Twenty Injured In Japanese Demonstration

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Leftist-led demonstrations broke out tonight in this southern port on the eve of the first visit of a U.S. nuclear-powered submarine to Japan. Police reinforcements poured into the city.

Fighting started in Tokyo when police tried to break up a sitdown protest against the visit by 1,400 students in front of the Diet (Parliament) Building. Twelve police and eight students were injured. Nine students were arrested.

The demonstrations in Sasebo were more sporadic. But Socialist leaders predicted 10,000 demonstrators would be on hand when the 2,552-ton Sea Dragon docks in Sasebo Thursday for a three-day visit.

Tension was high in Sasebo, only 35 miles from Nagasaki, smashed by a U.S. atomic bomb in World War II.

Nearly 10,000 leftist-led demonstrators marched to the gates of the Diet in Tokyo and handed petitions to 30 Socialist members of the Diet demanding cancellation of the submarine's visit. Party leaders claimed they had signatures of more than 25 million of Japan's 100 million people. As the demonstrators march off, 1,400 students snaked up to the gates and began a sitdown.

Hours In Well

Recalls First Armistice Day In Big Spring

"Student demonstrations" and Nov. 11 recalled an incident on the first Armistice Day for Kathleen M. Williams.

When the 8:45 a.m. buzzer at Big Spring High School (now Runnels Junior High) sounded on Nov. 18, 1918, Mrs. Williams recalled, 25 of the 33 members of the senior class formed ranks and filed out to parade downtown. They were joined by several adventurous juniors and sophomores, and together they marched through the streets singing and shouting patriotic slogans and otherwise whooping it up because the Armistice had been signed ending World War I.

"The riot squads were not called out," said Mrs. Williams, "but the faculty took a stern view of the walkout. Each of the demonstrators drew a sentence of 90 minutes a day for three months in the detention study hall after school.

"We thought the faculty was very unpatriotic, but looking back, we thank them for making us do a little extra studying. Otherwise, we may not have had as many 1919 graduates of dear old Big Spring High."

Another reason for the dim view the faculty took of the bit of patriotic hoopoe was that its members well knew that most students as well as nearly everyone else in town had been celebrating around the bandstand on the courthouse lawn most of the previous night in anticipation of the signing of the Armistice.

City Given Favorable Bond Interest Rate

The city commission approved sale of $460,000 in water and sewer system revenue bonds to First Southwest Company of Dallas Tuesday night, providing the money for construction of the Beals Branch sewer line and the projected one-million gallon water reservoir on Scenic Mountain.

B52 Wreckage Yields 7 Dead

WOLF POINT, Mont. (AP) — The seventh body was found in the crash of a B52 bomber in a desolate northeastern area Tuesday night.

A B52 jet bomber crashed and burned in a desolate area of northeastern Montana Tuesday night, killing six crew members. Another crewman was missing. Bodies of six men were found in smoldering wreckage, the Air Force reported today. Two of the bodies were located near one of the bombers eight jet engines, which were hurled more than a quarter of a mile from the point of impact.

The plane was from Larson Air Force Base at Moses Lake, Wash. A rescue unit was sent to the crash from Glasgow Air Force Base, 79 miles west of Wolf Point. Montana highway patrolmen and Roosevelt County officers also went to the scene, 60 miles west of the North Dakota border.

The cause of the crash was not known. A farmer, Jake Schleppe, was the first to report it. It occurred at about 11 p.m.

At the Glasgow base, Col. R.H. Worrell, wing commander, said it was possible that a member of the crew might have parachuted to safety.

Worrell said the plane was on a routine training mission. It was not carrying bombs, he said. It left Larson about two hours before the crash.

The information officer at Larson said names of crewmen will be withheld until next of kin are notified.

The nearest home to the crash site is about three miles away.

Grenade Blast Injures Thirty

HANAU, Germany (AP)—At least 30 children were injured today, some seriously, when a hand grenade exploded among students playing in a schoolyard, police reported.

The injured children were 10 or 11 years old. First reports indicated that a boy had brought the grenade to school in his pants pocket and dropped it during recess.

Police, Red Cross helpers, firemen and all available ambulances were rushed to the school.

The school is near a U.S. Army barracks. Police speculated that the boy found the grenade in the military area.

LBJ's Hatchet On Excise Tax

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson summoned Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon to his Hill-Country ranch today to make plans for a 1965 excise tax cut.

Johnson, winding up a first round of post-election conferences with top Cabinet advisers, also invited Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges to visit the ranch during the afternoon to talk about voluntary compliance with the new Civil Rights Act and the business outlook at home and abroad.

Both Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara conferred with the President Tuesday at the 400-acre LBJ Ranch.

Johnson wanted to talk to Dillon about tax legislation to be submitted to Congress in January. During the election campaign, the President said he would recommend a major cut in excise taxes. He hinted at broader tax cuts in the longer-range future.

The President's efforts to reduce the budget deficit, now totaling about $5.7 billion a year, will be affected by the size and timing of the planned cut in excise levies.

Graduated Tax Withholding Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration is expected to ask Congress for a graduated income tax withholding rate next spring if there are too many protests by taxpayers over larger-than-usual tax bills.

Last March, when the new tax cut law went into effect, the withholding rate was reduced from 18 to 14 per cent. Some months ago the Internal Revenue Service advised that this might leave many taxpayers — especially those in the $5,000-$15,000 bracket — with additional taxes to pay next spring.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. military spokesman said today 1,100 Vietnamese civilians are reported to have drowned in floods surging through the valleys of mountainous central Viet Nam.

The spokesman cautioned that the figure may be exaggerated, but a natural disaster of major proportions was increasingly evident.

Refugees are pouring into the main coastal cities. Between 36,000 and 45,000 are in Da Nang, a key port and military base 380 miles northeast of Saigon. Several thousand are reported at other cities.

RED HINDRANCE Rescue work in some of the 10 stricken provinces is being hampered by Communist Viet Cong groundfire against U.S. helicopters attempting to move out the stricken and to fly in food supplies, the spokesman said.

About 150,000 people are reported homeless, most of them in coastal Binh Dinh Province which has been lashed by heavy rains for the past week.

Some heavily populated mountain valleys along the central coast have been cut off for two to three days, military sources said. The situation in these areas is not known.

FLASH FLOODING A reported 1,000 civilian drownings occurred in the Tien Phuoc district of northern Quang Tin Province and another 100 civilians were drowned by flash flooding in the Hiep Duc district, the U.S. spokesman said.

In about half the stricken provinces, flood waters are reported receding. In other areas more rain is expected.

Vote Contest Case Ousted

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court dismissed today a Starr County Republican candidate's challenge of the right of 650 voters to cast ballots in the Nov. 3 election.

In a brief opinion by all nine members, the court said the case is now moot.

George Lund, GOP candidate for county tax assessor-collector, said the voters had poll taxes for which they had not paid and which were obtained without their authority.

He contended "volunteers" had purchased the poll taxes with their own money for the 650 voters.

A trial court dismissed the case, saying it lacked jurisdiction. The San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals affirmed that decision, saying that the courts lack jurisdiction "to adjudicate the validity of poll taxes in anticipation of the voters' actual presentation at the polls some time in the future."

Port Lavaca Youth Killed In Mishap

ROSENBERG, Tex. (AP)—A Port Lavaca youth was killed and another critically injured early today in a one-car accident eight miles southwest of this Southeast Texas town.

Killed was Dennis Scruggs, 20, believed to have been a passenger in the car. He worked for a Port Lavaca furniture store and was studying to be an interior decorator.

Hospital Ceremonies Mark Veterans Day

The notes of "taps" wafted across the lawns in front of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital this morning as patients and visitors stood in recognition of Veterans Day, 1964.

Several persons joined in a pledge of allegiance to the United States flag, led by Mayor George Zachariah, and heard Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, pay tribute to the nation's war veterans, living and dead. Hospital patients, some in wheelchairs, were on hand for the services.

"Faith with the dead kept through our own living faith," Dr. Hunt pointed to as the keynote of the recognition and observance of Veterans Day.

Tracing the history of the day and pointing to the sacrifices paid the nation by the war veterans, Dr. Hunt spoke of several great needs in the world today, tolerance and understanding along with a preservation of true citizenship.

The date of November 11, he pointed out, was originally established as Armistice Day in 1918, but was changed by a law signed by President Dwight Eisenhower in 1954 to Veterans Day.

The Big Spring High School Band provided musical selections prior to the ceremonies and the Webb AFB color guard presented the colors. Rev. Marvin James gave the invocation.

Donald Van Meter, hospital director, paid tribute to the veterans organizations participating in the services and pointed to the national theme for this year's Veterans Day, "Peace with Honor."

Following the ceremonies, a film, "A Special Day," was presented in the hospital recreation hall, with scenes of Veterans Day ceremonies last year at Arlington National Cemetery.

The hospital's patients include 62 per cent veterans of World War II, eight per cent from the Korean War, and the remainder World War I and other veterans.

'NO, VIRGINIA...' Holidays Are Similar, But Not The Same

By SAM BLACKBURN No. Virginia — Veterans Day and May 30 are not identical holidays.

And Veterans Day, if you are very young, is but a new name for another holiday which once was wildly and later widely celebrated, and still later, as new wars and new troubles flared, casually noted.

May 30, Virginia, is Memorial Day — a day set up originally by a few southern states soon after the end of the Civil War. Its object was to have the relatives and friends of the men who had died in that war to spend the day decorating their graves. The day was called, for the most part Decoration Day.

In 1868, General John Logan, who was the commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, selected May 30 as a date when the GAR would adorn the graves of the northern dead. He probably selected the day because it was the date the final conscripted Union Soldier of the Civil War was discharged.

The day is generally observed now over the nation. Its basic intent is the same as originally — to hunt out the graves of the men killed in wars and, if the grave is not marked, to mark it; if it is marked, to decorate it with flags or flowers.

Nov. 11, on the other hand, until 1955 was known as Armistice Day. Most folk, who are along in years — sort of — still call it that. Originally, the day was created to celebrate a cease-fire agreement signed at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11, 1918, which, as it turned out, was the end of World War I. Technically, the agreement was an armistice, but it worked out so that from 1918, through 19 years, no true war flared. (Realists, looking with jaundiced eyes on the uncertainty which prevailed in those years and the ultimate outbreak of the Second World War, are inclined to regard the whole interval as strictly an armistice. They argue that to say World War I truly ended on Nov. 11 is a false interpretation of the lull which followed.)

Anyway, after World War II had broken out and dragged its bloody way to a close, and after the Korean War had flared and blazed, folk began to wonder at the ineptitude of celebrating something called "Armistice Day." The upshot was that the day was renamed "Veterans Day," and was designated to pay tribute to the war dead and soldiers of all wars in which the U.S. has taken part.

