Auto Strike Called Off

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached a dramatic last-minute agreement today on a precedent-setting contract which includes pensions of up to $400 a month and improved health benefits. The three-year contract, reached a scant 55 minutes before a scheduled 10 a.m. (EST) nationwide strike by Chrysler's 74,000 UAW members, was termed by union President Walter Reuther as "the most historic agreement in the history of the American labor movement with respect to pensions and security for workers."

which calls for an over-all economic package averaging 54 cents an hour for each worker during the three-year life of the agreement. Reuther was not specific on how the new contract would affect straight wages. He indicated the annual improvement factor would remain the same — an increase of 2 1/2 per cent of 6 cents hourly, whichever is greater — with a possible increase in the third year of the contract. Other provisions included an increase in retirement pension benefits, two additional holidays, increased vacations, and improved hospital and medical benefits for workers and their families. On the issue of improved working conditions — which the UAW had described as one of its priority demands — the contract increases the daily relief time for each worker from 24 minutes to 36 minutes.

India Premier In Struggle With Leftists

NEW DELHI India (AP) — Deserted by some members of his own party, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is in deep political trouble just three months after assuming the leadership of India. The nation's stability will depend on how well this shy, unassuming man fights back against Communist-led opponents of his government and how well he handles a food crisis affecting millions. Trouble has been mounting rapidly since Shastri succeeded the late Prime Minister Nehru June 9 and then in August fought back from a disabling heart ailment. Shastri's prestige and position within his own ruling Congress party took its heaviest blow yet Tuesday. The party's state government in the southern Communist bastion of Kerala collapsed on a no-confidence motion the Reds rammed through the legislature. In New Delhi, a united front of Communists, Socialists and right-wing Hindus stepped up their attack on Shastri's food policies. Parliament will vote next week on a motion of no confidence against the prime minister. The Congress party's big majority assures the defeat of the motion, but Congress members themselves were voicing some of the harshest criticism hurled at Shastri. Congress member A.C. Guha of West Bengal declared the nation's reserves of food grains are gone and the food situation is the worst since the great Bengal famine killed millions in 1943. The prime minister's opponents in the party hierarchy are grumbling that he is not tough enough to control the situation. This was the main argument of rightwinger Morarji Desai when he contested the selection of Shastri as Nehru's successor.

Dora Smashes Into North Florida Coast

Welcome Aboard High school youngsters rest on the floor of the school auditorium where they took refuge from Hurricane Dora at Cape Kennedy, Fla., early today. A welcome sign for new students and the school mascot, an imitation tiger, dominate the scene. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Jacksonville Luck Finally Runs Out

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Dora, still a hundred miles offshore, sent 76-mile-an-hour winds thundering through the ancient streets of St. Augustine today and began lashing at the "charmed city" of Jacksonville. Whipping the Atlantic Ocean with 115-mile-an-hour fury, the giant storm, which had indirectly taken three lives, thrashed slowly toward the northeast Florida coast at eight miles an hour. First advance gusts of hurricane force to reach shore knocked out telephone service to Marineland, a tourist spot 20 miles south of here noted for its collection of living sea creatures. By 10 a.m. (EST), gusts of 76 miles an hour were ripping into St. Augustine and waves were beginning to break over the seawall into Bayfront Parkway, a main tourist thoroughfare in the nation's oldest city. At the same time, Jacksonville was feeling the first blows of wind and sea. The city of 250,000 never has taken the full impact of a big hurricane.

POWER LINES Tide and wind arrived at Jacksonville at the same time. Gusts of 63 miles an hour snapped a few power lines. Waves began to crash over the seawall at Jacksonville Beach. Hurricane warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., to Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings with a hurricane watch were extended northward to Myrtle Beach, S.C. Eastern Air Lines canceled its flight today from Philadelphia to Jacksonville, Daytona Beach and Melbourne, Fla. The flight was terminated at Washington. Thirty miles north of St. Augustine, the city of Jacksonville braced for what could be the first head-on blow by a hurricane in its history. A five-foot tide topped by crashing waves rolled into the beach along the ocean side of a narrow peninsula just across Matanzas Bay from St. Augustine.

STACKED UP Another hurricane, Ethel, was "stacked up" in the Atlantic, like an airliner over a crowded airport, apparently waiting for Dora to land before making her own move. Ethel, with winds of 80 miles an hour, has remained almost stationary for several hours 250 miles south-southeast of Bermuda and almost due east of Dora. The St. Augustine peninsula was almost entirely evacuated by its some 3,000 residents late Tuesday and early this morning, many leaving via National Guard trucks and public school buses. "There will always be some people who will refuse to move," said city Civil Defense Director Fred Lillis. "All we can do is let them stay."

WIDE AREA Hurricane and gale winds raged over 200,000 square miles of the Atlantic — an area 50-

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — It's an unusual hurricane season for Florida this year. Florida has never had two hurricanes hit as close together as Cleo and Dora, at least as far back as Weather Bureau records go. Cleo smashed into Florida Aug. 28 and Dora hit 10 days later. The nearest double hurricane blow on record was in 1947 when one struck on Sept. 18 and another Oct. 12.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — While thousands were fleeing Hurricane Dora, three Denver College students drove nonstop for 24 hours from New York just to see the storm. They obtained a room in the otherwise empty 30-year-old St. Augustine Beach Hotel. "We're determined to sit out the storm," said Maxwell MacMaster, 22, of Brooklyn, N.Y. With him were Ed Jennings, 22, of Plainfield, Ill., and Mark Muehler, 22, of Mokena, Ill.

Mass In English For Conventioneers

The second-day sessions of the annual convention of the National Council of Catholic Women, San Angelo Diocese, opened at 7:30 a.m. today with an English Mass at the Settles Hotel. Registration for the convention included over 250 women of the churches of five Deaneries, and about 30 clergymen. The meeting will end following a business session today at 2:15 p.m. when new officers will be elected and installed, and a site for next year's convention chosen. The Rev. James O'Donoghue of Miles, moderator for the San Angelo Diocese, read the new English form of Mass. It has replaced the Latin form which has always been used, and will soon be adopted throughout the United States.

Workshops, in English and Spanish, covering personal, family, community and world apostolates, similar to those held Tuesday, began at 10 a.m. today and ran until noon. All these involved the work requested of lay men and women.

A luncheon, highlighted by a style show, was held from noon until 2 p.m. today. Jo Ann Forrest was narrator for the show put on by Hemphill-Wells. The style show was intended to show how a well-dressed lay apostolate should appear, according to the family budget and the climate. All ages of the family were used, as well as all sizes—from small children, to teenage and matrons.

At last night's banquet, given by the Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society, the speaker was the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roy Rihn, of San Antonio's St. Pius X Church. His theme took in the work of laymen, both men and women, in personal, family, community and world events. His talk was geared to the concern all should feel in local, state and national politics, as well as the moral and religious images of the peoples of the world. He placed emphasis on the necessity for all the natural expansion of a person's life in Christ, pointing out that apostolate activity is not just a spiritual luxury.

BIBLE FUND SHOWS RALLY

Friends of the high school Bible Class rallied today with $270 in total gifts to put the campaign within less than $900 of its goal. However, the formal appeal closes with the end of this week and it is going to take three days equal to today's total to approach the minimum of $3,500 needed from voluntary sources to assure 100 pupils a full year's instruction. Included in latest gifts was $100 from the American Business Club, making the fourth of the service club groups which have joined in support of the fund. Other donors included: Elizabeth McDowell Class, First Presbyterian (memory), Mrs. L. H. Stetter, $50.00; Men's Bible Class, First Methodist, $15.00; Harvesters' Class, First Christian, $10.00; Curtis Miller Class, Kentwood Methodist, $25.00; Emily Andrews Class, First Baptist (memory), E. O. Williams, father, Mrs. Wayne Bonner, $5.00; L. D. Grice, $10.00; Hill Woollens, $10.00; Mrs. John Hodges, $10.00; American Business Club, $100.00; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert G. Smith (memory), H. H. Seyvers, A. P. Kisch, $5.00; Wesley Methodist Men's Fellowship, $20.00; Mr. and Mrs. Wayman F. Clark, $5.00; Mrs. Edward McCormick, $2.00; Dorcas Class, Wesley Methodist, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. McRee, $10.00; Previously acknowledged, $249.70; TOTAL, $249.70.

Mississippi Move Boosts Goldwater

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The 1964 state Democratic convention — which has been in recess — convened here today to cast party lines aside and insure a Republican presidential victory in the state. Such a move will be accomplished by endorsing a slate of electors under the regular Democratic label and pledged to the Johnson-Humphrey ticket. The reason such a simple, normal move will virtually assure Sen. Barry Goldwater of the state's electoral vote is because conservative Mississippi will have a clear choice. Until Tuesday night, a move was under way to get the convention to endorse "Democratic electors for Goldwater," a plan which would have resulted in a third ticket.

UF GETS 1ST GIFT

The United Fund hasn't kicked off the current campaign, but it has its first contribution. Lester Morton, campaign chairman, went to the campaign offices Tuesday and handed in his personal contribution, which incidentally, represented a good increase. When asking others to give the united way, he said he felt he ought to set a good example.

