Goldwater Says Johnson 'Shadowed By Suspicions'

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today there is "a rising tide of doubt and dismay... all across the land" concerning the presidency and charged President Johnson is "shadowed by suspicions which no amount of handshaking and hurrah can chase away." The Republican presidential nominee said Johnson's "great and good friend, Bobby Baker, has been exposed as a manipulator of high office," and the President's "name and office is linked with that of a convicted criminal, Billie Sol Estes."

SOUTH TEXAS
Goldwater swung into South Texas for a day of campaigning after two days before large, enthusiastic crowds as he moved back and forth across the Midwest farm belt and on to the edge of the Rocky Mountains for a rally Wednesday night in Denver.

In a speech prepared for his first Texas stop in Harlingen, Goldwater returned to the attack on the Bobby Baker case — the issue he said hurts Johnson most. He paired this with the Billie Sol Estes affair.

Estes, a Pecos, Tex., financier, has twice been convicted for fraud.

The Arizona senator said the President "must be using every power of his great office, right now, yesterday and tomorrow, to cover up one of the sorriest rumors we have had in the nation's capital."

In response to a question before he delivered the speech,

Goldwater said he meant rumors about Bobby Baker's ties with the White House.

In his campaigning, Goldwater said he had found something troubling the people of America.

WHITE HOUSE
He added: "The people have looked at the White House and have found it dark with scandal. The latest Bobby Baker investigation has been called off until after election. The latest report on Billie Sol Estes has been a whitewash."

But Goldwater said Bobby Baker couldn't "be brushed aside as a factor in the election" and "men and women all over America know that Billie Sol Estes was a friend of the man who now occupies the White House and that he dealt with the principal assistants of the man who now occupies the White House."

Ike Stumps For Party

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, hitting the political hustings on the day after his 74th birthday, asked today "that Ohio vote Republican, all the way, in every contest on the ballot."

In notes prepared for a speech to a Republican rally at Veterans Memorial Auditorium, Eisenhower said "Republicans are pledged to sound and progressive government, searching out modern solutions for modern problems."

And he said attacks on GOP defense, foreign and domestic policies were "tommy rot."

Metal Price Lids Now A Hot Issue

NEW YORK (AP) — Pressure is building up under the metal price lids. It's the hottest thing in the price picture today. And it carries with it the hint that increases in metal costs could spread in time to consumer goods prices, even those products using very little metal.

Steel executives are lining up, without waiting for the election to get out of the way, in plugging for higher prices they say are badly needed. The talks are bubbling like the molten metal in company mills.

Copper prices soar — and then tumble at the suggestion the U. S. government might tap its sizable stockpile to ease the current shortage. But even this prospect, which government officials call unlikely, carries little weight beyond the daily commodity futures market.

IN LEASH
Silver prices are held in leash by still another, and comparably much bigger, government stockpile of that metal. But it's getting harder to quiet talk of turning from silver to baser metals for minting U. S. coins. And silver users won't bet on price stability as a long-range prospect.

Tin, zinc and lead have climbed steadily in price as world industrial demand currently exceeds world production. Aluminum prices have risen.

Various steel products have gone up in price as demand mounted. But basic steel has held at the list prices. Now the top men in almost all of the biggest steel companies have gone on record as saying basic steel, too, must rise — even before the union starts its announced drive to get higher wages and more fringe benefits next spring.

The presidential election campaigning has muted the sound of the steel companies' plugs, but the talk builds up almost daily.

COPPER PRICES
Copper prices are about as confused as they could be. U. S. producers recently increased their price to 34 cents pound. Chile has put a 35-cent tag on its copper exports. Other world producers are quoting 32.5 cents.

Metal prices have been almost alone in the rising column of commodities in the last year or more. The government's wholesale commodity price index lists metals at 131.8, against 100.2 just a year ago. Fats and oils have risen in the year from 86.7 on the index to 100.6. But for all commodities the index still holds fairly steady.

World metal price fluctuations could be even more marked, once the elections in the United States and the United Kingdom are out of the way.

ARCHER CITY, Tex. (AP) — W. W. Love, 51, and his wife Lorene, 39, of Wichita Falls were killed as two cars collided north of here on Texas 79 Wednesday. Mrs. S. O. Carpenter Jr., 33, of Archer City, driver of the other vehicle, suffered serious injuries.

Texan Elected By Governors

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Southern governors agreed to disagree with federal courts on legislative reapportionment.

But a move by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace to demand an end to federal intervention in public school affairs met formal defeat, although receiving a majority vote Wednesday at the final session of the 30th Southern Governors Conference.

Action on resolutions highlighted the final few hours of the annual meeting, which was dominated the first two days by presidential campaign talk. Most of the governors — 16 Democrats and one Republican — predicted President Johnson would carry all but a few Southern states.

NAME CONNALLY
Texas Gov. John B. Connally, a former secretary of the Navy and a friend and long-time political worker for Johnson, was named conference chairman. Virginia Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. is vice chairman.

Wallace told newsmen at the opening of the conference about his resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to give states exclusive control over public schools. He conceded then it had little chance of success because conference adoption requires unanimous approval.

When the Wallace resolution was presented for a voice vote, Govs. Edward Breathitt of Kentucky and Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware said "No" loudly. Connally said later he did not vote.

The 11 conference members attending the final session voted unanimously for a resolution by Mississippi Gov. Paul B. Johnson supporting a constitutional change that would let one house of a state legislature be picked on some basis other than population.

BY POPULATION
Federal courts have held that population is the sole criteria for legislative representation. Invitations were presented for the 1965 conference to be held in Charleston, S.C., and Sea Island, Ga. A decision on the site will be made later.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the ODRINEX plan. You must lose ugly fat or your money back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The ODRINEX plan contains a tiny tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course ODRINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and less weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $3.00 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. Honors Due Volunteers

Individuals and organizations who have contributed time and work to the Big Spring State Hospital, totaling more than 34,000 hours during the past fiscal year, will be honored tonight in special ceremonies at the Allred Building of the hospital. The full meeting of the volunteer services council will begin at 7:30 p.m., with the program to include the annual award of bars, pins and buttons recognizing contributions ranging from 100 to 7,000 hours to the volunteer program of the hospital. In addition, the program will include for the first time awarding of certificates of appreciation to individuals and groups who have maintained regular weekly scheduled programs at the hospital.

Dr. Jack H. Burnett Jr., chairman of the volunteer services council, will preside at the ceremonies, open to the public in the Allred Building auditorium. Special reports will also be presented on three projects carried on by volunteer efforts in connection with the hospital. Charles Butts, vice chairman of the council, will present a report concerning the cemetery improvement project, Jack Y. Smith and R. W. Whipkey will discuss the All - Faith Chapel project, and Bennett Brooke will report on the operation of the Halfway House.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, will also speak and Mrs. Hila Weathers, coordinator of volunteer services, will report on the year's volunteer council work, with the state totals for all Texas mental hospitals, special schools and tuberculosis hospitals which were presented recently at the Tyler meeting of the Texas Volunteer Service Council. The report ranked the Big Spring State Hospital volunteer efforts at the top among 11 state mental hospitals in the total number of hours contributed by volunteers, with more than 34,000.

Murder Trial Near Windup; Arguments On

EL PASO (AP)—Closing arguments were heard today in the murder trial of William McKnight, charged in the 1962 slaying of Kelly Parker at Bandera.

The case was expected to go to the jury by late afternoon.

Concluding testimony Wednesday continued to center around whether McKnight and Bernice Flach were common law husband and wife at the time of the killing.

McKnight was a resident of Kerrville. Parker was a member of a prominent Kendall County family.

One of the last rebuttal witnesses for the state was Mrs. Orren Parker, mother of the victim. She identified letters to her from Miss Flach, who some said was to become her daughter-in-law the day after the shooting outside the Flach home.

After the shooting Bernice moved into the Parker home. There, the witness said, she denied ever being engaged to McKnight or having been asked to marry him.

FAMILY RANCH

Corroborative testimony was given by Mrs. Parker's daughter, Mrs. Worth Dunderstadt of Austin, who went to the family ranch after the killing.

After testifying that Miss Flach had insisted she only dated McKnight, the witness said on cross-examination that under present circumstances she would believe nothing Bernice said.

If the jury finds the defendant guilty of murder with malice as charged, he could be sentenced from two years in prison to death in the electric chair. A finding of murder without malice carries a penalty of two to five years with a possible suspension.

McKnight told the jury that he and Miss Flach became intimate in high school.

In the spring of 1959, he related, they told their parents they were married in Mexico, although this was not the case. They moved into his parents' home.

McKnight testified that shortly before the shooting, she told him she had a date with an old school friend and he got drunk. She promised she would not go out with other men again, he said.

IN SCHOOL

On May 8 while he was in school in Austin, he testified, his mother telephoned to say Bernice had driven home with another man, collected her clothes and said she was leaving to get married.

McKnight said he drove to Bandera, crying all the way. "It all seemed a bad dream," he said.

He said he found Parker and Bernice at the Flach home and she confirmed that she planned to marry Parker.

"I broke down completely and went all to pieces," McKnight testified. "It dawned on me what she was telling me was really true. . . I don't remember what happened after that. I was vaguely aware I had a gun in my hand and was shooting wildly."

Con Says Mayor Planned Holdups

LAREDO (AP) — A convict testified in federal court Wednesday that former Pasadena, Tex., Mayor Sam Hoover planned three robberies during 1957.

Ira Christophy, 32, now serving a life term in state prison as a habitual criminal, said he paid Hoover $10,260 taken in the holdups. He was one of 14 prosecution witnesses in the tax fraud trial of Hoover, a lawyer.

The government charges Hoover failed to report income from illegal sources in 1957 to 1960.

He spent the second day of his trial chewing on a lead pencil, scribbling notes and conferring with defense lawyers.

