Dodd Wants Viet Effort Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd called today for stepped-up U.S. efforts to save South Viet Nam.

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, he warned that a negotiated settlement in South Viet Nam would lead to a "gigantic bloodletting" that would "dwarf the agony and suffering" already under way there.

THOMAS J. DODD

NEW ROUND

Dodd's speech marked a new round in the continuing Senate debate over the U.S. course in South Viet Nam. A number of senators, including Frank Church, D-Idaho, and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., have urged the United States to look into the possibility of a cease-fire and a negotiated settlement to the Vietnamese war.

Dodd gave five steps he thought would help win the war without a major escalation. They are:

1. Better liaison with leaders of various sectors of the South Vietnamese community;
2. An improvement in South Vietnamese political warfare and propaganda efforts;
3. Establishment of a "North Vietnamese liberation front" under which South Vietnamese could carry guerrilla warfare into the north;
4. Actions to hold key cities on the Viet Nam-Laos frontier through which Viet Cong guerrillas have filtered into South Viet Nam;

5. Collective action by members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

"In my opinion," Dodd said,

Glider Blasting Into Space Sheds Its Coat

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A "polka dot" space glider successfully rocketed over a blazing 13,300-mile-an-hour sub-orbital course today to test materials and techniques for the future spaceships which will land like airplanes.

As the sleek Project Asat glider blasted skyward, it shed a unique plastic "raincoat" which had been placed over it to protect it from a driving rain.

A Thor-Delta rocket propelled the craft into a rain-dripping sky at 9:36 a.m. and the vehicle quickly disappeared into low-hanging clouds.

The winged research glider, whose surface was speckled with about 2,000 tiny dots of multicolored heat-sensitive paint, darted to an altitude of about 39 miles and then made a fiery, screaming dash back through the atmosphere.

A small stabilizing parachute popped out at an altitude of 75,000 feet and a main chute unfurled at 25,000 feet to ease the six-foot, 1,175-pound glider into the Atlantic Ocean about 2,750 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

East German Chief Voices Atom Concern

CAIRO (AP) — East German President Walter Ulbricht, due here Wednesday for a state visit, said today that atomic weapons in West German hands would constitute a direct threat to the Arabs.

"Should West Germany acquire atomic weapons from the West, she will not hesitate to provide Israel with these weapons, even through clandestine agreements with or without United States consent," Ulbricht told a correspondent of the semi-official paper Al Ahram.

Ulbricht was interviewed aboard the East German ship which will bring him to Alexandria. His visit is opposed by the West German government, which considers itself the only legal government for all of Germany and regards Ulbricht's visit as de facto recognition of East Germany.

The Bonn government cut off arms aid to Israel in an effort to appease Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and threatened to halt economic aid to Egypt if Nasser gave Ulbricht a red-carpet reception. Nasser responded with new denunciations of West Germany for its help to Israel.

Ulbricht in the Al Ahram interview called on West Germany "in the name of the whole German people to halt immediately its military aid to Israel and annul its public and clandestine military agreements with it."

Rain, Snow Are Forecast

A fast-moving cold front swept into Big Spring early today and dropped temperatures from 47 degrees at 8 a.m. to 35 at 11 a.m., with a further drop expected this afternoon and tonight.

Winds from 20 to 40 miles per hour are forecast for late this afternoon and early tonight, decreasing late tonight.

Hazardous driving condition warnings were being issued for tonight and early Wednesday with light freezing rain or snow predicted.

The old "blue norther" type front presented a picturesque, rolling-cloud formation which was first seen to the north about 7:45 a.m. and which had passed over Big Spring by 8:30 a.m. Temperatures were expected to get down around 30 degrees today and in the 20 degree range tonight. Wednesday's high is forecast for the lower 30s.

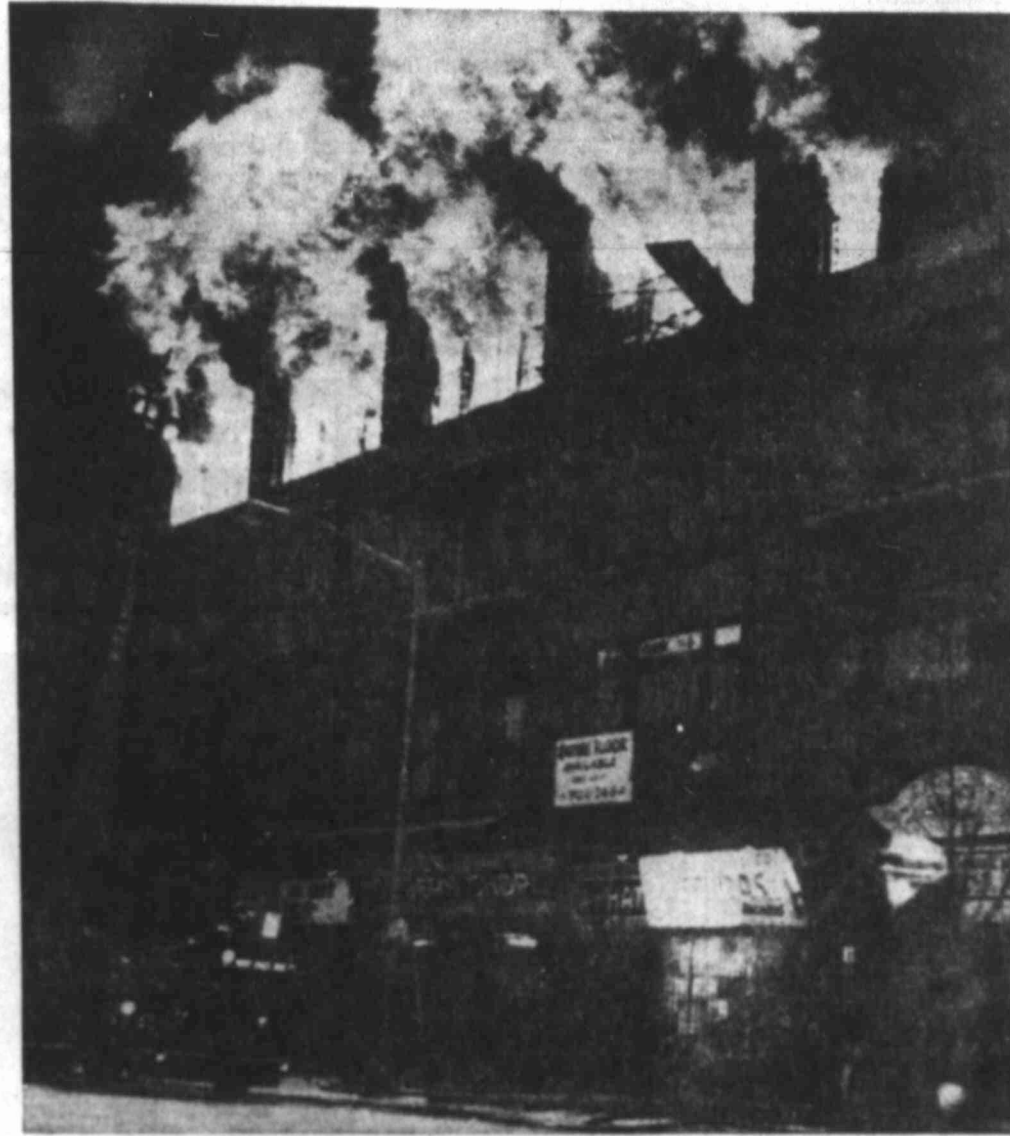

Soviet General Visits W. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The new commander of Soviet forces in East Germany visited West Berlin for the first time today.

Gen. P.K. Koshevoi and P.A. Abramov, the Soviet ambassador to East Germany, led a Soviet delegation that laid a wreath at the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin in commemoration of Red Army Day.

Muslim Mosque Fire Called Vengeful Act

Linked To Death Of Malcolm X

Battle Blaze In Black Muslim Mosque

Fire gushes from windows of a Black Muslim Mosque in Harlem section of New York early today as a fire ladder is raised. Fire razed the top two floors of the four-story building after one or more explosions were heard. Door behind man at right is entrance to the Mosque on 116th Street. Five firemen were injured in fire when a wall collapsed. Fire followed by two days the slaying of Malcolm X, an ousted leader of the Muslims. (AP WIREPHOTO)

NEW YORK (AP) — A Harlem fire, believed to be arson revenge for the slaying of Malcolm X, razed today the Black Muslim mosque from which he had been ousted as minister.

Several witnesses, including a policeman stationed outside as a precaution against retaliation, reported hearing one or more blasts before flames shot into the sky just after 2 a.m.

On the roof of a five-story building next door, investigators found a five-gallon tin which had contained kerosene or gasoline. Police said it was possible that homemade fire-bombs or the fuel could have been tossed from the roof through the barred windows of the mosque meeting hall.

Earlier, in the same building, a patrolman found a kerosene-soaked bag.

BOLSTER PATROL

Police poured reinforcements into Harlem in an effort to block any further bloodshed or violence. They supplemented an extra force patrolling the almost all-Negro community since the assassination Sunday.

The fire injured a civilian passer-by and five firemen, one seriously.

Both here and in Chicago, headquarters of Elijah Muhammad's Black Muslim faith, authorities had been on edge last Malcolm's death touch off warfare within the black nationalist movement. He was shot down by assassins as he started to address his rebel followers at a meeting of his Afro-American Unity.

QUIET ACCEPTANCE

But Harlem appeared to accept the death quietly—until the hours before dawn today.

Five firemen were injured, one of them critically, when part of the front wall of the building on the corner of 116th Street and Lenox Avenue collapsed. Bricks showered on fire trucks.

There were no reports of any.

Sixty Miners Feared Dead

TOKYO (AP) — Sixty miners are feared dead in a coal mine in northern Japan.

Police reported 27 miners were known dead, 17 injured and 33 missing and believed dead. Rescue workers with gas masks dug through debris-filled chambers looking for the missing men.

The Hokkaido Colliery Co., at Ysuhari, 600 miles north of Tokyo, had 172 miners at work when the explosion occurred. An explosion in the company's No. 2 mine in February 1960 killed 42 miners.

one injured inside the building, but Fire Chief John T. O'Hagan said his men had not been able to search the fourth-floor Muslim meeting hall.

The building was headquarters of Muhammad's Mosque No. 7, New York headquarters for the Chicago-based black nationalist group headed by Elijah Muhammad.

Malcolm X operated from Mosque No. 7 when he was Muhammad's right-hand man.

