Louisiana Gas Blast Toll At 17

NATCHITOCHEs, La. (AP)—A high-pressure natural gas pipeline exploded in a residential area north of here early today and officials said at least 17 and possibly more persons were killed.

Norman Fletcher, Natchitoches Parish Civil Defense director, said nine of the 17 known dead were children. Two or three persons unaccounted for also are children, he said.

NINE HOSPITALIZED

At least nine persons were taken to a hospital for treatment of injuries. Their conditions were not serious.

The blast occurred on Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. 32-inch line shortly after 6 a.m.

The blast and billowing flames destroyed five frame homes across State Highway 1 from the country club. Eight automobiles were melted by the intense heat.

Flames leaped upward of 400 to 500 feet in the cloudless sky and seared an area about 200 yards square in the vicinity of the five houses. A crater 200 yards wide was created.

FIERY BARRIER

The flames kept back rescue workers until Tennessee Gas crews managed to shut off the flow of gas.

Bodies of the victims were taken to the National Guard Armory, where Dr. Charles Cook, the parish coroner, began the task of identification.

Rescue crews searched the rubble as the flames died out in a hunt for more bodies. Natchitoches is in northwest Louisiana about 100 miles southeast of Shreveport.

Truckers Balk At Pier Tieup

NEW YORK (AP)—A major organized segment of the trucking industry here has declared a voluntary embargo on movement of export cargoes to piers because of congestion remaining from the recent 33-day longshoremen's strike.

Extra crews of longshoremen are gradually clearing the backlog of import cargo that piled up during the strike. But many piers are choked and many trucking outfits are suffering large financial losses because of delays, industry sources say.

The export embargo, effective Monday, was clamped on Wednesday by Joseph Adelizzi, managing director of the Empire State Highway Transportation Association.

Adelizzi said the embargo would last a week or 10 days. The longshoremen's strike ended Feb. 13 in New York and other North Atlantic ports where contracts had been reached between the International Longshoremen's Association and the shipping and stevedoring companies.

The strike is still on in South Atlantic and West Gulf of Mexico ports. The 60,000-member union originally struck ports from Maine to Texas.

Leo The Lion Wins In Court

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Leo the pet lion, center of a controversy between his owner, Howard Sautter of nearby Willow Grove, and the Abington Township Board of Commissioners, was on the winning side in court Wednesday.

Common Pleas Court Judge Robert Honeyman dismissed a complaint which sought to force Sautter, 54, to give up his pet.

The township, acting under an ordinance passed last December outlawing all wild animals, contended that Leo was a potential danger.

Honeyman called the township's complaint insufficient. He said there "must be allegation of nuisance — including, but not limited, to hazardous or dangerous activities to support the prayer for relief."

He gave the township 20 days to amend its complaint.

Scout Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Lone Star District of Boy Scout leaders will convene at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Cosden Country Club. R. L. Tollett, chairman, said that plans for the spring season would be considered, and thus urged a large attendance.

King To Lead March On Montgomery

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. plans to lead off a 50-mile mass march from Selma to the state Capitol at Montgomery Sunday to dramatize pleas for liberalization of Alabama's voting laws.

King, who delivered a funeral sermon Wednesday for a Negro laborer shot to death during an outbreak of racial violence in Marion the night of Feb. 18, said the march definitely is scheduled to begin Sunday afternoon.

The marching Negroes, who King hopes will number from 500 to 800, will seek to get the state voting laws liberalized while the Alabama Legislature is in special session. The session was called to consider Gov. George Wallace's education bills.

MARTYR'S TRIBUTE

King, cutting short a visit to Washington, flew back to Alabama to pay a martyr's tribute to Jimmie Lee Jackson, 26, then left again for New York. The Negro integration leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner was scheduled to speak there today to the women's division of the United Jewish Appeal.

In a funeral sermon at Marion for Jackson, a Baptist deacon and leader in the fight to vote battle in Perry County, King promised an unending campaign for racial equality in Alabama. "We are going to march through the streets until every Negro can vote," he vowed.

DELIVERS EULOGY

After King delivered the eulogy, he led an estimated 700 Negroes on a four-mile march in the rain to the burial grounds in a wooded area a few feet off Alabama Highway 14.

Jackson fell mortally wounded only a short distance from the Zion Methodist Church where mourners gathered 12 days later to pay their respects at the second of two funeral services. The first service for which King arrived too late was held at Selma.

Five other Negroes and three white newsmen were beaten and three law enforcement officers were struck by rocks or bottles in the clash between Negro demonstrators and helmeted state troopers.

Appalachia Bill Passed By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's top-priority Appalachia aid bill has cleared Congress and is ready for President Johnson's signature.

The House approved the $1.1-billion measure Wednesday by a vote of 257 to 165 after 16 attempts by Republicans to amend it were defeated by top-heavy counts and a GOP substitute was rejected 323 to 100. The Senate passed the bill last month.

EARLY SIGNING

The President was expected to lose no time approving the bill, one of the major items in his "Great Society" legislative program and the first to be passed.

Subject to later appropriations, the bill would authorize federal funds for programs intended to bolster the sagging economy of 360 counties in 11 states of the Appalachian area. These states are Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The door was left open for adding 13 New York counties later.

$840 MILLION

Most of the money, $840 million, would be spent during the next five years to build 3,350 miles of highways and access roads, with the government paying up to 70 per cent of the cost.

Liz, Chauffeur Involved In Traffic Fatality In Ireland

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—"My God! My God! My God!" cried Elizabeth Taylor, jumping from her Rolls Royce and pillowing the dying Irish widow on a mink coat.

Sobbing hysterically, the film star rushed to aid Alice Ryan Wednesday after her chauffeur-driven car struck the 76-year-old woman. A spokesman for Miss Taylor said Mrs. Ryan stepped into the path of the car.

FROM AIRPORT

The accident occurred as Miss Taylor and her French chauffeur, Gaston Sanz, were returning from the funeral in France of Sanz' 17-year-old son. He was killed at a shooting gallery under circumstances which have not been clarified.

"I saw Miss Taylor get out of the car," a bystander said. "She was staggering about in the roadway with her hands to her head, crying and sobbing."

"Then she walked to the dying woman, rolled her mink coat into a pillow and tried to comfort her while they waited for an ambulance."

Miss Taylor followed the ambulance to the hospital where Mrs. Ryan was pronounced dead.

Albert D. Grantham Killed In Downtown Car Crash

By PRESTON MAYNARD — Albert Donald Grantham, 38, of 401 E. 10th, a widely-known Howard County farmer and former implement dealer here, died Wednesday night from injuries received in a two-car crash at Third and Scurry Streets. He died in a hospital at 8:15 p.m.

Three other persons were injured in the wreck, which left the car in which Grantham was a passenger a mass of wreckage. The accident occurred about 6:40 p.m.

Daniel Rios, 21, was arrested late Wednesday night, after emergency treatment at Cowper Clinic-Hospital, and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Walter Grice on charges of negligent homicide. Grice said, Lopez appeared at the police department this morning and gave officers a signed statement concerning the collision.

STATEMENT

In a signed statement which he gave police following his arrest, Rios identified himself as the driver of the 1956 Buick which collided with the car in which Grantham was a passenger.

Police estimated the speed of the car driven by Rios as around 60 miles per hour. Officers said the car was traveling west on Third Street when it collided with the other vehicle, driven by A. L. Holley, 62, of 801 W. 17th. The car driven by Holley was traveling north on Scurry Street, police said.

The force of the impact left both vehicles facing east on Third Street, at the northwest side of the intersection.

Reported in good condition this morning at Cowper Clinic.

Hospital were Holley and Mickey Vierra — the latter a passenger in the car driven by Rios. Another passenger in the same car, Henry Lopez Jr., had walked away from the wreck scene Wednesday night, police said. Lopez appeared at the police department this morning and gave officers a signed statement concerning the collision.

INJURIES

Doctors at Cowper Clinic-Hospital reported Holley had received possible injuries to the left arm and shoulder, multiple lacerations of the face, multiple contusions and involvement of a left shoulder muscle. Vierra was reported having extensive lacerations of the lower lip and general contusions. Rios, given emergency treatment and released to police, received contusions of the chest and knees.

Attendants reported. Services for Mr. Grantham will be Friday at 4 p.m. in the Baptist Temple Church, with the Rev. James A. Puckett officiating.

Mr. Grantham was born Feb. 18, 1907 in Clay County, Texas. He had moved to Howard County in 1921 and had been a farmer and implement operator here for the past 18 years. Before entering the implement business, he and his brother had traded in cotton. They also had some oil interests.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

He married Fay Wood Nov. 16, 1927 in Lubbock, and she survives him as do one son, Donald Grantham, Big Spring; one daughter, Mrs. Girene Bowlin, Big Spring; three brothers, Emmett Grantham, Big Spring; Odie Grantham and Glen Grantham, both of Knott; two sisters, Mrs. Cleo Neely, Kernman, Calif., and Mrs. Ester Gaskin, Big Spring; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Roy Bates, Robert Currie, Malcolm Patterson, John McGreor, R. H. Weaver, E. T. Tucker, M. R. Koger and Ebb Echols.

Belligerent Youths Beat Soviet Police

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson went into a conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today regarding the latest mob attack in Moscow against the U.S. Embassy.

MOSCOW (AP) — Anti-American demonstrators attacked the U.S. Embassy with rocks and ink bottles today and drove back police with sticks and slingshots before being dispersed by Soviet soldiers.

More than 2,000 students from Moscow and Lumbum universities were allowed by police to smash windows and smear the embassy walls with red and blue ink for about 10 minutes.

But when mounted police began to push the mob back it turned in fury.

Extraordinary police security precautions, taken after U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler demanded protection for the embassy on hearing a demonstration was brewing, failed to halt the shouting students.

OFFICERS BEATEN

Several policemen were beaten by groups of demonstrators armed with sticks and other weapons. At least eight students, including two Russians, one African and some Red Chinese and Communist North Vietnamese, were taken into custody.

Windows were smashed in the 10-story embassy as high as the seventh floor by stones and slingshot missiles. Multicolored ink stains were spattered all over the facade.

The damage appeared to newsmen to be more extensive than a similar attack Feb. 9, like this one a demonstration against U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam.

About 300 unarmed soldiers from the Moscow garrison moved into the mob after the students had looted a barrage of sticks, rocks, snowballs and slingshot missiles that left one policeman with a bloody nose.

TAKE OVER

Mounted police had used billy clubs and whips to try to drive the crowd from the sidewalk in front of the embassy but were shoved back. Then the soldiers took over.

The disorder was quelled shortly after the appearance of a tough-looking infantryman dressed in heavy overcoats, fur hats and boots. They carried no arms and simply formed solid ranks that slowly shoved the students back from the embassy.

The determined show of force quickly dampened the spirits of the rioters, who had angrily fought the policemen and hurled epithets of "Fascist" at them.

DRAW BACK

Most of the students quickly drew back and the bulk of the crowd began walking off about 10 minutes after the soldiers appeared.

Vietnamese Armed Forces Suffer Heaviest Casualties

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese armed forces suffered their heaviest casualties yet against the Viet Cong during February. U.S. military officials reported today.

The report said 870 men were killed, 1,820 wounded and 1,450 missing. Many of the missing was presumed to have deserted. The total of 4,140 compared with the previous high of 4,050 in December 1964.

The roll of American combat dead for February totaled 43, also above the monthly average. Most of these men were killed in the Viet Cong attacks on American installations at Pleiku and Qui Nhon, which prompted retaliatory air strikes at North Viet Nam. Eight were killed at Pleiku Feb. 7 and 23 in the bombing of a U.S. enlisted men's billet to Qui Nhon Feb. 10.

U.S. officials estimated the Viet Cong suffered 2,065 casualties, a figure equalled in official reports only twice before — in March and December 1964. Vietnamese figures on Communist losses are usually somewhat higher. American officials here discount them as not backed-up by accurate count in the field.

The American report also listed a new high in loss of government weapons — 2,590 — while the Viet Cong lost 655 weapons in combat.

The Communists lost more than 3,500 weapons captured after the sinking of a munitions ship on the central Vietnamese coast. The ship is believed to have carried the weapons directly from North Viet Nam.

Political Fuss Brings Deaths

OAXACA, Mexico (AP)—Six persons killed in the isolated town of Amoltepec died in a gun battle triggered by a political dispute, the Oaxaca state attorney general's office said Wednesday.

An earlier report that the six were executed on orders of the mayor was proven false during an investigation by federal and state authorities, a spokesman said.

Residents in the area had earlier complained to federal officials that the mayor had ordered executions and that several hundred in the town fled in fear.

Amoltepec has no roads or telephone or telegraph connections with the outside world.

U. S. Downed Pilot Hunted

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. forces pressed a search today for an American pilot missing since his jet fighter-bomber was shot down during the raid on Quang Khe.

The pilot, 1st Lt. Hayden J. Lockhart, of Springfield, Ohio, was flying an F100 assigned Tuesday to knocking out Communist anti-aircraft batteries prior to bomb runs by Vietnamese Skyraiders.

Lockhart was seen bailing out over a wooded area and was presumed to have reached the ground safely. He has not been heard from since and is the only American casualty that has been reported from the raid.

American helicopters and amphibious planes rescued four other American pilots and one Vietnamese who were shot down during the raids Tuesday on the Quang Khe naval base and Xom Bang munitions depot. Lockhart's father, Hayden J. Lockhart Sr. of Springfield, said the Air Force had informed him search parties had found his son's parachute and helmet. Lockhart's wife is in Alexandria, La.

CARRY RADIOS

For security reasons, details of the area where he bailed out have not been given. Quang Khe is 40 miles north of the border with South Viet Nam. Fliers in Viet Nam carry small portable radios that can send out a homing beam for rescue aircraft.

Members of Lockhart's squadron at Da Nang Air Base, 100 miles south of the border, stood ready to launch planes to support any ground rescue operation. They would spray the area with rockets and machine-gun fire to enable rescue helicopters to reach the pilot once he was located.

Oscar Award System Foe Standing Pat

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The man who shook up the Motion Picture Academy is in town at the awards season, and he remains unreconstructed where Oscar is concerned.

Dynamic George C. Scott paid a rare visit to Hollywood to perform in a Bob Hope-Chrysler Theater show. Several observers believed Scott would be nominated last week for his role as Gen. Buck Turgidson in "Dr. Strangelove."

WAS RIGHT

Scott didn't think so, and it turned out he was right. "I don't believe I will ever be nominated again," he said flatly. He thinks Academy voters still resent his blast three years ago, when he was nominated as best supporting actor for "The Hustler." He asked that his name be withdrawn on grounds that the Oscar race was a meaningless popularity contest.

Does he regret his action? "Not in the least," he snapped. "My only regret is that I wasn't able to shock the Academy into doing something constructive to clean up the awards structure. The same orgy of trade paper advertisements goes on."

BLOCK VOTING

"And the awards are still voted by all the Academy members, which perpetuates the block voting. The acting awards should be voted by actors alone. If the Oscar were selected by my peers, I would treasure it. But I can't have any respect for an award that is voted on by everyone from grips to press agents."

Scott, one of the screen's best actors, will likely be nominated again, despite his wishes. He will be seen this year in two new films, both episodic and made in Europe. The modern "Yellow Rolls-Royce" required four weeks; "The Bible" took four and a half months.

South overlooked two separate opportunities to make three no trump in today's hand. It is perhaps unfair to charge his account more than once, however, inasmuch as the line of play suggested by his partner in the post-mortem analysis might have required a "peek" at an opponent's hand.

West opened the six of hearts, the ten was played from dummy, and East won the trick with the king. The switch was to a small spade. South ducked and West put up his king. A spade was continued, East covered North's ten with the jack, and declarer played the ace.

South had eight top tricks—three hearts, three diamonds, one spade, and one club—with several prospects for a ninth. He tried the diamonds first by cashing the king and queen and then crossing to the dum-

College Heads Oppose Plan

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The first organized opposition to Gov. John Connally's plan to regroup the 22 state-supported colleges has come from the presidents of the schools affected.

The Council of College and University Presidents adopted without dissent this week a resolution that called the Connally plan to divide the schools into three systems unwise at this time.

The council, composed of presidents of tax-supported institutions of higher learning, said the question of grouping the schools requires "study both by professional educators and by knowledgeable laymen over an extended period of time."

"Otherwise, instead of accelerated progress toward excellence there could well be costly errors and the loss of gains made with difficulty over the years," it said.

Connally proposed to divide the present schools into the University of Texas system, the state university system, and the state senior college system.

Pope Leads Lent Catholic Ritual

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI marked the sign of the cross in ashes on his forehead Wednesday, leading the world's half billion Roman Catholics into the Lenten season of penitence, prayer and fasting.

The Pope's observance of the Ash Wednesday ritual, signifying human frailty and humility, occurred during a Mass he celebrated in his private chapel in the Apostolic Palace. The pontiff also marked the foreheads of his secretaries, aides and chamberlains with ashes.

Around the world Catholics stopped briefly at their churches to receive the ashes. They are made from palms from the previous Palm Sunday which are burned and mixed with chrism, or sacred oil.

The priest administering the ashes says a prayer reminding the recipient that man is made from dust and will one day return to dust, a warning for him to do penance and prepare for his end.

The 40-day Lenten period ends with the joyous Christian feast of Easter, celebrating Christ's Resurrection, April 18.

Pope Paul's Ash Wednesday schedule called for him to go later to the Church of Santa Sabina, on Rome's Aventine Hill, for Lenten devotions.

Plane In Safe Landing

RIVERTON, Kan. (AP) — A B52 jet bomber from Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex., lost a wing tank loaded with fuel here but the huge craft returned to its base and landed safely.

The tank, loaded with 18,000 pounds of jet fuel, dropped off the plane's wing and landed in a field between Riverton and Pittsburg, Kan.

Although the tank ruptured when it hit the ground, the fuel did not explode or catch fire, Air Force spokesmen said.

The bomber was on a routine training flight over southeastern Kansas. The cause of the accident was not known.

Eulogies Extol Negro Racial Violence Victim

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders declared Wednesday that a slain Negro laborer, Alabama's first death in the current voter drive, "was a man who fell for his people."

