Feds Nab Sheriff, 15 In 3 Rights Murders

'In Connection With' Alleged

PHILADELPHIA, Miss (AP) — The FBI arrested 16 Mississippians, including Neshoba County's sheriff and his deputy, today in connection with the midsummer slayings of three civil rights workers here.

Federal agents in trench coats took Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, 37, and Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price, 27, into custody at their office a few minutes before 9 a.m. Rainey and Price, dressed in their khaki uniforms, surrendered quietly and removed their revolvers.

Beauty's Role Again Puzzle In Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating an alleged political payoff shift sights today to question a witness Republican once wanted to ask about the role a German beauty played in the Bobby Baker case.

Paul Aguirre, who has business interests in Puerto Rico, was scheduled among the opening witnesses on what could be the windup day of this round of the Senate Rules Committee investigation.

In a minority report filed after the committee's first hearings into the outside business activities of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, the Republican members said: "The minority unsuccessfully fought to have Mr. Paul Aguirre called as a witness."

"Aguirre could have been asked what part Ellen Rometsch, or other like individuals, had in the promotion of Baker's financial interests or dealings with government officials, government contracts, and others."

"He could have been asked what interests Baker had, or sought to acquire for himself or others, in housing, gambling concessions, and other enterprises in the Caribbean area."

Freeze Numbs Texas Sectors

A hard freeze numbed much of Texas today on the heels of a storm leaving as much as 6 inches of snow in the Panhandle and up to 7 inches of rain near the state's northeast corner.

Moisture stopped falling overnight except for drizzle at Junction and light rain around Hamilton, Waco and Athens in early morning.

Temperatures sagged before dawn down to 17 degrees at Amarillo and 18 at Lubbock.

Unrest In Cuba Noted

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban underground radio message said Fidel Castro has arrested three of his cabinet ministers.

The message, released by the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba Thursday, also mentioned gunfire in the presidential palace at Havana.

It coincided with accounts by recently arrived refugees of unrest in Cuba, of rumors of plots against Castro and of a possible power struggle within Cuba's Communist party.

CHEER FUND NEEDS HELP

If the Christmas Cheer Fund accomplishes what it hopes to — provide holiday delight for every poor child in the city—it will need more support from generous helpers.

Gratefully acknowledged today are two more gifts, $5 from Mrs. C. L. Rowe and $10 from an anonymous friend. They bring the Fund total to $175.

This holiday program makes possible toys and Christmas goodies for all poor youngsters. When money is available, it also provides food and medicine throughout the year in cases of emergency.

Hundreds Of Youngsters Turn Out To See Santa

Santa Claus came to Big Spring at 2 p.m. Thursday, with good weather and hundreds of youngsters ready to greet him as he rode the "stage coach route" from the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. depot to the courthouse.

However, the weather he left north of here caught up with him before he left the city. The temperature dropped from a high of 51 degrees to the thirties in about three hours.

Santa was met at the depot by parents with their preschool age children who watched as he boarded the old-time stage coach provided by the Flying "W" Egg Ranch at Ozona. "Old Buck," a driver from the Old West, was up and "H-yaaahed" the team of matched Shetland ponies south on Main Street behind the Big Spring High School marching band.

As Santa neared the courthouse square there were hundreds more parents with youngsters lining the streets. He got out of the stage coach and began greeting the children and passing out candy and balloons. He was assisted by members of the Big Spring ABC Club, and the candy was made available by Mead's Bakery. Balloons were contributed by the Borden Milk Co.

Santa remained at the courthouse square to greet school age children as they came down after school.

Traffic was congested in the courthouse area for some time, and Big Spring police kept people out of open streets as much as possible. No accidents were reported.

After Santa left the courthouse he appeared at College Park Shopping Center for a visit with youngsters in that area. He also told them he hoped to be back in Big Spring on occasions before Christmas.

Santa heard requests from many children on what they wanted for Christmas, and asked that they meet with him when he can come back for the supplemental lists.

Red Infiltrators Flow Into South Viet By Thousands

GEN. NGUYEN KHANH

GEN. VAN MINH

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Viet Nam sent 30,000 to 40,000 infiltrators into South Viet Nam during the past three years and the flow continues at a stepped-up pace, Ambassador Tran Thien Khiem said today.

The newly arrived South Vietnamese envoy said in an exclusive interview that the Ho Chi Minh Trail, passing from North Viet Nam through Laos, serves as the main road of infiltration.

Khiem, bespectacled 39-year-old soldier trained by the French and Americans, is a lieutenant general who has served as commander-in-chief of the South Vietnamese armed forces and as his country's minister of defense.

'Shadows' That Darken State Target In Talk

DALLAS (AP) — Educational attainment in Texas has failed to keep pace with the state's economic boom, Gov. John Connally said Thursday night.

He appealed in an address to the Dallas Chamber of Commerce for steps to erase "many dark shadows" which Connally blamed for clouding an otherwise bright outlook. He mentioned poverty, illiteracy and mental illness. Business and local communities must take key roles in eliminating such shadows, the governor told 1,500 persons at the chamber's annual dinner.

"Our state is enjoying the greatest economic advance in its history," he said. "Bank deposits are at an all-time high. Industrial building permits issued by cities are 96 per cent higher in value than they were last year. Contracts awarded for construction of manufacturing buildings are up 54 per cent."

Then he turned to education and said: "There are 731,000 people over the age of 25 who have less than a fifth grade education. By today's standards, they are functional illiterates." Connally said the federal anti-poverty law with its job training and rehabilitation only supplements what should be done by communities and the business world.

He expressed hope most of the federal anti-poverty funds will be devoted to job training and education of migrant children and illiterates.

"Many problems of health are as yet unsolved. Outmoded business practices could stifle continued economic growth."

"They have been with us in the past and they will be with us in the future. But a vibrant, growing state such as ours—with the greatest potential of any state in the union—cannot shrug them away and expect our bounties to come forth immediately."

White, F-102, Oregon ANG.

A special graduation ceremony was held earlier this week for 2nd Lt. David G. Johnson. He was assigned to Perrin AFB for advanced training in the F-102.

He added: "We have been thinking about this for a long time and we are still thinking. If we are not able to stop the infiltration completely, at least it must be slowed down."

"We have Special Forces on the borders with Laos but there are not enough troops for this. Our biggest difficulty is the mountainous terrain which is hard to control."

BE DECISIVE?

Asked if stopping the infiltration would be decisive in turning the tide of battle in South Viet Nam, Khiem replied: "We do think that if we can succeed in stopping the infiltration it will have a very large impact."

The problem of infiltration was touched upon in a White House statement Tuesday which followed a White House meeting between President Johnson and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor. It said there was "accumulating evidence of continuing and increased North Vietnamese support of the Viet Cong and of North Vietnamese forces in, and passing through, the territory of Laos in violation of the Geneva accords of 1962."

The State Department said Wednesday that the evidence of North Vietnamese support and infiltration into South Viet Nam is "extensive and complex" but no figures were given.

MILITARY CADRES

Khiem said that 60 per cent of the infiltrators have been military cadres and 40 per cent are civilians who are trained at organizing Communist cells at the village and provincial levels.

"According to captured documents and word from prisoners of war, the infiltration increased over a three year period of 1961-1963," Khiem said. "According to the figures we got we understand North Viet Nam sent between 30,000 and 40,000 people."

Training Session On Cubbing Set

The sessions will be over at 5:30 p.m., said W. C. (Slim) Broughton, Cubbing coordinator. Any leader or parent who has not had this course of training is urged to take part.

A Devotional For The Day

How shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? (Romans 10:14)
PRAYER: Our Father, lay upon us a sense of concern for persons who are going through life without Christ, the way. May a word from us this day bring joy and relief to someone as he discovers Christ for his own life. In the Savior's name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Only Your Money

Even Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey hasn't been able to find out how much the Sam Rayburn Office Building is going to cost. He recently complained, in a news letter to constituents, about his ignorance and how he had been unable to get any reliable information on the subject.

Case did say that he had heard reports that the building would cost at least $83 million. But other reports range upward to $131 million, including an almost negligible item of $200,000 to cut doorways in completed walls in order to give representatives access to their staffs without going through their reception rooms. None of this includes an estimated $11 million for a paved parking area for staff personnel.

It would be pleasant to reflect on this extraordinary expenditure if it were possible to conclude that it is a long step in the direction of better government. But the prospect is somewhat less inviting: More of the same, and perhaps no better than the people deserve for not raising old hob about such goings on.

Encouraging Trend

In the movement now gaining momentum to expand and upgrade higher education in Texas, more emphasis than may be generally realized is being given to Latin American studies.

This is an overdue and welcome development. Culturally, geographically, historically and economically, Texas has closer ties to Latin America than any other North American state. Its higher educational system should, logically and beneficially, be second to none in Latin American studies.

In just one recent week, three events called attention to the increasing interest being given Latin American studies in Texas colleges and universities.

Dr. Rafael Squirru, former director of the Museum of Modern Art in Buenos Aires and director of cultural affairs for the Pan American Union in Washington, inaugurated an Institute for Latin American Studies at the University of Dallas. Presumably this will follow the model of the well-established and growing Latin American studies institute at the University of Texas.

The University of Texas last week announced that a "Hall of the Horsemen of the Americas" will be lodged in the new undergraduate Academic Center, to house the 4,000-volume-plus collection of Latin American cowboy lore donated by Edward L. Tinker of New York. Chancellor Harry Ransom appraised the project as "a tremendous stimulus to the very young student to enter the field of Latin American studies." The university already has probably the best overall Latin America, and the University of Texas Press has a highly commended program of publishing translations of Latin American literary and academic works.

During the same week, Dr. M. T. Harrington, who is stepping down next year as chancellor of the Texas A&M University System, was appointed at his request to become coordinator of A&M's international programs. Those include educational extension and exchange programs sponsored by the State Department and private foundations, and largely oriented to Latin America.

Recognition of the importance, to Texas and internationally, of Latin American studies, extension and exchange programs is rapidly spreading throughout this state's system of higher education. It is a trend that should be strongly encouraged.

Medical Care Program Coming

WASHINGTON — The plight of the doctors' union is enough to make a compassionate witness rush straightaway and fetch 204,000 jars of calf's-foot jelly for the poor loaves.

They've got a churchyard cough on them, they have, and they're plucking at the counterpane in a manner that suggests that one of these days someone will step out of the sickroom and tell the assembled kin that it is all over, and maybe it's better this way. Medicare is what they're down with, and the profession is coming grudgingly to the conclusion that medical science knows no cure for it.

THE AMERICAN Medical Association's House of Delegates, meeting amid the Babylonian splendor of Miami Beach, is as unhappy as a surgeon who has left a pruning hook inside a $500 gall bladder job and is being sued for it.

Dr. Donovan F. Ward, president of the AMA, told them that the "outlook is neither pleasant nor easy" — and that is the sort of euphemism doctors understand. It is just one step this side of saying that the prognosis is guarded, which is the profession's nice-Nelly way of saying they don't know what the hell is wrong with Aunt Clothilde but she is sure as mischief around the bend.

THE DOCTORS have done all within their considerable powers to keep any such vile draught as Medicare out of the hands of the nation's croupy ancients. Dr. Ward, a 60-year-old surgeon from Dubuque, Iowa, told the House of Delegates that the AMA continued to oppose making "Federal wards" of old persons, just as it still objected to "the invasion of the voluntary relationship between the patient and the physician." He said it was "arrogant" to assume that the new Congress would enact Medicare.

ARROGANT OR not, it does seem a reasonably safe assumption that the United States is getting ready to adopt some species of government-insured medical care.

The proposals contained in the King-Anderson bill, which was stillborn in the last Congress, do not appear to justify the doctors' panic. The real fault with King-Anderson is that it is too modest in scope, providing from 45 to 180 days of paid-up hospitalization, certain nursing home care, home visits by nurses and medical check-ups for persons beyond age 65. It would be financed by an increase in Social Security rates, plus a broadening of the Social Security tax base. King-Anderson has been endorsed by President Johnson, and probably represents the general shape of the Medicare package that will ultimately be adopted.

