SPELLED 'KALEIDOSCOPE' AND 'KINETIC'

Don Hickson Wins Regional Bee Title

LUBBOCK — Don Hickson, Howard County's champion, spelled his way to victory shortly after 6 p.m. Saturday in the 23-county regional spelling bee, and won a trip to Washington, D.C., to compete in the National Spelling Bee.

"He just grinned," his father, R. E. Hickson, said of his son's reaction when announced the winner of the 23rd round of spelling. It was the second try for Don in the regional contest at Lubbock, as he was Howard County's 1964 representative.

"Real good" were the words Don used to describe his feelings after the victory.

Don and Danny Norris, Lorenzo Junior High contestant, were the final entrants standing and when the Crosby County contestant stumbled on "kaleidoscope," Don correctly spelled the word and then spelled "kinetic" to win the regional title.

The victory came after 4 1/2 hours of spelling competition, which began at 1:30 p.m. in Lubbock's O. L. Slaton Junior High School.

Nineteen other contestants had gone down to defeat before the final rounds came between the Howard and Crosby county champions.

It was the longest contest in the regional bee's history.

PRIZES

Mrs. Opal Dixon, of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, presented Don with a 24-volume set of the Encyclopedia Britannica, the rotating regional championship plaque, and a pen and pencil set. In addition, he will receive a Britannica World Atlas.

His school, Runnels Junior High, will receive a free Britannica film each month for the coming school year. He is an eighth grader at Runnels.

BIGGEST PRIZE

But the biggest prize for the youth will be the trip in June to Washington to compete in the national contest, with all expenses paid. The national title and a series of valuable prizes, including a college scholarship, will be at stake in the national contest.

Don's victory came after competition which saw 8,100 youngsters compete in the grade, school and county-level contests over the 23-county area of West Texas, before the county champions went to Lubbock

Saturday for the regional contest.

GOOD CHANCE

"I felt like I had a good chance of winning and I was hoping to win," Don said of his feelings during the contest Saturday. Last year, he lost out in the regional event when he stumbled on the word, "bureaucrat."

"He was calm, cool and collected throughout it all," was the way the elder Hickson described his son's efforts Saturday.

This year he again gained the opportunity to represent Howard County when he spelled down 14 other school champions at The Herald's Third Annual Howard County Spelling Bee April 10.

"I'm very proud of him,"

Hickson said Saturday night. "He's worked awfully hard and he earned it. He sacrificed a lot of time he could have used doing other things and he really applied himself."

At the bee Saturday were Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hickson, 623 State, their daughter, Cynthia; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Holley, his grandparents, and the alternate champion from Howard County, Scott McLaughlin, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin. Unable to attend the bee was Don's teacher at Runnels Junior High and coach, Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith.

231 TIMES

The bee went through the 21 contestants 231 times for the winning words. The contestants spelled almost continuously, taking about 10 minutes each hour for a break.

The other winners in the contest, in addition to the second place spot won by Don Norris of Lorenzo, were third place, David Thiries, Levelland, Fockley County; fourth place, Anita Morris, Snyder, Scurry County; fifth, Lisa Lawrence, Odessa, Ector County; and sixth, Robert Baumgardner, Brownfield, Terry County.

Competing in the regional bee at Lubbock were nine eighth graders, 10 seventh graders and two sixth graders. A panel of five judges was composed of representatives of the 21 schools competing.

Fun With The Flood

Flood Threat Eased As Levee Breaks

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP) — The rampaging Mississippi River broke through a levee five miles north of Quincy, Ill. Saturday, flooding thousands of acres of farmland and easing the flood threat at the downstream cities of Quincy and Hannibal.

The flood crest had been expected to hit those cities Sunday, but the Weather Bureau said enough water was drained off in the levee break to delay the crest until Tuesday in the Quincy-Hannibal area. Fifteen city blocks already are flooded in Hannibal.

When the crest hits, it is expected to be between 24.4 and 24.7 feet at Quincy and between 24.1 and 24.5 at Hannibal — a foot lower than was originally expected. Flood stage is 16 feet.

Army engineers said this probably will mean no more major flooding.

Floodwaters ran 15 feet deep across 7,200 acres of rich farmland after Saturday's levee break, increasing the amount of land under water in Adams County, Ill. to 25,000 acres.

More than 20,000 acres are covered in Henderson County, 70 miles north.

The river dropped several inches at Quincy and Hannibal after the break.

Most of the serious flood damage occurred up river in Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Northern Illinois. Flood waters claimed 12 lives and caused at least $150 million in damage.

Army engineers estimated the record flood damage between Dubuque, Iowa, and Hannibal, at $10 million.

The situation was not desperate at Quincy and Hannibal. Land around Quincy was flooded, but the city is on a bluff. The water in the business district of Hannibal, where Mark Twain grew up, did not threaten the city's residential district.

Snipers fired on the Americans, even though the rebel radio constantly urged the insurgents to refrain from shooting at American troops.

From their stronghold, the rebels sent out word they were observing the cease-fire and were ready to talk peace. They told several foreign newsmen who had penetrated the rebel sector they would follow any recommendation of exiled former President Juan D. Bosch, whom they are trying to restore to power.

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, Bosch called on the rebels not to fire on U.S. soldiers, but said angrily there was "absolutely no justification" for the U.S. troop landings.

'OCCUPIED'

"I have lost my homeland," Bosch told a San Juan television audience. "My country is occupied."

Some rebels fired at U.S. helicopters flying over their sector in an apparent spotting operation.

The foreign newsmen found thousands of well-armed young men entrenched in the downtown area. Among them were young officers who began the revolt a week ago to return Bosch to power.

"We are friends of the North Americans," one of the soldiers said. "We do not want to fight your Marines. But we have to defend ourselves."

They also denied the contention of U.S. officials that Communists had been active among the rebels.

4,000 TROOPS

In all, about 4,000 U.S. troops moved into this beleaguered capital. U.S. Marine tanks and heavy troop carriers rumbled about the western part of the city, now fully under Marine control.

Marines established barricades on the borders of the international zone created with the approval of the Organization of American States to safeguard Americans and other foreign nationals. The zone is three miles long and stretches 15 blocks inland from the waterfront to the U.S. Embassy.

Firing Shakes Truce In Santo Domingo

Fifth American Dies In Fighting

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A sniper's bullet killed a third U.S. Marine Saturday in continued shooting in Santo Domingo despite a cease-fire signed by rebel leaders. An American paratrooper was reported killed elsewhere in the capital.

The unofficial report of the paratrooper's death would raise the American toll in the Santo Domingo fighting since Friday to five dead and 38 wounded.

MORE FIGHTING

Sporadic firing picked up late in the day, even though the rebel military chief, Col. Francisco Caamano Demo, added his name to a truce signed Friday by the new military junta and two other rebels.

The Marine died on the U.S. Embassy grounds, just west of the rebels' concentration in downtown Santo Domingo.

The unofficial report said the paratrooper was killed as a unit of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division advanced into the rebel-held downtown sector from the Duarte Bridge on the western side of the city.

The column penetrated about a mile into the city when the rebels opened with heavy fire, the reports said. The paratroopers later withdrew to the bridge, which is controlled by troops loyal to Brig. Gen. Elias Wesson, U.S. military chief of the junta.

SET MONDAY INSTEAD

Russians Fail To Get Security Council Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union charging aggression and armed interference, tried but failed Saturday to get an urgent Saturday meeting of the U.N. Security Council on U.S. military landings in the Dominican Republic.

The meeting was called for Monday morning, with the explanation that some of the 11 ambassadors on the council were away for the weekend.

Soviet chief delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, himself on a May Day weekend in Glen Cove on Long Island, sent a letter to the U.N. headquarters for the council president, Malaysian chief delegate Radhakrishna Ramani.

URGENT

He asked Ramani to convene an urgent meeting of the council "to consider the question of armed interference by the United States in the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic."

The United States was understood to be following its traditional line of not opposing any request for council debate, even though it felt the present case was already being handled competently by the Organization of American States.

Later the Soviet delegation sent the council a previously published Moscow statement from the Soviet News agency Tass that said the landing of U.S. Marines in the Dominican Republic was "an act of direct aggression against the people of this small country."

It said the United States was trying to "crush national liberation movements" with increasing frequency lately by direct intervention in the internal affairs of other countries, particularly in Latin America.

AGAINST

Now, Tass said, the United States has "passed to direct use of its armed forces against the Dominican Republic striving to assert their national dignity and independence."

The statement said the United States was using "the hackneyed pretext of defending the safety of U.S. citizens" and was trying to use as a flimsy the Organization of American States.

and Panama were appointed to fly immediately to the Caribbean nation.

A United States plane was to transport the group.

The announcement by an OAS spokesman came after day-long meetings of the organization.

The peace-seeking commission will offer "its good offices" to all armed groups, political parties and diplomatic representatives in Santo Domingo.

The task of the special OAS five-nation committee will be concentrated on three main points: —A cease-fire.

—Orderly evacuation of all persons who have sought refuge in all the embassies there, as well as every foreign national who might want to leave the Dominican Republic.

—Carry out an investigation on all aspects of the existing situation in the Dominican Republic.

FULL COOPERATION

The resolution setting up the mission asked all the American governments to give "full cooperation" to it, but does not mention the organization of any inter-American force which might be formed.

The formation of a police force has been advocated by some of the Latin-American countries during executive meetings of the OAS.

Bunker defended the troop movement as essential to the protection of American lives and offered a motion to authorize naming the five-member commission to be sent promptly to Santo Domingo.

According to W. Tapley Bennett, U.S. ambassador in Santo Domingo, "the current military junta and rebels seeking the return of deposed President Juan Bosch have agreed to OAS arbitration of the dispute which has brought death to possibly 1,000 and a general breakdown in law and order."

Five-Nation Mission Seeks Peace Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States named a five-nation mission to fly to Santo Domingo Saturday night to seek a peace agreement in the Dominican Republic, and the U.S. announced it had sent more troops into the strife-torn Caribbean country.

Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to the OAS, made the announcement that additional U.S. troops were being sent. But he did not specify how many.

Representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Guatemala

Copter Crash Kills Seven

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — A U.S. Navy Sikorsky helicopter crashed about seven miles from Reykjavik Air Base Saturday killing all five Americans aboard.

The helicopter was coming in to Keflavik after an inspection trip to a U.S. base at Fjord Hvalfjordur.

Killed were the commander of the naval station at Keflavik, Capt. Robert R. Sparks; Lt. Col. Arthur House, commander of the U.S. Marine detachment at Keflavik; and Hvalfjordur civilian Jack Brink, who worked in the Naval Station Special Services; and the pilot of the helicopter, Lt. Col. # City Putting In Grass Seeding of grass was completed Friday in the City Park area around the Old Settler's Pavilion. Parks Superintendent Johnnie Johansen said a sprinkler system was installed in the area several weeks ago. A sprinkler system has been installed in the new softball park under construction at FM 700 and Eleventh Place and grass seeding will probably begin there Monday, Johansen said. The area lacks leveling and the filling in of some water line trenches, he said, with crews also to disc and cultivate the ground as the seeding begins. A sprinkler system and grass will also be placed at the practice field area being constructed east of the softball park. The practice area will be used both for softball and flag football play. "We hope to have the grass up by the time the softball park is used first in mid-July," Johansen said. Women's softball teams will use the field starting then, he said. Work is continuing on the installation of plastic water pipe for the City Cemetery sprinkler system, according to Johansen. He said grass seeding will begin there as soon as the water installation is complete.

JOHNSON'S SHEET METAL & AIR CONDITIONING 1306 E. 3RD AM 2-2980

J. H. Johnson Ends Long T&P Career

By HARDY PRICE When Texas & Pacific Railway Co. passenger train No. 26 rolled into Big Spring at 6:25 a.m. Saturday, it ended the 51 year and eight months career of engineer J. H. Johnson.

"I came to Big Spring the first week of September 1913 and went to work for T&P Sept. 9 that same year," recalled Johnson. His first job was in the roundhouse, wiping engines and helping turn the roundhouse turntable.

"Then I began helping the electrician, taking care of the lights and cleaning them. After a while I started helping them take the engines in and out of the roundhouse," he said. "I made my first run as a fireman Oct. 15, 1915 and it was on an old Cook engine as we called them. It was a coal burner and John Kennedy was the engineer," Johnson said. Johnson went on the "extra board" for about a year. In this capacity, he acted as a relief fireman. He fired coal until 1924, when T&P switched to oil.

"From here to Toyah, we would burn between 14 and 20 tons of coal," he said. "There was no place to eat along the way so we would carry our lunch with us."

Johnson said he got a regular job with T&P in 1925 and fired on freight, local and passenger trains until December, 1927 when he was promoted to engineer. He has been an engineer since that time. "That's been 38 years and for the last 13 years I have been on the passenger run for Big Spring to Toyah," he said.

J. H. JOHNSON

A native of Medina County, Johnson recalls when he first came to Big Spring, it was nothing but a cowtown with some railroad shops.

He has lived at 801 E. 16th since 1946 and recalls the time he hunted quail near the site of his present home. "On Sundays we would get a sack lunch and hike out to scenic Mountain and carve our names in the rocks with chisels," he said.

A spry 69, Johnson recalls many things that have happened in the past of Big Spring and has had a ring-side seat watching West Texas grow. "First time I went through Odessa, it was nothing but a ghost town with about 150 population. It had a post office, hardware store, small bank and a little hotel and that was it," he recalled.

"The first time I came to Big Spring, we stopped in Coahoma on the train and broke up a fight between the north and south sides of town. They were shooting across the tracks, but we never did find out why," Johnson remembers.

Now that he is retired, Johnson plans to spend his time napping and fishing. "I'm ready to retire and take it easy. I have a camper on my pick-up and plan to spend the summers fishing and the falls hunting," he stated.

Other guests included Larry Speck and John Cooley. The ABC Club is winding up its campaign to sell advertising space in the program for the upcoming Big Spring rodeo. # Ortega Released From Penitentiary

It took Israel Ortega, 25, Howard County convict, just a year and a few days to serve the prison equivalent of 19 months and qualify himself for parole from the state penitentiary. A dispatch from Austin relates that Ortega was paroled last week. He had been sentenced April 17, 1964, to a three year term for burglary. The report from Austin said Ortega has been credited with one year and seven months of his three year term on the date he was paroled.

Ortega was convicted of the burglary of Jeannie's Tavern in the 118th District Court here. The burglary occurred in March 1964. Ortega, the records show, has had a previous burglary conviction.

Flynt will succeed W. Merritt Romans, who recently announced his resignation. The new principal brings 14 years of teaching experience with him to his new post. The last four years have been spent in the Forsan system, two as elementary principal and two as principal of the junior high at Elbow. He began his teaching career at Tuscola, where he was high school principal, then came to Big Spring, taught in Sterling City and then joined the Forsan district.

Darrell Flynt is a graduate of Big Spring High School, holds a BA from Abilene Christian College, master of education from Hardin-Simmons University, and will do additional graduate work this summer at the University of Texas. He is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association, National Association of Secondary School Principals, National Council of Teachers of English, Parent-Teachers Association, Kappa Delta Phi (honor society in education) and Forsan Service Club. He also is an active worker in the Church of Christ. Flynt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Flynt, 2104 Runnels, Big Spring. He saw service for 4 1/2 years in the Air Force, serving with the 15th Air Force and 14th Fighter Group in the European theatre. He and his wife, Dorothy, have four children: Jimmy, 20, a student in ACC, Randy, 14, and Jacque Sue, 12. Jimmy and Joy are graduates of Forsan High.

