Sheriff Seeking Identity Of Body Found Wednesday

By SAM BLACKBURN

Sheriff A. N. Standard said his deputies are checking on reports of all individuals reported missing in this area in the past several months in an effort to identify the body deteriorated skeletal remains found at noon Wednesday north and west of Big Spring.

Standard said it was assumed the bones were those of a male. No clothing fragments — not even shoes — were found in the vicinity where the body was located. Merritt made a guess the victim may have been dead as long as six months. Other officers speculated that the victim had not died that long ago.

The skull was covered with closely cropped black hair. The arm was completely missing. Merritt said there was a possibility that fingerprints could be lifted from the withered skin on the left hand which is intact. Most of the rib cage had been gnawed away.

Winds Topple Buildings On Farms In East Texas

By The Associated Press

Damaging winds battered the Nacogdoches area today as a section of Northeast Texas lay under the season's first tornado forecast.

Nacogdoches received about 25 inch of rain. Trees fell across highways in places around Nacogdoches. Lightning disrupted power at Lufkin, knocking Station KTRF off the air several minutes. The East Texas city received .50 inch in half an hour.

The tornado forecast first covered a wide path from Waco to Texarkana—then was modified as the threat moved northeastward.

Under the program, student pilots being accepted in the Air Force will be given training in T-41 light planes to prepare them for later training in jets at Webb AFB.

Firing Called 'A Reprisal'

CENTER, Tex. (AP) — The Shelby County grand jury, probing reports of the illegal use of narcotics and liquor by high school students, was in recess today. It will meet again Friday.

Two city policemen have been fired in the wake of charges of law enforcement irregularities in this East Texas town of 4,500. One of the former policemen, William Pool, 45, said Wednesday he was fired in "a reprisal for speaking out against the use of narcotics and drugs in Center."

These toll booths are believed to have financed the Communist offensive at Binh Gia in December. That operation cost government forces 500 casualties, including a score of Americans, and netted the Viet Cong quantities of arms and equipment.

Body of Mrs. Guertha Townley Green, 77, killed in a car accident 18.5 miles south of town on US 87 at 1 p.m. Wednesday, is being returned to Lewellen Funeral Home in Longmont, Colo., for burial services. Mrs. Green was a resident of Longmont.

Henry said for some undetermined reason the car went off the paving on the left side of the road, travelled for 60 or 70 feet along the borrow ditch and crashed into a concrete culvert. The impact twisted the light vehicle three quarters over and threw the woman out of the front seat.

Negroes In Rights Fight Ask U.S. Troop Guard

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes sought protection of U.S. troops in their civil rights struggle today in the wake of a long forced march by students who had angered Sheriff James G. Clark. Still more right-to-vote demonstrations were promised today and some of the students said they would lie down on the sidewalk if Clark attempted to drive them away again.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home said they had contacted Mrs. Green's son, Don Murchison, who lives in Grand Junction, Colo., and a sister, Mrs. Mildred Brown of Longmont. They gave instructions for the body to be returned to Longmont.

Laundry Fire Destroys Plant

A fire about 5 p.m. Wednesday afternoon almost destroyed the J. R. Nichols Laundry, 209 N. Gregg. Firemen fought the blaze for about an hour to bring it under control.

Hundreds of aroused parents waiting to hear a renewed appeal for nonviolence from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. voted Wednesday night to ask President Johnson to put Selma under martial rule.

Court Upsets Ban On Film

NEW YORK (AP) — A court ban on the showing of the movie, "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home," was reversed here.

The University of Notre Dame sought the ban because of references in the story to the university's football team. A five-man court of the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court, in issuing its decision, granted a 10-day stay of the entry of the order.

This had the effect of giving the university time to ask for permission to appeal the ruling to the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court.

West Gets Big Storm

By The Associated Press

A giant storm roamed over the western United States today, dumping heavy snow on Colorado and Arizona while rain and snow struck much of the eastern half of the country.

Livestock warnings were in effect for western Nebraska and Kansas. Cold weather and snow harassed New England. Thunderstorms struck from Texas to the Carolinas.

A 6-inch snow fell Wednesday on Colorado's parched eastern plains, a dryland winter wheat area in the grip of a three-year drought. It was the first major precipitation of the winter on the eastern prairies and raised hopes for wheat farmers.

More than 4 inches of snow fell in Denver. Pueblo in southern Colorado had more than 8 inches and several other cities reported 6-inch accumulations.

A 4-inch blanket of snow in Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday was the third heaviest snowfall in history for the winter resort.

Two to four inches of snow fell over southern Wyoming. The Hastings-Grand Island area in central Nebraska had 12 to 16 inches of snow on the ground — a blessing for winter wheat.

Snow fell in the higher elevations of northern New Mexico and thunderstorms pounded the eastern section of the state while cold moved in from the West. Two schools were closed on the outskirts of Albuquerque. Twenty-six inches of snow was on the ground at Sandia crest east of Albuquerque.

A treacherous sleet storm closed 200 schools and many business establishments in Minnesota. The Minnesota Highway Department said driving conditions ranged from "deplorable to treacherous."

A bus carrying 20 pupils slid into a ditch in Austin, Minn., but there were no injuries.

Thirty-one inches of snow covered Duluth, Minn., with 15 inches falling in a 24-hour period.

All highways out of Sioux Falls, S.D., were listed as impassable. Rock Rapids, Iowa, was covered by seven inches of snow.

Rivers spilled out of their banks in Indiana lowlands, after two and three inches of rain.

Police Chief Pinpoints Crime Rate, Apathy

A rocketing crime rate and public apathy were tied together Wednesday by Jay Banks, police chief, in an address to the Downtown Lions Club.

In addition to individual involvement in the fight against breakdown of law and order, Chief Banks suggested professionalization of law enforcement. The Southwest Academy of Law Enforcement, which last year held its first training session on the campus of Howard County Junior College, is a step in the right direction to insure enforcement officials have a minimum of training and ability to grow into law enforcement as a profession, he said.

Crime is growing in the United States at four times the rate of population increase, and among juvenile offenders the rate is five times. If anything, the rates of crime increase are higher in Texas than in the nation, he added.

Every day there are three to four murders committed in the state, four women are raped, 10 armed robberies are perpetrated, 50 cars are stolen, 120 places are burglarized, and 250 felony thefts take place.

He took a dim view of those who countenance unofficial control of prostitution and argued that it is tied in with other nefarious traffic, including narcotics. Most who enter the trade, he said, are drawn in by procurers who first get a young woman hooked on the dope habit. An example of what a tolerant public attitude will lead

Election Set

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa Independent School District trustees set an election for April 3 to fill two places on the board of trustees. Terms of G. K. McDonald and Mrs. H. M. Stover will expire April 3. Final date for filing as candidate for the places being vacated is March 3.

A Devotional For The Day

Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgement. (John 7:24)
PRAYER: Our Father, help us to overcome the blindness of prejudice that we may reject false standards. Help us to look upon others with the clear vision and loving concern of Jesus, our Savior and Master. In His name we pray. Amen.

State Pride Is Stronger

What started as a gag now is being taken seriously. In the California State Senate, where 24 or more members would be liquidated under enforced legislative reapportionment, an active movement is afoot to split California into two states at the natural dividing line of the Tehachapi Mountains between north and south.

There is some sense to the movement. Legislative representation in separate states might be fairer. The conservative south and liberal north could have more congenial governments separately, and California's state agencies are largely dual, with branches in north and south.

But there are compelling reasons against the division. The arid south needs the humid north's water, and the poorer north needs the richer south's tax revenues for essential public services. The main roadblock, however, no doubt will be state pride. That is the factor that has been de-clusive in Texas.

On March 1, 1845, the Congress of the United States passed a resolution annexing the Republic of Texas as a state. It uniquely provided: "New States, of convenient size, not exceeding four in number, in addition to said State of Texas, and having sufficient population, may hereafter, by the consent of said State, be formed out of the territory thereof, which shall be entitled to admission under the provisions of the federal constitution."

That left the people of Texas the option of dividing their vast domain into five parts. They never seriously considered doing so. Whatever advantages might have accrued economically and politically to such action in the past 126 years, state pride was, rightly we think, an insurmountable barrier to division. We can predict with confidence that California state pride will prove no less—or not much less.

Dealing With Blights

President Johnson has a Commerce Department task force working on how to abolish car junkyards in the vicinity of federal-aid, particularly interstate, highways. The result probably will be a grant-in-aid incentive program for state improvement.

Texas spends 1.37 per cent of its highway maintenance budget, $763.249 last year, on roadside landscaping and parks. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer recently expressed concern for highway car junkyards: "They mar the scenery and we'd like to do something about them, but we haven't come up with a solution."

Perhaps federal aid legislation will help. Meanwhile, Rep. Lloyd M. Guffey of El Campo has introduced a bill that would prohibit junk and salvage yards within 1,000 feet of a state or federal highway. It deserves consideration. So does zoning control to eliminate these prevalent blights on entrance and exit thoroughfares within city limits.

The problem is getting worse. Modern steelmaking processes have lowered the demand for wrecked cars for scrap. Car production is rising remarkably, and car life is diminishing, which is causing many car junkyards to mushroom and take on an air of permanence. There is no reason why car scrap heaps could not be moved to isolated areas, or at least screened, and there is no really good reason—if the private enterprise considerations are carefully weighed—why car salvage or used-parts businesses need to be on main incoming and outgoing urban thoroughfares.

The Right Of Secret Balloting

WASHINGTON — "Civil rights" advocates are "demonstrating" and protesting vehemently over the fact that Negroes in some parts of the South are being given difficult tests before being declared eligible to vote in state and federal elections. Once they become eligible, they have, of course, the right to vote by secret ballot.

WHAT THEN shall be said by a governmental agency — namely, the National Labor Relations Board — holds that an "election" has been conducted when union organizers have circulated cards among employees of a company and have obtained signatures of a majority, even if coercion or misrepresentation has been involved? The board thereupon rules that the union has been named the "bargaining agent" for the employees and must be recognized as such by the employer.

THE NATIONAL Labor-Management Relations Act says that it is an "unfair labor practice" for an employer to "refuse to bargain collectively with the representatives of his employees," but the law also provides that an election shall be held to determine whether a majority of the employees involved have actually chosen a union to represent them. The question then arises as to what is an "election." Must it be done by the casting of ballots in which the person voting is assured of secrecy, or can it be done by signature to a card demanded under a threat of intimidation?

