Fresh Start Due On Redistricting

By ERNEST STROMBERGER

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators, faced with a poor reception to their initial redistricting plan, may make a fresh start today.

Sen. Louis Grump of San Saba predicted quick acceptance of his proposal to enlarge the Senate from 31 members to 39, extend terms from four years to six, and require all senators to run for re-election in 1966.

An earlier proposal, adopted last month, provided for identical membership and terms, but allowed all but five incumbents immunity from facing voters next year.

Another proposed constitutional change, Sen. Don Kennard's measure to allow Tarrant County to establish a regional airport, is up for debate today. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas opposes it.

Since senators voted for a 39-member upper house, Speaker Ben Barnes has expressed concern over whether federal courts would accept the automatic re-election provision.

Some senators also said the provision might weaken the proposal's chance of acceptance by voters July 24.

If voters reject the proposal, senators could be left without a redistricting proposal less than two weeks before the court-order reapportionment deadline of Aug. 2.

Denominations Stage Crucial Unity Parley

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) - Representatives of six Christian denominations gathered today for an anticipated showdown decision on whether to try to form a united church.

"It's a crucial meeting," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

After three years of preliminary exploration, the inter-denominational meeting was expected to determine if it has found sufficient basis for moving to the actual planning stage.

"DOWN TO WIRE" "We're coming down to the wire," said the Rev. Dr. Truman Douglass of the United Church of Christ, itself a recent two-way merger which included Congregationalists.

Besides the Presbyterian and United churches, others taking part are the Methodist Church, the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ).

OBSERVERS PRESENT Representatives of 16 additional denominations, including most major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox bodies in this country as well as the Roman Catholic Church, are sitting in as observers.

Second Look At VA Closure Plan Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson, wanting to take a second look at plans to close 11 veterans hospitals, has named an eight-man panel to review the controversial situation. The group expects to start its study this week.

Johnson appointed the panel Saturday night and told it to report back to him by June 1, adding he will "promptly act on its recommendations."

E. Barrett Prettyman, retired chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, was named chairman. He said Sunday that "we should be moving before the week is out."

"BE CERTAIN" "We may have erred in the past, and we may err in the future," Johnson said. "We must be certain no veteran who needs medical attention is deprived of it by unwise action."

The plan to close the hospitals, 4 soldiers homes and 17 regional VA offices was announced Jan. 13 and immediately ran into congressional criticism.

Other committee members are assistant Senate Democratic leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana; Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana; a senior Republican member of the House Committee on Veterans Affairs; former Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr.; and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former president of the American Red Cross.

Extension Service Future In Question

WASHINGTON (AP) - Criticism that the Agriculture Department's educational arm—the Federal-State Cooperative Extension Service—has engaged in racial discrimination in the South is raising questions about the future of this service.

The criticism was made in a recent report by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, based on nearly a year of study of conditions in 16 Southern states where 89 per cent of all U.S. Negro farmers live.

The commission said it found that services rendered by the extension service—through its system of county agricultural and home demonstration agents and offices—were much inferior insofar as Negro farm families were concerned than white families.

FEDERAL FUNDS One of the difficulties in making the extension service fully integrated insofar as services is concerned is the fact that the federal government provides roughly only one-third of the funds needed to finance the educational activities. States and local agencies provide the balance.

Some farm leaders say the need for the service is declining because of a broad entry of farm-related businesses—those that supply farmers with seed, fertilizer, stock feed, machinery and the like—into the farm educational field. This is true particularly in major farming areas where farm efficiency is high and the percentage of prosperous commercial farms is the highest.

There is no doubt that the work of the extension service since its founding in 1914 has contributed greatly to the amazing growth in the nation's agricultural efficiency and its ability to produce abundantly on fewer and fewer acres and with fewer and fewer farm workers.

Through much of its existence, the service led the way in getting farmers to shift to more efficient production methods, to change to new crops and to upgrade their livestock breeding and feeding patterns. For years, the county agricultural agent was the only local source of information on new developments in farm production.