So you see, Virginia, although you younger sprouts cannot recall the wild enthusiasm of the original Armistice Day on Nov. 11, 1918, and may wonder at the resemblance between Veterans Day and Memorial Day — be informed they are not the same at all.

P.S. This is Veterans Day, Virginia.

Weather Clears

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clearing weather was forecast today after two days of rain which sent mudslides surging through homes, trapping and killing a housewife.

The rain was welcome in most of drought-plagued southern California, but it fell with devastating effect on fire-denuded hillsides.

School Trustees Take Steps To Reduce Interest Costs

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday decided on steps that could save up to $370,000 in interest costs on future sale of bonds under its proposed building program.

On its first bond issue sale, the school district paid an effective interest rate of 3.51 per cent. At the same rate, the next issue could save almost $350,000 by reducing the number of bond retirement years—from 25 to 20.

The new retirement schedule, as proposed by Carter Johnson, of Rauscher, Pierce and Co., the district's bond fiscal agent, allows for an interest rate of up to 3.75 per cent and is based on a two per cent annual increase in evaluation. The plan could be a factor in getting the district a better bond rating, which, in effect, could result in lower interest rates.

However, it will absorb some of the flexibility in a bond payment schedule with some possibility of forcing a tax rate increase. This could be offset by an increase in assessed valuations of more than the predicted two per cent.

Under the original schedule of issuing and paying off the bonded indebtedness, a total of 45,330 accumulated bond years was listed. Under the new schedule 36,080 bond years would accumulate, cutting off 9,250 years to lower the total interest.

The number of cumulative bond years is figured by multiplying the number of bonds by the total years covered.

Supt. Sam Anderson pointed out a possible danger in shortening the years if an extreme emergency arose, or if assessed valuations declined. In discussing this possibility, board members said the income from depositing unneeded bond money at interest would leave a surplus cushion, against at least two years of emergency, in the interest and sinking funds.

The board felt the savings effected by the shortened years justified the new schedule and authorized the bond fiscal agent to operate on the new schedule, which calls for the sale of a second $2 million early in 1965; a third issue of $750,000 in fiscal year 1966-67; and a fourth issue of $750,000 during the 1968-69 fiscal year.

Cold Front Enters State

By The Associated Press A cold front moving into Texas Wednesday was expected to bring freezing weather to the upper Panhandle by dawn Thursday and rain over most of the state.

A low of 30 degrees was forecast for Dalhart.

Weathermen said rain should spread as far as Southwest Texas by night, and then move east across the state.

The region least likely to have any rain of consequence is deep South Texas.

The Pacific cold front sent rain or snow sweeping through most of the western third of the nation this week. A two-inch blanket of snow covered higher regions as far south as Arizona.

Dear Abby

She's Not The First

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell if a man is married? The way men lie nowadays you can't tell the married ones from the single ones. You sure can't believe what they tell you. I was a widow for six years when my daughter introduced me to a very nice man whom she knew at the place where she worked. We were attracted to each other from the start. He said his wife was dead. We went together for almost a year. This man asked me to marry him after our second date. I said I thought we should get to know each other better before discussing marriage. I don't know what he'd have done if I had said yes because his wife was very much alive. (I just found out about her last week.) I called her on the phone and she told me plenty. She wasn't mad. She said I wasn't the first and I wouldn't be the last. Also that she didn't love him but was only keeping him around for his pay check. So, dear Abby, I'm asking you, How can a woman be sure?

SHOCKED: Your most reliable information on the marital status of a suitor would come either from the bureau of vital statistics or from others who have known the man longer than you have. Some men are polished liars, so if a man never takes you to his old haunts and never introduces you to his friends, beware.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, single and have a very good job. I've been deferred from Army service because of my job, but my deferment is up in January. I recently met the most wonderful girl. I see her only on weekends, but she is constantly in my thoughts. I've asked her to marry me, but now I'm not sure if I'm really in love, or just looking for someone to marry to stay out of the Army. I find it hard to keep my mind on my work, and this problem is keeping me up nights. Can you give me some advice?

IN DOUBT: DEAR IN: When a man is in love, he knows it, and he doesn't question his motives for considering marriage. Don't marry this "wonderful girl" while you are still wondering whether it's "love" or the deferment that is drawing you to the altar. Army duty is temporary. Marriage is a lifetime hitch!

DEAR ABBY: About the "retarded" poodle who piddles. The owners sound retarded to me. In the first place, puppies should not be taken from their mothers until they are ten weeks old. If a dog is taken for a walk the first thing in the morning, and rewarded with a kind word or a biscuit for having accomplished the purpose of the walk, then turned out a time or two during the day, and walked again in the evening, the carpets and furniture would be safe.

I worked in a resort motel, and half the people with dogs who checked in for the week end would get stoned in the evening, then sleep off their hangovers until noon. By that time the poor dog would have answered Nature's call on the carpet. But why blame the dog if the owner has no sense? Yours for a better deal for dogs, MRS. R. M. H.

DEAR ABBY: Tell Julius' wife not to complain because her husband can't dance. If he's the same Julius I knew back in Indiana about 15 years ago, he couldn't dance then, either. But he had a lot of other qualities that were much better than dancing. I wish I had waited for him.

Silent March By Striking Teachers Eyed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Louisville school teachers' strike continued today with the possibility of silent sentinels instead of pickets at the schools. A court order has been issued against picketing, but an attorney advised the strikers it wouldn't apply if they just walked nearby, in silence.

Louisville schools continued to operate even with absences of teachers that hit some schools hard Tuesday. There seem to be 150 to 200 strikers compared with the total city teacher force of 1,896. No firm figure on the strike force has been released. The teachers seek a pay increase.

Gov. John McKeithen of Louisiana called a special session of the legislature for Monday to boost teachers' salaries. He acted in the face of mounting pressures from Louisiana's 36,000 teachers. McKeithen said he will ask a $500 across-the-board hike, half of what the teachers demand.

In Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon called for teachers to meet with him Dec. 5, saying there had been "a breakdown in communications between the governor's office and the teachers." He said he would outline a program to "substantially improve Oklahoma's educational system."

Bonn Row Said Certain After Judge Admits Lie

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — A West German Supreme Court judge admitted here he lied when he denied authorship of two controversial articles in the West German news magazine Der Spiegel.

In a letter to the Supreme Court president, Judge Dr. Heinrich Jagusch said he wrote the two articles, a critique of the court and the Bonn government "out of deep concern for the public weal." The case is certain to stir a hot national row.

One article, headlined "Deal with Traitors?" had criticized the sudden release last August on an East German espionage suspect who had been in custody pending charges for 10 months. The reasons for his release never were made public but speculation was widespread that it was part of a deal between Bonn and East German authorities which also brought freedom to various prisoners in East Germany.

The second article expressed doubt about the legal basis of the treason case brought by the attorney general against the editors of Der Spiegel in connection with two articles critical of the West German army's combat effectiveness. The arrest of Spiegel publisher Rudolf Augstein and various editors of the news magazine stirred a nationwide scandal which led to the ouster of Defense Minister Franz Joseph Strauss. Charges were preferred against Augstein and others last month.

Similar sessions of the hearing with hearing examiner Clifford P. Grant are scheduled for Nov. 30 in Washington, Dec. 2 in Miami, and Dec. 7 in San Francisco. All begin at 10 a.m. local time.

The Schoolgirl Look

Anne Fogarty Likes Looks Of Schoolgirl

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — In case men have forgotten how devastating young dolls can be in dresses with cross tabs at the sides, or classic lace tweed suits in bon bon colors.

These were kinds of clothes that even grandmother would okay in a girl's closet—swinging permanently pleated skirts and shell overblouses, demure navy flannel suits with short-cropped jacket, shifts with knee pleats, and classic shirtwaists with wide patent leather belts and voluminous skirts.

Polka-dots provided the pepper. Big spots and little specks, and sometimes little dots within the big dots. Speckled scarves, jacket linings, turbans, and often the entire costume.

Miss Fogarty's raincoats were black and white striped, or white bound in black, or fireman red, all with umbrellas to match. They were of a slippery vinyl material that would look wet in a drouth.

Models might have had their hair in curlers during the whole show for all the audience would have known. Each, whatever else she wore, wrapped a turban around her head.

The finale was a bridal gown, an appropriate costume for a sweet and proper Fogarty girl.

Not Miss Fogarty's little girls. They were delicious dishes in decorously fitted, skimmer tating young dolls can be in dresses with cross tabs at the sides, or classic lace tweed suits in bon bon colors.

Jenkins Out Of Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Jenkins, former chief aide to President Johnson, has been released from George Washington University hospital, a hospital spokesman said Tuesday night.

Jenkins was admitted to the hospital Oct. 14 with what his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson, described as "insomnia, tensions and agitation."

It became known that day that Jenkins had been arrested twice on morals charges — in 1959 and on last Oct. 7. The President requested and received the resignation of his assistant of 25 years.

Thompson said Jenkins had undergone surgery while at the hospital for a calcium deposit in his right shoulder. The onetime White House assistant left the hospital Monday and was reported resting at his home. He is "doing very well," Thompson said.

Top Medal Winner Shuns Holiday Fetes

SYLVANIA, Ga. (AP) — A Medal of Honor winner credited with killing 52 Japanese soldiers had some farm chores to perform today before he could celebrate Veterans Day.

John Randolph McKinney, 43, said he hoped to finish a corn gathering job and take off for the woods deer hunting.

McKinney, one of Georgia's six Medal of Honor winners, shuns parades and ceremonies.

More than 19 years have passed since President Harry S. Truman presented the Medal of Honor to McKinney. When the Georgian came home he was invited to many military functions but he shunned most of them. He said he wanted to forget the war. He fought in the Philippines and in New Guinea.

LONG HOURS
The Georgian works 9 to 15 hours daily as a farm hand on a 400-acre tract his cousin, J. W. McKinney, operates on a share-cropping system.

He has never married.

The action that won him the nation's highest award occurred in Tayabase Province on Luzon in the Philippines on May 11, 1945.

McKinney was guarding a machinegun position with two infantrymen. He was resting near the gun position, after a turn on duty, when a Japanese soldier dashed up and slashed at him with a saber.

Dazed and angered by the blow that nearly severed his left ear, McKinney bludgeoned his attacker with his rifle and shot another Japanese who was advancing on him. One of his comrades was wounded and the third soldier manning the machinegun withdrew, carrying the wounded GI with him, the official citation said.

SHOT THEM
Ten Japanese infantrymen captured the American machinegun.

Leaping into the gun emplacement, McKinney shot seven of them and beat three others to death with the butt of his rifle.

The citation says McKinney shifted his position often, reloaded his rifle repeatedly and cut down more attackers.

Christmas Club Savings Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — An annual flood of money is spilling into pre-Christmas business channels.

It is the $1,774,172,000 saved this year by 14,750,000 Christmas Club members.

The money is being distributed by 9,900 banks and savings and loan associations throughout the country.