IT IS NOT generally realized that the secret balloting process, which is a cardinal principle of the election concept, can at present be disregarded at will by the National Labor Relations Board. There have been conflicting cases in the United States Circuit Courts of Appeal, and the Supreme Court has never really ruled on the question of what constitutes a proper election to determine whether a union does or does not represent the majority of the employees of a company.

IN VIEW of conflicting decisions, there is an urgent need for legislation to preserve for employees their right to vote in a secret election to say whether or not they wish a union to represent them. The existing statute

Billy Graham

I know I should be saved, but somehow have never felt like doing so. Don't you think I should wait until I feel like making the decision?

L.A. Feelings can deceive us. Our feelings often are suddenly altered by physical conditions or other circumstances. All through life you will find yourself doing things you know you should do, and you do them whether you have the appropriate feelings or not, just because you know you should. It would seem to me to be very foolish to do business in this way. Besides, what kind of a feeling do you consider appropriate for one who is to receive Christ? I would certainly say that you should do the thing you know you should do. Feelings may and will follow, but they are not the essential thing. Take Christ now because you know it is right to do so, and God will literally fill your life with unspeakable joy.

The Bible warns, "Harden not your heart." "Now is the day of salvation." "Today is the day of salvation."

Tax Trackers

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal government now is getting help from 34 states and the District of Columbia in tracking down and collecting taxes.

The Commerce Clearing House says during the past 12 months 10 states including New York and Massachusetts have negotiated state-federal tax agreements to step up enforcement.

The agreements cover exchanges of adult information relating to income, sales, use, estate and gift, motor fuel and highway use taxes. The pacts also agree to exchange information on failure to file returns and non-payment of taxes involving either jurisdiction.

Press Secretary's Office Bugged?

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is a short story which could be called "An Afternoon at George E. Reedy's Place" or better, maybe, "An Afternoon at Lyndon B. Johnson's Place."

Reedy is President Johnson's press secretary with his office in one of the White House wings. On the right, going in, is the press room, full of reporters' desks and telephones.

The lobby Wednesday was jammed with reporters waiting for the word from Reedy because Wednesday was an unusual day, and they were very serious.

Johnson had called his National Security Council into emergency session because earlier the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam had really cut some capers.

Over the weekend, after they had attacked an American airbase, Johnson ordered a bomber raid on North Viet Nam in retaliation. This was truly tit-for-tat although the White House explained it more stiffly: "The response was appropriate and fitting."

THEN IN a clear effort to test the American will to go on helping the South Vietnamese resist the Reds, the guerrillas made blazing attacks Wednesday throughout Viet Nam, even blowing up an American billet.

So the reporters in the lobby had only one question on their minds: What would Johnson and the National Security Council do now to meet this new test?

Reedy called in the newsmen at 4 p.m. and it was a big bust. He would only say what everyone knew: That the situation in Viet Nam was "receiving the closest attention."

The reporters pelted Reedy with questions to try to loosen him up but he wouldn't budge and nobody was mad at him. He couldn't say more than Johnson wanted him to say.

At last, with a brief "thank you," the reporters burst out of Reedy's office and into the lobby on their way to phones or their coats. And at that very instant Johnson burst out of another door and strode across the lobby.

At top speed he went out the door opening on the White House grounds. The reporters forgot their phones and their coats and went after him.

Johnson's timing was amazing. He had emerged at the best possible moment to get the most attention from the most reporters, in fact, all the reporters, although there is no evidence to support this kind of speculation here.

THAT REEDY'S office is bugged — meaning it is equipped with a listening device that enables Johnson to sit in his office and hear what goes in Reedy's briefings. The White House has disclaimed any such bugging.

Jumping To Conclusions

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: It's easier to borrow money on a sunny than a rainy day. On a rainy day most people are so preoccupied with their own miseries they don't feel like helping anyone else.

The quickest way to get acquainted with a stranger is to ask him if he knows a cure for the hiccups.

The biggest creeps among sports fans are those who go to prize fights and those who like auto races. Secretly, most of them just want to see someone get hurt, and as kids they probably got a big thrill out of stepping on bugs.

ELDERLY BANKERS and middle-aged confidence men wear vests for the same reason — to gain an air of conservative respectability.

A wise man never makes a bet after midnight — or a third martini.

Dinner always tastes better on days when you've paused to help a blind man cross the street on your way home.

Much of what passes for scholarship today is merely tedious gobbledygook and double-talk.

One of the best ways to allay the pangs of rheumatism is to listen to a movie star talk about her career. Both your legs soon grow numb.

It's a funny thing about millionaires. They sometimes give the impression they have holes in their heads — but you never meet one with a hole in his pocket.

Football coaches disagree about many things, but they all are certain that no kid will ever make a really good fullback unless he has big feet.

ONE OF the great research problems in the fashionable drinking set is what they can mix vodka with next. My suggestion is castor oil.

Guys with big expense accounts usually are chronically late in getting up their rent money for the landlord. They're also slow to pay on their grocery bills.

Office boys now spend more time combing their hair than stenographers waste fixing their fingernails.

The joint income tax return has done more for Moses to wipe out philandering by married men. They no longer can hide the expenses of keeping up love nests.

Deck stewards on luxury liners are among the last to pull up a chair for their wives at dinner ashore.

Chauffeurs of rented limousines wear the same mournful expression, whether their passengers are going to a funeral, a wedding, or a race track.

Even Pain Has Good Points

Even pain is relative. A bee sting is one thing to some people, something else to others. Or when the hammer misses a nail and lands on one of those pinkies, it doesn't hurt nearly so much in that first few seconds as it does later, when the throbbing begins. A bump on the head and numerous other mishaps fit the same category.

SOME FOLKS shudder at the thought of an inoculation, others take them with such abandon you might think it were happening to someone else entirely. But pain, of whatever cause, occurs to all at some time or the other, in some form or fashion.

Actually, pain constitutes one of our body's best safeguards. In most instances, it is a warning of damage to the body. A singed finger indicates that a more serious burn is coming up fast. Without the accompanying pain of the singe, the appendage most closely affected might be permanently or completely damaged, if we had to wait until we smelled the smoke or saw the flames.

LIKewise, A toothache calls pointedly to decay and that something must be done, if a mouthful of original dental work is to be preserved. Again, if the pain were not there, the decay might progress much too far before being discovered, and the artificial dental plates be all the sooner coming.

EVEN MENTAL or emotional pains have some useful purpose. They indicate there is trouble ahead and give warning that help should be sought or the course changed.

All of which is not to champion that which we all dread, but to point out that some useful purpose is served by even the most adverse of our human frailties. If, by some miracle, we were all relieved of this attribute of our mortal bodies, I suspect we would have to find some substitute—at least in this world.

CURIOUSLY, it is an inheritance that we might find difficult living without.

'Public Life Is Not Solely Political'

WASHINGTON—For President Johnson to promote the Great Society, he almost has to depict the status quo as non-great or near-great, unsatisfactory and needful of radical change.

His functionaries before Congressional committees are now doing so by stressing our poverty, ignorance, discomforts, diseases, inequalities and shortness of material perfection.

IT ISN'T A FAIR picture of the country, and isn't productive of what the country most needs: Confidence in ourselves and scorn for other political and economic systems.

There is another dubious phase in this craze for internal improvement: the degrading of external security. In praising his pet project of wholesale education, Mr. Johnson said this in his Message on Education:

"NOTHING MATTERS more to the future of our country; not our military preparedness, for armed might is worthless if we lack the brain power to build a world of peace."

Even in the parlance of political hyperbole, it is hardly true that education "matters more" than self-defense.

Most of our problems, as should always be stressed, spring from American success rather than American failure. Much is being made in Congress about our lack of libraries and shortage of librarians. But this is because American publishers turned out 28,451 new titles in 1964, as against 19,000 when Herbert Hoover was in mid-term.

WE ARE RUNNING behind in technicians because knowledge is "expanding" in public care for the elderly because people live longer, in recreational facilities because work-hours are shortening, and in teachers because a much larger proportion of Americans take more semesters in school and college.

Spanish philosopher Jose Ortega sensed nearly 40 years ago that politicians trying to please "the masses" would create more crises than they cured. He wrote:

"PUBLIC LIFE is not solely political, but equally, even primarily, intellectual, moral, economic, religious; it comprises all our collective habits . . ."

The expedited change of personal habits, let alone national habits, presumes that the habits are bad. It's doubtful if, generally speaking, we are a bad-habited people. And it's further doubtful that this overemphasis on internal improvement, to the extreme extent of placing it ahead of facing the direct challenge of foreign enemies, makes a policy that is safe and sane.

There's No Biz Like Air Biz

WASHINGTON — The entertainment on airlines has suddenly become a big and very competitive business. Ever since TWA started showing films on their planes every airline has tried to get in the act.

Some airlines are offering the choice of films, television, hi-fi, symphonic music, pop music, jazz, or children's stories.

IN ANY CASE, the airlines are now in show business in a big way and no one knows where it will all end.

We must look into the future a few years and find ourselves at a board meeting of Twentieth Century-Fox Airlines, presided over by Sol Hurok, the chairman of the board.

"Gentlemen," Mr. Hurok says, "our earnings are down. Do you know why?"

"We showed 'John Goldfarb' on that Notre Dame alumni charter flight?" a vice president suggests.

"NO, THAT'S NOT what hurt us," Hurok says. "The competition is killing us. People are getting tired of watching movies, listening to hi-fi, and tuning in children's stories. They want something different."

"But," the public relations man says, "we've got Harry Belafonte on our New York to Miami route—live."

"Sure," says Hurok, "and as soon as we did, Eastern booked the Beatles and took all the teenage business away."

tising manager. "But will the CAB approve? If we offer license, they'll accuse us of unfair competition."

"He's right," says Hurok. "Now, I've just made a deal with the Esther Williams Aquacade."

Lion Talk

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Noah would have wished that this had come sooner.

Rangers of South Africa's Kruger Park game reserve are learning to speak Lionese, some Zebra, and — for advanced students — Hippopotamish.

The rangers are taking small tape recorders into the bush to study what animals say to each other and how and when.

If the new scheme is successful, a version of the ultrasensitive machine will be used to send out sounds which, for instance, will draw lions away from water holes so that a timid gazelle can come along and have one for the road in safety.

Still In Art

MIAMI (AP) — The man who carved the famous lions outside New York's public library has given up sculpture.

Eighty-seven-year-old Ettore Pellegatta says carving is too tedious for him now.

"I've got to keep working, though. So I took up painting. If I let myself go, it's the end."

