Spending Bill OK'd

Appropriations Committee Chairman Rep. W. S. Heatly, seated, hands a committee-approved appropriations measure to House Speaker Ben Barnes in Austin today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Panel Okays Spending Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee, in a surprise move sure to speed up the legislature, approved for floor action today a $3.6 billion 1966-67 appropriations bill.

The action placed the bill before the House at a record early date. No general appropriations bill has been voted out of committee before March 6.

The bill does not fulfill all of Gov. Connally's recommendations for higher education, and would leave a surplus of only $25 million.

Slim Missile Destroyer Ship Joins Fleet

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The guided missile destroyer Claude V. Ricketts, manned by sailors from six nations, sailed today on her first regular deployment with the U.S. Navy.

The Ricketts, America's prototype for the planned multilateral force, slipped away from a pier at the Norfolk Naval Base at 8:30 a.m. Manning the rails as the trim ship moved out were many of the 255 American and foreign crewmen aboard.

Once at sea, the Ricketts will rendezvous with 12 other 2nd Fleet ships sailing this week to relieve a like number of 6th Fleet ships in the Mediterranean. Just behind the Ricketts, two ships sailed from here for the Mediterranean, the guided missile frigate Dewey and the guided missile destroyer Barney.

There was no ceremony as the Ricketts and the other ships sailed. Only a few dependents were on the pier to say goodby.

For the past eight months, Ricketts and the mixed crew have been training for the "show-me" assignment.

Aboard are 150 crewmen from the United States, 36 from West Germany, 24 from Italy, 23 from Great Britain, 20 from Greece, 2 from the Netherlands. All speak English — or try to.

The multilateral force — MLF — has been America's proposal for a way to share control of nuclear weapons with other nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The late President John F. Kennedy had proposed a fleet of MLF surface ships carrying Polaris missiles.

The idea hit heavy opposition at the start and has been losing more ground lately.

Turkey withdrew her 11-man contingent Saturday. President Johnson recently has softened American insistence on the proposal.

France is against the idea, Britain wants modification of it, and West Germany seems to be losing her enthusiasm for it.

The Ricketts has been doing fine in training. Despite the difficulties some crewmen have with English and some grumbling about the lack of liquor aboard, she got a top rating after a four-week shakedown cruise in the Caribbean last month.

Barnes said the measure could come up as early as Thursday.

The bill calls for $271.4 million for the 22 state colleges, an increase from $201.8 million. Faculty salary recommendations, however, are $7 million below Connally's recommendations.

Connally based his college spending requests on creation of a strong college coordinating board, which was up for debate in the legislature.

The bill would appropriate $1.7 billion for public school and higher education spending in 1966-67, an increase of $230.2 million over the current spending.

The 22 state colleges would get $271.4 million from all funds, up from the present $16.5 million.

State hospitals and special schools would get an increase of $24.3 million over the current level, and state agencies would get $17.2 billion, an increase of $101 million.

Heavily said the bill is $7 million under Gov. Connally's recommendation on college faculty salaries, $2 million under on libraries and $1.5 million under on organized research. It is above the Legislative Budget Board bill, however, by $15 million on faculty pay, $3 million on college libraries and $1.5 million for organized research, he said.

SAC Will Leave Britain

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. Strategic Air Command will close operations in Britain April 1 after 14 years, an Air Force spokesman said today.

SAC will then move its few remaining B47 strategic bombers to West Germany or back to the United States.

Of SAC's last two bases here, Brize Norton will be handed over to the Royal Air Force for use by its transport command and Upper Heyford will continue to be used by the U.S. Air Force as a transit base, the spokesman said.

The closure is part of an economy campaign announced by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in November. Affected are the Portsmouth, N.H., and the Brooklyn Navy yards. Six SAC bases within the United States also are being closed. McNamara at the time said 15 overseas air bases also would be closed but he did not identify them pending talks with foreign governments.

LeMay Says U.S. Tops In Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who retired two weeks ago as Air Force chief of staff, says the United States is "still far stronger than the Russians" in air strength but "they are catching up."

Four of the Howard County steers are to be sold.

New Civilian Regime Said Formed In Viet

Announcement Seen Imminent

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese leaders appeared ready today to announce the formation of a new civilian government headed by a former foreign minister, Dr. Phan Huy Quat.

Li. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's strong man, also was expected to announce a 20-member advisory council, including six military officers, to serve as a temporary legislative arm of the government.

Khanh's ruling military council reportedly picked Quat, 55, after three other candidates turned down the premiership. A doctor and opponent of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem, Quat served as foreign minister last year under Khanh.

SUPPORT SEEN

Quat's Cabinet reportedly includes men who are expected to win the support of various groups whose opposition has toppled past governments in Saigon. Quat is a native of North Viet Nam, and of 13 top Cabinet members reportedly chosen so far, nine are either from the North or central Viet Nam.

The most active political pressure groups in the country, including the militant Buddhists, are led by North or central Vietnamese.

The government has been headed by acting Premier Nguyen Xuan Oanh who was appointed by Khanh Jan. 28 after Premier Tran Van Huong was ousted in a military coup. Khanh retains real authority as commander of the armed forces.

REDS TO STRIKE

Although the fighting in Viet Nam has slackened, the Communists were ordered today to strike harder against U.S. and South Vietnamese forces. Radio Hanoi said the order was issued by Nguyen Huu Tho, president of the Central Committee of the Viet Cong's Presidium.

It called upon the Viet Cong to "deal deadly blows at the enemy" and said that the war is becoming "more and more ruthless as it is drawing near to success."

North Viet Nam charged that two U.S.-South Vietnamese ships shelled one of its villages Sunday. It said that North Vietnamese troops set both craft afire.

The Communist regime also announced that it was requesting the International Control Commission to "withdraw immediately all its fixed teams" because repeated U.S.-South Vietnamese air raids made it difficult to guarantee their safety.

SUPERVISED TRUCE

The commission, composed of India, Poland and Canada, was set up to supervise the 1954 Indochina armistice.

U.S. military sources said the bodies of seven Americans have been found in the wreckage of the U.S. enlisted men's billet at Qui Nhon which the Viet Cong bombed last Wednesday. Twelve other Americans are still missing and presumed dead in the rubble, and two other Americans were killed in the explosion.

Massive Vote March Set By Negroes

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Nearly 1,000 Negroes converged on the Dallas County Courthouse today in a protest of slow voter registration, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leading the demonstrators, stood on the outside of the courthouse looking in.

Two leaders on opposite sides of the civil rights conflict here, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sheriff James G. Clark, were to leave sick beds today to lead their respective charges as Negroes planned a massive right-to-vote march.

Negro leaders, armed with their first parade permit, called for a minimum of 1,000 in the march on the Dallas County courthouse.

King promised to leave his sick bed in Atlanta to lead the procession from two Negro churches about 10 blocks through downtown Selma to the courthouse.

The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner was put to bed Saturday for treatment of a cold and exhaustion.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, who spoke in King's place at a mass meeting Sunday night, said he would walk at the head of the freedom parade with King. Shuttlesworth, a longtime Birmingham civil rights leader, is now pastor of a church in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The other ailing principal, Sheriff Clark, also was reported to be preparing to leave his hospital bed and direct his deputies during the march.

Tanzania Calls U.S. 'A Bully'

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Relations between Tanzania and the United States deteriorated further today after the United States expelled a Tanzanian diplomat and the African nation called its ambassador home from Washington.

"We are a small country but we are as much a sovereign state as is the United States," the Tanzanian government said in a statement Sunday night. "We do not bully and we do not like being bullied."

The U.S. State Department said Sunday that "a thorough investigation" uncovered no basis for the charge against the expelled Americans. They were Frank Carlucci III, consul-general on the island of Zanzibar, and Robert Gordon, counselor of the U.S. Embassy in Dar es Salaam, the capital of Tanzania.

The United States called Ambassador William M. Leonard home from Dar es Salaam two weeks ago for consultations.

The State Department said it told Tanzania on Jan. 25 that the charges against Gordon and Carlucci were of "wholly mistaken character" but the African nation declined to "provide evidence to substantiate the allegation."

"In view of these circumstances," the State Department continued, "the United States felt compelled to ask for the departure of Katua within a reasonable time."

The Tanzania government charged that Washington had given it an ultimatum to produce evidence to support its charges against Gordon and Carlucci or else Katua would be expelled.