But in recent years, many businesses which supply and service farmers have been setting up their own staffs of farm research as well as of farm advisers. These companies are doing this as a business investment.

Many of these business establishments issue regular periodicals containing the latest advice from experts of the state agricultural colleges. Many have field men who go out and visit farmers, telling them how they can do better jobs in meeting production problems, battle insect pests and plant and animal diseases, make more effective use of fertilizers as well as soil and water conservation measures and practices.

The Agriculture Department, looking to the future, has predicted that commercial farmers will depend more and more on services offered by agricultural-related businesses. It likewise does not eliminate the need for continued strong farm research programs by the Agriculture Department and the land-grant colleges and experi-

Mutilated Bodies Of Women Found

WATERVLIET, Mich. (AP) - The mutilated bodies of a girl and two women were found Sunday in an orchard area of this southeast Michigan community. The victims were Diane Carter, 7, Amelia Boyer, 60, and Mary Esther Jones, 37. All lived within 10 blocks of each other in Benton Harbor and neighboring Benton Township some 10 miles west of here.

PINE GROVE The bodies were discovered in a small grove of scotch pine trees at the edge of an apple orchard owned by Henry Baier.

The discovery was made by young boys who were bicycling along a dirt road. Investigators said the girl, daughter of Verbina Carter, apparently had been strangled by a stocking twisted around her neck. A pair of leotards she wore was stripped from one leg.

Mrs. Boyer's body was nude except for hose when found, investigators said. She had been slashed.

WAS DECAPITATED The Jones woman had been decapitated. What was believed to be her head was found this morning in an abandoned building in Benton Harbor, about a mile and a half from her home. The Carter girl and the Jones woman were Negroes. Mrs. Boyer was white.

Sheriff Henry Griese said the Jones woman reportedly had been absent from her home about three months but never was reported missing. Mrs. Boyer, an employee of a 24-hour automatic laundry, was reported missing March 27. Her purse and keys were found in a wastebasket of the laundry which is but a few steps from her home.

The Carter girl last was seen March 30 near a corner grocery store about three blocks from her home.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

When a car is abused and neglected as much as my wagon was, it's no wonder that it chose Christmas Eve to get even.

It was about four o'clock that afternoon. Half the people in town were doing that last, last, last minute shopping. The other half had already started celebrating the holiday, including those whose business it is to fix faulty fuel pumps on tired old cars.

That's when, without even a warning cough or whimper, the old girl gave up. One minute we were making acceptable progress down South Scurry and the next we weren't. I was already late for an appointment, so it seemed an impractical time to try standing there looking pitifully helpless. Anyway, the service station looked only a mile or two away — and I was wearing the tennies.

The saddest words of tongue or pen have always seemed to me to be "I'd be glad to help you, lady, but my helper's gone with the pickup, and I'm the only one here."

It turned out to be a long, frustrating afternoon, but to make a dull story at least short — there WAS someone who helped.

A young airman from Webb was at the station with his girlfriend and offered his assistance. I jotted his name down on an envelope, intending to write a note to Col. A. F. Tauter. So many Air Force people write letters to us saying "thank you" for something or someone they appreciate — I felt the least I could do was let the commander know that often the tables are turned. I lost the envelope.

Needless to say, I was delighted when Miss Wanda Gail Alexander came in last week to announce her engagement to Airman I.C. Jonny W. Pirdgen. That was the name! My belated "thank you" to Airman Pridgen is inexcusable but none the less sincere.

Hyperions Hear Saga

The theme "Our Home Town" was continued at the Saturday afternoon meeting of the 1930 Hyperion Club in the Big Spring Country Club.

In the emphasis on pioneer personalities, Mrs. M. R. Koger told of Col. C. C. Slaughter's being responsible for bringing Hereford cattle to this area, and of his extensive ranch that was north of Big Spring.

