ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION OF PLANNED HIGHLAND SHOPPING CENTER

Highland Shopping Center Plans Disclosed Today

One of the major commercial investments in Big Spring's history is being announced today with disclosure of plans for the development of the Highland Center, a coordinator suburban shopping unit to be located at the southeast intersection of Highway 87 South and FM 706. The facility will occupy land on and about the site of the Jet Drive-in theater.

South Mountain, Inc., with Kent Morgan and E. C. Smith as principals, has put together the development, acquiring 30 acres from Ike Robb and James Duncan of Big Spring and H. B. Robb Jr. of Dallas.

Highland Center has total planning for 134,000 square feet of commercial floor space, and has 110,000 square feet under lease.

Announced tenants to date include Montgomery Ward, which will be moving from its Fourth and Gregg location; Piggy-Wiggly, opening a second super market in Big Spring; TG&Y variety store, new unit in a large Southwestern chain; Lavender's Cafeteria, to be operated by a firm which now has three cafeterias in Fort Worth and one each in Waco and Abilene; Rexall Drug Store, a company-operated concern; Caudill's Dress Shop, moving from 1711 Gregg; and the Fabric Mart, now at 1710 Gregg.

Negotiations are under way with other prospective tenants. Developers said plans are to start grading work within the next 30 days, and to let a general construction contract as soon as possible.

Arrangements with the Robb interests permit dismantling of

Ward's Announces New Retail Store

Details of Montgomery Ward's new full-line retail store in Highland Center were announced here today by S. A. McKnight, Ward's vice president and south central region general manager.

Other Ward officials here for the announcement, given at a luncheon at the Couden Country Club, were W. J. Harbeck, regional real estate manager; A. G. Carmack, zone manager for the Big Spring area; and C. A. Windness, regional public relations manager.

The new one-level store scheduled to open in late spring, 1965, will have more than 25,000 square feet of sales area, plus outdoor and seasonal sales area and an attached 8-car automobile service and accessories sales center. Total space, including warehouse and service areas, total 61,000 square feet.

The new Highland store will replace Ward's present Big Spring unit which was established in 1933, McKnight said.

The complete line of Montgomery Ward merchandise, which ranges from exclusive European and American fashions for women to major appliances and color television, will be displayed and warehoused in the store. A modern catalog sales department will make available on short notice any of Ward's seasonal and sale catalogs.

"In addition, the larger store means that we will employ 165 persons or 200 per cent more than in our present facilities," McKnight said.

The new Highland store will use the newest in retail merchandising methods and concepts including functional display fixtures, convenient department arrangements and special lighting. Modern air conditioning will assure year-round shopping comfort.

"For many years Montgomery Ward has been extremely well received by the residents of Big Spring," McKnight said. "We are proud to bring here a new, modern and up-to-date retail store in recognition of this long patronage. We have been aware of the continuing growth pattern for the Big Spring area for some time. This continued economic growth and stability the community has achieved helped us greatly in our decision to establish a new store here."

The new store will be the 18th Ward's has announced for Texas in the last five years.

The Jet, and this is to be succeeded by a newly-built drive-in at the location of the old Terrace, near City Park entrance.

The store cluster in the Center will extend some 1,000 feet east and west and about 3,000 feet north and south. The Center will be some 260 feet off US 87 and about 350 feet back from Marcy, with several access ways off both thoroughfares.

Parking will be provided both front and rear, with routes for traffic circulation around the Center. The parking ratio will be up to five square feet to each square foot of gross building area. Some 1,000 cars can be accommodated.

The large Ward store will be at the west end of the structure, and the Piggy Wiggly market will flank the east end. With the Ward space as an anchor on the west, the design provides for two rows of shops, with a covered mall providing access. The whole complex will be air conditioned, and arrangements made so that cool air circulates through the mall.

The design has been executed by Jay Frank Powell and Associates of Midland. Developers say their schedule calls for opening of Highland Center in the Spring of 1965.

Lavender's Plan Cafeteria

Among features of the Highland Shopping Center will be a cafeteria, to be operated by Lavender's, owned by E. W. Lavender and Eddie Barton. They now operate three units in Fort Worth, one each in Abilene and Waco.

"We are offering cafeteria style with restaurant atmosphere," Barton said. The serving line is partitioned off from the main dining area, he pointed out, leaving a dining area that will seat 200. Also two private dining rooms which will accommodate 175 will be available for private parties, civic clubs and other groups at no extra charge. In addition, a complete catering service will be available.

The cafeteria will offer carpeted floors, chandeliers and piped-in music. Latest in equipment and decor will be used. The cafeteria will employ 45 people.

Lavender is a veteran of 23 years in the cafeteria business. He graduated from Texas Christian University in 1931 and served in the Marine Corps two years during World War II. His family lives in Fort Worth.

Barton also has been in the cafeteria business since 1941. He also is a veteran of World War II, seeing service in Europe as an Air Force flight engineer. He and his family reside in Abilene.

Newcomer Among Center's Stores

An 8,000-square-foot area of Highland Center will be occupied by a newcomer firm to Big Spring, TG&Y Stores Co., operating in the variety field.

According to V. L. Holt, vice president, the store will be a check-out, self-service store and will be designed for leisure shopping in air-conditioned comfort. It will have the latest slim-line lighting fixtures and will be equipped with the latest design of counters and equipment. There will be 12 departments with a complete line of variety-junior department store merchandise.

TG&Y is currently operating 320 stores in 13 states from California to Florida, with company headquarters in Oklahoma City. Here is located an ultra-modern warehouse of 272,000 square feet which enables TG&Y to stock their stores complete stock of merchandise at all times.

Operation of the Big Spring store will be under supervision of W. W. George, regional vice president, and D. S. Kelly, district manager.

TG&Y began after World War I, when three men operating separate chains in western Oklahoma pooled their resources. They were R. E. Tomlinson, E. L. Gosselin and S. A. Young. The first store under the TG&Y banner was opened in 1935. In 1944 all individually owned stores and combination stores were consolidated into one company. R. A. Young is presently president of the company.

Second Bale Same As First

Howard County's second bale of 1964 cotton, produced by the same man who brought in Bale No. 1, turned out to be just as good as its brother.

The second bale, ginned out 575 pounds of 29-32nds lint, from 1,826 pounds of seed cotton. It produced 760 pounds of seed. Lindell Newton, manager of the Co-op Gins here, bought the second bale from G. C. Broughton Jr., the grower, at the same price paid for the first bale—33 cents a pound.

No one has questioned Broughton's claim to having brought in the first and second bales of this year's cotton so he is eligible when the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce gets the bonus money of $500 together to receive the award.

Broughton harvested this second bale from the same 25 acres he picked to get the first bale.

It reached the gin at 10:50 a.m. Wednesday. The ginning took less than 20 minutes. Broughton said he had one or two more bales ready to gather Tuesday. Broughton's place is about two miles north and west of Big Spring on the Andrews Highway.

Viet's Attack Misses Cong

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese troops, ferried into the jungle in a giant helicopter operation, had hoped to launch today a battle against a concentration of Communist Viet Cong. They found two deserted enemy camps.

Some 100 helicopters blasted Communist positions Wednesday and airlifted 1,000 troops 30 miles northwest of Saigon in the war's biggest airborne operation. Government forces anticipated a drive against the Communists expected to last several days.

However, they met almost no resistance in moving through the dense jungle area. The enemy camps were evacuated and burned.

Says A-Bombs Unauthorized In Far East

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House press secretary George Reedy said today President Johnson has not authorized use of nuclear weapons in Viet Nam.

Reedy said this in reply to a barrage of questions resulting from remarks of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater Wednesday that Johnson's orders to the 7th Fleet to retaliate against attacking North Vietnamese PT boats could be interpreted to mean the commander-in-chief had authorized use of nuclear arms.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara denounced this as unjustified and irresponsible. And Reedy followed up today when asked whether the specific orders to the fleet were available.

"Well, I don't want to engage in any debate with Sen. Goldwater in the matter," the press secretary said. "We certainly have looked over all the statements the President has made and all of the supporting papers."

"We know of nothing in these statements or in any of the supporting papers that would be relevant to nuclear weapons or that would authorize the use of nuclear weapons, and we would be very much interested in knowing what is being referred to."

And he said "That's right," in answer to another question whether the President "must authorize each use of nuclear weapons."

"The President has not authorized the use of nuclear weapons in Viet Nam?" a reporter inquired.

"No," Reedy said.

Reagan Pioneer

BIG LAKE, Tex. (AP)—John Carr, pioneer Reagan County rancher, died Wednesday.

As a former county commissioner he chose the site of the courthouse in Big Lake. He also was an organizer and one of the first directors of the Big Lake State Bank.

The funeral was set for 3 p.m. today.

Insult Shouts Jar Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Chances for peace on Cyprus were so precariously balanced today that U.N. officials feared an insult shouted across no man's land could shatter the truce.

And in Nicosia, emboldened Turkish Cypriots have been screaming insults across the sandbagged "green line" that divides them from the Greek Cypriot sector.

The Turkish Cypriot minority appears convinced the threat of renewed Turkish air strikes restrains Greek Cypriots from any ground attack.

Turkey called off its reconnaissance flights over the island Wednesday in response to a U.N. appeal, but warned it would not hesitate to strike if the cease-fire collapses.

In the northwest corner of the island, Turk Cypriots manned the tiny pocket of Kokkina, into which they were driven by Greek Cypriots before the weekend cease fire.

Despite the aerial threat, the Nicosia government is maintaining a ring of steel around Kokkina and U.N. observers fear renewed clashes.

Greek Cypriots vented their rage and frustration Wednesday by turning angrily on the United States and Britain, whom they

Another Night Inflames Jersey

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP)—Youths armed with gasoline bombs, bottles, rocks and bricks rioted in a multiracial neighborhood of Elizabeth and smashed car and store windows in a Negro district of Paterson Wednesday night and early today.