"NOT SCARED" — The president and government of Tanzania do not give way to threats or ultimatums, the statement said.

It added that President Nyerere had told the United States that neither Ambassador Leonard nor the U.S. government was involved in the charges against Gordon and Carlucci.

Tanzania, a nation of 10.5 million, was formed last year by the merger of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar. Tanganyika is a former British colony and Zanzibar a former British protectorate.

A new batch of arctic air sent temperatures below zero again in the northern Plains Sunday and fresh snow whitened the Atlantic Coast and a wide stretch from the Rocky Mountains to the upper Great Lakes.

The mercury dropped as low as 9 below in Minot, N.D. Heavy snow and high winds buffeted parts of Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas.

In the East, Richmond, Va., collected four inches of snow in six hours Sunday night and early this morning. Philadelphia reported about one inch and some snow fell as far south as Georgia.

The West Coast was mostly cool and dry, except for occasional sprinkles in parts of Oregon and Washington.

Twin Space Launching For Moon Probe Set This Week

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A doubleheader space launch is scheduled here this week to learn more about the moon, how to get men there and the dangers they face along the way.

A mighty Saturn 1, believed to be the most powerful rocket in the world, is to rumble skyward at 8:30 a.m. (EST) Tuesday in an attempt to orbit a huge winged satellite named Pegasus to study the meteoroid hazard in space.

On Wednesday, at 12:05 p.m., an Atlas-Agena rocket is to propel the Ranger 8 spacecraft on a photographic mission to the moon.

Major goal of the flight is to further evaluate performance of the huge rocket, forerunner of the Saturn 5 vehicle being developed to hoist three-man teams of Apollo astronauts toward the moon in 1969. The Saturn 1 will be seeking its eighth successful test flight without a miss. Two more test shots remain after this week's shot.

Pegasus will be the first working payload carried by a

Saturn 1. On launching, it will be folded accordion-style in the nose of the booster. Once in orbit, a protective cover will fall away and the satellite will extend two wing-like panels to a span of 96 feet.

REPORT COLLISIONS As Pegasus sweeps through an orbit ranging from 310 to 465 miles high, it is to report its collision with meteoroids, bits of space debris which zip through space at more than 25,000 miles an hour. The satellite is to provide a better idea on the distribution, size and velocity of the particles and how to protect spacecraft from them.

Ranger 8 is to continue the lunar photographic exploration begun last July by Ranger 7. Ranger 8 is to climax a 65-hour, quarter-million-mile journey by snapping more than 4,000 close-up pictures before crash-landing on the lunar surface.

The craft is to photograph an area nearer the moon's shadow line than the region pictured by Ranger 7. Here, the photos would have better definition of detail because of longer shadows cast by rocks, mountains and other features. The target zone is the Sea of Tranquility, in the east-central part of the moon as viewed from earth.

NAT KING COLE

Musical Star Nat King Cole Dead At 45

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Nat King Cole, whose smoky voice made him one of popular music's brightest stars, died today. He was 45.

Death came to the famed Negro musician at St. John's hospital.

Cole had a cancerous lung tumor removed Jan. 25.

He had been admitted last Dec. 9 to St. John's for what was then termed a respiratory ailment. Later his physicians, Dr. Robert Kositchek and Dr. Elmer Rigby, disclosed that the singer had a lung tumor.

He was allowed to go home shortly after Christmas and his doctors said his professional engagements for several months were cancelled "to allow time for his full recuperation."

The first hint on Cole's illness came when he cut short an engagement at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, complaining of a respiratory ailment. The gravity of his illness became more apparent when he was unable to star in the first popular music concert at Los Angeles' new Music Center on Dec. 11 and was replaced by Frank Sinatra.

Cole is survived by his widow, Maria; daughters Carol, 19, Natalie, 14, and twins Casey and Timolin, 3, and his adopted son, Nat Kelly, 5.

W. Germany Warns Egypt

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany threatened today to cut off economic aid to Egypt because of the impending visit to Cairo of East German President Walter Ulbricht.

At the same time, Israel angrily rejected Bonn's offer of compensatory economic aid in place of arms shipments canceled by West Germany under U.A.R. pressure.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol charged in Jerusalem that Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government gave in to Egyptian blackmail in ending arms shipments to Israel.

INVITES ULBRICHT — The triangular diplomatic dispute erupted this way: President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic had long demanded an end to West German arms shipments. Then he invited Ulbricht to visit Cairo, starting Feb. 24.

The West Germans objected to Ulbricht's visit, claiming it amounted to de facto recognition of the East German Communist regime. Basic West Germany policy is to break diplomatic relations with nations which fully recognize East Germany.

After cutting off arms shipments to Israel — enemy of the Arab world — West Germany offered other types of aid in place of arms.

But in a statement to the Israeli Parliament today, Eshkol said Germany "must face a special responsibility of unexamined gravity" in its relations with Israel. He contrasted Bonn's decision on arms for Israel with "the fact that German scientists in Egypt are still working to strengthen Nasser's apparatus for aggression."

RED CARPET OUT — The German hope in cutting arms shipments to Israel was to get Nasser to tone down the Ulbricht visit. But the Egyptian press reported over the weekend that Nasser has prepared a red carpet reception.

In East Berlin, Ulbricht as-sailed West German efforts to get Nasser to cancel the visit.

Dollar Outflow Curbs Too Late?

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson is relying on moral suasion, on banks and corporations to produce the biggest cut in the United States' embarrassing deficit in its monetary dealings with other nations — more of a cut than his proposed restrictive laws can effect.

Most businessmen and bankers will agree that the deficits should be reduced to protect the good name and value of the U.S. dollar and also America's gold reserves. But how many will say: "I'm a special case; it's the other fellow who should cut back on his investments abroad and his loans to foreigners."

AVOID BOOSTS

The President also asks labor and industry to avoid any wage or price boosts that could price U.S. goods out of world markets and thus trim the exports that hold the deficit down. Again, the question: How many will, or can, practice such restraint in their own unions, their own corporations?

Bank loans and corporate funds flowing overseas were the biggest items in the disturbing jump in the final months of 1964 in the payments deficit — the gap between the dollars going abroad for private and government purposes and those returning for payment of U.S. exports and as yields on past investments.

But bankers and corporation treasurers have been saying in recent weeks that the reason the flow had increased was that financial institutions and business firms were anticipating a legal clampdown. Many question if the United States will get the horse back by locking the barn door now.

FOREIGN LOANS

Bank loans to foreigners totalled $781 million in the final three months of 1964, up $355 million from the third quarter. The President wants a tax on such loans to discourage them by making the loans more costly. And the Federal Reserve Board is asking banks voluntarily to limit such loans to 5 percent of the amount outstanding at the end of the year.

But some bankers wonder if the proposed new tax will really deter foreign borrowing as long as interest rates here remain markedly lower than those in many foreign lands.

Airliner Safe After Distress

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An American Airlines Astrojet with 105 persons aboard landed safely at Carswell Air Force Base Sunday afternoon after circling the field for an hour.

Shortly after the plane had taken off from Dallas Love Field on a flight to New York the pilot discovered that a hydraulic failure had prevented the nose landing gear from retracting.

An airline spokesman said the plane had been diverted to Carswell for a landing because of the longer runways and emergency facilities.

The jet, which carried 99 passengers and a crew of 6, flew over the field for an hour to consume fuel and made a normal landing as fire trucks and ambulances stood by.

Cabin Fire Kills Texan

LUFKIN (AP) — A 38-year-old East Texas man was burned to death late Sunday night as his wooden cabin was consumed by flames.

Authorities identified the victim as E. H. Adams, of Huntington, a small town nine miles east of Lufkin in the Piney Woods.

The blaze was reported about 10 p.m. and was not put out until midnight.

Adams was a sawmill employe. His body was found on a mattress in the razed cabin.

Foreign Aid Program Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid program was sharply criticized over the weekend by influential friends and foes in Congress.

Joining in demands for changes in the 17-year-old program were Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., Rep. Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Passman heads an appropriations subcommittee that handles foreign aid financing. Morgan is chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Fulbright heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Passman said that unless there are some far-reaching changes in the program, the United States not only will lose friends abroad but will be in serious economic trouble.

