Stopping Fight Top Demo Aim

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democrats began opening the curtain on their 1964 convention today as they moved to pledge fair enforcement of the Civil Rights Act and to denounce lawlessness on either side of the fight.

While the Platform Committee hammered out this plank, peacemakers worked backstage to cool off the most heated dispute.

The Credentials Committee sought to find some compromise that would satisfy, if not please, both Southern states and civil rights supporters in the row over seating the Mississippi delegation.

At issue is whether the convention will seat the regular Democratic delegation or the predominantly Negro group representing the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party.

President Johnson, his nomination to be little more than a formality Wednesday night, has been keeping the party guessing as to his choice for a running mate as he called signals from Washington shaping the platform and trying to ease North-South chasms.

But a spokesman for Mississippi Freedom Democratic party delegation, Washington lawyer Joseph Rauh Jr., claimed today he had enough votes to force a floor fight over the Mississippi question.

He reiterated at a news conference that the group would not accept a compromise proposal that the regular Mississippi delegation be seated and the Negro group be given a voteless and voiceless place on the convention floor.

Rauh said his group was holding out for a plan where only those Mississippians from both

Convention Schedule

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Monday program of the Democratic National Convention: Time uncertain — Platform committee releases plank dealing with domestic policy. Convention convenes at 7:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Invocation — The Most Rev. Celestine J. Damiano. Address of welcome — Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey. Election of temporary officers of the convention. "The People Speak" — Progress in domestic affairs (film). Keynote address — Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island. Report of committee on rules and order of business — Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia. Remarks by J. Albert House Jr., president of Young Democratic Clubs. Address by Davie Bruce Marth, winner of 1964 American Legion oratorical contest. Report of credentials committee — Former Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania. Benediction — The Rev. Franklin Clark Fry. Adjournment.

rival groups who sign a party loyalty pledge would be allowed a seat.

The civil rights plank was a carefully balanced statement that "the Civil Rights Act of 1964 deserves and requires full observance by every American and fair, effective enforcement if there is any default."

As the convention got into high gear the only real suspense hung on Johnson's choice of his running mate. And he did nothing to clear up the mystery.

The name heard the most in the vice-presidential talk was that of the Democratic Senate whip Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The weather for the opening session was bright and steamy — more or less traditional for political convention.

Thousands of delegates, alternates and their families mingled on the hot boardwalk with sun-burned tourists.

Almost from one end of the boardwalk to the other were stalls hawking mementos using

'Fair' Rights Plank Forged

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — The Democratic Platform Committee approved a plank today pledging "fair, effective enforcement" of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The civil rights plank is included in a section entitled "Democracy of Opportunity" and condemns lawlessness "whether used to deny equal rights or to obtain equal rights."

"We cannot and will not tolerate lawlessness," the platform declares. "We can and will seek to eliminate its economic and social causes."

This part of the platform, which will be submitted to the party convention Tuesday night, also calls for revision of the immigration laws "to eliminate the discriminatory provisions which base admission upon national origins."

The platform also pledges support of legislation toward full equality of opportunity for women as well as men and to strive "to eliminate discrimination against older Americans, especially in their employment."

This section of the platform, which officials said was approved by voice vote, also declares the party's concern "not only with people's right to be free but also with their ability to use their freedom."

The committee was attempting to put the final polish on a plank condemning extremism "including the extremist tactics of such organizations as the Communist party, Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch society."

The full Platform Committee met in executive sessions to pass on these recommendations.

the likenesses or initials of President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy.

The balanced civil rights platform is an obvious concession to the difficulties President Johnson is expected to run into in the South in November.

The fight over the Mississippi delegation was dramatized early today when 75 Negro and white demonstrators sat on the boardwalk in front of Convention Hall and vowed to remain there until the Mississippi Freedom group was seated.

Whatever happens on the civil rights plank and on the Mississippi delegation contest, there seemed little likelihood of any significant Southern walkout.

Humphrey, among others, came up with a forecast that the difficulties would be ironed out without a bolt.

Facing along with Humphrey in the non-contest for second place on the ticket were Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Mike Mansfield of Montana.

'ENFORCEMENT'

Youths Rage Rampant In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Youthful mobs in Saigon, Hue and Da Nang sacked and burned buildings today in the worst outbreak of organized rioting in South Viet Nam since last summer.

Several hundred students supporting the government sacked and burned the Student Union building in Saigon in a counter-demonstration.

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, more than 1,000 howling youths stoned a U.S. enlisted men's barracks as antigovernment demonstrations took an increasingly anti-American tone.

A grenade exploded at the height of the riot, seriously injuring three demonstrators. There were no American casualties. Another blast a short time later killed a woman.

The 30 or more Americans in the barracks fired shots into the air to scare off the demonstrators as rocks smashed windows.

The mob then attacked a nearby Roman Catholic village and set a house afire. Villagers moved out of their houses to defend themselves while their women carried children and belongings to a waterfront pier.

After the fire, mob leaders called for a withdrawal. But some rioters slipped back into the village and set two more houses afire.

Another grenade exploded as the rioters pulled back. A maid working at the enlisted man's barracks was wounded and died soon afterwards.

More Americans are stationed in Da Nang, on the South China Sea, than anywhere else in the country, except Saigon.

As in the earlier disorders, police stood by without interfering. Firemen doused the flames before they could wreck the building but the interior was ruined.

EXTREMISTS Khan ordered authorities not to tangle with the rioters "in the hope that public opinion will separate the extremists from the others," a government spokesman said.

Khan was expected to address the nation by radio today and appeal for national unity in face of the Communist threat.

Student and Buddhist opposition has swelled in the past week since Khan's military junta elevated him from premier to president and promulgated a constitution giving Khan extraordinary powers in a national emergency.

The students are demanding a popularly elected civilian government. Khan told them in a direct confrontation Saturday that popular elections couldn't be held until the Viet Cong has been defeated.

School Rejects Negro Applicant

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP) — The principal of a Negro school turned away a white first grader who attempted to register today because the youngster lacked a birth certificate.

It was the first bi-racial attempt to cross previous color lines in first grade registration here under a federal court desegregation order.

Jamaica, Cuba In Cleo's Path

Hurricane Aims For Resort Isle

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Hurricane Cleo whirled past the Dominican Republic today and pounded across the Caribbean toward Jamaica and possibly Cuba.

With the storm skirting along Haiti's southern peninsula, Radio Santo Domingo reported no damage or injuries on the Dominican Republic's southern Barahona peninsula. The storm's center passed well out to sea.

The storm swirled past southern Puerto Rico Sunday after battering the Guadeloupe islands. Officials blamed Cleo for at least 14 deaths, 100 injuries and $50 million in damage to the French possession.

TONIGHT Cleo will probably strike Jamaica tonight with hurricane force, the Weather Bureau said. Gale force winds and heavy rain pounded the southern coast of the Dominican Republic early today. Small but powerful Cleo, with 140-mile center winds, pressed onward south of the island of Hispaniola, which the Dominican Republic shared with Haiti. Severe lowland flooding was predicted.

The Weather Bureau said that Cleo's 125-mile wide mass of hurricane force winds apparently would skirt Hispaniola's heartland. The storm was headed toward Haiti's southern peninsula, where thousands were killed last year by Hurricane Flora.

Cleo also might strike Cuba with its fury intact, the Weather Bureau said. It was too early to say whether it would pose any danger to the U.S. mainland.

Military leaves were canceled in Santo Domingo. Civil defense and Red Cross units were placed on alert. Residents were asked to remain indoors.

NEAR HAITI At 5 a.m. (EST) Cleo was centered near latitude 17.2 north and longitude 71.8 west or about 100 miles south southeast of Port au Prince, Haiti. It was moving between west and west north-west at about 16 miles per hour.

Maximum winds were estimated at 140 miles per hour over a small area near the center with hurricane force winds 40 miles in all quadrants. Gales extend 150 miles to the north and 100 miles to the south.

In Basses, Terre, capital of Guadeloupe, authorities said Cleo was the worst hurricane to strike there since 1928. They reported more than 1,900 persons homeless, hundreds of homes demolished and thousands more badly damaged. Electricity was disrupted in most areas and roads were blocked.

Some of Guadeloupe's sugar and banana plantations were wiped out.

Services for Mrs. Towle, who is the sister of Mrs. J. H. (Jimmie) Greene, Big Spring, will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery under direction of Bolger Funeral Home beside the grave of her husband, Dr. H. G. Towle, early day jeweler and optometrist, who died May 25, 1946.

The tragedy occurred directly in front of the new Bell-Seale Funeral Home at 3100 Ave. S. Just a short distance from Mrs. Towle's home. She apparently was turning into the funeral home property where an open house of a new facility was in progress. Gaither Bell, one of the funeral home operators, rushed Mrs. Towle to the hospital immediately, but she was dead on arrival.

Mrs. Towle was born on May 1, 1885, Mary Riddick, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Riddick, Colorado City, and she was married to H. G. Towle in November of 1905. Shortly thereafter they moved to Snyder where he opened a jewelry store, later adding an optometric service. This business was operated until 1950 when it was sold to Sam Williams. A son-in-law, Dr. John Blum, has since continued the optometric service.

Mrs. Towle was one of the founders of the Allruss Club in 1908. She was a member of the building committee of the original First Methodist Church building in Snyder. Later she was a Sunday School teacher, president of the Women's Society for Christian Service and a director of the Young Women's SCS. Mrs. Towle had served as treasurer and then as secretary of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference. She was active in local, district and state Federated Club work.

With her sisters, she gave land for Riddick Park in Colorado City. She gave all the pews for the new First Methodist Church, then gave 200 acres for Towle Park, a memorial to her husband. She also gave the site for the Episcopal Church.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. John Blum; one sister, Mrs. J. H. Greene, Big Spring; and two grandchildren.

Cleomanche Man Found Dead In Ackerly Store

LAMESA — An autopsy has been performed on the body of Richard Benton Layman, about 60, Comanche County farmer, who was found dead in a fire-swept store at Ackerly, early Sunday morning, Sheriff J. P. Bobo, Dawson County, said today.

"We think that Layman suffocated," said the sheriff, "but we want to make certain. That is why I had an autopsy performed. It will be several days before we will know what the pathologists found out."

Layman, Sheriff Bobo said, was not badly burned in the blaze which raced through the Bill Gray Grocery in the downtown Ackerly district at 5 a.m. Sunday. His body was not found for sometime. No one, the sheriff explained, had any idea there was anyone in the store.

The Comanche farmer was sprawled on the floor in a rear room. The damage to the store was not heavy, and Bobo said there was a heavy odor of kerosene on the premises.

About half a block from the store, the sheriff said, he found Layman's 1960 model car. In the car were three or four tow-sacks. These, the sheriff reported, were filled with assorted groceries — canned goods, cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, meats and other items. They were identified as having been taken from Gray's Grocery.

The sheriff had the body removed to the Brown-Phillips Funeral Home in Lamesa where the autopsy was performed. The funeral home said that relatives of the dead man had been in early in the day,

URGENT NEED FOR SUPPORT

The High School Bible Class fund got some encouraging help over the weekend, but there is an urgent need for a quickened tempo if it is to even approach its $3,500 goal. Gifts added $60, making $531 now received.

If you can and will help, please bring or mail your contribution to the Herald. Checks can be made payable to the Bible Class or Bible Fund.

For well over 15 years this class has been offered to high school students by citizens of this area since state law precludes use of tax funds to finance the course. The class is non-denominational, and the Bible is taught for its great moral, ethical and literary gems.

Barry, Moguls Mull Issues

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, came to New York today to discuss his views on campaign issues privately with businessmen and industrial leaders at a reception and dinner.

A spokesman said Goldwater wanted to outline his stand on foreign and domestic issues, and answer businessmen's questions.

No guest list was announced. The afternoon reception is being sponsored by Percy Douglas, president of the Otis Elevator Co. Hosts for the dinner are George Champion, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and Ralph Cordner, retired chairman of the General Electric Co.

Goldwater turned his attention to agriculture Sunday in a statement declaring the goal of the Republican party is "a free and prosperous American agriculture with a minimum of federal controls and interference."

"The Republican party is the farmers' party," Goldwater said.

"We will resist all efforts to make the farmer dependent, for his economic survival, upon either compensatory payments by the federal government or upon the whim of the secretary of agriculture."

Reuther Declares Change Essential

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers Union President, said today there will be a strike in the auto industry if the Big Three "do not make a change quickly within their bargaining positions."

Reuther's comments came as he led a team of UAW negotiators into a session with General Motors, with the contract expiration date only a week away.

Reuther was to make similar appearances at Ford and Chrysler negotiations today as the UAW awaited its Wednesday decision on which company would be its No. 1 target.

Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president-personnel, said "we are bewildered by the union's time-wasting maneuvering. A week ago GM offered the best and most comprehensive proposal it ever made to the UAW."

Seaton said GM has no plans to sweeten the proposal. Reuther lashed out at GM's offer as "unrealistic, selfish, irresponsible, and totally inadequate." He estimated GM's offer at about 35 cents an hour during the life of the three-year proposed contract. Auto industry workers now have a basic average hourly wage of $3.01.

The UAW chieftain's comments to newsmen before he entered the GM negotiations were unusually sharp.

