New Version Pushed For Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces in the Senate today pinned their hopes for adoption of a Social Security health care plan this year on a revised version of the King-Anderson proposal.

The new proposal was worked out and introduced late Monday after a series of fast-breaking conferences in the office of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Democratic vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey, fresh from conferences with President Johnson in Texas, participated in the strategy meetings.

The revised plan was submitted and made the Senate's pending business by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., who had been sponsoring the original King-Anderson measure as an amendment to a House-passed bill.

It thus will be up for the initial test in the Senate's consideration of the House bill, which would raise basic Social Security benefits but add no health care provisions.

The King-Anderson proposal, pushed by Democrats for several years, would provide hospitalization, nursing home care, diagnostic services and home health visits for Social Security recipients over 65.

Sponsors said a revision of cash benefits in the new plan should give the Senate a stronger bargaining position in the conference with the House if it is adopted in the Senate.

They said also that it should give them a better chance to defeat a rival amendment offered by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Monday in a surprise move.

Long's amendment would provide a 7 per cent increase in cash benefits, instead of the 5 per cent voted by the House. It also would liberalize the earnings test so that persons receiving Social Security could make more money and still not lose their benefits.

The revisions worked out in the administration package would change the 5 per cent boost in benefits of the House bill to a $7 a month increase, raise the wage base to $5,600 instead of $5,400 as in the House bill, and cut the nursing home care under the King-Anderson plan from 180 days to 60 days.

The King-Anderson proposal, pushed by Democrats for several years, would provide hospitalization, nursing home care, diagnostic services and home health visits for Social Security recipients over 65.

FUND GIVEN NEW HOPE

One of the best single days in the history of the Bible Class Fund appeal pumped new hope into the lagging campaign today.

A dozen and a half individuals and church groups contributed $452.70, pushing the total to $1,587.70, or within sight of the halfway mark. A minimum goal of $1,500 must be raised to insure that 100 high school students will have benefit of the credit course in Bible.

LBJ, Mateos Plan Meeting At Chamizal

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Lyndon Johnson and Adolfo Lopez Mateos will meet Sept. 25 in the Chamizal area of El Paso for symbolic ceremony marking the return to Mexico of that border strip of land, the Mexican chief executive said today.

In a speech to Congress, his last State of the Union message, before he retires Dec. 1, Lopez Mateos also:

— Made clear that Mexico will maintain diplomatic and consular relations with Cuba, despite a recommendation by the Organization of American States (OAS) to sever relations with the Castro regime.

— Stressed in a lengthy resume of his six-year administration that Mexico is no longer an underdeveloped nation, stating his regime has surpassed all his promises for economic development.

— Stressed the stability of the Mexican peso and predicted Mexico's "healthy structure and diversified economy" will keep it that way for years to come.

— Predicted the Colorado River salt water problem, which he termed as the only serious one affecting U. S.-Mexico relations, will be solved late this year or by 1965.

— Highly praised the memory of President Kennedy, saying it will always fill a special place among the Mexican people because of the late president's cordial expressions and memorable deeds toward this country.

— Said Mexico will keep on helping Belize (British Honduras) strive for independence, notwithstanding "its own undisputed historic and legal rights" to part of that territory.

Of the meeting with Johnson, Lopez Mateos said it was agreed upon during his conversations with Johnson in Los Angeles in February.

El Chamizal is a 400-acre section in the edge of El Paso claimed by Mexico since the Rio Grande changed course a century ago.

Lopez Mateos said the settlement of this dispute proved his "greatest satisfaction" of six years in office.

Crystal City Officials Fired

CRYSTAL CITY (AP) — City Manager George Ozuna and Police Chief Rey Perez have been relieved of duty by the City Council.

Ozuna was suspended Monday without pay and Perez was considered fired by the passing of a resolution.

Only three councilmen voted. Two arrived too late. All councilmen are Latin Americans.

Justice Officials Say Payoff To Ralph False

Closing Its Books In Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says it has investigated and found to be "without any foundation in fact" an allegation that Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., accepted $50,000 from Billie Sol Estes four years ago.

The department said Monday it is closing its books on the matter. Gordon McLendon, who lost to Yarborough May 2 in Texas' Democratic Senate primary, charged "whitewash."

The allegation that Yarborough received money from Estes was made during the primary by Ernest Keeton, a former chauffeur for Estes. Appearing on a televised campaign program for McLendon, a Dallas radio executive and onetime baseball broadcaster, Keeton said he saw Estes give Yarborough an envelope containing the money on Nov. 6, 1960.

Estes, a West Texas financier, has been sentenced to 15 years on five counts of fraud stemming from his arrangements with farmers for mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer tanks.

FALSE STORY On May 1, the day before the primary, the FBI said Keeton had admitted his story was false.

But McLendon, in a statement released through his Dallas office, said: "The Justice Department used the FBI to rescue Yarborough only 15 hours before voting started in an absolutely unprecedented political use of the FBI."

"Now comes this new attempt to whitewash the senator and I, for one, don't intend to take it lying down."

McLendon said the Texas Department of Public Safety has all the facts and that Gov. John B. Connally Jr. should order their immediate release.

Connally was not available for comment. The Dallas News said Sunday a polygraph test given Keeton by state police affirmed that the Negro former Army sergeant told the truth in a sworn statement to the newspaper that he saw Estes give Yarborough a large amount of money Nov. 6, 1960, in the study of Estes' home at Pecos.

TOLD TRUTH The News said it learned also that the test indicated Keeton told the truth later when he said he repudiated the original statement, while being questioned by FBI agents, only because his life had been threatened.

The Dallas newspaper said it also had sworn statements from Estes and from James Fonville, former Dallas and Midland policeman, that Estes handed Yarborough $50,000 cash. Yarborough asserted on election eve that Fonville had refused to sign a statement for the FBI.

Fonville, in turn, said he refused to sign a statement to the effect he had lied when he offered to sign one repeating what he said originally. He said the FBI was not interested in such a statement.

Homer Garrison, state police director, declined to comment. McLendon did not indicate what further steps he might have in mind. He said Yarborough "should resign and save the state all this embarrassment."

Claim Cuban Radar Blasted By Guerrillas

PANAMA (AP) — Nine anti-Castro commandos have destroyed a Soviet-directed radar station on Cuba's southeastern coast, a Cuban exile leader said Monday night.

Manuel Artime announced his raiders struck from two torpedo boats and that all got away safely.

He said he didn't know whether any Russian or Cuban soldiers were killed during the raid early Sunday morning.

But, he declared: "We have shown that we can pull the tail of the Russians."

Artime said the radar station was defended by a garrison of 150 Cuban soldiers and three Soviet officers. The station was selected, he said, because it was used to detect Cubans fleeing their country by boat, especially those coming from Oriente and Camaguey provinces.

Artime asserted that once the refugees were spotted, speedy Soviet-built patrol boats were sent after them. He said the boats usually were commanded by a Russian and the refugees were always shot to death while crouching in their boats.

He said the radar station and a lighthouse were located on Cabo Cruz, at the western tip of the southern coast of Oriente Province.

Artime spoke at the home of a Cuban friend here in Panama. He said he was leaving Panama for his headquarters in the Caribbean, but declined to say where it is.

Artime, 35, was a leader of the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of 1961.

Ailing Viet Military Boss Hoping To Return Soon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Ailing Premier Nguyen Khanh hopes to return to work in a few days. During his absence, a relative calm has prevailed, but student leaders threaten new mass demonstrations. Communist guerrillas appear to be marking time.

Khanh's health broke during the government crisis last week, and he was temporarily replaced by a civilian, Dr. Nguyen Xuan Oanh, who became acting premier.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor visited Khanh Monday at Dalat, a mountain resort where Khanh went after last week's Roman Catholic - Buddhist rioting. Taylor said the premier expected to return to Saigon within a few days "and resume his formal duties as head of the government."

Two Viet Cong companies ambushed a government patrol in Kien Phong Province Sunday and one American officer was wounded during 90 minutes of fighting. Six Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 11 wounded in the engagement, about 80 miles west of Saigon.

Otherwise, the Viet Cong have shown little activity, but trouble was expected. One American adviser said, "It always takes the Viet Cong a week or so to react and exploit internal trouble on the government side." Intelligence reports estimated that more than 20,000 Viet Cong are gathered in the Saigon area and there were fears they might strike at the capital.

Two other Americans, an officer and an enlisted man, were injured Sunday when their jeep hit a mine on a highway 20 miles west of Saigon.

The newly formed Leadership Council of Saigon students threatened mass demonstrations if the country's three ruling generals appoint men to the promised National Assembly who are unacceptable to the students.

In addition to appointing Oanh, the triumvirate agreed to appoint a representative National Assembly within two months. The assembly is supposed to elect a new chief of state.

Thant Gloomy About Cyprus

GENEVA (AP) — U.S. Secretary-General U Thant said today he saw no hope for a solution of the Cyprus crisis in the near future.

Leaving for New York, Thant told newsmen that after talks here with the representatives of the powers involved in the crisis: "I have come to the conclusion that an agreed solution, at least for the moment, is out of the question."