The saga of Mrs. Dora Roberts, who came here as a bride from Alabama, and remained to become an outstanding philanthropist, was related by Mrs. Horace Garrett. Some of the recipients of her generosity were the Rehabilitation Center, the YMCA, the Methodist churches, the Salvation Army Citadel, Southern Methodist University in Dallas and McMurry College in Abilene.

Mrs. Morris Patterson told the story of Mrs. R. L. Schwarzenbach, a member of the Scholtz family that came from Germany to settle in Stanton. She is the mother of Roland and Howard Schwarzenbach and Mrs. Florence McNew.

Mrs. Charles Weeg told of S. H. and Kate Morrison and their concern for the Latin Americans here. He was an attorney and the Kate Morrison School was named for her.

The 14 members attending accepted the revised constitution which was presented by Mrs. Morris Patterson.

Mrs. Arch Carson and Mrs. Weeg presided at the refreshment table which was accented with floral arrangements of white iris and yellow jonquills. A luncheon meeting will be held May 1 at Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and Mrs. A. Swartz will be hostesses. Robert W. Whipkey, publisher of the Big Spring Herald, will be speaker.

Hair Technique Aid To Women

STOCKHOLM—When actress Anne Vernon arrived here for the Swedish opening of her film, "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg," she explained to customs officials that she was carrying one bag full of hairdresser's equipment because she does her hair herself.

"A woman should control her own beauty," she said. "A woman does not know her own head unless she cuts, dyes and sets her own hair. She should do the same for her husband."

How You May Never Take a Laxative Again!

New Miracle Regulator Keeps Waste Soft—So Bowels Move Naturally

New York, N.Y. (Special)—After 12 years' research, scientists have discovered a wonder-working substance that corrects constipation entirely without laxatives!

Doctors say most constipation occurs when waste loses moisture in the colon—becomes dry, hard, difficult to move. To give relief, laxatives have to force action by flushing, irritating or distending the intestine.

The new miracle substance—known medically as dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate—works in a completely different way. It is not a laxative! It simply makes natural moisture in the colon moisten and soften dry, hard waste more effectively. Then normal elimination follows naturally. Thus by working only on waste, not on you, the substance corrects constipation and restores regularity as no laxative can.

This new discovery has now been made available at drugstores under the name REOULOT. It is safe—not habit-forming. No warning on the label—no prescription needed. Try REOULOT—discover for yourself that you may never need to take a laxative again!

New Contract Averts Strike In Glass Firms

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — A threatened strike against 95 per cent of the nation's glass container industry was averted Sunday when union negotiators agreed on a three-year contract.

The contract will give 8,000 skilled workers an estimated package increase of 50 cents an hour.

The skilled, or operating, employees' contract expired Wednesday but they worked on a day-to-day basis while negotiators hammered out a new contract.

26 FIRMS

Leaders of both the Glass Bottle Blowers Association and the Glass Containers Manufacturers Institute, representing 26 firms across the country, agreed the new contract for skilled employes provided the biggest increases ever negotiated in the industry.

Union President Lee Minton, said a "major breakthrough" was accomplished in incentive pay. He said the union is now allowed to challenge a manufacturer's incentive pay or job evaluation program and take it directly to arbitration.

The pact provides hourly increases of 10 cents the first year, 4 the second and 10 the third. Corrections in machine-speed classifications the first year will bring all operators and upkeep men additional increases of from 2½ cents to 5-cents.

BASE RATE

Minton said the contract will place the base rate for higher-rated machine operators at slightly over $3 an hour. The minimum hourly wage for operators was $2.50½.

The next pact also provides an added holiday, a four week vacation after 20 years, added insurance coverage, time and a half pay for an employe working on his scheduled day off and a job posting clause insuring advancement on a seniority basis.

A clause also was included allowing workers at least 40 years old with 15 years of experience to preserve their pension rights if they lose their jobs because of automation.

