy Builds Confusion

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

Chinese firecrackers sputter and crackle on the world diplomatic stage, and a strange spectacle is unfolding.

Confusing changes in the global picture are in prospect, foretelling new foreign policy problems for the next U.S. administration.

At the center of the spectacle is West Germany, like a ponderous coquette at an international ball. Suitors in both camps eye one another with hostile suspicion.

The Soviet Union and Red China, each in its own way, court Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's regime. President Charles de Gaulle's France, like a jilted swain, is sulking. The United States remains Bonn's favored suitor, but the long-range possibilities could make Washington jumpy.

Premier Khrushchev and Soviet propaganda still vigorously accuse the West German regime of plotting revenge and seeking nuclear arms for nefarious purposes. But Khrushchev now is virtually committed to go to Bonn, probably late this year, to talk with Erhard on a wide assortment of issues. On political issues, such as Berlin, they may make scant progress, but on the economic side the story could be different.

The Red Chinese appear to find unwelcome the notion that Khrushchev might mend his relations with West Germany. French recognition of Peking has increased Red China's interest in Europe. This seems to worry the Kremlin.

Apart from Red Chinese muscle-flexing, there are a number of reasons why the Russians at this stage might want to play ball with West Germany.

Moscow has been restive about French-German cooperation, which reached a point of near-euphoria early in 1963 when Konrad Adenauer still was at the helm in Bonn. The two countries have less in the way of a common policy now. Erhard does not buy the idea of a European policy independent of the United States.

There's a lot of ferment in the West. Often, ideology seems to be sidetracked in the East in favor of old-fashioned power politics in which prospective trade alliances apart.

'Chick-Sant' Merges Hen, Pheasant

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—A part time rancher claims to have crossed a chicken with a pheasant.

The result: the "Mongolian chick-sant."

"I've never heard of such a thing," Edio Delfino, El Dorado County agricultural commissioner, said when told of the mating.

P. N. Bush, 38, a linoleum layer who lives on a 132-acre fowl ranch, said he tried for a year before he got a Mongolian ring-neck pheasant to mate with a certain red hen.

He says three chicks have hatched and he has 48 more eggs.

The chicks have chicken bodies with pheasant markings, he said.

He plans now to switch sexes and try for a red rooster-pheasant hen mating.

Candidate Alleges RFK Payoff For Rights Vote

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Senate candidate M. M. Bullard charged Wednesday night that Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has raised money for the campaign of Rep. Ross Bass, also a Senate candidate, in return for Bass having voted for the civil rights bill.

Gov. Frank Clement is the third candidate in the race for the Democratic nomination to the remaining two years of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's term.

Bullard said reliable sources whom he did not identify, told him "Bass received $30,000 from Kennedy a week ago."

Bullard, a Newport industrialist, said the money was collected in Washington and Boston and got to Tennessee through John J. Hooker Jr., a Nashville attorney whom Bullard described as a close friend of Kennedy.

Several days ago Bullard asked Kennedy to investigate Bass because, Bullard alleged, the congressman had abused his congressional franking privilege in the campaign. At another point in the campaign, Bullard charged that Clement backers were contributing to the Bass campaign.

"Bobby Kennedy has done enough damage to Tennessee by forcing this strong civil rights bill on us—it's even stronger than the late John F. Kennedy wanted," Bullard said. "I'm sure he (Robert Kennedy) made many promises to congressmen to help them out if they got in trouble back home after that bill—and if it's true, it looks like he's fulfilling at least one of his commitments."

Bass and Rep. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn., were the only two members of Tennessee's congressional delegation to vote for the civil rights bill. Bass was not immediately available for comment.

Pros Compete In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — Golf's royalty — and some of its unknowns — tee off today in the first round of the $50,000 Canadian Open.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and defending champion Doug Ford were among the American representatives in the 72-hole event at Montreal's Pinegrove course.

Canadian stars Stan Leonard and George Knudson, South Africa's Gary Player and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez of Puerto Rico were others bidding for the championship slice of $7,500.

Lesser lights including Charlie Coody of Fort Worth, Tex., and Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., who shared qualifying honors Monday, also will be battling the par-71 layout. Coody fired a hole-in-one on the way to his two-under-par 69 in Monday's qualifying round.

Palmer and Nicklaus arrived Wednesday in the midst of a driving thunderstorm but managed to get in a practice round — in the delight of 2,000 enthusiasts. Palmer shot a 71 and Nicklaus a 73.

Dallas Men Look Good

ODESSA (AP) — The father-son combination of Earl and Chip Stewart of Dallas loomed large in the $15,000 Odessa Pro-amateur golf tournament today as the first round opened.

Earl and Chip shot 10-under-par 62 Wednesday as the 104 teams that play in the 72-hole tournament held final tuneup rounds.

Scores ranged from 65 to 68 mostly with the defending champions, Ned Johnson of Dallas and Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, shooting a 65—seven under par over the 6,644-yard Odessa Country Club course.

The pro-amateur has its finest field this year with such stars of the tour as Bobby Nichols, national PGA champion; Doug Sanders and Bo Winger among the top contenders.

Firemen Answer Three Calls

Firemen answered three calls Wednesday.

A motor scooter that developed a leak in the gas tank burned in the 500 block of West Fourth about 8:50 p.m. Firemen said Robert Baker, a youth, is owner of the vehicle. It was a total loss.

A trash fire at 911 San Antonio got out of control about 7:55 p.m., and firemen arrived at 2700 Cindy about 11:30 p.m. only to discover the call was a false alarm.

Sunday Tea To Mark Golden Anniversary

By LUCILLE PICKLE
Sunday will be a big day in the happy lives of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor, who will be honored by their children with a tea to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their wedding. All of their friends are invited to call at the Big Spring Country Club between the hours of 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. No local invitations were sent out.

It was on Aug. 5, 1914 at 10 o'clock in the morning that Bill Taylor, whose family home was a farm near Bowie in Montague County, and pretty blonde Mary Jane Clagett, dressed in a practical blue dress, were married at her parents' home in Archer City. Their romance had begun during their senior year at North Texas State Normal in Denton the last year it was a three year college.

TAUGHT SCHOOL

Following the ceremony the two caught the train to Wichita Falls where they spent their brief honeymoon. Then they went to Montague County where they were the teachers in the two-teacher school. School teaching didn't pay too well and after a year of it he worked briefly in a bookkeeping job in the bank for experience. When he decided to go west, his banker friend gave him a couple of check pads and told him to use them if needed. Somehow Mr. Taylor never had to take this generous offer.

MR. AND MRS. W. F. TAYLOR

It was in Post also that he was ordained a deacon in the Baptist church. When Bryant Link opened a store in Ralls, the Taylors were sent there to operate it. Here the two sons, Wayland and John, were born. Mr. Taylor was the first president of the Rotary Club in Ralls, the club that gained international renown in Rotary circles for having the greatest number of 100 percent members from a membership of 196 (and subsequently had one of the members become international president). Although faced with the depression when it came time to send their children to college, the former teachers—champions of higher education—managed to send all four through to their final degrees. This was in the face of great debt which descended on the company.

