

Heavy Rains Fall In Some Sections

AUSTIN (AP)—Some of the heaviest rains in months swept wide sections of Texas in late September, the Weather Bureau said in its monthly review Thursday.

East Texas, the report stated, received the heaviest rainfall total in two years for the third week in September.

In Southwest Texas up to 11 inches fell in Dimmit County, causing widespread flooding on the Middle Nueces River.

Not since September, 1962, had such heavy rains fallen over as large an area.

During the last week of September, Del Rio measured 13.60 inches in five days. Four thousand persons fled their homes as the Rio Grande spread up to two miles wide in places.

To the north, torrential rains of 10 to 12 inches poured down on the Trinity watershed above Dallas. At the same time, flash flooding struck parts of Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Corpus Christi and Boerne.

September rainfall totaled 18.29 inches at Carrollton, north of Dallas; 13.33 inches at a downtown Fort Worth station and 10.67 inches at Dallas Love Field for that station's wettest September on record.

Lake Corpus Christi rose within 2.12 inches of the spillway, the highest level since the dam was built. Lake Travis near Austin rose more than 20 feet from the heaviest rains in seven years. The value of the added storage in the Highland Lakes was estimated at $25 million in terms of irrigation, hydroelectric power and recreation facilities.

May Leave Silver Out Of Coins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury is considering proposals to reduce or eliminate the silver in silver coins, authoritative sources said today.

The change in the nation's basic silver policy would require several years. Officials apparently are undecided whether to ask Congress to merely reduce the amount of silver in coins, or to replace it with another metal.

rate of coinage will consume the Treasury's stockpile in a few years.

Ironically, the recognition of a silver shortage comes shortly after Congress directed the mint to resume production of silver dollars for the first time in 30 years. The 45 million cartwheels will contain more than 32 million ounces of silver.

The potential shortage of silver is related to the shortage of coins, but it is a far more basic, long-range problem, than the temporary pinch in coins.

Not all parts of Texas got such generous rains. Drouth effects continued over the Northern Panhandle, parts of the South Plains, the trans-Pecos region and the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Although the rains helped range feed prospects, they came at the wrong time or too late to benefit cotton and sorghum crops.

The Weather Bureau listed these rainfall figures:

Arlington, cumulative precipitation for the first nine months of the year, 22.49, departure from last year, plus 4.36; Amarillo 15.57, minus .93; Austin 25.90, minus .71; Brownsville 11.96, minus 8.27; Corpus Christi 18.86, minus 2.98; Dallas 30.46, plus 5.89; El Paso 4.43, minus 1.80; Fort Worth 26.21, plus 2.20; Houston 26.92, minus 7.15; Laredo 11.47, minus 3.52; Lubbock 12.45, minus 2.46; Midland 6.86, minus 4.61; Beaumont-Port Arthur, 37.46, minus 4.34; San Angelo 10.14, minus 5.06; San Antonio 24.21, plus 1.93; Victoria 30.27, plus 2.44; Waco 23.96, minus 7.4; Wichita Falls 28.16, plus 7.65.

Sydney Opens Giant Bridge

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A great new Sydney bridge, with a graceful concrete arch spanning 1,000 feet opens today to ease this city's traffic problems.

The high-level bridge, second in size to the famed Harbor Bridge, crosses the Parramatta River 2½ miles before the river joins Sydney Harbor. It will carry six lanes of traffic, three in each direction, and replace the two-lane Gladstone Bridge that was built in 1881.

Apart from easing the traffic flow to the western suburbs, the bridge will speed traffic to the projected northwestern expressway to serve Sydney's north shore area.

Claims Filed In Bankruptcy

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—More than $5.5 million in claims against the estate of bankrupt financier Paul Amos Sandblom had been filed Thursday by filing deadline.

A total of 119 persons lodged the claims against the Iowa-born Sandblom, who declared voluntary bankruptcy last Jan. 7.

He faces state and federal charges involving securities transactions. Monday he will go on trial in San Antonio on charges of fraud and violating the Texas Securities Act.

Twelve of the 22 persons listed in new claims at the office of referee in bankruptcy James Easterling are Corpus Christi residents. All but five of the 22 were listed by Sandblom as creditors.

Previously, 87 claims for some $2.8 million had been filed.

Among the new claims, which total $2,691,469.80, the largest was by Dr. and Mrs. P. Lamar Meadows of Richmond, Tex., for $521,825. Other large claims were $446,500 by Dr. and Mrs. Milford Frinka of Corpus Christi; $402,340 by J. E. Habluetzel of Ingleside, Tex.; and $315,000 by Joe Holland of Corpus Christi.

Must Be More Rewarding Way To Spend Evening

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Fess Parker and his coonskin cap are back and the resemblance of this season's new "Daniel Boone" to another season's Davy Crockett is nothing short of amazing.

And, it should be added, the resemblance of the Thursday night NBC series' plots to those of 1,901 TV tales before it is pretty remarkable too. All of which adds up to a presumption that kids of the coonskin cap age will love it.

The highly fictionalized treatment constructed around the life of a real American pioneer is not entirely without interest to the student of television. Set in the period of the American Revolution, "Daniel Boone" is a sort of horseless Western.

But it breaches the code of the Western seriously because in this version, the mighty woodsman is a happily married fellow who lives with his pretty wife and two children in a settlement. It must be a pretty sophisticated settlement, because his wife obviously is able to buy mascara and eye liner and has the services of a hairdresser. But nobody ever had a happily married cowboy hero.

