Lamesa Voters Turn Down School Bonds

LAMESA (SC) — A $2,650,000 bond issue for a projected school expansion program was turned down here Saturday with a record number of voters casting ballots. The measure was defeated, 1,288 votes to 844. The actual turnout was 2,150, but presiding election judge J. P. White said about 18 ballots were disallowed because of improper marking.

Had the issue passed, the school board planned a new elementary school, senior high school, athletic stadium and field house, additions and renovations to other elementary units, plus conversion of the present senior high building to a junior high school.

The school board awaited results of the election at the home of J. D. Harris, president.

"I think it's too bad," Harris said soon after the results were known. "If that's the way the public wants it, that's the way it will be."

He said trustees do not have an alternate plan.

"We discussed other plans," he said. "But discarded all of them. We put out the best we had to offer and I don't know that the board will take any further action on the matter."

Trustees are scheduled to canvass returns of the election in a special meeting Monday night.

"There probably will be some discussion about the matter then," Harris said.

U.S., Germans Tighten Links

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agreements tightening military links between the United States and West Germany — on strategy, weapons and production — were signed Saturday by the two nations' defense chiefs.

American Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and German Defense Minister Kai-uwe von Hassel initialed four documents which wrapped up the results of the meetings of the two men and their staffs.

A communique said these meetings "reflected the close and continuing German-American military relationship."

Beyond the general phrasing of the communique, there obviously was the fact that the intransigence of French President Charles de Gaulle and his insistence on an independent nuclear power stature for France had influence in the new and stronger bonds between Germany and the United States.

Cool Front Moving In

By The Associated Press
 Light rain or drizzle fell in North Central and East Texas Saturday as a cool front moved toward the Panhandle and West Texas.

A freezing 32 degrees was predicted for the night in the upper Panhandle.

Cloud banks thickened over much of Texas and temperatures were warm and humid. None of the rain was of consequence before noon.

The Weather Bureau said rain would increase over the state during the night and Sunday.

'Operation Birthright' Plans Are Still Vague

Johnson To Press For A Program

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and two Cabinet members talked Saturday of getting health care and bigger Social Security checks for the elderly and launching "Operation Birthright" for the young.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz pictured the next 60 days of financial and legislative planning by the administration as providing "an extraordinary opportunity for really a magnificent breakthrough."

CLOSED DOORS
 He described Operation Birthright as an effort to keep college and job doors from slamming in the faces of half a million of the 3.5 million boys and girls who will reach 18 in 1965. Details still are vague.

The labor secretary said "No, sir, I do not" when asked if he expects a rail strike. He said there is no plan to bring the threatened strike of non-operating rail unions before Johnson.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze predicted passage of some sort of hospital insurance program for the elderly patterned after the administration bill to tie it into Social Security system.

SOCIAL SECURITY
 Celebrezze also predicted the administration will seek something in the nature of a flat $7 monthly increase in Social Security benefits approved by the Senate this year, as part of a one-package bill including health care.

Wirtz and Celebrezze met with the President at his ranch Friday and Saturday and then with reporters in Austin, 65 miles to the east.

Sunday the President goes back to Washington and a series of conferences on reports from task forces he named to come up with ideas for bettering the lot of Americans.

Both his Cabinet visitors said Johnson once again is bearing down heavily on economy in the new budgets for their departments.

ONE OF SEVEN
 Wirtz said with reference to 18-year-olds that there will be a million more of them reach that age next year than this.

"Unless we do more about this situation," he said, "one out of every seven of those 3.5 million boys and girls is going to have a door slammed in his or her face, and it is going to be either a job door or it is going to be a college door."

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Gold Star Winners Announced Saturday

The annual 4-H Club Achievement Day program Saturday spotlighted Martha Couch and Lawrence Long as the 1964 Gold Star 4-H Club boy and girl in presentation ceremonies, part of a day-long series of activities which included a barbecue dinner and steer and lamb showmanship demonstrations.

Some 250 children and adults attended the ceremonies at the National Guard Armory, along with the activities at the fairgrounds.

SPECIAL AWARDS
 Two special awards were presented 4-H Club workers in the ceremonies. Mrs. John Couch received a certificate for five years service as a project leader and Mrs. T. M. Robinson was recognized for some 21 years service to the 4-H Club program. County Agent Herb Helbig and Mrs. Delaine Crawford read the awards, and Bob Atkins, president of the Howard County 4-H Club, presided.

While only two youths can be named the Gold Star winners in a given year, no boy or girl in 4-H work ever loses if he or she masters the four elements of real achievement — selection, knowledge, application and tenacity, said Joe Pickle, Herald managing editor, who addressed the group following the luncheon at the armory.

ACHIEVEMENT
 Achievement awards were presented to Martha Couch, Robbie Brown, Charlotte Mann, James Haston and Jim Fryar. The purpose of this award is to improve

Blaze Injures 44 Firemen

CHICAGO (AP) — Forty-four firemen were injured and an estimated million dollars worth of Christmas toys and goods devoured by flames Friday night and Saturday in a fire which raged out of control for 17 hours through a mammoth warehouse.

Most of the city's firemen and equipment were called out to battle the fire, which was declared struck out at 9:45 a.m.

Moments later, extra alarms were sounded for two other blazes at an empty warehouse and a railroad loading dock and the weary firemen were again called into action.

By noon Saturday, a fire department official said all three fires were under control and arson squads were on the scenes.

The latest outbreaks brought to five the number of major fires that have broken out on the South Side in November. The city has been plagued by a severe drought and less than one-half inch of rain has fallen in the past 45 days.

leadership talents, character, and better citizenship through development of skills and practices to make for a more efficient 4-H Club member and a more profitable contribution to 4-H Club work.

Agricultural awards went to Brent Brooks, Terry Hanson, Kelly Gaskins, James Crenshaw, Ronnie Anderson.

Beef cattle awards were presented to Dolores Lankford, Linda Foster, Mark Barr and Robert Haney.

Electric awards were handed James Shaw and Eddie Nanny. Leadership awards went to Martha Robinson, Ann Bennett, Lawrence Long and Mack Frazer.

Mike Alexander and Carolyn Crawford won safety awards.

SWINE AWARDS
 Debra Anderson, Brad Posey, Noel Brooks and Mary Lou Brown received swine awards.

Danny Fryar and Mikel Bridge qualified for tractor awards.

Larry Don Shaw was awarded the medal for public speaking.

Gary Riddle and Margie Newman won the recreation awards.

Citizenship award medals were presented to Philip Richey, Sharon Harrison and Gary Earhart.

Dixie Coleman, Freddie Newman, Susan Elrod, Mike Brady, Mike McClain, and Buz Mann received awards for sheep projects and production.

Foods and nutrition awards (bread and cereal group) were presented to Betty McIlvain, Carol Nanny, Kay Rogers and Debra Buchanan. In the milk group, the awards went to Margaret Zike, Carla Perry, Brenda Jackson and Linda Crawford. In the fruits and vegetable division, awards were to DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syrian and Israeli jets battled Saturday north of the Sea of Galilee, a day after the heaviest border fighting between the two enemies in years. Each side accused the other of provoking the air clash, and each claimed victory.

A Syrian communique said Israeli planes flew across the border, "our air force intercepted the Israeli planes" and in a series of air battles an Israeli jet "was seen exploding in mid-air after receiving a direct hit. All our planes returned safely to bases."

In Tel Aviv, a military spokesman denied any Israeli plane was lost, said four Syrian Soviet-made MIG21s penetrated into Israel's air space, were driven off and one of them was hit.

The spokesman said the hit on the Syrian plane was clearly observed by the pilot who had engaged it but that it was not seen to crash. Reliable sources in Damascus said the battle was between the four MIGs and four Israeli (French-made) Mirage jets.

The air battle occurred in the area where Israeli and Syrian ground forces fought for an hour and 40 minutes Friday with tanks and artillery. This battle ended when unopposed Israeli planes crossed the frontier and pounded Syrian batteries with napalm and gunfire.

Even before Saturday's air clash, Syria moved to seek a U.N. Security Council meeting on the Friday fighting, and had broadcast this warning to Israel: "The Syrian army is poised to teach Israel severe lessons and will not stop any more at the limit of repelling aggression."

SEVEN DEAD
 The ground fighting left seven Syrians dead and 26 wounded. Israel reported it had lost three killed and nine wounded.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Syria's U.N. delegate, Dr. Rafik Asha, had been instructed to explore prospects of calling a Security Council meeting to take up this serious Israeli aggression in which the air force was used."

The foreign minister, Dr. Hasan Mreweid, also summoned the ambassadors of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France and explained to them the "graveness of the latest Israeli aggression."

The spokesman said Mreweid also called the ambassadors of all Arab countries in Damascus and briefed them on the border situation. All the ambassadors pledged their countries would back Syria against any fresh Israeli attack and would consider such an attack as directed against their countries.

DISCARDED TOYS ARE SOUGHT; FIREMEN TO START REPAIRS

Any discarded toys around your house? City firemen are now soliciting them, and are ready to start work immediately on repairing them, so that they can be passed on to needy children at Christmas.

Chief H. V. Crocker and all his men are launching again their annual holiday cheer activity, and will be putting in long hours on repairing and refurbishing playthings to brighten a poor child's Christmas.

You are asked to bring toys to the fire station nearest you. Please see that the items are repairable — those things that have been outgrown by your own children, or need a moderate amount of repair.

Any fire station will accept your discarded toys — you're asked to bring them immediately.

Queens Crowned For Homecoming

A sparkling round of activities touched off by the huge bonfire blaze Thursday night climaxed with the half-time crowning of three "queens" of Big Spring High School's 1964 Homecoming Friday night.

Receptions, class reunions both informal and planned, the traditional homecoming dance after the football encounter, and a chili supper were among the host of activities engulfing the city Friday afternoon and evening as hundreds of ex-students joined current Big Spring high schoolers in celebrating the 1964 homecoming.

A parade through downtown Big Spring Friday afternoon with 16 floats, featuring a variety of homecoming themes and led by three bands, preceded the game between the Steers and the Abilene Eagles.

A senior cheerleader, Peggy

Spier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill R. Spier, was crowned homecoming queen at the half-time ceremonies. Miss Spier was escorted onto the field by Cliff Creighton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, and presented a bouquet of mums.

Chosen football queen was Jackie Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Crawford Jr., who was presented a bouquet of roses. She was escorted by Sam Mims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mims.

Virginia Colclazer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Colclazer, was named band queen and also presented roses during the half-time. She was escorted by band president Hollis Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Webb.

Also during the half-time, Klaus Limbacher, student at the

The United Fund, still about a sixth of the way from its goal, is at a critical crossroads. Despite some sparkling responses — the latest a 110 per cent record by Webb AFB — the drive has not had response from hundreds of Big Spring and Howard County people. Faltering is more than a matter of pride — it is a matter of life blood for more than a dozen agencies.

That heady stuff of leading District 2-4A was too heady, but we no longer have this handicap. Abilene saw to that Friday night. There were a lot of "ifs" in the game, the most apropos was "If we hadn't played, we wouldn't have got beat." Well, we're only half a game off the pace, and we can still keep alive our hopes by getting off the mat and bouncing the San Angelo Bobcats Friday.

Amish Culture Described For ABC Members Friday

Dick Ream, who grew up in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and who had a better opportunity to study conditions more closely than a visitor for that reason, brought a program on that state's Amish people to members of the American Business Club Friday noon at the Settles Hotel.

Ream screened colored slides of the religious sect, which inhabits an estimated 100 square miles of the country around Lancaster, to illustrate his talk. The Amish people live as their ancestors did centuries ago, according to Ream, using the same manner of dress, the identical methods of farming and live by the same philosophies.

Because they adhere strictly to their sect's teachings of the Bible, they become conscientious objectors during times of national emergency because they do not believe in war. Neither do they invest in war bonds. Ream urged all his listeners to make it a point to visit the Amish country and study their ways of life.

"You may not believe what you see, even after you have viewed it first hand," he cautioned. Dr. Bob Johnson was declared grand champion of the ABC golf tournament held recently at the Country Club and was rewarded with a trophy, as were flight winners and runners-up. It was announced that the ABC Christmas party would be held at the Big Spring Country Club, Saturday, Dec. 19. Guests included Joe Crump, Wally Slate, Allen White and Jim Dickey.

Buttons are not worn on the outer garments of the Amish people, Ream recalled, due to the people's dislike for the military (which makes capital use of such raiment).

The Pennsylvania religious order, who moved to this country from Germany over two centuries ago, allows no plumbing in their homes, abstains from the use of tobacco and whiskey (although they grow tobacco), shuns complex machinery and will not listen to music in any form.

They are basically and almost exclusively farmers and, for that reason, shun the cities. Now that the federal government is insisting that they respect Social Security and draft laws, some of them are moving from the area to relocate in Canada and South America.

Ream urged all his listeners to make it a point to visit the Amish country and study their ways of life.

"You may not believe what you see, even after you have viewed it first hand," he cautioned.

24 Meningitis Cases Reported

Until he departed his boyhood home, Ream—due to the Amish influence—always identified raisin pie as "funeral pie" because such fare is invariably served during an Amish funeral.

Once an Amish dies and is interred, his family never visits his grave because, according to Ream, the people believe that the soul automatically departs for Heaven.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-four cases of meningitis, two of them fatal, have been reported at Marine bases this year.

A Marine Corps spokesman said Friday Camp Lejeune, N.C., reported the largest number — 14, including one death.

Dawson Harvesting Begins Increasing

Cotton harvesting in Dawson County took a big forward step last week, and the Texas Employment Office at Lamesa said the gins in that county had now handled 22,484 bales — 23 percent of the county's estimated 100,000 bale crop.

This was the only county of the eight in the Big Spring area to show any material increase in ginning activities for the week. Most farmers are watching the forecasts these days with close interest. Last year, the first killing frost fell on Nov. 29—one of the latest freeze days on record in the county. This year, nothing like frost has yet been felt. Farmers are wondering if the Nov. 29 date of last year will prevail again in the matter of freezing weather. Last year's first hard freeze iced the county at 25 chilly degrees.

The later the freeze, farmers in the county say, the better the cotton outlook. The hot sun is still fattening bolls on the plants, and if they have reached just the right size, a hard freeze will pop them open and increase the lint production.

Meantime, no changes have been made in the estimated crop for the eight counties. A total of 223,000 bales is forecast for the season, the ginning reports of the TEC offices show 69,294. If the Dawson County jump had not been included, the ginnings would have been thin. As it was, the seven counties, other than Dawson ginned only about 5,000 bales during the week.

Howard County ginnings now stand at 3,716—less than 1,000 more than Nov. 6.

A hundred or so strippers are in the fields in the counties north and east. For some reason Glasscock County, where it is said the crop is at least 97 percent open, ginned only 800 addi-

Nation's Position Ascribed To Its Educational System

(This is the final article in the series following the theme "Education Pays Dividends." Wrapping up the series of stories is Klaus Limbacher, a foreign exchange student in Big Spring High School. — Ed.)

By KLAUS LIMBACHER

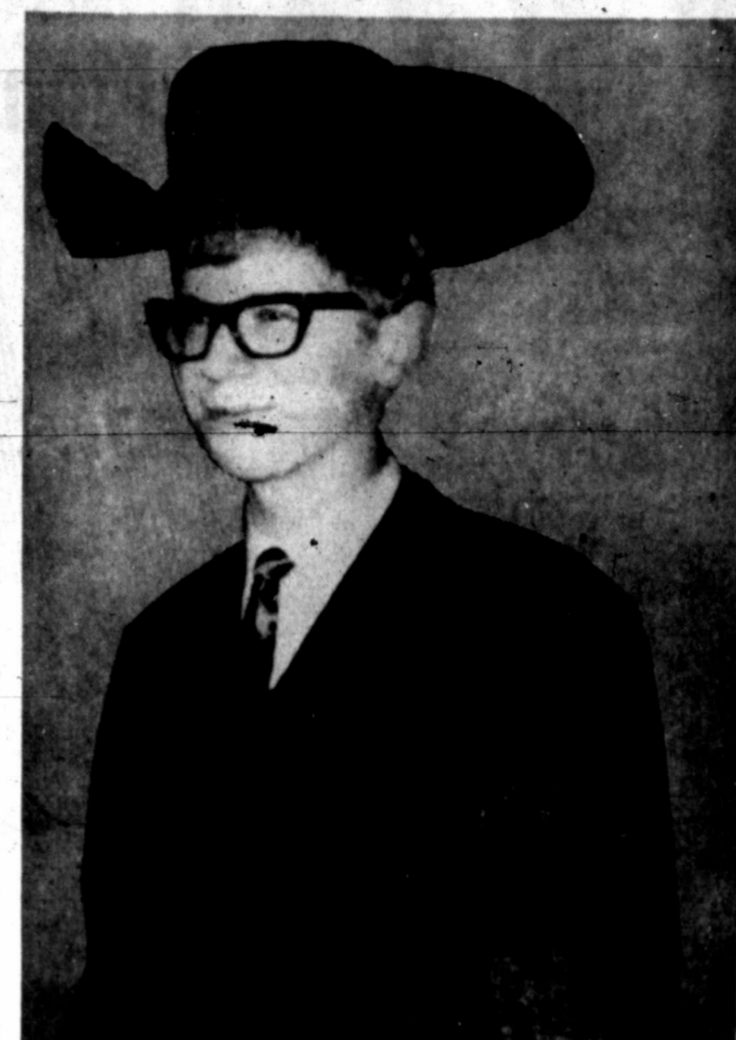

We are living in a century of education. The importance of education increases as nations of the world come to know, deal, and compete with each other.

The United States is the leading nation of the free world; recognized as the first in power, property, and knowledge. This position was gained mainly by the best system of education so far, and it will be maintained only by an even better and steadily improved system of education according to the fast development of the moving world.

However, this position is also a responsibility. America must take these advantages of beneficial enlightenment into the world, and support the nations which need help; she must guide their way upward to knowledge and security, to prosperity and respect which only can be provided by a proper education. It is a necessity to help those countries, for nothing could be a better shield against communism than explaining and proving communism's system, and intentions, and on the other hand, teaching the principles of a free world and individual rights — including also the freedom of education.

Toward these two ends America has to work and to improve in two areas. The first one lies within her own borders. The American educational system must develop with the time, must always remain on the highest possible and efficient level. Its aim must be to train the younger generation in knowing their own country and the culture and inheritance of their forefathers, and in studying other countries and their problems. Its aim must be to encourage their ambitions to learn, explore, experience, and do more for their own country, and to pass these ideals out to the world.

The government and the administration must work for this purpose in providing greater quantity and quality in teachers and in schools, in equipping

A Bit Of Texas

Klaus Limbacher, German exchange student in Big Spring High School, was given a touch of Texas during the homecoming ceremonies Friday night in Memorial Stadium. He was "crowned" with a Western hat after the three queens received their crowns.

the schools more sufficiently with the means of a modern, technical time, and in emphasizing subjects like social studies or foreign languages.

The parents must influence their children and co-operate with the teachers in inspiring the students to work their best and influencing them to enter occupations that are working toward these ends. Finally, the students must make use of all these opportunities, must realize how important a task is waiting for them in the future, and force themselves to do their best for America and the world.

The second of the United States' task is to be found outside, where the people of other nations need help most urgently. American must tell them about her way of living and system of education, must make them realize the advantages, invite students from those countries to come discover and study the conditions themselves, take this information back home and share it. And America can send her own sons out to work in those countries; her diplomats for politics, her engineers for economy, and her teachers for education. They can be the examples for American qualities, like a democratic government, a free, flourishing economy, and freedom for everyone. They can be the sources of help and answer where needed, and the voices of truth, knowledge, admonition to take the right way to a development to a free, strong country.

Neither of these tasks, or duties, will be easy to do, but their benefits for the United States, for the countries in need, and for the whole Free World will be tremendous. The seed must be sown now; but the harvest will be the greatest dividend. Education of American students and of young people abroad, both aimed at a better understanding, a closer relation, will lead to friendship, exchange of knowledge and ideas, profits for both sides, and unity against the common enemy.

Howard County Is Among Leaders In Road Deaths

El Paso County, with 11 traffic deaths, Midland County with eight, and Howard County and Ector County with seven each, have accounted for 33 of the 86 road fatalities reported in the 24 counties of Highway Patrol District 4-A for the first 10 months of the current year.

Howard County got through October with no new deaths charged to it but it listed three accidents which sent five persons to the hospital. The total number of rural road accidents charged to the county in October was nine and the property damage $4,485.

For the first 10 months of the year, the county has had 112 accidents causing seven deaths, sending 53 persons to the hospital and causing property damage of $106,259.

The 24 counties in the district have reported 1,677 accidents, in which 86 persons have died and 921 have been hospitalized. Property damage has been $2,600,399.

In the immediate Big Spring area, there were no traffic deaths recorded in October. Borden County had one traffic accident in October and property damage amounted to only $200. For the 10-month period, Borden County has had 15 accidents, in which 15 persons were injured. No deaths have occurred and the property damage total is $7,920.

Dawson County had only four accidents in October. Two persons were injured. There were no fatalities. Property damage totalled $2,475. For the first 10 months of the year the county had 60 accidents which took five lives and hospitalized 47 persons. Property damage totalled $37,538.

Glasscock County reported one accident in which one person was hospitalized in October. Damage was $515. For the 10 months ending Oct. 31, Glasscock County reported 21 accidents in which one person died, nine were hospitalized and property damage was $35,665.

Martin County had four accidents in October. Two persons were hurt but no deaths reported. Property damage was $2,670. For the 10 month period in 1964, Martin County has had 42 accidents with no fatalities and 13 persons injured. Property damage total for the 10 months was $40,620.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Flying Has Slacked Off Despite Good Weather

By M. A. WEBB

Business has been light at Howard County Airport this week, according to Howard Loyd, manager. Club flying has been light, and not too many private airplane owners have been using them. One two-day transient craft at the airport was an Aero Commander carrying representatives of M. J. Delaney Oil Co.

Flying Club members up during the week were: Big Spring Flying Club, Colt-Faulkner (3), Simmons, Norton (2), Bartlett, Coates; Skyhawk-Coates (one and cross country), Bartlett, Simmons (3), Neefe (cross country).

Webb Aero Club: Cessna 150—Pace (cross country), Green (2), Mason, Davidson (2), Foster (5), Moss (3), Kenyon, Mooney—not up.

Howard County Flying Club: Colt-McClure (3 and two-day cross country), Green, McRae (2).

Texas is bigger than the combined areas of Connecticut, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Tennessee, Vermont and Wisconsin, with 267,339 square miles, and has the largest number of airports, but spends less than any one of the others for aviation development.

What Texas has: 10,911 aircraft or more than 10 percent of the U.S. total; more than 30 U.S. military airfields; over 29,000 pilots; or more than seven percent of the U.S. total; 22 airports with control tower operations; greatest need for air travel, due to its vastness; 209 air taxi operators; second largest number of pilot and flight ground schools, but California has more than twice as many—150; 104 FAA certified repair stations; 494 fixed base and agricultural operators; BUT—spent only $66,468 for aviation development in 1963 as compared to Connecticut's $1,892,844 and Illinois' $3,988,710.

Sent To State Training School

A juvenile, held in connection with an assault on a member of the Odessa Permian High School band here last week, is being ordered to the state school at Gatesville. The youth was picked up after there were reports that he had wielded a piece of chain on the visiting bandmen. He is due to be transferred to Gatesville next week.

Bands, Floats, Ex-Students Marked Homecoming Parade

Joining Homecoming Festivities

This group of Cub Scouts and their mascot were among the host of floats, bands and marchers, preceded by a Webb AFB color guard, that crossed downtown Big Spring Friday afternoon before hundreds of onlookers in celebration of homecoming.