Employes at least 50 years old with 15 years of service are permitted to acquire pension benefits upon reaching the age of 65 if their jobs have been terminated due to automation or production curtailment.

Awry Tanker Blocks Ships

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — A Sun Oil Company tanker floundering out of control halted ship traffic on the Sabine-Neches Waterway Saturday night.

The New Jersey Sun, whose propeller became disconnected, was towed back to her dock Sunday for repairs.

The Sun Oil Company tanker was loaded with 235,000 barrels of crude oil bound for Marcus Hook, Pa.

A Sun Oil spokesman said the oil was to be unloaded before repairs began.

The accident happened near Pleasure Island bridge at Port Arthur. Five tugs stood by the tanker through the night Saturday.

Nephew Of Saud Booked In Mishap

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Fahad Nasser Al Saud, 24, a nephew of King Saud of Saudi Arabia, was booked on suspicion of drunken driving after he was involved in an auto accident, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The University of California at Santa Barbara student was driving alone Sunday when he apparently lost control of his car on a curve, officers said. It ripped out 12 feet of guard rail on a boulevard near US 101. Officers said he was released without bail.

Other Ram starters will include James Eagle, first base; Lynn White, second; Larry Lusby, shortstop; Richard Holcomb, third and ex-Big Spring star Charley West behind the plate. In the outfield will be Alex Decuir, Roger Richards and Jim Truelove.

Puzzle of Saturday, April 3, Solved

Viet Red MIGs Win Air Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials were embarrassed today because the Air Force came off second best in the first air combat with Communist fighters since the Korean war.

To deepen the embarrassment, the Communist MIGs shot down two of this country's modern fighter-bombers over North Viet Nam with models dating back to the Korean War period.

Gen. J. P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, was reported irked over the incident. As one source put it: "When they get ours and we don't get theirs, you know how he feels."

A report reaching here said the pilot of an F100 fighter, escorting the F105 fighter-bombers on a strike against a key rail and highway bridge, thought he winged a MIG with a 20mm cannon shot.

NO PROOF

However, confirmation of such a hit was lacking. The six attacking MIGs disappeared back into a haze from which they jumped the fighter bombers.

The MIGs bore North Vietnamese markings and presumably were part of 30 such aircraft based at fields near Hanoi.

McConnell, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and others were in the Pentagon on Sunday reading the cable reports on the incident.

No official would speak out publicly, but their discomfiture was evident from private remarks.

PLAYED DOWN

The Defense Department issued an unusual Sunday statement which played down the loss of the two F105s and other craft, and emphasized results of U.S. and South Vietnamese air strikes against three important bridges in North Viet Nam.

The Pentagon said the strikes "inflicted serious damage" by ruining the bridges, which it called "vital links in the North Vietnamese transportation system supporting Communist guerrilla operations in South Viet Nam and Laos."

The vital importance of these bridges to the North Vietnamese was indicated by the heavy aircraft defenses and by the fact that MIG interceptor aircraft were employed for the first time," it added.

The Pentagon statement, unlike official information given out in Saigon, did not mention that the Thanh Hoa bridge had to be hit a second time Sunday because it had been only slightly damaged in an attack the day before.

There had been unconfirmed reports that U.S. bombing accuracy in the attacks into North Viet Nam has been something less than first-rate.

The Thanh Hoa bridge where the F105s were hit is about 76 miles south of Hanoi. The Dong Phuong Thuong bridge is about 16 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa. The third bridge, near Dong Hol, is about 50 miles north of the boundary separating North and South Viet Nam.

Sister Of Late Nehru Blasts His Successor

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is getting stinging criticism from the sister of late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. She appears to be after his job.

Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, known to millions as Madam Pandit, has delivered in Parliament one of the most withering blasts against Shastri since he succeeded Nehru last June.

Sounding more like an opposition critic than a leading figure in Shastri's own Congress party, she assailed him as a "prisoner of indecision" lacking any sense of urgency, compromising on principles and failing to exert strong leadership.

