Term Meted In Shooting

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Fayrene Barnes, who shot the vice president of an Irving bank after arguments over her loan and bank account, was sentenced to five years in prison Monday. Judge Joe Brown released the woman on good behavior.

Mrs. Barnes lived in Irving at the time but has since moved to East Texas. She was arrested May 22 shortly after shooting Thomas Pearce, vice president of the Irving Bank & Trust Co., in the bank.

Pearce struck her arm as the gun went off but escaped with a minor wound. "I didn't intend to shoot him," she told Judge Brown. "I only wanted to scare him."

UF Effort Needing Help

Unless there is a quick turn-about in community attitude and response, the agencies which operate from United Fund sources will have to take a reduction in budget for the next year — at least 10 per cent, perhaps more.

This was the bleak prospect confronting United Fund leaders as they met Monday in an emergency session to determine where the current solicitation has fallen down, and to try to breathe new life into the effort in its last days.

In another week or so, the UF formal campaign will have to end. The prospect is that funds raised will run to some $95,000 to $97,000. This is $12,000 to $14,000 under the goal of $109,366, established as the amount required for the 14 welfare organizations.

As of Monday, cash and pledges in the UF office amounted to $92,629. This is but 84.7 per cent of the goal.

Cards remaining to be worked, some gifts "in sight" but not yet on the books, are as yet to be heard from—all these can account for some $5,000, the leaders estimated. Beyond that? — It's up to the community—up to those who have not participated, or who might be willing to increase their gifts by a small amount.

Lester Morton, general chairman, and his team of division leaders—all of whom have put in long hours of work—emphasized that "we are not giving up yet."

"But," said Morton, "there comes a time when it is no longer feasible to keep an office open, no longer appropriate to keep begging and pleading. We feel that the United Fund campaign, despite the best efforts of so many, ought to come to a conclusion by Thanksgiving Day. That's only a little more than a week away. This is the week in which we renew our most earnest appeal for help from those who have not helped."

Analysis of gifts so far simply shows, said office manager Angy Glenn, that there are fewer givers than in years past, and

Pleas For Missionary

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta appealed to Congolese rebel leader Christophe Gbenye today to save the life of American missionary Dr. Paul Carlson "on humanitarian grounds."

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The fate of American missionary Paul Carlson, threatened with execution by Congolese rebels, remained a mystery today. The United States warned insurgent leaders they would be held to account if they harmed Carlson.

The rebel radio announced Monday that the 36-year-old medical missionary from Rolling Hills, Calif., had been sentenced to death as a military spy and would be executed in Stanleyville at noon. It has broadcast nothing further on his fate.

WARNING BY RUSK In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said if Carlson were executed, it would be "an outrageous violation of international law and of accepted standards of humanitarian conduct."

Rusk appealed to Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya to use his influence as chairman of an African committee seeking to end the Congo civil war to try to save Carlson's life.

Rusk said rebel charges that Carlson was a U.S. Army major on a spy mission were "patently false."

He said the United States holds insurgent leaders "directly responsible for the safety of Dr. Carlson and of all other Americans in areas under rebel control."

"NOT A SPY" In Chicago, Dr. Arden Almqvist, executive secretary of

JOMO KENYATTA

Covenant World Missions in which Carlson served, said the captive missionary "definitely is not a spy."

U.S. Embassy officials in Leopoldville indicated attempts were being made to contact the rebels through the International Red Cross.

Carlson was captured two months ago close to Yakoma, on the Congo's northern frontier, after he had refused to leave his Congolese patients. The missionary had taken his wife and two children to safety in the neighboring Central African Republic.

SHOT, MUTILATED Many whites, most of them Belgians, have been shot or hacked to death by rebel warriors, but Carlson is believed to be the first sentenced to death by the rebel command. Thousands of Congolese have been slain in the struggle by Communist-backed rebel tribesmen against the central government of Premier Moise Tshombe.

Texas Drizzly Cold Front Spreads Some

A drizzly cold front sluggishly moved deeper into Texas Tuesday, but the south and southwest sections of the state continued unseasonably warm.

Brownsville had the nation's high for the morning with 76 degrees. The early morning lows were 34 at Dalhart and 35 at Amarillo, where clouds and drizzle kept down the temperature.

The cold front bogged down for several hours early Tuesday from Lake Texoma region to near Denton and west of Fort Worth, jutting southwestward to Junction and westward to the Davis Mountains.

Showers and thundershowers fell in a band from 60 to 100 miles wide along the cold front, with occasional showers developing before the front.

Forecasts for the next 36 hours call for the cold air to spread down through all of North Texas, the Weather Bureau said, with the showers occurring over the higher terrain in Northwest Texas.

Monday, intermittent showers fell the western third of Texas and the coastal regions. Lubbock, Childress and Tyler reported rain, with drizzle seen at Wichita Falls, Abilene and Junction.

Cold Wave Brings Fog

A chilly night, which saw the temperature drop to 43 degrees for the lowest reading of the current fall, and a sappy, pea-soup fog, which held on until well into the morning, was the local area's share of the current cold wave.

Moisture measured at the U.S. Experiment Station for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today was .07 inch.

The light drizzle which marked most of Monday, was hanging on today and left sidewalks and streets damp. Windshield wipers were in service on motor cars.

The forecast for today, tonight and tomorrow calls for a continuation of the same sort of weather which has prevailed two days.

Bishop Man Dies In Traffic Mishap

BEEVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Leonard Syma, 23, of Bishop died in a traffic accident early today in a mile east of Beaville. His car overturned at a curve.

The Communist party Central Committee made these appointments Monday: Alexander N. Shelepin, 46, and Pyotr Y. Shelest, 56, to full membership in the party's ruling Presidium, and Pyotr N. Demichev, 46, to alternate Presidium membership.

The committee dropped Vasily I. Polyakov, 58, a Khrushchev farm expert, from the secretariat, and dismissed ailing Froil R. Kozlov from the Presidium, thus eliminating one conservative voice from the top of the apparatus.

CONTROL PANEL Shelepin's rise was predictable. As former chairman of the State Security Committee (KGB) and chairman of the party and State Control Committee, Shelepin probably played a significant role in unseating Nikita Khrushchev as premier and first secretary of the party.

Shelepin, a deputy premier, now may be moving close to the top rung of party leadership, possibly eventually as deputy to First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Shelepin's rise and the advancement of Demichev to alternate Presidium membership can encourage new generation leaders anxious to build the consumer economy despite resistance from hard-line conservatives and the military.

HIKED OUTPUT Demichev is closely associated with the chemical industry, a hope of the younger men for sharply stepped up consumer production.

These appointments seem to enhance the positions of younger-generation leaders, like Pre-

Action Due On Sales Tax

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Gov. John McKeithen waited today to see what the legislature, under pressure for a teacher pay raise, will do about a proposed sales tax increase.

The House Ways and Means Committee planned prompt action on a bill introduced by 17 legislators who want to raise the state's two cent sales tax to three cents to bring in $60 millions for teachers.

The sales tax increase would give the state's 36,000 public school teachers the full $1,000-a-year across the board raise they say they were promised.

McKeithen's money bill — which he says is the most he can get through the special session of the legislature — would cover a $500-a-year raise for about half of this fiscal year.

The capitol echoed Monday with the din of demonstrating teachers. More than 2,000 of them milled about in the corridors.

McKeithen was shouted down with boos and cries of "no-o-o" when he told about 1,000 teachers, in the House chamber, that he was confident the legislature would vote half-size raises.

"We're on your side," shouted McKeithen when the screams died down. "I love teachers. I married one."

The demonstrators carried placards reading, "Half is a Laugh," "In Your Heart You Know We're Right," and "Big John, Remember Your Pledge."

Starting pay for a Louisiana teacher with a bachelor's degree is $3,400. Teachers want this raised to $4,400 with raises of up to $1,900 a year for the more experienced and advanced.

The teacher demonstrators were mainly from the New Orleans area, where several school boards declared Monday a special holiday to enable them to head for Baton Rouge on the opening day of the special session.

Republican Says '36 Debacle Was Worse

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Charles A. Halleck sat in his quiet Capitol office, surveyed the election results and said, "The '36 debacle was worse than this."

The House Republican leader from Indiana told a news conference: "I can't read into the results any great mandate to change the course of the country."

consequences, he said, "If you ask me I guess medicare will go through." He referred to medical care for the elderly under Social Security which has been stuck in a House committee despite President Johnson's prodding.

He also said Johnson could probably get through his proposal to aid the Appalachia area — a key part of his anti-poverty program.

Hiker Found Frozen In Rugged Sector

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP) — A 17-year-old youth, fighting frostbite and a raging snowstorm, brought rescuers to his hiking companion Monday only to find him frozen to death in Arizona's rugged northland.

Young Michael McBride was hospitalized with frostbitten feet after his futile attempt to save Abram William Clark, 51, of Bell Gardens, Calif.

A search was to begin today for Clark's wife, Nellie, 54, and the youth's father, George McBride of Jerome, Ariz. Temperatures were expected to drop to near zero in the canyon country where they were last seen.

RUGGED CANYON The four had been packing supplies into rugged Tule Canyon south of Williams where Clark planned to return on a rock-hunting expedition in the spring.

McBride told his rescuers that Mrs. Clark decided she couldn't hike out of the canyon to where they had parked their truck. She and the elder McBride headed for a ranch 16 miles down the canyon.

Clark and the boy hiked back up the canyon to the truck. The vehicle stalled in the snow, however, as the two attempted to drive toward a rendezvous with the others at the ranch.

FIRE FAILS The youth and Clark walked about 10 miles and tried to build a fire but the intensity of the snowstorm was increasing and they failed.

McBride said he and Clark then fell asleep. "I dreamed my feet were being amputated," said the boy. "Then I woke up."

He set out for help when he couldn't awake Clark, who he said was still breathing.

Forest rangers found the youth in a blinding snowstorm which left 14 inches in the area. The boy led them to Clark, who was dead.

