Opening Scene Of McDonald Murder Trial In Stanton

Daniel Odell McDonald, (arrow) pleads not guilty on arraignment to murder of his 82-year-old grandmother.

district attorney, who has just read the indictment. At the rear is the jury, and Judge Ralph Caton is shown at the extreme right.

State Rests Case After Hassle Over Statement

By SAM BLACKBURN
STANTON — A statement made to officers in which he admitted the murder of his 82-year-old grandmother was read to a jury of 11 men and one woman Saturday night in the murder trial of Daniel Odell McDonald, 19.

The young defendant, hunched deep in his chair, his head bowed low, stared glumly at his clinched hands throughout the time that Wayne Burns, district attorney, was reading the statement to the jury.

Monday afternoon or Monday evening, the jury will begin deliberating the fate of the youthful defendant. The state rested its case at 10:20 p.m. Saturday.

RESUMES AT NOON
However, the trial will not get under way Monday until noon. Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, in recessing the hearing Saturday night informed the jury he had to be in Glasscock County on Monday at 10 a.m. to empanel a grand jury and that he would resume the case here at noon.

The statements which Burns read to the jury and to a crowd which packed the old courtroom to overflow capacity, were introduced into the record after George Thomas, defense attorney, had lost a two-hour effort to keep them from the jurors.

MOVE PROTESTED
Thomas had assailed the introduction of the statements on the grounds that his client had been deprived of his civil rights; that he had no attorney in attendance at the time he made the statements.

Saunders told the jury that on the day McDonald was arrested, the youth had no sooner gotten into the police car than he voluntarily began telling the officer of the slaying. "I asked him no questions but by the time we had reached the courthouse," said the sheriff, "he had told all about it."

"I was interested"
The statement which was prepared, Saunders testified, was one volunteered by the defendant and was almost entirely in the defendant's own words. "I asked him no questions," said Saunders.

The statement related that on the night of June 12, young McDonald had been in Stanton only two days on leave from the Army at Fort Carson, Colo. "I borrowed my brother's car," it related, "and after driving around a while I went to Big Spring. I went to a drive-in and drank three bottles of beer. I met a man downtown and asked him to get me some whiskey. I gave him $10 and he came back with two pints of wine."

It was later shown that McDonald drank one pint of wine in Big Spring and half of the second pint on route back to Stanton. The final half, he said, he drank after he had killed Mrs. W. S. McDonald.

"LIGHT BURNING"
When I got back to Stanton," the statement continued, "I saw a light burning in my grandmother's living quarters. I circled the block a few times and parked about a block away. I went to the back door and hollered until she answered me. I told her I needed $200 because I was in trouble. She opened the door and let me in and asked what kind of trouble I was in. I didn't answer. I just grabbed her and put my hand over her mouth. I turned out the light. I held my hand over her mouth for five minutes. She made an awful noise. I raped her."

PLASTIC BAG
"I wasn't sure she was dead so I pulled a plastic bag down over her head and under her chin."

He told how he searched for money and took only bills. "I found a big fork," the statement said, "and I stabbed her with it several times. I think she was dead and I do not know why I stabbed her."

The statement said he got about $170. Later, Saunders produced $178, which he said had been recovered from McDonald after his arrest.

Saunders testified that the second statement on June 24 was a free and voluntary one and that in it McDonald identified a handkerchief found at the murder scene as one he had used to wipe his hands on after the slaying.

"FOUND SCRATCHES"
Saunders said he examined McDonald and found several scratches on his left wrist and an abrasion on his right wrist. The injuries appeared to be fresh, he said.

The state recalled Jake Brunton, police officer, but before the session resumed after a brief recess, Burns decided to close his case without questioning the officer.

Thomas then had a short conference with John Ferguson, co-counsel, and with the defendant.

DECIDES TO RECESS
He suggested that he go ahead with his case but the court decided to recess and resume Monday. It was agreed that the de-

Coahoma School Bonds Turned Down By Voters

COAHOMA (SC) — Voters in the Coahoma Independent School District soundly defeated two proposals for the issuance of bonds in the total amount of $450,000 Saturday.

The proposed bonds were to be financed out of general tax revenues, and school officials estimated that the increased rate would be from 10 to 15 cents over the present rate of $1.80 per $100 valuation.

FIRST PROPOSAL
Improvements listed under the first proposal included: 12 classrooms to be built as needed, $120,000; new band hall for 100-piece band, $30,000; high school fieldhouse dressing facilities, $30,000; an elementary - junior high physical education gymnasium (no bleachers), $80,000; five classrooms in the old auditorium, $25,000; land, $20,000; enlargement of the elementary building kitchen $10,000; football stadium to seat 5,000, $35,000; track - field, $5,000; enlargement of the present junior high fieldhouse, $2,000; architect fees, $12,000; bond agent fees, $4,500.

Human Crush Jams Route For Glimpse

LONDON (AP) — The greatest crowd that ever gathered for Sir Winston Churchill — more than a million people — jammed into the hushed heart of London Saturday to mourn him.

Soybean Sale Spurs Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Last week saw the first big sale of soybeans to Russia since the postwar establishment of restrictions on exports to the Communist bloc, and it stimulated new season high price marks in futures contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Completion of a deal, estimated around $11 million dollars, to supply 90,000 tons of soybeans—about 3,300,000 bushels—to the Soviet Union through Continental Grain Co., was confirmed after the close of Monday's trade, during which rumors set off a nervous price boom.

Speculation about more bean business and possibly soybean oil sales to Russia failed to firm up, and futures in the oil seed closed the week on a downbeat, influenced by the general depressant of the market, the strike of East and Gulf coast dock workers which has blocked foreign shipments for three weeks.

Soybeans finished the week 1/2 cent lower to 7 cents higher than the close of Friday, Jan. 22, March $3.06 1/2 a bushel; wheat was 2 1/4 to 4 1/2 higher; March $1.51 1/2; corn was 1/2 to 1 1/4 higher, March $1.27-1.27 1/2; oats were 1/2 to 3/4 lower, March 72 1/2 cents, and rye 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, March $1.21 1/2.

Revolt Threatens Anew In Congo

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The threat of a new Congo rebellion loomed today as police in North Katanga began a strike.

The first wildcat police strike started in Kongolo, where the district officer, arrested by striking police — cabled Ernest Kamba, special commissioner for North Katanga affairs, saying:

"Tension in all North Katanga mounting to flashpoint. Police unpaid since 17 months. All funds disappeared with previous government."

The cable asked for immediate payment of arrears for the North Katanga police force salaries.

Slide Victim Is Identified

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A rain-weakened cliff crashed into the Columbia River Saturday.

The wave it set up rolled 1,000 feet across the river where it washed over the southwest end of Puget Island and killed a man.

Police identified the latest slide victim as Holcomb Gabrielson, 45, a Puget Island dairy farmer.

Clatsop County Sheriff Carl Bondietti said that a huge section of a riverside cliff — 1,500 feet long and nearly 1,000 feet wide — dropped into the Columbia River at 1:53 a.m. on the Oregon side, 60 miles northwest of Portland.

The wave rolled across to the Washington side of the river where it washed over dikes and smashed two houses. The body of Gabrielson was found in one of them.

Bondietti said that the wave appeared to be 15 to 20 feet high.

12 Government Checks Stolen

A man was arrested by Big Spring Police Detective Wayne Tollett Friday at 8 p.m. in connection with the theft of 12 U.S. Government checks found at the Greyhound bus station.

The suspect later admitted taking the checks, totaling over $500, from the Webb Air Force Base post office, and he was released to the Air Police at the base, who are continuing the investigation.

Poll Tax Total Figure To Rise

Related electors of the county, eager to make certain they can vote in 1965, paid poll taxes and claimed exemption receipts at a rate of 70 an hour Saturday — deadline for paying poll taxes.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said her office was open 9 hours Saturday and that $62 poll tax receipts and 74 exemption certificates were issued.

At close of the day, paid poll tax receipts stood at 4,564 and exemptions at 1,512. The total qualified voters as of 5 p.m. Saturday stood at 6,076.

TOTAL HIGHER
However, Mrs. LeFevre said that the final figure would be higher than that. She pointed out that the substations at the Lewis 5-and-10, Safeway store, at the Gamboa residence and elsewhere were all busy all day Saturday and their receipts are not listed in the 6,076 shown above.

Even if the total reaches the 7,000 mark, 1965 poll tax-exemption totals will be the smallest in more than a decade. The total shown as of 5 p.m. Saturday was 8,918.

THE PREVIOUS YEAR, with political outlook as colorful as the current year, holds the questionable distinction of being the low year of the past decade — 7,523.

MIDNIGHT LIMIT
The last opportunity any belated elector has to insure his vote will be from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday. The place in the Lewis 5-and-10 in the College Park Shopping Center. Deadline, under the law for issuance of poll tax receipts is midnight, Jan. 31.

The final two voters to be issued poll tax receipts at the office of the tax assessor in the courthouse were Mrs. Lindy (Roberta) Oldfield and Winston Wrinkle. Mrs. Oldfield, as she pointed out, is in the courthouse five days each week and her duties as assistant county auditor take her into the tax office two or three times a day.

"I thought Lindy had paid the poll tax," she said. "And he thought I had. Turned out-

Who's To Be Champ? It's Spelling Bee Time

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

Those who weathered the big blow Monday have one consolation. Sand storms can't get much worse. That one had winds up to 65 miles an hour and north of here cut visibility to zero. While unpleasant for everyone, the storm was very damaging to the farm lands. The worst part is that if the weather pattern does not change, we can expect a blustery, dry spring.

Who's To Be Champ? It's Spelling Bee Time

It's Spelling Bee time again. The Daily Herald is again sponsoring the Howard County Spelling Bee for boys and girls of the schools who want to try their chances at a free trip to Washington.

This will be the third year The Herald has acted as county sponsor. The Herald works in cooperation with the Lubbock Avalanche, which conducts the Regional Spelling Bee. Winner of the county championship goes to Lubbock to compete. The regional champion gets an all-expense paid trip to Washington, other prizes and a chance to compete for the national spelling championship.

HOT CONTEST

Last year's county champion was Donald Hickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hickson, 628 State. He won his county title in a hotly contested County spelling bee last March. He did not win the regional, but he found the experience of competing against the best spellers of 23 West Texas counties highly exhilarating. He is a student at Rannels Junior High School.

SCHOOLWIDE BEE

The plan followed is for each school to set up a series of elimination contests within the school. Classrooms are invited to hold eliminations to determine their champion and each school hold a schoolwide elimination bee to select its title

Snow Piles Up On Dixie Roads

Snow piled up on icy roads in a broad, frigid area of the South on Saturday.

The fall ranged up to nine inches at Socco Gap and six inches at Balsam Gap in the Blue Ridge Mountains and seven inches at Newfound Gap in the Great Smokies.

In Winston-Salem, N.C., where four inches of snow accumulated rapidly, police helped transport nurses to hospitals because of bus delays and the heavy going generally.

MANY SECTIONS
Snow fell in many sections of Dixie where roads already were slick with ice, and freezing cold held it firmly in place.

Warnings of heavy snow and hazardous driving conditions went out to the central district of Virginia. The state's snow cover varied from less than an inch in Winchester at the northern tip to five inches in Danville near the North Carolina boundary. Highway department crews worked to keep roads clear.

D.C. SNOWFALL
The snowfall began before dawn in Washington, D.C. An emergency plan, requiring cars to be equipped with snow tires or chains, went into effect in 114 Maryland counties and in Baltimore City.

Teachers To Study Pay Hike Proposal

The Classroom Teachers Association will consider at its next meeting its stand on a proposal to hike teachers' basic salaries by $485 per annum.

The executive committee has had this under study and will make a recommendation. Meantime, Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, president, and Pat Lawrence were named as a legislative committee.

Next regular meeting of the CTA unit here is set for Feb. 18 when Mrs. Jewell Harris, vice president of the Texas CTA, will be a featured speaker at the high school auditorium. The CTA and the Texas State Teachers Association chapter will meet jointly for this evening session. Earlier, Mrs. Harris will be honored at a dinner given by chapter officials.

Mrs. Nettie Shaw, president of the state CTA, took a dim view of the recommendation by Gov. John Connally for raises of $16 a month, about a third of what teachers have been seeking in order to get to a $4,500 starting base.

Operators Of Child Care Centers Due For Workshop

The operators of children's day care centers in eight counties in West Texas will arrive in Big Spring Feb. 6 for a workshop in pre-school child care.

Some 47 centers are included in the Permian Basin Pre-School Association, which is sponsoring the annual workshop.

Miss Arath Phillips, of the Jack and Jill Kindergarten and First Grade of Big Spring, will welcome the visiting operators.

The one-day program will include sessions ranging from creative art to first aid.

Cities to be represented in the workshop sessions include Midland, Odessa, Kermit, Rankin, Pecos and Big Spring. Participating in the plans for the program is Mrs. Rosemary C. McLaren, child welfare licensing division, State Department of Public Welfare, of Odessa.

The sessions will be held at the Jack and Jill Kindergarten, 2009 Main, with the registration planned for 9 a. m. Saturday. Following an introduction by Miss Phillips of participants, Miss Mary Foreman, an elementary school counselor here, will discuss the topic, "Something Makes A Difference."

Following a coffee break during which a demonstration will be given of demonstration records, visitors will view an exhibit of science research materials by Dr. Clarence Darter, Odessa.

Another morning session will involve "Creative Art in the Pre-School Program," presented by Mrs. Paul Chappell, a first grade teacher at Marcy Elementary School.

Jack and Jill students will present a children's stage show during the noon hour for the workshop participants.

During the afternoon sessions, beginning at 1 p. m. Saturday, Miss Anna Smith, dean of women at Howard County Junior College, is to provide instruction on first aid treatment for injuries involving pre-school age chil-

A panel will discuss problems of the pre-school program, moderated by Mrs. Ray McKinnon, chairman, Jack and Jill Kindergarten, Big Spring.

A final afternoon session is to concern the topic, "Life Savers for a Rainy Day," presented by Miss Helen Jones, of the Jack and Jill office.

The theme being followed in the workshop this year is "New Dimensions in the Pre-School Program."

Help In VA Lab Serves As Student's Stepping Stone

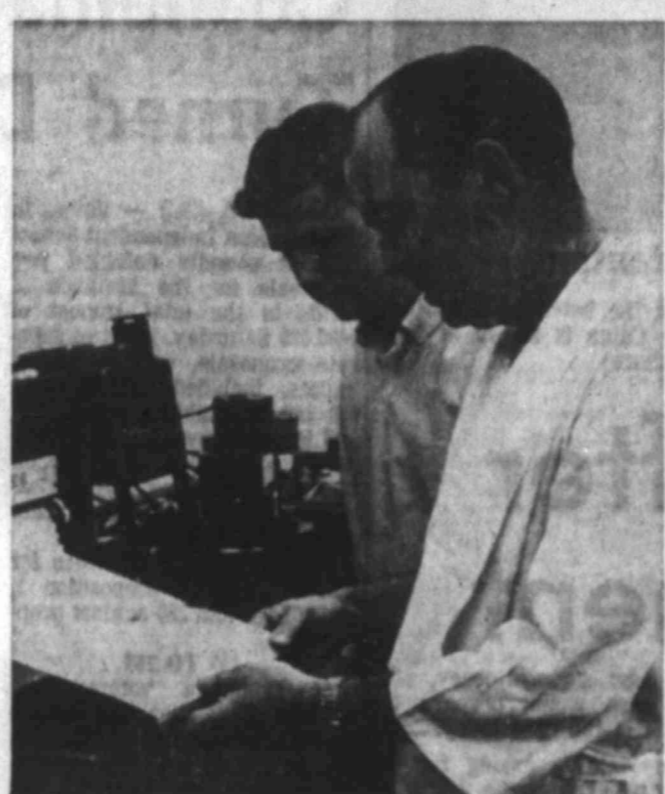

If a Big Spring High School youngster reaches his goal, some 900 spare-time hours he has spent helping out in the laboratory of the Veterans Administration Hospital here will have been a stepping-stone to a career as a bio-chemist.

The youth is John Callihan, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Callihan, 1523 Utah Road, and for the past three summers, along with holidays and weekends the year-round, he's been an added fixture at the VA's lab room.

Recently his accumulated hours at the hospital passed the 900 mark and the lab technicians began giving him instruction on the hospital's new $8,000 auto-analyzer unit, an assortment of equipment several yards long and able to do in an hour some 120 chemical tests which would take a technician a full day.

"Some people have an aversion to getting blood on their hands," Bill Bell, chief of the lab, said. "But John's not only ready to take on the lab tests, which get pretty dirty sometimes, but he didn't balk when he was told recently he could do an autopsy." Although the technicians were only joking, they said he was ready to try, "with some instruction."

This week is Texas Health Careers Week, and hospitals over the state are emphasizing medical careers open to youths. The Texas Hospital Association has been pushing a campaign to let youngsters in high schools know of the opportunities open in the medical field, including not only the lab technician jobs, but those of dental assistants, dietitians, social workers, occupational therapists, x-ray technologists and others.

