UF Banners Going Up

United Fund banners were flying on Main Street this morning, to signal that the year's new community solicitation is under way. A row of the banners, attached to parking meter standards, directs the way to UF headquarters in the old First National Bank building. Various volunteer leaders gathered this morning to hoist what they say are the "victory flags" for the campaign. Left to right, Daryle Hobertz, who is leading the Jaycees in the Metropolitan division; Jack Wallace, chairman special gifts division; Champ Rainwater, representing big gifts division; Carlton Chapman, area division; R. W. Thompson, employe division; Lester Morton, general campaign chairman; and Jack Y. Smith, UF president.

Starting Flags Up For UF Campaign

The starting flags went up this morning, and the 1964-65 United Fund campaign started its first laps on a run which leaders fervently hope will be successfully completed within the month. Two divisions, that affecting employes in the city and the public employe division—federal, state, city and county—went into action. R. W. Thompson and Elmo Phillips are directing the former, various individuals in the various public offices are handling the latter. At the same time, UF leaders set up an "avenue of flags" on Main Street in front of and opposite the old First National Bank building, where UF has its headquarters this year. Two dozen banners bearing the UF emblem will fly from parking meter standards throughout the campaign, to keep the public reminded of everybody's responsibility in meeting the $109,366 goal. Lester Morton, campaign chairman, emphasized again the determination of all division leaders to have their workers make calls promptly and to complete the solicitation in record time.

"All of us know that we must keep our welfare agencies functioning properly," said Morton. "All of us know that we need to do our own fair share. This can be done just as well this week as it can three weeks from now. Our volunteers are sounding the challenge—we hope it is answered." Morton's own set of employes, at the First National Bank, already have pledged more than last year. Thompson and Phillips said they hoped reports on their division will be coming in early.

Yarborough Warns Demos Against Over-Confidence

Overconfidence can defeat the Democratic ticket in Texas in November, Sen. Ralph Yarborough told a group of Howard County Democrats today. "Wherever I go," said the candidate, who is seeking a second term in the U. S. Senate, "people say 'Why worry? The Democrats will carry everything in November.' I want to warn you that this is the most dangerous attitude we could possibly have. Overconfidence can beat us in the general election." The senator spoke at the Democratic headquarters in the Crawford Hotel to what he said was "the biggest crowd of Democrats I have ever seen assembled in Big Spring in all of the years I have been coming here." Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the Howard County Junior College introduced the senator, informing his listeners that Yarborough had helped make possible some educational facilities that HCJC and other institutions of learning have by virtue of his continued support of bills which have advanced the educational opportunities of this nation. Yarborough outlined the long list of bills in support of better educational opportunities which he said he has supported and said that he proposed, as long as he is U. S. senator, to continue to battle for more and better educational opportunities in the United States. He said Congress has passed six major educational measures this session including the College Facilities Act which will assist colleges such as HCJC to

★ ★ ★ More To Story, Says Senator Sen. Ralph Yarborough said here today that the press had been told more about the Estes case by Fagan Dickson, Austin attorney, than had been printed. "He (Dickson) has told me that he provided the press with a great many facts which have not been printed," said Yarborough. "I recommend that the press print the whole story that Mr. Dickson told them." Dickson handed newsmen in Austin a 150-word release Monday. (See WARNS, Page 6-A, Col. 6) (See MORE, Page 6-A, Col. 6)

U. S. May Be Forced To Expand Fighting

Bundy Gives Warning In Japan Talk

TOKYO (AP)—A top State Department official warned the North Vietnamese and Chinese Communists today against increasing their pressure on South Viet Nam. He said they may force the United States to expand the war outside South Viet Nam.

William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, told the Research Institute of Japan:

FORCED "Expansion of the war outside South Viet Nam, while not a course we want or seek, could be forced upon us by the increased external pressures of the Communists, including a rising scale of infiltration."

Bundy did not say how the war might be extended. But a high American source said earlier in Tokyo that the United States has considered the possibility of "bombing infiltration bases in North Viet Nam and neighboring Laos."

"We do not aim at overthrowing the Communist regime of North Viet Nam but rather at inducing it to call off the war it directs and supports in South Viet Nam," Bundy said. He warned if South Viet Nam falls under Red control, the rest of Southeast Asia would face similar danger and eventually India, Australia and Japan could be swallowed up.

KEY TEST "If Hanoi and Peking prevail in Viet Nam in this key test of the new Communist tactics of 'wars of national liberation,' then the Communists will use this technique with growing frequency elsewhere in Asia, Africa and Latin America," he declared.

Communist China in turn warned the United States it will "pay dearly" if it ventures across the frontier into North Viet Nam. "The Chinese government and people again warn the Johnson administration to stop immediately the rash playing with fire," said Peking radio. "If it still plans to carry out enlargement of its war adventure, it will pay dearly for this dangerous adventure."

Troops and police in Saigon prepared for new trouble as students and religious sects threatened demonstrations to protest the killing of three rioters Sunday in Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of the capital.

SHOT THREE Government troops shot the three demonstrators and wounded 17 others to end a week of mob control in which youths took over the Qui Nhon radio station and seized the provincial chief. The rioters apparently staged the revolt to protest the continued presence in office of members of the former Ngo Dinh Diem regime.

U. S. Army officers in central Viet Nam were critical of the U. S. role in the ending of the rebellion of some 2,000 mountain tribesmen the United States had trained to fight the Viet Cong. The officers said the program to utilize the tribesmen in the war against the Viet Cong may have been jeopardized by American promises that were made to the rebel montagnards — mountain folk — and then broken.

PULLED OUT U. S. Special Forces officers, in charge of the montagnard program, said the tribesmen were assured that American advisers would not be pulled out of the chief rebel camp at Buon Sar Pa and that Vietnamese forces waiting to attack the rebels would not be allowed into the camp. The 13 Americans at Buon Sar Pa were pulled out Monday and a few hours later the Vietnamese army occupied the camp.

Die In Blast MANILA (AP)—Blasting caps exploded Monday night in an apartment house in suburban Quezon City, killing four children and injuring 17 persons. Police said the explosives were intended for use in filming a war movie.

FROM OLD ABANDONED OIL WELLS Pollution Called Serious

By MAX B. SKELTON DALLAS (AP)—A member of the Texas Railroad Commission said today hundreds of abandoned oil wells are polluting fresh water by leaking salt water.

Ben Ramsey, chairman of the state's oil and gas regulatory body, said the pollution of fresh water, both surface and subsurface, is one of the commission's most serious problems.

NO CONCERN Ramsey told the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association most of the pollution problems are a direct result of old practices dating back to the days when there was little or no concern over disposal of salt water encountered with the production of oil.

"There are hundreds of old abandoned wells that were never plugged and there are hundreds that are improperly plugged," he said. "Many of these wells have lost their identity since the operators have long since moved away or died. Many of the wells are leaking salt water, contaminating whole areas of soil and water."

Ramsey said the Abilene area alone has about 150 unplugged or improperly plugged wells leaking salt water.

"The cost of plugging these wells would be approximately $225,000," he said. Harry Dippel of Houston agreed and said there is need for a court ruling on whether the Railroad Commission or the Texas Pollution Control Board holds authority over such wells.

Dippel, a associate general counsel for Continental Oil Co. and chairman of the legal subcommittee of the association's water conservation committee, said a court hearing on the jurisdictional dispute is set for early November. A resolution approved Monday by the executive committee of the trade association, which represents all segments of the Texas petroleum industry, pledged continued cooperation with water conservation programs of government and industrial agencies.

Another resolution asked the 1965 Texas Legislature to approve a forced pooling bill under which the Railroad Commission could require all interests in an oil or gas drilling tract to operate the tract as a single unit. An objective is to prevent the drilling of unnecessary wells on tracts as small as a town lot. William Abington of Dallas, the association's general counsel, said oilmen will have to act quickly if they expect the new legislature to pass such a bill.

TOP PRIORITY Abington said congressional and legislative redistricting will be top priority items before the state lawmakers and any industry problems will have to be disposed of early in the session. The Texas industry moved a step closer to a united front on the pooling question Monday when the steering committee of a statewide Committee for Equitable Development of Texas Oil and Gas Resources recommended support of a bill approved two weeks ago by the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association. The statewide committee's executive committee will meet Oct. 29 in Houston to act on the recommendation.

Barry Urges President Declare War On Crime

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater went whistling this rainy day in Ohio with a demand that President Johnson declare war on crime.

Before a rain-dampened crowd in Marietta, the Republican presidential nominee declared from the rear platform of his campaign train that "moral leadership" could end the nation's mounting crime rate.

He coupled that with a defense of his stand on Social Security. "They are still peddling the same old distortion that Goldwater is opposed to Social Security," he said.

Goldwater said the real foes of the system are President Johnson and Democrats who want to finance medical care for the aged under its terms.

Before a crowd estimated by police at 3,000 to 4,000, Goldwater jibed at Johnson in these terms: "This is a peculiar campaign. I'm always used to occasionally having a chance to debate with my opponent, occasionally having him talk about the issues, but not this time."

He said every time he raises an embarrassing issue, Johnson goes to dedicate a dam. Goldwater said Johnson "finally listened" to his complaints about lawlessness and named a commission to study the problem. But he said studies are not enough. He said the nation should "stop listening to demagogues" who downgrade police.

And, he added, the courts have encouraged crime. Goldwater said Supreme Court decisions hamper law enforcement while lower courts have been too lenient with criminals.

Goldwater's 1,700-foot-long train, its whistle blasting all the way, backed across the Ohio River from Parkersburg, W. Va., to Marietta, Ohio, to begin the three-state swing.

The Republican presidential nominee rolled into Ohio aboard a 17-car campaign special to make at Marietta the first of 33 speeches scheduled on his five-day, three-state swing after saying the GOP ticket probably will remain the underdog through the whole campaign.

He keynoted it by accusing President Johnson of seeking election with taxpayers' money. As he prepared for his fourth week of campaigning, Goldwater said he already has former Vice President Nixon in mind as the chief foreign affairs official of a new Republican administration.

Nixon, who proclaimed himself neutral in the pre-convention competition for the presidential nomination, plans to campaign for Goldwater next month.

Johnson, responding to wildly enthusiastic receptions in often-Republican sections of New England, has pictured himself as topping Barry Goldwater in support of GOP programs during the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson made this claim part of a concerted appeal for Republican votes during a 20-hour tour of the six New England states. This journey was capped early today by a visit to the Boston bedside of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who is recuperating from airplane crash injuries.

The President, who saw several hundred thousand cheering, welcomed during the trip, returned to the White House at 4:22 a.m. with a cut hand, a hoarse throat and a good feeling about his receptions in the far northeastern corner of the nation.

Johnson's hand was cut by the fingerhalls of well-wishers who grabbed for it during the chief executive's repeated forays into surging, roaring crowds. The throat was hoarsened by five formal speeches and at least two dozen impromptu talks.

The New England tour definitely was in the political category, despite appearances at a couple of nonpolitical functions. This afternoon Johnson will hit the trail again — this time making an official flight to the Omaha headquarters of the Strategic Air Command with Manlio Brosio, the new secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson, in picturing himself as a better-than-Goldwater supporter of Republican programs during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, referred directly to his GOP rival for the first time during the campaign.

Facing chanting supporters at the Burlington, Vt., airport, Johnson ad-libbed that when he was Senate Democratic leader, he "supported the Republican president and the Republican party and the Republican program more . . . than my opponent in this race."

Later, addressing editors of weekly newspapers at Manchester, N.H., the President made another off-the-cuff reference to Goldwater — this time by name.

Johnson said that Goldwater, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "have all suggested at one point or another the wisdom and possibility of going north in Viet Nam."

Johnson said: "I want to be very cautious in dropping bombs that would involve our boys in Asia with 700 million Chinese. We're not going north and drop bombs at this stage of the game and we're not going south and run out and let the Communists take over."

The President went on to say that it's easier to start a war than stop one, adding, "I know some folks I think would start one mighty easy."

Mixed Reactions Greet Humphrey In Deep South

TIFTON, Ga. (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey made his deepest penetration into the South today saying, "I will not speak out of both sides of my mouth" on civil rights.

In his first stop in Georgia — at Moultrie — the Democratic vice-presidential nominee received a mixed reception. About half of his audience boomed him during a brief speech.

Following him with an address in Moultrie was the Republican party's convert — former Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. Humphrey, in his sally into Georgia, charged that Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater's followers are using conservatism to mask "a radical assault upon the very fabric of the American community." His schedule for the day included speeches at Moultrie, Tifton, at the University of Georgia in Athens, and Atlanta.

Humphrey said that Goldwater speaks the language of a nihilist. "And to 24 men dedicated to the American tradition" — whether liberal or conservative — nihilism is the politics of catastrophe.

Humphrey, in his remarks prepared for the University of Georgia, praised the school and extolled Georgia as "that enlightened state which is leading the South toward a new era, both in economic development and in race relations."

Humphrey, a Minnesota liberal who for years has been in the front ranks of those pressing civil rights legislation, has eased a little farther into the South on each campaign sortie.