Eight Columns Of Black And Gold

One of three bands in the homecoming parade, the Big Spring High School band provided some rousing support during this week's festivities. The band's busy week included the pep rally Thursday night as well as the parade and game Friday.

A Winning Float

The senior class of Big Spring High School presented this gold and black arrangement of a senior class ring, with '65 lettered on it, and two graduating seniors, in caps and gowns. The float won first place honors in the school division of the parade.

Honoring Classes Of '35, '45 And '55

With a theme of "keep us all as one through years to come," the junior class float honored previous Big Spring High School classes. The black and gold float won second place in the parade's school division.

high school from Germany, was given a 10-gallon hat by John Bennett, president of the Student Council.

Winning floats in the parade Friday afternoon were the Quarterback Club entry in the city-wide division and the senior class float in the school division. Second and third place awards in the school section went to the junior and sophomore class entries.

A green-and-gold display of a football being booted between the goal posts, before a football field, was the entry for the Quarterback Club. The float's arrangement featured Miss Spier as homecoming queen.

The senior class prepared an arrangement of a class ring with '65 on it, with a graduating senior boy and girl in caps and gowns featured. The black and gold colors of the school were used.

The junior class entry was in honor of the classes of past years, highlighting '35-'45-'65, again using the black and gold school colors.

A big green "worm" was the highlight of the sophomore class float, with the theme of sophomores not being so "green" anymore, but "worming" their way up.

A chili supper was served after the parade Friday afternoon, sponsored by the senior class in the high school cafeteria, and the homecoming dance was held at the gymnasium following the game.

Classes of 1915, '25, '35, '45 and '55 were active in the homecoming plans this year, with receptions and class reunions among the activities.

A total of some 35 entries were included in the parade, led by a Webb AFB color guard and the Big Spring High School band. The 16 float entries included five in the city-wide division and 11 in the school section.

Teachers Of Music Form Organization

Strengthening of local music programs, particularly in the elementary schools, will be a long-range project of the Big Spring Music Teachers Association, organized this week.

Officers of the group will be elected at the next meeting, with the membership presently including some 20 persons. The organization was granted a charter in June at the 50th anniversary convention of the Texas Music Teachers Association. The association here will also be affiliated with the Music Teachers National Association.

An organization meeting was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ann G. Houser, 103 Cedar. Membership in the group will be open to all musicians. Jack W. Hendrix, a charter member and chairman of the music department, Howard County Junior College, is first vice president of the Texas Music Teachers Association. Dues for the local chapter have not yet been set, but $10 dues are payable for the state and national associations.

Charter members of the local chapter include Mrs. Chester F. Barnes, Mrs. Fred Beckham, Mrs. J. L. Christensen, Gary L. Edensberger, Mrs. Glenn E. Falson, Mrs. F. C. Gambill, Mrs. Fred Haller, Mrs. Robert A. Heinze, Jack W. Hendrix, Mrs. Ann G. Houser, Mel Ivey, Capt. James T. McDaniel, Mrs. B. F. Meacham, Mrs. Marguerite Morris, Hubert O. Murphy, Mrs. Delnor Poss, Mrs. C. H. Rainwater, Mrs. Donald M. Richardson and Mrs. William E. Row.

6-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Nov. 15, 1964

Proposes Ike Head Peacemaking Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., proposed Saturday an all-faction Republican summit conference, presided over by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, to hammer out agreement on future GOP policies.

Mundt, who supported Sen. Barry Goldwater's disastrously defeated bid for the presidency, said Goldwater should be included in a group which could act on policy and possibly recommend a successor to Republican National Chairman Dean Burch.

Mundt said he thinks Burch "is not long for his job." He said he has heard the name of Wayne Hood, Wisconsin businessman who served as field director for the national committee in the Goldwater campaign, mentioned as a possible successor.

The conservative South Dakota senator suggested in an interview that a nine-member group, with former President Eisenhower as chairman, meet before Christmas to seek unanimous agreement on "new programs and policies to be advanced as we expand our appeal to all Americans."

In addition to Eisenhower and Goldwater, he proposed this group include Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, Govs. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan and the two congressional minority leaders, Sen. Everett M.

Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. For other members he suggested the names of Sen. Elect George Murphy of California and Drake Edsen, state chairman of South Carolina which went for Goldwater.

Mundt said he is trying to limit his list to Republicans who engaged in active campaigns for themselves or the national ticket — this year but said he would not be adverse to having the list expanded for a larger conference.

If a larger meeting is held, he said there should be two-thirds agreement among its membership before any policy statements are issued. He said he thinks the nine he named could offer some unanimous views.

"These nine Republicans represent every segment and area of Republican thinking — both ideologically and geographically," he said. "After all there are certain threads of consistency which have bound Republicans together since the era of Abraham Lincoln."

"We should strive to strengthen these sinews of unity rather than try to cut them to pieces by raids upon the party by those who would make it a personality cult or by those who would oppose upon it a brand of some special version, brand or interpretation of republicanism."

Road Projects Bids Opened

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department tabulated low bids Friday totaling $10,694,775. That brought the two-day total to $20,585,020.

Projects, by county, included: Lamar — Texas 24, bridge widening 5 miles north of Delta County line, Austin Bridge Co., Dallas, $117,041.

Ellis — U. S. 287, 1.4 miles of paving from 3 miles west of Ennis across Bardwell Reservoir, E. W. Hable and Sons, Corsicana, $436,666.

Appeal Delayed

The Eleventh District Court of Civil Appeals last week granted a motion for extension of time for filing of briefs and to postpone submission of the appeal of James B. Simpson vs. Modesta Good Simpson from Borden County.

Bear Fooled, Dog Returns, Seagull Is Sobering Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Trixie, the dog who was given away, is happily back home. Jackie the seagull is nursing a hangover. And a grizzly bear walked away from a man who played a corpse to avoid becoming one.

These were among animal stories in various parts of the country Saturday.

Tom DeCarlo of Brooklyn wrote the happy ending to the Trixie drama when he brought the 2-year-old Dalmatian to the home of Margaret Locurto, also of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Locurto said her two children had not taken care of Trixie and that she gave the dog away to a stranger on the spur of the moment last Monday.

The regrets set in when the children, Rose, 11, and Patricia, 8, wanted to know where Trixie was. The mother told them the pet had been sent to a school that trains dogs for hunting. She said Trixie would be back in two weeks — hoping that somehow the dog would turn up.

DeCarlo said Mrs. Locurto had given the dog to a friend who gave it to DeCarlo. DeCarlo read a news account of Mrs. Locurto's distress and returned the dog a short time later.

Jackie the seagull spotted an almost full beer can in a restaurant parking lot in Brunswick, Ga., and took one sip, and another, and one too many.

When last seen the seagull was shuffling south on U.S. Route 17.

Halbert Harvey, 60, was hunting near Whitefish, Mont., when a grizzly bear charged him, spinning his rifle away and knocking him to the ground.

Harvey stayed there as if dead — his face pushed into the hillside. The bear bit and clawed at him, finally walked away.

The hunter suffered scalp, hand and foot wounds that required 50 stitches.

Barry To Survey For Weak Spots

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said Saturday he would make a nationwide survey of the Republican party to discover weak spots because so many Republicans had voted for the Democratic candidate, President Johnson. He said he wants to know why people who traditionally had voted Republican acted as they did.

He also said he is still opposed to the civil rights bill because he believes it is unconstitutional.

FIRST TIME

Asked about his present position in the party, he said the leadership is now in other hands and he intended to work with the leaders in both houses.

Goldwater told a news conference at a Jamaica Golf Club there is no titular leader of the party.

Asked whether he would desire nomination as party candidate in the 1968 presidential campaign, he said he would not be looking for nomination and he doesn't think he would be nominated.

Defeated vice presidential candidate William Miller and Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican party, sat in on the conference.

Goldwater leaves for Washington Sunday after a post-election holiday.

Asked about complaints about how GOP campaign funds were spent, he said he hoped the question did not indicate any suspicion of dishonesty as he had never seen money so quickly raised, properly accounted for and responsibly spent.

OTHER HANDS
He said it was the first time in his experience that the Republicans had saved money and had funds left in the bank after an election.

Questions have been raised by some Republicans as to whether the Republican National Com-

Burch's Future Uncertain As Chairman Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Among Republican National Committee members willing to take a stand, opinion is almost evenly divided on whether Dean Burch should in effect be ousted as party chairman.

But a much larger number of members won't say how they'll vote if the matter is brought up at a proposed committee meeting, probably in January.

Burch was quoted this week as saying he would be unable to continue as chairman if the committee should adopt a non-confidence motion.

None of the committee members responding to an Associated Press survey would say he'll sponsor such a motion, but several said they expect one will be made.

With almost three-fourths of the 132 committee members replying, this was how they stood on a possible non-confidence motion:

Thirteen said they would vote for it and 14 said they would vote against it; 70 members were noncommittal, a group whom 12 had strong praise for Burch and 9 were critical of him.

Several members, ill or on vacation trips, could not be reached. At least two of them previously had publicly called for Burch's resignation.

Burch was installed last July at the behest of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee. His term as chairman was for four years, and even those committee members who oppose him said they doubt that he could be ousted by a direct vote as opposed to a motion of no confidence.

At least one, William Powers of Colorado, implied a vote might not be necessary. "Mr. Burch is a good Republican and he should be able to determine for himself whether or not he has the confidence of the group," Powers said.

"In a dispatch from Jamaica, where Goldwater and Burch have been vacationing, the New York Times said Saturday that the GOP leaders will fight back if necessary to hold the leadership of the party.

Mr. McCurry was born July 3, 1882, at Coryell County, Tex., and married Mollie Bishop there in 1903.

He had been a resident of Colorado City since 1924, when he moved here from Coryell County. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Colorado City.

Burial today will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Oren Lipp, Colorado City, and Mrs. J. V. Glover, McCamey, one brother, Irb. McCurry, Gatesville; one sister, Mrs. Leta Lane, Aransas Pass; three grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Originally, the UAW struck nine plants.

Two have since settled, both assembly operations which in no way relieve what the company says is parts starvation.

Unless strikes are ended, Ford said its 90-plant system will be down by next weekend, idling approximately 160,000 hourly rated workers.

When and where of the next layoffs will be determined Monday morning, a Ford spokesman said.

The company blames 34,900 layoffs to strikes by the United Auto Workers Union at seven plants, four of them key parts producers for Ford's far-flung automaking complex. The strikes themselves have idled 24,100.

The strikes were called Nov. 6 to support local demands for inclusion in at the plant working agreements which supplement the national contract on which Ford and the UAW agreed Sept. 18.

Survivors include three sons, Guy Roxburgh and Lloyd Roxburgh, Houston, and Roy Roxburgh, Coahoma; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Bill Tinner, Thomas Whittenberg, Roy Terry, Worth Minter, James Roxburgh and Charles Roxburgh.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. today at the Coahoma Church of Christ for Mrs. Annie E. Roxburgh, 85, of 309 North Fifth, Coahoma, who died Friday morning in a Big Spring hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Roxburgh and her husband had moved to Coahoma in 1951 from Dora, N. M. Her husband died Sept. 26, 1959.

Mrs. Oscar Batton, minister of the Stanton Church of Christ, will officiate at services, assisted by Herbert Love, Coahoma Church of Christ minister. Burial will be in Coahoma Cemetery under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Mrs. Roxburgh was a member of the Coahoma Church of Christ.

Survivors include three sons, Guy Roxburgh and Lloyd Roxburgh, Houston, and Roy Roxburgh, Coahoma; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Bill Tinner, Thomas Whittenberg, Roy Terry, Worth Minter, James Roxburgh and Charles Roxburgh.

TB Poster Contest Rules Announced

Students in the county schools are being invited to participate in the TB Association's annual poster contest, sponsored by the Howard County chapter. Students in the Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan schools were being advised of the rules last week.

Local artists will judge the entries, and winning posters will be displayed in downtown stores in the tuberculosis prevention campaign.

Posters may deal with any phase of tuberculosis care, education or preventive measures, and originality is being encouraged. Students must construct their posters between Nov. 16-20 and may be turned into their principal's office for pick-up Nov. 23.

Each child may submit only one entry, and entries cannot be returned.

Any art media may be used, as well as lettering guides. Entries can be no smaller than 8 1/2 by 11 inches nor larger than 14 by 18 inches. Neatness and clarity will be important in the judging.

Cash prizes of $7.50 for first, $5 for second, and $2 for third place will be made by the TB Association. Mrs. E. P. Driver is the association's poster chairman.

U.S. officials protested to Soviet authorities Thursday but no Soviet response was reported.

A U.S. spokesman said the Soviet sedan entered the restricted area despite signs in English, Russian and German warning against trespassing. The American sentry shouted orders for the car to halt when it approached his post. The car kept on going.

The Army announcement said that the U.S. guard then fired a warning shot into the air and the Soviet vehicle "attempted to leave the scene."

The guard then fired at the car's left rear tire and the vehicle stopped.

The statement did not say whether the bullet scored a hit.

The United States has a similar military liaison mission in Communist East Germany. U.S. military mission cars there often are checked by East German police.

At the Nuernberg restricted area, there is a warning sign posted nearly a mile down the side road from the installation. Another sign is 200 yards from the post, the Army said.

Nuernberg is about 100 miles east of Heidelberg in southeast Germany.

American Shoots To Stop Russian

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — An American soldier fired a shot at a Soviet army sedan to halt its approach on a side road into a restricted U.S. military area near Nuernberg in West Germany last Wednesday, the U.S. Army reported Saturday.

A Soviet colonel and his enlisted driver were detained seven hours.

The U.S. Army's European Headquarters here said the car belonged to the Soviet military liaison mission attached to U.S. headquarters here.

U.S. officials protested to Soviet authorities Thursday but no Soviet response was reported.

A U.S. spokesman said the Soviet sedan entered the restricted area despite signs in English, Russian and German warning against trespassing. The American sentry shouted orders for the car to halt when it approached his post. The car kept on going.

4-H Winners Active In Club

Martha Couch, 1964 Gold Star Girl for the Howard County 4-H Clubs, is the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Couch, who live on the Gail Route.

She is a freshman in the Borden County High School and has been in 4-H Club work in Howard County six years.

Miss Couch has scored many club honors in the years she has been active in the club. She placed first in the money management division of the district elimination contests this year and also won a blue ribbon in district judging for home economics.

She has been a regular competitor in the county dress review for three years, and has won two blue ribbons and one white ribbon. She was named as alternate to the district dress review in 1963.

She has won two blue awards and one red ribbon in the County Favorite Food show in the past three years. Martha is a junior leader and works regularly with a group of younger girls in Unit 1 of Favorite Foods.

She has attended the leadership workshop in Levelland, and is currently secretary of her 4-H Club. Her achievements include completed projects in foods, money management, garden and in junior leadership. She received an achievement award Saturday.

Lawrence Long, Howard County's Gold Star boy for 1964, is a 16-year-old senior in Sands High School. He is a sophomore and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Long, Star Route, Knott.

He has had seven years service in the 4-H Club and has received many awards in his career.

He has sponsored projects in lambs, steers, swine, electricity, recreation, and worked in various leadership responsibility activities. These included club program and organizational projects.

His awards include the Citizenship award in 1960; electric in 1961; recreation in 1962, and leadership in 1963.

He was the county representative to the district electric camp in 1963 and to the district leadership workshop in 1964.

He took part in the district elimination contests in 1963 and 1964 and placed second this year. He was sixth in the state 4-H Club roundup which followed the district meeting.

Lawrence has given demonstrations before civic clubs, school clubs and on television. He is currently president of the Knott 4-H Club and served as secretary of the club in 1962. Long is a delegate to the Howard County 4-H council this year.

Home economics awards went to Ruby Nell Murphy, Annette Couch, Betty Little, Molly Adkins and Kenra Thomas.

LaShara Shanks and Marsha Hard won the poultry awards.

The top six places in the first, second and third year or more classes of the lamb and steer showmanship demonstrations were announced Saturday afternoon as follows:

Reds Aim For Relief Supplies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Communist Viet Cong has turned from guerrilla war in the jungles to attacks on convoys and helicopter airlifts to seize relief supplies for 700,000 flood victims along Viet Nam's central coast, U.S. aid officials reported Saturday.

With the death toll in five provinces mounting to an estimated 7,000, the Viet Cong are reported hoping to seize the goods apparently for their own use, or to turn over to the flood victims for propaganda purposes.

A U.S. military advisers' compound at Quang Ngai city was attacked by Red guerrillas in search of food and ammunition Friday. No American casualties were reported in the automatic weapon and grenade attack.

Rampaging floods may have destroyed the rice crop in the central coastal region and one U.S. official said about 70,000 tons of rice would be needed until the next crop comes in.

One problem for the mercy missions is that the Communists control many of the areas awash by floods. But a U.S. official said:

"Our intention is to see that rice and other relief does not feed the Viet Cong."

There was a report that the Viet Cong had ordered Vietnamese in the Communist-controlled areas to tear up their identity cards.

Several members, ill or on vacation trips, could not be reached. At least two of them previously had publicly called for Burch's resignation.

Burch was installed last July at the behest of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee. His term as chairman was for four years, and even those committee members who oppose him said they doubt that he could be ousted by a direct vote as opposed to a motion of no confidence.

At least one, William Powers of Colorado, implied a vote might not be necessary. "Mr. Burch is a good Republican and he should be able to determine for himself whether or not he has the confidence of the group," Powers said.

"In a dispatch from Jamaica, where Goldwater and Burch have been vacationing, the New York Times said Saturday that the GOP leaders will fight back if necessary to hold the leadership of the party.

Mr. McCurry was born July 3, 1882, at Coryell County, Tex., and married Mollie Bishop there in 1903.

He had been a resident of Colorado City since 1924, when he moved here from Coryell County. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Colorado City.

Burial today will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Oren Lipp, Colorado City, and Mrs. J. V. Glover, McCamey, one brother, Irb. McCurry, Gatesville; one sister, Mrs. Leta Lane, Aransas Pass; three grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Originally, the UAW struck nine plants.

Two have since settled, both assembly operations which in no way relieve what the company says is parts starvation.

Unless strikes are ended, Ford said its 90-plant system will be down by next weekend, idling approximately 160,000 hourly rated workers.

When and where of the next layoffs will be determined Monday morning, a Ford spokesman said.

The company blames 34,900 layoffs to strikes by the United Auto Workers Union at seven plants, four of them key parts producers for Ford's far-flung automaking complex. The strikes themselves have idled 24,100.

The strikes were called Nov. 6 to support local demands for inclusion in at the plant working agreements which supplement the national contract on which Ford and the UAW agreed Sept. 18.

Survivors include three sons, Guy Roxburgh and Lloyd Roxburgh, Houston, and Roy Roxburgh, Coahoma; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Bill Tinner, Thomas Whittenberg, Roy Terry, Worth Minter, James Roxburgh and Charles Roxburgh.

Hereford Auction Scheduled Nov. 28

Twenty-first Annual Auction of the Howard County-South Plains Hereford Association, Nov. 28, will see 53 blooded Hereford bulls and seven cows on the auction block.

Jimmy Taylor, secretary of the association, pointed out the sale this year is being held nearly two weeks earlier than in the past. The change in dates has been made to avoid, if possible, the inclement weather which has dogged other sales in the past.

Taylor said the quality of the animals offered this year is exceptionally good, but that the number of head is slightly fewer than last year. The usual show, with the judges picking the winners of the trophies offered each year, will be the opening feature of the sale.

James Grote, Llano, will be the judge, and the auctioneer will be Walter Britten, who has served in that capacity here for many years.

The annual banquet for the association members and their special guests will be Friday night, Nov. 27 at the Hotel Settles. Program for this event will be announced later.

Loy Acuff is president of the association. Other officers are Charlie Creighton, first vice president; Leland Wallace, second vice president; and Taylor, secretary.

The sale and show will be in the Fairgrounds Building, and the sale starts promptly at 1 p.m.

Ranch owners who are consigning stock for the sale are S. F. Buchanan, Big Spring, four individual bulls, three cows and one pen of three bulls; James Coates, Big Spring, two bulls; Charles W. Creighton, Big Spring, six individual bulls; two cows, one pen of three bulls; Raymond Green and Sons, Brownfield, one bull; Dr. G. T. Hall, Big Spring, two bulls, one cow, and one pen of three bulls; Walter Hill, Comanche, two bulls; Justin McBride, Blanket, two individual bulls, and one pen of three bulls; Roger Murphree, Comanche, two bulls; Odom Hereford Ranch, Snyder, four bulls; Leland Wallace, Big Spring, two bulls; George Wallace, Sonora, five bulls; Youngblood Ranch, Lamesa, three individual bulls; Hugh Campbell and Sons, Balingier, one pen of three bulls; Libb Wallace & Son, Sonora, one pen of three bulls.

Trophies are awarded annually. The trophy for the grand champion bull is awarded by Texas Electric Service Co.; the reserve champion bull trophy is awarded by State National Bank; the trophy for the champion female is presented by Elmo Wasson's Men's Store. The reserve champion female trophy by Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach; the revolving bull trophy by First National Bank; the revolving female trophy by Big Spring Chamber of Commerce; the trophy for the champion pen of three bulls by Kimbell Grain Co.; and the reserve champion trophy for the pen of three bulls by Dr. Akin Simpson.

A second hunter, who has not been arrested, has been charged with the same offense. Tucker will hail him into court as soon as he can be apprehended, the game warden said.

Tucker said that early last week a group of game wardens made a close count of the sandhill cranes in the vicinity of the Wilkinson ranch. The total was in excess of 60,000—an increase of 10,000 over the initial count.

The seventh and ninth grades have completed their tests. This week the tenth grade will complete their aptitude tests. The juniors will take the educational development test Dec. 23. The school provides, in addition to the state testing program tests, various tests for reading readiness, ability tests, achievement tests, and interest tests for the other grades throughout the school year. The state tests are machine scored in Chicago and the test results are returned to the school and to the Texas Education Agency. Charts are then prepared on each student and these are discussed with him and his teachers. The profile charts are made available to the parents and they are invited to contact the school and the teachers where a more comprehensive understanding may be made of them.

The achievement tests are given to check on the educational growth — out-of-school and incidental in-school learn-

Shooting Cranes Can Be Costly

Shooting sandhill cranes before sunset or after sunset can be an expensive sport.

Kent Thomas Field, charged with this offense by Royis Tucker, game warden, paid a fine of $25 and costs to the Howard County Court Friday.

Students Participating In State Testing Program

WESTBROOK (SC) — Students in the Westbrook school in the seventh through the eleventh grades are participating in the State Testing Program which began Oct. 15 and will extend to Dec. 15. The testing program includes achievement, ability, and aptitude tests.

The seventh and ninth grades have completed their tests. This week the tenth grade will complete their aptitude tests. The juniors will take the educational development test Dec. 23. The school provides, in addition to the state testing program tests, various tests for reading readiness, ability tests, achievement tests, and interest tests for the other grades throughout the school year. The state tests are machine scored in Chicago and the test results are returned to the school and to the Texas Education Agency. Charts are then prepared on each student and these are discussed with him and his teachers. The profile charts are made available to the parents and they are invited to contact the school and the teachers where a more comprehensive understanding may be made of them.

ings, as well as the knowledge acquired from formal classroom instruction. By means of these achievement tests, the school can determine where the student is progressing satisfactorily and where he is developing more slowly. With this information the school, teachers and counselors know better how to advise the student of his educational plans and problems and how best to help him with his school work. This information can also help him to make his own educational plans.