"It is time," Passman said, "for the executive branch to tell the American people that a very large percentage of our dollar claims against foreign nations are long-term and uncollectible and also to tell the American people that foreign nations have waxed fat and accumulated, at our expense, short-term dollar credits for which they can demand all of our diminishing gold reserves." "Unless all the spigots of foreign aid are drastically reduced," he said, "then the dollar will be in even more serious trouble."

Passman said that although the annual foreign aid appropriation has been running about $4 billion in recent years, the actual cost is more than $7 billion a year.

Robbers Hit N.Y. Theatres

NEW YORK (AP) — Two East Side theater managers were robbed Sunday night of about $4,000 in receipts as they were about to put the cash in a bank night depository.

The victims, Keith Massey and John Gold, told police two men, holding their hands in their pockets as though they had guns, fled with the money.

The movie, playing at both theaters, is "Goldfinger," in which a sophisticated thief tries to rob Ft. Knox.

Violence Toll Stands At 21

Violence claimed the lives of at least 21 persons in Texas over the weekend. Twelve of the victims died in traffic accidents. The Associated Press death toll began at 6 p.m. Friday and went through midnight Sunday. The latest reported deaths included the following:

An East Texas man from Huntington, E. H. Adams, 58, was burned to death late Sunday when his wooden cabin in the piney woods caught fire.

A Dallas man died Sunday morning after suffering burns in a fire Saturday night at the Whitmore Hotel. He was identified as Pitts L. Staden, 69.

The crash of a single-engine plane at Arlington, between Fort Worth and Dallas, killed Pearl Louis Brackett, 46, of nearby Fort Worth, and Mrs. Ruby Lee Watkins, also 46, of Arlington.

The wedding was postponed. Maria de Jesus Silva, 80, burned to death in her San Antonio home Saturday afternoon when her bed ignited either from a small open flame heater or a cigarette.

A car-truck accident Friday night near Nixon killed Santos de Leon, 16, of Gillette and Frank Cisneros, 13, of Nixon. Mrs. Fannie Walling, 81, died Saturday in her home at Elkhart, near Palestine, when her clothing caught fire from an open stove.

A scuffle on an Austin street Friday night ended in the fatal shooting of Robert Earl Kelly. Police questioned another man, Frank Wilde, 79, of Rowena died Sunday when two cars collided at an intersection 13 miles south of San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Noack, occupants of the other car, were injured.

NOSES DOWN
A witness said the plane nosed down after taking off from a private airstrip. It exploded and burned on impact.

Mrs. Walter McClagherty, 72, died when her car was struck by a Southern Pacific freight train Sunday at a grade-crossing at Hondo in Medina County.

PICKUP TRUCKS
Earl Haritt of Crockett was killed Saturday night in the crash of two pickup trucks 12 miles south of Crockett. He was a passenger. The driver of one of the pickups, Alton Ray Arnold, 45, of Crockett, was sent to a Houston hospital in critical condition.

Robert Topsy Jefferson of Houston was killed Saturday night in a head-on car crash eight miles east of Wharton on U.S. 29. Three other persons were injured.

A broadside collision of two cars at Houston killed Robert Wayne Allen, 35, and injured Kenneth Edge, 23, Sunday.

Jimmy Kent, an East Texas State College student from Whitehouse, was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding overturned on U.S. 89 east of Trenton. Two other youths were injured.

Mrs. Ester Rinn, 65, of Houston died in a hospital Sunday of accident injuries suffered earlier north of Tomball, near Houston.

Over Ton Of Snakes Caught
SWEETWATER (AP)—More than a ton of Western diamond-back rattlesnakes were captured alive over the weekend in the 7th annual Sweetwater Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup. Officials of the three-day hunting event said 1,940 of the deadly critters were snared. Their massed weight came to 2,373 pounds.

Top prize cash money of $225 went to two Sweetwater boys, Tony Hayley and Jim Kamer, for catching the most rattlers (more than 300) and the longest warminit (64 inches).

The snakes are milked of venom for medical research and many are then decapitated. The hides are sold and the meat cooked and eaten.

The roundup started in 1959 after area ranchers complained that they were losing sheep, cattle and dogs from rattlesnake bites.

An estimated 50,000 snakes have been removed from the region since then.

Most hunters were from Texas but many came from other states, including New York and California.

SHOT, KILLED
Curtis Gibson, 26, was shot and killed early Sunday in a Texas City hotel following an argument. Police charged Vesta Lee Jackson, 21, Gibson's sister-in-law, with murder.

Miss Martha Lorene Miller, 25, died in a two-car collision Saturday night two miles east of Brownwood on U.S. 87.

Mrs. Willie Bell Schuster, 32, was killed by a car as she attempted to cross Stemmons Freeway in Dallas Saturday night. Police said she had left her stalled car to go for help.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, 22, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in northwest Fort Worth.

Leanna Godeau, 54, of the Barrett community in the Houston area was struck and killed by a car before dawn Saturday as she started across the Crosby-Highlands road.

A car crashed into a culvert in northeast Houston Saturday, killing Richard Stephen, 38. Three other youths were injured, one of whom was to have been married Saturday night.

GOREN ON BRIDGE
BY CHARLES H. GOREN

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—Partner opens with two no trump and you hold:
♠ A K Q 9 8 7 4 3 ♦ K Q 3 2 ♣ 4
What is your response?
A.—The only information you require is the number of aces in partner's hand. The recommended bid therefore is an immediate response of four clubs, the Gerber convention. If North bids "four diamonds" showing all four aces, you will bid a grand slam; if he bids four no trump, showing three aces, you will settle for a small slam.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ 10 4 J 10 7 5 ♦ K 8 2 ♣ A J 9 5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Partner has indicated upon a game contract that you might have a very weak hand with no particular fit. Actually you have a near maximum holding on which a one no trump response may be made, to wit: nine points with a few trimmings in the way of ten. To show that you had a glamorous raise it is necessary to bid one more heart than is necessary. The suggested call is, therefore, five hearts, which surely must be safe. Certainly partner cannot expect more than this, else you would have made a more constructive response.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ K J 9 ♦ K Q 7 4 ♦ A Q 8 2 ♣ 7 6
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Having reached the conclusion that there is no possible game in the hand you must then ponder the question whether partner can be trusted with a one no trump contract. In these columns the shrewd attitude is always favored, and a pass is indicated. Partner's known maximum is 10 points which together with 15 does not add up to the required 26.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ J 7 5 4 2 ♦ 6 3 ♦ K Q 6 4 2 ♣ 5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Double Pass 1 ♠
Pass 1 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Your partner has forced you to rebid at the level of three and must, therefore, have a very strong hand. The suggested bid is three spades rather than a rebid of your own suit. Free bids by responder in suits higher in rank than the opener's suit are very drastic acts and should consequently be accorded great respect.

Q. 5—Partner opens with one spade and you hold:
♠ K J 10 2 ♦ 6 3 2 ♦ 7 5 3 ♣ A Q 2
What is your response?
A.—This hand is not as good as it looks at first blush. While it has 16 high card points it is not rich in playing strength, and the suggested response is two spades.

Farm Lobby Shaping Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers are being asked to lobby as perhaps they have never lobbied before in behalf of big federal farm-aid programs.

This admonition is going out from the National Farmers Union, long a militant backer of tighter farm production controls and higher farm price supports.

"You must now visit, write and call your congressman, senator, governor—in fact, all persons in a policy-making position, both at the state and national level, expressing the needs and wishes of yourselves and your neighbors."

Not all farm groups agree with the union. The American Farm Bureau Federation, with the largest membership of any general national farm organization, will be trying to influence Congress to loosen present controls and gradually authorize withdrawal of most government programs designed to influence prices and supplies of farm products.

President Johnson indicated recently he wants to cut farm program costs.

Political Fur Flying Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's a little early even for the 'crosses, but politics is bustin' out all over.

Consider these random week-end developments:

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, disdained a demand of the Ohio AFL-CIO in the union's weekly "News and Views" that he be read out of the Democratic party. The AFL-CIO said he votes more with the Republicans than Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, called on actor Ronald Reagan to stay in his California backyard if he seeks political office.

Speaking in Springfield, Ill., Ford said Reagan made a great impact in Michigan, Illinois and other states with campaign speeches for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater. But, Ford told a news conference, "we Republicans don't believe in carpet-bagging like the Democrats do."

The evident object of Ford's gibe, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., added nothing new to his current political feud with New York State Democratic leaders who are allied with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City.

