Waves Begin Visit

East German President Walter Ulbricht, left, and Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser wave to crowds after Ulbricht arrived in Cairo today for the beginning of a one-week visit to the United Arab Republic. The visit of the East German Communist boss could lead to a diplomatic breach between West Germans and much of the Arab world. (AP WIREPHOTO)

City To Purchase Downtown Lots

The city commission Tuesday authorized the purchase of three lots, 50 by 140 feet each and west of the city hall property, at a cost of $32,500.

In addition, commissioners authorized City Attorney John Burgess to negotiate with the owner of property east of the city's public works field office and warehouse, 911 E. 2nd, for purchase of property for expansion of the city yard.

The three lots west of the city hall, between Third and Fourth streets, are presently owned by Horace Garrett. Commissioners pointed out in voting to purchase the land, it will be used for additional parking space around the city hall-auditorium property.

requested by the Texas Highway Department for about 1,000 feet over the bridge of US 87, intersecting IS 20, from 45 to 40 miles-per-hour.

CARS BOUGHT Bids on two police cars, previously submitted by Shasta Ford Sales, were accepted by the commission following a withdrawal of bids submitted and accepted at the last meeting from Big Spring Chrysler-Plymouth. The Chrysler-Plymouth dealership had requested its bids be withdrawn due to an error in the statement of bids which it submitted.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States has unleashed jet planes for the first time against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, a U.S. Embassy spokesman announced today. They have made several strikes. Battles between powerful Viet Cong units and government outposts continued sweeping across mountainous Binh Dinh Province today, with a rapidly rising casualty toll.

In the past three days of fighting in that northern province, the Americans alone have lost two killed and nine wounded. Vietnamese casualties on both sides are estimated in the hundreds.

Most of the fighting is in steep valleys where roads furnish the main communications routes for government forces. Many U.S. officials feel the action in Binh Dinh and the neighboring provinces of Phu Yen and Quang Ngai has entered a phase the Communists describe as "mobile warfare" — the use of large Communist units in patterns somewhere between guerrilla and conventional warfare.

A report from Da Nang, 388 miles northeast of Saigon, said a Vietnamese government force routed a Viet Cong unit five miles south of the Da Nang base runway. The report said five Viet Cong were killed and 11 captured.

SEVERE ICING An exception was Austin, where severe icing forced closing of the University of Texas with its approximately 24,000 students. Austin city schools also shut their doors.

The town of Sunset, about 8 miles southeast of Bowie in North Central Texas, was without gas for heating during the morning with the temperature down to 14 degrees. A main gas line broke, and repairs were rushed.

Slick paving was blamed for the death of Mrs. Pearl Martin Rankin, 33, of Mesquite when her husband's skidding car hit a concrete culvert abutment at Greenville.

TWO ABOVE Temperatures plunged to 2 degrees above zero at Dalhart and then climbed again as a southwest wind arose.

Lubbock reported 9 degrees. Amarillo 5, San Angelo 20, Dallas 18, Abilene 20, El Paso 24, Houston 32 and Texarkana 30.

An unofficial measurement of 5 inches of snow was reported at Hereford near the New Mexico line. Amarillo had 2 inches and Dalhart only a trace.

Waco snow measured 2 inches, Maypearl 2 to 3 inches. Ennis 2, Frost 1, Terrell .75 inch, West 1.5 and Rossler 2.

Fort Worth and Dallas public schools remained open, but in the vicinity schools closed at Mesquite, Cedar Hill, Carrollton, Azle, Springtown, Eagle Mountain-Saginaw.

Private or parochial schools in Fort Worth and Dallas which closed were Jesuit, Ursuline, Hockaday and St. Marks in Dallas and Christian College and Academy in Fort Worth.

Schools also closed in Brown County, Marshall, Gainesville, Forestburg, Longview, Kilgore, Gladewater, Nacogdoches, Johnson City, Burnet, Smithville and San Marcos.

After dawn, moderate to heavy snow and sleet fell in a band about 50 miles wide from Neches to Sulphur Springs and moved eastward. At that time, light freezing rain and sleet or snow fell from Austin, College Station and Lufkin southward to the upper coast.

Heavy snow occurred in the Longview area. Traffic pileups were numerous. About 30 cars were stalled at one time between Sunset and Saginaw.

STREETS IN AUSTIN were clogged with cars and trucks which had skidded, particularly on the capital's numerous inclines.

A flurry of snow and sleet hit Houston so quickly that there was no opportunity to sand the streets.

Texas Area Mercury At Two Above

By The Associated Press Severe cold, made more bitter by vicious winds, plunged through Texas today, closing schools in many places and causing a few major traffic jams.

Freezing rain, sleet and snow accompanied the bad weather but in only moderate amounts in most places.

FLU BUG SHUTS DOORS

The flu bug, not the weatherman, dealt the For-san schools a closing blow today. The schools at Elbow and Forsan will be closed both Thursday and Friday, Supt. Roy Stockstill said. Absentees from the flu or respiratory illness has taken well over 25 per cent of the average attendance. Schools will reopen Monday, said Stockstill.

City Has Coldest Day

Last night's thermometer reading showed the coldest of the winter for Big Spring, going down to 15 degrees. The Experiment Station needle showed the low was between 6 and 6:30 a.m. and it had climbed all the way to 18 degrees by 8 a.m. today.

The former low reading this winter of 16 degrees was in December. A trace of moisture was recorded in snow which fell after midnight.

The temperature rose to 50 degrees Tuesday morning before tumbling 35 degrees to 15 last night.

The high winds Tuesday diminished last night and will have a predicted velocity of 10 to 20 miles per hour today, and will turn westerly Thursday.

High temperature today was expected to be between 40 and 45 degrees and the low tonight is forecast at from 15 to 20 degrees, but no moisture is predicted.

Colorado City reported a low of 13 degrees, and .83 inch of moisture from the snow. The skies were sunny, but a cold wind was blowing there at 10 a.m.

U.S. Secrecy On Laos Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department seems to be trying to tighten secrecy around U.S. air operations against the Communists in Laos.

It took four days, with considerable prodding from newsmen, for the Pentagon to acknowledge Tuesday that Air Force Maj. Robert F. Ronca, 41, of Norristown, Pa., had been lost over Laos "on a routine mission."

This was in marked contrast to the handling of past incidents in Laos since this country's Navy and Air Force jets started last May to conduct reconnaissance and strike operations against requisitions and supply-reinforcement routes in Laos.

Jan. 13, Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester volunteered the information that an F100 and an F105, both Air Force fighter bombers, had been shot down in central Laos by ground fire.

Union officials predicted that an agreement here could set a pattern for settlement in the South Atlantic area. Reynolds met with the full maritime bargaining committee and a 22-man subcommittee of the major union negotiating body until nearly midnight.

Trustees Must Revise Plans For High School

The Big Spring school board of trustees learned, at its Tuesday night meeting, that between $400,000 and $500,000 must be cut from the estimated cost of high school expansion work. The board will meet with the architect again next Monday night to hear what he and the administration propose to keep the cost of the Master Plan program for the high school within the $3.5 million originally scheduled.

Architect Atmar Atkinson presented plans for additions, remodeling, and site work to the board last night. These included enlarged cafeteria facilities to feed up to 900 students; enlarged vocational-technical school areas; moving the old football stadium to the east side of the present high school campus and building a track; building practice fields, tennis courts, a physical education gymnasium, plus equipment and furniture for additions, and grading and drainage work. These features were in addition to the additions and remodeling instructional space.

REDUCE COSTS The board instructed the architect to meet with school administrative personnel and make proposals for reduction of the estimated overall cost. These would include elimination of some of the major items included in the plans presented last night.

Possible eliminations include proposed new cafeteria to handle up to 900 persons at one time to make possible a closed campus at the noon hour for students; expanded vocational facilities to provide an area vocational-technical school for Howard County; removal of the present football field and track to the east side of the high school campus, and building additional practice fields in its present site, along with several minor additions.

Atkinson said, in his Tuesday night estimate, that material cost rises reflected a difference of around $30,000; that carpenter, bricklayer and electrician labor costs had risen for a total of 15 cents per man hour, and that copper, a large item in the building, had gone up in price about 25 per cent.

Late Singer's Estate Listed LOS ANGELES (AP) — Barbara C. Cooke, 29, widow of popular singer Sam Cooke, Tuesday was appointed administratrix of her husband's estate, said to consist of $9,000 in personal property and $50,000 a year in record royalties.

Cooke, 32, was shot and killed last Dec. 4 as he tried to break into the office of a woman motel operator.

building and site work, at the beginning of the program, was $3,050,687, plus architect's fees and equipment, for a total of $3.5 million. CLOSED CAMPUS The enlarged cafeteria proposal came when the board decided to have a closed campus to control student traffic. The half-block wide addition, with necessary equipment to handle up to six serving lines plus a snack bar, is estimated at over $400,000. Some members felt that this would be a mistake and that the closed campus idea would have to be abandoned for the eventual 2,500 students.

The addition of extra vocational space to handle the expected load, would cost approximately $380,000 plus architect fees and equipment. Fifty per cent of the building, site work, and architect's fees would be returned by the state, along with 50 per cent of conventional equipment and furniture cost. This space would also enable the school to draw foundation salaries for teachers from the state, with the school district paying only the local increment.

If the old stadium remains where it is now and the track built, at least one practice field and other facilities would be eliminated. Some grading cost and removal of stands would also be eliminated.

Board president Harold Talbot, said it is up to the trustees to provide the best educational facilities possible for the money available.

"Taxpayers are expecting us to provide what is needed for the best instruction and training of their children," he said. "The final cost to provide facilities may be more than we expect, and we may have to do some cutting in several areas, but it is up to us to make the decision and get some work started."

AUSTIN (AP) — House members finally passed and sent to the governor today a mandatory oil and gas lease pooling bill. The passage came just before the House took up the $3.6 billion general appropriations bill.