Preliminary Okay Given Pooling Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas legislators had one of their big problems behind them today—approval of a mandatory oil and gas lease pooling bill.

House members, by a 97-41 vote, gave preliminary passage (engrossment) Monday to the Senate-approved pooling measure that some argued would help the small landowner and others said would hurt the little man in dealing with big oil firms.

The House went into its first afternoon session to hear debate on more than a dozen attempts to amend the pooling bill. All efforts to change the Senate version were defeated by wide margins.

FINAL VOTE

The one-sided votes brought forecasts the bill would have little or no trouble when it is brought up a final time, probably Thursday. After preliminary passage, it takes a two-thirds vote to add an amendment.

House approval of the pooling bill without amendments would send it to the governor for signature.

However, the lopsided voting did not cut out the protests. Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, in a final appeal against the pooling bill declared its caption should be changed to read: "An act authorizing the stealing of mineral estates, conferring of duty on the Railroad Commission, pooling of campaign expenditures for certain people, the confiscation of property rights and declaring an absurdity."

"WELL GREASED"

"I compliment the third house (lobbyists)," Hollowell said. "Never in all my time in the legislature have I seen a bill so well greased so it would slide through this legislature."

"This bill is a robbery of sorts," said Rep. Jim Markgraf of Scurry. "It is clear, unadulterated stealing of the people's interest in the state of Texas."

Rep. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge, house sponsor, said the bill merely put into law what has "long been a theoretical objective . . . a fair share of oil and gas production in a reservoir for all interests."

The bill would allow any operator in an oil or gas field to ask that the Texas Railroad Commission force any of his recalcitrant neighbors into a pool of tracts large enough to meet the commission's minimum production unit standards.

Supporters of the bill say that under current court rulings the very small tracts in a field cannot be given profitable production allowances.

A heavy committee schedule Monday added more controversial issues to the debate calendars of the House and Senate. The Senate State Affairs Committee cleared for debate a House passed bill setting up an 18-member central coordinating board for all state colleges. Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan said he would try to get the debate started Wednesday. Connally has called the measure his No. 1 aim of the session.

Eulogy Paid Frankfurter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter is dead of a heart attack at 82 and President Johnson in grief has praised him as "one of the great figures in legal history."

Chief Justice Earl Warren in a statement of mourning called Frankfurter "a great man of the law" and said "our nation is much richer because of his long and productive life."

23 YEARS

Frankfurter, who stepped down because of poor health 2 1/2 years ago after serving on the high court for 23 years, suffered a heart attack at his home here Sunday. He was taken to George Washington University Hospital, where he died late Monday.

His ailing wife, Marion, was confined to the family home and was informed of his death by family doctors. The Frankfurters had no children.

Frankfurter was born in Vienna, Austria, on Nov. 15, 1882, and was brought to the east side of New York City when he was 12. His father was a fur merchant. Young Frankfurter attended the College of the City of New York and continued his education at Harvard University Law School, where he received his law degree in 1906.

He returned to Harvard in 1914 as a law professor. Later, he recommended many of his former students as "brain trusters" for President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

CALL FROM FDR

Frankfurter delighted in recalling that he was in his underwear, dressing for dinner, when Roosevelt telephoned him on Jan. 4, 1939, to tell him that the next day he would name him to the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo.

At that time Frankfurter was considered a liberal, but in later years he was considered a member of the conservative bloc of the bench. Frankfurter's own view was that conservatism and liberalism had nothing to do with judicial decisions.

HCJC Trustees Call Bond Vote

Howard County voters will pass on a $500,000 bond issue for the Howard County Junior College March 20.

This date was fixed formally Monday evening at a meeting of the board of trustees. Proceeds from the issue will be used to finance one or two buildings, depending on whether the college gets another $300,000 under the College Facilities Act.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, board president, said he believed prospects for this help are excellent.

No tax rate or assessment raise will be necessary to carry the increased bonds for at least two years, Carter Johnston, representing the fiscal agents—Rauscher, Pierce & Co. of San Antonio—told the board.

If new values are added as they have in past years, this, coupled with some reduction in existing bond obligations, would mean no increase would be necessary then.

The board, which a week ago announced that it felt that the college's future could no longer risk further delay on new buildings, voted unanimously to call the election for March 20. Previously, March 13 had been considered, but the actual date was moved back to provide ample opportunity for absentee voting. The 627 names on petitions were far in excess of the 250 required.

There will be three polling places: Coahoma, Mrs. Donald Lay, judge, Mrs. J. E. Swann and Mrs. David E. Grant clerks; Forsan, Mrs. J. P. Kubecka, judge, Mrs. D. L. Knight and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell, clerks; Big Spring High School, Lawrence Robinson, judge, Billy T. Smith and Mrs. D. D. Johnston, clerks.

The special canvass board for counting absentee votes will be made up of George Elliott, John Berry and L. Z. Schafer. Absentee voting will be at the office of County Clerk Pauline Petty between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. from March 1-16.

The ballots will be as follows: "For (or Against) the issuance of bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof."

Trustees have been considering seriously for over two years the need for additional buildings. Last year they had preliminary plans drawn for a new two-story science building and a new library building and submitted an application under the College Facilities Act. Enrollment has increased to the point that pressure of space is threatening accreditation, primarily because of the pinch in the science and library fields, said Dr. Hunt. The heavier years of enrollment increase are just ahead, he predicted.

Present for the important meeting Monday were Horace Garrett, board president, Dr. P. W. Malone who moved and Dr. Charles Warren who seconded the bond election, K. H. McGibbon, Paul Adams and John A. Coffey, members.

Fabled Room Of Treasures Deep In Mountain Hunted

SALADO, Tex. (AP) — Treasure hunters armed with dynamite and visions of fantastic riches probed deeply today into a legend-shrouded pile of rocks near this Central Texas hamlet.

The small band of explorers believe that deep within the 250-foot-high limestone hummock—called a mountain locally—lies a room concealing diamonds, coins and bars of gold and silver.

They contend that only four feet of rock now separates the adventurers from a Spanish treasure valued at hundreds of millions of dollars.

"If the legends hold true, there should be more here than we've got in the U.S. Treasury," proclaimed one.

$200 MILLION

"You are standing above a room which contains $200 million in gold bars," another told a reporter.

With a sweep of his arm, H. D. McCord of Dallas gestured across a map and declared: "There is gold and metal all through here. Diamonds are over there and in different parts."

McCord, a big, affable man with thick, bushy eyebrows, directs the operation that reportedly has cost $200,000 to blast through more than 100 feet of solid rock.

According to local lore, Spanish conquistadores mined gold and silver along swift, troublesome Salado Creek which winds around this jagged heap of rocks. Reputedly they fashioned the ore into bars and hid them.

There are other stories that gold stolen from the Comanches was buried in these hills.

TRIED BEFORE

Previous fortune hunters have gonged shafts into the stubborn cliffs without success.

Drama, plot and cast resemble an incredible fairy tale.

Principal characters are: McCord, a liquor store and restaurant owner who says he personally has contributed more than $40,000 to the project.

R. L. Wells of Dallas, a round, cigar-chewing construction company owner who says, "It's there, friend—I'll tell you that or I wouldn't be here."

Les Guerra, mustachioed Texas A&M graduate who says he stumbled onto the treasure chamber in 1957, spent two days wandering through a maze of tunnels and barely escaped.

Francis E. Richey, a self-styled soldier of fortune who joined the party a month ago. He is superintendent for a Houston-based firm named International Explorers.

Opening lead: King of ♠
 John Gerber of Houston, my long time associate and good friend, led an all-Texas contingent to a landslide victory in the Open Team of Four event at the Fall Nationals recently held in Dallas. Gerber and his teammates, including Paul Hodge, Abilene, and Mervin Key and Dr. Harold Rockaway, both from Houston, applied the steam during the final two sessions to pull eight full matches ahead of second place.

A hand, in which the winners scored a profit from both sides of the table, is reported today. The final contract of five diamonds was somewhat aggressive. South chose to treat his suits as equals for purposes of describing his holding in the most economical manner. When he rebid the diamonds, North realized that his partner had at least five hearts and five diamonds, and, with an attractive fit in the red suits, he felt warranted in making one push toward game by bidding four diamonds. South's acceptance of the invitation was a calculated gamble.

At the table where the Gerber entry was seated North and South, the king of clubs was led and, when East signaled encouragingly with the seven, West continued with the ace and attempted to cash a third round of clubs. Declarer ruffed, however, and proceeded to trump three hearts with the dummy's diamonds and discard his remaining heart on the ace of spades. He lost only two club tricks and the reward for the nonvulnerable game was 400 points to North-South.

At the other table, where the Gerber team held the East-West cards, the final contract was also five diamonds. The king and ace of clubs won the first two tricks; however, East did not continue the suit. He was convinced that his partner had four clubs for, with only three, West would have continued with the queen on the second round in preference to leading a small club.

East decided to cut down the dummy's ruffing power and he shifted to the ten of diamonds. Declarer was able to trump out only two hearts, and he was obliged to concede the setting trick at the end to East's queen of hearts.

Ships, Victims Of Docker Strike, Wait

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Barely visible on the horizon off the east end of Galveston Island, about 30 ships wait in the Gulf of Mexico, victims of a marathon dock strike.

Their lights flicker at night like a small city. The merchant ships, flying flags of many nations, have been anchored there for weeks, awaiting a break in the 44-day-old longshoremen's strike so they can load or unload cargo.

The vessels are major evidence that this port city of 70,000 is gripped by its longest dock strike since 1935. Business groups estimate it is costing the city $100,000 daily.

BAD SHAPE

"Things are in a helluva shape," said a banker who asked not to be identified.

Businessmen are hesitant to voice opinions on the labor dispute, mainly because they do business with both sides — members of the International Longshoremen's Association and the maritime industry.

Tell a merchant he won't be identified in print, and he'll tell you he's hurting.

Officials estimate about one-third of Galveston's economy revolves around the waterfront. "It's killing my business," a car dealer said.

FEEL STRIKE

"I don't care what they say, there's not a person in town that is not feeling the strike," the banker said. "Day after day, we're extending loans, to individuals and businesses."

What about the 3,000 longshoremen here and thousands of others in the West Gulf and South Atlantic ILA districts still out on strike?

They walk the picket lines — one or two at each pier — with less enthusiasm than six weeks ago. Often you find the picket signs propped against a wall and the men sleeping or talking in a car.