MEANWHILE, organization of the campaign structure continues, and reports indicated that division leaders and captains were rapidly filling their manpower requirements. Gov. Paul Johnson, titular head of the state party, however, announced Tuesday night he would work to have the reconvening convention endorse a slate of "Loyalist" electors for Johnson-Humphrey. The third ticket idea was dropped after

CITY COMMISSIONERS EXPRESS ENTHUSIASM

Downtown Parking Discussed

City commissioners expressed enthusiasm and informal encouragement Tuesday night for a possible new parking area for the downtown section, after hearing proposed steps to bring into reality a parking improvement program suggested by a group of downtown businessmen. The discussion involved possible purchase of the old First National Bank property on Main Street, clearing the area, and making it an off-street, non-metered parking area. No formal agreements were made in the Tuesday night session. Cost of the property would be almost $100,000, Swartz told the commission. He said pledges had already been received from downtown business interests of some $70,000 toward the project's cost. "Now is the opportune time to do something about this," Swartz said. "We have more financial, moral and civic support than we ever have had." Under the proposal, the merchants would have an assessment of two-thirds of the ad valorem taxes on their properties, Swartz said. He emphasized that the parking lot should be only one phase of a broad program for the rejuvenation and improvement of the general downtown area. Discussion also focused on a similar downtown improvement project carried out by Grand Junction, Colo., which was named an "All-American City" in 1952. The project there, termed "Operation Foresight," included turning the main downtown street into a semi-plaza, with an S-curved street bordered by concrete walkways and brick planter areas containing trees, flowers and shrubs. A group of local businessmen will fly to Grand Junction Thursday to see the completed project there and obtain further information. City Manager Larry Crow told commissioners that Marvin Springer, city planner, would discuss the project with the two groups after the Grand Junction trip. FIRST CLASS "We want to see Big Spring do a first class job," Swartz said. "We don't think this should stop at just one phase." Concern was expressed that a broad program for improvement of the downtown area be mapped out, rather than planning a single project. A map of the proposed parking area was presented to commissioners, prepared by city engineers, which would include spaces for 64 cars, with 90-degree parking. The number is the maximum amount of cars which could be parked on the lot area, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard told the commissioners. Two openings would be included onto Main Street and two into the alley behind the lot. Concerning the Grand Junction project, City Manager Larry Crow told the commission a non-profit corporation there buys property, sets it up as a parking lot, with city revenue from meters in the downtown area going into a fund to purchase the property. The lots themselves do not contain meters. The proposal here would be for non-metered off-street parking. "It wasn't only the parking

Sally Whips Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Sally lashed the northern Philippines today with winds up to 200 miles an hour. The typhoon cut through the Babuyan Channel north of Luzon Island on its way into the South China Sea. There were no immediate reports of damage from the isolated area. Sally's fringe winds struck south Formosa, but no damage or casualties were reported. Refugees from Red China reported in the Portuguese mainland colony of Macao that Typhoon Ruby killed more than 20 persons and injured 100 others in Communist country inland from Macao. The refugees said the storm, which swept Red China's Pearl River delta Saturday, also caused severe flooding in many parts of Kwangtung Province. Ruby killed 41 persons and injured 300 in the British colony of Hong Kong.

Installation Held For Legion Unit

New officers were installed Tuesday evening for the American Legion Junior Auxiliary when it met in the Legion Hut. Cmdr. Tim Jones was installing officer.

The new chairman is Judy Dunlap. Serving with her will be Nona Prescott, first vice chairman; Karen Barsamian, secretary - treasurer; Brenda Jones, chaplain; Rosa Marie Mentzer, historian; and Debbie Miller, sergeant at arms.

The new chairman and the outgoing chairman, Brenda Jones, were presented corsages of white carnations and Miss Jones gave a gold chrysanthemum corsage to Mrs. Tim Jones, who has served as advisor to the junior group. Gifts of appreciation were presented to the outgoing officers.

Forty-seven parents and friends joined the new officers during the social hour when refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of red roses. Other tables were decorated with bud vases holding a single red rose.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. G. Littlejohn, Mrs. Foy Dunlap, Mrs. N. A. Rickman and Mrs. Jo-lyne Miller. An out-of-town guest was Joseph Maenner Sr., Baltimore, Md.

The next regular meeting of the group will be at 7 p.m., Sept. 22.

Pound Rebels Fill Slate Vacancies

The TOPS Pound Rebels named Mrs. William Harp as treasurer and Mrs. Walter Trim as parliamentarian at the Tuesday meeting held in the Permian Building.

A total weight loss of 14½ pounds was noted by the 10 members present. A farewell was extended to Mrs. J. P. Basham who is moving to Hobbs, N.M.

Following the business session, the group adjourned to the home of Mrs. E. G. Runstron, 212-B Hunter, for games and refreshments.

Forum Plans Texas Theme

Mrs. W. W. Lansing, president of Spoudazio Fora, launched the group on a program study, "A Texan Looks At the World," at the initial fall business session and salad supper held Tuesday evening. Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Silver Heels, served as hostess and was assisted by Mrs. Bill Coleman.

The study club made plans to sell Christmas cards with the proceeds to be used for the welfare project for needy children. Also, distribution of clothes was planned for the youngsters.

A review of the constitution was given when year books were distributed and committee heads and appointive posts announced.

Appointive officers are Mrs.

Richard Patterson, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. M. Hill, historian; Mrs. Ennis Cochran, reporter; Mrs. Oliver Cofer, federation counselor; and Mrs. Don Farley, critic.

Committee chairmen were Mrs. Hulan Harris, telephone; Mrs. James Jones, project and welfare; Mrs. H. O. Hudgins, constitution; Mrs. Coleman, hospitality; Mrs. Dudley Jenkins, membership; Mrs. R. O. Clark, finance; Mrs. Dickens, program; Mrs. Lansing, press book; Mrs. Hulen Harris, scrapbook; Mrs. Coleman, secret pal; and Mrs. H. O. Hudgins, courtesy.

Guests were served at a buffet table laid with an ecru lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and gold snapdragons and carnations.

Fall Festival Set Saturday

"A Little Bit of Mexico" will be transplanted to 605 N. Main Saturday afternoon when local residents are invited to participate in the second fall festival at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

The first festival was held this time last year as a concentrated effort to provide funds for the restoration and refurbishing of the church. Built in 1910, the stone church has been improved as a project of the Altar Society with assistance from the Men's Club.

The first improvements were made in the sanctuary which was re-painted and carpeted. Side altars and pews were re-finished and confessionals were air conditioned. The beauty of the small church was heightened by brightening the colors of statues and stations of the cross. After the beautification of the sanctuary, the church basement was the next consideration. A new ceiling and floor covering were installed, along with mahogany paneling and dividers to separate the space into different activity areas. The modern kitchen boasts two new stoves and an electric cooker as well as durable cabinet tops which provide working space.

As the sanctuary is the heart of worship services, the lower room is the hub of all other church activities. It is here that a Mexican supper will be served Saturday afternoon, beginning at 4:30 p.m. During the summer months, it has provided space for a sewing class where young girls have created the colorful, stuffed animals and other items which will be used as prizes in some of the festival game booths. In the winter it can be used for meetings, games or instruction.

The Saturday festival will feature numerous games including darts and a fish pond. There will be a cake walk, a doll and sewing booth and prizes to be given.

After the supper, the festival area will be in operation and refreshments such as hot dogs, hamburgers and soft drinks will be available the rest of the evening.

General chairman of the festival are Miss Tina Molina and Fidel Daldiver. Shown at upper left are girls of the parish who have spent the summer months sewing prizes for game booths. They are Martha Fierro, Alma Vargas, Belinda Marin, Mrs. Duane Arnold, instructor; Manuela Montanez, Maria Velasquez and Terry Montanez.

At left, little Robert Leos and Mrs. T. M. Montanez watch as Telesforo Fierro, Fidel Saldivar and Jesus Molina work on the construction of booths.

At upper right in the church basement, where the supper will be served, are several committee members who will cook and serve. They are Miss Augustina Molina, Mrs. Joe Martinez, Mrs. Leo Gonzalez and Mrs. Ines Velasquez.

Lindsey Presents Kentwood Program

Melvin Lindsey, guest speaker at the Kentwood Parent-Teacher Association meeting Tuesday, urged parents to guard against the danger of neglected children. At the first fall session of the group, plans were made for a Halloween Carnival, and the budget for the year was presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Eastham, students at the University of Houston, were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Eastham, 1015 Nolan.

Fall Activity Planned At Rebekah Meetings

Rebekah lodges in the city met in regular session Tuesday for official club activities and to plan fall activities.

BIG SPRING LODGE

A committee was named for the undraping of the charter of the Tuesday meeting of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge, No. 284, at the IOOF hall. Mrs. Akin Simpson Sr., noble grand, named Mrs. Carl Mangum, Mrs. Beulah Morrison and Mrs. Wayne Moore.

Two certificates of perfection were issued by Mrs. L. A. Griffith, district deputy. Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. J. E. Brown reported on the pilgrimage held at the children's home in Corsicana and the old folks' home in Ennis.

It was announced that the public would be invited to a silver coffee Sept. 12 in the home of Mrs. J. R. Petty, 1013 Sycamore, from 7 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon. The proceeds will go to for the meeting, and the invocation was worded by Mrs. Larson Lloyd. Mrs. Weathers conducted the table topics.

Mrs. James Brooks, a new member, was inducted by Mrs. Lewis Vale, and the Toastmistress of the evening was Mrs. Alan J. Grill. A panel discussion of the workings of the club was moderated by Mrs. Richard Wilson, and a quiz on the by-laws and standing rules was conducted by Mrs. James Hudson.

The general valuator was Mrs. Vale, and the closing thought was by Mrs. Sieja. Mrs. Richard Durant was welcomed as a guest.

Fall Coffee Held In Hamby Home By Esther Circle

Fall activities were announced at the Tuesday meeting of the Esther Circle of Kentwood Methodist Church. Mrs. Raymond Hamby was hostess at the coffee and business meeting and Mrs. Don Campbell presided.

The Methodist men will be served refreshments by the circle Sept. 17 and the First District workshop is set for Sept. 24 at the First Methodist Church. A salad supper will be Sept. 21 at the Kentwood Methodist and a rummage sale planned for October.

Mrs. C. W. Parmenter was elected secretary and reporter, and Mrs. F. E. Pringle was named treasurer. Prayer partners will be selected at the next meeting Sept. 8.

Refreshments were served to 14 members, and Mrs. Hamby gave the closing prayer.

P-TA Plans For Books

A report on the library project at Park Hill Elementary School was given by Wendell Huddleston at the Tuesday evening Parent-Teacher Association meeting. The group agreed to continue the project during the present school year, and Huddleston introduced members of the faculty.

As R. H. Weaver presided for the business session, Mrs. Paul Meek was appointed to serve as treasurer, filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Conita Jernigan. Mrs. Gary Colley was selected to attend the 16th district workshop in Ackerly Oct. 10.

The room count was won by Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs' second grade class.

During a social hour, Mrs. R. H. Weaver served punch.

ward at the children's home. Gene Crenshaw, team captain, asked members of the degree team to attend the Sept. 15 meeting for a practice session.

In attendance were 23 members who reported 30 visits to the sick.

Auxiliary Gives Tea

The National Association of Letter Carriers Auxiliary hosted a Friendship Tea Tuesday evening for all local postal wives and auxiliaries from Midland, Odessa and Colorado City. The affair was held at the Community Room at First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Mrs. Alfred Moody and Mrs. Preach True greeted the guests, and Mrs. A. A. Porter served at the register table where a brandy snifter containing a pink rose was arranged.

In the official receiving line were Mrs. Melvin Brown, Mrs. Robert Daniels, and Mrs. Robert Kinzey. House party members were Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Mrs. Alden Thomas, Mrs. Wayne Beene, Mrs. Dick Piper, Mrs. Emory Parrish, Mrs. William Bronaugh, Mrs. J. D. Buchanan, and Mrs. Wendel Payte.