Approval of the oil and gas lease pooling bill came on a 97-41 vote after the longest legislative debate so far this session. More than a dozen efforts to amend the bill were defeated which sends the measure to the governor just as it originally passed the Senate.

The bill would allow any operator in an oil or gas field to ask the Texas Railroad Commission to force any of his recalcitrant neighbors into a pool of tracts large enough to meet the commission's minimum production unit standards. Supporters of the bill said current curtailments make it impossible for very small tracts to be given profitable production allowances.

In other quick action this morning the house finally passed 124-0 and sent to the governor a bill allowing certain cities to make changes in their firemen's relief and retirement funds.

TABLED AGAIN Again tabled was a request from Attorney Wayne Basden involving re-zoning of property at FM 700 and US 87, owned by J. M. L. Brown. A request had been made previously for the property to be re-zoned from residential to commercial use, which was approved by the planning and zoning commission, but tabled by the city commission. At the last commission meeting, the request was again tabled after a request from Basden for re-consideration. The property is presently in commercial use.

Commissioners discussed the request with Burgess and commented they did not wish to re-zone the property to commercial use, since a re-zoning action would make it possible for a new commercial structure to be constructed. The property is in an area which possibly would be involved in future widening of the FM 700-US 87 intersection.

Basden had stated the re-zoning request was being made to obtain the "fair, just value" of the property as a commercial area.

Mayor George Zachariah was authorized by the commission to sign an agreement for lease of property south of the City Cemetery to the Teen-Age Baseball Association, Inc., for a new baseball park. Commissioners also okayed a speed limit change and they are "a group of businessmen who can't afford more taxation."

Mayors backing Rep. John Traeger's city sales tax bill said the property tax is about dry as a source of revenue. Sales taxation would provide a broader base that expands with the economy, they said.

Appearing for the bill were mayors Judson Williams of El Paso, Lee Byrd of Abilene, Kemper Williams Jr. of Victoria, Lester Palmer of Austin and Hark Avery of Midland, president of the Texas Municipal League.

Former State Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland said passage of the bill would open the door next session to legislation allowing city councils to impose sales taxes without voter approval.

France, Russia Ask Viet Truce

PARIS (AP) — France announced today it has agreed to work with the Soviet Union in pressing for an international conference to settle the conflict in Viet Nam. The Soviet Union took the initiative in making the proposal.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said the Soviet Union would seek neutralization of South Viet Nam at such a conference, a course France has advocated for North Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos as well.

President Johnson was said to be unconvinced that the Communists are ready for serious negotiations and he wants to retain flexibility of action, both diplomatically and militarily.

Nevertheless, U.S. Ambassador John Moors Cabot met with Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Kuo-chuan in Warsaw, Poland, for an hour and 50 minutes and it was presumed the war in Viet Nam was discussed. Neither would confirm this after the meeting broke up.

Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte announced the French decision to cooperate with the Soviet Union on an international conference.

Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov called at Elysee Palace for a 20-minute discussion Tuesday with President Charles de Gaulle and the question then was discussed at the weekly Cabinet meeting this morning, Peyrefitte said.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Stan Laurel, the little, rubber-faced partner of the late, 300-pound Oliver Hardy in the movies' most successful comedy team, is dead of a heart attack at 74.

Victim of a stroke in 1955 and of diabetes in later years, he suffered the fatal seizure Tuesday in his bluff-top apartment overlooking the ocean. His fourth wife, Ida, was at his side. Laurel and Hardy starred in 300 films, mostly two-and three-reelers, and made millions laugh.

They were the 30s' slapstick kings and their films still are shown regularly on television and in theaters around the world.

Fans remember Laurel as the crop-haired, bungling yet lovable scamp, who, wearing a blank, stupid expression, inevitably brought disaster to his fat, exasperated partner.

Babe Hardy used to say Laurel was the brains of their act. Stan wrote and directed many of their films.

ALWAYS LOST In a stock situation, the skinny Laurel and the rotund Hardy were at odds with authority — landlord, grim mother-in-law or chief of police. They always lost — except at the box office.

LEAVES DAUGHTER Besides his widow, Laurel leaves a daughter Lois, of suburban Tarzana. Her husband, A. H. Brooks, is a movie production man. Laurel was married eight times to four women. He and his Russian-born last wife, the former Ida Kitaeva Raphaela, were married May 6, 1946, in Yuma, Ariz.

Health Care Bill Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ray Roberts, D-Tex., is sponsoring a health care bill which among other things would increase federal contributions to states for health care.

His bill, introduced Feb. 17, also provides a system of private health insurance for the aged, subsidized by state and federal funds.

Each state would set income brackets for recipients. Beneficiaries, depending on their means, would have all, part or none of the premiums paid from the special funds.

States would have the right to decide whether individuals over 65 who do not qualify for assistance because of income can voluntarily participate.

The bill would allow persons with incomes above the state maximum level for participating to join the program if their net incomes, after deduction of medical expenses, came within the state limits.

Navy Announces Contract Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced the award Tuesday of a $114,000 contract to renovate 340 Wherry housing units at Laguna Shores, near Corpus Christi, Tex. It went to R. N. Wells Co. of Quannah, Tex. The work is to be completed by May 20, 1966.

Cigarette Tax Hike, City Sales Levy Bills Pondered

AUSTIN (AP) — City sales taxes and a penny increase in the state cigarette tax were urged Tuesday before the House Tax Committee.

A group of Texas mayors asked favorable consideration of a bill allowing cities, after voters approve, to impose a sales tax of one-half to one per cent on the same items covered by the state sales tax.

Tobacco industry spokesmen said Rep. W. H. Miller's bill to push the cigarette tax up to nine cents a pack discriminates against smokers and would deal a severe blow to retailers.

TO SUBCOMMITTEES Both bills were referred to subcommittees for further study.

Twenty per cent of an estimated $11 million annual revenue from the increase would go for cancer research.

Frank Hoagland, lawyer for the Texas Association of Tobacco Distributors, said 1963 cigarette tax increases reduced sales in 15 states.

Cigarette dealers are operating on an average one per cent profit margin, Hoagland said.

Dock Amity Is Tentative

GALVESTON (AP) — The costly six-week-old longshoremen's strike along the West Gulf Coast moved toward an end today with management and the union tentatively in accord on major issues.

Bargainers tackled the tedious job of putting oral agreements on paper.

JOINT MEETING James Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, planned a meeting with both sides to iron out what he called "language difficulties."

"They've reached agreement in principle on the big issues," Reynolds said, "but when it comes time to convert them into writing, problems arise that have to be resolved."

Reynolds was quick to point out that the contract dispute had not been settled completely.

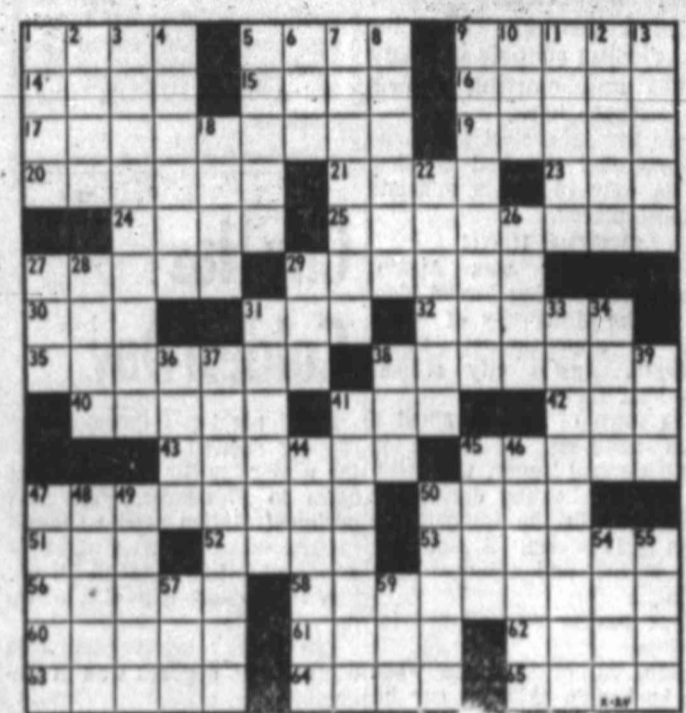

Union officials predicted that an agreement here could set a pattern for settlement in the South Atlantic area. Reynolds met with the full maritime bargaining committee and a 22-man subcommittee of the major union negotiating body until nearly midnight.

Malaysian Military Training Set In U.S.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The United States will begin a training program for Malaysian armed forces personnel in America next month, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

The announcement gave no details except to say the U.S. government has "offered a number of courses to Malaysian military officers in U.S. training facilities without cost to the government of Malaysia."

Informed sources said some 30 Malaysians would be sent to the United States.

The program is a first of its kind set up between the United States and Malaysia which is seeking to build up its small armed forces in the face of the military threat from Indonesia. Malaysia, a former British possession, is considered a Commonwealth responsibility primarily.

The training program was offered last November along with a loan for the purchase of jet aircraft. The Malaysian government heatedly rejected the loan contending that the 5 percent interest rate asked by the United States was too high.

However, Prime Minister Abdul Rahman told newsmen today that the possibility of reopening talks on the loan offer — said to involve $15 million — "is very much in the offing."

King Leaves Selma But Calls For More Marches

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leaving this racial hot spot temporarily, has called for continued street marches by Negroes in their intensive five-week drive to gain voting power here.

"We are going to have to march some more this week," said King at a church mass meeting Tuesday night shortly after an abbreviated march by more than 200 Negro students and children.

The students were summoned to another meeting today, and the Rev. James Bevel, left in charge of the drive, said there would be more demonstrations.

King, who left Tuesday night for Atlanta and a scheduled trip to California, said the campaign

Death Penalty Given Man For Robbery

HOUSTON (AP)—A district court jury has assessed Calvin Sellers, 25, the death penalty for the torture-robbery of a wealthy Houston couple.

