Eight Republican candidates rolled into Big Spring on a chartered bus this morning, and had breakfast with about 80 supporters at the Settles Hotel. They were joined here by Joe Phillips, candidate for 19th District congressman, before going on to Sweetwater, on a tour that will end in Houston later this week. Phillips introduced the candidate for governor.

Deadline Nears In Auto Dispute

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations between American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union came down to one simple question today: Does the sole profit-sharing contract in the automotive industry survive or does it die? Working against a Thursday midnight strike deadline, the company said, in effect, let it die. The union, on the other hand, said let's keep it alive.

Russian Space Craft With 3 Lands Safely

Ship Makes 16 Circles Over Globe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's three-man space ship, the world's first to carry more than one astronaut in orbit, landed safely today after completing 16 trips around the earth in 24 hours and 17 minutes, an official announcement said.

The program of scientific research, designed for 24 hours of flight, was accomplished in full, said the official announcement. It added that the doctor, scientist and engineer aboard the space ship Voskhod — Sunrise — conducted observations "directly in outer space."

BRAKES CRAFT

The capsule had completed 16 circles of the earth when its commander, Col. Vladimir Komarov, was ordered to switch on braking devices, Tass reported. Tass emphasized that only a 24-hour flight had been planned, but other indications caused speculation that the trip had ended far short of the originally scheduled time.

At 10:57 a.m. Moscow time, 1:57 a.m. Big Spring time, 10 minutes after landing, pilots reported: "The object is visible on the ground, well visible, and the cosmonauts, three, beside it. They are walking about, walking briskly."

ELLIPITICAL ORBIT

Informed sources had pointed out the highly elliptical orbit of the craft — ranging from 110 to 255 miles above the earth — as indicating it could not stay up too long. The record for a single-man space ship, set by Lt. Col. Valery F. Bykovsky of the Soviet Union in June 1963, is five days and 81 orbits.

Episcopalians Accuse GOP

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — More than 700 Episcopalians, including 10 bishops, today accused the Republican presidential candidate and his running mate of a "transparent exploitation of racism among white citizens."

AF Colonel Freed By Red Terrorists

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Communist terrorists released today, said he felt fine and reported he had been treated well. Interior Minister Gonzalez Barrios said the two terrorists seized in a downtown Caracas apartment early Monday were Spanish-born members of the Red underground called the Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN).

U.S. Space Lag Seen As 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. space agency — never really ahead in the race to the moon — has new clues to trail the Russians by some two years.

FIRE SATURN

Then in January, the United States fired off Saturn 1 — with 1.5 million pounds of thrust. It put a dummy satellite weighing better than 37,000 pounds into orbit, the world's greatest known weightlifting feat until then, perhaps even now.

TWO YEARS

It will be some two years before the U.S. space program duplicates the feat — but the U.S. effort is not designed along parallel lines with the Soviet schedule. Early next year, the U.S. schedule calls for the first of 10 two-man Gemini flights, culminating in two-week missions for some astronaut teams, and two-day missions for others in which the goal will be rendezvous, docking and maneuver with other space bodies.

The 45-year-old officer from Chandler, Ariz., said his abductors never mentioned any plan to trade him for political prisoners in Venezuela or for a condemned Communist Viet Cong terrorist in South Viet Nam. Various anonymous telephone callers had reported such proposals.

He appeared well but tired. He wore his Air Force uniform, but without a coat or tie. Smolen said his kidnapers took him to one place "and there I stayed." He said his abductors seemed to be "a team of three." At least two men were with him at all times, he said.

Tropical Storm Threatens Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Isbell, rapidly winding up to hurricane force, approached western Cuba today on a course that threatened the Florida coast. Chief storm forecaster Gordon Dunn of the Miami Weather Bureau said the storm would cross Cuba's western tip, emerge into the southeastern Gulf of Mexico a few hours after midnight, and reach hurricane intensity early Wednesday.

Typhoon Deaths 34 In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Typhoon Dot with center winds of 170 miles an hour ripped Hong Kong today, leaving at least 34 dead and scores injured. Rescuers dug feverishly at landslide sites where more than 20 persons were buried by mud and rubble. They included nine members of one family. The typhoon moved later into Red China's Kwangtung Province.

Army Sets Up 3rd Viet 'Copter Unit

CAO LANH, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Army has set up a third helicopter company in the largely Viet Cong-controlled Mekong River delta region in hopes of cutting a number of disastrous ambushes against government ground forces.

However, a recent operation on the edge of the Plain of Reeds showed that it may take more than added helicopters to gain the initiative for government forces in the delta rice bowl.

Units from the new company and an older unit took part in a flight to lift 60 government troops into an area 80 miles southwest of Saigon.

Government forces hit ground only 30 minutes after 300 Viet Cong were spotted in the area. While helicopters provided air support, troops jumped out to find themselves in near neck-deep water. Reeds were well over their heads. Although there was sporadic shooting, neither force saw the other and the helicopters were unable to pinpoint enemy units which escaped. The delta region is only dry about four months out of a year.

Three companies in the 4th Army Corps are responsible for virtually all of Viet Nam south of Saigon. They can be strengthened with additional helicopter units from Saigon and Bien Hoa for major operations.

Helicopter companies normally include about 35 armed and troop-carrying choppers and 250 men.

Eddie Fisher Exes Friends

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and Debbie Reynolds — former wives of Eddie Fisher — sailed the Atlantic together and said they never mentioned the name of their former spouse.

"It just didn't come up," said Debbie today. "If you don't forget what's in the past, how can you look forward to the future?"

After the death of Miss Taylor's third husband, Michael Todd, Fisher left Debbie and became Liz's fourth husband. Debbie married American shoe magnate Harry Karl.

After Liz divorced Eddie, she married British actor Richard Burton.

Last week the Burtons and the Karls sailed to Europe on the Queen Mary.

"I sent a note to the Burtons inviting them to join us for cocktails," said Debbie. "And do you know what? The Burtons had the very same idea. The stewards actually crossed in the corridors with our notes."

After cocktails, the couples dined together. On the last night aboard they had dinner together again and didn't part until near dawn.

The Burtons got off in Cherbourg, to make a movie in Paris. The Karls came to England.

Three Hurt In Accident

A pickup and a car were demolished and three men were injured in a collision at 1:05 p.m. Monday. The accident occurred just a few feet east of the Big Spring city limits on the south service road of IS 20.

None of the persons hurt is believed to be in serious condition. In the Howard County Hospital Foundation Monday afternoon as a result of the crash was James Howard Pollard, 18, driver of the car, and his passenger, John Dale Sullivan, also 18. Both are Big Spring residents.

John Benjamin Harrison, 59, driver of the truck involved, is in the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. He is also from Big Spring.

Highway patrol officers said that the pickup was owned by the Basin Oil Co. It was going east and the 1959 sedan in which Pollard and Sullivan were riding was traveling west.

Harrison had just pulled off the main road onto the service road when the crash occurred.

Tight Security Setup For LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Security measures for President Johnson's visit to the city Wednesday and Thursday are so tight that uniformed policemen assigned to watch the crowds are under orders not to turn for a moment to salute the President as his motorcades pass.

Several thousand uniformed men and detectives are assigned to protect the President under orders issued by Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

Johnson will address the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner Wednesday night and a political rally at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

Artist Slain During Walk; Suspect Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — Georgetown artist Mary Pinchot Meyer was shot to death Monday as she took a sunny afternoon walk along the path of an old canal where she often had strolled with Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Meyer, who would have been 44 Wednesday, was a niece of Gifford Pinchot, two-term governor of Pennsylvania, and the daughter of Amos Pinchot, a founder of the Bull Moose party.

Robbery apparently was the motive, police said.

Within an hour, Raymond Crump Jr., a 25-year-old Washington laborer recently released from a 60-day prison term for petty larceny, was arrested and charged with the slaying. A father of five, he denied the shooting.

SEARCH CANAL

Police found no purse or wallet and did not know if the victim, dressed casually in slacks and sneakers, was carrying one. Scuba divers searched the C&O Canal and the nearby Potomac River for the murder weapon.

At his arraignment Crump said: "I was down there fishing and lost my rod. I don't know what happened myself. I almost got shot myself."

U.S. commissioner Sam Werth ordered him held without bail.

Henry Wiggins, 24, told police he was driving his tow truck along the canal when he heard a scream and saw a woman struggling with a man. As Wiggins got out of his truck he heard two shots. When he reached the retaining wall above the canal he saw a man on the other side leaning over the woman.

The man stuffed something into his pocket, looked up at Wiggins and fled toward the river.

Police later found Crump, shivering and coatless, in the woods along the river side of the canal.

Success Sudden For Girl Singer

LONDON (AP) — In the land of the Beatles, singer Cilla Black is one of the few girls to offer any real competition to Britain's mop-headed musical males.

Until Cilla's recordings twice soared to the top of the Hit Parade this year, the nation's frantic, but highly profitable pop music world, had been dominated by boys, boys, boys and more boys.

The sudden success of Cilla, with her big goofy glasses, her marmalade-colored hair and bangs that resemble a well-worn barber shop whisk broom, is the story of a poor little girl who grabbed for a fairy doll — and got it.

Born Priscilla Maria Veronica White in a seamy street of one of Liverpool's tougher sections — where the Beatles also come from — she grew up in a small apartment over a neighborhood beauty parlor.

When her record of "Anyone Who Had a Heart" erupted in the record chart of big sales, and went ahead of the Beatles in February, her home didn't even have a telephone.

"Dad's a docker, or stevedore, if you want to be posh," Cilla explained to Liverpool reporters who, with difficulty, located her the morning her record hit the top of the pops. "You couldn't find me in the telephone directory because we can't afford a telephone."

BIG BUSINESS

Almost as sudden as the sudden successes of the beat groups and singers, phonograph records have become big business in Britain.

With several million working class teenagers making good money in the country's present era of almost unparalleled prosperity, the entertainment business has been revolutionized.

The luster of old established stars had dimmed, and the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, the Bachelors, the Animals, Cilla Black, Honey Lantree and others, have seized top billing and are scooping up the loose cash.

Just a short while ago Cilla Black was a typist for a Liverpool company manufacturing cables. She adored the new sound, the new singing, and she felt she could do it, too.

Into a smoky Liverpool cellar, where the young gather to entertain and be entertained, wandered Cilla. She caught the eye and ear of a very alert young man who knows the present market like a guitar knows a twang.

He was Brian Epstein, the man behind the Beatles.

He gave her an audition. Almost that quickly and simply a new star was born.

HEARS TUNE

In New York a few weeks later, Epstein heard a tune called "Anyone Who Had a Heart."

"That," he said to himself, "is for Cilla."

With Epstein's careful coaching she learned it, sang it into a recording microphone, and she was home and dry in Britain's pop world race.

It mattered little that an American girl, Dionne Warwick, had sung it and recorded it with an arrangement that was alarmingly like the one selected for Cilla.

Cilla was 21 on May 27. That week she topped the bill at the London Palladium, where most of the world's singing stars have performed.

Cilla is a real red head, 5 feet 5 inches tall, with a 19-inch waist and, according to her, an appetite like a horse. Her earnings — as much as $9,800 some weeks — can satisfy her appetite.

There are two versions as to why she is Cilla Black rather than her real name, Cilla White.

Her press agents say Black suits her singing better than White — whatever that means.

In an interview Cilla said a newspaper made a mistake calling her Black instead of White and she just let it stay.

She admits she had been lucky.

HITS TOP

When her record hit the top of the Hit Parade she was little known in Britain's pop world.

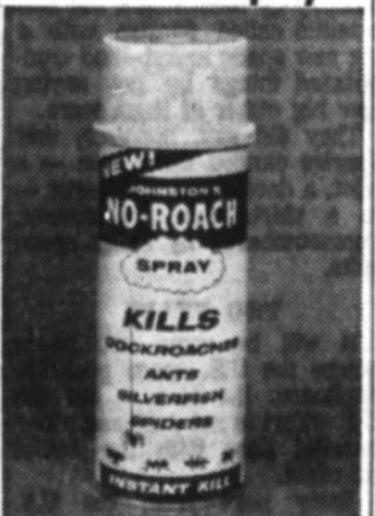

Three weeks before her success, she called backstage at a theater where a group called the Bachelors were performing.

