Raging Forest Fire Turns Back Inland

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A fire which twice burned into the hillside suburbs of Santa Barbara turned away today and blazed into lightly populated inland valleys. It was the third time the fire seemed to be moving away from Santa Barbara. Firemen couldn't say whether it could turn and hit the city again. The fire has now blackened 40,000 acres, killed one man and injured 38 others, all firefighters.

over yet," the spokesman said. The largest fire, in Napa and Sonoma counties, was reported to have burned 52,000 acres and 170 buildings. Santa Ana winds — the "devil winds" which sweep down coastal canyons to the sea — have three times sent the blaze burning toward Santa Barbara.

a city of 65,000, nestled between the Pacific and the Santa Ynez Mountains. The fire started Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m., was hit hard by fast-moving firemen and aerial tanker planes, and seemed headed inland by 9 p.m. then came the devil winds. In an hour 12 homes burned. U.S. Forest Service firefighters, bolstered by county and city firemen, blocked it again. By 7 p.m. Wednesday the fire had covered 2,000 acres, but the air at dusk was cool, and in eight minutes the temperature rose 12 degrees and winds of 50 miles an hour pushed flames toward the city.

Warren Report Hard Back Book Yours For $1.50

Would you like to have, for only $1.50, a handsome, hard-back book edition of the Warren Commission full summary on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy? Cooperating with The Associated Press, The Herald has arranged to start printing such a book for its readers just as soon as the full text of the historic document becomes available. Finished copies will start rolling off the presses in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., in a little more than a week. They will be available through AP members only and will not be distributed through news stands or book stores.

To the east — the ocean lines to Santa Barbara's south and west — one tongue raced into Montecito — the home of countless millionaires and the most elegant California suburb hit by fire since the Bel Air blaze of 1961. Thirty homes, many of them mansions, were destroyed, including Brundage's 29-room mansion and Hutchins' $100,000 home. Northeast of the city, Westmont College was hit, two buildings, one a dorm evacuated earlier, burned. Then, swept by winds from the northeast, the fire raced eight miles westward through the oak and eucalyptus groves in canyons studded with moderately-priced to expensive homes. Twenty-four more were destroyed. Twice the flames trapped whole teams of firemen, but most of the men escaped serious injury. But at one spot — on Romero Saddle northeast of Montecito — four men were trapped by flames from three directions.

Blaze Razes Eight Firms

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Three buildings housing eight businesses were destroyed or damaged today in a fire on Procter Street, the city's main downtown thoroughfare. Fire Chief H. A. Hebert said the loss probably would run more than $100,000.

As an historic document on one of the momentous events of the century, the volume will be worthy of a place on every American family's bookshelf. To get your copy, send $1.50 in check or money order to The Herald. It's a first-come, first served basis.

The fire was brought under control at midmorning. Three buildings, all a story and a half and housing eight businesses, were involved. Firemen were hampered in fighting the flames because of false ceilings built into the old buildings in the center of the business district. The Port Arthur fire chief said the fire apparently started in the rear of Palm Lounge and raced through a false ceiling. Businesses involved included Gordon's Credit Clothing, Levy's Mens' Wear, the Man's Shop, Hyman's Jewelry Store and Wagner's Men's Shop. Firemen from Beaumont and other nearby cities aided Port Arthur firemen in fighting the blaze.

Vote Condemns Red Persecution

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a vote of 60 to 1, the Senate overrode State Department opposition Thursday and voted to condemn the Soviet Union's persecution of the Jewish people. The only opposition vote was cast by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He said the State Department opposed the resolution in the belief it will be regarded as an attempt by Congress to interfere with Soviet "legal processes" and that appeals by private groups or citizens would be more effective.

Rains Persist, Keeping Rio Grande Floods Alive

By The Associated Press The rainy weather persisted across much of South Texas during the night, keeping alive a threat of further overflows along the flooding Rio Grande. The Del Rio area, where floods drove 4,000 people from their homes the day before, and Eagle Pass remained the chief trouble spots along the river between Texas and Mexico. Rain fell most of the night at Eagle Pass but there were only drizzles at soggy Del Rio. Occasionally heavy showers fell in the Southwest Texas hill country. Lighter rain fell elsewhere in southern areas of the state, extending also into the Lower Rio Grande Valley and northward to Junction and San Angelo.

town of Ciudad Acuna, where there were about 3,500 flood refugees. One crest rolled down the Rio Grande, passed Eagle Pass, 56 miles below Del Rio, and the stream was dropping slowly today, apparently without causing serious damage. Merchants on the city's Commercial Street, beside the river, spent most of Thursday clearing basement warehouses to prevent sewage losses. New office and other buildings in Piedras Negras, at the Mexican end of the international bridge from Eagle Pass, bore marks of heavy damage. Earth washed from beneath some structures and walls collapsed in a place or two.

Rainy Spell Near End For City, County

Rain continued to fall in most of Big Spring and the Howard County area this morning. Forecasts called for gradual clearing this afternoon and Saturday. This is the first general "rainy spell" experienced in the county this year.

Most of the rains were falling, however, in the southern and western parts of the county, although light rains fell to the north and east. Forsan received .46 inch yesterday and last night, bringing the two-day total to 3.95 inches, and it was still raining. The Big Spring Experiment Station gauge showed .16 of an inch at 8 a.m. for the 24 hours preceding. Total rainfall registered there in 48 hours was .91 bringing the September precipitation to 1.34, well below the 60-year average for the month of 2.14 inches.

Other reports in Big Spring were: College Park area .20; Kentwood .20; Texas Electric Switching Station .08, Boyce Hale .30 for a total of 1.82 in two days; VA hospital area .35. County reports showed: Otis Chalk .50; Moss Creek Lake .20; Elbow .20; Knott .20; Lomax .20; Fairview .50 or better; Wallace Ranch, 9 miles northeast .35; Vealmoor shower; Vincent shower. It was still raining intermittently at all reporting places. Texas Electric Service Co. stations reporting, besides the switching station and Chalk, showed: Eskota .09, Morgan Creek .07, Sweetwater .18, Colorado City .06, Wild Horse .23, and Champion Creek .40. Lake J. B. Thomas received .15. Martin County reports showed about a two-inch average over the county and still raining this morning. Most of those reporting said there was plenty of time for some good grass, unless an unexpectedly early frost occurred.

Ag Department To Be Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigative committee is expected to be highly critical of the Agriculture Department when it reports next week on the business affairs of Billie Sol Estes. Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said Thursday that the report in general says the department showed favoritism to the one-time Texas fertilizer tycoon and could have stopped him in his tracks.

Workers Walk Out On General Motors

Workers Walk Out

Members of United Auto Workers Union walked out of Chevrolet Grey Iron Foundry this morning at 10:00 a.m. The Foundry, employer of some 5,300 workers at Saginaw, Mich., reported no incidents as union members left their jobs. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Firm Put Out Of Production

DETROIT (AP) — A nationwide strike against General Motors Corp. flared today when the United Auto Workers and the company failed to agree on a new contract by a union imposed 10 a.m. (EST) deadline. The union previously negotiated three-year pacts at Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co., final agreement coming only 55 minutes ahead of deadlines at each.

Unresolved issues at the start of a 24-hour marathon bargaining session included grievance procedures, union representation in the plants, production standards, disciplining of workers and working conditions.

SOME PLANTS The union took General Motors out of 1965 model production but announced its plants which build and sell parts to Chrysler and Ford would not be struck.

Disclosure the strike was official didn't come until after workers already had started walking out at Cleveland, Ohio, Framingham, Mass., and elsewhere.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther announced at 10:30 a.m. that it was with "a great sense of sadness and disappointment" that he announced failure to reach agreement with General Motors.

He was accompanied by a televised news conference by Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president and chief of its GM department.

The UAW estimated its strike of GM would idle 260,000 of its 354,000 production workers. Non-economic demands of the union, rather than money, apparently brought about the strike. GM had offered to match the economic package won at Ford and Chrysler, which UAW president Walter P. Reuther had estimated worth 54 cents over the next three years.

Unresolved issues at the start of a 24-hour marathon bargaining session included grievance procedures, union representation in the plants, production standards, disciplining of workers and working conditions.

The strike deadline came less than a day after General Motors put its 1965 line of cars on display in dealer showrooms.

With the auto industry one of the largest users of steel, glass, rubber, aluminum, zinc and other metals, a General Motors shutdown was certain to be felt quickly through every section of the nation's economy.

OTHERS In addition to thousands of GM workers idled in the selective walkout, hundreds of supplier plants around the country also will be affected.

Within the first half hour walkouts were reported at 17 major factories.

They are in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Dallas, Norwood, Ohio, Los Angeles, Wilmington, Del., Kansas City, Jansville, Wis., Lansing, Pontiac, Grand Rapids, Flint and Detroit, Mich., Framingham, Mass., and Fremont, Calif. Today's GM strike was the ninth major walkout against the auto industry's big three by the United Auto Workers union.

Embrace Puts Final Touch On El Chamizal Treaty

EL PASO (AP) — Presidents Johnson and Lopez Mateos embraced today at the center of an international bridge, celebrating the peaceful return of a strip of Texas to Mexico.

The meeting of the presidents put the final ceremonial touches to the El Chamizal treaty.

El Chamizal is a slice of borderland about half a mile wide and five miles long on the north bank of the Rio Grande.

RIVER SHIFTED It was moved into Texas by a southward shift of the meandering river 100 years ago.

Each president walked from his own border to a white stripe painted across the center of the bridge.

After exchanging abrazos — the traditional Latin American embrace of greeting and friendship—they walked arm in arm together to the Texas bank.

A motorcade took them to El Paso's Bowie High School grounds for brief speeches and the unveiling of a marker on the new international boundary.

Both presidents were accompanied by their wives and dignitaries of their nations. Mrs. Johnson wore a blue suit matching the bright southwestern sky. Mrs. Lopez Mateos was dressed in black.

After the presidents departed, a crowd of Mexicans marched across the bridge shouting "Viva" in a friendly demonstration. They were stopped at the Texas bank by U.S. customs officers and El Paso policemen.

CHEERS

Cheers continued to ring across the bridge for more than 10 minutes after the presidential party left.

As Johnson walked to meet Lopez Mateos, he faced two huge portraits at the Mexican end of the bridge—one of himself in full color and one of the late President John F. Kennedy in black and white.

It was Kennedy who joined Lopez Mateos in June of 1962 in ordering the talks that led to the El Chamizal treaty after 100 years of controversy. Johnson's schedule called for him to leave immediately for appearances in Oklahoma City and Texarkana, then a weekend rest at his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City. Lopez Mateos was to return by helicopter to Juarez to attend the Mexican national fair. From El Paso, Johnson was bound for remote Eufaula Dam in Oklahoma — to dedicate that $120-million structure and defend federal water projects against "pork barrel" "make-work" and "giveaway" charges.

In his prepared text for the dam dedication, Johnson said: "The government has a responsibility not to waste the taxpayers' money, but the government also has a responsibility not to waste the nation's resources. The real wasters, the real spendthrifts, are those who, by neglecting the needs of today, destroy the hopes of tomorrow." The President promised to "go full speed ahead" on river development and to fight floods, droughts and pollution.