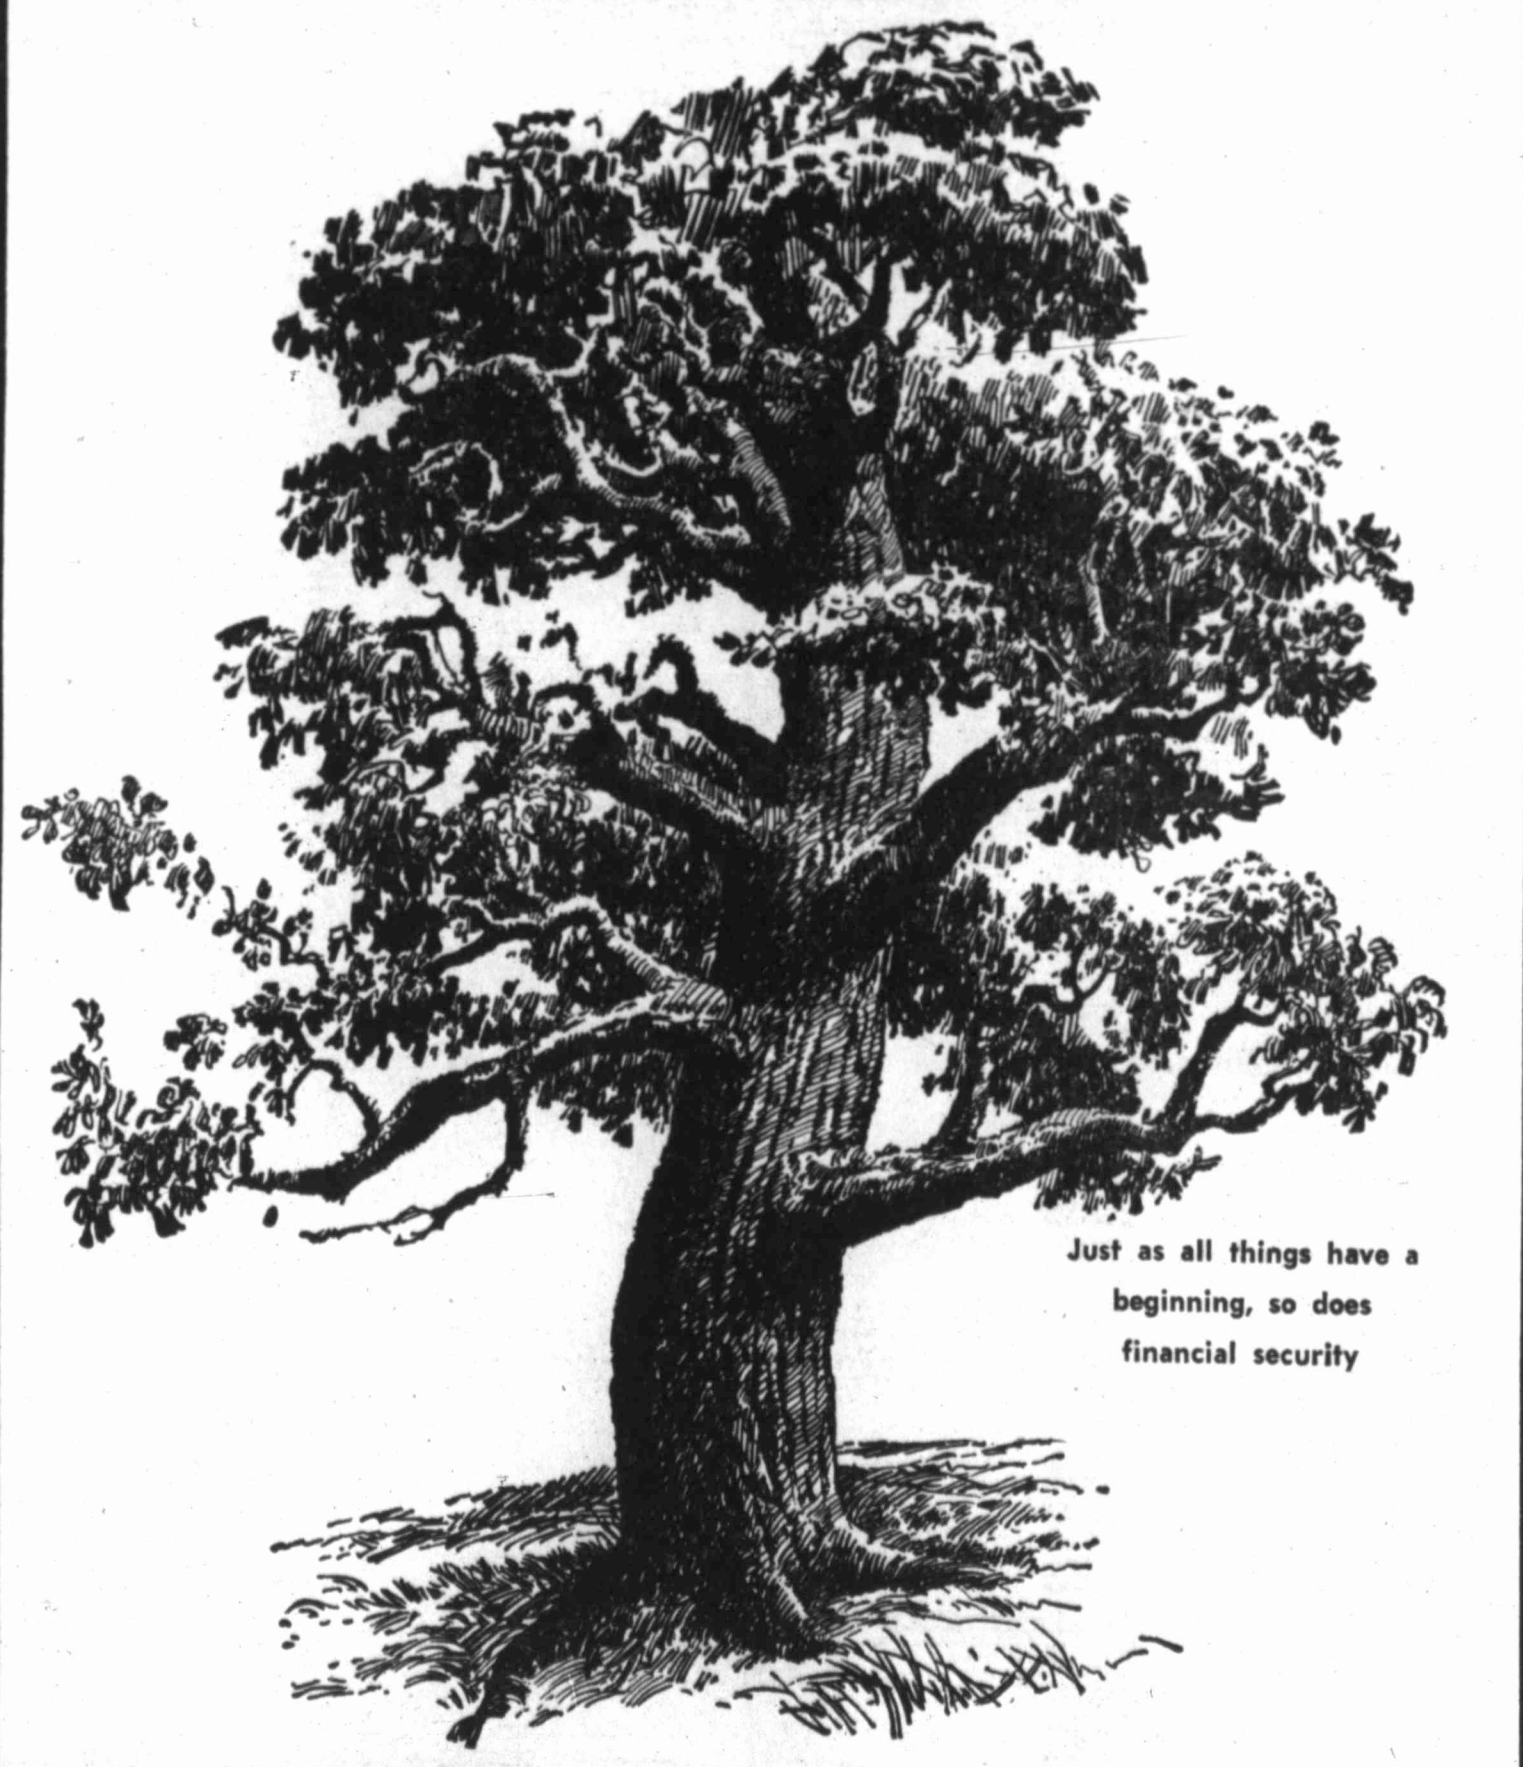

Hundreds of Negroes packed into the old red brick Browns Chapel A.M.E. Church in Selma for the first of two funeral services paying tribute to Jimmie Lee Jackson, 26, who was wounded fatally the night of Feb. 18 when police broke up a mass march at nearby Marion.

"The freedom for which Jimmie died is coming to the black belt," said the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, a close associate of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who started the civil rights drive more than six weeks ago in the black belt, so named for its rich soil.

"He did not die as a coward," Abernathy said. "He was shot down on the streets of Marion standing up for his rights."

Jackson, a Baptist deacon, was shot in the abdomen during violence in which about a dozen persons were injured. He told a Selma hospital supervisor he was shot by a state trooper. No report on the shooting has been made public by state police.

Senate Spending Bill May Top House's By $25 Million

AUSTIN (AP)—Senate spending bill writers put the finishing touches today on a preliminary 1966-67 appropriations bill that may total up to $25 million more than the House-passed bill.

The Senate finance subcommittee worked late Wednesday night on its version of higher education spending for the next two years—the final section of the proposed Senate bill to be presented to the full Finance Committee next week.

HINT ON SIZE

A hint on the size of the Senate subcommittee's appropriation bill came when Sen. J. P. Word, Meridian, a member of the group, said the measure probably will use all of the anticipated 1966-67 general revenue fund available.

The House-approved bill would leave about a $25 million balance from the expected $631 general revenue income. House members have pointed out the surplus would about finance the beginning of Gov. Connally's 10-year teachers pay raise program.

Under legislative rules adopted by both houses, the general appropriations bill must be debated and a compromise reached between the two houses by May 11 or no other appropriations bill—including a teachers pay raise—can be considered before that date.

BY MAY 31

The mandatory end of this session is May 31.

Several Connally supporters speculated that if the Senate subcommittee does not leave any income surplus for the governor's teacher pay raise plan, then the action can be interpreted as a move to back a pay raise plan pushed by the Texas State Teachers Association. The TSTA plan, $45 a month across the board, is estimated to cost an additional $68 million.

Meanwhile, congressional redistricting will attract legislative attention again today. Rep. Frank Cahoon, Midland, the only Republican in the legislature, announced he would hold a 1:30 p.m. news conference to unveil the congressional redistricting plan supported by Texas Republicans.

Woman Falls, Sues U.S.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The federal government has been sued for $75,000 by a woman who said she received fractures on three separate occasions because of one fall in a post office.

Lorraine Lavender said in a suit filed Wednesday that she broke her left hip when she slipped and fell in the Santa Fe Post Office March 17, 1964. She said a vertebra in her back fractured Oct. 29 when she was doing exercises for treatment of the injured hip.

The suit asserted that the weakened condition of the hip caused her to fall Jan. 1, breaking her left leg.

Hopes Of Belgians Staked On Tshombe

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Most Belgians, according to their own officials, have written the Congo right out of their lives—but a small number still fight for interests there.

The Congo is not all that important to Belgium in terms of money. The rising wealth of the European Common Market has begun to take such a huge share of Belgian business that trade with the Congo is only a pocketful by comparison.

It is with Belgium and the Congo much as it is with Holland and its former colony, Indonesia. Without it, the Dutch are doing nicely and largely for the same reason, the Common Market.

is that the Congo has given it a sort of world outlook. That chunk of Africa is three and a half times the size of Texas, and so rich in resources that 50 years of active development have hardly phased it.

Clearly the Belgians are staking their hopes on Moise Tshombe, who was an official in the Congo before the liberation and now is the premier. The Belgians made a financial settlement with him recently that not only gives him added authority and prestige, but money.

He knows that his best chance of getting more quick credits is in Belgium. On his visit to Brussels to negotiate, he appealed to Belgian businessmen to continue helping the Congo, not only as a friend but as a brother.

In a talk to a Belgian steel organization he said: "The Congo will remain a market of first importance for Belgian industry which will grow in importance for your industries."

Despite the civil war and rebel raiding, the great industrial center around Elisabethville has continued operating effectively, with Belgians running the factories and mines.

Actor Gives Role Credit

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Randall thinks that television-land is a nice place to visit, but he doesn't want to live there.

Randall was a happy inhabitant of the television community from 1952 to 1955 when he played Harvey Weskit, Wally Cox's know-it-all chum, in the beloved "Mr. Peepers" series.

"That part has meant everything to me as an actor," Randall admitted gratefully. "Before that I'd been doing all right in New York, with some pretty good radio work and a few parts in Broadway shows. But after 'Mr. Peepers' leads on Broadway opened up, and so did good parts in films."

GUEST SHOT

Randall occasionally returns to the scene of his first real success for a guest shot in one or another series but insists that he is not interested in tackling another series.

"I don't want to make all the money in the world," he said, "and I like to work in a more leisurely way. When we were making the moving picture, 'The Seven Faces of Dr. Lao,' we took several weeks developing the right kind of makeup and wigs, and then revised them several times to get the precise effects we wanted."

"There isn't time for that sort of attention in television."

Randall believes that if "Mr. Peepers" had been one of this season's new shows, it would have been a loser.

TIMES CHANGE

"I got hold of an old kinescope of one of our shows the other day and showed it during a lecture on cinematography at New York University," he said. "I sat there, dying with laughter—but those kids didn't crack a smile."

"Oh, well, times change and we change. Popular entertainment is always topical. We went out for some sort of truth about teachers, showing them as underpaid, sloppily dressed in $45 suits. Wally and I each wore the same suit for three years and in all that time they were never pressed, never cleaned."

Military Pay Boost Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, proposed today an average 10.7 per cent pay increase for all 2,723,000 uniformed members of the armed services.

He said a bill to provide the increase is being cosponsored by "an overwhelming majority" of the committee—an action he called unprecedented.

BILLION DOLLARS

Rivers estimated the increase—which would be the second in two years—would cost about a billion dollars a year.

He said the bill would be helpful to the President's commission studying military and federal pay, but added in a statement:

"Why further study is necessary is beyond me—the justification for a military pay raise needs no study."

Rivers said that since 1952 increases in military pay have totaled about 34 per cent "while pay increases during the same period for classified civil servants has averaged more than 46 per cent."

Rivers gave this breakdown of increases under his proposal: Increases for enlisted personnel with less than two years of service would range from 13 per cent to 33 per cent, or an average of $16 a month.

ENLISTED MEN

For enlisted men with more than two years of service, the average increase would be 11.2 per cent, or $28 a month.

A Devotional For The Day

The Spirit also helpeth our infirmities . . . the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us. (Romans 8:26)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Thine infinite goodness every time we prostrate ourselves before the throne of Thy grace. We come to Thee to invoke Thy mercy and pardon. We ask in the name and for the love of Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

No Time To Be Timorous

The propaganda mills of nations in the Red orbit are grinding furiously, issuing some rough sounding cries. Soviet news mouthpieces have railed against the United States aerial attacks on Red supply dumps and bases in North Viet Nam and Laos. U.S. forces have been described as "pirates," and their activities "must not go unpunished," according to one Soviet agency. Red China, with less astuteness in forensics, has been contributing its volume of threats of reprisal.

None would underestimate the seriousness of the situation in Southeast Asia and the explosiveness of the new ingredient of positive retaliation. This policy lends itself to the escalation of the war effort, but the urgency of communicating clearly to the Communist powers our recognition of the real source of armed attack in South Viet Nam and our determination to resist it justifies the grave risk. If the Communists wish the conflict to spread, they can invite its spread by responding as the propagandists have suggested. However, at this stage, weight of the evidence indicates a greater disposition to fume than to get involved openly.

Now that we are embarked upon this show of resoluteness, we can ill afford to be deterred by the propagandists. When Red leaders make contact through diplomatic channels with shows of real concern, then will be the time to sit down and seek means of not only obtaining but securing the sanctity of a settlement, and to insist on firming up some broken agreements such as Korea and the Geneva agreements.

The Purpose Of Superhighways

Commenting that the Texas Highway Department "seemed to be thinking that 'there's good news tonight' when it announced that by the end of 1972 motorists can cross 816 miles of Texas without stopping for a single red light," the Corpus Christi Caller raises this question about the interstate highway system:

"This may not be an unmixed blessing, though. If tourists can cross Texas so quickly and easily without stopping, will they take time to pause for a while in the Lone Star State?"

The answer to this is fairly obvious—not unless there is reason for them to stop. The whole purpose of trunk roads is to move traffic in large volumes and to move it rapidly and safely.

If it doesn't make sense to run a highway through a crowded urban situation just to slow and trap traffic, then why would it make sense to slow or stop it on an interstate road?

In all probability the presence of these superhighways and the prospect of unimpeded traffic will create such an increase in the volume of traffic that the aggregate of fuel, lodging and food expenditures will be greater than under the normal flow of traffic along ordinary roads.

Forgetful, Undiplomatic Diplomat

WASHINGTON — Soviet Premier Kosygin is evidently not a very tactful diplomat. For in demanding the withdrawal of American troops not merely from Viet Nam but also from South Korea, he inadvertently reminds the world of the treachery of the Soviet Union itself against the United Nations. The fact is that American troops are in South Korea today under the auspices of the United Nations. The operation there has not been and today is not solely that of the United States.

To propose that American troops be withdrawn from South Korea reopens the entire Korean controversy, which has been stalemated for a dozen years. No peace treaty has ever been signed, and the armistice agreement has often been violated by the Communists.

MOST SIGNIFICANT now is the opportunity which Premier Kosygin's speech affords the whole world to re-examine the circumstances that surrounded the invasion of South Korea in 1950.

The United Nations itself is on record in a formal resolution denouncing Red China for its aggression in invading South Korea. Indeed, Red China is still regarded as an "aggressor." The U.N., however, has never applied that same word to the Moscow regime, though the Soviet foreign minister openly admitted his government was supplying the arms and ammunition which the Red Chinese were using in Korea against U.N. forces. In a speech to a committee of the General Assembly on March 2, 1953, Andrei Vishinsky said:

"THE SOVIET UNION has never concealed the fact that it sold and continues to sell armaments to its ally, China."

Just why Premier Kosygin should want to focus the attention of the world on the status of the Korean problem is hard to understand. For certainly any demand that troops of the United States be withdrawn would involve the United Nations and revive the whole question of how the Republic of South Korea can be guaranteed against further attacks by the Communists in North Korea.

THE SOVIET PREMIER speaks of the "aggressive policy of the American imperialists" in Vietnam and also accuses the United States of interfering in Laos, which he calls "one more example of how international agreements and international law are trampled underfoot."

But the record shows that international agreements and even the charter of the United Nations have been disregarded by the Soviet Union in smaller countries of the world and in providing arms to rebel groups to overthrow constituted governments. Mr. Kosygin talks of violations of the United Nations Charter, but ignores the evidence of how the United Nations was originally challenged in Korea through the machinations of the Soviet Union and Red China, and how attacks by Communists killed tens of thousands of troops fighting in behalf of the United Nations. More than 50,000 Americans died and 103,000 were wounded in Korea.

IN THE FACE of such a complete lack of comprehension of the viewpoint of the free nations of the world, it may be wondered how the Soviets themselves can expect more fraternal relations with the United States through exchange of leaders and the expansion of international contacts, especially in the field of trade and commerce.

The United States has, in the last few days, issued a "white paper" setting forth the evidence that South Viet Nam has been the victim of aggression by North Viet Nam and that the weapons used have come from Red China and the Communist bloc countries of Eastern Europe. Adlai Stevenson, U. S. ambassador to the U.N., moreover, has shown that this entire pattern of activity of the regime in Hanoi (capital of North Viet Nam) is in violation of general principles of international law, the U.N. Charter and the Geneva agreement of 1954 on Indo-China.

BUT THE EMPHASIS is still on Red China's activity and not on the part being played by the Soviet government in supporting with arms the aggressions of the North Vietnamese.

Certainly the Soviet premier has unwittingly confirmed how Communist imperialism seeks to control the world.

What did Jesus mean when he said, "I am the door?"—A.H. In ancient times the door was a thing of great importance. Houses had only one entrance. When Christ said "I am the Door" the people understood the exclusiveness of His claim. This one door was the only legitimate entrance to the house. Anyone who tried to get in by some other means showed that he was a thief and did not have honest motives.

When Jesus said, "Behold I stand at the door and knock," he demonstrated that He was not only at the legitimate place of entrance but He was endeavoring to gain admission in the legitimate way.

Park Area

MANTEO, N. C. (AP) — The Cape Hatteras National Seashore Park, this country's first publicly owned ocean-side recreational area, had 1,070,535 visitors in 1964.

National Park Service Supt. Karl T. Gilbert said the number of visitors increased 22.8 per cent over 1964.

"This was the largest number to visit this seashore recreation area," Gilbert said, "since it was created during the early 1950s."

N. Viet Likened To Cuba In 1962

WASHINGTON (AP) — Viet Nam is President Johnson's Cuba.

Johnson, in a way, is doing to the Communist world in Viet Nam what President Kennedy did to it with the Cuban missile showdown in 1962, even though the two situations may not seem parallel.

In 1962 Kennedy, then 21 months in office, dealt directly with Premier Khrushchev, which made the issue seem more simple and clear-cut, since the clamorous Khrushchev had put the missiles in Cuba and was obviously in charge.

Johnson, now 15 months in office, is forcing a showdown directly with the North Vietnamese Communists and indirectly with Red China and Russia which say they support North Viet Nam.

BUT RED China in this case is totally unpredictable. And Khrushchev's successors in the Kremlin are, compared with him, as quiet, shadowy and strange as sleepwalkers.

Just because they are, there is uncertainty about them—whether they hold the reins and can make decisions or are only front men in transition between Khrushchev and some more forceful leadership to come.

This double uncertainty about what to expect—from Red China and Russia—makes Johnson's problem even spookier than Kennedy's.

When Khrushchev put his missiles in Cuba he was testing the American will to resist. If permitted to remain, they would have been a permanent, close-up threat to the United States. Kennedy ordered Khrushchev to take them out.

THE UNITED STATES, if it had failed this challenge, would have suffered not only a military disaster but a political one, too, as a world leader. The course of history might have changed.

Communist power would have increased worldwide, for American allies—and others hopeful of American support against communism—would have been justified in being dubious about U.S. leadership and reliability thereafter.

In this country there is divided opinion on what the United States should do about Viet Nam. It ranges from going all-out to getting out. Argument aside, what follows is based on what Johnson did and his problem in doing it.

Johnson has apparently seen his problem as basically similar to Kennedy's. Although the United States had poured men and supplies into South Viet Nam to stop the Red guerrillas, South Viet Nam was losing.

THE GUERRILLAS were winning so consistently they felt emboldened to attack American bases in South Viet Nam. This, too, was a challenge to American power and leadership. If permitted to go on, the South Vietnamese would have been even more discouraged. The United States struck back by bombing North Viet Nam.

In ordering these air strikes, Johnson was taking a chance, just as Kennedy did, for in this the Communists might not back up and Red China and Russia might go to the aid of North Viet Nam.

There was another chance: That Red China, still lacking nuclear weapons, would not want to get directly into the Viet Nam war although a lack of bombs didn't stop the Chinese from going into the Korean War in 1950.

NEW YORK (AP) — "As with most women, I am not at my best in the morning," said Gina Lollobrigida.

"The day should start at noon. If I am going to have a fight with someone, I have it in the morning. If I have a pleasant romantic rendezvous, I like it in the afternoon or evening."

These opening remarks as we sat down to luncheon left me somewhat in a dilemma. Should I put up my dukes, or recite a love sonnet to Miss Lollobrigida?

THE DARK-HAIRED Italian actress is tempestuous as well as beautiful. Critics have said many things about her many-faceted personality. She herself once remarked drily, "I am an expert on Gina."

"I like to have few but good friends. Enthusiasm. My son more than anything else in the world. The color red when I feel good, black when I'm moody. Gardenias, antique furniture and Etruscan vases. I'd rather spend my money on art than jewels or furs."

Who Cares If The Answer Is Right?