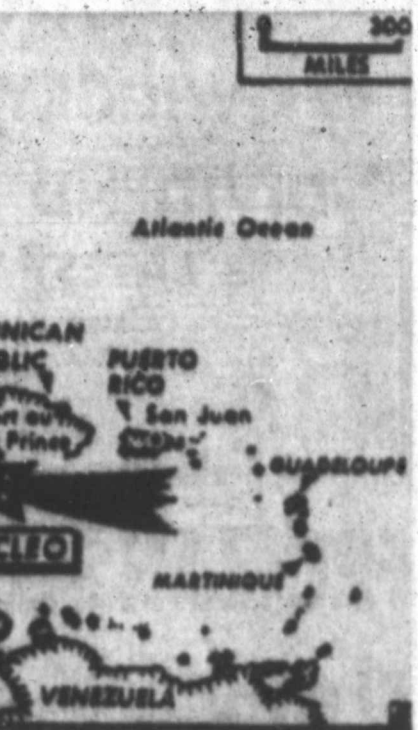

"GM has been playing God because they own half the world and think they can dictate to others," he said.

"GM had better come up with a new proposal or we will have a strike," Reuther said.

Union and company negotiators have been sparring for eight weeks. The companies made their first economic offers last Monday.

Reuther asked the board to meet Wednesday night to pick a strike target, if necessary.

The companies offered to raise basic pensions from $2.80 monthly for each year of service to $3.25 at age 65.

Mrs. Towle Killed In Snyder Wreck

SNYDER — Mrs. Mary Towle, 78, widow of H. G. Towle and a prominent church and civic leader here for over half a century, was injured fatally in a car collision here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Towle was pronounced dead on arrival at Coggell Memorial Hospital within a few minutes of the collision of her car and one driven by Troy Lee Koenig, 17, of Ira, who sustained minor chest injuries.

Mrs. Ella Eubanks, a passenger in Mrs. Towle's car, was hospitalized with a broken wrist, broken leg and scalp lacerations, but her condition was good Monday.

The tragedy occurred directly in front of the new Bell-Seale Funeral Home at 3100 Ave. S. Just a short distance from Mrs. Towle's home. She apparently was turning into the funeral home property where an open house of a new facility was in progress. Gaither Bell, one of the funeral home operators, rushed Mrs. Towle to the hospital immediately, but she was dead on arrival.

All-Night Vigil Under Way On Boardwalk

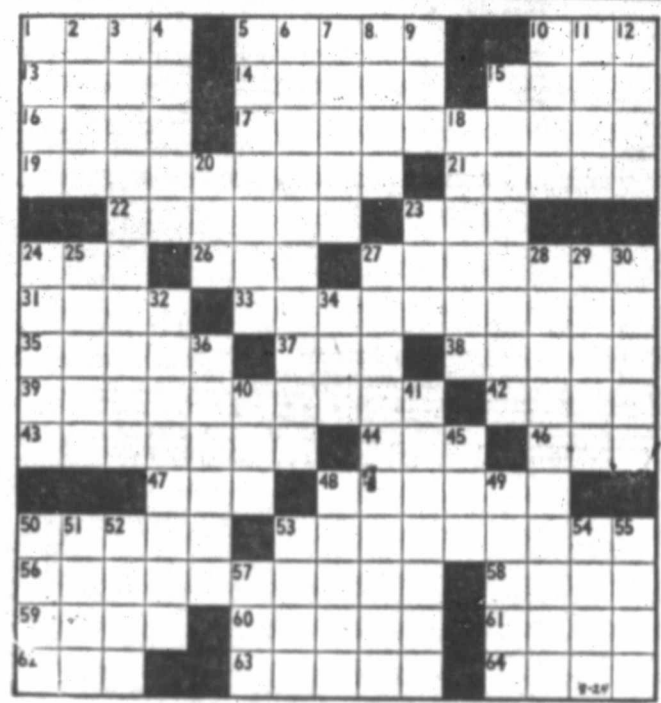

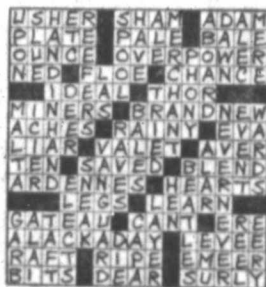

Demonstrators supporting the Freedom Democratic Party delegation from Mississippi to the Democratic convention in Atlantic City are seated on the boardwalk outside Convention Hall today in what their spokesman called an all-night vigil.

Some 70 persons took their places just after midnight. The convention credentials committee is to decide today whether to seat the predominantly-Negro Freedom group or an all-white delegation. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ex-Sheriff Jailed In Gruesome Death

COLUMBUS, Tex. (AP) — A former Colorado County sheriff is under a charge of murder after the charred, dismembered remains of a ranch hand were found scattered on the ex-officer's ranch.

Frank F. Hoegemeyer, 79, was freed early today on a $15,000 bond.

He is charged with the slaying of Jack Darnell Sadler of Valley Mills, Tex., dismembering the body and then burning it.

Sadler worked for Hoegemeyer on a 640-acre spread eight miles southeast of Columbus. Sadler's wife was the rancher's maid.

The means and the time of death were not immediately known, but evidence indicated Sadler died on or about Aug. 13.

Hoegemeyer denied any connection with the grisly crime.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Marvin Buller said the gray-haired, granite-faced rancher was arrested at his home Saturday night after he refused to take a polygraph (lie detector) test.

"MOST GRUESOME"

"This is one of the most gruesome things I've ever been around," said Hollis Sullivan, a Texas Ranger with 22 years of law enforcement experience.

Evidence includes charred bones and flesh, buttons and a zipper from a pair of men's trousers and a flame-blackened cigarette lighter.

Mrs. Patsy Gray, 24, Sadler's wife and mother of two, identified the lighter as that of her husband.

Parts of the charred remains of a Negro man were found Thursday in a public area near the Colorado River.

The major part of the body was discovered in a ravine about 400 yards from the ranch's camp house.

BOARDS, TIRES

Boards and old automobile tires had been burned on top of the corpse.

A spent .410 gauge shotgun shell was found nearby and a second .410 was found in the rear of a pickup truck officers said belonged to Hoegemeyer.

The investigation began last Wednesday after Sullivan received a telephone tip. Sadler was reported missing Aug. 16 by his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sadler of Valley Mills.

Witnesses put Sadler and Hoegemeyer together the morning of Aug. 13, but Hoegemeyer denied being with Sadler.

Sadler was last seen alive about 7 a.m. Aug. 13 when he left his home in Columbus to go to work on the Hoegemeyer ranch.

GRAVEL PIT

Buller and Game Warden Leo Kohleffel began searching an area around a gravel pit on the Hoegemeyer Ranch. They were joined by six other officers.

"We found an old newspaper and some hay scattered on the bank of the Colorado River," Buller said. "We were pawing around through the bush there on the river bank. We all saw it at the same time."

Buller said the officers had found what looked like "meat" that had been burned. "But it didn't look like it had been burned there," he said.

Hoegemeyer—a widower for about a year—was sheriff of Colorado County from 1926-1936.

"He is calm about it and makes no comment," said Deputy Floyd Schlichting. Officers said he is well thought of and is wealthy.

Carr Plans Report Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr says Texas' representatives to the special commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy will submit a separate report.

Carr said in an interview Sunday some work already has been done toward publishing the Texas report and added:

"I hope to have it ready soon after the commission reports but it definitely will not be beforehand."

The special commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren has not said when it will issue its report.

criminal law and pistol shooting. Miss Rakocinski, 24, of suburban Evanston, is enrolled in the Chicago police training division's 13-week course with 300 men.

The attractive brunette is the first woman to go through the course with men.

Female trainees usually attend the school in a separate class. This time Miss Rakocinski was the only girl candidate and it was judged impractical to set up a special class for her.

Despite the ratio, she hasn't been dating. "I'm here to study," she said, "besides, don't forget many of the men are married."

Miss Rakocinski, a shapely 5-foot-5, 120-pounder, said she decided to become a policewoman "because I wanted to do something very different and challenging."

She already has met one challenge: She topped 42 applicants to win a policewoman's job on Sept. 1.

Partial order was restored when a half dozen police arrived.

Stanford called for the defeat of Sen. Barry Goldwater in November. He said the senator's election as President would bring fascism, war and poverty. After Stanford spoke, there were loud shouts of "Communists, murderers, butchers, liars" and other epithets from the audience.

A number of Cuban refugees and sympathizers sprang forward toward the speaker's platform and one of them raised his fist in an apparent effort to slug Stanford, but someone stepped between them.

Things quieted after officers poured into the closely packed room but Ben Levy, a Houston lawyer who presided, threatened to file charges of disturbing the peace against two of the Cubans.

The panel, composed of Stanford and Henry, had as its subject, "The Role of the American Left in the 1964 Elections," but it was rarely referred to during the three-hour gathering which was attended by about 100 persons.

The two most vociferous refugees identified themselves to newsmen as Carlos Alonso, a 27-year-old Houston hairdresser who said he fled Cuba in 1961, and Alonso Celso.

Both said they were members of Alpha 66, an organization directing underground operations against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

New Cathedral Is Consecrated

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cardinal Eugene Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals, consecrated Sunday the new cathedral of Tlalpan, in the neighboring state of Mexico, before some 15,000 cheering people.

Tlalpan is located in the middle of a densely populated area, about 15 miles north of Mexico City. Cardinal Tisserant helped create the Tlalpan Diocese, the newest in Mexico.

The 80-year-old French Cardinal will leave Wednesday for Puebla, on the first leg of a 10-day trip which will take him to about a dozen towns in Mexico's provinces, including the rich archaeological areas of Yucatan and Oaxaca.

Do As Others . . .

MADRID (AP) — Bikinis and shorts for ladies in Spain are officially frowned on, but a new tourist booklet admits their use is "widespread in almost all Spanish resorts." It advises the visitor to "see what others are wearing, then decide what is wisest to wear yourself."

DEAR ABBY
A Good Question

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine and I were looking over some magazines in a drug store. I am 14 and so is he. When we found two we wanted, we put our money down. The owner looked at the magazines and then he gave us a big lecture on how unsuitable the magazines were for decent people. He said they were nothing but trash and he wouldn't want any son of his reading them. He made us feel so cheap we didn't buy them. We want to ask you, Abby, if those magazines were nothing but "trash" and "unsuitable for decent people," what were they doing in his store in the first place?

GOOD QUESTION
DEAR GOOD: The question is better than "good." It's excellent. Why don't you go back and ask him?

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised at your answer disagreeing with the young couple "WILLING TO WAIT," who preferred buying their furniture as they could afford it, instead of using a lot of cast-off junk from their relatives' attics. They should have been commended for their attitude in this day when young couples buy everything on credit.

When my husband and I were married, we moved into an empty apartment with two suitcases. We slept on the floor until we could afford a bed. When so-called well-meaning relatives offered us odd pieces of old furniture, we politely refused. We enjoy our love nest all the more because we built it stick by stick together. Yours truly,
GLAD WE WAITED

DEAR GLAD: I don't know how long you and your husband slept on the floor, but if you were offered a bed and turned it down, it's nothing to brag about. I agree, young marrieds shouldn't go into debt in order to have everything immediately. But to refuse furniture because it is "old" is snobbish and impractical. Some "odd pieces" and cast-off "junk" have been transformed into handsome and useful furniture with a bit of sandpaper, paint and ingenuity.

DEAR ABBY: I laughed to myself when I read about the bride who said she would rather buy one "good" piece of furniture, as they could afford it, than to set up housekeeping with a lot of "junk" from her relatives' attics. When my husband and I were married five years ago, we furnished our home with discards from our relatives' attics, but I'm glad we did. Now we have three healthy, lively youngsters, all under four years of age. We don't have to worry about any of them getting jelly on our $500 living room sofa because we don't have one. Sign me—"LUCKY!"

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNMARRIED AT 27: It is better to be single and lonely than married and miserable. Furthermore, when a man tells you that you're better off without him, believe him.

30 Claimed By Violence

Thirty persons died violently in Texas this weekend. Traffic took 22 lives.

Elvin Lewis Williams, 59, was shot to death Sunday night at his San Antonio home. His wife, Vitine, 39, was wounded in the neck. Police had in custody a 43-year-old man who said he shot the couple when they refused to buy beer for him.

John Franklin Shands, 45, of Killeen, was killed seven miles west of Cooper, near Comanche, Sunday, when his car missed a bridge and plunged into a creek.

Daniel Perez, 20, of Sanford was killed Sunday when the pickup truck in which he rode overturned off Farm Road 1319 east of Sanford in the Texas Panhandle.

Guadalupe Tello, 54, was killed in a car-pickup collision late Friday in San Antonio. He was a passenger in the truck.

INTO TREE
Thomas Folbre, 21, died Friday night when his car slammed into a tree in San Antonio.

Four persons died late Friday night in Amarillo when an automobile had a blowout, jumped an expressway guard rail and smashed into an oncoming car. The wreck happened a half-hour before midnight. Killed were Eugene Cady, 22; Mrs. Valda Howard, 30; her four-year-old son, Timothy Howard; and Audra June Vincent, 37. Mrs. Vincent was from San Francisco, Calif., and the other victims were from Amarillo.

James Davis Gammon Jr., 37, of Fort Worth, was killed Friday night when his economy car turned over on Texas 183 in a rain shower.

Elmer C. Lower of Wichita Falls was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding crashed into a bridge on a farm road near Wichita Falls. The driver, Harold Goodner, 16, of Wichita Falls, was critically injured in the wreck.

CAVE-IN
Hayes Lowe, about 50, was killed Saturday when a pit he and three others had dug caved in near Electra. The men were searching for an abandoned oil well, police said.

Two men died Saturday when a private plane crashed near Lake Whitney. They were Jesse Tom Roberts, 39, Grand Prairie, and Thomas F. Kirk, 48, of Dallas.

James Lee Calhoun, 25, of Houston, died Saturday when a car and a truck crashed together three miles east of Hempstead. George Edward King, 61, of La Marque, was killed Saturday in a two-car wreck on the Gulf Freeway between Houston and Galveston.

