Mob Of Buddhists Smashed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroopers smashed their way with billy clubs and tear gas through nearly 500 Buddhist monks and nuns demonstrating against Premier Tran Van Huong in front of the U.S. Embassy today.

A few minutes later a mob smashed the doors and windows of the U.S. Information Service library four blocks from the embassy.

Crowds, mostly youths, knocked over police boxes in main city streets.

By midafternoon, scattered

Ten Feared Dead In AF Plane Crash

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A U.S. Air Force plane with 10 persons aboard crashed near Kalavrita in the northern Peloponnese early today, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said.

All aboard were believed to have perished, the spokesman said.

The plane, a C124 Globemaster, was en route from Aviano Air Base, in northeast Italy, to Athens when it crashed 100 miles southwest of the Greek capital.

The plane belonged to the 1607th Air Transport Wing based at Dover, Del., the spokesman said.

He reported that authorities at Kalavrita sent Greek army units to the scene but there were no reports of survivors.

House Panel Shifts Setback For Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas suffered in this year's shuffling of House committee assignments, New Mexico gained. In what may have long-range significance, Texas failed to place a second man on the Armed Services Committee.

Two Texans have been on the group most of the time since its creation in 1946.

Texas almost always had a man on both the old Military and Naval Affairs committees, which were merged to form Armed Services.

FIRST TIME
New Mexico has never, until this Congress, been represented on either of the predecessor groups or the present committee.

The break with tradition came with selection of freshman Rep. E. S. Johnny Walker, Santa Fe Democrat.

Texas' lone member of Armed Services is Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo, now the fifth ranking Democrat. During the last Congress, former Reps. Joe Kilgore, former Reps. Ed Foreman, Odessa Republican, who was defeated, were members also.

TOWER TRIUMPH
Named to the Senate Armed Services Committee this year was Sen. John Tower, Texas Republican. Not since President Johnson left the Senate to

Gulf Docker Accord Eyed

HOUSTON (AP) — Thomas Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen Association, has expressed hope that a Gulf Coast longshoremen and shipper labor dispute could be settled in a meeting of shippers and striking dockworkers today.

Gleason said at New York Thursday that he planned to attend the 2 p.m. meeting in Galveston. He said he had already made plans to go to Galveston before the New York I.L.A. unions voted to accept a contract which they had previously rejected.

Gulf Coast longshoremen have been on strike for 12 days. "We have a lot of issues to settle, but we could settle them groups of demonstrators were moving all over Saigon.

A Buddhist source telephoned The Associated Press office that a monk would burn himself on a main city boulevard near the central market later in the day. This is the immolation technique that did much to rally opinion against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The Buddhist monks and nuns gathered in front of the American Embassy at 1:30 a.m. after racing 10 blocks through Saigon carrying antigovernment banners.

They converged on the embassy from three directions and presented a petition to U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

DON MASKS
Paratroopers who were guarding the embassy put on gas masks an hour after the demonstration began. Thirty minutes later, after dispersing a crowd of Buddhist laymen who had gathered down the street, they forcibly broke up the demonstration by the monks and nuns.

They threw several dozen tear gas grenades into the ranks of the yellow-robed Buddhists and then moved in among them, smashing them on the head with their clubs.

Some Americans from the embassy ran into the street and dragged bleeding monks and nuns down a side street where they gave them first aid treatment.

Central Texas Deluges Send Residents Fleeing dozen houses in Georgetown's San Jose section, a modest income neighborhood. Water rose two feet deep in some homes. Evacuees grabbed personal belongings and fled late in the night with help from Georgetown fire chief Jesse Lazano and others in his volunteer department.

FLOOD RETREATS
Georgetown itself measured 4 inches of rain in the seven hours before midnight, when the downpour stopped and flood waters began a rapid retreat. The moisture measurement there was 5.30 inches in 24 hours.

Five inches of rain poured down at Mayfield, 30 miles east of Temple, and there was concern over possible flooding for a time at Killeen, in the same area and next door to Ft. Hood. Civil defense crews were alerted as rampaging Nolan Creek threatened to climb into a string of trailer houses at Killeen occupied mostly by soldiers' families.

Heavy rain also fell in Austin, which measured 3.45 inches at the Weather Bureau. An unusually calm Smith Branch surged out of banks and drove nearly 100 persons from two official 4.90 inches drenched a neighborhood in the north part of the city.

POLICE SAVE 2
State police rescued two unidentified men whose car was swept off U.S. 290 east of Austin by rushing water between Manor and Elgin. The two climbed a tree and held on until help arrived.

The Weather Bureau received a report of minor flooding on roads east of Lockhart. The near-cloudbursts at various points occurred as a broken band of showers and occasional thunderstorms moved eastward through North and Central Texas, concentrating on East Texas by early morning.

At one juncture the massed showers extended from the Dallas-Fort Worth area southward. Later the showers and a line or two of thunderstorms lay from near Waco to northeast of Denison, and subsequently from southeast of Tyler northward to around Nocona.

WHIP PALACIOS
Thunderstorms whipped through the Palacios area on the coast and the College Station vicinity as well.

Fog was mixed with the rain at Mineral Wells. Ground fog hovered low before dawn at Wink, Midland and San Angelo. Smaller amounts of rain fell at numerous points, contributing to countless traffic accidents on wet streets and highways.

Clouds covered most of Texas. Dalhart, Amarillo and Wink were the only stations reporting fair weather before daylight. Skies were expected to clear over much of West Texas by late in the day. Light rain and a few thunderstorms were predicted as late as tonight in Northeast Texas.

Lower temperatures were promised most sections of the state tonight and Saturday.

Piggy-Back Craft Lofted By Air Force

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force has fired an Atlas missile with a new kind of piggy-back satellite vehicle, but there is no word yet on whether the latter achieved orbit.

The Atlas was lobbed down the Pacific missile range late Thursday to test a new warhead.

Strapped to its side was a 100-pound vehicle with instruments to measure space radiation and micrometeorites. This was the first time such a vehicle has been carried on the side of a booster. Normally they are on the nose.

The vehicle had its own 5,800-pound-thrust engine to kick it toward orbit after it cut loose from the Atlas.

Jury Weighs Suit Against Estes, Others

PECOS (AP)—A $3 million lawsuit growing out of fertilizer tank mortgage deals by Billie Sol Estes was placed in the hands of a jury Thursday.

Dist. Judge J. H. Starley then called a recess, directing the jurors to wait until today before starting to weigh their verdict.

The jurist read a charge listing 24 issues for the jury to consider in the complicated case after lawyers completed final arguments.

Since Estes is bankrupt, the suit is directed primarily against the Walter E. Heller Co., a Chicago loan firm. Eight other defendants named originally have won separate trials or else settled out of court.

Damages totaling $4 million and cancellation of $1.3 million in tank mortgages held by the Heller Co. are asked by four Midland men. They are J. C. Barnes Sr., J. C. Barnes Jr., Russell Ramsland and W. F. Wynn.

The four men signed mortgages on fertilizer tanks in a transaction with Estes, who in turn sold the mortgages to the Heller Co. Witnesses testified that Estes was to pay rent on the tanks matching monthly payments due on the mortgages.

The plaintiffs alleged and Heller spokesmen denied that both Estes and Heller executives were aware the tanks never existed.

Estes was taken into custody earlier this week to begin a 15-year prison term for fraud after the Supreme Court refused to hear his appeal from the conviction.

GOP Get-Together

At a Republican Party reception in Chicago last night, Ray C. Bliss, second from left, whose election as new chairman of the National Committee was scheduled today, gets a laugh as he jests with former Vice

GOP Changeover To Bliss Hauls Down Barry Banner

CHICAGO (AP)—The Republican National Committee unanimously ratified today the election of Ohio's Ray Bliss to succeed Dean Burch as national chairman in a compromise aimed at unifying the party.

CHICAGO (AP) — Republicans hauled down Barry Goldwater's battle-tattered flag today with the scheduled election of Ohio's Ray C. Bliss as their new national chairman.

Relaxed and smiling, Goldwater was on hand to witness the formal acceptance by the GOP National Committee of the resignation of his hand-picked chairman, Dean Burch.

Bliss, 57, and a veteran party organizer since 1949, will take over from Burch April 1.

This changeover was being made in the interests of party harmony under the personal supervision of Goldwater, the 1964 presidential nominee; his running mate, William E. Miller; and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 candidate for president.

REMOVE LABEL
But the juncture effect would be to remove from the party the label of Goldwater and his disastrous defeat in November's election.

The party progressives, who had accused Burch of freeing them out of the organization, were satisfied with Bliss, a political technician, who could be counted on to bring all elements under the GOP tent.

There were rumblings of discontent from some Southern conservatives. They professed to believe they had been sold out by Goldwater's decision to compromise with the opponents of Burch.

But any revolt from this source seemed likely to be short-lived.

OKAY CHANGEOVER
The party's executive committee, most of whose members were appointed by Burch, approved the changeover in a closed meeting Thursday.

Goldwater, appearing at closed committee sessions and mixing within the crowd at a reception, said Republican prospects are good in 1966 because President Johnson has proposed in the "Great Society" a comprehensive program "without knowing where the money will come from."

"The long-term trend will favor us," he said.

Nixon, lending his prestige to the changeover in party command, predicted the Republicans will stage a comeback next year.

North Carolina Governor Ill

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Dan K. Moore of North Carolina is in Raleigh Hospital with pneumonia, his wife is hospitalized with bronchitis.

Moore, 58, who won his first term last November, has been unable to shake a cold for more than two weeks, said an aide. It became worse after the governor rode in an open car during the inaugural parade in Washington Wednesday. He entered the hospital Thursday night.

Actress, Florida Solon Remarried

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Actress Gloria de Haven and Dick Fincher, a Florida state representative, have remarried. The couple announced Thursday that they were married here Tuesday. They were divorced in 1963.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's spark of life flickered feebly today, his condition unchanged after a quiet night, a medical bulletin announced.

As he continued his valiant fight, a fire broke out near his bedroom in an apartment house immediately behind his town house. Dense clouds of smoke churned outside the statesman's window.

With muted bells in consideration of the 90-year-old Sir Winston's desperate illness, four fire engines raced to the fire and put it out.

QUIET NIGHT
The bulletin, issued by Lord Moran, Sir Winston's physician, said: "Sir Winston had a quiet night and there is no change in his condition. There will be a further bulletin tonight."

The 16th bulletin since Sir Winston suffered a stroke last Friday brought this comment from a spokesman for the British Medical Association: "I still think that it's inconceivable that he can recover from this. It still fits in with the pattern of his illness. I still think it's a great tribute to his will and character. It shows evidence of the terrific constitution this man had, not only in the character but in his general body. Today's bulletin means that Sir Winston is no better at all."

WITH HUSBAND
Lady Churchill, who will be 80 in April, was with her husband during the morning's fire drama. Shortly after Lord Moran left his patient, Lady Churchill emerged. She looked strained and tired.

When she went for a walk late Thursday, her son-in-law, Christopher Soames, told newsmen: "Lady Churchill just wants to walk a little in peace and quiet, away from it all."