Thant said he felt U.N. forces should remain in the strife-torn Mediterranean island for another three months after their present assignment ends on Sept. 26, provided that the government of President Makarios wants it.

Willy Brandt commemorated the anniversary by honoring those who died in the conflict.

Maj. Gen. John F. Franklin, the U.S. city commandant, and Brandt laid wreaths jointly at a memorial at U.S. headquarters in West Berlin's suburb of Dahlem.

Brandt took part in British and French ceremonies, then went to ceremonies at a cemetery for war dead from the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Holland in West Berlin. Finally Brandt laid a wreath at a cemetery for Germany's dead of World War II.

In East Berlin, Ulbricht said his government strives for full international recognition, especially by all the Allies who fought Hitler's Germany. He also demanded that his Red-ruled country be admitted to the United Nations.

He spoke for over two hours at ceremonies in East Berlin.

NO RECOGNITION The Western powers refuse to recognize the Communist-run East German government because it was set up by the Russians after the war.

Ulbricht assailed the West German government, asserting it was full of militarists and imperialists ready to risk World War III to regain the territories Germany lost in World War II.

He made it clear that Germany can be reunited only on Communist terms.

In West Germany, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard observed the anniversary by declaring that Germans want nothing more to do with war.

In a radio speech Monday, Erhard said: "The Germans — of this I am certain — have learned from horrible experience and their whole longing is to achieve a true peace."

"We Germans will be specially reminded of the disaster of 1939, which was unleashed in our name by a brutal ruler. We must own up to this historical fact."

Anniversary rallies also were held Monday. The Polish Press Agency said the largest gathering was at Bytom, Upper Silesia, attended by 100,000 persons.

Titan Rocket Blasts Out

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force launched a Titan 3A military space rocket on its maiden test flight today, but lost track of it 13 minutes after lift-off.

The 124-foot rocket blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 10 a.m. (EST). Its goal was to launch its third stage into orbit as a flying launch platform. The platform, in turn, was to kick loose a dummy satellite into separate orbit.

Within minutes, the second and third stages fired right on schedule. But, as the rocket zipped 190 miles over a tracking station in the West-Indies island of Antigua, all radio contact was lost with the vehicle.

The radio blackout occurred just a few seconds before the third stage was to have burned out and inserted itself into orbit.

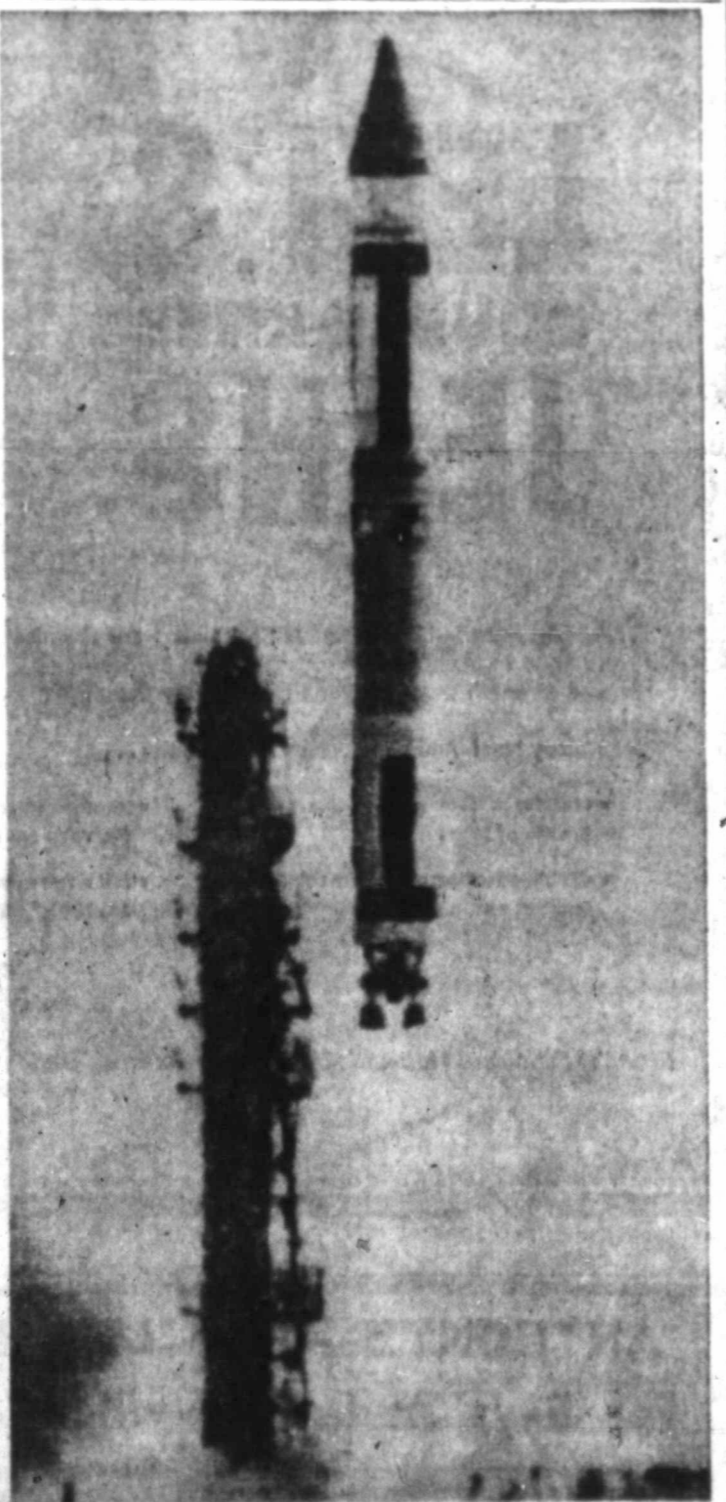

"We just don't know what happened," Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier, Titan 3A program manager, told a news conference later.

He said the blackout could indicate an early shutdown of the stage, which could have knocked out communications.

Bleymaier said that, even if the motor cut off early, the third stage may have achieved enough speed to attain orbit.

He said tracking stations were attempting to locate the vehicle, in case it did attain orbit.

The transtage was to kick loose a 3,750-pound cylinder-shaped satellite as it passed over the Gulf of Mexico at the end of one 100-minute orbit. The dummy satellite was to follow approximately the same orbital path, moving along in front of its orbiting launch platform.

HISTORY'S WORST WAR BEGAN 25 YEARS AGO

Opening Day Of WW II Recalled

BERLIN (AP) — Germans on both sides of the Red wall in this old capital of Hitler's reich today observed the fateful day a quarter of a century ago when the dictator sent his army crashing into Poland, setting off the worst war in history.

On the West side of the wall, it was a day honoring the soldier dead of the World War II Allies, including the Russians. On the other side, an East German rally heard Communist leader Walter Ulbricht ask for full recognition for his regime by all Allies who fought Hitler.

In Warsaw, Polish leaders observed the day with rallies, speeches and mourning in Warsaw and Gdansk, once the free city of Danzig. Danzig was the first to feel the wrath of Hitler's war machine.

FIRST SHOT At 4:45 a.m. Sept. 1, 1939, the German cruiser Schleswig-Holstein fired the first shot of the war, beginning a bombardment of Westerplatte, a small Polish enclave across Danzig Bay.

In West Berlin, the three Western Allied commandants in Berlin and West Berlin Mayor

Willy Brandt commemorated the anniversary by honoring those who died in the conflict.

Maj. Gen. John F. Franklin, the U.S. city commandant, and Brandt laid wreaths jointly at a memorial at U.S. headquarters in West Berlin's suburb of Dahlem.

SOCIALIST CAMP Gierek said Poland's security now is guaranteed by the "material and defensive strength of the entire Socialist (Communist) camp, especially of the Soviet Union."

At dusk in Warsaw Monday night, a solemn roll call of soldiers who died in the early hours of the war was read at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier by Gen. Jozef Dzialada, commander of the Warsaw garrison. After each name, drums beat a funeral cadence and a military honor guard chanted, "They fell on the field of glory."

Polish Defense Minister Marshal Marian Spychalski Monday was permitted to use the Soviet government newspaper Ivestia to remind the Russians it was their secret police who weakened the Polish Communist party on the eve of World War II by killing many of its leaders.

DEAR ABBY

Political Impasse

DEAR ABBY: We have always avoided political arguments with our friends, but in recent weeks my husband and I have been drawn into several. The last was at our home. When my husband learned that our out-of-town house guest, who had been his lifelong friend, was on the other side of the fence politically, he was astounded. A hot argument took place, which ended a friendship of many years. I say a person's political belief, like his religion, is his own business, and should not interfere with friendship. My husband says I am wrong—a person's political belief is an index to his character, and reveals his compassion (or lack of it) for his fellow man. He says he wants no part of friends who support the line of thinking that one political party is now supporting. I would like your opinion.

ART'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If the matter of compassion is clearly evident in one side or the other, your husband is right. And where can one better practice compassion than with a friend? I say, stay in contact, talk it out, be sure of your facts, and don't become emotional. To end the friendship would also end all hope of edu-

Busy Meeting Planned By Water Board

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here Sept. 18 for what promises to be a busy day for at least part of the board.