PRISON SUIT

Christophy, in a white prison suit, testified Hoover planned the robberies of a Magnolia lumber firm, an unidentified prostitute and a construction company.

He said a planned robbery of an Austin feed store was not carried out because "I don't like the looks of it."

Christophy said from the robbery of the Magnolia Kroger & Kroger Lumber Co. he and others obtained $10,500 in cash and about $600 in checks. He said $7,700 in bills and $460 in change went to Hoover for "attorney fees."

He told of taking $3,000 and a diamond ring from a prostitute whom he did not identify. He said Hoover got the ring.

CHECK BOOKS

Christophy testified a check writing machine and some check books constituted the loot from the construction firm. He used the machine to make out company checks, he related, and he gave Hoover $700 for the idea.

Hoover later give him back $500 for what he called "Austin expenses" on the feed house robbery that did not come off, he testified.

Hoover was brought here under guard from his cell in Houston where he had been awaiting the outcome of an appeal of a 60-year sentence for robbery by firearms. He was convicted of masterminding the torture-robbery of the Mair Schepps family in Houston last spring.

47 W. Texas Oil Wells Sold

DALLAS (AP) — An Atlantic Refining Co. spokesman said Wednesday the firm has bought 47.8 oil wells in five West Texas fields.

He said the wells produce 270 barrels a day and the transaction involved more than $2 million.

They are in the Slaughter Field of Cochran County, the Prentice Field of Terry County, the Wasson Field of Yoakum County and the Goldsmith 5,600-foot and Clearfork fields of Ector County.

East deserves the "white feather" for his performance in today's hand, for he played the part of the cowardly lion during the auction and then matched this with an equal degree of pusillanimity in defending against South's four spade contract.

When West opened the bidding with one heart and North made a take-out double, East should have suspected that the opposition had a good fit in spades. His own holding possessed considerable playing strength and he should have raised his partner at once, preferably to four hearts. A preemptive bid may serve to impede the opposition from finding their spot, and the damages—if any—should be negligible.

South probably would not have been shut out of his spade bid regardless; however, West would have been encouraged to sacrifice at five hearts if East had raised him directly. As the bidding actually progressed, it would not have been overly daring on East's part to have bid five hearts himself, when North persisted to four spades. The result would have been a modest one-trick defeat—a considerably cheaper price than East eventually paid out.

West opened the king of hearts and declarer played dummy's ace. The ace of spades pulled the outstanding trump, and the eight of hearts was ruffed in the closed hand. South led a club and put up North's king. East hastily cashed two club tricks and then shifted to a diamond.

Declarer ducked in his hand and West held the trick with the queen of diamonds. Inasmuch as he had only red cards left, there was no play he could make that would not surrender a trick. A heart lead would present South with a ruff and sluff; a diamond return away from the king would prove equally fatal.

When East was in with the ace of clubs, he should have shifted to a diamond at once. West was clearly marked with considerable strength in that suit to warrant his opening bid. A diamond play cannot hurt, therefore, and may be of considerable assistance to partner.

An early diamond lead would, in fact, have assured declarer's downfall for, if he ducks, West retains his last club for an exit card, and he can then sit back and wait to score the setting trick in diamonds.

AF Unveils Supersonic F111 That Sparked Senate Quiz

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force unveiled today the supersonic F111, a sleek fighter plane designed during the heat of industrial competition and assembled amid a Senate investigation.

Known familiarly as the TFX, the F111 emerges now as a political issue in a stormy presidential election year.

The aircraft made its debut in a brief ceremony at General Dynamics' huge Fort Worth plant.

history, we have an airplane with the range of a transport, the carrying capacity and endurance of a bomber, and the agility of a fighter plane. Its performance is as versatile as its missions are varied."

He was joined on the speaker's platform by Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze and Air Force Secretary Eugene Zuckert.

Featuring a variable-sweep wing, the F111 grew from a search for one fighter plane that would satisfy requirements of both the Air Force and the Navy.

The Air Force version has been designated the F111A, the Navy version the F111B. They are largely similar in design with a high percentage of interchangeable parts.

TOP SPEED
The multipurpose, all-weather tactical fighter has a top speed two and one-half times the speed of sound or 1,655 miles per hour. The two-man craft is capable of supersonic speed at sea level as well as high altitudes, and landing at speeds under 150 m.p.h.

LBJ Threat Case Narrows In Scope

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said Wednesday his investigation of what an informer told him was a threat to shoot President Johnson indicated "it was just one man involved."

He said an unnamed former mental patient was being sought.

Two ex-convicts, arrested after seizure of a small arsenal, Nazi flags and other items, were turned over to federal authorities, who charged them with violating the national firearms act.

Officers confiscated the weapons, including machine guns, automatic pistols, rifles and ammunition, at the home of Julius Schmidt, 29, and his mother in Corpus Christi.

Schmidt and Jerry Bird, 27, of Calallen, Tex., were held in lieu of $5,000 bond each on charges of illegally possessing machine guns. Both served prison terms for the 1956 slaying of a man who caught them burglarizing an auto-parts store.

Mitchell said his informants quoted the mental patient as stating he wanted an automatic weapon to shoot President Johnson and hoped to obtain it from Schmidt. The President is due here for a campaign speech Sunday night.

"I don't believe Schmidt knew he was to be contacted," the sheriff said. "I don't think he knew anything about any assassination attempt."

Mitchell said there also was no evidence to link Bird with such a plot.

Schmidt and Bird waived examining trial after conferring with lawyers by telephone.

PURSUER CONTRACT

General Dynamics Corp. joined Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. in pursuing the coveted contract, worth eventually in the neighborhood of $6.5 billion.

The award touched off widespread controversy. Charges of favoritism and politics echoed in Congress, the Pentagon and offices of administration leaders.

The dispute centered around contention that Boeing Co. submitted a superior design while promising considerable long-range production savings.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara hailed the F111 as the "greatest single step forward in combat aircraft to occur in several decades."

McNamara, here to see the unveiling of the plane he defended against congressional opposition, said:

"For the first time in aviation

Cotton Allotment Plan Referendum Coming Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has set Dec. 15 as the date for a grower referendum on the cotton allotment program. The department also proposed marketing quotas on the 1965 cotton crop and set the national planting allotment at 16.2 million acres. The control program must get the support of at least two-thirds of growers voting in the referendum in order to become effective. Next year's national acreage allotment is the same as this year's and is the minimum permitted by law. It includes 200,000 acres for new farms. The department announced a 1965 domestic acreage allotment of 10,425,000 acres.

TO BE SET
Under existing stipulations, farmers who plant only 65 per cent of their national allotment will get price support premiums and price support loans. Amounts will be set later. Farmers who plant their full share of the national allotment will be eligible for price supports only. The over-all program is designed to strike a favorable balance between supplies and markets. In 1964 the domestic allotment was 67 per cent of the national allotment and 67 per cent of an individual farm share of the national allotment. The department also proclaimed marketing quotas on next year's crop of extra long staple cotton and set the national planting allotment at 77,758 acres, compared with 112,500 this year. It said the referendum on these quotas likewise will be held Dec. 15. Approval is required by at least two-thirds of the growers of extra long staple voting. Quotas were approved for both types of cotton for this year's cotton crop in referenda held last December. The 1965 and 1964 state allotments, respectively, for regular cotton include: Alabama, 969,468 acres for 1965 and 969,459 for 1964; Arizona, 330,660 and 331,756; Arkansas, 1,332,874 and 1,327,747; California, 735,907 and 737,239; Florida, 35,060 and 35,655; Georgia, 834,855 and 836,783; Illinois, 2,955 and 2,995; Kansas, 22 and 22; Kentucky, 7,218 and 7,192; Louisiana, 567,323 and 567,465; Maryland, 6 and 8; Mississippi, 1,551,570 and 1,550,709; Missouri, 358,317 and 356,635; Nevada, 3,522 and 3,522; New Mexico, 172,036 and 171,704; North Carolina, 459,958 and 461,203; Oklahoma, 753,830 and 751,358; South Carolina, 684,218 and 685,804; Tennessee, 547,688 and 547,182; Texas, 6,835,945 and 6,838,347; Virginia, 17,128 and 17,214. The 1965 allotments for extra long staple cotton by states include: Arizona 33,595, California 509, Florida 297, Georgia 113, New Mexico 15,627, Texas 27,304 and Puerto Rico 313. Price supports for extra long staple cotton also will be set later.

France Has Peking Ties

PARIS (AP) — France has taken the lead among nations of Continental Western Europe in diplomatic and, hopefully, commercial relations with Red China.

President Charles de Gaulle set this policy into motion when he officially recognized Peking, then launched new overtures for the neutralization of Southeast Asia through accord. De Gaulle, who had long predicted an eventual split between Moscow and Peking, obviously hopes to take diplomatic advantage of it to enhance France's prestige.

French businessmen hope the new diplomatic ties will lead to large-scale commerce, but the results thus far have been small.

Teen Juries Prove Helpful; Justice Sometimes Tough

HINSDALE, Ill. (AP) — Juvenile delinquents in this suburb of Chicago are learning fast that a jury of fellow teenagers can be tougher than adult justice. Nevertheless, every young offender, given the chance, has chosen the Youth Jury for sentencing since its inception in Hinsdale seven months ago. By doing so, offenders can make restitution without getting a police record.

The punishments meted out by the Youth Jury are designed to induce repentance and reformation. They usually consist of menial but constructive work—such as mowing lawns, scrubbing walls, cleaning streets or working as an orderly in a hospital or sanitarium. "We think it's really helping. Our acts of vandalism are going down," says police Sgt. John Beukema, Hinsdale youth officer. Magistrate Richard R. Brown attributes the success of the Youth Jury to the enthusiasm of the youngsters and community cooperation. "It's basically self-rule. The youngsters seem to be more adept at punishing their own and more adept at accepting punishment from their own," Brown explained. The jury does not rule on guilt or innocence. It passes sentences in cases presented to it. The sentences themselves can be increased or tempered by Brown.