Viewing $8,000 Lab Unit

Bill Bell, chief of the VA Hospital's lab, explains the operation of the new auto-analyzer unit, first in this area, to John Callihan, a volunteer at the hospital lab who now has some 900 hours of service. The new unit provides tests on biological fluids.

He plans to attend Howard County Junior College, then to continue his work at a four-year

SWEETWATER — Operation of the Spartan Industries, Inc. plant for manufacture of men's, women's and children's un-branded clothing, is due to begin here in February, according to R. D. Thompson, manager of the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce.

Spartan will utilize the former International Harvester building which will provide 65,000 square feet of space. Hiring and testing of employees is in the hands of the Texas Employment Commission. The first block of workers, primarily women, will be started soon.

Leases were signed by Spartan and SIF during the past week following negotiations over the past 12 weeks. A survey six months ago drew response from

LAKEVIEW YMCA PATROL LEADERS

Lakeview Y Plans Drive

The Lakeview Branch of the YMCA will begin its annual membership drive Feb. 1, with Charlie Merritt, board president, spearheading the adult Round-up. Sam Dawson, Lakeview YMCA executive secretary, will head the youth members drive.

The board of managers has divided itself into four groups. James Woodruff is foreman of group 1; Mrs. Viola Brown, group 2; Mrs. Charles Newman, group 3; and Mrs. Doris Randall will ramrod group 4. Merritt and the board have set the goal for adult members at $1,000.

Secretary Dawson, in charge of the youth membership drive, said the youth workers had formed patrols to comb the area. Patrolmen Ardellia Brown and Ethel Green will be in charge of all groups, and will have 12 members working the field to raise the goal of $500.

Secretary Dawson said that any one wanting information on the membership round-up may contact him at the Lakeview YMCA by dialing AM 3-3902.

Tower Raps LBJ Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Saturday that President Johnson made dangerous cuts in vital defense funds in order to increase spending on "welfare projects and vote-buying schemes."

Tower, recently appointed to the Senate Armed Services Committee, promised careful questioning of top military advisers on the new federal budget.

"There is no doubt that welfare measures are politically attractive," Tower said. "And there is no doubt that national defense is expensive. But freedom is exceedingly precious, and the cost necessary to defend freedom is always justifiable."

The President reduced proposed defense outlays $300 million under last year, Tower said, at a time when "our top military leaders feel that the defense budget should provide $6 billion more."

Tower said the new budget will reduce continental air defense forces and strategic retaliatory power and provide "200 fewer missiles than we thought (were needed) just one year ago."

Paris Talks Shaping Up

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson and President Charles de Gaulle, brought together by Sir Winston Churchill's funeral, have agreed to meet soon in Paris.

The talks were described officially by both British and French sources as useful and friendly. However, observers said that there would be no easy solutions to the problems that have brought relations between the two nations to a low point.

At the heart of the dispute remains De Gaulle's concept that a united Europe must be free of U.S. influence. France steadfastly has opposed the U.S.-sponsored Multilateral Force and the newer British-proposed Atlantic Nuclear Force.

Other sore points are France's opposition to British entry in the European Common Market and friction over the fate of the planned British-French supersonic commercial airliner, the Concorde.

Orleans Pact Spurs Hope In Dock Strike

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Approval of a new contract by dockworkers in New Orleans spurred hopes Saturday the costly Maine - to - Texas waterfront strike might end early next week.

The two big New Orleans locals of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association gave overwhelming endorsement in voting Friday.

EARLY END
Clarence A. Henry, president of one local, predicted the walk-out would end Monday or Tuesday.

ILA members at Mobile, Ala., then voted to end the strike, now in its 70th day. George Dixon, president of the Mobile local, said he thought it was "the best contract we've gotten in 21 years." Negotiations took a recess in Philadelphia early today after a 16½-hour bargaining session. Federal mediator John R. Murray said some progress was made, but "we are not in a settlement area yet."

No vote was expected in Baltimore, Md., until Monday. Under the ILA policy of one-port-out-all-out, the strike cannot end until settlements are reached in all Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

FIRST BREAK
The first break in the walkout of 30,000 dockworkers came when New York longshoremen ratified the new contract last week.

The New York agreement served as the pattern for the New Orleans settlement, which provides for an 80-cent an hour increase in wages and fringe benefits spread over a four-year period.

The hourly wage increases of 38 cents over the life of the contract, including 12 cents this year, will bring the scale to $3.38 an hour in New York and $3.32 in New Orleans for 1965.

Scuba Diving Explained For Ambucs Here Friday

The wonders of the underwater world the scuba diver sees was described in detail to members of the American Business Club at their luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel by Bob Chambers, a devotee of the sport here.

Chambers said that 150,000 scuba-diving units were sold in this country last year and interest was booming in the endeavor as it never has before.

"There is no limit to places you can go," he remarked, "after you master the sport."

Chambers, a volunteer instructor in the sport with the local YMCA, said any one in good health could learn it. He discussed the costs involved, stating that a good suit would range in price from $65 to $120. A regulator would run from $39.95 to $120 and air tanks from $62.50 to $90. Most of the equipment used by the scuba-diver, from weights to fins, were displayed and their uses explained for the benefit of ABC club members.

Jim Gilbert, physical director of the local Y, who introduced Chambers to the gathering, urged his listeners to support the YMCA.

"The Y belongs to you," Gilbert stated. "Help us, and you help our community."

"Come to the Y and take care of the other aspect of your life," he pleaded. "If you don't take care of your physical being, your business will suffer in the long run."
Darrell Webb was re-instated as a member of the Ambuc organization.
Club prexy Charles Dunnam

said the local club was being asked to participate in charter ceremonies of a newly-organized Midland club and he appealed for as many members of the local club as possible to be on hand for the rites.

The Midland ceremony will take place the evening of Feb. 5. Midland, he revealed, once was affiliated with the ABC movement but lost its charter several years ago.

Driveway Gunblast Fatal In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Pedro Mendoza, 32, was shot to death this week in the driveway of his home. Mrs. Mendoza said she saw two men in the driveway. She said one pulled a pistol from his shirt and fired at her husband.

Car Tags To Go On Sale Monday

Eager beaver car owners who want to discard their old battered 1964 plates for the shiny new 1965 Texas tags can do so Monday.

Vets Can Get GI Insurance

More than three million war veterans with service-connected disabilities may now be eligible to buy up to $10,000 in permanent GI insurance coverage.

The VA has completed a preliminary estimate as to how many veterans might be affected by the new law reopening the opportunity to obtain National Service Life Insurance, he added.

In addition, an unknown number of veterans, eligible for a service-connected rating but who have not applied for one, may be added to the list of those to whom the reopened NSLI policies can be granted.

The VA official said that another unknown number of veterans whose disabilities are not service-connected may also be able to take advantage of the reopening, if they cannot obtain insurance at any cost from private companies.

Veterans will have one year from May 1, 1965, to May 2, 1966, to apply for the insurance. However, applications cannot be accepted before the May 1, 1965 date, according to the law.

Printed information may be obtained by writing, telephoning or visiting any VA regional office or contact office.

First Anti-Poverty Loans Are Made

Details of the initial anti-poverty loans have been given by the Farmers Home Administration. These went to a 37-year-old farmer and wife who live near Long Branch, Panola County, Texas; a 51-year-old farmer who lives in Harrison County near Marsha; and to a widow who lives near Hempstead in Walker County; and a couple who operate a small farm in Bell County.

Lester J. Cappelman, state FHA director, said that economic opportunity loans may be made in amounts up to $2,500 to finance small family businesses, trades, services and farming enterprises. There have been three such applications here, according to Lee Tunnell, district supervisor.

Regulatory Commission Role Debated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Should a member of a federal regulatory commission act as an umpire or as a partisan defender of the public against private interests?

Chairman Paul Dixon of the Federal Trade Commission says a regulatory agency is "the public voice" and "not some neutral third force."

Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., disagrees. In an interview Saturday, he said a commissioner has "a basic and complete responsibility" to maintain a position of neutrality.

Black was asked to disqualify himself from the pending case. He refused and other FPC members upheld his decision.

Dixon said he was "concerned over the present rash of bias cases that are now flooding the administrative agencies and the courts."

Rogers, who favors legislation to exempt gas producers from federal regulation, said: "When they want to exercise quasi-judicial powers, they want to assume the power of a court, but when they make a statement they want to be free from responsibility."

"PUBLIC VOICE" Commenting on Dixon's view that a regulatory agency is "the public voice," Rogers said: "I don't think any such thing was ever intended. I believe that a commissioner not only should sit in a position of neutrality but that he has a basic and complete responsibility to do so."

Black had said in a speech that gas producers were engaged in a "massive campaign" supporting legislation to exempt them from FPC regulation. He urged a group of retailers who purchase natural gas to join him in fighting the legislation.

Gas producers in the pending case, known as Permian Basin, still can challenge in the courts on the grounds of prejudice if the decision goes against them.

"MERE UMPIRES" Dixon said some persons assume that regulatory agencies "are mere umpires, sternly holding the scales evenly balanced while 'private' and 'public' interests fight it out on equal terms."

"But the terms were never equal. The public is by definition unorganized and mute except when its elected representatives in Congress give it officers to guard its interests."

"In other words, gentlemen, the Federal Power Commission is not some neutral third force standing between private and public interests."

Plans Shaping Up For 3rd Annual Rattlesnake Hunt

Pits will be full of the writhing, wiggling, hissing and buzzing diamond back rattlers out at the Howard County Fairbarns March 7, if hunters expected to the 3rd annual Rattlesnake Roundup appear. The three days of activity, March 5-7, will not be limited to hunting in Howard County alone this year, but will spread into adjacent counties.

Air Force Captain Dick Wilson, chairman of the Big Spring Jaycees committee, said Saturday that plans are being completed rapidly and that more than 3,000 snakes are expected to be brought in this year. Hunters from all over the United States and Canada are expected here for the hunt.

SNAKE PARADE
A Rattlesnake Parade, featuring candidates for "Miss Diamondback" will open the three days' activities on March 4. Hunters will begin registering that day at the fair grounds. All hunters and the public are invited to a dinner dance at the Big Spring Country Club on the evening of March 6. The candidates for Miss Diamondback will be formally presented and the winner crowned.

"Sunday is always the biggest day of the hunt," Capt. Wilson said. "The largest number of snakes will be on exhibit at the pit. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded winners in the competition at 5:30 p.m. These will be for the longest snake, greatest total in pounds, and for the snake with the most rattles."

EXPERT HANDLING
Bill Ransburger, snake handler from Sweetwater, and Shelia Downs, Florida reptile curator, will again be on hand to show expert handling of snakes. Actual "milking" of the venom from the snakes may be seen, and fat-fried golden-brown rattlesnake steak will be available for a nominal fee. The venom will be taken from the snakes for medical purposes.

A. D. Blount, owner and operator of a pet shop here, has arranged a wildlife exhibit for the roundup where wild and rare animals will be on display, including a lion cub.

"The driver of a pickup truck turned around, pushed our car into a gas station, waved, and drove off. We didn't even get his name or have an opportunity to thank him," 1st Lt. Stuart Warren said this week.

The lieutenant and a buddy were returning home from Webb Air Force Base one evening this week and ran out of gas on the hill by the entrance to Scenic Mountain drive. The two men attempted to push the car over the brow of the hill but were not having much luck. The pickup driver stopped and said he did not have any way to get gasoline out of his truck but that he would turn around and push them to the service station on Wasson Drive. He did.

"We are not accustomed to that kind of courtesy where we came from," the lieutenant said, "and want to express our appreciation to the man through the Herald. We also want to say that everyone here has been most courteous and friendly and that we are glad we came to Webb AFB."

Slayings Data Asked Of FBI

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Bill Johnson said today he would ask the Neshoba County grand jury Monday to probe the slaying of three civil rights workers if the FBI will turn over its evidence in the case.

Kozlov, Nik's Aide, Dead

MOSCOW (AP)—Frol R. Kozlov, the No. 2 man in the Soviet Union during much of former Premier Khrushchev's rule until he was felled by illness, died Saturday.

But federal sources said the government probably would not release its evidence to the jury until disposition of action pending in federal court at Meridian.

In Washington a Justice Department spokesman declined comment on Johnson's statement pending receipt of formal request for the evidence.

Treaty Extension Said Unnecessary

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said today he does not believe it is necessary to extend the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty formally until 1980 to match the expiration date of the Soviet-Communist Chinese friendship pact.

He said he would seek action "if the federal government gives us evidence in time to present it to the Neshoba County grand jury which meets Monday in Philadelphia."

At their federal court arraignment in Meridian earlier this week, 17 of the 18 men indicted by a federal grand jury pleaded innocent to charges of conspiring to kill the trio last summer. The 18th man was expected to enter a plea in Atlanta, Ga.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox gave attorneys for both sides 30 days to file further legal papers in the case.

The FBI has gathered most of the evidence in the death of Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, both white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Meridian Negro.

Their bodies were found beneath an earthen dam near Philadelphia last August after they had been missing 44 days.

Senate Panel Cautious On UAR Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only two members of the 27-member Senate appropriations committee are ready to say flatly they would support reversal of the ban the House has voted to put on shipment of surplus food to the United Arab Republic, an Associated Press survey showed today.

On the other hand, only four committee members say they agree with what the House did and only three others say publicly they are "inclined" to. Thus, the jury is still out, with a majority — 15 of the 26 members reached, including Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana — refusing to disclose their positions at this point.

UPHILL FIGHT

But the fact that the Johnson administration has mustered so little support thus far indicates it faces a tough, uphill battle in its efforts to have the Senate undo what the House has done — amend the agriculture appropriations bill to block shipment of $34 million worth of wheat, tobacco and vegetable oils to Cairo.

It is possible the administration may have to settle for half a loaf — reversal of the amendment with substitution by the Senate of a stern warning to UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Some senators said privately they understand the State Department is working on non-binding language that would express "the sense of the Congress" that aid should be halted to Nasser or that would leave the President an "escape hatch" for continuing the shipments under certain specified conditions.

Nasser's fiery declaration last month that the UAR does not need America's money and "anyone who does not like our attitude can drink from the sea" — roughly this means "go to hell" — was a prime factor in Tuesday's 204-177 House vote. Another was longstanding disapproval among some members of Nasser's combative stance toward Israel.

"IS MEDDLING"

The administration takes the view that the House is meddling in an area which is properly that of the executive branch — the conduct of foreign policy. But the absence of a condemnation of Nasser's speech by President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk or other high administration officials apparently invoked in some members a feeling akin to "if they won't do it we will."

Next week, possibly Monday, Rusk goes before the Appropriations Committee to appeal for reversal of the House action. The two senators who will say for the record they would support reversal of the House are A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and Gale W. McGee of Wyoming, both Democrats.

"FAREWELL"

"To you, Sir Winston, my old friend, farewell," he said. This came just as the motor launch Havengore sailed up the historic River Thames following the funeral at St. Paul's and as jet fighters roared overhead to dip in final salute. The flag-draped coffin was towed on the same naval gun carriage that bore Queen Victoria to her grave in 1901. Hitched together in white canvas harness, 142 sailors towed the gun carriage from Westminster Hall two miles to St. Paul's, and then another mile to the banks of the Thames at the ancient Tower of London.

LED BY SON

Behind the coffin walked the male members of the Churchill family, led by his only son, Randolph, 54. Beside Randolph was his son, the old warrior's 24-year-old grandson and namesake. Then in a carriage behind the marching mourners of the family, came Lady Churchill, the wife Sir Winston called "My Darling Clementine." The 78-year-old Lady Churchill's maiden name was Clementine Hozier.

Churchill's funeral was one of the most majestic and momentous in Britain's long history. Under the vaulted roof of old St. Paul's Cathedral, four kings, two queens, presidents — including France's Gen. Charles de Gaulle in uniform — prime ministers and statesmen from 113 nations attended the solemn rites.

Royal Pair Hurt Following Rites

LONDON (AP) — The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester were injured Saturday night when their limousine left the road and overturned in a field on their way home from Sir Winston Churchill's funeral.

A police spokesman said the duchess, 63, had "fairly severe head injuries." The duke, 64, had head and hand injuries. They were taken to a hospital at Bedford. The duke is an uncle of Queen Elizabeth II.

The accident occurred near the village of Eaton Socon at a road junction about 50 miles north of London. The couple were on their way home to Barnwell Manor in Northamptonshire.

The duke is the third son of the late King George V. His wife is the daughter of the seventh Duke of Buccleuch.

"Both have injuries," a hospital spokesman said. The duke is eighth in line of succession to the throne. Married in 1935, they have two sons, Prince William, 23, and Prince Richard, 20.

S. Viet Nam Heads Into Week Of Avowed Peace

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Wartorn South Viet Nam appeared headed into a week of peace Saturday as the Viet Cong announced a seven-day cease-fire to celebrate the lunar new year.

The Buddhists also observe the holiday but there were indications they plan to resume antigovernment activity as soon as the celebration ends.

Extremist youth groups in central Viet Nam have said they are not satisfied with Wednesday's coup in which Premier Tran Van Huong was overthrown. They want Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, the military governor of central Viet Nam, to become premier.