Big Garden Job Begins

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Forestry workers took on a king-size gardening job today — reseeded 78,000 mountainous acres watershed burned in the disastrous 8-day Santa Barbara brush fire.

More than 2,000 firefighters remained on the lines today, mopping up mile-high trouble spots in remote back country.

Flood-control officials fear a massive ooze of mud will develop if the denuded hills are not supplied with ground cover before it rains.

The U.S. Forest Service said it hoped to completely contain the blaze by 10 a.m. Wednesday. Full control was predicted for 6 p.m. Thursday.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., told Santa Barbara County supervisors Monday he will seek $800,000 in emergency funds to build 10 debris basins in the burned area.

Eleven of the 46 men injured in the blaze still were hospitalized with burns, sprains or cuts. One fireman was killed and 78 homes burned in Santa Barbara and suburban Montecito.

Shooting Ends Party

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Police said one student nurse shot another at a nurses lawn party, then held a revolver at the wounded friend's head more than four hours while officers waited for her to give herself up Monday night.

Rosemarie Valdez, 22, of Grand Junction, Colo., finally surrendered on condition that she be allowed to accompany her friend, Diane Cafarelli, 21, of Kearns, Utah, into surgery. Miss Cafarelli, shot in the hip, was reported in satisfactory condition.

Miss Valdez had flunked out of nurses training at St. Benedict's Hospital despite Miss Cafarelli's help.

Sister Estelle, hospital administrator, said, "The student nurses were having a party on the lawn. Rosemarie came out to the lawn and pulled a gun and shot. Nobody knows why Rosemarie did it."

Miss Valdez then carried her friend to a picnic table where she kept police at bay. A psychiatrist and the hospital chaplain talked to her from 7:45 to 11 p.m.

She was placed under heavy sedation after being taken into custody. Darrell Renstrom, assistant county attorney, said he would file a mental illness warrant.

Mercury Vapor Lights Added

New mercury vapor street lights are being placed on four downtown streets south of the central business district this week by Texas Electric Service Co. crews.

The lights will be on blocks from Fourth to Tenth Streets on Scurry, Main, Runnels and Johnson Streets.

Thirty-five new lights will be installed, with the older incandescent lights on the four streets to be replaced or taken out as mercury vapor lights are added, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

Some of the new lights are being installed within the blocks in order to provide more illumination of businesses or residences than is possible when lights are placed on corners, Lillard said. Twenty of the new lights will be placed on corners and 15 within the blocks.

Existing poles are also being used for the new lights where available, Lillard said.

Plans include eight new lights on Scurry, nine on Main, eight on Runnels and ten on Johnson. Six new steel poles will be installed for some of the new lights on Main, one on Runnels and two on Johnson, along with ten new wood poles on Johnson and Runnels Streets.

Midnight Visitor

President Johnson drops in to visit with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., recuperating from a broken back at New England Baptist Hospital, Boston, shortly after midnight. The President closed out a long day of campaigning in New England with the 45-minute visit of the senator and his wife, Joan, before returning to Washington early this morning. The youngest brother of the late President John F. Kennedy suffered a broken back in a plane crash last June. He has been convalescing in the "Stryker Frame," shown leaning against the wall. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ecumenical Council Votes Both Ways On Marriage

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted down today a proposal that young single men becoming deacons be allowed to marry, but approved a measure permitting Roman Catholic married men to become deacons.

The vote for married men deacons was 1,598-629. The vote against allowing young deacons to marry was 1,364-839. A two-thirds vote of 1,485 was required for approval. The deacons assist priests.

Council fathers — cardinals, archbishops, bishops, patriarchs and other Roman Catholic prelates from around the world — voted approval Monday for a permanent diaconate of deacons to assist priests. Today the council was called upon to vote on the more controversial issue on whether the deacons might be married.

In the two ballots, the council voted that men who were married before deciding to enter the diaconate would be allowed to become deacons, but that young single men would have to remain celibate after entering the diaconate.

In a third ballot today, sources said, the council fathers agreed that national conferences of bishops should be allowed to decide whether deacons should serve in their areas. South American prelates had pressed for the permanent diaconate as a means of relieving the shortage of priests on that continent.

The deacons will be able to baptize, marry couples, give communion, administer last rites and preach. But they will not be able to say Mass or hear confessions.

For centuries, the rank of deacon has been a temporary one, held by seminarians for a short time before becoming priests.

The diaconate was discussed in the council a year ago. At that time many prelates approved it, but objected to a married diaconate. Several bishops said it would threaten the traditional celibacy of the priesthood itself.

Proceeding Called Error

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A contempt proceeding brought against Lester Maddox after he refused to serve Negroes at a newly opened cafeteria was called a mistake by the Atlanta segregationist.

Maddox, enjoined from operating a segregated restaurant, opened a cafeteria in the same building Saturday. He barred four Negroes from the cafeteria Monday, the same Negroes he refused to serve at the Pickrick Restaurant.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper signed an order a few hours after the incident, requiring Maddox to appear Oct. 2 and show cause why he should not be held in contempt.

"I think it is a mistake on the part of civil rights agitators and their attorneys," Maddox said of the contempt proceedings.

"The Lester Maddox Cafeteria is not an agent of Pickrick, Inc.," Maddox said. "The cafeteria has signs saying we do not offer service to interstate travelers. We removed Pickrick signs from the highway."

"I don't see any connection between the Lester Maddox Cafeteria and Pickrick, Inc., which was involved in the court decision."

"We just don't serve integrationists, whether they are black, yellow or white."

City Tax Statements Are Ready For Mailing

More than 12,000 tax statements from the City of Big Spring for 1964 will go into the mails here Wednesday.

Perished When Stove Exploded

ATHOL, Mass. (AP) — Three children — two girls and a brother — perished Monday night when a space heater exploded in the living room of their two-family home.

Fire authorities said the children might have been saved if the mother had summoned help immediately instead of trying to battle the flames herself.

Another child, 19-month-old Alan Spooner, was in critical condition at Memorial Hospital with extensive burns.

The mother, Kathleen Spooner, 27, and the seven members of the Arthur Powell family which occupied the other half of the three-story frame structure were not hurt seriously.

The victims were Virginia Spooner, 7, her sister, Patricia, 2, and her brother, Peter, 4. Their father, Roger, a sailor, was reported serving aboard a submarine en route to England.

C. E. (Perry) Johnson, tax collector - assessor, said the statements had been prepared for mailing for more than a month but that mailing was delayed so that no taxpayers will be billed before the city can begin receiving payments in October. Deadline for paying current taxes is Jan. 31, 1965.

Discounts, however, make it attractive to pay early. Taxpayers receive a three per cent discount for taxes paid during October, two per cent for taxes paid in November and one per cent discount on December payments.

A total of 12,243 statements have been prepared by the city tax assessor - collector's office for 1964. The tax levy for 1964 is $827,730 and the total assessed valuation is $55,182,000.

The number of statements represents only a slight increase over the total for 1963 of 12,002. The levy includes an increase of some $36,000 over the 1963 figure of $791,555.40.

Total assessed valuation also shows an increase from 1963 of about $2,400,000.

NECK AND SHOULDERS?

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Neuritis is one of the most painful, nerve-racking experiences known to man. The pain is boring and stabbing. The victim is unable to get any rest or sleep. Every movement means suffering. There is loss of power and feeling.

A local inflammation of a nerve is called simple neuritis. It is localized in one spot and is usually caused by pressure on a nerve at a point of exit from the spine. Pressure on a nerve near the surface of the body, such as the shoulder or elbow, will result in numbness and tingling. Repeated constriction and pressure may result in inflammation of the affected nerve. The nerve sheath or neurolemma may squeeze the sensitive nerve fibers and form adhesions. This will aggravate the neuritis and develop in a chronic stage. Blows, falls, contusions and long exposure to cold will result in a similar way. The spine should be checked in ALL cases.

If you are still suffering from a similar condition or discomfort, have your spine checked at the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic — across from Piggy Wigly, AM 3-3324, as this woman did:

This woman complained of pains in the left leg (Sciatic nerve), left arm, shoulder and neck. Extremely nervous with headaches in the right temple, gas bloat and constipation complicated by insomnia from her aches and pains. Now, after correction of her spinal nerves, she enjoys freedom from her pains and aches. No. 2173. You can have the same health when your spinal nerves are freed from nerve root irritation.

Harpo, The Wackiest Marx, Dies Monday

By JAMES BACON
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harpo Marx, 75, on stage the wackiest of the wacky Marx brothers, but offstage the most normal, most solid member of the family, died Monday night following surgery.

A terse announcement from Mt. Sinai Hospital said: "Mr. Marx died at 8:30 p.m. following surgery. He was admitted Saturday."

It was speculated that Harpo died following heart surgery, since he had suffered some minor heart attacks in recent years.

At his bedside was his wife, Susan, and two of his four sons. Surviving brothers Groucho, Zeppo and Gummo were not present when the end came, a hospital spokesman said.

Mostly retired in recent years, Harpo — the silent one of the act — led a quiet life at his Palm Springs home hard by the fairways of Tamarisk Country Club. During the hot summer months on the desert, he moved to Beverly Hills where he often walked unrecognized on the streets.

That was because his regular appearance was so different from the curly wigged, top-hatted, horn-blowing, blonde-chasing nut he played in the act.

Precise of speech — although his voice was never heard on the stage or screen — he was the darling of the intellectual set.

"Harpo was born an intellectual," said Groucho, "because he didn't learn it in school. He had such a hard time getting through kindergarten that he quit shortly after."

"Chico was the only one of us who ever got through public school and to him education was something that helped him read the racing form."

Chico, the piano-playing brother with the Italian dialect, died in 1961.

He was the oldest of the five brothers whose plays and movies, such as "Animal Crackers," "Cocanuts" and "A Night at the Opera" were considered classics of both stage and screen.

Harpo became one of the world's more famed harpists—although he never took a lesson. He couldn't read music, but he often soloed with major symphony orchestras.

Asked once to explain his appeal to intellectuals the world over — from Alexander Woolcott to George Bernard Shaw — Harpo answered modestly: "I'm just a great listener."

He claimed that his brothers never let him speak in the act because it would prove to the

Courtesy And Clothes Linked In Survey

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "The fewer clothes a cocktail waitress wears, the more dis-courteous she becomes," says the Emerie - Fahey courtesy curve, a new natural law that may someday take its place alongside Parkinson's law and the law of gravity.

"Courtesy increases the lower one looks on the employment scale."

These are a few conclusions of the 10 men and women who prowled Las Vegas hotels and casinos, grinning at cocktail waitresses, ordering food they didn't want, feigning ignorance at blackjack tables and asking change girls to help find lost nickels.

The 10 are members of Creative Research Associates, a fledgling organization tapped by the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce to find out what percentage of the 15,000 tourist industry employees are courteous.

Research directors Al Emerie, 37, and Robert Fahey, 35, said only 100 of 2,000 employees tested passed the minimum requirement for courtesy. That's 5 per cent.

The group identified no persons, hotels or casinos.

"Good waitresses," says Fahey, "take more pride in their ability to do the job itself than do cocktail waitresses." He and Emerie agreed that the cocktail waitress ranks lowest on the courtesy scale.

"The nicest cocktail girls are those who wear dresses as uniforms; the worst are those who are almost naked," says Fahey, a social psychologist by background.

"If a man wants gracious treatment from a cocktail waitress, he should place his order soberly, without looking at her or smiling," says Emerie, a motivational researcher.

"If you smile at them they react as if you were making a pass at them," he says.

Douglas-Home Campaigns With An Air Of Confidence

By TOM OCHILTREE
 LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home walked to the edge of the platform, his eyes cold and his upper lip as taut as an open umbrella.

He looked down at the heckler, a bearded man carrying a "ban the H-bomb" banner who kept interrupting the prime minister's speech with shouts of "nonsense" and "imperialist rubbish."

Douglas-Home said nothing for almost a full minute. Then, gazing firmly at the heckler: "There are British soldiers serving in four continents just so that you and your like can live in freedom."

The crowd exploded with applause and laughter. The heckler's face above the beard flushed. He made no more interruptions.

This scene in southern England gave an insight into the confident way Douglas-Home is campaigning for the Oct. 15 national election.

Heckling is an ancient part of British electioneering. The most powerful political figures in the land have to undergo barbed questions, jeers and muttered complaints from people in their audiences. The politician who cannot stand up to heckling leads a life of torment like a schoolboy pushed around by a playground bully.

Douglas-Home, 61, a former nobleman, can stand up to heckling without any difficulty. He projects an easy self-confidence as he stumps Britain on behalf of his Conservative party. Everywhere he goes he gives the impression that the Conservatives are bound to win the election.

Many students of British politics, however, believe Harold Wilson's Labor party will win. Douglas-Home blandly assumes such assessments are the products of faulty judgment.

Win or lose, he has restored the self-confidence of the Conservative party. When he succeeded Harold Macmillan as prime minister last Oct. 18, the Conservative party was in disarray. Rank-and-file members were confused by the failure of the European Common Market negotiations, dismayed by a series of spy cases and shattered by the Profumo scandal.

