Hearing On Lake In Recess Today

By JOE PICKLE
AUSTIN — Bouyed by a first round victory over protesters, the Colorado River Municipal Water District returns Wednesday to its battle for a lake above Robert Lee in Coke County.

At the outset of the hearing Monday, the Texas Water Commission refused a motion to dismiss the CRMWD application. In successive surprise moves, the upper Colorado River Authority and the Runnels County Water District withdrew protests and endorsed the project.

DILUTE
In response to a question whether quality of water at the two sites would not be about the same, Spence said additional watershed below the Mitchell site furnish water to dilute the Robert Lee lake and make it more potable during periods of critical drought.

Herring wanted to know if CRMWD knew water going into the proposed lake was not polluted when it applied for the project.

"It's something we have to live with," said Spence.

Attending from Big Spring are H. W. Wright, John L. Taylor, Dr. Lee Rogers, all CRMWD members; Mayor George Zachariah, City Manager Larry Crow; Spence, and O. H. Ivie.

RECESSED
The TWC hearing on the amended application was recessed today due to funeral services for a relative of Sen. Charles Herring, attorney for the Lower Colorado River Authority and the City of Austin, which are among the protesters.

Andrews Mother Dies In Wreck

When the hearing is resumed — ironically in the LCRA auditorium — at 9 a.m. Wednesday, S. W. Freeze, Fort Worth, CRMWD consulting engineer, will take the stand. He will testify and be cross-examined on the general engineering and economic statistics of the proposed project, which is calculated to impound 488,000 acre feet of water and yield 50,000 acre feet per annum.

A young Andrews mother became Howard County's ninth traffic fatality of 1964 in a one-car accident at 3:05 p.m. Monday. She was Mrs. Geraldine Ray, 22, and she died when her car ran out of control and turned over 8.6 miles west of Big Spring on SH 176.

Services for Mrs. Ray are pending at the Morrison Funeral Home in Graham where she formerly lived. Her body was first removed by Big Spring Ambulance Service to Andrews and today was taken to Graham.

Other CRMWD witnesses will include Leary Eeds, design engineer, and Robert Gooch, yields engineer.

It may be Thursday before an anticipated flock of individual protesters from the Highland Lakes region above Austin descends on the hearing room. Through area newspapers, LCRA and other protesters have urged individuals to pack the hearing room because "they are going to dry up Lake Buchanan."

The Rays were en route to Andrews from a visit in Graham where they had lived until they moved to Andrews six months ago. Ray is an employee of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co.

White said he was informed that one of the children asked his mother for a cookie. Mrs. Ray turned to hand the cake to the child. Suddenly the car left the road, hit a soft shoulder and flipped over. Broken glass was responsible, White said, for the fatal injuries Mrs. Ray received.

SPENCE
Legal guns of the protesters were turned on E. V. Spence, CRMWD manager for five hours Monday. They sought to wring from him an admission that no water would ever be released from the proposed lake.

White said he was informed that one of the children asked his mother for a cookie. Mrs. Ray turned to hand the cake to the child. Suddenly the car left the road, hit a soft shoulder and flipped over. Broken glass was responsible, White said, for the fatal injuries Mrs. Ray received.

Spence said the normal flow into the lake would be released and that the district would comply with the law to satisfy rights in Coke and Runnels counties.

Exasperated when Spence would not be pinned down to specific answers on conjectural questions, Sen. Herring demanded:

Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, ruled death due to an accident. White said that the children had been taken on to Andrews when he reached the scene.

The 1958 sedan was demolished. Mrs. Ray was born in Olney

"Do you know anything about water?"

"I know it's scarce," replied Spence.

At another point Spence said he would not plan to release water to go downstream 100 miles or more, and that any release would be based on rights and need.

The measure goes to the Senate. If approved there, it will be proclaimed by Queen Elizabeth II as Canada's new national banner.

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's new maple leaf flag cleared its first major legislative hurdle early today, winning approval from the House of Commons 163-78.

Some farmers lighted smudge pots as a precaution. Carl Schuster, who farms about 1,600 acres, about half in vegetables, near San Juan, said, "I guess there probably will be a little damage because we got a pretty heavy frost, but it isn't extensive. Financial losses won't be too much because pepper prices have been depressed several weeks, and we don't have many tomatoes or eggplants or things like that."

Policemen, Mistaken For Raiders, Felled

Pair Shot In Answering Prowler Call

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Gunfire dropped two policemen answering a prowler call early today, and officers said a college student later told of firing in a mistaken belief the wounded men were raiding fraternity members.

A single bullet passed through the shoulder of patrolman Jim Tom Bush, 24, and struck patrolman Edard Reynolds, 27, in the stomach. Both underwent surgery. Doctors said they should recover.

State Hospital Inquiry Asked

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Hospital Board has asked state police to investigate one of its hospitals and announced plans aimed at slowing turnover among hospital superintendents.

At the same time the board accepted the resignation of a second hospital superintendent in two months. He is Dr. Sam Hoerster Jr., 46, at the 3,000-bed Austin hospital.

These developments occurred at a special board meeting Monday.

Disappearance Of Bandleader Still Mystery

LONDON (AP) — Twenty years ago today Glenn Miller took off in a single-engine plane for France — and vanished.

The disappearance of the gifted American bandleader and trombonist remains as deep a mystery now as it was on Dec. 15, 1944.

One of the last persons to see Miller was Jack Hylton, the British impresario and former bandleader.

GLENN MILLER

QUIET IN LONDON
"It was a quiet night for London," Hylton recalls. "Piccadilly was almost deserted. The Germans had oddly laid off for a while with their V-1s."

"I'd been having a little late party at my flat, and Glenn was one of the boys — mostly musicians — who'd dropped by."

Miller — then leading the concert orchestra of the supreme Allied forces and broadcasting from London to the troops — was the last man to leave the party.

"I walked outside the flat with him," said Hylton. "He looked up in the cold night sky, and said, 'Well, Jack, it'll soon be over now.' I'm sure he was referring to the war."

Pair Shot In Answering Prowler Call

The shooting took place shortly before 3:30 a. m. at an apartment house owned by C. H. Buchanan. About 13 men students of North Texas State University live there.

Police Chief Wayne Autrey said trouble started last Tuesday night when a carload of fraternity members drove past while several occupants of the Buchanan apartments were outside. Derisive shouts were exchanged and there was a brief scuffle.

ASKED PROBE

Hoerster said he left because he and the board differed on some policies, and not because State Rep. Paul Haring of Gold had asked a legislative investigation of the hospital system.

Board chairman Howard Telpep of Houston said the policy differences stemmed from Hoerster's "dismissal and reengagement of several employees below the rank of doctor."

Disappearance Of Bandleader Still Mystery

IMPARTIAL GROUP
"In order that action may be taken by an impartial group, I think the Department of Public Safety should be invited to investigate to see if there are any violations of the law."

"I add that we have no information which affects Dr. Hoerster concerning any illegal acts."

The board adopted Burke's suggestion.

Hoerster said his resignation was over differences with the board on policies which he said "are not to my knowledge linked to any investigation."

Haring had asked legislative leaders to investigate what he called Hoerster's "maladministration."

D. F. Bigony Rites Slated

Services for Dorsey Francis Bigony, 68, who died in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, are set for 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church. Dr. H. Pallbearers will be W. J. Rogers, H. M. Fitzgugh, Dr. W. A. Hunt, John L. Dibrell, Wayne A. Gound, and O. S. Womack. Honorary pallbearers will be the members of the official board and the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Bigony has been a resident of this area since 1927, and owned extensive farming interests in the Fairview Community. He was a veteran of World War I, and taught school for almost 10 years before moving his family to West Texas. He was born at Ben Hur, Texas, Sept. 13, 1896.

He was active in the First Methodist Church, and Masonic bodies, including chapter, council, commandery and Suez Temple, and was past master of Lodge No. 598.

Freeze Knives Across Valley

By The Associated Press
Temperatures plunged to the upper 20s and low 30s with some frost in the freeze-sensitive Lower Rio Grande Valley today but there appeared little if any damage to crops.

Farmers said there might be some damage to very tender vegetables but citrus apparently escaped.

Low temperatures ranged from an unofficial 28 degrees in Rio Grande City to 33.5 at Harlingen.

Some farmers lighted smudge pots as a precaution. Carl Schuster, who farms about 1,600 acres, about half in vegetables, near San Juan, said, "I guess there probably will be a little damage because we got a pretty heavy frost, but it isn't extensive. Financial losses won't be too much because pepper prices have been depressed several weeks, and we don't have many tomatoes or eggplants or things like that."

Mayor Race For Roosevelt

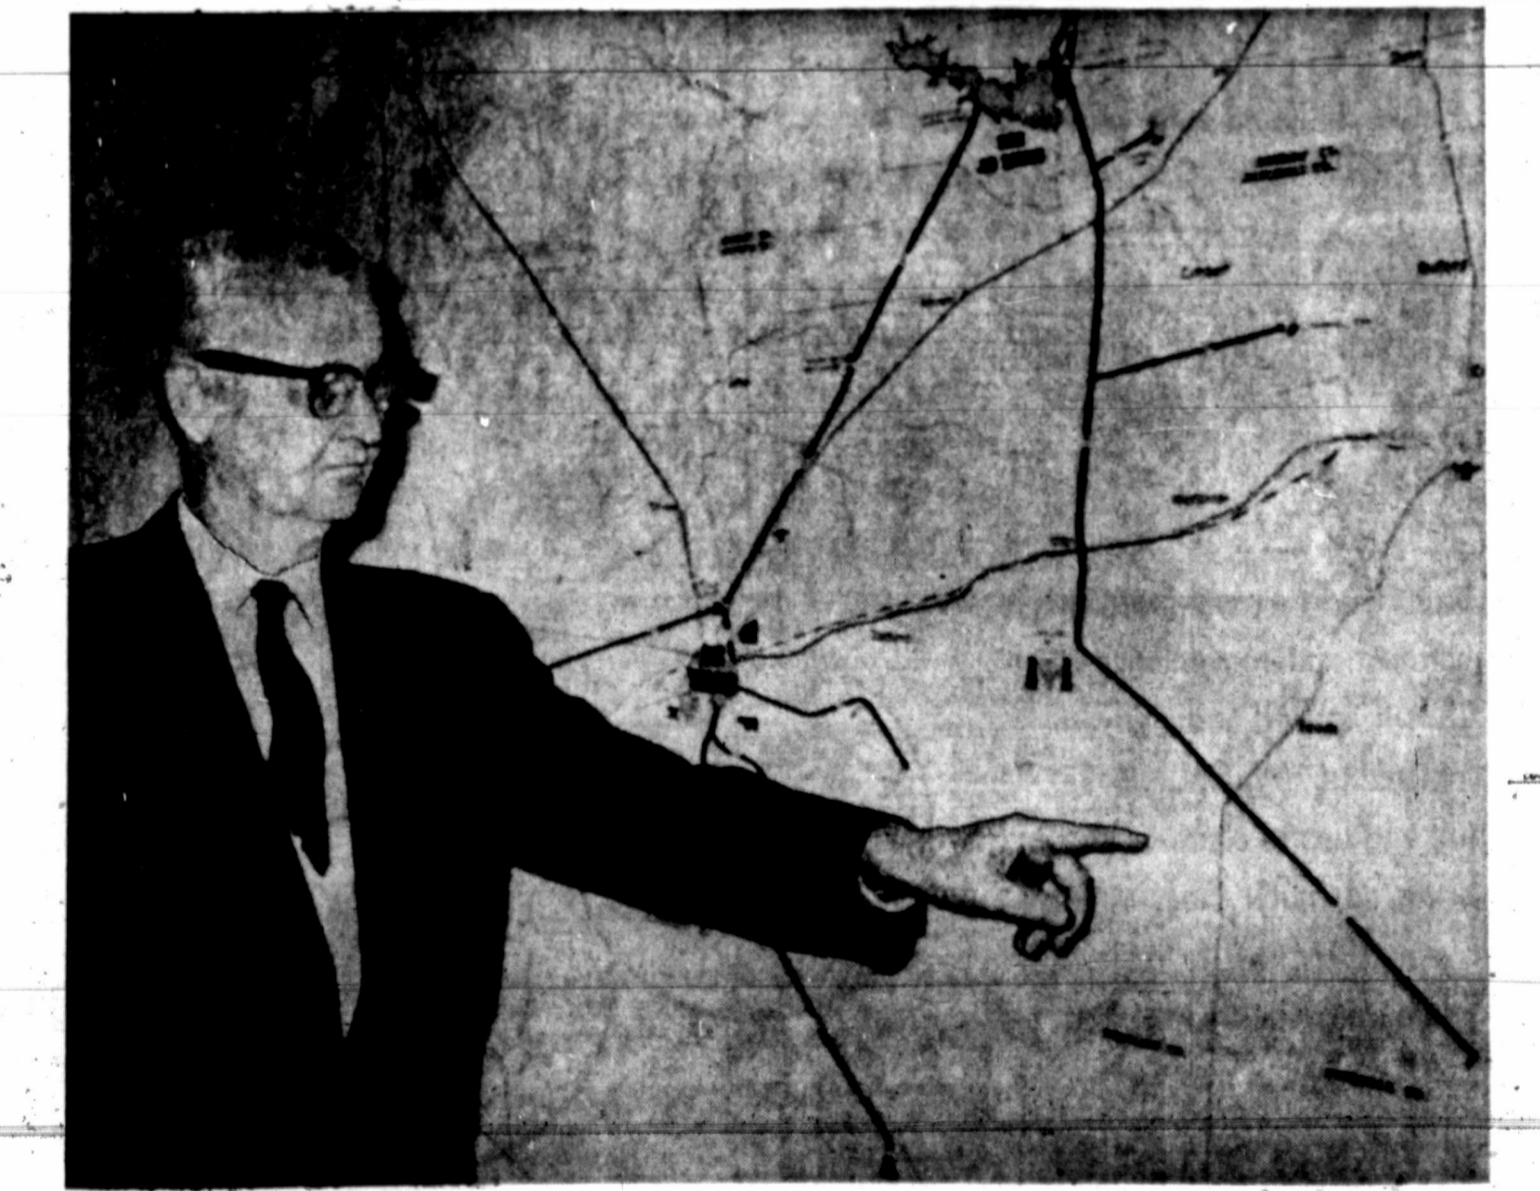

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., says he'll run for mayor of Los Angeles.

