

Request For Ambulance Service Subsidy Tabled

City commissioners Tuesday night discussed a proposed ambulance service subsidy with a Plainview man, O. D. Majors, and two local undertakers, and then tabled the request. Commissioners said they would give the proposal further study and consider it again at a later meeting.

Discussion focused on a question of whether the city should provide support to the operation of a private firm.

Majors, in a letter to the city, had requested the city pay $100 each month toward payment for service given by ambulances to persons unable to pay. He said each of the two funeral homes had agreed to pay $100 each month as pro rata expense for such calls.

He told commissioners that in Plainview, the private ambulance service is subsidized by both city and county. Majors said he had not yet approached the county government here concerning the ambulance service.

In response to a question of whether he would operate such a service as an individual or as a corporation, Majors said it would be as an individual.

"An ambulance service is a public service which the public needs, even though it is a private enterprise system," Ernest Welch, of River-Welch Funeral Home, told commissioners. Commissioners questioned whether the city could subsidize a private enterprise.

Discussion also centered on the number of calls made by funeral homes in which payment cannot normally be obtained. Coy Nalley, of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, said his firm had two to three calls per day of such a nature.

"Each month we handle a number of police calls and other incidents which we never get any pay for," Welch said. "We have charged this off to our other business, but he will not be able to do so."

The funeral operators agreed that part of the police calls are paid for by individuals involved. Welch added he thought the word subsidy was a bad term for the situation.

"Somebody is going to have to pay for these calls," Nalley said. "As the town grows, we can't go on forever doing it." He added that the funeral homes are planning to leave the ambulance business.

The undertakers said many cities across the nation have adopted a private ambulance service, in place of ambulances being operated by funeral homes.

Commissioner John Stanley asked if other cities were also participating in the cost of ambulance services.

City Manager Larry Crow said he had available two studies, one by the Texas Municipal League of Texas cities made in 1959, and another by the International City Managers Association in 1960 of cities in the U. S. Crow said that regarding cities of similar size, no definable pattern could be seen in the two studies regarding ambulance service. Cities operating a municipal ambulance service and those supplementing a private service were in the minority, he said.

An additional study was made by the city concerning the number of emergency calls for ambulances which came through the Big Spring police department dispatcher from February through July. Crow said there were 60 such calls, which come from various law enforcement agencies and others.

Welch said the funeral homes get more calls directly from individuals than from police agencies, with disturbance calls, however, usually coming from police units.

Crow said the study also included figures for funeral escorts made by city police units during the six months, totaling 125. The city does not charge for the escorts.

Stanley said he wished to investigate further the type of operation involved in a change and would study the ambulance operation in Amarillo, which Majors said was a private ambulance service.

Educator Wins Utah GOP's Senator Nod

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A lawyer-educator who spent 13 years as president of Brigham Young University won the Republican nomination today for U. S. senator from Utah.

The final count from the state's 1,222 precincts showed a record primary turnout, as Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson polled 61,113 and his opponent, Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, 59,454.

Republicans said Wilkinson's victory augured well for GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Wilkinson, who resigned as BYU president to campaign, won the closest major political race in Utah's recent history.

Attorney Calvin L. Rampton and businessman Mitchell Melich won out for Democratic and Republican gubernatorial nominations, respectively.

Rampton led all the way in running up the largest margin of victory among major races.

Melich, who resigned as GOP national committeeman to enter the governor sweepstakes, beat D. James Cannon, director of Utah's tourist and publicity council.

Gov. George D. Clyde, a Republican, did not seek re-election.

Complete returns gave Rampton 57,568 votes to Dean's 34,352. Melich had 63,167 to Cannon's 55,920.

Wilkinson's triumph in his first bid for major political office pits him against Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, in November. Moss was unopposed for re-nomination.

Paper Says RFK In Senate Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has decided to enter the New York race for U. S. senator, the New York Times said today.

Similar reports have been printed or broadcast by other news media, including the New York Journal-American, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co.

The Times said it learned Tuesday night that Kennedy had told relatives and a few close friends of his decision.

Kennedy expects to make a formal declaration of his candidacy next week and in all probability announce at the same time his resignation as attorney general, the story added.

The Times said an authoritative source disclosed that the Kennedy camp anticipates an endorsement from New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner within the next few days.

The story said Kennedy's intentions became known after a day in which the campaign to get him the Democratic nomination "gathered momentum in all sections of the state."

Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester is expected to run for re-election. He has the support of his party's state organization, but he says he hasn't made up his mind.

Kennedy said here Monday

Fatigue can often be traced to an eye condition, according to eyesight specialists across the nation.

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Says Pope Indicates Unity Is Still Far Off

GENEVA (AP) — Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, says Pope Paul's encyclical indicates Christian unity is still a long way off.

Dr. Visser't Hooft, whose organization represents 209 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox denominations, said Tuesday it was "encouraging" that the Pope emphasized the necessity of continued dialogue among all Christians.

But he added: "The concept of dialogue which the encyclical develops is not quite the same as that which we have used and practiced for many years in the ecumenical movement. According to the encyclical, dialogue is mainly a form of communication of the truth which the Roman Catholic Church holds."

End Of Training

NORTH FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — The 90th Infantry Division, nearing the end of its two-week summer training, concentrated on squad and platoon infantry tactics today. The 7,000 troops of the all-Texas reserve division ends four days of bivouac Thursday to return to their homes Saturday.

