Leathernecks Drive Back Red Advance

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marine guns blazed away Saturday at Communist guerrillas trying to feel out the defenses of the air base at Da Nang.

These were the first shots fired in action by any of the Marines since 3,500 swarmed ashore last Monday to guard Da Nang, the important air base from which U.S. planes take off for raids on Laos and Communist North Viet Nam.

Marine officers said 12 Viet Cong tried to feel out the Marine positions on Hill 327, which dominates the base 380 miles north of Saigon.

DRIVEN BACK
Three times the guerrillas approached but were driven back by a hail of machine-gun and mortar fire.

The guerrillas were located in the underbrush by a special radar that the Marines use to detect infiltrators. A Marine officer said the guerrillas appeared to be well-trained, judging from their actions as seen on the radar screen. No bodies were found when Marines went out to look for the intruders.

A dozen miles west of Saigon, Viet Cong guerrillas unleashed a mortar barrage on Duc Hoa, killing 5 and wounding 33. Two U.S. Army helicopters were called into action against the guerrillas, who dispersed.

Nguyen Phan, 38, a North Vietnamese said to be a Peking and Moscow-trained political commissar captured Friday, was displayed near Da Nang by Brig. Gen. Chanh Thi, 1st Army Corps commander. Phan is the highest ranking North Vietnamese ever captured, Thi said.

A slight man, Phan told reporters at an impromptu news conference he joined the Communists in North Viet Nam in 1953 during the war against the French.

PEKING-TRAINED
Phan said he was given a year's indoctrination and training in Peking in 1959 and then was sent to the Soviet Union for six months.

He infiltrated into South Viet Nam Feb. 2 in a group of 300 political commissioners sent to oversee the Viet Cong, he added. He held the rank of submajor.

Indiana Bill To End Death Penalty Vetoed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Roger D. Branigin vetoed Saturday a bill which would have ended the death penalty in Indiana.

The governor announced his action in a brief veto message, saying the people must have an opportunity to vote on the matter "in an election where this is an issue."

"Until the issue is decided, no man's life should be taken," the message added.

BACK TO HOUSE
The veto means that the bill will be returned to the Indiana House of Representatives at the start of the 1967 legislative session for a vote on whether to sustain or override the governor's action.

The governor declined to elaborate on the phrase in his veto message that "until the issue is decided no man's life should be taken."

It appeared possible, however, to interpret the statement as indicating he would not let any of six men now in death row at the Indiana State Prison go to the electric chair until the matter has been voted upon at the 1967 session of the General Assembly.

MAJOR ISSUE
One effect of the veto was that the matter seems certain to be a major campaign issue in 1966 legislative elections.

Peron Awaits Count Of Votes In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Between bomb blasts and bombast, Argentina got ready Saturday for congressional elections in a bitter contest between followers of President Arturo Illia and former dictator Juan D. Peron.

It hardly seemed to matter that scores of other parties were running candidates for the 99 congressional seats at stake in Sunday's balloting.

An estimated 10 million of Argentina's nearly 12 million registered voters were expected to cast ballots.

IN EXILE
Peron, 69, was reported quietly awaiting the outcome at his spacious villa in Madrid where he has been living in exile. He was overthrown in 1955 after ruling for nine years.

The six-week campaign was noisy but without violence until a few hours before it ended Friday at midnight.

DISPERSE MOB
Police tossed tear gas at a mob of Peronist demonstrators during a rally of the Popular Union party attended by an estimated 10,000 persons. Several persons were reported injured. Officers said the Peronists tried to form a march on Congress.

Illia's 18-month-old administration has attracted widespread criticism because of inflationary economic policies, but the nation has had a degree of political stability unknown in previous periods. Illia, 69, is a former physician.

California U. Pair Cancel Resignations

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California President Clark Kerr and Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson late Saturday withdrew their resignations after a five-hour closed meeting with the board of regents.

The meeting was the climax built up by a series of campus disorders and arrests over such issues as the collection of funds for civil rights work and whether free speech embraces obscenity.

All sides agreed these questions were involved: Were student demonstrations handled properly?

DISCIPLINE ISSUE
Why haven't any of the demonstrators — particularly three who voiced and placarded a four-letter sex word on campus last week — already been disciplined?

A Friday meeting of the Berkeley faculty, which voted 891 to 23 for retention of Kerr and Meyerson, drew the loudest applause when Economics Prof. Carl Landauer said:

"The issue is not that these students (who flouted the dirty word) be punished. Everyone agrees they should be punished."

"DUE PROCESS"
"What is at stake here is due process."

Some regents were reported to have demanded that the students involved in the obscenity incident be expelled immediately and gave Kerr a deadline.

Donald H. McLaughlin, vice president of the board of regents, said in a statement Friday:

NO PENALTIES
"It should be pointed out that since Oct. 1 no penalties have been imposed by the university administration on students who have been involved in violations of order and of decent behavior on the campus as serious as capture of a police car, resisting legally constituted authority, interfering in the use of buildings, occupation of Sproul Hall, indecent language and insulting behavior."

"Is it any wonder that many regents have become impatient and urge that effective action be taken?"

BULLETIN

HOUSTON (AP) — Four Houston residents were killed Saturday night when a twin-engine Piper Apache aircraft crashed just north of Northwest Airport. The victims were identified as: David Hooks, 15; H. L. Sandlin, 35; Jack Ball, 35; and John Steen, 24.

Marchers Slam, Fail To Crash Police Wall

LBJ Pledges 'Justice To All Citizens'

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said Saturday that before the current racial voting rights crisis is over, "every resource of government will be devoted to insuring justice" to all citizens.

Johnson gave that pledge at a news conference, opened unexpectedly at the last minute to nationwide broadcast, after meeting for more than three hours with Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace.

Both made recommendations to each other for ending the racial tension in Selma, Ala., where state police forcibly stopped Negro marchers last Sunday and troubles have continued through the week.

IN ROSE GARDEN
Johnson, taking his news conference outdoors to the White House rose garden, said "The offense of last Sunday cannot and will not be repeated."

Johnson said that last Sunday Alabama Negroes tried to make a peaceful protest for their right to vote.

"They were attacked and brutally beaten," he said.

The President said the government had tried to protect the Negroes' constitutional rights wherever they were violated.

VOWS JUSTICE
He said more than 70 U. S. officials were in Selma to enforce the law.

"At all times the force of the United States has been available to protect the peace of the citizens of Selma," he said.

Johnson referred to the constitutional amendment 95 years ago designed to assure voting rights to all, but said now many Americans are denied the right to vote because they are Negroes.

BILL PROMISED
Johnson said he will send to Congress on Monday a bill to strike down all restrictions used to deny the right to vote. He said it would set up simple standards for voting. If citizens are denied the right to vote, he said they will be registered by federal officials.

This was in line with efforts of Republicans and Democrats in Congress to work out legislation which would supersede state laws used to discriminate against Negroes.

It is wrong to deny Americans their right to vote, Johnson said, adding it is wrong to deny any person full equality because of the color of his skin.

Nor shall the voter be judged by his religion, where he was born, or his neighborhood, Johnson went on.

Johnson said the final answer to the problem of voting rights will not be found in armed confrontation but in the process of law.

Rice Editor Loses Post

HOUSTON (AP) — The editor of the Rice University student newspaper was placed on disciplinary probation Saturday and relieved of his duties.

Dean of students S. W. Higginbotham said the action was taken against Hugh Rice Kelly "for a deliberate flouting of the authority of the university."

Kelly, a senior from Houston, was not immediately available for comment.

The Thresher, a weekly publication, recently was a leader in a campaign to alter restrictions on speakers on the Rice campus.

Higginbotham said, however, the campaign was not the cause of the action against Kelly.

He said the action was taken for Kelly's "refusing to answer a summons to my office after ample notification on March 12 (Friday) and by further refusing to talk on the telephone with me on the morning of March 13 (Saturday)."

Trooper Shot Negro, Commander Discloses

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Col. Albert J. Lingo, commander of Alabama's state troopers, disclosed in court Saturday that one of his officers shot a Negro laborer during a night march.

Related story on Page 4-A

Feb. 18 at Marion, Ala. The Negro died eight days later.

Lingo's disclosure came while he was under questioning by a civil rights lawyer during a federal court hearing to determine if a Selma - to - Montgomery march may be staged.

The trooper commander had said he knew of no instance where Sheriff James G. Clark's posse of special deputies used brutality on Negroes.

PERMITTED GAS
Lingo also testified he did not want tear gas used to break up an attempted march from Selma last Sunday but that even so he permitted use of the gas.

Attorneys Fred Gray, a civil rights lawyer, asked: "Do you know of any instance where a state trooper shot a Negro at Marion?"

"Yes. And I made an investigation immediately," Lingo said.

He did not identify the trooper. Nor was he asked to do so.

used with the tear gas last Sunday.

Lingo told the court earlier that he left the decision on using tear gas to the senior uniformed officers of his trooper force when about 650 Negroes marched Sunday.

Troopers broke up the march by clubbing and tear-gassing the Negroes.

Lingo said no force was used to stop a march by about 2,500 demonstrators two days later.

Lingo agreed with the judge, who asked: "This march on Tuesday was more or less a play of what had been agreed on?"

TURN BACK
Johnson's question was prompted by a statement from Lingo earlier that he had agreed to permit the Tuesday march, led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., to proceed to the point where Sunday's march was halted.

Lingo said the agreement called for the marchers to turn back after they sang and prayed.

Lingo said the pact was worked out with LeRoy Collins, director of the federal Community Relations Service. He said that Gov. George C. Wallace had a part in deciding where Sunday's march would be stopped.

AUSTIN (AP) — Protesting "police brutality and sham delaying tactics" in Selma, Ala., about 85 white and Negro persons picketed the Austin federal building Saturday. President Johnson has an office in the downtown building.

"Troops Going To Viet Nam—We Need 'Em in Selma" read one sign. "How Many Men Must Die?" was another.

The marching and singing were confined to the sidewalks but five police units waited across the street in case of incidents.

State Trooper Force Pushes Back Throngs

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrators, growing impatient by the hour, tried twice Saturday to break through police lines.

They were turned back each time, although one small group slipped through and reached the courthouse before hurrying back behind the police blockade to avoid about 15 white youths who said they were waiting for them.

During the tense late afternoon, one Negro woman was taken by ambulance to a hospital. It was not known how she was hurt or by whom.

Demonstration leaders told city safety director Wilson Baker that President Johnson said they had a right to stage a march and that was what they were doing.

OVER 1,000
More than 1,000 demonstrators — white and black — were involved in the attempts to break through police lines. At one time the entire area in the midst of a Negro housing project was sealed off.

A throng of marchers once came face to face with club-carrying state troopers who stood guard across a wide street.

The troopers pushed them back.

About 50 white persons milled about an intersection and began yelling at the marchers. Troopers shoved back one white man who broke into the group of demonstrators.

USE CLUBS
The troopers used their clubs to shove the marchers back, but did not strike anyone.

The first group of more than 1,000 marchers included Negroes and white ministers, nuns and students.

Policemen locked arms and blocked the marchers. Some of the demonstrators tried to push through. The officers held firm.

The massive demonstration ended when the swelling ranks of marchers retreated from police lines.

The objective was the courthouse where the demonstrators wanted to have a memorial service for the Rev. James J. Reeb, a Boston minister fatally clubbed by a white gang here Tuesday night.

LEAFLETS DROPPED
Minutes after the march started, leaflets from an airplane wafted down on the tense scene. The leaflets appealed for funds for the four white men charged with Reeb's slaying.

Gray skies shrouded the scene. It turned colder. In the darkening overcast a motorcycle policeman wore dark glasses.

Ex-Lamesan On Air Victim List

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — Two Texas businessmen and two women were found dead Saturday in the wreckage of a twin-engine plane caught in a snowstorm on a flight from Las Vegas, Nev., to Phoenix, Ariz.

The wreckage was sighted by a Civil Air Patrol pilot in a hollow near Table Top Mountain, 40 miles northwest of Kingman.

MEN IDENTIFIED
The men were identified as Edwin Nichols, 40, a Waco, Tex., real estate man, and Benny Long of Lompas, Tex.

Coroner Clyde McEwen said several hours after the wreckage was discovered that papers indicated the women may have been Hilda F. Stewart, address unknown, and Martha Taylor Caldwell, believed to have lived in Dallas and formerly of Lamesa.

McEwen said the plane disintegrated on impact, scattering parts of bodies and personal papers for several hundred feet. The engines were hurled 1,100 feet from the impact point, he said.

TO FRAGMENTS
The coroner also said about seven $100 bills were found scattered amid the wreckage. McEwen said much of the plane was reduced to fragments not much larger than a "human hand."

The two men were said to have been flying from Dallas to look over Nichols' ranching interests in California.

Mrs. Caldwell, who resided in Lamesa until recently, is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor and a sister, Mrs. Billy Mears, all of Lamesa.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Spring has sprung. Now if we only had some substantial moisture to go with the balmy weather of the past week. Fruit trees were beginning to pop out at the week's end in the wake of temperatures that dipped no lower than the 50's in the early morning. Most of the week was overcast with a minimum of wind — a double blessing.

If they are bent on giving fans a thrill, the Howard County Junior College Hawks have succeeded admirably. Last Saturday, however, they almost gave their supporters heart failure before registering a dramatic win in the regional basketball tournament. The surprising, never-say-die Hawks leave today for the nationals, and who knows . . .

Speaking of the college, don't forget that the vote in the $500,000 bond issue comes up Saturday, and you should make it a point to vote and to ask others to vote. The issue would finance the college's share of a $804,000 building program, and thus shake off shackles of space and facilities and open the way for steady or rapid growth.

Down in Austin last week J. C. Hinsley, special counsel for the City of Big Spring in arguing its appeal for higher water rates from the state, got a little carried away in an exchange with the court. Facetiously or otherwise, he imitated the state hospital wasn't an asset to the community. Of course, this provoked prompt and vigorous disclaimers from aghast civic leaders.

A bizarre case turned up at the sheriff's office when Bob Johnson, a resident here for the past seven years, admitted he was in fact Jack Eubanks, 42, who had walked off from a New Mexico prison farm while serving . . .

DEAR ABBY

Who Teaches Whom?

DEAR ABBY: Country girls should not be allowed to come to the city until they have had a course in The Facts of Life. (I mean the traps, temptations and tricks of married men and that sort of thing.) Isn't there some way to make a course like this compulsory for all the senior girls in the country schools?
WORRIED FOR THE COUNTRY GIRLS

DEAR WORRIED: Spare yourself further worry. Most "country schools" are on a par with city schools. Besides, city boys write that they learn the facts of life from country girls.

LETTERS

How Do You Explain?

DEAR ABBY: Last week my brother found a boy's sweater on his way home from school. The name of the boy was on it, so my brother took the sweater to school and put it in his locker because he was almost late to class and didn't have time to find the boy. He saw the boy's pal and told him that he had the sweater in his locker. Right in the middle of class, the vice principal came in and got my brother and made him get the sweater. Then he gave him a long lecture on "stealing." My brother told him how it happened, but the vice principal gave him three days' detention anyway.

Later that day my brother was called into the principal's office and they asked him a lot of questions about other stolen property. He didn't even know what they were talking about. When he told my mother about all this she came to school and got the detention cancelled. Now my brother says that as long as he lives he will never try to help anybody because you only stick your neck out and it's not appreciated. You make things so plain about right and wrong, Abby. I think my brother is wrong, but I can't explain. Can you?

YOUNGER BROTHER

DEAR YOUNGER: Tell your brother that the vice principal may have been misinformed about how the sweater happened to be in your brother's possession. And he was disciplined because of the misunderstanding. One who goes through life trusting no one is rarely trusted himself. And that, my young friend, is a very miserable way to live.

Library Friends Organize

DEAR ABBY: How does one tell a 60-year-old sister that stretch pants are not for her? My sister wears a size 18 or 20 and she has a protruding stomach, too. Her children and grandchildren all laugh behind her back, but they won't tell her to her face how unbecoming those stretch pants are on her. Why do clothing manufacturers make stretch pants in such large sizes?
NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: Manufacturers will make anything they think will sell. Tell your sister that she's stretching things too far, and maybe she'll snap back to something more appropriate for the shape she's in.

DEAR ABBY: Apropos your column presenting complaints from wives, daughters, in-laws and others who are obliged to listen to oft-repeated stories told by some of us oldsters, I should like to come to the defense of some of my fellow raconteurs with the following:

During the delivery of a prepared speech, a British humorist once said, "Don't stop me if you have heard this one. There is no reason why a joke should not be enjoyed more than once. Imagine how little good music there would be in the world if, for example, a conductor refused to play Beethoven's Fifth Symphony on the grounds that his audience had heard it before."

Sincerely,
BURKE W. TAYLOR

Last Monday, our dog got out of the yard, and although it was for just a little while, it was long enough for someone to poison her. There have been two dogs and a cat poisoned in our neighborhood in the past month.

Our dog was a Boy Scout mascot, belonging to 39 boys and our three children. I don't believe the person or persons who committed this crime realize what they have done to these boys and our children, or maybe they don't care. What if a small child had gotten the poison?

Have you ever watched a small child cry over something like this? When they ask you did it and why, what do you tell them? Do you tell them there is someone in the neighborhood who is mean, hateful and has no heart?

You can't tell them those things, because it would be teaching them the wrong way. You ask God to have mercy on the persons who did it, because they don't know how many people they have hurt.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Elton L. Carlile

T. J. POWELL

Top Pythian Plans Visit

E. R. Moren, chancellor commander of Frontier Lodge No. 43, Knights of Pythias, has announced that T. J. Powell, grand chancellor of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Texas, will make his official visit to the lodge here Tuesday night.

Powell will be at the Frontier Lodge hall, 1:07 Lancaster, at 7:30 p.m. He will speak on Pythian Lodge activities.

Moren asked that all members of the lodge make a special effort to attend and hear the grand chancellor.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

The boring is at depth about four feet below the water table, Lillard said, with a 36-inch steel encasement pipe to be first placed underneath the highway. A cast iron pipe will be placed inside the steel line.

The lateral relief pipeline being installed in the downtown area was re-routed late Friday to avoid storm sewers in the area, Lillard reported.

The route will extend west on Fifth from Nolan to Johnson Street, then south on Johnson to Sixth Street, then west to the alley between Main and Runnels. Previously the route was planned to move south from Fifth Street on Runnels to Sixth Street.

Work on the main Beals Branch line was halted temporarily this week at the intersection of Young and Second Streets, Lillard said, to enable the two crews now being used to work at the relief line site and the FM 700 extension.

The contractor, Great Plains Construction Co. of Lubbock, is also working on final patching for the Settles Street relief line. The line is from the alley north of Stadium Street, south on Settles to the alley south of Bluebonnet Street. A hot mix application will later be placed, on the street area which was taken up for the installation there, Lillard said.

Cash Awards Given At Webb AFB For Ideas

Cash awards and a certificate of appreciation were presented Air Base Group military personnel and civilian employees by Lt. Col. Thayne L. Thomas, deputy base commander, for their participation in the Military and Civilian Incentive Awards Program. Donald W. Karns, a machinist in the fabrication branch of Field Maintenance, received $222.50 as his share of an award for a suggestion, submitted jointly with S. Sgt. Donald D. Claybough, to make and use a special tool to remove and install bullet noses on the J-85 engine. Use of the tool has saved the Air Force an estimated $4,800 at Webb alone. Air Training Command is considering the suggestion for command-wide adoption. Sgt. Claybough was given a check for $125.

Ellis G. Poitevint, foreman of the J-85 engine shop of Field Maintenance, received two awards for adopted suggestions.

The first was an initial award of $125 for an idea to replace the rivets in the VEN housing brackets with bolts, thereby cutting future repair time in half. He will be in line for an additional award, after the estimated savings of $4,400 has been validated for the ATC Cost Reduction Program.

Poitevint's second award, $15, was for suggesting the installation of a pressurizing plug in the oil tank of the J-85 engine. This procedure will provide first-year savings of $133.50.

CM. Sgt. Baird D. McQuay received $25 for a suggestion outlining a procedure for reclamation and repair of the VEN inner leaves of a J-85 engine.

Airman I.C. James T. Begley suggested the building of a tool for removing and replacing the compressor rotor main drive shaft of the J-85 engine. For that idea, he was given $25.

City To Buy New Trucks

Bids will be received by the city April 8 at 2 p.m. for two pickup trucks and a truck chassis and 24-cubic yard pumper unit for the sanitation department.