One of these, state Sen. Joseph Zaretzki Saturday accused Kennedy of "trying to take over the legislature in New York."

But there was fresh speculation that Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., might seek the Republican nomination to oppose Wagner. As a Republican who carried New York City in his race for re-election in 1962, Javits would be considered a powerful opponent for the Democratic mayor.

In next door New Jersey, Sen.

RONALD REAGAN

Clifford P. Case still was side-stepping a possible bid for the Republican nomination for governor.

In Oregon, Democratic Sen. Maurine Neuberger, announced she will run again in 1966. Sen. Neuberger, who was married last year to a Boston psychiatrist, expressed surprise that anyone would doubt that she wants to remain in the Senate.

Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield is expected to be her opponent.

In Salt Lake City, retiring GOP National Chairman Dean Burch blamed the news media, in part, for Goldwater's defeat last November.

Burch said Goldwater ran on sound conservative principles but "we were never able to cut through a mass communications filter that turned an almost excessive candor on the part of our candidate into the appearance, at least, of radicalism and irresponsibility."

Thus the sprouting continued in the political seedbed.

Lynda Johnson On Theatre Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lynda Johnson and her favorite escort had a Valentine date at the theater Sunday night.

The President's daughter, 20, and David Lefevre, a New York broker, attended "The Roar of the Greasepaint—The Smell of the Crowd," a Broadway-bound musical now playing at the National Theatre.

Puzzle of Saturday, February 13, Solved

Beverly Hills Rites Tuesday For Gloria Sr.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Death has taken Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, member of a glittering socialite and financial dynasty and mother of the "poor little rich girl" whose custody she lost in a celebrated court battle.

The 60-year-old widow of Reginald C. Vanderbilt and mother of heiress Gloria Vanderbilt Jr. died Saturday of cancer in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Doctors said she apparently had recovered from major heart surgery performed in December but re-entered the hospital Feb. 2.

Solemn Requiem Mass will be sung at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Good Shepherd Roman Catholic church in Beverly Hills, the fashionable suburb where she had lived quietly the past decade.

A family friend said Gloria Jr. would not attend the rites although they had reconciled. Gloria Jr., now the wife of film writer Wyatt Emory Cooper, is staying in New York on doctor's orders because the birth of her third child Jan. 27.

Gloria Jr. has two other children by the second of her four husbands, conductor Leopold Stokowski.

The custody battle between Gloria Sr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, paternal aunt of Gloria Jr., made headlines 30 years ago.

Mrs. Vanderbilt alleged the aunt had spirited away the daughter. The battle was enlivened when Mrs. Vanderbilt's mother, Laura Kilpatrick Morgan, testified against her, saying she was an unfit guardian.

The case ended with Gloria Jr. being made a ward of the state of New York, entrusted five days a week to Mrs. Whitney's care and on weekends and one summer month annually to the mother.

Gloria Jr. inherited the bulk of the family's $4.5 million fortune, in 1945 from Cornelius Vanderbilt, the New York ferryboat captain who amassed a fortune in steamships and railroads.

Gloria Sr., her twin Thelma, Lady Furness, and their older sister, Consuelo, were daughters of the late Henry Hays Morgan, once in the U.S. consular service.

Boat Victim Still Missing

CORSICANA (AP)—Rescue workers were to continue their search today for Butch Upchurch, 38-year-old Barette resident who has been missing since a swift Trinity River current overturned a motorboat Saturday.

Upchurch, Ben Hillhouse, 41, of Kerens, and his son, John Hillhouse, 15, were fishing in the boat near Kerens when it was flipped over.

Hillhouse and his son were rescued from the icy water.

About 75 men were engaged in the search.

Eye Specialist, Dr. Walls, Dead

TYLER (AP)—A leading East Texas eye specialist, Dr. Theodore G. Walls, died Sunday. He was 69.

Over 150 Youngsters Attend Heart Fund Party

More than 150 youngsters joined in a children's party at the Cosden Club Sunday afternoon, with contributions going to the current Heart Fund drive.

Some 22 prizes were given to children, along with balloons. Mrs. G. Edward Williams, Heart Fund chairman, said. Clowns and other performers were on hand for the party.

"Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time," Mrs. Williams said. "The reception was good for the first time we have held this program."

The children's benefit party Sunday marked the half-way point in the February drive for the Heart Fund.

Volunteers are needed for the Heart Sunday door-to-door march Feb. 21st, Mrs. Williams said. A coffee-workshop is planned for march chairmen and captains at 2 p.m. Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Donald Van Meter, co-chairman of the Heart Fund drive.

The Heart Sunday march is planned from 12 to 4 p.m. Sunday. A benefit basketball game for the Heart Fund will be held in Forsan tonight and a children's movie is planned Saturday at the Ritz Theatre, with admission a contribution to the Heart Fund.

The Heart Fund drive since its beginning in 1949 has provided some $100 million in the United States for research into heart disease, which accounts for more than one-half of all deaths in this country each year. More than 27,000 of the nation's heart scientists and research scientists are members of the American Heart Association. Dr. Donald Terry is president of the Howard County Heart Association.

Two East Texans Win House Seats

By The Associated Press

Neal Solomon and John Mobley won seats in the Texas House of Representatives in special elections Saturday.

Solomon, a Mount Vernon insurance agent, was top man in a field of nine candidates for Dist. 11, which includes Hopkins, Delta, Franklin and Titus counties in East Texas.

He will succeed Joe M. Chapman, who resigned to accept an appointment as a district judge.

Mobley, a Kilgore oilfield and industrial service company president, will take the seat vacated by former House Speaker Byron Tunnell, named by Gov. John Connally to the Texas Railroad Commission.

He was high man of 11 hopefuls in Floterial Dist. 15F, composed of Smith and Gregg counties.

You're missing a lot when you own a Volkswagen.

A VW has fewer parts than other cars because it needs fewer parts.

There's no bulky drive shaft to transfer engine power to the rear wheels. Our car's engine is in back to start with (and to maintain traction with). That's why it doesn't need a drive shaft.

And it doesn't need a radiator, or a water pump, or hoses. Because the engine's cooled with air, not water.

(When you drive your first Volkswagen, you may miss putting in antifreeze, rust inhibitors, and whatnot. But you'll soon get used to it.)

The stuff a Volkswagen doesn't use, it doesn't have to haul (and waste gas on). Which is one reason it averages 32 miles per gallon of regular.

And the parts you don't buy, you'll never repair. So you can't waste money on that.

Now you know why you can drive a VW for years and years with a lot of parts missing. And never miss them.

UCLA Is Best Bet

By The Associated Press

UCLA's defending national collegiate basketball champions, unbeaten in their conference, appear to be one of the best bets to make the NCAA tournament that will decide the 1965 titlist next month.

The Bruins won two Pacific Athletic Conference games last week, pushing their record to 8-0 and 18-2 over-all and all but nailing down a spot in the 25-team field that must struggle through first-round activity, then four regional tournaments before reaching the final round of four in Portland, Ore., in March.

With three weeks of the regular season remaining, these teams appear today to have the best chances of taking their conference titles and gaining a spot in the tourney:

Michigan, Big Ten; Tennessee, Southeastern; Oklahoma State, Big Eight; Wichita, Missouri Valley; San Francisco, West Coast; Texas Tech, Southwest; Cornell, Ivy; St. Joseph's, Pa., Mid-Atlantic; Davidson, Southern; Duke, Atlantic Coast; Connecticut, Yankee; New Mexico, WAC; Eastern Kentucky, Ohio Valley; and Miami of Ohio, Mid American.

Some of the teams which fail to make the NCAA will be invited to the National Invitational Tournament in New York.

Michigan, Tennessee, Oklahoma State, Davidson, Duke and Cornell still face stern tasks before getting NCAA tournament berths.

Michigan, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, must down Minnesota and Illinois before nailing down the Big Ten title. Tennessee may have a playoff with Vanderbilt for the SEC crown. Oklahoma State has to shake off Kansas. Cornell must beat Princeton again to sew up the Ivy. Davidson and Duke, despite records of 21-1 and 16-2 must win championship tournaments in the Southern and AAC.

Tennessee's 79-66 victory over seventh-ranked Vanderbilt and Minnesota's 105-90 rout of 10th-ranked Illinois were among the highlights of Saturday's action. Unbeaten Providence made it 18 straight by downing Duquesne 83-75. Davidson won its 20th in a row by whipping Richmond 83-73. Cornell won its 12th straight with a 90-60 romp over Brown.