Since Sir Winston's stroke she has had little sleep. A bulletin Thursday night also had reported no change in Sir Winston's condition. The medical association spokesman said then that "this sort of condition could go on perhaps for days."

ARRESTED FIRST
Mohammed Bokharaei, 20, was arrested immediately after Mansour was shot. He was charged with the shooting.

Police identified the two arrested later as Reza Saffar Herandi, 23, a shoe store worker; and Morteza Niknejad, 22, a drapery shop employee. Both worked in the old Tehran bazaar, site of many political plots.

An official said Bokharaei had quotations from the Muslim holy book, the Koran, on his pistol. There were four unfired cartridges still in the weapon.

PAIR ARMED
Police said the other two men were armed and had similar pistols bearing religious slogans. They were reported to have fired shots which did not hit Mansour.

The shah's reform program, including the purchase of large holdings from landlords to sell to peasants on easy terms, and giving women political and social rights, has angered conservative religious circles.

Indonesia Flag Still At U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Indonesia was still being treated as a member of the United Nations today despite formal notice of its decision to withdraw because of the election of Malaysia to the Security Council.

Indonesia's flag was to fly as usual with the flags of the other 114 U.N. members outside the headquarters building, and its nameplate remained on the Indonesian place in the General Assembly hall.

Sgt. James Schaffer said the boy told him his stepfather, Ernest Gore, 41, had put the chains on him last Sunday. Schaffer said the stepfather admitted he had chained the boy, saying he had run away from home several times.

Schaffer said young Liss told him he had left home about 5 p.m. Thursday.

Schaffer said there were bruises on the boy's body and that he had told him his stepfather sometimes kicked him.

Police led the boy before taking him to Cook County Hospital for treatment of exposure. Temperatures were in the 30s, with light rain, during the night.

Man In Charge Should Run Show, Defense Head Opines

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Whoever is head of the department should run it," says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The nine words, in an exclusive Associated Press interview Thursday on his fourth anniversary as top man at the Pentagon, put in a capsule the policy that the driving, 48-year-old secretary has followed.

He said the results — some involving revolutionary change and some colliding with both tradition and group interests — have been "driven into the bedrock" of the military establishment to live after he is gone.

TEST LATER
Incidentally, almost casually, he indicated he expects the test on that to be some time off. He said he had no future plans — "The President asked me to stay on and I will as long as he needs me."

Exuding the confidence of a man who is running the show and aims to keep on doing it, McNamara sat in his shirt-sleeves behind his document-filled desk as he answered questions about some of his actions that have brought about more or less serious collisions. The list is long:

—Steering basic strategy away from reliance on massive nuclear retaliation toward more flexibility to meet Communist threats all the way down to "little wars."

BUDGET PLANNING
—A shift to five-years-ahead budget planning instead of the old year-to-year method.

—Numerous centralizing and unifying steps among the services.

—A clampdown on maneuvering by the individual services to push their claims at the Capitol and in the press.

—Unyielding resistance to pressures to start work on an advanced bomber, production of an antimissile system, and building of more nuclear-powered warships until he is sure on the matters of need and cost.

New Americana Motor Inn Opens

The 53-unit motor inn, located west of the intersection of IS 20 and US 87, will host its grand opening at 4 p.m. Saturday, with the Ambassadors Club of the Chamber of Commerce providing a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The motor inn includes single and double rooms and two suites, a heated swimming pool and parking for 60 cars.

Americana Sets Grand Opening

The Americana Motor Inn's grand opening at 4 p.m. Saturday will mark the completion of the complex that includes the motel, Lamar's Restaurant and the John Daves Humble Station.

The Ambassador's Club of the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor George Zachariah will participate in a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the motel at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Coffee will be served in the motel's reception lobby.

The new motor inn will be under the management of T. E. Davis, formerly of Wichita Falls. Davis has been in the motel management business for some eight years in Wichita Falls, including three motels there. His family has also operated a dude ranch in the Wichita Falls area.

"I am going to enjoy living in Big Spring and meeting the people here," Davis said. The family includes a boy, aged 9, Mrs. Davis and the child will be moving to Big Spring also in Spring.

T. E. DAVIS

The staff for the motel will include some 10 to 12 persons. The Americana is a member of the coast-to-coast Best Western motels association, which sets standards and requirements for its membership, including such specifications as the size of rooms and of beds.

The Americana here will make reservations for its guests at any Best Western motel within a 600-mile radius of the city at no extra charge.

Owned by the Crossroads Motel Corp., the Americana is one of several owned in Texas and New Mexico by the group, including an Americana at Amarillo and another under construction at Abilene.

A distinctive feature of the new motor inn here is its now 50-foot-high sign.

Twenty-four hour service will be available to each room in the motel from Lamar's Restaurant, as will service for automobiles from the Daves Humble Service Station. A limousine service arrangement is also planned from Howard County Airport.

Lamar Green, operator of Lamar's Restaurant, is inkeeper for the new motel, which also includes a private club, the Americana Club.

The motel was constructed on a 200 by 214-foot tract of land, by three Amarillo men, John Rayburn, Joe Bernard and C. W. Hargus. The motor inn here is similar to the Amarillo Americana, except that it is 12 units larger.

Contractor for the Americana construction here was Jack Hicks, of El Paso.

Baker Probe Is Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Resumption of the Senate Rules Committee's Bobby Baker investigation, tentatively scheduled for next week, has been postponed for at least a week.

Special counsel L. P. McLendon said today the committee will be busy for the next week or so acting on the annual money resolutions of Senate committees. Their spending authority expires at the end of the month.

Americana Motel Interior

One of the double rooms included in the new Americana Motor Inn on north IS 20, this view shows the outside wall area of the room, with a floor-to-ceiling glass wall located at the draped portion.

New Motel Completes Three Unit Complex

The 53-unit Americana Motor Inn, on the north IS 20 bypass, is holding its grand opening Saturday.

The distinctive diamond-roof design of the new motel includes ceramic tile and brick construction on four grade levels.

Constructed at a cost exceeding $400,000, the Americana is part of a development complex that includes Lamar's Restaurant and the John Daves Humble Service Station, both located adjacent to the motor inn on the east.

The entire area, at the northwest portion of the intersection of Interstate 20 and US 87, is paved, with a large parking area included. The entrance to the motor inn features a drive covered by a portion of the jagged-roof feature.

The design of the Americana features tan, chipped-brick and white roofing, with brown gravel spread over a portion of the roof. The roof design extends into the main lobby of the motel, which features a ceramic tile and glass design, with carpeting and drapes.

The paved area around the motel itself includes space for 60 cars.

Spotted over the four levels of the motel itself are a distinctive arrangement of colors, including the ceramic tile, of light green, and doors to the rooms of green, blue, yellow and red. Connecting the rooms and the varying levels of the motel is a cabana-type balcony and stair arrangement.

All of the motel rooms will front to the east or south, providing a view of the city of Big Spring at night.

A kidney-shaped swimming pool, heated for year-round use, is located in the center of the motel area. The pool is adjacent to the separate motel building which houses a private club, the Americana Club.

A distinctive feature of the pool is its construction, partly sheltered from the weather by the motel building and partly exposed. The ceramic tile design is carried into the structure which covers the south portion of the pool area.

The sheltered pool area includes seating arrangements with lawn-type chairs and coin-operated vending machines.

The construction of the pool was designed to allow protection from southerly winds.

Included in the motel are 24 single units, with single beds in each. Two suites are provided, which can double as private meeting rooms for groups of persons.

A total of 27 double rooms have two beds in each. In addition, the Americana can provide rollaway beds for extra accommodations and cribs for children.

A modern furnishing and interior design is featured in the motel rooms.

The color scheme includes green and black or white and green. Each room is carpeted and one wall of each is paneled in wood.

The furniture is antique white or black. Desks in the rooms include a stain-resistant formica top.

The furnishings also include two chairs in each single room, with a bed-side table and a desk arrangement. The double rooms include a larger desk-table arrangement.

White bedspreads, matching the light green and white color motifs included in the rooms, are also featured. The outside wall of each room is glass, with drapes from floor to ceiling.

The drapes are white to the outside but tri-colored, with green, brown and red, inside. Rooms also contain a separate bath with shower and a dressing area. The bath is of ceramic tile, while the adjacent dressing area is carpeted. Each bath is equipped with a heat lamp and each room contains both a bath and shower.

Television sets, also matching the color motif of the rooms, are mounted on a stained-wood board, wall-mounted, to allow the sets to be turned to any portion of the room and to be easily viewed from the bed or chairs.

Another feature of the rooms is individual, dial telephones. One may call either the motor inn's reception desk, within the city or long distance from the room phones. A system of outside dial numbers will make possible the calls outside the motel itself.

On each telephone is a red signal light, so that is a message comes to the motel office

A Devotional For The Day

"Who do the people say that I am?" . . . "But who do you say that I am?" (Luke 9:18, 20, RSV)
PRAYER: Thou, who art the Christ, yet to many the stranger of Galilee, help each of us to make Thee known to as many persons as we possibly can. Help them to recognize Thee with certainty as the Christ of God, and profess faith in Thee as their personal Savior. In Thy name we pray. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Not The Solution

Any bill to nationalize American railroads would have about as much chance in this, or any foreseeable, Congress as a joint resolution denouncing motherhood. President Johnson's support is inconceivable. And the 22 rail unions' rank and file, among the most conservative in the national labor force, probably would not in the majority favor a public management with which they could not bargain collectively nor strike against.

Why then did the Railway Labor Executives' Association reverse nearly a half a century of brotherhoods' policy to announce favor for government ownership and control of the railroads? A good guess is that it is a bargaining bluff.

The Johnson administration, as several before it, has American railroad problems under serious consideration. Every indication, including the President's own statements, points to this approach: Taxation and regulation revisions to enable the railroads to be more competitive with other transporation forms, subsidies for development if such prove necessary, and public-private research cooperation to improve railroad technology, particularly high-speed passenger service.

The United States' experience with temporary railroad nationalization for 26 months during World War I, in contrast to the emergency regulation relied on during World War II, is a memorable argument against bureaucratic rail management. The American railroad system has many deficiencies, but none that nationalization could correct, and it compares most favorably in efficiency and cost with nationalized systems in other industrialized Western democracies.

The rail union executives here, in our opinion, made a grave mistake. Neither government nor public opinion will rally behind their drastic and dubious proposal, and their labor leadership will be impaired by its predictable failure. It is a decision which the brotherhoods, in their own individual councils, can and should reverse.

Arrested But Not Whipped

The slight wane in U.S. cigarette consumption during the year since the appearance of the surgeon general's report on smoking and health might be significant, but it is far from sensational. The decline sounds large expressed in numbers of cigarettes—some 15 billion fewer than in 1963. It sounds a good deal smaller when one notes that the 1964 expenditure for cigarettes was seven billion dollars, not even 200 million below the total spent in 1963.

The basic conclusion to be drawn is that, although the annual growth of cigarette sales has been arrested for the time being, there will be no substantial drop in consumption unless a lot more educational work is done. This ought to be focused especially on teenagers and children. It would be a mistake to concentrate exclusively on discouraging the young from smoking, however.