Charles F. Welborn, 48, of Fort Worth, died Saturday from a gunshot wound in the head. A justice of the peace ruled suicide.

Travis Hall, 40, was shot to death in the Josephine Community 10 miles west of Greenville Saturday night. He was the father of ten children.

Billy Joe Roberts, 30, Archer City, died Sunday when his car overturned 5 1/4 miles south of Graham on State Highway 254.

James Usery, 17, son of Fletcher Usery, Tarrant County deputy sheriff, was killed Sunday when a car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole near Fort Worth.

Rodney Miller, 19, of San Angelo died Saturday night of stab wounds, inflicted, according to his mother, after a group of youths curbed his car.

Richard Benton Layman, about 60, of Rt. 1, Comanche, apparently suffocated early Sunday in a fire which swept a grocery store in Ackerly, 30 miles north of Big Spring. Dawson County Sheriff J. P. Bobo, said Layman's car was found a half-block away. An autopsy was set.

COLLISION
A head-on collision killed two persons Sunday on U.S. 81 just south of Grandview, near Cleburne. Killed were Raymond Brown, of Rt. 9, Waco, and Mossella B. Vaughn, 34, of Fort Worth. Two other persons were injured.

Albert B. Tackett, 65, was found dead by his car 10 miles southeast of Jacksboro on State Highway 199 Sunday. Investigators said the car apparently went out of control and struck an abutment and that Tackett died of shock or a heart attack after getting out of the car.

Ivis Marie Holt, 20-month-old Athens girl, was struck and killed by a car when she followed her stepbrother, Robert Keplin, 10, onto State Highway 31. The boy was chasing a ball.

Mrs. H. G. Towle, widely known Snyder woman, was killed in a two-car collision Sunday in Snyder. Mrs. Towle, 79, was the widow of Dr. H. G. Towle, former president of the State Optical Board.

James Massey, 42, of Houston was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding skidded out of control near Humble.

Date H. Simpson, Sr., 70, of Houston died Sunday after the car in which he was riding collided with a pickup truck on U.S. 59 five miles north of Houston. Three other persons were injured.

James Taylor, about 18, of Longview drowned Sunday in Lake O'The Pines in East Texas. His body was recovered by skindivers.

LBJ Cattle Win

Hurricanes Roared Before Columbus

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When the white man came to the New World, the Indian told him about the tigerish tempest that often sprang unprovoked upon islanders of the tropical Atlantic. They called the storm "huracan."

Christopher Columbus learned first-hand. He was leading his second expedition in 1494 when a hurricane struck the settlement of Isabella on Santo Domingo. Columbus lost eight of his nine ships.

Columbus grew weather-wise, as did the Indians, but eyes and ears were their sole instruments. Today, man has radar, airplanes and satellites but men still don't know when or where hurricanes will form, although the forerunners are detectable over broad expanses of the hemisphere.

MORE BRISKLY
After sticky, humid weather, the easterly winds blow more briskly, the rains fall more frequently. Fishermen note the fish bite more recklessly. They crowd into passes and tidewater streams.

The surf's pulse slows. Long swells slide smoothly ashore six times a minute instead of the normal 10 or 11. The wind turns north-northeasterly. Gusts rise to 30 or 35 miles an hour. The sea is turbulent. The surf runs wild and clamorous. Brief rain squalls slash and run. The sky darkens.

Then the hurricane strikes. Gordon E. Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said observers will concentrate on trying to obtain data on the formation of hurricanes and studying mature storms to determine their normal variability. Dunn expects the satellite Nimbus, to be launched Friday, to send back revealing pictures of cloud formations and provide daylight photographs of the equator every 24 hours.

Tiros satellites have provided interesting pictures of clouds and have spotted hurricanes but they were not oriented as Nimbus will be. A weather satellite system is still a year or two away, Dunn said.

KEEP CHECK
The Navy, Air Force and automatic buoys keep a check on hurricanes in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico. These forces have been beefed up for the 1964 storm season.

The Navy, operating from Jacksonville and Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, again will use Super Constellations. These 70-ton flying laboratories, with crews of 28 to 30 men, can remain aloft for 21 hours. They have been in use since 1958 for low level penetration into the eye of the hurricane as well as for spotting the big storms.

While main hurricane months are August, September and October, these devastating storms have occurred at other times and Cleo is the fourth this season. In June one formed in the Gulf of Mexico, moved across north Florida and into the Atlantic, with winds of 50 to 60 miles per hour.

In late July a storm formed near the Leeward Islands and passed not far from Bermuda. It had winds of hurricane force — 74 miles an hour — for one day and maritime advisories were issued.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
AKQ103♥92♦AJ7642
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 2♣ Pass
2♥ Pass 3♣ 1♥

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Merely to provide partner the opportunity to take appropriate action. In light of his original take-out to the two level and your strong rebid, the pass can be considered forcing.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
AK865♥K10♦J63♠AQ4
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
5♦ Pass ?
What do you bid?
A.—Six no trump. For a preempt at this level partner can be assumed to possess a solid suit of at least eight and quite possibly nine cards in length. You consequently have the required 12 tricks for a slam, but it might be vital to protect your king of hearts from being led thru in case partner has a small doubleton in that suit.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
AKJ1074♥A864♦K753
The bidding has proceeded:
East South
What do you bid?
A.—This hand has splendid offensive possibilities and may well produce a game in the best suit, the partner may have a below average hand. The best way to portray this strength is by a take-out double. A mere one spade overall will not do justice to your holding and partner may fail to act with just enough values for your purposes.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
AK10753♥AJ1072♦A♠A5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♣ Pass 1NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Despite partner's announcement of a mediocre holding we would be inclined to insist upon a game contract. If partner has a preference for one of the major suits there should be a good chance, because of the highly favorable distribution. The suggested bid, therefore, is three hearts. A bid of only two hearts will very likely be passed by partner.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
AK73♥KJ1063♦J10♠KQ5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♣ Pass 1♦ Pass
1♠ Pass ?
What action do you take?
A.—A strength-showing temporary bid is in order. While there is no doubt that you have a game, the hand may have greater possibilities, for partner's exact strength has not yet been determined. A jump in hearts is not suitable because the suit itself has not the proper texture. Spades should not be supported vigorously with three trumps. Lack of a diamond stopper has a jump in no trump. So, by the process of elimination, we choose three clubs, intending to take further action on the next round.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
AK865♥K10♦J63♠AQ4
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♣ Pass 1♦ Pass
1♠ Pass ?
What action do you take?
A.—Four hearts. Partner's vulnerability overall should be approximately six tricks and your hand runs to six at least four. A single raise therefore would not be adequate.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
AK73♥KJ1063♦J10♠KQ5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♣ 2♥ Pass ?
What action do you take?
A.—Four hearts. Partner's vulnerability overall should be approximately six tricks and your hand runs to six at least four. A single raise therefore would not be adequate.

Q. 8—Both sides vulnerable and as South you hold:
AK865♥K10♦J63♠AQ4
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♣ 2♥ Pass ?
What action do you take?
A.—Four hearts. Partner's vulnerability overall should be approximately six tricks and your hand runs to six at least four. A single raise therefore would not be adequate.

Q. 9—As South you hold:
AK73♥KJ1063♦J10♠KQ5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♣ 2♥ Pass ?
What action do you take?
A.—Four hearts. Partner's vulnerability overall should be approximately six tricks and your hand runs to six at least four. A single raise therefore would not be adequate.

MRS. CHARLES H. DOBBS

Mrs. Dobbs Creates Hooked Rug Beauty

By MARY COCHRAN
With a few simple tools, a strong piece of burlap, and wool scraps, Mrs. Charles H. Dobbs, 1726 Purdue, creates beautiful rugs that would compliment any home.

The art of hooking rugs has always fascinated this nimble-fingered artisan but it was not until 1940 that she began considering making them herself. A special rug show sponsored by the Woman's Club in Fort Worth stimulated her desire to take up this new hobby. However, the busy war years kept her occupied, and it was ten years later before she could find the time to take up rug making, a tedious but absorbing craft.

This is an ancient art that dates back to the beginning of the Christian Era. The real home of hand woven rugs is to be found in the region of the East that stretches from Turkey to China, and the oriental carpet holds a most important place in the field of decorative art.

RICHLY COLORED
Those who are the happy owners of these pile rugs, either Oriental or hand-hooked, value them for their beauty of design, richness of color and depth of tone. Fortunate owners of Mrs. Dobbs' rugs are her two children, Charles Dobbs Jr. and Mrs. Lee Sharral. The son lives with his wife and two daughters in Jackson, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. Sharral and their two children reside in New Orleans, La. To create a rug, one must face the fact that it is a long term project that requires special preparation. Mrs. Dobbs first must obtain the wool scraps; an interesting search that takes her to second hand stores and the Salvation Army for garments too damaged for wear. Next the garments must be taken apart and thoroughly washed.

Dyeing the wool in the rainbow of colors and shades desired for each rug is an exacting art. Special houses offer a wide selection of dye colors, and the hobbyist often feels like a scientist as she measures and

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodes Boswell, 6420 Chipewa, North Little Rock, Ark., announce the engagement of their daughter, Anita Joyce, to William Leonard Mizell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Leonard Mizell, 5817 North Country Club Blvd., Little Rock, Ark. The wedding will be solemnized Dec. 22 at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, North Little Rock, Ark. Miss Boswell is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship of Big Spring.

mixes the dyes carefully in her kitchen laboratory. Mrs. Dobbs uses a special cutting machine to convert the wool pieces into thread-like strips, although on occasions she has done this process with a pair of scissors and plenty of hand power.

LONG TERM PROJECT
Now the rug maker is ready to begin the lengthy process of hooking the yarn into the burlap. Many man hours later a rug has been created that will hold its shape and color despite the hard wear it receives.

Mrs. Dobbs has made 14 rugs, each a picture in softly blended tones; each an individual expression of the artistic taste of the creator. She has chosen floral patterns that range from tiny flowers entwined with intricate designs to bold bouquets that appear to be created on an artist's canvas.

Another hobby that Mrs. Dobbs enjoys is wood carving. She has executed coffee tables ornately carved in floral patterns, what-not shelves adorned with leaves and complicated designs, wastebaskets and magazine racks. On an antique table in her living room, rests an exquisite wooden book cover that is adorned with base relief flowers.

These pieces blend with the general decor of the home. The antiques throughout the house have been collected from various family homes and glisten with a finish that has been applied by Mrs. Dobbs.

Her husband was a teacher in the Fort Worth school system for 30 years and now has gone into the surveying field. They established their home in Big Spring one year ago hoping to be near the children. However, fate stepped in and altered the job plans of the family, and the Dobbs have a long trip south to join the family for visits.

Mrs. Audry May Visits In J. W. Smelling Home
FORSAN (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smelling have as their guest, her sister, Mrs. Audry May, San Antonio. The sisters visited in Snyder with Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Stroud have been in Monahans visiting their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkerson, and son, Jimmy.

Johnsons Have Girl
Mrs. Paul Lancaster is in a Dublin hospital where she underwent surgery last Monday. Her daughters, Paulette and Elizabeth, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Young, in Dublin where Mrs. Lancaster will recuperate before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillely and children have moved to Big Spring. Susan Heideman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heideman, and Pam McKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKinnon, Elbow, are home from a baton twirlers school at Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

The Sunshine Club of Otis Chalk honored Mrs. J. M. Hutchison with an ice cream party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Allison. Mrs. Hutchison is moving to Big Spring. Mrs. Mattie Mae Barnett, Ellingsworth, Kan., has been visiting Mrs. Bettye Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. Benney Barnett, Alpina, are guests of her mother, Mrs. H. H. Story.

Party Held For Bride
Mrs. Jack Denson, the former Miss Betty Joyce Gray, was feted at a bridal shower and coffee Saturday morning, Mrs. A. A. Porter, 1611 Indian Hills, was hostess, and her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Calvert, assisted.

Mrs. Arlis Yater served about 25 guests at the refreshment table. It was covered with a white linen cloth and held an arrangement of pink roses. Silver appointments were used.

The honoree wore a white jersey frock styled with a pleated skirt and a corsage of purple carnations.

Sisters, Children Visit Reese Home
Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reese, 1611 Jennings, had as guests during the past week their six daughters and twelve grandchildren.

Mrs. C. J. Quintanilla and her four children arrived from McAllen. They were joined by Mrs. W. R. Bunn, Fort Worth; Mrs. Bill Clark and Mrs. Clarence Sloan, San Angelo. Also, Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. J. R. Roberts, Big Spring were visitors in the home.

Refreshments were served at a table decorated in blue and white. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white gladioli accented with blue flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Shower Honors Visitor

A bridal shower was held Friday evening in the Community Room at First Federal Savings and Loan Association Building in honor of Mrs. Warren McCreary.

The bride and her husband are visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie McCreary, 1302 E. 18th, on their first trip to Big Spring since their marriage earlier in the year. The bride is the former Miss Jeanette De Boer of Corsica, N. D.

Hostesses were Mrs. Oliver Cofer, Mrs. J. F. Reidy, Mrs. B. M. Adams, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. W. W. Marlin, Mrs. Ray Thomas and Mrs. Lester Young. Their gift to the bride was a bed spread.

The honoree was dressed in a brown cotton suit and wore a corsage of white carnations. She was assisted in receiving guests by her husband's grandmother, Mrs. Ora Compton, and his mother, Mrs. McCreary.

Guests were registered by the bridegroom's sister, Carol McCreary.

Dear Ladies:
Since we have received so many questions about removing scorch, I thought it might be well to repeat this advice.

Some scorches are impossible to remove because the fibers have been burned. If applicable to the cotton fabric, dip a cloth in three per cent peroxide and use it as a pressing cloth. A dry cloth may be used on top of this before pressing with a warm iron. Be SURE your material is colorfast.