The 56-year-old eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt told a news conference Monday there has been enough Los Angeles City "government by tantrum."

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty's fight with the City Council majority has given the city a bad image, Roosevelt said, and consequently "the city has not made the progress it should have."

Yorty, also a Democrat, hasn't announced for re-election but is considered a certainty to do so. He fired back about Roosevelt:

"Now that he has solved all the problems in Washington, he's come charging down from Beverly Hills to solve all our problems in Los Angeles even before taking the oath of office for his new term in Congress."

Ax Falls On Weather Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau plans to eliminate 10 of its offices by consolidations in an economy move, a spokesman said today.

The functions of the offices will be shifted to other bureaus in nearby cities, and in other cases the consolidations will involve airport or similar installation and downtown offices.

Annual savings would be about $370,000, the Weather Bureau said.

Thirty-seven jobs will be eliminated.

One Texas office is involved. The spokesman said the station at the Air Force Base at Laredo will be consolidated with the downtown Laredo office.

YOUR HELP NEEDED NOW

Penny and Pam Gardin, five-year-old twin daughters of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Franklin D. Gardin, Webb AFB, have done their part to help less fortunate youngsters have a happy holiday.

After Sunday School Sunday, they told their parents they wanted to do something for other children. Mrs. Gardin read them the story about the CHEER FUND in The Herald. So, the young ladies made a big decision; they opened their piggy banks, and gave some of the pennies to the church missionary fund, and the rest to the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND.

The gift of these young ladies totaled $2.46 from their carefully built-up fund of pennies.

Others, today joined with the tots to swell the CHEER FUND to $669.96. But it's still a long way to go if less fortunate youngsters are to have medicines and food during Christmas.

Time is short. If you can help, please make your check to the CHEER FUND, and mail it to The Herald for acknowledgment.

Others helping today included William U. O'Neal, $10; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Miller, $5; Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Currie, $5; Maj. and Mrs. O. B. Howard, $25.

Nazi Surrender Ultimatum Still Makes General Mad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even after 20 years, the words on the yellowed sheet of paper made the old soldier mad.

"It was the last sentence, that lousy last sentence that did it," growled Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe today as he reread the German surrender ultimatum delivered to him in surrounded Bastogne.

The German commander gave McAuliffe two hours to surrender his 101st Airborne Division and the Belgian town it held. After that, the German warned, massed Nazi artillery would "annihilate the U.S.A. troops in and near Bastogne."

Then came the German wind-up sentence — the one that stung McAuliffe because he felt it held a sneer.

It said: "All the serious civilian losses caused by this artillery fire would not correspond with the well-known American humanity."

On impulse, the hard-jawed commander of the "Battered Bastards of Bastogne" replied with one defiant word — "Nuts."

That reply made McAuliffe a living legend of World War II. Now 66 and retired from the Army and a big chemical company, the veteran paratrooper general talked about the epic siege as he sat in his comfortable apartment, high above a busy Washington avenue.

Though his hair and bristling eyebrows are iron gray, he still wears a cheery air of command.

The Battle of the Bulge, of which the Bastogne siege was a pivotal episode, started at dawn 20 years ago Wednesday.

That was when the badly wounded German army, after retreating grudgingly since the Normandy invasion the previous June, launched its last-spasm offensive through the snow-

GEN. McAULIFFE

These were brought back to McAuliffe in his cellar command post back in the town.

He has those two sheets still, locked away in a strong box. He took them out and reread them as he reminisced.

One sheet held a neatly typed message in German. The other was a duplicate in English. They were addressed to the U.S. commander of the encircled town of Bastogne.

THE THREAT

They told McAuliffe he was surrounded — which he already knew all too well — and said surrender was the only possibility "to save the encircled U.S.A. troops from total annihilation."

Unless he surrendered in two hours, the message said, a German artillery corps and six heavy antiaircraft artillery battalions were ready to blow up the Americans.

It was signed "The German Commander."

McAuliffe said that although he was indignant, he decided to send the Germans a formal communication and that he had his one-word reply typed on a piece of paper.

Col. Joseph H. Harper, now a retired major general here, carried back the "nuts" message to the still blindfolded Germans.

Harper told the German leader what it said. The German said he knew the word, but didn't understand the context.

"It means the same as 'Go to hell'; do you understand what that means?" Harper told the German.

BATTLE RESUMED

The Nazi party was sent back into its own lines and the battle resumed.

The fog lifted enough to allow an airdrop that day, Dec. 24, McAuliffe said.

As he recalls it, the climactic assault came about 3 a.m. Christmas morning. A new panzer division attacked from west of the town.

The next night, Dec. 26, an American tank column broke through, and the siege was over.

McAuliffe said his losses had totaled 4,000 of his 14,000 men — dead, wounded, and badly frost-bitten from long exposure.

What is his lasting impression from those days?

"The courage and determination of the American soldier," the general said.

His summation: "We fought a good battle, and the Lord held me by the hand."

cloaked Ardennes Forest. On Hitler's orders, Nazi panzers and infantry drove at the American line in a bid to split the Allied front and reach Antwerp.

Before long McAuliffe found himself defending Bastogne, a small cobbled village, with 14,000 men — an assortment of paratroopers, tankers, artillery men.

ROAD NET HUB

"Bastogne was the hub of a very important road net," McAuliffe said. "If we denied that town to the Germans, it would pretty well destroy their offensive."

This he was determined to do. By Dec. 18, the German ring had closed around Bastogne.

The American riflemen, machine gunners and bazooka men dug in and stood off assault after assault.

A heavy fog kept the U.S. Air Force grounded. There was no air support — and transport planes couldn't get through to drop supplies.

On Dec. 22, three Germans — two officers and an enlisted man — approached the American lines under a flag of truce. They delivered an envelope containing two sheets of paper.

like at all. He has all the kindness and desire to help others that Riley is noted for. Sometimes, when I watch a Riley show, I say to myself, 'You'd think the writers lived with us.'

Like Riley, Bendix was a bit of a failure in the beginning.

NEW YORK NATIVE

Born in New York City Jan. 14, 1906, he flopped as a bat boy for the New York Giants — his mother wouldn't let him go out for spring training. He didn't do much better as a semi-pro baseball player, singing waiter and grocer.

His debut on the boards at 16, as a member of the Henry Street Settlement House players, wasn't notable.

Bendix knew his wandering nose and beer keg physique would never qualify him as a matinee idol.

"I'm about as handsome as a mud fence," he once remarked.

But the strength and sincerity underneath the craggy exterior transformed him from character actor to star.

Actor Bendix Dead At 58

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor William Bendix is dead. And so, in a way, is Chester A. Riley, the pug-faced, soft-hearted factory worker he made famous in television, radio and the movies.

Bendix succumbed Monday at Los Angeles Good Samaritan Hospital to lobar pneumonia, complicated by a stomach ailment. He was 58.

At his bedside were his wife of 37 years, Therese, 58; daughters Stephanie, 20, and Lorraine, 30, and Mrs. Alan Ladd, with whose late actor husband Bendix once starred.

VARIED ROLES

During his career, Bendix played characters ranging from brutal villains to everybody's pal.

To millions of fans of "The Life of Riley" television show, Bendix' death was a double loss. It removed Chester Riley, the harried father.

Bendix' wife once admitted to an interviewer: "Chester Riley and Bill Bendix are alike in a lot of ways.

"Bill's bluff manner doesn't let outsiders know what he is

Polar Air Grips Nation

By The Associated Press

A frigid mass of polar air dropped temperatures well below zero in the Plains and Great Lakes regions today, while more snow clogged the Northwest.

Moving slowly eastward across the Great Lakes, the icy front dumped several inches of snow on the western sections of Michigan and New York.

In the northwest, new snow made highways treacherous. Communities in Minnesota and North Dakota reported temperatures as low as -20, as another gigantic polar front over northwestern Canada moved slowly southward.

Benidji, Minn., reported a high of -1 Monday.

Sections of northern Wisconsin had lows of -5 to -15, and southern portions of the state ranged from -8 to 3 above.

Heavy snow falls in the Cleveland area added to last week's accumulation.

Negro Leaders Elated At Ruling

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Negro leaders, while jubilant over the Supreme Court's ruling upholding the controversial public-accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act, were taking a wait-and-see attitude today over whether full compliance with the ruling would follow.

President Johnson, noting there already has been "encouraging widespread compliance with the act in the five months it has been law," expressed hope the court rulings Monday would result in increased acceptance. Other leaders, Negro and white, called for compliance.

court's ruling on the Civil Rights Act and sit-in demonstrators as a landmark.

"The decision vindicated the thousands of demonstrators who made the civil rights bill not only possible but imperative," Lewis said. "It must be held as the landmark in the struggle for complete social, economic and political equality for all Americans."

There was a distinct possibility that further demonstrations would occur at a Birmingham, Ala., restaurant which was involved in the court rulings. The rulings involved the Heart of Atlanta Motel and Ollie's Barbecue in Birmingham.

OWN APPEAL

Segregationist restaurant owner Lester Maddox of Atlanta awaited a decision by the court on his own appeal to a lower court order that he admit Negroes. Maddox said he felt a similar ruling would not be made in his case because he does not engage in interstate commerce.

DEAR ABBY Time For The Truth

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and I am still confused about Santa Claus. Mom, Dad and my older sisters say there is a Santa Claus, and the kids at school say there isn't any. Mom said, "Call up Santa and talk to him." So I call him up at Sears' service number and all I get is some stupid recording which says, "This is Santa Claus up in the North Pole, ho ho ho!" He doesn't let me get a word in edgewise. How can a great big fat guy get his stomach through a chimney? And how can he sled to Florida when there's no snow there? In Omaha there's a Santa in every store. I just got through telling a short, fat Santa in Brandies what I wanted, and when I walked outside I saw a tall, thin Santa ringing a bell for the Salvation Army. How about this?

CONFUSED ABOUT SANTA
DEAR CONFUSED: Climb upon your father's knee, Sonny Boy, and ask him to level with you. You're old enough to know.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and have been married for 7 months. My husband and I get along very well and I like being married, but here is the problem:

I work for the telephone company and the pay is very good, but with my hours I hardly ever get to see my husband and I stay dissatisfied with myself all the time.

I can't get on a different shift because I don't have any seniority. My mother says that while I still have no children I should work and save all the money I can. I would rather stay home and be a housewife. Living on my husband's earnings would not be easy, but I would like to try. My husband says I can quit my job if I want to. What should I do? TORN

DEAR TORN: Quit your job and devote yourself to being a full time wife. A dissatisfied wife is a greater threat to a marriage than a tight budget.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, a college sophomore, was driving one night when he was side-swiped by a truck, and a horrible accident resulted. His date (a college freshman) was badly injured. They still don't know how much plastic surgery will be required to restore her face to a presentable appearance. Fortunately, our son escaped with lesser injuries from which he will recover in time, but they are both still hospitalized. Naturally, we are sick over this and are assuming all the bills. Her parents said to us, "Now that your son has disfigured our daughter for life, the least he can do is marry her!"

They had been dating, but not steady. And we know that our son had no thoughts of marrying this girl or anyone else. (He is only 19). We are afraid these parents will try to convince our son that he has a moral obligation to marry their daughter. He is a sensitive, emotional young man.

Campus Case Action Stalled

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Legal action against more than 700 demonstrators, arrested during a campus revolt at the University of California, was put off today until after the Board of Regents meets Friday for a decision on the protested rules.

Lawyers for the demonstrators waived arraignment and agreed with a municipal judge in a brief proceeding at a Berkeley Community Theater to enter pleas Jan. 5. The demonstrators are charged variously with trespassing, refusal to disperse and resisting arrest during a Dec. 3 sit-in at Sproul Hall, the university's administration building.

The regents meeting at Los Angeles will take up a faculty proposal: Lift all restrictions on campus advocacy of such matters as civil rights; switch disciplinary control from the administration to the faculty.

Buddhists Hit U.S. Viet Role

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A paper distributed by Buddhist leaders today charged that the United States has done more harm than good in fighting the Communist-Viet Cong and that Washington is planning to negotiate for neutralization of the country.

This marked the first open Vietnamese Buddhist criticism of the United States. The paper purportedly is published by central Vietnamese youth groups.

Rights Ruling Stems From Motel Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act today in a case involving the Heart of Atlanta Motel.

The tribunal ruled in the Atlanta action as the first case on that section of the new law. The court also upheld the public accommodations section applied to a Birmingham, Ala., restaurant.

Justice Tom C. Clark delivered the court's main opinion. Moreton Rolleston Jr., Atlanta attorney and an official of the motel corporation, filed suit in U.S. District Court in Atlanta to block enforcement of the law within two hours after it was signed by President Johnson on July 2.

APPEALED RULING
Three judges in the district court upheld the public accommodations section in a July 21 ruling and Rolleston appealed to the highest tribunal. The Supreme Court heard arguments on the appeal on the first day of its new term, Oct. 5. Usually no arguments are heard on opening day, but the issue was given a hurried hearing.

Rolleston argued his own appeal before the Supreme Court. "The fact that Negroes are involved in this issue is purely incidental," he told the justices. "The fundamental issue is whether Congress has the right to take away from a private business concern the owner's choice of running his firm as he wishes and choosing his customers."

Solicitor General Archibald Cox, arguing in opposition to Rolleston, said Congress properly outlawed racial discrimination under its power to regulate interstate commerce. Cox contended this power enabled Congress to regulate local activity too.

IS HOGWASH
Any argument that the new law was to relieve a burden on interstate commerce, said Rolleston, "is so much hogwash." He related that since an injunction against discrimination at the motel was issued in August there were only three requests by Negroes for lodging.

The public accommodations section says that "all persons shall be entitled to full and equal enjoyment of goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and accommodations of any place of public accommodation as defined in this section, without discrimination or segregation on the ground of race, color, religion or national origin."