A meeting of the budget committee will make a last-minute review of figures it will propose to the board meeting which will follow to consider a budget for 1965.

Following the board meeting, three members of the board and Charles B. Perry, Odessa, president, will confer with a committee from the Upper Colorado River Authority concerning interests of the UCRA in a lake which the CRMWD proposes to impound above Robert Lee in Coke County. A time and place for this meeting has not been fixed.

Engineers for the two groups conferred last week on engineering factors to be used in the computation of need for cities which might wish to be served from the new reservoir.

The CRMW committee is composed of J. L. Rhoades, Odessa; Dr. Lee Rogers, Big Spring; and Lyle DeFebach, Snyder, with Perry as an ex-officio member. The UCRA committee consists of Everett J. (Ebb) Grindstaff, Ballinger, Dale Leddy, San Angelo, and Jack Douthit, Sterling City, with Gerald C. Allen, Robert Lee, UCRA president, as ex-officio member.

The Texas Water Commission has set Oct. 19 as the date for a hearing on the CRMWD's application to amend its permit for a lake on the Colorado River to move the site downstream to Robert Lee. CRMWD officials are hopeful of being able to satisfy needs of cities in and out of the UCRA territory but in proximity of the proposed lake prior to the hearing date.

Nearly Complete

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP)—The 1964 cotton harvest in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is about 90 per cent complete. The Valley Farm Bureau reported Monday that 24,488 bales were ginned last week, bringing the year's total to 325,315. Last year at this time, 272,427 bales had been ginned.

BLUM, Tex. (AP)—E. T. Chandler of Granbury was critically burned Monday when the tank exploded as he stood near his gasoline transport truck, which had been inspected for loading. The accident happened at the G. L. Norman Mobil agency.

Unshattered Confidence

H. A. Perry, research materials engineer at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory in Maryland, says submarines made of glass would be much stronger at depths of thousands of feet than the high strength steel used in present deep-diving craft. Perry, shown behind a heavy 33-inch diameter of specially treated glass which will soon be subjected to heavy impact tests, said with new chemical treatment and processing glass can be made to withstand perhaps 100,000 pounds pressure per square inch. Probers Shift Questions Away From CIA Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators shifted their course today after hearing that the Central Intelligence Agency had channeled some of its secret spending through a private foundation. Little was heard of the hush-hush operation beyond testimony that official funds had been spent through the J. M. Kaplan Fund, a tax-exempt foundation. The amount of the money and its destination were not disclosed. The House Small Business subcommittee turns today, instead, to foundations associated with Texas millionaire H. L. Hunt. The brief testimony about CIA funds, brought out from reluctant Internal Revenue Service witnesses Monday, resulted in an hour-long, closed-door ses-

A delicately timed defense, by East and West against South's four spade contract, averted a disastrous swing against the United States in the match with Switzerland at the recent World Bridge Olympiad in New York City. The four spade contract was reached at both tables and, where the Swiss players held the North-South cards, the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram so that South became the declarer. Arthur Robinson seated West for the United States opened the king of clubs in order to inspect the terrain. Robert Jordan, holding the East hand, followed suit with his lowest club, the three. Altho the normal procedure with a doubleton is to high-low when partner leads the king, Jordan felt that it was urgent to cash a heart trick immediately, so he gave his partner a discouraging signal in clubs.

West dutifully shifted to the suit in which his partner had overcalled and East played the ace of hearts. Jordan returned the eight of clubs to Robinson's ace, and the latter led another club. North ruffed with the ten of spades and East overruffed with the jack to score the setting trick.

Observe that it would have done declarer no good to trump the third club with the king of spades, for East would ultimately score the jack of spades as a natural trump trick.

The key play of the deal was the heart switch at the second trick. If East starts an immediate high-low in clubs including his partner to continue clubs, on the third round, South can discard a heart from dummy, thus eliminating his loser in that suit. At the other table where the American team held the North-South cards, the auction proceeded somewhat differently and North became the declarer at four spades. This simplified the defense considerably. East opened the ace of hearts and, when the king appeared in dummy, he made the natural shift to a club, and the final outcome was the same.

Writ Of Habeas Corpus Rejected For Mel Powers

HOUSTON (AP)—Accused slayer Melvin Powers, 27, has been refused a writ of habeas corpus by Dist. Judge Wendell Odom.

The ruling means Powers can be turned over to Florida authorities for trial on a first degree murder charge in the June 30 slaying of Jacques Mossler, 69, Houston millionaire.

Powers will remain in the county jail until the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has ruled on the matter. This will delay his extradition to Florida at least until October.

Gov. John Connally ordered Powers turned over to Florida authorities two weeks ago.

Defense lawyer Percy Foreman delayed extradition of his client by filing an application for a writ of habeas corpus. At a hearing Monday, Foreman contended Powers was being held without legal justification. Foreman gave notice of appeal after Judge Odom's ruling.

A Devotional For The Day

The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple. (Psalms 119:130.)
PRAYER: O Lord, this very moment quicken us by the Holy Spirit and spread light upon Thy Word as we read. May we rightly receive it in our hearts, and find power and assurance, light-and happiness for this day. We bring Thee thanks for hearing our prayers, offered in the name of Jesus, Amen.
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Split And Re-Split

Communist China has served notice that it will boycott the conference called by Russia to plan for a world Communist meeting, adding that if such a conference is held, it will mark "the day of the great split in the international Communist movement."
 This likely will not deter Russia, for the Soviets and Red China appear locked in a contest to exercise control of the world Communist movement. Both are bidding for followers, and neither appears able to command total following. The Soviets seemingly have lost the ability to control affairs in the Afro-Asian area, and this area seems precisely the limit of Red China's influence. Just as neither is able to put the clump on everything, neither is either able to exercise absolute direction within its own nominal sphere. The Soviets are having difficulty in trying to keep the satellites from drifting out of the fold, and concessions (which China calls concessions or softness) are being made in an effort to hold the line. Outside the borders of Red China, the Red diplomats are trying desperately to woo others, notably the African bloc.

 None of this may mean any basic change in the Communist stripe, but it does puncture the myth that everything is peace and light behind the Iron Curtain and that one man can pull a string and make anything happen.

She Left It Brighter

The world is a little poorer for the loss of Gracie Allen.
 For nearly three decades she and her husband-partner, George Burns, delighted the nation with a line of patter which brightened many a day. After one show together, with Gracie getting all the laughs with the straight lines, George rewrote the script and became the straight man. The same format carried them to fame and fortune.
 Gracie had a sort of zany approach to reason, something that utterly bewildered the role of the specie and made him stand in utter awe of female logic. She had a most obtuse way of arriving at a conclusion, the most devious of courses, a veritable reverse English process of thinking. This left one and all with a feeling of water in the head, or a feeling that perhaps the afternoon nap hadn't really ended.

 She knocked a lot of stuffiness out of life, and in its place spread joy. In this day of hate and pomposity, sowing happiness is a priceless talent.

Trade Shows Mean Big Sales

NEW YORK—One of the more sedate forms of show business is becoming a major marketing tool of industry. It is the trade show. Increasingly the accent is on the instant sell.

And the more complicated and competitive the U.S. economy becomes, the more are business firms, large and small, turning to the trade show as a prime way to introduce new products that technology spawns.

SALESMEN say it all stems back to the increasing role that engineers and scientists play in industry.

Before the war there were about 500 major shows a year. This year the Association of National Advertisers expect to see nearly 2,500 trade shows strung across the nation, with more than $50,000 firms displaying their wares, old and new. Dun & Bradstreet estimates the shows will cost a record $3 billion.

An increasing number of products are being sold, or contracted for, right on the floor of the exhibitions by purchasing agents who have taken this way of seeing all, or most, of the competitive products under one roof.

THIS YEAR'S National Motor Boat Show in New York reported $40 million in sales; officials of the International Automobile Show in New York said sales came to $80 million.

Arthur Smadbeck, president of the New York Coliseum where these shows were held, says the three reasons for the rapid postwar expansion of the trade show are increasing complexity of technology, the growth of a large mass leisure market and the spawning of new businesses.

DICTAPHONE CORP. officials say their company participates in from 80 to 100 shows each year, with the exhibits stressing new products.

LONDON (AP)—During debate in Parliament on proposed revisions of a law regulating scrap metal dealers, Lord Mancroft revealed that the law as it now stands provides:

It is a criminal offense in Britain to sell a secondhand anchor to anyone under 16 years of age before 8 o'clock in the morning.

The penalty is a fine of 20 pounds ($56).

What's more, if such a sale is made from premises over which the dealer's name is not written in letters six inches long, the penalty is an additional 10 pounds ($28).

Johnson Can't Control Two Biggest Headaches

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two "turn the water on or off in either case." Even the reasons for the Negro violence and looting in seven different towns and cities in the past few weeks are not clear. They burst after minor episodes, like an argument over a bottle of whisky.

This hardly seemed an excuse for what followed. Perhaps they were truly and purely spontaneous reactions to the accumulated pressures from the frightful living conditions of the Negro in some sections of American cities.

BUT THE RACIAL outbreaks here and the Buddhist-Catholic student riots in South Viet Nam are beyond his reach. He can't PERHAPS THE reasons, since Johnson's support of this year's Civil Rights Act already had alienated segregationists. Negro riots may cost him more votes among whites who are disturbed by the violence for one reason or another.