Four women and eight men jurors deliberated less than two hours Tuesday in convicting Sellers of robbery by firearms at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mair Schepps last March 11.

Sellers, dressed in black, bowed his head when the verdict was read.

He is the second man convicted of the Schepps robbery to be sentenced to death. John Young, 25, drew the maximum penalty in December.

Former Pasadena mayor Sam Hoover, convicted last summer of masterminding the robbery, drew 60 years in prison.

Samuel Spivey, 19, was freed after testifying for the state in the Hoover trial.

Schepps, 54, a tobacco merchant, and his family were beaten and tortured for about three hours in their home by three men. Schepps said they were looking for $500,000.

Arms Control Unit Scored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Critics of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency called today for its abolition or a sharp cut in its spending.

One, Robert Morris, president of the University of Plano at Plano, Tex., said the agency's role is to implement a policy calling for "liquidation of the United States military forces except for those used for local policing."

Morris, former chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the third stage of a U. S. proposal at Geneva would accomplish this through substitution of a United Nations peace force.

The committee is considering an administration bill to authorize a four-year extension of the agency with a spending ceiling of $55 million for the four-year period. The House cut this to three years and $40 million.

West's excessive participation in the auction drew South's attention to the somewhat unusual line of play required to land his vulnerable slam contract in hearts.

South opened with a demand bid of two hearts and West overcalled with three clubs. When South rebid three diamonds, West's persistence to four clubs was an utter waste of breath. There was little prospect for buying the hand with a passing partner and, by carrying on the contest singlehanded, West might be providing his opponent with helpful information concerning the location of the outstanding high cards.

North's free bid of four hearts should not be looked on as a drastic measure, for his pass on the previous round revealed that he did not have enough to make a positive response. South's leap to six hearts was perhaps a shade aggressive; however, he felt that, at worst, the slam might depend on a finesse.

West opened the king of clubs and continued with the ace which declarer ruffed in his hand with the ten of hearts. It appears that the fate of the slam contract hinges on a successful finesse in spades. However, South was convinced from West's vulnerable activities during the auction that his values included the king of spades. The declarer, therefore, decided to embark on a different line of campaign.

The North hand was entered by leading a small heart to the eight, and a club was ruffed with the ace of hearts. Another heart to dummy's jack permitted South to trump a third club with his king of hearts. A diamond was led to North's ten and the queen of hearts drew East's last trump as declarer discarded the queen of spades. South's high diamonds took the balance of the tricks.

Despite declarer's shrewd deductions, West could have foiled his opponent's campaign by shifting to a trump at trick two. His club continuation served to provide South with an extra ruff that he could not negotiate on his own, due to a lack of sufficient entries to the North hand. There was nothing to gain by leading a second round of clubs, for South could hardly have contracted for a slam if he had two club losers. A trump shift was, therefore, indicated, since West has no other attractive lead.

Nominations For Oscars Hold Paradox

By JAMES BACON
 AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nominations for the 37th annual Academy Awards — led by "Mary Poppins" and its star Julie Andrews — present a paradox this year: An actress who didn't get named is causing more talk than those who did.

"Mary Poppins" got 13 nominations, including Julie's as best actress. "My Fair Lady" and "Becket" followed, with 12 each. But Audrey Hepburn, who rated critical raves in "My Fair Lady," was ignored entirely by academy members Tuesday.

Even though "Mary Poppins" is her first movie, Julie too knows how it feels to be shunned. She created "My Fair Lady" on Broadway, yet she wasn't in the running for the movie version.

Other nominees for best actress were Kim Stanley, "Seance on a Wet Afternoon"; Sophia Loren, "Marriage Italian Style"; Debbie Reynolds, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown"; and Anne Bancroft, "The Pumpkin Eater."

Many film folk feel Miss Hepburn's omission was an injustice, but their explanations vary.

Some say academy voting members resented the Warner Bros. decision in passing up Miss Andrews for the role of Eliza Doolittle. Some note that Miss Hepburn keeps herself aloof from the press while making a picture, whereas Julie is just the opposite. Others blame the fact that Miss Hepburn didn't do her own singing in what many consider the greatest of musical films.

BEST ACTOR
 At Warner's the word for Miss Hepburn's omission is: "Outrageous."

The nominees for best actor, decidedly British in accent, were Peter Sellers, "Dr. Strangelove"; Peter O'Toole, "Becket"; Richard Burton, "Becket"; Rex Harrison, "My Fair Lady"; and the only non-Britisher, Anthony Quinn, "Zorba the Greek."

Best supporting actress nominees were: Gladys Cooper, "My Fair Lady"; Edith Evans, "The Chalk Garden"; Grayson Hall, "The Night of the Iguana"; Lila Kedrova, "Zorba the Greek"; and Agnes Moorehead, "Hush... Hush, Sweet Charlotte."

Best picture nomination were: "Becket," "Dr. Strangelove," "Mary Poppins," "My Fair Lady," and "Zorba the Greek."

The Oscars will be handed out on April 5 in Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

Glamorous Names Lacking In Film

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Howard Hawks is an old-style movie-maker, a director who hand-fashions his product with precision and care.

In today's quick-buck movie world, that makes him old-style, but he is anything but old-fashioned. You have only to visit the set of his latest film, "Red Line 7000," to recognize that. When I dropped by, it was alive with young people reacting to the raucous music of a discotheque.

None of the principal performers in "Red Line 7000" was recognizable, and that is how Hawks has planned it.

WORKS UP ZEAL
 At 68 he remains an earnest man, a tall, spare figure who roams the set infecting his workers with enthusiasm. He seemed to explain why he is making the auto-racing film with newcomers.

"Once I asked a studio boss why he was hiring me," he remarked. "I was told: 'Well, we made a picture with John Wayne that didn't get back the cost of the negative and advertising. You made one with Wayne and I understand you cleared $2 million yourself."

"That proved to me that names don't insure success. They help — if you have a good picture. But if you don't have a good picture, all the names in Hollywood won't help you."

WITHOUT NAMES
 So Hawks decided to return to a stunt he has used in the past: making a film without names. He did it before with "Scarface," which made stars of Paul Muni and George Raft; with "Air Force" — "John Garfield wanted to be in it, and I made him play a featured role"; and "The Thing" (unknown James Arness played the title role).

"Red Line 7000" concerns an old passion of Hawks'; he raced a Mercer from 1912 to 1916, once owned a car that won the Indianapolis race, and has two sons who drive in competition.

VFW Presents Check

Vardy Fund Has Grown To $7,310

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Barbie Vardy fund at Colorado City totaled $7,310.37, Tuesday afternoon following the presentation of a $384 check by the Colorado City VFW to George Womack, vice president of the City National Bank, who is handling the Vardy account.

The fund was started by Mrs. Bill Coffey, of the Colorado City Record, in an attempt to aid an eight-month-old child, in need of expensive surgery to repair birth defects.

The child and Mrs. Bobby J. Vardy, reached Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17, and Barbie has been accepted as a patient and a candidate for a liver transplant, at the University of Minnesota Hospital.

Fund backers have set a goal of $10,000 for the fund.

A Gallup, N.M. ham radio group has raised $2,342 for the fund. This includes contributions and March of Dimes funds and is part of the $7,000 plus total. Gallup is the birthplace of the child.

Presidential Safety Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cabinet committee on presidential safety is expected to recommend shortly that more money, manpower and investigative authority be devoted to the protection of presidents.

The commission, it is understood, will reject proposals that the responsibility for guarding the life of the president be shifted from the Secret Service to the FBI or some other agency.

Informed official sources said the four-man group headed by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon also has reached substantial agreement on other problems of presidential security and will deliver its report to the White House shortly.

The Cabinet committee was named by President Johnson last Sept. 28. The Warren Commission, in its report that day on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, urged that such a body be established to review and oversee presidential protective activities.

In addition to Dillon, whose department embraces the Secret Service, the members are Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency and McGeorge Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

The White House is expected to make the report public, since the findings will have a significant bearing on the action to be taken by Congress on pending and proposed protective measures.

Angelo Lands Levi Plant

SAN ANGELO—Levi Strauss, manufacturer of jeans and casual clothes, announced Tuesday that it will locate a factory here. The plant, which will employ 300 at the outset, will produce trousers under the name of Sta. Prest. After the first shift of workers, who will be mostly women, is trained, a second shift approximating 200 will be added. Annual payroll will be about $1,000,000.

Strauss operates plants in Denison, El Paso, Wichita Falls and Amarillo, and recently established a distribution center at Amarillo. Location will be in a vacant building on West 29th and formerly occupied by H&I Industries. The structure contains 20,000 square feet.

Cynthia Vaughn In Miss Diamondback Contest

The first entrant in the "Miss Diamondback" Pageant to be presented as part of this year's Rattlesnake Roundup, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been announced as Cynthia Carol Vaughn, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Vaughn.

CYNTHIA CAROL VAUGHN

Miss Vaughn is a 1963 graduate of Big Spring High School and a former student of Howard County Junior College. She was a sophomore favorite at HCJC and won honors medals in twirling.

The Lass-O Club of HCJC is sponsoring Miss Vaughn in the contest.

The "Miss Diamondback" Pageant is planned for the night of March 6, at a dinner and dance at the Big Spring Country Club. The top three contestants will compete in judging at the dance, with the winner to receive a $100 scholarship to the college of her choice.

The Rattlesnake Roundup this year is planned for March 5, 6 and 7 at the Big Spring fairgrounds. Last year more than 1,700 rattlesnakes were collected during the event.

Included in the plans for this year's roundup are a snake handling and wildlife exhibit, a special show for students and awarding of prizes and trophies on the roundup's final day.

Again deep-fat fried snake meat will be offered to the public at a nominal price. Tickets for the dinner and dance are on sale by members of the Jaycees, at $3.50 per person. The dinner buffet will be

Cemetery Improvements Get Commission Approval

Approval was given by the city commission Tuesday night for a plan of improvements under way at the City Cemetery.