The Heart of Atlanta Motel is located adjacent to an interstate highway. It was agreed in the case that 75 per cent of its guests are from states other than Georgia.

Youths Cause Reds Concern

MOSCOW (AP) — Youth still will be youth, even under communism. Communist leaders are showing concern.

"I love jazz. I am entranced by the twist. But for some reason they block it from spreading," a Russian girl complained in a letter to the Soviet youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda.

Another girl wrote she was looking for a husband with money and a car. Until she found him she would continue to ride in her father's car because she hates trolleys, she said.

The appearance of such comments in public print and replies to them suggest serious official concern about the mood of the Soviet Union's younger generation.

"I know that our uncles in military uniform now understand the word 'enemy' to mean 'GI,'" he said. "Well, let them — this is their work. But I don't want war. And I don't want to kill people who haven't done me any harm."

Writer Leonid Likhodyev replied that it was really American "uncles in military uniform" who are calling Soviet soldiers the enemy. But he assured the youth: "Don't be afraid, radical. Nothing will happen to you."

Film Actor Retiring At Age Of 9

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Morgan Mason, after four months of acting the role of Elizabeth Taylor's son, is prepared to announce his retirement. He is nine.

This is one of the tidbits related by Morgan's mother, Pamela Mason, just returned from the Paris filming of "Flight of the Sandpiper." She had been suffering from laryngitis, a dread disease for one of the town's most avid talkers. She had recovered enough to deliver a few tart comments on the film and its participants.

BACK IN SCHOOL
Of her son's career, she reported: "He's back in school here and I never thought it would happen, but he's glad of it. I think he's had his fill of acting."

It was a long, long picture: seven weeks in Monterey, two weeks here and nine weeks in Paris. I don't think he would have minded so much if he had been working all the time. But he would be called only two days a week.

There were countless delays. At first they were working six days a week in Paris, but Elizabeth put a stop to that. And all of her bathing suit scenes in Monterey were re-shot because she finally lost 15 pounds.

Mrs. Mason said she only visited the set twice during the entire filming. Her absences were purposeful. For one thing, she didn't want Morgan to feel any conflict of authority between the director and herself.

"ARE TERRIFIED"
"And also, people on the picture are terrified of me because I talk," she added.

She is just as happy that Morgan is now more interested in an aviation career, rather than acting. His father, James Mason, also hopes the boy doesn't grow up to be an actor.

Said Mrs. Mason: "Acting is not a satisfactory line of work for a son. Most males like to be men of action. But an actor's most significant action is the result of control by other men — writers, directors and producers. So they can't really have much satisfaction in their profession."

Eclipse Of Moon Near

NEW YORK (AP)—An hour-long total eclipse of the moon will occur Friday night and, weather permitting in individual localities, will be visible throughout North and South America.

The moon will be almost halfway up in the sky when it starts to enter the earth's dark inner shadow, called the umbra, at 6:59 p.m. Big Spring time.

The shadow will completely cover the lunar disk from 8:07 to 9:07 p.m. and the eclipse will finally end at 10:15 p.m.

The previous total eclipse visible in this country was last June 24.

Evening Show List Rebuilt By Network

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It's tough to be in first place, it has often been said, because there's no place to go but down.

The CBS television network, former leader in audience popularity, has started a drastic cure for its drooping ratings. Network programming executives spent the past week tearing up and rebuilding their evening schedule. It is the most extensive mid-season rearrangement of programs ever made by a network and affects more than a dozen shows.

In an effort to aid "Beverly Hillsbillies," which plummeted from last year's No. 1 show to 18th position in the most recent Nielsen ratings, "CBS Reports" was yanked out of its old lead-off spot on Wednesday nights and replaced by two comedy series.

The public-affairs program, in spite of its usual excellence, never attracted big — in television terms — audiences. Henceforth it will be the windup program on Monday nights — the 10-11 spot where "Slattery's People," a fairly good dramatic series has been languishing. The change starts tonight with "Cassals at 88." CBS obviously hopes that "Slattery's People" will have an easier time on Friday nights, along with the very disappointing NBC's Jack Paar, whose show has not had impressive Nielsen ratings this season, and network competition from ABC for only the first half hour. "The Reporter," a dreary dramatic series about unlikely characters, dies a sudden death, pointing "Mr. Broadway." CBS will bring back a summer replacement variety show, "On Broadway Tonight," for Thursdays and will shift a flagging variety show, "The Entertainers," to Saturday night.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Seven of ♠
East's opening no trump conforms to textbook standards, and West's response of two spades was based on the conviction that a suit contract would be safer. Partner, of course, is expected to retire from the contest.

North's take-out double is a calculated risk, but then partner can hardly be expected to complete on his own initiative. South's jump to four hearts may appear to be based on faith; however, he reasoned that, inasmuch as North was forcing him to respond at the three level, his actual holding possessed considerable merit.

West opened the seven of spades. East put up the king, cashed the ace and then switched to the queen of clubs. South was in with the king.

A quick survey of the combined holdings revealed that the fate of the contract apparently hinged on finding one of the missing heart honors in West's hand. South took a rather dim view of this prospect, since East obviously needed both the king and queen of hearts to bring his point count up to the requirements for an opening no trump bid.

Declarer toyed briefly with the idea of trying for a two-trump break, however, he rejected this in favor of projecting an end play against East. For this plan to succeed, it would be necessary to reduce his own trump holding to the same length as his opponent's.

South first cashed three rounds of diamonds. With this hurdle surmounted, declarer played the ace of clubs and trumped a club in his hand. A spade was ruffed in dummy and the last club was led. Fortunately for South, East followed to the fourth round and declarer's eight of hearts held the trick.

All hands were now down to three cards. South led the jack of hearts and passed the trick to East. The latter was in with the queen; however, he was forced to lead away from his king and declarer took the last two tricks.

Had West somehow guessed to open a trump on the hand, declarer would have been unable to effect the end play against East. Similarly if East returns the jack of spades at trick two and West overtakes with the queen in order to make the heart switch, South's plans can still be frustrated.

We would hardly presume to charge the defensive ledger with an error, however.

Small Grain Prospects Gain In Rain

AUSTIN (AP) — Rain slowed cotton, peanut and vegetable harvests in Texas last week but boosted grazing prospects for small grains, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday.

At the end of the week 77 per cent of the state's cotton crop was harvested, compared with 80 per cent last year at this time. The peanut harvest was 87 per cent complete, 8 per cent behind last year's pace.

Showers bolstered wheat, oat and flax prospects but interrupted soybean harvest on the High Plains.

There was little vegetable activity. Cold cloudy and damp weather limited field work in South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley.

Order Sets Oyster Bed Buffer Zones

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Parks and Wildlife Commission has designated all Texas bays possible commercial shell sources in an order setting up 300-foot buffer zones around live oyster beds.

This step, taken Friday and announced late Monday, calls for "controlled dredging," a procedure allowing the department's director to move dredges to prevent damage to wildlife.

The three-man board said it found that shell dredging outside the 300-foot limits would not harm any oysters or fish in the bays and that the deposits are necessary for many coastal area industries.

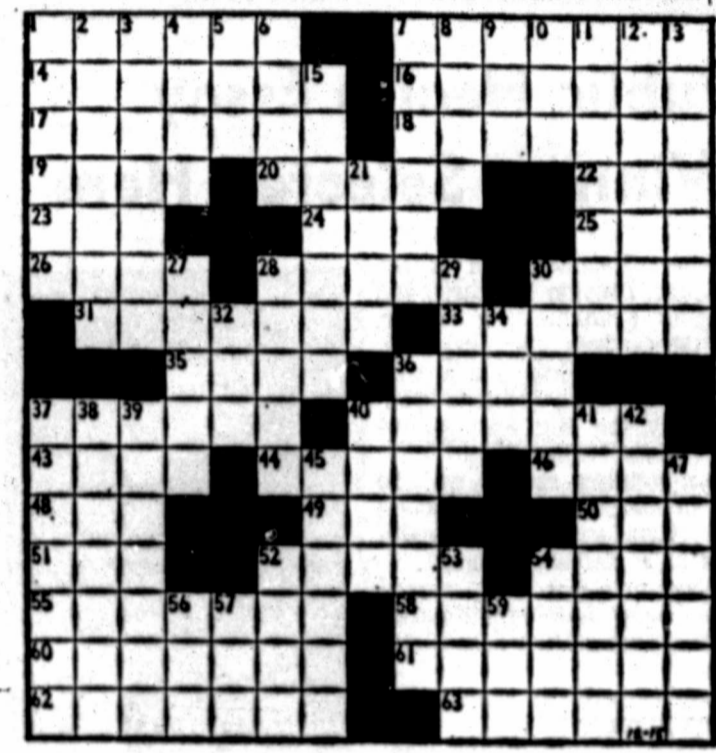

Its order was adopted in granting a Corpus Christi road builder, Heidenfels Brothers, a permit for taking 100,000 cubic yards of submerged shell from an area of Copano Bay near Bay Side.

Heidenfels' application was heard Nov. 16-17. Opponents said Copano Bay dredging would harm a booming sports fishing business in the area and ruin fishing areas.

The order applies to all bays except Trinity and Galveston, the site of almost all Texas commercial oyster production.

Docker Talks Continue As Strike Date Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — Spokesmen for shippers and longshoremen continue talks today in an effort to avert a Maine-to-Texas dock strike next week.

Despite optimistic comments from some of those involved, about 6,000 longshoremen in Houston walked off their jobs Monday to start taking a strike vote.

An 80-day cooling off period, obtained after presidential intervention Oct. 1, ends Sunday.

"We're going to find a solution to this whole problem," International Longshoremen's Association president Thomas Gleson said Monday, "but we cannot be specific as to the terms at this time."

ELECTORS MEET

Election Reports Made Official

AUSTIN (AP) — In a semi-social gathering Monday, Texas' 25 electors made official the unofficial reports that Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey carried the state Nov. 3.

The electors, one for each U. S. Senator and congressman from Texas, signed their names 150 times on three documents after unanimously balloting for the Democratic nominees for president and vice president.

Now the results go to Washington. A joint session of Congress will canvass the electoral count from all states on Jan. 6.

The canvass of the popular vote in Texas earlier showed Johnson and Humphrey polled 1,663,185 votes compared to 958,566 for the Republican ticket.

C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls lawyer, was named temporary chairman and Dee Kelly of Fort Worth temporary secretary-treasurer.

Howard Mahon, Abilene newspaper executive, was made permanent chairman and Tom Miller Jr. of Austin permanent secretary-treasurer.

Other electors included: Richard Moore, Cisco; Vann Kennedy, Corpus Christi; Cameron McElroy, Marshall; E. R. McAdams, Groves; Joe Winkle, Pittsburg; M. W. Rodes.

Texas Soldier Fire Victim

BAMBERG, Germany (AP) — Two U.S. soldiers burned to death Monday when their car caught fire following an accident.

The Army said the victims were Spec. 4 Dennis E. Northern, 20, of Bethel, Kan., and Pfc. Jerry L. Kammerdiener, 19, of 1903 N. Alexander St., Sherman, Tex. Their car missed a curve near Bamberg, ran off the road and crashed into a concrete culvert.

Two others in the car were badly burned. They were sent to the Army hospital in Nuernberg.

FAA Seeks Recovery In Texas Flying Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Krafska Jr. of Harlingen, Tex., had flown by his own estimate 4,600 hours without difficulty. Then he was involved in an accident last June 24, and the Federal Aviation Agency discovered he never had been issued a certificate to fly.

Krafska's accident, with a Piper J3 light plane owned by C. E. Ingle of San Benito, Tex., prompted the FAA to request the U.S. attorney at Houston to bring suit against Krafska.

The agency said Krafska refused a settlement of a $500 fine. It is asking recovery of $2,000 in civil penalties—$1,000 for flying with an airman certificate and $1,000 on a contention the airplane had not been inspected within the last year as required.

The FAA said the plane's engine failed shortly after takeoff from Krafska's private air strip on a crop spraying mission.

City Named In Lawsuit

The City of Big Spring has been named defendant in a $12,150 damage suit growing out of the drowning of a young boy in one of the municipal swimming pools.

The plaintiff in the case is Louise Green, the mother of Eddie Green, who drowned in the Northside swimming pool on the night of July 27. She asks for $6,000 punitive damages, $6,000 damages for the loss of her child's services and $150 to compensate her for burial expenses.

The petition alleges that the city is responsible for her son's death because it permitted a hole to exist in the fence which surrounds the pool, and that it failed to properly inspect the property to insure that it was kept safe.

The boy's body was found in the pool by a relative after he had failed to report at a reasonable hour. It was believed he had made his way into the pool area, which was locked up and not operating, through a hole vandals had cut in the high fence surrounding the property.

WAY BACK THERE

Harry, Bess 'Good Pupils'

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Harry Truman and Bess Wallace were good students — but ah, that Charlie Ross! Charlie, says Mrs. W.L.C. Palmer, was brilliant — the best student she ever had in her Latin and mathematics classes at Independence High School. He became a famous newspaperman and press secretary to President and Mrs. Truman.

Mrs. Palmer, a petite and sprightly great-grandmother who looks like everybody's favorite teacher, is 89 — just 9 years older than the former President and Mrs. Truman.

Truman introduced her from the platform Sunday when he participated in the dedication of the Truman High School in Independence. Monday, sitting in the living room of her Victorian-style home, she talked of those days when Harry and Bess — and Charlie Ross — were in her classes.

"Bess was a popular girl. She always had lots of beaux, but she knew who to choose."

"Harry says they were sweethearts from the time he met her at the Presbyterian church and that they were sweethearts in high school. But I didn't know it then. I guess he never kept company with any other girl."

"Harry was always reading and always was trying to keep up with Charlie — and he did a good job of it. Bess was an excellent student."

Mrs. Palmer taught at Independence High for four years, then had to retire because she married Palmer, the superintendent of schools. He died in 1937.

New Weighted Voting Is Void

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The New Jersey Supreme Court today struck down the State Senate's controversial new weighted voting system.

In a 7-0 decision the court ruled that the Senate's procedure in adopting weighted voting Nov. 16 was invalid.