A friend complains that although his wife makes countless errors when performing mathematical computations in her checkbook, the balance always matches that at the bank. All his whooping and hollering for more tidy addition and subtraction, check by check, finds her unconcerned.

"WHAT DIFFERENCE does it make," she asks, "if the final balance is right?" And therein lies the moral.

Our womenfolk are far too intelligent to believe the moribund job of adding a long string of numbers correctly to be truly significant. She has her children, the meals, the housework, perhaps even a job, to think about. Why be concerned with something of so little importance?

FOR OUR WOMENFOLK, after all, are more realistic than to be worried about such highly significant data as the stock market quotes on International Stinkweed for the last three consecutive decades, or her husband's peculiar brand of political delusions, or the interest rate on the house mortgage, compounded semi-quarterly with an allowance for late charges. If the final answer is right, she could care less how the matter is resolved.

THE HUSBAND'S romantic outlook about the election means nothing to her if soup is up two cents at the supermarket. And if the bank says there is still something left to see a movie on Friday night, what difference does it make that the figures in your own checkbook are a bit scrambled?

BUT HUSBANDS take a childish delight in being able to add columns of figures accurately, to such a point that he is always worried that the final total is not enough to feed the hosts at dinner. By keeping a running total, he can worry all the more. And in its own way, it helps him support the fantasy that he is the only one in the family with both feet planted firmly on the ground.

But at Christmas time, who plans all the gift buying down to the final penny—insuring no one is left out and there is something left for a bit of nog? Which one so manipulates the fragile little balance with the abandon of a Wall Street broker so that the tree is all but lost in the stacks of packages?

AND WHILE she is accomplishing such minor miracles, who is down at the office complaining his wife knows nothing about figures, and can't even keep her checkbook in balance?

Battle For Balanced Report

WASHINGTON—As truth is one of the first casualties in a war, the conflict in Viet Nam has inevitably generated a prolonged hassle over the "facts" of that tragic struggle. No one can controvert the acts presented in the State Department White Paper.

BUT THE BASIS of the controversy, going back several years, is the extent to which this hard military intelligence gives a complete picture of what is actually happening in Viet Nam. The quarrel has been between the American military in Saigon and the regular reporters covering the war month after month.

The Pentagon has been so irritated by this coverage that the initial reluctance of some officials was overcome and reporters are being sent from this country on 10-day tours of the war. Thus far 57, chosen from a waiting list of 100, have been given round-trip tickets on Pan American Airways to Saigon and return.

THEY INCLUDE by-line commentators and radio and television reporters as well as writers for such specialized journals as the magazine of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

On arrival in Saigon they are given escorting officers and told they may go wherever they wish.

"WE TELL them they can do whatever they want to," said one Pentagon official. "They can spend the entire time in the cocktail bar of the Caravelle Hotel if they want to."

One motive, according to this official, is to stimulate the regular reporters to get out of Saigon. Those who take the 10-day tour are provided, as are all correspondents, with military transportation to the hot spots. The visitors pay their own way in hotels and other private accommodations.

Sometimes this Pentagon effort to stimulate the flow of the news seems to backfire. One by-line commentator, writing at the time of presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy's inspection trip to Saigon, gave a glowing picture of Bundy as a kind of Paul Revere prepared to return and awaken somnolent Washington to the facts of life. Bundy was quoted after the Pleiku attack as exclaiming, "I wonder what those so-and-sos back in Washington will have to say now." President Johnson was reportedly angered by this dispatch.

THE WAR BETWEEN the regular correspondents and the American military was at its height when David Halberstam was stationed in Saigon for The New York Times. High-ranking officers talked at times as though it were not for Halberstam the war would quickly be won. In his dispatches to the Times he frequently reported the internal conflicts in South Viet Nam and the readiness, or lack of it, of the southerners to support the war effort. Halberstam was awarded a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting from Viet Nam.

As long ago as 1962 an American colonel in the course of his debriefing said:

"Of the 22 American reporters in Saigon 18 are my personal friends and I see them from day to day. But what comes out in their reports no more resembles the truth than black does white."

THE SAME complaint comes from officials at the top level here. Reports out of Saigon, they say, exaggerate minor skirmishes and minor South Vietnamese losses. They fail to present the big picture of the overall resistance in South Viet Nam and the casualties inflicted on the Viet Cong by South Vietnamese forces. Consequently, a false pessimism has hampered the war effort.

Secretary General U Thant ran into a hornet's nest when in the course of calling for negotiations to end the war, said if only the American people "know the true facts and the background to the developments in South Viet Nam" they would agree with him that further bloodshed is unnecessary. Reaction was so immediate that he hastily clarified his statement next day.

WITH THIS LAST it is hard to quarrel, and, as many observers here would agree, it is becoming increasingly difficult to get a balanced picture. More and more, as the conflict is converted into an American war, doubters and critics hesitate to express their doubts. "I wonder what those so-and-sos back in Wash-

Why Parents Can't Add

WASHINGTON—There has been a great deal of discussion about American education in the last 10 years and everyone has come up with his theory as to why Johnny can't add. I know why Johnny can't add. It's because his parents can't do his homework.

In the old days before N. M. (New Math) a kid could bring home his homework and his parents would go over it with him, making corrections or suggestions, and giving encouragement when the going got rough. But today the parent is in the soup because the homework is so complicated that neither the kid nor his parent knows what is going on.

FOR EXAMPLE, the other day my daughter brought home a homework assignment.

"I have to subtract 179 from 202," she said.

"It's quite simple," I said, "you put the 202 over the 179."

"What 10?"

"The 10 that goes next to the 202."

"I don't know what 10 goes next to the 202. Let's subtract 179 from 202. Nine from two is three, and you carry one. Eight from zero is two. The answer is 23."

"WE CAN'T do it that way. We have to use a 10."

"Why 10?"

"Ten is a unit."

"I see. Well, the answer is still 23," I said.

"How do you know?"

"Because I took nine from two and eight from zero."

"Well, I'm going to call your teacher and see how she subtracts 179 from 202."

I placed a call to my daughter's teacher and explained I was having a small problem with the homework she had assigned.

"THE TEACHER was very nice on the phone. 'It's really quite simple,' she said. 'The two on the right hand column is considered units of one. The zero in the center counts for zero tens. The two in the left hand column counts for hundreds. Therefore, you have two hundreds, zero tens, and two ones.'

"You're putting me on," I said.

"Now to subtract," she said. "Go to the hundreds column and start regrouping. Two hundred will become 100. Therefore, 10 tens equal 100. Therefore, bring this 10 to the tens column. Now you have 10 tens, but you still can't subtract in the units column. Therefore, regroup again. Now you only have nine tens. Take 12 from the 10 and now bring it over to the ones column because 10 ones equal one. Now you have 12 ones. Do you understand?"

"WHAT'S THERE not to understand?" I said. "Can I ask you a very, very personal question?"

"Yes, of course."

"Is the answer 23?"

"In this case it is, but it isn't necessarily 23. If you were working in units other than 10, it could be something else."

I HUNG UP and started swallowing a whole bottle of aspirin, but my wife caught me in time. "How many aspirins did you take?" she asked.

"I took seven and then I took five, but don't ask me what it adds up to."

Sheriff's Office To Get Teletype

Teletype service, connecting the Howard County Sheriff's office with law enforcement agencies over all of Texas, will be put in service at once, Aubrey Standard, sheriff, said today.

Howard County Commissioners, at their session Thursday morning, approved the request of the sheriff that he be allowed to install the equipment.

Under the plan, the sheriff's office would no longer use the radio facilities of the city police as is now the case.

The Civil Defense Agency pays for half of the cost of approved radio communication installations such as this and would possibly share in the expense.

He also told the commissioners that with the teletype, he felt his long distance calls would be reduced by two-thirds, and that he would be able to eliminate one of the lines which now serves the office.

Nichols, in his motion to permit installation of the teletype service, commended Standard on his work as sheriff since he took over Jan. 1.

Survey Set On Mental Retardation

Instructions for a study by Big Spring's committee on mental retardation, part of a statewide survey in 60 communities, were given members in a meeting at city hall Wednesday.

Chairman Jack Y. Smith told the committee its report was due in Austin April 15. He said the local committee was to study the mental retardation problem on the community level and its report would then become a part of the state survey, which will be analyzed by a computer system in Austin.

MURDER, SUICIDE Ruled In Deaths SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Murder and suicide were ruled Wednesday in the shooting deaths of a Los Angeles man and a San Antonio divorcee.

The bodies of Mrs. Katee Lee Jones, 24, and Don Tutson, 29, were found in the woman's home. The woman's 3-year-old child was crying near the bodies.

Students Protest U.S. Attacks In Viet Nam

Slogan-shouting Hungarian, African and Asian students are shown during demonstrations recently in front of the U.S. legation building in Budapest. The students protested against U.S. attacks on North Viet Nam. Meanwhile, today in Moscow demonstrators assaulted the U.S. Embassy in a wild incident which appeared to dwarf a demonstration Feb. 9 against the embassy in protest of U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam heavy again this week. Students To Take Official Jobs Friday

Forty-three Big Spring High School students will spend Friday learning the intricacies of operating city and county governments when they follow their elective and appointive counterparts through a day of activities.

The annual students-in-government election was held at the high school by the Student Council, with the campaigns and actual election following Texas election laws. Students voting were required to purchase poll tax receipts at one cent each.

The students will gather with Big Spring and Howard County officials at the Settles Hotel at 7:30 a.m. Friday, for a briefing on what to do, and to meet their official counterparts.

The address, to be given by former District Attorney Gufford Jones, will outline official duties of each and stress the importance of a knowledge of local governmental affairs.

Following the breakfast meeting each student will go to the city or county office he is to fill, for the entire day, or part of the day. A brief meeting of the city commission and of the commissioner's court will be held to demonstrate methods of operation and duties of each.

Some of the students, filling appointive department head positions, will work with men in the field to learn responsibilities of the men and functions of the offices.

Saturday Deadline For City Race

The deadline for filing in the city commission election is now two days away, at Saturday midnight, and two candidates have filed. Incumbent John Stanley and Chester Cathey have filed for the two seats at stake this year. Terms expiring are those of Stanley and Paul Kasch.

The election will be April 6, as set by the city charter. Absentee balloting will begin March 17 and continue until April 2, as set by state law. Filing involves an application for a place on the ballot and signing a loyalty statement. Candidates will draw Monday for places on this year's ballot.

Contests Develop In Most County School Elections

Contests had developed in almost all school races of the county when the deadline for filing passed Wednesday. Voters April 3 will have selections to make in the three independent school districts and in one county board race.

Seven are running for two places on the Coahoma board. J. R. Bales, whose term expires, is asking re-election. New candidates are George (Jerry) Callahan, Travis L. Waller, W. W. Leland, C. C. Harrison, Don Evans, and J. T. Swinney. Absentee votes may be cast at the office of Supt. W. A. Wilson, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Six Forsan County Line Independent School district candidates have filed with County Judge Lee Porter. Candidates are R. L. Rister, Charles V. Spurgin, Robert D. Cowley, Paul Lancaster, Curtis P. Sherman, and Howard L. Dodd. Terms of Cowley and Lancaster expire. Absentee votes may be cast with the Howard County clerk.

For the Howard County board, three candidates are in the race. H. H. Rutherford, bidding for reelection on Commissioners Precinct 1, is unopposed. J. D. Gilmore, incumbent whose term expires in Precinct 2, is being opposed by Jack Y. Smith. Absentee ballots for these officers will be cast at the county clerk's office.

Bowie Man Hurt In Car Accident George C. Cox Jr., Bowie, was treated for minor injuries at Howard County Hospital following a collision of his car with a parked car at 1311 Eleventh Place late Wednesday night. He was released from the hospital this morning.

The parked car was owned by Pat Jones, 1311 Eleventh Place, according to police.

Two other minor accidents were at US 80 west and Mesquite, cars driven by Mrs. Norma Jacobsen, Midland, and Mrs. Thelma Williams, 1804 Johnson; and 700 E. 15th, a car driven by Mrs. Mary Stanton, OK Trail, and a parked car owned by Carl Young, 700 E. 15th.

Fine Arts Show Deadline Friday Painters, craftsmen or sculptors who wish to enter work in the Midland Texas Fine Arts Association Regional show may bring paintings to 607 Caylor before 11 a.m. Friday. Mrs. W. H. Crenshaw, president of Las Artistas Art Club, will take as many entries to Midland as she has room for, and the club also will be responsible for pickup to return the works.

The entries should be labeled and wired for hanging, as specified by the Midland exhibit rules.

R. O. McClinton Dies Today R. O. McClinton, 59, of 8117 Crestview Drive, Houston, was found dead this morning at his home. He apparently suffered a heart attack in his sleep. Mr. McClinton was a former resident of Big Spring, and a conductor for the Texas & Pacific Railway Co.

A brother, A. J. McClinton, and a sister, Mrs. Athalene McIntosh, both residents of Big Spring, plan to attend the funeral in Houston at 2 p.m. Saturday.

He is survived, in addition to the brother and sister of Big Spring, by two children, Edward and Shirley; his mother, a sister, and five brothers.

County Urged To Build New Hangar

Howard Loyd, manager of the Howard County Airport, urged the County Commissioners Court today to go ahead and build a hangar type building at the field now in anticipation the contract for Air Force trainees would possibly be awarded to the county installation.

The building he proposes would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $25,000 to $27,000.

The USAF has asked for bids for the preflight training of Air Force cadets for Webb AFB—a project which could be awarded to any approved airport within an hour's bus ride (at legal speed) from Webb.

Loyd and his associates are making a vigorous effort to land this important operation. One of the elements which will help decide if it will be the additional hangar-office building.

The commissioners, some weeks ago, said they would go along with Loyd and provide a building, if it could be built from not more than $25,000.

At that time, the impression was the building would not be required until the contract had been awarded. Loyd now feels that if the county commissioners would go ahead and put up the building at once, it will be of some impact in helping land the contract. He also pointed out the building would have important worth to the airport regardless of the Air Force contract.

The commissioners told the manager they would talk it over and let him know soon what decision had been reached.

Coahoma Tag Sales Set Special Film Patricia Cox, deputy tax assessor-collector, will be at the Coahoma City Hall from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., March 11 and 12 for the purpose of issuing 1965 car plates to Coahoma residents.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that the Coahoma dates originally set for March 9 and 10, had to be changed because of a conflict in engagements.

She urged all residents of the Coahoma community, who need car plates of any kind, to contact the deputy at the city hall on either March 11 or 12 and save making a trip to town. All types of tags will be issued.

All motorists are asked to bring their car title and last year's registration receipt with them when they apply for their plates. This will save time and effort for the applicant as well as for the deputy.

Lake Hearing Given Delay The hearing on San Angelo's application for an extension of its right to study feasibility of a dam on the Stacy site of the Colorado River will be delayed.

Last year San Angelo was given a six-months period for the study upon filing of a presentation with the Texas Water Commission. Joe D. Carter, chairman of the TWC, said that Sen. Charles Herring, Austin, representing the protesting Lower Colorado River Water Authority, said legislative duties would prevent his appearing.

When the TWC calls the case up Monday, the commission is due to postpone the hearing until some date following adjournment of the legislature, said Carter.

The presentation, however, will remain in full force and effect until further action may be taken by the commission, according to Carter.

The Stacy site is located just below the confluence of the Concho and Colorado rivers and is near the Concho and McCulloch county lines. San Angelo originally filed for a presentation on the Robert Lee site, which the Colorado River Municipal Water District is seeking as a lake location, and when this was denied, the Stacy presentation was filed. The TWC granted this but only for six months. A presentation establishing priority of an applicant during a specified period of study.

One of the jets crashed a half mile from the ranch house of Sparks Rust, and the other planes burned.

Police Widow Bill Offered AUSTIN (AP)—Widows of law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty would get state financial aid under a proposal by Rep. Paul Floyd, Houston.

Enabling legislation for the measure would provide $10,000 for a widow and $5,000 for each minor child of an officer fatally wounded while trying to capture a criminal, the sponsor said.

GOP Urged To Recast Image

WASHINGTON (AP) — GOP National Chairman Dean Burch's assertion that the Republicans have to recast their long-time party image to win elections got the endorsement of Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.

Morton, a former national chairman who heads the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said he agrees with Burch's contention that the seeds of the 1964 election defeat go back for years in which the GOP failed to respond to needs of the times.

LESS PESSIMISTIC

But Morton was far less pessimistic in an interview about the possibility of defeating President Johnson in 1968 than Burch was in a report Tuesday to national chairman-elect Ray Bliss who takes over next month.

"I'm not sure, lacking any dramatic external event or sudden crisis, whether any incumbent can ever be turned out of the present-day office of president — and its powers increase, along with its leverage, with every passing day," Burch said in his report.

"It's been done before and we can do it again," Morton said. "Of course, if we don't make gains in next year's Senate and House elections, I'd feel we wouldn't have much chance for the presidency two years later."

PLACES BLAME

As he has done before, Burch blamed last November's election loss on a legacy of sympathy for the assassinated President John F. Kennedy, on Johnson's use of the federal bureaucracy, on the ideological split in the party and on elements of the press.

Morton said he could not agree that the press could be blamed for what he said the Republicans did to themselves. "When you make news, the press will print it, whether its good or bad for you," he said. "When we deserve the breaks, we'll get them."

Cyprus Mediator Returning To N.Y.

LONDON (AP) — Galo Plaza Lasso, the U.N. mediator for Cyprus, is returning to New York to report failure in his efforts to find a solution to the bitter dispute between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Costs Told In Senate Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many odd, unrelated and fascinating facts about the Senate came to light today with the publication of a six-month report by its secretary, Felton M. Johnson.

The Senate spent $2.66 million on "miscellaneous" items, which is more than the $2,471,000 the members and the vice president draw in pay.

It costs $58,370 to transport members from Washington to their homes twice a session. Last July the Senate bought 72 whiskbrooms for $38.88 and spent $11.88 having its service knives sharpened and $25.85 repairing its sewing machine. Unaccountably, it also invested $27.90 in alpaca coats and $449.05 in 25 blankets in that steaming month.

The Senate library, playing it safe after the July Republican national convention, bought two copies each of two books about Barry Goldwater. The total outlay was $3.50.

Last July was a busy month and the senators used up $46,722 in long-distance telephoning while paying out $33,536 for local phone service. The bill for official telegrams, rendered in August, ran to $62,953.

July and August often found the senators and their staffs thirsty. The Senate was billed $479 for bottled water in July and $688 in August.

Going social, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee put on a series of luncheons for visiting dignitaries. The layout for Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany ran $339.78. But the committee got by with $3.60 in party snacks when it entertained Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto of Pakistan.

Senators get $2,400 a year in stationery allowance. What they don't use they can keep. But the Internal Revenue Service has decreed they must pay income taxes on the residue.

In the period covered by Johnson's report, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., apparently was low on stationery and used up $2,206.45 of his allowance.

Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, seemed to have been well stocked.

Demand For Wool Slipping

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wool is losing ground in a battle for markets between industrial raw materials and farm raw materials.

An Agriculture Department report said today further shifts to the use of lower-priced man-made fibers in many industrial countries is cutting into wool markets.

This battle also has involved cotton, which has lost ground to synthetic fibers, and animal fats, which have lost markets to petroleum-based products in the making of detergents. Beet and cane sugar are beginning to feel the effects of synthetic sweeteners.

The report said world prices of wool have declined 20 to 25 per cent since March 1964. An important factor was a declining use of raw wool by mills in major manufacturing countries, it said.

Cotton has improved its competitive position in relation to synthetic fibers under a new government program reducing prices of cotton to domestic textile manufacturers. How long this situation continues depends on farm legislation this year and possible new efficiencies in the production of industrial fibers.

U.S. production of man-made fibers reached a record high in 1964, up 14 per cent since 1963.

Soldier Billed; Three Killings

BOERNE, Tex. (AP)—Gary Wilkinson 21, a Fort Hood soldier, was under indictment today on charges of murdering three relatives.

The indictments returned by the Kendall County Grand Jury, accused the young soldier of shooting to death his brother, Roger Wilkinson, 23, and with beating to death with a rifle butt his partly paralyzed mother, Mrs. Marian Wilkinson Silvers, 58, and a nephew, Jerry Wilkinson, 3, Thursday.

Sheriff Douglas Juebel quoted Gary as saying he came home for a visit while being transferred from Fort Hood to Ft. Dix, N.J., en route overseas and an argument developed because Army money issued for expenses for the trip to Ft. Dix was missing.

Gary surrendered to officers in San Antonio, where he is being held.

Can Earth Keep From Contaminating Planets?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The search for life on other planets is rapidly approaching its highest hurdle, one that man may not be able to clear with present-day technology.

That hurdle — how to avoid contaminating other worlds with earth bacteria and viruses — has cropped up frequently this week at the Unmanned Spacecraft Meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

BYPASS PUZZLE

So tough is the problem that many scientists and engineers are bypassing it temporarily. They have no choice but to go ahead designing spacecraft that will work and assume meanwhile that someone will find a way to sterilize the vehicles before they land on, or even fly through the atmosphere of, other bodies in our solar system.

It is difficult enough to sterilize the metal spacecraft itself, simply because of the sizes planned in the next few years. Voyager, which the United States is planning to send to Mars by 1971, may be 20 to 30 feet-high and weigh up to 26,000 pounds. Building an oven to heat such a vehicle at 300 degrees Fahrenheit for 24 hours — the sterilization standard set by the U.S. space agency — is no simple task.