A street plan, water sprinkler system and relocation of entrances are included. A single major entrance is planned, with an 18-foot street through the center of the cemetery. Other roads in the cemetery will be 12-foot wide streets, with grass shoulders. Paving will be a caliche-asphalt type.

Some of the current side streets will be graded, but left open as access areas into the cemetery lot areas, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard told the commissioners.

Submitted with the improvement plan was a plat of the undeveloped portion of the cemetery, with future grave sites marked.

Lillard told the commissioners the plan included a watering system with two-inch steel pipe, with the cemetery to be provided with grass and trees. The tentative development plans include designation of various areas in the undeveloped portion of the cemetery as Oak Garden, Mulberry Garden, Ash Garden, and Mimosa Garden, with the landscaping to consist of the various trees.

Cost of the development in the cemetery will be about $22,000 for materials, not including landscaping cost, according to Lillard.

In other action, commissioners approved an amendment on the city code making it possible for the commission to allow dispensing of liquefied petroleum gas within the city limits, on major highways, but with commission approval on each request. The action followed a request at the last session of the commission from Zack Gray, representing the truck terminal being constructed at the intersection of IS 20 and US 87, north of the city, by Keaton and McGibbon.

Commissioners tabled an off-premise consumption request for Nick's Liquor, 404 NW 3rd, from Walter Nichols, pending completion of the application on the requested permit. The public hearing was held as scheduled, but commissioners instructed City Attorney Burgess to prepare an amendment to the city code to change the procedure of the consideration for such requests. Commissioners had requested Burgess at the last meeting to make a recommendation to change the code to prevent public hearings being held for on or off-premise consumption permits until applications had been completed.

The commission approved two on-premise consumption permits, for the Flame Lounge, 403 W. 3rd, requested by J. C. Woods, and for the Night Life Club, 1603 E. 3rd, from Jim King. The public hearing for the two permits was held at the last commission session, with opposition expressed by two residents to the first request.

Civil Defense Meeting Held

COAHOMA (SC)—A meeting of Civil Defense emergency radio communications personnel was held last week with Director Frank Smith, and assistant director J. B. Hall, presiding.

The Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department and Civil Defense installed two mobile two-way Citizen's Band radios in two units and now have a base station located in the Fire Department. They have a police two-way radio that enables the department to contact Big Spring Police Department and Howard County Sheriff's office, as well as contact Colorado City. The fire department also has a police two-way radio in its truck.

There were 20 present for the meeting. Nine persons with mobile Citizen's Band radios registered with the department to assist in Civil Defense. This gives the department 15 mobile radios, plus nine base stations.

There will be one meeting a month for training.

Luci Admires Visitor's Art

WASHINGTON (AP)—Luci Johnson, the President's 17-year-old daughter, was impressed Tuesday by the painting ability of Senake Senanayake, 13, a visiting artist from Ceylon.

Senake, whose paintings are being exhibited in this country, gave Luci a large oil painting entitled "Outer Harbor" and had his picture taken in a White House ceremony.

"My gosh," exclaimed the President's daughter. "Imagine someone as young as he being able to contribute something like that."

A Devotional For The Day

May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope. (Romans 15:13, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, life is often too much for us. Forgive us that we so often plead with Thee to make it easy and are resentful when this is not done. Grant that what formerly mastered us may now be mastered by us through power promised by Thy Son, in whose name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Encouraging Educational Exchange

Texas has gained a measure of good will in Latin America, and contributed beneficially to inter-American relations, by exempting a limited number of foreign students from the Western Hemisphere from state college and university tuition.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo has just gained Senate approval to double the number of such free admissions to 200 a year. The bill has gone to the House, where it should be passed unchallenged.

That program definitely should be extended and expanded, and the proposed increase, it is hoped, will at least temporarily cover all Latin American applicants otherwise able to take advantage of the opportunity. Further increases should be made later if the response of foreign students justifies that.

In time we would like to see unlimited reciprocity between Texas and Latin American higher educational institutions. That is, Texas should exempt from state college tuition the students from any Latin American country granting a similar exemption to Texas students.

The Hazlewood bill was amended on the Senate floor to exclude members of the Communist party from its benefits. That is an acceptable precaution, provided its administration avoids any insulting inquisition into the political views of non-Communist student applicants. Should that happen, what is meant to be promotion of the cause of democracy in Latin America could boomerang embarrassingly.

Not So Far Out

Certain spots on the globe, for one reason or another, suggest remoteness. People used to speak of Outer Mongolia as if it were half way to the moon. Another example used often as a comparative point to express remoteness is Patagonia.

Patagonia is remote from common experience, though, if not geographically. It has a lot of sheep, but only half a million people—and wind so strong, as a sheep rancher said, "that we put our windmills in the cellar."

Now a big iron ore deposit has been found, and the region may become relatively populous and well known. But for the time being Patagonia still seems way, way out there somewhere north of nowhere.

David Lawrence Changes Must Be Made In U.N.

WASHINGTON — The failure of the General Assembly of the United States to reach a vote on how to handle assessments for peace-keeping costs is not an unmixed blessing. For between now and next September, when the U. N. meets again, there will be an opportunity for a thorough exploration of the whole subject.

peace-keeping assessments, and no part of the charter says specifically that these are on the same footing as each member's share of the regular budget.

INDEED, THERE'S more than meets the eye in the Soviet Union's refusal to pay certain assessments and France's support of the Moscow view. The more the question is examined objectively on its merits, the more apparent it is that, far from opposing the Soviet and French views, the United States might well consider supporting the main points they have made.

EVEN THOUGH the General Assembly may vote, as it did, to accept the advisory opinion of the World Court, this does not necessarily make the opinion binding, because only the words of the charter itself can perform that function. There is no legal stipulation in the charter that nations which are not participants in U. N. peace-keeping operations can be obligated to pay for these expenses.

The real issue is whether the U. N. is a super-government and super-state, or whether, as originally intended, it is to remain as an organization of sovereign states each of which may or may not consent to joint action in specific areas of the world where disorders occur.

It seems certain that a further clarification of the whole question of peace-keeping costs will someday have to be made. That's why postponement of the debate until next September affords an excellent opportunity for thorough deliberation and a whole-hearted attempt to arrive at a constructive solution.

THE PUBLIC impression that the U. N. is an all-powerful body which can tell individual nations what to do is not borne out by the words of the charter itself. The odd part of the controversy is that many people have not understood the basic points which both the Soviet Union and France have made concerning the attempt to impose assessments on them for peace-keeping operations in which they did not participate.

Another lesson we can learn is to make the most of life while it lasts. The Bible indicates that we are to be up and doing. The night may shut down in the twinkling of an eye. The Bible admonishes that we are to redeem the time. However, concerning eternal life, the Bible says in I John 5:13: "These things are written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God that ye may know that ye have eternal life." All the way through, the Bible indicates that you can be absolutely certain of your everlasting home.

THE CHARTER says specifically that "the expenses of the organization" shall be borne by the members. But the question is whether an action taken by a numerical majority of the members automatically becomes binding on all the members of the General Assembly even though it does not have the sanction of a Security Council. It is true that a member of the United Nations in arrears for two years or its regular dues can be deprived of its vote in the General Assembly, but the Soviets and the French have made the necessary payments on their dues. The controversy has arisen only once.

While it waits, the United States can't duck the basic question: How can it get on with the war if the Vietnamese leaders are more taken with shoving one another around than shoving the guerrillas around?

THE FIRST step in the message operation was to pour a marinade over the victim, now supine on a piece of furniture that resembled an autopsy table. The message itself was only intermittently painful, and it was not until the scrubbing brush phase that I wished for my handbook of useful Swedish sentences. I believe it might have helped to scream, "Nej, tack." (No, thank you) at the top of my voice. The only other phrase that suggested itself was: "Vi ska sakert beklaga oss hos brittiska konsulin," which means, "We shall certainly complain to the British Consul." (The phrase book has not yet recognized the United States.)

Half the patients in hospitals would recuperate just as fast—and at less expense—if they were put into a good hotel with first-class room service.

THE SCRUBBING brush was described later by my companion. "It is what we used to call a G.I. brush," he said in a low voice, "the thing you would use to scrub the back porch steps."

One of the surest ways to please a wife is to tell her that the expensive new hat her best friend bought looks too silly for words.

THE BADSTU, or sauna, is often confused with a Turkish bath, but there is a great difference in the two. In a Turkish bath the victim is steamed; in a sauna he is baked—baked in a fast oven—after which he is plunged into an ice-cold pool, kneaded by a muscular masseur, and, if he is still alive, then permitted to take a nap.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you know of any way to get rid of fat ankles? I have been exercising but it doesn't seem to help much.—A.R.

THE EFFECT of the heat (dry heat, remember) is not felt all at once. In five minutes the victim may begin to sweat copiously, but it can take a slow sweater twice that long. In any case the body's cooling machinery does not seem equal to meet the challenge; the sensation of heat becomes cumulative, and if you stayed in the pressure cooker long enough you would turn out medium well-done.

There is no way to prevent cataracts. There are no exercises, vitamins or anything else which will stop them or slow them down.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

THE BOMBS SHE NEED FEAR

James Marlow Who's Fighting Whom In Viet?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new element, despair, may become the deciding factor for the United States in Viet Nam, a country beginning to look like a comic opera.

despair that the Vietnamese can be helped or are worth helping. In getting into this fight the United States has given a couple of reasons, one idealistic — to help the Vietnamese preserve their independence, and the other realistic — to prevent communism from taking over all Southeast Asia.

It has cost the United States hundreds of lives and billions of dollars to back South Viet Nam in the war against the Communist guerrillas ever since 1955 when the government there asked for help.

But the idealistic reason will be rendered ridiculous if the Vietnamese show themselves incapable of orderly government and more concerned with factional disputes than saving themselves from communism.