Michigan had to come from behind to beat Michigan State 98-83 paced by Cazzie Russell's 32 points and second-ranked UCLA rallied to defeat Washington State 70-68. Third-ranked St. Joseph's jumped its record to 21-1 by clouting Temple 73-59.

LOOKING 'EM' OVER

By TOMMY HART

Lon Morris, which took HCJC over the hurdles in basketball earlier this season, has beaten Texas A&M's freshmen twice this year, 94-63 and 83-80.

Some observers insist the Fish have the best freshman team in the Southwest Conference.

Incidentally, when HCJC met and defeated Lubbock Christian College in Lubbock the other night, two of the LCC boys were in bed with the flu and two others were ailing. Of course, the Hawks had been hit hard by the flu bug, too.

When the Region VI-B boys' basketball tournament is held here next week, tournament director Dr. Melvin Crawford will hire his game officials out of Lubbock—three, in all.

Eddie Acri and D. A. Miller of Big Spring will work the scorebook and game clock, however.

Midland school trustees have approved the purchase of fiberglass molded seat covers for two sections of their football stadium there at a cost of $2,883.50 but that does not mean visiting fans run any less risk of getting splinters next fall.

Athletic director Audrey Gill said that, if the seats prove satisfactory, he would recommend the entire stadium be covered.

Similar mountings were ordered by the Midland system last year but were never delivered.

Texas Tech football mentor J. T. King researched the Houston area recently and counted 34 Class AAAA high schools within a 50-mile radius of the downtown area.

That's more schools in the top classifications than in all of West Texas, which has only 22—counting the El Paso area.

King is expected to do most of his recruiting in West Texas. Fortunately for King and Tech, they play fine football in the lower classifications out here, too, and he picks up a lot of talent in all levels of athletics.

A Texas Western College representative was in to talk with Big Spring footballers Benny Kirkland and Rickey Earle last week before they departed for a visit to the East Texas State College campus and Commerce.

Arkansas State College is also interested in the two local griders.

Roland LaStarza, the former Heavyweight boxer, is making good progress as an actor. He's appeared in plays on TV several times.

Steve Tensi and Fred Bilenkoff, both of Florida State, recently were named to replace Vanderbilt's Don Orr and Jim Mooty of Arkansas on the all-time Gator Bowl football team but Jerry Walker of Texas Tech still retains a spot on the all-star squad. Walker played tackle on the club DeWitt Weaver took to Jacksonville several years ago.

Fullback Joe Childers, then of Auburn and now one of Charley Johnson's teammates on the St. Louis Cardinals, is also included on the all-time elite squad.

Quite probably, first place in this year's Houston Golf Classic, scheduled April 15-18, will pay $20,000.

Bob Cowser, recently named to the advisory committee which selects the Texas team for the Big 33 All-Star Football game held in August in Hershey, Pa., is the former Longhorn league slugger.

Cowser, who hit .400 for Sweetwater in 1947 but who had to quit baseball due to poor eyesight, is now a Dallas high school head coach.

Westex Softball League Enrolls Five Cities

Five cities were enrolled here Sunday in an organizational meeting of the West Texas Softball League. A sixth is in prospect, and one of the cities may have three teams.

L. W. Uley, Lubbock, was elected president of the new inter-city league at the session held at Cosden Country Club. Deadline for entries ($10 fee) is March 26, and play on a home-and-home basis will start April 10 with the first round due to terminate by May 15.

The second round will be set up to permit breaks for area tournaments including those at Brownwood, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, and Midland. Two games will be played each Saturday.

Other officers elected were Tito Arenchiba, Big Spring, secretary, and Bob Drake, Big Spring, treasurer.

Ablene indicated it will enter three teams, and one at least is forthcoming from Lubbock, San Angelo, Midland and Big Spring. Odessa may have an entry.

Big Winners Won't Enter AAU Indoor Championships

By The Associated Press

Peter Snell is going to write a book while Randy Matson and young Paul Wilson have to read some, so the big weekend winners won't compete in the AAU National Indoor Track and Field Championships.

The AAU championships in New York this weekend, a two-day combined men's-women's meet, take center stage but schoolboy Wilson, New Zealand's Snell and Texan Matson will be among the missing.

Snell, Olympic gold medalist at 800 and 1,500 meters, closed his indoor career with a four-year victory over arch-rival Bill Crothers of Canada in a good

Swimmer Schollander Picked Athlete Of Year For '64

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Young Don Schollander, winner of four gold medals in swimming at the Olympics last fall, is looking ahead to the 1968 Games, but emphasizes that his education comes first.

"I'm going to school for an education and anything else must be secondary," the 18-year-old Yale University freshman said Sunday night as he was honored as the 1964 Athlete of the Year.

"This a great honor," Schollander said in accepting the Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy awarded by the Fraternal Order of Eagles on the basis of The Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters.

"When I first heard that I had been named Athlete of the Year, I just couldn't believe it," the muscular young blond told a

RAIDERS LEADING

Texas Needing Win Over Tech

By The Associated Press

The only difference between Texas Tech and Texas, the 1-2 teams in the Southwest Conference basketball race, is that Texas lost a game on the road and Tech didn't.

So Texas will try to knock Texas Tech off the road and do it on the road Tuesday as the Longhorns challenge the Red Raiders in Lubbock.

There's just one game difference—Tech is 7-1 and Texas 6-2. If Texas falls, Tech will have a two-game lead with only five games to go.

Should Texas—which has won five in a row in a surge that alarms Tech—win, Texas and Texas Tech would be tied for the lead and Baylor and Southern Methodist, which have lost three apiece, would be back in the running.

Texas Tech won two games on foreign courts last week and they were big ones—82-76 over Texas A&M and 82-72 over Southern Methodist.

Texas whipped Arkansas 81-65 and Rice 75-72.

No other team in the league managed two victories. Texas A&M and Rice lost both of their engagements for the week.

Southern Methodist beat Baylor 84-77 and felt it was ready to make its move by knocking off Texas Tech, which would have put the Methodists into a tie for the lead. But the Red Raiders were too much for SMU with a last-half rally spearheaded by the smooth Dub Malone and it just about put the Indian sign on the Methodists' hopes for the year.

Baylor pulled into a tie for third with SMU when it bounced Texas A&M 84-77 to just about eliminate the Aggies, who were defending champions. A&M has lost five and the way it is now going that may not be the final total.

The big game of the week is the Texas-Texas Tech affair, but others could become quite important should Texas stop the Red Raider sweep. Tuesday night Rice and Texas A&M clash at College Station, Baylor invades Fayetteville to joust with Arkansas, and Southern Methodist and Texas Christian get together at Fort Worth.

Saturday Texas Tech plays Rice at Houston, Arkansas and Texas A&M tangle at College Station, Texas Christian and Baylor battle at Waco, and Southern Methodist meets Texas at Austin in a day game.

LAMESA GETS 87-B GAME

LAMESA — The playoff game for the District 87-B basketball championship between Sands and Flower Grove will be played here Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school gym.

Both teams ended the regular season play with 5-2 records. Sands has a slight edge over Flower Grove, winning three out of the four previous encounters.

Funseth Now Aims At Tucson Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Rod Funseth headed for the $46,000 Tucson Open today after taking a big jump off the springboard others have used to launch them to the top of the professional golf world.

Funseth, a 31-year-old pro from Spokane, Wash., who admits his "knees knocking" put together four fine rounds to win the $10,500 first prize in the $67,500 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

He fired a 71-68-68-67—275 on the 6,584-yard, par-72 Arizona Country Club course to outdistance a field which included such notables as Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper, Tony Lema and Bobby Nichols.

Nicklaus won the tourney last year and went on to be the top money winner in golf. The previous three years Arnold Palmer won the event, and in two of them he was tops on the money list.

"I had a lot of breaks," he said, "and I had two spectators with tee shots and both times had the ball bounce into improved positions."

"My only real problem," he said, "was my knees knocking." Funseth was the third-round leader in the $10,500 Bob Hope Desert Classic two weeks ago at Palm Springs, Calif. He soared to a 78 in the fourth round and finished in a tie for 14th.