Hope Raised On Red River

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., said Saturday that prospects for a navigation project on the Red River across Louisiana were boosted in President Johnson's new budget recommendations.

In the budget requests is $460,000 to further a comprehensive basin study, now in progress, for the Red River. The study encompasses navigation, flood control, storage, recreation and other river development phases. "When this study is completed, it will be possible to move ahead with actual construction of projects which prove feasible," Ellender said.

Cranes Lower Heads As Boat With Body Passes

LONDON (AP) — As the launch bearing Sir Winston Churchill's body slid along the gray Thames Saturday, a line of cranes on the riverside lowered their gaunt booms in salute.

It was the one gesture a day of minutely calculated pomp that was not on the schedule — and it caused another catch in the hearts of mourners watching the old hero's last journey upriver. From the wharf fronts of the murky London dock area, blizzed by Nazi bombers in World War II, the bowing cranes were the dockers' own farewell to a man who often visited them after a bombing raid.

HYMN HE REQUESTED

Last Salute To Warrior Majestic And Momentous

LONDON (AP) — To the strains of the Battle Hymn of the Republic, Sir Winston Churchill passed into history Saturday with one of the most memorable funerals in British history.

"Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord" echoed and re-echoed through old St. Paul's Cathedral where the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, conducted the funeral service.

For perhaps the first time ever, kings, queens, presidents, prime ministers — the high and the humble — joined in singing the American hymn. Long before his death, Sir Winston Churchill asked that the hymn be sung and played at his funeral.

"I want it in memory of my American mother," said Churchill. His mother was the beautiful Jennie Jerome of New York.

The muse of history and the angel of death seemed close by on this historic day. In addition to being the day of Churchill's state funeral, it was the anniversary of Adolf Hitler's advent to power in 1933.

It was also the birth anniversary of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, one of Churchill's closest friends and a comrade in arms in World War II.

Another old friend and warrior comrade, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sat with kings and commoners in St. Paul's Cathedral, tears in his eyes for his old friend.

Speaking over the British Broadcasting Corp.'s television network, Eisenhower recalled that Churchill was an honorary American citizen. He said that in years to come Sir Winston will be remembered as "soldier, statesman and leader whom two great countries were proud to honor as their own."

"FAREWELL" "To you, Sir Winston, my old friend, farewell," he said.

This came just as the motor launch Havengore sailed up the historic River Thames following the funeral at St. Paul's and as jet fighters roared overhead to dip in final salute. The flag-draped coffin was towed on the same naval gun carriage that bore Queen Victoria to her grave in 1901.

Flood Routs Hundreds In East Oregon

LA GRANDE, Ore. (AP) — Three hundred families were evacuated from their homes today as the flooding Grande Ronde slogged over its banks into La Grande.

City Commissioner Grant Millering at the eastern Oregon town's Civil Defense headquarters said there had been no injuries or accidents in the orderly evacuation.

The residents of the flat northwestern section of the town took only their bedding and a few personal belongings. School buses, private automobiles, and National Guard vehicles moved the families to churches and schools.

Millering said that another residential area near the flooded part of town will have to be evacuated if the river rises further.

Col. Earle C. Misener, the director of Civil Defense for Union County, was directing sand-bagging operations in the city in an effort to divert the flow of the river from other sections of town.

Judge To Call Long Docket Of Criminal, Civil Cases

Forty-nine jury criminal cases, 78 appeals from corporation and justice courts, 45 non-jury civil cases and 12 civil jury cases are on the lengthy docket which Lee Porter, county judge, will sound at 2 p.m. Monday in Howard County Court Room.

The outcome of the docket sounding will determine how many jury sessions may be needed and how many of the cases on the docket can be dismissed.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said he had listed all pending criminal cases with the exception of a group of worthless check cases, on the docket.

BE DISMISSED
He said he is certain a considerable number of these cases will probably be dismissed. There may be some pleas of guilty in others, he said.

As to the appeal cases, as many will be disposed of as possible, he said.

Judge Porter intends to schedule all civil cases announced ready. Those where the court will preside without a jury will be set down for trial and jury dockets will be set as needed.

WINGS

Winds Keep Them Down

By M. A. WEBB

Comes Sunday and a lot of flying for those interested in seeing Big Spring from the air — if the wind isn't blowing dust too much for flying and visibility. It's the annual March of Dimes voluntary air rides for those wanting to contribute through a sightseeing flight. Beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday several privately owned airplanes, piloted by qualified men, will be available for a 15-minute flight.

Not much has happened at Howard County Airport this week. One of the men employed said the most excitement came Friday morning when three coyote pups chased a jackrabbit down the main runway. They didn't have any luck.

Big Spring Flying Club's Colt wasn't in the air during the week. Those flying the Skyhawk were: Bob Brock (one and cross country), Allen (3). The airplane will be available for the MOD flights from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Webb Aero Club members up were: Cessna 150 — Sweedan (5), Korshan (2), Warren, Ray (4), Brown (4), Ericson (2), Chumley (2), Foster; Cessna 172—Warren.

Three used the Howard County Flying Club's Colt during the week. They were Moore (2), Byrd (3), Brumley (3).

Trans-Texas Airways has reported that 712,827 passengers flew over its six state system during 1964, a 56.5 per cent increase over the 455,560 flown in 1963. Other year-end statistics released by the regional airline showed 159,441,674 revenue during 1964, up 50.69 per cent over the 105,809,000 in 1963.

TTA recently announced a $13.5 million equipment program which will see the airline introduce turbo-prop equipment in the fall of 1965. The program is expected to take from 12 to 18 months to complete at which time TTA will have a fleet of 25 Rolls Royce prop-jet engine aircraft.

Trans-Texas Airways, regional carrier for six southwestern states, has announced its top ten markets for 1964. These are the top city pairs in terms of the number of passengers carried between them by the airline.

Leading by a substantial margin was the air traffic between Austin and Houston with 41,813 passengers carried. Some others were: Abilene-Dallas, 33,092; Beaumont-Port Arthur-Dallas, 28,730; Waco-Dallas 25,805; Temple-Dallas 22,873; and Austin-Dallas, 22,418.

Two or three men are about ready to take their check rides in Lubbock for their private licenses. At least one made a trip last week for his ride and the wind and dust prevented the flight. They are hoping for a let-up in the next few days.

Ike Eulogizes Churchill As Tyranny's foe

LONDON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower said Saturday Sir Winston Churchill was a soldier, statesman and leader whom the United States was glad to honor as its own.

The former general of the Western Allied armies and former president of the United States spoke on British television. He said Sir Winston "was the embodiment of British defiance to threat."

FAMILY GUEST

Saying he had no charter to speak for the United States — he is the guest of the Churchill family and not a member of the official U.S. delegation — Eisenhower declared:

"But if in memory we journey back to the time when Britain and the United States stood shoulder to shoulder against tyranny, then I can speak for the millions of Americans who served with me.

"In their eyes, Winston Churchill was Britain. He was her courage, her resolution."

Eisenhower said Britain's wartime allies regarded Churchill with respect, admiration and affection. They liked to chuckle at his foibles, he added, but they knew he was a staunch man and they respected his leadership.

SUBTLE TESTS

"Out of that association an abiding and, to me, precious friendship was born." Eisenhower went on. "The war ended and our friendship flowered in the later and more subtle tests imposed by international politics.

Big Spring Postm Nomin WASHINGTON dent Johnson ber of Texa S See our you pay get just a more WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee have unveiled a sweeping alternative to President Johnson's health care proposal. The administration bill includes a pay roll tax hike that would cover most of the cost of hospitalization and similar benefits it proposes. Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the tax-writing committee, said he has no doubt the health legislation, under continued committee examination today, will be brought before the House under procedures that will permit a vote on the Republican version. SEES HOPE And Byrnes said the GOP version has a chance, despite the heavy Democratic majority in the House. The GOP leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, said he is for it. The Byrnes plan, estimated to cost up to $3.4 billion annually, or at least $1 billion more than the administration proposal, would be available to everyone 65 and older, like the Johnson version, but no one would be required to join. It would provide full coverage up to $1,000 of hospital and similar services and 80 per cent coverage of additional expenses, including doctors' services and drugs, with $50 deductible. JOHNSON PLAN By contrast, the administration plan would provide hospitalization for 60 days at a time, with the patient paying for the first day; nursing home care for 60 days and some outpatient services, not including general treatment by doctors. To participate in the Republican plan, aged persons would have to pay premiums — or have welfare departments pay them on their behalf. The premiums, geared to the Social Security payments they received or would receive if eligible, were estimated to average $6 a month a person. Death Takes Station Man Rufus Nathaniel Davidson, 64, 220 Northeast 11th, died about 10:30 p.m. Saturday night in a local hospital. Davidson, a former deputy sheriff here, was born Jan. 14, 1901, in Johnson County. He moved to Howard County in January of 1908 with his parents. He married the former Lillian Barnett here Dec. 28, 1923. RAN GROCERY Davidson was a farmer in the Center Point community for several years and also worked for the co-op in that community. He also owned and operated a grocery store in Big Spring for many years. For the past eight years he had operated the D&J Texaco service station here with Clyde Johnson. Davidson was an election judge for Precinct One for a number of years. He entered the hospital three weeks ago. A long time member of the Baptist Church, Davidson held a membership in the East Fourth Street Baptist Church. Business Building Total Excellent

DALLAS (AP) — Non-residential construction in Texas totaled $100,450,943 in January, the second highest January figure in history.

The "Texas Contractor" said: "Over $100 million is one of the best starts in Texas history and foretells another good year ahead."

Predicts No Return To The 'Solid South'

AUSTIN — The Republican Party in most of the South, after the Goldwater defeat nationwide, will reject the remnants of ultra-conservatism that survive in the party, says a University of Texas government professor, Dr. O. Douglas Weeks.

Dr. Weeks predicts a stronger Republican party for the South in future years and a continuing crumbling of Democratic solidarity in his article, "The Prospects of the Republican Party in the South," in the current issue of Public Affairs Comment, published by the UT Institute of Public Affairs.

He writes: "There can be no return to a Solid South. There the Republicans have made too many gains since 1952 for it all to be lost. Most important, the process of breaking the Solid South, in the sense of the habit of blind support to the Democratic party, has been practically completed. This is good for the South and good for the Democratic party."

Although the Republicans have split the Democratic South in the last four presidential elections, they have not made much progress in winning congressional seats, legislative seats, or state and local elective offices, Dr. Weeks remarks.

The most important factor in the election results in the South was the Negro, he says.

"His (the Negro) voting in much larger numbers and largely in bloc was the chief reason for President Johnson's carrying at least four states—Arkansas, Tennessee, Virginia and Florida. It is noteworthy that President Johnson carried all states in which 45 per cent or more of the eligible Negroes were registered," he writes.

Dr. Weeks points out that the two states which gave Goldwater large majorities, Mississippi (87 per cent) and Alabama (69 per cent), had only 6.8 per cent and 23 per cent, respectively, registered voting-age Negroes.

Looking Over Cemetery Work

Parks Superintendent Johnnie Johansen as shown around the concrete ridge where work has been done on the City Cemetery improvement project. A major part of the project involves filling in low ground areas, as shown around the concrete ridge where Johansen stands, to level the ground with the grave plots and allow mechanized mowing of grass.

Cemetery Work Off To Good Start

By PRESTON MAYNARD Swirls of dust still blow along the mostly bare grounds of Big Spring's City Cemetery.

Here and there are grassed areas, but much of the grounds is bare of vegetation. The land itself is uneven, with high and low places between many grave plots.

But the visitor today sees signs of a long-awaited project, launched earlier this month, to improve and beautify a cemetery that was begun in the late 1800's.

LEVELLED
The uneven ridges of land are being levelled or built up with fresh dirt, to allow mechanized mowing equipment to be used on grass that will be seeded this spring.

Water hoses can be seen as workers wet down the newly-graded grounds and in the new section of the cemetery the grade outlines for new streets can be seen.

Since the first week in January, the city's public works crews have been at work in the cemetery, west of SH 350. Dead trees and shrubs have been removed and brush hauled out, a general cleanup has been underway on the grounds and soil hauled in for the filling in of low and uneven places.

The next step—a major one in the improvement effort—will be the installation of water lines and a sprinkler system. Then as spring arrives the grass will be seeded and trees transplanted into the areas.

"What we have done so far is put the new area into rough shape," said Johnnie Johansen, who as parks superintendent carries the responsibility of overseeing the cemetery.

TOO HIGH
In many places one can see the concrete ridge, surrounding a grave plot, which is some six or eight inches above the ground level outside the plot, making it impossible for a mechanical mower to move over the grass on the grave itself. Either soil will be placed around the plots to bring the ground level to a uniform level throughout or, at grave plots where this cannot be done, a ground cover not requiring mower maintenance will be placed on the grave itself, Johansen pointed out.

"We're cleaning up as the work progresses," Johansen said.

A high area south of the cemetery proper has been cut down and the high mounds of dirt graded off are being used to fill in other portions of the cemetery.

In the west central or undeveloped area, graders have cleared the broad space of open land and the rough outline of a curving pair of streets can be seen. Here will be the cemetery's newest section, which will contain flat, uniform markers along all grave sites, allowing mowers to move along unhampered and on a wide lawn of grass. Engineers will also stake off the plots in the new area, to avoid mistakes in the ownership of property, Johansen said.

"We're over halfway through with most of the work," he said, and the grass should be growing over most of the grounds by late summer.

CONTRIBUTIONS
Letters will be mailed soon to owners of lots at the cemetery, asking $25 to be contributed for each lot as support for the improvement program, which will mark the beginning of the long-planned Permanent Care Program.

Actual work will continue for some time yet, before the initial improvement effort is complete. Another major step will be improvement of the streets, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said, with some type of all-weather street to be constructed.

We are studying the street and walk arrangement for the possibility of some streets being closed except for funerals," Lillard said.

The water system, next in line in the project work, will involve installation of some 10,000 feet of four and six inch pipeline and possibly 15,000 feet of smaller pipe, Lillard said. Availability of water has been a major problem at the cemetery in past efforts of maintenance, Johansen said.

A suggestion has also been made for establishing a name other than City Cemetery, although this remains in the disposed to the cemetery.

Rabbi Sees School Aid Plan As Plot

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The leader of more than one million Jews said Saturday the traditional separation of church and state appears threatened in President Johnson's proposals for aid to education.

"Concealed inside a highly imaginative package of an aid to education bill is a proposal to give aid to parochial schools, a proposal which has never been adopted in this country and which was rejected by President Kennedy," said Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath of New York.

The president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations which has 660 reform congregations in the United States and Canada, foresaw: "Millions—and ultimately billions—will be poured into our parochial schools, thus depriving our public schools of the tax dollars desperately needed for the fashioning of a good public school system in this land. And the aroma of federal funds will ultimately tempt every religious group to develop elaborate networks of parochial schools."

Rabbi Eisendrath, who supported President Johnson during the presidential campaign last November, told a northern California regional meeting of his organization:

"Before the American people even know what hit them, we may have on the books of American law some ingenious and extraordinary provisions which would have the unwitting effect of impairing the longstanding traditions of separation of church and state—a principle from which America's true greatness derives."

He called pressure being applied for passage of the bill "one of the cleverest campaigns of political legerdemain in American history."

String Of DWI Cases Listed

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, checking into a complaint against Nelda Bly Whitman, arrested for driving an automobile while intoxicated, has found that the woman has two prior DWI convictions.

As a result, he said, he has transferred the case to the district attorney's office where a charge of DWI second (actually DWI third) will be filed. The new complaint is filed against her under the name Nelda Decker. Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter set her bond at $1,500. She posted bail and has been released from custody.

A flurry of DWI offenses dominated the county jail blotter Saturday. Recent DWI complaint names Augustian Munoz, released on $500 bond; Billy C. Nunley, pleaded guilty, drew three days and $50 fine; Billie Lee Clark, charged with DWI second, held in jail in lieu of $1,000 bail.

Raiders Slam TCU Purple By 108-94 Tab

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech broke the 100-point barrier for the third straight time Saturday in outtracing Texas Christian 108-94, boosting the Red Raiders' Southwest Conference record to 4-0.

TCU pressed Tech throughout the first half. The lead changed hands seven times and was tied six times. Tech led 49-45 at halftime.

Texas Tech boosted its lead to as much as 17 points in the last half, then went into a delay game.

The points were the most by Texas Tech in Southwest Conference play and TCU were the most given up by the Red Raiders this year.

John (Dub) Malaise led Tech with 27 points, but scoring honors went to TCU's Gary Turner with 28.

DALLAS (AP) — A sharpshooting University of Texas basketball team with a torrid 64.4 percentage on field goals walloped Southern Methodist 89-79 in a Southwest Conference battle Saturday night.

The Longhorns held only a one-point advantage at halftime and it wasn't until Larry Franks bagged two free throws for an 84-75 margin with 1:33 remaining that Texas had the game sewed up.

Franks was the leading scorer of the night with 24 points. Jimmy Clark was second high for Texas with 16 points.

Bill Ward was high for SMU with 20 points, followed by Denny Holman with 17.

