Record Traffic Toll Tallied

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll zoomed to a record high in 1964. That was made clear in the National Safety Council's announcement Saturday that such fatalities numbered 43,390 in the first 11 months of last year — only 210 shy of the record of 43,600 set in the full year of 1963.

celebration soared to 474, the highest ever reported for a turn-of-the-year holiday period. The loss of life in the eleventh month of last year set a high for any November. The count was 4,140. The council estimated that in the first 11 months of last year 1.5 million Americans suffered injuries that disabled them beyond the day of the traffic accident, and a similar number got off with lesser injuries.

brought more exposure to danger. The council estimated that motorists traveled 771 billion miles during the first 11 months of last year, a gain of five per cent from the corresponding period of the previous year. The mileage death rate rose to 5.6 per 100 million vehicle miles, pushing up from 5.4 during the first 11 months of 1963. Staff members of the Traffic Institute of Northwestern University made suggestions for coping with the growing problem in articles in their publication, Traffic Digest. They proposed: More adequate training of police officers. Training city engineers to handle traffic engineering functions in smaller communities that now are experiencing rapid growth. Research into such questions as to why people commit traffic violations, what human errors cause accidents, how much speed contributes to smashups. "Quality control" for drivers, including re-examination, programs with periodic tests of vision and knowledge of traffic laws. Driver improvement programs to help motorists with bad records.

Civilians Given Control Of Viet Nam Government

Still Short Of U.S. Demands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Military leaders who purged the government three weeks ago formally restored civilian governmental power Saturday but failed to meet all the demands of the United States. American officials called the move a step in the right direction, however. A communique said an agreement signed by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and Premier Tran Van Huong had placed legislative powers in the hands of the nation's civilian chief of state, Phan Khanh Sui. These powers had been held by the civilian High National Council, which was dissolved by the military Dec. 29 in a bloodless purge.

the purge, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, said then a national congress would be convened by Sui in a maximum of three months. No time limit was given in Saturday's communique. VICTORY Thus, it appeared Khanh walked away with a diplomatic victory over the United States and seemed to remain the strong man of South Viet Nam. The United States held back some of its financial aid to the Vietnamese government because the military leaders had wiped out the council. The U.S. view was that while there may have been some things wrong with the council, it was a basis for representative democracy and should be maintained. Commenting on the communique, one source said: "All it does really is legalize what the armed forces did on Dec. 29."

Senate Panel To Examine U.S. Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A quick examination of the explosive Viet Nam situation was ordered Saturday by a blue ribbon panel of senators. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., summoned director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency for a closed-door briefing Monday in which some 30 senators may participate. Russell, who has been publicly critical about U.S. military aid and operations in both Viet Nam and the Congo, called recently for prompt re-evaluation of U.S. policies. Invited to the secret session were the 17 members of the Armed Services Committee and 13 other senators who sit on the appropriations subcommittee which handles the multibillion annual defense money bills. The briefing will start a detailed Senate examination of this nation's military posture and global trouble spots.

Viet Cong Hits Close To Saigon

MY YEN, South Viet Nam (AP) — A young West Point graduate died Saturday calling for reinforcements during a Communist attack on this outpost only 10 miles from Saigon. The gunfire was heard clearly in the capital. Help came, but it was only from the air — and it was too late. The Viet Cong had cut off ground approaches and stymied nearby artillery support. U.S. advisers expressed the belief that scores of other Americans with small Vietnamese units scattered in the provinces around Saigon and involved in a major pacification program are faced with the same fate. "We have dozens of little units doing little jobs," one adviser said. "But when these units get hit hard there are not enough forces around to come to their assistance. They are on their own, like My Yen Saturday morning." The U.S. lieutenant killed in the fight was with a 100-man

Recommends Merging Air Reserve, Air Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force staff has recommended merging all Air Reserve squadrons into the Air National Guard. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is expected to announce the merger next week. The result will be a single streamlined backup to the regular Air Force — an expanded Air Guard of some 112,000 men. The Associated Press learned Saturday that the staff recommendation was sent formally to Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert on Friday. It was due to be forwarded to McNamara promptly. His approval is virtually certain. The staff recommendation, made without reservation and after months of study, ran counter to the long-held views of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, outgoing Air Force chief of staff. LeMay strongly opposed eliminating the Air Reserve structure. The Air Reserve plan follows the general pattern established when McNamara announced elimination of the organized Army Reserve and its merger with an expanded National Guard of 550,000 men. The Air Reserve Guard reorganization is intended to eliminate duplication, increase efficiency and combat-readiness. Money savings will be relatively small. There now are about 54,000 Air Force ready reservists drawing pay for training.

203 DAYS Without A Traffic Fatality Drive Safely!

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

Our area had more than its share of violence and tragedy during the past week. Three Plainview men — Carl J. Scoggins, Robert Dale Ballard and Vernon Grady Hill — were killed when their car flipped three times in Glasscock County 13.7 miles south on Ranch Road 33 a week ago tonight. Then on Wednesday just west of Stanton, Mrs. Jennie Buck, 23, and her 14-month-old daughter, Gloria, were hurt fatally when their car angled across an opposing lane and was hit by a truck. C. J. Soap, driver of their car, had a shattered arm and legs. Another tragedy also occurred over the weekend. Mrs. Olive Booker, wife of Sgt. Lawrence Booker, fell in the bathroom at their home and was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital. The hearing of the Colorado River Municipal Water District application to impound a lake at Robert Lee is all over but the summations with filing of briefs on Feb. 8. District officials are still hopeful that a permit will be granted, contending that the urgency of the need justifies such a decision. Unfortunately,

3 MILLIONTH SUBSCRIBER TO TEXAS NEWSPAPERS IS SOUGHT

Paid subscriptions to daily newspapers in Texas are inching toward the 3-million mark. That milestone should be reached this month, and in this connection a special statewide program is being arranged to recognize the three-millionth subscriber, and also the newspaper carrier who signs up that person. The event is being sponsored by the Texas Circulation Managers Association and the Texas Daily Newspaper Association. The Herald is a member of both and cooperating in the "Texas 3 Million" event. This will extend from January 11 to January 23, and an elaborate computer system on special cards will determine which subscriber to a Texas paper during that period will become the three-millionth in the state. Herald carriers during the next two weeks will be telling the story of the "Texas 3 Million" event and the part subscribers may have in it.

Reynolds Says Hope Dim For Averting Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Labor James R. Reynolds tried Saturday to bridge a gap between longshoremen and their union leaders but said he saw little possibility of staving off a costly dock strike at 12:01 a.m. Monday. "I believe a strike in the long-shore industry is a distinct possibility," Reynolds said after he arrived here from Washington. He said he carried no message from President Johnson to union and shipping officials. But he said the President was being kept informed of all developments by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. Speaking on behalf of Wirtz, Reynolds expressed "grave concern" that a strike in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports would have "a potentially serious impact on the economy of the country at a time when it is enjoying high levels of activity." Shippers planned to ask President Johnson for congressional intervention compelling arbitration of dock workers walk off as scheduled. President Thomas W. Gleason of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association formally notified union locals in ports from Maine to Texas that New York members turned down the settlement pact and would strike. By long-standing custom, a strike here would halt work by 60,000 to 70,000 longshoremen on piers of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. TOGETHER "We all work together or we stop together," Gleason said. Even as he announced the ending conference with Reynolds, Gleason said nothing could be done to head off the walkout. "The strike is a foregone conclusion," he said. Stung by the 8,722 to 7,957 vote rejecting a settlement, he considers the best the union has ever negotiated, Gleason sought to explain the development.

Opponents Concede A Barnes' Win

Claims He Has Support As Speaker

AUSTIN (AP) — Conservative Rep. Ben Barnes of De Leon said Saturday he had pledges from more than 120 of the 149 Texas representatives to vote for him Tuesday for speaker. A simple majority elects. Rep. Byron Tunnell of Tyler, until Friday a sure shot for reelection to the powerful post in the legislature, was appointed Railroad Commissioner and this threw the job up for bids. Barnes, had been rated a top candidate for the office in 1967. Candidates other than Barnes appeared downhearted. "It's all over. There's no use in getting on a sinking ship," Rep. George Richardson of Fort Worth said. Richardson and five other House members enthusiastically announced plans Friday to oppose Barnes; the young University of Texas law student with a conservative record during his two terms.

Fireworks Ready For Legislature

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' lawmakers gather Tuesday for a four-month head-knocking session that has everything but peace on the agenda. Numerous predictions were that a 120 to 140 day session wouldn't have enough time and that at least one 30-day special session may be required. Gov. John Connally said, however, he believes the 181 senators and representatives can handle the job in one regular session, if they want to. Rep. Frank Cahoon, a freshman from Midland, is the sole Republican minority. Once the legislature gets organized, plenty of legislative fireworks are ready. An Associated Press survey showed that most senators and representatives think the top issues will be in order: Redistricting. More taxes. Upgrading state colleges. Pay raises for teachers. CONTROVERSY Such controversial proposals as sale of mixed drinks, horse race gambling, raising college tuition fees and pooling of oil and gas leases also will keep anyone under the Capitol dome from getting bored, the survey showed. Connally already has asked the legislature to find $3.64 billion from all funds to finance state operations for the next two fiscal years, ending Aug. 31, 1967. He said Friday he still believes expected 1966-67 income plus an estimated $96 million surplus from 1964-65 operations will cover his money demands. Any added spending, such as increased public welfare payments or a school teachers' pay raise, would call for more taxes. Texas lawmakers are watching closely President Johnson's health and welfare proposals in Congress, many of which would offer federal money only if it is matched by state funds. PAY HIKE The Texas State Teachers Association says at least two-thirds of the legislators are pledged to a $45 a month pay hike for school marmas. Teachers' spokesmen asserted an "adjustment" in state taxes could finance the $68 million pay raise and other education improvements. Most tax money hunters point toward the 2 per cent sales tax which already furnishes 12 cents of every state revenue dollar but is lower than similar levies in surrounding states. Tuesday's activities start with a closed door caucus of the Senate to pick an assistant presiding officer, the president pro tempore, to wield the gavel when Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is not present. If seniority records are followed, Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, who was elected in January, 1960, will be in line among those who have not had the honor. At noon, as prescribed by the Constitution, the lieutenant governor and Secretary of State Crawford Martin rap the 59th legislature into session. Martin will remain as presiding officer in the House until a speaker is elected. OATH In the Senate the lieutenant governor will administer the oath of office to new Sens. Jack Snelson of Vernon and Pete Snelson of Midland and to the 13 re-elected senators. All 42 new state representatives have already taken the oath, and signed on the $4,800 a year pay roll. After a lengthy roll call, the nominating and seconding speeches for speakership begin, followed by a secret ballot. After a speaker is elected and some time before Connally's Jan. 27 speech to the legislature, the heads of each house will make their important committee assignments. There are 43 standing committees in the House and 24 in the Senate.

Rescuers Battle Slide Debris

HOPE, B.C. (AP)—A massive rock, mud and snow slide plunged down a mountainside and across a highway Saturday. British Columbia highway minister P. A. Gagliardi said it was believed three vehicles and four persons were trapped. Bits of clothing were found scattered over a mile and a half area of rubble. Gagliardi estimated the size of the slide at 15 million cubic yards. "It started at the top of a mountain and roared across the valley 1,000 feet up a mountain on the other side," the highway official said after inspecting the area. He blamed the slide on mild weather, producing thawing which caused snow to break loose on the mountain. Tank truck driver Norman Stephanishin reported he parked his truck behind a car carrying two men and a girl which stopped when the highway was blocked by a smaller slide at about 4 a.m. PST. Another truck with a load of hay pulled in behind the tank truck. The hay truck driver was identified as Thomas Starchuk of Aldergrove, B.C. The identities of the three persons in the car were not known. Stephanishin said the men were in their 20s and the girl about 18.

Trucker Not Seriously Hurt

A truck driver narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday night when his tractor-trailer unit, loaded with produce, struck a bridge eight miles east of Coahoma on US 80 and overturned, throwing him through the windshield. The driver, Charles Barrett, of Newton, Miss., was taken to Cowper Clinic Hospital with possible arm and back injuries, but apparently not seriously injured. He said the truck hit the bridge when the vehicle's steering mechanism locked. Barrett said the truck was possibly a total loss. He was enroute to Phoenix, Ariz., when the accident occurred.

BS Savings Picks A New President

Billy Wayne Jones, 33, currently serving as executive vice president of the Permian Savings & Loan Association in Kermit, has been named president of the Big Spring Savings and Loan Association. Announcement of his election was made by the board of directors here Saturday. Jones will assume his new duties on Feb. 1 as president and chief executive officer. He succeeds Russell Bennett, who recently took a position in El Paso. Jones, a native of West Texas, has been active in church and civic work in Kermit during the two years he has been with the association there. He is vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, president of the official board of the Kermit Methodist Church, and secretary-treasurer of the Kermit Rotary Club. Mrs. Jones is the former Doris Marie Houts, to whom he was married in 1955 in Fort Worth, and they have one daughter, Terri, 7, a second grader. He was born in Albany, Tex., where he graduated from high school in 1948 and where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Copeland Jones, still reside. He took an associate degree in business administration at San Angelo College, interrupted his studies at the University of Texas to put in four years in the Air Force. He trained at San Antonio, served at Perrin AFB before going overseas to serve in the auditor general's office in Tokyo, Japan. Upon his return to the United States, he was at San Marcos AFB briefly before returning to the university to complete his BBA degree work in 1956. He also did some graduate work at Central College (1957-59) and took part in the University of Texas Junior executive training session sponsored by the Texas Savings and Loan Association. Jones was with Continental Oil Company as scout and landman for nearly four years, going from there to Granger Corporation at Breckenridge in 1960.