Dr. Eugene Guthrie, staff director for the federal smoking report, argues persuasively that fathers in their 30s and 40s have the most to gain—not only for themselves, but for their families—from quitting the cigarette habit. It is they, having smoked for years, who will increasingly feel the adverse effects on health. There is evidence to indicate that quitting, even after years of smoking, reduces the chances of health troubles.

In any case, it is plain that much remains to be done by medical groups and the government if the seriousness of the smoking problem is to be conveyed to both old and new smokers.

David Lawrence Some Churchillian Views

WASHINGTON—Winston Churchill, half-American and half-British, has left an imprint on world history scarcely paralleled by anyone else in modern times. His deeds and accomplishments will fill the pages of history, but it is in his written and spoken words that his personality will live on.

Sir Winston was a master of oratory as well as of the written word. He had no need for "ghost writers." Unlike Woodrow Wilson, who was an extemporaneous speaker of remarkable skill, Sir Winston prepared his speeches in advance, but often added telling phrases as he spoke.

EVEN IN HIS youth, Churchill seemed to have a premonition of the fateful career ahead of him. On his 25th birthday, when he was a news correspondent covering the Boer war in South Africa, he wrote to a relative in the United States:

"There is so much to be done in the world and so little time to do it." But in the 45 years that have followed, Winston Churchill did a great deal, though he made no claim that he was never in the wrong. In fact, in a speech in the House of Commons on May 21, 1963, he said:

"I AM BY NO MEANS sure I have been right. It is no part of my case that I am always right."

Sir Winston's thoughts and words after World War II have been much concerned with the possibility of a third world war and with its prevention. Speaking in the House of Commons on Dec. 14, 1950, he said:

"The argument is now put forward that we must never use the atomic bomb until, or unless, it has been used against us first. In other words, you must never fire until you have been shot dead. That seems to me . . . a silly thing to say . . ."

PERHAPS THE MOST telling warning by Britain's wartime leader to the free world is found in "The Gathering Storm," his book covering the period of appeasement that led to World War II. He wrote:

"If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed; if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not so costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival. There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves."

ON INTERNAL politics, Sir Winston has always been a skeptic about socialism, which was often the subject of his speeches in and out of the House of Commons. In a broadcast on June 4, 1945, he declared:

"Socialism is inseparably interwoven with totalitarianism and the abject worship of the state. Look how even today they (the Socialists) hunger for controls of every kind as if these were detectable foods instead of wartime inflections. . . . This state is to be the arch-employer, the arch-planner, the arch-administrator and ruler, and the arch-caucus-boss."

PERHAPS THE BEST exposition of the ills of Socialism was set forth in Sir Winston's speech in the House of Commons in October, 1947:

"I do not believe in the capacity of the state to plan and enforce an active high-grade economic productivity upon its members or subjects. No matter how numerous are the committees they set up, or the ever-growing herds of officials they employ, or the severity of the punishments they inflict or threaten, they cannot approach the high level of internal economic production which, under free enterprise, personal initiative, competitive selection, the profit motive corrected by failure, and the infinite processes of good housekeeping and personal ingenuity, constitutes the life of a free society."

Billy Graham

Why should I bother going to church, when my parents don't? If they can get along without it, why can't I? . . . T. J.

I feel I must say at once that Christianity is not just a matter of being religious and going to church, which seems to be your idea. Of course, church-going is part of the Christian life, and a very important part; but that does not make you a Christian.

A Christian is a person who has come into vital contact with the Lord Jesus Christ and has discovered His saving power. That, I am convinced, is where you must begin. I would urge you to face up to your need of a Savior and to look to Christ as the only one who can meet your need.

When you have taken that step of faith and committed yourself to Christ, you will realize that you cannot really "get along" without Him. He will give you a new quality of life which will make your former way of living seem a dull and dreary existence. He Himself said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly" (John 10:10).

I hope you will not only make this wonderful discovery for yourself, but that having done so you will be able to help your parents to see how much they are missing if they are living without Christ and the church. The finest Christian witness is a transformed life, and the first sphere in which that witness should be seen is the family circle. "Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee."

James Marlow Grinding Four Years Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rattle-dazzle is over, President Johnson is on his own, and now come the grinding four years of his presidency.

All the inaugural balls, parties and parades were like a New Orleans Mardi Gras on the day before Lent begins.

For more than a year there has been an abnormal condition in the country and in government, starting with President Kennedy's assassination in 1963.

First, the shock and sorrow, which haven't worn off yet, as the steady stream of visitors to his grave in Arlington Cemetery shows.

Second, the prolonged public scrutiny of Johnson, suddenly thrust into the presidency, and the inevitable comparisons between him and Kennedy.

For Johnson it was a double ordeal for more than half of 1964.

FIRST, THE need to get action on the Johnson-Kennedy programs because there was so much unfinished business.

Second, and this was his problem every waking moment, to get sufficiently strong public acceptance for him to run for election and a term of his own.

Having achieved this, he had to spend months away from the White House in the strange campaign against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

As soon as he won the election Johnson had to spend the weeks before his inaugural getting his programs and budget ready for his first year on his own.

That he wants this to be a new chapter in his own and American life seemed clear from his inaugural address.

It was pitched on conditions as they are and on the future. There was no mention of Kennedy.

NOW THE way is clear. Some of his programs already have been sent to Congress, others are going up soon.

From now on there can be no excuses like "give the man time" or "after all, he still has to operate in the shadow of Kennedy."

He has revealed enough of himself since he took over so suddenly in 1963 to make some predictions about him seem safe.

He will try to pacify both labor and business, no small task. He will work hard for Negroes' civil rights without needlessly irritating the South.

He will push hard for social legislation, like federal aid to education and medical care for the aged through Social Security.

He will try to keep down government spending, which is a good way to impress practically everybody and hush congressional critics of spending.

THE LESS criticism he gets from the House and Senate, the easier it will be to work with the men in the Capitol to get what he wants.

Hal Boyle Pearl Buck Draws Respect

NEW YORK (AP) — Now and then a man meets a lady he really feels honored to take his hat off to — even in a crowded public elevator.

Such a lady is Pearl Buck, one of the world's most admired women and the only member of her sex to win both a Nobel and a Pulitzer literary award.

Gray-haired, blue-eyed and matronly looking, Mrs. Buck is in her 73rd year.

"I decided not long ago during a trip to India that it was time for me to get done what I wanted to do in life," she remarked.

SO SHE is taking dancing lessons, brushing up on French, and preparing to learn Spanish. She already knows Chinese, of course, and German.

She also is writing four new books, which will bring her lifetime total so far to 67. They include her famed "The Good Earth" and 25 other best-selling novels.

She also runs a film producing company.

She also heads the Pearl S. Buck Foundation, which is trying to raise $10 million to aid more than 300,000 unwanted American children fathered by U.S. troops in Japan, Korea, and other Far East lands.

AS METHICAL AS she is warm-hearted, Mrs. Buck writes from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily in her Pennsylvania farmhouse. She now prefers an old-fashioned pen to the typewriter.

"Whenever I find something in life that interests me, I want to write about it," she said.

"Since I've had a varied life, that has meant many books. But I don't sit down to write until I feel I have something to say."

She lives modestly. Her biggest extravagance is hats.

"I'm really rather silly about hats. I buy five or six at one time."

She thinks most people who fall do so because they don't appreciate themselves — or others — enough.

"People are really much better than they think they are," she remarked. "In every human relationship there must be a respect for the other person — not as you would want him to be, but as he is."

THIS IS her philosophy: "There are many kinds of love, but there must be some kind of love before there can be fulfillment — before there can be any progress, any fruit, or any content."

Through all her literary labors, her heart's ear has been attuned to the cries of the world's handicapped or forgotten children. Mother of a retarded child herself, she has adopted and reared nine other children, including several of mixed Asian and American ancestry.

Around The Rim Next - An Area Medical School?

A request which is being presented to the Texas Commission on Higher Education by the Board of Directors of Texas Tech College at Lubbock could well bear watching by West Texas civic leaders.

THE BOARD voted recently to request Commission approval for the development of a Texas Tech School of Medicine. At the same time, the board indicated it did not necessarily mean it was requesting the school be established only at Lubbock. In other words, the directors indicated the possibility of an arrangement similar to that of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, located at Dallas.

THE MOVE by the board was a follow-up to the approval recently given by the Commission on Higher Education for a School of Law at Texas Tech. The college is already seeking a dean for that school and is going forward with plans for its development. Culminating an effort which has been under way for a number of years, the college is requesting the legislature during the current session to approve a change in the name from Texas Technological College to Texas Tech University.

ESTIMATES have been given that the enrollment at the Lubbock school will pass 20,000 students by 1970 if current growth continues. And with the okay already given for the school of law, the chances are obviously good for the similar approval of a school of medicine, especially in light of the reports circulated last week in Austin that proposals were to be made for the development of four "university systems" in Texas, with all other state colleges to be grouped under the boards of those four universities. The four named were the University of Texas, Texas A&M University, Texas Tech and the University of Houston. The Texas Tech System would include Angelo State College, Sul Ross State at Alpine, West Texas State at Canyon and Midwestern University at Wichita Falls.

SHOULD the Commission on Higher Education approve the development of a Texas Tech School of Medicine, located somewhere in West Texas, then the next question will concern where that school is to be located.

J. A. Livingston Tax Cut Not Basic Therapy

Even eternal Benjamin Franklin needs updating. Take it from a going-on-82 economist, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, who 18 years ago became the first chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under the Employment Act of 1946. He was appointed by President Truman.

"Life and Taxes" is the title of his stimulating contribution to the Autumn 1964 issue of the Virginia Quarterly Review.

ECONOMIC sophistication — understanding — has widened since World War I, says Dr. Nourse. We now recognize "fiscal policy as one of the great life forces in our economic world, not as the grim hand of death."

People — especially businessmen — shrewdly examine taxes with double-entry eyes. Corporate executives don't instantly complain about increased taxes. Instead, they ask their economic and statistical staffs to analyze "where dollars are diverted from private hands and where those dollars are disbursed by government agencies."

THE NEW ECONOMICS, says Dr. Nourse has brought substantial agreement that a "budget balanced every year, regardless of the general state of the economy would be an unscientific and disruptive policy." Indeed, the tax issue was chosen by Kennedy and Johnson Administrations as a "major theater of operations in the economic struggle."

Thereupon, Dr. Nourse propounds this question — highly appropriate as President Johnson has finished his Budget Message and Economic Report to Congress: "Has the Administration, in its $11-billion-plus tax reduction, fashioned a sound plank well-fitted into a platform of economic statesmanship for the New Frontier?"

ANSWER: "A regretful no."

To Dr. Nourse, the Keynesian idea of compensatory spending — deficits in poor years to stimulate economic activity and surpluses in prosperous years to recoup the deficiencies — has been carried to extremism.

"Now we have adopted a program to lower taxes substantially, go on enlarging government spending, and add quite a sizable net deficit to the national debt" at a time when new highs have been recorded in total output of goods and services, profits, employment and private spending.