Cocino County sheriff's deputies said the elder McBride and Mrs. Clark never reached the ranch.

Stocks Reach Record Ground

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock of its stock, advanced more than a point in a recovery move toward recent highs.

All Big Three motors and top steelmakers were higher.

Other blue chip chemicals, utilities, rubbers and oils advanced.

Rails, still facing a strike threat, backed off irregularly. Assorted key stocks in other groups tacked on gains of a point or better — but there were plenty of soft spots scattered through the list.

DOW JONES The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 330.7 with industrials up 3.2, rails down .3 and utilities up 2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 7.11 at 887.21, well above its latest record closing high. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index also was above its closing peak, but the AP average was still below its record.

Prices advanced in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds drifted slightly lower.

Indictment Of 49 Counts Cites Krebiozen Promoters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The promoters of Krebiozen were indicted today on 49 counts of conspiracy, mail fraud, mislabeling and making false statements to the government about the product they claim is a treatment for cancer.

The indictment, handed down by a Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, charges that the defendants reported one Krebiozen patient healthy when he had been dead six years.

It charges that they reported the cost of producing one gram of Krebiozen as $170,000 when it actually is a common chemical costing about 30 cents a gram.

The indictment also charges that one defendant signed a death certificate on a Krebiozen patient whose death was reported to the government as being caused by pneumonia when the defendants knew she had died of cancer.

Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach announced the indictment here. It names as defendants the Krebiozen Research Foundation and four men: Dr. Stevan Durovic, 59, the founder; his brother, Marko, 64, a lawyer; Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, 71, for years a well known medical scientist and educator and former vice president of the University of Illinois; and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, 52, all of Chicago.

Strike May Halt Most Of Carriers

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal mediators hope to arrange for new bargaining sessions between union and railroad officials in a last-ditch effort to avert a strike set for Monday which could halt service on most of the nation's carriers.

Six shop craft unions, involved in a wage dispute with the railroads for nearly 18 months, Monday called the strike of their 140,000 members for 6 a.m. Big Spring time. A spokesman for the unions said the walkout would halt service on the 187 railroads and terminal switching companies which handle more than 90 per cent of the nation's rail traffic.

The spokesman, Michael Fox, president of the AFL-CIO Railway Employees Department, said that consideration would be given any "fair and equitable" settlement offer from the railroads. He also said serious consideration would be given any request from the White House.

REJECT PROPOSALS There was no immediate word from the White House but the shop unions have rejected as inadequate a presidential emergency board's recommended increase of 27 cents an hour over a three-year period.

Francis O'Neill of the National Mediation Board came to Chicago from Washington and met separately with carrier and union officers Monday. He said he would try to set up bargaining sessions between union and rail officials.

J. E. Wolfe, spokesman for the railroads, said the carriers will not go beyond the recommendations made Oct. 29 by the emergency board. He said to grant higher increases would be unfair to other rail unions which he said have or are about to agree to the board's formula.

Fox said the six unions, among 11 non-operating unions involved in wage disputes, have met with the carriers three times since the board's report and talks were unproductive. The board's report automatically banned a strike for 30 days under terms of the Railway Labor Act but the unions are free to call a strike any time after Thursday.

RECOGNIZE LINES The six shop craft unions represent rail workers who build, maintain, repair and service railroad locomotives and cars.

Fox said he would request the cooperation of all other rail unions in the strike and said they could be expected to recognize picket lines of the shop workers.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said in Washington last week that he did not expect a rail strike or White House intervention in the case.

Oklahomans Flee Rushing Waters

BLACKWELL, Okla. (AP) — The flooding Chickasha River sent scores of persons fleeing from their homes in northern Oklahoma's Kay County Monday night as the rushing waters spread over a broad reach of low lying land.

A Red Cross spokesman said Blackwell said 100 to 150 families had been forced to flee from the rising waters. An official said about 50 blocks in the east end of Blackwell were flooded as flooding threatened to be the worst in recent years.

The Tulsa River forecast center said the Chickasha was expected to crest today near 34 feet, equalling the high water stage of June 1923.

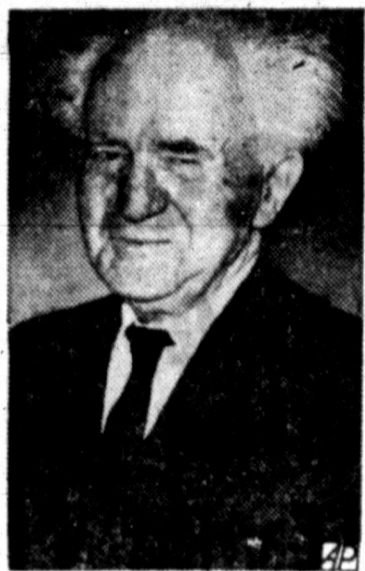

Officials said flooding conditions already were worse than those of November 1961 as the river hit 32 feet, six feet above flood stage, and kept rising.

The 1961 flood was the most recent to drive residents from their home in the Blackwell area.

Cash Balance Decline Frets U.S., England

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're worried about a dwindling cash balance, you're in good company. The United States and Britain, among other wealthy nations, have similar problems.

Both nations this year expect to send abroad more money than they have received from other countries. The result: Balance of payments deficits.

Measures being taken by both countries to curb their payments deficits can affect the cost and kinds of goods you buy and possibly the kinds of jobs that may become available.

McGEORGE BUNDY

France 'Intact' In NATO Role

WASHINGTON (AP)—McGeorge Bundy, President Johnson's special assistant on national security affairs, says he doubts that France ever will withdraw from the North Atlantic alliance.

France, he said, has demonstrated repeatedly it means to stay in the alliance which still is successfully protecting Western Europe. But, Bundy added, even if any nation should withdraw from the alliance he believes ways would be found to protect the interests and security of other members.

Rainfall over much of the Midwest dampened charred fields and forests, but in the East water supplies dwindled and intermittent precipitation did little to alleviate serious drouth conditions and fires in woodland areas.

Substantial showers moved over Southern Illinois, wetting the area where fires destroyed some 15,000 acres of timber this fall. It ended a 48-day rainless span for Cairo in the southern tip of Illinois.

Rain in Indiana broke a 19-day drouth, and a four-day ban on outdoor fires was lifted.

Rain fell throughout Ohio, but the U.S. Weather Bureau said it wasn't enough to alter the dry situation plaguing south-central and southwestern counties and threatening forests there.

SOME RELIEF
New England, which has suffered through its worst autumn drouth in history, had some relief.

Connecticut received only .01 inch of rain, but officials said it was enough to reduce the danger of brush and forest fires.

Maine and New Hampshire received some snow, but officials said more precipitation is needed to bring the water table up to seasonal levels. An inch of rain in southern Maine and 3-4 inches of snow in northern Maine brought some relief to stricken areas.

Massachusetts officials considered asking for federal aid to finance transportation of water to communities where reservoirs are low.

STILL BURNING
Light rain fell over much of Pennsylvania. A ban on smoking in woodlands, lighting of campfires and burning of brush remained in effect. Officials said 251 forest fires broke out last week and more than 50 are still burning.

The situation remained grim in New Jersey, where Gov. Richard J. Hughes asked mayors in four large northern counties to take immediate steps to conserve water. Monday's rainfall measured only .04 inch.

Scattered showers in New York State did little to settle the dust of a six-month drouth.

A light rain Monday night made West Virginia forests slightly less prone to fire, but 95 fires were reported in wooded areas.

Thirty North Carolina counties have canceled burning permits because of the dry conditions and some wooded areas have been closed to hunters.

RECORD HIGH
In Tennessee, unseasonably mild weather continued. For the third consecutive day, Nashville Monday had a record high reading for the date — 77.5.

Better Rice Flour Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rice milling process under development by the Agriculture Department may result in a whiter, more attractive rice and high-protein rice flour.

High-protein flour, the department said, would be an important new outlet for rice, as an ingredient in baby foods and in special diets for all ages, since rice is considered easily digested and nonallergenic.

The new process was developed by department chemists in work at the Southern Utilization Research Laboratory at New Orleans. They undertook the study after Spanish scientists reported the protein content of rice is highest in the outer portions of the kernels and decreases toward the center.

Kennedy Marker Details Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for a white marble terrace and a low, plain monument for John F. Kennedy's grave were announced Monday.

The central theme for the grave site will be the "eternal flame" lighted by the president's widow the day of his funeral almost one year ago.

The grave in a small grass plot will be marked by a gray slate tablet which the designers said was the tradition in early New England.

HEAD OF GRAVE
The flame placed at the head of the grave, will be directly along the historic axis extending from the Capitol to the Lincoln Memorial, and then across the Potomac River to the Custis-Lee Mansion at Arlington National Cemetery where Kennedy is buried.

Steps will lead up to the grave site, on a slope just below the mansion.

In the center, slightly elevated is to be the rectangular grass plot where President Kennedy is buried. Its marble "frame" contains a kneeling step for prayer. Within the grass plot will be a slate marker about three feet by 4 1/2 feet in size, bearing the inscription:

John Fitzgerald Kennedy 1917 — 1963
A small cross will be incised above the grave.

The marker for the late president will be flanked by smaller tablets marking the graves of the two Kennedy children who died at or shortly after birth.

The eternal flame will burn to the rear of the tablets emerging from a 3-bronzed bronze font.

BEAR SEAL
The backdrop for the flame is to be a long low wall bearing the presidential seal.

Plans for the grave site were announced at a news conference six days before the first anniversary of Kennedy's assassination last Nov. 22 in Dallas, Tex.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and architect John Carl Warnecke were in charge of releasing the details.

McNamara said the preliminary cost estimates for the grave site, the immediate surroundings, walkways and other improvements at Arlington would be approximately $2 million.

"The Kennedy family has offered to pay all costs associated with development of the late president's grave site," McNamara said.

Economy Gets Jolt From Strike At GM

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Motors strike last month gave the nation's economy its roughest jolt since the 1960 recession, and the effect may linger if the current strike at Ford Motor Co. puts another extended damper on production.