BILLY WAYNE JONES

Not Eager To Rebuild GOP, S. Demo Bloc

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST WASHINGTON (AP) — The new leader of the House Republicans says he is not eager to rebuild the GOP-Southern Democrat coalition that has played an important role in previous congresses. Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press, said a renewal of the alliance with conservative Southern Democrats could hurt the GOP chances of building an effective two-party system in the South. Ford, who replaced Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana as floor leader of the House Republicans last Monday, gave the following answers to questions put to him during the interview: Q. What is the basic ideological difference, if there is any, between you and Charley Halleck? Ford: All of the so-called scorecards that are kept by these organizations that rate members of Congress on how they vote, tend to indicate that Charley Halleck and I have very minor differences philosophically, if there is a difference. Perhaps I'm more of an internationalist than he but here the difference would be not too significant. Q. You and some other Republicans have talked about coming up with a Republican alternative to the — to some Democratic programs. Do you have an alternative to President Johnson's medical aid bill? Ford: There will be a Republican alternative, but the final work on this has not been completed. I'm told that the minority members of the committee on Ways and Means, under John Byrnes of Wisconsin, will have a proposal that will be unveiled and submitted to the public and to Congress in the very near future. Q. Will it be set up within the framework of the Social Security system? Ford: I have not gone into the details with John yet. I felt I ought to wait until they got a little further down the road. Q. Do you think that the Republicans and the conservative Southern Democrats will ever again form an effective coalition as they have done in some past years? Ford: I believe the Republicans shouldn't start out with the assumption that there will be such a coalition in the preparation of our plans and our strategy. The Republican party can only build itself in the South if it does things that will elect Republicans down South. And I'm not sure, based on past history, that having a tightly knit coalition with the Southern Democrats is helpful in getting Republicans elected in the Southern states. So therefore, I don't believe that we ought to handle it quite the way we did in the past.

Course Gets Approval Here

The Texas Education Agency has given tentative approval to the inclusion of a vocational office education course in Big Spring High School. The course would be for senior students who have completed typing and shorthand or bookkeeping. More than 30 advanced students have expressed an interest in the course, which could grant one credit per semester for a maximum of two credits. Most of the students plan to go directly into office employment or further business training upon graduation in the spring. According to C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services, the proposed course would give intensive classroom practice in the operation of business machines and procedures, including machine transcription, calculator operation, filing and other skills. Other essentials such as spelling and business math would be stressed. The course would operate on a cooperative basis much as the current distributive education and industrial cooperative training programs. Students would spend a portion of the day working in a local business firm with specific job skills needed for such employment being stressed in the laboratory course. Any firm or agency employing a general office, secretarial or bookkeeping person would be eligible to act as an employer upon agreeing to provide on-the-job supervision.

Indonesian Move Draws Comments

NEW YORK (AP) — U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, returned to New York from a Caribbean vacation Friday night and gave his views about Indonesia's decision to leave the U.N. He said he had not received formal withdrawal notification. Thant explained that if Indonesia chose to leave and later wished to return to the U.N., "they would have to go through the normal procedure."

Lone Star Scouters Set High Goals

The Lone Star Boy Scout district finished the past year with a membership midway between the previous year's total and the goal. Immediately, Bill Crooker, chairman of organization and extension, hiked goals for 1965. His report highlighted a meeting of the district committee under R. L. Tollett at Cosden Country Club Thursday evening. At the end of the year there were 665 Cubs, 635 Scouts, and 180 Explorers, a total of 1,470. This compared with 1,436 the previous year and the new goal of 1,555. Crooker said his committee was aiming for at least eight more units and an increased enrollment in existing units. Membership records are well above the Buffalo Trail Council averages. Plans were made for representation from this district at the council Explorer conference on Jan. 16 and the annual meeting on Jan. 18. Both are in Midland. Reports by Frosty Robison, said in making the announcement. He pointed out only a limited number of officers are invited to attend these sessions, and only outstanding officers recommended by their departments are eligible. City Manager Larry Crow explained that the invitation was the end result of several years work. He is hopeful other officers here may get similar invitations in the future. J. Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the FBI's district office at Dallas, notified Banks of the invitation. The academy session will last 12 weeks, beginning March 8, 1965. Following 10 weeks of training in general police subjects, participants then select a field of specialization for the final two weeks. There is no charge to the city or Tollett. Tollett, though pleased with the announcement, was all but speechless. "It's a great opportunity," he said, "and I certainly appreciate Chief Banks and the city recommending me for it." Tollett joined the police department as a rookie in May, 1958. Except for 1½ years in the armed forces, he has been with the department since, in the patrol and traffic divisions before moving into the detectives' office about 1½ years ago.

Ask Locks For Sabine

LONGVIEW (AP) — A bill seeking creation of a navigation district to build three locks on the Sabine River will be introduced in the legislature, a group said Saturday. The locks would be between Gregg County and Logansport, La. Sponsors said the locks would make the stream navigable for barges. Sponsoring the proposal is the Sabine River Navigation Association. It would be financed by revenue bonds without taxation. The steering committee is composed of Jasper Allbright, Longview; A. G. Morton, Kilgore; William Gaw and Don Harper, Marshall; Tom Bankhead and W. C. Applegate, Carthage; and Homer Bryce and W. A. Preston, Henderson. Walter Koch of Longview is secretary. The four counties involved are Gregg, Rusk, Harrison and Panola. At a meeting in Longview Dec. 7, the committee decided to raise $10,000 for expenses. Henry Harbour, Longview lawyer, prepared the proposed bill and it was approved by the committee this week. Preliminary work has been done on a survey of potential barge movement on the Sabine. This information has been relayed to the Galveston offices of U. S. Engineers, which is conducting its own survey to determine the feasibility of barge traffic on the river.

Quints First, Now Twins Predicted

Lowell Jones Takes Helm At Coke Plant

C. L. (Jack) Roden, who has been manager of the Big Spring plant of Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Co. since 1937, has retired. Lowell J. Jones, long-time employe of the company, assumed the manager's role Jan. 1. The Big Spring plant serves a six-county area and operates warehouses in Midland and Lamesa.

Jones is a native Texan, born in Bryson, Jack County. He received his BA degree from North Texas State University and attended the University of Texas where he did post graduate work in business administration.

Jones and his wife, Mauvis, live at 1401 E. 6th Street. They are members of the First Methodist Church, where he is a member of the official board and the Fisherman's Club of the church. Jones is active in the YMCA health program and a golfer at Big Spring Country Club. He is now chairman of the Boy Scout Troop committee of the Big Spring Rotary Club.

Judy Jones, a daughter, is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is now enrolled at Texas Tech. A married son lives in Torrance, Calif., and a married daughter in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Jones' experience in the bottling industry began with the Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in Dallas. He has worked in Michigan and California in the automobile industry at both the manufacturing level and in retail sales. He returned to the Coa-Cola Company in 1963.

LOWELL N. JONES

He retired as manager of the Big Spring Coca-Cola Bottling plant Jan. 1, and went to work as a new car salesman at Shasta Ford Sales Jan. 4.

C. L. (Jack) Roden said he couldn't stand to be inactive.

"I'd not only go crazy, but would run my wife crazy," he said.

Roden, a native of Oklahoma, lived in Honey Grove, Texas, for several years before going to Abilene with the Coca-Cola Company. He and Mrs. Roden were married in Honey Grove, where he was graduated from high school.

He began work with the Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in Abilene, where the general offices are located, in 1933. Four years later he came to Big Spring as plant manager, and served for 25 years.

"At that time the plant was located at 1008 E. 3rd in the present Auction House," he said. "There were about five employes then. The present plant was built in May, 1953, and the firm has more than 30 employes."

Mr. and Mrs. Roden live at 606 Bucknell. They have a married son in Abilene and a married daughter in Pasadena. Both are members of the First Methodist Church.

Leader During Crisis Dies

LONDON (AP) — Viscount Monckton, a central figure in the constitutional crisis leading to the abdication of King Edward VIII in 1936, died today of pneumonia. He was 73.

Monckton, who was a minister in Winston Churchill's postwar government, died at his home in Sussex. He had been ill for several months.

Monckton and Edward were university friends at Oxford. Monckton became the prince's attorney general. When Edward reigned briefly, Monckton was his legal adviser.

Years later Monckton disclosed that he had received huge offers to tell his inside story of Edward's abdication and marriage to Wallis Warfield Simpson, an American divorcee.

Monckton never told the story, which, he said, was locked in a bank vault. Whether it will be told now that he is dead is not known.

To kings, Monckton was a man who could keep a sacred confidence. To ordinary men — to striking workers with whom he might be mediating as minister of labor — he was known as an honest fair-dealer.

As minister of labor he helped steer the nation through some of its worst industrial storms, and was hailed by many as one of the best such ministers the country ever had.

Monckton came late into politics, in the Churchill government. He was then aged 60 and known as Sir Walter Monckton. The knighthood he earned for his services to the royal family.

Delay Foreseen In Minting Cartwheels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 45 million silver dollars authorized by Congress last year may never be minted, administration sources said Saturday.

Minting of the round dollars probably will be postponed until decisions are made on the broader problem of the silver content of other coins.

Administration policymakers said Congress will be asked meanwhile to rescind its action authorizing the new silver dollars. This request will be related to general recommendations to relieve shortages of coins and silver.

Plans had been announced last year to start issuing the new coins either late last year or early in 1965.

There seems little doubt that the Treasury will ask that the amount of silver now in the coins in general use be reduced or eliminated.

If the silver dollars were minted, the Treasury would be put in the awkward position of recommending silver conservation in minor coins while consuming 38 million ounces of silver in producing a coin which has virtually disappeared from circulation in many parts of the country.

A shortage of all coins has persisted for several years despite a tremendous increase in production. Treasury officials have said there are signs of some slight easing of the coin shortage. But there is usually some "flowback" of coins into Federal Reserve banks after the Christmas shopping season and officials probably will observe this flowback before making a final decision on silver coinage.

No silver dollars have been minted for about 30 years. Their use is limited to a few western states and to trade promotions elsewhere.

Frenchman Made Nation's 1st Flight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — On Jan. 9, 1793, the Gazette of the United States, a twice-weekly newspaper, reported:

"This day, weather permitting, M. Blanchard takes his flight; the balloon we are assured with rise precisely at 10 o'clock."

A few hours later, as a band played, cannon boomed and President George Washington watched, Jean Pierre Blanchard and a little black dog set off from this then capitol of the United States on what is recorded as the first manned flight in this country.

On some past anniversaries various balloonists or early flight enthusiasts have marked the occasion, but no public ceremony was held Saturday on the 252nd anniversary of the flight.

The balloon rose from a courtyard near Independence Hall and landed 15 miles away near Woodbury, N. J. The flight lasted 46 minutes and Blanchard reported he flew as high as 5,312 feet.

Blanchard, a Frenchman, had made 44 flights in Europe before setting out that morning. The day dawned overcast, but the clouds burned away by 10. The temperature was about 55 degrees.

Blanchard arranged to take off from the courtyard so admission could be charged. President Washington gave Blanchard a letter of introduction before the take-off.

In his own account, Blanchard wrote: "I could not help being surprised and astonished when I turned my eyes toward the immense number of people, which covered the open places, the roofs, the houses, the steeples, the streets and the roads over which my flight carried me in the free space of the air. What a sight! How delicious for me to enjoy it."

As the balloon rose and then gradually drifted generally southeast, the Gazette reported "anxiety for the safety of the aeronaut was painted on every face."

Blanchard, who spoke no English, proved a surprise to the first men who ran up after seeing the balloon descend.

He said that to the first who appeared, "I showed him a bottle of wine . . . he wouldn't drink. I then drank first and he followed my example."

Others came and he showed them Washington's letter, adding: "How dear the name of Sure.

You might find another car as new as the Delta 88.

But not this year.

This is Oldsmobile's Delta 88. It's unique. Unique because it's new. New clear through.

Styling is new. So new, not a line nor a highlight was borrowed from last year.

Power plant is new. Super Rocket V-8 is the biggest in Olds history: 425-cubic-inches big, up to 370-horsepower.

Transmission is new, too. Turbo Hydra-Matic, available on any Delta 88, provides up to 40% more torque from a standing start, superlative performance at all speeds.

New styling. New engine. New transmission. This year, only Delta 88 lets you have all three, all new. Other cars have a lot of catching up to do.

Sam Rayburn Living Name

BONHAM (AP) — The name of the late speaker of the U. S. House, Sam Rayburn, is still very much before the residents of his home town.

Rayburn died three years ago. Now Fourth Street has become Sam Rayburn Drive, the National Guard Armory has been named the Sam Rayburn Memorial Armory and the Federal Building has been named the Sam Rayburn Federal Building. The Veterans Administration Center may be named for him.

Already, the number of tourists visiting the Rayburn Library has begun to pick up. H. G. Dulaney, curator of the library, said visitors average around 1,000 per month.