But that government, headed by President Ngo Dinh Diem, is gone and in the 16 months since he was assassinated there have been at least eight new governments.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower once explained that the

THEY ACTUALLY change hands over night, as they did in the past few days. Old leaders get bounced, new leaders take over. The new leaders become the old leaders, and they get bounced.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: Many people today complain funerals are barbaric relics of the past, but most of them want just such a funeral for themselves. After all, it is the final sure way to catch the attention of others—and be the center of interest.

The changes haven't come from the people but from the ambitions generals whom Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate's Democratic leader, calls the "jealous generals."

Left-handed women are usually more vain than right-handed women—but the most vain of all is a red-haired, left-handed woman with one blue eye and one hazel eye. Her vanity doesn't make much sense, but then vanity rarely does.

Meanwhile, there's supposed to be a war going on against the guerrillas and the United States is standing by with men, guns and planes, waiting to get on with it.

A man can become reconciled to a wife who constantly changes her opinions, but he can never be quite happy with one who is always changing the color of her hair.

UNLESS THE Vietnamese begin showing an earnest interest in preventing a Communist takeover, the reaction in this country almost inevitably will be

Hal Boyle Jumping To Conclusions

WASHINGTON — You go news-hunting at Number 1200 on 19th Street, N.W., and you are handed a stout brochure with the bold-faced label: "PRESIDENT'S WAR ON POVERTY."

If you're suspicious, as all news-men should be, you wonder where Mr. President got personal title to this anti-poverty campaign. Congress simply called it Public Law 88-452, alias the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. You've been to the Pentagon many times without being handed a propaganda package labeled "LBJ's War in Viet Nam."

YOU NOTICE that Poverty or Opportunity is housed in a fine new office building, and although occupying only the 8th floor it is the sole tenant on the premises except for a first-story snack shop and a drug store. These empty spaces have the air of an invitation to "empire-building."

You have seen new agencies like the Atomic Energy Commission, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Health, Education and Welfare Department expand from cottage-size beginnings to vast marble complexes.

THE OFFICE of Opportunity, in a few short months, is now in its fourth General Headquarters, each one grander than the one before. You can't help thinking that an administration shooting for "frugality," as well as for the moon, ought to start a War on Parkinson's Law of Bureaucratic Proliferation.

But you poke around, meeting some of the warriors at this GHQ, and scanning some of the battle plans. Pretty soon your skepticism isn't quite so robust. The warriors are real nice people, some of them old pros in the writing and social service professions, some of them eager recruits for this truly idealistic effort. They aim to bring fellow Americans, especially boys and girls, up from the muck and slime of ungracious living where it takes more character than most persons have to become an upright citizen.

THE OPPORTUNITY ACT undertakes to remove down-and-out youngsters in the 16-21 age bracket from rotten environments and to put them into centers where they will work outdoors. They also will take refresher and pick-up courses in the three R's to overcome what's called "functional illiteracy." Maybe if lots of them learn to read, write and do simple arithmetic, a few of them will get jobs or go back to school. These centers are now opening all around the country. As many as 25,000 boys and girls will be in training by July, with 40,000 as the target by the end of 1965.

ANY CITY OR county with a plan to offer courses in the three R's, and to set up job-training, can get 90 percent of the cost paid for the first year. It's true that the shimmer of Federal cash is there, but hundreds of charitable organizations like church groups, which can't be accused of boondoggling, and scores of "heartless" corporations, like General Electric, Philco, International Telegraph and Telephone, Kaiser Industries and Litton Industries, are giving time and equipment.

DO-GOODERISM has a bad name in this column. Too often the publicized, tax-supported pseudo-philanthropy is more an attention-getter for the doer than a good deed to the receiver. As often as not the performance doesn't live up to the promise. But Sergeant Shriver pulled the Peace Corps off the laughable list, and maybe we should suspend the guffaws until we see what he can do about Poverty.

What Makes A Despoiler Tick?

I have mixed feelings about vandals who seem to delight in destroying public property, or private property used for public purposes. My first inclination is to see them horse-whipped; my second is to feel pity, for they must be sick in the head or in the soul.

WHAT IMPELS a person—whether he be a child, a teenager or an adult—to wantonly destroy property which does not belong to him? Maybe idleness, maybe frustration, maybe resentment, maybe drunkenness, maybe a warped exhilaration. Whatever it is, it makes my blood boil.

The development of the scenic Mountain State Park by the CCC lads some three decades ago included the construction of a number of picnic units at a number of different spots on top of the mountain. For a time these were popular spots, but then the vandals sensed that these were giving public pleasure.

FIRST THEY tied open the hydrants, and then they twisted heads off the pipe. Not content with this, they began tearing up the stone benches and tables. This wasn't easy, but they managed. Park officials said they must have accomplished it by battering the rock structures with a truck or a pickup with heavy grill. Bit by bit, they tore out the lights and the fixtures, the electric plugs, and just about everything else that was loose on the pavilion which overlooks the northeast point.

IT MAY BE assumed that the heavy cable fence, and perhaps a more frequent patrol, has prevented this same type of destruction in the City Park. But the vandals have done their bit there, too. They stole all the fish and otherwise destroyed a beautiful fish pond. They slipped in years ago and battered filtering equipment of the pool. They practically dismantled the rock hut built for Boy Scouts, repeatedly shattering windows, smashing benches, tearing out bookcases, wooden mantel and even the inside rafters to burn in the fireplace. They ripped out lighting and plumbing fixtures in restrooms and scratched ob-scurities on the wall.

THE MUSEUM was broken into and valuable paintings and other things damaged and destroyed. Once, with a stroke of diabolical ingenuity, some vandal wheeled his car around a fresh golf green.

Theatre owners have complained that vandals sometimes slash expensive opera seats for no imaginable reason. Drive-in owners repeatedly complain of damage. The city intermittently experiences rushes of smashed street lights. Vacant houses become targets for rockthrowers and despoilers.

I just wish we could really know what goes on in the brain of those who delight in this sort of thing.

Surviving A Badstu

STOCKHOLM—In Scandinavia, the traditional cure for anything from a bad hangover to the Ryska snuva is a visit to the sauna, or badstu, depending on whether you are in Finland or Sweden.

In point of fact neither ailment had fetched me (Ryska snuva is what the Swedes call Asian flu, and they are momentarily expecting Ryska's epidemic of it to reach here from Leningrad), but I accepted a friend's invitation to join him for a visit to the badstu anyway.

THE BADSTU, or sauna, is often confused with a Turkish bath, but there is a great difference in the two. In a Turkish bath the victim is steamed; in a sauna he is baked—baked in a fast oven—after which he is plunged into an ice-cold pool, kneaded by a muscular masseur, and, if he is still alive, then permitted to take a nap.

We selected a sauna of immense respectability (not all are) in downtown Stockholm, and soon found ourselves sharing a large tiled chamber with six or eight Swedish gentlemen, all of whom were clad only in their pelts, and all of whom looked faintly parboiled. The badstu was quite hot, but not until I got home and translated 84 degrees Centigrade to 183 degrees Fahrenheit did it dawn on me just how hot it had been. (Alcohol boils at 177 degrees F., and tallows melts at 127 degrees F., which is what the sauna is all about.)

THE EFFECT of the heat (dry heat, remember) is not felt all at once. In five minutes the victim may begin to sweat copiously, but it can take a slow sweater twice that long. In any case the body's cooling machinery does not seem equal to meet the challenge; the sensation of heat becomes cumulative, and if you stayed in the pressure cooker long enough you would turn out medium well-done.

A handsome way to handle a pass-through between kitchen and dining room is to panel the wall in a finely grained western softwood, then make a matching pull-down door to close off the opening when not in use.

Bob Bradbury, of radio station, KFNE-FM, presented the program at the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting held in the Settles Hotel Tuesday evening.

In his discussion of the dynamics of selling, he defined the three types of personalities to be dealt with as, indomorph or outgoing type, mesomorph or responsive type, or ectomorph or the studious type.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Cass Hill. Hostesses for the dinner meeting were Mrs. Joe Roberts, Mrs. Willard Sullivan and Miss Oma Buchanan. Mrs. Bob Bradbury was a guest.

Simple Solution
Clean aluminum pans with water and cream of tartar, suggest A&M Extension home economists. Use 1 teaspoon to 2 tablespoons of cream of tartar per quart of water in the discolored pan. The more discoloration in the pan, the more cream of tartar will be needed.

Club Speaker Traces Little Theater Growth

The Little Theater movement and its complex development in the United States was the subject discussed by Mrs. Norman Spencer, guest speaker, at the Tuesday meeting of Spoudazio For a Study Club. Mrs. Robert Clark, 2103 Morrison, was hostess, and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Jo Bright.

Mrs. Spencer said that the movement has created widespread interest and been a powerful influence in our theater today. She outlined its history, saying that the first such group was organized in the United States in 1912. At this time, ladies clubs produced "little" plays which explains the title of so many groups in existence now.

GOLDEN YEAR
In 1920 the theater began to grow and unknown playwrights such as Eugene O'Neill came to the forefront. "The Golden Year" of the theater was 1929 immediately before the depression years.

Mrs. Spencer detailed the development of the Big Spring Little Theatre, one of 150,000 in the United States. She observed that living theater should be a reflection of life and is a creative group action.

Mrs. W. W. Lansing presided as a nominating committee was elected and asked to report at the next meeting. Serving are Mrs. James C. Jones, Mrs. E. L. Cochran and Mrs. H. O. Hudgins.

Mrs. Jones, project chairman, said that a valentine party had been held for the special education group at Lakeview Elementary School. The special event parties are sponsored by the club as part of the chosen project for the year. Also, Mrs. Jones reported that milk money had been furnished for the group and a similar group at

Within Feet Of Treasure?

SALADO, Tex. (AP)— Storm clouds gathered outside and a shrill wind signalled the arrival of lousy weather.