Or: use bleach, following the directions on the label.

Or: as a last resort, try sanding the material lightly with fine sandpaper. This sometimes works. It only removes the burned fibers of the material. Some garment factories and cleaners use this method.

Dear Heloise:
I used to have trouble cleaning the narrow space between my stove and cabinets.

I finally solved this problem with one of my husband's old T-shirts. I cut six inches off the bottom of the shirt and stretched it over the length of a yardstick.

It makes a perfect cleaning device for getting into those hard-to-reach, small places... Mrs. J. C. Sarter

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
Dear Heloise:
I pinked the bottom of my shower curtain just the way you told me to... to prevent mildew.

I hate you because it is still in such good condition that I can't ask my husband for a new curtain!... Elizabeth

Dear Gals:
Elizabeth evidently read the letter I wrote about three years ago, suggesting that you pink the bottom of a shower curtain rather than hem it.

The reason for this? It is usually in the hem (where water has seeped in) that mildew and mold grow to rot the shower curtain.

But, honey, please don't hate me!... Heloise

Dear Heloise:
When you make nylon net bags for soap scraps, tuck in a small piece of sponge. Keeps the bag floating and readily available... M.W.B.

Dear Heloise:
I thought I'd pass along a cute idea that was used at my baby shower:

The hostess made a notebook with a baby's picture on each page. The pictures can be cut from any magazine and pasted on the notebook paper. Then each guest was given one of the pages on which she wrote a girl's name and a boy's name, and the date and time of day she thought the baby would arrive.

After the baby is born, the mother sends a prize to the one who guessed the nearest date and time the baby arrived.

I am going to send a birthday book to which I will add our baby's birthday... Sharon Royals

Winners Selected At Review

Marcelane Faught and Marilee Carr were named winners Friday afternoon in the Young Styemakers contest sponsored here by the Singer Company.

Marcelane placed first in the Tween Division and Marilee won first in the Teen Division. Judges for the contest were Mrs. Richard Patterson, Mr. J. W. Whittington and Mrs. E. H. Henderson. Other contestants were Letha Sue Kilgore, Patti Phillips, Lora Lynn Madison, and Pamela Lutting.

Mrs. J. R. Howard, sewing instructor, served as commentator, and James A. Greer, manager, presented the awards. Each contestant received a certificate and gold pin, and the two winners received sewing luggage. The winners are now eligible to compete in the area competitions.

Easily Seen From Street And Highway

Bedell Brothers' Yamaha motorcycle sign can easily be seen from the Snyder Highway, Gail Highway, and Birdwell Lane, northeast of Big Spring. The brothers handle the now-famous Yamaha motorcycles and have complete service for all models. The economical service given by these Japanese-made motorcycles has made many new friends in the cycling world.

Royal Typewriters Have New Features

There is nothing newer than the new features on the Royal typewriter, even though there is something new in the world every day. Students returning to school and needing a new typewriter can do no better than go by Thomas Office Supply, 101 Main, to see the featured Royal, in all different models. These typewriters always stand out in the show room.

Eugene Thomas says he is impressed more and more with the Royal as time goes by. The electric model cannot be beat for the executive secretary with a lot of typing to be done, and and legibility.

Those who have tried out the Royal find features that are exclusive with the machine. There is the magic touch. The overall pressure required to depress Royal keys is much less than for any other typewriter made, he said.

The Royal finger-balanced keyboard touch is tailored to the length and strength of each finger for uniform typing "feel."

The easy-out cylinder may be removed, with a simple motion, for cleaning or changing. It can be replaced with one of three different hardnesses of cylinders.

The Magic Margin is the most famous of all typewriter features and has been developed exclusively by Royal. It sets and resets for uniform neatness. Along with that goes the line meter which tells exactly how many spaces remain until the typist reaches the end of the page, and all scales are uniform.

Thomas also carries a full line of office supplies and furniture. These are stocked in all popular brands, sizes, and in colors to suit the taste.

Modera office desks, for executives, secretaries, and assistants, come in sizes, styles and colors to go with office decor. chairs in all sizes, and for all purposes; executives, secretaries and patrons.

Some of the chairs found at Thomas Office Supply are suited for home use. Some may be folded and put out of the way until the time comes for a "crowd" when more than are normally used are needed.

Piggybacking Very Popular

Piggyback shipping over the nation's railroads has become more popular over the past few years. It is saving shippers millions of dollars in cost, time, and wear and tear on former equipment, as well as insuring safe delivery.

Texas & Pacific Railway Co.'s streamlined flatcars and multi-decked, extra-length Trailer Train cars, are speeding over thousands of miles of rails every day.

It is not uncommon to see hundreds of new automobiles, mounted on specially-built, double-decked flat cars going through the Big Spring yards to a central distributing point, saving thousands of dollars in highway delivery by the half-dozen.

Banking With Personal Touch Found At Security

Having difficulty finding a place to park to do your banking?

You won't find this difficulty at Security State Bank. There is off-street parking front, south and rear, and two handy drive-in windows for making deposits from your car. The Fifteenth and Gregg Street location was chosen for this convenience.

"Banking with the personal touch" was uppermost in the minds of Security State Bank officials when the building was located, and the motto is "It's Easy to Do Business With Security State."

Courteous personnel and officials are conveniently located on the first floor to discuss problems with customers, and advise them in business financing. Their experience is available when considering a move, remodeling, refinancing, building, farming, ranching, or other matters.

Security State has micro-filmed all checks cleared through the bank for a long time. This guarantees proper recording for future reference.

It is a permanent record that will legally stand up in case the cancelled check is lost, or there is a question about what may have been written on it.

Safety deposit boxes are available for customers who have valuable papers, or other items, which need to be placed in a safe vault. This is to relieve any anxiety over their security.

The all-year temperature controls in the building make banking a pleasure during the coldest part of winter or the hottest part of summer.

COMPLAINTS COME IN FROM CONSUMERS

Farm Prices Drop But Beef Stays High

WASHINGTON (AP)—A consumer who is displeased over retail beef prices writes as follows:
"According to newspaper articles, the beef industry is in a tough shape. If it is, who is getting the profit on the high price we are paying for meat? At one time we were pretty good meat eaters but not any more. Now when we have a good steak it is cause for a celebration."
"The last time I had nerve enough to look in a meat counter I saw a small roast that was over $5. I think the tag said $1.35 a pound. No meat dealer should starve at that price."
"The whole farm program stinks and if importing cattle from South America will help to bring down the price of meat, I say let them come."

The letter was signed by Walt Kelly at Lake Placid, N.Y. This communication is being given attention because it typifies the attitude expressed in a number of letters received by this reporter during the current controversy over cattle prices and beef imports. Cattlemen are pressing for legislation which would impose limits on meat imports. The administration opposes.

and higher costs of materials used in connection with their slaughter and sale of meat. Some farm leaders as well as consumer groups contend that the spread between prices received by cattlemen and those paid by consumers for beef is too wide.
Kelly says his family's consumption of meat is not what it used to be. This is not true for consumers as a whole. The Agriculture Department says the per capita consumption of beef this year will average 100 pounds, up 5 pounds from 1963. It also says that the per capita consumption of all red meats—beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton—will average 169.8 pounds, up 4 pounds over last year.
The per capita consumption of red meats has increased an average of 17 per cent or about 15 pounds since 1950.

Rape, Robbery Charges Filed
BRENTWOOD, N.Y. (AP)—A Negro, 33, married and the father of three daughters, is being held on two charges of rape, one of armed robbery and one of armed assault.
Major Harden was arrested late Saturday in a lover's lane. In his possession, detectives said, Harden had plastic gloves, a plastic mask, a camera slung around his neck, and a shotgun.
Police said Harden admitted two assaults and robbery on the night of Aug. 17. In one episode, a man wearing a mask approached a car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pearsall, Arthur Rice, 18, and his girl friend, 15. The man forced the Pearsalls and Rice into the trunk of the car and attempted to assault the girl.
When the girl screamed and resisted, authorities said, Harden tossed her the car keys and fled. Pearsall was robbed of $20.
On the same night, Arthur Reid, 31, was parked in a lane with his girl friend, 21. At gunpoint, a man forced Reid into the trunk of his car, raped the young woman, and forced her to pose for obscene pictures with the camera he carried.
Police said Harden also admitted a rape and robbery July 19.

PRICES DOWN
With due respect to Kelly and the others, government statistics do show that retail beef prices came down some after beef cattle prices started a tumble in early 1963 although the retail drop did not match the decline in live-beef prices.
The livestock market price decline that started then amounted to 25 per cent by May of this year. For example, choice steers averaged $27.27 a hundred pounds in January 1963, but had dropped to an average of $20.52 in May this year. Choice steer prices have recovered some since then, but not to levels prevailing before the big price break.
In that same period, the national average retail price of choice grade beef declined from 83.5 to 76.7 cents a pound, a reduction of nearly 11 per cent.
These national average prices do not reflect prices that may prevail in any given city or market in that city. Yet, if Kelly's market was charging $1.35

COMPLAINTS
The failure of retail beef prices to follow the price pattern of beef animals has brought complaints from many cattlemen and some farm organizations.
During the April-May period of this year, cattle feeders got 52 cents out of every dollar consumers spent for beef. In the January-March period of 1963, the farmer's share was 57 cents. The producer share averaged 64 cents for the April-June period of 1957 through 1959.
It is seen from these figures that the farm share of consumer's meat dollars has been going down, but marketing charges have been going up. Meat slaughterers and retailers explain that this reflects increases in their labor costs, higher taxes

Sugar Imports
MEXICO CITY (AP)—The National Sugar Producers Union scoffs at claims here that a new tax on U.S. sugar imports is a reprisal for Mexico's stand on Cuba. The union pointed out that the tax applies to other countries which supply sugar to the United States, as well as Mexico.

Divisions Major Issue For Arabs

CAIRO (AP) — A frustrated scholar studying the Middle East remarked that his most notable discovery was "the inability of Arabs to communicate with Arabs." This said jest was an oversimplified but largely true observation of today's Arabic-speaking world.

The Arab summit conference of last January, which resulted in a greater outward display of solidarity than ever before, did little to patch up the real divisions among the 13 Arab League states.

A second conference in Alexandria Sept. 5 will probably be more of the same. Ambitious political, military and economic measures will be discussed. Rivalries and differences will be glossed over.

What unites the Arab world is a common religion, common written language — though spoken in many ways — a shared ancient history and a common suspicion of colonialism. To that has been added what the Arabs view as the insult of Israel.

But even as politicians speak of a common front against Israel, any well informed traveler can quickly find countless reasons why Arab unity doesn't really work.

For one thing, there are only poorly developed physical links despite shared borders. One potholed coastal highway links the Atlantic nation of Morocco with distant Cairo. Driving it is an adventure, not a commercial proposition. Road connections on the Arabian Peninsula are often as bad, or worse.

Most travel is by air, impossible to the mass of people. Getting an exit visa from an Arab country, if you are an Arab, usually is a highly uncertain and always time-consuming affair.

The varying postal systems range from fair to horrible. A letter from Cairo to Beirut — some 300 miles — can take two weeks or more. A cable from Cairo to Amman moves best if routed via London.

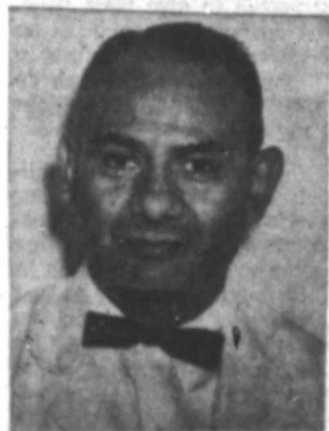

Commercial agreements are usually made in American dollars, British pounds or French francs. Trade among the Arab states is relatively small.

Internal censorship — present in all Arab states in varying degrees — limits the flow of ideas. There are deeply rooted personal antagonisms, which are not the result of borders imposed by colonialism as some Arabs like to claim.

All this is apart from politics — the dogmatic socialism of Egypt's President Nasser, the free-wheeling commercialism of Lebanon and the qualified capitalism of Jordan, Morocco and Libya.

The oil riches of Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Algeria and Libya are rarely shared with poorer neighbors.

Such abrasive facts are frequently ignored by intellectuals and politicians caught up in dreams of unity or personal ambitions. But these are day-to-day political ties. They can be reconciled, of course. Until they are, Arab summit conferences are likely to be largely exercises in oratory.

DR. AGUSTIN TORRES Leaves VA

Dr. Agustin Torres, chief of pathology at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, is leaving Monday to report to the Institute of Pathology at the University of Tennessee, Memphis, as a teacher on the local staff since September, 1963.

A native of Mexico City, Dr. Torres attended high school there and then went on to become an MD at the University of Mexico City in 1948. Six years of specialty training followed at the Baylor Medical Center in Houston, before he joined the VA system. He came to the local hospital in 1961 as the acting chief of pathology and then in September, 1962, went to the VA clinical pathology division in Cleveland, Ohio, as the director of the school of technology. He then returned here.

He is a diplomat of the American Board of Pathology, a fellow of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, a member of the College of American Pathologists, and a member of the American Medical Association.

He married his wife, Edith, a native of Beauty, Ky., in 1949, and they have two children, Linda, 13, and Junior, 12.

Dr. Torres gained his American citizenship in 1955 at Waco.

Young Farmers Meet Tonight

COAHOMA (SC) — The Young Farmers Chapter will meet in the Vocational Agriculture Building at 8 p.m. today for a program on the use of chemicals as an aid to harvesting. Buddy Barr is in charge of the program, and David Barr, president, will conduct the business portion of the meeting.