East and West were made to "work for their bread" in today's hand taken from a recent tournament. Deprived of the privilege of playing their five-diamond contract by a sacrifice minded opponent, they had to defend with great precision to obtain adequate recompense.

A slam can be made in diamonds because the heart finesse is successful, however, no East-West pair got beyond the game level. 500 points is awarded for a vulnerable game in duplicate bridge, so that the score for five diamonds making six is 620 points. When South refused to stand for his partner's double of five diamonds, it was not only because he despaired of defeating that contract, but because if his loss at five spades could be confined to 500 points — a three trick set — the result would beat all those North-South pairs who defended against a game. Had his opponents made the slightest slip, his judgment would have been fully vindicated.

West opened the king of diamonds on which his partner signaled vigorous encouragement. He continued with the ace to which everyone followed. West was aware that a club shift could be counted on to produce the setting trick; however, unless several additional tricks were forthcoming, his-side would not receive sufficient compensation for the vulnerable game which South had denied them by making his sacrifice bid.

West realized that the heart suit offered the only reasonable hope for additional revenue and, despite dummy's somewhat impressive holding, he shifted to the nine of hearts. East topped North's jack with the queen and then cashed the ace. He then underled the ace of clubs to put his partner in to lead a third round of hearts, which East ruffed for the sixth defensive trick. This was the trick that hurt, because it spelled out a 700 point set for the declarer which was more than the value of the game bid of his opponents.

President Urges Every Citizen To Register, Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Voting is the first duty of democracy," says President Johnson. And he wants every eligible American to register and vote this fall.

He made his appeal Tuesday at a White House meeting sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation. A bipartisan group of about 170 political, civic, business and government leaders attended.

Johnson said almost 35 percent of the electorate failed to vote four years ago and almost 40 million eligible men and women are not registered to vote this year.

"We preach the virtues of democracy abroad," Johnson said. "We must practice its duties at home."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill that would increase pension benefits for war veterans or their widows. Approval came Tuesday on a 388-0 roll-call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The Veterans Administration estimates the measure would add $44 million to pensions in this fiscal year that ends next June 30 and mount in cost until it added $111 million to pensions in the 1969 fiscal year.

At the most, the increase could come to $35 a month. This would apply to a veteran with three dependents who has an income of less than $1,200 a year. His new maximum would be $110 a month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would reduce meat imports has been sent to a Senate-House Conference Committee and backers of the measure fear it will stay right there and die quietly.

The measure which would cut meat imports by 30 per cent, had the backing of the livestock industry and was approved by the Senate on a 72-15 vote.

DEAR ABBY

Take It To A Lawyer

DEAR ABBY: I am a painter. I broke my leg in several places. A month ago, while painting the house of a very rich woman, the ladder collapsed (it was her ladder) and I fell to the ground.

my doctor bill and she said her insurance didn't cover that kind of accident and she isn't responsible for my bills. She is so cheap she told me to buy a box of plaster and make my own cast! She said I was foolish for going to a doctor. She came over with two pain pills she bought at an Army surplus store and said they were just as good as prescription pills. Everyone tells me I am nuts if I don't sue her. She is far from poor, Abby. She owns several houses in town. What should I do?

OUT OF WORK

DEAR OUT: See a lawyer at once! If you can't afford one, go to your local Legal Aid Society. If you broke your leg on HER ladder, while painting HER house—insurance or no insurance, I'll bet SHE hasn't a leg to stand on.

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly man and have been dating a middle-aged widow for some time. I do not drive, so when I invite her out for dinner her son usually comes by and picks me up. The lady is already in the front seat beside her son, and I have to sit in the back seat all by myself. There is plenty of room for the three of us in the front. Otherwise I think the lady should sit in the back seat with me. I would appreciate your opinion. ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Don't look for a gift ride in the seat.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a handsome man in his early forties. We have been married only a few months. I knew he has false teeth when I married him, but I had never seen him with his teeth out. Soon after we were married, he started taking his teeth out the minute he came home. Now he never wears them around the house. If we go somewhere, he won't put his teeth in until the last minute, and as soon as we get home he takes them out again.

I told him he should see his dentist if he is having trouble, but he says he has already spent enough money on false teeth and he doesn't want to spend any more. His dentist is supposed to be one of the best in town. We have a small income, but I think this is important. I hate to nag him about it, but I don't know how much longer I can take this. He looks like an old man with his teeth out.

A BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: Call your husband's dentist and tell him what you've told me. If he's one of the "best" in town, he will probably insist on adjusting the dentures without charge so they will be comfortable and wearable.

More Mystery Witnesses Due In Gambling Probe

HOUSTON (AP)—A cat and mouse game between newsmen and officials conducting a federal grand jury believed probing gambling promised to continue today.

Two mystery men disguised as a gorilla and an Oriental, a disc jockey and several other persons appeared in connection with the proceedings Tuesday. Government officials handling the case increased their efforts to smuggle witnesses in and out of the jury room without their being recognized. Morton Susman, an assistant U.S. attorney, warned that the comings and goings of witnesses would be even more secret today. He hinted witnesses would enter the Federal Building early in the day and remain there until newsmen departed.

Mair J. Schepps, a tobacco wholesaler, and Milton D. (Duck) Mallard, who is in prison for violating his parole, were to appear before the jury today.

Cool Air, Winds Sweep Over Texas; Little Rain

By The Associated Press
Cool air swept across Texas Tuesday night and today, bringing occasionally violent weather but little needed rain. Long range forecasts predicted cooler temperatures and rains, for a change, in nearly every quarter of the state for the next five days.