Chortle With Buchwald's Wit

AND THEN I TOLD THE PRESIDENT, by Art Buchwald; G. P. Putnam's Sons, $4.95.

If you've chortled over the columns of Art Buchwald in The Herald, you have an evening or so of pure delight in store when you delve into the private papers of this poker-faced pundit.

Here is another collection of some of the best of Bro. Buchwald as he prowls the Washington scene with an air of innocence and a satirist's instinct for the jugular vein.

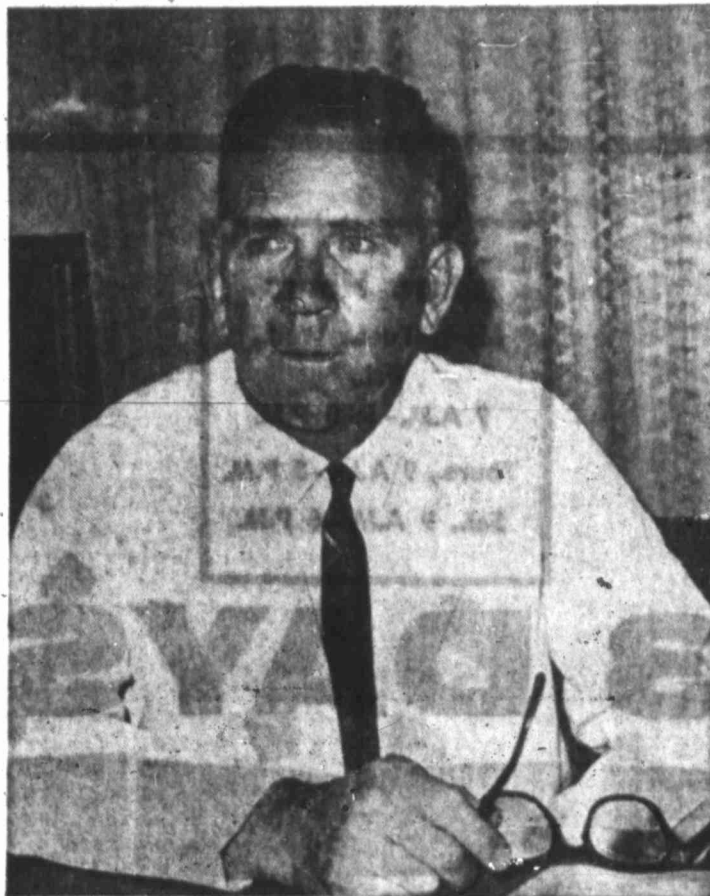

The Buchwald technique is to state the truth as though it were fiction or fantasy, always with a wry twist or a bit of cynicism that riles the gentle reader. For instance, a voter insists on voting despite the reading from the CBS computer until Buchwald upbraids him: "Remember, CBS has a lot more at stake in this election than you have." To which the chastened voter replied: "I guess you're right. They are experts and I'm just one voter."

By way of introduction, he starts with his young friend, Lyndon, confessing his secret ambition... to become president. He lays out all his dreams of a war on poverty, a new canal to replace the one in Panama, turn the lights off in the White House, medicare, federal aid to education, etc.

"I heard years later," Buchwald notes, that my boyhood friend, whose name was Lyndon Schwartz, gave up his dream of becoming president and went into the pants business with his father."

The book has sections on politics, which is one of his richest fields, as anyone knows, on Washington logic, fathers for moral America, status symbols, show biz, his private war on poverty, and a host of others. Those who like their humor with an abundance of anti-positivity will get a bang out of Art Buchwald's latest. —JP

CITY'S NEWEST DOCTOR BEGINS WORK
Dr. Quentin Florence joins Cowper Hospital staff

Dr. Florence Takes Post At Cowper

Big Spring's newest doctor is an enthusiastic Civil War buff. Probably the fact that he grew up in the vicinity of Gettysburg, Pa., and attended Gettysburg College may have whetted his taste for the study of the events of 1861-65.

He is Dr. Quentin James Florence, who has joined the staff of the Cowper Hospital and Clinic. Dr. Florence comes here from Roswell, N.M., where he has engaged in the practice of medicine for several years. His family will move to Big Spring as soon as school has ended. Mrs. Florence and four of their six children are still in Roswell. Two of the Florence youngsters are grown and married.

Dr. Florence was born in Waynesboro, Pa., in the general Gettysburg area. He has long been familiar with the historic battlefield and has made a study of it a hobby. His attendance at the Gettysburg College gave him additional opportunity to familiarize himself with the terrain and the episodes which marked that famous struggle.

After graduating from Gettysburg, Dr. Florence attended the University of Pennsylvania where he received his medical degree in 1942.

He served as a doctor with the U. S. Navy during World War

II. His service included two years overseas as the medical officer on an LST. He took part in the Normandy invasion. After the war, he stayed in the Navy and did not leave the service until 1955. For a time, he was chief medical officer for the Sixth Fleet.

Dr. Florence and his family are members of the Episcopal church.

He is a member of the American Board of Surgeons and surgery in his specialty. He began his work here on the day of his arrival with an operation.

He is making his home in the Ponderosa Apartments, pending.

City Returns To 'Fill' Method Of Disposal

By PRESTON MAYNARD
A sanitary land fill operation is being planned by the City of Big Spring in canyon-land north of the city, to soon replace the burning dump which the city has used for many years east of P.M. 700.

Big Spring will join Midland, Lubbock and Abilene as West Texas cities using the land fill type of garbage disposal. Several years ago, the city launched a similar plan, but abandoned it later.

Use of a canyon area has been promised the city without charge. Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said, and the city commission Tuesday approved advertising for bids for a tractor-loader unit to be used in the operation.

REASONS
Scarcity of land and nuisance problems involved in the burning dump operation are reasons for the change, Lillard said. If land is selected for a burning dump that is far enough away from residential areas to prevent the nuisance problem of unsightliness, smoke and odors, Lillard said the cost of hauling to such areas then becomes a considerable factor.

Dog Training Class Starts

A new class in obedience training for dog owners has been announced by the Big Spring Kennel Club, for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the College Park Shopping Center parking area. At the same time graduation exercises will be held for the class just completing the course.

"There is no need to bring your dogs to enroll in the new class," Bruce Wright, spokesman, said. "All you have to do is to see what takes place in the classes, and register. The training sessions cover about an hour each week for 10 weeks."

"The public is also invited to see what can be done in obedience training. They can see what the dogs can do and how they can act when properly trained," Wright said. "People are trained in teaching obedience to their animals. Most errors, in teaching obedience, are made by people instead of the dogs."

Other information may be received by calling Mrs. Dorothy Linn, new training director, AM 3-4490, or Bruce Wright, AM 4-8276.

Now Instructing Students

R. E. McClure, left, who received his instructor's license Tuesday, has joined Howard Loyd at Howard County Airport as instructor.

Work Begins On Hangar For New Flying School

By M. A. WEBB
Work has started on the new office building-hangar for use in training Webb AFB pilots in the new T-41A light propeller driven aircraft at Howard County Airport. Ray Dunlap, contractor, has set forms for the foundations and is having other preliminary work done.

The building will be used by Flying Service in its contract with the U. S. Air Force for training student pilots before they are given jet aircraft training in flying.

R. E. McClure, who started his flying just eight months ago when he joined the Howard County Flying Club, has now completed training and has his instructor's license. One of the odd features about his progress is that he received three licenses on the 27th day of each month. His private license came on Dec. 27, 1964; his commercial on March 27, 1965, and his instructor's license April 27. All this required over 300 hours of flying time.

McClure will assist Howard Loyd, Howard County Airport manager, in his instruction of student pilots, to give Loyd more time for his charter and ambulance service.

The 35-year-old McClure has already started his instructional work at the airport.

Transient flying has picked up around the airport during the past week, Loyd said. The

"It's cheaper to find places closer to the city so the hauling distance is less," he said. "And there is no nuisance problem with a land fill."

"With a burning dump, we have to wait for the wind to be blowing just right before setting the fire. Then the wind can still change and cause problems."

The land fill is operated on a theory of compacting for a series of cells, Lillard explained. As each truck carrying garbage comes to the area and ejects its load, the tractor unit compacts the garbage and works it into a thin layer, placed on an uphill slope. The layers as compacted are about two feet thick, with the additional garbage dumped behind the area where the tractor works, he said.

LAYERS
A minimum of six inches of dirt is placed between each layer, and after the final layer is placed at each area, about two to three feet of topsoil is placed over the compacted series, he pointed out.

To prevent problems arising from high winds, the tractor would be in use throughout the day as trucks dump and a portable net wire fence will be placed around the area each day. Each afternoon, the tractor will prepare a deeper area in which trucks hauling during the night will dump, according to present plans.

The land fill stops any insect problems and discourages varmints.

Many cities are now changing to the land fill method due to the costs of hauling further distances to a burning dump, Lillard said.

HAULING COSTS
"They're being forced to. The hauling over distances runs operational costs up tremendously. Of course, it costs money to operate a land fill, but the nuisance problem is also resolved," he said.

The cost of operating the land fill is primarily that of the purchase and operation of the tractor unit Lillard said. The unit to be considered is budgeted by the city at about $29,000.

The area involved in a land fill will be raised to a level adequate for a useful piece of property. Lillard said he would not necessarily advocate building on such land, but that under property controlled circumof a prominent residential district and near Baylor Stadium.

NOT OBJECTIONAL
"It's not objectionable even during the construction period. He said the primary inconvenience would involve trucks hauling to and from the area."

"In West Texas, we have more of a problem because of high winds," he pointed out. "We will have to keep trash from blowing." By keeping the tractor available at the site and by use of the portable fence, he said the wind problem could be resolved.

Any disadvantages other than the trucks would result only if a land fill was not properly operated with the correct compaction and coverage.

Operation of the fill will be after the city purchases the tractor unit, Lillard said, or probably in about 90 to 120 days.

Pre-School Session Set

COAHOMA (SC)—First graders in the Coahoma and Midway elementary schools for the 1965-66 school year will be given their first taste of schoolroom activities May 6. Children who will be six years of age by Sept. 1 are being asked to go with their mothers to the school they will attend.

They will report at 10:30 a.m. and will have a briefing period from 10:30 to 11 a.m. on what will be expected of them when school starts, along with preparations needed before that time. From 11 to 11:30 a.m. they will have lunch in the cafeterias, at 35 cents for children. From 11:30 to 1 p.m., they will be in the classrooms with first grade teachers, where they will go through three phases of classroom work. They will go home at 1 p.m.

Roswell To Lose Missile Sites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force said Saturday it plans to dispose of the Atlas F strategic missile complex near Roswell, N. M.

Twelve missile sites are in the complex. These sites, acquired in 1960 and 1961, are no longer needed because the missile is obsolete, Air Force Secy. Eugene Zuckert said.

DWI Case On Docket

E. P. Smith, who was tried in County Criminal Court some weeks ago, is slated to go before the court again Wednesday. He is charged with DWI. In his first trial, Smith acted as his own attorney and the case terminated in a hung jury.

Judge Lee Porter has reset the matter for Wednesday and has called in a panel of 60 jurors to serve in the court.

Also set for this week—Thursday and Friday—are three complaints against George T. Thomas, local attorney. Thomas is accused in two complaints with aggravated assault and in a third with carrying arms.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, was out of town Friday and could not be contacted to find out if any changes had been made in plans to try the cases.

Other cases are on the docket for trial May 10, 11 and 12. These cases include charges against Wayne Basden, another local attorney, charging aggravated assault in two instances. His cases have been set down for 1:30 p.m. May 10. Cases on May 11 are all DWI charges. The defendants are Clifton B. Hollis and Charlie O'Daniel.

Challenge Issued To Y Members

"Ask not what your community can do for you, but what you can do for your community," said E. S. Morgan, speaker at the Lakeview YMCA's annual membership banquet Saturday night.

Paraphrasing the inaugural address of the late President Kennedy, Morgan, principal of Lakeview Elementary and Junior High School, told the group the Y was a reality with the responsibility of the community to do something about it.

The basic theme of his talk was the unwilling mind in an open society. Morgan told the gathering that the unwilling mind, in many instances, was unwilling to come to terms with reality.

Morgan explained the programs of the Y and how it operated and told the group if they wanted to see it grow, more names would be needed on the membership rolls.

Approximately 50 persons attended the banquet and barbecue, catered by Charles Merrick. Rev. Melvin Montgomery gave the invocation and Sam Dawson, executive secretary of the Y, served as master of ceremonies. He presented Merrick, president of the Lakeview Y board of directors, with a gift in appreciation of the work he has done the past year.

James Woodruff presented co-captains Harry Crosby and Robert Evans with the trophy, symbolic of the Gray-Y city basketball championship. The Lakeview team went through the season undefeated.

THE WEEK

Barnett, 45, had pulled off the road just north of town.

Downtown Lions will be knocking on your door Monday or Tuesday with their packages of eight light bulbs. At least one team is making use of Scout Troop No. 7, which wants to do a good turn by helping. All net proceeds go to charity, youth or blind-sight conservation work.

Bank call figures set new records in two categories—deposits and total resources. The deposit total was $41,319,000, and while it included some unexpended public bond money, indicated that the economy still has strength. Total resources of $45,884,000 were up by $1,883,000 and that's a pretty healthy gain. Now if it were to rain, things would really look good.

The term "old timer" is used loosely frequently, but this, as well as pioneer, could be applied to Mrs. Mae Sikes, 80, who died last week. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Tucker, had come here soon after the railroad pushed into Big Spring, and Mrs. Sikes was born here in 1885. Another old timer who slipped away was John Dennis Wright, who came in 1905 and who developed the Wright and Airport Additions.

Shell No. 1 Reid, northeast of Big Spring was being completed as a Strawn gas-distillate discovery from 9,113-78, having stabilized on 640,000 cubic feet of gas daily along with 32 barrels of 50.7-gravity distillate. Six miles southeast of Stanton Sandman Penroc, Rollson No. 1 Fowler made 356 barrels of 43.3-gravity oil from 9,694-706 level. Wolfcamp Hankamer No. 1 Cole became the third Vincent South (Strawn) producer, making 167 barrels of 45-gravity oil.

Splendid public response showed the Cancer Crusade 20 per cent past its goal. With some small amount still to trickle in, latest reports showed that the total was past 50,000. This is a fine job and could contribute dividends in cancer control.

Howard County Junior College got a 3,297 bid on its $500,000 improvement issue. The figure was fair, but it fell slightly short of some hopes considering the resources back of the bonds.

The Big Spring school board has set June 18 as the date for receiving bids on the first phase of the school program, which centers largely around the senior high school. Estimates are that this job may run as high as $3,374,000, and that will be a big shot in the construction arm.

Some activity may be underway at Stanton, too. Last week the Housing and Home Finance Agency announced a $108,736 grant to the Urban Development agency in Stanton. This presumably is to be used in construction of houses and apartments to replace sub-standard properties previously purchased. Grants so far have aggregated $587,279.

May 11 has been set as the date for a public hearing on a proposal for changing zoning at Twenty-fifth and Birdwell to permit construction of a service station. Three other hearings on this same spot have been held. What's that old saw—if at first you don't succeed—try, try, try again?

Howard County has set May 17 as the time for opening bids on paving of 12.5 miles of new, permanent lateral road. Also due at the same time are bids on seal-coating 19.75 miles existing county roads.

This is Mental Health Week, and observance is centered around a number of activities and tours at the Big Spring State Hospital. This is an excellent time to learn about mental health, how it can be strengthened, and what to do in case it breaks. Great progress is being made, and no small part of this is due to increasing enlightenment on the subject.

