HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DIANNA

Tiny Tot Made History By Keeping On Growing

She's one-year-old today, and already this tiny little girl has made history—simply by being alive.

Dianna Carrena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carrena who live on the H. L. Moates ranch near Luther, came into the world prematurely a year ago Sunday (Aug. 23, 1963), weighing only one pound and 15 ounces.

Doctors and nurses at Cowper Clinic-Hospital, where Dianna was born, said most infants that small do not survive birth. The ones who do seldom live 24 hours past birth. (The average weight of newborn babies is 7 1/2 pounds.) Dianna was 14 inches in length at birth, compared with the average normal length of 18 inches.

Authorities at Cowper Clinic-Hospital were not certain Dianna would survive. She spent her first three months in an incubator. But since then, her progress has been remarkable.

Her parents took her to the hospital Saturday for a checkup—the first one in six months. The results were startling, for Dianna had grown in length to over two feet and her weight had increased to 13 1/2 pounds.

"She eats anything any other child her age would eat," exclaimed Mrs. Carrena, "and she is healthy and normal in every other respect. She certainly screams and cries when she's hungry."

"She has a high temper," added Frank Carrena, uncle of the youngster.

Dianna has a full growth of hair and two teeth. She crawls around on the floor blithely unconcerned over the odds against her existence.

Like most babies, Dianna lost some weight in the first week after her arrival. In her case, it was a drop from one pound, 15 ounces, to one pound, 12 ounces. She had lost three precious ounces. Any further loss would have caused grave concern. As it was, doctors were not certain Dianna would survive for about two months.

Since then, her growth has been normal. Mr. and Mrs. Carrena also are parents of two other girls, Linda, 4, Norma, 2, and one son, Randy, 3. They have lived on the Moates ranch for the past 10 years.

For the parents, as well as the child, today is a happy birthday.

Pre-Convention Fracas Continues

No Hint Yet On Johnson's Running Mate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Democratic governors Saturday that several men still are under consideration for the party's vice presidential nomination and he'll announce his selection next week.

This indicates Johnson will be holding the big scene in his personally directed political mystery drama right past Monday's curtain-raising time for the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

He might even hold back the big news until the ultimate moment on Wednesday when the delegates will choose both the presidential and vice presidential nominees.

The no-decision-yet word was given to reporters by Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia who put the question to Johnson at Saturday's closed White House meeting between the President and 30 Democratic governors, among whom are several who conceivably could get the vice presidential nod.

Johnson said he does not believe Americans in this election year want "to risk war or to gamble with peace" by turning from his administration's course.

Johnson made one of his sharpest political appeals yet when he told them and a national television-radio audience:

"Others may believe and others may say that the people of America want to pursue some other way, but I do not and I cannot agree."

"I do not believe the people of this country want to turn aside from this course of sure success — to risk war or to gamble with peace — to place their prosperity in peril or their well-being in doubt — to reopen old questions that are now resolved or to fail to face new questions that are now imposed."

The chief executive began by recalling that nine months ago Saturday—almost to the very hour — he became President upon the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Recalling that he had promised at the time to continue Kennedy's work, Johnson said he believes that by the time Congress adjourns, it can be said "that pledge of last November has been redeemed."

Listening intently to Johnson's words from a second-row seat in the big room was Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, who was gravely wounded during the assassination of Kennedy.

Decision Today On Big Squabble

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — In a packed hearing room the Democratic National Convention's Credentials Committee heard Saturday the pros and cons—at times dramatic and emotional — of challenges to the seating of all-white delegations from Mississippi and Alabama.

Most of the drama came during the arguments in the Mississippi case. A predominantly Negro group from that state seeks to be seated in place of the all-white regular group.

Nationally known Negro leaders took the stand and pleaded for recognition of the Negro group.

Spokesmen for the all-white delegation replied that the Freedom party is a "rump group" formed by nonresidents of Mississippi and that many of its organizers "have records of affiliation with Communist-front organizations."

The Credentials Committee delayed all decisions until Sunday at noon (CST). The convention opens Monday.

As part of their case, the Freedom Democrats presented several Negro witnesses who told of being beaten in their efforts to register and vote in Mississippi.

Another witness was Rita Schwerner of New York, widow of one of the three civil rights workers slain this summer near Philadelphia.

When Mrs. Schwerner was called by Joseph L. Rauh Jr.,

Washington attorney and spokesman for the Freedom party, E.K. Collins, Mississippi national committeeman, objected that she was not from Mississippi and not familiar with the election laws and general situation.

However, Chairman David L. Lawrence of the Credentials Committee permitted her and other non-Mississippians to testify. He observed that the committee members could judge for themselves what was relevant to the issues.

There was no formal contest involving Alabama, but the delegation's right to be seated was challenged because the state's presidential electors are not pledged to support the convention nominees.

This case and three lesser ones involving Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Oregon also were held over for consideration by the committee Sunday.

As the hearings proceeded there was talk around Convention Hall of finding solutions which would prevent any floor fight from breaking out Monday night when the committee reports to the convention, and avoid any possibility of a walk-out by any of the Southern groups.

One report was that both the Alabama and Mississippi regular delegations would be seated, and that the Mississippi Freedom Democrats would be given recognition by having a place on the convention floor.

Rauh, however, said he doubted this would be acceptable to the Freedom Democrats.

Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer of Ruleville, Miss., vice chairman of the Mississippi Freedom Democrats, told the hushed room a story she had previously related—how she had lost her job on a plantation because she registered to vote, how she and others had been taken from a bus and beaten by policemen and others.

"All this is because we want to register, because we want to be free," she said. "If we are not seated, then is this the home of the free?"

The fund advanced considerably Saturday, thanks to these friends:

LEADERS
Roy E. Wilkins of the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and James Farmer, head of the Congress of Racial Equality, all pledged that the Negro group be seated.

The prefatory statement cited, item by item, the Democratic platform pledges of 1960, and coupled each with what the committee described as the actual accomplishment.

"The time has come for the people to measure our performance against our pledges," the first-installment statement said. "We welcome the comparison; we seek it."

"For the record is one of four years of unrelenting effort and unprecedented achievement — not by a political party, but by a people."

Makarios Calls Fresh Troops

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The government of President Archbishop Makarios announced Saturday night a fresh mass call-up of Greek Cypriot civilians for compulsory military service.

Men in Nicosia and its suburbs 22 to 25 were ordered to serve in the National Guard created after the eruption of communal fighting last December.

Makarios himself met with the Soviet ambassador to Cyprus during the day. Although nothing was announced, observers believed the two had discussed the offer of Soviet military aid made to the Makarios government eight days ago.

For the third day in a row, Greek Cypriot headquarters said unidentified planes flew over Cyprus' northwest coast. A spokesman said two planes had been involved Saturday. Earlier in the week the government accused Turkey of violating the U.N. Security Council cease-fire recommendation by sending planes over Cyprus.

Otherwise the island was calm.

Cleo Leaves Devastation, Revs Up Winds For More

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo battered the rum and banana islands of Guadeloupe Saturday with 115 mile-an-hour winds and left the main city of Basse Terre looking like a battlefield.

Then Cleo revved up to 120 m.p.h. and aimed her lethal winds at the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic.

At least four persons were injured in Guadeloupe, but no one was reported killed, possibly because of the ample warning.

However, property damage was severe. The streets of Basse Terre and other cities in the seven-island group were strewn with uprooted trees, telephone poles and wires. A report said it looked like a battlefield after a bombardment.

Communications with the sugar and banana plantations in the interior were cut off. But first reports said these crops had been damaged heavily.

Highest winds recorded in Basse Terre were 93 m.p.h., but the Weather Bureau said peak winds were 115 m.p.h. on the southern tip of Guadeloupe.

After hammering at the French islands for about three hours, Cleo churned into the eastern Caribbean on a steady 20 m.p.h. course to the north-northwest.

St. Croix, resort island just east of Puerto Rico, was lashed with gales in the early evening. Unless Cleo veered, St. Croix was due to be hit with sustained winds of hurricane force.

About 1,400 U.S. National Guardsmen were evacuated from summer training bases in Puerto Rico as Cleo, the season's first hurricane, whirled toward it. The Guardsmen were airlifted in 23 planes to MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa, Fla.

Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico called an emergency Cabinet meeting to arrange for precautions, including evacuation of low-lying coastal areas.

"Cleo is a dangerous hurricane," the Weather Bureau at San Juan warned. "People in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands should complete preparations this afternoon for the onset of dangerous winds, torrential rains and heavy seas."

Neighboring Haiti was expected to get the same orders later. Cleo, a tightly knit but extremely dangerous hurricane, whirled directly over the seven islands of the Guadeloupe group during the early afternoon.

At 8 p.m. Cleo's dead-calm eye was in the eastern Caribbean about 200 miles southeast of San Juan, about 1,200 miles southeast of Miami.

"Buddhists are determined to fight against every scheme to rebuild the authoritarianism of the (Ngo Dinh) Diem regime, and also to fight all elements of the old regime that have not yet been eliminated."

Earlier Buddhist leaders demanded the release from house arrest of four generals who were ousted from command when Khanh seized control Jan. 30. They are Gens. Tran Van Don, Le Van Kim, Mai Zuan and Ton That Dinh.

Punctuating the nation's array of problems, a terrorist bomb exploded Saturday night next door to a bar filled with U.S. servicemen. The blast harmed no one in the theater but a Vietnamese who died later of wounds, may have planted the bomb, police said. No Americans were hurt.

Military sources in the field said Communist Viet Cong guerrillas attacked a U.S. and Vietnamese Special Forces camp 60 miles northwest of Saigon but were driven off after helicopters and fighter planes joined the fight. There were no reports on casualties.

Washington (AP) — An Iowa supporter of Sen. Barry Goldwater was reported Saturday to have offered to purchase the assets of President Johnson and family for "$3.5 million plus 25 per cent."

The offer was reported from John Burrows, a Davenport businessman.

Burrows said he represented a group of businessmen seeking new areas for profitable investment.

The offer in a telegram to the President followed the publication here Wednesday of a detailed accounting of Johnson family fortune. It set the total value at $3,484,098, a figure promptly challenged by Republicans as much too low.

The auditors did not contend their figure was based on current market value.

Burrows telegram said in part: "We propose to pay $3.5 million plus 25 per cent to help you cover the capital gains taxes that would then be due. . . . We propose within 10 days after acceptance to pay $350,000 as evidence of good faith and turn over the remainder of the total price upon successful conclusion of the purchase."

Burrows contended the profit from resale would exceed the cost of Goldwater's campaign and would not involve the President's LBJ Ranch in Texas.

tech Has A New President

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Directors of Texas Tech elected R. Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth president at their meeting Saturday.

He succeeds Manuel DeBusk of Dallas.

The board voted to name four new women's residence halls after C. I. Walls of Amarillo, former board chairman; the late Gen. John A. Hulen of Fort Worth, a former board director; W. P. Clement of Lubbock registrar emeritus; and Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Gates, former faculty members.

The four halls house a total of 1,616 women.

In other action the board authorized sale of $1,373,000 in campus housing revenue bonds and engaged Pitts, Mebane, Phelps and White of Beaumont as architects for a new chemistry research building.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched three more satellites Saturday, the Soviet Tass agency announced Sunday. It named them as Cosmos 41, 42 and 43.

Students Issue Ultimatum To South Viet Nam Leader

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — President Nguyen Khanh and 10 oppositionist students sat down over tea and cigarettes Saturday and argued about how South Viet Nam's government should be run.

The students came away dissatisfied and apparently left in effect an ultimatum for Khanh to make changes by Tuesday.

The students told Khanh they wanted what amounted to an American-style democracy for South Viet Nam — with election of a civilian government. Khanh replied this was a target to aim for but claimed that in view of the war against Communist guerrillas that kind of government is at present impractical.

In their ultimatum, the students demanded in addition to civilian government, lifting of the present state of emergency and the elimination of what they called "anti-Buddhist repressive laws" from the government. Unless Khanh meets these demands by the Tuesday deadline, student demonstrations — now limited — will be enlarged, the students said.

Buddhists also have been demonstrating against the government but during the meeting with the students Khanh received a letter he said came from Thich Tam Chau, one of the two top Buddhist leaders. It offered tentative support to Khanh's government, revamped last Sunday to restore a powerful presidential system. Khanh had been premier.

"Vietnamese Buddhists support the revolutionary government under your leadership on the condition that your government respect all democratic liberties, including religion," the letter said.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Last weekend (it seems like a long time) there were a few spotted showers, and the heat wave broke for awhile, but it didn't last. The dismal sound you heard on the countryside were those tractors plowing up shriveled cotton to take the land out of production under federal allotments. The estimate for Howard County's cotton crop is a woeful 15,000 bales.

Some news of better economic import turned up. An announcement was made of a new tourist lodge, the Americana, to be located at the intersection of IS 20 and US 87. It will be a 52-unit affair, involving some $301,000, financed by Amarillo interests who are working with Lamar Green, whose restaurant will become an integral part of the facility.

And the Texas Water Commission set a hearing for October 19 on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's application for a lake on the Colorado River in Coke County near Robert Lee. If you can look far

ON NEW IS 20 BYPASS

Construction Begins Here On New Motel

Construction is scheduled to start this week on a 52-unit motor lodge, complete with swimming pool, salesmen's quarters and a recreation area on a 200 x 214 foot tract just west of US 87 on the Andrews Highway.

Lamar Green, operator of Lamar's Restaurant, the first enterprise to be built on the IS 20 bypass west of US 87, said that three Amarillo capitalists, John Rayburn, Joe Bernard and Jack Huddleston, are sponsoring the $391,000 project.

It is to be called "Americana" and will be a duplicate of the lodge in Amarillo called by the same name, only the new lodge here will be 12 units larger than its name-sake.

A contractor will be moving in heavy equipment this week to begin grading operations on the land. The three men have leased the tract from the Bugg Estate on a 25-year-tenure, with two 10-year renewal clauses.

The new lodge will be built in such a manner that Lamar's Restaurant will be the food service feature of the project. Green will be innkeeper for the new Americana.

The lodge will be of two-story type construction and will feature a huge kidney-shaped pool as its centerpiece. It will be faced with ceramic tile.

It is estimated that the new lodge will take four months to build. The contractor, whose home is in Amarillo, will establish his headquarters in a house trailer on the site.

Lamar's Restaurant may be blended into the overall construction pattern by a false front, Green said, when the project is ready for operation.

Lamar's Restaurant opened last November.

Scientists Nudge Star Into Stationary Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — In something akin to a pushball game in space, scientists nudged a man-made star Saturday toward its intended goal — a seemingly stationary orbit some 22,000 miles above the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported highly successful preliminary efforts to position the satellite Syncom 3 — dubbed the "Olympic Star" — over the Equator.

Using radio signals to activate peroxide gas jets on the satellite, space scientists hope to perfect its alignment in time to relay telecasts of the 1964 Olympic Games in Japan.

Club Members Fly Cross Country Trips

By M. A. WEBB
A lot of cross country flying has been scheduled this week by flying club members out at Howard County Airport. Some were requisite to students' examinations for pilot licenses, and some were purely vacation trips by members. Those featured in cross country trips were: Howard County Flying Club for training, E. Long, D. Long and McClure; E. Long also made five local flights, D. Long three and McClure three; Big Spring Flying Club, Dr. John B. Norton, two weeks vacation trip in the club's Skyhawk; Webb Aero Club, Brown, off through Sept. 5 in the club's Mooney, Densch, through Sunday, Estes, through Sunday. Others making local flights were: Howard County Flying Club's Colt — Davis, Green, S.; Big Spring Flying Club — Colt, Neefe and Weaver, and the Colt went in shop for major overhaul; Webb Aero Club — Cessna 150, Shoefner, Fennell; Colt, Densch, Estes.

Howard Loyd of Big Spring Aircraft made a charter flight to Lubbock Thursday carrying a group to the re-districting hearing, and then took off again Friday morning on another flight.

The new parking lot at the airport, just south of the terminal building, is completed and ready for use by those visiting the airport. The new lot, done by Howard County crews, provides room for around 25-30 more cars, and also connects the driveway with

Exile Reports On Fighting

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Anti-Castro guerrillas are engaged in active fighting in the rugged Escambray Mountains of south-central Cuba, a Cuban exile organization said today. A spokesman for Sentinels of Freedom said 12 Castro militiamen were killed and numerous others injured by a guerrilla force in one of two small battles July 12.

Grand Jury Will Hear Evidence In 24 Cases

Twenty-eight defendants involved in 24 felony complaints are to be brought before the Howard County Grand Jury when it meets at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Nine of the matters to be laid before the grand jury involve worthless check and forgery of fenses; four concern burglaries; three are DWI matters. Of the graver charges the grand jury will be called on to consider will be one case alleging possession of narcotics; a car from Delores White Aug. 8. Manuel Montemayer and Ismael Reyes will answer charges of possession of narcotics in connection with charges they were apprehended with marijuana in their possession July 8. Melquiades Pena Coronado Jr., Ray Valensuela and Mike Valensuela will answer to a charge they took a .22 rifle by force from C. C. Lockaby Aug. 15.

Horace Dwayne Carroll must answer charges of assault with intent to rape, in connection with an alleged assault July 15. Maximino Quellar, charged with shooting Alex Sandoval several times with a pistol June 28, must answer a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. Worthless check complaints are pending against Curtis Allen, Dave Webb (two counts); Jessie Aleman, Roscoe Lynn, William R. Harden, Donald Carpenter and Sandra Whitmore. Forgery, and forgery and passing complaints are filed against Jesus Bustamante and Gary Crawford. Burglary charges pend against Steve Harper, Henry Nugent Sanders, and William Floyd Raymer.

AVERAGE COST: $1,027

Says Funerals Not Expensive

By TOM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
Texans will spend some $65 million on death this year. That's well over half of what the state spent on higher education in 1962 ($96 million). Are funerals too expensive? The Texas Funeral Home Association (TFHA) says no. Jessica Mitford, in her best selling book, "The American Way of Death," said yes. Edward McGuire, executive secretary of the TFHA, says Miss Mitford's highly critical portrayal of the funeral industry is "all hogwash out the window."

What is the cost of dying in Texas? McGuire said the average regular adult funeral service in the state costs $762, not including cemetery expenses. However, he said the average cost for all funeral services in Texas, including those for children and welfare cases, comes to $622. The national figures are $755 and $616 respectively.

George Hanes of Grove Hill Memorial Park in Dallas said an average burial plot costs $170. Another $75 is charged for opening and closing the grave for a total cemetery cost of $245.

Therefore, the average price for an adult funeral service and burial in Texas comes to $1,027. A floral spray for the casket will run from $25 to $100, said one Dallas funeral director, so that fee would be added on in most cases.

Cremation costs less than burial in the ground or entombment in a mausoleum. The cost of cremation at Restland Memorial Park and Funeral Home in Dallas is $75. It costs $105 if the remains are in a metal casket.

Texans funeral directors apparently are cost conscious. A spot check of the yellow pages of the Dallas telephone book yields these advertisements: "Where quality is not ex-ensive... You alone decide the cost... Finer funerals cost no more... Service measured not by gold but by the Golden Rule." Texas undertakers say they serve, not "sell." The bereaved family selects rather than buys.

The philosophy, as expressed by the TFHA, is "To each his own" in the matter of costs. Miss Mitford says this means "What traffic will bear."

McGuire said he could get anyone in Texas a $250 funeral. "You can pay as little or as much as you want to. It's that simple," he said.

The Mitford book claims that some morticians take advantage of grief-stricken families and induce them to commit themselves to expensive and lavish funerals they can't afford.

McGuire acknowledged that that sometimes happens: "Sure, you'll find a few shysters in any field. But the vast majority of funeral directors in Texas and in America are upright and conscientious. They shouldn't get a bad name because of a few."

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Martha L. Cameron had a ready explanation Friday as she faced a charge of selling whiskey to an undercover police officer. "I didn't know he was a policeman," she said. Here's why you should choose a TSO Doctor of Optometry to prescribe and fit your Contact Lenses.

If you are considering CONTACT LENSES, undoubtedly, you would like to know the factors which contribute most toward providing maximum wearing comfort with the greatest amount of visual efficiency. First, there is the experience and proficiency of the practitioner who examines your eyes, measures the curvature and diameter of the cornea (front of the eyes), and interprets and specifies the ophthalmic prescription and dimensions for your contact lenses. Then, there is the skill and precision with which your contact lenses are made in accordance with the Doctor's prescription and specifications. There is the design of the lens, and then the care taken in assuring accuracy and perfection of processing in the laboratory, to produce the finest... the ultimate in contact lenses. Considering these requirements, here's why YOU SHOULD CHOOSE A TSO DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY TO PRESCRIBE AND FIT YOUR CONTACT LENSES: In the past fifteen years, TSO Doctors of Optometry have fitted over 40,000 patients with contact lenses, a vast experience which results in precision and skill in the interpretation of examination findings... assures you of the correct optical and physical elements in your prescription specifications. These are factors which often determine the successful wearing of contact lenses. In the laboratory, again the experience of producing many thousands of contact lenses has resulted in important improvements in design and in the processing and finishing techniques used. TSO Contact Lenses, with a multi-curve design and highly polished edge bevel, are produced under strict, rigid inspection at every processing stage. Only the very finest grade, cured optical plastic is used.

Because of these factors, a typical TSO patient readily achieves minimum adaptation time* and maximum wearing comfort. So, if you are considering contact lenses, and have been wondering which practitioner to choose to prescribe and fit them, you will be wise to first consider a Doctor of Optometry at TSO. Famous TSO Contact Lenses, worn by thousands, are unsurpassed in technical excellence, yet they are reasonable in cost. Single vision TSO Micro-Sight Contact Lenses are only $65.00, including examination and fitting. Bifocal contact lenses are also available at reasonable cost. YOU CANNOT GET FINER QUALITY, BETTER FITTED CONTACT LENSES NO MATTER HOW MUCH THEY MIGHT COST ELSEWHERE. Convenient credit terms are available at no extra charge.

*Average adaptation time for all-day wearing: 10 to 14 days

COLONIAL STRUCTURE
New Kentwood 30-unit apartment complex

Kentwood Apartments Open To Occupants

The Kentwood Apartments, a 30-unit, two-story apartment complex, located at Twenty-fifth and Birdwell Lane, opens its doors to dwellers for the first time Sunday.

Construction of the complex, owned by the Kentwood Apartments, Inc., began last March with the work by the Milch Construction Co.

Al Milch is president of the corporation. Other officers include Ted Groehl, vice president; Mrs. Curtis Kelley, secretary-treasurer; and Curtis Kelley and Robert Foole, directors.

This latest Big Spring apartment complex is in Colonial style with interiors in the Italian Provincial style. The brick and wood shingle roofed structure will be surrounded by Colonial peristyle posts. Parking space is provided on each side of the structure, and the complex includes a utility room, equipped with washers and dryers. A brick wall separates the front parking area from the building.

The entranceway is of terrazo stone tile and it leads to the stairway for the upper units as well as to an interior patio. Workmen presently are seeding the spacious front lawn and planting evergreens along the front colonnade.

Automatic lights which come on at dusk and turn off at sunrise are at both sides of the entranceway and around a heated swimming pool in the patio. Chandelier-type lights also appear at the front of the building.

The patio also includes a lawn with chairs for the apartment dwellers. A walkway around the upper apartments affords a view of the patio from all sides. Other plans include the installation of car ports behind the south wing.

The apartments, now being occupied, come in four types: two bedroom with two full baths, two bedroom with 1 1/2 baths, two bedroom with one bath, and one bedroom with one bath. They rent from $120 to $190, depending on the size and whether they are furnished.

The interior walls and ceilings of each unit are white, but the floors and furnishings come in four color schemes — avocado green, beige, gold and turquoise. Nylon carpeting can be seen throughout the complex, and each unit has an electric refrigerator and stove plus central heating and air conditioning. Acoustical ceilings are designed to soften outside sounds.

Each apartment also has ample closet space, and a different mural adorns the dining area wall of each unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyd will manage the Kentwood Apartments.

Lamesa Has Bigger Budget

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa school trustees have adopted a $1,508,187 budget for the 1964-65 school term, which reflects an increase of $96,789 over last year's budget.

The largest chunk of the budget went for instructors' salaries and instruction supplies and equipment. Of the $1,065,707 appropriated to instruction, $1,014,772 went for salaries for teachers, principals and supervisors. The remainder will be used for textbooks, library and audio-visual aids, teaching supplies and other expenses connected with instruction.

The administration office received $64,633 for its operating expenses with salaries again taking the major portion, $47,008.

Plant operation costs were cut back nearly $2,000 from last year, but still commanded the second largest appropriation of $91,380. Plant maintenance budgeting received $69,998 from the board. The increase was due to the hiring of a maintenance engineer, two assistants and the increased estimate of equipment replacement.

Attendance costs rose only slightly from last year's budget to $11,908. Pupil transportation, on the other hand, dropped about $7,500 from the 1963-64 figure and received only $43,635.

Health service costs amounted to $11,470 covering salaries for two nurses, supplies and travel expenses. Fixed charges increased slightly and totaled $13,001. Other costs budgeted included $12,500 for student body activities and $4,600 for community service.

Capital outlay was decreased over $10,000 and budgeted at $31,902. The debt service decreased slightly to $152,300 and outgoing transfers were given $700 making up the total anticipated expenditures.

Operating fund requirements total $1,413,887 and interest-sinking fund requirements were $152,300.