The little band of treasure hunters gathered in a roadside cafe smoked, drank coffee and cursed. It was going to rain. Rain meant delay, and delay costs money.

Newsman clustered around a stocky, black-haired man who closely resembles actor Anthony Quinn.

"I was exhausted, panicky, frightened," said Les Guerra, a crumpled brown felt hat pushed high atop his head.

"My first thought? Would I ever get out alive?"

MAZE OF TUNNELS

Guerra, 48, was recounting once again his story of stumbling across Spanish treasure buried for 300 years amid a maze of tunnels in the limestone cliffs along Salado Creek.

He told of befriending an aged Indian named Pablo Juarez, who before dying in 1957 revealed a vast fortune was hidden in this Central Texas plateau region.

Guerra found the entrance one day, he said, and with flashlight in hand stumbled into a room containing what he estimated to be $36 million in gold and silver bars, stacked in neat piles to his waist.

There were coins and a golden bull's head with rubies in its eye sockets, he said.

And he told of fear and panic in a 48-hour search through the miles of twisting tunnels to the outside world, and then eight months in a hospital to recover from exhaustion and lung trouble.

CAVED IN

He revealed nothing of his discovery while in the hospital.

"Shortly afterward I tried to go back," he said. "I found somebody had done some blasting and had caved in my entrance."

Fortune hunters dynamiting for the legendary gold had inadvertently blocked the passageways with rocks and dirt.

"Since that time I worked with several groups," he said. "They have all quit because of lack of funds."

"There has been heavy equipment here before. Really, though, nobody has ever come prepared to complete this job."

"I'm satisfied now. To my satisfaction, they are going in."

Guerra is president now of a corporation called Guerra Enterprises, which for six months has painstakingly cut into the Salado Cliffs.

He and his associates say they're within feet of a room in a strange subterranean complex which will lead to hundreds of millions in treasure.

But it rained Tuesday and cold gripped the area, delaying what the treasure hunters hope will be a happy ending to their quest.

Black Extremists Strong And Weak

NEW YORK (AP)— The violence that flared in rival Negro Muslim groups in the past three days involved just two of more than a dozen organizations active in the secretive world of Negro extremism.

With the exception of Elijah Muhammad's Chicago-based Black Muslims, whose New York mosque was destroyed by an explosion and fire Tuesday, most groups of any strength have headquarters in New York.

Police in a number of major American cities indicate that extremist groups command allegiance from only a comparative handful of Negroes.

Because the groups often refuse to say much about themselves, it is almost impossible to get accurate membership figures. Four years ago the New York Times estimated that perhaps only 2,000 of this city's one million Negroes were members of extremist groups, compared with 25,000 dues-paying members of the NAACP. The proportion is believed to be considerably less in all other cities.

Yet officials agree that the influence of extremists can, in times of crisis like last summer's riots, be out of proportion to the number of persons involved.

IN NEW YORK

In New York City last summer, at least 17 black nationalist groups were members of a coordinating body called the African Nationalist Federated Council.

Most of these organizations were anti-white, and believed the American Negro could gain freedom only by linking his fate with that of rising African and Asian nations.

"The white man has never given us anything without outside pressure," said a nationalist speaker at a summer rally. "We can never get anywhere in this country by ourselves, because we are a minority. But what the white man doesn't understand is that black people are a majority in the world. We must look to people who are our color."

VARYING LINES

The groups are organized along varying lines. Some, like the various Muslim groups are oriented toward religion. Others are primarily political. An example is Harlem's Progressive Labor Movement, headed by self-proclaimed Communist William Epton.

About half of the Negro extremists are believed to belong to the Black Muslims, properly known as the Lost-Found Nation of Islam. Formed in 1930, it preaches complete separation of blacks and whites.

Cafe Now Integrated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)— A cafeteria formerly operated by segregationist Lester G. Maddox opened under a new name here. Its operators—who once worked for Maddox—promise to serve anyone who shows up, regardless of his color.

"Inflammatory stuff is a thing of the past as far as I am concerned," said Roy G. Duncan, one of the new operators.

The other operator, Edward Piper, said, "We just want to operate a good business."

Duncan managed the old Pickrick Restaurant which Maddox closed rather than serve Negroes. Piper was the chef.

Maddox is expected to face trial on a pistol-pointing charge in March. The charge was brought last year by George S. Willis Jr., a Negro who said the incident took place as he and two companions tried to enter the restaurant July 3.

Maddox, who has been free in $1,000 bond on the charge, leased his restaurant to his former employees last week. He declined to disclose terms of the lease except to say it was a 10-year agreement with an option to buy.

Maddox, 49, went out of the restaurant business when a federal judge ordered him to pay a fine of $200 a day for every day he remained open on a segregated basis in violation of the Civil Rights Act.

San Jacinto Dam Funds Requested

AUSTIN (AP)— The Texas Water Development Board has taken under advisement an application from the San Jacinto River Authority for $6.2 million in state aid to finance construction of Lake Conroe Dam on the west fork of the river.

Station Men Stage March

HOUSTON (AP)— Operators of 128 service stations marched around the 44-story Humble Oil & Refining Co., building. Vernon Wilson, chairman, said the three-hour march was a demonstration in support of a two-cent per gallon increase in the gasoline profit margin allowed by the company.

The Humble Service Station Operators Club has been seeking the increase several weeks and Humble granted a two-tenths of one cent increase last week.

"The increase is insufficient," Wilson said. "We are a depressed business. The most we can pay our attendants is $75 a week and they have to buy their own uniforms."

Wilbarger Hospital District Bill Signed

AUSTIN (AP)— Gov. John Connally signed a bill creating a county-wide hospital district in Wilbarger County this week.

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon sponsored the measure.

Prince Blows His Own Horn

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles has stopped playing a borrowed trumpet and is now blowing his own horn, it was learned today.

He bought a trumpet for $224 when he was in London for his Christmas vacation in December. The 16-year-old heir to the British throne had been tooting in the Gordonstoun School band on an instrument furnished by the school. Friends of the royal family say Charles made such progress on the borrowed horn that he decided he wanted to own one.

With parental approval, he went to the London salesrooms of Philip Parker, a specialist in brass instruments. Prince Charles was shown every trumpet and cornet in Parker's big stock. They ranged in price from $44.10 for a secondhand job to $575.66.

Charles has been learning the trumpet since he enrolled in 1962 at Gordonstoun, the Scottish school his father attended. Last year he played for the first time in public at a concert given by his school's orchestra at Edinburgh's St. Giles Cathedral.

DEAR ABBY Time For A Confession

DEAR ABBY: Boy, am I a dope! This morning I opened my glove compartment to get something, and I saw the bundle of Christmas cards I had promised my wife I would mail a few days before Christmas. They were all stamped and addressed. Should I drop them in the mailbox now or not? Should I tell my wife I forgot to mail them and take the consequences? She doesn't have red hair for nothing. friends." When you first saw the painting you said you didn't want it hanging in your home. Apparently YOU were offended. You and your husband share the same home and should hang paintings you both enjoy.

DEAR ABBY: After a hectic day in my beauty salon I was ready to put up this sign, "NO CHILDREN ALLOWED." They nearly wrecked my place, and me with it. I called my sister, who is very good at writing poems, and asked her if she would write something for me to post in the shop. I thought others might appreciate it:

"Bless the little children, We love them like our own. Nothing could be sweeter When they are left at home. While working on their mothers

DEAR ABBY: On one of my husband's recent trips, he purchased a painting of a nude woman. When he brought it home, he explained that it was a very "good" painting. I told him I didn't have any doubt about how "good" it was, but I didn't want it hanging in my home. I since have asked several of our friends how they felt about the painting and the majority of them said they saw nothing offensive about it. I still feel, however, that I would be embarrassed if certain friends visited us and saw that painting. My husband says that as long as WE like it, we should not worry about people who might be offended. What is your opinion?

It's more than we can stand To have the little cherubs Get wildly out of hand. So please call up a sitter And give yourselves a treat And we will be so grateful We may even kiss your feet." (From Texas)

DEAR GLENDALE: Don't shift the blame to "certain

Glasscock Election Set, Bond Issue To Be Sold

Three members of the Glasscock County Independent School District board of trustees, whose terms expire, filed for re-election at the board meeting Monday night. The election was called for April 2.

school building and improvement bonds will be sold. The 10-year bonds were voted for building a six-room elementary school; enlargement and improvement of the auditorium; repaving the heating system; improvement of lighting in the present elementary building, and other miscellaneous improvements.

Driver License Bill Touted

AUSTIN (AP) — Stiff penalties, including jail sentences, for driving without a license might curb Texas' 450,000 unlicensed drivers, a House committee heard Tuesday.

The board canvassed the returns from the bond election held Feb. 20 and certified the results, with 162 votes favoring and 41 against.

The board set March 29 as the date on which the $175,000 in

Oil Import Review By Connally OK'd

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Connally's office said today the executive committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission has authorized Connally to appear before the secretary of the Interior March 10-11 to review the entire oil imports situation.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont asked the Highways Committee to approve his bill providing heavy penalties for repeated violations of the driver license law.

"These people are a privileged class and they are not going to get a driver's license because it is cheaper to drive without one," Smith said.

Laws now authorize a fine up to $200 for driving without a license. Smith said court records show that many persons—including frequent traffic offenders—are fined from $1 to $5 plus court costs.

His bill provides a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200 for the second conviction and a $300 to $500 fine and from 10 to 60 days in jail for third and subsequent offenses.

Successor To Baker Quiet, Scholarly Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be hard to imagine a more anonymous successor to Bobby Baker as secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

Capitol office "as if it were a private business office."

The committee's investigation disclosed that Baker, a onetime Senate page boy, had acquired a claimed fortune of over $2 million while on the payroll at $19,600 a year.