AS LIMITED as it is, King-Anderson would make a tremendous difference to persons over 65 who are visited with serious illness. In the United States the poor and the well-to-do can usually obtain good medical care. But for the vast number of Americans living out their final years on inflation-riddled pensions and modest nest-eggs, adequate medical care too often is beyond their means. Routine examination and preventive care is neglected, and catastrophic illness customarily means family bankruptcy.

Americans have been slow getting there, but the evidence at hand indicates they are now awake to the distressing need of so many of their old people, and will meet it. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Billy Graham

Do you really believe we can have peace of heart and mind with so much sorrow and trouble in the world today? L. E. R. Yes, I know that peace is possible for people right now and regardless of outward conditions. There are three kinds of peace and they follow in a natural sequence. First of all, and without which the other two are impossible, one must have peace with God. This is a vertical relationship, made possible for us by our accepting Christ, the Son of God, as our own Savior from sin. It is faith in Christ which gives us peace with God. The second kind of peace is the peace of God which comes into our hearts when we become His children through faith in Christ. This enables us to take the hard things of life with the knowledge that all things work together for good for those who love God. It is the kind of peace which only God can give and which the world cannot take away. Finally, there is peace with our fellow men. This finds its expression in love instead of hate, in trying to help those in need, in forgiving wrongs instead of holding resentment. There are thousands of ways in which we can show this love to others and it adds to our joy and peace. If you truly want peace you must find it in God's way.

GOP Simply Lacks The Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter how well they paint over their differences or find some party unity, Republicans will still be in a far poorer spot than Democrats in building voter appeal.

The Democrats, not the Republicans, are the ones in a position to propose programs and then put them into action because a Democrat is president and Democrats, in overwhelming numbers in House and Senate, run Congress.

Thus, since they will lack the votes to override Democratic programs or put through their own ideas, the Republicans are left pretty much in the position of critics, not doers.

THIS IS AN unhappy spot for a party which, while it is still trying to pick up the pieces after the 1964 election disaster, is talking of trying to surge back in the congressional elections two years from now.

And if they remain split into Goldwaterites and anti-Goldwaterites — which is what seems likely — they'll be unable to present any kind of policy that can be called a Republican policy and make it convincing.

A split seems inescapable. If the Republicans who have had enough of Sen. Barry Goldwater's brand of republicanism manage to throw out his hand-picked chairman of the Republican National Committee—Dean Burch, this will leave the party divided.

But it will be just as divided if Burch and Goldwater's other followers control the committee since the Goldwaterites don't operate on the same wavelength with a lot of other Republicans.

AND AT this moment it seems all the Republicans in Congress won't be in harmony, either. There the two leaders — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen in the Senate and Rep. Charles A. Halleck in the House — are real conservatives.

But a number of congressional Republicans, looking for some kind of new and appealing image for the party, may not be shepherded very easily if they feel the leadership is out of tune with them.

For most of the past 32 years, Democrats in Congress have been in a far more advantageous position than the Republicans are now or have been.

Since President Roosevelt's election in 1932, Republicans have had a majority in both houses of Congress — and therefore control — only twice: in 1947-48 and 1953-54, or a total of four years out of 32.

In all the other years since 1932, as a minority party, they lacked control. This means that even in President Eisenhower's last six years in office Democratic majorities ran Congress.

THOSE SIX years provide a good example of what congressional control can mean even when the other party has the White House.

From 1955 to 1961 Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson was Democratic majority leader in the Senate and his fellow Texan, the late Sam Rayburn, was speaker of the House.

Both were master politicians. But that wasn't all they had going for them. With their majorities in both Houses they could approve or stifle the programs Eisenhower sent to the Capitol, or alter them.

Flood Of Unusual Gifts

NEW YORK (AP) — Santa won't have any trouble filling my stocking this year. In fact, there are so many unusual gifts around I wish I were a centipede.

Everything I could possibly want is available, plus a lot of things I definitely don't want, such as a set of cufflinks made of real glass eyes.

EVEN Santa himself is on the market. He's a life-size, jolly gentleman who may look a bit undernourished at first glance, but just feed him a diet of crumpled newspapers and he'll have as round a belly as anyone could wish. He's made of all-weather plastic, so he can spend the entire holiday season atop my chimney.

There's one gift of far-reaching importance. It's an 18-inch long electric back scratcher. Press the button and the busy fingers start to scratch 3,000 times a minute. I'm itching for that one.

I'VE discovered just the thing to add the romantic touch our bathroom needs. It's a filigree toothbrush holder "looking for all the world like an heirloom antique." This should go well with our toothbrushes, which also tend to look like antiques.

Most useful items, though, are the cozy duster slippers. Just put these miniature mops on your feet and dust as you dance. I plan to whirl gracefully about my morning chores, doing the twist in the corners and the Charleston for the stubborn spots.

I'VE a couple of gift ideas for my husband, too. One is a long-handled shoe buffer so he can shine his footwear standing up. The only trouble is he won't be able to get his eyes open wide enough in the morning to see that far.

And, though I've been giving him the red-carpet treatment figuratively for years, now I can do it literally. The bright red felt rug comes with golden fringe and his name custom-lettered in matching gold for that personal touch.

One thing I must have — those candles in the shape of a question mark for my next birthday cake.

Cystic Fibrosis A Disorder Of The Mucous Glands

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: My two-year-old son has a lung ailment called cystic fibrosis. He has repeated colds and very often ends up in the hospital.

How serious is this disease and what precautions are necessary? —MRS. I.

Cystic fibrosis is a very difficult and dangerous condition with which some children are born. Other than that it is congenital, we still can say only that the cause is unknown.

It is not exactly a lung ailment, although the lungs are affected. But so are other organs. It is a disorder of the mucous glands.

In the lungs, a very thick, sticky mucus is produced which, of course, hampers breathing, plugs small bronchial passages, and accounts for a child's excessive susceptibility to colds or other respiratory infections.

But cystic fibrosis also affects the body in other ways. The pancreas does not behave normally, digestive juices do not reach the digestive tract in proper amounts, and bulky stools result.

Excessive amounts of salt are released from the sweat glands, which is a useful feature in diagnosis but is accompanied, in some cases, by clogging of small glands of the skin and troublesome cysts.

There is no cure for the disease, but there are extensive efforts to discover more about it, and we can, at least, say this: The outlook for children with C. F. is much better today than it was 20 or 30 or five years ago.

Aerosol inhalation and other methods loosen the heavy mucus in the lungs. Use of antibiotics at the slightest sign of infection combats that hazard. Low-fat diet and giving of pancreatic material helps digestion.

Dear Dr. Molner: What are the pros and cons of circumcision? We have a 4-year-old boy who hasn't been circumcised. Now we are expecting another child, and if it is a boy my husband insists on circumcision.

I would prefer not to have it done, so both boys will be the same, although I know it seems to be done routinely. If it is best for the new baby to be circumcised, then should the older boy have it done, too? What is the best age? —T. S.

Circumcision is a good practice from the standpoint of hygiene, and the best time is at birth, because a newborn baby's pain threshold is high and the simple operation bothers him very little if at all.

I'd by all means have it done for the new baby. As for the 4-year-old, if he has no trouble, I'd let him stay the way he is. I see no point in subjecting him to the operation unless necessary.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our son has an undescended testicle. Do you recommend hormone shots? He is 11. —MRS. L.

They should be tried first. If they don't bring success, then surgery is indicated.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment for this pest, write in care of The Herald for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Luminaries Of The Yuletide

The arrival of the Christmas season again brings the colorful array of Christmas lights, and few if any customs of the Christmas season are more unique than the small candles — the luminarias — placed in paper sacks and used at many homes, streets, parks and elsewhere in the Southwest.

ORIGINATED YEARS ago in New Mexico, these small bundles of light provide a soft, flickering glow which matches the scenic attractiveness of other Christmas decorations.

A paper bag, several inches of sand and a small candle are the ingredients. The origin of the luminarias goes back to the early days of New Mexico when small bonfires of pinon or pine were burned for the lighting of holiday festivities. Then farolitos or small lanterns which in turn were borrowed in origin from Old Mexico were used, but necessity for light, when lanterns were lacking, led New Mexicans to come up with the idea of using a candle, set in some sand in a sack, as an improvised lantern.

FROM NEW Mexico the idea has spread from California to New Jersey and in many places hundreds, even thousands of little paper-sack lanterns have become as familiar during the Christmas holidays as models of reindeer pulling a sleigh.

In Albuquerque's Old Town and in the northern portion of the city, in the Lee Acres subdivision, thousands of luminarias are displayed during the Christmas season. The custom is just about as extensive in Santa Fe.

One home in Albuquerque is reported to have more than 6,000 luminarias surrounding it this year.

FROM THE SOFT glow of the luminarias to brightly lit scenes, the custom of lights to decorate homes and streets during Christmas is undoubtedly not only an old one in this country but one that is becoming more popular every year. Those who have an opportunity to be in Lubbock during the holidays might drop by the campus of Texas Tech, where some 16,000 lights have been placed on campus buildings, providing quite an array of lights. Started originally by a Plainview man who donated the lights for several buildings, the custom has grown for the past several years until this year most of the college structures are outlined in varicolored lights.

CHRISTMAS lights, such as the Southwest's distinctive luminarias, are similar to the traditional carols, as they are among the customs of the holiday which help keep Christmas from becoming a time when only gifts are considered.

Indian Prime Minister's Burdens

NEW DELHI—The slight little man seated behind the big triangular desk in the Prime Minister's office carries on his narrow shoulders a massive burden of responsibility.

LAL BARADUR SHASTRI was chosen by the Congress party last June after the death of Jawaharlal Nehru to lead India through a troubled and perilous transition. The contrast with the man he succeeded could not be more striking. Nehru had the magic of a world-wide reputation together with a presence and a personality charged with drama and the subtle coloration of the cultures of East and West. Shastri would be almost insignificant-looking were it not for the depth and intensity of his dark-brown eyes, which are set in an austere, almost-ascetic face. They convey the resolution, the grim determination, that sustains him in a task whose demands are beyond comprehension.

Both were master politicians. But that wasn't all they had going for them. With their majorities in both Houses they could approve or stifle the programs Eisenhower sent to the Capitol, or alter them.

YOU FEEL in talking with him that if the job can be done—if the tangled skein of troubles can be straightened out within a reasonable time—he can do it. He seems to have inspired confidence in the country after its loss of a great leader on whose personality much had rested.

SHASTRI SAYS that India's food shortage is on its way to being solved. In long conferences with the governors of the states—India's federal system with its strong "states' rights" bent has many resemblances to the American system—an agreement was reached on an equitable distribution system, with the food-surplus states willing to release part of their stores to the food-shortage areas. After six or seven months of rationing in Calcutta and other centers of acute scarcity, the situation will be relieved, Shastri says, in the hope that the worst will be over.

Telling Our Side Of The Story

WASHINGTON — Significant opportunities to sway the opinion of peoples everywhere in the world in support of the policies of the United States are today being neglected. Yet public opinion is the greatest single force that can strengthen the position of the United States abroad and help to prevent a third world war.

Not only is the government here failing to reach the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, but it is not placing its story squarely before the peoples in the so-called free and "non-aligned" countries.

NO BETTER example of the sins of omission on the part of our own government is to be found than in handling the story of the rescue mission in the Congo in recent days. Here was a humanitarian project. Human lives were at stake. Innocent and helpless persons were being threatened with massacre. The United States merely furnished transport planes so that Belgian paratroopers could move in quickly to save men, women and children. The expedition had the highest purpose, but the Russian and Chinese propaganda apparatus got busy at once to declare the whole thing to be "military intervention" and an "act of aggression."

