GM On Move To Resume Output

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. edged forward today in resuming production of its 1965 model automobiles after its month-long strike.

Stargazers: 'It's LBJ'

NEW DELHI (AP) — Indian astrologers have consulted the heavenly bodies and say President Johnson will win big next Tuesday.

The latest reading of the stars from India also indicates victory for Democratic Senate hopefuls Pierre Salinger in California, Edward Kennedy in Massachusetts, and Robert Kennedy in New York.

But some of Johnson's top aides—Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson—will be out looking for jobs next year, according to the astrologers.

Local plant strikes limited the production rate to a trickle compared to GM's vast potential, greatest of the auto industry.

GM factories in Flint, Mich., a major cog in the nationwide complex, apparently led the way. Buick in Flint anticipated full production today.

Flint plants, where Chevrolet cars also are made, recalled an estimated 35,000 employees made idle in the United Auto Workers' strike that began Sept. 25.

GM officials declined to speculate when all 360,000 workers would be back on the job. More than 300,000 were idled in the strike.

At the last count, 28 UAW bargaining units had yet to settle their local issues. These included 15 of 23 assembly plants.

The UAW called off its national strike Sunday with approval of the national agreement between the union and the company. Local strikes were permitted to continue, however.

Local issues cover a wide variety of subjects, mostly bearing on plant conditions.

FOR FEDERAL BUILDING

Site Selection Team Looking Over Properties

A team of government representatives launched work today in seeking a site for the proposed new post office and federal building in Big Spring.

They have set up headquarters in the post office, and for the next several days will be busy checking properties that have been submitted as possibilities as well as reviewing other available sites.

Requirements are for a full city block, since plans for the structure call for property at least 286 by 289 feet.

Availabilities will be sought in an area bounded by Lancaster Street on the west, Nolan Street on the east, Second Street on the north and Eighth Street on the south.

Congress has earmarked a total of $1,367,000 for the facility, which would have 17,210 square feet for postal use and 10,365 square feet for other services and activities and custodial space.

Representatives of the General Services Administration and the Post Office Department conferred with city officials Monday evening preliminary to their survey work.

Here on the selection team are W. B. Barney, chief of space requirements branch, P. O. Department; and the following from GSA: Kenneth Orr, chief of space requirements; L. N. Stuart, chief of space management division; Joe McDougal, associate appraiser; and Hank Morgan, area manager. All are from Dallas.

Stuart told the city officials Monday evening that the team's task would be to try to find an area suitable to governmental needs, within the cost factor allowed; that every effort will be made to determine present and future growth patterns of the city; to select a site in keeping with municipal planning; and to pick one that will be generally acceptable to the people of the community.

Much work is to be done in getting information on utilities, grades of property, traffic flow in the general area; and finally, to determine an approximate appraised cost.

U.S. Training Viet Killer Commandos

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The United States is training killer commandos to follow rules laid down by Mao Tse-tung.

This experiment, quietly begun, organizes the new guerrillas into cells like the Communist Viet Cong has. On graduation they get pledge cards printed with teachings from Mao and the Vietnamese Communist military strategist, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap.

REDS WORRIED Captured documents indicate that the Viet Cong is worried about these teams, and that the commandos are getting results.

The man behind the new training program is a civilian official of the U.S. Information Service named Frank Scotton, from Needham, Mass. He speaks fluent Vietnamese, and spends most of his time in the remote upper valleys of Quang Ngai province 320 miles northeast of here. He carries and uses a sub machinegun.

Scotton, 26, says of the Communist tactics he is teaching his men:

"After all, the Communists stole the secret of nuclear bombs from us. Why should we be squeamish about stealing their techniques of revolutionary warfare? They work."

Scotton's teams are drawn by local Vietnamese officials from the cream of the local militia. From that point on, they are paid directly by the United States. Each team, which trains as a class, starts out with 50 men and then is trimmed down to the 30 best. On graduation, each commando gets a raise.

His monthly salary goes from the equivalent of $10 up to $15.

U.S. Army officials declined to speculate when all 360,000 workers would be back on the job. More than 300,000 were idled in the strike.

Scholar Swap With Slavs Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the United States is about to exchange Fulbright scholars with a Communist nation.

On Nov. 9, the United States is expected to sign a treaty setting up the program with Yugoslavia. About 50 scholars would be exchanged under the treaty, beginning next school year.

Study Set On Teacher Lack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education announced today it is launching a study to find out why there is a national shortage of qualified teachers.

Dr. Harold Walter Stoke, retiring president of New York City's Queens College, will help with the task. He will direct studies of requirements for "supply of and characteristics of professional education personnel at the elementary, secondary, and higher education levels."

border area in the Plain of Reeds. The Cambodian government warned that it will sever diplomatic relations with the United States and recognize North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front if American and South Vietnamese forces commit further "aggression" against Cambodia.

Cambodia broke diplomatic ties with South Viet Nam last year. Prince Norodom Sihanouk threatened several times to break with the United States.

The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry said that the Cambodian planes shot up an area a mile or so from where American Special Forces Capt. Herman Y. Towery was allegedly seized by Cambodia troops last week and later found dead.

Sihanouk followed up his threat to break relations with the United States with a statement warning that Cambodia will respond "blow for blow" to any attacks.

Cambodia charged earlier its air space was violated Saturday by a South Vietnamese plane in the province of Modokiri. The government said Cambodian anti-aircraft fire downed the plane.

U.S. authorities in Saigon said there were indications Cambodian ground fire downed a twin-engine transport that crashed Saturday, killing eight Americans aboard. The Americans said the plane came down in Viet Nam about half a mile from the Cambodian frontier.

Contempt Case Delayed

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A federal court contempt citation against a U.S. attorney was postponed indefinitely Monday, pending an appeal which will decide if the Justice Department has power over a federal grand jury.

The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals issued the stay to U.S. Atty. Robert Hauberg of Jacksonville, Miss., "pending disposition of the appeal."

Hauberg was cited for civil contempt by Dist. Judge Harold Cox when he refused to sign five grand jury indictments last week. Hauberg said he was under orders from Acting U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach not to sign.

In appealing the citation, the Justice Department asked that Cox be stopped from compelling Hauberg to sign the indictments. It said Cox has no right to decide what federal crimes the federal government will prosecute.

The indictments stem from a federal grand jury investigation in Jackson which reportedly sought perjury indictments in a civil rights case.

U.S. Military Dependents Leaving Guantanamo Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly half the American women and children living at Guantanamo when Cuba shut off the naval base's water supply last winter have returned to the United States, the Navy reported today.

The U.S. family population of Guantanamo totaled 1,747 as of Oct. 1. Last February it stood at 2,994. All dependents are expected to be gone by February, 1966.

Gradual removal of dependents of American naval and civilian personnel was ordered Feb. 11 as one of a number of measures designed to make the base self-sufficient.

WATER SHUTOFF Several days earlier Fidel Castro shut off Guantanamo's fresh water source in retaliation for U.S. seizure of some Cuban fishermen who had strayed into American waters. Less than a month later, Castro offered to turn the water back on but the United States spurned that offer.

To make the base independent of outside water sources, the government ordered construction of three plants for converting salt water to fresh, with a daily output of 2.2 million gallons.

Two of the three plants have been finished and are producing 1.5 million gallons a day, the Navy said. The third plant is on schedule and due to be in business in mid-December.

As a result, Navy tankers which had been shuttling back and forth between Florida and the Guantanamo base for seven months have been relieved.

Izvestia did not name Khrushchev, but it repeated assurances that his policies of de-stalinization and economic progress would be continued by party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

"In the present moment," it said, "the cause of peace and social progress in an increasing degree depends on strengthening the unity of all anti-imperialist forces and first of all the unity of the Socialist countries, the world Communist movement."

Izvestia made no mention of Red China and the bitter dispute which split it from the Soviet Union. The appeal apparently sought to quiet unrest that has swept the East European na-

Prison 'Strike' Leaders Sought

Knife, Club Hunt Turns Up Weapons

JESSUP, Md. (AP) — After stripping prisoners of scores of weapons at the riot-shaken Maryland House of Correction, officials picked up today the job of weeding out ringleaders of continuing unrest at the prison.

"We got about 36 troublemakers, and there are about 20 more to go," said Vernon L. Peppersack, state commissioner of correction.

He gave the appraisal early today after a cell-by-cell search by guards and state police yielded knives, clubs, chains and other weapons in possession of prisoners.

Some were found in cells but most were tossed from the barred cubicles of the four-tiered cell houses as inmates set fires, jeered, whistled and shouted to distract the searchers moving from tier to tier. At least four fires were touched off, but all were small and were quickly doused with extinguishers.

STAGE 'STRIKE' Peppersack said a sit-down strike Monday idled about 500 inmates in the prison laundry and workshops. He met with spokesmen for the strikers and received a list of grievances.

They complained that a guard treated prisoners brutally, that an office worker was not keeping proper account of money and time-off credits earned by shop inmates, and that the prison commissary did not carry a big enough variety of items.

"I'll talk with the guard," Peppersack told newsmen, "but I've already done some checking and can't find a thing to substantiate the complaint about him."

EYE ASSIGNMENT He said, however, the guard might be reassigned "as much for his own safety as anything else."

"There's no basis at all for the complaint about the office worker," Peppersack added. He said the employee does not handle the kind of work involved in the complaint.

The commissioner told the strike spokesmen Monday he would consider their complaints. They returned to their shops, but the idleness continued.

BACK TO CELLS At quitting time, the inmates left the shops, ate dinner without incident and returned to their cells.

But Peppersack received word through the prison grapevine that ringleaders of a riot which erupted at the medium-security prison last Friday night planned a new uprising for Monday night.

About 40 state police who had been sent to the prison earlier in the day were ordered into the cell-blocks at 7 p.m. to keep order during segregation of inmates tabbed as ringleaders and to help search for weapons. They worked until after midnight.

Absentee Vote Reaches 425

Voters who will not be in the county Nov. 3, or who are too ill to go to the polls, have only three days left in which to cast absentee ballots. Deadline for such voting is 5 p.m. Friday.

Meantime, Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said her office has processed a total of 425 absentee ballots since Oct. 4—the day such voting began. One hundred and ninety-nine of these are requests for ballots sent in by mail and 226 were cast by persons who have shown up at the office.

The 425 total is just 99 short of the 524 total absentee vote polled in the last presidential election. It is highly probable the total for this election will be larger than the 1960 vote.

Observers say that a large absentee vote usually is an indication of a heavy turnout of voters on election day.