Communists Mark May Day With Attacks On U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands in Europe and Asia Saturday observed May Day — the Labor Day of the Socialists — and as usual Communist governments used the occasion to assail the United States.

The customary parade through Moscow's Red Square took second place to a new Soviet "diplomatic offensive" against the United States — this time a demand for United Nations action against U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic. It snowed during the May Day parade.

DENOUNCE U.S.
In Prague, capital of Communist Czechoslovakia, Communist party chief Antonin Novotny denounced America before a crowd of half a million. He accused the United States of aggression in Viet Nam and of supporting German ambitions to regain lost European territory.

Wladyslaw Gomułka, the Polish Communist leader, told more than 100,000 May Day celebrators in Warsaw that "The imperialist aggression of the United States in Viet Nam is a direct threat to world peace."

"We also," Gomułka asserted, "protest against the brutal American intervention in the Dominican Republic."

In Athens, 200 leftist workers attempting to march on the Greek Ministry of Labor with demands for higher wages clashed with police. Several were injured.

French workers observed the day quietly with a holiday from work and mass meetings of unions in some of the larger cities.

FROM JOHNSON
In West Berlin, 250,000 gathered to hear speeches from politicians and a special message from President Johnson. Police broke up a scuffle between labor union men and 50 Communist demonstrators, who carried signs saying "Peace in Viet Nam" and "No bombs on Viet Nam."

In East Berlin hundreds of thousands from the Communist zone heard exhortations to boost industrial and agricultural output, with a few passing references to "American imperialists."

In Vatican City, Pope Paul VI urged an audience of 40,000 Italian workers and tourists to "pray for an assist the unemployed, underemployed, underpaid and insecure." He criticized those who exploit labor, social struggle and hatred.

BARBAROUS ACT
In downtown Rome, speakers at a rally of the Communist-led General Federation of Labor denounced "barbarous acts of aggression" by the United States in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai told a Peking reception: "All peace loving nations and people throughout the world should unite to smash the criminal plan of U.S. imperialism to escalate the war in Indochina." A rally in Hanoi, attended by President Ho Chi Minh of Communist North Viet Nam, adopted a resolution calling on South Viet Nam to defeat U.S. troops and "liberate South Viet Nam."

VIET NAM
In Jakarta President Sukarno of Indonesia told his May Day crowd that "Indonesians protest American actions in Viet Nam because I believe the U.S. aggression there is also a testing ground of American weapons where people are being bombed, burned and killed." A record crowd of two million, according to police figures, listened to left-wing Japanese leaders in Tokyo call for U.S. withdrawal from Asia. Sponsors claimed 6.5 million throughout Japan participated in the May Day celebrations.

None of the injuries necessitated hospitalization. City Marshal Jack Blackwell said Julian Pulliam, 45, a white grocer, was charged with assault and battery in connection with the knife, which occurred as a group made their second visit of the day to the Demarchis Restaurant.

Mrs. John McFerren, a spokeswoman for the demonstrators, said the Negro workers were served at every establishment, but charged that accompanying white workers were refused service. However, several restaurant owners said all were served.

Officers said the stabbing came after a mixed group of about 15 entered the restaurant and refused to be served or to leave. Pulliam was also a customer in the restaurant, they said.

Mrs. McFerren said police were standing outside the establishment during the stabbing, but charged that they refused to break up the disturbance, saying, "We don't have anything to do with what goes on in there."

Fayette County Sheriff C. E. Pattat Jr. said he had deputies in the downtown area but had received no reports on any incidents. Police Chief H. C. McCarley said he was off Saturday and hasn't been keeping up with the situation.

Marlin Girl Wins At Midland
MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Clarice Sontag of Marlin was named "Medical Technologist of the Year" Saturday at the final session of the 33rd annual convention of the Texas Society of Medical Technologists.

Robert Conner of Perryton was named president of the society and Galveston was picked as the 1967 convention site. San Antonio will be host to the 1966 convention.

Resigns
E. R. Bass, superintendent of the Grady Independent Schools for the past two years, resigned Tuesday to accept a like position with the Follette public schools in Lipscomb County.

Critical Of Some Civil Rights Talk

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Arthur Dean, former head of the U.S. delegation to the Geneva disarmament conferences, said Saturday many utterances about civil rights are "mush and pious thinking."

An international lawyer and diplomat, Dean told a Law Day forum that platitudes on civil rights must give way to "hard thinking."

"We talk a lot of mush, for instance, that Jews and Protestants are the same, and that Negro and the white man are the same," he said.

"We know these arguments aren't true. Why make arguments that aren't true?" Dean said that if a white man in the South kills a Negro he cannot be indicted and convicted.

But, he added, neither can a Negro who kills a white man in Harlem.

Dean said no law will work unless it is accepted by the populace. He cited prohibition as an example.

Similarly, he said, the civil rights law will fail unless it is accepted "and we don't have enough jails to put the people in who won't accept it."

He said the remedy lies in education.

Refugee Saw Castro Reds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A refugee from the Dominican Republic said Saturday mobs pillaging Santo Domingo are led by Communists wearing olive green fatigues and openly boasting of their allegiance to Fidel Castro.

"They frequently voice Castro's slogans, 'Fatherland or Death,' and 'Down with Yankee Imperialism,'" said Capt. Jose Balboa, a pilot of the Dominican airline, Dominicana de Aviacion.

Balboa was evacuated from Santo Domingo by the U.S. Marines after hiding for three days in a room at the Hotel Comercial.

"The rebels boast that they have been trained in Cuba and that they will turn the Dominican Republic into a second Cuba," Balboa said in an interview.

Viet Cong Packing In Fancy Weapons

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist forces are packing in sophisticated weapons — from light artillery to flame throwers — and seem to be building up for major offensives in South Viet Nam to coincide with the start in mid-May of the monsoon season, U.S. and South Vietnamese military informants said Saturday.

They reported South Vietnamese troops are bracing for attacks all the way from the Mekong River delta south of Saigon to the border of Communist North Viet Nam.

RAINY SEASON
The rainy season, which runs until October or November, generally limits air activity and the movement of heavy armor on the ground.

Speculation on possible heavy Communist offensives came to light after South Vietnamese troops found a big cache of Red arms in coastal mangrove swamps about 60 miles south of Saigon.

The weapons included precision, lightweight flame throwers believed furnished by Communist China. There also were East German heavy machine guns, rifles, plastic explosives and tons of ammunition.

The informants said there is evidence the supplies for the Viet Cong guerrillas are being brought in by sea and through Cambodia and Communist-controlled sections of Laos.

SIGNS
Some senior military officers say there are signs that the Communist troops, reinforced by regulars from North Viet Nam, may try to make 1965 the year of decision in South Viet Nam.

Chinese Communist manufactured artillery and heavy anti-aircraft guns have shown up in significant numbers in the northernmost areas, the central highlands and the delta.

The theory is that the chief Viet Cong attacks will come in Tay Ninh Province which is near the Cambodian frontier, about 50 miles northwest of Saigon.

The arms found in the delta swamps, after a three-day operation that killed 152 Viet Cong, apparently were destined for use in one of the Communist offensives, the military informants said.

NO LOSS
Military sources said the loss of the arms probably would not make any appreciable difference to the Viet Cong. The rains turn the delta area into a virtual inland sea where heavily laden government troops and armor are slowed down drastically.

The Viet Cong, who are trained to travel lighter and faster, have scored their most notable successes during the monsoon period.

Steelworkers Leave Posts
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Scattered locals of the United Steelworkers walked off the job Saturday after failing to reach a contract agreement with some independent steel producers.

The strikes, which began at midnight, idled 2,700 workers at Copperweld Steel Co.'s Warren, Ohio works and 300 workers at Bliss and Laughlin's Harvey, Ill. works.

Churchmen Win Awards

AUSTIN (AP) — S. W. Hutton, outgoing director of the annual assembly of Texas Christian Churches, was given Saturday the first "distinguished churchmanship" award of the Texas Association of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ).

Hutton, 79, will retire June 30 after 11 years as annual assembly director.

Iowa Park minister Claude C. McDonald was announced as winner of the town and country minister of the year award. It is given annually for outstanding service in rural areas and for development of community spirit.

Hutton was cited for "extraordinary service to the Christian Churches of Texas. He served as Texas Christian University registrar during 1932-1954 after a decade of administering religious education programs in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas and teaching at Phillips University in Enid, Okla. and TCU.

"We offer the people the skeleton of a national organization," said Bard Logan of San Antonio, Tex., a member of the committee which drafted the approved document.

"It will be a reality only after they organize state parties," he told a reporter.

The congress was sponsored by the Independent American, a political action monthly newspaper published by Kent Courtney. Courtney, who served as chairman of the sessions, said 500 persons had registered.

The participants voted to set themselves up as an "advance committee" to "encourage the formation of new state parties, support existing independent parties, seek the achievement of

Conservatives Put Together A Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — The Congress of Conservatives approved Saturday a declaration of its "intention to participate in the formation of a national anti-Communist party."

The three-day meeting also wound up with adoption of a program of action that, among other things, called for a liberation of Cuba.

Members of the congress stood, clapped and cheered the reading of that plank and this elaboration of it: "We should capture Chinese and Russian Communists now based on Cuba and hold them as hostages pending release of Americans from Russia and Red China."

This had been designated as "New Party Day." The day didn't bring forth a new party but it did lay the groundwork for what the leaders hope may become one in the future.

the House Redistricting Committee, promises that his committee's recommendations for re-shuffling Texas' 23 congressional districts to satisfy the federal court's one-man, one-vote orders will be ready Monday.

The 10 Senate and House conferees who have worked almost six weeks on a 1966-67 spending bill compromise expect to complete their work Monday and offer the general appropriations measure to both houses by the end of the week.

TOP ISSUE
One of the top issues, solving Texas' water administration problems, could get action in the House this week. Three bills, urged by Gov. Connally, are near the top of the House calendar for debate.

Connally is expected to hold a news conference Monday or Tuesday and say he will make a statewide television address about Thursday to explain his side of the controversial, but still untouched, teachers pay raise legislation. Public hearings on the various teachers' pay raise bills are set before a senate committee May 11 and before House members May 12.

Other committee hearings will attract plenty of action.

Monday there will be House hearings on measures to change Texas' two-house legislature into a unicameral or one-house body, and another measure to revise college tuition rates.

CLOSING LAW
Tuesday there will be Senate hearings on the Sunday closing law and the liquor drinking curfew, plus subcommittee reports on tax bill already presented the House Revenue and Tax Committee.

Wednesday a House committee is expected to approve abolition of the death penalty, except for cop and prison guard killers.

Wednesday night, a House committee takes up a bill that could cause a review of all water rights issued since the state began control of surface water

Sunday Weather Forecast
Showers are forecast Sunday in the Northern and Central Plateau region, parts of the Northwestern Plains and Lower Great Lakes with snow in high elevations of Montana and Wyoming. It will be cooler in the Western Plains, Plateau Region and North Atlantic Coast. It will be warmer in Mid-Mississippi and Tennessee valleys and Southern Plains to Upper Great Lakes. ## SPECIAL SESSION PENDS Legislators Frolic, Heavy Agenda Waits

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators are in the final month of the legislature and all signs point Saturday toward a session finale that will equal the Huntsville Prison Rodeo.

This week may well determine whether a special session will be needed.

A substantial portion of the Senate and House frolicked at the Six Flags of Texas entertainment park between Dallas and Fort Worth Friday and Saturday as guests of the North Texas legislative delegations. Nine chartered buses left the Capitol Friday at noon for the two-day junket. Others drove their own cars.

CASTLE GUARD
Just a castle guard stayed in Austin to work on the 1966-67 appropriations bill, redistricting and other pressing issues.

Any lingering daydreams of the sportive weekend will disappear promptly when legislators look at their Monday agenda and the calendar of the rest of the week.

Reddy Is Ready

With the aid of three fellow Downtown Lions, Phil Hines makes like Reddy Kilowatt in anticipation of the annual light bulb sale of the club, Monday and Tuesday. Rev. James Puckett, Frosty Robison, general chairman, and L. Robert Hammerle get the bulbs all screwed in Hines' sockets and promise to have him lit up for the Monday kickoff. All net proceeds go to the club's charity, youth work and blind-sight conservation fund.

Entries Sign In For Annual Rodeo Parade

Three floats have been officially entered in the parade preceding the Big Spring Rodeo; three queen contestants have been entered, and a number of riding clubs and sheriff's posses will be on hand, according to the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce office.

More are invited to enter, especially floats. Edith Gay, secretary, said. Those desiring to enter may call the chamber office, AM 4-4641.

Floats entered by sponsoring agencies are: Webb Air Force Base; Women in Construction; and Big Spring Kennel Club.

Queen contestants entered Friday were: Dee Ann Donham, sponsored by the Odessa chamber; Kay Phillips Brownfield, entered by the Terry County Sheriff's Posse; and Alice Mae Zant, entered by Andrews County Sheriff's Posse.

Riding clubs entered are: Andrews County, Scurry County, Dawson County, Martin County, Terry County, Ector County, Lynn County, Fisher County, all Sheriff's Posses; Winters Riding Club, Stanton Rangers (girls); Howard County Youth Horsemen's Club, Aull's Rough Riders from Lubbock, and Big Spring Mounted Patrol.

Three Big Spring school bands, and the Coahoma High School band, will also march in the parade.

Parade entries are requested to assemble at the intersection of Scurry and Tenth Street between 3 and 3:30 p.m. May 19, for assignment to positions. The parade will move north on Main Street to Second; west on Second to Scurry, and south on Scu-

Firemen Snuff 20th Story Fire

HOUSTON (AP) — Firemen spent three hours Saturday fighting a fire on the 20th floor of the 45-story Humble Oil building.

Intense heat and the hidden location of the blaze hampered them.

A desk, trash can and a filing cabinet burned. The heat caused a water pipe to burst, causing some water damage.

Judge Blames Boys' Parents

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — It's your fault, a juvenile court judge has told the parents of three teenagers police say stole

"This whole affair can be blamed on the rank carelessness of the parents," Judge Walter G. Whitlatch told the parents Friday.

The boys, who authorities said admitted 11 burglaries, appeared in court.

"Strange guns and property in the house — and no questions?" Judge Whitlatch asked the parents.

One of the women replied she thought her son had bought the property.

"And all the kids in Pepper Pike have guns," she said.

Sessions Set To Orientate Pre-Schoolers

All children in Big Spring, who will be six years old or before Sept. 1, will have their first opportunity to see what school is like May 4 and May 11, when the pre-school roundup for the 1965-66 first graders will be held.

Orientation of next fall's first graders is the purpose of the roundup. Principals, first grade teachers, school nurses, and other personnel will present the program to the parents and children.

The time for all programs, except for those attending Marcy Elementary School, and Kentwood Elementary, will be at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. Kentwood's program will be at 3 p.m. The pre-school program for Marcy will be at 2:30 p.m. May 11.

The only students who will register during orientation programs will be those interested in summer school for non-English speaking pupils. These will register at Kate Morrison and Bauer elementary schools.

First graders will register at the schools in their attendance area next Sept. 7, including those new to the school district, according to C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services.

"We would like to urge all junior high and high school students, coming into the Big Spring district during the summer, to check immediately with the schools they will attend, so that schedules may be arranged," he said. "We have pre-registered those already in school and their schedules are known by them and the schools."

Following the briefing period children will go to the various first grade rooms where they will observe classroom activities.