"They wouldn't let me in," she explained. "They'd never heard of me."

Most everyone likes Cilla. But not part of the audience in the town of Cromer in April. She got a few jeers. She didn't take them though.

"If you don't like the show," she shouted from the stage, "go to the manager and get your money back and go home and gas yourselves."

'Tug-Of-War' On For Bargain Bike

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Two determined, young mothers, battling over an English-made bicycle on sale for $10 planted their feet on the bike today for a second day of their "tug-of-war."

Mrs. Roger Edwards and Mrs. Merwyn Pasco, who both like to ride, held onto the bright blue racer for 12 hours Monday and declared they would do the same today, if necessary, "as a matter of principle."

GET COMFORTABLE

Today, store manager Melvin Smith made them comfortable in lawn chairs in a corner of his store and supplied newspapers and coffee. Mrs. Pasco propped her legs on the rear wheel, and Mrs. Edwards put her feet on the front wheel.

"We feel he should be man enough to give us each one, in view of the publicity," Mrs. Pasco told a reporter.

"I never interfere with two women shoppers," said Smith, grinning.

Mrs. Edwards, mother of four and wife of an assistant master mechanic at a paper mill, told a reporter: "There's no quarrel actually, but being a woman, I'm very stubborn."

She said that a bike owned by her daughter Joy, 15, had been stolen during the summer and that Joy had laid claim to the new bike first. But then, she said, the store announced it was for sale only to persons over 18. Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Pasco then laid claim.

They discovered they were both Presbyterians and had friends in common, but this didn't change the "principle," they said.

MOTHER OF 2

Mrs. Pasco, mother of two and wife of the operator of an automobile service station, said her bike "broke in half" last summer and she liked to ride with her 11-year-old daughter and 6-year-old son.

Mrs. Edwards said she rode five miles every morning.

Both women are in their 30s. And how do their husbands feel? Impartial, said Mrs. Pasco.

Mrs. Edwards said: "They took one look last night and walked off and left us. Like most husbands, I guess."

2 Americans Killed In Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 100 Vietnamese government and Communist troops were reported killed in a battle in Tay Ninh Province.

Two U.S. Army men and a Vietnamese officer also were killed in a land mine explosion 28 miles northeast of Saigon, bringing the total American dead in combat in Viet Nam to 203 since 1961.

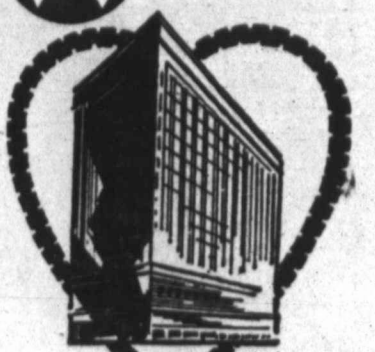

U.S. military sources said an understrength government battalion was bivouacked near Go Dau Ha, 40 miles northwest of Saigon, when heavy Communist fire raked their position two hours before dawn.

As government forces rallied to meet the attack, artillery positions at Go Dau Ha poured about 100 rounds on the Communists.

Reports from the scene said 46 Viet Cong bodies were left on the battlefield and 11 Viet Cong were captured.

Government forces lost 28 dead, 38 wounded, and 32 missing.

Tremendous Fire-Power

Pilots of the F-104 jet interceptor aircraft at Webb Air Force Base have in their hands 10 times the fire-power of World War Two machine-gun-equipped fighter aircraft. Lt. Col. Michael W. Shareck Jr., commander of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB, said two of the F-104 jet interceptors assigned to his Air Defense Command unit are now equipped with the Vulcan 20 millimeter automatic cannon. The six-barreled weapon has a maximum rate of fire of 6,000 rounds per minute. Vulcan, the world's fastest firing cannon, has borrowed two design features from the famous Gatling gun which became a revolutionary weapon during the Civil War. The Vulcan cannon, like the Gatling gun, has a rotating cluster of barrels and is externally driven. The Vulcan is mounted on the left side of the F-104 Starfighter just below and behind the cockpit and is fired by a trigger on the pilot's control stick. Col. Shareck expects that the remainder of his aircraft will be equipped with the Vulcan by early spring.

Barry Says Foe Neglecting Duty, Politicking Full-Time

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today that President Johnson is neglecting his duties for "full-time politicking" that "turns Sunday into campaign chaos."

The Republican presidential nominee referred to a campaign trip Sunday by Johnson that included a visit to a church in Phoenix, Ariz., Goldwater's hometown.

Goldwater said the President had "visited church after church and city after city in a political travesty of the Lord's day."

After a quick flight here from Phoenix to open a new week of campaigning, the Arizona senator renewed his demands that Johnson agree to a televised debate.

"If the man who now occupies the White House wants to be more of a full-time President between now and election day, there is a way," Goldwater said.

TV DEBATE

The way, he said, is a nationally televised debate that "could be taped, so as to avoid the possibility of Mr. Johnson making a mistake that might jeopardize national security."

Goldwater added, "It could be done at a time and place of his choosing, so as to permit him to spend more time at his desk."

Topeka was the first stop in a new week of campaigning, followed by a visit to Des Moines and a night rally in Milwaukee.

The senator, in a televised interview Monday night, said he felt the "Bobby Baker case" was hurting the President more than anything else and that the Republican ticket was beginning to draw more support from the voters.

"Our polls that we saw Sunday show us now over the 40 per cent mark in almost every state," he said.

Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, once was a Johnson protégé. He resigned last year when his wide-ranging financial activities were revealed.

Goldwater said that the issue most damaging to his campaign was "the outright lie that I am trigger happy."

"But I think that is being overcome by just people stopping to think that no man, particularly no American, is ever going to push the button."

In his Topeka speech, Goldwater said, "We face full-time responsibilities — around the world, full-scale challenges. But not once do we hear of them from our part-time President.

"He gives us handshakes and handouts."

"KISSES BABIES"

"He directs traffic and kisses babies rather than directing our foreign policy. He turns Sunday into a day of campaign chaos and the other days of the week into days of rest — so far as our foreign policy is concerned."

Dealing with the crisis in Southeast Asia, Goldwater said, "requires more than a 10 minute stopover between street caravans."

Texas Swing For President

By The Associated Press
New vote appeals will be made to Texans by both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Johnson will be host at a barbecue Sunday at his Central Texas Ranch for Texas leaders working in his behalf. He will go to Laredo and Corpus Christi for talks later in the day.

The President will speak Monday morning in San Antonio, attend a noon rally in Fort Worth and deliver a night speech in Dallas. It will be his first visit in Dallas since President Kennedy was slain last Nov. 22.

Johnson Vows To Keep Up Torrid Pace Until Nov. 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, elated over the results of his first full-scale campaign trip, says he will maintain a torrid pace until the Nov. 3 election.

It's not that Johnson fears defeat. But he makes clear he doesn't want to leave anything to chance — and big crowds prove a powerful lure for him.

The President returned to Washington early today from Boise, Idaho, last stop on a six-day, 10,000-mile campaign trip through 15 states from shore to shore.

He will be hitting the trail again Wednesday for two days in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

After that he'll be off for Ohio, then, Texas and, very likely, other Western states.

Stumping through the Rocky Mountain states Monday, Johnson took direct aim at Barry Goldwater, the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society.

Goldwater was a target in every appearance, but never by name; he was "our opponent" or "one candidate."

At Boise, Johnson said there may be no second chance for a president.

"The President of the United States has to be right the first time, and if he is not right the first time, there may be no second time for him to change his views or explain them or correct them, or there may be no time for the nation to change its choice."

LBJ Called 'Chameleon'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon says President Johnson is a "Texas chameleon" who has changed his philosophy over the years.

Nixon said at a Republican rally Monday night that Johnson's selection of Sen. Hubert Humphrey as his running mate indicated the administration would veer to the left if elected. He called Humphrey a "dedicated radical."

The former vice president said Americans are beginning to see Sen. Barry Goldwater as a man who "is reasonable and responsible and has programs for America."

Praise the Lord! Sing to the Lord a new song, his praise in the assembly of the faithful! (Psalms 149:1, RSV)

A Remarkable Achievement

Russia has achieved the rather remarkable feat of putting three men into orbit in space.

Whether this operation is the prototype of a lunar capsule is not known on this side of the Iron Curtain, but the presence of a crew of three in the space apparatus argues that it is a major step in that direction. Our own plans call for at least three men in the lunar capsule when we attempt our journey to the moon.

All of which should lay at rest the interpretations of some that Russia was withdrawing from space exploration. As has been pointed out before, all that Khrushchev said in regard to this matter was to infer that Russia wasn't racing.

Orbiting three men certainly doesn't automatically mean that the intricate equipment and skill are now available for a try at the moon, but it does mean that for someone not racing, Russia is setting a pretty hot pace. Space scientists who have been telling us that Russia would come up with a big surprise can now say "I told you so." They might well add that this may not be the last surprise, though the final story is not told in single incidents.

Perils Of Pollsters

A nip-and-tuck race between the Conservatives and the Labor Party for control of the next Parliament has put Britain's professional political pollsters on the spot. A wrong call is not likely to be forgotten, especially if it is made by the ubiquitous Gallup poll. The credibility of the Gallup polls in the U. S. presidential campaign is partly at stake.

All is confusion among the British pollsters at this point. Some show the Tories a few percentage points ahead of Labor, others come up with an opposite result. The Sept. 27 Gallup Poll showed the incumbent Tories 1/2 point ahead. But the Oct. 4 Gallup tally showed the Labor Party forging into a 4 1/2 point lead.

British politicians say such a large weekly swing in opinion simply does not take place. They are inclined to attribute the swing to deficiencies in polling techniques. Either the kind of sample taken was unrepresentative or the depth of questioning was inadequate.

Inadequate or not, the Gallup soundings released on Oct. 4 threw a scare into the Conservatives. Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home hurried back to London from a whistle-stop tour of Scotland to confer with Conservative Party strategists. Conservative spokesmen started unleashing personal attacks on Labor Party leaders in hope of influencing undecided voters.

The latest polls also caused stocks to take a heavy battering on the London exchange.

Even with these alarms, few Britons seem willing to call a plague upon all the pollsters' houses. The Economist points out that if there had been no such thing as public opinion polls, most people would still be expecting a Labor victory on the scale indicated by last spring's local elections, equivalent to a Labor lead of 10 per cent or more in the total British vote.

American reservations about the role of political polls have been conditioned by their failure to call correctly the outcome of the 1948 presidential race. Virtually every public opinion poll gave the election to Thomas E. Dewey, but the people voted for Harry S. Truman.

Dr. George Gallup recently told an interviewer that the mistake in 1948 was that polling organizations quit polling in the middle of October under the belief that opinions don't change much from the start to the finish of a campaign. Since the 1948 debacle pollsters continue right up to election day.

Marquis Childs Campaigning In The FDR Style

CAMPAINING WITH PRESIDENT JOHNSON—A working definition of euphoria is: A state of well-being, exuberance, elation, readily communicated to others. This will do as a description of the state of Lyndon Baines Johnson as he perfects his own fast, furious campaign style.

WITH ALL the indicators showing without exception a Johnson-Humphrey sweep the question is why he should keep up so relentless a pace as he whirrs across the country. The obvious answer that occurs to anyone in orbit with him is simple—he loves it. Whether it is the magic of the Presidency, his homespun personality, the rainbow of the promises he holds out or a combination of all these, his crowd appeal is proven day after day.

Not only does he get an enormous satisfaction out of meeting the people, but anyone following him as he strides along an airport fence can tell that they do, too. Their faces light up. Hands are outstretched and a chorus of eager voices rises as he bestows a grin and a handshake. In short, he sends them.

THE MODEL campaigner whom Mr. Johnson speaks of with something like awe is Franklin Roosevelt. In his formative political years, as he is fond of relating, a young man with an insatiable desire to learn and apply the lessons of power, he observed FDR who was then the master of his craft.