Some parts of Texas, including the populous Dallas-Fort Worth complex, stayed stickily hot Tuesday when the cool front got sidetracked in its push southward. It was 108 at Fort Worth and 106 at Dallas, surpassed only by Mineral Wells maximum of 109 degrees. A farm laborer was injured and a barn and crop dusting plane at the Seminole airport were damaged Tuesday night by what was first called a small twister and later downgraded to violent winds. Dale M. Johnson, owner of the crop dusting service, estimated the wind gusted up to 100 miles an hour. Heavy crop damage in the area. Seminole had about 1.5 inches of rain in 30 minutes. Isaias Venzor, 42, received back and shoulder injuries when the barn in which he stood was destroyed during the storm. Skies early today were generally clear in South Texas, partly cloudy in North Texas, and bearing scattered showers in Northwest Texas and along the Red River east to Wichita Falls.

The cool front by 4 a.m. had moved along a line from Texarkana, Waco, San Angelo, to Fort Stockton. Scattered showers and thundershowers were predicted for Northwest, Southeast and the north part of South Central Texas today, Thursday, the Weather Bureau said, showers should spread to North Central Texas. Thunderstorms formed Tuesday near Sherman, Mineral Wells, Stephenville, and southeast of Paris into Arkansas. Temperatures early today ranged from 82 degrees at Waco, Tyler, and Galveston to 67 at Amarillo.

A Devotional For The Day

We all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being changed into his likeness from one degree of glory to another. (II Corinthians 3:18, RSV.)
 PRAYER: O God, our Father, may our patience in exposing our lives to Christ resemble the patience of Thy love's waiting for our response to Thy redemption. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Salute For The Jaycees

Monday Jaycees voted unanimously to take over the Metropolitan Division of the United Fund.
 Hats off to these young men! One of the reasons for believing that the campaign will succeed is this spirit of willingness, plus the assumption of responsibility for a division such as this. The major divisions—namely, those raised by individual members—have for many years been near a maximum point of return, based on general fund raising experience. Thus, the addition of funds to meet rising costs of agencies and the rising demands of service due to population increase must come from divisions which offer better returns with more intensive cultivation.

The Jaycees have here a great opportunity for service. In shouldering this task, they have set a pattern for the entire community and for all people who will be asked to help. Incidentally, the commitment of Jaycees to this task means that they will not be available in some other divisions, so this means that other groups will need to broaden their base of workers, bringing in new blood.

Crime And Rapid Growth

In the past five years the crime rate nationally has increased five times faster than population. That is an appalling fact that appears likely to become an issue in this year's national election campaign.
 However, close analysis of the crime rate—the number of reported crimes per 100,000 population in the annual FBI index—indicates that there is no national "crisis" of the crime increase that would lend itself to a "national" solution. Consequently, it is doubtful that the rising crime rate and what to do about it is a valid "national" issue.

The FBI reports show that crime is rising fastest in areas with rapid urban growth, with a high degree of transient population, and with large social and economically unassimilated or depressed groups. For example, states with the highest rate of crime are, in order, Nevada, California, and Arizona. All leaders in population growth since 1950. States with the lowest rate are Mississippi,

North Dakota and West Virginia, all with static or declining populations.

Social and economic assimilation and status rather than race seem to be the key to high minority crime rates. Negroes today number 11.4 per cent of the population, but in 1963 figured in 28 per cent of arrest. Prof. Oscar Handlin of Harvard in his book, "The Newcomers," found that in New York in the mid-19th Century, the newly arrived—unassimilated and impoverished—Irish of the great immigration were less than a third of New York's population but accounted for more than half of the arrests there.

The current national concern is mostly with highly publicized crimes of violence against people, but murder and rape rates were static last year and the assault and robbery rates were up only 4 per cent. The 30 per cent crime rise since 1958 was mainly in general thievery, and this centered largely in areas of low economic pressures and among the young crowded urban areas.

Notes From Rockahomy County

WASHINGTON — Specimen excerpts from the Rockahomy County Owl —
 Bud Beasley, the proprietor of Beasley's Barber Shop across the street from the courthouse in Citizenship, says if we don't get rain soon it won't make any difference whether Johnson or Goldwater wins the election.

Since the middle of May there hasn't been more than a trace of rain in the county, and it looks like another winter of buying feed. Only one cutting of hay so far, and it nothing extra.

IN SPITE OF the dry weather Oxberry's wife, Fairy, grew a double cucumber in their garden patch. Fairy wanted to save it to show at the Firemen's Fair over at Sprocket, but Oxberry felt when he woke up last Sunday morning, and ate the cucumber soaked in vinegar. He says it's the best thing in the world for not feeling well in the morning.

ANOTHER BAD accident on Route 211, halfway between Sprocket and Citizenship. Toad Clay's pickup truck was demolished and Toad was lucky to get out alive. He is in the hospital

War Was Hell

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Archie House, who was only 16 when he joined Company I of the 33rd Michigan Volunteers and sailed for Cuba to help fight the Spanish-American War, recently recalled his landing near Siboney.

The greatest danger wasn't enemy bullets, he said, but his own equipment.

"It was June 27," House said. "It was hot, maybe 90 degrees. We landed wearing long underwear, heavy blue woolen jackets and trousers, leggings that came up to your knees over the trousers. We had the Springfield 45-70—I carried a bullet so big they used to call it the light artillery, that rifle. It'd kick you over a 10-rail fence."

