Coup Flops,
Khanh Back
In Power

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A bloodless military uprising aimed at ousting Premier Nguyen Khanh collapsed today and Khanh returned securely to power in Saigon. He called for "discipline, honor and unity."

Throughout the coup attempt, Saigon residents reacted with sullen indifference. Motorists blew their horns angrily at tanks interfering with traffic. Shoppers paid little attention to announcements broadcast from planes with loudspeakers. Even swooping fighter-bombers failed to arouse much interest.

Had the coup succeeded, it would have been the third in less than a year. President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown last Nov. 1, and Khanh took power Jan. 30 from Gen. Duong Van Minh, leader of the anti-Diem uprising. Khanh was nearly driven from office in August and early September by three weeks of violent Buddhist and student-led demonstrations against the government.

BLACKLIST
The new attempt to seize power was led by army generals blacklisted by the Buddhists, to whom Khanh had made concessions in an effort to unify the nation. The coup collapsed primarily because most of the units involved were unwilling to fight — because 33-year-old Gen. Ky staunchly refused to surrender the Saigon airport to the rebels.

The rebels moved into Saigon early Sunday led by Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, a Roman Catholic who was fired as interior minister by Khanh under Buddhist pressure last week. Later, Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc, commander of the Vietnamese army's IV Corps, appeared to take charge of the rebellion.

High point of the uprising came when the rebels seized the joint general staff headquarters. Insurgents aimed guns at the gates and government forces manned rocket launchers on the other side of the compound but did not fire.

Khanh was not in Saigon. He returned to the capital briefly Sunday night to confer with Ky and other officers loyal to him, then went to his headquarters in the coastal town of Cap St. Jacques, 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

The rebels claimed they had the allegiance of all the important generals in the country including Ky. But Ky told a newsman he was not with the coup, although his chief defenses at the time were the fighters of his air force and pods of aircraft rockets which he mounted on stands and aimed down the roads approaching the airport's main gate.

"Facing the threat of internal strife, we proved to be very worthy and we were able to save the previous blood of all our fighters against the Communist Viet Cong," he said.

Khanh was seated at the conference table with the top officers who saved him from ouster. These included the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who held Saigon airport against the rebels; and the paratroop commander, Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien.

Notably absent was Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc, commander of the rebel forces, who capitulated to Ky early this morning.

Before Khanh met the newsman, Ky and Duc had shared a news conference and declared their unity in supporting the government and in resuming the fight against the Communist guerrillas.

NOT UNEXPECTED

The attempted coup, engineered by a group of dissident generals, was not unexpected. Rumors that Khanh faced a revolt swept the city Saturday.

It came while Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the U.S. ambassador, was out of the country. He returned to the capital early today after four days of talks in Washington during which U.S. officials said they concluded South Viet Nam needs greater political stability to strengthen its war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Time Short
For Congress,
Major Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress tackles Social Security health care and legislative reapportionment this week as members up for re-election fidget to get on the campaign trail.

Neither issue is likely to be disposed of finally during the week and Congress' adjournment date still is up in the air.

The issue of health care for the aged is the only major legislative business before the House this week.

After preliminary parliamentary moves today, members are expected to vote Thursday whether to arrange a conference with the Senate, which added the hospitalization feature to a Social Security bill passed by the House.

There may also be a more substantive vote — on instructions to the conferees whether to accept or reject the hospitalization feature — but no final decision yet had been made.

The Senate votes Tuesday on a compromise designed to cool the hot dispute over the Supreme Court's ruling that states must apportion both houses of their legislatures by population.

The proposal would simply declare "the sense of Congress" to be that legislatures should be given a reasonable time to conform. It would replace a tougher proposal to require federal courts to grant delays up to two years.

President Johnson has asked his running mate, assistant Democratic Senate Leader Hubert H. Humphrey, to make every effort to work out a compromise on the "sense of Congress" resolution.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has said that if the substitute fails, an even tougher proposal, passed by the House, will be offered — but not by him.

The House-approved measure would limit courts' jurisdiction in reapportionment cases.

Union, Ford
Voice Hopes

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union said today they hoped to wrap up a labor agreement without the pressure of a strike deadline.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther told newsmen the question of such a deadline will depend on "the realism" of Ford's economic offer to the union.

"If they drag their feet, however," Reuther said, "then we will have to set a strike deadline."

Reuther said the UAW will take "nothing less than a Chrysler package."

The Chrysler agreement includes provisions for a $400-a-month early retirement pension, longer vacations, additional holidays and other benefits described by Reuther as "the most historic agreement in the history of all auto labor contracts with respect to pensions and securities for the workers."

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president in charge of negotiations, said that if no strike deadline is set it would be a "new milestone in negotiations."

Comforts Survivor Of Fatal Fire

Joanne McConnell, 14, weeps in her hospital bed as her stepfather, Kenneth Bowdish, tries to comfort her Sunday. Joanne was the only person to escape the house fire which killed 10 children, including nine of her brothers and sisters. "It's no one's fault, just be thankful you got out," Mrs. Bowdish told Joanne. "It was meant to happen, or it wouldn't have happened." (AP WIREPHOTO)

10 Children Die
In Fire At Home

KASOTA, Minn. (AP) — Ten children, "so scared they ran around in circles and didn't know what to do," died in a fire that swept through their farm home.

Another child, Joanne McConnell, 14, was the only occupant to escape the burning home Saturday night. She jumped from a second-story window and, barefoot and wearing only a nightgown, pedaled a mile on her bicycle to the nearest telephone.

Joanne said all the children except Robert were in bed when the blaze broke out.

Robert was in the basement, lighting the wood-fired furnace. "I heard a crack like a jar breaking or something," Joanne said. "I got up to find out what it was. Robert said there was a fire and to get the kids out. I tried to wake them up."

The children all were upstairs, the girls in one room and the boys in another.

"They were so scared they just ran around in circles and didn't know what to do," Joanne said. "I opened all the windows."

Robert came upstairs and told the children to flee. The fire flared into the stairway, and all the children were trapped upstairs.

"I jumped out the window and got on my bike," Joanne said. Mrs. Bowdish has borne 15 children. Her first five children, with the surname Pouchow, are grown and living away from home.

Mrs. Edward DeAtley, West Mankato, a sister of Mrs. Bowdish, said the cost of the funeral and burial plots had been donated.

Three Perish
In Fire At Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three crewmen were killed and 17 others escaped on a raft today when fire swept the Spanish freighter Sierra Acanzazu off the eastern tip of Cuba.

A Netherlands vessel, SS G. Thulin, picked up the raft 12 miles from the burning ship.

Two crewmen were dead and another died as the rescue ship raced toward Mathew Town on Great Inagua Island.

NEW YORK (AP) — A white boycott substantially cut attendance today at public schools involved in a program of using buses to balance enrollments.

The protest also caused opening day absenteeism at many other schools not affected by the busing program.

Mostly white parents, picketed 150 schools.

Total attendance figures for the million-pupil public school system, the nation's largest, were not available in the first hours after opening bells rang.

The Board of Education reported that a check of the eight institutions chosen for the busing program showed absenteeism ranging from 18 per cent at a predominantly Negro school to 65 per cent at a predominantly white.

ALL EMPTY

One virtually all-white elementary school in Brooklyn had completely empty classrooms.

About 30 per cent absenteeism was reported at a Manhattan school, P.S. 6, regarded as one of the finest in the New York system. This institution is situated in the heart of the so-called "silk stocking" district of the upper East Side.

The boycott, to last two days, was called jointly by the Parents and Taxpayers Coordinating Council and the Joint Council for Better Education. It was opposed by school administrators and many civic organizations.

The busing program involved eight schools — in Brooklyn and Queens — but white parents with picket signs appeared outside some schools elsewhere in the city.

MARCHING

Miriam Greensher, marching outside a Bronx elementary school where her 8-year-old son is assigned, explained:

"We are far-sighted in this situation. Eventually our school will be involved. So we are protesting now before it happens."

By law, New York's 850 schools are not segregated. But because pupils in lower grades normally are assigned to schools in their neighborhoods, 165 elementary and junior high schools have enrollments of 85 per cent or more Negro and Puerto Rican children.

Protesting this unplanned segregation, civil rights forces twice boycotted schools last winter. The Board of Education subsequently announced its busing plan, with the current boycott a reaction to it.

For this year the board chose four predominantly white schools and paired them with four predominantly Negro or Puerto Rican schools and shifted assignments of children to

NEIGHBORHOOD

The boycott sponsors claimed they do not oppose integration itself, but do object to the end of the neighborhood school concept and the busing of young children away from their home areas.

Telegrams from protesting parents were delivered to the Board of Education offices this morning.

Many expressed sentiments similar to this one: "Sending children to school under protest as we believe in neighborhood school principle but do not wish to punish children."

Supt. of Schools Calvin E. Gross remarked, "I really wish that the people of this community would rally around the program that we hammered out and support it. But if they disagree with it, I am pleased at least that they're sending their children to school."

With many religious and civic groups backing its plan, the board insists it will not be swayed by the size of the boycott.

A spokesman for the council predicted that more than 250,000 pupils would remain home today and Tuesday. The system has an enrollment of 1,056,000. Normal daily absenteeism is 100,000.

For several weeks, both sides have been appealing for support. All talks among officials have proven abortive.

The basic controversy rages over the pairing of eight schools in Brooklyn and Queens.

Although about 13,000 pupils are affected by the over-all transfers, bitter opposition has been aroused by the reassignment of 2,314 children at four pairs of elementary schools.

About 1,000 pupils involved in the pairings will be taken to school by bus. School officials say only 383 of these live beyond normal walking distance from the paired schools. The remaining youngsters involved, the officials claim, will receive transportation because of hazardous traffic or other conditions. In no instance, they say, will a child have to travel more than 1.4 miles to school.

Pope Opens
Ecumenical

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI opened the third and possibly decisive session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today, calling on bishops of the Roman Catholic Church to define their place in Church government with regard to the pontiff. He pledged anew to help the search for Christian unity.

Symbolizing the sharing of papal-episcopal power, the Pope celebrated a special Mass with 24 prelates on the altar of St. Peter's Basilica.

Then in an address to the 2,500 council fathers from around the globe, the Pope declared that the papal-bishop issue was the most important task of the council.

Said this council must complete the concept of papal-episcopal sharing left unfinished by the last council 94 years ago.

Stressed that sharing authority with bishops in governing the Church meant no lessening of papal primacy.

Told the bishops that the problems and dangers of modern life demanded a greater need for centralized leadership of the Church.

Promised to do all possible to bring Catholics and other Christians together.

Pope Paul called the task of defining papal-bishop authority the "weightiest and most delicate" mission of the council. The issue has important implications for Christian unity.

"As successors of Peter and therefore possessors of full power over the entire Church, we have the duty of heading the body of the episcopate," the Pope said. "Nevertheless our position in no way detracts you, our brother bishops, of your due authority."

"On the contrary we are among the first to respect that sacred authority."

The Roman Catholic pontiff chose for the reopening ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica a consecrated Mass — said by himself and 24 of the 2,500 council fathers here from around the world.

Voting will take place early in the session on one schema, or council topic, concerning the nature of the Church and one on the duties of bishops. They spell out a new emphasis on papal-episcopal cooperation in the over-all government of the Church.

Lubbock's Bid Accepted
For New Mental School

AUSTIN (AP)—The Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools selected Lubbock today as the site for a new special school for the mentally retarded.

Lubbock was chosen from a list which included Plainview, Odessa, El Paso, Levelland, Midland, Fort Stockton, Amarillo, Big Spring, Lamesa and several others.

The 1963 Legislature authorized establishment of a special school "west of the 100th meridian." The board's capital budget request for the two-year state fiscal period beginning Sept. 1, 1965, includes $2.5 million for the school.

The board accepted an offer of a 225-acre tract of land in Lubbock, bordered on the north by Hillcrest Country Club and on the east by College Ave.

Hurricane Gladys Gains
Strength Near Islands

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Gladys grew into a hurricane today, with winds of 85 miles an hour roaring around the eye and gale winds embracing an area 250 miles in diameter.

Gladys was centered at midday about 850 miles east of San Juan, P.R.

Present indications, the Weather Bureau said, are that Gladys will pass a safe distance north of the Leeward Islands and will not threaten any land area in the Caribbean.

The storm was moving toward the west-northwest at 18 miles an hour and was expected to turn to a northwesterly course by Tuesday. A slight increase in size and intensity was forecast.

Tropical storm Dora headed farther out to sea today after leaving sections of the Atlantic Coast flooded from torrential rains and winds up to 60 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau reported Dora was 180 miles east of Norfolk, Va., and was moving away from all land areas.

While Dora appeared to be easing out of the nation's weather picture, unseasonably cold temperatures continued to chill most of the eastern half of the country.

Before she moved into the Atlantic, Dora lashed the North Carolina and Virginia coasts with high winds and torrential rains. One new death was attributed to the storm, bringing to seven the toll since Dora first struck the mainland in Florida last week as a hurricane.