In the past 20 years, Pellegatta has turned out hundreds of paintings. He refuses to sell any and keeps his overflow in his garage.

He doesn't think much of today's architecture, devoid of sculptured decorations.

"It's all modernistic now," he says. "Straight — no windows, no nothing."

$$$ Emergency

WILDWOOD, Ill. (AP) — The Wildwood emergency patrol is being dissolved because of debts owed on the patrol car, radio equipment and reimbursements to patrol members.

Outstanding debts amount to $2,485. According to treasurer Joseph Viehl, the patrol has only $44.77 in cash on hand.

The decision of 16 of 17 residents on a motion made by Paul Klugewicz, a resident, permits the commissioners of the patrol to dissolve the corporation.

The commissioners received less than $50 from approximately 500 residents who were sent letters asking for contributions.

House Sent Senate-OK'd Pooling Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate passed Wednesday a forced oil and gas lease pooling bill, one of the sessions' major issues and the most important piece of Texas petroleum legislation in over a decade.

The measure passed on a voice vote without debate. Sens. Andy Rogers of Childress, Neville Colson of Navasota and Bill Patman of Ganado asked to be recorded against the bill.

Sen. Galloway Calhoun of

Tyler sponsored the bill, written by the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO).

It now goes to the House, where supporters hope to keep to a minimum the controversy which helped kill a similar measure in the last legislature.

The bill is aimed at bolstering small-tract drillers' powers to bargain with oil companies.

The House passed and sent to the governor an emergency appropriations bill allowing Lamar Tech at Beaumont $28,580 to replace a building that burned Jan. 5.

Rome Digs Out, Blizzard Is Catastrophic

ROME (AP)—Romans were digging out today from the worst blizzard in 150 years, while paralyzing snowfalls and freezing temperatures are bringing misery to wide areas of Poland, Greece and Turkey.

The storm dumped 10 inches of snow on Rome in 16 hours. The snow turned to shin-deep slush today but with temperatures hovering around the freezing point, the Italian capital was still partially immobilized.

Seven days of snowstorms and cold claimed 30 lives in Turkey. Fourteen persons died in two avalanches in eastern Turkey. One avalanche buried a home occupied by eight persons.

Ankara's international airport has been closed until further notice.

In Greece, eight persons died in a two-day cold wave that sent temperatures tumbling in the northern part of the country. Heavy snowfalls blocked roads on the Bulgarian and Yugoslavian borders.

Blizzards ranged across large areas of central and eastern Poland and snowdrifts up to seven feet blocked rural roads. Two deaths in Rome were blamed on the weather. One man died of cold in his unheated home and another was stricken on a bus overcrowded because of limited service.

The capital does not have a municipal snowplow because snow is so rare. The last record for blizzards was set in 1796 and there have been only three snowfalls of note since then—in 1846, 1939 and 1956.

Two File In Coahoma Race

COAHOMA — Two persons, one an incumbent, have filed for places on the ballot for trustee of the Coahoma Independent School District.

J. B. Bales, who is a member of the board, has filed for re-election to the post he now holds. H. C. Wallin, who is the other incumbent whose term expires, has not asked for re-election.

Joe Swinney has filed for a place on the ballot. Deadline for seeking a place on the ballot is March 3 at the office of Supt. W. A. Wilson.

Absentee voting for the April 3 election will be from March 15 through March 30. The place also is the superintendent's office.

Voting will be in two boxes, one at the Coahoma City Hall, with Mrs. Donald Lay as election judge, the other at Vincent Baptist Church, with Jim Hodnett as judge.

Election Box Judges Named

Brooks Bedell has been named presiding judge for newly created Election Precinct No. 29, L. J. Davidson, county commissioner, said today. Appointment of Bedell completed the list of precinct election officials for the current year—a matter of county commissioner court business which began last Monday and was recessed until today for completion. Davidson said he selected Mrs. Riley McCullough as assistant to Bedell.

Precinct 29, along with Precincts 17, 18 and 19, were created last year to comply with an amendment to the state election laws.

FEW TICKETS ON GREGG ST.

Enforcement of the no parking regulations on Gregg Street, begun Feb. 1, is continuing with only a minor number of violations. Police Chief Leo Hull said today.

In the first three days after the no parking zone installation, 39 warning tickets were issued, Hull said, and since Feb. 1 a total of 35 tickets have been given for violation of the zones.

"We appreciate the cooperation people have given us on the change," Hull said. He said he believed many of the violators had not been aware of the new no parking zones, particularly those from out of the city.

Clubbers To Sell Four Head

Howard County 4-H Club members exhibiting stock at the El Paso Fat Stock Show will sell at least four of the steers they entered, the Howard County Farm Agent's office said today.

Johnny Middleton won highest honors of any of the local youngsters. His lightweight Angus steer took a second place ribbon in its weight. He also placed twelfth with a Hereford steer he entered.

Linda Foster showed a 10th place mediumweight Angus and Mark Barr had a fourth place lightweight and a seventh place heavyweight Hereford. DeLores Lankford won two fifth place ratings — one for her heavyweight Hereford and another for her lightweight entry.

No report on how the lambs the boys and girls had at the show placed was available.

Fewer Children Listed By Forsan

Forsan Independent School District Scholastic Census, as reported to Walker Bailey, county school superintendent, shows eight fewer boys and girls this year than last. The census shown for 1954-55 is 386 compared with 394 for the 1954-1955 year.

Boys and girls of the district, who are in the age bracket 6 to 17 years, are listed on the scholastic census.

All school districts are required to turn in their scholastic census reports to the county superintendent by the end of February. Forsan was the first to send in its report.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ South developed a key trick in his six diamond contract by converting the dummy's heart holding into a ruffing value, despite the fact that North had three hearts.
 The bidding was sound. North's jump rebid of two no trump promised a minimum of 19 high card points. South's holding was worth 15 points counting high cards and distribution. A slam was virtually assured and, in order to probe for the best contract, South made a temporary bid of three spades. When partner showed the diamond support, he proceeded directly to six diamonds.
 West opened the ten of hearts, the ace was played from dummy, and the queen dropped from East's hand. Declarer could count 11 top tricks—four spades, five diamonds, one heart, and one club. He could try for a 12th by drawing trump and then leading toward North's jack of hearts; however, he did not relish the prospect of guessing which opponent held the king of hearts. Observe, for example, that West might have been leading from the top of a sequence in which case East's holding in hearts would consist of the king-queen doubleton.

It appeared to South that, barring some adverse distribution, there was a reasonable prospect for ruffing at least one heart in dummy. At trick two he cashed the king of spades and continued with the queen. The ace of clubs came next, on which he discarded a heart, followed by a club ruff.

Declarer continued with the ace of spades and the jack, intending to dispose of North's remaining hearts, and subsequently ruffing two hearts with the queen and jack of diamonds. On the fourth spade, however, West ruffed in with the five of diamonds. Dummy overruffed with the jack.

The closed hand was re-entered by trumping another club with the six of diamonds, and South exited with a heart. West put up the king to drop North's jack, and he returned a trump. Declarer won the trick with the ten, ruffed his remaining heart with the queen of diamonds, and claimed the last two tricks with the ace and king of diamonds.

Bobby Jumps Into Demos' Power Tussle

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Robert (Bobby) Kennedy was publicly and aggressively in the middle of a power struggle for control of the New York State Democratic organization today. He plunged in with a harsh letter accusing the party's new legislative leaders of dealing out patronage jobs "like so many cards off the top of the deck."
 The leaders responded angrily that Kennedy was entirely wrong in charging them with distributing jobs on the basis of politics rather than merit.
 Kennedy's letter came six days after a long, hard battle between two Democratic factions had been considered settled and after five weeks of Kennedy insistence that he had no intention of becoming involved in the state-level dispute.
 The new senator reopened the fight Wednesday as he told Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretzki and Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia:

"I feel constrained to bring to your attention my opposition to filling jobs without paying careful attention to the ability of the men selected to do the job. Dealing the jobs out like so many cards off the top of the deck is intolerable and can only contribute to the loss of our party's newly gained majority position."

SHOWDOWN MEET
 Kennedy's hard-hitting entry into the dying battle was seen as a move to buttress his forces in a showdown meeting of the State Democratic Committee next Thursday.

Kennedy is believed to want to build a power base from which to seek the Democratic nomination for president in the 1970s.
 There is expected from next week's meeting a clear-cut indication of whether Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City or Kennedy is to be considered the state leading Democrat.

WAGNER ALLIES
 Zaretzki and Travia are allied with Wagner.
 State Chairman William H. McKeon was the field commander for the Kennedy forces. Wagner demanded McKeon's resignation on the ground the chairman's support of one faction in the dispute has destroyed his effectiveness as a state leader.
 McKeon called the showdown meeting with confidence he had enough support to win backing of a majority of the 306-member committee.

Zaretzki said he had made only one patronage appointment, and Travia said he had not made any.
 The speaker declined further comment until he studied the letter. But it was learned he was angry at Kennedy's charges and at what he considered the senator's patronizing attitude in describing the need for a qualified staff in a legislative operation.
 Kennedy suggested to the leaders that they embark upon "a realistic talent search" for members of the legislative staff.

U.S. Jury Trial Demanded In Eagle Killings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rancher Leroy Martinelli demanded today a U.S. District Court trial of charges that he shot two eagles.

U.S. Commr. Richard Goldsmith continued the case until the U.S. attorney's office can file a new information against the dairy and sheep rancher in district court.

Martinelli, 36, was arraigned before Goldsmith on charges of shooting one bald eagle and one golden eagle June 26. Martinelli said he shot the eagles after they had killed nine of his lambs.

A. E. Bagshaw, a lawyer retained by Martinelli and the California Woolgrowers Association, said he wanted a jury trial in view of the widespread interest. Goldsmith said the Supreme Court has ruled there is no right to a jury trial on a petty offense.

Bagshaw said Martinelli will plead lack of criminal intent and claim the right to protect his own property.

Bagshaw said Martinelli has received scores of letters of support. The Texas Sheep Growers Association, he said, offered financial as well as moral support.

Economic Trend Good

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas had a "generally favorable economic climate" in 1964, the Texas Employment Commission says. By Dec. 31, total employment reached a record 3,677,900.
 "Despite weakness in some industries, employment trends reflected an upturn in business activity," the commission said Wednesday.
 The December employment total was an increase of 11,300 from November and 85,800 from December, 1963.
 Unemployment declined 5,500 during December and totaled 133,500.

Modern Math Class Planned

A course to untangle parents on the mysteries of modern math is in prospect at Howard County Junior College.