For a time, Douglas-Home seemed to be working alone to bring the party back to life. He gave up his title as 14th Earl of Home and won a seat in the House of Commons in a special election in Scotland's West Perthshire.

There was something amateurish about his political method 11 months ago. He appeared almost too polite for the stern business of electioneering.

Then as things slowly began to look up, old party regulars and volunteers entered the fight alongside Douglas-Home. His own confidence had been infectious.

Douglas-Home accomplished this change by hard grassroots work.

Now his efforts are being stepped up further. Before the voting he expects to cover more than the 2,500 miles put in by Macmillan during the 1959 cam-

Concert May Be Played To Huge, Empty Hall

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Two weeks ago, Robert Brawley says, he mailed 10,000 brochures and order blanks for a concert he's to conduct Wednesday night at Philharmonic Hall in New York City.

As of Monday night, the box office had sold 60 seats — none to anyone on the 10,000-name mailing list.

"It is something of a catastrophe," said Brawley, conductor and director of the Hartford Festival of Music Orchestra and Chorus.

He learned about the lack of response on Friday when he called the box office in New York to find out how tickets were selling.

Brawley began checking people whose names he knew were on the list. They didn't get the brochure. He checked the post office here. It had a receipt for the two bags of mailed brochures, sent to New York.

In New York, postal authorities couldn't find out what happened to them, Brawley said.

"We weren't expecting to make money," he said, "but we had hoped to break even."

He said the break-even point is $6,000. Ticket sales so far total $195.

Tax Collector Gets His Due

WORKINGTON, England (AP) — Storekeeper Eleanor Marshall complained today that an official with a chauffeur drove 66 miles to collect two-pence she owed on her taxes.

"I sent a check for exactly 200 pounds—$500—and didn't add the two-pence," she said.

"Then the tax man phoned to say he must have it to balance his books. I had a whole series of letters and calls about it so I told them to see my accountant."

Oil Production Shows Increase

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Domestic oil production this year is up about 1 per cent over the first three quarters of 1964 and averaging 7,642,000 barrels a day, the Oil & Gas Journal said today.

Production last week averaged 7,581,120 barrels a day, up 12,710 from the previous week.

Oklahoma output of 545,900 barrels a day was up 12,660. Most states showed little change.

Figures for other states and the previous week's output, respectively, included Louisiana 1,327,550 and 1,327,550, New Mexico 307,100 and 307,100, and Texas 2,628,350 and 2,628,350.

Trans-Texas Training Marks Pert Hostess

By JO BRIGHT

The scene is repeated hundreds of times a day.

The captain or copilot of a commercial airliner flips a switch in the cockpit and a warning light flashes on in the cabin. The orange glow tells passengers to fasten their seat belts—occasionally because the winds are a bit gusty but generally because the plane is approaching the field and beginning a descent to enter the traffic pattern.

One or two gentlemen notice the sign—do nothing—and return their gaze to the window. They have the look of seasoned flying commuters and enjoy the luxury of personal service from a pretty girl. They know that in a moment an alert hostess will favor them with a charming smile as she directs attention to their oversight. If the young woman is wise the smile is sincere because that's what she's being paid for. If she doesn't keep passengers happy—she's just excess baggage.

Trans-Texas Airways has probably picked a winner in choosing Janet Everett as one of their newest hostesses. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Everett, 516 Dallas, Janet completed her training last week and only yesterday began her official duties as a reserve hostess with the airline. Even now she may be stowing a young man's briefcase, plumping an elderly woman's pillow or warming a baby's bottle. She's pert and pretty, as most hostesses are, but she's not there just to be viewed—she was hired to be helpful.

Janet, 19, is practically a native Big Springer. She was graduated from high school here in May of 1963 and gained experience working with the public while employed by the Security State Bank.

"My parents thought I would like airline work," explained Janet, "so last May when I flew to Dallas I talked to one of the hostesses, and by the time we landed I knew they were right." Too, she was dating a station agent who encouraged her to apply for the job. A week later she was interviewed in Houston and accepted for training.

The two-week course concerned first aid, emergency procedures, reading weather forecasts and the performance of routine hostess duties. The latter includes serving light meals, keeping passenger and board mail charts and of course, giving friendly assistance to the paying guests who are entitled to attention.

Trans-Texas provides service to six states, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, New Mexico and Arkansas. There are two "home" bases—Dallas and Houston—and two types of planes in service, 20 Convairs and 18 DC-3's, long known as the dependable workhorse of the airlines.

As a reserve hostess, Janet will be assigned to flights whenever and whenever she is needed. As vacancies occur she will move up to regular duty where flights are bid each month and awarded according to seniority. Besides her base pay Janet will receive expense checks for meals and earn "flight pay."

Social Etiquette Is Program Study

The art of entertaining at informal dinners and teas was discussed by Mrs. John Carlson who presented the program, "Your Day Socially," to members of Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening. The session was held in the home of Mrs. W. T. Drake, 3300 Drexel, with Mrs. Roy Granberry serving as co-hostess.

A working schedule for the teddy bear booth at the Lions Fun-A-Rama was outlined and refreshments were served to 11 members.

Beta Omicron Fetes Rushees With Luau

The Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its first rush party of the season, a Hawaiian luau, in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, 2309 Alledale, Monday evening.

Hostesses were Mrs. Morris Griffith, Mrs. Jack Tayrien, and Mrs. Tom Enloe, all members of the social committee. Rushees were greeted at the door and presented Hawaiian leis as favors and colored name tags. They were ushered into the living room where baskets of fruit, shells and coral gave the effect of a tropical garden. Starfish and colored net were used to decorate the tables.

A game session followed with prizes awarded to Mrs. Don Kennemer and Mrs. A. P. Hurley. The prize for the most original costume went to Mrs. Bradford, who had constructed a grass skirt, and the attend-extra compensation for actual time spent in the air. She pays for uniforms and is required to have two but may buy more if she wishes. The V-necked jumpers are charcoal grey and are worn with a simple white blouse and short, fitted jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. A touch of color is the red tie and a shiny wing pin. Dark kid gloves are worn with black shoes during the winter months, but white gloves are worn during the summer.

Topping it all is the grey Western hat banded with gold braid and centered with the TTA emblem.

Research has shown that airlines usually get to keep their hostesses for an average of a year's service before they meet the man of their choice and decide to come down to earth. Janet said there would be no clipped wings for her anytime soon but time—or some Trans-Texas passenger—may change her mind.

Uninhibited Fall Style

Way out leg wear is in for fall, and not just for the campus crowd either.

The variety of styles and colors are amazing. There are vivid solid color cable weaves to go with bronze wax moccasins and the contrasting colors of lively patterns in below-the-knee socks to complement short swingy skirts above basic flats. Multi-color tweeds in above-the-knee socks to go with ghillie ties and fine ribbed socks accent the long leggy look of ankle high boots.

Web-like sheer hose are worn with suits and reptile grained pumps, or crocheted hose top off strap pumps. Printed tights, waist high in bold color combinations are worn with a tunic top and tall boots. Fancy lace patterns go with the open shoe silhouettes.

ance prize was won by Mrs. Dwight Parker. During the social period, rushees were served an assortment of tropical fruits and punch from a buffet table decorated with palm leaves, net, coral and shells.

There were 11 members present and 15 rushees. The rushees were Mrs. Alton Wilhite, Mrs. Delbert Stanley, Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Erick Vettegren, Mrs. Allen Simpson, Mrs. Melvin Lindsey, Mrs. Jim Parks and Mrs. Charles Dodson. Also, Mrs. Jack Blizzard, Mrs. Paul Garrett, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Doug Warren, Mrs. Thomas, C. Eustace, Mrs. Michael Arnold and Mrs. Hurley.

The next rush affair will be a tacky party Monday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mu Kappa Hears Talk By Coates

The art of arranging flowers was discussed by Q. T. Coates, Quigley's Floral Shop, at the Monday meeting of Mu Kappa Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Mrs. Troy Love, 1311 Virginia, was hostess.

Coates noted the need for arranging flowers according to use in the home and detailed the rules for building such a display. He illustrated with a dried arrangement of chrysanthemums, oak leaves and sea moss, and designed a pink feathered carnation corsage.

A working schedule of the Fun-A-Rama booth was assigned to seven members present at the meeting. Mrs. J. W. Dickens presided. Mrs. Loy Carroll and Mrs. E. H. Lawhon will serve as chairmen at the carnival booth.

Rush activities will begin Oct. 12 with an informal patio party in the Lawhon home at 3606 Calvin. Planned social events will continue through Nov. 9.

Refreshments were served at a linen covered table appointed with crystal and silver. Prizes were awarded Mrs. B. R. Newton and Mrs. Carroll.

Year Books Distributed

Mrs. Jerry Spence, 1709 Yale, was hostess to Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening and was assisted by Mrs. Wayman Clark. Year books were distributed to the group by Mrs. Perry Chandler.

Plans to serve at the Big Spring State Hospital Christmas party were announced by Mrs. Horace Rankin, president. The West Texas area convention will be held in Fort Stockton in October.

Refreshments were served to 14 members from a table decorated with a dried arrangement.

Mrs. Pete Shannon, 1418 Tucson, will serve as hostess at the Oct. 12 meeting, and Mrs. Daryl Highley will be co-hostess.

Drive Scheduled By VFW Women

A membership drive was scheduled by the VFW Auxiliary, Christensen Tucker No. 2013, when the group met Monday at the post home. Mrs. Choc Smith, president, announced that committees would be appointed at the Oct. 26 meeting, and urged all members to attend.

Announcement of the fall district meeting in Monahan was made. Mrs. R. Paul Beasley of Abilene Post 2012 was a guest.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The autumn days have not progressed far enough for the leaves to start falling but the mimosa trees are beginning to drop their dry pods all over the still-green grass. There are so many of the pretty mimosa trees about the city that add so much beauty to the yards that the messy pod dropping can be overlooked and taken care of without too much work. Also, the pyracantha is hitting its stride about now and the berries are bursting with color—red, yellow and orange. The berries attract numerous birds, among them the gay cardinals which are numerous in our part of town. Even during a rainy day recently we saw one of the red birds flying about like a true West Texan—hadn't seen any rain in so long getting wet was a pleasure.

MR. and MRS. DAVID E. POPE and their daughter, Pamela, returned Sunday night from Coleman where they attended funeral services for Mrs. Pope's mother, Mrs. Howard O. Smith Fairy. Mrs. Fairy passed away here Wednesday night in a hospital. Funeral services were held Friday in Coleman.

Big Spring friends who attended the last rites were HAROLD COLEMAN, MR. and MRS. A. E. REED, MR. and MRS. KENNETH WILLIAMS, MRS. OLA WILLIAMS, MRS. J. C. PIERCE, MR. and MRS. HOWARD BELK and MR. and MRS. WILBUR POPE. MR. and MRS. J. A. POPE came from El Paso.

In the weekend mail: A letter from former resident, FLOYD PARSONS, saying their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parsons, left Little Rock Thursday for a two year assignment with the Peace Corps. The two will teach at the University of Bolivia in La Paz. According to the letter, the family had barely returned to their home before they had started planning a trip to La Paz. Also a note from San Francisco from ELEANOR MATHENY saying the weather was hot there Friday. However, Mrs. S. Gorman, who returned Sunday, said a fog came in Saturday and cooled away the heat making the stay more enjoyable.

Homemakers Club Selects Officers

Mrs. Jimmy Montgomery was re-elected president of the Young Homemakers Club Monday afternoon when the group met in the home of Mrs. Roy Deel, 1305 Stanford.

Other officers are Mrs. Wayne Sanders, secretary; Mrs. Nolan Helcher, treasurer; and Mrs. Deel, social chairman and historian.

Refreshments were served to six members, and Mrs. Helcher was named hostess for the Oct. 12 meeting.

Change Announced For HD Club Tour

The last stop on the Howard County Home Demonstration club tour scheduled tomorrow will be in the annex of the Presbyterian Church annex at Coahoma. Members of the Luther, Coahoma and Center Point clubs will be hostesses.

MRS. WALLY CATALDO and her little son, Tony, left Saturday for their home in Madison, Conn., after being here 12 days with her parents, MR. and MRS. ALBERT SMITH, Mrs. Cataldo came to be with her father when he underwent surgery two weeks ago.

A pop visitor was Wally Cataldo who flew in from San Francisco after having been at Kawajalein in the Marshall Islands for some weeks. He was en route to Miami Beach where he was to board a plane for the Ascension Islands where he will continue his work in the missile program.

JAY DAVIS, from Dimmitt, a brother of Mrs. Smith, flew down for a day's visit at the end of the week. MRS. INA RICHARDSON of Midland also has spent several days here with her sister.

Mrs. Nabors Given Office

Mrs. O. L. Nabors and Mrs. Willard Sullivan reported on the Supreme Meeting of the Social Order of the Beauceant held in Tampa, Fla., when the local group met Monday evening in Masonic Hall. Mrs. Nabors was named general chairman of the Texas breakfast to be held at the next national meeting in Portland, Ore., in September of 1965.