It compares with savings of $1,659,430,000 last year.

"This substantial increase in Christmas savings forecasts good Christmas business," says Edward F. Dorset, president of "Christmas Club A Corporation."

The club was founded in 1910 by the late Herbert F. Rawll, who sold printed forms and supplies to banks and businesses.

The bidding:
East South West North
1♥ 1▲ 2♥ 3▲
4♥ 4▲ Double Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♠
A swing amounting to nearly 2,000 points hinged on West's choice of an opening lead against South's four spade contract in today's hand.

The auction was fiercely contested. North's jump raise to three spades with three trumps is worthy of note. Partner is presumed to have a good suit for his vulnerable overcall, and North has considerable trick taking potential in the minor suits as well as the void in hearts.

South's sacrifice bid of four spades was a calculated risk, based on the assumption that North was extremely short in hearts. Observe that East and West can make four hearts and, if North's spade holding were a bit more robust, the damages at four spades would be slight indeed. West doubled and the bidding subsided.

West opened the ace of hearts, and declarer proceeded to set a merry pace. He ruffed in dummy, crossed over to the ace of diamonds, and trumped another heart. The king and queen of diamonds were cashed on which South disposed of his two clubs. A club ruff provided access to the closed hand, so that declarer could trump a third heart.

A high diamond was led and, when East ruffed with the three of spades, South discarded his last heart. The defense subsequently scored two trump tricks; however, declarer chalked up his doubled contract for a 790 point profit on the deal.

West's defensive strategy revealed that he had not paid much attention to the auction. With both sides bidding aggressively, it should have been obvious to West that the opposition held a strongly distributional fit, inasmuch as they were marked with a minority of the high cards. In order to inhibit the development of a profitable cross-ruff, therefore, it is suggested that West open the ace of spades.

Had he taken the opportunity to inspect the terrain first, his future course would have been clarified. If, for example, he now elects to make a club play for partner, East will be in to draw a second round of trumps. A heart shift forces the last spade out of dummy, while South's lone ace of diamonds blocks access to North's suit, and declarer is obliged to play the balance of the deal from his own hand. South will lose, in all, two spades, three hearts, and two clubs for a stinging 1,100 point setback.

GOP Platform Work Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke's call for a Republican convention next year to draft a new platform is getting only a lukewarm reception from party leaders.

A few here and there find it a clarion call for action, but most told The Associated Press in a survey they don't see any need for the party to convene before 1968, as scheduled.

The over-riding view is: "Let's wait for the dust to settle before making any major decision." Or, as Victor Smith, chairman of the GOP Central Committee in Illinois, put it: "Right now we need sober and reflective thought."

UNIQUE IDEA
Brooke's idea draws attention partly because it is unique and partly because of his smashing victory last Tuesday while President Johnson was sweeping the state. A Negro who refused to endorse Barry Goldwater, Brooke was re-elected by almost 800,000 votes despite a 1-million-plus victory for Johnson.

In outlining his suggestion, Brooke said the convention should be held in the summer of 1965 because by 1966 the delegates "should be ready for the congressional election and then get ready for 1968."

"SYSTEM PERILED"
"If they don't," he added, "then we will become rather perilously close to losing the vital two-party system of government."

The idea fell on receptive ears — to a degree — in Lansing, Mich., where Gov. George Romney said it "merits consideration."

Medical Director Visits Hospital

The medical director for the St. Louis medical area of the Veterans Administration, Dr. Albert H. Fechner, visited the Big Spring VA hospital Tuesday.

He was guest at a noon luncheon with hospital staff members at the Cosden Country Club and toured the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Fechner described the hospital here as a well-run, well-staffed unit and said his visit was routine. He attempts to visit each hospital within the eight-state St. Louis area every 12-15 months, he said.

Dr. Fechner also said he was pleased with the relationship of the hospital here with the community.

At the noon luncheon, he discussed the reorganization and functions of the area medical office with hospital staff personnel. The St. Louis office is one of seven which connect the VA central office in Washington, D. C., with local VA facilities.

"We have changing demands and changing programs which require modifications in our organization and the way the programs are administered," he pointed out. The visit here, he said, provided an opportunity to bring staff members up-to-date on various changes in organization and philosophy within the VA.

Dr. Fechner left Big Spring Tuesday evening to participate in ground-breaking ceremonies at the VA hospital in Temple, where a new 480-bed hospital building is to be constructed to replace the structure currently in use.

The visit to Big Spring was the second for Dr. Fechner since his appointment as area medical director in June, 1963. The St. Louis area includes some 34 VA stations.

Trustees Approve Plan For Mid-Term Graduates

Mid-term graduation exercises will be held at Big Spring High School in the future, if students meet requirements; retiring personnel may continue accident and hospitalization coverage under the school's group plan; and a move will be made to prevent acts of violence at athletic contests, following board action at Tuesday night's meeting of trustees.

Some 35 applicants for mid-term graduation in January have been filed with the high school principal, and will be included in the commencement exercises if grades are made, according to Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services in Big Spring schools. The board approved the recommendation and exercises will be held for the first graduates Jan. 19. No baccalaureate services will be held for the mid-term program.

The board approved requirements and procedures to be followed by students completing work at mid-term. These include during the late spring all those classified as juniors and seniors should be reminded of their responsibilities for ascertaining graduation requirements and planning programs; students who plan to graduate at mid-term should indicate it when their choice cards are made during the preceding semester; senior students will indicate when they propose to graduate when they register in the fall; those who indicate mid-term graduation will have their transcripts and schedules checked and get advice on requirements.

The second Friday after the first day of the fall semester will be the deadline beyond which schedule changes cannot be made by the student for mid-term graduation. Ainsworth said some students in the past have asked for schedule changes too far past the school opening date, and that these changes disrupt schedules and often cause grade failures.

"Most of these requests come after one student decides he wants to graduate with a friend," Ainsworth said, "and this often leads to an overload and possibilities of failure. We do not want to hold students back if they can progress more rapidly, but the attempt at progression often leads to disappointment and the possibility of low grades."

Students will be advised, at the end of the first nine weeks.

Cubs, Scouts To Join In Parade

All Scouts and Cubs in Big Spring are due to take part in the parade for the Big Spring High School homecoming here Friday.

The parade will start at 4:30 p.m. at Sixth and Main, and Scouts and Cubs should be on hand in complete uniform and with their United States and unit flags, according to the Lone Star District camping and activity committee. Boys are asked to be on hand by 4 p.m. if at all possible.

Lucky Ones Will Owe No Taxes

About 1.5 million low-income taxpayers will have no tax to pay next year because of the new minimum standard deduction provision enacted this year. Joseph P. Gordon, administrative officer of the Big Spring Internal Revenue office, said this provision will free single individuals of any tax liability until their income reaches $900. Under the old law, tax was due when income was $675.

Gordon said that for a married couple with no additional exemptions filing a joint return there will be no tax to pay until their income reaches $1,600. Previously these couples had to pay tax on income of $1,325.

The new minimum standard deduction amounts to $200 for a single person and for a married couple filing jointly plus $100 for each allowable exemption up to a ceiling of $1,000. For a married person filing a separate return, the deduction amounts to $100 plus $100 for each allowable exemption up to a ceiling of $500.

Wives of the men were injured. Mrs. Johnson was hospitalized at Beaumont. Mrs. Davis was treated for minor injuries and released.

Seek Motorized Young Bandit

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A crew-cut young man robbed a drive-in bank Tuesday of about $500 without leaving his car.

Teller Paul Bowen, 18, said the man handed him a note demanding small bills and warning, "There is a man behind me if you don't."

Bowen saw no gun and no man behind the bandit, but handed him a pile of bills.

Our United Way drive has come to an end. It has been a success — thanks to the pledges made by you and your neighbors.

In summing up what this effort means, remember that our United Campaign helps thousands and thousands of people in this area all year round, through a balanced package of health, recreation and family service. And, best of all, the United Way campaign helps children!

Some agencies bring love and care to homeless children; others give kids a place to play, a place to learn growing up. Some bring new hope to crippled and handicapped youngsters. Still others help guide them through those difficult teen-age years. And how about sick children? United Way agencies are constantly looking for more ways to ease their pain... better still, cure them.

That's your United Way at work. And that's why we thank you so much for helping!

Two Zone Changes Given Approval

The city commission approved two zone changes Tuesday night, after receiving recommendations for approval on both from the planning and zoning commission. The zoning group met Tuesday afternoon and passed its recommendations on to the city commission meeting Tuesday night.

The planning and zoning commission also disapproved one zone change. Approved by both groups were a change from F-2, one-family residence, to neighborhood service for three lots and part of a fourth at Austin Street and FM 700 and from one-family residence to retail for 323 acres on Birdwell Lane, north of Phillips Road.

The first change was requested by Sam Burns to allow construction of a restaurant on the site. Burns asked that the full tract be zoned for neighborhood service at this time, with a 150-foot-deep area fronting on FM 700 to be used for the restaurant, with the remainder for other business facilities. The building itself, Burns said, would be 66 feet in depth, with a paved parking area.

The other approved change was requested by Al Milch for expansion of present office and parking area at the site. The additional construction would be 69 feet by 208 feet, with office space for the Milch firm, with electrical and paint stores to be included.

The planning and zoning commission approved the latter request with no dissenting votes, while one member, Jim Bill Little, voted against the request from Burns. Four members voted for the request, John Ferguson, Brown Rogers, Wendal Parks and George Elliott. City commissioners approved both requests with no dissenting votes.

The zoning group disapproved a request from Marvin Wood for a change from two-family residence to commercial for nine lots in two blocks between East Fourth and East Sixth Streets, on the east side of Owens Street. Wood had requested the change to allow construction of an air conditioning shop. The zoning commission disapproved the request with observation that the change would extend a commercial area into presently residential zoning and would put the area near a school.

Over $1,500 In Goods To Be Sold

Merchandise with a retail value of more than $1,500 will be sold at the Kiwanis Club Radio Auction Thursday night. Bob Travis, general chairman for the auction, said today.

Through Wednesday morning, Travis reported, there had been 85 items donated to the auction and half a dozen or more were still to be added. The gross value of the articles offered is $1,514.

The auction starts at 7 p.m. Thursday on Radios KBST and KBVQ. It will originate in the dining room of the Settles Hotel. Radio listeners are invited to call in bids to the auction center on the phone—the number is AM 4-5584. There will be a battery of phones in operation and each bid will be taken down and relayed to the auctioneer on the microphone. The highest and best bid buys the article. A Kiwanis will deliver anything bought to the bidder at his home immediately and collect the amount bid for it.

The public is invited to inspect the merchandise to be sold Thursday afternoon in the Settles dining room. It was also stressed that anyone who wants to come to the dining room Thursday night and personally attend the auction is free to do so. Bids will be accepted from the floor.