Government economists fretted today about the possibility that labor disputes could cause a general business slowdown after an almost uninterrupted climb of four years.

If the Ford stoppage is settled quickly, there remains the threat of a nationwide rail strike next week. There is talk of trouble in the steel industry, even though the contract deadline is months away.

NOTE CONCERN

Both government and business economists have expressed concern over the possibility that wage settlements such as the one at General Motors could lead to a heavy round of inflation after four years of relative stability. Now they also face the possibility that the same labor-management disputes could lead to a sag in the economy.

"I believe we have to worry more about keeping things rolling than we do about inflation," one administration official said.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Monday that its index of industrial production had fallen from 134.0 in September to 131.7 in October. The scale is based on a value of 100 for the 1957-59 average. Thus the October rate was 31.7 per cent higher than that of the late 1950s.

The October drop was only about 1.7 per cent, but it was the first time in more than a year that the scales had dipped, and the size of the decline was the largest since December 1960, near the end of a recession. There was a considerably larger decline in industrial production during the nationwide steel strike in 1959.

BE DAMPENED
The Federal Reserve said that "recovery in November will be dampened by the beginning of strikes at other plants in the auto industry."

Although deliveries of new cars fell 30 per cent, retail sales continued to climb in other lines, and the over-all effect was a decline of only 3 per cent for the month. The output of business equipment was 10 per cent ahead of a year earlier.

Since strikers are counted as employed in Labor Department statistics on unemployed, the jobless rate held steady at 5.2 per cent last month. There was a reduction in employment.

Goose Blame Is Confirmed

HOUSTON (AP)—A space agency board confirmed Monday that a goose caused the fatal plane crash of astronaut Theodore Freeman Oct. 31.

The board report said the snow goose — weighing eight pounds and with a wingspread of more than 24 inches — struck the astronaut's plane as it came in for a landing.

Despite the loss of power, Freeman tried to land his aircraft and in the last few seconds he headed for an open field, probably to avoid nearby Ellington Air Force Base buildings, the board said.

He ejected, but too late.

Sorghum Crop Mostly Cut

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers had mild weather last week to plant grains, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Monday.

The department said 96 per cent of the sorghum crop has been cut.

Light showers helped wheat in the northern High Plains, but slowed combining of stubble crop rice along the upper coast.

Wheat planting is 97 per cent planted. Oat planting was 93 per cent finished.

Only 44 per cent of the state's cotton has been harvested.

Peanut digging increased to 54 per cent of the crop.

In the Rio Grande Valley, citrus sales increased. Lettuce and onion planting also is active.

Grains are providing good grazing in many areas for livestock, and they should enter the winter season in fair to good condition.

 The abundance of material wealth bestowed by nature on West apparently lulled the latter into a false sense of security in defending against South's doubled four spade contract. A careless lapse at the opening gun led to a surprise verdict for the declarer.

North's opening bid of four hearts is based on a hand that would normally rate to produce eight tricks. West was dealt a power house, but the preemptive call forced him to settle for whatever penalty was available. South's eventual runout to four spades was a calculated risk which we are not inclined to recommend. When partner opens with a preempt, it does not usually pay to act the part of a nursemaid, particularly with a broken suit. Observe that North can always win eight tricks at a heart contract.

West opened the king of diamonds and East signaled encouragingly with the eight. West continued with the ace of diamonds and declarer trumped in his hand. The ace of clubs followed by a club ruff provided South with access to the dummy, so that he could discard two more clubs on the ace and king of hearts.

The closed hand was re-entered by ruffing a diamond, and declarer proceeded to drive out the ace and queen of spades — eventually drawing West's last trump with the ten. Inasmuch as West's king-queen of clubs had made their appearance on the first two rounds of that suit, South was able to cash the game fulfilling trick with the jack of clubs.

West should have been aware of the threat presented by North's singleton club. He could easily have countered this menace by switching to the ace of spades at trick two, to remove the dummy's trump. Observe that he surrenders nothing in the process, for his queen of spades is still guarded. West may now switch back to diamonds, if he chooses, and declarer is obliged to play the remainder of the deal from his own hand. He must lose—in all—two spades, one diamond and three clubs for a 500 point deficit.

George Bush Spent Most In Big Statewide Races

AUSTIN (AP) — Republican George Bush, who waged a hard-fought but unsuccessful campaign to unseat U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., was the biggest spender among the major statewide candidates in the Nov. 3 election, reports to the secretary of state show.

Bush said in his final campaign expense report, required by state election law, that he paid out $288,283, had debts of $3,000 and received contributions totaling $291,419.

Yarborough's winning re-election campaign cost $87,767, plus $26,109 in debts, his report indicates. Contributions added up to $87,767. Yarborough reported not counting $62,300 he reported Oct. 28 as going for expenses of the May 2 Democratic primary.

Gov. John Connally said his re-election bid cost $75,549, plus $30,624 in debts. The governor reported gifts of $58,388. Republican Jack Crichton, who challenged Connally, reported spending $43,219, with debts of $30,173 and gifts of $27,992.

City Opens Bids Thursday For Next Paving Project

The contract bids for a 54-block paving project, to cost some $180,000, are scheduled to be received in city hall Thursday.

If plans proceed according to schedule, actual work on the construction may begin in the latter part of January or early February, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said today.

About six months of work will be needed to complete the paving, Lillard said. The current project will be about half the size of the last paving project for Big Spring, completed during the summer one year ago.

The present project is the last paving authorized under the Master Plan bond program and will use up the remaining bond funds available for paving, Lillard said.

After the bids are tabulated, the next step will be a public hearing scheduled by the city commission and the awarding of a contract. A 30-day time delay is then required before actual work can begin. Lillard said if plans proceed as previously scheduled, a work order may be issued in January or early February, after a public hearing in December or January. The project would then be completed by about next September.

The city commission Oct. 13 approved the plans and specifications for the paving project, with several blocks added to the original plans at that time, involving Settles, Nolan and Thirteenth Streets.

The total cost of the project, included with the preliminary estimates which were approved for plans and specifications, was $182,290. The total cost to the city would include an additional $36,021, for engineering, utility adjustments, laboratory costs, drainage structures and right-of-way costs.

About 50 per cent of all property owners involved on the streets have signed petitions for the paving project, Lillard said. Streets included in the project are: Thirteenth Street, from FM 700 to the Fourteenth and Airbase Road fire station; Mesa Street, Eleventh Place to FM 700; State Street, Sixteenth to Nineteenth Streets; Northwest Fifth Street, Glasgo to Main Streets; North Ninth Street, US 87 to SH 350; Northwest Tenth Street, North San Antonio Street to US 87; North Aylford Street, Northwest Third to US 87; Nolan Street, Eighteenth to Twentieth Streets; Virginia Street, FM 700 to Phillips Road; Settles Street, Third to Sixth Streets.

Yarborough's winning re-election campaign cost $87,767, plus $26,109 in debts, his report indicates. Contributions added up to $87,767. Yarborough reported not counting $62,300 he reported Oct. 28 as going for expenses of the May 2 Democratic primary.

Gov. John Connally said his re-election bid cost $75,549, plus $30,624 in debts. The governor reported gifts of $58,388. Republican Jack Crichton, who challenged Connally, reported spending $43,219, with debts of $30,173 and gifts of $27,992.

In the congressman-at-large campaign, incumbent Democrat Joe Pool said he spent $9,903 and received $12,339, with no debts.

Bill Hayes of Temple said he spent $4,984 in his effort to oust Pool from office and received $4,991, also with no debts. Campaign contributions of $1,000 or more, since the Oct. 26 reports included: Yarborough: Bart and Beth Lytton, Los Angeles, Calif., $1,000; M. Spencer, Rockport, $1,000; Railway Laborers Political (SIC), Cleveland, Ohio, $1,000; Committee for Good Government, Detroit, Mich., $1,000; Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, Washington, D.C., two $500 contributions; A. Gabriel, Houston, $1,000; F. Alford, Corpus Christi, $1,000; E. Smith, Houston, $5,000; J. Marshall, Houston, $1,000; D. Lasker, New York, $1,000.

Case Left Up In Air

FORT WORTH (AP) — A cop looking for a stolen car found a stolen airplane Monday.

Sheriff's investigator Herman Cobb was questioning the owner of the missing car in Crowley when he noticed a single engine airplane parked in a pasture nearby. Cobb learned that the plane had been stolen from a Dallas field. The Dallas officials also located a car parked at the airport.

Cobb said the thief probably swiped the plane for a joy ride, set it down in the pasture and then stole the Crowley man's car for a return trip to Dallas.

Thieves Ire Store Owner

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago has a pistol packin' miss and she has declared a one-woman war on crime.

"I just want to protect what I've got and I'm mad," says brown-eyed Ann Soloman, 39, who owns a plush leather goods salon on fashionable North Michigan Avenue.

To fend off would-be thieves, Miss Soloman has begun wearing gun and holster on her hip.

"I've been victimized too many times," she said today. "Now, I'm going to do something about it."

Miss Soloman, who is 5-foot-2 and weighs 110, said she has lost "thousands and thousands" of dollars to thieves since opening the shop 20 years ago.

Last week, Miss Soloman said, she decided to start wearing the gun after watching a pair of shoplifters at work.

"They pretend they're customers," she said. "They come in bunches and then they separate on the floor." "They confuse you on size and color — and then they steal. And before you know it they're out the door. They steal things right out of windows and off racks — you wouldn't believe it."

BLACKIE GROUP

The late president's Food for Peace director may well have been speaking for all the New Frontiersmen who made up Monday night's blacktie audience — and for those who were so moved they left the State Department auditorium unable to speak.

