VIET NAM BORDER
American Missiles Moved Up

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jet fighters equipped with air to air missiles have been heading toward the Communist north the past few days to meet the threat of approaching Red Chinese MIG planes, U.S. military sources say.
Though no clashes have taken place, the opposing flights were reported close enough to make positive radar identification, the sources added.
Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam, held an air raid alert Sunday, its first since World War II when U.S. planes bombed the Japanese-occupied city.
Communist propaganda organs renewed charges against the United States for its reprisal action against North Viet Nam last week. And North Viet Nam indicated it was rejecting a U.N. Security Council invitation to take part in a debate on the crisis.
HALTED SHORT
Informants said the Chinese MIGs, flying from Hainan Island across the Gulf of Tonkin, halted short of the heavily-reinforced frontier and U.S. naval units in the South China Sea. The American planes were F102 fighters from the Da Nang Air Base and Navy F4 and F8 jets from the U.S. 7th Fleet.
Some 30 U.S. jets moved into position Saturday to meet a possible Communist thrust, sources said.
Communist China said Sunday that the U.S. raid on North Viet Nam gives Peking "the right to take action" in "every possible form" to help the North Vietnamese regime.

Turkey, Greek Cypriots Agree To U. N. Cease-Fire

U.S. Presses To Keep Lid On Boiling Pot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed diplomatic efforts today to keep the lid on the Cyprus cease-fire and propel it toward an eventual permanent solution.
After an opening round of top-level diplomacy in which President Johnson cabled personal appeals Sunday to the Greek, Turkish and Cypriot government heads, Washington was channeling its main efforts through the United Nations.
Renewed hostilities, U.S. officials feared, could bring on a war between Greece and Turkey that would shatter NATO's eastern flank and conceivably pave the way for a wider East-West conflict.

Quiet Follows Heavy Strafing

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkey and the Greek Cypriot government agreed to a U.N. Security Council call for a cease-fire on this embattled island today. A brief Turkish air attack on a northwest village before Turkey's announcement sent a new scare through Cyprus.

Greece said it hoped the strafing attack on a square in Polis was due to a mix-up in Turkish military orders.

A government source in Nicosia said 10 persons were wounded in the Polis attack.
A Turkish government spokesman said after a Cabinet meeting in Ankara that Turkey would accept the U.N. call for the cease-fire, but only on the condition that Greek Cypriots halt their attacks on Turks on the island. The Turkish Cabinet met an hour after reports of the Polis attack reached Ankara.

The Greek Cypriot government said it had ordered a cease-fire unilaterally as of Saturday. It made no mention of fighting that erupted around the Turkish village of Kokkina Sunday or around Nicosia Sunday night.
A Greek Cypriot spokesman said:

RESOLUTION
"In a statement today, Archbishop Makarios (Cyprus' president) said the government of the Cyprus republic will fully respect a Security Council resolution on the cease-fire in Cyprus. . . .
There were no reports of ground fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the tense northwest coastal strip between Polis and Xeros.
The Soviet Union assailed the series of Turkish attacks and warned Turkey that it is risking war.
The attack on Polis was the fourth consecutive day of Turkish air activity over Cyprus.
Alex Efty, an Associated Press correspondent at the scene, said the American-built F104 jets appeared while the townspeople were sipping coffee in the main square, most of them talking about the crisis. He said the villagers ducked for cover before the jets made two runs, firing into the square.
In Paris, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization disclosed that Turkey was withdrawing some of her air force from the alliance "for use in her national interest."
The announcement from Supreme Allied Headquarters for Europe said "such action is permissible and provided for under the NATO treaty." The United States, Britain and other NATO members have been strenuously pressing for a settlement of the Cyprus strife to avoid an open breach between Turkey and Greece, guardians of NATO's eastern flank.
The alliance's permanent

DEFENSIVE MEASURES
In Athens, Greek Foreign Minister Stavros Costopoulos called in the Turkish ambassador and said Greece could not restrain the Cyprus government from "necessary defensive measures" if Turkey repeated its warlike activities.
Costopoulos said he told the Turkish envoy that Greece hoped the attack on Polis was "due to the fact that not all Turkish forces have received orders of a cease-fire."
Earlier, the Greek Cypriots charged that Turkish troops slipped ashore before dawn to aid the beleaguered Turkish Cypriot fishing village of Kokkina, 20 miles west of Polis.
Turkey and the U.N. Command on Cyprus denied there had been any landing. But the Cyprus government demanded another urgent meeting of the Security Council to consider what it called "perhaps a limited invasion."
Costopoulos said the Turkish garrison at Kokkina, the last Turkish Cypriot coastal stronghold, opened mortar fire on Greek Cypriot positions during the morning. But other sources said the situation there was quiet.
Turkey began the attacks last Friday to halt the Greek Cypriot advance on Kokkina.

NO FOUNDATION
In Ankara, Kemal Stair, Turkey's deputy premier, insisted that the "Cyprus government claims are without any foundation."
The new Greek Cypriot complaint came in the midst of a lull in the fighting on the Mediterranean island. President Makarios offered to halt the Greek Cypriot advance on the Turkish Cypriot villages if Turkey stopped its air attacks.
Turkey agreed to call off the raids if there are no further Greek Cypriot attacks.

Congress Aiming For Windup By Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress pushes ahead today in a drive to clear the legislative decks and adjourn by the end of next week.
The target date for adjournment is Aug. 22 — two days before the Democratic National Convention opens in Atlantic City, N.J.
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Sunday night in a television-radio interview (NBC-Meet The Press) that he still hopes for adjournment by the 22nd, but added "I wouldn't bet on it."
If Congress doesn't finish its work by that date, he said, it will be back on the job after the convention.
GOP SUPPORT
Mansfield said "I am very proud of what this Congress and its predecessor have done."

Asked about help from the Republican side of the aisle, he said "it has been very significant and much of the legislation which we've passed would not have been possible without Republican support."
He said Senate Republican Leader Everett R. Dirksen has "placed his country ahead of his party" and contributed particularly in foreign affairs.
Mansfield said he thought Dirksen's proposal to delay reapportionment of state legislatures stands a good chance of Senate passage.
The Democratic leader said he had been in touch with Dirksen and legal advisers over the weekend trying to work out another way to ease the effects of the Supreme Court's decision of last June 15 which said each legislative district must be "substantially equal" in population. It said both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a "one person, one vote formula."

FOREIGN AID
Dirksen in turn came up with a bill that would delay reapportionment for two years for some states, four years for others. He said he would include it as a rider on the foreign aid authorization bill. Mansfield said he doesn't believe Dirksen's approach on the delay "is the correct one" and "may well turn out" to be unconstitutional.
While the Senate continues its foreign aid debate today, the House takes up a bill to liberalize veterans' pension laws.
The House may tackle a housing bill about the middle of the week. The measure would extend the present public housing program for another year and increase it by 35,000 housing units.
The House also is scheduled

HEALTH CARE
Supporters of a health care plan for the aged under Social Security continue to press their case before the Senate Finance Committee. There will be an effort to attach this program to the pending Social Security bill. But any such move, even if successful in the Senate, would face formidable opposition from House conferees.
The Senate also has on its calendar some $7 billion in appropriation bills for agricultural programs and military construction and the program to attack the economic problems of the Appalachian area.

Stanton Boy Dies, Brother Charged

STANTON — Willie Louis Bateman, 16, who was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital Aug. 4 with a gunshot wound in his head, died at 9:25 p.m. Sunday. The boy never regained consciousness and had undergone extensive surgery.
A charge of murder was filed against Bobby Eugene Bateman, 17, this morning by Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders. He has been held on a lesser charge since the shooting. Justice of the Peace M. L. Gibson, who entered the charge, set the boy's bond at $5,000, which he has not made. The Martin County grand jury will receive the case for consideration at the Oct. 5 session. He is being held in Martin County jail.

Saunders said Willie Louis Bateman was shot in the face with a 12-gauge shotgun from a distance of about five feet, as a result of an alleged argument between the brothers over a book of matches.
Chief of Police Bob Smith of Stanton made the arrest. Sheriff Saunders completed the investigation and filed the charges.
Young Bateman's body was taken to the Mason Funeral Home in Midland, and was to be taken to Bonham for funeral. The Negro family moved to Stanton from Honey Grove in Fannin County.

Sees Congress Gain By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton said today he thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater's name at the head of the Republican ticket will bring substantial GOP gain in the Senate and House.
Morton, Kentucky Republican who heads his party's Senatorial Campaign Committee, said this might be particularly true in the South, the border states, the Midwest and the West.
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, head of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in a separate interview he believes that Goldwater's statements about "extremism" and on other issues will bring a record number of Democrats to the polls.
"If we can get out a heavy Democratic vote, it will help all of our candidates," Magnuson said. "I think that a lot of Democrats are going to turn out to make sure that Goldwater isn't elected and doesn't carry conservatives into office with him."
The Democrats, who now have a 66-33 margin in the Senate, have 26 seats at stake in the November balloting. There are nine Republican seats up for grabs.
Despite some public claims to the contrary, neither party expects any change in Senate control. The Democrats believe they will hold their own. Republicans privately hope to gain from three to seven seats.

Sidewalk Subsidizers

Mothers miffed at the lack of sidewalks in suburban Normandy, near St. Louis, have established "toll stops" for volunteer contributions to their sidewalk fund. They greeted motorists with smiles and outstretched toll baskets that were filled with $200 Saturday. The mothers hope to get $1,500 this month for sidewalks they said are needed to protect children walking to school. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Crazy-Quilt Time System Up For Congress' Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The words "daylight saving time" and America's crazy-quilt time system may be on the way out.
A House Commerce subcommittee will take up and likely approve a bill Tuesday that overhauls the U.S. time system and attempts to bring order out of what the Interstate Commerce Commission calls "increasing chaos" in American time.
A similar bill was approved by the Senate Commerce Committee. No public opposition has arisen so far, and there just may be enough time left to push the bill through Congress before the session ends.
Basically the bill would set up uniform areas that would move their clocks ahead and back at the same time every year. For the most part, the bill would away with situations in which one community is on standard time and the town next door on daylight time.
According to testimony before the House subcommittee, the country has such situations galore.