Funseth was one stroke off the pace going into the final round at Phoenix. He birdied the first hole to catch leader Bert Yancey and went ahead to

Steers Meet Cats Tuesday

The Big Spring Steers will be looking for revenge here Tuesday night when the San Angelo Bobcats come visiting for the final District 2-AAAA basketball game for each club.

In the first meeting of the two clubs, the Bobcats took a 50-48 overtime victory. The Bobcats are very much in the race for the district crown and must win against the Steers to stay in competition.

Should the Cats beat the Steers and Midland High topple the district leading Midland Lee Rebels, a tie between the Cats and the Rebels would result.

Coach Allen Simpson and his Steers would like nothing better than to spoil any chance the Cats might have. This will be the final game for four members of the team, seniors Don White, Butch Foster, Cliff Creighton and Arthur Valdez.

The last time the two clubs met, the Steers lead from buzzer to buzzer, holding the explosive Cats to eight points the first quarter. Halftime saw the Steers holding a 33-19 lead. In the second half the Cats came on strong, hitting 46 per cent of their field goals.

and Larry Morris or Jim Flowers.

LCC will likely go with Jonas, Christian, Deavours, Evans, and Harris.

Hawks In Thicket Of Title Fight

Three weeks ago the Rams of San Angelo College were running away with the Western Junior College Conference championship.

Today it's a tossup between the HCJC Jayhawks and the Rams. Leading by one game going into Saturday night's action, the Rams dropped a road game, 75-70, to the Cadets of NMMI.

The Hawks have won two straight road games, 99-84, over Lubbock Christian and 86-82 over Frank Phillips.

The conference championship could well be decided Thursday in San Angelo when the two teams meet for the last time.

However each team must face a formidable opponent in Tuesday's games. The Rams will meet the South Plains five in San Angelo, while the Hawks are home for a return engagement with the LCC Chapparals.

Coach Buddy Travis describes the Chapparals as being "pretty tough." In the first meeting of the two clubs the Chapparals made a fight of it the first half, trailing by only three points at halftime.

"They'll press you the whole game and they shoot well from the outside," said coach Travis. Starting line-up for the Hawks will likely be Eddy Nelson, Tom Carter, Kurt Papp, Keith Bond, and Larry Morris or Jim Flowers.

LCC will likely go with Jonas, Christian, Deavours, Evans, and Harris.

The Hawks now have a 9-3 record for conference play and an 18-9 for the season. For the 12 game conference play period the Hawks are averaging more than 86 points per game compared to slightly over 75 points for the opposition.

Wall Wins Five On Winter Tour

PANAMA (AP) — Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., has become the first golfer to win each of the five tournaments that make up the Caribbean winter circuit.

Firing a final 71 Sunday, Wall won the Panama Open with an 11-under-par total of 277 for the 72-hole event that opened the 1965 Caribbean tour.

The 41-year-old Wall, over-all champion on last year's Caribbean swing with victories at Bogota, Maracaibo and Puerto Rico, won the Caracas Open in 1963. His first Panama Open triumph, built on rounds of 63, 68, 75 and 71, was worth $1,600.

A Devotional For The Day

Jesus told his disciples, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." (Matthew 16:24, RSV)

PRAYER: Almighty God, who through our Lord Jesus Christ dost seek to unite us with Thyself, grant that we cease to rebel against Thy loving leadership. Help us respond to Thy Call to follow as servants of the gospel. In the Master's name we pray. Amen.

New Business For Our Airport

The Howard County Commissioners Court is to be congratulated on taking a forward look at what could be eventual improvement and broadening of scope of the county airport.

The Court agreed last week to consider new facilities that might be required in event leasing arrangements could be made to whatever private contractor wins the Air Force light plane training contract, and who might be attracted to use the local airport.

To give a bit of background, the Air Force on March 15 will open bids to those interested in handling light-plane instruction to fledgling pilots. The government will supply the planes, but the contractor will provide his instructors, maintain the aircraft, and carry on a flight agenda as laid down by the Air Force.

Such a school means, in essence, a new "industry" for the community in which it locates. The contractor conceivably could be employing 20 or more people, and might have a monthly payroll running to $12,900 or $15,900, as an estimate. There is no gainsaying that this is another boost in a town's economy.

Big Spring has no cinch on this, although there are some local interests listed as possible bidders, and as a matter of community pride would have our moral support. But the award will go to the lowest bidder, provided he meets all qualifications.

Another catch is that the light-plane training field can be within one hour's bus ride from Webb AFB, and students would be transported to it. Test runs have shown that Lamesa, Colorado City, Snyder and two facilities at Midland (Air Park and Terminal) come within the time limit.

All of these communities are trying to interest the prospective bidders, and the truth is that some of them have better accommodations, such as hangars, ramps, tie-down facilities, maintenance and office space, than does our own airport.

The point of local concern, thus, is to have Howard County airport made available with the needed accommodations, and at a price to interest the contractor, who certainly will be locating where conditions and costs are the best.

Since we have a county-owned airport, the Commissioners Court must be a party to making it more attractive to this new business. While details cannot be worked out at this stage, the Commissioners' willingness to negotiate good accommodations is a talking point.

It would be dismaying to know that Big Spring has Webb Air Force in its own back yard, and yet would be unable to help it broaden its training program; and also to know that a substantial new business went by default to another community.

There is a long-range point, in that the more improvements that can reasonably be made at our airport, the more business it is going to attract. More commercial and private flyers would be attracted, more business would be done.

We have made a good start with our air facilities, but times move on, and times will eventually call for expenditures on expansion and improvement. The possible location of the light-plane training is a step.

It is encouraging to know that our public and private leaders can work together on a project of this importance.

Labor In Charge?

WASHINGTON — A major crisis in labor-management relations in America is building up under the very eyes of the President and Congress — and yet virtually nothing is being done about it. Here are some of the developments:

1. A devastating strike, shutting down maritime transportation at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports, cost $2 billion and caused untold damage to business operations due to shipping delays. Yet Congress did not even take up the subject, much less consider any legislation to prevent a recurrence.

2. LABOR UNIONS and the companies signed contracts in all but two ports, but the workers nevertheless continued to stay on strike. The union members in cities where agreements with management were signed refused to return to work until settlements were reached in all the other ports. It's an example of a far-reaching monopoly.

3. The Department of Labor has become an adjunct of the AFL-CIO, and the Secretary of Labor is told what to do by the union chieftains. John A. Grimes, labor-relations specialist for the Wall Street Journal, writes as follows:

"W. WILLARD WIRTZ is discovering that being Secretary of Labor often also requires being Labor's secretary. Put another way, Mr. Wirtz is getting some practical lessons in how his freedom of action can be sharply curbed by the wants of the AFL-CIO."

"The Federation feels such a strong proprietary interest in the Johnson administration's activities that it claims a veto power over Mr. Wirtz. Three times in recent weeks the Secretary has started out to do something and has found the considerable bulk of federation President George Meany blocking the way."

IT IS REPORTED that the Secretary of Labor has to consult with union officials about appointments in his department, and that he recently couldn't remove one man and replace him with another just because the labor unions objected.

It has been customary for several years now, under both Republican and Democratic administrations, to have a Secretary of Labor who not only is friendly to labor but acts virtually as an agent of the labor unions. Nobody in the Cabinet has any corresponding position in behalf of management. It is often assumed that the Secretary of Commerce performs this task — but he doesn't.

THE ONLY REMEDY lies in giving management a representative equal in stature to the Secretary of Labor, or in lodging more power in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and separating it completely from Department of Labor influence. This independent agency could deal, officially and unofficially, with labor-management relations for the purpose of preventing strikes. A partisan of labor cannot solve thorny questions in labor-management relations. It has to be done by a team representing all sides.

Apparently the "Businessmen for Johnson" group, which was rather conspicuous in the 1964 presidential campaign, hasn't been able to persuade the administration that there should no longer be partisanship in behalf of either management or labor and that the public interest demands impartiality and an equitable approach.

THE WHOLE labor-management problem is getting worse every year, not only because of the serious strikes that break out but because the collective-bargaining process itself today forces management, under threat of costly strikes, to yield to more and more labor-union demands. It is a system which the government tolerates even though the public interest suffers.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has explained that the retaliation against North Viet Nam was made necessary because the guerrilla attacks on the bases are considered a test of the American will to resist.