The bids will be opened publicly at that time, then tabulated and presented to the city commission in its first session during April, Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson said.

The new units will replace three currently in service. Two trucks will be traded in the purchase, including a pickup currently being used by the garage and a pickup being used by the city welder. One of the new trucks will be used by the police department animal ward, with the pickup currently used for this purpose to be used by the garage. A pickup being used by the water department will be used by the welder, with one of the new trucks to be used by the water section.

Weather Good,
But Flying Off

Something besides weather is holding down activity out at Howard County Airport. Flying club members are not keeping airplanes busy, and transient flying is off.

Kimball Mills representatives from Fort Worth flew in to the airport Friday on an official trip. They flew in with a Twin Beechcraft.

Howard Loyd, airport manager, made another hospital charter flight to Houston this week in his Piper Comanche, taking a patient to Methodist Hospital.

Lakeview P-TA
Sponsors Cleanup
For North Area

The Lakeview P-TA is taking the lead in promoting a cleanup campaign in the north part of town.

The effort will begin Monday and continue until the first of May. A prize will be given to the resident who shows the most improvement in beautification of his home premises.

Those who desire information or to enter are asked to call Mrs. Carrie McManus at AM 4-4886. General chairman of the effort is R. G. Walker.

The P-TA is urging all residents to first clean around their places thoroughly, removing trash, weeds, etc. Then it is suggesting planting of flowers, trees and shrubs, painting of fences, houses and garbage racks, and anything else which will help the appearance of the area.

Alabama Undergoing Big Economic Change

Alabama, center of the 1965 civil rights struggle, is a diversified Southern state undergoing an accelerating social and economic transformation.

Once called the cradle of the Confederacy, the state's motto is "We Dare to Defend Our Rights."

What is Alabama? The answer would include: — The steel worker in Birmingham, whose huge plants make it the largest steel producing area in the South.

— Employees at the multi-million dollar National Aeronautics and Space Administration facilities in Huntsville, the "Rocket City."

— Government workers in Montgomery, and offices throughout Alabama or the thousands of employees of the state's educational and medical facilities.

— Thriving towns — Tennessee Valley Authority installations and workers in north Alabama, and residents of the thriving communities on both sides of the vital Tennessee River.

— The cotton farmer in the Black Belt, the beef cattleman, the poultryman, the crop farmer, peanut and peach grower.

— The city dwellers, who in the two aircraft this week were: Cessna 150—Green, Morrill (4), Hill (3), Foster, Ericson (2), Davidson (2), Warren, Mann; Cessna 172—Whitlock (2), Green (2); Spencer, Mann.

Big Spring members up were: Colt—Hopkins (4); Cessna Skyhawk—Allen (5), Rogers, Polone (3-day cross country).

Howard County Flying Club members using the Colt were: Dotson (4), Brumley (3), McClure (5), Waller (4), Moore, Garner and Rich, Jones.

Anybody interested in getting in the Hayward-Las Vegas Air Race in May? There will be two divisions in the race, via Hesperia; Speed, and Proficiency. Any one interested may write to Air Race, Hayward Air Terminal, Hayward, Calif., or Air Race, Alamo Airways, Las Vegas, Nev. Entries must be in by April 20.

Another interesting air show and fly-in, coming off from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. today, is the Confederate Air Force Air Show at Harlingen Air Force Base. If it rains, the makeup date will be March 28.

Nine famous fighters will be in action when the pilots of the CAF get going in the "hot" craft. They are all World War II vintage and in top condition.

The famous fighters to be seen in action will include the RAF Vampire Jet vs. Bearcat and Mustang; P51 Mustang, P38 Lightning; F6 Hellcat; FM 2 Wildcat, and F8F Bearcat.

They will engage in dog fights, pylon races, skydiving exhibitions, and team acrobatics. This will be the third annual Confederate Air Show and Fly-In and all pilots and friends are invited.

have left the rural areas in great numbers in the last two decades.

The state's population in 1960 was 3,266,740, ranking it 19th. Its area is 51,609 square miles. Lying in the Cotton Belt of the Old South, Alabama is bounded by Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi, and Florida.

BUSY PORT Its seaport, Mobile, is on the Gulf of Mexico. The port cleared tonnage of 18,594,657 in 1964, the most in its history.

An excellent system of flowing, navigable rivers has been one of Alabama's prime assets, and is partly behind a booming industrialization.

In 1963, Alabama was No. 2 in the South in new and expanded industry based on investment of dollars, $340 million.

This total rose to $406 million in new and expanded industry in 1964.

Cotton is the state's main farm crop. Other major crops are peanuts, corn, hay, small grains, potatoes and pecans. Livestock and poultry goods have burgeoned in importance. Alabama also produces watermelons, sweet potatoes, tobacco and sugar cane.

Coal mining was once a major industry, but has slumped considerably in recent years.

Was Beaten, Negro Claims

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Negro dishwasher told a federal court today that he was beaten by a state trooper during a march by Negroes at Marion, Ala., even though he had no part in it.

The testimony by John Carter Lewis came on the third day of a hearing before U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., on the issue of a right-to-vote march from Selma to Montgomery.

Lewis said he was beaten to the ground and suffered severe head injuries and a broken arm on the night of Feb. 18. This took place, he said, while other Negroes were beaten by state police breaking up a march more than one-quarter mile away.

DROVE TO CAFE The stocky, 38-year-old Lewis told the judge that when he left work at 10:25 p.m., he drove to a cafe to get a friend and take her home. The cafe is three doors from the Negro church where the march began that night.

Lewis said a state trooper stopped his car a quarter mile from the cafe. The witness said he explained what he was doing and said the officer seemed satisfied.

Another trooper arrived and even though the first officer said the Negro was "a pretty good guy," the witness testified that the second trooper said: "Let's beat him up anyway."

"HIT ME AGAIN" Lewis continued: "He hit me on the head. I staggered and he hit me again. I dropped my billfold on the road. I bent over to try to pick up the billfold and then he hit me again. And then when I tried another time to pick up the billfold, he hit me again."

Lewis said he fell to the ground and stayed there. "He took his foot and pushed me over," he said.

Then, Lewis said, the two troopers put him in the back seat of his own car but left his feet hanging out the door. He said he stopped a motorist and was taken to the Perry County Hospital where he remained for five days.

An FBI agent told the court earlier he thought state troopers acted in the public interest in breaking up the march with tear gas.

Many Autos Still Lack 1965 Sticker AUSTIN (AP)—Homer Garrison, state police director, said Saturday 15 million vehicles lack 1965 safety inspection stickers. The deadline is April 15.

'Push Button' Instructional Device Shown To Educators

There's a "push-button" classroom in the offing, but it will still call for a teacher.

A new programming-recording machine for any type training use was unveiled here Friday before a group of instructional people by George McAlister, head of Math-Master Labs, Inc. which has national distribution for the device.

Called Edex ("educational excellence") it is an electronic arrangement for a classroom. A multiple-choice question, or one calling for an objective answer, may be flashed on a screen, students respond by pushing one of four buttons in a control unit at their desks—the button they choose as the correct answer.

INSTANTANEOUS GRADES, TOO
George McAlister shows Edex board

FIGURES GRADES
The signals are sent into response meters in a console at the instructor's desk, and these meters show immediately the number — and percentage — of correct or incorrect answers.

At the same time, each student response has turned on a small console light which illuminates a seating diagram of the classroom, so that instructor also knows immediately how each individual has fared. There are also counters in the console which can compute total answers on a series of questions to arrive at a final grade, this also instantaneously.

The lighted diagram can serve as an immediate roll call of a class.

RELIEVES TEACHER
Edex is a new step in the modern programmed learning, McAlister pointed out.

He explained that many of the time-consuming tasks of the teacher may be handled by Edex, leaving more of that time for personal consultation and lecture helps. It gives, he said, a prompt check on attendance, prompt grading, prompt arrival at class median level, and a 100 per cent class profile on every question.

Percentage of correct answers can show an instructor at once, he said, if the subject matter has been properly absorbed by the class, and will indicate if the instructor can proceed or if review is needed. "There is no waiting a period of weeks to see how they come out on written tests," McAlister said.

TAPED LECTURES
Use of the Edex can be made with taped lectures, and McAlister's Math-Master is devising a series of standardized lessons in the field of mathematics.

The model he demonstrated successfully is the Series 300, which, to accommodate 40 students, sells for some $4,800. McAlister demonstrated it at the recent national convention of school superintendents in Atlantic City, and said that there seems to be a promising field for the teaching aid.

Edex also is making a deluxe model, which is synchronized with sound tape, picture slides and a motion picture projector. Through this console control, a complete lecture may be given, illustrations may be used at any given point. The price on this model—some of which already are in use by Greyhound Lines for driver training—is around $8,500. Math-Master is sales distributor in a number of states for this model.

No Special Session Seen By Governor

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Connally counted his legislative blessings this weekend, still contending he sees no special session over the horizon.

"Frankly, it is surprising that so much has been done in view of the magnitude of controversial legislation under consideration," the governor said in making what he called a "halfway point" survey.

Actually, Connally used the short form "halfway point" because only eight weeks or 63 calendar days of the legislature have vanished. That is close to the halfway mark of the 120-day regular session suggested by the Constitution but a good 10 days shy of the middle mark of the 140-day maximum session.

SPECIAL SESSION
Some legislators are still predicting privately that the session will not only last the full 140 days but likely will run into at least one 30-day special session.

Despite nine examples of speedy legislative cooperation cited by Connally, teachers pay raises and redistricting remain the big time-eating problems still unsolved—and practically untouched on the surface.

School boards of the state's largest school districts—including Houston and Dallas—have taken sides with the Texas State Teachers Association against Connally's pay raise plan. There are reports that the TSTA and local school boards are teaming up throughout the state to convince parents and teachers on the argument that Connally's bill would raise local school taxes.

Local Board Backs TSTA Pay Proposal

The Big Spring school board has endorsed the Texas State Teachers Association pay raise bill and turned a cold shoulder to the plan proposed by Gov. John Connally.

A resolution adopted by the board and sent to members of the legislature said the governor's plan would wreck the present foundation program set up under the Gilmer-Aiken Law. Moreover, it would cause most local school districts to raise taxes to meet requirements, or cut out some essentials of the education program of many schools.

The resolution was adopted after individual board members had voted on the two proposals included in a questionnaire sent out by the Texas Committee of Ten. This contained 28 separate questions on proposed school legislation. The local board, unanimously favored the TSTA plan.

COMPARISON
A comparison of the two plans — prepared by TSTA — showed the TSTA plan would raise teacher salaries $485 per annum across the board, while the governor's plan would provide an average increase of $184 (it is spread over a 10-year period starting with $90 per annum increase for beginning teachers and stepping up the increase for more experienced teachers).

Under the present formula of shared costs, the state pays 80 per cent, the local districts 20 per cent of basic salaries. The governor's plan calls for local districts to assume 20 per cent of textbook cost and teacher retirement costs in its share. The state currently pays for both these items.

SHARES
Big Spring has 325 Foundation Program professional units. If the TSTA plan of $405 per unit is passed by the legislature the increase in salaries would amount to $131,625. The district would be called upon to pay $23,296 of this amount, and the state would pay $108,329.

Under the governor's bill the salary increase for the same number of teachers would be $59,800 and the district's share would be $39,936, while the state funds available would be only $19,864. Textbook and retirement costs would run local district costs to $88,465.

"Nobody likes to think about a tax increase at this time," Supt. Sam Anderson said. "The Master Plan bond issue is before us and the anticipated revenue for bond retirement and local maintenance and operation is going to be close as things stand now."

THREATEN PROGRAM
"If we have to lose over $88,465 per year it will hurt. The Connally bill will penalize local districts by asking them to contribute to the program."

Theatre Group Changes Plays

"Stalag 17" has been substituted for "All the King's Men" as the next offering of the Big Spring Civic Theatre.

Directors of the organization said last week that due to technical problems, the play originally scheduled would be indefinitely postponed. The original play dates—April 2-3—will not be changed.

Members of the cast for the play will include Joe Maenner, Dr. R. J. Kasher, Jack Meeker, Joe DeSousa, Bob Bateman, Art Clonts, Dan Kester and Jay Thomas Chumley. Three minor parts are still to be cast.

The play, concerning POWs in a German detention camp, will be staged in the City Auditorium.

Mrs. Martin To Serve Again As Spelling Bee Pronouncer

Mrs. A. L. (Elizabeth) K. Martin, instructor in English at Howard County Junior College, has agreed to serve as official pronouncer for The Herald's Third Annual Spelling Bee on April 10.

Mrs. Martin served in the same capacity at the first two Bees, and the boys and girls of the schools who took part in the county finals were high in their praise of her work.

Don Hickson, last year's champion who competed in the Regional Spelling Bee in Lubbock, said that "Mrs. Martin's way of pronouncing was a lot better than the pronouncer they had at the Regional Meet." He added that he hoped, if he was back in the county finals that Mrs. Martin would be the pronouncer again.

The finals this year will be April 10 in the Howard County Junior College Auditorium. Judges will be announced soon. The schools of the city, the parochial school here, the Fortsan Junior High School (Elbow) and Midway elementary school, in the Coahoma district, are to have champions at the County Bee. The deadline set by school officials in Big Spring call for the elementary and junior high schools to have their school champions selected by March 31.

Some of the schools have already begun eliminations. Competition seems to be particularly keen in Goliad and Runnels Junior High schools. In the first Bee in 1963, Goliad had the champion who went to Lubbock. Last year, the County champion was from Runnels.

However, the runner-up in the Bee last year was from the elementary school system. The champion, easily enough, could come from any school in the whole group.

Winner of the County Spelling Bee wins a plaque and a free trip for himself and his parents to Lubbock where he competes against the champions from 20 other West Texas counties. If he wins the title there

Report Said Not Accurate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Chester Clifton was reported today to have labeled as highly inaccurate a published account of a speech in which he was quoted as saying bugging devices are a security problem at the White House.

White House press secretary George E. Reedy relayed this word to newsmen.

Reedy said he had talked to Clifton, President Johnson's military aide, and Clifton "insists that (the published report) is a highly inaccurate account of what he said."

The Texas Tech newspaper, the Toreador, said Friday Clifton told the Southwestern Journalism Congress at the school that the electronic listening devices were planted by possible foreign agents and by visitors to pick up conversations.

Former Judge Davenport Dies

FORT WORTH (AP)—Former Judge George Davenport, 91, died early Saturday.

Services will be held in Eastland Sunday.

Viet Victim From Texas

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The body of an American pilot found near the wreck of the jet bomber in which he crashed Thursday was identified Saturday as that of Capt. William Mattis of 709 W. Coleman, Iowa Park, Tex.

The body was found in the mountains of Binh Dinh province, 280 miles northeast of here Friday.

There was no indication as to the fate of the other American aboard the plane. He was the navigator, Capt. Richard Smith of Wichita, Kan.

The B57 went down into the jungle trailing smoke after completing a napalm-dropping attack on Viet Cong concentrations. It was the first B57 to crash in the course of a combat mission in Viet Nam, although others have crashed while arriving in Viet Nam.

It was not known why the B57 went down, but U. S. officials said they did not believe it was because of enemy fire.

Pleads Guilty

Stanley Barron, charged with aggravated assault, pleaded guilty in Howard County Court on Friday afternoon and was sentenced to serve 90 days in the Howard County jail. Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said the defendant was accused of kicking a door in at a local residence.

Guard Reserve Unit Sought

A Texas State Guard Reserve Corps, to serve as a security unit in connection with the National Guard, is to be formed here.

Guard officials said that two officers (a captain and a lieutenant) and 10 enlisted men will be assigned to the unit.

Purpose of the Texas State Guard Reserve Unit is to be responsible for security of the armory and the locality in the absence of the National Guard battery.

The state guard is part of the militia of the state only, and any duty it would be asked to perform would be in the immediate vicinity.

Any person interested in becoming a member of this unit is urged to inquire at the National Guard Armory for further information.

Beautification Is Urged, Speaks For College Bonds

To The Editor:

During the past five years the City of Big Spring has been developing the Master Plan. This program has primarily been one to provide the necessary services that a growing city must have. Now that we have an excellent water processing plant with its distributing system, a sewage collection system and processing plant, street improvement, and the many other developments that have been made, it is time to develop Big Spring into a city that, we the people, will enjoy living in and be able to say with pride—this is my city—I am proud of it.

French Local Elections Held

PARIS (AP) — The followers of President Charles de Gaulle will try to tighten their grasp on French politics Sunday in municipal elections all over France.

Although the voting will cover 37,799 communities, interest will be centered on fewer than 20 larger cities where a bitter three-cornered fight has developed among Communists, Gaullists and centrist forces.

MARSEILLE BATTLE

The most publicized personal struggle will be in Marseille, where Gaston Defferre, an announced Socialist candidate for the presidential election in December, is having a tough fight with both Communists and to improve our city. The main discussion was on beautification. If we really look at things around us and all through our midst, it is appalling to see the deterioration that has happened to so much of our private property. This would all point to the lack of pride in what is ours and shows our lack of concern of what we are really doing to our neighbor. I know that a lot of us can't spend large sums of money in major repairs, but I see so many areas that only the expenditure of a little elbow grease could make a great difference in what we are forcing our neighbors to put up with.

The committee also discussed a tree planting program. Many years ago there was a program of planting Chinese elms, which recently have developed a disease. The discussion of the committee brought out the fact that a new tree planting program be developed, to use trees that will grow well in this area and be free of disease.

The main discussions of the committee was not so much of the material improvements of the city but of people improvements. How can we get people to care what happens to the city? How can pride be generated? How can business people realize that the progress of their business depends so much on the tidy appearance of their places of business? How can owners be made to feel that the appearance of their property affects every one around them? How can owners and users of rental property develop pride in what they are showing to part of the world that passes through our city?

A committee of your chamber of commerce can't do everything, but thoughts and ideas can be advanced. It takes us—the people—to DO. If we want a dirty deteriorating city that is covered with windblown debris, shabby houses, deteriorating places of business, then we do not have to do anything. If we want to be proud of things, places, and people, and Big Spring, we must begin to clean up, fix up, paint up. Let's show that we are good neighbors—that we care. I have been asked many times, "why can't we get industry to come into Big Spring?" All I can say is—look around, open your eyes, see what you see. A shabby town is just like a shabby business place—soon one comes to it, then all is lost.

Your Committee on Civic Development will welcome any and all suggestions. I only ask that you do not call me personally, but write or come to your chamber of commerce with your ideas. I also think that the readers of this paper will be glad to read your comments in letters to the editor.

Hunt For Spanish Treasure Persists

SALADO (AP) — Digging in search of a gold treasure goes on seven days a week in the limestone cliffs of this historic community but mud and water are slowing down progress.

Being sought is gold reportedly stashed away by Spanish conquistadores centuries ago.

The hunt involves the digging of a main shaft and exploration of crevices which the searchers believe may be openings to a cavern.

MUD PROBLEM

The shaft has been dug 100 feet, but mud and water oozing at the bottom is causing a problem, said Jim Martin of Dallas, spokesman for the undertaking.

Martin said Saturday tons of dirt and rock have been removed by a 15-man team.

A new phase was introduced Friday by Guerra Enterprises and International Explorers, principals in the gold hunt.

A plane with a laser-maser electronic device, invented by O. W. Fitz of Houston, flew over the area. Martin said the equipment, similar to that used in oil exploration, is capable of indicating precious metal underground.

COMPILE CHARTS

Martin said it would be three or four days before charts can be compiled and the results of the flight known.

Martin explained that the laser unit of the device, in the shape of a barrel, is a beam of heat and light which assists the maser beam in producing micro waves. He pointed out that similar equipment used in oil exploration can penetrate to a depth of 20,000 feet.

Besides the big shaft, work also is being concentrated in a large opening in a limestone cliff. Martin said a big boulder appeared to have been cemented in the opening and inside the opening chunks of flint and rock also appeared to have been cemented in a stack.

A theory of the searchers is that the opening may lead to a cavern.

One Minor Injury In Five Accidents

Donald R. Boyd, 18, a passenger in a car driven by Jerome K. Cottrell, of Webb AFB, was taken to Malone-Hogan clinic shortly after 3 p.m. Saturday for treatment of minor injuries received in a two car accident at 1317 Eleventh Place. Owner of the parked vehicle involved was Leroy Hollingshead.