Gerald Hanson, manager of a chemical and feed firm in Stanton, will be speaker for the program.

The Young Homemakers Club will also meet today, at 7:30 p.m. in the home economics room of the school building. Members will discuss the club's constitution and year book.

GOP Fought To Halt Clare Luce

NEW YORK (AP) — New York State's two Republican national committee members fought to stop Clare Boothe Luce's entry as Conservative party candidate against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and possibly Democrat Robert F. Kennedy.

The two committee members wired National Chairman Dean Burch, threatening to withdraw support of the national ticket headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater if Goldwater's supporters in New York continue to back Mrs. Luce and 38 Conservative candidates for lesser offices.

In Buffalo, Rep. William E. Miller, Republican vice presidential candidate, said neither he nor Goldwater controls the Conservative party.

"They presume that Sen. Goldwater and I can control the Conservative party and we can't," said Miller, in a hospital interview. He is undergoing a three-day physical checkup.

Kennedy's still unannounced candidacy gained momentum at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

Kennedy resigned as a delegate from Massachusetts, obviously preparing to enter the New York race. His announcement is expected Tuesday.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner and United Nations Ambassador

Adlai E. Stevenson made statements at a campaign hating Kennedy-Wagner endorsed him last Friday, but evidently wanted to knock down reports that his support was reluctant.

Wagner indicated that Kennedy's announcement will be made at Gracie Mansion, the Mayor's official residence. "He'll be at my side," Wagner said. The mayor came back to keep a speaking engagement then returned to Atlantic City.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam apparently was still planning to fight Kennedy for the nomination at the state convention on Sept. 1. A group of Stratton's upstate supporters in the Liberal party met in Saratoga Springs, but failed to say they will back that party's probable nomination of Kennedy.

The Republican-Conservative tug-of-war over Mrs. Luce, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut and ambassador to Italy, held the spotlight.

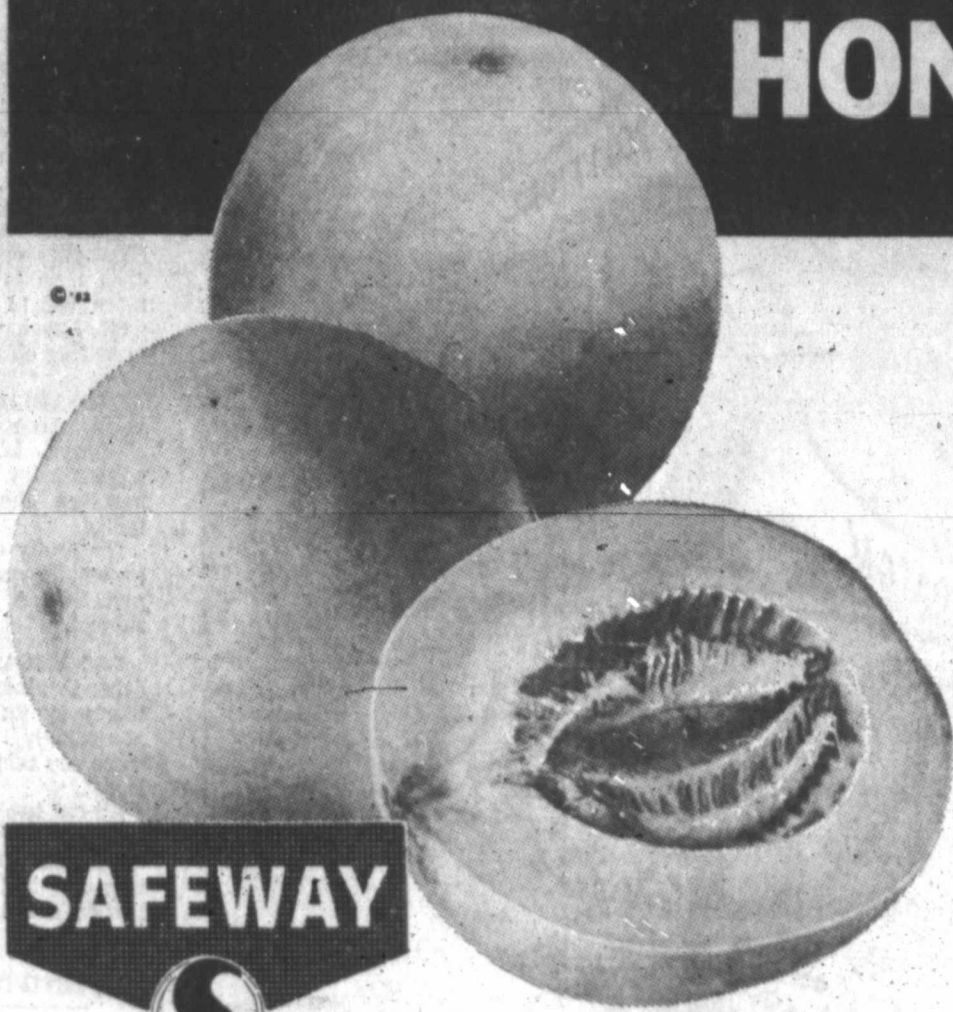

The telegram to Burch was signed by National Committeeman George L. Hinnan, one of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's closest associates, and Dorothy McHugh, the national committeewoman.

Burch said in Washington he had no immediate comment on the telegram.

A Devotional For The Day

He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it. (Matthew 10:39.)
PRAYER: O God, how high is Thy calling in Christ Jesus! How demanding is His challenge! Give me grace sufficient to respond to it. Make me glad to carry Thy cross, joyfully to lift Thy banner, whatever the cost. Give me Thy songs in the night. In His spirit I pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Security For Nominees

It is a sadly true reflection of the temper of the times that security protection, such as is accorded the incumbent President, is advisable for the opposition party's nominee for the duration of a national campaign.

Rep. William E. Miller, (R-N.Y.), the GOP vice presidential candidate, has suggested that Congress should consider authorizing official federal safeguarding of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater. Miller may have ulterior motives for the suggestion and Democrats may try to make parzisan capital out of it, but irrespective of such considerations the idea is well taken.

Emotional tensions run high in any presidential contest, dangerously so when issues of high emotional content are involved, as in 1960 and today. The tragedy that struck President Kennedy, and the nation, in 1963, could have struck him in the 1960 campaign. It could strike Sen. Goldwater today, and any other nominee in the years to come.

Security precautions for a presidential nominee should be viewed as a public policy and expenditure essential to the national security and welfare, both of which could be dangerously shaken by any tragedy befalling a major party candidate. Congress should consider the Miller proposal as a bipartisan matter applicable not merely to the present, but to all future national election campaigns.

How Cold A Cold War?

Walter Lippmann thinks the United States is overextended abroad. In Cyprus, in Southeast Asia and the Congo it is being drawn into the cold war struggle at many points where the end of the colonial era has left a vacuum. There will be more of these, he properly suggests.

But his conclusion leaves a trail of question marks behind. He thinks the United States cannot, facing these many demands on its strength, lose its mobility and commit itself to any place. "Since we are carrying virtually the whole burden of maintaining a balance of power in Asia, we cannot afford lavishly to overcommit ourselves by signing blank checks on our military power. We have signed too many of them already."

Does this mean, then, that aggression should not be effectively stopped at the point or points where it is most dangerously operating? Do we permit our aggressions? If so, which? How operate if the United States does not sufficiently engage itself where it is being overturned? Mr. Lippmann has for some years argued that the United States should withdraw from its remote commitments in Asia. But what would then happen? Wasn't it in Asia—in Manchuria—that the long march to World War II began?

David Lawrence

Bobby Kennedy In New York

WASHINGTON — Bobby Kennedy isn't eligible to vote in the November election in New York state, but he wants to be the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate from the Empire State anyhow.

This anomaly arises from the fact that Mr. Kennedy sets forth in his authorized biography in the "Congressional Record" that Massachusetts is his legal residence. Nobody can vote in New York state who hasn't been a resident for at least a year. The Constitution, however, specifies only that a senator must be an "inhabitant" of the state "when elected." This could mean that anybody who has stayed for a few days at a hotel in New York state could run for the Senate from that state.

BUT THE complications that are bound to ensue for the major political parties are not confined to the technical question of residence. There are all sorts of dilemmas, such as the impact of the Kennedy candidacy on the senatorial race as a whole. Republicans who have been lukewarm about supporting Senator Keating, because he hasn't spoken out in favor of the Republican presidential nominee, will have to choose between not voting at all or voting for Mr. Keating or the Democratic nominee. Democrats who dislike the invasion of their state by an "outsider" would be confronted with the necessity of either voting for Mr. Kennedy as the Democratic nominee, or supporting the Republican, or not voting at all.

THE DEBATE over Mr. Kennedy's candidacy is bound to take on a national aspect and have a direct effect on the Johnson-Goldwater race. Mr. Kennedy as Attorney General has been in the forefront of the "civil rights" controversy, and there are lots of people in New York state—in what is usually referred to as the "white backlash"—who believe that the Department of Justice has been responsible for encouraging many of the demonstrations that now have resulted in violence and in apprehension that this will spread.

THERE'S A CHANCE also that New York state politics will become very much confused, not only in the Republican party but in the Democratic party, as a consequence of the Kennedy candidacy. New York City has often been governed by the bosses of Tammany Hall, and the vote of the big metropolises frequently has been decisive in producing an overwhelming majority for the Democrats to offset the Republican majority in upstate

Billy Graham

Religion is so widely discussed now that it appears we are in a period of revival. In light of this, what, in your opinion, will the future hold for the church?—L. E.

It is almost impossible to tell what event the immediate future may hold. It is true that more people are concerned with religion than at any time in our history. We cannot forget that Jesus never did predict that the church would convert the world. In fact, if the church remains true to its mission, it will always be exposed to opposition and resistance. Jesus said: "In the world ye shall have tribulation, and again he said: 'A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his Lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household.'" Everything indicates that the true church will have opposition to the end. It is only when it is silent concerning the vital issues of the Gospel that it is well received in the world. If we are on the crest of religious revival, it should be a time of earnest heart searching. In the future, however, Christ has promised to come for His church to receive it unto Himself. That is the real hope of the church!

A Boomerang

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—A defense attorney was attempting to discredit the testimony of a woman state's witness during a trial in Buncombe (Asheville) County Superior Court.

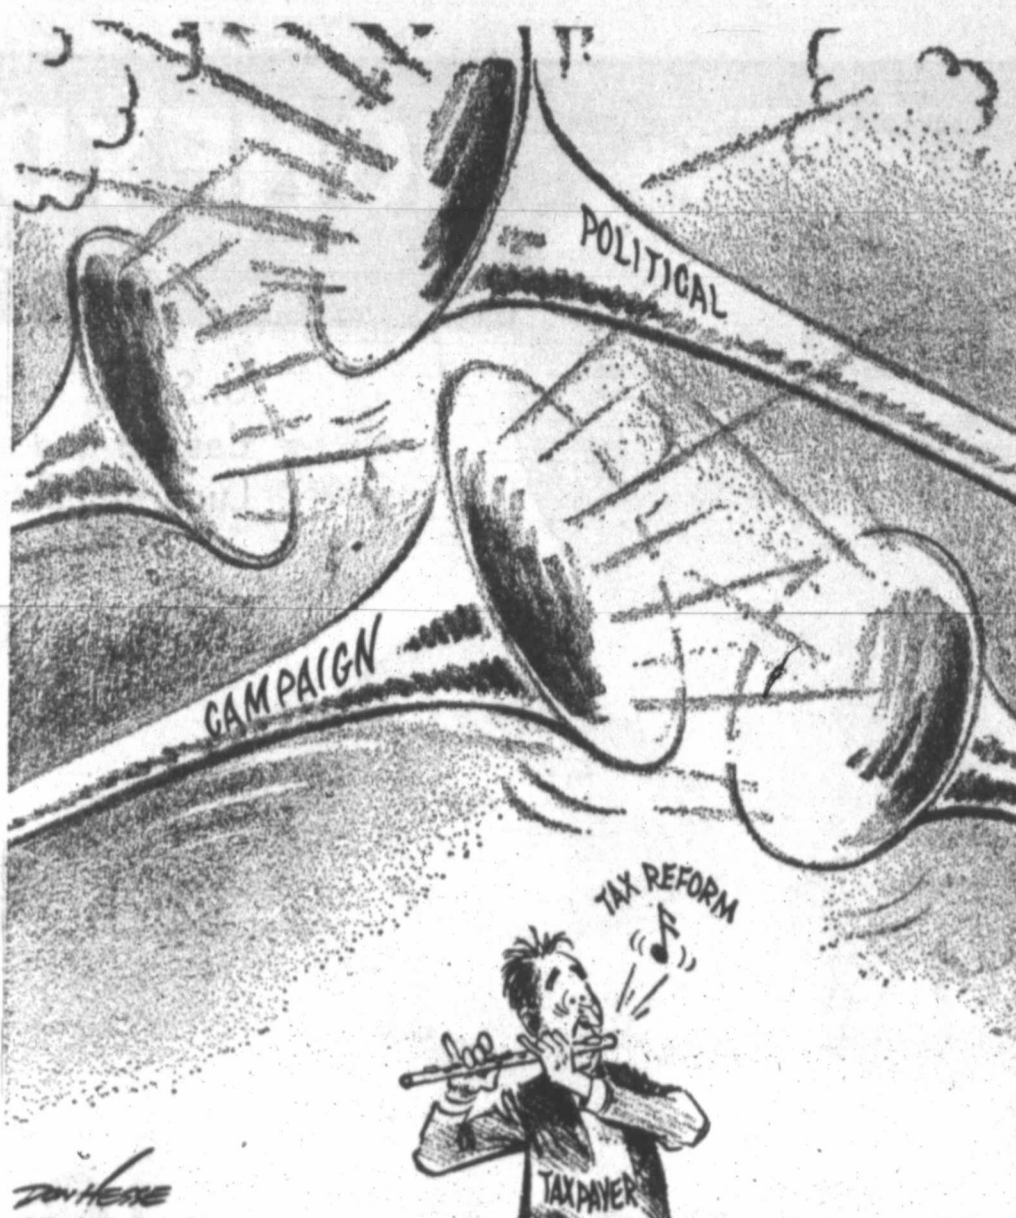

"You just finished a prison term yourself, didn't you?" the attorney demanded. "Yes, that's right," the witness replied.