"They averaged around 800 the first few years, but the number has been increasing each month in the past year and a half," Dulaney said.

Research students come from the top universities to make use of Mr. Rayburn's papers and letters in their study of government, history and economics," said the curator.

"Many of these students return later to get some particular set of facts which can be found in his papers."

Paper Defends Coeducation

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — "Today there is good reason to believe that the development of a young man's mind is not only not impeded but is enhanced by normal contact with women."

That's the opinion of the Princetonian, paper of the young men of Princeton University.

The undergraduate publication took issue Friday with Princeton President Robert Goheen who, at his monthly news conference in December, said: "Princeton does not have any social problem that coeducation would cure."

Not so, declared the Princetonian. "Coeducation is the solution for Princeton's social illness."

Oil Pioneer Dies Friday

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Dr. John Haring Harvey, 94, who held interests in many major oil field developments in Texas, died Friday night after a long illness.

He practiced dentistry in Waco for many years before retiring in 1914, when he moved to Corpus Christi to become active in the oil business. He was a bachelor.

He had holdings in the discovery fields.

At Mexia and Spindletop at Beaumont. He also had extensive holdings in the initial oil boom in the Laredo area.

Liz Just Wants To Be British

LONDON (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor says she wants to renounce her American citizenship because "I want to become British more than anything else. I like the British best of all."

"It is true I am trying to give up my American citizenship and become completely British," Miss Taylor, 32, told a newsmen as she and her actor husband Richard Burton left a London club Friday night. The glamorous British-born screen star was wearing a bandage and dark glasses over a black eye which an associate called "quite a stinger" received in a tobogganing accident in Switzerland.

Miss Taylor's American agent said earlier in New York that she felt she had already renounced her U.S. citizenship after turning in her American passport to a U.S. embassy official in Paris and signing papers last October.

But the spokesman, John Springer, said that the U.S. State Department refuses to recognize Miss Taylor's renunciation statement because she refused to sign a portion of the oath requiring her to "swear all allegiance and loyalty to the United States."

The actress, who rose to fame and wealth in a spectacular Hollywood movie career, feels that the United States has been good to her. She does not want to give a contrary impression.

"Miss Taylor had made it clear that she cannot honestly sign a statement including those words," Springer said. He added that she was allowed to sign another statement instead.

"Subsequently, she was informed that the State Department objected to the statement in that it did not contain the words," he said.

Miss Taylor's statement claimed that "under American civil law, a citizen cannot exercise citizenship in two countries." It said she "elected to use the citizenship of her birth and her husband." Burton was born in Wales.

However, U.S. legal experts apparently hold that since Miss Taylor was born in Britain the daughter of Americans that she holds dual citizenship. She has never given up her British citizenship, British officials said.

U.S. State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said she can still go through with her renunciation if she wishes to do so by signing the prescribed form in Paris.

British authorities in London referred all inquiries to the American Embassy. "It's a matter for them," he said.

Friends said Miss Taylor and Burton, her fifth husband, want to set up their home in Britain. Burton has made his home in Switzerland in recent years.

Miss Taylor was born in London Feb. 27, 1927, the daughter of Sara Sothorn, an American actress, and Francis Taylor, an art dealer. The family moved to Beverly Hills, Calif., when she was 7.

Mississippi Governor Worries Over Aid Loss

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. Paul B. Johnson says he'll confer with state education and legislative leaders before deciding whether to call a special session of the legislature to consider what to do about the threatened loss of federal school aid unless the state complies with the Civil Rights Act.

"I don't think I should make the decision alone," Johnson said Friday at one of his rare news conferences. "It is a very momentous decision to be made. This is why I think it is a joint responsibility of the leaders of the government."

Asked what advice he had for school districts facing a decision on whether to sign a civil rights compliance pledge, Johnson said he would tell them: "Go ahead with what you are doing until we hear suggestions from other authorities in the state."

Recently Jackson Mayor Allen Thompson said the state should spurn federal aid to education.

Asked if Thompson's stand had influenced him, Johnson replied:

"I'm not influenced by anyone I like to read what other people say and I get something from it. Some of the best advice I get comes from Cooter Jackson down on my place."

Cooter Jackson, the governor explained, is the Negro handyman at his home near Hattiesburg.

Treasuries Take Moves To Prop Pound Sterling

LONDON (AP) — The British and U.S. treasuries have made counter-moves against speculators scrambling for gold and putting pressure on the staggering pound sterling.

Financial circles here said Saturday the vast world-wide game in gold appeared to be fading out under pressure from London and Washington. The U.S. treasury warned that speculators were liable to burn their fingers.

The gold rush put new strains on the Atlantic alliance, as some financial writers blamed President Charles de Gaulle's government for not correcting misconceptions about French plans to switch $100 million in American dollars into gold.

Market operators reported that the London gold market Friday had its lowest dealings since the peak of the Cuban missile crisis in October 1962.

The Paris gold market, too, had to cope with a wild scramble of private hoarders. Turnover was up 300 per cent on the average day's dealings.

The heavy and sustained private demand pushed the London price of gold up by 4 cents to $35.27 to $35.20 an ounce.

The 4 cent jump in price reflected the acute buying pressure in the market. It took the price close to the upper limit of the "gentlemen's agreement" at which the gold pool works.

The gold pool is a vast stock of gold held by the Bank of England, on behalf of an international syndicate of foreign governments, with which it attempts to regulate the price of the metal.

Any further advance in the gold price above $35.20 would, theoretically, put the dollar at a discount compared with the free market price of gold. So this is the price at which the central banks must try to peg the price.

The U.S. Treasury last night warned that speculators would "inevitably end on the losing side." It said the entire U.S. gold stock was available to support the dollar in international markets "at the immutable price of $35 dollars an ounce."

The Treasury said that the London gold market was in firm control and that the market price was allowed to fluctuate merely in order to make speculation more costly.

City Fathers Meet Informally

The city commission discussed possible appointments to its charter revision committee in an informal session Saturday morning.

A list of persons to be contacted by City Manager Larry Crow concerning appointment to the committee was prepared.

City Attorney John Burgess discussed lawsuits and claims pending against the city.

Commissioners considered the possibility of a study concerning a charge for closing alleys and easements in the city. Crow said some cities are adopting such a charge for turning over alley or easement property to private owners.

Crow discussed possible future expansion of the city's public works field office and warehouse property, now located at 911 E. 2nd.

Alaskans Taking Light View Of 'Frozen North'

By JUDY BRADY
Fairbanks News-Miner
FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — "There's one bright spot — we'll be the only town in the country to have outdoor ice hockey in July," said an old-timer with a grin. "Guess this 'Frozen North' business has something to it after all."

With nonchalance of Alaskans toward cold weather, residents here are viewing the month-long stretch of subzero temperatures with more interest than malice.

Only twice through December did the alcohol thermometers — mercury freezes at -40 — climb to above zero, then only for a few hours. Several times temperatures dipped to 60 below. For weeks at a time the temperature has stayed below -50.

Too Cold To Go Outside

Two youngsters in Fairbanks, Alaska, prepare to go out into the cold from the comfort of a nice warm schoolroom recently as Alaska went into its second month of a severe cold snap with temperatures dipping down to a minus 75 degrees in some areas. (AP WIREPHOTO)

And in Tok, 209 miles south of here, reports came that sled dogs died when the temperature dropped to 75 below.

The 16,000 Fairbanks residents have a joke: "I'd go downtown, but I can't find it."

The joke is almost truth. The cold traps the usual byproducts of combustion — oil and car exhaust — into a dense ice fog that blankets the town and airport.

The fog is so thick that tail and head lights are invisible at more than five feet. Driving is hazardous and flying, for smaller planes that can't takeoff on instruments, is impossible.

For the Alaska railroad, the cold brings other problems.

"Our oil thickens up like glue," one official said. "If a car sits too long the wheels refuse to turn and we have to drag it for awhile. We are operating normally though."

Operating "normally" at 50 below is a source of pride to the people here. Few meetings are canceled and school goes on as usual.

Everyone dons heavy parkas and boots or mukluks — moosehide moccasins topped with fur — gloves with linings, long underwear and heavy pants. Children are instructed not to run to keep the cold from damaging their lungs. One frequently feels his cheeks with an ungloved hand to be sure they aren't becoming frostbitten.

CFA Cash Grant Okayed For Roxton

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Community Facilities Administration has authorized a $1,750 advance to the Lamar County Water Control and Improvement Dist. No. 1 at Roxton, Tex. to plan improvements for its water system.

FEEDING SLOWED Moisture Needed

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas farmers and ranchers would have preferred to start the new year with more moisture in the subsoil. But the warm weather has helped grazing and the clean-up of harvesting, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Widespread areas need moisture, especially subsoil moisture, the director said. The warm days have slowed the feeding of livestock.

MOISTURE SHORT
Moisture was short over the entire Panhandle. Warm weather has helped wheat and has pushed the cotton harvest toward the clean-up stage.

The South Plains cotton harvest is about over with only scraps now going on. All other crops have been harvested. The district is dry; pastures are below average; and feeding is general. Irrigated wheat is making good progress. Dry land grain needs rain.

Moisture is adequate in half of the Rolling Plains (Vernon). The cotton harvest has passed the 95 per cent stage and grains are growing well and providing good grazing where moisture is favorable. Some livestock are being fed.

Moisture is good in most of North Central Texas and grains are making satisfactory growth and providing some good grazing. Ranges and livestock were in good shape.

Widespread moisture would be welcomed in far West Texas where all crops have about been harvested. Ranch labor is short. Livestock are in fair to good shape with feeding under way. Light showers in the north-west counties and good rains in the southeastern part of West Central Texas have helped the moisture situation. Some vegetation is growing. Pastures are below normal and livestock are being fed.

CENTRAL TEXAS
Harvesting is complete in Central Texas and yields have been satisfactory considering the weather. Grains are making good growth and providing grazing; some livestock are getting feed.

Top soil moisture in East Texas is about over with only adequate but subsoil moisture is short. Feeding is widespread. Cattle generally are thin and some losses have been reported. Grain is providing some grazing in favored areas but clover has been slow.

Moisture is adequate to surplus in the southeast and upper Gulf Coast counties. Oats were good and some vegetables were being harvested. Pastures are about average.

Rain is needed in South Central Texas where cattle are in fair condition with heavy feeding. The unusually warm weather has been favorable for livestock. Lack of moisture has kept oats and pastures at a standstill.

Help Needed For March

An appeal has been made for volunteers on the evening of Jan. 19 to assist with the annual Mother's March in Big Spring, Coahoma, Gay Hill and Sand Springs.

The march this year will be conducted by both men and women volunteers working in districts coinciding to school districts.

"We hope to knock on every door in Big Spring," said Mrs. Buford Hull, chairman of the march.

The P - TA City Council is sponsoring the march, but volunteers to aid in it are needed from outside the organization itself.

Persons who will contribute

Defendant Taken To Psychiatrists

John Marvin Peters, who managed to get a lot of front page publicity a few weeks ago by a bogus "confession" to five murders, was at the Big Spring State Hospital Friday. He had been taken there on instructions of Wayne Burns, district attorney, and Sheriff Aubrey Standard for a check by the hospital psychiatrists as to his mental status.

He was returned to the jail Friday afternoon, but what the psychiatrists had decided was not announced.

Peters, held for a burglary indictment here, had claimed in his confession that he killed three women in a Chicago park, a woman in Marshall and a man in New Mexico. A check of his story failed to support his statements.

Goes To Midland

Midland officers took Dixie Juanita Jacks, arrested here on a Midland warrant, to that city Friday afternoon. The Midland officers said that she is wanted there on forgery charges.

their time on Jan. 19 may contact Mrs. Hull, AM 4-8814, or Mrs. R. E. Ray, president of the P - TA City Council, 4-6177. Volunteers will be utilized in the area in which they live.

The March of Dimes is being extended to aid research and treatment for birth defects, in addition to its 27-year-old effort in fighting polio.

Wade Choate and Jimmy P. Taylor are co-chairmen of the March of Dimes drive this year.

Coin collectors have been placed in business firms in the city and letters mailed to individuals, groups and businesses asking for contributions for the March of Dimes here. The drive will continue throughout this month.

The Mother's March for many years has been the major community project of the Big Spring Parent-Teachers Association.

Workers are especially needed for the area from Main to Bell Streets, in the Rannels Junior High School district. Persons who can contribute their time working in this area have been asked to contact Mrs. D. B. McCann, AM 4-6476 or AM 4-5333.

Friday a planning and organizational meeting was held at the First Federal Savings and Loan community room for the women who will be captains for the various districts.

Directing the march in the districts are Mrs. E. M. Wright, Boydston School; Mrs. Larry Pherigo, Coahoma; Mrs. G. E. Guswald, Marcy School; Mrs. Eldon Watts, Airport School; Mrs. Frosty Robison, Washington Place School; Mrs. Bill Bullard, Cedar Crest School; Mrs. Howard D. Johnson, Kentwood; Mrs. Floyd Williams, College Heights; Mrs. Jessie Hernandez, Bauer; Mrs. Clinton Muse, Lakewood; Mrs. John R. Coffee, Park Hill; Mrs. McCann, Rannels; Mrs. T. A. Harris Jr., Sand Springs; Mrs. Truitt Vines, Balch; and Mrs. Jack Brown, Gay Hill.