As the storm moved out to sea, winds along the Middle Atlantic coast slowly diminished and were down to 35 miles an hour early today. Rains also were decreasing and were expected to end later today.

Colder weather spread from Pennsylvania westward to the Dakotas. Early today Phillipsburg, Pa., reported a frosty 23 degrees. At Jamestown, N.D., the temperature reading of 39 represented a drop of 43 degrees from Sunday's high of 82.

Gladys Coming
Tropical storm Dora and Hurricane Ethel, no longer considered dangerous to land areas, bow out at sea toward the northeast, according to this morning's advisory from the U.S. Weather Bureau. Hurricane Gladys is approaching about 530 miles east of San Juan, Puerto Rico. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Humphrey Issues Reminder Of '48

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey steered his Johnson-Humphrey campaign back into the Midwest today, warning Democrats not to be so sure of victory they forget Harry S. Truman's upset triumph in 1948.

Pressing his barnstorming attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater, Humphrey declared: "It is a depressing thought, but the temporary spokesman for the Republican party could be — despite himself — the president of the United States."

"But only if we let him," the Democratic vice-presidential nominee added in remarks prepared for a downtown street rally.

Democrats have been buoyed by polls forecasting a November victory. But, Humphrey recalled, "Truman went to bed on election night — by verdict of every public opinion poll and certain well-known commentators — a rejected and defeated man."

Democrats, he said, should take Truman's 1948 victory as a "solemn warning never to let ourselves fall victim to complacency."

Campaigning in New Mexico Sunday Humphrey charged that Goldwater was "playing on the emotions of the American people" in the race issue.

He was asked at an Albuquerque news conference whether he thought Goldwater's repeated denunciations of lawlessness and demonstrations were attempts to inject the race issue into the campaign as an appeal to the so-called white backlash vote.

Humphrey replied: "I doubt I could draw any other conclusion than the fact that the senator from Arizona is equating the violence that takes place in certain cities with the race issue and the civil rights bill."

This, he argued, was playing on Americans' emotions at the expense of better racial understanding.

Humphrey also declared that Goldwater should retract his statement that President Johnson "appears to be playing politics" with the Vietnamese crisis.

U. S. Welcomes Coup's Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States welcomed today the quick collapse of the anti-government military uprising in South Viet Nam and officials said Premier Nguyen Khanh should now be able to get on rapidly with plans to press the war against Communist guerrillas.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk summed up official reaction here, saying: "I am pleased that the trouble is over and that the government can now get on with its main tasks."

No one here could say for certain whether Khanh's shaky hold on leadership in the battle-ravaged Southeast Asian country had been strengthened or weakened by the Sunday coup, but Rusk obviously hoped that Khanh's success in his latest struggle for power would reinforce his position as premier.

IN DETROIT
Rusk signaled the belief that the crisis is eased by leaving Washington on a speaking tour to Detroit, a long-scheduled date that the sudden events in Saigon had shifted to tentative status. He spoke briefly with newsmen at the airport.

Powerful and insistent U.S. support for the premier evidently played a key role in keeping him in office. U.S. officials in Saigon are understood to have made the American position clear to South Viet Nam's contending leaders well before its public announcement in Washington.

The attempted coup came so suddenly that it caught American policy makers, including Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, by surprise. Startled officials hastened to their departments Sunday morning to find out what was happening.

RECENT REVIEW
Nothing like this had been foreshadowed during the four-day review of the Vietnamese situation which Taylor held with President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and other authorities from Monday through last Thursday.

Johnson, Rusk, McNamara and other officials held an unannounced emergency meeting at the White House Sunday on the newest Saigon crisis. This was followed by a statement expressing the hope that "consultations among the (South Vietnamese) leadership will shortly permit the government to restore the situation in the city to normal."

At that time the troops who had been led into Saigon some hours earlier by Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, Khanh's deposed interior minister, appeared to have control of Saigon.

The reference to "the government" in the Johnson administration's statement made clear that authorities here did not accept the claim of the rebels to having thrown Khanh out of the premiership. Officials said privately that U.S. support was still behind the premier.

SUPPORT KHANH
Sunday night in a second statement issued by the State Department, the United States took a firm and flat public position in support of Khanh and his administration.

This statement also reported that U.S. officials in Saigon had been in touch with "military and civilian leaders" there throughout Sunday and Sunday evening.

The statement was intended obviously to remove any doubt which might have persisted in Saigon and elsewhere about the U.S. commitment to Khanh, and authorities here described him as they had during Taylor's visit last week as still being the one man in South Viet Nam who has a possibility of creating a reasonably broad base of support for rule in the country.

Plane Ride Thrill Fatal

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A babysitter planned to take her two young charges to the Detroit Zoo but changed her mind Sunday, in order to treat them to an airplane ride.

All three were killed in a fiery crash near Pontiac.

Officials at Pontiac Municipal Airport said the four-seat private plane was coming in for an emergency landing after the pilot radioed that the craft was afire.

Killed were Judith Ann Korytkowski, 22; Jeffrey Philippart, 5, and his brother Gregory, 4. The boys were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Philippart Jr. of Detroit.

Piloting the craft was Roy S. McPhail, 26. McPhail was reported in critical condition with burns.

Police said the pilot was thrown from the plane when it crashed, but the others were trapped in the flaming wreckage. The crash occurred in the Pontiac Lake State Park, about one-half mile from the airport.

Goldwater Aims For Solid South

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater marches his Republican campaign for the White House into the traditionally Democratic South Tuesday.

The Arizona senator — who has declared that "no Republican can do anything against Johnson without the support of the old Confederacy with appearances in eight Southern states."

If the second week of his presidential campaign is anything like the first, Goldwater will swing freely and hard at President Johnson and pump the voters' hands in a style that at first surprised even his closest admirers.

Goldwater played to his biggest and most enthusiastic crowds in Los Angeles, Seattle, Wash., Boise, Idaho, and Minneapolis, Minn., last week during the opening chapter of his race for the presidency.

The sharpest charges came in prepared speeches he delivered at Seattle and Minneapolis, his major promise — a five-year, 25 per cent tax cut, in a speech before more than 53,000 people in Los Angeles.

Goldwater stressed these charges: —That the Democrats have timed foreign crises to make political hay at home, and may do it again. "Americans must be prepared, under such an administration to be faced by crisis of some sort just before an election" he told an overflow crowd in Seattle.

—That dangerous powers are in the hands of the government — and particularly the White House. In Boise, Goldwater said Johnson has "unholy power never envisioned by the Constitution."

—That lawlessness is mounting, particularly in what Goldwater calls the "boss-controlled" Democratic cities of the East.

In Minneapolis, Goldwater's test linked that squarely with civil rights troubles.

It read this way: "racial tensions have sent men into the streets to seek with violence what can only be found in understanding."

Goldwater never delivered the open reference to racial tensions, but he charged that "the more the federal government has attempted to legislate morality, the more it actually has incited hatreds and violence."

The senator wound up his first week at the dusty Ogle County Fair Grounds in Oregon, Ill., declaring "we are very elated over what we have felt and seen in nine states." He claimed 250,000 had seen him at airports, rallies, and along the streets.

Goldwater's southern swing will take him to North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana and Texas.

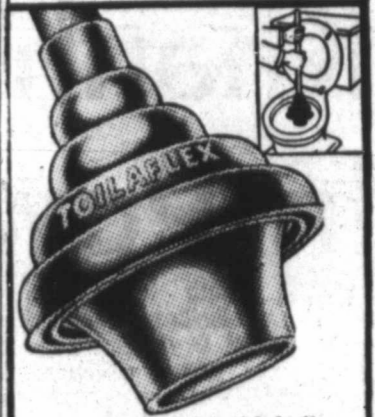

As the senator prepared to begin it, his headquarters announced an old-fashioned whistle-stop campaign through three Midwestern states. That 33-stop swing will cover Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It begins Sept. 29 at Marietta, Ohio.

Nixon On Stump

NEW YORK (AP) — On or about Oct. 1 former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will start an intensive, five-week campaign tour in behalf of Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee.

"We've been swamped with invitations for Mr. Nixon and we're still trying to work out a schedule," a spokesman reported over the weekend.

State GOP Convenes; Miller Due To Speak

AUSTIN (AP) — Republican pre-convention activities continue today, highlighted by platform hearings, a state executive committee meeting and a fund-raising dance tonight.

Jack Crichton, the party's candidate for governor, and other nominees for statewide offices were scheduled to outline their platform views to a committee headed by Frates Seeligion of San Antonio this afternoon.

The convention Tuesday will adopt a platform for Crichton's campaign, elect party officers and executive committee members for the next two years, certify statewide candidates for the November election and select 25 presidential electors.

GOP vice-presidential candidate William Miller will address the convention in his first Texas campaign appearance.

WOMEN'S GROUP

Activities scheduled today include a meeting and luncheon of the Texas Federation of Republican Women, a state finance committee meeting and a session of the Texas Republican Lawyer's Council, as well as the platform and executive committee meetings.

Duke Ellington will provide music for tonight's "Goparty," a fund-raising affair sponsored by the Travis County Republican party.

Crichton gave the platform committee a written statement Sunday outlining his platform recommendations. These generally were followed in statements by State Reps. Dick Morgan, O. H. Harris and Horace Houston, all of Dallas.

The committee will aid the official platform group, to be selected at the convention by state senatorial district caucuses, in writing the platform to be presented for delegate approval, Seeligion said.

Crichton's recommendations were not available in full written form to reporters, but he held a news conference after the meeting to outline them.

PLANS

They include, Crichton said, these points:

1. Election code reform, including legislation to abolish the "scratch system" of marking ballots and requiring election clerks of both major political parties at polling places.
2. Holding the line on state taxes and assigning priorities for spending, with education near the top.
3. Improvement of graduate education in publicly supported colleges and universities, but not at the expense of the undergraduate instruction.
4. Reapportionment of the state's congressional seats and the Texas House of Representatives on an equal population basis, but advocacy of a U.S. constitutional amendment that would allow state senate seats to be allocated along other lines.

The platform should advocate revamping of the state's fiscal structure, Morgan said, and eliminate many special funds which he said "generally are in existence to protect some special interest."

TEAMSTERS

Carlos Moore of Fort Worth, political and legislative director of the Teamsters Union in Texas, appeared before the body with four points he said the Teamsters would like to see in the GOP platform.

"Teamsters in the past have supported Republican candidates in some places in Texas," he said.

The four points were:

1. Modernization of all branches of state government, to include legislative and judicial restructuring.
2. No increase in the state sales tax "and elimination of waste and extravagance."
3. A state industrial safety law.
4. Establishment of a state labor-management relations act with machinery for union representation elections in companies not in interstate commerce.

Cardinal McIntyre Collapses At Conference

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre collapses in his seat during the ceremonial re-opening of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in St. Peter's Basilica today in Rome. Fatigue and heat in the room were blamed for the spell.

Cardinal McIntyre Suffers Collapse At Ecumenical

ROME (AP)—James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles collapsed today during the ceremonial re-opening of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in St. Peter's Basilica.

Doctors said a combination of fatigue and the heat of the basilica, filled with 2,500 council fathers and several thousand spectators, caused him to lose consciousness.

The cardinal was wheeled on a stretcher to a first aid station, then driven by ambulance to the Blue Sisters' Clinic on Rome's Celian Hill. Electro-cardiograms taken there showed his heart function was normal, doctors said.

The cardinal's secretaries telephoned Los Angeles to inform the archdiocese what had happened and to reassure the chancery office there that the cardinal was in no danger.

Doctors said he would stay in the hospital several days to rest and undergo blood and other tests.

Cardinal McIntyre, 78, was standing in the third row of the cardinals' section, the section nearest the altar in St. Peter's Basilica. Just after the consecration of the Mass, he collapsed.

Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, an Italian member of the Vatican Curia, was nearest him and helped him into his seat.

Cardinal McIntyre, a New Yorker by birth, became a priest in 1921 and was made a bishop in 1940. Pope Pius XII made him a cardinal in February 1948.

His archdiocese, one of the largest in the United States, has 1.5 million Roman Catholics.

ROTC Tests Are Slated

The Navy's 19th annual NROTC qualification tests will be given to high school seniors or graduates, 17 years of age but not over 21 by June 30, 1965, nationwide Dec. 12. Wayne Bonner, counselor for Big Spring High School students, said applications are now available.

On the basis of the test, personal interviews, physical examinations, and other factors, Bonner said, over 2,000 young men will be given college educations as midshipmen in NROTC units in 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation. Registrations for the test will close Nov. 20, and informational bulletins and applications are available from Bonner or the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting Station.

"A successful applicant receives financial aid for four years of college, including tuition, books, uniforms, miscellaneous expenses, and a $50 per month retainer fee. NROTC midshipmen become commissioned officers in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps after successful completion of college degree requirements. They also have three summer cruises with various naval units, including visits to foreign ports, which help them learn more about opportunities available to them as naval officers."