The knowledge he stored up as a fledgling he uses today with often an uncanny sense of imitation of his model. This reporter followed FDR in three campaigns and as LBJ perfects his style you hear the same cadences, the same kind of appeal.

IT IS SIMPLER, more homely, the poor boy from the arid Southwest as compared to the privileged, well-born son of one of the old Dutch patroon families. But the similarity is unmistakable and Johnson is proud to acknowledge his debt to the past. He can quote from memory the last climactic lines of FDR's great Madison Square Garden speech winding up the 1936 campaign.

Not only in manner and tone but in strategy, too, this campaign is uncannily close to that of '36, which produced the Roosevelt landslide of 63 per cent of the popular vote and every state but Maine and Vermont. LBJ has learned the basic political lesson—to single out at most three or four essential themes and hammer repeatedly on them at every opportunity. This is what Roosevelt did in 1936, as in almost every speech he talked of how the New Deal had brought at least the beginning of the end of the great depression.

IN INDIANA and again at Cleveland the President added up for his crowds the score of government benefits from Roosevelt through Truman and Kennedy. Then—another FDR trademark—he told them that the opposition, if it is not overwhelmingly rejected on November 3, will take all these gains away.

The major Johnson themes of peace and prosperity are unscathed with an appeal to unity. The pronoun "we" occurs frequently in Johnson speeches as does the phrase "you and I." Now and then when he reads a badly written script he sounds like a bulldozer. But in his best extemporaneous state, he is masterful.

Billy Graham

In the Bible God created Adam and Eve. Now we believe or think that this man and woman were white. My question is: where did the colored people come from? K.L.

It is interesting that you should think that Adam and Eve were white. Orientals think of Adam and Eve as being colored. The truth is: we are all so race-bound that we think in the color of our own skins. This is natural, but hardly logical. The race problem will never be solved until we begin to see things through the eyes of the other person, and other races.

We naturally think of Jesus as being white. Many paintings of Christ show Him to be white, but the truth of the matter is: people reared in the hot sun of Palestine are a swarthy color—or light brown—and our Savior must have had a skin color similar to the people of that region.

Where did the colored people come from? From the same place we did: from the hand of our Creator, and to despise them, or for them to despise us, is to despair of God's handiwork.

Great Volunteer

CORBIN, Ky. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Roy Manning was touring the courthouse lawn to round up a jury panel. One man volunteered his services immediately.

When Judge Morten Bennett entered the courtroom, he spotted the man seated in the jury box and asked: "What's he doing there?"

"He volunteered to serve," the deputy explained. "Get him out of there," the judge roared, "He's the man on trial!"

Russians Stick Nose In Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians stick their nose into American presidential campaigns every four years directly, indirectly or accidentally.

It was direct enough last July when Sen. Barry Goldwater won the Republican nomination and Premier Khrushchev accused him of trying "to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

And the Russian leader likened the Republican convention to a Nazi party rally. Khrushchev has been quiet since. But now Russia has quiet three men aloft in a space capsule circling the earth and outdoing anything this country ever attempted.

It isn't clear whether they had to do this right now for scientific reasons, hoped it might add to the wrangle between President Johnson and Goldwater, or just didn't care.

It's not the first time they did this kind of thing in the midst of a campaign. They did it in 1960, when they orbited two dogs. Not to be outdone, the United States shot three mice 650 miles aloft before the campaign was over.

YET, WHAT the Russians did then was like a quiet afterthought to a bad year that got off to a pleasant start.

In 1960 President Eisenhower and Khrushchev not only exchanged Happy New Year greetings but arranged for Eisenhower to visit Russia in June. Then the roof fell down, or rather the American U2 spy-plane did.

The Russians shot it out of the sky over their motherland in May.

In quick order that month Khrushchev broke up the Paris summit meeting with Eisenhower, denounced him, called off the President's 'rip to Russia, and called Democratic party leaders in this country.

He said "broad sections of the (American) public and many prominent political figures in the United States are seriously concerned" about the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy.

ONE OF those receiving the cablegram was Lyndon B. Johnson, then Democratic leader of the Senate and hopefully but unsuccessfully, as it turned out, seeking the Democratic presidential nomination which John F. Kennedy got.

Johnson denounced the Khrushchev message, saying it was an attempt to divide Americans and cripple their bipartisan foreign policy. This didn't keep Khrushchev from getting further mixed up in the American political pot which was coming to a boil.

On June 21 he was expressing hope Americans would elect a president and government that would remedy what he called the mistakes of the Eisenhower administration. He was rebuked for this by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter who accused him of interference in American internal affairs.

Then on July 13 Khrushchev expressed his opinions to a visiting American—Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union—on Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The vice president had debated Khrushchev in a Moscow display kitchen in 1959.

CURRAN SAID Khrushchev disparaged Nixon but thought Kennedy made "some sense." If this seemed like favoritism, it didn't last long. He had some more to say in August in a speech hoping Americans would elect a president whose policy called for improving relations with Russia.

Memories Your Friend

NEW YORK (AP)—Money may vanish, love may fly, but memory always remains.

It never deserts you. It never goes bankrupt. It is life's most constant friend.

And you've known a lot of living if you can look back and remember when—

You had to have a button hook to put on a pair of shoes.

Al Jolson was more popular than any three entertainers you can think of today.

Everybody in the gang envied you when you came down with a case of measles, and could have ice cream whenever you liked.

You could impress a girl by taking her for a trolley ride out to the end of the line and back.

Most butcher shops and saaloons had sawdust on the floor. But you could always tell a butcher on the job from a bartender—because the butcher wore a straw hat and had a pencil behind his ear.

Only little old ladies preferred closed coupes. Most families owned big open touring cars.

A mother worried that her son had fallen into the clutches of the devil if a neighbor reported he had seen the lad pitching pennies at a sidewalk crack on Sundays after church.

America was strictly a "Saturday Night" land. Only the rich or the uncaring poor ever went out on the town any other night of the week.

If you wanted ice, you put up a sign on a front porch pillar so the iceman would know.

A romeo was called "a sheik." A "cakeater" was a young fellow who wore a pork pie hat, sideburns, a tight jacket, and wide-bottomed trousers.

Old maids felt skittish about taking a trip by Pullman car, because they would have to sleep in a car with strange men.

Every porter was called "George" because that was the first name of the man who founded the Pullman company.

A hostess considered her dinner a failure if her guests didn't consume at least three big bowls of thick gravy.

A man who couldn't read at least some Latin and Greek was hardly considered educated.

When farmers decided they needed a stronger pair of glasses, they went to the dime store and fitted themselves.

No one thought of throwing away a pair of shoes unless they had been half-soled at least twice.

Half the men in America had never tasted lipstick and were against women wearing it.

The average mother would rather catch her son chewing tobacco than smoking a cigarette.

A family was coming up in the world if it could afford a genuine brass bed.

There didn't seem to be much future for a girl who couldn't learn how to make good fudge.

Those were the days. Remember?

Some Ways Of Dealing With Bad Breath

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Here is a sensitive subject, bad breath, but no one talks about it, and its causes and what can be done about it. Can you suggest something? My teeth are excellent. I have tried mouth washes, lemon juice in the morning, and special tooth pastes.—L.M.

Mouth washes and tooth pastes aren't, for the most part, of more than trifling use. They're good enough, that is, if breath odor is only mild and temporarily less than ideal.

Here are points on how to deal with the problem:

1—Is the breath really bad, or are you oversensitive about it?

2—Do you customarily eat foods that leave odors? If you are an onion and garlic lover, don't expect to have a breath like a baby's.

3—Ditto for smoking.

4—Or drinking. Even casual drinkers sometimes acquire quite an odor.

5—Teeth. Yes, a toothbrush helps. And regular dental care to prevent or correct cavities or (a frequent cause) disease of the gums, is imperative. But food particles can be trapped in between perfectly sound teeth, and decay there, and resist the most assiduous brushing. This is one of the very common causes of bad breath, and the answer isn't very difficult. Use dental floss to clean between the teeth.

6—How's your nose? Most bad breath originates in the mouth, nose or throat. Catarrh, postnasal discharge or "drip," chronic infections and such disorders of the nose may need attention.

7—Infected tonsils (and adenoids) can be contributors. Have you had your doctor look at them?

8—A "sour" odor can be a clue if digestive disorders are involved. This is not a frequent cause, but it can occur.

9—Lung and throat diseases can cause fetid odor, but the other causes are far more frequent. Bronchiectasis is one possibility.

In short, remember that mouth, nose and throat are the commonest sources—not just the mouth, but all three.

Dear Dr. Molner: While high-jumping, my daughter injured the cartilage in her knee. The doctor advises the removal of the injured part. He said there was a chance it might get better by just resting it, but that the surgery should be performed within a year. I would like your opinion.—MRS. M. Y.

Such surgery is done frequently for cartilage injuries, and a functional joint—one which works, that is—results. Many professional athletes, for example, have this sort of operation.

For facts about the total health of you and each member of your family, Dr. Joseph G. Molner's new book, "Stay Well Every Year Of Your Life," ($5.95) is now available at your book store.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Do-It-Himself Project

The stories in Sunday's Herald about the early days of this newspaper bring back vivid memories of some of the newspapers where I used to work.

From what the oldtimers in the shop here wrote, I figure The Herald, in its infant days, was a modern luxury plant compared to some of the newspapers I knew.

For example, there was an old Woodstock typewriter I used for four years. The spring which caused the line shift to flip out of the way had long disappeared when I inherited that battered machine one dreary spring night in 1923.

MY PREDECESSOR had been inventive and wrapped a clutter of rubber bands in a manner that would serve for the long departed spring. When that newspaper folded up four years later that same old Woodstock was on my desk and the latest of a long line of rubber bands was flipping the line shift back to neutral.

For six weeks, I was editor, reporter, sports writer, society editor, proof reader and wire editor—in fact the entire staff of that newspaper.

I worked out a lot of tricks to save time. I made a hatful of carbon copies, for example, to record obituaries. These began with three blank spaces, a comma, another blank space, a comma and the words "died" followed by two blanks. And so on through the routine form that such reports take. When I called on the local undertaker, I filled in the blanks with a pencil, "John Ralph Doak, 44, died etc. etc." and sent it on down to the typesetter.

I DIDN'T have to worry too much about answering the phone. The publisher, often, was so far behind with his phone bill that we got cut off. The phone company used to go along for a little while permitting incoming calls, but banning those originating in the office. If the publisher didn't make a little contribution to the bill, they'd cut off the incoming calls, too. It was not convenient to be phone-less but there were goodhearted characters who lent a hand. A friend would hear of some news event and drop in to tell me. I'd dash off, grab what few facts I could and race back to the office.

I FINALLY got one reporter. He was an old timer in the community and had only one bad habit, periodically he would decide to get drunk. When Jack went on a drunk, he was out of the picture never less than three and sometimes as much as six weeks.

I remember one happy occasion. The county fair was opening. There was a murder trial under way in the district court. An important federal case was being heard at the Federal Building. There was a district convention of some civic club to be held.

I went to the office on that Monday and saw Jack—the signs were plain. Three hours later he had disappeared for four weeks.

HOW I GOT around all of the things to be checked I do not remember. I do have one pleasant memory. The United States district attorney, who had been sent from Minnesota to prosecute the federal case, was a real good Joe.

I told him of my plight and he said: "Well, I'll tell you what let's do—each night after court recesses, give me a call, at the hotel. I'll fill you in on what has developed."

AND HE DID. Not only did he tell me what had happened that day—he gave me the inside dope on what some of the more obtuse testimony meant. The result was I had jim dandy coverage on that case.

He made one requirement: "Don't tell anyone," he warned "where you are getting your information."

I didn't and this is the first time I've told it. In view of the fact that this was all more than 40 years ago, I don't think it will embarrass him now.

Nobody Talks About The Losers

MONTREAL—A big loser is never much fun; he has had bad luck, and the same people who mumble that visiting the sick in hospitals depresses them will become uncomfortable and turn to another subject when the talk turns to big losers.

Ill fortune rubs off, and if some luckless chap can lose everything he's managed to scratch together, then the same thing might happen to you. The same psychology works with the winners. If they can strike it rich they have proved it is possible, and anybody can do it. So what people talk about is winners—not losers.