The United States stood by in virtual silence while the propaganda bombardment went on for several days.

THE PRESIDENT had a press conference last Saturday at his ranch in Texas—the first since mid-October—but he made only a brief and somewhat defensive reference to the Congo situation. He had an opportunity to deal comprehensively with the Soviet charges of military aggression. He could have readily obtained time on all the radio and television networks that could have been repeated by the "Voice of America" throughout the world. A single opportunity was missed to gain a world-wide audience for the American point of view.

ONE OF THE perplexing aspects is the position of the United States Information Agency and its outlet known as the "Voice of America."

A PROPOSAL for construction of fertilizer plants costing eventually up to a half-billion dollars is being considered. More fertilizer is an imperative need.

Shastri is thinking seriously of a visit to America next May or June. While their backgrounds and education could hardly be more different—Shastri means philosopher or learned man—the Prime Minister and President Lyndon B. Johnson have much in common. Shastri is far more deeply rooted in India than was the worldly Nehru. He has Mr. Johnson's instinct for balancing off diverse political forces and coming up with an agreed solution.

WHEN THE TALL, rangy President and the slight little Prime Minister sit down together, it will be a picture for the books. But they will use the same political vocabulary and that will be a start in getting on with the kind of cooperation essential if Shastri is to win his battle and prove that by the free choice of a free people his country can achieve modernity.

No one, Shastri least of all, belittles the obstacles in the way. Besides the economic dislocation, the language conflict gravely aggravates the problem of unity among the states. All-India Radio broadcasts in 14 constitutional languages, and in getting back to farmers in remote areas one hundred dialects are used.

PREPARING for a visit to London, he works 16 hours a day, not sparing himself despite a heart attack suffered some years ago. With the hot breath of one crisis after another always at his back, he shows to the world the calm confidence of one who knows what the odds are and yet never doubts the outcome.

(Copyright, 1964, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

The personnel are well equipped and qualified to do the job, but the instructions which are handed them constantly by the State Department are far from constructive. In contrast, the Soviet and Red Chinese governments are using the airwaves as well as communications to the press to maintain an incessant barrage of propaganda.

In the case of the United States government, the tendency is for the Department of State to make the publicity policy. The right of censorship is exercised on the theory that to do otherwise might interfere with diplomatic relations. This involves a question of judgment. In this area boldness and courage are needed and yet what prevails now is frustration, if not timidity and irresolution.

IF THE COMMUNISTS are going to be permitted to get away with their one-sided presentation of international issues, it will affect American prestige not only inside Africa and Asia but in Europe and Latin America as well.

President Johnson is struggling with many problems but, until he solves this one, he is not likely to make the headway and progress in foreign affairs that his administration could otherwise achieve.

It is only when the United States is willing to stand up before the world and talk in unmistakable phrases about its purposes that peoples everywhere will begin to learn both sides of the story of the conflict between communism and the free world.

MURRAY, Ky. (AP)—Lowery Rains probably is the only man to start a 100-yard dash, then judge the finish.

Rains, a rural schoolteacher, agreed to fill in at a track meet when the regular judge failed to appear.

He fired the starting gun, started jogging down the track, and was on hand to call the finish as the youngsters broke the tape.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Dust Window Panes Before Using Liquid

Dear Gals: I want to mention something that perhaps might surprise you, and is probably something you hadn't thought about:

Before you wash a window that has not been washed in months, look at it (you only have to look through one side!) and see if it has an accumulation of dust on it before you put any kind of cleaning liquid on it.

First pick up an old cloth, whisk broom, brush . . . or a piece of crumpled, dry newspaper . . . and wipe the window to remove most of the accumulated soil!

Here's what you are going to find: Dust is dust . . . you can wipe most of it off and it will fall to the bottom of the window, thus eliminating a mud pile, such as you would have if you put liquid on it first. The liquid would mix with the dust and you would have a bigger mess to clean up!

If you wet a rag and then put any application on a dust-filled window (whether inside or outside) it's awful. Let's face it. Wipe the dust off first, then proceed with whatever washing method you are using.

Saves time, water and energy! Heloise

Dear Heloise: When hanging clothes out on a cold day, wear a pair of rubber gloves over your winter cotton gloves. You will have no more cold hands.

If one just wore regular cotton gloves, the gloves would become damp and therefore one's hands would tend to become colder. However, by putting the cotton gloves on underneath the rubber gloves they are protected from dampness.

Dear Heloise: I have found two good methods for removing starch which sometimes accumulates on the bottom of my iron.

I either dip a damp sponge in baking soda and polish the bottom of my cold iron, or I dip a dry washcloth in pure vinegar and wipe a barely warm iron. Then I use a clean, damp cloth to wipe the iron. KAY.

Dear Heloise: I use waxed paper sandwich bags for storing small amounts of leftover foods in the refrigerator.

One bag will hold three or four pieces of fried chicken or a plain boiled potato . . . or any reasonably dry vegetable. I dislike washing dishes and fail to see why I should transfer leftovers from a vegetable dish to a refrigerator dish, which will have to be washed eventually, too.

Also the bags take up less room in the refrigerator. Mrs. Peter Schenk

Dear Heloise: Maybe most of your female readers don't have the same trouble I have with my penmanship and aching fingers.

My writing is not good to start with and after writing some, my fingers hurt and seem to cramp where I hold a pen or pencil. This makes my handwriting worse than ever.

My hands are rather large and the pens and pencils seem small to me.

One day in my office, I wrapped a wide rubber band around a pencil near the end where I hold it. The band kept my fingers from hurting, and, I believe, helped my handwriting. Also, the pencil was much easier to hold.

I have to move the rubber band every time I sharpen the pencil but it is worth it to me. Mathew M.

Dear Mat: This would also be good for small children learning to use a pencil and for people who may have a partially crippled hand. Heloise

To remove alcohol stains from furniture, go over the spot with a cloth dampened in lemon oil, using a circular motion. Then dip cloth in powdered rottenstone, just enough to soil cloth. Gently rub powder on the stain. Wipe off with another cloth moistened with lemon oil. Dry and polish with soft, clean cloth. If necessary, repeat the treatment.

Says No To Her Ultimatum

Albert H. Zabala, 31, a truck driver, and his wife, Adelaide, 27, are pictured as they left Los Angeles Superior Court where she presented him with a list of 15 conditions under which she'd let him move back into their home. Zabala pondered the ultimatum, which included a ban on drinking and a requirement he turn all his money over to his wife, decided it wasn't worth it, and went his separate way. (AP WIREPHOTO)

WIFE'S ULTIMATUM

Not Worth It, Decides Husband Viewing Rules

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Albert H. Zabala, 31, won't go home again.

Why? He said he was presented with a list of conditions under which his wife would accept him and he decided it just wasn't worth it.

The ultimatum:
"1 — No drinking.
"2 — Hand over to me every cent you earn.
"3 — No stopping anywhere after work.

"4 — You are not to see your sister under any circumstances.
"5 — You are never to go out of your way to do favors for people, taking them here and there.

NO BEER
"6 — If we should happen to get company it is not necessary to make a trip to buy beer.
"7 — You are to do what I ask you to do when I ask you.

"8 — You are not to set foot in any bar even if you are treated to a drink.
"9 — Do not lend anyone money even if it's just $2.
"10 — You are to let me cash your check or if you cash it I am to see it first.

"11 — You are never to tell me any lies, if you should I will find out.
"12 — You are not to do any bragging of any kind to anybody.
"13 — If there is any business you have to take care of, you are to do it early and come straight home early.
"14 — If you have to get a haircut you are to get one early and not at night like you said before and it shouldn't take all day.

"15 — You are to be on time always.
Adelaide Zabala, 27, who filed suit for divorce last August charging cruelty, said she presented the demands to Zabala in a pretrial hearing on support of their two children, Lonny, 6, and Mona, 5.

Zabala pleaded financial straits and Superior Court Commissioner Betty Jo Shelton ordered him to pay $20 per week child support.

It was then that Mrs. Zabala offered to let her husband return home, on conditions 1 through 15, with this final word:

"BE ON TIME"
"15 — You are to be on time always."

Zabala, a truck driver, did just that.

"All this I demand (underlined four times) of you and more. If it is not agreeable to you, forget everything."

Zabala, a truck driver, did just that.

Bomb N. Viet? Leaders Asking

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Can victory be snatched from South Viet Nam's exhausted war only by a flight of bombers over Communist North Viet Nam?

Planners in Saigon and Washington have been weighing the possibilities of expanding the war outside South Viet Nam.

Since the Viet Cong war began draining blood and treasure in 1960, America has faced three alternatives.

The first is to get out altogether, turning over South Viet Nam to the Communists.

AID PROGRAM
The second alternative — the one which has been followed up to now — is to shore up the Saigon government with money, supplies, arms and advisers, in the hope that Saigon will one day be able to hold its own.

The third is to move into the fight directly with U.S. combat troops and a frontal attack on North Viet Nam or even Communist China.

The first alternative and all its variations, including neutralization of South Viet Nam, have been rejected by both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Hopes of winning by the second method appear increasingly forlorn. The Saigon government appears less capable of holding its own than it was 10 years ago when South Viet Nam became independent of France as the indirect result of a smashing Communist victory at Dien Bien Phu.

UNDER SCRUTINY
The third alternative, therefore, which could lead either to a new Korea or a third world war, has come under new scrutiny.

Among the supporters of direct attack on North Viet Nam is Dr. Bernard Fall, a noted French historian and author specializing in Indochina problems. Fall has argued for years that while the United States is tactically weak in Viet Nam it has strategic strength which should be used.

Fall says on the basis of his trips to North Viet Nam that the Hanoi regime is confident it can defeat the United States in the field of guerrilla warfare but that Hanoi fears American bombers. North Viet Nam has a small but growing industrial plant which is highly vulnerable to air raids and which Hanoi would hate to lose, he contends. Some Pentagon and State Department officials believe Hanoi would call a halt to the war in the South if its industries were threatened.

SUPPLY POINTS
Others have argued that at least Communist supply points and infiltration depots outside South Viet Nam should be bombed. Hanoi has charged in recent months that this is going on now, and Washington has declined comment on the charges.

One high Vietnamese official said: "As things stand now, South Viet Nam is lost. Our only hope is the salvation that might come as the result of a final showdown between the United States and the great Communist powers."

Despite these arguments, many officials here believe expanding the war into North Viet Nam would have little effect on the war in the South. For one thing, it is doubtful that Hanoi could turn off the Viet Cong's campaign even if it wanted to.

Cultural Image Canadian Goal

OTTAWA (AP) — Despite the huge, creeping shadow of the United States, Canadians like to talk about building a distinctive Canadian culture.

Trying to create a cultural identity is even more frustrating for many than attempting to assert Canada's economic independence.

Some Canadian intellectuals complain that their own efforts are constantly nullified by massive doses of "Madison Avenue" influence. They also deplore the pull of big money which lures Canadian talent across the border.

Another obstacle noted by visitors is the multicultural nature of Canada's 19 million people. It would be difficult enough to develop a cultural image if there were only English and French cultures to consider. But Canada is a country of many transplanted cultures and it has never attempted to assimilate any of its numerous national groups.

POLYGLOT LOT
In Nova Scotia and Cape Breton Island there are Scottish clans with their bagpipes; in New Brunswick there are French-speaking Acadians, who do not agree with the Quebec French; in the west there are Ukrainians, Germans, Irish, Hungarians, Greeks, and Chinese; in Victoria, B.C., there are English who still retain the flavor of their British ancestors.

The prairie provinces in many ways are much more like their neighbors south of the border than the French of Quebec or the Scottish of Nova Scotia.

Canada has produced some excellent novelists, poets and painters, but not all of them could be readily identified by their works as Canadians. One of those who can is writer Huch MacLennan, who deals mostly with purely Canadian material.