Greek Tunes, New Styles Paraded In Dallas Show

DALLAS (AP)—While a bazooki combo played old Greek folk tunes like "Never on Sunday," a new French perfume by Greek-born Paris designer Jean Desses was introduced Sunday night to this country's fashion people by Dallas merchant-prince Stanley Marcus.

Name designers, Neiman-Marcus executives and fashion and beauty writers flown in from other cities celebrated the debut of "Kalispera" perfume. Some were befuddled against the rigors of Texas air conditioning. At dinner they ate roast beef and candied violets.

Everybody was there but the Greek ambassador. He was supposed to be. But at the last moment, said a store spokesman, Sara Marshall, he was tied up with "the crisis on Cyprus."

Fashion celebrities who made the scene were Beatle-browed hat designer Mr. John, Richard Koret, the purse man, and Andrew Goodman, a fellow merchant-prince of Marcus from the Bergdorf-Goodman store in New York.

Gliding down the runway as if on wheels, models showed new Desses gowns. The designer's old faithful, chiffon, turned up in a billowing red dress, floor length, with a great fringed stole to match. Most of his other dresses were beaded to beat the band.

As guests sipped champagne, Marcus also introduced them to such Texas trinkets as a sleeveless fur wrap for a warm-blooded woman, a half-million-dollar diamond necklace, a full-length black monkey-fur coat and a cabuchon emerald as big as something out of a Cracker-jack box.

A bazooki is a pear-shaped, stringed instrument like a lute. It makes tinkly pear-shaped notes. Kalispera, the name of the new perfume, is Greek for "good evening." The perfume has a flowery-woody smell.

DEMOS CONVENE

Harmony May Keynote Meet

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Democrats began state convention preliminaries today with indications that Tuesday's session may set new harmony records, a subcommittee named to hear credentials contests set a 9 a.m. hearing but officials said Sunday night the session likely will be a routine review of arguments presented at the June convention in Houston.

Gov. John Connally said that some time during the day he would name his choice of a new state chairman to succeed Frank Erwin, recently picked for national committee man from Texas.

Connally told a news conference Sunday he expected Tuesday's convention to be even shorter and sweeter than the June meet. He said there are no big controversies in sight.

The Houston session lasted barely five hours after Connally took control from supporters of U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough on a 2,137 to 664 test vote.

Those who opposed Connally in June have indicated they will make no direct challenge for convention control but will press for more representation on the 62-member state Democratic executive committee, which sets the party line in Texas.

However, pre-convention competition is scheduled tonight when Connally and Yarborough will be honored at separate appreciation dinners in downtown Dallas. Those paying $12.50 a plate for the Connally dinner will hear the governor and singer Julius Larosa. The Yarborough dinner, which paid from $10 to $100 to eat, will hear Yarborough, federal district judge Sarah T. Hughes, and Dallas city councilwoman Elizabeth Blessing.

Connally drove to Dallas from Austin Sunday with his brother, Merrill Connally, and their wives. He told newsmen his keynote speech Tuesday will stress government at the state level. He said he will review progress under his administration and reveal some of his plans for the future of the party.

Connally said the platform now being drafted would be "a guide line for advancement of our state governmental affairs." He said it would be "different from what you expect or anticipate."

The 1962 platform adopted on Connally's recommendation had 71 specific major proposals of party policy.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If you believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help anyone already slick bald.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if you believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

MARJORIE LORD

Right Mental Outlook Aid To Youthfulness

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—"Your age is a number you should neither fear nor contemplate." Marjorie Lord confided on CBS-TV's "The Danny Thomas Show" set. "The moment you become concerned about mounting birthdays is the moment you begin to age."

"This was pointed out to me when I was told about a man who had been separated from his family in South America. He was working vigorously at a job when a relative recognized him and said, 'You shouldn't be working that hard at your age or you'll kill yourself.' The man looked about 50, but when he learned from his relative that he was nearing 70, he slowed down, worried about himself and not long afterward died of a heart attack.

"Marlene Dietrich is an inspiring example of a woman who has scoffed at birthdays. At a recent party, she was the center of attraction in a room full of beautiful young women."

"I believe in taking care of yourself, but it is silly to get upset when you see a few wrinkles. There is more to youth than that! You hear so much about cosmetic surgery today—operations to lift your neck, eyes, face and hands. But this does not create an illusion of youth when your movements are stiff and your energy is low."

"The spirit of youth, the forward look, the well cared for body comes from good habits. You tear yourself down with excesses—overeating, overdrinking, overdieting."

"Extreme fluctuations in weight are unhealthy. I try to hold my line without dieting, but the moment my belt feels too tight, I cut down on my eating. My clothes tell me if I'm gaining. They're a more accurate judge than stepping on a scale.

"Dieting is something you have to work out for yourself. Be analytical and discover what foods get you into trouble. Mine are what I call eye appealing—eating because it looks good or is there in front of you—not because you're hungry. If I am not hungry, I try not to eat. Food that your body does not need is what causes weight problems."

"Both my husband and my fans like me better as a blonde. An interesting thing about it is that my hair is healthier since I have started bleaching it. I take better care of it, and I have a conditioning treatment every time I have a shampoo."

"Choosing the right hair style means being able to take care of it properly. I don't like the set look. I like hair to move with me and to feel soft. A good tip is to put a very fine piece of tulle over your hair before you spray with hair set. Enough comes through to keep your hair tidy without making it stiff."

THREE SPARE MINUTES
That's what it takes to keep a young and firm body. Just three minutes! The secret to youthfulness is circulation, and to have good circulation you have to use your body. Leaflet M-113, "Three - Minute Figure Control Routine," will be on its way to you when you send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Daily Herald, P.O. Box 1111, Los Angeles, California, 90053.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Stop Sticking Pans When Baking Pones

Dear Folks:

I've been making cornbread pones and cooking cornbread in iron skillet for 20 years, but not until this week did I learn how to keep pones from sticking to the iron pan.

Some precious reader told me to grease the heavy pan first, then to sprinkle it with corn meal (as you would ordinarily flour a cake pan), put it in the oven or broiler until the corn meal turned brown, and then pour in the batter. I tried it. She said the pone would never stick, but would come out with the flip of a knife.

Naturally, I doubted it. Who wouldn't?

Well, I tried it and hereafter will never cook cornbread pones or cornbread in a skillet any other way.

For the first time in over 20 years, the pones didn't stick or break, but came out just like our dear reader said... with a slight flick of the knife.

Not only that, but I found the pans easier to wash! The cornbread doesn't stick to the pans. I will love this woman to my dying day and that's just how long I intend to keep eating cornbread now that I've found an easy way... Cornbread Heloise

P.S. And just for variation, try adding a dash of vanilla to the batter. I did and it was wonderful.

I have also used sage in cornmeal batter when having fowl and dressing, or pork chops. And what's wrong with trying other extracts, such as lemon, when serving fish...

Dear Heloise: Before using tweezers, try squeezing and pulling the inside of the tweezer's points along the sticky side of a piece of adhesive tape.

You'd be surprised how much better a grip this gives the tweezers... Alice Woolaway

Dear Heloise: When children are ill and must stay in bed, it is difficult to give them fruit juices or other liquids without having some spill on the bed or on the child's night clothes.

I solved this problem by punching a hole in the screw cap of a half-pint jar with an ice pick. Then I poured the liquid into the jar, put the lid on tightly, and inserted a drinking straw through the hole in the lid.

Children love this idea, and so do I... no more spills... Martha

Dear Heloise: I found the simplest way to cover a hot water bottle is to take two finger-tip towels (they are an exact fit), sew the two sides and one end together, and that's it.

With either snaps or zipper, or just safety pins to fasten the open end, it's done in a jiffy. And nothing could be easier to launder... R. H.

Also, the softness of the towels makes the hot water bottle more comfy!... Heloise

Dear Heloise: When cutting plastic bleach and detergent bottles with scissors or a knife for various uses, heat the bottle under hot water first.

The bottles can even be held under the warm water while cutting, and it is almost like cutting paper... L. C. (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Dear Abby

Doggonest Trouble

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and have had eight dogs in my lifetime, one at a time. The trouble is that something always happens to them when they are puppies. They either run away, get hit by a car, bite somebody and we have to get rid of them, or they get sick and die. I dearly love dogs, Abby, and you once said that you thought every boy should have one, but my father says I can't have another one. How can I convince him to let have another dog?

UNLUCKY WITH DOGS
DEAR UNLUCKY: The eight dogs you've had were also unlucky. However, there's more than just "luck." I agree with your father. Before you try to convince him to get another dog, get some instructions on the care and training of dogs from your local S.P.C.A. or a veterinarian.

DEAR ABBY: When we were married 30 years ago, my husband told me of a blot on his past. He said he feared someone else might tell me if he didn't. He made me promise never to repeat it. Several years ago, while visiting his relatives, I got so sick of hearing them praise him to the skies that I revealed what he had told me in order to shock them. Naturally, my husband found out about it. Since that time he has treated me like a housekeeper and nothing more. He told me he never could love, respect or trust me again. He asked for a legal separation. No divorce. I refused. I dread the thought of spending my few remaining years alone. (We are both over 60, retired, and have no children.) He wants to give me half of everything he has and then to get out of my sight. Should I give it to him? Please answer in the paper as I do not want a reply coming here. Thank you.

DILEMMA
DEAR DILEMMA: Give him the legal separation.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Good Daughter," whose aging mother drove her crazy, could have been written by me. My mother had a stroke and became cantankerous and demanding in her old age. She would call me sometimes twenty times a day to tell me the same thing. I would become annoyed and even impatient with her. I realize now that her memory was poor, and she had no conception of time, poor darling. Mother passed away last July, and now I would welcome just one phone call from her. I have a lovely family but, Abby—no one on earth can take the place of a mother. Please tell all those "good daughters" who complain because their aging mothers take up so much of their time, that before they know it they will have plenty of lonely hours to themselves, as nothing is forever.

MISSING MAMA

CONFIDENTIAL TO MICKY IN MANHATTAN: Write that letter. But don't mail it.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif.

Malta Near Independence

LONDON (AP)—They're hauling the Union Jack down next week after 150 years of sovereignty over sun-baked Malta in the Mediterranean.

The Maltese Cross is going up in its place. The ceremony Sept. 21 completes full independence for Malta for the first time in several thousand years of Greek, Roman, Sicilian, Arab, French and British occupation.

Prince Philip, representing his wife, Queen Elizabeth II, will preside over the solemnities.

At his side will be Sir Maurice Dorman, who drops the title of "governor" of Malta and becomes governor-general, merely the representative of the crown in dealings with the Maltese government of Prime Minister Borg Olivier and in some cases, of course, with the Socialist party opposition of labor leader Dom Mintoff.

A new constitution goes into effect with the transition. It puts the stamp of approval on Malta as a free nation of 320,000 persons living on 120 square miles of island, acknowledging Elizabeth as their Queen inside the framework of the commonwealth.

Screwworm Fighters Look Toward Mexico

MISSION (AP)—Southwest cattlemen estimate 99.5 per cent of the insects causing possibly the most costly cattle disease have been killed with controlled atomic energy. They now look to Mexico for their next battle field.

Stockmen call the insect the screwworm fly and the wounds it causes in cattle can maim and sometimes kill. Until about three years ago the infestation was so widespread that it took on the nature of an annual plague.

The southeastern United States showed how to eradicate it, and the Southwest followed. The plan simply is to incubate a vast number of flies and sterilize them with cobalt 60 before they are released. When they mate with unsterilized flies, no offspring result. Eventually the whole area is cleared of the insects.

Only one case was found in Texas in August. New Mexico had no cases. Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana have been free of the insect all year.

IN MEXICO

But a recurrence of the infestation could come unless the flies are eradicated in Mexico. Money has become a problem.

The United States has the facilities to produce more than enough sterile flies. A plant northwest of Mission has produced more than 10 billion flies since the program began Feb. 14, 1962.

The first sterile flies were dropped from airplanes in the Poza Rica, Veracruz, area of Mexico in August. The drops began a 60 to 90-day test program.

The U.S. House of Representatives has trimmed a request of $5 million for the project to $2.75 million, of which $2.52 million must be matched by non-federal funds.

Congress' action "is very disappointing," said Dolph Briscoe Jr., president of the Southeast Animal Health Research Foundation.

He noted that eradication in the United States is not sufficient—that a 200-mile-wide band free of flies must be maintained along the Mexican-U.S. border.

MONEY ON HAND

Briscoe's organization raised $3 million from stockmen and sportsmen to match state and federal funds to start the program. Money on hand will keep the program going until about Dec. 1. Costs now are about $350,000 a month.

Briscoe is hopeful the program can get State Department funds because of the international nature of the campaign, or money from the President's emergency fund.

Del Deterling, information officer for the project, reports a good reception in Mexico.

"While this barrier was designed for protection of the United States, the Mexican ranchers in the area report it has reduced their problem tremendously," Deterling said. "Their testimonials have made ranchers living to the south of them eager for the program to be extended into all of Mexico."