The Senate adopted weighted voting simply by changing its own rules. The court said it was satisfied such a sweeping step could not be accomplished legally by one house merely changing its rules.

Under the Senate's weighted voting plan, each senator would have from 1 to 19 votes, depending on the population of the county he represents. This allowed each county to continue to have one senator, the system which prevailed in New Jersey since 1776. At the same time, each county would have a voting power based on its population — an attempt to conform with the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" decisions.

Work Shifts On Trunk Line

Work on the Beals Branch trunk sewer line has been temporarily moved from the main line to Rosemont and Settles Streets this week, where an eight-inch line will be installed.

The line will extend from one-half block south of Bluebonnet Avenue to Ridgeway Drive. The installation is to relieve overcrowded lines on sewage flow in the area and is part of the Beals Branch construction project.

Crews began Monday on the line installation for the two streets. Work on the main Beals Branch line is now at Tulane Avenue, with some 3,800 feet of pipeline now installed.

The temporary shift to Rosemont and Settles Streets was made while the contractor awaits delivery of reinforced concrete cylinders which will be used in placing the main line under FM 700, connecting it to the city sewage treatment plant.

A work order has also been issued by the consulting engineer, Forrest and Cotton, of Dallas, for the two lift stations to be included for the line. The work order is for Jones Construction Co. of Big Spring, low bidder, and calls for 240 consecutive calendar days, from Dec. 21st to Aug. 17th, 1965.

House Heavily Damaged By Fire

A fire about 10:25 a.m. today left heavy damage to the interior of a five-room frame home at 1504 Main Street.

The blaze started in the living room of the home and spread through the house, leaving the living room furniture and kitchen contents a total loss, Fire Capt. John Waddell reported.

The fire was out shortly after firemen arrived.

Origin of the fire had not been determined this morning.

The blaze burned the walls throughout the five rooms, but did not break through the floor or roof areas, firemen reported.

No one was in the home when the fire started, and the owner, Mrs. M. K. House, had left the house earlier in the morning, firemen said.

Carter Returns Home, Recovering

J. D. Carter, 1602 Avion, who received a badly mangled arm in an automobile accident in a shop in Odessa Dec. 3, was returned to his home here Sunday. He was in Medical Center Hospital following the accident, and underwent major surgery Dec. 7. Carter said his arm was caught between a rolling pickup truck and the wall of the shop at the Volkswagen center where he was employed.

Surgery, requiring three hours, was done Dec. 7 to set a fractured left elbow and wrist, and to set two broken bones between the elbow and wrist, with the use of pins.

Carter is able to be up and around the house, but will be unable to be out for some time, although his condition is improving steadily. His arm will remain in a cast for several months.

Oilmen Fight Subzone Plan

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—With an array of oil firms joined in opposition, cross examination starts today at a Commerce Department hearing on a proposed free trade subzone.

The subzone would be at Taft, La., 20 miles up the Mississippi River from here, where Union Carbide Corp. plans to build a $90 million petrochemical complex.

Statements for and against the subzone were entered in the record yesterday.

The subzone would enable Union Carbide to import chemicals for its plants without paying duty unless these move into U.S. trade channels.

The company could import chemicals, such as naphtha, for use in manufacturing plastics and other items and export the product into world trade without paying U.S. duties or worrying about quotas.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America, representing 6,000 oil and gas producers, said the proposed subzone would contradict U.S. oil policy.

Ski Club To Elect Officers

The Big Spring Ski Club will elect new officers for the coming year in an organizational meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the directors room of the First National Bank.

Heart Fund Sweetheart Dies Sunday

Five-year-old Theresa Renee Hale, the 1964 Heart Fund Sweetheart for Howard County, died in a local hospital at 1:30 a.m. Sunday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hale, Lamesa, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe English, Big Spring. Services were held in Lamesa at 3 p.m. Monday.

Theresa was born with a congenital heart defect and, through efforts of the Lamesa and Big Spring Heart Associations, underwent surgery which apparently corrected the defect. She observed her fifth birthday Feb. 1, 1964, the opening date of the Heart Fund Drive in Big Spring. She helped get the drive off to a good start here, after her appearance on posters and in news media, and helping to get the canisters placed in local business houses.

She entered the hospital in Big Spring Saturday and died early Sunday morning.

Survivors include the parents, Lamesa; a brother, Bruce Hale, 3; the maternal grandparents and the paternal grandparents.

Reserve Shift Is Project Of 16 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is aiming to complete the revolutionary reorganization of the Army's Reserve forces in about 16 months, it was learned today.

Key officers of the National Guard and the Army Reserve have been told in secret briefings that the objective date for final action is the end of March 1966.

It is expected that Guard and Reserve outfits will go to summer training next year in their present form, some of these officers told The Associated Press.

The Army staff, aided by Guard and Reserve officials, already has begun the difficult job of working up solutions for the problems involved in shifting 150,000 Army Reservists and their units to the National Guard.

"TROOP LIST"

One of the first jobs to be handled is the drafting of a "troop list." This involves surveying the 4,000 Reserve units to decide which 2,000 or so will fit into the expanded Guard organizations, and how they will be distributed among the states.

Such a troop list — which is really only a beginning point for the reorganization — is not expected to be ready before mid-February. At that time, the states will know what units they will lose and what units they will gain.

Plans are being made to brief state governors, who have a powerful say under the law as to the disposition of the National Guard within their states.

Questions poured in on the Pentagon from reservists unsure of where they stand. Many of these questions cannot be answered now, on the basis of the skeleton plan outlined by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara last Saturday. Many will have to wait months for clarification.

Cutting 40-Hour Week Slow But Labor Gaining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor, so far unsuccessful in persuading Congress to cut the 40-hour work week, is quietly winning the battle for shorter hours at the bargaining table.

Contracts covering eight million workers — 15 per cent of all wage and salary employees — provide for less than 40 hours, the AFL-CIO reports.

What's more, said an article in the labor organization's publication, the American Federationist, "with rare exceptions, the shorter work week was achieved without resort to strikes."

While not so dramatic as the proposed blanket cut by federal law, the contract-by-contract progress in reducing hours adds up to some surprising totals.

For instance, the article said, "among office employees, one-third are on schedules shorter than 40 hours." In the printing trades, 98 per cent of all workers are on standard work weeks under 40 hours. So are 97 per cent of the ladies' garment workers and 65 per cent of brewery workers.

"Unions are winning shorter work weeks in construction, manufacturing, retail and wholesale trade, finance, insurance and real estate, the service industries and in state and local governments," it said.

The report was based largely on Labor Department figures.

Some contracts go even lower than 35 hours. New York electricians, who have had a 25-hour week since 1962, are the classic example.

SALES SOAR

Stores Happy--- Buyers Contented

NEW YORK (AP) — Along Main Street and in the shopping centers the customers apparently couldn't care less what Wall Street may be worrying about. In the stores the shoppers are interested only in the way things are today. And today they're better for most people than they ever have been before.

Merchants couldn't be happier about this contented state of their customers' minds. Retail sales are booming in most sections of the nation. Most of the larger stores seem assured of the biggest December ever, and that will mean the biggest year of sales ever, because the 11-month total was already ahead of last year.

SALES HIGHER
Not only are sales higher, but store traffic also is setting records, as you may have noticed when you ventured forth. More people seem to be buying more things.

Many merchants report customers are upgrading their purchases, demanding higher quality merchandise than in years past and willing to pay the higher prices.

The big department stores and chains are now talking of up to 11 per cent larger dollar sales this December than last. This could add nearly $5 billion dollars to their sales for the year. And the Census Bureau says that in the first 11 months of 1964 these stores took in $15.6 billion, compared with $14 billion in the same period of 1963.

Merchants credit many things with giving the big boost to spending. One is the increase in take-home pay due to the federal income tax cut, which just now is showing up at the stores. Another is the general rise in personal incomes due to the increase in the number of jobs and to the higher wage scales that many workers are enjoying this year.

GOOD TIMES
Most potent perhaps is the general prosperity and the feeling of confidence in continuing good times that most consumer intention surveys reveal. There is also the general attitude of let's wait for the uncertainties that fret Wall Street to take visible form.

Stock traders worry about what might happen a few months hence — slowing of the long-time climb in business activity, inflation, monetary problems besetting the international financial markets, labor demands that could squeeze corporate profits.

Shoppers—and many of them also own stocks — figure all of this is yet to be faced, if ever.

Many Autos Still Fail Safety Check

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly 15 per cent of the approximately three million cars and trucks examined in the 1964 National Vehicle Safety Check failed to get a passing grade.

As in years past, faulty lights topped the list of items needing attention. Hazardous brakes, exhaust systems and subpar tires followed in order. The annual check is sponsored each summer by the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee and Look Magazine, with the cooperation of the Association of State and Provincial Safety Co-ordinators.

Thomas R. Reid of Dearborn, Mich., chairman of the AIHSC and director of civic and government affairs for Ford Motor Co., released results of the 17th annual safety check conducted by the two groups.

"When three million motorists voluntarily take their cars in for a safety-check, that shows the public wants to make sure the family car is in safe driving condition. "Secondly, the 50 per cent returning their cars promptly for a recheck, after failing the first exam, shows that motorists don't take lightly the finding that their cars are unsafe. Undoubtedly, a great many others who found their cars were in hazardous shape had the faults corrected but did not return for a recheck," Reid said.

The check is the only nationwide program of its kind. It is conducted primarily in the 31 states which do not require periodic motor vehicle safety inspections. Since 1954, more than 30 million vehicles have been checked.

Reid said that the checkups are conducted in 3,737 communities, counties, military installations, industrial plants, teenage groups, new car and tire dealers and other organizations. He explained that the check is sponsored in support of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety, to encourage maintenance of the safest possible driving conditions in autos and trucks.

Texas GOP Backs Burch

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. said today he will support National Chairman Dean Burch at the Jan. 22 meeting of the Republican National Committee in Chicago.

State chairmen have no vote on whether Burch remains at the head of the national party organization, but they will meet as an advisory committee at the same time the national committee meets.

O'Donnell, who headed the National Draft Goldwater Committee, said he knows many members of the national committee and intends to talk with them at the meeting.

National committeeman Albert Fay of Houston has said he will support Burch, but national committeewoman Flo Kampmann of San Antonio has said she will wait and see what happens before committing herself.

GOP Backing House Rules Panel's Might

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans of some Democrats to try to curb the House Rules Committee's stranglehold on legislation ran into some formidable Republican opposition today.

The plans may be a major subject of consideration at a meeting Wednesday of Republicans now serving in the House or elected to the new Congress convening Jan. 4.

In brief, a group of Democrats with leadership blessing wants to limit to 21 days the time during which the Rules Committee may hold up bills approved by other committees. After 21 days, the speaker could recognize a qualified member to call up such bills, regardless of the Rules Committee's position.

TOP PLANNER
In letters to Republican colleagues, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri, a leading planner for Wednesday's conference, urged Republicans to oppose the 21-day rule. He called it "the phony device the liberal Democrats have developed" to give the speaker more power.

As an alternative, Curtis proposed more frequent use of an existing rule known as the calendar Wednesday rule. This allows the chairman of a legislative committee to call up for a vote on Wednesdays any bill approved by his committee. It permits a complete by-pass of the Rules Committee, but has been used sparingly in the past because it limits debate.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, chairman of the GOP conference, said at least 115 Republicans have indicated their intention to attend the meeting.

'Not Scared,' Says Duke Of Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Duke of Windsor, facing abdominal surgery philosophically, undergoes tests and X-ray examinations today prior to the operation, possibly Wednesday or Thursday.

Dr. Michael DeBakey, a cardiovascular surgeon, will perform the operation at Methodist Hospital. It involves removing an aortic aneurysm, a ballooning of the artery wall.

"I'm not fearful about the operation," the former King Edward VIII of England said Monday.

field." DeBakey, 56, is general director of the Cardiovascular Research Center and professor of surgery at Baylor University College of Medicine here.

He and his team have performed 6,500 major cardiovascular operations in the past six years and have a 95 per cent recovery record.

One of the physicians, Dr. Edward W. Dennis, head of the Department of Cardiology and director of the Circulatory Dynamics Laboratory at the hospital, said the duke was in "superb general health." He said blood tests and X-rays would be taken today.

The surgery will be performed in the middle or latter part of the week, Dennis said. "We have such a good workup from Dr. Antenucci that we won't have much to do here." He said the aneurysm is the size of an orange and is in the aorta, below the kidney arteries. The aneurysm will be cut out, he said, and that portion of the aorta, a major blood vessel, will be replaced with a tube made of dacron.

FAIRLY COMMON

Dennis said the operation is fairly common. He said 1,500 have been performed at Methodist Hospital in the past 10 years.

Normally the operation takes one to one and a half hours, Dennis said, and patients spend two and a half weeks in the hospital.

The duke, who abdicated the throne 28 years ago last Friday to marry the duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore, said he felt fine.

Surety Firm Merger Told

DALLAS (AP)—Plans for a $1.5 million stock exchange merger were announced Monday by National Empire Life Insurance Co. of Dallas.

The merger with Mid-America Life Insurance Co. of Oklahoma City will bring the Dallas firm's total life insurance in force to $134 million, officials said.

It also will expand the area of the Dallas company to include Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Minnesota, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

Stockholders of the Oklahoma

City company will receive one share of National Empire Life stock for each 9 1/2 shares of Mid-America stock.

The merger plan will be submitted to stockholders of each firm and then to the commissioners of insurance in Texas and Oklahoma for approval.

Tower Finds Little Nuclear Plan Zeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., returning from a European tour he said he financed himself, reports little enthusiasm for the multilateral nuclear force the Johnson administration has urged.

Tower said Monday he found an aloof attitude among British members of Parliament and individuals in France.

NATO Ministers Review Policy

PARIS (AP) — The North Atlantic Alliance's foreign, defense and finance ministers met today for their annual policy review. But they probably will sidestep the internal crisis generated by French-American differences over nuclear defense of the Western world.

The United States and some of its partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization want a system of joint control of nuclear weapons with the final decision on their use left to the president of the United States.

France insists on proceeding with development of its nuclear arsenal independently and claims an integrated NATO nuclear command would mean continued U.S. domination of Western Europe.