ALL OVER Ontario you will hear about the good luck of Neddo Braganolo, and a few others who hit it big in Canada's feverish mining boom last spring and summer, but you will seldom hear a word about the thousands who were coldly and methodically plucked when penny mineral stocks first went through the ceiling and then, many of them, as quickly crashed into the sub-basement.

No, what you hear is about that lucky stiff Neddo, a small-time real estate operator who hit it so big in the Timmins strike that nowadays he says he hasn't really got any idea how much he's worth, and people believe him.

THE LEGEND of Neddo Braganolo's fabulous luck has all but obscured the reality that it is so much less romantic and so much less useful to people of small talent who spend their lives in large dreams. The fact is that Neddo, an ex-pro from Canada's savage hockey wars, created his own good luck by being in the right place, that is to say Timmins, Ont., at the right time, which was last winter and spring, and by having the brains to know that something big was afoot.

A Package For The Conservatives

WASHINGTON — It is within the character of American conservatives that they are slow to change an existing order, and only under unbearable provocation.

The Declaration of Independence states this doctrine: "... all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed."

RANDOLPH OF Roanoke reaffirmed it: "This is a cardinal principle... never, without the strongest necessity, to disturb that which is at rest."

Thus the clock runs slowly for Barry Goldwater, and a sapient Southern editor, Malcolm Johnson of the Tallahassee Democrat, suggests a way to speed it up. He proposes that Goldwater lay out a positive program for careful, measured, Constitutional reform that would be offered to the people and backed by a Goldwater Administration. The following Amendments to the Constitution must be immediately advocated by the Arizona campaigner:

1. A REDEFINITION of the phrase "establishment of religion" to assure the "right to pray."

2. An underwriting by the Federal Government of Social Security and agricultural disaster programs, locking them up against default.

3. Define the Federal authority to provide electric power through TVA and REA, but make it unconstitutional for TVA to sell farm products such as fertilizer and for REA to lend money for frivolities such as ski-lift construction.

4. ESTABLISH the judicial doctrine of stare decisis (adherence to precedent) as a limitation on the Federal Courts. Federal judges would get one chance, and only one, to interpret a law. Only the legislative branch would be permitted to legislate, and the whimsical or topical decisions of tribunals would not recur.

Many, and maybe most, Americans feel "in their hearts" that Goldwater is right, but it's their innate conservatism—the tendency "to suffer, while evils are sufferable"—which stands in the path of change. Goldwater is a fundamentalist, not a reactionary, but he hasn't yet put his philosophy into a handy, salable package. His campaign still needs to be shaped so that people can grasp it by the handle.

"MIND YOU, I think he's right," an Iowa farmer told Political Analyst Samuel Lubell. "We'd be better off now if the Government had gotten out of farming at the end of World War II..." An Illinois farmer told Lubell, "We ought to get back to supply and demand..."

But both these conservative voters, probably speaking for millions of others, were leaning against Goldwater as of October 5th. They were not quite ready to vote their own convictions and his.

Guild Begins World Study

The Martha Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church began a new course of study Monday evening following a dinner and "Call to Prayer" offering in Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. M. R. Turner gave the invocation, and Mrs. Roberta Gay, spiritual life chairman, and Mrs. Miller Harris explained the purpose of the prayer offering. They said it assisted in home missions and the newly-created pension fund for natives. Following the hymn service, members made their offering and assembled in the parlor for the program where prayer was led by Mrs. Ruby Martin, guild president.

Mrs. Lina Flewelling, study leader, gave a preface to the study book, "The Nation of the Kingdom," by Charles A. Forman. She spoke of the changes in the formation of new nations as they seek recognition and the influence of their religious beliefs in the national movement.

Standing before a world map, Miss Twila Lomax spoke on "The Gospel World Missions" as she designated areas in Asia and Africa to be studied. Assisting her in giving data and statistics concerning these nations were Mrs. Oma Anderson, Mrs. Ruby Rowe, Mrs. E. J. Cass, Mrs. W. R. Yates and Mrs. Jewell Kuykendall.

Hostesses to the 28 attending the dinner were Mrs. Harris, Miss Gladys Burnham, Mrs. Cass, Mrs. Paul W. Guy and Mrs. Fryar III.

Who else but Rudi Gernreich of topless bathing suit fame would have the courage to match striped wool stockings with wool double-knit striped sheath; or make polka dot wooly socks to match the coin dotted scarf worn with wool knit pullover and a striped skirt?

Stand Out In Crowd In Chic, Brave Knits

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Grandma had the knitting needles and the sense to wear woolies down to her toes and up to her nose. She even liked awning stripes and big bold dots.

What Grandma didn't do was put all this together, as California designer Rudi Gernreich did this year, into a bold knit-wear fashion for intrepid misses who hate to be missed in the crowd. But then if she had, she would have been way ahead of her time.

For some time now knitting mills have been able to do a lot of things with their needles that neither grandma or any other nimble knitter could do. And they did it faster and cheaper.

Yet until recently the designers stuck to the tried and true knitting, using classic patterns with no more variety than a change in trim or a collar line and color. This policy eliminated a lot of potential knitwear customers who liked pleats or a bit of flare here and there. Part of the problem was technological, and that has been solved given time enough and scientific study.

Now a mechanical knitter can whip up anything, faster indeed than the couturiers in Paris and America can think up new style ideas to challenge them.

Some wool knits do not even look like knits, although they still maintain their stretch comfort, non-wrinkle quality and easy pack-ability.

But nobody minds if they do. The most complimentary of all compliments to wool knits, in fact, is that plain old wool sometimes tries to copy that look.

An informal mixer was held Monday by Mu Kappa Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha in the home of Mrs. E. H. Lawhon, 3686 Calvin. A political theme entitled, "Go All the Way with E.S.A.," was used in the decorative theme for the first in a series of rush parties.

Placards were displayed throughout the house, and campaign stickers were used as name tags for the guests. They were Mrs. Jack Wilson, Mrs. Eugene Westback, Mrs. Billy Massingill, Mrs. Clair Snell, Mrs. Woody Rutledge, Mrs. Vernon Farmer, Mrs. Alan Alexander and Mrs. Gene Burrow. The group played a word game, and prizes were awarded Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Westback, Mrs. J. W. Dickens and Mrs. Alexander, who also won the door prize. Refreshments were served at a linen covered table centered with an arrangement of yellow jonquils and appointed in crystal and silver.

Lamesa Banks Report Gains

LAMESA (SC) — October bank deposits and loans posted surprising gains over a year ago and banking officials termed the increases "a bit unusual" for this time of the year.

Deposits in First National and Lamesa National Banks totaled $25,146,866 while loans were $24,402,614 and $17,711,953.

Bill David, vice president of LNB, said, "We were a little surprised considering the dry year, but additional leasing of land and increased oil activity had a lot to do with the increase. Without the new oil activity, I feel sure there would have been a drop in deposits."

G. Richard Crawley, president of First National, observed that dryland farmers had not been forced with as much tail-end costs on the 1964 cotton crop.

City's Water Suit To Be Tried In Austin Wednesday

A lawsuit by the City of Big Spring against the Big Spring State Hospital concerning water supplied to the hospital is scheduled for trial in 53rd District Court in Austin Wednesday.

The suit was filed by the city Sept. 27, 1963, as an effort to revise rates upward for the water provided to the hospital.

The original water contract dates back to 1937 and does not include a specific expiration date. Under the contract, the city provides water to the hospital at the rate of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The case was first scheduled for trial in March but was passed, with later efforts to settle the case out of court failing.

Key question in the lawsuit involves whether the contract signed in 1937 is considered in perpetuity or whether the contract does not bind the present city commission.

The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools will be represented by the attorney general's office. City Attorney John Burgess left today for Austin to represent the city.

Woman Injured In Car Accident

One person was injured in a two-car accident at Fourth and Johnson Streets about 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Wallace D. Gaines, Brownwood, was taken to Cowper Clinic-Hospital and treated and released after the accident, according to hospital officials.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Wallace D. Gaines, when the accident occurred. The Gaines car collided with a car driven by Milton L. Kirby, 1607 E. 5th St., with an estimated $350 damages to each car, according to police.

Supper Planned

A family night supper is planned for 6:30 p.m. today at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Jerry M. Newbold Jr., of the Presbyterian School for Children at Itasca, will speak. Each family attending is to bring a salad or a vegetable dish. Everyone interested is urged to come.

Sponsors of the dance are Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wanner, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Merrell, and Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Henry. Although the club has had up to 75 members, it now has about 50. Wood is currently teaching the teenagers, and Connally and Fleckenstein have been instructors in the past.

Clubbers Elect Officer Slate

GAY HILL—The Gay Hill 4-H Club met at the school at 7:30 p.m. Monday, with the election of officers taking up a portion of the business session. Mrs. Catherine Crawford, Howard County Home Demonstration agent, and John Brandenburg, assistant county agent, were present.

Sharon Harrison was elected president of the club; vice president is Terry Hanson; Martha Couch, secretary; Jane Murphy, reporter; Annette Couch and Brenda Jackson, recreational leaders; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Murphy, adult leaders.

Connally Wary On Four States

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gov. John Connally said today that Barry Goldwater's campaign is slipping but that President Johnson still has trouble in four Southern states.

Connally told a news conference at the Southern Governors' Conference that his informants indicate Johnson "might well lose" Louisiana and is trailing in Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

"I don't mean he will be a shoe-in in the other Southern states," Connally said.

GOOD MARGIN Connally predicted Johnson would carry Texas with from 55 to 59 per cent of the vote. "I consider that a considerable margin," he said. "About 56 per cent would be 300,000 votes if we have a 2.3 million voter turnout. That is a substantial margin when you remember the Republicans carried Texas in 1952 and 1956 and the Democrats only carried the state by 46,000 votes in 1960."

Answering questions, Connally said he is led to believe he will get a substantially larger per cent of the Texas vote than the Democratic national ticket will receive. He said he did not think Johnson's Texas vote would be decreased because several prominent Texas Democrats, including former Gov. Allan Shivers, are supporting both Johnson and the Republican senatorial nominee, George Bush.

"There always has been a lot of ticket splitting in Texas," he said.

Connally said he had not been asked to speak in behalf of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, the Democrat.

Connally said he believed Goldwater's campaign has slipped recently in Texas in the same manner other Southern governors have reported from their states.

Scout Training Sessions Slated

Two Scout training sessions are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today. The Boy Scout leadership session will be held at the old student union building at HCCJ, with Melvin Coleman as instructor. This will include basic training for scoutmastership.

Capt. Hal Brown, Webb AFB, will conduct a basic session for Explorers at Withycombe Hall, at the base. He has been advisor for Post 1.

Teenage Dance Scheduled Today

The second anniversary dance of the Mates and Dates Teenage Square Dance Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the Big Spring Squares building. The dance will be free, and adults are invited. Callers will be Roger Fleckenstein, R. T. Joe Connally, and Bill Wood.

Sponsors of the dance are Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wanner, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Merrell, and Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Henry. Although the club has had up to 75 members, it now has about 50. Wood is currently teaching the teenagers, and Connally and Fleckenstein have been instructors in the past.

City Develops Tree Nursery

Development of the city parks department tree nursery is continuing. Parks Director Johnnie Johansen reported this week, with some 40-50 cubic yards of cotton burs deposited in the soil of the nursery within the past several weeks.

The burs will be part of a mulch to enrich the soil, Johansen said, with additional loads to be deposited as they are available from area bins. Additional bare-root trees will be planted in the nursery during January and February, in addition to the some 350 trees now planted.

By planting trees with roots bare, rather than in ball-and-burlap conditions, the cost of the trees will be considerably less, Johansen said.

About a half-acre is included in the tree nursery, located near the Moss Creek Road east of the city.

Three additional pieces of playground equipment will be installed in city parks this week. The climber and slide units will be placed in Hillcrest, Northside and City Park, Johansen said. They have been constructed by the city welder and were completed this week.

Planners also include addition of sprinkler systems to Hillcrest and a portion of City Park within the next few weeks. City park crews are presently trimming trees in various parks, Johansen reported.