Octavio Ochoa Ochoa, president of the Mexican National Livestock Confederation, and Dr. Oscar Valdes Ornelas, sub-secretary of agriculture for Mexico, recently visited the Mission plant and pledged support for the program in Mexico.

REDUCTION

"We figure that our reduction of screwworm infestations, hence the screwworm population, has been in excess of 99.5 per cent in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas," Deterling said.

"For every case reported in the first year, there were four others that weren't. Last year, for every case reported there were two unreported, but now we feel we are getting better reporting."

The program received reports of 95 cases in Texas this year, nine in New Mexico, 50 in Arizona and none in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Prior to 1957, the screwworm cost U.S. stockmen an estimated $135 million a year in damaged and killed cattle.

Between December of 1957 and Nov. 14, 1959, the insect was wiped out in the Southeast by the same methods now being used in the Southwest.

Police Check Car Accidents

Police investigated five minor traffic collisions Saturday, with no accidents reported to officers Sunday.

A collision at Eleventh Place and Goliad Street about 8 p.m. Saturday caused an estimated $300 damages to a car driven by the Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, 901 Dallas, and some $200 damages to a car driven by Darrell Douglas Morgan, 1011 Main. In an accident about 9:30 p.m. Saturday, some $350 in damages was received by a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy C. Earp, 1218 Harding St., and a lesser amount to a car driven by Sara Whittington, 809 W. 17th St.

Locations and drivers of three other minor collisions Saturday were 222 W. 3rd, Viola Roberts Holt, 804 W. 4th, and Robert L. Teer, Bossier City, La.; Fifteenth and Goliad Streets, David George Cobb, Route 1, and Rayburn Jarrell Barbee, Route 1; and 410 E. Marcy Drive, Buddy Wisenbaker, 3311 Abilene Ave., and Clyde Walker, 2100 S. Monticello.

County Budget Given Okay

Howard County's 1965 budget, calling for expenditures of $952,921 out of an estimated total income of $1,040,999, was approved without change or fare at a session of the Howard County Commissioners court Monday morning.

The tax rate, as had been announced, was pegged at $1 per $100 valuation—a drop of five cents under the rate for the current year.

The decrease in tax levy was due to the retirement recently of a 1954 road bond issue for which five cents had been levied for the past 10 years.

Ray Ehling, tax officer for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, and Marvin Wood, Howard County property owner, were the only outsiders at the meeting.

Judge Lee Porter read the budget through item by item and each section was approved as it was read.

The budget this year includes no allowance for salary increases or for special expenditures. The only item providing for any feature, other than mill-run expenses, is $7,500 to supplement funds already approved for a new county warehouse.

Friends Put Total Higher

Although the formal appeal for funds for the high school Bible Class ended Sunday, several friends continued support in an effort to push the total nearer its $3,500 goal.

Gifts left with the Herald Monday morning added $95 to the previous total and made $3,161.70 so far turned in toward financing the Bible course for about 100 students. Of course, the Herald will be happy to receive your gift and see that it is deposited to the Bible fund account.

Among those having a part today were the Dorcas Class of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church $5, Kiwanis Queens $10, Mrs. Ara S. Cunningham $5, Mrs. J. Y. Robb $10, Church of the Nazarene $50, Eunice Class of East Fourth Baptist in memory of Mrs. T. N. Culwell $5, and Evening Circle WMU of First Baptist $10.

Delegates Go To Conventions

Howard County delegates to the Texas Democratic Convention in Dallas are committed to a fight to have Frank Hardesty, Howard County Democratic party leader for many years, elected as State Committeeman.

The county delegation, which left on Sunday, has 10 votes. The delegation, according to reports, will be small. Those who are in attendance include Hardesty, C. Roscoe Cone, Frank Goodman, Mrs. Ray Bedford and Floyd Young.

Howard County Republican delegates, with seven votes to cast, are assembling today in Austin for the State Republican Convention which is to be held Tuesday.

The delegates who are attending the convention include: Bill Sheppard, county chairman; Zell Smith, Ralph McLaughlin, Harold Hall, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. M. A. Porter and Ralph Gossett.

Republicans Hold Fund Raising Ball

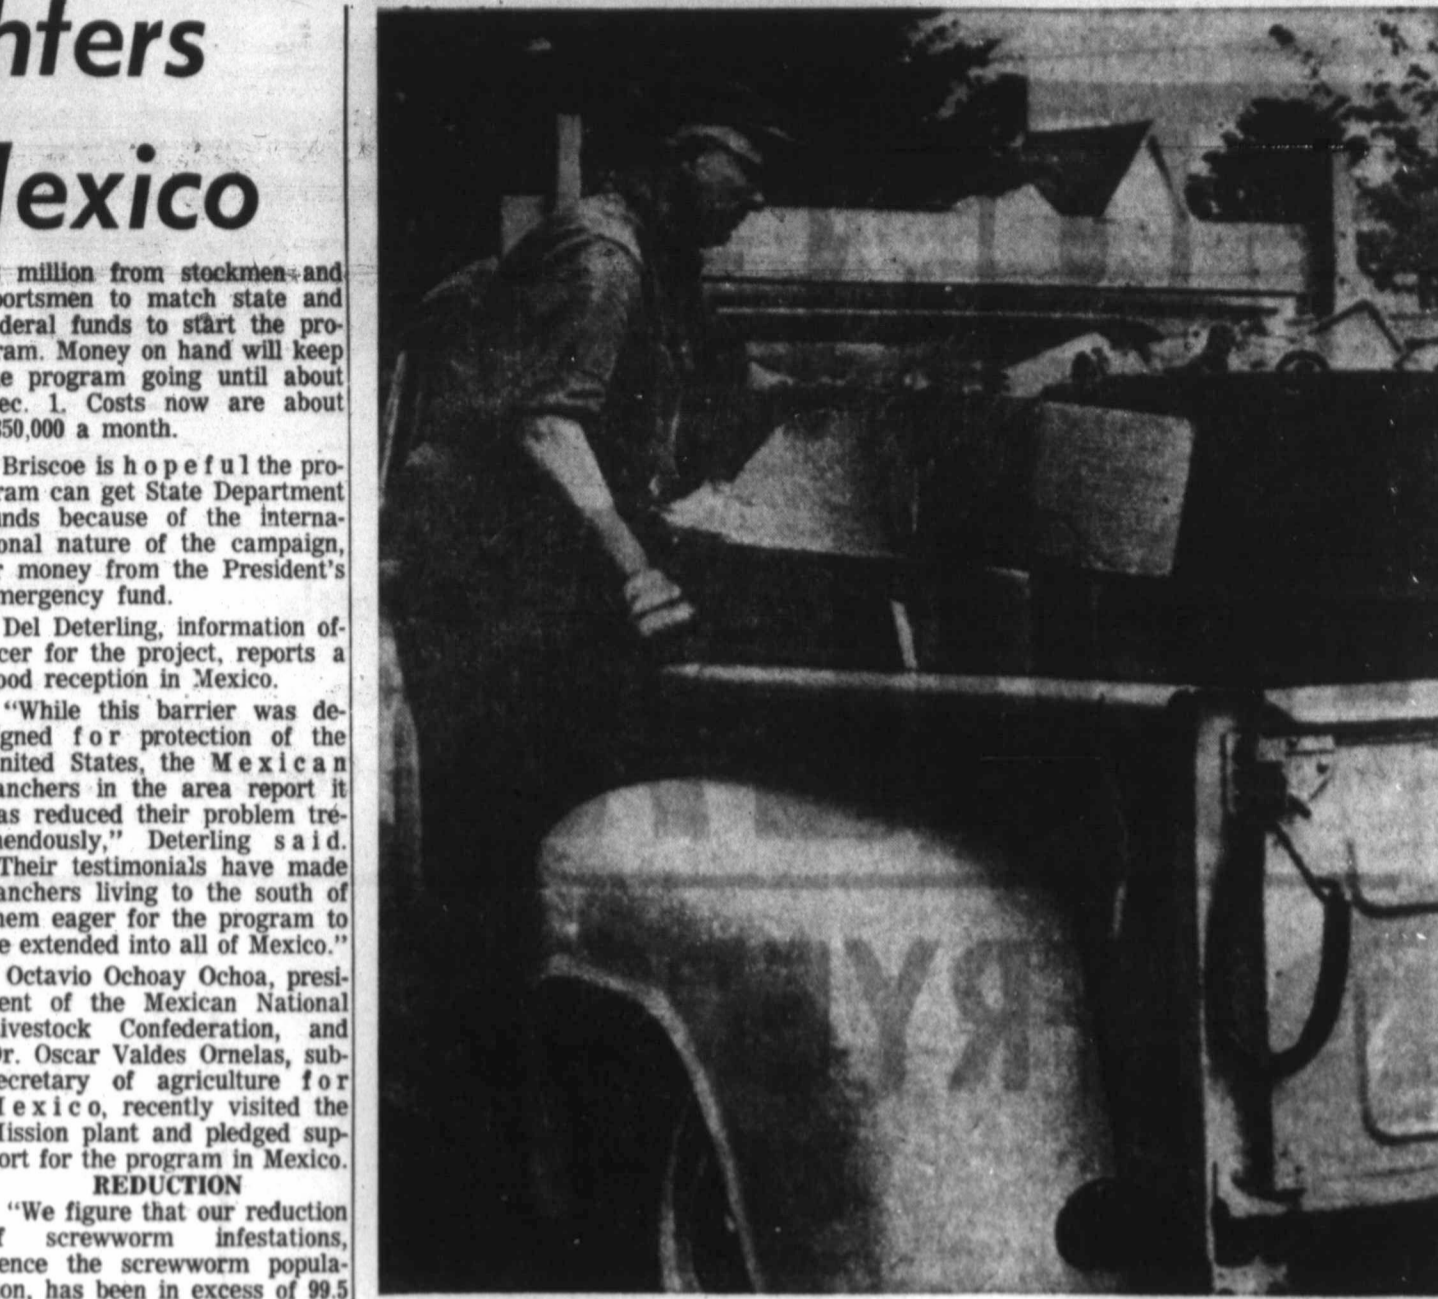

Two hundred Big Spring and area persons attended a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Strom, and then a buffet dinner and dance at Cosden Country Club Saturday night. The dinner-dance was sponsored by the West Texas Republican Women to raise funds for the GOP campaign.

Decorations used at the Cosden Country Club ballroom were GOP balloons, and elephant pinatas, tied with pink streamers.

A floor show after the dinner had Mrs. Norman Spencer as director and choreographer. Rich and Bill Anderson, Dick Shaver, and Grant Boardman performed a soft shoe dance, and took part in group singing.

New Miss America Says Bible Played A Top Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Pert Vonda Kay Van Dyke, the new Miss America, said today the Bible had played a major role in her life.

The 21-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., brunette with an hourglass figure, met the New York press for the first time and said:

"Whenever I get a little nervous, I look up the scriptures. I definitely feel I never would have made Miss America on my own—only with God's help."

Vonda came here from Atlantic City Sunday to begin a year of public appearances throughout the country. With the weather in the chilly 50s, one of the first things she planned to do was to buy a coat.

"I really didn't expect to make it," she said. "I didn't even bring a winter coat, just clothes for the week. I'm freezing to death."

Just how winning the beauty crown will affect her romance with Duane Kapp, 22, a student at the University of Arizona, only time will tell, she declared, adding:

"We have a lot of understanding between us. We agreed to let God's will be done."

"Then she hastily said, 'I'm going to get to see him as much as I can. I will make arrangements for that.'"

The two met while students at Phoenix Christian High School. She said the religious training she received there and from her parents had made a profound effect on her life.

Before leaving Atlantic City, her brown eyes glistening with tears, she described the dreamlike quality of her coronation.

"After making the walk back and forth on the runway, I started up the steps to the chair. I thought that when I got up there, I would put my hand and it would not be there," she said.

"I don't quite know how to react, but I know I feel unhappy for myself," he said after Miss Arizona's crowning. "There's a chance this may affect her life, and if this happens I know she won't be the girl I knew and the girl I loved."

Vonda and young Kapp have known each other six years. While they had made no definite plans, marriage "was one of those things we knew would be in the future," he said.

Vonda's immediate future involves a month here posing for pictures and being fitted out with a wardrobe.

A senior at Arizona State University, she will postpone her final year of college until after she tours as Miss America.

First prize in the pageant brought her a $10,000 scholarship and an estimated $80,000 in personal appearance contracts. Another $1,000 scholarship came with her selection by the other 49 girls as the pageant's Miss Congeniality—the first time that a Miss America had won the popularity contest.

Caldwell Gets County Job

Howard County Commissioners Court awarded contract Monday for the sealcoating of five miles of county highway to W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring. Only two bids for the sealcoating were offered. Caldwell bid $5,423.60 for the job. E. W. Wilson Jr., San Angelo, bid $9,444.20.

The contract for sand and gravel for the jobs was awarded on a split to the West Texas Sand and Gravel and to R. E. Jones, Sand and Gravel. The roads to be treated are described as the Gay Hill road, the Birdwell Lane road, a segment of Lomax Road located 13 miles southwest of Big Spring, and a segment of the Vincent Road 22 miles northeast of Big Spring.