The bill now before Congress would try to end the nation's confusing time situation with these provisions:
1. The United States, except for Alaska and Hawaii, would be divided as now into four zones: Eastern, central, mountain, and Pacific. In addition, a new Atlantic zone would be created. This would be off the East Coast and not over any mainland at all.
2. To save daylight in warm summer months, the Interstate Commerce Commission would create a single subzone in each regular zone. This zone would be a geographic whole and would connect with the full zone to the east.
3. Daylight saving time would begin for all subzones on the last Sunday in April and end on the last Sunday in October.
4. It would not be called daylight saving time at all. Instead, the ICC would assign each subzone to the full zone to the East. In other words, a person living in the central time subzone would find that during the summer months he would use the term, Eastern standard time.
5. The bill would require all federal agencies, common carriers, and communications by wire or radio to use this time system. It is assumed that this would persuade all local communities to adopt the new system.

No Ill Feeling

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Fulton Freeman drew page one attention in newspapers Sunday by declaring that the United States holds no ill feeling toward Mexico for its stand on Cuba.
"Good friends always have differences and different points of view," the capital's newspapers quoted him as saying during a Guadalajara visit.

Asians Thought U. S. Weak, Says Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, calling for "peace through preparedness," said today the war in South Viet Nam never would have started had the Communists believed the United States would act there.

"We have gone to war, we Americans, only when the enemy has thought us too weak to fight," he said. "I believe that we would move in," Goldwater told more than 1,500 persons at the annual conference of the National Association of Counties.

Goldwater said Communist "doubt of our strength, and doubt of our will to use it," may have led North Viet Nam to stage its patrol-boat attacks on American destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Teenagers Hurt In Wreck Reported Better Today

out of bed. She was injured, but not seriously. The accident occurred 23 miles south of Big Spring, in Sterling County on US 87, when an automobile, driven by Mrs. Harvey Jack Scott, hereford, went out of control and was struck by the Kenyan's compact car. The small car was pulling a camp trailer.

Jury Panel Is Not Needed Now

A jury panel notified by Judge Lee Porter, Howard County court, to report at 1 p.m. Tuesday, will not have to serve after all.

The judge said that all three of the civil cases he had booked for trial this week have failed to come up for trial. One, he said, was settled; a second had to be continued because the litigants could not be in court here. The third case, slated for jury trial, will now be heard before the court.

Mexico Drink Prices Zoom

REYNOSA, Mexico (AP) — Prices of drinks made from imported liquors may be tripled—possibly going to $2 a drink—because of a crackdown by Mexican customs authorities.

Some customs officers along the United States-Mexico border have not received full official instructions, but the Treasury Ministry of Mexico has ordered a halt to importation of any whiskeys or cigarettes by Mexican citizens, and strict limits for tourists.

Study Begins On Changing Voting Boxes

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday began wrestling with one of the two major tasks they must complete in August — the realignment of most of the county's urban voting boxes to comply with the new election law which bans rural residents voting in a city polling place.

All but one of the seven voting boxes in Big Spring are affected by the law, and this means the boundaries on all of these and those adjacent may have to be changed.

The boundaries of the voting boxes must be determined and announced during the August term of the court. This expires Sept. 7.

Creation of one or more new voting precincts to serve rural residents who have been voting in Big Spring boxes under the old system is anticipated. There is some talk of abolishing one of the older smaller boxes and combining that precinct with another adjacent to it.

The law precludes the alignment of a new voting precinct in such a way that it will cross the line into another commissioner or justice of the peace precinct. This makes the problem of establishing the lines difficult in some cases.

The commissioners were seeking to set up the new lines in a manner to cause the least possible inconvenience to the voters who are affected by the change.

The new precinct boundaries become effective in February, 1965.

Street Work Completed Today

Final work on the city's seal coat project was being completed today, with all actual coating of pavement finished Saturday, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

More than 120 boxes were included in the program, which began last Monday, Lillard said.

The work was carried out considerably ahead of schedule, he said, and at a lower cost than the contract bid originally considered. The city commission turned down private bids on the project and voted to undertake the work with city crews. Lillard said more than 130,000 square yards of pavement were included in the work, with more than 35,000 gallons of asphalt and more than 1,400 cubic yards of rock used. The original 100 blocks planned for the program had been expanded to include additional areas, Lillard said.

Packed Agenda Set For Commissioners

The city commission will consider proposed city tax rolls for the 1964 year at a meeting at city hall at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Also to go before commissioners are revised plans for the B & A Branch sewer line, a proposed water contract with the Big Spring Country Club and a requested ambulance service subsidy.

by Texas Electric Service Co. and the Anderson County Grain Co. The other change is from general residence to neighborhood service for three lots at Wyoming Street and NW 7th Street in the Banks Addition.

The meeting will also be a public hearing for an annexation of property along IS 20 northeast of the city. The area includes 131 acres, bounded by Birdwell Lane, east; the Texas and Pacific Railroad line, south; extending city limits, west; and extending some 300 feet north of IS 20.

The revised plans for the sewer line, part of the Master Plan, involved a line designed for a higher ground level than previously and includes use of two lift stations, according to city officials. The previous plans called for the line to be at a maximum depth of 22 feet, according to City Manager Larry Crow, but were revised after contract bids were higher than the original estimated cost of the project. Some $370,000 of bond money was included in the Master Plan for the line.

Also on the agenda is a request for an on-premises consumption beer permit for Al's Drive-In, 2506 South Gregg Street, operated by Alton R. Bagwell.

The country club water contract has been discussed twice previously by commissioners. At the last session, the commission agreed to preparation of a contract with the club for use of city water lines from Section 33, south of the city, which cross the club property. City Manager Larry Crow said specific contract details would be considered at the meeting Tuesday.

The commission will also consider a modification in a contract with Texas Electric Service Co. to allow installation of several steel light poles on Main and Johnson Streets south of the business area.

Also included on the agenda are third readings for two on-premises beer consumption permits, for Specks Drive In, 710 Lamesa Highway, and the Melody Club, 3497 W. US 80. Third readings are also on the agenda for a zone change from general residence to neighborhood service for one lot in the Bauer Addition and for annexation of Highland South Addition No. 3 and 4.

Pope Offers Aid In Easing Crises

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI offered in the first encyclical of his reign today to go beyond "a watchful and understanding interest" and help seek honorable solutions of disputes threatening world peace.

Without specifying exactly what his intervention might take, the Roman Catholic pontiff wrote:

"Regarding the great and universal question of world peace, we say at once that we shall feel it specially incumbent upon us not merely to devote a watchful and understanding interest, but also to entertain a more assiduous and efficacious concern."

"This will be, of course, within the limits of our ministry and so utterly divorced from purely temporal interests and strictly political forms, but it will be eager to make its contribution in educating mankind to sentiments and ways of acting contrary to violent and deadly conflict, and in fostering rational and civilized agreements for peaceful relations between nations."

TEMPER PASSIONS

"We shall also be solicitous to help by proclaiming higher human principles that should serve to temper the passions and selfishness from which armed conflicts spring, and promote the harmonious relations and fruitful collaboration of all peoples, and we shall be ready to intervene, where an opportunity presents itself, in order to assist the contending parties to find honorable and fraternal solutions for their disputes."

The Pope also proposed a joint discussion with non-Christian religions, aimed at defending common ideals.

The 14,000-word encyclical — a letter to Roman Catholic bishops around the world — put down "practical guidelines" for Paul's 13-month-old pontificate.

It was a broad statement of the role of the Roman Catholic Church in the modern world. Its title — "Ecclesiam Suam, His Church" — was derived from the first two words of its official Latin text. The reference is to Christ.

Pope Paul condemned communism and atheism, saying the substitution of religion with a godless scientific conception "is the most serious problem of our time." But he expressed the hope that ideological systems denying God "may one day be able to enter into a more positive dialogue with the Church than the present one which we now of necessity deplore and lament."

GREATER COVERAGE

He renewed pledges to work for Christian unity and spoke of finding "greater courage to undertake the necessary reforms" started in the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

But he reaffirmed the Roman Catholic concept of papal primacy and said he was distressed that many non-Catholic Christians considered the papacy a "stumbling block" to unity. He asserted he could not "compromise with the integrity" of the Catholic faith in seeking unity.

Council reforms, he added, "cannot concern either the essential conception of the church or its basic structure."

The encyclical was divided into four parts: A prologue on the paths open to the Church, a section on Church awareness of itself, another on the renewal under way in the Church, and the last on the dialogue between the Church and the world.

In the prologue, the Pope offered to help in international disputes, without specifically saying what form such aid might take.

In the chapter on awareness, Pope Paul said, "It is a duty today for the Church to deepen the awareness that she must have of herself, of the treasure of truth of which she is heir and custodian and of her mission in the world."

He said the Church must "re-

One Killed, Four Injured In Alabama Racial Battle

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP) — A Negro man was killed and four other persons injured when a fight broke out between whites and Negroes on a narrow road just outside the city limits of Bessemer.

Sheriff Mel Bailey said today that no one has been formally charged in the Sunday incident.

"We know who the victim was, we know the assailant. We are trying to check out exactly what happened."

Bailey termed the incident a "spontaneous outbreak." He said deputies blocked off the area where the fight occurred, but allowed a trickle of traffic to go through. Other nearby areas were patrolled. The heavy guard in the vicinity of the fight was lifted early today.

Bailey identified the dead man as Benny C. Gates and the assailant as Billy Blake Hicks, both residents of the community. He said he did not know their exact ages.

Hicks and his father, Lester L. Hicks, were hospitalized for knife wounds, as were two Negroes, the sheriff said.

Bailey said Hicks told officers he was driving along a narrow road with his wife and two children in the car about 4:30 p.m. when he found the way blocked by Gates' automobile. He said Gates was talking to someone at a nearby house.