Singer Charged In Alleged LBJ Threat; Gun-Toter Held

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A coffee house singer was held under $25,000 bond in Miami today, accused by a friend of threatening to kill President Johnson.

And, in Jacksonville, police arrested a Michigan steel worker, Bruce Lee Cornell, in an office three blocks from where the President was speaking Monday. They said Cornell was carrying a loaded pistol and an unloaded carbine.

Folksinger Paul S. Back, 26, a veteran of the Air Force, stood mute at a preliminary hearing Monday before U.S. Commissioner Roger Davis. But his attorney, Kenneth Dinnerstein, argued the government had no case but "the unsubstantiated word of one boy."

He referred to Reid Trencher, 19, who testified that Back told him about Oct. 12 that "if Lyndon Baines Johnson ever came to Miami, I would kill him, even if I had to give my own life."

Cornell, a former Navy enlisted man at the Jacksonville Naval Base, denied he intended to harm anyone.

Cornell said he was returning to his Michigan job after a vacation in St. Augustine, where he had done some hunting. He was held on a vagrancy charge.

British Give Stern Edict To Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — The British government warned Rhodesia's white supremacy government today it would be guilty of treason and rebellion if it declared the East African territory's independence unilaterally.

A strong statement from Prime Minister Harold Wilson's office declared: "Serious consequences would flow from such an act."

The statement apparently was prompted by an announcement Monday in Salisbury, the Rhodesian capital, that a gathering of 622 African chiefs and headmen had agreed they favor independence from Britain while the country's white minority still has control.

REFERENDUM SET
The British government had told Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith previously it would not consider that the chief's expression of opinion represented the African majority.

Smith also has scheduled a national referendum Nov. 5 in which the largely white electorate presumably will vote emphatically for independence now. Smith then is expected to demand freedom from Britain with the threat of declaring independence unilaterally if refused.

The British government has been trying unsuccessfully to get the Rhodesian government to agree to a new constitution promising the African majority ultimate control.

A declaration of independence by Rhodesia would be an act of defiance and rebellion, the British statement today said, "and it would be reasonable to take steps to give effect to it."

UP TO BRITAIN
"The British government cannot believe that once the consequences have been made clear the government and people of Southern Rhodesia will take an irrevocable step of this kind."

"The decision to grant independence rests entirely with the British government and Parliament and they have a solemn duty to be satisfied that before granting independence it would be acceptable to the people of the country as a whole," the statement said.

It's Traffic School For Driver After 60 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—At 97, Peter M. LueRutz has discovered that even 60 years experience is not an infallible teacher. So now he is heading for traffic school.

Sixty years ago, LueRutz first drove a car — a two-cylinder Oldsmobile. He took it over the Michigan roads in 1904 at three miles an hour. He has been driving ever since.

Earlier this month, LueRutz swung in front of another car and tried to make a right turn. The cars collided, and LueRutz had to come to a hearing Monday in the Court of General Sessions.

"I thought I had room to make the turn," LueRutz testified. Chief Assistant Corpora-

DEAR ABBY Woman's Secret

DEAR ABBY: I, for one, agree with you 100 per cent when you say that a husband and wife should not tell everything just to clear their own consciences. First of all, it doesn't make the sin any less, so why hurt someone by confessing? A few years ago I became a restless housewife, and thought that an affair with another man was the answer to everything. So, after becoming involved, I became pregnant. That woke me up and I broke off with him without telling him why. Instead, I vowed to be a better wife and mother, and I worked toward that end and prayed daily for forgiveness. We now have a little daughter. My husband worships the ground she walks on, and she idolizes him. We have other children, but there seems to be a closeness between this little girl and her "Daddy" that does not exist between any of the others. So why break his heart by telling him that she is not his child? The secret is between God and me, and it will always be that way.

COULD NEVER TELL

DEAR ABBY: Of all the despicable people I will ever have to contend with, deliver me from the "kiss and tell" hypocrite. Confessions to clear the conscience? Baloney! Most confessions are motivated by a willful desire to injure an innocent party, guilt transference, and the wish to boast.

Confession to God is good. Likewise, confession to a clergyman. Even to the bartender or the barber. But never to one who will be hurt to hear it.

To have an affair is one thing. It is wrong, to be sure. But it is a human weakness and the flesh is weak. But to inflict pain on an innocent person, needlessly, is quite another. Christ has been known to forgive the adulterer. ("Go forth, and sin no more.") But Christ had no good message for the hypocrite.

Who am I? I'm the guy who once confessed to his wife his infidelity.

DEAR ABBY: Re confessing infidelity to one's mate: I agree with you wholeheartedly, Abby. It has been said, "The truth shall set you free." Rubbish! The truth has enslaved me. I would give everything I own never to have heard my wife's "confession." Sign me.

A MAN IN PASADENA

DEAR ABBY: So now you are giving spiritual advice: Who are you to say that a husband and wife should not confess the sin of unfaithfulness to one another? When one has broken his marriage vows, the only way to wipe the slate clean is to make a full confession to the spouse and ask forgiveness from the wronged one. If my mate has sinned against ME, it is to ME that he should confess, and it is MY forgiveness he needs in order to cleanse his soul. I think you should print a retraction, Abby. Many people read your advice and take you seriously.

"SAVED" IN JOPLIN

DEAR SAVED: I still believe that a confession that will hurt an innocent party should be withheld. There are better ways to make restitution. Prayer, keeping a silent vow never to repeat the act, a special measure of kindness and consideration. The punishment is greater when the guilt is borne in silence by the guilty one. There is nothing noble about cleansing one's conscience in the tears of another.

Panel Show Slips Into TV Lineup

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A panel show of hybrid ancestry and designed to lighten the housewife's burden slipped unobtrusively into NBC's morning lineup Monday. Called "What's This Song?" it apparently inherited its format from "Password," and its gimmick from "Name That Tune," which departed the network scene at the time of the quiz show scandals.

The idea is to have each two-man team — the usual celebrity and civilian — name the song the orchestra is playing and then have one of them sing correctly the first two lines of the lyrics.

First team to make 200 points then must identify several tunes in a row for a bonus. It all seemed familiar.

The show replaces another game session, "Word for Word," and probably will let the housewives rip through their chores faster. At least, with this show the viewer doesn't have to watch constantly — scarcely at all, in fact.

Terror Still Key With Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Terror and counter-terror, persistent themes of Vietnamese political and military history for many centuries, continue to play a dominant role in the increasingly bloody war raging now.

Terror is used for interrogation, as propaganda, as punishment and as revenge. Neither the Viet Cong nor Saigon government forces have any monopoly on its use.

Terror strikes in many forms. A month ago, it came to a battalion of Vietnamese Rangers caught in an ambush near the Mekong River delta town of Cauke.

OPENS FIRE
A Viet Cong unit concealed in a Buddhist pagoda opened fire on the government unit, killing 10 Rangers, including an American sergeant advising them.

A few days ago the same Ranger unit was back for an operation at the same place, spilling for revenge.

The pagoda was deserted but three likely looking suspects, all of them Vietnamese of Cambodian extraction, happened to be in the area. The Rangers picked them up.

Their arms tied behind their backs, the three men were given the "water treatment." A cloth is placed over the face of the prisoner and water is poured over the cloth, tending to suffocate the man. Just before he loses consciousness, he is released. This is repeated until he talks.

As an innovation on this operation, one of the prisoners was lowered head first into a water-pot with his hands bound.

Conservative Lineup Given Hope By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the election a week away, Republican strategists now believe conservative GOP senatorial candidates might have a better chance than liberals of surviving a presidential contest defeat for Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Any such outcome would be likely to slow down the efforts of GOP moderates to bring about what Gov. George Romney of Michigan and others have called "a rebirth of the Republican party" if Goldwater should lose.

In 10 state races where the Republicans credit their candidates with an even, or better than even, chance of winning, all but three of the nominees are listed as conservatives.

SEEN LEADING

Rep. Robert Taft Jr., running in Ohio, is given the best chance of winning of any of the Republican senatorial candidates, Party moderates think that, in case of a Goldwater defeat, they could count on Taft to help reorient the party.

Sens. Winston L. Prouty of Vermont and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, if the latter can breast an indicated tide for President Johnson in that state, would be counted on to bulwark the moderate cause.

But in seven other states where Republicans believe they have a chance of electing their candidates, the nominees are generally regarded as conservatives.

LIST GIVEN

They include Sens. John J. Williams of Delaware and Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, and candidates Paul J. Fannin in Arizona, George Murphy in California, Bud Wilkinson in Oklahoma, George Bush in Texas, and Ernest L. Wilkinson in Utah.

The Republican strategists are not counting anybody out. But they concede privately that Sens. Kenneth B. Keating in New York, Hiram L. Fong in Hawaii and J. Glen Beall in Maryland, all considered moderates, have uphill battles on their hands.

Outfielder Vows To Move Into House Despite 'Threat'

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — Curt Flood, Negro outfielder for the world champion St. Louis Cardinals baseball team, announced his intention to move into a rented home today despite an alleged threat to stop him with a shotgun.

Flood, who said Monday that he was "upset, but I'm not angry," has the backing of Superior Court Judge Richard Aronson and the sheriff's office.

Flood, 25, charged in a court suit that he and his family were threatened after he signed a lease to rent a suburban home in Alamo, about 15 miles east of Oakland.

The suit, filed in Contra Costa County Superior Court, asked $10,000 in damages plus a restraining order allowing the family to move in. Judge Aronson granted the restraining order.

Defendants in the case are Constance A. Oliver of Zephyr

Cove, Nev., owner of the home, and George C. Finn, who allegedly signed the lease after obtaining power of attorney from Mrs. Oliver.

CLAIMS THREAT

The shotgun threat was made, according to the lawsuit, by Finn after he had signed the lease and later discovered that Flood is a Negro.

Phyllis Scofield, acting as agent for real estate agent David Robinson, leased the $35,000 house to Flood at $290 a month for one year.

Mrs. Scofield took the lease to Finn. He signed it, she said, and later inquired of Mrs. Scofield whether the lessees were Caucasians.

Finn became "very enraged," according to Mrs. Scofield, when she told him that Flood was a Negro.

Finn, accompanied by another man — both armed with shotguns — parked his car across the home's driveway and threatened to shoot any Negro who tried to move in, the suit claimed.

Flood's wife, Beverly, is pregnant with their fifth child, and "very ill right now because of this," Flood said.