The unerring eye of Franks provided the highlight of the game. Playing what was probably the best game of his career, he sank seven of seven field goal attempts and 10 of 12 free throw tries.

Tahoka Wins Over Bisons

SEAGRAVES — Seagraves defeated Plains, 51-48, in a District 5-A basketball game here Friday night.

Billy Joe Cathey boosted Seagraves to the win by hitting a field goal and two free shots in the final 20 seconds.

Seagraves now has a 5-1 conference record. Plains is 3-3.

WINK — O'Donnell upended Wink, 44-42, in a District 5-A basketball game here Friday night to even its record at 3-3. Wink is winless in six starts. The game was decided in overtime when Charles Anderson scored with 25 seconds left.

TAHOKA — Tahoka upset Stanton in a District 5-A game here Friday night, 53-43.

Terry Harvick scored 15 points for Tahoka while Dink Polson counted 18 for Stanton.

Stanton won the girls' game, 48-41. Janelle Tate pushed in 23 points for the Buffalo Queens while Cara McNeely had 27 for Tahoka.

Almost everyone had conceded the lead to the double-eagle shooting of Bud Holscher, who had finished more than an hour before with a 65 for a 208 total.

She's Well Protected

Pro boxer Roy Rogers of Levelland puts his dukes in a display of strength and female fight promoter La Juana Waitt certainly appears to be well guarded at the moment. The Lubbock secretary, one of two licensed women ring promoters in the nation, includes Rogers in her plans to bring big time boxing to the South Plains. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Permian Tips Goliad In Midland Title Go

MIDLAND — A fresher Odessa Permian Junior High basketball team defeated Big Spring Goliad, 53-36, in the finals of the Midland Junior High School tournament here Saturday night.

Permian had had an easy time with Odessa Ector at an earlier hour in the semifinals. Goliad on the other hand, was hard pressed to get by Midland Junior High, 54-53, in the semifinals.

The defeat left Goliad with a 13-7 won-lost record. The Mavericks meet Snyder Lamar in Big Spring Thursday and wind up play Monday week at home against Sands.

A Midland player stole the ball from Goliad in the last eight seconds and went the length of the court only to miss the layup. He was fouled in the process but missed both free tosses.

Two free shots by Tom Wood and one by Lonnie Clinton in the last 30 seconds enabled the Mavericks to win that game. Wood wound up with 14 points in the game, Clinton 17 and Jerry Ryan ten.

In the championship contest, Don Malone counted 15 points for the Mavericks. Clinton and Malone of the Goliad club, along with Wayne Johnson and Danny Clendenin of Big Spring Runnels rated the all-tournament squad.

Runnels raised a few eyebrows by fighting back to win consolation laurels, defeating Midland Carver in the finals, 78-67.

Earlier, the Yearlings had turned back Midland Austin by the record score of 91-56, and Midland Lee, 59-56, in that order.

Runnels rolled up its 91 points against Austin despite the fact that it stalled the ball for six minutes.

Johnson scored 29 points and Clendenin 24 for Runnels in the Austin game. Clendenin rang the bell for 23 points in the Lee contest. Against Carver, Clendenin blasted away for 29 points while Johnson had 23.

The three victories gave Runnels a 13-7 record for the year. The Yearlings close out their season Thursday in Snyder against Travis.

Hawks Slump On Road

By TOMMY HART

If they are to prosper during the remaining days of the basketball campaign, the HCJC Jayhawks are going to have to do better on the road... In their last four starts away from home, the Hawks have been anything but impressive... The local collegians are going to have to play sensational ball to achieve the school's 400th victory this year... They opened the campaign with 379 career wins... Herman Smith, Tom King and Roy Baird accompanied Don Robbins to Dallas last week for the Coach of the Year clinic... There are 5,200 golf professionals in the United States, from which this country can select a Ryder Cup team for the annual matches with Great Britain... To meet the competition, England can pick from its 500 pros, plus Scotland's 200 and 50 in Wales — a total of only 750... At Grambling College in Louisiana, football practice is staged at 4 a.m. in season to escape the 100-degree heat and humidity... The school's president for 37 years... Some of the ACC gridirers were disappointed when the coaching staff booked San Angelo College for a 1965 game — the boys felt that they should be playing a bigger 'name' opponent... South Plains College has lost Marlin Davis, a freshman cager, for the remainder of the season due to low grades... In two games against HCJC this season, Davis bucketed 23 points... Hank Watkins, Odessa High's new football mentor, told intimates he wouldn't move from McAllen for less than $12,000 per annum... He signed at Odessa for $10,871, which could mean some of the friends of the school are raising the ante... His new contract calls for an odd figure but it's not so strange when you consider the fact that the school board wanted to pay him less than the high school principals there make... As it turns out, he'll get $4 less per year... The Texas Open Golf Tournament at San Antonio, which recently had its purse upped to $50,000, showed a $13,000 profit last year, when the take was $40,000... Ex-boxer Billy Conn, regarded as a millionaire a few years ago, reportedly is broke now... He's a greeter at the Stardust Hotel in Las Vegas... The Houston Oilers, a football team said to be racked by dissension, will take fewer rookies to camp this summer than any of the other 21 teams in pro ball... The Oilers fared very poorly in bidding for new talent, losing such well known draftees as Jerry Rhone, Malcolm Walker, Ernie Koy and Russell Wray... The only college boys of note they signed were Larry Elkins and Bobby Maples... Jimmy Moore, the Odessa High guard, is bound for SMU... Coach Don Robbins of Big Spring says Permian's Glenn Halsell will be the area's most sought-after lineman by the colleges this fall while Odessa High's Larry Gatlin will get the most attention from the college scouts among the quarterbacks... Among other outstanding quarterbacks returning to District 2-AAAA competition this year will be Bobby Cutshall, Midland High; Forest Lane, Abilene High; and Gary Mullins, San Angelo... John Pont's new coaching contract at Indiana calls for him to receive $20,000 per annum, plus a $3,000 annual contribution to his own pension fund and a new automobile every other year... Bobby Wright, 1964 Big Spring Invitational Golf Tournament champion, has been playing some fantastic golf during the past several days, although winter isn't especially conducive to low scores... His highest score in the stretch was a four-under par 67 and he posted a 64 on another round, during which time he accounted for seven birdies... His partners at the time were Son Powell, Frank Powell and Ted Hull.

Michigan Claims 98-81 Victory

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Michigan locked an error-inducing zone defense on Purdue in the first half, grabbed the rebounds and ran away from the Boltemakers 98-81 Saturday in a Big Ten basketball game. The Wolverines, No. 2 college basketball team in the nation and leaders of the Big Ten, dominated the rebounds 62-46, and their edge was 25-10 in the first half. Larry Tregoning seized 16 before suffering a severe ankle injury late in the game. Michigan walled off Purdue's Dave Schellhase and held him to two baskets in 14 field goal attempts.

Jayhawks Trounce San Angelo Club

By HARDY PRICE After getting off to a slow start Friday night the HCJC Jayhawks humbled the mighty San Angelo College Rams, 98-72, in a Western Junior College League game. This was the first defeat for the Rams in 22 conference outings extending through last season. Going into Friday's game they held a 6-0 record for this season. The game was played before a standing room only crowd in the HCJC fieldhouse. The rebounding of Eddie Nelson and Kurt Papp, along with Nelson's ball stealing, put the game on ice for the Jayhawks. The conference defending Rams took an early lead in the game, 8-2, with 17:34 left in the half. The game was then tied up three times, 17 all, 19 all and 23 all, before the Jayhawks took the lead 25-24 with 7:45 left. They never lost it after that. It took but three minutes for the Jayhawks to build up a seven point lead, 31-24. The go ahead point was a 20 foot jump shot by the Jayhawker's Charles Vass. It was here that the rebounding of Nelson and Papp was put to good use. The Jayhawks

Royal Favors NFL Scouts, Says Scribe

HOUSTON (AP)—A Houston Post columnist says University of Texas coach Darrell Royal has taken sides with the National Football League in its fight with the American Football League to sign college athletes. Jack Gallagher wrote that an official of an NFL team has had access to Texas athletic facilities for years, a privilege sometimes denied AFL men. Royal has complained because end George Sauer Jr. has waived another year of eligibility at Texas, perhaps to sign with the pro New York Jets of the AFL. Royal has said if Sauer signs, he will bar the league's scouts from his practices, dressing rooms and press boxes. Gallagher quoted Royal as saying when several NFL teams learned of his feelings in the Sauer case, they did not talk to the boy. "On countless occasions reporters, along with pro scouts, have cooled their heels outside the Texas dressing room after football games while Bedford Wynne (secretary-treasurer of the Dallas Cowboys of the NFL) remained inside with the team," Gallagher wrote. "Along the sidelines during Texas games, Wynne is more a familiar figure than many of the Texas coaches. In the eight years since Royal became head coach, several Longhorn assistant coaches have departed Austin for other jobs, but Wynne remains at Royal's side—whether the game site be Miami, Berkeley or New Orleans. "Wynne rides the team bus from the hotel to the stadium, sits on the bench, and accompanies the Texas team into the dressing room afterwards. When the time comes for a Texas senior to choose a pro football team, Wynne is in position to bring his considerable influence to bear. "Whether Wynne, a Texas graduate and close friend of Royal's, ever influences a player is beside the point. "In denouncing the AFL, Royal tacitly approves the presence for all these years of a representative on his bench from the other league. In short, Royal has made the mistake of taking sides, a position that leaves him most vulnerable. "One wonders how excited Royal might have become if Sauer decided to sign with Wynne's Cowboys."

Format Of 3 Big Links Tournaments Changed

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Golf Association changed the format of three of its biggest tournaments Saturday, partly in recognition of the established facts of slow play and television schedules. It also gave duffers a possible out on the pesky rule about hitting the flagstick with the ball and increased prize money for both men and women professionals. The amateur championship, a match play event since its beginning in 1895, becomes a 72-hole stroke play tournament. The Open championship and the Women's Open, always medal play events, will be stretched out to four days, eliminating the trying two rounds on Saturday. Since 1926 the Open has been played in three days, except on rare occasions when weather interfered, with 36 holes the last day. Prize money for this year's Open, to be played June 17-20 at the Belleriver Country Club, St. Louis, was increased to $125,000

Plucky Youth Good Athlete BARRACKVILLE, W. V. (AP) — When Jack Rice enters college next fall he will put a successful and almost unbelievable athletic career behind him. But if courage counts for anything he will make a go of university life. For Jack, 17, college will be just another in a series of challenges he has faced in the eight years since he was struck by a train in Illinois. That accident caused the loss of both of his legs below the knees. Since then Jack moved to this northern West Virginia town, learned to walk on artificial limbs and has enjoyed the life of an average teenager. This is courage enough, but Jack had something more that has caught the attention of the nation's news media and various sports organizations. With artificial legs, Jack not only participated in sports, he was good enough to earn three letters as a guard on the Barrackville High School football team.

He also plays basketball and works out with the school team, although he is not a regular and has not lettered. Since The Associated Press first carried Jack's story, he has been honored by the National Football Foundation and other sports groups. He also was presented with a $1,000 scholarship by Mrs. A. B. (Dolly) Cohen of Cincinnati. A Toledo, Ohio, girl — Becky Rieger — wrote to Jack after reading his story. She said they had something in common but wouldn't tell him what it was. Jack went to Toledo after receiving Becky's letter and learned she had been blind for several years but had regained her sight. Finding a bond in their battles to overcome handicaps, the two teenagers have developed a close friendship. With his high school days nearly past, Jack now is considering college. He wants to be a lawyer and his grades indicate he has the ability, but he hasn't picked a school yet.

Crude Production To Set '65 Record

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Domestic crude oil production is expected to reach another record level in 1965 despite continued sharp competition from rivals within the petroleum industry.

Natural gas, natural gas liquids and oil imports continue to chip away at domestic crude's dominant position as the nation's supplier of energy.

Imports have received most of the blame in recent years, but natural gas and its liquid byproducts have steadily claimed larger shares of the domestic markets.

United States crude production increased 6.8 per cent to a record 7,659,000 barrels a day between 1964 and 1965.

On a percentage basis, however, this growth is dwarfed by the gains of natural gas, foreign oil and natural gas liquids.

In the same eight-year period, marketed natural gas jumped 47 per cent to a record 43 billion cubic feet a day. Imported crude and petroleum products jumped 45 per cent to 2,292,000 barrels a day. Natural gas liquids—liquefied petroleum gas and natural gasoline—rose 42 per cent to average 1,150,000 barrels daily.

FORECASTS

Estimates in the annual forecast and review edition of the Oil & Gas Journal indicate these trends will continue in 1965.

The edition includes these other forecasts for the new year:

Domestic crude production to increase 1.4 per cent to a record 7,768,000 barrels a day.

Natural gas—a 6.7 per cent 1964 increase was the largest volumetric gain since 1959 and permitted the marketing of a record 15.7 trillion cubic feet. Another healthy gain is anticipated.

Imports—a 5.2 per cent increase will boost daily receipts to a 2,412,000 barrels a day. The anticipated 120,000 barrels a day increase includes 42,000 barrels of products and 78,000 barrels of crude. Imports of crude would average 1,289,000 barrels daily, up 6.4 per cent from 1964.

Gas liquids—a 5.9 per cent increase to a record 1,208,000 barrels a day.

In presenting its forecasts, the Journal included these observations:

IMPORTS GO UP

1. Imported crude and products claimed less than 7 per cent of new United States demand for petroleum supplies in 1964 but will claim more than 21 per cent of the new supply required to meet 1965's record demand.

2. Domestic crude production's 1.6 per cent gain in 1964 was equivalent to 117,000 barrels a day but Louisiana's gain of 118,000 to 1,529,000 barrels a day meant a combined net loss for all other areas. Of the top 21 producing states, only nine boosted their output during the year.

The Journal said 45,236 wells were drilled in 1964. This represents a 3.6 per cent gain over 1963. The trade publication was a bit pessimistic about 1965, forecasting a small decline to 45,117 completions.

However, the 1965 estimate includes 9,850 wildcat or exploratory wells, compared to only 9,258 in 1964.

DR. ALAN THOMSON

Geologist Is Moved

Alan Thomson, a geologist in Shell Oil Company's Midland area, will be promoted to senior geologist effective Feb. 1. Dr. Thomson is also being transferred to Shell Development Company, E&P Research Division, in Houston for an assignment of approximately two years, at the end of which he will return to the Midland area.

Dr. Thomson received a Ph.D. degree in geology from Rutgers University. He spent two years as a research assistant at West Virginia University before joining Shell in April 1957 as a Petrographer in Midland. He was promoted to geologist in August 1961.

COMPLETIONS

MITCHELL

Robinson Drilling Co. No. 1 J. D. Barber pumped 80 barrels of 30.8 gravity oil, with no water, from perforations between 3,084 and 3,264 feet after fracturing with 22,000 gallons. Operator drilled to 4,300 feet in the late-1964 discovery area and set 4 1/2-inch casing at 2,775 feet. Spool is 1,840 feet from the north and 427 feet from the west lines of section 15-29-15, T&P survey.

Operators Complete World's Deepest Gusher

El Paso Natural Gas Company and three partners have completed the world's deepest gas well. The well was tested in December, and there are indications that they not only found more gas reserves than in any other discovery well tested in 1964, but also that they have opened up a major new natural gas field.

The well is the No. 1 Charles J. Walker, which was initially tested through the drill stem on Dec. 10. It is located about 25 miles west of Fort Stockton in Pecos County. The gas is produced from the Ellenburger formation, through perforations in a four-inch liner from 21,550 to 21,780 feet and from the open hole section, below the liner from 21,783 to 21,793 feet. This production is obtained from a zone 700 feet deeper than any other completed well.

El Paso Natural Gas Co. has a 27 per cent working interest in the discovery, which is operated by Forest Oil Corporation which Humble Oil and Refining Company of Houston and R. J. Zonne of Midland as other interest partners. The partners have leases on approximately 40 sections in the vicinity of their discovery.

"Prospects for this field are so promising that we already have another well drilling," said Lester G. Truby, manager of production for El Paso Natural Gas Co. "It's the No. 1 Violet Patterson, located about a mile northeast of the No. 1 Walker. "We're rigging up on a third well location about four miles northeast of the discovery well."

Truby continued, "and we're starting to build the location for a fourth well, to be drilled about a mile to the north of the No. 1 Walker."

All are targeted for about 24,000 feet — "through the Ellenburger," Truby said.

The new field is about 18 miles west of the Gomez pool, a Pecos County neighbor discovered barely a year ago. The Gomez field also goes down to the deep Ellenburger.

Various firms now have eight wells drilling in Pecos County, all zeroed in on depths of 22,000-24,000 feet. Industry sources estimate that they will take an average of a year to a year and a half to drill and will cost from $1 1/2 to $2 million each.

Dawson, Howard To Get Testings

Two new locations each have been staked in Dawson and Howard counties. The Dawson operators will test the Patricia (Fusselman) and the Ackerly (Dean) areas. The Howard County holes will be in the Iatan, East Howard field.