According to Hicks, he blew his car horn and Gates called Hicks a "white so and so."

The sheriff quoted Hicks as saying the Negro pulled a knife. Hicks got a knife out of his car and the pair began to fight.

Hicks' father, Lester L. Hicks, drove up and attempted to intervene, Bailey said. A second Negro attacked the elder Hicks, the sheriff said.

The fight drew a large crowd of Negroes, the sheriff said, and they chased Hicks and his father to their homes — throwing rocks at them. Hicks' wife and children fled on foot.

Both cars belonging to the Hickses were overturned, Bailey said, and the windows knocked out.

Officers said the younger Hicks was defending himself when Gates was knifed to death.

Red Propaganda Blamed For JFK Assassination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities says the propaganda and agitation campaigns of the Communist party were responsible for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

However, the committee said it takes no position on the question of "whether the assassination of President Kennedy was an individual act or the work of conspiracy."

A presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren is expected to conclude next month that accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald was a loner who acted out of his own aberrations when he fired the bullets that killed Kennedy last Nov. 22 in Dallas.

The House committee discussed Kennedy's murder in its annual report issued Sunday. It recommended that Congress pass a law making assassination of the president or vice president a federal crime.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says the "explosive conflict" over civil rights will be a major issue in the presidential campaign.

Appearing Sunday on a taped television-radio program with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., Nixon said the people will want to hear from the candidates how they plan to handle civil rights problems.

President Johnson and Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater have agreed to avoid during the fall campaign any statements that might inflame the rights issue and encourage renewed violence.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration will require drugs containing the painkiller Phenacetin to carry labels warning that kidney damage may result from exceeding recommended dosage.

The regulation, effective in 60 days, was announced Saturday and applied to drugs sold without prescription.

When used as recommended, FDA said, Phenacetin is considered a safe and useful analgesic. The labeling change was recommended by a special advisory committee of scientists.

Lake Visiting Total Is Down

Visitors to Moss Creek Lake totaled more than 18,000 persons during July, a decrease of about 1,500 from the June total.

The water level reading for the lake dropped to 27 feet, five inches, a decrease from the previous month's level of 30 feet.

The reading at Powell Lake showed 13 feet, six inches for July, also a decrease from the June level of 15 feet. Both readings were the lowest this year.

July readings for 1963 showed levels of 19 feet, four inches for Powell Lake and 32 feet for Moss Creek Lake.

High month for visitors to Moss Creek Lake this year was May, with more than 28,000 persons reported, according to records of the city department of public works. Total receipts for the lake during July were $657.

The chemical formula for water, H<sub>2</sub>O, is the appropriate name given to new machine-washable wools.

The materials are processed with a formula that limits shrinkage to three per cent, reduces after-drying wrinkles, and lessens the tendency of wool to pill.

After extensive market testing the material is now appearing in men's shirts and robes as well as women's dresses, skirts and sportswear and children's coats.

Local Girls Receive District 4-H Awards

Carolyn Crawford was one of 5 blue ribbon winners in the Junior Division at the annual Extension District II 4-H Dress Review Friday. Kathy Shaw was awarded a red ribbon in the senior division during the show held at the Student Union Building on the Texas Tech campus in Lubbock.

Carolyn modeled a red cotton suede jumper skirt accented with a long sleeve oxford cloth blouse of red and beige in the main ballroom at the union building. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delaine Crawford, 2865 Carol.

Kathy's hot pink wool flannel suit was trimmed with light pink linen and had a pink linen shell blouse. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Shaw, 1806 Alabama.

A World's Fair theme was used in the show and models paraded before a giant backdrop depicting the New York show. During the review, the South Plains Maid of Cotton displayed her wardrobe of cotton.

Lawrence Long, Knott, was an escort and Robbie Brown, Knott, served as mistress of ceremonies at the show. Accompanying the participants were Mrs. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Albert Hohertz, Mrs. E. L. Long and Mrs. Gene Haston of Knott.

The Plains Co-op Oil Mill of Lubbock sponsored a dinner for the participants, their parents, adult leaders and agents preceding the show.

The review is the forerunner to a review to be held at the State Fair of Texas in October.

The two local girls were winners in their individual division in a show held recently in Big Spring. Their handmade garments are planned and executed by the girls under the direction of their 4-H Club leaders.

Following the dance, an old-fashioned Western breakfast was served from the buffet.

Guests were seated in the ballroom at tables covered with red checked cloths and lighted with hurricane lamps.

Chairmen for the informal affair were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Currie. Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caton, Mr. and Mrs. John Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crooker, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Kimbell Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haralson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. ## Wedding Rites Held LAMESA (SC)—Miss Janice Sue Lippard and Scott Schroeder Morris were united in marriage at 8 p.m., Saturday in a candlelight ceremony in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church. Dr. Brodace Elkins, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church of El Paso, an uncle of the bride, officiated. He was assisted in the double ring ceremony by Dr. E. D. Landreth, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Lippard, Lamesa, and the bridegroom's parents are Cmdr. and Mrs. George E. Morris Jr. of St. Petersburg, Fla.

CANDLELIGHT
A cross entwined with English ivy and lilies of the valley centered the altar and was set between two candles in brass holders. An open Bible with a white marker lay in front of the cross. The candle tree and brass candelabras were garlanded with smilax and English ivy. Brass urns with arrangements of stock, chrysanthemums and asters completed the scene.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a white formal-length gown of peau de sole with a bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The fitted empire bodice featured an overlay of Alencon lace. The bell-shaped skirt featured a detachable train, fastened under a large bow, which accented the back and extended into a full chapel train.

She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid surrounded by feathered carnations and lilies of the valley. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion hung from a crown of pearls, lace and crystals.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Judy Lippard, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Lt. William Barkley, Ft. Chaffee, Ark., was best man.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Keep Children Clean With Alcohol Swabs

Dear Heloise: When traveling with children, the prepared packets of wet, soapy, paper towels are wonderful, but for a much less expensive idea, if you have lots of little hands to wash before stopping for meals (and you know how damp washcloths mildew if you try to carry them on a long trip)—take along a jar of cotton balls moistened with rubbing alcohol.

Besides being sanitary, it's cooling.

I got this idea from my doctor's little black bag. . . . Traveling Mommy

Dear Heloise: Did you also know that you could put folded facial tissues in a fruit jar and pour a little alcohol over them, cap the lid and shake. They are fabulous too!

If you don't have facial tissues, strips of toilet tissue or paper towels will suffice.

These are also great when carried in the trunk of a car so if you have to change a tire you have something to wash your hands with.

Be SURE to cap the jar tightly so the alcohol won't evaporate; in fact, we have learned to mix one-third water with two-thirds alcohol! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: It used to be that when my children asked for chocolate milk I would say to myself, "Oh boy, here I go again—mix the powder with hot water or get lumps."

Well, I don't mind mixing chocolate now. I mix the contents of the entire can with water at one time and then store it in a jar in the refrigerator. Now it takes no time at all to make chocolate milk. And best of all no lumps or warm milk. . . . Mother

Dear Heloise: Don't throw away leftover pie crust dough!

Roll the dough out and cut it into squares about four inches square. Spread them with a favorite jam. Fold them over (jam side in) and bake them while you are baking your pies.

These tarts are a yummy and all-time favorite lunch box treat. . . . Brenda Briggs

Dear Heloise: When sprinkling my laundry I put the belts to all of my dresses in plastic bags and then roll them up.

This prevents rust marks from the belt buckles appearing on my dresses. . . . Irene Greenhalgh

Dear Heloise: Down on my knees this morning picking up a jillion BB's that had spilled from a jar, I had a flash of inspiration.

A magnet! It worked so well (and was so much fun — shh) that I had to share the idea.

With five children, if it's not BB's, it's erector set nuts and bolts, needles, etc., and I'm always being accused of sucking them up in the vacuum cleaner.

So from now on, to save knees, eyes, tweed rug and temper, the magnet comes along in my pocket when I'm on my vacuum cleaning detail.

It's quick, more accurate than fumbling fingers and squinty eyes, 'cause you just have to come close and it's fun, too (but that's a secret).

So, try it, mom! It works! . . . Doty Burdett

Puzzle of Saturday, August 8, Solved

War Hero Slays Couple, Himself

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A Medal of Honor Marine killed himself and a married couple by triggering a rifle with hook-like artificial hands, a medical examiner said, but officers could find no motive for the shooting.

William G. Harrell, 42, a former Marine sergeant who lost both hands while fighting off a Japanese charge on Iwo Jima in 1945, died from a bullet wound in the head on his driveway early Sunday.

Medical examiner Rube Santos said Harrell minutes before had killed E. Zumwalt, 39, another World War II amputee, and Zumwalt's wife, Geraldine, 43.

The shooting occurred before dawn in a fashionable area of the city. Zumwalt's body was beside Harrell. Mrs. Zumwalt lay dead in the kitchen.

HELPING OTHERS
 For years, Harrell worked in the Veterans Administration helping other battle-scarred veterans rehabilitate themselves.

"He was tops," Percy J. Mims, manager of the regional VA office here, said. "He seemed in good spirits when I saw him last Friday. This is a real shock."

The Medal of Honor was given Harrell after he and a fellow Marine, Pfc. Andrew Jackson Carter of Paducah, Tex., fought face-to-face with the enemy on March 3, 1945.

Harrell and Carter, who occupied adjoining foxholes on a company perimeter, later became known as the "two-man Alamo" to buddies.

GRENAD
 The citation said that after a grenade tore off Harrell's left hand and fractured his thigh, he fought on. A charging Japanese then wounded him with a saber. Harrell shot him with his pistol. Two more enemy soldiers charged, one tossing a grenade near his head. Harrell killed one of them and pushed the other away as the grenade exploded, blowing off Harrell's right hand and killing the Japanese.

At dawn, when Harrell was evacuated, there were 12 dead Japanese. He was credited with killing five.

Discharged as a sergeant in 1946, he returned to his home in Mercedes, Tex. The Kiwanis Club raised $15,000 for him to buy a ranch, but in 1949 he moved to San Antonio and used the funds to build a home here.