The neighborhood already has two Negro families, Flood said. Finn, who with his twin brother, Charles, made news a decade ago in a prolonged legal fight over a surplus airplane he bought, could not be reached for comment.

NOT FIRST

The Flood house-leasing incident is not the first time a Negro ballplayer has had trouble finding a place to live in the Bay area. In 1957, San Francisco Giant star Willie Mays, noting a house for sale in San Francisco's Mira Loma Park, offered the asking price of $37,500. He was turned down because he was a Negro, the other said.

There had been great pressure against the sale from persons living in the neighborhood, the owner said, adding he had nothing against the sale himself. Finally, after considerable civic controversy, Mays got his house. In June 1959, someone threw a bottle through Mays' front picture window. Eventually Mays sold the house, but said it had been put up for sale before the bottle incident.

Husband's Witnesses Relate Judy's 'Conduct'

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Witnesses in her husband's child custody suit told Superior Court that Judy Garland:

—Once ran screaming around a hotel suite "bouncing off the walls" and was caught by her former agent just before she could leap from a hotel window.

—Was frequently drunk in front of the children, Lorna, now 11, and Joe, 9.

—And used to take four bottles of wine with her when she went to a concert.

The testimony was given Monday as Miss Garland's estranged husband, Hollywood producer Sid Luft, pressed his demand for custody of their children. Miss Garland is now in London. Their California divorce is still pending. She is 41; Luft is 46.

Vernon J. Alves, the former agent, said that in the hotel incident in Philadelphia in May 1961 "the last thing I did was catch her before she could get out the window and throw her down on a couch." He said Miss Garland subsequently fired him.

Rhoda Chiolak, the Luft's onetime housekeeper, said Miss Garland was "intoxicated around the children many times."

Albert Paul, Miss Garland's former hairdresser, said that he attended concerts with Miss Garland to which she would take an ice bucket containing four quart-sized bottles of wine. He said she would empty them during the evening.

Kidnap Count Ends Missing Girl Episode

DENTON (AP) — A mystery man was all that was needed today to fill in the loose ends of an episode wherein an eighth-grade girl was missing from her home for two weeks.

The mystery man—Howard Kirkpatrick, 40, of Durant, Okla.—was named in kidnaping charges filed Monday. It was not known whether Kirkpatrick was in custody.

Barbara Blackburn, also from Durant, said she ran away from home, got a ride with a man she didn't know as far as Denton, and then was given a ride by a Pilot Point couple. She had lived in their home since.

The family learned that she had been missing from her Oklahoma home since Oct. 11 and notified authorities. They in turn got in touch with her mother, Mrs. Jo Anne Buchanan. County Atty. R. H. Mills in Durant said the mother filed the charge against Kirkpatrick.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Friends here learned Monday morning that MRS. NORMAN READ was injured in an automobile accident Sunday night in San Antonio. She sustained injuries to an arm that required 100 stitches and also had a cut on one leg as well as chest bruises. She called MRS. OBIE BRISTOW Monday morning and said she is hospitalized in the Baptist Hospital in San Antonio and will probably be there four or five days.

She was in San Antonio to attend Grand Assembly of the Order of Eastern Star of which she is past grand matron. She was in an automobile with four other women, none of whom were hurt. The car was hit at an intersection when a youthful driver ran a red light.

MR. and MRS. CHARLIE WASSON were in Weatherford Sunday to meet their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. DOYLE MAYNARD, and their two children. The children returned here with the Wassons and will remain here until their parents complete their move to Shreveport, La., where he will serve as minister of the Cresswell Church of Christ. He has been serving in Kilgore.

When MR. and MRS. W. F. TAYLOR entertained members of the house party who served at their golden wedding anniversary tea at dinner last week there was another noteworthy event on the day. Mr. Taylor was observing a birthday anniversary. One of the best presents was a picture of his youngest grandson. Another surprise was a birthday greeting from a childhood friend at Bowie whom he hadn't seen in 61 years.

MR. and MRS. BEN HAWKINS of Lubbock were down for the weekend to visit their good friends, MR. and MRS. JOE GORDON. The Hawkings had just recently returned from Lincoln, Neb., where they visited their daughter, Judy, and her family. Judy and her husband, who is with SAC, have one child and are expecting another soon.

There's nothing like getting away from one's hometown to make him appreciate it. Our son, Tom, who is stationed in France but is now in Wiesbaden, Germany, to take further training, made friends with a Bavarian man whose daughter was married to a USAF man and they had lived in Big Spring several years while he was stationed at Webb. The man said his daughter had described Big Spring as being small in size but large in heart. Tom wrote that it made him feel good to go half-way around the world and hear such a nice thing about his hometown.

MR. and MRS. JACK Y. SMITH and Steve, and MR. and MRS. LOUIS McKNIGHT, Mark and Melody, spend Sunday in Abilene at the home of Mr. Smith's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stabley Smith, who were showing off their new grandchild. The Aultman Smiths drove over from Clyde to spend the day with the families.

The Rev. Charles A. Summers performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of beau de soie accented with lace. Her fingertip-length veil was attached to an organza rose. The bridal bouquet was an orchid encircled with white carnations.

Miss Sharon Sorenson, Lexington, served as maid of honor in an A line dress of burnt orange accessorized with a matching rose hat. She carried a cascade arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums. Kathy Dawn McChesney, San Antonio, was the flower girl.

Harvey Hoskins, Corpus Christi, was best man, and ushers were Dennis Brown, Howard Murray, Anthony Kierce and James Freeland, all of Austin. The bride is a graduate of Stephen F. Austin High School and has been employed at the State Health Department in Austin. The bridegroom, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Jacksonville Baptist College in Jacksonville and is presently serving in the Army at Del Valle.

GA Initiation Held At Baptist Church
A candlelight ceremony was conducted by Mrs. J. O. Sanderson and Miss Ruby Rutledge Monday evening at Westside Baptist Church where 15 Girls' Auxiliary members were initiated.

Beauceant Gives Food For Needy

The Social Order of the Beauceant, social equivalent of Knights Templar, met Monday evening in Masonic Hall to make plans for the donation of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to the needy. Mrs. C. W. Fryar reported the recent sale of vanilla and pepper had netted $200 for this project.

Mrs. Joe Lemon, assisted by Mrs. Cecil McDonald and Mrs. C. R. McClenny, will organize a volunteer group to work in local hospitals. Members were asked to assist at the Knights Templar convalescence in May of 1965. A letter from Mrs. Elsie Hinkley, supreme worthy president, announced she would visit the local chapter Feb. 10. She urged members to donate to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. D. Dyer to 22 members.

Women Told Problems Faced By New Nations

The third in a series of mission studies, "The Church's Mission Among New Nations," was held in the parlor of First Methodist Church Monday by members of Martha Wesleyan Service Guild.

The study concerned "Christians in the National Struggle" for which Mrs. Lima Flewelling, study leader, gave the introduction and prayer.

Mrs. Ruby Rowe spoke of the sub-Saharan area, the leprosy mission, and illiteracy in Northern Africa. "Asia and the Middle East" was discussed by Mrs. Ara Cunningham as she stressed the critical shortage of teachers, doctors and lay missionaries.

Members viewed a film, with recorded commentary, entitled "After the Flag," and provided by Mrs. H. H. Stephens, area audio visual coordinator for the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The film depicted the

AID FOR SORE FEET

Research proves new cream removes painful calluses and aching corns. Occupational Standaees endorse it enthusiastically.

We are a nation of people on the go and in spite of the tremendous advancements in transportation, we still do a great deal of walking. As a result, foot problems have become an all-too-common ailment. It's probable that almost everyone suffers the discomfort of corns, calluses, tired aching or burning feet. Yet many people do little or nothing about it... accepting it as a chronic ailment with no solution in sight. If you find yourself classified in this group, consider a new product from Shasteen Limited.

Called DEKAL, "The Wonder Foot Cream," this is a special formula blended to rid feet of calluses and corns without painful cutting. Simply massage the cream all over the affected areas every night before you go to bed. As the corns and calluses begin to soften... and this is usually after the third or fourth application... just remove them by rubbing off the loosened skin. The cream does nothing to disturb new skin that is forming underneath. And DEKAL is especially effective to remove dead skin while bathing.

Other Uses
As a bonus, why not use DEKAL to remove hardened cuticle around toenails and fingernails. It's also great for dry flaky skin on elbows and heels.

Completely Safe
DEKAL is completely harmless to skin. Use it as freely and as often as you wish... it contains no acids or harmful chemicals.

If your feet hurt too much to come in and shop, just pick up the phone and call for delivery or drop a card in the mail and we'll send it to you right away. After just a few applications, you'll be in great shape to begin your Fall shopping. This great new product is now available at Hemphill-Wells for a mere $3.00 plus tax.

Color Line In Records Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that Virginia may not keep separate poll tax lists, property records, and voter registration lists for Negroes and whites.

The tribunal summarily affirmed a lower court decision that listing of names by race in such records is in violation of the Constitution's guarantee of equal protection of laws.

But the Supreme Court ruled that Virginia may require statements of the race of husbands and wives who are granted divorce decrees.

The action as to divorces also summarily affirmed the lower court — a special three-judge U.S. District Court panel in Alexandria, Va.

As to listings, the special court said: "If the purpose is legitimate, the reason justifiable, then no infringement results. The infirmity of the provisions lies in their mandate of separation of names by race."

The special court approved, however, listings made for statistical purposes only.

As to divorces, the special court said: "Vital statistics, obviously, are aided by denotation in the divorce decrees of the race of the parties. Of course, the advertisement must be made in every case, not just in suits involving Negroes."

It was these opinions that the Supreme Court affirmed, without any comment of its own.

Two Negro women appeared from the lower court decision as to divorces.

Deadline Saturday For Tax Discount

J. O. Hagood, tax collector for the Big Spring Independent School district, warned taxpayers today that tax payments must be made by close of business Oct. 30 if the taxpayer is to benefit from the one percent discount allowed during October. Checks in payment of taxes, mailed to the tax office, if they bear postmarks to midnight Oct. 31—will be accepted and the discount allowed.

Effective Nov. 1, the full face of the tax becomes payable. Hagood suggested that all taxpayers who want to benefit from the discount act in the next two days.

He also pointed out that since this is the first year that the Gay Hill and Center Point communities have been on the Big Spring district rolls, there may be some incorrect addresses or omissions. Residents of these two areas who have not as yet received their tax statements and who want to take advantage of the discount, are urged to call the tax office AM 4-5894.