OF METAL. But it can be done, two General Electric Co. experts, R. W. Wooten and J. B. Tenney, said in papers prepared for the spacecraft meeting. The vehicles will be of metal, and metal can withstand such heat.

The real problem, they said in an interview, is in sterilizing the plastic electronic parts such as radios, batteries and tape recorders which collect and transmit information necessary before manned landings can be attempted.

MELT, EXPLODE. Plastics are the best material for such parts because of their light weight and insulative qualities. Plastics are wrecked by high and prolonged heat. They melt, expand and even explode under temperatures the germs they contain can survive.

Why worry about sterilization? First, no one wants to take the chance of infecting forms of life that may exist on other planets. Second, only by complete sterilization can scientists be sure that any microscopic life found on alien soil was not imported from earth.

Factory Orders Climb To Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — One reason that business prospects look so good just now is a very prosaic set of figures kept by factory bookkeepers. They show the ratio of new orders to shipments, to inventories, to unfilled orders.

Of all the indicators of where business is heading the one that corporate treasurers find most convincing is a buildup in new orders on the company books. And if these grow faster than stocks pile up, business prospects look glowing indeed.

BUSY DAYS

The backlog of unfilled orders means busy weeks or months ahead for the lucky factories or distributors. And if stocks on hand are increasing at less than a feverish pace, the economy looks that much healthier.

impressive right now, and factory inventories have only edged higher rather than soared.

This means that ordering, except for steel and a few other items where strike threats raise shortage fears, is based on the healthy reason that the goods are wanted now, and are being used up fairly promptly in the general prosperity.

For all manufacturing, new orders in January hit a record $39.7 billion, with durable goods accounting for $21.3 billion of that. In January 1964 durables had $18.5 billion of a total $33 billion.

Unfilled orders on manufacturing books rose to $57.2 billion, compared with $50 billion in January 1964. Durable goods accounted for $54.3 billion of this year's total, against $47 billion the previous year.

While the order books were filling up, inventories also were rising, as is customary in business upswings. This January all manufacturing had $63 billion of stocks on hand, against $60 billion the previous year.

Military Blames Pay For Continuing Manpower Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — power problem. Recruiting has been dropping because of speculation that the draft may be eliminated — something which is now considered unlikely.

The Army reported that more than three out of four junior reserve officers are leaving service after completing their obligated duty. It said about the same 75 per cent of first-term enlisted men are declining to sign up for a second hitch.

EXPERTS LEAVE
The Navy said that "last year we lost over 70,000 first-enlistment men who met the standards for re-enlistment," more than 12,000 of them electronics specialists.

It spoke of "serious shortages" of officers in the grades of lieutenant, lieutenant commander and commander, with current deficiencies totaling about 2,700 officers.

The Air Force said "our most critical retention problem exists in areas where the skills are in the greatest demand by industry.

Over-all, the first-term re-enlistment rate of airmen dropped about 6 per cent in two years to a level of only 29.5 per cent in fiscal 1964.

Air Force officer retention also was about 7 per cent below what the Air Force said is needed.

RATE DECLINES

The Marine Corps reported that the first-term re-enlistment rate has declined over the past three years and is still going down. However, the Marine Corps said it has not yet detected a significant drop in officer retention.

The AP survey came a day after the new chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., proposed that the pay of the nearly 2.7 million men and women in uniform be raised an average of 10.7 per cent.

Rivers calculated his bill would cost an estimated $1 billion a year. It would come on top of $1.4 billion in military pay raises voted by Congress in two stages since 1963.

Crash Kills Son Of Texas Woman

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Joe Lee Eddy, 17-year-old son of an Amarillo, Tex., woman was killed instantly Wednesday on the Ventura Freeway when his car crashed into a concrete bridge railing.

Officials said the youth checked out of Bueschel High School in Santa Clara, Calif., Tuesday, explaining that he was going to Texas to live with his mother, Mrs. Christella Williams.

Junk Nik's Policies, Peking Tells Russia

TOKYO (AP) — Peking told Moscow today to junk all of Nikita Khrushchev's policies if it wants to restore unity to the Communist world.

"N. S. Khrushchev has vanished from the political arena, but Khrushchevism is not dead and buried," said the official Peking People's Daily. "A glance at the propaganda in the Soviet press these days makes this abundantly clear."

The Moscow-Peking dispute "will never end as long as there are still those who believe in Khrushchev revisionism, who follow it and disseminate it, until the day when it is swept clean away," said the paper.

WAS FOUNDER

"Khrushchev was the founder of Khrushchev revisionism," the Chinese party organ said. "When this revisionist line took shape he had dug his own grave. One must ask, if the whole business of Khrushchev revisionism is to be continued, then why oust Khrushchev? Could the continuers really be more able than the founder? Can those who follow in his footsteps reach their destination along the same road that led him up against a stone wall? Can those who believe in Khrushchev revisionism escape the sad end of Khrushchev himself unless they change their ways?"

In Moscow, sources said the conference of 19 Communist parties — originally expected to end Tuesday — may be prolonged until Friday or Saturday by a dispute over what to say publicly about the Red Chinese challenge to Soviet policies.

SOVIET DRAFT

Communist sources in Moscow said a Soviet draft for the conference's final communique referred to the Moscow-Peking dispute only in general terms and stressed the need for unity.

This reportedly was opposed by delegations from Australia, Brazil and India that have strong pro-Chinese factions to fight at home. They wanted a tougher statement.

The Italian and British parties, however, want to avoid the subject altogether for fear of worsening the already deep split. The Italians oppose any final communique.

Foreign Aid Bill Change Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright asked Congress today to make major changes in the Johnson administration's "single package" $3.38-billion foreign aid bill.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a separation of military and economic assistance, greater selectivity in countries and projects to be aided, long-range authorizations and a heavy shift from direct U.S. development loans to multilateral lending by international institutions.

But he emphasized he was not criticizing the theory of foreign aid or the size of the adminis-

OLD WARNING

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, Fulbright recalled serving notice on the administration last October he would refuse to lead the fight in the Senate again for an omnibus measure lumping all direct foreign aid into one omnibus bill.

The administration, after a declaration by Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, that he was "unalterably opposed" to separating the legislation, sent up an omnibus bill. The House unit is in the midst of hearings on it.

Fulbright said he has had "a notable lack of success" over the years in attempts to separate the programs.

"I had hoped that this year the administration might begin," the Arkansas Democrat said. "I still hope that Congress, on its own initiative, will begin the separation of military and economic ingredients of the package and will put substantially more of the development lending program under multilateral management."

SEPARATE BILL

As a starter, Fulbright said he was introducing today as a separate bill one part of President Johnson's $3.38-billion foreign aid request — that dealing with proposed economic aid. It calls for $2.2 billion in appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He said he was not introducing legislation to support the White House request for more than $1.17 billion in military aid because of his objection to "mixing military and economic assistance," and his belief that military assistance should be part of the defense budget.

Later, after the Foreign Relations Committee starts hearings Tuesday on the foreign aid legislation, Fulbright said he will offer other amendments.

Killeen Gets School Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $624,800 grant to the Killeen, Tex., independent school district for construction of an elementary school.

Notifying Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., of the action, the department said the district is eligible for the aid because the school's enrollment has been enlarged because of federal installations in the area. Ft. Hood is at Killeen.

The department also announced it has approved a $66,040 grant to Pasadena, Tex., to help finance a $186,500 expansion of its Golden Acre sewage treatment plant; a $6,950 grant to Dr. Silas W. Grant, Austin, Tex., to conduct a physicians' institute leadership conference; and $21,000 for additions to elementary and junior high schools in Potter County, Tex., Consolidated School District No. 3.

GOP Strives To Regain Negro Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders concerned with reclaiming the Negro vote are considering setting up a national panel on minority policies headed by Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the name of Brooke, who holds the highest elective office filled by a Negro, had been mentioned as a possible head of a panel of this nature which may be set up by the new Republican Coordinating Committee.

The committee, composed of GOP leaders of Congress, former party presidential nominees, governors and members of the GOP National Committee, meets here Wednesday to organize.

STUDY FIELDS

At that time, Dirksen said he expects panels to be set up to study the fields of economic activities and foreign relations. He said no final conclusion has been reached yet on how to tackle the problems of the nation's minorities but establishment of a panel is under discussion.

(the confidence of the nation's minorities in the Republican party and this may be one approach to it," he said.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said in a separate interview he favors action by the coordinating group to broaden party contacts with minority voters of all kinds.

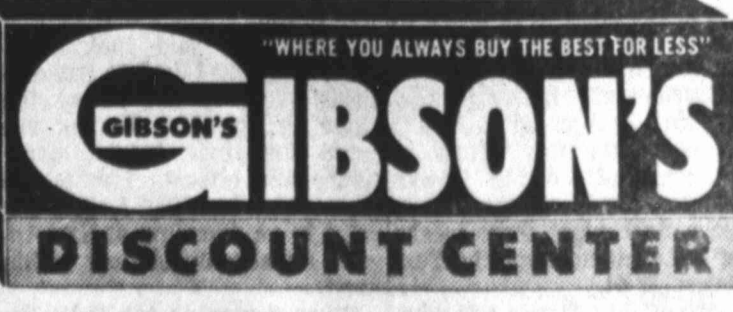

OTHER GROUPS

"We've got to try to establish communication not only with the Negroes but with Spanish-speaking Americans and other ethnic groups," he said.

Dirksen now is working with Johnson administration leaders in attempting to draft a voting rights bill aimed at getting Negroes registered where they are encountering difficulties.

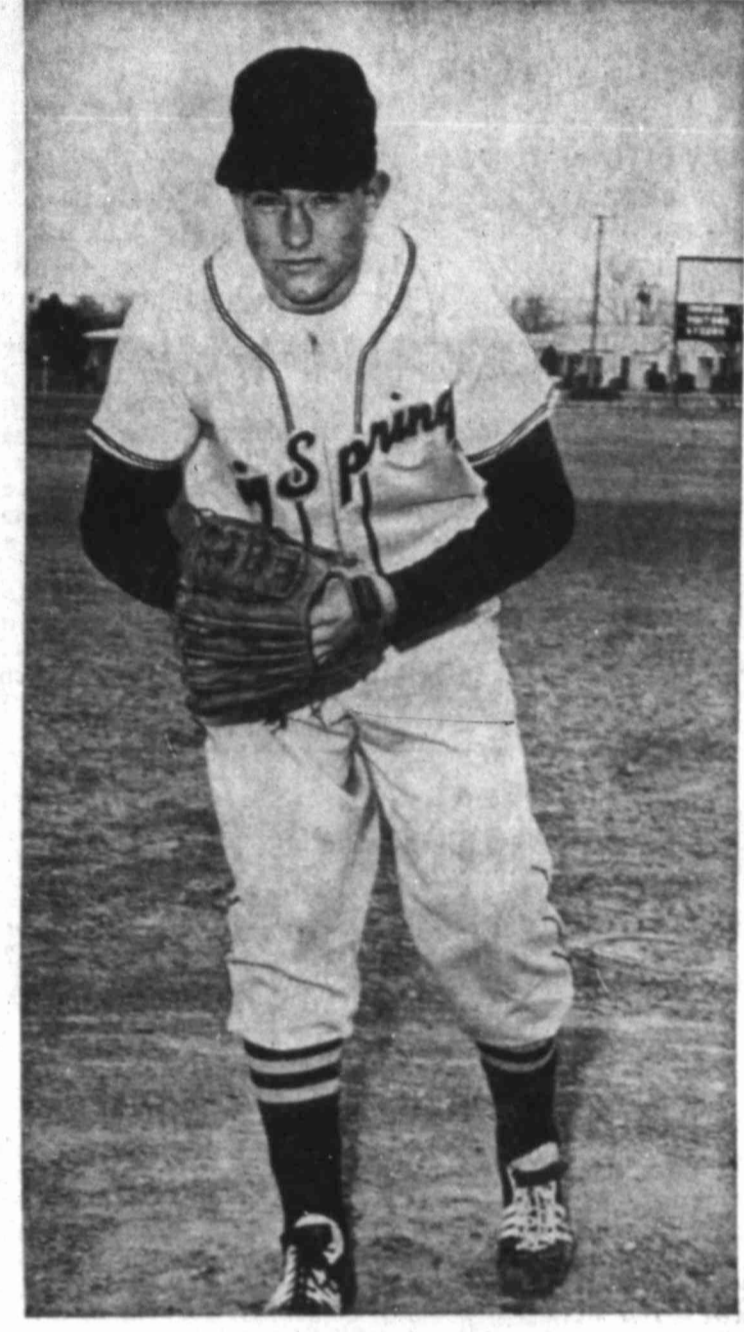

Dirksen expects to rally nearly solid Republican support for a measure of this nature in the Senate. If Southern Democrats try to talk it to death, which now seems unlikely, the Illinois senator obviously believes that would serve to emphasize the GOP position.

Lakers Defeat Celtics Again

BOSTON (AP) — Coach Fred Schaus isn't surprised that the Los Angeles Lakers took two of the only three games the Boston Celtics have lost on their home court this season.

"Any time we play the Celtics we feel we're going to win," Schaus said Wednesday night after Los Angeles came away with a 104-102 victory at Boston. "If we didn't, we should hang up."

That's a proper attitude for the team most likely to meet the Celtics in the finals of the National Basketball Association championship playoffs. But Boston still holds a 7-3 season edge over the Lakers.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia 124-110, Baltimore walloped Cincinnati 151-108 and Detroit downed San Francisco 116-107 in other games Wednesday night.

Steers, Bulldogs Tangle In Meet

Big Spring and Coahoma take part in a practice track and field meet in Memorial Stadium at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Steers will be conditioning themselves for the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder Saturday while Coahoma goes to Winters for an invitational the same day.

Big Spring will be running without the services of miler Charles Thompson, who broke a bone in his foot recently.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Southern Methodist gave Texas a 74-24 ducking in a dual swimming meet here Wednesday night.

Snook Opens State Meet With Krum

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Amazing Snook, which has knocked off several higher division teams on its way to a fabulous 47-1 record, tangles with Krum and its tiny scoring whiz, Bill Hall, today in the opening game of the 45th annual State Schoolboy Basketball Tournament.

"If we can get past them, we may be able to win it," said Krum Coach F. H. George.

The Snook-Krum Class B game (8:45 a.m.) touches off three days of competition to determine five state championships, B, A, AA, AAA and AAAA.

That will be followed by a 10:10 a.m. B game between Grady and Fort Davis. Meadow and Deweyville drew first-round byes in B and advanced to the semi-final round, scheduled for Friday.

The Blue Jays from East Central Texas, making their second appearance in the tournament, ran up a 24-game winning streak before falling to one of the meet's Class AAAA favorites, Houston Jones, 57-39, then won 23 in a streak which is still going.

Krum could be Snook's toughest test. Hall, a 5-8 senior, has pumped in 2,246 points in four years and is averaging 22 points a game this year. The Bobcats have a 33-7 record.

Snook, paced by 6-5 junior Calvin Gerke, is the tournament's big favorite, but probable winners have emerged in the other four classes.

Jones, with four players averaging more than 11 points a game, and Dallas Jefferson, a 1962 champion, are expected to move into the AAAA finals. El Paso, a four-time winner which includes the tournament's first two titles in 1921 and 1922, and Kingsville are the other AAAA entries.

Play in that class begins Friday afternoon.

High-scoring San Marcos, bringing an 18-game winning streak to the meet, is a slight favorite in AAA. The Rattlers, who include all-state football tackle Gordon Klunkert as a starter, will meet West Orange tonight. Waxahachie, a 1958 title winner, plays Brownwood in the other semi-final contest tonight.

Phillips, paced by senior Larry Lewis who's averaging 23.8 points a game, should take home the AA crown. The Blackhaws, 29-4, and Port Acres, a newcomer to the tourney, play this afternoon. Two other teams gaining the meet for the first time, Lake Worth (Fort Worth) and Randolph Air Force Base are the other AA semi-finalists.

Another former champion, West Sabine (Pineland) will open against Whitesboro in Class A and is favored to move on into the finals opposite Woodsboro, which takes on Gruver in the first round.

Watson Is New Hoosier Coach

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Lou Watson, who has been part of Indiana University basketball 16 of the last 19 years, will take on the rugged assignment of succeeding head coach Branch McCracken and rebuilding the Hoosiers.

Watson knew exactly what he faced when he accepted the job Wednesday, effective at the end of the current season. He has been McCracken's assistant since 1958.

"I'll lose the seven top boys from this year, and it's going to be rough," Watson said. "And recruiting is getting tougher all the time."

He'll have help from his boss, who is retiring after 24 years on the job but will stay at the university as a professor of physical education.

Watson signed a three-year contract and announced that Don Luft will move up from freshman coach to be his assistant.

EDDIE WOLSKI

Wolski Gets Scholarship

COAHOMA — Eddie Wolski, All-District 6-A tackle for the Coahoma Bulldogs, has been awarded a four-year athletic scholarship at McMurry College in Abilene.

Eddie, who also placed kicked for Coahoma's 10-1 team last year, will not sign a letter-of-intent with the Methodist school until after track season. Wolski throws the weights for the Bulldog thinsy clads.

He is the second player off the 1964 Coahoma team to get a scholarship. The other was halfback Eddie McHugh, who is going to San Angelo College.

Wolski recently was named the Lineman of the Year on the Coahoma club and awarded a certificate by the Big Spring Daily Herald.

Eddie's playing weight his senior year was listed at 285 pounds.

Stallworth Is Popular Pick

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wichita's Dave Stallworth, generally regarded as one of the top players in Valley history, was nearly a unanimous choice on the 1965 All-Missouri Valley basketball team announced today by The Associated Press.

Gary Thompson, the Wichita first-year coach who adjusted to Stallworth's mid-season departure and led the Shockers to a Valley crown, was a solid choice for Valley coach of the year.

Joining the 6-foot-7 Stallworth on the first team were John Reuther, 6-7 Louisville senior; Rick Park, 6-2 Tulsa senior, and Kelly Pete, 6-1 Wichita junior. All were strong first team choices.

The fifth first team spot went to Eddie Jackson, 6-6 Bradley junior, by a scant one-vote margin over Gene West, 6-4 Drake senior.

West headed the second team, with Willie Davis of North Texas, a 6-foot-8, 235-pound sophomore, not far behind. The other second team choices — Rich Naes and Gil Beckemeier of St. Louis and Ernie Thompson of Bradley — were only a few votes ahead of Garry Garrison, St. Louis, Dave Leach, Wichita, and Eddie Creamer, Louisville.

Davis, the league's top rebounder with a 13.3 average, was named Valley sophomore of the year with Wichita's Jamie Thompson close behind. Thompson's deadly shooting down the stretch was essential to Wichita.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Here is The Associated Press All-Missouri Valley basketball team for 1965: Dave Stallworth, Wichita, 6-foot-7, senior from Dallas, Tex.

Eddie Jackson, Bradley, 6-6, junior, Peoria, Ill.

John Reuther, Louisville, 6-7, senior, Reagon, Mo.

Kelly Pete, Wichita, 6-1, junior, Wichita Park, Tulsa, 6-2, senior, Sayre, Pa.

Second Team: Rich Naes, St. Louis, 6-5; Willie Davis, North Texas, 6-8; Gil Beckemeier, St. Louis, 6-8; Gene West, Drake, 6-4; Ernie Thompson, Bradley, 6-3.

Honorable Mention: Eddie Creamer, Louisville; Gary Garrison and Rick Rineberg, St. Louis; Dave Leach and Jamie Thompson, Wichita; Herman Collands, Tulsa; Don Rolles and Rick Krisk, Cincinnati; Albert Jones, North Texas; Bob Netolicky and Gene Bogash, Drake.

Jayhawk Tracksters Look To Fort Worth

Coach Red Lewis will take 10 boys to Fort Worth Friday to defend HCJC's title in the junior college and freshman division of the annual Southwest

Recreational Track Meet. "I don't know what the other schools have, but it looks like Baylor and the Abilene Christian in the freshman division. Both of them are loaded with good freshmen," said Lewis. As for the Jayhawks' chances of repeating as division winner, Lewis said, "We're not as strong as we were last year."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Buddy Travis, the HCJC basketball mentor, took time off last week to scout Cisco's Wranglers in the Texas JC tournament at Temple. Despite Cisco's defeat by Wharton in the finals of the meet, Travis says the Wranglers are all they're cracked up to be.

Cisco is seeded first and HCJC second in the Region V tournament starting at Amarillo today. The Cisco coaching staff has done an especially good job of scouting Negro talent.

Wharton's starting team is made up of four New York boys, plus Odie Booker, a strapping young man who accepted an HCJC scholarship offer a couple of years ago and then threw it over to enroll at Wharton.

If there was ever any doubt that HCJC's basketball team is unpopular with the Region V tournament committee, the pairings drawn up for this year's meet should prove it.

Year in and year out, regardless of whether they are seeded first or unseeded, the Hawks are invariably matched against the toughest first round opponents.

San Angelo, which seems to lead a charmed life, usually gets smooth sailing to the finals.

There is some talk, by the way, that a local service club will front a campaign to bring the Region V tournament here. It has been held in one place too long.

College basketball prospects were rather lean in last week's Region VI-B tournament held here, which probably accounts for the fact that no senior college scouts were on hand.