SEEK TO PROTECT
Prof. Neil Compton, chairman of the English Department at Sir George Williams University in Montreal, has noted that the late Stephen Leacock is often taken for an American humorist, Jack Ludwig for an American novelist and Christopher Plummer for an English actor. The Canadian government is trying to protect Canadian periodicals by legislation to curb competition from U.S. publications. Proposed legislation would affect mainly Time magazine and Reader's Digest, which have special editions carrying advertising aimed directly at Canadian readers.

Champ Steer Nets $17,500

CHICAGO (AP)—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition, a 1,000 pound Angus named Charger, was sold at auction today for $17,500 a pound.

The sale means $17,500 to its exhibitor, Janet Perring, 15, of Leroy, Ill., who sobbed through the auction. Janet doesn't want to part with the handsome animal.

The steer was bought by the Central National Bank of Chicago.

The bank, which bought last year's winner, will exhibit Janet's Charger in the windows of its LaSalle Street building and then take it on a tour of Central National's correspondent banks in the cattle raising and feeding areas.

Check Collections Show Increase In November

There were 243 worthless checks turned into the check department of the Howard County Sheriff's office in November. The department was able to collect on 183 and return the money to the merchants and individuals who had cashed the checks. Total collections for the month were $2,622.68. Additional checks paid off to the merchants brought the total collections for November to $3,538.40.

In October, the department collected $2,783.02 and in November 1963, the collections were $2,717.51.

Total collections made by the department since its establishment now stand at $107,283.15.

The sheriff's office filed 14 misdemeanor check cases with the county attorney and four felony check cases with the district attorney during the month.

Nuclear Control Up To Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the Western Alliance must solve the problem of how to handle nuclear weapons but the United States wishes to talk, not to dictate, on this vital point.

Opening lead: Ace of ♠
 A mild state of panic, brought on by his opponent's campaign of defense, induced South, the declarer at four spades, to sign his own death warrant.

West opened the ace of hearts and, tho a rather imposing dummy was spread on the table, West realized that North's high card strength might represent a mixed blessing to the declarer, inasmuch as the latter obviously lacked a quick entry to his hand to take the trump finesse.

West deliberately refrained from attempting to cash a second heart trick and switched to the jack of diamonds—placing the lead in dummy. South naturally feared that his opponent had a singleton diamond and, in order to forestall a ruff, he promptly attempted to draw trumps by playing the ace and a small spade.

West was in with the king and the heart which he had carefully retained was now used to give East the lead, so that the latter could return a diamond. West ruffed with the eight of spades to set the declarer down by one.

South's campaign would have succeeded if the adverse spades had been evenly divided, so that we cannot condemn him too severely for his strategy. However, West's diamond shift at trick two was a marked singleton—which increased the likelihood that spades were also divided three-one. Further evidence of highly unbalanced distribution was offered by the fact that the opponents had competed to the three level with very little in the way of high cards.

Declarer can make the contract by forcing an eventual entry to his hand in order to take the trump finesse. This can be accomplished only if he does not try to prevent the diamond ruff. When the dummy is in with the ace of diamonds, the ace and king of clubs are cashed and then a heart is led. East is in and he presumably returns a diamond for West to trump.

If West exits with a spade, it offers South a free finesse in the suit. If West leads a heart or a club, declarer can discard from the dummy and ruff in his hand to make the spade play himself. In either case, his losses can be restricted to two hearts and the diamond ruff.

Money Flood Turns Placid Land Gaudy

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP)—With the coming of darkness, the muezzin's Koran chant floats nightly from the hilltop Gurgi mosque calling the Islamic faithful to the day's final prayer.

It has been thus in Tripoli for centuries—even before it was famed as the Barbary Coast, a lair for pirates.

Nowadays, a new and discordant refrain is added.

"Craps, snake eyes, Little Joe" rises from the Italian-run casino almost in the shadow of the minaret. Boisterous American oilmen crowd the dice table; oil money covers three busy roulette wheels; slot machines jangle merrily.

MONEY FLOOD
 Until the oil boom the casino had been sliding gloomily downhill for years. Its current gaudy affluence emphasizes what is happening in Libya—a placid Mediterranean country being overwhelmed with money.

Horse-drawn garrishes that once provided leisurely transportation are giving way to meter taxis, with New York rates. Women clutch their veils tightly in public, peering at the world through one exposed eye. But beneath their shroudlake "baracans" some are now sporting sheer stockings and Dior gowns.

A few years ago Zeltan and Dahra were oases known only to desert Bedouins. Now the names designate oilfields famed wherever oilmen gather. They have put this once little-known nation among the world's top 10 oil countries.

ASCETIC KING
 As recently as 1960 the bureaucrats of ascetic King Idriss got along on $50 million yearly—half of it from American and British handouts and rental for military bases.

Since then, the oil companies, mostly American, have spent more than a billion dollars here. This year Libya will get $180 million in oil income. Next year it will be $230 million. The Esso company is preparing to invest many more millions for plants to liquefy natural gas and ship it to Europe in refrigerated tankers—insuring even more millions for Libya.

All this in a nation with less than 1.5 million mostly illiterate people. These are scattered over 1,500 miles of coastline and deserts almost the size of Western Europe.

It is proving too much. The economy is spiraling wildly. United Nations figures make Tripoli the 13th most expensive city in the world to live in—and getting worse.

Last month the government added to the spiral by doubling civil service salaries. A top bureaucrat will now get about $9,000 yearly, an unthinkable salary only a few years ago. The government newspaper which announced the happy tidings was hardly on the streets before merchants began marking up prices.

Responsible oil company officials shuddered. They know they are sitting on political quicksand.

SWINDLE TRY CASE

'Estes Agent' Imposters Held

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP)—Two men posing as agents of toppled Texas financier Billie Sol Estes were charged with attempted grand larceny Thursday in what officers called an effort to swindle a farmer of $10,000.

Police identified them as Clennie Buchanan, 60, of Jackson, Miss., and Marshall Mays, alias Blackjack Powell, 47, of Durant. The farmer was not named.

County authorities gave these details:

Three men, one still at large, approached the farmer recently and asked what he thought of the Billie Sol Estes case.

They claimed to represent Estes, who they said had a large amount of hidden cash he needed to exchange for other money because "the government has the bills (serial numbers)."

The men told the farmer they would exchange the money at 75 cents to the dollar. The farmer pretended to go along but stalled by asking for time to raise money. He then contacted authorities.

When the two men arrived at the farmhouse Thursday, they were met by Greenville policemen and Washington County sheriff's officers.

Powell was one of the figures involved in the case of Kimble Berry, a young Greenville convict who fled the state in 1962 while on a Christmas leave.

Berry told Mississippi officials he was freed with the aid of a high official so he could pick up half a million dollars in loot from a Hattiesburg safe burglary. Powell, who had visited the penitentiary, refused to return to testify before a legislative investigating committee.

Ex-City Manager On Connally Staff

AUSTIN (AP)—Terrell Blodgett, 41, former city manager at Waco and Garland, has joined Gov. Connally's staff, primarily to coordinate the anti-poverty act in Texas.

Laudation For Woman Demo

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally expressed "personal and official appreciation" Thursday for the "outstanding career" of Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Seguin, former national Democratic committeewoman.

In a proclamation, Connally noted that Mrs. Weinert will be honored at an appreciation dinner Jan. 29 in Seguin.

Seguin Mayor Joe Burges and Guadalupe County Judge Henry Glenswinkel have designated Jan. 29 Hilda Weinert Day in that city.

"Mrs. Weinert, who has served with distinction as national Democratic committeewoman from Texas for 16 of the past 20 years, has been a delegate to every national Democratic convention since 1936 and has missed only one state convention in the past 30 years," Connally's proclamation said.

"Her record of citizenship and devoted work in behalf of the Democrats of this state are worthy of high commendation."

Negro Convicted In Murder Case

BATON ROUGE (AP)—An all-white jury of men convicted Negro Wilbert Rideau Thursday for the second time of murder. The death penalty is automatic.

The first convention and death penalty was overturned because his admission of guilt was televised before the first trial.

Rideau, 22, was accused of the murder of Mrs. Julia Ferguson, a bank employee, after a branch bank in Lake Charles was robbed of $14,000 in February, 1961.

'Air Rights' Suit Against Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. McDonald filed a $103,000 damage suit against the city of Dallas Thursday claiming the city has refused to buy air rights over their property near busy Love Field.

The couple said flights at altitudes of less than 500 feet over their home have made routine existence impossible. A north-south runway stretches to within 7,250 feet of them.

Their suit, filed by lawyer James Donovan, states a just rent for the air space would be $300 a month.

Infant 'Jumped On' By Older Brother Succumbs

DALLAS (AP)—Three-week-old Vernon Lampman died Thursday at Methodist Hospital shortly after his mother told of seeing an older brother jumping on the infant.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the mother, Mrs. Albert Lampman of Duncanville, Tex., told investigators she saw her son, Mark, 3, jumping on the baby.

Decker said Mrs. Lampman cradled the critically injured baby in her arms and carried him to a doctor's office. An ambulance took him to the hospital.

Officers said they did not believe the boy intended to harm the baby.

Ted Recovering, Lengthens Walks

Hospitalized with a broken back since a plane crash last June 19 in Southampton, Kennedy took his first steps in the Boston hospital Thursday.

Home Blaze Claims Lubbock Infant Boy

College And School Group Elects Head

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dr. Arleigh Templeton, who became president of Sam Houston State College at Huntsville, Tex., last September, is president-elect of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

He has served as executive director of Gov. John Connally's committee on education beyond the high school.

Templeton was elected Thursday at the final business session of the association's 69th meeting.

Dr. Harris Dean, dean of academic affairs at the University of South Florida in Tampa, became president for 1965. He succeeds Dr. John Hunter, president of Louisiana State University.

Association members heard a recommendation from trustees that the elementary school program be elevated from committee to commission status and operated in a manner similar to that for colleges and high schools.

Dr. Frank Dickey, association director, said such changes in bylaws must be tabled for one year and the proposal could not be voted on until the 1965 meeting at Richmond, Va.

'Music Man' Gets A Rousing Sendoff

"The Music Man," a production of the music and drama departments of Big Spring High School, got a rousing sendoff and deservedly so—in its premiere Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

The production of Meredith Willson's famous musical, packed with a dozen catchy melodies and bouncy tunes, got a hand on every scene and vigorous applause for the cast and the stars on the curtain call.

OVER 500

Considering that the audience of upward of 500 included a liberal sprinkling of students, who are not lavish applauders, this should have been sweet music in the ears of the performers, the adults who helped them, and the host of others who danced, played, painted and shaped scenery, made costumes, provided lighting effects, sold tickets and publicized the event.

Even larger turnouts are expected at 8 p. m. today and at the same time Saturday.

What few bugs were in the opening performance were glossed over so expertly that they were not apparent to the audience. When dialogue broke down, the leaders ad libbed lyrics. About the most severe criticism that could be leveled is that some of the principals fell into the old trap of substituting for inflection and enunciation a few songs and lines would have been stronger up front rather than from deep stage or aimed at the wings.

BRILLIANTLY

Pat Hamilton carried off his part of Harold Hill brilliantly with a verve and spontaneity that set the tone for the entire show. Not only this, he has a voice with sufficient strength generally to project the role. Charlene McDonald, his opposite as Marian Paroo, was fine in her role and also excellent in her roles.

Among other creditable performances were turned in by Mickey Crow as Mrs. Paroo; Debbie Coates as Amariyllis; Marshall Cockrell as Mayor Chinn; Pax Bunch as his wife; Beverley Green as the daughter; Benny Benson as Marcel; Washburn; Deads Baird as Charlie Cowell, the anvil salesman; John Seltzer as Tommy Dijas; and especially Marvin Burleson as Winthrop Paroo. His "Gary, Indiana" came near being a show-stopper.