An accident involving three vehicles was investigated at 3802 and 3804 Connally Saturday afternoon. A vehicle driven by Janice Waring Parrish, 2108 Wasson Road, and two parked vehicles were in collision, with an estimated $270 damage done to three cars. Parked vehicles were owned by Wayne Wallace, 3804 Connally and Charles Wright, 3802 Connally.

A third accident on the parking lot at Howard County Hospital Foundation was investigated when a car driven by David Waldo Jones, 1700 Virginia, and a parked car owned by Jack R. Magee, 1611 Osage Road, were in collision.

Two other minor accidents were investigated Friday afternoon and night. Locations, and drivers of vehicles involved, were: 404 NW 8th, Jasper Dillard Elliot, 201 E. 6th, and George Wallace Peoples, 1221 W. 6th; 800 W. 3rd, Parked car, no driver, and Michel Defelice, Webb AFB.

Assault, 2 Thefts Handled By Police

One man was charged with aggravated assault Friday night following an altercation in front of the Davis Cafe at 309 Lamesa Drive. Big Spring police arrested the man after he allegedly struck a Negro male, Ramon R. Morton of Webb AFB, over the head with a bottle, inflicting a gash.

Two thefts were investigated Saturday. H. R. Looney told officers that he parked his pickup in the 100 block of West Fourth Street about 1:30 pm. He said when he returned a suit, pair of work pants, a shirt, a paint brush, and a fly line were missing from the unlocked vehicle.

Sgt. Bruce Bowler, 176-B Fairchild, Webb Village, told officers that a stop watch, belonging to the U.S. government, was taken from the glove compartment of his car Saturday. He said he had taken it to a local carwash station and that the watch, valued at more than $50, was taken while he was out of the vehicle.

To The Editor:

I am supporting the junior college bond issue March 20. I have lived in Big Spring 34 years and have seen the population increase from 12,000 to 35,000. This increase did not just happen. It took men and brains and money to make it possible.

I was here when the college was opened and have watched it grow by leaps and bounds. Our junior college is rated as one of the best in the nation.

Industry goes places where people are interested in churches, schools, and hospitals and where there is an adequate water supply. Big Spring has all of these. But we must not stand still. Nothing less than the best is good enough for any community.

There is no surplus of labor in the U. S. It is the misfits, or those that do not have the training for specialized work. Shorter week hours will not answer the question of unemployment. Men and women must be trained for the kind of jobs that are available. Skilled workers can always get jobs.

Unless our schools and colleges are the best we cannot expect to compete with other towns in our area.

A very small per cent of our children in Big Spring will be able to attend colleges other than the junior college in Big Spring. We have a fine qualified Christian gentleman at the head of our college—Dr. W. A. Hunt.

Don't let the children of Big Spring down, let's give them the best we are able to offer. Also remember Webb Air Base men that are giving their all for us. The junior college has been a great help in enhancing their education while in our midst.

Vote for the college bonds March 20. Vote for humanity.

G. W. DABNEY, 806 Runnels St.

To The Editor:

I think that the newspapers, TV and radio are being unjust to the right of all the people. Your paper of March 10 used up most of the front page in giving the brutality to the Negro. On the same page you used less than six inches to tell of 10 white youths being stabbed at a high school basketball game.

You went to the trouble to have a picture of this man from Boston who was beaten up by people who were agitated by the interference of outsiders.

At least you went to the trouble to find out the name of the boy who was stabbed in the heart. Even his name was surrounded by an article about this intruder of Boston.

You may think this is fair and think it is sensationalism. If that is what you sell, how about a front page of the topeka bathing suit.

ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION OF HOW NEW COLLEGE LIBRARY BUILDING WOULD APPEAR Proposed plant would more than double space and provide for twice as many books

Reasons For Two Buildings Are Cited By HCJC President

Reasons for concentrating on a new library building and a new science building in an effort to break the space bottleneck for Howard County Junior College were discussed Saturday by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president. A bond election to solve this problem is set for Saturday.

The library is rapidly running out of room and cannot hope to reach American Library Association standards unless it has room to grow, he said. Already, it is short of Southern Association of College seating standards.

While the problem is not quite so pressing for science classes, the shortage of space and facilities has made it necessary to shift several classes around — sometimes to other buildings — and move cumbersome demonstration equipment. By the same token, big classes from other departments have uprooted some science units from the science lecture room because it is the only place large enough to accommodate them.

LIBRARY PROBLEM

"The HCJC Library has close to 15,000 volumes and adds about 1,000 books a year to its collection," said Dr. Hunt.

"Many of these books deal directly with the South and the Southwest. The growth of the book collection meets Texas Junior College Association standards, but at present the library is somewhat short of the Southern Association standards for seating requirements.

"Our goal is to meet the American Library Association standard of 20,000 volumes and the ALA seating standards of 25 per cent of the student body."

"The proposed new library building will contain 14,375 square feet of floor space, will seat 220 students and will house up to 34,000 volumes. Conference rooms will be available for students use as well as listening equipment and microfilm reading machine. Besides this, the building is designed so that another unit with approximately the same floor space may be added when needed. This is important because the library is planned not only for education of the young people of Howard County, but for growth and prosperity of the people of this area of West Texas. The library influences lives of many patrons who are not college students."

The proposed science building will have 25,884 square feet located on two floors. The first floor will be used by the chemistry and physics departments and will include a large lecture room. The entire second floor will be used by the biology department.

Facilities would include two freshmen labs for biology, a zoology lab, a room for bacteriology, plus storage space and autoclaves for proper care of experimental animals. The chemistry section will have two labs for freshmen (each accommodating 32 at one time) and one for sophomores. It also will provide space for individual student projects and for storing bulky demonstration setups. The physics lab will be more adequate, provide for permanent set-ups of equipment and for classes if necessary.

The science building will also include classrooms, relieving a point of pressure of the present plant. It also will have ample office space for student-faculty consultation.

Booked for creating a disturbance was Harold Frodge, 44, who identified himself as an evangelist from Marshall, Ill.

His placard said on one side: "Negro mobs must not rule the land. Law must not break down."

The other side said: "George Wallace, a great governor. Alabama, a great state."

About 110 persons, 36 of them white, marched downtown in support of civil rights demonstrations in Selma, Ala.

Man Ejected From March

OMAHA (AP) — A man was ejected from a civil rights march Saturday when he hoisted a sign lauding Gov. George Wallace of Alabama. He was arrested.

STOCK SHOW

Good Weather, Stock And Prices At Gail

GAIL—The weather was wonderful, the dinner was excellent, the bidding was high, and crowd above average, for the Borden County Livestock Show at Gail Saturday. The 74 animals sold brought good prices, according to Borden County Agent J. W. Holmes.

CHAMPION STEER The grand champion steer was shown by Rex Cox, and sold to Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital, Cowper Clinic-Hospital, and Howard County Hospital Foundation, all of Big Spring, for $700. The champion weighed 860 pounds.

Reserve Champion Steer, weighing 910 pounds, was shown by Leslie Grant, and was sold to Ranchers and Farmers Auction Co. of Eablene for $330.

Grand champion barrow, shown by Tommy Hancock, weighed 220 pounds and brought $150. Ezell Key of Snyder purchased the animal. The reserve champion, weighing 200 pounds, brought $110 from McCormick & Son of Snyder. It was shown by Deona Jones.

HODGE SCORES Jimmy Don Hodge, showing one champion and two reserves in three lamb divisions, came out with $310 for the three animals.

He showed the Reserve champion Fine Wool lamb, weighing 94 pounds, and sold it for $100 to the Mule Shoe Ranch of Gail; the grand champion Crossbred, weighing 106 pounds, sold to Porter Lumber Co. of Lamesa for $110, and the reserve champanion Southdown, weighing 77 pounds, sold to West Texas State National Bank of Snyder for $100.

Grand champion Fine Wool lamb, weighing 87 pounds, was shown by Donna Cox and sold to First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Big Spring for $175.

Reserve champion Crossbred lamb, weighing 130 pounds, was shown by Connie Ogden and sold to Borden County Livestock Committee for $110.

The grand champion Southdown, shown by Kenny Bennett, weighed 76 pounds and sold for $100 to the First National Bank of Lamesa.

LOCAL BUYERS Buyers from Big Spring and Howard County included: Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital, Cowper Clinic-Hospital, Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital, Howard County Hospital Foundation, First National Bank, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Elmo Wasson, Stanley Hardware, Kimbell Feed Mills, Cosden, Newsom's, Truman Jones Motor Co., Hull & Phillips, Southwest Tool & Supply, Taylor Implement Co., Shasta Ford Sales, Gound Pharmacy, McGilford Oil, and Hemphill-Wells.

"We want the people of Howard County and this area to know we appreciate their participation in the show, and their encouragement of the youngsters in raising good livestock," Holmes said.

Cox, in addition to his victory in showing the championship steer was also awarded the W. H. Wilson all-round best showman trophy.

Kenny Bennett, 16, won the Joe Canon Sportsmanship trophy awarded this year for the first time.

Best lamb showman was Ricky Cunningham, 18; best calf showman, Leslie Sands, 14, Veal-moor and best hog showman, Deona Jones, 13, of O'Donnell.

Mable Harris Dies Of Heart Attack

Mrs. Mable Harris, 28, of Ellis Homes, was dead on arrival at Webb AFB Hospital at 4:55 p.m. Friday. Justice of the Peace Jess Jausticher ruled death was due to an apparent heart attack.

She was born Aug. 8, 1936 in South Carolina, and had lived in Big Spring eight months. Her husband, S. Sgt. Charles E. Harris, was stationed at Webb AFB.

River-Welch Funeral Home, in charge of local arrangements, will ship the remains to Elizabeth, New Jersey, where services are pending at Smith Funeral Home.

Survivors, besides the husband, are a daughter, Alma Jean Harris, of the home; her mother, Mrs. Susie Helbert, and step-father, Elisha Helbert, both of New Jersey; three brothers, and six sisters.

Weather Forecast A rain belt across mid-Dixie and showers in southern California were predicted for Sunday, along with snow in the upper Midwest sector and with flurries in the East and the Rocky Mountain area. The Southeast and Northwest were slated to be fair, with the Northwest chilly. (AP WIREPHOTO) ing a sentence for murder. Friends here began to rally to his support in efforts to fight extradition.

Oil activity had some bright notes to sound. Martin County got two Spraberry pool extenders, while Dawson had one. Twelve miles southwest of Sterling City, a Fusselman discovery completed.

Big Spring State Hospital will come in for about $150,000 more per year if the Senate version of appropriations prevails over the House bill. The Senate approved $1,719,000 and $1,766,000 for 1966 and 1967.

The city is considering plans for joining development of the Lakeview Park area as a playground-park facility. One part of the proposal is to acquire 2.8 acres of land to run the total tract to 10 acres. Another is for the city and school to share in the expense on roughly a 3-1 ratio.

Another Lakeview development was the announcement that the junior high section of the Lakeview school will be converted to elementary use because it is impractical and expensive to try to maintain a junior high for only 59 pupils.

Some other old timers slipped away during the week. G. F. Reynolds, who died of a gun shot wound in his head, had been here since 1902. Olin Hull was a life long resident and member of the first Scout troop; and Lige Harrison had been with the city for 24 years.

J. D. Green, 25-year-old electrician who recently had moved here from Stanton, died instantly Thursday when he came in contact with a 7,200-volt line on a REA line near Midland. Early Friday morning two grain trucks overturned (probably because drivers fell asleep) between Lamesa and Snyder; in one of the mishaps Glen D. Adcock, 29, Comanche, was killed.

Our vicinity is minus 800 unwelcome natives as a result of the annual Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup. Of the snakes — which weighed around a thousand pounds — 391 were able to give up their venom before they gave up the ghost. Some 3,000 people visited, many sampling fried rattlesnake.

Monday afternoon bids for operating a flying school will be opened. The contract school is to give fledgling pilots at Webb AFB some aerial experience before embarking upon the jet training program. It's a pretty big operation, and several other communities are bidding for the school.

Ben Ferrell, classified advertising manager for The Big Spring Herald, continues in a very critical condition in the Methodist Hospital in Houston. He suffered a severe stroke last Wednesday morning. He was flown to Houston that day and little hope is held for his recovery.

Mrs. Ferrell is in Houston with her husband.

It was the second stroke he had suffered in the past few months. Surgery at the Methodist Hospital brought him relief from the first one and he had resumed his duties with The Herald. About 10 days ago, he began to feel ill and had been at home for a few days when the second stroke occurred.

Journalism Meet Site Set For '66

LUBBOCK (AP)—The University of Arkansas will be host to the 1966 meeting of the Southwestern Journalism Congress.

More than 200 persons attending the 35th Congress at Texas Tech decided that Saturday after electing J. B. Covington, president of the faculty section, and Tom Cardin, student section president. Both are from Arkansas.

U.S. Treasury bond prices advanced last week. Prices edged upward in the tax-exempt and corporate bond markets.

On the New York Stock Exchange bond volume for the week totaled a par value of $55,054 million, compared to $66,483 million the previous week.

Autos were joined on Friday by the major steel shares as reports from the labor bargaining sessions indicated that progress was being made and gave Wall Street hope that a strike could be averted before the May 1 deadline.

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — Sheriff Jerry Wattigny said John Lock, 18, of Livingston, Tex., was charged Saturday with murder in the slaying of Roland Castille, 35, of New Iberia.

Wattigny said Locke, a hitchhiker, admitted beating Castille with a bottle Friday night after Castille gave him a ride.

The body of Castille was found in a wooded area near New Iberia. His widow and two children survive.

Wallace Upholds Literacy Test; Gives Other Views

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace says any Negro in Alabama who wants to vote has ample remedy under the law to claim his rights without resorting to demonstrations.

"Anybody who is qualified to vote can be registered to vote under the present laws," Wallace told The Associated Press in a question-and-answer interview Friday night.

"I have said many times," the governor continued, "that anybody who is qualified to vote is entitled to vote. Anybody who has a grievance has plenty of state and federal laws in existence, including the Civil Rights Act, to assure him any rights he has been denied."

LBJ TELEGRAM
Wallace interrupted the interview briefly to read a telegram from President Johnson consenting to a requested audience with the governor to talk over the racial crisis at Selma.

He left for Washington Saturday morning.

The governor chatted informally during The Associated Press interview. He appeared to be relaxed but anxious about the outcome of his visit to the White House.

He disagreed sharply with the contention of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. that the state's disputed literacy test should be abandoned as a qualification for voting.

Wallace said it has been the practice for centuries, in this nation and abroad, to require prospective voters to show some proof of literacy.

HEAVILY GUARDED
The governor, still at work in his office Friday night — far past the dinner hour — and heavily guarded by armed state troopers, answered a series of questions, pausing now and then to dictate an official letter or answer one of the two telephones on his massive mahogany desk.

The governor was asked first about the current right-to-vote drive in Alabama's black belt, named for its expanse of fertile soil.

Q. What exactly is your position with regard to the drive to register more Negroes in Alabama's black belt?

A. You don't need drives that culminate in violence or demonstrations that choke the life of a city for eight weeks. If people want to register to vote, let them go at the proper time and manner. I might point out that I gave the Dallas County (Selma) Board of Registrars 10 extra days in January to register voters, and for the first six days of this, there were a total of only 20 Negroes who showed up to apply for registration.

Q. Would you advocate a change in Alabama's voter registration laws?

A. Anybody who is qualified to vote can be registered to vote under the present laws.

Q. What about the contention of some Negro leaders that the literacy test should be abandoned?

A. Literacy tests to qualify people to vote have prevailed for centuries in and out of this country. New York, for instance, requires the passage of a literacy test or an eighth-grade certificate. We have registered many voters in Alabama with a fourth-grade education.

Q. What about the charges of police brutality during the civil rights campaign?

A. If you read the papers you find the same charges of police brutality in the breaking up of almost every demonstration in the major cities of the United States—New York, Rochester, Boston, Nashville, Los Angeles, Kansas City. So, if the charge of police brutality makes it a fact that police brutality prevails, then it is prevalent everywhere. The only difference in the tactics used to break up demonstrations in Alabama and those used in New York, Rochester, Philadelphia and Cleveland is that fewer people are hurt in Alabama than in any one of these places.

The Big Spring Choir Boosters will hold their regular meeting in the high school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, with the Lakeview Junior High choir providing the program.

Projects will be discussed for raising money to finish paying for robes for the Runnels and Goliad Junior High choirs.

Display Highlight Dangers To Tots

Some of the more common items which are a constant threat to toddlers are displayed here by some of the men who are setting these up for Poison Prevention Week. Shown, from left, are Jack Orr, president of the sponsoring Jaycees; Jim Anderson, Norman Gound, Dr. Milton W. Talbot, president of the Permian Basin Medical Society, and Jon Batey, heading the Jaycee committee. The big lock stressed the tip: Lock up medicines.

Prevention Of Poisoning Stressed During Week

Poison Prevention Week has been proclaimed here for March 14-20 by Mayor George Zachariah as it has been nationally by President Lyndon Johnson. Locally, the Jaycees are taking the lead in efforts to focus attention on the need for greater caution in handling poisons in the home.

"Every year half a million children are treated in an effort to overcome effects of poison taken accidentally," said Mayor Zachariah in proclaiming the week. "In addition, thousands of adults mistakenly take toxic compounds because they didn't take time to read labels. In our own community we have our share of these cases, some which end tragically. The sad thing is that most of these could be prevented with just a little extra care. I hope this week will alert our people to redouble efforts to prevent this needless anxiety or sorrow."

DISPLAYS PLANNED
Displays showing some common household items which are potentially dangerous will be put at various points in town during the week by Jaycees.

Some of the tips which will be stressed during the week: Keep aspirin, cleaners, polishes, solvents out of reach of children.

Mark all potentially dangerous products such as household chemicals "Caution — Flammable — Poison." (Children cannot read labels, so parents must.)

Don't store such things as cleaners, bleaches, dishwasher detergents, drain cleaners, lye, and similar potent substances beneath the kitchen sink or any other place where children are crawling or toddling around.

REMOVE PAINT
Make sure that paint brushes left in solvents, thinners, kerosene or naphtha, or left over flammables such as kerosene or charcoal starters, are put up out of possible reach of children. (Youngsters may try to drink out of anything that resembles a cup, glass or bottle.)

Guard the aspirin — lock up medicines. Aspirin probably causes more poisonings among children than any other single item. Medicine should be returned to the locked chest immediately after it is used.

Purses containing drugs are common hazards. Again, aspirin left at bedside is dangerous for toddlers.

Never tell a child that medicine which is for him is "candy."

LEAD PAINT
Don't use lead paint on beds or other furniture on which a baby or small child might chew. Make sure that insecticides and sprays used to deter pests are stored well out of the reach of children.

Never take medicine without first reading the label to make sure that it is the right medicine. Adults sometime are poisoned by not turning on the light at night to make sure they have the right container.

Dispose of unused medicines.

DAMAGES ASKED
A suit for $150,000 damages has been filed against Dr. Sam Pieper in 118th District Court. Plaintiff in the case is Robert C. Bridge. The petition alleges that the plaintiff lost the sight of an eye as result of the defendant's part in an examination.

MARK BARR WINS ANGELO RIBBON
Mark Barr, who showed the champion steer of the 1963 San Angelo Livestock Show, didn't fare quite as well this year. He did win a first place with his mediumweight calf, however.

Two of his fellow 4-H Club members won fourth places in the tough steer competition at the show. Linda Foster's lightweight entry and Martha Robinson's heavyweight took fourth place in their divisions.

An 18-year-old Lubbock youth, Bobby Rush, won the grand championship of the show and Deborah Stanley, 16, Seminole, showed the reserve champion.

Howard County 4-H Clubbers did not fare too well in the sheep competition, the reports indicate.

Traffic Snarled By Truck Mishap

Traffic on the north lane of IS 20 was blocked for a time early Saturday morning, 13.4 miles east of Big Spring when a truck trailer straddled the guard rail on the north side of the road.

Highway patrol officers who investigated the matter said that A. D. Wilson, 45, of Midland, was going west on IS 20. He pulled to one side to let another truck pass and front wheels climbed atop the guard rail on the north side of the pass over the railroad. No serious damage was done to the tractor and Wilson was not hurt, the patrol said.

School Leaders For TSTA Plan

By The Associated Press
School administrators of Texas' larger cities show a preference for the Texas State Teachers Association's plan for raising teacher salaries over that of Gov. Connally, a survey shows.