DR. NOURSE regards this as going-for-broke reliance on a single spin of the economic wheel: "If the play does not win, there is no alternative" economic stratagem "by which to snatch victory from defeat."

The President's advisers "could not repeat the dose with another tax cut or a comparable slug of public spending without such massive deficits as would undermine confidence at home and abroad and thus be self-defeating. Even more glaringly, they could not reverse their move and raise taxes or cut public spending."

DR. NOURSE fears that if the goal of higher revenues from lower taxes is not achieved, that if economic growth slackens in 1965, President Johnson will have to compromise "The Great Society." Funds will be inadequate to correct poverty and unemployment.

Richard Starnes 'Never Another Like Him'

LONDON — Winston Churchill's family includes the entire English-speaking world, and like all families faced with circumstances like these, they "don't know quite what to do."

The country and the world know that the hand is upon the Old Warrior, whether his stout British heart carries him through more days of twilight or not. But the death of the greatest Englishman of the century — and some insist of all times — is inevitable and there is nothing to do but wait.

NO FAMILY, however loving, can grieve over the approaching death of a man of 90 summers, particularly a man whose life has been as joyfully brimful of achievement as Sir Winston's. The mood of London can better be described as one of fretful introspection.

Again and again one hears, "We won't see the likes of him again," and contained in this platitude is an undercurrent of longing for another hero to emerge and take this island realm by the scruff as the Old Lion once did.

FOR AS LONG as the English tongue survives, his defiant "blood, tears and sweat" speech will be summoned as the trumpet blast that summoned a beleaguered, bewildered and defeated people to victory.

But as important as that speech was, equally important was his directive to a meeting of the War Cabinet on May 28, 1940. British and French forces were reeling in retreat across the lowlands beyond the English Channel. And the minutes of that Cabinet meeting record that the Prime Minister thought that as a precautionary measure the Admiralty should assemble a large number of small vessels in readiness to proceed to ports and inlets on the French coast.

THAT PIECE of Churchillian foresight became Operation "Dynamo," which saved the bulk of the British army at Dunkirk. More than 300,000 British and French troops were plucked from the beaches, and the free world understood that the bottom had been reached and that somehow Churchill would now contrive to fashion a victory out of the wreckage.

Britain today faces no such mortal danger, but it is uneasily facing up to the cheerless reality that it has drifted into a laclust, uninspired backwater from which its present leaders appear unlikely to lead it.

A TRADE GAP, a controversial import tariff and a drumfire of Labor Government exhortations urging industry to increase exports all have brought home to Britons the fact that their country has not kept pace with the booming economies of the rest of the Western world.

Churchill's illness imposed a political truce, but it did nothing to ease the underlying disquiet of Englishmen who are beginning to wonder if their nation still has the vigor and resourcefulness to cope with the realities of a brutally competitive world.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Speaker Sam Rayburn was an earthy and unpretentious figure. A Democrat in politics, he had a Republican simplicity in manner. We suspect that his spirit is shifting restlessly in the building that bears his name and that now contains his statue. The Rayburn Office Building has all the intimacy of the Merchandise Mart. Its architectural style might be called Aggressive Eclectic, because it has surfeit of everything. It has cost more to build — $86 million by conservative calculation — than any other public or private office building in the world. It is, as we once commented, Edifice Rex.

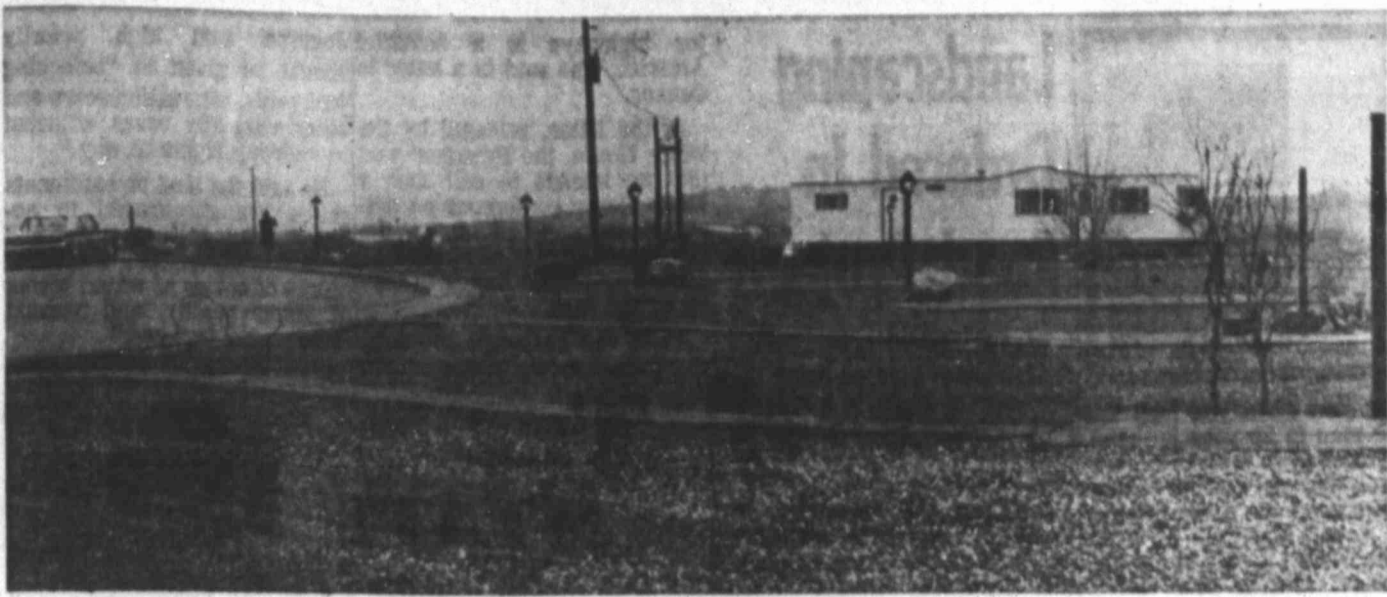

We shape our buildings, Churchill once said, and then our buildings shape us. It is dreadful to think how this stupendous structure will shape our legislators. The very mixture of shiny marble with rough-hewn stone makes the building look like a beleaguered fortress braced to resist the mobs. In this cocoon of marble, our legislators will more than ever be insulated from the reality of life around them. The building evokes grandiosity without dignity, profligacy without purpose. If Mr. Sam's career exemplifies the very highest traditions of the House of Representatives, the building exemplifies some of the very lowest. It was approved without a public hearing, designed in secrecy, and financed by an endless river of money.

President Johnson is known to have told friends that he doesn't like the building. The sentiment does him credit. Let the Rayburn Office Building stand as a warning as well as a memorial that architecture is too important a question to be left solely to lawmakers — or to a Capitol architect who is not an architect at all.

Crestwood Park Nears Completion

Located with a hilltop view south of Big Spring, the first unit of a planned development, Crestwood Park, is now open for trailer units. The location is planned for larger, modern trailer units, with gas lights, underground utility connections and other features.

Modern Crestwood Park Opens For Trailer Homes

A landscaped, gas-lighted trailer park, located with a hilltop view of Big Spring and planned around a semi-circular private street and park area, is being opened today south of Big Spring.

JERRY WORTHY

Named "Crestwood Park," the location is on a 17-acre plot of ground just west of US 87, adjacent to Hearne Street and across from the Municipal Golf Course.

The entire area is pre-planned, with all electrical wiring placed underground.

Each trailer lot will have a patio of paving tile, with the lot covered with multi-colored gravel and separated from the curved private street by a concrete walk.

Native boulders and plantings are being used in the landscaping.

"We have built the finest mobile home park we know how to build, with the most modern facilities available," Jerry Worthy, builder of the park, said. The park is planned for the newer, larger mobile homes, but will remain reasonable in price, he said.

The present construction includes 18 spaces, but later development may be undertaken to bring the size of the area to 125 lots.

The lot sizes are pie-shaped, about 30 feet wide on the edge near the private street, 100 feet long and 50 feet wide at the outside end of the lot. These sizes, Worthy pointed out, are as large as those recommended by the National Mobile Home Manufacturers Association.

The lots are lowered somewhat from the street so the undercarriage of the mobile homes will not be as pre-dominant, Worthy said.

"We have separated the two cars, with head-in parking on the private drive.

Another feature of the new park development will be mail delivery service. The private, semi-circular drive is to be named "January Drive," Worthy said.

A playground area has also been designated, with another portion of the 17 acres set aside as a picnic ground, overlooking the city golf course. Consideration will be given in the future development of the area to possible addition of a swimming pool, Worthy said.

Another feature of the new park will be city sewage connections and garbage collection service. The area is also within the Big Spring Independent School District and is near the Catholic Church.

The development will have its own water well, with soft water provided, and each lot will contain its own electrical meter. Telephone connections are also underground and each street and the lots by the sidewalk after the fashion of city lots, for safety, privacy and beauty," he said.

As part of each lot area, parking space is provided for lot will be connected for natural gas.

Work on the development began about Nov. 1 and was completed this week.

Managers of the development will be Mr. and Mrs. Ken Mayhall.

The planned future development for the full 17 acres will include six private driveways for privacy. Each lot in the entire area will have an individual gas light bordering its patio.

Jones had been in the field with them for a month.

"From the first day it was clear to me they'd already decided to join the government, but they were worried about what the government would do with them," Jones said.

"Hieu came to the government first back in November, but didn't like what he saw and went back. But this time they were evidently sold.

"I stayed with them as much to keep the government off their back during the negotiating period as anything else. They knew that, with an American with them, they'd be all right."

Khanh rewarded the leader of this unit, Huynh Trung Hieu, 32, by commissioning him a major in the government army.

The guerrillas will be integrated as regional militia companies within the regular armed forces.

Viet Decorates Texas Officer

VINH LONT, Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Army officers, one from Texas, were decorated by a Viet Nam general Thursday for persuading a battalion of rebel guerrillas to join forces with the Viet Nam Army.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh pinned high Vietnamese decorations on Capt. Eddie Jones of Childress, Tex., and Lt. Col. Donald Roberts of Port Angeles, Wash.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon said Jones' wife resides in Abilene, Tex.

The 400 guerrillas, members of the quasi-religious Hoa Hao sect, left their base 80 miles west of Saigon Sunday and arrived here Wednesday for processing. They brought more than 70 weapons, including several heavy machine guns and mortars.

Hoa Hao guerrillas have been fighting the Saigon government off and on for 15 years. They also have fought the Viet Cong sometimes. They are regarded as extremely competent in jungle warfare.

Opening lead: King of ♠ South employed a very delicate touch in mapping his campaign to fulfill the four heart contract.

South opened the bidding with one heart and, the West had sufficient high card strength for a take-out double, he chose instead to overcall with two diamonds. He quite properly reasoned that, unless East could bid voluntarily, there was nothing to be gained by forcing his partner into the auction.