That is—if enough parents want to undertake an interpretative course on modern math. Joe Chance, math instructor at HCJC, is agreeable to organizing a course as part of the HCJC adult education program. It will be at room 104 in the Administration Building at 10 a.m. Saturday to explore the amount of interest, what parents desire to have in such a course, and what would be the best meeting time for a class. Chance is projecting the course to spread over eight weeks with possibly a three-hour class session each week. No fees have been fixed, although a tentative spread of $20 to $25 has been suggested, depending upon the number taking the instruction. Parents are asked to call Chance at HCJC for further information.

Modern math, which has been in the secondary level for two years, will penetrate to the first grade next year. It is a new concept of teaching designed to stimulate pupils to reasoning rather than memorizing the mechanics of mathematics.

White House Pressing For Dock Strike End

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special White House committee presses today for an end to the month-long strike that has tied up shipping on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts at an estimated $6-billion loss to the nation's economy.

President Johnson appointed the three-man committee Wednesday and ordered it to report to him by noon Friday. He said the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association was "totally unjustified" in continuing the strike in ports where settlement has been reached.

Union President Thomas W. Gleason has held fast to the longshoremen's policy that none of the 60,000 men will return to work until agreement is reached at all ports.

"If we went back to work we would be sacrificing our union and we don't intend to do this," Gleason said.

WILL HEAR BOTH
 The presidential committee composed of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., will hear from both sides in the still unsettled Miami, Fla., and Galveston, Tex., negotiations.
 In Philadelphia Wednesday night Federal Mediator John R. Murray announced a settlement had been reached between two longshoremen's locals and the city's Marine Trade Association. Talks continue between the association and two other locals while a fifth local, the largest, delayed voting on a pact reached Sunday until all the smaller locals settle.

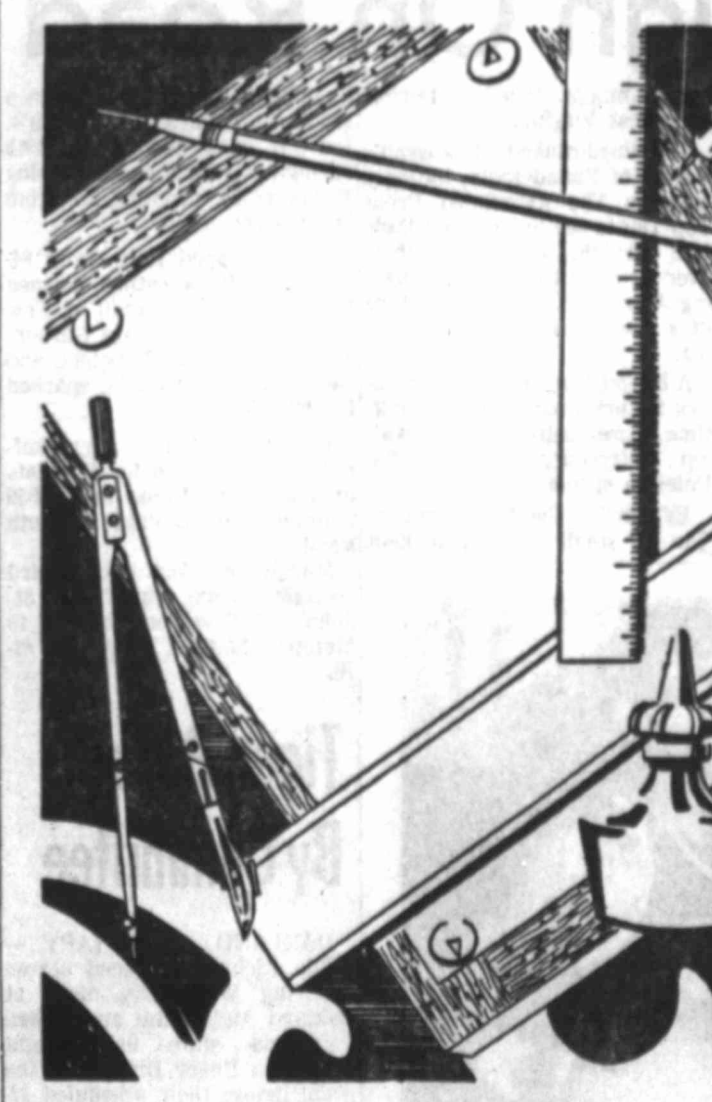

Johnson said. "But this is not collective bargaining in any legitimate sense."
 The parties to the Galveston dispute will have until 9:30 a.m. Friday to respond to the special committee's recommendations and the Miami parties until 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Early Pacts Are Banned

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League has followed the rival National Football League by banning premature signings, but neither pro league has agreed to two other proposals aimed at protecting the nation's colleges in the multimillion-dollar war over top players.

Joe Foss, commissioner of the AFL, issued his statement on premature signings Wednesday in a document that almost paralleled one issued by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle last month.

Both leagues are now on record as prohibiting the signing of college football seniors until the teams have completed their seasons, including bowl games.

That, however with a few small exceptions, is as far as the pro leagues have gone in responding to three requests made by the National Collegiate Athletic Association after it was revealed that four Oklahoma players had signed pro contracts before the Gator Bowl game.

The NCAA, at the time, also requested that the pro leagues hold their drafts after the bowl games and discontinue their practice of signing redshirts — players who remain eligible for college competition after their class has graduated.

The AFL, however, took a further step toward trying to reach settlement with the NCAA by stating that it would be league policy initially to seek assistance of the athletic director or the head coach at the college where a club desires to contact a player about signing a pro contract.

The AFL action came just before the deadline set by Jim Corbett, Louisiana State University

WALL, FORD HEAD FIELD

PANAMA (AP) — Defending over-all champion Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Doug Ford of Tuckahoe, N. Y., led a strong U.S. delegation into today's first round of the Panama Open, first tournament on the annual Caribbean pro golf tour.

Wall captured three tournaments and the Seagram Caribbean trophy on the tour last year. The Panama Open was not played a year ago because of anti-United States demonstrations in the Canal Zone.

Included in the field of 35 professionals and 69 amateurs are players from Canada, France, Spain and the best of the Latin-American players.

Langham Set For Event

Steve Langham of Howard County Junior College will take part in the fifth annual Will Rogers Indoor Games scheduled Friday night in Fort Worth.

Langham will compete in a special 600-yard event against some of the finest runners in the Southwest.

The Fort Worth field includes two of the nation's top broad jumpers, Ralph Boston and L.L. Darrell Horn of Kelly AFB.

Three 16-foot pole vaulters will be on hand. They include Olympian Billy Pemelon, former ACC star, and Californians Phil White and Jeff Chase.

A headliner due at the games is Randy Matson of Pampa, an Olympic shotputter, who is considered a potential world record

Red Athletes Look Rugged In Big Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — There's an excellent but unhappy chance that the Russians are going to get lonesome, way up there all by themselves.

The Russian delegation to the New York Athletic Club Games tonight includes Valery Brumel, who should win the high jump with little trouble, and pole vaulter Gennady Bliznetsov, a very good candidate to break the United States' long stranglehold on this event.

Bliznetsov, who has done 16-3 outdoors, probably will be favored in his event and is likely to be going for the American indoor record of 16-4. He won the Philadelphia Inquirer Games at 16-0, then missed at 16-5.

Brumel, who skipped the Philadelphia meet, is, of course, in a class by himself now that John Thomas has retired.

Brumel skipped the Philadelphia meet with some minor leg trouble but is reported fully recovered. He holds the indoor record, 7-4, the outdoor mark, 7-5 1/2, and won the Olympic gold medal. And he has announced a concerted attempt at his indoor mark while on the U.S. tour.

Bovine Golfers Go To Odessa

District 2-AAAA golf competition gets under way over the spacious acres of the Odessa Country Club Friday morning. Play will be over 18 holes.

Coach Dan Lewis, encouraged over the play of his Big Spring High School team in practice, will take two four-man teams to Odessa.

Favorites in the Odessa meet will be Abilene High, Abilene Cooper, Midland High and Odessa Permian. San Angelo could make a serious run at first place, too.

The district winner will be determined in five meets, one in each member city over a period of two months. Big Spring will play host to the other schools March 27. Foursomes will use total scores in determining titlists. In addition, an individual champion will be selected.

Only one letterman of last year's Steer team is back. He is Tom Walker.

The Big Spring schedule: Feb. 12 — At Odessa (C). Feb. 19-20 — At Del Rio. Feb. 27 — At San Angelo (C). March 5-6 — At Sweetwater. March 12-13 — At Abilene (C). March 19-20 — At Big Spring (C). April 9 — At Abilene (C). (C) — denotes conference matches.

Young Takes A Big Hop

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — It isn't true that John Henry Young clears the top of the backboard while leaping for rebounds.

He can come within six inches, however, and that gives him a bird's eye view of many a goal.

Young, the 6-4 star of Midwestern University's mighty Indians, gained his reputation as a basketball player with his prodigious jumping.

They think out at Midwestern that the cow that jumped over the moon was a piker.

But while he is noted for his rebounding, John Henry also is quite a scorer. He has poked in 322 points in 24 games this season while leading Midwestern to a 21-3 record.

Midwestern expects to go to the NAIA tournament and while there show the cage fans a player on the order of Lucious Jackson, the Pan-American great who was such a sensation in the NAIA, played on the 1964 Olympic team and now is working them in pro basketball as a member of the Philadelphia 76ers.

Some think Young is even better than Jackson.

When Edward Johnson, coach of Dogan Negro High of Fairfield, ran out of jumpers five years ago, he began to search the halls of the little East Texas school for replacements.

Fortunately, Johnson's recruiting took him no farther than the track where he settled on a likely prospect, John Henry Young, state champion high jumper and miler. So Young led the team to the state tournament.

Then Midwestern Coach Dennis Vinzant got into the act. Despite the fact that Young had only one season in basketball, he offered him a four-year scholarship.

The Indians' super chief has been producing points at a mechanical pace in his four seasons here. He had 306 as a freshman, 321 in a half-semester as a sophomore and in 1963-64 broke the school record with 647 in 26 games for a 24.8 average.

This year he has averaged 21.3 despite a crippling attack of bursitis in both knee joints.

Nittany Lions Can Be Tough On Road

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Nittany Lions of Penn State can put in a strong claim as the best road team in college basketball this season.

They whipped Bucknell at Lewisburg, Pa., 79-61 Wednesday night for their seventh straight victory, a 14-3 record over-all and their eighth triumph in 11 road games.