Annual Drive

LAMESA (SC) — R. B. McAlister, Lubbock, will be the principal speaker for a kickoff rally of the Dawson County Community Chest campaign Oct. 13 in Forrest Park Community Center. Chest officials, civic club heads, volunteer workers and other key personnel will gather at noon to officially launch the 1964 campaign to raise $33,500 for nine participating agencies.

Two Damage Suits Filed

Two damage suits filed in 118th District Court here in recent days ask a combined total of nearly $160,000.

One of the suits grows out of an accident which occurred Feb. 23 on a road 16 miles west of Comudas, and is brought by Michael A. Skender, El Paso. He asks $133,642 compensation for injuries he and his son allegedly received in a collision with a car driven by Ernest Perkins and Robert J. Brown.

The second suit, brought by Domingo Castillo Jr., Beeville, names T. N. Filippin, 1300 Marjio, as defendant and grows out of a collision Nov. 29, 1963 at Sixth and Gregg. He asks $25,000.

Plan To Sponsor 'Maid Of Cotton'

Members of the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce voted this morning to sponsor a contestant to the South Plains Maid of Cotton competition in Lubbock in 1965.

Winner of this spring contest will represent this area in the Memphis, Tenn. national finals. Details of the local contest will be arranged later.

The committee also announced a fertilizer dealer short course which will be held in Lamesa on three Wednesdays—Nov. 11, 18, Dec. 2—for all persons interested. It is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and will be held in the Forest Park Community Center. Registration fee is $5.

Dear Abby

National Customs!

DEAR ABBY: I saw the bride's shoe passed at a wedding reception after the groom's best man knocked the bride over, sat on her, took her wedding veil off and put it on the groom's head backwards. I had no idea what was going on, and neither did the bride, but she looked very frightened. Later we learned it was an old German custom. This was at our daughter's wedding. We told her we didn't want anything passed around to take up a collection, but her husband took over and did things his way. We had nothing to do with what went on at the wedding. We just paid for it. Love your column.

BRIDE'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Passing the bride's shoe is an old Polish custom. There are other customs, too. My father, age 75, tells me that years ago a piece of the bride's china was set up against the wall and the guests threw silver dollars at it, trying to break it. (The silver dollars went to the bride and groom.) Each nationality has its own customs. I've attended Greek weddings where candy was passed in church, Italian weddings where they threw money instead of rice at the bride and groom, and German weddings where the bride was "kidnaped" and the groom had to pay to get her back. Instead of criticizing these customs, we should enjoy them. It's all in fun.

J.V.I.

DEAR ABBY: Passing the bride's shoe to collect money is an old French custom. It originated years ago when the wedding supper took place in the bride's home. The money collected is not for the bride and groom; it is for the cook! This is the way the guests show their appreciation for the fine wedding dinner.

MRS. K., LOWELL, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: Who but the Hungarians could have dreamed up the custom of passing the bride's shoe among the guests to collect money? It was all done good-humoredly, and each male guest who donated money had the privilege of dancing with the bride. The bride's shoe was "stolen" from her, so she had to dance in her stocking feet. And the object was to take turns dancing with her to keep her away from her husband as long as possible. If they could get the groom tipsy and wear the bride out, all the better. If you can't see the humor in this, you don't know Hungarians!

A HUNGARIAN IN N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: The person who was "SHOCKED" because the bride's shoe was passed around to collect money was definitely not Polish or she would have known the money collected was for the first baby's crib and clothes. This doesn't necessarily mean that the bride is "expecting"—but it's merely looking ahead.

POLISH IN MILWAUKEE

DEAR ABBY: Dropping coins in the bride's slipper originated in Yugoslavia many generations ago. Only small coins were donated as the object was not to collect "big" money. The purpose was to have the groom match the amount of money, and it was all a gift to the bride. It was to show that the husband was not fit broke and could well afford to take a wife.

Stocks In Britain Go Into Nose Dive

LONDON (AP) — A renewed wave of selling sent the stock market skidding today, apparently because of fears of a Conservative defeat in Thursday's national election. This came as the Tories mobilized their forces for a last-ditch effort to retain power in the face of the Labor party's determined challenge. Traders on the exchange picked up today where they left off Friday in a session that sent prices tumbling in the biggest wave of selling since the Cuba crisis of 1962. Market officials said the selling was brought on by fears of a Conservative defeat as opinion polls and bookmakers showed a drastic change in Labor party fortunes.

Negro Band Loots Shops

NEW YORK (AP) — Negro teenagers leaving a dance hall

Monday smashed display windows of two clothing stores and a jewelry shop and stole merchandise valued in excess of $11,000, police said. The rampage was in midtown Manhattan. The largest group of marauders, 10 to 20 strong, ripped the protective gate from a Broadway jewelry store across from the Palladium Ballroom and broke in two front windows. They lifted almost the entire contents of the display windows. Julius Israel estimated the loss at about $10,000. About 25 minutes later, four teenagers smashed the window of Kalnite Men's Wear and made off with clothing valued by the owner at about $1,000. Some 15 minutes after that, about six teenagers were seen hurling sanitation baskets through the two windows of the Martin - Burns Clothing Shop. They ran off with most of the windows' contents.

Pupil Aptitude Ruling Refused

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1964 7-A rule on a contention that school officials should be allowed to classify children "on the basis of educational aptitudes because the difference in aptitude is also a racial characteristic." The contention was made in an appeal by counsel for white students in Charleston, S.C. U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Martin of Greenville, S.C., refused to make findings on the contention when he ordered desegregation of Charleston schools.

Red Camps Vie In African 'Grab'

CAIRO (AP) — Russian and Chinese Communists have succeeded in sowing discontent, rebellion and bloodshed in Africa, but they have failed thus far in their main job of securing a solid foothold on the continent.

In the battle for Africa, serious rivalry has developed between the Russians and the Red Chinese. They are peddling different brands of communism and fighting each other for the territory — a struggle accentuated by their own ideological split.

Five years of Marxist propaganda, tantalizing offers of nearly a billion dollars in aid, thousands of Communist technicians, many scholarships and free trips behind the Iron Curtain have failed to produce a single Communist government in Africa.

MADE PILGRIMAGE

There are African governments practicing diluted forms of socialism. There are some Marxist-minded Cabinet ministers. Many African leaders have made the pilgrimage to Moscow and Peking. There is endless talk about "African socialism."

But there is no African state which could qualify as a member of the Communist bloc. Nor do the prospects seem bright.

Communism needs a base deep in central Africa to operate successfully against the rich, white-ruled lands in southern Africa. That is where the Red challenge is being made.

The Republic of the Congo — the former Belgian Congo — would be a handsome prize. Red China is supporting the rebellion against the central government of Premier Moise Tshombe there. In 1960 the Russians tried to move in on that government, then headed by Patrice Lumumba.

Chinese money and arms were behind the bloody and costly effort by Watutsi tribesmen to overthrow the government of neighboring Rwanda last December.

LAUNCH EMBASSY

The Chinese Reds have established an embassy of 27 members in Bujumbura, the country town capital of Burundi, just across the Congo's eastern border. Brazzaville, across the Congo River from Leopoldville, harbors more.

Only a few weeks ago Dr. Hastings Banda, prime minister of Malawi, the former Nyasaland, angrily told the world that his government had been offered $50 million to recognize the Peking government. In Malawi the Chinese would be within a few miles of Mozambique, Portugal's East African territory.

Subversion in the Congo has now reached the point where a "People's Republic" has been proclaimed in Stanleyville by the rebels. The "government" is headed by Christophe Gbenya, once a follower of Lumumba.

But Western diplomats do not give the people's republic of Stanleyville much chance of surviving. African nations which might have supported the rebel government have become wary. The Organization of African unity, a loose organization of delegates of the new African nations, has at least seen the threat which Red China's revolutionary methods poses to unity.

CHOU'S TOUR

The Sino-Soviet split undoubtedly is one reason for the increased activity of Peking in Africa. Premier Chou En-lai of Red China made a strenuous African tour during the past year, and 14 African nations now have diplomatic relations with Peking.

The Soviet Union has exchanged diplomats with 26 African countries. China appears determined to impose her views on Africa to the exclusion of the Soviet Union's brand of communism.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, well aware of Chinese efforts in Africa, has been promising to visit countries in East Africa and West Africa for four years. But apparently the arduous journey still does not seem worthwhile to him.

Some African countries certainly have drawn benefits from help provided by Moscow and Peking and it is not inconceivable that Moscow or Peking one day will succeed in acquiring a genuine puppet state in Africa. But African leaders are jealous of their newly won independence.

Woman Voter Chief Target Of Laborite

LONDON (AP) — Like an actor developing a role, Labor party leader Harold Wilson carefully puts together campaigning touches aimed straight at the hearts and sympathies of women.

There is the red rosebud in his button-hole. He lets his gray hair grow longer now and is brushing it back in a dignified fatherly way. Yet his clothes have a more youthful cut.

In his speeches Wilson plays down the slicing sarcasm prominent in British political life and goes more for the light laugh.

Most appealing of all, the 48-year-old challenger for the prime ministry is making a studied effort to avoid being too glib. Sometimes he halts in the middle of a speech and stumbles over a word or two.

ELECTION NEAR

"Think how that appeals to the maternal instinct in women," one admiring party aide said as Wilson appeared to flounder for a moment with the lights glaring on him.

Whether Wilson becomes Britain's next prime minister depends to a considerable extent on how well he goes over with the ladies in the national election Thursday.

In a sense both Wilson and Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home are conducting a sort of mass romance with 13 million to 14 million women who represent roughly half the total anticipated turnout of voters.

The two men are only balloted on directly by the citizens in their respective parliamentary districts — Huyton near Liverpool for Wilson and Scotland's West Perthshire for Douglas-Home, the Conservative party leader. But both party headquarters believe the nationwide impact made by the two leaders largely will determine the outcome.

Wilson brings to the campaign a prodigious head for facts and figures and an appealing, modified North County accent — part Lancashire and part Yorkshire. Douglas-Home projects good will and the self-confidence of a nobleman.

Group Supports Tuition Hike At State Colleges

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Commission on Higher Education voted Monday to recommend that the legislature increase tuition at state-supported senior colleges and universities by $50 a semester.

This would double the tuition now paid by Texas residents. Only two dissenting votes were cast.

The commission recommended spending $457.1 million at the schools in the 1965-67 biennium.

Ray Fowler, commission finance examiner, said tuition is a small part of the total cost of attending a state school. The commission's staff estimated that the tuition increase would increase revenues $33 million.

The total legislative request includes $307.5 million for the 22 state senior colleges and universities. The commission previously asked for a supplemental appropriation of $5.9 million, with most of the request to be used for faculty salaries.

The total request for the colleges and universities is $114.4 million greater than that voted for the current biennium.

Dr. Harry Ransom, chancellor of the University of Texas system, said the fund recommended was a long step toward improving higher education in Texas, adding "I think that this meeting has been historic."

The commission also voted to eliminate the law school at Negro Texas Southern University in Houston by Sept. 1, 1967.

Vote Plan Bar Due Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed Monday to review a decision that Virginia's certificate-of-residence plan for voting in federal elections violates the federal Constitution.

The decision was given by a special three-judge federal court in Richmond. It was appealed to the highest tribunal by Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Patton of Virginia.

The Supreme Court did not set a date to hear argument on the appeal.

The plan was adopted in an emergency session of the Virginia Legislature in November 1963. It required voters who do not pay poll tax to file certificates of residence before elections. Voters who pay poll tax in local and state elections are not required to file the certificates.

Any Doubt About Reds In Moon Race Is Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any doubt that the Soviet Union is still in the moon race faded away Monday.

Sunrise — Voskhod — is the name of the new Soviet, three-man spaceship launched into orbit.

It points up these salient facts:

—The Soviet Union has a mighty new space rocket, probably designed strictly for space flight purposes.

—The Russians are systematically going about answering the crucial medical question of man's performance in space — to answer especially some of their worries about the wasting away of human bodies and life processes in weightlessness. —They likely have, or are developing, the ability to reach the moon and return, and to place in orbit around the earth a space laboratory or orbital military station.