Senate Lags In Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — As usual the 100 senators did more talking, spent more time, and produced less legislation than the 435 representatives in the recently ended congressional session. A post-session issue of the Congressional Record showed that the Senate met 186 days from Jan. 7 through Oct. 12 — 38 days more than the 148 days the House was in session. The Senate was in session 1,350 hours, more than twice the 624 hours chalked up by the House. The Senate totals were swelled by a filibuster over the new Civil Rights Act and a less arduous talk about legislative redistricting decisions of the Supreme Court. Of the 332 public laws enacted this year, 278 originated in the House and only 104 in the Senate. On private bills, 147 were House measures while 38 began in the Senate.

Mateos To Begin Series Of Tours

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Adolfo Lopez Mateos will begin Friday a series of 10 tours that will take him to 16 states. He will spend the weekend in Aguas Calientes and then make trips to Michoacan, Coahuila, Guerrero, Jalisco, Campeche, Sonora, Southern Baja California, Sinaloa and Hayarit.

STUDENT'S IDEA
The Youth Jury was proposed by a Hinsdale high school student, Greg Mertz, 17, who read about a similar system in Jacksonville, Fla. Officials of Hinsdale, a community of 16,000 west of Chicago, agreed to give it a try. Sgt. Beukema decides which cases should go before the Youth Jury after analyzing the past record of the offender and holding a long interview with his parents. The offenses involved include vandalism, shoplifting, petty theft and traffic violations.

Wink Homecoming

Former pupils in Wink High School are being reminded that homecoming for the school has been set for Friday at the high school. Lillian Hawkins, secretary of the Wink Ex-Students Association, said that there would be a program and a football game to highlight the occasion.

He was using all his efforts to line up a big television spectacular to raise money for Dr. Jonas Salk's Research Foundation. "I can no longer raise money retail: I have to go after it wholesale," said Cantor, who had collected millions of dollars for the March of Dimes and other causes. He reminisced about the great names he had worked with. He spoke affectionately of Samuel Goldwyn, who had brought him to Hollywood for a series of film extravaganzas. One was "Whoopee," in which Cantor had starred on Broadway for Flo Ziegfeld. The stage producer wanted his star to stay in the show and make the movie version on Long Island during the daytime. Goldwyn argued that the film could be made cheaper in Hollywood, "because I can get the Indians right off the reservoir" (sic).

Up To End Eddie Cantor Liked To Recall Old Days

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A last visit with Eddie Cantor—Cantor in his final years was far from the vital, kinetic figure who had danced across the Ziegfeld stage and the screens of movie houses. His speech had grown slow and heavy-tongued, evidence of the heart attacks that had withdrawn him from the entertainment scene. When he moved, it was with a deliberateness of a man who knew he was existing on borrowed time. But his mind was sharp as ever. As I visited at his Beverly Hills home one day, his memory seemed unimpaired as he reached back to those days he liked to recall, when he was first flashing across the horizon of the entertainment world. DISLIKED IT
Cantor's doctor had prescribed a shot of whisky each day to assuage his ailments, and the comedian still didn't enjoy taking it. "I never enjoyed drinking," he reflected, "and I think I know why. My first roommate in the 'Ziegfeld Follies' was W. C. Fields. He never drank before the show—he couldn't and do his juggling. But when the show was over, he got plastered. "I saw him three days before he died, and he said to me, 'I sometimes wonder what I could have been if I hadn't been on the stuff.'"

Cantor felt a mellowness toward Fields, as he did toward all his old fellow performers: Fanny Brice, Will Rogers, Bert Williams, Marilyn Miller, etc. But for Fields he had a special affection. "He helped educate me," Cantor said. "Fields always carried books with him, and every day he would read the New York Times and several other newspapers. Each night he would get out the dictionary and pick out three words that he made me learn and use in sentences. By the end of two years with the Follies, I had amassed a pretty good vocabulary."
USED EFFORTS
Cantor refused to let his heart disability end his good works.

He was using all his efforts to line up a big television spectacular to raise money for Dr. Jonas Salk's Research Foundation. "I can no longer raise money retail: I have to go after it wholesale," said Cantor, who had collected millions of dollars for the March of Dimes and other causes. ## 'Parity' Label Obsolete As Farm Price Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — These are forlorn days for the few survivors of an ardent group of farm officials the Roosevelt New Deal recruited in the 1930s and 1940s to help build strong federal farm-aid programs. This group, headed in the beginning by Henry A. Wallace, the first secretary of agriculture under Roosevelt, believed in and fought for these programs with the zeal of evangelists. Among them were a number of farmers, agricultural economists and farm educators.

Today, the parity goal seldom is mentioned. Farm prices are further away from this goal than at any time in 25 years. The New Dealers' once vocal and militant leader, Wallace, stands on the sideline. These holdovers from the New Deal days are referred to by Agriculture Department associates as "triple-A's." That's because they were on the staff of the old Agricultural Adjustment Administration — AAA — the original farm-aid agency. The name was dropped some years ago. Duties once performed by the AAA are now carried out by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Administration.

PARTY TAG
Their banner was stamped with the word "parity." By this, they meant a level of farm prices and income that would give farmers purchasing power equal to that enjoyed by their urban cousins for equivalent labor and capital investment. As time passed, the size of this militant group dwindled through retirements and deaths. The vacancies were not filled with others of equal enthusiasm.

ARE PESSIMISTIC
These men are inclined to be pessimistic regarding the future of an agriculture based on family farms. It was the goal of the AAA to preserve family-type agriculture. Now they are fearful that in time farming will become industrialized with management in the hands of a few large agricultural corporations or big food-processing and distribution concerns.

Get Your Concert Membership

Those who read editorials are the most likely to respond to this appeal—an appeal for support of the Big Spring Concert Association.
 The association is nearing the end of its current membership enrollment, and within a matter of two and a half weeks the first program, Mantovani and his orchestra, will be presented. Probably before then—and certainly by then—the membership rolls will be closed for the year. So the time to take your membership is now.
 There are several reasons for being a member. First and foremost, such offerings as Wrightson and Hunt, the Broadway smash "Never Too Late," and Mantovani, are well worth the membership fee. The programs constitute variety and quality.

 Another good reason is that while you are getting value received, you are providing the community with enrichment in the field of entertainment. We have made substantial progress here toward this goal for plus living over the years, and the Big Spring Concert Association is in a large measure responsible. In appreciation of having raised the community level of appreciation, membership in the association is more than warranted.

Texas Needs To Know Road Plans

There is a growing feeling in Texas, especially among state highway officials, that Congress should expand and extend the federal-aid interstate highway program well before the expected completion of the present plan by 1972.
 With the largest allocated mileage (3,030 of the 41,000 national total) of the 1956-72 interstate program, Texas is well ahead of other states in performance at the half-way mark. The new deputy federal highway administrator of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, former Dallasite T. Lawrence Jones, recently reported that Texas has completed 1,376 miles and has another 1,156 miles under construction, leaving only 498 miles in the planning stage.
 Texas will need to know well before 1972 what federal highway policy can reasonably be expected to be following completion of the present interstate program, for this state will have to begin soon firm advance planning for highway development after 1972 on all state, as well as federal-aid, systems. For the continuity essential to efficiency and economy in administration, as well as state fiscal planning, the "after-1972, what?" uncertainty over the federal interstate program should be dispelled as soon as possible.

 Another Texas concern, as indicated by Highway Commissioner J. H. Kuitgen, is that this state may be penalized for its excellent performance in the current program when it comes up for renewal. There will be pressure from states which have not done so well to change the aid-allocation formula to needs criteria designed to make up their deficiencies, at the expense of states such as Texas that have more fully met their responsibilities under the present program. This debate may go through one or more sessions of Congress, but it should not be allowed to defer the program's renewal and extension so long as to cripple the more efficient states' high level of highway development.

David Lawrence
Wheeler-Dealing And Arm-Twisting

WASHINGTON—The current presidential campaign is unique in one respect—more emphasis is being placed on the personal characteristics of the candidates than has been true in preceding campaigns. Republicans are displeased because of the implication that Senator Goldwater would, if elected, be a "reckless" President, while Democrats are unhappy because of the persistent campaign questioning the "ethics" of President Johnson. Perhaps the frankest statement on what is meant when the Republicans call Mr. Johnson a "wheeler-dealer" has just come from Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who appeared on a CBS television and radio network on Sunday. He said:

"WELL, I THINK the big issue that we are finally getting down to in this campaign is the character of the President of the United States. In other words, for so long the people of this country have equated politics almost with hypocrisy. They have been fed a diet of cream of wheat as far as politics. And now they are faced with one candidate whose candor is sometimes mistaken for recklessness when, in fact, all he is being is honest, the unorthodox politician. On the other hand, we have the classic politician, the present incumbent."
 Mr. Burch was asked just how he would characterize President Johnson. He answered as follows:
 "WELL, I AM NOT going to characterize the President as a man of dishonesty per se. But the President is a politician in the sorriest sense of the term, to my way of thinking. He is the wheeler-dealer, the arm-twister, 'go for whatever is good at the moment, disregard what you have done in the past—that sort of thing. Senator Goldwater is consistent and he is honest. That is the way I would appraise the two candidates."
 When asked to give a specific example of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting, Mr. Burch replied:
 "I AM TALKING about the votes on the civil rights bills. Anybody who shows the least bit of nervousness about a vote for the President and it is suggested that he should well reconsider his position. He (the President) suggests that he has a long memory and that if he (the congressman) wants his district taken care of, and if he wants to be on the inside of the White House he had better go along with the administration program."

WHAT The Republican chairman has described, however, is a tactic that is not novel in Washington. Other Presidents have used it, too. Many members of Congress have risked their political futures by refusing to go along with administration policies with which they disagreed. But the tendency in recent years has been more and more to condone the use of public funds and governmental favors to influence the votes of members of Congress. This isn't usually described as "dishonest," but as merely "practical politics."