Helmeted policemen with nightsticks restored order in both cities early today. It was the second night in a row in which violence broke out in the two northern New Jersey cities about 20 miles apart.

Elizabeth police tore into a crowd of young Negroes shortly before 2 a.m., subduing some of the youths with sticks, firing into the air, and making arrests. The brief battle followed a bombing of at least three police cars with bottles, near misses on several motorcycle police, a flaring gas bomb that lit up an intersection and the explosion of firecrackers.

Elizabeth hospitals reported treating eight persons for minor injuries. About a half-dozen Negroes and whites were injured in Paterson, but none was hospitalized.

IS ARRESTED

Sixteen adults and two juveniles, mostly Negroes, were arrested as disorderly persons in Elizabeth.

Twenty-three Negroes, including six juveniles, were arrested in Paterson. One woman, arrested as she allegedly prepared to throw a garbage can through a window, was charged with inciting a riot.

Paterson Police Chief John O'Brien estimated that between 200 and 300 store windows were broken in the Fourth Ward. A flaming gasoline bomb struck a bus, but caused little damage.

Two newspapermen—photographer Mel Finkelstein and reporter Mike Pearl of the New York Journal-American—suffered cuts and bruises when a brick flew through their car window in Paterson.

Some 150 policemen scoured halls and alleys in the Negro district for hit-and-run bands of youths who hurled empty wine bottles.

CURFEW ISSUE

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves, at the scene, said he would decide today whether to impose a curfew for the coming weekend. Bottles narrowly missed him on several occasions.

Graves called the disturbances "more of a racial outbreak" than those of Tuesday night.

In Elizabeth, the brief riot climaxed a tense night in which an estimated 300 Negroes and whites congregated at one point near the Pioneer homes, a low-income project.

Gasoline bombs flew from atop and behind the project, and exploded in the street. Store windows were smashed.

Twenty standby police cars screeched into the area. Officers alighted, firing pistol shots in the air and wielding nightsticks. It took them only minutes to clear away knots of Negroes. The streets quieted suddenly as they had erupted.

Acting Police Chief Michael D. Roy told the crowd to seek spokesmen who could meet with city officials to discuss grievances.

Restless Negroes milled around First Street near the housing project. A throng of whites filled one side of Magnolia Street, the beginning of a white neighborhood. Occasionally a bottle zipped from the darkness, glittered in the light of a street lamp and smashed on the pavement.

East Loop Is Accepted

The 2.3-mile east leg of the Interstate 20 loop was formally accepted today by the Texas Highway Department.

This portion of the loop, however, will not be opened until the west 4.3-mile stretch is completed, possibly late in October.

J. C. (Jake) Roberts, Abilene, district highway engineer, lauded Melvin C. Winters, Johnson City, contractor on the $2,140,000 east leg.

"This is the proudest job we've ever built," Roberts declared in accepting the completed road and structures.

In addition, Winters finished his job slightly ahead of schedule.

The work includes 13 structures, among them three major overpasses (at the Snyder Highway, Birdwell Lane and the T&P tracks, and the interchange of US 90 and IS 29), plus the divided highway for the interstate road, an access road on the north side of the IS loop.

Winters began construction on the loop around Nov. 10, 1963. During the summer months he has been putting the topping on the road. On hand for the acceptance of the road were George Smith, Abilene, assistant district highway engineer; Winters; Bill Herod, Acme Bridge Company; and Joe Smoot, Big Spring, resident highway engineer.

Federal Building Plans Are Back In The Hopper

The door opened again today on a proposed post office and federal building in Big Spring.

The Independent Offices Appropriations bill, which was due to have won both House and Senate approval during the day, has restored a sum for site, design, engineering and supervision on such a building.

Congressman George Mahon so advised The Herald today.

He reported that the House Appropriations Committee earlier had deleted money for the local project, along with several others, after the General Services Administration reported that the federal construction program is lagging behind in much as two years away.

Dement, Midland; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Ray, Washington, D. C.; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. John L. Smith, Midland, and Mrs. Cornell Smith, Big Spring; and two great-grandchildren. # Office Means Anywhere For Crewmen Of MATS

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash. (AP)—One morning recently, as Col. Tracy J. Petersen was leaving home for work at McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash., he said to his wife: "I'll call you later from the office."

She got the call hours later from his "office" at Elmendorf AFB near Anchorage, Alaska. Mrs. Petersen has become accustomed to such things, for the colonel also might have called from one of his other "offices" at McChord AFB, Kelly AFB, San Antonio, Tex.; Robins AFB, Macon, Ga., or almost any United States or free world airstrip from the Dowline in the arctic to south of the Mason-Dixon line and east or west around the globe.

Col. Petersen, a native of Norris, Mont., as commander of the 62nd Troop Carrier Wing (heavy) of the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) at McChord AFB, heads a 4,000-man, 88-airplane organization that, for sheer distance, probably has its units separated by more real estate than any subordinate operational military command in history.

Everything The bulb-nosed C124s, with their huge forward clamshell doors for loading everything from foot soldiers and fire engines to mobile cannon and missiles, roam the skies from the Mississippi River to Saudi Arabia on routine strategic MATS cargo hauls. They also participate in airdrops and assault landing exercises with U.S. Army airborne and infantry troops here and abroad, carry emergency supplies during disasters such as the earthquakes in Chile, Pakistan or the recent Alaska temblor, and they may even land in a remote Aleutian island to fly a sick or injured Eskimo child to a hospital in Anchorage.

Keeping track of such a diversity of missions on a world-wide basis from an air base in the Pacific Northwest could create king-sized headaches, and sometimes does. But modern electronic marvels and a long experience in global operations provide the knot that ties together the 62nd's units.

Headquarters for the wing, one of the oldest, largest and most distinguished in MATS and winner of numerous top awards from flying safety to competitive airdrops, is at McChord AFB. The 62nd is one of the subordinate commands under Western Transport Air Force of MATS, located at Travis AFB, Calif.

GROUND SUPPORT On the base at McChord also are several ground support squadrons and the 4th, 7th and 8th Troop Carrier squadrons with 50 C124s.

At Elmendorf, the 62nd has the 177th Support Squadron which, besides handling movement of cargo and personnel in and out of Alaska on both MATS and commercial aircraft, has charge of "Operation Shoehorn." This is a year-round, extra-hazardous, "calculated risk" operation in which oversized cargo is flown in the Globemasters to undersized, "ski slope" landing strips near remote radar warning sites on the Dowline.

This risky operation has earned the 62nd airmen who fly Shoehorn missions the nickname of "Four-Engine Bush Pilots." The 62nd also has a small detachment at Eilsen AFB near Fairbanks.

AT KELLY At Robins AFB in Georgia and Kelly AFB in Texas, the 62nd has the 7th and 19th Logistic Support Squadrons. The primary mission of the 1,000 men and 38 Globemasters at these two bases is to provide world-wide airlift of special weapons for the Air Force Logistics Command, as well as hauling general military cargo.

These two squadrons, for many years under the Logistics Command but reassigned to MATS and the 62nd TCW about a year ago, added the nation's special weapons airlift to the 62nd's growing responsibilities. This was in line with the Defense Department policy making MATS the single manager for all military airlift.

With such a diversity and scope of operations, naturally there is a built-in accident potential. It is a tribute, therefore, to the stress laid upon professionalism and flying safety by Col. Petersen and his widely scattered staff that during 1963 aircraft of the 62nd logged 66,365 hours, or about 15 million miles of accident-free flying.

The history of the 62nd TCW dates back to December 1940, when the 4th, 7th and 8th Troop Carrier Squadrons were placed under it. The 7th's history, however, dates back to August 1933, making it the oldest troop carrier outfit in the U.S. Air Force.

During World War II, the 62nd participated in the campaigns in North Africa, Sicily, Italy and southern France. During the Korean fighting, the 62nd was a vital link in the "air bridge" that carried supplies across the Pacific. In mid-1954, the 62nd flew a regimental combat team to relieve a beleaguered French garrison at Dien Bien Phu in one of the most memorable actions of that war in Indochina.

Aircraft of the 62nd have since been in the forefront of action such as the United Nations airlift into the strife-torn Congo and other such international affairs. Whatever the action or the incident, anywhere around the earth in the past decade or more, it's a sure bet that air-

Flood Rips Winslow In North Arizona

WINSLOW, Ariz. (AP) — Flood waters, the aftermath of a brief but violent rainstorm, swept across this northern Arizona community Wednesday night, forcing evacuation of a hospital and isolating a large residential section.

Seventeen patients in the Winslow Memorial Hospital were evacuated by National Guard troops as the flood waters rushed through the lower floor.

Hospital officials said the high waters also had blocked the sewage outlets, causing a dangerous sanitary problem.

Police Lt. George Rockwell said it was the worst flood he had seen in 22 years at Winslow, a town of 9,000 on the edge of the Navajo Indian Reservation.

"We're having hell at this time," he said.

Rockwell said 20 families were evacuated from the flood-soaked southside residential area and spent the night in the armory.

Water was 13 feet deep in the underpass that bisects the community.

Merchants used sacks of flour as dykes against the flood in the downtown section.