IN SOUTH VIET NAM Johnson inherited a problem which puzzled Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy before him: How to establish stability in this southeast corner of Asia while working to defeat the North Vietnamese Communists' attempt to take it over by force.

After years of effort, billions of dollars in aid, and loss of more than 200 American lives, the situation there is worse right now than it has ever been. The country seems to be disintegrating.

If South Viet Nam falls apart much further, Johnson will have to decide whether to pull American help and forces out; put American troops into direct action against the Communists; or seek some kind of negotiated settlement.

Not one of the three moves is likely to help Johnson in his election although anyone in his place would face the same problem.

IF AMERICANS pulled out, the Communists would take over. That would put Viet Nam under Red China's wing, with all the rest of Southeast Asia in danger.

Direct fighting by American forces against the North Vietnamese Reds would probably bring on war with Red China.

Any kind of negotiated settlement, which required withdrawal of American forces from Viet Nam, almost certainly would end up in a Red take-over sooner or later.

At this moment Johnson isn't showing signs of being worried. But it wouldn't be good politics if he did.

The Awakening Of An Office

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you ever noticed how a modern business office comes to life each day?

It is something like a zoo waking up. Each white collar peon approaches the daily ordeal of coming to work each morning in a way that inevitably shows what kind of a person he is.

Of course, coming to work is for anyone a test of character, and if you will watch the morning parade to duty in your own office you may find some of the following characters familiar:

THE OPTIMIST—He goes immediately to the bulletin board, hoping against hope that overnight the boss has put up an announcement that everybody has been given a 10-per cent merit raise. When he doesn't find it there, he says, trying to find something to be happy about, "Well, anyway, it's only three more days until Friday."

The Hypochondriac—The first thing he does is go from desk to desk to see if anybody happened to leave a pill there from the day before. Since he doesn't really know what ails him, it is only by taking other people's medicine that he can ever find a cure.

The Senior Vice President—Long years of doing nothing while seeming to be overburdened with cares have made him the best actor in the place.

THE JUNIOR EXECUTIVE—This eager beaver comes in with a briefcase bulging with memos he has written overnight on how to improve the organization. He sends them into the boss, the boss sends them unread into the senior vice president, and the senior vice president fashions the memos, still unread, into paper airplanes and sails them out the window.

The Joy Spreader—"Well, well, well—is everybody happy?" he chirps, as he makes the rounds slapping everybody on the back. Satisfied he has done all that is humanly possible to build morale, he relaxes into his swivel chair and stares at the clock until quitting time.

The Office Grouch—He growls as he hangs up his coat and rolls up his sleeves. For 30 years he has come to work half an hour early so he could spend a longer day hating his fellow workers.

THE NEATER—Upper—Tidiness is his god. "Everything has its proper place," he mumbles as he gets a dust rag and starts polishing his desk. If he finds one of his paper clips is missing, he hopes about it until lunch time.

Mr. Big Himself—The boss, having lost a breakfast argument with his wife, arrives in no mood for cheery hellos. He needs to have his feeling of authority bolstered. A look of unholly joy comes across his face as he looks at the row of buzzers on his desk, each standing for one of his executives.

He reaches gleefully toward the buzzers as he says aloud to himself, "Who'll I scare first?" Another office day has begun—with business as usual.

Around The Rim

It Did Him In

In connection with the little sketch I wrote for this space last week, dealing with an episode I once witnessed in a wild unbridled oil field boom town, perhaps I failed to make one thing clear.

TWO OR three readers have asked about it so I assume I did not clarify myself too well. I said, in the account, that I had been sent to the oil field town to write an account of a particularly brutal murder. The victim, nude, had been left sprawling on a grave in a Negro cemetery. Nearly every bone in his body had been broken.

My sketch of last Tuesday, however, merely mentioned this homicide and went on to describe a brutal fist fight I saw that day in the town. Some readers asked if there was any direct connection between the nude man on the grave and the fight in the abandoned building.

There was none.

WHEN I FIRST reached the sprawling, muddy town, I asked the way to the undertaker's establishment. It turned out to be a small raw pine building with a small office in front and a preparation room, if such a place could be called so solemn a name, at the rear. The undertaker was a fattish fellow, in need of a shave, who was smoking a particularly black and smelly cigar.

The office was separated from the preparation room by a dingy curtain. He pulled it aside and signaled for me to go in.

The victim was stretched out on a sort of wooden bench covered with a rubber sheet. He was a slender, middle-aged fellow, nearly bald, and he had once worn dentures. I have never seen a man so beaten.

THE VICTIM was a barber, the undertaker told me, who had only recently moved to the town. If he had any relatives, they were not known. I then hunted up the deputy sheriff who had been the first man to see the victim. I found him sitting under the canopy of a filling station watching the dreary rain falling on the muddy street. He told me that the sheriff had taken over and had arrested a man for the killing. The sheriff, he said, would be by in a few minutes with his prisoner. I could wait and talk to him if I liked.

THE SHERIFF drove into the station in his car. In the back seat between two other deputies was one of the biggest men I have ever seen. He was close to seven feet tall and built in proper proportion to his height. I have never seen hands so big nor feet so large. He was tied with ropes, but he seemed peaceable enough. I wondered why no handcuffs had been used and I asked the sheriff.

He pulled a pair of cuffs from his hip pocket.

He pointed to the prisoner's tremendous wrists.

"I tried to use 'em," he said. "Trouble was they wouldn't go around his wrist and fasten. I borrowed some rope, and we tied him up."

THE SHERIFF walked to the car and brought out the shattered remains of what had been a single-barreled shotgun. The stock was a splintered ruin, broken entirely free from the breech and the barrel. The long tubular barrel was curved into a sharp arc.

"That's what he used on the barber," said the sheriff. "They got in a row over a bottle of booze, and a fight (if you could call it a fight) followed. This 'guy'—he indicated the monster in the back seat of the car—grabbed this gun and went to work on his opponent. You can imagine what it did to him."

I NODDED. I not only could imagine—I had a very clear memory of just how the victim looked.

Casualties On Both Sides

ATLANTIC CITY—The unruly, rioting Democrats left in their trail here a traffic jam, a mountain of dirty shirts and the uneasy conviction that somehow things had gone very well indeed.

The mood of the departing delegates might be described as sharply stratified and carefully contained optimism.

THE MEDIAN delegate—a statistical impossibility, of course—believes firmly that the Democrats will win in November, and you have to believe him even though he takes his solemn oath that what he is telling you is true. But his faith in victory does not mean that he is carefree. He is worried about the nature of the triumph, its size and shape, its cost and its implications for the future of the party.

One high-ranking Democrat—not so high-ranking as he once was or as high-ranking as he seems destined again to be—put it this way in an unguarded conversation before the 1964 Democratic convention went careening into history:

"THE NOMINATION of Goldwater can work untold mischief on the two-party system and on the Democratic party. Indications now—and they most certainly are subject to modification during the course of the next two months—suggest the possibility of a Johnson landslide on the order of FDR in 1936.

That will mean the Republican party will become vestigial and the Democratic party will become huge, unmanageable, fat and lazy. In appealing to everyone, it will appeal to no one. We expect a lot of Republicans and moderate independents to vote for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket. They will vote for it for a variety of reasons, but it will add up to a coalition dedicated to keeping things pretty much in status quo."

SAVERS OF south are notorious for the inglorious pratfalls they sometimes take, and in politics, moreover, they are not above self-serving predictions that often run counter to what they really think. And the uneasy-landslide school of forecasting can easily be balanced by other professionals who foresee, or claim to foresee, a hardfought campaign ending in a victory that can be measured in the span of a gnat's eyelash.

OUR MEDIAN delegate is serene and confident that neither the civil rights crisis, the gathering disaster in Southeast Asia, the lamentations of livestock breeders nor Hurricane Cleo can deprive their tigers of victory in November.

There is no discernible disposition on the part of the typical party foot soldier to dismiss Goldwater in the cavalier fashion used by the high-ranking Democrat cited above. In the week that was largely devoted to grinding, honing and stropping partisan snickersees, the brave lads marching toward the arena gates have agreed that their foe is a fighter with an instinct for the jugular. Whatever happens in November, they understand that casualties on both sides are to be expected.

It's Different For Each Party

HOMEBOUND FROM CONVENTION—"I see by the Democratic platform," said the Returning Traveler who'd been away for awhile, "that the Birch Society has assassinated a President of the United States, lynched some Negroes and taken up wearing night-shirts and burning crosses."

Well, not exactly, the Returning Traveler was told. The truth-loving, anti-smear Democratic platform only said—

"IT ONLY bracketed the Communist party (which conditioned Lee Harvey Oswald for the murder of Mr. Kennedy) with the Klan (which has a long record of midnight violence) with the Birchers," said the Traveler. "If it isn't an honest grouping, then the Democratic party is beginning the 1964 campaign by a Big Lie technique to fool the gullible voter."

Well, the Traveler had been away so long that he'd forgotten the discount that is allowed to political platforms and candidates.