Mrs. Elmer Boatler and Mrs. Ronnie Schafer served guests at a refreshment table centered with an arrangement of pink roses flanked with brass candelabra holding pink tapers. An antique china punch bowl on a reflector was used and a white cutwork cloth completed the decor.

On individual tables, floating blossoms in crystal bowls were displayed.

Special guests were Mrs. Leland Calvert, Mrs. L. E. Beene, Mrs. A. B. Brown and Miss Henrietta Piper. Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Boatler were presented corsages.

Tight Squeeze For The Old Lady

The battleship Alabama, due to arrive in Mobile later this week, is shown as she inches her way through the Miraflores lock of the Panama Canal. The World War II battleship has a beam of 108 feet, compared with the 110-foot width of the locks. The 35,000-ton vessel is being towed from Bremerton, Wash., to Mobile Bay where it will be enshrined as a war memorial. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Pact Links Trinity River To Houston Development

LIBERTY, Tex. (AP) — A historic contract committing the waters of the Trinity River to Houston's future industry forever has been signed.

Houston civic leaders hailed the final signing of the contract Tuesday as one of the most significant steps in the city's history.

Tapping of the Trinity is expected to assure Houston ample industrial water into the next century.

Some have called it the city's greatest forward stride since the opening of the Houston Ship Channel. A Lake Livingston dam and reservoir are being designed to supply 1.2 billion gallons of water a day to a nine-county area. The contract gives Houston title to 70 per cent of this water.

The contract was signed by the Trinity River Authority by O. P. Leonard of Fort Worth, TRA vice president. Mayor Louie Welch signed for Houston a week ago.

Leonard said work could now proceed on Lake Livingston just as fast as Houston decrees. "We are ready to go now—just as soon as Houston finishes the final plans," the TRA president said. "We'll move dirt in 1965, but don't pin me down to an exact date."

J. D. Kirven of Waxahachie, a TRA vice president, vowed the dirt would start flying early in 1965.

The next step is buying land for the dam and reservoir near Livingston. A late addition to the contract gives Houston a voice in the land acquisition.

A 15-minute signing ceremony in the Liberty city hall capped more than five years of bargaining, bickering, lawsuits and elections.

Last Cuban Embassy Shut Down In South America

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The last Cuban embassy in South America gets closing orders today.

Uruguay's nine-man governing council voted Tuesday night to break relations with Fidel Castro's government in accordance with the resolution of the Organization of American States.

The council's vote was six in favor and three abstentions. Mexico and Canada will be the only countries in the Western Hemisphere maintaining relations with Cuba. Canada is not a member of the OAS.

The Uruguayan announcement said diplomatic relations were ended "as of this date." It said direct or indirect commercial exchanges also were ended, "with the exception of foodstuffs, medicine and medical equipment which might be sent to Cuba for humanitarian reasons."

Police reinforcements were sent to foreign embassies and key public service areas to prevent damage by demonstrators. Rain ended a pro-Cuban demonstration in downtown Montevideo.

Aldo Rodriguez, charge d'affaires at the Cuban Embassy, declined comment on the government's decision.

The OAS resolution to isolate Cuba was requested by Venezuela, which accused Castro's regime of using terrorism and sabotage in an attempt to overthrow the Venezuelan government. The resolution was adopted July 26 in Washington.

Uruguay opposed the resolution at the Washington meeting but went along with the majority.

Texas Man Admits Role In Eastern Bank Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—Narcotics squad officers, acting on a hunch, arrested a Texas man who admitted taking part in a $4,181 holdup of a bank in Connecticut, police said today.

A search of an auto in which the man and three other persons were found Tuesday night in the Bronx disclosed an attaché case containing $26,600. Its wrappings indicated the money came from the Ridgfield branch of the Connecticut National Bank, police said.

The alleged holdup man was identified by police as Robert Gorman, 27, of Houston.

Two men with guns robbed the bank at Ridgfield in northwestern Connecticut Tuesday. They forced a teller to hand over reserve cash stored in the vault. One robber forced Mrs. Howard Bodman, a teller, to empty her cash drawer.

Police here said they had no knowledge of the whereabouts

Courthouse Is Half Paid For

Howard County taxpayers now half-own their courthouse and jail.

A $30,000 payment on the bonds made today by the county reduced the amount still owed on the building to $532,000. The original indebtedness was an even $1,000,000.

The courthouse was built with the money derived from two bond issues. The first was issued Oct. 1, 1951 for $688,000. On Dec. 1, 1951, a second issue for $312,000 was sold. Both issues bear 2.25 and 2.50 per cent interest.

Wade Choate, county auditor, said that the $30,000 payment made today with interest of $4,812, came out of accumulated cash in the sinking fund. A reserve of more than enough to meet a second $14,300 payment to fall due in December is on hand.

Annual Dawson County Fair Set Sept. 23-25

The 1964 Dawson County Fair in Lamesa will host exhibitors from nine counties Sept. 23-25, with judging set in eight classes of agricultural and livestock competition, as well as in a women's division and in educational exhibits.

A carnival and other special events are included in plans for the fair. Exhibits are expected from Andrews, Lynn, Martin, Garza, Howard, Borden, Gaines, Terry and Dawson counties.

A junior division will provide competition for 4-H Club members, Vocational Agricultural Sept. 22-25, presented by the Dawson County Garden Club. Judging will be Sept. 22. The art show will also be in the community center and will include 13 sections.

Also included in the women's division is separate judging for items prepared by 4-H or FHA girls.

Champion animals from the junior and senior livestock divisions will compete for the grand champion.

The fair includes awards for first through fourth places, with cash prizes and ribbons. Educational and community exhibits will include first through tenth place awards.

General superintendents for the fair are L. E. Griffin and Mrs. Welton Blair. Division superintendents are Monte Griffin, livestock; Gail Harris, agricultural exhibits; and Mrs. V. W. McGee, women's division. Mrs. Charnell Jobe is superintendent for the flower show, and Mrs. George Hart for the art show.

The fair is produced by the Dawson County Fair and Livestock Association, Inc.

Youths Killed In Auto Crash

HOUSTON (AP) — A head-on crash on a North Houston street Tuesday night killed two teenagers and injured three other persons.

Barbara Manning and H. F. Potter, both 17 and from Humble, Tex., died in the accident.

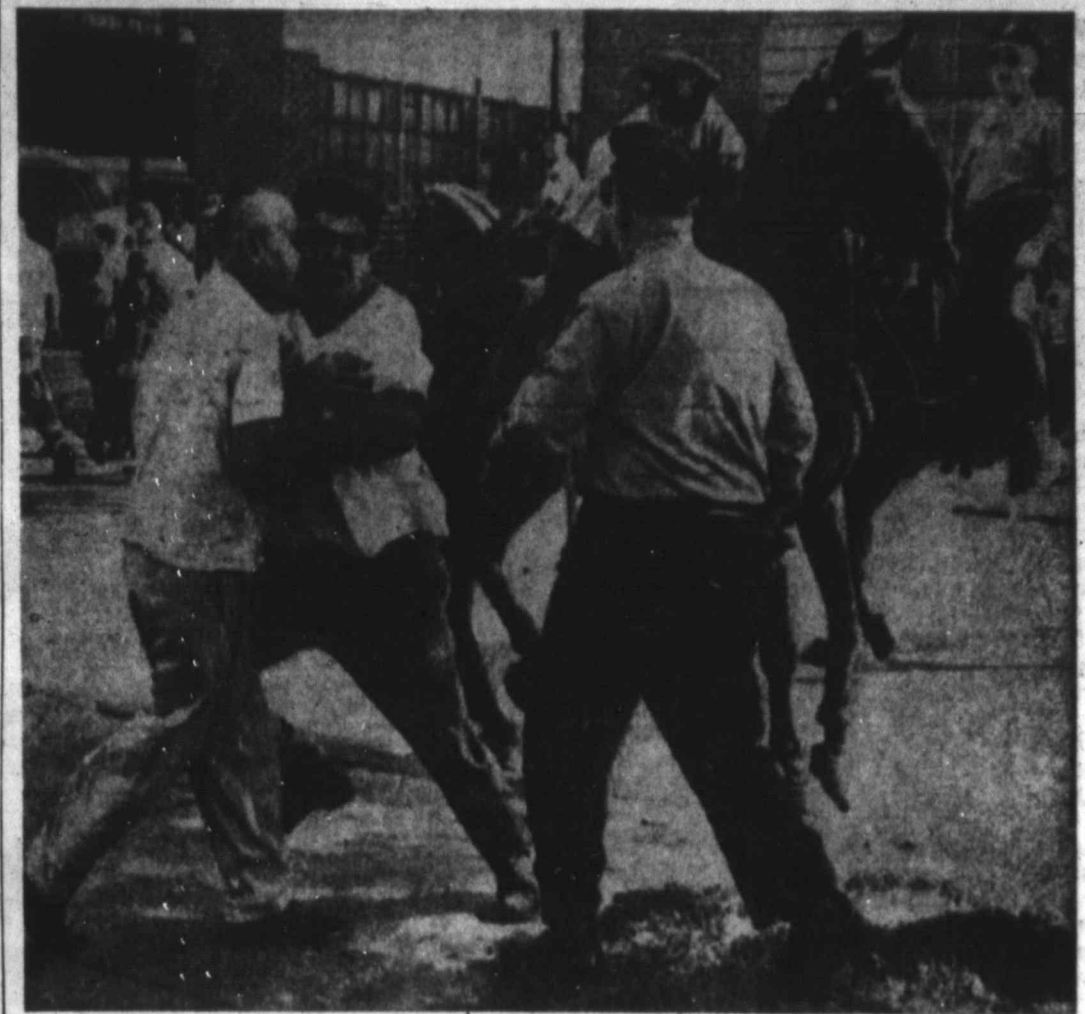

The injured are Doris Glover, 16, of Humble and Wayne Stevenson, 23, of Houston, both reported in critical condition, and Howard L. Glover, 21, of Houston, in fair condition.

Coastal Collision Fatal For Five

ANAHUAC, Tex. (AP) — Five motorists died as two cars collided and burned Tuesday night. Two others suffered injuries.

The crash killed Annie Hollister, 60, of Houston, driver of one vehicle, and four teenagers homeward bound from a beach party — Wilma Teague, 16; Brenda Teague, 14; Mary West, 13, and Albert F. Sanford, 14, all from the Gilchrist vicinity.

State police said the automobile driven by Wilma Teague edged off State Highway 87 east of Gilchrist, swung back onto the paving and skidded across the road in front of the Hollister car.