The story line Thursday night was a nice familiar one. A nasty halfbreed kidnaped a pretty Cherokee princess and swapped her in Boonesborough for a jug of rum and a horn of powder.

It turns out, though, that the princess is not Cherokee, but a white child brought up by the chief after her parents had been dispatched by a raiding band of non-Cherokees.

Just when things looked blackest, the object of all this fuss slipped out of the stockade and ran back to her Indian foster father. And she told Daniel it wasn't the color of the skin that mattered but it was where the heart was.

Surely there must be a more rewarding way to spend the early part of Thursday evening than watching this sort of non-

Pace Lessens For City Policemen

Police activity during September dropped from August and from the same month last year, Police Chief Jay Banks reported today.

Both traffic and criminal offenses were down this past month, Banks said, with a total of 248 traffic tickets issued by city officers, compared to 573 for the same month last year.

Accidents during September totaled 63, compared to 69 last year, with five injuries this past month, compared to 11 in September last year. Criminal offenses totaled 60 for September, a drop of 15 from the August total. Misdemeanor offenses dropped from 203 during August to 170 during September, Banks reported.

The drop in police activity during the past month is partly attributable to drouth conditions this fall, Banks said, decreasing activity in general.

DEAR ABBY

To Dance, Or Not To Dance

DEAR ABBY: My Julius is the only man in our crowd who doesn't dance. He never learned, and he won't even try. He just says he doesn't have any rhythm. I told him I didn't care whether he had rhythm or not. I only wanted him to get out on the dance floor and walk around with me so I wouldn't have to sit and watch everyone else dance. Nothing can bug me. He's not old. He is 42. He says I knew he wasn't Gene Kelly when I married him. Don't you think if he really loved me he would try?

JULIUS' WIFE: His "love" for you has nothing to do with his refusal to dance. Get off his back and you might have a better chance of getting him on his feet.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and am considered responsible and well-behaved by everyone but my mother. She doesn't trust me where boys are concerned. She says that I am too young to have anything to do with boys. I have been asked for dates by several nice boys, but I have had to refuse every one of them because of my mother's strictness. My father is no help because he doesn't believe in taking sides. Can you help me?

DEAR MOTHER: Wait until your husband is in a good mood.

New Deputy Joins Sheriff's Staff

Claude Morris, who until Wednesday was a captain on the Big Spring police force, Thursday began his duties as a deputy sheriff on the staff of Sheriff Miller Harris.

He was teamed up on his first day with an old fellow worker—Lindy Oldfield, who formerly was Morris' captain on the police force. When Oldfield resigned to become a deputy sheriff, Morris was promoted to the captaincy left vacant. He elected to shift to the sheriff's office.

Congress May Brush Off Key Administration Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two $4.25 billion worth of appropriations, and once this fiscal year is blown it will be hard to hold the members — all of whom must stand re-election if they want to stay in Congress — in Washington.

To complete the fiscal work of the long 1964 session, the House is being asked to vote on a $1-billion supplemental money bill for the added requirements of several government agencies and on the Senate version of a $3.25-billion foreign aid appropriation.

The authorization which sets the ceiling for this spending cleared a conference of House and Senate members Thursday night stripped of all reference to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures. It was designed to allow distributed courts, in their discretion, to (1) permit state legislatures up to six months to reapportion and (2) permit the next elections for state legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state laws in effect Sept. 20.

Now even this watered-down proposal appears dead.

Whatever faint hopes administration forces had that the plan to enact health care for the aged would be approved by this Congress were all but extinguished Thursday when a conference committee that has been trying to work out a compromise bill broke up in stalemate.

The chairman, Rep. Wilbur D.

AN Amazing DEMAND!

What did Jesus mean when he told Nicodemus, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3)? When Nicodemus expressed astonishment at this demand of the Lord, Jesus explained by adding, "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God . . . Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again" (John 3:5,7).

This universal command of the Saviour applies today. It is still true that men and women must be born again. It is the requirement Jesus made for entering the kingdom of God.

Do you wonder how it is possible to be born again? Nicodemus thought Jesus was speaking of a second physical birth, and could not understand how such a thing could be accomplished. Jesus was, of course, speaking of a spiritual birth: "That which is born of the Spirit is Spirit" (John 3:6).

When we speak of a birth, we are implying a family relationship. A child is born into a family. The same fact applies to spiritual birth. When one is born again, he is born into a spiritual family, the family of God. Following his new birth, he is a child of God.

The New Testament speaks of people who were children of God. They had been born of water and of the Spirit. It is possible for us to determine what happened that made them children of God. We, therefore, may know specifically what it means to be born again.

Paul writes, "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Galatians 3:26,27). They had been baptized into Christ. Paul said this is what made them children of God by faith. Notice how closely this agrees with the command of Jesus: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16).

In Paul's letter to the Romans, another case illustrates what Jesus meant by the new birth. The Romans were called children of God—"The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Romans 8:16). They had experienced the new birth. Paul made reference to their conversion when he wrote, "Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Christ were baptized into His death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the father, even so we also should walk in newness of life" (Romans 6:3,4). The apostle here explains the Romans received newness of life through a new birth when they were buried and raised with Christ in baptism.

The gospel of Jesus Christ is the seed of the new birth (1 Peter 1:23). The new birth takes place when one believes the gospel, as revealed by the Spirit, and is immersed in water for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38). This is what Jesus had reference to when he told Nicodemus that he must be born again. And this is also what the apostles of Christ told people to do to be saved (Acts 10:48; Acts 18:8; Acts 22:16).