Sgt. Howe To Retire

M. Sgt. Lawrence E. Howe, 3560th Support Squadron, Webb Air Force Base, will retire Aug. 31, after more than 20 years service.

Prior to his enlistment in the Air Force in 1946, Sgt. Howe has served in world-wide assignments in the Regular Army. Among these countries were England, Germany, France, Belgium, Okinawa and Alaska.

During World War II, he was assigned to the 54th Headquarters Company (Quartermaster), which had the responsibility of processing equipment for units in the line.

While stationed at Webb AFB, Sgt. Howe was assigned as clothing sales officer and assisted as commissary NCO.

She is married to the former Frances E. Barry of Fort Worth. They have two sons: David G. Howe, 9, and Robert Lynn, seven months.

The Howes will retire in Layton, Utah. Their home in Big Spring is at 432 Hillside Drive.

Sgt. Howe has been assigned at Webb AFB since January, 1962.

Honor Airman

Airman 2.C. Phillip Johnson Jr., 3560th Supply Squadron, Webb AFB, has been selected as Airman of the Month for July for his unit. He is a bin stock parts expeditor and has been stationed at Webb AFB since December, 1962. His home is in Ocala, Fla.

Cadets Graduate Friday At Webb

Presentation of 12 Air Force ROTC awards and the commissioning of eight AFROTC cadets as second lieutenants in the Air Force highlighted the second Summer Training Unit encampment Friday afternoon at Webb AFB's Withycombe Hall.

Winner of the Commandant's Award was Richard R. Browning, A&I University, Nashville, Tenn. The award is presented to the outstanding cadet, selected from the entire cadet group, who demonstrated exceptional leadership qualities and outstanding abilities in all aspects of the summer training program.

Eight Vice-Commandant Awards were presented to the top cadets of the eighth training flights.

They were: Edwin A. Beckcom III, Flight A, Texas A&M; Frank W. Cox, Flight B, Texas A&M; Phillip J. Devolites, Flight C, Texas A&M; James E. Allen, Flight D, Texas A&M; William C. Cobb, Flight E, University of Texas; Wendell F. Moseley Jr., Flight F, Southwest Texas State College; Stephen P. Menzies, Flight G, Texas A&M; and Louis R. Lehner, Flight H, University of New Mexico.

Other awards winners were Joseph P. Wedding, Air Force Times Award; Stanley G. Goodrich, marksmanship award; and Eugene L. Raub, athletic award.

Receiving commissions as Air Force second lieutenants after the awards presentations were made were: David C. Davis, Richard H. Gray, Thomas A.

Moon, Ben Nelson Jr., J. William Roberson, Charles W. Walker, Walter C. Want, and Joseph P. Wedding.

The graduation address was made by Col. E. L. Masters, Webb Air Base Group Commander. He was introduced by Col. George E. Franks, deputy commander for materiel, who made the introduction for Col. A. F. Tautz, wing commander.

Master of ceremonies was Lt. Col. Bedford R. Underwood, commander of the AFROTC Summer Training Unit Staff. Speaking briefly was Lt. Col. Tyler B. Huneycutt Jr., AFROTC training officer. Invocation and benediction were said by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) B. F. Meacham.

Earlier, the cadets held a graduation parade in the AFROTC area. A graduation dance was held Friday evening at the Webb AFB Officers Open Mess.

Letter Makes Slight Detour

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A letter from Nuernberg, Germany, has reached the office of Mayor Harold Tollefson after a slight detour.

Asking assistance in locating a relative, the letter was addressed simply to: "The burgermeister, Tacoma, Wash."

The post office sent it to a local brewery, which forwarded it to the mayor.

Borden Bells Ring Monday

LAMESA (SC) — About 300 students, 40 more than last year, trek back to classrooms in the Borden County school district term.

School bells ring the following Monday as terms open on Aug. 31 at Sands in Ackerly, Dawson in Welch, Flower Grove, Klondike, Union and O'Donnell districts. Lamesa students, some 4,291 strong, are the last to resume classes, beginning on Sept. 8.

Few major construction projects were undertaken by any of the area districts during the summer months and only Klondike integrated.

Dawson School constructed a new dressing room; Borden County trustees approved the addition of one bedroom to each of four teacherages; Union painted classrooms, renovated sanitary facilities, added refrigerated drinking fountains and landscaped the school grounds.

At Klondike, students will be looking forward again to starting the new term with a new gymnasium. A new structure collapsed at the outset of the 1963-64 and was rebuilt. Four new teacherages were also built.

The only new superintendent in the area is at Flower Grove where J. W. Massengale, long-time head coach, was elevated to replace J. L. Newbury, who resigned.

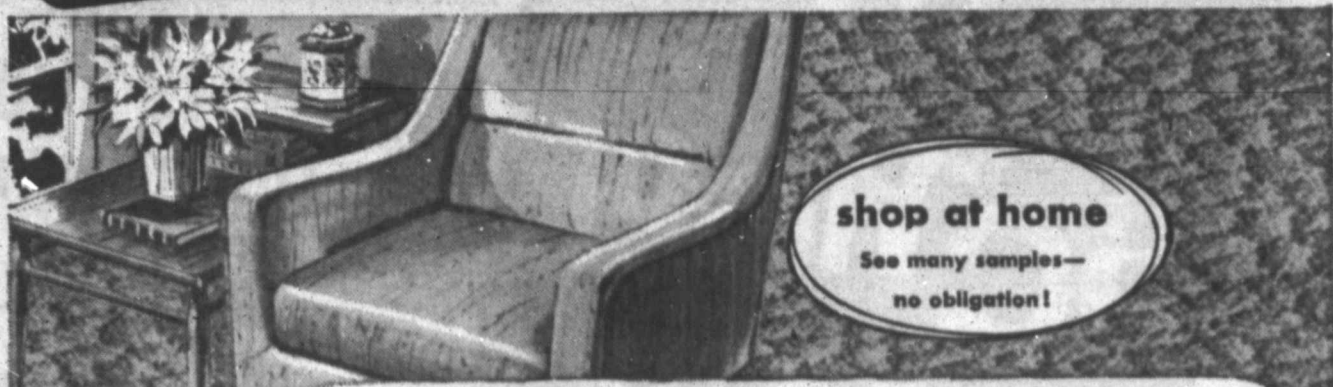

About 6,500 students are expected to enroll in Dawson, Borden and the Martin County school at Flower Grove. The figure represents a slight gain over last year.

O'Donnell expects 865 students, Dawson and Borden about 300 each, Union 150, Flower Grove 150, Sands about 417 and Klondike 200.

Welcome TO

BIG SPRING

WEBB PILOT TRAINING CLASS 66-B

Big Spring and all its people extend the friendly hand of a West Texas welcome to the student pilots of Webb's Class 66-B. These young men, here for a complete course of primary and basic jet-flying instruction, become citizens of our city for more than a year, and it is our earnest hope that they will find here a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere; and that when they must leave, they will do so with a kind feeling in their hearts for Big Spring, its business establishments, and all its population.

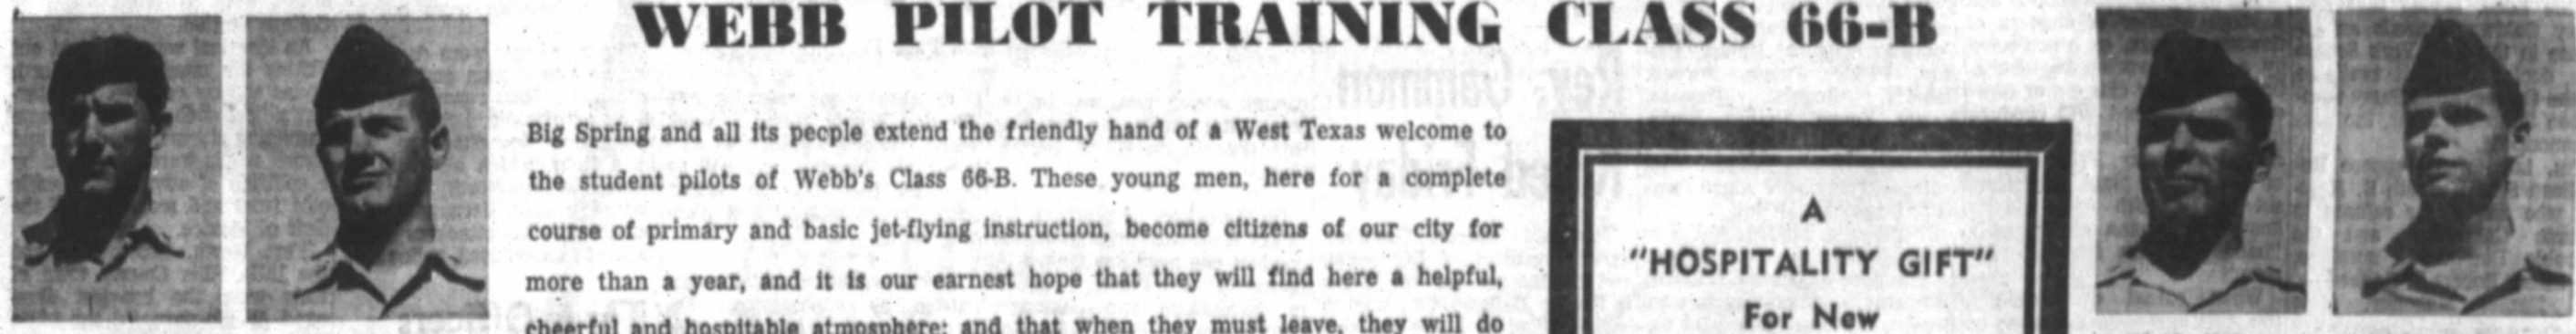

May we urge our new student pilots, as time permits them, to become acquainted with our town, to know about the churches and the schools, the facilities for leisure and enjoyment, the shops and the service establishments.

Particularly do we ask them to drop in and see us, just to let us get acquainted, and say in person what we are saying here. There's no obligation to buy at any time . . . we want to be of service, and of assistance if we can.

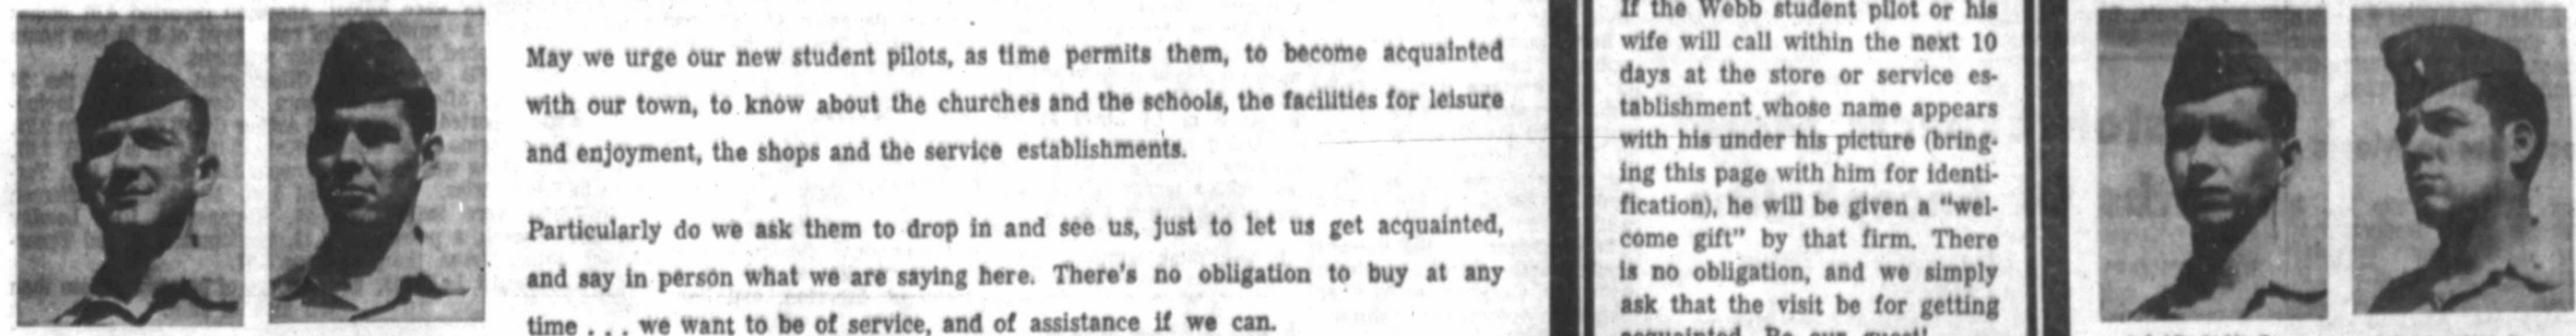

Yes, it's all wrapped up in one wholesome, hearty word . . . "WELCOME!"

A
"HOSPITALITY GIFT"
For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

SESSIONS AND BANANA BLOOM
Small fingers, or bananas, show at top of stem

Bananas Grow In A Bucket

By M. A. WEBB
Bananas growing in Big Spring?

There is a lone banana tree, bush, plant, or whatever such things are called, with little bananas and blossoms, at Big Spring Nursery and Landscaping, 2406 Scurry. The bloom now showing up is the tenth on the stalk.

James Sessions, owner, said he got the plant about three months ago and had it growing in a big wooden bucket. He said it was the healthier looking of two plants and, all of a sudden it started to looking "puny."

Then the blossoms appeared on a stem, with the pods looking a lot like corn cobs except they are red. The shucks apparently form a protective cover for the blossoms and, when the little bananas form, they dry up and eventually fall off.

"When the bloom stem first appeared it was right against the stalk," Sessions said. "It has continued to grow until it is now about two feet long."

Some reading on the banana plant revealed that the ones found in the Western Hemisphere are known as "Musa sapientium." The stalk, or trunk, is not what it seems. It is formed by the long leaves, tightly wrapped together. There is a true stem. When the plant is fully matured a bud forms in the root of the stalk, grows up through the center of the leaf mass, and finally emerges from the center of the crown, and is known as a "shootin'."

Mrs. Luce Enters Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce, saying that Sen. Barry Goldwater needs an advocate in the New York Senate race, declared herself available for the Conservative Party nomination Saturday night, the party announced.

Mrs. Luce would oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth P. Keating, who has so far refused to endorse Goldwater, and the probable Democratic nominee, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

J. Daniel Mahoney, state chairman of the Conservative Party, announced Mrs. Luce's decision in a news release.

Mrs. Luce, playwright wife of the editorial chairman of Time and Life magazines, is a former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut and former ambassador to Italy during the Eisenhower administration.

Food Group Meets

Gay Hill 4-H Group No. 2, under the junior leadership of Betty Little, met Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. B. Jackson. Sherry Jackson demonstrated how to make peach and cottage cheese salad. The next meeting will be in the home of Ruby Nell Murphy at a time to be announced.

Youngsters Admit 43 Crimes Here

Big Spring police, acting on information received from two juveniles Friday, cleared up 43 cases involving burglary, theft, shoplifting, and breaking and entering, Saturday. Ten boys, ages 10 to 13 years, were apprehended by officers and turned over to Juvenile Officer Bob Darland.

Detective Jack Jones said that Patrolmen D. M. Donovan, Travis Long and Melvin Darlat, working with Darland, and acting on a hint by two boys they had picked up for questioning, brought in four other boys at one time, and then another group. Each group implicated other boys until 10 were involved.

Rev. Gammon Killed Friday

The Rev. James Gammon, former resident of Big Spring and timekeeper for the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. was reported killed in a one-car accident on a rain slick street in Fort Worth Friday night. He and his family moved to Fort Worth when the railroad company moved several employes about four years ago.

Rev. Gammon had left the railroad, had completed work at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and was working toward his Master's degree at Texas Christian University. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring while here.

Many persons in the Howard County area were acquainted with Rev. Gammon as he filled pulpits in several area churches on occasions.

Funeral will be held at the First Baptist Church, Handley, at 3 p.m. Monday, where he was a member. He leaves the widow and four children. The residence address is 7016 Greenlee. Handley, and telephone number is GL 1-3259.

Law-Ettes Plan Thursday Meet

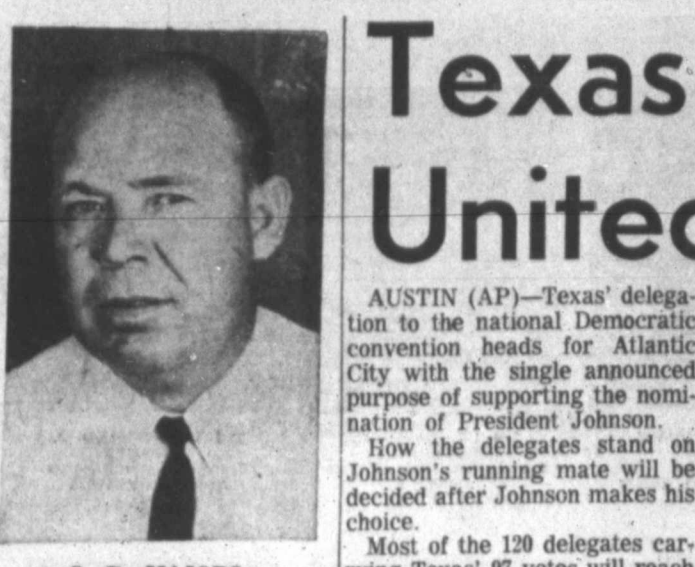

The Big Spring Law-ettes, wives of law enforcement officers, will hold a monthly get-together at the City Park beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday. The menu will consist of roasted weiners, baked beans, potato chips and tea.

The committee, in charge of arrangements, is composed of Mrs. Barbara Graham, chairman; Mrs. John A. Wolf Jr., Mrs. L. D. Adams, Mrs. James Woodruff and Mrs. Graydon Howell.

Weather Forecast

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast Sunday for Gulf Coast states, Atlantic Coast states, Tennessee Valley, upper Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley. Temperatures are expected to be warmer

Ambulance Service Is Announced

O. D. Majors announced Saturday that Big Spring Ambulance Service will begin operation here Sept. 1, serving the area 24 hours a day. The new firm will be headquartered at 306 Goliad, Majors said, a central location enabling fast service to any part of the area.

Majors has formerly been associated with ambulance work in Plainview and Carlsbad, N. M. He has some three years experience in the field. Associated with him in the firm here will be Harvey Majors and Herb Spier.

Majors will operate three ambulances, all radio and oxygen equipped. In addition to emergency calls normally associated with ambulances, Majors will offer transfer service from hospitals to homes, out-of-town transfers of patients, and other work.

He pointed out his service will not be affiliated with local funeral homes, who have provided the city with ambulance service in the past. Nalley, Pickle and River-Weich funeral homes will not offer ambulance service after Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Majors have three school-age children and plan to make their home here, he said.

THE WEEK

enough ahead, this may be the most vital facility to come to this area in an entire generation.

On the matter of hearings, the Texas Railroad Commission will conduct one here September 16, on the Texas & Pacific's request to discontinue two passenger trains between Fort Worth and El Paso. Some opposition, sentiment is developing here.

County fathers came up with a proposed budget that calls for some $26,000 less in expenditures for the next year, and they propose a five-cent drop in the tax rate, to $1. The School District's budget is up by about $11,000, but board members think they have the valuations to end the year with a larger reserve than that of the current year.

If you think summer hasn't gone, check your calendar and see that school starts a week hence. Teachers gather as early as this Tuesday, and will be busy for four days in conferences, organizational and planning work.

The school board added a few trustees by appointment. Dr. Carl Marcum, recognized civic and public leader, replaces Wendal Parks, who resigned.

Another name in the news was that of Robbie Brown, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of the Knott community. She was crowned the county's Farm Bureau queen. And there was also Mrs. Jones Lamar, honored for 35 years' service with the telephone company.

Tragedy kept its hand in. A traffic crash in Glasscock County took the life of Mrs. F. K. Rocha of Asherton, and lightning killed 14-year-old Karen Pearce as she rode a horse on a ranch in Borden County. These, by fate, were fatalities outside Howard County, but we still have a traffic toll of six rural traffic deaths so far this year.

We lost another of our esteemed old-timers, when death called H. H. Squires, for 30 years associated with the railroad here. And friends mourned the passing, in Lubbock, of Dr. C. A. Bickley, retired Methodist minister who at one time held pastorate here.

The wheels kept turning at Webb—or you could say the planes kept flying. APROTC students—156 lads from the nation's colleges—completed their four-week summer training session at the Base, on the same date that a new pilot training class, 66-B, was welcomed aboard.

Downtown interests put together their non-profit corporation, to use as an instrument in handling general improvements to keep the central part of the city vital. They envision more and better parking, some property improvement, remedy of the curb situation along Main Street.

Get ready to do your part in the United Fund. Chairman Lester Morton and M. R. Koger announced a team of strong leaders to head various divisions, and they will soon be organizing their own battalions of volunteer workers.

And right now, the Bible Fund needs your help. There is no public aid for this course in the high school, and Big Spring-ers for years have made it possible through public subscription. This year's deadline is fast approaching.

Texas Delegation United Behind LBJ

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' delegation to the national Democratic convention heads for Atlantic City with the single announced purpose of supporting the nomination of President Johnson.

How the delegates stand on Johnson's running mate will be decided after Johnson makes his choice.

Most of the 120 delegates carrying Texas' 97 votes will reach the convention city just in time for a Sunday night reception by the State Democratic Executive Committee in honor of Gov. John Connally and his wife. About 1,000 specially invited guests from throughout the nation will join the Texans.

Another big social affair is scheduled Tuesday afternoon when delegates from the Second Congressional District, in far Southeast Texas, are hosts at a reception for Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., of Beaumont.

"Bring your recreation clothes and have fun along with the work," said a state Democratic committee memo to delegates. "There are nearby facilities for golf, horse racing, sightseeing, and all kinds of water sports."

The convention program calls for only four night sessions beginning at either 8 or 8:30 p.m.

The only other business session scheduled for Texas delegates is a caucus Monday morning.

Several members of the delegation have been in Atlantic City the past week working in the delegation headquarters at the Haddon Hall Hotel or in the pre-convention sessions of various committees.

Before leaving for the convention, the delegates got a reminder from state Democratic headquarters about maintaining a good image.

It said: "For obvious reasons the Texas delegates and alternates will be very much in the limelight at the convention and all of us should be careful to refrain from doing or saying anything that will cause President Johnson any difficulty or embarrassment. Particular care should be exercised in talking with members of the out of state press about controversial issues; such as, the selection of a vice presidential candidate or the seating of any contested delegation, because anything any Texas delegate says may be construed as an indication of what President Johnson thinks on the subject."

Connally is delegation chairman with state Democratic Chairman Frank Erwin of Austin as vice chairman of the delegation.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin is delegation secretary; Julian Read, Fort Worth, sergeant at arms; former Gov. Price Daniel and Miss Mary Rafter of Hillsboro, members of the convention committee on

Rains Rumble Across State

Menacing thunderstorms loomed near-cloudbursts close to Houston and in West Texas while threats of severe weather overhung other parts of the state Saturday night.

Three inches of rain poured down in an hour at Tomball, 30 miles north of Houston, as a line of heavy thunderstorms rumbled through the area. Winds hit 40 miles per hour in gusts amid brilliant flashes of lightning.

Heavy downpours flooded some underpasses in Houston and there was a sharp increase in traffic accidents.

Another 3-inch deluge struck at Eldorado, west of San Angelo, while torrential rains fell in parts of West Texas.

One severe thunderstorm alert followed another for broad stretches of the state, meanwhile, as a southbound cold front caused a threatening buildup in turbulence.

The latest alert, issued at 5:40 p.m. and in force until 11 p.m., was expected to continue with a few packed isolated hail and locally damaging winds. It covered the area 60 miles each side of a line from 60 miles south of Junction to 50 miles south of College Station.

An identical warning went out Friday for much of the North Texas section covered in Saturday's first such advisory. Some damaging storms, a tornado and strong winds were generated by a collision of advancing Pacific cold front and moist air off the Gulf of Mexico.

Fort Worth, Brownwood and the little Ellis County town of Italy were the heaviest damaged. Winds unroofed the Little Theater in Fort Worth at TCU and disrupted utility lines. A small tornado hit Brownwood and damaged two houses. Italy suffered roof damage.

Sherman reported 4.01 inches of rain, most of it in two hours near midnight.

Other good rains in the 24 hours to dawn Saturday included Arthur City 3.74, Lometa 2.25, DeKalb 2.10, Perrin AFB 1.57, Demison 1.79, Chappel 1.37, Terrell 1.30, Mand 1.29, Jefferson 1.28, Hagansport 1.19, Leaday 1.12, Gouldbusk 1.10 and Texarkana 1.07.

Scores of points had less than an inch of rain.

Man Injured In Altercation

Delfino Hernandez, 40, an employe of the Loren McDowell Ranch, Route 2, Big Spring, received a jagged cut over the left eye and two stab wounds in the back when he was attacked by unidentified assailants about 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the 300 block of North Lancaster.

Authorities at Howard County Hospital Foundation, where Hernandez was taken for treatment, said the wounds were not serious.

The assailants were described as two young men and an elderly man. They reportedly fled in an automobile. Police are investigating the attack as well as a fight, which allegedly occurred on the North Side later Saturday night. Hernandez could not identify his attackers or the type of weapon used, police said.

Three Officers Die In Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Air Force officers were killed Saturday when a small Air Force plane crashed in flames on Andrews AFB in nearby Maryland shortly after takeoff.