Dr. Bernard M. Wagner, chairman of the pathology department of the New York Medical College and student of space medicine, told a meeting of U.S. space experts earlier this year the Soviets were worried about the effects of weightlessness on the ability of the human heart to function.

Wagner suggested that the Russians may be planning a large, multiman rotating space station for a 14-day endurance flight before the end of 1964.

Opening lead: King of ♥ My good friend and associate, John Gerber, Houston, led a loursome consisting of Margaret Wagar, Atlanta, and Dr. John Fisher and Emma Jean Hawes of Dallas to a photofinish triumph over a record turnout in the National Mixed Team-of-Four championships recently concluded in Toronto, Canada. A microscopic 1/4 of a point separated the first three teams. Today's hand, taken from a qualifying round of the event, reveals how East was able to capitalize on South's momentary carelessness to submerge the latter's four spade contract. South made a take-out double over the one heart opening bid, inasmuch as he had ample support for all suits, West raised his partner to two hearts and North chose to pass, altho we would not look with askance on a bid of two spades. Superficially, he has but six high card points; however, they are well distributed and there is no duplication in the opponents' heart suit. The pass places pressure on partner and he may be reluctant to compete further single handed. Fortunately, South had enough in reserve to bid two spades and, when North offered a delayed raise, he carried on to game. West opened the king of hearts and continued the suit, declarer ruffed the second round. South led the queen of spades and was permitted to hold the trick. He continued with a small spade and, when West showed out, the king was played from dummy to force out East's ace. A heart came back forcing declarer again, and he was now reduced to one trump, the jack. It was necessary to dislodge the ace of clubs and, when East got in with that card, a fourth round of hearts applied the finishing touch. South was obliged to trump with the jack of spades, and East's ten became established for the setting trick. Since it is necessary to let the defenders in twice while declarer is establishing his tricks, he must be careful to protect his trump holding from a fatal attack. When the queen of spades holds, South should continue with the jack-retaining North's king to complete the drawing of trumps if that suit does not break. This will counter the threat of repeated heart forces, for declarer safely can reserve his small spades for trumping purposes while he completes his chores.

Pioneer Gas President On National Assn. Board

C. I. Wall, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., with headquarters in Amarillo today was elected to the board of directors of the American Gas Association. He was named to a two-year term at the association's annual convention in Atlantic City.

C. I. WALL

The new A. G. A. director has been president of Pioneer Natural Gas since 1955, having moved up from executive vice president. He began his utility career in 1927 with the West Texas Gas Co., predecessor firm of Pioneer Natural Gas. While with West Texas he served as vice president and general manager, vice president in charge of operations and, in 1951, as president. In 1954, when Pioneer Natural Gas was organized, he was vice president of distribution and, later, executive vice president.

Wall is a director of the First National Bank of Amarillo, the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway and Amarillo Oil Company and Pioneer Production Corp. He is president and director of Pinaga, Inc., and the Amarillo Area Foundation, a trustee of the Institute of Gas Technology, a director of the High Plains Research Foundation, and the Texas Technological College Foundation, and a member of the State Affairs Committee of the Texas Manufacturing Association, and the International Oil and Gas Educational Center of the Southeastern Legal Foundation.

Harm Slight If Auto Strike Ceases Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's economy — outside General Motors itself — should be little hurt if the big auto company's strike ends soon.

If work resumes in another week or so, GM would push hard to speed production and get new model cars to dealers now hurting and worried. The company's suppliers, including the steel mills, would also work at top speed to send parts and materials.

Sweetheart

Terrye Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davidson and a senior in Big Spring High School, was elected Friday as the Vocational Industrial Club sweetheart. She is a second year, ICT student and works at Medical Arts Hospital as a nursing aid. She will represent the club at the District 1 meeting in San Angelo Oct. 24.

Harvest On Over Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Last week's cool, clear weather gave Texas farmers a chance to harvest mature crops and prepare land for planting next year's crops, the U. S. Agriculture Department reported Monday.

Steady winds, however, were drying moisture from late September rains, its weekly crop and weather report noted.

Cotton harvest was moving along after almost two weeks of inactivity, with 55 per cent of the state's crop gathered, compared to 38 per cent at this time a year ago.

Sorghum harvest moved up to 73 per cent complete, seven per cent behind last year's schedule. Nearly one-third of the peanut crop has been harvested, about the same as in 1963.

Wheat planters had a big week, and 65 per cent of the intended acreage now is in the ground. Oat planting also progressed.

Farm Drouth Aid Plan Tossed Into Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's farm drouth aid program has been tossed into the political campaign by the American Farm Bureau Federation, a critic of strong federal farm programs.

Department officials said only one factor has been taken into account in granting aid—actual need. The department's major aid is in the form of privileges to graze livestock or harvest hay on land which has been diverted from any use, other than conservation, and of buying government-owned surplus feed grains at reduced prices. The privilege of grazing or harvesting hay from land idled under a payment program has been extended to 1,047 counties in 28 states.

Grave Decision Faced By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI was faced today with deciding whether to intervene in the most critical struggle so far between progressives and conservatives in the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Administrators from the Vatican curia, plan to alter council action already taken on religious liberty, the Jews and the sharing of papal-episcopal power. They also said "traditionalist elements" want to end the council quickly so as to leave undebated a schema on such modern world problems as overpopulation and birth control. Pope John XXIII had faced a basic progressive-conservative clash from the very first week of the council in 1962. Joseph Cardinal Frings of West Germany was one of the progressive leaders then who insisted that the 12 council commissions be filled by a vote of all 2,500 council members, rejecting a slate packed with conservatives that the council directorate tried to rush into office.

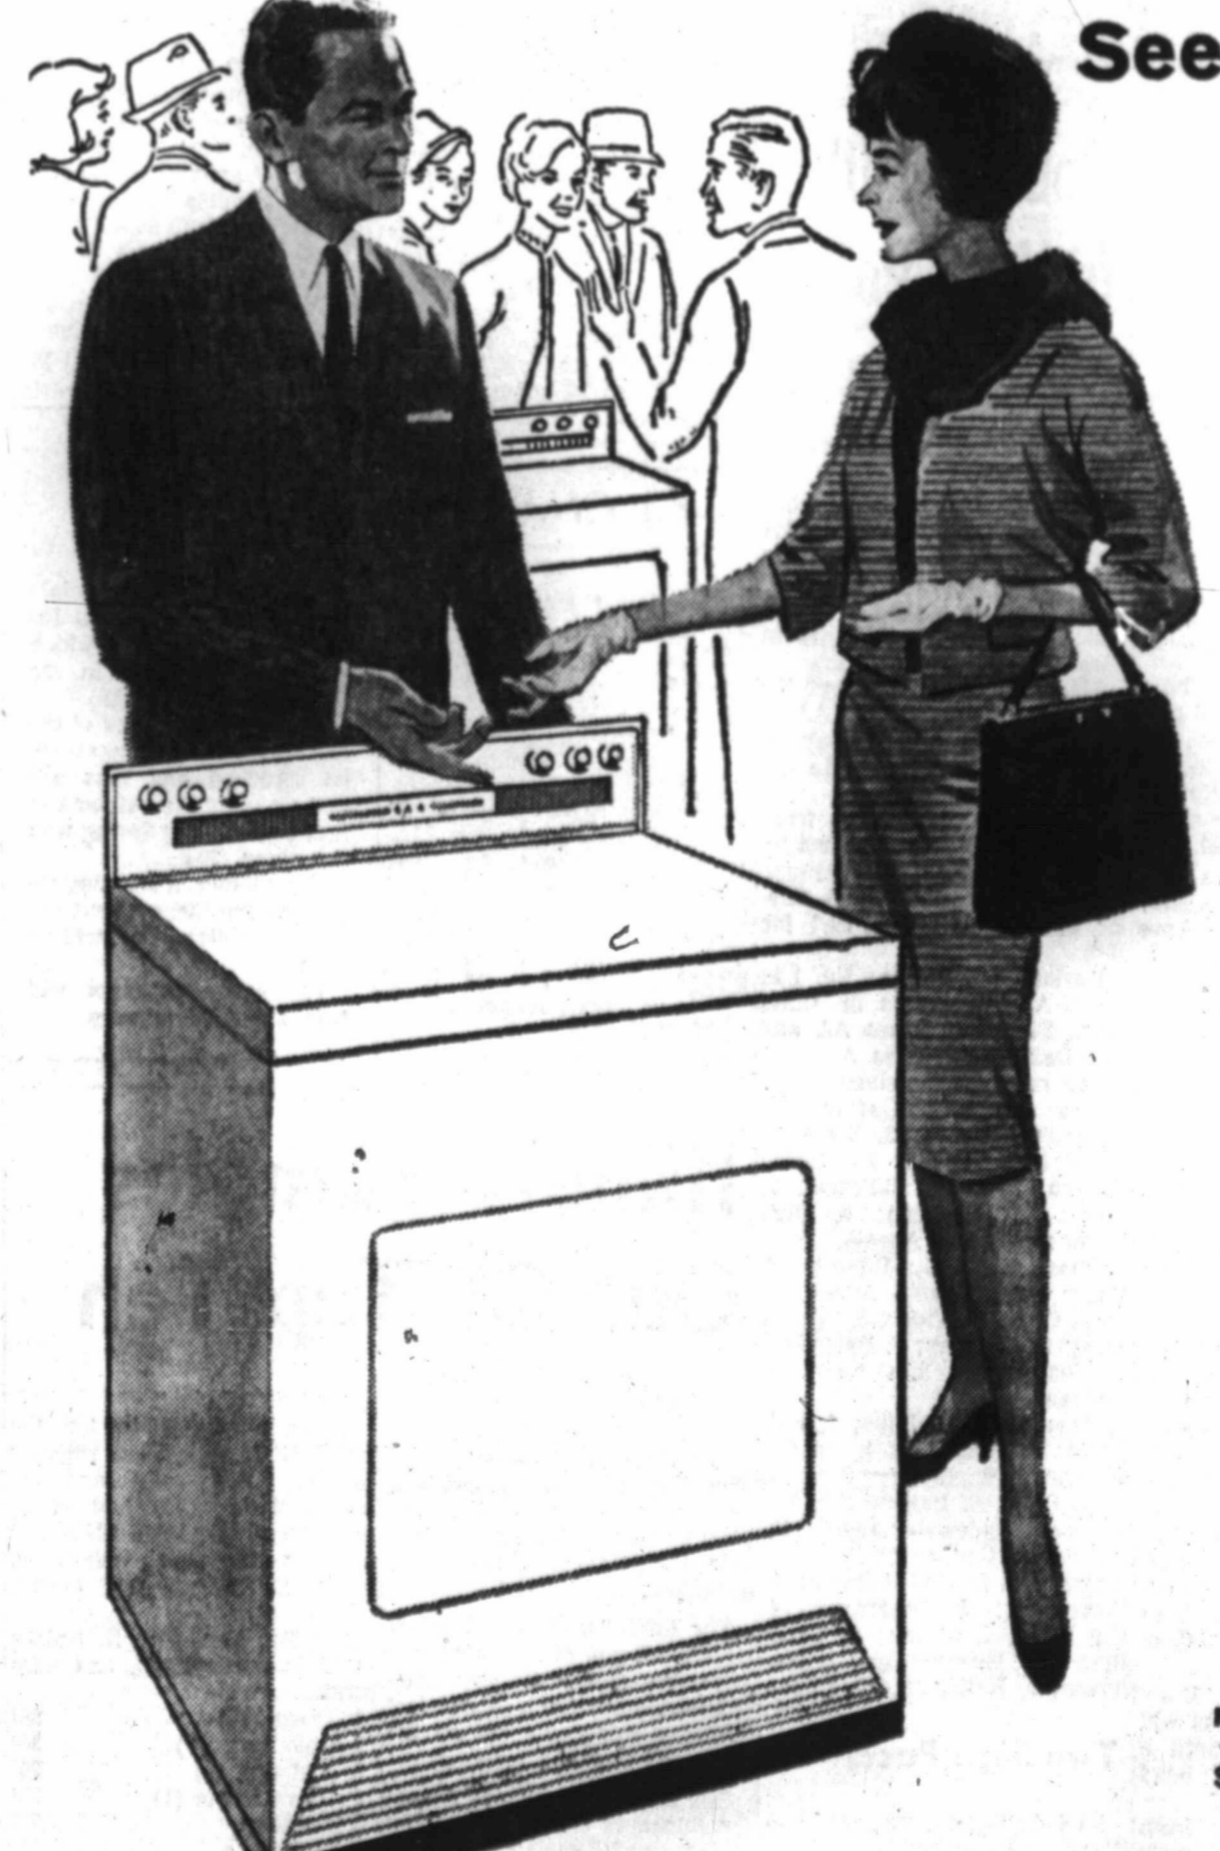

Negro Leader Hits Violence

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has denounced violence in the civil rights movement, saying it is both impractical and immoral. Dr. King, a Negro, made an unscheduled appearance Monday before the House of Delegates of the 61st general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Cardinal Frings was host to Sunday's meeting of the progressives. During the council's second session last year, the progressive element emerged far stronger in numbers than its bishops had realized. But the conservatives have retained their strength in the council administration as well as in the curia. Pope Paul has said repeatedly that he intends to continue the council the way Pope John envisioned it, as a means of renewing and streamlining Catholicism and to help further Christian unity.