The Dallas School Board, the only such group to take an official position, last week unanimously endorsed the TSTA proposal for a $45 a month across the board pay hike.

FEWER BENEFITS
The resolution said the Connally plan would require an increase in local taxes and provide fewer benefits for teachers.

Further, the resolution said, the governor's bill would cause a general break-down of the foundation program under the Gilmer - Aikin law. Connally's plan is spread over 10 years. Beginning teachers would receive an increase of $90 a year. Teachers with more experience would get larger raises.

The governor has estimated his proposal would cost a maximum of $25,116,000 in the next two years in extra state funds, and local district contributions would increase by $38,084,000. The TSTA plan would cost the state an added $68 million and local districts only $15 million.

NINE DISTRICTS
El Paso County contains nine school districts, and top administrators in each district are 100 per cent opposed to the Connally pay-raise plan, the El Paso Times said.

The El Paso Independent School District, fifth largest in the state, is run by Supt. H.

E. Charles, who commented: "The governor's proposal recommends half of the TSTA plan, and this is to be given over a 10-year period. Since Texas is $800 below the national average and is dropping behind at an average of $200 per year, the state would continue to drop behind the national average by $150 annually."

Supt. Oscar Miller of the San Antonio School District said the district's school board had taken no position in the pay raise issue.

What's the catch? There isn't any. Plunk $1691 into Frank Wintersholter's hand and he'll plunk you into the seat of a new 1965 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. (Give him $30 more, and you'll be plunked into a Volkswagen with matching leatherette upholstery.)

Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. But that is it. Sound a little too simple? Perhaps. But then the Volkswagen is a simple little car.

Vehicle Strikes Bridge; 1 Dead

HOUSTON (AP)—Albert Driver, 62, died Saturday when his pickup truck struck a bridge on the Katy highway.

NOTICE

To the many friends who urged me to file for election in the Foran Independent School District, I am sorry but due to a rule forbidding City employees to hold public office, I will have to withdraw my name from the election. But, I wish to say thank you for the confidence you showed in me by asking me to run.

Sincerely,
HOWARD DODD

Collegians Launch Campaign Friday

Howard County Junior College's Jayhawks open their 1965 baseball schedule Friday at 4 p.m. in Steer Park here against the Big Spring Steers.

The Hawks have been working out on the campus for several weeks under coach Don Shoemaker.

The school team will be starting from scratch, since HCJC hasn't fielded a team for several years. The Hawks won't be eligible for the Western Conference title this year, since they declared their intentions too late but will meet a number of league teams.

HCJC will play all its home games on the high school diamond.

Probable starters against Big Spring Friday are Larry Damborsky, ace pitcher for the Colorado City Wolves last year, on the mound; Tommy Brant, Colorado City, pitching; Jerry Arrick, Big Spring, first base; Dub Howie, Big Spring, second base; Don Osborne, Big Spring, third base; Mike Hart, Colorado City, shortstop; Gary Holeman, Big Spring, left field; Warren Kelley, Big Spring, center field; and George Archer, Big Spring, right field.

Others bidding for places on the team include Gary Kendrick, Hereford, pitcher; Raymond Cockrell, Big Spring, pitcher; Robert Browder, Big Spring, outfield; Jack Lamb, Garland, outfield; Eugene Bowden, Anson, pitcher; and Joe Rodriguez, Colorado City, outfield.

Keith Bond has indicated he will report for practice as soon as basketball season is over. He is also a pitcher.

The Hawks have doubleheadlined up with San Angelo College and Odessa College. The schedule:

March 18-8:35 here.

April 5-At San Angelo College (2).
April 6-South Plains here.
April 13-South Plains at Levelland.
April 16-At Odessa College (2).
April 30-At Colorado City High.
May 8-San Angelo College here (2).
May 11-Corpus Christi High here.

Two Jayhawks Are Honored

Howard County, San Angelo and South Plains paced the balloting for the 1964-65 All-Western Junior College Conference basketball team. Each club placed two players on the 10-man contingent.

Amarillo, Lubbock Christian, New Mexico Military Institute and Frank Phillips landed one player each on the elite list.

Three players—Charles Morton of San Angelo, Charles Turnbough of South Plains and Tom Carter of Howard County—repeated from last year while Roland Franklin of Frank Phillips made the squad this year after being designated a second-team choice a year ago.

Leading vote getter this year was Eddy Nelson of Howard County, who polled 77 points. He was picked as either the best or second best player in the league on all ballots. He received 77 of a possible 80 points.

Voting was conducted on a basis of 10 points for the best player in the league, nine for the second best, on down to one for the 10th best. The nine WJCC coaches were the only ones voting for the team and they excluded their own players when balloting.

The top 10, with total points in parentheses: Eddy Nelson, Howard County (77); Gary Jellison, San Angelo (59); Charles Turnbough, South Plains (54); Charles Morton, San Angelo (38); Tom Carter, Howard County (37); Robert Evans, Lubbock Christian (37); Roland Franklin, Frank Phillips (26); Ron Nelson, New Mexico Military (25); Rodney Teague, Amarillo (22); Dwight Haley, South Plains (22).

Honorable mention went to: Don Durgin, NMMI (20); Bill Trooper, Clarendon (15); Jim Hill, Amarillo (12); Chuck Ramsey, Odessa (9); Darrell Shew, Amarillo (9); Keith Bond, Howard County (9); Ronnie Welty, Amarillo (6); Jeff Jeffries, LCC (4); Fred Johnston, NMCI (3); Kurt Papp, Howard County (3); David Stearns, Odessa (3); Don Campbell, Clarendon (3); Dennis Patton, South Plains (1) and Danny Hill, Frank Phillips (1).

Webb Netters In Tourney

Ten base men are representing Webb Air Force Base in the Air Training Command Squadron Level Volleyball Tournament at Randolph AFB. The team, composed of members of the 3561st Student Squadron, went undefeated in squadron competition and emerged as the number one volleyball team on base.

S. Sgt. Diego Garcia, experienced in volleyball competition, is the 61st coach, and has devoted much of his off-duty time to the squad.

Class 65-G composes the nucleus of the base team. Men playing in the tournament are: Captains Lynn D. Breon and Neal T. Reavelly; First Lieutenants Thomas W. Young, Roger A. Ayres and Charles H. Haberstick; Second Lieutenants Huey J. Hebert, Frank M. Malagarie, Angelo Peruffi, Joe E. Trujillo and John M. Thomas.

Napier Sets Laredo Mark

LAREDO (AP)—They still were talking about a Negro schoolboy, Clyde Glosson, who bested even the collegians in the 220-yard dash with a blazing 21.1 around a curve as the major classes of the huge Border Olympics swung into action today.

Glosson's 21.1 around a curved 220 course wiped out all records for the event in the Border Olympics except a 20.0 on a straightaway by Charley Parker of Texas in 1950. The star sprinter of San Antonio Wheatley with his great run bettered everything in the high school class, even a 21.2 on a straightaway by Bobby Morrow, the Olympics immortal, when Morrow was running for San Benito High School in 1954. It also bettered the best ever in the college and university divisions of 21.5 around a curve.

Glosson also led the 100-yarders with 10-flat.

His was one of five records set in the high school and junior college classes Friday. Houston San Jacinto set a mile relay record of 3:19.7.

Three marks were hung by the junior colleges—14 feet 1 1/2 inches in the pole vault by Ernest Parker of Blinn, 156 feet 5 inches in the discus by James Napier of Howard County and 9:44.5 in the two-mile by Julio Leon of Odessa.

Elite In 2-AAAA Basketball

Terrazas Is Second Team Cage Selection

Simon Terrazas of Big Spring was named to the second All-District 2-AAAA basketball unit chosen recently by coaches and sports writers within the conference.

Terrazas, a junior, received 18 points in the balloting to beat out Abilene's Arthur Kelley by two points.

Six players were named to the first team, only one of which was a member of the championship Midland Lee team. He was Mike Frizzell, 6-5 senior.

Three players, including Frizzell, were unanimous selections. The other two were Willie Allen, San Angelo, and Max Brownlee, Odessa High.

There were no repeaters from the 1964 club but Frizzell and Midland High's Earl Barnes were second team selections in 1964.

Raymond Wray of Abilene High, 6-3 1/2 junior, is the only non-senior on this year's club.

In all, 23 players received votes for the team and 11 different players got first team votes. First place votes counted five points and second team ballots three.

Midland Lee's Paul Stueckler won a clear-cut majority as coach of the year within the circuit. He received a total of eight votes, compared to three for runnerup Dick Rittman and one for Permian's Jack Crawley.

Frizzell got five votes in the balloting for Most Valuable Player award. Others polling

RUGGED FIELD ENTERED IN NATIONALS

Hawks Leave For Hutchinson

HCJC's Jayhawks leave by bus bright and early this morning for Hutchinson, Kansas, where for the first time since 1960 they will be a part of the National Junior College Basketball tournament.

The Hawks, 23-10 on the year, will be one of 16 Regional finalists in the tournament. The Hawks beat favored Cisco, 97-94, last Saturday night in the Region V championship game at Amarillo.

HCJC's first round opponents will be A. A. (Fliz) Willis' Wolves of Joliet, Ill. Joliet will carry a 23-4 won-lost record onto the floor against HCJC.

Joliet is known as a run-and-shoot outfit and has averaged about 100 points a game this season. It practically abandons defense to concentrate on the shoot and the Wolves are apt to cut loose with the ball anywhere from mid-court on in.

First round pairings:

TUESDAY
12 noon—Robert Morris, Pittsburgh, Pa. (Region 16) vs. Canton Agricultural and Technical, Canton, N. Y. (Region 3).
1:45 p.m.—Vicennes, Ind. (Region 12) vs. Manatee of Bradenton, Fla. (Region 8).
3:30 p.m.—HCJC of Big Spring (Region 5) vs. Joliet, Ill. (Region 4).

4 p.m.—Willmar Community, Willmar, Minn. (Region 13) vs. Ferrum, Va. (Region 10).
7:45 p.m.—Dodge City, Kan. (Region 6) vs. Burlington Community, Iowa (Region 11).
9:30 p.m.—Moberly, Mo. (Region 16) vs. Northeastern, Colo. (Region 9).

Wednesday
1 p.m.—Arkansas State of Beebe, Ark. (Region 7) vs. Eastern Utah of Price, Utah (Region 11).
2:45 p.m.—Murray Aggies of Tishomingo, Okla. (Region 2) vs. Kilgore, Texas (Region 14).
Dodge City, Kansas, is the defending champion and the top-rated junior college club in the land. The Kansans, with four regulars back from last season, were undefeated in junior college competition. Their only loss all season was to the Kansas State University freshman team. They beat Parsons, Kansas, two straight on the way to the regional title, 81-67 and 62-58.

One of the favored teams in the meet is Kilgore, unbeaten now in 28 starts. Some say this is the best team ever to come out of Texas. Kilgore beat San Jacinto of Pasadena, 75-63 and 94-74, to earn the trip to Hutchinson.

If the Hawks win their opener, they return to play against the Willmar-Ferrum survivor at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. If they lose, they bid for consolation honors in a game at 12 noon Thursday.

The Hawks are in the opposite bracket from Dodge City and Kilgore.

Willmar is a new titlist in Region 13 and beat teams from three states to win the trip to Kansas. Willmar beat Custer County, Montana, 90-72; Wahpeton, North Dakota, 81-63; and Rochester, Minn., 79-66, on the way to the crown.

Ferrum is another team making its first trip to Nationals. In a four team playoff, Ferrum defeated Gardner-Webb, 70-52; and Lees-MacRae, 83-81.

HCJC has perhaps the poorest record among competing teams (23-10) but the record is deceptive. The Hawks have played the strongest teams in the country, including Dodge City, and were at their peak form in the Regional. Four of the Hawks' defeats came on the road in Western Conference games.

HCJC beat Centralia, Ill., by ten points earlier in the season. That same team was beaten by Joliet in the Regional meet, 100-99. Joliet then knocked off Canton, Ohio, in the finals, 74-36. Before taking out second-ranked Cisco in the finals at Amarillo, HCJC manhandled South Plains, 88-80, and Ranger, 78-64, in that order.

Joe Shosid of Fort Worth will be one of the game officials at Hutchinson this year. Others will be Harold (Red) Weir, Columbia, Mo.; Buford Goddard, Springfield, Mo.; Johnny Overby, Wichita, Kansas; Jim Bain, Decatur, Ill.; and Cecil Walker, Fremont, Neb.

For the first time in the history of the meet, all reserve seats were sold one day after they were put on sale and a new record in ticket sales seems a certainty. A total of 1,500 general admission tickets plus a substantial number of standing room admissions will be sold each night.

This will be the 18th annual tournament and the 17th to be played in Hutchinson.

no ordinary shoe... it's a

Nettleton

WITH HAND-SEWN VAMP

This handsome three eyelet introduces the slim, clean lines of Nettleton's new Leeds last. The hand-sewn forepart is done with the unique "Guanto" glove stitch... Altogether it's another excellent example of what the name, Nettleton, means to the men who wear nothing but: a quality of shoemaking which you rarely find in this era of mass production. Nettleton's patient, dedicated craftsmanship takes four times longer than ordinary methods. They cost a bit more, but the man who appreciates truly fine footwear knows from experience that the slightly higher price is offset by years of service and satisfaction. The three eyelet oxford comes in Dark-Mahogany Llama or Smooth Black Calfskin at $32.95

Ethiopians Treat Champ Like King

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Abebe Bikila, the only man ever to win two Olympic marathons, lives the life of a king—not just a king's body guard—in this East African nation renowned for its coffee, skins and fighting men.

Only Emperor Haile Selassie has greater stature among the Ethiopian people—and not much.

Slender, handsome, resplendent in plumed helmet and beribboned red coat of the Imperial Guard, Biki'a walks the streets as a national hero.

People cheer him wildly, but none would dare walk up and shake his hand or ask his autograph—no more than they would approach the Emperor himself.

Bikila electrified the sports world in 1960 by winning the Olympic marathon at Rome, running barefoot over the cobblestones of the Apian Way and finishing under the lights of the coliseum.

He made history by repeating at Tokyo last October, wearing shoes—the first man ever to win the exhausting 26-mile, 385-yard test in two Olympics. He ran the distance faster than any man ever had done before and became the No. 1 attraction of the Games.

SUCCESSFUL BUNT BY BOBBY GRIFFIN OF STEERS
Catcher Perry Millsap, Cee City, watches ball drop (Photo by Kenneth Good)

Steers Decision Wolves, 7 To 3

Bobby Griffin and Freddy Miers teamed up to pitch the Big Spring Steers to a 7-3 victory over Colorado City here Friday, yielding four hits between them.

Skipper Warren hurled creditable ball in a losing effort, although he was tagged for 11 safeties.

The Steers struck for two runs in the initial inning when Larry Broughton hit a booming triple when Greg Pate and Yogi Anderson were on board. The locals never trailed after that.

The Longhorns added one in the third when Johnny Thomas bunted safely and moved around on two errors and a fly ball.

Big Spring salted away the verdict in the fourth with a three-run outburst, highlighted by a double down the right field line off the bat of Eddie Thomas.

Griffin hurled the first four innings and received credit for the win. Miers was in hot water occasionally after reporting in the fifth but managed to get out of trouble.

Pate and Eddie Thomas each drove out two hits for Big Spring while Ronnie Hillhouse, Wayne Snowden, Perry Millsap and Mike Mundy each connected safely for Colorado City. Millsap crossed the plate twice for the visitors, once in the fourth and again in the fifth.

Colorado City was making its first start of the season.

"walks" right over bumps and trouble

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

NOT SO STICKY ANY MORE

Heat To Release Huge Thick Crude Reserves

New thermal recovery methods may release some 400 to 500 million barrels of sticky, thick crude oil locked beneath the surface of Southeast Medina County, 30 miles southwest of San Antonio.

This potential petroleum bonanza of heavy, low gravity crude oil, at four to five hundred feet, has long intrigued oil men but up to now has resisted their attempts to recover.

Thermal recovery is not a new idea. It has been known for half a century that heating makes heavy, low gravity crude oil flow faster, but early attempts to heat underground reservoirs were unsuccessful.

Quietly and without fanfare almost every major producer and independent in the oil industry has been actively engaged in the research of thermal means of increasing recovery of heavy viscous crude oil. The resulting progress is not a spectacular scientific breakthrough. It is the achievement of individual efforts, diligently pursuing technological progress, which has pushed thermal recovery to the threshold of significant commercial application in crude production. Now, because of these recent technological advances and changing oil field economics, oil producers and operators are moving into the new frontier thermal recovery gives the industry. They recognize the addition of a dimension to the world's petroleum resources.

Southeast Medina County has had many years of drilling and development since the discovery of oil in 1929. Because of the characteristics of the reservoir, less than one-tenth of one per cent of the oil in place has been produced.

Known thermal recovery techniques, in-situ (fire), hot water, CO₂ gas, and steam injection reservoir floods have been used to stimulate the production of heavy oil field reservoirs. Oil men agree that one or more of these techniques will unlock the reservoir of heavy oil in Southeast Medina County; thus, the renewed interest sparked by the potential recovery of this huge oil reserve.

Nortex Corporation of Houston has acquired 20,000 acres in this area after conducting laboratory tests and the installation of a pilot electric down-hole heater in the field.

Herschel Mericle, an independent operator, has filed permits with the Railroad Commission for 11 500-foot tests.

Associated Oil & Gas has in operation a CO₂ thermal recovery project.

The most important development in the Southeast Medina County area is the acquisition by McWood Corporation of 5,000 acres. McWood is a recognized leader throughout the oil industry in thermal recovery techniques, and is now conducting thermal recovery projects in other heavy oil producing areas. The company has not, as yet, announced plans for the development of its Southeast Medina County project. It is anticipated, however, that they will conduct a pilot test utilizing the hot solvent process developed by the company.

Other companies acquiring leases in the area are Humble, Pan American Petroleum, Thermal Recovery Engineering, Inc., of Houston, Texas, and Caddo Oil Company, along with other majors and independent oil producers. The heat is on in Southeast Medina County.

Same Number Bits Turning

The number of rotary drilling units operating Friday in the Permian Basin Empire was the same as last Friday—186. The survey, made by Reed Roller Bit Co., showed 29 fewer units working than the 215 turning in the same week in 1964.

Lea County, N. M., gained five rigs during the week to continue its lead with 31. Pecos County dropped one from last week to show 20 bits turning while Ector County was down five with only 11, for third place. The county-by-county showing, with last week's units in parenthesis, shows: Andrews 9 (11), Chaves 5 (5), Cochran 1 (1), Coke 0 (1), Concho 2 (1), Crane 1 (3), Crockett 4 (4), Crosby 1 (1), Dawson 9 (7), Ector 11 (16), Eddy 8 (10), Fisher 1 (1), Gaines 2 (4), Garza 1 (1), Glasscock 3 (2), Hockley 4 (3), Howard 2 (3), Irion 1 (1), Jeff Davis 1 (1), Kent 4 (4), Kim-

Stoker Is Given Award By Sinclair

COAHOMA — Aaron D. Stoker, gang pusher in the production department for Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. at Coahoma received his 25-year service award Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Stoker have three sons: David and Tommy of Coahoma, and Danny of Sand Springs. He is a member of the Coahoma Baptist Church.

PROSPECTOR IS STAKED

Shell Oil Co. has filed location for a 9,000-foot Fossilman wildcat in Sterling County, 13 miles southwest of Sterling City.

The operator's No. 1 Fay Hildebrand is actually one location south of the W. A. Moncreff and Champlin Petroleum Co. No. 1 Fay Hildebrand, a Fossilman discovery and completion for 415.18 barrels of oil.

The wildcat designation was asked pending allowable set for the field after the first five wildcats are potential. Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 4-7, H&TC survey.

Area Sees 101 New Locations Staked

One hundred and one locations were staked in the Permian Basin area around Howard County, during January and February, with 13 of them being wildcats. Seven wildcats were listed as plugged and abandoned and no wildcats were completed during the two months.

A review of activity shows 74 wells completed for a potential production of 7,052 barrels of oil daily. Howard County led the list in the number of completions with 32, but Dawson County led in the potential daily output with 2,439 barrels as compared to Howard's 1,837 barrels. Ten of the Howard completions, however, were water injection wells.

