Two Redistrict Plans Handed To Legislature

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Legislative Council has recommended two plans for congressional reapportionment which could match congressmen against each other in 1966 elections, but asked the legislature to try to avoid this situation.

"The people do properly have an interest in preserving an incumbent who has achieved a position of influence," the council's report said Monday.

Its recommendations, approved with a single dissenting vote, followed months of work by a special seven-member committee.

SEEK COMPATIBILITY
Seeking a plan compatible with the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling last February that a state's congressmen should be chosen on a population basis, the council's proposals would put parts of Dallas, Tarrant and Bexar counties with other counties in an effort to create districts of substantially equal population.

Both plans also would put Midland and Odessa in separate districts, and separate both those cities from El Paso County.

"The council's ideas are suggestions only. Any lawmaker could introduce legislation including all or part of the two proposals."

Congressman Wright Patman of Texas and Ray Roberts of McKinney would be in an expanded Dist. 1 under Plan A. This plan would put U.S. Reps. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater and John Dowdy of Athens in the same district.

SAME DISTRICT
Under Plan B, Beckworth and Patman would be in the same district, as would Congressmen O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and J. J. Pickle of Austin, and Clark Brooks of Beaumont and Jack Thompson of Galveston.

State Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe was chairman of the council's study committee. It sought ways of redrawing the districts to come as close as possible to an average population of 416,508 in accordance with the Supreme Court's "one-man-one vote" doctrine.

However, recommended districts vary in population from a low of 295,472 to a high of 437,183 in Plan B and from 294,679 to 447,349 in Plan A.

The council also recommended several guidelines for congressional reapportionment, including completion of the task before Aug. 1, the deadline set by a Houston federal court. An Aug. 2 deadline was set for legislative redistricting, a problem not discussed in the council's report.

SOLID BASIS
The council said "all variations from equal population should have some reasonable basis that would be convincing to the court."

The report adopted by the council spoke of problems involved in dividing Dallas, Tarrant and Bexar counties into congressional districts. Harris County, with enough population for exactly three congressmen, would not lose territory to any congressional district outside its boundaries.

Dallas County would get two congressmen and Bexar and

Boy Survives Golden Gate Bridge Fall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A stocky, blond high school student has survived a 236-foot fall from the Golden Gate Bridge into San Francisco Bay.

The boy, identified as Tom Tawzer, 16, of nearby Livermore, Calif., was reported recovering today at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco from a broken collarbone and three or four broken ribs.

MEDICS AMAZED
The Coast Guard said Tawzer was treading water when they pulled alongside him to make the rescue Monday. Doctors said they were amazed at the boy's good condition.

He is only the second person known to survive a fall from the span. Bridge authorities list 278 known deaths from suicide leaps.

Highway patrolmen, stationed at a permanent office on the toll plaza, reached the railing just as the boy bobbed to the surface of the cold, choppy waters.

Witnesses told patrolmen Tawzer climbed to the top of a bridge rail and went feet first into the bay.

"YOUTHFUL VIGOR"

"Youthful vigor was certainly a factor," said Maj. Carl W. Hughes, chief of surgical services at the Army hospital.

The boy talked coherently, the doctor said, and was visited by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tawzer of Livermore, a community of 16,000 about 30 miles east of San Francisco.

"I was walking on the bridge," the boy was quoted. "The next thing I remember I was in the water."

Legislature Marked By Start Amid Noise

LBJ's Vast School Plan In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent Congress a record $1.64-billion tots-through-teens education program today, with an open invitation to private and parochial schools to take part.

The proposed program, with heavy emphasis on the children of low-income families, is the heaviest presidential artillery yet in what Johnson calls his war against poverty.

The provisions for non-public schools to share in the benefits seem certain to trigger a bitter fight on Capitol Hill.

QUICK PROTESTS
Even before the details were laid before Congress, it was learned, the group known as "Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State," made known its opposition.

However, it also was learned that the Roman Catholic hierarchy generally approves, and so do some officials of the National Education Association, which traditionally opposes the use of public funds for non-public schools.

An administration source was confident: "This is a good bill, and one we believe we can get through the Congress."

The comprehensive program would provide assistance to pre-school youngsters in the slums, elementary and secondary school pupils in the nation's pockets of poverty, and college scholarships and other help for worthy and needy high school graduates.

PROVISIONS

The presidential program would provide for fiscal 1966: —Public schools: $1 billion for elementary and secondary schools serving children from families with less than $2,000 annual income. There are an estimated 5 million such children and 85-90 per cent of the nation's school districts will qualify for assistance. Public and private schools would be urged to cooperate in shared-time programs and other joint use of new facilities.

—Higher education: $260 million to provide 140,000 scholarships, partial payment of interest on guaranteed private loans to college students — perhaps 2 per cent of the usual 6 per cent, assistance to small colleges, improved teacher training programs, and university-community extension programs, similar to the traditional agricultural extension programs.

SLUM CHILDREN
—Pre-school: $150 million to eradicate the handicaps with which slum children start first grade, when many educational experts say they already are two or three years behind. The projects probably would be patterned after the experimental programs now under way in Detroit, Baltimore and New York City. This would be part of the President's budget for the Economic Opportunity Act, not his educational program.

—Book purchases: $100 million in grants to states for the purchase of textbooks and library books. This would be for all schools, public and private, and whether or not they were in the pockets of poverty. All books purchased would be those used by the public schools; the purchase of religiously oriented books would be barred.

—Education centers: $100 million for supplementary education centers and services, providing public and private school pupils alike with tutors, programs in remedial reading, science and language laboratories, summer schools, programs and teachers for handicapped children, and accelerated programs for the gifted.

NEW TAGS LOOK DIFFERENT

New License Tags Have Arrived Here

You can't buy them yet, but the supply of 1965 car plates for Howard County is now on hand, neatly stowed away in the offices of Zerah LeFevre, county tax collector-assessor.

The 25,000 pound shipment of tags arrived shortly after noon Monday. One truck load and a second truck half-loaded brought the tags here from the storage center in Abilene.

The new plates go on sale Feb. 1. Motorists must acquire plates and have them attached to their cars by April 1.

Texas license plates have a new look this season. They have a three-letter prefix and will not have more than three numerals.

The colors are white with black lettering.

The first plate to be sold on Feb. 1 will be CHY 200.

The shipment received Monday afternoon comprised 18,195 sets of passenger car plates; 4,325 truck; 405 farm truck; 350 tractor-tractor; six farm special tractor; 1,606 trailer; 400 special trailer; 250 house trailer; 350 motorcycle; 940 farm trailer plates. Mrs. LeFevre, following a custom of last year and the previous year, said that substitutions for the distribution of plates will function at College Park and in the Newsom Food Store on Gregg.

She said plates CYJ 10-999, CYZ 10-449 have been assigned to College Park, and CYZ 450 to 999 and CYB 10-999 to Newsom's.

The first 100 plates out of the CZC series have been reserved for Cosden.

CYH 200 will be the first plate issued in the auto tax office and CYM 10 the first plate available in the regular tax office.

Other letter combinations to be issued in this county are CYJ, CYK, CYL, CYN, CYP, CYR, CYS, CYT, CYV, CYW, CYX, CZC, CZD and CZF.

Requests for special plate numbers cannot be handled at the substations.

GOP Helm To Bliss

Burch Yields Helm To Bliss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch will announce today he is stepping down — after a transition period — to make way for Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss, a party source said.

The shift, with former Sen. Barry Goldwater's approval, will be announced later today in Phoenix, Ariz.

Burch, Goldwater, Bliss and former Rep. William E. Miller, the party's vice presidential nominee, gathered there for a joint news conference.

Senators In Departure From Past

BULLETIN

AUSTIN (AP) — Ben Barnes 27, was unanimously elected today as the youngest speaker of the Texas House since Reconstruction Days.

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas senators, in a rare departure from tradition, skipped over Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston liberal, and chose Sen. Tom Creighton, Mineral Wells, today as their temporary presiding officer.

The action was taken in caucus. The selection of the president pro tempore highlighted the opening day business, mostly traditional ceremonies and activities.

The selection of Creighton violated long tradition in selection of the senator with the most seniority, who in this case was Schwartz.

Schwartz said as the senators left the closed door caucus that the only reason he knew why he was passed over was his battle the last session against Senate closed sessions.

Schwartz categorized his action last session as "tweaking a few noses."

SINCE 1960
Creighton came to the Senate in 1960. The young lawyer represents 10 counties in North and North Central Texas.

Classified as a strong conservative by labor voting analysts, Creighton was Palo Pinto County attorney during 1952-60. Creighton is married and has sons 11, 9 and 6.

The 59th Legislature opened at noon with its two biggest problems — redistricting and more money — already making the most noise.

There are only two new Senate members — Jack Hightower of Vernon and Pete Snelson of Midland.

The House, with 42 new members, will rush through oath taking ceremonies to get down to the important business of naming a new speaker.

Byron Tunnell of Tyler, speaker for the 58th Legislature, had been considered a sure re-election bet until appointed railroad commissioner last Thursday.

BARNES IN LINE
Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon, Tunnell's close friend and aide who was being prepped for the 60th session speakership, was expected to win handily.

After the ceremonies and elections, both chambers will turn to mostly routine business for about two weeks.

The new speaker will spend much of his time interviewing House members and making committee assignments while Gov. John Connally and a host of other officials go to Washington for the Jan. 20 inauguration of President Johnson.

INAUGURAL
Connally's inauguration, first set for Jan. 19, has been postponed to Jan. 26. He will not make his traditional address to a joint session of the legislature until Jan. 27.

Smith has said he will have his senate committee assignments ready Wednesday.

The money outlook improved as State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert predicted the general revenue fund surplus on Aug. 31, 1965, the end of this current fiscal period, will total $97.8 million, compared to Connally's estimate of $95.9 million.

Calvert also estimated 1966-67 general revenue at $860 million. Connally forecast $832.8 million.

The comptroller forecast that he could certify $633.4 million in appropriations by this Legislature for state operations the next two years.

SPENDING ESTIMATE
Connally estimated the administration spending program would cost $619.3 million. The governor's spending recommendations, however, do not include several outstanding demands, including $68 million to give school teachers a $45 a month pay hike.

Viet Mobs Rampaging

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Noisy antigovernment mobs roared through the central Vietnamese city of Hue again today, parading with banners in front of the U.S. consulate.

Antigovernment demonstrations also began in Da Nang.

British Fleet Off Malaysia

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP) — Britain's biggest fleet now is protecting Malaysia from Indonesian attack.

The aircraft carrier Eagle, Britain's most formidable warship, arrived Monday to join the Far East fleet of more than 70 ships. It includes the carrier Victorious, the commando ship Bulwark, guided missile destroyers and frigates.

South Viet Nam's second largest city.

Reports from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, said some of the marchers carried banners demanding neutralization of the war-torn country.

Hue city was also in the grip of a general strike for the third day. Businesses and transportation facilities were halted. A general strike also continued at Quang Tri, farther to the north.

The demonstrations and strikes were organized by a group calling itself the "Buddhists and Students Protective Association." The agitation has centered around Hue University.

U.S. sources said about 1,500 marchers demonstrated in Hue. Neither the American consulate nor the U.S. Information Service closed their doors. In another part of the city 3,000 gathered to hear antigovernment speeches.

In Saigon, Premier Tran Van Huong denied that the United States had tried to dictate a settlement of South Viet Nam's recent government crisis.

Quads Born In Wisconsin

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — Quadruplets were born in nine minutes Monday night to a young couple whose family — living in a house trailer — already consisted of twins not quite a year old and a 3-year-old son.

The quadruplets, two boys and two girls, and the mother, Joyce Graf, 23, were reported in good condition at Kenosha Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Graf is the wife of Robin F. Graf, 24, a machine operator employed by a Waukegan, Ill., roofing firm. She entered the hospital for an upset stomach four days before the birth of the quads which had been expected.

The first baby, a boy, was born at 7:34 p.m. and the fourth arrived at 7:43 p.m. They weighed: 4 pounds, 2 1/4 ounces; 3 pounds, 8 ounces; 4 pounds, 5 ounces, and 3 pounds, 12 1/2 ounces. The first two were boys, the next two girls. All were placed in incubators.

Drs. Walter Rattan and Edwin Barnes delivered the babies.

The twins are a boy and a girl, who will be a year old Jan. 16.

The Grafs live in the town of Pleasant Prairie about three miles south of Kenosha.

The quads have not yet been named.

Estate Left In Securities

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss Rose Williams, 82, spent her life dusting and sweeping other women's homes so, her friends believed, she could indulge a solitary passion for wearing red — red dresses, red hats, red shoes, red nightclothes.

County officials have discovered that the tiny spinster made a few other investments — in securities.

Miss Williams died Dec. 30. The Public Administrator's office reported Monday that $130,000 in securities was found in her safety deposit box.

"And there may be a lot more in other banks," said an official.

Planning For Cancer Crusade

R. C. Taylor, District 2 field representative of the American Cancer Society, goes over materials in the Crusade Manual with Mrs. Larson Lloyd, chairman of the crusade to be undertaken here in the spring. With Boone Horne, who is co-chairman, she is in the process of securing committee members for the effort, according to Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, campaign chairman. Appointments will be announced later.

Industrial Foundation Elects Lloyd President

Larson Lloyd, president of the Security State Bank, was elected president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation at the annual meeting of the board Monday afternoon. He was elevated from the vice presidency, to succeed R. L. Beale.

Randall Polk was named vice president, and Harold Talbot was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

At a prior meeting of stockholders, five new directors were named to the board. These are Zolite Boykin, W. D. Caldwell, Horace Garrett, Dr. Allen R. Hamilton and H. G. Keaton. They will serve with these hold-over directors: Jack Wallace, Cecil McDonald, Guin Grigsby, H. W. Smith, Truman Jones, Champ Rainwater, R. W. Whipple, Lester Murton, Fred Kasch and Polk.

District To Fix Rates

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here Wednesday at 10:30 p.m. to fix rates to member cities for 1965.

The meeting, scheduled for Cosden Country Club, will be preceded at 9:30 a.m. by a meeting of the rate committee at the headquarters offices, 1318 E. 4th.

There also will be some miscellaneous business to attend to including contracts on some submersible well pumps, the drilling and casing of five wells on the new lease on the J. C. Sale ranch north of the district pump station in Martin County. A contract also may be let for a tractor with front end loader and back hole attachments.

Bids on the five wells were opened Monday at the district office and F. C. Wheeler Drilling Co. of Stanton appeared to be low bidder with a proposal of $14,000. Second low offer was by Dixon Pump and Drilling Company of Odessa for $16,680. The proposals were for five 14-inch holes 195 feet deep, set with 14 inch casing and 30-foot screen. Layne Texas bid $4,250 for single well units.