Each man, he said, carried a 50-pound pack and ammunition belts holding 40 to 50 rounds of the finger-sized bullets.

House is national commander of the 18,000 surviving veterans of that war.

Billy Graham

How should I worship? After worship services I always feel that I should have gotten more out of it—L.P.

I'm afraid you may have the wrong conception of what worship is. I have heard people say, "I just didn't get anything out of the service," and similar remarks. It is easy to forget that worship is giving, not getting. All week God has been giving to us, and on the Lord's Day, we give Him our adoration and gratitude. I think the best way to worship is just to be grateful, and this is pleasing to God.

In these prosperous days we are inclined to think of everything in terms of "what is there in it for me?" But it is wrong to carry our secular selfishness into the temple of God, and to think only of what "we get" out of worship.

Give God your love, your gratitude. Meditate on His goodness; count your blessings. And although selfish satisfaction is not your goal, I'm sure there will be a certain satisfaction in just knowing you have been in the Presence of God.

Three Ways

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Phillip S. Tribble looked up and down the street as he backed his car out of a driveway.

So did Barbara Dickie as she backed out of a driveway across the street.

Neither looked straight back.

The drivers were embarrassed but unhurt by the back-on collision.

James Marlow Politicians Adept At Adjusting To Situations

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the marvels of politics is the way politicians can adjust to situations.
 Take this Republican unity meeting today at Hershey, Pa. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, sent out the invitations to Republican nominees.
 And the host is Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania. Just a few weeks ago, Scranton was doing his best to keep the presidential nomination away from Goldwater. He went about the country saying Goldwater should be rejected, that "we need in the White House a leader who thinks clearly, who doesn't shoot from the hip."
 FOR ANOTHER illustration of how a politician can rise above strong words, look at Goldwater himself.

"Having opposed civil rights until this year, let him make an issue of it. I'll just repeat back to him the thousands of words he has spoken."
 "Lyndon Johnson is the biggest faker in the United States. He's the phoniest individual that ever came around."
 Before the month was out, Goldwater and Johnson sat down in the White House and talked about the civil rights issue, how to keep from inflaming racial passions.

GOLDWATER told newsmen the atmosphere at the meeting was good, "we're good friends. We're old political friends."

One of the classic examples of a politician sidestepping a heat-of-the-moment remark came in February 1941, when Wendell L. Willkie was questioned by a Senate committee.

Willkie had run against Franklin D. Roosevelt for president the year before and had declared that, "On the basis of Roosevelt's past performance with pledges to the people, you may expect that we will be at war by April 1941, if he is elected."

WILLKIE was asked at the committee hearing, "Do you still agree that might be the case?" He replied:

"It might be. It was a bit of campaign oratory."

To cap this discussion of political flexibility, there is a story that former Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas tells.

A congressman's friend told him, "Jim, I've just come back from your district and Bill Jones is going to run against you."

"Well, I'm not surprised," the congressman said. "He is a dirty skunk and there is no good in him."

"And furthermore," the friend said, "Charlie Smith is going to help him run."

"They're two of a kind," the congressman reacted. "Scoundrels, both of them."

THEN THE friend broke down and admitted he had been teasing. He had made up the whole story, that, in fact, Bill and Charlie were both strong for the congressman's re-election.

Reproachfully, the congressman told his caller:

"Now look what you've done. You've made me say ugly things about two of the finest, sweetest characters who ever lived."

Hal Boyle Sufferings Of A Sleepwalker

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Meet a sleepwalker—the kind who's liable to show up in pajamas at a neighbor's full-dress cocktail party to talk about foam-rubber capstans or the Malaysian market for blue candles.

There must be others like him, but you rarely hear of them because they aren't organized. What's needed is a group called Somanambulists Anonymous or SWAP—Sleep Walkers Are People—or even SLUMBERING—so let us meander boldly everywhere robed in night garb.

HIS WIFE, doctor and assorted sleeping attendants confirm his sleeping hours are a weird kaleidoscope of grotesque actions. He is likely to startle his wife in the darkness by saying: "Peacock plumes make caviar for squids."

The trouble is that he's never awake to know it. He is left to wander and talk through a mistaken notion that sleepwalkers shouldn't be awakened. The curiosity of man has been piqued for centuries by his nocturnal fraternity — they were once thought bewitched — and even modern medical books kiss off somnambulism as a psychoneurosis.

It's more than that, though. It's a nocturnal adventure in ingenuity.

THERE IS NOTHING of the hands-outstretched, ghost-like walk in the real sleepwalker though that's always been the caricature of him. He walks normally with the uncanny ability of making his way safely around furniture, over electric cords and through closed doors.

I should know, because my wife tells me about it the next day. I've been a sleepwalker all my life.

There was the time, with two feet of snow on the ground, when she caught me at the corner a block away, dressed for a night on the town in one tennis shoe, red pajama top and earmuffs.

IN A HOSPITAL recently, under orders to stay in bed, I got up five times in one night. Finally, I was tied to the bed with restraining jacket. They found me standing in the corner of another floor. The restraining jacket still was fastened to the bed.

Nobody knows how I got loose. I couldn't do it while awake.

One morning, my patient wife who took over relieving me where my mother left off, asked: "What are capstans?"

"Because at 4 o'clock you said, 'When you sew up my rope don't forget to use foam-rubber capstans.'"