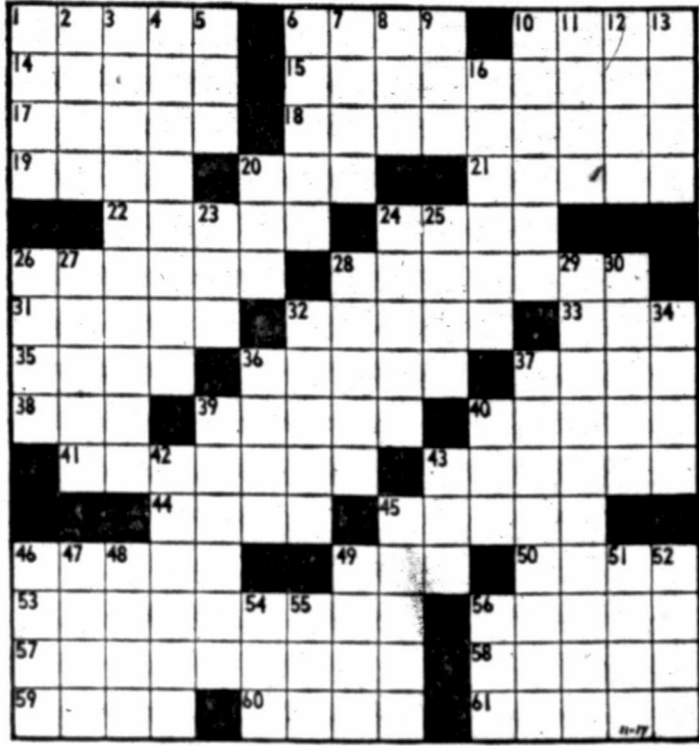

"I still can't get used to seeing those pictures," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said in a choked voice to Jacqueline Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss.

The only other member of the Kennedy family at the 90-minute showing was Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, a sister-in-law of the slain president. She hurried away in a limousine.

Visibly moved was Angier Biddle Duke, chief of protocol. He tried to leave a message for the USIA producer, George Stevens Jr. Tears welled in his eyes as he said: "Tell him — tell him — tell him — I'm glad we were in Ireland together."

DAY OF DRUMS

The film, which covers Kennedy's administration from the day of his inauguration until the day of drums — the day on which he was buried, was prepared by USIA for showing around the world.

Grief Chokes Up Viewers Of JFK Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes in glowing color, sometimes in somber black and white, the years of John F. Kennedy moved across the screen, reached out and revived the pain of a year ago.

"Have you ever seen anything that tore your heart out so completely?" Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., asked a friend after the premiere showing of the U.S. Information Agency's memorial movie, "John F. Kennedy: Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

'Educational Policy' Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a harsh criticism of the "educational establishment," Dr. James B. Conant has called on the 50 states to join in a nationwide educational policy.

Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, emphasized he was not referring to a national education policy to be established and directed by the federal government but rather a policy set up by the states.

Conant set forth his views in a new book, to be published today, "Shaping Educational Policy," (McGraw-Hill).

In it he urges that the six re-

...YOU DON'T EXPECT TO REACH TIMBUKTU

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you sent it... in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.

A Devotional For The Day

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. (John 12:24)

PRAYER: Dear Father, help us to overcome our selfish desires and live for Thee. Help us to become more fruitful through ministering to the needs of our fellowman. In Jesus' name we pray, as our Master taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Tedious Balancing

Walter W. Heller, the Minnesota professor appointed by President Kennedy as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers in 1961, is leaving his White House post later this month optimistic that both inflation and a business slowdown can be avoided in the months ahead.

Dr. Heller's record for rightness as chief presidential economic adviser is such as to encourage confidence in his optimism. The $11½-billion tax cut that has made this the longest business upswing in modern American economic history, and added a major new tool to national economic policy, was his idea. But also headed — by management and labor, as well as by the administration — should be Heller's caution that continuing expansion with stability involves "a delicate policy problem."

Inflationary pressures will intensify during the next six months, he warns, citing the impact of the auto industry wage settlement probably to be followed by a similar one in steel. Offsetting those pressures, however, will be rising productivity, good supply situations, increasing plant capacity, foreign competition, and persuasive governmental influence.

By mid-1965, Heller thinks, the problem will shift to one of avoiding a business slowdown. To counter an economic downturn, the Johnson administration can use "another tax cut — this time in outmoded and inequitable excise levies — plus possibly several billions in increased spending without going above the $100 billion budget ceiling set by the President.

There are also, of course, built-in cushions in the national economy against both inflation and recession, as well as federal policy devices other than taxation and spending — such as credit and monetary adjustments — that can be used to continue a noninflationary economic expansion. The best use of all of these economy-guiding measures will require both a responsive Congress and sophisticated understanding and support in the private sectors of the economy. And that dual requirement must temper our optimism.

Analyzing Outcome

Post-election analyses are now beginning to define the magnitude and nature of the popular mandate for President Johnson. Among the more interesting is a comparison of his share of the total vote by population units, compared with that of John F. Kennedy's in 1960.

Like Kennedy, Johnson topped his nationwide percentage of the total popular vote only in the great metropolitan areas and larger (50,000 to 250,000 population) cities. But there the comparison turns to contrast.

Kennedy received less than a majority of the popular vote in the suburbs, smaller cities, towns, rural villages and farm areas. Johnson got more than a majority in all of those classifications nationally, though his percentages dropped with decline population density. Kennedy's popular vote percentages ranged from 43 in rural farm areas to 62 in the major metropolitan areas. Johnson's range, between the same areas, was 53 to 73 — a similar spread but at a consistently higher level of support. Johnson's share of the popular vote exceeded Kennedy's by 11 percentage points in the metropolises and bigger cities, by 10 points in farm areas, and by 13 points in rural nonfarm areas, small cities suburbs. The biggest difference was 15 points, in towns of 1,000 to 10,000 population.

One of the most refreshing things about the analyses so far is that we have been spared the inevitable piece about how 500,000 votes, changed at certain points, would have reversed the outcome.

The Dynasty That Will Not Die

WASHINGTON—If indeed there is a cruel and ruthless fate which seems to brood over the Kennedy family and strike down its sons and daughters in the glory of their youth and accomplishment, let it be said that this fate has long been challenged by a foeman worthy of its steel.

And if something in the American nature does not like a dynasty, or wishes to make dynasties prove their destructibility, there has been a counterforce of admirable nerve, stubbornness and brilliance which, in tragedy, has been defiant and resilient, and has never accepted defeat even in the face of death.

THE NAME of that counterforce, that tireless challenger of the death-dealing destiny, is Joseph P. Kennedy, father of three United States senators, of one President and quite possibly of a splendidly organized and amazingly knowledgeable biography by Richard J. Whalen, Joe Kennedy by "The Founding Father," and no objective reader will put aside the book without feeling that if any man's courage and ingenuity, family pride and parental leadership, can be a Dynastic Founder, this is the man.

BROKEN NOW in health, paralyzed and dumb-struck, advanced in years, the old ambassador is withdrawn from public life, but it is his indomitable spirit which certainly presided over the unusual spectacle of one brother winning re-election in Massachusetts from a hospital bed, and a second unseating Kenneth Keating in New York — all in less than a year after the third brother's public murder in Dallas.

This kind of vitality, this kind of struggle against merciless fate, deserves Homeric or Shakespearean genius to write its chronicle. We will have to wait for that, but meanwhile young Dick Whalen, a Fortune Magazine staff writer, has given us a grand book, so packed with fact, so dispassionately set forth, so full of awareness and so devoid of prejudice and theatrics, that it deserves to be called indispensable in the history of our times.

Around The Rim

The Almost Mysterious Pit

A short distance from the pretty little town of Rock Springs is one of West Texas' most amazing natural phenomena. It is called the Devil's Sink Hole. The Hole is located on a ranch and the owner of the ranch, fearful of possible damage suits if some visitor happened to hurt himself while in the area, keeps the gates locked and the place posted.

FROM TIME to time, attempts have been made to have the state declare the Sink Hole a state park and to set up some method to acquire the land and make the place available to the public. These efforts, so far, have been futile.

The Devil's Sink Hole is a place where the stone roof of an enormous cave has fallen in. How extensive the cavern revealed by this break may be is uncertain. One man I talked to about it told me he spent weeks in the cave and never came anywhere near its end.

He told me of coming to a place where stalactites and stalagmites had grown together to form a closely knit fence across the sizeable tunnel he had been following.

HE COULD NOT get between the limestone bars. He had a super-sized flashlight stocked with fresh batteries, and he thrust his arm between two of the barriers and swung the beam of the light into the darkness ahead. The flashlight, focused to throw its rays the greatest possible distance, did not pick up the ceiling of the room ahead. Nor, for that matter, did it span the width of the chamber in either direction to reach the walls. The room, he estimated, must have been much larger than the main room at Carlsbad Caverns.

THE OPENING into this almost unexplored cavern is on top an almost level mesa of huge extent. You come upon the break without warning. Suddenly ahead of you gapes an irregularly shaped circular hole more than 100 feet across. If you walk to the edge and look downward, you are peering deep into a bottle shaped pit which is bottomed by masses of fallen rock and earth. Varying sized tunnels lead off from this room.

They say that the Devil's Sink Hole was discovered in the early days by settlers who were looking for stray cattle. They came upon two Indians driving one of the lost cows away from the scene. The two settlers gave chase and were astounded to see the two Indians disappear from sight as they rode across what appeared to be a level plain.

THE SETTLERS crept cautiously forward, fearful of an Indian trap, and suddenly came upon the lip of the sinkhole. Far down in the depths they could see the two Indians, sprawled on the jagged rocks. Their dead horses were nearby.

The settlers had lived within a few miles of the place for several years at the time, so the legend goes, but had never before seen it. They told the story of the luckless redskins and gave the place its name.

SINCE THEN it has been always "The Devil's Sink Hole."

Some day, perhaps, there will be a road cut through to the scene and the area will be developed into a state park. And tourists will visit the place and marvel.

Centuries ago, what is now the cave likely was once the course of a vast underground river.

THE ROARING WATERS etched their twisted path through the limestone and perhaps emerged on the outer edge of the Edwards Plateau.

Those who have been in the cavern tell of streams which still run through the dark tunnels and how, when there are heavy rains, the flood of water through the cave surges high.

Signs Bode Success For Johnson's Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is preparing to send his own legislative program along the old, storm-swept congressional trail.