Mrs. M. Bucknell Weds W. Boadle In Midland Rites

White, Midland, as matron of honor and L. M. Parker, Big Spring, best man. The couple will reside at 900 Willis St. here, where Boadle is in business as a carpenter and cabinet maker. Mrs. Boadle has been employed as a secretary with the Water and Sewer Department of Midland for the past 14 years.

Baptist Women Meet For Program, Business

The College Baptist Church Women's Missionary Society met Tuesday at the church for a combined business session and Royal Service Program.

Mrs. L. C. Alston, president, conducted the business session during which Mrs. Willis Walker resigned as Sunbeam leader. Mrs. Lloyd Claxton was elected to take her place. The president appointed Mrs. Bill Blalack, Mrs. Gorman Rainey and Mrs. Bob Travis as committee to compile a slate of new officers.

It was announced that Mrs. Blalack and Mrs. Marshall Kuhns will direct a Sunbeam camp at the District VIII Baptist Encampment near Stanton Aug. 11 and that there will be a Big Spring Baptist Association prayer retreat in September.

A report from the community missions chairman included a progress report on giving clothes to the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church for distribution to needy families. The group will also serve refreshments at the Vacation Bible School of the La Fe Baptist Mission next month as part of their community missions program.

The program, entitled "Religious Liberty—A Baptist Heritage," was given by members of the Violet Orr Circle. Mrs. Paul Peterson read the call to prayer, and Mrs. Jack Swearingen, Mrs. Rainey, Mrs. Blalack, Mrs. Cliff Balzer, Mrs. Travis and Mrs. Kuhns participated in the program.

Problems of free exercise of religion in public schools, military groups, minority groups and in planned communities were discussed during the meeting.

Mrs. Balzer, reporter for the group, said that the purpose of the study was to create an understanding of the making of the Baptist heritage in the context of current religious liberty problems.

Twelve members were present along with one guest, Mrs. Richard Tucker.

ALMA PYE has returned to Big Spring and is now associated with the Highland Beauty Shop, 1061 Wood, one block north of Furr's. She is on duty Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Service Men's Wives Fill Slate Vacancies

Replacements were made in the officer slate of the Servicemen's Wives Club which met Wednesday evening in the John H. Lees Service Club.

Mrs. Roy Messer, secretary, has moved to Alabama and was replaced by Mrs. James Fontenot. The vacancy created by Mrs. Albert Thompson's move to Florida was filled by Mrs. Robert Brown who will be the new treasurer.

Mrs. Richard Davis, president, conducted the business session as a nominating committee was elected. Those named were Mrs. Bando Nichols, Mrs. Leslie Carpenter, Mrs. Manuel Falcon and Mrs. Albert Haley.

During the social hour birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. Willard O'Neal, Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Davis. A special prize went to Mrs. Norman Couster, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Haley.

Mrs. Davis reminded members that all airman and NCO wives are invited and encouraged to attend any of the scheduled functions of the club and will be welcomed as members. She pointed out that membership in the club offers wives an opportunity to participate in community projects and provides social activity. The next meeting will be Aug. 5.

Mrs. Elmo Wasson announced that the Team of Four game is set for 1 p.m., Aug. 5, when the Variety Pairs duplicate games were played Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Ayra McGann placed first. Mrs. A. Swartz and Mrs. Wasson tied for second place with Mrs. Edridge Estes and Mrs. Zell Smith.

Players were reminded that the charity game to be held this evening in the Officers' Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

String Belts Seen In Fall Fashions

Skinny strings of leather are a popular method of belting long-jacketed suits and slim coats in fall fashion collections. The belts ride low on the waistline and in most instances are removable.

Ball Brightener . . .

Old dirty golf balls can be cleaned by washing in the washer, using plenty of detergent. They emerge clean and white, assuring the golfer plenty of shag balls for practice.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Have Coffee While Cleaning Fish Bowl

Dear Heloise: If you dislike the daily job of cleaning a gold fish bowl as much as I do, here is a hint which you will love:

When you have your morning coffee, pull a kitchen chair or stool up to the sink and have it there. Put the goldfish bowl in the sink and let a GENTLE stream of cool water run into the center of the bowl.

The water will stir up the stuff on the bottom and float it out over the top of the bowl. This will usually take care of cleaning it except for a good cleaning once a week.

Watch . . . out . . . that the fish do not float over the top of the bowl. And never tap on the outside of the bowl. This might kill the fish. . . Mrs. H. Serretti

Ladies, this is a great idea for those of you who have to take care of your children's goldfish. And what mother doesn't?

I suggest that you take a piece of nylon net and put it over the top of the goldfish bowl, securing it with a rubber band, before pouring in that stream of water! This will keep the goldfish from jumping out. Any kind of net or wire screen will do the job beautifully.

And if you have ever seen a precious fish go down the drain, you will know what I mean. . . It breaks your heart. . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: Instead of sprinkling small items of clothing, here is a time saving idea:

Sprinkle a terry cloth bath towel with warm water and roll it up and let it absorb the moisture for a few minutes, then wrap the towel around the smaller end of your ironing board and pin it underneath.

This acts as a steam press and eliminates the problem of sprinkling and waiting for your clothes to get that perfect damp-dry. . . Barbara Mariano

Dear Heloise: Square plastic dishpans, when kept in bathroom cabinets and closets (or any closet for that matter) are fabulous for storing shampoos, soaps, etc., and suffice for pull-out-like drawers and spills are easily cleaned up! . . . Louise Womack

Dear Heloise: For the mothers of all the little darlings who insist on dismembering rubber dolls . . .

My mother and I discovered in desperation that a drop of oil on the socket of the doll's arm or leg smooths - the works when replacing lost limbs. . . Too smart too late

Dear Heloise: Do you ever take an over-nights trip or spend several days away from home? If so, I find that it makes it easier to pack if I keep a generalized list in my suitcase of all clothing articles I might need on a trip . . .

such as: dresses, slips, sweaters, skirts, underclothing, etc. I also keep a second list of miscellaneous items, such as . . . toiletries, etc.

Such a list makes packing so much quicker and keeps me from leaving something behind which I should have taken with me. . . Jean Peron (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald).

Watermelon Party Held By League

A watermelon party was held by 19 members of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army Wednesday at the City Park. The picnic was held for members and their children.

The next meeting will be Aug. 5 in the Citadel when baby layettes will be made. The clothing will be used for league sales and to give to needy families.

Mrs. N. A. Jones displays canned beauties

Jones Family Lively In Canning Season

By MARY COCHRAN

The fresh vegetable and fruit seasons bring on a big change in the activities at the N. A. Jones home at 3007 Cactus Drive. Family and friends are drafted to help prepare the foods for canning or freezing.

"The crops have not been so good the last two years, and we are getting low on our supplies," said Mrs. Jones. She is not expecting to be able to prepare 800 jars of vegetables and fruits as she has done during the more fruitful years.

Mrs. Donald F. Carlisle, whose husband is in Okinawa, is at home with her parents, the Joneses, at the present time and said she would welcome gathering food stuffs now to replenish the supply.

"When my sister, the present Mrs. Max Moore and I were young, we would do anything to get out of helping at canning time," said Mrs. Carlisle.

Mrs. Jones, a native of Canyon, learned canning as a young child under the tutelage of her mother. She tried to escape the peeling and shelling jobs just as her daughters did when they were young.