AND WHAT is called "arm-twisting" and "wheeler-dealing" today is something which has grown in scope over the years, and now plays a significant part not only in lining up votes in Congress but in the allocation of some government contracts and the selection of sites for governmental projects. All this doesn't necessarily impugn the personal character of a President, but it certainly emphasizes how far the American politician has strayed from what used to be called "unselfish devotion to the public interest."

Billy Graham

Since drunkenness is getting to be one of our worst sins, I often wonder why "Thou shalt not drink" was not one of the Commandments. It seems to me that with the increase of alcoholic consumption, ministers should mention this more often from our pulpits.
 S.C.J.

Excessive drinking is a symptom of a spiritual or psychological maladjustment. It is often resorted to because of feelings of alienation, or as someone has put it, "a cosmic loneliness." The writer of Proverbs put it this way: "Strong drink is a mocker." It makes you feel relaxed, when actually there is inner conflict. It makes you feel strong when actually you are weak. It makes you feel confident when you are really unconfident. It is a deceiver, and it seems that a lot of people like to be kidded out of the facts of life.
 Interestingly, Jesus never mentioned the problem of drinking. He did say, "He that drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst." He recognized that our problem, our deeper problem, was not or could not be solved by imbibing or by abstaining—but by finding adequacy in Him.
 Probably most people drink excessively because of a terrible emptiness at heart. There is a rule in most cities that bars cannot be built too close to churches. Why? In a way they are in quiet competition with each other. One offers a cure for symptoms, the other a cure for the disease.

Race Has Two 'Unique' Points

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1964 presidential campaign, boring in many ways up till now, isn't altogether different from the 1960 race of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

— or the President alone — should have control over the use of "conventional" atomic weapons.

But two things make it unique in recent American history:
 1. Sen. Barry Goldwater's repeated charge that "scandal" hovers over the White House, although he offered no proof, and his preachments on the need for morality in government. Voters haven't heard that for a long time.
 And then Wednesday night, it was learned that Walter W. Jenkins, an aide to President Johnson for many years, was twice arrested on a morals charge. He resigned.

2. This year's election will decide the direction of the government for years to come, since Johnson wants continuation of big government, with new programs as he thinks they're needed. Goldwater wants smaller government.
 Because of this No. 2 problem the 1964 campaign, unlike that of 1960, is not strictly a personality contest. There is a real issue and a real difference from the Nixon-Kennedy contest.

THERE WAS no basic difference between them on domestic or foreign affairs or the kind of government needed. They didn't offer to change it but to improve it.

So the main question for the voters then was: Which of the two men could run the government better? In 1960 Nixon and Kennedy wrangled over their ideas on how to defend the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu from Red Chinese attack. This was a pretty empty dispute, as time proved, because the problem of defending the islands has never arisen since 1960. It was an issue which hardly caught fire: the islands were too far off for voters to visualize the problem.
 Something like that is happening now in the dispute between Johnson and Goldwater over whether the NATO commander stand or visualize all that's involved.

 As for the needling business, without which a campaign would be no campaign, Nixon and Kennedy needed each other and so do Johnson and Goldwater. Nixon and Kennedy were a little clumsy at it. So are Johnson and Goldwater.

Man Makes The Culture

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was an ambitious young man named Clarence Frothersbee-Smythe. Frothersbee, as his friends called him, was doing pretty well as a customer's man in Wall Street, plus what he made driving a taxicab on Saturdays and Sundays.
 But Frothersbee was a bit of a snob.
 "I do not want to be a soulless money-grubber," he said. "Culture is above cash. I want to be the most cultured man in the world."
 So he set out in pursuit of culture.

"Socrates was the most cultured man of his day because he knew everything there was to know then," he told himself. "I will become the most cultured man of my day by learning everything there is to know now."
 At first everything went swimmingly. He read all the great books. Then he began reading not-so-great books. He became prodigiously informed about everything from the Aardvark to Zygotes.

Frothersbee became the life of every party. But because he could answer every question he insisted on answering every question. So finally, his friends dropped him.
 "You are a cultural bore," one told him.
 Frothersbee still was doing all right at his office, because they found his tremendous fund of information useful. But the day his bosses bought a computer,

Around The Rim
Pressing Problem Of Pollution

Conservation of natural resources is considered a rather "ho-hum" subject and relegated to the classrooms or government agencies who hold a constant series of seminars trying to get the rest of us to do something about it.

THE IMPORTANCE of water, for instance, is acknowledged by all, but few of us do anything about it until it is gone. The pending crisis of a water shortage has encouraged some communities to do something about storing it for future use, but a critical shortage is still just around the corner in some areas.

With this in mind, it is amazing that water is the most plentiful natural resource of them all, and can be used over and over again, apparently remaining constant in its availability. Not so, of course of other resources such as timber, coal, oil, gold, etc. But water, even after use, remains in the life cycle and is used again and again, ad infinitum. The water that runs from your hydrant today may have been the same that comprised Cleopatra's bath in another time, or been in Caesar's canteen.

YET, WE ARE faced with a shortage of a seemingly plentiful resource. Pollution is one of the major problems. Even though it is often available, polluted water is next to no water at all. And though soapuds, industrial waste and other such man-made pollutants often get the blame, plain silt is the most flagrant in polluting water.

Throughout recorded history, mankind has faced the problem of keeping his rivers and canals clear of silt. A silted-up stream breeds a swamp, which brings disease, and the downfall of a city, state or nation. This is one of the reasons often given for the fall of Rome. The Romans could not keep enough slave labor on hand to keep the streams flowing and the resulting collection of polluted swamps decimated the population.

HOOPER DAM, incidentally, is only 30 years old and already silted up at an alarming rate.

In recent years, better sewage treatment, and industry's reuse of its own waste water have improved the pollution problem. Prospects of salt water conversion to fresh water holds out hopes that this resource can be tapped in areas where it is most needed, such as the arid regions of the world.

BUT EVEN IF a new source of water is found, polluted water is still a serious matter, and can pose problems outside of its loss as a resource. It proved to be so in Mesopotamia, Egypt and Rome. Unless we find some early solutions, it can be even more of a problem for us, and not just to our professors and government agents.

Conservative Doldrums

HEALING SPRINGS, Va. — Barry Goldwater's summer soldiers and sunshine adherents of the Old Dominion are in disarray. The senator's shoe-in victory, as it seemed after the Republican Convention, is fizzling into a fair-weather apparition.

THE BARRY-BACKER who goes shoe-leather reporting in Virginia must take a tight grip on his professional pledges of truth-telling and shame the devil of personal preference. The senator's chances are withering from emotional drought and autumnal frost.

He and his stalwarts still may be able to turn the dismaying trend, but they'll have to hump it. At this writing the defections are ripe, the ranks are as skinny as scarecrows and, the stoutest conservative hearts are in tatters.

"HE'S PUT DOUBTS in many minds about his capacity for the presidential job," says Walter Farnsworth, Bath County Republican chairman. "We believe in his principles but he doesn't seem to know how to articulate them."
 "He seems to have backed off from his pre-convention conservatism," says a conservative large city publisher. "He doesn't seem to be the forthright, love-me-or-leave-me Barry Goldwater that we knew."
 "IN 1960," SAYS an astute state-wide journalist, "it was practically a status symbol among the white-collar classes to be for Richard Nixon. Goldwater embarrasses these people with his blunders and his contradictions. The Republicans will have to crack the intensely racial tide-water area to make up for losses in the cities where the new registration is heavy because of the poll-tax repeal. Strom Thurmond made eight speeches in south-side Virginia, from Farmville to Suffolk. He drew no better than fair crowds."

THE EROSION of the national ticket appears to be spreading. In the Roanoke congressional district, Rep. Dick Poff (R), an easy winner since 1952, is being rudely jostled by state Sen. William Hopkins (D), who is clutching President Johnson's patronage pockets with one hand and Sen. Harry Byrd's meaningless party label with the other. In the Appalachian area, where this piece is written, Republican congressional candidate Roy Erickson is having his troubles proving that an equally-conservative rival, Rep. Jack Marsh, ought to be unseated.

THOSE POLITICAL "cross winds" which make campaigning difficult and prediction impossible blow out of a disturbed firmament. In 1952 the unbeatable Sen. Byrd, who liked Ike and couldn't abide Adlai Stevenson, gave a broadcast which made his feelings known without telling the proud Virginians how to vote. In 1960 Byrd toned down his message to "golden silence," which was enough to insure the state for Richard Nixon. But this year the senator, like a good many other conservatives, is vexed by a personal fondness for Lyndon Johnson, whom he will hardly denounce even by indirection, and has a Republican opponent who stands in the way of his endorsing Goldwater even by implication.

Expert Snooping Can Get Us All

WASHINGTON — For $400 an entrepreneur who makes his headquarters in New York City will supply an electronic snooping device that is far beyond the most dismal Orwellian nightmares of "1984."

The device is only slightly larger than a package of cigarettes. It needs only to be placed adjacent to your telephone, or next to any wire leading to your telephone—in your basement, on the terminal box on the utility pole, in the alley, or at any point up to the place where the wires enter the central exchange.

THE OPERATION of the device can then, from any point in the United States, dial your telephone number through a companion piece of electronic snooping paraphernalia and then listen to (or record) any sound made within range of the telephone, whether the telephone is out of its cradle or not.

This sinister piece of equipment is a representative example of the state of the snooping technology. It is more sophisticated than standard phone-tapping devices, but by no means unique in the field. Miniaturization of electronic equipment is now so advanced that effective transmitters are easily concealed in objects as tiny as tie clasps.

THE SNOOPING industry is booming, and nowhere more vigorously than in Washington, where the security game is played day and night by every agency of government. Federal gumshoes provide the nation's biggest market for electronic sleuthing machinery; just how big it is no man alive knows.