On the well pumps, which will replace five larger ones being removed from present wells for use in the new wells, Layne Texas appeared low with a proposal of $4,505.55. Dixon Pump was next with a proposal of $5,105.05, while Layne Bowler submitted a proposal of $6,920.

Bids on the tractors were being analyzed in relation to a compilation of alternate equipment units.

The board also is due to get reports from the recent hearing on its application for a lake near Robert Lee.

The legislature possesses an overwhelming masculine air. Not only are the pages and sergeant-at-arms all men—women have been unsuccessful in infiltrating the ranks—but there's only one woman serving in each chamber this session.

They are Maud Issacs of El Paso, a veteran of five House terms, and Mrs. Neville Colson of Navasota, who began House service in 1939 and later won election to the Senate.

Back-scenes activity nevertheless has been unnerving as ever. Johnny Kokernot, assistant to the sergeant-at-arms in the House, said Monday was a two-and-a-half-pack cigarette day, with more than 100 young men being interviewed for the 20 sergeant-at-arms jobs.

Some page positions are still open, and the stream of mothers and relatives who wanted to ask about their son's chances never slackened.

The zoning board of adjustment Monday approved a request from Thomas McAdams for a new residence at 1601 Kiowa Drive to meet 15-foot setback requirements, from the side street adjoining the property, under the I-F2 zone rather than the 20-foot side setback requirement under the I-F1 zone.

The property is at the intersection of Kiowa Drive and West Sixteenth Street.

The variance request was granted after board members questioned whether the residence would have a setback on the side street equal to that of other properties adjoining the lot. Bob McAdams, representing the builder, told the board it would conform to the side setback of other properties in the area. A similar variance request had previously been granted an adjoining lot, board member Carl Strom pointed out.

Hullabaloo Lessens At This Session

AUSTIN (AP)—There's a lot less hullabaloo accompanying the opening of the 59th Legislature than at the opening of the 58th in 1963.

Turnover was negligible in the Senate, with only two new faces, and the 42 new House members are a smaller bloc than in some years.

For sure, there won't be many Republicans. Frank Cahoon of Midland is the lone survivor of a Democratic election landslide.

Back-scenes activity nevertheless has been unnerving as ever. Johnny Kokernot, assistant to the sergeant-at-arms in the House, said Monday was a two-and-a-half-pack cigarette day, with more than 100 young men being interviewed for the 20 sergeant-at-arms jobs.

Some page positions are still open, and the stream of mothers and relatives who wanted to ask about their son's chances never slackened.

The legislature possesses an overwhelming masculine air. Not only are the pages and sergeant-at-arms all men—women have been unsuccessful in infiltrating the ranks—but there's only one woman serving in each chamber this session.

They are Maud Issacs of El Paso, a veteran of five House terms, and Mrs. Neville Colson of Navasota, who began House service in 1939 and later won election to the Senate.

The legislature possesses an overwhelming masculine air. Not only are the pages and sergeant-at-arms all men—women have been unsuccessful in infiltrating the ranks—but there's only one woman serving in each chamber this session.

They are Maud Issacs of El Paso, a veteran of five House terms, and Mrs. Neville Colson of Navasota, who began House service in 1939 and later won election to the Senate.

Back-scenes activity nevertheless has been unnerving as ever. Johnny Kokernot, assistant to the sergeant-at-arms in the House, said Monday was a two-and-a-half-pack cigarette day, with more than 100 young men being interviewed for the 20 sergeant-at-arms jobs.

Remodeling Of High School ROTC May Be Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners may propose remodeling the high school ROTC program to provide more than 100,000 teenage youths with training in specialties that could lead to careers as military technicians or in civilian trades.

President Johnson some time ago ordered the Defense Department to study the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps program and find a way to make it "responsive to the needs of our national defense."

The President acted after Congress required that the Junior ROTC program be expanded from the present 254 schools to 1,200.

Defense officials said that the Junior ROTC, as now set up, fills no military requirements, produces no officers and does not lead directly to enlistments in the Army.

The objective is to give that ROTC program a military purpose, officials said.

The present curriculum, based on three hours of training a week and a three-year course, centers around such subjects as military courtesies and conduct, close-order drill, military organization, weapons and marksmanship, map reading and the like.

However, officials said, this is of little utility and not worth the $5 million a year now spent on the program.

What the planners want to do is to give Junior ROTC cadets courses in such subjects as electronics, radar, mechanics and truck driving.

This, the planners say, would prepare a youngster after three years to join the Army and, after eight weeks of basic training, possibly be jumped in rank. Also, the planners say, the training would give youngsters a basis for going into civilian jobs with these specialties.

As the planners see it, this type of a program would encourage enlistments in the Army which in turn would help cut down the needs of a military draft.

Snow A Foot Deep In East

Travel was impaired, schools and roads were closed and some Northeastern cities lay under a foot of snow in the wake of a snowstorm which struck a dozen states.

New York City was hit by 5 to 9 inches of snow and the suburbs had deeper accumulations. Most roads in the area have been cleared. Rail travel was heavy Monday as some commuters were forced to leave their autos at home.

Schools in five Maryland counties were closed from the storm which blanketed the state with up to 12 inches of snow.

A snow plan was in effect for 19 of the 23 counties and in Baltimore. Some rural roads were closed, but main highways were open.

The horse races at Bowie, Md., were held despite six inches of snow. Frozen turf at Waterford Park in Chester, W. Va., caused the day's racing program to be canceled.

About 10 inches of new snow fell in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia and lesser amounts elsewhere in the state. Schools in two counties were closed because of snow.

The variance request was granted after board members questioned whether the residence would have a setback on the side street equal to that of other properties adjoining the lot. Bob McAdams, representing the builder, told the board it would conform to the side setback of other properties in the area. A similar variance request had previously been granted an adjoining lot, board member Carl Strom pointed out.

VOTE TODAY

Barnes In Line For Speakership

AUSTIN (AP)—Ben Barnes, a 27-year-old representative with just two legislative terms behind him, was expected to become speaker of the Texas House today by an overwhelming victory margin.

The young West Texan seemed certain of election although opposed by one rival for one of the most powerful jobs in state government.

House members were to cast their ballots in the afternoon, shortly after the legislature convened at noon.

VOTES PLEDGED

Barnes, from De Leon, said Sunday he had 131 votes pledged to his candidacy. One source said Monday that Barnes expected 145 votes. Only a majority is needed, and the House has 148 members.

The normal membership of 150 was reduced by the resignations of Speaker Byron Tunnell to accept appointment to the Railroad Commission and of Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs to become a district judge.

Only one speaker has been younger than Barnes—Ira Evans, who was elected by the 1870 House at the age of 25 but who later was deposed by his colleagues.

Barnes, a political protege of Tunnell, is expected to continue the previous speaker's conservative leadership.

A team of Barnes' legislative allies went to work Friday after Gov. John Connally's appointment of Tunnell to the Railroad Commission. By Saturday afternoon they had rounded up enough support to make Barnes confident of victory.

NAMES PANELS

The speaker names House committees and their chairmen. He also decides procedural disputes which sometimes determine the fate of legislation.

First to announce for speaker was Rep. Henry Grover of Houston. Following shortly were Barnes, Paul Haring of Goliad, Jim Nugent of Kerrville and Jack Woods of Waco. Reported to be considering the race were Reps. Wilson Foreman of Austin, Ben Lewis of Dallas, John Alaniz of San Antonio and Reed Quilliam of Lubbock.

All but Woods and Haring quickly dropped out and most climbed on the crowded Barnes bandwagon. Both acknowledged Barnes had the speakership sewed up.

Haring told a reporter he had some pledges, but wouldn't give the number.

Woods quit the race late Monday afternoon.

Barnes served his first term in the 1961 Legislature. He represents Coleman, Brown, Runnels and Comanche counties.

He holds a business degree from the University of Texas and attends law school when legislative duties permit. Barnes lacks a year of getting his law degree.

VA Hospital Closing Talked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports are circulating that the 250-bed Veterans Administration Hospital at McKinney, Tex., will be closed soon, an aide of Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., said Monday night.

A VA spokesman said, however, that no decisions on closing hospitals have been reached. "We keep hearing talk that the hospital (at McKinney) is to be shut down," said Oliver Meadows, a Teague aide, "and there doesn't seem to be too much about it."

Meadows said there had been no official word on any such move.

House Rules Vote Is Test For Dixie

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the first test of Southern sentiment of the new Congress, President Johnson's legislative supporters lost the votes of 75 Dixie Democrats — and still won their point.

The vote — on changing House rules — came on opening day. A leadership-backed change was adopted 224 to 201, with 75 of 96 Southern Democrats voting against it.

While the vote suggests that Johnson, the first Southern president in a century, can't Southerners will unite in opposition to the extent they did on opening day.

The question then was limiting the power of the Rules Committee in such a way that its opportunities to hold up administration measures would be reduced.

To many Southerners, it looked like a direct slap at one of their most revered leaders, Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get PASTETH at drug counters everywhere.

'Ten Outstanding Young Men' Listed

TULSA (AP)—The U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce has chosen the list it calls the Ten Outstanding Young Men.

They are:
 John Artichoker Jr., 34, of Lame Deer, Mont., descended from the Winnebago and Sioux Indians. He is director of Indian education for South Dakota.
 John Cowles Jr., 33, editor and vice president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.
FROM N.Y.
 Dr. Daniel Fountain, a medical missionary from Homer, N.Y., a doctor-teacher for 265,000 persons in Kwilu Province in the Congo.
 Dr. Herbert Kaufman, 33, chief of ophthalmology at the University of Florida.
 Dr. William McColl, 34, a former end for the Chicago Bears who gave up football for medicine and Christianity. He spent two years in a Presbyterian mission hospital in Korea and now practices in Los Angeles.

CAPTURED CONG
 Charles Wheeler, 21, of Beverly Hills, Calif., who captured two Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.
 Capt. Joe Engle, 32, Edwards, Calif., the youngest pilot for the X15 rocket-powered aircraft.
 William Henry, 35, the youngest man ever appointed chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.
 Dr. James Mercereau, 34, Dearborn, Mich., research scientist.
 Dr. Frank Rauscher Jr., 33, Rockville, Md., a National Cancer Institute research microbiologist.

Young Man In Hurry Honored

LOS ANGELES (AP)—What ever it is you always have wanted to do on that long vacation, if Charles Jackson Wheeler hasn't already done it, forget it. It probably wouldn't be fun anyway.

That's the impression you get as you listen to this student-adventurer-author tick off a string of exploits that have made him, at the venerable age of 21, a world traveler who has seen and done just about everything.

The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday named him one of the 10 outstanding young men of 1964.

In a hurry, Wheeler is one of the hurriest.

The hurry began, Wheeler says, when he joined the Boy Scouts in grade school. "I devoted most of my time then to working straight through for the rank of Eagle Scout. I made it at 12 — the youngest Eagle in Boy Scout history."

Things were pretty dead for two years, Wheeler goes on, until he went to Switzerland with his father, Jackson Wheeler, former Los Angeles television performer.

"I'd been reading all the adventure books of Richard Halliburton, and I told dad I wanted to climb the Matterhorn. After he recovered from that he arranged it for me. They said I was the youngest person ever to climb the Matterhorn, too," he adds.

WITH HEAD-HUNTERS

After two more slow years, someone suggested that Wheeler should try living among the head-hunting Jivaro Indians of Ecuador. Like a true Dan Dauntless, Wheeler said okay. He spent two weeks with one of the clans.

Wheeler entered UCLA that fall, at 16, and immediately decided to swim the Hellespont. "I wanted to do it before I turned 17," he explains.

So after class on Friday, Nov. 4, 1960, Wheeler flew to New York; Frankfurt, Germany; and thence to Istanbul, Turkey, and a brisk dip across the Hellespont, where it is about two miles wide, on Nov. 5. Wheeler then flew back to Los Angeles in time for an 8 a.m. class on Monday. He observed his 17th birthday quietly Nov. 9.

Next year, on a summer vacation trip to Viet Nam, Wheeler says he shot a cloudy leopard that was terrifying one village, a rogue elephant that was terrorizing another village and a tiger known to Vietnamese natives as the "man-killer of Dai-at."

In 1963 came a second trip to Viet Nam, where he collected material for the travel films and lectures with which he finances his exploits.

Wheeler is married and the father of a 2-month-old son.

Actor, Wife Will Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Nick Adams disclosed to a nationwide television audience that he and his wife are divorcing.

And, in Hollywood, his pretty wife Carol confirmed it after the show Monday night, but commented:

"That's Nick for you. He called me up this afternoon and told me to watch the show and please be understanding."

"Understanding? I'm in a state of shock."

"We have been discussing divorce over the phone while he's been touring, but we weren't going to say anything about it until he comes home tomorrow. I hope we can work something out, but I've already seen a lawyer and plan to file suit."

Adams used the Les Crane Show over ABC-TV to take full blame for the break-up of the marriage.

Council Hears Housing Report

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado City Council met Monday night to study a report from the Housing Authority on the City of Colorado City.

The report, prepared by Dee Tonn, executive director of the Housing Authority, indicated that the two housing units, containing 50 dwelling units, had been occupied 98.68 per cent of the time in 1964, that the average income of tenants was $2,500 a year, and that average rent paid was $26.25 per month per family.

Tenants in the two housing projects pay their own gas and electric bills, and the Housing Authority pays for water, sewage and sanitation. The total income for the two units was $15,953. The report pointed out that to gain admission a family of three could not have an income of more than $2,400.

The council accepted the report without comment.

The city council, which had planned to replace present lighting on Hickory Street with staggered lighting from Second Street to 22nd Street, acceded to a request from the Highway Department to place all lights on one side of the street.

Mayor John Chinn told the councilmen to prepare nominations for several vacancies on

Injured Youth Is Doing Well

A seven-year-old Big Spring boy, Ronnie Eugene Walker, was in Cowper Clinic-Hospital today with a fractured left thigh after he was struck by a car near the alley west of 400 Edwards Blvd. late Monday afternoon.

The left front fender of the car struck the boy when he darted out into the street, and the vision of the car's driver, Marvin Miller, 511 Hillside, was obscured by a parked vehicle, according to police. The youth was reported doing well today at the hospital. He also suffered multiple abrasions in the accident, according to doctors.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Nix, 2090 S. Gregg. One other traffic accident was reported to police here Monday, at Sixteenth and Nolan, with vehicles driven by Mrs. Cornelia Gary, 1510 Nolan, and Guy Baumgartner, P. O. Box 543.

Mrs. Canning Dies Today In Dallas, Rites Thursday

Death came in a Dallas hospital shortly after 7 a.m. today to Mrs. Harold Canning, teacher in the Big Spring schools and wife of the business manager of The Herald. She had waged a battle of courage and unflinching good spirits against leukemia.

Mrs. Canning first became ill in the late summer, but returned to her teaching duties in the first grade at Washington Place school at the beginning of the term, and continued her activities while making periodic trips to Dallas for treatment.