Some spend their time on street corners, at the union hall, in cafes or beer joints talking or playing dominoes. There's nothing else for them to do.

"We have no salary, no nothing," one picket said. "I think most of the boys are ready to go back to work, but not under the conditions the shippers want."

LACK FUNDS

Most locals do not have strike funds to pay even token living expenses.

Some longshoremen say they prepared for the strike by saving months ahead. Others have their wives working. But some don't have a penny now.

Salvation Army officers report many strikers have turned to them for help. In Texas, striking workers are prohibited by law from receiving employment benefits.

You don't hear many members say the union should give in on its demands, no matter how hard times get.

"We'll be out until Christmas if we have to," one declared.

Drive-In Gets 'Sympathy'

DALLAS (AP) — "I am sure you have the sympathy of the entire council," Mayor Erik Jonsson told the owner of a North Dallas drive-in eating place who asked city help in coping with teen-agers.

H. J. Barbee, the owner, repeated to City Councilmen Monday his account of youths massing to block parking space, damaging his property and driving adult customers away. "I don't need sympathy, mayor — I need relief," Barbee replied to Jonsson. "Three months from now won't help me."

Frigid Storm Grips West And Midwest

By The Associated Press

A major storm, with snow, subzero temperatures and strong winds, swept wide areas in the West and Midwest today and cold weather spread across most of the eastern half of the nation.

Snow fell from Montana and northeastern New Mexico to western Minnesota and northern Illinois. The snow belt was expected to extend across the upper Great Lakes region, with two to four inches expected from the central Plains northward.

VISIBILITY CUT

Winds up to 50 m.p.h. cut visibility to near zero in parts of western Kansas and eastern Colorado. The Weather Bureau issued blizzard warnings for the central Plains and hazardous driving and local blizzard warnings for northeastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle.

Arctic air invaded the storm zone and temperatures dropped to below zero from Montana and northeastern Wyoming to northern Lower Michigan. Readings were more than 20 below in northern Minnesota.

NEAR ZERO

It was cold in most of New England and upstate New York with readings near zero in many areas. A storm, fanned by strong winds Monday, dumped up to a foot of snow off Lake Ontario on an area of about 250 square miles in an easterly line from the Oswego-Henderson harbor area. Stiff winds caused severe drifting of snow, reduced visibility, slowed traffic and caused many highway accidents.

The cold air from the North dipped southward into northern Florida with freezing marks reported in Atlanta, Ga. Early morning temperatures ranged from 21 below at International Falls, Minn., to 73 at Key West and 72 at Miami, Fla.

Duke Enters Clinic; Eye Trouble Reported

LONDON (AP) — London newspapers reported today that the Duke of Windsor has a detached retina in his left eye. The Daily Express said it was considered certain that he would have an operation to re-fix the retina to the inside of his eyeball.

A spokesman at the London clinic said the 70-year-old duke had a good night and is "very comfortable." He said he could not confirm the diagnosis reported by the papers.

IN CLINIC SUITE

The former king and his American-born duchess arrived from Paris unexpectedly Monday and the duke moved into a suite at the clinic. The clinic said he probably would remain several days.

A few hours after his arrival, the duke was examined by Sir Stewart Duke-Elder, an old friend who is his eye specialist and also surgeon-oculist to Queen Elizabeth II. Another examination was made today.

The duchess stayed six hours with her husband at the clinic, then spent the night at Claridge's Hotel.

WILL BE 71

The duke will be 71 on June 23. Surgeons in Houston, Tex., removed a swollen section of an artery from his abdomen two months ago. He and the duchess returned from the United States to their home in Paris early this month.

John Utter, the duke's private secretary, said the duke's French doctors advised him to fly to London for the examination.

"The eye has been giving some trouble since last Saturday," Utter said. "We have been worried about it and that's why we came here for examinations and consultations. Otherwise, the duke is in good physical condition."

College Board Bill Advances

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Connally's top request to the legislature—a strong college coordinating board—has won Senate committee approval. It could be debated by senators Wednesday.

The House passed the bill 141-4 last week. The bill calls for replacing the Texas Commission on Higher Education with an 18-member board with power to classify the 22 state schools as colleges or universities.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what the punishment is for a man and woman who are caught posing as Mr. and Mrs. in California hotels and motels. My husband and his girl friend (who is also married) posed as man and wife in Sacramento, La Jolla and Palo Alto. We have three children. Two are teenagers, and my husband had the nerve to tell our teenaged boys to stay away from a certain girl because she wasn't "nice." Meanwhile, HE travels all over the State of California committing adultery with this tramp. I know I have grounds for divorce, but I would rather stay married to him and put HER in prison. Can this be arranged? NOT FOOLED

DEAR NOT: Unmarried couples posing as man and wife in hotel and motel rooms are law-breakers in EVERY state. The punishment varies, but the publicity and fallout on family and friends is always regrettable. Unless the girl friend kidnaped your husband, the guilt must be equally shared.

DEAR ABBY: I pray that the 14-year-old, "Can't sign my name," heeds your advice and tells her mother or the police before it's too late. I was a widow with two daughters, 8 and 10, when I married what I thought was a fine and honorable man. I found out too late that he had molested my 10-year-old since the first year of our marriage until she was 13. She was afraid to tell me because he threatened to kill her if she did. I suspected she was pregnant and the very day I found out she was, that contemptible creature tried to molest the other girl, then 11, but thank heavens SHE told me in time. I had 'him arrested, and filed for divorce. He is now serving a prison term and we are divorced — but good! I shudder to think of what may happen to that child if she doesn't tell her mother or report the man to the police at once. You have my permission to print this if you think it will help someone, but please don't use my name.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the little 14-year-old girl who couldn't sign her name touched my heart because I could have written such a letter many years ago. Abby, I am sure we would all be horrified to know the number of girls who have had to face this problem. And sadly enough, most of them are afraid to tell anyone. I am convinced that if young girls would wear a cross, or a Star of David, or some kind of religious medal where it could be plainly seen by any man who looks at her, it might make him think twice.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be writing a letter to DEAR ABBY, but I just have to have an answer. I am a 16-year-old junior and I would like to know why boys pay good money to get into a dance and then just stand around. Please put your answer in the paper as there are about a million girls who share this problem.

Bills Would Ease Tax Debt Plight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pres- sure are mounting in Con- gress to help taxpayers owing Uncle Sam more than was with- held from their wages even though the Treasury says their plight has been exaggerated.

Several bills have been intro- duced to allow extra time, be- yond the legally fixed April 15, for such deficiencies to be made up.

Panel Checking
The House Ways and Means Committee, which handles such $500 million, in contrast with earlier guesses of more than twice these figures.

Dillon said it appears that many taxpayers realized the situation they might find them- selves in and voluntarily ar- ranged to have their withhold- ing stepped up. Total taxes withheld by employers and paid in to the Treasury, he said, were $700 million more than had been expected.

FLAT PERCENTAGE
There is a certain amount of underwithholding every year because the pay-check deduc- tions are based on a flat per- centage while income tax rates increase as an individual's in- come rises. Last year special circumstances resulted in still more.

The full percentage reduction in withholding, to reflect the income tax cut voted by Con- gress, was put into effect in March. The tax reduction went into effect in two stages, the

'Cinderella' Introduces 2 Young Players

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System served up two exceptionally fine special programs in succession Monday night.

The first was a 90-minute color production of "Cinderella," full of Rodgers and Hammerstein music, old-fashioned romance and charm. The second was a stimulating hour inter- view on the state of the world with Walter Lippmann.

GREAT SOCIETY
Lippmann, a news analyst and columnist for many years was drawn out by intelligent questioning by Eric Sevareid. He touched on most of the dis- turbing subjects in our troubled world today, Viet Nam, China and the Soviet Union, and dis- cussed the aims of our great society.

MAGIC PRESERVED
The magic of the childhood classic was impeccably preserved. There were tuneful songs with the typical Hammerstein touch- es — warm, optimistic philo- sophy in the lyrics. Highlight, of course, was the ball.

Another Nielsen report Monday on television viewing — for the two weeks ending Feb. 7 — showed the networks again in a virtual three-way tie. ABC and NBC each had a rating of 23.4, while CBS had 23.3.

The 10 most popular pro- grams in order were Bonanza, Gomer Pyle, Bewitched, the Andy Griffith Show, the Lucy Show, the Red Skelton Show, My Three Sons, Peyton Place — Thursday night — the Fugitive and Combat.

International Control Of New Canal Favored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key U.S. officials are leaning toward the idea of international control for a proposed new sea-level canal across the midsection of the Americas.

Such control might be vested in a board made up of representatives of nations which contributed toward the cost of constructing and maintaining the new canal.

A major aim would be to assure that the canal was run for the benefit of all seafaring powers and that rates for using it were reasonable.

Top State Department and Army officials have visited four countries through which a new canal could run, when it replaces the present Panama Canal as the main transit for shipping between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. The present canal is too narrow to handle many U.S. aircraft carriers, super tankers and other big ships.

DISCUSSION AHEAD
No firm decisions have yet been made on the route, the method of construction, or the political and financial arrange- ments. Much diplomatic discus- sion lies ahead.

Officials are hopeful that en- gineering surveys may be start- ed in about a year. The surveys, which may take as long as four years, would examine four pos- sible routes — two in Panama, including the present one; one in Colombia and one partially in Nicaragua and partially in Costa Rica. Counting the survey time, work on the sea-level canal might cover 15 years, even if nuclear explosives were used to blast it out.

BEST ROUTE?
One viewpoint is that the best route might lie across the Isth- mus of Panama east of the present canal. About 70 miles or so long, it would cost about $775 million to build using nuclear explosives for excavation.

A Devotional For The Day

We do not even know how we ought to pray, but through our inarticulate groans the Spirit himself is pleading for us. (Romans 8:26, NEB)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, dear Lord, that the gift of the Holy Spirit is available to all of us. We pray for grace to use Thy good gift aright. May we do nothing to prevent the Spirit from carrying out His ministry in and through us. In Christ's name. Amen.

Habitual Crime Procedure

Judge W. A. Morrison of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has cause for his recently expressed concern that this state's habitual criminal law may be invalidated by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Texas law's constitutionality has just been upheld by the U. S. Fifth Court of Appeals, but a little earlier a similar Maryland law was ruled unconstitutional by the U. S. Fourth Court of Appeals. The U. S. Supreme Court can take its choice, and the habitual criminal trial procedure has what seems to us a grave flaw.