He joined the Veterans Administration here and worked his way up to chief of the prosthetic appliance group.

As a hobby he practiced marksmanship with pistols and rifles, using mechanical hands.

WORLD'S FAIR
 Harrell's wife and two children, a boy, 12, and a girl, 10, found the bodies shortly after 3 a.m. as they returned from a visit with relatives at the World's Fair in New York.

Santos placed the time of death between 1 a.m. and 3 a.m. He said a neighbor reported hearing four or five shots shortly before 2 a.m.

"I don't think we will ever be able to determine a motive," he said. "Everyone involved is dead. There were no signs of an argument in the house." The three attended a cook-out at a friend's home Saturday night.

Detective Dave Keene said Mrs. Zumwalt was shot while in the kitchen and Zumwalt as he ran down the driveway.

All three died of bullet wounds in the head. The weapon, an Army carbine, was near Harrell's body.

Zumwalt, a gunsmith, lost one leg and was wounded in the other during the war. Friends said the two men had known each other for some time.

Rodriguez Finishes Ahead Of Palmer

CHICAGO (AP) — Chi Chi Rodriguez, the long-driving 120-pound Puerto Rican, has an answer for everything. After winning top prize of $11,000 in the Western Open, he cracked: "When I was a kid fertilizing sugar cane, I never thought I would have this much in my whole life. "I remember when I first started playing on the golf tour. I went around in Pete Cooper's car. When we stopped for gas, I would pretend I was asleep in the back seat. When the check came in a restaurant, I would sneak away to the men's room. "Pete did a lot for me. He changed my grip and it changed my whole golf game. "Also, I have tremendous respect for Ed Dudley. He hired me as assistant pro at Dorado Beach (in Puerto Rico). He gave me the down payment for a home and my first car. He was a great man. Cooper is a veteran pro now in Sorrento, Fla. Dudley died last October.

Chi Chi, a 28-year-old bachelor who once wanted to make a career as a baseball pitcher, now is head pro at Dorado Beach. His winnings from the Western Open boosted him from ninth to sixth on the PGA earning list with $46,610.

Chi Chi, who constantly jabsbers with his fans — of whom there were plenty among the record 20,000 for a Western Open in Sunday's gallery — won with a closing 36-31 — 67 for a 72-hole total of 268.

He finished two holes ahead of Arnold Palmer, defending champion. They had started the last round in a dead heat for the lead at 201.

Palmer was one-stroke behind with three holes to go. On the 70th, he missed a 10-foot birdie putt that would have squared him.

On the 71st he was over the green on his approach. He went to the cup coming back, but the ball rolled 25 feet past. He wound up with bogey. He couldn't recover from that even with an 18-foot birdie tap on the 72nd and finished with a 68 for 269.

Sharing third place at 275 were Jack Nicklaus and Don Massengale. Ken Venturi was next at 277.

After Four Birdies, He Thinks He's One

Chi Chi Rodriguez, who fired four birdies on the last nine holes to win the Western Open golf tournament in Chicago Sunday, flaps his arms as he hovers over the final cup on which he placed his hat. The Puerto Rican beat Arnold Palmer by one stroke with a 72-hole total of 268. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Atlanta Tries For Pro Team In AFL Loop

ATLANTA (AP)—An organization known as Atlanta Football, Inc., has applied for an American Football League franchise for the 1965 season.

Charlie Leachman, an Atlanta stockbroker who is president of the football group, said Sunday he had just returned from Chicago where he gave AFL Commissioner Joe Foss the $25,000 in earnest money necessary to get the ball rolling toward a franchise.

Leachman pointed out that the check was just the first step in the process of obtaining a team and that this group was still in the process of completing the other details of the application form.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

ONLY IN SPORTS:
From how high up can a baseball be caught?
CHARLES "GABBY" STREET, a catcher for the Washington Senators, will always be remembered for a stunt catch of his Aug. 21, 1908, when he caught a ball thrown from the top of the Washington Monument. And it was all because of a wager. The ball fell 505 feet, at the rate of 161 feet a second, and the fall's force was that of an object weighing 117 pounds.

But, in 1940, a former Cleveland Indians catcher, HANK HELF, topped Street with a catch of a ball thrown from the top of the Terminal Tower in Cleveland — a 700-foot drop.

The greatest circus catch of all time, though, came in 1931, by another Cleveland player, JOE SPRINZ. He caught a ball dropped from a blimp cruising at 800 feet. The force of the ball was so great it broke his jaw . . .

Once, before the turn of the century, a woman actually played in organized baseball. She was a pitcher by the name of LIZZIE STROUD, who was hired by Ed Barrow to pitch in the old Atlantic League. It caused quite a sensation . . .

T. L. (NERVY) BAYNE, Tulane's first football coach, also coached the opponents (Louisiana State) in Tulane's first game (1895). In a monumental undertaking, he invented a yell, chose the school colors, selected a field and built goal posts, managed ticket sales and umpired the contest. For his services he received a green umbrella . . .

In 1704, MAXIMILIAN II of Bavaria became one of the world's biggest losers. He lost $3,000,000 betting on the skill of one billiard player . . .

Then on May 2, 1936, the oil tycoon HARRY SINCLAIR wagered $500,000 on Brevity to win the Kentucky Derby and lost his money when the animal finished second by a nose . . .

In 1934, an unknown Lehigh University football player named SNOOKS DOWD scored the longest unofficial touchdown on record in a game with traditional rival Lafayette. Driven back with the ball when Lafayette tackles broke through the Lehigh lines, Dowd grew confused and set off for his own goal. Just as he crossed the goal line he realized his mistake, and without stopping, he circled the end zone and reversed his run, racing the entire length of the field to score a victory for Lehigh. The run totaled at 210 yards . . .

During 1939, when BOB FELLER was one of baseball's best pitchers, he arranged to have his mother specially brought to Chicago from her farm in Iowa, so that she could see her son pitch for the first time in a major-league game.

Early in the contest, the Cleveland fireballer buried a fast strike at a Chicago White Sox batter who fouled it off into the stands. Although there were 45,000 people in the stands, it found Feller's mother, striking her in the head and knocking her unconscious. Badly injured, she was rushed to a hospital. Even stranger was the fact that it happened on Mother's Day.

City Softball Champs

Lt. Col. M. W. Sharek, commander of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB, receives the American Softball League championship trophy which the base won recently in the city tourney. Players pictured are, from left to right, T. Sgt. D. E. Boyce, S. Sgt. D. H. Franz, A.I.C. J. W. Warren, T. Sgt. Jim Fluey, A.I.C. S. H. Tinsley, Sharek, A.I.C. K. N. Moun, A.I.C. E. C. Brown, A.I.C. J. I. Saldin, and S. Sgt. R. G. Taylor. Captains Vic Figlan, Eric Miller, Gil Dunne and Art Arthur are not shown.

Mays' Four Bingos Whip Cincinnati, 7-5

Willie Mays personally lifted the San Francisco Giants to two weekend victories, tripling home the only run in Saturday's 1-0 victory over Cincinnati, then collecting four hits for the first time this season as the Giants whipped the Reds 7-5 Sunday.

Not since May when he was hitting above the .400 mark has he put on such an outstanding one-man show as he did Sunday. He slammed his 32nd homer, a double and two singles, drove in three runs, scored two and stole two bases.

Mays, bothered by a heavy cold, was not scheduled to play against the Mets at New York last Wednesday. But with Manager Al Dark under fire and his job threatened, Mays asked to be inserted in the lineup.

"I shouldn't be playing," he said, "but I've got to help that man."

That was the last he said on the subject.

Since then, in four games, he's hit three homers, driven in six runs and collected eight hits in 17 at-bats.

Mays' latest efforts kept the Giants 2 1/2 games behind the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies, who whipped New York 6-0 behind Jim Bunning's five-hit pitching and a two-run homer by former Met Frank Thomas.

In other games, Jim Paggiaroni's two-run homer gave Pittsburgh a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs, Denny Lemaster pitched a four-hitter as Milwaukee defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-2 and Ray Saadecki posted his 13th victory in St. Louis' 8-2 triumph over Houston.

Rams Thunder Past Cowboys

Eddie Wilson sparked the Chiefs to an early lead and their strong defense thwarted a late Oakland threat.

The largest crowd, an estimated 65,000, turned out at New Orleans where the St. Louis Cardinals upset the Green Bay Packers 20-7. Star back Paul Hornung, back in action after a year's suspension for betting on games, carried the ball only five times for Green Bay. He gained a total of 29 yards, his best effort a 16-yard run.

The Minnesota Vikings whipped the New York Giants 21-7 before 31,581 at Minneapolis and the Detroit Lions nipped the Washington Redskins 28-27 before 18,781 at Charlotte.

In other games the Baltimore Colts whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 28-17 before 18,500 at Hershey, Pa.; the San Diego Chargers downed the Denver Broncos 34-20 before 2,293 at San Diego; the Houston Oilers walloped the Boston Patriots 29-7 before 20,087 at Newton, Mass., and the Buffalo Bills clouted the New York Jets 26-13 before 5,827 at Tampa, Fla.

Roman Gabriel, who is expected to lead the Rams back to title contention in the NFL, sparked the Rams to a 17-4 triumph over the Dallas Cowboys before 57,450 at Los Angeles. He completed 16 of 26 passes for 59 and set up both Ram touchdowns.

Kansas City, the 1963 flop of the year in the AFL after winning the championship in 1962, whipped the Oakland Raiders 21-14 before 11,118 at Oakland. The passing of Len Dawson and

Baltimore Keeps Lead Over Yanks

The New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles wound up a key, four-game series Sunday at Yankee Stadium before the season's biggest crowd — 58,102. It was the first of several August sets in which the Yankees usually chop down their American League pennant rivals.

When Sunday's doubleheader had ended, however, Baltimore was running a high flag fever while New York was running a tired third in the league's stretch race.