CHORUS

The chorus did a bang-up job, too, in the "Trouble in River City" scene, also in the infectious "Wells Fargo Wagon," and at other points. Special praise also is due the dancers, who came through admirably, and the 16-piece orchestra, which cued the show, did well on accompaniment, and sent feet patting with spirited overtures. And, as mentioned, the scores of young people who weren't on stage, deserve a hand, too, for they contributed much to what seemed to be the biggest success as well as the most formidable undertaking of the departments to date.

Dan Shockey, who directed; Mel Ivey, who handled the music; and Mary Jean Byrd who designed the settings deserve several pats on the head. The entire production is fresh, sparkling and exceptionally well done for so young a group of actors and singers. You'll be the loser if you don't see and hear it.

Attend Meet On Braceros

Chamber of Commerce President John L. Taylor, accompanied by Cecil Leatherwood and Jimmy Taylor, were in Dallas today to attend an area hearing by the U. S. Department of Labor, on the question of renewing the bracero labor law. The meeting is being held in the Sheraton - Dallas hotel, with farmers, labor representatives, labor department men, and others interested, attending.

Following a meeting at the chamber office Monday, the local committee will emphasize the need for consideration of four points: the need for bracero (Mexican migrant) labor in the area; no restrictions on the use of labor; the 210-day limit should be renewed; and that domestic labor will not be affected if braceros are used. The present migrant labor law expires Dec. 31, and the effort to get it renewed is the reason for several area meetings early in December.

Sectional Disputes Bloom In Water Plan Hearing

AUSTIN—City officials clearly did not see eye-to-eye on the state's water problems during a Texas Water Commission hearing Thursday, but they gave endorsement to Gov. John Connally's program for a federal-state-community water plan.

The endorsement, however, does not commit any community to any state-wide plan which may be produced, water commissioner Otha Dent pointed out.

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, attended the hearing from here.

PEACEMAKER

San Angelo Water Supt. J. E. Williams served as a peacemaker at the session which broke out into sectional disputes over whether East or West Texas needs water the most.

"It begins to look like it's going to be a pretty difficult situation," Williams said after it appeared the haggling would run into the night. "But there is one area of agreement and that is we do need a good thorough study of the whole problem and a good sensible proposal for the solution."

Williams offered a resolution with a half dozen "whereas's" which said a water plan is urgently needed and called on all present to "pledge all assistance to the planning project."

Criticism had been aimed at the ultimate goal of the proposed project, which is to determine all of the state's water resources and prepare a master plan for full facility of water resources by the year 2020.

NICHOLS

Marvin Nichols of Fort Worth, a noted water engineer and former chairman of the state water development board, read one paragraph of the commission presentation: "The general objective is to estimate the water requirements by decades, 1980 to 2020 inclusive, for all purposes and to provide liaison with other entities (cities, counties and water districts) having contracts or agreements pertaining to water requirements."

"Unfortunately, we don't think we're going to come to grips with diversion from basin-to-basin unless you add something to this printed material on what you're going to do after the year 2020," Nichols said.

Up to that point, the meeting with governmental representatives of 70 cities had been an orderly presentation of prepared materials on water plan, but the key words, "diversions from basin-to-basin" set off a chain of reactions, both from East Texans who hold what some engineers consider "a surplus of water," and from West Texans and South Texans faced with present and potential water shortages of critical degree.

It was estimated that 90 percent of the state's rainfall drops on 25 percent of its land.

SHARE POLICY

A share-and-share alike policy was offered by Mayor John J. Stephens of Weslaco. He said he was not as worried about water needs in 2020 as much as he was in 1964. Stephens said it was "wonderful" when Gov. Connally brought the Rio Grande watershed into the proposed state study.

"El Paso and Juarez take a great big drink before it ever gets down our way," Stephens said of the Rio Grande. "I went to an industrial committee meeting and a man told us Texans should be proud that they have more inland water than any other state in the union. Well, that isn't going to make a Rio Grande farmer bust his buttons, 'cause that water in the northern half of the state doesn't do us any good."

Mayor Jack M. Moore of Beaumont said his area is said to have a surplus of water but shortage almost caused industry there to shut down several years ago. "How are you going to determine surplus?" he asked.

"How are you going to work it out so you won't rob one area by helping another?" We don't want to be penalized in our growth and our economy."

JIBE AT WEST

A sly jibe at West and South Texans came from Mayor M. M. Stripling of Nacogdoches. "I haven't heard anyone from the Permian Basin say they owe us something and talk about putting up a pipe line from there to Nacogdoches," he said.

Mayor M. B. Hood of Plainview retorted, "If it becomes necessary to compete for water on an area-by-area basis it looks like Plainview would have to succeed and join New Mexico. All the people of Texas can't crowd into East Texas."

"We wouldn't try to steal anybody's water," said Abilene director of Water and Sewage W. J. Weems. "We want you to show us how to help ourselves."

Other West Texans at Thursday's conferences were City Manager D. H. Howard, San Angelo; Councilmen Neal Fry and Austin Hancock, general manager of West Central Texas Municipal Water District, both of Abilene; City Manager James W. Brown and G. H. Calhoun of Shell Oil Co., both of Midland; Mayor Charles King and City Manager C. A. Taylor, both of Lamesa; City Manager John Clary and Water Supt. P. T. Martin, both of Brownwood and City Manager William F. Fuller and City Engineer Dan Shipley, both of Sweetwater, and Mayor Conger Jones of Del Rio.

Fellow Kiwanians Honor Nat Shick

Nat Shick, pioneer Big Spring resident and the only surviving charter member of the Big Spring Kiwanis club, is now assured of one free meal each week for as long as he lives.

Shick, who has been a Kiwanian for 35 years and who has 23 years perfect club attendance to his credit, was formally presented with a citation Thursday night which makes him a paid-up member of the Big Spring club — meals and dues—from now on.

Bob Johnson, secretary of the club who made the presentation, told Nat:

"We figure that in the years you have been a Kiwanian, you have paid more than $3,700 for meals. We think that you have paid long enough. So from now on, Nat, the meals are on the club. You are a paid-up member for as long as you live."

Shick was obviously touched by the unexpected presentation. "Last Monday night," he told the club members and their guests, "I went to the meeting of the club directors with the intention of resigning as a member of the club.

'MR. KIWANIS OF BIG SPRING' HONORED
Plaque for Nat Shick and bouquet of roses for his wife

"I felt that I am too old and have been too long in the club to be of much more good to it. After I got to the meeting,

I changed my mind and decided I would wait a little longer. I am sure glad I didn't resign."

Mrs. Shick was praised as being an important factor in keeping Shick in Kiwanis. She was presented with a bouquet of roses.

The Shicks will celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary Dec. 19. They still live in the same house into which they moved on the date of their marriage and where Mrs. Shick had lived even before she was married.

Travis Installed As New President

Big Spring Kiwanis Club members and their wives watched the installation of Bob Travis as the club's new president at dinner Thursday night in Cosden Country Club dining room.

Travis replaces V. Ward Jackson who becomes an ex-officio member of the club's board of directors.

Installing officer was District No. 22 Lt. Governor Jack Hollis, of Midland who praised the local club for its successful year and predicted that 1965 would be even more active and successful.

Bob Bradbury was master of ceremonies for the evening. He presented as the initial number the Highland South Hillbillies — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Falson — who were enthusiastically received.

Presentation of a past president's plaque to Jackson was made by Travis in a portion of the program termed "Plaques and Roses."

The second section of this ceremony was handled by Mrs. J. C. Pickle, who called Nat Shick and Mrs. Shick forward for special recognition.

Shick is the only surviving charter member of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club. He was one of the group which formed the club 35 years ago. He also has a record of 23 years of perfect attendance.

Officers installed were Travis as president; Clyde Hollingsworth, first vice president; Bill Johnson, second vice president; Delaine Crawford, secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors for 1965 were also recognized. The board is composed of Jackson, Jay Banks, Sam Blackburn, Ernest Welch, Jim Thompson, Jack Alexander, Rochoe Newell, and Ed Corson.

Committee chairmen selected by Travis are:

Past president, Ward Jackson; Boys and Girls, Jim Thompson; Boy Scouts, Walter Trim; Inter-club, J. C. Pickle; Safety, Stanley Ballou; House and Reception, Don Lovelady; Support of Churches, Bob Bradbury; Public Relations, Sam Blackburn; Vocational Guidance, S. A. Walker; Key Club and Circle K, Dave Dorchester; Kiwanis Education and Fellowship, Harvey Clay; Finance, Delaine Crawford; New Club Building, Sherman Smith; Agriculture and Conservation, Travis Waller; Public and Business Affairs, G. C. Moorhead; Attendance and Membership, Ernest Welch; Program and Music, Clyde Hollingsworth.

McKinney said he is hopeful sufficient contributions through service organizations throughout the area served by the Big Spring VA hospital will be obtained for the installation of a television cable and the yearly rental fees.

Exams Announced

Puzzle of Thursday, December 3, Solved

DEAR ABBY

Try Some Tenderness

DEAR ABBY: If they rented out with some boys because of the way they drive. But what about the boys I never meet until they come for a date? I worry myself sick until the girls get home safely from a date. Don't say, "Ask your daughter," because if she likes a boy she isn't going to say anything against him. CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: There is no way to find out what kind of a driver a boy is unless you have seen him drive, or his reputation for driving has preceded him. Tell your teenage daughters that they risk defacing, crippling injury or death when they accept dates with dangerous drivers. And if they do not get the message, your alternative is prayer.

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé is about two inches shorter than I am. We have never discussed the difference in height, but I have always worn flats when we were together, which makes us about the same height. We are now making plans for our wedding. I would like to wear high heels, which would make me taller than he, so I asked him if he minded wearing elevated shoes just for the wedding. He said YES, he minded very much, and if I wanted him to be taller than I, I should wear flats. Will you tell me what is the right way to settle this?
TALL GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Since you have always worn flats with him in the past, wear them for your wedding. PROBLEMS? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Swiss Service Getting Headache From Castro

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The poor state of Fidel Castro's relations with a number of nations is causing headaches in an unexpected quarter — the Swiss diplomatic service.

Neutral Switzerland now represents the interests in Cuba of eight countries that have broken relations with the Castro regime. The United States was the first, in 1961. Argentina, Guatemala, Honduras, Chile, Brazil, Ecuador and Venezuela followed.

In 1960, Switzerland had an ambassador and a first secretary as its entire diplomatic staff in Havana. Now there are 13 diplomats and a team of clerks, typists and office workers.

LARGE INTEREST
 By far the most work in Havana is done on behalf of the United States, which had large interests in Cuba before Castro took over.

"We have issued over 2,000 Swiss protection passports to American citizens still in Cuba," a senior Swiss official said. "But there are still a number who have not registered with our embassy in Havana."

The Cuban government recognizes the Swiss protection passport although it does not give the holder the rights of a normal passport.

An American law decrees that U.S. visas and passports must be signed by an official of an American consulate or embassy. As none of these are now in Cuba, any American whose passport has expired has to go through a complicated procedure to go to the United States.

TRANSIT VISA
 With his Swiss protection passport, he goes to the Mexican Embassy. There he applies for a Mexican transit visa. With it he can fly to Mexico City where the American Embassy gives him an American visa.

The procedure is also difficult for Americans wishing to get information on friends or relatives in Cuba.

They must write to the State Department which forwards the request to the Swiss government in Bern which in turn sends it on to the Havana Embassy.

The Swiss also intercede for any Americans who accidentally land on Cuban territory. Switzerland receives no set fee for the extra work but the other countries pay expenses.

Auto Show Scheduled At Center

Special attraction at the College Park Center — one of this unit's "showcase" features — will be a showing Saturday of many of the 1965 models of automobiles.

From 9 a.m. until sundown, a wide array of the newest in automotive transportation will be presented on the College Park lot.

The show is open to the public, with no obligation involved. People are simply invited to stroll through the displays and to have a leisurely look at all types, models, designs and colors of the '65 cars.