Serving with her will be Mrs. Lipp Perry, Abilene, co-chairman, and Mrs. Corliss Jones, Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer. There were 98 members from Texas at the session and 771 members representing the 50 states. It was reported that the Beauceant, social equivalent of Knights Templar, had donated $18,551 to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation of the World.

At the Monday session, Mrs. A. J. McGee and Mrs. Ray Thomas served refreshments to 18 members.

Eagles Auxiliary Sets Dance Plans

A round-table discussion was held by members of the Eagles Auxiliary Monday evening when the group met at the lodge hall for a regular business session. Plans for the "Roaring Twenties" dance to be held Nov. 14 were completed. The affair will be held in the ball room at the Settles Hotel and the "Starlighters" orchestra will play.

HIS IQ TOO HIGH TO MEASURE

Mike Is Happy Problem

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mom wasn't much help with calculus, so 10-year-old Michael Grost of Lansing enrolled at Michigan State University as a full-fledged freshman Monday night.

Matter of fact, Mike already had dabbled in college subjects for a year, as a special-status student at Michigan State.

He had an "A-minus" average over 38 hours of classroom work in subjects such as history, humanities, natural science and mathematics. That's what sold MSU on waiving requirement of a high school diploma.

Mike comes to MSU from the seventh grade — he had been accelerated through the sixth at Lansing's Cumberland Road School, to which he returns now and then to play marbles, swap comic books and play touch football.

He begins regular university classes Thursday.

University psychologists rate Mike a well-adjusted 10-year-old. He is looking forward to stepping up from Cub to Boy Scout this fall, and he requested 10 "Superman" comic books as a prize if he made "A" in "Contemporary History of Europe and Asia" as a special-status student. For a "B-plus," he got five.

Mike's mother, Mrs. William Grost, recalls that Michael began to read aloud, at the age of 4, to her great surprise.

"Because no one had ever taught him to read, I still don't know how or when he learned."

Dr. Elizabeth Drews, MSU professor of education, said Mike wasn't unhappy in elementary school, but that one of his difficulties there was in finding anyone to talk about the principles of mathematics. Mom didn't have time; not with a husband and two other children.

Mike put it this way: "When I come home and Mom is putting a roast in the oven and making salad, she just isn't able to listen to me talk about calculus."

Dr. Drews says Mike's IQ is too high to be measured meaningfully; that on a graduate student screening test he scored in the top 10 per cent. On a test of mathematical ability for 12th graders and college freshmen he scored in the upper one per cent.

When Mike isn't delving into higher mathematics, his favorite pastime is reading Sherlock Holmes, Nancy Drew mysteries, comic books — or the works of Thomas Aquinas, the 13th century theologian.

"Because he's only 4-feet-6½ and weighs only 75 pounds, Mike was exempted from MSU's ROTC and physical education courses.

He has a brother, Robert, 7, and a sister, Patricia, 9, both of whom have demonstrated superior intelligence, although not at Mike's level.

Mike's father, William Grost, 41, and Mrs. Grost both hold degrees in journalism from MSU. Grost enrolled with Mike Monday night to continue work on a master's degree in evening classes at MSU.

"Mike," says his father, "apparently recognizes the child-parent role and has decided to abide by it."

Says Mrs. Grost: "Mike is a problem, but a happy one."

Houston Gets A New Chief

HOUSTON (AP) — Inspector Herman Short is expected to succeed Hobson McGill, who was fired as chief of police.

Mayor Louie Welch relieved McGill as chief Monday because, the mayor said, McGill had not been bearing down hard enough on gambling. McGill disputed this.

McGill will return to his old job as inspector in charge of the traffic division.

The mayor cited 12 federal indictments returned Sept. 18 as an indication to him there was "a laxity in the operation of the Police Department."

Angry Fans Launch Riot At Dallas Rock-Roll Show

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Angry fans smashed windows in the lobby of Dallas Memorial Auditorium Monday night after an unscheduled halt in a show by the troupe of rock 'n roll singer Ray Charles.

A flying bottle knocked a city policeman unconscious as he and fellow officers stood shoulder to shoulder shoving the unruly crowd into the street. Police jailed four persons.

Police Lt. H. C. Holloway said several hundred spectators tried to storm the box office after an unidentified spokesman for the entertainers announced the performance was ending at intermission. He was quoted as advising the audience of about 4,000 to demand their money back.

The auditorium director, W. W. Vanderslice, said four agents of the Internal Revenue Service entered the box office and imposed receipts collected by the promoter of the show, A. W. West. Tickets sold for $2 to $2.50.

Ellis Campbell Jr., regional head of the IRS, said he knew nothing about the incident but that his department on occasion seizes receipts to collect delinquent taxes.

Charles did not appear on the stage. Efforts to reach him for comment were unavailing.

Several big plate glass windows were smashed. The bottle throwing crowd also broke tables and other equipment.

One of the bottles struck policeman J. D. Stewart on the head. Half a dozen officers drew pistols as they forced a path to Stewart's side, but no shots were fired.

About 20 officers at the auditorium were reinforced after trouble started about 10:30 p.m. It took two hours to clear the auditorium.

Interpretation Worries Council

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Fear that the original Vatican Ecumenical Council declaration on the Jews might have led to a future interpretation that Christ was not God caused it to be revised, an informed source said today.

The source, close to the council directorate of cardinals, said the council coordinating commission planned when it met during the summer to retain the original reference to Jewish non-culpability for deicide, or God-killing.

"But a theologian pointed out a potential hidden danger in the seven-word phrase: 'The Jews are not guilty of deicide,' and the reference was stricken out," the source said.

"The theological expert explained to the commission that that single statement, while clear in meaning today, could possibly be seen out of context a hundred years from now as showing that the Vatican Council declared that Christ was not God."

In other words, the source explained, future emphasis might shift from the word "Jews" and to the word "deicide" in such a way that it would seem the 1964 council had said Christ was not God.

The new version now before the council says instead: "One should be careful not to attribute to the Jews of our time what was committed during the passion of Christ."

The source did not explain why the coordinating commission decided to restrict the declaration's absolutism to "Jews of our time" rather than extending it to the Jewish people as a whole at the time of the Crucifixion. This and not the omission of the word deicide is the crux of the controversy which the declaration has generated.

Debate on the revised version opened Monday with cardinals from the United States, Canada and Western Europe urging restoration of the original wording. Five Middle East patriarchy opposed any declaration on the Jews, contending that it would make trouble for the Church in their area.

A spokesman for the Christian Unity Secretariat, which wrote the original text, said Monday night he thought there "is more than a slight possibility" that the original wording will be restored.

By referring to the Jews of today rather than to the Jewish people as a whole at the time of the Crucifixion, the coordination commission in effect put aside the question of deicide, the source said.

He added that the commission apparently did this with the feeling that there was no controversy concerning the responsibility of modern Jews, and no need to dwell on the past in a document aimed at contemporary anti-Semitism.

This latter view was not shared Monday by Paul Emilio Cardinal Leger of Montreal, Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago and Joseph Cardinal Frings of Cologne. All three called for a return to the original wording. "We should make it clear," said Cardinal Leger, "that we are not speaking of the Jews of today but of Jews as such and everywhere."

Ragged Villagers Scream Protests

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — About 2,000 ragged villagers streamed into New Delhi today and staged a screaming protest against government failure to cope with floods that have ravaged vast regions of north India.

Grizzled old men with canes, women carrying babies, children running to keep up, they swarmed through the capital's main business district, clogging traffic and sweeping aside pedestrians.

The monsoon floods have left six million people homeless and covered hundreds of thousands of acres of badly needed crops.

Win Awards

Melvin Fryar, who picked a mystery new member for the Junior Chamber of Commerce during the membership drive from June-15 through Aug. 31, was awarded a $25 Savings Bond this week. Fryar and Jack Orr tied in signing up the most new members, and each received $12.50.

West's imaginative strategy, inspired thru sheer desperation, led to a stunning upset of South's three no trump contract. West succeeded in painting a false picture to the declarer, which started the latter on his way to destruction.

The two no trump response by South is a trifle unorthodox since he lacks a true stopper in hearts. However, the heart suit is not considered biddable and there is really no appealing alternative to his choice.

West opened the three of hearts and the king was played from dummy. A small diamond was led at trick two and declarer put up the king from his hand. With a smooth motion unbetrayed by the least flicker of hesitation, West played the eight of diamonds. On the next lead from the closed hand, West followed with the ten, and South—who had no reason to suspect the actual situation—ducked in dummy hoping that East had started with the ace-doubleton.

East was in with the jack of diamonds, and he returned a heart to dummy's ace. Since South had only eight top tricks, he led another diamond to drive out the ace. West had carefully preserved that card for a late entry, and he was in to cash a sufficient number of heart tricks to send the declarer down to defeat.

Observe that, if West wins the first diamond lead, he can subsequently be retired from the play. After the heart suit is cleared, South reenters his hand to lead another diamond, and the trick is ducked around to East's jack. The latter is unable to put his partner in, and declarer cashes sufficient diamond tricks to make four no trump.

Charges Files On Risks Destroyed

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, Republican vice-presidential nominee, charged the Johnson administration today with destruction of files on governmental security risks and asked: "What are they trying to hide?"

"They may not want the Goldwater administration to learn next January what is in those files," Miller said in a statement issued here.

He said the State Department had "ordered its agents in 20 major cities through the United States to destroy the bulk of their records containing data on government security risks. Why are these files being destroyed?"

The statement was issued as Miller wound up a morning of campaigning that included a speech to an audience of about 600 Republican workers. He participated in a local television interview and held a news conference.

Miller said earlier that President Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, "seem to have a policy of and a program for everyone — but they don't seem to really have a principle anywhere."

In a round of speeches Monday, Miller accused the Democratic nominees of adjusting their views to suit the prevailing political winds in the locality they happen to be visiting.

Comparing GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and President Johnson, Miller said at an airport rally in Oklahoma City, that:

"I would rather have a man in this day and age who is elected president because of what he believes in because he has the courage of his convictions, rather than some man who changes his opinion every week in order to get votes wherever he happens to be."

Miller flew from Oklahoma

City to St. Louis late Monday night. His schedule in St. Louis called for a speech, a television interview and a news conference before leaving for Hutchinson, Kan.

Scranton Speaks Up

CHERRY HILL, N. J. (AP) — The Johnson administration "has washed away the last vestiges of the style and grace that a new generation of Americans forged in the 1960 elections," says Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

"No less than 264 times the man who now says 'Let us continue' (voted against the position of John F. Kennedy," Scranton told 2,200 persons at a $25 Republican fund-raising dinner here Monday.

"And now, with wondrous logic, Lyndon Johnson looks deep into our eyes and he says: 'Let us continue!'"

Scranton on a seven-state tour, emphasized the need for Republicans to stay within the party even if they have "strong feelings" about what sort of a party it should be. He had high praise for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee.

Scranton said the Johnson administration "swelters in a sea of clichés, of easy answers that are no answers at all."

"We are told that everything is well for America in the world," Scranton added, "except, for example, in Viet Nam, and Indonesia, and Laos, and Cambodia, and the rest of Southeast Asia, and in Africa, and the Mid East, and Cuba and Latin America."

Miller flew from Oklahoma

a full house of 700 Republicans in Oklahoma City and received a cheering, enthusiastic welcome.

Miller remained aloof from group singing of songs that contained sharply etched lyrics about topics that included Mrs. Johnson's financial holdings. Lyrics of other songs referred to the acquisition of the Johnson family fortune.

Although he has been critical of the President on the subject of the acquisition of the Johnson family wealth, Miller has not referred to Mrs. Johnson nor has he accused the President of wrongdoing.

Sale Proves Popular

Monday's Sidewalk Sale promotion was so well received and proved so popular with the public that plans are already being made for a second edition.

"Of course," explained Carroll Davidson, Big Spring Chamber of Commerce manager, "it is not planned to have another sale right away. Sometime later on it is expected an even bigger and better Sidewalk Sale will be staged."

Merchants who took part in the event were uniformly happy with the results, he said. Bulk of the traffic was downtown but some of the stores outside the downtown area did not have as many people as they had hoped.

"However," said Davidson, "these merchants were not displeased. They were satisfied that the plan is a good one and I have heard a number say they want to enlarge the event on its second go-round."

Club Readies For Carnival

Booths are beginning to go up for the annual Fun-A-Rama event sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club here next week.

In addition to a variety of rides such as the merry-go-round, ferris wheel, rocket, tilt-a-whirl, and others, local organizations will operate two dozen booths.

All net proceeds realized by the Lions go into their charity and welfare fund, and those of other clubs go into special projects. Location of the affair again is on the north end of the College Park Shopping Center parking area.

It was indicated that, in order to swing the deal, at least one-half of the more than 1.6 million farm bureau families in the country would have to contribute $400 million over a five-year period.

Douglas R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the Ohio Federation, told the Associated Press there is no intent, if the deal goes through, to raise retail food prices.