The items to be sold run the gamut. The most expensive will be a bicycle, either girls' or boys' model, valued at $50. No item offered has a value of less than $6. Many run from $12 to $20. The highest and best bid buys any item, Travis said.

The auction will last about four hours, it is estimated. A full page advertisement in The Herald Thursday will list all of the items to be sold.

All profits go to the Kiwanis Club fund for aiding underprivileged children of the community.

Kiwanians will not meet Thursday at noon for their usual luncheon. Instead they will meet at the dining room at 6 p.m. for a dinner. At 7 p.m., the auction begins and the Kiwanians will be on the microphones, the telephones and delivery assignments.

City To Push Water Suit

The city commission Tuesday night authorized City Attorney John Burgess to exhaust all legal remedies in appealing the decision of the 53rd District Court in Austin concerning the city lawsuit against the Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools on water rates to the Big Spring State Hospital.

The Austin court ruled in favor of the state in the recent trial. Burgess said a judgment was entered Monday by the court in Austin.

Burgess said the appeal would take the case to the Texas Court of Civil Appeals in Austin. He said the city and the attorney general's office, representing the state in the case, would file appellate briefs, and then the case would go before the Court of Civil Appeals, probably in December.

Burgess said no indication had been given in the judgment concerning the basis for the decision in the case.

The city filed suit Sept. 27, 1963 to set aside the contract signed in 1937 with the state concerning water rates to the hospital, which provided water at 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. The city asked revision of the rates upward, claiming cost of the water was 35 cents per 1,000 gallons. The state had argued the contract was in perpetuity, since no expiration date had been included.

Closed Up After All

It turned out to be nearly a complete holiday for the county courthouse after all.

Anticipated trial of criminal cases in the Howard County court failed to materialize, and as a result, Judge Lee Porter, presiding, excused the jury panel until Thursday morning. This made it possible for the judge's office, that of Wayne Burns, county attorney, and of Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, to close their doors, as had all of the other county offices, in celebration of Veterans Day.

The only exceptions were the sheriff's office, where a skeleton crew of deputies were on duty, and the members of the county road and bridge department.

In the latter case, the reason the road and bridge workers are on the job was because they "swapped" out the one-day holiday Wednesday for Friday, Nov. 27—to give themselves a long Thanksgiving Day weekend.

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is reviewing U.S. military commitments, looking for possible savings to help finance other administration programs.

They pictured Johnson as feeling that without strict supervision the new budget could reach $103 billion to $105 billion. They said this would be the "normal projection" for year-to-year budget increases that reflect an expanding population and existing commitments.

It is regarded as most unlikely that Johnson will send Congress a budget that large. He is expected to try to keep it under $100 billion, although White House sources say he has yet to decide on a target figure.

Last year, Johnson talked of submitting a budget of $103

Dr. Bruce Sanders will talk on "Dog Anatomy and Terminology" Thursday at 8 p.m. when members of the Big Spring Kennel Club meet in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co. He will use charts and diagrams in his program.

The nominating committee will hold a brief session following the meeting to put a new slate of officers in nomination to the club, announced Jack Downy, chairman of that committee.

Aimed At Guiding Students Toward Responsible Place

By MRS. JANE SMITH
Government Teacher

Graduates of schools and universities will be expected to play a more important role in American political affairs. Education is not merely to give the student an economic advantage in society, but to help him assume his responsible place as a member of a complicated, productive and democratic government.

Following are excerpts from two themes written in a routine assignment by government students in Big Spring High School. Their subject led them into analyzing their obligations as citizens.

DEMOCRACY

By Kathy Seddon
The English language has many words with which we are familiar yet which have only a vague meaning. Among these words is democracy. An American defines democracy as "a government of the people, by the people, for the people." People in the newly emerging nations of Africa define democracy as a right to do as one pleases. We state that "Democracy is not a right, but a responsibility of self-assertion tempered with Christian ethics."

Democracy showed itself for brief periods among the ancient Greeks and Romans. The 18th century saw democracy become a force in the world as the United States gave it form. This emergence of self-rule did not come about accidentally.

Christianity demanded the recognition of the dignity of the individual. With this new belief in the worth of the individual, man was no longer satisfied to be subservient to another man who claimed to be endowed with the right to rule as he pleased. By accepting the idea that Christian philosophies led to the development of democracy, it is apparent that democracy and Christian ethics are logical companions.

There are basic essentials for the success of a democracy. The most important of these is respect for others. Christianity teaches love and respect; all men are equal in the sight of God. Democracy demands respect for all people: respect for the officials who are men of dignity and worth; respect for other nations, for voters, for Jews, for Negroes, and for all minority groups—because these people have worth and dignity in God's sight.

A second basic essential for the success of a democracy is general welfare. James Mill, an 18th century philosopher, said: "The democratic government would aim at the general interest honestly and with adequate wisdom." A democratic government exists for the good of those governed, not for those in power. Everything should be done in the light of what is best for the welfare of the people. This coincides with the Christian principle that one should always do for others. Christian principles make it possible for people to get along with others.

A third basic essential is responsibility. Assuming that all of this about the worth of the individual is true, then it is a person's responsibility to assert himself and make use of his abilities for the benefit of mankind. Not only must he live under a democracy, but he must be part of it. This means participating in the government as a good citizen. A good citizen should have a knowledge of the government, know the issues, study them carefully, and form an opinion which he can defend. He must be willing to serve his country.

Democracy is the most perfect system of government for us; yet, in practice it has many flaws and needs improvement. However, these flaws would cease to exist if everyone put into practice the idea that democracy is not a right, but a responsibility.

DEMOCRACY

By Cynthia Nolen
Many people treat our government as if it is a perpetual thing which cannot fail. Strange though it may seem, democracy is not self-sustaining—indeed it will soon die, if not constantly nourished, which results in effective measures to improve undesirable conditions. Let minds stand still, and the resulting stagnation does not progress, it regresses.

Fools shout their ideas to the wind. Extremists yell and scream. Their noise inflates small minorities into hurricanes of hot air. They are bluffing you into silence. Will you be bluffed? Only you can defeat them! You are the other fellow! Just having been born an American gives you tremendous rights; yet we mustn't forget that right implies responsibility. Dare you shoulder your share? This nation is one of the most powerful on earth.

The leaders we choose determine the course of the world's fate. If you and other Americans don't participate, you are conceding your freedom and power to radical elements.

I wouldn't trust them to guide me. Those groups think only of themselves. If they didn't, they could not condemn other minorities as they do. Minorities must be protected! Only by protecting them can we protect the majority. The majority is but a collection of minorities who have compromised, realizing that only in compromise can they accomplish something. If we do not protect these small groups, there will have been dissipated by hate and bigotry. Only you can prevent this hate from spreading. Do it! Otherwise the whole basis of democracy, its fair play, its equality for the underdog will disappear.

Logic, not emotion, must determine our decisions. If common sense does not prevail over the untamed elements so widespread in our society, then democracy is dying. Let's not allow that to happen. Let us work to bring the light of truth and understanding to all.

Water Volume Per Family Can Run High

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—The water required to air condition a large building can be enormous, simply by evaporation.

The average family uses about 14,600 gallons of water a month in the summer for all purposes. The Republic National Bank building in Dallas uses that much in less than an hour just to cool its occupants.

The building requires 130,000 gallons simply to fill its air conditioning system. But it begins to lose water as soon as it begins circulating through a gigantic cooling tower complex placed atop another building.

Some days this evaporation causes water consumption of 324 gallons a minute, according to the Marlay Co. of Kansas City, which built the cooling towers.

Total building consumption for all uses equaled 13 million gallons one recent summer month. By 1965, when the bank building expands, water consumptions will be at a rate of about 100 million gallons of water annually.

Shop Due By LBJ Ranch

AUSTIN (AP)—A curio and snack shop is planned for across the road from the front gate to President Johnson's ranch, 65 miles west of here.

The Austin American said Tuesday that three Travis County men, Don Davol, Abner Jones and C. N. Marsh, bought 275,000 square feet of land fronting on Ranch Road 1 across from the ranch entrance.

Marsh said Earl Sweeney, Gillespie County rancher, sold the land for $25,000.

Marsh said plans call for building a curio shop and possibly a snack bar for the heavy tourist trade expected along Ranch Road 1 next spring. He said a part of the land might be given to the state for a roadside park.

COLIN KELLY II

Son Of Hero Has New Son

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — The United States has a new Colin Kelly.

Lt. Colin P. Kelly III, son of the World War II hero, sent a telegram to his mother, Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow of Media, this week announcing the birth of a son, Colin Brent Kelly. The child, born Sunday in Munich where his father is stationed with the Army, weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces.

He is the first child for Kelly and his wife, the former Mary Margaret Cooper of Denton, Md.

Lt. Kelly's father, Capt. Colin P. Kelly II, went down Dec. 10, 1941, three days after Pearl Harbor, with his bomber after ordering his six crewmen to bail out of the plane damaged during an attack on a Japanese warship.

Farm Bureau Nod Sought On Cotton Plan

HOUSTON (AP)—A major effort was expected today to get the Texas Farm Bureau to approve extension of the government's cotton program.

Some Southern Farm Bureaus are reported in favor of a plan which would approve the present program on a temporary basis.

This plan includes a compensatory payment of 6.5 cents per pound on every pound of cotton sold, either for foreign or domestic use.

The American Farm Bureau Federation opposes compensatory payments on any crops and has held that position over the years.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the federation, said Tuesday he saw little chance the American Farm Bureau would change its position on the present cotton program. It comes up for review in Washington next year.

The entire concept was voted down at last year's state meeting in Fort Worth, and a tough floor fight was expected today.

Bureau delegates approved a resolution Tuesday calling for the abolition of the ad valorem tax.

Other adopted resolutions called for additional research on agricultural chemicals and for the establishment of a commission to prevent unfair trade practices in milk.

$1701

What's the catch?

There isn't any. Plunk $1701 into Frank Winterholter's hand and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)

Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it. Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

Traffic Signal Is Going Up

A traffic signal light has been placed in operation at the intersection of Fifth and Scurry streets.

The light was put into place Tuesday after being constructed from spare parts by city electrical workers. The signal was approved by the city commission Oct. 13, after a recommendation from the traffic commission. A light had been in operation at the corner previously but had been removed.

City electrical workers are also moving into the final stages of installation of new wiring at the city sewage treatment plant. City electrician Roy Rogan said the majority of the work has been completed at the plant in the past several weeks. The system is being re-wired to provide material with greater insulation strength for submerged operations.

A Devotional For The Day

To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet in the way of peace. (Luke 1:79)
 PRAYER: O God, we pray that the Prince of peace may live within our lives. Help us to see the challenge to give our best to the building of His peace in our time. For His sake. Amen.
 (From the "Upper Room")

The Death Penalty

Prospective jurors who are willing to assess the death penalty may be "biased" against the defendant, the Capital Punishment Quarterly reports on the basis of a study now under way. The quarterly is the official publication of the Texas Society to Abolish Capital Punishment.