Cards Are Now 2-1 Series Favorites

By JOE REICHLER
ST. LOUIS (AP) — For the first time since the start of hostilities, the St. Louis Cardinals found themselves World Series favorites over the New York Yankees today.

TIM MCCARVER

Odds-makers made the high-flying Redbirds a strong 2-1 choice following their 5-2 triumph Monday that gave them a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven Series.

Everything appears to be stacked in favor of the Cards. First, they will be back home for the sixth game Wednesday after taking two out of three in New York.

Second, their pitching, thanks to today's respite because of travel, is in tip-top shape with veteran Curt Simmons primed for his return engagement with young Jim Bouton of the Yankees.

Third, Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane thinks there is a strong possibility that Julian

Javier, the convalescing second baseman, will be ready to make his first start.

Finally, the Cards have won all four full-length World Series in which they have participated. They defeated the Yankees in seven games in 1926, the Philadelphia Athletics in 1931, the Detroit Tigers in 1934 and the Boston Red Sox in 1946.

Should the Cardinals lose the sixth game, they will still have the home edge in the finale with ace Bob Gibson a strong possibility to make his third start in the Series. Whitey Ford, currently nursing a tender right heel, would be Gibson's probable opponent.

The closeness of the Series fails to tell how wide a margin the Cardinals have outplayed the Yankees in the first five games. The Yankees hold a slight edge in over-all batting, but the Cards lead in everything else. They have outrun, outfielded, outpitched and outmaneuvered the Yankees.

Monday's game, won in 10 innings by the Cardinals on catcher Timmy McCarver's three-run homer, was a typical example. The Cardinals, except for shortstop Dick Groat's error in the ninth which paved the way for Tommy Tresh's game-winning homer, sparkled in the field.

In contrast, the Yankees' defensive play, as in the first four games, was sloppy and uncertain. New York was guilty of its sixth and seventh errors of the Series. An error by catcher Elie Howard on an interference play helped the Cards fill the bases in the first inning, but young Mel Stottlemyre pitched his way out of the jam without any damage.

Stottlemyre was betrayed again in the fifth. This time he couldn't escape. After pitcher Bob Gibson had singled with one out, Curt Flood hit a double play ball directly at Bobby Richardson. The usually dependable second baseman bobbled the ball and all hands were safe. A single by Lou Brock and a force play, that would have been a double play for him, were not for shortstop Phil Linz' poor relay, resulted in a 2-0 Cardinal lead.

Gibson, beaten in the second game, had a shutout going into the ninth. But Groat bobbled Mickey Mantle's grounder and, after two out, one of which was Gibson's 12th strikeout, Tresh slammed his dramatic game-winning homer that sent the crowd of 65,633 into a frenzy.

Then came the stormy 10th in which the Yankees looked their worst. Pete Mikkelsen, third Yankee pitcher, walked Bill White to open the inning. Ken Boyer, ordered to sacrifice, bunted to the right of the mound. Mikkelsen neglected to field the ball and it went for a single.

The sacrifice play was still on with Groat at bat, but Dick missed the bunt attempt and White was trapped off second. Howard fired to the bag but White turned and dashed toward third, sliding in safely when Pedro Gonzalez failed to hang on to Phil Linz' low throw.

Groat failed to bring White home, bouncing out into a force play, but McCarver settled the issue with a 3-2 clout into the right-field stands.

"I'd have to say things look better now," said Keane in what could be the understatement of the Series. "We go back to our own park with a game lead."

McCarver, who had also hit a home run in the Cardinals' pennant clincher last Sunday, acknowledged this one "was the biggest one of my life although all I wanted was a little single or a fly ball to the outfield."

"The homer will have a good effect on Timmy," said Keane. "And it probably will have something to do with my future."

Keane obviously was referring to his relations with the club's front office. He had been offered a new contract the last week of the season after speculations that he would be fired. He begged off discussing next year's pact until after the Series.

Junior varsity coaches Ray Overton and Tommy Lucas will help with the A team until a replacement can be found, head coach Clovis Riley stated.

Glenn came to Cooper from Coleman and had previously coached at Brady. He played high school ball at Mineral Wells and attended college at TCU.

Graef Shatters Swimming Mark

TOKYO (AP) — Towering Jed Graef, a 22-year-old Princeton student, smashed the world record with a 2:10.3 effort Tuesday and led an American 1-2-3 sweep of medals in the men's 200-meter backstroke championship in the Olympic Games.

Garry Dille of Huntington, Ind., was second and Bob Bennett of Long Beach, Calif., third in the American sweep that pushed the Yankee harvest of Olympic medals to 10—two gold, five silver and three bronze.

Graef, a lanky, 6-foot-6, 22-year-old from Verona, N.J., trimmed six-tenths of a second off the old world mark of 2:10.9 set by America's Tom Stock in 1962.

Moments earlier, Australia's tall, strapping Dawn Fraser won an unprecedented third gold medal in the women's 100-meter freestyle in Games record time of 59.5 seconds.

Sharon Stouder of Glendora, Calif., was second and became the only other woman in the world to break the minute barrier in the event. The 15-year-old girl was timed in 59.9.

Kathy Ellis of Indianapolis added a bronze medal to the growing U.S. collection with a time of 1:00.8.

The only other gold medal awarded on the third day of the Olympic Games went to Poland's Walemar Baszanowski, who won the lightweight class in weight-lifting with a total best of 851.5 pounds, a world record.

The United States was blanked in this event, while Russia's Vladimir Kaplunov won the silver medal with the same weight. His second place gave Russia four medals—two gold, one silver and one bronze.

The American sweep of the backstroke and Miss Fraser's outstanding effort highlighted a day in which the United States put together a strong possibility of a sweep in springboard diving, advanced a maximum three swimmers in two separate events and lost another argument at the conference table.

Navy Lt. Frank Gorman of Queens Village, N.Y., led the divers after seven events with 105.99 points, followed in order by Larry Anderson of Los Alamitos, Calif., with 101.31 and Ken Sitzerger of River Forest, Ill., with 96.66. The finals will be held Wednesday.

The U.S. basketball team, unbeaten in Olympic play since 1936, scored its third straight victory of the Tokyo Games, 60-45 over Peru, even though Coach Henry Iba said the pressure of the 41-game winning string was becoming "an awful load to carry."

Quarterback Club officials expect a banner turnout for tonight's meeting, which starts at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria.

For one thing, films of the Big Spring-Odesa game will be screened and fans are still savoring the outcome of that contest. Big Spring won the game 29-6.

For another, a scouting report on the Steers' next opponent, Midland Lee, will be given.

The entire program will take about 90 minutes.

Fumblitis Big Worry To Longhorns' Coach

By The Associated Press

Texas, which has won 15 straight games, needs to hold onto the ball better, says its Coach Darrell Royal.

If the Longhorns don't cut out fumbling and getting passes intercepted they're going to lose and drop out of the No. 1 spot, Royal warns with a deep frown.

result has been able to win by only 11 to 31 points. Tech, which Arkansas also was in fine shape and all enthusiastic about moving up to No. 8 in the ratings.

The Razorbacks were praised by Coach Frank Broyles for good play in beating Baylor 17-5 last week. They practiced inside Monday because of a light drizzle. Broyles didn't want to run the risk of somebody getting a cold.

Rice and Southern Methodist were in good shape for their conference clash at Dallas Saturday night.

The Rice Owls were cheered to know that tailback Gene Fleming, who suffered a rib injury in their 34-7 loss to Stanford, probably would be able to play. There was no break.

Baylor, however, was worried about three regulars on the sidelines. End Ramsey Mumt is definitely out of the game with Texas Tech Saturday. Linebacker Bobby Maples and end Jim Rust also may miss it.

Tech found no new injuries from its game with Texas Christian and expects to have two back from the crippled list—end Terry McWhorter and tackle Bill Adams.

If any team had a right to be down in the dumps it was Texas Christian. The Frogs have lost four in a row and Monday not only had to practice in the rain but had their two top running backs—Jim Fauver and Larry Bulaich—nursing injuries.

Fauver had a sprained ankle and Bulaich a rib separation but probably will be able to play Saturday when TCU meets Texas A&M at College Station.

Texas A&M had only center Andy Overton favoring an injury. Overton was hobbling on an ankle hurt in the game with Southern California last week and may not be able to play Saturday.

Donny Anderson Boasts Sizeable Lead In SWC

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference is a running campaign, seven have done it this season with the mighty Anderson compiling 370 yards on 73 runs.

Anderson roamed for 164 yards against Texas Christian—the best performance for a conference player since Jimmy Saxton of Texas gained 173 against Southern Methodist in 1961.

He replaced Jim Fauver of Texas Christian as the rushing leader. Fauver has 281 yards on 58 carries.

Dan McIlhenny of Texas A&M leads the passers with 34 completions out of 79 throws for 452 yards. Terry Southall of Baylor is second with 33 connections in 69 attempts for 463 yards.

Southall's yardage made him the total offense leader, with 341 rushing taken off to leave him with 429 yards. Fred Marshall of Arkansas is No. 2 in total offense with 394 yards. Marshall has the best average—5.8 yards per play. Southall has 5.4.

Sonny Campbell of Texas Christian leads the pass-receivers with 15 catches for 224 yards.

Ken Hatfield of Arkansas is the No. 1 punt returner with 161 yards on nine runs. Hatfield also leads in kickoff returns with 186 yards on eight.

Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist was idle last week but still leads the punters with a 46.1 yards average.

Paul To Make Big Decision
DALLAS (AP) — Dallas-Fort Worth might find itself in the big leagues Friday.

At least the area is in the running for the Cleveland franchise that's likely to be moved because of diminishing income.

Gabe Paul, Cleveland general manager and the largest stockholder in the club, said Monday at a press conference at Arlington—midway point between Dallas and Fort Worth—that he had visited three cities on instructions of the Cleveland board of directors.

He went to Seattle first, then to Oakland, and Monday to Dallas-Fort Worth. He added there were no other cities to be visited and indicated Cleveland would choose from among the three if it did decide to move.

The board of directors meets Friday to hear his recommendation and Paul said he anticipated action would be taken at that time.

Paul would not compare the three areas visited but reserved his comments for the board. But he said he considered this a very good area and that the facilities were adequate.

A new stadium is being constructed at Arlington and Tom Vandergriff, mayor of Arlington and chairman of the bi-country sports committee that is furnishing this area's bid for a major league franchise, said that 27,000 permanent seats and an additional 5,000 temporary bleachers would be possible by next April.

Tennis Official Death Victim
POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James B. Dickey, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, died Monday after 42 years of activity in a sport he took up because "I didn't have time for golf." He was 72.

Dickey, who was elected USLTA president last February, was regarded as a moderate on the issue of whether to let amateurs compete with professionals.