Jim Reed's 26 points, including nine in a 13-point spree that broke a 23-23 tie, paced the Lions as they added the Bison to their previous road victims, Kansas, Kansas State, Gettysburg, Temple, Houston, Detroit and West Virginia.

The third-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, won their 10th straight and upped their over-all record to 20-1 by crushing Albright 92-71 in the feature of a doubleheader at the Palestina.

A basket from 50 feet out by 5-foot-9 Curt Fromal at the half-time buzzer helped LaSalle walk Gettysburg 91-68 in the Palestina opener.

Evansville, the No. 1 team in The AP small-college poll, kept its unbeaten streak going with a 103-73 thumping of St. Joseph's, Ind. It was the Aces' 19th straight this year and a winning streak of 25, counting six from last season.

NYU whipped Holy Cross 84-73 and St. Bonaventure, downed Iona 74-64 in a twinbill at New York's Madison Square Garden. Jeff Hazard, with 20 points, and George Carter, with 18, sparked the Bonnies.

Ron Reed, 23, and Larry Sheffield, 18, combined for 41 points to lead Notre Dame to a 63-59 triumph over DePaul at South Bend.

Marquette lost its third straight since upsetting St. John's of New York, bowing to Memphis State at Milwaukee 82-70.

In Scoring Mood

Joe Jaure of Big Spring, one of the stars in the Steers' Tuesday night District 2-AAAA basketball victory over Midland High, is shown very much in control of the situation in the above picture. Jaure stole the ball twice in critical stages against the Bulldogs and wound up with 14 points. Big Spring's margin of victory was 62-60.

Ortiz Fight Is In Doubt

PANAMA CITY (AP) — A sudden illness that has floored lightweight boxing champion Carlos Ortiz is expected to force postponement of Saturday night's title fight against Israel Laguna of Panama.

Although officials were still waiting before calling off the first world championship fight in Panama's history, it seemed doubtful that Ortiz would be able to climb into the ring against the No. 4 contender.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Willie Richardson raced across the ring Wednesday night at Oakland Auditorium and kicked California state heavyweight champion Roger Rischer in the groin before their scheduled 12-round fight for the title.

The 192-pound Richardson was disqualified by referee Vern Bybee, then suspended indefinitely by the State Athletic Commission.

Rischer, 198, of Oakland, was standing in the middle of the ring with Bybee waiting for the referee's instructions. Richardson then rushed at Rischer and kicked him a number of times.

Rischer said he didn't move when he saw Richardson charging because, "I thought it was a gag."

The incident almost turned into a full-scale brawl after Rischer was ordered out of the ring.

Richardson, of nearby San Jose, had been seated by handlers in his corner, but he jumped through the ropes and began throwing punches at Rischer.

The $4,603 gross gate receipts will be refunded to the approximately 2,000 fans on hand, promoter Don Chargin announced.

Last Nov. 2 in San Jose, Rischer knocked Richardson down twice in the 11th round was awarded a knockout victory by referee Frank Carter, allowable under California rules.

Exemptions On Dependents Not Covered By Single Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's no single rule covering exemptions for all dependents. But each one you rightfully claim means $600 taken off your income in making out your 1964 income tax return.

Anyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself if he is under 65 and an additional $600 if he is over 65. The same goes for his wife. A blind person under or over 65 gets an extra $600 exemption, in addition to his regular one.

A dependent could be your child, parent, or some other relative, or a friend. But you get no extra $600 exemption for a dependent because he is over 65 or blind.

If you contributed more than half his support in that part of the year in which he was alive you can claim as a dependent a child who was born or who died in 1964, but not a stillborn child. In deciding whether you can claim your own child, stepchild or an adopted child as a dependent, age 19 is an important point. But, first, remember: Anyone of any age — that goes for a child under or over 19 — who had $600 income of his own must file a return and take his own $600 exemption on that return.

But say you had an under-19 child for whom you contributed more than half the support. It wouldn't matter how much income he had, below or above $600 or none at all, or whether he had to file a return.

You could claim him as a dependent and take a $600 exemption for him, and you wouldn't have to report his income on your return. The point is: He was under 19, your child, and you contributed more than half his support.

DIFFERENT CASE
But it's different if he was 19 or over and had $600 income, even though you contributed more than half his support.

You couldn't claim him as a dependent unless he qualified as a full-time student. He couldn't qualify as such if he had a regular full-time job during the day and went to night school or took correspondence courses.

But if he qualified as a full-time student — no matter how much his income — and if he got more than half his support from you, you could claim a $600 exemption for him.

And even if your dependent child won a scholarship, you could ignore its value, in figuring whether you paid more than half his support last year. While you cannot claim a paid servant in your home as a dependent, you could make that claim for a friend who lived in your home the full year and got more than half his support from you.

But you couldn't claim that friend as a dependent, even though he got more than half his support from you, if he had $600 income.

You could claim anyone of the following list of relatives as a dependent but only if you provided for more than half the support for him or her and that relative did not have as much as $600 gross income:

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on; your legally adopted child or stepchild, but not the latter's descendants; your brother or sister; your parents, grandparents, or other direct ancestors, but not a foster-parent; your stepfather or stepmother; mother; your niece or nephew, meaning a son or daughter of your brother or sister; your father, mother, son, daughter, brother- or sister-in-law. But, generally, not if they live overseas, unless they are U.S. citizens.

CLAIM CONTINUES
Those relationships do not end with death or divorce. Even though your wife died or divorced you, you can continue to claim her father — your father-in-law — as a dependent if he fits the rule mentioned above.

Nor does a relative have to live with you for you to claim him as a dependent. For example, you may have been paying more than half the support of one of your parents who was living with your sister.

Here's how you couldn't claim a relative as a dependent: Your brother got more than half his support from you but earned $600 or more on his own. He'd have to file his own return, taking his own $600 exemption.

Two questions arise here: What's income in the case of a dependent? And if it isn't taxable, does it count?

Social Security payments are not taxable and do not have to be reported as income by anyone, yet they may be a decisive factor in deciding whether someone you wish to claim as a dependent got more than half his support from you.

Example: Your father got $700 in Social Security payments, and used them to live on. That was the only income he got on his own. You contributed more than $700 to his support. You could claim him as a dependent.

$700 in Social Security payments but, instead of using them to live on, put them in a bank and lived off the support you gave him. You could claim him as a dependent, even though you gave him less than $700.

But you could not claim him if he lived off the Social Security payments and the support he got from you but your support was less than what he got from Social Security. Then there's this one: Suppose you paid more than half the support of your married child but he, or she, filed a joint return with his or her spouse.

You couldn't claim an exemption for him. In this case the fact that you paid more than half his support wouldn't count.

This is the fourth article in a five-part series on income tax return filing.

Final tabulations for the 1965 election in Big Spring are expected to be completed by the end of the month.

Three incumbent trustees have announced their candidacies for the April 3 election. Terms expire in August.

G. Cowper, board member, and Dr. Carl Spring, trustee, served one full term in 1964. Mrs. Cowper came here and Dr. Cowper has three daughters.

7,561 Qualified Howard County Voters

Final tabulation of poll tax receipts and exemption certificates for the current year show there are 7,561 men and women in this county who have qualified themselves to vote in 1965 elections. Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that heavy last minute mail applications boosted the total importantly. It had been thought that the year would go into the records as having the least number of voters in the past decade. The low year was 1962 with 7,523. This year nosed out 1962 by 28 to escape setting a new low.

Incumbent Trustees File For Re-Election April 3

Three incumbents whose terms expire as members of the Big Spring school board of trustees, have announced their candidacies for re-election in the April 3 election. Terms expire for Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, secretary of the board; Joe Moss, vice president; and Dr. Carl Marcum who has filled an unexpired term since last August. Mrs. Cowper has served one full term and a short unexpired term, when he was appointed in the fall of 1961. Mrs. Cowper has lived in Big Spring since 1936 when she came here as a teacher. She and Dr. Cowper have a son and three daughters, all of whom have been in Big Spring schools, and two of whom are still in school. She has been active in club work, in the Parent-Teacher Association, and attends the Episcopal church. "Serving the public as a member of the school board has been a stimulating job," she said in announcing her candidacy. "I feel that it is an opportunity to render service, and have enjoyed every minute of the time. With the school's building program beginning to take shape, I feel that the challenge to the board has broadened and I would like to continue to serve."

Joe Moss, vice president and chief counsel for Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., has been a resident of Big Spring 11 years. He and Mrs. Moss have a son in Goliad Junior High School. Moss has been active in civic work in Big Spring, and has taken an active part in working on the school district's Master Plan bond program.

"Since I have taken an active part and interest in seeing the school's expansion program take shape, I would like to help see it to completion," he said. "There is still much to be done, and I feel that I can best serve the program on the board. We will soon be battling the actual construction project, and the board will have to make many decisions during that time."

Dr. Marcum, president of Malone and Hogan Clinic, is enthusiastic about the opportunity to help serve the school district

College Building Construction Due

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Construction is set to start in late summer or early fall on an $800,000 biology-chemistry graduate research building at Texas Woman's University.

TWU president John Guinn said the new structure will go up just south of the arts and sciences building, the former sites of a home economics building razed several years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Marcum live at 1506 Dayton Road, and have three daughters in school.

His experience in the recent expansion of the new Malone and Hogan Clinic, resulted in a request for him to serve on the board.

Panel Slates Hearings On VA Closures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Olin Teague of the House Veterans Affairs Committee said today he's taking a "show me" attitude on proposed administration economy closings of 11 veterans hospitals.

The Texas Democrat said his committee would start intensive hearings Feb. 18 on the plan which caused a two-day tie over an emergency appropriations bill in the House and Senate.

A Senate amendment would have blocked any closings until June 30 to give Congress a chance to look into the matter.

President Johnson balked and Wednesday a compromise deadline of May 1 was agreed on. Also involved is a similar proposal to close out a number of agricultural research stations and projects. One VA hospital marked for closing is at McKinney, Tex.

MILITARY MONEY
"I understand that there is considerable money in a military bill for new military hospitals," Teague said.

The government also has Public Health Service hospitals, Merchant Marine hospitals and other installations. He said he wanted to find out what the plans are regarding those.

"President Johnson said the country needed 500,000 hospital beds," Teague said. "We build them with federal aid under the Hill-Burton Act."

Some of the hospitals that are to be closed are "very good hospitals," Teague said, adding that in his hearings he expects to "paint as good a picture as possible" of the government's over-all hospital program.