A capstan is a shipboard gadget for raising anchors. I don't recall ever having heard the word before.

IN MY SLEEP, I have climbed a ladder, wooden spoon in hand, to fix the roof; have gotten halfway through ordering a phone call to a flower shop in Manitowish, Iowa—is there such a place?—and have packed a suitcase with three old newspapers, a light bulb and two bunches of raw carrots.

The doctor says a psychiatrist probably can help.

My wife is against it. She plans to get rich by collecting my profundities in a book.

To Your Good Health Nervous System Affects Heart Action

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about palpitation of the heart? I get this quite often, and I'm terrified. Does this mean I have a bad heart? It's a terrible feeling. I feel as if I'm smothering. Can one die from this?
 —F. A. N.

By far the majority of these "palpitation" cases turn out to be the result of:

- 1-Excessive coffee or other stimulants.
- 2-Sometimes excessive smoking.
- 3-Jangling nerves, with or without the two factors above.

Such things as an overactive thyroid, or "pep pills," or some of the appetite depressants used by unwary dieters, are other possibilities.

The majority of such sufferers have averagely good hearts. That is to say, they may have good hearts or sometimes defective hearts, but either way such conditions have little if anything to do with the palpitations.

The nervous system has a great deal to do with heart action. Excitement or fear can make it speed up. If as is quite common, you begin to worry about this speeding up or palpitation, then your fear makes your heart keep on beating rapidly, and you have a vicious cycle. The feeling of "smothering" and of weakness is not at all unusual, but these result from fear or nerves rather than from any effect caused by the organ itself.

True, there are cases in which palpitation is related to some real heart defect, but these are expectations rather than the rule.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can the hormone testosterone be obtained without a prescription? Is it safe to use without a doctor's supervision? What is the proper dosage?
 —O. E. W.

First, you need a prescription. Second, it can do mischief if not properly used.

And third, there can be suggested dosages of most medications, but that is merely an approximate guide. People aren't all alike, and they react differently. Proper use of ANY medication is based on watching to see how the patient responds, whether any unwanted effects appear, or whether a moderate increase in dosage is likely to be useful or tolerated.

Around The Rim Old Timers Come In Handy

You hear a lot of glib talk about the old pros in sports, politics, and a few other fields. Usually the connotation is that of a sly old fox, an old master at the game whose cunning compensates for fading stamina or strength.

WELL, THE OLD pros aren't confined to this arena by any means. A lot of them are to be found in the old timers of any organization—indeed among the retired personnel. The savvy they have accumulated, the bits of practical knowledge stored away back in their heads, the sixth sense of operation frequently takes over where manuals and theory bogs down.

MANY AN industrialist has found that while researchers and engineers can design intricate processes, as often as not it is the old line superintendent and his crews who knock the bugs out of a new operation. I have known cases where a new facility just wouldn't do what it was supposed to do, in spite of the meticulous checking and analysis by the sharpest technicians, yet an adjustment here and there, a different way of running a pipe, or a different approach in circuits on the part of operating men not only got the plant going but actually improved its efficiency. The old timers couldn't tell you the theory behind the process, and they certainly couldn't begin to design and engineer it, but somehow they could put their finger on the point of trouble. Maybe it was like stomping the floor to make the radio work, but whatever it was, experience provided a certain instinct.

SOMETIMES the situation is prosaic, but the old timer comes to the rescue nevertheless. A few years ago in a neighboring city, there came a moment of connecting some new major pipelines with the existing water system. No records, however, showed the location of a control valve, and no one in the department could pinpoint it. Yet someone remembered an old Latin-American helper, long since retired, and he volunteered to help. He went unerringly to an out-of-the-way spot, and announced: "Dig here." Sure enough, he didn't miss the spot a foot.

NOT LONG AGO, in another city, an electrical storm knocked out circuits and also the generating plant. Circuits were checked, but the ones leading in were cold and the plant's huge generator had to be charged with electricity before it would start. This impasse had a large area powerless. Someone had the good judgment to call in a retired dispatcher who had seen the system grow line by line. He said he could bring power in, and soon he was playing like a virtuoso at an organ console, switching a circuit into this small town, out to another, closing a switch here, picking up one there until at last he gave the final order. Power came into the plant, the big generator was charged and instantly sent its power surging through the system.

YEP, THE OLD timers may not run as fast as the ponies, but before they are turned to pasture, it's a good idea to keep a line tied to them, just in case.
 —JOE PICKLE

Holmes Alexander How '64 Will Look In Retrospect

WASHINGTON—You'd have to say that the princes of privilege in American society of the mid-sixties are the criminal classes, the lower economic classes and the political employees of Federalism.

IT WAS A TIME when the Justice Department, from its attorney general to its district attorneys, aided by the ponderous prestige of the chief justice of the United States, put itself out to make life easier for minor and major crooks. The old custom of holding suspects for bail was abolished in practice, and the law enforcement chiefs of the land set out to have the bail statutes repealed. Petty thieves and burglars were restored to their loving families and their modes of livelihoods, rather than be inconvenienced by detention.

BY CONSENT of the same authorities, led by the attorney general, the death sentence in the nation's capital was rendered obsolete, as an example to the nation. The district attorney's office in Washington publicly declared, even boasted, that no longer would it ask the supreme penalty for murder in the streets.