The office, he said, wants to correct any erroneous addresses and also will be happy to provide the taxpayer with a report on the amount of his taxes.

He said that tax collections so far have been exceptionally good. The grand total of payments through October may not match the 33 cent score in the same month a year ago because some of the larger taxpayers have not as yet sent in their checks. Last year, these larger payments were credited to October business.

He said that a study was recently made and that an average tax bill for the 15,846 tax accounts on the school district books, figured out $110.34.

"Of course," he said, "many tax bills are much higher than the average and, by the same token, some are lower."

Mrs. Aguilar was a passenger in a car driven by Marie Ruiz, 208 Carey.

Three other minor accidents were reported Monday. Stanton, 1201 1/2 Frazier, and Jerry Don Stephens, 2505 Rebecca; and the 1000 block of Sycamore, a parked car owned by Warren H. Schulte, 1202 Lancaster, and a vehicle driven by Rayburn H. Growth Promised For Texas Electric Although Texas Electric Service Company is on the crest of an unprecedented period of expansion, there will be no resting on the oars, president Beeman Fisher told approximately 275 members of the TESCO family here Monday evening.

The company is going to continue to grow, he said, "but it will take determined selling by all of us."

Fred Smith, Cincinnati broker and management consultant, making a reappearance as speaker for the annual dinner honoring the Quarter Century Club, undergirded Fisher's challenge.

GOOD SERVICE

People want good service, declared Smith, and this is something that the rank and file of the company can and should provide.

Admonishing them to operate the business for convenience of the customer, Smith urged TESCO employees to have genuine friendliness. He had a simple formula for good customer relations: "Let people in the eye; keep an interested expression; learn to smile; and learn to listen earnestly." The key to success in this area, as in all areas, is simple, he said. It is simply to make good on the promise: "I will."

All 10 members of the Quarter Century Club—those with 25 or more years of consecutive service—were present, but no new members were added this year. Members, seated at an honor table, included, T. A. Rogers of Kingsland, Judy Kuykendall, B. G. Shepard, Hugh Duncan, J. W. Garrison, A. C. McClendon, D. M. McKinney, C. L. Merritt, W. A. Shaw, and R. L. Beale, division manager, who was master of ceremonies.

Seymour Davis, Oklahoma City, billed as Ignatz Badawiski, entertained with a slapstick piano routine and with sleight-of-hand.

PROGRESS

TESCO, said Fisher in summation of the company's progress, has just completed a 400,000 kilowatt generator at Handley, but the Aug. 6 new peak load of 1,502,300 on Aug. 6 is a mandate to shove forward a full year the schedule for more power and transmission. Two weeks ago TESCO broke ground for a 500,000 KW plant at Morgan Creek near Colorado City, and this single unit will have more capacity than all the TESCO generators just 11 years ago.

The company now has eight steam generating plants, 3,000 miles of high voltage transmission and 13,000 miles of distribution lines serving 344,000 customers—an increase of 45,000 for the year.

As the West Texas load grows, TESCO is growing to stay ahead, he said. For instance, the 400-mile steel tower line from Fort Worth to Graham to Morgan Creek and Odessa is having part of the section converted from 138,000 volts to 345,000 volts. This will be ready from Fort Worth to Morgan Creek by next summer, and on to Odessa by the summer of 1966 when the new half-million KW plant will begin generating power. The new plant alone will cost $30,000,000 and this does not include beefing up transmission lines and other normal expansion.

HOLD DOWN COSTS

Why is TESCO spending this kind of money? To provide the massive generation and transmission necessary to operate at the lowest possible cost, he said. This is the only way the company has been able to hold the line on rates (having only one raise and several reductions to customers).

This is being done by investor-owned companies who pay out about 23 cents of every revenue dollar for local, state and federal government taxes compared with about three cents by government-sponsored power suppliers, he said. There is no need for the federal government to construct duplicating generating and transmission facilities in Texas, Fisher added.

He had tributes to company personnel for outstanding safety records. The power plants now have worked three years without a lost-time accident, or 2,800,000 hours. Big Spring transmission and the Big Spring and Lamesa distribution systems had no lost time mishaps last year.

TOP OFFICIALS

Several of the top officials of TESCO were here for the occasion, among them B. E. Hussey, W. G. Marquardt, W. P. Porterwood, F. W. Roberts, vice president; Jack Wessler, general counsel; D. E. Luckey, chief engineer; J. M. Pennebaker, power superintendent; Dean Hopson, purchasing agent; Vance Gillmore, advertising manager; W. B. Pickens, insurance and taxes; F. R. Woerner, sales manager; W. E. Payne, superintendent of production; J. W. Godfrey, superintendent of transmission; Jim Edwards, assistant advertising manager and Roundup editor; Bob Humphreys, assistant editor; Roundup; Casey Jones, marketing department.

Among out-of-town participants were Leroy Olask, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Renner, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Spradling of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Mitchell, O'Donnell.

Car Chased Into A Field

A high speed police chase ended with a pursued 1958 model car stuck in a sandy field near the north end of Moss Creek Road about 11:30 p.m. Monday, with the driver issued a traffic citation charging driving 100 miles-per-hour in a 40-mile zone.

Police Patrolman Peter Stone said he pursued two speeding cars east of the city on US 80, with the 1958 sedan turning north end of Moss Creek Road chasing the car several miles at speeds up to 110 miles-per-hour.

The car missed a turn at the north end of Moss Creek Road and ended up in the field.

Stone said he located the car with his spotlight and found the driver had abandoned it. With the car's headlights on, the driver was also dispatched to the scene. Stone found the driver in the field and then called for a wrecker to remove the car, which was stuck in the sand.

The other vehicle apparently continued east on US 80, police said, and was not located.

however, until after a full report is made to Washington.

Stuart cautioned that there is much time involved in the federal project. The site selection must first get final approval, then title and abstract work must be done, arrangements made to clear the site, if necessary, then proceed with design and engineering and then the final award of contract, and the construction time. If everything went without a hitch, he said, the completed building is two and a half or more years away.

Stuart and his associates said they have received several proposals from local owners and realtors; however they have studied none of them, and will do so as they make actual on-site examination, with relation to the entire delineated area involved.

Opening lead: Four of ♣
 A relentless assault by the defense, against South's four heart contract, literally reduced declarer's trump holding to the vanishing point; however, careful management of his resources enabled him to weather the storm and emerge in full control of the proceedings.

South chose to treat his suits as equals for purposes of conserving bidding space. To our viewpoint, however, this was a false economy inasmuch as one or two fitting values in partner's hand should produce an excellent play for game. Observe that if North's club and diamond holding were interchanged, for example, a slam in diamonds would hinge merely on a successful heart finesse.

West opened the four of clubs against the four heart contract; North followed with the deuce and East played the queen which declarer ruffed. The queen of hearts was led, covered by the king and taken by dummy's ace. The diamond finesse was tried next, losing to West's king. The jack of clubs was returned and ducked around to South who was obliged to trump once more.

Declarer was down to the jack and ten of hearts and, when he cashed a high trump, revealing that East had two hearts left—one more than South. Declarer led his remaining trump and then proceeded to run the diamonds, discarding spades from the dummy.

East trumped the third diamond, and cashed the ace of clubs as South discarded the ten of spades. The defense could do no further damage—a spade return is taken by declarer with the ace and he has nothing but high diamonds left; a club continuation is also futile, for dummy's king, which South has taken great pains to preserve, now controls that suit.

In all, declarer loses one heart, one diamond and one club.

Independent Oilmen Push For Decontrol

HOUSTON (AP)—The nation's independent oil operators have decided to make another all-out effort to get Congress to eliminate Federal Power Commission authority to control wellhead prices of natural gas.

The 1965 effort will seek relief for all producers, large and small.

H. A. True Jr., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, "was instructed Monday to appoint a drafting committee and have a bill ready for Congress in January.

MARKS "FIRST"
 Gas price decontrol resolutions have been adopted almost semiannually since 1955 by the 7,500 member trade group but the new resolution is the first to use the term "all producers."

It was adopted after True, a Casper, Wyo., independent, and Sen. Milward Simpson, R-Wyo., told the association's 35th annual meeting only Congress can end "10 years of chaos" created by FPC efforts to control prices of gas sold wholesale into interstate commerce.

Decontrol bills were approved by Congress in 1950 and 1956 but were vetoed by Presidents Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower.

Truman said removal of FPC authority to regulate did not seem to be a wise public policy. Eisenhower approved the 1956 bill in principle but based his veto on what he called arrogant lobbying activities by a small segment of the industry.

SUPREME COURT
 The Supreme Court ruled in 1954 the FPC should control wellhead prices. Most producers contend the Natural Gas Act of 1938 specifically prohibits such controls.

The FPC abandoned a cost-rate formula in 1960 in favor of an area formula under which ceiling prices are established for each of the nation's major producing areas.

Formal proceedings on the first area case, the Permian Basin of West Texas and New Mexico, began in early 1961 but Seymour Wenner, the FPC examiner, did not make his recommendations until Sept. 17.

Permian producers sought a price of about 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Wenner suggested a five - price formula ranging from 10 cents to 16.77 cents.

True, Simpson and the new resolution described Wenner's report as ridiculous.

"NO LOGIC"
 "There is no logic to such a scheme," Simpson said. "The FPC is causing utter chaos in your industry and Congress is the only source for relief."

True said the independents face a tough fight but the industry, Congress and the public are becoming disgusted with the situation.

Mrs. Johnson Given Gift From Midlander

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon Johnson is taking home with her a "labor love gift" from a Midland carpenter for the President.

It's a two-foot-high hand-carved figure of a man on horseback, made of ponderosa pine and supposed to be the President riding a fine working horse.

It was given the First Lady on her campaign visit here Monday.

Perry Holley, who made it, said he has admired Johnson since the depression days when LBJ was Texas director of the National Youth Administration.

Holley said his brother got a job in those days on the construction of the Inks Dam, which was one of the Hill Country projects sparked by Johnson as a young congressman.

Denton Resident Faces Arson, Burglary Counts

DENTON (AP)—Charges of arson, burglary and theft have been filed against M. B. Boyd, a Denton resident who was arrested Saturday outside Marietta, Okla.

Texas Ranger Lewis Rigler said police in Texas and Oklahoma had been looking for some time for a car similar to the one driven by Boyd. Rigler said this car had been seen near several houses that first were burglarized, then set on fire.

A search of Boyd's Denton apartment uncovered a quantity of clothing and merchandise, some of which bore the names of people whose homes had been burglarized.