Forest Oil Corporation will drill the No. 6 E. W. Harris et al three miles west of Patricia to a contract depth of 12,500 feet to the Fusselman. It is staked 3,422 feet from the south and 540 feet from the west lines of league 268, labor 16, Moore County School land survey.

Austral Oil Co. Inc., will drill its No. 1-19 J. King Jr. four miles northwest of Ackerly. Contract depth is 8,900 feet. Spot is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 24-34-4n, T&P survey.

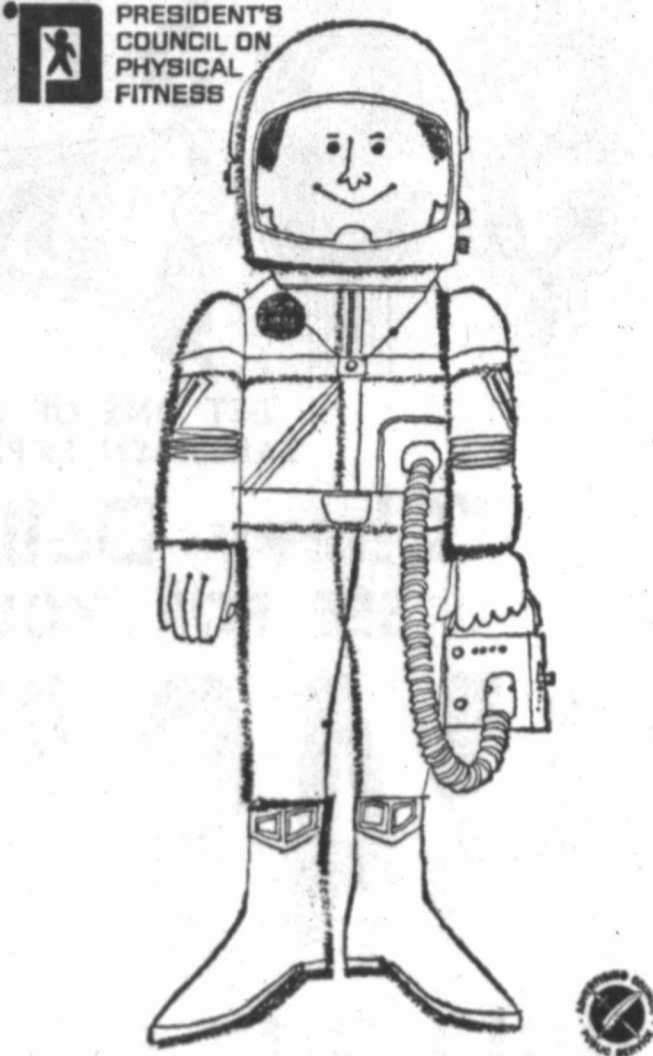

A. K. Guthrie will drill the No. 2 and No. 3 W. R. Reed, 6 miles east of Coahoma, to 3,100 feet. Both are spotted in section 47-30-1n, T&P survey.

No. 2 will be 330 feet from the south and 990 feet from the east lines, while No. 3 will be 990 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east lines of the section.

It originally was started as a 6,800-foot Wolfcamp operation and at last report had reached 6,898 feet in lime, shale and chert, and was drilling ahead. So far it has not reported logging any signs of production.

The location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 15, block A, John H. Gibson survey.

Tucker Drilling Co., Inc. of San Angelo has scheduled a new wildcat in Tom Green County and a re-entry probe in Schleicher.

David Fasken of Midland No. 1-59 Gulf-Miller, Pecos County wildcat, 18 miles southwest of Midland flowed 39 barrels of 15-gravity oil plus an ungauged amount of sulphur water in 17 hours through a choke of unreported size from a lost circulation zone in the lower Grayburg between 1,700 and 1,800 feet, while drilling was in progress.

Contracted to 5,500 feet as an Ellenburger prospector, No. 1-59

Gulf-Miller drilled ahead and set 7-inch casing at 2,100 feet. It now is making hole below 2,692 feet and oil and sulphur water continues to come to the top through the annulus between the pipe and the walls of the hole.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 59, block 11, H&GN survey and 3/4 mile southwest of the Brown & Thorp (Clear Fork) pool.

Delta Drilling Co. of Odessa and Pateley Petroleum, Inc. of Midland have completed two Canyon producers, one in Crockett County and one in Schleicher.

No. 1 West, a two-mile southwest extension to the Eldorado (Canyon gas) pool, is one mile west of Eldorado and 1,133 feet from north and 235 feet from east lines of section 79-A, HE&WT survey.

It potential for an absolute open flow of 9.1 million cubic feet of gas per day from perforations at 6,867-904 feet after a fracture with 10,000 gallons. Gas-petroleum liquids ratio was 27,700-1 and gravity of the distillate was 68.2 degrees.

The No. 1-A Couch, a 3/4-mile northwest extension to the Ozona, Southwest (Canyon) pool of Crockett County is seven miles southwest of Ozona, 660 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of section 19-QR, TTRR survey.

Perforations at 6,266-952 feet, rated a calculated, absolute open flow potential of 1.35 million cubic feet of gas per day with gas-petroleum liquids ratio at 29,400-1. No gravity or treatment was reported.

Rotary Rig Count Jumps

The number of rotary units drilling Friday, when the survey was made by Reed Roller Bit Co. in the Permian Basin Empire, was up eight over the previous week, with 179 bits turning.

This was a decrease of 26 from the 205 reported on the same week in 1964. Lea County, N.M., the traditional leader, showed 26, up one from last week, and Pecos County second with 16, also up one. Ector County was third with 12, an increase of two.

Rig count by counties, with last week's figures in parenthesis, showed: Andrews 9 (10), Chaves 6 (5), Coke 1 (0), Crane 7 (6), Crockett 4 (4), Crosby 1 (1), Culberson 2 (1), Dawson 5 (4), Ector 12 (10), Eddy 5 (5), Fisher 1 (0), Gaines 6 (6), Glasscock 1 (0), Garza 0 (1), Hockley 1 (1), Howard 3 (3), Irion 3 (1), Jeff Davis 1 (1), Kent 1 (1), Kimble 1 (1); Lamb 1 (1), Lea 26 (35), Loving 2 (4), Martin 0 (1), Menard 0 (1), Midland 4 (4), Mitchell 1 (1), Nolan 1 (0), Pecos 16 (15), Reagan 1 (3), Reeves 3 (5), Roosevelt 5 (7), Runtels 5 (2), Schleicher 3 (5), Scurry 2 (1), Sterling 3 (3), Stonewall 1 (0), Sutton 2 (2), Terrell 1 (1), Upton 7 (8), Ward 8 (7), Winkler 14 (8), Yoakum 6 (6). ## Flame Defoliation Will Get Cleaner Cotton Lint

Thermal agriculture appears to be replacing the more common term of flame cultivation as new doors are opened through research, to the use of LP-Gas flame in the production of America's farm crops.

In addition to the accepted practice of flame weed control, agricultural researchers are investigating techniques, equipment, and economics of LP-Gas flame for crop defoliation, desiccation, and insect control.

Approximately 150 agricultural researchers and industry personnel from the Natural Gas Processors and the National LP-Gas Association this week heard reports on current experimental work at a research symposium, which revealed new and unusual uses for LP-Gas that will lead to further mechanization of agriculture and to vast new markets for the petroleum industry.

Defoliation of cotton with infrared heat was reported by California Research Corporation and Manchester Tank and Equipment Company, Dr. R. C. Nunn of California Research, speaking for the research team, stated that tests show that mature cotton can be successfully

Couple Recites Vows In Home Ceremony

Miss Reene Cox became the bride of Eddie Hamlin in a wedding ceremony held Friday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cox, in Silver Heels. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hamlin, Sand Springs.

The double ring vows were pledged before an improvised altar of emerald fern entwined on a white wrought iron stand. The Rev. Darrell Robinson, pastor of the Berea Baptist Church, officiated.

Traditional music was played on the piano by Mrs. Darrell Robinson. Also, she played "I Love You Truly," "Why Do Love You?" "O Promise Me," and "I Love Thee."

The bride, presented at the altar by her father, wore a ball-train-length white gown styled with a full chiffon skirt over satin and a lace bodice fashioned with a rounded neckline and long sleeves. The shoulder-length veil of tulle was attached to a lattice crown. She carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias atop a white Bible and showers of white satin picot ribbon.

Miss La Nita Cox served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a street-length yellow satin dress fashioned with a bouffant skirt and a fitted bodice, scooped at the neckline. She carried a nosegay, of white chrysanthemums accented with yellow satin streamers. Roland Wylie was the best man.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride chose a three-piece winter white brocade suit and gold accessories. She wore the corsage from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at Midway where he is associated with the Kimbell Grain Company. He attended school in Lubbock, and she is a mid-term graduate of Big Spring High School. She is a member of the Industrial Community Training Club and Short-hand Club.

RECEPTION

The bride's table was covered in an ecru lace cloth over red and centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and red carnations. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with red roses.

Mrs. Ronnie Cox, sister-in-law of the bride, registered guests. Those attending from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hamlin, Floydene, Irene, Ina, Debra and Johnny Hamlin, all of Sand Springs.

House party members were Miss Carolyn Hooser, Miss Dolores McKee and Mrs. Roland Wylie.

Teeth Get New Aid

Chewing a toothbrush could someday be the "in" way to clean your teeth.

The idea already has been tested successfully. The experiment involved a new type of toothbrush, an H-shaped silicone rubber sponge that fits over a portion of a person's teeth. A group of bedridden adults and children took part in the test.

The sponge toothbrush was covered with toothpaste and given to the patients, who were told to munch on the rubber from 10 to 50 times on each side of the mouth.

"The improvement in oral hygiene was good," Dr. Myron F. Levenson of Western Reserve University told the American Dental Association convention.

"All of the patients enjoyed using the device, with the exception of one aged, bedridden woman. The children thought of it as a game," he said.

Miss Jane Alice Harrington Weds Donald Dean Gregory

The wedding of Miss Jane Alice Harrington and Donald Dean Gregory was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Saturday during a ceremony read by the Rev. Alfred J. Seddon Jr. of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, in the Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church.

The nuptial scene was illuminated by cathedral tapers in seven branched white wrought iron candelabra entwined with lemon leaves in a peaked front. Centering the altar was a massive sunburst arrangement of silver chalice gladioli, white carnations, white pompon chrysanthemums and emerald fern. The prie dieu, where the couple knelt during the wedding prayer, was formed of white wrought iron with white satin pillows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Harrington, 1207 Dixie, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Orman Gregory, 1708 Eleventh Place.

Miss Kathy Seddon, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections including the "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner; "Abendlied" by Schumann; "Liebestraum" by Liszt; "Pans Angelicus" by Franck; "Ave Maria" by Mach - Gounod; "Siciliano" by Bach; and the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn. She accompanied Mel Ivey as he sang "I Love Thee" by Edward Grieg and "The Lord's Prayer."

BROCADE GOWN
The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her formal gown of white imported silk brocade was styled with a sweetheart neckline in the princess bodice and a sweeping skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a pillbox hat topped with a large rose, its petals fashioned of de-lustered satin.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of feathered white chrysanthemums centered with an orchid and showered with French picot ribbon. The flowers were carried atop a Bible belonging to Miss Mary Locke Crosland.

Miss Crosland and Miss Kay Crownover attended the bride as maids of honor. They were identically gowned in sleeveless empire dresses of cerise delustered satin. Their pillbox hats were styled similarly to the bride's, and each carried an old fashioned nosegay of white carnations.

The best man was Bobby Overman, Odessa, and Earl Meador, Arlington, served as groomsmen. Ushers were David Weatherly of Wells, Gary Pickle, Sammy Waters and D. W. Overman, who lighted the altar tapers.

WEDDING TRIP
For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the bride chose a white wool ensemble with white accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will reside in Denton where both will attend North Texas State University.

A reception honoring the newly married couple was held at Costen Country Club where the parents and feminine attendants joined in receiving guests.

The white - linen - covered refreshment table was appointed with crystal and gold accessories and a gold and white Italian cherub vase held an arrangement of white carnations and leather leaf fern. The tiered white wedding cake was decorated with white roses and topped with white satin wedding bells.

Guests were registered by Miss Charlotte Nobles. Punch was served by Mrs. Donny Morrow, Denton, and Miss Judy Johnson, and cake was served by Miss Polly Jo Pillow, Lancaster, and Miss Mary Lou Springer, Rockwall. Others in the house party were Miss Barbara Douglas, Dallas; Mrs. Fred Crosland, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Nugent, Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Turner Jr., Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pickle, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Lebkowsky, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wallin and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. West.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Williams Jr., Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brook, Roston; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gregory, Stamford; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gregory, Fort Worth; and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nowlin, Midland.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College, is an elementary education major at North Texas State University where she is on the dean's list. She is a member of the Student Education Association, Association for Childhood Education and representative to the Women's Forum.

The bridegroom was graduated from Big Spring High School, Howard County Junior College and North Texas State University where he earned a BS degree in education. His name was on the dean's list and he is associated with Kappa Delta Pi, the Chancery Club and the Student Education Association. He is currently working on a masters degree in government and is a graduate research assistant in the government department.

Shawled Dresses From Paris

Sketches show shawl dress, left, wrapped in front and back, and the kangaroo pouch, right, which were in the spring collection introduced by Guy Laroche in Paris Friday. With the shawl dress come berets in shapes of triangles, squares and nuts, dipped down on the forehead. The pouch is built into the fronts of suits and dresses. The silts are on the side of the stomach pockets. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Laroche Puts Pouch In Paris Collections

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer
PARIS (AP) — As long as a man has money to spend, he will have no complaints about the spring collection Pierre Balmain introduced here today.

Pretty mannequins who smile, waistlines at waists, and hemlines at knees, youthfulness without silliness, softness without being languorous and wilted, chic, elegance, both vivid and delicate hues and opulence in tasteful doses — all the things men generally approve in fashion but the price tags — appeared in due course on the platform of the Balmain show-room.

The jewelry industry might have complaints. Daytime suits and dresses were so finely detailed with collars and bands of honeycomb and hemstitching that even a string of pearls would have detracted.

As for the party fare, Balmain added his own sparklers as jewel-encrusted cuff bands and belts on sleek silk suits. Jewel-embroidered overblouses with plenty of gold thread thrown in and some twinklers on the formal wear preclude getting the diamonds out of the safe.

But what husbands won't spend on jewelry, they'll put in

She was attired in a green silk frock accented with a pink carnation corsage. # Grants Offered For Teachers

AUSTIN — Ten scholarships will be offered in 1965 by the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in its program of summer study for career teachers. Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, state president, has announced.

The recipient of each scholarship will receive a grant for $400 for study next summer in a college or university of the teacher's own choice. Mrs. Danforth said. Recipients will agree to take a minimum of six semester hours in departments which can contribute to the improvement of proficiency in their teaching fields; they also will agree either to teach in Texas the following year or to return the amount of the scholarship.

Last year eight $400 summer scholarships were offered by the Texas Congress of P-TA to career teachers; there were 487 applicants. The growth of the Congress's endowment fund made it possible for the Board of Managers to increase to ten the number of scholarships offered in 1965. Mrs. Danforth said. She added that the board's action was in response to "the overwhelming evidence of need" for the program.

"It is our hope that teachers, administrators, and school boards of Texas will recognize this program for what it is — the putting into action of our hope for real cooperation and support by the P-TA for children in our Texas schools," the state president added.

All Texas career teachers are eligible for the summer scholarships except previous recipients of the scholarships and close relatives of the P-TA Board of Managers, the office staff, and the Board of Trustees of the Endowment Fund. Teachers interested in applying:

for scholarships should obtain application blanks by writing prior to Feb. 15 to the Scholarship Committee, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, Box 3665, Austin 78704. Completed applications must be submitted by March 1.

Each application may be accompanied by letters of endorsement from the teacher's immediate supervisors but the cover letter must be signed by the superintendent of schools.

Gaiters Get Nod From Collegians

The Gaiter, semi-boot, semi-shoe and sock, is a favorite of the college crowd. They get more kicks from these than boots because gaiters preserve the shapeliness of legs, come in gaily patterned fabrics, as well as sleek vinyl.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Newspapers Used As Insulation For Beds

Dear Heloise: If your mattress rests on open springs, six to eight thicknesses of newspaper make the best insulator imaginable. The newspaper keeps the cold from coming up from the floor. We find that even our electric blankets use less current to keep us warm if the draft is cut off from the floor. Cheers... Amey O'Connell

Dear Heloise: In this household we never seem to have pencil and paper handy when we need to write down messages and reminders for each other. The kids draw and color all over any paper they can find available. Others may have the same problem, so I would like to pass along this hint:

Write the message on the mirror over the wash basin in the bathroom with a bar of soap! When the message is received the person picks up the nearest washcloth and wipes the mirror clean...

During college days, my roommate and I started this and it has been useful so many times since... Devoted

Dear Devoted: For years my husband has taken my lipstick and drawn on the bathroom mirror. "Please don't forget to send my good suit to the cleaners." (When I write him messages like this I use my lipstick lightly, but he seems to ruin the end of it every time...) Besides, it takes toilet tissue and rubbing alcohol to get the lipstick off and does not seem to shine the mirror too well either!