At Oklahoma City, the state fair was the locale for Johnson's third formal speech of the day — and the one with the most direct political connotations.

In this prepared text, he said: "The fact is that never in our history has American business been more alive and growing and filled with opportunity. And you know in your heart that this is right."

His last appearance of the day will be to Texarkana, where he will dedicate a memorial to the late John F. Kennedy. The memorial is a bronze plaque on a granite slab outside the post office building.

In his El Paso speech, the President argued that in recent years "our world has become a safer place for freedom."

He said the Soviet Union "is increasingly absorbed in the disappointments of its economy and disputes with former comrades." And he contended that American strength "is convincing them that they have nothing to gain by war."

Johnson noted that none of the 20 new nations in Africa has gone Communist. And in Latin America, "the followers of communism have made no new conquest and their numbers have dwindled."

The President was similarly optimistic about other parts of the world, but added: "I do not wish to paint too bright a picture. Every continent carries danger and uncertainty. Tomorrow's bitter headlines could shatter today's bright promise."

The El Paso meeting was something of a celebration of the El Chamizal treaty, which calls for the two countries to exchange various parcels of land in the El Paso area, with Mexico gaining 437 acres. The United States and Mexico also will collaborate in construction of a concrete channel along the new border line so the Rio Grande will not wander and cause any more boundary difficulties.

Johnson saluted the treaty as "a shining symbol" and urged that "a troubled world take note that here, on this border, two free nations have resolved their differences with honor, with dignity and with justice."

In several of his texts, Johnson spoke praise for Republicans as well as Democrats — something he has been doing.

Georgia State Patrolmen were measured last year for new uniforms to be issued this year. During that time however they were ordered to lose more than three tons of overweight. Now their uniforms are too big as shown here by Cpl. H. B. Hamrick (left) who lost 88 pounds and Trooper J. B. Brannon who lost 81 pounds, a total of 169 pounds for the two men. Soviets Shift Offensive To Red Chinese WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union apparently has decided to slack off in its radio offensive toward the West and step it up toward underdeveloped areas and Red China.

And in defensive radio warfare, the Soviet bloc has virtually quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts while putting interference on signals coming from Radio Peking.

U.S. monitors gave some statistics today on how the Communist radio propaganda operations have changed with the shifts in the international political scene.

Soviet short wave propaganda to North America dropped 10 per cent and to West Europe 16 per cent during the summer broadcasting season.

This was interpreted as a sign of easing East-West tensions, plus the great growth of television in the western nations which has taken many people away from their radio sets.

The reduction in transmission aimed at the advanced Western countries was matched by increases to Asia, Africa and Latin America. Radio Moscow added six languages: Malayalam (an Indian tongue), Lingala for the Congo, Zulu for South Africa, Thai and Cambodian for Southeast Asia and Uighur, transmitted through Radio Tashkent for the western Chinese province of Sinkiang.

Radio Peking started off the year with an increase in its Russian-language broadcasts aimed at its Communist rival which outpaced Soviet broadcasts in a gchinese.

The Soviet Bloc jamming of Russian-language broadcasts by the Voice of America, the U.S. government's overseas radio, began to taper off more than a year ago. Now only Bulgaria sends out electronic interference against the U.S. programs.

Family Not Surprised At Colonel's Activities

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The family of Col. John F. Freund is not surprised that he is in the Nam, trying to work out a settlement in a dispute between rebellious mountain tribesmen and the lowland Vietnamese.

"He's always had a flair for languages, and besides getting along with the Vietnamese in French, I wouldn't be surprised if he's picking up their own native language too," said Col. Darral J. Freund, a brother who is also a career military man.

Col. Darral Freund, an Air Force man stationed at the Pentagon, was interviewed while at the home of Col. John Freund in nearby Vienna, Va.

Living in the Vienna residence while Col. John serves in South Viet Nam are his wife, Margaret Freund, and three sons: John, 15; Peter, 13, and Bruce, 12.

The head of the family loomed large in the news from overseas when it was reported Thursday that he and five other Americans were in the camps of the mountain rebels who have stirred up trouble in recent days against the Vietnamese government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Freund, deputy senior adviser to the Vietnamese army's IV Corps, is able to communicate with the natives in French, since that language grew roots in Viet Nam when the country was part of the French Empire.

The Freund brothers, only a year apart in age — John is 46 and Darral 45 — are natives of New York City, attended high school in Scarsdale, N.Y., but then followed different paths.

John Freund went to the U.S. Naval Academy, graduating in 1940, while Darral attended Park College in Missouri, finishing in 1941. John switched to the Army after graduation from Annapolis. The reason? His eyes failed him from so much study, says Darral. However, the Army accepted him, granting him a second lieutenant's commission. He's been in the Army ever since.

Darral joined the Air Force after college, flew transport planes in the China-Burma-India theater and in Europe during World War II, and now is engaged in research and engineering. Col. Darral says he can't report much on Col. John's activities in Viet Nam, since they border on the classified.

He said John's faculty for languages, including French and German, stood him in good stead during World War II when he served with the artillery in North Africa, Corsica, southern France and on into Germany.

There is another Freund brother, Kurt, 43, who served with the Air Force in World War II and now lives in Torrance, Calif., while a sister, Mrs. Charles Patterson, is the wife of a geologist in Lafayette, La.

New Legion Commander Appeals For Reversal

DALLAS (AP) — Speaking as the new national commander of the American Legion, Donald E. Johnson appealed Thursday for a reversal of what he described as unfavorable trends.

"The basic American concepts of law and order and the dignity of man are scorned on city streets and country roads," he declared in this connection.

Delegates representing 2.6 million Legion members elected Johnson, 40, shortly before closing their 46th annual convention. He is the 6-foot-5, 245-pound owner of a West Branch, Iowa, farm supply business.

In accepting the office he also called for swift development of a new weapons system, said a courageous foreign policy" is vital and urged that Fidel Castro be ousted in Cuba.

Johnson pledged the Legion "to bear whatever burden is required to preserve the independence of the South Vietnamese people."

In deploring certain trends, he also said: "American history, which once held a major place in the curricula of our schools, is now frequently taught as one phase of something called social studies."

"The Constitution and Bill of Rights and the changeless truths they proclaim are widely regarded as expedients of a dead past."

Kidnaped French Children Found Safe At Side Of Road

PARIS (AP) — Three French schoolchildren kidnaped last Monday were found safe today near Bordeaux. Interior Minister Roger Frey mobilized more than 100,000 police to hunt the kidnapers.

Frontier posts were put on double alert and police barriers were set up to check all vehicles. A watch was put on airports. The children were found by the side of a road in southwest France. They told police a young man and a young woman called "Nicole" had let them out of a light blue car.

The three, Joel Biet and Patrick Guillon, both 5, and Patrick's sister Christine, 6, were pronounced in excellent health. They had not been mistreated, but medical officials said they were "covered with fleas."

There was no indication whether a $210,000 ransom demand had been paid.

Two letters Thursday, presumably from the kidnapers, threatened the lives of the children unless merchants of the city of Poitiers paid the ransom by 1 p.m. Eastern Standard Time today. Poitiers is the nearest city to the village of Marnay where the children live.

The youngsters were found shortly after daylight by a young woman who recognized them from police descriptions. She notified gendarmes at the little town of Carbon-Blanc, about 15 miles from Bordeaux.

The police took the children to Bordeaux. The tots told them they had not been mistreated and had "slept in beds." They also said they had been taken on several brief automobile trips.

Police believe the automobile trips were made so that the kidnapers could keep on the move. But the children described them as "automobile promenades" — pleasure rides.

The youngsters were reported giving an intelligible report of their experience. All had been described as bright and articulate.

The police first said they were driving the children back to their parents about 130 miles north of Bordeaux. Later they announced they would take the two families to Bordeaux. It appeared that they wanted to get all the details of the experience from the children before the emotional reunions.

The three were kidnaped on their way home from school and were in the hands of their abductors about 85 hours.

Neither the Biet nor the Guillons have money and police were at first puzzled by the motive for the kidnaping. Then the kidnapers demanded the payment by proxy. Police were started at the medieval touch of the abductors — demanding retribution from total strangers who they obviously felt would pay rather than see the children killed.

Denton To Get Referral Center

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally has approved an agreement between two state agencies leading to establishment in Denton of a regional diagnostic and referral center for the mentally retarded.

Connally's office announced the arrangement and said the result will be a project which "should be instrumental in achieving more understanding of the care of the mentally retarded at the community level."

The State Hospital Board asked the State Health Department to transfer to it $87,847 in federal funds for operation of the center.

These funds are from the maternal and child health division of the federal Health, Education and Welfare Department. Similar funds could be requested for up to five years.

The hospital board also has asked the health department to seek $60,000 from the federal government under the Hill-Burton hospital program for construction of a $120,000 building for the facility at the Denton state school.

 South was fully cognizant of the danger involved in attempting to ruff out his clubs in today's four heart contract. He resolved his problems by engaging in a series of loser on loser plays.

West led the queen of clubs and, when he was permitted to hold the trick, he continued with the jack. East's king appeared on the second round and declarer played the ace. The queen of diamonds was led to dummy's ace and a small diamond ruffed in the closed hand.

South now led a club covered by West but, instead of ruffing, declarer discarded a spade from dummy as a precautionary measure to avoid an overruff by East. West now shifted to a trump trick by South's eight, and he led his last club once more discarding a spade from the North hand.

West was in again with the ten of clubs and, since he could not lead another trump, he shifted to a spade. South won the trick with the ace and was now in position to ruff a spade with the nine of hearts. A diamond was trumped in the closed hand, and declarer ruffed his last spade with the queen of hearts. The ace and king of trumps took the last two tricks.

Declarer's precautions to avoid an overruff in clubs were duly rewarded when he succeeded in holding himself to the loss of three tricks—all in the club suit. East missed an opportunity to thwart his opponent, however. When South leads the fourth round of clubs and West is in, East should realize that his partner has no more trumps to lead. Therefore, in order to cut down the impending cross-ruff, East should trump West's trick to return a second heart. This will restrict South to one spade ruff and, in the end, he will be left with a spade loser for the setting trick.

Industry Hopes To Sell Eight Million

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Once Americans knew the coming of autumn by the swirl of equinoctial storms. Now the season's change is tied to the arrival of the car models at the dealer's. And this year a lot is hanging on their debuts — some 343 model variations all told.

The auto industry hopefully is forecasting its first eight-million-car year. It will need to sell that many if it's to meet the greatly increased labor costs and higher material prices, and still hang onto the profits which this year climbed to a record high.

A lot of other industries are trying their plans to a big year for autos, too. Steel sees much of its booming business due to increased car sales this year and to heavy ordering of metal for production of the 1965 models. This has weighed heavily in steel's planning for further expansion.

The whole economy will be affected by how the American public reacts to the new models. If they buy them — eight million of them — it would be hard for the general economy to falter in coming months.

To escape the shakiness of old age for many months more have been based to a large degree on the expectation that the auto industry will go on booming. This would carry with it the steel and other metal industries, the makers of auto parts, the glass, rubber and textile companies that supply the auto plants.