"Yes, you were convicted of forgery. Right?" The witness answered, "That's right."

"What did you forge?" the attorney continued.

"Nothing!" the attorney thundered. "What on earth were you doing in prison?"

"I wish you'd tell me," the witness replied. "You were my lawyer."

Length Is Chief Fault Of Both Platforms

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The most obvious thing wrong with the Democratic and Republican platforms is that they're too long. Relatively few voters are likely to take the time and trouble to wade through them.

Still fewer would go through the ordeal of comparing them, point by point, even if they could, to check their accuracy, exaggerations and philosophy.

Such a comparison, just to start, would require saving a copy of the Republican platform, released almost six weeks ago, to lay beside the Democratic document now being made public in pieces here where the convention opens today.

THE DEMOCRATS, by producing their platform weeks after the Republicans' appeared, have a tidy advantage: They have been able in many instances to try to answer the Republicans' complaints point by point.

Platforms are essential for laying out the positions and promises of both parties. And they're useful to the politicians as talking points. But there's no excuse for their unreadable length.

But in this campaign, already showing signs of being heavily weighted with personal attacks, the reasoning and statistics of the platforms are apt to be blurred even for those reading and comparing them.

AS USUAL, this year's two documents follow the typical platform pattern. That of the in-party, the Democrats, glows with optimism about its handling of problems and points with pride to what it considers fine achievements.

The out-Republicans, wanting in, grumble gloom and criticism about the past and future under Democrats and pant for a chance to do it better.

In this sense both platforms are corny.

But there is a deeper difference which in this particular year should get voters' careful attention, although they will form their opinions more from listening to the politicians than from reading them in the platforms.

THIS DEEPER difference is between the views of the Democrats and Republicans toward government's role in the American society. As is now well known, the far more conservative Republicans under Sen. Barry Goldwater want far less of it.

The tone of the two platforms can be illustrated by using side by side section headings from both of them. In what follows the Republican view is given first, the Democratic next:

Republicans: "Inability to Create Jobs." Democrats: "Full Employment." Republicans: "Fiscal Irresponsibility." Democrats: "Fiscal Responsibility." Republicans: "Retarding Enterprises." Democrats: "Economic Growth."

Republicans: "Neglect of Natural Resources." The Democrats, under the heading of "Natural Resources," devote 5½ pages to show how much they feel they have done in this field.

Republicans: "Weakness Before Communism." The Democrats, under the heading of "The Communist World," argue for six pages on how "the record of world events in the past year reflects the vigor and success of U.S. policy."

Republicans: "Undermining the United Nations." Under "United Nations," the Democrats protest over two pages that they've strengthened the United Nations.

Gall Bladder Described As Reserve Tank

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about the gall bladder and reasons for its removal? You explain better than our family physician because he uses big words that I don't understand.—MRS. M. P.

Well, I admit that after 20 or 30 or more years of thinking in medical terms, it's easy to use words that are expressive and precise to us as doctors—but may not mean as much to the average person.

I have an easier time of it than others do, because I can go over what I've written and change things around if I see that I've been using too many technical terms.

Now about the gall bladder.

It's really just a "reserve tank."

Let's start with the liver, which produces a very useful digestive juice called bile. This is stored in the gall bladder, which is just below the liver. Then when needed, the stored bile is discharged, through what we call "the common duct," into the intestine. It's the "common duct" because it carries the bile both from the liver and the gall bladder.

The most frequent (but not the only) gall bladder problem is the formation of gallstones. Bile, in the gall bladder, is a thick fluid, and sometimes the materials it contains can crystallize, just as sugar sometimes crystallizes in a jar of jelly. These crystals are or many; big or so small they look like sand. (Often called "gravel.")

A small particle may get into the common duct and slide right through and cause no harm. Others are too big to get into the duct. Sometimes one is small enough to start through, but gets stuck part way. Bile can't get through so it backs up in the liver and into the body via the bloodstream. It is yellowish in color, so the patient gets the look we call "jaundice." Digestion is impaired because of lack of bile in the intestine. And the jammed stone is intensely painful.

In such cases there is little question about what to do: Operate unless the stone very quickly manages to go on through.

Kids Have Headaches Too

This and that: Caffeine, combined with aspirin, is supposed to be the best treatment for the ordinary, garden variety headache.

And did you know that migraine headaches occur more often in children than is appreciated? Boys are more apt to suffer from them than girls. Psychic factors play a big role in setting off such attacks.

HIPPARCHUS, who lived a little more than a century before the time of Christ, is said to have invented trigonometry in order to be able to measure the sizes of inaccessible things.

It's pretty obvious, though, that the ancient Egyptian builders of the pyramids had a basic knowledge of the subject.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., is a city which depends almost exclusively upon the tourist for its livelihood, and has built accordingly, but reports originating there say this may be the year of the lull.

All but two of the big tourist places are said to be losing money by the bucketful. One of the gaudiest attractions had to borrow over a million dollars last year to keep its doors open.

SENSITIVITY to pain or physical discomfort diminishes as one grows older. So states the Catholic Digest. Also, minutes, hours, months and years pass ever so more swiftly and drag along less with each birthday because we place a higher value on time.

A 15-year study of 300 Americans over 100 found them with a keen sense of humor, an attitude of tranquility and social poise.

THE INTERNAL Revenue department says that of 143,000 doctors who filled out tax forms in 1962, only 8,000 lost money. Of 82,000 dentists, only 2,000 didn't turn a profit.

Of 124,000 lawyers, all but 12,000 were in the black. Physicians and surgeons prosper the most, averaging $20,000 a year each.

A TRADE JOURNAL reports that the average employe in the broadcasting industry was paid more than anyone except workers in two other professions.

The average employe in broadcasting earned $7,533 in 1963. Stock brokers earned an average of $8,951, according to the periodical. The other profession that topped the broadcasters? Pipeline employes, who brought home an average paycheck of $7,550 last year. —TOMMY HART

'Give Us Another Law'

WASHINGTON — Sen. Warren Magnuson (D, Washington) was speaking fondly the other day of a pet bill of his—one that would divide the congressional session into two semesters: the first for general legislation and the second limited to fiscal affairs. Magnuson may not have the full remedy, but he is fingering a point of pain on the American body politic: Congress tries to do too much.

AS THIS PIECE is being written, the 85th Congress has received 3,126 Senate bills and 12,401 House bills, plus resolutions of various kinds in both chambers running to a total of 2,999—and the session isn't over by any means.

These figures are not intended to tell anything about the quality of measures considered by Congress, but are given (like gross statistics on crime and population) to show the overwhelming fact of agglomeration—a plenitude which presses the breath of life out of our legislation process.

THE PHRASE "consent of the governed," out of the Declaration of Independence, may be the keynote for a new reform. Left to themselves, it is inconceivable that the 500-odd members of Congress would think up so many proposals. But our hyperdemocracy has reached the point of high pressure where citizens and groups are not willing to let their representative represent them, as the republican form of government intended. It is not considered enough any longer for people to give their "consent" to be governed. They insist on doing the governing. They refuse to "let them" what their country can do for them. They demand that it does more and more.

IT IS THIS muscling in of the multitudes which is visibly thwarting our ability at self-government. The Democratic platform committee, meeting in Washington prior to moving on to Atlantic City, is giving its ear to just about all the gimme groups in the land. We should not be surprised that so many people want something extra for themselves, and should not begrudge what our affluent society has been able to provide in the way of bodily comforts, leisure and security.

NOT THE COMPLEXITY, but the multiplicity of legislation, is what keeps Congress in session from New Year's past Labor Day. The greediness and the kibitzing are what hinder the democratic process, for the congressional members would function a lot better if they could go home for quiet consultation in their constituencies.

The domination of the masses, building up statism to service them, in turn leads to collective power that is not easy to overturn. Popular revolution has been replaced throughout the world by palace revolts—the statism remains under new leaders.

And so it is getting to be with Congress as it becomes taken over by the multitudes. (Distributed by McLaughlin Syndicate, Inc.)

Guns For Self-Protection

WASHINGTON — The murder of President Kennedy signaled a sustained outcry from anti-gun crazies and related lip movers, abetted by divers squalid political hacks who sensed the safest issue since the first revolver discovered the vile excesses of the man-eating shark.

Guns were blamed for the apparent increase in crime, and for the popularity of suicide. Not since the wowers and bootleggers fastened the curse of prohibition on the nation has anyone seen the like of it.

STATE LEGISLATURES were inundated with poorly-considered gun laws, and the Congress was assailed with horror stories that laid virtually every disease of our society at the door of mail-order firearms firms.

The truth was quickly buried in a sea of right-thinking. A distraught woman bought a pistol in a suburban Washington store and used it to take the lives of her children and herself, and the peculiar logic of the anti-gun bigots quickly concluded that the tragedy had been caused by the weapon.

THE EXAMPLE of New York's Sullivan Law, an inflexibly unworkable firearms law that is a fitting memorial to old Tim Sullivan, was lost on the anti-gun bigots and they sought to impose it in other jurisdictions. The Sullivan Law has not kept one hand gun away from one hoodlum, but it has effectively disarmed the honest citizen. Only in New York can the predator stalk his victim in certain confidence that he will find him unarmed.

THE PRECIOUS gang tried in the nation's capital to impose a "model" gun law patterned after the Sullivan Act, but they were frustrated when facts were adduced. The crusher was testimony by Washington's able and respected chief of police, Robert V. Murray. Chief Murray said he'd be in favor of any law that would disarm hoodlums, but that experience had shown they didn't work. Chief Murray confirmed what all sane persons knew already: Rigidly restrictive gun laws simply make it impossible for the householder to protect his family.

THERE WAS A splendid example of the comforting utility of a hand gun in Washington the other day. Miss Joyce Morgan, an employe in the office of Sen. Gordon L. Allott (R, Colo.) was awakened by an intruder at 5 a.m. She pegged a shot at him from a .22 caliber target pistol she keeps on a bedside table. She missed, more's the pity, but she cowed the burglar until the cops got there. The miscreant had a record, of course, including an arrest for molesting a 16-year-old girl, so it seems plain that Miss Morgan's rooty-toot through that hardwood door saved her from a most unpleasant and dangerous experience.

SEN. ALLOTT, besides employing sensible help in his office, talks good sense himself. Not long ago, in speaking against the anti-firearms hysteria alluded to above, he said:

"Old-fashioned as it may seem, if a few more ordinary, common citizens had guns and knew how to use them, we would probably stop some of the crime."

To anyone but an anti-gun nut it makes a lot of sense. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Melon Sorter

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — The farmhand who cracked up "making decisions" in sorting vegetables wouldn't have to worry if he worked for Naples watermelon grower Carl Glidden.

The Collier County farmer and packer is completing Florida's first electronic watermelon shipping plant. One thing the $100,000 "brain" is supposed to do is shunt melons according to weight toward box cars or trucks to insure each carrier will haul uniform melons to market.

"It operates on a memory selector principle," said Glidden. "You set knobs and as the melons travel along a conveyor the desired weights are sidetracked onto different conveyors for loading."

There is plenty of work to busy Glidden's electronic brain. He has 600 acres of watermelons maturing east of Naples.

No Seeds

HONOLULU (AP)—Pineapples don't have seeds, and the food market shopper probably doesn't care one way or the other anyway.

But this fact has irked horticulturists in Hawaii—one of the greatest pineapple growing areas—for years, so the University of Hawaii and the Pineapple Research Institute of Honolulu have teamed up to find out why the succulent, yellow pineapple is barren.

Steelers Are Better, Says Buddy Parker

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — Buddy Parker gives his Pittsburgh Steelers a better chance to win the National Football League's Eastern Conference title this year than he did a year ago despite the trade of Buddy Dial for a drafted phantom who didn't sign.

Parker has spent most of the off-season defending the Dial deal in which the Steelers sent their flanker back to Dallas for the draft rights to Scott Appleton, the All-America tackle from Texas. Appleton finally decided to sign with Houston in the rival American Football League, leaving Parker without a tackle—and without Dial.

"We were just unlucky that we couldn't sign the boy," said Parker. "If I had to do it all over again, I'd do the same thing but I might not take the same boy. We needed defensive linemen more than we needed Dial."

The hope in Pittsburgh is that Paul Martha, a rookie from Pitt, eventually will take over Dial's job. To ease the pressure on the youngster, Parker has shaken up his receivers.

Talented Gary Ballman has been moved to flanker ahead of Martha and Pres Carpenter slides over to split end, leaving John Powers and rookie Jim Kelley, two Notre Dame grads, to fight it out at tight end.

The Steelers came within one game of winning their first championship last fall. A victory over New York on the final day would have given them the title. Instead they lost and dropped all the way to fourth.

"I think we have a better chance to win than I did at this time last year," Parker says. "We don't have too much bench but we should be better if we can stay healthy.

"Last year we ran the ball more than anybody in the league, about 60 per cent of the time. This year I want to see us throw a little more."

If the Steelers do throw more it will be up to Ed Brown, the veteran quarterback whose off-day against the Giants in the 1963 finale proved so costly. Neither Terry Nofsinger nor Bill Nelsen appear ready to take over.