The plane reported a loss of power in one engine right after takeoff. The plane was to have flown to Biloxi, Miss.

The three were Brig. Gen. Lawrence Loesch, a passenger; Lt. Col. James Tyson, the pilot; and Col. Howard LaBrenz, copilot.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Writer Poses Question, What Has Barry Done?

To the Editor:

Yesterday I read a letter to the editor in which a citizen expressed a desire for television debates between the President and Mr. Goldwater. He had some unkind things to say about our President while commenting on the sincerity, integrity and frankness of Barry Goldwater. I too would like to comment a little on these things. Earlier this year, Look magazine published a list of quotes from Goldwater speeches and writings. Before publication, they were sent to Goldwater and he was asked if he wished to deny them. He did not. Since then, however, he has denied or qualified almost every one of them. He spends more time dissembling and backtracking than anything else. He plops his foot in his mouth with the greatest of ease but he has a little trouble getting it out sometimes.

If he is sincere I have trouble deciding when it is. For example, was he sincere when he said he would abolish Social Security or when he said he would pull the U. S. out of the U. N., or when he said he favored our continued participation in it?

Was his speech accepting the presidential nomination his true feeling, or was he sincere when he said later that the speech was a mistake, fired his writer and hired a couple of Eisenhower writers to do his future writing?

Perhaps we should not pay too much attention to what Mr. Goldwater says and concentrate on what he has done. But what has he done? Inherited a department store and had a nervous breakdown trying to run it. Got elected to the Senate where he has proposed no legislation other than pork barrel issues for his own state. Shown a completely negative approach on almost all issues. In fact, he makes quite a point of voting against everything.

In spite of all this, he appeals to many people. Perhaps because he appears to be frank. He is frank. Recently a friend said to me, "You will have to agree that when you ask him a question, he gives you an answer."

"I agree to that," I said, "and it's his answers I don't like."

Land Use Tips

Prickly pear were removed from the land appearing on the left side of the picture at right, which was not grubbed. about 10 years before the picture was taken.

Prickly Pear Competes With Grass For Water

Removal of prickly pear from pastures will increase forage and beef production, according to Earl V. Hogan, range conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

Also, it's easier to work cattle on range land that is free of prickly pears, and the animals do not have to be treated for soremouth. Since there is less food for rodents, there is a similar decrease in the number of rattlesnakes on the land, said Hogan.

The cost for removing prickly pears from range land varies from $6 to $14 per acre, depending on how thick the growth. Additional forage results in an increase of about $2 per acre in the production of beef, he estimated.

In seven years, the extra take from increased beef production would pay for grubbing the land. Since one grubbing lasts 10 to 15 years, the rancher would realize a profit of $5 to $15 per acre before the pears would have to be removed again.

Included among ranchers in the Howard - Martin Soil Conservation District who have grubbed pear this year under the Great Plains Conservation Program are C. J. Engle and Jack Roberts.

LOCAL BOY AT SAHUARO SCHOOL
Rickey Smith looks for unusual rock formations in the desert

School Aims To Help Asthmatic Children

A Big Spring boy, Rickey Smith, is living at the new Sahuaro School in the Tucson

Mountains, seven miles west of Tucson, Ariz. The school, dedicated in May, is maintained by the National Foundation for Asthmatic Children, and has 72 children who will stay for a two-year period to find relief from intractable asthma.

Rickey, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, 3006 Boulder, is a third grader at the school. He attended Marcy Elementary School in Big Spring before going to Sahuaro School. He was taken to the Arizona school a little over a month ago, and his mother says he is doing fine.

"He has had a couple of attacks since he has been there," she said, "but he is happy and is having an enjoyable time. We are allowed to visit him once every four months, and we may take him driving not more than 50 miles from the school. He can make one telephone call home per month."

Children at the school enjoy a complete boarding school program, with cottage house mother, full time social worker, recreational director, 24-hour nurses, staff physician, two consulting physicians, and a teaching staff sufficient for a full rehabilitation program. Only elementary school children, ages six to 11 years, are taken.

The Sahuaro School, nestled on 667 dust-free acres, is the only school of its kind in the nation, and children suffering from severe asthma are taken regardless of ability to pay. Though some parents pay what they can, full scholarships are given to the students who need it. The National Foundation for Asthmatic Children is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization dedicated to the complete care and rehabilitation of the asthmatic child.

The school started in 1954 with 18 children. There were 65 enrolled the following year. On March 17, 1964, the present student body moved into one of the finest health - educational facilities in the Southwest - a new million dollar complex designed expressly for the asthmatic child. The children engage in a complete educational - recreational - health program high above the dust and pollen of the city.

Asthma is an allergic disease genetically induced and is treated as such at the school. The children compete freely with each other and at their own level. A child never misses any school work. When he is ill and in the hospital the teacher goes to him. A complete physical program is offered and much of the activity is outside where advantage is taken of Southern Arizona's consistently warm climate and the school's pollen-free location.

The school is maintained with funds received from direct mail solicitation. The executive board meets monthly and is responsible for the foundation policy. Referral must be made by a child's physician. Only the asthmatic child who cannot be properly treated in his home environment is accepted.

Henry Dahlberg, an investment banker of Tucson, is president of the foundation, and members of the board are from all parts of the United States. "The Sahuaro School location is where breathing is never taken for granted, and where hope has been given to hundreds of asthmatic children and their families," Dahlberg said.

Masonic Ritual Exam Scheduled

An examination for proficiency in Masonic ritual has been set for Thursday, Sept. 3, at 8 a.m. in Lamesa Lodge 909, Lamesa. The examination will be conducted by A. G. Vaughn, Abilene, a member of the Texas Masonic Grand Lodge Committee on Work.

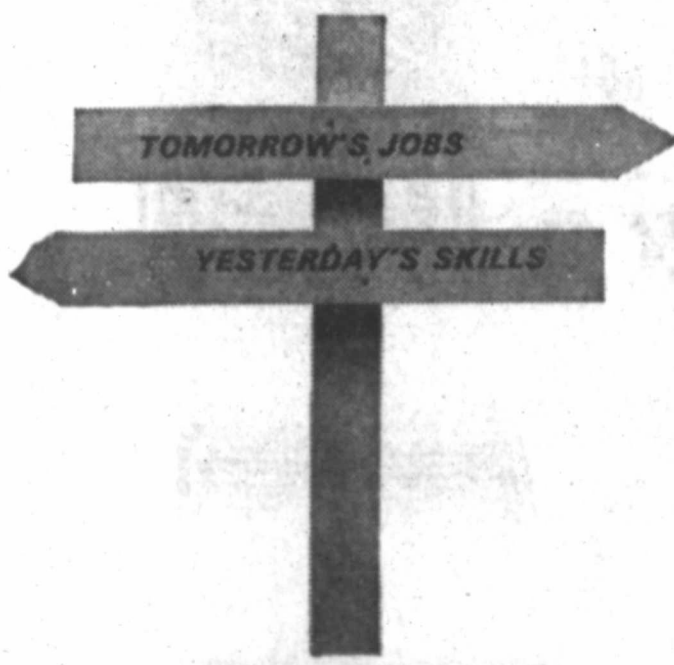

Masons in this area who qualify in the examination will be granted certificates of proficiency in the Masonic ritual at the Annual Communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas to be held in Waco, Dec. 2.

McKinney Is Group Veep

DALLAS (AP) — Southwest Conference football coaches met with the officials Saturday and Texas Christian coach the Martin said he thought it would help achieve consistency in officiating.

There were 400 here for the annual meeting of the Southwest Football Officials Association, and for the first time, they met with the coaches.

"I felt like the officials and the coaches came closer together during this meeting than at any time," said Martin, a member of the national football rules committee.

"Consistency in officiating is the most important thing and I think these meetings will greatly help us achieve that," Taylor Wilkins of Bryan was elected president of the officials association with Burns McKinney of Midland named vice-president.

British Open champion Tony Lema had a 34-36-70 and was fourth for a fourth-place tie at 212.

Neither Masters champion Arnold Palmer nor leading money winner Jack Nicklaus managed any kind of a charge.

Nicklaus mixed three birdies with three bogies for a 36-34-70, two over par for the tournament. Palmer had a 36-35-71, and fell into a 212 tie with Nicklaus and Collins.

Indians Sweep Pair From Los Angeles

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians swept a double-header from Los Angeles Saturday behind the sparkling pitching of rookie Sonny Siebert and veteran Dick Donovan, beating the Angels 1-0 in the opener and 5-1 in the nightcap.

Siebert pitched his first complete game and first shutout in the opener as he outthrew the Angels' sensational Dean Chance. The right-hander scattered five singles in boosting his record to 4-3.

Donovan limited Los Angeles to four hits in the nightcap. A three-run uprising in the sixth inning of the second game featured a two-run homer by Leon Wagner, his 28th. The other run in the inning came on a double steal, with John Romano stealing home and Vic Davalillo going to second.

Siebert struck out six and walked only one in the opener. Previously the longest he had worked was 7 2/3 innings.

The Indians' run in the opener was in the fourth on a fielder's choice.

That was the first earned run off Dean Chance in 21 2/3 innings. The 23-year-old right-hander, now 14-6, had tossed two-hit shutouts in his last two starts and was seeking his 10th straight triumph.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Look for Nelson Fox to succeed Harry Craft as manager of the Houston Colt 45s after this season. Another good bet for a managerial job in the big leagues: Frank Lucchesi, boss of the Arkansas team in the Pacific Coast league. It isn't being noised about but a lot of Dallas money is supposed to be tied up in the new race track at Juarez, which will run its horse season in competition with Ruidoso Downs (it opened with dog races).

NELSON FOX

When the horses move in there, only thoroughbreds reportedly will be employed. A big motel-hotel combine reportedly will be built near the Juarez track. The Juarez promoters get a big break in that no tax money to speak of is exacted from the earnings. The New Mexico tracks pay 7 1/2 percent of the take. Even with the money it has had to lay out for tax levies, Sunland Park has paid for all of its physical plant in the four years it has been in operation. Bob Jackson, who played his college football at New Mexico State in the same backfield with Big Spring's Charley Johnson, recently caught on with the Oakland Raiders after being cast adrift by the San Diego Chargers in 1961, rushed to 411 yards his rookie year but was used very little last season because of the emergence of Keith Lincoln. Football fans are reminded that freshman teams of Texas A&M and Texas Tech will play in Midland the night of Nov. 12. Reserve seats for the contest sell for $2, general admissions for $1.50 and student seats for $1. Jim Newton, a 160-pound letterman back, quit the Lamesa football team, along with Jack Bearden, up from the junior varsity. Big threats for the Tornados against Big Spring next month will be Jerry Mabry and Jim Anderson, each of whom weigh 194 or better. Mabry did not play against the Steers last year due to an injury. He's quite a ball carrier.

Julio Ramos Now In Roswell, N. M.

Bert Baez, who pioneered the Cuban baseball movement to Big Spring back in the late '40s and was the professional team's major interpreter during his tenure here, reportedly is back in Cuba. Whether or not he is in the good graces of the Castro regime is a moot question, although he was known to have worked toward the upheaval of the old order before Castro came down out of the mountains. No one here has heard from him in a long time. Julio Ramos, a 26-game winner for Big Spring during its salad days in professional baseball, now resides in Roswell, N. M., where he married a Latin-American girl. The diminutive Ramos was offered a shot at a berth on a big league team after his phenomenal success here but passed up the chance, insisting he didn't have the goods to deliver in that class ball. Georgia Tech's Tonto Coleman, brother to two Big Spring men, was presented with an honorary membership in the Texas High School Coaches Association during the recent clinic held in Fort Worth. Two former Big Spring residents, Howard Jones and Joe Williamson, won flight championships in the recent City golf tournament held in Snyder. Jones was in the third flight, Williamson the second. Charley Bldwell, president of the St. Louis (football) Cardinals, said recently he thought Atlanta would get a big league football franchise in 1966. Such a thing, he added, would probably come through the shift of a club rather than through league expansion. He was silent when asked which league would get there first. Dick Canon, the San Angelo golfer, may join the pro circuit after he completes a tour of duty with the Army next July. Best bet for MVP honors in the American League is third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles. Midland is a long shot bet to vote with Big Spring and San Angelo to change the District 2-AA football schedule before the 1965 season.

Mira's Performance Below Par

Gus White Jr., who'll captain the visiting team in next month's Fina Cosden Cup matches here, teamed with son Jay last week to win third flight honors in the Andrews Father-Son Golf tournament. Bill Craig of Colorado City, who will play on White's team, and his son Don, finished third in the first flight of the same meet. Dr. B. Broadrick and his boy Ronnie, were second in the seventh flight at Andrews. Ted Fields, a long-time reader, draws attention to the fact that Jack Pardee, the former Texas Aggie football great, hails from Christoval. This window recently identified Pardee with Water Valley. The performance of the ex-Miami great, George Mira, against the Dallas Cowboys in Portland last week was considered sub-par by his coaches, even for a first effort. Mira completed only four of 16 passes and it's generally agreed in pro football that any aerialist worth his salt should have a 50 per cent record in completions. To his credit, his receivers were having trouble holding his bullets. Jim Brock, the TCU sports publicist, picks Auburn to be the No. One football team in the nation. Others in his top 12, in the appointed order, are (2) Duke, (3) Illinois, (4) Ole Miss, (5) Missouri, (6) Navy, (7) Ohio State, (8) Oklahoma, (9) Rice, (10) USC, (11) Texas and (12) Washington. It costs $500 a month to water the Cotton Bowl turf. The grass there is irrigated three times each week. Tom Young of Webb AFB and Jerry Waiters, Austin, recently lost in the doubles finals of the Lubbock Invitational Tennis tournament to two Midland net-tennisers, David Kent and Jerry Johnson, 6-4, 6-8, 14-12. Charley West, Big Spring's ace passer, was a receiver in 1963, has been spending the summer in California with an aunt.

Reds Hopeful Of Winning Dozen Medals

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's track and field athletes, undisputed by a recent upset at the hands of the United States in a dual meet, are gunning for a record number of Olympic gold medals in Tokyo, the official Soviet news agency, Tass, says.

Russia can hope to equal its 1960 Olympic total of 11 men's and women's gold medals and has some hopes of setting a Russian record of 12 Tass track and field expert Yuri Khromov writes.

He quoted Soviet Coach Gavril Korobov as saying that Russian athletes can look for titles in the broad jump, high jump, javelin and hammer from the men and in the discus, javelin, shot, 80-meter hurdles, pentathlon and broad jump among the women.

The men also have good prospects, Korobov says, in the 5,000- and 10,000-meter runs, the marathon and the 3,000-meter steeplechase, all men's events.

The Russian men were beaten in the 5,000 and 10,000 and the steeplechase — events they had dominated — in the dual meet in Los Angeles last month.

Key figures in the Russian gold hunt, of course, are high jumper Valery Brumel and the sisters Tamara and Irina Press, each a world record holder.

Brumel, a slim, handsome, 22-year-old Moscow student, is unchallenged as the world's best at his specialty. He holds the world record in the high jump at 7 feet, 5 1/4 inches, has gone 7-3 plus in warmup meets this year and, on numerous occasions, has just missed at heights over 7-6.

He has beaten Boston's John Thomas several times in head-to-head competition. Thomas still ranks as his No. 1 threat, but appears to be well off Brumel's performances.

Russia looks to the Press sisters for four gold medals in the Olympics, and will be greatly disappointed at anything less.

The bulky, 230-pound Tamara, a 27-year-old engineer, holds the women's world record in the shot and discus at 60-10 1/4 and 194-6 1/4, respectively. No other women are even close to her performances.

Her sister Irina, a lithe 150-pounder, won the 80-meter hurdle gold medal in 1960 and is the girl to beat this time. She also holds the world record of 5,137 points in the pentathlon, an event being added to the Olympic program this year.

Russian hopes for gold medals in the broad jump, javelin and hammer rest, respectively, on Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, Rigis Janis Lasis and Romuald Klim.

Ter-Ovanesyan has been troubled with a leg ailment for much of the year but signaled his return to form with a decision over Ralph Boston in the Russia-U.S. meet. The two share the world record of 27-3 1/4.

Lasis has a best of 253-5/8, just off the record, and is consistently beyond 280 feet in the javelin, while Klim leaped to prominence with a victory over world record holder Harold Connolly in the Russia-U.S. hammer throw.

The Russian distance men, chagrined by the upsets at Los Angeles, still present a formidable threat with Leonid Ivanov, Kestutis Orentas, Nikolai Dutov and Pyotr Bolotnikov. Bolotnikov and Orentas have run the 5,000 meters in 13:38.1 and 13:45 flat, respectively, while Ivanov and Dutov have done the 10,000 in 28:48.4 and 28:54.2.

Other top men include Alexei Konov and Eduard Osipov in the steeplechase; Viktor Lipsnis in the shot; Vasily Kuznetsov in the decathlon, and Vitold Kreyer in the triple jump.

Gun Bow Winner At Arlington

CHICAGO (AP) — Gedney Farms' Gun Bow, packing top weight of 132 pounds, raced to a two length victory Saturday in the 37th running of the $114,750 Washington Park Handicap at Arlington Park.

Lemon Twist, a 50-1 shot, was second and Going Broad was third in the 1 1/4 mile event over a sloppy track.

Ridden by Walter Blum, Gun Bow led practically all the way. The winner, registering his seventh victory of the year, earned $69,750 to boost his all-time winnings to $482,362. He paid $3.40, $3.40 and $3.00 and was timed in 1:51.

Lemon Twist returned $35.00 and $14.40. Going Broad was $5.00 to show.

Three Break 100 Targets In Meet

VANDALLIA, Ohio (AP) — Three men broke 100 straight birds Friday in a Class AA preliminary 16-day event as the 65th Grand American Trapshoot got under way.

Hitting all 100 targets in the top division were Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev.; George Snellenberger of Angora, Ind., and Herb Bush of Canton, Ill.

Eight Prizes In Offing In Husband-Wife Meet

A Husband-Wife Golf tournament will be unrec'd over 18 holes at the Big Spring Country Club today.

Entry fee will be $3 and players can select their own starting times. Players will make use of their handicaps. Trophies will go to the four teams scoring low gross while golf balls will be awarded to the four teams posting low net.

Twenty teams had already entered late Saturday and more are due to register this morning, pro Jerry Green said. Only members of the club can take part in the one-day tournament.

Ducats Will Be On Sale

Season tickets for the Big Spring High School games go on sale Monday at the school business administration office, 602 E. 13th St.

The tickets, which cost $7.50 for a booklet of five, will be on sale during the first week for old ticket holders who bought the ducats a year ago. Then, they will go on sale for the general public, Aug. 31.

Giants Snap Losing Skein, Rip Cards

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — League-leading Phillies. The Giants snapped their six-game losing streak Saturday with a 4-2 victory over St. Louis behind the pitching of Bob Bolin.

The triumph, coupled with Philadelphia's 9-4 loss to Pittsburgh, moved the Giants 7 1/2 games behind the National League-leading Phillies. The Giants hopped on Cardinal starter Roger Craig for two runs in the second on four consecutive singles, including rousing safeties by Jim Davidson and Tom Haller.

San Francisco added two more off Craig in the third on singles by Harvey Kuenn and Hal Lanier, a sacrifice fly by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda's single.

Bolin scattered nine hits, all singles, in evening his record at 5-5. The 25-year-old right-hander struck out 11 while walking three.

Coahoma Signal Callers

Spike Dykes (kneeling with the ball) is one of the luckiest coaches in the area for he has two quarterbacks coming back who saw action a year ago. Dee Allen (left) and Marshall Williams are both capable signal callers and each will have a big part in the Bulldogs' 1964 grid fortunes. Both boys are battling for the starting berth.

Bluebloods Go On Block In Ruidoso Downs Sale

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Bluebloods galore will be on parade and available to the highest bidder here Thursday, Sept. 3, when Ruidoso Downs presents its third annual All-American Futurity sale in cooperation with the sponsoring Triple AAA Livestock Sales Co. of Tucson, Ariz.

One look at the catalogues, now in circulation for prospective buyers, and it is evident that not one of the record 138 yearlings consigned to the sale were brought up on the "other side of the tracks," or race tracks.

The sale, unique in that each and every one of the entrants must be eligible to next year's $300,000-estimated All-American Futurity, is headed by a full brother to the all-time money-winning champion of quarter horse racing, Goetta, along with full brothers, full sisters, half-brothers and half-sisters to the following highly-successful campaigners:

Persol, Hank In Standoff

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Persol and Henry Hank, a couple of pretty fair fighters as fighters go these days, fought to a draw in an exciting 10-round Friday night in the last of the weekly television bouts at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 5,219 enjoyed the brisk bout that rang down the New York curtain on the free television fights that have been put on by a razor blade company for 20 straight years. The longest continuous network television show winds up on Dec. 11 in Cleveland.

After the Cleveland program the Garden will try and run fights about twice a month as a money-making business without the television subsidy.

It will be interesting to see if boxing can bounce back on a boxoffice basis. One test may be the projected return bout at the Garden Oct. 23 between Persol, the fifth ranking light heavyweight contender from New York, and Hank, the unranked veteran from Detroit.

The two judges, Tony Rossi and Tony Castellano, each called it even, five rounds for each. Referee Art Mercante had it for Hank 6-4 rounds. The AP scorecard had Persol in front, 5-4-1. Boxing writers had it 8-7 for Persol with four calling it even.

Both Miss McIntire and Miss Gunderson, a three-time winner in the tournament, were named midway through their 36-hole final match to the seven-member Curtis Cup team which will play in Wales next month.

Miss McIntire did not gain the lead in the final match until the 26th hole. That came when Miss Gunderson played a stray ball, lying some four feet from her own, on the back side of the green.

The match was even when Miss Gunderson told referee Joe Dye: "I played the wrong ball, I concede the hole."

Other members of the Curtis Cup team, who will play at Portcawl, South Wales, Sept. 11-12 are Peggy Couley of Spokane Wash.; Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla.; Nancy Roth of Elkhart, Ind.; Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., and Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La.

Again functioning on the theory that nothing is too good for its honored guests, Ruidoso Downs will parade out the top thoroughbred sprinters on the grounds here Sunday for the five and one-half "Jock Mahoney" purse.

An all-star companion feature to Sunday's 16th renewal of the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby, the "Jock Mahoney," honoring a visit by the famed "Tarzan" of motion pictures, will bring together such speedsters as Bob-O-Link, Mona Depth, Rupert, Abbey's Jet, Teda Neal, Mired, Nevada Lassies, and Berilla.

Mahoney will be on hand to personally do the winner's circle honors both Saturday and Sunday, with first post scheduled for 1:30 p.m. each day.

McIntire Is Fems' Champ

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., won the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship Saturday with a 3 and 2 victory over JoAnne Gunderson of Kirland, Wash.

It was the second victory in this event for Miss McIntire who won in 1959.

Both Miss McIntire and Miss Gunderson, a three-time winner in the tournament, were named midway through their 36-hole final match to the seven-member Curtis Cup team which will play in Wales next month.

Miss McIntire did not gain the lead in the final match until the 26th hole. That came when Miss Gunderson played a stray ball, lying some four feet from her own, on the back side of the green.

The match was even when Miss Gunderson told referee Joe Dye: "I played the wrong ball, I concede the hole."

Other members of the Curtis Cup team, who will play at Portcawl, South Wales, Sept. 11-12 are Peggy Couley of Spokane Wash.; Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla.; Nancy Roth of Elkhart, Ind.; Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., and Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La.

Again functioning on the theory that nothing is too good for its honored guests, Ruidoso Downs will parade out the top thoroughbred sprinters on the grounds here Sunday for the five and one-half "Jock Mahoney" purse.

An all-star companion feature to Sunday's 16th renewal of the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby, the "Jock Mahoney," honoring a visit by the famed "Tarzan" of motion pictures, will bring together such speedsters as Bob-O-Link, Mona Depth, Rupert, Abbey's Jet, Teda Neal, Mired, Nevada Lassies, and Berilla.

Mahoney will be on hand to personally do the winner's circle honors both Saturday and Sunday, with first post scheduled for 1:30 p.m. each day.

Corbo Boasts Batting Lead

Mel Corbo, Albuquerque's slugging first baseman, fanned his Texas League batting average four points to .352 and his closest rival could do nothing to close the gap last week.

Corbo, who hopes to move up to the Los Angeles Dodgers by next season, collected 12 hits in 30 trips to the plate—and in one game rapped a single, double, triple and home run, the first time that's been done this season.

El Paso first baseman Larry Stubing maintained his .332 average of a week ago, only to drop 20 points off the pace. Behind him come Albuquerque outfielder Brock Bailey at .328 and San Antonio second sacker Joe Morgan at .321.

The statistics are brought up to date each week through games of Tuesday night. Stubing stayed on top in several other departments even though he couldn't gain on Corbo. He now leads the league in total runs with 100, runs batted in with 110 and most walks with 109.

In addition Stubing belted his 30th and 31st home runs, but San Antonio first baseman Chuck Harrison added one and held his lead with .321.

Morgan strengthened his lead in doubles, adding a pair to make his total 39. Joe Patterson, fleet Tulsa outfielder, broke the club record of 54 stolen bases he set in 1963, now has 57 and seems almost certain to become the first man ever to lead the league in base thefts three seasons in a row.

Big Spring High School's junior varsity will play a nine-game schedule in 1964 with out-of-conference tilts coming against Snyder Sept. 19 and Coahoma a week later.