Strike Violence

Mounted policemen move in on two unidentified men who scuffled Tuesday outside the strike-bound Auer Register Co. on the east side of Cleveland, Ohio. Police battled several of the 300 who gathered outside the plant as non-union employees were leaving. One man was hurt by flying glass and four other persons were arrested. The plant was struck July 29 over a new contract. The crowd was protesting the hiring of non-union employees. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Integration Spreads To More Southerners

By The Associated Press

Public school desegregation spread quietly into some of the smaller cities of the Deep South this week in what one civil rights leader called a turning point for the area.

Union Springs, Ala., a rural-oriented town southeast of Montgomery, faced the test today, when Negroes begin their studies with white classmates.

The community was expected to take the court-ordered integration in stride just as did Montgomery and Gadsden, Ala., Prince Edward County, Va., and Albany, Ga.

Nine more Negroes planned to join 21 others in desegregated schools in Albany, a south Georgia city where hundreds of Negroes were jailed for street demonstrations in 1961-63.

IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., also began desegregation Tuesday, admitting two Negroes to a white school under court order. Every major Georgia city now has begun desegregation.

The pattern of nonviolence was described as "the turning point for the Deep South" by Constance Baker Motley of New York, the NAACP legal defense fund attorney who fought dozens of courtroom battles over desegregation.

"I don't recall any similar year of widespread peaceful compliance since the 1954 Supreme Court decision," she said in New York.

At Montgomery, eight Negroes entered two white high schools and an elementary school. Four white men picketed.

Robert E. Lee High for a time but there were no incidents.

NO INCIDENTS

In Gadsden, a tense scene of demonstrations last year, three schools accepted 15 Negroes without incident. Only a few spectators were on hand and School Supt. I. J. Browder said the citizens "want to abide by the law."

Prince Edward County, Va., reopened its public schools but only seven white children were among the 1,400 Negroes. The schools were shut five years ago to avoid integration.

The remainder of the county's white school-age children, 1,500 of them, remained in the private segregated system set up after the public schools were closed in mid-1959.

At Houston, Tex., 1,005 Negro pupils enrolled in 18 desegregated elementary schools.

At Canton, Miss., 13 Negro pupils were turned away when they attempted to enter the white Canton Junior-Senior High School. The city schools are not under any federal court order to desegregate.

"Glaucoma cannot be cured, but if detected early and properly treated, it can be arrested and blindness prevented", according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual, professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry," advises Dr. S. J. Rogers of Texas State Optical.

Medicare Due Crucial Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders hope to bring up President Johnson's proposal for Social Security health care for a crucial vote next Wednesday.

The vote would be on whether to instruct House members of a Senate-House conference to back the Senate-passed health care proposal. Unless the House conferees are so instructed, most members believe the conference would reject the health care plan.

The health care plan — an amendment to a bill raising Social Security benefits — was passed 40 to 44 by the Senate last week. There has never been a test vote on it in the entire House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has announced a new White House garden will be dedicated to Mrs. John F. Kennedy. It had been planned but not completed before President Kennedy's assassination last Nov. 22.

An announcement through Mrs. Johnson's press office Tuesday said that the garden would be completed in mid-October.

The cost of about $10,000 is being borne by nongovernmental funds of the White House Historical Association, which finances such projects from the sale of the White House guidebook.

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey said Tuesday that "we regret the action taken by the British" in extending long-term credit to the Soviet Union.

McCloskey said the U.S. position against long-term credits to Communist countries is unchanged.

The British granted the Soviet Union credit for 15 years in signing a contract Monday for the sale of a fiber plant valued at about $55 million.

A Devotional For The Day

And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Galatians 6:9)
PRAYER: God, our Father, we thank Thee for the opportunity to serve Thee through serving our fellowmen. Guide us in this endeavor. Sanctify us and make us more like Thy Son. Thus enable us to honor Him and glorify Thee. We pray in His name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Mexico Attaining Maturity

Probably the most significant aspect of Adolfo Lopez Mateos' presidential swan song was his declaration that Mexico should no longer be classified among the "underdeveloped nations." This was more than a closing fanfare to his administration; it is essentially true and of considerable importance to future U.S.-Mexican relations.

Mexico, of course, still has cruel urban slums, swaths of primitive village and rural poverty, production (especially agricultural) lagging behind the needs of a burgeoning population, and an educational lag with still-high illiteracy rate. But such can be found in the most advanced—or highly developed—nations, not excluding the United States.

Lopez Mateos' point is that Mexico has achieved a degree of industrialization; natural resources, political life and foreign policy. Modern Mexico can afford closer cooperation with the United States without any qualms of dominance.

beyond what U.S. economist Walt W. Rostow defined as the "take-off stage" for transforming undeveloped lands into modern nations.

Mexico enjoys extensive foreign investment attracted by markets rather than special privilege, thriving foreign trade, a healthy reserve of international buying power, a currency that has been firmly stable in recent years, and little need for outside aid except in credit conveniences. In short, Mexico is now where it was overly optimistically hoped the Alliance for Progress could put other Latin American countries in a decade.

Mexico has cause for pride, and it is hoped that pride can overcome the inferiority complex caused by long living in the shadow of the "Colossus of the North"—a complex that has tended to sour Mexico's political life and foreign policy. Modern Mexico can afford closer cooperation with the United States without any qualms of dominance.

State Has Stake In Prosperity

The Texas state government has a high stake in the continuation of the steady rise in business activity since 1960. Economic expansion nationally, such as further stimulated by last February's federal tax cut, means more revenue with which to meet state responsibilities with a minimum of new state taxation.

It is evident in the fiscal 1964 report just made by state Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. The Texas government's financial situation "looks better than it has for a long time," he commented. The fiscal year ended August 31 with a $73 million surplus in the state's general fund—the largest in 15 years, after a parade of rising deficits in late Fifties and early Sixties—and Gov. John Connally has reasonably predicted that the surplus will be as good or a little better for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1965.

That is a critically important prospect, for the next session of the legislature is expected to find it necessary to increase state expenditures greatly, especially for urgently needed improvement of the state system of higher education. And the higher the estimated 1965 general fund surplus, the less will be the need for supplemental taxation.

The state's welcome new financial strength is directly due to the general sales tax passed in 1961 and amended last year. But that "growth tax" normally expected revenue enhanced by the sustained nationwide upsurge in production, income, business activity and consumer demand encouraged by expansive national economic policies, such as the federal tax cut.

All this demonstrates how policies designed to expand the national economy have the added valuable effect of strengthening state governmental finances, so as to enable the states to meet their responsibilities and combat excessive centralization of governmental functions. Effective state government is directly and heavily dependent on national prosperity.

Be Practical—Get A Pickup

WASHINGTON — The odometer on our faithful pickup truck has just ticked off 5,000 miles, and it is high time for us to take back some of the spiteful things we've said about Detroit.

Detroit does, too, know how to manufacture sensible vehicles. It can cough out machines that let the driver see what is going on around him, that enable him to tote a cargo bulkier than a 98-pound blonde, and that permit him to wear a hat without scrooching down in the seat like a chap whose sacrum and ilium are at war.

DETROIT CALLS this splendid vehicle a pickup truck, and practically nobody but, shucks, us farmers buy them. It's a pity that this is so, for the sturdy, no-nonsense pickup is the only sane vehicle to clutter down the pike since the buckboard succumbed to progress.

The practical virtues of a pickup are enough to classify it as the noblest of wagons, but what no one outside the small in-group of pickup owners knows is the fallout of beneficial side effects that accompanies the lovely vehicles. Like a yachting cap, a pickup is a status symbol that suggests the owner is a man of substantial means.

MY NEIGHBOR, Clyde Chalmougra, had the misfortune to take delivery on a spanking-new Meachley Mushroom Cloud (about $7,500 on the hoof) a day or two before my Flinders pickup arrived. Poor old Clyde's moment of glory was brief, as soon as the squat, square pickup was parked in the driveway at Crestfallen Manor not a kid on the block had any time for the Mushroom Cloud. Chalmougra offered to let them work the pushbutton windows and sit in the Arctic blast from the air conditioner, but it was a losing fight from the start. They wanted to tarry in the back of the pickup, use the tarpaulin as a tent, and once in a while be reduced to ecstatic jelly by riding around the block in it.

ADULTS ARE almost as bad. Even without the name of a country place painted on the door panel a pickup truck suggests visions of a rural barony that most of your spiteful friends will find intolerable. The owner skilled in basic pickupmanship can contribute to this effect by wearing ranch boots and refusing to shave.

But it is from the standpoint of sheer hardheaded pragmatism that the pickup truck truly elevated the human spirit. In a pickup truck you sit a foot or so higher than the average dolt in his tinfoil and putty sedan. You can see your own fenders in time to keep some whey-faced clerk in a coupe from bashing into them. Our pickup has two large mirrors on either door post, which means that one's rearward vision is superb.

THERE IS ONE disadvantage. As soon as the word gets around that you own a pickup, you will find yourself in the moving trade. Then you will learn that your migratory friends don't know a spinlet from a concert grand.

But this is a small caveat. The pickup, like the backboard, is a fair dealightful vehicle. It oozes character. It lends a spring to a chap's step and a flash to his heretofore lackluster eye. It is plainly the wave of the future. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Billy Graham

Jesus said that we should become as little children. How is this possible?

J. P. Hannah Smith answers this much better than I. She said: "What are the characteristics of a little child? It lives by faith, and its chief characteristic is freedom from care. Its life is one long trust from year's end to year's end. It trusts its parents, it trusts its teachers, it trusts its caretakers. . . and this trust is abundantly answered." The child provides nothing for itself, and yet everything is provided. It takes no thought for the morrow, and forms no plans, and yet all its life is planned out for it, and it finds its path made ready, opening out as it comes to them hour by hour and day by day. It goes in and out of its father's house with un-speakable ease and abandonment, enjoying all the good things therein, without having spent a penny in procuring them. Pestilence may walk the streets of the city, but the child regards it not. Famine, war and fire may rage around it, but its under its father's care and the child is utterly unconcerned and at perfect rest. It lives in the present moment and receives its life unquestioningly as it comes to it day by day from its Father's hands.

New Breed Of Speechwriting For Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new breed of speechwriters at work. Just read the speeches by President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater. They're not like those in 1960 by Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Johnson has become a one-sentence-to-a-paragraph man. There's a new idea to a sentence.

AFTER EACH sentence he looks around until the audience digests it.

Take his Labor Day speech in Detroit: "This is a great day in an historic place.

"Here, and today, we begin to move toward new years of achievement for America."

"Sixteen years ago an American president came here and promised that America would enter a new period of hope."

"You gave him support and he gave you that hope."

Goldwater goes for short sentences, too, but often bunches them in one paragraph.

HE TRIES to give them a roll, a grauer, with high-sounding abstract words like peace, freedom, liberty.