With receivers like Ballman, Martha, Carpenter and Kelly in the line-up, the Steelers may open up with a little more passing. Dial led the club last year with 60 catches.

John Henry Johnson, still a fierce competitor at 34, and Dick Hoak, a strong runner without breakaway speed, are the top ball carriers. Clarence Peaks, acquired from Philadelphia, backs up Johnson and Theron Sapp, another ex-Eagle, is behind Hoak. Parker likes what he has seen of Dave Fleming, a free agent with no college experience.

The experienced front line is made up of center Buzz Nutter, guards Ray Lemek and Mike Sandusky and tackles Charlie Bradshaw and Dan James.

Ben McGee, a No. 4 draftee from Jackson State, has been the surprise of the camp. McGee fits into the starting defensive line at right tackle. Joe Krupa is the other tackle and John Baker and Lou Michaels the ends. Michaels also does the field goal work and Parker thinks his defensive work was affected last year by erratic kicking.

PAT WASHBURN'S

The Roundtable

AREA FOOTBALL RAMBLINGS: Look for the Sands Mustangs to be the most improved football team in the area. The big reason will be that EDDIE HERM is coming back for his senior year. Herm is a halfback who will probably be the quarterback of the Pones this fall. KENNETH SOLES, who starred for Forsan a year ago, says that Herm is one of the finest running backs he saw all through high school. Soles expects the Pones to really surprise a lot of people this year, mainly because of Herm. Of course, the fact that they've moved down to eight-man football could make a lot of difference, too.

According to a coach who has seen Washburn work out this summer, the Bilzards are going to be great. Of course, they're ranked as the number one Class AA school in the state. The coach went on to say that the main reason he thinks they're almost unbeatable is the fact that their line averages over 220 from end to end. Colorado City may wish it was still in District 3-AAA.

After the first week's practice, fullback MIKE HALL, 6'1", 285 pounds, was in danger of losing the starting slot in the Stanton football camp to small but energetic DENVER SPRINGER, a sophomore who tips the scales around 140. Hall has not lived up to the coaches' expectations.

WILLIE LUNDY, the junior high football coach in Coahoma, is coming in for quite a bit of praise these days from SPIKE DYKES, head grid mentor of the Bulldogs. Lundy has been helping in workouts and doing a great job. Assistant coaches DON FLUQUA and BERNIE HAGINS got this comment from Dykes: "These guys are doing a tremendous job. I couldn't have gotten any two finer men to help me. So far, they've done a lot more than was required of them and it has really helped." The coaches aren't too happy at the moment, though, in Coahoma since WESLEY WRIGHT has been lost for three weeks with a dislocated shoulder. He was slated to be a starter.

A veteran observer of area football says that Forsan has the potential to have a better team than a year ago (when they won the district), and if it is developed, the Buffs should beat Garden City and win the loop for the third straight year. He went on to say that the whole difference between winning and losing could be halfback DAVID ROBERSON, who alternated between real good and sorry performances for the Buffs a year ago.

Dykes, incidentally, is picking San Angelo to win District 3-AAA, noting that Odessa and Midland, Spike's pick can't be taken any too lightly by area coaches because he's one man who ought to know—after all, he was line coach for the Bobcats before coming to Coahoma. In the end result, Spike thinks that the great spirit at the San Angelo school will prove to mean the difference between a first and second place finish in the loop.

Some quarters are saying that Garden City's great halfback, GARY PAGAN (6'5", 223 pounds), may not get a real good scholarship offer after graduation simply because of the way he runs. They say that if he would learn to run around people sometimes instead of always over them, he would be twice the player he is now.

Smith's Putts Win Pro-Am Tourney

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Marilyn Smith pulled a little magic with her putter and won the $11,000 Albuquerque LPGA pro-am golf tourney.

The talkative Miss Smith regained her putting touch in Sunday's final round of the 54-hole tourney and roared from one stroke behind for a two-stroke, 68-74-74-216 victory over Jo Ann Prentice and Sandra Haynie.

Miss Smith took just 29 putts Sunday. She said her 27 putts in the opening round Friday was her best competitive career putting round.

The blonde Kansan slammed in two birdies in the last seven holes and took only 13 putts in the last nine as she grabbed the lead away from tiny Miss Haynie.

"I never really knew if I was ahead or behind," she said. "I was so keyed up that it seemed as though I played in a vacuum."

"I talked a lot more than I usually do, but when people talked back, nothing they said registered with me. I'm just glad my putting came back."

Miss Prentice made a run at the lead with two birdies in the first seven holes on the final nine. But she missed a one-footer for par on the 17th and settled for a second place tie at 218.

Saturday's leader, Ruth Jensen, ran into putting troubles—she took 37—and blew out of contention with five bogeys in one seven-hole stretch. She finished fourth, three strokes back, after a two-birdie surge in the last four holes.

Arnett Goes To Chicago

By The Associated Press
 If Jon Arnett helps the Chicago Bears as much as Paul Hornung figures to hurt them, National Football League followers can expect another wire-to-wire duel in the NFL's Western Conference between the defending champion Bears and Hornung-hyped Green Bay Packers.

The Bears hope Arnett, one-time All-Pro halfback whom they acquired Sunday in a three-for-one deal with the Los Angeles Rams, will add a breakaway threat to their lightweight offense that was further weakened last month by the tragic death of Willie Gailmore.

Chicago's offensive shortcomings were pinpointed Saturday night when the Packers and Hornung wrecked the Bears 21-7 in an exhibition game at Milwaukee.

The Bears didn't get untracked until Hornung, showing no signs of a year's inactivity, had run for two touchdowns, caught a scoring pass and kicked three extra points for a 21-0 lead. A fourth quarter touchdown pass from second-string quarterback Rudy Bukich to Gary Barnes averted a shut-out.

Cleveland ripped Pittsburgh 42-7. Washington tripped the New York Giants 27-24. Minne-

Wrestlers Will Vie For Berths

NEW YORK (AP) — With 17 Olympic trials on its menu this year, New York City digs into the main dish of five sports this week and next.

The wrestling portion opens first on Monday with the top wrestlers still undecided on which division — freestyle or Greco-Roman — to compete in at Tokyo. Olympic rules allow an athlete to compete in only one division.

Wills Takes Verbal Poke

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two years ago Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers contemptuously paid a $50 fine to National League President Warren C. Giles with 5,000 pennies.

If anything, the little shortstop's respect for Giles has since diminished.

Wills, who has run his salary up to $50,000 largely by stealing bases, accused Giles Sunday of stealing excitement from fans and opportunity from good baserunners by failing to have the balk rule enforced.

In fact, Wills charged, the National League office has gone so far as to take money away from umpires who tried to enforce it.

Said Giles: "If Wills has a complaint, he should make it in writing. And he should get his facts straight before making public statements."

Giles did not elaborate.

Wills did. He said he had a long talk with an umpire recently and he told me the whole story.

"Last year the umpires who were calling all those balks early in the season were called into the National League office," Wills said. "At first the league office had wanted the balk rule enforced. Then the umpires really started calling a lot of them and they were told to cut down."

This annoyed umpires, Wills said, because it placed them in the impossible position of having to judge not whether a pitcher was balking but "whether he was balking too much."

Wills said he learned one umpire "lost his Christmas bonus because he enforced the rule and I believe one also was cut in salary for the same reason."

The section of the balk rule that has caused perhaps the most trouble is the one providing that, with a runner or runners on base, a pitcher working from the set position must bring his hands to a stop before delivering a pitch.

Atkins Win In Tourney

The tandem of Madeline and Jasper Atkins took the first place trophies Sunday in the low gross division of a Husband-Wife Golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club while Sherry and Frank Powell won the low net bracket.

The Atkins had a 168 over 18 holes, the same score as Curt and Sam Thurman, but on the first extra hole to decide first place, the Thurmans were beaten and had to settle for runner-up honors. Bette and Gil Jones were third with a 173 while fourth place went to Ernestine and Raymond Smith with a 174. All four teams received trophies.

Pat and Jack Milam had a 144 for second in the low net, Ann and Gil Gingsold's 146 was good for third and Lola and Max Milam took fourth with a 146. The first place tandem got four golf balls each, the second and third teams got three balls, while the last place twosome received two balls.

Phils Stretch Lead; Allen, Bunning Shine

By The Associated Press
Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player honors, the stand-out dresser and outstanding third baseman belted two homers and a single, driving in four runs Sunday as the National League leading Phillies walked Pittsburgh 9-3.

Oliver Forced

Milwaukee Braves' first baseman Gene Oliver is forced at second base in the second inning Sunday night in a game with the Houston Colts as teammate Rico Carty bounced into a double play. Houston's shortstop, Eddie Kasco, took Carty's easy bounce, stepped on second to force Oliver and fired to first to catch Carty. Houston won the game, 7-1. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Richie Allen, Philadelphia's hard-hitting third baseman, wears orange shoes, four-button suits and sports jackets with buckles in the back. Now he's trying to stick a couple of feathers in his cap. A leading contender for both

Allen, whose chief competition for MVP honors might come from teammates John (All-Star Hero) Callison and Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, hit a two-run homer against the Pirates in the third inning, hit a solo homer in the fifth and singled home a run in the eighth.

Bunning, who went seven innings, benefited from the support, bringing his record to 14-4 with a 2.17 earned run average despite being tagged for homers by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenen.

The victory boosted the Phillies lead to 7 1/2 games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Phil Ortega's three-hitter 1-0 while the Giants edged St. Louis 3-2 in 10 innings.

In other games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings and 5-4 and Holiston beat Milwaukee 7-1 in a night game.

American League - leading Baltimore split with Chicago, winning 7-3 before the White Sox took the nightcap 3-1. The third-place New York Yankees edged Boston 4-3, Cleveland took two from the Los Angeles Angels 6-4 and 3-2, Minnesota nipped Detroit 6-5 before losing the second game 5-2 and Washington defeated Kansas City 8-5 after losing the opener 3-1.

Ortega, who hadn't pitched a complete game since May 19, brought his record to 6-5 by keeping the Reds in check. The Dodgers, meanwhile, scored their only run against Jim O'Toole, 15-4, in the second inning on a double by Nate Olivieri and Dick Tracewski's single.

Venturi Rips Field For $7,500 Victory

KEN VENTURI

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ken Venturi's smashing five-stroke victory in the $50,000 American Golf Classic Sunday was doubly satisfying to golf's comeback king of 1964.

In addition to a $7,500 check, which boosted the national champion's earnings to $53,840, the triumph assured Venturi that his U.S. Open victory was no fluke.

The Classic was a big hurdle for Venturi. He missed the 54-hole cut in 1962 and last year he picked up a $110 check. But the long 7,165-yard Firestone Course finally yielded to him.

His victory over Mason Rudolph came on a final round of 35-34-69 and a 273 total—one stroke better than the four-round record of 276 set by Arnold Palmer in 1962 and tied by Johnny Pott last year.

Venturi's only bogey Sunday came on the 18th and final hole. He started the round with a two-stroke lead over Rudolph. He boosted it to four strokes as he put together 11 straight pars and clinched the victory with a

Doubles Teams Compete For U.S. Championship

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (AP) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston were out to retrieve the trophy today with a third consecutive victory in the National Doubles Tennis Championship, facing the first British team to reach the finals since 1903.

McKinley and Ralston, the mainstays of the U.S. Davis Cup team that will defend its title in the Challenge Round at Cleveland next month, will be trying to become the first team to retrieve trophies since Bill Talbert and Gardner Mulloy did it in 1946.

McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., and Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced to the finals Sunday with a 6-4, 6-2, 2-6, 12-10 triumph over fourth-seed ed Frank Froehling of Miami and Charles Pasarell of Saratoga, P.R.

Their opponents will be Mike Sangster and Graham Stillwell, who first completed a quarter-final match against Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., winning 2-6, 22-20, 6-3, 8-10, 6-4.

The British duo then defeated two of their countrymen, Tim Phillips and Ray Weedon, 9-7, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Registration in this fall's Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, Sept. 4-7, opened today at the local country club with a $20 entry fee being charged for anyone interested in participating. The course also opened today for practice rounds for any entrant.

Robinson Sparkles As Birds Keep Lead

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's odd, but Brooks Robinson is at his best in even-numbered years.

This year he's better than ever and has a better than even chance of being named the American League's most valuable player — if Baltimore wins the pennant.

Robinson tried to see to that, sparking the Orioles to three victories in four weekend games with Chicago. Baltimore won their third straight 7-3 Sunday before the White Sox salvaged the second game of the doubleheader 3-1.

The split left the Orioles 1 1/2 games ahead of the White Sox, who led by one-half game before the series started.

Robinson lashed three hits in Sunday's opener, scoring two runs, and drove in the Orioles' lone run in the second game. In the previous two games, Robinson knocked in two runs in Friday's 4-2 triumph and slammed a three-run homer that won Saturday's game by the same score.

His over-all performance, eight hits in 16 times at bat, increased the 27-year-old third baseman's batting average seven points to .308, his home run total to 22 and his runs batted in to 55.

Robinson reached his best RBI mark in 1960 when he drove in 88 runs. He dipped to 61 the next season but rose to 96 in 1962 when he also hit 23 homers and batted .303, his best marks in those categories prior to this season.

But the oddity struck again as he plummeted to a .231 average last year with only 11 homers and 67 RBI.

In other AL games Sunday, New York edged Boston 4-3, Cleveland took Los Angeles 6-4 and 3-2, Washington lost to Kansas City 3-1 before winning 9-5 and Minnesota nipped Detroit 6-5, then lost 5-2.

In the National League, Philadelphia trampled Pittsburgh 9-3, Los Angeles nipped Cincinnati 1-0, San Francisco trimmed St.