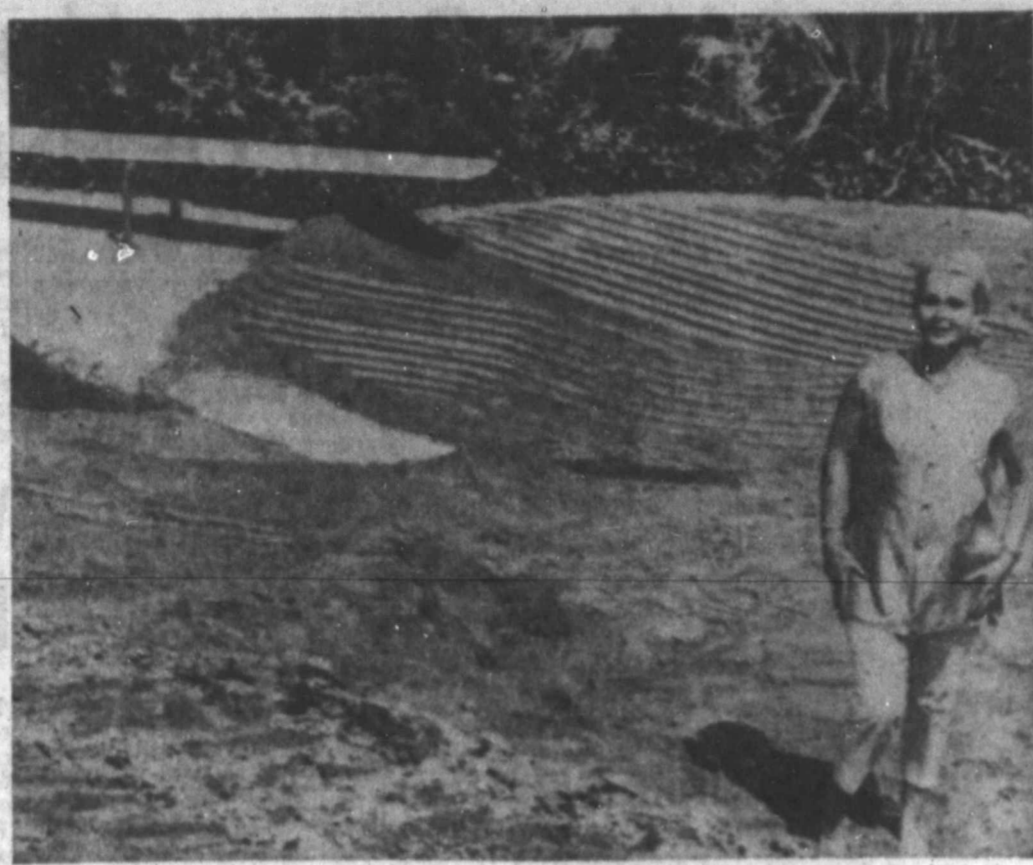

Despite the makeshift dykes, a newsman for the Winslow Daily Mail said about one-half of the business establishments suffered water damage.

Three homes in the hard-hit southside district cracked and sank deep into the mud.

Witnesses said about 100 homes were damaged by the flood, with water five to six feet deep.

Large sections of sidewalks were washed out, leaving gaping holes which rapidly filled with water.

About three inches of rain fell on Winslow in less than an hour late Tuesday afternoon. Runoff from nearby hills then rolled into the lowlands where Winslow is located, sending the flood waters higher.

Zsa Zsa Complains Of Dirty Trick

Zsa Zsa Gabor stands on the huge swimming pool at her former home near Los Angeles Wednesday after complaining to the city because officials had the pool filled with dirt and sand. The million-dollar house burned ed down during the big Bel Air fire of 1961 and city officials recently ruled the empty pool and still-standing chimneys were a hazard. Zsa Zsa says she was about to rebuild. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Zsa Zsa's 'Going To Fight' Over Her Pool, Chimneys

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I'm a Hungarian freedom fighter," shouted Zsa Zsa Gabor, "and I'm going to fight."

Looking beautifully ferocious, Zsa Zsa stormed the City Hall Wednesday.

Why, she demanded, had the city torn down her three chimneys and filled her Olympic-size swimming pool with sand?

"They didn't tell me about it," said Zsa Zsa. "I was in Europe."

The chimneys and pool were all that remained of her $1-million hilltop mansion in the plush Bel Air section of Los Angeles after a disastrous brush fire swept the area in 1961.

The City Department of Building and Safety said it had given Zsa Zsa three orders since last February to have her property cleared. The pool and chimneys "endangered life and property," said the city.

"I have hired architect Paul Williams to design a new house for me," Zsa Zsa told the Building and Safety Commission.

"We were going to use the chimneys and pool."

But the city, after granting the extensions, let a $2,750 contract to have the property cleared last Tuesday.

"They did it in two hours," said Zsa Zsa. "I wish I got paid $2,800 for two hours work."

She said the city owes her $20,000 and added that she was going to sue.

She was even mad at her lawyer, Paul Caruso, when he showed up late.

Later, she told newsmen: "I worked hard for what I have. I lost $1 million when that house burned, and it wasn't insured. I had paid the city $500,000 in taxes on that property, and not a single fireman showed up when it was burning. Not one."

"I'm not going to let them do this to me now — even if I have to start studying law to stop them."

"They're going to hear more of my Hungarian mind."

Witchcraft Still Booms As Business In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Despite Mexico's modernization, ancient Indian witchcraft is still a booming business in remote provinces—and even on some Mexico City street corners.

The hexes, curses and cures date back to the Aztecs and Mayans. There are still some shops—and witches—in the capital who sell an armadillo's tail, bones and mummified lizards, snakeskins, pelts and powders and other items.

Here are a couple of do-it-yourself hexes used by the witches:

A technique often used is to feed the object of your ill-will a bit of food that has been exposed overnight in a graveyard. This is not the kill-'em cure. It merely makes the "person you want to get even with" a bit ill.

If you want to go further, witches do this:

Catch a live toad, and put it in a jar. Then take a piece of bread from the plate of your victim, being sure his or her bite marks are on it.

DIE TOGETHER

Now feed the bread to your captive toad. It won't keep it alive long, and your victim will decline and die right along with it.

This second system is called "zarpazo" and is based on the "nagual" theory.

A "nagual," said the ancient Mayans, is an animal companion everyone is born with. It is born at the same time you are, shares the same trials and tribulations through life, and dies when you do. This means, of course, you share the nagual's fate, too.

An important point is that if witches can find your "nagual" they can concentrate on it, make it sick or kill it, and thus make you sick or die.

IN REVERSE

On the other hand, curers called "curanderos" can work the other way, and cure you if they can find your nagual and discover what ails it. You will have the same ailment, and the curanderos can thus diagnose it and get to work.

The problem is that your nagual may live on a remote sacred mountain, and be hard to find. That is the curandero's main job—locating it—and can run into a lot of time and money.

And talking about witches and curers:

The witches are called "brujos" and are considered evil. Much of the evil in Mexico is attributed to them.

They practice black magic, cast spells with malicious intent and are generally unpopular because they are feared, according to Mexico's "This Month" magazine. They stick pins into dolls, slip victims bad food like the graveside diet.

WHITE MAGIC

Curanderos on the other hand are kinder persons who combine white magic with folk medicine. They enjoy wide popularity and devote their time to healing, like the family doctor.

Curanderos have certain skills which they pick up from other curers, although they may get some knowledge from dreams. In rural villages the curandero is often one of the more prosperous and influential citizens. Among certain Indian tribes, he is a priest as well as a healer.

Biloxi Ready For Integration

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Registration for the first desegregated public school classes in Mississippi will take place Friday in this Gulf Coast resort city.

Mississippi is the last state to topple classroom racial barriers below the college level.

There was no estimate of how many Negro children would seek to register for first grade classes at nine previously all-white schools under federal court orders. Actual classroom work doesn't start until next month.

School and local officials plan to keep a tight security barrier around the schools, in an effort to keep down violence.

The same court order which opened the first grade to Negroes here also directed the school systems of Jackson, the state's capital and largest city, and rural Leake County, birthplace of segregationist former Gov. Ross R. Barnett, to accept Negroes.

Desegregation under the court order will reach the second grade next year and continue upward on a grade-a-year basis.

Biloxi, site of Keesler Air Force Base, has been free of the racial discord which has swept other areas of the state recently.

In Leake County, three Negro

Pole Accident Stops Power

Power in the western portion of Big Spring was knocked out for about 10 minutes Wednesday, shortly after 5 p.m., when an unidentified motorist backed into a telephone pole and guy wire in the 3400 block of Ninth Street.

The motorist apparently hit the pole and guy wires hard enough to knock the wires above together, R. L. Beale, division manager of Texas Electric Service Co., said. He said the wires burned and electrical workers restored power after closing the automatic switch on the circuit to repair the damaged wires and condensers.

The line handles 12,000 volts of electricity, Beale said.

The force of impact of the car with the pole apparently was enough to also knock the condensers on the pole together, Beale said. Closing the automatic switch on a line is necessary in order for workers to make repairs, Beale said.

Soviet Retreats On Its Education-Work Policy

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is retreating from its much heralded system of combining education with work experience.

The government announced Wednesday that the amount of on-the-job training in factories and on farms is being cut.

This means the 11-year system of primary and secondary education is being reduced to 10 years as it was prior to 1958.

The change was announced by the government newspaper Izvestia and is to become effective Sept. 1.

LONDON (AP) — Lady Mitchison refuses to be a lady. "I will not take the title," she said. "I don't want it and I won't have it."

She automatically received the title when her husband, Gilbert Mitchison, 74, was made a life peer last month.

Before he was ennobled, Lord Mitchison was a Labor member of the House of Commons. His wife, Naomi, is a successful writer.

Lady Mitchison feels so strongly about it that she put the following advertisement in the personal column of The Times of London.

"I Naomi Mitchison still wish to be called Naomi Mitchison."

BOMBAY, India (AP) — India's spreading food shortage has triggered a noisy brawl in the Maharashtra State Assembly.

Opposition members started it by shouting and thumping their desks during Wednesday's session. Tempers became short and fist fighting broke out. Guards had to restore order and two of them were injured.

The speaker had refused to grant an opposition request that the assembly adjourn in sympathy with a workers' strike against rocketing food prices.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson went to New York City Wednesday to shop for dresses while her husband, the President, addressed the American Bar Association.