The law defines a habitual criminal as one convicted of his third felony. Such conviction automatically brings a life sentence. Under present trial procedure, the indictment read to the jury includes the record of previous convictions. The jury then determines whether the man is guilty and whether this is his third conviction.

Defendants challenge the procedure's constitutionality on grounds that a fair trial is impaired because the information on previous convictions prejudices the jury toward a finding of guilty on the latest charge. In most other states, where sentencing is done by the judge rather than the jury, this apparent flaw in justice is avoided. The defendant's previous record is not known to the jury before its finding of guilt or innocence, but the judge takes that record into account, usually in a presentencing hearing, before determining the degree of punishment.

The apparent affront to the constitutional guarantee of a fair trial (due even a habitual criminal) could be removed either by providing for judicial sentencing or by withholding the third-felony issue from the jury until after it has made its determination of guilt or innocence. Then the habitual angle could be raised.

Dangerous Symptom

Few will mourn the passing of Malcolm X, whose violent approach to the problem of race contributed nothing but hate and chaos to an already throny problem.

His murder, however, is a cause for concern. It cannot be written off as an inter-faction rivalry. It cannot be countenanced because it involved only Negroes, or because it happened in New York.

Unhappily, this sort of thing is getting to be symptomatic of a new trend of handling disagreements on matters of public issue. Those who foster and preach blind intolerance of opinions and voices other than their own are feeding the flames of this new danger.

Murdering rivals is the sort of thing coming from gangland. We are not yet ready to concede that this is the accepted way for our society at large.

Bad News For Hubert

WASHINGTON—People in Washington believe one of the reasons President Johnson hasn't been reporting to the American people lately is that he only likes to announce good news. If unemployment goes down, a railroad strike is settled, or Congress passes an Administration bill, the President is the first to reveal it. But when things are going badly, the President feels that the American people shouldn't know about it.

What complicates matters for everyone is that, because of his delivery, even when the President is announcing good news, it sounds like bad news.

Therefore, what the President needs is someone to announce the bad news for him. We think the perfect candidate for this job would be Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The reason for this is that, because of Mr. Humphrey's cheery personality, even when he announces bad news, it sounds like good news.

As I see it, the President would call Mr. Humphrey into his office and say, "Hubert, here are the things I want you to announce to the press today—the South Vietnamese government has been overthrown, gold reserves are down, there may be a steel strike, and 300 more Negroes were arrested in Selma, Alabama."

"YES, SIR, Mr. President, it will be a breeze," the Vice President replies. "Is that all the bad news you've got?"

"It's been a dull day for bad news. I'll probably have more for you tomorrow."

"Mr. President, I don't like to complain, but last week Bob McNamara announced that in case of a nuclear war 120 million Americans would be killed. I think I should have announced that since bad news is my province."

"WELL, McNamara's been announcing bad news for so long, it's hard to get him to stop. I'll speak to him about it and see if he could throw some bad news your way."

"Also, Mr. President, Dean Rusk announced that the Chinese would soon explode another atomic bomb. This was one of the biggest bad news stories of the week. I called Rusk about it and he said you had told him to go ahead and announce it."

"You were out of town, Hubert, and I didn't think it could wait. Since I didn't want to announce it, I felt as a matter of protocol Rusk should be allowed to do it."

"BUT SINCE you announced that I would be in charge of bad news, and you allowed Rusk to announce the China bomb explosion, the press is claiming that you have no confidence in me."

"That's ridiculous, Hubert, and to prove it I'm going to let you go on television and explain what a mess we're in in the Congo."

"I'd be most grateful for that, sir." "Good. On the same television show I would also like you to describe the impasse in the United Nations, the number of American embassies that have been stoned since we bombed North Viet Nam, and President de Gaulle's plans to undermine NATO."

"THAT'S WONDERFUL, Mr. President."

"I'll go on television right after you."

"What are you going to announce, Mr. President?" "My new plan to beautify Washington, D.C., the name of the next ambassador to Nepal, and a new tax cut for the women's toiletries industry." (Copyright, 1965, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

Grant Won

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minnesota Theatre Company has received a $15,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation to provide the acting troupe with instruction in voice and body movement.

"Cries for improvement of voice, speech and movement in resident theaters and allied performing arts organizations abound," said Oliver Rea, co-managing director of the company in announcing that Kristin Linklater and John Skinner will teach under the grant.

Shifts Gears

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright Jerry Devine is switching from Broadway to the summer theater circuit for his next exhibit.

"Abundantly Yours" is the name of a script which the author is packaging for a tour. Last season his "Never Live Over a Pretzel Factory" was a fast White Way flop, but the property brought him $70,000 in filming rights.

'MAYBE I CAN STOP AND TAKE BETTER AIM NOW'

James Marlow

Frankfurter Was Completely Dedicated

WASHINGTON (AP)—For 23 years Felix Frankfurter was a completely dedicated justice of the Supreme Court.

He stuck rigidly to what he called judicial restraint at a time when the court under Chief Justice Earl Warren was moving toward a greater participation in American problems and a willingness to assure responsibility in solving them.

Frankfurter, who died Monday at 82, urged deference to the wishes of Congress and state legislatures, on the theory the people eventually would pressure them into doing what was needed, even though they had avoided what was needed for years.

Two views, Frankfurter's and Warren's, and two opposition positions of these men tell the story.

IN 1962 the court ruled, 6 to 2, that apportionment of seats in state legislatures to give voters a fairer representation was subject to the scrutiny of federal courts.

For over half a century some legislatures had declined to reapportion themselves even though their state constitutions called for such action every 10 years.

Back in the 1940s Frankfurter had urged the court to stay out of such a "political thicket," and when it did step in in 1962, and when it did step in in 1962, still opposing it, he said: "In a democratic society like ours, relief must come through an aroused popular conscience that sears the conscience of the people's representatives."

This ignored the reality that in some situations politicians in power can ignore the people.

Warren, who was with the majority in calling for reapportionment, had given an answer to Frankfurter's kind of reasoning in an article in Fortune magazine in 1955:

"OUR JUDGES are not monks or scientists but participants in the living stream of our national life, steering the law between the dangers of rigidity on the one hand and of formlessness on the other.

"Our system faces no theoretical dilemma but a single continuous problem: How to apply to ever changing conditions the never changing principles of freedom."

Kids Made Old Too Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Pity the poor modern child!

He is becoming the most prominent victim of our fumbling attempts to create a more livable world.

Most of us aging codgers tend to low-rate the youngsters of today.

We enjoy the pleasant assumption that life was tougher when we were children. We love to bore our own young with all the hardships we knew in childhood—how many miles we had to walk to school, how many chores we did around the home, how early in life we earned our own spending money by delivering newspapers, selling magazines or sacking potatoes all day Saturday for the corner grocery store.

TO HEAR us tell it, the fabled labors of Hercules were as nothing to the work we accomplished in adolescence. And each of us, looking nostalgically back at those arduous times, never forgets to add piously:

"But hard work never hurt any kid. It was good for me. It made a man of me—not a cry baby."

Most of this is pure piffle. Every generation as it grows older likes to brag about how much rougher a time it had than the generation that succeeds it.

When we recall the ordeals of our youth, we forget one advantage of that privileged time. Kids were left on their own more. They had more freedom to make their own fun. America was less crowded then. There were more woods to explore, more room for digging caves, more creeks to fish in, more ponds to swim in.

THE BLESSED innocence of childhood lasted longer. Boys and girls didn't ape adulthood at such an early age.

We often complain about the ingratitude of young people today. Well, if we were honest with ourselves, we could readily find reasons why they should resent us rather than feel grateful.

If they were pampered and overprotected, who is responsible? They aren't. We are. If we do too much for them in some ways, in other ways we do too little for them.

One of the worst crimes against our young is that we rob them of security in childhood. We make them old too soon. Almost as soon as a baby learns to toddle, his parents start dinning into him the importance of getting into the right college.

MODERN CHILDREN are tense and insecure because they have a schedule as tight as that of a busy executive. All their activities are arranged for them. They are supervised almost to death. They have no time left for one of the chief industries of childhood—wonder and idle dreaming.

What we are doing is transferring our own fears and pressures to our children. What we need to do now and then is to let up on them, give them a day off to themselves, and let them enjoy their childhood while they still have it.

Around The Rim

Tribal Story In A Sandbank

Once upon a time, in a season of heavy rains, the Washita River swung around a long curve, cut deep into the towering sandbanks on its southern shore. When the waters had receded, the eroded cliffs revealed masses of human bones, ancient soot-blanketed pots, bison-bone spoons and crude tools. It also washed out numerous sandstone grinding rocks deeply indented where ancient peoples had long used them to pulverize corn for their principal food — cornmeal.

EXPERTS WHO SAW the remains identified them as relics of the Caddo Indians who had roamed that part of Oklahoma several hundred years ago.

I visited the scene and gathered a sizeable number of skulls, jawbones, pots, fragments of pottery and tools. The skulls were widely varied. Some, from the open seams, were those of very young people; others were the skulls of old men or women.

The feature of each skull and jawbone was the condition of the teeth. The teeth were worn down to the jawline. They were not decayed — simply ground away as sometimes the teeth of an old horse get to be.

SCIENTISTS TOLD me the explanation was that the Caddoans, grinding their corn into meal in the sandstone mortars, inevitably included a lot of coarse sand from the pestle and the mortar. This, blended in the food they ate, etched away the enamel of their teeth.

The experts shuddered as they studied the teeth. "What terrible toothaches these poor devils must have suffered!" they said.

Their explanation was that this particular shoreline of the river must have offered an ideal campground for the Caddoan wanderers for many generations. Water was plentiful, and the towering cottonwoods afforded shelter from the sun. Their primitive agriculture must have flourished.

Game abounded, and doubtless deer, buffalo and antelope came down to the river bank for water.

THEY PROBABLY camped there for many years, because their custom was to use a campsite until the game thinned out. Then they drifted to a new site. Eventually their travels brought them back to the first site.

In the course of the years, many died. Some, perhaps, were killed by enemy tribes. Most, in all likelihood, perished of disease, for these primitive bones showed evidence to scientists of many of the ailments which decimate modern man.

WHEN ONE died, the Caddoans buried him. It was easy on the sandbank. A hole was scooped out by hand or with bone tools deep enough to permit the body to be placed in a sitting position. Then the usual ceremonial pots and other regalia which he would need in his new world was placed in the pit, and the place was covered over.