VACATION COOKING
Jones' relatives live in the San Joaquin Valley in California and are fruit growers. This Big Spring family vacations there each year, and Mrs. Jones cans all the fruits that are available. They come home with the car loaded with canned peaches, pears, apricots and cherries. She also prepares jellies from Concord grapes and Santa Rosa plums. The favorite preserves in the family are apricot and peach.

"There are no big time savers in canning except by working in pairs or groups," said Mrs. Jones. She has done an assembly line type of operation with Mrs. Billy Gaskins of Knott, and they would can the foodstuffs from the Gaskins garden. All the young people were "roped in" to help in the gathering and pre-canning work.

A 20 quart pressure cooker is standard equipment during the canning bouts, and by borrowing, Mrs. Jones will sometimes have four cookers on the stove at one time.

FAVORITES
There are many tasty dishes served at the Jones home besides the canned delicacies. A family favorite is the meal-in-one-dish enchiladas. Mrs. Jones makes hers with ground meat that has been seasoned and browned. She soft-fries tortillas and builds layers of the Mexican bread, meat, longhorn cheese, lettuce, tomatoes and onions. A commercial enchilada sauce that has been heated is poured over the layered servings and thus a full meal is available. With this, tall glasses of iced tea and crisp tostadas complete the meal.

Home made ice cream has become a great favorite this year since Father's Day when the man of the house was presented an electric freezer. Mrs. Jones serves a chocolate ice cream made with candy bars, or fresh peach and banana nut as the current favorites.

Here are some recipes for special dishes Mrs. Jones shares with friends and family.

24 HOUR SALAD
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
5 tsps. lemon juice
3 tsps. butter
1/2 cup nuts
1/2 lb. small marshmallows
4 cups whipping cream (whipped)
4 cups fruit (peaches, cherries, Thompson seedless grapes, pineapple chunks)
Break eggs in top of double boiler and stir gently. Add sugar and lemon, stir until thick. Add butter and remove from fire. Fold in marshmallows. (Do not lose volume.) Add whipping cream, fruit, and nuts. Can of coconut may be added if desired. Let set at least 12 hours (best to set 24).

CARROT SALAD
5 carrots
1 medium green pepper
3 hard boiled eggs
1 medium onion
20 soda crackers
Chop with food chopper. Mix gently and fold in 1/2 cup salad dressing. Add to as desired.

EGGLESS CAKE
1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup cold coffee
2 tsps. soda
4 cups flour
1 tsp. each of nutmeg, cloves, cinnamon, allspice
2 cups raisins
1 cup nuts, chopped fine
Cream butter, add sugar and cream again. Stir dry ingredients together and add alternately with mild coffee. Beat well and add nuts and raisins last. A package of mincemeat may be used. Bake in loaf pan or tube pan in moderate oven. Allow long cooking period. Cake will spring back when touched if done.

CHOCOLATE CHIP BROWNIES
1/2 cup shortening

1 box brown sugar
2 eggs
2 2-3 cup biscuit mix
1 pkg. chocolate chips
1 cup pecans
1/4 cup hot black coffee
Mix and bake in greased pan at 350 degrees until evenly browned.

HAMBURGER PIE
1 medium onion, chopped
1 lb. ground beef
Salt and pepper
1 can green beans
1 can tomato soup
2 medium potatoes, cooked
1/2 cup warm milk
1 beaten egg
Cook onions in hot fat until golden brown, add meat and seasonings and brown. Add drained beans and soup. Pour into greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Mash potatoes, add milk, egg, and seasoning. Spoon in mounds over meat. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE
1 pkg. (6 oz or 1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 small can (2-3 cup) evaporated milk
1/2 cup dark molasses
1/2 tsp. vanilla
In the top of a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water stir together the chocolate and undiluted evaporated milk until chocolate melts.
Stir in the molasses and vanilla. Serve hot or warm over ice cream. If sauce is stored in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator, it may be heated by setting the jar in simmering water and stirring a few times. Makes 1 2-3 cups.

FRUIT PUDDING
3 eggs
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 1/2 tsps. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. allspice
1/2 tsp. cloves
1 1/2 cups fine, dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1 cup water
1 cup broken pecans
1 cup currants
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup finely chopped, pared tart apples
1 4-oz. can (4 cup) candied citron
1/2 cup chopped suet
Beat eggs well; add sugar, salt and spices and mix thoroughly. Mix bread crumbs and flour with nuts, fruit and suet; add alternately with water to egg mixture. Stir well. Pack into greased can or freezer jars to within 1 1/2 to 2 inches from top. Adjust caps. Process 2 hours at 5 pounds pressure. Yield: about 4 pints.

PRICKLY PEAR MARMALADE
2 lemons, thinly sliced (about 1 cup)
2 large unpeeled oranges, chopped (about 3 cups)
1 qt. water
1 qt. chopped, peeled, seeded prickly pears (about 9)
6 cups sugar
Combine first 3 ingredients; cover and let stand 12 to 18 hours in a cool place. Cook rapidly until peel is tender, about 30 minutes. Cool; add pears and sugar. Bring slowly to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly to jellying point, about 25 minutes. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking. Pour, boiling hot, into sterilized jars. Adjust caps. Yield: about 6 half-pints.

APPLE-PINEAPPLE COCONUT CONSERVE
1 qt. chopped, cored, pared tart apples (about 2 lbs.)
1 qt. chopped, cored, pared fresh pineapple (about 1 large)
3/4 cup thinly sliced orange peel
1 1/2 cups chopped orange pulp (about 2 large oranges)
2 cups water
1 1-3 cups (3 1/2-oz. can) flaked coconut
6 cups sugar
Combine apples, pineapple, orange peel and pulp and water. Cook until peel is tender, about 10 minutes. Add coconut and sugar. Bring slowly to boiling, stirring occasionally until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly almost to jellying point, about 15 to 20 minutes. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking.

STRAWBERRY JAM
2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
4 cups (1 1/2 lbs.) sugar
3/4 cup water
1 box fruit pectin
First, prepare the fruit. Thoroughly crush, 1 layer at a time, mix well, and let stand. Measure sugar, add to fruit, mix well, and let stand. Mix water and powdered fruit pectin in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (There will be a few remaining sugar crystals.) Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with tight lids. When jam is set, store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in refrigerator. Makes about 8 medium (8 oz.) glasses.

PINEAPPLE JAM
1 qt. finely chopped, cored,

pared fresh pineapple (about 1 large)
2 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/2 lemon, thinly sliced
Combine all ingredients. Slowly bring to boiling, stirring occasionally until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly until thick, about 30 minutes. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking. Pour, boiling hot, into sterilized jars. Adjust caps. Yield: about 3 half-pints.

OLD FASHIONED RECIPE HAS NEW CITRUS TWIST

Even the edict of the Supreme Court could not change one of America's culinary ways. At the end of the last century the Court ruled that the tomato, hitherto classed as a fruit, was to be categorized as a vegetable. But years before that ruling, our cooking ladies had used the tomato—as they did other fruits—in marmalades. The tomato went right on being coupled with sugar and made into sweet preserves.