Chemical Society To Hear Dr. J. H. Simons

Dr. Joseph H. Simons of the University of Florida will be the featured speaker Tuesday night at the Permian Basin Section of the American Chemical Society in Odessa. The meeting will be at the Holiday Inn with dinner beginning at 7:15 p.m. preceded by an executive meeting at 6:15 p.m. He will speak on "Innovation and Creation."

field, with eight in other fields. Sterling County's Triple-M field, with four completions, showed a potential daily flow of 1,306 barrels. The single well with the greatest potential was Kingrea, Pen-dleton & Reiser's No. 1 Cannon-Whately, in the Jo-Mill field 15 miles east of Lamesa. The old hole worked over flowed naturally at the rate of 497 barrels of 43.5 gravity oil per day from the Fusselman.

A PLACE ON THE AGENDA is reserved for hospitality by those in charge of making the visitors feel like coming back again. S. M. Anderson, school superintendent, has arranged for a district board banquet

Thursday evening at Big Spring Country Club. With him are Mrs. T. A. Harris Jr., luncheon committee; Mrs. Floyd Williams, tea chairman; and Mrs. Royce Griffith, conference hospitality chairman.

PROGRAM PLANNING for a school conference requires teamwork for a smooth operation. Meeting at Cosden Country Club to work out details of their program areas are Mrs. Glen Griswold of the arrangements committee, Mrs. Jesse Hernandez of the registration committee and Mrs. Jack Brown of the election committee.

Big Spring, Texas, Sunday, March 14, 1965

"Spring Conference"

The nineteenth annual spring conference for the 16th District of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held Thursday and Friday at Cosden Country Club. An estimated 200 delegates and visitors, representing 34 cities and towns, are expected here for the two-day meeting.

The conference theme, "We, The P-T-A, Cooperate With The Community Story Through Awareness," will be presented by S. M. Anderson, school superintendent. Guest speakers will be Mrs. John Toombs of Irving, state vice president, and Mrs. J. W. Miller, San Antonio, state legislative chairman.

Social events will include a tea Thursday in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building, a district board banquet that evening at Big Spring Country Club and a luncheon Friday at Cosden Country Club.

Leadership clinics will be conducted Friday afternoon, during the second general session, and awards will be presented. During the closing hours of the conference, new officers will be installed by Mrs. Toombs.

Photos By Ken Good

what the sessions will offer is Mrs. Alvie Cole, Sterling City, center, who is president or the 16th District, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS will have the support of Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, left, and Mrs. A. W. Gerhart, right, who are members of that committee. Hearing them describe the displays are Mrs. Roscoe Newell, principal of the Special Education School, and Miss Bo Bowen, mental health chairman and head of the decorations committee.

MRS. JAMES DUNCAN

Mrs. James Duncan On Best-Dressed List

Mrs. James Duncan, 1300 W. 16th, was named this month by a panel of women's news editors as one of the ten best dressed women in Texas. Fashion pictures of the chosen women, along with brief biographies, make up the lead article in today's issue of the Houston Chronicle Sunday magazine.

In compiling the list, the editors sought geographic balance to prove that neither Dallas nor Houston has a corner on fashion-conscious women. Fashion editors combine their own knowledge with the advice of fashion co-ordinators and other experts to arrive at their selections.

Other women named were Mrs. John Cornally, Austin; Mrs. Walter W. McAllister Jr., San Antonio; Mrs. James L. Ling, Dallas; Mrs. Warren B. Sharp, Houston; Mrs. Lee T. Bivins, Amarillo; Mrs. Harold B. Cameron, Tyler; Mrs. Roane Lacy, Waco; Mrs. William J. Crombie Jr., El Paso; and Mrs. John Cannon Andrews, Fort Worth.

Mrs. Duncan is pictured in a three-piece knit of classical design, smart yet casual for the type of life she leads as a West Texan. It is noted that she golfs, gardens, tends to three children, is a gourmet cook, a champion bridge player, and an active figure in the civic-social scene.

Mrs. Duncan is the wife of an independent oil operator, and they are the parents of three children: Debbie, 15, Dave, 12, and Sue, 9.

Salem Baptists Conclude Study

"Our Land Shall Own Thee, Lord" was theme of the Friday afternoon meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Salem Baptist Church. The study of the Week of Prayer for Home Missions was covered in this meeting.

Those participating in the program were Mrs. Carol Walker, Mrs. Earl Hull, Mrs. Henry Musgrove, Mrs. Roy Walker, Mrs. Sam Foster, Mrs. Johnnie Walker, Mrs. Rufus Wilson, Mrs. Grady Walker and Mrs. J. L. Baugh.

The group sang "Trust and Obey," and closed with prayer. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., March 23rd, in the church.

Former Resident Weds In Midland

Mrs. Margaret Ann Hardin of Midland and Mr. J. P. Breedlove, former Big Spring resident now residing in Mentone, Tex., were married in the Calvary Baptist Church of Midland, March 5.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Loyd Lester. The couple was attended by Miss Louise Beebe of Midland and Bill Hooper of Mentone.

Prayer Week Studies Held

A week of Prayer for Home Missions was observed by the Blanche Grove Circle of Baptist Temple March 8-12. Scripture used as the week's theme was "Blessed is the nation who's God is the Lord; and the people whom He hath chosen for His own inheritance." The hymn sung each day was "From Ocean Unto Ocean."

Mrs. Dalton Johnston, prayer chairman, gave the Monday Bible study. Others participating were Mrs. Max Legg, Mrs. A. W. Page, Mrs. Bill Sandridge and Mrs. V. Phillips. The meeting was closed with prayer and reading of the calendar of prayer for home missions.

The Sara Lou Henley Circle presented the Tuesday morning program, "Thyself in Us Revealed." Mrs. James Puckett gave the Bible study assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Twoney, Mrs. Joe Kewnam, Mrs. Barton Boyer and Mrs. Frank Pierce. Mrs. Bob Sherwood closed with the reading of the prayer calendar.

A joint meeting of the two circles was held Thursday using the theme, "Guide where we are." Mrs. Dalton Johnston, prayer chairman, gave the Monday Bible study. Others participating were Mrs. Max Legg, Mrs. A. W. Page, Mrs. Bill Sandridge and Mrs. V. Phillips. The meeting was closed with prayer and reading of the calendar of prayer for home missions.

The Cedar Crest P-TA Names New Slate. New officers were elected by the Cedar Crest Parent-Teachers Association Tuesday evening. The March meeting was held in the school cafeteria.

Officers named were Mrs. Billy Bullard, president; Mrs. Robert Bradshaw, vice president; Mrs. James Dunne, secretary; and Mrs. Otis L. Bradford, treasurer.

The program was presented by the Spanish language teachers of the third, fourth and fifth grades. Fifty-five attended the meeting, and room count was won by Mrs. Bradford's class.

should go." Mrs. Dalton Johnston led the Bible study and Mrs. Puckett, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Sandridge participated in the program. Mrs. Sherwood closed with a prayer for missionaries who had birthdays during the week. Mrs. Puckett gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Ed Mikolajczyk presented the Friday Bible study. A film, "Discovering New Dimensions" was narrated by Mrs. Sherwood. Mrs. Puckett read the calendar of prayer, and Mrs. H. M. Jarrett worded the closing prayer. Regular Bible study programs will be held Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE F. TRUE, RICHARD AND BEVERLY

Mardi Gras Brings Louisiana Memories

By JO BRIGHT

Beverly True has just returned from New Orleans where she joined friends for the Mardi Gras pageantry and festivities. The sharing of her experiences may have brought just a hint of homesickness to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. True, 512 Scott, who were recent residents of Baton Rouge, a kissing cousin to the other southern city.

Mrs. True accompanied her daughter to Louisiana and enjoyed a reunion with old friends while Beverly, 19, saw the parades and joined the parties in New Orleans.

Richard, 17, remained here with his father, who was still getting his bearings at Montgomery Ward and Company where he is store manager.

True is from Harwood, Mo. His mother, Mrs. Pearl M. True, recently retired after serving as postmistress of that city for 25 years. His wife is the former Josephine Kramer, daughter of Henry Kramer of Nevada, Mo., and the late Mrs. Kramer.

The Trues met while attending high school and were married in 1943 at Kansas City while he was in the Army. She remained with her parents while he finished out the war years in France and Germany, doing occupation duty before being discharged from the 100th Infantry Division.

WAR ENDS

As the couple resumed their private life, True joined Montgomery Ward and Company as executive trainee. In the ensuing years he was assistant manager of stores in Missouri, operations manager in the Kansas City, Mo., store and manager of stores in Independence, Kan., and Ponca City, Okla. He was serving as merchandising manager for the store in Baton Rouge, La., when he accepted the transfer here.

The Trues are well-established in their new home so Mrs. True is ready to take up her old hobby of sewing and become more active in social and civic groups. She is now a member at large in Beta Sigma Phi but is eligible for participation in the exemplar chapters.

Mrs. True learned to sew from her mother and has taught Beverly in turn so that she is able to make many of her clothes. Beverly is interested in many things and has had training in art as well as dancing. When the family lived in Ponca City she did what she terms "just a little teaching" in tap, ballet and modern jazz. She attended Louisiana State University for a year and is debating whether to return there or enter a Texas school.

Richard is a junior at Big Spring Senior High School and plays on the school golf team. In Baton Rouge, he played baritone and trumpet in the band but has given up music for the time being because of a full schedule. He shares his father's interest in all sports but is saving a few evenings for social activity, too.

QUAIL HUNT

True is a hunter at heart and has already had the opportunity to hunt blue quail in this area. They are a new breed of bird to him and he said he is not used to quail that move so fast. He is a past member of the ABC Club and the Metro Club and was affiliated with the Elk's Lodge in Ponca City, Okla.

Beverly brought back memories of Louisiana when she told of her recent trip but the Trues are quite happy West Texans. They miss what anyone else would — the wonderful French cooking of the bayou country. True recalled that it is about time for "crawfish festivals" in many southern cities and he remembers well the delicious dishes prepared from the lowly shellfish. Mrs. True was eager to learn the French cookery methods, and has a collection of recipes her family always enjoys.

The True family has transferred memberships to the First Christian Church and expects to attend services there for years to come.

Alan McKenzis Like Home-Grown Herbs

Anyone with a taste for Bavarian cream with marigold petals will be in sympathy with the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Alan McKenzie.

The McKenzies like such food and when they found they could not obtain the required herbs they decided to grow their own.

Now the herb garden produces 75 varieties and the flower gardens are full of unusual specimens.

On her shelves may be found jars of dried savory, marjoram, basil, lemon thyme, tarragon vinegar, jellies of mountain ash and other herbs. If you have that kind of a garden, Mrs. McKenzie says a spread for whole wheat bread may be made from chopped chives, fennel, lemon thyme and tarragon mixed with salted butter.

As for the Bavarian cream with marigold petals, mix one pint of milk, three egg yolks and gelatin, then fold in a cup of pounded marigold petals. Surround the unmolded Bavarian cream with marigold blossoms.

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Charles Gressett was hostess to Westbrook Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. A. Swafford had charge of a program on teenagers, and a recording, "Don Lonie Talks to Teenagers," was played.

Members sang "Schooldays." Mrs. Hoyt Roberts led club prayer, and Mrs. James Dorn read the scripture. Roll call was answered with "What I want for my children."

The members voted to postpone the Red Cross course indefinitely.

Mrs. Jones will be hostess on March 23rd. The program will be on selection of clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Conway, William and Travis, were in Midland over the weekend to see the Andy Hancock. Mrs. Hancock is in the hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ranney visited with Mr. and Mrs. Royce

Weightlessness Gains Approval

Grace Downs, the woman who runs a school for airline stewardesses, figures there's a sensible reason why girls should want to be astronauts.

"The prospect of weightlessness appeals to them," she said.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. L. Andrews, 1421 Tucson, are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Airman 3. C. James H. Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hood, 3598 Groveland, Memphis, Tenn. The couple plan to be married at 7 p.m., March 27, in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

Mother, Daughter Feted At Shower

Mrs. Archie Stephens and her daughter, Kristie Janell, were honored at a gift shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Havens, 616 Tulane.

Seventeen guests attended and were served refreshments from a table covered with ecru lace and centered with a bouquet of spring flowers. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

GIA Plans Visits By Inspector

The approaching visit of the grand organizer inspector, Mrs. Nellie Kimbrough of Fort Worth, was discussed when the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers met Thursday.

A practice session was held preceding the business in preparation for the visit April 8 at 9:30 a.m. A committee was named to secure a place for the noon luncheon that day. Serving on the committee are Mrs. C. L. Kirkland, Mrs. J. C. Cravens and Mrs. J. T. Anderson.

Mrs. L. N. Brooks Jr. presided as reports were given on the sick. Twelve attended the meeting in Carpenter's Hall where refreshments were served by Mrs. Kirkland and Mrs. Brooks.

Study Continues At Wesley Church

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist Church met at the church Tuesday where Mrs. Don Crockett continued the study, "The Kingdom and the Nation."

She was assisted by Mrs. Rene Brown, who explained an illustrative map; Mrs. George Sutton, who explained about the different religions; and Miss Helen Ewing, who reviewed the first three chapters of the textbook.

Mrs. S. R. Thurman brought the devotion and closing prayer.

Wedding Performed In Methodist Chapel

Miss Elizabeth Turner and William W. Shiers exchanged wedding vows at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in the chapel of the First Methodist Church. Dr. H. Clyde Smith read the ceremony before an altar graced with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli and carnations. Flanking the arrangement were wedding palms of emerald and jade green foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Turner, 506 Scott Drive, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Winfield Shiers, South Boston, Va., and the late Rev. Mr. Shiers.

A white silk suit, designed by Dior, was chosen by the bride for her wedding attire. The double-breasted jacket, with self buttons and wide notched collar, was worn over a lace overblouse and topped a box-pleated skirt. Her ring hat was veiled and covered with small silk bows, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and white feathered chrysanthemums tied with streamers of white satin picot. The flowers were held atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. A. R. Brydon of Dallas. The best man was Donald Few of Scottsdale, Ariz.

For a wedding trip to Pompano Beach, Fla., the bride chose a black, tan and white check suit with black accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will reside in Lynchburg, Va., where the bridegroom is a representative of the Imperial Coal Sales Co.

The bride is a graduate of North Texas State College, Denton, and received a MA degree from Arizona State University, Tempe, Ariz. She has been teaching in Scottsdale, Ariz. Her husband is a graduate of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.

RECEPTION

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Members of the house party were Mrs. Merle J. Stewart, Mrs. J. D. O'Barr, Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh and Mrs. Bert Shive. A buffet luncheon was served and a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom graced the table.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Carrico, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Brydon and family, all of Dallas.

W. R. Carrico, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hayes and Mrs. C. C. Jones, all of Denton; and Mrs. R. J. Brydon, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kurz and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brydon and family, all of Dallas.

MR. AND MRS. O. V. SHOFNER

Reception Celebrates Wedding Anniversary

LAMESA (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Olney Shofner will be honored on their 50th wedding anniversary today with a reception at 402 N. 21st Place. Sons of the couple and their wives will host the affair.

The couple was married in Bangs, March 10, 1915. The late Mr. George Harris, minister of the Methodist Church in Concord, performed the ceremony. The couple traveled by buggy to San Saba for their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Shofner resided in Bangs until 1922 when they moved to a farm in the Five Mile community in Dawson County. They moved to Lamesa in 1960.

Sons of the couple include Cleburn, Choise and Reams Shofner of Lamesa and Nuell Shofner of Grand Prairie. Mr. and Mrs. Shofner have 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The serving table will be laid with a gold cloth with white net overskirt trimmed with gold petals. A tiered wedding cake with the gold numerals "50" on it and an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums will be used as table decorations.

Miss Ann Shofner will register guests, and Miss Judy Haney and Miss Dealey Sweeney will preside at the serving table.

Friends of the couple are invited to call from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Club Hears Sewing Tips

Mrs. Delaine Crawford gave tips for seamstresses when she spoke Friday afternoon for the City Home Demonstration Club. The group met with Mrs. Billy T. Smith, 1410 Sycamore.

Mrs. Crawford shared ideas on hemming and how to make scallops. Also, she explained the one-thread method of stitching a dart and showed how to make corded belts.

Mrs. Alton Underwood gave the council report and plans were made to assist with the stock show March 16-18. The women will make pies and work in the concession booths. Refreshments were served.

Senior 4-H Girls Plan Food Show

Plans were made to participate in the Howard County Food Show March 27, when the Gay Hill 4-H Club Senior Girls Unit No. 4 met Thursday afternoon. Mrs. G. W. Murphy, Gail Route, was hostess.

Those planning to attend the show are Martha Couch, Betty Lou Little, Carolyn Underwood and Jane Murphy. Refreshments were served to members and their mothers.

Teenagers Discussed By HD Club

WESTBROOK (SC)—Mrs. T. A. Rees was hostess to Carr Home Demonstration Club Friday. The program was on the subject of teenage dropouts.

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Ellett will have charge of the March 19 program on selection of men's clothes when the club meets in the home of Mrs. Rollins. Members are to bring articles and sew for McKnight Hospital.

Forsaners Set Show

"Buttons and Bows," a showing of spring fashions, will be presented Thursday by Caudill's Dress Shop for members of the Forsan Study Club and their guests. Other clubs have been invited to see the style show which will begin at 7:30 o'clock in the Community Room of the Forsan School.

The narrator will be Mrs. Chauncey B. Long, and members of the club will serve as models. They are Mrs. James Blake, Mrs. Oscar Boeker, Mrs. Delbert Bardwell, Mrs. Bob Calley, Mrs. William T. Conger, Mrs. Hamlin Elrod, Mrs. R. V. Fryar, Mrs. Ronnie Gandy, Mrs. Don Murphy, Mrs. J. L. Overton, Mrs. Elmer Patton, Mrs. W. M. Romans, Mrs. Elbert Strickland and Mrs. Roy Stockstill.

Mrs. J. C. Ferguson is president of the Forsan Study Club, and cochairmen for the show are Mrs. Long and Mrs. M. M. Fairchild. Hostesses, all members of the hospitality committee, are Mrs. James F. Blake, Mrs. L. B. McElrath, Mrs. Elmer Patton, Mrs. H. H. Story and Mrs. Ferguson.

In the pictures, taken this week during a fitting session at the shop, Mrs. Boeker wears a ball gown of Paris pink peau de soie designed with long belted skirt and strapless bodice. The separate sequined shell is daintily scalloped at the top and around the flounce.

The look of raw silk in a blended fabric is used for the two-piece beige outfit fitting Mrs. Overton wears with a yellow silk blouse, bow-tied at the neckline.

The champagne-colored textured coat worn by Mrs. Patton has elbow-length sleeves, flap pockets and its own matching silk jersey shift. She completes her costume with a Spanish sailor in matching straw. Mrs. Roman's dacron knit

Airport P-TA Elects New Officer Slate

New officers, to be installed in May, were elected by the Airport Parent-Teachers Association Thursday afternoon. Forty-four members were present for the meeting held in the school cafeteria.

Officers named were Mrs. Melvin L. Gray, president; Mrs. A. J. Hooten, vice president; Mrs. Eldridge Wood, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Cain, treasurer.

The Rev. Ronnie K. Bostick, Airport Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

Guest speaker, Joseph Dawes, discussed "Modern Math." "This math is not really 'Modern' he said "because it is the same math that has been taught since the 13th century." He said that this method of teaching stills interest, and gives students something other than the old "addition, subtraction and multiplication" and is presented in a more interesting way.

A life membership award was presented to Mrs. Allen Gerhart. The room count award went to Mrs. Thelma Blackwell's second grade, and Mrs. J. L. Hank received the attendance prize.

Couple Recites Vows In Dallas Ceremony

Miss Patricia Anne Brown, 5033 Byers, Fort Worth, became the bride of Noel Franklin Reed, 2715 Shelby, Dallas, in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday by the Rev. T. Herbert Mings in the White Rock Methodist Church in Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Brown, 9334 Peninsula, Dallas. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Noel E. Reed, 622 Ridgelea.

Emerald palms formed the background for an arch of candles on each side of the altar, centered with a basket arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Nuptial selections and traditional wedding music were played on the organ by Mrs. Roy Johnson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale green silk tweed costume suit, with matching binding circling the neckline. Silk braid closings accented the front of the jacket. Her headpiece was a pale green Dior bow.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Donald J. Kennedy, Artesia, N. M., was maid of honor. She wore a beige silk tweed dress, trimmed in matching silk braid, and carried a yellow rose nosegay.