There are four night games and five day contests with five of the games being on the road. PHILADELPHIA (AP) — seven games over second-place Cincinnati, playing a night game in Los Angeles. Pittsburgh snapped a six-game losing streak, and broke the Phils' winning string at four.

Winner Frank Bork singled home two of the runs in the big seventh as 10 Pirates came to bat. Willie Stargell had a pinch hit double, driving home the first run, in the rally and Dick Schofield and Manny Mota singled in runs.

The runs followed a throwing error by Richie Allen on Gene Freese's grounder, and all were unearned. Clemente batted twice in the inning but had no part in the rally. His double drove in the first run in the first inning and the league's leading hitter scored one of the runs in the two-run third.

winners —Bob Charles of New Zealand, and Australians Peter Thompson and Kel Nagle —head the list of foreign entries. Despite the obstacles the prize money has helped make this one of the most desirable events on the tournament schedule.

Tony Lema probably spoke for all of the pros when he said: "I'm looking forward to playing for $200,000. I'd even look forward to going to Viet Nam for $200,000."

Robert Trent Jones, the famed course architect who modernized the layout in 1951, predicts that par of 280 for the 72-hole test will not be broken. "The target areas are tighter and more stringent than any course in the world," says Jones.

Many of the foreign golfers, especially the lightweight Asians, will have trouble with this challenging course.

Al Watrous, a pro here for 25 years, believes the course is more suited to the long hitter. He has named Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and George Bayer as among the golfers with the best chance to win.

The winner will receive $35,000, second-place is worth $17,000, and the rest of the prize money will be distributed down to 75th spot.

Polson And Dunn Lauded By Coach STANTON — Dink Polson and David Dunn drew nothing but comments of praise from Bill Milam, head coach of the Stanton Buffaloes, as the Buffs ended their first week of practice Saturday.

Polson, a junior left halfback, showed good early season broken field running and fine speed while Dunn, a left end, also came up with good speed and showed an ability to catch passes thrown from Stanton quarterback Dunn is a senior.

Of the 53 boys out for the team, Milam had to say: "They've got a real good attitude, and as far as that part of the game is involved, we're very satisfied. But overall we're not looking so good. Improvement is needed everywhere."

The backfield, which averages about the same, looks like this: quarterback, Buddy Shanks; right halfback, Johnny Swanson; left halfback, Polson; and fullback, Mike Hall or Denver Springer.

Last year's coaching staff consisted of Milam along with Doyle Edmiston and Roy Dodd, the basketball coach. Bryan Boyd, Stanton's junior high grid mentor, has been added this year to the staff and has drawn praise from Milam for his work.

Bruins Hang On To Nudge Mets, 3-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Jackson exercised his usual mastery over the New York Mets for eight innings Saturday but needed help from Lindy McDaniel in the ninth to earn the Chicago Cubs a 3-2 victory that ended the Mets' winning streak at five games.

Jackson, never beaten by the Mets, now has a 9-0 record against them with three victories coming this season. He gave only five hits until the ninth but was relieved after Ron Hunt tripled and Joe Christopher singled for a New York run with none out in the ninth.

Christopher also accounted for the first Met score in the seventh, getting a triple on a drive that Doug Clemens misjudged and scoring on Ed Kranepool's single.

All the Cubs' runs came in the fifth off rookie right-hander Gary Kroll, who made his first major league start in impressive style.

Members of the Big Spring and Webb golf associations can start qualifying Monday at the Country Club for positions on one of the three teams which will be involved in the annual Coden Fina Cup Matches preceding the 33rd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament.

The matches are scheduled Friday, Sept. 4. Final qualifying rounds for the tournament itself will be accepted on that day. Matched play begins Sept. 5 and extends through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

The BSGA-Webb players can qualify through Sept. 1. Competitors will be required to play 54 holes or three rounds.

The BSGA-Webb team, captained by Charley Bailey and Col. Gus Taute, will be made up of 19 players, including the captains.

The visiting team in the matches will be led by Gus White Jr., Lamesa, while Jim Patterson and W. E. Ramsey will serve as co-leaders of the Country Club team. White and the Country Club captains have already named their teams.

The Sacred Heart Cardinals wind up their 1964 season today at 2:30 with a single game against the Lorraine Eagles in Steer Park. The Eagles will be trying to improve on a 21-2 record.

A trophy will be given at the conclusion of the game to the Cards' most valuable player for the season.

Quadrangle Wins Travelers Event SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Quadrangle, at home on a muddy Saratoga Race Track turf, staged a mighty surge in the final 70 yards Saturday and won the 95th running of the $80,000 Traverser by one-half length.

Hill Rise, the pacesetter until he collapsed in the home stretch by Quadrangle, finished third, one length behind the fast closing Knightly Manner. Portfolio was fourth and Ramant fifth in the five-horse field for the 1 1/4 mile race for 3-year-olds.

With Manuel Ycaza aboard for his fourth winner of the day, Quadrangle was timed in 2:04.25.

As the odds-on favorite of the crowd of 22,556, he paid $2.60, $2.20 and $2.10. Knightly Manner, purchased last week by Mrs. Henry Obre for $300,000, returned $2.70 and $2.30. Hill Rise was $2.40 to show.

In Pre-Season Conclave

Coaches at Big Spring High School have been at work since Aug. 1, planning strategy for the coming football season. They're pictured here plotting misery for the enemy. The Steers open their campaign Sept. 11 in Lamesa. From the left, they are Allen Simpson (new head basketball coach who will also help in football), Roy Baird, Tom King, head coach Don Robbins, Herman Smith, Cliff Patton and R. C. Moore.

Steers Hit Drill Field This Week

By TOMMY HART
Football workouts get underway at Big Spring High School next Friday but players will not be allowed to work out with pads until the following Tuesday under rules laid down by the Texas Interscholastic League. That complicates matters not only for coach Don Robbins and his aides, for the Longhorns will then have only eight working days before they open their 1964 season's play Sept. 11 against always-tough Lamesa in Lamesa. The Longhorns have picked up quickness but will be handicapped by a lack of hand and experience. Only one regular is returning from last season. He is Don White, a stellar 170-pound center, long on grit and determination. The coaches' biggest job will be to find a replacement for quarterback Albert Fierro. Albert was one of those boys, in the words of coach Robbins, who "comes along once in a lifetime." Five boys will be bidding for the position. They are Joe Jaure, a lightning-quick junior who could be great on the roll-out; rangy Benny Kirkland, a rugged campaigner for the B team last season; Gregg Pate, Berry King and Van Tom Whatley. Pate is the brother to Dexter Pate, the Steers' all-state center of a few years ago, and has fine promise. King is the son of Tom King, the Steer assistant, and has good possibilities if he can stay healthy. Whatley will be tough to keep out of the lineup, regardless of whom he competes with. He likes to play. The Longhorns will go to Leveland Sept. 5 for a 9:45 a.m. scrimmage with Amarillo, their only such workout of the 1964 campaign. Thirteen lettermen are included in the group of the estimated 100 boys who will check out equipment. An estimated 30 still have not taken required physicals.

The lettermen returning include Bobby Griffin, 155-pound quick end; Skipper Sabatto, 185-pound quick tackle; Gary Phillips, 172-pound quick guard; Don White, who weighs 170; Howard Bain, 155-pound strong guard; Steve McComb, a strong tackle who at 210 is the biggest boy on the team; Ronnie Dale Smith, 170-pound strong end; Gordon Morris, 145-pound wingback; Rickey Earle, 160-pound wingback; Willie Roy Johnson, 178-pound fullback; Larry Nipp, 150-pound fullback; Rey Navarrette, 158-pound fullback; and Johnny Hughes, 158-pound halfback.

Morris, Johnson and Nipp specialized on defense last year. The team should have excellent receivers this year, what with boys like Griffin and Terry Fields returning. Charles West was Fierro's principal target last year.

The club's punting should be more than adequate this year. Boys like Hughes, Pate and Sammy Mims are available for that chore.

That school had a good B team last fall and some of the boys up from that unit can expect to play a lot. A few of the incoming freshmen should fit into the scheme of things somewhere, too, although they were not allowed to work out during spring training.

Robbins' coaching aides this fall include: R. C. Moore, who'll handle defensive linebackers in the main and concern himself with defensive strategems overall; Allen Simpson, defense secondary; Tom King, defensive line; Herman Smith, coach in charge of offense, essential offensive backs; Cliff Patton, offensive line; and Roy Baird, offensive ends.

The schedule:
Sept. 11—Andrews
Sept. 18—Stamford
Sept. 25—of Big Spring
Oct. 2—of Lamesa
Oct. 9—of Lamesa
Oct. 16—of Lamesa
Oct. 23—of Lamesa
Nov. 6—of Brownfield
Nov. 13—of Lamesa
Nov. 20—of Lamesa
Nov. 27—of Lamesa

LAST YEAR'S RESULTS
—Andrews 8; 26 Leveland 28; 6 Big Spring 20; 21 Lamesa 11; 28 Stamford 13; 28 Lamesa 31; 34 Brownfield 15; 30 Sweetwater 7; 27 Colorado City 14; 27 Lake View 9; 27 Graham 19 (all districts); won 6, lost 2).

Brown is truly a dream back and Kincaid is considered equally as talented. Brown does everything for the Tigers. Kincaid was handicapped part of last season by injuries.

In all, the Tigers have 15 lettermen returning. The veterans back include ends Kenneth Dower, 170, and Richard Elkins, 165; tackles Roy Miller, 190, Reid Robinson, 190, and Jerry Owens, 190; guards Jerry Kinchelov, 183, Larry Walton, 150, and J. B. Murphy, 150; center Jeff Graham, 170; Waters, 150, at quarterback; fullbacks Tommy Kincaid, 175, and Bobby Kay, 158; and halfbacks Brown, 168; Jay Williamson, 160, and Albert Williams, 165.

The Tigers open the season again with Andrews here Sept. 11. They play Stamford the following Friday night, also at home.

Snyder has troubles at quarterback. Bostick's big job is to find a replacement for Tommy Wilson, a talented ball-handler who graduated. Bidding for the regular job will be J. N. Wall, 165-pound senior; Richard Waters, 150-pound senior; and David Cadena, 142-pound sophomore. Cadena was very impressive in junior high ball.

Wall is the best passer of the three but Waters is the only boy with varsity experience. Right now, Wall has a slight edge.

Bearcats Given Edge In League

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cincinnati's solid co-champions rate the edge in Missouri Valley football over Tulsa's aerial circus and co-champion Wichita, which has everything but a quarterback. The five-team league has excellent balance.

Louisville is the choice over North Texas for fourth place, but both are capable of upsetting the leaders.

The Valley has three of the nation's best offensive quarterbacks, Jerry Rhome of Tulsa, Brig Owens of Cincy and Tom LaFramboise of Louisville.

Chuck Studley's three-year plan paid off at Cincinnati last year and he returns 15 of his first 22. Owens ran for 556 yards, second in the Valley, passed for 974 and was No. 2 in Valley punting. Cincy returns 11 of its top 14 linemen and a host of fast backs led by Errol Prisy and Al Nelson.

Wichita lost quarterback Henry Schlichte, No. 9 nationally in total offense. Otherwise, Chelo Huerta's club is solid. Center Jim Waskiewicz, all-Valley as a sophomore, heads the line, which includes these good tackles. Tulsa, coached by Glenn Dobbs, is shooting for its third straight national team passing championships. Trigger man in the pro-type air game is Rhome, who was No. 3 nationally in total offense and passing last fall. Dobbs needs help at guard and tackle.

Louisville is the choice over North Texas because of LaFramboise, the nation's No. 7 passer last year. Frank Camp lost only three starters. The line returns include Doug Buffone, 221-pound center and tackle Charlie Johnson, 288. The death of halfback Charlie Mudd hurt but sophomore Finis Williams may help.

North Texas is tough in the line, led by Cotton Moore, all-Valley tackle. A.D. Whitfield is the only proven hand in the backfield. Odus Mitchell hopes to use a split end offense with more passing than last fall.

In last fall's wild title scramble, only one game separated the first four teams. Wichita edged Cincy 23-20 but was upset 7-3 by North Texas. It could be just as close this fall.

Filipino Loses To Texas Ace

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Danny Kid, 10th ranked featherweight from Los Angeles, put young Humberto Barrera down for the first time in his career Friday night but still lost by a 10th round technical knockout.

Barrera, from Robstown, Tex., appeared in command throughout except for the third round, when the veteran Filipino boxer landed a right on his temple. He bounced up after the referee reached four but took a mandatory eight count.

Kid still looked fresh going into the 10th until Barrera spun him around with a right to the head and put him on the canvas with a left to the jaw.

Barrera looped two more lefts to the head after Kid arose slowly. The Los Angeles fighter obviously was hurt and referee Leonard Smiga stopped the fight after 2:05 of the last round.

Scorecards of all three judges gave Barrera a wide edge.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' defense set up 24 points with a fumble recovery, a blocked kick and two intercepted passes and the Cardinals rolled by Baltimore, 30-21, in a National Football League exhibition Friday night.

Playing before a packed house of 32,000, the Cardinals took a 13-7 half time lead on a touchdown set up by linebacker Dale Meinert. Meinert intercepted a pass and returned 28 yards to the Baltimore four. Big Spring's Charley Johnson tossed to Sonny Randle for the score and put the Cardinals ahead to stay a minute before intermission.

Rookie Dick Dean recovered A. Haymond's punt fumble on the Baltimore 12 early in the second half, setting up another score.

Blacker the Fish — Better the Day for Fishing

Dove Season Will Begin September 1

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Sports Writer

Open season on the "gray ghost" of Texas skies, the mourning dove, starts Sept. 1 over most of Texas. Field reports indicate shooting may be better than last year.

Some uncertainties could make hunters' game bags lighter than they hope, says E. A. Walker, assistant director for wildlife of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Walker is collecting reports on the dove crop across the state and expects to have a complete estimate soon.

The mourning dove season extends to Oct. 30 in the North Zone and is from Sept. 26 to Nov. 24 in the South Zone, except in South Zone counties having open season on white-winged doves. The season then will be Sept. 26 to Nov. 20.

"It looks pretty good. Over much of the state, our field people tell us there is a good crop of mourning doves," Walker said. "Early indications are that the season will be equally as good, possibly better than last year."

In McCulloch County and the Hill Country generally, the dove population is pretty good, Walker said. No reports are in from the Panhandle. Those from East Texas are incomplete.

"The Possum Kingdom District looks good, and there have been some reports of good dove population in the coastal area. Two weeks ago there were lots of birds between Houston and Fort Arthur. There is a plentiful supply in the South Zone," he continued.

The South Zone, with its later season, includes Sabine, San Augustine, Angelina, Trinity, Madison, Brazos, Burleson, Lee, Bastrop, Caldwell, Guadalupe, Wilson, Atascosa, Frio, Zavala and Maverick counties, and all other counties to the south, except Duval, where the season is closed by statute.

A big question is whether the birds will fly in flocks or will scatter. Last week's widespread rainfall had "a tendency to scatter the birds," Walker said.

With plentiful rain, "more watering places are available. In addition, rain will make additional feed. In some areas birds will not be as accessible because of more watering places, but also this may bring them closer to some hunters," he added.

Walker said forage for doves "is not generally good all over, but there is sufficient food in certain localities to feed the birds, and that's why we have had reports of sizeable numbers of birds in areas over the state. Sunflower patches as they are maturing now will probably draw quite a number of birds."

Shooting hours for mourning doves are from noon to sunset, except in areas having white-wing season, where they are from 2 p.m. to sunset on Sept. 5, 6, 12 and 13—the four days when white-wings may be shot.

Hunters may shoot 12 mourning doves per day and may have up to 24 in their possession. When both white-wings and mourning doves are hunted, the bag and possession limits are the same, but not more than 10 white-wings may be shot daily, with a limit of 20 in possession.

Amateur Sectional Play Opens Aug. 31

NEW YORK (AP)—A total of 1,605 golfers will begin their bid for Deane Beman's National Amateur Championship in 36-hole sectional qualifying Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

With Beman exempt, the amateurs play at 40 sites for 149 places in the on-the-scene qualifying Sept. 14-15 at Canterbury Golf Club in Cleveland.

The sixty-four low scorers in the second tests go into the championship bracket for match play eliminations Sept. 16-19.

The first and second rounds will be played the first day and the third and fourth the second day, all at 18 holes, reducing the field to the semifinals. The 36-hole semifinals will be played Friday Sept. 18 and the final Saturday Sept. 19.

The results of the tournament will play an important part in the selection of the four-man U.S. team which will compete in the fourth world amateur team championship for the Eisenhower Trophy in Rome, Oct. 7-10.

Two members of the 1962 team — Richard Sikes and Laron Harris — have turned professional. The other two, Beman and Billy Joe Patton, are contenders.

Under a revised format, Beman is the only player exempt from sectional qualifying. In the past this courtesy has been extended to a number of players, including all past U. S. and British amateur champions.

Patton and another Walker Cup member, Charles Smith, will try to qualify at Pinehurst, N.C., Sept. 1. Dale Morey, winner of the Southern and North and South titles this year, will compete at Chicago.

Other leading players in the list include two-time winner Charlie Coe, playing at Tulsa, Okla.; Downing Gray, 1962 runner-up, seeking to qualify at Birmingham, Ala.; and Bob Gardner, runner-up in 1960, competing at New York.

Other entries include the Public Links champions, Bill McDonald, and John Miller of San Francisco, the new junior titlist. McDonald tries to qualify at Kansas City and Miller at San Francisco.

Subdued Phil Linz Says He Deserved $200 Fine

BOSTON (AP)—Yogi Berra hopes for improved New York team spirit after firing Phil Linz for the first open defiance of a Yankee manager since Babe Ruth's 1928 rebellion.

A subdued Linz admitted Friday night he deserved the $200 fine for playing half a dozen notes of "Mary Had a Little Lamb" on the harmonica after Yogi had ordered him to stop.

The incident occurred Thursday night in Chicago while the Yanks were en route to the airport after losing their fourth straight to the White Sox.

Berra announced his disciplinary action after a closed-door session with Linz. He said the player was not surprised and added: "I now consider the incident closed."

The affair did not approach the proportions of Ruth's feud with Manager Miller Huggins when the Babe's "one of us must go" stand drew a $5,000 fine and suspension from owner Jacob Ruppert.

Linz was on the bench Friday night as the Yankees ran their losing streak to five bowing 7-0 to Boston.

Ralph Houk, New York general manager, had been called by Berra late Thursday night. Houk was in town and consulted with Berra Friday but was not present at the Yogi-Linz confrontation.

"I left the matter entirely in Berra's hands," Houk said. "But I will say I do not approve of harmonica playing on a bus after losing a series like that."

"Whatever I got, I deserved," said a penitent, gum-chewing Linz. "It's all my fault. You should never challenge authority."

"It's just making a mountain out of a mole hill," muttered one Yankee.

But a source close to the club disagreed, saying: "This could have been all out mutiny if Yogi hadn't stepped in. If a utility man like Linz had gotten away with it, how would Berra handle any regular who stepped out of line?"

FIGHT RESULTS

FRIDAY NIGHT
NEW YORK — Johnny Persol, 172½, New York and Henry Hank, 174, Detroit, drew 10.
NEW YORK — Oscar Bonavena, 201, Argentina, stopped Tom McHenry, 205, Arlington, Mass., 5.
MELBOURNE — Gilberto Biondi, 134, Australia, outpointed Kimpoo Armario, 132½, Ghana, 15. Biondi retained the Australian welterweight championship.

New Plant Will Open Around September 1

First production from the rich Cayanosa multi-pay field in Pecos County is anticipated about Sept. 1, when a cycling plant goes on stream, according to R. D. Hanley, vice president in charge of Mobil Oil Company's Midland exploration and producing division.

The plant, now nearing completion some 22 miles northwest of Fort Stockton, has an initial capacity for a well stream produced volume of 35 million cubic feet of gas per day and will allow extraction of 7-8 thousand barrels of liquid daily. Production will come from the Wolfcamp reservoir.

The Texas Railroad Commission has approved the unitization agreement and cycling project for this reservoir, effective Aug. 1. Mobil Oil Company, which discovered the field in early 1962, will be operator of the project.

It has been predicted that this gas cycling operation can result in the recovery of 50 million barrels of liquid from the reservoir over and above that which would have been obtained by primary depletion.

Hanley also announced plans for future construction of two other plants at the Cayanosa field—a gasoline plant to achieve high-level efficiency recovery of liquids from the Wolfcamp, Devonian and Ellenburger reservoirs and a treating facility to sweeten sour gas from the Devonian and Ellenburger reservoirs. This gas would then be sold to transmission companies or used as a supply of make-up gas for injection into the Wolfcamp.

Discovery well for the Cayanosa field was Mobil's E. P. Sibley No. 1. This discovery set the stage for a prolonged flurry of wildcat activity in the Delaware Basin that is still continuing. Devonian and Ellenburger pays were discovered by Mobil's E. P. Sibley "B" No. 1 in 1963.

This field is already being hailed as a model for proper development and conservation efforts. All interested parties in the field met within one month after completion of the discovery well to begin formation of a unit to promote maximum conservation efforts and assure protection of the rights of all interested owners.

The unitized area includes about 10,290 acres and has six wells completed in the Wolfcamp. Initial plans for cycling call for conversion of two wells to injection service. Until actual performance is observed, reservoir voidage will be replaced to assure that no condensation of liquids occurs in the reservoir.

The cycling facilities will con-

Shell Helps Housewives

NEW YORK—In the future housewives may launder wash-and-wear cottons without fear of losing any of the wash-and-wear quality for the life of the fabric because of a unique chemical development of Shell Chemical Company, Robert M. Hart, general manager of the Industrial Chemicals Division, announced today.

The new product is Acrite (R) 100 Reagent, and is already available to the textile industry in commercial quantities, he said.

The soft pleasing feel of cotton and its good absorbency are unaffected by treatment with Acrite, Hart said. This is so, he explained, because Acrite, technically known as a crosslinking agent, is a true cellulose reagent. It does not simply coat the surface of the fiber as most finishing agents do, but reacts chemically with the fiber.

The wash-wear properties imparted by Acrite this last as long as the fabric itself, Hart said. In addition, fabrics treated with Acrite don't yellow when they are laundered.

Acrite has further advantages for the textile industry. It can be applied with conventional processing equipment and no odor develops during fabric storage, Hart noted.

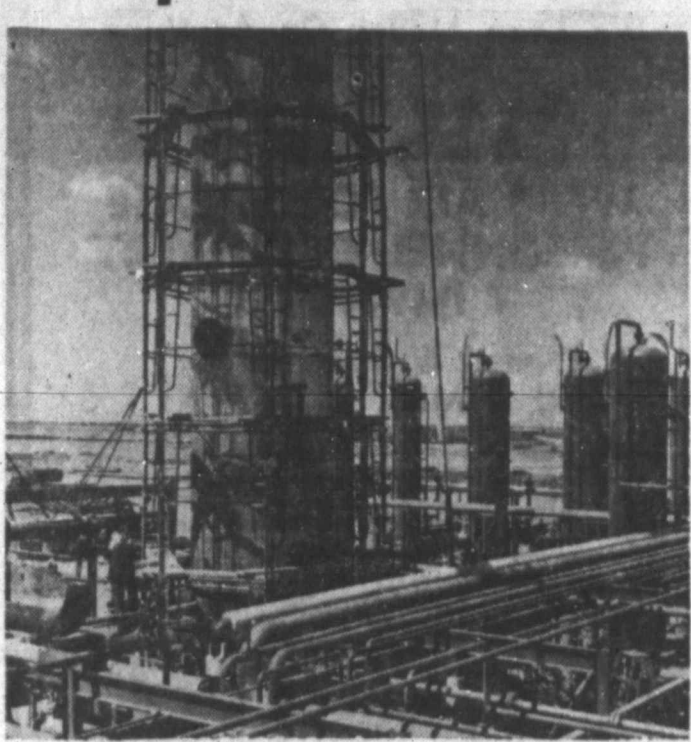

Because Acrite will durably crosslink all cellulose materials, Shell also suggests its use in rayons and polyester-cotton blends for better whiteness retention and greater resistance to the formation of fuzz balls on the surface of the fabric.

Completions Up Over 1963 Total

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said Saturday 137 oil and 73 gas wells were completed during the week.

The totals for the year are 5,375 oil and 1,825 gas wells, compared with the 5,755 oil and 1,633 gas wells a year ago. Wildcaters brought in 15 gas and seven oil wells.

Crews plugged 144 wells, including 76 dry holes.

Completion Date Near

Rising above Pecos County cotton fields is this gas cycling plant whose completion in September will permit the first production from the rich Cayanosa multi-pay field. Mobil Oil Company, discoverer of the field in 1962, will operate the 10,290-acre Wolfcamp unit. Located some 22 miles northwest of Fort Stockton, the plant has an initial capacity of 35 million cubic feet of gas per day and can extract some seven to eight thousand barrels of condensate daily.

Each of three stages of gas-liquid separation equipment—a liquid stabilizer, stabilized liquid products storage and gas compressors. Initially, three compressors rated at 1350 horsepower each will be utilized. The compressors can be super-charged and re-rated at 1800 horsepower each when the additional capacity is required. The entire cycling plant has been designed to facilitate expansion of operations.

RIG COUNT DOWN TWO

Activity Has Decreased In Area Rotary Drilling

The survey of rotary drilling units in operation in the Permian Basin Empire, conducted every Friday by Reed Roller Bit Co., showed a total of 294 units making hole, a drop of two from the 296 reported a week ago.