The auto companies aren't about to rock the boat. As predicted, they're holding prices close to last year's so that customers won't be frightened away.

Dealers' optimism is bolstered by the rising volume of sales of the hold-over models. The 1964 inventory is moving out of their sales lots at a rate 15 per cent above that of the same period last September.

It usually takes more than a month after the new models appear for the inventories of the old ones to be cleared. Some dealers think they'll be ahead of schedule this year. After bargain seekers have taken the 1964 models, dealers look for good sales of the new ones, which this year have more changes than was the case a year ago.

Engineers Check Street Drainage

City engineers were checking drainage today from the city streets which were included in the Master Plan paving project currently being prepared.

This will determine if adjustments need to be made in the design of the grade, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

Engineering for the project is being prepared currently, with a contract probably to be let sometime in November or December, Lillard said. Actual work on the paving should begin in January, he said.

Next steps in the project, the last phase of the Master Plan paving program for the city, will be the approval of engineering plans and calling of a public hearing by the city commission, according to Lillard.

The paving project is to include about 50 blocks of city streets and will cost an estimated $160,000.

Difficult Season Without Braceros To Harvest Crops

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California growers are far from resigned to the loss of their braceros — those hard-working Mexicans who help harvest the great California crops.

Outside the San Joaquin Valley community of Stockton, farmer Sam Loduca glumly watched the men in straw hats harvest cucumbers for 25 cents a bushel and remarked:

"I'm glad I don't like cucumbers. There won't be any next year."

Like Loduca, other growers are counting the days until Dec. 31, the expiration date of Public Law 78 under which more than 100,000 Mexican citizens came to the United States for farm work last year.

State officials say growers are quietly exerting pressure on Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fight for some sort of bracero legislation next year. Although the official position of the Council of California Growers is not to seek extension of the bracero program, farmers and the Brown administration say California agriculture faces a difficult season next year without it.

Despite the hard-core unemployment in California and elsewhere, state officials admit failure in the search for Americans to replace the bracero.

"In our view, we're going to have a real bad time next year to make up the labor force needed," said Albert B. Tieburg, state employment director.

Organized labor says there would be no shortage of domestic labor if farmers would pay more than the $1 an hour guaranteed to the Mexican national.

Braceros, paid by piece work, earn varying amounts. They averaged $1.50 an hour picking tomatoes not far from San Francisco Bay; 90 cents an hour for thinning cantaloupes in Southern California's Riverside County and $1.25 for picking cantaloupes farther north in Fresno County.

Tieburg said the state hopes to import some Mexican national-als next year under a different federal law, the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act. But he doesn't expect this method to allow as many braceros as the present Public Law 78.

Dear Abby

That Legal Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I accidentally found out from the Social Security office that the man I married 16 years ago had never been legally divorced. I was advised to have a second marriage ceremony performed. To my dismay, Mr. W. received the idea as a joke and refused. I am 62 and Mr. W. will be 80 in two weeks. I am worried about my future. My lawyer advised me that according to Massachusetts law I am not Mr. W.'s legal wife, and I cannot claim his estate or get Social Security. I even got our priest to talk to him, but it didn't help. Mr. W. is the most generous man in the world and he would give me the moon if I asked for it, but he will not consent to another ceremony. Can you help me?
"MRS. (or am I?) W."

DEAR "MRS. (I wish I knew) W.": The priest can tell Mr. W. what is pleasing in the eyes of the Lord, and your lawyer can tell him the requirements of the Law, but you'd better get your generous Mr. W. to skip the moon—and provide for your security right here on earth.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. I saw the organist of our church with a married man. And he wasn't hers. Should I tell the pastor to talk to her before she breaks up the marriage or should I mind my own business? I somehow feel that it is my Christian duty to set her straight. Don't tell me it is only my imagination. I had heard rumors about these two, which at first I did not believe. But when you see two people, in a secluded spot away from the busy roads, what else can you believe?
CHRISTIAN DUTY

DEAR DUTY: Even though the organist appears to have pulled all the stops out, I'd pipe down if I were you. You don't know all you should to exercise your "Christian duty," which also recommends that to err is human, to forgive divine.

DEAR ABBY: My mother asked me never to walk into her bedroom without knocking first and I have always respected her wishes. I am 15 and think I should have the same privilege so I asked her please to knock on my bedroom door before coming in. Now she just bangs on the door once and barges right in and says, "Does THAT satisfy you?"

Then she reminds me that I am living in HER house and she has a right to go into any room she pleases whenever she wishes. What do you think of a mother like mine?
NO PRIVACY

DEAR NO: Your mother is wrong and I hope she realizes it and changes her ways soon, because that's precisely the kind of maternal action that makes children want to leave home as soon as they become of age.

DEAR ABBY: No problem, just a great big thank you for printing that excerpt from your book, DEAR TEEN-AGER, designed to help the teen-aged girl with an age-old problem: How to control a boy who insists on making improper advances, saying all the while that if she loved him she would let him.

Well, Abby, I am no teenager. I am a young woman in my thirties, but I cut out that item and placed it in my purse for future use. The advice is good for a woman of any age who is constantly pressured by a persistent Romeo. I have never known how to handle the problem without leaving the man angry, disgusted and thinking I was square. From now on it will be easy. I will simply reach into my purse, hand the excerpt to the guy and let it speak for me. I have a feeling it will save me a struggle and many words.

A Devotional For The Day

(Jesus delivers) them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. (Hebrews 2:15)
PRAYER: God, we rejoice in delivery from sin and the joy of salvation Thy Son's death and resurrection have brought to us. Comfort In The Auditorium?

Referred to the Parks and Recreation Board by the City Commission was the matter of air conditioning for the Municipal Auditorium. This proposal has been up and down the ladder several times, and now it is back down for more detailed studies. At least it's still on the ladder.
It is to be hoped that something can be worked out to provide the auditorium with some degree of temperature controls. This would make a real contribution to the utility of the auditorium and make its use from late spring to late fall feasible. As it is, the auditorium is practically ruled out for summertime use. There was a time that perhaps this did not matter, but now people are conditioned to air conditioning and they won't swelter without some overpowering reason.
Cost could be prohibitive on some systems, but whatever system is considered, it should be borne in mind that it will not be a paying proposition. Indeed, the auditorium was never meant to be a paying proposition—or a break-even one. The conception was to have a meeting place ample to take care of most shows, conventions, etc.; in short, it was to be a community drawing card.

It is only a question of time until the city will be obliged to enclose the patio between the Central Fire Station and the City Hall, and with the auditorium wall as its north enclosure. Knowing that this will have to be done, perhaps some consideration may be given to units which could serve a dual purpose since the auditorium rarely is in use except during evenings when offices are closed.

Leave Value Alone

The coin shortage must be getting out of hand. Dr. Elgin Groseclose of the Institute For Monetary Research has just surfaced with an intriguing thought.

If we simply double the value of all silver coins now in circulation, or in piggy-banks or safety deposit boxes and safes, the coin shortage would end abruptly, Groseclose believes. Perhaps it would, but the resulting inflation, affecting bills as well as coins, might prove far worse than the present inconvenience. Moreover, it would be an unwarranted windfall to holders of major collections.
Groseclose and others too often overlook the major cause for the current shortage of coins: Speculation. In addition to the serious collector of coins, a new breed of well-heeled speculators has entered the market. They think nothing of buying $20,000 or more of uncirculated coins. After holding them for two years or more they can occasionally realize profits of 100 per cent. There is always the assurance that the coins will be worth their face value, with the additional possibility, after a probability, that they will be worth much more than their face value.

The solution is not to tamper with the value of coins, but to increase the productive capacity of U. S. mints and flood the market with coins.

Marquis Childs American Vs. British Campaigning

WASHINGTON—The British are also having a national election this year and we could learn a lesson or two from them. Above all, the first would be a lesson of brevity and economy of means.

Their campaign will last little more than three weeks. Voters will go to the polls on October 15. Britain is a small country and it is much easier to reach a population about one-fourth that of the United States. Moreover, free television time is made available to the three parties—Conservative, Labor and Liberal—for ample discussion of the issues.

WITH THESE advantages for the British campaigner taken into account, nevertheless the American contest prolongs the uproar and the uncertainty beyond any reasonable limit.
The Conservatives seem to have pulled even with the Laborites, with Sen. Barry Goldwater as an unspoken issue going for the Tories.

THERE IS a difference this year that brings a sense of the giants of the earth having passed from the scene. For the first time since 1900 Winston Churchill is not standing for a seat in the House of Commons. Eighty-nine years old and infirm, he appeared recently for the last time in the chamber in which he has shaped the history of our age.

In his first paid television program Senator Goldwater read Churchill quotes that he believed apt to his charge of weakness inviting war.

WHILE IT IS often forgotten, the great man for a time joined the Liberals. During the Liberal revival in 1906 he was elected on that ticket as a member for Northwest Manchester. His definition of a Liberal, made in a speech in 1909, has a remarkably current ring:

"In my judgment, a Liberal is a man who ought to stand as a restraining force against an extravagant policy. He is a man who ought to keep cool in the presence of jingo clamor. He is a man who believes that confidence between nations begets confidence, and that the spirit of peace and good will makes the safety it seeks. And, above all, I think a Liberal is a man who should keep a sour look for scaremongers of every kind and of every size, however distinguished, however ridiculous—and

James Marlow An Amazing Turnabout

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's one thing you've heard almost absolutely nothing about in the presidential campaign so far. That's this present Congress, which has done one of the most amazing turnabouts in history.

But you can expect to hear plenty about it from the Democrats, who run Congress, and President Johnson, who needed it into an extremely impressive record, when this session ends.

IN 1963—the first half of the two-year session—this was the greatest collection of congress-sional dawdlers since 1940 when President Roosevelt got fed up with the Congress he had to deal with.

He blamed its wretched performance on "good-fellowship" in a letter to the then speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, who died in 1961, and the present speaker, John McCormack, who was then the Democratic majority leader.

"What I want to get across to both of you before the next session begins is that good-fellowship alone, an easy life to avoid criticism, and acceptance of defeat before an issue has been joined, make, all of them, less for party success and for national safety than a few drag-down and knock-out fights and an unwillingness to accept defeat without a fight."

PRESIDENT TRUMAN helped get himself elected in 1948 when he denounced the Republican-run Congress that year as a "do-nothing" Congress. But it was not all that bad and was far superior to the 1963 session of this Congress.

There was a gentle and gentlemanly attitude about Congress last year. And President Kennedy, whose vital programs were being ignored, was one of the gentlest in dealing with both House and Senate.

As soon as he moved into the White House Johnson began using his skills on the tardy, lackadaisical lawmakers that he had learned in 23 years in House and Senate, seven of them as Democratic leader in the Senate.

AT THE TIME of his death two of Kennedy's most important bills—a tax cut and civil rights—were just unfinished business. He had never been able to be harsh with Congress. He called the failure to get action "unfortunate."

But in an astonishingly short time Johnson began to get action.

Before the end of last February, Congress passed the tax measure, an $11.5-billion cut in personal and corporate income, the biggest in history.