Serving as best man was John L. Clarkson, Uncertain, Texas. Stephen Brown, Dallas, brother of the bride, was usher.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, 9334 Peninsula. With the couple in the receiving line were the parents and the bride's attendant.

The tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of white flowers in an antique cut glass container centered the refreshment table.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will be

Boydston P-TA Sees Cub, Brownie Skits

Brownie Troop No. 68, directed by Mrs. Gerald Harris and Mrs. Joseph Maenner, presented a skit to the Boydston Parent-Teachers Association meeting held Thursday afternoon in the school. Cub Scout Den No. 4, directed by Mrs. W. M. Emerson, participated in the program.

Mrs. E. M. Wright was re-elected president of the organization and new officers named were Mrs. Jesse Majors, vice president, Mrs. Marion Tredaway, secretary and Mrs. R. Z. Cozart, treasurer.

The devotion was given by the Rev. Marvin James, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Study theme for the month, "Together We Help a Child by Creating a Love for Learning," was presented by Mrs. Ray Cantrell. She pointed out that teachers should not only be teachers, but friends to the students. Each child should feel wanted, and kindness and praise should be given to each individual.

Jack Roberts reported sales of $128.60 in U. S. Savings Stamps with the honor award going to Mrs. Cantrell's third grade.

Fifty-five members and guests were present with Mrs. Cantrell's third grade winning room count.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Interesting people doing interesting work are DR. and MRS. ROBERT RIGSBY who, with their four children, visited their uncle and aunt, MR. and MRS. DONALD VAN METER, recently.

Dr. Riggsby is a medical missionary and is presently working in Ethiopia. The family quarters are in the compound of the palace grounds at Addis Ababa and Dr. Riggsby serves Emperor Haile Salassie as physician. But this is just a small part of his work which is mainly working with the natives.

Having been in Ethiopia for three years, the doctor felt the need of bringing his medical knowledge abreast of more modern techniques. The family stopped here briefly en route to Bakersfield, Calif., where he will observe and work in a clinic there until July when they will return overseas.

Dr. Roberts gets great satisfaction from his missionary work and brought numerous slides to show the Van Meters. The people with whom he works suffer a great shortage of water, have poor means of transportation and housing is below par. The only roads that are good are ones built by the Italians.

MRS. H. M. RAINBOLT came home Saturday from Lubbock where she has been the past month having undergone bone surgery. She is at her home in Western Hills.

When CHARLES ANTHONY HERRING and PEGGY HARCADLE got married in Killen last weekend, his grandparents, MR. and MRS. C. D. HERRING, who have resided here for many years, and his uncle, aunt and cousin, MR. and MRS. CHARLES TURNER and Gene were present.

MRS. R. D. ULREY and her sister, MRS. H. E. RHODES of Racine, Wis., have returned from a month's visit in Byers and Denver, Colo. En route the two visited the A. W. DEKKER family for 10 days in Albuquerque, N. M. In Byers they visited two other sisters, MRS. W. T. DAY and MRS. E. F. BURGER. The four sisters were joined by the fifth, MRS. OSA O'CONNELL of Oklahoma City, for the celebration of the 82nd birthday anniversary of Mrs. Day, the eldest of the group. A birthday dinner, attended by 16 relatives, was given by a niece at her home in Englewood.

Back from a quick trip are MR. and MRS. W. F. TAYLOR who visited in Roby with the O. B. CAVES, in Stamford with MR. and MRS. W. J. BRYANT and in Seymour with MR. and MRS. JAMES SIDDENS. Mrs. Siddens joined the Taylors for a trip to Wichita Falls and on the way they stopped in Archer City, their home town. In Wichita Falls they visited their brother and his wife, MR. and MRS. E. CLAGETT.

MR. and MRS. J. I. BALCH returned late Friday from San Angelo where they attended the Stock Show and Rodeo. Their grandson, LARRY EUBANK, Sweetwater, took fourth place with his Black Angus calf in the show. This is the second year for Larry to exhibit. Last year his animal came in sixth. At the rodeo the attraction was Doc and Festus from the "Gunsmoke" series.

MR. and MRS. D. H. SIMMONDS and daughter are in Denton to visit another daughter who is a student in North Texas State University.

Club Discusses New Hair Styles

"Let's Be Beautiful" was the topic presented by Mrs. R. L. Collins to the Center Point HD Club meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Vernon Kent. Roll call was answered with "How long has it been since you changed your hair style?" Refreshments were served to 12 members and five guests, Mrs. Tom Roger, Mrs. Emmett Grantham, Mrs. Joe Gaskins, Mrs. N. A. Jones and Mrs. R. L. Collins.

Mrs. Kent gave the devotion and reported on the recent council meeting and Mrs. Zan Ryan was named to represent the club in Austin.

The club will furnish potato salad for the 4-H and FFA stock show.

Mrs. Earl Hollis was awarded the attendance prize.

The next meeting will be held March 23, in the home of Mrs. Ernest Lillard.

WMU Views Film

KNOTT (SC)—A film on the life of Annie Armstrong was shown to the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church Wednesday evening. Meetings have been held at 9:30 a.m. during the week in observance of the Week of Prayer for Home Missions.

Will Marry

S. Sgt. and Mrs. Purvis W. Frazier, 195-A Hunter, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Loretta Ann, to Airman 2.C. Daniel Keith Neel. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Neel, Houston, and is stationed at Webb AFB. The couple plans to be married soon.

Called Meeting

There will be a called meeting of the British Wives' Club at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Lester Chism, 221-B Langley.

Luncheon Held By Baptists

"The Part Music Takes in Worship" was the program presented by Mrs. Daisy Smyth to the Berta Beckett Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church at the luncheon held Wednesday in the downtown Tea Room. She told of the life of Fanny Crosby, blind hymn writer, who wrote many of the hymns sung in churches today.

Mrs. Beatrice Mittel gave the invocation, and Mrs. J. P. Dodge conducted the business session.

A St. Patrick's day theme was used in table decorations. Thirteen members and two guests, Mrs. Bart Wilkinson and Miss Nell Brown, attended.

Committee and group leader reports were given and Mrs. Mittel worded the closing prayer.

Bob Priddy Takes Baptist Position

STANTON (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Bob Priddy will be moving to Big Spring soon. Priddy has accepted a position with the First Baptist Church as minister of enrollment and youth education. His resignation as music educational director of the First Baptist Church, Stanton, will be effective March 15.

Meet Madame President

Mrs. Bill P. Johnson, 1907 Alabama, is being spotlighted this week as president of the 1965 Hyperion Club. Her husband is a partner in Reeder and Associates, an insurance and real estate firm, and they have one daughter, Denise, 8, a second grader in Washington Elementary School.

Mrs. Johnson was born and reared in Baird. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Womack, now of Ozona. She attended Hardin-Simmons University and took a secretarial course at Draughons Business College in Abilene.

The Johnsons were married in 1951 in Baird while he was in the Air Force and stationed in Manchester, N. H. They came to Big Spring in 1956 when he was a civil service employe at Webb AFB. They attend services at the First Baptist Church where she is chairman of the Mary Willis Circle and publicity chairman of the Woman's Missionary Union. Also, she teaches a class of teenagers.

Mrs. Johnson is treasurer of the Washington Parent-Teachers Association, is a member of the Kiwanis-Queens and plays bridge with a group that meets on Thursdays. She likes tennis, skiing and sewing. She enjoys baking and is now

Bids Due Monday For Webb New Flight Unit

Webb Air Force Base Monday will move nearer the newest phase of its pilot training program, with the opening of bids for civilian contract flight instruction in light, propeller-driven aircraft.

The Air Force, at all eight of its undergraduate pilot training bases, is instituting the new light-aircraft phase, planning on increasing pilot production at lower cost.

The introductory flying phase will be done under contract to private, properly certified instructional organizations. The Air Force will provide the planes — the Cessna 172F, designated by the Air Force as T41 — and lease them to the contractor, who will have his own crew of instructors and maintenance people. The instruction will be done under supervision of the Air Force.

2 P.M. MONDAY

Bids for the school contract are to be opened at 2 p.m. Monday in Withcombe Hall at Webb. First Lt. George Podrasky, base procurement officer, said that after low bidders are determined, a check of capability to perform will be made before award of contract.

Bids for the same type school already have been opened at Laredo AFB, Laughlin AFB (Del Rio), Craig AFB (Alabama), Moody AFB (Georgia) and at Reese AFB (Louisiana). Others are to be awarded at Vance AFB (Oklahoma) and Williams AFB (Arizona).

Information on the program was sent to nearly 50 prospective bidders, but the number actually appearing here Monday may be less than half that, based on actual bids offered at other bases.

LOCAL INTERESTS
Big Spring interests have indicated plans to bid, as have other flying schools and commercial base operators around West Texas.

Under the new contract program, students will be billeted at Webb and receive ground training there, and will be transported to and from the private training field in military vehicles. Location of the civilian facilities must be within one hour's bus driving time from Webb.

ing to base figures, several possible flying fields — at Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado City, Terminal, and Midland Air Park. These are in addition to the Howard County Airport.

"NEW INDUSTRY"
Since the flying school means personnel and payrolls adding up to a sizable "new industry," most of the area towns have been courting prospective contractors to use their facilities. At Snyder, the Scurry County Commissioners Court made a commitment to build a hangar facility, and has offered the field there for a nominal sum. Other air fields reportedly have been in the bidding.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and the Howard County Airport Advisory Board have been active in offering the local facilities. They were joined by the Howard County Commissioners Court, which has agreed to finance a hangar and briefing room facility up to $25,000, and to agree to negotiation for use of such with the successful school bidder.

BEGIN AUG. 1

Operation of the Webb adjunct

is due to begin by Aug. 1, with Class 67-A, due to report here July 29. New students will have 30 hours flying time in the T41 before advancing to the jet-powered aircraft. About 21 of the Cessna planes will be used at the school.

With introduction of the T41 program, flying training will be reduced from 55 to 53 weeks, and total flying hours will be cut from 262 to 240 hours.

The Air Force is bringing more pilots into its training program, to offset a shortage created by retirement of those with World War II and Korean experience, and to develop men to handle new types of aircraft.

MORE PILOTS

Pilot training goals went up from 1,500 for the government's last fiscal year to 1,900 for the current year, and some 2,700 are expected to be trained in the fiscal year following.

The T41 is a high-wing, two-place monoplane, powered by a 145-hp Continental engine. Cessna was low bidder to the government on providing 170 such planes, at a figure of $1,239,650.

Tuesday Is Entry Day For Annual Junior Stock Show

The Twenty-eighth Annual Howard County FFA and 4-H Club Fat Stock Show, sponsored by the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Howard County Junior Livestock Association, opens Tuesday at the Fairgrounds Barn west of town.

The show continues through Thursday evening. An auction sale will ring down the curtain and bring an end to the steady livestock show trek youthful county exhibitors have been on since early January.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent who will act as superintendent of the show, said that there would probably be fewer steers entered in this year's show than usual.

"The youngsters have been to more than the usual number of shows and have sold a lot of their stock at these shows," he explained. "We will probably have 20 to 22 steers and perhaps 120 lambs entered."

Tuesday is official entry day. All steers and lambs must be brought to the barns, weighed and get tags before noon. The weighing in begins at 8 a.m. Judging will be Wednesday. Lambs will be judged at 9 a.m. by Oliver West, Garden City. Steers will be judged at 2 p.m. by Ray Sims, Coleman County.

A barbecue dinner, to be served at the barn at 6 p.m., will initiate the final day's activities Thursday. This is open to all exhibitors, their families, buyers, officials and special guests of the sponsors. At 7:30 p.m., the sale opens in the show ring. Dub Bryant and Randell Sherrod have been asked to serve jointly as auctioneers.

The show is open to the public and a general invitation is extended to all who want to watch the operations. The judging usually attracts a sizable gallery and the auction sale is a popular feature with spectators. Howard County 4-H Club members are just back from San Angelo where they competed last week.

The 28th annual show is similar to the earlier editions with

Bank Vault To Become A Jail

STAYTON, Ore. (AP) — Burglars or robbers who want to get into a bank vault will be welcome in a few months. By then it will be a jail.

The First National Bank in this town of 2,500 is moving to new quarters a block away. The bank building will become the new City Hall — and the vault will become a four-man jail.

Counsel Requirement To Reach Lower Courts

By SAM BLACKBURN
It is quite possible, Big Spring attorneys believe, that possibly within a year offenders brought before the justice of peace, county and, perhaps the city courts, will have to be provided by the community with legal counsel, if they are unable to hire a lawyer.

Recently, the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that the Gideon case decision by the U.S. Supreme Court was applicable in a case brought before it from Mississippi.

CASE

The case, on which the ruling was made, was a misdemeanor conviction out of a Mississippi county court involving a man named Harvey, charged with unlawful possession of whisky. He was convicted and his punishment fixed at 90 days in the county jail and a fine. He appealed on the grounds he was not permitted to have an attorney. The appellate court set aside the Mississippi verdict.

Attorneys are now waiting for the Harvey case to make its way to the U.S. Supreme Court. Should the high court uphold the appeals court, it will make the provisions of the Gideon ruling applicable to misdemeanors or cases as well as felonies.

Felony cases are offenses in which a defendant can be given a sentence in a state penitentiary. Misdemeanor cases are offenses which carry only city or county jail terms and fines. Misdemeanors are tried in corporation, county and justices of the peace courts. Felonies are tried in district courts.

GIDEON

In the Gideon case, which originated in Florida, the appellant said he had been tried and convicted of burglary and sentenced to the penitentiary at a hearing where he was not represented by an attorney. The high court ordered the man freed from prison. Since the Gideon ruling, several thousand similar cases have been handled and as many convicted men and women ordered freed or remanded to the original court for a retrial.

At least one Gideon case has bobbed up in the local courts.

Felix Dominguez, convicted a number of years ago, in a Big Spring District Court as a habitual burglar, recently filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. In his petition, he alleged that one of the convictions on which the habitual criminal conviction was based was a trial in which he had no attorney. Judge Ralph Caton, the present judge of the 118th District Court, where the habeas corpus petition was filed, has checked back through the record and transmitted the original petition with all pertinent information, to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The conviction of Dominguez was in the days before the present 118th District Court existed.

SIMILAR

There have been other similar cases in Texas as well as in other states.

In the lower courts, it is usual for defendants to appear before the judge, unattended by attorneys. In corporation courts, and in the justices of the peace courts, defendants are often tried and convicted with only the arresting officer or, perhaps, the city attorney, and the judge in attendance.

Lawyers believe it possible, if the Harvey case is sustained by the Supreme Court and the impact of the Gideon decision made effective in misdemeanor matters, that an individual charged with such an offense may demand that he be provided with an attorney. He needs only to sign a pauper's oath in the district court in order to claim such benefit.

In the courts where felony offenses are tried, the judge, where a request by a defendant is made for counsel, appoints a member of the county bar to represent the defendant. The custom in the 118th District Court has always been to appoint counsel for any defendant who wants to plead guilty, if the prisoner has no lawyer.

PAYMENT

The lawyers so appointed are paid $10 for each appearance they make in court for their clients and, if the case goes before a jury, the appointed attorneys receive $25 per day for their services.

In county court defendants charged with misdemeanor offenses often enter guilty pleas. In such hearings, only the county attorney and the judge participate. The defendant is not attended by his own attorney. No evidence is offered, in most cases, other than the brief statement of alleged offense as recited in the information. This is read to the court and the defendant and he is asked how he pleads. If he pleads guilty, his punishment—a fine and costs, time in jail, or fine and time in jail—is meted out by the judge.

It is now speculated if the Gideon case provisions are made applicable to misdemeanors, and a county court defendant wants to plead guilty, he may have to be provided with counsel at the expense of the county as is already the case in the district court.

EXPENSIVE

Not only would a requirement that all fundless defendants before the lower courts be provided with court-appointed attorneys—whose services would have to be paid by the taxpayers be expensive, but the attorneys themselves, in all probability, would find the situation irksome. The average attorney, while he serves when asked to do so by the district judge, is not usually eager to do so. The compensation is so small it does not offset the financial loss, he is caused by the time his court-appointment usually requires.

Attends Meet

Richard S. Egan will attend the Prudential Insurance Co. regional business conference at Hollywood Beach, Fla., today through Wednesday. The business conference will be attended by field representatives invited from company district offices throughout the state.

Only Few Have Escaped Attacks From The Virus

By SAM BLACKBURN
By the time spring arrives (2:05 p.m. next Saturday) probably 75 per cent of the population of this county will either have had, be recovering from, or be at the outset of what will be called (1) a bad cold; (2) an attack of the flu; or (3) the virus.

It is a rare individual these days who has not had to endure the discomforts of a runny nose, a hacking cough, weepy eyes and a croaking voice. Doctors say this has truly been a year of the virus.

FEBRUARY
The Howard County - City Health Unit makes an effort each month to get a report from the medical men of the community on the prevalence of assorted diseases. In February, the agency report shows, there were 131 influenza cases seen by the medics, and 148 cases of what the doctors called "upper respiratory infection."

"This is just a few of the real total," said one of the agency workers. "We cannot get a complete report from all of the doctors, and a lot of people who have these troubles do not see a doctor."

So, it seems probable that while 300 or more Howard County residents sniffed their way into their family doctor's office in February seeking relief from "bad colds," hundreds and hundreds of others hopefully watched the television commercials and bought the countless nostrums advertised as certain cold cures.

One thing seems to be correct.

"You've got a virus," your doctor probably told you when he had checked your sore throat and listened to the wheezing coughs in your chest.

"I have," you said. "What can I do about it?"

THE RUB.
Ah, there's the rub.

A faculty member of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School was quoted recently as saying:

"At least 65 different known viruses can cause respiratory infections — head colds, sore throat, influenza, flu-like illnesses, bronchitis and pneumonia."

This, he said, probably explains why people do not become immune to the ailment after they have a cold.

People who complain they have one cold after another, from October until May, may be telling the exact truth. They could be suffering from an entirely different virus each time they get the sniffles.

Can you find out exactly what virus of the 65 is your assailant?

This University of Texas faculty member is quoted as replying that you can.

"If you have a hundred dollars to spend and three months to wait," he said, "technicians can probably put a name on your bug."

ANOTHER VIRUS
By that time, the first attack which sent you to the doctor will have long since passed, and you may be quivering and aching under the blows of another entirely different virus.

How big are your little invaders? So small, this expert says, that they will ooze right through the minute pores of a porcelain filter. They can only be seen by use of an electron microscope, which shows them magnified 100,000 times.

There are four principal offenders in the virus family who do their stuff in the bad cold field, this expert says.

Head colds stem largely from rhinoviruses. There are more than 40 different types of this virus. The symptoms are stuffy runny noses, sneezing and, generally, fever.

Adenoviruses and parainfluenza viruses are good sources of sore throat. To aggravate matters, there are at least 28 known adenoviruses. Seven have been convicted of causing respiratory infections.

BUNCH OF THEM
Myxoviruses cause influenza.

Aches, fever, usually chills, weakness—these are the clues that you are host to either the A, A-1, A-2 (or Asian) B and C, all of which cause true flu; or of some of the parainfluenza viruses which cause illnesses like flu.

A character called Eaton, along with the adenoviruses, can cause pneumonia. This expert says the Eaton agent is bigger than a virus, smaller than a bacteria, and can be whipped, sometimes, with antibiotic drugs.

These are just a few of the billions of viruses which send you grabbing that handkerchief and make you ill-tempered in your contact with your fellow man.

What can you do about it? Well, you can go to bed, keep warm, rest a lot, drink quantities of liquids, and take aspirin. And your medical counselor will probably give you a shot of antibiotics.

He may prescribe some antibiotic drugs to be taken as pills, capsules or liquid.

BLOCK OTHERS
He knows that these will not cope with the virus—what he is trying to do is build a barrier to block out some other ailment which may seize you while the virus has you on the mat. The antibiotics will deal with the other invader and perhaps keep you from even more serious trouble than you now have.

Meantime, the expert from the University of Texas Medical School glumly says:

"A vaccine against the common cold which will be truly effective is still many years off."

Record Enrollments Due At College, Hunt Says

Record enrollments at Howard County Junior College in the years ahead were predicted by school president Dr. W. A. Hunt in a talk made before members of the American Business Club at their luncheon Friday at the Settles hotel.

Dr. Hunt was appearing before the club on behalf of the March 20 $500,000 bond issue.

which he pointed out, would result in an $804,000 building program at the local college—if it is approved by the voters.