North, feeling that he had something in reserve for his free bid of two hearts when South made another try, cheerfully accepted the invitation. Since his values were well distributed, he tried three no trump. However, South's hand was unbalanced and he carried on to four hearts.

West opened the king of diamonds. He was reluctant to continue the suit, however, when the queen appeared in dummy. The shift was to a trump. Declarer drew three rounds of hearts, played the king of clubs from dummy and then led a small club. East followed with the eight and South covered with the ten.

West was in with the queen of clubs, and found himself confronted with an unattractive choice of exits. If he attempted to cash the ace of diamonds, it would establish North's queen. He therefore shifted to the ace of spades. This was the third and last defensive trick, for declarer spread his hand and claimed the balance.

South timed the hand with great care. He stripped West of all safe exit cards before putting him in, and West was forced to open the spade suit. Observe that, if the declarer has to play the spades himself, there is no way to avoid the loss of two tricks.

Senator Wants Early Start On Defense Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today he hopes to start a broad Senate inquiry into the nation's defense and policies, including those affecting Viet Nam and the Congo, on Tuesday, Feb. 9.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is to be the first witness. Civilian and military heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force will follow.

"I hope we can get in several days of hearings before the Lincoln birthday recess begins," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

McNamara's recent plans for merging the Army and Air Force Reserves and National Guards and additional cutbacks in military installations and bases were certain to come under senatorial fire.

Romania Now Shoving Off Reds' Control

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Romania is firmly pushing aside the strong hand of Russian controls on her industry and society, and reaching for help and support in the West.

Next to Yugoslavia, Romania has taken the most independent stance of any of the East European states. The attitude of her Communist party leaders reflects a general loosening of the Soviet grip through the Red belt in the wake of de-Stalinization, de-Khrushchevization, and the clash with Red China.

The country doesn't intend to try to break out of the Soviet orbit, not now, even though delegation after delegation has headed westward in recent months building up political, cultural and especially business contacts.

The United States has lowered some of its own trade barriers with the immediate result that American companies have agreed to build two new factories in Romania, the first in years.

Many things have been done to emphasize Romanian nationalism and reduce Russian influences.

The younger generation seems all for it.

NEW RENAISSANCE
 "It is the new renaissance," said one young intellectual at a dinner party.

Older people are more cautious, although they, too, know of relatively bold steps toward what many here speak of as "de-Russification."

The Romanians have had to switch political affiliation so many times through the centuries that it is a wonder they preserve any nationality at all.

They are a Latin country, especially in language, and almost equally in appearance and manner of speech and gesture. They had horrible experiences in both world wars. They were allied with Germany in 1914, but after two years of neutrality sided with the Allies. They were promptly overrun by the Germans, Austrians and Hungarians.

The country was virtually occupied by the Germans before World War II started. It soon was shared out like war booty. Without a shot, Russia, with Adolf Hitler's agreement, occupied Bessarabia as far south as the mouth of the Danube. Hungary took Transylvania.

Romania, with little choice but much enthusiasm, joined Germany in the attack on Russia and took back Bessarabia. The country was chewed up by both sides when, late in the war, she switched and turned on Germany. She was occupied by the Russians, and lost Bessarabia again and it remains in Russian hands.

As one of their gestures of independence, the Romanians now are hinting that Russia should return Bessarabia.

Helping The Handicapped

DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from the young man who asked whether he should invite a girl who was confined to a wheelchair to attend a dance with him. He said she loved music and wasn't sensitive about her disability. It brought to mind a heart-warming scene I witnessed recently. Our company had a dance, and one of the salesmen brought a handicapped girl in a wheelchair. They "danced" all evening. She remained in her chair, which he moved to the rhythm of the orchestra, and he swung the chair around with grace and ease! He remarked that he'd never done it before, but found it to be great fun. And that little girl in the wheelchair had the time of her life.

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH
 DEAR FOR: Your letter was worth a great deal. I hope it inspires those with handicapped friends to invite them out occasionally. If the disabled one has a collapsible wheelchair and the host has a strong back, they can go almost anywhere.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married nearly a year and I am no longer in love with my husband. I have just turned 19 and he is 20. I am so mixed up and miserable that I don't know what to do. I have no one I can confide in. I am very much in love with a boy I used to go steady with. (He doesn't know this.) He is on my mind ALL the time. When I go out, I find my eyes searching for him, and if I see him, I melt. Please tell me what to do. I know I married too young, but it is too late now. I had a big church wedding and everything. I feel so guilty when I kiss my husband because I am thinking of this other boy. I am a God-fearing girl and I know adultery is sinful. I don't want to hurt my husband by asking for a divorce. He would never understand. Is there help for me?
 MIXED UP: It is ap-

Landscaping Ordered In Road Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson ordered today that landscaping be made a required part of major highway projects built wholly or in part with federal money.

Pursuing the "America the Beautiful" theme he set out in his State of the Union message, the President directed Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor to require the landscaping on projects for federal-aid interstate, primary and urban highways.

"I want to make sure that the landscaping be made a required part of major highway projects built wholly or in part with federal money."

parent that when you took this young man to be your husband, and promised to forsake all others, you were not mature enough to understand the seriousness of your vows. Marriage is FOREVER. It isn't a date to the senior prom. Talk to your clergyman and let him straighten you out.

DEAR ABBY: It has been 14 months since the daughter of a close friend of ours was married. To date, we have not received an acknowledgment of our gift, even though we five women see the bride's mother very often. At a bridge party one day last week, the mother said, "Oh, Mary wants me to thank you for the lovely wedding present. . . you know how kids are about writing."

Now that the birth announcements and shower invitations are out, we have decided to ignore them to teach that girl a lesson. Are we right?
 SPOKESMAN FOR FIVE

DEAR SPOKESMAN: In my opinion, there is only one reason to give a gift of any kind. And that is because the giver WANTS to give it. Feeling as you do, you are right.

Wrong Vote Eye-Catching

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — State Rep. Ellen McCaffree, a Seattle Republican, voted against a move this week to bring to a vote a legislative reapportionment measure she had helped to draw up.

But she hadn't changed her mind, Mrs. McCaffree said afterward.

She had just broken her glasses and couldn't see to push the right button on the electric voting machine.

Congo Reds Said Duped Into False Courage State

WASHINGTON (AP) — G. Mennen Williams told senators today that "witch doctors" and drugs are used to convince rebels in the Congo that they are "invincible to bullets."

Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, also said that the Communist threat to Africa is "real" and "dangerous."

He testified at hearings by a Senate subcommittee on use of African refugees by the Communists to further their interests.

Williams said that most Congolese rebel leaders are motivated by a desire for political power rather than ideological considerations "despite their affinity for leftist jargon and affiliations," and willingly accept both financial and military aid from the Soviet and Chinese Communists.

"Such success as the rebel army has had up to now springs from discipline based upon tribal beliefs," he said. "Initiation ceremonies convince rebel soldiers their witch doctors have made them invincible to bullets."

"Protected by this belief, and bolstered frequently by drugs, they often can unnerve poorly disciplined and inadequately led central government forces by relentless attacks."

Pet Turns Stool Pigeon

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Fresno Deputy Sheriff John Camino arrested John Grice, 20, this week on warrants charging 13 traffic violations.

The deputy reported Grice's wife said her husband was not at home, but Camino noticed the family dog standing in front of a closet wagging his tail.

Camino opened the closet and there was Grice.

"I should have sold that stool pigeon," Grice moaned as he was led to jail.

Man Quits Fags At Age 98

POTEAU, Okla. (AP) — William Sanphard McMurray, who turned 100 years old this week, said he gave up smoking two years ago.

"I quit cigarettes at age 98," he said. "It wasn't the cancer scare that got me. It was the hike in price to 30 cents a pack."

Solons Get Briefing On Foreign Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, beginning his new term, briefed Democratic and Republican congressional leaders on foreign problems here in what was described as a "very candid session."

White House press secretary George E. Reedy said the session was the first step in Johnson's program to keep congressional leaders in both parties "fully informed of the problems of the world."

The briefing was conducted by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Director John McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Plane Will Be Lounge

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A Super-G Constellation airliner soon will be standing on Main Street and used as a cocktail lounge.

The 4-engine propeller-driven plane will be complete in every detail, the owners say, and could be readied for flight in four days.

There will be nothing on the now vacant lot but the plane, moored in concrete, the usual air-terminal gates and the boarding ramp.

It will seat 70 customers with hostesses to serve cocktails at the touch of a buzzer.

Principal owner is Patrick G. Quirk, an ex-pilot who bought the plane for $30,000. It cost about $3.5 million new, he said.

Welcome TO BIG SPRING

WEBB PILOT TRAINING CLASS 66-E

Big Spring and all its people extend the friendly hand of a West Texas welcome to the student pilots of Webb's Class 66-E. These young men, here for a complete course of primary and basic jet-flying instruction, become citizens of our city for more than a year, and it is our earnest hope that they will find here a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere; and that when they must leave, they will do so with a kind feeling in their hearts for Big Spring, its business establishments, and all its population.

May we urge our new student pilots, as time permits them, to become acquainted with our town, to know about the churches and the schools, the facilities for leisure and enjoyment, the shops and the service establishments.

Particularly do we ask them to drop in and see us, just to let us get acquainted, and say in person what we are saying here. There's no obligation to buy at any time . . . we want to be of service, and of assistance if we can.

Yes, it's all wrapped up in one wholesome, hearty word . . . "WELCOME!"

A
"HOSPITALITY GIFT"
For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

First Mid-Term Graduates Receive Diplomas Thursday

Thirty-eight mid-term graduates of Big Spring High School walked across the stage to receive diplomas Thursday night, while five received their diplomas in absentia.

The first mid-term commencement for Big Spring schools drew an almost-full auditorium, and those attending heard Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, speak on the changing times and tempo of today's world.

Some of the graduates had completed required units for credit during the summer school, and a few had made up credits, while the majority of those receiving diplomas had completed regular courses at the end of the first semester. One name, not shown on the program last night, but who was graduated with the group was Judy Sullivan. Forty-three students were included in the graduating list.

Blind Pupils At Exhibition Of Sculptor

CHICAGO (AP) — The youngsters moved slowly from one piece of sculpture to another, their fingers caressing the cool surfaces.

"That's a good one," said Bryan McMurray, 11, as he examined Modigliani's "Portrait," a bronze bust of a woman.

"She has long hair and she might be pretty," he added. "But her eyes are pushed in."

BLIND GROUP

The 27 children attended a special sculpture exhibition Thursday. All are blind or partly blind students from Chicago public schools.

A blind lawyer, Burton Kolman, 32, arranged for Chicago collectors to loan 21 valuable pieces of sculpture to the exhibition in a private gallery on Michigan Avenue.

Bryan, a loquacious seventh-grade student who wants to be a psychologist, had appreciative comments for most of the feminine likenesses.

"She must be a good dancer," he said, tracing the leg of De-gas' bronze "Dancer." "Her leg is up in the air, yet she isn't falling down."

More blind children will tour the gallery each weekday through next Thursday.

GAIN CONCEPTS

"It will give the children concepts of what circles, curve forms and spatial dimensions are like," said Kolman, a board member of Recording for the Blind, Inc.