This is the will of Christ for you. You, too, must experience this birth of water and the Spirit before you can be in God's spiritual family. You must be born again!

World Communion Day To Be Observed Here

Churches around the world will center Sunday on the observance of the Holy Communion in keeping with World Communion Day.

In Big Spring, a large number of the Protestant churches will observe the Lord's Supper in keeping with the spirit of the special observance. This is part of a world-wide effort not to let the sun go down during the day on the participation of congregations joining in Holy Communion. It is one way in which cooperating churches hope to exemplify the unity of Christian spirit.

Indicative of the autumn emphasis on evangelism, Hillcrest Baptist Church will begin its revival this week. The Rev. Clyde Campbell, pastor, will preach today, but during the week the Rev. J. C. Quarles of Hobbs, N. Meanwhile, the New Life Crusade among Latin American Baptist churches will continue through Sunday with E. P. Ramsey, Crockett, as evangelist at La Fe Mission, 1011 N. Scurry, and Harry Hamlin, Houston district missionary, at El Buen Pastor at 705 NW 4th.

The Assembly of God will use today as a kickoff time of intensification of home visits, an event to reach its climax the last Sunday of this month.

Mormons Hold General Parley

Twice each year since its organization in 1830, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints has assembled in general conferences. Since 1867 these have been in the historic Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah.

This Sunday brings another of these gatherings, and the religious spectacle will be telecast over Channel 7 in this area from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The local congregation of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints will have a television set at the church at 1803 Wasson Road, and the public is invited to attend this worship function.

In addition, Oscar D. Graham, branch president, and Dave Shaw, second counselor, are flying to Salt Lake on Saturday to participate in the general conference.

One of the features of the service will be the presentation of the Mormon choir, with its 375 voices supported by the matchless organ of 11,000 pipes, just as it has been since 1847.

CHURCH PROPERTY Attorney Seeks Exemption Ban

By KATHIE DIBELL
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Leonard Kerpelman, an attorney, says he wants to save American taxpayers millions of dollars.

He is trying to outlaw state and federal tax exemptions for church properties and church-owned businesses.

Kerpelman, 39, says he believes the suits eventually will reach the Supreme Court and become a milestone in church-state relationships in the United States.

He estimates that in Baltimore alone, taxation of church buildings would add $76 million to annual tax income. His clients in the suits are the Free Thought Society and the group's president, Lemoin Cree. The society pays Kerpelman a $10,000 retainer fee.

CHALLENGES PRACTICE
Many states, including Maryland, allow property tax exemptions for church buildings. Kerpelman already has presented opening arguments in Baltimore Superior Court against the Maryland exemptions, contending they violate the constitutional provisions against establishment of a religion.

He says all taxpayers are forced to contribute involuntarily to the support of churches because the churches use public money for such services as streets and police and fire protection.

HITS DEDUCTIONS
In another suit, Kerpelman is attacking federal income tax regulations which allow churches tax exemptions on profits from businesses they own, including hotels, service stations and publishing houses.

Some churches voluntarily pay the taxes, but Kerpelman says exemptions run into millions of dollars.

These exemptions also are unconstitutional because they violate the constitutional provision of the separation of church and state, he maintains.

Since he filed the church property suit, Kerpelman says, "Many of my Jewish friends are giving me the cold stare. They're getting an edifice complex."

Enlistment Is Stressed

"Parents are like elevators. They will lift or lower their children to the levels they (the parents) are on." The statement was made by the Rev. Homer Rich, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, in speaking of the influence of parents on their children, as he announced the Sunday school's special visitation activities during the month of October.

He said the Sunday school will invite neighbors who do not now attend any Sunday school or church regularly. Rev. Rich said there are classes for all age groups and that each department is striving to reach a new quota in number during the month.

"Similar campaigns will be sponsored by Assemblies of God churches all over the nation," he continued. "From House to House" is the theme of the special effort. The last Sunday of the month will be a special rally day for the entire Sunday school.

Seventh Day Adventists Set The Tone For Keene

By BOB HORTON
KEENE, Tex. (AP)—The sun rises with a freshly scrubbed look in this North Central Texas town of 1,600, planted among wooded hills just off US 67 southwest of Dallas.

It is Sunday, but the one church, an angular, modern brick building which seats 1,400, remains empty and silent.

A man in overalls sets out for work. A wife in a homemade pink bonnet hoes a garden. Boys and girls stroll about a college campus.

The post office, which has handled mail here since the 1890s, has a steady stream of Sunday customers.

Sunday is the first work day of the week here.

Keene is a town of Seventh Day Adventists, a sect which observes Saturday—the seventh day on the calendar—as the Sabbath.

Seventh Day Adventists do not eat meat, use lipstick, smoke, drink or dance. They are dedicated to nurturing the spiritual life of themselves and others.

FIRST HAND
"We may be fanatical," Mrs. Ruth Hestand says with a smile, "but scientists today are beginning to recommend the kind of foods we've eaten for years—whole grains, nuts and fruits."

"Why get your protein second hand through meat from a cow? We get it directly from the wheat."

Mrs. Hestand speaks like a dietitian—Adventists are knowledgeable people on nutrition—but actually she is postmaster of the only U.S. Post Office open on Sunday. It closes at noon Friday and remains closed all Saturday, the day of church services and Sabbath school.

Mrs. Hestand, white-haired and freckled, uses no makeup or jewelry. The body, Adventists say, is a thing of beauty which needs no additional adorning.