Here are some from his campaign opener Sept. 3:

"We mean something far different from the opposition party. We mean:

"Peace through preparedness.

"Peace through freedom.

"Purpose through constitutional order.

"These are the themes we shall make resound across this great land of ours, and across an anxious, troubled and listening world."

Kennedy relied on fairly short sentences, but not as terse as Johnson's, and usually packaged them in a paragraph.

HERE'S KENNEDY making a Labor Day speech in Detroit in the 1960 campaign:

"I am taking my case to the American people in the next two months because I believe that the American people should decide which direction this country is going to go. The issue is before you and I am confident that in November you will make a choice for progress, not for standing still."

Kennedy's instinct for clarity and brevity was so good he made up that part of his speech after his prepared speech had been released to the press.

The prepared one wasn't that simple, that quick:

"I AM TAKING my case to the American people because that is where it belongs — because that is where there will be no threat of veto or parliamentary obstruction — and because that is where we can always place our confidence."

Because Nixon lacked Kennedy's sense of composition, he didn't get across as easily as Kennedy, and maybe that's one of the things that hurt him.

Fighting Old Habits Sign Of Age

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs of middle age:

You're busier fighting old bad habits than acquiring new ones. If anyone asks it is not enough for you, you have an almost irresistible urge to grab him by the lapels and tell him about the teen wave back in 1935.

Teenagers look a lot bigger than they did when you were one.

EVERY YEAR you admire your own parents more as you realize how much smarter they were about raising children than you are.

You wouldn't buy a ticket to the moon if they were selling at three for a quarter.

Getting to work on time isn't much trouble anymore because you rather like to get up earlier in the morning.

The bright new young comedians on television don't seem very funny — half the time you don't understand what they are joking about.

Instead of thinking of old age as beginning around 60, you push its onset up to 70 or 75.

There don't seem to be as many bluebirds around as there were years ago.

The only government aid program you're wholeheartedly in favor of is one that will benefit anybody over 40.

AT A BASEBALL game you have only one hot dog—if any—because you know two might upset you.

Most of your daydreams are spent in reminiscing, not building castles in Spain.

Next year, you decide, you'll set out fewer tomato plants in the garden — and plant a shorter row of string beans.

At cocktail parties you ration yourself to two martinis, and give up betting strangers that you can beat them at Indian hand wrestling.

Being caught in a sudden rain makes you grumpy the rest of the day.

You can think of many more reasons for staying home than going on a picnic.

Everybody on the highway drives like an idiot except you.

When you see two young people in love you thank heaven you didn't act that silly when you were that age.

A letter from an old friend makes you feel sentimental — after you have opened it and found he isn't trying to borrow money — and you save it for days and read it over and over.

IT'S HARD to find a book worth reading. Why don't they publish decent adventure novels anymore?

At work you make fewer round trips to the water cooler. The gang that hangs around there dispenses nothing but tired office gossip — and you've heard it all before.

You got along fine with your old neighbors, but when they move away you make up your mind to put up a picket fence. Never can tell what the new neighbors will be like.

Everybody seems so neurotic and full of strange prejudices nowadays. You're glad you're not that way at all.

That's the middle age. At least these are ways to tell it — in the other fellow.

Around The Rim

Resurrection Of A Giant

The thing that can't happen sometimes does, but the planning and teamwork which prepared against the improbable usually rallies to do the impossible. A case in point is the recent momentary collapse of the Texas Electric Service Company west end system.

ABOUT THE worst thing that can happen to a power company is to have its largest generator go out, so systems are designed to have enough spinning reserve (generators going but with enough unused capacity to take up the slack) should the largest unit fail for any cause. When such a blow falls, dispatchers quickly begin switching in additional power to bridge the gap. Users rarely are ever aware of the emergency.

THIS TIME, however, a most extraordinary thing happened. A gas regulator across the road from the Morgan Creek generating plant southwest of Colorado City became stuck. Had there been a disruption some distance removed, gas would have continued to flow to the boilers though at declining pressure, but this was like severing the jugular vein. The huge boilers which consume more than two big gas wells can produce daily, suddenly had no fuel. Pumps continued to charge distilled water to the boilers, but with heat plummeting, water could not be converted fast enough to steam. Operators had to shut off the unit, for if water had risen to a point high enough to be sent to the turbines, this would have been like throwing rocks into these high speed blades.

AS UNIT after unit had to be cut off rapidly, all power to the auxiliary apparatus went out. This meant that there was no power for pumps, fans, lights or for anything.

This almost instant death of the huge plant east the load—which at near 5 p.m. was at its absolute peak—on three long lines bringing power from TESCO plants to the east. The lines might be compared to long drive shafts, and when a heavy drag was suddenly put on the west end, the figurative shaft began to twist and buckle until phase A on west end lagged to phase B on the east end. This was comparable to a direct short, and safety devices kicked out the lines. Instantly, the full load was pitched on the west end generators at Monahans. This unit hardly had time to stagger before it collapsed.

ORDINARILY, had there been any warning of gas pressure decline, operators would have started at once to shift Morgan Creek generators to oil burners. Not knowing what had happened, operators began to move, despite the handicap of no power, to do just this. But they were stymied because huge blowers must first purge the boilers to make sure all gas is out before any effort is made to restart, otherwise, there would be a cataclysmic explosion.

With the disruption, communications were loaded and confused as operators and dispatchers sought to learn what was happening.

As the picture began to clear, the central dispatcher at Fort Worth took charge and began to call all shots. Expertly, and quickly, orders were given for closing scores and scores circuits, leaving only one open, zig-zagging this one hot line across country, station to remote station, until finally it streaked its way to Morgan Creek.

ALTHOUGH oil burners had been rigged (operators were prepared to generate for days off oil if necessary), the gas regulator trouble had been pinpointed and corrected. Lights and blowers were brought on, the boilers purged of gas, tests made to be certain all was clear. Boilers were fired, pumps went on, and gradually the first generating unit was brought back on.

As the generating capacity came up, small bits of the system had power switched back in. To attempt too much at once would likely stall the system again, much like trying to gun your car before it has come to full power.

WITHIN 19 minutes of the time the blow first fell, TESCO operators, dispatchers and others had electricity back in part of the lines. Within a couple of minutes, more lines were charged, and within 29 minutes, the bulk of the system was back to normal.

That an industrial giant, on which all of West Texas beyond Sweetwater depended for light, heat, and power to turn motors, could be bled instantly to death and yet brought back to life within 19 minutes is within itself a miraculous achievement. —JOE PICKLE

How The Peace Mongers Work

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Marcia Kreith is an attractive young lady, wife of a California professor, and one of the things she does in her spare time is to try to get the goods on me.

Marcia is a private eye for the Council For A Livable World, a Ban the Bomb group of peace-mongers whose peace of mind I have disturbed by my exposure of their devious methods. Her husband, Professor Kurt Kreith is one of the council's contributors.

OVER THE weekend of August 20-22, the council's directors set up a secret meeting at Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts. I wasn't supposed to know about it, but I found out. I asked Colonel Ashton Crosby, the war hero who fronts as the Livable World's executive director, if I could cover the meeting or send a reporter, since I would be at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City at the time.

CROSBY CONTACTED his boss, Dr. Bernard Feldt of MIT, who replied that I would have to submit any questions in advance. We don't even do that for the President of the United States, so I declined. Instead of getting the news as I preferred to get it, I was forced to employ a private espionage system. As things turned out, Crosby's briefcase, which contained his annual report and other hush-hush matters, was stolen from his room at the Harborside Inn, Edgartown, on the island. I didn't do it, of course, but the Livable World thinks I did.

IN THE BRIEFCASE, I suppose, was some correspondence about Senator Frank Moss, Democrat of Utah. He had previously written a begging letter for money to conduct his campaign against Dr. Ernest Wilkinson, a stalwart conservative who resigned the presidency of Brigham Young University to make the race. The Livable World sent Senator Moss a check for $2,500 on the District of Columbia National Bank. At the Martha's Vineyard meeting, it was decided to give Moss another $2,500.

Meanwhile, there is a growing disquietude in the Senate Armed Services Committee about the doings of pacifist lobbies. Not only is there pressure to Ban the Bomb. There are also strange movements to suspend the draft, curtail the Reserve Officers Training program, give meat axe cuts to military hardware bills and encourage industries to convert their plants from defense manufacture to consumer goods.

The Unknown Cross-Over Vote

WASHINGTON—Whether it's called a "backlash" or a "front-lash," there is a protest vote coming in both parties in the presidential election. It could mean a "cross-over" on a larger scale perhaps than the country has witnessed in half a century.

No public-opinion poll can measure ahead of time the extent of this vote—a future state of mind on election day. For it is in the main silent at this time, and most often is listed under the heading of "undecided." Yet it probably constitutes today a percentage big enough to swing the election either way.

WHAT IS OF the utmost political significance is just where the "cross-over" vote already appears likely to be consequential. New York state, for instance—which went Democratic in the 1960 presidential election—is carried by the Democrats whenever the majority in New York City is big enough to offset the Republican majorities in the rest of the state. When something happens, however, to reduce the Democratic vote in New York City, it means a Republican victory for the presidential candidate in the over-all vote on the state.

THE SAME rule applies with respect to most of the big cities in other states. What happens in them could affect particularly the electoral votes of Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey, Missouri and Pennsylvania, and these, together with New York, constitute a bloc of 174 votes in the electoral college. Since there are at least 96 electoral votes in the South, Southwest and Middle West which the Republican candidate, with the protest vote behind him, might carry, this could furnish the 270 total needed to win the election.

Already there have been serious riots in big cities in the above group of Northern states—in New York City, Brooklyn, Rochester, Jersey City, Detroit, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago and Kansas City—as well as in many smaller cities in other parts of the country. Normally most of these cities have a preponderantly Democratic vote.

THE PROTESTING voters do not object to the principle of civil rights or of equal rights for all. They feel, however, they are being denied the right to protection of life and property. The street demonstrations, the riots, the looting and the rising crime wave, all serve to intensify growing apprehensions for the safety of the American family—an unparalleled circumstance in the history of the United States.

The party in power usually gets blamed for adverse happenings and unrest, whether or not culpability can be pinpointed accurately. Take New York City, for example. For the past several months, parents have been protesting because their children are being ordered to be transported across the city to public schools in distant neighborhoods. A boycott of the schools by white parents is scheduled next week.