She entered Baylor Hospital December 22 when her condition worsened. She observed her 39th birthday there on January 3.

Funeral services are tentatively set for 4 p.m. Thursday, at the First Christian Church, with the pastor, the Rev. John Black Jr., and associate, the Rev. Ron Hansen, officiating. The body will be sent to Roxboro, North Carolina, her family home, for interment in the Olive Branch Cemetery.

The body was being returned today from Dallas by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, which will have charge of local arrangements.

The family has requested that memorials can be made in the form of gifts to the Wadley Research Institute, 3600 Gaston Ave., Dallas. This is a nationally known non-profit organization directing extensive research, training and treatment of blood diseases.

Mrs. Canning came to Big Spring as a school teacher in 1951, and was married to Mr. Canning in July, 1952. Besides the husband, there is a son, Barry, 8; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Poole; and two brothers, Pelham and Stuart Poole, all of Roxboro, N. C.

Other relatives due here for services include a brother and sister of Mr. Canning, Winston Canning of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. H. W. Holmes of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Canning was born Carolyn June Poole in Person County, N. C., attended schools in that area, received her bachelors degree at Longwood College, Va., and her masters degree at East Texas State College, Commerce. She was a member of the Christian Church. She was recognized as an extremely devoted teacher whose great interest was in the youngsters she guided as first graders.

Harris Inducted In As Judge

GARDEN CITY—Bryan Harris, Glasscock County rancher, was officially inducted into office as Glasscock County judge at brief ceremonies Monday. He will replace Otto Dozier, who resigned because of ill health.

At the same meeting of the Glasscock County Commissioners, salaries of county employees were reviewed and left unchanged.

An automatic water sprinkler system is planned for the cemetery and will be installed after the present work is completed. Two entrances are being closed and a new entrance opened for the cemetery. Work will also include later installation of water sprinklers and streets for the undeveloped portion of the cemetery.

Dawson Cotton Office Closes

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa Cotton Clipping Office has closed with 95 per cent of the cotton harvested. Sample receipts dropped to around 500 daily as the harvest reached the scrapping stage. The remainder of the cotton harvested in Dawson County will be classed at the Lubbock office. Reports from the Texas Employment Commission showed 92,831 bales ginned in Dawson County up to Jan. 5th. On January 5th, 1964, 147,324 bales had been ginned.

Plans Finaled For Saturday C-C Banquet

Plans for the annual chamber of commerce banquet Saturday evening are complete, and officials today urged residents to delay no longer in obtaining tickets.

Speaker for the affair will be Lt. Gen. William Momyer, commander of the Air Training Command.

The banquet will be held in Gollad Junior High gymnasium starting at 7 p.m., and the program will include the traditional Jaycee award to the community's outstanding young man of the past year.

"In a sense," said Joe Pickle, chairman of the arrangements committee, "this is an occasion in which the community can express its appreciation to the Air Force for the integral part it has become in the community life."

Gen. Momyer is in charge of all the pilot training for the Air Force, and Webb AFB has had the privilege of playing a key role in this function. We are therefore anxious that all who can will come to hear Gen. Momyer discuss the future of pilot training and whatever else he may have for us."

Tickets may be obtained by calling the chamber of commerce office (AM 4-4641).

NASA Speaker Due For AF

Don J. Green, information specialist of the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, will be the featured speaker for the first annual dinner of the Big Spring Unit of the Air Force Association. It has been announced by Lester Morton, local AFA president.

The dinner will be held at the Country Club Monday evening, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Before his association with NASA, Green was an aerospace writer of national prominence. His talk will concern the Gemini program of NASA, and a discussion of the Gemini space capsule which is now on its way to Mars.

Notification of the dinner meeting, together with tickets, have been mailed to local AFA members. Anyone desiring to obtain tickets may do so by contacting Jack Cook, AFA membership chairman, or Lester Morton at the First National Bank. Tickets are priced at $2.50 each. It has been urged that reservations be made promptly.

Deadline Set For City Brief

A Feb. 8th deadline has been set for the city to file briefs in appealing the recent court decision on rates for water furnished the Big Spring State Hospital, City Attorney John Burgess said.

The city is appealing the decision of the 53rd District Court in Austin, which ruled in favor of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, to the Texas Court of Civil Appeals.

The lawsuit was filed by the city seeking to revise the rates upward for water furnished the hospital. A 1937 contract between the city and the State sets the rate at 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. The decision by the 53rd District Court Judge Herman Jones affirmed the state's position that the contract signed in 1937 is a perpetual one and that the state board could not renegotiate it.

Cemetery Work Makes Progress

City public works crews are continuing work this week on the City Cemetery improvement project, with the leveling and preparing of gravesites and ground areas in the existing portion of the cemetery about one-third complete, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

The ground preparation is to provide for mechanized maintenance of the cemetery and will continue for about three more weeks, Lillard said.

An automatic water sprinkler system is planned for the cemetery and will be installed after the present work is completed. Two entrances are being closed and a new entrance opened for the cemetery. Work will also include later installation of water sprinklers and streets for the undeveloped portion of the cemetery.

Bond Set $1,500

Charges of disposing of mortgaged property have been filed against James Kenneth Smith, 45, 2200 Main. The complaint was lodged in the court of Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace. Bond has been set at $1,500. Smith had not made bond early Tuesday.

Panama Students In Anti-U.S. Acts

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's National Guard Monday night rejected a demand by anti-American students, that Panamanian soldiers be removed from the Canal Zone boundary. The students also burned a homemade American flag.

The National Guard so far has prevented student demonstrators from entering the Canal Zone during observance of the first anniversary of the bloody anti-American rioting along the border.

The group charter was presented to Raymond Hamby, Troop Committee chairman, by the Rev. Henry Salley.

Mills Announces More Changes

DALLAS — In a continuation of the executive reorganization at Comet Rice Mills, Inc., Robert B. Holland Jr. has been named president and Donald L. Rogers chairman of the board. Both are long-time vice presidents of the company.

Claude R. Miller, who has had the major role in planning and leading the corporation during the past decade, will continue to serve as chairman of the executive committee and take an active role in the future activities of the company.

These changes mark the most recent step in the long-range development program of Comet Rice Mills, Inc. Designed to strengthen the corporation, this program was begun at the close of the Korean War, and has brought leadership in the world rice markets to Comet. To date, this reorganization has resulted in greatly improved and expanded rice milling facilities, improved distribution of Comet's products, the introduction into the market of new products, and now a strengthening of the executive organization of the company.

B. R. Cline Dies Monday

B. R. (Burney) Cline, 82, resident of the Knott Route since 1910, died at 1:35 p.m. Monday in a local hospital after a six-month illness. He was born May 11, 1882 in Newport, Tenn.

He moved to Howard County and settled in the old Auto (now Fairview) community in 1910. He was married to Nola Candis McNew Jan. 6, 1913. She died in 1932.

Mr. Cline was a farmer. He had been a member of the Baptist faith since he was a young man.

Services will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday in Nalley-Pickle chapel. Dr. L. J. Fowler, Trinity Baptist Church, will officiate. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements. Burial will be in Big Spring City Cemetery.

Pallbearers are to be C. A. Nichols, John Jones, W. J. Rogers, W. J. Ringener Jr., Walter Ross and R. C. Thomas.

Survivors are four daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Unger, Fairview; Mrs. Daisy Wood, Amarillo; Mrs. Dorothy McKenzie, Arlington; Mrs. Mina Smith, San Marcos; two sons, Robert L. Cline, Fairview, and Ray A. Cline, Las Vegas, Nev.; a sister, Mrs. Callie Kelly, Newport, Tenn.; 11 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Portable Saw Reported Stolen

A portable saw valued at $103 was reported stolen from an open air saw shed at the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., 300 E. 2nd, according to police. Apparently someone climbed the fence into the lumber company area to obtain the saw, police said.

Some men's clothing and cosmetics were reported missing from a car owned by Robert E. Davis, 5044 Gollad, and parked on west US 80 this week. Value of the items was about $30, Davis told police.

New Offices

The offices of Fire Chief H. V. Crocker and Fire Marshal A. D. Meador have been temporarily moved from the central fire station to Room 206 of city hall. The move was made this week to provide additional office space for the fire officials during the work on preparation of this year's city budget, according to City Manager Larry Crow.

Defendants Want To Plead Guilty

Sheriff Aubrey Standard said today that several of the 13 individuals now in the county jail on felony charges have indicated to him they would like to plead guilty.

He pointed out that eight of the 13 have been indicted. These, of course, if they want to do so, can plead guilty.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said he and his investigator, Travis Long, are interviewing the prisoners who have shown an interest in entering guilty pleas.

Standard pointed out that some of the defendants held on felony counts have been in the jail for many weeks. Lincoln Brummett, indicted for forgery and passing, for example, has been in the county jail since July 13. John Marvin Peters, burglary, has been held since Aug. 31, and Billy G. Gollightly, worthless check, since Sept. 3.

The unsuccessful effort of Beardsley to break jail last week, the sheriff feels, underlines the urgency of disposing of some of the older cases. The defendants who are in jail are individuals who could not make bond or, in a case or two, are defendants where bond has been denied.

Burns said he was hopeful a large number of the defendants would plead guilty, but he pointed out that the outcome of his and Long's talks with them and their attorneys will be the deciding factor whether pleas will be entered.

Two of the defendants in the county jail under indictment are billed for capital crimes. If they should plead guilty, the plea would have to be before a jury unless there is a second count in the indictments of lesser gravity than the one for which they were docketed.

One of these defendants is Higinio Soto, indicted for robbery by assault, in connection with an abortive attempt to rob

A. G. Perkins Funeral Today

Services for Arthur Gene Perkins, 37, of 207 W. 13th, who died at 3 p.m. Sunday, were set for 3 p.m. today in Nalley-Pickle chapel. Paul Keele Jr., minister of the Marcy Drive Church of Christ, officiated, assisted by Leonard Ware, minister of a Clovis, N. M., Church of Christ. Burial was in City Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors are the widow, a son, a daughter, his mother, a sister, all of Big Spring; and a brother.

Pallbearers were Eldon Pounds, Bill Storie, Johnnie Spruell, Horace G. Krebs, Johnnie Hobbs, W. A. (Pete) Reed, N. E. Christianson, and Jim Crowe.

Texas Draft Quota At 119

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' draft quota for February is 119 men, lowest since July and 110 less than in January.

The state selective service director, Col. Morris Schwartz, said today draft boards will forward 4,500 men for Army mental and physical examinations in February, 2,644 of them 18-year-olds.

The teenagers will be examined in accordance with President Johnson's request for tests for all newly registered men who are out of school and available for service. They will not be considered for induction, Schwartz said, as draft age is generally 22.

Krupp Aides Say No Arms Pledge Stays

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — When Alfried Krupp walked out of a U.S. war crimes prison 13 years ago he vowed he would never again make arms. Recent additions to the Krupp empire have prompted questions whether he may be having second thoughts. Although Krupp officials say no, two of the new companies have at least the potential to supply weapons to West Germany's 400,000-man army.

One, Atlas-Werke A. G. of Bremen, joined the Krupp concern shortly after a subsidiary narrowly lost an order to produce tanks. The other is the Ernst Heinkel Flugzeugbau — aircraft company — of Speyer. It became a subsidiary of VFW, or Vereinigte Flugtechnische Werke — united air-technical company — of Bremen. Krupp, with a 40 per cent interest, is VFW's biggest stockholder. Thirty per cent is held by United Aircraft of East Hartford, Conn.

BLITZ PLANES Heinkel's founder, Ernst Heinkel, designed the bombers that blitzed England in World War II. Heinkel died in 1955. A Krupp statement said VFW's addition of Heinkel was a vital step toward cost-cutting, by unifying research, development and production and thus toward strengthening German aviation's competitive position.

The West German government has encouraged such concentrations among aircraft makers. The inclusion of Heinkel raises VFW's payroll to almost 9,000 workers in plants in seven cities. It has an order to produce military transports developed jointly by France and Germany.

Krupp, as the sole owner of his empire, is not obliged to bare his finances under German law. But Handelsblatt, a leading financial newspaper, suggests he should tell the public his plans regarding the potential weapon-makers under his control.

Although this great and tradition-rich German enterprise had, and certainly not quite without reason, the reputation of being 'the armory of the Reich,' the hatred which still confronts Krupp occasionally today is obviously of an irrational nature.

PERMIT INCLUSION "It is to be feared that campaigns of this kind may be revived now. It is true that no arms have been or are being produced in the Krupp concern, but part of the production program of the Atlas-Werke, and particularly its subsidiary, permit inclusion of such products which come under the definition of armament. Krupp should not hesitate to furnish clearcut information on the investment plans for these plants."

Sources close to Krupp said the "no arms" pledge stands unchanged. They noted that Atlas was bought by Krupp only after the tank order failed to materialize. The recent acquisitions, these sources say, are just part of further consolidation within the empire.

Hospital Board Director Quits

AUSTIN (AP) — Raymond Vowell resigned Monday as executive director of the State Hospital Board to become executive director of federal and state agency affairs at the University of Texas.

The resignation is effective Feb. 15. Vowell, 50, joined the board in 1951 as director of special schools and has held his present job since 1957. Board Chairman Howard Tellepsen of Houston said the board will call a special meeting to choose Vowell's successor.

"Raymond Vowell's resignation will be a great loss to the board, the 11,000 personnel and the 28,000 patients of the system who, over the last 14 years have benefited from his dedicated service. He is generally recognized as being among the top administrators in state government," said Tellepsen.

Vowell's resignation letter said, "Approximately one-third of my anticipated working life has been invested in this system. My work has been a labor of love, and until now I have not considered any other position tendered to me. However, vast opportunities for service at the University of Texas is a challenge which I cannot decline."

Stable Regime For Viet Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said, after a briefing by the nation's top intelligence officer today, "We can't win the war in Viet Nam" unless a more stable government is established in Saigon.

Dear Abby

Report It - And Now!

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14. My father died before I was born. About six years ago my mother took in a man who was looking for a room to rent, only we didn't have an extra room so she let him sleep in her room. All my friends know about it because they keep asking me who the man is and, when I say he rents a room from us, they ask how many bedrooms we have.

My biggest problem is that he is always trying to get me alone and touch me. My mother works from 3 p.m. until midnight and I walk the streets so I won't have to stay alone in the house with him. I know I should not be walking the streets alone at night, but I don't want to hurt my mother's feelings by telling her why I'm afraid to stay at home. What should I do? CAN'T SIGN MY NAME DEAR ABBY: Tell your mother ALL about the man's behavior immediately! And if she doesn't get rid of him at once, call the POLICE DEPARTMENT and tell them exactly what you have told me. I urge you to follow this advice now.

Inaugural Gala Sellout Already

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee put a "capacity filled" sign today on its inaugural gala to be held in the National Guard Armory here Jan. 18.