Late April Weather Has Been Largely Unfavorable

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Late April weather has been unfavorable to most Texas farmers, says John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

General rains would be welcomed over wide areas of the state, he said.

An increasing number of district farm agents reported a shortage of labor.

The eastern half of the state is in the best condition, Hutchison said. The driest areas are in the west and northwest. Grazing has been good where moisture was sufficient to keep cool season vegetation growing.

Children's Play Set

The story of a lame prince who is crowned a king by his fairy godmother, "The Little Lame Prince," will be enacted on the stage of Municipal Auditorium Wednesday, presented by the National Children's Theatre of Dallas. The play is sponsored by the Washington Place P-TA.

P-TA Sponsors Children's Play

The stage production of the children's fairy tale, "The Little Lame Prince," will be presented at Municipal Auditorium at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

The National Children's Theatre of Dallas will present the show, the second of two being sponsored here this year by the Washington Place P-TA.

Tickets will be sold at the door the afternoon of the performance, at 50 cents per admission. Season tickets were sold last fall for the two productions by the Dallas group.

The play is the story of a lame prince who was banished by a wicked uncle and sent to live in a solitary tower on a barren plain. A fairy godmother appears, bringing a traveling cloak which allows the prince to fly over the world.

An estimated 150,000 children see the productions each year by the theatre, which tours an area ranging from Texas to Wisconsin each season. Three tours are made each year, with each about 10,000 miles in length.

The group staged the story of "Rip Van Winkle" here in December.

The former operators of a New York concert and lecture booking agency, Mr and Mrs Fiske Miles, formed the theatre in 1952. Mrs Miles designs the costumes for the productions. The actors are obtained from agents in Chicago and New York.

Enthusiasm and an understanding of how to appeal to the child's imagination have been attributed as the reasons for the successful continuation of the theatre group, which has grown from bookings in about 35 towns the first year to about twice that number this season. Each year the group presents a fairy tale, legend and historical play as the season offerings.

Work Begins On Next Play

Rehearsals are underway for the Big Spring Civic Theatre production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" May 14 and 15 in the Municipal Auditorium.

The play is the story of a witty, cosmopolitan radio celebrity who is deposited on a small-town family when he is injured in a fall on the front steps of their home.

The lead role in the production will be played by Ron Carr, a veteran of numerous civic theatre productions.

Mrs. Norman Spencer Jr., director of the play, has announced the cast, which includes Sally Carr as Mrs. Stanley; Hillary Sherred as Miss Preen; Jimmy Townes, Richard Stanley; Carol Odum, June Stanley; Kieran Doherty, John; Gloria Gale; Sarah; Regina Hine; Mrs. Dexter; Pat Jones; Mrs. McCutcheon; Gene Mikeka; Mrs. Stanley; Jo Ann Arnold; Maggie Cutler; Bob Bate-man, Dr. Bradley; Joyce Towbin; Harriet Stanley; Louis Loveless; Bert Jefferson; Christine Tatum; Lorraine Sheldon; Clark Frayser; Sandy; John Arnold; Beverly Carlton; and David Carreiro, Banjo. Others who will double in several parts are Mike Koulakowski, Joe DeSousa, John Thomas, Larry

Burdette Stymies Midland Lee, 5-2

Charles (Swift) Burdette, in command all the way, pitched Big Spring to a 5-2 District 2-AAAA baseball victory over the Midland Lee Rebels here Saturday afternoon.

Burdette, now 5-3 on the year, yielded only three hits and did not surrender an unearned run. The Steers staked him to all the insurance he needed by getting three tallies in the opening inning.

Lee, defending district champion and a state finalist in 1964, got its two tallies in the fourth with the help of a single off the bat of Terry Jarrold and three Big Spring bobbles.

Lee crossed on a wild pitch and a hit by Whately.

Pinch runner Terry Smith made it home for Big Spring in the sixth on a one-baser off the bat of Pate. Anderson had doubled to open the inning and Smith had gone in to run for him.

Lee put two runners aboard in the seventh after two runners had been retired but Burdette forced the last man to roll out to the second baseman.

Dick McFarland started on the mound for Lee and worked until one was out in the seventh, when Al White took over.

Anderson and Pate each drove out two hits for Big Spring, which collected seven in all.

The Steers will be at home Tuesday afternoon to Odessa High, and can tie for second place in the standings by beating the Bronchos.

Van Tom Whately, Eddie Thomas and Yogi Anderson crossed the dish for Big Spring in the initial inning. Whately walked and Thomas, Anderson and Gregg Pate followed with one-basers.

The Steers added their fourth run in the fifth when Gary Miears, in to run for Eddie Crittenden, who had walked, came

Wolves Outlast HCJC Hawks, 8-7

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Wolves eked out an 8-7 victory over the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks Friday in a non-conference baseball game.

The game was tied-up, 7-7, at the end of regulation play and went into extra innings. Colorado City's Larry Currie hit a single in the ninth inning and came across the plate with the winning run on Corky McAdams' triple. The Jayhawks took an early lead, 2-0, but could not hold on to it. Skip Warren was given the victory and Keith Bond suffered the loss.

LUCKY DEBONAIR WINS KENTUCKY DERBY, WITH SHOEMAKER UP

Lady Luck Big Factor In Lucky Deb's Win

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Lady Luck rode with Lucky Debonair Saturday as the flashy colt carrying the silks of Mrs. Ada L. Rice of Chicago held on under the lash of Willie Shoemaker's whip for a neck victory over the fast-closing but lightly-regarded Dapper Dan in the 91st Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

Son of a Maryland sire, Verlex, bred in Kentucky and primed in California for his biggest triumph, Lucky Debonair reeled off the 1 1/4 miles of America's premier horse race in 2:01.1-5.

Dapper Dan, a 30-1 shot owned by Ogden Phipps, came from last place in the field of 11 3-year-olds to take runner-up honors. He finished two lengths in front of Tom Rolfe, the mighty mite from the Powhatan stables of Raymond Guest, U.S. Ambassador to Ireland.

Lucky, winner of the Santa Anita Derby and Keeneland's Blue Grass Stakes, started his string of luck when bad weather forced him to leave Laurel, Md., for Keeneland, Ky., where he gained added stature with victory in the Blue Grass.

DOWN TO WIRE
And that luck continued right down to the finish line of 100,000 which enjoyed fair 84-degree weather.

Shoemaker, riding his third Derby winner in 14 consecutive tries, implied he was lucky that Flag Raiser, a fleet front runner, wasn't able to spread-eagle his field in the early running, as expected.

"When Flag Raiser wasn't able to go out in front by a big margin, I found myself in a perfect position at the first turn, three-eighths of a mile from the start. We never had to go out after a speed horse."

"When I set Lucky down at the eighth pole he still was full of run."

The big disappointment was Bold Lad, heavily played choice after winning the 1964 2-year-old championship, but plagued by leg splints during the winter.

The strapping son of Bold Ruler from the Wheatley Stable never was a serious contender, although he was fifth after one mile. From there on he had nothing left, and finished a badly-beaten 10th.

Shoemaker said he was never worried about Bold Lad.

"I am not really surprised that he didn't run well. He hasn't proved himself. The horse I was most concerned with was Tom Rolfe."

But in the end it was Dapper Dan, stable mate of Bold Lad, who almost pulled out the upset.

"Milo (Valenzuela) told me that he was going to win with Dapper Dan," said Shoemaker.

Hapless Mets Walloped, 9-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vada Pinson and Leo Cardenas sparked a 16-hit attack by Cincinnati as the Reds overwhelmed the New York Mets 9-2 Saturday behind the six-hit pitching of Sammy Ellis, who won his fourth game without a defeat.

Lucky Debonair, with Willie Shoemaker scoring his third Derby riding triumph, covered the distance over a blazing fast track in 2:01.1-5.

Lucky Debonair paid $10.60, $5.40 and $4.20. Dapper Dan was $26 and $12.60 and Tom Rolfe was $4.80 to show.

Steer Tracksters Break Two Records At Hobbs

HOBBS, N.M. — Big Spring's entries in the State Track Meet next weekend in Austin set two new meet records at the annual Hobbs Invitational Track Meet Saturday night.

Johnny Hughes raced to an 18.7 in the low hurdles to break the record of 19.1 set in 1963. Hughes was never pressed in the race and teammate Ricky Earle raced a distant second with a 19.1. Third was Eddie Valasquez of Kermit, a state finalist in Class AAA, timed at 19.3.

Perhaps the most notable effort was put forth by the sprint relay team of Hughes, Kirby Hodnett, Marvin Hall and Joe Jaure, who ran a 42.0 to break the old record of 42.2 set in 1963 by Odessa Permian.

The Steer foursome outran a powerful Monahans quartet, which had a 41.8 clocking to their credit last week. Monahans ran a 42.1 and Snyder was third with a 42.2, with Hobbs fourth and Permian fifth.

The Steers scored a total of 22 points and could have scored more with the aid of Jaure. The junior speedster has been plagued in recent weeks with injuries and has not been performing up to par.

Saturday he qualified for both the 100 and 200, but coach R. C. Moore scratched him in the finals of the 200 and scratched the 880-yard relay team because of Jaure's bad foot. He ran a 9.8 in preliminaries Saturday morning but ran dead last in the finals due to his foot.

Midland's Ross Montgomery won the century with a 9.6, with Gary Wingo of Monahans second at 9.8. Cook of Roswell, N.M., was third and Cannon of Permian fourth. Hughes ran fifth in the 100 for the rest of the Steers.

DOUG SANDERS

MIDLAND SCENE OF MONDAY EXHIBITION

Palmer, Sanders, Charles And Nichols in Golf Test

MIDLAND — Four of the finest professional golfers in America appear here Monday in an 18-hole match that will benefit the Heart Fund.

The linksters are Arno Palmer, Doug Sanders, Lefty Bob Charles and Bobby Nichols, who tee off at the Midland Country Club starting at 1 p.m.

The foursome will conduct a clinic at 12 o'clock.

Originally, Bruce Devlin was committed to appear in place of Sanders, but Doug experienced such great luck in two Florida tournaments he was asked to come.

The four will fly here in Palmer's plane, en route from the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, Nev., to the Colonial at Fort Worth.

Palmer is on the verge of winning his first tournament in 11 months at Las Vegas. Nichols, claimed as their very own by Midland fans, captured the recent Houston Classic.

Sanders copped back-to-back tournaments in Florida this spring while Palmer was the runner-up to Jack Nicklaus in the recent Masters. Charles is regarded as the finest left-handed linkster in the world.

Nichols copped the 1964 PGA crown. He is a graduate of Texas A&M and a native of Kentucky. He now plays out of Corona, Calif.

Charles will play off in the 1963 British Open. He is a native of Carterton, New Zealand.

The Midland course is considered one of the best in the Southwest. The competitive course record is a 65, shot by Dr. Cary Middlecoff. The unofficial course record from regular tees is a 61, fired by Nichols.

The layout will also be the scene of the Texas Amateur Championships June 1-6. Admission price for the match is $5.

ACC Freshmen Edge Hawks In Track Meet

ABILENE—Abilene Christian College's freshmen gained revenge for an earlier defeat suffered at the hands of HCJC by winning a dual track and field meet here Friday, 7-4-51.

HCJC was below peak strength. High jumpers Robert Horn and Jim Flowers, who were one-two in the meet at Big Spring, did not make the trip due to injuries. Horn is also a hurdler.

Pole vaulter Tom Bradshaw was left behind, too, due to physical miseries.

Walter Reyna set a school record for HCJC in the mile, although he ran second to ACC's Albert Van Troba. Troba was timed in 4:15.9 while Reyna was caught in 4:19.0.

HCJC won first places in the shot put, although Ronnie Herriott and Jim Napier of the Hawks were throwing an 18 1/2 pound practice, shot put—they didn't take their own. Herriott's winning toss was a respectable 46-9/16, while Napier came in at 45-2.

As expected, Steve Langham of HCJC won the 440-yard run with a 48.5 effort.

Cisco wasn't officially entered in the meet but managed to win the 440-yard relay and the broad jump.

SWEETWATER — Five Big Spring players shared first place awards in the pro-am tournament preceding the 30th annual Lake Sweetwater Invitational Golf tournament here Friday.

Spot Cockrell of Big Spring teamed with Jim Feagan, Lubbock; Robert Caffey, Big Spring; and Marie Rinker, Midland, on one of the four somes.

Another team was composed of Charles Shepherd, Coleman and Bobby Rutherford, Big Spring, and Bob Hawkins, all of Big Spring.

Locals Share Pro-Am Loot

The third team tying for first place consisted of Dick Stovall, Bobby McLeod, Daphne Hayes and Carl Wilson, all of Abilene.

The winning teams finished with a low-ball score of 54. Merchandise awards in the amount of $19 was awarded to each of the teams.

Windy Green, formerly of Big Spring and now of Midland, and Gale Shed, Abilene, turned in the low medal score among the pros with 71's.

A total of 96 entries paid fees for the tournament, 18 of them from Big Spring.

The Big Spring entries were Jimmy Patterson, defending title in the tournament, Tommy Wilkerson, Bernard Rains, Charles Bailey and Frank Powell, all of whom rated the title fight and Novis Womack, Bobby Rutherford, Bill Patton, Jackie Thomas, Ferris Hammond, J. W. Massingale, Cockrell, Danny Coates, Tommy Young, Snell and Doyle Parris.

Modern Pros Tearing Top Courses Apart

By JAMES W. MANGAN FORT WORTH (AP) — Ralph Plummer, a foremost golf course architect, says he believes pro golfers are so efficient they are outperforming the courses. And he's not thinking only of Jack Nicklaus.

Plummer held this opinion long before big Jack humbled the Augusta National Course in winning the Masters this year with a 17-under-par total for 72 holes.

"Augusta has been continually changed to keep up with the top players," Plummer said in an interview, "but it looks like they didn't do enough this year. If the officials had elected to narrow the fairways by letting the rough grow up, as they do in the Open, the scores would have been much higher. Of course, Nicklaus was hitting the ball so perfectly I think they might have given him a saliva test."

In Plummer's view, improved golf equipment and superior playing technique have gradually given the pro golfers an advantage that must be offset by continued tightening of tournament courses. He said many of the younger pros have been playing competitive golf since high school, and perfected solid game while in college.

he has built 82 golf courses since 1927.

"I've built them in mesquite thickets in West Texas, rice fields in Louisiana, and swamps in Jamaica," he said, leaning back in his chair at the Colonial Country Club, site of the $100,000 Invitational May 6-9. Plummer worked on the Colonial course in 1935, when mule-drawn wagons brought in dirt and fertilizer. He considers it one of the toughest layouts in the country, and predicted a 4-under-par total for 72 holes would take top money this year.

I built in swamps at Montego Bay, Jamaica, cost $30,000.

Plummer is now working on the $500,000 Great Southwest Course in Arlington, a layout he designed in consultation with Byron Nelson, one of the all-time greats of golf. This course, opening in July, "will be one of the best," Plummer declared. It will have a completely automatic underground watering system including 500 pop-up sprinkler heads and 100 miles of wiring, operated by a time clock.

The Champions Course in Houston is Plummer-designed, as are the DAC Country Club, Northwood and Preston Trail in Dallas, Ridge and Shady Oaks in Fort Worth, and the Midland (Tex.) Country Club.

What are the prime considerations for an architect?

"You must have water. You can impound it, you can dig wells, you can use a city supply. But you must have it.

"Then prevailing winds must be considered. You try to lay out the course with cross winds, so the players can try to control the ball rather than merely fight the wind.