"Like Barry Goldwater's acceptance speech in San Francisco when he found some 'virtue' in extremism?" the Returning Traveler asked.

OH, NO, he was told. That was different. Goldwater was altogether different from other candidates. When Goldwater came out for "extremism" he was speaking for only a minority within a minority.

During the Atlantic City Convention Columnist Walter Lippmann wrote: "For the only way to undo what was done to the (Republican) party in the Cow Palace is to prove that the Goldwater Republicans are a minority of a minority. And, so as a matter of cold politics, the moderate Republicans, and also the genuine believers in a two-party system, have a stake in an indisputable success for the very broadly-based political consensus which has formed around President Johnson."

"DID MR. LIPPMANN add," inquired the Returning Traveler whose absence had made him a little naive about these matters, "that the same thing is true at Atlantic City? Did he add, out of fairness, that Robert Kennedy, Ted Kennedy and Bull Connor of Alabama also have a stake in the resounding defeat of President Johnson? How can they ever return to power unless L.B.J. is beaten?"

No, no, the Returning Traveler was testily told. He just didn't understand. Things like that aren't supposed to be written about the Democratic party which, as Mr. Lippmann said, was a "broadly-based consensus," whereas the GOP has become just a splinter group that is morally boycotted by many of its leading members.

"BUT ISN'T it equally true," asked the Traveler innocently, "that a whole lot of Democratic leaders also boycotted the Democratic Convention? I went to a party given by the Georgia delegation in Atlantic City, but Senators Russell and Talmadge weren't there and they weren't even in town. Neither Senator Byrd nor Senator Robertson of Virginia attended the convention, and the governors of four Southern states stayed away. Surely, if the press is going to make so much over Republican malcontents, the same emphasis ought to be given to Democratic dissenters. What kind of a consensus has Mr. Johnson got that Mr. Goldwater hasn't got?"

Taxi Tickets

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball Yankees needed more people to attend their games. Taxi drivers deal with a lot of people who might be talked into going to a baseball game.

So, the Yankees gave away 20,000 tickets to cab drivers to spur their interest in the club and presumably start talking it up to their passengers.

Porphyria An Hereditary Ailment

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss porphyria. My grandson has it. Different doctors claim they don't know too much about it as it is practically a new disease. —MRS. G. H.

Well, perhaps not exactly "new." It was first recognized about 40 years ago. It is not common and it is not simple to treat.

There are certain pigments (coloring matter) in the system called porphyrin. If there is some disorder in how the body metabolizes — or handles — these pigments, we call it porphyria. It appears to be hereditary.

Commonest is the acute, intermittent type. There are episodes of severe pain which may be in the abdomen or in the extremities; the patient feels weak and there may even be some paralysis. Occasionally there may be mental disturbance. One of the visible signs is that the urine becomes red.

There is no known cure. The individual has a peculiar response to materials occurring naturally in the body.

The treatment, therefore, is aimed at relieving the pain, and at avoiding conditions which can touch off further attacks.

For relief, tranquilizers (but NOT barbiturates) and occasionally steroids (cortison-type) drugs are used. Barbiturates are known to be a factor in precipitating attacks. Sulfur drugs also should be avoided for the same reason. Both of these drugs should not be used by a person who has had an attack, or might be subject to the disease because a parent is known to have had it.

In addition, heavy — metal poisoning (arsenic, lead and some less common ones) can touch off attacks.

If the skin is particularly affected, direct exposure to sunlight should be avoided.

Although porphyria fortunately is not common, it is a malady that should be suspected when the patient's symptoms are obscure pain and weakness which cannot be explained otherwise.

Headaches? You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet "How to Cope With Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Forsan Club Opens Season

The reading of the club collected by Mrs. Don Murphy preceded the annual breakfast of the Forsan Study Club held at 7:30 a.m. Saturday in the Forsan school cafeteria.

The course of study this year is "Politics—American Style," and the theme was carried out in decorations. A table where the yearbooks were displayed was laid with a white cloth bordered with red, white and blue American eagles, and an eagle served as a centerpiece. Red fruit cups and blue and white china were used for the breakfast.

Mrs. Bill Conger read the constitution and by-laws of the club, and yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Bob Cowley, vice president. The administration theme is "Community Service Is Americanism," while the district theme is "Education Is the Prerequisite for Community Service." Mrs. Cowley outlined the programs and subjects that will be covered during the club year.

Each member was given a folder with a subject that would be used for roll call and a project of the club. At the end of

To Remain In Houston

Mrs. Alma Gollick, who underwent surgery Thursday at the M. D. Anderson Clinic in Houston, was released from the hospital Monday. She will remain in Houston for six weeks while taking daily treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Derrel E. Wall are at home at 2510 29th, Lubbock, following their marriage Aug. 14. The bride is the former Miss Kay LeDora Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Williams, 1612 Eleventh Place, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wall, Tipton, Okla.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father in the Eastside Church of Christ in Snyder. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dick Williams.

The bride was attired in a white satin dress overlaid with Chantilly lace. She wore a pill box hat of satin and lace attached to a veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums and an orchid was styled in a cascade arrangement.

Mrs. Lynda Greenfield, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and Miss Patsy Stanley, Tahoka, and Miss Jan Pounds, Acuff, served as bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of ice blue sat-a-peau and carried baskets of white pom-pom chrysanthemums.

Gerald Wall, Fort Worth, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The groomsmen were Eddie Bull and Bob Arledge, both of Lubbock. Ushers were Gary McWilliams, Vernon; Benjie Greenfield, Snyder; Keith McCormick, Lamesa, Jim Fitts, Dallas; Leslie Scarborough, Kennedy; and Billy Bob Johnson, Childress.

The bride is a graduate of Silverton High School and a 1963 graduate of Abilene Christian College. She was a member of "CSO," "W" Club and an officer in Kappa Delta Pi.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Mexia High School and graduated from ACC in 1963. He was secretary and president of the Knight's social club and a senior class senator. The couple will begin their duties as teachers in the Lubbock Public School system soon.

HOW TO MAKE LIGHT WORK IN THE KITCHEN

Properly planned lighting in the kitchen makes meal preparation easier, more pleasant and more efficient. It helps eliminate little annoyances like misread recipes... dishes (or vegetables) that have to be washed twice. For a well-lighted kitchen you need two kinds of lighting:

GENERAL LIGHTING

... to provide a pleasant level of over-all room illumination without glare or shadowy areas. As a suggestion for the average rectangular kitchen, a 12-inch enclosed ceiling fixture with a 150-watt bulb, or a shielded fluorescent fixture with two 40-watt tubes usually will provide adequate light.

LOCAL LIGHTING

... to eliminate working in your own shadow at the sink, range or work counters. Use over the sink either incandescent or fluorescent lamps, shielded behind a facing board or recessed into the ceiling. A shielded fluorescent wall bracket is recommended over the range. Shielded fluorescent tubes under the cabinets will provide ample light on counter tops.

A Texas Electric lighting specialist will be glad to make specific recommendations for better light in your kitchen and elsewhere in your home.

Deputies Track Down Man On Morgan Ranch

Deputy Sheriffs A. G. Mitchell and Lindy Oldfield made like Indians Monday to track down and capture a man who has admitted he had committed two burglaries.

Plodding wearily over hill and dale, through pastures and across fields, the two deputies persistently followed the footprints of the suspect until they cornered him in a brushy ravine on the Kent Morgan ranch, southeast of town.

Although the fugitive had a rifle and two pistols, he was unable to make an effort to use them and, officers reported, surrendered quietly.

In Howard County jail charged with burglary is John Marvin Peters, 27, who gives 2000 Scurry as his local address. Officers said the man is a drifter and that the Scurry Street number here is not his regular address. He told officers he was an escapee from the Los Lunas, N. M., prison.

Aubrey Standard, chief deputy, said that the hunt for Peters, which took up more than five hours of continuous pursuit, began with the discovery by E. J. Roberts Jr., who lives on Rt. 1, Monday morning that his house had been burglarized. The thief took a rifle, two radios, a pair of combat boots, roast, a cake and a loaf of bread.

Standard said that Mitchell and Oldfield began their work at the Roberts' residence which is north of the Plew Service Station on IS 20. They found some tracks which they began following. On foot, the two officers trailed the fugitive east and south.

Meantime, Frank Parker, with Local 826, IUOE, reported the union hall had been broken into and $55 in cash, $15 in stamps and three soft drinks taken. The union building was on the course of the tracks that Mitchell and Oldfield were painstakingly tracing.

At the union building, the tracks were again picked up and the officers, on foot, plodded across the rugged countryside to the south. The temperature was near 100 degrees and the tracks from time to time were dim and hard to follow.

The trail crossed Lovers Lane Road and the officers picked up the footprints anew in the Kent Morgan ranch. They continued to follow the tracks until they came upon a deep and heavily timbered ravine. They separated at this point to seek new leads.

Mitchell swung to one side of the ravine, and Oldfield to the other. Oldfield worked his way through the brush and suddenly ahead of him say the man they ard reported, that he had walked away from Los Lunas prison, made his way on foot across the White Sands Desert, and had later hidden out in the wooded hill country near Ruidoso. He lived in the woods, he said, by looting cabins and stores.