Aptitude tests are not tests of what has been learned in school by the students. They show how well these students can do different kinds of work. Probably most of the students have some general ideas about the kind of vocations or careers they are going into. The tests will help them to see specific kinds of jobs that they can do well. These tests can be helpful to the students in deciding about their future vocation, according to Preston C. Lightfoot, supervisor-counselor.

The ability tests furnish the school with estimates of each student's strengths and weaknesses — information on which to base decisions about grade placement, ability grouping, and complexity of school assignments. Students, also, can use the results later on to increase self-understanding, and to better plan their educational and vocational activities.

Scattergrams — a chart that shows the relationship of each student's mental ability and achievement — are prepared to indicate whether or not the student is achieving according to his mental ability.

Death Toll Up

AUSTIN (AP) — State police said 2,439 persons had died in Texas traffic to noon Saturday, compared to 2,186 last year.

Putting Their Heads Together

Purdue halfback Gordon Teter (27) and Minnesota end Aaron Brown put their heads and elbows together in this play of the first quarter in Saturday's Big Ten game at Minneapolis. Teter gained 11 yards on the kickoff return before being brought down by Brown. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Texas Takes Orange Bid After Victory

FORT WORTH (AP)—Marvin Kristynik ran and passed Texas to a 28-13 victory over Texas Christian and marched the Longhorns into the Orange Bowl Saturday.

Fifth-ranked Texas, last year the national champion, thus will be playing in its 14th bowl game in 21 years.

Texas probably will meet undefeated, untied Alabama, the nation's No. 2 team, at Miami—the second time the Longhorns have met the team of Bear Bryant in a bowl game. They played a 3-3 tie in the 1960 Bluebonnet Bowl.

The Longhorns, with Kristynik and mighty fullback Harold Philipp tearing the inept Texas Christian defense to bits, ran their record to 8-1 and hung onto second place in the Southwest Conference.

Kristynik and Philipp each gained 100 yards or more—an unusual stunt for a football team to have two backs do that in one game.

Texas still has Texas A&M to play and could tie for the conference title should Arkansas lose its final game to Texas Tech next week.

But Arkansas will be the Cotton Bowl team—it did it by crushing Southern Methodist Saturday.

Representatives of both the Orange and Sugar Bowls were here to look over Texas. It was reported Friday that Texas and Alabama would meet in the Orange Bowl if Texas and Arkansas won Saturday.

Kristynik figured in all the Texas touchdowns and scored two of them. Philipp got the other two.

David Conway converted after each and ran his record for the season to 21 of 21 extra points.

A crowd of 34,529 sat in intermittent rain to watch Texas crush the Horned Frogs.

The Longhorns threw away other opportunities to score with a pass interception and two fumbles.

Texas had total offense of 445 yards—the largest of the season. Kristynik ran for 52 yards and Philipp 33 in the first Texas touchdown drive that stretched 94 yards. Texas rolled 83 for its second touchdown in the first period with Kristynik passing for 27 and running for 24.

Texas Christian scored its first touchdown in the second period after Dan Jones intercepted a Kristynik pass in the end zone. Randy Howard passed for 41 yards and ran for the final eight in the 80-yard drive.

The half ended with Texas leading 14-7.

Texas got two touchdowns in the third period, driving 68 for one with Philipp running for 36 and Kristynik passing for 25.

Texas scored as soon as it got the ball again, with Kristynik passing 18 to Pete Lammons and running the final 21 for the score.

Texas Christian got its second touchdown with less than a minute left in the game. A 33-yard pass from Howard to David Smith set the ball on the two and Howard rammed across.

Kristynik ran for 100 yards and passed for 87. Philipp ran for 196 yards.

Howard passed for 138 yards as the best TCU individual showing.

FRIDAY NIGHT AT 7:30

Coahoma, Seagraves To Meet At Andrews

Coahoma, unbeaten football champion of District 6-A, and the Seagraves Eagles of 5-A will clash at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Andrews in bi-district competition.

Seagraves, which boasts a 9-1 record, won the coin toss for the right to decide the game site in a meeting held Saturday in Seagraves after first having its name drawn from a hat to determine the 5-A representative. Seagraves, Wink and Plains tied for first place in 5-A.

W. A. Wilson, superintendent of schools at Coahoma, incorrectly called the toss to decide a site for the playoff game. The Coahoma delegation was prepared to offer Big Spring's Memorial Stadium as its home field.

Seagraves lost only one game all season and that by a score of 20-19 to Wink. The team is coached by A. D. Shaver.

The Eagles closed out with a 42-16 victory over Tahoka Friday night. The Seagraves club has been described as huge, especially in the line, and boasts a fine quarterback in Danny Rosson. Bo Faulkenberry, Skeeter Reed and Ronnie Huffman lend Rosson a lot of help in Seagraves' second year.

Seagraves has averaged 32.9 points a game, compared to 11.6 for the opposition. Coahoma has averaged 36.9 points a start, compared to 6.7 for the foe.

The teams met two common opponents, Stanton and Jim Ned. Coahoma defeated the Buffaloes, 36-7, while Seagraves spilled the same team, 32-13, after experiencing a great deal of trouble.

Seagraves opened its season with Jim Ned and won, 26-0. Coahoma drubbed the same club, 47-0.

Team records: SEAGRAVES (Eagle score listed first)—26 Jim Ned 0; 54 Spring Lake 14; 41 Friendship 0; 22 Eunice, N.M.; 7; 14 Farwell 12; 10 Wink 20; 32 Stanton 13; 28 Plains 20; 51 O'Donnell 14; 42 Tahoka 16. Total points 329. Opponents' points, 116.

COAHOAMA—24 Rankin 12; 36 Stanton 7; 28 Big Spring 13; 41 Roby 0; 43 Roscoe 0; 47 Jim Ned 0; 24 Merkel 0; 40 Rotan 12; 33 Asperment 14; 53 Wylie 14. Total points 369; opponents' points, 67.

Runnels Rocks Goliad With Two Reversals

Runnels Junior High sprang two prize upsets in football games with cross-town rival Goliad here Saturday night and got off with a 6-6 tie in the seventh grade attraction. An unbelieving crowd estimated at more than 2,500 looked on.

Runnels hung tough in the ninth grade contest to prevail, 22-14. It was the Yearlings' second success, compared to seven losses but this one made up for a lot of disappointment the Yearlings had experienced over the year.

Runnels drove 56 yards in 13 plays for its first score, Paul Biffle going over from two yards out in the initial period. Mike Gartman added the extra points on a run.

With 4:03 left in the second, Biffle scored from one yard out at the end of a 34-yard drive and Runnels led at half time, 14-0.

In the third, Goliad got on the scoreboard on a 61-yard drive which took 13 plays. Donnie Wiggins got the tally on a three-yard run.

Runnels went farther out in front on a 63-yard drive in the fourth, Biffle going in from three yards away. Biffle also added the two extra points, with 5:39 left in the game.

Runnels intercepted a Goliad pass later and drove to Goliad's one but the Mavs took the ball on downs and drove 99 yards to pay dirt. Lonnie Clanton had a line of 60 yards to Runnels' nine and scored three plays later with one second left in the game. Clanton then added two extra points.

Runnels won the eighth grade contest, 26-12, holding the Mavericks to minus nine yards on the ground the last half.

Goliad scored first in that one, Ford Farris passing 26 yards to Mike Bethell in the opening period to climax a 59-yard drive.

With 1:41 left in the first half, Farris again found Bethell with a pass that carried 31 yards to the end zone.

Runnels scored first in the ninth grade game, driving 56 yards in 13 plays for its first score, Paul Biffle going over from two yards out in the initial period. Mike Gartman added the extra points on a run.

With 4:03 left in the second, Biffle scored from one yard out at the end of a 34-yard drive and Runnels led at half time, 14-0.

In the third, Goliad got on the scoreboard on a 61-yard drive which took 13 plays. Donnie Wiggins got the tally on a three-yard run.

Runnels went farther out in front on a 63-yard drive in the fourth, Biffle going in from three yards away. Biffle also added the two extra points, with 5:39 left in the game.

Runnels intercepted a Goliad pass later and drove to Goliad's line. When the game ended, Runnels was on Goliad's nine-yard line.

Auburn Rips 'Dogs, 14-7

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—Auburn's ferocious line bottled up Georgia's line carriers but the Bulldog defense couldn't stop Tucker Frederickson Saturday and the combination gave the Tigers a 14-7 Southeastern Conference football victory.

Frederickson, 15-pound senior playing his second game at fullback, broke loose for a 24-yard touchdown run in the first period.

Tom Bryan, sophomore quarterback, scored Auburn's other touchdown and ripped through the Bulldog defense for long gains almost matching those of Frederickson's.

The hard-driving fullback carried the ball 14 times and gained 100 yards against a team which in eight games previously had yielded an average of only 96 yards rushing.

In the fourth quarter, Auburn held Georgia on the two-but on the first play Bryan fumbled. Georgia recovered on the one and Bulldog quarterback Preston Riddlehuber scored.

Randy Morgan recovered a Goliad fumble for Runnels in the third and the Yearlings drove 47 yards in six plays for their score. Johnny Rutherford flipping a 13-yard pass to Lewis Switzer.

When the game ended, Runnels was on Goliad's nine-yard line.

Bruins Upend Cats, 17-15

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Baylor's Bears all but scrapped their touted passing attack, then ran over Kentucky 17-15 Saturday in an intersectional football game.

Led by senior fullback Tom Davies, the Bears struck for two touchdowns, using only one pass in each drive.

Their third period field goal came after Eddie Whidden intercepted a Kentucky pass in Wildcat territory.

Baylor quarterback Terry Southall threw only 11 passes, completing 6 for 64 yards.

The Bears' Roger Marshall hit 2 of 20 for 31 yards.

Meanwhile, Davies and running mates Clint Mitchell and Dick Deefe rolled for 216 yards on the ground.

Kentucky, too, used less passing than was expected. The Wildcats moved only 120 yards in the air, more than a third of it in a fourth-period touchdown drive.

Baylor drove 85 yards in 13 plays the first time the Bears had the ball and Davies gained 46 yards on 8 carries during the drive.

Staubach Sets Career Mark

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Roger Staubach, turning in one of his finest performances in a fabulous football career, ran and passed Navy to a 27-14 football victory over Duke Saturday.

The magnificent Middle rolled up 308 yards total offense, bettering by one yard the record of 307 he registered against Michigan last year en route to becoming 1963's College Player of the Year.

He broke the mark with a nine-yard dash for Navy's final touchdown with only 14 seconds left in the game.

Staubach, both passing from a shotgun formation and dropping back in the T, completed 21 of 30 passes for 217 yards and ran 17 times for 91 yards.

On four occasions he took the Middies into touchdown position on drives where they failed to score and had to call on Fred Marlin for field goal attempts. Marlin made good on tries of 21 and 28 yards, but two others were blocked.

Arkansas Hogs Vault Into Dallas Classic

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Third-ranked Arkansas vaulted into a Cotton Bowl berth and assured itself of a tie for the Southwest Conference title by pulverizing Southern Methodist University 44-0 at home Saturday.

The Razorbacks, with a 9-0 record, can win the conference title outright and finish an unbeaten season by beating Texas Tech in Lubbock, Tex., next Saturday.

Send no flowers. Abilene High took Big Spring to the woodshed, 13-6, here Friday night before a stunned Homecoming crowd of 7,500 but the Steers are still in the running for the District 2-AAAA flag. Odessa moved ahead in the weird district race by chilling Midland High but a Steer win next week over San Angelo, coupled with an Odessa loss at the hands of cross-town rival Permian, could put Big Spring back in the driver's seat. The Eagles, their aggressive line operating with all the efficiency of well-oiled pinchers, refused to let Steer quarterback Benny Kirland outside and richly deserved the victory. Abilene's strategy was fairly simple. The visitors aimed Jacky Yarbrough and Dennis Holt on slants and smashes up the middle and the Steers found they could do very little about it.

Free Agent Draft May Be Coming In Major Leagues

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Major league expansion and a free agent draft of high school and college players will be among the more important subjects to be thrashed out at the annual baseball winter meetings in Houston next month. At the recent summit meeting of the big league club owners in Phoenix, Ariz., sentiment strongly favored the free agent plan coupled with an unrestricted draft of minor league players but opposed expansion of any kind, at least, not in the near future. Even Commissioner Ford Frick, a stout supporter of expansion, recognized the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the owners when he broached the subject of expansion. Nevertheless, he made a strong case for his pet project.

San Angelo Held To Tie By Cooper Club, 14-14

ABILENE—Hard-luck Abilene Cooper might be in the thick of the conference fight if it could cut off the last seconds of ball games. Last week Cooper lost a heart-breaker on a field goal with one left. Friday night a partially blocked punt with 1:13 left opened the door for San Angelo's Bobcats to come up with a 14-14 tie.

Earlier the Bobcats had been pushed back to their 23, and Piedfort happened to throw to escape a big loss, but it hit Frank Stringer and went for 57 yards instead. Twice Cooper bled and appeared to have the game won 14-6.

In the second a short punt gave Cooper the ball on the Bobcat 45. Charlie Soloday hit Roberts for 22, and Ulm bulled it over in four plays, from the fullback, gone out late in the third with a rib injury. Cooper might have been able to hold the ball. As it was, the Cougars had to kick from near their goal with San Angelo capturing the partially blocked ball on the Cougar eight. Pascual Piedfort immediately hit Donnie Young for the TD and then passed to him for two points to tie the score.

IMPERIAL—Underdog Imperial fought Garden City to a 34-34 draw in District 5 eight-man play here Friday night. The deadlock gave Sterling City exclusive possession of first place in the standings but Garden City can take the crown by defeating Sterling next week. The game takes place in Garden City.

The game was all offense. Only in the final minute did Garden City bristle on defense, holding the Longhorns for four downs on the Bearkat two. The Garden City team then had time to drive all the way to Imperial's 29, thanks to a run on a fake punt by Riley Chandler that moved the ball out to Garden City's 32.

Dennis Seidenberger got Garden City's initial score on a 16-yard run in the opening period and Gary Pagan ran across the two extra points.

In the second, Pagan flashed Jerry Dale scored Imperial's first touchdown on a two-yard run in the opening period. The try for point failed. In the second, Zenon Ledesman roared 29 yards for the Longhorns' second marker and the PAT try again fell short.

Dale added the third Imperial score on a six yard dash in the second, then made the fourth on a run of similar distance. Edwin Borron cruised over for the two extra points and Imperial led at half time, 26-22.

Dale fled eight yards for Imperial's final score in the third round, after which Borron again added two points on a run. Score by quarters:

Sterling City Deflates Forsan Buffs, 50 To 0

STERLING CITY — Sterling City ran roughshod over Forsan, 50-0, in a District 5 eight-man game here Friday night.

The score wasn't indicative of the fierceness with which the two teams fought. A dropped pass robbed the Buffs of a sure score on one occasion and they penetrated Sterling's 20-yard line on three occasions, once going to the three. First downs favored Sterling City 19-7.

In the first period, Wayland Foster went eight yards for one Eagle tally. Bill Foster added the two PAT's. Wayland Foster scored again in the first on a 15-yard gallop, then added the two extra points. Mike Arp crossed the goal line for the Flock on an eight-yard run before the opening period ran out. Going into the wind in the second, Sterling couldn't score. In the third, Royce Sparks passed ten yards to Barry Churchill for another Sterling six-pointer and Arp added the two points on a run.

With 4:46 left in the game, Lee apparently had turned defeat into victory. A snap from center went sailing over Permian's Pat Brown, and Lee recovered on the Permian 30 on fourth down. Bucky Kimbie, boxed in on the left on an option, reversed his field and went in to score. Chuck Loftin kicked the point, but then Moravcik calmly engineered Permian into position and kicked his winning field goal, the second time this season he has done that.

After the Steer TD, Big Spring tried an onside kick without success and Abilene was on the move at the Steer 30 when the game ended.

Abilene had a decided edge at rushing the ball but the Steers almost made up for it with its aerial arm.

Hughes gave the Abilene quarterback a rugged time with his blitzing tactics. Dub McMeans and Bobby Griffin were effective on defense and as blockers, too, although the Steer blocking game as a whole was not up to par.

COAHOAMA — A massive display of touchdown power backed by a stout defense proved again the Coahoma Bulldogs' winning formula Friday night as they took the District 6-A championship by battering the Wylie Bulldogs, 53-14.

The red-clad Bulldogs slashed their way to three quick touchdowns in the first quarter and were never approached by an outclassed Wylie eleven. Coahoma piled up more than 400 yards rushing, struck for 20 first downs and crossed the goal stripe eight times in taking the championship victory.

It was the opening kickoff of the game, fumbled by a Wylie griddler, that brought Coahoma its first chance for pay dirt. Taking over on the fumble, Coahoma moved in four plays from the Wylie 34 to the one-yard stripe, where halfback Eddie McHugh, 162-pound senior, plunged over center for the tally. Only a few plays later, a pass interception by Coahoma's Johnny Gibson gave the Bulldogs their second chance for a touchdown. From their own 26-yard-line, the Bulldogs marched to the Wylie 25, where McHugh shot through a hole in the right side of the line and was on his way again. McHugh kicked the extra point and Coahoma held a 13-0 lead with eight minutes gone in the first quarter.

Moments later, still in the first quarter, Coahoma held Wylie to scant yardage and took over on a 10-yard-punt at the Wylie 35, where on the first play quarterback Dwayne Allen handed the pigskin to halfback Travis Reid who ranged around left end for the touchdown. McHugh booted the pigskin between the uprights and the end of the quarter found Coahoma's 20-0 lead.

The second quarter's opening four downs again found Wylie unable to make first-down yardage and Coahoma took over on the Wylie four-yard-line when a punt attempt failed as the pigskin was centered over the head of halfback Rusty Rutledge. On the first play, Allen handed off to fullback Tony Butler who slashed off right tackle for four yards and the TD. Moments later, after Wylie's offensive tries were stymied by the Coahoma defense, Coahoma took over on a fourth down fumble and moved from the 28 to the 14-yard-stripe in Wylie territory. Junior quarterback Marshall Williams took the pigskin and shot around left end for the 14 yards and pay dirt. Tackle Eddie Wolksi booted an extra point and with four minutes gone in the second quarter Coahoma held its 33-0 lead.

Wylie drew first blood in the second half, taking over on a fourth down fumble by Coahoma, and scoring on a 19-yard pass play from quarterback Gary Boyd to halfback Alan Morris. Boyd tossed a pitch-out to halfback Phil Roughton who slanted around left end for two extra points.

Coahoma moved again on the kickoff, taking the pigskin on their own 20-yard-marker and moving with four first downs to the Wylie nine. McHugh slashed through a hole in the center of the line and was into the end zone for the tally, with Butler carrying on a drive off right tackle for the extra points. With eight minutes gone in the third quarter, Coahoma held a 41-8 lead.

After holding the Wylie eleven to scant yardage, Coahoma took over on a punt and in three plays were on the Wylie 38. Quarterback Wayne Oglesby carried on a keeper-around left end behind strong blocking and was gone for the touchdown. Coahoma's seventh of the night.

As the third quarter ended, Wylie was finding its offensive jelling, with a 31-yard pass from Boyd to end Dean Glover setting up a touchdown, which came three plays later on a one-yard-plunge over center by Boyd.

Coahoma's final touchdown tally came when Allen handed off to halfback Johnny Gibson who bruised off right tackle into the end zone for 11 yards.

With the red-clad band of Coahoma High School forming a huge valentine on the field, half-time ceremonies focused on the presentation of football sweetheart, band sweetheart and a favorite football player. Geraldine Culppepper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Culppepper, was named band sweetheart, Martha Love, a cheerleader and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Love, was presented as football sweetheart and Eddie Wolksi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Owens, as the football favorite.

Buffaloes Lose To Plains 11

STANTON—Plains had to go all out to get by Stanton, 13-8, in a District 5-A football game here Friday night.

Stanton thus wound up its season with a 4-6 record and stands 1-4 within the district. Plains, if its claims for a penetration victory over Wink stands, is 7-2 for the season and 3-1 within the league.

Stanton moved out in front in the opening period when halfback Johnny Swanson, returning to action after an injury, boomed five yards to culminate an 80-yard march. Buddy Shanks passed to David Dunn for the two extra points.

Plains was slow to untrack but finally began to move in the third. Greg Jones ambled 20 yards for the first Cowboy score but the visitors failed to convert and still trailed, 8-6.

Dennis Crutcher finally won the game for Plains with a 32-yard run in the fourth. Crutcher also booted the PAT.

Gophers Tounce Purdue, 14-7

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — John Hankinson, passing with precision, fired Minnesota to a 14-7 victory over Purdue Saturday to virtually wipe out all hope the Boiler-makers harbored for making their first Rose Bowl trip.

Hankinson set two Gopher season passing records, with eight completions in 15 attempts for 159 yards and two touchdowns.

The Minnesota quarterback also bagged the Gophers' winning touchdown with 40 seconds gone in the fourth quarter.

Ohio State Buckeyes Near Big Ten Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State took a giant stride toward the Western Conference championship and a Rose Bowl bid Saturday as it won its fifth straight in the conference by 10-0 victory over Northwestern.

The game was a dice-players' dream as the seventh-ranked Ohioans parlayed Willard Sander's seventh touchdown and Bob Funk's seventh field goal into their seventh victory of the season.

Sander's score came in the first period on a five-yard plunge ending a 38-yard 11-play drive, and Funk's three-pointer came in the second session. The final half was the most sensational of the game, but produced no scoring.

Defensive halfback Mike Buckner came up with Northwestern's big play as he intercepted a Don Unverferth pass on his six and raced 71 yards to Ohio's 23, where Unverferth caught him. The long run came to naught, however, as Ohio took the ball on downs on the six.

In the final minute Northwestern's defense returned the compliment and stopped Ohio on the six-inch line after Tom Bugel had intercepted a Dave Milam pass and chased it 18 yards back to the 10.

Ohio State, defeated 27-0 by league.

Clay Will Be Out Of Ring For 6 Months

BOSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay was in excellent shape and resting quietly in a hospital Saturday after an operation for a hernia forced postponement of his schedule heavyweight title defense Monday against ex-champ Sonny Liston.

With the champ out of action for six or seven months, the promoters planned vaguely for a new date in Boston next April or May. They estimated they lost $75,000 and the closed TV circuit sponsors figured their red ink "bath" at between $100,000 and $400,000.

Liston, who lost the most of all—a chance to win back the title he lost last Feb. 25 when he sat in his corner at Miami Beach with an injured left shoulder—arranged to return to Denver almost immediately.

"I feel very bad," said Liston at a news conference. "I was ready to go. If it had to happen, I wish it happened earlier instead of waiting until all the hard work was over."

Liston said he didn't think the postponement would have any bad effect on him. He also said he didn't think he would try to take another fight while waiting for Clay to recover.

"No," he said in answer to a question. "I don't plan to visit Clay in the hospital."

Bill Faversham, who manages Clay for a Louisville sponsoring group, said he personally was willing to waive a clause in the contract and permit Liston to take a toupée hit if he wanted.

"If he couldn't win it easily, he shouldn't be in there anyway," said Faversham.

Both Faversham and Angelo Dundee, the champ's trainer, visited Clay Saturday morning. They reported him in fine spirits.

"Most of the time we were there he was worrying about how his camp people would get home," said Faversham. "He was still under sedation but he was clearly able to appreciate the fact that it was a good thing the injury took place last night instead of in the ring."

"He is resigned to the fact that he won't fight for a while, but is quite satisfied that he is on the way to recovery from this acute condition."

Faversham, said that the same three cooks who always worked with Clay had prepared the dinner he ate Friday night.