THE PROTEST movement is growing. Republicans will lose votes, too, on various issues but whether the "cross-over" vote will be a net gain or a net loss to the Republicans is a key point which public-opinion polls do not cover, since they are usually not conducted within each state as a unit. Wanda Boatler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Boatler, Sterling City Route, receives the trophy as best over-all entry in the style show, in connection with the West Texas Barrel Racers Association annual roundup in Snyder last weekend. With the Boatlers is Mrs. Brent Murphy, Ira, show chairman, right, also holding trophy.

Barry Scathes Demo Funds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a determined drive to pick up the Western states he sees as his presidential base, promises that if elected he will halt what he calls the "wild spending spree" by the Democrats.

"What will your choice be?" Goldwater asked a roaring crowd in Los Angeles' three-tiered baseball stadium. "More power for Washington? Less power for your home state and your town? More money for wasteful government? Less money for productive, individual uses?"

"No. Our choice is progress through freedom!" Goldwater had his largest crowd Tuesday night — the scoreboard said 53,120 were in the ball park that can seat 56,000 — and he got a rousing welcome, so rousing he couldn't speak until the message was flashed in big lights in leftfield: "Let's hear Barry."

This is friendly country for a Republican presidential candidate.

In 1960 Richard M. Nixon carried California, Oregon and Washington. Goldwater hopes to win them, too.

His schedule today takes in all three states, with stops in Sacramento, Calif., and Klamath Falls, Ore., before spending the night in Seattle, Wash.

California is the big prize. It has 40 big electoral votes, and it has special appeal for Goldwater. It was here, in the presidential primaries, that he knocked off Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and took a major step toward winning the GOP nomination.

Goldwater's speech, in the stadium where the Dodgers and Angels play their home games, was billed as his California kickoff, and his fans paid $1 apiece to sit in on a show that ran for almost three hours.

Bands played. Movie and television personalities were introduced. Goldwater rode all the way around the stadium in his convertible, while the crowd applauded, before going to the speaker's platform over second base. Hundreds of yellow and gold balloons were released.

The cheers rolled in when Goldwater said:

"I will, as one of my first actions in the White House, ask the Congress to enact a regular and considered program of tax reduction. I will also ask that Congress stop the wild spending spree begun by this administration."

Goldwater contended it is possible to cut income taxes five per cent a year for five years and, with a growing economy, still keep the budget in balance.

"If spending is held in check — and, believe me, a Republican administration will hold it in check — we can cut taxes and still balance revenue against spending," he said.

His plan, Goldwater insisted, is a "properly adjusted tax reduction," not at all like the one proposed by the late President Kennedy, which Goldwater voted against.

Goldwater's explanation: "I opposed that tax cut and would do so again under the same circumstances. That reckless cut was not intended as a return to responsible fiscal policy, designed to put a brake on endless growth of spending by the centralized bureaucracy."

Goldwater threw in a couple of asides that weren't in his prepared text.

Of President Johnson, he said: "He's trying to sweep Viet Nam under the rug and he can't get it there for Bobby Baker and Billy Sol Estes."

At one point he asked: "Why are so many here tonight? You and all Americans know that something is wrong. You know it's going to take a good house-cleaning to get it straight."

He was interrupted by applause 37 times during his 39-minute speech.

Return From Funeral Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Norrell, 500 Young, Big Spring, have returned from Corpus Christi where they attended the funeral of his father, Jesse W. Norrell, 61, former resident of Big Spring, who died Sept. 2. Mr. Norrell, a veteran of World War II, suffered only a short illness.

Services were held Sept. 3 at 7 p.m. in a funeral home chapel, and military graveside rites were held at 2 p.m. Sept. 4 in the National Cemetery at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

Humphrey Tabbed To Meet Barry For Farm Tangle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has decided to pit vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey against GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in a traditional two-party clash on farm policy.

Johnson has assigned the Minnesota senator to present the Democratic viewpoint on farm problems at the annual National Plowing Contest near Fargo, N.D., Sept. 19.

After some indecision over his campaign schedule, Goldwater has told sponsors of the event he will be on hand. He also has agreed to speak at the National Corn Picking Contest in Sioux Falls, S.D., Oct. 16. There is no word whether Johnson or Humphrey will appear for the Democrats.

The plowing contest, held in a different state each year, traditionally has attracted presidential candidates by offering a large audience for the airing of their views. Sponsors expect a crowd of 50,000 to 100,000 farmers and their families Sept. 19.

Johnson is reported to have decided that as a Midwesterner familiar with recent agricultural legislation Humphrey was well equipped to state the administration's position.

Whether his decision indicates a pattern of turning over much of the work-horse campaigning to his second man remains unclear. It seems certain that Humphrey will be seen much oftener in the Midwest than the President.

Humphrey has said he is going to campaign in the South, where his strong stand on civil rights has not been popular.

He got an invitation Tuesday from Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gained national attention on the other side of the civil rights conflict in the Little Rock controversy, to make two speeches in Arkansas Sept. 17 and 18.

Bush Slams Ralph, Aid

By The Associated Press

George Bush, the Republican candidate for U.S. senator, asserted Tuesday night that Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., "knows only one answer to the education problem and that is federal aid."

Yarborough, speaking earlier, said he is campaigning for reelection against a rival who "sows seeds of distrust against the federal government" and endorses what the senator described as the GOP's "backward philosophy."

Bush addressed a rally at Lubbock, the first stop with what he calls a Tennessee mountain band on a four-day tour of 25 cities. He moved on today to Littlefield, Levelland, Muleshoe, Dimmitt and Plainview.

After accusing Yarborough of losing confidence in the ability of Texas to build a better education system, Bush said:

"I favor a vastly improved education system, but always responsible to the needs of Texans. This can be done and paid for by keeping more of our taxing power here in Texas."

Yarborough and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall wound up two days of courting voters in Texas with speeches to the Dallas convention of the American Federation of Government Employees.

At a San Antonio rally, Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Sen. Barry Goldwater "will carry most of the major states in winning the presidency and regards Texas as a key state." He said that means "a lot of campaigning in Texas" by Goldwater and Rep. William Miller, the Republican nominee for vice president.

Describing Sen. Hubert Humphrey as "a doctrinaire, dogmatic liberal," Tower declared:

"I don't see how anyone can suggest Lyndon Johnson is a conservative when he picks Hubert Humphrey as his running mate. They talk about right wing extremists. We may have them, but they have left wing extremists in spades in Washington."

Tower appealed for Republicans to volunteer for election day jobs as poll watchers.

"We've got to have poll watchers in every precinct in the state," he said. "You can win an election and get counted out. We don't want to get counted out of this one."

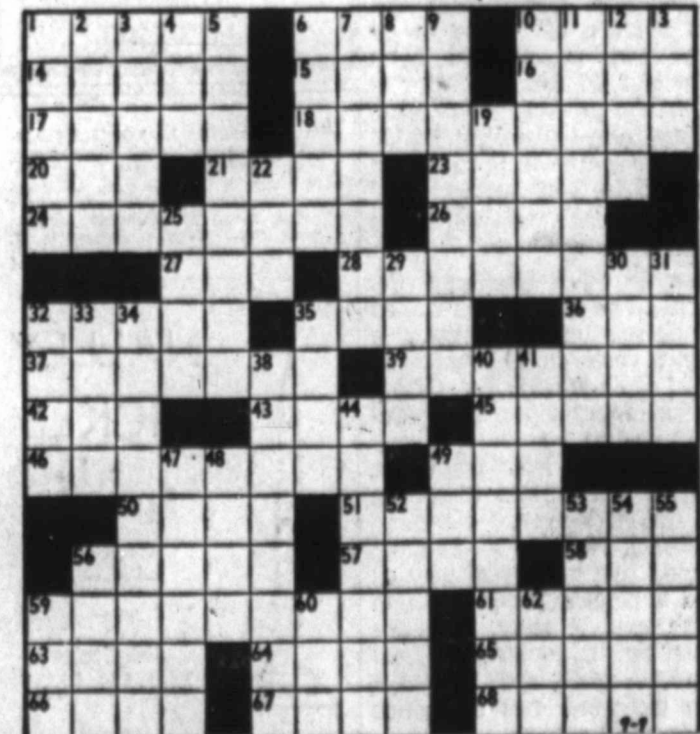

Chamizal On TV

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Plans are being made here to televise the return to Mexico of the Chamizal strip in El Paso, Tex., in a Sept. 25 ceremony.

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos and President Lyndon B. Johnson will be there to make the exchange.

Final Paving Phase Given Approval

A major paving program for Big Spring was approved by city commissioners Tuesday night, with authorization for the preparation of final engineering for the project.

Scouts Tell About Trip

James Johnston and Steve Stinson, Big Spring Scouts who attended the National Jamboree in Valley Forge in July, spoke to Rotarians Tuesday on their views of the gathering of several thousand Scouts from all over the nation and Canada.

Petitions have been received from some of the property owners involved. Commissioners also suggested that further efforts be made to contact additional property owners for agreements before bids are asked.

If the project moves ahead as planned, a contract will be awarded in December, with work beginning in January, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard. Completion is expected sometime next summer.

Scouts To Get Special Duty

Boys in the Scouting movement are being asked to wear their uniforms Friday as part of the autumn roundup program.

Funeral mass will be read at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Ambrose Catholic Church in Wall, Texas, for Mrs. Robert J. Kohutek, 26, of St. Lawrence, who died at 4 p.m. Tuesday in a local hospital.

Rosary will be said at 8 p.m. tonight in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel by the Rev. Krute Kinroad, pastor of St. Lawrence Catholic Church. Mass will be read Thursday by the Rev. Bernard Binversie, pastor of St. Ambrose Catholic Church.

Commissioners Decide Against Lift Station

The city commission Tuesday night turned down a property owner's request for city participation in the expense of installing a sewage lift station near IS 20, approved a "no parking zone" for the Main Street area in front of the new Malone and Hogan Clinic, and gave second and third reading approval to several other items.

Acreage Cards To Be Mailed

KNOTT - Susie Mae Harrell, postmistress, announced today that rural mail carriers working out of her office will begin distributing the 1964 Acreage Survey cards to patrons on the route starting Sept. 12.

The Post Office Department helps the USDA in making these surveys each year. The reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates on Texas acreage for all crops harvested in 1964.

Light Vote In ASC Election

Farmers of the county appeared to have cast a relatively light vote for community committee members in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service elections, Gabe Hamack, ASC manager, said Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Liquor Store Zoning Wins City Approval

City commissioners granted an off-premises consumption permit for the corner of East Marcy Drive and Birdwell Lane, okayed two zoning changes and voted annexation of a 3 2-3 acre tract near Muller Heights in action at city hall Tuesday night.

The off-premises permit was approved for Elmer Dyer and is for a location in the new shopping area being constructed at the site. Dyer told commissioners he needed approval for a permit prior to obtaining completion of the building, under the lease agreement.