And her shopping took longer than his business. The result: She kept him waiting 15 minutes at the Wall Street Heliport, whence they left on the first leg of their return trip to Washington.

Mrs. Johnson apparently wasn't able to make up her mind about the dresses and she left without buying any.

Demos May Lean To Conservative Economics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians speculate that the Democratic party may move a little toward more conservative economic policies.

Those suggesting such a move argue that it would be good politics in view of the conservative tone of the Republican platform and the conservative views of its candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Republicans went all out to condemn the present level of federal spending, unbalanced budgets and high tax rates. They promised great reductions in federal expenditures and a balanced budget.

Any significant move by President Johnson and the Democrats at Atlantic City next month to offer a platform in between the GOP promises and present economic policies could, of course, affect agriculture.

Under the Kennedy-Johnson administration, payments to farmers under federal farm programs have become an increasing portion of farm income.

Advocates of strong farm programs contend that any slashing of federal financial aid to farmers would adversely affect farm income and rural wellbeing.

It is generally agreed that there are only two general courses for bringing a degree of price and commodity supply stabilization to agriculture in a period when technological advances make over-production difficult to avoid.

One way is the use of strong government production controls which restrict production and levy penalties on non-cooperators. The other is to use a less compulsory approach and offer government payments to induce farmers to hold down production.

It seems that the pendulum in agriculture is swinging away from the compulsory methods. At the present time, only four crops are covered by such methods, they being cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts. But in the case of cotton, the controls are supplemented by government payments to make the crop competitive at home and abroad with foreign cotton and man-made fibers.

Certainly, opposition to rigid controls appears strong in the Northeast, Midwest and West.

Altho three no trump is an ironclad contract, it was somewhat natural for South to insist on hearts since his distribution is highly unbalanced. North could hardly rebid no trump without a spade stopper, so he persisted to four hearts.

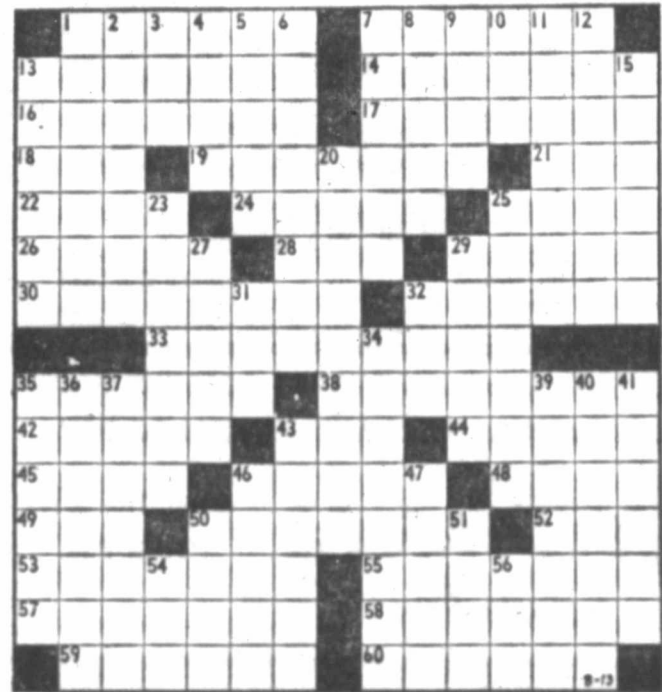

West opened the deuce of clubs. The queen was played from dummy and East won with the ace. He shifted to the king of spades on which West signaled encouragingly with the seven. East continued with the queen of spades and his partner followed with the three, completing the echo. East had no more spades, so he returned a diamond. Declarer was in and, after drawing trump, he was able to dispose of his remaining spades on North's high diamonds and clubs.

East contended that his partner should have overtaken the queen of spades with the ace to give him a ruff on the third round. West said he had no way of knowing that East had only a doubleton in the suit. East's answer was that, with three spades, he would have led the small card on the second round—saving his queen for the next lead of the suit.

This reasoning appears to us to be a little involved and, besides, East had available a simpler method for alerting his partner to the distribution in the spade suit. Instead of shifting to the king of spades at trick two, it is suggested that East return the queen, to be followed by the king on the next round. Playing the spades in this abnormal manner should indicate to West that his partner is trying to get across a message concerning the distribution in the suit. The conclusion must soon become inescapable that East has a doubleton and desires West to overtake the second round. The forthcoming ruff sends declarer down to defeat.

Shock Awaits College Freshman Horde

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Eager freshmen will flock to the nation's college and university campuses again this fall. For too many, the experience will prove more of a shock than they expected. Many will fail to survive the pitfalls awaiting them behind the ivied college walls, despite high school achievement and monthly checks from home. Two Purdue University educators at the University's Barker Memorial Center set out eight years ago to learn why so many high school graduates falter in college. This inquiry into the nation's college dropout problem was begun by Prof. Robert F. Schwarz, 41, the center's director, and Prof. Howard D. J. Murdock, 49, who teaches chemistry. Schwarz and Murdock set up a two-week course for Michigan City area college-bound graduates in the summer of 1956, calling it, "How to study in college." The new course was advertised through a direct mail campaign and attracted only mild newspaper publicity. They had hoped 35 students would sign up. When Schwarz got to class that summer evening, he was greeted by 75. Schwarz and Murdock feel the quandary facing many students entering college is the abrupt adjustment they must make, both social and academic. As Murdock put it: "The freshman must conform to the 'theys' instead of 'me.' No longer is Mom around to prod him to his books. His college instructors are not likely to remind him an assignment is due or even urge him to do it. The job of acquiring a college education, he will find, is his."

"We spend practically no time learning how to listen," Schwarz said, "while in the classroom, a student spends 45 per cent of his time listening, only 30 per cent reading, 15 per cent writing and 10 per cent speaking. Do the professors recommend 'cramming' before exams? 'If you haven't done anything else, you'd better do it. But it is the least effective in the learning process.' Murdock contends the entering college freshman is scared stiff inside, despite today's ultrasophisticated teenagers. "We have learned it is entirely possible to bring about a change in the attitude of these freshmen when we arm them with information they need and can use and when we help them recognize and identify the real problems of college adjustments. We try to help by giving them a few real tools to bolster their confidence, to live up to their potential," Murdock says.

Republicans' Discord Shows

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Many Republican leaders saw today in Sen. Barry Goldwater's unity manifesto a stride toward party solidarity — but some cracks still showed on the foundation the GOP presidential nominee is out to build.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sounded the unity keynote with a warm endorsement of Goldwater and vice presidential nominee William E. Miller, and a promise to do all he can to help elect them.

"Any uncertainties I may have felt as to the fitness, adequacy and quality of the political program they will offer to the United States in the 1964 campaign have been resolved," the former president said.

ARCHITECT Goldwater acknowledged Eisenhower was among the architects of the detailed position paper he delivered Wednesday to a four-hour closed-door meeting of three dozen GOP governors and other party chieftains from 28 states.

The nominee and the former president talked for two hours a week ago at Eisenhower's farm in Gettysburg, Pa.

In a key passage of the unity declaration, Goldwater told the Republican leaders: "I seek the support of no extremist — of the left or the right."

Eisenhower, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other party leaders joined in praising that statement.

"He has repudiated character assassins, vigilantes, Communists and any group such as the Ku Klux Klan that would attempt to control localities through terror, threat or other lawless means," the former president said.

Rockefeller said that repudiation, along with other Goldwater pledges, should help the ticket. But the New York governor said he would have added the John Birch Society to the disavowal list.

STATEMENTS Goldwater told a news conference he has vigorously opposed "damaging, ridiculous and very stupid statements" by Robert Welch, the society's founder. But he said the society itself is on no subversive list.

Rockefeller said the Goldwater declaration should be "reassuring" to Republicans from one end of the country to the other.

But the New York governor indicated all his reservations have not been erased. He reminded newsmen that he spent five months as a candidate for the nomination, campaigning against Goldwater and discussing the senator's views.

"I refer you to the record," he said. "I believe in party unity but not at the expense of fundamental principles," the governor said.

Michigan Gov. George Romney, who has been cool toward the ticket, said he was accepting the party's decisions on platform and nominees.

Someone Takes Judge's Coin

Whoever it was that done the deed had better never be brought before Judge Ralph Cato for sentence. One of the judge's pet possessions was a desk gadget given him by an attorney. This device featured a silver dollar mounted in a ring and attached to a frame in such a way that it could be spun. "Decision maker" was inscribed on the polished base which held the dollar and the frame.

The judge kept it on his bench in the 118th District Court room. Sometime in the last few days, someone sneaked into the courtroom, twisted the silver dollar out of the holder and took it away.

The judge, on vacation, is expected to be somewhat irked. And it is thought inadvisable for the thief to let himself be brought before the judge for sentence. The court may have some bias toward the defendant.

Among them: Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits of New York. They were not at the Hershey session, and neither indicated his stand has changed.

"They're free and 21 and they can do what they want to," Goldwater said of the New York senators.

Judge Outlaws Upshot Demo Party Of Rights Leaders

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A state judge has banned operations of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, formed by civil rights leaders to seek ouster of the all-white regular Democrats from the national convention.

At almost the same time that Chancery Judge Stokes Robertson Jr. issued his injunction Wednesday, a suit was filed in federal court asking that 16 state laws designed to hinder Atlantic City, N.J., is virtually assured. At least eight state Democratic delegations have called for support of the predominantly Negro Freedom Democrats.

Patterson's suit said it was filed for "the preservation of order, and the protection of the public." It charged that last week's state convention of the Freedom Democrats was designed to "intimidate and embarrass the lawfully existing Democratic party and to create confusion in the minds of the electorate and bitterness, hatred and discord among the citizens."