HITTERS LIKED

"Everybody loves a hitter today, so you have to build a course that will measure more hole," he said. "One green 1 year 7,000 yards for the pros, built at the country club in Salt and yet be playable through Lake City cost $15,000, and the shorter tees, at 6,000 yards for the club members.

Palmer's 206 Leads By Three Strokes

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer played it safe and sound Saturday, shooting a 54-hole score of 206 to lead his fellow golfers by three strokes or more in the $75,000 Tournament of Champions.

Dick Sikes, who provided the sensation of a hot windy afternoon when he shot a 30 on the back nine to equal a tournament record and move into contention. The 25-year-old Sikes, who is sponsored by Art Modell, the owner of the Cleveland Browns football team, snapped out of a 38 on the first nine and knocked out six birdies for a 68.

It put Sikes four strokes behind Palmer as the cast of stars go into the final round Sunday. Sandwiched in between were Chi Chi Rodriguez and Doug Sanders, each of whom had to be satisfied with par 72 and a score of 209.

Palmer actually gained one stroke over Rodriguez and Sanders, who trailed by only two strokes when play began Saturday.

Bill Casper Jr., also had a 72 and rested alone at 211, while Jack Nicklaus, improving each round after a disastrous 74 Thursday, came in with a 67 for 212.

Palmer's lead was 30 strokes over the second-place Rodriguez and Sanders.

No Penalties Likely In SW's Spring Meet

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas is expected to come off probation but there's not a chance of anybody being penalized at the spring meeting of the Southwest Conference.

With the statement that "the overall recruiting situation is reported to be better than it has for several years," Secretary Howard Grubbs said he expected the session that opens at Texas A&M Thursday to be one of the quietest on record.

A startling contrast with the last two during which SMU was put on two-year probation with sanctions, Texas and Arkansas were given indefinite probation and Baylor and Texas Tech were reprimanded, all for recruiting violations.

Texas was penalized at the May, 1964, meeting, and told the probation would be lifted within a year if it corrected the situation.

SMU can't be cleared until May, 1966, and in the meantime can't participate in a bowl game.

Arkansas was given its probation last December and must wait until next December to have it removed.

Neither Texas nor Arkansas is prohibited from playing in bowl games.

The NCAA paralleled the actions.

Grubbs said no reports into inquiries of alleged rules violations would be made to conference officials.

While nothing of an explosive character was expected to come from the deliberations of the faculty representatives, this did not mean it would be a short meeting, Grubbs said.

There are many items to be handled, much of it involving implementation of new regulations, which takes considerable time.

Hawks Defeat Stars, 4-3

The Hawks scored a run before a man could be retired in the last inning to nudge the Stars, 4-3, in an American Little League game here Friday night.

The game opened the season for the Hawks while the Stars are now 1-1.

Gary Travis scored the winning run for the Hawks after he singled. He finally came home on a fielder's choice by Mike Carroll.

Zane Anderson, the winning hurler, hit a double for the Hawks while Terry Price and Rick Aslin each had two singles.

Pete Shaffer had two one-basers for the Stars.

The St. Thomas Giants pulled out a come-from-behind victory Friday night and defeated the Hull & Phillips Indians 9-6, in Texas Little League action.

SAYS FORMER OU PLAYER Baseball Offers More Enjoyment

By HARDY PRICE

Baseball is called the national pastime, but in recent years rumors have been cropping up to install pro football as the number one spectator sport in the country.

There was a time when any kid in the country could rattle off the batting average of his favorite big league stars without batting an eye.

Now they will be more apt to tell you how many yards Jimmy Brown ran for last year or the number of touchdowns passes Y. A. Tittle threw in 1963.

There are a few, however, that still reserve a soft spot in their hearts for Capt. Double-day's game and Don Finkenbinder, a local pharmacist, is one.

"I don't know, but I think boys seem to get more enjoyment out of baseball," he said. "I played it because I enjoyed it as I like all competitive sports."

A native of Clinton, Okla., Don was an all-sports man in high school, playing end on the football team, guard with the basketball five, broad jumping and running the distance races in track and playing first base with the high school line.

From high school, Don went to the University of Oklahoma for a degree in pharmacy and to play baseball.

"I guess if I weighed more I would have tried to play football. I was just an average ball player in college and hit about 250 my three varsity years," said Don.

Don said a couple of scouts had talked to him, "but I don't think they were too interested." But his head coach at Oklahoma, Jack Baer, was interested enough to put him on the starting nine at first base.

Oklahoma is in a stiff conference not only for football, but also baseball. The school is a one-time national champion and plays some of the better schools in the nation in non-conference play.

A resident of Big Spring since last June, Don is now working in the Little League program here. He is a coach with the Cardinals of the National Little League. He helps the boys at all positions and says he really enjoys it.

"I am working with now are boys their ahead now than I was when I was playing Little League ball. I wouldn't say that my hometown has a good program as Big Spring as we have one of

McComas Tosses No-Hit Contest

ABILENE — Roger McComas hurled a no-hit game as Odessa Permian thrashed Abilene High 4-0 in a District 2-AAAA baseball game here Saturday.

Pat Brown hit a three-run homer for the winners.

ODESSA — Odessa High edged Abilene Cooper, 4-3, in a District 2-AAAA baseball game to hold second place in the standings with a 5-3 record.

MIDLAND — Midland High hammered San Angelo deeper into the 2-AAAA baseball cellar by thrashing the Bobcats, 6-3, here Saturday.

Sam Mosly Named Coach At Ozona

OZONA — Sam Mosly was named Friday as the new head football coach for Ozona High School. Mosly has been the head coach at Elgin in District 18-AA for the past three years.

He succeeds Pete Hickman, who resigned recently to accept the head coaching position at Fort Stockton. Mosly was given a one-year contract and will assume duties Aug. 1. He will take no assistants with him.

Buford Stars As Twins Fall

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Buford, who homered earlier, raced home on Cesar Tovar's error in the eighth inning Saturday, boosting the Chicago White Sox past Minnesota 2-1 behind Joe Horlen's six-hit pitching.

Buford started the winning rally by singling off reliever Al Worthington with one out. Floyd Robinson followed with a single that sent Buford to second.

Minnesota's Cesar Tovar hit a home run in the eighth to tie the game, but Buford's error in the eighth inning gave the Sox a 2-1 lead.

Ford Pitches Yank Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitey Ford pitched a strong 9-4 victory for the New York Yankees over Baltimore Saturday as the defending American League champions climbed back to the 500 mark.

Tony Kubek led the Yanks attack with three runs batted in on a tie-breaking homer in the fourth inning, a sacrifice fly and a bases-loaded walk. Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone each chipped in with three of the winners' 12 hits.

Ford, the veteran left-hander whose status has been questionable this spring due to an arm ailment, scattered 10 hits, struck out nine and walked one.

Baltimore's Jerry Adair set a major league record for second baseman with his 19th consecutive chance without an error, on a sacrifice bunt play in the fifth inning.

Winners will be determined in a handicap style of play and entries can choose their own partners, if their mates do not play golf.

Entry fee for the tourney is $4 and hors d'oeuvres will be served without charge to all entrants. Competition will be spread over the A, B and C brackets with merchandise awards going to the winning couples.

A large delegation of non-members is taking part in the 18 hole event.

Snyder Bengals Win Behind Wall

SNYDER — Snyder's Tigers took advantage of erratic play on the part of Brownfield to defeat the Cubs, 4-2, in a District 2-AAAA baseball game here Saturday. The win was the seventh without a loss within the league for the Tigers.

J. N. Wall came on in relief of Bob Clardy in the first inning and shut the Cubs down without a hit the rest of the way. He now has pitched 13 1/2 innings of consecutive hitless ball.

The Tigers need only one more victory to clinch a tie for the championship.

RELAY MARK IS IN JEOPARDY Track Entries Poised To Attack State Marks

By HARDY PRICE

An assault on the record books will probably take place in Austin next weekend when the finest track and field athletes in the state gather for the State meet.

Records are expected to fall in the mile relay, sprint relay, pole vault and possibly the high hurdles. Dallas Samuel is considered a shoo-in for the mile relay, barring a dropped baton or other unforeseen hazards.

Last year the Dallas quartet set a new national schoolboy record with a 3:14.9. In their regional meet last weekend the foursome ran a 3:17.5 despite an opening quarter of 52.8.

The sprint relay could see the national schoolboy record tied, as did Houston Lee last year with a 41.5. Samuel has raced to a 41.6 clocking, but ran only a 42.1 in regional.

Corpus Christi Miller ran a 41.6 in its regional last week and Austin McCallum ran a 41.8. The Big Spring quartet of Johnny Hughes, Kirby Hodnett, Marvin Hall and Joe Jaure ran a 42.3 in Odessa last week. Only one other state finalist, Houston Memorial with a 42.4, has run slower: Amarillo Tascosa, and Dallas South Oak Cliff, ran 42.3's and Port Neches-Grove raced to a 42.2.

The two Abilene jumping jacks, Pinto Beene and Larry Smith, are expected to fight it out for first place in the pole vault. Beene vaulted 15-2 in a controversial leap in Odessa last week. Smith defeated Beene in the state meet last year but it could be another story this year. Both boys have cleared 15-foot year several times.

Sammy Maddox, the high hurdle star from Dallas Kimball, is in a class all by himself with a 13.8. Last week in the regional meet he raced to a 13.9 clocking. His closest competitors will likely be Jerral Landers, Bell (Fort Worth), with a 14.1 and Mike Robbins, Waco University, with a 14.2.

Robbins also qualified in the low hurdles with an 18.6, to match Big Spring's Johnny Hughes. Hughes held the best time in the state for the entire track season. However in the majority of his races Hughes has not been pressed. It should develop into a real good race between the two lads.

Regional winners and winning times, distances and heights:

ONE-MILE RELAY: Dallas Samuel, 41.5; Houston Lee, 42.1; Corpus Christi Miller, 41.6; Austin McCallum, 41.8; Big Spring quartet, 42.3; Houston Memorial, 42.4; Amarillo Tascosa, 42.3; Dallas South Oak Cliff, 42.3; Port Neches-Grove, 42.2.

Track Entries Poised To Attack State Marks

Cager Weds A Girl He Couldn't Beat

By FRANK ECK

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP)—If you are a single young man who has been advised by a doctor to take up golf to strengthen a damaged limb it might be best to begin the game with some hacker. But Warren (Bullet) Bell had to be different. He had been a seasoned basketball pro with the old Fort Wayne Pistons, often playing with a taped left shoulder to protect a three-way dislocation.

A fellow could get hooked starting in a new sport with a female and that's exactly what happened to the former Findlay, Ohio High School athlete.

He had grown up around Findlay with Peggy Kirk who became the best amateur woman golfer in the area. Bell, a gentleman even then, didn't bother learning the rules and since they didn't even wager a soft drink on the outcome nothing like keeping score dawned on him. After all it was his first round of golf, and the lady, then 23, was doing him a favor.

IT BUGGED HIM

"I shot a 98 but she shot a 77," says Bell with a blush. "I couldn't figure this out and it kept hounding me—getting beaten by a woman. It took me four years to beat her. Oh, yes, I married her, too."

Bell couldn't have done better. About 18 years ago when he built the Pine Needles golf course and lodges here he was especially about his family and his golf. Two years ago Bell and Bob Davies, another former basketball star from Seton Hall and the old Rochester Royals, won the Carousel golf championship at Pine Needles.

"Once in a while my shoulder bothers my swing," admits Bell. "It contains the muscle of a dead man," he adds as though this is an everyday occurrence.

Dr. Vernon Dodd, then the chief surgeon at University (Ohio State) Hospital performed a transplant, taking a muscle from the leg of a clinic patient who had died in 1940. Dr. Judd Wilson, well known for knee operations on athletes, assisted.

"You ought to be writing about Peggy and not me," Bell insisted. "She'll be playing in the Women's Open at Atlantic City this summer and it's amazing how she gets in her practice between the lessons she gives to men and women."

"Furthermore, Peggy has had a 67 over Pine Needles and best I could do was a 70." It's a 6,905-yard course, too. Bell designed all the buildings on the 240-acre layout.

"I'm happy if he just takes care of the place like he has," says Peggy Kirk Bell. "I feed the children, transport them to and from school, and if I make a few Ladies PGA tournaments this summer we'll all go along and lodges here he was practically broke. "To be exact," says Bullet Bell, "I had $97 in the bank. But I didn't have to look far for a golf pro. Peggy got the job."

They now have three children—two young daughters and a young son.

FEELS LUCKY

Bell feels fortunate indeed.

Matson Sets Record Despite Sore Knee

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas A&M's Randy Matson, unchallenged king of the shot put, makes you wonder what he could do if he was feeling good. Friday, with a sore knee and feeling tired, Matson lofted the 16-pound iron ball 69 feet ¾ inch, more than a foot farther than his pending world record. With a grunt which could be heard several hundred yards away, Matson uncorked his mighty heave on his second throw in the preliminaries of a three-way Southwest Conference meet between Texas A&M, Texas and Rice.

The throw demolished Matson's pending record of 67-11¼ and the official world mark of 67-10, set in 1964 by Dallas Long of Southern California. Matson also had a good toss on his first try, 67-9, but fell off after the 69-footer, dropping to 66-7¼, scratching twice in the finals and finishing up with 63-10½, puny for the 6-6, 260-pound sophomore.

"I think this was my 19th meet and I'm pretty tired. I didn't think I would get any better this year."

Matson wore a plastic support on his left knee because of some injured ligaments. "The knee began to hurt

Texas PGA Has Own Course

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas section of the PGA has joined with the Pecan Valley Golf Club of San Antonio where it will make its official home, Texas PGA president Earl Stewart announced Saturday.

It will be the only section in the nation with its own golf course.

Executive secretary George Albach of Lufkin will move to San Antonio and have his office at the course.

There now are 342 members of the Texas section—the all-time-high—Stewart said.

The Texas PGA tournament, a 72-hole affair, will be held at the Goose Creek Country Club at Baytown Sept. 30-Oct. 1, 2, 3. The Texas Cup Matches, sending a team of amateurs against a team of professionals, will be Sept. 27-28 as a forerunner of the tournament.

about three weeks ago, and it's been hurting more and more," he said. Matson came back with a fine discus throw, but it was anticlimactic after his performance in the shot put. His best in the discus was 195-10¼, surpassing the collegiate record of 193-4 set by Bill Neville of Occidental in 1964, but below Matson's pending mark of 201-5¼, set earlier this spring.

Matson also had a good toss on his first try, 67-9, but fell off after the 69-footer, dropping to 66-7¼, scratching twice in the finals and finishing up with 63-10½, puny for the 6-6, 260-pound sophomore.

Drake Favorite

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Drake is a strong favorite to make it three track championships in a row when the Missouri Valley Conference track and field, golf and tennis meets are held here next weekend.

City Tourney List Is Small

Entries in the Big Spring City Golf Tournament have been slow, according to Shorty Gideon, municipal course manager.

Only 20 players had turned in qualifying rounds by Saturday, with the deadline set for Tuesday. Only one former champion, Charlie Bailey, 1963 winner, had entered. He turned in a 76 for his qualifying round.

Gideon said he expected to have a large number of linksters on the course today for qualifying rounds.

"We should have four flights by Tuesday and if I don't get as many as three, we'll call it off," he said. Last year 84 took part in the tourney. Bernard Rains is the 1964 champ.

Play will start May 6 and continue through May 16. Each flight will have two weekends to complete play.