Dyer also presented to commissioners copies of statements from nearby property owners waiving opposition to approval of the permit application.

Four lots in the Choate Addition, at the intersection of Gladiol Street and FM 700, were involved in a zoning change approved by commissioners, from one family residential to neighborhood service. The property owner, L. L. Robertson, had previously told the planning and zoning commission he planned to lease the property for a service station.

L. E. Foster, Midland, has scheduled three flank operations in the Herrell (Clear Fork) pool of Sterling County, 15 miles west of Sterling City. All are projected to 2,700 feet.

No. 1-A Glass is a west side test, 467 feet from the north and west lines of section 1-32, T&P survey. No. 4 Glass is a north flanker, 467 feet from the north and 2,173 feet from the west lines of the same section and No. 5 Glass is a northeast edge well, 1,400 feet from the north and 467 feet from the east lines of the northwest quarter of the same section.

In Howard County, Humble Oil & Refining Co. has staked No. 2 H. R. Clay 330 feet from the south and 2,310 feet from the west lines of section 138-29, W&NW survey. Located three miles southeast of Forsan, it will go to a plugged back depth of 1,890 feet in the Howard-Glasscock field.

Apache Corp. finalized No. 3 N. P. Cochran as a Welch producer in Dawson County. It pumped 18 barrels of 32 gravity oil with 77 per cent water from perforations at 4,914-20 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 255-1; it was acidized with 1,000 gallons. Operator set 4 1/2 inch casing at a total depth of 4,940 feet, plugged back at 4,930 feet. Elevation from the derrick floor is 3,132 feet.

It spots 1,980 feet from the east and 1,866 feet from the north lines of section 1-C-39, PSL survey.

In Martin County, Ken Merren, W. C. Montgomery & James E. Callaway No. 1 Shoemaker, a wildcat in the Ellenburger, pumped 29.43 barrels of oil and 44.13 barrels of water in 24 hours from a plugged back depth of 8,490 feet. Operator is testing the project, which spots 990 feet from the west and 2,173 feet from the north lines of section 40-37-1N, T&P survey.

Two Sterling County drillsites have shown new oil.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 19-1 Lou E. Johnson flowed 457 barrels of oil through a 3 1/2-inch choke in 72 hours from a total depth of 6,935 feet. Casing pressure was 325 pounds. Operator is testing.

It spots 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 65-2, H&TC survey. Texaco No. 31-B Sterling, pumped five barrels of new oil from a plugged back depth of 7,500 feet in 24 hours. Tests are continuing. It locates 467 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 3-21-4E, T&P survey.

Gen. Momyer Commands ATC

Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer became the commander of Air Training Command Tuesday upon the retirement and subsequent death of Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns.

Gen. Momyer joined the command after a three-year tour of duty at the Pentagon where he served as director of operational requirements, deputy chief of staff, programs and requirements.

A 1937 graduate of the University of Washington, Gen. Momyer entered the service in 1938, completed primary and basic flying training, and graduated from pursuit school at Kelly Field in 1939.

As commander of the 33rd Fight Group in the North African campaign of World War II, Gen. Momyer established himself as an ace with eight confirmed aircraft kills to his credit, and received numerous decorations for his service including the Distinguished Service Cross and the Silver Star medal with two oak leaf clusters.

He returned to the United States in 1944 to become Chief of the Combined Operations of the Army Air Force Board. He was named deputy chief of staff for plans, Tactical Air Command (TAC) in 1946.

He attended the Air War College in 1949, and upon graduation became a member of the faculty. He completed his military schooling in 1954 upon graduation from the National War College, and assumed command of the 8th Fighter-Bomber Wing in Korea. Later he established the 314th Air Division and assumed command of all USAF units in that country.

In 1955 he returned to the United States to command the 312th Fighter-Bomber Wing at Cannon AFB, N.M.

All delegates and alternates to the Texas Democratic convention in Dallas Sept. 15, are requested to attend a meeting at the Howard County Courthouse at 8 p.m. Thursday, Frank Hardesty, Howard County Democratic chairman, said this morning.

"We have 10 delegates and 10 alternates to the convention," he said. "We will discuss transportation and reservations. Headquarters will be at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Other matters of importance to the delegates will also be discussed, he said.

Big Spring's Newest Green

A putting green was recently opened at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital to be used by the patients as recreational rehabilitation. The nine-hole course, which is located behind the infirmary, was built under the guidance of W. O. Maxwell, Webb Air Force Base golf course pro.

Lamesa In Splendid Condition: Robbins

Second and third defensive units got a liberal dose of work as the Big Spring Steers went at it hard again Tuesday in preparation for their opening game with Lamesa Friday night. Coach Don Robbins said he had been so concerned with the loss of sophomore talent on the Steer club that he had hardly had time to map strategy for the Lamesa club. Robbins scouted Lamesa in its scrimmage against Monterey in Lubbock last weekend and said the Tornados had a show-leather-tough defense and a hard-to-retain offense led by halfback Jim Anderson.

Three Rannels 11's Play On Local Field Thursday

Three Rannels Junior High football teams made their season debuts here Thursday evening. The seventh graders play cross-town rival, Goliad at 5 p.m. The eighth and ninth graders challenge Sweetwater at 6:30 and 7:45 p.m., respectively. All games will be played in the old stadium at Tenth and State streets. Coach Dan Lewis and his co-workers have about 135 boys working out on the three grade levels. Of that number, 54 are playing seventh grade ball, 47 in the eighth grade and 35 in the ninth grade. Minor physical miseries are plaguing the ninth graders. Mike Gartman, the left halfback who does the team's punting, is favoring an injured foot. Guard Jimmy Wilson has an injured shoulder. Both could see limited action Thursday.

Mavericks Visit Snyder Thursday

The Goliad Mavericks open their 1964 football season Thursday night as all three grades see action. The eighth and ninth graders will be in Snyder for a 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. game respectively, while the seventh graders will meet Rannels at 5 p.m. in the old stadium. The ninth grade Mavericks, who have shown what head coach Jack Tayrien labeled "good determination," will trot out a 37-man crew that has been looking very good on defense but only so-so on offense. Tayrien reasons the offense will pick up as the season matures. The starting lineup will be right end, Greg Willis; right tackle, Steve Rjordan; right guard, Cary Banks; center, Chuck Smith; left guard, Butch Caldwell; left tackle, Jerry Ryan; and left end, Don Malone. In the backfield, Dean Gilstrap will do the quarterbacking. Lonnie Clanton will be at fullback. Donnie Wiggins will operate at

BIG LEAGUE LEADERS

Table listing National League and American League batting leaders with columns for player name, team, and batting average.

Yankees Move Up With Win Over Twins

The American League pennant contenders have gone through four-fifths, but each day makes it more difficult for one of them to break out the champagne. With less than one-fifth of the season remaining, Baltimore leads the see-saw battle, but Chicago is only one-half game behind and New York is just one game back. Only six percentage points separate the Orioles from the Yankees.

The race became the tightest it's been since Aug. 5 when the Yankees edged Minnesota 2-1 Tuesday night. Only 18 days ago, even many of the most astute baseball observers were counting out the Yankees. They were in third place then, too, but they were 5 1/2 games from the top.

Since that time, they have won 12, the last five in a row, and lost just four. In the same period, the Orioles won eight of 17 while the White Sox were 9-10. The Yankees now have two more games remaining than the Orioles—25 to 23—and are even in losses. In other words, if the Yankees win their two extra games, they would have the same record as Baltimore.

The White Sox, on the other hand, have 20 games left and have lost two more games than the other contenders, putting them at a statistical disadvantage. None of the teams plays each other the rest of the season. That is, unless they meet in a playoff. The Yankees nosed out Minnesota on Elston Howard's run-scoring single in the seventh inning. Roger Maris started the rally with a double and eventually reached third on a sacrifice bunt by Joe Pepitone. Howard brought him home with a single to center field.

Maris also figured in the Yankees' first-inning run. He singled Tony Kubek to third from where he scored on Mickey Mantle's sacrifice fly. The Twins tied it in their half of the first on singles by Rich Rollins and Zollo Versalles and a pair of force plays. Rookie right-hander Mel Stottlemyre scattered nine hits for his fifth victory against two defeats. Camilo Pascual suffered his 11th setback in 24 decisions.

In the National League's only game, Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 3-2 on run-scoring doubles by Jim Gilliam and John Roseboro in the first inning. Maury Wills started the first with a single and stole second. Gilliam doubled in Wills and went to third as Willie Davis singled. Both runners then came home on Roseboro's double.

SOPH GAMES CANCELLED

Coach Don Robbins of Big Spring High School said Monday he had been forced to cancel his sophomore team's entire schedule for the fall. Robbins originally had intended to have three separate teams but shortage of personnel on the tenth grade level forced him to change his plans. He said six more sophomores had quit the club in recent days and the coaching staff now had only slightly more than 20 first year help. The sophomores were to have opened against Lamesa at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Big Spring will now concentrate on fielding two teams—A and B units.

Chargers, Buffalo Favored In Race

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The San Diego Chargers and the Buffalo Bills are the pre-season picks to fight it out for the American Football League championship Dec. 26 at Buffalo after the most exciting season in the league's five-year history.

hailed as a super team after their 51-10 rout of Boston last January, figure to win it again unless Tobin Rote's arm falls him. Gillman's champions cannot afford to be complacent, for both Kansas City and Oakland appear capable of challenging for the Western Division crown. Denver also should be improved with Jack Lee at quarterback.

The Eastern Division looks like another wild scramble with no definite pickouts. If Cookie Gilchrist stays healthy, the Bills appear the best of the lot despite a questionable pass defense. Houston is experimenting with rookies in its deep defense under its new coach, Sammy Baugh, and could be in trouble if anything happened to 36-year-old George Blanda. New York stakes it all on Dick Wood, who has a record of knee trouble. Boston, the defending division champs on a 26-8 playoff victory over Buffalo, must rely on its defensive unit.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

It seems that several people have accidentally misread an item found in this column during the past week. It was reported that the Garden City girls had already begun workouts for this winter's upcoming basketball season. Several people have already called in notifying this corner that if a squad begins organized workouts before Oct. 1, they are eligible to be put on probation under Texas interscholastic rules. This fact was already known before the article was put in the column—it was just thought that everyone would assume that the workouts were of the unsupervised nature, as they are.