Acceptances equalled the capacity of the auditorium and no more tickets are available, it said. Approximately 8,000 will attend the show and dinners preceding it, at the invitation of the national committee.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to widows who wonder what to do about their wedding and engagement rings was a revelation to me. You said, "Widows who would like to start dating again and eventually to remarry should leave their wedding rings at home and wear their engagement rings on their right hands."

My husband died two years ago and recently I started dating. But I felt guilty every time I went out with another man. It was as though I were betraying my deceased husband by wearing his rings with another man. After reading that piece in your column, I put my wedding ring in the drawer and placed my lovely diamond engagement ring on my right hand. I broke into tears, but I realized for the FIRST TIME that I am no longer a married woman, and should not feel guilty. Thank you, Abby. L.S.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with

Charges On 2 Men Dropped

MEADVILLE, Miss. (AP) — The state dropped, without prejudice, charges today against two white men accused of murdering two Negroes whose partial bodies were found in an offshoot of the Mississippi River last summer.

Dropping charges without prejudice leaves the case open for further action. James Seale, 29, and Charles Edwards, 31, were charged in the deaths of Charles Eddie Moore, 19, and Henry Hezekiah Dee, 19.

At first, the bodies were believed to have been those of two of the three civil rights workers killed near Philadelphia, Miss., June 21.

Sources said the charges were dropped without prejudice because further investigation showed more persons may have been involved.

would appreciate seeing a retraction in your column. A WIDOW'S SON DEAR SON: No reasonable person would assume that because a woman wears no wedding ring, her children are illegitimate. Nor would I worry about the oddball who might think so.

Pearson To Visit LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will meet with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson at Johnson's Texas ranch this weekend, the White House announced today.

Pearson, who is vacationing in Florida, will arrive at the ranch about mid-afternoon Friday.

DUE IN TEXAS Press secretary George E. Reedy said Johnson will leave for Texas either Thursday night or Friday morning and will return to the White House late Sunday.

The fact that Johnson and Pearson would meet informally before the prime minister returns to Canada had been announced earlier but the locale of the meeting had not been announced.

Reedy said that since the meeting is entirely informal and Johnson and Pearson are old friends it was decided to hold it in the relaxed atmosphere of the LBJ Ranch.

DISCUSS ISSUES Reedy said there would be no formal agenda, but that Johnson and Pearson would talk over various matters of interest between the two countries.

Mrs. Johnson will accompany the President to Texas and Mrs. Pearson will come with her husband from Florida, it was announced.

Reedy said the President hopes to get in some work on his inaugural address while in Texas.

American Nazi To Face Prosecution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia has decided to prosecute on a disorderly conduct charge the American Nazi party member who disrupted a House session last Monday, Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., said today.

North opened with a demand bid of two clubs, and South, of course, made the negative response of two no trump to show less than seven points. When North raised to three no trump, South persisted to four spades. His decision was influenced not only by the void in diamonds, but also by the realization that his holding would produce several tricks in the suit contract. West opened the ten of diamonds—covered by dummy's jack. East's queen and ruffed by declarer. South led the queen of spades and finessed it, when West did not cover. A trump was continued to the ace, however, East showed out—discarding a club. South did not dare ruff a diamond in order to continue drawing trump for fear that a third round of diamonds by the opposition would fatally shorten his spade holding. He therefore began to run North's clubs. West trumped the third club with the five of spades and shifted to the king of hearts in order to kill the dummy's remaining entry. Another club was led and South discarded a heart as West ruffed with the king of trumps. A heart return thru the jack netted the defense two more tricks. South was the victim of his own carelessness. While it is true that his plan would have succeeded if the trumps had been divided three-two, it would have been wiser to abandon the quest for maximum in the interests of safety. When the queen of spades is led at trick two, if West does not cover, declarer should put up dummy's ace. By rejecting the finesse, he is able to continue drawing trump without giving up control. The ten of spades is continued and overtaken by South's jack. West may take his king whenever he likes; however, declarer can reënter his hand by ruffing a diamond, draw the remaining trump and then run the dummy's clubs to score 12 tricks—five spades, one heart and six clubs.

Change On The Commission

The resignation of Ernest O. Thompson as a member of the Texas Railroad Commission and his replacement by Byron Tunnell, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, brings the important commission back to full operational strength.

Col. Thompson was wise in resigning, a decision which might well have been reached months ago because of his precarious health and advanced age. His prolonged inactivity does not lessen the considerable contribution that he made to the state's oil and gas conservation program, both in the influencing of legislation and in the administration of laws. In his prime, Col. Thompson came to be known not only as an expert on Texas petroleum affairs, but an equal authority on petroleum conservation on a national and international basis.

That his resignation was expected is evidenced in the almost instant appointment by Gov. John Connally of Mr. Tunnell as his replacement. Byron Tunnell demonstrated considerable ability as the House speaker last term and was considered a sure-shot to repeat with organization of the House this term. No doubt he will function with capability as a member of the commission.

The appointment, however, puts three lawyers on a commission which ought to have some representation of technical skill and background in an industry which is so complex and which is so vitally important to the state.

The best we can hope for is that members of the commission will become speedily competent in geology, petroleum engineering, and similar subjects.

Bolivia Back In OAS Fold

Bolivia's return to full membership in the Organization of American States is welcome. It is welcome not only as best for that most-U.S.-aided of South American countries but also as a demonstration that the OAS is not vulnerable to bluffing.

How much of Bolivia's 1962 withdrawal from the OAS council was bluff, and how much merely a maneuver to sway that troubled country's domestic politics, is not certain. But the OAS would have been in serious trouble if it had bowed to the Bolivian pressure and set a precedent for my-way-or-won't-play attacks on the inter-American system.

The century-old border dispute between Bolivia and Chile erupted again in April, 1962, when Bolivia charged Chile was making illegal diversions of River Laucha water. Bolivia severed relations with Chile and carried its case to the OAS. Bolivia wanted mediation by five American nations, but Chile insisted on arbitration by the U.N.'s International Court of Justice. The OAS refused to act, and Bolivia withdrew from the OAS council in September, 1962, but continued to participate in economic, social and technical associations of the inter-American system.

Bolivia has now announced that it is returning to full OAS participation, despite no assurance of how the dispute with Chile will be handled. Irrespective of the merits of Bolivia's case, inter-American disputes should be resolved within the OAS. They should not be carried to the U.N. unless all regional processes have failed. The OAS now should attempt to mediate Bolivia's and Chile's differences, but it could not do so while under the duress of Bolivia's threat to quit the OAS for good if it did not accede to its demands.

Military Defeats In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—Preoccupation with political concerns has obscured the growing aura of military defeat surrounding the United States experiment in proxy war in Viet Nam.

A foreign, but not unfriendly, expert bluntly warned that American forces "are approaching the same total military incompetence that marked the last days of the French in Indochina."

THIS IS A harsh judgment, but there is a growing chronicle of sad sackness to support it. The defeat at Binh Gai (a refugee village which is exactly as far from Saigon as Baltimore is from Washington) is the most recent example, although it is by no means unique in its despairing lesson.

At Binh Gai our side sustained nearly 500 casualties, but even this doesn't tell the whole story. To the 500 dead, wounded and missing, must be added the 500 rifles, submachine guns and other hand-held weapons that were surely lost to the enemy, plus perhaps 100 additional crew-served pieces, such as mortars, recoilless rifles and heavy machine guns.

SAD TO SAY, the enemy now has a juicy catalogue of American disaster to cite in support of this charge. Before the humiliation at Binh Gai, there was the Christmas Eve bombing of the closely guarded Brink Hotel, one of Saigon's biggest billets for U.S. military personnel. Two American lives were lost, and much face was made for the enemy.

Before that, the American air base at Bien Hoa was clobbered with close-range mortar fire, at the cost of more lives, a dozen aircraft, and immeasurable prestige. And before that there was the calculated affront to Americans when the U.S.S. Card, an aircraft transport, was sunk at its mooring at Saigon.

THE BRINK, Bien Hoa and the Card—all were disasters that could have been avoided.

To put these failures in perspective, the following lost fact needs to be brought to light—

In officer and noncommissioned officer personnel, Viet Nam is not the small conflict that its total numbers make it seem. Today, according to the Pentagon's own figures, American forces in South Viet Nam include 4.8 divisions' complement of captains and majors, enough lieutenants for 3.5 divisions, and enough master sergeants for three divisions. This represents about 20 per cent of our total professional military talent.

WORSE, each of these men serves only a year in Viet Nam. This means the contagion of defeat, despair and frustration rotates, just as American personnel does.

"You are," to quote the expert whose name unfortunately cannot be used, "rapidly producing a generation of American officers that has never known victory."

Billy Graham

I have made a terrible mistake, have lost my job, and it looks like things are falling apart for me—and all because of one mistake. What can I do? J. N.

No man ever lived, not even your boss, who hasn't made many mistakes. Our mistakes, if handled constructively, can literally be stepping stones to higher heights. Sometimes I believe God allowed temptation to be in the world for us to get our spiritual education on—life is not just in learning what to do, it is in learning what not to do.

It is said that Thomas Edison in his experiments with the incandescent light bulb failed 6,000 times. When a friend asked if he weren't discouraged, he said: "No, not at all. Now I know 6,000 ways not to do it."

I do not know the kind of mistake you have made, but I do know that it needn't be fatal, nor terminal. The apostle Peter made a terrible mistake in denying his Lord, after promising that if all denied Him, he would not. But, he capitalized on that mistake, found forgiveness, and went on to be the top man in Jesus' corps of missionaries.

The Bible says, "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive our sins." If your sin was against God, He will forgive you. If it was against men, make amends, and be a better man because of it.

Personal Touch

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The personalized shaving mug in the village barber shop long ago passed from the scene, but Bob Montgomery wouldn't let the idea go by.

In his sundries store, he has a rack of coffee cups inscribed with the names of his regular customers.

Not everybody gets a cup. "A man has to drink about a gallon to qualify," says Montgomery.

Nice Pasture

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Everett Crank returned from taking her daughter Teresa to school and found a horse grazing on her living room rug.

While she was gone a neighbor child came to play with her daughter, found no one at home and left a door open. Teresa's Shetland pony wandered in and began chewing on the rug.

GOP A Scattered Family

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are like a family searching for what's left of its valuables after an explosion although the explosion of the 1964 election was only their most recent disaster.

They have reached that point in American history where the voters treat them as a kind of secondary group, handy to have around but to be called upon or listened to seldom.

And the family is scattered, as the election showed when Republicans were divided into Goldwaters, anti-Goldwaters and half-hearted Goldwaters.

Now, in an effort to build a single shelter comfortable for all the uncles, cousins and aunts, two Republican congressional leaders, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, propose:

A BRAIN trust of the party's 5 presidential candidates still alive, 11 Senate and House leaders, 5 representatives of the Governors' Association, and the chairman of the National Committee.

What they're seeking, although they don't put it this way exactly, is a sense of direction which could provide a rallying point for themselves and their party.

It has become a never-ending search, going back over more than a generation, and they have paid a heavy penalty for not having found it.

The outcome of the last election, in which Republicans not only did not win the presidency but suffered big losses in Congress, was not a surprise. It was just an exaggerated repetition which illustrated their dwindling condition.

The evidence is in how the voters treated them over the past 32 years while entrusting the country to the Democrats most of that time.

Since 1932 the Republicans have been given control of Congress only twice—for a total of four years—and for the presidency twice for a total of eight.

BUT IT WAS Dwight D. Eisenhower who won the presidency those two times and his victories were a triumph for him personally, not for the party. He carried the party with him to control of Congress when he won his first term in 1952. That was the last time the voters showed such confidence in them for the Democrats won back control in 1954 and have retained it in every election since, including the years of Eisenhower's second term.

This should have been enough to convince any party it was out of tune with the people's thinking but the proof, which shouldn't have been necessary, became overwhelming in President Johnson's defeat of Sen. Barry Goldwater by the greatest plurality in history.

Yet, even that may not be enough to glue Republicans into some kind of unity in philosophy or action or agreement.

We, The Ski Casualties

NEW YORK (AP)—Once again we are in the middle of the ski season, the season when those who should have known better lurch around on crutches and plaster casts looking for spring.

In practically every Northern city—and some in the South—you can see the ski casualties this month. You can spot them because they have no more form on crutches than they had on skis.

They look pained but they try to look gallant. They lose their hats. They slip off curbs. They stop every 50 feet to examine their callouses.

THEY DO dumb things. I know. I broke my ankle. The next day I leaned on crutches outside my front door, and pushed off, thinking this was the way to the ground, and in a way it was.

I soared into a great arc, with my overcoat flying behind me. I could see right in the second-floor window across the street.

At the top of the arc I dropped the crutches and sailed alone, like a nose cone, but just for a second. Then I fell to earth like a shot duck, splashing into the ice and water with a jolt that almost turned my teeth to dust. All my bones felt broken.

AS THE winter days grew longer the plaster cast got soggy and dirty. It sank into flooded potholes in the street. Cabs splashed it. People bumped it. Foodies growled at it.

At night it often fell out of bed with a thud that provoked the tenants downstairs into a tirade against "the nut upstairs," and then one night it fell on the alarm clock on the floor next to the bed.

I told that I broke my ankle in Vermont but had it set in Massachusetts and treated in New York, the insurance people in Chicago bundled the file to Tennessee, where I had worked a year earlier. I almost gave up then, but Tennessee Blue Cross paid.

I was near the bottom of the hill. It was peaceful in the snowy dusk. Grandma Moses could have set up her easel here.

THEN THE mural lurched. The sky flipped, turned purple and sprayed silver stars. There was an organ burst, a great crescendo, and it was all over.

I made it down, painfully, was driven back to New York and had it set at Holyoke, Mass., on the way.

It was the next day, new to crutches, that I almost sailed through the living room window of the lady on the second floor across the street.

If you find yourself in somewhat the same position now, some of the worst is before you.

In the long-awaited spring the doctor cuts the cast with a buzz saw, something like the kind that falls oak trees. It may leave a faint scar—in my case an accident, the doctor said.

My leg now felt sturdy as an oak, waiting for winter, waiting for snow.

Around The Rim Old Names In The News

Two news stories of last week brought back some pretty exciting memories.

One concerned Henry Johnston, former governor of Oklahoma, who died at his home in Perry at the age of 97.

THE SECOND said it was probable that Harvey Bailey, once regarded as one of the nation's most dangerous gangsters, would be given parole in a year or two. Bailey, now 72, is serving a life sentence for kidnapping.

I had contact with both of these men, and on each occasion there was a certain excitement and alarm.

Henry Johnston was the man who presided at the convention which wrote Oklahoma's State Constitution back in 1907. He was regarded as the state's greatest authority on what the constitution meant.

At the time I had dealings with him he was governor of the state, and he was on trial before the legislature for impeachment on grounds of incompetence.