This is four more than the figure of the comparable week in 1963. Lea County, N. M., gained one over last week and is first with 41.

Pecos County is second with 24, a decrease of three from the prior week and Ector County is third with 15, an increase of one during the period.

The county-by-county tabulation, with last week's figures in parenthesis, is:

Andrews 7 (9), BORDEN 2 (2), Chavez 2 (3), Crane 5 (6), CROCKETT 3 (3), Culberson 1 (1), DAWSON 3 (5), Ector 15 (14), Eddy 6 (5), Gaines 9 (8), GLASSCOCK 0 (1), Hockley 1 (3), HOWARD 2 (2), Kent 3 (2), Lea 41 (40);

Loving 1 (1), Lubbock 0 (1), Midland 4 (4), MITCHELL 4 (4), MITCHELL 4 (1), Nolan 2 (0), Pecos 24 (27), Reagan 2 (2), Reeves 6 (6), Roosevelt 4 (3), Runnels 2 (1), Schleicher 2 (2), Scurry 0 (2), STERLING 1 (0), Stonewall 3 (4), Sutton 1 (1), Terry 3 (5), Tom Green 3 (3), Upton 9 (6), Ward 11 (12), Winkler 7 (11), Yoakum 13 (10).

Principal speaker for the one day conference will be Kurt H. Peters, manager of information and education for Montana-Dakota Utilities, Bismarck, N. D.

Sharing the platform with Peters will be NGPA president H. H. Beeson, Mobil Oil Co., New York, who will open the meeting.

By MAX E. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—Oilmen will be anxious next week to check the wording of the tax section of the Democratic Party's 1964 platform.

They will be particularly anxious to see what the platform has to say about the industry's controversial 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance.

The 1960 platform did not mention the oil industry by name but placed inequitable depletion allowances among conspicuous examples of "loopholes in the tax laws by which certain privileged groups legally escape their fair share of taxation."

The 1960 convention later nominated John F. Kennedy for President and Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president.

As senators, Kennedy twice voted for a graduated reduction for oil's depletion allowance while Johnson led successful floor fights that defeated numerous attacks against the industry's maximum 27 1/2 per cent allowance.

Pipelines Can Carry Almost Anything Now

"We have the technology right now to carry almost anything through a pipeline."

That's how a pipeline company executive summed up the many recent advances in the U. S. pipeline industry, an industry which began nearly a century ago when a five-mile line successfully carried 80 barrels of oil an hour through the hills of western Pennsylvania.

Today, in addition to moving oil and gas, pipelines are transporting such items as coal, wood and uranium. It's principally because of the volumes of crude oil and oil products, however, that pipelines now account for 17 per cent of the nation's total interstate freight traffic. It is estimated that pipelines move about 450 million gallons of petroleum and petroleum products daily.

Oil companies, too, are finding new ways to use pipelines. In several parts of the country, pipelines carry fuel oil from a central storage system directly to the tanks of home-owners. It was estimated in one such project that consumers saved an average of $12 each last winter over what it would have cost with truck delivery of the oil.

Another oil company delivers gasoline, diesel oil and aviation fuel from a refinery directly to several large commercial customers through a limited-distance pipeline. A southern refinery sends asphalt to two nearby roofing companies the same way.

But the petroleum industry's principal use for pipelines continues to be the transportation of crude oil and refined products. There are about 150,000 miles of crude oil pipelines linking nearly 600,000 producing oil wells, located in 32 states, with more than 280 refineries which operate in 49 states.

In addition, well over 50,000 miles of product pipelines aid in the efficient and economical distribution of oil products.

In all, these pipelines have an estimated gross value of about $4.5 billion.

Gas Expected To Be Better

The gasoline American motorists will use during the next decade is expected to grow in both quality and quantity.

This year, nearly 70 million passenger cars will use more than 46 billion gallons of gasoline while logging 678 billion miles of the nation's highways, a distance roughly equivalent to two and one-half transcontinental trips for every car in the nation.

By 1973, according to a recent forecast, there will be some 88 million passenger cars. They will use nearly 60 billion gallons of gasoline to travel 889 billion miles.

In the Senate Goldwater voted three times with Johnson when depletion allowance attacks were defeated.

On five other occasions between 1960 and last Feb. 6 Goldwater was absent when depletion cutback proposals were defeated but, on each occasion, he was on record as opposing the cutbacks.

"We shall support practical measures to ease the necessary adjustments of industries and communities which may be unavoidably hurt by increases in imports," said the Democrats.

"We advocate effective administration of the (trade agreements) act's escape clause and permit provisions to safeguard American jobs and domestic industries against serious injury," said the Republicans.

The 1964 Republican platform is more specific. It calls for "meaningful safeguards against irreparable injuries to any domestic industries by disruptive surges of imports, such as in the case of beef and other meat products, textiles, oil, glass, coal, lumber and steel."

Depletion allowances may not

Booklet Published About Petroleum

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The 1964 edition of "The Oil Producing Industry in Your State," a booklet that details the history and extent of petroleum development and production in the United States, has been published by the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Facts presented in the 110-page publication, put out annually by IPAA, reveal the dynamic role that petroleum plays in all 50 states.

Thirty-three of the nation's 50 states produce oil and - or natural gas, with 360 million acres, or 16 per cent of all land area of the nation in 1963 either producing petroleum or under lease for future drilling and exploration.

A large portion of the taxes required to run all state governments, school systems, road building programs and other state services come from taxes on motor vehicles and motor vehicle fuels. These state tax revenues totaled $5.3 billion in the 50 states during 1962, or 25.9 per cent of all total state taxes.

The percentage of taxes collected from these sources ranged from 8.9 per cent of total state taxes in Hawaii to 49.8 per cent collected in Nebraska. In 37 states, this tax source represented more than 25 per cent of all state tax revenues.

Total value of crude oil, natural gas liquids and natural gas produced in 1963 totaled more than $11 billion. Petroleum value represents 56.9 per cent of the total value of all minerals produced in the U. S.

Petroleum is the top mineral produced in 15 states: Alaska, 58.4 per cent; Arkansas, 55.2; California, 66.7; Colorado, 46.2; Illinois, 41.9; Kansas, 85.0; Louisiana, 94.9; Mississippi, 88.9; Montana, 41.4; Nebraska, 89.4; New Mexico, 65.7; North Dakota, 84.3; Oklahoma, 92.1; Texas, 92.2; and Wyoming, 82.9.

Petroleum is the second-ranking mineral produced in Kentucky, 20.7 per cent; Utah, 23.7, and West Virginia, 12.7.

The crude oil and natural gas producing industry employs 283,261 persons, but the total number of employees in the petroleum industry in the U. S. is estimated at 1,047,475. There are 429,852 employed in gasoline service stations; 159,414 in petroleum refining; 152,746 in gas companies, and 20,202 in

Payout Takes Long Period

To an oilman, the "payout" is the period required for a field to produce enough oil or gas to pay for drilling and operating expenses. It often is a long, long time.

Oil companies operating off the coast of Southern California, for example, have run up expenses of about $220 million since 1957.

Their net income from production in this area to date, according to a recent study, is $52.7 million. This leaves the operators with a deficit of more than $167 million.

If the area continues to be developed at present rates, it will take 11 more years for income to catch up with expenditures, according to the study.

Among the expenditures to date are lease bonuses which cost the operators more than $100 million; 68 dry holes, each costing about $300,000 accounted for $20 million; five drilling platforms, valued at $2.5 million each, added another $12.5 million to the bill.

The total expenditure of $220 million does not include various tests made by the oil companies before they decided to seek drilling rights in the area.

Oil Is Helped In Atomic Age By Physicists

El Paso Natural Gas Company, United States Bureau of Mines, the San Francisco Office of the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, which is operated by the University of California for the AEC, are studying the feasibility of utilizing nuclear explosives to increase production of natural gas from gas fields in the western United States. Technical studies are currently under way on the expected effect of a deeply buried nuclear explosive for this possible application.

It is possible that the effect of an explosion would be to fracture the gas-bearing formations to greatly increase the amount of gas that can be recovered. Such an effect would offer the potential of increasing the flow of gas from relatively impermeable formations that cannot be economically developed with present well completion techniques. It would also greatly improve the productivity of wells in marginal areas.

There are no plans at present for any field experiments. However, should the study indicate that the technique holds technical and economic promise, consideration would be given to carrying out, on a joint government-industry basis, a field experiment involving an underground nuclear detonation in an appropriate gas field to test the technique. The San Juan basin is one of the areas being investigated. The study is being conducted as part of the AEC's Plovershare Program directed at developing civilian and scientific uses for nuclear explosives.

"The contributions of the petroleum industry during this period have not been limited to providing the fuel for an expanding peace-time economy," Mesnard said. "Of even greater significance was the availability of oil from the U. S. which provided a major portion of the fuel requirements needed by the United States and her allies in winning World War I."

Oil consumption in 1963 was almost four times as great as in 1929 when IPAA was organized, and natural gas consumption in 1963 was almost eight times as great as 35 years ago.

The task of providing these increased volumes of oil and gas has been a big one, Mesnard said. "In the entire history of the industry, from the time of the discovery well in 1859 through 1929, only about 700,000 wells were drilled. During the 35 years since 1929 the domestic industry has drilled a total of more than 1,250,000 wells."

Since 1929, the domestic industry found a total of 78 billion barrels of crude oil reserves and produced 60 billion barrels. Proved reserves remaining in the ground were increased from about 13 billion in 1929 to more than 30 billion barrels at the end of 1963. "In the 70 years prior to 1929, the industry found a total of only about 25 billion and produced a little more than 12 billion barrels."

Also, the industry has provided the required products for the American consumer at very reasonable prices, Mesnard added. "The price of gasoline, the principal product derived from a barrel of crude oil, is only about two cents a gallon, excluding taxes, higher than it was 35 years ago."

pipeline transportation. More than 40,000 persons work in the petroleum industry in California, Illinois, Louisiana, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Texas.

A total of 43,653 wells were drilled in 1963, of which 16,347, or 37.4 per cent, were dry holes. This brings to 1,954,464 the number of wells drilled in the U. S. since the first well was drilled in 1859. In that time, 569,532, or 28.7 per cent, of all wells drilled were non-productive; 1,236,171, or 62.2 per cent, made oil, and 157,700, or 8.1 per cent, produced gas.

Today there are 699,288 producing wells in the United States. The number in the 33 producing states ranges from four in Nevada to 223,539 in Texas.

The almost 2 million wells drilled since 1859 have found reserves of 118 billion barrels of liquid hydrocarbons, of which 79.4 billion have been produced. Also discovered were 500 trillion cubic feet of natural gas, of which 225 trillion cubic feet have been produced.

Production of petroleum liquids (crude oil and natural gas liquids) averaged 8,640,630 barrels a day in 1963, with the six leading states being Texas, 3,232,705 barrels daily; Louisiana, 1,579,415; California, 996,

Computer Bought By Oil Company

Indicative of the sophistication — and cost — of pipeline equipment is the "electronic brain" recently announced by a major products pipeline system.

The company said it had awarded a contract for the installation of a system that will control the movement of millions of barrels of products at 195 different locations situated throughout its 2,900-mile network.

The heart of the control system will include two computers capable of knowing how much of which product is where — and which will update this information every 10 seconds.

The estimated cost of the project: $2 million.

ALLEN C. JAMES

Last January 3 marked the fifteenth anniversary of Allen C. James' employment at the Big Spring Refinery. His Cosden record dates back, however, to November 13, 1946, and his days at the company's Fort Worth bulk plant. When that facility and the Dallas plant had been consolidated into Arlington terminal, he moved there as a truck driver and dock hand.

For most of his tenure at the refinery he has been an electrician No. 1. As a shift electrician, he troubleshoots over the entire complex. His father, the late Allen F. James, was a longtime Cosdenite.

James, a native of Bosque County, attended high school at Ackerly. He entered military service in January, 1941, and, as a staff sergeant in the Ninth Air Force, 331st Fighter Control, was among the supporting ground forces in France. He also took part in the Battle of the Bulge, and was discharged late in 1945.

It was while he was living in Fort Worth that he met his wife, the former Jewel Kennard, who is an LVN at Malone & Hogan Hospital. They have two children — Beatrice is Mrs. Keith Maynard; Ricky, 14, is in the eighth grade at Forsan schools.

Lake fishing and spectator sports entertain James. At his home in the Silver Heels Addition he maintains three horses for riding. Both he and Ricky are interested in the Big Spring Mounted Patrol. The two grandsons, ages 2 and 4, may soon claim the third horse.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express to everyone our deep appreciation and thanks for the beautiful floral offerings, food and words of sympathy expressed to us during our recent bereavement.
Family of Frank Doe

IN APPRECIATION
With grateful hearts we thank each of our many friends for their concern and loving kindness during our recent bereavement. The loss of our dear one was made easier to bear by your expressions of sympathy. The floral offerings, abundance of food, sincere prayers and messages will be remembered always. We extend a special thanks to Rev. Polk and members of First Baptist Church and the attentive staff at Big Spring Hospital Foundation. May God's richest blessings come your way as his fervent prayer.

SECTION C

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 23, 1964

Couple Recites Vows In Catholic Church

Miss Cynthia Angelina Gonzalez became the bride of Oscar Zertuche Saturday evening in a ceremony performed in St. Peter, Prince of the Apostles Catholic Church in San Antonio. The Rev. Patrick O'Brien officiated for the traditional rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gonzalez, 206 NW 4th, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zertuche, 507 Chapoy, Del Rio.

The program of wedding music was presented by the church choir which was accompanied by the organist. The choral selections were "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Beautiful Saviour," "Send Forth Thy Spirit," "Ave Maria," "Pani Angelicus," and "Song of the Angels."

Vows were exchanged before an altar where the background was enhanced by two tall vases holding white flowers, and a larger arrangement was placed behind the Blessed Sacrament. Baskets inside the altar rail held smaller varieties of white flowers.

The bride was escorted by her father as she entered the sanctuary and was given in marriage at the altar. She wore a formal gown of candlelight peal de sole styled in a full bell silhouette. The molded bodice featured pearl and crystal jeweled Alencon lace appliques that traced the circlet neckline, swirled deep into the bodice and was repeated on the skirt as embossed garland cascades. Multifolds in back, bedecked with the jeweled lace, swept from a flat-bow into a petal point court train.

Her full veil of French illusion fell in a fountain effect from a circlet of Alencon leaves, and she carried two large white Catalaya orchids atop a satin covered prayer book. Following the ceremony, the bride left her bouquet at a side altar for the Blessed Virgin Mary.

For something old the bride wore a sacred medal that her grandmother had received from her husband on their wedding day. The blue item was her garter which was later tossed by the bridegroom to the groomsmen as the bride tossed a second bouquet to the bridesmaids. Something new was her dress and she carried a rosary borrowed from her mother.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Yvette Gonzalez.

Bridesmaids were Miss Anna Marie Gonzalez, Big Spring, sister of the bride; Miss Bertha Gonzalez, Odessa, cousin of the bride; Miss Gloria Trevino, San Antonio; Miss Minerva Marroquin, Miss Rosalina Marroquin, and Miss Celia Flores, all of Brownsville; Miss Grace Garcia, Alice; Miss Gladys Hinojosa, Robstown; and Miss Dilia Margo, Rio Grande City.

All were identically dressed in floor-length Empire styled dresses of shocking pinkorgette and accented with a veivcumberbund centered with a brooch. Each carried one large white glameilla with satin stem tied with satin streamers.

The flower girl was Norma Wilma Naldonado, Del Rio, niece of the bridegroom. She was dressed like the bridesmaids and carried a white basket from which she dropped white rose petals along the bridal aisle.

The best man was Daniel Enoch Fiveash, Big Spring. Groomsmen were Edward and John Swierczewski, New Kensington, Pa.; Kenneth Guernsey, Laredo; Roy Santos and Ernie Rodriguez, both of San Antonio; Juan Salinas, Eagle Pass; John O'Malley, Miami, Fla.; Jim Anschutz, Denver, Colo.; and Richard Knuesen, New York City, N.Y.

Serving as ushers were Samuel Gonzalez, Odessa; Thomas Wilson, San Antonio; and David Gonzalez, Del Rio; all cousins of the bride; and Daniel Richardson, Lamesa. The ring bearer was Arthur Rudolph Hahn, San Antonio, cousin of the bride. He carried the rings on a heart-shaped satin pillow.

In keeping with traditional custom a wedding chain, in the form of interlocking rosaries made of crystals, was placed over the heads of the bride and bridegroom. Miss Bertha Gonzalez carried a small basket containing 13 dimes which had been blessed. The bridegroom presented these to the bride as a symbolic gift. Each wedding guest was given a small missal with the couple's names and wedding date inscribed.

The couple flew to Mexico City and Acapulco for a two-week honeymoon. The bride wore a pink, two-piece traveling costume of silk organza over whipped cream. The skirt and sleeveless coat were of lace lined with organza. Her accessories were white and she wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Zertuche will be living in San Marcos until January and will make their permanent home in San Antonio where both will be teaching.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. McNEW

Open House Planned On 50th Anniversary

An open house will be held today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McNew, 510 Douglas, in celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Though formal invitations have not been sent, friends and relatives are invited to attend between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

It was Aug. 22, 1914, that Miss Della L. Hamlin became the bride of Roy W. McNew. The ceremony was performed by the Church of Christ minister, G. T. Walker, in his home. The couple has met four years earlier in the same home at a social.

For her wedding, the bride chose a calf length blue silk brocade frock with a shawl collar. The attendants were Wiley Cline, who two months later became McNew's brother-in-law; and Mrs. Walker, wife of the minister.

Mrs. McNew came to Howard County in a covered wagon from Comanche County in January of 1903 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. Hamlin. McNew arrived in the same area that year with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McNew, by immigrant car on the railroad.

After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. McNew lived on the A. E. Henderson ranch for one year and then moved to the J. F. McGee ranch to stay for seven years. Their first purchased farm was near Auto and they lived on this homestead 14 years. Later they farmed in the Fairview community before moving to Big Spring to make a permanent home in town. They maintained the country home and McNew farmed and ranched for the ensuing years. He is now in semi-retirement.

Hosts for the Sunday affair will be the children of the couple. They are R. X. McNew, Mrs. Bonnie Bennett, Mrs. Dwight McCann, Mrs. Gerald Bennett, all of Big Spring, and Mrs. Byron McCracken, Stanton. The hosts will be joined by their husbands, wives and children who will serve in the house party.

Among those attending will be 15 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Relatives Visit Here At Savells

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Savell, Ackerly, have had a group of family members as guests this week. Mrs. Lydia Hall and children, Marshall, Sharon, Billy and Joel arrived Tuesday from Auburn, Calif., for a two-week visit.

Other visitors during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Savell and children, Rita and Ronnie Hobbs, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gibbs and children Conna and Terri, Knott; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Savell and children Lydia June, Deland, Wayne Jr., and Dewey Floyd, Tarzan; Mr. and Mrs. James Savell and children Donna, Rhonda and Teresa, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Savell and children, Gloria, Goldie, Michael and Katy, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Savell and children, Edwin and Cindy, Ackerly.

They held a family reunion at Abilene State Park last week which was attended by 69 family members. An annual reunion was planned for the last Sunday in July next year at Clyde.

NCO Wives Plan Tuesday Session

The NCO Wives Club of Webb Air Force Base will have a party Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the NCO Open Mess. Mrs. Henry Leslie and Mrs. Arthur Sanders will be hostesses for bridge, canasta and pinochle.

A tea in honor of Mrs. Elmer L. Masters, wife of the air base group commander, will be held on Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the NCO Open Mess at Webb AFB. All NCO and Airman I.C. wives are invited to attend the tea.

Joint Party Fetes Forsan Children

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. James Blake honored her children with a birthday party. Scottie who is seven, and Mitzi, two years old today, were feted with a joint celebration. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Cliff Ferguson, Mrs. Ronnie Gandy, Mrs. J. L. Overton, Mrs. W. M. Romans and Mrs. Tom Spell.

MRS. LYNNARD WAYNE DENTON

Miss Milam Weds Lynnard W. Denton

Miss Judy Milam and Lynnard Wayne Denton exchanged wedding vows at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the Lakewood Church of Christ at Denver, Colo.

Dale McNulty, minister, officiated for the double ring ceremony which was performed before a white wrought iron arch entwined with greenery and gladioli blossoms. Flanking the arch were candelabra and baskets of yellow spiked chrysanthemums and white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Milam, 9040 W. 4th Place, Denver, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Denton, Sterling City, Mo.

A program of nuptial selections, including "O Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest" was sung by a sextet, and Miss Rita Freeman sang "The Wedding Prayer." Making up the sextet were Mrs. Laverne Dobbs, Mrs. Virginia Goad, Mrs. Verna Dunagan, Mrs. Raye Blume, Mrs. Diane Snodgrass and Miss Becky Moose.

LACE GOWN

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown which she had fashioned from lace over slipper satin. The scalloped neckline was trimmed with tiny seed pearls, and the long, tapered sleeves fastened at the wrists with six tiny satin buttons. The satin skirt fell in full pleats and featured hand-applied clusters of lace flowers on the front and side panels. A detachable chapel train, trimmed with the lace flowers, swept from a bow at the back waistline. She wore a crown of lace and seed pearls to which was attached her veil of illusion. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

The bridal bouquet was formed of a white orchid encircled by feathered white chrysanthemums.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Donna Jean Milam, Abilene. She wore a yellow floor-length gown with matching headpiece and slippers and carried coral Fuji chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Cain and Miss Delpha Cathey, both of Lakewood. They wore coral gowns, matching accessories, and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. All three attendants wore long white gloves.

The best man was Loyd Milam, Abilene, brother of the bride. Ushers were Jerry Nell and George Cathey, both of Lakewood.

Kelley Denton, Big Spring, was the flower girl and wore a floor-length dress similar to the attendants. Her headband was of yellow pompon chrysanthemums. She scattered rose petals before the bride as she approached the altar. Kim Denton was the ring bearer. The four-year-old twins are a brother and sister of the bridegroom.

Jon and Dan Van Zyle, Denver, lighted the altar tapers.

RECEPTION

Parents of the honored couple joined them in receiving guests during a reception following the ceremony. Mrs. Alta Coffey, Lakewood, registered guests in the Fellowship Hall at the church.

A five-tiered wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Betty Brown, dominated the refreshment table. The centerpiece was of yellow Fuji chrysanthemums and greenery in a footed milkglass vase. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Black, Raton, N. M., grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Black, Prairie Grove, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Foree, Raton; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Toland, Pueblo, Colo., and Carla Denton, Big Spring.

WEDDING TRIP

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Teton in Wyoming, the bride was wearing a green, three-piece suit with black patent accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet. Upon returning, they will reside at 649 NE 18th, Abilene.

The bride is a junior at Abilene Christian College, majoring in vocational home economics. She is a member of Zeta Rho social club and the Eileen H. Richards Club. The bridegroom, a senior at the same college, is majoring in English. He is business manager of the school annual.

Sul Ross Visited By Family Group

FORSAN (SC)—Attending the convocation at Sul Ross State College, Alpine, Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bardwell and sons, Milton and Hubert, and Mrs. Howard Story, also from Big Spring were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Shoultz, Jerry Bardwell and Mr. and Mrs. Beney Barnett were among the graduates.

Mrs. James Blake was discharged Friday from Cowper Clinic and Hospital where she was a surgical patient.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Swiger were in Ballinger Thursday.

Miss Shirley Porter Weds H. D. Fraser

COAHOMA (SC) — Wedding vows were exchanged Friday evening by Miss Shirley Kay Porter and Harold Dwayne Fraser in the First Baptist Church in Coahoma. The Rev. H. G. Graves and the Rev. Dan Burrow officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Fraser, all of Coahoma.

The bride's father accompanied his daughter down the aisle where satin ribbon marked the family pews. The altar was centered with a white arch entwined with huckleberry and accented with large arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Tall candelabras holding cathedral tapers lighted the altar.

As the bridal couple knelt at the altar, Dwayne Clawson sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The organist was Lathan Wood.

The bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over satin was fashioned with a floor-length skirt and molded bodice. The scalloped neckline and long, petal-point sleeves accented the design, and a tiered bustle of organza edged in lace adorned the skirt. A veil of illusion was attached to a pearl tiara. She carried a cascade arrangement of Frenched carnations centered with a white orchid and showered with picot satin atop a white Bible.

She carried an old handmade handkerchief belonging to Mrs. J. M. Jordan and her wedding dress was borrowed from her sister. The traditional blue item was a friendship taper.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Lynn Miller served her sister as matron of honor in a street-length frock of fern green peau de soie. She wore a matching headpiece. Miss Carolyn Wilson, maid of honor, and Miss Beverly Sherman, niece of the bride and bridesmaid, wore dresses of mint green accented with fern green identical in style to the matron of honor's frock. They carried nosegays of pompon chrysanthemums centered with mint green carnations and showered in matching satin.

Debbie Kay Hinsley, flower girl, wore a matching dress and carried a basket of yellow petals. Jay Phinney presented the rings at the altar on a satin pillow.

Eddie Trice, Hawley, was best man, and groomsmen were Dan Shelburne and Jimmy Shafer.

Troy Fraser, brother of the bridegroom, and Andy Wilson were ushers, and Steve Fraser, brother of the bridegroom, and Mark Milliken lighted the altar tapers.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the bride wore a tangerine suit of linen with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 812 Ave. U, Lubbock.