Probably the most promising of the group was Fort Davis' Bill Moos, the 17-year-old 6-foot-6 rebounder — tough on defense.

Moos didn't even play the game last year due to the state's transfer rule.

NBC is shooting color film far in advance for what will be an hour-long spectacular on Joe Namath, the Alabama football phenom.

Last athlete to get that treatment was the Ole Miss quarterback, Glynn Griffing — who didn't make it with the pros.

Rogelio Reyes, the Mexican boxer who is fighting under the aegis of Martin County's Melton McMorris, recently won a ten-round co-feature in a Juarez ring over Victorio Guzman.

Another McMorris' tigers, Salvador Ibarra, however, was taken out by Firpo Macias in the first round on the same card.

In Texas high school baseball play this year, players are required to wear helmets at all times while batting. They can discard them after becoming base runners, however.

Virtually every team in the NFL can already meet its 1965 payroll for the year out of advance ticket sales. Most teams are already limiting them to make seats available to the less-affluent fans who cannot afford a season-ticket investment, but might some day.

The ABC television network is preparing a one-hour documentary on Johnny Keane, manager of the New York Yankees, titled "The Texas Yankee."

Keane, of course, makes his off-season home in Houston.

Caddies are in such short supply since the coming of the golf cart that sponsors of the recent PGA Seniors tournament in Florida were forced to advertise in the newspapers for bag-toters.

Fort Davis Opens Meet With Talpa

Fort Davis (89-B) and Talpa-Centennial (82-B) open first round play in the Region VI-B girls' basketball tournament at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Howard County Junior College.

As was the case in last week's boys' regional, only five teams are entered. One of those is Forsan, District 83-B titlist.

Semi-final games Saturday morning will pit Trent (85-B) against the winner of the Fort Davis-Talpa-Centennial game at 9:45 a.m. while Forsan squares off against Gail (98-B) at 11:45 a.m.

Third place game will be unseeded at 7 p.m. Saturday while the championship goes on the line at 8:30 p.m. Winner here goes to the State tournament in Austin.

Trent is the overwhelming favorite in the meet. The Trent team is the defending state champion and brings a sensational 36-1 record here. Only Class A Roosevelt has beaten the Trent club this year.

Tommy Hart

As for the Jayhawks' chances of repeating as division winner, Lewis said, "We're not as strong as we were last year."

WBA Winner Eyes Clay

CHICAGO (AP) — Winner of the World Boxing Association sanctioned heavyweight title bout between Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen Friday night may get a September match here with Cassius Clay, generally accepted heavyweight champion.

Sponsors of the 15-round Terrell-Machen scrap at the International Amphitheatre disclosed today that Clay spokesmen approached them concerning the September bout, possibly at Comiskey Park.

Irv Schoenwald, co-promoter of Friday night's fight, said that if Clay chose to fight Terrell or Machen, a better site would be McCormick Place, capable of seating 20,000.

"We could get closed-circuit television coverage equal to any available elsewhere and it would be better holding the fight indoors for TV purposes," said Schoenwald.

Ben Bentley, veteran fight publicist handling the Terrell-Machen bout, said Herbert Muhammad, son of Black Muslim head, Elijah Muhammad, and John Ali, secretary of the Negro sect to which Clay belongs as Muhammad Ali, expressed interest in a Chicago title defense against Friday night's winner.

Clay reportedly now is in Miami, Fla., gearing for intensive preparation for his May 25 rematch with Sonny Liston in Boston.

It was because of Clay's agreement to a rematch with Liston that the WBA stripped Cassius of his title in the 47 states under its jurisdiction. New York and Massachusetts, plus the British Boxing Board, still regard Clay as reigning heavyweight champ.

Jayhawks Face Rugged Texans In Regional

AMARILLO — It's tournament time here again and HCJC Jayhawks will open the tournament at 2 p.m. today when they meet the Texans of South Plains.

Eight teams from two conferences are taking part in the tourney, including Cisco Junior College, the number three rated junior college in the country. The Wranglers of Cisco have a 30-2 record for the season and are top seeded in the tourney.

Second seeded are the Jayhawks with a 20-10 record. Ranger Junior College is rated third and San Angelo fourth with a 16-10 record. Other teams in the tourney include Decatur Baptist College, NMMI, and Amarillo College.

The Jayhawks hold two wins over the Texans, but have dropped one decision to them. In the first meeting of the two clubs in December in the Odesa Tournament, HCJC took a 98-88 win. Next came a Jan. 5 meeting of the two teams in Big Spring, which the Hawks won by a 100-77 margin. Then came a dark night three weeks later in Levelland when the Texans won, 87-64.

Coach Buddy Travis will likely start Eddy Nelson, Tom Carter, Kirt Papp, Keith Bond and Jim Flowers or Larry Morris.

The Texans will likely go with a starting lineup of Charles Turnbow, Dwight Haley, Melvin Davis, Dennis Patton and Wendell Hilton.

Travis has said that South Plains has the talent to win and he is probably not taking the game lightly. The Texans are noted for their height, experience and offense. This is the team which beat San Angelo one point in an overtime at San Angelo, an accomplishment within itself.

Other games on tap today include San Angelo vs. Decatur Baptist, Cisco vs. NMMI, Amarillo vs. Ranger.

Snow Belt Stretches Far South To Mississippi Delta

Blustery weather which has buffeted north-central areas this week appeared tapering off today as the snow belt stretched southward deep into the Mississippi Valley. Heavy snow, with gusty winds, hit sections of Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Missouri, Southern Illinois and western Kentucky. Amounts measured six inches in some areas and strong winds caused much drifting. Light snow continued in parts of South Dakota and Iowa and freezing drizzle fell on the heavy snow covering in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Employment Rules Outlined For Hiring Alien Workers

Farmers and ranchers considering the importation of alien workers now face the prospect of a $1.25 per hour minimum wage rate. While the new policy statement by Tracy C. Murrell, regional administrator for the U.S. Department of Labor bureau of employment security, does not establish a domestic wage rate, it does mean that domestics must be offered this rate along with specified working conditions before applications can be filed for braceros.

"We wish to make it clear that this action in no way establishes wage rates for domestic agricultural workers," said Murrell. "The employer can, as in the past, employ domestic workers at any rate agreeable to the domestic worker. This action (minimum wage rate offers) is being taken solely to prevent adverse effect in the United States."

Three Seeking C-City Posts

COLORADO CITY — Two incumbents and one newcomer have filed for seats on the Colorado City Independent School Board. The election is set for April 3. The incumbents are Warren Anderson, Colorado City farmer, and Bill Carter, partner in a sand and gravel business. They are unopposed in their bid for re-election. The newcomer, O. B. True-lock Jr., Mitchell County farmer, is unopposed in his bid for a school board seat, as incumbent Warren Costin is not seeking re-election. Deadline for filing was Wednesday.

Jaycee Snake Hunt Gets Started Today

The third annual Rattlesnake Roundup will open its collection of snakes at the Big Spring fairgrounds Friday morning. Kicked off by a parade through downtown Big Spring this afternoon, the roundup will continue through Sunday. Again deep-fat fried snake meat will be served to the public. The roundup is expected to include several thousand snakes gathered from dens in the Howard County area. Jaycees sponsor the event here each year.

Highlight of the roundup will be the dinner and dance at Big Spring Country Club Saturday night, with the selection of Miss Diamondback from among contestants from Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College. More than 1,000 rattlesnakes are expected to be exhibited at the fairgrounds during the roundup.

Registration for hunters will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 8 a.m. until noon Sunday. Part of the roundup this year will be a wildlife exhibit, containing a group of animals recently purchased in Laredo by a local pet store operator. The exhibit will be housed in cages constructed at the fairgrounds by members of the Jaycees and Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 66-C of Webb AFB.

Bill Ransberger, Sweetwater snake handler, and Shelly Downs, Florida reptile curator, were to arrive at the fairgrounds this afternoon with the first collection of snakes. Demonstrations of snake handling will be presented by Ransberger and Downs during the three days. Members of the Jaycees and wives of the Class 66-C members will join in cooking and serving the fried rattlesnake meat at the fairgrounds.

A series of prizes and trophies are to be awarded winning snake hunters Sunday afternoon. Tickets for the dinner and dance at Big Spring Country Club are being sold through Saturday by Jaycees, at $3.50 per person. The buffet dinner is to include prime rib beef. A sixth entrant in the Miss Diamondback Pageant was received today, Madeleine Michelle (Shelly) Cole, 16, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. C. H. Cole Jr.

Miss Cole is a junior student at Big Spring High School, a member of the Student Council and is sponsored by Warhawk Flight, Webb AFB. The contestants in the pageant were to ride in the parade through downtown Big Spring today. The winning entrant will receive a $100 college scholarship, with the winner to be named from among the top three contestants at the dance Saturday night.

MADELINE (SHELLY) COLE received today, Madeleine Michelle (Shelly) Cole, 16, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. C. H. Cole Jr. Miss Cole is a junior student at Big Spring High School, a member of the Student Council and is sponsored by Warhawk Flight, Webb AFB.

The contestants in the pageant were to ride in the parade through downtown Big Spring today. The winning entrant will receive a $100 college scholarship, with the winner to be named from among the top three contestants at the dance Saturday night.

A Case Of Snake Fever

Warhawk Flight of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB has a case of snake fever. With characteristic military forthrightness, the 20 members of Class 66-B in this flight, together with a dozen or more instructors, have organized operation FANG to do something about it.

Not only have they entered in the Jaycee Rattlesnake Derby here this weekend, but they have an entry in the Miss Diamondback contest. There was a rumor Thursday that Warhawk Flight had been doing some aerial reconnaissance, and members openly admitted they had a light plane at their disposal for reconnoitering Saturday for promising rattler routes. Their happy hunting grounds is a military secret.

They had a few other sneaky — make that snaky — tricks up their skirts but weren't talking about them. Capt. Bernard A. Regets will be chief Rattler Rouser for the students and instructors, while Lt. Gary S. Olin, noted for quick retreats, has been chosen as Medicine Man. Organized into teams of three under the motto of FEAR (Fangs Exposed, Always Run), the men will have a Serpent Seeker, who applies the gasoline to dens; a Snake Snatcher, who (because he got outwitted) catches and sacks the snakes; and the Reptile Runner, who salts the rattles of each snake and transports it to the Jaycee snakepits.

Long on adventure, if short on experience, the Warhawk party is not totally without background for snake recognition. Some claim to have seen snake eyes on other occasions. "The report that their wives may not let them go is in error. This rumor grew out of a hope. James Ray Savanna, 19-year-old airman from Webb AFB, pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of burglary, when brought before Judge Ralph Catton in 118th District Court. He was sentenced to serve three years in prison and the sentence was then suspended on good behavior. He had no previous record of conviction for felony, he testified. Savanna and a companion, Paul Reeves, allegedly broke into the Army Surplus Store on Main Street the night of Nov. 9. Entrance was gained through a skylight and a large quantity of clothing and other merchandise was taken. Some of this was hidden in brush some miles from town. It was found and officers investigating came upon a slip of paper at the scene bearing the name of one of the young defendants. This led to their interrogation and to the discovery of additional stolen loot in their barracks. Wayne Burns, district attorney, recommended that the sentence be suspended.

Two Families Leaving U.S. For Australia

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Last November Robert Ansett told his boss that he had such faith in Republican Barry Goldwater's chance for the presidency that he'd leave the country if he lost. Early this morning Ansett, his wife, their three children and another couple and their three children sailed aboard the SS Iberia for Australia and a new home. "My bet just brought the situation to a head faster than it would have been," said Ansett, 31.

"We'd have left sooner or later anyway, with things here the way they are." Peter Kemmsies, 30, Ansett's neighbor in San Diego and now traveling companion, said they had been thinking about leaving for several months. "This country has treated us well," said Kemmsies, a construction firm owner. "But we can't live in the past. I have a responsibility to my wife and my kids to make sure that they'll have an opportunity to think for themselves. "INITIATIVE GONE" "The way the United States is going, government even regulates your personal insurance. There's just no initiative left."

Ansett, a bakery route salesman, said "Australia presently is more socialistic than the United States but the trend there is toward conservatism. It's just the opposite here," he said. Specifically, Ansett said he objected to the tax structure, Social Security, government controls on commerce and "taking the initiative from the individual." "There just isn't the opportunity now that there was when the country was young," he said. "NOT BITTER" Kemmsies agreed, adding "we're not bitter. But if our children want to be independent and think and do for themselves without all the government controls they'll just have to get out of here. It's a great country, but it's not what it used to be."

Andrews Plays Two Games Here Friday

Big Spring High School is poised to open its 1965 baseball season in a doubleheader here Friday. First of two seven-inning games gets under way at 1 p.m. Originally, the Longhorns were to have played Andrews a single game tomorrow and gone to Snyder for two Saturday but

Partnership Tourney Set By Country Club Mar. 14

The Big Spring Country Club will stage a Handicap Partnership Golf tournament Sunday, March 14.

Entry will be limited to membership in the Country Club, the Big Spring Golf Association and Webb players.

Entry fee will be $5 per team and merchandise prizes will go to winners. Up-to-date handicap cards will be required of players.

These with handicaps of 10 and under can team only with players boasting handicaps of 11 strokes and over. Maximum handicaps allowed will be 18 strokes a player.

Competitors can choose their own partners, so long as they observe the qualifying rules.

Play will be over 18 holes and entries can choose their own starting times.

Player Joins Pros On Tour

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player officially joined the 1965 pro golf tour today with the first round of the $65,000 Pensacola Open, and he thinks he may get his season off to a good start.

"Here it's not how hard you hit the ball but how well," Player said Wednesday after touring the 6,142-yard, par-72 Pensacola Country Club course in 69.

"The average greens today are being built too big," he said. "This is a good course."

The bantam belter from South Africa, who has been vacationing at his home the past few months, is one of 52 top-flight pros teeing off in the 72-hole open.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, neither of whom has won a tournament this year, are favored to give defending champion Player the hardest fight.

Palmer sank a 140-yard hole-in-one on the 11th Wednesday with a seven iron as he carded a 71 in the pro-am warmup won by Frank Beard with a sizzling 65.

Miller Barber, who tied Palmer and Player's in last year's Pensacola Open but lost in the playoff, was second with 66.

Lakers Defeat Celtics Again

BOSTON (AP) — Coach Fred Schaus isn't surprised that the Los Angeles Lakers took two of the only three games the Boston Celtics have lost on their home court this season.

"Any time we play the Celtics we feel we're going to win," Schaus said Wednesday night after Los Angeles came away with a 104-102 victory at Boston. "If we didn't, we should hang up."

That's a proper attitude for the team most likely to meet the Celtics in the finals of the National Basketball Association championship playoffs. But Boston still holds a 7-3 season edge over the Lakers.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia 124-110, Baltimore walloped Cincinnati 151-108 and Detroit downed San Francisco 110-107 in other games Wednesday night.

Steers, Bulldogs Tangle In Meet

Big Spring and Coahoma take part in a practice track and field meet in Memorial Stadium at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Speedy Moffett, the Snyder coach, called in to cancel the Saturday games due to a conflict with a track meet there. Since there will be no school tomorrow, either here or at Andrews, coach Roy Baird asked Andrews to come early.

Bad weather has handicapped the Steer drills but most other West Texas teams have been similarly slowed by the elements.

Charley (Swiftly) Burdette and Freddie Miers may get the mound calls for tomorrow's games. Baird can also call upon such boys as Larry Broughton, Hank Pope, Gary Mears, Johnny McCullough, Bobby Griffin and David Mitchell.

Griffin is apt to see some action on the mound in the first game and then switch to first base in relief of Eddie Thomas.

Yogi Anderson will start behind the plate in the first game but Eddie Crittenden and Johnny Stone will both fill in at that position. Right now, Anderson shapes up as Big Spring's cleanup batter.

Howard Bain will be third, Johnny Thomas at shortstop, Gregg Pate at second and Eddie Thomas at third while Jesse Zapata will start in left, Van Tom Whatley in center and Jerry Wilson in right.

Bain, Pate, Eddie Thomas and Whatley were regulars at the end of last season.

Stone can also be pressed into duty as an outfielder. Sammy Mims will see action at shortstop and third base. Gary Gressett is a reserve infielder, as is Rod Roberts. Terry Smith is bidding for an outfield job, as are Ronald Robey and Berry King.

After tomorrow, the Steers will be idle until next Friday, at which time they start a two-game series with Colorado City, which will be unreeling on successive days.

The Steers will again be shy on power this year and will lean more on their defense and bunting ability.

The locals do not begin conference play until April 6, at which time they visit Midland for a bout with Lee.

WBA Winner Eyes Clay

CHICAGO (AP) — Winner of the World Boxing Association-sanctioned heavyweight title bout between Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen Friday night may get a September match here with Cassius Clay, generally accepted heavyweight champion.

Sponsors of the 15-round Terrell-Machen scrap at the International Amphitheatre disclosed today that Clay spokesmen approached them concerning the September bout, possibly at Comiskey Park.

Irv Schoenwald, co-promoter of Friday night's fight, said that if Clay chose to fight Terrell or Machen, a better site would be McCormick Place, capable of seating 20,000.

"We could get closed-circuit television coverage equal to any available elsewhere and it would be better holding the fight indoors for TV purposes," said Schoenwald.

Ben Bentley, veteran fight publicist handling the Terrell-Machen bout, said Herbert Muhammad, son of Black Muslim head, Elijah Muhammad, and John Ali, secretary of the Negro sect to which Clay belongs as Muhammad Ali, expressed interest in a Chicago title defense against Friday night's winner.

Clay reportedly now is in Miami, Fla., gearing for intensive preparation for his May 25 rematch with Sonny Liston in Boston.

It was because of Clay's agreement to a rematch with Liston that the WBA stripped Cassius of his title in the 48 states under its jurisdiction. New York and Massachusetts, plus the British Boxing Board, still regard Clay as reigning heavyweight champ.

Snook Opens State Meet With Krum

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Amazing Snook, which has knocked off several higher division teams on its way to a fabulous 47-1 record, tangles with Krum and its tiny scoring whiz, Bill Hall, today in the opening game of the 45th annual State Schoolboy Basketball Tournament.

"If we can get past them, we may be able to win it," said Krum Coach F. H. George.

The Snook-Krum Class B game (8:45 a.m.) touches off three days of competition to determine five state championships, B, A, AA, AAA and AAAA.

That will be followed by a 10-10 a.m. B game between Crawford and Fort Davis. Meadow and Deweyville drew first-round byes in B and advanced to the semi-final round, scheduled for Friday.

The Blue Jays from East Central Texas, making their second appearance in the tournament, ran up a 24-game winning streak before falling to one of the meet's Class AAAA favorites, Houston Jones, 57-39, then won 23 in a streak which is still going.

Krum could be Snook's toughest test. Hall, a 5-8 senior, has pumped in 2,246 points in four years and is averaging 22 points a game this year. The Bobcats have a 33-7 record.

Snook, paced by 6-5 junior Calvin Gerke, is the tournament's big favorite, but probable winners have emerged in the other four classes.

Jones, with four players averaging more than 11 points a game, and Dallas Jefferson, a 1962 champion, are expected to move into the AAAA finals. El Paso, a four-time winner which includes the tournament's first two titles in 1921 and 1922, and Kingsville are the other AAAA entries.

Play in that class begins Friday afternoon.

High-scoring San Marcos, bringing an 18-game winning skid to the meet, is a slight favorite in AAA. The Rattlers, who include all-state football tackle Gordon Klunkert as a starter, will meet West Orange tonight. Waxahachie, a 1958 title winner, plays Brownwood in the other semi-final contest tonight.

Phillips, paced by senior Larry Lewis, who's averaging 23.3 points a game, should take home the AA crown. The Blackhaws, 29-4, and Port Acres, a newcomer to the tourney, play this afternoon. Two other teams gaining the meet for the first time, Lake Worth (Fort Worth) and Randolph Air Force Base are the other AA semi-finalists.

Another former champion, West Sabine (Pineland) will open against Whitesboro in Class A and is favored to move on into the finals opposite Woodsboro, which takes on Gruver in the first round.

West headed the second team, with Willie Davis of North Texas, a 6-foot-8, 235-pound sophomore, not far behind. The other second team choices — Rich Naes and Gil Beckemeier of St. Louis and Ernie Thompson of Bradley — were only a few votes ahead of Gary Garrison, St. Louis, Dave Leach, Wichita, and Eddie Creamer, Louisville.

Davis, the league's top rebounder with a 13.3 average, was named Valley sophomore of the year with Wichita's Jamie Thompson close behind. Thompson's deadly shooting down the stretch was essential to Wichita.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Here is The Associated Press All-Missouri Valley conference basketball team for 1965:

Dave Stallworth, Wichita, 6-foot-7, senior, from Dallas, Tex.

Eddie Jackson, Bradley, 6-4, junior, from Dallas, Tex.

Kelly Pete, Wichita, 6-1, junior, Wichita, Ark.

Rich Noes, St. Louis, 6-5, Willie Davis, North Texas, 6-8, Gil Beckemeier, St. Louis, 6-9, Gene West, Drake, 6-4, Ernie Thompson, Bradley, 6-3.

Honorable Mention Eddie Creamer, Louisville; Gary Garrison and Rick Rineberg, St. Louis; Dave Leach and Jamie Thompson, Wichita; Herman Collins, Tulsa; Don Rolfe and Ron Krick, Cincinnati; Albert Jones, North Texas; Bob Neticovsky and Gene Bogosh, Drake.