In early July Congress, after an 83-day Senate battle, passed the most far-reaching civil rights bill in history.

Thursday the Senate passed a foreign aid authorization bill after adopting a compromise solution to its long controversy over legislative reapportionment.

THE AID BILL now goes to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences between the two houses. This shouldn't be hard.

Hal Boyle One Of The Advantages

NEW YORK (AP) — When a 220-pound man laughs, there is twice as much of him having a good time as when a 110-pound man laughs.

That is one of the advantages of being fat.
About one out of five adult Americans is overweight, and the other four seem to spend a major portion of their time trying to make him feel guilty about it.

FAT IS denounced as a menace to health and a threat to longevity. It has become something of a fad to jeer at fat folks.
Elsewhere in the world today the ambition of many people is to get on more weight, and fat often is regarded as a symbol of success. In this country, however, the only fat man who consistently gets a good press is Santa Claus.

If the attitude gets much worse, fat people will be hounded from the streets or thrown into jail and put on diets of protein bread and water.

At the risk of sounding un-patriotic, I'd like to point out that being fat has some virtues.
For example, it tends to make you philosophic. Skinny people always are flying into rages over trifles. Fat people learn to take things more calmly. They don't lose their temper if they miss a bus. They know there'll be another one sooner or later, so why make a fuss?

FAT MAKES you more law-abiding. Very few overweight men make successful bank robbers as they have too much difficulty waddling away with the loot.

Fat tends to make a man a better husband. His wife is generally happy in the knowledge she is not married to a woman chaser. Few fat men chase girls because they get winded too easily.

Fat men also have better developed minds. This is because they think things through before wasting energy unnecessarily.

OF COURSE being fat isn't all gravy. It has its minor disadvantages. One of the most vexing problems of the fat man is that he has to bend down to tie his shoelaces in the morning. But once he has that chore out of the way, the rest of his day is clear sailing.

The next time you see a fat man plodding by, restrain that impulse to laugh. Give the matter a second thought. Isn't the real reason you want to poke fun at him the fact that you're secretly jealous of him?
After all, you know—and he knows, too—that any fool can be skinny if he wants to. All he has to do is quit eating.

To Your Good Health Several Treatments Helpful In Bursitis

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I have subdeltoid bursitis along with calcium deposits.

1—Should one stay away from foods containing calcium?
2—Are ultra-sound treatments used for removal of calcium?
3—What is your opinion on cortisone and its after-effects if there are any?
4—Will whirlpool treatments help?

I am a professional baseball player and of course you can see how important these questions are to me.—M.R.

Subdeltoid bursitis would be particularly unpleasant for a ballplayer because his shoulders must be in action.

To understand what to do for bursitis, keep in mind what it is. Bursitis is inflammation of a bursa (or more than one bursa), which are small sacs over which the tendons ride in joints.

Pressure or injury are the causes: "Tennis elbow," "housemaid's knee," "chauffeur's elbow" are a few forms.

Presence of calcium in the bursa or surrounding tendons is not what causes the trouble. It is a result, a part of nature's attempt to heal the place. It is essentially a scar—often scar tissue contains a lot of calcium.

Therefore answer No. 1 is no. Don't avoid calcium in your food. Eating less calcium won't help your bursitis.

No. 2: Ultra-sound treatments may be helpful in some cases, not all. This is in essence a means of applying heat deep in the tissues and heat is helpful in relieving inflammation and in relaxing the tense, painful area—and that helps heal.

No. 3: Cortisone injections (usually hydrocortisone) are very effective in relieving the pain of bursitis. There are no generalized after-effects as must be guarded against when other cortisone preparations are taken by mouth (and usually for an extended time). Hydrocortisone injections are strictly a local treatment. They cannot necessarily be expected to cure the bursitis but they are very helpful.

No. 4: Whirlpool treatments are effective. This is a form of heat application. Hot water compresses also give relief.

Bursitis tends to quiet down with time, rest and proper treatment. Rest is important because the pain of bursitis is, after all, nature's signal that too much strain or pressure has been put on the bursa.

So, during the baseball off-season, give the shoulder sufficient rest, at the same time getting intensive treatment.

Dear Dr. Molner: Someone told me that it is harmful to eat popcorn because it would adhere to the intestine. Is this true?—I.N.

No, it's not harmful for anyone with a normal digestive tract. However, it is high in residue—portions which will not be digested—and for that reason may not be well tolerated by people with ulcers, diverticulitis, colitis or irritable colons. This is because the roughage can be irritating, NOT because it would "adhere to the intestine."

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim When It Comes To Records—Burp!

"Eat, drink and be merry."

So observed a sage prophet back in some forgotten age, never dreaming that his words might go down in immortality. But there have always been people who will take advantage of a good thing, especially when it comes to gastronomic feats. And with records being set everyday, mostly by highly intelligent (?) collegiates, in such areas as telephone booth stuffing, bed pushing and ferris wheel riding, why not eating?

Here are some of the accomplishments that have attained dubious fame for certain parties (all are current world records):

ON NOV. 21, 1962, George Barham of Ipswich, England, downed 48 raw eggs in 106 seconds. The record for boiled eggs is slightly older, dating back to May 31, 1956. Georges Grogniet of Belgium holds the mark with 44 in 30 minutes . . .

Then there's potato chips. Roger Ewan, 15, of Uppminster, Essex, England, went down in fame in Nov., 1959, when he ate 30 bags in 59 minutes without a drink. It's extremely doubtful whether he could whistle a note after the feat . . .

TURNING TO meat, there are some real gems. Take the case of Sepp Poolzietner of Nuremberg, West Germany, who consumed 17 sausages in 90 seconds in April, 1956. And then there's the only record attributed to an American—and it has to do with one of the most American dishes around, the hamburger. Philip Yazdzik ate 77 at one sitting in Chicago, Ill., on April 25, 1955 . . .
Pot-bellies and just generally spaciou cavities have come in handy in several cases. Johann Keitler of Germany could have told you that back in 1880. In that year he disposed of an entire roast ox in 42 days. There's one other record along this line. Joe Garcia of Australia downed 480 oysters in 60 minutes in Melbourne on Feb. 5, 1955 . . .

AND, OF COURSE, when it comes to gastronomic acts, there's always some local yokel who'll spout off about how many cans of beer he chugged in one night. But the world record holders make him look like an amateur.

Consider what Les Williams did at the University of Queensland, Australia in May, 1961. He swigged 3.12 pints of beer in 7.9 seconds. Then there's J. H. Cochrane of Princeton University who gulped down 4.22 pints of beer in 11 seconds at Harry's Bar in Paris, France, in 1932 . . .

THE MOST EXTREME recorded feat along these lines, though, was back in 1810 at Wroxham, Norfolk, England where a man was seen to have lowered 54½ pints of porter in 55 minutes. The authorities, though, regard this as an exaggerated report and the true record is set at 24 pints in 52 minutes by Auguste Maffrey of France in 1950 . . .

And there you have it, the current list of world records. So far, the English have by far outstripped everyone in the quest of the marks, with the Americans being credited with one feat while the Russians have as yet failed to dent the record books with an accomplishment.

Richard Starnes The Tragedy Of Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — "Who lost South Viet Nam?"

As truly as chickens come home to roost, that doleful litany is sure to be endlessly repeated in the months and years to come. It is a true measure of the gathering disaster in Southeast Asia that in Washington any realistic hope of restoring the situation in Viet Nam has tacitly been abandoned, and all hands are now quietly digging in for the inevitable China-type post-mortem over the question posed above.

WELL, WHO DID lose South Viet Nam? The next three columns in this space will be on that thorny riddle, although there is ample material for the volumes of Congressional hearings that the future inevitably holds.

There must be one caveat. A big war, something necessarily on a scale somewhat larger than Korea, would obviously change the timetable. But it is by no means certain that even a big war could alter the ultimate, appalling fact of defeat. The French, with nearly 500,000 troops backed by a century of experience in Indochina, reaped only the bitter harvest of Dienbienphu. There is no reason to suppose the United States could do any better.

FAILING METASTASIS into general war throughout the whole of Southeast Asia, however, there can be no debate: The United States' expensive venture into the black arts of counter-insurgency has been a rank, humiliating failure.

Sen. Barry Goldwater has attacked the administration on two themes: first, that the American people have not been told the truth about Viet Nam, and second, that a military solution remains practical through interdiction of Viet Cong supply routes

David Lawrence Why Not The Fundamental Issues?

WASHINGTON — Presidential campaigns are, unfortunately, based on the assumption that the people are "too damn dumb to understand"—as the late Harry Hopkins, adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, expressed it during New Deal days when he blandly announced that the Democratic administration intended to "tax and tax, spend and spend, and elect and elect."

BUT NOTHING could be farther from a true analysis of the reaction of the people in any political campaign. It isn't the average man who is incapable of making a fair judgment on the real issues when they are presented to him. The trouble is rather that those in a position to influence public opinion often become so involved in their own passions and prejudices that they produce statements and speeches which serve not merely to confuse the voter but actually to mislead him.

WHO, UPON careful reflection, can be satisfied with the kind of campaign that is being conducted today? Is it right to impugn the integrity of either candidate? Granted that no man in politics has been without sin in the many "conflicts of interest" that arise, can it be implied that either of the men running for the presidency today would not be conscious of the difference between right and wrong in the conduct of the highest office in the land?

Why is it necessary in politics to assume that a candidate's integrity must be attacked by innuendo or inference or that his mental qualities must be portrayed as defective because he differs sharply with his opponent on major issues? Why, for instance, have the politicians felt they had to depict Barry Goldwater as a "trigger happy" man who would deliberately or unwittingly get us into a nuclear war?

WHY IS IT necessary to assume that President Johnson would halfheartedly enforce the "civil rights" law because he voted a few years ago on the other side of the issue? Conversely, why is it assumed that a sincere man like the Republican nominee is trying to form a "white man's party" and wouldn't enforce the "civil rights" law because he voted against it on the ground that he considered it unconstitutional?

There have been presidential campaigns which have concentrated on fundamental issues. Both candidates in the current campaign are trying to cover too much ground and are not clearly bringing out the merits or demerits of particular issues—not only on the international but on the national side, particularly as they bear on the economic life of this country.

THE MAIN THING in which the average man is interested is whether "good times" are ahead or whether the nation is going to suffer another setback as it did after the long period of prosperity in the 1920's. The American voter wants to know what changes in public policy will bring economic expansion on a sound basis. He also wants to know what changes in foreign policy will bring an assurance of peace, and just why the war in Viet Nam is being fought.

There are lots of issues that can be explained in simple form by both candidates so that the voter will really be able to make his own judgment as to whether this is or is not a time to change administrations.

Zachariah Discusses Downtown Problems

Big Spring's downtown problems were discussed by Mayor George Zachariah when he was guest speaker Thursday for a luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club in Coker's Restaurant.

The program was arranged by the Public Affairs Committee, and one of its members, Mrs. G. C. Broughton, introduced the speaker.

Zachariah began with a brief history of the city, explaining that it was incorporated in 1907. He said that when a city is founded there are always problems and they must be coped with and solved if possible with available funds.