The HJC administrator reminded his listeners that he was not appearing on the speaker's dais to try and "sell" his listeners on the proposal, but rather to acquaint them with the "facts and the need for additions to the building plant."

"We are now in the best financial condition we have been since I have been president of the school," Hunt said. "And we can vote this bond without increasing the tax rate. I can assure you on that point."

School officials are hopeful of building both a science building and a library building from the bond issue and the $304,000 the college expects to get under the College Facilities Act.

In addition, Hunt stated, the school will pay its part toward a desperately-needed field house in Memorial Stadium, which the college would jointly build with the Big Spring Independent School System.

"We must be ready for the increase in enrollment that is sure to come," Hunt said, reminding his listeners that 1,500 seniors in the 14 high schools in the immediate Big Spring area would be looking for places to attend college in 1968.

Dr. Hunt was introduced by Dr. Douglass Smith, program chairman.

Ambucs were reminded of the ABC Regional convention, which takes place in Hobbs, N. M., April 9-10.

Justin Holmes received credentials giving him life membership status in the ABC. Holmes will have been in the local organization 19 years next month. Joe Starnes and D. E. Davis were introduced as guests.

Contracts Extended

LAMESA (SC)—The Lamesa Independent School Board last week extended Supt. Abe Holder's contract through 1968. Holland Evans, business manager, also received an extension on his contract for two years, as did administrators C. E. Green and V. C. Bearden.

All school principals in the system had their contracts extended a year giving them two years to run on their current contracts. These include Al Langford, high school; G. L. Trice, junior high school; K. D. Smith, North Elementary; O. W. Richardson, V. Z. Rogers School; B. M. Turner, Central Elementary; Wayne Parker, South Elementary; and Lee McAllister, Blackshear Schools. Coaches O. W. Follis and Donald Jay also received one year extensions.

The board discussed organization of a citizens committee for education. R. B. Snell was elected chairman of the group with Walter Buckel, Richard Crawley and Hap Bratcher appointed as co-chairmen. A special meeting will be held later.

A Devotional For The Day

If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me. (Psalms 66:18)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, help us today to search our hearts by Thy divine light. Reveal to us our shortcomings and sins so that we may be able to confess our sin and thus get in right relationship with Thee and with our fellowmen. In Jesus' precious name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Maintaining Everyone's Rights

It is to be hoped that members of Congress cannot be maneuvered into voting for repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Act—the right-to-work provision—without giving the whole system a thorough study.

The right-to-work provision means that a worker who is unwilling to do so cannot be compelled to join any organization as a condition of employment. It leaves him a choice. Texas is one of 19 states which have the right-to-work law, and its statute, as well as those of other states as far as we can ascertain, has in no sense been discriminatory against unions. These laws guarantee the unions the right to exist, the right to organize, the right to enroll, the right to bargain collectively. These are rights that are valid and not to be denied.

It would seem that compulsory unionism is something else again, and it was in this vein, we believe, that Texas adopted its law.

There is no tangible evidence that the labor climate in our state has been affected. Labor has made good gains in the state, and with few exceptions has worked out amicable arrangements with the varying types of management.

All the while, hourly earnings have been increasing, new manufacturing and industrial jobs have been created, per-capita income has gone up and the unemployment rate has been below the national average.

Texas as a whole has advanced tremendously in the industrial area, and much of its leadership is bent upon pressing for continued industrial growth. This can come about—along with other factors—only when the labor situation is in balance. There has been no weighty evidence that this hasn't been true in our state.

If union's rights can be maintained, and the right of the individual can be maintained at the same time, then the right-to-work law is not harmful.

Another issue which congressmen might want to consider is that 19 states of themselves enacted their laws. If they were found to be faulty, then the states should be the ones to repeal them. Another loss of state authority and responsibility is chalked up if the federal government dictates what shall or shall not be on the state statute books.

Well Represented

Today a group of fine young gentlemen and their coaches leave for Hutchinson, Kans., and the National Junior College Basketball Tournament.

Howard County Junior College has the honor to represent this region in the tournament, and this community has the honor to be represented by young men who have earned that right through sheer determination and application.

At the outset of the season, many of the most ardent fans would have settled for winning half the games. Then, just when there appeared to be streaks of promise, there were sharp reversals. Some said the team was an in-and-outer, that it was great when well ahead and folded under pressure.

But the truth was that the team was in the contortions of finding itself, or developing its mettle, of building confidence through knowledge of its own capabilities. Then, climaxing a brilliant showing in the regional tournament last weekend, the HCJC Jayhawks won the title in what Amarillo, host of the tournament, termed the most exciting ball game ever played there.

Of course it would be wonderful to have a national championship, but this is inconsequential besides representing the region with dignity, utmost effort, and sportsmanship. Thanks to the coaches and the boys, we are sure of this.

Marquis Childs

The U.S.-China Relationship

WASHINGTON—Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it—George Santayana, "The Life of Reason."

The place is Geneva, the picture post card Swiss city of conferences, the time late April and early May, 1954. After seven years of bloody, costly war in Indochina the French were about to meet final defeat. The 14-nation conference on Indochina had been called to find a way out short of complete disaster.

BUT, AS THE conference opened, a potent emissary from Washington sought to rally America's European allies for direct intervention. Admiral Arthur W. Radford, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, wanted British backing for joint Allied action, including a strike from American aircraft carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin to try to save the beleaguered French garrison at Dienbienphu.

At a hastily called emergency cabinet meeting in London the decision was against British participation. Churchill as Prime Minister let it be known that he was opposed to such a military move until the Geneva conference had made every effort to find a peaceful way out.

A FORGOTTEN factor in that decision, bearing on the present apparently vain attempt to get European support for the American effort in Viet Nam, was the big question mark of China and American intentions toward China.

So far as can be detected from the outside America's China policy has not been altered in 10 years. Attacks on Quemoy and Matsu have been met with increased aid for Formosa. The Seventh Fleet has patrolled the Formosan Straits. But no new initiatives have been taken.

WHEN THE Kennedy administration first came to office in 1961 several proposals were advanced. One was for a "two Chinas" policy with a move to admit Red China to the United Nations while Formosa would retain its membership. Peking would almost certainly have rejected such a proposal. But at least the United States would not have been in the position of enforcing a bar against the most popular nation in the world.

In December of 1963 Roger Hillsman, then Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, proposed a policy toward China combining flexibility with firmness. He urged that the door be kept open to the possibility of change, since the regime would not be overturned. Not long afterward Hillsman resigned to be replaced by William P. Bundy, who moved from the Pentagon to advocate the hardest of the hard-line approach to Southeast Asia.

IN THE DECADE that America's position has been fixed Europe's relationship to China has undergone drastic alterations. France recognized Peking and exchanged ambassadors. Last fall the British opened a large trade exhibit in Peking seeking more business. The West Germans have sent trade missions to Red China. Most of the NATO allies now have missions of one kind or another in Peking.

Reports from Europe indicate that concern over America's ultimate goal in Southeast Asia is one reason for Allied reluctance to join in the war effort in Viet Nam.

Billy Graham

I wouldn't like to criticize the Christians with whom I work, but I don't approve of their conduct.

What can I do?

You have asked a most difficult question, for it is always easier to see the evil in our friends than in ourselves. Before you allow yourself to become overly critical, remember that Jesus said, "Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log in your own eye?" I do not believe that this means we should be blind to the faults of Christians, but rather that we should first consider ourselves carefully. "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone."

At the same time, I realize you do have a real problem. If you have first examined yourself with the same standard, you are then in a better position to see the other fellow. If then his life is a definite hindrance to the gospel, you may in love speak kindly to him. The Bible says: "Brethren, if a man is overtaken in any trespass, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Look to yourself lest you too be tempted." Perhaps you may in this way win him both to yourself and to the Lord. A sincere, but mistaken, Christian will always appreciate any suggestion that would make his life more acceptable to the Lord. Do not think your correction will avail anything if you cannot yourself take correction.

A Volunteer Program To Balance Payments

WASHINGTON—John T. Connor is a serious man with a sense of humor.

When he first met a group of industrialists in the White House to advocate the President's voluntary balance-of-payments program, the 50-year-old Secretary of Commerce said:

"Now is the time for all good businessmen to come to the aid of their country—and of me!" Connor could get away with that. As the former chief executive officer of Merck & Co., he was talking to peers and former colleagues.

CONNOR IS convinced that self-interest will lead to self-enforcement. He puts it this way: "Businessmen were greatly relieved that the President did not adopt a program of direct control or onerous taxation of foreign investment." And there are teeth behind the Secretary's velvet tongue.

About 400 companies have dealings abroad large enough to influence the BOP—balance-of-payments. This number is not too large for supervision. Therefore the secretary is using a do-it-yourself tactic.

HE HAS asked the chief executive officer of each company to prepare a quarterly statement on corporate dollar flow in and out of the United States for submission to him. This sets up a system of external inspection with the head of a company responsible for results.

Furthermore, all executives are requested to seek "guidance and advice" from the secretary on new foreign projects involving $10,000,000 or more. This, in itself, is a deterrent. Corporation executives will want to avoid asking: "Mr. Secretary may I send dollars out of the country?" They'll try to scrutinize each new venture from the government's point of view: Is it necessary?

FINALLY, Secretary Connor has named a committee of nine business executives who know the international ropes to help him. Peers will be watching peers, competitors will be scrutinizing competitors. This creates an element of self-enforcement, akin to the voluntary credit restraint program undertaken by banks during the Korean War.

Some companies, which have not completed their investment programs abroad or had planned long-term expansion, will be at a disadvantage. Their competition will have had a head start. But the secretary regards this sacrifice as temporary.

"When I look ahead," the secretary said, "I feel sure that increasing income from investment abroad and increased exports will minimize the balance-of-payments deficit. Thus, this voluntary program is relatively short-term. By 1966 it may be unnecessary."

SECRETARY Connor is more optimistic about the termination of voluntary controls over corporate export of capital than Secretary of the Treasury Dillon is about the end of restraints on bank lending abroad. The problems are different.

American banks are asked to hold down their foreign loans. At the same time the Federal Reserve System holds down interest rates here below those obtainable abroad. As long as this price differential prevails, restraint by American banks will be necessary to help our BOP.

For the President and the secretary this is a "what's good for the country is good for the company" approach. Something had to be done. Not only has the stock of U. S. gold fallen from $22 to $15 billion in 11 years, but claims against the gold have mounted (see chart).

FOREIGN governments and central banks hold short-term bills or deposits in American banks of more than $13 billion. Private companies and individuals hold another $10 billion in potential claims against the gold.

Therefore, only by demonstrating that we can curb the increase in these dollar claims, that we can reduce the BOP deficit, can we satisfy central bankers and foreign finance ministers that dollars are safe—as good as gold. If the voluntary corporate program doesn't succeed, more positive measures will be unavoidable. This is Connor's hidden strength.

Around The Rim That Was No UFO; That Was Sheet Iron

If you've been worrying lately about unidentified flying objects, you can stop. They are not much of a problem these days.

No reference is made here to scraps of sheet iron off a rural barn roof, tree branches and assorted pieces of neon signs that go whizzing by on the afternoon's dust storm. We West Texans have been checking these off for years.

INCIDENTALLY, if the earthlings are concerned about that layer of dust on the moon, what would the moonlings be thinking if all sightings are directed at western Texas? They'd say there's no life on that planet, that's what.

Excuse me, the subject was unidentified flying objects, which, just to keep up our status, we'll call UFO's. They used to be whizzing around all the time, remember, and either observers' senses have been dulled or the tricksters who fired the things off have lost interest in the game.

THERE NEVER were as many of these things as the wild-idea newspapermen would have you think. No less a reliable establishment than the Air Force has made its studies, and now has released a report.

The Air Force says it has investigated since 1947—and how many people did that take?—and that of 8,908 reported sightings (exclusive of sheet iron roofs, etc.) only 663 are actually identifiable. And of the 663 there might have been some explanation: The Air Force just lacked the data.

THE AIR FORCE report said a sighting is considered unidentified when "report apparently contains all pertinent data necessary to suggest a valid hypothesis concerning the cause or explanation of the report but the description of the object or its motion cannot be correlated with any known object or phenomena."

If that says what I think it means: "We saw something out there, boys, but we don't know what it is."

Turns out that most of the sightings over the past 18 years have been checked out to be such things as balloons, birds, kites, searchlights, missiles, aircraft navigation beacons, jet engine exhausts and maybe a few meteors. No mention was made of little boys with mirrors.

The Air Force did say, though, that none of the UFO's have been a threat to the national security, and that none of these weirdos were "vehicles from beyond the earth."

"THERE ARE no films, photographs, maps, charts or graphs of UFO's," the report said. "The only photographs that have been submitted have been determined to be a misrepresentation of natural or conventional objects, or hoaxes."

In other words, somebody's been pulling our leg. I suspected this all along, but then I don't go deeply into all pertinent data in order to establish a valid hypothesis. I have been too busy all along dodging the chunks of sheet iron that flew off somebody's barn roof. —BOB WHIPKEY

Art Buchwald Demonstrations Can Be Difficult

WASHINGTON—The recent student attacks on the American embassy in Moscow had some very interesting sidelights. It was reported that all the students who demonstrated against the embassy were foreigners, mostly from Asia and Africa.

FROM A very reliable source, we have learned that the Russians are now hiring mercenaries to attack our embassy rather than using Soviet students.

The reason for it is quite simple. The Soviet government has discovered that the student demonstrations have been interfering with the studies of its youth. There have been so many man-hours lost to attacks on the American embassy that the Russians are afraid they may not have a graduating class this June at Moscow University.

A shake-up in the Soviet Bureau of Spontaneous Demonstrations took place about a month ago and a new commissar, named Serge Brakevitch, was appointed to the post.

BRAKEVITCH ruled that no Soviet student could attend a demonstration against the American embassy unless he maintained a B average.

The Soviet students called the ruling arbitrary and unfair. They pointed out that Chinese students, Bulgarian students, and Czechoslovakian students were permitted to demonstrate with a D average and in some cases those who were flunking out were allowed to attend.

But Commissar Brakevitch was firm in his decision.

THE MOSCOW University students called a mass meeting and voted to boycott all demonstrations against the American embassy until the order about grades was rescinded.

This put the Soviet government in a spot. If they called for a demonstration against the American embassy and no one showed up, it would be very embarrassing for them.

YET IF THEY gave in to the students, it would show they weren't in control of the school.

To make matters worse, a few days after the boycott the United States started bombing North Viet Nam and it was imperative that the Soviets hold a demonstration against the American embassy.

Brakevitch was told to get one going. Since he couldn't get any Soviet students, he went to Lumumba University, where Asian and African students were studying, and asked them if they would be willing to hold the demonstration. The foreign students agreed to do it, and they were issued ink bottles, bricks, stones and Molotov cocktails.

IN THE MEANTIME, Foreign Minister Gromyko had prepared an apology for the American ambassador, Foy Kohler, to be given to him as soon as Kohler is protected.

But something went wrong with the demonstration. The foreign students in Moscow thought they were supposed to attack the Soviet police as well as the embassy, and the police were forced to fight back, knocking down many of the students. This brought protests from the students' embassies and the Soviet Union was forced to apologize to their Communist friends as well.

David Lawrence 'Civil Rights' Of The Worker

WASHINGTON—"Civil rights" is today a much misunderstood, if not abused, phrase. There is a furor currently about literacy tests and other obstacles being placed in the way of Negroes who wish to exercise their constitutional right to vote. But there is no public debate on whether persons, either white or colored, should be allowed to sell their votes to the highest bidder.

ANOTHER ABUSE of "civil rights" is in the field of religion. The First Amendment to the Constitution says that no law shall be passed which in any way prohibits "the free exercise" of religion by a citizen. Only this past week, the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that a person can be excused from military service as a conscientious objector even when his religious belief against participation in war is unorthodox.

But a few days earlier there was a news report which says, in effect, that a man who objects on religious grounds to joining a labor union can be dismissed from his job upon the demand of the union representing other employees in the same plant. The news item came over the wires of the United Press International from Evansville, Ind., on March 4, and reads as follows:

"AN OFFICIAL of the International Association of Machinists said today there is no chance that three men who opposed joining a labor union on religious grounds will keep their jobs. "The official, Robert Brown, said there will be no local union vote on the issue to permit the three—I. W. Gingell, Claude Smith and Granvil Ruddell—to keep their jobs after a closed-shop clause in a contract with the Arka Air Conditioning Company becomes effective March 23. "We will enforce the terms of the contract," said Brown."

"THE THREE MEN are members of the Christadelphian faith which cites Corinthians II, 6:14 as the reason for not joining the union. Earlier, a union-shop steward had said he would try to obtain a shop-wide vote as to whether the men should be allowed to continue to pay union dues without becoming members, or be fired. The Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that compulsory unionization can be carried on by agreement between the employer and the majority of the employees of a company, and that this is based upon the commerce clause of the Constitution. The court, however, has also ruled that compulsory membership in a union must not impair freedom of expression. This was decided in 1961, when the high court held that the authorization of a union shop by railroad workers does not permit the union—against the will of an employee—to use a member's dues to support political causes which he opposes, and that to do so violates the First Amendment.

THE COURT has not yet had a case requiring it to rule on whether religious beliefs are on a par with political beliefs in labor-union practices. Compulsory unionization in itself has come to be accepted by the politicians as a part of labor-management relations whenever both parties wish to put such an agreement into effect. But in many a case the employer does not really act of his own volition. He is often forced, under penalty of a costly strike, to accept compulsory unionization, whereby he agrees to dismiss any employee who, after 30 days, does not join a union.

MANY STATES have felt that it was necessary to pass "right to work" laws forbidding compulsory unionization, and 19 states have such laws on their books today. But the labor unions have always conducted a crusade against this legislation.

The existing federal statute permits any state to forbid compulsory unionization. All states which do not prohibit it are in the position of accepting compulsory unionization, because federal law allowing the practice has been upheld by the Supreme Court. Now, however, labor unions are demanding that the provision of the federal statute which allows the states discretionary power shall be repealed, and that no state in the union shall be permitted to pass any law prohibiting compulsory unionization. President Johnson has recommended such a step to Congress.

So the clock is moving toward more and more compulsion to join a union and the abolition of the "civil rights" of the individual so far as his right to work is concerned. (Copyright, 1965, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Coahoma FHA Elects Next Year's President

By LETHA MASON

The Coahoma FHA met Monday night in the activity room. Mrs. Doris Tiller presented the program on community citizenship. The main business was to elect the new president for the coming year. Before a girl could run she had to have her junior degree. The five girls running for the office were Donna Duke, Donna Coates, Sarah Oakes, Karon Gross, and Terry Edens.

DONNA COATES

Donna Coates, a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Coates, was elected. She and another girl will represent the Coahoma Chapter at the FHA State Convention at Dallas in April. The other girl will be decided upon later. The other chapter officers will be elected in the next meeting.

Donna is the present reporter for the FHA. She is the business manager of the annual staff, reporter for the Student Council, copy editor of the "Bank," and a member of the National Honor Society.

The FHA is making plans to attend the area FHA meeting in Odessa on March 20 and for FHA Week which is April 4-9. The boy and the girl of the month for February are Donna Duke and Keith Hodnett.

Donna, a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duke, has been a cheerleader for the past two years and was second runner-up in the Miss CBS Contest both her freshman and sophomore years. She is a member of the FHA where she is the song leader, vice president of the sophomore class, and a member of the Library Club. She has received her Junior Degree in FHA and was a starting forward on the girls' basketball team.

Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hodnett. He is a junior and serves as the junior class president. He played guard on the football team, is a member of the Spanish Club, Student Council, and track team.

The track boys were in Winters last Saturday to take part in a track meet. The team came out in second place for the whole meet and received two trophies. The team received one, and the mile relay team also received one. Winning first places were Mike Mosley in the 800 - yard dash, Marshall Williams in the 440-yard dash, Eddie McHugh in the low hurdles, and the mile relay team consisting of Johnny Gibson, Wayne Oglesby, Mike Mosley and Marshall Williams. Winning third places were Eddie McHugh - 100-yard dash, Bobby Weaver - high hurdles, and the sprint relay team consisting of Wayne Oglesby, Marshall Williams, Johnny Gibson and Eddie McHugh. In fifth place positions were Tony Butler - shot put, and Eddie McHugh - broad jump. A sixth place was won by Bobby Pherigo in the broad jump. This Saturday the boys were in Crane.