Denton authorities planned to question Boyd in Marietta about a series of fires that have plagued Denton this summer.

The charges against Boyd were filed in Love County, Okla.; Grayson County, Tex.; McKinney and Denton.

Ex-Prof Dies In Air Crash

BRAINERD, Minn. (AP)—A former teacher at the University of Texas, Fred A. Ossanna Jr., 46, was killed and his wife critically injured Sunday in the crash of a light plane near here.

Ossanna was president of Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery in Minneapolis.

His son Christopher, 5, was in the back seat of the craft but escaped serious injury.

The plane's engine apparently stalled shortly before the crash. The family was bound for a cottage on Big Pelican Lake.

Ossanna was a graduate of Harvard University. Three other sons also survive.

Ballots Have State Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Voters in 40 states will ballot next Tuesday on home state issues ranging from housing discrimination to capital punishment.

Up for decision are 253 proposed state laws or constitutional amendments.

The spotlight is on a proposal which would prohibit the California Legislature from barring discrimination in real estate sales, as it did in a law enacted last year. Some observers think the proposal might play a role in determining who gets the state's 40 electoral votes in the presidential election.

Real estate interests and other groups are leading the fight for approval of the California proposition which would permit a person to sell, lease or rent property to any person he chooses.

HOUSING LAW
 Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other state leaders oppose the amendment and defend California's so-called fair housing law which prohibits racial discrimination in real estate transactions.

Neither President Johnson nor Sen. Barry Goldwater has taken a stand on the matter but some political observers think a big turnout in favor of the proposal would help Goldwater, the Republican nominee.

Gambling proposals of some sort are on the ballot in four states—California, Washington, Montana and Arkansas.

California voters have a choice between two amendments. One would authorize state-franchised, privately operated lotteries, while the other would prohibit privately operated lotteries. If both pass, the one with the highest number of votes wins.

Texas Farmers Plant, Harvest

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers remained active the past week, harvesting sorghum and cotton and planting wheat and other grain crops, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Cotton harvest is 37 per cent complete, 7 per cent behind last year. Stripping is 90 per cent complete in the blacklands and picking is 15 per cent complete in the trans-Pecos. A little cotton is being hand pulled in the Plains.

Sorghum combining is 85 per cent complete, 5 per cent behind last year. Combining is more than 60 per cent complete in the Northern High Plains and Northern Low Plains and is 80 per cent complete in the Southern High Plains.

'Bang!', She Yelled

Michaeline (Mickey) Lea Heinicke, 4, of Denver, points a crutch at the cameraman and yells "Bang!" in New York as she was introduced as the March of Dimes Child for 1965. Dimes March Child Chosen

NEW YORK (AP) — A 4-year-old blue-eyed charmer from Denver, Colo., was introduced Monday as the March of Dimes child for 1965. She pointed a crutch at photographers and cried "Bang!"

From time to time as she posed with a wide smile, Michaeline (Mickey) Lea Heinicke turned her rifle-crutch toward the crowd and picked off another photographer or reporter with a "Bang!"

The sparkling, brown-haired little girl was chosen to symbolize the quarter-million children born each year with serious physical defects. Mickey's allotment at the time of her birth in St. Anthony's Hospital at Denver was an open spine, known medically as spina bifida. She underwent surgery when she was three days old but the outlook was that she would never stand or walk.

Today, however, Mickey has an agile limp on her crutches and is wearing leg braces and a pelvic band. She brought along her two dolls, Tim and Tammy.

Rasil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation-March of Dimes, announced Mickey's selection as the poster girl and presented her to a news conference at the Hotel Astor.

'Intact' Said Of Red Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain's new foreign secretary said today he is convinced the changes in the Soviet leadership will not affect the Soviet Union's foreign policies.

"In our view, the policies of the Soviet Union will continue because they are based upon fundamental Soviet interests," Patrick Gordon Walker told newsmen after a two-hour conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary George W. Ball.

This issue was not discussed with Rusk, Gordon Walker said, but added that during his two days of talks here "we will be covering the whole field of foreign policy."

Asked about various reports indicating that he brought proposals for the reorganization of the Atlantic alliance, Gordon Walker said that there is "pretty common ground (sic) by everybody that it should be changed."

This issue, he added, will be discussed later with American officials and "I do not doubt that we will reach a pretty broad agreement."

Riots Ending Rule By Sudan Military

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — After five days of bloody rioting, President Ibrahim Abboud promised Monday night to end the military's six-year rule of the Sudan. Opposition political leaders called off a general strike scheduled today.

Abboud set no date for the end of military control but in a broadcast promised progress toward a government "acceptable to all citizens."

His first move was to take full power personally, dissolving the ruling Supreme Military Council of eight generals and the Cabinet. Abboud was chairman of the council, which seized power in a bloodless coup Nov. 17, 1958.

There was no immediate indication whether other military leaders would bow to Abboud, who also is commander of the army and widely respected.

CALL SESSION

The president said he would call the legislature into session to consider protests made during disorders in Khartoum and adjoining Omdurman and North Khartoum.

Ten persons were killed and about 100 injured in the rioting, according to "official estimates. No Americans were among the casualties, although university students stoned the U.S. Embassy and attempted to burn it over the weekend.

Abboud's radio address appeared to go as far as possible toward satisfying the rioters without impugning the army.

He recalled his regime had announced a plan last year — which opposition leaders called a smokescreen to retain power — calling for "a sound political system."

Bush, Tape Will Debate

AUSTIN (AP) — The Republican candidate for the Senate, George Bush, takes to the television airwaves tonight, using 13 stations.

Bush, son of former Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., said he would put virtually the same program on two more TV stations Wednesday night.

Bush said his opponent, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, has refused to debate him on campaign issues so he will "debate" taped remarks by the senator in the program, entitled "the empty chair."

"We have been extremely careful not to use any of my opponent's taped remarks out of context, and all of our tapings were made at public meetings or press interviews," Bush said.

'Bonanza' Most Popular Program

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Bonanza" is the nation's most popular television program, followed by two new shows, ABC's "Bewitched," and CBS' "Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C.," according to national audience ratings the A. C. Nielsen Co. made public Monday.

Moscow Starts Program On TV

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow television's third program began operating today. The new program will be televised four times weekly. It will feature foreign language lessons, including English and French, and science films.

Senate Subpanel Links TV Crime, Delinquency

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee contended today that televised crime and violence is a direct cause — though not the only one — of juvenile delinquency.

In an interim report, the subcommittee said: "On the basis of expert testimony and impressive research evidence, a relationship has been conclusively established between televised crime and violence and antisocial attitudes and behavior among juvenile viewers."

But it tempered its comments by stating that it did "not believe that television is either the sole or most significant cause of juvenile delinquency."

FINDINGS VITAL

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., chairman of the subcommittee to investigate juvenile delinquency, said that the findings are significant because "each day more than 25 million children 12 and under look at television," spending "on the average, more time watching television than they do in either school or church."

At the subcommittee's most recent hearings, the report added, network representatives "were now prepared to admit, in very general terms, that there was some kind of relationship between televised violence and the molding of children's attitudes and behavior." The subcommittee said "primary responsibility for the prevailing policy, which features excessive crime and violence, rests with the three major networks, or it is clear that the networks have the key voice in determining programming content throughout the nation." It said the networks have shown their concern with "healthy programming" by the adoption and updating of their television code of good practice which is administered by the National Association of Broadcasters. But it noted that association with the code is only voluntary.

and that the seal of good practice "has never been withdrawn because of an infringement of the code with regard to program content."

A Devotional For The Day

According to his promise we wait for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells. (II Peter 3:13. RSV)
PRAYER: O Lord, our Father, we ask that by Thy goodness to us we may always have that faith in Thee that we should have. We ask that we may live our faith in such a way that even now we may see the fulfillment of Thy promises, and that we may accept Thee in everything in our lives. For the love of Christ and in His name we pray. Amen.

Tools For The Job

Both Dr. C. J. Rullmann, director of the State Board of Mental Hospitals and Special Schools, and Dr. Shervard Prazier, chairman of department of psychiatry for Baylor Medical College, stressed the role of two new buildings at the Big Spring State Hospital in a new concept of mental hospitals.

This is the view that state hospitals will become regional centers for diagnosing difficulties and for prescribing modes of treatment and rehabilitation. The Weaver General Hospital Building, while relatively small as hospitals go, does possess the specific tools needed to aid in the diagnostic work. While some general hospital care is required for patients, the main business of the state hospital is to come to grips with the problem of mental illness. Certainly the Alfred Building, with its auditorium, barber and beauty shops, canteen, occupational therapy and other vocational exposures, is equipped to aid in the process of rehabilitation.

One of the fine things about the buildings is their attractiveness as well as their utility. Pride in such surroundings plays its part in the therapeutic processes. Compare this with the old concept of durable but austere plants, and see what reaction this would have on even the "normal" individual.

All of this speaks the state's enlightenment in its approach to the problem, of its willingness not only to take critical looks at procedures and constantly reevaluate efforts, but also a desire to furnish the physical instruments for doing the job of helping human beings.

De Gaulle Trip Yields A Mouse

The long-range effects of French President Charles de Gaulle's recently completed 12,500-mile good will tour of Latin America may prove more significant than the prospect now appears. But it is probable that the grand gesture will be of little serious consequence unless it is followed with trade and aid concessions to Latin America of a scope that it is unlikely that France can or will extend.

The Latin American reaction, as reported in the wake of the tour, seems to be no more than appreciation for a ceremonial honoring of their nations' growing importance in world affairs. De Gaulle scrupulously avoided attacking Washington policies in the region, but his hosts repeatedly included a reminder of their responsibilities to the inter-American system in assuring him of their respect for France. De Gaulle's concept of a great "third force" in world affairs, headed by a French-led Western Europe and embracing unaligned underdeveloped nations, sparked no observable fire of response during his trip.

De Gaulle's prestige pilgrimage was quickly swept from the front pages in Latin America, as in the rest of the world, by truly momentous events—the deposing of Khrushchev in Russia, Red China's successful testing of a nuclear device, and the switch of governments in Britain. And each of those events imperceptibly involved major facets of Gaullist foreign policy in such a way as to sustain Latin American skepticism as to the omniscience of the French president's concept of the course of history.

A fair passing judgment would seem to be that De Gaulle's diplomatic foray into Latin America will soon be all but forgotten and have minor lasting impact. De Gaulle himself no doubt already has far more critical matters on his mind now that the situation in Europe has turned fluid.