The river, as it flooded, brought new sands to cover the top of the bank and the burials were imbedded deeper and deeper.

I tried to get the University of Oklahoma to take over the sand pits and trench it in a manner to reveal these burials as they had originally been made. No one was interested. It was in the depression days, for one thing, and money for such enterprises was hard to find.

MY OWN LITTLE collection of relics I ultimately gave to a museum where I suppose they are still on display.

The Washita, always a rampant stream, has doubtless flooded many times since that day. And perhaps as it cut deeper and deeper into the bank, it has washed away scores of other historic souvenirs of a primitive people who once lived in this part of the country.

Two Landmarks Show The Stalemate

WASHINGTON — The "decline" of the West and the fading "day of the Saxon" were long ago foreseen by philosophers and visionary historians, but now we do not have to depend upon the Spenglers and Homer Leases—their prophecies are being tested in the story of our times. Two current books describing epochal battles will serve as landmarks in viewing the fate of Western Civilization.

THE FIVE-WEEK battle for Iwo Jima, beginning in February 1945, gave us the famous flag-raising scene on Mount Suribachi. The author of this latest account, Richard Newcomb, rightly groups that combat photograph by the AP's Joe Rosenthal with Leutze's Washington Crossing the Delaware and Willard's Spirit of '76 as unforgettable symbols of American traditions.

Armchair critics may question the military judgment which resulted in expending 28,686 American casualties to take this sulphuric island from the desperate Japanese, but the U.S. Marines who bore the heaviest losses were not there to "reason why."

THE TAKING OF Iwo gave the Air Force forward bases—only 600 miles from Tokyo, but the blow that it dealt the Japanese morale may have been still more important. This island was part of the Empire, an actual section of the Prefecture of Tokyo. With its fall, the forces of the West had met the cream of the Oriental fighters in hand to hand combat and had breached the homeland of the East. Even without the two atomic bombs exploded later that year, the Americans had won the war and proved themselves the better men.

Nine years after Iwo Jima another Western force, the French army—both morally and financially backed by American policy—went to defeat at Dienbienphu as described in the new book by Jules Roy. And eleven years after Dienbienphu, the Republic of Viet Nam—morally, financially and militarily "advised" by Americans—is fighting defensively to hold what may be the last Western foothold in Southeast Asia.

SOMEHOW THE certitude of the 1940's is not there in the 1960's. For reasons that attach to the guilt we have been tutored to feel for Hiroshima, and to the foolish need to prove that we believe in "democracy" more than in our pride at being Americans, and to an obsession for "peace" which is a euphemism for fear, we have financed the French and now the South Vietnamese to fight for territory which Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson have all thought to be strategically important to this country and the Western World.

The war surely is not won, and just as surely need not be lost, but maybe those two landmarks will do something to explain the stalemate. At Iwo Jima we took our fate into our own hands. Before and after Dienbienphu, our fate has been in the palms of those whom we have paid to do the major fighting. (Distributed by McNaughton Syndicate, Inc.)

Boxed In On Viet Nam Issue

WASHINGTON — The official view of Viet Nam from Washington is as though seen through the wrong end of a telescope. It is narrow, increasingly constricted, with the elements in the situation in false perspective because of the limited view.

Consistently left out has been the political factor in the war — the refusal to see that the civil war within South Viet Nam is at least as important as the war waged with the help and direction of Hanoi. One coup has followed another until now there is still one more attempt to get Humpty Dumpty back on the wall. This is the painful lesson of internal division and dissension official Washington has never mastered.

THE VIEW IS NO mystery about why there is so constricted. The decision-making process is dominated by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. At marshaling facts and figures, at presenting the military equation, no one excels McNamara. His steel-trap mind — this is a cliché doing him an injustice — bites down on the whole problem of logistics, fire power, targets, men and machines.

But as has been shown on each of his visits to Viet Nam — part of the grueling exercise in duty and discipline to which he subjects himself — the Secretary seems to leave out the political factor. His invariable optimism — granted part of it can be discounted as a morale factor for the South Vietnamese — fails to take into account the will to fight of the Vietnamese in the South and the innumerable warring factions making any coherent effort all but impossible.

HERE AT HOME, too, the President has narrowed the view of the conflict and in so doing appears to have put himself in a difficult box. He is reported to be deeply resentful of the Democratic Senators who criticize present policy, or lack of it, and talk of the urgent need to consider some form of negotiation. The President's acute sensitivity to any criticism to one side, the conviction is that if only the whole nation is united on a resolute course the war effort in South Viet Nam will be greatly strengthened. Conversely, any suggestion of negotiation weakens the forces resisting communist aggression.

THIS IS HIGHLY doubtful. If a half-dozen Senators, most of whom have agreed on the need for the first retaliatory air strikes in the north, can weaken the will to fight in Saigon then the whole effort is in a bad way. And that, in the opinion of the realists here trying to see the whole picture, is just what the latest coup proves.

By stiffening against members of his own party proposing alternatives to the present drift the President moves closer to the emotionalists and the hard-liners. Their principal spokesman, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, the minority leader in the Senate, proclaims that no negotiation can be accepted in Viet Nam. What he is saying, therefore, is that nothing short of surrender by the Viet Cong is acceptable.

THAT IS THE same position that Red China takes about the United States — nothing short of the withdrawal of American forces from Viet Nam will end the war. This is the immovable object meeting the irresistible force, and the end result can only be escalation of the Vietnamese conflict, bombing in China and the imminent peril of World War III.

LBJ Talk To Youth Focuses On 'Transcendental Values'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — President Johnson, addressing himself to the younger generation, said Monday "Your task is different and more difficult than any that have gone before."

"It is our central task to make this world serve to enrich the dignity and the value of the human being," Johnson said in a speech prepared for a Founder's Day centennial convocation at the University of Kentucky.

Johnson made only fleeting reference to foreign problems, devoting all of his remarks to what he called "the great transcendental issues which affect the life of nearly every human being on this planet."

In his only reference to foreign policy, Johnson said: "We cannot, and will not, withdraw from this world. We are too rich, too powerful, and too important. And we are too concerned."

Saying that the younger generation — those under 25 — constitute the world's majority, Johnson said "You inherit a world with great danger, the largest difficulties and the most promising destiny in history."

FULFILL HOPES
He added: "No longer can we ignore the hopes of the poor and the oppressed. And for the first time we have the power to fulfill those hopes. You may witness a rebirth of hope or the ruin of civilization, the defeat of misery or the destruction of man. These are the choices which you, too, are called upon to make."

"As an American citizen today, you are also a citizen of the world. Your cause is truly the cause of all mankind."

Elaborating on his theme that the central task of the younger generation is to make the world serve to enrich the dignity and value of human beings, Johnson said: "We will do this not through riches, power or comfort. You will find meaning only by sharing in responsibilities, the dangers, and the passions of your time. A great American (John F. Kennedy) told us to ask what we could do for our country. By asking, you will not only help others, but you will be giving purpose to your own life."

REBUILD CITIES
"Think of how much there is to do. You must rebuild the cities of America and rescue the countryside from destruction. You must wipe out poverty and eliminate racial injustice. You must labor for peace and freedom and an end to misery all around the world."

"The Great Society will offer you the chance to do this work. It does not promise luxury and comfort and a life of ease. It does promise every American a chance to enrich his spirit and share in the great common end."

terprise of our people. "Your energy and your sacrifice are needed. It is our job to tap those resources and help provide the chance to serve."

OUTLINES PROGRAMS
Johnson outlined the various programs in which he said volunteers are needed, starting with the Peace Corps and including volunteers in the war against poverty, women to help deprived children prepare for success in school, community action programs in every community in an effort to wipe out poverty and restoration and protection of beauty in America.

"In every area of national need the story is the same," Johnson said. "The Great Society cannot be built — either at home or abroad — by government alone. It needs your sacrifice. I intend to continue to search for new ways to give you a chance to serve. And I hope to move toward the day when every young American will have the opportunity to give a few years of his life to the service of others in this nation and in the world."

Liquor Bills

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio explains three bills he has introduced in a frank move to block a Texas Restaurant Association sponsored mixed drink proposal. "If I have to buy a dollar's worth of food to buy a dollar's worth of liquor, that abridges my right to take a drink—and I have a constitutional right to take a drink," Johnson told reporters. Abilene College Board Okays Giant Expansion

ABILENE (AP) — Abilene Christian College's board approved Monday a $23.7 million academic and physical plant expansion program.

The first phase will be a three-year effort to raise $10.4 million.

President Don Morris said $2.2 million in advance gifts had been received.

Four new buildings slated for Phase I will be a 5,200-seat coliseum-auditorium, a 200,000-volume library, a new campus center, and science halls which will triple current instructional space in the sciences.

Funds will be sought for four types of needs during the Phase I campaign—$5.3 million for construction, $1 million for campus improvements, $2.3 million for endowment, and $1.3 million for operational supplementation.

New gifts totaling more than $166,000 were disclosed today. The largest gifts included $27,000 from the estate of Essie Rambo of Brownwood, $25,000 from Willard Paine of Monahan, and $15,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Davis Warren Jr., of Borger.

The second phase goals call for gifts of $15.3 million. Five major buildings are in the master campus plan for this phase—art and music center, agriculture and industrial education building, communications center, dormitory for men and dormitory for women.

Leche, Cohort Of Huey Long, Dead At 66

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Richard W. Leche, who was governor at the time of the Louisiana scandals in the late 1930s and early 40s, died Monday.

Leche, 66, died at his home after a long illness. A lieutenant of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, D-La., Leche was elected governor by a landslide in 1938. He resigned the office three years later and went to federal prison for mail fraud.

Leche was pardoned in 1953 by then President Harry S. Truman and returned to New Orleans to practice law.

He told an interviewer recently, "I have no animosities whatsoever. I'm thoroughly enjoying watching the parade."

Services will be held Tuesday at the House of Bultman Funeral Home with burial in Metairie Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, Richard W. Leche Jr. of Houston, Tex., and Charles Eustace Leche of New Orleans, and one sister, Mrs. Herbert Deignan of Lausanne, Switzerland.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Pack Lunch Items In Butter Boxes

Dear Heloise: I have just finished packing a lunch for my 11-year-old boy to take on a field trip. He insisted on a piece of his favorite pie that I had just baked. It was a little juicy so I raked my brain for a way to pack it so it wouldn't ruin the rest of his lunch, and also so he wouldn't have to bring home the container.