Projects Nos. 1 and 2 were awarded to Jones and Nos. 3 and 4 to West Texas Sand and Gravel.

Total cost of the five mile program is $7,156.

Water District's Board To Discuss Delay Bid

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said Monday that the Lower Colorado River Authority request for a 90-day delay in the Oct. 19 hearing on CRMWD's Robert Lee dam permit application would be referred Friday to the district board.

The board is meeting here during the morning to consider the proposed budget for the next year, and other business. During the afternoon, members of the board who are on a special committee, will confer with panel members from the Upper Colorado River Authority to discuss mutual interests in the proposed Robert Lee project.

"While I have some feelings on the matter," said Spence, "this is something which the board will want to consider and perhaps express an opinion."

Meanwhile, in San Angelo, M. D. Bryant, who has had his hand on several water development projects in that area, endorsed the LCRA request.

"Any deal as large as the one being proposed by the CRMWD should be thoroughly studied before it is approved," he said.

The CRMWD has a permit to impound a lake on the upper Colorado River, but the location proposed originally was in southern Mitchell County. After more than a year of study on foundations and quality, the CRMWD asked the Texas Water Commission for permission to amend the permit by moving 18 miles downstream to a dam site above Robert Lee. This drew protests from Mitchell interests and inquiry from UCRA.

More Trouble At Treatment Plant Here

A short in some electrical circuits caused temporary difficulties at the city sewage treatment plant about 2:30 p.m. Sunday, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

The plant operation, normally automatic, was directed by hand temporarily, with the plant not yet fully functioning this morning, according to Lillard.

City electrical crews are checking the plant for temporary repairs, Lillard said today, but any permanent repairs will have to be made by the contractor, Shiftlet Brothers, Abilene. The city has not yet formally accepted the plant.

The electrical short Sunday afternoon was in some of the telemetering circuits and the electrical relay system, according to Lillard. The plant's normally automatic functioning was stopped temporarily by the electrical difficulties, he said, causing plant operators to take over direction of the plant by hand Sunday.

Nurse Training Classes Stopped

LAMESA (SC)—Directors of Medical Arts Hospital here have decided to temporarily suspend vocational nurses' training classes. The course has been a cooperative effort between the hospital and Lamesa school district, which obtained funds through the Texas Education Agency.

A class was enrolled Sept. 1, but only eight students participated. In view of the light enrollment, the TEA denied funds for the 1964 class. The board said the project would be too much of a financial burden to accept alone and suspended training. Four previous classes graduated 28 students.

'Matter Of Days' On Warren Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says it is "a matter of days" before his investigating commission completes and submits to President Johnson its 700-page report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Other sources estimated the White House may issue the findings over the weekend of Sept. 27. Other estimates were that final editing, printing and binding could take a little longer.

Warren told newsmen Saturday that the seven-member commission has been working

Two Held In Bank Stickup

DALLAS (AP) — Two young men whom detectives believe were among the four persons taking part in the $41,000 robbery of the Inwood National Bank Friday were picked up late Sunday night.

Detective Capt. Will Fritz said, "I think they're the same ones that knocked off the Zulder Zee restaurant and the Pizazz Inn a few weeks ago, too."

Officers searched all night for the other two wanted men.

"We know who the other two are. It's just a matter of time until we get them," said Detective Capt. Will Fritz.

The two men arrested last night are the sons, aged 23 and 24, of a Dallas cafe operator. No charges were filed.

Detectives arrested one as he slipped beer in a tavern and the other in his $280-a-month apartment.

Officers said they seized more than $17,000 in cash. They also picked up a quantity of newly purchased clothing and luggage.

Officers also found a shoe box crammed with theatrical make-up including false beard material and a bottle of spirit gum for applying false beards.

The three men who robbed the bank were disguised with false beards and actor's powder, police were told by witnesses. The fourth remained outside in a getaway car.

Police, in hunting for the men, took two secretaries, attractive and in their early 20s, to police headquarters and then released them.

"So far we haven't found any weapons," said Fritz, "but some of our men did find ammunition in one of the apartments."

The detective captain said one of the men spent $1,000 for clothes Saturday.

When told of the $1,000 purchase of clothes, one of the secretaries exclaimed, "Why that lousy fink. He borrowed $5 from me that day. I thought he was broke."

Holdup men got $42 at the Pizza Inn and $4,500 from the Zulder Zee restaurant.

Posts Bond

C. R. (Chuck) Bryant, a resident of Athens, has posted $2,000 bond in that city and been released on a warrant charging him with statutory rape. The alleged offense was committed Aug. 15 in Howard County. Bryant is accused of bringing a 14-year-old Athens girl from that city to Big Spring. While here, he is accused of criminally assaulting the girl.

night and day to finish the report.

"I hope it will be very soon," Warren said. "We're just driving to get it all done. Our job is completed when we report to the President."

The chief justice emphasized that public distribution of the report is up to the White House. Much of the delay in completing the report — the original target date was June 30 — stems from painstaking efforts by commission members to make sure each report on Kennedy's death last Nov. 22 in Dallas is fully documented.

Commission sources said that although the report will contain "some surprises," in main it will say:

—Lee Harvey Oswald, an unstable Marxist acting without helpers or coconspirators, shot Kennedy to death.

—Jack Ruby, convicted murderer of Oswald, acted in outraged grief as well as he conceived to be an agent of retribution when he killed Oswald in the Dallas police station two days after Kennedy's death.

Warren said the commission's primary task now is editing proofs from the Government Printing Office, including the checking of "thousands of footnotes, references to the appendices."

But another commission member reported: "we're still writing."

The report will include, early in the text, a summary of the commission's findings, perhaps 20 to 25 pages long; then hundreds of pages of narrative and analytical text, with some illustrations; and, finally, some condensed appendices.

In addition, there will be 20 or more volumes containing the transcripts of testimony of hundreds of witnesses questioned in closed hearings, as well as depositions, investigations reports and exhibits.

Besides Warren, the commission consists of Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.; Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; John J. McCloy and Allen W. Dulles.

Under the program, lots are re-checked about 10 days after the owner is first notified and, if the owner has not done the cleaning, city crews undertake the work. The lot-cleaning program includes provision for billing the owner for the cost of work done by the city at 10 cents per front foot or a minimum of $5 per lot.

About 40 lots have been cleaned by city crews thus far this summer, Lillard said, and 17 lots by property owners themselves.

The program will probably continue through November, according to Lillard.

Some 30-40 additional letters are to be mailed this week to city property owners concerning the weed-cleaning program now underway, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

Some 69 letters have been sent thus far this summer to lot owners notifying them that city inspectors had listed their lots as fire or health hazards due to growth of weeds. City crews have re-checked lots belong to about 50 property owners, Lillard said.

A Devotional For The Day

Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. (Matthew 6:8)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that through Jesus our Lord we can know Thee. We thank Thee also that through Him Thou wilt make our way perfect. In His holy name we pray. Amen.

For Tax Reforms

Remember when there were some doubts about the wisdom of tax cuts? Remember, particularly a year ago, when the Kennedy administration ran into considerable trouble with its proposed cut in income taxes?

The Kennedy-Johnson tax cut worked out well. There was some relief for the taxpayer and the government didn't go bankrupt.

Today we see Sen. Barry Goldwater advancing plans for more tax cuts in the event he is elected.

This makes substantial tax cuts bipartisan, like foreign policy and national defense used to be.

The implied endorsement by the two major political parties that the taxpayer is bearing a too-heavy burden and a poorly adjusted load is overdue recognition of a sad situation. The nation needs tax reforms from the local government level right up to Washington.

Let us hope that these signs are more than temporary signals, hauled up because this is a political year.

Curtailing Train Service

Of importance to Big Spring is the hearing scheduled for Wednesday of this week on an application of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company to discontinue two of its passenger trains now serving this city.

An examiner for the Texas Railroad Commission will hear testimony, and of course the railroad's presentation will be that of loss of money. It will have figures to substantiate this.

strong effort has been made to keep passenger traffic.

Regardless of these views, it is true that dining facilities, sleeping cars, porter services and station conveniences have been abandoned, and that this has caused some erstwhile regular riders of the trains to desert them.

Over and above the railroads' responsibility to maintain passenger service, business people might be concerned about a curtailment in such essential services as mail, express and parcel post. These things are important to many lines of trade.

It may be a compelling argument, but there could be question as to what charges have been properly applied against the two trains involved. Furthermore, railroad employees who obviously cannot afford to have their names made public claim that what coaches the trains do carry are frequently crowded; that traffic delays occur to defeat passengers' need for convenient connections; and that no

These who see a harmful effect on their business might want to check with the Chamber of Commerce to see if their testimony could be of use. It is no benefit to the city in seeing its train services cut by 50 per cent.

Justice Department In Politics

WASHINGTON—Many members of Congress have read with amazement that the Department of Justice in the last three years has supposedly been manipulated for political purposes by the Attorney General, Robert F. Kennedy. The published stories were intended to compliment the outgoing Cabinet officer and call attention to important steps he had taken.

But these same published accounts have served also to emphasize that the American people ought never to permit a system wherein a politician can run the Department of Justice. In fact, it would be a big step forward if the Department could be divorced from the Cabinet altogether and from control by any President, just as the courts are independent of the executive.

MR. KENNEDY, in the tributes of praise in certain newspapers after he resigned, is said to have advised J. Edgar Hoover to "redirect" the major efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The reports say the FBI was told to cut down on its Communist-hunting activities and pay more attention to "civil rights," even though this might involve a slackening of FBI operations against espionage agents and particularly Communists.

Why weren't the American people informed of this interference with the FBI? The "civil rights" laws which now spell out federal jurisdiction on certain matters were not in effect during the last three years. Yet the FBI was supposed to allow itself to be used as a political tool to help the voting fortunes of the administration. If the FBI could be manipulated for one purpose on a given day, it could be ordered on another day to carry on vendettas and otherwise distort the whole system of honest law enforcement.

THE FBI has been directed for 40 years by Mr. Hoover. He sticks to the letter of the law. He does not favor either political party as he supervises the operations of a huge detective force. He has won the admiration of police officers throughout the country because he has adhered strictly to the law without political bias.

THE RECORD doesn't bear out the boasts of those who claim the FBI pursued other channels while presumably neglecting its prescribed functions. There have been a number of arrests and convictions of espionage agents—far more than ever before. It was the FBI which caught a Navy enlisted man in the act of handing

Around The Rim

Calliopes, George And Democrats

This and that:
A little over 100 years ago, a Worcester, Mass., man named J. C. Stoddard received a patent to protect his invention of a new musical instrument.

The age of steam had just arrived, so Stoddard made use of it to power the largest organ ever built. It was the first calliopo.

The Yankee envisioned his calliopo as a church instrument—to be used as a substitute for steeple bells rather than for the inside of a place of worship.

His idea never caught on as he intended but circus men took to it enthusiastically.

LIFE CAN be frustrating at times.

Consider the case of my five-year-old daughter. The other night the Big Spring High School band descended upon the stadium located across the way from our abode to practice a few numbers for an upcoming football game.

Phyllis grasped the opportunity by putting on her ballet costume, complete with long hose. Before the floor show could start, however, the band completed its drill and went home.

The heifers took it as a personal affront.

GEORGE WASHINGTON had the tastes of the traditional colonial aristocrat when it came to sports. He went in for fox hunting, horse racing, billiards and duck hunting. Some of his biographers also disclose his feats in putting the shot and pole vaulting were remarkable.

His favorite pastime, from all indications, was riding to the hounds. He was proud of his dogs, which were well trained, and his fowling-pieces.