I WAS ASSIGNED to represent my newspaper at the impeachment trial, also I was employed by Johnston's friends to write publicity for his cause for distribution to 50 or more newspapers in the state. With one exception, I was the only newspaperman in the capital during the impeachment trial who could be called friendly to the governor. Other news and newspapers were definitely anti-Johnston. Moreover, the legislature was nearly 100 per cent against him.

The proceedings, which dragged on for three months, were a farce—proof of which may be shown in the fact that on about the third week of the trial I printed a list of the senators and how they would vote in reaching a verdict and the list went through without a change.

THE WHOLE deal was a weird nightmare. It had all of the over tones of a cloak and dagger melodrama.

If I wanted to see the governor's chief advisor I had to go to a hotel room (which changed from day to day) at midnight and knock three times on the door. The advisor worked nights and slept days. You got to see him only after you had convinced his body guards of your need for the conference.

There was even a $50,000 cash "sush" fund in a mysterious black valise involved in the doings. I saw the valise on several occasions, and I since learned that I could have thrust my hand into the bag and helped myself if I had chosen to do so.

BAILEY, one of the kidnapers of Charles Urschell, millionaire oil man, broke out of the Dallas jail, taking a jailer with him. He stole a car and drove to my town. Officers there picked up his track in the city, and a wild chase over residential and business streets followed. Shots were fired. Finally Bailey's car was wrecked, and he was captured. I was at the police station when they brought him and the jailer in. The officers were not sure which was Bailey, so both men were handcuffed.

Laying on a sergeant's desk was a copy of one of those "true" crime magazines. It was open at a fullpage picture of Harvey Bailey. As the officers and their prisoners entered the room, I looked at the photo and at the two men.

"HOWDY, HARVEY," I said. The gangster swung his eyes to my face.

"Hiyah, feller," he said. And those were the only words that Bailey said during the 24 hours he was held in our jail pending his return to Dallas.

The Test Comes At Home

SAIGON, Viet Nam—Something very wonderful has happened in Viet Nam. It has become a crucible of American character. Our men are dying there every day, but their deaths are noble ones. A whole year of fatalities in Viet Nam would not match the self-slaughter in which Americans indulge every holiday weekend. Many of the wounds that make the casualty lists are no more grievous than those acquired for fun and profit on the football fields, but the hurts suffered in battle are honorable ones. I am sure that most of the officers and men in Viet Nam feel this way, and I think the American public should feel the same. Out of this crucible, we can emerge as a nation of greatness such as history has never recorded.

IN VIET NAM a wonder of wonders—we have at last mastered the use of foreign aid. I never thought of writing such words. For years upon years—all the way back to Lend Lease in Roosevelt's time—our various administrations have fumbled around at friendship-buying, and I think I have poured my share of ridicule upon that futile process. But in Viet Nam we have found the handle. While I was interviewing Sam Wilson, our assistant director of the U. S. mission, the 40 thousandth Iowa piglet arrived, passed through quarantine and was air-shipped to a Vietnamese peasant.

WITH THE piglet went some corn and some cement. The peasant will build a pre-planned pigsty, feed the pig the corn, and probably join a co-op with other peasants. The Communists cannot match this gift and cannot take it away without losing support of the peasantry. Living in or near the village—at the risk of his life—is the American advisor on agronomy and other home economics. This is bravery on the same level as it shows in battle, in the bomb-rick barracks and even on the Saigon streets where Americans show complete contempt for the danger that lies around.

TALK ABOUT toughness. In Viet Nam we have got it. At Nha Trang, some 200 miles northeast of Saigon, the U. S. Navy is advising at the training of the Vietnamese Midshipmen Academy. Under the French this institution was something of a charm school for privileged natives. Under American toughness, the flunk-out rate is now 15 per cent, about the same as at Annapolis, and the Oriental siesta, which is almost universal here, is disappearing from the Vietnamese Navy.

THERE IS NO frame of reference for the Viet Nam war. The American people have not been made to understand that, although we're winning, the worst is yet to come. There will be heavier casualties. There will be more political crises. There will be greater amounts of aid. The American public should be warned and should brace itself not only for bad news but for the caterwauling of those who yell for "peace" and for the bellying of those who demand "instant" victory and always have their own formula.

The test of the crucible will be whether Americans at home turn out to be what Americans at the front have become.

Japan's View Of Red China

By WILLIAM S. WHITE (Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON—A looming problem over how to deal with Communist China without weakening or embittering the American-Japanese alliance is the skeleton at the feast in the meetings here between President Johnson and Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan.

The thing has not yet come to a sharp issue; but it has ugly possibilities for trouble between Washington and Tokyo. As high Japanese informants put the case, Prime Minister Sato is finding it increasingly difficult to resist popular pressure from within his own party—for accepting Red China into the United Nations.

JAPANESE RECOGNITION of Red China would, of course, torpedo the long American effort, thus far successful, to keep her out of, and Nationalist China in, the U.N. Moreover, it would set the most civilized power in all Asia—Japan—looking in precisely the opposite direction from its biggest friend, the United States.

On the United States side of the question, popular opinion—and Administration and Congressional opinion, too—is profoundly against any concession whatever to the Red Chinese so long as they remain what they now clearly are: the most poisonous agents for war and aggression, the most noxiously infectious core of trouble for the West, in all the world.

HERE IS A regime that fought us and the United Nations in Korea and a decade and a half later remains unpurged and unrepentant of its crime while it now simultaneously foments Communist assaults upon South Viet Nam and Communist intrigues to destroy free governments in Africa.

Here, in short, is a regime which in American eyes embodies a very great part of the whole aggregate of evil and horror that now afflicts the earth. But this estimate, however sound it is in fact, is not the estimate of the Japanese people. Where we see Russia as far the more tolerable, of the two monolithic Communist states, at least in a relative sense, the Japanese see matters exactly in reverse.

THEY PREFER the Chinese to the Russians. Perhaps it is because the Chinese Communists are not bothering the Japanese as they are bothering us. Perhaps it is because Japan and Russia were mortal enemies long ago.

Perhaps it is simply because the Chinese are, after all, Asians, too, with a culture and language pattern not in every way really alien to the Japanese. At any rate, there it is: The Red Chinese demon in American eyes is not that demon in Japanese eyes, and is not likely to be in any foreseeable state of affairs.

THIS BEING the bottom reality, Japanese leadership is clearly moving, if moving very cautiously, toward loosening if not actually breaking the solidity of the old American-Japanese front against giving international countenance to what we see as the bandit regime in Peking.

There is little doubt that Prime Minister Sato will hold onto our essential line as long as he can. For the maintenance of good Japanese-American relations is even more vital to Japan than to us. But there is no doubt that he has here a capital domestic political problem and that he is most likely to solve it the way his people want it solved.

THIS BEING the predictable end of it all, the indicated present course for this country would seem to be to give Sato all possible help to enable him at least to hold on as long as he can.

Sun Tan Pills Should Be Taken With Care

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about sun tan pills? All I have heard is that they aren't too satisfactory. Is this because of side effects? Can a redhead with no tanning pigment except for a few freckles actually get a tan? A lot of us lily-whites would like to know more about these pills.—J. M.

I can't give you much encouragement, frankly. Development of the pills was a scientific achievement worthy of respect, but the practical applications are a different matter—just as the discovery of Hertz waves was a scientific achievement but it was years before radio communication became a reality and a great deal longer before we could turn a switch and get music.

From the practical standpoint, here's the picture: These pills must be taken under a physician's direction, and for a fairly long time, for them to maintain any change in the pigmentation of the skin. In addition there are toxic effects if the dosage is not exactly right, or if the patient happens to lack tolerance for the medication. Nausea, dizziness and sometimes nervous changes are among these effects.

I do not mean to pooh-poo the medication, because it can, under these rigid conditions, make possible a certain amount of tanning for people who have exceptionally fair skins and otherwise just burn.

But it is a difficult and demanding process, and the amount of exposure to the sun has to be kept within relatively small limits. It is NOT a question of taking a pill and then being able to stay out in the sun like some of the walrus-hide sunworshippers we see.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister was very sick when she first got pregnant, and to top it off her husband painted the apartment when she was three months along. The smell was so strong it lasted almost a week.

Will this odor affect her baby in any way?—MRS. W.

I see no reason why it will harm the baby. Strong odors can be upsetting to anyone who is ill, or to pregnant women, and I can't say that her husband picked the most tactful time to do that painting.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

A new meeting date and place was scheduled by members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen when the group met Monday at the Executive building. A permanent meeting place will be the IOOF Hall on the second Friday of each month rather than the previous Monday sessions.

Mrs. T. A. Underhill was named president of the organization to replace Mrs. A. J. Cain who resigned. Mrs. W. E. Rayburn was named outer guard.

Refreshments were served to 18 members, and the 52nd anniversary of the Lone Star Lodge, No. 375 was observed. Hostesses were Mrs. J. H. Eastham, Mrs. Paul Ennis, Mrs. George Pittman and Mrs. Rayburn.

Guest Tells Of Drama

Highlights of the history of drama were vividly described by Mrs. Norman Spencer Monday evening when she was guest speaker at the meeting of the Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Leland Pierce, 2506 Carol, was hostess to the group, and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor conducted the business session.

Mrs. Spencer, faculty member at Rannels Junior High School, is slated to direct this fall's production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" by the Little Theatre of Big Spring. She described the progress made by theater during early experiments in England, great men who had contributed to its popularity as an entertainment medium and detailed the mechanics of forming an amateur or professional theatrical group. She said that there are now over 150,000 little theater groups organized in the United States.

The next meeting will be in the Community Room of First Federal Savings and Loan Association building with Mrs. Jack Taylor and Mrs. Bill McDonald as hostesses. Refreshments were served to 18.

Designed For Inaugural Ball

Dress Destined For Smithsonian Display

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON, AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A ball gown designed along classic lines that will not be outdated too soon when it goes on display in the Smithsonian Institution was boxed in masses of tissue paper Friday night and delivered by a security officer to the White House.

"I presume she liked it. I haven't heard and no news is good news," John Moore, designer of the historic inaugural costume for Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, said Saturday. He made his remarks at a news conference after his collection was shown as a part of the American designer series of spring previews for the visiting press now in progress.

Moore said things had gone very well from the moment Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, who often shops for the busy First Lady, had advised that he, a Texan like Mrs. Johnson, was to create the very important costume.

The artist, who made sketches of the style ideas that Moore and Mrs. Johnson had discussed, was careful to make likenesses of Mrs. Johnson on each.

Mrs. Johnson was very amused by these, Moore said. Mrs. Johnson had two fittings on her, the first while her dress was in a muslin pattern stage.

"At that time we discussed silhouette and some small changes," Moore said.

Mrs. Johnson's fitting last Tuesday went superbly, he said. At that time he was asked to rush the dress to completion by Friday so that Mrs. Johnson could be photographed.

Moore had been asked not to reveal details of the gown until its official announcement Jan. 17. Nevertheless, in parrying questions by the press, he indicated that Mrs. Johnson would wear jewelry. Her dress, rumored to be yellow as the rose of Texas, might be blue instead.

When Moore was asked if the color had any association with Mrs. Johnson's home state, he coyly commented, "Remember that the bluebonnet is the official flower."

During Mrs. John F. Kennedy's era as First Lady, designer Moore criticized her skirts as too short, her dresses as badly fitted.

He said he found no criticism of Mrs. Kennedy at this time. "She is a beautiful young woman."

Sorority Studies Southern Europe In Program Tour

The continuation of a world tour study was held Monday when Mrs. Darel Highley spoke on Southern Europe to members of Xi Mu Exemplar of Beta Sigma Phi. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. James R. Shannon, 1418 Tucson.

The speaker illustrated her lecture with pictures and spoke on Portugal, Italy, Spain and France.

Refreshments were served to 11 members and a donation to the March of Dimes was made. The next meeting, to be held in the home of Mrs. Joe Horton, 3300 Cornell, will be Jan. 25 and Mrs. Bill Pollard will serve as cohostess. A study on North Africa will be held.

Beauceant Prepares For Visit

Preparations were made Monday for a visit of the supreme president of the Social Order of the Beauceant, Mrs. Edwin C. Hinkley, Kansas City, Mo., on Feb. 10. All work of the order was reviewed when the group met at Masonic Temple.

Mrs. O. L. Nabors presided, and Mrs. E. E. Brindley gave a report on the work of the assembly during the year. Letters of thanks from the state hospital were read concerning the group's donations and service hours at the holiday season.

A dinner for the Knights Templar was scheduled Jan. 27 when that group will hold a special inspection meeting, and the Beauceant will serve as hostesses.

Refreshments were served to both orders by Mrs. Jack Alexander with the assistance of Mrs. Ernest Welch.

Methodists Honor Past

Mrs. Morris Gay introduced the program "A Look at Ourselves as Christian Women," at the Women's Society of Christian Service meeting Monday in Fellowship Hall at First Methodist Church. The Martha Wesleyan Service Guild was host group.

This observance of Guild Month was participated in by representatives of all WSCS circles and the coordinator, Mrs. H. Clyde Smith. Dr. H. Clyde Smith, a guest, worded the opening prayer.

The program leader, Mrs. Gay, introduced Mrs. Miller Harris who spoke of the primary interest in missions, giving biographical sketches of three missionaries. Displaying a picture of Mother Zinn, early day Methodist pioneer and teacher, Mrs. Lina Fievelen gave an account of Mother Zinn as a home missionary.

Mrs. Ruby Martin conducted a business session. Reports were made of cookies donated to state hospital patients and a Christmas basket and gifts presented to a needy family. Mrs. W. E. Moren, study leader, distributed books for the study of Genesis to be held in March.

Miss Edith Gay and Mrs. Robert Hill sang, "Happy the Home Where God Is," and were accompanied by the piano by Miss Roberta Gay. Mrs. Gay read a prayer by Peter Marshall.

Following the session, refreshments were served to 70 members by Miss Edith Gay, Miss Roberta Gay and Mrs. S. Gorman.

Homemakers Club Plan Visitations

Plans for visits to the sick and shut-ins were made by members of the Young Homemakers Club Monday when five members met in the home of Mrs. Nolan Helcher, 1205 Stanford.

The group scheduled a Heart Fund Coffee in February. Mrs. Jimmy Montgomery will be hostess at the Jan. 25 meeting.

TAKES OFFICE

Mrs. Horace Doyal To Lead British Wives

The British Wives Club chose Mrs. Horace Doyal to head the group as president during a Monday evening meeting at the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

The slate was completed with Mrs. Ronald Kahofer, secretary; Mrs. Dameron Moore, publicity chairman; and Mrs. George Adams, welcoming chairman.

Mrs. John Stoen, retiring president, presided and welcomed a new member, Mrs. Stanley Wheelock of Liverpool, England. A letter was read from the state hospital thanking the group for a donation of clothing and inviting them to visit the fashion shop.