THERE WAS a widespread response to soft-on-crime examples. Hardly a week passed when newspapers did not run stories of citizens who indifferently watched visible killings and public rapes rather than intervene or ring up the police. Violence begat violence. Southern juries would not find verdicts in cases against killers and arsonists where Negroes were vic-times. Northern magistrates somehow failed to lock up the known ring leaders of mobs. The violent malfactors of all criminal activities never enjoyed such immunity before.

MEANWHILE, to be poor amid conditions of reasonable opportunity and abundant welfare, to be ignorant in a land of free and compulsory schools, to be a Negro where a near-white Congress, an all-white Supreme Court and a presidency had done everything imaginable for the minority race, became an excuse for lethal and destructive rioting. War was waged on poverty but not on anarchy.

In order to get by with raising its own pay, Congress went into the debt-ridden Treasury to boost salaries of the military, the judiciary, the administrators and the clerical helpers, defiant of the inflationary dangers and of the gross example of greediness for all the country to see.

THE FUTURE historian would have to say that the incumbent Democrats were asking the electorate to certify softness on crime, favoritism to the unproductive segments of population, the life of Riley for non-competitive government workers.

Only if the voters thought the matter through and turned to the reform candidate who called for toughness against street violence, a review of unfairness, a reduction of force in Federalism, would the '64 election alter so much that was wrong with the demoralized and degenerating American people.

(Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — President Johnson created a strange paradox the other day when he announced that he would not select any member of his own Cabinet for the vice-presidential nomination. Yet if anything should now happen to Mr. Johnson between now and inauguration day on January 20 next and if the Speaker of the House and the presiding officer of the Senate should be incapacitated or unable to serve, the present law states specifically that, beginning with the Secretary of State, each member of the Cabinet is in line of succession to the presidency.

CONGRESS in the past has assumed that members of the Cabinet would be the kind of persons qualified to take over the White House. Mr. Johnson in his public statement of July 30 used the following language:

"In reference to the selection of a candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, I have reached the conclusion that it would be inadvisable for me to recommend to the convention any member of the Cabinet or any of those who meet regularly with the Cabinet in this regard. Because their names have been mentioned in the press, I have personally informed the Secretary of State, Mr. Rusk, the Secretary of Defense, Mr. McNamara, the Attorney General, Mr. Kennedy, the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Freeman, of my decision."

"I HAVE communicated this to the United States Ambassador to the United Nations, Mr. Stevenson, and the head of the Peace Corps, Mr. Shriver."

"In this manner, the race has been considerably narrowed. I shall continue to give the most thoughtful consideration to the choice of the man that I will recommend to the convention and I shall make my decision known in due course."

THE EPISODE emphasizes that national party conventions do not do the choosing of the vice-presidential candidates but take orders from the presidential nominee. This form of dictatorship is a far cry from the boast in the history books that, under the American system of government, the people always choose their President. It is true they vote for a particular ticket selected by a national convention of delegates, but the second place is the dictated choice of one man.

IT HAS occasioned widespread surprise that President Johnson didn't adjudge a single member of his Cabinet eligible for recommendation to the second spot on the Democratic party ticket. Attorney General Kennedy, against whom the maneuver was obviously directed, made a comment on it when he spoke to a school of congressional candidates of the Democratic party who were assembled to get some instruction in political techniques for the coming campaign. He said:

"I must confess I stand in awe of you. You are not members of the Cabinet, and you don't meet regularly with the Cabinet, and therefore you are eligible for vice president."

WHETHER ALL this has had a sequel. After Mr. Johnson at a press conference said that he would welcome into the vice-presidential race a whole gamut of able governors, senators and representatives, as well as mayors and other public men outside the Cabinet, Attorney General Kennedy is reported to have decided to run for the U. S. Senate from New York State. Maybe he hopes that, if elected senator, he might thus have in 1968 a chance to be nominated, not just for vice president, but for President. Then he, too, could pick his own vice president.

Aroused Sox Flatten Yanks In Twin Bill

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Manager Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. It wouldn't be the thing to do in the staid, gray flannel world of New York Yankee supremacy.
But you'll have to forgive Berra if he's wondering just a bit. He's been a Yankee for 17 years and he's seen pennant races reach into August before. That's where the similarity between his club, which lost a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2 Tuesday, and former Yankee teams seems to end.
The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits, including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward reached for the panic button. Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago burst in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.
The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 3-0.
The losses dropped the third place Yankees 3 1/2 games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