One way to do this is with the government's urban renewal program, and the speaker mentioned that apparently this method has proved successful in St. Louis, Mo., but is not the answer for every city.

He noted that as recently as 25 years ago 75 per cent of the population was in the suburban areas and 25 per cent in the cities. Now the reverse is true, yet cities are still operating under laws that were enacted to regulate the affairs of smaller populations.

In explaining how cities operate, Zachariah explained both the home rule and legislative methods. The latter is used only for those with less than 5,000 population. Most towns in the state now are members of the Texas Municipal League, an organization with headquarters in Austin, which keeps in touch with pending legislation. If it should look detrimental to the cities, proper officials are notified and effort put forth to prevent passage of the legislation.

He said that one-third of Big Spring's income is derived from property taxes and the rest from services provided by the city. To expand properly, it will need some other type of income.

He said that in some areas, cities benefit from a larger state tax in which they share.

Since Big Spring was founded by the railroad tracks and is bounded by Webb Air Force and Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, growth will logically be to the south. The trend has already hurt the downtown area. There are hopes that when the Interstate 20 bypass is completed there will be more development to the north.

Merchants here have formed an organization called Downtown Big Spring, Inc. which is endeavoring to improve shopping facilities in the downtown area. It hopes to provide more parking space and encourage merchants to upgrade their buildings, merchandise and service to draw more customers.

A question and answer period followed Zachariah's talk, and the announcement was made that the Oct. 8 meeting would be a business session.

Miss Elizabeth Daniel, head of the English Department at Howard County Junior College, and Mrs. Dee Locklin, president of the Western District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, discuss the luncheon program of the Hyperion Council with its president, Mrs. John Davis.

Hyperion Clubs Join At Council Luncheon

Miss Elizabeth Daniel, guest speaker at the Hyperion Council luncheon Thursday, conducted an imaginary literary tour of England as she detailed her recent trip to England. The joint session of the Hyperion Study Clubs was held at the Big Spring Country Club.

The speaker used literary quotations and illustrated pamphlets to dramatize her impressions of England and spoke of her travels as "the reality of regulated imagination." She noted that the view of the Shakespearean pageantry at Dover Castle was a trip into ancient times, and told of the dedication of the country to the quater-centennial celebration of the bard's birth.

She drew poetic pictures of the land of Dover and told of the birth places of such writers as Chaucer and Christopher Marlowe. The bustle of London was detailed, and the visits to cathedrals and Flanders Field were noted as Miss Daniel spoke of her three-week tour.

Mrs. John Davis presided at the business meeting, and Mrs. J. C. Pickle introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. Dee Locklin, McCamey, president of the Western District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. She spoke on federation work and her district's aims. Others attending were Mrs. Paul Jacobs, Big Lake, past president of Western District, and Mrs. Richard Patterson, first vice president.

Mrs. Horace Reagan gave the invocation for the 55 members and guests who attended, and Mrs. Luin King introduced the guest speaker. Representatives of six Hyperion clubs were present. They were Mrs. Pickle, 1905 club; Mrs. A. Swartz, 1930 club; Mrs. Rene Brown, 1936 club; Mrs. King, 1948 club; Mrs. Jack Haralson, 1953 club; and Mrs. Bill Johnson, 1955 club.

The speaker's table was adorned with a mass arrangement of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums accented with miniature cattails and fall leaves. China and silver appointments were used, and the table was covered with a yellow linen cloth.

The floral arrangement was awarded to the 1955 Hyperion group.

Senate Removes Major Adjournment Roadblock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has removed a major roadblock to adjournment of Congress by adopting a legislative reappointment compromise and then passing the $3.3-billion foreign-aid bill.

First, the compromise solution to the controversy over adjournment was adopted 44 to 38 Thursday, then, in a sudden burst of action, the aid bill to which it is attached was swept through 45 to 16.

With adjournment fever spreading and leaders finding it difficult to keep enough campaigning senators on hand to maintain a quorum, it is now thought possible that Congress will be able to close shop by the end of next week.

The foreign-aid measure, carrying $216,700,000 less than the $3,316,700,000 requested by President Johnson and authorized by the House June 10 was called up in the Senate Aug. 1.

But since Aug. 12 it had been entangled in a filibuster waged by a group of Democratic liberals against an amendment offered by Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Dirksen would have forced a delay of a year or more of Supreme Court-ordered reappointment of both Houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

The stalemate was broken by the adoption of a mild, nonbinding "sense of Congress" proposal offered by Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana as a substitute for the Dirksen proposal, which he originally sponsored. Stripped of any criticism of the Supreme Court ruling and having no force of law, it simply says it is the sense of Congress that the federal district courts could properly:

1. Allow legislatures the length of time provided for a regular session, plus 30 days, but not more than six months in which to reappoint.
2. Permit the next elections of members of legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state laws in effect last Sunday, Sept. 20.

And it suggests that if states fail to reappoint within the time granted in any court order, the courts themselves shall appoint representation.

The foreign-aid measure now goes to a Senate-House conference committee for a reconciliation of differences in their two bills.

The House already has gone a step farther than the Senate and passed an appropriation — for $3,316,572,000. Senate action on that measure must await final congressional action on the authorizations, which set aid ceilings.

Barry Accuses Democrats Of Corruption, Coverup

EN ROUTE WITH GOLDWATER (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater accused the Democrats of corruption and coverup today, and coupled that with a charge that President Johnson "shows no inclination" to support the new civil rights law.

The Republican presidential nominee plunged into a whirlwind tour of northern New England—with a quick trip into New York—declaring that the civil rights bill he opposed in the Senate has not solved the problem of inequality. "It's not going to do it unless it's enforced and the present administration shows no inclination towards supporting it," he told a police-estimated 1,500 people at an early morning rally at the Portland, Maine, airport.

Goldwater said laws won't really do the job anyhow. He spotted a hostile placard in the crowd challenging his stand on civil rights. "You too can be a second-class citizen," the sign said, "support civil rights."

"The law passed on civil rights will never correct the inequity in this country," he said. Goldwater said it is a problem that must be solved first in the hearts of Americans.

Goldwater said he hopes the law will help do the job—but added it can't accomplish anything if it is not enforced.

He added that discrimination is wrong whether it is aimed at Negroes or at any other minority group.

Goldwater slapped the administration on the Bobby Baker affair, forecasting a whitewash of what he called a kickback "that could have directly benefited Lyndon Johnson's political career." That charge came in a speech prepared for delivery at Albany, N.Y.

In Albany, he was to have a private chat with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who battled him for the GOP nomination last summer.

Skipping across an area he concedes will be tough to carry in November, the Arizona senator pointed to the Senate Rules Committee's reopened investigation of the Baker case and declared:

"We must realistically expect that what we will actually get will be very little of the truth, the truth full of holes, and nothing but the same old run-around."

This time, the committee is to look into the charges of Sen. John Williams, R-Del., that former Democratic national treasurer Matthew McCloskey — through Baker — dropped $25,000 into the 1960 Democratic campaign fund as a "kickback" on the contract for building the District of Columbia stadium.

Morris Joins Sheriff Staff

Claude Morris, currently a captain on the Big Spring police force, will become a deputy sheriff on the staff of Miller Harris effective Oct. 1.

Harris said that he has employed Morris as a field deputy. The sheriff also announced that no jailer will be employed for the county jail at this time. He will have seven men on his staff when Morris is added and each deputy will spend one night each week on duty as jailer.

The jailer post was left vacant with the resignation of Frank Glasscock two weeks ago. Since that time, Wes Patton, one of the deputies, has been doubling as jailer.

Morris, who has had eight years experience with the city police department, is a long time resident of the town. He lives at 2409 Alamesa.

Morris will be the second police captain to resign to become a deputy sheriff in recent months. Lindsey Oldfield joined the deputy staff several weeks ago. At that time, Morris, who had been a sergeant on the police force, became captain to take Oldfield's place.

STANTON — A proposal that a federal aircraft landing facility be provided for Stanton is news to the Stanton Chamber of Commerce, according to the manager, Mrs. Maurynne Vanadore.

"I had not heard of the proposal," said Mrs. Vanadore, "until the release of the news to the newspaper."

"However, I will say that we could certainly use a landing field if one is available, and we will take steps at once to advise our congressman and other officials of our eagerness to cooperate."

Stanton was one of a long list of Texas communities named in a release from Washington to date where the Federal Aviation Agency has issued a new plan recommending construction of 72 new landing facilities during the next five years. The recommendation does not commit federal funds.

Registration was reduced to the trickle stage Friday at Howard County Junior College as the deadline neared, but the sign-up was continuing to the last.

There was no final count, but the total will be above 875, slightly above last fall's final figure. However, there is about a 12.5 per cent gain in the number of full time students. This evening is the last time for registering for college credit work during the fall semester.

A short in electrical wiring for an air conditioner pump caused slight damage to the unit about 11 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Viba Cormas, 1020 Bluebonnet, according to firemen.

Ambassadors Accept Challenge

The Big Spring Ambassadors Club, made up of Chamber of Commerce members, accepted the challenge of the Wichita Falls Ambassadors for a membership effort contest. The club met at Couden Country Club last night.

President Elmo Phillips said the contest, based on population per capita, would probably be held during the first two weeks of November. Joe Clark and Bob Bradbury were recognized as new members at last night's meeting.

In other business the club completed plans for sending men to Temple Oct. 2 to meet with members of the All Texas Air Tour; arranged to "treat" members of the tour in Big Spring on the night of Oct. 3; made plans to man the booth at Odessa at the Permian Basin Oil Show Oct. 21-25; and take part in the official opening of IS 20 Oct. 5.

Firemen Answer Pair Of Alarms

Firemen received two calls Thursday night, to a mattress fire and a blaze in an air conditioner unit.

Bud Smith, 802 Lorilla, reported the mattress on fire about 10:25 p.m. Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette.

A short in electrical wiring for an air conditioner pump caused slight damage to the unit about 11 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Viba Cormas, 1020 Bluebonnet, according to firemen.

Choir Boosters Seek Members

Membership cards for the Big Spring Choir Boosters went on sale today, with members of the high school and both junior high choirs doing the selling.

Ted James, membership chairman, said memberships are $1 each. He said the Choir Boosters serve the same purposes as the Quarterback Club and the Band Boosters. The membership has several projects in mind for the school year.

"We will try to raise money for outfitting both junior choirs with robes," he continued. "During the year all choirs will perform for civic clubs and other organizations in the city. After the successful performance in Oklahoma last year the high school choir plans to tackle another this year, and it probably will be The Music Man by Meredith Willson."

Directors of the three choirs are Mel Ivie, high school; Don Morton, Gollad Junior High; Hubert Murphy, Rannels Junior High. Mrs. William F. Nolen is president of the Choir Boosters.

Another accident, at 510 Gregg St., occurred when a car driven by Orban F. Templeton, 702 E. 17th, struck a stone retaining wall. This inflicted about $150 damage to the wall and about $50 damage to the car, according to police.