YOGI BERRA

AREA FOOTBALL SHORTS: WESLEY WRIGHT, a senior 178-pound starter at left tackle for the Coahoma Bulldogs who has been out with a broken collar bone, is a possible starter in the Stanton game a week from Friday, according to head coach SPIKE DYKES. When the Stanton Buffaloes scored their final touchdown of the game Friday night against Roscoe and came from behind to register a 12-8 victory, head coach BILL MILAM was all smiles. It was the first time he allowed himself a smile all game. And when the Buffs carried him and his assistants off the field at the end of the contest, it was another first. Anyone who remembers the Buffs' 9-8-2 season a year ago knows there wasn't much rejoicing. Garden City opens its 1964 football season this Friday night. Look for the Bearcats to smash Flower Grove.

YOGI BERRA has lost his magical batting touch that he once possessed as a player for the New York Yankees. In two exhibition games this season against the New York Mets, he has come to bat twice and each time he hit into a double play.

In case you've been wondering lately why the University of Mississippi has been rated so highly in pre-season football polls, consider what the Rebs have got returning. They have 25 lettermen coming back, 18 of them linemen. The most a Rice University team has ever beaten anyone was back in 1916 when the Owls rumbled to a 14-6 decision over SMU. According to the Oklahoma University press-book just released, the weakest part of the OU game a year ago was the defensive coverage when the opponents were returning punts. The Big Red aims to improve this facet of the game during this fall.

Over in Europe, one of the big sports is bicycle racing. A 10-year racing bike costs around $125. Tennis turf expert, EDWARD FULLER, has been tending the courts at Wimbledon since 1927. The Philadelphia Phils won their season baseball series with the New York Mets, 15-3.

The world's largest stadium is the Strahov Stadium, Prague, Czechoslovakia, which was completed in 1954 to accommodate 240,000 spectators who can watch 48,800 gymnasts perform. The largest football field in the world is the Maracana Municipal Stadium in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where the football ground has a seating capacity of 155,000 and standing room for 45,000. On July 1, 1959, a world record football crowd of 199,854 was accommodated when Brazil met Uruguay in soccer. A nine-foot-wide and nine-foot-deep moat protects players from spectators.

Frick Told Yanks' Sale To CBS Would Be Risky

BOSTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick has been advised by his attorneys that baseball would be taking a "calculated risk" of a possible antitrust suit if the American League club owners formally approve the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System. The league club owners, with their representatives, met with President Joe Cronin and a battery of lawyers today to vote on the sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to CBS for $11,200,000 last month. The vote of eight of the 10 owners is needed for approval. Frick, from his home in Scarsdale, N.Y., declined to comment on the report given exclusively to the Associated Press.

According to the informant, attorneys Paul Porter of the commissioner's office and Lou Carroll of the National League advised Frick that "there was inherent danger" in welcoming a public service such as CBS into the inner confines of baseball. "There could be a danger of antitrust suits," Frick was advised. "We think there is a calculated risk." At the time of the sale, last Aug. 14, a storm of criticism, both from people in government as well as in baseball, developed over the entry of the television and radio networks into big league ownership.

Billy Cannon Is Acquired By Oakland

HOUSTON (AP) — Billy Cannon, 1959 Heisman Trophy winner, has been traded to Oakland for three players in the biggest swap ever consummated by the Houston Oilers of the American Football League. Cannon, voted the outstanding player in the 1960 and 1961 Oiler championship games, was traded for fullback Bob Jackson, guard Sonny Bishop and flanker Doble Craig. Cannon left with another member of the original Oiler squad, cornerback Mark Johnson, and five other players. The trade of the 27-year-old Cannon was announced at mid-afternoon Tuesday, although Cannon learned of the news earlier in the day.

Before leaving for San Francisco, Cannon talked briefly with a newsmen. "I was treated fairly by the Oiler organization," said the former LSU All-America halfback. "I really enjoyed playing for Sammy Baugh, and I wish I could have played the whole year for him." Baugh, in making the announcement at the first of the Oilers weekly press luncheons, was reluctant to criticize Cannon and said he would not at all be surprised if he becomes a fine player for Oakland. But he did say the former LSU star is lacking in some respects.

"Cannon has very few moves, almost no moves," Baugh said. "When you compare him to a running back like Clemon Daniels, well, there just isn't any comparison. The thing that has disappointed me in Cannon is the way you'll see him run up to the line of scrimmage and turn his back to the tacklers, instead of blasting away like, for instance, Charley Tolar does. "Or the way he goes on a sweep, and when cornered, heads for the sideline instead of sticking his head in there and getting an extra yard or two."

DEAR ABBY
New Help For Newlyweds

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to a wedding reception. After the gifts had been opened, the bride passed her shoe around to be filled with money. I had never seen anything like it before. Is that the custom nowadays? It seems to me if you take a gift, that should be enough. The people I have asked said they had never heard of such a thing either and I wonder if you or any of your readers have. Thank you SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: I have never heard of this "custom" either. Next they'll be passing the GROOM'S shoe around. The bigger the foot the greater the loot.

DEAR ABBY: First of all, these names are fictitious. My son, John, married Jane, a lovely quiet girl who worked to help John finish college. They have been married three years. Jane has a friend, who is pretty, unmarried and vivacious. Well, I think Linda goes to John and Jane's apartment a little too often for everybody's good. She has stayed with them on week-ends and holidays. (She sleeps on the pull-down bed in the living room.) When Jane's mother suddenly became ill last month, she flew to be with her in another state. Linda then moved into Jane's apartment to "keep house" for John. (In a 3 room apt.) I am not inferring that there was anything wrong, but it looked bad. I've already heard some talk about them. Even though my son is bright and has always been a good boy, I don't know how strong he is against temptation. Jane is not the jealous or suspicious type but I think someone should tell her not to be so trusting. Should I?

USE ANY NAME BUT MINE

DEAR USE: Your son is the one you should talk to. If he's "bright" he will quickly see the light. And if he's "good" he will want to avoid the appearance of evil. And if something is going on, he'll know he isn't fooling anyone.

DEAR ABBY: That paragraph out of your book, DEAR TEENAGER, telling girls exactly what to say to boys who ask them to "prove their love" was wonderful advice. I could have used it four years ago.

I was in love with a boy I would have done anything for. And I did. Everything you listed happened to me. I committed an immoral act. I threw away my self respect. I lost my reputation and I did get in trouble. If young girls would only listen to your advice daily, they could save themselves and their parents a lot of heartaches.

Grand Jury Calls Oilman In Gambling Investigation

HOUSTON (AP) — Oilman Frank Waters had a date to appear today before a federal grand jury which is investigating alleged gambling operations in Houston.

A subpoena ordered Waters to bring all salary checks issued in 1961 to 1963 to Joe Lucia, a public relations officer for the Waters Oil Co.

Subpoenas also were served on Marion Askin, comptroller for the oil company, and a Raymond Mielsch.

After the Houston investigation is completed, the grand jury is expected to look into deals of Paul Sandblom, Corpus Christi broker charged in January with violating the Securities and Exchange Act.

Fourteen persons, most of them from Corpus Christi, have been summoned with instructions to bring records of all correspondence and dealings with Sandblom.

In its gambling probe, the grand jury is reportedly investigating illegal telephoning of wagering information across state lines, failure of one or more persons to pay income tax on gambling income, and acceptance of wages without the required federal tax stamp.

The jury first convened Aug. 10 and recessed three days later after hearing a number of witnesses.

The witnesses, aided by federal agents in entering and leaving the jury room to avoid being seen by newsmen, included John Mecom, multi-millionaire Houston oilman; Paul Berlin, a KNUZ disc jockey, and Milton (Duck) Millard, a Bryan resident now serving a prison term for violating parole.

Three masked witnesses also showed up for the hearing. One was disguised as a gorilla, one as a werewolf and another as an oriental.

Child Rescued
MEXICO CITY (AP) — A 5-year-old boy being held by kidnapers for $240 ransom was rescued Tuesday.

Police found the boy, Francisco Javier de Alba Lomeli, unharmed. Two men were arrested by officers who went to a house where the ransom was to be delivered.

Formal Election
MEXICO CITY (AP)— President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz was formally declared elected Tuesday. He will take office Dec. 1 for a six-year term.
The victory of Diaz Ordaz, candidate of the Institutional Revolutionary Party, was certified by the Chamber of Deputies in a special session.

Finance Office Looted, Owner Raped By Negro

DALLAS (AP) — A Negro gunman raped the owner of a small loans firm in her downtown office Tuesday while his partner looted the firm's till of more than $1,000.

The bandits then shoved the hysterical woman, 32, into a restroom with her sister-in-law, 23, and an elderly customer and fled.

The two women were eating lunch when the rapist entered the office alone, they told police. The victim said he was there earlier in the day to ask a loan. It was denied.

Moments later the customer, Otis Webster, 71, walked in and stood at the counter. He said the woman's attacker stood about 5 feet - 8, and wore black slacks, brown shirt and brown hat.

Webster was followed by the second gunman, a tall Negro wearing a dark suit and brown hat. "When nobody came to wait on me, I decided to leave," Webster said. "But when I turned

Defendants Are On Probation

Judgment in three guilty pleas heard Aug. 31 were signed and filed Tuesday by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court.

The three defendants, all of whom were placed on probation, are Wilbert Lee Hill, Robert Byrd and Bill Haas. They were indicted for the March 1 theft of two truck tires from Eagle Transport Co.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
When South, the declarer at three no trump, realized that his campaign had been foiled by an astute defender, he was obliged to dig deep into his bag of tricks to uncover an alternative plan.

West opened the jack of spades which East covered with the queen as an unblocking maneuver. South played the king of spades and immediately led a low heart, putting in the ten from dummy. East made a very alert play when he followed with the five of hearts, permitting North to hold the trick. The dummy obviously did not have many entries, and it was East's desire to do everything possible to prevent the profitable development of the heart suit.

South returned to his hand with the king of diamonds to lead another heart. This time East topped the jack with the queen and declarer realized that he had been made the victim of a very fine play for, if East wins the first heart, South has time to drive out the remaining stopper while North still has the ace of diamonds. As matters stood, the ace of hearts was still outstanding, and declarer had only the one entry left in dummy.

East returned a spade and declarer played the ace. Having apparently been restricted to but one heart trick, it appeared that South must pay off to his opponent's alert defense, for even if the club finesse succeeded declarer could count only eight tricks.

Presently he spotted an outside chance which hinged on West's being very short in clubs. He led the jack of diamonds and overtook with North's ace. The king of hearts was played putting East in with the ace as South discarded his queen of diamonds. By so doing, he converted dummy's ten of diamonds into the master card in that suit.

East exited with a club and South successfully finessed the queen. He cashed the ace next removing West's last club and then led a spade. West was able to take two spade tricks but, having nothing but diamonds left, he was forced to surrender the lead to dummy and North took the fulfilling tricks with the ten of diamonds and the four of hearts.