Bobcats 10th In News Poll
DALLAS (AP)—Texas school football has reached that stage of the race when one defeat can knock a team out of the rankings.

McKinney found this out when the weekly poll of the Dallas News dropped it because of its 26-20 loss to Bonham.

Bonham, as a result, moved into the rankings at No. 10 in Class AAA.

Waco Richfield found out the same thing in Class AAAA where it fell from the ratings on the heels of a 12-6 loss to unranked Marshall.

Rusk took the plunge from Class AA when it was lashed by Gladewater and that made room for two new teams—Taylor and Canton, who tied for 10th.

Garland rolled on as No. 1 in Class AAAA, Dumas in Class AAA, Phillips in Class AA and Hull-Daisetta in Class A.

The rankings by classes: Class AAAA—1, Garland; 2, Amarillo Tascosa; 3, Victoria; 4, Galena Park; 5, Spring Branch; 6, Dallas Hillcrest; 7, Tyler; 8, Pasadena; 9, Port Neches; 10, San Angelo. Illinois Tumbles Out Of Top Ten
By The Associated Press
That blur that flew past the other teams in The Associated Press' college football poll this week was Illinois but the flight was a bumpy one and worse than that, it was in the wrong direction.

The Illini, ranked No. 2 in last week's AP poll of sports writers and broadcasters, took on fourth-ranked Ohio State last Saturday and came out on the short end of a 26-0 score.

The impressive victory moved the Buckeyes into the No. 2 slot and dropped Illinois right out of the Top Ten. But the Illini slide off the poll wasn't a lonely one. Kentucky and Michigan State, both thumped on Saturday, also

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
DON ROBBINS, Big Spring High School football coach, prior to last weekend's game with the Odessa Bronchos:

"Odessa has the dream team — size, depth, speed, everything — one that happens to a coach only once in a lifetime."

BILL McPEAK, Washington coach, after ex-Texas Aggie John David Crow had performed so nobly for the St. Louis Cardinals against his Redskins:

"It was the Crow of old out there."

AUSTIN GONSOULIN, former Baylor grizzer, now a defensive back with the Denver Broncos:

"I've been knocked cold four or five times, swallowed my tongue once, busted a knee and played all last season with a separated shoulder. But (knocked on wood), I haven't missed a game yet. I get out of the hospital each time in time for the next kickoff."

JIM MURRAY, Los Angeles scribe:

"By the beard of the prophet, Effendi Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) will take on the accused infidel (Sonny Liston) in the accursed city of Boston, several hundred miles from the burning sands of the worthy one's homeland, Louisville, Ky. The encounter — which may be the greatest religious war since the crusades (unless Liston's shoulder hurts him again) — was made possible by the cunning pagan rascal in the State House in Boston, Gov. Endicott Peabody, the last of the Puritans. Allah was good. But Gov. Peabody was closer . . . Boston could use the publicity. The rest of the country is getting the idea the only thing going on in Boston is mail robberies. There is always the possibility the Liston-Ali fight may make the Brinks job look like purse-snatching. It wasn't too clear there were 52 cards in the last deck those two dealt down in Miami. There are those who hold that the governor's name should be Peabrain and he missed a chance to perform a major public service when he sanctioned only a fight, not a duel . . . Clay expects to win so quick, he'll keep his camel double-parked . . . Liston might qualify as the shining hope of humanity if it weren't for the hobby he picked up as a youth — collecting rare coins. On the streets of St. Louis after dark. Also there is the fact he can't seem to sleep nights. Every time the Denver police see a speeding car trying to beat the dawn home, Liston seems to be in it."

TONEY PENNA, the veteran golfer:

"I have been in golf for over 45 years. This includes the era of Jones, Hagen, Armour and Sarazen, then Snead, Hogan and Demaret and the present one. But this guy Arnold Palmer is by far the most exciting player of them all, a credit to his profession. Consensus of the press rank Jack Nicklaus a close second. I hope they're right. He's affiliated with the same company I am. Nicklaus has a lot of ground to cover in a lot of ways. But he is young and this is in his favor."

DARRELL ROYAL, Texas University football coach, when asked what he told his boys between halves in the recent Army-Texas game:

"I just told them somebody had come to town, eyeballed us, and was playing us jaw-to-jaw. I told them Army was not going to give us anything, that we had to take it away from them."

COL. ANDY ANDERSON, varsity track coach at Texas A&M for 25 years:

"Walter (Buddy) Davis was the greatest Aggie I ever coached. He was the first man ever to high jump seven feet and he set AAU and Olympic records."

FURMAN BISHER, Atlanta scribe:

"Frank Howard is more than a football coach to Clemson College. He's a habit. The way they get along, it's like an old-fashioned marriage. Each realizes that it is not necessary to be perfect to be happy. They accept each other's mistakes philosophically, and patience bespeaks their relationship. If it didn't, Frank would insist on more money and Clemson on less defeat."

Berra Wanted An Excuse To Walk 5th Game Hero

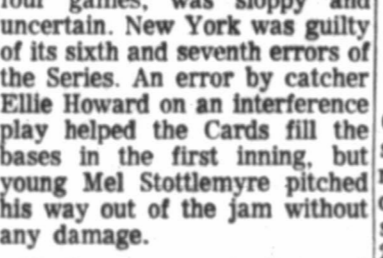

NEW YORK (AP) — Compared with winning the pennant, Tim McCarver said the thrill of his winning three-run homer in the 10th inning of Monday's World Series game was like choosing between $5,000 and a new car.

But, "without a doubt," it was his biggest hit ever.

"Maybe it's a bigger thrill to me than winning the pennant," said the joke-making catcher for the St. Louis Cardinals. "But how can you tell? It's like asking which you'd rather have, $5,000 or a Cadillac."

McCarver's blast in the 10th inning gave the Cardinals a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees and a Series lead of three games to two.

"It also will have its effect on him — a good effect," said Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane. "And it probably will have something to do with my future, Mickey Mantle twice."

WALT DAVIS

Yogi Berra, the Yankee manager, was looking at it another way after the game.

He said a successful sacrifice bunt attempt by Cardinal shortstop Dick Groat possibly could have helped the Yankees out of the fateful 10th — and kept McCarver from hitting.

"If there was a base open," said Berra. "I would have put him (McCarver) on. If Groat had bunted, that would've given us an excuse to walk McCarver."

The Yankees had tied the score 2-2 in the last of the ninth on Tom Tresh's right-field homer off Gibson, who had pitched scoreless ball for 8-2-3 innings. He hit a fast ball down the middle.

In all, Gibson fanned 13 men—including the dangerous Mickey Mantle twice.

Glenn, who has been associated with the school since 1960, said he had not made any definite plans for the future but would continue to make Abilene his home.

Glenn came to Cooper from Coleman and had previously coached at Brady. He played high school ball at Mineral Wells and attended college at TCU.

PLAYERS OF WEEK

Five Wins Reflect Calibre Of Play

Big Spring - area teams enjoyed a lot of success last weekend, winning five of six starts. Only the Forsan Buffaloes dropped a decision and the Bison were playing out of their class. They ordinarily perform in eight-man circles and Oscar Booker's team took on an 11-man power, Grandfalls-Royalty. Here are some of the boys who helped make the big plays possible, the athletes chosen as Players of the Week by the Daily Herald:

CARL LAWSON
Stanton Standout

BIG SPRING — LINEMAN — Selection of an outstanding player in the Steer primary proved very difficult this week, because all the boys did an outstanding job of slowing Odessa's power thrusts and escorting their own ball carriers when Big Spring had the ball. The nod goes to DON WHITE, senior center and linebacker. He intercepted one pass that stopped a Broncho drive, took the ball away from Odessa's Larry Gatlin and ran 85 yards for a score that broke the game wide open and otherwise distinguished himself with his tremendous defensive play, time and again cracking the Broncho ball carriers before they could get started. Sam Evans, Howard Bain, Steve McComb and Dub McMeans were among others strongly contending for the honor.

BACK—Again the choice was a difficult one, in view of the fact that so many contributed so much toward the Steers' 20-4 victory. BENNY KIRKLAND, fast - improving quarterback, earned the honor with his sensational play both on offense and defense. He passed for one touchdown, ran 71 yards for another and gained a total of 112 yards in rushing plays, in all. In addition, he was a cactus-tough defensive player.

STANTON — LINEMAN—This Stanton ball club, coached by Bill Milam, has to be the surprise team in West Texas. The Buffs didn't win a game last year but have already notched three victories this fall, including last week's success at the expense of Class AA McCamey. One of the reasons for the Buffs' success has been the consistent line man of guard CARL LAWSON, a 160-pound senior, who earns the Herald's certificate this week. Lawson opened one hole after another in the McCamey line for Stanton ball carriers. In the Buffs five-man defensive alignment, he plays at a linebacker's spot and in the six-man arrangement he goes to guard. He's tough either place. Coach Milam describes Carl as one of "my steadiest players."

BACK—Junior DINK POLSON made one long run after another to keep the Buffaloes on the move. On one occasion he flagged down a Badger ball carrier from behind just when it appeared that the McCamey player would go all the way. On defense, Polson plays at a safety position for Stanton. Polson also scored two extra points for Stanton on a run into the line.

COAHOMA — LINEMAN — WESLEY WRIGHT, who only recently returned to duty with the Buffaloes after an early season injury, proved double-tough for the Bulldogs last week in their 43-0 rout of Roscoe. On defense, Wesley plays at left end and moved to left tackle on offense. He contained the Plowboys well by turning them inside. The decision was a hard one to make, since again it was a team effort that turned the trick for Coahoma.

BACK — Fine blocking and an 80-yard touchdown run following interception of a Roscoe pass earned the accolade for halfback TRAVIS REID this week. Reid also averaged 21 yards a carry on his five tries with the football, too. He was also hurt early in the year and is just now coming onto his own.

SANDS — LINEMAN—Sophomore end

OREN LANCASTER caught the last second pass that enabled the Sands Mustangs to topple Dawson in a real thriller last weekend. Lancaster also glided on defense for the Ponies and consistently was in the vanguard of blockers running ahead of the Sands ball carriers.

BACK — The honor goes again this week to quarterback EDDIE HERM, who threw the winning touchdown pass that Lancaster caught. Herm mixed up his plays expertly against Dawson. On defense, he was double-tough as a Mustang linebacker, refusing to yield yardage on plays that came his way.

GARDEN CITY — LINEMAN—TAYLOR ECHISON proved nearly unstoppable in Garden City's winning effort against Marathon. He caught three passes, good for 53 yards and two touchdowns. On defense, he was in on six tackles. His coach, Jack Woodley, says Taylor's attitude "is tremendous."

BACK—Quarterback VERNON NEWSOM bore the brunt of Garden City's devastating attack against Marathon. He completed 11 of 20 passes, good for 182 yards and 14 points. He carried the ball twice for 13 yards and originated four tackles on defense. Garden City now has a 4-1 won-lost record and much of the credit must go to Newsom.

FORSAN — LINEMAN—Forsan is taking its lumps in 11-man ball but the team is piling up a lot of valuable experience for its eight-man campaign. JIM ALEXANDER, a 185-pound senior, turned in an exemplary game for Forsan against Grandfalls-Royalty from his tackle position. What yardage the Buffs made usually came as the result of his blocking. He made ten tackles in the Buff defensive alignment. Coach Oscar Booker says Jim is just beginning to hit his stride.

BACK—Left halfback FREDIE WILLIS, a 155-pounder, showed fine poise as a ball carrier and originated 12 tackles on defense for the Forsan club. Coach Booker says Willis never let up, whether his team had the ball or whether the opposition had it.

Hernandez Gets Kudos Of Club

Humberto Hernandez of Big Spring was named Ram Of The Week by the Rambooster Club for the big part he played in San Angelo College's 40-0 football victory over the University of Corpus Christi last Saturday night.

The former Big Spring athlete scored three touchdowns in the game. He caught scoring passes of 53 and 23 yards and returned a punt 76 yards for another tally. In addition, he played an outstanding defensive game.

Hernandez is one of two Big Spring boys playing football for SAC. The other is Charley West.