Virtually all Adventists are vegetarians. Consequently no meat is sold in the grocery stores in Keene. A few Adventists won't drink milk, and often shun coffee and tea. They don't play cards, and rarely attend movies.

Keene's Adventists are among some 300,000 in the U.S. and Canada.

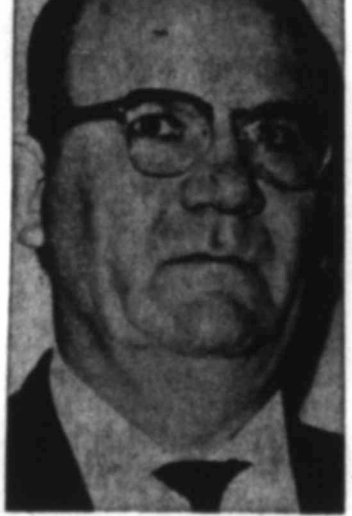

With missionaries in 190 countries, Adventists cite St. Matthew 24:14 as the cornerstone of their faith:

"And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come."

Adventists believe this means that when every single living person has been told the gospel, the world will end, Christ will return physically to the earth, and the righteous shall live in happiness forever.

They also believe the world was literally created in seven days, as Genesis says.

No wild-eyed, religious street criers assemble here. Most Adventists in Keene—90 per cent of the 1,600 population belongs to

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Zechariah	8	14-23
Monday	Luke	8	4-15
Tuesday	Acts	10	34-48
Wednesday	Romans	13	8-14
Thursday	I Corinthians	3	1-9
Friday	I Corinthians	11	17-22
Saturday	I Corinthians	11	23-32

GROWING TOGETHER

"God's garden" . . . those were St. Paul's words to describe the early Christian fellowship. From its mighty seed of revealed truth, the Church has grown and flourished . . . spreading into many lands, developing in many ways, but always linked by oneness in Christ.

World-wide Communion Sunday is a day of spiritual renewal for Christians of every creed. It is a time to remember our brothers in all lands, and to pray that our differences may be transcended by the power of the Holy Spirit working among us. It is a call to greater effort, greater personal participation, so that by our example all men may be led to know Jesus as their Saviour.

The Church needs the support of every Christian on this meaningful occasion. Decide now that you and your family will be present at the Lord's Table.

Battle Against Teenage Drinking Helped By Law

By ALAN KAPLAN
 PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The battle against teenage drinking is going well in Pennsylvania, thanks to a 1963 law and alert police and tavern operators.

A boy or girl under 21 may still be able to drink a beer at a party or use false identification to get a highball at a bar, but because of the new law he risks a trip to jail or a stiff fine. Before, the worst punishment could be a light penalty for disorderly conduct.

STAMP OUT
 "I think this law could stamp out our problem with minors in three years," says Bill T. Plastino, Lancaster tavern operator. His comment is typical of most of those who face young people across a bar and have to decide whether he or she really is of age.

The new law stipulates that minors—those under 21—who attempt to purchase, consume, possess or transport alcohol, liquor or malt-brewed beverages are subject to fines between $25 and $100 or 30 days in jail or both.

This puts the punishment directly on the juvenile. Before the new law, tavern-owners were dealt the worst punishment. Some innocently served under-age patrons who produced fake or forged identification cards.

"We ask for cards," said Kenneth D. Kochel of Lancaster, "sometimes several of them, and we also try to judge the ages. But some of these kids are really tough to judge. Girls, particularly, are apt to fool you."

FINED
 Kochel was fined $150 in 1962 for selling beer to a minor. It almost made him quit the taproom business, because of the risk.

Today, he's high in praise of the new law which he says has "cut down the number of minors coming in here trying to buy alcoholic beverages."

Detective Capt. David M. Rineer of Lancaster said the law has made it easier for officers to deal with under-age drinkers.

"Many of our men now come across infractions while carrying out routine duties. When this happens, we have the authority to make an arrest with the knowledge that a prosecution is justified," he says.

"It's the best law ever passed," says Richard Hagerty, Warren County deputy sheriff. He asserts the statute not only deters youthful liquor purchasers, but it is equally effective in unveiling their suppliers.

LOOSENS TONGUES
 The reason is that minors who are unwilling to disclose information about where they obtained liquor or beer are threatened with stiffer sentences. This generally loosens their tongues, says Hagerty.

In Bellefonte, police make spot checks of automobiles with young drivers Saturday nights.

"If we find a case of beer in the trunk we make an arrest," says Police Chief Eugene Stine. "There's none of this stuff about one of the parents leaving it there without the knowledge of the child."

Stine said offenders between 18 and 21 are taken directly to a local magistrate who can mete out punishments promptly.

Lancaster Alderman William A. Hull Jr. says he judges each case individually with first offenders fined $25 and the second offenders tabbed with $50.

"I make it a point to inform each offender that the penalty will probably be greater if he or she is a repeater on the same charge," says Hull.

CUT IN HALF
 Statistics compiled by Pennsylvania's Liquor Control Board show that the law has cut in half charges against taprooms for selling to minors.

Young people make these gripes:

"When we leave school, we are expected to assume the responsibilities of adults," said a 19-year-old girl who was arrested when police found liquor in the car in which she was a passenger.

"If we are to assume the responsibilities of adults why shouldn't we have the privileges of adults?"

Another youth, also unidentified, said:

"You're just unlucky if you get caught, that's all. Sometimes you go for months or even years without getting caught. I think the problem would be solved if the age limit was 18 because it wouldn't be a big deal any more."