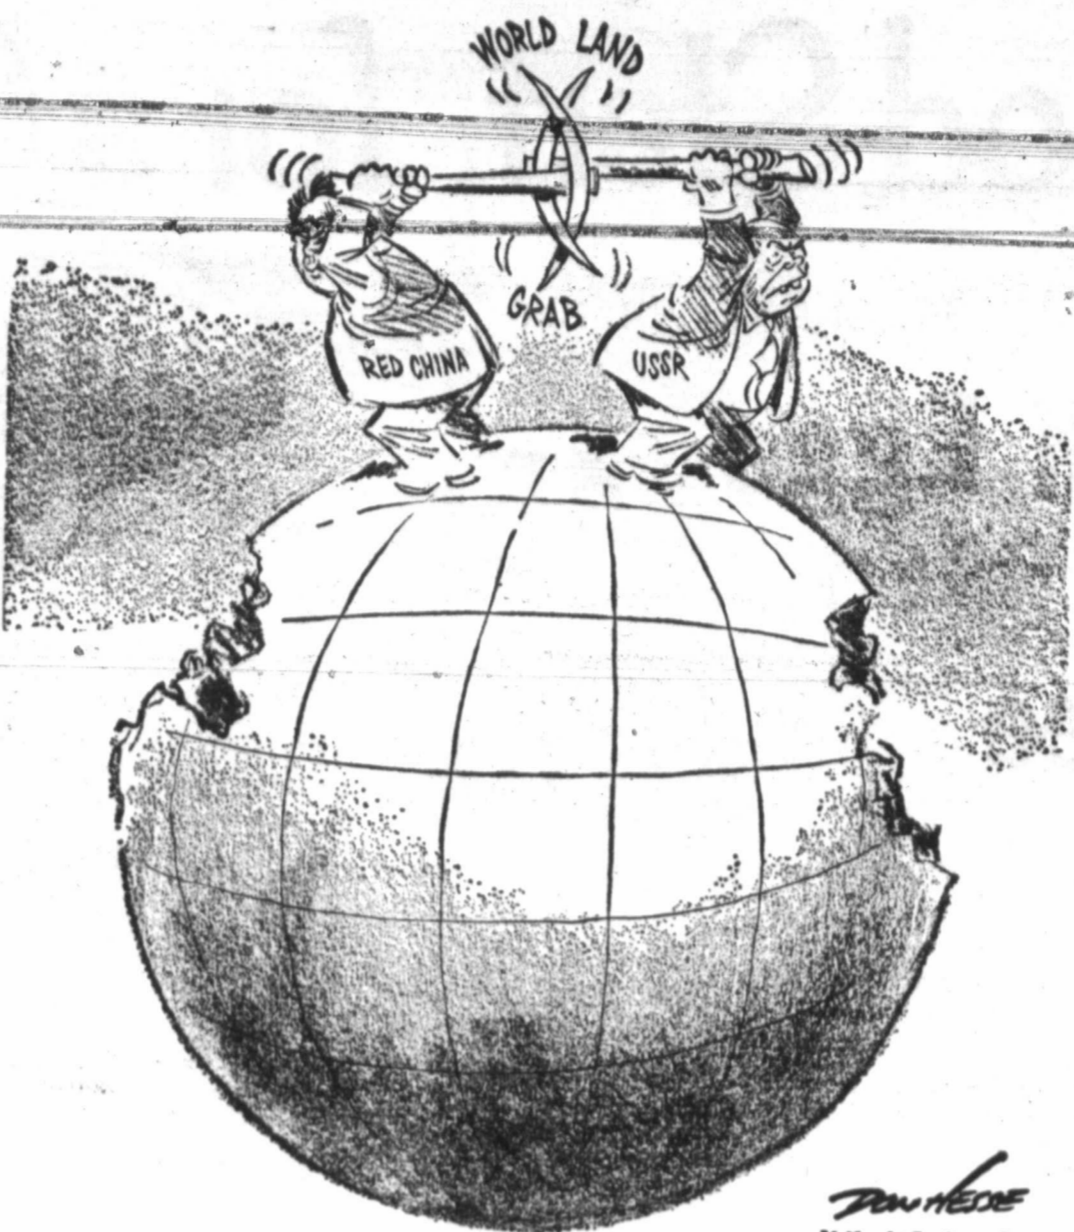

The nation's first president wasn't above watching and betting on cock fights, either.

MAYOR IVAN ALLEN JR., of Atlanta, Ga., describes himself as a "dry finger Democrat."

His ardor for the party and the current chief executive of the nation hasn't waned in the least, he adds.

"I'm not one of those Democrats who wets his finger every few minutes and tries to find out which way the wind is blowing," Allen defines his special breed of politician.

POWER STRUGGLE

James Marlow

LBJ Facing Double Jeopardy In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's administration is in for double damage if the struggle against communism in South Viet Nam now collapses into civil war or chaos.

Only last week Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador there, headed back to Viet Nam after a four-day visit here to report on the situation which had been getting steadily worse. But he was optimistic, talked of "eventual victory."

Then Sunday came the fifth upheaval in 10 months. A group of officers, some of them Catholics ousted by Premier Nguyen Khanh and blacklisted by the Buddhists, seized Saigon with a few thousand troops.

THEY CALLED Khanh a traitor. Later in the day the United States announced it was backing Khanh. Still later in the day the coup collapsed, the troops withdrew, and Khanh still seemed in control.

All this is testimony to the unstable condition in South Viet Nam where the Red guerrillas from North Viet Nam have been trying for years to take over the whole country and are making progress.

Their biggest help has been the internal deterioration in the south. At this moment no one can predict what comes tomorrow.

1. AMERICAN prestige in Asia will suffer perhaps a fatal blow in its struggle against communism on the continent. What other country then would depend on U.S. guidance or help?

This country has been aiding the South Vietnamese for eight years, has 18,000 military men there, supposedly as trainers and advisers, has lost over 300 of them, has pumped in billions of dollars in military and economic help.

2. The situation could become a prime issue in the U.S. presidential campaign.

In the latest upheaval Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, a Roman Catholic, and other officers marched into Saigon with their troops and announced seizure of the government. This was only a symptom of the ailment.

THE SOUTH Vietnamese are split by Catholic-Buddhist factions and the disputes and ambitions of generals. They lack the unity and general will necessary to solve their marauding problem: victory over the Reds.

The history of the past 10 months has been one of steady deterioration.

Last Nov. 1 President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Catholic, was killed when a military junta took over after his bitter quarrels with the Buddhists. This lasted until Jan. 30.

THEN MAJ. Gen. Khanh, in another coup, threw out the junta. He survived until Aug. 7 when, like Diem, he tried to establish a dictatorship. Buddhists protested, even though Khanh was a Buddhist, and fought Catholics in the streets.

In the midst of this uproar Khanh skipped out, but only temporarily, and returned Sept. 5. He bowed to Buddhist demands, bounced some of his top officers, including Catholics like Gen. Phat.

Each time this country quickly recognized the new masters or master, until Sunday when it stuck by Khanh. As of now he's boss again.

If there's no civil war until after the American elections, Johnson may then feel he can move more freely in handling Viet Nam than he does now.

Executives' Lives Are Longer

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you want to live longer, become a business executive. They have a longer than average life expectancy. Despite job strains they rate high in health. A survey found three of four were free or organic ailments.

IT TAKES the harvest of 50 coffee trees to supply one American family its yearly intake.

Literary note: U.S. children and grown ups spent $100 million annually to buy a billion comic books. That's four times as many books as are added each year to all the public libraries in the nation.

Cystitis Is Inflammation Of The Bladder

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss cystitis, which I understand is a urinary tract infection. Do only women suffer from this? Does it often occur during pregnancy? When it occurs in women who are not pregnant, what is generally the cause? Does it lie dormant in men, and they act as hosts? Does frequency of sexual intercourse affect the incidence in certain individuals?—C. W. M.

More exactly, cystitis is inflammation of one particular part of the urinary tract, the bladder.

It is more common in women, but men can have bladder infections, too. A contributing factor in men is enlarged prostate, since this interferes with emptying of the bladder, thereby helping infections to start.

Anatomical structure seems to be important in making cystitis more common in women. The distortion and pressures of pregnancy can interfere with proper emptying of the bladder; hence more risk of infection. Sagging of the bladder, as an aftermath of childbirth, can be a factor. Or there may be ascending infections from outside sources. The infection works its way upward to the bladder. In this as well as with infections from interior sources, stricture (a narrowing) of the urethra, or outlet from the bladder, can be responsible. And these strictures are not uncommon in women.

Frequency of sexual intercourse is part of the cause in some cases—often in brides. Is it because they are coming into intimate contact with a strain of some ordinary germ to which they have not developed an immunity or resistance? Maybe. But the ways of germs are still too complex to let us say positively that this or that is "the reason." I'm devoted to trying to simplify matters of health, but I think we are best off if we admit that there are some things which don't permit oversimplification.

And that leads me to the question of whether men are "hosts" to the infection—or infections, since the inflammation, or cystitis, need not always be from the same type.

It is obvious, from the foregoing that men as well as women may harbor such infections. They may pass the germs on to someone else. All the same, I think there is sufficient evidence that as a rule men are NOT the hosts or "carriers" of these infections.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are all black or dark moles malignant? Is removal done by a plastic surgeon?—G. T.

No, but they are more likely to be malignant than lighter colored moles. If on the face, you might want a plastic surgeon to remove them, but dermatologists and general physicians remove them, too.

Hot to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Did Barry Just Fight One Round?

WASHINGTON—Robert Welch, of the John Birch Society, whom some of us quizzed recently on "Meet The Press," told us afterwards why he couldn't endorse Barry Goldwater—too many Birchites are Lyndon Johnson boosters. Not a large number, but large enough to trust-bust what is commonly supposed to be a Goldwater monopoly.

"They think he's a Southern Conservative," Welch explained.

ON LABOR DAY in Detroit, the President made the traditional Democratic pitch to Labor, but it was nothing like the one that Candidate Kennedy made in the same place four years ago. If you compare the two speeches, it is easy to see why Lyndon Johnson comes through as a Democratic moderate, while Kennedy came through as a Democratic liberal.

Kennedy endorsed Negro sit-ins and Labor sit-downs: "I want every American to stand up for his rights, even if sometimes he has to sit down for them."

JOHNSON ENDORSED the olive branch: "I call for national unity. I ask for brotherhood."

Kennedy went a way toward arousing Labor against management and against the GOP: "The goals of the Labor Movement are the goals for all Americans, and their enemies are the enemies of progress. Their slogan is 'You never had it so good.'"

JOHNSON PREACHED amity between the economic classes: "Responsible business know that fair wages are essential to its prosperity. Responsible labor knows that fair profits are essential to rising employment. This is the 43rd month of the greatest peacetime prosperity in our history."

You look at the calendar and begin to ask:

How are the Republicans going to make a race of it? Business is moving toward the President. Republican-minded newspapers are leaving the Goldwater tree like autumn leaves. Washington newsmen can go to the White House almost daily and catch a walk-around interview from the President of the United States, but try and catch Goldwater!

THE EXPLANATION seems to be that the Goldwater managers haven't adjusted to the national campaign. They're confusing organization with inspiration. They're substituting industriousness for originality. At the GOP national headquarters, you see the walls covered with charts, but you don't find the air crackling with the impetuosity and downright impudence that generated electricity for the nomination drive.

TODAY THERE is no such mockery and invective hurling against the President, no such political bloodlust unless it's directed at Hubert Humphrey. But national campaigns aren't won by beating the second man on the ticket. You begin to get the idea that the Goldwater team has left its game in the gymnasium—that it was keyed-up to win the nomination but doesn't quite know how to butt heads with Democrats.

Taylor's Formula For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—If the proletarian mandarins in Peking could steal just one top-secret American defense document, there is little doubt which one they'd choose—the summary of Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor's formula for victory in Viet Nam.

Mao's shrewd and patient students of our professional soldiers must already know its vague outlines. But reads of Ambassador Taylor's blueprint for victory are, to lapse into Washington's spy jargon, as "dark" as any information in the capital today.

BUT COMMUNIST Chinese intellectuals whose task is to know which way the heated American tiger is likely to jump, already have enough information upon which to base some cunning judgments. Ambassador Taylor, who, of course, is a former Army Chief of Staff and a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is on record in ample detail with a detailed and icy logical analysis of how wars such as Viet Nam can be won.

It is no favor to Mao's tame forecasters to reveal this. They have digested, debated and dissected every word Gen. Taylor ever published. So what is said here will not be news in the power centers of Red China, although it may be news in many American homes.

BACKGROUND: In 1959 Gen. Taylor was retired after serving four years as Army Chief of Staff. He wasn't exactly fired, but he was pointedly denied chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs. His offense had been to disagree (privately, but violently and persuasively) with the Dulles-Eisenhower doctrine of massive retaliation. Nuclear response, Gen. Taylor argued, was no solution to brushfire wars, or to wars of internal subversion or to wars of guerrilla terror. Events have proved Gen. Taylor brilliantly right, but for two years his brilliant, stubborn advocacy of flexible response was heresy, and it was enough to drive him into eclipse in the power constellations of the nation's capital.

DURING HIS EXILE (before President Kennedy moved swiftly to appoint him JCS chairman) Gen. Taylor wrote an angry, outspoken and well-reasoned book arraigning the failure of leadership that had left the nation wholly dependent upon a rigid, unworkable policy of massive retaliation.

Its theme was simply that the United States had to develop a means of fighting—and winning—wars short of thermonuclear holocaust. He crisply disposed of the supposed disparity in manpower between the free world and the Communist empire. Even if no division existed between European and Asian communism, he showed that the free world had a marked numerical superiority in fit miles of military age—156.9 million against 145.4 million for the Communists, including both European and Asian satellites. This startling arithmetic, coupled with the West's superiority in the hardware of modern war, was the keystone of what Gen. Taylor called "a new national military program."

IF HE WERE RIGHT (and history seems bent on proving him so in every minute detail) then it seemed clear that the West could fight on any scale whatever—a graduated response that could be tailored (no pun intended) to whatever need.

For the long term, it is interesting to note that General, now Ambassador, Taylor's revealed bias in such matters is to fight—to fight with whatever weapons and on whatever scale is indicated, but to fight.

Attracts Snakes

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Snake-bites are old hat to Mrs. Bonnie Wren of Wichita.