Canning Hits Status Level

Status and its symbols seem to ebb and flow. For example, consider the affect ownership of a home freezer once had on home canners. Although home freezing was never a real threat to canning, it did in many instances cause canning to be looked upon as a sort of skeleton in the family food closet. Ownership of such things as imported area rugs, color television, and pre-home canning style (Early American) furniture has robbed the freezer of its status, but certainly not of its usefulness.

Consequently, status-conscious women are no longer afraid someone will titter if they can and tell. Once again, they brag about putting up "the best tomato juice you ever tasted," or maybe it's "chutney just as good as that expensive imported kind."

The funny thing about all the under cover canning was that while it was going on, government reports, non-industry inspired surveys and records of the quantity of canning supplies made and sold, made it quite clear that home canning was (and still is) habitually done in over 22,000,000 households.

And how safe is home canning? It is just as safe as the person in charge of the job cares to make it.

Canning accidents such as spoilage, sealing failures and breakage are like automobile and almost all other accidents in that they are usually caused by poor judgment, or by carelessness. Clean, sound, fresh produce is, when canned by modern methods, as safe to eat as any other food.

The most common causes of the accident of spoilage are underprocessing and failure to thoroughly wash, rinse and drain produce before breaking the skin. Most sealing failures can be avoided by following the manufacturer's instructions for filling jars, adjusting closures and applying heat to the filled jars.

Breakage during processing is harder to pinpoint. However, it is often the result of invisible damages caused by dropping, bumping or scratching the jar. Care should be taken to neither scratch the side or jab the bottom of the jar when "knifing" out air bubbles. Another way to help avoid breakage is to keep jars in a straight, upright position while slowly lowering them into a boiling-water bath. This permits the entire bottom of the jar to receive heat at the same time, and thus lessens the danger of breakage from thermal shock.

Use Juice For Jelly
Looking for a colorful, easy-to-make spread for toast or muffins? Try making one of these cranberry juice cocktail jellies.

CRANBERRY ORANGE JELLY
2 cups (1 pt.) bottled cranberry juice cocktail
1 1/2 cups reconstituted-frozen orange juice
1 box powdered fruit pectin
4 cups sugar
Place cranberry juice, orange juice into large saucepan. Add powdered fruit pectin and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon. Pour quickly into sterilized glasses. Cover at once with a 1/4-inch layer of hot paraffin. Makes about 7 medium glasses.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE FOR ICE CREAM
A friend brought us a jar of this chocolate sauce to serve over ice cream and it was much enjoyed at our house.

CRANBERRY MINT JELLY
4 1/2 cups sugar
2 pts. cranberry juice cocktail
1 box powdered pectin
1 1/2 tsps. peppermint extract
Measure sugar. Set aside. Measure grapefruit juice and cranberry cocktail into large saucepan. Add powdered pectin. Place pan over high heat. Stir until mixture comes to rolling boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to full rolling boil. Boil HARD 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove extract. Skim. Pour quickly into 8 glasses. Paraffin at once.

Kitchen Skills Furnish Pleasure Year Round For Friends, Family

Do you like to give unusual Christmas presents? Do you like meals with a special twist? Do you want to win the family's praises?

The answer is in the kitchen. Now is the time to start canning the fruits and vegetables that are in abundance. This venture will pay off in year round praise from all who sample your canned delicacies.

Try some of these less common combinations.

FRUIT PUDDING
3 eggs
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 1/2 tsps. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. allspice
1/2 tsp. cloves
1 1/2 cups fine, dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1 cup water
1 cup broken pecans
1 cup currants
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup finely chopped, pared tart apples
1 4-oz. can (4 cup) candied citron
1/2 cup chopped suet
Beat eggs well; add sugar, salt and spices and mix thoroughly. Mix bread crumbs and flour with nuts, fruit and suet; add alternately with water to egg mixture. Stir well. Pack into greased can or freezer jars to within 1 1/2 to 2 inches from top. Adjust caps. Process 2 hours at 5 pounds pressure. Yield: about 4 pints.

PRICKLY PEAR MARMALADE
2 lemons, thinly sliced (about 1 cup)
2 large unpeeled oranges, chopped (about 3 cups)
1 qt. water
1 qt. chopped, peeled, seeded prickly pears (about 9)
6 cups sugar
Combine first 3 ingredients; cover and let stand 12 to 18 hours in a cool place. Cook rapidly until peel is tender, about 30 minutes. Cool; add pears and sugar. Bring slowly to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly to jellying point, about 25 minutes. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking. Pour, boiling hot, into sterilized jars. Adjust caps. Yield: about 6 half-pints.

APPLE-PINEAPPLE COCONUT CONSERVE
1 qt. chopped, cored, pared tart apples (about 2 lbs.)
1 qt. chopped, cored, pared fresh pineapple (about 1 large)
3/4 cup thinly sliced orange peel
1 1/2 cups chopped orange pulp (about 2 large oranges)
2 cups water
1 1-3 cups (3 1/2-oz. can) flaked coconut
6 cups sugar
Combine apples, pineapple, orange peel and pulp and water. Cook until peel is tender, about 10 minutes. Add coconut and sugar. Bring slowly to boiling, stirring occasionally until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly almost to jellying point, about 15 to 20 minutes. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking.

STRAWBERRY JAM
2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
4 cups (1 1/2 lbs.) sugar
3/4 cup water
1 box fruit pectin
First, prepare the fruit. Thoroughly crush, 1 layer at a time, mix well, and let stand. Measure sugar, add to fruit, mix well, and let stand. Mix water and powdered fruit pectin in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (There will be a few remaining sugar crystals.) Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with tight lids. When jam is set, store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in refrigerator. Makes about 8 medium (8 oz.) glasses.

PINEAPPLE JAM
1 qt. finely chopped, cored,

pared fresh pineapple (about 1 large)
2 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/2 lemon, thinly sliced
Combine all ingredients. Slowly bring to boiling, stirring occasionally until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly until thick, about 30 minutes. As mixture thickens, stir frequently to prevent sticking. Pour, boiling hot, into sterilized jars. Adjust caps. Yield: about 3 half-pints.

SOUTHERN CRYSTAL
1/2 cup slaked lime
2 qts. water
3 qts. 1/4-in. slices small green tomatoes (about 3 doz.)
6 cups sugar
1 tsp. salt
3/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
3/4 tsp. ground ginger
4 sticks cinnamon
1 1/2 qts. vinegar
Dissolve the lime in 2 quarts water. Pour over tomato slices and cover; let stand 24 hours in a cool place. Drain; rinse thoroughly through several changes of cold water. Drain again. Combine remaining ingredients; boil 3 minutes. Let stand until cold; remove cinnamon. Add tomatoes; cook until tomatoes are clear and sirup is thick, about 45 minutes. Pack, boiling hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Adjust caps. Process pints and quarts 10 minutes in boiling-water bath. Yield: about 4 pints.