After the meal, Cassius complained of pains and became nauseated. He was taken to the hospital and underwent an operation late in the evening for an incarcerated hernia.

"He had a very simple diet," said Faversham. "Steak baked potato, tossed salad. All the food was prepared in his own private kitchen."

Dr. Nathan Shapiro, examining physician for the Massachusetts Boxing Commission who checked Clay at the hospital before the operation, said such hernia attacks happen suddenly about 20 per cent of the time.

Permian Bees Decision Shorthorn Club, 26-6

A charitable Big Spring B football team dropped a 26-6 decision to Odessa Permian on a windy Saturday afternoon here.

The Panthers scored touchdowns the first two times they handled the ball, one following a Big Spring fumble of the opening kickoff and again on a punt return.

The Shorthorns lost the first kickoff at its own 29 and quarterback Ricky McNurlin passed for the score to Mike Jordan on the first play.

Big Spring got nowhere on its next series of downs and Jordan gathered in the ensuing punt and romped 67 yards to pay dirt, giving the Panthers a 12-0 lead in the first four minutes.

Big Spring finally mounted a drive that paid off, maneuvering 63 yards in 12 plays. Sammy Mims got the score from the one.

The Panthers had time to get another one before the quarter was out. Bill Rodgers ambling in from nine yards away at the conclusion of a 66-yard march. McNurlin then passed to Mike Flynt for two extra points and Permian made its 20-6 lead stand up at half time.

Neither team scored in the third. In the fourth, Permian had two opportunities and made good on one of them, McNurlin passing to Gary Payne for 36 yards and the tally. Permian started the drive at the 29 but twice was set back by penalties.

Big Spring thus ended its season with a 5-3 win-loss record.

Thanks!

The magnificent 1965 Cadillac is once again in production. Our thanks to those unprecedented numbers of people who have already placed their orders. Their patience will soon be rewarded.

All eleven models of the great 1965 Cadillac are once again coming off the production line—and into showrooms. We regret that production had to be delayed more than a month following the announcement of this great new car. For we know the inconvenience that it caused the thousands of devoted Cadillac admirers who have placed their orders. But patience is seldom as richly rewarded as it will be for those who take title to this magnificent automobile—easily the most exciting Cadillac in history. Its new beauty and luxurious interiors surpass even traditional Cadillac standards. Its many personal options have made it the most desired automobile of all time. And its new handling ease must be experienced to be believed. See and drive this great car soon.

So new! So right! So obviously  Cadillac

Notre Dame Batters Michigan St., 34-7

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Sophomore Nick Eddy bolted 61 yards for a score in the first 3 1/2 minutes and unleashed a cascade of touchdowns for top-ranked Notre Dame Saturday that ended Ed's 10 losing years against Michigan State, 34-7.

It was the eighth straight victory for the Fighting Irish, headed possibly for their first perfect season and national championship since 1949.

Eddy smashed five yards for a second touchdown and ace quarterback John Huarte figured in the other two, a 13-yard pass to Joe Farrell and a 21-yard dash into the end zone after a fake handoff.

Ed Edwards' Pointer Is Among Show Winners

The Panhandle program had five events—Open Shooting Dog, Amateur All-Age, Amateur Derby...

Hard-Luck Lamesa Defeated; 12-7

LAMESA — A fumble in the fourth quarter gave Sweetwater Mustangs the breath of life they needed, and they drove 67 yards to nudge hard-luck Lamesa 12-7.

The Tornadoes were driving when they fumbled on the Sweetwater 33 with Benny Pace recovering for Sweetwater. Danny Foust drove over from the one to climax the rescue effort.

As a sample of Lamesa's fortune, the Tornadoes intercepted a Mustang pass at the 45, and drove to the Sweetwater three where Dick Roberts tried a pass for the score.

Undaunted, Lamesa went to work from its 29 and in 13 plays Phil Russell scored from the one. Jim Anderson booted the extra point and the 7-6 half-time advantage for Lamesa seemed good for victory.

Price's try for the point was low. The comeback win put Sweetwater in the bi-district playoffs. No matter if it should lose to Littlefield on Friday (which isn't likely), Sweetwater would still be the representative by virtue of its victory over Snyder. It is 5-0 for the season, Snyder 4-1. Lamesa now is 3-2-1.

Broncs Grab 2-AAAA Lead

ODESSA — Held in check for a half, Odessa's bulky Bronchos broke loose to bury Midland 23-3 and take the District 2-4A lead here Friday night.

Tommy Doran kicked a 24-yard field goal against the wind midway in the first quarter to stake Odessa to a 3-0 lead, but Midland, after missing one field goal, hit on another by Wayne Merritt from 32 yards against the wind.

Notre Dame's blitzing defense, the best in the country against rushing, allowed one Michigan State score — a 51-yard pass from Steve Juday to Gene Washington in the third period — and three times threw back Spartan drives inside their 20.

Tom Townsend intercepted a Midland pass in the fourth and returned it 17 yards to the Midland 40. Priddy led the charge to the goal, going the last five yards. David Murray intercepted another Midland pass two plays later and returned to the Midland 11. On the fourth play, Ray Goodard took a pitchout and went for the score.

Yale Is Trounced

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Princeton's undefeated football team led by Cosmo Iacavazzi capitalized on two big breaks to trounce Yale 35-14 and capture the Ivy League title Saturday.

Alabama Elbows Engineers Aside

ATLANTA (AP) — Alabama struck for two touchdowns in the final 1:45 of the first half and then played Georgia Tech off its feet the rest of the way to whip the Yellow Jackets 24-7 Saturday and keep alive its chances for a national football championship.

The victory was the Tide's ninth straight without a loss this season and it came so easily that a record crowd of 53,500 Tech partisans sat in dead silence most of the time.

rolling by recovering a Bruce Fischer fumble on the 50-yard line with 1:45 to go in the first half. Namath passed to David Ray, who went to the Tech one before being brought down. With 1:18 to go, Steve Bowman punched it over from the one and Ray added the extra point to make it 7-0. Alabama showed it was playing this one for keeps by trying an offside kick which Tech's Tom Ballard fumbled and the Tide's Creed Kilmer recovered. On the next play, Namath hit Ray Ogden on a 45-yard pass to give the Tide first and goal on the Tech five. Namath hit Ray in the end zone for the second marker: Georgia Tech scored its only touchdown with 21 seconds left to play when quarterback Jerry Dressley hit Giles Smith on a five-yard touchdown play. The victory was Coach Paul Bryant's 150th in 20 years of coaching.

Information, Education Get Emphasis By API

By MAX B. SKELTON
CHICAGO (AP) — The American Petroleum Institute showed its new format last week. The trade group of all segments of the oil industry streamlined its organization and objectives. "Greater emphasis will be placed upon information and education efforts," said Chairman J. D. Warren, who has headed a reorganization study group since mid-1963. "The purpose will be to generate better public understanding of the industry's achievements and of the political and economic conditions required for the industry to make its maximum contributions to society."

Association To Sponsor 'Advanced Practices'

The American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors announces the sponsorship of The University of Oklahoma course, "Advanced Drilling Engineering Practices," to be held at Casper College Jan. 25 through Feb. 5, 1965. This is the first of the more advanced type of program to be presented in the Rocky Mountain area. This training program is designed for tool pushers, drilling superintendents, and engineers with a certain degree of engineering training and mathematics. The two-week program will be presented by Dr. Preston Moore of the University of Oklahoma and Frank Cole of Cole Engineering Co. in Norman, Okla. Dr. Moore is well-known for his work in hydraulics and air-gas drilling. Cole is widely known as the co-author, with Arthur McCray, of the textbook, "Oil Well Drilling Technology," which is used as a text in 20 of the 22 colleges and universities offering degrees in petroleum engineering. Cole has specialized on minimum cost drilling techniques which are receiving widespread acceptance. Moore and Cole have prepared a special notebook which serves as a text covering the curricula presented. Information concerning the program may be obtained by writing to E. V. Sonies at Casper College, Casper, Wyo., or to Philip C. Blackburn of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, 211 N. Ervay, Room 505, Dallas. A fee is charged to cover the expense of presenting the course and the course material used by those enrolled.

This is the 13th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of these employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the Company.

'SENIORS' of the Cosden family...

ADRIAN A. PORTER
Adrian A. Porter is in his second period of service with Cosden. He first joined the company on July 1, 1936, and was employed much of the succeeding 11 years as a welder. There was time out for three years in the Air Force and an overseas hitch. Rejoining Cosden on Oct. 11, 1949, as a welder, he subsequently helped bring the Alkar unit on stream. Three years ago he got the long-awaited opportunity to transfer to the machine shop and learn that craft. He is a Machinist A. Although he was born in Emory, Tex., Porter has lived in Big Spring since 1928 and graduated from the local high school. He married Ruby Ella Peddy of Post in March, 1940. They have settled on a two-acre site on the Sterling City Route. Their older son, Adrian Errol, is in the Army at Fort Eustis, Va. Thomas Frederick, 13, is an eighth grader at Forsan Junior High, where he plays football and is a saxophonist in the school band.

Both Porter and Tommy are interested in horses. They own two, and are active in Big Spring Youth Horsemen. Porter is adult secretary of the group.

Porter and his wife, who is head checker at Furr's, participate in Forsan Band Boosters and P.T.A. The family is on the rolls of Baptist Temple, where Porter is program chairman for the Brotherhood. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Havens Now 35-Year Man

J. J. Havens, production foreman for Shell Oil Company's Abilene Division, "Big Spring Production Unit, will complete 35 years of service Nov. 16. Havens joined Shell in 1929 as a painter in Luling. During the years following he held various field assignments including oil switcher, oil pumper and roustabout. In 1945 he was named head roustabout in Hobbs, N.M., and in 1951 he was promoted to production foreman in McCamey. In 1952 he was assigned to Big Spring.

Orme New President Of Transportation Group

Douglas L. Orme of Dallas, general traffic manager of American Petrofina Company of Texas, was named president of the Transportation Club of the Petroleum Industry at the annual meeting last week in Chicago. The club is a national organization composed of representatives of the petroleum industry, its carriers and its suppliers. The club meets each year at the same time as the American Petroleum Institute annual meeting.

Orme, who stepped up from the vice presidency of the club, was associated with Cosden from May, 1929 until May, 1963, having served the company for 16 years as vice president-traffic. He joined American Petrofina Company of Texas when American Petrofina, Incorporated acquired the assets of Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

The new president of the Transportation Club is widely known in traffic and industry circles. He is chairman of the Petroleum and Petroleum Products Committee of Southwestern Shippers Advisory Board, is a founder-member of the American Society of Traffic and Transportation, and is a member of the General Committee, Division of Transportation, American Petroleum Institute.

His affiliations also include the National, Southwestern and Texas Industrial Traffic Leagues, the Association of Practitioners - Interstate Commerce Commission, and the Transportation Club of Dallas.

None Injured In Explosion

FLORESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A 24-inch gas transmission line exploded south of here early Saturday sending flames several hundred feet into the air. No one was injured.

About 2,000 feet of pipe was destroyed before the flames were brought under control about 6:30 a.m. The explosion was on the ranch of Mrs. P. C. Schiffers. The line is one of two main Alamo Gas Co. transmission lines serving San Antonio. "The explosion rocked the house and woke us up," Mrs. Schiffers said. "Everything was ablaze. The concussion and light were terrible. There was a horrible roar." Mrs. Schiffers said the explosion showered rocks and dirt over a large area. She said it ripped a large cavity in the ground but did no other damage. Block valves on the line were closed and gas re-routed through an adjoining 24-inch line with no interruption in service. Crews began hauling in new pipe. Paul Eaton, manager of operations said he did not know what caused the explosion.

Rig Activity Steps Up

Eleven units have been added to the tally of rotary drilling rigs operating in the Permian Basin Empire; according to the Friday survey of Reed Roller Bit Co.

The total stood at 203 for the week, 192 a week earlier and 204 on the comparable survey in 1963. Lea County, N. M., is first on the list with 40 rigs, an increase of six during the period.

Pecos County is second with 25, a gain of two, and Winkler County with 12, the same figure for the second week, is third.

The county by county survey, with previous week's totals in parenthesis, include: Andrews 9 (10), BORDEN 3 (3), Chaves 3 (3), Cochran 2 (2), Crane 9 (8), Crockett 8 (7), Cuthbertson 1 (0); DAWSON 4 (5); Ector 7 (9), Eddy 6 (9), FLETCHER 3 (2), Gaines 6 (5), GLASSCOCK 1 (2), Hale 1 (0), Hockley 3 (2), HOWARD 3 (2), Kent 3 (3); Lamb 1 (3), Lea 40 (34), Loving 3 (2), MARTIN 0 (1), Menard 1 (2), Midland 2 (1), MITCHELL 1 (1), Nolan 1 (0), Pecos 25 (23); Presidio 1 (1), Reagan 1 (1), Reeves 4 (3), Roosevelt 5 (2), Runnels 2 (3), Schleicher 2 (3), Scurry 2 (1), STERLING 1 (1), Stonewall 4 (3), Sutton 0 (1), Terry 1 (2), Tom Green 0 (2); Upton 6 (5), Ward 7 (4), Winkler 12 (12), Yoakum 9 (10). Totals 203. (192).

Dan Fletcher Is Promoted

HOUSTON — Appointment of Dan R. Fletcher as field representative here for U. S. Steel's Oilwell Division has been announced by J. E. Chenault, area manager of the division. Fletcher joined Oilwell in 1943 at Dallas. He served in the United States Navy from September 1944 until July 1946, returning to the employ of the division at Big Spring. Subsequently he was employed in various sales and managerial positions for Oilwell at Midland, Crockett and Houston. Prior to his present appointment he was a quotation and pricing specialist in the Houston office. He is a native of Dallas.

ALL HE ASKED FOR

A $30 Microscope, Index And 'Geology' Magazine

When the late Dr. J. A. Udden took the job as head of the University of Texas' Bureau of Economic Geology his salary was $2,500 a year, and field work funds were limited. All he asked for was a subscription to the magazine, "Geology," a $30 microscope and the $12.75 edition of "North American Index of Fossils." Not even the world's most famous gusher could make Texas institutions interested in exploring the state's geological resources, writes Walter B. Moore, editor of Texas Almagam. Some prospecting by amateurs resulted, but it was eight years after the 1901 Spindletop well blew in before the regents provided the university with a bureau of economic geology. Two more years were needed to persuade them to hire Dr. Udden. He was deeply interested in Texas, so he accepted. That was in 1911. Dr. Robert T. Hill sent a telegram summarizing Dr. Udden's contributions upon his death: "He was a superb naturalist, master geologist and greatest discoverer of geological resources that Texas or America ever had, with work on Permian potash and oil outstanding."

What Dr. Udden did for Texas is the subject of a slim volume, published recently in a limited edition by his family last summer. It was written as an M.A. thesis in English by Mrs. Monica Heiman at Sul Ross State College, Alpine, and the printed book may be obtained for $6 from Svante M. Udden, Rt. 1, Box 36, Kerrville, while the supply lasts.

The "Review of the Geology of Texas," which Udden and associates published, became a best seller by 1916 when oil-conscious Texans went after it. Although it was not necessarily the educational aspects that made the book sell, the map it contained attracted oil promoters.

"Fill her up," said the pilot, as most refueling is for small fighter and trainer type aircraft with a low capacity fuel induction system which restricts the fuel flow to 100 to 150 gallons per minute—well below the 600 gallons per minute capacity of the refueling units. Also, the fueling of the T-37 aircraft is a delicate process, since a fuel imbalance of only 12 gallons between one wing tank and the other is enough to ground the aircraft. Even with these restrictions, the Base Fuel Supply Branch has had no problems of regularly scheduled aircraft due to refueling problems in the past six months. With the great number of refuelings handled at Webb each day, the units must be assured a constant supply of fuel. This is the responsibility of the storage section, supervised by Raleigh McCullough. Webb receives fuel by tank truck, railroad tank car, and direct pipeline from the Cosden refinery. The fuel is stored in three large tanks, one of which is always being refilled to assure a constant supply sufficient to cover any emergency. A special problem shared by the storage section is the quality control section is the storage of liquid oxygen such as used in the T-38. The liquid oxygen, or LOX as it is called, must be stored in large tanks resembling oversized thermos bottles to keep it from boiling—at minus 297 degrees! It is kept at just below this temperature ready for transfer to aircraft. The job of the quality control section, headed by S. Sgt. Robert L. Brown, NCOIC, and S. Sgt. Aubrey L. Jones, inspector, is to see that only clean, dry fuel is delivered to the jet aircraft. Solid particles as small as one twentieth the diameter of a human hair can be harmful to jet engines. Fuel cleaning has to be a continuous process from the refinery to the aircraft, since contamination can occur at any point in the distribution, storage, and dispensing systems. This is an extremely exacting process, as solid particle contamination must never exceed one and three quarter pounds per 100,000 gallons of fuel.

This Gas Station Handles Tremendous Fuel Supply

Base Fuel Supply Branch is headed by Capt. James L. Hudson, with SM Sgt. Joseph Miller as NCOIC. It takes a total of 72 military and 21 civilians to keep the four sections of Webb's big gas station going. Heading the accounting section is Mrs. Lois A. Hill, who supervises the recording and reporting of fuel issued at Webb. Most of the people working for Base Fuel Supply are employed in the distributing section, which is responsible for the actual refueling process. T. Sgt. Felix N. Thomas is the NCOIC, working with day shift leader S. Sgt. Ralph W. Brown and night shift leader S. Sgt. Max N. Harbison. This two-shift operation begins at 5 a.m. and runs to 1 a.m. the following day, seven days a week. On the average, 15 to 20 transient aircraft are serviced in addition to the usual 400-plus refuelings of local aircraft. The job is complicated further

New Insurance For Landmen

The American Association of Petroleum Landmen has approved a new plan of low cost life insurance which is available to all members, C. D. Fleet Jr., executive vice president of the association, recently announced. AAPL already has three group insurance programs in force for members, accidental death and dismemberment, major medical, and accident and sickness disability income. The new life plan will be offered in an initial amount of $10,000 with optional coverage on the insured's wife and children in the amounts of $5,000 and $2,500 respectively. The coverage is also being offered to employees of AAPL members. The insurance is being offered by American Life Insurance Co., Birmingham, Ala., with Wray, Couch & Elder, Houston, acting as administrator and agent. Fleet announced that members of the association, in good standing, have been mailed information concerning the insurance plan, and that Petroleum Landmen who might be eligible for membership in AAPL and interested in the insurance should contact Association Headquarters, Continental Life Bldg., Fort Worth.

EMPLOYMENT

HELP WANTED, Male F-1
THE MARSHALL (Texas) News Messenger, an afternoon daily, needs a general reporter, immediately. New plant five-day week, good working conditions. Contact: Bill Maddox, Webster 3-714. No. 3141, Texas.

UNIQUE LIFE INSURANCE SALES OPPORTUNITY
A 76-year-old company will employ one man to operate in the Big Spring area as a salesman on a salary and bonus. The man selected will have all leads furnished from established accounts, and may reside anywhere within the Big Spring trade area. He will work with an experienced supervisor during the break-in period, but after that should be capable of handling the area by himself with a minimum of supervision from the home office. Ideally, his performance and qualifications should lead to a managerial responsibility after a year or so. Primary requirements include proven sales experience, preferably in intangibles or life insurance. A college education background would be helpful, but is not necessary. Age should be from 30 to 50. The man selected will participate in company fringe benefits, including paid vacation, retirement plan, and group insurance. The company is a nationally recognized leader in its field, will have a representative in Big Spring, Monday and Tuesday to discuss the job with qualified applicants. All replies will be held confidential and will be answered. If you are a hard worker, ambitious, and determined to excel, write, giving background, age, and marital status, to:
Box B-340 Care of The Herald

What's the catch? There isn't any. Plunk $1701 into any Salesman's hand at Western Car Co. and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)

Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it. Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

MISS CAROLYN MIGNINI

Baltimore Girl Is Teenage Queen

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Carolyn Mignini, a sparkling lyric soprano from Baltimore who wants a Broadway singing career, is the new Miss Teen-age America.

The 17-year-old beauty with a dimpled smile looked dazed but didn't cry when Bud Collyer, emcee of the 90-minute CBS show, named her the winner Friday night.

A straight-A student at the Institute of Notre Dame High School, Carolyn is a "real sweet, down-to-earth girl," her mother said. "You can also say that I'm the happiest mother in Maryland and Texas."

Kathleen Frances Ross, 17-year-old from Pittsburgh who was everybody's friend during the week-long pageant, was selected for an award of excellence. She will take over the title in the event Carolyn gives it up. Kathy did a humorous song and dance as Eliza singing "Wouldn't it be Lovely." She said she was "sky-high happy" after the show.

Other finalists were Andrea Lynn Ayers, 16, Greenville, S.C.; Linda Diane Licciardi, 17, San Francisco, and Debra Diethelm, 15, Toledo, Ohio. The $10,000 college scholarship will enable Carolyn, one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Joseph Mignini, to attend Julliard School of Music next fall. She wants a degree before entering stage productions and doesn't plan to marry until she's about 27.

Carolyn entered the competition for the fourth annual pageant after her father, a clothes cutter, brought her a clipping and other prizes and said "Hi, hon, how would you like to be Miss Teen-age America?"

In addition to studying voice for five hours every Saturday at Peabody Preparatory School, Carolyn models for a Baltimore department store, works with the Baltimore Actors Theater and charity groups.

"She dates a lot and has many friends... she's really a joy of a daughter and that's no put-on, that's the truth," her mother, a hair stylist who was chaperone, said.

Carolyn has large dark brown eyes, weighs 105 pounds, and stands 5'3". Her favorite sports are tennis, swimming and horseback riding. In men, she looks for "consideration, a sense of humor, and gentleness."

Finalists Are Selected In Speech Contest

Three finalists were selected from a field of five Saturday in the first Kiwanis Club Oratory Contest, and they will be judged during the Thursday meeting of the club to decide the competition winners.

The Howard County Junior College finalists are: Gary Kendrick, Hereford, sophomore majoring in social science; Ralene Snow, Oakland, Calif., freshman majoring in interior decoration; and Don Boyd, Big Spring, freshman majoring in education.

Other contestants were Edward Hart and Byrum Lee Jr. Saturday judges were Mrs. Cornelia Gary, Rev. V. Ward Jackson, and Bob Travis. Charles Warren was timekeeper.

The contest was open to all HCJC students, and the theme was "American Free Enterprise — Our Hope For the Future." Martin Landers, speech instructor, handled entries for the club, and Jim Thompson was in charge of club activities.

Each contestant was required to talk at least seven minutes, but no longer than 10 minutes.

The three finalists are assured of some cash prize. First place winner will get $100, second place $50, and third place $25.

Pathet Lao Troops Defect

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reporting a favorable turn in the low-level war in Laos, U.S. officials say that more than 500 Communist Pathet Lao troops have defected to neutralist government forces.

Daily strikes of American-supplied T28 planes flown by the Royal Laos Air Force were credited with the upturn in the Laotian government's cause.

Sporadic air attacks in the early summer against Pathet Lao troop concentrations and road junctions have been stepped up within the past month.

Demo Changes To GOP Side

AUSTIN (AP) — State Republican headquarters said Saturday that Michael Vaughn of Cayuga, elected Nov. 3 as a justice of the peace in Anderson County on the Democratic ticket, is switching to the GOP.

The party said Vaughn feels "The principles of Thomas Jefferson have been ignored repeatedly by the Democratic party as it seeks to produce a welfare state."