MAJOR ARGUMENT
 The major argument in favor of a lowered drinking age, as far as minors are concerned, is that 18-year-olds are eligible for the draft.

"If you must register at 18 and are liable to be sent overseas to fight and die for your country," one boy asks, "why can't you buy a beer in your country?"

Pennsylvania police answer: "Because it is against the law."

Oswald's Widow Termed Baffling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, looking back on 10 months of "most arduous duty" on the Warren Commission, says the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald is "a baffling personality."

Russell, 66, a Georgia Democrat, told a newsman that serving on the commission which investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy was "a sad and morbid experience" in the "most strenuous" year of his life.

The commission's report was made public Sunday night. It found that Oswald acted alone in the shooting death of Kennedy and the wounding of Texas Gov. John B. Connally last Nov. 22 in Dallas.

Marina Oswald, the assassin's attractive Soviet-born widow, testified on three occasions. Each time she had her own Russian interpreter. A Russian linguist of the investigating group also was on hand.

Russell said she appeared shy and naive in her first appearance, testifying she was convinced her husband had killed the President. Then, said Russell, she appeared to defend Oswald — saying he had been kind to her children and had helped her with the dishes and other household chores.

In later testimony, Russell said, she appeared much more sophisticated and confident, saying that her husband had beaten her several times.

The Georgian, referring to himself as "an old trial lawyer," made a trip to Dallas with Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., to question Mrs. Oswald in her home.

"This time," said Russell, "she testified that she now believed Gov. Connally — not President Kennedy, was the intended target."

This point was brought out in the report made public last Sunday. She gave two reasons for this view — Oswald's undesirable discharge from the Marines while Connally was secretary of the Navy and her inability to think of any motive for Oswald to kill Kennedy.

The commission discounted the view that Connally was the target because Oswald knew that Connally was never concerned with the discharge, and Mrs. Oswald had earlier testified her husband "spoke well of him" while the Oswalds were living in the Soviet Union.

Russell said he reminded her of her earlier testimony.

"Oswald said then (while in the Soviet Union) that if he were in Texas he would vote for Connally. I asked her why she had changed her testimony."

Russell said the young widow always used Russian in replying to questions, although she seemed to understand English and the questions.

She credited misunderstandings or differences in her testimony to the translations," he said.

Mrs. Rockefeller Grieved At Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller's lawyer says she is "deeply grieved" by loss of her suit for custody of the four children she gave up when she got a divorce 18 months ago to marry New York's governor.

The lawyer, Edward S. Greenbaum, said no decision was made immediately on whether to appeal the decision announced in suburban White Plains Thursday by State Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi.

Counsel for Dr. James S. Murphy, father of the children and Mrs. Rockefeller's first husband, said Murphy was "highly gratified" that Gagliardi had not voided the custody agreement contained in the Idaho divorce decree.

Murphy's lawyer, David Kelly, also told a news conference here that "certain details as to visitation (rights) remain to be worked out with Mr. Greenbaum, but we anticipate no difficulties on this score."

Kelly said that, now that the case has been decided, Murphy "wishes for himself and his children to resume his private life as an ordinary citizen. Above all else, the children should be shielded from the glare of the public spotlight."

The children range in age from 4 to 13. The Idaho decree gave Mrs. Rockefeller liberal visiting rights. In recent months, 4-year-old Malinda has been living with the Rockefellers, who have a 4-month-old son of their own. The three older children have been living with Murphy and his second wife, whom he married last June.

Rockefeller's first wife divorced him in 1962 after 31 years of marriage. Their children were all grown.

Gagliardi, who barred the public and the press from the custody hearings, Thursday ordered that all testimony and the court file in the case be sealed "for the best interests of the children."

The judge ruled that it would be "a mistake of the first magnitude" to separate any of the four children from the others.

He found, in effect, that the parents were about equally able to provide love, security, education and other advantages for the children.

Therefore, he said, Mrs. Rockefeller should abide by the bargain she made when she gave up the children.

Unemployment Follows Trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment and unemployment both showed expected, seasonal declines in September as approximately 1.7 million teenagers left jobs to return to school.

The unemployment rate for the month — 5.2 per cent — was slightly higher than August's 5.1 per cent but below the 5.5 per cent registered last September.

Employment stood at 70.8 million, compared with 72.1 in August and 69.5 million last September.

Unemployment was 3.3 million, down 350,000 from August, and down 200,000 from last September. It was the lowest September unemployment total since 1959.

The job figures, given at the Labor Department's regular monthly briefing Thursday, are the last to be issued before the Nov. 3 presidential election. The next figures are due Nov. 5.

Top Airman

Airman 2.C. John B. Stokes, 3560th USAF Hospital, Webb AFB, has been selected as airman of the month for September for the hospital. Airman Stokes is an aeromedicine specialist in the flight surgeon's office and has been stationed at Webb since November of 1961. His home is in El Paso.

Host Loraine Tonight

The Stanton Buffaloes, some of whom are pictured above, seek their second victory of the year this evening in an 8 o'clock game with Loraine. The Buffs, coached by Bill Milam, have beaten Roscoe and lost to Big Lake and Coahoma. From the left, standing, they are Steve Milam, Richard Jones, Larry White, Allen Springer and Robert Roten. Kneeling, Butch Robnett, Phillip Payne and Mike Hall.

'Dogs Seek Fourth Win

COAHOMA — Many Coahoma residents, their imagination fired by the success their high school football team has achieved to date, hit the road this evening for Roby where their Bulldogs open District 6-A play at 7:30 against the in-and-out Roby Lions.