A meeting is planned for 3 p.m. Tuesday at Bauer School for all persons interested in working in that area, Mrs. Hernandez announced. Persons may contact Mrs. Hernandez at the school or by calling her home, AM 4-6543.

Plans for the March of Dimes drive here this year include a bowling event, an airlift from Howard County airport, a penny parade with a goal of raising

$1,000, coffees and other activities. A film, "Stranger to the World," was presented at the planning meeting Friday and is available for use by civic or other organizations. Produced by the National Foundation-March of Dimes, the film narrates the problem of birth defects and how the March of Dimes contributes to the research and treatment of this problem. Some 250,000 children are born in the United States each year with birth defects, or one in every 16 live births. A total of 18,000 deaths of children before their first birthday are attributed to birth defects. In addition, one-half of all mental retardation is due to defective prenatal development.

The March of Dimes is contributing a million dollars each quarter to the research and treatment of birth defects. Three institutions in Texas are part of the research program, including the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, Baylor University School of Medicine and John Sealy Hospital at Galveston.

PREPARING FOR DEDICATION OF GIDEON BIBLES
Dr. Charles Warren and Sidney Clark pose with a cross of Bibles

Gideons To Put Bibles In New Americana Motel

Dedication of Bibles for the new Americana Motel, just west of the Interstate 20 and US 87 highway intersections, will be accomplished in brief ceremonies set for 4 p.m. today in the motel lobby.

Dr. Charles Warren, president of the Big Spring encampment of Gideons International, an organization of Christian business and professional men, will make the presentation to T. E. Davis, manager of the new motel, which is now in full operation, except for signs which will be erected this week.

There will be 54 Bibles to supply the units in the facility. They will become a part of the multiplied thousands put in motels and hotels during the 64 years of this peculiar ministry. Thousands of them are in six or seven continents. These, in turn, are part of the 50,000,000 Bibles and New Testaments distributed free by Gideons in the United States and other lands.

The encampment here, during 24 years of operation, has distributed some 5,000 Testaments and 1,000 Bibles annually. The work is financed locally and internationally by contributions made through churches where Gideons speak occasionally (about 80 per cent comes from this source) and from wills and other gifts.

Today's ceremonies will include the opening prayer by Ted Phillips; an explanation of who the Gideons are by Capt. Ed Milosevich; what the Gideons do, by Sidney Clark; an explanation through the Scriptures of why Gideon Bibles are placed, by Travis Waller; an explanation of why Bibles are placed with a testimony, by G. G. Morehead; and the benediction by George O'Brien Sr.

Estes Damage Trial Gets Off To Slow Start

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Trial of a $4 million damage suit against Billie Sol Estes and others was in recess today until Monday.

Much of Friday's session was taken up by the reading of a deposition from the late Harold Orr of Amarillo, who died last Feb. 28.

Lawyers dwelled on a portion of Orr's testimony about a middle man identified as Robert Graham of Fort Wayne and Syracuse, Ind.

Orr was quoted as saying Graham warned Estes that large financial houses handling mortgages for the West Texas promoter were getting suspicious of his operations.

The deposition related that Graham insisted that the Estes group should switch from anhydrous ammonia tanks to propane tanks for mortgage purposes.

Orr at the time was president of the Superior Manufacturing Co. in Amarillo which ostensibly made the tanks on which Estes obtained and then discounted to loan companies millions of dollars in mortgages.

The deposition said Orr told Graham that Estes was not in the propane tank business. Graham reportedly replied: "Hell, that doesn't make any difference. We've got to have iceboxes or something besides ammonia tanks."

Testimony at Estes criminal trials has revealed that he obtained mortgage signatures for 33,500 ammonia tanks worth $34.5 million in 11 West Texas counties before his empire collapsed in 1962. It was estimated the area needed only 400 tanks.

Plaintiffs in the suit being heard here are J. C. Barnes Sr., J. C. Barnes Jr., Russell Ramsland and W. F. Wynn, of Midland. They signed $2.4 million worth of fertilizer tanks mortgages at the request of Estes, who then discounted $1.3 million worth of the paper to the Walter E. Heller Co. of Chicago, another defendant.

Plaintiffs are trying to link Estes with Graham and Graham with the Heller firm in an attempt to show a fraudulent scheme and thus be relieved of liability for the $1.3 million in mortgages they signed.

Lawyers for Heller dispute the implication.

Reorganization Plan Pressed

Water District Has Increase

Water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District gained by nine per cent in 1964 over the preceding year and set a new record of 11 1/2 billion gallons. This was approximately a billion gallons more than delivered in 1963.

The member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder took 70 per cent of the water produced by CRMWD, or 8,138,618,900 gallons. This was 6.73 per cent

Co-Op Chalks Up A Record

Cap Rock Electric Cooperative established a new record in power sales during the past year.

Operating statistics for December showed sales of 4,373,018, which compared with 4,188,335 for the same month a year ago. It brought to $2,268,276 KWH the amount of power sold during 1964, up substantially from the 76,190,380 KWH for all of 1963.

At the end of the month Cap Rock had 2,466 miles of line energized, a gain of $3 for the year and three for the month. There were 5,658 members connected, an increase of 189 for the year and 19 for the month.

Bond Sales Were Lagging

Through November — the December totals will not be available until the latter part of this month — United States Savings Bond sales continued to lag sharply in this area.

Total for November amounted to $65,619 in District 5, about the same as for most previous months but also about half of what is needed per month to meet the quota. Through November, the district was at 58.3 per cent of a 1,500,000 quota for the year since sales had aggregated only $375,673.

Only one county, Dawson, appeared to have a chance of hitting its goal. November sales of $8,498 made $86,514 for the year, of 96.1 per cent of the annual quota.

Other November records (with cumulative totals in parentheses) and per cent of quota were: Andrews $3,749 ($32,853) 65.7; Gaines $2,737 ($58,867) 53.5;

Howard	$36,860	($422,644)	65.0;
Martin	$1,003	($22,004)	73.3;
Mitchell	$15,681	($118,072)	51.3;
Scurry	$7,091	($134,716)	42.0;
Totals	$65,619	($375,673)	58.3.

For the state, sales hit $11,577,654, making $135,945,497 for the year, or 90.6 per cent of the state goal of $150,000,000.

Homes Being Sought For Exchange Students

Would your family care to have a student from another country as a member of the family circle next school year?

If so, there is a possibility that a boy or girl under the student exchange program would be assigned to your home. The Big Spring chapter of the American Field Service program is now receiving applications from families interested in adding a member for a year.

It is not obligatory that there be children of approximately the same age (usually juniors or seniors), but this may be helpful. Parents must be at least 37 years of age, and the home cannot be lacking one parent. All members of the family must be eager to have the foreign student join their circle.

Norwegian King In Tardy Arrival

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — King Olav of Norway arrived in Tehran today, 24 hours late for his two-week state visit to Iran.

Loan Program In Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 31 per cent of the 1964 cotton crop has wound up under the government's price support loan program.

While most expenses are paid through the American Field Service, the host family does assume some financial responsibility for the student, including room and board and a few miscellaneous items. A deduction of $50 per month the student is in the home may be taken for income tax purposes.

Suitable quarters must be available for the visiting student, although a separate room is not necessary. He or she may share a room but not a bed, cannot be paired with a member of the family under 15 (because their schedules would be too different).

Each family applying to the local chapter (through Harold Bentley, assistant high school principal, or John Burgess, city attorney) will be visited by members of the local committee for interviews and will fill out a family questionnaire on its own. Final selection of the family is made by the American Field Service.

Klaus Limbacher, who is a member of the R. J. Ream home this year, is the first exchange student to attend Big Spring High School. The Student Council has taken the lead in raising $750 necessary for the chapter share in the program. Contributions (tax deductible) are invited from all interested people.

Escaped Prisoner Locked Up After Brief Freedom

Deputy Sheriff A. G. Mitchell's hunch paid off Friday night and brought a quick end to a prisoner's dream of freedom.

The prisoner is Bobby Wayne Beardsley, 22, a San Angelo native, under indictment for car theft. He made a daring bid for liberty at 4 p.m. Friday when he leaped from a first floor window in the courthouse and disappeared.

Two and a half hours later, as he crept along the darkening street in the 900 block of West Fifth, Beardsley was recaptured by Mitchell.

Aubrey Standard, sheriff, congratulated Mitchell on apprehending the fugitive and said he had been accorded cooperation by all law enforcement officers in the search for Beardsley.

Beardsley, who has been in the jail since his arrest Sept. 8, told officers Friday he wanted to plead guilty to an indictment against him charging car theft. Bill Whitton, a deputy sheriff, took him to the office of Wayne Burns, district attorney. Later, Whitton took Beardsley to the sheriff's office where he was questioning him about certain details of his case. They were in an office on the first floor.

Whitton had to leave the room momentarily. When he returned, the prisoner was gone. A window on the south side of the room was wide open.

A search was launched and stakeouts ordered at the home of relatives and friends of the fugitive in Big Spring, San Angelo and Midland.

Mitchell selected the 900 block area on West Fifth street to do a little looking.

"I had parked the car out of sight and I was in an alley where I could see along the street," he said.

"I saw a man coming toward me. He was staying close to the houses and trying to keep from being seen."

"I let him pass me and then I pulled my pistol and cocked it. He heard the click of the hammer and half turned."

"I said 'Bobby, you want to give up or get killed?' He replied, 'God, don't shoot me—I give up.' I marched him to the car and took him back to jail."

Beardsley said that after he jumped out of the window of the sheriff's office, he made his way south across Fourth street and down the alley back of the First National Bank. He found a space in the air conditioning room of the bank where he could hide. He stayed there, he said, until it began to get dark and then he set out on Fifth Street walking west.

Chanters To Perform Here

The McMurry College Chanters from Abilene will appear in a concert of sacred music at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 22 at the First Methodist Church. Ted James, music director at the church, has been named chairman of the committee arranging the concert.

The 40-voice choir is under the direction of Prof. Paul Engelstad, one of the outstanding choral directors in the Southwest. Before going to McMurry in 1963, he was director of the Texas Lutheran College choir.

Prof. Engelstad, a native of Chicago, earned his degrees from St. Olaf College in Minnesota, and DePaul University in Chicago. During the summers of 1958 and 1959 he studied with Roger Wagner in California and during the summers of 1960, 1961, and 1962 he was co-director of the Church Music Leadership Institute held in Seguin.

The choir strives to communicate the spirit of the text and music. The program includes such choral anthems as: "O Magnum Mysterium" by Victoria; "Exultate Deo" by Palestrina; "Praise the Lord, All Ye Nations" by J. S. Bach; "Alleluia" by Jean Berger; and "Carol of the Drum" by Katherine Davis.

Changes Mind On Love Field

DALLAS (AP) — After answering "many, many phone calls," City Councilman Joe Moody decided his proposal to change the name of Dallas Love Field to Lyndon B. Johnson International Airport wasn't such a good idea.

"The response has been so overwhelmingly against it that I intend to discard the idea," Moody said Friday.

Several days ago he said the suggestion for this tribute to the Texan in the White House would be brought up at next week's council session.

Moody did not say why the use of the President's name draw opposition. A Republican represented the Dallas district in Congress for several terms, however, until the last general election.

The Army opened Love Aviation Field in 1917 as a training center for World War I fliers, and Dallas bought the property for a municipal airport in 1928. It was named for Moss L. Love, a flying cadet from Virginia who was killed in a 1913 plane crash at San Diego, Calif.

Change Taken

An unknown amount of change was taken from Terry's Drive In, 2200 Gregg, in a training center for World War I fliers, and Dallas bought the property for a municipal airport in 1928. It was named for Moss L. Love, a flying cadet from Virginia who was killed in a 1913 plane crash at San Diego, Calif.

Maintenance Is Big Job

Col. Loyd J. McNeil, chief of the maintenance section at Webb AFB, oriented members of the American Business Club on the duties and responsibilities of his department in a talk made at a noon luncheon at the Settles Hotel Friday.

McNeil said that a total of 945 persons, including 196 civilians, are assigned to his department and it is their job to see that $104 million worth of aircraft keep regular schedules and fly at peak efficiency.

The value of that aircraft, he added, does not include the equipment maintained by the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Col. McNeil said Webb planes fly an average of 350 sorties daily.

"We have to watch our budget, the same as any civilian organization," McNeil told his listeners, "and live within our means."

It was announced that the ABC's board of directors would meet formally at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First National Bank building.

Cotton Crop Is About In With 18,300 Bales

Howard County gins have handled 18,161 bales of locally produced 1964 cotton and Texas Employment Commission checkers estimate 99 per cent of the crop is now harvested. The TEC believes that the bales still left in the fields will push the total past the 18,300 mark estimated for the 1964 crop. This is 3,300 bales greater than the midseason prediction on this year's total. Another week of good weather, if the heavy dews which have prevailed each morning let up and no moisture falls, will wind up the harvest here, TEC said.

Martin County has just about closed down cotton-wise for the season, the Midland office of the TEC said. The last report showed 19,432 bales ginned. The crop estimate had been chopped back to 21,000 bales. Last week, when the check was made, it was estimated 96 per cent of the cotton had been ginned. Some doubt was expressed if the county would reach the 21,000 figure set for it.

Glasscock County, where the crop estimate was two times hiked from the original guess, had ginned 9,752 bales at the last check which was a week ago. The crop estimate was 10,200 and at the time the last inquiry was made, it was estimated the crop was near 100 per cent completed.