Waiting For Frost To Defoliate Cotton

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Last week's moisture and good growing weather helped grains and winter pastures. The rains stopped harvesting only temporarily, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He said harvesting of major crops is generally in the mopping-up stage except in West and Northwest Texas. High Plains farmers were waiting for a killing frost to defoliate cotton. The overall soil moisture situation was materially improved by the rains, he said.

Rains over the Panhandle helped wheat which is now making good growth. More moisture is needed to keep wheat growing. The grain sorghum harvest, slowed by rain, is 85 per cent complete.

Irrigated cotton growers on the South Plains await a killing frost. Machine harvesting will begin as soon as possible after frost. Moisture is short in most counties. About 25 per cent of the cotton in the southern counties is harvested. Most wheat is up to a good stand with some being grazed. More than 90 per cent of the sorghum has been harvested. Cattle are improving as stalk fields and wheat pasture for grazing are utilized.

Half of the Rolling Plains has adequate moisture, half is on the dry side. Grains are making good growth and being grazed. Peanuts and pecans are being harvested.

Good rains fell over North Central Texas and grains are looking extra good.

Moisture is short in Northeast Texas. Far West Texas needs a general rain for ranges, but dry weather for the cotton harvest. Grass is short. Ranchmen are ready for a big harvest of deer and wild turkeys. Game is in excellent condition.

West Central Texas cotton and peanut harvests were delayed by rains. Grains are growing well. More rain is needed on grains and pastures. A light crop of good quality pecans is being harvested. Up to 25 per cent of the area's peanut crop is harvested. Ranges are below average. Small grain grazing is available in most counties. Deer and wild turkeys are in excellent shape.

Moisture is adequate in Central Texas where grains are making good progress and furnishing light grazing. The cotton harvest in the Blacklands was about over and past 80 per cent mark in other sections. Late peanuts are still growing, while early fields are being harvested. Pecan yields will be light. Grass is short.

Most of East Texas still is too dry. Most harvesting is over ex-

Chiefs Told About Police Academy

LAMESA (SC)—Some 20 area chiefs of police attended a Region 4 meeting of the Texas Police Chiefs Association at City Hall here Friday.

Jay Banks, Big Spring chief, outlined the operation of the new police academy at Howard County Junior College, saying the first graduates of the academy are sufficiently trained that they do not have to be placed with experienced officers on their first assignments. "The school is doing an excellent job of training law enforcement officers and they have some of the country's top-notch instructors," Banks said.

Banks asked the chiefs to send estimates of new students to the Big Spring college so preparations can be made for the next class. Officially named the Southwest Academy of Law Enforcement, the police school was organized this year primarily cept for pecans. Pastures are average or below.

Moisture is good in all south-east and upper Gulf Coast counties except Hardin, Jefferson and Orange where rain is needed. Harvesting is complete except in Brazos and Burleson counties, and some rice in the coastal counties. Pecan yields are below average.

Moisture in South Central Texas is adequate except in Bee, DeWitt, Karnes, Live Oak, Refugio and Wilson counties. Prospects for seeding flax are good. Some oats are still to be planted. Range prospects are much improved.

PHOTOS OF FASHION

THE PICTURE OF BEAUTY, Mrs. Don Newsom models a stunning elongated dress of bewitching black velvet by Sandra Sage. One armstrap is saucily bowed and pinned with a spray of rhinestones, and the narrow skirt is daringly side-slashed. Her evening wrap is sumptuous Autumn Haze mink.

"A Glimpse of Fashion Dictates—Fall and Holiday—1964" will be seen Thursday evening at Big Spring Country Club. The dinner fashion show, presented by Swartz and Elmo Wasson, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the club ballroom.

As a new era of fashion unfolds for the shimmering winter season, 32 models will show ensembles that span the hours from active morning to intimate evening. Following the showing of active sports apparel and costumes for daytime activities, the social affair will climax with the modeling of formal evening wear.

The commentator for the show is Mrs. Juanita Caddell and organ selections will be by Mrs. Champ Rainwater.

FOR DRAMATIC evening splendor, Mrs. Kimball Guthrie wears an enchanting long ball gown by Victoria Royal. The fragile and feminine white lace, re-embroidered with delicate beading, falls smoothly over pale yellow silk. Her handsome friend, Col. A. F. Tauter, achieves masculine elegance in a red and green Scottish plaid dinner jacket, as they chat with Dr. Carl Marcum, the picture of distinction in a fashionable blue silk dinner jacket which frames the embroidered front of a tuxedo shirt.

PREFERRING TRADITIONAL elegance of a black tuxedo by After Six, Lester Morton joins Grant Boardman, eminently good-looking in a black wool and mohair suit by Baker, in being attentive escorts for Mrs. Vernon C. Peterson. The danceable skirt of her bronze satin gown falls in soft folds from a lavishly beaded bodice.

RESPLENDENT in an official Air Force mess dress uniform by After Six, Lt. Col. Jay L. Lauer accompanies Mrs. James Duncan, glamorous in a long formal of creamy white knit by Gene Shelley. The squared neckline is outlined with a wide band of gold beading. More gold beads sparkle the entire length of this elegant evening fashion.

SECTION C

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1964

MRS. WILLIAM PAUL FANNIN

Miss Linda Manley Weds W.P. Fannin

Miss Linda Pearl Manley became the bride of William Paul Fannin at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in a ceremony held in the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ.

Perry Cotham, minister, read the double ring rites before an altar centered with a sunburst of white gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked by candelabra holding white cathedral tapers. Completing the scene were fern trees and white altar standards connected with white satin roping. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Manley, 1314 Mt. Vernon, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fannin, 1606 E. 6th.

A program of wedding music included "Whither Thou Goest," "The Wedding Prayer," "I'll Walk Beside You," "The Wedding March" and "The Lord Bless and Keep You." Vocalists were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley, Mr. and Mrs. David Elrod, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Stasey, Stanley Peurifoy and Mrs. Volle Sorrells.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her formal gown was of antique satin peau de soie with imported re-embroidered Alencon lace at the scalloped batteau neckline. The lace theme flowed over the gathered side interest and into a bow-topped chapel train. Her pearl crown with waist-length veil was borrowed from Mrs. Bill Prentiss, sister of the bridegroom, and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. Lewis Nordin, Tyler. She used the traditional items such as the blue garter and birthdate pennies.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid encircled with Frenched carnations showered with white picot streamers and pearls and carried atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Bobby Leath-erwood, Denton. Her street-length turquoise dress was of satin with a fitted bodice, elbow-length sleeves and a rounded neckline. The waist was encircled with a cummerbund. She carried a nosegay of gold miniature chrysanthemums showered with matching satin, and her headpiece was a small pillbox with shadow veil.

The best man was Danny McCrary, Alpine. Serving as usher were Mike Manley, Duncan, Okla., cousin of the bride; Jimmy Knous, Stanton, uncle of the bride; and Frank Neill, cousin of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside at 304 E. 13th after a wedding trip to San Antonio. For travel the bride was attired in an aqua knit suit with which she wore brown lizard accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall at the church. Parents of the honorees joined them in receiving guests who were registered by Miss Barbara Manley, sister of the bride.

The refreshment table was covered with flounced white organdy over turquoise linen and appointed with crystal and silver. The bride's bouquet, backed by turquoise candles, was used as the centerpiece. The three-tiered cake was embossed with roses, wedding bells and latticed hearts and was topped with a miniature bride and groom in a pearl hour.

Texas Trip Begun By C. V. Washes

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash left Friday to visit in Waco with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Wash. Also, they plan to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Booth, in Columbia.

In Odessa for the weekend are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Breithaupt, and daughter, Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Prescott, Sand Springs, were Forsan visitors. They were the guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. L.roy Prescott, Nona and Donald.

HOUSE PARTY

Members of the house party were Miss Ann Gibbs, Mrs. Bill Prentiss, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. L. B. Conway, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. W. W. Lansing and Miss Thresa Foster.

Attending from out-of-town were Mrs. Pearl Manley and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Manley, all of Nocona; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Manley and Charles Robert, Duncan, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Murray and Ronnie, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Knous and family, all of Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Zullo, Odessa.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The rehearsal dinner was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents Friday evening. The buffet dinner was served from a table covered with white linen and centered with an arrangement of turquoise candles and flowers. The engaged couple presented gifts to their attendants. Seventeen attended.

MRS. W. L. ROBINSON JR. Curley's Studio

Miss Shirley Averitt Weds W.L. Robinson

Miss Shirley Averitt and W. L. Robinson Jr. were united in marriage Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Westside Baptist Church with the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Andress, performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Walter B. Averitt, 1508 E. 6th, and the late Walter Averitt. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Robinson Sr., 5332 Ave. G, Lubbock.

Baskets of white carnations banked the altar, and candelabra with white wedding tapers flanked the arrangements. James Kinman, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Walker at the organ, sang "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Delbert Simpson, was attired in a waltz-length gown of blue lace over taffeta. The softly pleated skirt was topped with a jacket fashioned with a jewel neckline and bow trim at the back closing. Matching slippers of satin, and a tiara of pearls fastened to a short veil completed the costume. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and a corsage of white carnations.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS WERKING, GREG, BRUCE, ANDY AND DOUG

Karate Might Prove Convenient To Know

By JO BRIGHT

"Well, there is the center chop and the flying attack kick . . ."

At that point, Lt. Dennis Werking stopped in mid-sentence. With slight surprise, and obvious amusement, he protested, " . . . you know, it sounds pretty silly when you try to describe it."

The lieutenant was explaining the finer points of karate, the art of self defense as taught in the Orient. However awkward to discuss, in practice it is a serious matter. You might say, not to make sport of—but a handy thing to know should one be forced into unsociable company.

While stationed at Osan Air Base in Korea, Lt. Werking took instruction in karate, a year later earning the brown belt. The rank was achieved after nightly sessions where, after two hours of practice, another hour was spent in free fighting.

"Naturally, for every defense there is a counter-attack," continued Lt. Werking, "and you are taught to approach karate as a means to destroy, if necessary, not maim."

Lt. and Mrs. Werking came to Big Spring last month when he returned from Korea and was assigned to Webb Air Force Base as a meteorologist. They live on the base at 446-B Westover with their four sons, Greg, 7, Bruce, 5, Andy, 3, and Doug, 2. The boys are well-mannered but not shy, and she is a pretty, blue-eyed brunette whose sense of humor is a valuable asset when she's so outnumbered by the men in her life.

INDIANA NATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Werking were both reared in Indiana. She is the former Betty Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dixon of Muncie, Ind., and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rust of Muncie and Earl Werking of Phoenix, Ariz.

They attended different schools, she graduating from Burriss High School and he attending Muncie Central before entering Ball State Teacher's College where he majored in math, earning a teacher's certificate. As a member of the ROTC he was a distinguished military graduate and received a regular commission.

He attended the Air Force Institute of Technology at Texas A&M University where he studied meteorology before being assigned to Luke Air Force Base in Arizona. From there he went to Osan, Korea, where his duties included teaching high school math to servicemen.

The Werking's were married

Rainbows At Meet

Five local members of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls were in Colorado City Wednesday evening to attend a complimentary affair for several honorees.

Those honored were Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Whitfield and Darlene Prino. Mrs. Whitfield is the supreme service and supreme inspector of the State of Texas Order of the Rainbow for Girls, and her husband is a member of the state executive committee. Miss Prino is grand worthy advisor of the state order.

Girls attending from here were Judy Daniel, Sheryl Gambill, Fran Smith, Gay Nell Taylor and Patsy Sweeney. Adults accompanying the group were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Daniel, Mrs. Orbin Daily, Mrs. Rick Shaughnessy and Mrs. Tracy Roberts.

Jan. 27, 1957, in Hartford, Ind. Lt. Werking had acquired an interest in carpentry from his step-father and used this knowledge to build their first home in Muncie. Mrs. Werking confided that by working as a carpenter, janitor, and jack-of-all-trades, her husband had been able to support his family without her help and pay all his college expenses. For her own satisfaction, she created time to attend Indiana Business College while he was overseas.

ACTIVE HOBBIES

Lt. Werking still lists carpentry as a hobby along with hunting, fishing and tennis. Both like to bowl, and play bridge and chess.

"I really learned to play chess from Greg," said Mrs. Werking. "He had watched older children play and kept asking me to join him in a game. One day I did, just to humor him, and discovered he knew much more about it than I did."

The family enjoys traveling and turned their trip to Texas into a leisurely sight-seeing tour. When he returned from Korea, Mr. and Mrs. Werking spent a delayed honeymoon in Chicago, Ill., and took the boys on to the World's Fair in New York City, N.Y.

There's nothing on their schedule now but enjoying life in Big Spring until he leaves to attend squadron officers school next May.

Demonstration Clubs Study Accessorizing

Accessories in the home and their relationship to the owners and each other were discussed at a number of home demonstrations club meetings this week. The program was presented by the home demonstration county agent, Mrs. Delaine Crawford.

The principles of good design are applicable in all phases of home furnishings. In the choosing of accessories, color, harmony, scale, balance and rhythm must be considered.

Accessories in the home express family interests and include such items as ash trays, book ends, clocks and decorative objects. They can be lasting and essential parts of the furnishings, complementing the room by serving their purpose and being attractively arranged.

WASSON ROAD CLUB

Mrs. Crawford used pictures to illustrate her talk on home accessories when she spoke Monday to members of the Wasson Road Home Demonstration Club. The group met in the home of Mrs. Carl Mangum, and Mrs. Tommy Freeland was hostess.

Mrs. Freeland presided at the business session and announced Mrs. Melvin Newton would work at the Hereford sale Nov. 28th. The club will donate pies and beans. The members will sell vanilla and pepper for the council.

Six members answered roll call telling of what colors they liked in combination, and Mrs. Freeland gave the devotion.

The next meeting will be Nov. 23 in the home of Mrs. Mangum with Mrs. F. A. Gibbs in charge of the program, and

CENTER POINT CLUB

Mrs. W. L. Eggleston, 1307 Main, was hostess to eight members and guests of the Center Point Home Demonstration Club Tuesday when Mrs. Crawford presented a program on accessorizing the home.

New members welcomed were Mrs. Bob Wren, Mrs. Travis Melton and Mrs. A. A. McKinney. Guests were Mrs. Ray Brown, Mrs. C. E. Prather and the guest speaker, Mrs. Crawford.

The hostess gave the devotion and roll call was answered with "Colors I Like Together."

A letter of thanks was read from the Big Spring State Hospital for the group's membership in the Buck-A-Month Club. Also, aprons were given to the

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Hawkins are recuperating in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hawkins. He has been dismissed from the Veterans Administration Hospital, and she was released from Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Skeen were in Portales, N.M. recently visiting with relatives.

Family Dinner Marks Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Rutledge, 1208 E. 16th, will be honored today by their daughters and families in honor of their 60th wedding anniversary. A family dinner will be held in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club.

Their anniversary date was on a Friday the 13th as was their wedding date in 1904. She was the former Miss Nora Savage of Florence. Rutledge has formerly been in the ice cream business, was manager of two bottling companies and spent his last business years as a grocer. He is now retired.

Those who will attend the party are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, their son, Steve, and their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis McKnight and children, Mark and Melody. Also, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fesmire and sons, Ricky and Rusty, all of Odessa, will be present.

The table will be accented in pink and white with an arrangement of pink roses centering the table and the cake inscribed with the anniversary date.

Early Day Program Presented

The first Thanksgiving was the program theme presented by Mrs. T. G. Adams and Mrs. Harwood Keith at the Friday meeting of the Modern Woman's Forum. Mrs. M. A. Cook, 1611 Main, was hostess.

Mrs. Adams introduced the study with the reading of the Thanksgiving Psalm. Mrs. Keith spoke of the autumn season and its meaning to the pilgrims. She told of those early days when the people suffered such hardships and of their eventual friendships with the Indians.

She noted that Miles Standish was the first American to call a civil defense meeting. Mrs. Adams closed with a reading of the poem, "Just For Today."

Plans were made for a Christmas tea Dec. 11 at 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass. A gift exchange will be held. A letter of thanks from the Big Spring State Hospital was read concerning the club donation of $26 to the Christmas fund.

Refreshments were served to 11 members.

New Home Made

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Ficklin and children, Tommy, Stevie and Susie, have moved to Oklahoma City, Okla., where he will be employed by Mobil Oil Company.

The group will wrap Christmas packages at the hospital Nov. 16.

Mrs. Eggleston gave a council report and reported the club will cook 30 pounds of meat and furnish four pies for the Hereford sale, one club member will work in the food booth.

The next meeting will be Nov. 24 at noon for a dinner at the Downtown Tea Room.

LUTHER CLUB
Mrs. John Blackburn, 310 W. 5th, was hostess, to the Luther Home Demonstration Club Thursday and Mrs. Frances Zant presided.

Mrs. Crawford was the program speaker and detailed the arranging of accessories in the home. Plans to participate in the Hereford sale were made with the club furnishing pies and cooking potatoes.

A roll call on color was answered by five members, and Mrs. Gene Zant was a guest. Mrs. Louis Underwood will be the Dec. 1 hostess.

KNOTT CLUB
Six members of the Knott Home Demonstration Club participated in the Knott Home Demonstration Club prayer Tuesday when the group met in the home of Mrs. Robert Brown.

Plans were made for a Thanksgiving dinner to be held Nov. 24 in the Downtown Tea Room. Mrs. Frank Hodnett was a guest.

LEES CLUB
Mrs. Mildred Elland, home demonstration agent, gave a program on food and Christmas decoration to the Lees Home Demonstration Club Tuesday at the club house.

A covered dish luncheon was held by six members and Mrs. Eugene Smith was hostess. The table was decorated in the Thanksgiving theme.

The council will meet Nov. 20 at 2 p.m. in the Garden City courthouse. A display of Christmas gifts and decorations will be held Nov. 17 at 10 a.m. in the Caprock building in Stanton. The public is invited.

The club Christmas party will be Dec. 8 at 2 p.m. when new officers will be installed. Mrs. E. B. Low will be hostess.

Hecks Are Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Heck, Falfurrias, were Wednesday guests in the Jeff Walker home at 1708 Donley.

Meet Madame President

Mrs. James Bruce Frazier, 1606 E. 25th, is serving as president of the Faculty Ma'ams, an organization of Howard County Junior College wives.

MRS. J. B. FRAZIER

Other organizations with which she is affiliated include the Kentwood P-TA, College Heights P-TA, Choir Boosters, Band Boosters and Big Spring Garden Club. She was a charter member and served as the first president of the Spaders Garden Club.

Couple Recites Vows In Stanton Ceremony

STANTON (SC)—Miss Peggy Caryl Davenport and Charles Lesley Smith were married at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride chose a formal gown of Chantilly lace and ivory slipper satin, the molded bodice featuring a rounded neckline and petal point sleeves.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Davenport, 503 St. Benedict and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, Sonora.

Baskets of gladioli graced the altar which was flanked by seven-branched candelabra, and Mrs. Ernest Hock, organist, presented traditional wedding selections.

Tiny covered buttons accented the back of the gown and sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt swept into a chapel train, and her double-tier veil of illusion was held by a coronet of pearls.

As she was escorted to the altar where she was given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a white Bible which was topped with a white orchid encircled with stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Miss Glynnda Davenport, Midland, was the maid of honor and wore a gown of winter green taffeta brocade styled with rounded neckline and petal point sleeves. The bridesmaid was Miss Diana Johnson, Midland, who was dressed identically to the maid of honor. They wore green pillbox hats and each carried a long-stemmed white carnation.

Jimmy Dee Smith, San Angelo, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man, and the groomsmen were Jack Adkins, Sonora. Ushers were Adrian McCoy, San Antonio, and Dick Swails, Sonora. Janet Davenport, Ackerly, and Debbie Ray, Midland, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls, and Jimmy Ray, niece and nephew of the bride, lighted the altar tapers.

WEDDING TRIP
For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was attired in a blue mohair suit, black patent accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will reside at 100 Howard, Midland, after Dec. 1.

A graduate of Stanton High School and Childers School of Hairdressing and Cosmetology in Midland, the bride is employed by the Sue Ann Beauty Shoppe in Stanton. The bridegroom graduated from Sonora High School and is employed by Brock Construction, Midland.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Guests were greeted by the bride and bridegroom, their parents, and members of the wedding party and were registered by Mrs. Arvil Fincher, Midland.

Serving was from a table covered with a lace cloth and appointed with a silver coffee service and crystal punch service. The three-tiered wedding cake was embossed with roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Pete Skains served.

Guests attended from ten cities.

As she was escorted to the altar where she was given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a white Bible which was topped with a white orchid encircled with stephanotis.

Tells Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holly of Lamesa are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sidney Lou, to Tommy Willem of Idalou. The wedding is planned for Dec. 11 at 5:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Welch. Willem is the son of Mrs. Laverne Deily of Mission.

Students Speak On Modern Math

Demonstrations in modern math were given by students in the second and sixth grades at Cedar Crest Elementary School at the Parent-Teachers Association meeting Thursday.

Mrs. Thomas Carpenter presided at the business session and announced the association project for the year will be the construction of a volleyball court for the school.

The second grade class won the room count and mothers of the class served refreshments.

Mrs. Grigsby Has Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. M. C. Grigsby was hostess Wednesday for a bridge luncheon in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club. Special guests were Mrs. Zollie Boykin and Mrs. Floyd D. Reese, Austin, mother of Mrs. Joe Moss.

WESTBROOK (SC) — Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Clawson and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sullivan during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clawson, Mrs. F. A. Carter, and Mrs. Calvin Fendisen, all of Corpus Christi, and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Clawson and Larry Wayne of Coahoma. Also, guests in the Sullivan home were Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Sullivan, Marty and Debbie and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sullivan of Las Cruces, N.M. All attended the wedding of Miss Donna Henderson to Laverly Sullivan at Westbrook Baptist Church.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rice Saturday night were Mrs. R. D. Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Clark and sons of Monahan. Mrs. Meeks is a daughter of the Rices.

Visiting in the W. A. Bell home Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker and Virginia and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walker and son, Bill Jr., of Odessa.

First Aid Studied By Forum Women

Emergency first aid treatment, was the program study presented by Mrs. Alan Swearingen at the Thursday meeting of the Progressive Woman's Forum. She outlined what must be done for cuts, burns and bites before the victim is taken to the doctor.

Mrs. Maxwell Green, 1902 Main, was hostess to 10 members, and Mrs. Granville Hahn was welcomed as a new member.

Christmas Dinner Set By Auxiliary

Mrs. Jeff Walker, president of the Ladies Auxiliary to Big Spring Barracks, announced plans for a Christmas dinner and officer election on Dec. 11, when the group met Thursday at the IOOF Hall. Refreshments were served to 35 auxiliary and Big Spring Barracks members, and a sing-song was held.

Wadsworth-Davidson Rites Performed In Baptist Church

Wedding vows were solemnized for Miss Joyce Davidson and Benny Rhea Wadsworth Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Trinity Baptist Church. Dr. Jack Power, minister, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cherry, 1613 Indian Hills. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wadsworth, 2101 Main.

Gerald Davidson accompanied his sister to the altar where a fern tree formed a background for an archway entwined with huckleberry and white chrysanthemums. White tapers in traditional seven-branched candelabra flanked the altar, and white wrought iron standards were draped with white satin rope.

Miss Dixie Todd, cousin of the bride, played traditional wedding music on the organ and accompanied Joe and Kay Rowland, cousins of the bride, who sang "Because of You" and "Melody of Love" before the ceremony. Following the reading of the vows, they sang, "Whither Thou Goest."

BRIDAL GOWN

The bridal gown of imported satin and handmade lace was designed by the bride and styled by her sister, Mrs. Curtis Tomlin, of Heidelberg, Germany. The sleeveless bodice, fashioned with a jeweled neckline, was topped with a lace overblouse scalloped at the waistline and styled with petal point sleeves. A chapel train was attached to the needle-point formal skirt. Her elbow-length veil cascaded from a satin tiara.