The Orioles' 4-2 victory in the finale kept them two games in front of the Yankees — the Chicago White Sox are second, 1 1/2 games out — and the Yanks needed a clutch pitching effort by Al Downing in their 2-1 first game decision to avert a Baltimore series sweep. The Orioles won 2-0 Friday night and 6-3 Saturday.

The Yankees get another shot at the Orioles next weekend at Baltimore but, at present, the defending AL champions are in their worst position at this stage of the race since 1959, when the White Sox took the flag. The Yankees have four games with Chicago coming up while the Orioles play host to Boston, with the best opportunity to increase their lead.

The White Sox divided a doubleheader with the Red Sox, losing the opener 6-3 and copping the second game 4-1. The Detroit Tigers ran their longest winning streak of the campaign to seven with a 4-2, 5-2 sweep of Kansas City but Cleveland's victory string ended at five when Minnesota beat the Indians 3-1 after a 7-0 first-game loss.

Washington rallied for five runs in the ninth inning and edged the Los Angeles Angels 6-5 in the league's only single game.

Rains Beats Bailey In City Tournament

Bernard Rains holed out a do-or-die two foot putt Sunday on the 18th hole of the municipal golf course for a birdie and then went on to birdie the second extra hole as he beat Charles Bailey, 1 up 20, to win the 16th annual city golf championship.

This was Rains first tournament win of his links career, and it was in typical Rains fashion, as his final three opponents of this year's tournament found out. In each case, he was down two holes going into the 18th.

But being behind was nothing new to Rains Sunday and in winning he showed one of the great clutch performances of the year. After only five holes, Bailey, last year's city champ who beat Rains in the finals, was three-up, a lead he held through the turn. But Rains began to chip away at the lead, crumming home a par on 12, as Bailey bogied holing out with an eight-iron from 30 feet for an eagle on 13, and coming back with another birdie on 15. But Bailey was not to be outdone as he birdied 16, putting him one up, an advantage he enjoyed until Bernard Rains put on the final hole. After both men barely missed putts on the first extra hole for birds, Rains hit his second shot within five feet of the pin and sunk it for the victory and still another birdie, his fifth of the day.

Although this was Rains first tournament win, it continued a string of high finishes in tournaments, one of the latest being a second place in the Big Spring Open when he had Lubbock's Roland Adams for a partner.

In the last four meetings between Rains and Bailey in a golf tournament, they have each won twice.

Winners of other flights were: first flight, Joe Peay over Edie Acri, 1 up; second flight, Jimmy Harper over E. B. Martin, 4-3; third flight, Melvin Newton over Shi Gorman, 5-4; and fourth flight, Bob Rogers over B. F. McCreary, 1 up.

In the consolation brackets, it went like this: championship flight, Paul Mosley over Neal Robinson, 5-4; first flight, Joe Connally over Ted Hull, 1 up; second flight, Shorty Gideon over Clarence Schafer, 1 up; third flight, Richie Arnold over Dan Greenwood; and fourth flight, Joe Graves over Frank Maberry, 2-1.

Dear Abby

Be Ready With A 'No'

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl. I had two dates with an 18-year-old boy I've had a secret crush on for a long time. He was an hour late both times, but I didn't say anything. Then he took me to a big party, and wandered away. Nobody even knew who I was with. I had a horrible time. Later he took me to the Senior Prom and I never had a better time in my whole life. He said he had a great time, too, and I know he did. That was the last time I saw him. I heard that he is practically rushing another girl off her feet. I want him to know that after all I took from him, he can't treat me this way and get away with it, and if he were to call me up and BEG me for a date I would turn him down. How can I let him know how I feel? "WHO NEEDS HIM?"

DEAR WHO: When he calls you up and BEGS you for a date, tell him!

DEAR ABBY: Our 22-year-old daughter has been married three times. The first marriage was a mistake because they were both too young. (The boy's mother had to sign for him.) They called it quits after a year. At 19 she married a 29-year-old Mamma's boy. That lasted two years. Her last husband was an older man. She had known him only a month and, after she married him, she found out that he hadn't even been free to marry her. It was a mess! Now she is back home and has special training and has never worked a day in her life. Her father supports her. I think, under the circumstances, we should have some say about the company she keeps, don't you? Some of the characters she goes with would make you ill. She is our only child and we do love her. What can we do? TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Tell your daughter she is old enough now to support herself, and that she must. She is still young enough to acquire "special training" if she wants it. If she will accept professional guidance, it would be worth the effort. It will have to come from outside, however, as she quit listening to you years ago.

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a man who likes dogs, but he can't stand cats. I have always had a cat. I love cats. At the present my mother is keeping my two cats, and when I told my husband I wanted to bring them home he said, "NO CATS in this house!" He says cats are for old maids and lonely widows who have nobody to love them. I don't agree with him on this, but don't want to make an issue of it. What can I do? This is my first marriage and his third.

LOVES CATS

DEAR LOVES: Leave your cats at your mother's and go visit them when you get lonesome. Your husband sounds tough enough to live with WITHOUT an excuse.

Square Dancers Plan Schedule

The Big Spring Square Dancers Club will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the club building on the south side of town to form a committee to plan the events in September when the Western Association, made up of dancers from all over West Texas, meets here for a dance.

Everyone interested in serving on the committee is invited to attend the meeting.

A beginners class in square dancing will begin Aug. 21 from 8-10:30 p.m. at the club building. Harold and Ethel Graves, who have been teaching classes at the YMCA since October 1959, will be the instructors.

The 20-week class will cost $1 per night for each couple with registration closing after the first three weeks of the class.

Anyone seeking further information should contact the Graves at AM 3-3771.

Attend Camp

One of the largest groups ever reported from here left today for Camp Inspiration at Eastland from the First Church of God. Rev. V. Ward Jackson, pastor, said 22 young people and sponsors would attend the Senior Youth Camp which began today and will continue through Saturday noon.

Government Whittles Cotton Crop Estimate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's first forecast of the year put the cotton crop at 14,785,000 bales, a decrease of 3.5 per cent from last year. The Texas crop was placed at 4,250,000 bales.

The crop is being grown under government controls. Reserve and surplus supplies of about 12.4 million bales accumulated from past crops.

Market demands from the 1964 crop supply are expected to total about 13.5 million bales.

Today's report said the average yield of lint cotton per harvested acre this year is expected to be 506 pounds compared with last year's record 516 pounds. The yield for the 1958-62 period averaged 454 pounds. Last year's crop totaled 15,327,000 bales compared with the 1956-62 average of 13,905,000.

The acreage expected to be harvested this year was forecast at 14,034,000 acres compared with 14,212,000 last year and 14,696,000 for the 1956-62 average.

The Census Bureau said 132,092 bales had been ginned prior to Aug. 1 compared with 244,709 a year earlier.

The acreage for harvest, the yield per harvested acre and the production, respectively, by states included: Texas 5,675,000 acres for harvest, 359 pounds per acre and production 4,250,000 bales; Arkansas 1,230,000; 576 and 1,475,000; Louisiana 525,000; 571 and 625,000; Oklahoma 585,000; 230 and 280,000; and New Mexico 188,000; 638 and 250,000.

Abandonment of the acreage is expected to about 4.9 per cent compared with 4.2 last season.

Abandonment was generally less than average except in Texas, where drought has reduced prospects with some growers removing acreage in excess of domestic allotments.

The severe drought in Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma has severely limited plant growth and fruiting on dry land acreages, the department said.

"If the drought continues, abandonment, including plow up of acreage in excess of the domestic allotment, may be more than currently estimated, the report said. "Drought has also reduced expected yields in Central Texas."

Violence Takes 34 Lives On Weekend, 20 In Traffic

By The Associated Press
 Violence claimed 34 lives in Texas during the weekend, including 20 victims of traffic accidents.

The toll was tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Among the latest fatalities were:

A former Marine sergeant in World War II, William Harrell, 42, of San Antonio, was ruled a suicide. Police said Harrell, who lost both hands in winning the Medal of Honor, shot and killed Edward Zumwalt, 39, and Zumwalt's wife Geraldine, 43, and then killed himself. The shootings occurred early Sunday.

Three Fort Worth people were killed and four others injured in Hill County Sunday when their car hit a bridge 2 miles south of Malone on State 171.

Red Treatment Of Jews Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was urged today to approve a resolution that condemns the Soviet Union's treatment of its Jewish citizens.

"No policy is more firmly fixed in the conduct of U.S. foreign affairs than this moral imperative to come to the aid of oppressed peoples," said Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., in prepared testimony.

"The diplomatic and the historical record is complete and honorable and one that should make every American hold his head high."

Similarly, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., said in a statement prepared for delivery: "The world has learned from bitter experience of the dangers of the persecution of the Jews. We have learned that it is a symptom of a greater sickness, a symptom which, though it hurts the sufferer, is not felt by others until the sickness spreads."

And Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said in a statement submitted to the committee: "This proposal calls for an expression of the sense of the U.S. Senate in opposition to religious persecution. Even if it saves but one life, it is worth that effort of passing this resolution."

Anti-Semitism is a criminal offense in the Soviet Union, and the Soviet constitution guarantees equal rights to all its citizens.

Nevertheless, visitors to the country and students of Soviet affairs claim Russian Jews are being persecuted. They cite the reduction in the number of synagogues, references to Jewish identity in accounts of alleged economic crimes, and restrictions affecting traditional foods and customs.

Ruling Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange have come out against the Supreme Court ruling that representation in both houses of state legislatures must be based solely on population.

Killed were sisters Joan and Bernice Cooper, 8 and 9, and Freddie Norwood, 43. Their mother, Mrs. Perlie Cooper, 30, suffered critical injuries. Also injured were Rufus Williams, 22, driver of the car; Lollie Ronoy Jr., 38, and Freddie Cooper, 7.

Willie Bateman, 16, died at a Midland hospital Sunday night of a head wound inflicted by a 12 gauge shotgun last Tuesday at his home 8 miles west of Stanton. Officers are holding a brother, Bobby Bateman, 17, on a charge of assault to murder.

Stanton Police Chief Bob Smith said the two argued over a book of paper matches.