"We feel," he said, "that farmers' income could be increased through efficiencies of production and marketing which would come from the operation."

Directors of the Ohio Federation have authorized work toward organizing the various state farm bureaus—all of which are autonomous—to raise funds for the purchase program.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is understood to be making a study of the proposal, which is expected to come before its annual convention in Philadelphia in December.

DAILY DRILLING

HOWARD
Lorito Oil & Gas Co., No. 1-D Bronson is drilling ahead of 7,200 feet in line and shale. Location is 600 feet from the south and east lines of section 15-27, H&TC survey, seven miles west of Vernal in the East Vernalmor (Penn. Reel) field.

DAWSON
Midwest Oil Corp. No. 1 Alma Brown, 600 feet from the south and west lines of section 2-35, T&P survey, at a total depth of 8,200 feet, is preparing to drill ahead. In a core test operator recovered 32 feet of sand with sandy shale and top to good fluorescence and stain. There was a very slight leaving of oil in six feet of gray shaly sand with fractures badly broken, and three feet of gray shaly sand with scattered fluorescence showing.

HUMBLE
Humble No. 1 Ira Robinson, nine miles southeast of Lamesa, 460 feet from the south and 1,800 feet from the west lines of section 11-36-4e, T&P survey, was drilling below 4,215 ft.

GARZA

Texas No. 31-B Sterling, 407 feet from the north and 1,800 feet from the west lines of section 3-31-4e, T&P survey, with a total depth of 7,000 feet was shut in because of high water. Operator had formerly fraced and perforated at 7,467 feet with an unreported amount of acid after the showing was too slight.

Miami (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today a disturbance crossing Cuba is developing into tropical storm strength.

The storm was named Hilda. At 11 a.m., Hilda's location was near latitude 21.8 north, longitude 84.5 west or over Cuba's western tip.

The storm was moving west at 12 miles per hour and packing top winds of 40 m.p.h. in squalls just north of its center.

Forecasters predicted Hilda would grow slowly stronger today and tonight while moving west-northwest at the same rate of speed.

Small craft were cautioned to stay in safe harbor around western Cuba and the northern portion of Yucatan, a Mexican province in Hilda's path.

By counties, the August sales (cumulative total in parentheses) and per cent of quota showed:

Andrews $2,088 ($16,959) 33.9;
Dawson $4,185 ($64,738) 71.9;
Gaines $5,745 ($49,197) 44.7;
Howard $49,238 ($328,969) 50.6;
Martin $753 ($17,986) 40.0;
Mitchell $3,363 ($91,995) $40.0;
Scurry $6,623 ($103,774) 32.4;
total $71,995 ($673,631) 44.9.

Area sales were $770,712 ($7,797,989) 56.9; state sales $10,992,333 ($100,643,333) 67.0.

Rebels Throw In The Towel

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Khanh's office said tonight that rebel mountain tribesmen surrendered Monday only after government forces surrounded them and threatened to wipe them out.

No mention was made of American peacemaking efforts during the uprising of the tribesmen, central highlanders trained and armed by the United States to fight as irregulars against the Communist Viet Cong.

A communique issued by Khanh's office said:

"After eight days of ineffective peaceful approaches to solve the rebellion in the provinces of Darlac and Quang Duc, on Sept. 28 the premier ordered the 2nd Corps to encircle the rebels, call on them to surrender and wipe out these units if they refused to submit to the armed forces of the republic."

The communique said the rebellion now is considered over and "national sovereignty has been actively safeguarded by the armed forces."

Nearly 1,000 marchers from several religious sects and political organizations took to the streets here today in a demonstration that appeared to be more or less in support of the government.

Dickson claimed in his terse issue Monday that if all of Estes' remarks regarding the matter were known, they would support the FBI report that the story was without foundation.

Dickson did not say when, where or under what circumstances Estes made the latest statement which Dickson attributed to him.

Pressed to elaborate or supply attribution for claims in his own statement, Dickson declined comment. Efforts Tuesday to get further elaboration met with silence.

"I myself have not seen the release," said Yarborough. "Fagan Dickson knows more about the repudiation. . . He told me there was a confession. . . but I have not talked to those people Dickson has."

obtain libraries and laboratory facilities.

"These United States," said the senator, "have enjoyed 44 months of continued prosperity—the longest single period of constant well-being in history. This is not an accident—it is the product of a carefully planned program sponsored and achieved by the Democratic party."

He said that he did not agree with the Goldwater suggestion to "saw off the Eastern seaboard and let it float out to sea." "I want to keep all 50 states," he said. He added also he did not wholly agree with a bumper sticker now widely current in Tennessee—"Beat Barry, Keep TVA and Sell Arizona." "I want to beat Barry, keep the TVA and keep Arizona, too," said Yarborough.

He said that 11 pounds of each 100 pounds of beef sold is now imported from foreign lands, adding that he has fought steadily for stronger control of meat imports. Commenting on his Republican opponent's program of abolishing subsidies to farmers, Yarborough pointed out that one dollar out of each $3 that the farmers of Texas received last year was in federal agricultural grants. He charges his opponent wants to substitute the corporation type farm in Texas, such as now prevail in California, for the family type of farming which is the rule in this state. "We must keep the family type of farm," he said.

He attacked his senatorial opponent (George Bush) as a "native of Connecticut sent here by the big foreign oil corporations to try and eliminate resistance to oil imports." "He accused his opponent of being from 'a state not as big as Brewster County,'" and suggested that the Republican be shown a map of Connecticut superimposed over a map of Brewster County. "To impress on him how limited and provincial his views are."

Senator and Mrs. Yarborough arrived about half an hour late for the Big Spring appointment, flying in from San Angelo. They left at 11 a.m. for a trek to the west. Tonight, they will be in Abilene for a big dinner in the Senator's honor. Tomorrow, he said, he will be back in Washington for important matters which require his attention.

Frank Hardesty, Democratic County chairman, Rep. Ed Carpenter, state legislator, and a number of leading Democrats met the senator and his wife at the airport and escorted them to town.

The newspaper said one agent was demoted at a loss of $1,000 in annual pay and the other, stationed in New Orleans, was ordered transferred but refused the transfer and retired.

Oswald, accused as the assassin of President Kennedy Nov. 22 in Dallas, once lived in New Orleans where he was active in a "Fair Play for Cuba" organization.

The New Orleans agent had been assigned the Oswald case while Oswald was in New Orleans. He now works as a private investigator in the Louisiana city.

The Dallas man was on the second level of command in the Dallas FBI office behind the special agent in charge and the assistant special agent.

The Dallas agent supervised the section under whose jurisdiction Oswald, as a returned defector to Russia, fell. He now investigates routine out-of-office matters.

The actions against the agents, both veterans of more than 20 years of government service, came in late spring, the Times Herald said. The FBI made no announcement concerning them.

Both men were considered experts on subversives.

J. Gordon Shanklin, in charge of the Dallas FBI office, was out of the city today and his representative said the FBI would have no comment.

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission — twice set back by adverse weather and once by technical difficulties — hoped to trigger a nuclear test blast 2,700 feet deep in the Tatum salt dome near here Wednesday.

The AEC and Defense Department project is part of a series of underground nuclear detection studies. The shot will be fired from a suspended mechanism in a circular cavern.

BIG OPERATION TO GET SMALL CAR BACK ON ROAD

A 1965 Renault convertible rolled off the north side of Scenic Mountain about 9:30 Monday night, and two wreckers and some 200 feet of cable were put into use to get the car off the side of the mountain. The operation required an hour.

No one was injured in the mishap. The owner of the car, Pat Nixon, Coahoma, was not in the car at the time it rolled over the edge, southeast of the National Guard Armory.

After the car stopped just off the edge, Nixon attempted to start it and get it back onto the road, but was unable to do so, according to sheriff's officers. The car then began rolling and went about halfway down the side of the mountain.

Wrecker crews called to the scene anchored the car to keep it from going further, set it on its wheels and then snaked it to the top, according to D. M. Stroup, of Independent Wrecking Co. Stroup said the car received little damage, other than one of the bows in the top being broken when it rolled over.

Strike Hinging On Local Demands

DETROIT (AP) — Hopes for an early settlement of a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers union against General Motors hinged today on resolving some 17,000 local at-the-plant demands.

With some progress reported at the bargaining table, negotiators for both sides indicated that settlement of the local problems was equally as important to ending the walkout as an agreement on a national contract.

The UAW struck the world's No. 1 automaker Friday when no settlement was forthcoming on the union's non-economic demands covering working conditions, union representation, production quotas and similar issues.

Production of GM's shiny new 1965 models has been halted by the walkout of about a quarter-million workers.

UAW members stayed on the job at the company's plants which supply parts and accessories to its chief competitors — Ford and Chrysler.

The union already has secured new national contracts from both Ford and Chrysler calling for higher pensions as an early retirement incentive, longer vacations, extra holidays and other improvements.

A similar economic package has been offered by GM, but the UAW insisted it wanted non-economic improvements as well.

UAW President Walter Reuther and GM Vice President Louis Seaton, who heads the company's bargaining team, told separate news conferences that progress was made in negotiation sessions Monday.

"We did resolve a couple of things...and made some progress," said Seaton. But he said that they "were not earthshaking."

Reuther said he had found the atmosphere at the bargaining table encouraging.

Ohio Farm Bureau Urges Purchase Of Food Stores

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, an affiliate of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is pushing a plan to have members of the big farm organization purchase a nationwide chain of food stores.

The chain mentioned in this connection is the Great Atlantic Pacific Tea Co. stores—A&P.

The purpose would be to strengthen farmers' bargaining power in the sale of their products. Acquisition of a chain would be in line with developments in farm marketing—that is, an increase in direct purchases of food from producer groups rather than from wholesale organizations.

Directors of the Ohio Federation have authorized work toward organizing the various state farm bureaus—all of which are autonomous—to raise funds for the purchase program.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is understood to be making a study of the proposal, which is expected to come before its annual convention in Philadelphia in December.

It was indicated that, in order to swing the deal, at least one-half of the more than 1.6 million farm bureau families in the country would have to contribute $400 million over a five-year period.

Douglas R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the Ohio Federation, told the Associated Press there is no intent, if the deal goes through, to raise retail food prices.

"We feel," he said, "that farmers' income could be increased through efficiencies of production and marketing which would come from the operation."

Dear Abby

A Girl's Story—

DEAR ABBY: What would you think about a girl who told you she was sorry she couldn't go to a certain dance with you because she didn't have anything to wear, and then she showed up at the dance with another guy?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If she showed up without a dress, I'd believe her.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. He has good character and has worked after school and on weekends ever since he was 16. He bought himself a car and pays the upkeep and insurance himself. He also buys his own clothes. His father and I have just started our own business and I work every day so we won't have to hire a cashier. I also like to keep my home nice, so I do all my heavy housework on the weekends in addition to the regular washing and ironing.

When I tell my son to scrub the bathroom and kitchen floors and to wash the windows and woodwork, he gets real ugly and says that's MY job, not HIS. We have had some very hot battles over this. Am I wrong to demand that a healthy 18-year-old son help me?

TIRED MOTHER

DEAR TIRED: Your son sounds like a good boy who would probably give you a hand with the heavy work if you asked him—not told him. Teenagers become hostile and negative when commands are fired at them. If you were to make him feel like a man whose help you needed rather than a little boy who had better take orders from his mother, or else, he'd probably sail right through the chores without a gripe.

DEAR ABBY: My wife reads your column every day and I read it when she makes me. We have been having an argument about something I hope you can settle for us. How should a woman wear her wedding rings? My wife puts on her diamond engagement ring first, and her wedding band right next to it. I say she is wearing them backwards—that her diamond goes on her finger AFTER her wedding band. I have even pointed out that I see 99 out of 100 women wearing their rings that way. But my wife says THEY are wearing theirs backwards, and she knows she is right because a woman gets her diamond first and it should be put on first, before the wedding ring. Please put your reply in the paper.

BIG JOHN

DEAR JOHN: Even though the diamond is usually presented to the girl first, the wedding ring should be placed on the finger first. Diamonds may be a girl's best friend—but that simple little round ring is placed nearer the heart.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local Artists Share In Honors

One local and several artists shared in top honors at the West Texas Art Association show Saturday at Sweetwater.

Lynn Patton, Big Spring, was among those whose works were selected for a blue ribbon award. It will be included in touring exhibits for West Texas and then will go to Austin for exhibition next June.

Other blue ribbon winners included paintings by Louise Culver, Midland, George Wornack, Colorado City, Peggy Supowitz, Sweetwater. Those earning red ribbons (paintings to be included in the West Texas touring exhibit only) were Mrs. Frank Hartley, Big Spring, Mrs. Sam Shaw, Sweetwater, Sandra Light Sweetwater, and Dan Duncan, Big Spring.

Carl Richards, TCU art department head, was the judge. In the business session, Sherwood Suter, associated professor of art at McMurry College was named president. Mrs. Shaw, Sweetwater and Mrs. Alma Bell, Snyder, were among the directors elected.