First places, runnersup and consolation winners will receive prizes for their efforts.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Anderson May Miss All Drills

By TOMMY HART

Before spring football workouts had even started at the local high school, the training field had claimed another victim . . . Ronnie Anderson, an up-and-coming, 157-pound junior halfback, limped to the doctor with what appeared to be strained ligaments in his ankle . . . He'll probably miss all the workouts . . . The field, needless to relate, isn't in the best of shape . . . More and more, professional sports are becoming a playground for big business concerns which get a maximum amount of free publicity and can use the exercise for tax writeoffs . . . A nationally-known electrical outfit is dickering for the Boston AFL entry . . . It's just a question of time before the labor unions get into the swim . . . Then Jimmy Hoffa will start reading the riot act to the baseball and football commissioners . . . Sunland Park, which recently ended its 1964-65 racing season, will raise the value of its Thoroughbred Futurity to $25,000 next year and will deal out $150,000 for its Quarter Horse Spectaculars . . . Joe Namath, the Alabama quarterback, may have to undergo another knee operation . . . Things have deteriorated to such a point that his career with the New York Jets is actually in jeopardy . . . His knee has locked on him twice in routine exercises . . . You can see the May 25 Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight on closed circuit television at the Paramount Theater in Abilene, if you're so amind . . . The price wasn't available at this writing . . . Guard-linebacker Phil Payne and end Mike Hall have been named co-captains of the 1965 Stanton High School football team . . . Look for another coach in a spring sport to be fired out of the Odessa school system . . . The head coaches over there are cleaning house and bringing in football men to replace them . . . In so doing, they're de-emphasizing other sports in order to concentrate on football, with the blessings of the school board.

J. BROWN

round 72 in the Texas Open at San Antonio and missed the money by two strokes . . . He wound up with a 282, the same score shot by Henry Ransom, the Texas A&M coach . . . Cleveland's baseball attendance, spearheaded by that 44,000 turnout opening day, will probably go over 1,000,000 again this year — unless the Indians collapse utterly in the American League race . . . The Washington Redskins sought to obtain the controversial Texan, Joe Don Looney, from the Baltimore Colts, but the price was too high . . . Had he been alive and in his athletic prime today, Rev. Billy Sunday probably would have forsaken the pulpit to stay in baseball, since his lifetime batting average of .265 would have been respectable today — Sunday didn't hit too well against the devil, either . . . Don Taylor, the Hermleigh boy who has run the low hurdles in 19.5 this season, would like to attend HCJC . . . He'll be in the state meet next weekend . . . Representatives of Howard County have orally offered to provide the equipment needed to clear and level the land if directors of a small-fry baseball organization can talk the city into leasing a practice baseball area near the City Cemetery and the State Highway Department property . . . Rogelio Reyes, the ring tiger in the stable of Martin County's Melton McMorries, won an April 20 fight in the Juarez bull ring against highly regarded Buffalo Hernandez . . . Hernandez, a pro since 1958, has had over 40 fights against some of the top boys . . . One of his wins came over Joe Brown, the former world's lightweight champion . . . Reyes kept the panicky Hernandez on the run all the way and the referee finally stopped the fight in the third . . . Big Spring will have its biggest representation in the State Track and Field Meet next week since 1942, and could be fielding its best team ever down there.

SWC To Honor Ex-Champions

DALLAS (AP) — Champions of the 48 previous Southwest Conference track and field meets have been invited to return when the golden anniversary meet is held at College Station Friday and Saturday.

No meet was held in 1917 because of World War I, thus there have been only 48.

The former individual champions will participate in the opening ceremonies of the Saturday finals. They will be joined by all of the varsity and freshman contestants of the eight competing schools and the meet officials.

The first meet was held at Austin May 14, 1915, with Texas a narrow victor over Oklahoma, Texas A&M, Rice, Southwestern, Oklahoma A&M and Baylor were the other teams.

Among the former champions to return is Clyde Littlefield, who developed 25 of Texas' 28 championship teams. He won the high hurdles in 1915.

Three current conference coaches are former champions, while a fourth was a member of a championship relay team.

Emmett Brunson of Rice won the mile and half-mile in 1928, added another mile crown in 1929, then coached Jack Patterson, the Texas coach, to hurdles supremacy in 1936-37.

Homers Pace Tribe Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two-run homers by Chuck Hinton and Rocky Colavito paced the Cleveland Indians to a 7-2 victory over the Washington Senators Saturday.

Max Alvis added a solo homer in the Indians' five-run third-inning rally against Bennie Daniels and reliever Steve Ridzik. Colavito's sacrifice fly and a single by Alvis drove in two more runs in the sixth.

Ruidoso Rainbow Series Meeting With Success

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. — The fascinating Ruidoso Rainbow series is meeting with the sweet success as every other major stakes introduced here.

Inaugurated last year with the running of the $90,000 Rainbow Futurity for 2-year-old quarter horses, the 3-year-old Rainbow Derby version, to be run here Sunday, July 25, will climax the opening doubleheader in this interesting series.

The Rainbow Derby supplants the Ruidoso Quarter Horse Derby and already has served its purpose in making for a better and richer 3-year-old classic for quarter horses.

At this writing, an even 50 sophomores remain eligible for the Rainbow Derby, thus assuring a gross purse of $150,000 if all 50 meet payments due May 1.

To assure another thrilling race, the L. of eligibles includes eight of the 12 youngsters that started the series off to a rousing start in the Rainbow Futurity last fall.

Won by Clarence Scharbauer Jr.'s Double Queen, the first 10 finishers were separated by only seven noses and two heads, and the entire field by less than two lengths.

Other returnees from this straightaway sprint include Neal Folks, Tonto Farr, Bar Tawny, Double Snooper, Merry Go, Oh Kathy Oh, Go Harriett, etc.

As in the case of world champion Jet Deck, a dismal failure here as 2-year-old but king of them all in his 3-year-old career, the Rainbow Derby will provide sophomore incentives for such other candidates as Raffles Pasum, Comet Jr., Nippy Bars, and Top Machine that failed to make the Rainbow Futurity for various reasons, but still remain eligible under these unique conditions.

The second chapter in this series will start with 2-year-olds going after the second running of the Rainbow Futurity here Sunday, Aug. 15.

Fishing License Fees Do Part In Helping Anglers

AUSTIN — J. Weldon Watson, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, reminded fishermen that buying a $2.15 fishing license is not so much a matter of obeying a state law as it is helping raise money to provide even better fishing.

"Actually," said Watson, "the mere purchase of a fishing license makes every one a stockholder in an operation that is designed exclusively to help him attain his own personal recreational objectives."

Watson went on to say that "This is a pretty big operation since we use the money to finance state hatcheries which are the key to restoration work. We use a substantial part of it to match federal aid under the Dingell-Johnson act which returns 75 cents to the state for every 25 cents it puts up. And we use a part to finance our enormous research program which right now for example is striving to add the fighting walleyed pike and northern pike to our vast fresh water areas."

The executive director said "all these $2.15 fees go to make up sizeable working capital," explaining that the 902,000 individual fishing licenses sold last fiscal year ending Aug. 31, netted the department $1,805,000, all to be used for the improvement of fishing.

Watson stressed that under Texas' distinctive universal fishing license law, passed in 1957, salt water as well as fresh water fishermen need licenses. He also emphasized that non-residents pay the same fee as residents and that under the liberal exempt provisions of the law all persons over 65 and under 17 years of age may fish free, whether they are residents or non-residents. Watson estimated at least another 100,000 privileged to fish free because of the age provision.

The executive director suggested a good sportsman's slogan might be: "Don't forget your fishing license because the game warden may check you next!"

Attends Meet

Shown at the spring jobber and dealer meeting, "Challenge of Change," held recently at the Scharbauer Hotel in Midland for Shell jobbers and dealers throughout the West Texas marketing area are: C. D. Byers, sales manager, New Orleans; George Oldham, Oldham Oil Company, Shell jobber in Big Spring; and R. G. Boswell, jobber representative for Shell's West Texas marketing area.

Westex Students Win Scholarships

Two West Texas students have been selected among the 50 winners of scholarships worth $2,000 from the Educational Fund for Children of Phillips Petroleum Co. employees. The awardees for 1965 were selected from 150 candidates who had qualified for the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board on March 6.

The area winners of the scholarships to any accredited college or university of their choosing are Ann Foster, Odessa and Gary Bennett, Midland. Selected as an alternate was William Claxton, son of Mrs. Violet Claxton, Kermit.

Miss Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Foster, is a senior at Permian High School where she is a member of the National Honor Society, Advanced Slide Rule Club, and participates in math honors classes, orchestra and a number of choral groups.

Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Bennett, is a student at Midland High School where he has been a member of six honor classes and is an alternate to the senior advisory committee. He also belongs to the Medical Careers Club, Slide Rule Club, Chemistry Demonstration Club and Key Club.

Each of the 50 scholarship awards provides $500 annually during four years of college attendance, subject to the maintenance of a satisfactory record by the awardee.

The scholarship fund was established in 1939 for the purpose of aiding children of employees of Phillips Petroleum Co. and its subsidiaries in obtaining a college or university education. Approximately 700 young people have obtained education as Phillips scholarship holders, under awards totaling more than one-half million dollars.

towns in 22 states took the 1965 aptitude test. Qualifying students who did not receive scholarships may apply for loans for higher education from a separate educational loan fund.

Webb Sets Open House Saturday

Armed Forces Day will be observed at Webb Air Force Base Saturday, and the theme again this year will be "Power for Peace."

The Armed Forces Day activities at Webb this year will be in conjunction with the graduation of a class of new Air Force pilots, Class 65-G. A review in honor of these new pilots will officially start the observance, which features a spectacular air show.

In the morning air show will be a high-speed pass by Webb's supersonic jet trainer, the T-38 "Talon," and then fly-bys of both the T-38's and the T-37 "Tweetie-Birds." The T-37 is Webb's primary jet trainer. After that will be a fly-by by the world's fastest tactical fighter, the F-4C Phantom II. Next will come a show by Bozo the Clown helicopter, which is a special for children. Closing out the morning show will be a "drop in" by a parachute team from Fort Bliss, Tex.

There will be refreshments in the two display hangars. Between the air shows the aircraft will be on static display on the ramp and in the hangars.

Of special interest will be the display of a Royal Air Force Vulcan bomber, from Great Britain. The Vulcan is a large Delta wing, medium range aircraft. The British crew will be on hand to answer questions pertaining to the aircraft.

The Army's Hawk Missile will be on display also. Specialists will be on hand to discuss use of the missile and to answer questions.

Century series fighters will be on display, including the F-101 Voodoo, the F-102 Delta Dagger, the F-104 Starfighter and the F-106 Delta Dart. Scheduled too are the F-100's and the F-105's.

The afternoon segment of the air show will begin with a fly-by of T-41A aircraft, the new light plane soon to be used in a beginning phase of pilot training. More fly-bys of T-37s, T-38s, F-100 and the F-4C Phantom II, and Bozo the Clown helicopter will make another appearance.

Next will be a special 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron Air Show. The 331st FIS is a squadron of F-104 Starfighters based at Webb Air Force Base.

Spike Jones Dies Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bandleader Spike Jones, 53, a madcap musical rebel who found fame and fortune punctuating songs with pistol shots, fire sirens, dog barks and even hiccups, burps and sneezes, died Saturday.

The sandy-haired entertainer with a sad, square face succumbed in his sleep at 12:30 a.m. at his Bel-Air home. His vocalist and wife, Helen Grayco, and their daughter, Leslie, 13, were at his side.

A spokesman said Jones died of emphysema, a respiratory affliction.

Jones, a professional music mangle who called himself the dandruff in long-hair music, suffered severely from asthma and respiratory illness. He was released three weeks ago after treatment at nearby Santa Monica Hospital for an attack suffered during an engagement at Lake Tahoe.

Spike Jones and his City Slickers became famous in the '40s and '50s with such wild renditions as "Cocktails for Two" (accented with crashing glass and hiccups), "Chloe" (sirens and clanking chains) and "My Old Flame" (more sirens).

The band's instruments included washboards, auto horns, cowbells, kitchen utensils, anvils, small cannon, bird calls, dog barks, burps and raspberries sounded also from an aggregation that included an apparently two-headed drummer.

Besides his wife and daughter Leslie, Jones leaves a son, Spike Jr., 16; a daughter, Gina Marie, 6, and a daughter Linda, 23, by a previous marriage.

Robert J. Bradley Buying Properties

Robert J. Bradley, oilman and financier, has announced his entry into the business of acquiring income producing properties.

Bradley was for years chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Producing Properties, Inc., which made a specialty of buying producing oil and gas properties. That publicly owned organization disposed of all of its properties and went out of business in the fall of 1963. His new firm will operate under the name of Bradley Investment Company.

Arrangements have been made for substantial amounts of equity money to be used in acquisitions. The company has established offices on the 48th floor of the new Republic National Bank Tower.

while supporting the mission of the Air Defense Command. They will give an aerial performance and demonstration.

Another feature of the afternoon will be the Fire Suppression demonstration by the base Air Rescue Service Squadron H43b "Husky" helicopter.

Webb Air Force Base personnel are busy with preparations for the annual open house and anticipate a large crowd.

Paint Horse Show Entries Expected

Entries from throughout the state are expected in Big Spring Saturday for the Texas Paint Stock Horse Club's fourth annual show at the Rodeo Bowl.

Twenty-seven classes of judging will be included in the show, including halter, performance, roping and cutting, and a children's class.

Added attractions this year will be color and costume classes, with the costumes to be judged on the originality of horse and rider.

A special children's event will be a flag race open to children, 16 years and under, with no entry fee charge.

Trophies will be awarded for first place winners in each class and ribbons to the next five places. Trophies will also be presented the grand champion stallion, mare and gelding, with plaques to be awarded the reserve champions. An all-around trophy will also be awarded.

Judge for the show will be J. L. Hedrick, Post. Points earned in the show will count toward annual awards from the club, according to Kenneth Williams, Sterling City Route, secretary.

Classes are to include 1963 through 1965 fillies, 1962 and before mares, stallions, geldings, western pleasure, reining, pole bending, barrel racing, calf roping and cutting. In the children's classes, included are western pleasure, pole bending and barrel racing.

The Texas club is an affiliate of the American Paint Stock Horse Association.

The children's classes are open to any size paint horse and riders 16 years and under.

Entry fees are $3 for children's classes and for the color and costume events; $6 for all others except calf roping and cutting, which will be $16. Events will begin at 1 p.m.

Over 1,700 Due For ISL

AUSTIN (AP)—More than 1,700 pupils will compete in literary and athletic contests here next weekend at the Interscholastic League state meet.

A host of parents, kin, classmates and hometown fans is expected to swell the number of visitors to 5,000 or so.

Competition begins Thursday in some events and ends Saturday night with track events.

The League breakfast and state meeting of delegates will be 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

The first event will be 4:15 p.m. one-act play contests on Thursday for Class B, A and AAA casts.

Debate and tennis competition begin Thursday night.

The meet gets in full swing Friday with a dawn-to-dusk schedule of literary contests plus preliminaries and some finals in tennis, golf and track. Most events, except track, end Saturday morning.

The Interscholastic League press conference will draw more than 600 journalism teachers and pupils. Paul Swenson, executive director of the Wall Street Journal's Newspaper Fund, will speak.

Quinn Named To Scout Council

GARMISCH, Germany (AP)—Lt. Gen. William W. Quinn, commander of the U.S. 7th Army in Europe, was named president Saturday of the Transatlantic Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The council governs the activities of 22,000 scouts in Europe and North Africa.