A SUBCOMMITTEE of the Senate Judiciary Committee has undertaken to learn the extent of the snooping that is being done in government, but its inquiry exempts so-called "security" agencies such as FBI and the various intelligence tentacles of the Pentagon, as well as the huge espionage apparatus of the Central Intelligence Agency. Thus, even if the Senate investigation is successful, it cannot do more than lance one small abscess in the infection of distrust that has riddled U.S. Government agencies.

A preliminary investigation under the direction of the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Edward B. Long (D., Mo.) revealed enough to justify a thoroughgoing study, which is now under way. A five-page questionnaire was sent to nearly two score federal agencies by the subcommittee a week ago, and by mid-February hearings are in prospect.

THE SAD TRUTH is that the government employe (as well as the private citizen) has virtually no legal protection against the army of sleuths that play the security game. State and federal agencies, credit bureaus and even the most untalented private eyes now have easy access to equipment of such sophistication that no American can preserve a shred of privacy against their determined assault.
 Phone-tapping, for example, is so easy and so commonplace that no knowing person in business or government will use the instrument for any confidential communication—any more than a country deacon would use a hick party line to arrange a liaison with a choir lady.

HOPEFULLY the Senate hearings will lead to an outraged demand for the law that is so badly needed to guard against the excesses of the busy, grubby army of scientific eavesdroppers.

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha School Superintendent Paul A. Miller called on adults to behave themselves if they wanted their children to be well-behaved.

Adults should realize the value in the oldtime sayings, Miller said, that "children do as you do, not as you say," and "actions speak louder than words."
 He told the Omaha Public School's opening fall conference for teachers and administrators that if the community behaves itself, its children will automatically know how to behave and teachers will have a chance to make great progress in classrooms.

To Your Good Health
What To Do If Child Is Exposed To Measles

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: I have heard of shots to prevent measles. If you give them to children who have been exposed to measles, what will happen? — MRS. J. B. D.
 The incubation period for measles—the time between exposure and the appearance of the disease itself—is two weeks. It takes from two to four weeks for measles vaccine to build up substantial protection against the disease.
 Therefore it is pointless to give the vaccine after it is known that a child has been exposed. (It wouldn't be harmful, either, but why waste the money and effort?)
 It is going to take a good explanation to give you a bit of idea of the different forms of measles vaccine, so I'll put off that discussion until tomorrow. Today we'll discuss the child who has been exposed. What can be done for him?
 In such cases, give gamma globulin. This provides what we call "passive protection." The antibodies in it will give temporary protection, but later they will be cast off by the body. If this is given at the right time (soon after exposure) it can prevent measles from developing. But subsequently the child should be given measles vaccine to provide active or permanent protection.

 If the gamma globulin is not given soon enough, it is still possible to give a smaller dose, a bit later. This will not prevent measles, but it will modify the attack. In this instance, the child will (from the attack itself) build up protection, and hence will not need any vaccination.
 Which is preferable? Six of one, half a dozen of the other—but since you cannot always be certain of when the exposure occurred, you don't always know whether the gamma globulin will happen to be timed so as to give the first result or the second.
 You can tell afterwards, of course. If the child doesn't get measles, it probably means that it was the first, or preventive method. So play safe and have a vaccination given later.
 If he gets a mild case of measles, that's the end of it.
 How important is it to do anything after a child has been exposed? Of the millions who get measles, and at least 90 per cent of all children will, the majority will recover in routine fashion, and nothing serious happens.

 But of these millions, there are some thousands who develop serious complications—pneumonia, eye damage, encephalitis (also known as brain fever) and other things.
 Each year, across the country, a sizeable number of deaths occur from measles. The percentage of disastrous complications may be moderate, but death or lasting harm mounts into larger numbers than the totals from some rarer diseases which are more feared for less reason.
 So, tomorrow we'll discuss the measles vaccines which, at long last, are available.
 What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

STRICTLY "NEW HAT" EVERY DAY!

There's nothing brighter, fresher, newsier and more welcome than your daily paper. It keeps you current on world affairs, stimulates your mind, tickles your sense of humor, puts facts at your fingertips.

It's short-lived – but it grows old gracefully. Today's paper won't be dead tomorrow or even the day after that. So much that's in it is timeless as well as timely. Things like expert financial and medical advice, recipes, do-it-yourself hints, special features and stories, pictures – these are just a few of the ageless extras your daily paper gives you.

In this era of mass communications, your newspaper stands out as a tangible document. It's yours to read, put down, pick up and read again, clip and save.

Hayes and Tyus Match Records

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Writer
TOKYO (AP) — Burley Bob Hayes and tall Wyoming Tyus matched world sprint records. Al Oerter collected his third straight discus gold medal and American swimmers continued to dominate their specialties Thursday in the Tokyo Olympic Games.

Those various victories, along with surprise triumphs by Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club and young Lesley Bush plus Don Schollander's third gold medal, helped build the American medal total to 32-14 gold, nine silver and nine bronze. Russia has 21—seven gold, five silver and nine bronze.

Hayes, the powerful, 190-pound flash from Florida A&M, solidified his claim as the world's fastest human with a 10-second flat victory in the 100-meter dash after an earlier near-incredible 9.9 performance in the semifinals had been disallowed because of a trailing wind.

The wind was well within the allowable standard, however, when he equalled the record with his 10-flat performance in the final.

Schollander, 18-year-old ace from Lake Oswego, Ore., won the 400-meter freestyle in world record time of 4:12.2, breaking his own mark of 4:12.7. He previously had won the 100-meter freestyle, anchored the winning 400-meter freestyle relay and has a chance for a fourth on the 800-meter freestyle relay Sunday.

The American men's string of six straight victories in swimming was broken by Australia's Ian O'Brien in the 200-meter breaststroke as he won in world record time of 2:27.8. Chet Jastrzemski of Toledo, Ohio, the former record-holder, was third in 2:29.6, and promptly announced his retirement from swimming.

Yankee prestige was restored in the next race, however, when the U.S. girls hustled to a world record clocking of 4:03.8 in the women's 400-meter freestyle relay.

Team members were Sharon Stouder, Glendora, Calif.; Donna de Varona, Santa Clara, Calif.; Pokey Watson, Portola Valley, Calif.; and Kathy Ellis, Indianapolis.

The Philadelphia crew's triumph in the premier eight-oared shell competition capped a great comeback. Vesper had been beaten in the first heat, won in repechage, then swept past the favored Germans in the final.

And Miss Bush, from Princeton, N.J., turned a major upset in edging Germany's Ingrid Kramer-Engel for the gold medal in women's platform diving.

Helping swell the leading Yankee medal total was the first-place finish of the pair oars withcox Ed Ferry, Seattle; Conn Findley, Belmont, Calif.; andcox Kent Mitchell, Berkeley, Calif., who finished the 2,000-meter course in 8:21.33.

Oerter, a 260-pounder from West Babylon, N.Y., shook off his various ailments and won his third consecutive discus gold medal with a toss of 200 feet, 1/4 inches, breaking his own Olympic record. Dave Weill, Walnut Creek, Calif., was third at 195.2.

“Every time I threw, it felt like someone was trying to tear out my ribs,” said Oerter, who competed with his right side frozen to prevent internal hemorrhaging from torn muscles in his rib cage.

The big noises of this fifth day of the 18th Olympiad, however, were the two magnificent performances by Hayes.

The wind was blowing at just over 5 meters per second when he clocked the 9.9 in the semifinals, but it had subsided when he bolted off the blocks in the final.

A great gasp went up from the throng of 85,000 in the National Stadium when it was apparent that Hayes—not usually a good starter—was on his way to a great race. He flashed down the track, his churning arms and legs generating great power, and steadily lengthened his lead.

He finished some two yards in front of Enrique Figueroa of Cuba and Harry Jerome of Canada. Jerome shared the world record of 10 flat with Armin Hary of Germany.

Miss Tyus, a tall Tennessee State co-ed, matched the world record held by Wilma Rudolph in winning her heat in the second round of the women's 100-meter.

Two other American girls, Edith McGuire of Atlanta and Marilyn White of Los Angeles, also made it through two rounds and into Friday's semifinals.

BILL HARTACK

Hartack Runs At Sunland

EL PASO—Bill Hartack, one of America's premier jockeys, will make his first riding appearance at Sunland Park Sunday.

The fiery Hartack, who won the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Queen's Plate aboard the Canadian bred Northern Dancer this year, will have a mount in the featured Dona Ana Handicap and said he will accept several other mounts on the card.

Although many members of the press admit they are not personally fond of the outspoken jockey, few will deny that he is a master of his trade.

His record of four victories in six attempts in the Kentucky Derby is one of the most phenomenal riding feats in the 90-year history of the “Run for the Roses.” The now retired Eddie Arcaro holds the record with six Derby wins but it took “The Archer” 21 Derby tries.

Hartack is the only rider to have won the national riding championship three years in succession in this century. He has won nearly every major stake in the country and his mounts such as Bardstoun, Carry Back, Dedicate, Gen Duke, Idum, Intentionally, Iron Liege, Kelso, Pet Bullly, Ridan, Round Table, Royal Native, Sailor and Tim Tam reads like Who's Who of racing greats.

He was America's leading jockey in 1955 (417 winners), 1956 (347 winners), 1957 (341 winners), and 1960 (307 winners) and he is the only reinsman whose mounts have won more than three million dollars in purses in one year.

His 43 stakes victories in 1957 also established an all time record.

Gibson, Stottlemyre Mound Foes Today

By JOE REICHLER

ST. LOUIS (AP) — For the seventh time in the last 10 years, the World Series went down to the seventh and final game today with the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees all knotted up at three victories apiece.

The odds favored the Yankees 10-13 although the Cardinals never had lost a seven-game series in four previous appearances. The Yanks, 20-8 in all Series play, had won five of nine in seven games.

And for the third time in this Series, the Cardinals' Bob Gibson and the Yankees' Mel Stottlemyre prepared to match pitches, each seeking his second triumph, with only two days rest.