New Crowd Reaction For Barry

WITH GOLDWATER IN MARYLAND—"Is he speaking from his groundswell or his platform?" a traveling reporter quipped as Barry Goldwater rose to address a well-fed Republican rally in this seemingly Democratic state.

It is the to-be-or-not-to-be question as the 1964 campaign races toward conclusion. Maybe there were answers in this Maryland crowd's reaction, which was not untypical of that in other places visited.

FOR ONE THING, there was clear evidence of reborn Republican unity. Sen. Glenn Beall, who had won two terms as a GOP liberal and had previously snubbed the national ticket, was there to introduce Barry. Three times Beall started paragraphs, "I'm for him because..." while the $100-a-plate diners yelled approval. All over the country, runaway Republicans have belatedly realized they can't afford to have Goldwater badly beaten. Richard Nixon's nationwide sermons on party solidarity have brought many strayed sheep back to the fold.

NOT ONCE did Barry mention Walter Jenkins, but the Maryland crowd did it for him. He mentioned President Johnson's "curious crew" and the audience bellowed, "Walter Jenkins!" He mentioned Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes, and his listeners added "Jenkins!" Here and everywhere, the off-color jokes are crackling about LBJ's aide who has been twice arrested on a charge of homosexual indecencies in public places. Lewd bumper stickers are being distributed and displayed. The Washington press corps members, many of whom travel with Goldwater, have been passed numerous shreds of stories that overlap with the Jenkins case. None produce police-blotter scandals like the Jenkins arrests, but there is an emergence of something that the American public may resent still more—a pattern of news suppress-sion, political fixing and slyful security.

THE BULGE of the groundswell appears to be steepest on the morality issues against the administration, but Barry is perceptively being lifted by his hitherto ineffectual soft-on-communism charges. His thrusts against the administration's distinction between "good" and "bad" Communists drew howls of agreement in Maryland. The cheers came, it must be admitted, out of public bewilderment over what's recently happened in Russia and China.

Are the new Kremlin masters, as he declared, "tougher" than Khrushchev? Will the Chinese atomic explosion heal the Sino-Soviet rift? The administration's answers tend to be wishful and soothing, while Goldwater's are baleful and grim. Part of the Goldwater groundswell appears to be a public preference for the hard line belief that there's no such thing as a safe Communist.

OUT OF LATE-inning crowd reaction toward Goldwater comes another very telling phenomenon. Listeners are now apt to dismiss his ineptitude as an orator and to love him for his crystalline sincerity. His auditors help him over the rough spots and the blank places. He gets cheers that give him the benefit of every doubt in his meaning. Clare Boothe Luce, who is gifted with perfect powers of expression, told some of us the other night that Goldwater couldn't talk like Churchill but that he thought like Churchill. The same warnings to distrust a sworn enemy and to seek peace by supremacy, which Churchill gave the British in the 1930's, Goldwater is giving to Americans today, said the lucid Mrs. Luce.

IS BARRY an inarticulate Churchill? Is America remembering Democratic presidents who campaigned for "peace" and were, when re-elected, soon at war? If the answers are affirmative, Goldwater's got himself a meaningful groundswell.

Billy Graham

I find the Bible verse Revelation 1: 8 difficult to understand. Will you please explain it?—S. T.

Alpha is the first letter in the Greek Alphabet, and Omega is the last. If you read the remainder of the verse you will find an explanation. "Saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come." Before the universe existed God was: He is now, at this present time, and always shall be. It is difficult for finite minds to grasp such infiniteness, and for that reason God has given us the supporting statements of Scripture. These are the sure handles by which we lay hold on great, eternal truths.

Thomas Chalmers once said: "The sum and substance of the preparation needed for a coming eternity is, that we believe what the Bible tells us, and do what the Bible bids us."

The more we doubt the Bible the less awareness we have of eternity, and the more we believe it, the more conscious we are of the vast unknown to which no sane man would venture without God.

"We're just having scraps for dinner tonight, dear. I didn't feel very hungry."

"Other husbands I know love to discuss the office with their wives. Why don't you? What goes on there that you don't want me to know about?"

"Some evening I'm going to make a recording of how you talk after you've had three martinis, and play it back to you the next morning. It'll make you cringe."

"Is that a blonde hair on your coat? I thought you told me your secretary was a brunette? Not that I'm jealous. Me jealous? Ha, ha, ha."

"I took Emily to the orthodontist today. He says that for $1,200 he can make her teeth look like a movie star's."

"Other husbands I know love to take their wives dancing. So why do you have to be so different?"

"The television set is on the blink again. I think it'll cost at least $50 to have it fixed. Don't you think it would be more economical to buy a new one?"

"Why is it you men don't like to take your wives along when you go fishing? If you ask my opinion, you all act like a bunch of heathen savages."

"Put down that newspaper. There's something I want to tell you — right now."

"Guess what day this is?"

"You're going to have to do something about those children. Before you lie down on the sofa, let me tell you what they were up to today."

"Well, I might as well tell you the bad news now. The refrigerator collapsed today. But after all, we've had it for 14 years. I guess we'll have to buy a new one."

"I get so tired of living in this same old house that I could scream."

"You never heard a single word I said. For that matter, you never do."

"I don't expect you to be perfect. But I do expect you to show a little consideration when..."

"How do I know you really love me, when you so rarely say it? Do you think I'm a mental telepathist?"

"I hate to call you at the office, dear, but on the way home I'd like you to stop off at the supermarket and get a few items I forgot. I'll read you the list."

"Other husbands I know are glad to—" et cetera, et cetera, et cetera.

Immunity Does Not Last Forever

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

A vaccination or rather, the immunity resulting from it—does not, as a great many people still suppose, last forever.

The protective antibodies that have been created in the blood gradually subside. Some may remain for life, but that does not automatically mean that they will continue to be strong enough to ward off the disease entirely.

The degree of immunity will vary in proportion to several factors. How virulent is the germ involved? How severe is the exposure? How much of the anti-body protection still remains?

This last depends only in part on the amount of time which elapses, because it may be reinforced from time to time by natural causes. For instance, let us say that several years have passed since a successful vaccination. Some protection remains. The vaccinated person then comes in contact, but not very strongly, with the disease. The exposure is not enough to cause the disease, yet it is enough to incite the creation of more antibodies.

In this way, the original result of the vaccination is reinforced. But clearly one cannot depend on such chance reinforcement of immunity. That is why boosters, or periodic added vaccinations are recommended.

The U. S. government (and some other governments, as well) insist that people entering the country (including those who have just been away on a trip abroad) show proof of having had a smallpox vaccination within three years. Otherwise there can be no certainty that the persons may not be coming down with smallpox, and spreading the virus among others who may not have had a vaccination since school days.

We can tell from the number of "takes" when giving boosters to adults that a great many people have lost their immunity.

With influenza, vaccination appears to provide immunity for a much shorter time, a matter of months instead of years, and a booster every year is advisable (two inoculations, about a month apart, if you did not have flu vaccine the year before).

Tetanus is another for which the safe rule is to have periodic boosters. Every five years is probably adequate.

How often polio boosters will be needed is not yet apparent. We haven't had polio vaccine long enough to know. It is probable that enough polio virus is still present in mild form, or among people who still have not been immunized, to do some "natural booster" service. But I feel safer to give a booster every three or four years.

I don't know that it is necessary for you to remember when you need vaccinations. It's better to have your doctor keep your immunization record in his files, and give them as required, including less common "shots" which are of particular value if you do any traveling abroad. I am a strong booster of typhoid-paratyphoid vaccination for any trip abroad. Corporations insist that executives who travel in foreign lands be amply vaccinated against all diseases prevalent in the area for which protection can be offered.

I do think, however, that it makes sense to have a flu shot each fall. That might be the ideal occasion to see what other vaccinations need renewing.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the "safe" age for a girl to use tampons? I am 13 and started to menstruate when I was 12.—M.S.H.

It is perfectly safe at any age.

NOTE TO R.C.: Those "zig-zag colored lights" in front of your eyes could be a danger sign (such as, for example, glaucoma) so I suggest an examination by an eye specialist without delay.

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "How to Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column, but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

Around The Rim

Grimness More Impressive Than Greatness

We pulled into Clarendon and camped at the outskirts of town.

IT WAS MY Dad's old stomping ground. He had first come to that part of Texas in 1881. A 10-year-old runaway from his home in Michigan, he had made his way to Kansas City. There in the stockyards, he came upon a group of cowboys who had just unloaded a train of cattle shipped from a ranch in the Clarendon country. The boss rancher was named either "Bigbee" or "Bugbee." My dad was no great hand at spelling, and he was not certain as to the name. Nevertheless, the cowboys adopted the stray kid, fed him a mess of fried beef and beans, washed down with black camp coffee. They loaded him into the caboose of a south bound freight, and he wound up in Clarendon. The rancher took a liking to him, nicknamed him "Dick" and let him stay around the ranch.

Later he became a cowhand for this rancher as well as for the celebrated Charlie Goodnight. On this particular visit many years later, he proposed I meet some of his old heroes—including Charlie Goodnight.

IT MAY BE that he did introduce me to the famous cattleman. I do not remember. I do remember vividly, however, another character he took me to see that day.

This was a weathered old gentleman, well along in years, whose last name was Drennan. He had a thatch of snowy white hair and sizeable scraggly moustache. His skin was wrinkled and his eyes were constantly "quenched" as though he was peering into the distance. Actually, the old man was looking into the past.

When my Dad told me about Drennan I could hardly wait until we reached his small house.

DRENNAN HAD been a wagon train master and had guided settlers across the Plains to the West Coast. He had trapped in the remote frontier country and had struggled for his life against wild beasts, wild Indians and against white men, wilder, perhaps than either the Indians or the beasts.

Someone had helped the old man write an account of his life as a frontiersman and the book had just been published.

He had known my Dad in the old days and for a time they engaged in typical man talk of the kind of no interest whatever to a young boy. I was trying to peer into the gloomy interior of the house.

Finally, the old man opened the sagging screen door and bade us enter.

A STACK of his newly published books occupied a place of honor. He saw my eyes glued on these and handed me one to examine. It was illustrated with pen-and-ink drawings—mostly of clashes between the wagon trains and circling bands of Indians.

Finally, he sat down and started talking about the incidents the pictures dealt with.

He told how he had once been buffalo hunting with two other men and had ridden off one morning to find a strayed horse. As he neared camp some hours later, he saw wisps of smoke rising from the cottonwood grove. He feared from the worst and tying his horses to a tree, crept forward to find the stripped and mutilated bodies of his comrades sprawled near the smoking remnants of their wagon.