Recently, he said, he had come back to Big Spring where he claims his mother lives and where he has resided intermittently from time to time.

Sheriff Miller Harris and Standard were high in their praise of the two deputies for their stubborn persistence in tracking down the wanted man. The officers said they were afforded complete cooperation by the city police, the highway patrol and Webb AFB in their efforts.

Oldfield said that at one time, some other officers asked if they could help and the two trackers asked that the volunteers bring them some water. "It was plenty hot and tiring out in the fields," Oldfield said. "That's mighty rough country we were walking across."

"Where are the dogs you fellows used?" he queried.

Mitchell and Oldfield said the man had a canteen of water, two pistols and a rifle, a field pack and other articles. Some of these were not things which had been reported taken from the two establishments here.

"He couldn't believe," Standard said, "that Mitchell and Oldfield had been able to track him the way they did without using bloodhounds."

The missing money from the union hall and the stamps were found on the man, Standard said.

Peters told the officers, Standard

Negro Extremist Quarters Raided, Explosives Found

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The national headquarters of a Negro group was raided by police inside the riot-torn section of North Philadelphia, where quiet reigned today after a weekend of looting and pillaging.

The four-square-mile area still was under tight security, with a 24-hour curfew in effect and more than 1,200 policemen on patrol.

Mayor James H. J. Tate said the restrictions will remain in effect at least until Labor Day. In a statement late Monday night, the mayor said the area was "extremely quiet," with even less activity than normal. "I think we are out of the woods," he said, "but we are still watching the situation."

A squad of 100 policemen made the raid Monday upon Muhammad's African - Asian Cultural Center, two blocks from where the riots broke out late Friday night.

Inspector Millard Meers, who led the raid, said police found flammable fluids used for making fire bombs, a loaded revolver, two bayonets and a knife.

They arrested Shakyh Muhammad, described by Meers as a former member of the Black Muslims.

Muhammad was held in $10,000 bail on charges of violating the Uniform Firearms Act, possession of explosives and violating the mayor's proclamation to stay off the streets.

His attorney, Cecil B. Moore, president of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called the high bail a ransom and said the court had "succumbed to hysteria."

Muhammad, 33, came here from Greensboro, N.C. He has been arrested four times. Muhammad once described himself as a Muslim leader and also said he represented the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice.

The raids came amid reports that the North Philadelphia riots might have been planned. Mayor Tate said, "I believe that it was designed and planned and that something triggered the action. There were too many people ready to go."

Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish said he was convinced the Negro rioting and looting was the work of organized outside agitators.

The rioting and looting caused damages between $500,000 and $3 million, Mayor Tate estimated. He said he would ask federal and state aid to help repair the damage.

YMCA Group Picks Officers

New officers were named for Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Council at a training meeting held during the weekend at Lake J. B. Thomas. The planning session, held at the Clyde Thomas Jr. cabin, was concentrated on rules and presentation of bills to be presented this year at Youth and Government in Austin.

Don White was elected president. Other officers were Nancy Thomas, vice president; Beverly Womack, secretary; Pamela Lurting, treasurer; Lynn Heath, chaplain; and Katy Cochran, reporter.

Program plans for meetings during the year were made by 21 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y officers of the individual groups and four adult leaders.

It was announced that the preliminary legislative session will be held in Big Spring this fall for the first time in several years. At that time, bills will be presented for consideration at the Youth and Government session to be held in Austin in December.

The first fall meeting will be held Sept. 14 with the council convening at 7 p.m. and the individual groups meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA.

Jones Called Up By O's; Koufax Out

By The Associated Press

A bad arm. A strong back. A new face. And an old head.

They belong to four different pitchers, who represent the most important commodity as the major leagues head today into the last month of the season.

The bad arm belongs to Sandy Koufax, the ace left-hander of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who was advised by a doctor Monday not to pitch again this season.

The strong back belongs to Juan Marichal, the ace right-hander of the San Francisco Giants, who passed his physical and was pronounced fit to pitch again.

The new face belongs to Masanori Murakami, a left-handed relief specialist called up by the Giants, who will become the first native-born Japanese to play for an American major league team.

The old head belongs to Sad Sam Jones, a 38-year-old right-hander purchased by Baltimore to bolster its pitching staff in the American League pennant scramble.

Oliva Threatens Half-Dozen Marks

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Oliva, Minnesota's rookie sensation is within striking distance of six American League records for first-year players.

Oliva, whose real first name is Pedro, continued his heavy hitting Monday, lashing a double and a single and scoring the winning run as the Twins edged Washington 2-1 in the only American League game scheduled.

In the only game on the National League program, Maury Wills and Wes Parker, who had one homer between them going into the game, each connected in support of Don Drysdale and powered the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 12-3 victory that snapped St. Louis' winning streak at six games.

Oliva adopted his new first name in 1961 when he borrowed his brother Tony's passport to get out of Cuba. Since he's been with the Twins this year he's learned to adapt himself to American League pitching.

The 24-year-old left-handed swinger currently leads the league in four departments — batting, hits, runs scored and doubles while threatening a half-dozen rookie marks.

Here's the way Oliva and the record-holders compare:

Average — Oliva is hitting .332. Dale Alexander set the AL mark of .343 with Detroit in 1929.

Hits — Oliva has 184. Alexander holds the AL record with 215. The major league record — which may be out of reach — is 223 by Lloyd Waner of Pittsburgh in 1927.

Runs — Oliva has scored 99 times. Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees is the AL record-holder with 132 in 1936. Waner holds the major league record of 133.

Chi-Chi Heads Dallas Field

DALLAS (AP) — It's settled, the Dallas Open Golf Tournament won't have the likes of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lama, Bob Nichols, Gary Player and Ken Venturi.

This would indicate an outburst from officials of the tournament because, with so many of the big names of the game out, the Dallas Open presumably would expect a fall-off in attendance.

But professional Earl Stewart of the Oak Cliff Country Club professed not to be worried.

"We've still got a fine field, the course is in top shape and the interest is good," said Stewart as he prepared to get the tournament started Friday.

Bill Casper, Juan Rodriguez, Mason Rudolph and Mike Souchak, who rate 5, 8, 9 and 10 among the money winners, are in the field.

There also will be 10 players who have won tournaments this year. Rodriguez, Casper and Souchak have won two each.

Amateurs who will play in the tournament were determined Monday with a qualifying round. Jess Voss of Dallas led the qualifiers with a one-under-par 69. Randy Petri of Austin, Don Wilson, Rick Proctor, Craig Raymond and Steve Summers of Dallas, and John Jacobs of Ft. Worth were others making it.

Six amateurs were exempt from qualifying — Ed Hopkins, C. B. Edwards, Chip Stewart and Mike Glover of Dallas, Bill Mulligan of Alamogordo, N. M., and Dick Jennings of Lubbock.

There will be 137 professionals.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports Dialogue:

TOM MILLER, publicity man for the Green Bay Packers: "We can seat 42,327 in our stadium at Green Bay and we don't even offer tickets for sale. We just send out renewal forms. There is no such thing as buying individual game tickets for a Packer home game. In fact there's hardly such a thing as buying season tickets unless you already own the rights. A man in Green Bay died last year and there were six calls to the home where the body lay, wanting to know if his tickets were for sale."

The late baseball great, ROGERS HORNSBY:

"I always got along great with everybody except baseball vice presidents. They always seemed to be second guessing the guys who did the work. All you need in the game is an owner, a general manager and the manager."

BRADLEY MILLS, head football coach at Odessa High School:

"We lost one of our letterman ends, Ed Horn, due to marriage. But I don't think we felt as badly as Bob Clark, the Bronco tennis coach, felt. The girl Horn married was the best double player he had."

GENE OLIVER, handy man for the Milwaukee Braves: "Only way to beat Don Drysdale (of the Los Angeles Dodgers) is to hit the dry side of his spitter."

SID ZIFF, Los Angeles sports writer: "It took just one week for the Los Angeles Rams to revert from champs to clumps. They looked great against the Dallas Cowboys, leading the optimistic among us to go overboard, as usual, and predict a bright future. But the bubble burst quickly against the Browns. The Rams were even worse than ever, if that's possible."

JIMMY CANNON, New York writer:

"Nobody asked me but the middleweights will take good care of Emile Griffith. I'm bored with all those magazine articles explaining why Floyd Patterson continues to fight. . . . When a wife brags her husband enjoys cooking, I feel she doesn't. . . . Rudest of all sports buffs are the galleries at the big golf tournaments. . . . I feel office workers put pencils behind their ears to impress the boss they're busy. . . . Usually the most unpopular guy in any club shakes hands with the people who despise him everytime they meet him. . . . Notice how slowly the girl with the new milk stole walks to her table in a restaurant. . . . Bet me the girl at the party with the clanking costume jewelry will have on open-toed sandals. . . . I expect pigeons to fly out of those women's high hair-dos."

One-time Texan ERNIE BANKS: "The Dodgers' stadium in Los Angeles is a fine one. So is Shea Stadium in New York. But Texas will have the best one when they open the Domed Stadium in Houston."

NORM VAN BROCKLIN, coach of the Minnesota Vikings: "Our Tommy Mason is a better all-around ball player than Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns. He does everything. Blocks, runs and catches passes."