The FFA boys were in San Angelo this week. Making the trip were Tommy Menser, Olen Fryar, Sam Oakes, Sarah Oakes, John Johnson, James Hudson, R. L. Coates, Richard Bruton, and Mr. Gerald Oakes. This week the FFA boys will attend the Big Spring show.

The senior play, "Rest Assured," was presented Friday night in the high school auditorium.

The Library Club met Wednesday during homeroom, and the Science Club met Thursday night.

Annual Parent Banquet Held

GARDEN CITY

By LINDA CLEMENTS

The annual FHA Parents Banquet was held March 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Garden City School lunchroom. The program was opened with an invocation given by Sharon Jacob, the chapter's incoming president. Linda Clements, president of FHA, gave the welcome, and a response was given by Mrs. Wayne Eitchison. Mrs. Joyce Bergstrom, sponsor, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Mary Fradette Brown from Stanton. The FHA Prayer Song was led by Bonnie Glenn, and the event was closed with a benediction given by Paula Hardy. This year's theme was "Oklahoma." Special guests for the evening were FHA Beau Taylor Eitchison and his guest Dennis Seidenberger.

The seniors class enjoyed a field trip to San Angelo Friday where they visited San Angelo College and attended the rodeo. Thursday morning the seniors held a class meeting to discuss their senior trip to Colorado. Each senior will receive $5 a day for meals and other expenses. The class will leave May 21 after graduation exercises. The class will be gone seven days, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Woodley, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gibbs will sponsor the trip. The seniors' graduation invitations arrived this week.

The juniors travelled to San Angelo on a field trip Friday. They visited the San Angelo Standard Times, Fort Concho, and attended the rodeo that afternoon.

The volleyball girls began working out Monday. The week's preparation was all they had before beginning play in the Caprock Volleyball Tournament held at HCJC this weekend.

The bulletin board this week was decorated by Mrs. Ronnie Gandy. It is entitled, "Check Your Future for Strength and Security."

The junior class has been making the final preparations for the banquet. The seniors are urged to bring the money for their pictures to be taken at the banquet, and the money for their parents if they plan to attend. This money must be in by March 16.

The seniors have been measured for their caps and gowns. The fee for renting them was taken from the class treasury. Each member should bring $4.00 to pay back the class.

The Student Council met Wednesday to begin the selling of pepper and vanilla. This is one of the council's main money-making projects. Kent Sneed and Cindy Nobles gave reports on their activities on Student Government Day at Big Spring.

The sophomore class had a Coke party Wednesday as an award for having the most parents present at the P-TA meeting last Monday night.

FTA Delegates Go To State Meeting

By JEAN FANNIN

Congratulations to Shelley Cole, who was selected the first Miss Diamondback, and Mary Smoot and Adorna Wilson, who were selected first and second runners-up.

Congratulations also to Virginia Colclazer who placed third in prose reading at the Tech Speech Tournament last weekend. Her sponsor is Mrs. Ita Cole.

Seven FTA delegates and three sponsors left Friday morning for the state convention in Houston.

The delegates are Janis Plowman, Celi Pachall, Beverly Womack, Nancy Thomas, Cheryl Bunch, Connie Thompson, and Nancy Haralson, District IV corresponding secretary. Their sponsors are Miss Lavell Nix, Miss Lynn Brewer, and Mr. Miles Eckert.

The Thespians received their letter sweaters at the Tuesday night meeting.

Nine weeks tests will be given on the latter part of this week. The exam schedule is as follows: Wednesday, 1st and 4th periods; Thursday, 2nd and 5th periods; and Friday, 3rd and 8th periods.

The FTA met Thursday afternoon and nominated candidates for new officers to be installed in April. Plans were made for Homemaking Week the first week of April and a banquet at which the FHA Dreamboat will be announced. Candis Long, Carla Chapman, Sarah Pike, Jackot awards were presented to Kurt Papp, Bud Glaspie, Larry Morris, Barry Hughie, Tom Carter, Keith McKeever, Charles Price, Jim Flowers, Charles Vass, Keith Bond, Eddy Nelson and manager, Jackie Winn.

Starting this week, the student body will have an opportunity to voice its ideas concerning a new school emblem. The present emblem is the "Jayhawk," a non-existent bird, and it has been proposed that the Hawk be adopted as the official school emblem and mascot. Ballot boxes and pictures of the emblems will be shown this week. All students are sure to express your opinions about this proposed change.

Last week, March 8-12, students voted for the "Teacher of the Year" in the Student Union Building. This award is being Graduation invitations will be ordered for the seniors' next Wednesday. Seniors will need to know how many graduation invitations, individual name cards, and thank you cards they will want to order. They should give this information to the senior sponsor, Mr. Roland Mullins.

Calendar Of Events Given At Assembly

By BONNIE SIMPSON

Friday during activity period, an assembly was held to give a calendar of coming events at Howard County Junior College, and to recognize the basketball team for winning the regional tournament at Amarillo last weekend. Gary Kendrick, president of the Student Government Association, discussed coming events with the student body. He urged clubs to turn in points for the "Spirit Award" for the month of February to the SGA.

Theresa Foster, freshman cheerleader, thanked the students for helping the cheerleaders support the Jayhawks this year. The cheerleaders, as well as the whole student body, will be supporting the basketball team as it represents HCJC and this region in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament at Hutchinson, Kan. The team left Sunday at 7 a.m., and students were urged to go and see them off.

Co-captains Keith Bond and Eddy Nelson expressed thanks from the whole team for the support they have received during this season. They expressed the team's hope to bring back the National Championship to Big Spring.

Coach Buddy Travis told of the honor of winning a trip to the national tournament. Sixteen different regions will be represented by the best 16 junior college teams in the nation. He said that it takes team work and spirit among the five players on the court, as well as by those sitting on the bench. Coach Travis said that "the hardest part is getting to the national tournament, and once you get there, anyone can win it."

This is the second time that Coach Travis has taken a team to the national tournament, and the first time for Coach Verdell Turner.

Jackot awards were presented to Kurt Papp, Bud Glaspie, Larry Morris, Barry Hughie, Tom Carter, Keith McKeever, Charles Price, Jim Flowers, Charles Vass, Keith Bond, Eddy Nelson and manager, Jackie Winn.

Doyle Edmiston is the boys' coach, and Bill Milam and Mrs. Bryan Boyd are coaches for the girls' team.

A meeting of the FHA was held on Tuesday. Business was conducted by Charlotte Kuhlman, president. Historian Janis Burgess presented the chapter scrapbook.

The senior play, "The Defiance of David Charles," has been cast. Those who will have parts are Rodney Roten as David Charles, Carl Lawson as Mr. Charles, Linda Parker as Mrs. Charles, Nancy Graves as Faye Ellis, Ray Louder as Mr. Grainger, Leta Johnson as Miss Betts, Reba Ringener as Miss Teale,

The chapter conducting team also presented the program for the Stanton Rotary Club on Feb. 24.

Members of the advanced band went to the Solos and Ensemble contest in Odessa, March 13. Approximately 30 members attended. Performance is graded in Divisions I-IV. Those receiving Division I are awarded a medal.

Student Council members have been working on a scrapbook. The scrapbook contains many Runnels' activities of the past year. Scrapbook committee members are Jeanie Johnson, Laura Parks, Eugene Carrillo, Katherine Crenshaw, and Bobby Heath. Members have also been working on a "Student Council Handbook."

The volleyball teams of Runnels will play Goliad Monday.

Girls' health classes are completing a study unit on alcohol and narcotics. Ninth graders saw a film on narcotics Monday.

Art classes have been going outside for their drawing sessions the past week.

Cast In Play

Arnold Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Gibson, 1906 11th St., has been named to the cast of Texas Tech's University Theater production of Brechtweill's "Three Penny Opera," scheduled March 18-21. He is a freshman student majoring in arts and science.

BOND ELECTION
March 20 is the date for the HCJC Bond Election. The success of this election means a great deal to a greater HCJC. If the bond passes, a new library, science building and field house will be built. With the addition of these new buildings, more class facilities will be made available. The college is greatly in need of these new buildings and the additional classroom space. If this bond does not pass, it will be a great loss to the students and the people of this area.

College students Monty Clendenin, Byrum Lee, Beverly Riordan, Marie Neece, and Donnie Anderson will be talking for the bond on KWAB-TV the first part of this week.

The Women's Recreational Association sponsored its annual High School Girls' Volleyball Tournament Thursday-Saturday. Sixteen teams were entered, with games getting under way Thursday at 4 p.m., and the championship game being played at 8 p.m. Saturday. Members of the WRA served as scorekeepers, timekeepers, and hostesses for the visiting teams.

The Rodeo Club held a meeting Tuesday night and Wednesday during activity period.

TENNIS TEAMS
The men's and women's tennis teams will travel to Clarendon Monday for conference games to begin at 1 p.m.

Wesley Fellowship will meet March 17 during activity period in the SUB parlor. The regular meeting date is the third Wednesday of every month during activity period. The May meeting date will be the 2nd. March 25, Melvin Munn will present the "Sermon on the Mount" from memory at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church. "Wesley Fellowship Bulletin," a new monthly publication, will be mailed free of charge to all members and anyone else who requests it.

Thespians Rehearse Play For IL Competition

By SUSAN ELROD

The Forsan Thespian Club has begun rehearsal on the play to be presented for Inter-scholastic League. They are presenting, "The Sandbox," by Edward Albee. Charles Richardson plays the young man, Orveta Fryar is Mommy, Kent Sneed is Daddy, Susan Elrod is Grandma, and Deryl Dunnagan is the musician. Mrs. Ronnie Gandy is their director.

The FHA girls are making plans to attend the Area FHA meeting in Odessa, March 20. Lupe Cevallos was chosen as the voting delegate and to present the registration fee to the registrar. Jody Dodd was chosen to answer roll call. Sherye Kirkpatrick, a junior at Forsan, is running for the office of area secretary.

The bulletin board this week was decorated by Mrs. Ronnie Gandy. It is entitled, "Check Your Future for Strength and Security."

The junior class has been making the final preparations for the banquet. The seniors are urged to bring the money for their pictures to be taken at the banquet, and the money for their parents if they plan to attend. This money must be in by March 16.

The seniors have been measured for their caps and gowns. The fee for renting them was taken from the class treasury. Each member should bring $4.00 to pay back the class.

The Student Council met Wednesday to begin the selling of pepper and vanilla. This is one of the council's main money-making projects. Kent Sneed and Cindy Nobles gave reports on their activities on Student Government Day at Big Spring.

The sophomore class had a Coke party Wednesday as an award for having the most parents present at the P-TA meeting last Monday night.

The volleyball girls began working out Monday. The week's preparation was all they had before beginning play in the Caprock Volleyball Tournament held at HCJC this weekend.

Lead Stars Play Three Film Parts

Joseph E. Levine's "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," opening today at the Ritz Theatre, in color and wide screen, presents three views of Italian society—as well as three separate views of Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni. The tongue-in-cheek trilogy, was directed by Vittorio De Sica.

Shot on location in Rome, Naples and Milan, the episodes—each starring Loren and Mastroianni—run the social scale from lower to middle to upper class . . . each bound together by universal qualities of humor, humanity and compassion.

The "Adelina" episode, based on a widely publicized newspaper account of a decade ago, concerns a woman charged with blackmarketing American cigarettes. Her celebrated struggle with the law excited the imagination of the entire world when it learned that she was evading prison by perennal pregnancy! According to the Italian Penal Code, no pregnant woman can be imprisoned until six months after her child is born. Encouraged by this legal loophole, she and her husband produce a brood of seven children in five years.

In the "Mara" episode, Miss Loren plays a call girl who lives in a terrace apartment overlooking Rome's Piazza Navona. Mastroianni, this time, appears as a Bolognese business man who is in the Eternal City for the eternal mixture of business and pleasure.

The Anna story casts Miss Loren in the role of a bored, married Milan socialite who is having an affair with Mastroianni, playing a struggling young writer.

Gina Will Appear, But Not Too Nude

Melvin Frank, who produced "Strange Bedfellows," in Technicolor, coming Tuesday to the Ritz Theatre had to concern himself with the case of the five Lady Godivas.

All five Godivas, incidentally, were portrayed by luscious Gina Lollobrigida.

In the comedy which co-stars Gina with Rock Hudson, Gig Young and Edward Judd, Lady Godiva gets into the act when a London protest group led by Gina decides to re-enact the streets of Coventry. Naturally, Miss Lollobrigida plays Lady Godiva in the sequence.

"Our problem was how historically accurate we could be without stirring a censor's scissors," Frank admitted. "As far as Gina was concerned, we could set our own limit of nudity. All we had to do was make the decision."

The decision was influenced by five different tests of Gina as Lady Godiva, utilizing different quantities of leotards, wigs and falls to cover—and uncover—Gina properly.

"The original Lady Godiva needed no cover," Mel Frank pointed out, "because nobody saw her except that Coventry tailor, Peeping Tom. Our Lady Godiva will be ogled by millions of movie-goers throughout the world, so she appears in "Strange Bedfellows" nude—but not too nude."

CAMPFIRE STORIES, by Tanner Laine, illustrated by Donald E. Johnson; Ranch House Publications, Lubbock; 148 pp.; $2.95.

"I'm listening to the footsteps of the coming millions," Gen. Robert E. Lee said while gazing over great stretches of unsettled prairie. He was on duty in Texas back in 1852. And as Tanner Laine points out in this new book, he was quite a forecaster. But before the new millions forget, Laine reminds them that West Texas was once an adventurous place, filled with Indians and buffalo, trail herds and prairie dogs, but most important—a lot of interesting, hard-working, pioneers.

Peppered through this tidy volume are half a hundred stories gathered by Laine in many years of talking with the old-timers who originally settled our West Texas. He grew up near the big ranches on the plains and some of the yarns come from almost first-hand experience. Others, he has collected in a lifetime of newspapering. Most of the stories are centered around the Caprock country, but some reach into New Mexico and others dip off the escarpment into our own area. Many of our oldtimers will find familiar stories here, and the newcomers can't help become enthralled at the hardships endured by those who broke the land out here first.

For these are not television fodder, or stories solely about the good guys winning out over the bad guys—although there are some stories that fit that formula too. Basically, these are tales from loving memory of a time that was, when even lonely cowboys could find something to laugh about as they pushed pesky herds through mighty dry country.

LOST GIRL
 Two cowboys found a little girl, apparently abandoned on the prairie; she was raised by kindly folk and it was many years later before the true story was told. And "The Maverick" came into a fabulous fortune as a result. Another tells of a 22-year-old champion cutting horse, who came out of retirement to win a big contest in Haskell back in 1897. It's a fascinating story about Old Blue, a leader that cowboys once defended from the Indians, because of his ability to lead a herd straight to the rail head, almost alone.

Back in 1905 the first adding machine arrived in Lubbock and the banker took a dim view of any contraption that was supposed to add correctly. He even kept it a secret until he could convince himself it would work. When King County was organized, some curious names appeared on the petitions of the cowboys. Sam Householder was on one, and John A. Burro on another. Yep, the Sam was a hound and John's name revealed his secret.

Prairie dogs and rattlers were abundant even in those days, and resulted in a world of humorous tales. And Joseph S. Highsmith, up in Hale County, was West Texas' own Johnny Applesed. Lost mines, traveling parsons, a cowboy strike, shoot-outs, lost loves, and bank robberies are re-told in page after page.

These are but a few of the tales.

Herald readers will recognize the story about Sheriff T. D. Love, who chased an outlaw into New Mexico after following the trail from Borden County back in 1894-95. Our own Sam Blackburn recounted this story in detail on these pages several years ago, as recounted by the late Sid Roeder, Borden County sheriff until his death last year.

Laine has put together a fine little volume to add to the growing shelf of Western Americana. This one should find lots of readership in our area, as it is so close to home.

As such books go, the volume has a rather small printing and interested readers should not tarry. Some 1,200 of the books were snapped up in Lubbock the first week they went on sale. They are available here at Modesta's, in the College Park Shopping Center, and Hemphill-Wells Co., in downtown.

NEWS CAREER

Laine grew up in Spur, where he attended public school, and received his journalism degree from Texas Tech. His newspaper career includes The Texas Spur, Dickens County Times, Las Vegas (N.M.) Optic, Midland Reporter-Telegram, Kerrville Times, and Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, where he is now regional editor. He has won awards from the Associated Press and United Press International. In 1962, he won the Texas Railroads Association news-writing contest. He and his wife have a teenage son.

The book is spiced amply with the artwork of Donald E. Johnson, who has admirably captured the flavor of the book with his drawings. From the cover, through page after page, he has illustrated Laine's stories with a variety of artistry—varying from cartoons, to maps, caricatures to fine etchings. He is at his best with horses, cowboys, and other typical western scenes.

A transplanted Texan (he grew up in Massachusetts), Johnson received his formal training at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh, Pa., later joining the San Angelo Standard-Times as artist. He is now art director for the Lubbock newspaper, where he and Laine are co-workers.

STAMP NEWS

Nationalist China To Honor Rotary Clubs

By SYD KRONISH
 AP Newswriters

The universal appeal of stamps crosses all boundaries—language and territorial.

This is noted in the latest stamp issued by Nationalist China honoring the 60th anniversary of Rotary International, an organization founded in Chicago and now in 125 countries. There are three stamps in this set, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The common design features the Rotary symbol of a mechanical gear in front of a tightly wound spring. The values in Taiwan dollars, are $1.50, $2 and $2.50.

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced plans to issue a 5-cent stamp commemorating the 400th anniversary of the first permanent European settlement in the New World—St. Augustine, Fla.

Colonization by the Spanish began in 1559 at Pensacola, Fla., but this settlement was abandoned. A permanent settlement began six years later at St. Augustine which is recognized as the oldest continuous settlement in the U. S.

This stamp is the 13th commemorative announced for 1965. Approximately 15 will be issued during the year. More details will be given in this column as they become available.

The Department of Posts and Telegraphs in Dublin has announced that an air mail stamp in a new denomination soon will be issued by Eire. The new denomination, 1 shilling 5 pence, meets the requirements resulting from the last change in postal rates. It will bear the Rock of Cashel design as used in the 1 shilling 3 pence air mail but will be blue.

Collectors in this country wishing first-day covers may write to: Irish Cachet Covers, 947 E. 32nd St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 11210. Cost per cover is 65 cents.

And still more memorial stamps for the late President John F. Kennedy. This one is from Cyprus and comes in three values. It features a portrait and a quotation "self determination for Cyprus" made by the then-Sen. Kennedy in Congress on March 13, 1956.

Gen. A. W. Schinz Due Here Friday

GEN. A. W. SCHINZ

Brig. Gen. Albert W. Schinz, commander of the 836th Air Division, MacDill AFB, Fla., will be the guest speaker at the Dining-In Friday night for Class 65-F graduation ceremonies.

Some 40 student pilots will be awarded their silver wings March 20 after almost 35 weeks of flying training. The ceremonies will be marked by a parade and review on Saturday.

Gen. Schinz entered the Army Air Corps as an aviation cadet in 1940 and completed basic and advanced pilot training at Kelly Field in December of that year. Since then, Gen. Schinz has attended and completed courses at military schools which include the command staff officers' materiel management course and the National War College in Washington, D.C. Prior to World War II he was a member of the 31st Pursuit Group at Selfridge Field, Mich.

During World War II, Gen. Schinz served in the Pacific Theater of operations, rising from the duty of flight commander in New Guinea to other posts, including squadron commander and then deputy group commander in 1943.

In 1951, the general was serving as chief, Fighter Branch Headquarters, USAF, when he was assigned to the 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing in Korea as deputy wing commander.

He returned to the United States in July of 1952 to take over as the Ninth Air Force deputy director of operations at Pope AFB, N. C. The next year he once again went overseas, this time to Europe as commander of the 50th Fighter Bomber Group. Leaving this post in March of 1954, he became the director of operations and training at Headquarters USAF, at Weisbaden, Germany.

From August of 1956 until August of 1959, Gen. Schinz was assigned as director and chief of staff for operations at Headquarters, Armed Forces Special Weapons Project, Washington, D.C.

A command pilot with over 4,000 hours of flying time, he assumed command of the 836th Air Division in January of last year.

Gen. Schinz is married to the former Mildred Lorraine Hinkson of Ottawa, Ill. They have three children: Penny Jeanne, Fred William and David Albert.
