No Bark-All Bite

DEAR ABBY: I am a paperboy who has a terrible problem with dogs and I think I know why. In all the books on how to train pets, people are advised to hit them with a rolled-up newspaper. Dogs are smart and they know where the paper comes from. So guess who gets bitten? The customer always says the dog is nice and never bites anybody, so he can't understand why the dog only bites the paperboy. All the paperboys I know have the same trouble so I wish you would please answer this. Thank you. BOB F. DEAR BOB: Your theory may be correct, and could be helpful to those who are presently training pets. But it won't save the paperboys from dogs that have already learned to hate the sight of a newspaper and consequently the one who delivers it. Ask the owners of unfriendly dogs please to keep them tied up while you deliver the newspaper. They'll appreciate it. The laws concerning vicious pets have "teeth" in

I suppose Greg thinks any girl would consider it an honor to wear that pearl, but I'd rather have a ring I can be proud of. How should I handle this? GREG'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Wait until he offers you the pearl. If he gives you a choice between accepting the family heirloom, or a "new, modern diamond," state your preference. If he doesn't, say nothing, and accept the pearl as a symbol of your engagement. If you bring it up now, Greg might get the idea that you are more interested in things SPINACH No. 303 Can material than sentimental.

. . . DEAR ABBY: What does a newly-married person do about BEEF CHILI No. 2 Can returning the invitations of older married couples who have had HUNT'S homes for lovely dinners? We've been married six months and I want to reciprocate, but I would be uncomfortable inviting them to our small apartment, which hasn't the warmth or comforts of their homes. It's not even completely furnished. I love to cook for my husband, but I am sure my nervousness would be obvious if I tried to make a company dinner. Should we take them out for dinner? That does not seem very hospitable. These friends are very dear to us, and I wouldn't want to put them through the discomfort of having dinner at our small apartment as tense and nervous as I'm sure I'd be. Can you help PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: "Dear friends" would not be critical of your small quarters, sparsely furnished apartment or your inexperienced cooking. Quit telling yourself that you will be tense and nervous. Plan a simple dinner and don't try to compete with more experienced cooks by attempting complicated dishes. Do the best you can and offer no apologies.

Peking U.N. Seat Drive Looms Big

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - The specter of Red China bulks big over the U.N. General Assembly opening Tuesday

Communist China's new role as a nuclear power, the question of its right to China's seat in the assembly and to the Security Council veto, its threat of domination in Southeast Asia, its infiltration in Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America - all these things will color the debates of the 115 nations almost from the opening through 15 weeks until the scheduled end

Nationalist China, with strong U.S. support, has managed to hold the China seat despite a mounting demand for Red China representation over the

THRUST BACK

Condemned for the part it played against U.N. forces in the Korean War, Red China has been thrust back year after year with the slogan that it must not be allowed to shoot its way into the United Nations.

This year it has a nuclear weapon, the device it exploded early this fall, and its supporters are saying no universal disarmament program can be effective unless the Chinese Communists are represented in the U.N. debates on disarmament and in the U.N.-sponsored Disarmament Committee of 18.

This argument has been added to the previous contention that a nation of 650 million or more - one-quarter of the world's population - must be heard in U.N. discussions.

Secretary-General U Thant has used those arguments. Britain has voted for Red China's seating. France this year recognized the Peking government and is expected to swing strongly in favor of a move by seven nations to make the seating question a major issue for debate in the full assembly.

Dr. Hall Gets

Exclusive Prefix

Dr. G. T. Hall, Big Spring, will have the exclusive use of the prefix "Hall" in naming all registered Holstein animals bred in that herd from now on.

Use of this prefix name has been granted by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It becomes a permanent part of official breed records at that organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vermont. Each prefix is a "trademark" for the purebred Holstein breeder since it is used in all published information concerning his animals.

economic and social problem in Texas. And it is becoming clearly evident that the hard-working, well-intentioned private groups combatting it can do little more than hold the line until a state-financed anti-illiteracy program can be undertaken.

Fine work is being done by the Baylor Literacy Center, the Texas Literacy Council with its volunteer affiliates in 25 cities (including Corpus Christi); churches, and independent civic groups like Dallas' "Operation LIFT." But a study for the Texas-Education Agency by Dr. J. B. Adair of the Baylor center has found that only 3,000 illiterates-fewer than 1 in 200-are now being reached by voluntary training programs.