Playing with their backs to the wall, and in enemy grounds, the American League champions averted elimination Wednesday with an 8-3 victory behind young Jim Bouton featuring some old-time Yankee bombing.

The victim was Curt Simmons, 35-year-old left-hander who vainly sought his first Series triumph. Simmons did well through five innings but ran afoul of the home run bats of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle, who connected back-to-back in the sixth to break a 1-1 tie.

Joe Pepitone's grand slam climaxed a five-run inning in the eighth put the game on ice and made Bouton the first two-game winner of the Series.

“I'm glad we're playing the last game in this park,” said Yankee Manager Yogi Berra, his broad face spread even wider in a large grin.

“The boys seem to hit better here than in Yankee Stadium. The way they hit today, they wish we'd play here all year.” Failure to wind up the Series in six games didn't appear to disturb Johnny Keane, the Cardinal manager.

“I said at the start the Series could go down to the wire,” he said. “We're used to this kind of scrambling. We've had to scrap all year so why not now?”

“I still think we can win it. We're better off than we were at the start. We have to win only one and in our own park. That should give us the edge.”

Keane said he would pay close attention to how Gibson warmed up before the game.

“I don't think the short rest will affect him,” he said. “But if I see he doesn't look sharp in his warm-up I'll switch to Saucedo.”

Gibson toiled 10 innings in his 5-2 winning effort Monday striking out 13 batters. At that time, he was pitching with his normal three-day rest after having been beaten 8-3 in the second game.

District Play Forthcoming

By The Associated Press

Fifty-six teams defend unbeaten, untied records this week in Texas schoolboy football with a doubled hazard—they also will be fighting for district championships.

It's all-out conference play as 91 of the 96 districts in the four classes that play to state titles have games that count in the standings, some of most vital nature.

The big game comes in Class AAAA, where Galena Park and LaMarque tangle with each fearful that a perfect record may go into the discard. It is an important Dist. 12 clash with the winner due to assume a favorite's role.

Prospects are that the unbeaten, untied list will shrink below 50 and it's certain that three teams will fall from the ranks.

Two of the games matching undefeated, untied teams come in Class AA, where Ballinger collides with Anson in a crucial Dist. 4 clash and Dublin tangles with Granbury in an important Dist. 7 battle.

Mighty Garland, with a 17-game winning streak, goes after its fourth district victory against Carrollton. But the story of this conference race probably won't be written until Oct. 30 when the Owls face Denison.

DUNKEL COLLEGE FOOTBALL INDEX

EXPLANATION — The Dunkel Index provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin relative to index of opposition, and is weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: A 5.0 team has been scoring points stronger, per game, than a 4.0 team against opposition of equal strength. It was originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

Royal Is Faced With Problems

By The Associated Press

Coach Darrell Royal had manpower problems with his No. 1 ranked Texas Longhorns Wednesday and did some shuffling to remedy the situation. It all stemmed from a forced replacement of Knox Nunnally, the Longhorns' top defensive end, and the possible sidelining of starting tackle John Elliott. Both are injured.

Texas is involved in a key clash in the Southwest Conference this week against Arkansas.

Nunnally suffered a dislocated shoulder against Oklahoma last Saturday, and Elliott reinjured a shoulder he first hurt in the Army game.

Royal moved sophomore Barney Giles from linebacker to end on defense, sophomore Charles Holman from weak to strong guard and Tommy Mankin from tackle to guard.

Royal said his squad also was having trouble substituting a simulated Arkansas "I" formation. Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said meanwhile that his club looked crisp in a workout Wednesday but he didn't want his boys hitting a peak too soon.

He said quarterbacks Fred Marshall and Billy Gray were hitting their targets in passing practice. Baylor stressed passing and eyed the absence of six starters from its defensive platoon while preparing for Texas Tech Saturday night at Waco.

The Baylor Bears' linebacker Bobby Maples, ends James Rust and Ramsey Muniz, halfback Eddie Whiddon, guard Arturo Delgado and tackle Fred Allen were sidelined with injuries. Only Muniz, however, and possibly Maples and Rust were expected to miss action against Tech.

Tech likewise worked on passes—long ones—in the Red Raiders' final contact work of the week. Tom Wilson, James Ellis and Ben Elledge did the throwing, and Coach J. T. King said he was pleased with the way they hit ends Jerry Don Balch and Jerry Shipley.

Texas A&M welcomed the return of sophomore halfback Ronnie Lindsey, who has been hampered by a thigh injury all season challenging Jim Stabler and Lloyd Curington for the left halfback assignment as the Aggies spent equal time on offense and defense preparing for Texas as Christian.

Rice Coach Jess Neely, remembering the Owls' 34-7 defeat by Stanford, indicated some changes may be in order for his lineup against Southern Methodist. He named no one, saying: “We'll just have to see what happens in practice.”

Baylor stressed passing and eyed the absence of six starters from its defensive platoon while preparing for Texas Tech Saturday night at Waco.

Mrs. Johnson Wins Place In Women's Recipe Book

By MARY COCHRAN

It was no surprise to friends of Mrs. Jack F. Johnson, 1312 Dixie, when one of her original recipes was chosen for publication in a book entitled, "Favorite Recipes of Texas." The collection represents some of the best cooking efforts of club women from all over the state.

Her recipe for Festive Cheese Log, a tangy spread that is crunchy with pecans, was tested by home economists from eight states before it was accepted for the book. Among the many club women who were awarded a place in the recipe collection is another Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Lyndon B. The local Mrs. Johnson is a past president of Women's Forum and chairman of the arts department of Western District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Also, she is a member of the XYZ Club and the Quesser's Class at First Methodist Church. Many social functions have been brightened by a special dish that originated in this homemaker's kitchen.

Her husband, a public accountant, will attest she is a superior cook. In fact, he has had to start weight watching with all the tempting dishes offered him at home. Also, there are two daughters who learned to cook under their mother's tutelage. They are Mrs. Ross Pike, 2711 Cindy, and Mrs. Tony Starr, Garland. Her grandchildren are John Pike and Tonya Starr.

"We always have special meals on holidays when the girls and their families are with us," she said. "I sometimes cook by the experimental method and add a pinch of this or that to improve the dish. For years I have been trying to make fruit cake the way my mother did for these holiday get-togethers and have finally worked out the recipe."

Another recipe she has tried to develop is chili like her father made. His main secret was never add water to the dish. He cooked the meat in suet, and if it was too rich dipped off the excess liquid during the cooking process. For tacos, a family favorite, she uses that chili recipe as a basis and serves a spicy cold-weather meal of tacos, beans and salad.

When the girls were growing up she was very busy with them and helped with their Scout troops and YMCA activities. This left her little time for her profession of nursing. Occasionally she has done special duty but has never worked actively in this field since those days when she was in nurses training.

She likes to "dabble" in ceramics and has shared this hobby through gifts to many friends. One of the bright spots in her life has been a trip to Hawaii when her granddaughter was born.

Here are some special recipes Mrs. Johnson has served many times on festive occasions.

FESTIVE CHEESE LOG
 1/2 lb. grated sharp cheese
 2 tbsps. minced onion
 2 tbsps. minced green pepper
 2 tbsps. minced olives
 2 tbsps. minced pickles
 1 tsp. minced pimiento
 1 shredded hard-cooked egg
 1/2 cup finely crushed crackers

1/4 cup mayonnaise
 1/2 tsp. salt
 Dash garlic salt
 1 cup finely chopped pecans
 Combine all ingredients except pecans; form into two 12x2-inch logs. Roll in pecans. Wrap in aluminum foil and store in refrigerator. Slice and serve with crackers. Yield: 25 servings.

GRAHAM CRACKER PECAN PIE
 3 egg whites (beaten stiff)
 1 cup sugar
 2 tbsps. baking powder
 1 cup graham crackers
 1 cup nuts
 1/2 pint cream, whipped
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 tsp. vanilla

SECOND HELPING COMING UP
 Mrs. Jack F. Johnson serves John Pike a treat

Mix first five ingredients in order given and pour into a buttered pie plate. Push filling to edge of pie plate and leave filling thin in center for whipped cream. Bake at 300 degrees for about 30 minutes or until light brown. When cool, fill center with whipped cream and chill for 5 to 6 hours.

BUTTERMILK CANDY
 2 cups sugar
 1 cup buttermilk
 1 tsp. soda
 2 tbsps. corn syrup
 1/2 stick butter
 1 tsp. vanilla
 2 cups pecans
 Combine all ingredients except pecans. Cook until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from heat, beat until creamy. Add pecans. Drop by teaspoon on buttered waxed paper.

BANANA NUT CAKE
 1 1/2 cups sugar

Fudge Has Sour Cream

This is a light-colored candy made with unsweetened cocoa powder.

SOUR CREAM FUDGE
 2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup cultured sour cream
 1/4 cup light corn syrup
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 tbsps. cocoa
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 cup chopped nuts

In a heavy saucepan mix together the sugar, sour cream, corn syrup, butter and cocoa. Stirring constantly, bring to a boil. Then cook, stirring occasionally, until temperature reaches 238 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water forms a soft ball that flattens on removal from water.

Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Let cool to 110 degrees (lukewarm). Beat until fudge begins to thicken and loses its gloss. Stir in nuts. Turn into a greased 8-inch square pan. Cut into squares when cool. Makes about 1 1/4 pounds.

Try New Coffee Divinity For Successful Treat

Something sweet and different will make a successful treat reaches 248 degrees, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beating constantly, slowly pour about half the hot syrup over egg whites.

COFFEE DIVINITY
 2 1/2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup light corn syrup
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 tsp. salt
 2 egg whites
 2 tbsps. instant coffee
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
 In a 2-quart saucepan mix together the sugar, corn syrup, water and salt. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Reduce heat; cook without stirring to 248 degrees or the firm ball stage.