In Dawson County, a check showed the 90,000 bale crop estimate last set for the area, had been exceeded by 2,831 bales. There is a good chance the 95,000 bales will be reached, TEC spokesmen said.

One year ago on the same date the last check was made, the gin in Dawson County reported they had ginned 147,000 bales. On the same day in 1963, the ginnings stood at 132,000.

Expects Cotton Program To Be Extended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Allen Ellender, D-La., of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said Saturday he has scant hope of preventing extension of the present cotton program, enacted last year over his objection.

The program provides payments to the cotton trade so that textile mills might buy U.S. cotton at world prices. It also provides for reductions in the cotton support price and for incentive payments to farmers cutting their cotton plantings.

Ellender said he expects the administration to call for reenactment of the program. Otherwise it would expire.

Ellender said he estimates the program this year will cost $800 million.

"Even more important is the fact that this program does nothing to solve the long run problems of cotton," he said.

Ellender said best indications are that in the case of feed grains the administration will recommend an extension of the present voluntary land diversion program.

He said that while the program has reduced grain stocks somewhat he believes the cost has been too high.

In four years, he said, it has cost $5.2 billion to reduce grain stocks by 27 million tons.

As to wheat, he said, "there seems to be considerable support for an extension of the voluntary wheat certificate plan. He also said he anticipates there will be little opposition to extension of the present Wool Act.

Unemployment Dips Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dipped slightly last month, and tied several statistical marks.

It was the second time in 1964 that the rate had stood at 4.9 per cent, the lowest jobless figure in more than four years. In November, the unemployment rate stood 1.5 per cent, and in December 1963 it was 5.5 per cent.

Webb Captain Gambles He Will Be Able To Vote

Capt. Carl L. Kenyon, 27, in the Webb AFB legal office, took a gamble Friday that the U.S. courts will upset a Texas law from voting in local elections in the areas where they are based.

He showed up at the office of Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor collector, and asked to pay his poll tax.

Mrs. LeFevre took his $1.75 and issued him a receipt which stated he has paid the tax. When and if the federal courts rule on the controversial Texas law on barring military personnel from voting locally, he will be issued a poll tax receipt.

If the courts have ruled the captain has a right to vote in local elections, his poll tax receipt will be like that of any other citizen. If the courts hold that the Texas law is valid, his poll tax will be stamped "not eligible to vote."

Regardless of which way things go, one thing is certain — Capt. Kenyon is out $1.75. There is no way Mrs. LeFevre could refund his payment regardless of how the pending lawsuit works out.

There is no barrier to a military man paying a poll tax in the community where he lives if he so desires. The poll tax in itself is simply a head tax and, in its basic essence, has nothing to do with voting. It just so happens that an amendment to the Texas constitution stipulates that anyone who is otherwise qualified to vote must show a poll tax receipt in order to do so.

Capt. Kenyon lives at 2312 West US 80.

Deadline for payment of poll tax is Jan. 31. There is very little probability that the U. S. courts will make a ruling on the test cases dealing with military voting privileges until much later than Jan. 31.

The only way a military man or woman can be qualified to vote, if the residence restriction is thrown out, is to have paid his poll tax in advance of Jan. 31 and be issued a receipt showing that such payment has been made.

Capt. Kenyon's case is doubly puzzling under the Texas law. He is a native of Killeen — his home town. However, he was inducted into service in South Carolina. The Texas election law, applicable to military personnel, says that such men and women can vote only in the communities where they were inducted into service.

Under this ruling, Capt. Kenyon could possibly vote in South Carolina elections by absentee ballot. He cannot vote in Big Spring although he has lived

BIG SPRING VISITOR HAS MADE 17 MILLION DOZEN

Golf Ball Manufacture Is An Intricate Process

By TOMMY HART
If you've played the links anytime in the last four decades, chances are you've struck a golf ball made under the supervision of Wilfred S. Gabriel of Cincinnati, Ohio.

pervised the construction of more than 204,000,000 balls — which averages out to well over one for every man, woman and child in America.

GAMMETER GOLF BALL MACHINE

Gabriel — consultant of the golf ball manufacturing division of the Goodrich Rubber Company until he retired several years ago — along with his wife, have been Big Spring visitors since last Dec. 19.

It has been estimated that about five millions persons pursue the sport in this country. The average turned out by Gabriel and his co-workers would jump to nearly 41 per player.

but it was discovered that the ball would still react turbulently in flight.

Gabriel says he golfs in the high 70's. He laments the fact that his putting touch around the greens was never what it should have been.

The couple hadn't planned it that way. The two were en route to Tucson, Arizona, for a well earned vacation when their automobile skidded on some ice on Interstate 20. Mrs. Gabriel wound up in the Howard County Hospital Foundation with a cracked vertebra and the family vehicle went to the shop for repairs.

Of all the 32,000 commodities made out of rubber, Gabriel thinks the golf ball is the hardest to make. He says 100,000 balls are now being turned out in this country daily, so high is the demand.

Gabriel has personally supervised the construction of golf balls for such notables as Bobby Jones and Ben Hogan. He places Jones — who he points out was using antiquated equipment on old-time courses when he forged his great record — at the top of his list of all-time links greats.

During World War II, Gabriel's department turned to the manufacture of braided shock absorbers for bombers, but Gabriel later sold his employees on the idea of turning out a golf ball made from synthetic material for use in Army and Navy rehabilitation camps.

In his 42 1/2 years as a maker of golf pellets, Gabriel estimates he has supervised the construction of more than 204,000,000 balls — which averages out to well over one for every man, woman and child in America.

The machine winds a thread, of the purest gum rubber made, cured by lamp black, on a core usually containing polyethylene oil, applying rollers to keep its perfect shape.

When Gabriel went to work for McGregor, the plant was equipped with 12 of the Gammeter machines. It now has 86. Each machine sells for about $2,600.

Oddly enough, his home community is known as Golf Manor.

After the ball is wound, it, of course, has to be tested for roundness and hardness. From the field to the completed product, 45 separate operations are needed to perfect the ball.

The cover is attached by placing the wound rubber thread in two half shells. The shells are set in a jig. Pressure is then applied with the use of steam heat up to 220 degrees. The heat, of course, causes the blata to vulcanize.

Although he is retired, Gabriel believes in keeping physically fit and lauds the government's program to emphasize physical conditioning. For 42 years, he has been a member of the American Turner Association, which taught soldiers the art of staying fit during the Civil War.

He and Mrs. Gabriel have one son, K. Eugene, now program director for the Junior Achievement program in Cincinnati.

Pro Problems Need Not Exist: Corbett

By BOB GREEN
CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Corbett, chairman of the NCAA's professional-relations committee, predicted Saturday that the problem of premature signing of college football players by pro leagues can be solved in a friendly fashion.

Corbett, the Louisiana State University athletic director who is here for the NCAA convention which formally opens Monday, said he conferred at length with Pete Rozelle, the National Football League commissioner, Friday night.

Record Crowd In Prospect
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West, led by Baltimore quarterback Johnny Unitas, will be favored over the East when the finest talent in the National Football League performs in the 15th annual Pro Bowl game Sunday.

Hula Bowl officials pointed out that many athletes have played college sports after this game in the past, but there was a special situation in this game. Oklahoma players Jim Grisham and Ralph Neely played, reportedly after pressure from the Dallas Cowboys, who have signed both to National Football League contracts. Grisham and Neely were among the four Oklahoma players booted off the squad before the Gator Bowl game when it was discovered they had signed early pro contracts.

Continental Shelf Holds Vast Wealth

NEW YORK — Riddle: What is neither land nor sea, but both?
Answer: The Continental Shelf.
The Continental Shelf has long been a riddle in itself, but in recent years scientists and engineers have learned exciting new facts about the shelf and its hidden "treasures."
The Continental Shelf, off any continent, is that relatively shallow under-water land mass that lies between the coast and the deep sea, a sort of transition zone between the continent and the ocean proper. Its width can vary greatly. Off Florida's East Coast it narrows to about a mile; off New England it extends as much as 200 miles seaward.
"We have suddenly developed a hunger for knowledge about what has been called 'The Hidden Empire' near our shores," notes the current edition of Petroleum Today. "Once the province mainly of geographers and oceanographers, the shelf is now attracting the attention of other scientists and technicians, as the realization spreads of the potential wealth in these mysterious areas. And it has become increasingly important to determine just how far from shore a nation's sovereignty can extend."

Recovery Techniques Will Be Emphasized

DALLAS—Improved recovery techniques to produce more of the U.S. 200-billion barrels of crude reserves will receive primary emphasis in the drilling-producing industry in '65.
"Our need," says Bob Latimer, Hunt Oil Company, Dallas, in an outlook report appearing in Petroleum Engineer's January issue, "is for articulate, effective engineers to sell management on improved recovery, assist in forming field-wide units and to push for improved regulatory statutes."
In wildcat and development drilling, the challenge confronting drilling contractors is to acquire and hold qualified rig crew personnel, the outlook report continues. H. A. (Dave) True Jr., president of Independent Petroleum Association of America, comments, "The biggest single obstacle for the drilling industry is the present critical and possibly disastrous shortage of trained rig personnel. Severe economic pressures and a certain amount of inertia have put the drilling contractor behind the eight ball in wages, working conditions and employe benefits."
Recovery efficiency of oil reserves is about 30 per cent. Over one-third of current U.S. production results from improved recovery techniques. Waterflooding is the predominant technique, accounting for nearly 2-million barrels-per-day production.

Newer, more effective thermal oil recovery techniques are booming. Steam and fire flooding operations, for example, are producing 60,000 barrels-per-day heavy crude production in California.
Recent thermal recovery advancements indicate it will be practical to produce a greater part of the 200-billion barrel reserves the industry has been unable to produce using common techniques.
"Better means to produce this oil are essential," the magazine emphasizes. "When we compare U. S. production with the Middle East, our 600,000 producing wells average 12.8 barrels per day on spacing that seldom exceeds 40 acres. In the Middle East, wells produce 2,000 to 100,000 barrels per day on a spacing of one well to 4,000 acres."
The cost of this search — operating dozens of miles offshore and often in hundreds of feet of water — is high. Off Louisiana, for example, the petroleum industry already has invested about $4 billion, with but $1.5 billion recovered so far.
But drilling continues, and the Continental Shelf keeps enticing oilmen and other scientists to explore for the wealth it someday will bring to the world.

For one thing, the richest fishing grounds are often found in the waters above a shelf.
"But what's inside the shelf may be of far greater economic importance," observes the magazine. "Since the shelf is a submerged part of the continent, the geological strata of the land do not stop at the water's edge. A vein of ore, or a layer of any other material in the earth, often continues below the surface of the shelf."
This has special significance in the search for petroleum, the magazine notes: "Petroleum-bearing strata on land can be followed below the surface of the sea, and new petroleum-bearing strata have been discovered in the shelf."
This knowledge led to offshore drilling, first off the coasts of Louisiana, Texas and California, and now on other shelves in other parts of the world. It has been estimated that the U. S. Continental Shelf alone may eventually yield as much as 20 billion barrels of oil and 150 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

The Reed Roller Bit Co. Friday survey of rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin Empire showed 200 rigs with bits rotating on bottom.
This is an increase of 18 over 182 reported a week ago and five fewer than the comparable survey in 1964 listed. Lea County No. M., is first on the list with 33, an increase over 28 last week. Ector County is second with 17, an increase of three and Pecos County is third with 15 the same as last week.
The county-by-county survey with previous totals in parenthesis includes:

Duncan Slates Re-Entry Test
Duncan Drilling Co., Big Spring, has planned re-entry and wildcat tests at 2,500 feet in the No. 1 J. C. Reed, a Sterling wildcat which was plugged by C. D. Turner Drilling Co. in 1959 at total depth of 2,502 feet.
It is three miles northwest of Sterling City, three miles north of the Durham multipay field and 3½ miles northeast of the El Kay multipay region. Site is 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 14, block 14, SPRR survey.
Continental Oil Co. No. 3-1 J. M. Shannon has been completed as the fourth Ellenburger producer in the Escondido multipay field of Crockett County.
It is ½ mile southeast of the dual discovery of Pennsylvanian detrital and Fusselman production in the field, 14 miles northeast of Iraan and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 1, block 2, GC&SF survey.

Fourth Producer In Escondido Pay
Continental Oil Co. No. 3-1 J. M. Shannon has been completed as the fourth Ellenburger producer in the Escondido multipay field of Crockett County.
It is ½ mile southeast of the dual discovery of Pennsylvanian detrital and Fusselman production in the field, 14 miles northeast of Iraan and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 1, block 2, GC&SF survey.

Perforations at 4,975-52 feet rated a calculated, absolute open flow potential of 3.8 million cubic feet of gas per day with gas-petroleum liquids ratio of 122-1. Gravity of the distillate was 66.2 degrees and the flow was under 1,532 pounds pressure with no treatment reported.
Location is seven miles southwest of Buena Vista, 660 feet from southwest and northwest lines of section .65, block 10, H&GN survey.
I. W. Lovelady of Odessa has completed No. 3 Iowa Realty Trust as a location southwest extension and third producer in the Pecos Valley (Fusselman No. 2) pool of Pecos County.
It is 11 miles southwest of Imperial, 467 feet from southeast and 2,190 feet from northeast lines of section 53, block 10, H&GN survey.
Perforations at 5,148-152 feet, after a treatment with 250 gallons of acid, completed to flow 160 barrels of 37.2-gravity oil with no water per day through a 9-64-inch choke with gas-oil ratio of 630-1. Tubing pressure was 645 pounds.