Butkus Leads Illini Surge In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois, with two lettermen fortifying each position and some eager sophomores ready to battle for their jobs, is favored to repeat as Big Ten football champion this season.
Of the 44-man Illini Rose Bowl-winning squad, 33 return, including co-captain and All-American center-linebacker Dick Butkus.
The line looks firm with few losses from tackle to tackle. Four lettermen and three promising sophomores soften the loss of the starting ends.
The attacking backfield can be geared to such performers as Jim Grabowski, Sam Price, Dick Kee, Tony Parola and junior quarterback Fred Custardo.
Coach Pete Elliott lost three-fourths of an outstanding defensive backfield, and rebuilding it appears to be the main problem.
Michigan, Michigan State and Ohio State must be regarded the main challengers of Illinois supremacy. Indiana, Northwestern and Wisconsin are listed as the top splitters. Iowa, Minnesota and Purdue appear to be struggling trying to keep up with the pace.
Indiana has won only two conference games since 1961, but could be the big surprise of 1964. The Hoosiers have 28 of their first 33 men returning. They include fullback Tom Nowatzke, the Big Ten rushing leader last season; junior halfbacks Don Dilly and Trent Walters and junior end Bill Malinchak who figures to team with passer Rich Badar to make one of the league's better serial threats.
If Coach Phil Dickens can tighten his pass defense, the Hoosiers could aim for the first division.
Pete Elliott's brother, Bump, at Michigan could field a winner. Bob Timberlake is as good as any quarterback in the conference, and with seven lettermen at end, he has plenty of targets. There will be more speed in the backfield with John Rowser, Dorie Reid, and Dick Rindfuss.
Michigan State lost four speedy backs and may be the slowest Spartan team in years. Quarterback Steve Juday is fit and Dick Probstle can spell him. Defense, especially in the backfield, again could be MSU's main forte.
Ohio State was jolted when guards kayoed junior halfback Bob Scott and sophomore sensation Bennie Blocker. But Coach Woody Hayes still has Tom Barrington, who played all backfield positions last year, and the makings of a rugged defensive unit.
Northwestern under new coach Alex Agass is switching to a straight T offense, rallying around passing ace Tom Myers. Casimir Banaszek, 6-3 sophomore end, is bound to become Myers No. 1 battery mate.
Wisconsin will have fair overall speed and good ends, especially on offense with Jim Jones. Top running backs are Carl Silvestri, fullback Ralph Kurek and sophomores Tom Jankowski and Kim Wood.
There is supposed to be quarterback trouble, but this has been coach Milt Bruhn's yearly lament. This season he has lefty Hal Brandt and sophomore Chuck Burt fighting for the No. 1 job.

MRS. EUGENE KELLEY

Fem Distance Swimmer Finds Moss A Challenge

In response to a challenge, Mrs. Eugene Kelley last week came out of her retirement to housewife chores to take up something of a distance record at Moss Creek Lake.
She had to do it solo, but she swam up the lake—a distance of about one and a quarter miles—in one hour and 18 minutes. Her return trip was slower, being just barely over two hours.
This was understandable; she hasn't been doing this sort of swimming for several years. "I could hardly get out of bed next day," she said, "and oh my poor back!"
But over her soreness, she was ready to defend her record of distance at the lake.
Mrs. Kelley is a native of Greece, where she was born Ferula Zinzopoulou in Athens. She did considerable swimming in meets for her country, participating in meets in Italy, Egypt, Yugoslavia, Germany, as well as earning medals in the Panhellenic meet.
During her career in which she won several gold medals and trophies, she specialized in the 100 meters and 1,500 meters races. Her best time in the 100 meters race was 106 seconds, but she was more proficient in the longer distance. Times have changed. Mrs. Kelley shrugged, for now her best time, which was then close to the world's record, has now been sliced more than a third by younger swimmers.
Mrs. Kelley is the wife of S. Sgt. Eugene Kelley, who is assigned here with the 331st Squadron. They reside at Ellis Homes.

Cayuses Turn To Eight-Man

ACKERLY — "We just don't have enough boys up here to play 11-man football."
That was the most frequently heard comment in Ackerly only a year ago when the Sands Mustangs were finding the competition in District 4-B on the tough side. When the season was over, head coach Arlen White had compiled a 1-9 record with a team that had not simply been outplayed, it had been out-manned.
But the Ponies have a new head coach, a new district setting and a new slate of opponents, and things are looking considerably brighter.

Shula Hopeful His Club Gets Away Whizzing

By JACK WAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Don Shula hopes to get his Baltimore Colts out of the gate in a fast start despite the retirement of Gino Marchetti, the perennial All-National Football League defensive end.
Don Thompson, a 6-foot-4 1/2, 240-pounder in his third year of pro ball, must fill Marchetti's shoes if the Colts front four is to hold its own with the other powers. If Thompson doesn't make it, Shula will have to do some fast shuffling, perhaps moving Fred Miller to the outside.
Shula was new to the club himself last year, his first as head coach. He also had to fit eight rookies into the 1963 squad. Veterans will man most of the key positions this season.
"Johnny Unitas is throwing real sharp," said Shula. "He started slowly last year but as we went into the second half, Unitas is just the best quarterback in football. And that goes for everybody."
"We'll be better off on offense from the start. A year ago we didn't know John Mackey was as good as he is. We didn't have a fullback until Jerry Hill got going. Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr were out and Lenny Moore missed half the season."
"Tom Matie did a whole of a job at Moore's position. We can count on him. Whatever we get out of Moore will help. We also are counting on help from Tony Lorick, our No. 2 draft choice from Arizona State."
Lorick, at fullback and Tod Davis of Georgia Tech at linebacker are the newcomers with the best chance to fight their way into starting positions.
Unitas has his favorite target, Berry, in action at split end and Mackey, touted as "a new Mike Ditka," at tight end with Orr at the flanker, Hill at fullback and Matte or Moore at running back. Willie Richardson backs up Orr and Gary Cuozzo is the second quarterback.
With Jim Parker, an all-league ace, at left guard the front offensive line is intact. Bob Vogel and George Preas man the tackles, Parker and Alex Sandusky are the guards and Dick Szymanski is at center.
Defense may present more of a problem to Shula's personnel. The return of Billy Ray Smith, who sat out last year, strengthens one tackle spot, with Miller at the other. Orold Brasse will be at his old end job. Marchetti's position is the problem.