PLAY BETTER GOLF By Tommy Armour Finger Pressure HOLD the club with firm (but not stiff) pressure of the tips of the last three fingers of your left hand. Have the club angling from your crooked left forefinger to about the middle of the hand so when you close your fingers around the club you've got it snugly against the heel of your hand. This grip gives you the flexibility you need for cocking your wrists. If you ever allow the club to slide down into the palm of your hand you will cramp wrist action. The right hand hold on the club is mainly with the middle two fingers. The thumb and right forefinger should be in a trigger-fingering position on the club so they can work correctly.

REALIZING THAT TROUBLE IS CLOSING IN ON HIM, POP TRIES TO INCITE A STUDENT RIOT AT BAROQUE'S, HOPING TO ESCAPE IN THE ENSUING CONFUSION.

TERRY! WHAT'S HE DOIN'?

PUTTING A NOOSE AROUND HIS OWN NECK, I THINK. LET'S WAIT AND SEE, HOLLY.

POP IS THIS A STUPID JOKE? BAROQUE NEVER SPOKE OF THE YANKEES, IT WAS YOU...

I MERELY REPEATED WHAT SHE TOLD ME, BROTHERS... SHE LED TO US! BREAK UP THIS JOINT!

THAT RAT!

TRUE!... STARTING ALL THIS RUCKUS JUST AS I WHALED INTO THE MOST SENSITIVE PART OF MY SOUL!

SMITTY

I DON'T WANNA GO HOME! I WANNA GO BACK TO CAMP!

YOU'VE TRIED EVERYTHING TO STOP ME, BUT WERE ON OUR WAY!

KIDNAPPER!

DON'T BELIEVE HIM, OFFICER! I'M ONLY TAKING HIM HOME FROM CAMP.

JUST GIVE ME YOUR NAME...

...AND NO PHONY NAME LIKE JONES OR SMITH!

MOON MULLINS

I WANT THIS AND THAT AND THAT AND...

PLEASE, EMMA-- I HAVE NO CREDIT CARDS FOR FURNITURE STORES.

OH, HUSH-- NOW GIVE ME THAT TEN-DOLLAR BILL YOU KEEP FOR EMERGENCIES.

HOW WILL THAT ESTABLISH CREDIT?

IT WILL MAKE THEM THINK WE ARE VERY WEALTHY.

Guessing Game Hinges On Veep

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The 5,200 delegates and alternates at this national convention have two things in common: they're Democrats and they don't know who Lyndon Johnson wants for vice president.

In fact, they don't even know if the President has made up his mind about a running mate, for he isn't saying. He isn't even hinting.

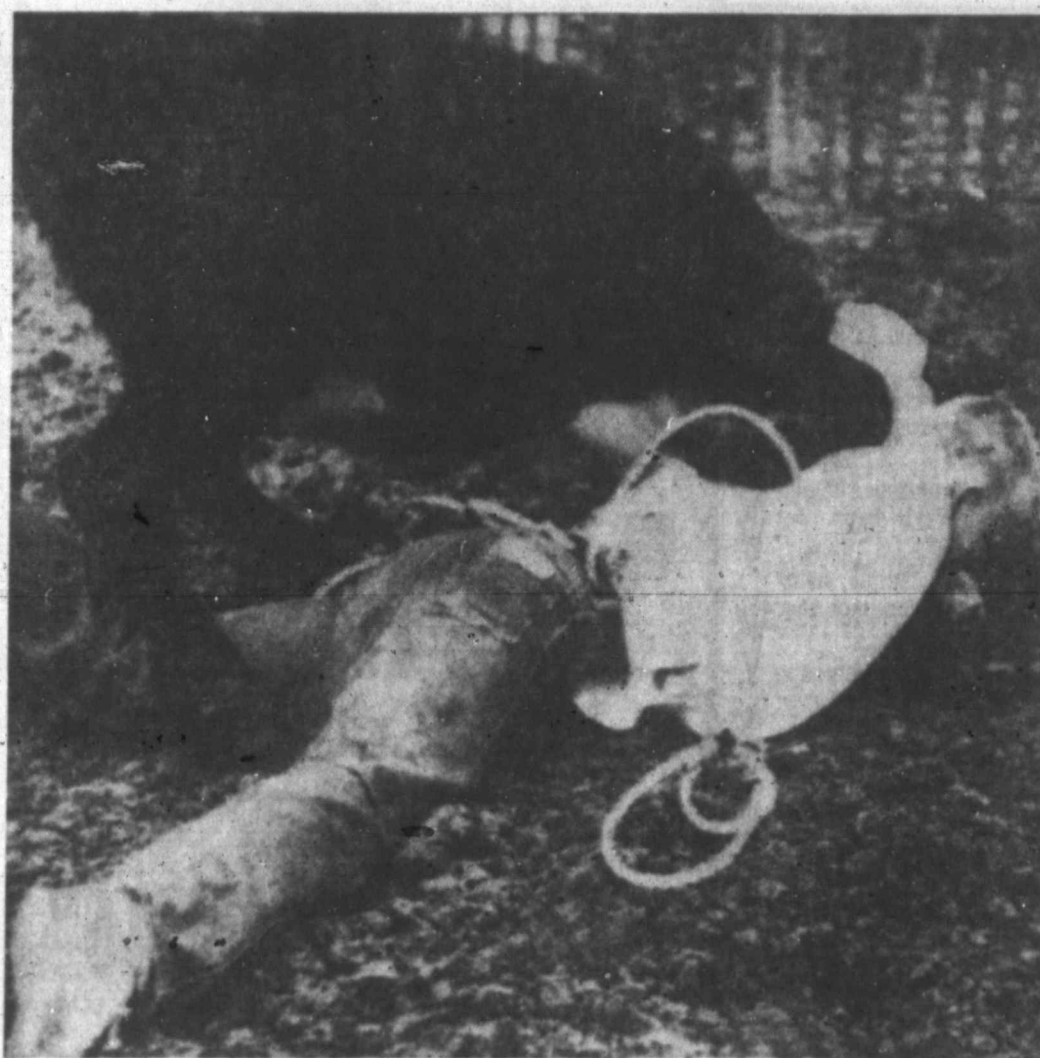

So the guessing game continues, with only one thing certain — by Wednesday night the mantle will have fallen on someone. Like last week and the weeks before that, the names being mentioned most are Minnesota's two liberal Democratic senators, Hubert H. Humphrey and the professor he persuaded to go into politics, Eugene J. McCarthy.

They appeared separately

Sunday night on NBC's "Meet the Press," said separately they had not discussed the vice presidency with Johnson and collectively left little doubt they wouldn't mind being his running mate.

Afterward, they received a telephone call from the White House, spoke separately to the President and appeared jubilant. Quipped Humphrey: "Well, we're both in. He's going to take both of us."

The rumor mills also are working over these other names: California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana.

Who's The Winner?
Alan Nelson, 15, Brady, Neb., might not look like it here, but he got his calf in the annual calf scramble at the Buffalo Bill Rodeo which ended Sunday. Three youngsters are put in the ring for each calf and the ones who are able to get a halter on the wild critters and lead them away get to keep the calf and raise it for future exhibitions. Texans Plan Lone Caucus

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Texas' delegation to the Democratic convention held its first, and probably only, caucus today to firm up its convention plans.

"I imagine we'll probably call the roll to see who is here and that will be about all the business transacted," said Frank Erwin, state party chairman. The 120 Texas delegates, casting 97 convention votes, are pledged as a unit to support President Johnson and all his plans.

Gov. John Connally, delegation leader, said earlier the delegation would "go all the way" with Johnson's selection of a vice president.

The governor and Mrs. Connally were honored at a reception Sunday night in the delegation's headquarters hotel, Hadson Hall.

"We invited 1,000 persons and about 2,500 showed up," a delegation official said.

Those attending got a chance to shake hands with the Connallys, sipped drinks from crowded bars in each corner of the room, and munched from a buffet of rare roast beef, smoked turkey, smoked and raw oysters, fried fish, corned beef and caviar.

Special guests included Carol Channing, who is on the convention program to sing "Hello Lyndon." Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark.; Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.; Gov. Ed Breathitt of Kentucky; and Gov. Albertis Harrison of Virginia.

Tourist Stops

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The first in a planned series of rest stops for tourists has been opened near Saltillo. The Federal Highway Department said the rest stop includes a large sitting room, washrooms, facilities for preparing coffee and some bunk beds.

Longer Terms, Less Politics, Ask Judges

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' appellate justices want more time on the bench and less in politics. This would mean reorganizing the selection system, something most lawyers and judges say is long overdue.

"The weight of logic favors a change," says Robert W. Calvert, chief justice of Texas.

Calvert and Ruel Walker, an associate justice of the Supreme Court, said in separate interviews they favor adoption of the proposed American Bar plan. "It will at least eliminate the guessing game of the general electorate," said Calvert.

Under Texas' elective-appointive system, candidates for an appeals court face a political campaign each six years. Vacancies are filled by the governor.

INACTIVE ROLE

"The real weakness of the system is that... it excludes all of those who either are not in position to give aid to a successful candidate for governor, or who, being in position to do so, prefer an inactive role in politics," Calvert said.

"It is but natural that a governor should limit his consideration of possible appointees to high public office, judicial or other, to those who have been close to him in his political career."

The American Bar plan, adopted in six states, proposes setting up a committee of lawyers and laymen to select a small number of persons from which the governor would be required to select to fill a vacancy. The governor's choice would be subject to Senate confirmation, and later the justice would have to submit himself, without an opponent, to voters for approval.

Gov. John Connally says he is not critical of the present system "beyond the usual feeling that the appellate courts should be further removed from politics."

An associate justice on the Supreme Court from 1948 to 1958, St. John Garwood said he resigned because of a "distaste for purely political pressures of the position."

"No honest judge can have a political platform or make a single campaign promise," Garwood said recently.

Walker, appointed in 1954, has not had an opponent in elections. He says he has "just been lucky" in avoiding a statewide race.

"The cost of one makes you tremble," he said.

1960 RACE

Calvert said he spent about $35,000 in his 1960 race for chief justice against Robert Hughes of the Austin Court of Civil Appeals.

"Once a staunch defender of our present system of selecting appellate judges, I have become convinced that the weight of logic favors a change," said Calvert.

He lists at least six things wrong other than the cost of a campaign, with the elective feature of the present system:

- It tends to reward the candidate with a flair for politics.
- It discourages the candidacy of the quiet legal scholar. —It requires the acceptance of campaign contributions which may eventually prove embarrassing to both the donor and the justice.

—It takes the time of an incumbent judge which should be devoted to the duties of his office.

—Decisions of many close questions are likely to be politically oriented.

—Election is by an apathetic and poorly informed electorate.

Decline Seen In Need For Farm Labor

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department predicts that overall seasonal requirements for farm workers this fall will be lower than last year, largely because of further mechanization of harvesting and smaller crop acreages.

Drough conditions in widespread areas are reducing crop prospects, and this also contributes to the decline in need for seasonal farm hands.

The Agriculture Department had reported earlier that farm employment in June was 4 per cent smaller than a year earlier and the smallest in 34 years of record-keeping.

The Labor Department said the demand for migrant workers, including those imported from Mexico and the West Indies, has been below last year's level. Total hours put in by foreign workers during the past winter and spring was down 9 per cent from a year earlier.

The department said use of foreign workers in Arizona dropped 18 per cent as Mexican labor was virtually eliminated in green-onion harvest work. Produce loading machines proved that a smaller work force could handle the state's melon harvest.

Foreign-worker employment in cotton cultivation fell off 22 per cent in Texas and 17 per cent in Arkansas. In Colorado domestic migrants partially replaced foreign workers in sugar beet cultivation.

About the only crops that might require more migrant harvest workers this year than last are apples and tomatoes for processing. Larger crops are indicated for both.

The department said only 26 per cent of last year's cotton crop was harvested by hand. This year the percentage is expected to be even smaller.

Dies From Crash

GRAPEVINE (AP) — James Patrick Armstrong, 19, died Sunday from brain injuries received in a two-car collision near Gainesville, Tex., Dec. 14. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Armstrong had been unconscious since the accident.

TROUT AND MUDD CBS Gives Preview Of Convention Mainliners

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — CBS had a sort of sneak preview Sunday of its new team of convention anchor-men, Robert Trout and Roger Mudd.

The "break-in performance," as Trout called it, came from a booth overlooking the auditorium where the Democratic National Convention opens tonight. Trout was correct in using a show business term, "performance," because television coverage is closely related to show business and its personalities, to actors.

But the two leads who have succeeded Walter Cronkite in the network's news troupe cannot be evaluated on the basis of Sunday evening's appearances. They merely presided over a news program and there was really no chance to see either in ad lib operation.

However, Trout, a silken-voiced man whose saturnine face belies a quietly droll manner, seems slated to handle the lighter side of convention goings-on. Mudd, good-looking and on the serious, incisive side, seems happier with hard-news approach.

There are about two broadcasting employees working on the convention for every five delegates, and it seemed that all of them were busy Sunday. A viewer could have kept his eyes almost constantly on either the Convention Hall or the Atlantic City boardwalk from noon until bedtime.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota who seems to be everybody's choice for the vice presidential nomination, popped up on the screen almost as often as the commercials.

He was first on ABC's "Discovery" program, followed with a "Meet the Press" quizzing and was scheduled to turn up again on ABC's convention preview, although I missed that. He fielded all questions neatly, praising his party, his President and explaining his philosophy.

With only a few subjects of any real suspense — the President's choice of a vice presidential candidate, and the seating of two Southern delegations — all networks were put to a test in drumming up interest in the events of the next few days.