Other locations and drivers involved were 100 block of East Fifth, Benny Kirkland, 906 Aylford, and Mrs. Mona Kelly Templeton, 1602 Avion; a truck, James Braddock, 1602 Avion; and a parked car owned by James A. At the same location, Mrs. S. E. Shoemaker reported loss of 24 glass goblets and some kitchen utensils from the garage.

Two hubcap thefts were also reported. Kent Brown, 792 Tulsa Road, told police four hubcaps were taken from his car while parked on the rodeo grounds parking area. Simon Correa, 506 NW 10th St., reported two hubcaps were taken from his car while parked at 300 N. Gregg St.

Swedish Soldiers Caught Smuggling

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Relations between the Greek Cypriot government and the U.N. peace force hit a new low today as five Swedish soldiers were held on charges of smuggling arms to the Turkish Cypriots.

"The situation could not be more serious," said a U.N. officer, "especially at the time when we are trying to persuade the Cyprus government through the Security Council to grant our forces complete freedom of movement."

He said the U.N. force had put the men under arrest after Greek Cypriots nabbed them with two carloads of arms at a roadblock.

Gen. George Grivas, commander of the Greek Cypriot armed forces, told newsmen the Swedes were running arms to Lefka, an inland stronghold of the Turkish Cypriots.

Grivas charged that U.N. troops were responsible for most of the arms smuggling to the Turkish Cypriots.

The Swedes — two officers and three enlisted men — are expected to be sent back to Sweden for trial after completion of an investigation ordered by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commander of the peace force.

Under an agreement between Cyprus and the U.N., the Cypriot government cannot arrest or try members of the U.N. force.

Swedish Premier Tage Erlander declared the incident might affect Sweden's participation in the U.N. operation.

LAMESA (SC)—Dawson County Annual Fair comes to a close today. Final judging was completed Thursday. Today's activities are largely devoted to a display of the winning exhibits and animals.

Gov. Connally Predicts Johnson Victory Easily

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. John Connally, who has been visiting fellow Texan Lyndon Johnson at the White House, predicts the President will carry their home state easily in the Nov. 3 general election.

"The President is in fine shape in Texas," Connally told reporters Thursday.

He said Johnson is going to campaign in Texas anyhow, probably the latter part of next month.

Connally added that he plans a sort of poll "to get some more concrete information next week which will further show that he (the President) is in good condition there."

The governor said he expects to campaign for the Democratic ticket both inside and outside Texas. Reporting invitations to speak at about 15 places outside, including Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama, Connally said he will decide later which can be accepted.

Although polls show him leading his own Republican opponent by a 79 to 8 ratio, Connally said he isn't taking anything for granted.

He acknowledged with a laugh that the President invited him here to talk, a among other things, about how the President could match the present Connally show of strength.

He said the same poll showed the President held a 62-38 favorable ratio over Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater. He said he expects Goldwater to pick up strength, since 28 seems abnormally high.

A newsman asked if he thought the presidential campaign was getting rough.

"Yes, and I'm afraid it will get rougher," Connally replied. "I hope the Democrats will not contribute to it."

Asked for comments on remarks by Goldwater in Fort Worth to the effect that the controversial TFX military aircraft contract went to General Dynamics of Fort Worth instead of Boeing because of political pressures, he said:

"I think it was a very ill advised statement. I don't think the decision was politically inspired."

He cited General Dynamics experience in aircraft production and a long study that preceded the contract signing.

Road Contracts Are Awarded

AUSTIN (AP)—Low bids on road projects totalling $8,431,516 were tabulated Thursday by the Texas Highway Department.

The tabulation ended two days of lettings in which low bids amounted to $17,683,356.

Projects include, by counties:

Jefferson—Interstate 10 from .4 mile northeast of Smith Road to .9 mile southwest of Smith Road, 1.3 miles, surfacing, signing and delineation, Mays & Martindale, Jasper, $185,201.

Bandera and Kerr—Ranch 187 from Texas 39 to .8 mile southwest of the Kerr-Bandera County line, 4.8 miles, surfacing, Three Brothers Equipment Corp., Waco, $218,424.

Erath—FM 2303 from FM 219 southeast to end of FM 2303, 3.3 miles, surfacing, A&A Contractors, Inc., Olney, $46,881.

Wire Cutting To 'Open' New Route

With a final gesture to the Old West, the futuristic version of the cow trail will be dedicated in the form of the Interstate 29 loop here Oct. 5.

Instead of the commonplace ribbon cutting, State Highway Commissioner Hal Woodward, Coleman, who once roamed as a lad over the territory encompassed by the super-highway route, will snip strands of barbed wire.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Highway committee talked over plans for the ceremony here Thursday.

They will join with the Jay-Cees, who are hosting a joint meeting of the service clubs at noon Oct. 5 at the Settles, to hear Woodward speak as part of the observance of National Highway Week. Woodward was reared here and is a graduate of Big Spring High School.

The public is welcome to attend the luncheon by paying the plate charge.

R. H. Weaver, chairman of the highway committee, said that possibly other state highway officials, including District Engineer Jake Roberts, Abilene, and members of his staff, would be here for the event.

The loop will not be opened actually, because there remains some additional work to be done on the west end, but the event would serve as a dedication of the highway with its system of overpasses, access roads and interchanges.

Fischer Quints Now Have A Bouncing Baby Sister

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — A "bouncing" baby girl of 16 pounds plus was born Thursday night to Mrs. Andrew Fischer, 31, who gave birth to quintuplets a little over a year ago.

The baby — who weighed 16 pounds, 7 ounces and measured 21½ inches — and the mother were doing well at St. Luke's Hospital, a spokesman reported.

The sandy-haired mother of 11 children lapsed into sleep shortly after the birth, and there was no immediate comment from her.

Andy Fischer, 39, was at the hospital and took the news in good stride, except for one thing. He said he and his wife, Mary Ann, had been hoping for a boy since the lads were outnumbered two to eight.

This reaction was relayed by Sister Richard, and the shy father secluded himself for the night, announcing he was not available to reporters.

Dr. James Hovland delivered the latest child and was assisted by two doctors who had attended Dr. James Berbos when Berbos was in charge of the quintuplets' delivery Sept. 14, 1963.

The quintuplets weighed from 2½ to 4 pounds and were kept in isolettes for days with careful check on temperature and humidity. They were fed through tubes put into their noses.

The news that Mrs. Fischer had given birth to four girls and a boy one year ago this month rocketed the family into world fame and fortune.

In addition to the quintuplets and their baby sister there are four girls and one boy, ranging in ages from 4 to 8.

The bespectacled mother has had an unusually busy year, even with assistance in bringing up her family. But she goes for one outside activity in a big way.

She captained her local bowling team in the Women's International Bowling Congress at Minneapolis last spring and fired three respectable games that averaged 154, 161 and 176.

Second Bizarre Family Makes Television Debut

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Munsters" of CBS Thursday night joined "The Addams Family" of ABC to spoof horror movies.

We were, in this second show of the same theme this season, introduced to a bizarre family which lives in a ghoulish, cobweb-draped house. CBS' jolly little family consisted of grandpa, who looked like a portly Dracula and had a nasty habit of snapping at ladies, hands. Then there was Herman, the head of the house, who is the spitting image of Frankenstein's monster. His wife Lily is another of those witch-like creatures with long trailing hair and slinky gowns.

Finally there is a pretty blonde girl, Herman's niece, who looks okay but obviously is a bit retarded because she sees nothing strange about her relatives.

In the first show the Munster family was invited to a masquerade party. Of course, Herman won first prize and stalked off in a fury because he suspected he had been insulted.

It is a curious coincidence of course that two programs of such marked similarity reached our TV screens this season. Both, it seems, will have the same problem unless their writers can come up with some rather brilliant stuff. Their one joke will soon be threadbare, because how often can they have terrified outsiders meeting up with weird characters who think they are the normal ones.

Maybe some night the Addamses should drop in on the Munsters or vice versa. Might be funny at that.

On the happier side Thursday night was "Bailey's of Balboa," also on CBS. After a short shake-down cruise, this may prove to be a pleasant, warm comedy series.

Paul Ford who used to be the colonel of the old "Biko" series, plays Sam Bailey, owner of a chunky little charter fishing boat and a devout fisherman.

I think "Bailey's of Balboa" is what the trade calls "a very commercial show," meaning that it has enough different ingredients to be flexible in plot and appeal to a wide audience.

All three networks will have programs Sunday based on the Warren commission report of the Kennedy assassination. NBC will present an hour's special starting at 6:30 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time. ABC will have one at the same time but for 30 minutes. CBS' special will be the longest, from 5 to 7.

Contract Ends Wildcat Strike

VERACRUZ, Mexico (AP)—A 13-day wildcat strike of customs employees at this Gulf port has ended with a new contract giving workers an estimated 15 per cent increase in pay and benefits.

The strike virtually paralyzed operations here although only one-third of the customs and dock workers were involved.

Which is your attitude!

toward the BIBLE?

REVISED 67

Do you have a Bible? Most people do. Do you read the Bible? Most people don't. What is your attitude toward the Bible? It is the most loved and the most hated book in the world. In between these two extremes there are many other attitudes toward the Bible.

Antagonism: There are some like Jehoiakim of the Old Testament, who took the word of God addressed to him and cut it to pieces with his knife (Jeremiah 36:23). He despised God and any word of God. There have been many like him. Emperor Diocletian in the third century decreed that all copies of the Bible should be destroyed. He also decreed death as the penalty for reading the Bible.

Ridicule: The atheist Thomas Paine, like Communists of today, scoffed at the Bible and said that it would soon become a mere museum relic. Paine is dead, and yet the Bible is our nation's "best seller" today. The Bible forewarned of such scoffers (2 Peter 3:3).

Superstition: Many people look on the Bible much like a superstitious person who carries a rabbit foot or a buckeye. They do not read it, but feel safer if it is close by. They lay their hand on it when they swear, but they never handle it aright as the word of truth (2 Timothy 2:15). They clutch it in fear in foxholes but refuse to read it in times of peace.

Indifference: There are many who neither hate it nor love it. Their indifferent attitude results in ignorance. The prophet Hosea reprimanded the people on this point and warned of the consequences: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children" (Hosea 4:6). "For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them" (Matthew 13:15).

Prejudice: Many people read the Bible to prove their point. They use the Scriptures for their purpose (2 Peter 3:16). They do not read their Bible with the sincere desire to find what the word of God is.

Loyalty: In contrast to the extreme attitudes of Jehoiakim and Diocletian, there have been great men like John Wycliffe and William Tyndale. These men held that "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Timothy 3:16, 17). Wycliffe, who lived in the fourteenth century, was dedicated to the proposition that the "Scriptures are the property of the people"—even as the noble Bereans searched the Scriptures daily. He was hated for this attitude, and 40 years after his death people dug up his body and threw his ashes into the River Swift as an expression of their violent hatred for a man who loved the Bible so much. Tyndale was determined that even a plowboy should know the Scriptures. He was forced to work in secret because his life was in danger. As a result of his efforts thousands of copies of the Bible were circulated in England in the sixteenth century. For all of this he was imprisoned, treated shamefully, and finally strangled and burned.