Members were told of a man at Bennett House who was born in England, and the women made plans to visit him and other elderly people who are confined because of ill health. They plan to secure a list of such persons from the Salvation Army.

A Dutch auction was set for February.

Mrs. Doyal directed games with the prize going to Mrs. Lester Chism, and a special award to Mrs. Kahofer. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Chism, 221-B Langley, when "Password" will be played. All British women are invited to visit the club meetings without obligation to join. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Cathey, AM 3-2628.

Surprise Party Fetes Rev. Byron Orand

The Rev. Byron Orand was honored with a surprise birthday party at College Baptist Church Monday evening following a special worship hour. Wives of the deacons served as hostesses and 150 guests attended.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. C. Alston, Mrs. Lyndel Ashley, Mrs. Dick Beard, Mrs. Horace Blackshear, Mrs. Bill Blalack, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Ernest Rainey, Mrs. Gorman Rainey, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Cecil Suttles, Mrs. Bob Travis, Mrs. Shirley Walker and Mrs. Jim White.

The refreshment table, laid with a white cutwork cloth over yellow and accented with yellow napkins, was centered with a triangular arrangement of blue and green roses. The blue rose motif was repeated in the cake decoration which was inscribed with a birthday message. Punch and coffee were served.

Gifts were presented to the honoree related to his planned trip to Scotland in the month of July.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Store Linens With Paper

Dear Folks: During the past several years many women have written to me that they stored seldom-used linens such as cutwork table cloths and napkins in their cedar chests.

You all work mighty hard bleaching, taking the stains out and ironing these gorgeous cloths.

I say to you never, never put your cloths in any kind of drawer (cedar-lined, camphor-lined, etc.) without first lining that drawer or wrapping the cloth in paper—especially if it's going to be stored for any length of time.

I do keep my seldom-used (once-a-month or so) linens in a cedar chest . . . but I make sure that the linens are thoroughly dry before I put them away. I do this by laying them (after ironing) on the table or near a heating unit for a few days.

Then I fold them and wrap them in a nice piece of white paper, or put them on a piece of plastic on the bottom of the chest. (Please read this again— you only place the plastic on the bottom) where the cloth would touch the wood. You must leave the top of the plastic open in case you still have moisture in that cloth. Then the excess moisture can evaporate, and prevent mildew.

Please do not wash and iron a cloth and put it in a chest immediately and close the lid. Be sure the linen is dry before you close the chest. I don't have a master's degree in how to keep linens but my way seems to be the answer for me.

Another thing, if you only use a certain cloth once every six months, or once a year, do not starch it. Lots of bugs just love starch!

Put it outside in the sun to dry thoroughly, fold it up, wrinkles and all, then put it away. If it is stored for a long time, you'll probably have to press it anyhow before you use it, so why waste energy ironing it before you store it? . . . Heloise. . . F. S. This also includes packing away off-season clothes.

Dear Heloise: I never miss your hints if I can help it and now I believe I have come up with a little hint for you.

We girls who type a lot and use the type-erase bits of paper, etc., always have to hunt for the stuff, finding it inside our desk drawers, on the floor, and even mixed in between the papers we work on. My solution: attach a small piece of tape to one end of the typewriter, presto — the type-erase is handy and always where you can find it. Aurelia Alexander

Dear Heloise: When I don't have a rack to fit the pan I'm using as a roaster or pot roast kettle, I use three or more metal jar rings (the kind used with removable disc tops) according to the size of my roast.

They hold the meat above the pan bottom without interfering with the drop of juices or passage of steam. Elizabeth M. Ballew

Dear Heloise: As I receive my bills, I put them away in their envelopes. When the time comes to pay them, I cut the return address from the envelope and tape it on a new envelope to be sent. No errors in addresses. Saves time, too. Iris Marr

Dear Heloise: Many mothers who have children in the baby food range must have the same problem as I — how to keep the foods orderly on shelves.

Line your jars in a row and cover (or cap) them with inverted plastic tomato tubes. This saves space and keeps baby's goodies all neat. It works for juice cans, too. You can stack them three, or sometimes, four rows up. Linda Farulli (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Turmoil Looms For Uneasy Africa

TUNIS (AP) — Mounting economic and political difficulties and most likely more turmoil lie ahead for restless Africa in 1965.

The giant continent, stirred from sleep and colonial domination, is still desperately seeking to find its own, African personality. Inexperienced leaders of the young African nations will continue to seek shortcuts to the normally lengthy process of development toward political and economic maturity.

NO. 1 PROBLEM

The Congo will remain Africa's No. 1 problem country with the coming year expected to determine the future of pro-Western Premier Moïse Tshombe. In Western eyes, Tshombe's failure to restore some semblance of order could be disastrous.

Attacks against Tshombe will continue and perhaps increase throughout independent Africa where the Congo premier is often regarded as a "tool of imperialism." The struggle for the Congo will go on inside the country and abroad, where the left-leaning rebels are aided by a number of allies, including the United Arab Republic and Algeria. Behind them are Eastern bloc funds.

There will be more attacks — mainly verbal — against South Africa and Portugal. But these two countries have been showing increasing signs of ignoring emerging Africa.

TIRED OF IT

Both South Africa and Portugal seem to feel that the West has been growing increasingly weary of irresponsibility and reckless diplomacy in Africa.

The former colonial powers such as France and Great Britain will continue the policy of slow disengagement from Africa but the West will remain in control of large segments of Africa's economy.

Communist China is bound to increase its activity on the African continent to the detriment of the National Formosa government, still represented in a dozen African capitals.

Russia has been showing signs of slowing down its effort in Africa, apparently discouraged by some of its earlier difficulties.

Oil Corporation To Sell Assets

FORT WORTH (AP)—Ambassador Oil Corp. decided Monday to negotiate with a Kansas firm for sale of virtually all of Ambassador's assets.

Harrison Cooper, president of Ambassador, said if the negotiations result in liquidation, Ambassador shareholders will receive $5.75 to $6.50 per share. Anadarko Production Co., of Liberal, Kan., is the firm with whom negotiations were authorized. It's a wholly owned subsidiary of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. of New York.

Malaysians Rooting Out Last Indonesian Invaders

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The remnants of the latest Indonesian invaders of Malaysia were believed trying to get back home as security forces continued to search for them on the beaches of the southern mainland.

Four fishing boats were reported stolen at the seaside town of Pontian Kechil in Johore State, near the spot where the party of 24 landed Friday. Eleven were still at large.

Thirteen of the invaders, including a major who led them, have been captured. Indonesian guerrillas have been landing on the Malaysian mainland in small groups since last August.

FLIES TO AREA

The British military buildup against a major Indonesian attack continued on Malaysian Borneo. British Army Minister Fred Mulley flew to the area today.

Britain's 500-man 2nd Parachute Battalion, flown to Singapore from England last week, started jungle training at Ulu Triam camp on the Malaysian mainland.

The Royal Navy and Royal Air Force in the area have been reinforced in recent weeks.

Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman made a new appeal for U.S. help.

"If the Americans want to help us, now is the time. It is useless to give help when it is already late," he said in an interview.

Malaysia has rejected a U.S. defense loan because it considered the terms too harsh. They called for repayment of the loan over seven years at 5 per cent interest.

PALAR RETURNS
Indonesia's chief delegate to the United Nations, L. N. Palar, returned to Jakarta to report to his government. Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said he conferred Sunday night with Foreign Minister Subandrio and Subandrio approved the "attitude and policy" followed by Palar's delegation.

Indonesian President Sukarno announced last Thursday that his country had walked out of the United Nations because Malaysia was seated on the U.N. Security Council. U.N. officials do not consider the withdrawal official because no written notice has been filed.

Accused Investment Man Sandblom Guilty

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Paul Amos Sandblom pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) today and U.S. Dist. Judge Reynaldo Garza found the bankrupt investment man guilty on each of 24 counts of a federal indictment.

Garza is to sentence Sandblom Jan. 29. The judge ordered the usual pre-sentencing investigation.

MAIL FRAUD

Sandblom entered the plea to all 24 counts of securities, mail and fraud charges brought against him by the government.

Garza questioned Sandblom closely and told him he could be sentenced up to 120 years in prison and fined up to $44,000. Sandblom, the former Corpus Christi insurance agent, told Garza no one had promised him anything in exchange for his plea.

Asst. U.S. Atty. William Schultz informed Garza that Sandblom's trial would probably be a long one and that the government intended to call at least 400 witnesses.

SCHEME CHARGED

The indictment claims Sandblom between 1958 and 1964 used an alleged scheme to entice investors by offering an interest rate of 3 to 10 per cent a month, or 36 to 120 per cent a year. Instead of investing the money received, the indictment said he used it to pay the high interest.

Sandblom is accused of accepting money from scores of persons over the nation. In bankruptcy proceedings, his debts were listed as running into the millions of dollars.

Tunnell, Publisher Take State Oaths

AUSTIN (AP) — Former House Speaker Byron Tunnell and newspaper publisher Bill Berger have been sworn in as members of two of Texas' most powerful state agencies.

Tunnell took his oath of office Monday as railroad commissioner in a House ceremony seen by hundreds of fans from his home town of Tyler and by representatives and senators here on the eve of the legislature's opening.

WATER BODY

Berger succeeded H. A. Beckwith of Eagle Pass on the Texas Water Commission at a brief ceremony in the governor's reception room.

Connally acknowledged Tunnell's skill as speaker in the 58th Legislature and said he hoped Tunnell's "intelligence, imagination and conviction" would be put to use on far reaching railroad commission decisions.

A close Connally associate and a Tunnell aide last session, Ben Barnes of DeLeon, was the probable choice for speaker in today's House election.

BANGS GAVEL

Tunnell said he was "saddened that when the bell rings tomorrow that I won't be with you." Then, fingering the wooden speaker's gavel a last time, he banged it down to end his own swearing in ceremony.

Berger, a 46-year-old native of Illinois, is editor-publisher of The Hondo Anvil Herald and has interests in newspapers at Seguin, Sabin, Randolph Field and Schertz. He is a former Texas Press Association president.

Connally said he believed

Talks On Viet Aid Docketed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today that discussions will be resumed with the South Viet Nam government on additional U.S. assistance to cope with the Communist threat to that country.

The announcement ended a three-week freeze in discussions of additional support, although regular U.S. economic and military support had never been interrupted.

The announcement, made by press officer Robert J. McCloskey, stemmed from a weekend accord in which top Vietnamese military and civilian leaders reached a compromise, reaffirming the military decision to leave affairs of state in the hands of a civilian government.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, during consultations in Washington in late November, was authorized to discuss new aid to cope with the stepped-up Communist guerrilla campaign.

Additional assistance has been estimated at $60 million to $70 million a year.

Tot Killed In Accident

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three-year-old Elizabeth Martinez of Devine was killed and seven other persons suffered serious injuries late Monday night as a car ran off State 173 south of here in Medina County.

The accident happened 3 miles east of Devine. Officers said the driver dozed at the wheel. The car traveled 250 feet after leaving the road and pancaked into a culvert six feet deep.

All the injured were brought to Santa Rosa Hospital here. Attendants said they were in poor condition.

Simple Inaugural For Connally Set

AUSTIN (AP) — Mayor Lester Palmer said today the second inaugural of Gov. John Connally will be carried out with utmost simplicity on Jan. 26—without parades, festive balls or a prayer breakfast.

PAUL HARNEY (L) GETS GOLF CHECK El Hathaway makes presentation

Harney Claims 2nd LA Crown In Row

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There is this golfer, Paul Harney, who has a singular habit. He comes down here from the hills around Sacramento, extracts $12,000 from the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and disappears back in the hills of Sacramento.

The fellow has done it two years running now and hopes to keep the custom going indefinitely.

Harney's secret? All you have to do is beat guys like Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Bobby Nichols, Tony Lema—and yes, indeed, a man named Dan Sikes—and win the Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

Harney did just that Monday. He shot a final-round 69, two under par, for a 72-hole score of 276, which is eight under par and four better than he used in winning a year ago.

The likeable Harney joined a pretty exclusive club with his back-to-back win. Only two other guys belong. Ben Hogan won twice in a row in 1947-48, and back in 1928-29 the late Macdonald Smith did it.

Sikes, a fugitive from the law profession from Ponte Vedra, Fla., finished second with a great comeback effort—a 70 in a round that began with three rebounding bogeys, but a final score of 279.

"I was ready to go home," said the drawing 34-year-old Floridian. It was just as well he didn't. His consolation was $6,500.

Bill Casper's 71 for 281 was worth $4,000, really not to be sneered at even by a man who won more than $90,000 last year.

Going down the line of the better-known pros, there was Champagne Tony Lema, the British Open champion, and PGA champion Bobby Nichols at 282 in a tie with Canada's George Knudson.

Arnold Palmer got in his best round, a 69 for 284 — $1,975 if the absent Jack Nicklaus is checking Arnie's bank account.

National Open champion Ken Venturi had a 75 for 292, two shots out of the money.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: RAY MEYER, basketball coach at DePaul University: "The rule makers in the old days made the big men better, much better players. They kept legislating against him with such things as the three-second rule, wider lanes, anti-goal tending etc. So that forced him to become an agile big man who can move and run. Look at the changes in the ball itself. We used to roll it across the floor and watch it bounce because it was lumpy and unbalanced. Now it's smaller. It's perfectly round and easier to grip and palm. That helps the great ball handling you see today. . . . I was reading in a medical journal the other day that no type of exercise but rope skipping can co-ordinate awkwardness into graceful motion. My teams have been rope-skipping for years."

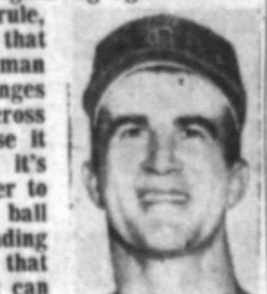

JACK HURLEY, old-time fight manager: "Before Pete Rademacher fought Floyd Patterson, no one knew how poorly Patterson could take a punch. Rademacher hit him on top of the head and knocked him down. Had he not been such a rank amateur Pete would have won the title right then. Patterson never fought a fighter in all the time he was a champion. I told Gus D'Amato that Harry Matthews, were he still fighting, would murder Patterson; I predicted Roy Harris would knock him down and had a good chance to knock him out. Patterson is the most ungrateful fighter I know. Look at what D'Amato did for him and today Gus hasn't got a nickel and Floyd's loaded."

BENNY MOORE, backfield star for the Baltimore Colts: "The strain before a game is unbelievable. I've seen guys throw up in the dressing room. Then tension ties you in knots until you get that first bump on the field."

JOHNNY PESKY, former manager of the Boston Red Sox: "Dick Stuart was my 4-H boy. He gave me homers, humor, humility and headaches."