The bridal couple are graduates of Coahoma High School where both were members of Student Council, National Honor Society, Spanish Club, and active in sports. The bride was head cheerleader and has recently been employed at Jack Taylor Contractor, Inc. The bridegroom is employed with F. and M. Builders and will attend Texas Tech in the fall.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the church annex following the ceremony where guests were received by the bridal couple, their parents and female attendants.

The refreshment table was graced with tall tapers entwined with leather fern and white chrysanthemums. A white linen cutwork cloth covered a mint green underskirt.

The three-tiered wedding cake was embossed with white roses and mint green leaves and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

House party members were Mrs. Donnie Reid, Mrs. Brice Welborn, Mrs. Melba Hay, Mrs. Dan Ewrow, Mrs. A. V. Thurman and Miss Shirlene Richers.

Mrs. Danny Stoker registered guests. Out-of-town registrants were Alton Thurman, San Antonio; Mrs. Lynn Miller and daughter, Terri, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Akens, Midland; Ab Davis and family, Junction; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hay and Mr. and Mrs. G. Trice.

REGISTRATION is now open at JACK AND JILL for First Grade, Kindergarten, and Nursery children.

When a child enters our Kindergarten or First Grade he is beginning new and important experiences in an entirely different environment. He is with children his own age; he is under the supervision of professionally trained women who understand him; and the supervision of his growth and training is our responsibility.

Do you know that a Kindergarten child learns while he has fun? A child at play is a child at work, discovering, exploring and integrating knowledge and skills.

MRS. WILSON BANKS AND MR. PIERRE

India Still Shrouded With Eternal Air Of Mystery

By JO BRIGHT

India — land of eternal mystery. Here are still the Hindu temples, ceremonial elephants, dancing girls and lotus blossoms. Bordering northern India are the great Himalaya Mountains, and in its jungle tigers hide by day and prowls the fringe of farm villages by night. Even the wildest of beasts prefer human flesh to starvation.

There are hundreds of thousands of villages between the Arabian Sea and the Bay of Bengal and in many of them have lived those who became food for the tiger.

New Delhi, capital of the Union of India, lies in the shadow of the mountains and in the center of the villages where, at sunset, men still come from the fields carrying wooden farm tools and children gather dried cattle manure for fuel. The city itself is bursting with humanity and there is seldom a second glance for those who fall dying in its streets. Paradoxically, bones of some who starved to death can be found near the white marble and alabaster Taj Mahal, the fabulous mausoleum which has been described as the most beautiful 17th century building in the world.

It was here that Col. Wilson Banks took his wife, Marcia, and daughter, Jacque, 14, when he was named chief of the Air Force Section for the United States Military Supply Mission to India at New Delhi. Wilson Jr., 20, remained in the United States to continue his education as did Ronald, 18, who stayed in Big Spring and graduated from high school this spring.

After many months in the colorful country of contrasts, Mrs. Banks and Jacque returned here last month.

Col. Banks was due to arrive in Charleston, S.C., yesterday and will drive out to get his family this week. They will make their next home in Montgomery, Ala., where he will be Inspector General at the Air University. He formerly was Wing Commander at Webb AFB.

The Banks' home in New Delhi was in an area called Hauz Khas which was on the road to the Taj Mahal. Like many other buildings in the city, it was constructed of brick, overlaid with whitewashed stucco. The walls were thick to combat the intense summer heat, and the floors were terrazzo tile or concrete. On the whole, architecture in the city combines Western classic and native Hindu and Mohammedan forms. Their home had been obtained for them by the United States Embassy staff and was built and owned by an Indian.

It requires at least six employees to run such a household. "Servants are easy to get," explained Mrs. Banks, "but it is a real problem to get a crew that will work together because of the caste system, religious differences and language barriers. You must have one person as a kind of foreman who can communicate with all the others."

Each will do only his specialized work so there is a cook, gardener, sweeper, bearer, laundry worker and "chowdar" — one who guards the home and grounds.

"I was amazed to see that all bathrooms had outside doors," continued Mrs. Banks, "but I was told this was because the person that cleaned them was of the lowest caste and was not permitted inside the rest of the house."

Sometimes there was another member of the Banks' staff. A driver was needed at night in the city which Mrs. Banks felt had the worst traffic congestion in the world. Fighting for space were foreign cars, rickshaws, taxis, jeeps, horse tongas, thousands of bicycles, people and animals.

On any street, children, dogs and cows fight each other over a bit of garbage to eat.

"We expected to see sacred cows taken care of," said Mrs. Banks. "This isn't done and they wander about the streets, while the common cattle are cared for better than children."

TWO SIDES

This is only among the lower classes of people, and like in any other country, there is another side to the coin.

There are many wealthy and highly educated Hindus in the country and under the government's Five Year Plans much progress has been made since it became a republic. The children are eager to learn and anxious for an education that will bring them something better.

Mrs. Banks said that many schools are in tents and children attend classes in two or three shifts each day. They start at sun-up and the last students start home at dusk.

"I can see hope for the younger generation," she continued. "I admire them so much for they have such an intense will to succeed that I believe they would do far more than we Americans in order to better themselves." However, their ambition is still tempered and clouded with the traditional belief that "whatever will be, will be."

Mrs. Banks described all of India as a fantastic place with some areas so beautiful that it takes your breath away. She described exquisite colors in building tiles and garment fabrics and said that some she never dreamed existed — and the colors last. The very old tiles are still as bright and true as when they were first made.

Some of the fabrics used by Indian women for saris are the most elegant in the world. Mrs. Banks brought back some of the wonderful raw silks, cashmere and dresses with unbelievable embroidery work. There are skirts and jackets with tiny mirrors inset, agate necklaces from Tibet, beautiful porcelain beads and a robe with pure gold thread. Of course, they were purchased there for a fraction of what they would cost here. Mrs. Banks said that dressmakers there would set up their machine in your home and make a shirt in two hours time.

BEAUTIFUL

She described Indian women as beautiful creatures and said that even those of the lower class possessed poise and a grace of movement. The upper class women use a lot of cosmetics — especially for their eyes. Often their lipstick, a small dot on the forehead and fingernail polish match the sari they have chosen for the occasion. The dot used to symbolize the caste they belonged to. The coolie women wear bright colors and shiny steel bracelets on wrists and ankles.

The Banks family will start another adventure in Air Force living next week. Will Jr. will arrive from Arizona and be with the family before entering Arizona State University. Ron will vacation with a friend before going to Texas Tech; and Jacque and the new toy poodle, Mr. Pierre, will be with her parents in Alabama. They will leave here Thursday.

"West Texas has been wonderful for us, and we regret leaving very much," said Mrs. Banks as she packed a few Big Spring souvenirs among those from India. "It's not goodbye, though, I'm sure we'll be seeing our Texas friends again. I hope it's Texas."

Miss Paula Gordon Marries D. C. Wash

Miss Paula Sue Gordon and Danny Clark Wash were united in marriage Saturday in the sanctuary at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. S. C. Crumley, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Gordon, 2307 Grace, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash, Forsan.

The bride, accompanied by her father, approached the altar down the aisle marked with white satin bows. A sunburst arrangement of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and carnations centered the altar, and on either side were seven-branched candelabras holding tall cathedral tapers. Emerald fern trees completed the setting.

Mrs. Fran Bordofsky and Mrs. Freddie Stuart sang "Oh Promise Me" as Debbie and Dianne Wash, nieces of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers. They wore identical frocks of aqua and yellow crystalite and carnation wristlets. Miss Diane Banks played traditional wedding music and "Whither Thou Goest" during the candlelighting service. For the ceremony she played "The Wedding Prayer."

BRIDAL GOWN

The bride's gown of peau de soie was covered in silk organza and lace accented with seed pearls. The fitted bodice featured long sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. The formal length skirt was adorned with lace medallions accented with seed pearls and flowed into a chapel train. A tiara of tulle, pearls and sequins held a fingertip veil of tulle.

The bride wore an antique pendant watch that had belonged to her paternal grandmother and the traditional borrowed, new and blue items. Her bridal gown had been fashioned by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Erda Lewis.

She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and orchids accented with pearls and picot satin.

Miss Lanell Overton, Forsan, was maid of honor attired in an aqua crystalite gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her halo hat of illusion matched her dress. Miss Bonnie Simpson, bridesmaid, was identically gown in a yellow frock and Charia Wash, niece of the bridegroom, served as junior bridesmaid in an aqua gown. They carried nosegays of yellow carnations backed in matching satin and tulle and showered in yellow satin.

ATTENDANTS

Phil Moore, Midland, and H. K. Elrod, Forsan, were best men. Robert Wash, Forsan, nephew of the bridegroom, served as junior groomsman. Van Lewis, cousin of the bride, and Donnie Gooch, Forsan, were ushers.

Steve Gordon, brother of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow. Rene Wash, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl in a yellow crystalite dress identical in style to the feminine attendants and carried a white basket of yellow rose petals. She was escorted by Billy Wash, nephew of the bridegroom.

For a wedding trip to Waco and Dallas, the bride wore a two-piece, tailored dress of turquoise linen with white accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Forsan High School where she was a member of the Honor Society, student council, Theatrical Club, Spanish Club, president of Future Homemakers of America, cheerleader and valedictorian of her class. She has been a student at Howard County Junior College this summer.

The bridegroom graduated at Forsan in 1963 where he was affiliated with the Honor Society, Spanish Club, president of Student Council, and lettered in football and basketball. He was a Howard County Junior College student during the past year. He is employed with the Forsan Oil Well Service.

RECEPTION

Guests were received in Fellowship Hall following the ceremony by the bridal couple, the parents and feminine attendants.

A tall silver spiral candelabra holding votive candles and arrangements of white carnations and Fujii chrysanthemums centered the bridal table. The table was covered with a white silk organza cloth over white

Wedding Vows Read In Friday Ceremony

LAMESA (SC)—Miss Barbara Jo Ely became the bride of Thomas Darrel Zachary in a double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Friday in United Pentecostal Church with Rev. D. V. Fuller, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ely, Lamesa, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Zachary, also of Lamesa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church down an aisle of lighted candle tapers. The wedding vows were repeated beneath an archway of greenery and yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a full length gown of taffeta, covered with chiffon. The full skirt, accented at the waist in back, tapered to a long flowing train. White lace over chiffon covered the sleeveless bodice and accented the scalloped neckline. The waist length jacket of lace was accented in the back by tiny buttons and fitted sleeves tapered to points at her wrists. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of sequins and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations on a white ribbon.

Mrs. J. W. Blackstock, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Troy Hanes, Lamesa, served as best man.

A reception followed in the parlor of the church and guests attended from Levelland, Brownfield, Odessa, Hamlin, Rotan, Amarillo, Tahoka, Stinnett, Seminole, Big Spring and Lamesa.

Meet Madame President

Mrs. W. M. Gage, 1200 Nolan, is president of the Sew and Chatter Club and will be in office until the first of the year. She has been affiliated with the organization for 20 years, an honor she shares with several active members of the club.

Also, she is a member of the Laura B. Hart Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star and has held three different offices during her 30 years in OES work. Her home church is the First Baptist where she is a member of the Birdie Beckett Sunday School Class.

Mrs. Gage is a native of Austin and received her education there. At the beginning of the new century she became the bride of a Llano boy in 1908 and they moved to Big Spring in 1932. The late Mr. Gage was a Gulf Oil consignee.

When Mrs. Gage reached her 76th birthday recently there were greetings from six children. They are Mrs. C. E. Hahn, Carlsbad, N. M.; Mrs. E. J. Davis, Austin; and Mrs. Clayton Bettie, Mrs. R. L. Heith and Tommy and Bill Gage, all of Big Spring. There are 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

During her spare time she visits shut-ins and keeps the sewing machine busy making gifts for her family. She is an African violet fancier and has about 40 different plants in her home.

Miss Louan Parks Marries Dr. Glenn Rogers Saturday

Miss Louan Parks became the bride of Dr. Glenn Rogers at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in a double ring ceremony performed in the First Presbyterian Church at Lamesa. John Gipson, pastor of the North Fourteenth Street Church of Christ, officiated for the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parks, 1009 N. 12th, Lamesa, and Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, 300 Washington Blvd., are parents of the bridegroom.

Vows were exchanged before an altar graced with brass candelabras holding votive lights and garlands of smilax formed the background for brass urns holding all-white arrangements of spider chrysanthemums and gladioli.

A program of traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. H. B. Miller, pianist, who accompanied Mrs. Douglas Black and Robert Parks, brother of the bride, as they sang, "One Hand, One Heart."

SILK GOWN
The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown fashioned from silk ivory tulle and French lace, designed with an A-line silhouette having a lace empire bodice, Florentine neckline and brief sleeves. The lace skirt featured a deep hemline of parchment finished by a bias fold. The gown was accented in back by a lace detachable train, square cut and bordered by matching fabric. Her veil of silk illusion fell in tiers from a pill box, heavily encrusted with seed pearls.

The bridal bouquet was of white roses.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. William A. Roeber Jr., Austin. Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Fisher, Fort Worth; Miss Peggy Wheeler, Houston; and Miss Leanne Carr, Lubbock, cousin of the bride, who was the junior bridesmaid.

The feminine attendants were identically dressed in floor-length dresses of azalea chiffon veiled over taffeta. The Empire bodices were marked by a band of wine velvet ribbon and featured square necklines and brief sleeves. Their headpieces were of matching material.

Charles Dishman, Bryan, served as best man. Groomsmen were Dr. James Prentice, Austin; Dr. Walton Lawrence, Fort Worth; and Bryan Trammell Jr., Houston. The ushers were Robert Hewell, Houston; Robert Halsell, Bryan; David Read, San Angelo; Robert Parks, Lamesa; and William C. Estes, Bonham.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the bride and bridegroom were joined by their parents in receiving guests.

The bride's table was overlaid with an imported cloth of white linen and appointed with silver and crystal. A silver candelabra was arranged with small white chrysanthemums nestled in greenery, and the three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bridegroom's table was similar to the bride's. It held a smaller silver candelabra with flowers and a double ring chocolate cake.

Guests were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. J. P. Senter, Lamesa, and Mrs. Monty McMinn, Austin.

Members of the house party from out of town were Mrs. J. H. Ragan and Mrs. L. T. Serface, both of San Angelo; Mrs. C. Bayless, El Paso; Mrs. Dorothy Carr, Lubbock; Mrs. Dorothy Ragan, Big Spring; Mrs. Ken Kummer, Brownfield; Mrs. Monty McMinn, Austin; Mrs. Ray Lewis, Abilene; Mrs. Carey McAdams, Groom; Mrs. Lester Wilkins, Senath, Mo.; and Mrs. Robert Drum, East St. Louis, Ill.

Those from Lamesa were Mrs. Hardy Dalmont, Mrs. Joe Alexander, Miss Jane Alexander, Mrs. J. B. Claiborne, Mrs. W. H. Collins, Mrs. Robert Koger, Mrs. Ross McDonald, Mrs. Bill Warren, Mrs. Douglas Black, Mrs. Noble Price, Mrs.

W. H. Ford, Mrs. W. B. Osborn, Mrs. Mattie Baird, Mrs. Hugh Lott, Mrs. Tom Burnside and Mrs. J. H. Clark.

Also, Mrs. Van Neill, Mrs. Gene McAllister, Mrs. Matt McCall, Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, Mrs. J. P. Senter, Mrs. Carl Cox, Mrs. Bowen Cox, Mrs. Boyd Echols, and Miss Mitzi Green.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Anne McKnight, Miss Mary Kay Schoffman and Miss Fran-chelle Collison, all of Dallas; Miss Linda Lanham, Temple; Miss Lynn Porter, Mrs. John S. Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dishman, Bryan; Miss Ann Chiles and Mr. and Mrs. Noble Prentice, Austin; Mrs. Robert Hewell and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Trammell, Houston; and Mrs. William Estes, Bonham.

WEDDING TRIP
For a wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, the bride wore a three-piece knit suit in complementing shades of blue, a matching hat and white lizard accessories. Upon returning, the couple will be at home at 4315 Holland, Dallas.

The bride attended Stephens College at Columbia, Mo., and the University of Texas. She is a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority and has been teaching in the Dallas Independent School District for the past three years.

The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Texas where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He received a DDS from Baylor University College of Dentistry and is now attending graduate school. He will receive his MS in orthodontics in June, 1965.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gossett, 408 Austin, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Anita, to James E. Lilly, Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lilly, 2112 E. 10th, Odessa. The wedding date has not been set.

Stricklands Have Andrews Visitors

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Strickland, Andrews, were visitors in the E. M. Strickland and the Elbert Strickland homes.

New residents of Forsan are Airman I.C. and Mrs. James I. Copas and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Vaughn and children.

Guests of the Bill Congers were Mr. and Mrs. George Brauer and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ciegburn, all of Stephenville. Mrs. Freddie Stuart and children, Brad and Brit, of Roby, are visiting this week with her mother, Mrs. Clara M. Fletcher.

Rehearsal Party Held In Club Blue Room

Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers were hosts Friday evening for a rehearsal dinner honoring attendants for the wedding of their son, Glenn, and Miss Louan Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parks, Lamesa. The couple will be married Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church at Lamesa. The affair was held in the Blue Room at Cosden-Country Club.

Orchids flown from Hawaii were fashioned into leis which were presented to each guest. They were seated at an E-shaped table where the main table held an arrangement of pale pink carnations, fuchsia carnations and orchid chrysanthemums. Flanking the centerpiece were silver candelabra with matching arrangements and leather fern. Placed at intervals along the other tables were candelholders with pink tapers based in arrangements of Vanda orchids and light pink carnations.

In the punch room, a small orchid was floated in each champagne glass.

The honored guests from out of town were Miss Sally Fisher and Dr. J. Walton Lawrence Jr., both of Fort Worth; Mrs. William A. Roeber, Miss Ann Chiles and Mr. and Mrs. Noble Prentice, all of Austin; Anthony Briggie, Miss Anne McKnight, Miss Lynn Porter, Miss Mary Kay Schoffman, John King and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kendal, all of Dallas; Charles well, all of Bryan; Dr. James A. Prentice, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Trammell Jr., Miss Peggy Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hewell, all of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Estes, Bonham; Miss Linda Lanham, Temple; Wade Simpson, Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parks, and Robert Parks, all of Lamesa.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

After a few years of asking myself why I stayed in Big Spring—and a few more of knowing the answer—I'm glad I did. That's not denying there were disappointments.

In the first place, I moved here because that old courthouse square and I seemed meant for each other. It was outdated, and I'm sure, in ill repair, but to the stranger passing through it presented a quaint facade of smalltown contentment.

I hardly had time to plant the petunias and establish a credit rating before they began tearing it down.

The first night here, in 1950, was spent at the traditional New Year's tea dance in the old country club and afterward, at the Settles Hotel Athletic Club. I met Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tollett. I didn't have my notebook along but I'll turn in my typewriter if I'm wasn't wearing a lavender cocktail dress with a cuffed collar!

All of which brings to mind

Tea Honors Two Guests

Mrs. Charles H. Miller Jr., 1024 Ridgeroad, was hostess Thursday for a tea in her home honoring Mrs. Clare DeRyke and her daughter, Sue, who are visitors here with Mrs. DeRyke's sister, and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting.

The guests are from Chicago, Ill., and Sue is a freshman at the University of Illinois where she plans to major in drama. White linen covered the tea table where the centerpiece was a mixed bouquet of fresh flowers. Punch and petits fours were served from crystal and silver appointments.

Mrs. DeRyke was attired in a red shantung shift with black patent accessories and her daughter wore a black shantung shift with matching accessories. Mrs. Ernsting chose a pink and white print sheath which she wore with black patent slippers.

Twenty guests called between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m.

Undercover Fur Right For Youth

Fur coats for kids are a little pretentious, even for those whose daddies own most of the town. Ah, but fur linings, that's another thing.

Next to their comfort blankets, wee ones like the soft feel of fur pelts best of all. Mother and likes it because it's warm. And like it because it's warm. And like it because it's warm. And like it because it's warm. And like it because it's warm.

Real fur in white lamb or kid fox can be had for less than $100 and fake fur of a dozen varieties for half of that.

Stretch Fabrics Seen In Cotton

More than 57 million yards—or more than three times the 1963 production—is estimated for this year's production of 100 per cent cotton woven stretch fabrics, industry spokesmen have announced. Most of this is made by slack mercerization of fabric.

that Ray Tollett is touring India with the Porter Randall group, as is Mrs. Grant Boardman's mother, Mrs. Earl Moore. The travelers should be back within two or three weeks. Maxine, who toured the Mediterranean area with the group last year, said that her mother wrote recently of seeing bodies cremated and thrown in the Ganges River—which wasn't exactly her cup of tea.

R. E. McKinney and his son, Rick, are looking forward to less spectacular sights this week while they are deep-sea fishing and being beachcombers in Galveston. On the way down, they'll spend a lazy day or so in San Antonio and will be in Seguin later to see his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Batson.

There was almost an exodus this weekend. Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon went to Dallas Friday to take the Charles Webb's children, Mark and Kent, (who have been here two weeks) to visit their other grandparents, the Halz Webbs. They will meet Karen who is flying in from New York after spending a month with the Charles Webbs, who will fly to Europe Friday. Also, they'll meet McGibbon's sister, Miss Thelma McGibbon of Gadsden, Ala., who will visit here until the middle of the week.

Mrs. Clyde Angel is another who left Friday. She flew to Houston to be with her sister, Mrs. Walter Hicks of Corpus Christi. Mrs. Hicks is staying at the Tideland Motel in Houston while receiving treatment at the M. D. Anderson Clinic. Mrs. Angel will be back next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Lebkowski and their son, Jon, slipped out of town last week for a few days vacation in Big Bend, Corpus Christi and Port Isabel.

A backyard dinner party held during the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Koutz honored guests who are also visiting Dr. J. Amanda Keelyn. They are Mrs. Carlson Hamlett, her son, Robert, and her daughter, Kline, all of Birmingham, Ala., and the Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Statham, Boca Raton, Fla. They plan to leave tomorrow.

One of the nicest gestures I've heard of in a long time was that made by Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Roberts to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Kuykendall. He felt he owed them something for the years of devotion and education which they had provided him so they and their son, Lloyd, have just returned from an expense-paid vacation to Washington, D. C., Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. The Roberts live with their children, Anthony Scott and Patricia Kaye, in Washington, D. C.

The Horace Garrett family had two fine, full weeks in Mexico City, Acapulco, and several other cities south of the border. They returned Tuesday after one more stop at Six Flags Over Texas. Mrs. Garrett's sister, Mrs. Howard Kemper, Phoenix, has been their guest here and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Bentzin, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, who have recently moved into their new home in Coronado Hills. John Kemper was here, too, and they have all spent some time with Mrs. C. M. Dublin.

It's a lonesome weekend in the Bright household. Becky is with the R. C. Anderson family in Alpine and Bruce is with his dad in Oklahoma to attend the wedding of his brother, Bobby, and Miss Conna Barber.

Miss Shipp Marries Paul Whitton Friday

LAMESA (SC) — Miss Glynn Sue Shipp and Paul Lewis Whitton Jr. were united in marriage at 6 p.m. Friday in the sanctuary of Key Baptist Church, Rev. O. A. Morton, grandfather of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Shipp, Lamesa, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Whitton, Cross Plains.

The bride was escorted in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length, fashion gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a tightly fitted bodice, scalloped neckline and long sleeves which tapered to petal points over the hands.

Re-embroidered lace dotted with seed pearls and crystals adorned the bodice. The skirt had a slim lace-frosted sheath effect in front, accented by a bouffant draped fold at the sides, flowing softly into a chapel train. A teardrop crown of pearls enhanced her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Miss Linda Whitton, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Darlene Miller, Jal. N. M., Miss Sharon Teeters, Brownwood, and Miss Susan Quible, Pampa.

Best man was Calvia Litchfield, Clovis, N. M. Groomswere Dean Shipp, brother of the bride, Clinton Bowman, Deming, N. M., and Joe Humphrey, Abilene.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School and McMurry College. She is presently employed by the Abilene School District. A graduate of Cross Plains High School, the bridegroom is a senior at McMurry.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at 311 Sayles in Abilene. For traveling the bride wore a beige suit. Brown patent accessories and a corsage from the bridal bouquet completed the traveling ensemble.

Daughter's Birth Told By Hamricks

Airman I.C. and Mrs. William B. Hamrick are the parents of a daughter, Tanya Lynn, born at 4:05 p.m., Aug. 20 at the Eastern New Mexico Medical Center at Roswell. The father is based at Pease Air Force Base in New Hampshire.

The maternal grandfather is Buck Nail, 1400 Main. There are two boys, Curtis, 3, and Kenny, 1½, in the Hamrick family.

IOOF Party Given For Families

The Big Spring International Order of Odd Fellows, Lodge No. 117, was host to their families and the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge and their families at an ice cream supper Friday. The party was held in Lodge Hall, and the Rev. Elva Phillips, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hart, was the speaker.

He presented the lodges with a Bible and applauded the principles and ideals of Oddfellowship. He commended the lodge and pledged his support when he returns to Big Spring at retirement. W. C. Cole, master of ceremonies, received the gift on behalf of the lodge.

A highlight of the affair was the presentation of the 40-year veteran's jewel to Jones Lamar by Rev. Phillips. Lamar, who completed his 40 years of membership in December, is serving as Grand Messenger to the Rebekah Assembly of Texas.