Wolski Gets Scholarship

COAHOMA — Eddie Wolski, All-District 6-A tackle for the Coahoma Bulldogs, has been awarded a four-year athletic scholarship at McMurry College in Abilene.

Eddie, who also placed kicked for Coahoma's 10-1 team last year, will not sign a letter-of-intent with the Methodist school until after track season. Wolski throws the weights for the Bulldog thinny clads.

He is the second player off the 1964 Coahoma team to get a scholarship. The other was halfback Eddie McHugh, who is going to San Angelo College.

Wolski recently was named the Lineman of the Year on the Coahoma club and awarded a certificate by the Big Spring Daily Herald.

Eddie's playing weight his senior year was listed at 203 pounds.

Stallworth is Popular Pick

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wichita's Dave Stallworth, generally regarded as one of the top players in Valley history, was nearly a unanimous choice for the 1965 All-Missouri Valley basketball team announced today by The Associated Press.

Gary Thompson, the Wichita first-year coach who adjusted to Stallworth's mid-season departure and led the Shockers to a Valley crown, was a solid choice for Valley coach of the year.

Joining the 6-foot-7 Stallworth on the first team were John Reuther, 6-7 Louisville senior; Rick Park, 6-2 Tulsa senior, and Kelly Pete, 6-1 Wichita junior. All were strong first spot men choices.

The fifth first spot went to Eddie Jackson, 6-6 Bradley junior, by a scant one-vote margin over Gene West, 6-4 Drake senior.

West headed the second team, with Willie Davis of North Texas, a 6-foot-8, 235-pound sophomore, not far behind. The other second team choices — Rich Naes and Gil Beckemeier of St. Louis and Ernie Thompson of Bradley — were only a few votes ahead of Gary Garrison, St. Louis, Dave Leach, Wichita, and Eddie Creamer, Louisville.

Fort Davis Opens Meet With Talpa

Fort Davis (89-B) and Talpa-Centennial (82-B) open first round play in the Region VI-B girls' basketball tournament at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Howard County Junior College.

As was the case in last week's boys' regional, only five teams are entered. One of those is Forsan, District 83-B titlist.

Semi-final games Saturday morning will pit Trent (85-B) against the winner of the Fort Davis-Talpa-Centennial game at 9:45 a.m. while Forsan squares off against Gall (98-B) at 11:45 a.m.

Third place game will be unreeled at 7 p.m. Saturday while the championship goes on the line at 8:30 p.m. Winner here goes to the state tournament in Austin.

Trent is the overwhelming favorite in the meet. The Trent team is the defending state champion and brings a sensational 36-1 record here. Only Class A Roosevelt has beaten the Trent club this year.

Beal, coached by H. K. Lund, beat Barstow in bi-district play at Midland earlier this week, 51-38, to earn the right to play here.

Forsan mauled Mertzon, 54-

24, here earlier this week to qualify. In that one, coach James Blake of the Buffalo Queens made liberal use of his substitute after the Queens caniced away the decision early.

Trent mauled Ira, 71-53, to earn its spot in the Regional while Talpa-Centennial was getting by Rochelle, 37-22.

Fort Davis and Talpa-Centennial are the two schools which also had teams in last week's boys' meet.

Dr. Melvin Crawford will again serve as tournament director. Assisting him will be Anna Smith and Marshall Box. Coaches and officials will gather at the college at 6 p.m. Friday to discuss tournament rules.

Admission prices have again been pegged at $1 per session for adults and 50 cents for students.

Looking 'Em Over

With Tommy Hart

Buddy Travis, the HCJC basketball mentor, took time off last week to scout Cisco's Wranglers in the Texas JC tournament at Temple. Despite Cisco's defeat by Wharton in the finals of the meet, Travis says the Wranglers are all they're cracked up to be.

Cisco is seeded first and HCJC second in the Region V tournament starting at Amarillo today. The Cisco coaching staff has done an especially good job of scouting Negro talent.

Wharton's starting team is made up of four New York boys, plus Odus Booker, a strapping young man who accepted an HCJC scholarship offer a couple of years ago and then threw it over to enroll at Wharton.

If there was ever any doubt that HCJC's basketball team is unpopular with the Region V tournament committee, the pairings drawn up for this year's meet should prove it.

Year in and year out, regardless of whether they are seeded first or unseeded, the Hawks are invariably matched against the toughest first round opponents.

San Angelo, which seems to lead a charmed life, usually gets smooth sailing to the finals.

There is some talk, by the way, that a local service club will front a campaign to bring the Region V tournament here. It has been held in one place too long.

College basketball prospects were rather lean in last week's Region VI-B tournament held here, which probably accounts for the fact that no senior college scouts were on hand.

Probably the most promising of the group was Fort Davis' Bill Moos, the 17-year-old 6-foot-6 rebounder — tough on defense.

Moos didn't even play the game last year due to the state's transfer rule.

NBC is shooting color film far in advance for what will be an hour-long spectacular on Joe Namath, the Alabama football phenom.

Last athlete to get that treatment was the Ole Miss quarterback, Glynn Griffing — who didn't make it with the pros.

Rogelio Reyes, the Mexican boxer who is fighting under the aegis of Martin County's Melton McMorries, recently won a ten-round co-feature in a Juarez ring over Victorio Guzman.

Another McMorries' tiger, Salvador Ibarra, however, was taken out by Firpo Macias in the first round on the same card.

In Texas high school baseball play this year, players are required to wear helmets at all times while batting. They can discard them after becoming base runners, however.

Virtually every team in the NFL can already meet its 1965 payroll for the year out of advance ticket sales. Most teams are already limiting them to make seats available to the less-affluent fans who cannot afford a season-ticket investment, but might some day.

The ABC television network is preparing a one-hour documentary on Johnny Keane, manager of the New York Yankees, titled "The Texas Yankee."

Keane, of course, makes his off-season home in Houston.

Caddies are in such short supply since the coming of the golf cart that sponsors of the recent PGA Seniors tournament in Florida were forced to advertise in the newspapers for bag-toters.

Fort Davis (89-B) and Talpa-Centennial (82-B) open first round play in the Region VI-B girls' basketball tournament at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Howard County Junior College.

Moore Reunion Is Scheduled

All residents and former residents of Moore Community are being urged to attend the annual reunion celebration set for March 25. The reunion is to be at the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. and all who plan to attend this phase of the program are asked to make reservations not later than March 15. Reservations can be made by calling AM 4-2262 or sending a letter or card to P.O. Box 444, Big Spring.

A meeting was held Sunday afternoon at the Arah Phillips residence to plan for the reunion. Officers of the reunion association were in attendance. The committee stressed that any person who had lived in the Moore Community at any time, regardless of whether he attended school there or not, is welcome and urged to be present.

No special invitations will be sent out, the committee said. All Moore residents are to regard themselves personally invited to be on hand.

For those reunion participants, who do not want to eat at the luncheon, there will be a gabfest which will last all afternoon.

Employment Rules Outlined For Hiring Alien Workers

Farmers and ranchers considering the importation of alien workers now face the prospect of a $1.25 per hour minimum wage rate.

While the new policy statement by Tracy C. Murrell, regional administrator for the U.S. Department of Labor bureau of employment security, does not establish a domestic wage rate, it does mean that domestics must be offered this rate along with specified working conditions before applications can be filed for braceros.

"We wish to make it clear that this action in no way establishes wage rates for domestic agricultural workers, said Murrell. "The employer can, as in the past, employ domestic workers at any rate agreeable to the domestic worker. This action (minimum wage rate offers) is being taken solely to prevent adverse effect in the United States."

His bureau, said Murrell, will consider endorsement of applications for imported farm laborers only when the job offers shows a wage rate less than $1.25 per hour for any kind of general year-round farm work; a guarantee of $50 per week; all hours in excess of 40 hours per week to be paid at the $1.25 per hour rate. In addition, housing, utilities and transportation to and from the worker's house to the field is to be furnished free by the employer. The employer also must carry on-the-job insurance at no cost to the worker.

For ranch hands conditions are similar with a wage rate of not less than $208 per month plus room and board, and all work over 208 hours per month

Three Seeking C-City Posts

COLORADO CITY — Two incumbents and one newcomer have filed for seats on the Colorado City Independent School Board.

The election is set for April 3. The incumbents are Warren Anderson, Colorado City farmer, and Bill Carter, partner in a sand and gravel business. They are unopposed in their bid for re-election.

The newcomer, O. B. Truelock Jr., Mitchell County farmer, is unopposed in his bid for a school board seat, as incumbent Warren Costin is not seeking re-election. Deadline for filing was Wednesday.

Jack Carter Funeral Set

COLORADO CITY — Services for Jack Carter, 65, El Paso businessman and former long-time resident here, are set for 2 p.m. today in Kiker and Son Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. J. M. Washington, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Lubbock, officiating. Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery.

Mr. Carter died in El Paso Tuesday about 11 p.m. He was born April 19, 1899, and grew up in Colorado City. He owned an automobile agency here, but had not lived here in many years. He was known in West Texas as a rancher, breeder of horses and automobile dealer.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. H. J. MacKenzie, Lubbock; one brother, Dick Carter, Midland; and two grandchildren.

U.S. ARMY

WELCOME TO THE ARMY EXHIBIT

Exhibit Due Here

Sgt. Raymond J. Woolverton, local Army recruiter, invites the public to visit the Army's recruiting mobile exhibit at third and Main Streets, Friday and Saturday. The exhibit contains the M-72 rocket grenade launcher and gives a preview of the programs available to young men and women. Admission is free.

Jaycee Snake Hunt Gets Started Today

The third annual Rattlesnake Roundup will open its collection of snakes at the Big Spring fairgrounds Friday morning.

Kicked off by a parade through downtown Big Spring this afternoon, the roundup will continue through Sunday. Again deep-fat fried snake meat will be served to the public.

The roundup is expected to include several thousand snakes gathered from dens in the Howard County area. Jaycees sponsor the event here each year.

Highlight of the roundup will be the dinner and dance at Big Spring Country Club Saturday night, with the selection of Miss Diamondback from among contestants from Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College.

More than 1,000 rattlesnakes are expected to be exhibited at the fairgrounds during the roundup.

Registration for hunters will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 8 a.m. until noon Sunday.

Part of the roundup this year will be a wildlife exhibit, containing a group of animals recently purchased in Laredo by a local pet store operator. The exhibit will be housed in cages constructed at the fairgrounds by members of the Jaycees and Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 66-C of Webb AFB.

Bill Ransberger, Sweetwater snake handler, and Shelly Downs, Florida reptile curator, were to arrive at the fairgrounds this afternoon with the first collection of snakes.

Demonstrations of snake handling will be presented by Ransberger and Downs during the three days.

Members of the Class 66-C members will join in cooking and serving the fried rattlesnake meat at the fairgrounds.

A series of prizes and trophies are to be awarded winning snake hunters Sunday afternoon.

Tickets for the dinner and dance at Big Spring Country Club are being sold through Saturday by Jaycees, at $3.50 per person. The buffet dinner is to include prime rib beef.

A sixth entrant in the Miss Diamondback Pageant was received today, Madeleine Michelle (Shelly) Cole, 16, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. C. H. Cole Jr.

Miss Cole is a junior student at Big Spring High School, a member of the Student Council and is sponsored by Warhawk Flight, Webb AFB.

The contestants in the pageant were to ride in the parade through downtown Big Spring today. The winning entrant will receive a $100 college scholarship, with the winner to be named from among the top three contestants at the dance Saturday night.

A Case Of Snake Fever

Warhawk Flight of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB has a case of snake fever.

With characteristic military forthrightness, the 20 members of Class 66-B in this flight, together with a dozen or more instructors, have organized operation FANG to do something about it.

Not only have they entered in the Jaycee Rattlesnake Derby here this weekend, but they have an entry in the Miss Diamondback contest.

There was a rumor Thursday that Warhawk Flight had been doing some aerial reconnaissance, and members openly admitted they had a light plane at their disposal for reconnoitering Saturday for promising rattlesnake trails. Their happy hunting grounds is a military secret.

They had a few other sneaky — make that snaky — tricks up their sleeves but weren't talking about them.

Capt. Bernard A. Regets will be chief Rattler Rouser for the students and instructors, while Lt. Gary S. Olin, noted for quick retreats, has been chosen as Medicine Man.

Organized into teams of three under the motto of FEAR (Fangs Exposed, Always Run), the men will have a Serpent Seeker, who applies the gasoline to dens; a Snake Snatcher, who (because he got outwitted) catches and sacks the snakes; and the Reptile Runner, who salts the rattles of each snake and transports it to the Jaycee snakepits.

Long on adventure, if short on experience, the Warhawk party is not totally without background for snake recognition. Some claim to have seen snakes eyes on other occasions.

The report that their wives may not let them go is in error. This rumor grew out of a hope.

Airman Enters Guilty Plea

James Ray Savanna, 19-year-old airman from Webb AFB, pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of burglary, when brought before Judge Ralph Cation in 118th District Court.

He was sentenced to serve three years in prison and the sentence was then suspended on good behavior. He had no previous record of conviction for felony, he testified.

Savanna and a companion, Paul Reeves, allegedly broke into the Army Surplus Store on Main Street the night of Nov. 9. Entrance was gained through a skylight and a large quantity of clothing and other merchandise was taken. Some of this was hidden in brush some miles from town. It was found and officers investigating came upon a slip of paper at the scene bearing the name of one of the young defendants. This led to their interrogation and to the discovery of additional stolen loot in their barracks.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, recommended that the sentence be suspended.

Two Families Leaving U.S. For Australia

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Last November Robert Ansett told his boss that he had such faith in Republican Barry Goldwater's chance for the presidency that he'd leave the country if he lost.

Early this morning Ansett, his wife, their three children and another couple and their three children sailed aboard the SS Iberia for Australia and a new home.

"My bet just brought the situation to a head faster than it would have been," said Ansett, 31.

"We'd have left sooner or later anyway, with things here the way they are."

Peter Kemmsies, 30, Ansett's neighbor in San Diego and now traveling companion, said they had been thinking about leaving for several months.

"This country has treated us well," said Kemmsies, a construction firm owner. "But we can't live in the past. I have a responsibility to my wife and my kids to make sure that they'll have an opportunity to think for themselves."

"INITIATIVE GONE"

"The way the United States is going, government even regulates your personal insurance. There's just no initiative left."

Ansett, a bakery store salesman, said "Australia presently is more socialistic than the United States but the trend there is toward conservatism. It's just the opposite here," he said.

Specifically, Ansett said he objected to the tax structure, Social Security, government controls on commerce and "taking the initiative from the individual."

"There just isn't the opportunity now that there was when the country was young," he said.

"NOT BITTER"

Kemmsies agreed, adding "we're not bitter. But if our children want to be independent and think and do for themselves without all the government controls they'll just have to get out of here. It's a great country, but it's not what it used to be."

'Nevada' Next In Year's Work For McQueen

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—
It will be a hard year's work for Steve McQueen. Now dealing his way through "The Cincinnati Kid," he goes directly into "Nevada Smith" for Paramount and Joseph E. Levine. That's an extension of "The Carpetbaggers," but Steve says it shouldn't be called a sequel.
"I hope 'The Carpetbaggers' doesn't rub off on us," says the actor. "This is a good story—a part of the book that wasn't put in the movie." The plot concerns the earlier years of Nevada Smith, played by the late Alan Ladd in last year's film, which was a boom at the box office and a bust with the critics.

FOR ORIENT
In the fall McQueen heads for the Orient and "The Sand Pebbles" with Robert Wise directing. "I'm not sure I want to work this hard," says the actor. "Before 'The Cincinnati Kid' I had 13 months off and man, I was living.
After many years of false starts, the Marx Brothers biography appears to be finally under way. Groucho reports that producer Fred Coe is here to begin talks about a stage version of the Marx Saga.

Massachusetts Woman Lawmaker Logs Victories

BOSTON (AP) — When a bill designed to block the extension of runways at Logan International Airport in Boston reached the floor of the Massachusetts Senate, the fight to defeat it was led by a 74-year-old woman, State Sen. Leslie B. Cutler.

To her fellow senators, it seemed natural that Leslie Cutler would rise to oppose the bill — for years she has been the expert on aviation.

She also is the legislature's acknowledged expert on public health.

During her 40 years as an elected public official Leslie Cutler also has become an expert on winning long-standing crusades.

EQUAL VOICE
One of her first crusades was to give women an equal voice in politics. In 1920 she worked in campaigns to get women to use their newly acquired right to vote.

Then in 1923, someone suggested to Mrs. Cutler, the mother of five children, that she run for the Needham Board of Selectmen. She lost, she says, primarily because she was a woman.

"I decided that if that's something I want and they tell me I can't have it, I'll get it," she said.

She ran again the next year and won — to become the second woman selectman in Massachusetts history.

Her principal interest in the Board of Selectmen had been its functions in public health work. She submitted a measure creating a separate Board of Health and when it passed in 1926, she was elected to a seat on it and has been a member ever since.

RADCLIFFE GRADUATE
A graduate of Radcliffe College, Mrs. Cutler decided that as a member of the Board of Health she needed more knowledge and she enrolled in a course in biology and public health at another male stronghold, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

After a few years of the Board of Health, she said, "I realized many public health issues depended upon the laws of the commonwealth. So I decided I'd like to make some of those laws myself."

Three times she was a Republican candidate for the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and was beaten each time.

In 1938, she finally won. She was given a seat on the Committee on Public Health.

"They elected me clerk. I didn't know that in those days the clerk did all the work."

Mrs. Cutler fought unsuccessfully to gain passage of a bill to allow women to sit on juries.

When Mrs. Cutler was elected to the State Senate in 1948, she said, "The Senate was up in arms. It was a nice little cozy club and they didn't want a woman barging in."

But barge in she did and she's been there ever since.

Suicide Plot Is Four-Way

ENSENADA, Mex. (AP) — Police booked Gilberto Valenzuela, 23, on a murder charge after he told of being the sole survivor of a four-way suicide plot conceived in a bar.

Killed were Manuel Marquez Munoz, 22, Octaviano Zarate Arce, also 22, and Juan Chavez Zepeda, 24.

Police said Valenzuela gave this account Tuesday:

The quartet decided on the multiple suicides Feb. 25 and returned to the tavern Sunday to carry out the plan.

"I filled the gun with bullets as we walked toward the arroyo. We had drawn numbers to see who would go first and I was No. 4."

The four stood in a circle under a tree and Munoz shot himself in the head. Arce took the gun and shot himself in the head.

Zepeda tried to get Valenzuela to go next, then shot himself in the body.

"Juan began weeping. He didn't die immediately so I took the gun and shot him in the head."

Valenzuela said he put the gun in Zepeda's hand, ran back to town and got drunk.

Police said he was arrested in the same bar in which the plan was formed.

Congress Pledges Housing Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members of Congress pledged today to get to work promptly on President Johnson's housing recommendations. Some of the proposals appear to face strong opposition.

The program will be split into two parts at the Capitol, with the housing programs going to the Banking Committees and the proposal for a new Cabinet department of housing and urban development to Government Operations.

SENATE LEAD

The Senate appeared likely to take the lead on both. Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who will conduct the hearings on the proposed new department, said this legislation "will be given the highest priority."

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., Housing subcommittee chairman, said he expected hearings on the far-reaching housing proposals to be started in two or three weeks and to be extensive.

President John F. Kennedy tried and failed in 1962 to win conversion of the Housing and Home Finance Agency to a Cabinet-level department.

Democratic leaders rate Johnson's chances as better this year, largely because of a much larger Democratic majority in the House. That's where Kennedy's proposal was killed.

CLOSE VOTE

The vote in the Senate government Operations Committee is likely to be close with the chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., opposed to the legislation. However, Ribicoff thinks he can get it approved there.

There are two Democratic vacancies on the committee. The bill's prospects will depend on who fills them.