NATO's year-end ministerial council session was expected to defer any decision on the disagreement to permit further study of new British proposals — a device which will permit the United States and France to avoid an outright clash.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk assured President Charles de Gaulle during a meeting Monday that the door of any Allied nuclear command will always be open to France and that the United States has no desire to isolate France with its proposals for an allied multilateral nuclear force — MLF.

Rusk told newsmen that arrangements under study with Britain, West Germany and other NATO countries are being kept flexible so France can join whenever she wishes to do so.

New meetings are tentatively scheduled early in the new year to consider the U.S. project for a fleet of surface vessels armed with Polaris missiles under U.S. control, the British plan for a wider NATO nuclear command and any other ideas for joint control of the West's nuclear arsenal.

But if the ministerial council session avoids formal discussion of the nuclear armament issue, it is certain to lead the list of topics talked over in the corridors outside the main meeting hall.

Africans Ready Blast At Adlai

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African critics of U.S. policy in the Congo mobilized today for a counterblast at U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson after he accused them of injecting "black racism" into the Security Council debate.

Ambassador Achar Marof of Guinea told newsmen a strategy meeting would be held today by the 18 African and 4 Asian nations who have charged before the council that the United States and Belgium committed aggression by sending paratroopers to rescue whites held by the Congolese rebels.

New Industrial Complex

Wide parkways, well-kept lawns and off-street parking are features of the Great Southwest Industrial district midway between Dallas and Fort Worth. The industrial complex, conceived with an eye toward the future, is far removed from the usual eyesore of the factory district. Architects must design buildings so that only 40 per cent of the site is actually occupied by the structures and of the remaining 60 per cent a minimum of 10 per cent must be fully landscaped (AP WIREPHOTO)

Steelworkers Open Talks Amid Blasts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The AFL-CIO United Steelworkers open contract talks with 11 major producers today amid scathing industry criticism.

These are plant-level negotiations. The national contract is scheduled to be reopened the first of the year.

In a joint statement Monday the 11 major companies, which represent more than 70 per cent of the nation's steel output, scored the union for announcing it would reopen the contract.

The companies said this "put the country to the disturbance of a potential crisis date."

The USW, which last month said it would reopen the contract to seek higher pay and total job security, is free to strike 120 days after the national talks start. This would make May 1, the earliest possible strike date.

However, since the crippling strike of 1959-60 — the most recent one — union and management have tried to meet in advance of formal negotiations to provide breathing room.

Industry's statement followed the first meeting of union chairmen from the 11 companies and their management counterparts.

The statement said in part: "We hope that the union will reconsider and not put the country to the disturbance of a potential crisis date. The union must know that reopening notices will not induce the companies to grant demands that are economically unacceptable."

The union's demands, as outlined last month, include higher pay, but no specified amount; unlimited unemployment pay for senior workers and more paid holidays, longer paid vacations and more liberal holiday and vacation eligibility requirements.

Steelworkers now earn an average of $3.03 hourly and get seven paid holidays.

Union President David J. McDonald has put no price tag on the package, but has said it is not inflationary.

County Serves Notice: No Violence Tolerated

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge John M. Barron bluntly declared Monday that this Central Texas county won't put up with violence or outside pressures in racial matters.

Addressing five white men accused of molesting Negroes and a courtroom audience of white and Negro spectators, he said: "I want to serve notice that the officials and citizens of Robertson County will not tolerate disregard of the law, no matter by whom or against whom."

One of the defendants, Ned Fachorn of Hearne, pleaded guilty to displaying a pistol unlawfully and Barron fined him $500.

"RIOTOUS CONDUCT" The other four men pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of riotous conduct. Their trial was set for Jan. 11.

Complaints against all five grew out of a disturbance the night of Nov. 24.

Peace officers said Fachorn, a farmer and agent for cotton-pickers, was searching for a bag stolen from his car, became involved in an argument with a Negro and suffered a slight stab wound in his neck.

Soon afterward, investigators said, several white men went to a Negro neighborhood, fired shots and kicked open doors of some homes.

"OUTSIDE PRESSURES" Judge Barron also told courtroom listeners:

"Nobody is going to be able to say that Robertson County will not enforce the law. I am not prejudging any of these cases, but I say here and now that I think I speak for all this county's officials and a vast majority of its citizens when I say that we need no outside pressures to respect and enforce the law."

"I want to say further that I'm not entertaining any move for a change of venue in this matter because I think the citizens of this county have the moral qualities and integrity to do what's right."

Flying Grandpa On Record Try

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Max Conrad, America's flying grandfather, took off from Cape Town today in a Piper Twin Comanche plane for New Orleans.

Conrad, 62, hoped to make the 8,300-mile nonstop flight in 65 hours and break his own distance record for light planes. He set it in 1959 when he flew from Casablanca to El Paso, Tex., a distance of 6,911 miles. Conrad, who has flown the Atlantic 122 times ferrying small planes, left Puerto Rico Dec. 6 and flew to Dakar and Cape Town.

The Comanche, heavily loaded with 700 gallons of fuel, made a good takeoff into the dawn wind. Conrad, quietly confident he would make it, carried only tea, coffee, a gallon of hot water, candy and cheese.

Conrad is due in New Orleans Thursday. His flight will be over lonely South Atlantic waters, far from the shipping lanes, until he hits the South American coast near Cape Recife. Excellent weather was forecast.

Conrad entertains himself during his long flights with a harmonica, and he left South Africa with a new one. He broke his old instrument at Dakar. He was given a new one in a ceremony in the hangar here Monday by Pip Crowther, an official of the company supplying the fuel for the flight.

Gemini Launch To Be Tried Again

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Space agency officials will try again Jan. 5 to launch an unmanned Project Gemini capsule into suborbital test flight. The final unmanned flight of the project was scrubbed last week when a defect developed in the rocket engines.

Truck Sale Peak Noted

DETROIT (AP) — One of the brightest spots in the automotive sales field this year is the record being set in truck sales. The current sales record for trucks was the 1,244,224 commercial vehicles sold in 1963, but that mark may fall by year's end. R. L. Polk & Co., statisticians for the auto industry, said new truck registrations reached a record 1,036,150 units in the first nine months of this year, up more than 13 per cent from the 1,912,136 vehicles listed in the comparable period last year.

HEALTHY SIGN
That healthy registration report convinced many industry observers that a new record high would be set for calendar 1964.

One of the big questions which will be answered when the final December sales reports are tabulated is how much an effect the General Motors and Ford strikes had on supplies of new trucks.

One observer pointed out that truck orders are a bit different from auto orders, inasmuch as a potential truck buyer might be more apt to wait for the particular truck and body he wanted rather than switching to some other make, as auto buyers might do.

"The truck factories of the big three are really working at top speed these days to fill orders," he said.

Brandt Party Out To Win

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — The opposition Social Democrats under West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt are setting out to win next September's general election by offering voters more an echo than a clearcut choice. This was made clear at the party's five-day congress.

WILLY BRANDT

Democrats under Konrad Adenauer.

FAR CRY
The Social Democrats think the way to win national power is to offer more of the same, insisting only that they can provide it better than the incumbents.

It is a far cry from earlier election tactics of this party, for which for years offered an unmistakable choice — and got beaten. Inspired by Marxist doctrine, it used to advocate nationalization in industry, rejection of West Germany's role in NATO and other policies that set it off from the Christian

Launcher May Be Red-Made

NEW YORK (AP) — An examination disclosed today that a 3.5-inch rocket launcher from which a projectile was fired at the United Nations Building last Friday was not manufactured in this country.

Police said checks of the weapon by Army Ordnance experts indicated it may have been made in Red China.

A projectile was fired from it Friday, apparently as part of a demonstration against the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba. The shell fell short of the U.N. Building and exploded in the East River.

Loans Asked By Tshombe

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Premier Moise Tshombe of the Congo discussed his country's financial needs with German political and business leaders today.

German sources said Tshombe, who arrived in Munich Saturday from Rome, hopes to raise $5 million in loans.

THIRD OF TOTAL
After being held to about a third of the total vote in 1949, 1953 and 1957, the Social Democrats decided a change was imperative. They did a complete about-face for the 1961 election, when Brandt ran as their chancellor candidate for the first time. The party adopted the Christian Democratic program practically intact — and gained two million votes. Staying on this course, it has continued to pick up strength. The most recent polls shows 37 per cent of the decided voters preferring Brandt's party, with 30 per cent true to the Christian Democrats, now under Ludwig Erhard. Local elections have by and large borne out the polls.

A Devotional For The Day

He came unto his own, and his own received him not. (John 1:11)
PRAYER: O God of love, who centuries ago blessed this earth through the coming of Jesus Christ, help us as we look to Him, our star of hope. Forbid that we should be so preoccupied with the lesser things that no room is left for Him who is the King of kings and the Prince of peace. In His holy name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Bolder Approach Needed

The timidity with which the United States government is extending population-control assistance to underdeveloped nations is understandable as political expediency but unwarranted in principle and practically.

Rather refreshing, therefore, is the careful candor of a recent public address by Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs and head of the Alliance for Progress. Mann warned a New York audience:

"In the decades immediately ahead of us, the rate of population growth will have a direct effect on the aspirations of peoples in this hemisphere for a rapid improvement in their standards of living. To the extent that these aspirations are frustrated, additional strains and stress are placed on the political, economic and social fabrics of the hemisphere."

That problem is acute in Latin America, where in country after country the struggle for higher living standards is losing ground—despite self-help and U.S. aid—because propagation is outrunning production of both economic goods and social services, such as schools and hospitals. The State Department, incidentally, has a population problems expert in each U.S. mission in Latin America.

Mann's speech—on which he was helped by a population affairs authority, Dr. Edgar Berman, Baltimore surgeon—was backed up by the State Department as part of cautious program of bringing this problem out in the open. And that should be done, with more effectiveness and less timidity.

U. S. policy now is to extend birth-control research information and training assistance to any other government or responsible nongovernmental foreign organization requesting it. There can be no legitimate objection to that, religious or otherwise, though there could be with any coercive move to the population control to aid or otherwise try to override an individual's religious beliefs.

Science caused the population explosion, particularly in the underdeveloped countries, by drastically cutting the death rate. And science will have to be used to get it back under control, by reducing the birth rate to growth that national economies can bear. Whatever scientific knowledge to that end that the United States possesses should be freely shared.

Broader Base For Policy

During the past several years some of the most thoughtful and provocative writing on the subject of education has come from Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University. Special importance attaches, therefore, to his recent assertion that the trouble with our schools is that they are run by educators.

Dr. Conant, who is himself a distinguished educator, does not think that the soundest school policy will result if it is determined only by public school administrators and professors of education. He would like to see educational policy decided by a group of distinguished non-educators from each state, these to be of the type represented by the trustees of our great universities.

Such a group, if properly chosen, might head off the well meant but quite mistaken idea that education should be chiefly vocational. Conant's idea has far deeper implications than that, however. Having non-educators determine policy, not at the school board level but at the very top, could profoundly change our educational system. This does not in itself argue against the Conant proposals, but they must be assessed most searchingly by both educators and the enlightened public.

Marquis Childs Nationalism Clouds Aid Picture

KARACHI, Pakistan—In the annual wrangle in Congress over the foreign aid appropriation, the whole subject sounds like a dreary exercise dreamed up for the benefit of bureaucrats. But in the underdeveloped part of the world it is a vital reality on which the future turns.

VAST PROJECTS are being carried out by aid from a half-dozen countries and the World Bank. The United States is supplying considerably more than half of the financing for the consortium building the Mangla Dam, which on completion will be probably the largest earth-filled dam in the world. American aid is the spur for dozens of projects scattered about the country.

now coming to a climax, there have been charges and countercharges involving America's alleged betrayal of her ally, Pakistan, by furnishing military aid to India, Pakistan's enemy. Miss Fatima Jinnah, the 74-year-old sister of Pakistan's founder, Mohammed Ali Jinnah, who is opposing President Ayub Khan, charged him with such incompetence as to lose "the only foreign friend it had, namely the United States."

This caused an angry uproar and it did Miss Jinnah no good in the current anti-American atmosphere. The Pakistan Times observed in an editorial that China was the only power giving unequivocal support to Pakistan on Kashmir and rated "China's friendship which has manifested itself in many forms" as "the choicest fruit of Ayub's foreign policy."

In Pakistan and elsewhere throughout the underdeveloped area of Asia, American engineers and administrators seem to have an excellent working relationship with their opposite numbers in the receiving country. These are practical men anxious to get on with the job in friendship and cooperation. As at Mangla, they work side by side and in the process learn much about getting along together.

THE 10TH anniversary of the American aid program came up recently and the total outlay was computed at over three billion dollars. Yet there was scarcely a mention of it in the public prints. At the same time, and this is a source of deep frustration to Americans here, the slightest gesture of help from the Communist powers gets a big play.

BUT AT THE SAME TIME political frictions are eroding the political ties. While the need for cooperation is as great as it ever was, the politics of national rivalry, suspicion and fear can cut across the whole effort.

The American dilemma in Asia is rather like that in Europe: How to get on with a job essential to security and stability as the fires of nationalism flare up and are exploited by politicians at home and by Peking and Moscow for their own ends.

American military aid through most of the decade has supported five and a half of Pakistan's six and a half divisions, furnishing virtually everything for defense except pay and rations. Similarly, the Air Force's 12 squadrons of 12 planes each is owed largely to the aid program as it has functioned under treaty agreements with Pakistan.

EACH ACTION produces its reaction and the flames that rise from U.S. libraries burning in Cairo and Jakarta will touch off hostility to America's involvement in Asia. If that's the way they feel about us then we'd better get out. Such a reaction in Congress and public opinion is hardly surprising.

THE REALITIES of the aid program for the future—President Ayub says that not until 1985 will Pakistan be independent of foreign aid—are equally clear. In 1960, after long and patient negotiation, Eugene Black, then head of the World Bank, got India and Pakistan to sign an agreement dividing the waters of the Indus Valley. On the Pakistan side, this called for an immense diversion and irrigation project attacking the problems of waterlogging and salinity. That project, eventually to cost well over one billion dollars, is moving forward with the indication that in the first developed tract of one million acres rice production can be nearly doubled. How important this is in a nation that is, next to India, the largest recipient of American food under Public Law 480 needs no underscoring.