Donald Turley, 22, of Fort Worth was killed Sunday in a car-truck collision on State 156 just north of Blue Mound, in Tarrant County.

James Graff, 30, a sailor stationed at Orange, was killed Sunday when his car overturned 5 miles north of Orange.

Phillip Payne, 16, of San Marcos was killed Sunday when a car hit the bicycle he was riding on Interstate 35 in San Marcos.

Tony LoBue, 49, drowned Sunday in a boating accident on Taylor's Bayou, about 15 miles southwest of Beaumont. He was a Beaumont lounge operator.

Billy Wallace, 18, was shot to death and a companion wounded Sunday as gunfire broke out between Negro and white groups at a Dallas park.

Fred Jacobitz, 54, died Sunday after his car and a mail truck collided in San Antonio.

A woman in the car, Kathryn Voss, was injured.

Leon Silva, 38, of Dallas drowned Sunday in Lake Arlington near Fort Worth. He jumped into deep water to help a youngster who had fallen from a boat. The child was rescued.

A Devotional For The Day

Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen. (Matthew 28:20.)
PRAYER: O Lord, Thou who walked with Moses and all others who have loved and honored Thee, be Thou near to me. Keep me close enough to Thee to share Thy secrets and to be responsive to Thy love, that I may not fail Thee. In Christ's name. Amen.

Federal Sales Tax Repeal Overdue

Harley H. Hinrichs, University of Maryland economist, has handed the House Ways and Means Committee a persuasive argument for repealing the federal retail sales taxes levied during World War II to discourage luxury buying and conserve strategic materials.

He estimated that it costs more than a million retail stores in excess of $300 million to collect excise levies that yield only about $500 million a year. The taxation thus is a double burden on business—adding to costs while decreasing consumer demand—that is unjustified by the relatively low revenue benefit to federal public works and services.

These "war taxes" are not only anachronistic; they work against contemporary national economic and fiscal policies, which seek to stimulate expanding demand and production that will generate the higher federal revenues needed. Furthermore, the federal retail sales taxes are encroachments on a major tax source of the financially hard-pressed state governments, a conflict in tax structures that should be eliminated irrespective of other considerations.

Congress is unlikely to take any action beyond House committee hearings on the excise-repeal issue this session, but the new Congress next year should no longer defer action already more than a decade overdue. Another federal income tax reduction can hardly be justified—a matter that will get some discussion in the coming campaign—until these holdover war levies are scrapped.

Training For New Job Needs

Almost everyone is familiar by now with the problems resulting from what has come to be known as the population explosion, which means that so many people are being born now days and so many others are living longer that there soon may not be room for all of them.

The latest phrase, newly introduced by the World Health Organization headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, is "population implosion." Dictionaries define "implosion" as "a bursting inward" and the WHO people use their phrase to describe the movement of rural populations into urban areas, which trend they say is "assuming catastrophic dimensions."

Though Texas so far has felt the implosion less than some other states, one of its causes or effects—no one can say positively which is which—is the growth of industrialization. Manufacturing industry gravitates to urban centers and creates jobs, while mechanization and other developments in agriculture cut down on farm employment.

Yet the presidents of 32 Texas junior colleges reported to the Texas Education Agency that too many public schools of the state are still emphasizing vocational training for agricultural jobs that no longer exist in quantity, while ignoring the mechanical and technical industrial skills that are increasingly in demand.

The importance of the point gains emphasis from President Johnson, who, in signing the Vocational Act of 1963, said he had been advised that 100,000 technical jobs are being created each year with only 20,000 persons annually completing training to fill them.

The next Texas Legislature will be asked to provide $3 million for a two-year program starting Sept. 1, 1965—or $1.5 million a year—designed to train Texans, young and old, in money-making skills. If junior college districts will provide an equal amount, the U.S. would match the total with a $3 million-a-year grant of federal funds.

The World Health Organization says of the "implosion" that only 10 percent of the earth's population may be living and working on the farms by the end of the century, if present trends continue. The change may not be quite that drastic in Texas, but it is satisfying to know that leaders in both education and industry are taking a hard and realistic view of how to get implored potential workers ready for implosion-created jobs.

Example Of 'Brinkmanship'

WASHINGTON — President Johnson and the Congress of the United States have given the world a dramatic example of "brinkmanship" that reflects the determination of the American people to use military force, if necessary, to repel aggression.

THE JOINT RESOLUTION authorizing the use of American naval, land and air forces in Southeast Asia to prevent further aggressive acts is exactly in line with the policies advocated by the late John Foster Dulles, secretary of state in the Eisenhower Administration.

Yet the word "brinkmanship" has been associated with criticism of Mr. Dulles and has repeatedly been taken out of context to imply that those who support the Dulles idea are "trigger-happy" people bent upon starting a war.

SENATOR GOLDWATER a few weeks ago, in an interview published in a German newspaper, was quoted as having said:

"My ideas for a successful American foreign policy correspond generally to the policy of the Eisenhower government and Secretary of State Dulles. You must always show yourself ready to throw in everything if you want to be respected and you are fighting for peace."

HE WAS THEN asked: "So, a policy of 'up to the brink of war,' as Secretary of State Dulles long held to be correct?" His reply was:

"Yes; the only person who is respected is the one who clearly says—when necessary—that he is determined to go to extremes. That is a policy that your country and all successful countries have followed throughout the past thousand years."

THE MISUSE of the word "brinkmanship" arises from the mistaken theory that the American government would deliberately create a crisis in order to rattle a sword or threaten another country. The true meaning of "brinkmanship" is a policy of readiness—a willingness to fight if necessary and to indicate clearly to the other side that aggression will be repelled.

IT IS INTERESTING to recall that when President Eisenhower and both parties in Congress united on a resolution to authorize the use of military forces to protect Formosa, the Red Chinese took note of the action and discontinued their aggression. It is hoped that there will similarly be a cessation now of acts of aggression and military threats in Southeast Asia.

Vice President Picking Far Short Of Perfection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American government, though a work of genius, still has points that are open to criticism.

One is the system for picking vice presidential nominees.

It has come to be assumed that if the presidential nominee of a party wants to decide the choice of his running mate, he can do it.

The argument runs: A president is responsible for his administration, so it is only right that he pick his own team, certainly his No. 2 man.

But is it fair? Is it democratic for one man to make the decision, which could be fateful for the country? You can get an argument here.

No one doubts that President Johnson's voice will be the deciding one when the Democrats round out their ticket at Atlantic City this month.

Similarly, it was Barry Goldwater who did the deciding for the Republican convention at San Francisco, when the vice presidential choice was William E. Miller.

And everybody knows how singlehandedly John F. Kennedy picked Lyndon B. Johnson to run with him in 1960.

A MAN RUNNING for a presidential nomination has it tough. He frequently has to go through great campaign agonies in a drive for votes — and spend a lot of money.

But to become the vice presidential nominee nowadays, a man doesn't have to do anything but look good to one other man — the presidential nominee.

It hasn't always been this way. The nation's founding fathers set up a system whereby the runner-up for president became the vice president. That system was junked with the growth of political parties.

And it hasn't always been the case even in recent years: the presidential nominee had the whole say-so on the vice presidential pick. In 1956 Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, left the selection up to the convention.

BUT FOR THE most part, the presidential nominees more and more have called the vice presidential shots.

In 1952, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gave his blessing to Richard M. Nixon for second place on his Republican ticket. He stuck with Nixon again in 1956.

In 1952 John Nance Garner, loser to Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Democratic presidential nomination, was handed the vice presidential nomination.

Later Garner criticized Roosevelt's third term plans. Roosevelt dropped him and picked Henry A. Wallace for his running mate. Then, in 1944 FDR let Wallace go and in the end it was Harry S. Truman who was vice president when Roosevelt died.

INSTANT AFTER instance could be cited of the chancy, sometimes almost whimsical, ways in which vice presidents have been chosen.

Yet, eight men picked for vice president for one reason or another — sometimes by one man alone — have succeeded to the most powerful office in the land, not through merit but because the president died.

Matches Are More Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Matches start more fires, kill more people, cause more property damage than volcanoes.

Mother earth lives in eternal restlessness. She is like a fat lady with a tight girdle. Every day there is an average of 85 earthquakes, most of them harmless.

WE SEEK TO land on the moon before we have freed our own globe from the tyranny of ignorance and the fringe benefits of science. For example, despite the local popularity of the electric light bulb, most of the world's population is illuminated by the candle and the fire-place.

On the other hand, our choice of change at home is increased year by year. The best supermarkets now carry at least 6,000 items.

One of the biggest but least-known causes of private melancholy is that people wear shoes too tight for their feet. You can't feel free in the head if your tootsies hurt. Walking with the Army infantry taught me that most of my life I had been wearing a shoe half a size too short — 9½ instead of 10.

THIS REMINDS me of the new joke about why the fellow were pointed shoes. They are a great help in stamping out cockroaches in corners," he explained learnedly.

It also reminds me of an old joke — I believe it belongs to George Ade — about the shrewd advantage of wearing white shoes: "They don't show frost."

Our quotable notables: "We women don't care too much about getting our pictures on money as long as we can get our hands on it." — Ivy Baker Priest, former U.S. treasurer.

The first living U.S. president to have his likeness on an American coin was Calvin Coolidge. He and George Washington were portrayed on one side of the 1926 sesquicentennial half-dollar, now a collector's item. Only 141,120 of the coins were minted.

HELPFUL HINTS for the old-fashioned housewife: Apples stored in the basement with potatoes will keep the potatoes from sprouting.

Worth remembering: "Dentopedology," said Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, "is the science of opening your mouth and putting your foot in it. I've been practicing it for years."

Quickies: Americans will sneeze into an estimated 100 billion facial tissues during the current year fever season. Half the money that husbands spend to woo their wives with flowers is expended on roses. In Denmark, which has one of the world's highest literacy rates, one out of 10 children is born out of wedlock.

IT WAS GEN. David Monroe Shoup, on retiring last year as commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps, who observed, "We fight any enemy the president designates. We don't just keep talking communism, communism. You might build up hate against one enemy and find yourself fighting another."