A cascade arrangement of white feathered carnations centered with red roses formed the bridal bouquet. It was carried atop a white Bible engraved with the bride and groom's names, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Karla Wadsworth, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Everett Wooten, en, Sacramento, Calif., cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Robin Clifton, Houston. They were identically dressed in rose red peau de soie frocks fashioned with fitted bodices and street-length neeple point skirts. They wore matching slippers and carried single pink roses decked with matching streamers.

Jerry Wadsworth, Austin, served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Don Thomson, Jack Callaway and Dale Moody, all of Midland. Ushers were Micky Weatherman, Midland, and Robin Clifton, Houston.

CANDLELIGHTERS

Patricia Cherry, sister of the bride, and Kay Rowland were costumed in matching pink peau de soie dresses and wore wristlets of pink miniature roses. They lighted the altar tapers. Rodney Davidson, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. For a wedding trip to New Mexico and El Paso, the bride wore a red wool jersey dress with matching mohair jacket, black accessories and the red rose corsage from her bridal bouquet. Following the honeymoon, they will make a home at 4708 Laura Drive, Midland. The bride is an honor graduate of Big Spring High School where she was listed in Who's Who and a member of the National Honor Society. She attended Howard County Junior College and has been employed with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Big Spring.

MRS. BENNY RHEA WADSWORTH

The bridegroom, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College and Texas A&M University. Presently he is employed with Gulf Oil Corporation in Midland is a member of the Eagles Lodge.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at Corden Country Club following the wedding. The bride's table was appointed in crystal and silver and decked with twin flower arrangements. The four-tiered cake, made by Mrs. Earl Hollis, was accented with love birds between each tier and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink and red roses on the cake carried out the bride's chosen color scheme.

Mrs. Gerald Davidson, sister-in-law of the bride, registered guests, and house party members were Miss Katherine Homan, Miss Phoebe Rice, Mrs. Marvin Hayworth and Mrs. Ben Nix.

Guests were registered from California, Houston, Austin, Midland, Andrews, Westbrook and Odessa.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

I never see a parade anymore without thinking of Jo (Mrs. J. M. Hill). Ten years ago, I thought of her as an sentimental, no-nonsense type but apparently time does change everything and everybody. Not long ago a mutual friend remarked that Jo had become so tender-hearted that a Scout carrying the flag in a parade could bring tears to her eyes.

I wondered about her Friday afternoon for it was almost more than one could bear. If Big Spring is lacking in some areas, it is not in its quota of energetic children and vivacious teenagers—and evidently a good percentage of them participate in the Scouting program so we are assured of having flag-bearers for some years to come!

Bill McRee looked rightly proud of his boys and several leaders and mothers of Girl Scouts marched right along with their groups, the tiny Brownies looking a lot like real-life elves. I'm sure those little ones brought back memories to parents who were watching their own grown-up sons and daughters ride on the various floats.

Chatted a minute with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Welch as we waited for the marchers to come down Scurry and then joined Mrs. Norman Spencer a little further down the block since the parade was breaking up before it reached us. Little Sammy Jones came by to say, "Hi" as did Janie Erwin, looking very grown-up in her Runnels twirlers uniform.

Mrs. Don Anderson was riding in a Model T and was hardly recognizable in that hillbilly makeup but looked like she was having a ball. Joining in the festive mood, too, and riding in a later model car, were Rev. Bob Polk and Rev. James L. Puckett (who looks like the sort of fella you'd call "Jimmy.") Smiling gayly from the International Wives Club float were Mrs. Sam Mellinger, Mrs. Roy Drinnen, Mrs. Al Valdez and several other beauties. Another impressive float was the one carrying my all-time favorite local player, Frosty Robison.

The real stars of the show, though, were the hard-working students, handsome and happy.

Here to see the homecoming game were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hampton, Sayre, Okla. They are the houseguests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Coehran. In 16 years of visiting, this was the first time they had seen the Steers in action.

Another Steer fan was Donnie Hollis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hollis, Lubbock, who are former residents. He was to spend the weekend with the Joe Moss family. Also, at the Moss home are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Reese, who will be here about two more weeks. Talked with Anna Lee while she was playing bridge at the R. L. Tollett home, and she told me that Ray Tollett had made the dean's list at New Mexico Military Institute. Mrs. G. E. Peacock did not have any news but was sure wishing for some better cards.

Another group who habitually get together for card games gave Mrs. Travis Reed and Mrs. C. M. Dublin separate parties recently. Among the old friends are Mrs. B. B. Badger, Mrs. Harvy Williamson, Mrs. Tom Ashley, Mrs. Roy Townsend, Mrs. "Sunbeam" Morrison and Mrs. Joe Hayden. (I'd like to be a mouse in the corner at one of those games... probably get enough news for ten columns!)

Council To Host Girls

The West Texas Girl Scout Council will host a team of two international girls from Columbia who will become a part of an international patrol from this council at the 1965 Roundup in Idaho, near Coeur d'Alene. The girls will come to Abilene after they arrive in the U.S.A. They will remain for a three-week period before and be welcomed in communities in the council's area. They will then travel to the Roundup site with the members of this council making up the international patrol.

Transportation for the visitors will be paid by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. Also, the fund will pay the camp fee for the girls.

Food Unit Observes Holiday

Will Marry

The wedding of Miss Mary Lee Schuelke has been scheduled for Dec. 19 in the Wesley Methodist Church. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. J. T. Thornton Jr., Snyder Highway, and the late Mr. Thornton, and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuelke.

A Thanksgiving theme was used for the Thursday meeting of the Big Spring Chapter of Texas School Food Service Association at Marcy cafeteria. Mrs. N. L. Childress and Mrs. W. R. Smith presented suitable poems.

Special holiday games were conducted, and Mrs. Roger Miller was the prize winner. Mrs. R. L. Jones presided at the business session and announced a Christmas party will be held Dec. 5 at 6 p.m. in Goliad school.

Mrs. E. R. Williamson reported on the board meeting in Greenville. Reports were given by a representative of each school concerning the parent's visitation program during National Education Week. Twenty-six members attended.

The next regular session will be Dec. 10 at 2:30 p.m. in the senior high school.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Like the saying goes, one man's meat is another man's poison and Friday the 13th can be applied the same... so it would seem to our football fortunes Friday the (ugh) 13th. Not only did Big Spring suffer defeat on the Homecoming Day but the wind blew sand all during the game.

The wind also blew before the game and caused the Student Council's beautifully decorated float to bite the dust literally. The stately columns that formed a background for the scene, crumbled and fell and a rented bathtub that was part of the decor, tumbled and broke.

When members of the Goliad band got ready to take their places in the parade they found their instruments had been left at the school but they rose to the occasion, waited at the end of the parade until their instruments were brought to them, and with a lively tune brought the gala parade to a sparkling finish.

J. E. HENDRIX came out from Fort Worth for the day's activities and from Tech came a host of students, among them SUE COOK, KAREN KOGER, NANCY HEDLESTON, BEVERLY DOBBINS, JAN ANDERSON and JUDY JONES. MRS. ROY CARTER called from Stanton to say she would have to miss the festivities as she had planned to be in Lubbock with her son, ROBERT, who is working on a master's degree in languages at Tech. Mrs. Carter is an office nurse at Physicians' Hospital in Stanton.

It would appear that getting together exes of Big Spring High is a rather difficult thing to do. MRS. L. R. MUNDT who was a member of the 1916 graduating class could recall only two members of her class who still live in Big Spring. They are MRS. GUION POOL KEATING and JACK WILLCOX. She couldn't get a meeting going so as next best thing she managed to have the class pictures placed on a placard and placed in the foyer at the high school. She said she was most gratified at the interest shown in the photographs by the students. MRS. LEE ROGERS wasn't anymore successful than MRS. KELLY BURNS and I were in getting her class of '25 together.

The class of '35 had a little more to talk about than the other groups. They hosted an after-the-game affair at the Settles Hotel. While not a host came, there was enough fun had by those who made it to sustain interest.

In the interest of future homecoming activities, it has been suggested that an ex-student association be formed to assist the high school group in planning and executing entertainment for the get-together. I favor the suggestion.

Four members of the class of '54 and their wives held a special reunion to discuss those bygone days when the men played football together. They attended the chili supper, homecoming game and gathered at the home of Mrs. Helen Early for reminiscing. They were WYLIE WISE, coach of a junior high team in Abilene, and his wife, MR. AND MRS. EDWIN FAUBION who have recently returned from Burma, India and are now at Fort Hood, MR. AND MRS. JOHN BIRDWELL and MR. AND MRS. FREDDIE SIMPSON. The Birdwells were hosts at a barbecue in their home Saturday for the group.

MRS. ED SPALTEN of San Antonio is visiting her sister, MRS. C. W. DEATS, while Mr. Spalten is on a hunting trip.

MR. AND MRS. C. R. WOOD of Paducah, parents of MRS. HAROLD DAVIS, plan to return to their home today after

Mrs. Perry Hosts Lomax HD Group

The Lomax Home Demonstration Club met this week in the home of Mrs. Gene Perry to hear a program on "Lining For Shape and Body." Mrs. Ralph Newman and Mrs. Waymon Etchison presented the discussion.

Plans were made to serve at the annual Hereford sale Nov. 28. Also, the group will sponsor a community Thanksgiving dinner to be held Nov. 19 at noon in the Community Center. Mrs. Perry worded the devotion for 10 members.

Parents Welcome Odessa Visitors

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Cleo Gooch and children of Odessa were in Forsan to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Camp.

Mrs. E. J. Maxwell, Rising Star, was a guest this week in the W.-F. Swiger home.

visiting in the Davis home for a week.

The BEN FERRELLS are expected home the fore part of the week. They had been in San Antonio visiting his sister after his dismissal from a Houston hospital where he had undergone vascular surgery.

MRS. W. E. WOZENCRAFT and MRS. R. H. MOORE JR., have recently visited in Lubbock. Mrs. Moore with her sister, MRS. ANNIE SUE KERR, a member of the Tech English department, and Mrs. Moore with her sons, Bob and Baxter, Tech students.

B. M. KEESE, attending a state association meeting of registrars in Austin last week, had an unique experience — that of seeing two presidents. He was in the Driskill Hotel lobby when President Lyndon Johnson entered with President Diaz Ordaz of Mexico. Keese couldn't be sure which one of four men was Senator Ordaz — but one of them was the president of Mexico.

Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Merworth, 301 W. Sam Rayburn Drive, Bonham, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Linda Glover, to Larry Brimmage, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Brimmage of Petty. Inspectors Give Webb Highest Attainable Rating

Webb Air Force Base has earned an "excellent" rating — as high as any facility can get — after its most recent inspection by the Air Training Command's Standardization and Evaluation team.

The team's study, made for a week, is a comprehensive evaluation of the manner in which the pilot training mission is accomplished.

During the inspection, all phases of the flying training program were under close scrutiny. These included the local Standardization - Evaluation program, the T-37 and T-38 instructors, instructor and student flying ability, plus the academic and officer training program.

The ATC check is on a representative cross section of the entire Base operation. Evaluations were made on a no-notice basis. All rated pilots connected with the program or any student at Webb must be prepared for an individual evaluation by the ATC team.

A substantial improvement over past performances was noted by the rating team in virtually all areas, making the "excellent" rating a stand-out one as far as ATC's pilot training installations are concerned.

General comments made by the ATC inspection team included: "The conduct and appearance of instructors and students was observed to be of the highest military caliber." "The runway supervisory units at Webb and their auxiliary are the best in the command." "Commanders, supervisors, local standardization - evaluation personnel and instructors at Webb are commended for their

They Earned An 'Excellent'

Col. Edwin J. White Jr., deputy commander for training at Webb AFB congratulates the local base's Standardization-Evaluation Section on a job well done, since it had a key role in establishing proficiency that brought Webb an "excellent" rating in a recent inspection by the Air Training Command's Stan-Eval team. With Col. White (short contribution to the excellent program presently in operation at the Base." "The team of specialists from ATC was composed of Maj. Richard E. Little, and Capt. Horace W. Miller, George E. Tyler, Donald F. Brackett, Charles E. Rasmussen, John R. Shaw, Duane G. Teuscher, David A. Hettiger, and Ronald L. Clamme.

The primary job of the Standardization and Evaluation Section at Webb, headed by Maj. George Aubrey, is to maintain a constant check on all phases of flying training. Only the highest standards of proficiency are good enough, as reflected by Webb's recent "excellent" rating from Air Training Command.

Webb's Stan-Eval operates as much as possible like its ATC counterpart, holding periodic inspections and giving check rides to both students and instructor pilots. In preparation for last week's inspection, special night briefings and squadron level meetings were held to try to find any weak areas, and remedy the situation before the ATC visit. Proof of the worth of this system is indicated by the inspectors' report, "... internal programs of standardization were among the best we have observed in this command."

Recently the Stan-Eval division has assumed responsibility for training all newly assigned instructors and all required local upgrade training. This eases the load on the pilot training squadrons and allows them to devote full attention to student training, assures best use of training time, and minimizes any requirements for retraining.

Webb Stan-Eval publishes a study guide for the T-37 and T-38 aircraft as an additional training aid to students and instructors. Also, all instructor pilots at Webb are given a minimum of three check rides a year by the section.

Stan-Eval pilots include Capt. David D. Chamberlin, Capt. Harvey L. Kimsey, Capt. Edmund H. Crandall and 1st Lt. Erik H. Vettergren in T-37s; Capt. Orin I. Knutson, Capt. Eric E. Miller, Capt. Fredrick

D. Parent and Capt. Eugene Westback in T-38s.

Speaking of the role Webb's Stan-Eval played in the recent excellent rating from ATC, Maj. Aubrey said, "Col. Taute (Wing Commander) expects nothing short of excellent ratings. We enjoy strong commander's support and a good relationship between Stan-Eval and the Pilot Training Squadrons. This is the most important inspection of the year as it provides the commander with a yardstick of comparison with other UPT bases."

Consumption Of Meats Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red meat consumption is setting a new record this year, the Agriculture Department reported today. It estimated consumption in 1964 at 174 pounds per person, four pounds above 1963. The increase is coming entirely from beef, expected to reach a new high of 100 pounds per person compared with 95 pounds last year.

Pork consumption is down two pounds from 66 in 1963, while consumption of lamb and mutton is down more than half a pound.

"This higher level of beef consumption reflects a large rise in domestic production, which more than offset a sharp drop in imports," the department said.

Revised Code Changes Rules Of Food Handling

The recently-adopted revised code for the City of Big Spring contains four provisions concerning food and food handling which will bring some changes from previous requirements. Lige Fox, supervisor of the City-County Health Unit, said this week.

"These regulations are now in effect and the cooperation of our food service establishments is earnestly requested," Fox said.

Four sections are included in the new code, as adopted by the city commission, involving refrigeration of cream-filled pastries, storage or display of foods, health certificates for food handlers and sale of uninspected meat.

The ordinance concerning refrigeration involves a change from a previous temperature requirement of 50 degrees to 45 degrees in the new code. The ordinance states that the temperature must not exceed 45 degrees from the time of manufacture until the sale of the product. Fox pointed out that cream-filled pastries, if not maintained in a low temperature, can become a source of illness to someone eating them.

The provision concerning meat now reads that only such meat bearing a U. S. Department of Agriculture or Texas Department of Health stamp, or approved by a municipality with the Texas State Approved legend or by the City of Big Spring may be sold.

Previously some meats from cities with a reciprocity arrangement with Big Spring could be sold here. Fox said, with the amended code making the inspection somewhat more strict.

The section on storage or display of foods is also more strictly worded than previously, reading: "No article or food intended for human consumption shall be stored, exposed or displayed on the surface of any street, sidewalk or vacant lot or placed in any doorway or in front of any place of business or in any other place accessible to dogs or other animals, and must be protected from flies, insects and dust at all times."

The provision on health certificates now applies to persons as follows: "Any person who handles any exposed or unpackaged edible food or food products intended for human consumption, or any utensil or equipment which comes in contact with any such food product, at any restaurant, cafe, fountain, grocery store, abattoir, packing plant, bakery, catering kitchen, or other place where food is sold, prepared, manufactured, distributed, or served to the public."

Fox said copies of the sections will be made and distributed to firms in the city.

Potential Savings

The Big Spring Independent School District trustees have instructed their fiscal agent to prepare the next issue of (Master Plan) school bonds on the basis of a 20-year maturity.

This, they pointed out, would result in a savings of around $370,000. The amount of savings is conjectural, but the savings is hardly hypothetical. Common sense tells us that if you can pay off a debt in 20 years instead of 30 years, you have reduced the time by one-third, and gross interest by that much or more.

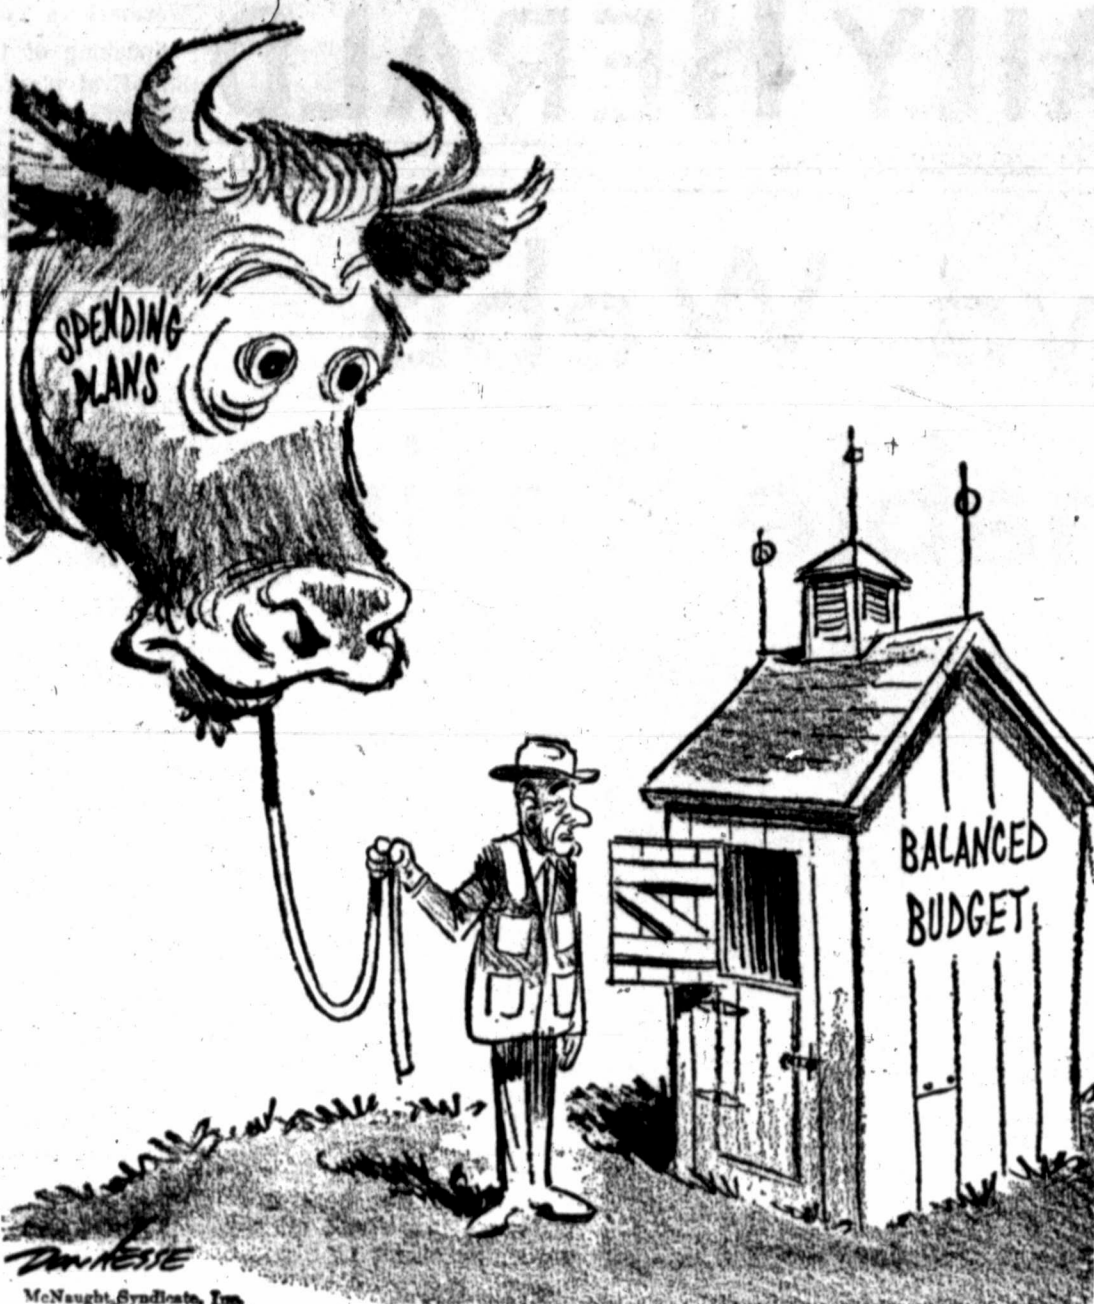

Even if the interest rate on the next issue (of $2,000,000) were to go up, then the amount of savings in interest over what it would otherwise be is greater in dollars. If the shorter period of amortization results in a lower interest rate, then the savings is realized over the entire period, as well as from elimination of the final third of the period.

As the board pointed out, there are certain hazards. One is that the schedule is based on an assumed increase of two per cent per annum in taxable values. The other is that such a course does not leave us much cushion. The former is a calculated risk, the latter is more of a figure of speech than a reality. When the district approved issues of $5,500,000 it cut the margin so thin that it could hardly be called a cushion. Besides, any rate of increase in values faster than projected in the two per cent annual increment can be interpreted as a cushion only if future boards preserved it for that purpose.

When you get right down to it, the shortening of the maturities may call for some sacrifice. But we think the rewards in potential savings is well worth it.

We also think that the coordination of plans for athletic fields and other similar facilities with the city is also a wise move and one which could also yield substantial savings for the taxpayer and better service for the community.

NOW—HOW TO GET THE COW INTO THAT BARN?

J. A. Livingston

Lack Of Scarcity Affects Communist System

Gradually, success is eating away at communism. Gingerly, leaders in Eastern Europe experiment with capitalistic incentives and freedoms to reduce waste and misplanning. Why? Because Communist planners have run out of their stock-in-trade—scarcity.

Don't get me wrong. The Communist horn isn't yet spilling over with plenty. The shortage of bread and flour in the Soviet Union this summer attests to that. In hotels in Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev and other large cities, caviar isn't dished out in blobs—not even to $35-a-day tourists or special delegations. It's saved for export—to bring in dollars, pounds and francs, which in turn will buy Western know-how.

NOVELTIES from the West—items we're long accustomed to—still draw crowds. Living standards—in terms of quantity and diversity—don't approach Western levels. But most families in Eastern European countries have enough food and clothing. They're above "sustenance."

And that's why communism is in troubled times, why capitalism is creeping in via the back door. Today's technology stresses quality and know-how—not just more of what was. Regulators propose what they think is good for the consumer but...

FORMER PREMIER Khrushchev put the planner's dilemma in plain words. "Because formerly there was a shortage, buyers would take anything. Suppose a man was in need of a pair of trousers. If the shop could not supply his size, he would say: 'Let it be. I'll alter them at home.' This is not trade, but a distribution of commodities. The customer had no choice."