League Backers Here Get Lot Done With A Little

When the Texas Little League's all-stars arrived in Andrews some two weeks ago and played in the district playoffs, it was a major triumph, for only two short months ago almost everyone in Big Spring had written the league off as a bad risk and it was all but abandoned leaving many boys without summer baseball.
A need for a summer program was there, but the money involved seemed to be nowhere to be had. Then a handful of members, got together, started plugging the league and two months later their efforts paid off as Andrews saw a group of little leaguers arrive and play a contest, appearing in good uniforms and playing just as good a brand of baseball.
The season had a rocky start.
Sponsors were lined up only at the last possible moment, there were no uniforms, and the treasury showed a balance of 97 cents. But by the end of the season, when the Kent Oil Braves had captured the crown with a 14-1 record, the loop had $92 in the bank in one of the most unbelievable accomplishments of the summer.
Sponsors for the season were Stripling Supply, Kent Oil, Sav-Mor Food Stores, St. Joseph Catholic Church, Simon Terrazas, who sponsored a team as an individual rather than as a business, and W. D. Caldwell Inc. The Opt-Mrs. alone came to the aid of the loop with a donation totaling $135. The field was improved with the bleachers being painted, the grounds worked over, and a new light system installed at a cost of $160. The only thing lacking was uniforms for the boys, which would have cost each sponsor $270.
The newly elected officers of the league for 1965 are Albert Cardenas, president; Guy Lara, vice president; Charlie Rodriguez, secretary-treasurer; M. G. Fierro, vice president of the minor league; Fila Rubio, vice president in charge of concessions; and Robert Ross, player-agent.

Early Drills Help: Robbins

Don Robbins, head football coach and athletic director at Big Spring High School, has appealed to Steer graders to launch workouts on their own before drills officially get under way Sept. 1.
"We are not allowed under Texas Interscholastic League rules to supervise them in any way until the official opening day of workouts," Robbins stated Tuesday, "but that does not mean they cannot be conditioning themselves."
"We're going to be two weeks behind as it is for our opening game. Ideas, our opening opponent gets a big jump on us in organized workouts because it is allowed to start drills Aug. 17. We've got a lot of catching up to do."
Robbins said some of the players but by no means all of them are engaging in workouts on their own. Those who do, he pointed out, will have a big edge toward winning positions on the club once the official workouts are launched.
All members of the coaching staff are on hand and working. The coaches have been occupied this week with the task of stuffing tackling dummies—no small chore within itself.
What time the mentors haven't been repairing the equipment, they've been watching football films or devising plays for the coming season.
The Steers go to Lamesa to open play the night of Sept. 11—no less than a month removed.
They go to Ysleta the following week to oppose Bel Air (Sept. 18). They play their first home game the following Friday night (Sept. 25) before taking a week off prior to the opening of conference play.

Kyle Rote Is Lone Texan Among Honorees In Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation.
The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington fullback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University fullback 1941-42-44-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23; William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University fullback 1948-50; Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles B. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97.
Lea, Rinehart and Mallory are dead.
The football greats of yesterday were selected by an honor court headed by Fred Russell, sports editor and vice president of the Nashville Banner, and announced by Chester J. LaRoche, foundation president.
The selections bring the total of players in the Hall of Fame to 172, and coaches to 51.
The men will be formally inducted at the foundation's annual dinner here Dec. 8 when Donald B. Lourie, Princeton quarterback of 1919-21, will receive the foundation's gold medal award.
College football's Hall of Fame will be built at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J.
Blaik, now an executive of Avco Corp., had a record of 45 victories, 14 defeats and 5 ties in seven years at Dartmouth. At Army his teams compiled a mark of 121-93-10 from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championships in 1944 and 1945 when he had Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis in his backfield.

These are three of the ten men named today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame. Kyle Rote (left), now a New York sports commentator, was a star halfback for SMU and the New York Giants, Allison Hubert (center), now a Waynesboro, Ga., businessman, was a fullback at the University of Alabama in 1922-25. Earl H. Blaik (right), now an executive of Avco Corp., coached the Army football team from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championship in 1944 and 1945. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Hints From Heloise

Dear Gals:
Those of you who paper your own kitchens or have them papered... always buy an extra roll (you can also save the scraps after papering) and keep it on hand to cover the shelves. It matches your walls and is darling.

After helping a friend paper her kitchen last week, we covered all the shelves and the insides of the drawers to match. We covered the paper in the drawers with plastic so that she can wipe them with a damp sponge.

On the shelves, we put waxed paper over the wall paper. It was cheaper and the paper just happened to fit the shelves. We used pink scissors to make an edge. Darling.

When a cabinet is opened or a drawer is pulled out, everything matches.

My friend then went out and bought an extra roll of paper just to have on hand when it becomes necessary to replace the shelf and drawer liners.

Wall paper is not only attractive and practical, but is cheaper than most shelf paper. ... Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here is one of my best time-saving hints: (I suppose I must have them by the dozen or I don't think I'd get through the day sometimes with my six children!)

Instead of having salt and pepper in separate shakers, I have one shaker where I have mixed up salt and pepper (any proportion one prefers). This way, in seasoning hamburger or any such food, it goes on in one shake. Time saving, eh? ... Joe "Babbie"

Dear Heloise:
To get rid of the sediment (mineral deposit) in the bottom of your empty tea kettle, simply put the tea kettle in your freezer overnight. This causes the metal to contract, breaking the mineral deposits off without the danger of hurting or discoloring the metal finish! ... Mrs. F. E. Miller

Gently tap the bottom of the kettle with a wooden spoon. ... Heloise