Many local auto dealers are joining with the College Park merchants in this showing. College Park "showcase" at-

L. A. Music Hub Opens

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — This is the weekend when cultural Los Angeles takes its big leap forward.

Amid fanfares and furbelows, the magnificent new Music Center will open its doors for the first time Sunday. The initial concert features Jascha Heifetz making a rare appearance as soloist.

5-YEAR DRIVE

The event will mark the culmination of a five-year drive by music lovers led by Mrs. Norman Chandler of the publishing family. Seeking a proper home for symphony, grand and light opera, concert and drama in Los Angeles, they raised $18.5 million from local citizens. County-guaranteed bonds added to the $33.5 million total.

The pavilion is the first and biggest of the three auditoriums — a normal theater and smaller one in the round will follow later. The entrance is markedly impressive.

Inside are spacious, marble-floored lobbies and a spectacular center staircase reminiscent of the Paris opera. It almost seems too big until you realize you are seeing it without people. They will make the difference.

LARGE INTERIOR

Likewise the interior is deceptively large with the seats unfilled. Actually the 3,250-seat Music Center is more intimate than the cavernous shrine and philharmonic auditoriums which previously housed longhair events. And the European seating — no center aisles — adds to the note of intimacy.

All is done with simple elegance. There is no overpowering chandelier, only small ones to add shimmering light on the side walls. The major feature is the golden shell which extends from the back of the stage, over the proscenium and into the hall.

Navy Recruits Undergo Training

Four Big Spring boys have enlisted in the U.S. Navy through the local Navy Recruiting Station, and are now undergoing nine weeks of training at the Navy Recruit Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

They will be given 14 days leave after completing their training so they may return home before reporting for their first duty assignments.

The four were James Clinton Coots, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Coots, 1611 Sunset; Ralph Leslie Atchison, 17, son of Mrs. Eleanor McCormick, 2003 Runnels; Michael Leon Johnson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Johnson, 1909 N. Monticello, and Steven D. Burdell, 1301 Princeton, and all were sworn in at Albuquerque, N. M. Coots and Atchison enlisted under the Navy's buddy program.

Pope Visits Bombay Slum

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Pope Paul VI visited a wretched slum area of Bombay today, comforting the destitute and the ill and wiping tears from his eyes as he talked with orphan boys of various faiths.

Thousands jammed the squalid streets, straining for a glimpse of the Roman Catholic pontiff. Rioting threatened as police fought to maintain a path for the papal entourage, but frantic loudspeaker appeals calmed the crowd moments before the Pope arrived.

The Pope opened his third day in India by celebrating an outdoor Mass in a Catholic school stadium. He then walked to a nearby orphanage for breakfast and from there drove miles through the teeming streets for one appointment after another.

"Many of us have no fathers," 13-year-old Tony Maserenas said as he welcomed the Pope to the orphanage. "Many of us have no mothers. Some, like me, have no one in this world." The Pope wiped his eyes as the boy continued: "You have left important people and grand places to see us in our poor home. We cannot give you anything because we have nothing. But we ask God to reward your holiness."

The Pope joined 30 of the home's 216 boys for breakfast, praying with them and drinking coffee and orange juice. The boys had milk tinged with coffee, jam sandwiches and oranges.

The Pope announced a gift of $10,000 to the orphanage. And to each of the boys he personally distributed Rosaries and commemorative medals.

As he left the room, some boys were examining their Rosaries and medals and a few continued eating. "Goodbye, goodbye," the Pope said. "Bless you, bless you."

Halt Set On Malady Shots

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M's director of student health service said inoculations against meningitis were being halted at noon today if no new cases of the disease are reported.

The director, Dr. Charles Lyons, said 4,000 students had received shots of penicillin and sulfa drugs since Wednesday.

The inoculations were started after the illness of Donald Godbey Jr., 18, a freshman, from Montgomery, Ala., was diagnosed as meningitis.

MUCH IMPROVED

Godbey, now at Lackland Air Force Base Hospital in San Antonio, is much improved and is expected to make a full recovery, Lyons said.

Five cases of meningitis have been reported in a 100-mile radius of Houston in the past week, including Godbey's.

Rebecca Thompson, 18, of Houston, a student at Sam Houston State Teachers College, died of the disease. Mrs. Alex Randermark of Brenham, another woman and a young girl have been hospitalized in Houston. The hospital did not identify the Houston woman and girl.

BOTH ATTENDED

Dr. Lyons said there was a possibility Miss Thompson and Godbey met Nov. 24. He said Godbey went to SHSTC that day, and the youth and Miss Thompson both attended a pre-football game bonfire at A&M that night.

Mrs. James L. Thompson, mother of the dead girl, said her daughter went to the bonfire at College Station but she did not believe Godbey was in the same group with her daughter.

Miss Thompson became ill last Friday, three days after the bonfire, and died Sunday. Godbey entered the campus hospital Tuesday.

To Renovate Building

R. H. Weaver, Big Spring attorney, who recently bought the building at 105 West Fourth Street, said that he plans to start remodeling the structure in about two weeks.

Weaver will remake the 22½ by 90 foot building into three offices. One of these will be used by him in the practice of law. He said he would reface the building and completely renovate the interior.

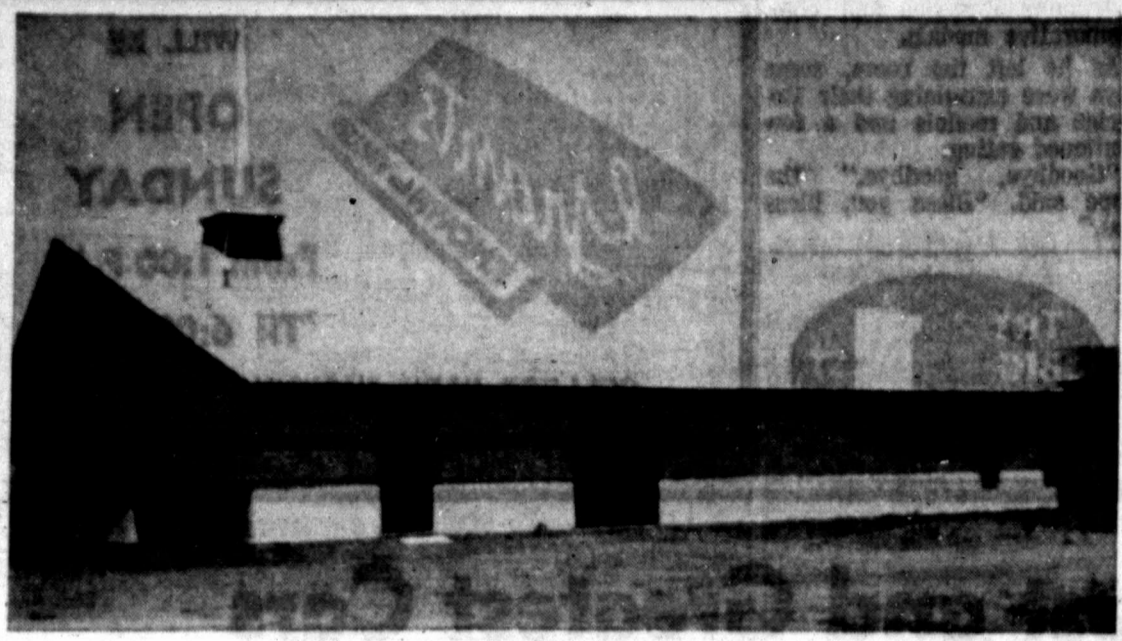

The building has been occupied by the Fashion Cleaners. The plant has moved to a new address at 511 West Fourth.

Weaver hopes to have his remodeling work done by the middle of January.

Weaver bought the building from Fred Pollack. Pollack had owned it for about 25 years.

Vincent Baptist Sanctuary To Be Dedicated Sunday

Vincent Baptist Church is dedicating its new auditorium in special services Sunday.

Former members and former pastors are being invited to join in the occasion. Sunday school will be held at 10 a.m. and worship at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Woodrow McHugh, pastor, bringing the message.

Lunch will be served at the church at 12 noon, and the dedications services are set for 2 p.m. with former pastors due to participate with the Rev. McHugh. Among those expected are the Rev. Virgil Drury and the Rev. Victor Ortiz, former mission pastor. Assisting in the service will be the Rev. Vincent Diaz, mission pastor, and J. V. Bristow, who will conduct the music.

The new sanctuary was completed in August and accommodates upwards of 300 in the 40x60 tile structure. Furnishings, including pews, are all new. The building is air conditioned and has central heating, a new baptistry, choir loft, restrooms and offices.

Vincent Baptist was originally the Shiloh Baptist Church and is one of the oldest in Howard County. Rev. McHugh has been pastor for the past six years. Prior to that he pastored the Central Avenue Baptist Church in Hamlin and the First Baptist in Wingate.

BEXLEY, Ohio (AP)—At 62, Philip H. Gellman still is taking singing lessons twice a week.

For 29 years, the Russian-born Gellman has been the cantor who sings the prayers at Agudas Achim Synagogue in this Columbus suburb. He also is a shofet, performing ritualistic slaughter of animals and poultry to qualify it as kosher food, and a mohel, wielding the knife in the circumcision rite.

RIGHTEOUS BEHAVIOR IS RECOMMENDED BY PAUL

"Righteous Living," which deals with personal conduct, is the subject of the December 6 International Sunday School Lesson. The text is taken from Paul's letter to Titus: 1:15-16-2:1-10.

Titus was a young man, but a trusted companion to Paul. He listened to Paul's belief that it was not necessary to accept Judaism and all its rites to become a true Christian. The council, composed of Christian Jews, upheld Paul in Titus' case.

"Righteousness is a matter of the inner heart," Paul said. Good acts have no moral significance unless they originate from the heart and are done for righteous purposes.

Paul emphasized that the behavior of mature persons, especially mothers who exercise influence on children and young mothers, have a large bearing on standards of personal behavior. The standards are mostly established by women and determine whether moral judgment, devotion to right living, or surrender to loose moral practices, are followed. The mature can give wise counsel.

Paul also stressed the wife's obedience to the husband, which is not popular today, but someone must be the head of the household, which plainly is the duty of the husband. He also counsels both husband and wife to conduct the household so that "the word of God be not blasphemed."

Christmas Albums Range From Huge Organ To Choir

By MARY CAMPBELL
Associated Press Feature Writer

The organ for the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City was built in 1867, has been enlarged three times and was rebuilt in 1948. It now has 10,746 individual pipes.

Alexander Schreiner has been organist since 1924 and has played for the weekly radio broadcasts with the Mormon Tabernacle Choir since 1929.

This year, Columbia has made a beautiful recording of Christmas carols, as performed by Schreiner, "Christmas with the Mormon Tabernacle Organ and Chimes."

This is an album of 20 favorite religious carols, featuring the superlative tones of the organ, without vocals. Sound reproduces magnificently; this is Christmas music of which you won't tire, no matter how many times you hear it.

First Methodist To Have Tree Program

The First Methodist Church will observe its traditional program of having the children decorate the Christmas tree at evening worship rites at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

This will take place in the Fellowship Hall, and four choir groups will present special Christmas season music under direction of Ted James.

After children from the various Sunday School classes place on the tree the decorations they have made, the choirs will perform. Among them will be the Cherub and Angelus, the Beth-lehem and the Altar choirs. Then the Wesley Choir, composed of young people, will sing "Night Before Christmas" with Pat Hamilton, tenor, and Danny Johnson, baritone, as soloists.

At Berea Baptist Church, a series of services will begin with the Rev. Bill Anderson, McGregor, as the evangelist. The Rev. Darrell Robinson, pastor, will be in the pulpit for the morning service.

Ron Hansen: "Our High Calling"

Thoughts for THINKERS

Will nuclear warfare destroy part or all of this world? Is this the magnificent conclusion to which this ball of earth rolls? Or will unity of the churches be achieved and subsequently wield an influence great enough to save the situation? And having saved man's existence, will that existence be worth living in a world of unthinking religious conformity?