Prof. Walter Oberer of Cornell University, a lawyer, and Prof. Cody Wilson, a social psychologist at the University of Texas, are collaborating in a study of juror attitudes. Preliminary results, based on responses of over 200 junior and senior students at the University of Texas, suggest that individuals who favor the death penalty are "biased in the direction of returning a verdict of guilty, and the defendant may be deprived of a fair trial." This admitted, inconclusive finding will be tested by Oberer and Wilson by expanding the sample to include a more representative cross-section of the population.

The question of bias in this context was urged unsuccessfully by attorneys for Jack Ruby during selection of the jury which found him guilty of murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy. Melvin Belli, chief defense counsel, argued that Ruby could not get a fair trial from a jury which had agreed in advance to give the death penalty if the evidence was deemed sufficient to convict. Judge Joe Brown rejected this argument which has no legal standing in Texas courts.

The argument that jurors qualified for the death penalty are biased probably will not get very far. But it will do its part in illuminating a question of growing concern to Texans as well as other Americans.

This question is whether the death penalty should be abolished. This will come increasingly under scrutiny because it has not been shown indisputably that it is effective deterrent to crimes of violence, nor has the philosophy of its justification been clearly established.

Veterans Day

This is Veterans Day. Once we knew it as Armistice Day, and then there was much spontaneity in the brightness of hope for enduring peace. But another great war has come since Armistice Day ended World War I, and several smaller ones have flared. Thus, the day has been set aside not to mark the end of an universal war but to honor all those who have served in our Armed Forces.

Time may change many things. It may dull hope, it may harden us and make us cynical; it may even make us forget.

But none of this alters the fact that each of us is in debt to those who have served their country as members of the military establishment. Not all have been called upon to face hostile fire, nor indeed to make the greatest sacrifice, but everyone who served stood ready to do that if needed. This is no small thing and we should never cease to remember it.

David Lawrence

A Continuing Opposition

WASHINGTON—Was the American electorate adequately informed during the recent campaign? Could it learn in just two and a half months both sides of the fundamental issues? These questions are being widely talked about by many of the leaders of the defeated party.

The subject is more important and immediate than the argument about who shall be chairman of the national committee of a party or who shall be groomed as a candidate for the presidency in the next election. The discussion centers today on plans to put into effect an organized opposition which month after month in the next four years will appraise the main issues and tell the American people about them.

TO MAINTAIN an opposition party does not mean to hamper or obstruct, but to enable the people to get both sides of controversial questions so that the electorate is informed on public issues.

The opposition labor party in Great Britain, which came into power recently, had long been preparing for a possible takeover of the government. Even what is called a "shadow cabinet" had been selected, and the individuals had been familiarizing themselves with the work of the executive departments in their respective fields. This corresponds to what is often called a "task force" in this country, but in Britain it consists of persons familiar with particular fields of government who fathom the controversies of the day and make public statements and speeches presenting the opposition viewpoint. The defeated Conservative party in England—now in an opposition status—has already selected and announced its "shadow cabinet," and is hard at work preparing to give the people "the other side."

WHILE THE British system could not be copied in the United States in all its details because in England members of the cabinet are usually part of the parliamentary majority, there are nevertheless certain practical adaptations which are now being discussed here. It would mean, for instance, the designation of a national commission consisting not necessarily of potential candidates for the presidency but comprised of prominent men of cabinet caliber, with experience in public affairs, who are willing to devote themselves continuously to the project.

Such a group would work with the ranking Republicans in the committees of both houses of Congress and gather information constantly on all the major questions which confront the federal government. This means a continuing study of the impact of government policy on the financial, economic and social life of the country.

THE PLAN would not alter in any way the status of Republican organizations on the national, state and local levels. But it would place a bigger responsibility on the Republican members of Congress.

It has been suggested that Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana—the Republican leaders in the Senate and the House, respectively—should act together now with Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, to bring about a conference of former Cabinet members and other prominent individuals throughout the nation who are familiar with national and international problems as well as with the operations of the executive departments.

Such a conference would discuss plans for the organization of a permanent commission to function as a mouthpiece of the opposition.

Billy Graham

I made a resolution to be honest in all things but I find it a great struggle and fail many times. How can I overcome this weakness?

P.F.

You are engaged in a conflict between your higher and your lower nature. By making a resolution, you acknowledged the wrong of dishonesty and the virtue of complete honesty.

Your higher nature responds to the challenge to a righteous life, but your lower nature refuses to be raised to such a standard. Until you admitted that dishonesty was wrong, your lower nature was dormant, but once aroused, it will not yield to the call of your higher nature which is controlled by your conscience. In spite of yourself, you will commit dishonest acts, and the more you try, the more you will be harassed by failure.

The apostle Paul discovered the solution to this age-old problem in his own life. He knew the conflict and he also had come to know the solution. He wrote, "But if I would not, that I do, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me." Christ is the answer to the sin problem and not our high resolves. (Romans 7:20).

The Bible says, "Sin shall no longer dominate or control you." This is the new supernatural power that Christ gives when He comes into your life. What good resolves could not do—Christ has done!

Hot Pond

ATIKOKAN, Ont. (AP)—A hot pond will enable a new $6,000,000 sawmill here to operate at full capacity both winter and summer. The pond, which washes foreign matter from logs, is heated in winter with off-peak hydro power to loosen bark and thaw logs.

Memories Of Precious Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Memories, as the poet said, can bless as well as burn.

Of blessed memory are the hours that John F. Kennedy spent with his small children.

They were precious times that had to be stolen from busy days.

It was just a year ago today that President Kennedy took John John to Arlington National Cemetery for a wreath-laying ceremony honoring the nation's veterans.

Little John, not quite 3, didn't understand what was going on, and of course, he wriggled.

While his father sat on the stage, John Jr., in blue shorts and white sweater, sat with a Secret Service agent on a marble bench below.

Once John broke away and headed for the stage. Recaptured, he was set down in a walkway where the agent and a White House photographer hemmed him in, as much as little boys are ever hemmed in.

After the ceremony, John ran between two of Kennedy's military aides and grabbed his father's hand. One of the aides took the boy's other hand.

When the three walked up to a set of stairs, John leaped into the air, swinging his legs as he dangled from the grown-ups' hands. Then, as they drove out of the cemetery, John waved energetic goodbys.

It was a father-and-son show that warmed the heart as it charmed the eye.

President Kennedy earlier had done his part in the ceremonial sense.

Arf Excuse

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A University of Colorado student complained to the police his college education is going to the dogs. Dogs running loose on the campus barked so loudly, he said, it upset his concentration and caused him to fail two examinations.

"Of course, every hospital makes mistakes, but I still can't see how our nurse informed you that you were the father of quadruplets when all your wife had was a 6-pound boy. There will be no medical charges, naturally, for treating the concussion you received when the

He had proclaimed Veterans Day as a day to honor those who had served their country in time of war, and to renew American determination to achieve world peace "with patience, perseverance and courage."

Elusive Longed-For Letters

NEW YORK (AP) — Letters people would like to get but rarely do.

The diagnosis of our clinic is that you are suffering from generalized fatigue brought on by overwork. Therefore we are recommending to your employer that you be given a six-month leave of absence with pay so you can recuperate. It is imperative that you have no cares or responsibilities. We suggest a warm climate, such as Tahiti, and recommend that you leave your wife at home."

"At our last division reunion your old company commander and I decided you never did get proper credit for repulsing that enemy charge on our food depot near the Rhine early in 1945. It was one of the most heroic individual actions in our outfit. Anybody who singlehandedly saved 21 tons of our precious peanut butter from being captured certainly deserves some kind of reward, so — belatedly — we are turning you in for a Silver Star."

"Remember back in 1936 when I bet you $50 even that Alf Landon would carry at least 20 states? Well, my great aunt passed away recently and left me a little money, so please find enclosed my check for $50. If you feel like putting a little dough down on the 1968 race, I'll bet you 2-1 that the Republicans will..."

Too Much Weight In Pregnancy Is A Hazard

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: I am pregnant and have an awful weight problem. My ankles swell. By nighttime I can feel the swelling even behind my knees.

In trying to keep my weight down, what would be the proper caloric intake?—MRS. T. W.

Too much weight in pregnancy is a hazard, both from the standpoint of safety and of comfort.

However, the swollen ankles and legs could be due to something else — although I could speak more intelligently about this if I had some idea of what your weight is, how much you have gained, and how far along you are in your pregnancy.

The swelling could be due to inadequate veins in the legs (varicose veins, for example). This could be complicated by pressure on the veins due to the pregnancy (it is quite possible for such pressure in the abdomen to restrict circulation at that point).

Just to be safe, however, consult your doctor regularly to guard against the possibility that the swelling is due to faulty functioning of the kidneys. If you have headaches, dizziness or disturbances of vision, you certainly must see your doctor without delay.

increase of 20 pounds for the entire pregnancy is a reasonable amount. Naturally this means that the increase should be gradual, with little gain at first, so you won't be too heavy by the end of the pregnancy.

Without knowing your height, and how active you are, I can't be too precise about the caloric intake, but for most women 1,000 to 1,500 calories a day will be adequate.

The important point is to be sure that your diet includes the things you need, with emphasis on protein (lean meat, fowl, fish, eggs, cheese), calcium (milk and cottage cheese), and vitamins. Fruit, vegetables, fruit juices and salads will supply vitamins not included in the other foods just mentioned. You may have to restrict salt. Ask your doctor about that. He also can advise whether you should have extra calcium or vitamins.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does gall bladder trouble cause chest pains?—M. H.

Usually not, but it can cause pain under the right shoulder blade and shoulder, and sometimes in the pit of the stomach, which might be interpreted as

"chest pain" at times.

Dear Dr. Molner: Lately my voice has been getting very raspy and I frequently have a tightness in my throat. Although my throat is not sore, it feels strained. I am 32 and do not smoke. Can this be corrected through exercise or is it advisable to see my doctor?—MRS. H. E. T.

Exercise can't correct hoarseness. You certainly must go to your doctor, because hoarseness, while not necessarily a dangerous symptom, MAY be such. As simple a thing as excessive tension may be involved; there may be inflammation; or there may be a tumor, often benign, sometimes not.

Shingles can be a painful disease. To receive a copy of my booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Takes A Strong Man To Take It

Next autumn, I think I shall pay closer attention to the date the interscholastic league sets for start of football training. I'm going to have to go into training then myself or give up football.

I'm one of those fans who works hard at his football. With the passing of the years, I have managed to maintain an outward calm (except in the case of an obviously rotten call), but inwardly I suffer worse than the gladiators on the field.