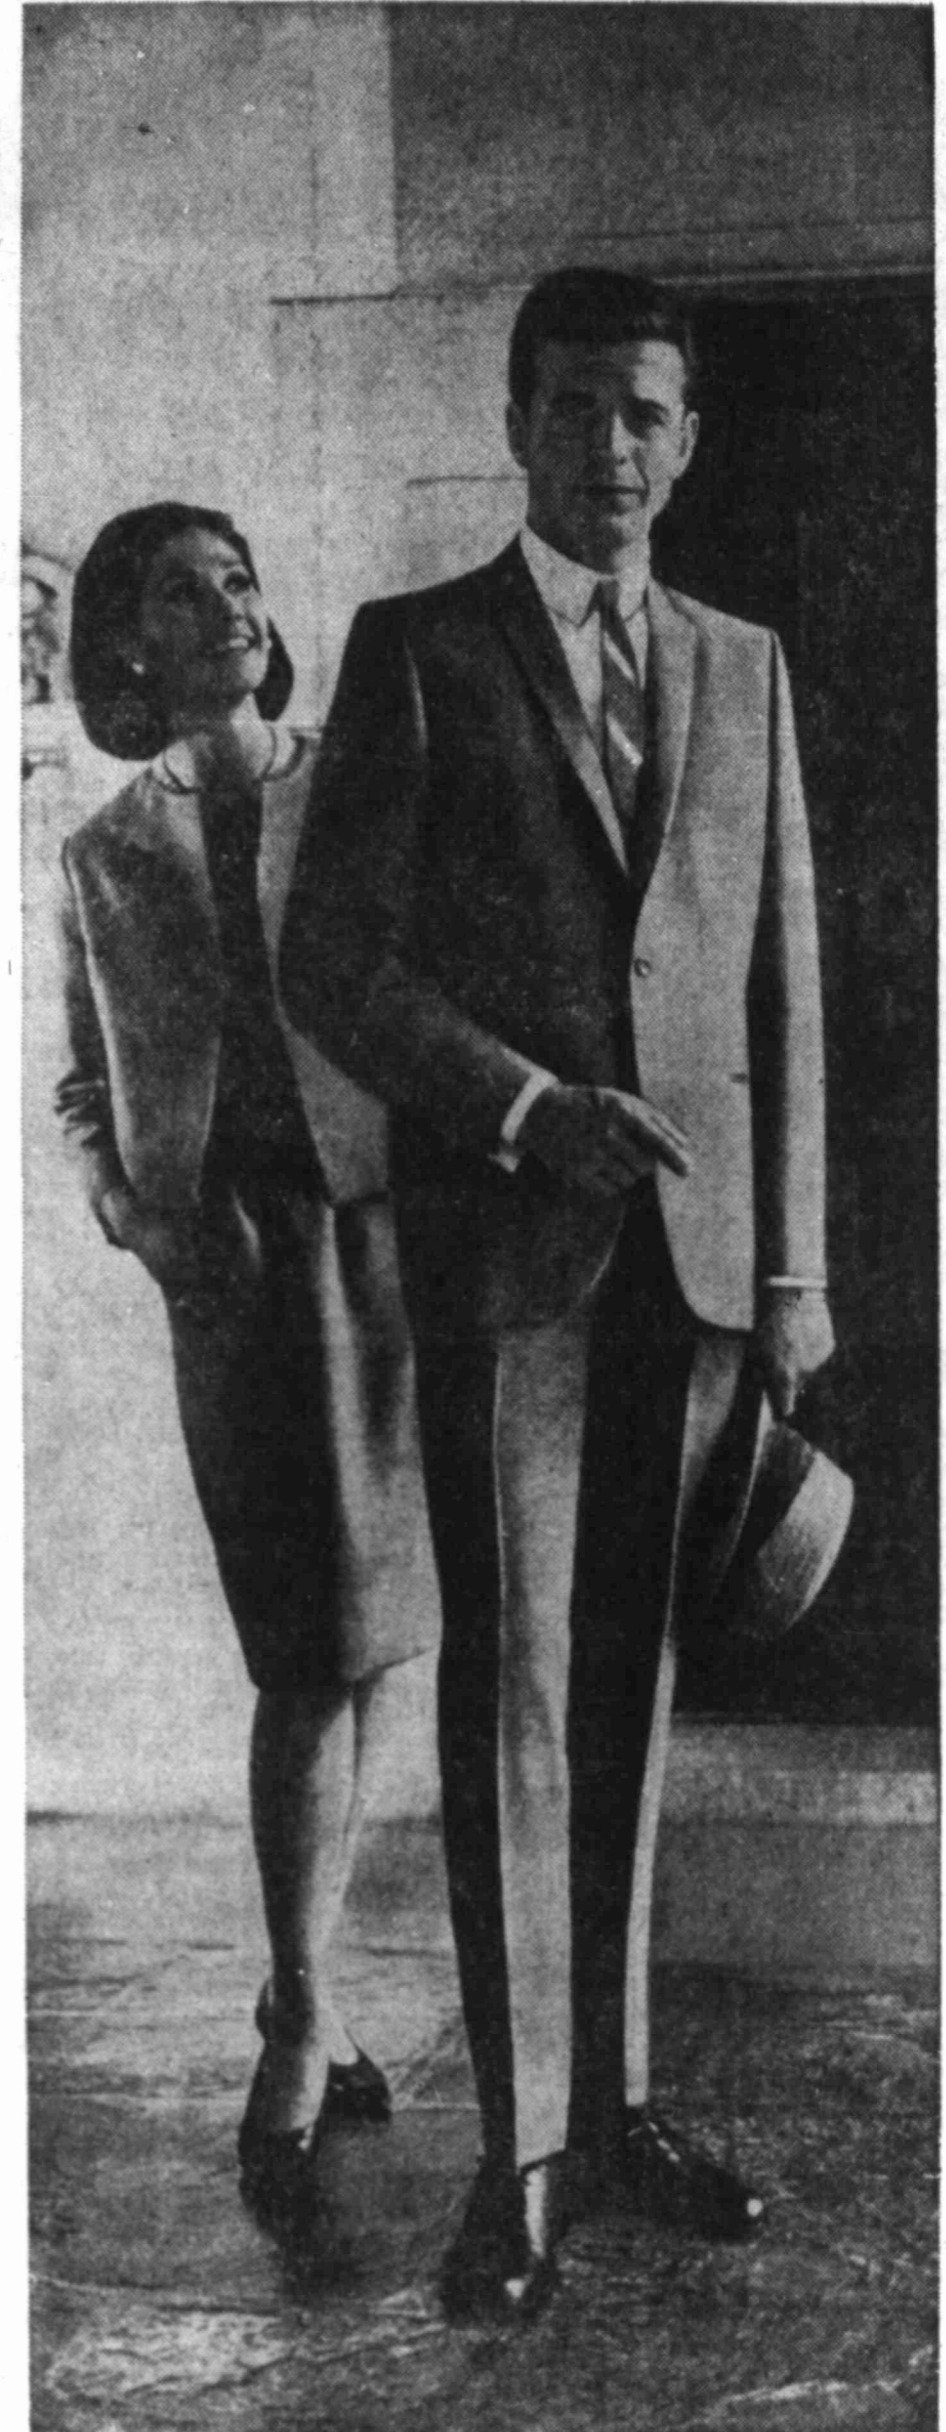

Two parts of the broad housing program are expected to cause the most controversy.

One would establish a new program of rent supplements for needy and low-income families.

The other would provide a variety of aids for new towns and planned subdivisions in large metropolitan areas.

The recommendations for extension of existing programs, such as public housing, urban renewal, and college dormitory loans, are expected to win approval.

A New Treasure

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Brewster, 1721 Yale, read a favorite passage from the newest addition to her personal library, a book by Carl S.

Jung, entitled "Symbols of Man." An interest in literature, art and philosophy is shared by the Brewsters.

Beauty Of Language Shared By Teacher

By ELAINE CLARK

A vibrant, brilliant-hued abstract by Robert Rorex and a collection of rare and interesting books are the background for the inquisitive mind and kaleidoscopic interests of Mrs. O. T. Brewster. The petite Mrs. Brewster, a knowledgeable conversationalist, is equally at home speaking French, Spanish or English.

Schools over the state are opening the doors to visitors now in observance of Texas Public Schools Week, and Big Spring is fortunate to have a teacher with

Home Has Personality

It goes without saying that your home should fit your budget. But did you know that it should also suit your personality?

Architects and builders are giving more attention to the psychological aspects of the homes they design and build today, because they have found this can markedly affect the health and well being of the occupants.

The use of natural materials such as ceramic tile and wood help to provide the stimulating atmosphere that is necessary in every home. Ceramic tile is especially suited for this purpose, because it comes in a variety of expressive colors and designs. It lessens housework, too, since it rarely has to be cleaned. Other factors builders are taking into consideration for homes are privacy and surroundings. Everyone likes contact with other members of the family, but there are occasions when each of us needs to be alone.

Pio Baroja's statement, "To learn another language is to gain another soul," is exactly my feeling," she said. She received her master's degree in Spanish from the Inter-American University in Sausalito, Mexico, and in French from Laval University, Quebec, Canada. She received her bachelor's degree from Texas Christian University, and has done graduate work at the University of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewster moved here a little over a year ago from El Dorado, Ark. Brewster is manager of the Holiday Inn, Mrs. Brewster taught languages in the El Dorado schools and said, "One of the most enjoyable experiences of my teaching career was a class in the

AT CLUB MEETING

Parents' Inconsistency Criticized By Doctor

The inconsistency of parents is the main reason for a child's confusion," said Dr. Floyd Reibold, when he spoke Wednesday to the 1963 Hyperion Club.

Dr. Reibold, psychologist at the Big Spring State Hospital, said that he believed a child's opinion of the world was formed by the time it was six years old and that the opinion would be hard to change in later years. He felt that discipline is more important than many parents now believe, and said that an undisciplined child would resent any kind of authority as he grew older whether it came from parents, teachers, or society.

At the conclusion of his prepared talk, Dr. Reibold answered questions from members.

Mrs. Jack Haralson reported on the recent meeting concerning the formation of a child welfare department here, saying that the matter would be investigated further.

Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, 112 Cedar, was hostess, and her cohostess was Mrs. Bill Estes. They served refreshments from a table decorated with a St. Patrick motif. The centerpiece was a traditional Irish hat accented with shamrocks and napkins were green and white. Eighteen attended.

Steak Means Special Fare

When the occasion is really special, it calls for steak! Porterhouse, T-bones, and sirloin steaks are all old friends, but a steak that is also tempting and occasionally forgotten is the rib steak.

For greatest eating enjoyment with rib steak, the meat must be top quality and aged. In shopping, look for meat that is dull red in color due to aging and fat that is white to cream color. There should be a good covering of fat and streaks of fat, called "marbling," throughout. The bone should be red at the cut ends. One of the best guides to quality is the meat packer's own stamp, which can sometimes be found on the covering fat.

Several combinations of herbs and butter will delight the steak-eaters with a flair for the imaginative. Next time the crowd congregates on your patio, surprise them with two or three Herb Mix-ups and let them embellish their steaks to their liking.

The following broiling schedule is for indoor use. Outdoors, the time will depend upon the distance between the meat and the coals, and the intensity of the heat. Remember, too, to give the charcoal briquets an ample head start. It's a good idea to have them going at least a half-hour before you broil the steaks. Once the flames have died down and a white ash has formed on the coals, it's time to put the steaks on.

STEAK 'N HERBS
To broil steak: Set regulator to "broil" or 550 degrees F. Place steaks 3 to 4 inches from the heat source in a pre-heated broiler. Broil steaks according to scheduled given below. Turn steaks once. Select an herb mix-up and brush the steaks several times during the broiling. Note: There will be a variation in time if the steaks are broiled on an outdoor grill.

BROILING SCHEDULE FOR RIB STEAKS

Thickness	Rare	Med. Rare	Done

1 1/2	9	10	12 to 13
2	16	18	20 to 21

Later Than You Think

It's later than you think and will soon be bathing-suit weather. This is the time to re-evaluate eating habits which may have added some unwanted curves during the winter months.

Fad diets are dangerous to many people, and no severely restricted diet should be undertaken without the counsel of a physician. However, certain food elements are essential to our bodies. The Texas Beef Council has found that a diet built largely on lean beef, vegetables and fruit will not only contribute to the health of any normally active person, but will also assist in maintaining suitable weight levels.

The average woman utilizes an estimated 2,500 calories a day. Those calories not used as energy are stored in the body as fat. Research indicates that a person consuming 150 calories a day more than she uses will have gained about 13 pounds at the end of a year.

Thirteen pounds is just about enough weight gain to make last year's bathing suit one size too small!

One-fourth pound of round steak contains approximately 194 calories; a three-inch square of chocolate cake with icing contains well over 400 calories. Beef, in addition to its low calorie count, is also one of our most complete protein foods, containing valuable amounts of B vitamins and niacin. Fruits and vegetables are also low-calorie sources of essential vitamins and minerals.

The Council recommends simply an emphasis on essentials—lean beef, fruits and vegetables. Desserts, which as a rule contain many calories but little actual food value, can be added to the diet if the weight is no problem.

Sparks Chicken
When you are serving a chicken curry, you may enjoy adding an embellishment to the accompanying rice. To do so, soak raisins in orange juice and stir into the hot cooked rice along with a little grated orange rind.

- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. marjoram
- 1/4 tsp. rosemary
- 1/4 tsp. savory

- III
- 1 bay leaf, crushed
 - 1/4 tsp. rosemary
 - 1/4 tsp. oregano

1/4 tsp. sweet basil leaf
To make herb mix-up, melt 1/4 cup butter in a small saucepan. Add one of the herb combinations. Blend.

TOMATO BARBECUE FOR STEAKS
3 tbsps. chopped onion
1-3 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup catsup
1/4 cup tomato juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Combine all ingredients in a saucepan. Heat for 10 to 15 minutes to blend flavors. Use to brush on steaks during broiling and serve remaining sauce with steaks. Yield, two cups of sauce.

1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
2-3 cup ice-cold water
2 tps. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. vanilla

First dissolve the cherry, lime and lemon gelatine separately, using one and one-half cups hot water for each. Pour into eight-inch cake pans or pie plates. Chill until firm, then cut gelatine into half-inch cubes and toss together. Meanwhile, combine cranberry juice with water and bring to a boil. Stir in sugar and strawberry gelatine. Continue stirring until both are dissolved.

Chill mixture just till it's the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add dry milk to cold water in a bowl. Beat with a rotary beater or at high speed of electric mixer until soft peaks form. Add lemon juice and vanilla and beat until stiff peaks form. When cranberry mixture has reached desired consistency, beat at high speed until it doubles in bulk and becomes fluffy.

Into this, fold whipped milk, then fold in gelatine cubes. Pour into a three-quart mold and chill until firm, about five hours. Unmold when ready to serve. Makes sixteen servings, forty-three calories each.

For eight servings, halve amount of each ingredient. Dissolve gelatine for cubes in three-fourths cup hot water per envelope. Pour into a three-pint mold; chill until set.

Spanish Influence Dominates Home Of Charles Rainwaters

By JO BRIGHT

"No, there's not a thing I would want changed," said Mrs. Charles Rainwater, referring to the design of the family home at 610 Highland. She had just finished showing the rooms and explaining that the U-shaped courtyard afforded all the privacy desired and the advantages, too, of outdoor living.

Dr. and Mrs. Rainwater are satisfied completely with their new home, perhaps because they spent two years planning and working with an architect before the construction began.

"Our architect advised us to plan a room, put the drawing on a wall and 'live' with it for a while," explained Mrs. Rainwater. Following this procedure, any structural difficulty was discovered and corrected before any harm was done.

OWN DESIGN

The home was built from their own design with a strong Spanish influence. The structure is part stucco and part white-painted brick. The courtyard features a non-bearing mulberry tree in a square planter, and the long front porch is accented with lacy black wrought iron. The big double doors open into a generous entryway where a divider blocks the view into the living room.

To the right is the dining room, gold-carpeted and illuminated with an antique chandelier. A pink antique pitcher and glasses which sits on the buffet is reflected in the gilded mirror above it.

Furniture in several of the rooms has been professionally refinished, and Mrs. Rainwater has done several pieces herself. Much of the furniture came from the former E. O. Ellington home which Dr. Rainwater purchased to use as an office.

Two elaborate glass and brass light fixtures which now accent the Rainwater home were found, dusty and tarnished, in the basement of the older home.

Dominating the back area of the home is the paneled kitchen and a cosy den. The floor has been finished to resemble aged tile, and a "cooking center" is in the middle of the kitchen area. Here is where Tim, 5, sits to watch his mother prepare meals. Often she holds John, 10 months, while stirring sauce or turning bacon.

Breakfasts in the Rainwater home may be light on weekdays but on Saturday and Sunday it will include eggs, bacon, grist, toast, juice and maybe fat sausage rounds made from a deer which the man of the house has shot on the hunting lease he shares with several friends.

DEER STEAKS
"We like to soak the deer steaks overnight or all day," said Mrs. Rainwater. "This lessens the gamey flavor, and I use a soy sauce and sherry to soak them in." Afterward, they are just floured and fried or broiled. When the hunter brings home a deer, she barbecues those.

The Rainwaters like seafood, and recently brought home 40 pounds of shrimp from the coast which will provide main dishes or cocktails for days to come.

The evening meal is the heavy one, usually built around broiled meat. It may be seafood, chicken or beef. Mrs. Rainwater collects recipes and said that she takes full advantage of her spice shelf. She adds a pinch of this or that to many canned foods to spark their flavor. Most often used in this manner are garlic, minced green onions, bottled sauces and prepared seasoning mixes. She finds that a simple sour cream sauce comes in handy to use with many vegetables. She mixes 1 cup sour cream, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon chopped green onion, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard and the juice of half a lemon. Most often, the dessert is light—perhaps fruited gelatin or fruit salad.

"I practically grew up on Hot Milk Cake," explained Mrs. Rainwater, who said the recipe comes from her mother, Mrs. E. L. Stroud of Wichita Falls. "It is quick to fix and is becoming a favorite of my children, too."

Dr. Rainwater likes to garden—and enjoys the fresh vegetables that they grow at home. His green thumb has produced a good crop of radishes, carrots, cucumbers, squash (a family favorite), okra, bell peppers, tomatoes and onions. The latter two are used in the summer to accompany the barbecued dishes. The tomatoes and onions are salted, peppered and wrapped in foil with a bit of butter and grilled along with the meat. Some of the vegetables are stored in the freezer to perk up the winter meals.

HAS GARDEN
"My husband does the vegetable gardening," said Mrs. Rainwater, "but I take care of the yard work!" She likes flowers, listing roses, violets and geraniums among those she enjoys growing.

Her shopping is done on Thursday or Friday—never on Wednesday. She does not like to contend with the crowds who save trading stamps and says the shelves are all restocked well by the following day. She has milk, eggs and cottage cheese delivered so never has to worry about forgetting these important items. They buy a half or fourth of beef and are planning to get a lamb to put in the freezer. She prepares the lamb as roasts, chops or patties. She has found a market that sometimes has fresh seafood so she gets catfish there.

Mrs. Rainwater is a member of the 1946 Hyperion Club and she and her husband belong to the Wednesday Night Dance Club. Both sing in the choir at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Both have had considerable musical training, and she plays a flute while his instrument is the bassoon. As a member of the Midland-Odessa Symphony, he travels to Midland for rehearsals every Monday evening. She hopes to be able to play with the group when the youngsters are older.

Mrs. Rainwater was an art major but has not used her paintings in her home because she said most of them are contemporary and that her tastes have now changed.

Here are recipes the Rainwaters think you'll like.

SHRIMP AND MUSHROOM SUPREME
1 8-oz. pkg. frozen shrimp
4 tbsps. butter
4 tbsps. flour
2 cups milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 can mushroom halves, drained

Finish Omelet

You can finish cooking the top of a puffy omelet by placing the skillet in the oven or by covering the skillet and keeping it over the surface heat. If you use the oven method, make sure the frying pan has a heat-resistant handle.

Tuna-Ghetti Simmers In Easy Sauce

A potluck dinner of spaghetti and meat sauce is one most everybody has had the good luck to enjoy.

But have you ever had tuna-ghetti? Try it! Tuna-Ghetti a la Parmesan is a zesty hurry-up dish you can begin cooking a half-hour or so before dinner. It doesn't require the hours of simmering care that many Italian-style meat sauce recipes do. While the sauce is simmering to goodness, prepare the spaghetti and other menu accompaniments.

The savory sauce sparked by the flavor of butter and a pot-pourri of spices is what makes this dish; the addition of a pliant Italian-style cheese like Parmesan makes seconds a must.

Despite its expensive sounding name, Tuna-Ghetti a la Parmesan is a low cost family or company potluck dinner. Simply double the recipe which calls for one family size or 9-ounce can of tuna and you have a substantial and satisfying dish for several guests.

A flavorful antipasto begins the meal most appetizingly; feature wedges of pungent Italian sausage, cheese black and green olives and bitey Italian peppers and pimientos.

Crisp greens, well-chilled and broken into bite-size pieces by hand, may be tossed with a favorite dressing. Crusty French bread is the natural accompaniment, oven heated and treated to nippy garlic butter spread.

TUNA-GHETTI A LA PARMESAN

- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
- 1 cup minced onion
- 1/4 tsp. garlic powder
- 1 1/2 tbsps. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. oregano
- 1/4 cup minced parsley
- 1 can (1 lb. 12 oz.) tomatoes
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 can (9 oz.) tuna
- 3 tbsps. flour
- 1 pkg. (1 lb.) spaghetti

In three-quart saucepan melt butter. Add onion; saute until tender. Remove from heat; stir in garlic powder, salt, pepper, oregano and parsley. Add undrained tomatoes, tomato sauce, cheese and tuna bring to boil, stirring occasionally, until mixture simmers. Continue simmering 25-30 minutes. Blend a few spoonfuls of tomato mixture with the flour; return to saucepan. Mix well; continue cooking a few minutes more. Cook spaghetti according to package directions; drain. Serve hot sauce over spaghetti. Makes 6-8 servings.

Cook Onion Strips

Serving onions with steak? Give the onions plenty of time to cook! Cut them into thin strips and turn into melted butter in a skillet; cover the pan; long slow cooking, with a stir now and again, will make them golden brown and very tender.

EGGS FLORENTINE For an easy, economical meal

Eggs Florentine Makes Easy, Attractive Dish For Brunch

By The Associated Press

This is a good time to buy an extra dozen eggs. They provide unusually high value per cost as Texas markets offer their customers a share in the heavy supply, the Agriculture Department's marketing news office says.