Just before temperature reaches 248 degrees, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beating constantly, slowly pour about half the hot syrup over egg whites. Meanwhile cook remaining syrup to 272 degrees or until the hard but not brittle threads stage. Beating constantly, pour hot syrup, about 1 tablespoon at a time, over first mixture; beat well after each addition. Beat in instant coffee; continue beating until mixture begins to lose its gloss and a small amount holds a soft peak when dropped from a spoon. Mix in vanilla and pecans. Drop by teaspoons onto waxed paper. Makes about 1 1/4 pounds.

1/2 cup butter
 2 eggs
 5 tbsps. sweet milk
 4 bananas (small)
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1 tsp. soda
 1 cup nuts
 1 tsp. vanilla
 Mix in order given and bake in medium size loaf pan. Bake at 300 degrees until light brown.

ALICE'S TACOS
 2 lbs. ground beef
 2 large onions
 2 tbsps. salt
 1 button garlic
 1 small head lettuce
 1 1/2 dozen tortillas
 3 tbsps. shortening
 1 small hot pepper
 1/2 cup water
 1 cup grated cheese
 Cook meat, onions, hot pepper, salt and garlic together for 45 minutes. Then add 1/2 cup water and steam until meat is soft. Fry tortillas in shortening, blend in center while frying. Drain tortilla and fill with meat mixture, grated cheese, chopped onions and lettuce. Serve with commercial hot tomato sauce.

For a complete meal, serve with red beans and chili.
OLD-TIME FRUIT CAKE
 4 eggs (beaten well)
 1 cup strong coffee
 1 tsp. soda
 1/4 cup molasses
 2 1/2 cups sugar
 1 cup shortening
 4 cups flour
 2 tbsps. baking powder
 2 cups cocoa
 1 large pkg. dates, chopped
 2 cups pecans
 1 tsp. cinnamon

Braising Method Tenderizes Meat

Braising, one of the so-called "moist heat" methods of meat cookery, is the recommended manner of cooking many of the less tender and thrifty cuts of meat. Remember to add a small amount of liquid, cover the utensil tightly and cook the meat very slowly until tender.

Good Buys This Week

By The Associated Press

Heavy supplies of pumpkins and apples and increased shipments of pomegranates, persimmons and even sugar cane mark this as a typical week of autumn at most Texas produce markets. Fair volume of Texas and Florida oranges and grapefruit at prices lower than a week ago. Bartlett pears, bananas, grapes and cranberries are abundant. Apples are priced lower, says the Agricultural Marketing service.

Tomatoes, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, sweet potatoes, squash, tomatoes and turnips offer much value at modest cost at most markets.

Peppers, tomatoes and lettuce are priced lower than last week. Onions and potatoes are generally higher. Also higher at some markets are green beans, celery and corn.

Beef, pork, turkey, chicken, cheese and canned salmon continue available in an abundance that enables attractive prices. Rice and dry beans, always economical, are in especially good supply.

Try Super Veal Stew

Ever hear of veal stew going to a party? If can, of course, easily when you dress it up with mushrooms, sour cream and parsley.

VEAL STEW WITH SOUR CREAM
 3 lbs. boneless veal shoulder cut in 1 1/2-inch cubes
 1/2 cup flour
 3 tbsps. salt
 1/4 cup lard
 1/4 cup pepper
 1 cup sliced celery
 2 cups water
 1/2 tsp. thyme
 1 medium head cauliflower, broken into flowerettes
 1 can (4 ozs.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
 1 cup dairy sour cream
 1/4 cup chopped parsley

Mix flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in flour and seasonings. Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add onion, celery, water and thyme. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour and 15 minutes. Add cauliflower and continue to cook slowly 30 to 45 minutes, or until meat is done and cauliflower is tender. Add mushrooms, sour cream and parsley. Heat through. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Pour into two greased and floured tube cake pans. Bake at 250 degrees for 45 minutes or one hour. Wrap in foil and store for several days.

RING THE BELL
 Stuffed peppers for oven favorite

Add Zest To Peppers With Canned Beans

Stuffed green peppers are a versatile menu item which can hold an array of stuffings for the family that delights in the zestful taste of this popular vegetable.

Stuffed pepper treats need not be time-consuming or costly when planned to incorporate pantry shelf foods and flavorings as stuffings.

Teaming up with many foods is a remarkable ability of green peppers with a distinctive flavor that can enhance and complement other vegetables as well as meats.

RANCH STUFFED PEPPERS
 4 to 6 large green peppers
 2 cans ranch style beans
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 Remove tops and seeds from peppers. Parboil for 5 minutes and drain. In small amount of cooking oil or shortening, lightly brown chopped onion. Add beans and mix thoroughly. (Since peppers do not come in standard sizes, it is difficult to say exactly how many bean stuffing will fill how many peppers. However, if the choice is large peppers, it usually takes two cans of beans to fill six pepper shells.)

Stuff each pepper shell generously with bean and onion mixture. Place stuffed peppers upright in shallow baking pan or baking dish. Add small amount of water to cover bottom of baking pan or dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes.

If you like a crusty topping on peppers, sprinkle them with buttered bread crumbs to which a little lemon juice has been added. Or, a topping of grated cheese could be added to peppers during the last five minutes of baking time.

Turkey Casserole Made To Please

There's a minimum of sauce in this casserole.
TURKEY SPAGHETTI DISH
 3 tbsps. butter or margarine
 4 tbsps. flour
 2 cups turkey or chicken broth
 1/4 cup heavy cream
 1 can or jar (4 ozs.) pimiento, drained and cut
 4 cups cubed cooked turkey
 8 ozs. thin spaghetti, cooked
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese

In a saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; stir in flour, then broth; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Stir in turkey, spaghetti and salt and pepper.

Turn into a greased 8 by 8 by 2 inch baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese. Heat in a very hot (450 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until bubbly; brown under broiler if desired. Makes 6 servings.

New Recipe For Watercress Salad

Celery may be substituted for the fennel (fennel) in this recipe; in this case add fresh or dried tarragon.

WATERCRESS SALAD
 1/2 bunch watercress
 1 small cucumber
 1/2 stalk fennel (fennel)
 Olive or peanut oil
 Wine vinegar (red or white)
 Prepared mustard
 Salt
 Freshly-ground pepper
 Have watercress washed, drained and chilled. Remove heavy part of stems; arrange in salad bowl. Scrub cucumber in cold water; dry. With swivel-blade vegetable peeler pare cucumber so part of peel remains, giving a striped effect; slice thin.

Bright, New Approach For Simple Vegetable

If you are tired of serving the same vegetables over again, here's a tip—make a Cheese-Turnip Bake. Yellow or white turnip is a flavorful vegetable with ample mineral content. Cheese is concentrated milk and packed with good protein. Combine cheese and turnip as directed in the recipe for the very next time you want "something different."

The turnip can be peeled, diced, cooked and drained in advance. Just combine with the cheese and other ingredients. And bake while preparing the rest of the dinner.

CHEESE-TURNIP BAKE

- 1 medium-size yellow turnip
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. salt
- 1 cup grated cheese
- $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. nutmeg
- 1 cup homogenized milk
- 1 cup fresh bread cubes
- 2 tbsps. butter, melted

Wash and slice turnip. Peel, dice and cook in boiling salted water about 20 minutes or, until

SWITCH OVER Make turnips a specialty

almost tender. Drain. Butter a shallow  $\frac{1}{4}$  quart baking dish. Place a layer of diced turnip on bottom of dish. Sprinkle one-half cup of the grated cheese over turnip. Add  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon of the nutmeg. Repeat the layer

Pour milk over top. Mix bread cubes and melted butter. Sprinkle over top. Bake in a (350 degree F.) moderate oven for about 30 minutes, or until tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Use Kabob Mix For Lunch Treat

Let these sausage and Fruit Kabobs be a surprise lunch treat for the children. Cut 5 minutes, or until lightly smoked sausage links into thirds. Core an apple and cut into 8 wedges. Open a can of pineapple chunks. Each kabob should contain 3 pieces of sausage, 1 apple wedge and 2 pineapple chunks. The kabobs can then be brushed with French dressing and broiled about 4 or 5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Allow at least 2 kabobs for each person.

HERE'S WHAT IT DOES:

1. COOKS RICE JUST RIGHT. Always-easy-to-prepare COMET RICE cooks doubly easy in the COMET RICE COOKER. When cooked according to directions, the yield is approximately 3 cups of fluffy, white COMET RICE.
2. KEEPS RICE TABLE-READY FOR HOURS. COMET RICE stays hot, fluffy and tender in the COMET RICE COOKER as long as there is boiling water in bottom pan. There's no steaming or cooling. You can prepare COMET RICE in the COMET RICE COOKER ahead of time and it will stay perfect until served.
3. SAVES VITAMINS AND MINERALS. Steam cannot wash away the vitamins and minerals in COMET RICE. COMET is the only RICE that is both VITAMIN AND ENRICHED. Use the COMET RICE COOKER to preserve the full flavor and nutrition of all COMET RICES.
4. COOKS OTHER FOODS. You'll find the COMET RICE COOKER additionally useful for warming up many leftovers and for heating most frozen foods.

Enclosed please find a COMET RICE BOX TOP and $3.50. Send me a COMET RICE COOKER.

GO SICILIAN Anchovies, tomato sauce give distinction to dish

Fresh Cauliflower Gives Dash To Fall Vegetable Cookery

A fine, fresh cauliflower, its snowy mass cupped by shapely green leaves, is a handsome vegetable, one which ought to rank high in popularity. Yet, altogether too often, its beauty, flavor and texture are marred by overcooking or incorrect cooking.

Cauliflower is good either cooked or raw. Therefore don't be afraid of undercooking it. For flowerettes, start cooking in a one-inch depth of boiling salted water. Cook them uncovered for the first five minutes and then cover the pan and cook about 10 minutes longer. When you cook a whole head, increase the cooking time to a total of 20 minutes and turn the head over about half-way through the cooking process.