Your bar of soap works wonders! Not only is the soap removed more easily, but it leaves no stain and cleans and polishes the mirror at the same time. You are a blessing... welcome into our clan of housewives... Heloise

FROM HELOISE'S KITCHEN
Dear Ladies: When you buy string beans and vegetables on sale and cook a big pot of them:

We have been testing these homecooked string beans (we bought all of these pounds on sale!) and find that if you cook them with nothing but bacon grease (this saves buying dry salt pork or using up expensive bacon), and do NOT add salt while cooking, they are far better.

Just before the string beans were done, we poured salt in a measuring cup, added a bit of hot water from our faucet and poured the salty water into the green beans.

Gals, you should taste the difference! The only thing we cooked our beans in was water and fresh ground pepper and a little bacon grease. They were lush.

We also tried this on carrots and it was fantastic. Any time we added a teaspoon of salt while boiling a big pot of green beans or carrots we also added one-half teaspoon of sugar. I don't know what this does but it surely makes it float on cloud nine... Heloise

Dear Heloise: A pound coffee can is a good size for a ball of twine or string holder. Punch hole in lid for the twine to come through. The can may be enameled to suit color scheme. These are also nice when knitting or crocheting... Rose

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

We have a sort of 'United Nations of the Dog World' in our neighborhood which is noticeable when the boys gather for a game of basketball or football. These canine representatives range from the very small and young to the quite large and old. Rinny, the aged German Shepherd that belongs to the VERNON SMITHS is probably the eldest of the lot. She doesn't take part in too many of the activities, unless the paper boy or mail man comes along, then she barks but does little chasing. The MORAN OPPEGARDS own Ginger, a friendly Boxer which I believe is also of German origin. His lower jaw is so out-thrust it appears that he is trying to take a bite upside down. Another German dog in the group is Snickers, a comical appearing but pretty and sleek dachshund belonging to the BILL CROOKERS. He doesn't give either dog or boy any trouble. His only difficulty is trying to get out of the way of the games.

Smallest and youngest of the canines is Pierre, the French poodle belonging to the JOHN SMITH family. He is too small to make much difference except in his attempt to join in a dog rough and tumble which most of the time leaves him yelping for help. The Scottie of the bunch is Tammy who is watched over and loved by the ORVAL SHAPLANDS. She is such a ball of white that it is difficult to tell whether she is backing up or going forward unless one is quite close and can make out where her ears are.

The little fox terrier, Rhonda, belongs to the GRANVILLE HAHN family; Sam, a loose-jointed, liver and white bird dog is a joy to watch. He is owned by the JOHN R. BIZZELLS. A youngster, he seems to have a hard time keeping himself together. His feet are very large and his bones show prominently under his hide. At this stage of the game he appears to be one of the most unattractive of the lot. His body is so full of movement he seems to be going several directions at the same time, and he loves all the boys to the extent he frequently nips them a little with his sharp teeth.

The fighters of the lot, neither of whom have too impressive a background, are our Stubby and the COOPER McCRAINEYS' Ginger. They must have different political leanings because to my knowledge they have had a vicious fight every time the boys and dogs gather.

Enjoying the beauty and warm weather of Miami, Fla., during the past week have been the CECIL McDONALDS who spent last weekend in the resort city. This past week MR. and MRS. CLYDE McMAHON JR. were part of the throng. McDonald won the trip given by American Motors and the McMahons attended a convention of concrete dealers.

In Abilene Thursday night to attend the Van Cliburn concert at Hardin-Simmons University were the REV. and MRS. R. F. POLK and the REV. and MRS. BYRON ORAND.

A different trip for the W. F. TAYLORS recently was one to the ski run at Santa Fe, N.M. The couple accompanied their daughter and son-in-law, the ELMER ATWOODS, during a visit with them at their home in Belen, N.M. On the return trip the Taylors visited her sister, MRS. J. R. CALDWELL, in Bovina.

A very young and important guest of the JAMES WHEATS is their 21-month-old granddaughter, MARY CATHERINE FUTRELL, of Mesquite, the daughter of MR. and MRS. JAMES FUTRELL.

Incidentally, SUE WHEAT HIPP played the part of Marian the librarian in "Music Man" when the musical was put on as an entertainment feature at the U.S. air force base near London, England, during December. CAPT. AND MRS. HIPP and their family have been overseas since last summer.

One thing the ROY MORANS and the JOHN STALCUPS have after their memorable attendance at the inauguration of Gov. Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is a pictorial record. The two couples took seven rolls of film of the event and of other scenes about the capital city. The Big Spring people flew to Austin and enjoyed a tour about the city prior to the festivities.

Children's Party Held

A party held Thursday afternoon at the Westside Recreation Center was sponsored by the Modern Woman's Forum and was attended by approximately 45 children.

Hostesses, all members of the welfare committee, were Mrs. Hugh Duncan, chairman, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. John Fariss and Mrs. W. A. Laswell.

A valentine theme was used for the party which was held from 4 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Duncan provided the large azelea plant which served as the centerpiece on the refreshment table. A pink cloth was used, and the table was dotted with valentines which were later distributed to the children. The large sheet cake was decorated with a valentine theme, and Mrs. Laswell and Mrs. Cook served punch from a crystal bowl.

Baskets of white gladioli and yellow carnations adorned the altar. Joe Don Rowland sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Promise Me." The organist was Miss Dixie Todd. The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a white wool knit two-piece suit styled with a blouson jacket. Her crown hat of white satin was attached to a short veil, and she wore white accessories. She wore a blue garter, a gift of

New Bible Baptist Church Organized

The Bible Baptist Church, an independent missionary church with the Baptist Bible Fellowship International, in Springfield, Mo., was organized in Big Spring last week.

It is located at the corner of Thorpe and Clanton Streets, on property formerly owned by Bethany Baptist Church, American Baptist Association, which has disbanded.

The church here was begun as a mission, with the Edgemont Drive Baptist Church of Abilene as the parent church. The Abilene pastor is the Rev. Edward A. Clark, who was moderator of the organizational service. The Rev. George A. Shoff, Calvary Baptist Church of Snyder, brought the charge to the church.

Other ministers participating were the Rev. R. W. Dunn, Fundamental Baptist Church, Sweetwater; the Rev. Bob Henson, Central Baptist Church, Coleman; and the Rev. Emory, Calvary Baptist Church, Merkel.

The new church unanimously called the Rev. Charles H. Harper, native of Fort Worth, as pastor. He was graduated from North Side High School and then served four years with the U. S. Marine Corps in California, Korea, and North Carolina. He is also a graduate of the Baptist Bible College, Springfield, Mo. Rev. Harper has held pastorates in Wilmington, N. C., Sterling, Colo., and was associate pastor in Sherman. He and Mrs. Harper have two children, Kevin Lee, 3, and Kimberly Ann, 2.

First deacons for the new church are William E. Row, Henry Adams, L. C. Rodgers, and W. M. Brooks. Mrs. W. E. Row is pianist, and Randall Cotton is song leader.

Herald Staffers Share In Annual AP Awards

Two Big Spring Daily Herald staff members and a former staffer, shared today in awards of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association for outstanding work last year.

Merry Jo Bright, women's editor, captured first place for women's news writing on papers in cities under 75,000. Tommy Hart, sports editor, won honorable mention for his football coverage of the Big Spring Steers last fall. Also given honorable mention for photo journalism was Keith McMillin, for a decade the Herald's photographer. He now is chief photographer with the Columbia (Mo.) Tribune.

Mrs. Bright won on her story about Senora Thresa Rayos Yanez, 87, a long time resident of Big Spring and matriarch of a family that included 17 children, 62 grandchildren, and 113 great-grandchildren. "Senora Yanez is a lucky woman..." wrote Mrs. Bright. "She is loved and revered as the oldest member of the Yanez family. Like an iron butterfly, the tiny woman has conquered poverty and held death at bay to outlive 10 of her 17 children..."

The story went on to paint a delicate, feeling story of the devout little lady who was honored by her family with a birthday dinner party.

Hart, who last year won first place in the sports writing category, was cited for his stories on football games. Typical of these was the one concerning the Big Spring-Midland game: "The Big Spring Steers applied the choreography of Coach Don Robbins to a victory tune in waltzing to a 27-13 win over the Midland High Bulldogs (in Midland) before 7,500 emotion-spent devotees of the autumnal madness Friday night..."

McMillin's citation came for a picture page entitled "The Livin' Is Easy." This depicted scenes at the G. T. Orenbaum, Willard Sullivan, Dr. F. W. Lurking, Roy Rogan and A. K. Guthrie homes. In a sense it was a double triumph for Mrs. Bright, for she assisted by writing the descriptive matter and designed the layout of the Sept. 6, 1964 page.

Annually the Texas AP editors issue cash prizes and certificates to working members of the AP papers who have shown excellence in their work. Entries are judged by editors on leading metropolitan out-of-state newspapers. This year's awards were announced today at the annual state APME meeting in Orange.

Music Students To Attend Clinic

Ten band members and one choir member from Big Spring High School will take part in the annual clinic convention sponsored by the Texas Music Educators Association in Dallas Feb. 11-13. Teachers and talented young musicians from throughout the state will attend the meet. Leading musicians from throughout the United States will serve as directors.

Don Haney, member of the all-state chorus, from Big Spring; Hollis Webb, Lynn Christensen, Juanita Palmer, Bill Davis, Kathy Seddon, all of the all-state orchestra, and Kenneth Greenhill, Pat Hamilton, Paula Hood, Charles Macklin, and Susan Levy, of the all-state band, will attend the clinic convention.

Douglas Wiehe, band director, and Mel Ivey, choir director, will join the group in Dallas. The convention highlight will be the grand concert Feb. 13 featuring the all-state performing groups. The choir, the orchestra, and the band will perform in the public concert at 8 p.m. in the arena of the Dallas Memorial Auditorium, with 800 all-state performers selected through auditions from among the more than 7,000 regional winners in Texas.

Weston Noble, director of bands at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, will direct the all-state band; Frederick Fennell, director and conductor of the Miami University Wind Ensemble, Miami, Fla., will direct the all-state symphony orchestra; and Dr. Elaine Brown, of Singing City, in Philadelphia, Pa., will direct the all-state choir.

Honor concerts will be given Thursday and Friday nights in the theatre of the Dallas Memorial Auditorium. The Thursday program will feature the La Feria AA High School band, and the Tascosa High School orchestra, Amarillo. The Friday concert will be given by the Brownsville High School band, and by the all-state choir, accompanied by the string ensemble of North Texas State University.

J. F. Lenzo, executive secretary of the TMEA, said the association sets as its goal the most proficient methods in music education. Through workshops, panel discussions, demonstrations and lectures in band, orchestra, choral, elementary and college level educational techniques, the TMEA hopes to bring about this goal.

Boy Scout Week will be observed in Big Spring Feb. 7-13, Bill McRee, Scout executive, said. Two special days will be set aside during the week, in addition to Scout Sunday.

Cubs will be asked to wear their uniforms to school Feb. 8 and to be available for any special service suggested by the school principals, such as raising the flag, and other projects.

Boy Scouts will wear their uniforms to school Feb. 10 and do whatever good turns they may find or have assigned.

"All Scouts and Cubs are expected to wear uniforms to church Feb. 7," McRee said. "They will be recognized by the pastors. Some churches will arrange for the boys to sit in groups."

A Devotional For The Day

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Psalms 46:1)

PRAYER: O God, our Father, be Thou our refuge throughout this day. Guide, direct, and keep us that we may be worthy followers of our Lord Jesus. Strengthen us to meet the needs of this day. This we ask in the name of our Lord and Master, Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Moving Growing Traffic

Business operators on Gregg Street are undergoing a period of change and in some cases drastic adjustment due to the imposition of the no-parking regulation for this key artery.

When the order took effect Thursday, it was not unexpected. Indeed, the Texas Highway Department had an understanding on this before it authorized the new overpass on Gregg Street. The department was responding to appeals to keep US 57 through the city rather than permitting it to loop or take an alternate route. The department, which must account for movement of an increasing volume of traffic on this important transcontinental route, pointed out that if four lanes lead into the city and four lanes traverse the new overpass, then certainly the street must fit these four lanes through the city. This meant utilization of the street from curb to curb, hence the no-parking order.

A majority of the businesses have off-street parking. Those which do not must make some sort of arrangements, and for some operators this will be difficult. In the long run, however, this will be done, and it may even have the effect of stimulating development on at least one side of Scurry and Lancaster.

There is one other major benefit from the overpass in its attractiveness. Instead of a caged impression of the city, the traveler now has an unobstructed view as well as unimpeded movement. This could set the tone for other brightening along the route. Already one corner downtown has been ridged of unsightly buildings. Others may follow in time, so that the over-all results will be good.

Growing Institution

The unprecedented total of 705 for one day's registration at Howard County Junior College on Thursday may not necessarily mean a record spring enrollment. It would not be at all surprising, however, if this did not prove to be the case.

This rate of sign-up does point to things to come, for in the compass of this new day were 32 more full-time students than were enrolled for the spring semester a year ago. By the time registration deadlines fall this weekend, it may be that the increase in full-time students may compare favorably with the more than 50 for the autumn semester.

All this means a gain in the semester hour load, which after all is the real measurement of class demands. And this is the measure of efficient use of facilities and staff. This means that the college is growing, that increasing pressures will be on it for the foreseeable future, and that the governor's program for higher education is adopted, the college will have a more important role than ever before.

'President' And 'Presidency'

WASHINGTON — Maybe Chief Justice Warren didn't make a slip, after all, when he administered the oath of office to Lyndon B. Johnson on inauguration day. The Constitution specifies the oath to be taken by an incoming President as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

BUT WHEN the Chief Justice read it at the inauguration this year, he spoke of "the office of the presidency of the United States." Mr. Johnson repeated the same words in taking the oath.

This might seem to be merely a slight change in the wording of the oath, but actually, it could have more meaning than appears on the surface. For, in prescribing the exact words of the oath, the founding fathers perhaps didn't realize that, with the passage of time, people would be inclined to speak of "the office of the presidency" as being at least modern and up-to-date.

TOO OFTEN, unfortunately, those who have criticized the Supreme Court have forgotten that, in the evolution of American life, many changes have occurred, and it may be noted that "the office of the presidency" comprehends far more today than it ever did before in the history of the American republic. The powers of the presidency now are manifold, and the responsibilities of the office are more extensive than they were a century or more ago.

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY, moreover, gives the word "presidency" specifically as a synonym for the phrase "the office of the President of the United States." So that, strictly speaking, it would not be necessary to use the word "office" at all, and a future chief executive taking the oath could promise "to execute the duties of the presidency," and it would be far clearer. The Supreme Court of the United States once said:

"For with the Constitution, as with a statute or other written instrument, what is reasonably implied is as much a part of it as what is expressed."

DOUBTLESS THERE will be the usual captious critics who will raise a question as to whether Mr. Johnson was constitutionally inaugurated since he did not actually speak the words of an oath identical with what is prescribed by the Constitution. But there are always legalists who look at things literally, instead of recognizing that some meanings become obsolete and that the spirit of the words of the Constitution is considered today more important than any fidelity to literalism—which seems also to have become old-fashioned.

But if there are any doubts on the subject, they may be dismissed because, after all, it seems unlikely that members of the Supreme Court would ever countenance for one moment the idea that anything a Chief Justice said in reading from the Constitution could possibly be due to a misprint or be a misreading of the text.

IT CAN, indeed, be argued that Mr. Warren has certainly improved the wording of the oath and given it more vitality and freshness, and that he has brought it more within "the spirit of the times" than his predecessors ever did as each President recited the oath on inauguration day.

IT CAN, indeed, be argued that Mr. Warren has certainly improved the wording of the oath and given it more vitality and freshness, and that he has brought it more within "the spirit of the times" than his predecessors ever did as each President recited the oath on inauguration day.

The church is God's institution on earth for the fulfillment of His purpose to make Himself known. It is both an obligation and privilege for every Christian to take an active part in the work of the church. The church in your community may not be all that you hope for. But if that church basically holds to the Bible, give it your support in prayers and service, thus making it more nearly what Christ would have as His representative on earth to be. Pray for its revival and witness faithfully to all that Christ has done for you. We go to church to worship God, to give as well as receive. Go and worship God and He will meet and bless you there.