"INEPT, CORRUPT"

For half an hour Mrs. Pandit lambasted Indian officialdom as inept, corrupt and drift, and laid the blame squarely at Shastri's feet. There were joyful cheers from the opposition and even flutters of applause from Congress benches.

"What is the leadership afraid of?" she asked. "What is needed is a spark which our leadership has not given. We are waiting for someone to light that spark."

Shastri stared at her icily from a front bench as she compared his regime with her brother's.

"We had a very fine position in the world yesterday. If we want it tomorrow, we had better look to it today."

RISKY COURSE

That evening Shastri invited Mrs. Pandit to dine with him privately at his residence in an effort to smooth things. Authoritative sources said the talks changed nothing and Mrs. Pandit is expected to stay on the risky political course she hopes someday will make her prime minister of India.

Mrs. Pandit, 64, was not merely out to embarrass Shastri before Parliament and the nation. She was indirectly holding herself up as "someone to light that spark."

Shastri, 60, has had to beat back two no-confidence motions in Parliament and has been under fire from the Communist led opposition. Influential Indian newspapers accuse him of weak leadership and ineffectual handling of India's recent food and language crises.

Disunity has grown in his Congress party, a faction-ridden collection of leftists, rightists and middle-roads. Several party leaders besides Mrs. Pandit have been maneuvering to oust him.

Steel Labor Talks Resume

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers and the basic steel industry resume contract talks today in the shadow of a May 1 strike deadline.

One top negotiator, USW Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel, says he believes an agreement can be reached before that date.

Abel said in an interview in Washington Saturday, "If they (the industry) are as interested as they claim to be on reaching an agreement we can do it. All in all I think we are progressing."

He said that any talk now of extending the strike deadline is premature.

Negroes Ready Vast March On Courthouse

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Negroes planned to march by the hundreds today to the Dallas County Courthouse to try to become registered voters so their voices can be heard in future elections.

This is the first registration day since a 50-mile trek from here to Montgomery was completed March 25 as a protest of alleged voter discrimination.

The president of the County Voters League, F.D. Reese, told about 350 Negroes at a rally Sunday night: "We must keep on marching until every qualified Negro is registered so that when the next election comes, we will be ready."

Hosea Williams, an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said in Washington that Selma Negroes "are going to register like flies" if the new voter law is passed by Congress.

There were these other racial developments:

1. At Morganton, N.C., the imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., told about 2,000 people—including some robed klansmen—that "soon we are going to have a revolution in this country." He told a Klan rally that the Civil Rights Act was supposed to have halted street demonstrators and moved their grievances to the courts, "but it has not been so."

2. King's wife, Coretta, said at a Detroit dinner that college students across the country will be asked by King to aid voter-registration drives in 120 highly segregated Southern counties.

3. About 500 civil rights workers, protesting alleged racial imbalance in the Boston schools, demonstrated in front of a Boston auditorium where the convention of the National School Boards Association is being held.

4. The leader of the Black Muslims, Elijah Muhammad, invited King to stop seeking the right to vote and join in qualifying Negroes to govern themselves. He said in a radio talk that the right to vote has brought nothing to Negroes in the North.

North Viet Nam MIGs Of Korean War Vintage

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Despite North Viet Nam's successes in downing American planes, officials in Saigon do not believe the Russians or Chinese Communists have entered the war in appreciable numbers or with important new equipment.

The most spectacular Communist success came Sunday when a dozen North Vietnamese MIG jet fighters downed two speedy U.S. Air Force F105 jet bombers.

On nearly all of the 17 U.S. or South Vietnamese raids since Feb. 7 at least one plane has been downed. In at least one raid, as many as six planes were downed.

OWN FAULT

U.S. officials feel the Communist successes have not been due so much to modern Communist equipment as they have to the tactics the American and South Vietnamese planes have had to use.

The raids have been limited to spot tactical bombing of military objectives. There have been no general raids on population centers or industrial complexes.