AT OUR HOUSE, principally because I get home late, we never seem to get off to the game quite when we had planned, consequently it is a battle down to the wire to get to the stadium before the kickoff. We have to park the car on the back side of the lot and sprint to the gate, snatch a program and then crane our necks to see over the clogged mass of people in the narrow entrances in an effort to learn if game has started. Why, I demand, can't all these preliminaries be gotten out of the way in order to slow our belated entrance?

FINALLY we make it, wading over the feet of our long-suffering friends on row No. 10 and plopping down the cushions, and collapse into our seats just in time to stand again for a couple of school songs. If it is a particularly crucial game, we feel in need of a visit to the bathroom just as the kick-off comes up.

PLAYERS OFTEN say that once the ball is in the air and the first play has been executed, they lose their tensions. Not so with ye olde grad. I push and weave backwards in my seat when we should be getting to the opposing passer, and I mentally block when our lads are throwing the ball.

When we need that extra foot for a first down, I shove in the direction the ball is going, and conversely, when we are trying to stop a crucial drive by the opposition, I get my shoulder into the member of the family which is in that direction.

LATELY, I have sought to restrain these activities and have discovered that I can obtain some relief by hooking my toes under the seat in front. The only difficulty here is that I come to the end of the game wondering what in the world happened to my arches and how come it's so hard to get down the steps.

Another outlet is to take along a cigar for chewing and puffing when the going gets rough. Mama has some undiplomatic suggestions about this and has gone to the point of trying to get upwind. If we've got a critical drive going, I puff almost with every stride or every pass. If the defense is leading badly, I grind on the cigar butt with my molars. If things are going well, I handle the cigar tenderly and contemplate how to affectionately tap the ashes into a crack.

WHEN WE score or make a sparkling play afield, especially when it looms as a turning point in our favor, I have been known to jump up in my seat and abuse my vocal chords. In those deliciously happy moments, I even embrace perfect strangers, clapping them on the back and pounding on them in general. By the time the whistle comes, I am darn near exhausted. So I'm going to have to get in better condition in order to take it. —JOE PICKLE

What China Might Say To Russia

WASHINGTON — Recent events have added compelling urgency to the chronic crisis in Viet Nam.

Item: Communist China explodes a nuclear device.

Item: Premier Chou En-lai visits Soviet Russia on a mission of cloudy purpose.

It may be that neither episode is related to the other, and that in any event neither has any bearing on the impending convulsion in Viet Nam.

BUT IT IS very easy to postulate a great deal more than coincidence. Indeed, it is possible to see an ominous pattern developing, beginning with the dust-up in Tonkin Gulf in September.

What really precipitated the clash in Tonkin Gulf is not known, but when warships capable of seeing for hundreds of miles with their electronic eyes get that close to shore it suggests the possibility they are there to gather information on landing beaches. At all odds, the sharp U.S. reaction in bombing Hanof's PT boat bases served clear warning on North Viet Nam and Communist China that the Seventh Fleet still regarded Tonkin Gulf as a private lake in which it would tolerate no interference.

NEXT WE SEE Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam making daring and contemptuous raids, one destroying a large part of U.S. long-range airpower in Viet Nam, and the other sending a company of infiltrators within rifle shot of the American Embassy in Saigon.

Finally, Chou arrives in Moscow hot on the heels of China's successful bid for admission to the nuclear club. Our own diplomats believe, or profects to believe, he is there to heal the rift between the two worlds of communism. But the Chinese are skillful and patient negotiators, and none knows better than Chou that by appearing in the role of petitioner he has lost some of his bargaining power. China has lived with the schism for more than four years, and presumably could live with it for another four. Unless...

UNLESS CHOU was there to tell Moscow that China (a) had reason to believe U.S. aggression was about to be loosened against her ally, North Viet Nam, and (b) in such an event she would feel compelled to go to the aid of her beleaguered satellite, even though this could result in a Korean-style conflict, and (c) China thus wanted Soviet Russia's assurances of support, or at least assurances that she would indulge in no actively hostile acts, such as border-straightening in Sinking Province.

CHOU WOULD undoubtedly go further notably in pointing out that the United States' will to resist Soviet adventures in Berlin, the Middle East or in Africa would surely be diminished if a major Asian conflict broke out. Finally, he might well argue that renewed tensions are just what is needed to permit the Kremlin's new masters to reimpose the rigid controls that Khrushchev had so foolishly suffered to lapse.

Like many a theory built on scant evidence, this one may be fatally flawed in some of its major elements. But the fretful thing is that it might be very near the mark.

The Johnson Era

WASHINGTON — In the normal course of events, 17.8 million Americans will live the rest of their lives and die during the 1964-1972 presidency of Lyndon Johnson. Another 29.9 million will reach their majorities, and 45.4 million babies will be born.

These demographic statistics say something that is momentous about an election which is already becoming stale as a conversation piece. Mr. Johnson's political expectancy of two elected terms will mean that he held sway longer than any man except Franklin Roosevelt.

WE ARE IN an age when, as a scientist has remarked, "The world alters as we walk in it." We expect to have men on the moon before Mr. Johnson's tenure expires. We plan to have ample fresh water from the oceans, and such an increase in automation that the people's leisure will pose the problem of a "culture gap."

If the President, as expected, goes among independents and Republicans to make appointments for his courts and commissions, we will have an Era of Good Feeling, but also a political vacuum which must be filled by the laborious birth of a new political party.

WE WILL BE a different country before the Johnson era ends. Already there is a likely-to-pass immigration bill that will alter our predominantly Anglo-Saxon balance. There is a pending court case that will probably outlaw all state bans on racially-mixed marriages. There are population projections which foretell a growing patriarchy in the USA — six million more females than males by the time Lyndon Johnson would normally step out of office.

THE PRESIDENT is older than Premier Kossygin of the Soviet Union and Premier Castro of Cuba, but he is younger than the present leaders of Red China, Nationalist China, Yugoslavia and India. There will be struggles for succession both abroad and at home. The Vice President-elect, Hubert Humphrey, is representative of a think-bloc which favors share-the-wealth and peace-through-concessions. But Senator-elect Bob Kennedy is head of a power bloc with its base in the state of New York and Massachusetts. The chances are that Mr. Johnson will look for counsel and companionship, from some old friend like Governor John Connally of Texas, as he did during the election, rather than to groups which form around Kennedy and Humphrey. The absence of a Republican opposition will almost certainly mean the breeding of opposition cliques within the Democratic family.

WITH A prosperity that is already some 40 months old, it is economically inconceivable that the cycle will not dip into a recession. But the administration has already used up such recession breakers as tax cuts, anti-pow-erty war and equal opportunity legislation. During his expected regime the President must find many new tricks in the bottom of the bag that he very nearly emptied in his first twelve months. The two-fronted action where we face armed communism, in the Caribbean and in Viet Nam, must now pass from political debate to military resolution.

Collects Plates

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — What started as a repair project has developed into an interesting hobby for H. C. Taylor. It began when he decided to use old automobile license plates as covering for a children's playhouse. Taylor got so interested in the plates that he decided to save them and now has more than 3,000 old tags—one from every state and several from foreign countries.

MAKES PESTS HARD TO FIND
Mack Moore & Son have big supply of insecticide equipment

Firm Using Most Modern Equipment Fighting Pests

If you have been using insecticides around your home or business to rid the premises of undesirable or damaging pests and find now that they don't do the job, Mack Moore & Son can do you a lot of good.

Mack and Max Moore keep abreast of the constant changes and know just what to use to rid buildings of ants, roaches, termites, moths and other insects. They have the equipment to get the chemicals into the most difficult places. A telephone call to AM 4-5190, or AM 3-6514 will get you information about, or service on, all kinds of pest control.

Even skunk odors can be eliminated with chemicals. Other offensive odors, such as those caused by smoke, may be "killed out" of the air or walls inside the premises. Termites can do as much damage to concrete as they do to wood. Insects and pests can also develop immunity to pesticides and chemicals, requiring new kinds to be used for extermination.

Mack and Max Moore have pressurized portable equipment to enable them to get under concrete slabs, air hammer to drill into concrete foundations and slabs where pressure forces chemicals into the entire area to exterminate termites. So, if there is an offensive odor around the place, caused by smoke, skunks, or anything else, the firm has the chemicals to rid the air and premises of the odor.

Three pressure tanks, on trailers, carrying 50, 100 and 200 gallons of chemicals, are ready to roll, along with two trucks carrying the necessary tools.

Mack Moore & Son own and operate the business and keep up with all new methods and chemicals. They are members of the Texas Pest Control Association, and are ready to go anywhere in the Big Spring area. The men do not leave your house in a "mess" when they go after the pests. They believe in leaving things clean and "just as they were" when the job is done. They keep clean and then clean up after the job to keep their standards high.

If you suspect pests around the premises, give them a call.

Pizza House Has Catering Service

The Ranch Inn Pizza House, 4600 US 80 west, is the favorite eating place for gourmets of Italian foods. It is also a favorite for many who like good old American foods, like fine steaks and the dishes that go with them. Patrons know they can be choosy about what they order, and that they will get what they order.

LaWanda Yager, owner, says the Pizza House is open from 6 a.m. to midnight, and serves buffet lunches from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on weekdays.

Located across US 80 from the Webb AFB runway, a large window gives patrons a good view of jet aircraft taking off and landing, without the "benefit" of too much noise.

Italian dishes include pizzas, in: baked lasagna, veal parmigiana, veal scaloppine, calabrese, chicken cacciatore, chicken tetrazzini, Italian style pork chops, deluxe spaghetti.

There is the special gourmet dinner for four. This includes appetizers (with a choice), anti-pasto salad, bread-sticks, garlic toast, combination pizza, lasagna, veal scaloppine, ravioli, dish of spaghetti, chicken tetrazzini, coffee or tea, and dessert. The dinner features some of each of these and can be divided, according to taste, for a reasonable price.

"We also have a catering service for parties, club meetings, and groups," the owner said. "All you have to do is call us at AM 4-8311 or AM 4-9059, and tell us what you want and when and where you want it."

"In addition we prepare lunches for working people or for individuals to take home. Each is wrapped in foil to maintain the warmth and juices of the food. Just telephone your orders and they will be ready when you come by," she said.

Other food served at Ranch Inn Pizza House includes "Bambino Specials" (children's plate); American style sandwiches; all kinds of salads and appetizers; sea foods, and choice steaks. Beverages of all kinds are available.

Smith Starter For Picadors

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech's Picadors seek their second victory of the season when they tackle Texas A&M's freshman footballers at Midland at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Coach Bert Huffman concedes that comparative scores favor his Picadors, but doesn't feel that they mean a lot.

"These freshman games depend to a large extent as to who centers the ball over whose head on fourth down," Huffman contends. "Any time you get 22

Ira Winner Over Forsan

IRA — Ira gained revenge for an earlier girls' basketball defeat suffered at the hands of Forsan by winning a 55-41 decision here Tuesday night.