Other high-protein foods in excellent supply at modest cost include most cuts of beef and pork, broiler-fryers, peanuts and dried beans.

A variety of fresh fruits continue abundant. Look particularly for grapefruit, oranges, Winesap and Red Rome apples and emperor grapes.

EGGS FLORENTINE

- 1/2 medium onion, chopped
- 1 tsp. pure vegetable oil
- 1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with mushrooms
- 1 to 2 (10-oz.) boxes frozen spinach, cooked and well-drained
- 8 eggs
- Salt and pepper
- Parmesan cheese

In skillet, saute onion in oil. Add tomato sauce with mushrooms. Arrange spinach in four mounds in skillet. Break eggs around spinach. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and Parmesan cheese. Cover and simmer five minutes or until eggs are done.

Makes four to five servings.

PUFFY OMELET

- 6 eggs, separated
- 1-3 cup milk or water
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

Beat egg yolks until thick; browned underneath, place in egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold together until well blended.

Turn out onto a heated serving plate, creasing and arranging one half of omelet on top of other.

Serve with hot cheese or mushroom sauce or jelly. Yields four to six servings.

Interstate Road Plan On Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction on the world's greatest highway program yet conceived — the 41,000-mile U.S. interstate system — is just about on schedule.

The program was set up by Congress in 1956 and 1972 set as the target date for completion. It will consist of 41,000 miles of high-speed highways to connect the nation's principal metropolitan areas, cities and industrial centers and to serve as a defense network of roads if needed.

AVOID LIGHTS STOPS

The system generally is designed to take motorists whizzing along without worries about intersections, traffic lights and jammed city streets.

Today, a little more than eight years after the program was launched, 19,018 miles are open for traffic; construction is under way on another 5,196 miles, while engineering work or right-of-way acquisition is in progress for another 12,103.

The remaining 4,680 miles in the system are listed by the Bureau of Public Roads as in preliminary status or not started.

Thus, about 89 per cent of the system is open or under way.

The bureau says the program is about on schedule and that completion in 1972 is possible. However, time is getting short for the drafting of plans for the unstarted segments, a spokesman said.

The pinch, he said, will be on segments in the urban areas — the roads designed to take traffic through, under or around cities. These portions of the sys-

Estes Wins Acquittal In Latest Trial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes won what was possibly his last inning in court, but it was too late to keep the one-time captain of farm finance out of prison.

A federal court jury acquitted him Wednesday of fudging in sworn accounts of how much he owed to obtain Commodity Credit Corp. contracts paying more than $5 million a year for storage of surplus grain.

The West Texas promoter, credited with considerable influence in Washington and among some top business executives until he went broke in 1962, nevertheless is bound behind bars.

Estes, 40, was convicted in two earlier trials on state charges of swindling and federal charges of mail fraud and conspiracy, both based on dealings on around $24-million worth of mostly worthless mortgages on farm fertilizer tanks.

FINAL PLEA

Only Monday, as his latest trial started here, the Supreme Court rejected Estes' final plea for review of his 15-year sentence in the mail-fraud case. He still is appealing an eight-year prison term on a state conviction of swindling.

His wife Patsy, a worried-looking blonde, and their son and four daughters listened to closing arguments from a front-row bench a few feet behind Estes.

As jurors returned after deliberating more than four hours, U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes firmly ordered spectators to refrain from any demonstration.

Judge Hughes read the verdict clearing Estes on all three counts and left the courtroom. Then his eldest child, Pam, 17, uttered a timid "yippee."

A brief smile flitted across the usually impassive face of Estes. Marshals refused to let him answer when a reporter asked if he cared to comment.

With a catch in her voice, Mrs. Estes murmured: "I'm so glad he finally won a case."

The jury obviously accepted the version he gave in testifying for the first time at any of his trials. It sharply contradicted accounts from prosecution witnesses.

"PERJURY" CHARGED

In this case the government claimed the chubby, black-haired defendant falsely swore he owed less than the actual amount of his debts on three occasions in 1960 and 1961. It said he understated the totals by $4 million to $5 million to grain storage contractors.

Estes denied his statements of liabilities were inaccurate. This was true, he said, because top executives of Commercial Solvents Corp. in New York had agreed secretly to sell him anhydrous ammonia (fertilizer) for $50 a ton, bill it at up to $90 a ton and rebate the difference.

He told the jury of seven men and five women his grain storage rentals, pledged entirely to Commercial Solvents, aggregated more than $7 million, canceling the $5 million he figured he owed the company.

Crash Laid To Lightning

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in the history of American aviation, the government has listed lightning as the probable cause of an airliner crash.

The finding was announced today in a report by the Civil Aeronautics Board on the crash of a Pan American World Airways plane near Elkton, Md., Dec. 8, 1963. Eighty-one persons were killed.

Lightning ignited the mixture of fuel and air in the No. 1 reserve fuel tank at the tip of the left wing of the Boeing 707-121, the board said. The result was an "explosive disintegration of the left outer wing and loss of control."

The Pan American jet was carrying 73 passengers and a crew of eight to Philadelphia from San Juan, Puerto Rico, and had refueled at Baltimore. It was circling over the Delaware area waiting for a squall with extreme winds to clear away.

Steelworkers Gird For Negotiations

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union called together its basic steel negotiators today for the first time in two months to plan the expected resumption of contract talks Monday.

Following the meeting at USW headquarters, the union negotiators were to meet with their industry counterparts to lay the groundwork for resuming talks and to hear industry's arguments for an extension of the May 1 strike deadline.

NO INTENTION

Steelworkers President David J. McDonald made it clear Wednesday night, however, that the union had no intention of granting an extension now.

"Any allegations to this effect are absolutely untrue," McDonald said. "The only thing we have agreed to do is meet with the companies' coordinating committee."

The industry requested the joint meeting earlier this week, saying that mounting uncertainty had already damaged the steel industry and the union by forcing customers, edgy over a possible strike, to turn to foreign markets to build inventories.

HITS STOCKPILING

The industry also cited the harmful effects of stockpiling on the American companies whose mills are overtaxed in trying to meet orders.

Formal negotiations for a basic steel contract started last January but were recessed during the turbulent campaign between McDonald and I. W. Abel, USW secretary-treasurer, for presidency of the union.

The election was held Feb. 9 and Abel led in the unofficial count.

The Chicago Tribune reported Wednesday night that Abel had won by 6,228 votes.

However, sources in Pittsburgh said the union's international tellers were not expected to complete their count of the votes until today at the earliest.

No Replacement Seen For The Human Pilot

WACO (AP)—A retired Air Force general and one-time flying partner with Orville Wright says the human pilot will never be replaced by missiles.

Maj. Gen. (Ret.) Benjamin D. Foulois, 83, gave the main address Wednesday night at graduation ceremonies for 21 cadets and 45 officers who received their navigator wings at James Connally Air Force Base at Waco.

"They (the missiles) just haven't got it up here," said the former Air Force chief of staff.

Gen. Foulois, a veteran of 37½ years in the military service, said he was ordered to organize the old U.S. Army Air Corps shortly after he went up on a flight with Wright at Ft. Myer, Va., July 30, 1909.

"Orville told me when we got into the plane that if anything went wrong, he would hunt for the biggest clump of trees and land in them.

"That was when I began wondering whether or not I was in the right place.

"But we took the ship up anyway and flew a five-mile round-trip at a speed of 42.5 miles per hour and an altitude of 400 feet," he said. All three figures established flying records at the time.

He told the new navigators that he received orders in 1910 to "take a heavier-than-air machine" to San Antonio and teach himself to fly.

He headed for San Antonio with one plane, 11 men, a few spare parts and $150. That was the beginning of the U.S. Air Force, he said.

The class Gen. Foulois addressed was the last of its kind. From now on, the Air Force will train only already-commissioned officers, rather than cadets.

Stock Show Champ Steer Judging On

HOUSTON (AP)—Lynn, an 800-pound Hereford owned by Rhonda Cook, 14, a Mills County 4-H girl, was the early favorite today as the final rounds of judging began for selection of the grand champion steer of the Houston Fat Stock Show.

Rhonda hopes Lynn will supply her with funds for a college education. Last year's grand champion, a Hereford owned by Dan McBride, 13, Llano, sold at auction for $20,500, a Houston show record.

"It was a good calf," Rhonda said. "He looked like a champion."

Freak Storm Dumps Deep Snow In Southwest Texas

By The Associated Press
A freak storm that dumped snow "belly-high to a tall giraffe" in Southwest Texas dissipated late Wednesday and gave way to a gradual warming trend to last through Friday.

Snows of up to seven inches fell over a wide portion of the state, extending from far West Texas to the East Texas Piney Woods.

The Central Texas towns of Georgetown and Jonestown reported seven inches. Kerrville and the LBJ Ranch in the Hill Country west of Austin caught five inches.

No precipitation was forecast by the Weather Bureau for today and Friday. Highs should be in the 40s and 50s, followed by lows tonight in the upper teens to near 40, from north to south.

17 DEGREES
Pre-dawn lows this morning ranged from a chilly 17 degrees at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle to 44 at Brownsville. Skies were clear all over the state except for some spotty cloudiness in West Texas.

Mrs. Ima Jo Fleetwood, managing editor of the Del Rio News-Herald, said Wednesday that a correspondent 40 miles north of Del Rio estimated the snowfall there to be "belly-high to a tall giraffe."

WHITE BLANKET
The rare white blanket in that area melted off by mid-afternoon, however.

The fall was generally in the 2 to 4-inch range from the Rio Grande to the Louisiana border. Other points receiving snow were Austin, Boerne, Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Longview, Alpine, Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene, Wink, El Paso, Fort Davis, Fort Stockton and Marfa.

The snow closed schools Wednesday at Georgetown, Liberty Hill, Jarrell, Leander and Walburg, all in Central Texas.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Pentagon wants to replace Texas' two National Guard divisions and one Army Reserve division with three brigades, a reduction of 155 units and 4,545 men, the state adjutant general announced Wednesday.

He said the reductions might make it impossible for the Texas National Guard to leave a unit in each community now having one, as previously hoped.

Heading the troop unit list proposal were three separate brigades, to replace the three existing divisions — the 38th Infantry and 49th Armored of the National Guard and 90th Infantry of the Army Reserve.

Bishop said the location of authorized units would be decided after negotiations are completed. Until this action is taken, the exact status of units in a particular city will be unknown, he said.

Members of the House Jurisprudence Committee heard testimony on both sides of the proposition Wednesday.

John McKee, chairman of the Dallas Crime Commission, and Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La-Grange, sponsor of the bill, said similar legislation had reduced juvenile crime in Montana.

The decline in delinquency referred to was limited to just one judicial district, responded an opponent of the bill, Donald Weisenhorn, consultant to the Texas Committee of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Weisenhorn said he had worked in a training school for juvenile offenders, and youths from cities where their names were publicized "had the clippings in their hip pockets and paraded them before the other kids."

But McKee replied: "It is a myth that publicity glamorizes a juvenile and makes him worse... I personally feel that (juvenile) court should be open on all offenses, including misdemeanors."

Police quoted the head of the family as saying the boys "didn't know me face to face."

The family was not identified. Police said the husband is of Portuguese-Italian descent and his wife of French and English extraction. The couple has two young children.

During the past month, the family has received threatening telephone calls and one abusive letter, police said.

Monday night, a 22-caliber rifle was fired at the family's home, police said.

Police identified the members of the "confederation" as Arthur Johnson, Anthony DePalma and Robert Giaquinto.

Police Lt. Walter Berniere said the boys are from "respected middle-income families."

The youths were charged with assault with intent to commit murder and were released under $5,000 bond each.

Police quoted Johnson, DePalma and Giaquinto as saying they "don't believe in mixed marriages."

Press-Courtroom Row End Urged

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association has proposed a "summit conference" of legal and journalism leaders to end the current "free press-fair trial" conflict.

George H. Beebe, managing editor of the Miami, Fla., Herald, said the controversy had become a "free-for-all word battle" and had created "unnecessary tensions and bitterness between two highly regarded professions."

Reporters At Youth Trials?

AUSTIN (AP)—The presence of news reporters at juvenile court hearings would serve as a deterrent to delinquency, say proponents of a bill pending before the legislature.

Members of the House Jurisprudence Committee heard testimony on both sides of the proposition Wednesday.

John McKee, chairman of the Dallas Crime Commission, and Rep. Charles Jungmichel of La-Grange, sponsor of the bill, said similar legislation had reduced juvenile crime in Montana.

Dear Abby

Call This A Stale-Mate!

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, divorced, and have three beautiful children. I still date my ex-husband because I love him very much. He says he still cares for me, but he refuses to discuss or even consider marrying me again because he can't trust me. I don't blame him because I can't even trust myself. (That's why we were divorced, but that's another story.) Should I stop dating him and quit wasting my time? Or do you think there is some way I can get him to change his mind? DEAD END IN CONN.

DEAR END: You can't get him to change his mind until you change your ways. If you can't trust yourself, you can't expect him to trust you. Three children and a good husband are worth straightening yourself out for. You need professional help. If your "ex" knows you are trying to overcome your weaknesses, your chances may be enhanced immeasurably.

DEAR ABBY: I wish I knew how to answer people who ask me questions that embarrass me. Such as, "Is it true that your boss is cheating on his wife with some girl in the office?" And, "How come your brother's wife got the children when everyone knows she is the biggest tramp in town?" Also, "How much money did your husband get when his old lady passed away?" These questions are nobody's business and, besides, I don't know the answers anyway, but I never know what to say.

TONGUE-TIED
DEAR TONGUE-TIED: Combine the two facts and reply, "I really don't know. But then, it's not my business."

DEAR ABBY: My best friend is a living doll, which is a lot more than you can say for me. We are both 16. My friend, whom I shall call Mary, is not only the most beautiful girl you've ever laid eyes on, but she has a terrific personality. As far as brains go I am happy to say that we are both at the head of our class. My problem: Mary can have any boy she wants — so why does she always go after the one I want? She really doesn't care for the boy, but if she knows I want him, she goes after him. I pretend I don't care. But I care a lot. Should I tell her how I feel and ask her not to do it? Dick was the last straw.

SECOND PLACE
DEAR SECOND: Don't ask your girl friend to step aside so that you'll have a clear field to zero in on a certain boy. Do the best you can with what you have. Who wants a boy friend through the generosity of a girl friend?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "INFORMATION PLEASE": Yes, a girl who has no high school diploma may join the armed forces. She must be 18, and must take an examination to determine whether or not she qualifies for a high school diploma. This test is given to her at her local high school. She can, if she wishes, complete her high school education while in the armed forces. Additional information regarding enlisting in the armed forces is available at all recruiting stations.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the night worker who was constantly awakened by salesmen knocking on the door in spite of a sign which said, "PLEASE DO NOT DISTURB. DAY SLEEPER":

Ask the pest for his home telephone number and tell him you will call him on your lunch hour. This is usually about 3:30 in the morning. I doubt if you will be disturbed by the same salesman twice. Respectfully submitted by,

Rabies Prompts 'Emergency' Tag

ABILENE (AP) — Taylor County has been declared an emergency area by the County Commissioners Court because of an outbreak of rabies in the county's southern region. A State Wildlife Commission official is due to start setting out poison today for animals suspected of rabies. Abilene State Park has been closed to the public. One rabid cow and another suspected of having the disease have died.

Business Boom Heads For Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The astonishingly durable business boom, entering its fifth year this week, will become the longest peacetime expansion in history if it continues into May. If that happens, only the World War II boom, 6 years and 8 months, will surpass the current expansion. In April the present boom will have lasted 50 months — exactly the duration of the slow, low-grade 1933-37 climb from the depth of the Great Depression. That upward struggle, hardly an expansion at all, ended with 10 million still jobless.

OUTPUT GAINS
By contrast, the 48 months just ended have brought unprecedented gains in production and incomes, virtually without inflation, while reducing unemployment from 6.7 per cent to 4.8 per cent.

By an almost equally striking contrast, the steady 1961-62 growth has been virtually free of the inflation which marred the 80-month World War II boom.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor Tuesday rejected the possibility of any early downturn. The economy is marching ahead smartly, he said, paced by massive output of steel and autos.

Connor discounted fears of a slump after midyear. Many suspect this might occur if industry's massive build-up of steel inventories, as a hedge against a steel strike, is followed by a sudden halt in buying because of a quick wage settlement.

STEEL LISTS
Oversized steel inventories

will have less impact than in past years of strike threats, Connor said, because of the rapid rate of consumption this year.

The secretary broke another bit of good news: Planned industry outlays for plant and equipment this year will be $2 billion to $3 billion bigger than previously estimated. A new private survey indicates a 12 to 14 per cent rise this year, Connor said, instead of the 8 per cent foreseen a few months ago. Connor's optimism reinforced the official view that the recovery will last into 1966. Whether it also can endure through 1967, and thus erase even the wartime record for sustained growth, remains to be seen.

Another Man Arrested In Malcolm Death

NEW YORK (AP) — The Black Muslims have denied anew any guilt for the murder of Malcolm X in the wake of the arrest here of a third Negro accused of the assassination.

But police said the latest defendant, Thomas 15X Johnson, 30, of the Bronx, is a strong-arm member of the Black Muslims. He was charged Wednesday with homicide.

Johnson is the second Black Muslim to be accused in the assassination of Malcolm X, 39, the black nationalist leader who bolted from the Black Muslims last year and formed his own sect.

INDICTED EARLIER
Johnson had been indicted last month for first-degree assault in the wounding last Jan. 6 of Benjamin Brown, a Black Muslim defector. Also charged in that case was Norman 3X Butler, 28, described by police as a Black Muslim "enforcer" and the second man accused in the slaying of Malcolm X.

Police believe five men in all took part in the attack on Malcolm X as he started to speak to 400 persons at a ballroom rally on Feb. 21. He was felled by 13 shots from a shotgun and two pistols.

The first man charged, Talmadge Hayer, 22, of Paterson, N.J., was shot in the leg by a bodyguard of Malcolm X. He has refused to say whether he had any Black Muslim connections.

Fringe Benefit
Steven French, 11, Terre Haute, decided being a page in the Indiana State Senate was a pretty decent deal. He got a fresh haircut, a new suit and tie—Someone even gave him a piece of gum. Besides all that, he got away from school for a day. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Tennis Player Arrested In Bank Robbery

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Tom Falkenburg, once a nationally known tennis player, has been arrested on a charge that he robbed a small Mississippi bank.

He is the brother of Jinx Falkenburg, New York television personality, and Bob Falkenburg, also a noted tennis player.

FBI agents met the tanned, 6-foot-4 socialite as he walked off the ninth green at Chady Oaks Country Club Wednesday where he was practicing for a tournament that begins today.

TOOK $4,048
Falkenburg, 41, is accused of being the gunman who, wearing a woolen ski mask, took $4,048 from a woman teller at the Bank of Ridgeland, 10 miles north of Jackson, Feb. 25.

The arrest was made on the basis of a green, 1960 model car used in the robbery, said Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Jackson FBI office.

NATIVE OF SPAIN
Sheriff Jack Cauthen of Madison County said state charges also would be filed against Falkenburg, a native of Spain. Falkenburg was charged with violating federal bank robbery statutes. He waived a preliminary hearing and remained in jail in lieu of a $5,000 bond.

South Texans Spend Both Dollars And Pesos

McALLEN (AP) — Perhaps you find yourself in South Texas with a pocket full of foreign currency. Nothing else. It is night and the banks are closed. Do you go hungry?

Hardly. If it is Mexican pesos you have. Shove a handful of them across a counter. The clerk or cashier deals with them without even looking up. Or write a check in pesos. It will be cashed as easily as one in dollars.

LOVE PESOS
South Texas is two-currency country. At least one bank keeps some customers' accounts in pesos, not dollars.

No law forces merchants to accept pesos like the law demand that they accept dollars. But they love pesos.

The Federal Reserve System does not deal in pesos, so banks have set up their own exchange arrangements on an informal basis. All banks say dealing in pesos costs them money for additional clerical help, armored car service and the like, even when they make a small service charge.

They continue to use the dual currency system cheerfully, however, for it helps businessmen who are the banks' customers. Most pesos tend to concentrate in national banks along the border. Some find their way north to San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Two banks in McAllen, two in Brownsville and one in Laredo estimate they handle a combined $43 million in Mexican currency each year.

MEXICAN BANKS
The First National Bank of McAllen estimates it processes $9.1 million in checks on Mexican banks and $10.1 million in cash. Other border banks say they also handle almost as much money in checks as in cash. A bank in San Antonio and one in Corpus Christi estimate they receive $3 million to $5 million in Mexican currency and coins each year. The metal peso is silver in color and slightly larger than the U.S. 50-cent piece. It is worth 8 U.S. cents, or the U.S. dollar is worth 12.50 pesos.

Port Pushes Negotiations

GALVESTON (AP)—Revised demands will be presented today in the International Longshoremen's Association strike negotiations here, assistant labor secretary James J. Reynolds said Wednesday.

Reynolds said there was no progress Wednesday in separate meetings of shipping industry representatives and the Clerks, Checkers and Warehousemen of the union. He said only two issues separated the Clerks, Checkers and Warehousemen from a contract, but he did not elaborate.

A new four-year contract was reached with the deep-water longshoremen here Saturday, but the dockers said they would remain on strike until an agreement was reached between the South Atlantic longshoremen at Miami Beach, Fla., and the maritime industry.