This time it will carry his brand alone rather than the joint JFK-LBJ sign of the previous Congress. The Texas rancher is sure to watch over it as if it were a prize newborn calf.

The congressional signs bode well for the President's program. Johnson's Democrats will have their biggest majority in the House since the New Deal days and have increased their top-heavy edge in the Senate.

BUT BIG majorities don't dazzle Johnson. The man who made his reputation generating Democratic forces in the Senate believes that leadership is the key to success.

So he is faced with a problem: Filling Vice President-Elect Hubert H. Humphrey's shoes as the party's assistant leader — or more descriptively, the whip — in the Senate.

It's a big job and big shoes. Sen. Mike Mansfield, the majority leader, is of a scholarly nature, free of pugnacity. Thus much of the heavy legislative line plunging was left to the staccato-talking man in motion: Humphrey.

Johnson approved of the way he did it, so much so that he picked him as his running mate, gaining a vice president but losing a Senate whip.

WHO WILL replace Humphrey? A number of senators want to try.

Russell B. Long of Louisiana, Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island all have announced they would like the job and circulated letters to their colleagues seeking support.

Other names have been mentioned, including Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

Technically the President has no hand in making the selection. The decision will be made by the 68 Democrats voting in caucus before Congress opens.

But realizing what a quietly spread word from the President can mean, Long and Monroney have sought Johnson's ear. Later Monroney told newsmen Johnson had informed him he wasn't taking a hand in it. Long reported that he thought the caucus would pick him "provided President Johnson does not enter the situation."

IT IS the "bantam rooster of the Senate," Pastore, whom Long regards as his toughest opponent. Well he might. Of all the possibilities the senator from Rhode Island appears to be the closest match to the Humphrey pattern.

A liberal, he is intense, combative, quick to debate, respected for his knowledge of legislation and a hard-driving supporter of Johnson's legisla-

Also he was the man Johnson personally picked to make the keynote address at the party's Atlantic City convention.

Platitudes Had Beginning

NEW YORK (AP) — No one knows for sure just what repartee was exchanged in the Garden of Eden.

The language was young and fair then, as young and fair as the world's only bridal couple.

It is impossible at this late date to discover what shy jokes Eve whispered to Adam, what clever boffs and bon mots Adam composed when he had earth's first lady as his only audience.

But here are a few staid remarks and timeworn quips they certainly didn't inflict on one another:

"I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth."

"I want a girl just like the girl that married dear old dad."

"Married is enough. I'm going to pack and go home to mother."

"I'm tired of supporting your brother. Let him get out and earn his own living for a change."

"Don't think you're the only fish that swims in the ocean."

"Do you think money grows on trees?"

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

"Now don't try and tell me you've been out with the boys until this hour!"

"No, I was sitting up with a sick friend."

"Don't forget to leave a tip."

"Who was the lady I saw you with last night?"

"Oh, since you insist, I'll just have a little martini."

"Step to the rear of the bus, please."

"The trouble with me is that my wife doesn't understand me."

"Well, I met the new neighbors today; if you ask me, they're both a mess."

"Don't you ever get tired of talking shop?"

On the other hand, some repartee hasn't changed at all since the Garden of Eden. We can surmise that when Adam first saw the sneaky snake, he must have muttered, "Two's company — three's a crowd."

Here are a few more timeless marital remarks which also undoubtedly originated with Eve and her husband:

"Why is it we never go anywhere anymore?"

"Can't a man have a little peace and quiet? Is that too much to ask?"

"You never listen to me. You never heard one word I said."

"I don't care if you did have it for lunch. You're having it for dinner, too."

"I don't have a single decent thing to wear — not one!"

Will Success Spoil Big Daddy?

WASHINGTON — Will success spoil Big Daddy?

The nation's repudiation of Goldwater has been widely read as an overwhelming endorsement of the patient scholar in the White House. It certainly has been so interpreted by himself.

Some of the President's recent visitors have begun to wonder, at the possible long-term effects of an election landslide grafted upon a personality notable for folksy imperiousness.

IT HAS LONG been a commonplace around the Federal city that Big Daddy will never win any garden-club ribbons in the shrinking-violet stakes. He is brash and bold, and he likes to have his own way. His euphoric response to crowds has been widely observed; less celebrated (but equally well-founded) are the moods of black despair into which relatively modest reverses can plunge him.

White temper is nothing new in the White House. The demands of the office would overtax the equanimity of a saint, and few saints have ever been called upon to fill the job. Eisenhower and Truman were both chronic top-blowers, although Truman was more inclined to be annoyed by substance while Eisenhower would flare up at minor irritants.

BUT LBJ'S RAGES are of a magnitude that probably hasn't been seen in the White House since Andrew Jackson roared duels, defiance and crude surgery by bowie knife at his foes.

The President's personality, variously described as arrogant or masterful, depending on the bias of the witness, has shown the heady effects of his tremendous victory, in the opinion of some recent visitors.

"HUMILITY NEVER did come easy to him," one post-election caller ruminated, "and it isn't getting any easier."

Few people outside the inner White House circle can estimate the real value of the First Lady in the President's constellation of intimates, but clearly it is great. A poll of those whose lot in life it is to chronicle LBJ's dizzy pace would undoubtedly count Lady Bird as the President's greatest resource. Most rate her at least his intellectual equal, and she is perhaps the only effective brake on his mercurial moods. In the waning days of the campaign, when reporters expressed concern at the furrows of fatigue in the President's face and the rasping weariness of his voice, it was his wife who persuaded him to moderate the brutal pace he had set for himself.

MANY OF THOSE who have watched the phenomenal course of Lyndon Johnson's Presidency credit the wise and charming First Lady with full responsibility for his rare and obviously studied attempts at playing the role of a humble man who has unaccountably found himself at the summit of history.

A CLUE to the nature of the coming Johnson Administration is expected when he appoints an Attorney General to replace Robert Kennedy, whom LBJ swept into office as junior Senator from New York in the century's most notable example of coattailism. A powerful Attorney General noteworthy for independence and integrity — one, say, who might try to tidy up the muddled left by the Bobby Baker case — would be a happy augury. And the reverse would be true if President Johnson names as the nation's chief law officer a crony who is noted only for his skill with a whitewash brush.

Italy's Problem Of Stability

ROME—Secluded in the Quirinale, the great ochre-colored palace once the residence of the Kings of Savoy and now of Italy's Presidents, is a human problem and a constitutional problem. How it is resolved will say a lot about the stability of the Italian government and, for that matter, of the Western alliance.

Three months ago President Antonio Segni suffered a stroke. Fraill, slight, the 73-year-old President with his silver hair and his look of almost-ascetic dignity had been driving himself at an exhausting pace.

SEgni HAS BEEN partially paralyzed ever since. But his doctors issue optimistic bulletins and the extent of his incapacity is unknown to the public. While the circumstances are not nearly so grave in terms of power and the shadow over the future, the situation is like that in 1919 when Woodrow Wilson was sequestered in the White House with partial paralysis from a stroke.

With a parliamentary form of government and a premier and his cabinet, the office of President is nothing like as important as in the United States. Nevertheless, the man in the office exerts wide influence on Italian life and jockeying for the inside track already has begun.

Giuseppe Saragat as foreign minister, and two splinter parties, the Liberals who are pretty far to the right, and the Republicans to the left of center.

THE DELICACY of the balance would be more precarious if it were not for what is happening on the extreme left. The Communists are in an uproar over the removal of Khrushchev and the quarrel with Red China. Observers believe the decision of the new party head, Luigi Longo, to publish the condemnation of Moscow's line since de-Stalinization may have triggered the upheaval. Leonid Brezhnev came to Rome for the funeral of the veteran Communist, Palmiro Togliatti, to try to persuade Longo not to publish Togliatti's posthumous scolding.

In the municipal elections four years ago the Communists got close to 25 per cent of the vote. The belief is they will do about as well on Nov. 22.

BUT IN 1960 they were partners with Nenni's left Socialists. Today Nenni is Deputy Premier. Still at 71 a wily and resourceful politician, he is having a field day pouring scorn on the Communists.

Nenni's own party has been splintered with a loss of seats in both houses. And the Communists on Nov. 22 will try to punish him for coming to terms with the Christian Democrats. But despite his losses his party still holds the balance of power.

Plan Talks On Parks Projects

The parks and recreation board will consider several projects in a meeting at city hall Wednesday afternoon.