Crews Patching Damaged Streets

Four city street crews began this morning patching holes and breaks in city streets caused by the recent rains, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said today. Lillard said the holes would be coated with liquid asphalt and then filled with a blended asphalt mixture.

Ruby Doesn't Comprehend It

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby learned about the Warren Commission's report Sunday from his sister, Mrs. Eva Grant. But she said he "just didn't comprehend it." Mrs. Grant said her brother is "inhibited with hallucinations about the Jews being persecuted... The things I say to him don't register." The commission reported it had found no evidence that Ruby knew Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused presidential assassin whom Ruby shot down Nov. 24 in the basement of the City Hall. A jury convicted Ruby of Oswald's death and sentenced him to death.

Hundreds See Alabama Berthed

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Hundreds of motorists apparently agreed that the gallant old lady was a sight to see. Mobile police said automobiles were backed up in long lines in both directions on the Mobile Bay Causeway as Sunday drivers came out for a look at the battleship Alabama berthed in her permanent slip at a park being prepared beside the causeway. The 35,000-ton vessel is being enshrined as a memorial to the state's war dead.

Optimistic About Grains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is optimistic about future gains in exports of feed grains, which set a new record in the 1963-64 marketing year. "No let-up is seen," the department said today, "in the drive to expand livestock numbers to narrow the gap in western Europe between a rising demand for meat producers and locally inadequate supplies."

Large Group Gives Agent Its Support

Howard County Commissioners Court has now heard both the proponents and the opponents of the activities of Herb Helbig, Howard County farm agent.

Monday night, a crowded county court room of Helbig supporters gathered to sound his praises and protest the statements of 20 other farmers and ranchers, three weeks ago, who asked that the agent be removed.

The entire County Commissioners Court with Judge Lee Porter heard the Helbig advocates.

Jack Alexander was spokesman for the group at the county court room.

A highlight of the presentation made in Helbig's behalf was report of a survey taken of 96 rural families who were polled on whether they wanted Helbig.

POLL REPORT

Mrs. M. D. Soechting made the poll and reported these findings:

Of the 96 families polled, 88 voiced an opinion on the issue. She said that 72 of the families, or 81.3 per cent, were for Helbig and 120 boys and girls in these families (82.1 per cent) who are in the 4-H Club program wanted the county agent to continue in his work. Sixteen families, or 18.2 per cent, said they were opposed to Helbig and 26 boys and girls in the 4-H Club (17.9 per cent) were in favor of his removal. Eight families contacted declined to comment.

Fireplace And Chimney Can Produce Fire Hazards

A traditional brick fireplace with a chimney can be a danger spot for home fires, Fire Marshall A. D. Meador warned today in discussing plans for Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10.

Firemen will be available for inspections of residences or businesses during Fire Prevention Week, Meador said, and the inspections for possible fire hazards can be arranged by calling the fire department.

In discussing fire hazards, Meador stressed chimneys as a potential danger spot for home fires.

"Chimneys should be inspected annually and all debris, loose mortar and soot removed through the cleanout door," Meador emphasized. "This inspection should cover looking for cracks and loose mortar, especially where the chimney passes through attics or other concealed spaces."

A chimney should be a completely tight enclosure all the way from the fireplace or furnace to the top outlet, he said.

A particular fire danger is unsealed openings in chimneys blocked shut. This is often done where a stove was formerly connected to a chimney, with a light metal plate being clipped into the opening.

"These plates do not fit securely and thus we have a potential source of allowing heat ### to flame to enter the room," Meador pointed out.

Masonry chimneys are required where solid fuels are burned, but they are also preferable when oil is burned. Oil combustion leaves a greasy deposit as it cools and may sometimes catch on fire.

Meador will visit Washington Place and Goliad Junior High Schools this week for fire prevention talks.

Ran Over A Lot Of Loot

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—An unidentified woman ran over a battered suitcase lying on the highway Sunday night and it clung to the bottom of her car.

She drove into a service station and asked the attendant to remove it. He did and she left without looking to see what was inside.

The attendant, Robert Trombridge, didn't look either until he heard Monday night that he had found a suitcase.

The suitcase contained an estimated $2,025 in jewelry.

Mother Testifies Of Child's Death

FORT WORTH (AP)—"I figure I got what I had coming," Doris Bowman, 25, testified Monday at the murder trial of her ex-boy friend, Clifford Carroll, 22.

Mrs. Bowman has been convicted and is serving a 50-year prison term for the torture slaying of her 34-month-old daughter Paula last March 3. The state rested after she left the stand.

Prosecutors seek the death penalty for Carroll, a former mental patient, in the death of the child. Defense lawyers contend he is insane.

Mrs. Bowman spoke of her conviction while under cross-examination. She was asked if she wanted a similar penalty for Carroll.

"I don't care what he gets as long as he gets what he deserves," she replied.

Earlier she told of forcing the little girl to walk in circles and sit neck deep in a tub of cold water. Then, the mother testified, she poured scalding water on the child while Carroll held the tot.

Mrs. Bowman said all this was done at Carroll's order and he held the child while she poured the water. She was afraid of Carroll, she said, because he once struck her arm in three places, inflicting bruises.

After she poured six to 10 pots of scalding water on her daughter, Mrs. Bowman testified, "she just—Paula—she just went out. When he turned her loose, she fell into the tub."

The mother told of watching Carroll whip the little girl "most about every day" for a week before her death.

New Fetish Sweeps Africa

Tunis (AP)—A new fetish is conquering Africa, gradually replacing the sound of drums, the voice of village elders and fires lit on the crests of hills.

The transistor radio is sweeping the continent, penetrating into walled Arab villages of the north and the swamps of the rain forest in Africa's heart.

The "box that talks" knows no frontiers. It is carried by camel drivers in the sun-scorched Tunisian south, by oarsmen of the svelte pirogue boats on the Niger River, by houseboys of European settlers in the Ivory Coast.

Since 1948, the number of radio transmitters in Africa has grown from 120 to 370, and the number of individual sets from 930,000 to 5.5 million.

According to United Nations statistics, the circulation of daily newspapers has increased 50 per cent to a total of three million.

Two per cent of Africa's 260 million people own radio sets—the price often represents 5 per cent of their annual income. Perhaps 10 times as many people profit from the sets.

The radio has become an influential propaganda tool in the hands of Africa's power-minded statesmen and foreign countries struggling for influence in the awakening continent.

Voices speaking in all major languages and most widespread tribal dialects pour from the ether day and night. Conflicting ideas and information spin the heads of the people in the savannas of Cameroon, in the sands of Mauritania.

The Voice of America, using some of the world's most powerful transmitters, beams seven languages, including Amharic and Swahili.

The Soviet Union has 17 hours of Africa-oriented broadcasts daily, while other East-bloc countries broadcast one to three hours.

Communist China, struggling for influence in Africa, broadcasts 10 hours a day in English.

France maintains a powerful transmitter in Brazzaville, on the banks of the Congo River, where a team of 60 French broadcasters and technicians spread France's propaganda in the former French colonies, the former Belgian Congo next door and Portuguese Angola.

Red Chinese Order Ships

TOKYO (AP)— Communist China announced today it will order ocean-going cargo ships from France under a new commercial agreement.

The New China News Agency said the agreement was signed Monday by the Peking government's China National Machinery Import and Export Corporation and two French companies.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The United States has promised "vigorous efforts" to protect U.N. diplomats on New York streets, but it questioned charges that a recent attack on an African diplomat was provoked by his color.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson sent Secretary-General U. Thant a letter Monday answering a charge by the U.N.'s Asian-African group that Youssouf Gueye, first secretary of the Mauritanian delegation, had been assaulted for racial reasons.

Stevenson said the youths who attacked Gueye told police they thought he was a member of a rival gang.

Stevenson expressed regret that such attacks have occurred in New York, but said they "do not reflect in any sense the attitudes and actions of the vast majority of citizens of New York, or of federal, state and city governmental authorities."

HAVANA (AP)— Fidel Castro says the Cuban government, which owes an estimated $2.5 billion, "will make any sacrifice before failing to pay a single cent."

"If we ask the people if they prefer a hard year and pay our debts, or fail to pay, we know the people prefer to pay," he told a crowd in Havana's Revolutionary Square Monday night.

Castro blamed the sharp drop in world sugar prices for the lack of foreign exchange which has forced Cuba to curtail imports.

OSLO, Norway (AP)— Partial returns from elections held in 39 of Norway's 466 municipalities show the government Labor party running nearly 4 per cent below its showing last year.

In 21 municipalities, the Labor party received 35.2 per cent of the vote compared to 39 per cent in nationwide municipal elections last year. The party also lost the mayoralty race in Stavanger, Norway's fourth largest city with 80,000 inhabitants.

Norway's four non-socialist parties—the Conservatives, Christian Democrats, Agrarians and Liberals—all showed slight gains.

Bush said he favored a re-orientation of the basic tax structure which would keep the money closer to the people or which would permit rebates to the states.

Berry, a Houston trucker, described a conservative as a man who drives down the road on the right side; a moderate as one who drives in the middle of the road, and a liberal as one who drives 80 miles per hour down the road with a can of beer in his hand.

"This is what's being offered in the election," he added.

HOUSTON (AP)— Three Republican office seekers praised Barry Goldwater and poked fun at their Democratic opponents at a rally Monday night.

The candidates—George Bush, for U.S. senator; Des Barry, for congressman from the 22nd District, and Bill Hayes, for congressman-at-large position—spoke at a junior high school.

Bush said Sen. Ralph Yarborough, the Democrat he seeks to unseat, has endorsed a new federal program which calls for purifying the porpoises of ships bringing gibbons and apes from Africa for the space program.

He said the program was called "medical air for the caged."

Cohen Must Be In Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Convicted tax evader Mickey Cohen, partially paralyzed and with limited memory, must be brought to Los Angeles in February for trial on two civil suits filed by the federal government.

Each suit is for $374,476 and alleges the money is due on income tax owed between 1945 and 1950. Interest is piling up at the rate of $36.88 per day, the government said.

U.S. Dist. Judge Gus Solomon ruled Monday that Cohen must be returned to Los Angeles 10 days before his Feb. 16 trial date.

Bring out the beauty in your home...

with modern light for living...

The lighting in your home can do much more than merely dispel darkness. Good light in the living room, for example, can add an atmosphere of charm and cheer. It can bring out the beauty of your furnishings. It can make the room a hospitable background for entertaining . . . and an inviting center for your family's leisure hours.

To enjoy both beauty and eye comfort in the living room, you need three kinds of light: (1) general lighting for overall room illumination; (2) local lighting at chairs and sofas for close visual tasks; (3) accent lighting for decorative purposes. Your lighting dealer will gladly help you choose the lamps and fixtures you need for modern Light for Living. Or call our office and we'll send a lighting specialist to help you with suggestions.

For close visual tasks, like reading or sewing, portable lamps should be a part of each furniture grouping. The average living room needs from three to five portable lamps.

Overall lighting adds glamour and spaciousness to rooms. A lighted valance like this provides indirect light on the ceiling plus dramatic downlight on drapes and wall.

Accent lighting with recessed or exposed downlights brings out focal points of beauty. Lighted wall brackets may be used for the same purpose.

A Devotional For The Day

"For you who fear my name the sun of righteousness shall rise, with healing in its wings. You shall go forth leaping like calves from the stall." (Malachi 4:2. RSV)
PRAYER: O Lord fill our hearts with love like Christ's. So may we be thankful for Thy blessings and be instruments of loving service to Thee and our fellowmen. In Jesus' name. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Something's Gotta Give

Sometime, somehow, something simply must give in the population pressures that are building up explosively in Latin America. There is no pleasant or pat solution to the problem, which involves man's basic beliefs about himself and his universe, but it must be faced with objectivity and logic if catastrophe is to be avoided.

Speaking in Houston in a series of Texas talks, Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, recently stated that if present trends continue that the 200 million population of Latin America will double in 20 years. He used the statistic to stress that "even those countries which are doing their level best to help themselves" will not be able to meet their development needs. A more serious question is whether they can meet their development needs, under a continuation of current population trends, even if the United States extends the maximum aid that is politically and economically feasible. Even now population growth in most Latin American countries is outrunning both the efforts of national self-help and U. S. aid to improve living conditions.

The United States, beneficent and economically strong as it is, cannot underwrite an unlimited population explosion in Latin America. And it seems increasingly improbable that natural adjustments will compensate the region's birth rate to modern science's phenomenal reduction in the death rate. If there is any sensible alternative to national population control efforts in Latin American governmental policy, it has not yet become apparent.

Importance Of Women's Vote

Is there a "women's vote?" Not, political science studies generally agree, in the sense of any massive bloc vote swinging on special women's interests. But the women's vote—in the sense that it is more than half the electorate and nearly half the typical turnout—is something no party or politician can safely slight.

It has been estimated that in the 1960 presidential election men cast 34.7 million votes and women 33.6 million, though there are more women of eligible voting age. It has also been noted that the late President Kennedy won by a national popular vote plurality equivalent to less than one vote per precinct. A stronger turnout of the women's vote will have strengthened Kennedy's total, rather than altered that national election outcome—but who knows?