MRS. BABE RUTH, wife of the late Bambino: "I think baseball is altogether different now. It would be hard to put Babe in today's game. He never played right baseball, and I don't know if he'd get used to it or not. Today's players hit for home runs, not the averages. Babe played 22 years and had a lifetime batting average of .342. He was .356 when he hit 60 homers. When Roger Maris hit 61 in 1961, his average was .269. In the long run it's your batting average that raises your salary. Right? When Babe hit his 60 home runs, he hit more than any other club in the league. Hitting home runs is a common thing today. It's really not even a big thrill anymore. . . . It's like Santa Claus every day."

MURRAY OLDERMAN, syndicated writer: "At this stage of the game, if I lived in Milwaukee and wanted to see baseball, I'd be busy organizing trips to Chicago, the nearest big league city."

DON DEVINE, Missouri coach, after viewing films of last year's football loss to Nebraska: "One thing puzzles me. After the game three Nebraska players carried coach Bob Devaney off the field. The rest of the squad carried the officials off."

Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie LeBaron had his undersized shoulder pads dusted off and his bags packed but the phone call from Dallas never came.

LeBaron, the 5-foot-7, 165-pound aerial magician who quit the Dallas Cowboys last December after 11 National Football League seasons, made it known Monday that he would consider returning for another year if his old club, weakened by the knee injury to quarterback Don Meredith, so wished.

The Cowboys however, ignored Eddie's offer and lured another veteran signal-caller, 31-year-old John Roach, out of retirement to meet the emergency.

Roach, who understudied Bart Starr at Green Bay in 1963, belonged to the Packers so the Cowboys traded a future draft choice for his contract. The six-year NFL veteran, who works for an investment firm in Dallas, welcomed a return to the game in the same city.

Healthy Tittle Will Keep Giants At Top

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — As long as Y.A. Tittle stays healthy, the New York Giants have to be a threat to win a fourth straight Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

Despite the exhibition defeats and the trades that disposed of Sam Huff and Dick Modzelewski of the proud defensive unit and Phil King, the Giants' top running back in 1963, Allie Sherman, has a pass-happy club that always will be a long-ball threat.

Always, that is, as long as Tittle stays in one piece. Perhaps an experienced back-up quarterback will be acquired before the season starts. As of now, the chances will fall on rookie Gary Wood of Cornell, an Ivy Leagueer who was drafted as a defensive back.

Tittle has shown no signs of the knee injury that he suffered in the championship game loss to the Chicago Bears last December.

Tittle went out of last Saturday's exhibition against Washington with a similar knee injury, but it was not regarded as serious. Y.A. said he could have returned to the game but Sherman kept him on the bench as a precaution and gave Wood another chance to perform.

The rookie responded by throwing three touchdown passes as against Philadelphia.

Ball control, the Giants will not have, unless they have some more deals up their sleeves. The offense must go strong for the pass to Del Shofner, Aaron Thomas, Frank Gifford or newly acquired R.C. Owens, while Dick James, Alex Webster and Joe Morris chink out a few yards on the ground.

The startling off-season trades of Mo and Huff were followed by two more shockers last week. King went to Pittsburgh, despite a shortage of running backs. Joe Don Looney, drafted No. 1 as a potential runner, was peddled to Baltimore before he ever carried the ball for the Giants.

The reactivation of Andy Robustelli, who had retired as a defensive end, marks a concession to a shaken defensive unit.

Sherman, of course, has the No. 1 passer in pro football in Tittle, the 37-year-old bald eagle who set a league record last year with 36 touchdown passes. Shofner, Gifford and Morrison have been his favorite targets and now Owens, an old San Francisco mate, has been added. Thomas and Bobby Crespi, acquired from Cleveland, have been battling Joe Walton for the tight end job.

Doubt about Webster's physical condition still clouds the backfield situation. If Webster has shaken off the back trouble he will be the fullback, backed by Morrison, and James, ex-Washington Redskins, is the left halfback.

The seventh grade, which opens against Runnels at 5 p.m. in the old stadium, Sept. 10, has the problem of not having played football a year ago and for several weeks the fundamentals of the game will have to be stressed, before the coaches at Goliad can get down to teaching them some of the finer points.

The 33rd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament opens Friday morning with 44 men entered thus far to compete for the prizes being offered. The entry list is expected to soar to 175 by the entry deadline at 6 p.m. Friday.

Local entries continued to trickle in Monday with 13 more Big Spring swingers being added to the tourney. New entries were Benny McCreary, Pat Patterson, N. L. Patterson, Bobby Rutherford, Don Washburn, Ted Hill, Ross Roberts, Son Powell, Elmo Phillips, Tommy Young, Tommy Jordan, Hank Godby, and Wayne Hulme.

Bill Dyer of Wichita Falls and Morris Harrison of Sweetwater have also entered the tournament.

Favorites in the tourney are expected to be Bobby Wright, Robb Smith, Tommy Wilkerson and last year's winner, Jimmy Patterson.

Gift certificates are being given to the winners.

Other veterans in the Rankin line include Sal Aguilar, 130, and Ronald Ivey, 156, ends; Tom Gossett, 148, and Donald Ivey, 156, guards.

The Red Devils are comparatively small but fast and may be too quick for the Bulldogs to contain. The Rankin passing game is considered very good, too, a fact which will complicate matters for the Coahoma line. Winters is especially adept at throwing the long ball.

Ruidoso Downs To Offer Lots Of Loot In 5 Days

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. — Approximately one million dollars in coin of the realm will exchange hands here, Thursday through Labor Day, this week.

The starter, expected to gross in the neighborhood of $500,000 — a good neighborhood to be from — will be Thursday's third annual All-American Futurity Sale of yearlings.

Four straight racing days — Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Labor Day — figure to add something like $100,000 to the total in overnight purse distribution.

The traditional Labor Day classic and history's all-time richest quarter horse stakes, the $302,000 All-American Futurity, on the Monday holiday, is the clincher that figures to push to total money in circulation beyond the five-day period beyond the $1,000,000 mark.

Now ranked as perhaps the world's second or third richest horse racing stakes of any kind, the All-American Futurity purse breakdown produces some indeed interesting figures.

From a total of 288 original nominations at $25 each, periodic sustaining payments as the list of nominees dwindled to 79 final eligibles increased the total to $156,200. Four original "pre-paid" entrants at the bargain price of $1,500 each added another $6,000, with two June 1 supplements at $6,500 producing another $13,000, and four final supplemental deadline payments Aug. 15, at $12,000 each sweetening the pot another $50,000.

Though a total of only 36 survived to reach last Saturday's trials, their starting fee of $500 each swelled the total another $17,000 (two pre-paid eligibles deducted). Interest accrued from two banks at which all Futurity funds were on deposit, added another $5,000-plus, with the management's near $25,000 lump sum boosting the grand total to $302,060.

Now the way the 12 fastest qualifiers will cut up this giant melon in Monday's sixth running of the All-American follows:

To the winner: $134,030; second, $58,973; third, $48,251; fourth, $32,806; fifth, $9,000; sixth, $7,000; seventh, $5,000; eighth, $4,000; ninth, $3,000, and 10th through 12th, $2,000 each.

Vet Team Plays Coahoma Friday

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs are winding up heavy drills for their opening football game of the season, a Friday night engagement with powerful Rankin here.

The Bulldogs, who have showed to advantage in workouts to date under a new coaching regime, have their work cut out for them.

Rankin is one of the favorites in District 8-A. Coach Don Leach has seven offensive starters back from last year, as well as seven boys who played regularly on defense. The 1963 Red Devils won five, lost four and tied one.

Rankin has a total of ten lettermen in camp, including four two-year veterans. One of the boys who has already won two numerals is quarterback Roy Winters, who coach Don Leach feels is one of the finest backs in West Texas.

Rankin are Robert Brummett, 157, and David Zoller, 160, halfbacks; and Kellam Colquitt, 150, fullback. Colquitt is only a junior.

The latter may divide time at the position with Gary Upham, a 170-pound sophomore up from the B team.

Other veterans in the Rankin line include Sal Aguilar, 130, and Ronald Ivey, 156, ends; Tom Gossett, 148, and Donald Ivey, 156, guards.

The Red Devils are comparatively small but fast and may be too quick for the Bulldogs to contain. The Rankin passing game is considered very good, too, a fact which will complicate matters for the Coahoma line. Winters is especially adept at throwing the long ball.

Rankin will again operate off the T with an unbalanced line. Biggest man on the Rankin team isn't a starter but can be expected to see a lot of action. He is Kenneth Brown, a 214-pound junior tackle.

Playing back of Winters, if he needs help, will be Don Brown, 115-pound junior.

Goliad Opens Grid Practice

Jack Tayrien, head coach of Goliad Junior High School, had 148 boys report for football practice when the first day of workouts opened Monday at the south-side school.

The biggest turnout was in the seventh grade as expected, 60, while 47 boys showed up in the eighth grade and 42 youngsters turned out in the ninth grade. These numbers are expected to drop slightly in the first week due to dropouts.

When the eighth and ninth graders open against Snyder Lamar there at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. respectively, Sept. 10, it will be anyone's game, according to Tayrien.