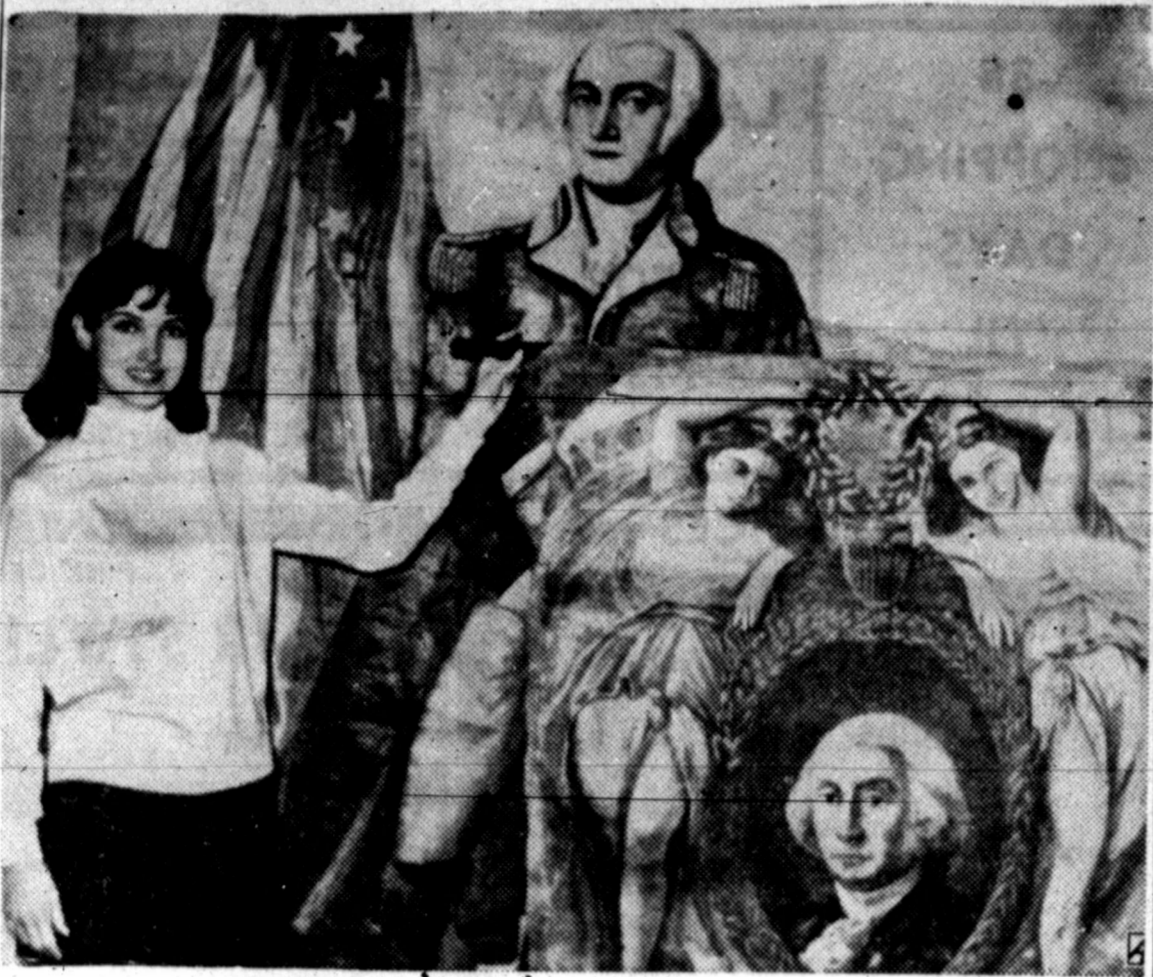

The development of the area around the Lakeview School campus as a combination city-school park area will be discussed in a report from Johnnie Johansen, parks superintendent.

If developed, the area would become the park presently designated for the area around the northwest city swimming pool. Johansen said he has discussed development of the area around the school as a park-recreation area with school officials.

He will present cost estimates and a plot map to the parks and recreation board Wednesday.

Jack Watkins, chairman of the board, is scheduled to report on additional use of the amphitheater and a delegation representing the city softball leagues is also to discuss the program with the board.

Several local churches are scheduled to send representatives to discuss a request for a flag football field in the city.

Cox Given Prison Term

Buster Cox, former sheriff of Glasscock County, was sentenced to a year in the federal penitentiary, D. W. Suttle, federal district judge, assessed the penalty against Cox, who was charged with assault on Orville Hubert Brausel.

The judge then gave the former peace officer a 30-day stay of execution. At the end of 30 days, Cox will be taken to a federal prison to begin serving his sentence.

Cox was found guilty by a federal court jury of assaulting Brausel on July 23, 1963. Cox, a special ranger for a cattleman's association, was investigating theft of horses and was found guilty of tying Brausel to a car and using an electric cattle prod on his body in an effort to make him confess to the theft.

He was tried and convicted on Sept. 30 for the assault charge. Cox has been living in Marfa since resigning as sheriff of Glasscock County.

Recruits May Pick A Career

The individual enlisting in the Army may choose his job or a combination of job and overseas assignment under the Army's "choose it yourself" program, according to Sgt. Raymond J. Woolverton, local Army recruiter.

The key to the program has been the moving of the classification and assignment procedures from the Army post to the local recruiter. An individual has the right to choose the type of training he desires before entering the Army.

Most young men today are interested in learning a specific skill, and they know what they want before talking with the recruiter.

"What the Army is doing," said Sgt. Woolverton, "is bringing the desires of the individual and the different jobs in the Army together." Some of the various job areas open are electronics, general mechanical, motor maintenance, clerical or administration, general technical, plus various overseas and special assignments.

Men who are interested in the Army's "choose it yourself" program may see Sgt. Woolverton at his office, 297 1/2 W. 4th, or call collect AM 4-8940.

Dolls will be sent to the north-side station for repair, with classes from the Big Spring High School, several clubs and individuals preparing dresses for the dolls.

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said some $1,000 to $1,500 is spent each year on parts and paint for the toys, with the money coming from the annual Cheer Fund, which will get under way later this month. Firemen today are sorting out a variety of bicycles, tricycles, wagons and

Chain Store Man Tells Publishers To 'Think Young'

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP)—An official of a national department store chain urged newspaper publishers today to "think young," and seek ways of "making the daily paper more important in the lives of young Americans."

Lee Moore of New York, sales manager of the J. C. Penney Co., told the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association that his firm spends the great bulk of its advertising dollar with newspapers.

"Today, more than ever before," he said, "we're interested in reaching every member of every household, in every community we serve. Newspapers, more than any other media, hold the promise for fulfilling that goal."

Moore said the search for techniques that will attract and hold young readers may not prove simple, but "newspaper men have never been afraid to tangle with problems, simple or complex."

The meeting continues through Wednesday.

A plea of guilty brought a quick finish to the activities of the Howard County Criminal Court Tuesday morning.

Action Show Signs Bright Comedy Star

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Cosby, one of the brightest of the new comedians, has been signed to co-star in an action-adventure series "I Spy," aimed at NBC's schedule next fall.

The show will be produced by Sheldon Leonard, the man behind a string of successful series that have spun off CBS' old "Danny Thomas Show." Exteriors will be shot on location in Hong Kong. Most important, it will be the first time a Negro has had a lead role in a dramatic series.

Cosby, a studious-looking, gentle-mannered fellow who reserves his comedy routines for professional appearances, feels that his assignment is important.

"Not as a racial issue," he explained, "it's a personal quest. Can I do the job? Can this comedian turn into an actor?"

Robert Culp will play an agent disguised as a tennis bum. Cosby will be his colleague, disguised as his trainer. Cosby thinks the casting of a Negro in an important role is simply evolution — "it had to come, a time when the fact that the character was dark-skinned had no importance to the story line."

Still in his 20s, Cosby was a star athlete at Temple University. He was "discovered" on NBC's "Tonight Show" about 18 months ago and since has turned up on most of the television variety programs, scoring on most. He keeps away from what he calls "racial humor."

"I can only do what seems funny to me, and it isn't that," he said. "I think that perhaps the only real wheeler-dealer in better racial humor now is Dick Gregory, and that's because he is overwhelmingly concerned with it."

The bracero program will expire Dec. 31 unless an effort is made to seek its continuance when Congress convenes in January.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
The late BING MILLER, long associated with sports at New York University:
"If I had my way, all basketball games would start with the score 70-70 and five minutes left to play."

JIM BAKKEN, field goal kicker for the St. Louis Cardinals, on why NFL booters are missing on PAT and field goal tries this season:
"I haven't really noticed anything, but I'm naturally inclined to think that teams are putting on more pressure defensively. It hasn't affected me, though. Our line has certainly been holding and Larry Wilson has been perfect putting the ball down for me. But don't think I haven't thought about it. When I see some of the names of the fellows missing them, I have to think about it. I've tried to speed up just a fraction, not enough to hurry the kick, but I do want that extra edge in case I need it."

Freshman coach HERMAN MORGAN at SMU, after his full-back, Ralph Weaver, had played such a large role in his Colts' victory over the Texas Shortboys:
"He's the type player who takes chill off your table and puts steak there."
MRS. MIKE LARRABEE, wife of the Olympic 400-meter winner:
"I'm just an echo of Michael. He's my whole life. He is very honest and direct in everything. You always know where you stand with him. He expects the most in people and is disappointed when they fall short of their best. Michael has worked so hard to become a great quarter-miler. I am so happy for him."
ANDY ROBUSTELLI, defensive coach for the New York Giants:
"When a team isn't winning, you've got to try something. Blitzing gives you incentive. When linemen are 'reading' (explanation: Reaction to the flow of play), they're stationary. When a team is firing, it gets momentum. . . . If they pop the blitzing defense (i.e., a ball carrier breaks through the line), blooey—touchdown. Or if a receiver catches the ball, he's gone."
JACK CRICHTON, beaten by John Connally in the race for the office of Texas governor, a Texas A&M graduate:
"As a former Aggie, I'm used to losing a game now and then."
JOHN V. TUNNEY, son of ex-boxer Gene Tunney, elected to Congress recently in California:
"I'll never be able to thank Jack Dempsey enough for the help he gave me during the campaign. We drew the largest political crowd in the history of Riverside and Imperial counties."
HARRY VINER, who was the head linesman in that 1940 Sugar Bowl football game between Texas A&M and Tulane:
"I've said it before. John Kimbrough's performance was the greatest exhibition of ball-carrying I ever saw. I've never seen anything comparable to it. He made six to eight yards after being tackled."

SATCHEL PAIGE, on the troubles he has experienced as owner of a baseball team in Saskatchewan, Canada:
"You pitch or you don't play, they tell me. They don't stop to think that here's a man maybe 55 or 60. Maybe they got fathers who are 50 years old and can't bend over and tie their shoe laces, but they don't think that maybe I'm that old. That it's hard on me. It's not my arm, it's my wind."

only changes among the Top Ten involved the bottom three places. Louisiana State, which beat Mississippi State 14-10, advanced one notch to eighth. Syracuse and Oregon took over the last two spots, replacing Oregon State and Georgia Tech. Syracuse beat Virginia Tech 20-15 and moved into the No. 9 position. Oregon took over the

Lip Flapping Again Despite Doc's Orders

BOSTON (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay has found a silver lining to the defense he couldn't make against Sonny Liston. It will help this year's income tax. Clay, who prefers to be known by his Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, spent Monday night in Boston City Hospital recuperating from successful surgery for a hernia Friday. Originally he was scheduled for a 15-round rematch with Liston at Boston Garden.