LATER ELECTED

After Baker's resignation, Mansfield asked the Brooklyn-born Valeo to take over the post — a job to which he later was elected at a conference of all the Democratic senators.

Typically, one of the first things Valeo did was to draw up a "job description" of his duties for Mansfield's approval.

The duties of the majority secretary are not spelled out by law, but Valeo said they include serving as a sort of chief of staff to the majority leader and helping to keep other Democratic senators informed of what is going on.

Part of his job is to notify the Democrats of upcoming votes so that they will be on hand for the roll calls, and, if they missed the debate on an amendment to some bill, to tell them what the issue is and the leadership's position on it.

Track Fan To Benefit

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Twenty-eight colleges and 53 high schools with 900 athletes already have entered the 33rd Border Olympics scheduled March 12-13 and this time there will be a lot of new things added.

For instance, they'll use IBM machines to keep the records.

Calvin Voelkel, the meet director, is holding a mock track meet this afternoon to see how the thing works. There will be cards on all athletes with their records kept up to date as the meet progresses.

This has been used twice before—in a California meet and the Olympics.

Another innovation will be building 400 choice seats at the finish line to increase the capacity of the field and prevent the overflow that has marred the meet in the past.

All defending champions return—Houston in the university class, Texas Southern in the college division, Howard County in the junior college division and San Antonio Highlands for the high schools.

The featured athlete, of course, will be Randy Matson, the Texas A&M sophomore who throws the shot over 66 feet. Matson should easily better the meet record for the shot, which rests at 58 feet 9 1/2 inches.

The bomb never went off, but you can't convince Providence it wasn't a victim of fallout.

The fourth-ranked Friars fell from their spot as the nation's only unbeaten major team Tuesday night, losing 71-57 to Villanova after winning 19 games.

The fallout, in fact, reached as far as College Park, Md., about 100 miles away, where Maryland edged fifth-ranked Duke 85-82.

Michigan's top-ranked Wolverines survived the attack, whipping Minnesota 91-78 at Minneapolis.

Providence, whose last previous loss was to Villanova in last season's NCAA playoffs, met the Wildcats on their home floor in the Philadelphia suburb of Villanova.

That's about 15 miles from the Palestra, where only last Saturday night a bomb threat emptied the stands and delayed the St. Joseph's-Villanova game for 25 minutes. No bomb was found, the teams returned for the second half and St. Joseph's won.

Moving to their own gym, the Wildcats exploded Providence's hopes for its first undefeated season. Villanova saw a seven-point lead late in the first half dwindle to one at intermission but then erupted in the second half for the triumph.

Duke, now 15-3, had won 10 straight games and hadn't lost to Maryland in five years before the hustling Terps started to work.

Sands Advances To VI-B Meet

MIDLAND — Sands pulled it self together in the final quarter to defeat Pyote, 51-47, here Tuesday night and win the right to compete in the Region VI-B Basketball tournament in Big Spring this weekend.

The Mustangs trailed for three quarters and couldn't seem to hit the bucket with any consistency but Eddie Herm ultimately found the range in the final eight minutes and spurred the Ponies to their 20th victory in 25 starts.

It was a bucket by Oren Lancaster that put the Mustangs ahead to stay in the fourth quarter. Herm scored eight of his 18 points in the final round.

The Pyote team built up a 14-9 lead at the end of the opening period and was still in charge at half time.

Lancaster counted 13 points for Arlen White's team while Pyote was paced by Ruiz, who accounted for 17 of the losers' points.

A win in the Regional tournament this weekend would qualify Sands for the State tournament.

Miles Outlasts Steers, 45-43

The victory qualifies Miles to play in the Class B regional tournament in Big Spring this weekend. Miles represented District 83-B, while Robert Lee was the District 84-B representative.

Robert Lee led at the end of the first quarter of play, 13-10. Miles put on a determined effort in the second quarter to take a 20-19 lead at intermission.

Larry Luedtke was high man for Miles with 14 points. Terry Theford paced Robert Lee with 16.

Winters Blizzards Kayo Crane In Playoff Here

Winters warmed up after a frigid first quarter to defeat Crane, 80-65, in a Class AA bi-district basketball struggle in the HCJC Gym here Tuesday night.

The success qualified the Blizzards for the Regional tournament in Lubbock this weekend.

Jerry Cunningham's club trailed the Golden Cranes, 16-8, after one quarter of play, thanks to a 10-point spurge by Hayne Hamilton, but Jimmy Adams solved the Crane defenses after that and led an onslaught that provided Winters with a 33-23 advantage at half time.

Adams scored a total of 30 points for the winners and 14 of those came in the second period. Denny Aldridge also proved a big help to the Winters' cause, tossing in 17 points.

Winters threw up a tightly knitted defense that Crane was never able to solve and erratic passing had as much to do with the Cranes' downfall as any one factor.

Unsung Jerry Grinstead kept Crane in contention with a 22-point effort while Bobby McKay had 13 points, Richard Hayes 11 and Hamilton 10 for the losers.

The Cranes lost both McKay, their best rebounder, and Hamilton on fouls early in the fourth period.

None of the Blizzards fouled out, although Larry Rives and Richard Shade had been charged with four each when the end came.

Texans Triumph Over Odessans

LEVELLAND — South Plains College cleared the way for its crucial Western Conference basketball battle with San Angelo by defeating Odessa College, 74-66, here Tuesday night.

The win was the tenth in 14 league games for the Texans, who host San Angelo Friday. Overall, South Plains is 19-10.

AMARILLO — The Lubbock Christian-Amarillo College Western Conference basketball game, postponed from Tuesday night due to car trouble experience by the LCC team, has been reset for Monday night.

Bears Rebound

Baylor's Winston Moore (22) leaps high for a rebound during the Tuesday night SWC thriller with Texas Tech. That's Harold Denny of Texas Tech crouched below him. Taylor upset the Raiders, 88-86. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ponies Shave Raider Lead To One Game

Ed Horne's one-handed jump shot from the corner with two seconds to go gave Baylor an 88-86 victory over Texas Tech, tightened up the race once more and illustrated most aptly the vagaries of Southwest Conference basketball.

Texas Tech, which had been riding a two-game lead and hadn't lost a game on the road, was jarred to its soft shoes by what actually couldn't be termed an upset since Baylor also had beaten Tech at home.

Thus the Bears, who now have an outside chance at the title, were the only team able to beat Tech anywhere through Tuesday night.

That Tech loss had some pretty resounding implications. Southern Methodist slammed Rice 100-80 to stay in second only one game back of Tech. Texas beat Arkansas 74-72 to remain in a tie with Baylor for third place, each two games behind Tech.

So, with three left to play Texas Tech now isn't the certainty it looked before the fiasco at Waco Tuesday night.

Friday night Tech gets lowly Texas Christian at Lubbock and is better off, on the surface, than Southern Methodist, Texas and Baylor. Texas and Texas A&M, which romped on TCU 102-95, get together at Austin Saturday while Baylor tangles with Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Johnny Hickman, who applied for the head coaching job here a few years ago, has been notified his contract won't be renewed at Levelland High School, which was fielding some of the area's toughest teams a few years ago.

That means at least three District 3-AAA teams are planning changes, since John Howie has been alerted at Littlefield that his contract will be allowed to run out and Jerry Sessom quit recently at San Angelo Lake View.

No one is going to stay very long at Lake View, not until the boundary lines with San Angelo Central are redrawn.

Big Spring's Jerry Dunlap, who finished a hitch in the service not too long ago, has enrolled at New Mexico State University for the spring term and will begin spring football workouts about April 26 with nearly 60 other boys.

One of the athletes who played with Dunlap in Germany, Jerry Earnhardt, a 285-pound linebacker from Longview, will be trying to make the NMS team, too.

The East Cranes team is recruiting on a wide basis in efforts to rebuild its football prestige. Included in the new group are junior college transfers from Olympia, Wash.; San Diego, Calif.; Coffeyville, Kansas; Fullerton, Calif.; New Meadows, Idaho; Los Angeles Harbor College, and Allan Hancock, Calif.

New Mexico State has also picked up two service academy trainees — quarterback Loy Hayes of the U.S. Naval Academy, and tackle John Cechman, formerly of West Point.

They say now that 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor, the New York City basketball phenom, will skip college.

He reportedly has received scholarship offers from about 200 schools around the country.

Alcindor would have to wait a year before entering the pro ranks under National Basketball Association rules but he could barnstorm with the Harlem Globetrotters for a $20,000 fee.

If his name is placed in the NBA draft, he would quite probably be the first choice of the New York Knickerbockers.

The St. Louis football Cardinals have quietly picked up a quarterback named Terry Nofsinger in a trade with Pittsburgh to back up Big Spring's Charley Johnson and Buddy Humphrey. The Red Birds gave rookie defensive tackle Ken Kortas in exchange for Nofsinger.

Incidentally, official records to be released shortly by the National Football League will show that Johnson threw more passes than anyone in the history of the circuit (426), had the most completions for the 1964 season (233) and gained the most yards (1,845).

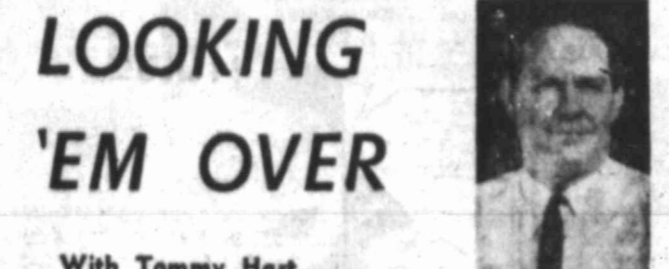

And he didn't even have his favorite receiver, Sonny Randle, much of the year.

One of the better sports features I've read in some time was the one concerning Mickey Mantle in a recent edition of Look magazine.

As the Birmingham News pointed out recently, the University of Alabama never had trouble recruiting good football talent.