IT IS ALMOST literally true that the life of West Pakistan's 38,000,000 people depends on its being pushed to completion. The alternative is a reversion to slow starvation in an ever-encroaching desert.

At the great Mangla Dam project between Rawalpindi and Lahore an American town has come into being, housing 2,000 engineers and technicians and their families, complete with schools, bowling alley and motion picture house. In part, it is shared by Pakistanis and their families. These are the men—many of their wives are nurses and social workers—and women who are getting on with the job. Whether the whole far-reaching effort can be carried through is a question ultimately for the politicians.

Hal Boyle Hitler's 'Biggest Mistake'

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty years ago he chilled the Western world with fear, but now he is a gray little old man who likes to weed his garden in peace.

He is retired Gen. Hasso E. von Manteuffel, seven times wounded in battle, one of Germany's most decorated soldiers, and leader of its celebrated 5th Panzer army in the Battle of the Bulge.

Just two decades ago Wednesday his troops infiltrated the front lines of American troops resting in the Ardennes Forest. They came like ghosts across the snow in the foggy dawn, starting what some have called the greatest single battle in American history.

Von Manteuffel, now 67, discussed the conflict on a recent visit here to act as advisor on a film of the battle, which is being made with the cooperation of the U.S. Defense Department.

He is proudest of the skill by which his men, through camouflaged movements, achieved complete tactical surprise.

"I wanted to sneak by the outposts like cats," he recalled, "and this went off well. It was the biggest German success of the operation."

"But your men were not to blame for this. They were supposed to be in a rest area and they were thinly strung out."

Like other German commanders, Von Manteuffel thought Adolf Hitler's goal was grandiose and hopeless: it was no less than to wrap up the Allied armies in the west, thus leaving Hitler free to deal with the Russians in the east.

"The biggest mistake that Hitler made at this time," he commented acidly, "was to think that the German army could do what it had done in 1940."

"After all, we were in the sixth year of the war. He did not have enough materiel, and the soldiers of 1944 were not the same as those of 1939."

The rampaging Germans did break 60 miles through U.S. lines at one point to get within four miles of the Meuse River. But they were held up for priceless days at one vital road center, St. Vith, and never did break through U.S. defenses at a second key town, Bastogne.

By Christmas Eve, von Manteuffel said, he realized the Nazi drive had been beaten.

"Once the fog lifted and the American Air Force could go into action and isolate the battlefield, I knew we could no longer sustain our offensive."

"The outstanding bravery of the elements of the U. S. Army employed in the battles of St. Vith and Bastogne is highly recognized by me, a former enemy. They initiated the final defeat of the German forces on the Western Front."

"The morale factors are decisive. Decisive battles are won in the hearts of men. Bastogne and St. Vith are fundamental examples of this."

Instead of invoking the 14th Amendment, thus undoing the 1883 opinion, since few motels or hotels can operate without state or city regulation, Clark based his opinion on the power the commerce clause of the Constitution gives the government to regulate interstate commerce.

Some of the other justices, although all agreed in upholding the 1964 act's constitutionality, thought Clark should have ruled under both the commerce clause and the 14th Amendment.

Perhaps later, under some other kind of test of the act not imagined now, the court will also rule under the 14th Amendment.

In order to understand why our strategists do not choose to blockade Saigon with buffer zones and do not consent to a roughing-up of anti-government civilians, you would have to know about alternative ideas which are today acceptable in Washington.

1. To bolster Saigon from the outside rather than from the inside. For example, it would be highly recommendable from a tactical viewpoint to concentrate money and military effort in the northern provinces which lie against North Viet Nam and Laos.

IF OTHER buffer zones were also set up to the south of Saigon and to the west of Saigon, the government in the capital city would become isolated. This might be a good thing—it would temporarily ease the pressure on Premier Huong's government. But from present strategic concepts in Washington it would be a bad thing—it would depress the dignity of the Saigon central government and hurt its chances of some day running the whole country called South Viet Nam. The U.S.A. is committed to a strong central government at the capital city.

2. TO AUTHORIZE and assist the Saigon government in the Oriental cruelty of a police state. This would mean a brutalizing of street demonstrations, wholesale arrests of civilians malcontents and a short and public way with spies, saboteurs and traitors. While "world" opinion is a deterrent here, so is American public opinion. The home front would not long countenance atrocities on the war front.

Around The Rim Thus It Was On A Christmas Eve

I don't think it had dawned on me how close Christmas was.

We were crawling across endless miles of central New Mexico prairie in a covered wagon. It had begun snowing several days before and it was still snowing. The white blanket was six or seven inches deep. The road, such as it was, had disappeared and the only spots where it could be seen were where the wind had blown the flakes from the ruts.

Sometimes we had to get out and walk ahead of the wagon, kicking the snow aside until we found the road again. It was cold but fortunately the wind was not blowing steadily and inside the wagon, you could stay warm enough with a quilt pulled up over your shoulders and a kerosene lantern burning under the quilt on the wagon floor bed.

FROM TIME to time, though the snow would pile up on the wagon wheels until the clumps dragged against the wagon bed. Then you had to get out of the wagon, take a hatchet and chop away the mass. And other times, the horses would become so weary you had to get out and walk to relieve them of some of the burden.

When it grew too dark to figure out one side and camped. You took a shovel and cleared away as much of the snow as you could over a space the size of the small tent you carried. The tent, stiff with ice, was always hard to get up and if the wind was blowing the task was multiplied many times.

When you finally got the tent up, you lugged in the bedding roll and the little sheet iron camp stove. The pipe would be stuck out through the slit in the tent fly and kept from touching either the canvas or the tent pole by a sheet of tin. All day long, you had picked up any stray bit of wood you passed—sometimes when a ranch fence was near you took the handsaw you carried in the feed box and sawed off four or five inch chunks from the tops of the taller poles.

ONCE YOU GOT the fire going in the little stove, the tent became as cozy as you could wish. The horses were fed and stood stamping wearily at their posts. You brought in the meager food you would have for supper from the grub box.

After you had cooked the bacon and warmed up the beans, you sat a while basking in front of the warm fire. And then you stepped out into the night.

That Christmas Eve, the clouds which had held sway for three or four days were gone. The skies were as clear as crystal. The stars twinkled as if they had been polished and a small piece of the moon rode high. All around as far as you could see was the unbroken expanse of white.

The lantern glowed dimly inside the tent and the oiled canvas gave off a faint reddish gleam. Smoke drifted from the stove pipe.

And sitting outside the ring of light from the tent but clearly revealed in the moonlight were the coyotes.

There they sat on their haunches, red tongues lolling from their mouths. They were watching the camp. Perhaps the odor of cooking bacon had reached their nostrils.

THEN YOU thought what a strange place to be on Christmas Eve. And you went back inside the tent and crawled into the bed on the tent floor. And the last thing you remembered before you dropped off to sleep was the fading red on the stove and the dry crackle of the frozen tent roof as a vagrant puff of wind moved across the plains.

You were only seven years old and you did not know that the chances were very good that on Christmas Day, there would be very little if any Christmas cheer for you. All you knew were that you were sleepy, your tummy was full, and now you were warm. And life seemed very good.

Holmes Alexander The Alternatives In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—South Viet Nam could be "secured" (in the military definition) by methods not considered acceptable as yet—but not impossible as a last-ditch stand. These methods are:

1. To bolster Saigon from the outside rather than from the inside. For example, it would be highly recommendable from a tactical viewpoint to concentrate money and military effort in the northern provinces which lie against North Viet Nam and Laos.

IF OTHER buffer zones were also set up to the south of Saigon and to the west of Saigon, the government in the capital city would become isolated. This might be a good thing—it would temporarily ease the pressure on Premier Huong's government. But from present strategic concepts in Washington it would be a bad thing—it would depress the dignity of the Saigon central government and hurt its chances of some day running the whole country called South Viet Nam. The U.S.A. is committed to a strong central government at the capital city.

2. TO AUTHORIZE and assist the Saigon government in the Oriental cruelty of a police state. This would mean a brutalizing of street demonstrations, wholesale arrests of civilians malcontents and a short and public way with spies, saboteurs and traitors. While "world" opinion is a deterrent here, so is American public opinion. The home front would not long countenance atrocities on the war front.

In order to understand why our strategists do not choose to blockade Saigon with buffer zones and do not consent to a roughing-up of anti-government civilians, you would have to know about alternative ideas which are today acceptable in Washington.

1. IT IS BETTER to work outward from Saigon in concentric circles because our first purpose is to establish in South Viet Nam a viable, independent country where none has hitherto existed. If we succeed, we will have extended the free world into Southeast Asia and—more important for us—will have established a "forward base" to be used in event of war against Red China.

2. It is part of our "great circle" deployment to push our forward bases up against the enemy frontier. The same arguments which call for standing fast in Formosa, Quemoy and Matsui, and in Okinawa and the Philippines, speak for holding hard in South Viet Nam.

MAYBE IT WOULD be better for President Johnson to discuss this grand strategy in a national broadcast—and maybe he will in due time. But he would have to use a short, ugly word—war. And he would have to name an enemy—Red China.

Before the President goes that far, two conditions of readiness must exist. One must exist in the President's mind—he must be convinced that the timing is right throughout the world for such a solemn and fearsome statement. The other must exist in the minds of the people—they must be prepared to accept some very grim realism.

Richard Starnes Are We Really The Healthiest?

WASHINGTON—Heartening fissures have appeared, and suggest that the most durable of American patriotic myths is about to be toppled.

This myth (near kin of the one about the U.S. standard of living being the highest in the world) asserts that our level of public health leads all the rest. It isn't true, of course, and it is a sorry circumstance. By almost every measurable index of public health (infant mortality, longevity, etc.) the United States is headed by almost every civilized nation on earth.

EVIDENCE IS accumulating, however, that there is growing public awareness of these facts—awareness that inevitably will result in a demand for reform. Medicare, or something very much like it, is likely to be passed at the coming session of Congress. And as modest as its scope is bound to be at the outset, Medicare at least is the first honest start the nation has made in discharging its obligations toward its less affluent older citizens.

Part and parcel of the same problem is the report by the President's Commission on Heart Disease, Cancer and Stroke, which disclosed the disgraceful truth that the medical trade has known for a long time: Thousands of victims of these three diseases are being deprived of "the benefits of research."

IT IS IN THIS group that the neglected thousands are to be found; and it is a dismal commentary on the most affluent society the world has ever known. Equally appalling is the fact that the richest people on earth cannot stop killing their newborn at a shockingly high rate. Nine nations have infant mortality rates lower than our own; all, perhaps by coincidence, are saddled with the terrible burden of what the American Medical Association commonly derides as "socialized medicine."

And across the whole dreary picture lies the blight of race deprivation. The Urban League sadly observed that 80,000 Negro babies would die needlessly in the next 10 years, simply because the care available to them is substandard. In the nation's capital, infant mortality among Negroes is nearly double the white rate.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long-self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

To Your Good Health Radioactive Iodine A Treatment For Goiter

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you recommend radioactive iodine for goiter? Does this treatment remove it entirely, or make it less toxic? Could there be ill effects to the throat or other parts of the body from this treatment? — MRS. A. R.

I enclose 20 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for your booklet "How to Take Care of Your Heart." — A. N.

I presume the X-rays were of the type to detect tuberculosis. They sometimes show heart deviations—but you can't decide on that basis alone whether the condition is serious. Other tests are necessary.

As you describe the case, the combination of enlargement and edema (the swelling) indicates that the heart "muscle is gradually failing." The heart is enlarging in an effort to compensate for the lack of vigor of its muscle.

Your friend should NOT try to find excuses for the swollen legs. She should consult her doctor. Generally speaking, such cases are bound to become serious, sooner or later, yet with prompt (and sustained) treatment many patients live for years and years.

Dear Dr. Molner: For 20 years an acquaintance of mine has had chest X-rays every six months. In the last two, her heart is enlarged.

Her ankles have been swelling so that even the feet are puffed by evening, but she attributes this to humidity.

What causes the heart to enlarge? How serious is this condition?

Radioactive iodine (known as I 131) is a well-recognized treatment for toxic goiter. It does not remove the thyroid gland, but it reduces its activity and usually its size.

In fact, sometimes it slows down the thyroid to such an extent that a hypothyroid state (underactivity) is produced. However, it is then a simple matter to administer small doses of thyroid substance to bring the body's metabolism back into normal balance.

The correct dosage of radioactive iodine is very important, so the treatment must be given by an expert.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Christmas Tablecloth Fashioned From Net

Dear Heloise:

Here is how I made a very attractive and inexpensive Christmas tablecloth last year:

I bought a length of nylon net 72 inches wide to fit my table. I sewed some fringe all around the edge. With scraps of red and green felt I cut out holly and poinsettia leaves. Any other designs one prefers could be used.

I glued these cut-outs at the edge in each corner, using glue intended for mending clothes.

I put some of this glue on top of the felt designs and sprinkled them with glitter while the glue was wet. It was absolutely beautiful. Any color cloth can be used under it or it may be used over a bare table. —Ena Krawchuck

Dear Heloise:

A quick way to make hamburger patties all the same size is to form them in inexpensive paper muffin liners. By putting a scoop in each liner, you will get patties all the same size. To shape them, just press them out with your hand. The muffin liner lies flat, and you will have a circular pattern.

Patties like this store compactly, too. For freezing, just lay one on top of the other. The paper liner keeps them from sticking. —Mary Anne Steinkuehler

Dear Heloise:

I have many chrome appliances, breadboxes, canister sets, etc., and here's how I keep them bright and shiny!

I take a piece of paper toweling and slightly dampen it with clear undiluted ammonia. Just rub until clean and dry and no streaks appear.

This method can also be used on any chrome stove, toaster, blender, etc. —Sparkling SWH

Dear Heloise:

When I use whipped cream, I always whip more than I expect to use at one meal.

What is left I put in small mounds on waxed paper or in a pan and place in the freezer until solidly frozen. They can then be put in a covered dish or plastic bag and used as needed.