Newsman have not been permitted to see Clay. His wife, Sonji, added: "I won't permit pictures."
But Dr. William V. McDermott, professor of surgery at Harvard University and director of surgery at Boston City Hospital, did meet with the press Monday. He said Clay would not be able to fight again for six months but added the 23-year-old champion is making remarkable progress and is walking around his room.

Harold Conrad, publicity director for the fight, did see Clay and reported The Lip was flapping again.
"He's talking too much," Conrad said. "The doctors tell him not to talk so much and his wife's trying to keep him quiet."
"In a way he's unhappy. But in another he isn't. He's just discovered that this will be a big year for him as far as taxes are concerned."
"It will cost close to $75,000 in training expenses and for the first time he's got a loss to deduct."

Ten Two-Year Vets Boost Seagraves

SEAGRAVES — The Seagraves Eagles, who meet the Coahoma Bulldogs in Andrews at 7:30 p.m. Friday in a Class A playoff game, were pre-season favorites in 5-A but had to win the right to represent the conference in a drawing held last week.
Wink and Plains tied Seagraves for first place in the league. Wink handed Seagraves its only defeat of the season and that loss was by a mere point.
Adult tickets for the playoff game will sell for $1.50 each while children can gain admission for 50 cents each. Some tickets are available at Coahoma High School.
The Eagles are coached by A. D. Shaver. The Seagraves coaching staff has built its team around 13 lettermen.
The Eagles won the 5-A championship outright last year, then were upset in bi-district competition by Merkel in Big Spring.
Seagraves lettermen back this year included: Charles Adams, 160-pound senior center; Van Lasister, 165-pound senior guard; Butch Hill, 165-pound senior tackle; Charles Orum, 220-pound senior tackle; Steve Markley, 170-pound senior guard; Billy Joe Cathey, 175-pound senior; Dwight Hamilton, 150-pound senior end; Jon Roach, 175-pound halfback and fullback, who is a senior; Bo Faulkenberry, 130-pound senior halfback, and Skeeter Reed, 151-pound senior halfback, all two-year veterans.
Heading the potent Eagle offense is quarterback Danny Rosson, 180-pound senior.
Charles Orum, 200-pound senior tackle and tackle James Reanoover, 200-pound junior, gives the Eagles good size in the interior line.
Kenny Cullum, 190-pounder plays either tackle or end for Seagraves.
Four one-year lettermen help give the Eagles added experience for the '64 season. They include Orum, Larry Barron, 155-pound senior guard, Rosson and Bill Coward, 155-pound junior center.

Coahoma Now Rated 9th In News' Class A Poll

DALLAS (AP) — Few changes marked the Dallas News poll of Texas schoolboy football this week with Amarillo Tascosa, Dumas, Phillips and Hull-Daisetta easily holding their No. 1 spots.
Tascosa heads Class AAAA where the only change was the dropping of Corsicana, with Arkansas moving into the vacated place.
Dumas was No. 1 in Class AAA with Wichita Falls Hirsch falling. Sam Marcos moving in and Lake Highlands and Jacksonville tying for 10th place as McKinney fell out.
Rockwall was the major casualty. The defending Class AA state champions were eliminated by Plano, which already was among the top 10, and Canton took over Rockwall's place at No. 2. Phillips still led as No. 1. Hull-Daisetta rolled on as No. 1 in Class A where James Bowie and Cedar Hill fell out and were replaced by Coahoma and Midlothian.
The rankings:
Class AAAA — 1, Amarillo Tascosa; 2, Victoria; 3, Garland; 4, Dallas Hillcrest; 5, Galena Park; 6, Spring Branch; 7, Wichita Falls Rider; 8, Nederland; 9, Fort Worth Paschal; 10, Tascosa.
Class AAA — 1, Dumas; 2, Vidor; 3, Clear Creek; 4, Andrews; 5, Palestine; 6, Weatherford; 7, Sweetwater; 8, Sam Marcos; 9, Bonham; 10, Lake Highlands and Jacksonville (tied).

The 25-year-old Snell, a salesman in Auckland, broke the record at Western Springs Stadium, running on a cinder track.

Yanks To Give Yogi $25,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra, a two-time loser in October, may have his cake and eat it today.
The deposed New York Yankees manager, with a $25,000 going-away gift from his old bosses in his pocket, was expected to become a member of the New York Mets coaching staff at $40,000 per year, with the announcement forthcoming at a Shea Stadium news conference.
Berra, who lost his one-year managerial job a day after the Yankees lost the deciding World Series game to St. Louis last month; reportedly will sign a two-year, $80,000 contract as a member of Casey Stengel's strategy board and occasional pinch-hitter.
The $25,000 "bonus", which Berra will get if he steps out of the job the Yankees offered him after his dismissal as field boss, was made public Monday by Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk.
"Dan Topping (Yankee president) and I felt strongly that the club owed Yogi at least that much for his long service," Houk said in Ft. Lauderdale, the Yankees' winter base. "He took a pay cut when he went from player to manager."
"I haven't heard from him yet about wanting to go elsewhere and I hope he decides to stay. But he's free to do what he wants and he still gets the money."
Berra signed a two-year contract as a special field consultant for the American League club, effective Nov. 1, but an escape clause permitted him to accept another post if he desired.
His anticipated signing with the Mets will end an 18-year career in the Yankee organization. Yogi, 39, played for the Yankees from 1946 until he replaced Houk as manager last season.

Dual Power Text Readied

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council put the finishing touches on its major doctrinal proclamation of shared papal-episcopal power today. An American cardinal then urged the assembly to declare itself in favor of public funds for religious schools.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, opening debate on a council schema on Roman Catholic schools and universities, told the council it should amend the document to state clearly that "the religious orientation of schools ought not be an obstacle to their inclusion in subsidies for the state."

PUBLIC FUNDS

He said the schema should say that "justice and equity demand that a proper portion" of public funds must be given for religious schools.

Coadjutor Bishop Leon Elchinger of Strasbourg, France, supported Cardinal Spellman on the matter of public funds for Catholic schools — a major issue in the United States and in many countries.

Besides debating the schema on the schools, the council voted approval for the final text of its key theological statement that bishops collegiality share authority with the Pope over the Roman Catholic Church.

The council of prelates voted 2,099-46 to accept the last minor amendments to the third chap-

Official Returns To Washington

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — U.S. Undersecretary of State George Ball flew back to Washington today after talks with top West German officials.

Ball met Monday with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder to promote the multilateral nuclear force the United States and West Germany want the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to raise.

New Jersey Adopts New Vote System

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Senate, breaking with 188 years of history, has adopted a revolutionary weighted voting system as its answer to the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" decisions.

The new voting plan will go into effect Dec. 7, when the legislature is scheduled to hold its next session — unless the State Supreme Court says otherwise in a decision legislative leaders believe might be handed down Nov. 30.

If valid, the weighted voting plan could become a model for other state legislatures in the nation affected by the U.S. Supreme Court decisions of last June. No state legislature has ever used weighted voting.

New Jersey has had one member per county in its senate ever since 1776.

Now, senators will vote on the basis of the population they represent.

The 21 senators will have a total of 125 votes, with 62.6 required for a majority. Votes will be figured to one decimal place.

Under the new system, 11 of the 21 senators to pass a bill. It did not matter which 11 senators. Under weighted voting, senators from the five largest counties — Essex, Bergen, Hudson, Union and Middlesex — will be able to muster a majority. The other 16 senators cannot pass a bill unless at least one of the five big-county senators joins them.

Polish Girl Hides, Parents Sail Home

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A flaxen-haired Polish girl must make a tough decision for a 13-year-old: rejoin her parents behind the Iron Curtain, or stay in the United States.

The girl, Henia Wysocki, slipped away from home and hid in a barn last Wednesday when her parents left for Poland via Montreal.

"I don't want to go back," she said when found. By then her parents had reluctantly sailed aboard the Polish liner Batory without her.

But Monday a cousin said, "She would like to be back with her mother and father. I don't know how she'll decide."

Her parents, Leon and Jadwiga Wysocki, were unable to adjust to life in the United States. For two days and two nights, Henia remained in hiding, nibbling on doughnuts and candy.

The parents, who had spent $2,000 for passage for themselves and their daughter, left word they would work through the U.S. Embassy in Poland for her return.

"I don't want to go back," the child told a reporter. "I like it so much here. I have no friends in Poland. I would not have as many things, as many privileges."

But she would have her parents.

A RESIDENT James E. Smith, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said that Henia is classified as a permanent resident and may remain in the United States for as long as she likes.

Henia is staying at the home of a cousin, Henrietta Clapp, in nearby Bloomfield.

Henia came to the United States with her father and mother three years ago.

Thwarting Robbery Costs Youth Job

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Paul D. Anthony is now unemployed because he blocked a holdup at a motel where he worked as a substitute bellboy.

It started Sunday. Paul, at home, telephoned the motel room clerk, Joseph F. Gillin.

When a man entered the motel office, Gillin told Paul, "Hold on," and put down the phone.

The next thing Paul heard Gillin say was, "Please don't kill me."

He repeated it, "Please don't kill me," and I hung up and called the police," said Paul.

Then he ran for the motel, about a block from his home.

Paul reached the motel just in time to see Gillin, prodded by the gunman, walk out of the office and into the office of an adjacent motel.

When a police car swooped onto the scene, Paul was there with directions.

The officers seized Donald

Lee Hawkins, 22, of Arlington, Tex.

Paul was the hero of the hour. He obliged newsmen with a little of his background. He would be 16 Dec. 17. He was a sophomore in high school.

"I go to Easton eight hours a day, work at the motel for eight and sleep eight," he said.

NOTIFIES MOTEL Everybody was happy — except Hawkins and the Louisiana Department of Labor.

A department representative, reading of Paul's exploit, promptly notified the motel that he is too young to work.

Under state law, he can't get a work permit until he turns 16 and then he may be employed "only until 6 p.m." That rules him out of his 3 to 11 p.m. substitute bellboy job.