RURAL AREAS
One of the arguments in favor of closing the veterans hospitals is that those isolated in rural areas cannot attract and keep a competent staff of doctors.

"Yet we get letters from doctors in the same areas that say they can get all the staff they want..."

"It's true you can't get the treatment at Miles City that you can get at Walter Reed in Washington, but suppose the president had been in Miles City when he got sick the other night?"

Volunteers To Be Recognized

The Veterans Administration Voluntary Service Advisory Committee has set March 29 for its annual recognition program. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital recreation hall.

Plans were also announced for the youth volunteer recruitment program in April. Interviews and assignments for the youth volunteers will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday at the hospital, during May.

Communism Said Now On Decline

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An American businessman said today the high water mark of communism as an economic philosophy is past in the Soviet Union and throughout the world.

He is Arthur K. Watson, senior vice president of International Business Machines Corp. He characterized Soviet communism as a weird dilution of a basically unworkable system.

Watson spoke to a meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Territorial Waters Will Be Extended

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—New Zealand will extend its territorial waters to 12 miles out this year to protect the country's fishing industry, Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake said today.

'Air Mail' Not Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has announced he would ask Congress to abolish the air mail category because there no longer is reason for it.

The nation "is on the verge of overnight mail service anywhere in the country," Gronouski told a news conference. "The distinction between air mail and other modes of transportation has become artificial."

Only COMET, the Modern Rice, is both Vitafied and Enriched to protect your health while dieting. That may be one of the reasons hundreds of doctors have requested thousands of copies of the COMET RICE DIET for their patients.

MRS. THOMAS A. WELCH JR.

Couple Married In Fort Worth Church

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Welch Jr. are at home in Lubbock following their wedding Feb. 5 in Memorial Chapel of the First Methodist Church in Fort Worth. The evening ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Todd Muir Jr. of River Oaks Christian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Lee, 685 Eastwood, Fort Worth, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Welch Sr., 1500 Harding.

The candlelight ceremony was read before an altar banked with palms and urns of white gladioli, and the center aisle was lighted by votive candelabra. Nuptial selections were "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

TAFFETA GOWN
The bride's wedding gown was one which had been worn by her twin sister in her wedding. The dress was fashioned of bouquet silk taffeta with bateau neckline, fitted sleeves and bodice accented with cut Alençon lace. The controlled skirt formed a demi-bell from soft folds over the hips with twin puffs at the back accented with motifs of the lace. The skirt extended into an aisle-wide train. Her tiered veil of illusion fell from a pillbox hat topped with a large cabbage rose, and she carried a white sequined Bible with white roses and garlanded hyacinth florettes.

The bride was attended by her twin sister, Mrs. Michael L. McGee, Fort Worth, and the bridegroom was attended by his father. Junior bridesmaids were the bride's cousins, Deann Davis, Dallas, and Kari Bourland, Fort Worth. Crispy Bourland, Fort Worth, served as her cousin's flower girl, and ushers were the bride's brother, Stephen Lee, Michael L. McGee, and John Ray Wiggins, all of Fort Worth; and Robert Moore Jr., Big Spring.

The altar tapers were lighted by the bride's cousins, Bradford Bourland, Fort Worth, and Charles Davis, Dallas.

Formula Upheld On Oil Allocation

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court upheld Wednesday a Railroad Commission oil allocation formula for the Fairway Field in East Texas.

The commission affirmed a lower court ruling against W. L. Pickens, who said the field production order favors producers on the edge of the field. Pickens' production is at the field's center, where the payment is thickest.

The field, the largest oil discovery in the nation since 1928 when drilled in 1928, is in Anderson and Henderson counties.

Justice Joe Greenhill said in the lengthy opinion that the commission's allocation formula is supported by evidence.

Greenhill emphasized that "the court's function is not to substitute itself for the commission in determining the wisdom of an order."

SET IN 1963

The commission set the formula in March 1963 based half on tract size and half on acre-foot of oil-bearing sand in place beneath leases. The order was the first of its kind for a Texas field.

Greenhill said that although a Pickens witness testified Pickens would suffer uncompensated drainage under the formula, "There was an abundance of competent testimony that net drainage was toward Pickens' portion of the field, not away because of water encroachment but because of difference in pressure."

Thus, Greenhill said, the Fairway case is different from the landmark Normanna and Fort Acres cases "where the evidence was undisputed" that large tracts were being drained by small-tract production.

"NOT SUFFICIENT"

"Even if it be conceded that Pickens will suffer some injury, that alone is not enough to invalidate the order," Greenhill said.

Bullet Kills A Suspect

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A bullet killed a man sought for questioning as police stood at his door Wednesday night, and detectives still had no explanation for the mystery of a bloody hotel room.

Police Capt. A. M. Davenport issued a pickup order about 8 p.m. for ex-convict Walter Emerick, 38, of San Antonio.

Davenport said investigators wanted to talk to Emerick after finding his fingerprints in a downtown hotel room where a maid discovered the walls, bed and bath smeared with blood late Monday afternoon. He said ownership of a suitcase and a package of imported cheese there was traced to Emerick.

HEAR SHOT

Shortly before midnight a house detective and three peace officers heard a shot as they tried to unlock a door in another hotel two blocks distant. They broke in and saw Emerick dying from a bullet wound in the head.

"I dashed over and took the gun from his hand," city detective Frank Castillon recounted. "I tried to talk to him but he wouldn't answer. He appeared to be gasping and then he was gone."

At the first hotel the maid told police an unidentified man brushed past her and fled with a blood stained package as she arrived to clean the sixth floor room Monday.

"Although we've found no body," police inspector Joe Hester said, "there's very little doubt a killing occurred there, by the amount of human blood found in the room."

Records showed Emerick registered at the second hotel Tuesday afternoon under the name of Robert Ashley, giving a Dallas address. Police said there was no such address.

House detective Sandor Ambrus Jr. said he grew suspicious because Emerick would not let anyone clean this room or enter for any other reason. Ambrus called police about 11 p.m. and accompanied them to the room, on the fifth floor.

EAR TO DOOR

"When I stuck the key into the keyhole," Ambrus related, "I started to turn it and I heard a shot. Expecting a hail of bullets, we all stepped out of the way."

"A minute later I put my ear to the door to see if I could hear anything. When I couldn't, Castillon broke the door down."

Emerick lay on the bed, clad only in blue underwear. Castillon said a white shirt in the room with Emerick apparently had been rinsed in an effort to remove bloodstains, and it matched a shirt found at the first hotel in size, brand and color.

Emerick was an unemployed bookkeeper. Police records show he received a three-year sentence Jan. 23, 1960, for forgery. His mother told officers Emerick was released from prison last September.

Man Hunting Employment Rents Billboard

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—

When Fred Pitkof decided to top all his other efforts to land a job he proclaimed his need and his qualifications in an expansive, and expensive, way: A $206-a-month billboard at a busy mid-city corner.

Large capitals on the sign spell out "I want a job!" and alongside them Pitkof lists these qualifications — "law degree, three years stock broker, eight years administration, 35 years old, married." Across the bottom of the sign, in king-size letters and figures, are his name and a phone number.

This billing went up about two weeks ago. Wednesday, Pitkof said he was disappointed in the response — but not discouraged. He said he had received 25 to 40 telephone calls and had been interviewed a few times. He is still, however, an out-of-work securities salesman.

"So far," he said, "there has been nothing substantial or significant."

"It isn't as if I were asking for something unreasonable. I feel I am worth $150 a week, but I might take $125."

He might settle for that because he and his wife are expecting their first child in June. Pitkof says it's a mystery to him why he isn't snapped up right off.

Pitkof, who served in the Korean War, said he studied law at the City College of New York and New York University. During his law school years, he said, he worked for a linen supply company, in time becoming an assistant to the president. After that company merged with another, he said, he went to work for a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

Last summer, Pitkof said, he moved here as an employee of a bank that intended eventually to make him a branch manager.

"But I wasn't happy outside investment trusts," he said. "I felt I wasn't doing myself any good. So I left in December. Since then I've tried everything to get a job."

Texas College Board Plan Up For Legislative Debate

AUSTIN (AP)—

Gov. John Connally's No. 1 legislative demand, a blue ribbon board to upgrade Texas college education, got a go-ahead sign Wednesday for debate.

State affairs committees of both House and Senate on voice votes quickly cleared the governor's plan to replace the 15-member Texas Commission on Higher Education with a new 13-member statewide board — the "Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System."

The measure went on today's calendars, ready for floor debate. Connally said he was "very happy with the action of the two committees," adding: "This reflects what I have said all along — that there is a great will and desire on the part of this legislature to make some real strides toward excellence in higher education."

The new board would assume control of junior colleges, now under the Texas Education Agency. It would pass on college course offerings, whereas the present commission controls only degree programs.

In addition the new agency would assign university or senior college status to each of the 22 state schools.

However, the coordinating committee is not a part of the controversial regrouping of state colleges and universities into three systems, which was suggested by the governor but has not been introduced in the form of a bill.

Connally has said he wants the coordinating committee whether or not he gets the regrouping.

"WILL HELP"

"This will help higher education in Texas to achieve excellence in the nation," testified Dr. Arleigh Templeton, president of Sam Houston State Teachers College. He was executive director of Connally's special study group that first recommended the coordinating committee.

Eighteen of the 25 members of the study group supported Connally's bill.

Sen. Galloway Calhoun of Tyler asked why the present commission could not spearhead an upgrading of Texas higher education.

"We felt the only way to achieve coordination and get away from duplication and unnecessary luxuries of having everything everywhere was to have a coordinating board to bring order to this chaotic situation," said Morgan Davis of Houston, retired board chairman of Humble Oil & Refining Co.

"I'd say the reason we need a coordinating board is that the legislature didn't give the commission enough authority."

Refused Call Checked Out

DALLAS (AP)—Guards at the governor's mansion in Austin refused to accept a collect call from a prisoner in the Dallas city jail—but the call produced results.

It was placed at 3:55 a.m. Wednesday by former convict Melvin Bailey, 27, several hours after police accused him of firing a pistol to resist arrest.

Gov. John Connally was asleep and guards refused to accept the call. The hour and circumstances prompted them to notify the Department of Public Safety, which sent an agent in Dallas to check the source.

A detective said Bailey wanted to complain to the governor about alleged "police harassment."

Patrolmen Bob Cannon and R. T. Davis said they pursued Bailey to his home after his car ran a stop sign. He came to the door with gun in hand, they said, and fired a wild shot.