Kolman was accompanied by his seeing-eye dog, a German shepherd named Snow. As Kolman and Jimmy Skinner, 10, inspected a bronze, Jimmy asked: "Could you show Snow that?"

"No," Kolman said gently. "Snow is more interested in rabbits and squirrels than art."

Rights Drive Gain Declared

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Negro civil rights leaders have proclaimed their testing of public accommodations here a major breakthrough.

"The good news of Tuscaloosa balanced the bad news of Selma," said Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who joined in the three-day drive. Gregory planned to leave today to return to Chicago.

Negroes ate Thursday in more than a dozen Tuscaloosa restaurants, where they had been refused service less than a year ago. There were no incidents.

MORE ARRESTS

At Selma, 79 miles to the southeast, city police departed from their policy of quiet compliance with the Civil Rights Act for the first time since testing began there Monday. They arrested five Negroes and a white companion who sought service at a lunch counter Thursday.

Although about 225 Negroes have been arrested by county authorities since Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. opened a civil rights drive in Selma, the six arrested Thursday were the first by city police.

The group was arrested on a warrant signed by the proprietor of a drugstore after another group was turned away. The warrant charged trespassing after warning.

BARROOM BEATING

At Birmingham, a white supremacist convicted of assaulting King was himself severely beaten in a barroom brawl, police said.

Resignation Of Defeated British Official Reported

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker is reported to have resigned today in the wake of a humiliating defeat Thursday in a special election. Prime Minister Harold Wilson is expected to take over the Foreign Office, at least for the time being.

An announcement of Gordon Walker's resignation is expected today, informants said, as a result of his beating in the first test at the polls since the Laborites took over in October.

One prominent contender for Gordon Walker's post is Defense Secretary Denis Healey, but he is tied up preparing a White Paper outlining the government's defense policy, due to be presented to the House of Commons Feb. 16.

Healey would be free to take over the Foreign Office after that.

Gordon Walker's defeat brought the Labor party's margin down to three votes since the Laborites lost one seat and the opposition gained one in the 630-seat House of Commons.

Curtin, 57, publisher of the Watonga Republican, and Frost were both former presidents of the Oklahoma Publishers Association.

PAMPA, Tex. (AP) — Three men and a pet dog died as a light plane crashed in an oil field west of here in the Texas Panhandle Thursday.

The victims, all from Pampa, were Wesley Lewis, 53, operator of a flying service; Henry L. Collier, 33, owner of an oil well servicing firm; and Don C. Davis, 28, an independent oil operator.

A black dog found dead in the wreckage was believed to have belonged to Lewis.

Car Scattered In Accident In Police Chase

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Three youths walked away almost unscathed from a one-car wreck which scattered parts of the auto for almost two blocks in a residential area Thursday. The crash followed a high speed police chase.

"It's a miracle any one of them is alive," Police Sgt. R. C. Scott said. "It's the worst I've ever seen."

Police jailed the unscathed driver, 19, on multiple traffic charges. Two male passengers, 18 and 20, were treated for minor injuries.

Sergeant Saves Child's Life

A Webb Air Force Base staff sergeant knows mouth-to-mouth resuscitation works and is thankful that it does.

Sgt. Robert J. Ragno's daughter had something caught in her throat on Jan. 2 and she stopped breathing. Sgt. Ragno knew a medical corpsman lived nearby and went for him. Sgt. Jerry T. Hatch, of the base dental clinic, began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation after clearing the child's airways and stabilizing her tongue. The girl responded and began to breathe.

Last week Sgt. Ragno revealed the incident when he wrote a letter to the base hospital commander, praising Sgt. Hatch's quick thinking.

Sgt. Hatch lives at 4107 W. US 80 and Sgt. Ragno lives at 1601 Bluebird.

Vote Buoy Hope For Full Settlement In Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a final settlement of the Maine-to-Texas dock strike turned to other ports today, after New York workers voted overwhelmingly to accept a contract they previously had rejected.

The International Longshoremen's Association president, Thomas W. Gleason, made plans to attend a meeting between shippers and striking Gulf Coast workers in Galveston, Tex. He said he hopes they can end their disputes quickly.

Some local ILA leaders felt a general return to work could be sometime away for the 60,000 longshoremen. Workers in New York and other strikebound ports will remain idle until satisfactory contracts have been agreed on in all ports.

"The New York vote doesn't wave a magic wand for us," commented Alfred Chittenden, president of New Orleans Local 1418. "We brought 17 different, touchy subjects to the table and all 17 are unsettled."

George Dixon, ILA vice president and head of Mobile, Ala. Local 1014, said there are still major disagreements from Morehead City, N.C., to Tampa, Fla., and from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex.

The situation appeared a little better on the East Coast, where longshoremen in Hampton Roads, Va., voted overwhelmingly Thursday in favor of a contract they, too, had previously rejected.

Some 2,200 Boston dock workers vote on a pact Sunday, with approval predicted by ILA Vice President John F. Moran.

SEEN ACCEPTABLE

Philadelphia's ILA chief, James Mook, predicted that the general New York contract terms would be acceptable there. His union meets today to discuss local issues.

Despite the remaining complications, observers expressed hope the New York contract acceptance Thursday by a vote of 12,104 in favor and 5,236 against means a "turning point" had been reached in waterfront relations.

ILA officials called the new agreement "the best contract in the 72-year history of the union."

Besides a guaranteed minimum annual wage of $5,860, it offers improved pension coverage, increased holidays and longer vacations, earlier retirement and a 36-cents-an-hour increase over four years in the base wage of $3.26 an hour.

A major concession to automation allows shipping firms to reduce waterfront work gangs by attrition from 20 men to 17 over the four-year life of the contract. This was believed the major factor behind the turn-down two weeks ago by a vote of 8,722 to 7,957.

Gardening Needs Told

January is a month of short days but it is not a month to forget your garden.

Of course, you should feed the birds suet for the meat eaters and seeds for the seed eaters. But, you can combine the two in various ways one of which is suet-seed balls.

Evergreens, particularly broad-leaved ones, suffer from drying out when situated on the warm side of the house. If this is the case, wait until you get a warm day when the thermometer won't drop below freezing for several hours. Spray the foliage with a wilt-preventer to reduce the evaporation.

Indoors, if your philodendron hanging from the mantel is becoming weaker and weaker the plant prefers to grow upward. The best way is to grow it upward and then release the stems to trail when you want them this way for special occasions.

In the Upper South and Middle States hardy annuals seeds can often be scattered over the garden at this season for extra early bloom. This goes for cosmos, poppies, calliopsis, snapdragons, snow-on-the-mountain, portulaca, California poppies, and several others. Just let the alternate freezing and thawing work the seeds in.

Methodist Youth Revival Plans Made

"Win One—Gain One" will be the theme for the Wesley Methodist Youth Revival Week set for the week of Jan. 31-Feb. 7. The week will begin with a 7:30 a.m. breakfast in the Fellowship Hall Jan. 31, sponsored by the church and prepared for the young people and their guests.

The breakfast is the beginning of a "Big Day" for the Wesley Methodist Young People because their biggest task lies ahead. They will become teachers and ministers, as they teach Sunday school and help with the service. There will be a guest speaker for the Sunday morning service.

The week will be highlighted by short meetings every night from 7:30 to 8:30 in the Fellowship Hall. Short sermons or lectures will be heard at each. Youth Revival Week is not a "Wesley Methodist invention," but is a nationwide Methodist activity.

Race Relations Day Planned

Hillcrest Baptist Church, in cooperation with other churches of the Big Spring Baptist Association is making plans to observe Race Relations Day.

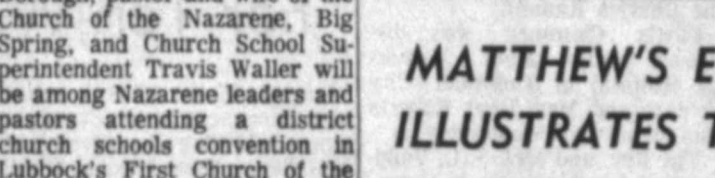

A Negro preacher will fill the pulpit at both morning and evening services Feb. 14. The Rev. Melvin Montgomery, and members of Mt. Bethel Baptist Church, are invited to participate in the services. The same invitation is being extended to El Buen Pastor Baptist Church, and the Spanish-speaking congregation will furnish some of the music for the day's services.

The Rev. Clyde L. Campbell, pastor of Hillcrest, said the month of February has been given to recognition of Race Relations Day for a number of years.

The guest preacher will be the Rev. J. J. Gooden of Hobbs, N. M. He is a college graduate, and former dean of Conroe (Texas) College. He holds a degree from the National Baptist Seminary at Nashville, Tenn. This is a seminary supported by both Southern Baptist and National Baptist Conventions for the training of Negro religious workers, Rev. Campbell said.

"Hillcrest Church will furnish dinner at noon for all who attend. Lunch will be served in the educational building. Following lunch," the pastor said, "a musical program will be given. Dale White Music Co. will furnish a new organ for the affair, and Mrs. Dale Bonner, organist for White's, and the Rev. Jimmie Robinson, musician and salesman, will give an instrumental concert beginning about 1:30 p.m. The choir of Mt. Bethel Church and of the Spanish church will give special numbers. The entire program will last about an hour and a half and the public is invited.

"Hillcrest Church feels that such a gesture is a good method of showing the spirit of Christ among all nations," Rev. Campbell continued.

REV. J. J. GOODEN

The convention will unite workers from about 45 Nazarene churches in the Abilene district. Dr. Kenneth S. Rice, secretary of the church schools department, and a traveling faculty of 10 leaders in church school work from the denominational headquarters in Kansas City, will take part.

Workshops for various age-group interests will be conducted at 3 and 7:30 p.m. Feb. 18, and at 10 a.m., 3 and 7:30 p.m. Feb. 19. The Rev. Raymond W. What Is a Seventh-day Adventist?
● He believes in God, the Creator
Man is not a happenstance, as the evolutionist would have us think. Rather man was created by God after God's own likeness. And all things else were created by Him, whose nature and works are beyond the comprehension of man, even as the endless universe is beyond our understanding.

● He believes in Christ Jesus . . .
Christ is the divine and human Son of God, Saviour of man through His sacrifice on the cross. Through the mediatorial services of Jesus man has access to the throne of God. After His resurrection Christ ascended to the heavenly throne of God, and there He makes intercession for us. (Hebrews 7:25.)

● He believes in the Holy Scriptures . . .
All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, though not necessarily verbatim. The Seventh-day Adventist bases all his doctrine on the Holy Bible and that alone.

A Boy's Best Friend

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Gary stood at the window this morning waving and hugging the little plush dog I brought him home from my trip. How easy it is to make a small boy happy. I love to bring him things and take him places and watch the wonder and delight glow on his face, sparkle in his big blue eyes. Right now his Dad is his best friend and hero.

It won't be this easy always. I know that as Gary grows so will his desires and the scope of his delights. I won't be able to supply his every wish or stand between him and the disappointments that come to every boy. But as friend and father I do hope to share with him the principles that have sustained me in discouragement, augmented my joy. These truths I learned from God and my Church and I know of no better way to insure for my son a life of peace and fulfillment than to encourage his religious development.