BEEF OR RED RELISH
1 qt. chopped cooked beef
1 qt. chopped cabbage (about 1 small head)
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped sweet red peppers (about 2 medium)

How To Preserve A Husband

Be careful in your selection. Do not choose too young. When selected, give your entire thoughts to preparation for domestic use. Some wives insist upon keeping them in a pickle, others are constantly getting them into hot water. This may make them sour, hard, and sometimes bitter; even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender and good, by garnishing them with patience, well seasoned with love and sweetened with kisses. Wrap them in a mantle of charity. Keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with peaches and cream. Thus prepared, they will keep for years.

Wheat Prices Picking Up As Issue For '64 Races

WASHINGTON (AP)—A controversy over the prices farmers are getting for 1964 crop wheat is rising as a coast-to-coast farm issue in this year's presidential and congressional campaigns.

Sharp attacks on prices prevailing under the administration's new wheat stabilization program are made by many Republican candidates and by officials of the Farm Bureau Federation, the big farm organization which fought the plan in Congress.

Wheat prices have dropped from a farm average of around $1.85 a bushel for the 1963 crop to $1.30 or less for the crop now moving to market.

The complaints come from farmers in the East, Midwest and West who ignored the new program by refusing to cut acreages at least 10 per cent below 1963. These farmers must depend solely on market prices. Those who cut back acreages are eligible for price supports averaging $1.30 a bushel plus marketing certificates worth 47.5 cents a bushel on 90 per cent of their normal production and land diversion payments averaging about $6 an acre.

Those criticizing the program contend that if the administration had not pressed Congress to enact the new program, wheat prices this year would have leveled off between $1.50 and $1.65 a bushel. There would have been no need for the payments, which millers and exporters contribute to through taxes. Under such prices, the present holdouts would get from 20 to 35 cents a bushel more for their wheat than under the new program.

The Washington and New Jersey farm bureau federations are the newest critics.

The administration contends that without the new program, wheat prices would have dropped to around $1.26 a bushel, farm basis. The Republican national convention's platform pledged repeal of the new wheat program which it said—as have other critics—will impose a broad tax on consumers.

Chemical Plant For Port Arthur

NEW YORK (AP)—Texaco Inc. has selected Port Arthur, Tex., as site of one of the nation's largest cyclohexane plants, the company announced.

The plant is scheduled to start production in the second half of 1965 with an annual capacity of several million gallons.

Cyclohexane is used in making synthetic fibers such as nylon.

Peru President Proud Of Improvement Marks

LIMA, Peru (AP)—President Fernando Belaunde Terry is starting his second year in office, proud of his record and confident of the future.

In reply to questions submitted by The Associated Press, the 50-year-old president of Peru said major achievements of his administration include enactment of the nation's first agrarian reform law, doubled dollar reserves, increased construction of highways and low-cost housing, increased foreign investment and prospects of stronger relations with the United States.

He said elections have proved "that communism lacks backing" in Peru, and that the identification of Cuba's Fidel Castro with communism "limits that foreign influence to a very small following."

Belaunde, elected for a six-year term, said he considered the revival of municipal elections as a major achievement during his first year in office.

"For more than 40 years Peruvian heads of government, on taking office, appointed at will approximately 15,000 mayors and municipal officeholders," he recalled.

The president said his government's main objective now "is to maintain and strengthen a climate of human solidarity and social justice within constitutional bounds."

Pointing to economic gains, Belaunde said:

"When I assumed the presidency, Peru was unjustly bypassed as far as the granting of credits go. Within one year we have obtained loans from international development institutions amounting to $124 million."

Peru, the president declared, is "faithfully fulfilling its role in the Alliance for Progress" while the Peace Corps is helping to strengthen the bonds between Peru and the United States.

Countdown Voice Named

HOUSTON (AP)—The space agency has named Christopher C. Kraft Jr. the new countdown control man for manned and unmanned space flights.

Kraft, who became widely known to those who listened to radio communications with Mercury astronauts during their orbital flights, will be flight operations director for the second launch of a Gemini-Titan vehicle this fall.

Kraft replaces Dr. Walter C. Williams, who left the National Aeronautics and Space Administration last March to enter private business.

Kraft's new duties were announced by the Manned Spacecraft Center here and at NASA headquarters, Washington.

Kraft, 40, who worked closely with Williams throughout the Mercury program, was responsible for flight direction for lift-off to recovery.

He now will have over-all responsibility for direction of flights and will also continue coordination of preparations for tracking, recovery and control of a mission.

Kraft has been with NASA since its creation in 1958 and transferred to the Manned Spacecraft Center when it was formed.

He is a native of Phoebus, Va.

Long Jackson Boycott Ends

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A 14-month selective buying campaign against downtown Jackson merchants — during which 23 businesses closed — was over Wednesday.

The Jackson Movement, composed of civil rights groups who advocated putting an economic pinch on white merchants to win rights for Negroes, voted Tuesday night after a heated debate to end the boycott.

Several opponents said there was still no promise that the merchants would agree to hire Negroes above the "broom and mop" level.

Strategists of the movement promised they would continue to press Negro demands for better jobs and courteous treatment.

The Rev. R. L. T. Smith, movement president, said passage of the Civil Rights Act had put the Negro in a different "phase of the struggle."

"We have not backed up one inch. We must now adjust our tactics."

He urged the audience to "resume shopping in the downtown sector and claim that which is rightfully ours. The future is in the hands of the merchants."

A member of the strategy committee said he had a letter from a downtown merchant which said if the boycott were called off, as soon as business got better, he would hire some Negroes.

Monsoons Mean Misery, Death To India Millions

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The rain beats harder and faster. Weeds bend under the pelting. Puddles form. Rivulets ooze into crude shelters where families huddle against the down-pour.

All across the vast subcontinent the hard, driving rains of the monsoon have unleashed their fury. And India's ragged masses, always stalked by nightmarish quagmire. The fact of hot, dry India is transformed. Quiet rivers and streams churn out of their banks. Arid plains bristling with farms are flooded. Hundreds of villages, drouth-stricken before the rains, are swept by muddy water. Dusty roads winding through parched wastelands are suddenly awash. Scorched plots where peasants scratch out a living become marshy graves of ruined crops. Mud seems to engulf the land.

Summer rains are vital for food production in India, still far from agricultural self-sufficiency. But when the monsoon

Bond Sales Picking Up

Sales of United States Savings Bonds picked up in District 5 during June, according to a report from Larson Lloyd, district bond chairman. Totals for the first half of the year, however, are still off the state and quota pace.

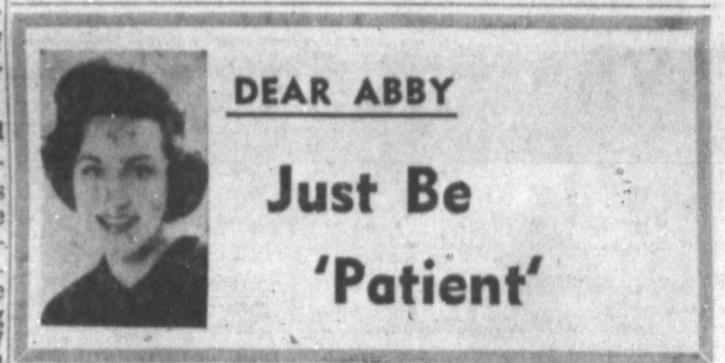

During the month, district sales aggregated $114,145, of which half or $55,735, came from Howard County. The district sales for the first half of the year aggregated $497,006, or one third of the annual quota.