Coahoma is heavily favored in the contest but coach Spike Dykes isn't taking the game lightly. He knows Roby can be rough at home and his scouts tell him that the Lions showed a lot of improvement in beating Loraine recently, 16-6.

Buffaloes Play 'Dogs Saturday

Coahoma holds three victories in as many starts, having knocked off Rankin, 24-13; Stanton, 36-7; and the Big Spring B squad, 28-8, in that order. Roby was mailed madly in its opening test by Spur, 33-0, but subsequent developments show that Spur again has a powerhouse.

Coahoma will again lean heavily upon the quarterbacking ability of Dwayne Allen and Marshall Williams, the outside running ability of all-star candidate Eddie McHugh and the ramming fullback, Tony Butler. The Bulldogs also boast a hard-hitting line, which has been giving up yardage with less reluctance in each start. Coahoma will play its next home game here against Roscoe a week from tonight. All remaining games on the Bulldogs schedule get under way at 7:30 p.m.

The Bulldogs came out of the Big Spring game in good physical condition, outside of a few sore muscles, and Dykes will be able to field his regular lineup. The engagement is one of five straight 11-man games booked for the Buffs by coach Oscar Boeker. Forsan ordinarily plays eight-man ball. Against Jayton's 11-man team last week, Forsan lost by a score of 37-0.

Bubbly Stuff Still Uncorked By Berra

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Editor
That little old champagne taster, Yogi Berra, still is manipulating numbers today after the New York Yankees' pennant express ran afoul of the Detroit Tigers. Berra, who has become accustomed to the taste of that bubbly stuff almost every fall in his 17 years as a Yankee, was all ready for his annual sip after New York swept two from Detroit Wednesday, reducing their magic number to two. But the Tigers turned right around and knocked off the Bombers 4-2 and 5-2 Thursday delaying the clinching of New York's 29th pennant at least another day. If the Yankees whip Cleveland and Kansas City takes Chicago, Yogi can whoop it up again. But Berra isn't depending on the A's.

Key Backs Hurt On Three Teams

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Three of the top college football games scheduled this weekend are clouded by the questionable status of key quarterbacks — Rolfe Stichweh of Army, Roger Staubach of Navy and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn.

Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, and Stichweh both are reported ailing from ankle injuries, but last-minute indications are that both will play. Sidle, ace of Auburn's unbeaten and seventh-ranked team, has an injured shoulder to take into an important Southeastern Conference match with Kentucky, author of the biggest upset of the young season.

The action gets under way tonight with three major games on schedule: Cincinnati at Detroit, New Mexico at Brigham Young and Furman at George Washington.

Possibly the top match on Saturday's program has sixth-ranked Navy visiting eighth-ranked Michigan. The Wolverines, one of the top choices in the Big Ten, have a powerful ground game to throw at the Middles, who built their attack around the multi-talented Mr. Staubach.

Army, unbeaten in two games, visits Austin, Tex., for both the Cadets' first-ever night game and their first encounter with Texas, the defending national champs, currently top-ranked and unscored on in two starts.

The mighty Longhorns, who play possession ball and just grind it out, are two-touchdown favorites over Paul Dietzel's three-platoon team. Stichweh, big gun in the Army attack, was injured in a victory over Boston College last week.

Alabama, ranked fourth in the nation, and an easy winner in two starts, is a top-heavy favorite against Vanderbilt at Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night. The Midwest has a corner on

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

One of the District 2-AAAA coaches conferred last week with the Snyder staff on methods of stopping Big Spring. His advice proved sage, since the Tigers knew just about what to expect of the Steers on offense and knew how to penetrate their defenses.

Such information is freely exchanged but rarely to benefit an alien district club against a team in one's own district. The coaches' ties are usually stronger than that.

Big Spring's Jack Irons will start for Texas Western College against West Texas State in Canyon at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and, at 193 pounds, will be the second smallest lineman fielded by the Miners.

Only strong end Chuck Hughes, who weighs 170, will not pack as much weight as Irons. When Texas Western beat West Texas last year, 13-0, it marked the first time one of Joe Kerbel's West Texas teams had been shut out.

Despite what the programs may say, Odessa's four-man line in its defensive alignment weighs an average of 226 pounds per man. That's bigger than many college teams. Odessa is Big Spring's new opponent. The Bronchos come here for a game a week from tonight.

Sam Baugh says the University of Tulsa probably has more pro prospects than any other college team in the nation.

Nothing is too good for the jockeys at Sunland Park, which opens its fifth season this weekend.

The management has installed an 18-hole putting green next to the riders' quarters. Many of the jockeys are avid golfers. The Sunland Jockey Room is equipped with lockers, snack bar, steam room, massage tables and a masseur, billiard tables and sleeping quarters.

The National league is considered a much better league than the American league by the baseball crowd. One of the reasons is the balanced races the august old circuit invariably has. In the past 30 years, the National league champion has failed to repeat 31 times. Only three times has it been done in the last 20 years.

If he continues at the rate he's going, Johnny Hughes will emerge as one of the finest punters in Big Spring High School history.

Don Robbins, the local high school football coach, thinks Coahoma has some of the finest material among Class A teams in the state.

Now that the Bulldogs have had their confidence buoyed by new coach Spike Dykes, Robbins reasons they could go a long way in the playoffs.

Dykes, of course, has his mind only on the conference race. The Bulldogs still have three of their biggest hurdles dead ahead in Rotan, Merkel and Aspermont and it would be unwise for the boys to think of anything else.