Passed Up For One Movie, Star Wins Prize In Another

Excited

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson says she's an "excited" reader these days of mail from across the country relating to her efforts to beautify America. (AP WIREPHOTO)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie crowd wondered today: Just what did Julie Andrews mean by that remark about Jack L. Warner? It happened Monday night when the Hollywood Foreign Press Association presented the British star with its Golden Globe Award as best musical or comedy actress of 1964 for her performance in "Mary Poppins."

After thanking Walt Disney and others connected with "Mary Poppins," Miss Andrews added before viewers of the Andy Williams television show on NBC:

"And my thanks to Mr. Jack L. Warner, who made a wonderful movie and made it all possible."

PASSED UP

Miss Andrews, who originated the role of Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady" on Broadway, had been passed up by Warner for the film version, which starred Audrey Hepburn. The banquet crowd at the Coconut Grove applauded — and buzzed with chatter long after Miss Andrews had left the stage with her award.

Backstage, she protested the innocence of her comment. "I didn't mean it to sound witchy," she said. "I meant I was really grateful that not doing 'My Fair Lady' brought me 'Mary Poppins' and 'The Americanization of Emily.'"

"WAS SINCERE"

Warner, who received an award for "My Fair Lady" as the best musical or comedy of 1964, commented: "I'm sure she meant it in all sincerity — I think."

He refused at first to pose for a photo with Miss Andrews — "not until 'My Fair Lady' wins the Academy Award," he said cautiously. Later he happily gave Miss Andrews a kiss for photographers.

"My Fair Lady" also won a Golden Globe for best musical or comedy acting performance for Rex Harrison. The awards for best dramatic performances were won by Peter O'Toole of "Becket" and Anne Bancroft of "Pumpkin Eater."

Defense Surplus Bill Sent House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed by voice vote here and sent to the House a bill to facilitate disposal of unnecessary material in the government's $8.5-billion defense stockpile.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., floor manager for the bill in the Senate, said $5.2 billion worth of the stockpiled material is surplus to defense requirements.

2nd Austin TV Station Set To Open

AUSTIN (AP) — KHFI-TV, Austin's second commercial television station, starts programming Friday.

Assigned ultra-high frequency channel 42, the station is owned and operated by Southwest Republic Corp., which also operates radio stations KHFI-FM and KHFI-AM.

The city's only other commercial television station, KTBC-TV on Channel 7, is operated by President Johnson's family business interests. It is a very high frequency outlet.

KHFI-TV owners said the station will serve 11,000 square miles of Central Texas.

Station manager Dan Love said programs will be presented from American Broadcasting Co., National Broadcasting Co., and Columbia Broadcasting System.

CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH Trench Mouth Favors No Certain Age Group

This is the fifth in a series of six articles on dental health published by The Herald in cooperation with the Permian Basin Dental Society, its observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 7-13.

My 16-year-old son has swollen gums that are sore to touch. A friend of mine told me that he probably has trench mouth. Can this be true?

While it is impossible to make a positive diagnosis without an examination, it would appear that your son may well have Vincent's Disease — commonly called trench mouth. You should immediately seek the advice of your dentist about the disease.

What causes trench mouth? Probably it is not an infectious disease. While poor oral hygiene definitely plays a part, healthy mouths sometimes get the disease too. Dental scientists now believe that one of the causative factors is stress.

When a person is under stress, from tension, worry or fatigue, his resistance is lowered, causing changes in body chemistry which favor certain bacteria. Under such conditions, the bacteria which cause trench mouth take advantage of their opportunity and multiply.

If your child has red, swollen gums and if his mouth is sore, his breath bad and the saliva flow increased, consult your dentist immediately. He will check the conditions of the mouth, examine under the edges of the gums to see if hidden debris may be a complicating factor, prescribe drugs, scale the teeth and recommend a program of hygienic home care.

My 12-year-old appears to have gums that are receding. I thought this only happened to adults. Can children get pyorrhea?

We know now that gums disease is not uncommon in children, as well as adults. In fact, the American Dental Association estimates that nearly 50 per cent of all youngsters have some form of gum disease.

Today we know that adults lose considerably more teeth because of diseases of the gum than because of decay.

One cause of gum disease is the formation of calculus on the teeth. This is a hard, crust-like material, composed chiefly of minerals from the saliva and of bacteria and other substances normally found in the mouth. Calculus is rough and irritates the gums. Other sources of irritation are worn-out fillings and crowns and the sharp edges of cavities in badly decayed teeth.

Brushing immediately after eating will help reduce the formation of tartar, but only regular cleaning and scaling of the teeth by a dentist or a dental hygienist will remove it completely. Therefore, regular dental care is the most important factor in controlling gum disease.

Early Risers Have TV Woe

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is a frantic and critical time when a comparative handful of men — network executives and advertising agency men — are deciding what television programs we will watch next season.

Along with these major moves, it would be pleasant if the planners considered some small changes which would enhance the pleasure of viewers.

For instance, this year most programs with dramatic meat on their bones are relegated to late evening hours on the schedules. Eleven p.m. may not be a late bedtime for a TV or advertising executive, but it is to early risers. One most popular complaint received in letters to this column is that "all the programs I like best to watch come on at 10 p.m., and that's just too late for me."

Certainly "The Danny Kaye Show" would be a welcome addition to the early evening because Danny is a great entertainer of children. "The Defenders" had larger audiences when it was in an earlier time period and there seems no real reason why the interesting and action-packed "Fugitive" could not be seen earlier.

THE INTERRUPTIONS

It would be nice if stern restraints were placed upon enthusiastic news departments so that they would interrupt programs with "news bulletins" only if they really are important. And it would be interesting to see a news bulletin that was adjudged important enough to break into a commercial instead of the critical moment of a drama.

Estes Loses Freedom Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black has refused to order Billie Sol Estes freed on bail from a Texas jail. The action was announced by the Supreme Court clerk this week on word from Florida where the vacationing Black made his decision.

Estes was jailed Jan. 18, the same day the Supreme Court rejected his appeal from federal conviction on conspiracy and mail fraud charges. He had been sentenced to 15 years.

The financier's lawyers petitioned Black to set aside an order by U.S. Dist. Judge R. Ewing Thomason in El Paso rescinding Estes' $100,000 bond.

Versatility Describes Domestic Skills Of Mrs. John Birdwell

By Mary COCHRAN
Versatility could be the key word in describing the home-making skills of Mrs. John Birdwell. With a husband away from home part of each week and two pre-schoolers to feed, care for and enjoy, there is always a different challenge and schedule to meet each day.

Changes are not really new to Mrs. Birdwell. Since her marriage when she started out as a college student, through the succeeding years, when she has worked, taking time out to have two children, and helped her husband in the actual construction of their home, she has had to constantly alter her way of living.

Today the Birdwells live in their modern brick home in Silver Heels and appreciate every inch of it since they were the major contributors in its construction. Kathy Lynn, 4, had her first birthday in this home and John William, 6, vaguely recalls the days when mother and daddy were busy with hammer and saw.

Mrs. Birdwell fixes lots of casserole dishes for herself and the children when father is away from home. The leftovers are quite palatable and this type of cooking leaves mother free to play a game of Old Maid with the children or participate in her home demonstration club work. She is a member of the College Park group.

A good breakfast is the first order of the day and lunch for the three is a soup and sandwich affair. When Birdwell is home the menu is changed to a meat-and-potatoes diet. The plain simple foods are served and Mrs. Birdwell devotes her experiments in cooking entirely to desserts. All the family like sweets and she has ample challenge in concocting special delicacies. Fruits are often a basis for this part of the menu.

Since her husband's family has a fruit stand, the canning of fruits in the summertime is one of her special chores. She likes to can fruits and freeze vegetables for their year round diet.

The freezer serves her well in the storage of meats, too, for she buys once every two weeks from a packing house for economy and convenience. She purchases day-old bread in large quantities and stores it in the freezer, as well as homemade sweet breads and tea breads.

When this homemaker was a small child, her father insisted that she learn to cook. By the time she was seven she could put a simple breakfast on the table and developed her cooking techniques as the years went by. However, it was only after her marriage that she really began to experiment with culinary treats.

Mrs. Birdwell is the former organist at her home church, the First Christian, and still fills in when there is a need.

MRS. JOHN BIRDWELL, JOHN AND KATHY

Also, she teaches a Sunday school class.

Here are some of her favorite recipes:

Special Method On Tasty Filets

A special method to make fish filets look attractive and taste ever so good.

Salt and pepper to taste

WARMING TREND

Try Mocha Java drink after winter outing

Try Winter Warm-Up With Hot Mocha Java

One of the nicest things about a winter outing is the party around the hearth which always follows. Next time, have mugs of hot Mocha Java ready to warm the souls of winter outdoor lovers. Mocha Java is a blend of equal parts strong coffee and cocoa, sweetened to taste, a deliciously warming combination. To dress up each drink, top with whipped cream and a sprinkling of cinnamon. With the Mocha Java, serve a basket of Gullford Card Gingerbread, made from a cherished family recipe. The ingredients have been near and dear to American hearts since colonial days—molasses and brown sugar, cinnamon and ginger. The texture is what makes it so different — delicately crisp, not chewy. It is served in slim squares dusted with a mixture of sugar and pulverized coffee.

GULLFORD CARD GINGERBREAD

1-3 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, well-beaten
1/2 cup molasses
1 1/2 cups sifted, enriched flour
1 1/2 tps. ginger
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. pulverized coffee
Cream butter or margarine to consistency of mayonnaise. Beat in sugar and continue beating until fluffy. Stir in egg and molasses. Mix and sift flour, spices, salt and baking soda. Stir in gradually. Chill Roll 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board. Place on greased baking sheet. Combine sugar and pulverized coffee and sprinkle over top. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 20 minutes. Cut in squares.

Breakfast Treat For This Year

A resolution for 1965: interesting breakfasts. Try Eggs Benedict in patty shells to start this year's breakfasts on a high note. Versatile patty shells, which come frozen and ready to bake, make this delightful breakfast an easy one to prepare.

EGGS BENEDICT

6 baked patty shells
1 cup chopped cooked ham
6 fresh eggs
Hollandaise Sauce (recipe below)

Parsley clusters

Fill the baked shells loosely with the ham and heat in a preheated 350 degree oven for 10 minutes.

Poach the eggs in a frying pan in enough salted water to cover. When done, cut out the eggs with a 2-inch cookie cutter.