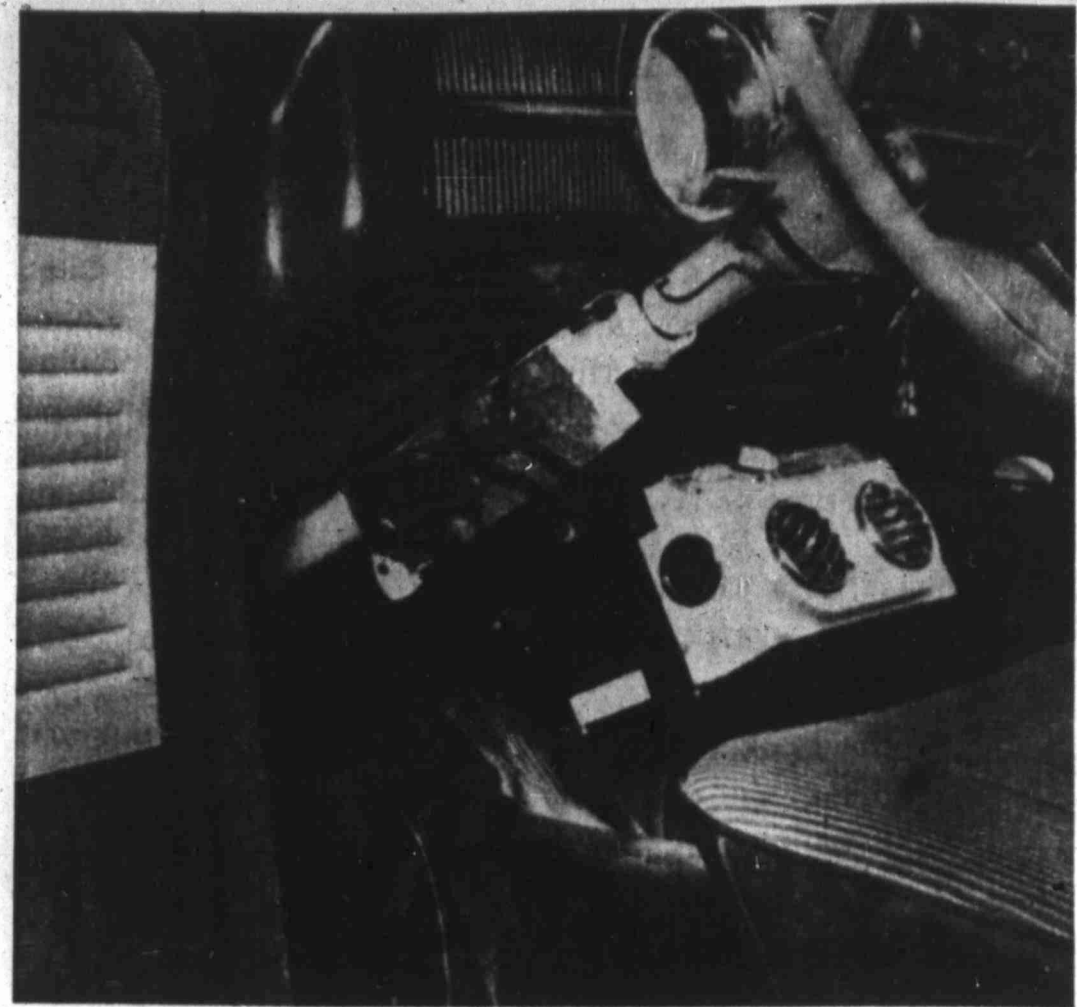

Quinn, of Crisfield, Md., succeeds Lt. Gen. Richard M. Montgomery of Altoona, Pa., vice commander of U.S. Air Force in Europe. The change of command came at a four-day scout workshop conference.

Electra Man Dies Saturday

ELECTRA, Tex. (AP)—H. E. Wilson, 71, long prominent in the grain business, died early Saturday after a short illness.

Wilson established the Wilson Grain Co. here and was a pioneer in establishing movement of grain by transport trucks direct from North and West Texas to the Gulf. He once operated one of the largest fleets of grain trucks in the country.

His widow and a daughter, Mrs. John B. Parks, both of Electra, survive. Services will be held here at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Booby Trap In Car Kills Religious Editor

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An automobile booby trap described by a police officer as a "diabolical mechanism for death" took the life of Houston Chronicle religious news editor Melvin Leon Steakley Saturday.

Police said Steakley was shot in the chest with a bullet from a pistol taped to the steering column of his small late-model red Volkswagen.

They said another wire connected the trigger to the clutch pedal and Steakley apparently fired the weapon when he pressed the pedal.

Fellow workers and church leaders said they knew of no enemies of the quiet, hard-working reporter.

Police uncovered no immediate motive. They did not rule out a possible mistake slaying as thousands of the small red cars are owned by Harris County residents.

They said Steakley did not have press tags on the car. The tags, issued to Houston newsmen by the police, allow them certain privileges.

"Whatever the reason for this," said Police Lt. C. B. Massey, "it is one of the most diabolical mechanisms for death I have ever seen."

He said the wires were neatly twisted and clipped. He said the underside of the dashboard appeared to have been wiped clean.

Massey said police found no fingerprints on the .32-caliber pistol or bullets remaining in the five-shot weapon.

Steakley, 37, father of five, staggered 30 feet after the shooting before he collapsed and died on a downtown street.

Steakley's car was parked 24 blocks from the Chronicle building where he worked late Friday night supervising the makeup of a tabloid church section for Saturday's editions.

George G. Guy, 56, a chemical company employe, said he was waiting for a bus about 1 a.m. when he heard someone cry out for help "about four times."

He said he stepped around the corner and saw a man lying on the sidewalk.

Active all his life in the Baptist church, Steakley began teaching Sunday school at 16.

He was born in Godley, Tex., and attended Texas Christian and Baylor universities.

He served as editor of the Irving (Tex.) News and the Pasadena, (Tex.) Citizen before joining the Chronicle in 1961.

He met his wife at Baylor University. They have three girls and two boys, ranging in age from 2 to 15 years.

Wildcat Gas Wells Increase

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission said Saturday 373 wildcat gas wells have been drilled this year, compared with 283 last year. Nine oil wildcats came in.

Oil, Gas Price Controls On IPA Discussion List

By MAX B. SKELTON DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Oil and natural gas price controls will be among the chronic problems to be discussed the next three days by the nation's independent oil operators.

About 1,000 oilmen from nearly 40 states will attend the mid-year policy drafting session of the 7,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America.

It will be the trade group's first session since the annual meeting last October in Houston, where the imports policy committee, with heated debate, deliberated 7 hours and 45 minutes.

H. A. True Jr., national president from Casper, Wyo., made indirect reference to the rather stormy session in his official call for the Denver meeting.

True said several committees and subcommittees have specific assignments at Houston will report findings and recommendations here. Then he added:

"Despite its age and wear, there is still basic truth in the 'unity' and 'strength' parallel."

BEST METHOD Representatives of several state and regional groups sought at Houston to have the national association abandon traditional policy and endorse a direct or indirect tariff as the best method for controlling oil imports.

The national body reaffirmed its policy of seeking tighter import restrictions by executive order but it authorized True and other officers to go to Congress if necessary.

Members also rejected a motion that would have denied voting privileges to importers serving the association's policy committees, an issue that had been smoldering since mid-1964.

Two special subcommittees that may make their first reports here have been studying the effects of offshore Louisiana federal lease oil production on the domestic market and tax discrimination or nondiscrimination between foreign and domestic producers.

Results of a mid-March Interior Department hearing failed to include a 275,000 barrels a day imports rollback sought by the independents. The Defense Department agreed, however, to buy from domestic sources about 30,000 barrels a day in military petroleum products now being purchased from foreign sources.

Residents Invited To Tour State Hospital Here Today

Approximately 75 individuals and families Saturday took advantage of the guided tours offered at the Big Spring State Hospital in observance of Texas Mental Health Week, May 1-8.

Tours will again be offered today beginning at 1 p.m. Starting points for the tours will be the Weaver Building. Signs will guide visitors to the building once on the hospital grounds.

The tours will include a trip through the physical and surgical facilities of the Weaver Building and the recreational facilities of the Allred Building. The musical, physical and occupational therapy wards will be open to the public, and visitors may take a tour of the alcoholic ward if desired. The tours will start every hour from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

At the end of each tour, lectures will be given in the hospital's central dining room by Dr. Frankie Williams and Robert Van Rosenberg of the Los Angeles staff. Dr. Williams will speak on "What you should do when mental illness enters your home" and Von Rosenberg will speak on "rehabilitation of the mentally ill." Refreshments will be served following the lectures.

Tuesday the hospital will hold its annual employee service awards ceremony. Also to be presented at this time is the psychiatric aide of the year award. Activities are due to get under way at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Allred Building.

One of the highlights of the tours has been the viewing of Powell's Miniature Circus. The circus is made up of more than 30,000 individual pieces, all approximately one-half-inch scale.

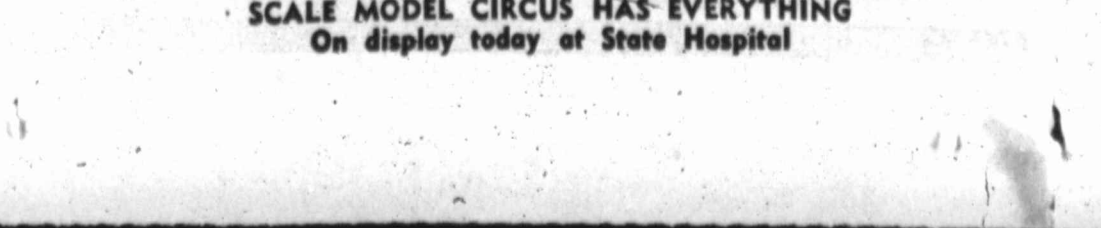

It takes more than five hours to set the circus up, and it requires a 10 by 18 foot platform to hold it.

The figures of people, animals, trucks, rides and other parts of the circus are made from a variety of parts including scrap wood and anti-freeze cans. More than 5,000 hours of labor have been put into the circus and it is not yet complete.

The miniature "Big Top" is made of real tent material and houses the high wire, trapeze, bear act, dog show, elephants, clowns and other attractions.

Back of the "Big Top" is the private life of the circus people as shown by the cook tents and living quarters. The circus includes 136 horses, 162 circus animals, 18 cages, 20 baggage wagons, seven floats, five trucks, four trailers, a wardrobe trailer, generator trailer, 107 cloths and a number of railroad cars.

The show is lighted by 120 light bulbs the size used on automobile dashboards. Eleven electric motors keep the circus moving and the majority of the acts and rides are animated.

All diked out in their selling togs, New Car Salesmen, Bill Emerson, Art Blossingame, Walter Smith, David Hodnett, Jackie Hopper, Ford Caperton, Jimmy Felts and C. Y. Clinkscales, are pictured with New Car Sales Manager Jack Lamb. They're all peeved at dealer, Bill Pollard, for setting their quota too low. Jack Lamb says, "Why that's only 25 more units than the Used Car Department's Quota. We're going to beat them 75 units."

The "HOT SHOTS"

Pictured with Used Car Sales Manager, H. J. "Red" Holland, are Used Car Salesmen, Buster Davidson, Bo Crawford, Gene Allen, Richard Pachall and Skeeter Collins. Red Holland says "Beat us 75 units?! why they won't beat us 25 units, in fact, we're going to sell more used cars in May and June, than the New Car Department does new cars. Why we're so "red hot" that our ties and pants have turned red."

Keynote For Living

By JO BRIGHT

National Music Week, which always begins on the first Sunday in May and continues through Mother's Day, will be observed for the 42nd year on May 29 under the sponsorship of the National Federation of Music Clubs, a non-profit organization dedicated to music. This year's theme is "Make Music Your Keynote for Living." "Music is the language of all peoples and one of the greatest forces in creating peace and harmony," Mayor George Zachariah noted in proclaiming May 29 as National Music Week in Big Spring.

"The National Federation of Music Clubs—dedicated to encouraging young

THE MADRIGAL SINGERS, a specialized group within the Big Spring High School Choir, was formed this year by Mel Ivey, director, and has been heard on various programs including the school's recent stage production of "Hamlet." The group hopes to acquire period costumes for use in the future. Shown on the front row are Cynthia Pond, Larry Harp and Barbara Cook. In the second row are Pat Hamilton, Sheryl Gambill and Dick Sweeden, and the back row is composed of Dan Hal Haney, Virginia Cloclazer and Benny Benson.

MAKING MUSIC their keynote for living are members of the Music Study Club who form the National Music Week Committee. Headed by Mrs. H. M. Jarratt left, they are Mrs. J. L. Christensen and Mrs. L. L. Beauvais, standing, and Mrs. Rene Brown, seated. Planning this week's programs with them is Don Martin, choir director at Goliad Junior High School.

LADIES PLANNING A LUNCHEON are Mrs. C. B. Marcum, Mrs. Harrol Jones and Mrs. Delnor Pass. With them, right, is Miss Marilyn Lawson, who has received the Music Study Club's scholarship to Howard County Junior College. She will be an honored guest at the Saturday luncheon at Holiday Inn, where the guest speaker will be Mrs. J. S. Knauer of Midland, district president for the National Federation of Music Clubs.

PLEASED TO PERFORM for programs at the service clubs this week are members of the Music Study Club who are also requested to assist in musical affairs throughout the year. Having a practice session are Mrs. J. L. Manes, pianist, and from left, standing are Mrs. David Shaw, Mrs. Charles Beil and Mrs. Gerald Terreau.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC fills band halls as hundreds of students are encouraged to further their musical education with the benefit of instruction and facilities offered by the public school system. At Big Spring Senior High School, band members practice their parts daily under the direction of Doug Weihe, and occasionally find time for a little informal warm-up before serious playing begins. Tuning up here are Dale Pless, Beth Weeks, Linda Fenley, John Green and Jonnie Goswick.

SECTION C
BIG SPRING, TEXAS
SUNDAY, MAY 2, 1965

Speaks At Luncheon

Admiring the unique centerpiece at the home demonstration club Friday luncheon are Mrs. Neil Norred, Mrs. C. R. Berkley and Miss Patsy Reynolds. Mrs. Norred, a member of the City HD Club, served as chairman for this year's luncheon, and Mrs. Berkley is the state president from Odessa. Miss Reynolds was the guest speaker and is the Family Life Specialist from Texas A&M University. The luncheon theme was "Old Folks At Home."

HD Luncheon Speaker Explores Retirement

"Mutual understanding of problems, and humor in some situations are necessary ingredients in co-existence with the elderly," said Miss Patsy Reynolds, guest speaker at the Friday luncheon sponsored by the Howard County Home Demonstration Club Council. The theme of the Big Spring Country Club luncheon was "Old Folks At Home," and it was attended by 80 representatives of the area HD clubs and their honored guests.

Miss Reynolds, Family Life Specialist from Texas A&M University explained that care of senior citizens reflects the attitudes accumulated during life. "If a child is taught respect for other people, he will also develop understanding of problems as he grows older," said Miss Reynolds.

She stressed that all adults should prepare for retirement by developing activities and varied interests outside the home or job.

Honored guests were Mrs. C. R. Berkley, state president of the HD clubs; Lee Porter, Howard County judge; Ray C. Nichols, county commissioner, and Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Davidson. He is also a county commissioner.

Mrs. Keith Lloyd Honored At Party

Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Burton, 811 W. 7th, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Melva Joyce, to Thomas H. Toy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Toy of Clifton Heights, Penn. The wedding is scheduled for June 5 in the Eleventh Place and Birdwell Lane Church of Christ with Richard Williams, minister, officiating.