Howard County has achieved 34 per cent of its goal in aggregate sales of $221,306. Its June sales, however, were slightly above the monthly average needed to attain the quota.

The Area I sales in June amounted to $1,127,979, making $55,992,506 for the year, or 43.7 of the quota. The state record was $16,082,775 in June, $75,465,762 for the year, or 50.3 per cent.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., July 30, 1964 7-B

DEAR ABBY

Just Be
'Patient'

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I went to a hospital and stayed there for six weeks. Last week I had to go back to the same hospital for a little corrective surgery, and what do you think the head nurse greeted me with? "Oh, no, not YOU again, Mrs. So-and-So! When the nurses hear you're back they'll shoot themselves!" Then she laughed. I failed to see anything funny in her remark. When I saw my doctor I reported the incident to him, and he laughed, too. Then he patted me on the shoulder and said, "Oh, don't pay any attention to her. She's a little screwy." Why would a hospital hire a "screwy" head nurse?

OFFENDED

DEAR OFFENDED: She probably wasn't "screwy" when they hired her.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and baby-sit to earn money for clothes. About once a week I sit for a lady who is getting a divorce. She has two small children. She has all her bureau drawers and her desk drawers "sealed" with big wide strips of adhesive tape. Every closet in her house is locked, and she even keeps a padlock on her refrigerator. She told me that she trusted me, but in case I got bored or curious she didn't want me going through her things. Abby, I would never think of doing such a thing. Last time I was there she said if I tried to remove the adhesive tape and seal it back, my fingerprints would be on the tape and I'd never get away with it. This hurt me. Do you think there is something wrong with her? I'm afraid if I tell my parents they won't let me sit for her any more, and I need the money. What should I do?

NERVOUS GIRL

DEAR NERVOUS: Yes, I think there is definitely something wrong with her. Tell your parents and abide by their decision.

DEAR ABBY: I have been employed in this office only a short time, but it is an ideal place to work and I would like to remain here. I am not the kind of person who indulges in gossip, but the telephone operator here told me that the boss, a family man, is carrying on an affair with a woman who calls him at the office and uses a phony name. The telephone operator listens in on all his calls, so she is not guessing. The boss is a fine man, and seems so proud of his family that it is hard to believe that he is leading a double life. I am afraid his wife will find out about it and their home will be broken up. Should I tell the boss what I know so he can be more careful?

NEW GIRL

DEAR NEW: Mind your own business, and tell the telephone operator that if she knows what is good for her, she should mind hers. If the boss chooses to skate on thin ice, let him take his chances.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CANT SLEEP" IN TROY: Tell your husband what's on your mind and give him a fair chance to defend himself. You could be wrong.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 6970, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Texan Heads Petroleum Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Dallas independent oil producer, Jake L. Hamon, has been named chairman of the National Petroleum Council.

Hamon was appointed Tuesday by Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall.

A budget of about $132,000 was approved for the year which began July 1. The money is made available by voluntary contributions from the petroleum industry.

Both Udall and John M. Kelly, assistant secretary for mineral resources, told the council about a comprehensive study being made of the domestic petroleum industry's current position.

Kelly said the results will be used in formulating government petroleum policies.

The council approved and gave Udall a report analyzing government plans to insure an adequate supply of petroleum and gas in a national emergency to meet military and essential civilian needs.

The report contains 31 recommendations which the council said it would substantially strengthen the government's preparedness posture though it said no major changes in the broad concepts of government planning for the industry were proposed.

After 200-Foot Fall

Ten-year-old Robert Lee of San Francisco was able to grin Wednesday after he was rescued from the edge of the Pacific Ocean at Fort Funston beach. The boy, sliding down the sand hills, slid too far and plunged 200-feet down to the beach. He was rescued by Coast Guard helicopter and taken to Alameda emergency hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises then released. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Grand Jury Seeks Special Jury For DA Prosecution

HOUSTON (AP) — The hold-over Harris County grand jury says it is seeking a special attorney to prosecute perjury indictments against Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe and two others. Peyton Bryan, jury foreman, issued a statement Wednesday saying "efforts on the part of the district attorney's office to have the indictments dismissed before a special prosecutor has been appointed to represent the interests of Harris County, is ill-advised to say the least."

The spring term grand jury Tuesday indicted Briscoe, Asst. Dist. Atty. Sam Robertson Jr. and Police Capt. Leon Colley. Briscoe had no comment on Bryan's statement but he earlier called the indictments a "spite thing" and "not a valid indictment."

SEARCH WARRANT

The three were indicted for perjury in connection with a warrant issued March 23 to search the home of Criminal Dist. Judge Miron J. Love. The jury also billed Sam Hoover, attorney and former Pasadena mayor, on a charge of receiving and concealing a $6,000 diamond stolen Sept. 29

Louisiana Hikes Cost Of Marriage

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The cost of getting married in Louisiana rose $1.50 at noon Wednesday. A bill signed into law by Gov. John J. McKeithen Tuesday boosted the cost of a marriage license from $3.50 to $5. The increase was necessary because of the cost of handling paper work.

from Mrs. Ora Virginia Howton of Houston. Hoover is now on trial charged with a r m e d robbery in the March 11 torture - robbery of Mrs. Mair J. Schepps, Briscoe and Robertson are prosecuting the case.

The true bills charge that Briscoe and Robertson lied under oath to the jury July 16 when they said they had no knowledge of the warrant until after it was issued.

Colley was charged with lying when he testified that he had not discussed issuance of a search warrant with Briscoe. The true bill charges that

FOR WIFE

The diamond was acquired by the Texas rancher for his wife through a San Antonio jeweler. At Austin, Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said neither he nor Gov. John Connally has authority to act in the perjury case involving Briscoe. "We will continue to stay abreast of all developments and will be ready to discharge any responsibilities of this office that the future may bring," Carr said.