The attorney general argued that the word "democratic" is already in use as part of another party name and under Mississippi law a second group cannot use it.

Exchange Student From Germany Due Monday

Klaus G. Limbacher, who will be the first exchange student to enroll in Big Spring High School, will arrive here late Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ream, who will be his foster parents for a year, have been notified that Klaus will arrive at the Midland-Odessa air terminal at 10:15 p.m. Monday, and of course they will be there to meet him.

Klaus, 17, who is in his next to last year at Staatliches Gymnasium in Wesel, West Germany, will arrive Friday in New York, where he will spend a day, then go to the regional center of the American Field Service International Scholarships for a day of orientation.

He will be a member of the senior class here and will become a part of the Ream family along with two sons, Ricky Ream, who will be a senior, and Jimmy, an eighth grade pupil at Gollad Junior High.

The objective is to expose him to as nearly a normal student and home experience as is humanly possible. This contributes in part, as well as a period of adjustment, to a rule that he may not make speeches or appear on programs for three months after his arrival.

SECRET SERVICE AGENT FOUND GUILTY
Abraham Bolden and wife leave courtroom in Chicago

Agent Convicted; Service 'Cleared'

CHICAGO (AP) — U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan has hailed the conviction of Secret Service Agent Abraham Bolden as clearing the integrity of the U.S. Secret Service.

Bolden, the first Negro ever assigned to guard a U.S. president, was convicted and sentenced to six years in prison Wednesday of trying to sell government evidence in a counterfeiting case for $50,000.

He had charged that the government framed him because he planned to tell the Warren Commission about laxity and drunkenness among Secret Service agents assigned to guard President Kennedy in 1961. "The verdict completely rejects the outrageous charges made by the defendant and confirms the public's belief in the absolute integrity of the U.S. Secret Service," Hanrahan told newsmen.

He said it was to Bolden's credit that he "apologized for the charges he made against the Secret Service and the government in general."

Bolden, 29, made his apology in a tearful plea for mercy after his conviction was announced and before sentencing in U.S. District Court by Judge Joseph Sam Perry.

Bolden wiped tears from his eyes as he stood before Judge Perry.

Judge Perry then sentenced Bolden to 6 years. He could have sentenced him to 25 years in prison and fined him $15,000 plus three times the amount of the $50,000 payment sought, a total of $165,000.

It was the second trial for Bolden, with the first ending in a hung jury.

He was convicted on three counts of attempted sale of Secret Service documents, obstruction of justice and conspiracy. He was found guilty of trying to sell a government file on May 12 to Joseph Spagnoli, alleged head of a counterfeiting ring.

Bolden joined the Secret Service in 1960. He was assigned to the White House guard in Hyannis Port, Mass., during June and July 1961.

Representatives which included CAP cadets from Odessa, Midland and Big Spring, attended the meeting.

Ten cadets received achievement awards and CAP S. Sgt. David C. Hollrah, Midland, was the top award winner with two achievement awards.

Lt. Col. Charles H. Cole Jr., recently assigned to Webb AFB, represented Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander, as guest speaker. Col. Cole has been associated with CAP at Ellington AFB as Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations, CAP, and as Chief of Staff for Operations, CAP, and as Chief of Cadet Training.

In reviewing the history of the Civil Air Patrol, Col. Cole commented on its contributions to the country during World War II when it performed duty in courier service and submarine patrol.

He stated that CAP performed 60 per cent of all aerial search missions in the past year and was credited with 40 per cent of all "finds."

Services were at 4 p.m. today in First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. E. A. J. Seddon, St. Paul Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial was in the Trinity Memorial Park with Nalley-Pickie in charge of arrangements.

Library Closes For Funeral

Howard County Library closed its doors at 3:30 p.m. today to permit its staff to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mae Dunagan, 63, of 1110 Nolan. Mrs. Dunagan was formerly a part-time worker at the library here. She died Wednesday, after a long illness.

Services were at 4 p.m. today in First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. E. A. J. Seddon, St. Paul Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial was in the Trinity Memorial Park with Nalley-Pickie in charge of arrangements.

Red Rebels Demand U.S. Consul Closing

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Communist-backed rebels have asked the United States to close its consulate in Stanleyville, the main city in the north-eastern Congo, which fell into rebel hands last week.

A radio message received by the U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville requested the removal of Consul Michael Hoyt and his staff of four. The request was made by the commander of the "popular liberation army" which took Stanleyville.

The message was signed by Hoyt and was sent through rebel-supervised radio channels.

Embassy officials said messages from Hoyt gave no indication that Americans had been threatened by the rebels.

In Washington the State Department said Hoyt and his staff will be evacuated "for their safety" when arrangements can be made to get them out.

After Three Years, Berlin Wall A Grotesque, Ugly Death Trap

BERLIN (AP) — It began three years ago today with a few strands of barbed wire being dragged across the streets of downtown Berlin.

Now the Red wall dividing the city is a massive, bloodstained death trap with a depressing air of permanence.

The Communist regime began to build the wall after more than three million East Germans had fled to the West. The refugees were pouring over the open frontier at the rate of 2,000 a day.

Then it was just a question of crossing the street or taking a subway ride.

The wall blocked 377 streets, and the subway stopped running between East and West. The escape hatch was closed.

The eight crossing points kept open for foreigners and West Germans are strongly guarded. Daring East Germans are still risking their lives to escape, but now they come over mostly in ones or twos.

53 KILLED

At least 53 have been killed and 34 injured in attempts to breach the wall. Another 52 died on the 800-mile frontier between East and West Germany.

Nearly 20,000 East Germans have escaped since the wall was built — an amazing number considering the formidable obstacles.

Whole rows of houses have been demolished to clear a field of fire for the guards. Apartment blocks on the border have been evacuated and windows bricked up.

Western experts estimate that $3.5 million worth of concrete and barbed wire have been used on the wall and on barricades around West Berlin. The waste of man-hours has been enormous.

West police have counted 232 trenches and dugouts and 165 watchtowers around the 101-mile city limits. In these more than 10,000 East German soldiers keep constant armed watch, with orders to shoot refugees.

USED WEAPONS

West police say the Red guards have used their weapons 33 times. West police have observed the arrest of 1,798 persons, apparently planning to escape. There may have been many more victims out of sight inside Communist territory. Security controls around Berlin begin many miles from the border.

Planning to leave East Germany without official permission is a crime. A West Berlin refugee group calculates that prison terms totaling 12,000 years have been handed down by Communist courts for planning or helping escape.

Not all the Red guards enjoy their work. Since the wall, 1,533 of them have deserted to the West. Many of the young men who escape say they bolted to avoid being conscripted for duty at the wall.

The controlled East German press, including soldiers' magazines, is continually trying to bolster morale and alertness by the border guards. They are told the wall was a justifiable defense against a Fascist invasion and that their countrymen who try to cross it are traitors.

OTHER WAY

But it is obvious that many escapes have been made only because guards have looked the other way, or deliberately aimed wide.

The Berliners have become used to the wall, without accepting it. The economic blow of the loss of 60,000 East Germans who used to work in the Western sectors has been overcome.

Most West Berliners are prosperous. The immediate threat of a Communist takeover has receded.

But medical experts say the human misery caused by the wall is a heavy psychological burden on the Berliners. They call it "wall sickness" and say it is partly responsible for the high suicide rate on both sides of the wall.

Boss At Skunk Works Says There's No Cure For Direct Hit

FORESTBURG (AP)—Take it from an expert, John Anderson, there is no quick way to cure yourself after you've been hit with a skunk's most potent weapon.

"There isn't any easy way to get rid of the smell," says Anderson, 62-year-old former farmer. "For the most part, just let the sun and wind wear the smell out. It's a little slow but it works."

Anderson is operator of a skunk farm in this Montague County town.

"I trap them, breed them, buy them, sell them, and de-scent them; all sizes," he says.

12 YEARS

Twelve years ago Anderson started varmint hunting and raising on a commercial basis.

He was hospitalized with a heart condition in 1952 and at that time his doctor told him he would have to forego the hard farm labor he had been used to.

During his stay in the hospital a nurse gave him a book telling of the demands for varmint, and that was the beginning of a new career. When he was released from the hospital, he ordered a book describing the method of de-scenting skunks and became expert by practice.

June, July and August are his busiest months. Anderson ships animals every week during these three months.

His orders come from all over the United States, Canada, France, England, Japan and Alaska. Recently Anderson had approximately 40 skunks on hand, young and old. He had several orders to fill from that stock. At the time he was working on an order for Bedford, England. The order consisted of two baby skunks, two pair of baby raccoons, three dozen prairie dogs and two baby ring-tails.

PRAIRIE DOGS

Prairie dogs are his latest venture. He has several dozen in captivity but released eight to see if they would start a prairie dog town on his property.

People come from near and far to have their pet skunks de-scented.

Carl Kirksey, 18, of Wichita Falls, for instance, came in with a 4-week-old skunk. He wanted it de-scented before it got old enough to start stinking.

Anderson told him the cat was already old enough for that.

"These babies can start stinking" as soon as they get here. You're just lucky she never got excited," the skunk expert told Kirksey.

"These little girls aren't hard to de-scent. You ought to try de-stinking an Ole Tom, a big one. "Those fellers will bite you, scratch you, and spray you at the same time."

As the youth left with his odorless kitten, Anderson urged him to be sure to take good care of her.

BOILED EGG

"Feed her a boiled egg, some milk, a little calf liver and all the dog pellets she'll eat. She'll get as fat and fluffy as any kitten you've ever seen."

About four years ago an epidemic occurred among wildlife in Montague County. At one time he estimated that about 50 per cent of the wildlife had died.