Some federal aid for anti-illiteracy work is coming to Texas through Training Act and Economic Opportunity (Antipoverty) Act. And on the basis of the Adair report, the State Board of Education has voted for a $640,000 two-year effort to train adult illiterates.

Such a statewide, state-financed

Illiteracy is a serious and stubborn program is overdue and certainly can be economically justified. Texas has an adult illiteracy rate of 13.4 per cent, in contrast to the national average of 8.4 per cent. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz has estimated that on the average, every illiterate-or even undereducated - youth entering the labor force now will ultimately cost federal, state and local government some $30,000 in various types of wel-

> One in five Texans called for military service is rejected as insufficiently educated; more than half the arrivals in the prison system are functional illiterates (with less than five years schooling), and more than 75,000 of Texas' unemployed have less than an eighth-grade education. As Gov. Connally has said, we are daily paying the price of illiteracy-"in local and state welfare payments, in aid to dependent and neglected children, in unemployment insurance, in juvenile delinquency and adult crime." The price for overcoming illiteracy, though high, is cheaper.

Good Place For Your Money

At this season of the year it is timely to talk about gifts, and thus the temptation is to mention United States Savings Bonds as gift possi-

Actually, there is more to commend the purchase of E bonds on a regular basis than simply restricting it to a seasonal gift. An editorial in the American Banker recently pointed to a feature which makes the E bonds a doubly attractive investment. The yield is better than the 3% per cent rate because the law permits the investor to defer payment of income tax on accrued interest until time of maturity. Thus, earnings on the money.'

bonds are compounded to maturity without being disturbed. Also, E bonds are exempt from state and local taxes. The bonds can be bought during years of peak earnings and held so that the gain is taxed during years of lower earnings-at a lower tax rate.

"The solid qualities of these bonds are getting to be more important," noted the American Banker. "E bonds can be recommended not out of a sense of obligation but because in a number of cases (they are) the smartest place for the individual investor to place a substantial part of his

David Lawrence The Issue Of 'Right To Work'

WASHINGTON - Union labor is about to demand a reward for its political support. It paid out millions of dollars during the recent campaign to elect a majority in the forthcoming session of Congress. It now wants the elected members to de-

THE NEW DEMAND is that the existing labor law be amended so as to bring about compulsory unionization throughout the United States. With all the talk about equal rights for citizens and "equal opportunity" in employment, it is significant that, within a few weeks after a presidential and congressional election, the labor unions announce as their "number one priority" the repeal of section 14B of the National Labor Relations Act passed by Congress in 1947. Under this provision, a number of states have hitherto adopted laws forbidding any worker from being forced to become a member of a labor organization and being threatened with the loss of his job if he doesn't join

SIGNIFICANT, too, is the announcement by the labor organizations that they think they now have enough votes in Congress to get repeal of this section of the law

The compromise in the 1947 act which permits the states to determine whether or not they will accept compulsory unionization - provides that unless a state takes action, the federal law applies. Under this discretionary provision, at least 20 states have formally declared that the right of a person to decide for himself whether or not he will join any organization or group is an individual liberty that should not be taken away from any citizen. These states have enacted what are often called "right to work" laws. Such statutes have been denounced as anti-union, but the basic principle is just as valid as the doctrines now being preached in respect to equal rights for citizens along ethnic or religious or racial ORIGINALLY, under the Wagner Act, many unions required what was called a "closed shop." This meant that no employer could hire anybody who was not a member of the union.

Big Spring, Mon., Nov. 30, 1964

This was modified in the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947 to permit the "union shop." This provides that the emmay hire whomever he pleases, but that within 30 or 60 days after the worker has been on the job, the employe must either join the union or be dismissed.

The argument is speciously advanced that the employer does not have to agree to a demand for the 'union shop," but the fact remains that, unless he does agree, he will be put out of business through continuous strikes and boycotts.

THE IDEA that a citizen may maintain his own point of view and join or refuse to join any organizations in which he may believe or not believe has been upheld by the Supreme Court as "freedom of association." But when it comes to labor unions, the court has ruled that agreements between the employer and the union are voluntary

The principal argument advanced for the "union shop" is that, since the law establishes the right of the majority of the employes to choose a union to act as bargaining agent in relation to wages and working conditions, all the workers should contribute toward the expense: Many workers have agreed to pay their share of such expenses, but not to become members of a labor organization, and such an arrangement is permitted in what is called an

'agency shop." BUT EVEN THESE qualifications and restrictions which have been devised to not overcome the objection that a man, in order to keep a job, must actually become a member of or support an organization in whose principles he does not believe. "Freedom of association" goes by the boards, as does freedom of thought and freedom of belief, whenever economic force or governmental power is used to compel a man to join

So few of my fellow students at college believe in God. I am having a difficult time holding on to my convictions in the midst of so many who don't believe. What can I do?