Place an egg on top of the ham inside each shell and cover with hollandaise sauce. Garnish with parsley.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

1/4 lb. butter (1 stick)
2 egg yolks
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. lemon juice

Divide the stick of butter into three pieces. In the top of a double boiler, put the egg yolks, salt, lemon juice and 1 piece butter. Stir together with a wooden spoon or spatula. Place top over the boiling water in the bottom of the boiler, but do not let it touch the water. Stir constantly until the butter melts; then add the second piece of butter; stir until melted. Add the third piece of butter and continue stirring until thick, about 2 minutes. Remove the top from the bottom of the boiler.

TANTALIZE GUESTS Serve a hot spice fruit compote in casserole

Blend Fresh, Canned Fruit In Hot Compote

When a group of men and women come to your house for party refreshment after playing or watching winter sports, what's new to serve?

Mainstay fare can be easy and usual: make-your-own sandwiches and serve-yourself-salads with loads of relishes and a variety of salad dressings from which guests can pick and choose.

The something new can be the dessert, Hot Spiced Fruit Compote, and the following recipe makes 16 servings. Cookies taste good with it.

This large-size dessert calls for both canned and fresh fruit, a pleasant combination. Spices, brown sugar and butter go with the fruit.

HOT SPICED FRUIT COMPOTE

1 can (1 lb.) peach halves
1 can (1 lb.) apricot halves
1 can (8 1/2 oz.) pear halves
1 can (8 1/2 oz.) pineapple tidbits
1 can (8 1/2 oz.) pitted light sweet cherries
4 Winesap or Delicious apples (pared, cored and cubed)
Juice of 1 lemon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. cloves
1-3 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups halved seeded grapes
2 large bananas, sliced thick
Drain and mix together all the syrup from the canned fruit; reserve 1 1/2 cups of the syrup. (Use the remaining syrup in some other dish or beverage.) Turn the drained canned fruits into a 2 1/2-quart casserole. Mix the apples with the lemon juice and add.

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the spices and brown sugar; stir in the 1 1/2 cups reserved fruit syrup. Add the butter; heat gently, stirring often, until blended; pour over canned fruit and apples; mix gently.

Bake, covered, in a 350 degree oven until very hot—about 20 minutes. Gently mix in the grapes and bananas and serve at once. Makes 16 servings.

Mix Omelet Quick Way

It's no longer true that you can't make an omelet without breaking an egg. A new line of four instant omelet mixes has been developed. All the ingredients for making a quick omelet or a variety of scrambled eggs are packed in a box.

Utilizing the new freeze-drying process, and a new method for making dehydrated eggs, now the flavor and texture of fresh eggs is preserved in a light, easy-to-tote package that requires no refrigeration. This makes the new line of omelet mixes excellent for boating, camping or fishing trips, as well as for family picnics.

Available in four varieties—Ham, Mushroom, Western and Cheese—the omelet mixes are easy to prepare. And you don't have the work of shredding cheese, or dicing and cutting ham, onions or peppers. Each package contains two envelopes—one with dried whole egg solids, the other with freeze-dried foods used as flavoring. Both are combined with water just before cooking. Cooking takes about 5 to 10 minutes. Each package makes three servings.

While great for outdoor eating, the omelet mixes are excellent as luncheon or supper main dishes at home, too. A supply on the pantry shelf will assure you of a variety of quick, tasty late evening snacks.

Dear Abby

A Hairy Question

DEAR ABBY: Mona and I are college seniors and have been dating steadily since the beginning of this term. I like her a lot and could be serious about her. Last Saturday night we went to a university-sponsored swimming party. When Mona saw me in my swimming trunks, she looked disgusted. I'm no Adonis, but I'm no bag of bones either. Mona suggested leaving early and while we were driving home she said, "You embarrassed me to death. Why didn't you tell me you were hirsute?" I asked her what that meant and she said, "Anyone having excess hair on his body is hirsute. Why don't you shave the hair off your back and shoulders?" I asked, sarcastically, "How about the hair on my chest?" She said, "Oh, that's all right. It's accepted. The other isn't." Is her request whacky, or is she right, Abby? A man doesn't know much about these things. TIM

DEAR TIM: If Mona does not want you, hair and all, bow out and figure your brush with her was a close shave.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 17, a senior in high school and a compulsive letter-writer. Last year she wrote to a freshman boy at the state university every day without fail. She'd be writing him at 6:30 in the morning, and also past midnight she sat writing page after page after page. (She'd get maybe a one-page letter from him every other week. Once I read some of the stuff she wrote (trying to get a clue as to how serious it was) and it was the biggest bunch of nothing I ever read. She is just a fair student, but if she spent half the time on her school work that she spends on those letters she would be much better. She writes a fellow in the Navy she doesn't even know. She got his address from a girl friend. Every lunch hour she spends a dime calling home to see if she got any mail. What on earth is wrong with the girl? You may print your answer. She never reads your column and gets mad if I suggest it. TEXAN

DEAR TEXAN: Apparently your daughter needs the outlet that letter-writing offers her. But I think she's overdoing it. Insist that she spend more time on her studies, and write letters in her "spare" time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STEVE: The dictionary is the only place where success comes before work.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Nurses For Animals Seen

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Animals will have nurses someday, a Texas veterinarian says. Dr. Gerald Parker, president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association, told the group Monday that in 5 to 10 years licensed animal nurses or animal technicians would be used by veterinarians. Parker said such personnel would be similar to nurses in the medical profession.

Crude Oil Output Up

Air conditioning equipment is sold and serviced for both residential and commercial purposes. "The Freeze King ice cream freezers and shake servers are ideal for drive-ins," Hargrave said. "The Recoa drink dispensers are almost indispensable for these places also, because all that is needed is a gallon of syrup on the top. ## Decision Waited On Gas Price Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arguments which lasted three days over the Federal Power Commission's regulation of wellhead gas prices in the Permian Basin of West Texas and New Mexico ended Wednesday.

The next step is up to the commission.

The case is a key to the FPC's area approach for control of field prices of natural gas. At issue were a hearing examiner's recommendations for the field, which produces about 10 per cent of the nation's gas.

DECISION AWAITED

There was no indication when the FPC would make its decision.

Staff lawyers of the commission made the closing arguments. Some gas company lawyers offered rebuttals.

Examiner Seymour Wenner recommended Sept. 17, after lengthy hearings, the application of a two-price system according to category of gas to production from the Permian Basin, most of which goes to California.

ONE FORMULA

He proposed one formula for prices on gas from wells drilled exclusively for gas and another for gas discovered and produced along with oil.

Wenner recommended ceiling prices ranging from 10 cents a thousand cubic feet for "old" casinghead gas to 16.75 cents for new "gas well" gas.

Governors of Texas and New Mexico and lawyers for many gas producers argued a single area price of not less than 20 cents was just and reasonable.

The commission has sought in the Permian Basin case to establish a pattern for its regulation of producers' prices of natural gas destined for interstate commerce — a job handed the commission by a 1954 Supreme Court decision.

Union Feeler For Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has made a proposal to the International Union of Electrical Workers which UAW President Walter P. Reuther says "would be in the direction of a consolidation."

A merger of the two AFL-CIO affiliates would create an organization with 1.6 million members. Only the Teamsters Union claims more members.

Washington Calls Shots In Strange War In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the strange new kind of war being fought in Viet Nam, detailed military shots are being called in Washington as never before in history.

This is because each military move against the Communists outside the borders of South Viet Nam is loaded with potential for bringing on a big-scale war.

In pre-atomic days, military commanders directed military operations once the fighting began. This was true in Korea, too, although a decision against carrying the war north of the Yalu into Red China was made by President Harry S. Truman.

The advent of the Kennedy administration brought to power a group of civilians, led by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who believed in the idea of controlled response to Communist threats and actions.

The aim was to keep a tight reign on military moves, to tailor the response to the threat, and to limit any clash to the lowest level possible.

The objective was to minimize the danger of accidental war, to prevent a situation from getting out of hand and escalating into general war — into a war that might lead ultimately to a dreaded nuclear exchange.

Thus, the command and control system was built up to an extent never before achieved — and the reins of that system led to the highest levels of the Pentagon and White House. Development of that system had started earlier, but was accelerated by McNamara.

One practical application of tightened civilian control over military operations was seen in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

During last summer's Gulf of Tonkin shooting incident and again last weekend when the Communists attacked a U.S. compound and airfield near Pleiku, the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended a list of targets for retaliation and the method of attacking them. President Johnson, McNamara and the National Security Council accepted the basic recommendations of the chiefs.

After the civilian officials had given their assent, the orders were passed down through the chain of command — through the U.S. commander in the Pacific, based at Honolulu, then to the commander of the Navy's 7th Fleet and U.S. military chiefs in Viet Nam.

LBJ Beats Off Challenge In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has outmaneuvered Congress to turn back challenges to his conduct of foreign relations and his orders to close 11 veterans hospitals and 20 farm research stations.

By trading off some time, the President got voice-vote passage by the Senate Wednesday of a $1.6-billion supplemental money bill carrying watered-down anti-Nasser and anti-closing riders. The measure, previously approved by the House, went to the White House.

UPROAR FADES

The uproar caused by an original House vote to cut off the shipments of surplus foodstuffs to the United Arab Republic had died to the point where the matter wasn't even mentioned in the final debate. The flareup came after UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser said, in effect, the United States could take its aid and "go to hell."

Johnson got authority to make the decision on whether additional shipments shall go to Egypt.

Instead of cutting off funds for the closing of Veterans Administration hospitals and agriculture research stations as the Senate had voted to do, both houses agreed to a compromise under which none would be closed until after May 1.

The Senate accepted this provision by a 62-9 vote, with nine Republicans voting against it.

ASSESS MATTER

Presumably this moratorium would give Congress time to look into the matter and recommend against some of the prospective shutdowns.

France Asks Talks On Asia

PARIS (AP) — The French government declared today that political negotiations can provide the only solution in conflict in Southeast Asia and said it is ready to take part in new talks on the troubled area.

Settlement of the problems of Southeast Asia cannot be reached through fighting, a spokesman for the French Cabinet said after a meeting of the Cabinet.

The spokesman said France is prepared to attend a new session of the 1954 Geneva conference, which ended the Indochina war, and to discuss settlement of the conflict which has arisen since then.

An initiative for a new session of the conference must come from Britain or the Soviet Union, cochairmen of the conference, the French statement said.

Zhukov 'Out Of Obscurity'

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, one of the Soviet World War II military commanders, has emerged from the obscurity to which former Premier Nikita Khrushchev consigned him in 1957.

For the first time in years, Zhukov's signature appeared on an obituary published in the military paper Red Star.