HE FLED to his horse and raced miles for help. A hastily organized group of cattlemen and hunters formed and pursued the war party. A skirmish developed and several of the Indians were slain.

"I scalped 'em, too," the old man said.

And he opened a drawer in a battered old dresser and handed me what at first glance seemed to be a piece of dried hide with a few straggling black hairs attached.

I GINGERLY turned the relic over and over and then handed it back. I rubbed my hand vigorously on my overalls leg.

I do not remember meeting Mr. Goodnight, although I now wish, sincerely, that I did remember.

But I do remember Mr. Drennan—and his grim trophies of a far earlier day.

Is Undertow A Factor?

NEW YORK—The newest word in the political vocabulary is undertow. Republicans running for state and national offices across the country are shuddering at the prospect of getting caught in the Goldwater undertow and carried down to defeat.

IN NEW YORK Sen. Kenneth B. Keating is conducting a fierce, often embittered, struggle to survive against a sweep of such size as the state has never seen before. The polls put the Johnson-Humphrey triumph at an astronomical figure. Realist politicians in both camps talk of a majority between a million and a half and two million.

The game has been to sidestep Goldwater without alienating too many Republican voters. The rules vary from state to state with the degree of the threat. It varies, too, with the degree of fortitude the candidate can muster in the face of the yawning gulf separating the two factions, conservative and moderate, of his party. Here is a rundown of how the game is going in four states and a guess at the outcome.

NEW YORK—Keating, seeking a second term in the Senate, has taken the most uncompromising line. Up to this writing he has never mentioned Goldwater's name, and the last thing he wants is to appear in the vicinity of his party's candidate for President. Conducting his own independent campaign, he discusses his voting record on civil rights, the nuclear test-ban treaty and other issues. It is a record directly opposed to that of Goldwater.

When questioners try to snare him into a statement on Goldwater, he balks. He has said that while he cannot support Goldwater, he will not vote for Johnson. This is rather an awkward dilemma.

Richard Starnes

The Post-Mortem Club

WASHINGTON — Secretary General U Thant has suggested that N-K appear before the United Nations to explain why his erstwhile toadies in the Kremlin kicked him into the strange limbo the Soviet Union maintains for its fallen idols.

It would be "helpful and even desirable" to hear the sacked dictator's swan song, Mr. Thant said, to which must be added that it would also be downright fascinating. Not only would the world get the undiluted word straight from the victim, but it would doubtless set a useful precedent for the other yesterday heroes who wake up today buses.

IF N-joins the losing World Series pitchers ("It was a good curve but it hung") and the pug who has just been knocked loose from his senses ("I dickered out too much, I couldn't sweat") in explaining away his failures, it will open heady new vistas of cosmic alibiing.

If Mr. Goldwater loses the election, for example, he might also appear before the U. N. General Assembly to explain why. No one not consumed with moral rot would presume to predict what he might say (or even to think about anyway). Or what if Big Daddy confounds the pundits, pollsters and positivist by somehow contriving to lose? They'd have to move his recessional to an auditorium the size of the Gobi Desert to accommodate the throng.

ONE GUESS, to return to the lavish possibilities to be found in Mr. Thant's proposal, is that old N—would turn up looking like a pincushion and would content himself with a brief warning to the youth of the world never to turn their backs on old friends.

But he might do a bit of shoe-banging and complain that he was fired simply because the corn crop failed. An American politician confronted with the same circumstance would certainly suggest that an act of God was somehow involved in his downfall. But his comforting exit line is not available to Mr. K., and won't be available to his glowering successors when the time comes for them to walk the plank.

Here old N. might thump a brogan on the desk halfheartedly. "I spent my life trying to change this nasty and morally indefensible characteristic of the human race, just as I did before me, and I failed just as he did. He used planned famines, mass murder and terror on a frightful scale. I know, because I helped him. When I tried on my own, I used somewhat different methods, but it still did no good. Communism, people are nogodniks, and always will be.

There are also art supplies, including oil paints, and all other equipment for painting, drawing, and coloring.

With Halloween coming up Saturday night, the party-giver can find witch hats for center pieces, pumpkins, napkins, cups, plates, tallies, and other items for setting up tables. If new cards are needed the Hobby Center has them in beautiful colors under the Hallmark brand.

Thanksgiving, too, comes up next month, and all kinds of "Turkey - ornamented" table accessories are available, including big turkey centerpieces, napkins, cups, plates, table cloths, and other items.

But getting back to airplane models and kits, the Hobby Center carries more than 50 kinds in stock, including the controlled line for stunts, speed, and combat. There are also kits for building radio-controlled models.

The builder and flyer may also get engines, fuel, paint, glue, and whatever he needs for replacement, or for outright building of airplanes.

Mrs. Betty Williams, owner.

all ages were interested in model-building of some sort.

"We are now running our model car contest," she said. "We have a big track which we bring to the store every Saturday for allowing contestants to race their cars when weather permits a normal track. Trophies will be offered for first and second place winners in each class, in the contest which closes Nov. 30. Those entering must build their models from kits purchased at the Hobby Center so entry blanks may be obtained."

"The junior class includes boys and girls through 13 years of age; intermediates, 14 through 16 years, and seniors, from 17 years up."

Mrs. Williams said all kinds of parts, in addition to full kits, are available for the HO car models. Other movable object kits include boats and motorcycles.

a good variety of paint-by-number kits, plus some mosaic designs.

If you like to do over old furniture there is the Old Masters paint which can be put on without removing the old finish, giving several wood finishes, including graining. It can be used on wood, glass or metal.

For the rocket enthusiasts there are several sizes including one with three engines. It has a removable nose cone for sending an egg, horned toad, or lizard, according to the launcher's choice, into space. Built-in parachutes return the sections to earth without damage.

HO model trains, with tracks, buildings, landscaping materials, and everything needed, also are available.

A big sample book of Hallmark Christmas cards is available for ordering printed cards; all kinds of bridge and party supplies, including invitations, tallies, place cards and playing cards are in stock; hobby and art books are in supply, and Hallcraft lettering and numbering guides of all sizes are carried.

Salesman Averages A Battery Sale Per Day

He got himself charged up and sold a lot of batteries before the end of his year.

Gene Miller, senior salesman at White's store, has received a ruby-ornamented pin for selling more than 250 batteries since Jan. 1. Manager Leland Pierce said he may win another by the end of this year.

Miller, who came from Abilene to the Big Spring store a year ago, is one of five salesmen in the automotive department selling batteries. A couple of the others may also win pins before the Dec. 31 deadline.

The pin is a small replica of "White's" batteries, with a ruby in the center, and is suitable for tie or lapel.

White's batteries are manufactured by Vitalic Battery Co. of Dallas, and carry the store's trade name.

Miller, who went over his quota more than two months ago, is married, and he and Mrs. Miller, who live at 1604 State, have one daughter, age 14 months.

Being Slandered, Yarborough Says

TYLER (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, seeking re-election, asserted Monday that his opponent continues to vilify him—even during his father's funeral.

C. R. Yarborough, 100, died Saturday and was buried Sunday in Chandler.

"I come back to this campaign without any animosity toward anyone, though I have been vilified without any regard for the truth, and though these slanderers would not stop even one day for my father's funeral," Yarborough asserted.

'Lady Bird Special' Dips Down For Oklahoma Stops

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The flying "Lady Bird Special" dipped down into Oklahoma for two campaign stops today and the First Lady reported the President was keeping "a progressive course — meeting problems, not retreating from them."

First Mrs. Lyndon Johnson motored to a rally at the new Tulsa Civic Center, where she praised Oklahoma from oil to culture.

At the Tulsa rally, Mrs. Johnson said this election is a test of whether as a nation we shall move forward "in common trust and faith" or move backward toward denial of each other's needs into a national climate of fear, distrust and dislike.

City Crews Are Replacing Wire At Sewage Plant

Repairs are under way at the city sewage treatment plant of electrical wiring installations, with present wiring being replaced by a submersible type conductor wire.

Wiring with insulation not of sufficient strength to withstand conditions underwater is being replaced by a type supposed to increase in insulation strength when submerged, according to city electrician Roy Rogan.

Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said the work is being done by city crews, but will be charged against the contractor. The plant has been in operation for about a year but has not been formally accepted by the city.

Optimists Set Youth Week

The Big Spring Optimist Club will join in the nationwide recognition of youth during the week of Nov. 9-15. The local committee, composed of Wayne G. Vaughn, chairman, James Doyle, Bobby Grant and Cecil Thixton, announced that the week's activities would begin with recognition in Big Spring churches Nov. 8.

Certificates to outstanding students will be presented at the regular club meeting Nov. 11. A new program, stressing driver safety and traffic courtesy, will be initiated this year.

The idea of Youth Appreciation Week, according to Optimists, is to recognize that the overwhelming majority of teenagers believe in juvenile decency, not delinquency, and lets youngsters know that adults are proud of their achievements, with a tangible pat on the back.

General, Pope Regret Bombing

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark, Ret., says he is "inclined to agree" with Pope Paul VI that the Benedictine Abbey at Monte Cassino "should not have been bombed."

The Pope, speaking at the consecration of the rebuilt abbey Saturday, said the bombing was a "grave outrage."

Two classes of psychology students from South Plains College at Levelland toured the Big Spring State Hospital Monday.

Israeli Distrust Of Bonn Grows

WOLFSBURG, Germany (AP) — Germany's Lutheran dean, Heinrich Grueber, says there is a growing distrust in Israel of the West German government.

Sgt. Sherrill Farmer, of the Big Spring Police Department, has assisted in preparation for driver safety recognition.

City To Push Safe Driving

An increased emphasis on driving safety is being planned by the City of Big Spring, with classes and a fact-finding accident board included in the program, according to Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson.

The first driving classes will begin Saturday, Anderson said, with about five city drivers included at each two-hour session. Instructors will be furnished by the police department and the department of public works, to include men who have completed a course in driver instruction.

The program will also include safe driving awards, to be made at the end of one or two-year periods, Anderson said. A record will be kept of driving records of city employees with city equipment.

In addition to establishing a basis for the awards, Anderson said the program was an effort to create more awareness of proper driving procedures among city employees.

The board itself will meet monthly and review traffic accidents of the previous month. Anderson said it would not be a disciplinary board, but rather a means of determining how and why a vehicular accident occurred, whether it could have been prevented and also to form recommendations as to installation of safety devices on the vehicle equipment.