Will the "bloodless" war of Communism eventually accomplish its purpose and unfold all nations? Or will the rapidly spreading Islam religion overflow even the bounds of atheism and become the one great competitor of Christianity?

Partial destruction of the world by nuclear warfare is possible! In speaking of the last days of earth Christ said, "Except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved." (Matthew 24:21, 22)

The shortening is accomplished by Christ's second coming, at which time He draws from the earth His "elect," those who have accepted of His salvation.

No unity of nations has been successful. Disharmony exists right up to the final hour. No major power has enveloped the peoples of the earth in its singular government. No religious unity has solved the dilemma of struggling humanity. Only Christ's coming ends it.

THE TOWN CRIER

He used to be the bearer of news—both good and bad. And he announced the merchandise available in the various places of business. Newspapers have long since replaced him.

He would cry the hour night and day for he was timekeeper to the town. Clocks and wrist-watches crowded him out of our life.

But when he announced the hour he liked to reassure his neighbors: "Tis three o'clock—and all's well!" Why has no one taken up this function in our modern world?

Probably because no one is certain that all is well. And because merely saying that all is well doesn't calm our fears or lighten our concern.

More and more we are coming to realize that our crucial need is spiritual. Men are seeking truth and power in the faith and worship of our churches. With each passing hour it becomes more evident that all will be well only when ALL discover God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jayhawks Seek Third Win Here At 8 p.m.

Howard County Junior College seeks to level its season's record at 3-3 in an 8 o'clock basketball game with HSU's Buttons here tonight.

The youthful Hawks have averaged 76.6 points a game, compared to 64.0 for the opposition. The Hawks' two victories came against nationally rated quintets but neither before the home folks — they have yet to win here.

Sylvester Neal, a 6-6 boy from Sonheimer, La., leads the Buttons here.

Other players on the HSU roster include Jim Hodgins, 6-0, Abilene High; Clifford Jones, 6-1, Roscoe; Mike Stedham, 6-1, Fort Worth; Lyndon Watson, 6-3, Crosbyton; Mac Wilburn, 5-10, Abilene; Lonnie Willis, 6-3, Abilene; and Ronnie Wynn, 6-0, Abernathy.

Joe Lopez is coach of the HSU unit. Lopez is a graduate student from Southern Illinois. He is a 1959 graduate of Las Cruces, N. M.

Hodgin, Wilburn and Willis were all stars in Abilene high schools last year. Neal is the gunner the Hawks will have to watch, however.

Coach Buddy Travis will probably start a unit composed of Eddy Nelson, Thomas Carter, Charles Vass, Kurt Papp and Keith McKeever or Keith Bond.

The Hawks have lost to Dodge City, Kansas, 81-68; Ranger Junior College, 78-72; and Texas Western's freshmen, 80-71; and won over Eastern Arizona, 91-60; and Centralia, Ill., 81-71.

After tonight, the Hawks won't play here again until Jan. 5.

Browns Get Nod In Game With Cards

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Browns should wrap up the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League Sunday by beating the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis. If the Browns win or tie, they go into the championship game with the Baltimore Colts, Dec. 27 at Cleveland.

Meet Slated For Sunday For Sunday

Entries are now being accepted for the Partnership Handicap Golf tournament, scheduled to be held at the Big Spring Country Club all day Sunday. Play will be over 18 holes.

Entry fee is $2.50 per person. Those with handicaps of ten, or less can team up with those owning handicaps of 11 strokes or more.

Merchandise prizes will go to members of winning teams. Country Club officials expect a large turnout, if the weather is favorable.

Golfers from Webb AFB and the Mundy have a special invitation to take part.

NFL Green Bay 24, Chicago 14 — (Saturday afternoon) — Another chapter of the old bitter rivalry. Packers won 23-12 in season opener when Paul Hornung kicked three field goals. Green Bay, forced to settle for a shot at second, has won four of five but revived Bears have swept last three. Bart Starr should have a big day.

Cleveland 31, St. Louis 30 — Browns by a whisker in a shoot-the-works game for the Cardinals, who must gamble with everything. Ryan will find weak link in Cardinals defense but Browns' weak pass rush will give Charley Johnson plenty of time. Jim Bakken tied first game 33-33 with field goal in last five seconds.

Philadelphia 21, Dallas 17 — Both clubs on down grade. Cowboys still hurting in backfield, have lost three straight.

Baltimore 31, Detroit 17 — Colts on 11-game win streak with Don Shula shooting for fourth in a row over his old mates. Baltimore won in a breeze 34-0, Oct. 25. Lenny Moore with 17 touchdowns needs only three more for the league record.

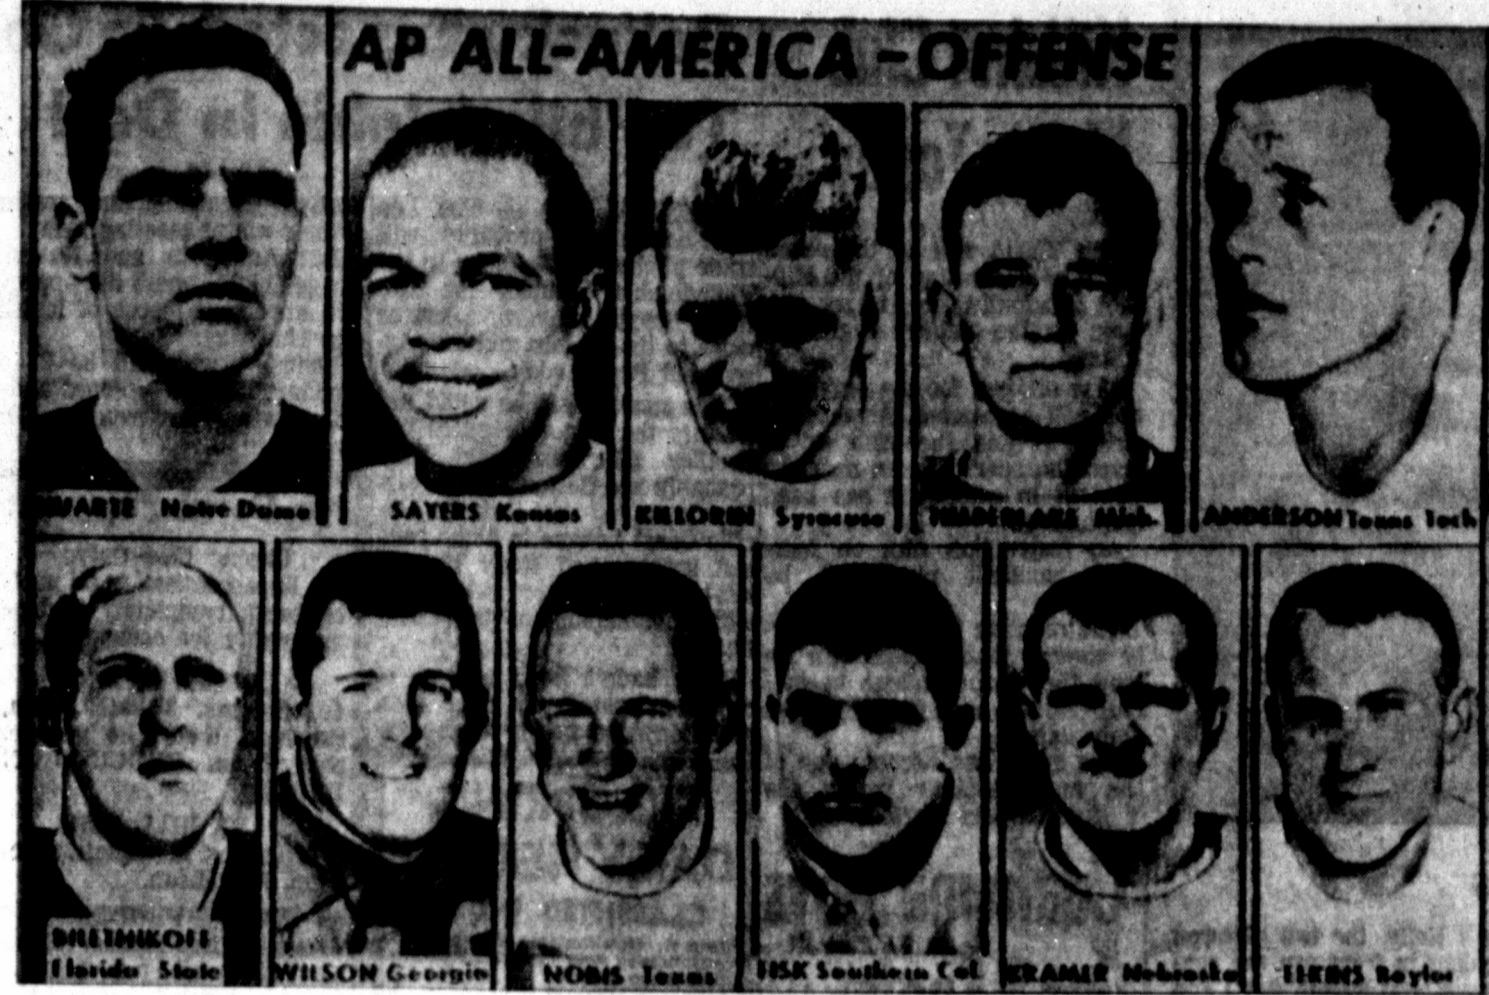

Los Angeles 24, San Francisco 21 — Roman Gabriel bombed the 49ers 42-14 in mid-October but rookie Bill Munson went the route last week in loss to Vikings. Rams have lost three in a row and 49ers seven of eight.

Minnesota 28, New York 21 — Vikings are driving for second money and anxious to impress on first New York appearance.

Washington 28, Pittsburgh 14 — Steelers tough to predict but Redskins have won five of six and Sonny Jurgensen is back in old form with 24 TD passes. Redskins should do the job but not by 30-0 this time.

Anderson, Nobis, Elkins Included In AP's Elite

NEW YORK (AP) — John Huarte, Bob Timberlake, Donny Anderson and Gale Sayers comprise the offensive backfield of the 1964 Associated Press All-America football team named today.

Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus, the lone holdover, heads a defense averaging 219 pounds per man on the squad which reflects the wholesale revival of a platoon game this season.

For the first time since 1952 separate units, a 22-man first team, has been selected on the recommendations of the sportswriters and broadcasters who made up the eight regional boards. All games through Nov. 28 were taken into account.

Huarte, Heisman Trophy winner as college player of the year, was the quarterback who changed Notre Dame from a 2-7 to a 9-1 performer and left a flock of school records in his wake. His most notable season marks are 2,069 yards in total offense and 114 pass completions for 2,062 yards and 16 touchdowns.

"We built our whole offense around Huarte," says Coach Ara Parseghian. "I've lived in constant dread of what we would do if something happened to him."

Timberlake quarterbacked Michigan to the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl berth but he's so good a runner he was elected at a halfback slot in his conference. The 6-foot-4 senior rushed for 574 yards, passed for 807 and scored 80 points.

By means of pass receptions and kick runbacks as well as sprints from scrimmage Donny Anderson from Texas Tech—a first round futures pick in both pro drafts—accounted for 1,710 yards. He also punts.

"Donny Anderson is the complete football player," says his coach, J.T. King. "I actually recruited him as a center-linebacker but he's too valuable on offense to play the defense."

Kansas' Sayers, the whirlwind of the plains, is one of the most exciting runners in Big Eight history and leaves a league career rushing record of 2,675 yards behind him.

The closest of some hectic position contests on offense was at end where Florida State's Fred Biletnikoff and Baylor's Lawrence Elkins got the nod over Jack Snow of Notre Dame and Karl Noonan of Iowa. Biletnikoff, who operated at flanker back and split end with equal ease besides being a sound blocker and kick runback specialist, caught 57 passes for 987 yards and 11 touchdowns this season.