For a member of the team who sticks around for four years, odds are three to one that he'll play on a national championship team, even money that he'll appear in a bowl game and virtually certain that he'll be given a lucrative "day" by his hometown after his senior season.

Post season love offerings range from automobiles to prize bulls. Often the graders get cash and savings bonds. The NCAA says it's all legal, too.

LBJ Doubts Reds Ready For Truce

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, watching with interest the efforts abroad to promote a Viet Nam settlement, is not convinced the Communists are ready for serious negotiations.

Johnson, who sticks to a stated willingness to entertain a settlement guaranteeing the integrity and independence of South Viet Nam, has been reluctant to talk in detail about American policy and intentions in that part of the world because:

1. He wants to retain complete flexibility of action, in the military and diplomatic spheres, by avoiding any statement that would tie his hands or lead the Communists to believe they were free to take certain actions without risking counterblows.
2. Even if Johnson thought the Communists were ready for settlement talks, which he doesn't, he is convinced it would be harmful to spell out in advance the terms acceptable to the United States, believing these might be rejected almost automatically and thus lessen prospects for an eventual political solution.

Johnson is watching closely the efforts of Britain, France and the Vatican to promote a Viet Nam peace.

A State Department spokesman said Tuesday that the United States has been in consultation with Britain on U.S. views about the possibility of a peaceful settlement. Discussions have also been held with the Soviet Union, the spokesman said.

Johnson has been reluctant to encourage efforts of other nations, not only because of his skepticism about Communist willingness to talk, but because he fears premature negotiations and attendant publicity could result in a definite psychological

Spending Bill Debated As Women Wail

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators turned to a record breaking $3.6 billion spending bill today with the wails of disappointed women ringing in their ears.

Debate on the 1966-67 general appropriations bill was scheduled to begin in the House.

However, much of today's corridor talk still concerned the hairbreadth finish Tuesday of debate over a suggested constitutional amendment stating Texas laws cannot discriminate against anyone on the basis of sex.

The proposal failed of preliminary passage 99-25, one vote shy of the two-thirds needed.

Unless supporters of the so-called women's rights resolution can scrape up that 100th vote and keep the 99 they got Tuesday, the measure will never leave the House. A final try is expected next week.

Robed, Masked Klansmen Initiate 11 New Members

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Eleven "alien" men, some wearing purple Halloween masks, were "naturalized" as citizens of the Invisible Empire at a secret Ku Klux Klan ceremony near Lithonia, Ga., about 20 miles from Atlanta.

The "aliens" were 11 men adjudged by the Klan to be "qualified" white Caucasian Americans. The Invisible Empire is the "government" within the government operated by the Klan.

A Constitution reporter and a photographer were picked up in downtown Atlanta, blindfolded and taken to the initiation ritual by two Georgia Klansmen.

One was Calvin F. Craig, of Atlanta, grand dragon of the United Klans of America, Inc. The other Klansman identified himself only by a code name — "Blue Nose Leader."

KLANS MOTIVE
Craig said the newsmen were permitted to observe the ceremony so that they could see that the Klan "is not un-American."

Rep. Charles Weltner of Atlanta, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has proposed that the committee investigate the Klan.

The rite was directed by the Klavern's cigar-chewing, red-robed exalted cyclops who told newsmen to address him as Mr. X.

About 40 robed and masked KKK members sat in straight-backed chairs around the edge of the meeting hall.

One of the masked men was an FBI informer, the grand dragon confided. He said he knew which one.

During most of the ceremony the room was dimly lit with red light bulbs glowing from a wooden cross before an altar in the middle of the room. The altar held a U.S. flag, a glass of water, a Bible opened to the 12th chapter of Romans and a rusty iron sword.

The biblical passage was St. Paul's admonition to live righteously.

MARCHES THEM
All objects on the altar were pointed out during the ceremony as representing Klan "virtues" — the Bible for religious zeal, the water for purity, the flag for patriotism and the sword for courage and willingness to fight.

The red-robed kladd of the Klan — the bouncer — shouted sharp military orders to the initiates as he marched them single file, then double file around the room about six times.

Periodically during the march, the Klansmen whistled at them, apparently as some kind of secret sign.

The initiates were halted in front of four Klan officers — the exalted cyclops — klavern or chapter president; the kludd — chaplain; the kolkard — lecturer; and the klaliff — vice president. The initiates were given "instruction in 'klan-kraft.'"

The initiates were ordered to defend the United States with their lives, "to protect the chastity of our white womanhood" and "faithfully strive to maintain white supremacy."

They were asked: "Are each of you native-born, white gentle citizens?"

They were told they would be given a test in the coming weeks.

NO RETREAT
Mr. X gave each initiate a chance to back out. They all said they would stay.

Some of the new Klansmen may be given "a special degree" known as the Royal Order of the Yellow Dog.

Both Mr. X and the grand dragon declined to discuss it except to say, "It's a disc degree."

"That's the one where we're liable to lose somebody," the grand dragon added.

Asked to stand and give his impression of the initiation ceremony, one of the new Kluxers said: "I don't talk very good. I thought you'd whip a couple of niggers."

Mr. X told the gathering: "The Klan has been pushed around for 35 years. But the Klan is not going to be pushed around any more."

This drew a loud chorus of "amens."

Japan: 'Defector Clearing-House'

TOKYO (AP) — Japan has become a clearing-house for East-West defectors and police officials say they are beginning to feel like travel agents.

This country, which had virtually no experience with defectors since Soviet master spy Yuri Rastvorov made his sensational flight to American authorities in 1954, suddenly found itself playing middleman to many cases last year. These included three athletes and ten tourists who came to the Olympic Games in October.

Japanese officials are deeply puzzled by this sudden preference for Tokyo by potential defectors.

The defections had common characteristics: All European defectors were from behind the Iron Curtain.

BAMBOO CURTAIN
All Asian home switchers wanted to go to Bamboo Curtain lands.

Officials say the East Europeans abandoned their countries because of a desire for more freedom and the hope of a better life in the West. The Asians rarely had political motives; they mostly wanted to be reunited with family members in the other part of their split countries.

The score was: Three Russians and four Hungarians who went either to the United States or West Germany.

Two Chinese Nationalists and seven South Koreans who have sailed, or will soon leave, for Communist China and North Korea.

Police officials say this one-sided picture might have been greatly changed if North Korea had not pulled out of the Olympic Games. Some 150 North Korean tourists had been expected for the games.

TEARFUL REUNION
The misery of divided families in Asia was dramatically illustrated when North Korean champion runner Shin Mu-dan was able to have only a five-minute tearful reunion in Tokyo with her father who had rushed here from South Korea.

The meeting took place at a Tokyo railway station minutes before the North Korean team, which had decided to boycott the Olympics, boarded a train for Niigata to sail home.

The East European defectors during the Olympiad were Hungarian kayak paddler Andras Torso, 24, shooter Gador Ralla, 22, and two Hungarian tourists, Karoly Molnar, 38, and Denes Kovaro, 42.

"There might have been more defections if Soviet sailor Victor I. Shishyalkin had not defected on the second day after the games opened," a police official speculated.

"It was probably too early and made it difficult for others to make a move. It must have been a shock to the Russians that a sailor defected, as sailors have many chances to go abroad," he said.

The 28-year-old Soviet sailor who arrived aboard a ship carrying Olympic tourists told police he had been planning his flight for a long time and had been looking forward to his trip to Japan as his best chance to escape.

"I asked the Hungarian canoe athlete why he did not defect during the Rome Olympics and chose to do so in Tokyo," a police official said. "He replied 'I was too young then and did not want to give the impression I was acting because of lack of judgment.'"

"NO FUTURE"
Chan Chueh, 35, a Chinese Nationalist provincial official who came as an Olympic observer, is the only Asian defector who gave a political reason. "There is no future in Taiwan," he told police.

Chan and Ma Ching-shan, 38, an Olympic pistol shooter, were each given a $4,000 award by Chinese Communist sports authorities upon return. Ma, a retired Nationalist officer, was greeted by his father and brother on arrival, according to Radio Peking.

The South Korean government in an unprecedented move permitted some 4,500 tourists to come to Tokyo for the games. Of these, some 600 are still reportedly here.

The Koreans included Kwon Hei Yong, 47. She learned that her husband, who had been living in Japan, had decided to go to North Korea under a repatriation program that has already taken some 80,000 Koreans living in Japan to the Communist north. So she decided to go with him, police said.

Justice Fined For DWI

BEAUMONT (AP) — L. B. Hightower, chief justice of the 9th Court of Civil Appeals, has pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated, first offense, a misdemeanor.

Judge George Buford of the Jefferson County Court-at-Law assessed a three-day county jail sentence and a $100 fine, about the minimum penalty.

Hightower was arrested last Nov. 10 on the charge. He entered the guilty plea this week.

He was appointed to the appellate court in 1956. He has been chief justice since 1961.

Best-Known Woman Driver Taken Off Road

OKMERE, England (AP) — Britain's best-known woman driver has reached the end of the road, for a year at least.

Magistrates slapped the year's ban on Margaret Hunter, 56, this week after finding her guilty of colliding with a tree.

Miss Hunter agreed the tree was stationary and that the 100-foot skid marks on the road were probably hers. She blamed the accident on a mysterious "propelling force" that took control of her car.

Constable Thomas James said he had asked what sort of force that was and she replied: "It was as if a jet force pushed me off the road."

"I just felt something from behind," Miss Hunter told the magistrates.

"I'd like to know who is doing it and why. The police should find out."

Miss Hunter first came to public notice in 1963 when her driving instructor jumped from her car in a busy street, yelling, "This is suicide."

She failed a series of tests for a license but eventually got one by establishing residence in Ireland, where no test was then needed. It was this license that the magistrates confiscated.

Miss Hunter demanded that the clerk of court be arrested for theft of her license. She said she would appeal her sentence.

"The nation will not believe all this rubbish," she declared.

Senate Receives Water Measure