JIM MURRAY, Los Angeles scribe: "I predict that in 1965 Wilt Chamberlain will be sold to somebody for $400,000 but that he will still belong to Bill Russell on the basketball court, that Sonny Liston will hit Floyd Patterson with a right hand and customers in the third row will be hit by flying glass, that the trade of Frank Howard for Claude Osteen and John Kennedy will work out dead even—none of them will be any good. Also that Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns, will announce that Jim Brown won't play unless they replace the governor of Ohio. Modell will buy up Ohio. Jim Brown's 1,300 yards a season thus will run neck-and-neck with downtown Dallas the most expensive real estate in the world."

JIMMY CANNON, New York scribe: "Nobody asked me but: Will Billy Wade wind up as the Giants' quarterback after a triple deal among Dallas, Chicago and New York? . . . Some baseball officials become famous but no one knows a football official's name except his immediate family. . . . Although Y. A. Tittle told teammates he's through, I think he'd like the Giants to ask him to try it again next season. . . . The greatest basketball players now in action is Oscar Robertson, but he's no Bob Cousy. . . . Golfers are the most egotistical of Sunday sportsmen and tennis players are the most modest."

Kansas Upset In Big Eight Tilt, 61-59

By DICK COUCH Associated Press Sports Writer

The journey from the plains to the foot of the Rockies is becoming an uphill battle for Colorado's Big Eight Conference basketball neighbors.

While nationally ranked Wichita, Indiana, St. John's and Davidson were boosting their stock with solid victories Monday night, the unsung Buffaloes shook up the Big Eight title picture by knocking off conference favorite Kansas 61-59 for their second straight home-court upset.

By reversing its two-point loss to Kansas in the Big Eight pre-season tourney final last month, Colorado matched the Jayhawks' 2-1 league record. Oklahoma State whipped visiting Iowa State 67-48 and gained first place with a 3-0 mark — but the Cowboys have yet to make the trip to Boulder. Oklahoma topped Nebraska 89-82 in another Big Eight game.

Chuck Gardner, the Buffaloes' 6-foot-8 mathematics major, tallied 21 points, including a pair of free throws that put the home club in front to stay, and held his own with Kansas' 6-foot-11 Walt Wesley off the boards. Gardner's 21 points last Saturday led the Buffs to an 80-77 ambush of Kansas State at Boulder.

Dave Stallworth, Wichita's All-America, hit all seven of his field-goal attempts and teamed with Dave Leach connected on nine of 14, pacing the third-ranked Wheatshockers to a 94-81 home-court victory over Southern Illinois.

Stallworth finished with 20 points, Leach with 19 as Wichita fired a torrid 59 per cent from the floor in winning its 11th in 13 starts.

Six straight points in the last 1 1/2 minutes sewed up Indiana's 85-76 Big Ten decision over Iowa, saddling the home team with its first conference loss. Steve Redenbaugh fired 22 points, Dick Van Arsdale and John McGlockin, 20 each, for the fifth-ranked Hoosiers, now 2-1 in the conference and 11-1 overall. Wisconsin surprised Purdue 76-66 in the only other Big 10 action.

Bob McIntyre's 10-for-13 sniping carried St. John's to a 72-66 triumph over Creighton at New York. The Redmen, 10-2 and No. 7 in the land, held Bluejay star Fritz Pointer to a single field goal. McIntyre, a 6-foot-6 junior, totaled 26 points and grabbed a dozen rebounds.

Davidson's Fred Hetzel and Dick Snyder combined for 50 points and the eighth-ranked Wildcats mauled The Citadel 100-81, taking command in the Southern Conference. Snyder scored 24 points while limiting Cadet ace Jim McCurdy to seven. The victory was Davidson's fifth straight in league play and 12th in 13 season tilts.

Jayhawks Square Off With Badger Quintet

Howard County Junior College, 10-0 on the year and 2-0 in conference play, try to protect their station at the top of the league in a 8 o'clock basketball game with Amarillo College in Amarillo tonight.

The undertaking won't be easy. Amarillo has improved a lot since the season began and is invariably tough to contain at home.

The Hawks will have to play better than they did in their outing with Cameron, Oklahoma, in Lawton last Saturday night to win. HCJC lost that one, 73-66, missing a ton of free pitches along the way.

Cheered by the return of scoring ace Judy Hirt, who has been out for well over a month due to illness, the Garden City girls defeated the Sterling fems, 45-33.

Sterling also won the boys' B game, 19-17. In that one, Walter Taylor hit five points for Garden City and Dusty Dillard seven for Sterling.

Vernon Newsom paced the Garden City boys' A team with 12 points while Churchill had 13 for Sterling City. Sterling jumped into a six-point lead in the first period and led all the way.

Brenda Jacob led the Garden City girls with 21 points while Betsy Durham had 17 for the Eagles.

In the back courts, Tavie Daniel, Sharon Jacob and Frances Cypert did fine work for Garden City.

The Garden City teams return to competition Friday night, at which time they will be in Waterloo Valley.

Prothro Eyes Side Deals

CHICAGO (AP) — Tommy Prothro, seeking professional opportunity, is leaving Oregon State to take the head football coaching job at UCLA.

"Financially there's no advantage to the move," said the 44-year-old Prothro, who had assisted the late Red Sanders at UCLA before going to Oregon State for a successful 10-year tenure.

"But I feel there is professional opportunity at UCLA," he said Monday night.

Prothro, attending the NCAA convention in Chicago, indicated he would like to move his assistants to UCLA where they would probably receive bigger paychecks.

"I'm not sure about my staff at this time but I hope most of my assistants will go with me," he said.

Prothro, a native of Memphis, Tenn., was a star blocking back at Duke University from 1939-1941. Regarded a brilliant football strategist, his Oregon State teams compiled a 43-37-2 record.

"They've been the happiest 10 years of my life," said Prothro, whose Beavers suffered a 34-7 loss to Michigan in this year's Rose Bowl game.

Disregarding rumors that the one-sided loss in the Rose Bowl would cost him a chance to take over at UCLA, replacing Bill Barnes, Prothro said he was not officially contacted for the UCLA job until after his team was swamped by Michigan.

CHICAGO (AP) — The moonlighting of assistant football coaches who allegedly are being paid on the side by the National and American Football Leagues for keeping tabs on outstanding collegiate players is expected to be an explosive item in a report scheduled for today before the NCAA.

The report is to be presented by Jim Corbett, LSU athletic director and chairman of the Professional-Relations Committee of the NCAA.

It was touched off by premature signings of players which terminated their collegiate eligibility and brought the banning of several from participating in bowl games.

Corbett's review is said to put all the cards on the table "for safeguarding the integrity of college athletics."

This would be to the extent of admitting that possibly a large number of assistant coaches are being aid by the pros for specific scouting reports on outstanding prospects.

The pay varies, but rises accordingly for a few who are convincing enough to steer outstanding stars into pro camps.

Corbett last week met with Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner. At the NCAA convention site he has talked with Joe Foss, AFL commissioner.

CHICAGO (AP) — South-west Texas State will start spring football practice Feb. 15, Billy Miller, the new head coach, said he expects a turn-out of 60 to 70 candidates, including four All-Lone Star Conference players from last season's team which had an 8-2 record.

The four are tackle Wilbur Aylor, halfback Richard Shuffel, guard Bud Jackson and end Stanley Smith.

Steers And Permian Meet Here Tonight

Big Spring plays host to Odessa Permian, defending champion in District 2-AAAA basketball play, in an 8 o'clock game tonight.

B teams of the two schools square off at 6 o'clock. Both teams will be scrapping to avoid elimination in the conference race. Each boasts a 1-2 won-loss record.

Permian looked little short of sensational in knocking over Abilene High in its first game, 75-67. Since then, however, the Panthers have lost to San Angelo and Midland.

Big Spring opened by yielding decisions to Midland Lee and Odessa High, then scrapped back to shock Abilene Cooper last Friday night.

None of the three games involving the Steers have been close.

Permian, coached by Jack Crawley, has averaged 53.3 points a game in its conference starts, compared to 63.3 for the opposition.

Big Spring has averaged 55.3 points a game in its three league tests, compared to 62.7 for the common foe.

Overall, Permian is a respectable 11-8 and has outscored the opposition, 1026 points to 1017. Big Spring is 6-11 for the year and has yielded 1,002 points.

The win over Cooper was only the Steers' second against Class AAA opposition this year. The other came at the expense of Ysleta Eastwood.

Coach Allen Simpson of Big Spring is apt to start a lineup consisting of Simon Terrazas, Joe Jaure, Paul Thomas, Robert Jackson and Don White.

Jimmy Johnston, 6-3 1/2, is Permian's chief rebounder and his 23 points did much to wreck Abilene. He's averaging better than 13 points a game.

Larry Hart, 6-2 junior, gives Johnston a lot of help around the backboards. He's a left-handed shooter and recently was named to the all-tournament team at Carlsbad, N. M.

Other Permian starters will probably be Alan Moravcik, who will be remembered here as Permian's fine quarterback in football; Tim Haines and either Jimmy Ormand or Chuck Mercer.

Permian won third place in the Carlsbad tournament by defeating El Paso High, one of the Border City's favorites, 67-44. The Panthers also beat Alamogordo, N. M., at Carlsbad but lost to Albuquerque Sandia twice in the meet.

Eagle Coach To Lecture

ALPINE — Guest lecturers have been named for Sul Ross State College's high school football coaches' clinic, which is scheduled here Feb. 19-20.

They are Chuck Curtis, head football coach at Garland High School; Wally Bullington, head mentor at Abilene High School, and Charlie Williams, grid boss at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo High School.

Area grid coaches are urged to register for the clinic, for which there is no charge. Reservations may be made by contacting David Slaughter, Sul Ross athletic director and head football coach who is director of the school.

Curtis has compiled a dazzling coaching record, having won three state championships in a row. He won the AA title at Jackboro in 1962, and his Garland Owls have taken the 1963 and 1964 AAAA crown.

Williams' Bears of Pharr-San Juan-Alamo have won district championships during all three seasons he has been head coach there, and they have twice reached the AAAA championship finals before bowing to Dumas in 1962 and Corsicana in 1963.

Other details on the coaching clinic will be announced in the near future, Slaughter said.

MARK COULD FALL IN 1965 Greenberg Says Twin Ace Record Threat

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Greenberg, who knows baseball muscle when he sees it, has tabbed Harmon Killebrew as a solid threat to baseball's single-season home-run record.

"I think Babe Ruth's record of 60 and Roger Maris' 61 will be broken in the near future," said Greenberg, a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame who hit 58 homers in 1938. "Killebrew could do it next season."

"My advice to Harmon is to do nothing different," Greenberg said Monday night after both he and Killebrew received jeweled Sullian of Swat crowns at the 12th annual banquet of the Maryland Professional Baseball Players Association.

"Harmon is right in his prime now after very little minor league experience," said Greenberg. "He has a great stance, and he is playing in the right kind of park with the Minnesota Twins."

Killebrew, only 28, has slugged 188 homers during the past four seasons including his personal high of 49 last year. But his improved physical condition could lead to even higher totals.

"I feel better now than I have in a long time," said Killebrew. "I had a knee operation in December 1963 which took one month of the 1964 season to straighten out. Now, my knee is 100 per cent better than before."

Despite 331 lifetime homers and his great run at Ruth's record in 1938, for which he received a retroactive award, Greenberg said, "I never considered myself a challenger to Ruth's records."

Other awards Monday night included: Manager of the Year.

Hank Bauer, Baltimore Orioles; Pitcher of the Year, Dean Chance, Los Angeles Angels; Most Valuable Player, Brooks

Robinson, Orioles; Star of the Future, Dave Boswell, Minnesota; Scout of the Year, John Ogden, Philadelphia Phillies.

UCLA, Michigan Are 1-2 In AP Basketball Poll

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Indiana, which slipped three spots in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll to No. 5 after losing to unranked Illinois a week ago, made sure that lightning wouldn't strike twice.

The Hoosiers, leading Iowa by four points with three minutes to go Monday night, held off the Hawkeyes to two points the rest of the way and won going away 85-76. A string of six points in the last 90 seconds wrapped it up for Indiana, now 11-1.

Three other members of this week's top ten played Monday night and all won. St. John's of New York, ranked No. 7, whipped visiting Creighton 72-66, third-ranked Wichita whacked Southern Illinois 94-81 and No. 8 Davidson trounced The Citadel 100-81.

UCLA, idle Monday night, continues to lead the poll. The defending national champions drew 33 first-place ballots and 394 points in the voting by a regional panel of 42 sports writers and broadcasters.

Michigan climbed back into the runner-up spot which was vacated by Indiana. The Wolverines, who beat Illinois in their only start last week, drew 336 points.

Wichita jumped two slots into third place and had two first-place ballots included in its 251 points. St. Joseph's, Pa., with a 12-1 record, remained fourth with 242 points and one first-place vote.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points: 1. UCLA (33) 394 2. Michigan 336 3. Wichita (2) 351 4. St. Joseph's (1) 242 5. Indiana 326 6. Providence (6) 187 7. St. John's 156 8. Davidson 133 9. San Francisco 120 10. Duke 60

Timetable Moved Up For Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston, hopeful of becoming the permanent home of the American Football League All-Star game in 1966, found itself today closer to the game a year earlier than expected.

Joe Foss, league commissioner, pulled the Eastern and Western Division All-Stars out of New Orleans Monday after Negro players complained of racial discrimination in the Louisiana city.

Twenty Negro players refused to participate in the Saturday game, saying they were denied cab service and refused admission to night clubs in the French Quarter.

The contest will be played in 35,000-seat Jeppesen Stadium at 2 p. m., EST, Saturday.

The players began converging on Houston Monday, and by today nearly all were on hand for the opening workouts.

Coach Sid Gillman's West squad is to work twice daily—at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m., today, Wednesday and Thursday at Jeppesen.

Lou Saban's Easterners, who will use the Oiler practice field, scheduled the same practice times.

open for Friday when they may work only once. Oakland, which also has hopes of being the All-Star game's permanent host, and Houston were the cities bidding strongest for the game after the league turned its back on New Orleans.

A 50,000-seat stadium is scheduled for completion in the northern California city by 1966. Houston's revolutionary domed stadium is to be completed this spring.

Monday's swift-moving events caught the Oiler organization short.

Only President K. S. (Bud) Adams and Head Coach Bones Taylor were in town. General Manager Carroll Martin and several assistant coaches were attending the NCAA convention in Chicago.

But by late afternoon the group had returned to Houston and preparations were under way for the game. Tickets and programs were ordered printed and arrangements were made for housing the players.

The AFL owners' meeting also was switched to Houston, and expansion of the league will be one of the topics. The weekend's developments set New Orleans' hopes for a pro football franchise back several years.

Temple Wins By 58-44 Tab

In YMCA Basketball league play Monday night, Temple Baptist flattened McAdams Paint and Supply, 58-44, while First Baptist A upended First Baptist B, 75-21.