Just because your colleagues don't believe in a personal God, doesn't mean that they wouldn't like to. I find, in my travels, that everyone is searching for evidence of a perscnal God. If you, as one to which Christ has revealed himself, fail to let your light shine, how can they come to know Him? One of the first and most important commands Jesus gave his disciples was: "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify

The Plan To Occupy Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — Hedged by statements that "We don't want to do it, but . . ." is a fugitive plan for the military occupation of South Viet

PERHAPS IT HAS surfaced only because Viet Nam is, as described by a highly-placed administration spokesman, "the most-conferenced subject in town." On the other hand, the idea of a military government under U.S. auspices is not a last resort. It is the probable third choice in a field of four. The Johnson administration clings to its inherited Kennedy policy of helping the Vietnamese to out-fight the vastly outnumbered guerrillas. Mr. Johnson's own plan to "Go North" is likely to be executed only if the Communists offer a provocanilar to the one that about the President's Gulf of Tonkin air strike at Communist gunboat

BUT RATHER than a pullout, following a "negotiated peace," there's the possibility of setting up a protectorate until such time as Viet Nam is provably capable of self-government. As matters stand today, the U.S. is trying to deal with a sensitive, unstable ally which has not been able to protect our investment in men and money, and does not follow the military advice which we are on hand

THE NEXT turnover of the Viet Nam government might commit us to "Go North" before we are ready for it, or might compromise us into negotiations which we are unwilling to undertake. A diplomatic alternative might be to rule Viet Nam by subterfuge, using shadier methods than in the past. The honest choice is suggested by our very good record of occupational reform in other Pacific Ocean areas, such as the Philippines and Hawaii. One is now an independent republic and the other a state of the American Union.

ALTHOUGH I haven't heard the occupation subject mentioned outside of office doors, it has an undeniable affinity with the background of the Texas-born President. His own state was under Spanish, Mexican, Confederate and independent flags before reaching its maturity, and survived a postbellum occupation. Lyndon Johnson has more disposition to act strongly toward a legitimate objective than elther of his predecessors since Harry

IN ONE YEAR of office, counting the Gulf of Tonkin raid on North Viet Nam and two "suppressive" strafings of Communist anti-aircraft batteries in Laos, LBJ has already ordered quite a salvo of shots fired at our enemies. And while President Eisenhower chose to make a truce in Korea and President Kennedy would not join battle at the Bay of Pigs, Lyndon Johnson thus far has not retreated and not been trigger-shy.

If it becomes manifest that we must hold Viet Nam by occupation, Lyndon Johnson is the kind of man to call it is that the Warren Commission has not conspicuously succeeded in fulfilling the great historical tasks to which it was called.

For good or ill, the commission has concluded its work. It has published its findings, it has released the voluminous transcript containing most of the testimony and exhibits it received, and, finally, it has adopted a resolution putting itself out of

by the traditional bureaucratic criteria involving bulk of its product or time consumed in reaching its conclusions, then it will be judged a

IF THE commission is to be judged

But the reality is that the commission will be judged by a far harsher yardstick.

President Johnson assigned the Warren Commission two tasks of great historical magnitude. The stated function of the commission was to learn all that could be learned about the facts of the assassination of John F. Kennedy, and to report its findings to the President. The second, unstated, function of the commission was to restore the confidence of the American people in their institutions.

THE COMMISSION concluded, of course, that no conspiracy existed, and that Lee Oswald and Jack Ruby each had acted alone. But largely ignored was a considerable loophole the commission left for itself:

"Because of the difficulty of providing negatives," the commission wrote in its report, "the possibility of others being involved with either Oswald or Ruby cannot be established categorically, but if there is any such evidence it has been beyond the reach of all the investigative agencies and resources of the United States and has not come to the attention of this commission."

THE CASE, as FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testified to the Warren Commission, will never be closed.