This country has stated in the past that its purpose in helping South Viet Nam against the guerrillas was to save both that country and all Southeast Asia from a Communist takeover.

The muddy condition of this conflict started in 1945 when France, although it had held the country and all Southeast Asia as a colony three-quarters of a century, still refused it independence. The Vietnamese Communists fought them.

Meanwhile, in a situation muddy for 20 years, no one knows whether a majority of the people in both Viet Nams prefer communism or would rather live under an American-backed government.

They have never had a chance to express themselves in a vote. One thing is certain: the people of South Viet Nam are not 100 per cent against the Red guerrillas.

In the past, with few exceptions, the guerrillas killed Americans and South Vietnamese soldiers on the fighting fronts. Of the more than 370 Americans killed in this war, more than 200 were killed in this kind of fighting.

MORE RECENTLY the guerrillas killed and wounded Americans in attacks on their air bases and billets. Killing Americans that way instead of on the fighting fronts, was not a difference in kind but in degree.

But the United States has taken this as a challenge. President Johnson ordered retaliation and American bombers hit North Viet Nam, although the United States had sought to avoid this lest it spread the war.

Muddy Condition In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has spread the war from South Viet Nam to North Viet Nam, not because the Communist guerrillas did anything basically different but because they intensified what they had been doing.

Meanwhile, in a situation muddy for 20 years, no one knows whether a majority of the people in both Viet Nams prefer communism or would rather live under an American-backed government.

Any American attack on North Viet Nam might — and still may — bring in the Red Chinese and the Russians, directly or indirectly, and thus turn a small war into a very big one.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has explained that the retaliation against North Viet Nam was made necessary because the guerrilla attacks on the bases are considered a test of the American will to resist.

Meanwhile, in a situation muddy for 20 years, no one knows whether a majority of the people in both Viet Nams prefer communism or would rather live under an American-backed government.

They have never had a chance to express themselves in a vote. One thing is certain: the people of South Viet Nam are not 100 per cent against the Red guerrillas.

In the past, with few exceptions, the guerrillas killed Americans and South Vietnamese soldiers on the fighting fronts. Of the more than 370 Americans killed in this war, more than 200 were killed in this kind of fighting.

MORE RECENTLY the guerrillas killed and wounded Americans in attacks on their air bases and billets. Killing Americans that way instead of on the fighting fronts, was not a difference in kind but in degree.

But the United States has taken this as a challenge. President Johnson ordered retaliation and American bombers hit North Viet Nam, although the United States had sought to avoid this lest it spread the war.

Any American attack on North Viet Nam might — and still may — bring in the Red Chinese and the Russians, directly or indirectly, and thus turn a small war into a very big one.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has explained that the retaliation against North Viet Nam was made necessary because the guerrilla attacks on the bases are considered a test of the American will to resist.

This country has stated in the past that its purpose in helping South Viet Nam against the guerrillas was to save both that country and all Southeast Asia from a Communist takeover.

The muddy condition of this conflict started in 1945 when France, although it had held the country and all Southeast Asia as a colony three-quarters of a century, still refused it independence. The Vietnamese Communists fought them.

A Longing For Public Office

One thing and another: There's a durable fellow in Augusta, Ga., named Hugh Eugene Tudor who has offered himself for public office no fewer than 28 times.

His only victory in 15 years of campaigning was in a race for Fourth Ward Councilman in Augusta.

More recently, he campaigned for the office of U. S. Representative in his district in the Democratic primary but failed to lead the pack.

He, no doubt, has learned to lose gracefully by now.

THE INDIANS may not have appreciated the intrusion of the white man to America but one creature who did was the woodchuck, or ground hog, if you prefer, who soon forsook the rigors of surviving in his former woodland home for the lush bounty and easy living of the cultivated fields, pastures and orchards of his new found benefactors.

In return, he had to run certain risks he never before experienced but he seemed to thrive despite them.

Next to the cottontail rabbit, he is probably America's most hunted animal. Although he generally is regarded as vermin, he's considered prime game throughout the country and especially by young nimrods newly gifted with 22 caliber rifles.

EXCLUSIVELY vegetarian, the woodchuck relishes what the farmer fixes for him. He may not be wanted but he's a hard one to discourage. Aside from the crop damage he incurs, the woodchuck plagues the farmer with the numerous excavations in establishing residence.

He builds an average of three entrances to his burrow, thereby increasing the chances that friend farmer's livestock will step in one of the holes and break a leg.

Like the bear, he retreats into his quarters in the winter months and sleeps from four to six months.

OVERHEARD, after a recent election: "When I look at them, I'm just thankful that only one can be elected."

The Causes Of Crime

WASHINGTON—There is the same difference between watchdogs and bloodhounds as there is between good Senate investigators like John Williams (R., Del.) and John McClellan (D., Ark.).

Both kinds of canines are the honest citizen's best friend, but Watchdog Williams is a sedentary creature who grows only at intruders of the public household, whereas Bloodhound McClellan thrives on the excitement of the chase and turns restive when kept too long in the kennels.

THE ARKANSAS trail-follower seemed to be rumbling for action the other day at the confirmation hearings on Nicholas de B. Katzenbach before the Senate Judiciary committee. He was telling the Acting Attorney General that we ought to have a National Crime Commission—as well as a congressional crime investigation—to find out what makes crime keep growing.

FBI reports for the first nine months of 1964 show a general increase of 13 per cent over the same period in '63, with rape and aggravated assault well above the other activities. McClellan projected this rate into the future, assigning our growing population successive new records of seven million serious crimes by 1975, 18 million by 1985 and one crime per family of five by the turn of the 21st century.

LATER, WHEN the new Attorney General began naming unemployment, poverty and psychotic disturbance as some causes of crime, McClellan jumped in to remark that this anti-social saturnalia was taking place in the country with the finest living standards, the largest education establishments and the highest prosperity on earth.

Later still, curious as to the interior of McClellan's mind, I reached him at his office to find that the voice he raised in committee was in fact someone else's growling of pent-up anger. A McClellan-led investigation of criminal causes would not stop at catching the Weeping Willows for social improvement. It would soon fasten its teeth in the respectable pants seats of Justice Department prosecutors and executive-appointed judges.

THE SENATOR, as investigator, would not take long to find and prove that pampering of the criminal classes has to be rated very high among the reasons why a soft-hearted country produces so many hard-hearted killers, assaulters and rapists. McClellan told his interviewer that of the 204 criminals who have made the FBI's "most wanted" club since 1950, 189 of them had previously received some form of executive or judicial clemency. A single Supreme Court decision, Gideon vs. Wainwright, making it easier to reverse convictions, has already set free over 1,000 of the 5,500 persons who have instituted reversal proceedings.

NOT SOCIAL injustice, but soft justice, is what speaks to the bloodhound in this veteran investigator. And it was a point which McClellan meant to call to the attention of the incoming head of our Justice Department. (Distributed by McLaughlin Syndicate, Inc.)

This Country Needs An Ombudsman

STOCKHOLM—Even more than a good five-cent cigar, the United States needs an ombudsman.

To an American long oppressed by bureaucrats, overbearing policemen and judges who, like necessity, know no law, Sweden's ombudsman cuts almost as attractive a figure as Sweden's large, blonde and toothsome young women.

THE OMBUDSMAN is a Scandinavian invention which has been tried elsewhere (notably in New Zealand) only with indifferent success. But in Sweden the ombudsman is an important bulwark that prevents the world's most paternalistic government from quickly becoming the most tyrannical.

In translation "ombudsman" means representative, or advocate. In practice the ombudsman is a powerful official (almost always a former Supreme Court judge) whose job it is to intervene on behalf of any citizen who thinks he has been ill-used by courts, police, or any organ of Sweden's formidable bureaucracy. He is appointed by a nonpartisan committee of parliament for a term of four years.

THE CITIZEN does not need to hire a lawyer to obtain the help of the ombudsman; all it takes is a letter to the Justitismyndigheten and an investigation of the complaint is swiftly launched. The complaint may literally cover anything from the supposed shortcoming of a village garbage collector to the claim of a mental patient that he has been wrongfully locked up.

Assisted by eight subordinate officials (themselves customarily lower court jurists on temporary assignment) the ombudsman conducts an investigation of the complaint. Out of an average year's crop of 1,200 cases, more than 1,000 will be found to have no legitimate basis.