Dear Heloise:

Yes, I use this method when making only a few dishes of pudding or gelatin dessert. All I do, is remove the frozen mound of whipped cream, place it on top of the dessert and it thaws in a jiffy! Great for those dabs of left-over whipped cream. —Heloise

NEW SUPER SERVICE CENTER NOW OPEN
White's center has Bear Wheel and steering alignment equipment plus other service facilities

Christmas Shop As Car Is Serviced At White's

White's has become a shopping center where customers may get almost anything but something to eat or a cup of coffee. The new super service center, recently completed on the back of a spacious car lot, and adjoining the west end of the main store, can give much-needed service to your car while you do your Christmas shopping in the store.

As a matter of fact you can buy anything from a little red wagon to a complete household of furniture and appliances; tires and batteries, plus a lot of other accessories for your car, and all manner of toys for the youngsters for Christmas.

Something a lot of adults are taking up more and more is the model railroading and sports car race tracks. The electric train sets come in both standard and HO gauges. The sets are available in Lionel, Marks, Eldon and other brand names. Then there are the gas-engine model airplane sets for the enthusiast who like his engines in top quality — especially the Cox Avion Mustang fighter.

All kinds of toys for all ages are on the shelves, and there is a whole floor space full of Texas Ranger bicycles for boys, girls, and grownups. The line also includes tricycles for the extra small tots, and four-wheeled chain drive sidewalk racers.

If something for the household is needed there is a full line of appliances carrying White's own brand-name — "Catalina." Ranges, washers and dryers, and combinations; freezers, refrigerators; television sets with combinations of radio-record players; heaters, and other appliances are available on the floor.

The furniture line is complete, with such brand names as Kroehler, Bassett, Ballman, Cummings, Owosso, Angelina, Colony Oak, and Woodward, for living room or bedroom.

Over in the new service department White's has men experienced in using the Bear Wheel and Steering Alignment machines. They can also balance your wheels, give complete brake service, and install mufflers and tail pipes, tires, batteries and front end accessories. Complete front end and steering alignment, done when needed, saves dollars in wear and tear on tires and nerves, as well as wheel bearings, and often prevents accidents.

The new parking lot for customers takes the bother out of hunting parking places on the street, and allows time to shop without worrying about "feeding" parking meters.

If the hunter in the family needs a new rifle, shotgun, ammunition, scopes, camping equipment, or anything else, White's has a big line.

When you have time on your hands, and still think you don't need anything, come into White's anyway and browse around. The floor is big and maybe you'll see what you forgot you needed. Location is at 202-204 Scurry.

The Receiver Was The Winner

Joey Giardello winces as Ruben Carter bounces off a hard right to the head in the 14th round of Monday night's middleweight championship fight in Philadelphia. Giardello was awarded a decision over Carter although Carter carried the fight throughout most of the rounds. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Crafty Giardello Is Winner Over Carter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It's strong Ruben (Hurricane) Carter was like the old matador in his first title defense Monday night.

A rousing finish in the last round of the 15-round middleweight championship fight earned the crafty, 34-year-old Giardello a unanimous decision over the muscular, 27-year-old second-ranking contender Carter.

Giardello was cut over the left eye and shaken by a jolting left hook in the fourth round. Carter had his big chance in that round but he blew it. Giardello absorbed several other solid left hooks to the jaw from his ever-threatening foe but Pal Joey always managed to slip away from the brink of disaster.

"If I only could have made him fall," said Carter. "Just once, if I could have made him fall. That was the difference. I won it clear — at least 9 to 6 — but a fall would have clinched it."

"I had him on the hook but let him get off. He's cagey and takes a helluva punch. Look at the great fighters he's fought and none have put him down for the count."

"He fought my fight and didn't press as I expected him to press," said Giardello. "He didn't fight inside and made it easy for me. That had a lot to do with it."

This was Giardello's first title defense since he won the crown from Nigeria's Dick Tiger on an upset decision at Atlantic City, N.J., Dec. 7, 1963.

He had only two non-title outings with Rocky Rivera. Now with eight straight victories to his credit, he plans to cash in with a couple of more non-title fights. Then he said he would like to meet the winner of a bout between No. 1 contender Joey Archer of New York and Tiger.

Archer beat both Tiger and Carter on controversial decisions in New York.

Carter, a pro three years, had scored 13 knockouts in 24 pro fights. A fast puncher with a flashy left hook, he counted on the hook to undo the champion.

He came close in the fourth round. The ring-scared champion kept on the move constantly against his stalking, straight-moving opponent. With blood trickling from the cut most of the way, Giardello fought the classic fight — sticking with his left jab to the head, hooking to the body and head and making Carter miss.

Joey had the challenger slicing the air with dozens of punches in most rounds with a slip of his head or a slight move backwards or to the side. Carter landed his share of punches but Giardello scored with more. The officials had Giardello the winner by the following point scores, based on the five points a round: referee Bob Polis, 72-66; judge James Mina, 71-66; and judge Dave Beloff, 70-67. The Associated Press scorecard had Giardello a narrow winner, 69-68.

In rounds the scores were Polis 9-3-3, Beloff 8-5-2, and Mina 9-4-2. The AP had it 7-5-3. A ringside poll showed a 15-3 majority for Giardello.

Michigan Rips Wichita Un., In Headliner

By DICK COUCH Associated Press Sports Writer

Whoops! That crazy-bouncing basketball has given Wichita an up-and-down feeling faster than you can say Cazzie Russell. Russell and the rebounding Michigan Wolverines floored No. 1-ranked Wichita 87-85 Monday night, less than 24 hours after the Wheatshockers had evicted the Big Ten club from the top spot among major college powers.

Wichita's first loss and North Carolina's 84-78 decision over ninth-ranked Vanderbilt promised another shake-up in the national ratings. The Top-Ten list underwent wholesale changes last week, as reflected in The Associated Press poll released today and based on results through last Saturday.

Wichita, with four straight victories at that point, drew 23 of 33 first-place ballots and out-pointed once-beaten Michigan 309-279. The Wolverines, surprised by Nebraska 74-73 Saturday night, received five first-place ballots.

The Wolves may ask for a recount after Russell's brilliant second-half performance — which included the last-second winning basket — against Wichita. Cazzie dazzled the Shockers after intermission, scoring 23 of his game-high 28 points — six in the final 1 1/2 minutes.

The score was knotted at 85-85 tie in the searous struggle at Detroit — with four seconds to play when Wichita lost the ball on a bad pass, Russell's running one-hander dropped through the cords at the buzzer, giving the Wolverines their fifth victory.

Bob Lewis hit for 31 points, one more than teammate Billy Cunningham, at Greensboro, N.C., as North Carolina handed Vanderbilt its second straight setback. The Commodores lost to Virginia Tech 69-64 Saturday and tumbled from third to ninth in The AP poll. Vanderbilt is 3-2 on the season. The Tarheels have won five of seven.

Not one of last week's Top Ten teams held its position in this week's poll. St. Louis, unupended by Missouri 72-56 Saturday night, slipped from fourth to 10th. San Francisco and Minnesota climbed into the Nos. 3 and 4 berths, respectively, and split four first-place votes.

UCLA; Duke; St. John's, N.Y.; and Kentucky all advanced after successful weekends. The Bruins, No. 5, trimmed Oklahoma State 68-52. The Blue Devils, No. 6, routed South Carolina 111-72; the Redmen, No. 7, nipped Miami, Fla., 79-77; and the Wildcats smashed Syracuse 110-77 to gain the No. 8 spot.

Four teams which received votes in the weekly poll but failed to crack the Top Ten scored impressive home-court victories Monday night. Jon McGlockin's 24 points carried Indiana past DePaul 91-78; Wayne Estes pumped 40 points as Utah State riddled Nevada 101-80; Miami of Ohio whipped Marshall 114-90, setting a school scoring record, and Drake shackled Idaho State 56-41.

Herd, Westerners Meet In Lubbock

Allen Simpson's Big Spring Steers, fresh from a second place finish in the Snyder tournament, go to Lubbock tonight for a 7 p.m. engagement in the Coliseum with the powerful Lubbock High Westerners. Lubbock handled the Longhorns their worst defeat of the season here last month. Final score was 82-45. Coach Max O'Banion saw fit to use his regulars most of the way. Simpson's team has shown a lot of improvement, especially on defense, since that time.

AT QBC MEETING

Checkup Is Due On Ducat Sales

All persons who have been selling tickets for the Quarterback Club banquet honoring members of the 1964 Big Spring Steers and their coaches are urged to turn in their money at tonight's meeting of the booster club, scheduled to be held in the High School Cafeteria starting at 7:30 p.m. Plans for the party will be firming up at the conclave.

The banquet will start at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Student Union building on the HCJC campus. J. T. King, head football coach at Texas Tech, is scheduled to be the principal speaker.

Ticket sales for the banquet have been fairly brisk, according to a report by Mrs. Stanley Ballou, secretary of the club.

Especially busy have been such workers as Everett Whately, who has distributed close to 50; Jess Slaughter, who has sold 38; and Paul Jenkins, who has vendded between 30 and 35.

The ducats are priced at $2.50 each and are available from any Quarterback Club member. Several awards will be given out during the banquet, among them Dibrell's Scholastic Athletic cup, Dibrell's Outstanding Back trophy, KBST's Lineman of the Year award, two certificates by the Daily Herald and the Coaches' Award.

Mary Lee Dibrell will provide organ music during the dinner hour.

Lakeview Rockets Win Eighth Game

Lakeview's ninth grade Rockets won their eighth game in nine basketball starts by kaying San Angelo Blackshear, 66-43, here Monday night.

Senial Johnson and Claud Tucker proved to be the heavy artillery for Big Spring, scoring 28 and 23 points, respectively. Lakeview led all the way. Lakeview's eighth graders also won, turning back Black-shear by a 50-38 tab. The eighth graders now have a 4-3 record. James Brown tossed in 24 points as the Rockets pulled away with a surge early in Round Three.

San Angelo salvaged the seventh grade engagement, winning by a score of 35-25. Lakeview's seventh is currently 1-2 for the year.

Herman Evans tallied 11 points and Joe Easley nine for Big Spring in that one. Lakeview's eighth and ninth grade teams play Snyder Lincoln here Wednesday night.

Reds Acquire Craig, James From Cards

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roger Craig, the losingest pitcher in the National League in 1962-63, and power-hitting Charley James have been acquired by the Cincinnati Reds in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals got knuckleball artist Bob Purkey and an unidentified minor league player in the swap announced Monday by Reds owner William O. DeWitt.

DeWitt said the minor league player will be named later. Purkey, 35, has been with the Reds since 1958, and recorded his best season in 1962, winning 23 and losing five. That year Purkey beat every club in the league at least once and compiled an earned-run average of 2.81.

Craig won his "losing" title with the New York Mets, winning only 10 games and losing 24 in 1962. In 1963 he won five and lost 22.

The Mets traded Craig to St. Louis and he was 7-9 for the Cardinals last season with an ERA of 3.25. Craig started his career in 1955 with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and has a World Series record of 2-2 for the Dodgers.

James batted .223 for the Cardinals last season. He hit five home runs. Purkey compiled an 11-9 record last season, with most of his victories coming in the final two months. His ERA was 3.03. Following his 23 victories in 1962, the most won by a Reds pitcher in 18 years, Purkey slipped to a 6-16 record in 1963.

Smith Named By Stallings

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Gene Stallings, new head football coach at Texas A&M University, announced today the appointment of Don Watson, a teammate of Stallings when they were at A&M, to the coaching staff.

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Gene Stallings has moved in from Alabama as head football coach of Texas A&M and the first thing he did was to appoint Elmer Smith as his first assistant.

Smith has been at A&M for 11 years as assistant under Paul Bryant, Jim Myers and Hank Foldberg.

Stallings isn't expected to keep any other members of the present staff.

The new coach, who played under Bryant when the latter coached here and won the last Southwest Conference championship, was given a four-year contract as head coach. Foldberg relinquished the coaching post to devote full time to being athletic director.

Stallings held his first press conference yesterday and told newsmen from Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and other cities that "there are not many schools I would have left Alabama to accept a coaching job. Texas A&M is one of the few and I'm thrilled at the opportunity to coach here."

He declared that he found the players fine physical specimens and "the attitude of those I've talked with is good. The game of football is built around pride and dedication and if the boys here believe in Texas A&M and are willing to work hard enough I'm sure we'll succeed."

Stallings said he thought his age, 29, was an advantage. "I'll be closer to the squad than an older coach and, too, I should be able to work harder and longer than an older coach."

He has been chief assistant to Bryant at Alabama but said that didn't necessarily mean "I'll do everything he did. I feel one must coach his own personality."

TEXAN IS SIGNED GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Rick Marshall, 270-pound tackle from Stephen F. Austin College, signed a contract with the Green Bay Packers Monday. He was the Packers' 10th round draft choice.

He declared that he found the players fine physical specimens and "the attitude of those I've talked with is good. The game of football is built around pride and dedication and if the boys here believe in Texas A&M and are willing to work hard enough I'm sure we'll succeed."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: JIM MURRAY, Los Angeles scribe: "So Alabama is the 'National' champion. Is it? Hah! 'National' champion of what? The Confederacy? This team hasn't poked its head above the Mason-Dixon line since Appomattox. They've almost NEVER played a Big Ten team. One measly game with Wisconsin back in 1928 is all I can find. They lost. This team wins the front-of-the-bus championship every year — largely with Pennsylvania quarterbacks. How can you win a 'National' championship playing in a closet? How can you get to be 'No. 1' if you don't play anybody but your kindred? How do you know whether these guys are kicking over baby-carriages or slaying dragons? They remind me of the guy who rolls the dice in a hat — his hat. He glances at them and says, 'You lose. I made a 7.... Football recruiters in the South don't go out looking for Robert E. Lee types any more. They go out and hunt till they find a boy kicking a sleeping dog,' an Atlanta newspaper once confided bitterly to me. 'Him, they take.'"

GENE STALLINGS new football coach at Texas A&M, when asked how rough Bear Bryant's original football camp at Junction was: "All I know is that we went out there in two buses, and came back in one."