Now Brezhnev and Kosygin have taken on that problem. They'll have to decide whether to decentralize decision-making in order to increase efficiency and reduce waste by fitting production to industrial and consumer needs. UNDER STALIN, the Soviet Union concentrated resources on heavy industry and a big military establishment. Stalin's name, meaning steel in Russian, was a constant reminder to Communist planners of steel's primacy. The bulk of resources—steel, copper, aluminum, wool, etc.—went to heavy industry. Consumers got the residue.

But as the economy grew, as the technical decisions became more complex, difficulties multiplied. The system, fashioned for scarcity, had become obsolete. Much effort had to go into repairing substandard machines. About $2,500,000,000 in unwanted merchandise piled in warehouses. Even the most addicted planners recognized that consumers buy goods, not goals.

TO MAXIMIZE production, each factory was assigned a quota, a norm. Immediately, factory managers had one overriding purpose: To fulfill the norm in order to earn a bonus and advance in the political and industrial hierarchy. Manpower and materials were lavished and quality slanted toward one objective: The Goal.

Two years ago Yevsey Liberman, a professor at Kharkov University, published a paper saying the obvious: The end of production isn't production but consumption.

He urged decentralization of decision-making to end the waste of inflexible planning from above. Let profit—not sheer quantity—be the measure of achievement. And let the factory managers and store directors "pay" society for plant, equipment and factories. Why should they have a free ride on social resources?

TODAY in Bulgaria and Poland, capitalistic techniques are being used to correct the most glaring faults of central planning. Decentralized decision-making, as in Yugoslavia, may come later.

TO LINUS, in the comic strip, security is a blanket. And far too many factory managers in the Planned Societies. The Goal is a blanket, covering incompetence and inefficiency. Most managers don't welcome responsibility. They'd rather live with quotas, assigned from the top, than decide what kind of merchandise to manufacture and whether it will sell. They resist change.

IN OUR SYSTEM, they expand by reducing prices or improving quality. They force competitors out of business or into mergers. In the planned society, they would enlarge their scope by showing how much superior they are to other managers. Less efficient factories would be brought under their direction. In this way giant organizations—General Motorses, Fords, General Electrics, AT&Ts, Westinghouses, etc.—would come under the control of technical rather than political leaders.

Thus, the decentralization of decision-making would lead to transferring economic power to a newly-created industrial elite. And the members of this group, the heads of steel, electrical equipment, automobile, tractor and similar trusts, would have a powerful common interest.

They would compete—bid for—the best technicians, scientists, engineers; for more and better steel, aluminum, machines, etc.; and equally important, for precious foreign exchange. Their productive imperialism would threaten the power and the goals of the men in the Kremlin.

FOR THIS REASON, decentralization—deplanning—has moved more slowly in the Soviet Union than in other bloc countries. Dispersion of decision-making among thousands of producers and distributors is a democratizing process. It would endanger the high priority granted the military and space establishments and diminish the central control the Kremlin now has over the entire system.

Kidney And Bladder Infection Can Be Related

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the difference between kidney and bladder infection? I have been troubled with both of them. Is there a cure which will clear up the infection once and for all? My doctor has not suggested surgery. Should I consult a specialist?—MRS. J. S.

Dear Doctor: What causes hematuria? How is it treated?—MRS. M. M.

The difference is in the location of the infection. It is not uncommon for both the kidneys and the bladder to be affected, and since they are part of the urinary system. Infection of the kidneys is decidedly likely to involve at least some inflammation of the bladder. And likewise an infection starting in the bladder can gradually extend upward until the kidneys are affected, too. Urinary tract infections are often present in mild form without the patient even knowing it. Frequent symptoms are a sensation of burning during or after voiding, frequent urination, a feeling of wanting to void yet not being able to do so. Another important sign is either pus or blood in the urine. Painless hematuria means blood in the urine but without pain.

This can result from a number of causes, anywhere from the kidney down in the ureters, which connect to the bladder; the bladder itself, or the urethra (outlet from the bladder). There may be stones, ulcers, infection (including tuberculosis as well as many other germs), growths, whether benign or malignant, or (in men) prostate disease.

Any sign of blood in the urine always should be reported at once to a physician; the sooner treatment begins, the better the opportunity to control or cure the trouble. Sometimes the blood is so slight that it is not visible. Cells, however, can be readily detected under a microscope. "Is there a cure which will clear up the infection once and for all?" Removal of a stone, polyp or such, if that is the root of the trouble, often accomplishes this. Infection, from those or other causes, many times is cleared up by use of the correct drug to suit the type of infection—sulfa sometimes, or penicillin, or one of a number of other antibiotics. But a person who has had such an infection should be on guard against a new one, and start treatment at once. Treatment frequently is a prolonged process.

Any number of urinary infections are cleared up successfully by general physicians, but if the trouble does not respond promptly to such treatment, ask your doctor to refer you to a specialist (urologist) for a complete study, including special X-rays and cystoscopic examination, to pin down the exact trouble and its location, whether in kidney, or bladder, or both, or in one of the ducts. It is quite impossible to say, until such a study has been made, whether surgery or some other form of treatment is the solution.

Around The Rim

Whooping Cranes And Other Birds

Don't know if this is either important or distinctive, but you can put me down as one of those who has seen a whooping crane. You know those are the strange long-legged birds which all but passed out of existence a few years back, and only now—through much work by the wildlife lovers and conservation experts—number a few more than 30.

OUR CONFRONTATION (and the whooper didn't even know it) was on a lazy autumn afternoon in the tidal flats of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, an entrancing area on the Texas Gulf Coast that is all but shut off from the rest of the world.

This is where the whooping cranes, along with thousands of birds and animals of myriad description, spend the winter.

RIGHT NOW is the season for bird watchers to revel in their hobby, down at Aransas. The fall migrations are on, and the fowl are coming in daily in great flocks. Not all the whoopers are there yet, and the experts won't know for awhile if their population might have increased during the past year. In mid-October, only one pioneer had winged it back to the benign coastal country from Canada. But the day we got there and drove up to Refuge headquarters, the manager, Bob Shields, was so obviously bubbling with excitement that he could not contain his news.

"FOUR MORE came in last night," he said exultantly. "I'm not supposed to tell you this, the announcement is supposed to come out of Washington. But I saw them this morning, and I can tell you where you might see them now."

He was good enough to loan us his powerful spot-glass and to direct us to an observation tower. With instrument in hand, we drove to, and mounted, this tower, and began the tedious process of adjustment and getting acclimated.

SURE ENOUGH, far below, in one of the salt marshes, were a couple of the distinctive whoopers. Nearby were big-billed pelicans and some awkward-looking herons, all quietly foraging in the shallow water in the late-afternoon golden sunshine. There is a silence so deep around the Refuge bays, tidal flats, swales and marshes that it is almost re-sounding. The birds instinctively must be aware that this is truly a safe abode, for nobody gets close, and there is none of the clashes of civilization to mar the virgin wilderness.

IN THE PAST 20 years or so, we were told, over 500 species of birds have been observed in the sanctuary. With the whoopers, the pelicans and the herons may be seen cranes and storks and other of the larger marsh-feeding varieties. The land birds, of course, are back in the brush that covers thousands of acres on the peninsula.

One can drive quietly around the Refuge and encounter different species at every turn.

THE AREA is also full of animals, notably deer, which are so thick you don't have time to count them. The Refuge traps these at proper seasons and sends them into other states and areas that need restocking.

Arpadillos meander across the road, and are in the refuge in countless numbers. There are many javalinas, although at the time of day we were there, none was sighted.

YOU CAN REACH the Aransas Refuge by going south to the coast from either Victoria or Refugio, and by way of the village of Austwell.

If you're looking for some wonderful Indian summer weather, a breath of salt air, and an amazing glimpse at wild life, you'll find it all there. —BOB WHIPKEY

Politics In The Abstract

WASHINGTON—Art is long and politics is fleeting. On the Wednesday that the nation was counting the votes and the Republicans were licking their wounds, the Brazilian wood and iron sculptor, Mario Cravo, was telling some of us that the creative talents flourish in the unstable but stimulating political climate of Brazil.

BUT IN A PLACE like West Berlin which, despite all its bravado is not a free and independent city but a kept woman on the back streets of Europe, an artist can never quite be a man without a country. You would have to think hard to recall any great painter, poet or playwright who sprung from lands that have no patriotic personality.

In America nobody seems to have been able to write a lick until Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson fell in love with liberty. Would Gilbert Stuart have made a name if he hadn't done portraits of George Washington? We never had a national anthem until the nation's capital was attacked. And the tune of "Dixie" was a minstrel song that hardly dampened an eye until the South made itself into a nation.

IN BRAZIL, and throughout all that I have seen of Latin America, the artist is best understood when he offers his talents in the forms of architecture or public statuary. But Cravo managed to make a name in Brazil and seems to occupy many publically-viewed niches while being an expressionist in the abstract.

THIS MAN Cravo, breaking somewhat the insane atmosphere of the post-election morning-after, made the artist seem less isolated from the much-discussed mainstream of national thought than was the reporter, who had been moping in the wake of the candidates. After viewing hundreds of cartoons of Lyndon Johnson in cowboy boots and a Barry Goldwater in goggles, one reporter is willing to believe that abstract art has something in its favor. Our smattering of ignorance about space renders realistic pictures hardly worth the effort, but the abstractionists can comment on vastness and eternity in a universal mode of expression.

A SCULPTOR can make discoveries about flowers, street scenes and ocean views which are defiant of clear language or vivid colors. Somehow President's collection of forty-odd million votes does not tell as much about the human desire for food and shelter or the human dread of death, nuclear or otherwise, as a twisted piece of wood or a bent length of iron.

ALL THE fuddled commentary which has gone into print and over the airwaves fails to say that America is not a cube in the shape of a ballot box. But it is something more like a footstep reaching home from the job or like a familiar reassuring voice out of the dark. Such symbols cannot readily be expressed or communicated in the common form of literature and art. We have here a gap which only abstract art can bridge.

France And The Nuclear Race

ROME — A North Atlantic alliance without France? That is the grim abyss which France's NATO partners confront as President de Gaulle threatens to take France out of NATO unless he has his way.

Ever since the Algerian war and, somewhat later, the start of de Gaulle's drive to become a member of the nuclear club, the French military contribution to NATO has been negligible.

BUT THE geography of France has always been considered essential to a rational defense of Europe. The infrastructure of the alliance is deep in French soil. If de Gaulle were to say, "Pack up and go," the consequences would be little short of calamitous.

For Italy this latest and gravest crisis in the post war alliance has a singular irony. As a loyal NATO partner the Italian government is capable today of full cooperation based on fairly stable popular support. This is the government that, thanks to the "opening to the left," covers a broad spectrum of Italy's political complex.

DEPUTY PREMIER in the government is Pietro Nenni, head of the left-wing Socialists, who broke off his former alliance with the Communists to join a center-left coalition.

Nenni is ready, according to government sources, to consider acceptance of the mixed man nuclear force if this is a way to share command responsibility and to checkmate those Germans who will sooner or later demand nuclear weapons for Germany.

SOME OTHER form of joint responsibility and joint operation — perhaps the proposal of the new British Labor government — may be a better way out. But the important fact is that Nenni and other responsible leaders on the left and the right are searching with something like desperation for a way out of the nuclear arms race that gains momentum year after year.

Perhaps as early as 1965 France will have a hydrogen bomb and tests will begin in the South Pacific proving grounds being constructed at such great cost.

BUT THE REAL concern in Rome and every capital of Western Europe is over the competitive spur of the French national force. The cost of the nuclear process is rapidly declining with the latest developments in technique. The Chinese explosion of a nuclear device made with U-235 is another powerful stimulus to the nuclear race.

Five members have now qualified for the nuclear club. Within six years, it has been frequently predicted, the number will be 10. In this light of a spreading nuclear arms race de Gaulle's policy has a suicidal look. Whether he is subject to persuasion, to change in view, seems from the European perspective highly doubtful.

THE EFFORT must certainly be made. But in his lonely grandeur he appears, according to the latest report of a visitor with a rare opportunity to sound him out, to have withdrawn into his own Valhalla. There his word is law and those who would challenge it are considered guilty of an affront to majesty.

MILTON, Pa. (AP) — A "hot plate on wheels" is what rail transportation specialists jokingly are calling a new railroad tank car that heats its cargo as it travels. Temperatures in excess of 500 degrees are possible in the electrically heated car, says its developer — ACF's Shippers' Car Line Division. It is being used to transport certain food and chemical products such as vegetable oil and pitch that must be heated in transit if they are to be ready for immediate unloading at their destinations.

RAZING OF OLD BUILDINGS RECALLS HISTORY
Structures on site of town's first permanent residence

Historic Site Being Cleared

By SAM BLACKBURN

Bulldozers and cranes were busy last week demolishing a row of old buildings on Second Street at Gregg and the demolition of the structures, which dated back 30 to 40 years, recalled the historic importance of the land they occupied.

A. P. Kasch and Sons, whose office building is to the north of the old stores, bought the tract recently from Earle A. Read, who said the property had been in the hands of his family for many years.

"Seventy or so years, I imagine," he said.

NO PLANS
Paul Kasch said that the tract is being cleaned off to get rid of the old structures which were tenantless and falling to ruin. There are no plans at present to build anything on the location, he said. The area could be used for additional parking, he added.

When the viaduct over the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. yards is completed (sometime early in December), no more parking will be allowed on Gregg from city limit to city limit. Gregg is the through-street on which US 87 bisects the city.

Under the terms of an agreement reached when the state agreed to replace the old viaduct, it was stipulated once the crossing is completed on-street parking on Gregg would be banned. The tract being cleared by Kasch will probably come in handy when this rule goes in effect. Kasch's office is located at 107 Gregg.

According to records, the tract of land which now would bear the number 109 Gregg, was the site of what was probably the first "permanent" residence ever built in Big Spring. That was sometime around 1883, and old timers relate the first dwelling was a 12-by-12 foot rough plank shack.

WRECKERS BATTER DOWN OLD ICE PLANT WALLS structure to be remodeled into spaces for five stores was well nigh unobtainable those days, in the new town which was springing up along the T&P right-of-way. The T&P, it seems, had a few stacks of treasured planks beside its railroad and intended to use these for its own building purposes.

The man who built the first residence—his name has long since disappeared—"managed," as the word was in those days, to liberate enough of the T&P's precious lumber to throw his commodious dwelling together.

As late as 1938, the records show, the little house was still standing on the site. It had been absorbed, in that year, into a later structure but its old outlines could still be traced.

Technically, 109 Gregg is probably the present developed parking lot of the Kasch building. Old-timers were thrifty, though, especially in the matter of salvaging usable timber. When the first residence was absorbed into the later building mentioned in the 1938 accounts (which in its turn very likely became a part of the store buildings just leveled) the same old lumber probably carried on with its work.

LANDMARK
One thing is certain—this 12-

by-12 foot edifice that once occupied 109 Gregg was an important landmark in early day Big Spring. At the time it appeared on the scene, only tents were in evidence as living quarters and even the first businesses of that day were established in canvas-covered shelters.

Oldtimers must have indicated locations by telling newcomers— "Go down past the wood residence and turn south . . ."

Bank Making Way For New Improvements

State National Bank is completing demolition of a row of old buildings just to the north of the bank to make room for a drive-in depository.

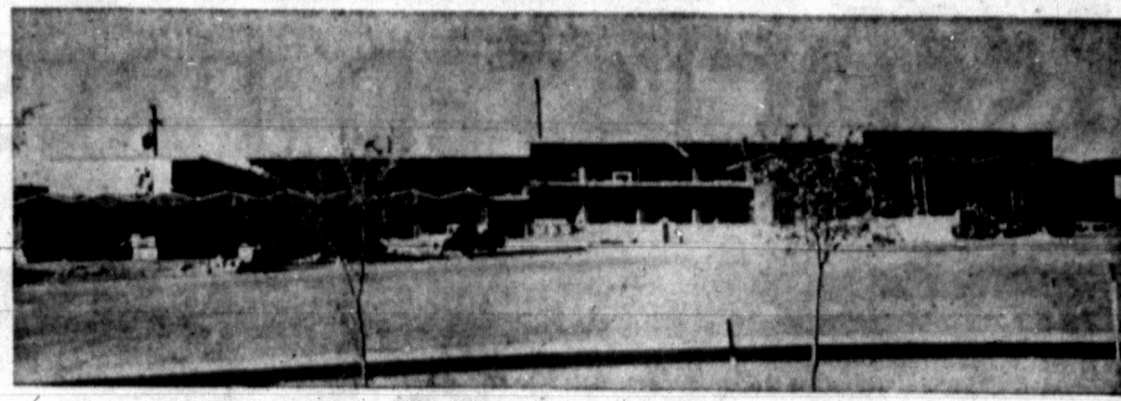

Robert Currie, president of the bank, said that the new drive-in would be started around Jan. 1. Plans are being drawn and he said that the number of windows and the general design has not been worked out. At present, plans are for depositors to enter the area, which is 125 feet wide on Main Street, from the alley to the west. The customer would then leave on Main Street.

The buildings which have been leveled are those formerly occupied by the Hartley Cleaners, the Army Surplus Store, a barber shop and a small jewelry shop.

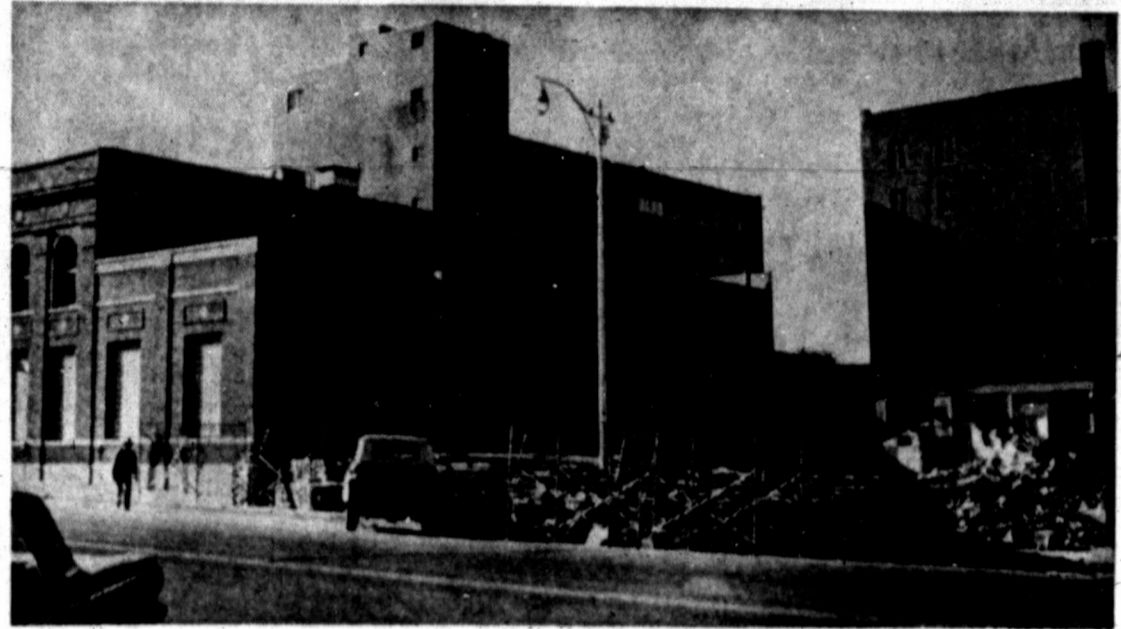

Currie said the buildings were old and that one of Big Spring's earlier jewelry stores occupied the old Hartley Cleaner building half a century ago. It was estimated that the buildings probably dated back to soon after the turn of the century.

The section of Main Street, from Second Avenue to the Texas and Pacific depot, is historically important in the community. Some of the earliest businesses in the town were established on this block. Across the street from the bank is the first stone building built in the city. It was built at 121 Main Street by the Earl of Aylford, fabulous British nobleman, who was one of the town's more colorful early day characters. It originally housed the town butcher shop.

Aylford apparently came here around 1883. He died in 1885 so the stone structure (now marked as a historic relic) must have been built between 1883 and 1885.

Old Ice Plant Being Remodeled

The old Western Ice Plant at 709 E. 3rd, built some 35 years ago, is now undergoing a major face-lifting. It will emerge from the operating room as an attractive shopping center, according to Lloyd F. Curley, owner.

Curley bought the old plant and the land on which it stands, and has moved in workmen to redesign it into two store areas on the west of 3,000 square feet each; two stores to the center and east with 2,500 square feet each, and three new structures on the north, each to have 2,800 square feet of floor space. Tenants are being sought for the new quarters and one lease has already been signed, Curley said.

The new structure will be completed in attractive design

"something like that used in the Swartz Building at Third and Runnels," Curley said.

Curley said he understood the plant had been built in 1937. Bill Sheppard, however, who is now in the real estate business here, said that he came to Big Spring in 1939 when the Banner Creameries had the plant. He was assigned here as manager of the plant. Some additional building was made, but he said the main structure dated back to 1928-29.

He worked in the old building until 1947 when the Banner interests were absorbed by Foremost Dairies.

Curley estimated it will take 90 to 100 working days to rebuild the building. He said much of the original structure will be salvaged.

HOW FAR SHALL OUR COMMUNITY GO?

An Open Letter To Big Spring:

Today a large discount store in Big Spring has opened its doors for business on Sundays. Upon learning of this store's decision to open on Sundays, the Big Spring Pastors' Association requested the head of this chain of discount stores not to open its local store on Sundays. The request was denied.

Most religious groups, whether Protestant, Roman Catholic, or otherwise, observe Sunday as a day of spiritual worship and physical rest. It has long been a day upon which much of the moral and spiritual foundations of our nation stand.

When employees have to be at work on Sundays, they are robbed of their right to have one full day a week for worship, rest, and family life. The human machine can tolerate but so much.

We request that the stores remain closed on Sundays. We appeal to owners and managers to cooperate in this matter. Members of our churches are requested not to patronize stores on Sunday.

This is another entreaty to this large discount store organization to please rescind its decision to open the local store on Sundays. What one store does about opening on Sundays could involve others. It would be detrimental to the moral, spiritual, and physical welfare of our city, if there were to be a "chain-reaction" that would result in the opening of other stores on Sundays.

Signed,
The Big Spring Pastors' Association

"The longer I live the more highly do I esteem the Lord's Day, and the more grateful I feel to those who impress its importance upon the community."

Work Nears Completion On Several Projects

Work is beginning or nearing completion on several construction projects in Big Spring, including a new office building south of FM 700 on Birdwell Lane, a new service station at the intersection of the Snyder Highway and IS 20, and a truck terminal at IS 20-US 87.

The office structure is owned by Milch Construction Co., and will contain the firm's offices, an electrical shop and a paint store. Completion is expected week, according to firm officials. The structure is of brick construction, with paneling on the interior walls and carpeting in the offices. Work was begun about 30 days ago.

The new service station is lo-ated at the northeast portion of the intersection of IS 20 and SH 350. The contractor for the project is L. D. Brady, Odessa. Dirt work and the building construction are under way at the site.

Preliminary dirt work is under way on the new truck terminal at the northeast portion of the intersection of IS 20 and US 87, owned by K. H. McGibson, and to include a truckers motel with a restaurant.

Work is moving toward final stages on the new Americana Motel, west of the intersection. Exterior walls have been erected and framing for the roof, which will contain a series of arches, is being completed.

Two area students, who are attending Sul Ross State College, have been named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" for the 1964-65 school year.

They are Larry Gene Doyle, a senior math major from Gail, and Johnny M. Griggs, a BBA major from Snyder.