BUT WHERE the complaint is found to be justified, the ombudsman has several remedies available. He may lay a thundering big fine on the offending official, or he may merely content himself with publicly criticizing him. The latter is not as mild a punishment as it appears, since the ombudsman is respected above any other public official in Sweden and his words carry tremendous weight.

The ombudsman may appeal to the Riksdag (parliament) to amend a law which he finds to be unjust, and he can order the state (or the offending official) to pay cash compensation to a citizen who has unlawfully suffered loss.

SWEDEN'S incumbent Justitismyndigheten is a former Appeals Court judge named Alfred Bexellus. He is approachable in a manner that would shame many a minor American functionary, and he has a sense of humor that a lot of his siberianist compatriots could copy to their profit. He is delighted at the interest foreigners are beginning to show in the office, wryly observing that "for 150 years nobody paid any attention to us."

(Sweden's first ombudsman was appointed in 1809, and exists now in one form or another in all five Scandinavian countries.)

BUT JUSTITISMUNDYSHEN Bexellus is quick to point out that the Swede's protection against bureaucratic (or police) excesses goes even further than the institution of ombudsman. By law in Sweden every citizen is entitled to walk into any government office and see any document, report, budget proposal or committee transcript he asks for. "In these circumstances," the Justitismyndigheten gently understated, "it is difficult for a bureaucrat to misbehave."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

If Congress approves the President's budget request for a new Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters, it's going to be interesting to see how the project turns out.

The budget proposal calls for a $45.8 million structure, and represents the largest Washington, D. C., building appropriation being requested. By coincidence that's about the same figure that was first proposed for another structure in the capital, the Rayburn Office Building for members of the House, begun a decade ago and still not finished. Its cost by now has vaulted far above that first estimate; Mr. Johnson in his budget is asking $7.3 million more to complete it.

Rising outlays, however, aren't unusual in the construction field, any more than stratospheric expenses are in government. What is more remarkable about the Rayburn building is that no one seems to know just how much has been spent on the thing up to now. Guesses range from $80 million all the way up to $181 million.

So, as we say, some of us would be curious to see how the FBI makes out with its building costs. Perhaps, if the G-men are persistent enough in their investigations and we all live long enough, they may finally be able to ferret out the hideous truth.

Adults Need Vaccinations, Too

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

What vaccinations are necessary for adults?

For a long time older people held to the incorrect idea that since they had been vaccinated as children, they didn't need any additional vaccinations.

Polio vaccine has served a double purpose. It has all but shut off the periodic epidemics of that disease. It has also pointed out the fact that vaccination isn't just for children. Adults need it, too.

In general, adults should have boosters every five years. For maximum protection, some could be given often, but the five-year rule of thumb makes sense.

What vaccinations? For most adults, these:

POLIO: I'm often asked about the relative merits of the Salk vaccine, which is injected, and the Sabin vaccine, which is taken by mouth.

Personally, I prefer the Salk. This type has been used longer, so we know more about it. It has been highly effective. In my area in 1958 there were 609 cases of polio and 22 deaths. Five years later there were only eight cases and no deaths. A vigorous campaign of using Salk vaccine made the difference.

The effective schedule is two shots a month apart, a third six months later, a booster one year after that, and then a booster every five years. (Some minor deviation from the exact schedule isn't going to do any harm, so long as the general pattern is followed.) From experience we now know that such a schedule provides and maintains protection.

As for doctors who prefer the Sabin vaccine, I will not quarrel. The big point is to see that everyone gets one kind or the other.

TETANUS: This should have a booster every five years. In case of a wound of some sort, a booster at that time will assure safety. But if your protection has lapsed because of not having had boosters, you may, instead, then require an anti-toxin injection. This, unfortunately, can cause an unpleasant reaction in some people. So the booster every five years is best—and besides, you'll be protected in case of being injured far from medical aid.

SMALLPOX: This should be repeated every five years. I've had people tell me, quite seriously, that they "still had the scar" from vaccination in childhood. The scar doesn't mean anything. Smallpox immunization subsides gradually.

The number of "takes" resulting from vaccinating adults shows how many have lost their immunity.

The U.S. government, remember, will not let anyone enter the country, even a citizen returning from a trip, without proof of having had a smallpox booster within THREE years.

FLU VACCINE: This should be a must, every year, for pregnant women, invalids, people subject to heart and respiratory or other serious diseases, and for those in vital jobs (nurses, police, fire executives, doctors, and many others). But if it is good for all of them, it is good for everyone else, too.

Two shots, a month or so apart, the first time, plus a booster each year, or an added one in an epidemic year, is about right.

Your doctor can give you specific advice on others, such as for travel abroad, depending on what part of the world is intended, typhoid-paratyphoid, and, for special risk groups, BCG for tuberculosis.

Tomorrow we'll review childhood vaccinations.

Dear Abby

He Whipped The Habit

DEAR ABBY: I know you can't print all the letters you get, but I wish you would print this one. About three years ago I wrote to tell you my troubles, which all started with a drinking problem. You told me to admit to myself that I was an alcoholic and to go to an A.A. meeting. I went, and they gave me all the help and understanding you said they would. After staying on the wagon for six months, my wife took me back and I became a family man again. I am now holding down a job. It's hard work, but I'm glad I can do it. I now live according to the A.A. program and still attend meetings. I pay my bills and stay sober one day at a time. I now look myself in the mirror and I like what I see. I go to parties where others drink, but I stick to my fruit juice. I don't think anybody could get me to take "just one" again. God bless you, Abby, and thank you for helping to give me a new life.

A.A. AND PROUD OF IT

DEAR ABBY: I need a serious answer. Time after time you advise women, who are married to men who have lost all interest in sex, to "get him to a doctor."
Now tell me, Abby. Exactly what can a doctor do for him?
MARRIED TO ONE
DEAR MARRIED: A doctor can tell whether his lack of interest is due to physical reasons, or psychological ones. If it's physical, the situation might possibly be remedied with proper treatment. If it's psychological, the man might need psychotherapy. If it's due to the natural aging process, and nothing can be done to restore his interest, then the wife might need some psychotherapy to help her accept it.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that people who eat more slowly tend to eat less food?
HARRIETTE
DEAR HARRIETTE: Yes, and especially if they are members of a large family.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who was married before but was separated from his wife at the time we met. He assured me that he and his wife had been estranged for a long time and that he never saw her. Well, Abby, shortly after we returned from our honeymoon, I found a folder with 87 letters from her. I am not proud of it, but I read every one of them. She tells him how much she "loves" him and "misses" him. They are all dated, and were written when he and I were going together. If I had known that she was trying to get him back, I would have let him alone. It is too late now. We are married. My husband said those letters don't mean a thing, that she never answered any of them. I realize he can't be blamed because SHE wrote to him, but if her letters didn't mean a thing, what was he saving them for?
SECOND WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Look at it this way: If he were trying to get away with something, he'd have destroyed the evidence."

DEAR WIFE: Look at it this way: If he were trying to get away with something, he'd have destroyed the evidence."

HD Clubs Told Tips On Sewing

County home demonstration agents presented programs at the HD club meetings last week. Mrs. Delaine Crawford and Mrs. Mildred Eiland both presented programs on sewing.

KNOTT CLUB
The Knott Home Demonstration Club heard Mrs. Delaine Crawford give tips on sewing when six members and three visitors met with Mrs. Robert Nichols. The guests were Mrs. Earl Newcomer, Mrs. Phillip Stovall and Mrs. Max Moore.

Mrs. Robert Brown presided as the group answered roll call with their own ideas about making sewing easier.

Members were requested to bring a dress and accessories to the Feb. 23 meeting with Mrs. N. A. Jones. The clothes will be exchanged among members for a "style" show which will be presented at that time.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a red and white cloth and appointed with milk glass and silver. The centerpiece was a box of Valentine candy.

LEES CLUB

Members of the Lee's Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday for an all day meeting and covered dish luncheon. Mrs. Mildred Eiland, home demonstration agent, is conducting a course in the tailoring of coats and suits.

The punch table was covered with a white fringed cloth, edged in gold, and the focal point was a miniature gold train placed beside photographs of a train trip taken at the time of the wedding. Next to the gold punch bowl was a large white cake decorated with yellow and green, and backed with a triangular arrangement of gold chrysanthemums and green foliage accented with gold heart silhouettes.

Gold was the predominate color in the many flower arrangements, sent by friends, which