Elkins, first man picked in the AFL draft, grabbed 50 aerials for 851 yards at Baylor, scored seven touchdowns, returned 13 punts 126 yards and went in on defense on goal line situations. Coach John Bridgers calls him the greatest college player in America.

Jim Wilson of Georgia and Nebraska's Larry Kramer, a combined 480 pounds of tackles who were futures drafts last year, are on the interior offensive line with guards Tommy Nobis of Texas and Bill Fisk of Southern California plus Syracuse's Pat Killorin.

Nobis, a noted linebacker, is also a great blocker on offense. "What makes Tommy so good is his burning desire," says Coach Darrell Royal. "There are a lot of guys faster than him but he wants to get there more."

Fisk finished a standout season by starring in the 20-17 upset over Notre Dame. Ace Trojan ball carrier Mike Garrett calls Fisk "one of the most underrated blocking linemen in the country."

Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder says Killorin has "the same sort of quickness which made Jim Ringo so good when he played for us," adding his pivot is a principal reason for Orange success in the running game.

The quickness with which the New York Giants drafted Auburn's Tucker Frederickson is testimony of the fullback-safety's prowess. Although he led Auburn in rushing, receiving, scoring and kickoff returns, Frederickson was rated even higher—stopping foes and permitted only one pass completion in the zone he covered all season. He personally killed four enemy drives with his tackling.

Clarence Williams of Washington State, Ohio State's Arnold Chonko and Cosmo Iacavazzi of Princeton are the other defensive backs.

Saturday's volleyball clinic scheduled at the local YMCA already has 165 persons enrolled from 19 high schools and colleges from around the state.

The clinic gets under way at 8:30 a.m. and continues until 6 p.m.

Miss Barbara Harwerth, 23, who has a college degree from Incarnate Word College in physical education, will be the principal instructor. Barbara has attended each of the national volleyball tournaments since 1960.

Others helping with the clinic will be Jim Gilbert, physical director at the Y; Dave Widner, general secretary of the Midland Y; and Mrs. Pat McChesney, coach of the Abilene YMCA women's team.

The girls return to play at 11 a.m. Saturday, meeting the survivor in the Slaton-Frenship contest.

In the boys' game, Diak Polson led Stanton with 24 points while Allen Springer tossed in ten. Lance Morris paced Crosbyton with 17.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Moe Iba, who brought the Texas Western College freshman basketball team here the other night to cross swords with HCJC, thinks many Texas colleges are overlooking a lot of Negro talent in this state.

He says the woods are full of prime basketball timber in Central and South Texas.

Moe himself signed one of the best in David Latin, the 6-7 giant who wrecked HCJC here the other night. Latin was a high school All-American in Houston and first signed with Tennessee A&I.

Latin found he didn't like it so far away from home and began to look around for a place to attend school in his native state. He's still a long way from home but, from all indications, he's happy with his lot and Texas Western couldn't be more pleased with him.

Buddy Travis, the HCJC mentor, insists that Latin is farther along at this stage of his career than was Jim (Bad News) Barnes, who went on to become an All-American at TWC and eventually an Olympic star.

HCJC played against Barnes when Bad News was an Oklahoma junior college player. Latin has a magnificent scoring touch. He's rough on defense and he's big enough to contend for the ball under the basket.

TWC's varsity troops lost only one player from last year's team — Barnes. Iba reasons the Miners will be tough again this season, although perhaps not as poisonous as last year — if and when Charlie Banks can shake off an injury and return to full duty. Banks is a 6-7 Negro who also hails from Houston.

Hank Iba, father of the TWC coaching aide and the Olympic basketball coach, stopped briefly in El Paso to visit his son's family on his way back from Tokyo to Stillwater, Okla.

Hank would shy at being quoted publicly but he told friends he didn't think this year's Olympic team was quite as strong as the one America fielded four years ago.

This year's team worked hard, however, and swept through to the Olympic championship without the loss of a game. Hank told his son he thought a rigorous two-weeks' training grid the Olympians spent in Hawaii immediately prior to the Tokyo games gave the Yanks the impetus they needed to win.

Two Texas college products played key roles in the sweep to the crown. One, of course, was Barnes. The other was Lucius Jackson, who Southwest Conference teams wouldn't sign originally because of the color of his skin.

Since there'll only be one banquet honoring the Big Spring High School football team this season, friends of the school should try to make it the best one ever staged here.

Members of the Quarterback Club have tickets (priced at $2.50 each) for the Dec. 19 party, which will be staged in the HCJC cafeteria.

Peppy Blount, the former Big Spring athlete who played with Bobby Layne at the University of Texas, is trying to help his alma mater recruit Norman Bulaich, the La Marque footballer. Blount may have the inside track on the undertaking, since he's an uncle to Norman.

Peppy, of course, is now the county judge at Longview. He still keeps his hand in football by officiating on the college level.

Killshot Club Meets Today

The YMCA will be the scene today of a meeting of the Killshot Handball Club. The session, open to the public, begins at 7 p.m.

New officers for the organization will be elected. Anyone desiring to join the club or to learn the sport has an open invitation to attend, it has been emphasized.

An instruction film on four-wall handball play will be screened.

The meeting is scheduled early enough that persons can attend the junior college basketball game, an official of the club stated.

The sport has become one of the most popular within the Y since it was started.

Mavericks Split Two Cage Games

Basketball teams representing Big Spring Goliad and Snyder Travis broke even in a doubleheader played at the local junior high school Thursday.

The Goliad ninth graders were very impressive in posting a 53-33 victory. The Goliad eighth graders lost, however, 41-29.

Norman Lundy tallied 16 points in leading Goliad to the ninth grade victory. In the eighth grade bout, Steve Russell scored 12 for the Mavericks.

SNYDER — Runnels Junior High of Big Spring lost two games to Snyder Lamar here Thursday.

Gun Club Slates Sunday Shoot

The Mesquite Gun Club will hold a turkey shoot at its gun range from 1 until 6 p.m. Sunday.

Belinsky Expected To Go To Philadelphia In Deal

HOUSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels probably will trade pitcher Bo Belinsky to the Philadelphia Phillies for two minor league players, a source close to the Angels told The Associated Press today.

This source said he could not identify the minor leaguers but another informant said they probably are Costen Shockley, a first baseman who led the Pacific Coast League in home runs last season, and Rudy May, a left-handed pitcher who was with Indianapolis of the Coast League.

There hadn't been a deal of any consequence in more than three days as major league executives began the final session of their winter meeting today.

But American and National League club owners did approve two important pieces of legislation Thursday.

Belinsky, who will be 28 on Monday, had a 9-8 record and a 2.87 earned-run average last season.

SPECIAL NOTICES

PERSONAL

I HATE to do it. For many years I have been extremely interested in Electric Trains. I have accumulated the greatest stock of Lionel, American Flyer, and Mark electric trains west of the Mississippi River. Now these trains must go.
After 45 years in the hardware business
I am closing up shop and must sacrifice this tremendous stock. I am offering all of this merchandise, every item produced by American Flyer, Marx, and Lionel at a tremendous loss. Discounts on every item from 15 to 50 off the original list price. If you need trains, locomotives, cars, trucks, switches, transformers, operating accessories, be sure to shop my store before the end of the year. Every item is brand-new, never been used, in its original factory package or carton.
Many of these pieces are collectors items,
you have not produced for many years, and will never be manufactured again
if you have a Lionel, Marx, or American Flyer train, please contact me. I am an authorized service and factory parts for this area. As an added incentive, I will give you one dollar worth of free train stuff for each five dollars worth that you buy if you will bring this ad with you. I hate to lose my trains, but they have to go. Write: W. W. Wil-

Demos Elect Negro New Ramrod Of Tammany Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — J. Raymond Jones, a Negro and a native of the Virgin Islands, now stands atop Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic party organization.

It was a long journey for Jones, the first Negro to head the 175-year-old organization, from the time he landed in New York's Harlem in 1917 after two years of work aboard a Danish freighter.

Jones, 65, a city councilman, was elected Thursday by the 66 district leaders with strong backing by Mayor Robert F. Wagner. He had been in Mayor's corner when the mayor was elected to a third term in 1961, despite opposition by organization Democrats during the primary.

VISITS CAPITAL
Jones' first order of business today was a visit to Washington to see Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., a political foe for the past three years. He said he would seek Powell's cooperation "in building the Democratic party in the county."

Oddly enough, it was Jones as a district leader who was credited years ago with being the force that carried Powell to leadership of Harlem's Negroes.

"It's possible that some of the ancient sachems of Tammany Hall might be turning over in their graves," Jones remarked minutes after his election.

He recalled his first entrance into a Democratic club in 1921.

Day Stormy Across Nation

Stormy weather, with snow, sleet, rain and strong winds, swept nearly all sections of the nation today, continuing the climatic pattern of the past several days.

The snow, sleet and gusty winds raked broad areas from New England northern New York State into Idaho.

Driving conditions in most of the states hit by snow and sleet were hazardous and warnings were issued by Weather Bureaus. The bureaus also posted heavy snow warnings in Midwest areas, already hit by falls up to a half foot or more this week.

The heaviest snow fell in the central part of the nation covering areas in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa, with warnings of heavy amounts in northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and the southern third of lower Michigan.

A wind-blown snowstorm whipped south central areas Thursday, dumping nearly a foot of snow in Englewood and Elkhart, Kan., and Guyton, Okla. Rain and sleet slickened streets and highways southeast of the snow zone.

More than five inches of rain drenched Tallahassee Fla., in a six-hour period. Fairly heavy rain doused wide areas in the Lower Mississippi and Lower Ohio Valleys.

Sub-zero temperatures again were reported in parts of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. In contrast, temperatures were far above normal in most of the Southeast and southern Texas.

Man Battling Bid To Cut Off His Water

COMSTOCK PARK, Mich. (AP) — The State of Michigan is trying to shut off Nick Fink's water. But he says he'd rather fight than switch.

Fink runs the Comstock Park Service Corp., a private water system. It had 66 customers until the state said it was detrimental to good health.

"Unsanitary, my eye," growls Fink. "I've been drinking that water for 56 years and a lot of others have been drinking it a lot longer. We're still alive."

FROM SPRINGS
The water comes from a series of springs beneath rolling hills of this Grand Rapids suburb. There are no meters, pumps or employees. Water simply flows from the springs into a wooden reservoir built in the 1880s. Gravity pulls it along a cast iron pipe to customers.

A business can get a year's worth for about $22. Homeowners at a flat $10.

Michigan Department of Health officials summoned Fink to Lansing last summer. Theodore Vanderveide, head of the water supply section, said an agreement was reached.

TWELVE HAVE
Under it, Vanderveide said, the system would cease operations when customers could tap into municipal lines. So far, 12 have.

"The ones that left tell me they haven't had a decent cup of coffee since," said Fink, who vows he will stay in operation no matter what. He promised to file suit, if necessary.

Fink said each customer owns at least one share of stock. Money from the sale of water is used to keep the spring clean and the pipes open.

Crude Output Climb Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of crude petroleum in the United States last year averaged 7,542,000 barrels a day, the Bureau of Mines reports. This is an increase of 210,000 barrels a day or 2.9 per cent over 1962.

Demand for crude oil last year was 8,712,000 barrels a day, an increase of 274,000 barrels a day. This included increases of 268,000 barrels a day for domestic crude and 6,000 barrels a day for foreign crude.

At the close of last year, the bureau said, crude stocks—domestic and foreign—totaled 237,361,000 barrels, a decline of 14,700,000 barrels from the Dec. 31, 1962, level.

Foreign Farm Labor Plan Seen In Offing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prediction in government and farm circles today say a new foreign farm labor program being developed by the Labor Department will boost farm wage rates generally.

The program would replace the Mexican labor program carried out under a law expiring Dec. 31.