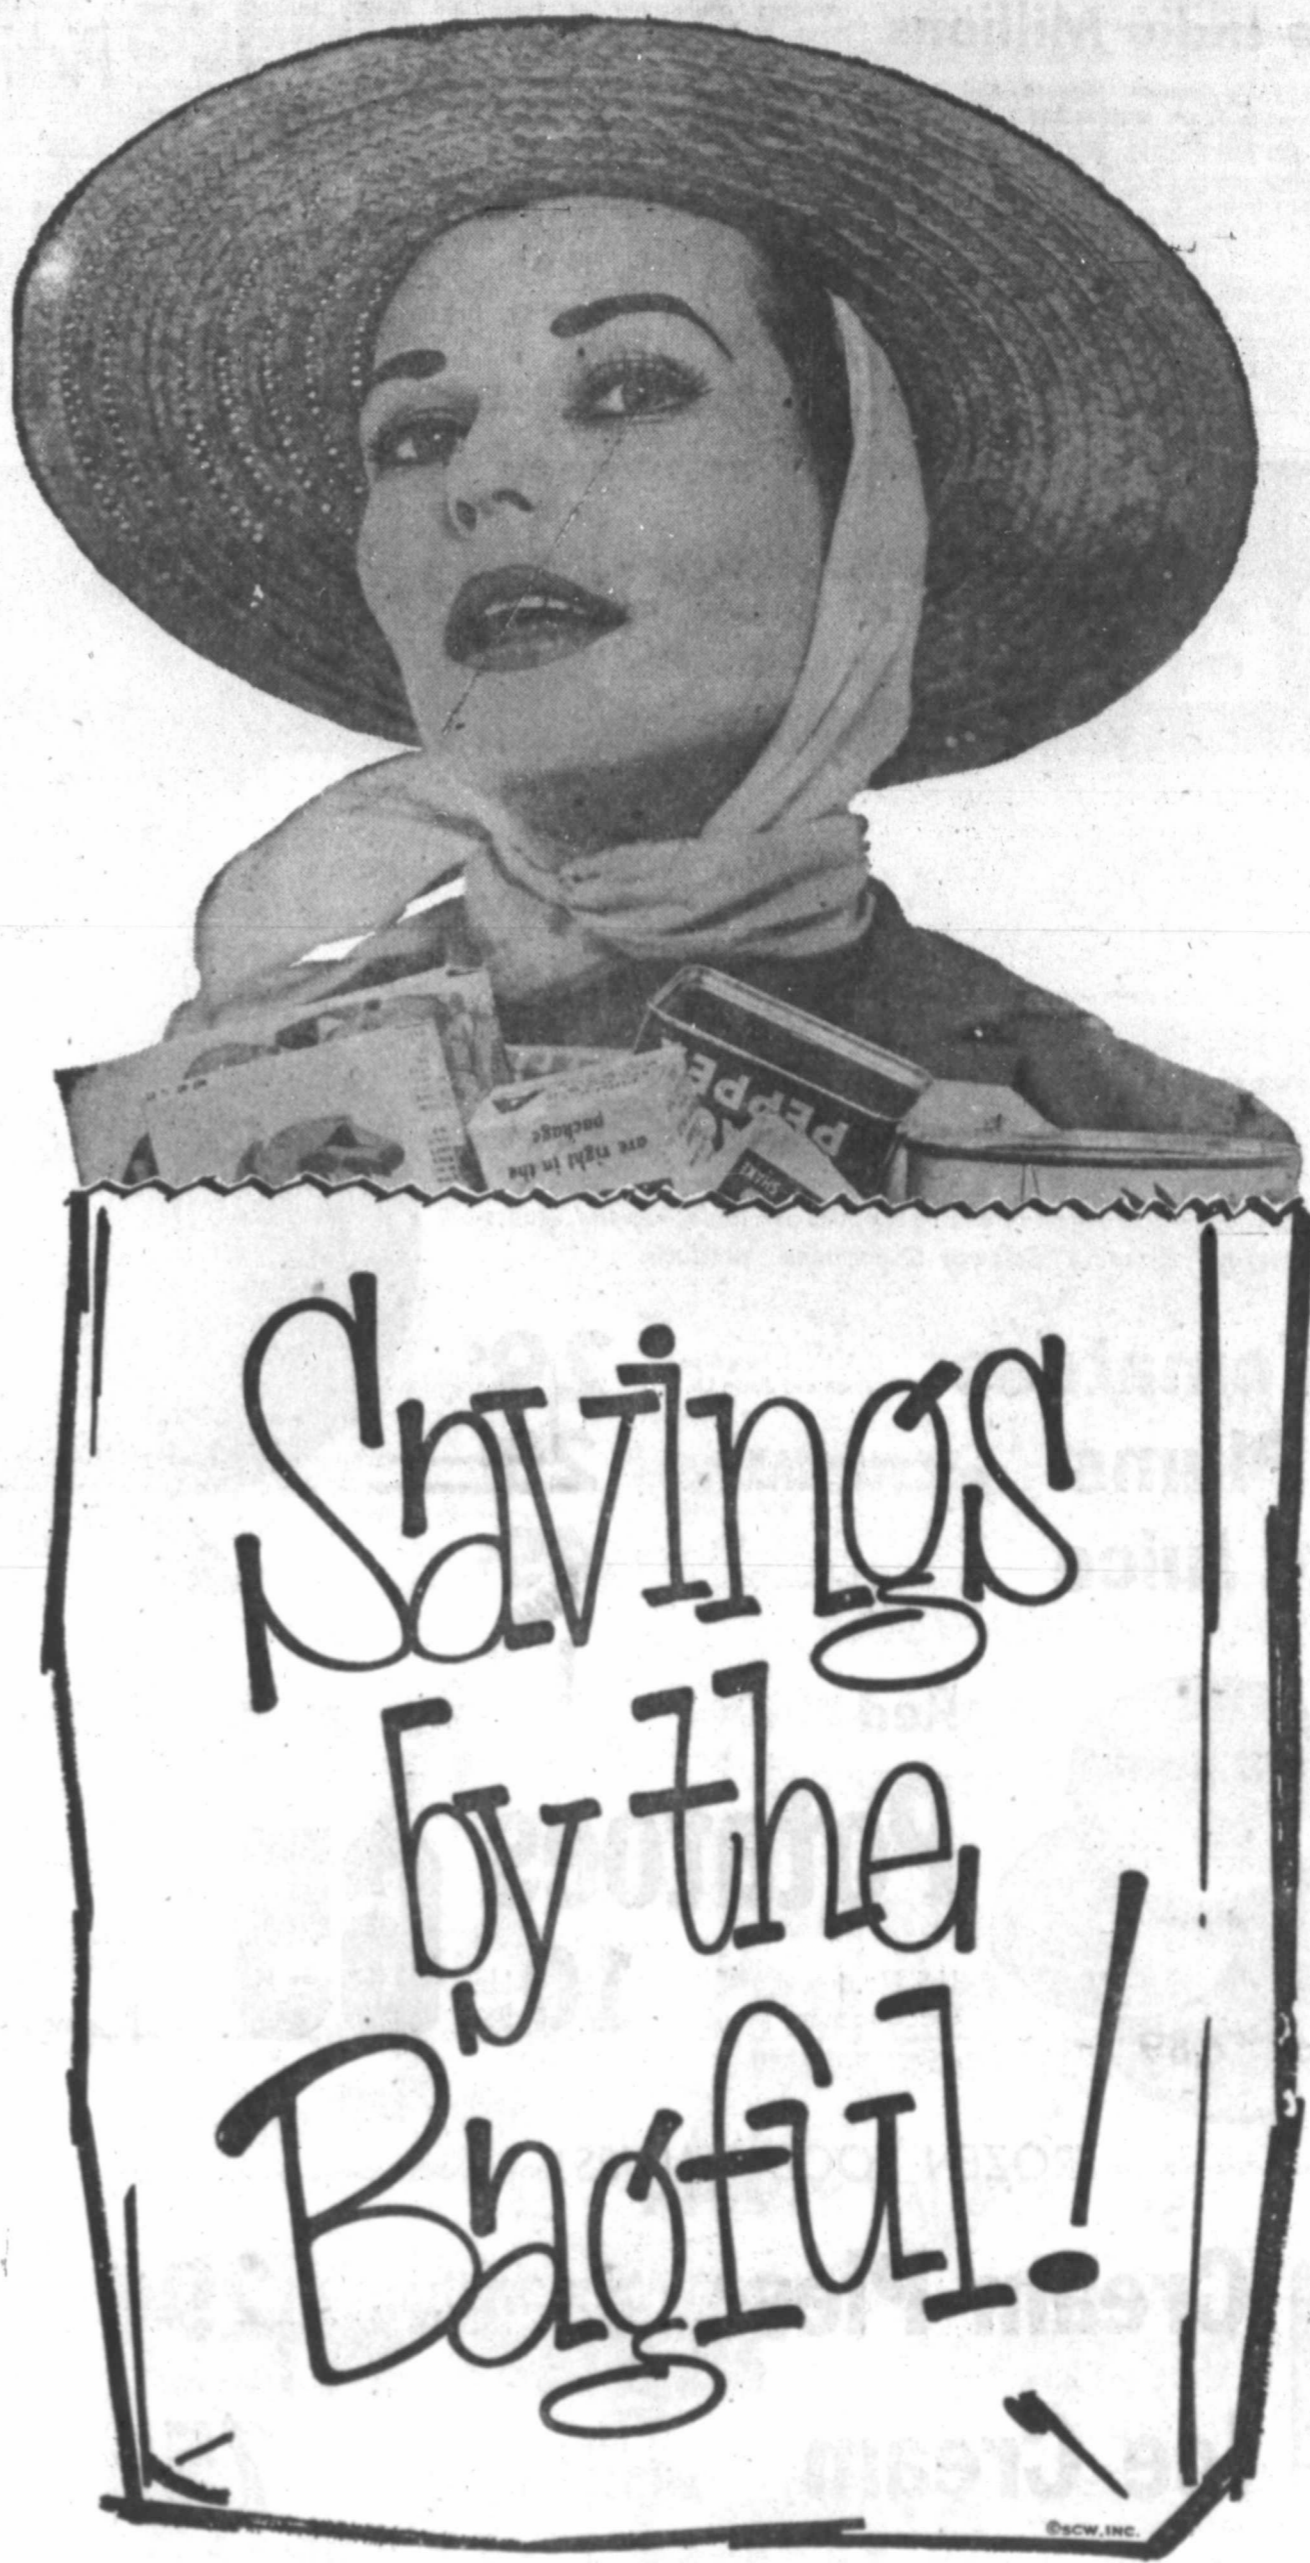

The grand jury statement said it is the grand jury's "fervent wish that the prosecution of these indictments be undertaken by an attorney or attorney of unquestioned integrity, impartiality and ability."

The statement further said the grand jury "currently is exploring means of selecting such attorney or attorneys who have no affiliation or connection with any of those involved."

Arraigned On Robbery Charges

Leland Anderson, 38, left, Boulder, Colo., and Leslie Robert Glass, 43, Canon City, Colo., shown in handcuffs after their arrest in Lawrence, Kan., by FBI and police officers. Anderson and Glass were arraigned in connection with robbery of an Erie, Colo., bank. The bank was held up by two armed men and $7,400 was taken. The men are being held in the Douglas County jail. The two men were picked up by authorities at a Lawrence motel. (AP WIREPHOTO)

AUSTIN (AP) — Leaders of the Texas building and construction trades unions will meet Saturday to talk over a political action program. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth will speak.

New Group Of Astronauts May Join Gemini Project

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Another group of astronauts may be named before many weeks to man the third mission of Project Gemini, the middle phase of the U.S. program to place a man on the moon within the decade.

Most of the Gemini flights will be of long duration — up to 14 days — and will involve space training maneuvers vital to Project Apollo's moon landing objective.

Primary and backup crews for the first two manned Gemini flights already have been selected and Donald K. Slayton, coordinator of astronaut affairs, has indicated a third group will be picked by fall.

Slayton told a news conference Wednesday the third crew of four may be named well before the first manned Gemini mission now set for late December.

The Gemini schedule calls for 12 manned flights, with the launchings spaced at 90-day intervals.

Each Gemini crew must spend eight months in specialized training. The second flight is scheduled for the first quarter of 1965 and the third for the second quarter. This, combined with the eight-month training schedule, would mean the third crew could be named no later than October or November.

Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom, as pilot, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young, as copilot, are scheduled to man the December flight that will last only three orbits. Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford are the backup crew.

The basic objective of the Grissom mission will be to test the spacecraft that will be roughly twice the size of the one-man Project Mercury capsules. The recovery area will be in the Atlantic near Bermuda.

The early 1965 flight will last four days and involve specific scientific experiments aimed directly at solving problems that must be answered before the moon shots get under way.

Among the experiments will be the exposure of astronauts to the unknown hazards of outer space with no protection except his space suit.