Dear Heloise: A truck driver told us that when you have road film on your windshield... or just on a drizzly day... to use cream to tartar on the glass. Just put a pinch of cream of tartar on your windshield and turn on the wipers (or use on cloth and wipe). This is marvelous for a streaky windshield. It sure is good to be able to see out again.

Dear Heloise: Here is something I have done for several years and find very helpful: First, I rub a thin coating of vegetable shortening on the threads and underneath the lids of jars used for storing liquids in the refrigerator. Merely grease the threads of the caps for items such as molasses, glue bottles, touch-up enamel paints, etc. and the lids will never stick tight. This is also wonderful for nail polish bottles, screws and bolts in stoves, and all appliances before they become frozen with age. Mrs. Walter Smith (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Texan Commands In Viet Nam

Deposed Khanh Agrees To Leave S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh has agreed to leave South Viet Nam Wednesday as an "ambassador at large," reliable sources reported today.

As the Vietnamese military command continued its political maneuvering, an American enlisted man was killed Monday night when a Viet Cong terrorist threw a grenade into a command post 35 miles east of Saigon. He was the 17th U.S. serviceman to die in action in Viet Nam since December 1961.

Another American was seriously wounded in the incident. Nine other Americans were wounded in helicopter actions and in an ambush of a Vietnamese column.

The Armed Forces Council deposed Khanh over the weekend from command of the armed forces, apparently ending his 12½-month tenure as the country's strongman. Khanh tried to rally support, then holed up in Dalat, the mountain resort 140 miles northeast of Saigon. There were indications he was balking at leaving the country.

signed the decree naming Khanh a roving ambassador, the same device used to get his predecessor, Maj. Duong Van Minh, out of the country after Khanh supplanted him.

The "Young Turk" generals of the Armed Forces Council continued to hold meetings at their headquarters at the Saigon airport. Combat troops were stationed around the perimeter of the airport, and antiaircraft guns and recoilless rifles remained in protective positions.

Extra military units also were stationed at checkpoints on the outskirts of Saigon. But three paratroop battalions brought into Saigon over the weekend were sent back into the field.

AIR STRIKES

Air strikes were ordered today along the "ambush road" from Binh Dinh Province into the jungle interior where three platoons of Vietnamese are missing.

A military spokesman said 71 Vietnamese soldiers were missing and another 21 had filtered in after an ambush near the border between Binh Dinh and Pleiku provinces.

A ranger company moving into the area this morning ran into the Viet Cong force and was reported maintaining contact late in the day.

The military council began changing command of key units of the armed forces. One of the major shifts reported was the appointment of Maj. Gen. Tran Van Don, 47, to replace Col. Le Van Nhie as head of the Central Intelligence Agency. Khanh had put Don under house arrest last year but later freed him because of Buddhist pressure.

School Trustees To Meet Tonight

The Big Spring School Board of Trustees will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today to study plans and specifications for the high school addition and remodeling program.

Atmar Atkinson, architect has asked for the review to permit final drawings on the Master Plan program for expansion of high school facilities, including campus grading and physical education and athletic fields. All plans have to be approved by the board before being submitted to contractors for bids.

U. S. Strategy Hardly Dented

WASHINGTON (AP) — The most profound political change in South Viet Nam in more than a year seems to have been pulled off so far without upsetting basic U.S. strategy for the conduct of the war there against Communist forces.

Amid signs that the struggle has reached a critical stage, marked by expanding military action and peace probes on both sides, U.S. officials are said to be glad that the revolt which resulted in Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's ouster as South Viet Nam's military strong man was not more damaging.

Concern continued, however, over whether the Armed Forces Council, which removed Khanh, could now stabilize the situation or whether the new regime would be harassed and destroyed by such familiar sources of instability as dissenting military leaders, disaffected students and politically powerful Buddhist priests.

EXERCISE POWER

The United States, officials have made clear privately, will work with whatever government can effectively exercise power in Saigon from day to day. Officials here also insist that the United States was not behind the ouster of Khanh, who had held power since he seized control Jan. 30, 1964.

Half a dozen eruptions of political strife in Saigon during Khanh's period of supremacy had put a succession of governments into office but his leadership persisted with more or less effectiveness for almost 13 months.

His ouster by the council, which appointed Maj. General Tran Van Minh as commander in chief Monday, distinguishes the present shakeup in Saigon from most of those which have gone.

BE REVERSED

This element would be reversed if Khanh returned, but his rejection by his fellow generals after they had saved his position from a revolt Friday seemed unlikely to be overcome.

For the moment, the political developments overshadowed signs that the war is expanding. Authorities here said the seizure of a huge supply of Communist arms and ammunition on the South Vietnamese coast Friday was evidence the Reds were preparing for a big effort of some kind.

The United States, for its part, has already embarked on a much tougher policy line toward the conflict, signaled by President Johnson last week when he said that "our continuing actions will be those which are justified and those that are made necessary by the continuing aggression of others."

Social Woe's 'Emotional' Factor Noted

AUSTIN (AP) — Social workers say most unwed mothers in private charitable homes are not "morally bad" but are emotionally off balance and often at odds with their parents.

"Many times pregnancy is a sexual working out of problems caused by emotional instability," Melvyn Sexauer of San Antonio said Monday at a House hearing in which the state was asked to license and set minimum standards for maternity homes.

"MOST ADJUST"

"Most of our cases are considered successes because the girls go on and make a more mature adjustment," said Helen Bland, social worker at San Antonio's Methodist Mission Home.

She said 80 per cent of the unwed mothers who receive medical and psychiatric care will not be back. Without special treatment to work out the problems, the national figure for returnees is 50 per cent, she added.

Miss Bland and Sexauer said the 15 homes for unwed mothers in Texas, all privately operated and mostly on a charity basis, wanted the state to set standards for medical care and professional workers in the homes.

SET STANDARDS

The House State Hospitals and Special Schools Committee approved a bill by Rep. Paul Floyd of Houston to direct the state to set standards and licensing requirements for the homes.

The committee ordered further study for a bill by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas to establish a teaching and research mental hospital in Dallas, adjacent to the University of Texas Southwest Medical School.

Purchase Sow

LAMESA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. White bought the champion sow in the open gilt class at the annual Berkshire auction sale held at the South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock Saturday. The sow was purchased from Allen Wagner, Marissa, Ill., for $900. The previous record in the open gilt class was $550.

Amid Predicted Cutbacks, Aerospace Men Confident

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft factories in the United States built 295,000 planes—all military—for $40 billion during World War II.

Uncle Sam has spent roughly half that much in the past 10 years on three basic flight vehicles for national defense—the B52 bomber and Minuteman and Polaris missiles. He took delivery on just 2,350 units.

In today's commercial flight, the standard jet transport does the work of 20 of yesterday's redoubtable Douglas DC3s, carrying six times as many passengers 3½ times as fast.

The comparisons bespeak an enormous telescoping of striking power in the one case, of economic productivity in the other. And they focus attention of problems of the evolving aircraft-aerospace industry, one of the nation's vital resources.

LITTLE RESEMBLANCE

This sprawling industry bears little resemblance to the heyday of Rosie the Riveter when auto-style assembly lines filled urgent orders from the government.

Great energies were diverted starting in the early 1950s to the then novel arts of missiles, and in the late 1950s to manned space flight, each calling for custom work of extreme reliability.

In its present stance, the aircraft-aerospace industry draws nearly 47 of every $8 income from the U.S. Treasury, the lion's share for defense-space projects.

Now, with defense spending nosing downward after a four-year surge and big-scale production programs tapering off, an old debate recurs: Is serious trouble ahead for aerospace? Or is this feast-or-famine industry just hitting another downward dip in a roller coaster course?

There's tongue clucking among management consultants, analysts in Wall Street, the government and universities over predicted cutbacks in defense spending.

Ex-Fugitive's Plea Rejected

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Judge Joe Brown has ruled that Marvin Roberts, 43, must go back to Georgia, where he escaped from a state prison work gang 12 years ago.

The jurist denied Roberts' request Monday for a new habeas corpus hearing. Georgia authorities were notified he now can be taken from Texas. Gov. Connally already has signed extradition papers.

Police arrested Roberts in October while he was working in a restaurant. He escaped in Georgia after serving three months of a 20 year prison term for rape.

Local Home Rule Seen On Way Out

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Research League foresees a day when regional home rule will replace local home rule.

"Metropolitan problems don't always stop at city boundaries," the league's executive director, Steve Matthews, told the House State Affairs Committee Monday night.

"We have reached the point where we cannot afford not to plan."

Matthews spoke in favor of a bill sponsored by Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth. It would allow cities, counties, school districts and other political subdivisions to join for regional planning.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Put telephone wires underground and you've put them in a safe place. Safe from wind, rain, hot weather, cold weather, stormy weather. Safer from the slow death of ordinary weathering. Safer from man-caused damage, too. All around safer from the kinds of trouble which most often affect the talkability, hearability and dependability of your phone service.

That's why this year Southwestern Bell is spending $10 million burying hundreds of additional miles of telephone cable underground. In effect, buying life insurance for your telephone service.

There's another tangible benefit, too. Because of this buried cable construction program, new jobs will be created. Some in the telephone business (which already has 52,179 persons on the payroll), but most important, an estimated 500 new jobs among the hundreds of firms which sell supplies, services and materials to the telephone company.

This is a 1965 communications bonus from Southwestern Bell. Part of a massive construction effort (our biggest ever) to make the world's best telephone service even more useful, dependable, convenient and valuable seven days a week, good weather and bad.

Weather Slows Up Center's Building

Although the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center is running about 20 days behind on construction, it will be completed near the target date in August.

This was a prediction voiced Monday at the meeting of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center board. John Gary, architect, estimated that building is lagging by 20 days due to adverse weather and some material deliveries.

Jimmy Taylor proposed March 30 for the annual volunteer appreciation dinner which the board approved. It will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building of Howard County Junior College.

In other business, the board heard a report from George Thornburn, accountant, who listed the fluid assets at $17,401.84, all but $836 in savings.

Named president V. Ward Jackson as representative to the United Fund meeting Thursday; heard Mrs. Rube McNew report on Easter Seal sales plans.

Received a report from Sam Anderson, president of the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, concerning assistance for the center.

Named Jim Thompson, center director, and Glenn Coates to a committee to plan a brochure informing residents of the need for equipment in the new center.