Atoka Gas Shows Found Near Texon

Tidewater Oil Co. has found signs of possible Atoka gas production in Reagan County at the No. 1 Price-Turner and others, a wildcat operation 10 miles north of Texon.
Two incomplete drill stem tests at 10,394-407 feet encountered gas but the tool was plugged before the checks could be finished. The gas flowed to the surface in 45 minutes before the tool closed and no gauge was estimated.
The second check was open for an unreported time and flowed gas at the daily rate of 24,500 cubic feet and was choked off after 20 minutes. The tool was by-passed and the flow increased but continued to plug.
The operation now is on a drill stem test at the same interval. Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 1201, CCSD&RGNG survey abstract 75. It is 2½ miles southeast of the discovery of the Roach (Fusselman gas) pool.

Southland Royalty Co. of Midland has completed No. 2-17 Toad; the fourth Grayburg producer in the Todd multipay field of Crockett County.
It is located north of the dual Fusselman and Ellenburger discovery in the region and spots 990 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 18, block B-1 PSL survey. It is 13 miles northeast of Kermit.
Ellenburger perforations at 11,390-394 feet were potentiated to flow 289 barrel sof 47.3-gravity oil through a 20-64-inch choke after treatment with 250 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 569-1 and no water production was reported.
Perforations in the Fusselman at 9,741-763 feet and in the Devonian at 9,225-235 feet were squeezed off after extensive testing.

One mile northeast of the McKee gas discovery in the Mesa Vista field of Pecos County, Robert L. Wood of Midland has completed No. 1 Benoit-Superior in that formation.
Perforations at 9,741-763 feet and in the Devonian at 9,225-235 feet were squeezed off after extensive testing.

Capital Outlays For Oil To Go Over $13 Billion

DALLAS—Capital outlays by Free World petroleum industry will hit a record $13 billion in 1965, according to Ernestine Adams, editor, Petroleum Management. Budget plans stand 10 per cent higher than last year's $11.9 billion.
U. S. demand for oil products is expected to rise 3 per cent and Free Foreign demand 8-10 per cent in 1965. Natural gas sales in the U.S. is estimated at a 6 per cent increase over 1964. This is the consensus of top executives of virtually all the larger companies and some smaller key firms both in the U.S. and abroad. Their separate forecasts are published by Petroleum Management in the January issue.

Free Foreign capital expenditures for the fourth year, are higher than those in the United States.
Planned Free Foreign investment in oil and gas reserves and facilities is estimated at $6.88 billion, an increase of 14 per cent over the $6.02 billion in 1964, according to Miss Adams. U.S. budgets add up to about $6.2 billion, a rise of 6 per cent in projected investment.
This $6.2 billion does not, however, include U.S. gas utilities companies' plans. Gas distribution and transmission companies add another estimated $2 billion to capital expenditures.
The capital expenditure forecast is based on budgets of 41 companies. This is the 18th year Miss Adams has made these industry investment estimates from preliminary budgets and they have proved to be in line.
Investment in manufacturing, especially petrochemicals, will have the sharpest increases. Free Foreign countries will spend a predicted $1.9 billion, up 38 per cent from 1964. Marketing expenditures are expected to rise 30 per cent abroad, and have the substantial increase of 11 per cent in the U.S.
Only decline is for oil and gas transportation facilities in the Free World and this might change. This category is particularly dependent on government decisions.
Planned outlays for drilling and producing will be about 2½

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Use Good Judgement In Cleaning Plastic

Dear Heloise: After reading your column that you knew of no way to remove felt markings from plastic, I thought surely there must be a way.

Dear Heloise: Here is a small but useful suggestion for housewives (like myself) who think they're saving time—or something—by carrying all the packages from the car into the house at one time...

Dear Heloise: I wrote on a plastic coffee can lid, let it dry, then got a piece of paper towel and put nail polish remover on it and rubbed... every trace of marking came off.

Dear Heloise: That little, old hook saves me more trouble than you could shake a stick at and it was there for weeks (above eye level) before my husband even saw it.

Dear Heloise: Please DON'T USE felt markers ON GOOD PLASTIC WARE as this method and the polish remover might damage it.

Dear Heloise: I was a reader and a fan, but not a tryer-outer until recently. (As I am sure many are.)

Children Discover Animals Displayed At Embryo Zoo

By JO BRIGHT

The children come during the day, chaperoned by their teacher, or in the afternoons—holding their mother's hand. On a pretty Sunday, a father taking his family for a drive, pulls off the highway and carries his toddler up to a screened area where others have gathered. The little one laughs and reaches toward the wire—just large enough to allow several fingers to touch the thick softness of a sheep's head or hold a grain stalk for a goat to nibble.

This is the Westview Pet Shop and Kennels, 3908 West Highway, where Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Blount are giving children the opportunity to be friends with domestic animals and admire and respect the untamed breeds. It's a clean, casual place where a child may pet a fat pig or throw a few kernels of corn to a Bantam rooster. Simple things that were considered chores for children two generations ago, but now provide a moment's pleasure for youngsters who will never have the chance to own such creatures or to be responsible for their care.

The Blount's enthusiasm for their dream of a free children's zoo has spread to many generous people who would like to see it become a reality and are doing what they can to help. For a start, Cameron Lumber Company donated some materials, United Rent-Alls loaned a cement mixer, and Air Force personnel assisted in building the first animal caging. Newsum's Food Center gave aged fruit and vegetables to help with the feeding, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tubbs volunteered to make some signs and artwork.

THE START

The dream is beginning to come true. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ramsey donated money, as did the City Pawn Shop. Pennies, dimes and quarters are added daily to the zoo fund donation box as children help themselves to a handful of feed to offer the animals.

Last week the Blounts received a letter from a Park Hill Browline troop. It read, "Thank you for letting us visit your pet shop and play with the animals. Also, thank you for giving us food to feed them. We are sending you our weekly dues to help build your zoo." The money was enclosed and brought the zoo fund bank account to a total of $200.

The legal technicalities are being attended to, which paves the way to establishing a zoological society, the purpose of which would be to acquire animals and operate, maintain and control a zoological garden or children's zoo. It could exhibit collections of insects, fish, amphibians, reptiles, birds and mammals with appropriate surroundings and environment. The aim of the society would be to provide the animals for the instruction, recreation and pleasure of the public and for scientific study, as well as to promote branches of natural history and participate in wild animal conservation programs.

TO EXPAND

At the present time the nucleus of the proposed zoo is located at the pet shop but the proposed plans call for a larger area which might include a barnyard, monkey house, walk-in bird houses, refreshment stand, party area and meeting house.

Who's backing and caring for the zoo? Indirectly, it is the contributions and donations that provide the necessary funds. Directly, it is the Blount family and volunteer workers who are building and caring for the zoo as a part of the pet shop. The monies are now being used to procure feed and animals and build the caging facilities in front of the shop.

Blount has spent the past year making contacts with various zoos and animal houses arranging for the trading of different species of animals and birds. In cases where he is unable to

CUB COMING

The trades he has received are not due to arrive until spring because of insufficient facilities now. He expects to receive tropical birds, monkeys and members of the cat family. A lion cub is expected next week.

The Blount family's regard for animals extends to the unwanted and unloved ones, too. They accept the puppies from the local pound and shelter them until they find someone to give them to. (The turnover is fast in this area and sometimes there are not enough for all the children who want them.)

LT. AND MRS. BOB C. EVANS

Handy Home Travels Where Duty Calls

By JO BRIGHT

Like most young Air Force couples, Lt. and Mrs. Bob C. Evans knew very little about the town they would call home when he received his first duty assignment.

The town happened out to be Big Spring, and they arrived here with little except faith in the future—and the capacity to adjust and enjoy whatever life had in store.

Their most urgent need, of course, was a home. It needn't be large—there were only the two—but it did need to be comfortable, convenient and practical. A 57 foot mobile home filled the bill, so their address for the next year will be the O. K. Trailer Courts. If a transfer comes at that time, Mrs. Evans will simply disconnect several things, pad a few more, and relax in the living room while her husband drives the car that will pull their home to its next resting place.

SHARING

As Mrs. Evans conducted a tour of the home, she introduced her friend, Mrs. George Robey who was sewing in the dining area.

"We have a fine arrangement," said Mrs. Evans, "she uses my machine and I borrow her vacuum cleaner." The fair exchange is typical of the one-big-family feeling that is prevalent in many trailer home communities.

The Evanses home has two bedrooms, and the dining area can be converted into a third by the use of sliding doors. The walls are of grained paneling that blends well with their color scheme of brown, gold and white. A large mirror in the living room gives the illusion of more space, and the furniture is standard size.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans were both reared in Crystal Springs, Miss., and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Evans and the Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Mason, still live there. Mrs. Evans is the former Sara Mason. She is a registered nurse who had her training at the Gilroy School of Nursing at the Mississippi Baptist Hospital in Jackson, Miss. Bob is a graduate of Mississippi State University. He was in the ROTC and received his Air Force commission there. Presently he is a member of Pilot Training Class 66-D at Webb Air Force Base.

Baptists Consider Adopting Korean

The adoption of a Korean war orphan was discussed by the Lydia Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church Thursday when the group met in the home of Mrs. Harvey Wooten, San Angelo Highway.

HOMEMAKER

Homemaking takes up most of Mrs. Evans' time while her husband is at the base. She reads a great deal, and is partial to history and poetry. She plays the piano, and played "a little" at the First Baptist Church in Crystal Springs where her father is pastor. Handy on the coffee table is a ukulele to which she is sentimentally attached. She and her girlfriends all received the instruments when they were in the seventh grade and, she still plays it on occasion.

Mrs. Glen Smith worded the opening prayer, and Mrs. T. A. Underhill gave the devotion. Letters were read of church activities in northern states and Alaska. Mrs. Tip Anderson directed a game session and presented literature on war orphans.

Refreshments were served to 14 members and a guest, Mrs. Floyd White.

Study Club Hears Talk On Alliance

The program study of the Modern Woman's Forum was the Alliance for Progress when the group met Friday in the home of Mrs. J. H. Fariss, 2518 E. 24th. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. James Cape.

Mrs. J. S. Sims was program chairman assisted by Mrs. Harold Keith, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. W. E. Moren, Mrs. W. A. Laswell and Mrs. Hugh Duncan. They gave a history of the Alliance since its founding in August of 1961 in Uruguay and told of its aims and accomplishments.

Refreshments were served to 12 members.

The next meeting will be Jan. 22 at 3 p.m. at Coker's Restaurant with Mrs. Keith as hostess and Mrs. Fariss as program leader.

Coahomans In Abilene

COAHOMA (SC)—Mrs. Letha Allen and Mrs. Ruth Smith were in Abilene Tuesday to visit Mrs. James Renfro and her new son.

Mrs. Chester Kiser is a patient in Medical Art sClinic and Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill E. Read are in Tulsa, Okla., on business.

Stacy Tally Feted At Birthday Party

A birthday party honoring Stacy Tally was held Saturday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tally, 3728 Adams. Party games were played by 25 guests and the four-year-old honoree preceding the serving of refreshments. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Melvin Brown and Tanis Hogue.

Talk Given On Indoor Gardening

LAMESA (SC)—The Green Thumb Garden Club met Friday morning in the home of Mrs. A. L. Partain with Mrs. O. H. Sires bringing the program. Her presentation was on "Indoor Gardening." Mrs. Sires listed some of the plants suitable for indoor gardens. Some of the easiest to care for and grow are the African violet, wandering Jew, and the blue rubber plant.

Mrs. Sires stressed the therapy derived from indoor gardening and the relaxation and pleasure for those who are unable to have an outdoor garden.

She told of other uses. Flowers are used in making some medicines and insecticides and roses and hyacinths are used in the manufacturing of perfumes and colognes. Mrs. Sires told the group that flowers often convey a message we ourselves would not be able to convey otherwise.

Mrs. Urs Powell assisted Mrs. Partain with hostess duties. Nineteen members attended.

TRAVEL TALK

Miami Offers More Than Seaside Luxury

By HULIN FOWLER
Miami was discovered by Ponce de Leon in 1513, by Eastern tourists in the 1920's, and by the Cubans in 1960.

The upshot of these discoveries is that Florida, first in the hands of the Spanish, has gone full circle and is now more inter-American than ever with signs in Spanish and English and bi-lingual clerks in the hotels and stores.

Florida attracts more than five million tourists each year but don't expect the state to be overcrowded, winter or summer. Miami alone has more than 500 major hotels and new ones are going up every day. The long-time resort city is expensive but bargains can be had. A luxury room costing $40 a day can often be had for $10 during the "off" season.

Miami Beach is geared for tourists, with every imaginable luxury. It has no cemeteries, industry, railroads or airport. It is a long stretch of winter playground where television and stage stars from New York mingle with people from all over the United States and South America, which has long regarded Miami as its foreign resort area.

Side trips from Miami offer the tourist the last remaining vestiges of the oldest white man's civilization in the nation. The Everglades, about 33 miles southwest, are as wild and unamed as the days when the earliest Indians penetrated the watery wilderness. Although the area has been turned into a national park, parts of it are virtually unexplored and people have gone in never to return.