Air Force Capt. James A. M. Divitt and Edward H. White — are the second flight's primary crew. Their backup pilots are Air Force Maj. Frank Borman and Navy Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr.

"Stepping into space," definitely is part of the third Gemini flight plan.

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Terrified refugees say warriors of the fanatical Lumpa religious sect spared 50 African men to death in two North Rhodesian villages, drove the surviving women and children into grass huts and burned them alive.

The refugees from neighboring villages said 200 men, women and children died in the slaughter at Chipwata and Etambundo, near the sect's headquarters in the northeast sector of this central African British territory.

Some 1,600 Africans fled Wednesday to the mission station at Mulanga, 20 miles away, seeking protection from the disciples of Lumpa "prophets" Alice Lenshima who have been on a rampage of murder, arson and looting for more than a week.

Previously the government had reported 41 dead, including 30 Lumpas.

Troops stood guard over the refugees while the rest of a 1,200-man force of troops and police prepared a full-scale attack on the marauders. Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda, head of Northern Rhodesia's first all-African government, promised: "There will be no appeasement of the sect."

Alice Lenshima, a matronly woman in her 40s, was reported holed up in Kasomo village, six miles from Chinsall. Government officials were reported unwilling to capture her for fear of setting off more violence.

Goldwater Counting On Debate, Begins Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, counting on new-look campaign debates with President Johnson, begins a week-long California vacation today.

The Arizona senator will fly west aboard a private plane. Aides said he wants the journey to be a vacation trip and nothing else.

Goldwater's first California stop is an exclusive, 2,600-acre retreat called Bohemian Grove, 80 miles north of San Francisco.

The senator plans to stay there through Saturday as the guest of retired Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer. The retreat is divided into about 125 separate camps. Goldwater will be stopping at one called the Caveman Club.

On Saturday, Goldwater plans to fly to Newport Beach, south of Los Angeles, to rest with his wife, who is vacationing there.

He expects to fly back to Washington next Wednesday for a round of talks with GOP members of the House and Senate Aug. 6 and 7.

Goldwater told newsmen on the eve of his departure he was not surprised there was no quick response from the White House after his Tuesday declaration he was "ready, willing and able" to debate Johnson.

"I think when the time comes he'll be willing to debate," Goldwater said.

He said that late in August 1960, Richard M. Nixon still had not made up his mind to face John F. Kennedy in the series of television campaign debates.

Goldwater has said the debates were a mistake for the mat, skipping the reporters' questions that were a fixture of the Kennedy-Nixon debates.

Instead, Goldwater said, his staff and Johnson's could discuss in advance material that could be covered "without having to fear secret or top secret disclosures."