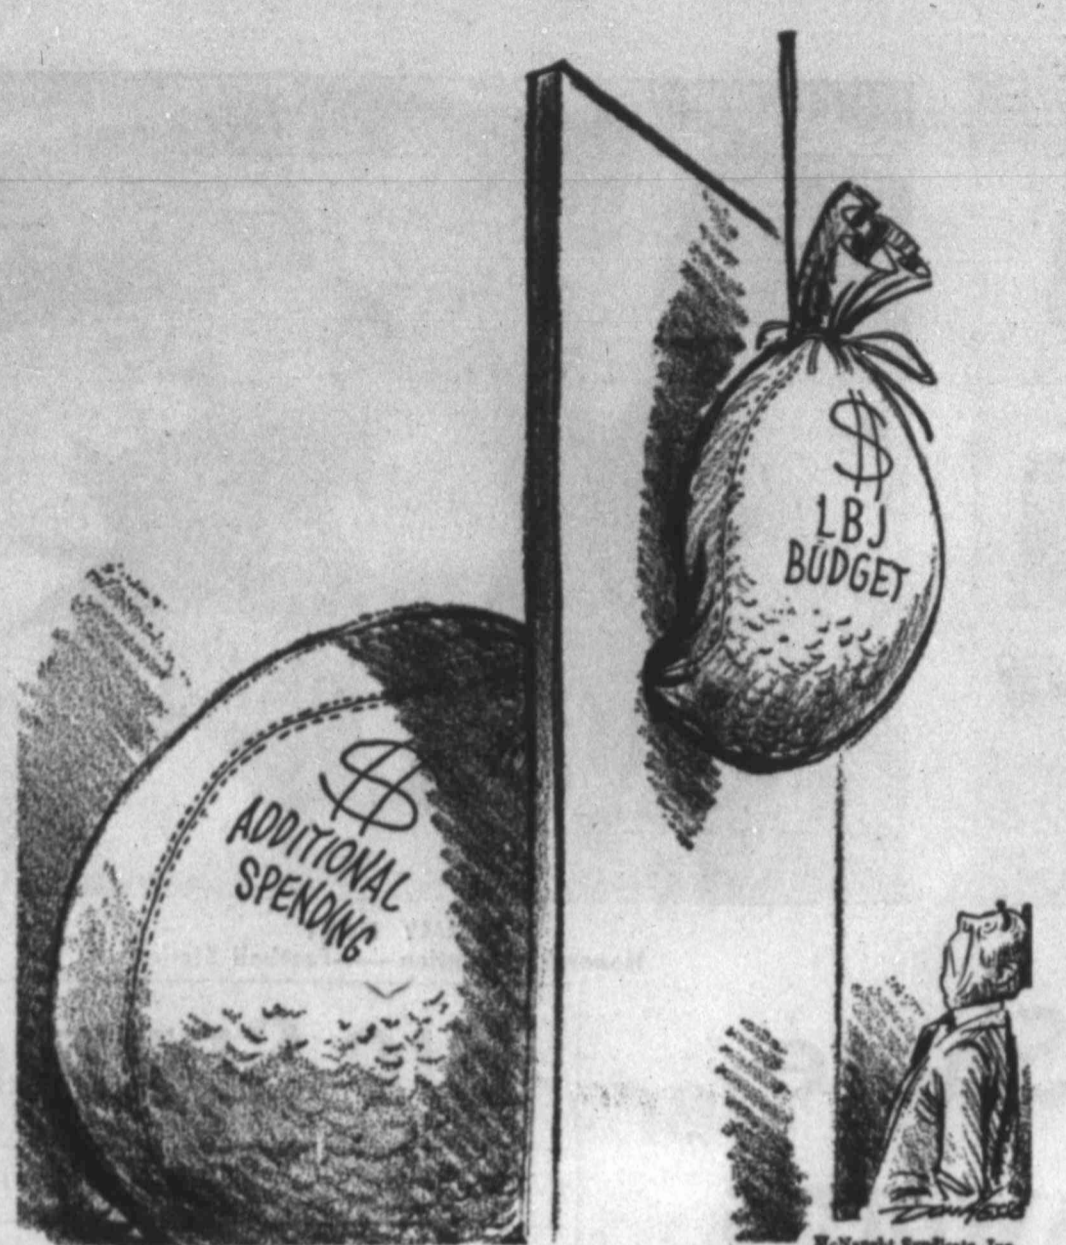

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The average rate of return on the investment in a college education is 10 to 12 per cent annually, according to a study by a Columbia University professor published by the National Bureau of Economic Research.

The report shows that an individual who pays $10,000 for his college education can expect to earn from $1,000 to $1,200 more every year of his working life than if he had not gone to college. The rate of return is even higher than this in the case of urban, white male college graduates, the report states. As the study points out, even though the number of college graduates has increased rapidly in the past 20 years, this has not affected their economic position relative to the rest of the population. And the demand for college graduates keeps growing.

On top of its benefits to the individual, the investment in college education also yields dividends to society at large. A highly educated citizenry, the study shows, contributes to bigger tax revenues, reduced welfare costs, a lower crime rate and to more productive industry. Any way you look at it—in terms of personal income or national wealth—higher education pays. It would be hard to find a better investment.

J. A. Livingston LBJ Says We Can Lick Economic Depressions

President Johnson has challenged the inevitability of the business cycle. This is new and important political doctrine.

In his Economic Report to Congress, he says: "I do not believe recessions are inevitable." Those seven words are italicized for emphasis.

Then the message continues: "Up to now, every past expansion has ended in recession or depression—usually within three years from its start. But the vulnerability of an expansion cannot be determined by the calendar. Imbalance—not old age (duration)—is the threat to sustained advance."

"IN PRINCIPLE, public measures can head off recessions before they start."

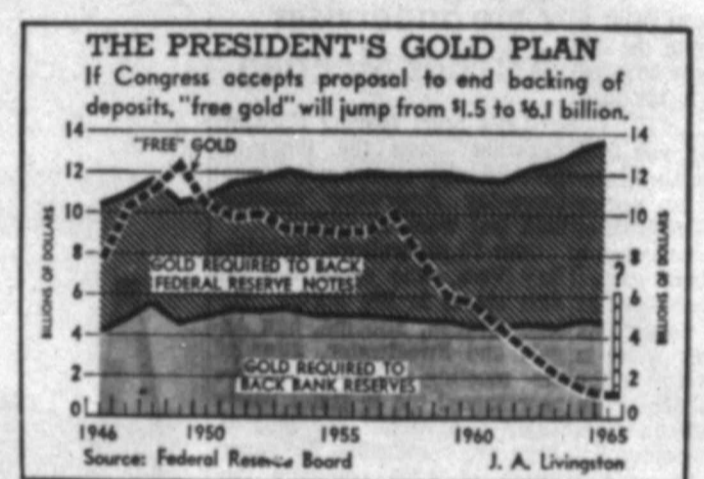

Mistakes, public or private might cause a recession "without an adequate warning," the President says, but "we can head them off, or greatly moderate their length and force—if we are able to act promptly."

The 1964 Economic Message was bold, but it did not go as far. Then, the President declared:

"I DO NOT say that we can, at one stroke, wipe out recessions or legislate the business cycle out of existence. But vigilant, bold, and flexible policy can prevent some recessions and nip others in the bud."

Thus, the 1965 Message signals the emergence of a bold, new mind—Gardner Ackley's—in an office that has been graced by an above-average share of intellect. The test will be: Will this new doctrine succeed?

Walter W. Heller, former chairman of Council of Economic Advisers, advised first President Kennedy and then President Johnson to cut taxes in time of deficits. This was the new energizer—an economic expander. It was his bold, new thought.

NOW, ACKLEY, as Heller's successor, puts his imprint on political-economic philosophy with the doctrine of non-inevitability in the ebb-and-flow of tides in the affairs of men. The government, at all times, must be ready, if the private sector lags, to step in with tax cuts or public spending to avoid let-downs. It's too costly to permit recessions.

Just when Ackley challenges old doctrine, international un-casiness challenges him. The President is not free to disregard foreign forebodings in setting domestic policy.

THIS COUNTRY still has the largest stock of gold of any nation in the world—$15 billion. In terms of foreign assets and productive capacity, the U. S. is recognized as the world's strongest. Ask any central banker if he'd rather own a long-term U. S. Treasury bond or the bond of France or some other country and the invariable answer will be: "U. S., of course."

But long-term confidence isn't always sufficient to offset short-term tremors. As of now, foreign short-term claims against the dollar amount to $29,000,000.

THE REMAINING $11.2 billion represents private holdings, mainly in Europe. This is potentially "hot money." It is the main threat against the U. S. gold supply, and it is offset by about $6 billion of American short-term claims against other countries, of which only $1 billion is in Europe.

To make perfectly clear that the gold holdings of the Treasury are available to meet claims against the dollar, President Johnson is asking Congress to eliminate the gold backing against deposits (reserves) of commercial banks with the Federal Reserve System.

THIS WILL release $4.6 billion for overseas payments, raising the nation's "free gold" to $6.1 billion (see chart). This should be ample—unless panic sets in, unless for some reason other central bankers follow, sheeplike, the Bank of France and cash in some of their dollars for gold.

THE REPORTER watched the Johnson limousine go by from the same National Press Building window which disclosed the solemn and magnificent pageant of the Kennedy funeral as it passed along Pennsylvania Avenue and returned a day later in splendor and sorrow on its way to the White House, the Cathedral and Arlington. Earlier, not far away and centered about the monuments to George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, but inundating the Washington in August '63, with its air of a religious camp meeting and its subdued beat of revolutionary drums. At a further time still was the Roman triumph in January '61 of the young conqueror who gave an inaugural address which still beggars description and defies comparison with anything in our age and land.

TO COME BEHIND such memorable occasions was a misfortune for those who planned and enacted the Johnson show and his official unveiling of the Great Society. The President, the earliest of men, the most familiar of figures in this town, the best-qualified professional we've ever had in the craft of political and personal leadership. But the drama of his take-over had already happened in November '63. His election victory was sweeping and mandatory, yet not unexpected and reflective or evocative of any great outpouring of personal affection, as were the narrow win by John Kennedy and the doxy battle of Harry Truman.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Wonder With Words, Worker At Night

Countless millions of words have been written and spoken in tribute to, and in review of the masteries of, Sir Winston Churchill, so the additions herewith are feeble.

However, as an unabashed admirer of this man I regard as the giant of the 20th Century, I think of a couple of facets that had particular appeal to me. We can omit all that he did for his empire, for the world and for the cause of freedom—these have been covered.

ONE OF THESE facets in which I have stood in respect was Sir Winston's love of the English language. What he himself could do with it has seldom, if ever, been equaled; so that those of us who hack at it look constantly to his star. His great phrases, his wonderful wit, have been referred to many times.

It is not inconceivable that he could manipulate the language because he loved it, and did not hesitate to say so.

"THE ESSENTIAL structure of the ordinary British sentence is a noble thing," he said. "I would make all boys learn English. And then I would let the clever ones learn Latin as an honor and Greek as a treat. But the only thing I would whip them for is not knowing English. I would whip them very hard for that."

Ah, that this inspiration were before every child in the English speaking world! When improvement can be had in communication, then we will have approached a solution to so many other problems.

ANOTHER THING about Winnie was that he was loathe to leave his bed in the morning, and reluctant to return to it at a late hour of the night. Nobody to my knowledge has said this, but he must have been a "night person," one of those whose elemental makeup is such that the juices of resolve and action, of work and productivity, do not flow full measure with the rising of the sun. In Churchill's case, it made no difference what hours he worked; in the case of some sluggards, this "night person" philosophy may be overdone.

YOU MUST HAVE read that the great man wouldn't budge from his bed during the morning; that he awoke rather late, had the papers brought to his bed; had his breakfast there; and then, with a tray-like desk athwart his torso carried on what activities that were necessary or struck his whim—all while he remained in his pillowed comfort.

The story is that Mrs. Churchill had difficulty in prizing him out in time for 1:30 p.m. luncheon engagements.

BUT CAME HIS eventide, and his dinners, and his nights, and he was geared for real effort. And around 10:30 or 11, well-dined and wine-d, rested, and almost carefree of the day's schedule, he would settle down to a few hours of concentrated work, during which he would accomplish more than at any other period of the day. It seldom was before 2 a.m. that he quit.

I DO NOT TAKE issue with the "early to bed, early to rise" axiom. It has been many times over well established.

But if my best thoughts come in the wee small hours, there could be just a touch of conscience-easing in the knowledge that here is when Sir Winston, too, was most productive. And if he just hated to get up in the mornings, I sort of love him for it.

The Face Of Britain

LONDON — To see the face of Britain—Britain past and present—you had only to walk along the queue that extended for a mile or more waiting to file past the bier of Sir Winston Churchill lying in state in Westminster Hall.

They were mostly middle-aged or older. They saw it through with Winnie, through the dark, terrible days when the fate of Britain hung so precariously in the balance. They waited with the stoical, orderly patience characteristic of this people for that brief glimpse in the ancient hall of the coffin draped in the Union Jack with the honor guard and the six candles shedding small circles of light in the somber gloom.

AT INTERVALS of a block or so is a woman in a mink coat, a city man in a bowler hat. But for the most part this is middle-class Britain—solid, substantial, essentially unchanged through the years despite all the frothy surface of such phenomenon as the Beatles and the great train robbery.

These were the people who set their faces against Churchill when in the 'Thirties he was a Cassandra warning of the peril of Nazism and Hitler's rising military might. Why, they seemed to want another war. They were outraged when he suggested that perhaps Edward VIII might keep his throne even though he married an American divorcee, Mrs. Ernest Simpson.

BUT THAT IS all in the forgotten past. What remains is an immense and moving gratitude; a pervading sense of the debt owed by a whole nation to one man. Despite certain similarities in the pomp and pageantry the atmosphere is quite different from that of the lying-in-state and the funeral of John F. Kennedy.

Deep shock and sorrow for a young man struck down at the moment of his promise marked that other occasion. This is almost worshipful homage to a great statesman who had lived the fullest possible life for 90 years. In his decline he had become enfeebled and a peaceful death was a merciful end.

Respectful and devoted as these mourners are, there is something almost proud and exuberant in the air—a sense that he was ours, the greatest figure of this century and a recollection of his very human qualities, his puckish humor and his Olympian anger. A woman in the line says to her companion: "He'd have a twinkle in his eye looking down at all of us waiting here in the cold."

You hear people say, "Isn't it too bad he couldn't be here because he would love it so?"

HE LOVED the traditional pageantry. He loved massed bands, which explains why he chose himself those that were to play in his funeral procession. Often unabashed tears coursed down his cheeks as the bands played his favorite patriotic airs.

A remark he made at a press conference in Washington on the occasion of his last visit to America is recalled. Asked whether he feared death at the age of 80, he answered: "I am prepared to meet my Maker. Whether my Maker is prepared for the great ordeal of meeting me is another matter."

WASHINGTON — For a lot of reasons, none to the President's discredit, his inaugural was not a lustrous affair.

It could not escape comparison with the recent ceremonies which have filled the nation's capital with people, panoply and emotion.

THE PRESIDENTER watched the Johnson limousine go by from the same National Press Building window which disclosed the solemn and magnificent pageant of the Kennedy funeral as it passed along Pennsylvania Avenue and returned a day later in splendor and sorrow on its way to the White House, the Cathedral and Arlington. Earlier, not far away and centered about the monuments to George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, but inundating the Washington in August '63, with its air of a religious camp meeting and its subdued beat of revolutionary drums. At a further time still was the Roman triumph in January '61 of the young conqueror who gave an inaugural address which still beggars description and defies comparison with anything in our age and land.

TO COME BEHIND such memorable occasions was a misfortune for those who planned and enacted the Johnson show and his official unveiling of the Great Society. The President, the earliest of men, the most familiar of figures in this town, the best-qualified professional we've ever had in the craft of political and personal leadership. But the drama of his take-over had already happened in November '63. His election victory was sweeping and mandatory, yet not unexpected and reflective or evocative of any great outpouring of personal affection, as were the narrow win by John Kennedy and the doxy battle of Harry Truman.

MOREOVER, the Great Society,

Molien is a man who won over the machine.

Molien, an assembler in the large jet engine department of a General Electric plant here, came up with a time-saving suggestion which eliminated four expensive machines.

The machines, called electronic projectors, were used in automated assembly of jet engine rotor vanes. But they were temperamental and often needed repair.

Molien devised a way to replace them with wooden templates, cutting about three hours off engine assembly time.

Molien's victory over automation earned him $2,400 from the company.

West Texas Still Needful Of Rain

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Moisture conditions were greatly improved in the eastern two-thirds of the state by last week's rains but other sections failed to get needed rain. Generally, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the area west of a line from Wichita Falls to San Angelo to San Antonio and Corpus Christi needed moisture. The rains will benefit grains and ranges, and materially improve deep soil moisture, the director added. More mild weather will also help the growth of vegetation.

Snow in the Panhandle helped the moisture situation in the central counties but some counties remained dry. SOUTH PLAINS Bad sandstorms hit the South Plains area and some soil damage was reported from the sandy land sections. The entire district is dry. Moisture is adequate in 14 of the 22 Rolling Plains counties where rain ranged from a trace to 1.50 inches. Grain growth varies from fair to good. General rains over North Central Texas, plus good growing weather, kept grains growing. Ranges were average. Livestock were in fair shape with feeding in some counties. Moisture improved in North-east Texas but Gregg, Smith and Upshur counties were too dry. Grain mites are moving into Delta and Red River counties and causing some damage. Cattle are being wintered on less hay than normally, due to the production of grazing forage from temporary pastures. Moisture was needed in far West Texas. Range conditions were spotted and feeding was needed. Irrigated grains provided some grazing. Labor was short.