Not a solitary football stadium in the Big Eight Conference is equipped for night-time play.

Partnership Tourney Is Scheduled Here Oct. 24

Entry list in the Country Club's Partnership Golf tournament, which will be held over 54 holes Oct. 24-25, will be limited to 48 teams or 96 players.

Entry fee will be $20 a player or $40 a team. Flight winners will earn $50 each in golf merchandise, runnersup $30 each and consolation round winners $20 each.

Each flight will be limited to eight teams or 16 players and everyone in the area is eligible to take part. No handicaps will be used and players can select their own partners.

Those desiring to take part should get in touch with Jerry Green, club pro, as soon as possible. Players can enter any time between now and Oct. 23. This will be the third big tournament held at the club this

Miller Charges Baker Links

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has remained silent on the Bobby Baker case because "he is fearful of more damning disclosures," Rep. William E. Miller charged today in the President's home state.

A Republican administration "will give the American people a full accounting of Lyndon Johnson's stewardship in the Bobby Baker case," the GOP candidate for vice president said in a campaign statement.

Miller slammed the Democrats on the Bobby Baker issue after stating Thursday he would not be deterred from campaign debate by Democratic demands for an investigation of his connections with a business firm in his home district in Upstate New York.

Rep. W. Donlon Edwards, D-Calif., introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives calling for the investigation.

Miller said he would be delighted to testify before a House committee in any such probe.

The GOP candidate flew into Texas from Los Angeles early this morning for visits to San Antonio, Galveston and Houston, the final stops on a long campaign swing that has taken him through the West and the Midwest.

Miller's aides kept a cautious eye today on Hurricane Hilda, which was headed for the Texas coastal area.

In his statement, Miller said the Bobby Baker matter was "no longer just a case of a get-rich-quick Senate employe. It is a scandal going to the basic moral fiber of our government."

He said that Johnson had remained silent and had not requested a full and public investigation "of this sordid mess."

The GOP nominee continued: "Mr. Johnson, of course, will make no such demand, because he is fearful of more damning disclosures in the Baker case before the American people go to the polls on Nov. 3."

Miller said of the President: "Bobby was his boy, his boy only, and everyone in Washington knows it."

He quoted Johnson as praising Baker in 1956 and 1957, when Johnson was Senate majority leader and Baker was secretary to the Senate majority.

Baker resigned under fire and invoked the Fifth Amendment during an investigation of his private business dealings while in the Senate post. A new investigation was launched recently.

Miller said the Johnson administration was "ready to apply another coat of whitewash."

At a news conference in Los Angeles Thursday, Miller was asked to comment on a proposed investigation of himself and replied: "I refuse to be deterred from debating the issues of this campaign by this silly performance."

The resolution called for a probe of Miller's connections with the Lockport Felt Co. in his home city. He has been assistant secretary and a director for 18 years at a salary of $7,500 a year.

Miller has said he opposed legislation that would have been detrimental to the felt industry. He said in a television interview Thursday in Reno, Nev., that he had been carrying out the duty of a congressman to protect the economic interests and the job-producing industry of his home district.

Any congressman who did not do so would be ousted by voters, Miller said.

In a statement on another subject in Los Angeles, Miller said that the Johnson administration had adopted a defense policy based on "a space-age Maginot Line" in which the emphasis is on missiles to the exclusion of other weapons.

Nixon Says Nothing New In Proposal

NEW CASTLE, N.H. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Sen. Barry Goldwater's proposal to give NATO field commanders control of certain nuclear weapons is nothing new.

Both former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy set up programs for use by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in an emergency, Nixon said Thursday night at a Republican fund-raising dinner. And so has President Johnson, he said.

GOP presidential nominee Goldwater's sharpest criticism has come from those who say the Arizona senator is "trigger happy" because of his nuclear-NATO proposal, Nixon said.

"Much has been made about Goldwater's statement that he would give control of nuclear weapons to NATO commanders," Nixon told some 200 Republicans at a $1,000-a-plate Citizens for Goldwater dinner.

"No one brings up the point that President Eisenhower set up a program for use by NATO in an emergency," he said. "So did John F. Kennedy. So did Lyndon B. Johnson.

"This is a false issue. The real issue is how do we develop leadership to avoid a time when the NATO commanders will be faced with a decision — when they will have to make a choice?"

The former vice president did not say specifically whether Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson stipulated in their programs that a decision to use nuclear weapons by NATO still would have to have presidential approval in any emergency.

Nixon headed for Iowa today after a one-day tour of New England. He spoke in Boston and Burlington, Vt., in addition to New Castle. It was the first day of a 33-day, 36-state speaking tour.

Politicians Stump State For Votes

By The Associated Press

Office seekers stumped busily today while a visit by the Republican nominee for vice president accented the importance of winning votes in Texas.

Rep. William Miller, the New Yorker running with Sen. Barry Goldwater, reached San Antonio at 1:09 a. m.

Miller planned speeches at the Alamo and at Incarnate Word College in San Antonio before moving on for an afternoon rally in Galveston and a night address in Houston.

Forgery Charged Of $118,000 Check

PECOS (AP)—Texas Rangers arrested a Pecos woman Thursday and charged her with forgery in connection with a $118,000 check.

The complaint accuses Mrs. Joy (Rusty) Chandler of forging the endorsement of Victor Brookfield of Dallas to the check two days before he vanished Feb. 5.

Ranger Capt. Bob Crowder of Dallas said Mrs. Chandler operated an abstract and title firm in Pecos.