The defeat left the Buffalo Queens with a 4-1 won-lost record. Inability to hit from the free throw line cost the Queens. The Forsan team made good on only seven of 25 free throw opportunities.

Jody Dodd scored 21 points for Forsan while Pat Jones led Ira with 28.

Susan Elrod and Patsy Gooch grabbed off ten rebounds each in the backcourts for Forsan.

In the B game, Forsan won a 45-43 thriller as Claudia Davis counted 23 points and Ann Harrell ten for the winners. Deryl Dunagan and Wanda Albertson were outstanding guards for the Queens.

A game:
FORSAN (41)—Dodd 10-1-21; Simpson 13-5; Lawson 4-8; Cardron 6-2-2; Wain 1-1-1; Totals 117-74.

Glenn Ressler Winner Of AP Line Award

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—A football writer once compared him to a panzer division clearing the way for his fellow troops.

Opposing coaches sit in awe when they see him play.

And Rip Engle says he's the greatest college lineman in America.

That's the story of Penn State's Glenn Ressler, selected as the Associated Press Line-man-of-the-Week for his great performance in the Lions' stunning 27-0 upset over Ohio State last Saturday.

"Some of the things Ressler does, you have to see to believe," said Engle, in his 15th year of coaching at Penn State. "He's great on offense and he's great on defense."

Nicknamed Zeke by his teammates, the 6-foot-2, 230-pound middle guard is the quiet man of the Nittany Lions — one who would rather play than talk.

"This is a tremendous honor," he said when informed of his selection as Lineman-of-the-Week. "Nothing like this has happened to me before, but don't forget, I had plenty of help out there."

Ressler, a senior majoring in agricultural education, has been the sparkplug in Penn State's comeback after a dismal start of three straight losses. Faced with their first losing season since 1938, the Lions battled back to win four of their next five. Ressler's play made the difference.

Against Ohio State, he caused one fumble, recovered another, and spent about as much time in the Buckeye backfield as the Buckeyes themselves.

Piersall Gets Prize Award

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — A jubilant Jimmy Piersall called it "my biggest thrill in baseball" upon learning that he'd been chosen the American League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1964.

"This has to be a turning point in my career," said the 34-year-old outfielder.

He was picked in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers. Results of the voting by 77 writers were announced Tuesday.

Piersall was named on 20 ballots, one more than veteran first baseman Bill Skowron.

"I always knew I was a big-league player," Piersall said in an interview. "I think I had the worst feeling of my life when the Mets released me last year. That's about as low as you can stoop — to be released by the Mets."

The best break I got was when Bill Rigney and Fred Haney (manager and general manager of the Los Angeles Angels) gave me the opportunity to prove that I could still play in the big leagues."

Piersall, with 14 years in the majors, batted .314 in 87 games for the Los Angeles club this year. He was unconditionally released by the Angels on Sept. 17, 1963, and re-signed by them after a spring training trial.

Abilene Is Typical Eagle Grid Eleven

Scout Roy Baird Tuesday night described Abilene High next football foe of the Big Spring Steers, as a team "quick and fast—quicker than Permian but not as big."

Baird said this was a typical Eagle club, boasting fine backs and a mobile line.

"They play defense a lot like Midland High, running a line-backer in and out of the primary," Baird said, in a speech made before members of the Quarterback Club at the high school cafeteria.

The Big Spring scout spotlighted Jacky Yarbrough and Gary Biggs as the two most talented backs on the Abilene team. Yarbrough weighs 185 pounds while Biggs tips the scales at 150 pounds and, in the words of Baird, makes good use of that weight.

The Abilene team excels at the art of returning punts and kickoffs, as always, Baird stated, and on such situations will crisscross their backs to try and confuse the opposition. The Eagles were described as a team having good spirit. Baird also reminded his listeners that the Eagles beat Permian, 18-6, several weeks before Big Spring chugged by the same team, 7-6.

"They're the type of team we have the most trouble beating," Baird remarked.

The Eagles have been averaging about 12 passes a game. Against Lee last week, however, they took to the air 18 times and gave the Rebels a lot of trouble, even though injuries robbed them of much of their offensive punch.

Forrest Lane, a reserve, is the best passer on the Abilene team, according to the Big Spring scout, Dennis Holt ordinarily starts at quarterback for the Eagles but will shift to tailback in event Lane enters the game.

Head coach Don Robbins lauded Permian, Big Spring's opponent last week, remarking that "the Panthers came to play."

Robbins also expressed concern over the illness which continues to plague the club. Three ends — Terry Fields, Harold Newton and Ruben Billalba — missed Tuesday's workout due to the flu.

"When we get sick, we get sick all in one spot," the head coach quipped.

"We're sure Abilene will try to use its speed against us by spreading 'em out and running the ball," Robbins remarked.

"When we have to catch 'em, we have a hard time."

Robbins also said "the pressure is on us now (because of the league) and will remain on us."

After he was introduced by Robbins, offensive coach Herman Smith said he was "proud to be so identified in view of the fact that the only way we scored against Permian was with our defense." (Big Spring got its lone touchdown against Permian with a punt runback.)

"Smith said he personally wanted to win the Abilene game above all others this year, obviously referring to the humiliation the Steers suffered at the hands of the Eagles last year.

R. C. Moore, another coaching aide, said he was immensely proud of the Big Spring players for "their championship attitude and the way they came through in the clutch against Permian."

Action films of the Big Spring-Permian game were screened. Coaching aide Cliff Patton offered the narration in place of Robbins, who is still favoring throat trouble.

QBC members were urged to attend Thursday night's bonfire and the Friday morning pep rally, which will be held in connection with Homecoming festivities.

Junior high coaches Dan Lewis of Rummels and Jack Tavrin of Gullad spoke briefly on their annual battle, which takes place Saturday evening in the new stadium.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Anything Saint Nicholas might do for them next month will be anti-climactic for Coahoma football fans.

Christmas came early for the Bulldog followers last Friday night when Spike Dykes' boys blew down the Aspermont Hornets and thereby won the right to appear in the Class A playoffs.

The last time the Bulldogs performed in the playoffs, they couldn't go beyond Regional because they were a Class B school. This year they can compete with the best around the state in their division, which happens to be Class A, and they're entirely capable of going all the way.

Coahoma probably will meet few tougher teams than Aspermont. The Hornets, coached by gracious Joe Youngblood, mounted more firepower than area observers thought they would.

James Ray, the Hornets' 242-pound fullback, is only a junior. He'll be back to terrorize 6-A opponents next year.

The Bulldogs are being ignored in the statewide polls and that's all right with the coaching staff. They reason the less said about the team by people removed from the scene the better. It seems they'll probably be scouted less until the playoff tests come around.

One boy no one can ignore once they see him play is Eddie McHugh, the multi-talented halfback for the Bulldogs. He's a sensational runner, a fine pass receiver, does the punting. On defense, he's busier than a one-legged man at a kicking convention.

If he's not of all-state stripe, then no one is.

An area football fan who visited here recently was moved to remark:

"If we had Don Robbins (of Big Spring) as our coach, we'd be playing well into December. Now we're going to wind up our season with everyone else."

Robbins was the Coach of the Year in 2-AAAA last year and has outdone himself (along with his able assistants) this fall. He yells himself hoarse every Friday night and has to paint his throat but he figures it's worth the price he's paying.

Forsan school officials are awaiting an okeh from the Texas Interscholastic League and the executive committee of District 8-B for admission in that 11-man football league next fall.

The south Howard County school district is right on the borderline between eight-man and 11-man ball in average daily attendance and everyone there from Supt. of Schools Roy Stockstill on down would like to make the jump as soon as possible.

The Buffaloes have taken their lumps in four of the five 11-man games they've played this fall but Coach Oscar Becker has had to go largely with freshmen and sophomores and figures the experience the team got was worth it.

Too, a fairly large ninth grade class will be moving into high school at Forsan next fall. There seems to be quite a lot of athletic talent at Forsan in the lower grades.

Becker says it's especially hard to sell any senior college on a football player whose experience has been limited to eight-man ball. A rare exception to the rule was Jack Pardee of Texas A&M and later with the Los Angeles Rams, who played six-man ball at Christoval.

Forsan now competes in District 5, which has as other members Garden City, Sterling City and Imperial. Grandfalls may have to re-enter that league soon, by the way.

If the Buffs enter 8-B, they would have as conference foes such teams as Bronte, Robert Lee, Jayton, Hermleigh, Lorraine and Trent.

Robert Goodlett, the former Big Spring end, may give football a whirl at Tarleton State College in Stephenville next fall.

Right now, he's on the rifle precision drill team at his school and the demands on his time and physical condition are quite exacting.

Champion In 5-A Is Due To Be Decided Saturday

SEAGRAVES — The District 5-A Executive Committee has scheduled a rules interpretation meeting here at 10 a.m. Saturday, which will probably decide the district champion and representative.

Superintendent Charlie White of O'Donnell, committee chairman, reports that Article 7 of the minutes from Sept. 3, 1964, has caused the meeting to be called.

This article states that tie games are to be determined by the Interscholastic League Bulletin.

White said the Interscholastic League has reported that it does not make decisions in district matters, only in inter-district play. He also added that winners of the games in playoffs are determined on penetrations.

Wink's record is 3-0-1, while Seagraves stands 3-1-0 and Plains, 2-1-1.

Plains contends that the tie should be counted a win in its favor because Plains had more penetrations.

Wink officials believe that the tie is one-half win and one-half loss, and only if both teams had the same record should penetrations be counted.

If Plains is correct in its interpretations, and Plains, Wink and Seagraves all win their final football games Friday night, the district could end in a three-way tie.

Then the district executive committee would have to decide the district representative by casting lot.

The winner meets Coahoma, District 6-A representing, at a site yet to be determined.

Kurowski Fired By Met Club

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Mets have fired George (Whitey) Kurowski as manager of the club's top baseball farm team, the Buffalo Bisons of the International League.

Kurowski guided the Bisons to third place last season.

The Bisons front-office was informed of the discharge Tuesday from New York.

Set To Scoot Along

Wake Forest's Brian Piccolo, who today was named Back of the Week by the Associated Press, grins broadly as he poses on a motorbike. The 198-pound senior fullback from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., played a key role in Wake Forest's upset of Duke last Saturday. (AP WIREPHOTO) but there's also the stage.

"I really like the theater," he said. "I'm a speech major, and if the right opportunity for a theater career came along I'd probably take it. I love crowds."

When he's not battering an opposing team's line, Piccolo intently pursues his other love. This past summer he played Turk (an athlete, incidentally) in "Come Back, Little Sheba."

Jayhawk Queens Edge Coahoma

COAHOMA—HCJC's Jayhawk Queens nosed out Coahoma High School's girls, 51-49, in a basketball exhibition here Tuesday night. Coahoma led at half time, 23-21.