Go to your church and take your child with you.

San Angelo Hosts Longhorns Tonight

The Big Spring Steers try to salvage something from a disastrous first half District 2-AAAA basketball season in a game with San Angelo in San Angelo at 8 o'clock this evening.

Buckeye Coach To Quit

Laurence N. (Larry) Snyder, 68, veteran track and field coach at Ohio State who handled Olympic stars Jesse Owens, Mal Whitfield and Glenn Davis and guided the Olympic track team in Rome in 1960, announced Thursday he is retiring after the coming season. Snyder has been at Ohio State since 1925 and head track coach since 1932. The veteran mentor brought the Ohio State team, which then featured Glenn Davis, to Big Spring in 1939 to compete in the ABC Relays. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Large Crowd Sees Stilt's Return

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain gave his new bosses everything they expected — and more.

The 7-foot-1 scoring machine returned to Philadelphia basketball after a three-year absence Thursday night and among his accomplishments:

- Scored 22 points.
- Grabbed 20 rebounds.
- Attracted the second largest NBA crowd of the season here — 6,140.

The 76ers, with a 17-1 rally in the last five minutes of the first half, defeated the San Francisco Warriors 111-102. But the victory and the score were anticlimactic. Chamberlain was the whole show.

Traded by the Warriors to the 76ers last week for three players and an undisclosed amount of cash, Chamberlain received a standing two-minute ovation from the fans when his name was announced in the starting line-up.

The giant center shuffled his feet, looked at the ceiling and finally, a rarity for him, smiled at the crowd.

"It was the warmest ovation I've ever had," he told newsmen after the game. "It made me want to go out and score 100 points. I was proud to be a Philadelphian."

Chamberlain, of course, didn't score a hundred, but he gave the 76ers a "look" that prompted San Francisco Coach Alex Hannum to warn the Boston Celtics and the rest of the NBA that trouble is brewing in Philadelphia.

"The rest of the league better watch out," said Hannum. "It's only a matter of time until Wilt gets used to those fast guards and then it will be good to see someone else besides Boston winning all the time."

Chamberlain, who also blocked 11 shots as the Warriors dropped their 14th straight game, experienced another luxury for him — rest. Coach Dolph Schayes gave him a four-minute respite in the first half.

Jayhawks, Plainsmen Clash Here At 8:00

Shaken by their two-point defeat at the hands of Odessa College earlier this week, the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks return to play at 8 o'clock here this evening against rough and ready Frank Phillips College.

No one thought much of the Frank Phillips menace in the Western Conference until the Plainsmen knocked off tree-top tall South Plains earlier this week in Borger.

South Plains, coached by Don Loyd, is very much in the running for the league crown, having dropped only one game. The only reason the Plainsmen are not tied with HCJC for the runner-up spot behind San Angelo is that they have played fewer games.

Frank Phillips brings a 7-5 won-lost record here and has been averaging 75.5 points a game, compared to 77.9 for the foe. Compare that to the 81.4 and 74.2 averages compiled by HCJC and its opponents.

Howard County will carry a 12-7 won-lost record onto the floor tonight. Within the league, the locals have beaten South Plains, NMJM, Amarillo and Clarendon.

The Hawks have been in the midst of mid-term examinations, a factor that coach Buddy Travis says influenced their play against Odessa. And he wasn't trying to make excuses for their play, which was creditable if not outstanding. Odessa deserved the win because it was playing at its season's best and was particularly effective shooting from outside.

The Big Springers will try to let the dead past bury the dead, however, and concentrate on the task at hand tonight. They realize it will take more than their reputations to scare the Borger team.

Probable starters for HCJC tonight are Eddy Nelson, Tom Carter, Jim Flowers, Kurt Papp and Keith Bond.

Two Local Teams Enter Tournament At Snyder

ACKERLY—Basketball teams representing junior high schools at Sands and Big Spring Runnels split a doubleheader here Thursday evening.

The Runnels ninth graders won a 72-20 decision after the Sands eighth graders had prevailed, 56-19.

The win was the seventh in 12 starts for the Runnels ninth graders and coach Dan Bustamante saw fit to use his reserves much of the time.

Danny Clendenin scored 20 points for Runnels while Wayne Johnson counted 14 and Richard Belew 10.

In the eighth grade game, John Patton led Runnels with eight points. The Yearlings, who were playing without the services of their top scorer, Luven Flores, now have a 5-9 record.

The Runnels ninth graders play Colorado City at 3:30 p.m. today in the first round of the Snyder tournament.

A win there would pit them against the Snyder Lamar-Stamford winner at 1 p.m. Saturday. A loss would find them back in action at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Mills To Run In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1965 track season gets under way in Southern California in distinctive fashion Saturday night with 25 Olympians among competitors in the Los Angeles Invitational Indoor meet.

The cast for the sixth annual event is billed as the finest ever. Here's a rundown on some of the stars:

Billy Mills, surprise winner of the 10,000 meters at the 1964 Olympics, meets 15-year-old Gerry Lindgren, George Young and New Zealand's Geoff Pyne in the two-mile run. The slender Lindgren, of Spokane, Wash., beat the Russians in a memorable dual meet here last summer.

Dwyl Burlison, Oregon's great miler with a best time of 3:55.6, takes on Cary Weisiger and Bill Dotson. Jim Greilo, originally scheduled for the mile, withdrew when he developed a sore throat.

Olympic silver medalist Randy Matson will be out for a record in the shot put. He now has the second best toss of all time with a distance of 66-3/4. The competition will be provided by Jay Silvester, Dave Davis and John McGrath.

Allen is the third leading scorer in the district with a total of 120 points.

Big Spring has scored an average of 54.4 points a game in 20 starts, compared to 38.3 for San Angelo. Against 2-AAAA foes, the locals have averaged 57.7 points, compared to 38.3 for the Bobcats.

Terrazas leads the Longhorns in conference scoring with 74 points and a 12.3 average. White isn't far behind, with 68.

B teams of the two schools square off at 6 p.m. The Steers play two games at home next week, meeting Midland Lee and Odessa High.

Robinson Gets $15,000 Raise

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson, who almost led the Baltimore Orioles to their first modern major league baseball pennant last season, was signed today to the richest players' contract in Oriole club history.

The Baltimore third baseman was believed to have signed for an estimated $50,000—a hefty $15,000 pay boost in recognition of 1964 heroics which made Robinson an overwhelming choice as the American League's Most Valuable Player.

"I'm very happy about everything," said the 27-year-old Robinson. "I couldn't be happier."

Signing Robinson was a painless duty for Oriole President Lee MacPhail, who has high personal regard for Brooks both on and off the playing field.

Robinson gave this account of his contract talks:

"I didn't sign the first contract. I think Leo sends me a figure, and then expects me to come in and talk. At our first meeting, we didn't mention any figure. The second time, I signed after about five minutes."

Robinson didn't go into the meeting empty-handed. He had a list full of trump cards.

Robby finished second to Tony Oliva with a .317 batting average, led the league with 118 runs batted in, and reached a personal high with 28 home runs. And his fielding was spectacular as usual, topping the league at his position for the fifth year in a row.

During the final three weeks of the season, Robinson was virtually immune to the pennant.

BROOKS ROBINSON

pressure with 28 RBI and 464 average which raised his season mark 23 points.

The Orioles wound up with a club record 97 victories and finished third, two games behind the champion New York Yankees.

Gathering Galleries At Pebble Beach

Rain Handicaps Play In Crosby Tourney

By BOB MYERS
second round of the $84,500 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament. The weatherman predicted more of the same stuff that finally arrived in mid afternoon Thursday — rain. By Crosby standards, however, it was more like heavy mist. People in other sections would admit it was rain, albeit not too heavy.

Ragan, playing the par 37-35-72 Cypress Point course, shot 34-32-66 and Ford, over the par 36-35-71 Monterey Shore course, had 32-34-66.

By the end of Saturday's third round, the pros will have completed their lively game of musical chairs. They will have played all three courses, including what many call the real monster, Pebble Beach and its 36-36-72.

Such gallery attractions as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, PGA champion Bobby Nichols and British Open king Tony Lema have some ground to make up.

Nichols had a first-round 69, Lema 71, Nicklaus 72 and Palmer 73.

Venturi helped himself to an 81 and into an embarrassing position. He and his amateur partner, a San Francisco disc jockey, Jim Lange, had a double bogey 6 and a tie for first place in the pro-amateur competition, which means Ken's amateur helped him 29 strokes.

One stroke behind the co-leaders was Don January, with 65-32. Skee Riegel was alone at 68 and the 69 group included Nichols, Doug Sanders, Al Beselink, Babe Hiskey, Harold Kneece and the hard-luck man of the day, Bill Collins.

Collins came to No. 17 at Cypress Point six under par and a chance to tie or pass Ford and Ragan. But he hit into the rocks in the ocean and settled for a double bogey 6, and on the last hole his tee shot landed behind a tree and he had to waste a stroke to get back on the fairway.

Ragan, the husky belter from Orlando, Fla., who hasn't won a tournament since the Beaumont and West Palm Beach events in the fall of 1962, used an antique of a putter some 25 years old.

The wooden-shaft instrument was given to him last week by a friend. Since Ragan hasn't won anything as yet this year, he figured he might as well give the club a chance. With it Dave knocked in seven birdies, three of them from 12 feet away and one from 35.

Wolfpack Has 10-1 Record

By The Associated Press
Press Maravich has an enviable record as a college basketball coach — he hasn't lost a game.

He took over at the helm of North Carolina State Dec. 7 when veteran Everett Case retired after the second game of the season. Since then the Wolfpack has reeled off nine straight victories for a 10-1 over-all record and a first-place tie with Duke in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Maravich thus stands at the top of the new crop of coaches this year. The list includes Ralph Miller at Iowa, Gary Thompson at Wichita, Al McGuire at Marquette, Johnny Dee at Notre Dame, Frank McGuire at South Carolina, Paul Valenti at Oregon State and Johnny Oldham at Western Kentucky.

A check of their won-lost records during the doldrums of mid-year exams show Maravich 9-0, Thompson 12-2, Oldham 10-5, Miller 8-4, Valenti 8-4, Dee 8-6, Al McGuire 6-8 and Frank McGuire 3-4.

None of their teams played Thursday night, perhaps the highest night nationally of the season. Florida walloped Miami of Florida 86-60 and Texas Western whipped Utah State 68-62 in the only major games played. Both were home-court victories.

Rick Barry, the nation's leading scorer, threw in 26 points for Miami, but most came in the second half after Florida had taken a 20-point lead. Dick Tomlinson topped the Gators with 21 points.

Wayne Estes, another of the nation's top scorers, collected 26 for Utah State, nine in the last three minutes, as the Aggies lost to Texas Western. Orsten Artis, with 17, and Bobby Joy Hill, with 15, led the Miners.

Ex-OU Coach Is Program Speaker

DALLAS (AP) — Bud Wilkinson, former University of Oklahoma coach, was the leadoff speaker at the opening session of the "Coach of the Year" clinic here today.