The weather in North Viet Nam is usually bad now, with fairly low cloud cover over objectives most of the time. Attacking planes must come in low and stay low in the target area.

Intelligence men believe the North Vietnamese have only the MIG15s and 17s of Korean War vintage. These are jets equipped only with cannon and capable of flying only a little faster than the speed of sound.

The Red Chinese are known to have some of the newer MIG19s and 21s including some based on Hainan Island, only 80 miles from the site of two of the American raids.

These new MIGs, which would be a match for the American fighters, have not appeared in combat so far.

The older MIGs were flown successfully Sunday by making three hit-and-run strikes on circling American formations. They ran for the protective cover of dense haze as soon as it looked as though the Americans were about to take them on.

"They'll probably continue knocking some of us down," a U.S. officer said. "That's the price we have to pay because of the tactics of this war. But don't get the idea we are not still masters of the skies."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Dear Abby

'Cat' With Nine Wives

DEAR ABBY: I have had nothing but advice since I announced my intentions to marry this summer, so I might as well get your opinion. I know what you will say when you learn the number of times my fiancé has been married, but you are wrong. None of the failures was his fault. He has been married eight times. He told me about each marriage and I know for a fact that he has had a run of very bad luck. He is 45 and has nine children (with five of his wives) and I am 30 and have never been married. My friends and family have been trying to talk me out of marrying him, but I feel in my heart that we can make this marriage last. I have known him one year. He has a lot of character, otherwise he never would have told me how many wives he has had. He's a traveling man, and I probably would have never found out. Does our marriage have a chance? NUMBER NINE

DEAR NUMBER NINE: Every marriage has a chance, but I am inclined to vote with your friends and family. Don't get carried away by his "character." It's not easy for a man to hide eight wives and nine children. Good luck to you and the "cat" with nine wives.

DEAR ABBY: A middle-aged woman I work with keeps asking, "When are you going to find me a man?" So far I've been able to laugh it off, but I know she's serious. I am married and I do know some eligible, unattached males, but I'm not sure how they would like her. She is entertaining, not bad-looking (she does have a good figure for a woman her age), but she is aggressive and rather loud. I'm afraid if I fixed her up with any of my friends it might put a strain on our friendship. I like this woman, personally. How can this problem be tactfully handled? CO-WORKER

DEAR CO-WORKER: A good rule for a matchmaker is: "Never arrange a date unless you feel that you are doing both parties a favor."

DEAR ABBY: I am 76 years old and live alone in a mobile home. When my husband was living, I had many friends. In fact, one year I received 81 Christmas cards. This mobile home is on a busy turnpike and it is difficult for my friends who drive to visit me, so consequently I have very few guests and I get terribly hungry for people to talk to.

It is true I am hard of hearing, but I do wear a hearing aid. Now I am told by my relatives that I talk too much. Yes, I admit I am deaf, but I see no reason why I should become mute, too, so I talk to my cat. Tell me, Abby, do you think it is possible for a person who loves people and enjoys conversation to talk too much?

DEAR LONELY: Yes—but you can overcome it. The next time you are with someone, make an effort to let that person talk without interrupting him.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Plane Flips, Catches Fire

SANTA ROSA, N.M. (AP)—Two Texans were in good condition today, suffering from burns received when their small plane flipped and caught fire during a landing at the Santa Rosa airport.

Hospitalized at Fort Sumner were Billy T. Stewart, 31, of Mesquite, Tex., the pilot, and Ira L. Betts, 27, of Iola, Tex. Hospital officials said they received burns on the upper part of the body.

State police said the men were flying from Albuquerque, N.M., to Dallas, Tex., Sunday when they attempted to land to investigate trouble with low oil pressure.

School Bond Vote Slated At Childress

CHILDRESS, Tex. (AP)—A school bond election, to finance a new high school and elementary school, has been called here for April 24. The $1,190,000 bond issue would also provide for additions to the existing junior high school. Taxes would be raised 50 per cent.