Head Man At Skunk Works

John Anderson, 62-year-old Montague County varmint hunter and operator of a skunk farm near Forestburg in North Texas, is shown with one of his big skunks which he has de-scented. Anderson traps, breeds, buys and sells and de-scented the skunks. He also traps other varmints which he ships to buyers all over the world. (AP WIREPHOTO)

I had everything on the place full of cats," he added. "When hunting was good in these parts, I could catch 20-25 varmints in one day with no trouble. In fact the best day I ever had I caught 44 skunks. The next day I caught 43. Man

Johnson Vows U.S. Aid In Quelling Riots

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson pledges that where help is needed his administration will work with local authorities to halt acts of violence, whether in the North or South.

He told the American Bar Association Wednesday: "No person, whatever his grievance, can be allowed to attack the rights of every American to be secure in his home, his shop and in his streets. We will not permit any part of America to become a jungle where the weak are the prey of the strong and the many."

"Such acts must be stopped and punished — whether they occur in Mississippi or in New York."

RESPONSIBILITY

"Under our Constitution, the local authorities have the central responsibility for civil peace. There is no place in our federal system for a national police force."

"But where help is needed or federal law is violated, we shall be there. We will work together to punish all such lawbreakers, whether they be murderers in the countryside, or hooded night riders on the highways, or hoodlums in the cities."

Johnson also reasserted the intention of the United States to achieve orderly settlement of disputes in Viet Nam and Cyprus.

"It is our duty," he said, "to help settle any conflict which might erupt into a wider arena."

WITHDRAWAL

"Some say we should withdraw from South Viet Nam. But the United States cannot and will not turn aside and allow the freedom of a brave people to be handed over to Communist tyranny."

He said there are some who advocate "reckless action" in Viet Nam.

He mentioned no names, but said: "No one who commands the power of nuclear weapons can escape his responsibility for the life of our people and their children. It has never been the policy of any American president to systematically place in hazard the life of this nation by threatening nuclear war. No American president has ever pursued so irresponsible a course."

BY RESTRAINT

"Our firmness at moments of crisis has always been matched by restraint — our determination by care."

Concerning racial strife in the nation, Johnson also said: "Those who would hold back progress toward equality and, at the same time, promise racial peace, are deluding themselves and the people. Orderly progress, exact enforcement of law, are the only path toward an end of racial strife."

He said the civil rights law of 1964 will be enforced and citizens must observe it.

Johnson flew here from Washington and returned three hours later.

BY RED CHINESE Maneuvers Set In Border Area

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today it is conducting "large-scale military maneuvers" in provinces facing North Viet Nam and Nationalist China.

Peking radio, in a Japanese language broadcast monitored in Tokyo, left no doubt the exercises were connected with the Gulf of Tonkin crisis and the U.S. air strike at North Viet Nam Aug. 5.

The broadcast noted that the announcement was being issued almost immediately after Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi announced that Communist China "would stand beside North Viet Nam in repulsing any aggressor."

Chen Yi's pledge was made in a letter sent to Communist Vietnamese Foreign Minister Xuan Thuy and broadcast Wednesday by Peking's New China News Agency.

Peking radio said "thousands of men in high spirits underwent such military drills as shooting, throwing grenades, handling of explosives and crossing rivers" in Kwangtung and Fukien provinces and Luichow peninsula.

A section of Kwangtung borders the northeastern corner of Communist North Viet Nam. Fukien Province is directly opposite Formosa, and Luichow peninsula faces Communist-held Hainan Island.

The broadcast did not disclose whether planes and heavy armaments were used in the exercises. But it said military officers and soldiers supervised the exercise in Fukien.

Communist China has an estimated standing army of 2.5 million. Red China announced several years ago it planned to build up a militia force of 200 million men, but economic setbacks are believed to have stalled its growth.

Peking radio said the maneuvers in Kwangtung Province have been going on for three days. It said the exercise in Canton, capital of Kwangtung Province, was "one of the largest military training sessions ever held in the city" and added that in Fukien Province 150,000 persons participated in the maneuvers.

Delayed transcripts of Communist broadcasts received in Hong Kong Monday reported that Peking pressed more than half a million youths, factory workers and government officials into military service three weeks before the Gulf of Tonkin crisis.

Four O'Clock Gardeners Hear Mrs. Kyle Cauble

The Four O'Clock Garden Club heard a program on the care and disbudding of chrysanthemums and the growing of blue ribbon winners Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Boyce Hale, 4102 Dixon. The guest speaker was Mrs. Kyle Cauble, national flower show judge.

Mrs. Cauble advised that horticulture specimens to be displayed should be well groomed and displayed in clean water. Special care in cutting and preparing of the stems will improve the plant, she noted.

In chrysanthemums, bush specimens are not disbudded and exhibition blooms have only one branch and flower. Force blooming can be accomplished by the use of plastic covers. The speaker was presented a Garden Prayer plaque.

Mrs. Ricky Phinney noted that the Hillcrest Park project will be improved. Mrs. Joe Horton reported on the Christmas Bazaar planned for December.

English Treasures

Miss Elizabeth Daniel examines figurines she purchased in the Old Curiosity Shop in England on her summer visit to the British Isles. These mementoes on display in her home at 618 Tulane will be constant reminders of the Shakespearean festival being celebrated this year.

Shakespeare Country Dons Festive Dress

By MARY COCHRAN

When Howard County Junior College sophomores enroll in World Literature this fall they will be in for a treat. Their teacher, Miss Elizabeth Daniel, will be able to give them first hand information on the country where the English writers lived and a description of the Quarter-Century celebration of Shakespeare's birth that is being held in England this year.

Miss Daniel, chairman of the English department, returned recently from a 17-day tour of Britain where she observed the extensive effort of the country in celebrating the four-hundredth year since William Shakespeare's birth. A revival of his more rarely performed plays such as, "Measure For Measure" and such favorites as "Romeo and Juliet," "Julius Caesar" and "Hamlet," are being performed in many of the theaters as well as open air productions in the parks and public squares throughout London.

Busts of Shakespeare are on display throughout the country and the Shakespearean Guild sponsors tours to the Stratford country every Saturday. A commemorative stamp has been issued by the government honoring the occasion.

NO SURPRISE

Miss Daniel, who majored in English literature and wrote her thesis on Shakespearean and Elizabethan drama, had a feeling of familiarity with the country she had been studying for so many years.

The large modern Royal Shakespeare Theatre which is under the patronage of the queen is a far cry from the old theaters of 350 years ago when viewers stood in the "pit" below the stage to view the latest effort of the famous playwright. There were balcony seats for the privileged in the courtyard theater area, but the majority of the viewers crowded about the stage and openly voiced their approval and disapproval of the action. Women hucksters mingled in the crowd to sell sweets to the patrons, and the more excitable viewers sometimes joined the actors on stage to assist the hero if he wasn't getting a square deal.

Miss Daniel was delighted to attend the Royal Theatre where she saw Hugh Griffith and Patricia Cullingham perform in "Henry IV" and Ian Holm star in "Henry V."

While in Dover she saw "The Golden Splendor" pageant held in the courtyard of Dover Castle where scenes from 19 of Shakespeare's plays were presented. The costuming was historically correct, and the ancient setting added an air of authenticity to the portrayals. Dame Sybil Thordike is the patroness of the Dover series.

During her tour of England and Scotland, Miss Daniel viewed many sites dating back to the days of Chaucer, Wordsworth, Coleridge and Burns. These are writers she covers in her college courses.

SCOTLAND BEAUTY

Edinburgh proved to be one of her favorite visits as the city was beautiful and far removed from the hustle of the larger cities.

"I took a dream trip to Windsor Castle approaching it by river boat," said Miss Daniel. "It was one of the most splendid sights of the trip."

Magnificent palaces and cathedrals impressed the traveler, and she enjoyed a visit to Oxford University and the old walled city of Cambridge. Also, she saw the touchingly beautiful American War Memorial at Mattingly.

Miss Daniel made an extended tour of the points of interest in London before her return

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Fresh Stains Rubbed Out With Ice Cube

Dear Heloise: I had two small blood spots on the knee part of my denim pedal pushers. In order to get the blood spots out, I rubbed an ice cube on them. As I did this, I held a wash cloth underneath. It worked perfectly!

It took only about five minutes. The blood stains went on into the wash cloth. Amazing. People who have fresh blood spots on clothing might try this method. I found it completely satisfactory. . . . Mrs. Robert Bee

Ladies, you will never believe it, but I actually pricked my finger to get some blood spots on a piece of cotton. I let it dry for three hours.

I then folded up a wash cloth and put it under the spots. I picked up an ice cube and rubbed briskly over the spots, up and down, crosswise, and around and around, and do you know what?

That precious blood did leave the cotton cloth and came out on that old wash cloth!

And I also wonder if you all know that unseasoned meat tenderizer when mixed with a little water into a paste will remove old blood stains? Rub in, let set 30 minutes and wash as usual. If the spot has been there a long time, it may take more than one application. . . . Heloise

Among the special guests were parents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Terry and Mr. and Mrs. James Edwards, and the prospective bridegroom's godfather, Richard Johnson of Dallas.

DEAR ABBY

Good Health Comes First

DEAR ABBY: I once read a letter in your column back in 1958 which I thought was so inspiring that I cut it out. It was signed "VERY POOR" and I wish you would print it again because I read it every day and it has helped me more than medicine. God bless you.

FAITHFUL READER
DEAR FAITHFUL: Thank

ber being free from pain in 22 years. If I could wake up one morning feeling good again I wouldn't care if the neighbors dogs barked, if their kids made noise, or even if my wife (if I had one) flirted with another man. What I am trying to say, Abby, is if a person can get up in the morning and go to work on his own two legs, he should get down on his knees and thank God, for, without health, you have nothing. Even if you are rich.