Texas Tech's Eta Kappa Nu, National Electrical Engineering Honor Society, has accepted Douglas Mack Green and Jackie Hipp into its membership.

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Green, 1610 Settles, and Jackie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Hipp, 500 E. 13th.

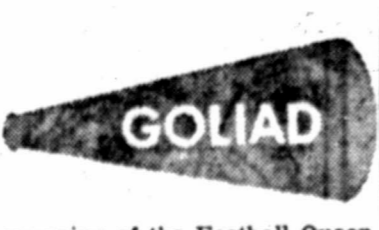

The association is for electrical engineering upper-classmen of outstanding scholastic achievement. The current pledge class is selected from the top five per cent of the electrical engineering department.

School Favorites Selected At Goliad

By MARTHA JORDAN
Goliad students elected favorites during the past week. Robbie Smart and Kyle McAlister were chosen all-school favorites. In other balloting, ninth grade students named Nikki Thomas and Lonnie Clanton freshman favorites. Joyce Walker and Ford Farris were selected by their eighth grade classmates while Judy Lane and Gary Hughes were named favorites by seventh graders.

Goliad's Student Council sponsored a "get together" luncheon honoring the Student Council of Runnels Junior High, Nov. 13. This meeting and meal, held in the Home Economics lab, was aimed at promoting friendship between the two schools before the cross-town Saturday football games.

The weekly pep rally was held Friday afternoon in the gym. Speeches were given by Butch Caldwell and Cary Banks, ninth grade; Steve Russell and Terry Jenkins, eighth grade; and Larry Milch and Tom Ryan, seventh grade. The games were played Saturday night in Memorial Stadium. Halftime activities at the Saturday night games included the crowning of the Football Queen, Sue Clark, escorted by Dean Gilstrap. The queen was chosen from three freshman candidates. Other candidates included Ann Garrett, escorted by Bobby Plowman; and Robbie Smart, escorted by Butch Caldwell. Princess from the eighth grade was Gayle Coleman, escorted by Kenny Brown; seventh grade princess was Anne Talbot, escorted by Bruce Hutto. Mike Marcus served as crown bearer. Debbie Gage and Ashley Calvert carried bouquets. Also during half time, Bobby Polk, band president, crowned Frances Wilson Band Queen, escorted by Gordon Marchant. Freshmen health and physical education classes saw a film Wednesday entitled "Mechanized Death." The film served as a timely reminder to students who had just received drivers licenses that a car can be a deadly and destructive weapon. The recently organized Spanish Club, sponsored by Miss Mary Sue Warner, held a meeting Friday after school. The Curtain Club, sponsored by Mr. Barry Clayton, speech teacher, held a meeting Monday, at the home of Jan Forrest, to learn more about stage work and to discuss plans for the year.

Mrs. Fern Alexander and Mrs. Virginia Martin, home economics teachers, wish to express their thanks to the students for their response to the FHA ribbon sale held during the week. Approximately 30 Goliad FHA girls participated in the Buddy Poppy sale held last weekend.

American Education Week was celebrated in all Big Spring schools during the week. Letters of invitation were sent to all parents urging them to visit their child's school and classes. A number of parents visited Goliad during the special observance.

Students from a Big Spring High School government class visited Goliad Thursday morning. They spoke on the reverence we must show for our flag and country. Posters were put up at various locations to further stress this patriotic movement.

Flower Grove Students To Take Exams

By BECKY HAGGARD
Students at Flower Grove will be busy studying this week, as this is the week for six weeks exams.

The senior class is selling annuals. Anyone wishing to purchase one should contact any senior or Mr. Buddy Ables, annual sponsor.

The school has been improved and new doors have been put in all around the building. The girls' basketball teams were defeated by Stanton Monday night, at Stanton.

Stanton FFA Wins District Honors

By CAROLYN SPRINGER
Stanton's FFA Chapter won several honors in the District Meet at Odessa. Teams placing first were the FFA rules and rules of parliamentary procedure, and the senior skills team. The junior skills team placed second, the farm radio team placed fourth, and the chapter conducting team placed fifth.

Members of the rules team are Donnie Jones, Gene Wheeler, Danny Fryar, and Bill Decker. Senior skills team members are David Dunn, Melvin McKinney, and Gayland Pittman.

Beverly Tucker, a junior, represented the chapter in the District Sweetheart contest.

The Future Homemakers of America met Tuesday with Charlotte Kuhlman, president, calling the meeting to order. Cindy Britton led the members in songs while two of the committees met to discuss business.

Following committee reports, Mary Wilson gave a devotional on friendship. Assisting Mary were Nancy Graves, Peggy McCormick, Shirley Graves, Betty Glaspie, Linda Hays, Kathy Hazlewood, and Barbara Harrell.

The annual "Back to School Family Night" was held Tuesday with the Future Teachers serving as hosts. Taking part in the program were Janis Burgess, president, and Leta Johnson, vice president. Several members made speeches in the Mr. and Miss FFA contest.

Those participating were Mike Springer, Sue Walker, Larry Haggard, Sandra Jones, and Beth Biggs. First place winners were Larry Haggard and Beth Biggs. The choir sang two songs under the direction of Mr. Jerry Banks.

Mrs. M. C. King, Mrs. Joyce Woody, and Linda Manning attended a meeting of the FFA area officers Nov. 7, at Big Spring High School. Linda is the first vice president of Area II.

Coahoma Names Honor Roll Pupils

By LEITHA MASON
The Coahoma Honor Roll for the first nine weeks was posted last week. Those making the roll were Alice Dorris, sophomore, with five As; Carol Conway and Martha Love, seniors, Donna Coates, Judy Kiser, Carolyn McHugh, Larry McKinney and Eddie Read, sophomores, with four As; Larry Newman, senior, Robert Pherigo, junior, and Karen Gross, sophomore, with three As.

Pat Chapman, Coahoma FFA Sweetheart, was chosen district sweetheart at the Odessa District meet. Pat will represent this district in the area meet to be held later in the year.

The sophomore class presented a talent show Tuesday during third period, which included songs and skits. The main attraction was a play given by class members.

The girls' basketball team played the Howard County girls Tuesday. Coahoma lost by only two points as the game went into overtime, with a final score of 51-49. They will play Garden City Tuesday at Coahoma.

The juniors had tryouts for parts in the junior play Thursday. The play, "Finders Keepers," will be presented Dec. 12. The cast will be announced later.

The eighth grade English class has organized a club. Meetings will be held the first Monday of every month. A contest is being held to name the club. Officers are Sander Gross, president; Sheila Collier, vice president; Danna Olesby, secretary; Ronda Tiller, treasurer; Brenda and Debbie Egler, reporters; and Jackie Williams, sergeant at arms. A committee of Debbie Chapman, Vicki Mosley and Mary Lewis was appointed to draw up a constitution.

Junior high Homecoming was Thursday night. During half time ceremonies, Sander Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gross, was crowned football sweetheart.

The Bulldogs defeated the Aspermont Hornets last Friday to become the District 6-A champs.

Student Nominees

These students have been chosen by their classmates as nominees for Mr. Bearkat and Football Sweetheart. They are standing, from left, Taylor Etchison, Michael Hoch, and Riley Chandler; and seated, Paula Hardy, Sandra Seidenberger, and Sharon Jacob.

Nominees Are Named At Garden City High

By LINDA CLEMENTS
The Garden City Pep Squad met Tuesday and elected three nominees for Mr. Bearkat. Those elected were Taylor Etchison, senior, and Riley Chandler and Michael Hoch, juniors.

The football team has also selected three girls as candidates for football sweetheart. They are Sandra Seidenberger, senior; Sharon Jacob, junior; and Paula Hardy, sophomore.

The annual staff is now selling annuals for $4 each. Anyone wishing to buy one should contact the sponsor, Mrs. Phillips, or Alice Hoelscher, Gloria Hayden, Tavie Daniel, Sandra Seidenberger, Linda Clements, Susan LaMartina, Diane Fowers, or Brenda Jacob.

The Booster Club had a meeting Tuesday night at which they decided to buy a new scoreboard and a popcorn machine for the school.

The sophomore class sold mums this week for the Homecoming game. All orders had to be turned in by Nov. 13.

Senior class members ordered their graduation invitations Wednesday morning.

Hawk Players Present Play

The Hawk Players of Howard County Junior College will present "The Glass Menagerie," Nov. 19 and 20 at 8:15 p.m., in the college auditorium. Admission fees are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. College students will be admitted on their activity cards.

BSHS Enjoys Homecoming

By JEAN FANNIN
Homecoming Week at BSHS has been a busy one with preparation of floats, plans for the bonfire, a chili supper, and a Homecoming Dance.

Monday morning BSHS chose five nominees for Homecoming Queen. The five nominees were Jean Armstrong, Peggy Spier, Kathy Seddon, Nancy Thomas, and Nancy Haralson.

Others running for Homecoming Queen were: Barbara Campbell, Judi Forshoe, Becky Fryser, Penny Frazier, Sue Knox, Sarah McWhorter, Cheryl Norman, and Beverly Womack.

Friday night at halftime Peggy Spier was crowned Homecoming Queen. Virginia Colclazer was crowned Band Queen, and Jackie Crawford was crowned Football Queen. Klaus Limbacher, Big Spring's first foreign exchange student, was presented a ten gallon hat by the Student Council.

The Homecoming Parade was held Friday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. in downtown Big Spring. The winning high school float was the one designed by the senior class, and the Quarterback Club won first place for the non-school float.

Judges were Mrs. Jim Zack, Mr. Robert Whipkey, and Mrs. Chris Watson.

Mrs. Janice Harris has announced the presentation of "Dead Sea Scrolls," by Edmund Wislon to the library in memory of the father of S. A. Anderson, school superintendent, by Mrs. Lila Brewster.

Tickets for "The Music Man" went on sale this past week, and are $1 for students and $1.25 for adults.

Merry Lee Dibrell, "El Rodeo" editor, has announced that the School Beauty Contest has been canceled for this year only.

Mr. Dan Shockey, BSHS speech teacher, has reported that the "Pot Boiler," presented by the fifth period drama class, was a "smashing success" with over 100 people in attendance.

The second year French students recently attended the State Fair in Dallas.

Last Saturday, Mary Newton, BSHS junior, was elected secretary of the West Texas Press Association at Texas Tech "J" Day. Bryans Fitzhugh, BSHS senior, was presiding officer. The 1964 "El Rodeo" won a first class rating.

HOMECOMING PARADE

Runnels Ends Its Football Season

By LYNNE PUCKETT
Last week marked the end of football season for Runnels Junior High in a matched contest against Goliad. A special pep rally for the event was attended by students and teachers. The advanced band participated in the pep rally by playing the Runnels fight song, victory song, the school song and other selections. Cheerleaders, coaches, teachers and students joined in to make the pep rally a success.

Half-time events at the Runnels vs. Goliad game included the crowning of the Football Queen and a half-time show presented by RJH marching band, consisting of 64 members.

November 9-13 was American Education Week. A "Runnels Newsletter" was sent out to parents which discussed courses and their purposes. Other information on school fees and the girls' physical education program was also discussed. Parents were invited to attend the schools during Education Week. The theme for this year's Education Week was "Education Pays Dividends."

Extra rehearsals for the band were scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday night. The band participated in the BSHS Homecoming parade Friday afternoon. Membership tickets for Band Boosters are being sold for $1. Fruit cakes and mint candy are being sold by band members. Price of the candy is $1 and the fruit cakes range from $3.70 to $5.25. Profits go to the Band Boosters.

A choir party was given Thursday in honor of Sybil Smart, a student leaving Runnels. Members of the choir are forming a "constitution" of rules.

Homecoming Queen Named

By DARLENE WRIGHT
Sands' Homecoming Queen was crowned at the Homecoming game against Flower Grove, Nov. 7. She was Terry Hambrick, the junior candidate, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Hambrick. Terry was escorted by Robert Bagwell.

Most of the past week was spent in preparation for the last district football game. The Mustangs traveled to Wellman knowing that if they won, they would be district champs. Friday at 5 p.m. boosters met at the high school to form a caravan to Wellman.

Congratulations go to Merwin Beal and Eddy Herm for winning Player of the Week Awards for the game against Flower Grove.

Tuesday afternoon, Union Junior High traveled to Sands to play two match games in basketball. The Sands boys won, but the girls lost by a narrow margin. The teams played host to Elbow Thursday, and they will play at Gail this week.

Sands Junior High basketball Tournament starts Nov. 17 and will run Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Anyone wishing a bracket may obtain one from the junior high coach.

To Honor Teacher

The Classroom Teachers Association will recognize its Teacher of the Year at a meeting set for 4:30 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium. The teacher chosen for the honor, and who will become the unit's nominee for a national teacher-of-the-year project, will be presented with a plaque by the association, said Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, president.

Likes Hawaii Fine, Smokes, Coffee Too

By MALCOLM BARR
Associated Press Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — Is it worth $2,000 a month lost income to live in Hawaii?

There's a film and choreographer and dancer here who says it is — if you live where he lives and not with the "hipsters" (his word) of Honolulu and Waikiki.

Jack Regas disappeared from the Hollywood scene last year for awhile, returned once then came back to Hawaii for good.

He left a 10-room house in Chatsworth, Calif., for a four-room, modest place in the middle of "Missionary Row" in the tiny community of Laie, Oahu.

Laie is about 30 miles from Honolulu, but it's a sleepy little spot beside the Pacific Ocean which has become a home-away-from-home for natives of Samoa, Tahiti, Tonga, New Zealand, Fiji and Salt Lake City.

Jack Regas isn't a Mormon — he smokes two packs a day and enjoys his cup of coffee — but he works and lives among Mormon South Sea islanders and the missionaries and teachers who come from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Utah.

Regas is director of the Church College of Hawaii's South Sea Revue which runs daily — except Sundays — at the Mormon-sponsored Polynesian Culture Center. The money raised goes to the Church College, apart from the modest fee commanded by Regas.

The Regas family lives in a row of homes occupied by church officials.

There are 450 singers, dancers and musicians in Regas' show, and most of them, at one time or another, spend the night at the Regas house. Weekends, he regularly accommodates about 15 of these students at one time and the house is alive with songs and dances of the islands.

There are beds enough only for the family, three daughters, Claudia, 16; Lori, 11; Kathi, 8; his wife, Kit, a former MGM secretary and now a student at the Mormon college, and himself, so the living room floor becomes a mattress for the visitors.

Regas, at 39, has gone high in his field, and, according to his contemporaries, could go further. Starting in the chorus of "Oklahoma" when it opened on Broadway, he danced in every major MGM musical between 1943 and 1948, including "Ziegfeld Follies," "Best Foot Forward," "Meet Me In St. Louis" and "The Harvey Girls."

He joined Betty Hutton's nightclub act, and toured the world.

He danced four shows with "Shower of Stars," an early television extravaganza. He has been choreographer for the Jack Benny Show, the Dinah Shore Show, Gisele MacKenzie, Steve Allen and George Gobel.

He recently turned down an offer from Meredith Willson, and told Nat Cole he'll do his show only if Cole brings it to the islands. Cole won't, and Regas refuses to return to Hollywood.

It was movie producer Mike Grilikhes — actress Laraine Day's husband — who asked Regas to come to Hawaii to work with the Polynesians.

"They didn't know a time-step from a happily hippy bump, but we got along beautifully," Regas said of his charges.

One thing which almost caused Regas to throw in the towel and return home was the Polynesians' concept of time.

Rehearsals called for 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. normally found the performers turning up around 10. Then they'd quit at 11 anyway, until Regas put his foot down.

He told them that he'd fire anyone from the troupe who was late more than twice. Now, the leisurely Polynesians watch the clock — possibly for the first time in their lives.

Regas' smoking habit caused something of a crisis in the community when he arrived, and sparked a gathering of 250 people in a big Maori meeting house. Regas was invited to attend, and he flatly refused to give up his "vice." That being understood, there was no further move by the Mormons to stop him.

"They're always trying to convert me," Regas said. "I admire their religion and their way of life. But I'm not ready to give up these (cigarettes) or this (a cup of coffee). . . yet!"

Polynesian Dance Master

Choreographer Jack Regas coaches Polynesian dancers Pita Vamani and Malle Richards at Hawaii's Polynesian Cultural Center in Laie, Oahu. Twenty-year-old Vamani is from the Tongan Islands. Miss Richards, also 20, is a native Hawaiian.

Martin, Lewis Star In Twin Bill At Ritz

Be prepared for laughs because Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis' funniest comedy hits, "The Caddy" and "You're Never Too Young," appear in a special double-bill presentation at the Ritz Theatre starting Thursday. Both these films are reputed to be among the best of all the Martin and Lewis comedies.

"The Caddy," which stars Dean and Jerry and costars Donna Reed, Barbara Bates and Joseph Calleia, is a funny story about a couple of young fellows who would rather play golf than work. The fellows are Joe Anthony (Dean Martin) and Harvey Miller (Jerry Lewis) and of the two, Harvey is a far superior golfer; his only problem being that he is afraid to play because of this dilemma, Harvey tries to help Joe perfect his game. While doing this, Harvey manages to get himself, and Joe, into some comical situations. When the two fall out somewhere before a big match, their quarrel causes a comic

Suspense Film Set For State

Behind every door there's a drama in "Stop Train 349," a journey in motion picture suspense opening Thursday at the State Theatre. Each compartment aboard the express contains its own individual story.

Academy Award winner Jose Ferrer plays a tough American journalist, trying desperately to get to West Germany. Unable to gain clearance, he secretly boards Train 349 after a comprehensive security check has taken place.

In the compartment marked "private" Sean Flynn, handsome 23-year-old son of Errol Flynn plays the train's dedicated and efficient commanding officer. He is suddenly confronted with a crucial problem that could have provoked a serious international incident.

New Issue To Note Treaty Of Friendship

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

To commemorate the second anniversary of the Treaty of Friendship between the governments of New Zealand and Western Samoa, the latter has issued four new stamps. The one pence ochre, 8 pence deep blue, 2 shilling olive green and 2 shilling maroon are of identical design showing the ceremonial signing of the treaty between the New Zealand High Commissioner and the Samoan Prime Minister. It took place at Valine, the home of Robert Louis Stevenson.

The Yemen Arab Republic has issued a set of five new stamps to honor the inauguration of Sana International Airport. The two lower values show a jet plane flying over the airport. Other planes are lined up near the runways. The next two higher values depict a jet flying over Yemen. The highest value is an airmail and features a plane over the airport while another is ready for takeoff. The Yemen Arab Republic also issued two new stamps commemorating the 10th anniversary of the Arab Postal Union.

Abundance Of Drama Shaping Up Locally

Drama is shaping up in abundance in these parts within the next month.

Thespians at Howard County Junior College will lead off with Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie" Thursday and Friday evenings.

There will be a skip of a week for Thanksgiving holidays, and Dec. 3-4-5, the high school Thespians and the music department will combine to present Meredith Willson's popular "Music Man."

The Dec. 3 date also will find a play in town, "Never Too Late," starring Lyle Talbot and Penny Singleton, as the second offering of the current season by the Big Spring Concert Association. It will be presented at the Municipal Auditorium.

The Big Spring Civic Theatre has scheduled "Hansel and Gretel" for Dec. 11-12.

Nor is that all that is going on in this area. The Odessa College Theatre is opening its 1964-65

District To Begin Testing

The Colorado River Municipal Water District will begin sinking the first of a series of test holes Monday on a portion of the J. C. Sale ranch immediately north of the CRMWD's well field in central Martin County.

After 18 holes have been drilled, these will form the basis of an agreement between Sale and the district for rights to the aquifer. This will provide for some additional production for peaking purposes.

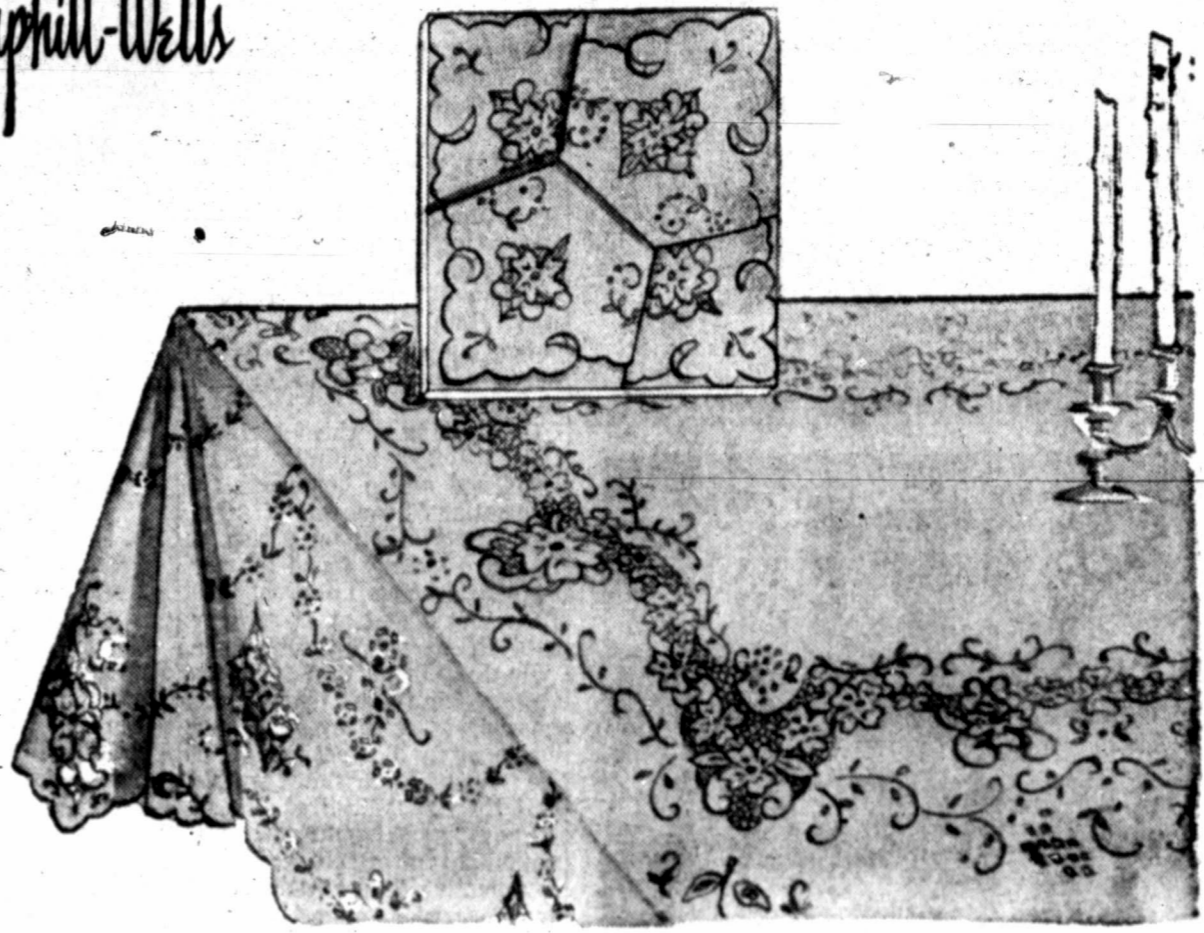

but more importantly, it will furnish a broader base for the district in its future efforts to store surface water during winter months.

Injection of lake water into the dewatered zone of its well field was resumed recently by the district with a target of 160,000,000 gallons to be stored by spring. The recharge is proceeding through two wells at the rate of 1,360,000 gallons per day.

Last year, conducting the injection on an experimental basis, the district was successful in putting 160,000,000 gallons of water into the dewatered gravels in the field. This was withdrawn during summer months when demands for water peaked.