JAKE GAITHER, colorful football coach at Florida A&M College, describing a quarterback he had a couple of years ago: "He was so green his breath smelled like cordwood."

LUM HARRIS, manager of the Houston National baseball league entry, when asked how he reacted to the club's new nickname: "I plain like it. I don't see why some people have been making fun of it. There's nothing funny about an astronaut, and I hope there will be nothing funny about our performance on the field. I think it will become more popular than 'Colt 45's' ever was, particularly if we get off to a good start next season. After all, we are moving into a new baseball era with a domed stadium and I think the nickname is more fitting."

A baseball observer, when told that the New York Mets had acquired both Yogi Berra and Warren Spahn: "That's like adding two more statues to Madam Tussaud's wax works."

FURMAN BISHOP, Atlanta writer: "You put something down in print here and those Milwaukee papers can make it sound like it was released by Tass and published in Pravda. They like us so good in Milwaukee that you can't buy a Coca-Cola without proving you're 21 years old. 'Gone With The Wind' has been moved from the public libraries, except that chapter about the burning of Atlanta.... Casey Stengel said something about Milwaukee being a 'bush town' seven years ago and they still boo him every time he shows his face on the field. Peculiarly, however, they still somewhat proudly call themselves residents of 'Bushville' and who am I to dispute an appellation so rightfully earned."

FRANK BROYLES, Arkansas football mentor: "I watched Alabama and Auburn on television. I saw Auburn make 19 first downs running right up the middle. I don't believe Alabama can stop Texas and I know Texas can stop Alabama."

Bad News Barnes Pro Ball Lot Different

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim (Bad News) Barnes is too busy studying to pay much attention to the drum-beaters who are touting him as the National Basketball Association's rookie of the year.

"There is so much to learn," said the 6-foot-9, 240-pounder from Texas Western College during a break in the New York Knickerbockers' workout Monday.

"I'm still having a tough time adjusting to the pro brand of play. I had no idea there was so much work to be done in making the change from college basketball."

"In college, I played four years with my back to the basket. Now I have to learn to play facing the basket. In college, there was plenty of time to set up plays. In the NBA, we have 24 seconds. We can't go from side to side, as we did in college. The plays have to be shorter, snappier."

Barnes, who has earned a starting role with the Knicks along with rookies Emmette Bryant, Howard Komives and Willis Reed, has proven to be a rugged rebounder, with a good touch and an outside shot, a def-

Dominquez Risks Boxing Crown

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Texas lightweight championship goes on the line tonight when Henry Dominquez of Houston risks his title against Blackie Zamora of Corpus Christi. It will be a 12-round bout. The 10-round semifinal matches Luis Leija of San Antonio with Pepe Alba of Monterrey. They are featherweights.

Dooley Fretting Over Workouts

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Georgia Coach Vince Dooley says he's getting a little worried about the Bulldogs and their Sun Bowl football date with Texas Tech because of the limited practice he's been forced to hold.

Georgia has been able to get in but light, short workouts because of final examinations and will have only four or five days of heavy work before meeting the Red Raiders Dec. 26.

"We've had to make them study and forget about practice," Dooley said. "About the only thing we've been able to do is to run and keep our legs in shape."

Alabama Returns To Heavy Work

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Heavy contact work, the first in several weeks, was in store today for the Alabama football team.

Coach Paul Bryant has not suited up his national champions in pads since the Thanksgiving Day game with Auburn.

"Bama plays Texas New Year's night in the Orange Bowl at Miami. The Crimson Tide worked on game plans Monday night indoors.

Two-A-Day Workouts Ordered For Tulsa

HOUSTON (AP) — Coach Glenn Dobbs ordered morning and afternoon workouts today for his Tulsa Hurricane, which clashes with Mississippi Saturday in the sixth annual Bluebonnet Bowl classic.

He said that Wednesday through Friday the team would drill only in the afternoon. The single workouts later in the week will be held at 3 p.m.

The team arrived in Houston on three separate planes Monday, the last setting down about 8 p.m.

The last passenger off the second plane was passing whiz Jerry Rhyme, attired in a gaily colored University of Tulsa football jacket.

He was met by Lou Hassell and Lloyd Gregory, the Bluebonnet Bowl executives, who presented him with a western hat.

the Oilers under the goal posts Saturday. "That's what I had planned," he said, "but I'll need more time, now."

He won't be able to see the Oilers play the Denver Broncos here Sunday afternoon. He will leave that morning for Miami where he will quarterback the South in the Shrine game Christmas Day.

Rhyme's multi-colored jacket drew the glances of bystanders as he was greeted by Hassell, Gregory and newsmen.

Were they his school colors? Someone asked.

"That's a good question," Rhyme smiled. "You couldn't tell by this jacket, could you? I was at Tulsa a year before somebody told me our colors were gold, red and blue."

Saturday's game is expected to draw about 50,000 fans to Rice University's 70,000-seat stadium, ABC, and will begin at 2:30 p.m., CST.

Tulsa boasts an 8-2 record and Mississippi is 5-4-1.

Rhyme has broken 17 NCAA passing and total offense records this year. He has thrown 326 passes for 2,870 yards and 32 touchdowns.

Mississippi, a tough ground team, is also expected to use the air lanes. Ole Miss quarterback Jim Weatherly tossed 107 passes and completed 91 for 1,034 yards and five touchdowns.

NAVY'S WAYNE HARDIN
His future is in doubt

Hardin's Contract Given Perusal By Navy Brass

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Naval Academy still is deliberating legal and other questions in the five-year contract of Wayne Hardin, who reportedly is through as head football coach at Navy.

Officials announced after a two-hour meeting Monday that further sessions would be necessary. "We fully expect to have a statement on Thursday," Capt. William S. Busik, director of athletics, said.

He said any speculation about Hardin's status until that time would be premature, that the "whole spectrum" of his contract was under review.

Busik confirmed that the board of athletic control, of which he is a member, had been in touch with Hardin's lawyer, B. Nathaniel Richter of Philadelphia. The coach did not attend the meeting, but Busik said he was advised of proceedings and seemed satisfied with them.

The delay only served to heighten speculation that the principal question was whether to buy up all or part of the four years remaining in the contract.

Hardin reportedly makes about $18,000 a year.

Hardin's new contract took effect last January after a 9-1 season in which Navy ranked No. 2 nationally and received a Cotton Bowl bid. His team this year finished 3-6-1, including his first loss to Army in six years.

SWC 11s Go Back To Work

Southwest Conference bowl teams are at it hot and heavy this week.

Texas had its first work in pads Monday as the Longhorns started getting ready for their Jan. 1 date with Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

End Knox Nunally missed practice because of a knee injury and end Sandy Sands and fullback Tim Doerr still are unable to work because of old injuries.

Arkansas also held a workout in pads as the Razorbacks got in their first practice since the close of the regular season and Coach Frank Broyles commented on the enthusiasm shown by his squad. Arkansas meets Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas Tech, priming for the Sun Bowl date with Georgia Dec. 26, worked out lightly Monday but scheduled a full scale drill today. Quarterback James Ellis will miss both because he will be in Houston for a meeting of the regional Rhodes scholarship selection committee.

Aggies Claim Fifth In Row

Texas A&M whipped Houston 74-67 for its fifth straight victory Monday night and the favorite-makers started eyeing the defending Southwest Conference champions despite the fact that Baylor is the only unbeaten team left in the league.

The hot-shooting Aggies, led by John Beasley with 24 points, pulled to a 48-33 halftime lead but ran into a cold streak in the last half and the Cougars cut the margin to seven points.

While the Aggies were showing their muscles, Texas lost another intersectional game.

The Longhorns forced Oklahoma State into overtime but the Sooner Aggies pulled out of a 67-67 tie with 1:45 left in the extra period and got six points while Texas couldn't count any more.

Gary Hassmann of Oklahoma State scored 23 points as high man of the game.

The score was tied 10 times and the lead changed hands seven times.

Two conference members have intersectional games tonight. Arkansas is host to Tulsa, conqueror of Southern Methodist, and SMU plays the team it beat in the opening game, Oklahoma City University, at Oklahoma City.

Venturi Says He's Miffed Over Slight

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Who are really the "Big Two" of American golf?

Is it Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the leading money winners and recent victors in the international Canada Cup competition in Hawaii?

Or is it any combination of Ken Venturi, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols, winners of the three big medal play championships?

Venturi, the reigning U.S. Open champion, would like an answer. If necessary he would like it in a head-to-head, winner-take-all match on five of the best golf courses in the country.

"I always have thought — long before this year — that winning the U.S. Open was the major achievement in golf and that the man who grabs it should represent his country in an event like the Canada Cup," the Professional Golfers Association's Golfer of the Year said today.

"Frankly, I was offended because I wasn't chosen on the team this year. Bobby Nichols should have been equally upset."

"Between us, we won four of the six major tournaments in the matter of prestige. I won the Open and the American Classic. Bobby won the PGA and the Carlings World. Lema won the British Open and Palmer the Masters."

"Nicklaus and Palmer were picked to represent the United States in the Canada Cup. Rightfully, the two positions should have gone to the Open and PGA champions."

"I thought this five years ago. I'll think it next year when I may not win anything."

Venturi said in order to accent his point he would like to team with Lema in a challenge match against Nicklaus and Palmer, the best three-of-five best-ball matches on five outstanding courses.

"Let us put up $10,000 each and they put up the same, let television sweeten the pot for perhaps a $100,000 purse and see what happens," Venturi said. "I'm sure Lema would be all for it."

Kramer Heads North Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — All-America tackle Larry Kramer of Nebraska heads a 27-man North squad announced today for the 16th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 9.

The squad — as did the South team announced Sunday — includes for the first time two Negro players. They are 6-4, 240-pound Michigan State tackle Jerry Rush and Utah end Roy Jefferson, a 6-2, 190-pounder.

The South's Negro players are Olympic sprinter Bob Hayes and Bob Felts, Florida A. & M. backs.

Big Ten quarterbacks Rich Badar of Indiana and Tom Myers of Northwestern will direct the North offense.

All but one of the 27 North players were picked in the drafts by National and American Football League teams and three of the squadmen were first-round choices.

Rhyme and Billy Anderson, Tulsa's No. 2 quarterback, had spent the weekend in Dallas and both flew down on the same plane.

The Ole Miss team will fly out of Oxford Thursday and exercise on the Rice University facilities Thursday and Friday.

Rhyme, the nation's leading college passer and a draft choice of the Houston Oilers and the Dallas Cowboys, left his car and personal belongings at the Dallas home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Rhome.

Rhyme said there was nothing to a report he would sign with

Marsh Stopped By Jim Boyde

DALLAS (AP) — Jimmy Boyde, 178, Dallas, scored a seventh round technical knock-out over Bill Marsh, 170, Little Rock, in their scheduled 10-round fight Monday night.

Marsh failed to come out for the seventh round. He suffered a cut eye and a cut mouth and he told his second, "I've had enough."

There were no knockdowns.

DENNIS THE MENACE

'Hey, Mom! Who's THIS 'MUND YA OF?'

NEW PREMIER

Marxist Ousted, Guinea Realigns

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — Forbes Burnham today began lining up a new government for British Guiana after Britain swiftly changed the colony's constitution to permit the ouster of Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan.

Burnham said he expected to get his government fully in action by the end of the week.

The new premier's People's National Congress party won slightly more than 40 per cent of the vote in the Dec. 7 election.

Road Bids Tabulated

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Highway Commission tabulated $17,911,666 in low bids on road projects Monday.

This brought to $35,359,367 the total for two days of tabulation. The projects include, by counties:

Waller, Fort Bend and Harris — 8.6 miles of paving on Interstate 10 from 3 mile west of the Katy - Fort Bend County Road to FM 359, H. B. Zachry Co., San Antonio, $3,870,747.

Van Zandt and Henderson — 3.6 miles of surfacing on FM 2010 from FM 279 south to FM 315 in Chandler, Stan Pennington, Grapeland, $70,049.

Harrison — stretch of paving and surface treatment on Interstate 20 from FM 31 to 7 miles west of Louisiana line, Bi-Co Pavers, Inc., Dallas, $1,558,203.

Grayson — FM 2729 from FM 121 at Cannon north to FM 697 at White Rock, 9 miles, surfacing, R. W. McKinney, Nacogdoches, $274,961.

CHEDDI JAGAN

chief of state, and Burnham was sworn in.

The order provides "that if any time before the House of Assembly meets the governor informs the premier that he is about to reappoint him or to appoint another person as premier, then the premier, and all other ministers and parliamentary secretaries, are forthwith to vacate their offices."

Jagan has accused his opposition of fraudulent tactics in the election.

Barry Has Only Himself To Blame, Rocky Asserts

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says Sen. Barry M. Goldwater should blame himself and not fellow Republicans for the party's losses in the November election.

The governor charged that Goldwater, as the presidential candidate, "undermined Republican unity and threatened public confidence in the very future of the party."

Goldwater had accused Rockefeller of contributing to the GOP defeat.

ROCKY REPORTS
Rockefeller replied Monday night:

"His (Goldwater's) positions on key issues of the day did not reflect traditional Republican thinking nor a point of view acceptable to a great majority of the American people. It is this, and this alone which, in my opinion, resulted in his defeat."

Goldwater, in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report, said he believed he lost the presidency the day he won the Republican nomination July 15.

He laid particular blame on Rockefeller and Gov. George Romney of Michigan as among challengers for the nomination who had painted a "caricature" of Goldwater.

That "caricature" Goldwater said, depicted him as trigger-happy and as a foe of the Social Security System and led to the landslide election victory for President Johnson.

Goldwater also said, however, that only President Dwight D. Eisenhower — who was not eligible for a third term — could have beaten Johnson.

"NOT IN DEPTH"

In Michigan, Romney said he never was able to discuss issues in depth with Goldwater before July 15. Throughout the campaign, Romney maintained that he differed with Goldwater on issues, not on personality.

A third governor, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, figured in the dispute because Goldwater had named him as a contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Romney, and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

nia. Hatfield said in Salem, Ore., Monday night, "to be included in such distinguished company is an honor in itself. But the requirements of state government in Oregon are the order of the day in this office."