In the evening's first game, Kenneth Harmon tossed in 20 points for Temple while Frosty Robinson had 14 for McAdams.

Al Kloven led the First Baptist A team to victory, accounting for 18 points. George Sultermier rang up four for First Baptist B.

In Friday's games, Wasson's HJC team will tangle with the YMCA Optimists while Temple Baptist will have it out with the First Baptist A team.

PARLEY SET BY GUN CLUB

Members of the Western Sportsman Club will gather in Room S-8 at HCJC at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday for the purpose of electing officers and directors for the new year. Cecil Horton is currently president of the organization.

Keane's Story Oddest In '64

By The Associated Press

Can you beat this? On Oct. 15 a team that had been counted out of the pennant race a month before won the World Series. The next morning the winning manager walked into the boss' office and handed him a letter of resignation.

Just a couple of hours later the losing manager was fired from that post, even though he had won a pennant in his freshman year.

Four days after these events, the winning manager was chosen to head up the team he had just beaten. And about a month later the ousted losing manager took a coaching job with another club, where one of his bosses was a man who had been fired as general manager of the victorious club he had helped to mould.

Can you beat it? No, say a vast majority of some 250 sports writers and broadcasters participating in The Associated Press year-end poll. By an overwhelming vote, they picked this sequence of events as the sports Oddest of the Year for 1964.

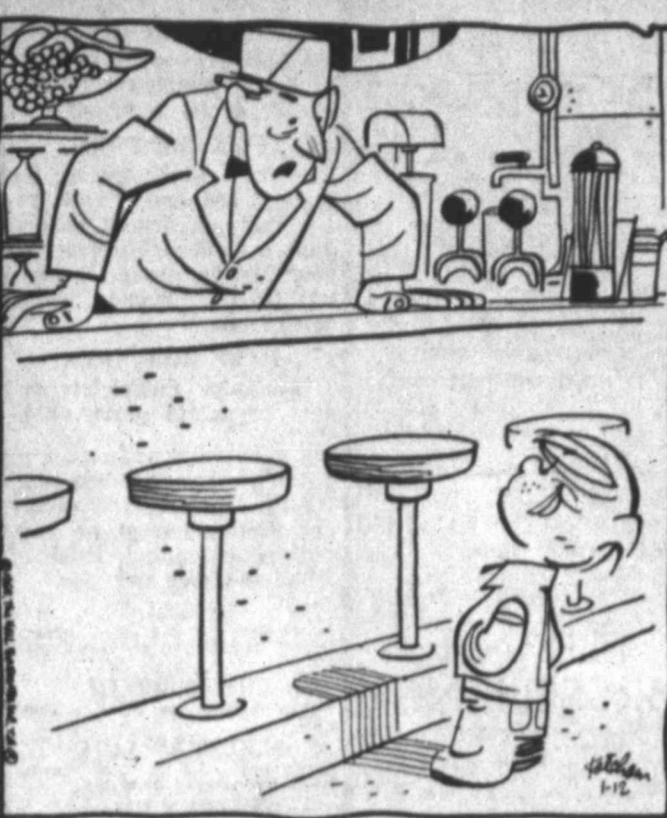

The clubs, of course, were the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees and the managers Johnny Keane and Yogi Berra.

Sato, LBJ Open Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Japan's Premier Eisaku Sato open strategy talks today on U.S. policies in the Far East and Communist China's efforts to cut American influence in Asia.

Both nations attached high importance to the meeting. Rusk called it an opportunity "to do a lot of wood chopping."

"IT IS FITTING" — On his arrival from San Francisco Monday night, Sato said, "I feel that it is especially fitting now that this direct personal exchange take place between your President who embarks on a new term of office within a very few days, and myself, so recently come to the helm of a new administration in Japan."

Sato took over from ailing Hayato Ikeda two months ago. A second Johnson-Sato meeting Wednesday will be followed by a joint communique.

With the Viet Nam situation and Communist China's explosion of a nuclear device last October in mind, Sato said that in the past few months "we have witnessed significant changes and critical developments in areas vitally affecting the conduct of world affairs."

TO ELABORATE — He was expected to elaborate on this in a speech before the National Press Club following the first White House meeting.

Traffic Pileup Fatal To Pair

PORTER, Tex. (AP) — A Dallas couple was killed and four other persons escaped injury in a five-vehicle pileup on U. S. 59 in front of the Porter post office Monday.

Harold Nichols, 64, and his wife Lillie, 62, died in the crash. State Patrolman W. P. Guthrie said Nichols tried to pass a line of cars, met a trailer truck head-on and his pickup then swerved into two other cars.

Oil Output Hike Reported

TULSA (AP) — U. S. oil production average 7,741,720 barrels daily last week, an increase of 26,000, the Oil & Gas Journal said today.

Its report for the week ending Jan. 9 showed Texas production was 2,692,100 barrels daily, up 9,700.

Production for other states included Louisiana 1,635,000, New Mexico 317,900, and Oklahoma 554,500.

Auto Skids Into Children

MESQUITE, Tex. (AP) — One Mesquite child was killed and two injured Monday when an automobile skidded into them as the driver applied the brakes.

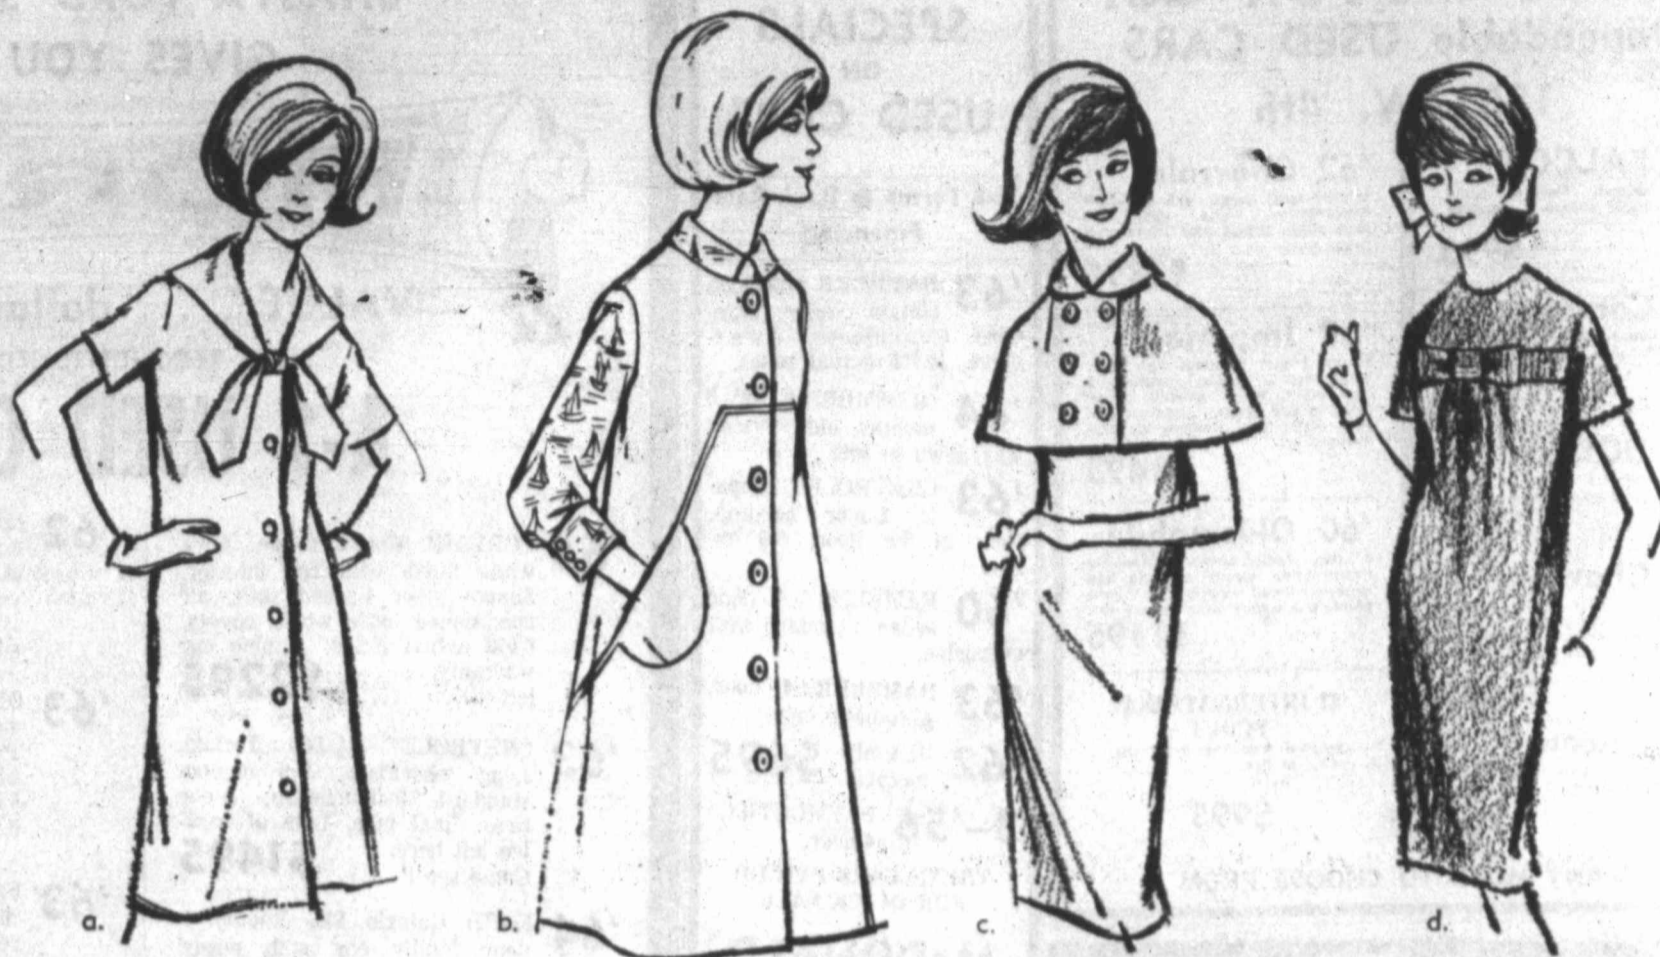

Dead on arrival at Baylor Hospital in Dallas was William Miller, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller.

Terri Hendry, 3, was in critical condition and her sister Tacy, 6, was in fair condition. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hendry.

Policeman Travis Haas said the three children apparently ran from under a bridge where they were playing in front of the car, driven by Raymond Budby, 34, of Kaufman. He said Budby was unable to stop.

Civil Defense Post To Col. Matthews

Activity In Struck Ports At Standstill

By The Associated Press

A strange quiet pervaded most Texas ports today as a strike of longshoremen brought activity at the usually bustling wharves to a virtual standstill. Only the occasional cries of seagulls, the noises of tugs and the sound of paint being chipped broke the silence. The usual smells of sweat, smoke and fuel were strangely missing. Pickets paraded at dock entrances. Absence of the usual vibrant activity was costing the port cities thousands of dollars an hour. In Houston the loss to the economy was estimated at half a million dollars a day.

Dock workers walked off Sunday night after International Longshoremen Association members in New York turned down a proposed new contract.

The strike is affecting an estimated 60,000 longshoremen from Maine to Texas.

THE PICTURE — Here is a rundown of the effects at Texas ports:

At Houston—Thirteen vessels were stranded, most of them foreign. The few American flag ships were deserted except for watchmen walking the decks. Foreign ships were more lively. Crewmen had no homes to go to. Skippers set crewmen to chipping and scraping rusted and scaling paint from the hulls and superstructures in preparation for new paint jobs.

"After a strike, these ships usually go out looking like they did when they were brand new," a port official said.

The only movement about the docks was among crewmen of some of the vessels, a scattered few security and maintenance personnel, an occasional tugboat passing and seagulls circling in search of food.

Normally about 2,000 longshoremen work at the vast port of Houston, the nation's third largest in tonnage handled.

Strikers were walking four-hour shifts on the picket lines. "TO BE ROUGH" — "It's going to get rough on us pretty soon," said one longshoreman, "but it's going to hurt everybody who has anything to do with the port, too. . . I think everybody hopes it is a short one."

He said ILA locals in Houston had no strike fund for payments to members.

At Galveston—Four ships were docked and no loading was going on as ILA men picketed.

ILA leaders discussed the arrival of two banana ships, due today. Port officials and ship-owners said they hoped the ILA would let them unload.

One of the banana ships, the Arctic Reefer, was expected to dock at Pier 20. It was there striking longshoremen refused to allow a banana-laden ship to unload two years ago. One man was shot during two weeks of disturbances.

Estimates of losses to the national economy, including effects on related industries, range from $20 million to $25 million a day.

Union leaders and Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds say the contract was rejected here last Friday because the rank-and-file misunderstood the contract.

A campaign to sell the contract to the men was decided on at an ILA executive council meeting Monday, first day of the strike.

Union officials went to ILA locals here to find out the reasons for rejection, to explain the advantages of the contract and to get a new vote among the 24,000 longshoremen.

ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said he had heard reports of "agitators telling lies to the men." He said he did not know who the agitators were.

Gleason spoke of "fear of automation" among the union members. This was a reference to a clause in the proposed contract for gradual reduction of the size of work gangs from 20 to 17 men over the four-year contract term.

Employers have sought for years to get a gang-size cut in view of automation of much of the loading and unloading work. The men were guaranteed an annual minimum wage and other benefits in the pact they spurned.

Garbage Can Lids Found

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — A cache of garbage can lids — apparently stashed away by vandals — has been uncovered by police in Hillside Park.

Home owners were informed Monday and many of the 60 lids picked up Saturday night were reclaimed.

Householders were told later to claim the remainder of the lids because they're unsightly — and smelly.

CELEBRATION SPECIAL

I'm Rayford Gillihan, Sales Manager at Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth, Big Spring's new Chrysler-Plymouth Dealer at 600 East 3rd.

I have a little deal going with my salesmen. The one that sells the most cars this week will get a steak dinner on me.

The reason is simple. I want them to introduce you to the most beautiful cars that ever hit our town — and the way we do business.

Whatever you want in a new car, we've got it. Seventeen big and beautiful Chryslers. Sixty Plymouths, from Valiant to the new 119" wheelbase Sport Fury.

One other thing. My salesmen know how I feel about beating deals. I honestly believe that we give the best ones possible.

Try us. Look over the cars. And take advantage of our Second-Week-in-Business Celebration Special.

N.Y. Drive On To End Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Top officials of the Longshoremen's Union, seeking a quick end to the Atlantic and Gulf coast dock strike, have launched a campaign to get members in the Port of New York to vote again and approve a contract, they rejected by a slim margin.

The rejection triggered the strike by 60,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in ports from Maine to Texas.