He and Ranger Jim Nance of Sierra Blanca arrested Mrs. Chandler on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg in Dallas.

Brookfield, 36, the owner of valuable West Texas oil holdings has been the object of an intensive search. He was last seen at an Odessa motel.

Dallas County Judge Lew Sterrett said Crowder and relatives of the missing man fear he has been slain, possibly in Mexico.

Sterrett appointed Brookfield's mother, Mrs. Loretta Brookfield of Pecos, as temporary guardian of his assets Tuesday. He acted at the request of lawyers Verne Knickerbocker of Midland and J. J. Watts of Odessa, who represent Mrs. Brookfield.

"They told a story which sounded fantastic," Sterrett said. "I checked with Capt. Crowder before approving the appointment, and he told me that Rangers have evidence which tends to substantiate the story. They are very concerned."

Mrs. Brookfield said her missing son was mentally incapable of managing his affairs. She said also that she has "reason to believe" he never received the $118,000 which W. W. Meeker, a Midland oilman, paid him for an interest in mineral rights on 12 sections of Loving County land.

Investigators said they have evidence that an oil broker offered Mrs. Chandler a $10,000 commission if she could induce Brookfield to sell his mineral interests for $125,000. They said this evidence indicates that Mrs. Chandler and a relative went to Dallas and persuaded Brookfield to sell his holdings for $118,000.

Then, these sources said, Meeker wrote an $118,000 check payable to Brookfield. They said Mrs. Chandler, who represented herself as a partner of Brookfield, obtained this check and deposited it in a bank here after forging his endorsement.

One investigator quoted Mrs. Chandler as saying she obtained cashier's checks with approximately $30,000 of the money she deposited and gave them to Brookfield to finance a trip to Mexico. He said officers have been told, however, that a woman cashed the cashier's checks.

Officers emphasized that Meeker was not accused of participating in any conspiracy.

Mrs. Brookfield filed a suit at Mentone, the Loving County seat, asking Judge J. H. Starley to cancel any deed conveying the mineral rights to Meeker and to order Meeker and Mrs. Chandler to pay $1,050,000 damages.

nature of legislation which he said has "reversed the downward trend in the domestic consumption of cotton" and said both Missouri and Texas cattlemen should approve administration steps to improve the beef market.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough and George Bush, the Republican contesting his bid for another term, kept up a brisk duel at long range.

At a Thursday night rally in Dallas, Bush declared the Senate race "has gone far beyond the philosophical issues of conservatism vs. left-wingism—the great issues now are honesty or dishonesty, responsible representation."

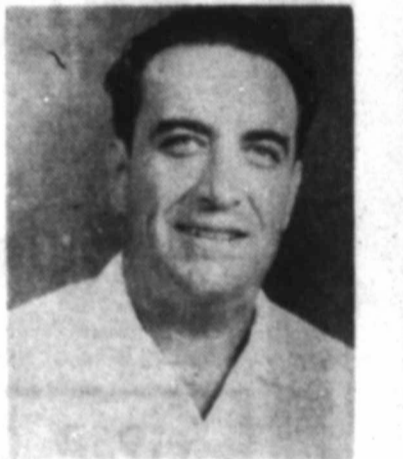

Bush said Yarborough has called Dallas "the citadel of reaction" and Democratic officials threaten to withhold projects from areas where they do not command a heavy vote.

"I will never use the power of the office of U. S. senator to threaten any community, institution or individual just because they may differ from me," Bush added.

Yarborough once more hammered at the business interests of Bush, a Houston oil man, at a news conference and in addressing a dinner rally at College Station.

The senator said Bush held a one-third participating interest in foreign oil companies for which the Houston man's firms drilled and these drilling contracts brought Bush $1,325,000 profit in the first nine months of 1964.

Yarborough declared his opponent "does not have to pay taxes on his interest in international oil operations and wants to bleed Texas independent oil operators and put the tax responsibility on the shoulders of the people."

Better Equipment May Help Explore Sea Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evidence to add anything to the previous conclusions that the big submarine was flooded rapidly by a piping failure and it sank 220 miles east of Cape Cod, Mass., with 129 men aboard.

Nor was there any indication that the improved equipment might make possible locating the remains of any of the 129 men lost.

A board of inquiry found that the nuclear submarine, while conducting deep diving maneuvers, sank because of a failure in the piping system, probably in the engine room, causing the rapid flooding that took it quickly to the bottom. There it broke apart under the tremendous pressure.

The new equipment is built around cameras with magnetometers attached to signal when they are close to metal objects.

The cameras, lowered from the Mizar, a specially equipped research ship, made the photographs distributed by the Navy.

permitted to hold the trick. The ten of hearts was continued and South ducked again, following with the nine.

The moment of decision had now arrived for the defense. West realized that it was futile to continue the establishment of the heart suit inasmuch as he had no quick card of reentry. He decided further that East would see the necessity for switching to another suit; however, the latter might be uncertain where to attack.

A spade switch, for example, might appear more attractive to East, and yet West could provide no assistance in that direction. In order to relieve his partner of all guess, West decided to overtake the ten of hearts with the king in order to lead a diamond—the only suit in which he could contribute to the defensive cause.

West switched to the jack of diamonds and continued the suit when his partner gave him a come-on. The best South could do was to run eight tricks. Had East been permitted to hold the second heart, he might have been tempted to lead the king of spades which appears to be the more attractive shift. This play would have given South time to develop a ninth trick, by leading a spade thru East subsequently toward the jack in his hand.