To Your Good Health

There Are Different Kinds Of Arthritis

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has arthritis in the lumbar region (lower back and hip) and has been told to keep active and take aspirin if the pain becomes severe.

For six years he worked and the pain left him almost completely. A year ago he accepted a supervisor's job which includes driving a pick-up truck all day.

Within two months his trouble returned and worsened by the day. He won't even bend his back because it hurts too much. I enclose the required five cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope for a copy of your leaflet, "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis." — MRS. C. B. C.

I wonder if his problem is entirely arthritis—or only partly. You'll notice in the leaflet my warning that diagnosis is extremely important. Not every pain is arthritis. Furthermore, there are different kinds of arthritis. Your mention of pain in his back AND HIP raises the question at last. Could neuritis be involved? Could some of the pain be in the muscles, perhaps? Other than the arthritis itself, is some pain preventing him from moving? As a result of immobility stiffness from the arthritis will increase and in turn this will be more painful when he moves the joints.

Read the leaflet carefully, or rather, see that your husband does.

A pad, cushion or backrest, when he sits in the truck may give him more support for the back, and change his posture enough to make him much more comfortable.

Dear Dr. Molner: In your booklet, "How To Control Emphysema," you say that "exercises have been developed to strengthen respiration (breathing) muscles." What are these exercises? —MRS. E. L.

A very simple but effective one is to breathe deeply, raising arms over your head and throwing your shoulders back. Then lower your arms and throw the shoulders forward as you exhale. (This is also a good exercise for people who don't have emphysema.)

Dear Dr. Molner: My three-year-old son started stuttering six months ago. The condition is getting worse. Is this hereditary? What advice can you offer? —MRS. I. H.

No, it's not hereditary. It is generally the result of too much tension, trying too hard, being worried about speech, etc.

First, don't put pressure on the youngster. Second, get some professional advice on how to handle the problem. If there is continual discord in the family, or if the child is being pushed too hard to learn to do this, that and the other thing, suspect emotional tension.

Lots Of Room For Accidents

This and that: This significant quote comes from James K. Williams, Director of Highway Safety, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads:

"Considering the astronomical number of possible conflicts when 80 million vehicles are driven 800 billion miles per year by 95 million drivers, it must be apparent that the majority of drivers, most of the time, are doing a magnificent job of avoiding serious accidents."

Did you ever belong to an accident insurance group in which you thought every one but you reported at least five mishaps a year?

THE WAR OF attrition may be serious in some parts of the world and the war against poverty is, no doubt, sincere in this country but the war between bandits and the citizenry in Columbia is fought with something besides words, bread and ballot boxes.

In less than eight years, the unlawful element has killed 22,975 persons in that South American country.

A minute portion of that figure includes bandits hunted down by government forces but most of those dead were members of farm families raided by bandits.

The figure has diminished since 1957, however. In the decade before that, more than 300,000 were slain by marauding pistoliers.

THE UNITED STATES Department of Agriculture says that where you live makes a difference but, if you have an average family, you probably spend about $29 a week for groceries.

That figure, of course, doesn't include such things as soap, mops or beer.

That's average, I might add, for a family of four with two school-age children.

HAVE A LISTEN. One fellow says to another, he says:

"Would you like to see a model home?"

To which the other replied:

"Sure, what time does she get off from work?" —TOMMY HART

On The Cogitating Senator Fulbright

WASHINGTON — "Somebody ought to tell Senator Bill Fulbright," said Vernon J. Veritas, the old truth-teller, "that patriotism is the noblest emotion of the human breast. It has inspired more sacrifice, more valor and virtue, built more homes, launched more ships, given more people a commonality of interest than any feeling know to man."

BUT SENATOR FULBRIGHT, the complete cogitator of the upper chamber, couldn't be ignorant about such a universal verity as patriotism—could he, Mr. Veritas was asked? Very few Senators had as much education, or had done as much thinking, or attained more status as an intellectual as Fulbright of Arkansas, Chairman of Foreign Relations, author of a new book called, "Old Myths and New Realities." Is Bill Fulbright against patriotism?

"Not against it so much as he's above it," said Veritas, who cannot tell a lie. "In his new book, the Senator calls it nationalism, which is an impostor word for patriotism. He'd like to see this country, and all countries, rise above the natural affection which people down the ages have felt for their homelands." By denaturing mankind to this extent, the Senator creates the millennium of his own mind.

DID MR. VERITAS say a millennium? An imaginary paradise? Then, wasn't the Senator going in for some "myths" of his own?

"Up to page 77 of his book," averred Veritas, "you might think the Senator was only indulging in some topical cliches. On that page, Fulbright comes out against 'extreme nationalism' as one of the 'luxuries that the human race can no longer afford.' He says it's better, although 'less intoxicating, and peace' instead of for their country and its ideals. But by the time he reaches page 140, we find Fulbright inveighing against patriotism even in moderation. He says it's the most powerful single force in the world politics of the 20th Century... also the most dangerous."

MORE DANGEROUS than Communism? Doesn't Fulbright know that without their enduring nationalism—or patriotism—the Poles, the Hungarians, the East Germans would long ago have knuckled down and lost the last vestige of self-respect and identity? Doesn't he know that twenty postwar governments failed in France before De Gaulle came along and pulled that nation together again by setting out to restore France's grandeur?

"The Senator doesn't see things that way," Veritas declared. "The Senator says on page 141 that he's against 'abstract and mystic goals' such as 'the pride and power and self-respect of a nation.' He believes that a nation has no 'self' or 'soul' and that the myth of nationalism 'has now become a barrier to the historical process,' by which he means 'ever-larger political and economic communities.'"

MR. VERITAS wasn't going to say, was he, that Senator Fulbright wrote a great deal about "collective energies" and nothing at all about free enterprise? That Fulbright as good as says "science" has outmoded most of our spiritual needs and expressions? That the full belly and the long life are preferable to the poetic satisfactions and glories which great societies of history have brought to their peoples? Wasn't Mr. Veritas going to note that Senator Fulbright almost invariably voted for reducing National Defense and increasing Foreign Aid? That in this book and in his speeches, the Senator puts more stress on American "imperialism" and America's violation of treaties than he ever does on the aggressions and perfidies of our enemies? That Fulbright is almost automatically against any "prestige" consideration for the U.S.A., such as flag-flying in Panama or winning the race to the moon? Were't all these attitudes of Fulbright rather strange and stultifying to find in a Chairman of Foreign Relations?

New Boy In The Home

WASHINGTON—The inmates and wardens of Crestfallen Manor are in a state of more than ordinary confusion these days—Axel is coming to live with us.

Axel is a West German, age 16, and he will be a member of our happy household until school ends next June. He is a foreign exchange student who comes to this country under the American Field Service program.

TO BEGIN at the beginning, last winter Chip (also 16) brought a form home from school and casually asked his mum to sign it. "Whazzit?" she said, reaching for a pen.

"It's to have a foreign exchange student stay with us for a year," Chip said.

There was a succession of incomprehensible sounds, all spelled "awwaarrkk," from the chateleine of the manor. That night the matter was the subject of a full-dress debate, complete with a lot of yelling and Chip replying to every question with the same bland, "Yes, but why not?"

EVENTUALLY it boiled down to that: Why not? To begin with, there would be only one AFS student sent to Chip's high school, and if it were a girl she'd go to a family with a teenage daughter and not a teenage son. That reduced the odds to 50-50 right there. Besides, there'd be dozens of families applying, and who were we that the AFS would pick us?

Obviously we were safe. We'd apply and feel properly selfrighteous, but we'd be safe.

We signed.

THE STUDENT assigned to the high school was male.

We got him.

Another complication, and one that is unavoidable, is that you have no assurance as to the quarter of the globe your student will come from. Axel might have been named Mohammed and come from Egypt, or Iran. He might have been Turk, Tahitian, or a Tyrolian.

THIS LEADS to spirited speculation. Suppose you get a Frenchman, who'd expect to be waited upon? Or a young Communist from Minsk, who'd make bombs in the basement? (How the hell could you sign such a thing in the first place?)

Axel, who at this moment is aboard a square-rigger named the Seven Seas somewhere on the North Atlantic, is none of these things. He writes letters in English that would shame many American 16-year-olds. He has a sense of humor, and as his father wrote "... by the way, there is nothing wrong with his head."

WE ARE, of course, delighted. The opportunity to show America as really like it is worth whatever small irritants may come in its wake. Axel will, for example, get a glimpse of an American Presidential campaign and election that few non-Americans ever see. He will go to a superior American public school, and he will make friends with as fine a group of young people as dwell on earth.

Hopefully, the whole noble experiment will add a little bit to the woefully short supply of human rapport. We pray Axel will like us, but more than that we pray that he will come to understand what the American dream is really all about, and that he will take that understanding home with him when he leaves us.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Richard L. Smith of nearby Gulfport got his refund from the collector of Internal Revenue by a roundabout route.

Smith received it from Cecil A. Ball of Bartow, Fla. Ball said Smith's check was stuck in his refund check.

"I thought of sending it back to the tax office," Ball wrote, "but decided that you might be as anxious to get your check as I was mine, so I am mailing it to you direct."

HERBERT HOOVER

Hoover Says Choice Made America Tops

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, marking his 90th birthday today, says "freedom of choice" is what made America great.

"Freedom is the open window through which pours the sunlight of the human spirit and of human dignity," he said. "With the preservation of these moral and spiritual qualities and with God's grace will come further greatness for our country."

The 31st president of the United States, in his home at the Waldorf Towers, entertains four old friends at lunch today and presides at a family dinner.

Congratulations—via cables, telegrams, letters—by the thousands have been received by Hoover.

PROCLAMATIONS

President Johnson and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, along with governors of 15 other states, issued proclamations designating today as Herbert Hoover Day.

Hoover, who has survived a series of illnesses starting with a gall bladder attack in 1958, did not see newsmen Sunday, but issued a statement. His physician, Dr. Michael Lepore, said Hoover's general health is "good for a man of 90."