"We'll be going into this first game cold turkey," Tayrien said Tuesday. "It's going to be who can get to those games with the mostest and score the firstest. We won't know anything about them and they're not going to know anything about us. It'll be two or three games before we begin to know what kind of personnel we've got, and until then we're just going to have to struggle along."

The ninth graders showed up for the first day Monday badly out of shape, said Tayrien, and they looked ragged in all areas of the game. No boy stood out. The eighth graders had the same problem, being out of shape from a summer's slackness, and running exercises were stressed. At the moment, Tayrien said he had only four or five boys who are really going to help with the rest of the squad having to show considerable improvement.

The seventh grade, which opens against Runnels at 5 p.m. in the old stadium, Sept. 10, has the problem of not having played football a year ago and for several weeks the fundamentals of the game will have to be stressed, before the coaches at Goliad can get down to teaching them some of the finer points.

Meet Deadline 6 P.M. Friday

The 33rd annual Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament opens Friday morning with 44 men entered thus far to compete for the prizes being offered. The entry list is expected to soar to 175 by the entry deadline at 6 p.m. Friday.

Local entries continued to trickle in Monday with 13 more Big Spring swingers being added to the tourney. New entries were Benny McCreary, Pat Patterson, N. L. Earl Flagen moved to Bryan with his parents. Flagen, a junior who started for the Buffs a year ago on both offense and defense, was being tapped in pre-season picks as an all-district performer at quarterback.

Big Loss

The Garden City Bears, who are heavily favored to take the district grid title in 6 (eight-man) and to possibly go undefeated in 10 games, had their football hopes given a crushing blow recently when Earl Flagen moved to Bryan with his parents. Flagen, a junior who started for the Buffs a year ago on both offense and defense, was being tapped in pre-season picks as an all-district performer at quarterback.

Mrs. Monteith Dies Monday

Mrs. Alice E. Monteith, 83, of 911 Abrams, died at 1 p.m. Monday in a local hospital following a three months illness. Services were set for 4 p.m. today in the Rosewood Chapel, with the Rev. James Renfro officiating, assisted by the Rev. Eldon Cook. Burial was to be in the Salem Community Cemetery, under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. The family suggested church missions for memorials.

Mrs. Monteith was born Aug. 23, 1881 in Bexar County. She was married to George Monteith Feb. 26, 1901 in Big Spring, and he preceded her in death in 1941. She was a charter member of Westover Baptist Church, and was active in all church work. She taught a Sunday School class until she was 81.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Doris Webb, Big Spring; a sister, Mrs. Ed Martin, Big Spring; three brothers, Earl Edens, Big Spring, Frank Edens, Buchanan Dam, Joe Edens, Marble Falls; four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Pallbearers were Fisher Tynes, James Abbe, J. R. Gould, Henry Satterfield, and Leon Massey.

Strong Italy Communist Party Wobbly After Death Of Chief

ROME (AP)—Loss of the towering leadership of Palmiro Togliatti has sent Italy's powerful Communist party into a wobbly orbit.

The next year may determine whether the biggest Red satellite party of the Western world drifts closer to Moscow or breaks further away.

Either trend could have an effect on other Communist parties of the West, and have repercussions in the future of Italy's own center-left government.

Although Togliatti had strung along reluctantly on destalinization, the "cult of the personality" continued in Italian communism until Togliatti died.

He ruled the party unchallenged. His followers called him "Il Migliore" — The Best. He built the party to such strength that he could speak with authority even in Moscow.

Not one of his lieutenants can step comfortably into his shoes. The day after Togliatti was buried the party secretaryship was turned over to austere, unsmiling Luggi Longo, onetime co-leader of the International Brigade in Spain. He had been Togliatti's right-hand man from the start and faithfully followed Togliatti's line.

He was called "Il Gallo" — The Rooster — but he was always a weak crower. Even his friends admit he is not much of a public speaker. He lacks the dynamic oratory with which Togliatti held his party congresses in line. Unless he can command the near 100 per cent backing of his party which Togliatti had, his voice in Moscow would lack Togliatti's authority.

Longo openly admitted he could not replace Togliatti and indicated that he would largely be a first among equals in a collective leadership, at least for the present.

There will be a lot of behind-the-scenes political talk in the Italian Communist party's 24,000 cells between now and next year when its national congress must vote on the leadership.

Several likely candidates for the secretaryship are much younger than Longo, who is 64. At least some of them will be making a strong bid to take command.

NEAPOLITAN
Closest to Togliatti's position is Mario Alicata, 46, director of the party's newspaper L'Unita. Another strong candidate is Giorgio Amendola, 56, a Neapolitan. Like Togliatti he would back Premier Khrushchev in the quarrel with Peking. Like Togliatti he has objected to Khrushchev's idea of airing the quarrel in an international Communist meeting. But Amendola is a proponent of even greater autonomy from Moscow than Togliatti had advocated.

Far to the left is Pietro Ingrao, 47; his faction had little hearing while Togliatti held the reins. He has favored an uncompromising, tough stand similar to that of the Chinese Reds.

Not out of the picture is Giancarlo Pajetta, 50, the orator of the party turns loose in Parliament when it wants to blast out with both fists. Pajetta lambasted the Chinese at the party's congress in 1962. Up to then most Communist criticisms of Peking had been aimed indirectly, hitting pro-Chinese Albania.

Pajetta blurted out in the presence of Chinese observers: "We don't need to call you Albanians. We can call you Chinese."

Although he is anti-Peking,

Pajetta is no moderate. He stands for a two-fisted, fighting communism.

On his last visit to the Soviet Union, where he died of brain hemorrhage in the Crimea, Togliatti had hoped to see Khrushchev for one more appeal not to risk an open split in communism by the international conference over the Moscow-Peking quarrel.

INDEPENDENCE
Togliatti had spoken out in praise of some forms of Communist independence from Moscow, such as President Tito's in Yugoslavia.

But Longo will need all the support from Moscow he can get if he is to keep younger challengers from taking over the party.

Others of the prospective leaders might draw the party farther from Moscow.

Pietro Nenni's Socialist party and Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists now are partners with the Christian Democrats in a center-left government. Some of the Socialists would like to see the Communist party ease into the government through a broadening of that alliance — but not while the Communists are under too close control from Moscow.

In largely Roman Catholic Italy, Togliatti's moderation eventually brought an apparent relaxation in Vatican attacks on Italian Communists — but the Pope denounced atheist communism by name in his first encyclical earlier this month.

Still, when Togliatti fell gravely ill the Pope prayed for his soul, and the Communist party officially thanked the pontiff for his prayers.

Boosters Meet
Band Boosters Club of Big Spring High School will meet tonight at 7:30 in the school's band room. The executive board of the club will meet at 7 o'clock. All members and anyone interested in aiding the club's work this school year is asked to be on hand.

the quarrel with Peking. Like Togliatti he has objected to Khrushchev's idea of airing the quarrel in an international Communist meeting. But Amendola is a proponent of even greater autonomy from Moscow than Togliatti had advocated.

Far to the left is Pietro Ingrao, 47; his faction had little hearing while Togliatti held the reins. He has favored an uncompromising, tough stand similar to that of the Chinese Reds.

Not out of the picture is Giancarlo Pajetta, 50, the orator of the party turns loose in Parliament when it wants to blast out with both fists. Pajetta lambasted the Chinese at the party's congress in 1962. Up to then most Communist criticisms of Peking had been aimed indirectly, hitting pro-Chinese Albania.

Pajetta blurted out in the presence of Chinese observers: "We don't need to call you Albanians. We can call you Chinese."

Although he is anti-Peking,

INDEPENDENCE
Togliatti had spoken out in praise of some forms of Communist independence from Moscow, such as President Tito's in Yugoslavia.

But Longo will need all the support from Moscow he can get if he is to keep younger challengers from taking over the party.

Others of the prospective leaders might draw the party farther from Moscow.

Pietro Nenni's Socialist party and Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists now are partners with the Christian Democrats in a center-left government. Some of the Socialists would like to see the Communist party ease into the government through a broadening of that alliance — but not while the Communists are under too close control from Moscow.

In largely Roman Catholic Italy, Togliatti's moderation eventually brought an apparent relaxation in Vatican attacks on Italian Communists — but the Pope denounced atheist communism by name in his first encyclical earlier this month.

Still, when Togliatti fell gravely ill the Pope prayed for his soul, and the Communist party officially thanked the pontiff for his prayers.

Ring Of Rustlers Believed Broken

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Southeast Texas authorities arrested three men Sunday in a car containing the hide and meat of a freshly butchered 900-pound steer.

The trio was believed responsible for recent cattle rustling in the Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange area.

Police said apparently the thieves would stop by the roadside, shoot one steer, and haul it to a wooded area to be cut up. Several heads have been reported missing.

Charges against the three men were expected to be filed today at Jasper.

Puzzle of Monday, August 31, Solved

Miss O'Brien

The top fashion look . . . pockets that show . . . as here, on a slender shaft of a dress of imported Italian rayon, silk blend that resists wrinkling dependably. Marvelous colors, too: Red, pecan, beige, heavenly blue. 10 to 20 sizes.