Such love for the Scriptures was expressed beautifully by Sir Walter Scott:

*"Within this ample volume lies
The mystery of mysteries.
Happiest they of human race
To whom their God has given grace
To read, to fear, to hope, to pray,
To lift the latch, to force the way;
But better had they ne'er been born
That read to doubt or read to scorn."*

Our Lord Jesus Christ pointed to the judgment day in these words, emphasizing the eternal importance of the word of God:

"He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day" (John 12:48).

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

And don't you sometimes re-read, study, compare, figure, clip, save, and show to friends? When you're on the brink of buying, aren't you hungry for facts, features, dimensions, styles, colors, capacities, prices?

Print advertising puts people who are close to a purchase close to the kind of information they demand. Newspapers, magazines and brochures let them linger with your message for as long as they like.

Print imparts important details, allows for colorful presentations, makes lasting impressions, takes people straight to the point—of purchase. If you've something to sell, it will pay you to promote it regularly in print—where ready-to-buy people can keep their eyes on it, get their hands on it, make the most of it. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

Steers Play Snyder In First Home Game

RECORDS: BIG SPRING SNYDER
Lamesa 0 8 Andrews 10
Bel Air 6 4 Stamford 8
Totals 6 14 Totals 18

By TOMMY HART

The talented gridders of Snyder High School, as waspish as a Sabre-Toothed Bengal with a silver in one paw, descend upon Big Spring this evening for an 8 o'clock imbroglio with the resident Steers.

The setup is perfect for an upset. The Tigers, always tough for Big Spring to handle down through the years, are in a mood to spoil Big Spring's unblemished record. Although beaten in their first two starts (by the narrowest of margins by eleven that are traditionally winners), the Bengals can only be compared to a time bomb ready to explode.

Don Robbins has warned his Big Spring charges all year that the Tigers potentially have one of the saltiest ball clubs in Class AAA circles.

The pre-season polls bear him out. The jungle cats were rated fifth in the responsible polls and may yet live up to that promise.

Coach Horrace Bostick's club has had problems at quarterback but reports from Snyder say they've just about worked those out. Bostick is hip deep in fine backs. Two of the most able hands in the Snyder camp are Leslie Brown, who packs more than a 167-pound frame than most any high school player in the state; and fullback Tom Kincaid, a 185-pounder.

Bostick, incidentally, has a close tie in Big Spring. He grew up here and was a star back here in the late '30's. He stepped into the head coaching shoes when John Conley departed to accept an assistant's job at Texas Tech.

It was Brown who as a sophomore helped beat Big Spring with a long run. Give him daylight at the line and he's gone. He is famous for going wide. Kincaid excels at ramming the line and forcing something to give.

Jay Williamson, a senior halfback and a one-time Big Spring resident, is probably the fastest boy in the Snyder backfield.

It hasn't rained in Snyder this week like it has in Big Spring. For that reason, the Tigers come up to the game with more worthwhile workouts behind them. The Steers have had to do much of their tilling indoors, due to the soggy conditions. There's no telling how a thoroughly soaked field would affect play. A rash of fumbles could occur. The speed of both clubs would, not doubt, be neutralized. It would come down to a question of which team could control the ball.

Big Spring, rebounding from a lackluster performance at Ysleta last week, will again throw the football, if the elements permit. Benny Kirkland will once more be at the controls for the Steers.

He'll lean largely on such boys as Johnny Hughes, Rey Navarette, Gary Earhart and Rickey Earle to lug the mail.

The Longhorns will have to play a better defensive game than they did against Bel Air if they hope to achieve victory. The locals gave the Highlanders too many scoring opportunities they couldn't cash in on. You can't do that to an explosive team like Snyder.

Snyder has a big line, anchored by the 195-pound Jerry Kincheole, the 200-pound Roy Miller and Reed Robinson, who weighs 196 pounds.

This will be the last game for Big Spring before it opens its conference season Oct. 9 against Odessa High here.

Ponies Play Yellowjackets

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs, showing a 1-0-1 record and a willingness to improve greatly over last year, take the field tonight at 8 o'clock for a game with Roaring Springs.

The Ponies only won one game a year ago, but results this fall have shown Sands to be far more dangerous than some people figured them to be.

The starting lineup for Sands will be: ends, Oren Lancaster and Larry Chapman; guards, Randy Hambrick and Danny Womack; center, Robert Bagwell; quarterback, Eddy Herm; and halfbacks, Rickey Kemp and Larry Oaks.

The Sands backfield has been impressive this season. Herm has been tagged for all-district honors while Kemp, a junior, are also looked like a good all-loop choice. Chapman and Lancaster are talented ends.

Tournament Slated

A partnership golf tournament will be held at the Big Spring Country Club Oct. 24-25 with the entry list open to anyone who wishes to play. It will be over 54 holes with 36 coming on the final day.

Jack Kramer Likes Odds In Match With Aussies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two old Davis Cup cronies who have been making the big tennis series as players and observers for 20 years, Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder, were at odds today over the possible outcome of the 53rd Challenge Round.

Kramer likes the Americans and Schroeder strings along with the Australians in the matches opening at 11:30 a.m. EST, on the green clay composition court of the Harold T. Clark Stadium.

The first match sends Chuck McKinley, the No. 1 American player from San Antonio, Tex., against Australia's No. 2 man, Fred Stolle. The second pits Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., against the recognized world champion, Roy Emerson.

"I think the draw and the clay surface favors our boys," said Kramer, a member of the Cup teams of 1939, 1946 and 1947, later king of the pros and successful promoter. "I wouldn't be

Texas Puts Long Streak Of Victories On Line

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference gets its show on the road Saturday, the championship race, that is, and at the same time seeks to move ahead along the intersectional trail.

The title drive is bound to get moving since Texas is scheduled to open defense of its championship against Texas Tech at Lubbock Saturday night. But there's nothing certain about the ultimate results of the intersectional endeavor. Right now it's a tossup whether the league is to break even.

Texas puts a 12-game winning streak on the line at Lubbock and is a two-touchdown favorite to uphold it. It could be a wild one, however. Tech developed confidence last week when it beat Mississippi State, so unexpectedly.

Three conference members play intersectional games at home—Rice vs. Louisiana State at Houston, Texas Christian vs. Florida State at Fort Worth and Arkansas vs. Tulsa at Fayetteville.

Two members are on the road, Southern Methodist whacking at mighty Ohio State before 80,000 fans at Columbus and Baylor away up in Seattle to clash with Washington.

Rice and Arkansas are favored, Texas Christian is an even choice while sophomore Southern Methodist is given little chance against Ohio State and Baylor is a solid underdog to Washington.

All conference members except Rice and Baylor opened the season last week and the result was a break-even in intersectional play. If Texas Christian can win over Florida State, the league might do better this week—finish one ahead.

Texas A&M, which felt it did a good job although losing 9-6 to Louisiana State, tries somebody that looks easier Friday night.

Faltering Phils Lose More Of League Lead

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies are so anxious to win the National League pennant, they may run themselves right out of it.

The faltering Phils, hit with some controversial and costly baserunning, saw their league lead dwindle to three games Thursday night with a 5-3 loss to Milwaukee.

The defeat, the Phillies' fourth straight and sixth in seven games, sliced their advantage in the loss column to two over second-place Cincinnati, which was idle. Even St. Louis vaulted into the act, sweeping a doubleheader from Pittsburgh and moving to within 3½ games of Philadelphia.

The running in question struck in the seventh inning with the Braves leading 3-0. With one out, Richie Allen singled, only the second hit off Wade Blasingame. Alex Johnson grounded to Blasingame whose throw pulled Sandy Alomar off second base. Allen, however, slid past the base, and Alomar pounced on him for the out.

Vic Power then hit a dribbler toward third. Johnson raced to second, rounded the base and promptly was thrown out, Ed Mathews to Denis Menke, ending the threat.

The abortive rally appeared even more important when the Phillies exploded for three runs in the eighth after the Braves got two more in their half of the inning.

But Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch refused to criticize Allen and Johnson, defending them vehemently instead.

"Allen slides aggressively into second trying to break up the double play and doesn't even know the umpire has called him safe. Mauch argued. "He over-slides the bag and is out. There was no way he could know he was safe, he was so intent on taking out the relay man.

"And Johnson has no way to know that Eddie Mathews won't throw to first on the dribbler. He rounded second figuring to take third and maybe score if Mathews makes a bad throw on a tough play."

Aggressive runners or blunders, the Phillies still were faced with the prospect of holding onto their lead with just eight games left. The Reds have 10, including five starting tonight with the New York Mets, while the Cardinals must play nine.

St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 4-2 and 4-0 while Chicago nipped Los Angeles 4-3 in the other NL games Thursday. None were scheduled in the American League.

The AL race resumes tonight with the New York Yankees, leading Baltimore and Chicago by a commanding four games, playing at Washington. The Orioles are at Cleveland while the White Sox play at Kansas City. The Yankees have won nine straight.

The Phillies' losing streak equals their longest of the season.

Joe Torre lead the Braves' attack, driving in three runs with two triples.

COAHOMA — Two undefeated football teams, the Coahoma Bulldogs and Big Spring's B team, square off at 8 o'clock here Saturday night in a game that could prove to be a corker.

The Bulldogs, breathing fire and defiance under a new coaching regime, has toppled Rankin and Stanton in that order. Big Spring has knocked off the San Angelo Sophs and Snyder's reserves.

Coahoma will lean largely upon the ball handling of Dwayne Allen and the expert running of Eddie McHugh and Tony Butler.

The Big Spring boys who don't play in tonight's contest with Snyder will, of course, be eligible for tomorrow night's fracas. Van Tom Whatley, a 154-pound junior, will probably be at quarterback for the Steers.

Butler is a 190-pound junior who hits the line with the deadly effectiveness of a bowling ball. McHugh is a hipper-dipper type back, hard to bring down in an open field. Johnny Gibson, a 163-pound junior, lends a lot of help in the second half of the season's opener with Rankin. They trailed at that point but practically blew the Red Devils off the field after returning to play in the third period.

Against Stanton last week, the Bulldogs completely dominated play.

at Coahoma. He's blended a scrappy team with a community spirit that has been very hard to beat.

The Shorthorns will again be missing the services of big fullback Kirby Horton, who was laid low by an appendicitis attack.

Donnie Baker, a 178-pound junior who did such a fine job against Snyder last week, will start at the fullback position for Big Spring, in all probability.

There's no telling who will start for Big Spring, since some of the boys could play tonight. The B team squad usually consists of:

E—Gory Beaver 155, Dick Wright 130, Robert Jackson 167, Gary Morris 160, Frank Sotasz 134, Mickey Shannon 136, and Ruben Billboer 164; T—Joe Arritolo 172, Cliff Tolbot 160, Mack Frazier 168, Kenneth Hamby 164, Teddy Dietz 177, Jerry Wilson 148, Ted Tolbot 156, James Carver 167 and Freddie Stone 181; G—Terry Smith 164, Ruben Martinez 148, David Gomez 163, Bobby Kernell 172, Harold Jones 152, Frank Fierro 152, Manuel Dogue 154 and Robby Robertson 162; C—Joe Valdez 163, Henry Dicks 206, David Holmes 150 and Glenn Biller 165; QB—Richard Couley 130, Berry King 150 and Van Tom Whatley 154; FB—Gregg Pote 150, Gary Rogers 154, Ben Montross 140, Johnny Stone 137 and Tommy Mills 150; RB—Ronald Robey 154, Dennis Baker 178 and Gary Turner 160; HB—Ronnie Anderson 141, Wayne Kennedy 152 and Bobby Baker 170.