Don't cook cauliflower too far ahead of serving time. The heat used in holding it will actually continue the cooking and turn it into an unappetizing dish.

In parts of the country where there is hard water, cauliflower is likely to pick up a yellowish tinge. This can be prevented by adding a teaspoon of fresh lemon juice to the cooking water.

SICILIAN CAULIFLOWER

- 1 large head cauliflower
- Boiling water
- 1 tsp. salt
- Melted butter or margarine or olive oil
- 4 anchovy fillets, chopped fine
- 1 cup diced tomato
- 1 tbsps. finely chopped onion
- 2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. sugar
- 1-16 tsp. ground black pepper

Trim off outer leaves of cauliflower, leaving the tender leaves attached to the head. Invert head in a bowl with water to cover and 1 teaspoon salt. Let stand 10 minutes. Remove from water and rinse head in cold water. Place cauliflower, head down, in boiling water to cover. Add salt. Cover. Bring to boiling point and cook 5 minutes. Turn head right side up and cook 10 more minutes.

Remove cauliflower from water and drain well. Place, head up, in a buttered casserole. Brush head with melted butter, margarine, or olive oil. Sprinkle with finely chopped anchovies. Bake in a preheated moderate oven at 350 degrees 15 minutes, basting with oil two to three times. Cook tomato, onion, green pepper, salt and ground black pepper together five minutes. Push through a sieve, add sugar and pour over cauliflower head. Cook five minutes. Remove from oven and garnish with anchovy fillets. Carry to the table in the casserole. Serve hot.

CAULIFLOWER PUDDING

- 1 medium-size head cauliflower
- Boiling water
- 1 tsp. salt
- Medium white sauce
- 2 large eggs, lightly beaten
- 3 tbsps. grated Parmesan cheese
- $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. ground nutmeg

Wash cauliflower and break head into flowerets. Place in a saucepan with one inch boiling water and salt. Bring to boiling point, uncovered, and cook five minutes. Cover and cook 10 minutes or only until crisp-tender. Combine white sauce, eggs, cheese and nutmeg. Drain cauliflower and add to the sauce. Turn into a buttered one quart casserole. Place in a pan hot water. Cook in a preheated slow oven, 325 degrees, 60 minutes or until pudding is firm in the center.

CAULIFLOWER CASSEROLE

- 1 medium ( $\frac{1}{2}$  lbs.) head fresh cauliflower
- 1-inch boiling water
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 lb. chestnuts (x)
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. ground white pepper
- $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. hot water

Break cauliflower into flowerets. Place in saucepan with one-inch boiling water and salt. Bring to boiling point, uncovered, and cook five minutes. Cover and cook until about three-fourths done. Drain. Put a layer of cauliflower in a buttered casserole, cover with a layer of chestnuts, dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with white pepper mixed with one-fourth teaspoon salt. Continue until all ingredients are used. Add the hot water. Cover and bake in a preheated moderate oven, 350 degrees, 30 minutes.

Combine white sauce, eggs, cheese and nutmeg. Drain cauliflower and add to the sauce. Turn into a buttered one quart casserole. Place in a pan hot water. Cook in a preheated slow oven, 325 degrees, 60 minutes or until pudding is firm in the center.

To prepare chestnuts: Prick with a fork or split top end in a cross slit. Place them in a preheated moderate oven, 350 degrees, or in a slightly greased skillet, cover and cook over low heat until outer shell cracks. Shell, while warm, and cook in boiling salted water until tender. (The brown coating around chestnuts will come off during the boiling process.) Chop medium fine.

BEAN SPROUT SALAD

- 1 can (1 lb.) bean sprouts
- 1 tbsps. white wine vinegar
- 2 tbsps. peanut oil
- $\frac{3}{4}$  tsp. sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. salt
- 4 large iceberg lettuce leaves
- Green pepper
- Canned drained pimiento
- Drain bean sprouts thoroughly. Mix vinegar, peanut oil, sugar and salt; toss drained bean sprouts in this dressing; cover and refrigerate to allow to marinate for 20 to 30 minutes; drain; place at each end of serving dish; drain bean sprouts and mound in center.
- Cut green pepper and pimiento into attractive shapes (use miniature cutters if available) and place over sprouts. Sprinkle saved marinade over lettuce.

Grassroots Level Now GOP Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are working at the grassroots level in the South as never before, an Associated Press survey shows.

But the same survey shows mixed effort by GOP workers elsewhere — warm support for the national ticket in some places, cool in others.

Democrats have been slow in reacting to the Republican challenge in the South. Elsewhere they are concentrating on registering friendly voters and, in some areas, trying to battle overconfidence.

These views stemmed from interviews with party leaders and precinct workers in more than 40 states. They are summed up best, perhaps, by the Arizona precinct worker who mused, "It's a really funny year."

It's a year in which Republicans appear to have far and away the most active precinct organization in Georgia, a state which has never deserted the Democratic party.

HIGH LEVEL
It's a year in which a GOP precinct worker in always Republican Vermont says he doesn't know of a single town committee in his county working for the presidential nominee.

Sen. Barry Goldwater. And it's a year in which precinct activity in most states is reported at its highest level ever by one or both parties — against a background of reported voter apathy in some states.

Leaders in both parties say precinct activity, the efforts of grassroots party workers, is what spells victory or defeat in an election. They add this is especially true if the reports of voter apathy are translated into a light turnout on election day.

The tactics of precinct work are much the same regardless of party or state. Identify the voter. Get him registered. Work on the undecideds. And, come election day, get your man's supporters to the polls.

40 STATES
To find out how these efforts are going, Associated Press newsmen talked with scores of state, county and precinct leaders of both parties in more than 40 states.

The consensus: —In the South, particularly in the big cities, Republicans are organized as never before down to the grassroots level. Democrats, long accustomed to losing shop after their spring primaries, are slow in reacting.

—Elsewhere across the country, Republican activity is closely tied to feelings about Goldwater. Party leaders in some areas report a dedicated zeal. In other areas leaders frankly admit they have lost party workers and are downplaying the nominee.

—Democrats for the most part, are concentrating on registering voters and taking advantage of their edge in registrations. But some openly express fears of overconfidence among their troops.

Without a trace of regret, Burr said, "I think this year will wind it up. And, as you know, there are a number of other projects I've been interested in for some time."

There are, of course, Burr's flourishing art galleries and his interest in legal aid organizations, stimulated by his part in the courtroom series.

"And I've been talking with Don Fedderson (a TV producer) about a new series," Burr said. "It's working title is 'The Power,' and I'll play the governor of a state."

In addition to numerous "Perry Mason" fans who have faithfully followed the CBS show, there will be many veteran actors and actresses who will miss the show.

Gail Patrick Jackson, executive producer of the series and one of its owners, is a former motion picture star who has great loyalty to old friends. She has always made a special point of hiring, whenever possible, some of the people she calls "old timers — people who were acting when I was." Some of them are semiretired and, often, well-to-do, but the acting urge remains strong.

DEAR ABBY
Late With Wild Oats

DEAR ABBY: Last year we moved from the country to the city so our children could go to the best schools, study with the best music teachers and get all the cultural advantages of the art museum, symphony, ballet and so forth. Well, the children haven't learned much, but their father has learned plenty. Every Saturday night I have to send my brother down to the burlesque house to drag my husband home. My man has gone hog wild. He signed up for a course in ballroom dancing and he goes by himself every Monday night and I don't see him again until after work on Tuesday. He says I don't need lessons because all I have to do is "follow." HE needs lessons because he has to "lead." (Is that true?) I suggested moving back to the country and he refused to go. How can I straighten him out?

SORRY WE MOVED
DEAR ABBY: I don't know what your man "sowed" in the country, but it wasn't his wild oats because he appears to be sowing them now. Wait your overgrown kid back onto the straight and narrow if you have to enlist a marriage counselor or clergyman to help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl, and people tell me I am cute looking and have a good personality, but I have never had a real date. I think I know why. Boys are afraid to ask me out or come over because my father is a policeman. How can I get boys to date me with this handicap? I am hankering for a date. DATELESS

DEAR DATELESS: Only a thief runs when no one pursues. I hope you aren't hankering for dates with boys who fit this description.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is just 20 and the girl he went steady with for four years is 18. She graduated from high school last June and Jim has had one year of college. They begged us to let them get married in July, saying she would work and they would have an apartment on campus. Her parents agreed to continue her allowance. We consented to their marriage on the condition that they promised not to have a family until Jim graduated from college. Well, they weren't married two months when she announced she is one month pregnant! We are so angry at that stupid girl! Do you think we are justified in asking our son to quit school and go to work? How do other parents handle situations like this?

JIM'S MOM
DEAR MOM: Why handicap Jim for life by refusing to help him get an education? He needs his college degree more than ever now. Give them a break and don't withdraw your support. Most parents help their married college children as much as they possibly can.

Town Fires Councilman

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP) — A second city councilman of Crystal City had been turned out of office today for failure to pay his utilities bills.

Mario Hernandez, by majority vote, was ousted from office and replaced by Antonio Yanas. An urban renewal commissioner, Yanas is backed by the Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations.

Voting to oust Hernandez were Mayor Juan Cornejo and Councilman Manuel Maldonado and E. C. Munoz. Councilman Antonio Cardenas was not present.

A month ago, Cornejo joined Hernandez in a vigorous objection to the firing of Councilman Reynoldo Mendoza for failure to pay his utilities bills.

Lawyers To Defend Poor Is Plan's Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren has appointed a committee of judges to develop plans for providing lawyers for persons too poor to obtain an adequate defense in criminal cases in federal courts. Such aid to defendants is called for in the Criminal Justice Act of 1964, recently enacted by Congress.

Warren also called a special session of the Judicial Conference of the United States for Jan. 13, in the Supreme Court building, to consider administrative problems faced by the federal judiciary under the new law.