More important from the nonpartisan viewpoint is that improved political responsibility by women would help raise Texas' lamentable poor rank in voter participation. In the 1960 presidential election turnout, Texas ranked 44th among the states, with only 41.8 per cent of the electorate voting as against the national average of 63.8 per cent in which other states ranged from Mississippi's 25.3 per cent to Idaho's 80.7 per cent.

It would be rash to attempt to predict the divisions and alignments of the "women's vote" in Texas in the coming election. But, as more than half the electorate, it will certainly be decisive—a fact that every woman should thoughtfully consider in weighing her political responsibilities. Which is just another way of saying that voter participation is indispensable to a working democracy.

Marquis Childs Discounting The Assassination Myths

WASHINGTON — The Warren report on President Kennedy's assassination is a monument to patient sifting and analysis of fact, rumor, suspicion and wild conjecture.

It will not answer those at home and abroad who must have a conspiracy. On the extreme left, Lee Harvey Oswald is seen as the pawn of the Fascist-minded right wing. On the right, nothing will do but a Communist plot cooked up in Moscow or Havana.

HONEST DOUBTERS unable to believe a lone assassin could carry out such a monstrous deed should be convinced by the thorough examination and refutation with fact of the mass of rumor and conjecture. In the very nature of the case, with Oswald negative.

Ten months have passed since the assassination. No one has come forward with any solid evidence that others participated with Oswald in the crime. Members of the commission and the staff heard hundreds of witnesses—everyone who could conceivably offer any crumb of information—and they found nothing to support the plot theory.

NOR HAS anyone come forward in public to claim possession of facts which the commission ignored. Even a hasty review of the report shows how painstaking was the examination of those who wanted to exonerate Oswald or prove him merely a tool of conspirators.

Restrained though the report is, it brings out the shocking laxity with which the President's Texas visit was planned. The Secret Service was operating in the casual manner of an other day. The presence in Dallas of Oswald, a former defector and a known Communist-eccentric, was never checked. Nor was any attention given to who might occupy windows along the parade route, as Oswald was able to do because of his employment by the Texas Schoolbook Depository.

DEEPLY DISTURBING, too, is the failure of government agencies — the Secret Service and the FBI—to coordinate their joint responsibility for the President's safety. The Dallas police also came in for the same restrained criticism. Their incredible bungling, on the order of the Mack Sennett cope, gave Jack Ruby the opportunity to kill Oswald, thereby compounding the tragedy and creating an area of doubt and dark suspicion. But the commission puts a sizable share of the blame on the news media men at the scene who by their insistent demands and their unceasing clamor made the work of an overwhelmed police force all the more difficult.

THE COMMISSION proposes a series of recommendations for strengthening the safeguards around a President. One is to make the assassination of a chief executive a federal crime. This would permit the FBI and the Secret Service to take direct part in detection of the crime and preparing the evidence. Even more important are the proposals to modernize the Secret Service.

Each assassination, as the report notes, has brought a harvest of myths. Lloyd Lewis book, "Myths After Lincoln," shows how wild the rumor crop grew when Lincoln was shot by John Wilkes Booth. The commission report is a solid achievement set against the winds of rumor and calumny.

Billy Graham

I am eleven years old and I resent the fact that my mother punishes me with a switch when I do something wrong. My teacher at school says this is wrong and illegal. What do you think?—E. R.

A disciplinary experience is as hard or harder on the parent than it is on the child. It would be much easier for your mother to skip the switch bit and let you have your own way. But she loves you enough to hazard your emotions and hers that she might make you a better boy. When my father used to say (before a spanking), "This hurts me worse than you," I thought he must be kidding. But now that I have children of my own, I know what he meant. Actually, emotionally, a parent who loves his child suffers more in a disciplinary experience than the child.

A good way to offset the resentment you feel because of these "switchings," is to remember the times your mother has bragged about you, picked you up, after you, prepared a good meal for you, gone out of her way to take you to a ball game or some other place of amusement, and been a valuable friend and confidante. Since mother is an expert cook, chauffeur, counselor, char-woman, laundress, maid, and hostess, you shouldn't feel too badly if now and then she has to play "policewoman." Just be thankful that she cares enough about you to discipline you when you need it.

CHECKS AND UNBALANCES

James Marlow Meaningless Precautions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has just shown the huge gap in the very best precautions for guarding a president's life unless the chief executive decides to live and operate in seclusion.

The Warren Commission over the weekend, in its report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination, made a number of recommendations to give a president better protection from killers in the future.

Then Monday, Johnson, guarded by Secret Service men,

Hal Boyle ...And That's A Bunch

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: America has more than 20 million teen-agers. So it's no wonder you have trouble getting anyone else on the phone.

Women are getting richer all the time. Last year widows collected about $2.5 billion in life insurance payments, children about $1.5 billion.

EVER wonder why "a baker's dozen" is 13 instead of 12? The man responsible was King Henry VIII who decrees that a baker's dozen of rolls should weigh a fixed amount on penalty of beheading. The bakers decided to throw in an extra roll to be safe.

Chimpanzees do not have a language in the sense that people do, but they do have a wide range of vocal sounds which other chimpanzees seem to understand. This puts them at roughly the same conversational level as a normal human husband and wife at breakfast time.

WHEN THE first railway on the European Continent was proposed in 1825, a Belgian legislator opposed it on grounds that the vibrations of its wheels would shake all milk into butter. "And the eggs, they'll all be omelets!"

The average cab ride is 90 cents in New York City, $1.30 in Philadelphia, $1.20 in Chicago, $1.40 in Denver, and $1.70 in Los Angeles.

The late Eleanor Roosevelt received 34 honorary academic degrees during her lifetime, believed the largest number ever conferred on a woman.

Here is the most fascinating business prediction which has come to our attention all year: "The Spanish domination of the British island market is expected to continue."

FIREFLIES are different from people. For example: a male firefly is attracted to a female firefly only when she is all lit up. If she turns off her lights, he loses interest in her.

Folklore: Look for a cold winter if apple skins are thicker than usual. Anything you dream of before dawn on Monday will come true by Saturday night. If your right ear burns, it is a sign someone is saying nice things about you; but a burning left ear means the talk about you is all bad.

Horse register: To tell a thoroughbred, you simply flip the lip. More than 110,000 thoroughbred racers have been permanently and unmistakably identified by a system of lip tattooing.

Quickies: Alaska has no snakes or poisonous plants. Detergent suds are now used to smother fires in coal mine.

JOHNSON took big ones.

All through New England — Rhode Island, Connecticut, Vermont, Maine — he moved through surging, shouting throngs of hundreds of thousands, with people injured in the crush along the streets.

As Johnson rolled along in cars and caravans, talking as he went, one woman had to be carried away in an ambulance and a Secret Service agent guarding the President had his coat ripped and was forced to tie his trousers with tape.

But, as the commission has acknowledged, a president "cannot and will not take the precautions of a dictator or a sovereign."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, in testimony before the commission on this problem, had said:

"THE DEGREE of security that can be afforded the president of the United States is dependent to a considerable extent upon the degree of contact with the general public desired by the president.

"Absolute security is neither practical nor possible. An approach to complete security would require the president to operate in a sort of vacuum, isolated from the general public and behind impenetrable barriers. His travel would be in secret; his public appearances would be behind bullet-proof glass."

No government agency, no matter how good or big, could possibly protect a president against every nut who might get loose in crowds of hundreds of thousands.

Around The Rim One Way To Fill A Column

It's a funny thing—for 32 years I wrote an article, such as the ones appearing in this space, each day, six days a week. I never even took off time for vacations for 25 of those 32 years. I would sit down, ahead of my vacation, and batter out enough daily columns to serve for the two weeks period I would be gone.

THERE WERE days when the preparation of the column was difficult. However, I never failed to make the deadline. Usually I would find myself with about 30 minutes to go before the copy had to be in and with no idea at all when I rolled a sheet of paper in the typewriter.

Then, somehow, an idea would develop and off we'd go.

The columns averaged about 1,000 words. I wrote about any and everything. The point now, however, is not the subject matter nor the length of the article.

THE BIG issue is that somehow for those 32 years I managed to write a column a day without faltering.

Now I am faced with the production of one article a week. I know from one Tuesday to the next that I must prepare a suitable dissertation for my allotted day.

Last Saturday night I determined I would deal with the problem for once and all. I sternly sat myself to the task. I rolled paper in the typewriter, pecked out the essential guide line. Then I sat and stared into space. I rubbed my hands. I took a deep breath. I looked at the typewriter and the snowy white paper with loathing.

I PULLED a desk drawer open. It was filled to the brim with miscellaneous material. However, none of the material offered any inspiration. I slammed it shut.

I looked at the desk calendar. As is often my habit, I had neglected to turn the pages to the current date. I seized on this interruption with delight and painstakingly brought the calendar up to date.

I turned back to the typewriter.

SUFFICE IT to say, this morning when I came back to work, the typewriter sat where I had left it. Rolled into the platen was that selfsame sheet of paper.

I had an alibi at that hour for not writing the column. I had to do my regular chores—check out the court-house, look into this and that type out the reports.

Then came the lunch hour. I had nothing to do. That deadline for Tuesday's Rim was staring me in the eye with a steady glare. The phone rang. I had to go to lunch early. The column was still unwritten.

BACK AT THE office at 1 p.m. I hadn't the courage to look at the editor. I merely ducked my head between my shoulders and crouched over my typewriter.

The column simply had to be written. It was already past deadline time. In a very little while one of the printers would saunter out into the city room and inquire in that satirical tone that printers sometimes use "what should be put in the Rim space on Tuesday's editorial page."

Well, that does it. I simply got to get that column written!

Richard Starnes Viet Nam—We Can't Quit

WASHINGTON—It used to be good liberal fun to jibe at bereft, post-Pearl Harbor isolationists by intoning the sorrowful lament: "What was Pearl Harbor doing there in the first place?"

There is a similar refrain that is heard more and more as the American people become dimly aware that the best they can do in South Viet Nam is not good enough and that, in the words of the late, spade-calling Vinegar Joe Stilwell, we are taking a hell of a licking.

"WHY'NT WE LET the Commies have the cruddy little country?" is the inelegant, if apt, way the question is customarily put.

So let's go home? The prickly truth is that we can't. If we'd never gone into South Viet Nam, it probably would not have made much difference to the balance of freedom in the world. But we did go in. We pledged that South Viet Nam would remain outside the Communist orbit. We have fought with every weapon from platitudes to napalm. We have committed our prestige. We have said to hungry, despairing people from Mandalay to Rio that American arms, American ideals, American technology could stem the Red tide, could bring prosperity, could achieve social justice.

WE HAVE FAILED where the consequence of failure is the certain prospect that more such wars of counter-insurgency must be fought.

So it is not so simple as cutting our losses and getting out. If we do that, Peking's cry of "paper tiger" will stick, and forever afterward people all over the world who yearn for freedom will spurn our help and be fearful of our friendship. We have already seen an example of this in the gyrations of Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia, who is not Communist and whose country desperately needs our foreign aid.

THE AIR STRIKES that followed the Gulf of Tonkin incident were a clear warning to Hanoi and offer a useful clue as to what the near post-election future may hold.

Our little war for South Viet Nam is lost beyond salvation. It is at least a good guess that we now plan to fight a somewhat larger one — with weapons and ground troops of our own choosing—the perils can be won.

PHOENIX — Arizona now claims both Miss America of 1964 and the Republican national nominee, but it takes these honors in stride—and this touch of complacency may begin to explain why the polls give President Johnson a chance to win the state.

OUT HERE it's taken for granted that "everybody" loves Barry Goldwater. It's also assumed that Mr. Conservative is a race horse that never really starts running till he sees the whites of the judges' eyes. He came from far behind during the last few weeks to whip Ernest MacFarland in '58. Barry was away down the track when he turned on the foot to pass Nelson Rockefeller in the crucial California primary. The polls which now rate the Senator as eating the President's dust do not alarm Arizona Republicans, except in one particular. They know that if the skies fall on the conservative movement, and if Lyndon Johnson should sweep the nation, they and their man, their state ticket and—many believe—their country will suffer the doomsday fate.

BUT WHEN it is asked why this original Goldwater country isn't palpitating with presidential fever, the answer comes: "What for?" These people nearly died for Barry when he campaigned badly and was badly beaten in New Hampshire. They've read discouraging polls before, and read newspaper disparagement, only to see the little-regarded Arizona Mafia make a shambles of the Goldwater opposition at San Francisco. Dennis Kitchel, Dean Burch, Richard Kleindienst and Governor Paul Fannin—Arizonans all—died it before, and they'll do it again, the visitor is assured.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

To Your Good Health Most Cases Of Thrombophlebitis Can Be Prevented

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about thrombophlebitis, as to cause (other than surgery or maternity), treatment, duration, and if both legs can be affected at the same time?

Would an acute attack of arthritis with a temperature of 102 have any bearing on the condition?—K. R.