"I had hoped to save $600 and buy a car," signed Paul. "I don't know what I'll do now. Do you think I could get a job delivering newspapers?"

Fire-Crippled Ship Towed In By Destroyer

MATTHEW TOWN, Great Inagua Bahamas (AP) — A British freighter, crippled by fire in its cargo hold, was towed into this Bahamian port early today by a U.S. Navy destroyer.

Extent of the damage was not immediately determined.

The Cedar Hill said it was 500 miles southeast of Miami and 100 miles north of eastern Cuba when fire broke out in hold No. 3 Monday night.

The 41-foot former Liberty ship was bound for Havana. It left Antwerp, Belgium, Oct. 22.

The Coast Guard in Miami, Fla., said, on the basis of intercepted messages between the ship and the destroyer Du Pont, that the fire apparently was contained in one hold and that crewmen doused the blaze with steam.

The destroyer, dispatched by way of Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba, made contact with the Cedar Hill shortly after dawn.

No serious injury among the crew was reported.

It was not learned what kind of cargo the Cedar Hill carried, nor how many crewmen were aboard.

Editors Blame TV For Blast

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Television was blamed by a group of newspaper editors Monday for bringing the Warren Commission's criticism of the way the press handled President Kennedy's assassination and subsequent events.

The newspapermen early arrivals for the Associated Press Managing Editors Association convention made their comments during a panel-type discussion with Phoenix newsmen.

The Warren Commission asserted the press showed a "lack of self discipline" following President Kennedy's assassination and through the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald.

The editors blamed Dallas lawmakers for granting television newsmen's requests to cover the transfer of Oswald, the president's assassin, from jail to jail.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A report from the U.N. Palestine truce organization on clashes last weekend between Syria and Israel is expected to be ready for the U.N. Security Council by Wednesday.

Syrian and Israeli delegates addressed the council Monday. After two hours of debate, the 11-nation body adjourned to await the report.

After it is studied, chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, the council president for November, is expected to summon the council back into session before the weekend.

The Syrian and Israeli complaints were based on a two-hour artillery and air clash north of the Sea of Galilee last Friday.

Three Guilty In Dope Case

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Three men, one a former police chief of Alamo, pleaded guilty in federal court Monday to violations of narcotic laws.

The men are ex-police chief Roy Avila, 32, his brother, Gilberto Avila, 39, and Felipe Ramirez Alvarado, 29, of Mexico.

U.S. Dist Judge Reynaldo Garza ordered the men held in county jail pending pre-sentencing investigation. He set sentencing for Dec. 7.

Roy Avila pleaded guilty to smuggling 55 pounds of marijuana from Mexico and attempting to sell the narcotic to an undercover agent.

Reuther Cuts Off Stay In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, cut short his stay at the World Auto Workers' Congress in Frankfurt and returned to the United States today.

Congress sources said Reuther's departure was prompted by "new developments, and especially strikes, in the American automobile industry."

Mixed Class Matter Back In U.S. Court

WACO (AP) — School integration in Waco is back in federal court.

Lawyers for 14 Negro children are seeking immediate integration through the ninth grade.

U. S. Dist. Judge Homer Thornberry ordered the Waco school district Monday to submit within two weeks a memorandum in support of its grade-a-year plan in 1965 but delayed it because of a state law which deprived schools of certain state funds unless integration was approved by referendum.

The state law later was declared unconstitutional, and Waco schools put into effect the stairstep plan in 1963. The first two school grades now have been integrated.

Lawyers for the Negro children argued that if the system had started in 1955 Waco schools now would be integrated through the ninth grade.

Monday's hearing was an outgrowth of a suit filed in November, 1962, on behalf of the Negro children which asked that an injunction be granted and a restraining order be issued to bar the school district from further enforcing school segregation.

The Waco schools have a total enrollment of 19,400 students, of whom 3,500 are Negroes. There are 29 white schools and 8 Negro schools.

Tribute Paid Journalist By Senator

ATHENS (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough paid tribute today to R. T. Craig, long-time writer of the Athens Review, on the newsman's 75th birthday.

The senior Texas senator called Craig "one of the greatest journalists of modern Texas history."

Yarborough recalled that Craig was a former president of the Texas Press Association and praised him as a civic leader.

"Your diamond anniversary is an anniversary for all of Texas," the senator wired Craig.

The telegram continued: "Your political writing during the stormy years of the (Jim) Ferguson era have not been exceeded in weekly journalism in three generations of Texas history. You have put Henderson on the map, journalistically and historically. All Henderson County residents are in your debt. Craig is now retired but continues some writing."

Identifying Air Victims Drags

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "Just this much more and he would have cleared that ridge," a sheriff's deputy said Monday, holding his hands about two feet apart.

He was standing in hard-packed snow 50 yards from the ridge called Arden Dome that stopped a Bonanza Airlines F27 turboprop Sunday night. All 29 aboard died in the crash.

Clearly visible from where he stood was Las Vegas' McCarran Field, nine miles to the north, the destination of Flight No. 114 from Phoenix.

RADIOED TOWER
Pilot Hank Fitzpatrick, 41, radioed McCarran tower at 8:25 p.m., two minutes before the plane vanished from a radar scope during a heavy snowfall.

The only persons who knew what happened in that two minutes are dead.

A swarm of sheriff's deputies and volunteers removed all the bodies from the 4,200-foot high ridge on the western flank of Las Vegas Valley with the aid of helicopters from nearby Nellis Air Force Base.

broke apart and its pieces javelined northward across the top of the dome. Bodies were thrown in every direction.

Conversation at the temporary camp, 500 feet below the dome was often silenced with blaring messages over search radios.

"We need something to pry a body loose from the wreckage. Send up a crow bar or something on the next helicopter."

PRESERVE SCENE
By sunset, only a sheriff's rear guard remained at the site to preserve the scene for Civil Aeronautics Board investigators.

Edward Slattery of the Washington CAB office said, "It's too soon to tell what happened. We don't know yet if we are going to reconstruct the wreckage. It would be an extremely difficult job."

His office has impounded the plane's flight recorder. Slattery and two dozen other CAB and FBI officials met Monday night in Las Vegas.

Only 10 bodies had been identified early today.

DEAR ABBY
Silence Is Golden

DEAR ABBY: My husband's mother is getting on in years, but she still enjoys shopping personally for all of her grandchildren's Christmas gifts. She starts in October. She sends the gifts directly to me, and I do all of her gift wrapping and mailing. Abby, she selected a book (I suppose you would call it a FACTS OF LIFE book) for her 14-year-old grandson. I looked through it, and it explains how he grew from a little seed that was planted under his mother's heart! Abby, you know very well that a 14-year-old boy would have a laughing fit if he ever got a book like that. Should I tell Nana that the book is too juvenile for him? My husband says to send the book and keep my opinions to myself. Who is right? MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Your husband. Send the book.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 15. Two of her girl friends have made a habit of coming home with her every night after school and staying until it is time for us to eat supper. They make remarks such as, "Gee, that smells good!" And, "Well, guess I'll have to go home and fix myself a cheese sandwich for supper." The mothers of both these girls work, and they are expected to get their own evening meals. I haven't the heart to send them home, but you would think they would have sense enough to go without being told. I wouldn't mind feeding them once in a while, but I can't afford to feed them both every night. What should I do?

DEAR ABBY: I just don't understand people. Or maybe it's just me, but what do you think about having a big party to celebrate a couple's wedding anniversary when one of them has been dead for two years? Some friends got together and made a big party and even pitched in and bought a present for the woman. Do you think she should have accepted it? I don't think it was right. What do you

Franco To Danes: 'Why?'

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco, Spain's chief of state, has demanded that the Danish government explain why it took no action against demonstrators who burned him in effigy last month in front of the Spanish Embassy in Copenhagen.

Justice Minister K. Axel Nielsen told Parliament last week the government planned to take no action. The demonstrators were protesting a jail sentence given in Spain to Carlos Alvarez, a poet convicted of distributing material slanderous to Spain to foreign newspapers.

ON A BUDGET
These girls are your daughter's friends and it is up to her to tell them in a nice way that they cannot stay for dinner every night. If you explain it to her gently and without anger she can tell them in the same spirit and there will be no hurt feelings.

DEAR ABBY: I just don't understand people. Or maybe it's just me, but what do you think about having a big party to celebrate a couple's wedding anniversary when one of them has been dead for two years? # Crude Output Dip Reported

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — U. S. crude oil production dropped last week, with the biggest decline on Oklahoma. The Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The trade magazine's survey showed production last week averaged 7,658,620 barrels daily, down 32,000 a day from the previous week.

Oklahoma output of 535,500 barrels a day was down 29,000. Figures for other states, with the previous week's output in parentheses, were: Arkansas 71,000 (73,000); Louisiana 1,629,000 (1,629,000); New Mexico 306,200 (306,200); Texas 2,648,700 (2,648,700).

Sharing the award with West were Bobby Meason of Childress and Jerry McDonald, Rankin.

West caught two touchdown passes for 22 and 13 yards. In all, Charley gathered in four aerials.

West Is Singled Out For Effort

Charley West of Big Spring is one of three members of the San Angelo College football team named Rams of the Week for their performances against Stephen F. Austin's B team last week. San Angelo won the game, 34-14.

Sharing the award with West were Bobby Meason of Childress and Jerry McDonald, Rankin.

Lawyer Slain, Charge Filed

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Agnes Lavada McDonald, 42, was charged Monday with murder in the shooting death of Dallas attorney Joe Thomas Sample, 40.

Sample was found slumped in an automobile parked near Mrs. McDonald's apartment at 3 a.m. Sunday. Police said he was shot once in the chest.

The 42-year-old woman said she had shot Sample after an argument in the car. She was arrested in front of her apartment.

Officers also filed murder charges Monday against Jimmie Newman, 24, in the death of her husband, Jennings Bryan Newman, 29.

Newman, an ex-convict, was found Sunday sprawled in the back bedroom of his home, shot five times. Mrs. Newman telephoned and asked police to be picked up.