GETS RAINFALL Light showers to good rains fell over West Central Texas last week and improved the outlook considerably. Grains and weeds should resume their growth and furnish more good grazing. The mild weather has also aided vegetative growth. Pastures are below average. Goat shearing has started in the Blanco, Mason area. The fall lamb crop was very good and early spring lambing is beginning. Rains left moisture in Central Texas adequate and kept grain growing and producing good grazing. Native pastures are beginning to green up, and the mild weather will improve them. Goat shearing is starting. The general rains on Jan. 22 left soil moisture in East Texas adequate to short but will help grains and winter cover crops. Rains are furnishing grazing. Pastures are only average to below with overgrazing in many areas. GRAINS BENEFITED The rains will help flax, grains, clovers, weeds and grass a great deal and also improve the deep moisture situation in South Central Texas. Some pasture crops were being planted and range weed control practices are starting. Moisture in Southeast Texas is generally ample. Oats, pastures and livestock were in good shape. The upper Coastal Bend got up to 1.50 inches of rain but most of South Texas is still dry. Oats need moisture; ranges are below average; pear burning and feeding of livestock are continuing. Lambing and calving were on. Vegetables and citrus were moving.

Acting Couple Tops In Show
By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Hall of Fame" valentine to the nation arrived early in this week's delightful 90 minutes in which Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne played Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and his wife, Fanny. "The Magnificent Yankee" was really a series of incidents, none concerned with particularly vital events, starting in 1902 when the newly appointed justice tangled with President Theodore Roosevelt. It ended in 1933 when one of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first official acts was to call upon the aged and failing man. It is easy to see why the Lunts were attracted to their parts. Like the acting couple themselves, the great jurist and his wife were a devoted couple, a real team and both of them were both wise and witty. Obviously the wisdom and wit that studded the play were carefully researched and built into the script. The famous acting couple played the light lines to the hilt.

A seminar for the 60 chairmen of the state-wide committees on mental retardation planning will be attended Monday and Tuesday in Austin by Jack Y. Smith. Smith was appointed chairman of the Big Spring committee. The workshop is for the representatives from the 60 areas chosen as possible sites for 30 mental retardation centers planned for Texas. Conducting the workshop is the University of Texas vocational rehabilitation training center, in cooperation with the vocational rehabilitation administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the state interagency committee on mental retardation planning. Instruction will be by community professionals and representatives of eight state agencies taking the lead in the current program to improve services for some 300,000 mentally retarded persons in Texas.

Gov. Connally will speak during the opening session of the workshop. A keynote address will be given by John Peck, University of Texas professor and a member of the governor's advisory committee, on the impact of mental retardation on the community and the need for state-wide mental retardation planning. The executive director of the national association for retarded children, Luther Stringham of New York City, will also speak to the group. The workshop will contain three groups, health, welfare education, residential and day care; rehabilitation and employment; and the law and the mentally retarded. One new appointment has been announced to the Big Spring mayor's committee on mental retardation. Mayor George Zachariah has announced. ## Valentine Queen Nominees Selected

By MARTHA JORDAN

Home room nominees for Valentine Queen were chosen Friday by each of the 30 home rooms at Goliad Junior High. The runoff for each grade's queen candidate will be held Monday. A fund raising contest, featuring drives by each of the three grades, will be conducted to determine the "Queen of Hearts."

The seventh grade class will sell and raise funds on Feb. 9 and 12; eighth graders on the 5 and 11; and freshmen on the 8 and 11. The class which raises the most money will see its candidate reign as queen.

Goliad's annual Valentine Festival is scheduled for Feb. 12. Dancing, games and crowning of the queen will highlight the evening's activities. All Goliad students are urged to attend the all - school function; students need not have a date to attend. Visitors from other schools are welcome to attend, if they are registered in the office. Price of admission is 25 cents per person.

Officials at Goliad have extended a welcome to any parents to come and discuss reports or questions concerning report cards with either teachers or the school counselor, Mr. Lee Freeze. Parents who would like to come in order to get acquainted with their children's teachers are asked to call for an appointment or to go by the office.

Homenaiking classes held their monthly FHA meetings Friday; refreshments were served by class members. The program was on "Where and How We Get Our Values." An article by Russell and Mollie Smart was the basis for the discussion.

The Goliad basketball team participated in a tournament in Midland, Thursday-Saturday. Sixteen area teams took part in the tourney. A representative group of Goliad fans attended some of the games. Goliad's first contest was held Thursday night at 8:30 p.m. when they played Midland Carver. After their victory over Carver, the team played games on Friday and Saturday.

Growing OLD GRACEFULLY

It isn't automatic — this growing old gracefully. Worries seem to accumulate with the years. And there is often the gnawing sense that opportunities once brimming with promise lie empty where we tossed them . . . along a road without return.

But these later years are not meant to be a burden. There is much to suggest that God intended them to bring reward.

He gave us the blessing of memories, so precious moments of joy may be lived again and again.

He gave us the gift of love, so we can experience anew the adventures of youth, the achievements of maturity, in the lives of our children and grandchildren.

And He gave us a Way of Life, revealed in the teachings of Christ. So that every today . . . when it has become yesterday . . . will be another graceful stone in the arch of Tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are:

(1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rehearsals Stepped Up

Rehearsals are being stepped up for the production Feb. 12 and 13 by the Little Theatre of Big Spring of the hit William Inge comedy, "Bus Stop."

Lead roles in the show, directed by Jack Richards, are held by Chris Tatum and Bill Lee, who play a Kansas City showgirl and a brash cowboy.

The play revolves around the adventures of a group of bus passengers, stranded at a lonely bus stop by a blizzard. The mixture provides an uproarious comedy topped by some insights into human nature.

Kaye Thaxton, Joyce Towbin and Jerry Whitlock hold three additional major parts in the production.

An English teacher at Stanton High School, Mrs. Thaxton is an Oklahoma native and has taught in Japan, England and Germany. A newcomer to the city's Little Theatre group, she is playing the role of Grace in "Bus Stop."

As Will, Jerry Whitlock brings to the theatre here experience in playhouse productions at Oklahoma University, including shows such as "Taming of the Shrew," "Rainmaker" and "Come Back Little Sheba." For two and a half years he was in Oklahoma City television production work and now hosts several local television shows.

Mrs. Towbin has previously helped design and execute programs for the Little Theatre here. She is a graduate of Queen's College, N. Y., and plays the part of Elma in the comedy.

The performances of "Bus Stop" are set for the Municipal Auditorium here.

Pelican Proves A Scene Stealer

Cary Grant has placed himself in double jeopardy. In his current stint in Universal's "Father Goose," in Technicolor, which opens Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre, he has surrounded himself with two separate sets of notorious scene stealers.

Through most of the romantic adventure comedy, in which his co-stars are Leslie Caron and Trevor Howard, he finds himself competing for attention with seven assorted female moppets, ages 7 to 15.

As if that weren't challenge enough he also shares considerable footage with a wide-winged, saucer-eyed pelican who seemingly gazes with utter disdain upon all non-web-footed creatures, Cary included. Children and livestock, as every seasoned mummer knows, usually walk off with every scene in which they appear. Who has eyes for an ordinary adult when there's a youngster or pet in view?

It was Cary's deliberate choice, of course, since "Father Goose," is his own Granoz production, shaped by the star from inception and written for the screen by scrivener Peter Stone who put together his Audrey Hepburn co-starring "Charade."

The youngsters portray schoolgirl charges of Miss Caron, seen as the war-displaced daughter of a French Consul. They take refuge on a tiny South Pacific island where Cary, the sole inhabitant, is assigned as a coast watcher.

The pelican "adopts" Cary earlier in the story — when he seemingly is bereft of all companionship.

Has Trouble With Himself

P. S. WILKINSON. By C. D. B. Bryan. Harper, $5.95.

Wilkinson is a young man trying to cope. Partly his battle is against the frustrations of modern life, when authority demands one course and good sense another. Partly it is the wearisome, grinding, prolonged search for a way to get along with authority (or conformity) — whether it is clothed in a military uniform or a gray flannel suit — without giving up too much self-integrity.

The story begins with Wilkinson in Korea, sweating out his military service in a bogged-down truce situation, sick of routine and fed up with Army idiosyncrasies. His one-year tour of duty is stretched by six months because he disobeys a superior's order, which he felt was wrong.

So in the summer of 1960, at the age of 24, he comes home to make that inevitably awkward adjustment to civilian life. The girl he had loved is even more delighted when he reads in the newspaper that her body has been found. The missing head was severed by an axe.

Musical Groups Featured At Jet Drive-In Thursday

"Get Yourself a College Girl" is a song-and-dance filled romantic comedy in color, with two British-based instrumental groups and recording favorites who have duplicated their English success on American tours.

It opens at the Jet Thursday. They are The Dave Clark Five and The Animals, who add to the new musical film, which also highlights such popular musical aggregations as Stan Getz and Astrud Gilberto, The Jimmy Smith Trio, and Freddie Bell with Roberta Linn and the Bell Boys.

The cast of "Get Yourself a College Girl" co-stars Mary Ann Mobley, former Miss America, Chad Everett, Joan O'Brien, Nancy Sinatra, Chris Noel, Willard Waterman and Fabrizio Mioni, and there are added attractions in singing star Donnie Brooks, The Standells and The Rhythm Masters.

"Whenever You're Around" and "Thinking of You, Baby" are the numbers performed in the picture by the Dave Clark Five, with The Animals belting out "Blue Feeling" and "Around and Around."

The producer of "Get Yourself a College Girl" had to travel to both New York and London to round up these entertainers. When The Animals appeared on the stage of the New York Paramount Theatre last September, Katzman followed them there to film the group for sequences in his picture.

After filming the sequence starring The Animals, Katzman flew to London to photograph the Dave Clark Five for their guest star appearance. This group previously had also scored on American cross-country tours, which were highlighted by sell-out concerts.

The Dave Clark Five, who played for dances in a London ballroom, achieved their initial success after performing at the annual Buckingham Palace Staff Ball. Their music, identified as the "Tottenham Sound" (named after the district in which Dave Clark was born), soon swept the country via concerts and recordings. Now, as is the case with the Beatles with whom they have a much publicized although amiable feud, the appearances of the Dave Clark Five produce pandemonium among teenagers.

Visitors Invited To Art Show

Some 20 members of Las Artistas Art Club have assembled an interesting variety of paintings in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan building.

The paintings are grouped in two divisions, amateur and professional. The latter group includes the work of teachers and those who have won recognition in state or national exhibitions.

The diversity of approaches to painting goes from the very representational to the completely non-objective, with works to suit almost any taste.

Visitors may examine the collection by local talent this afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m., including the winners selected by J. Robert Miller of McMurry College. The remainder of the week, only the winners will be available for inspection in the lobby of the First Federal Savings and Loan building.

Also currently open for visitors is an exhibit of 30 paintings from the West Texas Art Association, which are hanging at Howard County Junior College. This grouping will be on display two weeks during library hours. One of Miller's works is included.

"I guess I'll be doing about as well as could be expected — under the circumstances." Almost each of the moppets has her own big scene in the comedy. One bites Cary's finger every time he comes within range. Another hits him on the toe with a hammer. A third falls head-over-heels in love with him. A fourth helps him repair his battered boat. One takes over his bed. Another makes off with all his old clothes.

Book On Life Of Churchill Due

Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc. announces that it will publish in late March or early April, "Winston Churchill: An Intimate Biography," by Violet Bonham Carter, the daughter of Lord Asquith and a long-time leader in Britain's Liberal Party.

The book, which contains more than 150,000 words and is liberally illustrated, was begun by Violet Bonham Carter in 1956 and was completed in 1964. It is based on her close relationship with Mr. Churchill over 59 years, beginning with her meeting him at a dinner party in 1906 and continuing until his death.

Children and livestock, as every seasoned mummer knows, usually walk off with every scene in which they appear. Who has eyes for an ordinary adult when there's a youngster or pet in view?

It was Cary's deliberate choice, of course, since "Father Goose," is his own Granoz production, shaped by the star from inception and written for the screen by scrivener Peter Stone who put together his Audrey Hepburn co-starring "Charade."

The Republic of China on Formosa has commemorated its "20th Judicial Day" with a set of two new stamps, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The stamps feature the scales of justice and a legal code book in the foreground symbolizing fairness and justice. In the background can be seen an emblem of the Chinese national flower, a plum blossom.

Also reported from Nationalist China are the following upcoming stamp issues: 60th anniversary of Rotary International, Double Carp, Madame Chiang Kai-shek's portrait, New York World's Fair 1964-1965, the centennial of International Telecommunications Union.

Several new issues have been released by Argentina. A 4 pesos stamp showing the portrait of Gen. Julio Argentino Roca was issued in December. Others are: a 4 pesos depicting the market place at Montserrat Square from an oil painting by Carlos Morel, discovery of America, United Nations Day and a card for the Olympic Games.

The TASS News Agency in Moscow reports that two new stamps have been issued by the Soviet Union. Both stamps honor the development of chemistry. One is inscribed "Large Scale Chemistry to Agriculture." It depicts a plane dusting crops, a grain elevator and a harvesting machine. The value is 4 kopecks and the colors are green and crimson. The other stamp is inscribed "Chemical Combines for the National Economy." It shows a chemical factory. This 6 kopecks stamp is blue and black. Both were drawn by artist Nikolai Kruglov.

Kenya has issued five new stamps honoring its Republic Day. The 15 cents shows a cockle bird, 30 cents Kenya's first president, Jomo Kenyatta, 1 shilling 20 pence Touraco Bird, 2 shillings 50 pence Nandi flame throwers, and 50 cents African lion. Each stamp bears the flag of Kenya.

An interesting set of new stamps has been issued by the Portuguese colony of Mozambique. There are seven bicolored stamps in the set which depicts various "Galeotas" (Ships of State) of Portuguese Royalty. The subjects are: "Galeota Grande" of King John V (1728), "Galeota Pequena" of Don Jose I (1750), "Galeota of Alifanega" (1768), "Galeota Salor" (1780)

DEAR ABBY

Not All Is Sunshine

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a little nutty. It runs in her family. Her father shot a postman 50 years after the Civil War ended, thinking he was a Union soldier. I love the South, especially Florida. My problem is I can't get her to move down here permanently. I am retired and we could well afford it. We have a place up North, too, but a person has to be crazy to stay up there all winter and freeze when they could sit around in Florida and do nothing but take it easy. My wife is a big church worker up North. She can't preach, or teach or sing. I don't know exactly what she does for them except to keep the membership up, but she's associated herself with a bunch of zombies who look more dead than alive to me. I've come to the conclusion that all women are 100 per cent nutty by the time they reach 60. My wife is 66. What do you think of my situation?

LOVES, FLORIDA

DEAR LOVES: I can understand why a woman wouldn't want to leave her church work to sit around all day and listen to her husband tell her how "nutty" she is. Climate isn't everything. You had better put a little sunshine into your personality if you want your Missus to join you. Otherwise you deserve to sweat it out in Florida alone.

DEAR ABBY: I am bewildered. My six-year-old came home from school with a list of things his teacher wanted for Christmas. A bottle of very expensive perfume was circled, which meant that was the gift she expected from my son. I had embroidered a handkerchief and was planning to send that until this "list" showed up. I told my husband about it and he said I shouldn't send anything. I talked to some of the other mothers in my son's room and they were all going along with the teacher's requests because they feared the consequences if they didn't. I telephoned the principal and told her what I thought of a teacher who would pull a stunt like that, and she said teachers were hard to come by and they had to put up with a lot. When the grades came out, my son got an "UN-SATISFACTORY" in "CO-OPERATION" and I want to know what you think I should do now?

DEAR BURNED UP: If the teacher actually sent home such a "list" and the principal was too timid to censure her for it, both should be called on the carpet by the Board of Education. However, don't hang your protest on the boy's bad mark. He may have had that coming anyway.

DEAR ABBY: I am 45, have wrinkles, a big nose, varicose veins and I'm bow-legged. So what? We don't have much money, but I'm thankful for the roof over my head, a husband who cares, two fine sons and many good friends. A woman my age wrote and asked you please to tell her the truth about face-lifting. She said she wouldn't mind the pain or spending any amount of money, if only she could look like she did 18 years ago.

It's too bad she can't tear herself away from her mirror long enough to see people with real problems.

Abby, what that lady needs is not a face-lifting, but a posterior-lifting. If she doesn't mind the pain, I will gladly perform the operation.

HAPPY, HOMELY HOUSEWIFE

VA Hospital Closures Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Legion and other veterans organizations denounced as a harsh economy move today an order to close 11 veterans hospitals and several other veterans facilities. One hospital is at McKinney, Tex.

They contended the responsibility for the recently announced order rests on President Johnson's Budget Bureau rather than on veterans administrator W. J. Driver.

Four domiciliary homes for veterans and 17 VA regional offices also have been ordered closed.

It's victims have breathing difficulties. Attacks are usually mild. Fortunately it is not contagious. But, if neglected, asthma increases in severity and endangers health. It may be caused by an allergy, infection or even nervous tension.

If you think you have asthma, don't attempt self treatment. It is almost impossible for anyone but a physician to diagnose the cause. With proper medical treatment asthma can be kept under control and often cured.