Spray Wasp Nests With Concentrate

You can kill wasps by applying insecticide spray or dust to their nests. U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists suggest chlordane, dieldrin or DDT. These are available as concentrates and powders for mixing with water to form a spray—or as dusts and oil solutions ready for use.

End To Wrinkles Found For Cotton

Two new crosslinking chemicals for cotton have been reported in the wash-wear field.

Details of a novel sulphur compound that imparts wet crease resistance to cellulosic fabrics in a matter of seconds at room temperature were given at a recent meeting of the Paper and Textiles Chemical Group, Society of Chemical Industry in Manchester, England.

The compound was discovered as a result of research seeking a non-resinous crosslinking chemical of high durability and low toxicity. It is expected to find application in a wide range of wash-wear apparel, both men's and women's.

Dietz, Wheat Nuptials Solemnized Saturday

Miss Sandra Lee Wheat and Wayne E. Dietz exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon during a double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church. The nuptial rites were performed by Chaplain Max Maguire.

The bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Stanley C.

Smith, 1708 Yale, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Nathan E. Dietz, 1217 Lloyd.

Forming the altar background were two standing basket arrangements of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums tied with pink ribbon bows. Mrs. J. P. Aslin, organist, played "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a street-length gown of white Chantilly lace over white satin. The molded bodice featured a rounded neckline and long, fitted sleeves edged with satin binding. A narrow band at the waist topped a full, gathered skirt of lace over layers of taffeta and net. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls, and she wore a single strand of pearls belonging to her mother.

The wedding bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis centered with white orchids and showered with white ribbon picot.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Davey William who wore a street-length dress of pink organza with full skirt and brief lace jacket that buttoned at the back to form a cummerbund effect. Her pink headdress of flowers featured a tiny veil.

The best man was Waylan Gillihan, and ushers were Teddy Rae Dietz and Michael Hampton.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Yandrich and son, Danny, and Mr. and Mrs. David Yandrich, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bryant and children, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Mrs. J. A. Cowan, Jacksboro.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride was wearing a two-piece pink knit suit embroidered with white satin. Her accessories were white and she wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet. Upon returning, the couple will make a home at 507 Runnels.

The bride attended schools in Arizona, California and Japan and was graduated from Big Spring High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is a member of the DeMolays. He is employed at Walker Auto Parts.

REHEARSAL DINNER
The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in their home for members of the wedding party.

Don't Give Child Dangerous Toys

PATERSON, N.J. — Hard plastic toys, particularly those with any pointed protruberance are potentially dangerous to children, warns L. J. Wold of Paterson.

Reporting in "Pediatrics," journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Dr. Wold described a facial injury of a girl, 6, who fell on a hard plastic toy nursing bottle with an open ringed protruberant nipple. She sustained a penetrating laceration of the face and other injuries. It was three weeks before the wound healed.

MRS. ROBERT M. ROSS

Miss Cheryl Cutright Marries R. M. Ross In Coahoma Church

Miss Cheryl Gay Cutright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marple Cutright, Rt. 1, and Robert M. Ross, Coahoma, were united in marriage in a ceremony held Friday evening in the Coahoma Church of Christ. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Ross, Baird.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the minister, Herbert Love, at an altar centered with an arrangement of gladioli. Baskets of greenery and lighted tapers flanked the flowers.

Traditional music was sung by Mrs. Bill Read, Mrs. Travis Greenfield, Mrs. Harry Pherigo and Mrs. Herbert Love. Selections included "Because," "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "Be With Us Lord."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal white satin gown styled with a fitted lace jacket and matching petal point gauntlets. The bell-shaped skirt was ornamented with lace appliques re-embroidered with seed pearls and bugle beads and extended into a chapel train. Her finger-length veil was held by a pearl tiara. The wedding gown belonged to her sister, Mrs. John Castleman, who wore it at her wedding.

The bridal bouquet was arranged atop a white satin-covered Bible belonging to the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Randall Capps, Abilene.

Miss Linda Hauser served as maid of honor. Her street-length frock of sapphire blue embossed peau de soie was fashioned in a style similar to the bride's gown. She wore a matching tulle circlet headpiece and carried a white youquet.

Danny Rex Ross, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Pvt. Maurice Cutright, Fort Riley, Kan., brother of the bride, and Randall G. Capps, Abilene, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a blue sheath with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 802 Saunders Ave., Coahoma.

The bride attends school at Coahoma and will continue her studies. The bridegroom, a graduate of Baird High School, attended Abilene Christian College. He is employed with Continental-Emasco Company.

Mrs. Castleman registered guests at the church. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Baggett, Sayre, Okla.; Mrs. Alvie Carter and Janis and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Mayes, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Randall C. Capps, Abilene; and Miss Katy Lou Walker and Mrs. Bruce Brown, Baird.

Spencers Entertain At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Spencer Jr., 602 W. 18th, were hosts Saturday evening at a dinner party preceding the Big Spring Civic Theatre production, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

Out-of-town guests were her father, Dr. W. W. Bondurant Jr., and her brother, Charles Bondurant, both of San Antonio; Mrs. Jean Blair, Akron, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Spencer, Luther; and Dr. and Mrs. John O'Banion, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dulaney, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Weyel, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. George Killam and Mrs. Johnnie Bowden, all of Snyder.

The buffet table was covered with an eggshell damask cloth and centered with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums arranged in an Indian copper bowl. Tapers flanked the centerpiece, and china and silver appointments were used.

Sets Date

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ruth Johnson and Laine Bryan Porter has been set for Nov. 21 in St. John's Episcopal Church in Odessa. The announcement is being made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Johnson Jr., 720 N. McKinney, Odessa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter, Sulphur Springs.

Gift Shower Honors Miss Logan Saturday

Miss Tedra Logan, bride-elect of Ens. John E. Kinney, was honored with a gift shower Saturday evening in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club.

Cohostesses were Miss Marguerite Cooper, Mrs. Alma Gollnick, Mrs. Shiloh Gorman, Mrs. Elvis McCrary, Mrs. H. H. Stephens, Mrs. George Thorburn and Mrs. Ray F. White.

The bride's chosen colors of red and white were used at the refreshment table. A white net cloth with floor length ruffles was used, and the centerpiece was a candelabra entwined with red and white carnations and pompon chrysanthemums. The appointments were silver.

Guests were registered between 3 and 5 p.m. at a table decorated with a silver vase containing red carnations and white pompon chrysanthemums. There were 80 on the guest list.

Guests were received by the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Ralph Logan, her grandmother, Mrs. L. R. Logan, cohostesses, and Mrs. Leon Kinney.

Miss Logan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Logan, San Angelo, and Ens. Kinney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kinney, 801 W. 16th. The wedding will be held Sept. 26 in the First Christian Church, San Angelo.

Corsages of white carnations and pompon chrysanthemums were presented to the honoree, her mother and grandmother, and Mrs. Kinney. The hostess gift to the bride-elect was a silver tray.

Winners of a ten-week series were announced during duplicate games held Thursday evening in the Officers' Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base.

The winners were Mrs. John Stone, first; Capt. Ron Kibler, second; Mrs. Ron Kibler, third; Mrs. Ayra McGann, fourth; Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. Rogers Hefley, tied for fifth and sixth; Mrs. Joe Steyer, seventh; Mrs. B. B. Badger, eighth; and Mrs. Myrtle Lee, ninth.

There were five tables in play Thursday.

Those winners were Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Hefley, first; Capt. Kibler and Mrs. Stone, second; Mrs. Kibler and Mrs. George C. Baird, third; and Mrs. Ray McMahan and Mrs. C. A. Benson, fourth.

New Series Begins In Club Play

Ten tables were in play for duplicate bridge games held Friday at Big Spring Country Club.

North-south winners were Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, first; Mrs. Fred Lurting and Mrs. Tom South, second; Mrs. Ben McCullough and Mrs. Ayra McGann, third; and Mrs. Ray McMahan and Mrs. C. A. Benson, fourth.

The east-west winners were Mrs. R. H. Weaver and Mrs. Fred Kasch, first; Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mrs. Harvy Williamson, second; Mrs. Wally Slate and Mrs. Joe Herbert, third; and Mrs. Gerald Harris and Mrs. Don Newsom, fourth.

It was a start of a new series, the "Grand Slam," which will be for the best five out of eight games and will run through Oct. 9.

COURTHOUSE LAWN CALLED "AN OASIS"
Cool greenness of downtown square draws praise of visitors

Square Offers A Pleasant Bit Of Beauty To Visitors

By SAM BLACKBURN
The memory most tourists passing through retain of Big Spring is the green and cool appearing lawn on the Howard County Courthouse square. "It looks like an oasis," more than one passerby has said, "after the hot and dusty countryside you suddenly come on the expanse of the green grass and the heavily leaved trees."
Even hometowners who pass by the square a dozen times a day always glance admiringly toward it. It is a common sight to see weary pedestrians sitting in cool comfort under its trees. From time to time, one observes visitors stretched out, sound asleep and oblivious to the roar of traffic which rushes by on Third and Fourth streets.

judge, says he recalls only three trees that have had to be replaced. He said the live oaks were brought in from US 80 where they were found to be in the way of the road building program when IS 20 development began.
"You can still see the chain scars where one of the trees was moved in," the judge said. Despite the bad weather which has prevailed this summer, most observers regard the courthouse square as being the most eye-catching and attractive in its history. Last year, although the weather was better, the lawn was spotted with yellowed areas where war was being waged on crabgrass.
His watering problems naturally diminish with the arrival of rains but in general, irrigation goes on endlessly.
The trees and shrubs on the grounds have been exceptionally successful and only a few replacements have had to be made.

GANDY'S EXTENDS HEARTFELT CONGRATULATIONS TO WAGON WHEEL DRIVE-IN'S ON THEIR 10th Anniversary

FLOURISHED
This year, the grass has flourished greenly over the entire area. The trees have grown and thrived. The crab apple trees, in particular, are favorites of most courthouse lawn buffs. They revel in the blossoms the trees display in the spring and they get a big kick out of the orange hued fruit which stands out so vividly amid the dark green leaves.
The towering mimosa trees with the leaves and exotic blossoms are also favorites. The live oaks with their year around greenness and the locusts have their followers. There are few evergreens but, generally speaking, the trees and shrubs flourish best in spring and summer.
How is it that the lawn of the courthouse looks so attractive? Well, it's no accident. The county spends more than $400 each month to keep it that way. One man works almost full time on the lawn, year around.
NORWOOD
He is William H. Norwood. Except for the relatively few hours he spends each week at the Howard County library, his entire time is devoted to the courthouse lawn.
"There's always something to be done," he says. "If it isn't time to mow, then it's time to pick up leaves and trash. If this has been done, then it's time to fertilize again. And always there's the watering to be done."
Norwood's salary is $275 per month. It is agreed that at least $200 of this salary can be charged to the work he does on the courthouse grounds. The county water bill for all uses at the courthouse in 1963 ran $2,459.97. So far this year, the county has paid $1,296 for water. There is no debating—the bulk of this goes to the upkeep of the lawn and the trees.
The county spends another $200 or more annually for fertilizer to keep the grass healthy. Equipment expense probably runs three or four hundred dollars each year.
WATER SYSTEM
The square has an underground sprinkling system rigged in such a manner that Norwood can control the flow of water with exceptional acuteness. He turns the valves on and the first strip in a given section gets the full flow of the water for a period of five minutes. Then another segment fires up replacing the first. This process continues until the entire area has been soaked. If the weather is exceptionally hot and dry, Norwood can repeat the watering as needed or he can run the system nightly until the proper

Wagon Wheel Drive-Ins Mark 10th Birthday

Mrs. Ruby Rainbolt is celebrating the 10th anniversary of the Wagon Wheel Drive-Ins this week in Big Spring.
However, she and her late husband, H. M. Rainbolt, operated restaurants here since World War II days, when they first had three small cafes at the old Big Spring Bombardier School. Then, 23 years ago, they leased the present Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 E. 3rd.
Ten years ago, the Rainbolts opened the first of their drive-in restaurants—at East Fourth and Birdwell Lane. The second one was opened two years later at 2011 Gregg. The third one, on West US 80, was opened four years ago.
"We decided on the name 'Wagon Wheel' because of its sentimental meaning to us," Mrs. Rainbolt said. "We used to go up in the mountains in the snow in California, and spent a lot of time at a 'Wagon Wheel' there. It was an enjoyable place and, after we took over the former 'Steak House' here we re-named it."
The Wagon Wheel Restaurant has been leased to another operator for the past three years. "We have always loved West Texas and Big Spring," she continued, "and because of Mr. Rainbolt's interest in promoting tourist trade, he investigated drive ins in other cities to see how the best ones were operated. We then built No. 1 for our daughter, but her interest was more toward drafting and civil engineering, so we have operated it."
"It wasn't long afterward that No. 2 came along and then No. 3. And now we are looking for a location for No. 4. This will be announced soon."
The three Wagon Wheel Drive-Ins have 57 employees to serve

Most Farmers Will Take ASC Payments

Nearly three-fourths of all of the cotton farmers in Howard County, hard hit by the drought and dwindling crop prospects, have agreed to retire from production one third of their planted cotton acreage.

Gabe Hammack, office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization Committee, estimated more than 70 per cent of the county's total of 776 cotton farmers had signed agreements to destroy a third of their planted cotton quotas. In return for this, they will be paid at the average county rate of $9.24 for each acre of the cotton they have not plowed up.

The dry weather and the near failure of cotton on many farms led to this decision. The final day to sign for the so-called domestic quota program expired Monday and the ASC office had a throng of farmers on hand all day. The showers and rains of the weekend, too late to do much good except in rare and unusual instances, failed to deter the cotton growers. They signed up for the quota plan almost to a man.

The payments which they will receive for the acreage they still have, based on the production history of the farm, will vary from the average payment of $9.24 per acre but the money, it is pointed out, will do considerable toward repaying the farmer for the investment he put into seed and planting last spring.

He will still be able to harvest whatever cotton his untouched quota acres produce.

The 776 farms in the county were allotted 75,163 acres of cotton for the year. If three quarters of the farmers holding these quotas signed up for the domestic quota plan, then there will be about 50,000 acres of farm land still planted to cotton after the 33 1-3 per cent is destroyed.

The ASC office hopes to begin writing checks for the plan within a week to 10 days. It is estimated that the payments will aggregate about $450,000.

This is a far cry from the yield that the farmers derived from many of the same acres in 1964 but it does offer some buffering effect to offset the battering the crop is taking from the hot sun and long intervals of rainless days.

Four Killed In Accident

AMARILLO (AP) — A car which state police said had a blowout while travelling about 100 miles per hour jumped a guardrail on a divided highway and smashed into an oncoming car. Four persons died in the wreckage.

The accident, which occurred at 11:30 p.m. Friday on Amarillo's six-lane divided highway, also injured seven persons.

Dead were Eugene Cady, 22, driver of one car; Mrs. Valda Howard, 30, her son Timothy Howard, 4, and Audna June Vincent, 37, visiting her son here from San Francisco. The last three were in the second car.

Injured in the Cady automobile were Gary Myers, 16, Larry Hill, 17, and Dennis Snyder, 18.

In the second car, the injured were Richard Wheat, 21, the son of Mrs. Vincent; his wife, Vickie Lynn Wheat, 18; Miller Vincent, and Garland Howard, the husband and father to two of the killed.

All were from Amarillo except Mrs. Vincent.

F&M Home has gas appliances

Open House Set Today In Coahoma

Pioneer Natural Gas Company again is teaming up with an area builder to stage a home show. Open house from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. will be held at 101 Ramsey, Coahoma.

F&M Builders have constructed a large house that has three bedrooms and two full baths in ceramic tile. There also are a kitchen and den with spack bar and gas appliances. The house also has a patio.

It sits on a large lot—165 feet by 208 feet. Patrons are invited to stop by Sunday and inspect the home. It has sufficient room for any family—no matter how large.

The house is equipped with a complete display of Pioneer Natural Gas Company appliances. They include a Roper built-in gas range, day-and-night central heating and water heating, Koolwall bath heat and Charrnglow gas lights.

Representatives of the two firms—F&M Builders and Pioneer Natural Gas Company—reminded area residents that the house will be open to anyone who is interested.

15,000 BALES Small Cotton Crop Forecast

Dryland cotton in Howard County, on the basis of present prospects, will not produce in excess of an average of two-tenths of a bale to the acre this fall, in the opinion of the Howard County Farm Labor Committee, which met at the Texas Employment Commission offices Friday.

Of the total cotton which may be harvested (the committee glumly set the probably crop total at somewhere between 10,000 and 15,000 bales with the general impression being that the final figure would be the 10,000 rather than 15,000) more

A Devotional For The Day

Remember also your Creator, in the days of your youth. (Ecclesiastes 12:1, RSV.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we yearn for our lives to be worthwhile. Help us not to be lazy and indifferent. Give us the desire to study and work that we may be capable men and women and do those things which will benefit others and be pleasing to Thee. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Friendliness At All Ages

There is to be a conference on Monday between some local public officials and officers at Webb Air Force Base concerning ways and means to bring about a more amicable relationship between the younger airmen at the Base and the young people in the community.

This has come about because of some recent incidents which reflect a bit of youthful animosity, and which possibly could have grown into a matter of crisis.

While on the whole civilian-military relationship has been a matter of pride to both Big Spring and Webb people, there are exceptions (Mrs. Laura McGhee this week wrote The Herald a letter on the subject), and perhaps the importance of understanding and mutual acceptance among the younger folks has been overlooked.

Youthful exuberance is not to be, and cannot be, quelled, but it could be directed into wholesome channels.

The airmen at the Base in the main are very young men, many of them away from home for the first time. They need to be made welcome, they need an opportunity to meet Big Springers of their own age. The same Big Spring boys, incidentally, could very likely in a year or so be in a military uniform in some community far from home — and they'll be looking for friendship, too.

The leaders Monday very likely will have some proposals whereby all adults in the community can help. We hope that all will be ready to respond. It is not just a matter of avoiding "trouble," it is a matter of being a decent community.

Keep 'Em In School

The local Optimist Club is joining fellow organizations over the nation in sponsoring a "stay in school program" designed to check the current rate of school dropouts which has been going at an alarming pace.

Alarming to the future of the youths themselves, and alarming to the effect upon the nation's economy and productivity, not to mention its higher educational, sociological and cultural level.

The facts and figures are enough to justify action by the Optimists, as well as everybody else. Nearly a third of the nation's young people drop out of school before completing senior high. Some 2.6 million youths reached age 18 in 1960, whereas 3.8 million will reach this age in 1965; so, that if the current rate continues 7.5 million youths will drop out of school during the next decade.

It stands to reason that those who do not complete a secondary education will be those who must go into unskilled labor. And statistics show that whereas ten per cent of the total labor force is engaged in unskilled jobs today, only five per cent will be needed by the end of this decade. And if the current rate of unemployment persists, as the youth population increases, by 1970 the number of unemployed youth will be close to a million and a half.

The experts say that the odds are today three to one against a dropout finding a job. What will they be a little later on?

It takes no crystal ball to determine a future problem for this nation. The economy is affected, the moral standards are affected, the whole living pattern is affected.

A preventive program will be much cheaper than one which requires treatment of more delinquents, support of more unemployables. Encouragement and respect for education in the home, better teaching, guidance, counseling and curricula in the schools and expanded employment opportunities for youth all play a part in keeping young persons engaged in pursuit of better education. In the last analysis, these things become the responsibility of adults — all of us.

Marquis Childs Controlling Campaign Contributions

ATLANTIC CITY—The setting for the Democratic National Convention is a curious commentary on the party's past. The garish facade of pleasure domes that rises on the ocean front like a somewhat shabby stage set is out of another era.

Why Atlantic City was chosen, other than the fact that the city fathers put up a generous chunk of money, is a minor mystery. The choice is part of the legacy of President Kennedy, although just why he decided, apparently pretty much on his own, that the convention should be held here was his own secret.

LIKE the setting itself, the tribal rite the Democrats are about to go through is strangely irrelevant to the times. The Republicans at San Francisco, thanks to Gov. William Scranton, could provide at least a semblance of suspense even though it was unreal. But here the unveiling of a Vice-Presidential candidate hardly seems sufficient reason for a five-day convention.

A few sobering thoughts may cross the minds of the delegates assembling here. Representing the hierarchy of party power, they will be expected to furnish the sinews of war—money, time, energy, devotion—in the campaign ahead. Where the money is to come from for a national campaign that will cost not less than $15 million and probably much nearer $25 million is one of the sobering reflections.

FOR NOTHING whatsoever has been done about the flagrant and deeply corrupting abuses in wholesale political spending.

The late President Kennedy created a citizens' commission on campaign spending. In April of 1962 the commission submitted a report of financing residential campaigns. The thrust of the report was to encourage individual citizens to make small contributions. If they could be interested in large numbers, then the two parties would not have to rely on the big fat-cat contributors.

THE REPORT was warmly approved by Kennedy. The proposals it contained were embodied in a half dozen bills which had the blessing of the White House. They called for tax deductions or tax credits for individual contributions up to a maximum of $40 or $50 for a husband and wife.

Because of the proposed tax changes, the reform package went to the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee. There it met an inevitable fate of indifference and suppression.

TO ENCOURAGE individuals to make small campaign contributions would be to get a lot more people directly interested in the political process. For many who hold the seats of power—bosses and the beneficiaries of bossism—this might be awkward. There could be embarrassing questions about who gets what and why when the political pie is carved up.

Billy Graham In Mark 3:28 it says: "All sins shall be forgiven," but in Revelation 21:8 it says that some shall be cast into the lake of fire. Will you please explain this for me?—J. S.

True repentance is a condition of forgiveness. Sins that are not repented of cannot be forgiven. Let us say that a son had wronged his father. If the son remains stubborn and unrepentant, it would avail nothing for the father to say: "Son, I forgive you." You see, forgiveness is a two-sided affair. It involves an attitude of yield- edness on the part of two people.

The Bible speaks of forgiveness as conditional. "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive our sins," and "Let him return unto the Lord . . . and He will abundantly pardon." Unconfessed sin cannot be forgiven.

As to people being "cast into the lake of fire," this means that God allows people to be relegated to their chosen element. Some people choose to live in a "hell" on earth. They seem to enjoy all that is ungodly and infernal. That is their chosen element. It would be "hell" for them to go to church, to fellowship with Christians and to live a disciplined life.

In this present life we condition ourselves for eternity. Some have accimated themselves to evil, to sin, and to lawlessness. A just God would not commit them to an atmosphere in which they would not be at home. It would be "hell" for them to be in heaven.

Satisfaction

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — After circling the block a dozen times looking for a vacant parking meter, Roy Burken found one. It still had some time left and a grin crossed Burken's face.

"There are few thrills comparable to parking on what is left of the other fellow's nickel," he told a companion.

Czech Economy Turning Slightly To The West

PRAGUE — On the map, Czechoslovakia resembles an irregular Idaho potato, with the squat end seated in West-Central Europe and the nose pointing toward Moscow.

Prague, the capital, with a population of a million and only 371 taxicabs—try and get one!—turns hungrily toward the West, seeking trade, yet is deeply committed to the Soviet Union, both in politics and commerce.

BEFORE World War II, only 2 per cent of Czechoslovakia's trade was with the Soviet Union. Today it exceeds one-third. Before the war, about 75 per cent of Czech trade was with the West. Today about 70 per cent is with the U.S.S.R., East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and other "socialist countries," as the Czech Statistical Abstract expresses it. This is—and the phrase is no exaggeration—an economic upheaval.

Those in power, the higher-ups in government, justify this trade-turnabout on two counts: First, it has worked. People live better than 10 years ago. No food shortages, no long queues in front of stores. Second, it has exorcised fears of the Great Depression, the economic maelstrom which put a million people out of work.

SOME RESULTS justify the current course. Planning has worked in the sense that the country has over-full employment and the standard of living has gradually improved. Yet, in 1963, production actually declined. In the first six months of this year, it recovered and moved 4.5 per cent ahead of last year. But 1963 notified planners that even planning sometimes is imperfect.

The government leaders are now seeking ways to improve incentives to plant managers and workers—make them take an interest in quality as well as quantity.

HERETOFORE, a factory manager got his bonus for fulfilling his production quota, and an extra bonus if he over-fulfilled. Little consideration was given as to how much material or labor was used in the process. Waste often made for the highest bonuses: Don't worry about how many workers you use, don't bother to economize on cloth, or steel, or parts—just get out the product.

Some time during 1965, planners hope to set up a different set of norms in one or two pilot plants. The factory manager will get highest bonuses for showing the highest level of income after subtracting from gross sales the cost of labor and materials.

SOME LATITUDE may even be granted on pricing—within centrally set limits. Thus the factory with a reputation for turning out high-quality machinery or merchandise will be able to command better terms in the market.

All the foregoing is still under discussion. It may not come to pass. But it indicates perturbation caused by last year's setback.

Equally important is the almost revolutionary undertaking of Josef Horn, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The C of C, here an arm of the government, is directly concerned with the development, the expansion, of foreign trade with western countries.

Horn plans a trip to the United States next April. He will be accompanied by top-level representatives of the Ministry of Foreign Trade and the government corporations conducting exports and imports. Purpose: To discover what Czechoslovakia can sell in the U. S. to increase its earnings of dollars so that it, in turn, can buy more.