"VERY POOR"
HESITATING

DEAR HESITATING: I'll "put it into words" for you. "Look, Dear, our joint savings are to start a home. YOU may want a blue-covered sports car but I don't. Even though your happiness is important to me, our life together had better start off right or not at all." (P.S. If you're wise, you'll take a long hard, second look at this fellow. He sounds immature and self-centered to me.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MEEK AND MILD": Here is the quote you were searching for to illustrate how, after maturity, you achieved a better relationship with your father even though he neglected you during your boyhood.

"He drew a circle that shut me out—
Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout.
But Love and I had the wit to win:
We drew a circle that took him in."

LBJ Answers Power Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and the Pentagon have fired back at Sen. Barry Goldwater's charge that the Administration is depleting the "arsenal for the defense of freedom."

The Defense Department described as "totally false" Goldwater's statement that the U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons may be reduced by 90 per cent in the next decade.

And President Johnson, addressing the same audience that heard Goldwater's charge — the members of the National Association of Counties — said:

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

In his speech Monday, Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, said the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single new manned bomber.

"Under our present defense leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade," Goldwater asserted, unless present plans are changed.

Not so, the Pentagon said Tuesday night through Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester.

Sylvester's statement said Goldwater's charge was "not only without foundation but contrary to the facts."

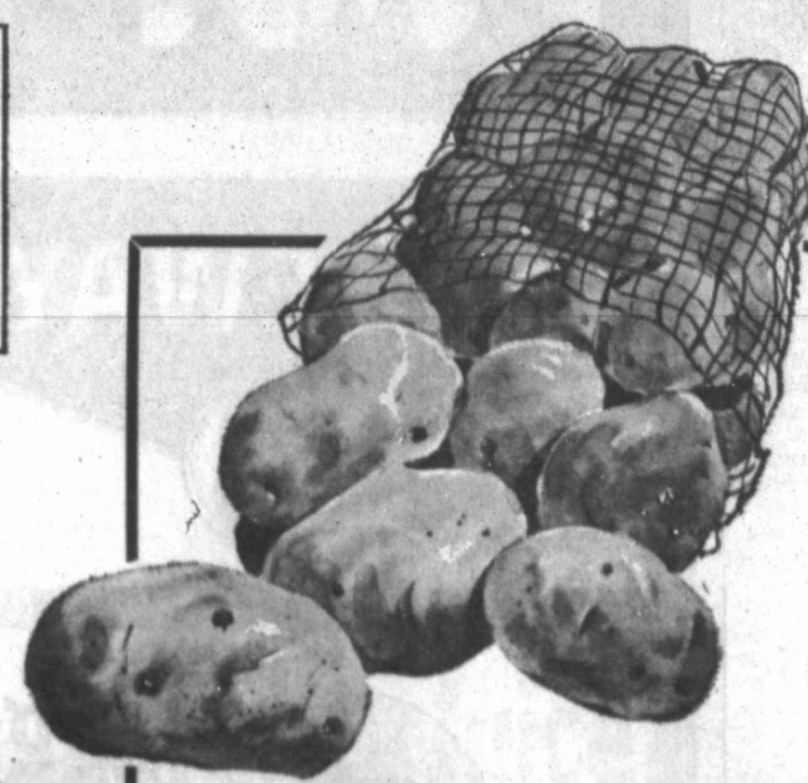

"The facts are," the statement said, "that in 1970 we will have a capability to deliver on target 2 1/2 times as many warheads as we had in 1961 and a greater number than we have today."

A Goldwater speechwriter, Karl Hess, said Goldwater's forecast was based on public information about bombers, missiles and their payloads.

"You take what we've got and you take what we're going to have and that is the result," said Hess. He said no classified information had been used.

Keep Open, Segregated, Claims Embattled Owner

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Lester Maddox says he is going to try to keep his restaurant open and segregated until another showdown with the federal government next Wednesday.

That is the date set for Maddox to show cause why he should not be held in civil contempt of a federal court order requiring him to serve Negroes at his Pickrick Restaurant.

"I am not in contempt and there is certainly no basis" for the charge, he told newsmen Wednesday night shortly after he was served with the order.

The restaurant operator contended Negroes who sought service Tuesday were turned away by a crowd of white bystanders and Negro employees.

Tuesday, Aug. 11, was the date set for compliance with the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act by a three-judge federal court in a ruling issued July 22.

Justice Hugo L. Black of the U.S. Supreme Court turned down a request to delay the effectiveness of the ruling and the stage was set for Tuesday's test.

Negroes tried without success to eat in the restaurant and with U.S. Atty. Charles L. Goodson. A short time later U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper signed the show-cause order at his home on a motion by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Fire Marks Good For Gas Stations

NEW YORK — Independent studies show that service stations have enviable fire and traffic safety records.

Service stations have one of the lowest rates of incidence of fire among all commercial establishments and in the area of traffic safety, accidents at service stations are so rare that few statistics - gathering agencies bother to keep separate figures on such mishaps.

Arabs Ask Halt To West Planning On Atom Force

GENEVA (AP) — The United Arab Republic called today for a halt in the planning for a proposed Western multilateral nuclear force.

It was the first time a non-aligned delegation to the 17-nation disarmament conference has submitted a formal proposal directly affecting the controversy of atomic arms. The Soviet Union maintains that it would be and that the proposed force is designed chiefly to put nuclear weapons into the hands of the West Germans.

Britain also has reservations about the American-sponsored project.

U.S. Ambassador Clare H. Timberlake and Italian delegate Francisco Cavalletti said they would study the proposal. Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin said the proposal was "worthy of the closest attention."

Timberlake assured the conference the United States will take no action inconsistent with resolutions by the U.N. Assembly and the Organization for African Unity against the dissemination of nuclear weapons.

"That is the declared policy of the United States," he added.

Tsarapkin, who was the last speaker, repeated the Soviet arguments against the multilateral force and said that his government, while seeking to improve relations with West Germany continues to oppose any arrangement providing that country access to nuclear arms.

Huge Cool Mass Covers Wide Area

By The Associated Press

A huge mass of cold air from Canada, fanned by stiff northwesterly winds, covered wide areas from the Dakotas to the Atlantic Coast and southward nearly to the Gulf region today.

The autumn-like weather in midsummer was in sharp contrast to the abnormally high temperatures in many areas last week. Temperatures in some sections headed for record low marks for Aug. 13.

The mercury slid into the 30s for the second day in a row in parts of the Northern Plains and into the 40s as far south as the Ohio River.

A frosty 32-degree reading chilled Brookings, S.D., and it was 33 at Fargo and Devils Lake in North Dakota.

BISMARCK

Bismarck, N.D., registered 25 and it was 37 at Duluth, Minn. Vandalia, in south-central Illinois, was given a 40-degree cooling.

The 45 reading in Waterloo, Iowa, was the lowest mark for Aug. 13 since 1916. Louisville's 49 temperature was a record low for the date and compared to a reading of 51 in Anchorage, Alaska.

In the West, heavy rain hit the normally arid sections of Arizona and New Mexico. Flood waters swept across Winslow, a town of 3,800 in northern Arizona, forcing evacuation of 17 patients in the Winslow hospital by National Guard troops. Some 20 families were evacuated from a south side residential district. About 100 homes were reported damaged by the flood waters. The floods followed Wednesday's heavy rain, with about three inches reported in a one-hour period.

Rains also fell in southern Arizona and caused minor flooding in downtown sections of Florence and Casa Grande, about 60 miles from Phoenix. In the Southeast, a thunderstorm dumped nearly three inches of rain on Columbus, Ga., in a two-hour period. Twenty-five persons were evacuated from their homes in low-lying areas.

COOL BELT

Showers fell in some parts of the cool belt in the Great Lakes region and in New England.

Texas cooled off today under scattered showers brought by a summer cold front.

There was no indication that the showers carried enough rain to significantly dent the entrenched dry state of crops, lawns, and rangelands. But the cool days and nights were welcome after months of withering heat.

Most points Wednesday reported temperatures in the 80s and 90s. Maximums were 104 degrees at Presidio in the West Texas Big Bend; 102 at Laredo, Lufkin and Junction, and 100 at College Station.

Today's early temperatures ranged from 83 at Del Rio and Laredo to 69 at Lubbock.

Thundershowers fell late Wednesday around El Paso and lighter showers were seen in the northern Panhandle. Earlier Greenville received .70 of an inch of rain.

The Weather Bureau predicted scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers in nearly all parts of the state. The far north portions should warm up.

Gambling Probe Quits Without Indictments

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-day federal grand jury probe into gambling operations in the Houston area has been recessed without any indictments being returned.

Some witnesses appeared with their faces covered with masks.

After the grand jury recessed Wednesday, Arnold Stone, a Justice Department attorney directing operations, said in a news conference the jury would reconvene but no date has been set. He said it would not be in the next 10 days.

The investigation which began last Monday took on a Halloween atmosphere at times as some witnesses wore grotesque face masks to hide their identity from newsmen.

A man in a werewolf mask was one of the last witnesses. His identity was not learned by newsmen.

Another witness was Mair J. Schepps, a wealthy Houston tobacco and candy merchant. He told newsmen, after being in the grand jury room for 25 minutes, that he answered all questions and that the questions "concerned gambling."

Mrs. Milton D. Mallard, wife of a Bryan, Tex., gambler, appeared in the federal building accompanied by attorney Newton Schwartz. She told newsmen she went to the U. S. marshal's office to see her husband.

Mallard, now serving a federal prison sentence at Texarkana, was reported in the building but his whereabouts were kept secret from newsmen. He apparently was slipped in and out of the grand jury room without being recognized by newsmen.

Mallard also is under indictment on charges of contempt of court for refusing to answer questions of a legislative committee investigating alleged fixing of Southwest Conference basketball games.