Lepore said Hoover is mentally alert and only his "rugged constitution" has brought him through medical emergencies, including an operation for cancer.

The Hoover apartment was gaily decorated. There was a huge birthday cake shaped in the form of the Hoover Promenade at the World's Fair.

And the former president, always a baseball fan, watched the opening of the doubleheader at Yankee Stadium on television Sunday and saw the ceremony in his honor.

FREEDOM

In his statement, Hoover said, "among us there is greater freedom for the individual man and woman than in any other nation."

Hoover voiced "deep regret" at the denial of "an equal chance for our Negro population."

He added, however: "Our 19 million American Negroes probably own more automobiles than all the 220 million Russians and the 200 million African Negroes put together."

T. L. Porter Gets Degree

The University of Missouri conferred a Doctor of Philosophy degree upon Thomas Lee Porter, Big Spring, in commencement services at Columbia, Mo., last Friday.

Porter will teach psychology and prepare a rehabilitation program at the University of Georgia, Athens, Ga. He is married to the former Margaret McDougal, also of Big Spring, and the family includes three children. The Porters will live at 280 Greencrest Drive, Athens. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Porter, 1611 Indian Hills, Big Spring.

Double Winner Enjoys It Most

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It's a pretty sure bet that few people enjoyed the 1964 Penny Royal Fair as much as Jack Brown.

During the fair, Brown's name was drawn in a lottery and he won $1,000. Two nights later, he won another drawing—this time for a new car.

School Trustees To Work On Budget

The proposed budget for 1964-65 possibly will require most of the time for the Tuesday night meeting of the Big Spring school board of trustees. Resignations of personnel and employment of new personnel will also be considered, along with special business.

Supt. Sam Anderson said the new year's budget must be prepared by Aug. 20 and a public hearing date set. A revision was called for at the July 7 meeting to try for a small salary increase for personnel, and the results will be ready for a study Tuesday night to reflect a $100 per year increase for professional employees and $50 for maintenance and custodial employees.

Resignations of 18 teachers will be considered, along with recommended employment of 47 new teachers. The 47 places have been created by earlier resignations not previously acted upon by the board.

South Major Issue -- Vinson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big question in this year's presidential race is whether the South will reward a political enemy and punish an old friend, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., says.

In a statement released in Washington Sunday, Vinson said this would be the case if the South supports Sen. Barry Goldwater and opposes President Johnson.

He said the question is whether the South will be "blinded by its anger and frustration of the moment regarding its civil rights problems."

Vinson said there have been years "that organized agitators and go-gooder groups have been pushing the current civil rights crisis upon the South."

Johnson and Goldwater have voting records over these years, he said, "and both are poised today in roles almost exactly opposite their official records. Why?"

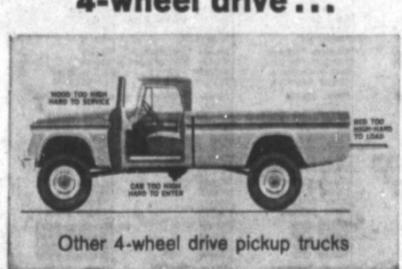

He said Johnson followed the course of all other Southerners "in attempting to stem the storm," while he said Goldwater "followed the opposite course" and "repeatedly identified himself with proponents for civil rights."

Contending that Goldwater has reversed himself, he asked, "Can it be purely for political expediency?"

Johnson, as a Southerner, "espoused the cause of the South," said Vinson, while "Lyndon Johnson, as President, had no other choice but to reflect the will of a majority of the nation."

"Agony of the moment may well cause Southerners to forget the now more remote agonies of recent years, but this lapse of memory will not change the facts."

Christian Crusade Asks Purge Of Press

DALLAS (AP)—Delegates to the national convention of the Christian Crusade passed resolutions advocating a "purge" of the American press and more protection for policemen at their final session Sunday.

A Shreveport, La., editor referred to former President Eisenhower earlier as "America's first military dictator" and said Sen. Barry Goldwater should come out publicly for repeal of the 1964 civil rights law.

Crusade press director L. E. White said the purge resolution was offered because of allegedly opinionated or inaccurate reporting of Goldwater's remarks and statements of others.

"Be it resolved," the resolution said, "that those attending this Christian Crusade convention call upon newspaper publishers in their area to purge their papers of those responsible for grossly misleading their readers on issues which are vital to the survival of the United States."

KEY THEME
Criticism of the press was a key theme of the three-day gathering.

The police resolution urged delegates to fight against "evil forces" under the name of police brutality which might lead to helplessness on the part of policemen to defend themselves.

George Shannon, editor of the Shreveport Journal, said he voted for "America's first military dictator" when he cast his ballot for Dwight Eisenhower in 1952. He said this referred to Eisenhower's sending in of troops to enforce public school integration in Arkansas in 1957.

Former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, commander of the troops sent to Little Rock, was among delegates addressed by Shannon. The former officer made a convention speech earlier.

SOMETHING NICE
Speaking of Goldwater, Shannon said the GOP presidential candidate ought to "say something nice" about the John Birch Society.

He said Goldwater should "let the people of the South know that he appreciates" Alabama Gov. George Wallace's withdrawal from the presidential race.

The editor said the 1964 Republican platform was not a "conservative document" because it was too much like the 1960 GOP platform.

During Shannon's speech, Dallas oilman H. L. Hunt left the convention. While waiting for an elevator, Hunt said "Platforms don't mean anything." Asked by a reporter if he supported the crusade, Hunt said he was an "interested observer."

Billy James Hargis, leader of the crusade, said after Shannon's speech that he didn't agree with everything the editor said but Shannon had a right to his views.

FOR GOLDWATER
"Speaking for myself, I'm one million per cent for Barry Goldwater," Hargis said.

Touching on the race issue, another dominant theme of the convention, Hargis said: "The persecuted minority in America is not the Negro but the white folks of the South."

L. D. Daniel of Dallas, the only Negro at the convention, was asked his reaction to the crusade meeting and its speeches. He said:

"I'm against taking rights from one man and giving them to another ... Negroes have made white people into a God, but white people can't give what the Negro wants. Rights come from God, not man."

Hiking Turtle Is Re-Numbered

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Old Timer, a turtle, has a new telephone number.

It's painted on his back with nail polish.

Because his old phone number was out of date, it took quite a bit of doing for the people who found him recently, two miles from his home, to return him to the Richard Walker family.

That was because he had his old number, which was for a phone in Ukiah, 75 miles from here, where the Walker family lived until five months ago.

Mrs. Walker said she painted the original number on him after he wandered off and was gone three months.

Now, at the urging of the four Walker children, she has got out the nail polish and Old Timer's phone number is up to date.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠ J 2 ♠ A K 6 4 3 ♦ 7 5 ♣ A K J 2

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts. Altho partner's bidding does not promise substantial values, one more try is indicated. His spade suit may develop enough discards to produce a game.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ A 5 ♠ K Q J 10 6 5 3 ♦ 6 ♣ A J 8

East, your right hand opponent, has opened with one diamond. What is your bid?
A.—Double. This is the type of hand that was formerly described by a jump overcall. However, that bid is now employed to show a hand containing a good suit with little high card strength. Since a mere overcall would be grossly inadequate it is necessary to double first and then bid an appropriate number of hearts on the next round.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ 7 ♠ K J 10 5 4 ♦ A Q 10 9 ♣ Q J 10

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
5 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Altho you have an absolute maximum raise, North's slam invitation must be declined for it is clear that the partnership is off two aces. North had a reasonable opportunity to show the ace of spades or the ace of clubs, and his failure to do so is indication that he has neither.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ A Q 10 2 ♦ 8 7 5 ♣ K 7 5 4 3 ♠ Q 10

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ 1 ♠

What action do you take?
A.—Pass. Despite the fact that you have a spade stopper and have previously passed, you do not have sufficient for a free bid.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

♠ K J 10 8 4 ♠ K Q 8 2 ♦ Q 6 4 ♣ K

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 NT Pass ?

What is your rebid?
A.—Three hearts. Despite the fact that your hand is aceless and your partner has previously passed you should take further action. An effort should be made to steer the contract into a major suit. Our second choice would be three no trump. We would give no consideration to a pass.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ 4 ♠ A 6 2 ♦ 10 8 8 6 3 4 2 ♣ 6 3

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
3 ♣ Pass 4 ♣ Double
Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—Five diamonds. This is a safe and sound procedure. We would not accept the double, because there is a grave danger that the contract would be fulfilled, particularly if partner has some high diamonds. Furthermore, it is not at all remote that a contract of five diamonds could be fulfilled. In any case, the loss from such action could hardly be serious.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ 6 ♠ 8 5 3 ♦ J 4 3 ♣ A Q 10 9 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♠

What action do you take?
A.—Pass. No thought should be given for a bid of three clubs. If your partner bids spades again you can then mention your suit.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ K Q J 10 ♠ 10 7 4 ♦ 9 5 3 ♣ 7 2

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Double 4 ♦ ?

What action do you take?
A.—Four spades. This involves slight risk, but you cannot afford to be shut out. The bidding makes it clear that partner is very short in diamonds.

Game Warden
Gunned Down

LIVINGSTON (AP) — Game Warden Wayne Chappell, 24, was wounded by buckshot when he came upon three men accused of deer poaching Saturday night.

Chappell was struck in the left arm, body and right foot. He was reported in satisfactory condition.

Constable R. B. Lollar said the warden was fired upon as he flashed a light and identified himself.

Two white men in their 20s and a 70-year-old Negro were arrested after a manhunt in which more than 100 police officers aided by bloodhounds participated. The three were held without formal charge.

Defunct Bank's
Creditors Paid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. is paying a 45 per cent dividend to holders of claims against the closed First National Bank of Marlin, Tex.

FDIC Chairman Joseph Barr said Sunday the dividend totals $1,375,000 and resulted from liquidation of some of the bank's assets. Other dividends "will be paid from time to time as the orderly liquidation of the assets of the bank proceeds," he said.