Florida offers a myriad of sights for lovers of tropical flora and fauna. The Miami Seagrass on Virginia Key has an extensive variety of all types of fish, as does the Marine Laboratory of the University of Miami. And, at the Monkey Jungle, the spectator is "caged" while the monkeys roam free in a natural jungle setting.

One of the highlights of a side trip is a visit to Key West, second oldest city in the state, with its narrow streets and old wooden houses built by its first seafaring residents. Intermingled among the old structures are modern motels and shops, well known for their colorful souvenirs.

"Key West style" food is famous the world over and runs to the exotic, such as turtle steak, green turtle soup, conch chowder, crawfish and lime pie.

For avid fishermen, Florida offers some of the best catches in the world, such as marlin, tuna, sailfish, amberjack, kingfish and barracuda. For those who like the sea but not the fishing, a trip around the Florida Keys, a lovely chain of small islands that sweep in a great curve along the coast, is worth the entire visit.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Write to Mr. Fowler in care of The Big Spring Herald for answers to your travel questions.

'Profiles In Courage' Reviewed At Meeting

Mrs. J. C. Ferguson reviewed the book, "Profiles In Courage," by John F. Kennedy at the Thursday meeting of the Forsan Study Club. The group met in the school cafeteria.

She related the story of how eight U. S. senators were striving to do what they believed in regardless of public opinion and were working for the national interest.

Mrs. H. H. Story chose the poem, "Sermons We See," by Edgar A. Guest, for a devotion.

Winners of the outdoor decorating contest sponsored by the club were announced. Mrs. W. M. Romans won a yard light as first place winner in the holiday event. The J. C. Fergusons and Romie Gandys tied for second place.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth bordered in American eagles. An eagle figurine centered the table, and silver and crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Don Murphy and Mrs. J. B. Hoard were hostesses to 20 members.

The next meeting will be Jan. 21 with Mrs. Gandy presenting a program on the profile of a president.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

It has been said many times in this part of our world if you don't like the weather, stick around awhile and it will change. For several weeks we had begun to wonder if this could be applied to Howard County where it had been warm for weeks and there was some concern that the fruit trees would be completely fooled and start budding. Now that it has turned reasonably cool perhaps we won't have to put umbrellas over the trees or cold water on their roots to keep them from doing what they naturally do when temperatures are so high from the warm sun the trees and early blooming shrubs think it's spring. Winter, we welcome you!

MRS. DEE BENNETT could hardly wait until Christmas was over to make her long-anticipated trip to Xenia, Ohio, where she had her first look at her twin granddaughters, DIANA and DEANA DEVORE, four months old daughters of MR. and MRS. EDDIE DEVORE. Mrs. Bennett is the former MARTHA BENNETT. Mrs. Bennett returned here the forepart of the week.

When JP was in Austin recently he had dinner at the home of the Elbert Hoopers and was delighted with a hominy casserole served with roast beef. It was so good he asked for and got the following directions: Hominy Casserole. Pour 1/2 liquid off 1 pound can of white hominy. Put hominy and remaining liquid in baking dish. Add to dish 1 T. chili powder, 3 T. chopped onions, 4 T. bacon drippings, 1 t. salt, 2 T. flour. Mix well. Sprinkle 1/4 cups of yellow cheese over top. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes in covered dish, removing cover for the last 15 minutes of baking. Yields five servings.

MRS. J. P. DODGE has returned from a two week visit in Baytown and Venus. In Baytown she visited in the home of MR. and MRS. HOUSTON SCHWETZER and had the happy experience of seeing her grandson BILL SCHWETZER, 14, get his Eagle Scout award.

Having completed her Baytown visiting, Mrs. Dodge went to her hometown of Venus where she stayed with a sister, MRS. LEE MARTIN, and a brother, SHUTTLES GRIFFITH, for several days.

If the weather stays wet and cold enough, Texas may look this week like St. Louis, Mo., looked on Christmas day to MR. and MRS. L. W. CROFT who were there spending the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. DAKIN WILLIAMS, and their family. The Crofts returned early in the week from their trip. She said the ice was so thick they didn't venture from the house... just did what we did here in Texas... stayed-in and ate too many holiday goodies.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD ENGLANDER of Dallas have returned home after spending several days here with her brother and sister, SIDNEY and JANICE MELLINGER and another brother and his family MR. and MRS. Did you know that there is an enamel whitener that can be bought through magazines for people with dull teeth to brighten their smiles? I don't know anyone who uses it but it appears that all one does is to take the swab and smear it over the discolored toofies... it's not supposed to hurt anything... dentures, fillings and the like. Sounds like an easy way to have a sparkling smile, if it works. DEE FOSTER JR., talked to his mother Friday night from the Thomas Spann Hospital in Corpus Christi where he is to undergo tests Monday. Slate Changes During Association Luncheon

Mrs. Gil Gingold presided for the last time as president of the Ladies Golf Association when the group met Friday at Big Spring Country Club for the regular monthly luncheon.

Mrs. Joe Moss, the new president, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Gingold for her work in the association and presented her a silver chafing dish and tray on behalf of the members. Officers to serve with Mrs. Moss are Mrs. John Davis, vice president; Mrs. Garner McAdams, secretary; and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, treasurer.

Mrs. Gingold introduced the guests, Mrs. Edwin Ballard and Mrs. Enid Brasum, and conducted the brief business session. Reports were heard from Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Dee Jon Davis.

Mrs. Elmo Wasson expressed appreciation to those who worked on the style show, saying that 213 tickets had been sold for a net profit of over $200. She reminded duplicate players that the open pairs games on Saturday would begin at 1 p.m.

Built-Ins Aid Areas

You can get a lot of mileage from a basement "rec room" if it's properly compartmentalized.

The idea is to build in storage for every need, but in such a way that use areas are created and defined by built-ins.

For example, there might be a wall of cabinets and exposed shelving for a book-and-music corner. There might be a work table with additional cabinets to form a hobby center. A refreshment counter and auxiliary kitchen can be built into one corner of the room; clothes closets and perhaps a closet for a Murphy bed could go into another corner to make guest sleeping quarters.

All built-ins can be matched decoratively with ponderosa pine louver doors. The kitchen corner and full size closets in the sleeping nook can be the same louver doors, but of a folding style that are suspended on a ceiling track.

Paint the built-ins a clear, light shade to bring sunshine into the basement, and use an area rug on the floor in a strong, warm color.

house; Mrs. Jerry Spence, social; Mrs. Wasson, bridge; Mrs. Bill Coleman, pool; Mrs. Jack Irons, teenage; Mrs. Gingold, ways and means; and Mrs. Wendal Parks and Mrs. Wes Shouse, telephone.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Heith and Mrs. Taylor, and the yellow chrysanthemum centerpiece was won by Mrs. Hayes Stripling.

DUPLICATE

Following the luncheon 12 tables were in play for the Master Point games. North-south winners were Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Mrs. Joe Steyer, first; Mrs. Hayes Stripling and Mrs. E. L. Powell tied with Mrs. J. Gordon Bristol and Mrs. Elmo Wasson for second and third; and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Jack Irons were fourth.

East-west winners were Mrs. Wally Slate and Mrs. Robert H. Dyer, first; Mrs. Marion Edwards and Mrs. Ty Allen, second; Mrs. Fred Kasch and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, third; and Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. J. H. Holloway, fourth.

Players were reminded of the winners game at Big Spring Country Club Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Rinse Water Hint

If you spare the rinse, you may spoil the wash. It is very important to make sure water is hot enough on washday. The first rinse should be just as hot as the washing water. Why? Because cooler water will harden the soap, causing it to cling to the fibers, and yellow the clothes.

County Salaries Will Be Pegged At Monday Meet

Howard County Commissioners will peg 1965 salaries at their meeting Monday. No general revision of pay schedules seems to be in prospect. If any changes are made, it appears these will be in individual cases rather than across the board. There are currently 86 full time employees on the county pay roll — including the elective officials.

Lee Porter, county judge, said that he knew of no proposals for important salary revisions and, unless some development arises, it is probable the pay schedules will remain about as they were in 1964. Aubrey Standard, sheriff, said he will ask the county commission to upgrade the office of jailer in his department. He proposes that the jailer be combined with the duties of identification officer and he also plans to have a radio monitor and night phone installed in the jailer's quarters so the officer can double as a night-time deputy. The sheriff said he would ask that the pay be increased for the jailer to compensate him for his extra work. He also said he plans to ask for an adjustment in the pay for his chief deputy and possibly one or more other workers in his offices.

Wade Choate, county auditor, said he would ask that his assistant, Roberta Oldfield, now paid $325 a month, be given a $10 raise to make her pay the same as that paid other office chief deputies. Elective county officials are now paid at the rate of $600 a month with exception of the county treasurer and the county commissioners. The county treasurer's salary is $490. The four county commissioners are paid $376.20 per month, plus a car allowance of $75 per month. The road and bridge department payroll ranges from $515 per month paid to the road administrator, Billy Paul Thomas, and the road superintendent, Pete Thomas, to $275 paid to Mrs. Olyne Whiteside, secretary. The workers are paid from $335 to as much as $430 depending on the job and responsibility. Average deputy pay in the elective offices, with exception of the sheriff's office, is from $235 to $295 — again determined by the duties and responsibilities and the time the deputy has worked. Chief deputy in the sheriff's office at this time is paid $420 a month. Other deputies receive $400. The jailer, provided living quarters and a food allowance, is now paid $200 and the girls employed in the office vary from $250 to $275 per month. Justices of the peace, in Big Spring, also elective officers, are on the pay roll at $325 per month plus a car allowance of $25 per month. They are also provided a secretary three days each week at $12 per day. The justice of peace at Coahoma gets $100 a month. Thomas Birkhead and Lee Young, constables, are paid $1 per year.

Jaycees Map Plans For Rattlesnake Hunt

Big Spring Jaycees have set dates and made major committee appointments for the club's annual Rattlesnake Roundup, an affair that attracts considerable scientific interest as well as public curiosity. The 1965 affair—the organization's chief money-raising event of the year—will be March 5-7. Club chairman will be Capt. Dick E. Wilson, officer in charge of the Aviation Physiological Training Unit at Webb AFB. Directing the show will be Bill Ransburger, an experienced snake handler who has been with the Sweetwater Jaycees for a number of years and Shelly Downs well-known Florida curator and expert in reptiles. Ransburger and Downs have helped with the local Rattlesnake Roundup for the past two years and helped make it interesting and educational. Activities will be divided into three areas. Weighing and measuring of incoming snakes will go on the better part of the three days. The milking of snakes to collect venom for antibiotic uses will be at periodic intervals. The processing of the reptiles which includes skinning and cleaning will include special instruction on how properly to prepare and cure the skins for belts, hats, bands, etc. And snake meat deep-fried will be offered to the public at a nominal fee. During the hunt there will also be a large animal display to be directed by A. D. Blount of the Westview Pet Shop. In conjunction with this year's hunt Jaycees will sponsor a Roundup Queen contest with various organizations from town and Base invited to sponsor a participant. The Queen and her court will be named on the night of March 6 at a Jaycee-sponsored teen dance at the National Guard Armory. Organizations wishing to enter a contestant may call Richard Hughes at AM 4-6361 or Jack Dumphy at AM 3-6759. Captain Wilson has named the following committee chairman: Publicity—John Anderson and Winston Wrinkle. Ranchers and guides—Don Worthan and Alton Marwitz. Queen Contest and dance—Richard Hughes and Jack Dumphy. Building construction—Airman I.C. Gene Flowers and Louis Heinze. Skinning and cleaning—John McDaniel and Jimmy Anderson. Snake moving and weighing—Melvin Fryar. Concession—Louis McKnight and members of the Jaycee-Ettes. Admissions and receipts—Charles Bell and Joe Crump. Programming—Charles Butts and Daryle Hohertz. Awards—Jack Orr and Al Coppenger. Animal display—Capt. Larry Klinestiver and Lt. Max Werking. Registration—Capt. Henry Hill and Walter Wheat.

A new Hammond organ will be in use for musical numbers. The individual seats for the choir will be elevated, as will the baptistry. Cushioned pews will provide comfort for the congregation. Members of the church and guests may eat their noon meal at the church Sunday. A catering service will provide the meal, and the cost will be $1.35 for adults and 90 cents for children. Dr. James Landes, president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, will be the evangelist for a revival running through next Sunday. The former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls is well-known throughout the Southern Baptist Convention. He has held several positions of responsibility in both the Texas and Southern Associations.

Dedication Today At College Baptist

College Baptist Church members will long remember today when the new sanctuary will be in use for the first time. In addition to the regular morning service at 11 a.m., a dedicatory service for the building will be held at 1:30 p.m., and the first evening service for a week-long revival meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the church's first pastor, the Rev. H. W. Bartlett, preaching. The new sanctuary, costing nearly $100,000 with furniture and equipment, will seat 800 persons.

Diogenes Can Rest Awhile

Diogenes can polish up his lantern and go right on looking for the honest man if he wants to, but Mrs. Billie Malone, Hilltop Road, says she has already found the honest woman.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. Malone, considerably upset, phoned Deputy Sheriff Lindy Oldfield. She had lost her billfold, she told the officer. The billfold contained $275 in cash. Would Oldfield come out and talk to her about it and help her find it if he could? Lindy said he would be right out. Before he could get on his way, the phone rang again. It was Mrs. Malone. There was no longer any need to come out, she said. A woman, whose name was not learned, had found the billfold, established ownership by papers in it, and had returned it and its contents intact to Mrs. Malone. Mrs. Malone, needless to point out, was much happier than when she had called a few minutes earlier.