Coahoma's probable starters will be: E—Bobby Phuege 163 and Mike Mosley 152; T—Eddie Waski 203 and Joe Anderson 205; G—Mike Himsley 157 and Teddy Merrick 161; C—Lawrence Leonard 152; QB—Dwayne Allen 148; HB—Johnny Gibson 163 and Eddie McHugh 162; FB—Tony Butler 190.

Back Steers, Club Urged

Don Robbins, high school football coach, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon that the scheduled football game Friday night with Snyder "is the most important game we have."

He explained that it is the game which has to be played and that all games yet unplayed and those played so far shrink into unimportance when measured against the contest at hand.

He reviewed the outlook of the team for the current year and said that the boys need the wholehearted support of all citizens of the town. He urged all Kiwanians to make a special effort to be at the stadium Friday night to see the contest. He also cited the Big Spring B team match on Saturday night at Coahoma as of importance and urged loyal support by local fans.

He told of the two games played—and won—so far by the Steers and said that "never again as long as I am coach will I schedule a game with Ysleta." He cited the long distance the team had to travel and several other problems which made that particular game extremely harrowing.

Jim Thompson was program chairman for the day.

Rams Surprised By ACC JV's

ABILENE — ACC's Junior Varsity toppled the San Angelo College Rams, 33-22, in a football game here Thursday night. San Angelo held a wide edge in the air but the Wildkittens were superior on the ground.

Turner Assumes Job At Phoenix

SAN ANGELO — Dick Turner, former golf pro at the San Angelo Country Club, has accepted a similar position at the Mesa Country Club in Phoenix, Arizona.

Turner has been on the pro tour since his resigning his job at San Angelo last Dec. 3. He reports to Phoenix immediately.

Hank Foldberg Not Like Most Coaches

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

As a group, football coaches are notoriously pessimistic. After an upset — and this young college season has produced a flock of them — they can be downright dismal.

But what about the coach of a team that scored a 21-0 triumph in its only outing? Listen to Clay Stapleton of Iowa State University before his conference opener against Oklahoma State.

"We had two very poor practices back to back, and unless our attitude improves, we need not even show up."

On the other hand, there's Hank Foldberg of Texas A&M, which lost 9-6 to Louisiana State last week and is generally picked to finish near the bottom of the Southwest Conference. Hank said he was quite pleased with his team's performance.

The Aggies open the second big weekend of the college season tonight against independent Toledo, which has a 1-1 record. Toledo is at Detroit in the only other major Friday night game. Illinois and Ohio State, picked as two of the top in the Big Ten, open their seasons on the Saturday schedule that includes a surprising number of conference games, surprising for this stage of the season at least.

Four of the elite — Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Auburn — have conference tests following their impressive opening victories.

Defending national champion Texas, unbeaten in almost two years and a 31-0 victor over Tulane last week, visits Lubbock and an ambitious Texas Tech team that wants to prove it has at least earned its Southwest Conference spurs. The Red Raiders shocked Mississippi State 21-7 in their opener.

That one, like mighty Alabama's home game with Tulane is at night. Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide, sparked by quarterback Joe Namath, swept over Georgia 31-3 last week and is a top-heavy favorite over Tulane.

Mississippi, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press' pre-season poll, lived up to that high spot with a 30-0 romp through the vaunted defenses of Memphis State and now must test its defense against the solid Kentucky team.

And Auburn, 30-0 victor over Houston, has a bigger test

Games Will Be Saturday

Four football games originally scheduled for Thursday by local junior highs have been postponed until Saturday because of bad weather conditions. It was felt that any contests would only serve to tear up the stadium turfs, which were very wet after several days rain.

The Goliad eighth and ninth grades were slated to play Snyder Travis at 8:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. respectively in the old stadium, and these games will be made up at the same time tomorrow night as will the 5 p.m. contest between the Runnels eighth grade and Lakeview.

The Runnels ninth was scheduled to meet San Angelo Lee there at 7:30 p.m. and this game will also be made up Saturday but at 2 p.m.

Tourney Halted

Play in the Big Spring Golf Association's grand tournament has been cancelled for this weekend, according to Eddie Acrl. Play will be resumed next weekend weather permitting.

Seer Hopes For Better Things In Pro Picks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sam Huff's return to Yankee Stadium for a Friday night game with the New York Giants opens a promising weekend of pro football that will end with an unusual Monday night pairing of Green Bay and Detroit.

A full seven-game program in the National Football League and a four-game chart in the American Football League that includes a San Diego at Buffalo match are on the schedule.

Form and football pickers took a horrible beating last week when favorites fell from coast to coast. All of the NFL games could have been turned around in the last two minutes. The old average dropped to 57-2 in the NFL and 4-3 in the AFL for an over-all total of 9-10-2. You could do better with a hat pin. But let's try again (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted):

NFL

New York 21, Washington 17 (Friday night) — Battle of the league's two non-winners. Giants need this one so bad it hurts, especially after all the comments about the Huff deal. Rookie Gary Wood gets first start. Redskins are battered with several key men including Sonny Jurgenson below par. The host Giants could do it on the ground.

Baltimore 21, Chicago 14 — A real toughie. The visiting Bears showed they can move the ball in the score last week against Vikings. Colts upset Packers. On hunch Johnny Unitas will hit Bears' right side with strikes to Raymond Berry, the pick is the Colts.

Cleveland 27, Philadelphia 14 — Eagles probably in over their heads this time. Jim Brown should be ready for a 100-yard day and he just loves that turf at Franklin Field.

Dallas 21, Pittsburgh 21 — The visiting Cowboys' ground game too tough for Steeler defense and Tommy McDonald about due.

St. Louis 24, San Francisco 14 — Cardinals' Charles Johnson should find the holes in 49ers' pass defense. Host San Francisco is hurting with J.D. Smith out of action.

Los Angeles 17, Minnesota 14 — Aches and pains of Bill Brown and Tommy Moran leave the visiting Vikings short of running backs although Brown is expected to play.

Green Bay 17, Detroit 14 (Monday night) — Packers' ground game hurt by absence of guard Jerry Kramer. This will be a rugged one with a field goal by Paul Hornung a possible winner. The host Lions have regular defensive backfield together for first time in a year with return of Night Train Lane.

Gail Faces Garden City

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearkats, one of the most powerful football teams in West Texas, put a 2-0 record on the line tonight at 8 p.m. as the Gail Coyotes come to town.

Pre-season grid picks indicate that the Bearkats should have an easy time as they have in their two previous contests. The Coyotes were beaten a week ago by Forsan, 12-4, and the Buffaloes are ranked third in the district behind Garden City.

The Bearkats' starting lineup looks like this: ends, Riley Chandler and Taylor Etchison; guards, Lonnie Short and Tommy Dobbs; center, James Seidenberger; quarterback, Vernon Newsom; and halfbacks, Gary Pagan and Dennis Seidenberger.

Pagan and Seidenberger have both been outstanding to date and both should again have a fine game as they battle for scoring honors.

Evening Lions To Feed Football Fans Today

The Big Spring Evening Lions Club will serve its sixth annual chicken barbecue dinner tonight between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. at either of the local Tea Rooms.

The dinner is given each year on the night of the first home football game of the Big Spring Steers.

Squeaky Thompson, general chairman for the dinner, assured a Herald reporter recently that each patron will get his "full money's worth" of good food. The chickens are barbecued by Odell's Pit Bar-B-Q, 802 W. 3rd St.

Tickets can be bought from any Lions Club member or at the Tea Rooms. Service will be closed down in ample time for all patrons to be at the stadium for the opening kickoff.

Profits will be used for the furtherance of the club's program to provide glasses and eye examinations for needy local youngsters.

PAT WASHBURN'S The Roundtable

Pro golfer SAM SNEAD on shooting a 67 recently in a pro am and earning $225:

"Well, at least I got my caddie fee for the tournament."

Tennis great DICK SAVITT hit his some high defensive jobs in a practice session:

"Don't do that again, kid. I get nervous waiting for it to come down."

CHARLIE DRESSEN, manager of the Detroit Tigers:

"Players seldom change. When a man comes to you as a loafer or as a hustler, he usually stays that way as long as he's in the league."

Fight manager PETER DAVENPORT FULLER:

"I wouldn't trade my name for anything, but I'd gladly trade my position and the money that goes with it to be heavyweight champion of the world. Imagine walking down the street and have women look at you and name their babies after you. If I can ever be jealous of TOM MCNEELEY, it will be the night he wins the heavyweight championship of the world."

RED GRANGE talking about trying to tackle BRONKO NAGURSKI:

"There was something strange about tackling Nagurski. When you hit him it was almost like getting an electric shock. If you tackled him above the ankles you were likely to get killed."

Boxer WILLIE PEP, explaining where all his ring money went:

"My big mistake was personal, slow horses and fast women. My first wife wanted to be a singer and she couldn't sing. My second one wanted to be a dancer and she couldn't dance. Between them they cost me $100,000."

The Show Goes On Despite Bad Weather

The Shrine Circus went ahead Thursday afternoon and evening in spite of rains. Crowds were cut sharply although a large number of tickets had been pre-sold.

Members of the Big Spring Shrine Association, sponsors, said it was impossible to postpone the circus because of inclement weather, since the troupe had schedules to meet in other cities.

Several hundred persons braved the elements to take in the acts.

Noble Albert Smith, president of the Big Spring Shrine Association, recuperating from surgery in a local hospital, congratulated the Shriners on a job well done.

"Despite inclement weather," he said, "I feel the circus was a real success, thanks to the hard work of the Shriners on the project. I would like to express special thanks to the circus committee chairmen, Noble Aubrey Bryans and Noble Noel Hull, for their splendid efforts in leading us in this project."

More than 2,000 adult tickets were sold, and over 8,000 children's tickets handed to elementary and junior high school age children by local business men.

Funds from the circus are by Shriners to operate crippled childrens hospitals and burn centers.

More Hazards Pointed Out

Some 12-15 properties containing buildings selected as fire or safety hazards are being added to the city's list of such properties, with notices to be sent to property owners involved during October, according to Fire Marshal A. D. Meador.

The last set of such notices was mailed to 12 property owners in July.

The notices request the owner to demolish the structure or, in some cases, to make repairs to the buildings. Structures selected are on the basis of being eyecore properties, dilapidated and hazardous buildings or possible fire sources, according to Meador. Notices are sent from the city building inspection office.

Owners have a 60-day period after notification to begin the work, after which the city can notify the owner it intends to do it, with an assessment of the cost against the property as a lien. The property owner may appeal the decision to the board of adjustments and appeals. A public hearing must also be called by the city commission prior to such assessment action, which must precede the work by city crews.

About 30 notices have been sent to property owners since the program began in February.