Thrombophlebitis is inflammation of the lining of a vein, an ailment which can be disabling and serious.

The principal causes are sluggish circulation, injury to the vein, and (much less often) complications from some serious disease. I doubt that the arthritis would have had much to do with this attack except that it perhaps restricted activity of the legs.

Varicose veins result in congestion, which is one of the common causes of thrombophlebitis—and one reason why I encourage their removal. And, of course, veins with congested circulation will be much more vulnerable to an injury.

Nine out of 10 cases of thrombophlebitis can be prevented if proper steps are taken. A good many of them now ARE being prevented. With both surgery and maternity cases, early ambulation has done a great deal of good. Get the patient up and moving as soon as possible, instead of keeping him or her lying in bed while the circulation becomes more and more stagnant.

If a patient is confined to bed, leg motion is still to be encouraged. Feet may be elevated, and sometimes the legs are wrapped with elastic bandages, especially if varicose veins are present. For people on their feet, round garters or other constriction above the knees must be avoided.

Duration of thrombophlebitis cannot be predicted exactly. Many cases largely clear up in a month or thereabouts, but invariably some degree of swelling will remain in the legs, especially if the person is on the feet for any length of time. In severe cases, the time may be much longer.

Treatment involves rest, yet still enough movement to encourage circulation; anticoagulants ("blood thinners") to minimize clotting; and anti-inflammatory drugs. Phenylbutazone and certain enzyme products also are effective. (All of these are highly specialized medications and must be closely supervised by your doctor.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Is a person born with cataplexy, or does it develop later in life? What type would be most likely to have it?

Holmes Alexander The Goldwater Homeland

THE POLLS, in measuring Goldwater's home state strength, have reflected some of the uneasiness felt elsewhere in the country. The Senator scares timid people everywhere when he roars out for victory in Cuba and Viet Nam. He disturbs farmers who live by subsidies, and pensioners who look for more welfare. But, for once, a campaign slogan is hitting home at truth. "In their hearts," people know he's right. We must get off our knees against communism, and must start backing away from the federal trough.

THIS SOBER second thinking is something the polls do not reflect. Certainly in Arizona, and perhaps elsewhere, the conservative state tickets will help Goldwater over some of the rough spots in his own performance.

FOUR Commonwealths

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Only four states, Kentucky, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, use the term "commonwealth" on official documents and the like.

The expression dates back to Oliver Cromwell who created the Commonwealth of States or Colonies of Great Britain.

Virginia, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts were commonwealths of Great Britain before the Revolutionary War and incorporated the word into their names when they separated from the mother country.

Kentucky, once a part of Virginia, retained the term "commonwealth" when it became the 15th state in 1792.

Two 40-Foot Trailers On One Car

Securely braced and ready for movement over rail to their destinations, these two trailers are typical of T&P's TOFC (trailer on flatcar) transportation. Economical and dependable, such freight transportation combines flexibility of over-the-highway movement with reliability of all-weather conditions.

Texas & Pacific's TOFC Service Easy

Ever-growing in popularity, Texas and Pacific Railway's TOFC (trailer-on-flatcar) freight service is now rated as an important phase of the railway's operations today.

All along T&P's 1,800-mile mainline, which extends from New Orleans in southern Louisiana to El Paso, TOFC freight service is meeting the challenge for safe, efficient and dependable transportation.

In TOFC operations, loaded highway trailers are moved by rail on flatcars to their destinations, thus providing a coordinated truck-rail service. Movements of this type avoid jammed highways and the growing competition with commuter and tourist traffic.

Texas and Pacific's TOFC freight service is simple in operation. A big-wheeled truck-trailer is transported aboard a specially designed flatcar, securely braced with special hitchers. At destination, a truck-tractor backs up the ramp, connects onto the rail-carried trailer and the load is driven directly to the customer's store door for delivery.

TOFC freight service offers numerous advantages. For one, it combines the flexibility of over-the-highway transportation with the dependability of all-weather rail service. Then, too, there is the advantage of store-door delivery. Loading and unloading of TOFC shipments can be performed by the driver or, if the customer prefers, the trailer can be left for loading or unloading at a more convenient time.

Other advantages to be gained by using Texas and Pacific's TOFC freight service are: lower rates, less physical handling of merchandise, elimination of unnecessary warehousing and faster schedules.

Most piggyback shipments are moved in "hotshot" freight trains. Texas and Pacific Railway, in conjunction with Missouri Pacific Lines, now operates an expedited "piggyback" freight train for shipments from the Chicago area which arrives in Texas the second morning. Also, T&P operates an expedited rail service to the West Coast, available every day of the week.

Customers will also find many more items on display with the additional racks and shelves provided. White's own brand name of "Catalina," is prominent in appliances.

"We now offer quality merchandise, built in the United States by a firm manufacturing top products for several large retail and catalog stores," LeLand Pierce, manager, said. "This means that we can successfully compete with imported goods selling below the brand name merchandise commonly know. Prices on the "Catalina" appliances are well within the range of every one wanting quality products."

Included in the "Catalina" line are: Freezers, both chest and upright; refrigerators; ranges, gas and electric; washing machines; dryers; television sets, portable or console with radio - record - player combinations; radios; record players, stereo and hi-fi; hot water heaters; vacuum cleaners; space heaters, and many others.

The hunting seasons are on and many will want new guns, ammunition, cleaning kits, and camping outfits. "Toyland" is also open where early Christmas shoppers may get a choice of items. They may be put on lay-away, with a small deposit, and picked up in time for Christmas.

In the gun and sporting goods department lookers may find Remington, Winchester, Mossberg, Savage, Stevens, a n d Springfield shotguns and rifles. There are 12, .16, .20, and .410-gauge shotguns in pump, automatic, double-barrel and single shot.

Rifles run in automatic, pump, lever action, bolt action, and single shots in various calibers. There are also shelves filled with ammunition for all kinds of game. There are several brand names displayed on the ammunition boxes.

Walk around to the center-front of the store and you will find the famous "Texas Ranger" bicycles and tricycles. They carry a lifetime warranty on the frames, and come in boys' and girls' bicycles in all frame sizes.

Automobile appliances, including White's tires in Premium, Sportsters, Dual Custom, Service Custom, and others for cars and trucks; batteries, seat covers, electrical items, and lots of chrome accessories, are found in the auto department on the south floor.

New Dodges Continue To Get Better With Years

If you were looking for a new car, in the 1965 models, you probably would head first to the Dodge House down at 101 Gregg, where the new models were on display over the weekend.

It's the Dodge with the five-year, or 50,000-mile, engine and drive train warranty by the Chrysler Corporation. The warranty is good during the five years, or mileage, whichever limit comes first.

See the following new models at Jones Motor Co., 101 Gregg: Dodge Dart, the Dodge-size compact; Dodge Coronet, the hot new Dodge at a lower price; Dodge Monaco, limited edition Dodge; Dodge Polara, leaving the low-price field; Dodge Custom 880, in all different body styles to suit the family.

If you missed the Friday and Saturday show, the new Dodges

Presidential Security Measure To Be Put Off

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen today backed Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's proposal to give legislation on presidential security top priority when Congress reconvenes in January.

presidential safety — set up Monday to consider the broad recommendations of the Warren Commission — plans to get started soon on drafting proposals for congressional action early in the new session. In its report the commission said there were deficiencies in Secret Service preparedness for President John F. Kennedy's visit to Dallas. The commission called for "complete overhaul" of the service's advance detection practices and closer liaison with the FBI and other agencies.

Mansfield said that new security measures should be "one of the first orders of business" when Congress reconvenes.

Mansfield called Sunday for consideration by Congress of new security measures before adjournment.

But he told reporters Monday it is "perhaps too late" to act on any measures at this session and broad legislative action to strengthen governmental agencies should be put off until the White House committee reports.

Several bills to make it a federal crime to kill a president or vice president are pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which meets today.

The committee may act on another bill — introduced by Mansfield and Dirksen — to provide Secret Service protection for the Republican presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, and for the Republican and Democratic vice-presidential candidates, Rep. William E. Miller and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

The legislation, if enacted, would extend such protection to all future candidates for those offices.

The Democratic presidential nominee, President Johnson, has the protection that goes with his office.

The Warren Commission called for a drastic overhaul of the system of guarding the president and said that legislation making the murder of a president or vice president a federal crime is needed to avoid the confusion it said surrounded the entry of various government agencies into the Dallas investigation.

Dirksen said that raised the question whether the legislation ought to be amended to make federal crimes also of assaults with intent to kill a president as well as conspiracies aimed at killing a president.

"Some suggestions have been made that the legislation should be extended to cover the protection of Cabinet members and even members of the Senate and House," he added.

In a separate interview Mansfield said that since the presidential panel will be weighing these questions, "it would be the better part of wisdom" to await its suggestions on "a broad new bill."

The Warren report is selling "phenomenally" according to the Government Printing Office.

The GPO said 25 to 27 further volumes, containing the full testimony and exhibits on which the 886-page report was based, may be ready in six to eight weeks. They will be sold in sets only, at $75 to $100 a set.

President Johnson has named Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon to head a committee of four to work out recommendations for carrying out the Warren Commission proposals.

A Treasury spokesman said Dillon set a Jan. 1 target date for completion of its recommendations. Other members are acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Puzzle of Monday, September 28, Solved

Board Meet Moved Back

The second meeting of the Big Spring School board of trustees, for September, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday instead of Tuesday because of conflicts.

Supt. Sam Anderson said the board will meet in the high school library this time. The new vocational plan for Texas schools, if released by meeting time, will be presented by Joe B. Neely, who is with the vocational education division of the State Department of Education. Neely formerly was Trades and Industries coordinator here and subsequently a district supervisor.

Starting at 8:30 p.m., high school government teachers, Mrs. Herman (Jane) Smith and William F. Martin, will present the school's course of study in government, Anderson said.

Rains Halt Farm Work

AUSTIN (AP) — Welcome rains held outdoor farming activity to a virtual standstill last week and Texas moisture supplies rose to the best level since June 1961, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Precipitation ranged from very light showers in the northern Panhandle to gully washers in the Blacklands and Edwards Plateau, the department said Monday in its weekly crop survey.

"These rains materially boosted fall sown small grain and winter pasture prospects, and may improve yields of late dryland sorghum, but were too late to benefit cotton," the report stated.

Cotton harvest is at the one-third mark, slightly behind last year's pace. Sorghum combining even with the 1963 rate. About 90 per cent of Texas corn is harvested, compared with 93 per cent at this time last year.

Wheat planting passed the one-fourth mark but is considerably behind last year.

Range feed prospects "were greatly enhanced by additional moisture" and condition of livestock is improving, the department said.

Scattered showers in the High Plains scarcely interrupted vegetable harvest, with carrots, green peppers, tomatoes and other crops moving to market.

Rain and cooler temperatures in South Texas benefited peppers, tomatoes and other fall crops.

Standby Team Finally Goes Before Cameras

NEW YORK (AP) — "To Tell the Truth," a Monday night fixture on CBS, Monday night produced a standby team of contestants which has attended every taping of the evening show for the past four years — 207 performances — without ever being called upon for emergency duty.

The team consisted of a monkey-house keeper in a zoo and two well-coached and convincing liars and all were discharged with thanks. Their long service, however, pointed up the fact that this good-humored low-key game program has been quietly perking along for a lot longer than many of the bigger, noisier, more elaborate television shows.

The panel usually consists of two who were with the show almost from the outset, Tom Poston, an engaging and quick-witted young man, and Kitty Carlisle, whose handsome clothes add something extra for women viewers; Peggy Cass, a funny, bright woman with an enormous fund of off-beat information, and Orson Bean, the panel's naughty boy but often a little too cute and windy.

The Miss America pageant on CBS earlier this month turned up at the top of the latest Nielsen list of popular programs. This is an annual phenomenon. The rating service estimated that more than 21 million homes were watching Vonda Van Dyke weep at the happy news. "Beverly Hillsbillies" and "Bonanza" were second and third. Only one new program made the Nielsen honor roll — NBC's "The Rogues," in seventh place.

Lucille Ball has persuaded screen star Jean Arthur, long in retirement, to guest-star in an episode of her comedy show. The series will use more guest stars than usual this season, partly because Vivian Vance has indicated she'd like to take life a little easier.

Bible Fund Grows

Although the high school Bible Class fund appeal has been closed out for about two weeks now, some additional contributions have been received. Among them are $10 from the 1965 Hyperion Club, $35 from the First Assembly of God Church and $50 from the Veal-moor Baptist Church. This brings to $3,627.35 the amount given through the annual appeal in the Herald, for which the sponsoring Big Spring Pastors Association expressed thanks.

Opposes Trading In Beef Cattle

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the American Meat Institute has voiced opposition to futures trading in beef cattle, scheduled to begin Nov. 2 on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

Dr. Herrell Degraff, speaking Monday at the institute's annual meeting, said nobody has yet analyzed how futures trading will affect consumer prices. "Factor or prime interest," Degraff criticized the move because "the additional government controls which could last forever."