Witnesses To Attend Parley

Most of the members of the Big Spring congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses left Friday afternoon for Midland for their semi-annual training program which began at 8:45 p.m. Regular meetings of the congregation for this weekend were cancelled. Over 600 delegates from 16 congregations in West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico were expected to attend the three-day meeting in the Guadalupe Community Center, Midland, Jan. 8-10.

H. A. Fetzik, Watchtower representative from Brooklyn, N. Y., is chairman for the meetings and delivered the theme talk, "Speak the Word of God with Boldness," at 7 p.m. Friday. He will also deliver the featured talk, the highlight of the meeting, at 3 p.m. today, entitled "Our Divided World—Is It Here to Stay?"

Good Record On Bad Checks

Howard County Worthless Check Department's third anniversary of existence was Jan. 9. So far the department has been able to collect and repay to merchants and individuals a grand total of $114,056.84 in the three years it has operated. The records show that the first year the department was functioning, the collections and repayment to check cashers was $35,177.24. In 1963, the department collections were $36,929.33. For the year just ended, the department collected $39,769.96. The check department was copied after a function in the office of the sheriff in Wichita County. At the time it was put in service, the most optimistic of its supporters had hoped it might collect as much as $10,000 a year in bad checks. In December, 1964, to show the successful operation of the agency, collections were $7,019.92—amazingly close to the total predicted as an annual achievement when the department was first set up. In December, 267 worthless checks were turned over to the department for processing. The department collected 265 of these. Ten misdemeanor check cases were filed in the county court during the month. No felony complaints were lodged in December. The department functions with two deputies.

Nancy's lonely. Nobody bothers with her much these days. Mommy's always sad and upset. And when Daddy's home, the quarreling and shouting make Nancy so frightened that she hides. She couldn't put it into words, but she knows that her safe little world has fallen to pieces.

The number of broken homes grows every year. Mutual affection and mutual interests are good reasons for marriage, but they are not enough. Our ancestors used to hang the framed words "God Bless Our Home" over the mantel because they knew that He must be a member of every closely knit family circle.

No matter how difficult a marital problem may seem, it can be solved with God's help.

Church membership and regular church attendance do much to strengthen and enrich family ties. Bring your family this Sunday. Every member, from the oldest to the youngest, will be welcome.

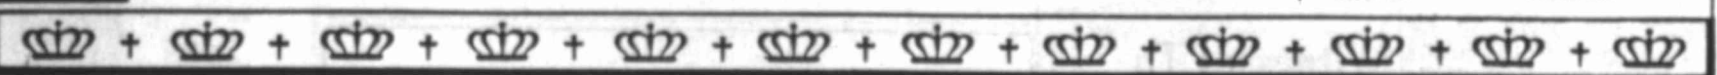

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE CABLE TV VIEW

By Jim Lancaster BIG SPRING CABLE TV

versal's tense melodrama, "Kitten With a Whip," comes today to the Ritz Theatre. Fortunately, for the success of her portrayal, it happens that Ann-Margret possesses all the requisites. Nature has been bountiful to her. She is a sex kitten by inclination, tantalizing and tempestuous alike.

On Norway Stage

NEW YORK (AP)—The American National Theater and Academy is helping out in establishment of an English-speaking drama company that plans to start operating in Norway next summer.

To Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — George Seaton, veteran film director, makes his Broadway staging debut this spring as the man in charge of "About William," a drama by Henry Denker.

Would They Return Home?

A VANISHING AMERICA, Introduction by Wallace Stegner (Holt Rinehart and Winston, $95)

Do small town lads, now mature and moved to the city, really wish to return permanently to the town of their growing up?

Sometimes in the night a moment of nostalgia as sharp as a knife may strike a one-time small-town man. But return permanently? Some would decline despite the stresses of city residence.

This is something thinly seen but nevertheless there in "The Vanishing America: The Life and Times of the Small Town," recently published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston.

The authors are 12 distinguished writers telling of the towns of their boyhood, and some flatly state that the town has changed, and so have they, and they do not indicate strongly longing to return permanently.

Small towns today must progress, must hunt industry, must modernize the store fronts, pave the streets, and turn the grocery store and meat market of boyhood memory into a supermarket. Else they die.

Apparently few towns ever simply mellow. They never remain the way we remember them. But what does? We are not the same as when we lived there.

This does not mean that the reader will find nothing to stir his memory, and perhaps for

Taste Of Shakespeare

NEW YORK (AP)—Theater in Education celebrates its 10th anniversary this winter with a tour of high schools in North Carolina and Connecticut.

The company, founded by Lyn Ely, specializes in performance in single program of excerpts from several Shakespearean plays, the material selected to whet enthusiasm for study of the classics. The appearances in North Carolina are under a directed financial grant from the state legislature.

Rumor Is True

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of Broadway's most persistent rumors are scheduled to be transformed together into actuality next season.

The frequent reports have concerned return to the stage of Milton Berle, last seen on the White Way in 1949; and the creation of a musical about two notorious lawyers of an earlier Gotham era, William Howe and Abe Hummel.

The project is being prepared by producer Diana Krasny. Berle is to star in an adaptation of biographical material by Jerome Wiedman. The score is being prepared by Harold Rome. Late September is marked down as the time of the proposed premiere.

STAMP NEWS

Zambian Republic Has Definitive Issue Out

By SYD KRONISH AP Wirephotos

The new Republic of Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia, which just issued its first set of stamps honoring its independence, has now issued an initial definitive set of stamps.

There are 14 stamps from the land which prides itself on being the home of Victoria Falls. Depicted on the new adhesives are: a farmer with a grain marketing board silo, a radiographer at work, a native dancer, the cotton industry, dairy and beef stock, communications, the lumber industry, fishing industry, tobacco industry, basket weaving, hunting in the Luangway Valley, education, copper mining, Makishi dancing.

The French postal authorities have announced new issues from the Cameroons. A tourist set of two stamps featured Niem Falls on a 20 franc and a beach with coconut trees on a 50 franc. A folklore set depicts a dance mask on an 18 franc, a dancing costume on a 9 franc and a Foulbe rider on a 25 franc stamp.

Iran has announced the issuance of a set of three new stamps to honor Children's Day in that country. A portrait of the Crown Prince of Iran appears on the 1 rial, 2 r and 6 r stamps.

The Netherlands Antilles will issue a new stamp to honor the Caribbean Organization, succea moment bring back the small pleasures of boyhood. At times he can say, "I remember the same thing in my town."

"The book has a deeper significance: Recording how towns grow and sometimes decline but taken as a whole helped build America as much as any teeny city.

The towns selected range from the comparatively ancient ones on the Eastern Seaboard to the still brash ones in the West.

Perhaps the oldest of the towns described — and perhaps surprisingly old to eastern dwellers — is Nacogdoches, Tex.

The story of that East Texas place is told by John Edward Weems, an Austin author.

Nacogdoches, in a way, goes back to Indian days, and the redman's trails were used, and still are used, as the white man pushed in.

The town, more a small city now, was one of the advance posts of the Spanish soldiers and churchmen. At one time it was a key city between east and west. It even had a smuggler's trail, still seen paralleling the main road which led to the settlements around San Antonio.

Nacogdoches is thriving, and possibly mellowing handsomely as well.

Two of the authors are Pulitzer Prize winners. Hodding Carter writes of Holly Springs, Miss.; and Conrad Richter of Pine Grove, Pa.

"ANY NUMBER CAN WIN" Masked Alain Delon masterminds a reckless robbery of a billion francs in this offering at the State opening today.

Plot Involves Casino Robbery

"Any Number Can Win," starring Jean Gabin and Alain Delon, tells of a reckless scheme to rob the vault of the Casino in Cannes of a billion francs. Although motion pictures have featured numerous crime pictures and suspense stories, there has never been one like "Any Number Can Win."

It would be a mistake to give away too much of the plot of this taut and tensely gripping film, but this much can be revealed:

The perpetrator of the crime is Jean Gabin, a man who has just been released from a five-year prison term for attempted robbery and is determined to try one more audacious theft before ending his dangerous career. He needs a young accomplice and finds him in Alain Delon, who also has served time for a hold-up.

Gabin has obtained the blueprints of the construction of the Casino from which he has discovered a difficult but possible way of gaining access to its vault at a time when the cashier and his assistants will be collecting the season's proceeds. A trapdoor backstage at the Casino Theatre opens onto the roof, from which an air-conditioning duct leads to an elevator shaft. Delon will have to crawl through the duct, break into the elevator, which is the only means of access to the basement vault, and hold up the cashier and his assistants at exactly the right moment.

There are any number of hazards, but first Delon will have to become familiar with the backstage layout of the theatre in order to locate the trapdoor. To do this, he poses as a wealthy summer visitor to Cannes and carries on an ardent courtship of Carla Marlier, a dancer with the Casino Ballet troupe. Once he has become a recognized "stage-door Johnny" and has located the trapdoor, all works out as planned.

Most...

People will be talking about this surprise finish long after they have left the theatre. The artists who can take a bow for this crime-thriller include the veteran Gabin; young Alain Delon, who has scored previously in such hits as "The Leopard" and "Rocco and His Brothers"; the attractive Miss Marlier, Maurice Biraud, Vivian Romance and the Ben Tyber Ballet Troupe, who gave a spirited performance in a theatre sequence of the film.

"Any Number Can Win" is also a hit for Producer Jacques Bar and Henri Verneuil, who directed the Cipa Production, filmed in Dyalyscope largely on locations in Cannes.

"FATE IS THE HUNTER" Jane Russell stars in Jet film

Convicts Help Allied Offensive

The historic city of Dubrovnik in Yugoslavia, crowned by the befitting fortress which has frowned down upon — and repulsed — the great navies of the world since the dawn of history, is the locale for "The Secret Invasion," narration of a handful of convicted criminals who save Yugoslavia for the Allied cause in World War II.

The United Artists release opens today at the State Theatre. And Dubrovnik, now one of the most popular resort and tourist attractions on the blue Adriatic, was chosen for the filming of this action.

Dubrovnik was the eastern place in the world for Producer Corman to find authentic partisans who actually fought the Nazis and remember these fights well. Corman was able to round up 300 of these "authentic" for some of the climactic action in the picture, and most of them still had their old uniforms and arms.

Besides, Dubrovnik's famous war museum had a lot of captured Nazi uniforms and prisoner-of-war garb in its storerooms and was quite willing to lend them to Corman because they're quite proud of the way they handled the Nazi invader in Dubrovnik.

And besides, too, many of the picturesque fishing vessels bobbing in Dubrovnik's picture-book harbor were actual veterans of the sea skirmishes which played such an important part in the city's war history — and in the picture.

"The Secret Invasion" narrates how five convicted criminals, all with long terms stretching ahead of them and one under sentence of death, are offered their freedom in return for a risky invasion of Dubrovnik for the purpose of solidifying partisan resistance against the occupying Nazis. If they fail, there would be the inevitable Nazi firing squad.

Miner Pension Age Lowered

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A lowered pension age in the United Mine Workers' retirement system will put money into the pockets of many presently unemployed Kentucky miners, officials said Thursday.

The new age is 55. It had been 60. No exact figures were available, but UMW officials said large numbers of members, especially in economically depressed eastern Kentucky, will qualify for immediate retirement and that most are unemployed now. Those who qualify will get $5 a month. The lower age is effective Feb. 1.

Give Hints On Baking

DEAR ABBY: I feel so sick at heart I don't know what to do. My daughter-in-law is the dearest little thing. I couldn't love my own daughter more. Yesterday she brought my little granddaughter over to see me and she also brought me a cake she had made from "scratch" from a recipe I had given her. She was so proud of that cake. I wanted to make her feel good so I fixed a pot of coffee and served her cake with it. I want to tell you that cake wasn't easy to swallow. It was lopsided, underdone in the center and very heavy. After she left I took the cake out in the backyard and started breaking it up into small pieces for the birds. As I was pitching it left and right, my daughter-in-law came back to get the baby's diaper bag, which she had forgotten. When she saw me throwing the cake out she looked so hurt. Oh, Abby, I haven't been able to sleep. Should I try to patch things up, or should I try to forget it and hope she will, too?

SO SORRY: It would be better to bring it up and clear the air. Tell her you appreciated her thoughtfulness and also tell her what was wrong with her cake and offer to help her make the next one. (P.S. Your timing, as well as her cake, was for the birds.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 39-year-old woman who has been married for 21 years. I have four children. The two oldest are in college. My doctor put me on birth control pills but something must have gone wrong because I am pregnant again. When my husband heard the news he said it was no wonder I got in that condition because HE should have been taking the pills, not me. I thought maybe I misunderstood my doctor, so I called him on the phone and asked him who should have been taking the pills. Me or my husband? He said, "YOU, of course. Are you trying to be funny or are you just plain stupid?" My feelings were very hurt.

Miss Abby, and I was not trying to be funny. Was my question stupid?

EXPECTING AND HURT DEAR EXPECTING: No. But your doctor was. He needs a pill—for temper control.