Presently the board is composed of R. V. Foresyth, street and sanitation superintendent who will supervise the driving classes, Police Chief Jay Banks, Anderson, and supervisors of departments involved in accidents each month.

The board's next meeting is planned for 2 p.m. Friday at the city hall.

City Purchases More Surplus

The city has purchased a drag line mounted on a 4-by-6 truck carrier and a 5-ton truck tractor, both through the Texas Surplus Property Agency under the Civil Defense program.

The drag line and carrier is a 1946 model with half-yard capacity, Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson said. The city paid about $325 for the unit, which was leased from the government by General Dynamics in Fort Worth before becoming surplus property.

The unit does not have a bucket attached. Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said, but the city plans to buy one that can be installed on the line. Lillard said the unit could be used as a crane, a shovel, backhoe or clam bucket, to excavate ground, clear debris or lift heavy objects in Civil Defense or public works activities.

The truck tractor originally cost $4,608, with the city paying $800 for the unit, Anderson said. It was formerly used at Webb AFB.

Tour Hospital

Two classes of psychology students from South Plains College at Levelland toured the Big Spring State Hospital Monday.

Some 30 students from the college received tours of wards and other facilities, with lunch also at the hospital. The group was accompanied by Norman Thomas, president of the First National Bank of Levelland, and Henry Adair, a psychology teacher.

Usher Strike Hits Network

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. television network was about 15 minutes late getting on the air this morning because of a strike of ushers.

The ushers, known as pages, are members of the National Association of Broadcasting Employees and Technicians and their picket lines apparently kept some other network employees from reporting for work on time.

A spokesman for ABC's radio network said operations got under way on schedule at 7 a.m., with union engineers and other employees reporting on time.

A union spokesman said the pages struck because the network has not offered them an acceptable contract.

A minimum of three pickets paraded around each of the network's three facilities in the Los Angeles area — radio and television offices in Hollywood and the transmitter facilities for each on Mt. Wilson.

But management personnel manned KABC radio at 5 a.m. (PST), and there was no delay in radio broadcasting, a network spokesman said. Other management personnel were called in to handle work at KABC-TV and on Mt. Wilson.

Barry Says LBJ Playing Upon Race, Religion Issues

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater accused President Johnson today of playing upon questions of race, religion and hardship in America in his drive to keep the White House.

The Republican presidential candidate said Johnson wants an election-day mandate to set the nation on what he called a plunge to socialistic ruin.

"He won't be satisfied with just an election — he wants to be crowned," the Arizona senator said. "He wants total trust, total love, total power over your lives."

Johnson is the "most powerful hungry man in American politics," Goldwater said in a speech prepared for delivery in Bristol.

He hopped into the South, with London, Ky., also on his schedule, after a wild, full-house rally in New York's Madison Square Garden.

There — before a crowd of more than 18,000 that cheered 28 minutes before he could start his speech — Goldwater accused Johnson of "political daddysism . . . as old as demagogues and despotism."

It was more of the same today in traditionally Republican eastern Tennessee.

"Somebody," Goldwater said, "and it's got to be you, must tell this man who uses race, who uses religion, who uses hardship, who uses everything and everybody to further his political ambitions . . . somebody must tell him that American votes cannot be bought, cannot be coerced and will not be hijacked."

A self-styled underdog in the election a week away, Goldwater asked Tennessee voters: "Do we want raw and naked power and ambition in the White House? Power stripped of humility, stripped of common honesty, devoid of any morality except the morality of get, the morality of grab, and the morality of gifts for the favored few?"

"TOO FAR LEFT" Goldwater said Johnson's "course is too far left."

"It would lead to a socialist America," he said. "Perhaps presided over by Lyndon Johnson's handpicked successor, Hubert Humphrey, the American politician whose roots are deepest in radical socialism."

Goldwater added: "The pace of this plunge to socialism, this careening, 90-mile-per hour ride to ruin, is a violation of every limit that the majority of Americans want to set."

"On such a ride," he said, "we may never have another chance short of the crack-up which socialism promises and the coddling of communism threatens."

World Grain Crop Likely To Set Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wheat crop of 8.9 billion bushels, a record high, is forecast for 1964-65, with much of the increase in Europe, Japan and the Soviet Union.

This means these areas won't be buying U.S. wheat in huge quantities as they did last year, when Russia, with widespread crop failures, bought 65 million bushels from the United States.

This also means tougher competition from foreign wheat sources. Nevertheless, domestic and foreign sales of wheat in 1964-65 are expected to be just about equal U.S. production, and no increase is expected in the 900 million bushel wheat surplus.

An increase in food for peace shipments is expected to take up the slack of decreased commercial wheat exports, which currently account for only 18 per cent of total exports compared to 33 per cent a year ago.

INDIA'S CROP

India's crop is smaller this year and her food problems appear to be even more acute than usual. India is the major recipient of food for peace shipments, under which friendly countries may buy U.S. surplus wheat and pay for it in their own currencies.

Wheat and flour exports in 1964-65 are forecast at 675 million bushels, considerably below last year's record level of 860 million bushels but still above average.

This analysis of the wheat situation was made by the Agriculture Department's economic research service in a quarterly report released today.

The average price received by farmers in the July-September period was $1.34 per bushel, four cents above the national average price support loan. Farm prices during harvest have seldom been as high in the past decade, relative to the price support loan.

The 1964 crop price support loan is the lowest since 1943, but farmers get supplementary payments which will maintain their income at near the $2.3 billion level of last year.

These payments may have enabled farmers to withhold wheat from the market, the analysis said, and this has kept the prices above the support level.

ANOTHER FACTOR

Another factor is that beginning July 1, 1964, flour mills were required to purchase a 70-cent domestic marketing certificate for each bushel of wheat processed for food. This certificate income helps to keep farmers' income at about the same level as last year, despite the lower $1.30 price support loan rate.

The certificate plan increased the price to the mills by about 18 cents per bushel above last year. Therefore the mills ground a lot of wheat just before the deadline and had big flour stocks on hand during July and August.

Orange Plant Workers Return

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Employees of Spencer Chemical Co. where an explosion killed two and injured 15 Sunday night went back to work today.

Workers on the midnight and 8 a.m. shifts were asked to report as usual.

"We have completed a thorough inspection of the plant," a spokesman said, "and everything is secure. Now we need our people back on the job."

Spencer officials late Monday had ordered cleanup crews from the installation in fear of possible new danger.

The first blast occurred at 7:25 p.m. Sunday. Within three hours a series of smaller explosions rocked the nitrogen division of Allied Chemical Corp. about 1.5 miles away.

Four men were hurt at Allied, none seriously.

Only five of the Spencer injured remained in a hospital today. Charles McFarlane, 39, of Orange was the only worker in a serious condition.

The Spencer explosion and fire took the lives of Carroll Carr, 29, of West Orange and Clyde Matthews Jr., 31, of Orange.

Raw polyethylene pellets are manufactured at the plant, which is a newly purchased division of Gulf Oil Corp.

The explosion occurred in the reactor area, where an ethylene gas-carrying line ruptured.

Damage was considered in terms of several million dollars. Plant officials were unable to give an estimate.

Jack Denton, Spencer division president, flew here from Kansas City, Mo., with two plane-loads of engineers and survey experts.

West Texas Skies Clear

By The Associated Press

Skies cleared over the western half of Texas and showers eased up in other sections today.

Early morning fog developed at a number of places from Childress and Junction eastward.

Moisture tapered off after two days of occasionally torrential rains which were heaviest over a broad stretch of Central Texas.

College Station gauged 3.75 inches Monday and Austin added 1.13 to the 4.80 it received the night before. Numerous points gauged 1 to 3 inches and the fall was even heavier in a rural spot or two.

Farmers welcomed the soaking rains in advance of the first generally killing frosts, normally felt by around the middle of next month.

Clear to partly cloudy skies and continued mild temperatures were predicted for all parts of the state through Wednesday.

LBJ's Drive In Northeast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson aims his campaign at the Northeast today after a swing through the Deep South in which he lectured hecklers, assailed Barry Goldwater by name and promised to seek an end to North-South differences.

Johnson, who is making more and more direct jabs at Goldwater with the election only a week away, speaks tonight in Boston, Pittsburgh and Evansville, Ind., before flying to Albuquerque, N.M., for an overnight stay.

The President stumped through five cities in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina Monday. Returning to the White House long after dark, he obviously was pleased about his reception in the South — even though he was confronted in Augusta, Ga., with the most severe heckling of his campaign.

Interrupted several times at Augusta by chants of "We want Barry," Johnson left his prepared text to do some off-the-cuff sermonizing on good manners.

He said: "I was always taught as a little boy when people didn't know any better, and when they made mistakes, and when they were rude, and when they didn't show good manners, to turn your other cheek and say, 'Dear Lord, please forgive them for they know not what they do.'"

Johnson, who smiled through much of the opposition chanting, insisted he didn't feel hurt or angry.

"We just feel sorry," he said. "And I think that on Nov. 3 they are going to feel sorry, too."

Earlier, in Macon, Ga., Johnson faced similar but less noisy pro-Goldwater demonstrations that included the waving of outspoken anti-Johnson placards.

There he said: "Some people

Man Charged In Death Case

DALLAS (AP) — Police have charged a second man in the death of reporter James Koethe.

Charged as an accessory to murder Monday was Sidney Perry, 23, who was arrested Sept. 30 for allegedly looting a coin-operated machine.

Police originally filed a murder charge against Larry Reno, also 23. A justice of the peace ruled after a hearing last week that evidence was insufficient to link Reno to the slaying.

Reno remains in custody on a charge involving another matter.

Police say Koethe, a Dallas Times Herald reporter, was strangled.

Papers Win On Road Editorials

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Good Roads Association said today an editorial in the Longview Morning Journal is sweepstakes winner in an association statewide newspaper editorial contest in connection with highway week observances.

Daily newspaper first place winner is the Kilgore News Herald; second place is the Mid-Cities (Hurst) Daily News-Texan; third, The Brownwood Bulletin.

In Your Heart You Know He's Right About TAXES

BARRY GOLDWATER SAYS: "Americans are already working four months every year just to pay taxes. Reckless government spending continuing at the present rate with new give-away programs, can only result in still more taxes levied against our already overburdened citizens. I am in favor of tax cuts through prudent government budgeting. We must live within the means of the people who pay the government's bills, and restore fiscal responsibility at every level of government."