Regina Williams had 16 points and Linda Pherrigo 12 for Grady Tindol's Coahoma team. Patty Jones tossed in 27 for HCJC. Terry Edens and Linda Richters stood out in the backcourts for Coahoma, which returns to competition Tuesday at home against Garden City.

Sites For Athletic Fields Determined

A combination stadium for high school practice sessions and junior high games, complete with a track oval, will be placed on the east side of the high school campus adjoining State Street, the Big Spring school board announced Tuesday night.

Other designs firmed up include the construction of a baseball field, to be located in an area just to the northeast of Goliad and Eighth streets. Plans for other physical education sites, practice fields, tennis courts and parking area will be worked out later in accordance with the school's Master Plan expansion program.

The board approved locations of the two main fields so the architect could draw up preliminary plans for approval by the board and the city commission, for joint use of school and city property. Consideration was given to possible future rerouting of Benton Street for a north-south thoroughfare.

Relocating the stadium to the east side of the present campus would leave space for five practice fields in the two blocks now covered by the old stadium, and provide better parking facilities on school property.

The elevator subject was brought up because of the increasing number of physically handicapped students in wheel chairs, some on crutches, some wear braces, and some have respiratory ailments preventing them from using stairways.

The school's architect will have some more detailed plans for submission to the board within two or three weeks, at which time a possible bid-opening date for construction will be set.

ROCKET STAR SNAGS PASS No. 20 is Leonard Evans

Irish Favored Over Spartans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This is Veterans' Day, a day college football coaches enjoy because there is nothing that disturbs them more than relying on sophomores in a crucial gridiron battle.

From the number of upsets that prevailed last weekend there must have been numerous sophomores in action. How else can you explain such losses as Ohio State and Georgia Tech?

Those two results were among the 15 wrong guesses made a week ago, dropping the seasonal percentage to .699.

Relying strictly on the veterans, here are this week's selections:

Notre Dame over Michigan State: This is the year that Notre Dame breaks the jinx that Duffy Daugherty teams have held over the Irish the past eight years. The Huarte-to-Snow passing combination proves too much for the Big Ten team.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Alabama already has clinched the Southeastern Conference championship and is a virtual shoe-in for the Sugar Bowl bid. Ohio State over Northwestern: The Big Ten Wildcats will have to pay the penalty for what Penn State did to Ohio State last Saturday. The Buckeye attack, held to five first downs in the humiliating defeat, has been overhauled.

Arkansas over Southern Methodist: The Razorbacks need a victory here to get the Cotton Bowl bid.

Oregon State over Stanford: Steve Clark's kicking gives the Beavers a slight edge.

Michigan over Iowa: That Iowa aerial circus isn't quite enough. Stan Kemp's punting and Bob Timberlake's play calling to decide.

Braves, Atlanta Agree On Pact

ATLANTA (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves have signed a 25-year contract to begin playing baseball in Atlanta's $18-million stadium in 1966.

The contract was signed late Tuesday in Chicago by Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta-Fulton County Recreation Authority, and Braves officials. Montgomery called Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta while the contract was being signed.

"Tell them they just made the best trade they've ever made," Allen told Montgomery.

The contract signing took place two days before it was scheduled. Atlanta and Braves officials apparently were apprehensive that Milwaukee County officials might further delay the plans to move to Atlanta by securing another court order restraining the Braves from signing any agreement until the end of the 1965 season.

The officials already had secured a court order restraining the Braves from signing a contract to play in Atlanta in 1965.

Meanwhile, in Milwaukee, the county board voted unanimously to send a delegation to Washington, D.C., to meet with officials

Rockets Kayo Abilene Club

Big Spring Lakeview closed out its 1964 football season on a winning note here Tuesday night, defeating Abilene Woodson by a score of 28-22.

The Rockets scored all their points in the first half and reserves played much of the final two periods for coach A. C. Clark. Clark suited out 26 players and used them all. The Rockets thus ended the season with a 5-1 record.

Leonard Evans accounted for Big Spring's first score on a 30-yard run around left end in the opening period. The try for conversion failed.

Again in the first, Tommy Mitchell scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak for Big Spring. Guard Tom Jones set the drive in motion by recovering a Woodson fumble.

Evans ran across the two extra points to make it 14-0, Big Spring.

The Rockets scored twice more in the second period. Seminal Johnson passed 40 yards to Claude Tucker for one tally. Tucker taking the ball in the end zone. Johnson then ran across the two extra points.

The Rockets recovered a fumble later in the round on Abilene's 11 and Hubert Williams ultimately got the score on a four-yard jaunt.

Abilene scored against Big Spring's second unit in the third, and added another touchdown before the quarter ran out.

In the fourth, the visitors managed their final TD on an intercepted pass.

Kelso Seeks Luck Change

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Kelso, four times America's Horse of the Year, world's leading money-winning thoroughbred and hailed as the greatest gelding since the renowned Exterminator, tries today to break a jinx that has plagued him for three runnings of the $150,000 Washington D.C., International at Laurel.

The 7-year-old son of Your Horse-Maid of Flight, winner of 28 stakes in compiling a bank account of $1,803,362, ran second in each of his three appearances in this 1 1/2-mile grass course event which in 13 years has gained worldwide attention.

Kelso, as the popular horse is known affectionately around Mrs. Richard C. dePoni's Bohemia Stable, was beaten three-quarters of a length by America's T.V. Lark in 1961, 1 1/2 lengths by the French representative Match II in 1962 and by one-half length by the United States' Mongo last year.

Each time, in the opinion of trainer Carl Hanford, Kelso had another horse in the early going in 1961, used up by turning back the challenges of first Beau Purple and then Carry Hack in 1962 and last year just didn't have an answer to the 23 4-5-second last quarter thrown at him by Mongo.

"But we are ready for this one," said Hanford.

Kelso is right now on his best racing weight of 970 pounds—there isn't an excess pound on his perfectly built frame. He stands 16 1/2 hands or 65 inches.

But Kelso faces far from an easy track in opposing Gun Bow, the 4-year-old American speedster carrying the silks of the Gedney Farm of Mrs. John T. Stanley and Harry Albert, and six hand-picked foreign invaders.

Gun Bow, leading contender to replace Kelso as Horse of the Year, has taken on the champion four times this year. They have split even.

But the streaking son of Gun Shot has won eight stakes compared to Kelso's two in 1964 and figures to be a close second choice, if not the favorite, by post time at 3:45 p.m. EST.

Foremost among the challengers to American supremacy are Italy's grand-looking Verone and the slim barreled 3-year-old filly Belle Sciambrone from France, Russia's Anilin, Ireland's Biscayne, Venezuela's Primordial and Japan's Ryu Forel round out the field.

Ruling Labor In Britain Bares Budget

LONDON (AP) — Strengthened by a 21-vote margin in its second test in Parliament, the Labor government unveils today a national budget designed to raise extra revenue and reduce Britain's imports bill.

The budget, being introduced less than a month after the Labor party came to power, was expected to increase sales taxes and introduce a long-term levy on capital gains — now taxed only if profit is taken within six months of purchase.

The main expenditure item was expected to cover increased retirement and war pensions and relief benefits.

The main function of the budget was to regularize the 15 per cent surtax on imports the government imposed last month to cut imports.

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson will meet in Washington early next month with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Malcolm Kilduff, acting presidential press secretary, read the following statement today to newsmen at the White Press center in Austin near here:

"Prime Minister Harold Wilson has accepted President Johnson's invitation for an informal working visit to Washington on Dec. 7 and 8."

JERRY SADLER
Land Waiting
List Nipped

AUSTIN (AP) — The Veterans' Land Board said Tuesday it will accept no more names for the veterans' land program waiting list.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said those already on the list can expect to be reached before the program ends in December 1965. The board cannot use funds received after Dec. 1, 1965, for land purchases.

The commissioner said he expects about 35,000 veterans will have bought land under the program before it expires. He said about 5,000 have paid their contracts off in full and 7,560 have transferred their contracts to a veteran or non-veteran.

president of the University of Utah, Dr. James C. Fletcher? One thing certain is that they raise children! There are 23 children in the families of Dr. Fletcher and his four brothers.

Raising children is certainly not the only thing, however. The five wives who were in Salt Lake City for Dr. Fletcher's inauguration last week are all attractive and sociable.

The eldest Fletcher brother, Stephen, 54, is vice president and general counsel for Western Electric Corp. in New York, N.Y. He and his wife Dorothy have three children and raise another, a niece.

James, 45, with a Ph.D. in physics, had his own missile firm in California before he became a university president. He and his wife Fay have four children.

SEVEN CHILDREN
Robert and Rosemary Fletcher have seven children. He is 43 and vice president of a Bell Telephone subsidiary, the Sandia Corp., which runs Los Alamos, N.M., atomic facilities for the government. She is a daughter of Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Harvey Jr., 41, is Ph.D. and professor of mathematics at Brigham Young University. He and his wife Deah have five children.

Paul, 38, and his wife Norma have five children. He is another Ph.D. in physics and heads the research department for Electro-Optical Co. in Pasadena, Calif.

What about the mother of these Fletcher boys?

"Oh, I'm just a mother," Mrs. Harvey Fletcher said in an interview.

"Let's see, we were married when I was 20 and I had Phyllis when I was 22."

Phyllis is Mrs. W. Kenneth Firmage of Chatham, N.J., the eldest of six children, who got a master's degree in mathematics and then settled down to raising a family—three children.

TOOK COURSES
"I took some courses in physics at Chicago, but never got my degree."

Harvey Fletcher got his Ph.D. in physics at the University of Chicago.

"We always wanted another daughter, but never got one, so Phyllis and I always stuck together. We were like pals, and she likes the same things I do — antiques and cooking."

"The men," she said, "speak a different language, but they have fun. So do we."

Wheat Crop Seen Doomed

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The entire $100-million winter wheat crop in Colorado may be wiped out by drought.

Even a drenching rain or snow would come too late to help, a state official said. Laurence Phelps, director of Administrative Services for the Colorado Agriculture Department, termed the severe dryness which started three years ago the worst drought since the 1930s.

The income of Colorado farmers has fallen from $178 million in 1961 to $135 million last year and "every town in the state is in economic trouble," Phelps said. He said continued dry weather would "wipe out the entire wheat crop."

Chou Urges Summit Meet

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today Premier Chou En-lai of Red China has sent him a message proposing a 9 all-nation summit meeting to discuss nuclear disarmament.

Wilson told the House of Commons his Labor government is consulting with Allied nations before answering the proposal.

Red China recently set off its first nuclear device, but Western scientists doubt that it has yet developed a workable nuclear bomb or the means to deliver it by plane or rocket.

Farmers Union To Hear Politicos

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas political and labor figures will address the Texas Farmers Union's 61st annual convention, which opens Thursday.

On the program are speeches by U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.; Rep. Jake Pickle, D-Tex.; Hank Brown, Texas AFL-CIO president; and James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union.