WASHINGTON - The sobering fact never say with certainty that Ruby was not a part of a conspiracy. It could only weigh such evidence as was available and offer history its best guess as to what really took place. No human agency could do any more, and it is no reflection on the Warren Commission that questions remain unanswered and doubts remain undispelled.

BUT THERE is a large area in which the Warren Commission did fail to do all that it might have done to insure that its findings would win the widest possible acceptance. It made a sorry record of its own internal integrity. Washington is a place where secret-keeping is essential to the operation of government. Yet the Warren Commission was as leaky an instrument of high policy as has ever been seen in the capital. To the very last, its conclusions and choice morsels of transcript were shamelessly leaked for a variety of self-serving purposes.

THESE ARE not parochial concerns of the newspaper business. The Warren Commission's integrity was its only stock in trade, and it will be cast in the balance when future generations try to decide whether its findings are really the last word on the death of President Kennedy.

STON POST

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS IN PICTURES.

SQUATTER'S RIGHTS — Obviously the sign was intended for motorists, not ducks on the Ohio river waterfront in Louisville, Ky. These mallards, fed each day by an unknown benefactor, couldn't take off if they wanted to — their wings have been clipped.

AUTHORITY — There's determination both in gesture and voice as Green Bay Packer coach Vince Lombardi shouts instructions to his team in play against Detroit Lions.

THE PARK IS PACKED — This is a helicopter view of New York's Shear Stadium as 60,300 watched the game between the Buffalo Bills and the New York Jets. The number of spectators set a record of attendance at a game of the American Football League.

HEADS JUNTA—Air Force Gen. Rene Barrientos Ortuna, 45, is the leader of the military junta which ousted President Victor Paz Estenssoro from the presidency of Bolivia.

ZOOLOGICAL PORTRAIT — Kaseh, a Bengal tigress, and her cubs, Margaret and Julia, pose prettily at Whipsnade Zoo, Bedfordshire, England. The cubs, born at the zoo in September, already are aware of the comfort of snuggling close to warm fur.

AGE NO OBSTACLE— Lurton Hinkle, 6, rides.

Huntsman over a fence at the annual Horse Sense Tournament in Nashville. They missed only one of the nine jumps.

STEP TO STARS — Carolyn Zamrycki views intensifier tube which when attached to a 60-inch reflector telescope triples the power of the astronomers' instrument.

FREE OF ARCTIC SPELL — The Coast Guard cutter Westwind slips under New York's Brooklyn Bridge as she returns to home port after six months duty in Arctic waters replenishing supplies at military bases. Manhattan's skyline is in the background.

EYE CATCHER—Ron Freeman does his work lying down as he completes poster with Toulouse-Lautrec touch. It's advertisement for show in Johannesburg. South Africa.

GUESS WHO?—Who's the girl in the sari? It's Shirley MacLaine in the typical Hindu style — including the all-important "tilak," forehead mark—while on vacation in Bombay.

STADIUM GOING UP — This is a portion of Atlanta's new $18 million sports stadium. The sports complex, to be completed early next year, will seat 55,000 for baseball and 57,000 for football. It's expected to be the new home of the Milwaukee Braves.

PUNCH ON THE WING — Jeep equipped with recoilless rifle is airlifted by helicopter from a rear position to "front lines" during maneuvers underway in Missouri.

UNEQUAL MATCH — At least Captain Ahab had a harpoon but this skin diver was unarmed when he swam out to investigate a giant fin protruding from water in False Bay off Cape Town, South Africa. It belonged to a 46-foot whale which soon discouraged the diver-

PERSONAL

I HATE to do it. For many years I have been extremely interested in Electric Trains. I have accumulated the greatest stock of Llonel, American Flyer, and Marx electric trains west of the Mississippi River. Now these trains must go. After 45 years in the hardware business I am closing up shop and must sacrifice this tremendous stock. I am offering all of this merchandise, every item produced by American Flyer, Marx, and Llonel at a tremendous loss. Discounts on every item from 1-5 to 3/4 off the original list price. If you need trains, locomotives, cars, tracks, switches, transformers, operating accessories, be sure to shop my store before the end of the year. Every item is brand-new, never-been-used, in the original factory package or carton. Many of these pieces are collectors Items, have not been produced for many years, and will never be manufactured again. If you have a Lionel, Marx, or American Flyer train that needs repair, look me up. I am authorized service and factory parts for this area. As an added 'ficentive, I will give you one dollars worth that you buy if you will bring this ad with you. I hate to lose my trains, but they have to go. Waldo Wilcox, Wilcox. U.S. Weekend Violence Toll Passes 500