DURING THE late 'twenties, Czech exports to the U. S. ran above $30 million a year. Direct imports were small. Result: A highly favorable dollar income. Shortly after World War II, U. S. exports reached $106 million, 80 per cent of which represented U. S. contribution to Czechoslovakia through the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency (UNRRA). After the Communist take-over, U. S. - Czechoslovak trade declined steadily, reaching near zero during the Korean War. Since then, it has gradually recovered to about $10 million annually, both in exports and imports (see chart). Thus, historically, there is room for expansion, which explains the Horn mission.

SO, IT COULD be, that Czechoslovakia—long pinioned economically to the Soviet Union—is stirring, is turning ever so slightly toward the West and from such heavy dependence on the Soviet Union.

Ingrown Hair Of The Beard Can Be A Problem

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has a very tough beard and is constantly bothered by ingrown hairs. He tries to tweeze them out and there are so many it takes him an hour or longer to shave. Is there anything he can do to prevent this condition?—MRS. J. J. L.

Ingrown hair of the beard usually occurs in the neck (but can occur elsewhere). In the neck, the hairs emerge from the follicle at different and not always predictable angles.

What happens is that the hair, instead of growing out normally, "digs into" the skin. Sometimes it curls up, and creates quite a miniature ball of hair under the skin.

Shaving too close is a contributing factor when people tend to have this trouble. Shaving with the angle of the hair, rather than "against the grain" can ease the condition. On the neck, however, it may not always be possible to determine the direction.

Using a different kind of razor may help. For some, an electric razor is more satisfactory.

Pulling out the hairs with tweezers can at most give only temporary relief, since they will grow back again. It is possible, however, if only a certain few hairs are causing trouble, to have them removed by electrolysis, which is permanent.

Dear Dr. Molner: How effective has ultrasonic sound therapy been in the field of medicine? I have heard from people who had the treatment for arthritis with little or no relief. How about arteriosclerosis or Burger's disease?—M. G.

The principle of ultrasound is to project heat deep into the tissues by means of high frequency sound waves—of such high frequency that we cannot hear them, but still can carry a good deal of energy, just as a very loud noise can have enough energy to rattle or even break windows.

Ultrasonic treatments have been successful in acute bursitis (but not the chronic type, or that involving calcium deposits), and in mild arthritis.

I have no information indicating that it would be effective in advanced arthritis, in Burger's disease or arteriosclerosis.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is a

Baker's cyst? I have one behind my left knee and the doctor says it may have to be removed surgically. Could it be cancerous?—MRS. R. W.

This is a swelling in the hollow behind the knee. It is a swollen bursa, and there are many bursae in this area because of the many tendons.

In rare instances fluid may accumulate there in the bursa because of some injury to the knee joint proper. Then it can be painful. In that case, or if the swelling is large, surgical removal is the only recourse. It is not alarming; it is not cancerous.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of this helpful and comforting booklet, Acne—The Teenage Problem. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Everybody, But Everybody, Is Watching You

Well, we've lost everything else, and if you want to be downright pessimistic about it, the next thing that's going is personal privacy.

This has been an issue in more and more lawsuits of late, and one New York trial lawyer has been quoted as saying "I wouldn't say anything into a telephone that I wouldn't be willing to shout through a megaphone at Grand Central Station during the rush hour."

Which would indicate that phone tapping is getting to be an accepted thing, and the right to privacy a major legal issue, if not a moral one.

To make things worse, inventors are coming up with all manner of gadgets which makes wiretapping a kindergarten affair. Some of these have been listed:

Laser beams and their use for eavesdropping on conversations.

Microminiature radio transmitters.

Li detector tests, which might be administered without the subject's knowledge.

Subliminal and subaudial projection of messages to audiences by television, radio and motion picture. (That means making you swallow some ideas even when you don't know it.)

Drugs that might be used to unlock secrets of persons without their awareness.

The prospects of learning an individual's emotions and attitudes from brain waves.

All right, so what have you got left? You know the phone companies already have to a degree of perfection the phone-vision idea, which is going to put you on a screen any time you pick up the receiver.

Some of these things get downright creepy, don't they?

Whatever happened to those moments, or even hours of splendid solitude, during which a person could do his meditation, make his resolves, cuss his own weaknesses, develop his plans and embroider his dreams, commingled with whatever Providence he happens to choose?

For instance, the people who have envisioned, invented or perfected all the gimmicks listed above—would they have ever accomplished their tasks with the whole world as "big brother" looking on? Probably not.

I would like to think that I am not entirely anti-social, and there are times of great urge to mingle with the other inhabitants of the human race. But there are also times when I feel an impulse for just being let alone, and I bet you do too. How are you going to manage this if invisible laser beams are being cast your way, and a lie detector test is being taken on you when you don't know it?

As a practical matter, if everybody gets to know what everybody else is doing and thinking at all times, the jails won't be big enough to hold all of us, not?

Privately (I hope) I have worked out my solution. I am going to dig a great big, deep hole, and pull it in after me, and stay there until I run out of isolation time. Then I will emerge, and say, "OK, world, I will try to figure you out, if you insist on trying to figure me out."

—BOB WHIPKEY

Holmes Alexander Fourth Branch Of Government

WASHINGTON—How would you like to stand in the U. S. Court of Appeals with a heavy verdict against you and one or more of the Appellate Judges answering the following description:

(1) You had been publicly castigated by him as "contemptible."

(3) YOU HAD HAD well-publicized quarrels with him over how to end the Korean War, over inviting Robert Oppenheimer to speak on the college campus and over the judge's family's alleged profiteering in highway construction.

(4) You had made known your disapproval of his attitude toward loyalty oaths for public officials.

IT HARDLY NEEDS arguing that your confidence—and everybody's confidence—in such a tribunal would not be high. Yet the above descriptions do apply to Appellate Judges before whom Publisher William Loeb of Manchester, (N. H.) recently took his appeal from a very costly judgment.

THAT LOEB is a crusading rightist, and not very chummy with other New England publishers, doesn't disqualify him from complaining about a situation that could involve any of us. Loeb's senator, Norris Cotton (R., N. H.) has introduced a bill (S. 2538) to prevent a litigant in a U. S. Court of Appeals from suffering these disadvantages. The Cotton measure would permit anybody before such a court to file an affidavit of prejudice and bias which, if upheld, would bring in another judge. This bill is a companion piece to another measure which formerly passed the Senate bill (but not the House) allowing a litigant to challenge the prejudice of a district judge.

OUR AGE, of course, is far from being unique in seeing a tussle between the principles of what is really a four-part system of government. We think of the presidency, the Congress that upholds our system, but actually American government stands upon a fourth support—the people.

TODAY THERE exists a Council of State Governments, made up of state delegates, with the purpose of giving the people more direct voice in national affairs. This council has made three proposals which may be considered coming from the fourth branch of American government. The first proposal would allow two-thirds of the states to propose a Constitutional amendment, and three-fourths to ratify it—thus taking the initiative away from Congress. The second proposal would eliminate federal judicial authority over the reapportionment of state legislatures. Most drastic of all is the third proposal. It would establish a Court of the Union, composed of the chief justices of the highest state courts, to review Supreme Court decisions that pertain to the states.

THE PEOPLE are too often regarded as having no part in government except to vote. But here they are preparing to do what the executive and legislative branches have failed to do—reform the entrenched judiciary.

David Lawrence The Expense Of Keeping Down Riots

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is telling the nation that Americans must reject "street rioters and night riders" and adhere to law and order so as to assure racial peace. But the Democratic administration is about a year late in getting at the roots of the violence which has swept many Northern cities.

The sanction unwittingly given by the national administration in Washington to the idea of street demonstrations, while theoretically defensible as the exercise of free speech, has resulted in widespread disorders. Again and again, the "demonstrations" have had no relationship to the "civil rights" law or to other public questions, but merely have afforded an opportunity for "hooliganism"—the looting of stores, as well as the throwing of bricks, stones and bottles at innocent citizens and the police.

THE POLICE departments in all big cities are worried. When tear gas, fire hoses, police dogs and other methods are used to quell the riots, various civic organizations promptly call it "police brutality," and this in turn cannot but encourage some thoughtless persons of both races to take more chances with street demonstrations.

The sober truth is that cities do not have enough money or policemen to deal with the growing violence. Maybe some of the funds appropriated by Congress to try to get to the moon will have to be made available to help keep peace on earth, especially in American cities.

PERHAPS THE best example of how expensive it is to handle a mass demonstration was given just a year ago this month in the famous "march on Washington." Few people outside of governmental agencies know how costly the effort was and how the influence of the administration had to be exerted behind the scenes to put white leaders in charge wherever possible so as to diminish the appearance of race conflict.

The inside story of the "march on Washington" has never been officially revealed. Here is an unpublished summary, obtained from official sources, telling what the federal government did to keep the "march on Washington" peaceful:

"UNDER MILITARY planning, Lt. Colonel John Downie Jr., office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Department of the Army, was responsible for the military policing operations during the march. Col. Downie's plans called for the use of 4,000 combat troops, including one Marine battalion, to be maintained on an alert status ready to take action should a disorder occur. In addition to these troops, which were to be stationed in Washington, the Army plans required that an additional 25,000 combat-ready troops be available at Army posts on the outskirts of Washington.

It was further planned that approximately 2,000 regular police officers would be in uniform on August 28 to police the area of the march. Some uniformed firemen would also be on duty. The remaining regular police officers were to be held in reserve for other shifts and for assignment wherever needed.

"MEMBERS OF the National Guard were to be assigned to work with uniformed police officers in police cruisers or Army jeeps."

The publicity given afterwards to the "march on Washington" as big "success" doubtless encouraged street demonstrations in other parts of the country where the police departments were unable to afford any such protection as was provided a year ago in the national capital. Since then, New York City, Rochester, N. Y., Boston, Paterson and Elizabeth, N. J., Philadelphia, Chicago and other large population centers have had to deal with outbreaks of violence which were the result of stimulated racial feelings.

THIS IS precisely what was forecast a year ago when the "march on Washington" was widely interpreted as encouraging demonstrations in places where 25,000 federal troops would not be so readily available.

DEAR ABBY

Funeral Protocol

DEAR ABBY: Correct me if I'm wrong, but in a funeral procession, aren't BLOOD relatives supposed to ride in the first car immediately following the hearse? And in cases where there are a number of married BLOOD relatives, aren't all the husbands and wives supposed to ride in the cars BEHIND all the blood relatives? I am a daughter of the deceased, and was in the FIFTH car, riding behind sisters-in-law and brothers-in-law, and I want to know if this was proper. BOILING OVER

Mrs. Thigpen Rites Held

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mrs. W. M. Thigpen, 61, was found dead in her bed at her home here by her husband early Thursday morning.

She was born in Red River, Tex., Jan. 26, 1903, and had lived in Dunn, Tex., before moving here. She was a member of the Dunn Baptist Church.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Dunn Baptist Church, with burial in the Dunn Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

She is survived by her husband; four sons, W. L. Thigpen and Hurschel Thigpen, both of Abilene, Merlon Thigpen and James Thigpen, both of Colorado City; four daughters, Mrs. Orville Naylor, Hobbs, N.M., Mrs. E. J. Cox, Odessa, Mrs. Cecil Franklin, Baytown, and Mrs. Joe Schierler, Buchanan Dam; three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Lock, Ohio, Mrs. Thelma Flannigan, San Angelo, and Mrs. Carrie Robertson, Tyler; and a brother, Jim Robertson, San Angelo; and 21 grandchildren.

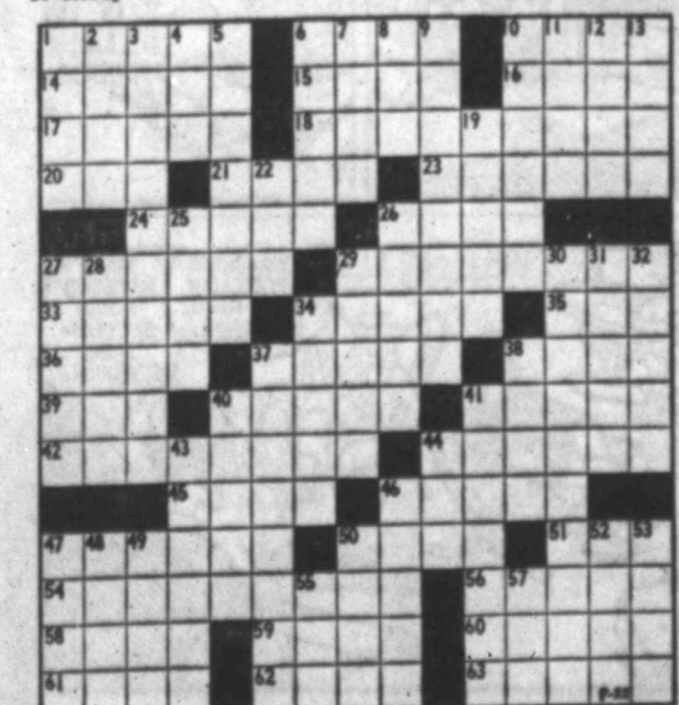

Two More Enter Pleas Of Guilty

Two more defendants, whose names were on the Howard County Court Criminal Docket tried last week, entered guilty pleas late Friday to bring to 21 the number of such pleas handed during the week.

The latest to plead guilty are Floyd Raymer, accused of writing a worthless check, sentenced to 15 days in the county jail; Lloyd O'Dell, worthless check, $1 fine and 15 days in jail.

Optimists Launch Drive Against School Drop-Outs

A concerted campaign against school dropouts is being planned by the Big Spring Optimist Club as part of a nationwide program aimed at keeping the student in school, according to Louis Wolfson, chairman of the club's back to school committee. Wolfson said Mayor George J. Zachariah will designate next week "Back to School" week in Big Spring. This time of year, just before the fall term begins, is the most critical time for the student, Wolfson explained. It is usually at this time that a decision is made to return or not to return to school. "Our plans aren't final," said Wolfson, "but we're meeting with Sam Anderson, superintendent of schools, to discuss the problem of school dropouts." The chairman also said the help of ministers would be sought in combating the problem. He indicated consultations could be arranged between members of the committee and students who are considering dropping out of school. The seriousness of the school dropout problem is explained in a magazine published by Optimist International, copies of which are being distributed to school officials and parent-teacher groups. Optimist Clubs from across the country are organizing public relations campaigns. According to the national magazine, one-third of the nation's young people drop out of school before completing high school. An estimated 7.5 million youths will drop out of school during the next decade if the current rate continues. Based on past experience, educators estimate 350,000 will not return to school for the fall term. "Just imagine a city with 10 times the population of Big Spring," said Wolfson, "—that's how many youngsters will not return to classes this fall." The rate of unemployment among male school dropouts is three times higher than the rate among high school graduates. The odds are three to one against the dropout finding a job today. The prospects for future jobs are dim for school dropouts since only five per cent of the labor force will be engaged in unskilled jobs at the end of this decade compared with 10 per cent now employed in unskilled work. Unemployment is constantly higher among the unskilled and poorly educated.

Graduates

Mrs. Alice Bohannon, Coahoma, received her B.S. degree from McMurry College at the Abilene school's summer commencement exercises Thursday. Rev. Lloyd A. Hughes, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Abilene, N.M., was the commencement speaker. Degrees were granted to 89 students.

Forsan Slates Registration

FORSAN — Registration for Forsan High School students will be held at the school Thursday and Friday, Aug. 27-28.

Freshmen and sophomores will register on the morning of the 27th, while juniors and seniors will register on the morning of the 28th. A yearbook meeting for seniors will be held at 9 a.m. Aug. 27.

All students will begin classes at 8:30 a.m. Aug. 31, and will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. Lunches will be served the first day of school, and bus service will begin the same day.

There will be no pre-registration for junior high school and elementary school students.

Lines Whet Appetite In Old French Quarter

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — You can gorge like Henry VIII in New Orleans if you'll remember a slightly fractured aphorism: They also will be served who stand and wait.

The sidewalks outside the great restaurants of the French Quarter are crammed with people waiting for the diners inside to stop dawdling over their exotic Creole and French dinners, pay up and get out. Then they move in and dawdle over their dinners. And so on and so on until the last man on the sidewalk, raving with hunger by then, reaches the door only to find the headwaiter politely closing it for the night.

You can then go home unfed to dream restlessly of oysters Rockefeller or stay in line all night and be first in for lunch on the morrow and dawdle spitefully and at long last over your own chocolate mousse and brandy.

The long wait is good for the appetite, bad for the disposition. The other evening a middle-aged couple showed up outside Antoine's about 7 p.m., the time they'd normally be sitting down for dinner back home in Des Moines. Only the restaurant was jammed to overflowing with people who were either dining on New York time or who had given up the afternoon steamboat tour of the river front to start standing in line at 3 o'clock.

VETERAN PREPARED

A veteran diner—that's any one who's spent at least one night starving on the pavement outside Gallatoire's—has prepared himself with a dozen oysters at the Acme Oyster Bar where you eat 'em standing up as fast as the man behind the bar can shuck 'em. It's best to bring along the afternoon paper, too. It's hard to read in the flickering gaslight but the only other literature is Antoine's menu pasted on the window beckoning like the serpent in the Garden of Eden. It's bad enough to never reach the forbidden fruit. It's maddening to read about it while you stand motionlessly in line.

Some binding friendships have been made standing in line. Couples from Seattle find the couple ahead from Baltimore knows some one's cousin in Tulsa and they all insist on dining together—if they ever get in. Better yet, they may drop out of line to go celebrate over a drink at the Absinthe House. That means you're four places nearer that pompano amandine inside.

LASTING HATREDS

But if it can make fast friends, restaurant-waiting can also produce lasting hatreds. That couple from Des Moines, for instance. For a half hour the Mrs. McHALE'S NAVY with Ernest Borgnine, James Flynn and Tim Conway.

McHale's Navy

The same wacky bunch of PT misfits from television take to the screen at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday in "McHale's Navy."

Advance To The Rear

Joan Blondell looks on as Glenn Ford and his cohorts prepare to throw back the enemy in "Advance to the Rear," playing Thursday and Friday at the Jet Drive-In.

Gladiators, Tyrant Battle In Feature At Drive-In

A Spartan gladiator battling a dozen Gaul warriors single-handed in an arena contest—herd of ferocious bulls stampeding a military camp, demolishing everything in their path—a raging conflagration in which men and animals run for their lives—the duel-to-the-death between the leader of the gladiators and the cruel tyrant Hiarba on the narrow parapet of a fortress.

These are only a few of the thrills which highlight Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's historical action-drama, "Gladiators Seven," filmed in Technicolor and Eastmancolor with thousands of players. It opens Thursday at the Jet Drive-In.

The story revolves about Darius, a gladiator who vows to free Sparta from the ruthless rule of Hiarba after he narrowly escapes being killed in an unfair combat in the arena. He rounds up six fellow gladiators who pit their strength, wits and cunning against the enemy and the report of their feats spreads throughout the country, bringing new hope to the oppressed people.

Hiarba's mercenaries track down the mountain hiding place of the seven gladiators and there is a deadly skirmish in which the brave band of seven men use spears, knives and rocks in battling their opponents. At the end of the battle, the corpses of Hiarba's men fill the gorge which was intended as the burial place for Darius and his followers.

The picture never lets up in its unremitting action right up to the climactic sequence in which the now frightened tyrant seizes Darius' fiancée, Aglaia, as a

McHale's Navy Roars Into Ritz

The happy sound of roaring laughter will envelop the Ritz Theatre with the opening of "McHale's Navy," the bright new comedy feature in color Wednesday.

The full-length hit motion picture was inspired by the tremendously popular television series which headlines the same hilarious crew of nautical misfits. It's the first theatre film by the comedians who specialize in mischievous adventures.

The problems of the world and the hectic pace of survival are pushed to a distant and forgotten background when headman Ernest Borgnine, and co-stars Joe Flynn and Tim Conway, aided and abetted by the entire McHale's crew, steam up a shipload and an island full of comedic situations that are guaranteed to bolster the family morale and run up the penants of glee on the flagship of entertainment.

The multi-talented Ernest Borgnine, whose name became a household word for his Academy Award winning performance in "Marty," after achieving recognition as the brutal "Fatso" Judson in "From Here to Eternity" portrays Lt. Cmdr. Quinton McHale in his first comedy feature in several years.

A brilliant performance it is, too, as he leads his crew of the PT 73—familiar to the millions of TV viewers who follow their zany escapades from week to week in their top-rated show on the ABC Television Network—in a grandiose scale motion picture production especially written and produced for the theatre screen.

Borgnine is joined by his TV series mate and nemesis, Joe Flynn, whose exclamatory "what-what-what" in the role of volatile-tempered Captain Binghamton have jettied the seasoned comedian to national prominence. Flynn's outbursts of uncontrollable frustration make resounding hilarity.

Making his feature picture debut is a remarkable newcomer whose face today is instantly recognized by most TV viewers—Tim Conway. As the bumbling, scatter-brained ensign, he was quickly nominated for the best supporting actor in the 1962-63 Emmy race. The young actor—who made his first appearance as an entertainer less than three years ago—solidifies his talented flair for comedy with a performance that is the acme of timing and finesse.

The feminine glamour department is well represented in the "McHale's Navy" feature by Claudine Longet and Jean Willes. Claudine, the lovely Parisian-born wife of singer-actor Andy Williams, also makes her motion picture debut in a true-to-life role of a French girl.

Miss Willes was well-prepared for her excellent casting as the owner-proprietor of a New Caledonia gambling establishment who is determined to marry Borgnine. She appeared as the proprietor of a dance hall with Ernie in "From Here to Eternity," and the feature reunites the pair for the first time since then.

STAMPS U.N. Plans New Issue

By The Associated Press

The United Nations Postal Administration announced that a new stamp on the theme "Cessation of Nuclear Testing" will be issued on Oct. 23. The 5-cent red and black adhesive features a dramatic sketch showing a lock snapped on a billowing atomic cloud after a nuclear explosion. The bottom of the lock depicts the emblem of the United Nations. The design of the stamp is by Ole Hamann of Denmark. Collectors interested in obtaining first-day cancellations of the new stamp may send their envelopes together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed to the U.N. Postal Administration, United Nations, N.Y. The outside envelope should be marked "Cessation of Nuclear Testing."

Stamps are usually issued on the same date as a special event to commemorate the occasion. Sometimes the issuance is late. But Austria has really jumped the gun by issuing a set of stamps to honor an occasion almost a year away. It is the 1965 International Philatelic Exhibit to be held in Vienna next June 4-13.

There are eight stamps in the set, each valued at 1.50 shilling plus 30 groschen. Depicted are panoramic views from Vienna's first skyscraper built in 1932. The last time the International Philatelic Exhibit was held in Vienna was 1933.

MEN IN SERVICE

Three young men have enlisted in the Army through the local recruiting station for three year terms.

James Ray Kaddatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kaddatz, 615 Colgate Ave., has reported to Fort Polk, La., for initial processing and eight weeks of basic combat training. When he finishes basic training he will return home for a short leave before attending advanced individual training as an automotive mechanic. The Kaddatzs recently moved to Big Spring from Lamesa.

Clarence Hartfield Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hartfield, 1109 NW 8th, has enlisted a second time. He previously served as an infantryman in Europe. Hartfield is presently in Fort Polk, La., for an assignment in advanced training in the Motor Transport Career Field.

John Lee Walker, son of Mrs. Jo A. Short, 2302 Central Drive, enlisted for the 4th U.S. Army Band at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

When Walker successfully completes basic combat training which he is now undergoing at Fort Polk, La., he will attend a 20 week course in music at the U.S. Army's School of Music located in Washington, D.C. When he completes this course he will report to the 4th U.S. Army Band for duty.

He plays the French horn and received one of the highest scores at his audition that was ever attained by anyone who auditioned through the recruiting main station at Abilene.

Cadet Richard F. Meacham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Meacham, 12 Albrook, Big Spring, participated in the U.S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) summer encampment at Webb AFB.

A member of the AFROTC unit at North Texas State University, he will be eligible for a commission as an Air Force second lieutenant upon completion of AFROTC training and graduation from college. The cadet is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School.

Cadet Moffitt D. Smith, Big Spring, participated in the U.S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) summer encampment at Webb AFB.

Aerial Spray Total Low

The 1964 season for spraying mesquite with aerial spray has ended with only about 8,200 acres being sprayed, according to Earl V. Hogan, range conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

About 5,200 acres were sprayed with the assistance of the SCS under the Great Plains Conservation Program, said Hogan. The remaining 3,000 acres were sprayed with assistance from the Agricultural Conservation Program or with other assistance.

The small acreage sprayed primarily was due to dry weather, which lowers the effectiveness of chemical sprays. Also, there was a large acreage of mesquite which was defoliated by hail and insects during the past year, making it impractical to spray, he explained. Included among ranchers whose land had sufficient moisture to spray are J. W. Overton, Hart Phillips, the Douthitt Ranch and T. L. Griffin.

Mother Passes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. June Eisele, 64, mother of astronaut Donn Eisele of Columbus, died of an apparent heart attack at her home — less than a week after her husband's death of the same cause.

Cuba Program

BEAUMONT (AP) — Will Hayes, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, advocated a three-point program for dealing with Cuba in an address last week to the North Jefferson County Republican Club. He called for recognition of a Cuban government in exile; an immediate total blockade to permit only shipment of medicine to the island; and allowing free Cubans to return to Cuba.

Money for College

from the First National Bank

HELP is the First National Bank's Higher Education Loan Plan. It provides money for tuition - board - books and other miscellaneous items in your son's or daughter's four-year educational expenses.