Young Demos Meet

Peking Playing Both Ends In Deep Africa Struggle

By The Associated Press

Communist China is secretly financing revolution in sub-Saharan Africa while holding out the hand of friendship to the governments it subverts.

that Peking has made more progress than the Soviet Union in the struggle for African influence — and poses a greater threat. This information comes from responsible sources in seven African nations and is confirmed by Western diplomats believe.

Red China has given at least $300,000 to sympathizers in strategic Kenya. It has friends in high places there.

Peking provided support for the successful leftist revolt in Zanzibar.

It is financing a Cameroon resistance movement which wants to overthrow the Cameroon government.

Red China has provided large sums to the National Liberation Committee, which seeks to overthrow the Congo government from a base in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo, across the river from Leopoldville. This Chinese help is channeled through embassies in Brazzaville and in Burundi.

Peking has financed exiled Watutsi who want to install leftist leadership in the tribe.

Last Tuesday, a Chinese diplomat who defected to the United States said Red China is trying to take over the Congo so it can "grab the whole of Africa." Tung Chi-ping, who was an assistant cultural attache for Peking in the small African nation of Burundi, quoted Mao Tse-tung as saying: "When we can grab the Congo, then we can grab the whole of Africa."

Tung likely knows details of the Chinese plan for Africa, and is giving them to U.S. officials. His defection therefore must be a matter of concern to Peking.

Red China's bid for influence in Africa is typically two-sided. Secretly there is subversion. Publicly there are friendship and diplomatic support.

Communist China has won diplomatic recognition from a dozen African nations. Egypt led the way in 1956. Morocco followed in 1958, Guinea and Sudan in 1959. Since then recognition has been granted by Ghana, Mali, Somalia, Kenya, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Burundi, Tunisia and the Congo Republic (Brazzaville). Ethiopia has expressed the intent to grant recognition but never has actually done so.

"Peking tells the Africans that the 'do it yourself' communism of the Chinese mainland is the only thing which will work in Africa, which lacks capital and experts," a Western expert on the subject explained.

"The Chinese argue that Soviet Russia today actually is a capitalist state — rich and so developed that its policies and programs will not apply in Africa."

Another factor seems to be Soviet disenchantment with results from past Soviet aid to Africa.

An Egyptian commented: "The Russians keep telling us we aren't grateful for what they've done. They harp on it all the time."

Egypt has received more aid from the Soviet Union than any other African power.

Lack of political progress in Egypt, Guinea and elsewhere seems to have cooled Soviet enthusiasm to compete with Peking for Communist influence in Africa.

The Chinese diplomats quote Chou En-lai to win African friends. They say he is offering aid with no strings, that it is to the mutual benefit of Red China and the African nation to see economic development.

To an extent this seems true. Economists say Communist China wants East African cotton, Sahara oil and other African raw materials. They cite Peking's trade with South Africa as evidence that commerce knows no ideology in Red China's world.

The Red Chinese also offer technicians who will live on the same level as Africans, unlike Russian and Western technical advisers.

Nationalist China still is recognized by 16 African nations. Taipei has won many friends there by sending in experts on rice-growing and other agriculturalists. In Liberia, for example, there is high praise for what the Nationalist Chinese have done.

But neither Nationalist Chinese nor Soviet influence looms as large in Africa as Communist China's. Peking's maneuvers are creating increasing concern among moderate African leaders, and in Washington, in London and Paris.

The 15th annual Comanche County reunion is to be held at McKenzie State Park in Lubbock on Aug. 23, according to R. D. (Cap) Cox, president. All former Comanche County residents now living in this general area are invited to take part and bring a basket lunch for the meal starting at 12:30 p.m.

Dog Club Meets

Mrs. Tom Riordan will speak on obedience training for dogs at the meeting tonight at the Big Spring Kennel Club in the home of Capt. and Mrs. Russell Stauffer, 42-A Chanute, at 7:30 o'clock. She will also demonstrate some of her methods. Also, plans will be discussed for entering breeds in a "puppy match" in San Angelo Aug. 14.

Teenagers Restless, Rioting Even Behind Iron Curtain

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—A "big beat" contest for amateur jazz bands ended in uproar in Communist Prague's Park of Culture. Hundreds of teenagers scattered sneezing powder, tore down curtains and threw chairs around the hall.

When police were called, the teenagers scattered and later roamed the streets, tearing down flags and assaulting pedestrians. In the Black Sea resort of Varna, teenage Bulgarian call girls entice Western holiday-makers and "sleep with them for a pair of nylons," a Sofia newspaper reported. In Poland, gangs of teenage toughs molest pedestrians and make it dangerous for them to walk the public parks after dark. Communist East Europe has much the same problem with unruly teenagers as do Western nations.

The majority of teenagers under communism are law-abiding. They work and study diligently, but there is one major disappointment for Communist organizers: They can't get youth worked up about Communist ideals. They have trouble getting them to attend Marxist indoctrination courses. Most East European youngsters would rather be off with their girls—or if they are lucky, with their motorcycles.

A 17-year-old Westerner studying in Budapest put it this way: "I know lots of teenagers. They are just bored with politics. It's not that they want some other sort of political system, like capitalism. They don't know any other. It's just that they want jazz and parties and clothes and travel and a good time."

Common to all the teenagers is the popularity of American and Western European jazz. They tape jazz and the latest Western hits, and they dance the twist everywhere but in Bulgaria, where it is forbidden. For many years — especially in Stalinist days — the Communist regimes used brutal tactics to try to curb youthful zest and curiosity about Western things. Many who affected Western clothes were beaten up, jailed, deported or put on forced labor.

Now the regimes have changed except for Bulgaria where mild pressure still is being used. The attitude of most Communist leaders is: "If you can't beat them, join them."

Goldwater Says Issue Of Trigger-Happy Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says President Johnson has shot down one campaign issue — the charge Goldwater is trigger happy.

The Republican presidential nominee said the orders to the 7th Fleet in last week's North Vietnamese crisis could have been interpreted to mean the President was authorizing the use of nuclear arms. The administration fired back with a statement from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that "Sen. Goldwater's interpretation is both unjustified and irresponsible." The controversy began Wednesday at Goldwater's press conference at Hershey, Pa., where Republican leaders had gathered for a unity summit conference. Goldwater also said he was far from satisfied with the President's actions in Southeast Asia and added "if the President will continue to listen to me, take my advice, we'll have less trouble." In a New York speech to the American Bar Association Wednesday, Johnson said the U.S. course in Southeast Asia will not be diverted by political attacks at home. He said it has never been the policy of an American president "to systematically place in hazard the life of this nation by threatening nuclear war."

CONTRIVERSY
The Arizona senator, who had stirred a controversy over suggestions that NATO commanders should have more "leeway" in use of weapons, was asked at his news conference about charges he is trigger happy with tactical nuclear power. Said Goldwater: "I think the President has somewhat removed it (the charge) by impulsive action no one has condemned, by telling subordinate commanders to use any weapons necessary, which pretty much removes any criticism of what he could make of what I supposedly have stood for." A week ago Wednesday, the day after the President ordered naval air strikes against North Vietnamese PT boats and their bases, McNamara was asked at a news conference what orders U.S. ships were operating under in the Gulf of Tonkin. He replied: "Our orders to the commanders are to continue their patrols, to protect themselves against aggression on the high seas with whatever force is necessary." A reporter asked Goldwater, "could you amplify the remark you made? Do you mean that the President has given field commanders the right to use any weapons including atomic weapons?" "I would suggest you read his admonition to the commander of the 7th Fleet in which he said to use any weapons," Goldwater said. "I think I know what he means."

MORE SAY-SO
"But I also know what I meant when I said that the supreme commander of NATO should have more say-so in the choice of tactical nuclear weapons." "It's not to give him the ICBM, the IRBM, it's merely tactical weapons and I imagine that these people — though I don't know — in the Pacific, have the right to use these weapons if the commander feels it's necessary. The reporter pressed on, asking "do you feel President Johnson has given these Pacific commanders the right to use low yield...?" But Goldwater interrupted, saying "I'm only quoting his admonition to his commander. I don't know what went on in his orders. I haven't seen the orders, but I read the papers and if you say any weapons necessary the public mind can imagine a lot of things." In retort, the administration contended that would be an unreasonable interpretation.

NO AUTHORITY
The statement issued by the State Department under the names of Rusk and McNamara said: "The President gave no authorization for the use of any nuclear weapons in the course of the episode in the Gulf of Tonkin, and he made no statement which could reasonably be interpreted to suggest that any such authorization had been given. "Sen. Goldwater's interpretation is both unjustified and irresponsible." After commenting he was far from satisfied with the President's actions last week in Southeast Asia, he was asked what he would do.

Webb Linked To Network
Webb Air Force Base has been hooked into the military version of direct distance dialing telephone system. The system is called Automatic Voice Network (AUTOVON) and is financed by the Defense Communications Agency (DSA). Capt. Robert H. Epperson, Webb AFB communications detachment commander, reported that the new dialing system is expected to reduce official telephone toll costs for the base. By using the AUTOVON network an authorized caller may dial Army, Navy, Air Force or Marine installations anywhere in the continental U. S. and Alaska, Hawaii and Panama, toll free. It will enable almost instantaneous contact between military installations that have circuits hooked into the huge network. Officials hope to have the European continent hooked into the system in three years. This system augments the Air Training Command Alert Net (ATCAN) which is presently in use at Headquarters ATC, Webb AFB, and eight other bases on privately leased lines. The initial AUTOVON services requested for Air Training Command bases include two circuits for each Undergraduate Pilot Training base; three circuits for Technical Training Centers; five circuits for Lackland AFB; and 30 circuits for Randolph AFB.

Awards Made
Three members of the Deputy Commander for Training Office at Webb Air Force Base were presented with outstanding performance awards this week: They are T. K. Price, operations training specialist; Mrs. Garrison Walker, operations division clerk-stenographer; and Mrs. Robert B. Baker, secretary in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron.