She recently went to a hospital for treatment of the bite of a copperhead snake. While there, she noted that it was the seventh time a poisonous snake had bitten her.

Mrs. Wren, 35, said none of the bites affected her seriously.

Milk Aids

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It was a case of crackers and milk at an A&P supermarket, police said—safe crackers.

The thieves broke in, then used milk from the dairy case to cool the door they used to cut holes in the back of the safe, investigators reported. They got $100.

Nice Party

Emerson Is Winner Over Fellow Aussie

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — It's fun and relaxation for the confident Australians and hard work for the edgy Americans going into the final two-week training period for the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

"We'll take it easy for a few days — swim, play golf and just loaf in the sun," the foxy captain of the Aussies, Harry Hopman, said today. "Our boys have had enough tennis for a while."

"We'll get to Cleveland about Thursday. That will be plenty of time."

The Challenge Round is scheduled Sept. 25-27, with the United States defending the silver trophy wrested from the Australians last year in Adelaide.

Prospects of keeping the Cup here don't seem bright.

Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle, the Aussies' two top men, defeated America's best, Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, and played the seventh-all-Australian men's final in nine years Sunday in the National Cleveland. Intense practice will be started Tuesday on the clay courts where the matches will be played.

Both captains must name four-man squads Tuesday. The Australians will name Emerson, Stolle, Newcombe and Tony Roche. The United States probably will settle on McKinley, Ralston, Arthur Ashe, Jr., and Marty Riessen.

The women's crown was lost for the third straight year to a foreign player. Repeater Maria Bueno of Brazil polished off Carole Caldwell Graebner of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-1, 6-0.

SWC Begins 50th Season

The Southwest Conference launches its 50th football campaign Saturday but prospects of making a winning start are not so good.

While none of the foes are among the nation's top 10, several of them border on it and at least show more veteran strength than the Southwest Conference teams.

Texas, defending champion and favored to repeat, isn't due to lose but the Longhorns could have more trouble than ordinary with Tulane, whom they meet at Austin Saturday night.

Tulane has 25 lettermen and reports itself greatly improved. Texas beat Tulane 21-0 last year.

Texas A&M, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas Tech face trouble aplenty.

The Aggies open against Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and will be running into an outfit that's supposed to be "loaded."

Southern Methodist journeys to Gainesville, Fla., to clash with Florida and the young Mustangs could encounter more than they can handle in the veteran Florida crew. There are 25 lettermen in the Gator camp.

Texas Christian plays Kansas at Lawrence. Kansas has 30 lettermen, a starting line averaging 225 pounds to the man, the Big Eight's leading runner in Gale Sayers and just about everything it takes to win football games.

Texas Tech hosts Mississippi State and may have the toughest row to hoe of all. Mississippi State, which had a fine season last year, has 23 lettermen and looks even better.

Arkansas plays Oklahoma State at Little Rock and should be able to win by about the same margin as 1963—21-9.

Rice and Baylor are the only members of the conference not opening the campaign this week.

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Baxter, a regular on the PGA tour, won the Tascosa Country Club pro-member golf tournament Sunday.

Baxter had 199 for 54 holes. He closed out Sunday with a three-under-par 69.

Horace Moore of Plainview was second with 206.

Francisco and took another giant stride toward becoming a 20-game winner in each league.

Only nine pitchers in major league history ever have posted 20 victories in both the National and American leagues, among them Cy Young, Jack Chesbro and Joe McGinnity. Bunning, however, could become the first since Carl Mays in 1924.

Bunning, who won 20 games with Detroit in 1957, likely will make four or five more starts in the Phillies' final 19 games. He checked the Giants on seven hits, bringing his record to 17-4—best in the majors on a percentage basis.

Bunning's pitching and a three-run 10th built on Tony Taylor's double, a single by Johnny Callison and Richie Allen's homer kept the Phillies' bulge at six games over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, who put together a rare feat of their own.

Walloping the Chicago Cubs 15-2, the Cardinals became only the second team in modern major league history to score in every one of nine innings. The New York Giants did it against Philadelphia in 1923.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati remained seven games back by bombing Warren Spahn and Milwaukee 9-2. Don Drysdale won his 18th game as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the New York Mets 5-4 and Pittsburgh blanked Houston 3-0.

Packers Wipe Out Chicago In Opener

Green Bay's new spread formation may have confused Paul Hornung, but he got a big kick out of it — and so did the Packers.

The Packers, who wrecked the Chicago Bears 23-12 Sunday in a significant National Football League season opener for both clubs, pulled a rabbit out of the NFL rule book in the process.

With time running out in the first half, Chicago punted to the Packers and Elijah Pitts called for a fair catch at his own 49-yard line. Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi then invoked NFL Rule 3, Section 11, Article 2, which permits a team, after making a fair catch, to attempt a free kick with no interference from the defending team.

The Packers lined up across the field in kickoff formation; quarterback Bart Starr spotted the ball and Hornung, after lining it up carefully, split the uprights.

The Philadelphia Eagles tried the same play in their opener against the New York Giants but Sam Baker missed a 47-yarder as time ran out in the first half.

TICKETS WILL NOT BE SOLD

There will be no tickets on sale this week at the school business administration office for Friday's Big Spring-Ysleta Red Air football game in El Paso, due to the distance necessary to travel to view the game, according to Don Crockett, assistant business manager.

A block of approximately 100 seats will be reserved, though, in El Paso for any local fan making the trip, and one of these ducats can be had at the gate by identification as a Big Springer.

PAT WASHBURN'S

The Roundtable

No matter whom you pick in this Friday's annual grudge game between the Stanton Buffaloes and the Coahoma Bulldogs, you aren't going to get any support from the head coaches.

Coahoma's SPIKE DYKES had this to say recently: "That Stanton team has got me worried. A lot of people are going around saying we're going to be big favorites, but I don't believe Stanton is going to be the pushover everyone thinks it is. I will say this, though — I feel that we'll go into every game this season with a better than 50-50 chance of winning, except for possibly Aspermont and Merkel."

And then there's BILL MILAM of the Buffs: "Coahoma has really come up with a great team this year. I don't think we have a chance against them. I just want to stay on the same field."

Dykes is finding himself the pre-game favorite.

Anyone who is a New York Yankee fan probably has a clear remembrance of a bus incident recently when PHIL LINZ was fined $200 by manager YOGI BERRA when Linz persisted on playing a harmonica when Berra asked him to stop.

Well, DOUG SMITH, a sportswriter for the Erie (Pa.) Morning News, really played it up. It seems he went to a music store, persuaded a salesman to clip a picture of a harmonica from a catalogue, and then he ran it five columns wide with a line underneath that read: "This is a darned expensive instrument! . . . Two toots cost Phil Linz $100 per toot . . ."

It makes one wonder whether Smith is a Yankee fan.

One of the major weekly gridiron predictions, Major Hoopie's "Right Score in '64," currently is in more than 500 daily newspapers . . . In nine years of head coaching, five being at Baylor University and the rest at Baltimore's Johns Hopkins, JOHN BRIDGERS has come up with a 49-44 record.

Talk about cocky individuals. An Australian, REG ANSETT, bought the Aussie TV rights for the Davis Cup Challenge Round later this month, long before it was determined that Australia would be in the finals. The betting had been that the Aussies would not reach the finals.

CASEY STENGEL of the New York Mets doesn't trust Chicago baseball crowds. At least, he recently warned his players to watch for flying debris when they met the Cubs in the Windy City.

"When they holler, 'heads up,'" Stengel said, "don't do it. You could lose your teeth."

In Owingsville, Ky., hunters are proud of the exceptional care which they give their prize bird dogs. Sometimes it goes a little far.

One man was working in a hayfield recently on a terribly hot day when his baler flushed up a fat rabbit. The dog immediately bolted forward, but was halted with a sharp command from the owner. Then the dog's master proceeded to take off in pursuit. Several minutes later he came back empty-handed and drenched with perspiration.

"Why didn't you sic that hound on the rabbit?" he was asked.

"What," the farmer screamed, "you think I want to run a good dog in heat like this?"

CHAMPAGNE KID CHURNS OUT FIVE-STROKE WIN Tony Lema's Wife Likes $50,000 Victory

Lema Fires 138 For $50,000 Prize

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Champane Tony Lema, saving his pars with wonderful trouble shots from pot holes and petunia beds, ran away with the $50,000 first prize in the World Series of Golf Sunday with a closing round of 68, two under par.

That gave Lema, the British Open champion from San Leandro, Calif., a total of 138 for the 36-hole television match-up of the champions of the four major golf tournaments, and a five-stroke victory.

Ken Venturi, the U. S. Open champion who led Lema by one stroke after the first round, skidded to a 74 Sunday and 143, and had to settle for second place money of $15,000.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols, who had a struggling 77 Saturday, battled back with an even par 70 and saved third place with a 147 total.

And Masters champion Arnold Palmer, upset Saturday because the foursome crept around at the pace of a turtle with an aching back, had putter trouble Sunday and posted his second straight 74, and 148.

Nichols got nothing but a little glory for third place, however. The third and fourth place players each gets $5,000 in this exhibition.

Lema, who pops for champagne after every victory, collected enough to pay for the finest imported stuff as he scratched and scrambled for pars while his rivals were losing theirs in rough, bunker and green.

His total of 138 was two strokes better than the 140 winning total posted by Jack Nicklaus in this event last year, but three strokes behind the 135 recorded by Nicklaus in 1962, the first year of the series.

Par for the bone-crushing Firestone course where the series is held every year is 35-35—70. The course is 7,165-yards.

Lema had eight pars and a birdie on the front nine—where the match was won—but it was like watching the Perils of Pauline to see him collect them.

Venturi, meanwhile, lost the lead for good at the seventh hole and was buried on the ninth, after Lema got down in par 4 from a flower bed.

"I played the best golf I've ever played on this golf course," Lema said.

Ramos Tames Potent Twins

When he came to the New York Yankees last week, Pedro Ramos brought along his wide-brimmed stetson hats, black shirts with white mother of pearl buttons and tight black cowboy pants.

Ramos, however, apparently left something behind — his ineffectiveness.

The 29-year-old Cuban allowed only two hits in five innings of relief Sunday as the New York Yankees defeated Minnesota 5-2 and slipped into second place, one game behind Baltimore in the searing American League pennant chase.

The 10-year veteran has permitted just two runs in 9 1-3 innings of relief with New York. He was called on for his fourth appearance in eight games when starter Whitey Ford was forced to leave the game after four innings.

Elsewhere in the AL Sunday, Kansas City trimmed Baltimore 7-5, Cleveland ripped Chicago 5-4, Boston edged Los Angeles 4-3 and Washington whipped Detroit 5-1.

A run-scoring single by the Athletics' Bert Campaneris in the fifth inning snapped a 5-5 deadlock. Baltimore reliever Chuck Estrada walked two batters prior to the hit. Ed Charles knocked in four runs with two doubles while Rocky Colavito belted his 33rd homer.

The White Sox tumbled into third place, 1 1/2 games behind Baltimore with their fifth loss in the last seven games.

Luis Tiant won his eighth game against two defeats, helping his own cause by driving in the decisive run with a sixth-inning single. Chicago fought back with two runs in the seventh on a walk, Mike Hershberger's double, an infield out and a single by Floyd Robinson.

San Antonio won its series over El Paso in four games, taking the third and deciding triumph Sunday night 5-2. Chris Zachary pitched three-hit ball and Leo Posada and Chuck Harrison each slugged two home runs to account for all the Bullet scoring.

Tulsa was forced to go the route to eliminate Albuquerque. With the series tied at 2-2, the Oilers beat the Dukes 5-3 Sunday night to wind it up.

Texas Triumphs In Boat Tourney

ATLANTA (AP) — Bruce Nicholson of Pasadena, Tex., was a double winner in the world outboard championships that closed Sunday.

Nicholson won in the A and F runabouts.

He was one of three drivers able to win two events.

AFL Opens Fifth Year

By The Associated Press

The American Football League has opened its fifth season with the emphasis on attendance and the spotlight on Buffalo.

The major development of the four-game program was the record crowd of 44,497 as the New York Jets made an artistic and financially successful debut in Shea Stadium by walloping Denver 30-6.

The turnout was more than twice as large as any other ever to see the Jets in New York, exceeded the crowds at all but two of the National League's seven openers and pulled the AFL to a record attendance of 118,412 for its opening program. Elsewhere, Buffalo's Bills won an opener for the first time in their history by crushing Kansas City 34-17 as Billy Cannon played a secondary role for the Raiders and the defending champion San Diego Chargers defeated the Houston Oilers 27-21.

The Jets got the job done early against the Broncos. Bill Baird intercepted a Jacky Lee pass on the second play from scrimmage, returned 24 yards to the 26 and three plays later New York had a touchdown on Dick Wood's 16-yard touchdown pass to Gene Heeter.

When Jim Turner kicked the conversion for a 7-0 lead, only 3:04 had elapsed, but the Broncos already had too many points to make up.