More than 500 coaches had registered Thursday night for the two-day clinic and a total attendance of 800 was expected. Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State was to be the moderator on the afternoon forum.

Coaches slated to take part on the program include Frank Broyles of the University of Arkansas, Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, Bob Devaney of the University of Nebraska, Vernon Glass of Lamar Tech, Luke Thornton of Palestine High School, and Paul Smith of Galeana Park High School.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Some local football buffs breathed a sigh of relief when J. T. King added Burl Bartlett to the Texas Tech coaching staff, as a replacement for Murrill Green.

They had feared he would look in the direction of Big Spring. Steer coach Don Robbins probably would have gone into college coaching before but for the fact that a coaching aide has to double as a scout and travel 30,000 miles plus each spring talking to boys.

Robbins, incidentally, was deeply touched by the honor bestowed upon him by the Junior Chamber of Commerce here last weekend, which saw fit to single him out as Big Spring's Young Man of the Year.

By the same token, he hopes the distinction doesn't put a whammy on him—like making the cover of some news or sports periodical does some people, or being named District 2-AAAA Coach of the Year as was Bradley Mills of Odessa High.

Maybe this laurel wreath will have the opposite effect on him and his fortunes and serve to propel his 1965 Steers to the 2-AAAA championship. His many friends and supporters sincerely hope so.

Ysleta, where Big Spring sent its 1964 football team and which sends one of its clubs here for a game in 1965, is generally regarded as a recently developed suburb of El Paso. In reality, Ysleta is the state's oldest town and was actually in Mexico when it was settled in 1682. Later the Rio Grande changed its course and the settlement became a part of the United States.

The football drought in District 2-AAAA has extended too long, a thought which didn't occur to me until scribe Bob Milburn of San Angelo mentioned it recently.

The conference hasn't supplied a state champion since Abilene High won it all in 1956. And, Milburn reminded, the district's best hasn't been able to advance beyond the state quarterfinals since 1957.

The districts which have been dealing out most of the misery to the 2-AAAA champions, 1-AAAA and 3-AAAA, both have more schools than does this conference.

Earl Gilliam, who apparently has given up any thought of promoting a professional fight card in Odessa, says the non-title bout between Manny Gonzalez and Emilio Griffith in Houston next Tuesday night will probably gross $28,000. Gonzalez is an Odessa product who is now fighting out of Houston. Griffith, of course, is the world's welterweight champion.

Some observers are insisting that Gonzalez is being fed to the wolves, that the bout won't go beyond four rounds. Be that as it may Manny is looking for his biggest pay day—he gets 15 per cent of the gross.

Griffith made $172,000 with his fists last year. Gonzalez has been told that if he wins this one he could earn up to half a million dollars in the ring.

Twelve of the 66 players who appeared in the recent Pro Bowl football game in Los Angeles, almost 20 per cent, were graduates of Texas high schools.

The state doesn't produce many big league baseball players, but the calibre of pro football would be much poorer, if the game was deprived of its Texas talent.

Genuine Feud Shapes Up Between Clay, Patterson

MARLBORO, N.Y. (AP) — An honest-to-goodness world heavyweight grudge fight between Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson appears to be in the making should the former titleholder hurdle past George Chuvalo Feb. 1.

There's no doubt about it. Clay and Patterson do not like each other.

This became evident Thursday when Clay visited Patterson's camp in a promotional stunt to help ballyhoo the 12-round bout between Floyd and the Toronto heavyweight at Madison Square Garden in New York.

It began as an act, at least on Clay's part, with Cassius presenting two heads of lettuce and a half dozen carrots to Patterson, whom he calls The Rabbit.

Floyd accepted them smilingly and listened bemused as Clay promised him a shot at his title and a chance to "regain his pride and prestige" if he defeated Chuvalo.

So far so good. The two shook hands and Patterson climbed into the ring for his workout.

Sixty seconds later the place was in an uproar with Clay shouting insults at Patterson, a tight-lipped Floyd accepting his challenge to slug it out right then and there.

Humphrey Takes Over In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey gets his first chance today to preside over the Senate as vice president, one of his few constitutional responsibilities.

Today's Senate session is the first since Humphrey's inauguration Wednesday. The Constitution provides that the vice president shall be the president of the Senate and as such its presiding officer. But it gives him no vote except in case of a tie.

KNOWS SETTING
The setting will be familiar to Humphrey, a member of the Senate from Minnesota for 16 years, but not the role he will be called on to play. Humphrey, who was elected assistant Senate Democratic leader in 1961, has been one of the Senate's most active members in the past—one ready, able and willing to speak on almost any subject at any time.

Now he will have to leave the floor debates to others. The vice president seldom gets a chance to say much of anything in the Senate, although he is called on from time to time to rule on procedural issues.

As a practical matter, Humphrey probably won't spend much time presiding over the Senate. This is a chore that usually is delegated to junior senators except on crucial or ceremonial occasions.

Humphrey will have plenty of other duties, though, even if they are not assigned to him by the Constitution.

RIGHTS COORDINATOR
President Johnson has given him responsibility for coordinating the government's civil rights program. And Humphrey serves as chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities, a nonstatutory agency designed to prevent discrimination by government contractors and in federal employment.

By law the vice president also is chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council. He also sits in on meetings of the National Security Council.

And at a White House meeting Thursday, reporters understood Johnson to tell Humphrey he wanted him to act as liaison man with congressional leaders for both foreign policy and the administration's legislative program.

Pretty Girls At His Alma Mater Please Johnson

SAN MARCOS (AP) — "They didn't have all those pretty girls when I was there," President Lyndon Johnson observed as the band of his alma mater, Southwest Texas State College, passed during the inaugural parade in Washington.

Dr. James McCrocklin, president of the college, reported this comment by Johnson on returning here Thursday. McCrocklin stood with the President in the reviewing stand.

Those pretty girls may have been one reason the chief executive shattered tradition by stopping the procession to alight while the Southwest Texas band stood beside the parade route, waiting to fall in behind the President as his official escort band.

August Tour Of Beatles In U.S. Set

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There's bad news for assorted police departments, but good news for the teenagers: The Beatles are coming back for another American tour.

But not until next August, so there is still time to make proper preparation for the invasion.

MAPS TOUR

The news comes from Brian Epstein, the long-haired boys' short-haired manager and agent who is in town briefly to make some arrangements for a coast-to-coast Beatles tour; set another of his clients, singer Cilla Black, for a forthcoming Ed Sullivan appearance on CBS, and discuss his future participation in the new "Hullabaloo." Epstein, 29, recently has blossomed as a TV performer himself, introducing singers in a special weekly segment of the NBC show which is taped in London. This week, for instance, he introduced American audiences to Marianne Faithful, a young woman with an interesting voice, statue-like face and a coiffure straight out of a Charles Addams cartoon.

Epstein, whose association with the Beatles started when he was co-running a Liverpool music shop and began receiving requests for their records, believes that their phenomenal success is no flash in the pan and is constructed on their musicianship rather than their way-out hairdos and tailoring.

"FINE COMPOSERS"
"Two of the boys are fine composers, too," Epstein noted. "And while I think that the teenage excitement will continue on for another year or so, I expect they will go on to better things, including some more fine films. They have great talent."

The young impresario confessed he was unhappy about the filmed "Beatles in America" show which CBS broadcast, adding that it was made without permission.

Plainview Paper Sold To Midland Publisher

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—The officers of the Herald-News Publishing Co., Inc., have announced a sales agreement had been signed for transfer of its entire corporate stock March 1 to James N. Allison Sr., president and publisher of the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Negotiations have been under way for several days. Allison said that the ownership of the Plainview Herald would continue "its present operation in its usual efficient manner until March 1 when the transaction will be completed."

Allison said he plans to continue with the "same organization which has been so efficient in the operation of this newspaper."

Allison said he had no plans to remove anybody out of his Midland operation in Plainview in the immediate future, but will "devote considerable of his time to the Plainview operation after March 1, in hoping to continue it as an outstanding West Texas newspaper."

Allison is the third generation of a newspaper family. His father was publisher and once general manager of the Nashville Tennessean and American. He once owned the Fort Worth Record, the Ranger Times and the Wichita Falls Record-News and was executive vice president of the Wichita Falls Times and Record-News.

E. Q. Perry, president of the Herald-News, and publisher and Herbert Hilburn, vice president and editor, will retire March 1. James B. Oswald, secretary treasurer and advertising director, will remain.

Youth In Holdup Slain, 1 Wounded

EL CAMPO, Tex. (AP)—Two youths robbed a filling station, crashed through two road blocks and shot it out with officers here Thursday. One was killed and the other wounded.

Police said the slain youth, Larry Owen, 17, was from California. They didn't know his home town.

His companion was identified by Wharton County Sheriff Mike Flournoy as Garry Kerr, 17, of Joplin, Mo. He suffered several bullet wounds.

The shooting occurred on this South Texas town's main street. Jerry Lee, a Wharton city policeman, was slightly injured by flying glass as a bullet struck his windshield. Lee continued the chase.

ARMED ROBBERY

The events began at the A. Walker station in nearby Wharton, police said, when the two young men walked in, asked for coffee and then robbed Walker at gunpoint.

Walker called police and Lee gave chase. His car was followed by that of Policeman Victor Sassen.

Flournoy related these details: The youths crashed through road blocks set up by sheriff's officers at Mackey and Pierce, between Wharton and El Campo.

At El Campo, Owen was hit and the car ran into a pole near the El Campo Cafe. Officers shot it out with Kerr until he was wounded.

The youths carried three pistols. Kerr told officers the weapons had been kept in a safety deposit box at Joplin.

Owen and Kerr formerly lived in the same block at Joplin, attended high school classes together and worked at a drive-in eating place near their homes.

PARENTS DIVORCED

Owen's parents are divorced and he moved to Joplin about 18 months ago to live with his grandmother, Mrs. Edna Owen. His father, Carl Owen, is in California and his mother, Mrs. Doris Mertzler, lives in Chicago. A sister, Mrs. Carol Darago, also lives in Chicago.

Joplin police said the two youths went to a basketball game together Tuesday night and didn't return home. The car they wrecked in Texas was stolen Tuesday night in Joplin, officers said.

Police Capt. Walter Flenner of Joplin said the three pistols bore the serial numbers of guns stolen from a hardware store in Joplin the night of Dec. 29.

Kerr was expelled from school last fall for smoking but enrolled this week for the second semester. There was no other disciplinary problem on the record of either youth.

Embargo On Incoming Freight Cars Removed

HOUSTON (AP)—An embargo on incoming freight cars bound for the Houston Ship Channel area industries has been lifted.

The association lifted its embargo on some outbound shipments last week. Brown said supervisory crews are operating six railroad switch engines daily and have cleared up most of the backlog of 7,000 to 8,000 freight cars idled by the strike.

The labor dispute centers on a demand by the trainmen for increased pay for transferring freight cars from the six lines to the port terminal tracks. The trainmen began their strike prior to a one by longshoremen.