The nation's holiday death toll climbed quickly over the 500 mark in the final hours of the four-day Thanksgiving weekend and neared last year's record total of 543 deaths. Driving on most of the counry's roads and highways was endangered as rain and snow pelted the northern half of the continent Sunday. Hazardous driving warnings were issued for many states by the Weather increased somewhat in the waning hours of the holiday, as weary motorists hurried to return to their homes. The death toll was boosted by many multiple death accidents, including one in which eight persons were killed Thanksgiving Day in South Carolina.

FINAL SPURT The pace of fatal accidents

The traffic death total since 6 p.m. local time Wednesday was 535. The 102-hour holiday ended at midnight Sunday. The National Safety Council statistics show the average dai-

y traffic death total was 126 in

he first nine months of 1964. KEEPS STATISTICS

The council keeps records of he number of deaths on certain weekend holidays, but does not do so for the Thanksgiving weekend because, it says, the holiday period does not involve much extra driving.

For a comparative purpose The Associated Press surveyed the number of deaths for a nonholiday weekend of 102 hours Nov. 11 to Nov. 15. A total of 468 traffic fatalities were reported

CRIME, VIOLENCE

Senators Demand V Clean House

WASHINGTON (AP) - A row sparked by senatorial charges that crime and violence on television help lead to juvenile deinquency apparently is coming

Senators have started talking of possible new laws to force action if the television industry doesn't "clean its own house," as they put it.

The industry, contending the senatorial accusations are exaggerated and in some cases unwarranted, has served notice it will fight any move toward federal censorship of programs. The combatants are the Sen ate subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency and the National Association of Broadcasters, representing the bulk of the industry.

SEN. THOMAS DODD

GET IDEA

The subcommittee has cited a number of crimes including killings, extortion, robbery and gang violence by youngsters who allegedly got the idea from television programs.

The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., has ordered a massive project to monitor every program aired in the Washington area, to get evidence for subsequent public hearings.

No date has been announced for the hearings, but they are expected to get under way well before spring.

NAB's Code Review Board, an organization of nine broadcasters administering its Code of Fair Practices, has scheduled meetings here Dec. 9-10. The subcommittee's Oct. 27 report to the Senate contended that televised programs excessively featuring crime, violence and brutality are a proved factor in juvenile delinquency although not the only one.

THERE'S LIMIT "The patience of Congress, hough considerable, is not endthe report said in Howard H. Bell, NAB code director, told a reporter by telephone from New York City the subcommittee report made a number of unwarranted allegations, including one that many broadcasters seem to violate the code with impunity.

The subcommittee praised the code's content but said it was poorly enforced and that many violators continued to display the NAB "seal of fair practice" in advertising which supposedly attests compliance with the Bell denied that enforcement of the code is lax. He said many have lost their right to display the seal, and that the industry is taking steps to sharpen the

New Concept For Handling Atomic Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new set of initials - MLF - is kicking up a controversy in the North Atlantic Treaty Organiza-

MLF stands for multilateral force. It is a new concept in the handling of nuclear weapons, developed and pushed by the United States. Essentially, it is a way of permitting the United States' allies partial participation in the control of the nuclear deterrent.

To help understand what the ight is all about, here are some basic questions and answers about MLF:

Q. What is MLF? A. It is a proposal for a separate force of surface ships, such as freighters, to be equipped with Polaris missiles with nuclear tips. The crews would be an international mixture from the participating nations. There would be 25 ships. Fort Worther Dies After Chasing Thief

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)-A Fort Worth, Tex., man dropped dead Sunday after pursuing an Arab who had snatched his eye glasses.

Miss Barbara Larson, his companion, watched helplessly as Richard Salde Harrell, 36 doubled over a downtown Cairo sidewalk and died. Miss Larson and Harrell were Fulbright Harrell was accosted by the accused pickpocket, who snatched the Texan's glasses and ran. Harrell gave chase and got them back. Then Harrell ran after the Arab a second time, chased him around a cor Obedient to the ancient adage, ner and then reappeared, > Egyptian tourist police arrested a man.

What's the catch? There isn't any. Plunk $1701 into Winterhalter's hand he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.) Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it. Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.