Bills' quarterback Jackie Kemp fired 17 and 10 yard scoring passes to Glenn Bass and hit El Duenilton with a six-yarder in the first quarter against the Chiefs while Tom Sestak ran an interception back 15 yards for a score and Pete Gogolak kicked two field goals.

Sailors Eye Storm
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Thousands of tourists watched yachtsmen and yachtsmen kept an uneasy watch on wandering Hurricane Dora on the eve of the America's Cup races.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This country's track and field athletes broke two world records, equalled another, matched an American mark, bettered the Olympic record in nine events and — as expected — stamped the United States the team to beat in Tokyo.

Rex Cawley bettered the world mark in the 400 meter hurdles with 49.1, and Saturday Ralph Boston broke the listed record of 27 feet 3/4 inches by Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan with a leap of 27 feet 4 1/4 inches.

Boston also had a leap of 27 1/4 but it was wind-aided.

and four extra points. The Patriots, defending Eastern champions but losers of all five exhibition games, moved ahead to stay in the second half when Babe Parilli hit Tony Romeo with a 19-yard touchdown pass and shot a 72-yarder to Art Graham. Gino Cappelletti's 48-yard field goal provided the winning points.

Oakland's Clem Daniels, the league rushing champion, was held to minus one-yard in 14 tries by the rugged Patriot defense.

Houston quarterback George Blanda completed 29 passes for 124 yards and three touchdowns to rookie Sid Blanks, who tied the league record for receptions. Blanks gained 131 yards on the passes and added another 53 yards rushing.

McKnelly Is Valued By Arkansas Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—He's a "two-letterman who never blocks, tackles or carries the ball.

He's not even assigned to a specific coach and takes no part in the normal practice routine.

But this fellow, a senior, holds four all-time records at the University of Arkansas, has scored more points than any other player on the squad and will be comforting for the Razorbacks to have him around when they open the season Saturday night against Oklahoma State.

His name is Tom McKnelly and he's in his fifth year at Arkansas—he was a redshirt his first varsity season.

McKnelly's practice schedule is monotonous and simple. All he does is kick from placement hundreds of times per week from all angles and from a range of 20 to 50 yards from the goal posts.

He has been doing just that for the last three years.

In his two varsity seasons he kicked six field goals and 54 of 61 extra points for a total of 72 points.

He holds the Arkansas career placement record of 54 of 61, the record for one season of 34 of 38 and the record for a single game—eight straight.

He also holds the field goal record for one year—five in 1962, including two in the Sugar Bowl.

A year ago, McKnelly feared his trade was at an end. He missed against Texas Christian and another guy replaced him on the next attempt.

But the following week he kicked a 32-yard field goal against Baylor and was back on course.

His biggest thrill? Well, it wasn't a field goal or extra point. He returned a 10-yard interception in a rare defensive appearance against Tulsa last year. That was it.

No Outbreak Seen In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—There is no danger of an epidemic of encephalitis in Mexico, Minister of Health Dr. Jose Alvarez Amezcua said Sunday.

Commenting upon the recent death in Acapulco of an American tourist from Houston, Tex., who was reported to have died of the dreaded "sleeping sickness" there, Dr. Alvarez Amezcua said only the U.S.-Mexican border areas could be affected.

However, he said, all the proper sanitary measures are being taken to avoid any possibility of the sickness spreading in those areas.

Independents Cry For Quick Action

FORT WORTH (AP)—A Kansas oilman said today the independent segment of the industry is going out of business at a fast rate and cannot wait until after the November general election to have its Washington problems solved.

J. A. Mull Jr., Wichita, said imports, depressed prices and booming production from federal leases off the Louisiana coast are threatening independents across the country.

"Our present condition justifies an all-out appeal to both parties prior to the election," said Mull, chairman of the liaison committee of cooperating associations, which represents 26 state and regional independent oil trade groups from 23 states.

Mull was the keynote speaker at the opening session of the 18th meeting of the 4,500-member Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

UNSUCCESSFUL
The former president of the Kansas Independent Oil & Gas Association said the liaison group has placed its problems before Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee for president, but has been unsuccessful in obtaining an appointment with President Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic nominee.

He said the attitude with the Johnson administration seems to be "sit tight until after the election and everything will be fine."

"I believe it is my duty and my responsibility, as chairman of liaison, to tell you we have been unsuccessful in seeing President Johnson personally in order to give him information about our plight which he simply is not getting from other sources," Mull said.

"On the other hand, Senator Goldwater readily welcomed our request for a conference—at which he heard us out completely."

Mull said his committee was told the President could not meet with the group because he has entrusted oil policy matters to Interior Secretary Stewart Udall.

"We've told his (Johnson's) staff repeatedly we do not believe present interior officials have open minds where our problems are concerned and the President is not getting our side of the story," Mull said.

Mull said representatives of independent operators met with Udall and appealed that quotas for the last half of 1964 under interior's mandatory oil imports control program be cut 500,000 barrels a day. Instead of a cut he increased imports 75,000 a day, Mull said.

The executive committee of the Texas group gave tentative approval Sunday to a resolution calling for vigorous "efforts to neutralize the economic advantage enjoyed by foreign oil over domestic oil in the United States market."

The resolution goes before the meeting's final general session Tuesday.

Negroes Jailed In Rape Case

HOUSTON (AP)—Six teenage Negroes were charged Sunday night with raping a divorcee in a southeast Houston park.

Two others, both 16, were placed in the county detention ward.

Charged with rape were George Boutte, 18; Robert Williams, 18; Spencer Smith, 18; Johnny Garrett, 18; Frank Gibson, 18; and Thomas James Branch, 19.

The attractive divorcee, 34, and her escort were jumped by a gang of Negroes Saturday night as they sat in their car in the park.

They ran, but the youths raped and beat her while the others watched.

Her escort, robbed of $4, telephoned police.

Hungry Thief

DENVER (AP)—The cooks were startled but nobody did anything as a thief carrying a big cardboard box walked into the Hilton Hotel kitchen Sunday.

After loading up two 9-pound hams, 14 club steaks and 17 New York-cut steaks, he left.

was given the highest honor conferred on defense employees, along with a citation lauding his "perceptive and imaginative contribution to a wide range of defense programs, and his selfless devotion to public service."

Godel, a Marine intelligence officer in World War II and a Pentagon employe for 12 years, was deputy director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency until he was removed from that $20,000-a-year post on Aug. 24.

The Pentagon said last week that Godel had been fired after being "served with a notice of suspension and removal" in July "on the basis of information developed through the initial investigation by the Department of Defense." He has appealed his firing.

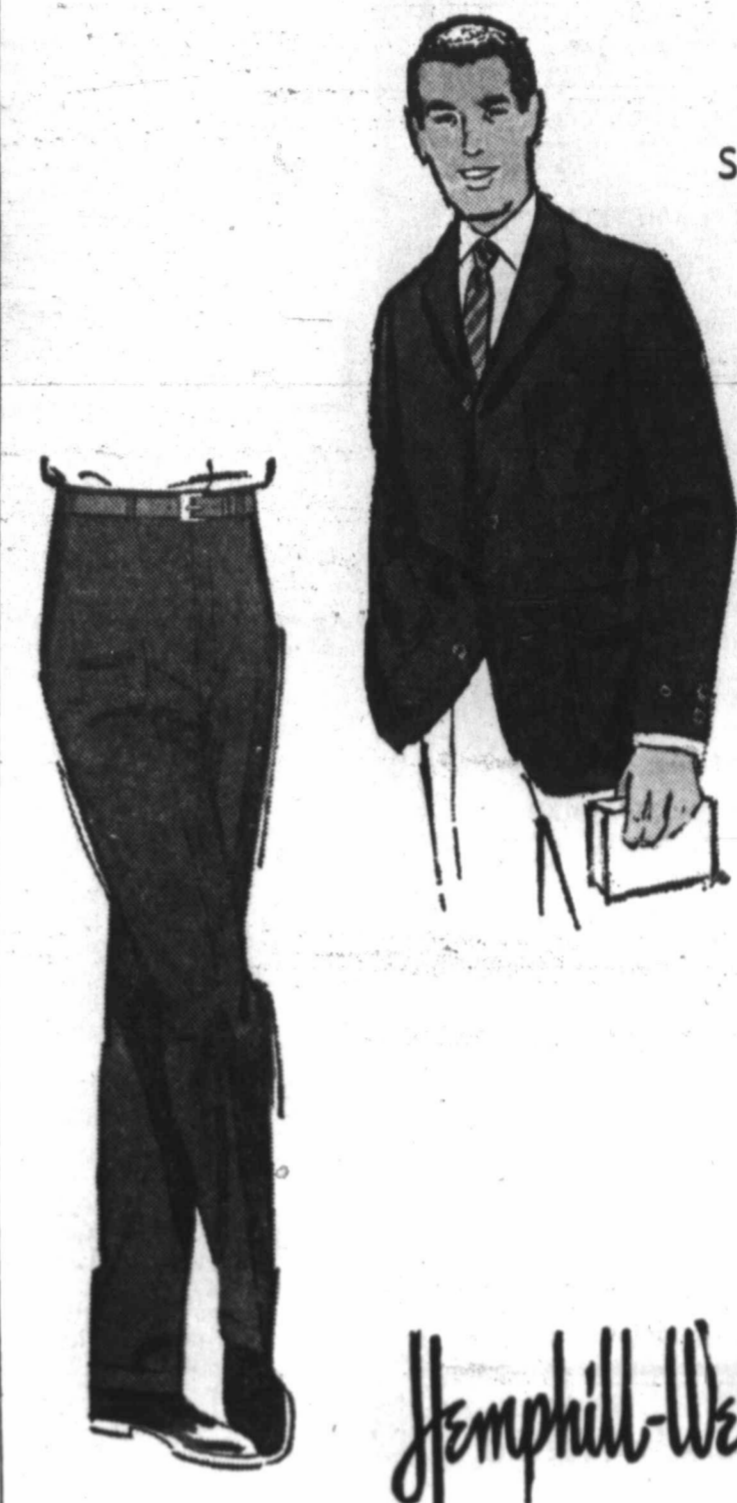

No details of the alleged irregularities, or any amounts involved, have been disclosed.

Temperatures Rise But Still Mild Over Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The chill of last week's Arctic front eased in sections of Northwest Texas today but kept temperatures mild across the state.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy and free of thunderstorms which dumped up to 4.25 inches on Wink in West Texas over the weekend.

Light rain, however, fell early today between Cisco and Waco.

Temperatures ranged from 59 at Childress in the Panhandle to 75 at Laredo in South Texas.

The weather bureau predicted continued mild readings for Texas through Tuesday, with possible thundershowers over Northwest Texas.

Light showers fell Sunday. Official measurements for the 24-

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South you hold:
♠ Q3 ♥ A65 ♦ K1092 ♣ 7432
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Three spades. Despite partner's minimum sounding rebid, a push to game is in order. You have a near maximum one no trump response, and North very likely has a six card suit, since he had an opportunity to show another suit at a convenient level and yet failed to do so. The queen-small may therefore be considered as simple trump support.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ KQJ43 ♥ K10752 ♣ Q53
Your partner has opened the bidding with one no trump. What is your response?
A.—Three spades, and if partner's rebid is three no trump you will bid four hearts to offer him a choice of suits. There is no need to use the club convention when you hold two five card majors.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ AJ965 ♥ 32 ♦ Q6 ♣ K1092
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♥ 2 ♦ 2 ♥ ?
What do you bid?
A.—Two spades. If North can fit the spades there may be a chance for game in the major suit, and South might just as well try to improve matters for he is prepared to have his partner return to diamonds.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ 742 ♥ AJ9632 ♦ A4 ♣ 52
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Two hearts. While a forward move must be made, the hand does not qualify for a jump bid of any kind. Unless partner can bid again there will not be a very good play for game.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ AQJ1062 ♥ Q62 ♦ 4 ♣ AK5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 2 ♦ Dbie. Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—The your partner wishes to play for a penalty and probably has no support in the spade suit, you should take matters into your own hands and head toward game. The proper rebid is a jump to three spades. A mere rebid of two spades would indicate merely a dissatisfaction with the double.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ AKJ ♥ 72 ♦ 853 ♣ QJ754
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—The proper call is two spades. Some players will balk at this suggestion on the grounds that this would be a mere preference instead of a raise. It doesn't much matter by what name you call it as partner will realize that you have a fairly good hand from the fact that you first took the trouble to bid two clubs.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ 2 ♥ Q53 ♦ A1064 ♣ AQ1053
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♥ Pass 2 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Three diamonds. The hope for a slam should not be abandoned. Partner is marked with a singleton diamond and a take-out double, and you should club support a slam should be contemplated in that suit.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ J1085 ♥ 5 ♦ Q743 ♣ A1083
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♥ Dbie. 3 ♥ ?
What do you bid?
A.—Three spades. Prospects for game are bright. You have nine points which is a pretty fair hand for a partner who was able to make a vulnerable take-out double, and you should not permit East's preemptive action to shut you out. Bidding the weak spade suit at this level should not deter you, for North should have good support when he doubles the other major.