Thompson estimated the cost of this equipment in excess of $14,000; Dr. George Hilliard was introduced as new chairman of the center.

Monday, the same sequence arose and pleas of guilty brought a quick end to the session.

Today's pleas included Jack Martin, DWI, $75 and five days in jail, plus costs; William Everett, DWI, $50 fine and three days in jail plus costs.

Jimmy Clugston, failed to report, bond forfeited; Hurlie Johnson, transporting, charge dropped when shown defendant now in jail on a charge of burglary.

Cases tentatively set for Wednesday include: Benjamin Leon, aggravated assault; Mrs. R. Christopher, worthless check; S. T. Johnson Jr., DWI; E. F. Coates, DWI; Ferral Lewis Dodd, non-support; Dwayne Carroll, aggravated assault.

Medical Advisory Board. Others on the board include Dr. B. Broadrick, Dr. Louise Worthy, and Dr. R. E. Koenig; Thompson, in his quarterly report, said the number of treatments given climbed from 294 in October to 341 in December. The daily average went from 13 to 17.

Larry Bristo, speech therapist with the school system, was introduced as a part time therapist at the center. His services are available through the week from 4:45 p. m. and does not duplicate his work in the school system.

Plans have been filed for the 1965 Easter Seal Campaign scheduled in March by the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, according to Mrs. Rube McNew, chairman.

She told the directors of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center Monday that 1,000 letters would be mailed Feb. 27; that 200 canisters asking donations will be placed in business houses; that two billboard signs will be put up on highways; and Easter Seals will be sold during March.

A Lily Day parade is scheduled March 12-13, she added, which will be a house-to-house solicitation for funds. In addition, there will be coffee, and a dance is planned for March 27.

Easter Seal Drive Planned

Plans have been filed for the 1965 Easter Seal Campaign scheduled in March by the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, according to Mrs. Rube McNew, chairman.

She told the directors of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center Monday that 1,000 letters would be mailed Feb. 27; that 200 canisters asking donations will be placed in business houses; that two billboard signs will be put up on highways; and Easter Seals will be sold during March.

A Lily Day parade is scheduled March 12-13, she added, which will be a house-to-house solicitation for funds. In addition, there will be coffee, and a dance is planned for March 27.

"We have between 350-400 workers to help us this year," Mrs. McNew said, "and we anticipate easily attaining our goal. The workers will cover, in addition to Big Spring, Gay Hill, Forsan, Midway, Sand Springs, Coshoma, and the Lockhart area.

Sam Anderson, president of the society, called a meeting of the organization for March 1 at 5:15 p. m. in the board room of the school administration office.

Stock Ready For Houston Show

Nine steers and seven lambs will be exhibited by Howard County 4-H Club members at the annual Houston Fat Stock Show next week, Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said today.

The steers are to be entered by Martha Robinson, Dale Crenshaw, James Crenshaw, Mark Barr, Greg Ryan, David Brady, Robbie Haney, Delores Lankford and Linda Foster.

Lambs are to be shown by Steve and Linda Foster; Robert and Dale Crenshaw; and Dixie Coleman. The youngsters and their animals will leave for Houston Sunday, Helbig said.

Klondike Stock Show Scheduled

KLONDIKE — T. E. Tidwell, agriculture teacher for the Klondike schools, said more than 75 animals are expected for the annual Klondike Livestock Show Wednesday.

The show is under the direction of Tidwell. Sid Long, agriculture teacher for the Borden County schools, will be the judge. Judging is scheduled to get under way at 1 p. m.

Tidwell said the swine division will have the largest number of entries, followed by the sheep and beef divisions.

There will be no auction at the end of the show. Most of the animals will be entered in the Dawson County Livestock Show, March 4, 5, and 6.

Police Checking Two Shootings

Police today were continuing an investigation into two shooting incidents, Saturday and Sunday evenings, at a residence at 1606 E. 16th.

Weeping Mother

Mrs. Frances Wasil weeps as she stands beside her son, Eugene, in Boys Court today. Wasil is one of three school drop-outs held in connection with the slaying Sunday night of Fred Christiansen, 66, in Chicago, in a $11 robbery. State's Attorney Daniel P. Ward said murder indictments will be sought against all three youths. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Fire Destroys House On Wood

A fire after midnight left a five-room stucco house at 1105 Wood almost totally destroyed today. Flames from the fire went some 20 to 30 feet into the air and were visible over a big section of east Big Spring.

The walls of the house remained standing after the blaze, but the roof and interior portions were a total loss, Fire Marshall A. D. Meador reported.

Meador, who lives at 1102 Wood, about a block away, said he was among the first persons to reach the house, and the fire was already burning throughout most of the rooms.

The occupants, Mrs. Roy Cahill and her daughter, Linda, were cut off from the home's two doors by the flames and climbed out a front window, Meador said.

Houses on both sides of the residence were scorched, with several windows broken by heat from the fire, he said.

"The roof fell in as I got there," Meador said. "This was one of the worst house fires we have had for some time."

The winds, which were about 40 miles-an-hour at the time, and the fire's start before firemen arrived contributed to the extent of damage, Meador said. He said the blaze had probably been underway some 30 minutes before it was discovered.

Two fire trucks and 13 firemen from the Eleventh and Birdwell Lane Station, fought the blaze.

Owner of the house is B. A. Graham, Midland. A house at 1003 Wood, owned by Gus Opegard, west of the burning house, received damage to its east side from the heat. Another house, at 1007 Wood, owned by Ezra Davis, and east of the fire, received heat damage and some damage to the roof, Meador said.

Cause of the fire had not been determined this morning, although Meador said it started in the northwest bedroom.

Trash Permits Are Required

The city is continuing to notify commercial firms hauling trash to the city dump grounds that permits are to be required, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said today.

About 80 permits, which cost $10 and are for one year, have been sold by the city since the effort began Jan. 1, he said.

Truck Limit Law Deployed

AUSTIN (AP)—The packaging revolution has made Texas limits on truck lengths out of date, a trucking industry spokesman says.

To prove his point, James Taylor, executive director of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, showed a House committee Monday a fat, light-weight plastic foam container in which his wife received a percolator.

"Cargo is getting lighter in weight and bulkier in size," he said. "This is hurting truckers' revenues and the only way to boost income is 'by getting more weight into vehicle bodies,'" he said.

Taylor testified before the House Motor Traffic Committee in favor of a bill to allow longer trucks and authorize use of triple-unit truck-trailers.

"The present length restrictions in Texas are the lowest in the nation," said Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady, the bill's sponsor.

State law places a 35-foot limit on a single truck and a 50-foot limit on a tractor-trailer combination. There is no limit on trailer length. Triple units are prohibited.

Townsend's bill puts a 40-foot limit on single trucks, 40 feet on trailers, 55 feet on tractor-trailer combinations and 65 feet on three-unit combinations.

The lengths, Taylor said, are identical with standards of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and the American Association of State Highway Officials.

A triple combination consists of a truck-tractor pulling two trailers.

Opposition was registered by Tom Gordon of Abilene, lawyer for the Frito-Lay Co., and Herbert Paul, chairman of the Joint Railway Legislative Board, a labor group.

Passage of the bill "would not be in the best interests of railway employees or the economy in general," Paul said, adding that more rail employees would lose their jobs.

Gordon said Frito-Lay would have to shorten or replace 21 trailers 42.5 feet long in its fleet if the bill passes.

Minor Traffic Mishaps Reported

Three minor traffic collisions were reported in Big Spring Monday, including two hit-and-run mishaps.

A pickup which struck a parked car in the 300 block of Scurry left the scene, officers reported. The parked car was owned by Charlie McDonald, 1908 Rummels.

Officers arrested a 16-year-old youth for leaving the scene of an accident at 2415 Scurry. The other car involved was driven by Lewis Moss, 2613 Larry.

A collision at Thirteenth and Rummels streets involved cars driven by Glenda Pharr, 2508 Carol, and Clarence Suggs, 419 Hillside.

Lubbock Chief Dies Sunday

Services were to be held today at 2:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Lubbock for W. E. (Chief) Twitty, a long-time Lubbock fire department official and an organizer of the fire school at Texas A&M University.

Chief H. V. Crocker of Big Spring, a friend of Twitty for many years, said the former Lubbock chief was one of the state's top firemen in his knowledge of fighting fires.

Dr. Patterson Due Here For Baptist Temple Revival

Dr. T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the evangelist during the New Life Crusade Revival at Baptist Temple Church Feb. 28-March 7. J. C. (Jackie) Shirley, native of Big Spring and minister of music and youth at the First Baptist Church of Oak Cliff, will direct the singing.

Dr. Patterson, native of Floyd, received his A. B. degree from Hardin-Simmons University and was later given an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree at the school. He received his Th.M. and Th.D. degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

The evangelist held pastorates at the Dixie Baptist Church near Whitesboro; and at First Baptist Churches at Roscoe, Hollis, Okla., Colorado City and Beaumont; East Grand Baptist Church in Dallas, and Evans Avenue Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

He has served as a member of the executive board, Baptist General Convention of Texas; board of trustees of Hardin-Simmons, Southeast Baptist Hospital and Mary Hardin-Baylor College; chairman of Texas Baptist survey committee, and was a member of the Foreign Mission Board, Southern Baptist Convention. He was also author of "Questions Answered" column in Baptist state papers.

As the top elected leader of the state's 1,712,000 members of over 4,000 Baptist churches, he coordinates work with three major commissions and other phases of work designed to achieve the denomination's basic objective of "bringing men into a right relationship with God through Jesus Christ."

He also works in an advisory capacity with the administrators and presidents of the 10 schools, four children's homes, and eight hospitals owned and operated by Texas Baptists.

A minister for 30 years, Dr. Patterson's last pastorate was with the First Baptist Church of Beaumont, where he served for 14 years.

He is married to the former Roberta Mae Turner of Abilene, and the couple has two children.

Shirley was graduated from Big Spring High School, and attended Hardin-Simmons University, received his B.M. degree from Baylor University, and attended Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, two years.

The minister of music for the Oak Cliff First Baptist Church was designated as the most outstanding member of the Baylor capella choir in 1958-59, and was student director of the Baylor chapel choir 1956-58. He has served First Baptist Churches at Lampasas and Waxahatchie also. He is also music director for Dallas Baptist Association.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Shirley, 911 Lancaster.

Rev. James Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple Church, said plans for the revival include: a crusade choir being enlisted by Mrs. Ruelene Porter; a Sunday school witnessing campaign, directed by Capt. Harley D. Henry, Sunday school superintendent, and 100 Sunday school workers; a revival attendance campaign under the direction of Tolbert Grisham; a church member participation campaign directed by A. L. Fortson and soul-winning program directed by Audie Lee, Training Union director.

Others directing activities will be Capt. and Mrs. Ed Milosevich, counseling; J. R. Berry, ushers; Sidney Hart, men's services; Mrs. H. M. Jarrett, women's services; hospitality committee, Bennie Porter.

Public appearances planned for Dr. Patterson include participation on the Big Spring Pastors Association program Feb. 28 at 4:30 p. m.; interview with KHEM at 7 p. m., Feb. 28; speaker for the local Gideon's Camp March 4, and special luncheon guest of Baptist pastors of the Big Spring area March 1.

OIL REPORT

Howard Wildcat To Test Penn

A Howard County wildcat location has been staked; a Glasscock County completion listed as a three-eighth mile stepout to the Gordon Street South (Wolfcamp) field, and a San Andres completion listed in Martin County.

Greathouse, Pierce & Davis has staked the No. 1 Wright Estate 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 40-33-1s, T&P survey, five miles southeast of Ackerly, and two miles southwest of the Oceanic (Pennsylvanian) reef, but separated by dry holes. The wildcat will drill to 8,900 feet to prospect the Pennsylvanian.

Connally Oil Co. No. 1-A Ed and Jim Tom, six miles southeast of Stanton in Glasscock County, was drilled to 9,806 feet and 4 1/2-inch casing set on the bottom. Perforations were listed at 9,161-9,202 and 9,668-9,670 feet.

The well pumped 167 barrels of 49.2 gravity oil, with no water, after perforations were fractured with 60,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 780-1. The location was staked 1,640 feet from the north and east lines of section 43-34-1s, T&P survey.

Cities Service Oil Co. is preparing to test for a San Andres completion in the No. 1-K Scharbauer, a Martin County wildcat 1 1/2 miles northwest of Stanton.

Operator set 5 1/2-inch casing of 49.2 feet of the total depth of 5,282 feet. Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of league 324, LaSalle County School Lands survey, two and a half miles northeast of the Glass, North (Wolfcamp) pool opener.

Man Charged With Assault

Charges of aggravated assault on a minor female were being prepared by County Attorney Dee John Davis today against a man, who earlier paid a fine in justice court for drunkenness and use of abusive language on the telephone.

Turncoat Committed

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Korean War turncoat Lowell D. Skinner was committed today to Hawthornden State Hospital, a mental institution, for an indefinite period.

The ex-GI, who spent 10 years in Communist China, has been in jail since Dec. 10 for violating a two-year probation. The decision apparently removed the threat of prison for the 34-year-old former Marine.

Committal was ordered by Common Pleas Court Judge L. A. Lombardi and Probate Court Judge Nathan Koplin.

Skinner, who has been arrested several times, was dishonorably discharged from the service. He was placed on probation a year ago for assault with a deadly weapon in a shooting incident in which he allegedly fired at two youths.

After admitting he violated the probation—mainly by being intoxicated—he was adjudged a violator last Dec. 18.

Boxcar Thefts Charged Trio

DENISON (AP)—Charges were prepared, sheriff's officers said, against three Grayson County railroad men today in an estimated $100,000 theft.

More arrests were expected. Sheriff Woody Blanton said three veteran employees of the Katy Railroad were held after recovery of about $100,000 worth of the goods stolen from boxcars.

Included in the stolen items were furniture, television sets, tires, food and other things.

"It looks like they're going to fill up the courthouse with the stuff," a spectator said.

Blanton said boxcars were spotted in the MKT Railway Yards here. Doors were resealed after merchandise was taken from the cars, which were routed to their destinations.

The sheriff said the thefts were hard to detect and some were not discovered until several days, and often a month, after the cars were entered.

Two railroad firemen from Denison and a switchman from Sherman were involved, Blanton said.

Stock Market Opens Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market opened slightly higher in active trading today. Gains of most key stocks were fractional.

Bid To Reclassify Wells Under Fire

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Major oil companies were set to oppose a request by Texaco, Inc., to reclassify wells in seven on-shore oil fields to gain extra production at a public hearing today.

Texas wants the fields classified as offshore, which would boost their allowed daily production by about 41,000 barrels.

Conservation Commissioner J. M. Menefee, who conducts the hearing, has estimated the state would collect an extra $12.8 million annually in royalties and severance tax if the change is approved.

The decision is up to Menefee, who sets production allowances for all oil and gas wells in the state.

BACK RULING
Gov. John McKeithen said last week he would back whatever ruling Menefee makes.

Under the formula used for determining how much production each well in the state is allowed daily, offshore wells — because of more expense involved — are permitted one barrel and a half for each barrel of similar on-shore production.

The hearing took on political overtones Monday when the Louisiana Republican Political Action Committee said it opposed the change.

State Rep. Taylor O'Hearn, R-Caddo, called on all members of the legislature to join him in sending telegrams protesting the change to Menefee.

Approval of the Texaco application, said O'Hearn, "would be a terrible blow to the oil industry in Louisiana and would take income from many thousands of farmers and other landowners receiving royalty payments, as well as small independent oil operators."

MAP STRATEGY
Three major companies, Humble, Gulf and California, are reported to have met in New Orleans last week to map strategy for opposing the move.

A delegation of Texas conservation officials was scheduled to attend the hearing as observers.

Oil Editor W. Jeff Davis of the New Orleans Times-Picayune wrote today that Texaco has pointed out that an increase would "solve a financial problem for the McKeithen administration to the tune of about $16.5 million in severance taxes and royalty payments from state-owned lands. This alone will pay the proposed teachers' salary increase."

W. F. Dalton, president of Placid Oil Co., said if the Texaco request is approved, other Gulf Coast operators would seek similar reclassifications.

Dalton said Mobil, Sun, Perry-Bass, Cities Service, Continental, Atlantic, Amerada and Murphy Corp. also were protesting the change.

All seven of the fields are on marshy coastline areas, bays or islands.

The fields are Cailou Island, Lake Pelto, Bay St. Elaine and Lake Barre in Terrebonne Parish (county) and Cote Blanche Island, West Cote Blanche Bay and Horseshoe Bayou in St. Mary Parish.

Howling North Winds, Dust, Snow Hit Plains

By The Associated Press

Winter smote the Texas Panhandle anew today with howling north winds, clouds of dust and light snow.

Blizzard warnings went up ahead of the storm's arrival and motorists were cautioned against hazardous driving. The Weather Bureau reported a complex storm was thrusting toward the east and south from the Panhandle and New Mexico.

Dalhart recorded wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour and the mercury, sinking steadily, dipped to 20 degrees before dawn. The wind hit up to 45 m.p.h. at Amarillo, where the temperature was down to 26 at the same hour.

Dust lowered visibility to a mile or less over much of the Panhandle. Light snow fell around Dalhart and Amarillo.

The Weather Bureau estimated 2 to 4 inches of snow would coat the ground over much of the Panhandle-Plains sector before the storm let up Wednesday morning.

Much colder weather was predicted throughout the state, with overnight temperatures ranging down to 15 degrees in the upper Panhandle.

Freezing rain or snow was expected by tonight in parts of North Central and Northeast Texas, while areas farther south were promised showers or occasional rain.

Kermit Paper Publisher Sells Interest To Retire

KERMIT (AP) — N. H. Williams announced his retirement Monday as publisher of the Kermit Daily Sun.

Williams said he had sold his interest in the West Texas newspaper to associates. They are the Richard E. Dwellle family of Athens, the M. M. Donosky family of Dallas and Dave Sclair of Kermit.

Dwellle and Donosky are interested in several newspaper enterprises in the state.

Williams came here April 1, 1945, as co-owner with Donosky of the weekly Kermit News. The newspaper was converted to a semi-weekly several years later. On Dec. 1, 1963, it was made a daily.

Sclair has been appointed general manager of the Sun. He has been with the newspaper the past five years.

New Loan Program Announced

A new loan program, recently announced by the Farmers Home Administration, is designed to help rural families finance enterprises that will improve their incomes, according to County Agricultural Agent, Herb Helbig.

The FHA County Supervisor, Lee Tunnell, has informed Helbig that the new loans are a part of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. They can provide up to $2,500 for up to 15 years at a 4 1/2 per cent interest rate. Rural residents can get the loans on the basis of their ability and character.

According to Tunnell, the loans are for people who know a good way to increase their income, but who cannot readily get financing through regular credit channels. The county agent said farmers can borrow for improvements, land, equipment, livestock, machinery, buildings or other items that will add to their income from farming.

Non-farm rural residents can use the same plan to finance a small business, trade or service. This includes loans to set-up such things as small repair shops. Another provision of the new FHA program provides loans to establish cooperatives for processing, marketing and other services of benefit to farmers.

Anyone interested in additional information about the new loans should contact Tunnell at 608 Johnson.

War Lurks, U.S. Advised

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, the Soviet defense minister, warned the United States today the Viet Nam crisis threatens a great war and he said it will be a war in which "imperialists and the whole system of capitalism will find their grave."

He claimed that the defense potential of the Communist nations is more than a match for the West's.

To Westerners here his speech, in connection with the 47th anniversary of the Soviet armed forces, seemed far stronger in its anti-American tone than official Soviet propaganda.

Malinovsky charged that the United States had committed "unprecedented aggression" against North Viet Nam on the orders of President Johnson.

His master's '65 Ford.....rides quieter than his master's Rolls-Royce

If you want one of the world's finest handcrafted luxury cars, look to Rolls-Royce. But if you want a popular-priced car, consider this: By test,* Fords rode even quieter than a Rolls-Royce. And quiet means quality—the '65 Ford is exceptionally strong, well designed, solidly built. Prove it, firsthand, with a test drive . . .

Feel Ford's Solid Quality

- 100% new body—strongest ever on a Ford
- Frame "tunes out" vibration
- New suspension puts a big ultrasoft coil spring at each wheel

Inspect Ford's Luxurious New LTD's

- Decorator interiors, thick nylon carpeting
- Walnutlike vinyl inserts on doors and instrument panel
- Rear-seat center arm rests, five ash trays (4-door hardtops), padded instrument panel, and more

*Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines and automatic transmissions rode quieter than a new Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U.S. Auto Club.

Test Drive Total Performance '65 Best year yet to go Ford!