COAHOMA (SC)—Mrs. Keith Lloyd was honored Tuesday with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Tommy Williams.

Cobhostesses were Mrs. Elton Davis and Mrs. Edward King. A corsage of baby socks was presented to Mrs. Lloyd.

Fifteen guests were served from a table covered with a pink cloth with an overlay of lace centered with a stork.

Meticulous Woman Can Shed Years

With proper skin care and use of make-up today, there is little need for a woman 45 and older to appear 10 to 20 years older than she is. There is little excuse for a 20 century woman not to have clean, well-groomed hair and a sparkling, clear complexion.

The older woman does have special make-up problems. Often these stem from not knowing what colors now flatter her skin tone the most. If you are fair and once were a blonde or a light brunette, choose foundation and face powder with pink tones. Use rose beige tone shades if you were a true brunette.

The new brush-on rouges check many mature women from putting too much rouge in round ugly spots. Brush rouge over your foundation from the hollow of the cheeks, over the cheekbones and toward the temple. Then apply powder over this with a cotton ball and brush away excess.

Select light delicate lipsticks such as pinks or soft reds. These are more in keeping with the mature woman's skin tone. Harsh lipstick tones, blotches of rouge and heavy eye make-up detract from rather than enhance her complexion.

Drapery Cleaning

Before cleaning draperies, mark each pair with a different color thread. It makes matching them a simple job when re-hanging.

Plans Told

Mr. and Mrs. John Collerson Mott, Stanton, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Nettie Jean, to Richard Daniel Scudder. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Scudder, 330 Harman, Duncanville. The wedding will be performed at 7:30 o'clock, July 18, in the First Baptist Church at Stanton.

Water Seedlings With Gentle Care

Never pour water on small seedlings in window boxes in such a manner that you wash the tiny plants away.

Instead, use a wet sponge and squeeze it over the tiny plants in droplets too small to damage fragile plants.

Society Sets May Date For Picnic

A picnic supper was planned for May 11 when the Big Spring Organ Society met Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at 607 Gregg. Mrs. I. G. Hudson conducted the business meeting as the group agreed to discontinue meeting during the summer months. The picnic will be held at the Pat Boatler home in Silver Heels.

The program, "Teaching Tips," was given by George Laubmeier, who distributed instruction sheets and played favorite selections requested by members.

Six new members were welcomed.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Preheat Casseroles For Quick Cooking

Dear Folks:

If you are in a hurry to make scalloped potatoes, meat loaf, etc., try this method whether you use one of those new freezer-to-oven dishes or a cast iron skillet.

After mixing your ingredients, put the casserole over a low fire on your stove until the bowl and all of its contained vittles are warm and THEN put it in your oven.

Do you know it will start cooking faster? Wow! Try it.

The reason is: you usually put a cold bowl and its contents into the oven, and it will not start cooking until the contents get warm.

By heating it first, it starts cooking immediately because it takes very few minutes for your oven to reach its proper degree.

I leave the baking dish on top of the burner until the food barely starts to bubble, then pop it in the oven.

Saves time especially when I'm in a hurry. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is an idea that might help the busy mother of little girls when shampooing day comes around:

Buy an adjustable, lean-back, canvas lawn chair (child's size). Place the chair in the bathtub, then with a rolled up towel for a neckpad and a shower hose (from the dime store), the child can lean back and enjoy her shampoo, just like in the beauty parlor. . . . Nancy R. LaRive

Dear Heloise:

Frequently, a letter appears in your column asking about the removal of odors in homes.

There is one product that I have found to be more effective than any other . . . oil of wintergreen.

This oil is marvelous to keep the house free from stale odor of tobacco. If a small amount is placed on a wad of cotton, it will absorb all smoking odors.

Another wad of cotton soaked in wintergreen can be placed in a clothes closet. In the kitchen, it eliminates odors from frying or when cooking cauliflower or cabbage.

Everyone who comes in remarks on the fresh clean smell of my house.

A pat of appreciation for your column from . . . Pat

Dear Heloise:

I have three towels on my kitchen wall—one for the dishes, one for the hands, and one for the glasses, cups and teaspoons.

The latter is not of cotton, but of pure linen, in order to keep the glasses lint-free, crystal-clear, and diamond sparkling. . . . N.M.

Dear Heloise:

I wear bifocals for reading, but they get in the way when I'm cooking.

I keep a large magnifying

MRS. HERBERT HARRELL HICKS

Couple Recites Vows In Dallas Ceremony

Miss Tommie Sue Lovelace at the hemline. A detachable and Herbert Harrell Hicks exchanged wedding vows at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in Forest Chapel of Oak Lawn Methodist Church in Dallas. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Fred B. Edgar before an altar graced by candelabra flanked by baskets of white carnations and gladioli interspersed with green foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Lee Lovelace, 711 Washington Blvd., and Mrs. John B. Hicks, 2516 Lester, Texarkana. Miss Frances Willard, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Doug Clemens, Big Spring, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

SILK ORGANZA
Accompanied to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerna-length wedding gown fashioned of silk organza combined with hand-clipped French Chantilly lace. The molded bodice, fashioned of lace, featured a square scalloped neckline and fitted lace sleeves that extended below the elbows. The bouffant skirt of silk organza gave a cutaway effect at the center front and opened to reveal a center panel of lace. A lace scalloped banding edged each side of the skirt and extended to edge the skirt from Wesleyan College at Fort Worth.

He is a graduate of East Texas State College at Commerce where his fraternity was Delta Sigma Phi. In June he will enter Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University.

RECEPTION

Parents of the bride and bridegroom and the attendants joined the honored couple in greeting guests at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The refreshment table was covered with white lace lined with taffeta, and centered with an altar basket filled with white carnations and gladioli. Silver and crystal appointments were used in serving the three-tiered white cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Small white and blue roses edged the cake.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Travis Roten, and members of the house party were Miss Wilma LaMee and Miss Nancy Emola.

Cutting Answer

To successfully cut either fresh cake or bread without it crumbling, dip a thin bladed knife in hot water and dry. Then

Presidents Honored By BPO Does

Past presidents of the BPO Doest were honored at 7 p.m. Wednesday during a salad supper held at the Elks Lodge.

Mrs. A. B. Jenkins presided, introducing the honorees as Mrs. Glen Gale, Mrs. Joe Clark, Mrs. Bill Rogers, Mrs. O. L. Grandstaff and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins.

During the business session, Mrs. L. D. Coff served as chaplain. Reports were given by the card, membership, entertainment and ways and means chairmen. The new jewels of office were worn by the participants for the first time.

The women agreed to sell Texas recipes books as a fund-raising project.

Tentative plans were made for a Mother-Daughter banquet which will be under the direction of Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Clark.

Refreshments were served and Mrs. Hugh Nixon's name was called for the attendance prize.

Mesquite Turns Into Money Tree

A mesquite tree sprouted money in a Friday afternoon farewell party for Mrs. Curtis Roberts. The party was given by the teachers of the Airport Elementary School.

The school auditorium was the scene of the surprise party that was attended by 23 teachers. Refreshments were served by Mrs. John R. Harley and Mrs. Otis McBride.

Artist Plans Exhibit Today In Coahoma

COAHOMA (SC) — Cecile Adams Foster of Sudan will present an exhibition of paintings and crafts at the Coahoma Insurance Office, today.

Mrs. Foster is well known in Lubbock where she has been active in art circles for ten years. Since 1955, when the South Plains Art Guild sponsored her in a group showing of paintings at the West Texas Museum in Lubbock, she has participated in both competitive and invitational exhibitions presented by the Texas Water-color Society; Texas Fine Arts Association; Beaumont Art Museum; Delgado Museum of New Orleans; Sun Carnival, El Paso; Kaguna Gloria Museum, Austin; Lubbock Women's Club; Helen Kendall King Museum, San Angelo; Women's Club, Midland; Fine Art Center, Canyon; and West Texas State University Library, Canyon.

Although Cecile Foster has gained wide acclaim as a watercolorist, her dynamic oil paintings are also included in numerous permanent collections, including that of the Roswell Fine Arts Center, Roswell, N.M. In the current show viewers will see techniques used to create the vivid hues of old Mexico which depict the subjects that Mrs. Foster sketched on her recent trips to San Miguel.

The public is invited to attend the showing of Mrs. Foster's work from 2 to 5 p.m.

The egg came before the chicken. Birds are and offshoot of reptile stock that was laying eggs millions of years before the first prehistoric bird flew, the National Geographic says.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Sets Date

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown, 5646 Beach St., Riverside, Calif., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Diana Christina, to Richard B. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark, 790 Tulane. The couple plans to be married August 11.

Keynote

musicians, to increasing musical knowledge and to advancing American music—is joining forces to direct attention to the dynamic influence of music in every day living. Therefore, I call upon all our citizens to reflect upon the importance of music in our lives and to take part in the activities of this special week as a means of enriching the cultural life of our city," he said.

The Music Study Club is leading the local observance of National Music Week by participating in or arranging musical programs for various groups.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, club members will appear at Bennett House to perform to the accompaniment of Mrs. Louis Heinze, pianist. Mrs. Carl Bradley will be heard in vocal solos, and a vocal sextet will be Mrs. B. F. Meacham, Mrs. L. L. Beauvais, Mrs. Gerald Terreau, Mrs. Harro! Jones, Mrs. John Arnold and Mrs. J. L. Christensen. Performing in a duet will be Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Terreau.

At 3 o'clock, patients at the state hospital will be entertained with vocal numbers by Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Terreau and the sextet. Their accompanist will be Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, and Mrs. Heinze will present a piano solo.

Patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital will hear club members Tuesday at 2 o'clock. On the program will be Mrs. James Manes, pianist, and Mrs. Rene Brown, vocal soloist. A saxophone solo will be given by Mrs. Charles Bell.

Appearances at service clubs and the TV station will be made by high school band members, under the direction of Doug Wiehe, and high school choir members, under the direction of Mel Ivey. Other performers will be Mrs. David Shaw, vocalist, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Manes, and saxophone numbers will be heard from Mrs. Bell.

Saturday's observance will be a club luncheon at Holiday Inn where Mrs. J. S. Knauer, Midland, district president, will be the guest speaker. An honored guest will be Marilyn Lawson, the club scholarship student at Howard County Junior College.

Climaxing the week will be the Sunday concert at 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium when a program will be presented by choirs from Goliad and Runnels Junior high schools.

'Dry' Shampooing

An easy way to prepare "dry" suds for shampooing upholstery is to beat up a mixture of soap or detergent with a little warm water. Make sure the lather is so stiff that no liquid remains at the bottom of the bowl.

LORS during the week. Last weekend Mrs. Taylor was in Dallas where her granddaughter, Jane Cave of Roby, opened the state FHA meeting. Thursday the Taylors and the John Taylors along with Cynthia and John Jr. were in O'Donnell where a grandson, Fenn Taylor, played the leading role in the high school play.

MR. AND MRS. J. C. PICKLE have returned from a business trip to El Paso. While there they enjoyed being with former residents, MR. AND MRS. BILL GRAY who asked to be remembered to their many friends here.

Coahoma 4-H Club Hears Talk

COAHOOMA (SC) — The 4-H Club met Monday evening at the high school library with Elaine Webb presiding. A talk and demonstration on "Money Management" was given by Martha Couch of Gay Hill and a demonstration on "Tractor Safety" was given by Bruce Nichols and Kelly Gaskins of the Knott 4-H Club.

Refreshments were served to the three adult leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webb and Mrs. Harold Harrington, and to the 19 members, eight adults and ten visitors.

Decorator Uses Common Salt

Common table salt is used by decorators to hold artificial flowers in an arrangement. Pour the salt into the container, pour cold water over the salt, and arrange the flowers one at a time. When the salt dries, it solidifies and holds the flowers in a permanent arrangement.

Revolving Rack

If your closet is small, a revolving clothes rack such as those used in department stores will help you to save space. These now are available in sizes small enough to permit you to double your present clothes-hanging capacity.

Plans For May Day Fellowship Banquet

WESTBROOK (SC) — Plans were made for a May Day fellowship banquet in the Monday afternoon meeting by the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service. The Rev. C. T. Jackson completed his program of study on the book of Genesis. Mrs. D. B. Humphreys returned home Friday from Dallas where she had undergone medical care. Mrs. Mollie Van Horn and Mrs. Pauline O'Keefe of Odessa were here Sunday afternoon visiting Mrs. Margaret Powell who is in Root Memorial Hospital. Guests in the Sam Scroggins home during the weekend were his mother, Mrs. W. L. Carnahan of Plains, and James Burleson and children, Chuck and Debbie, of Odessa. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ferguson and Kenneth of Lubbock visited in the Attila Clemmer home Sunday.

Limit Wash Load

When laundering wash-and-wear, it is desirable to limit the machine load to half its normal capacity. The less crowding during sudsing and rinsing, the less chance of setting wrinkles.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLI HARTZOG
Election time is here again, and although we do not require poll tax, we do require payment of dues before voting, so be sure your husband has not pinched pennies and pre-empted the privilege of your picking the people you prefer. Deadline on luncheon reservations is Tuesday noon and the meeting will be a closed one, that is, members only. Taking reservations are Mrs. D. L. Frederick AM 3-4769, and Mrs. R. F. Vega AM 4-4547. Voting may be done at the door beginning at 12:30 p.m. but in so doing you miss out on the chance of voting for nominees from the floor. The candidates for president have now dwindled to just two, Mrs. Tim Thomas and Mrs. Glenn Phillips, due to possible transfer of the third candidate, Mrs. R. L. Counts. Transfers usually seem to pick the most inopportune moments when it comes to organizing the OWC.

half the fun of military life. The luncheon guests did celebrate in style amid spring bouquets and luscious confections of ripe strawberries and whipped cream.
Tuesday at noon the Panhellenic Group will sponsor a luncheon at Holiday Inn for members of national sororities which are affiliated with National Panhellenic Council. If you are in doubt whether your sorority is an eligible one, call Mrs. M. R. Koger, AM 4-5864, who is also the reservations chairman for the affair. Several Webb wives are already in the group and are anxious to meet more of their sorority sisters from other colleges and universities.

TRANSFERRED
Transfers have also done some unsettling in the Student Squadron and that group soon will lose three of its longer staying members. Mrs. James Marlin and Mrs. Alan Grill depart soon for San Antonio, and Mrs. S. E. Berry leaves soon for Indiana, although that is a transfer to civilian life, too. These ladies were honored with a spring luncheon at Mrs. R. C. Hammerle's home at Ent Drive. As the occasion of departing friends is unfortunate, the event was attended by the unlucky number of thirteen guests. Most of us are resigned to the losing of friends in the military and of course there is always the chance of bumping into them again in some unexpected place or time which is

There were some strange noises heard recently on Gunter Drive but on investigation proved to be guests heading for a soiree at the home of Capt. and Mrs. James Marlin. The noises were caused by artful dodging of neighborhood ducklings, small bunnies, and the Marlin's dog who was vainly watching the tempting morsels go by. It seems that neighborhood has a bunch of soft-hearted parents whose children in turn were able to wheedle their little hearts' desires for Easter. Once safely inside the Marlin home, the guests were able to relax, wine and dine and view the proceedings with little alarm. Original plans called for the party to be held on the patio but it seemed better all things considered to withdraw to safer, quieter rooms. For all of that, it turned out to be a lively and successful evening for all concerned.

ORIENTATION
Family Services is sponsoring an orientation May 4 and 5 from 9 a.m. until 12 o'clock noon at the Service Club. Free nursery and refreshments will be available.

Mrs. Sidney Long Presents Recital

Piano students of Mrs. Sidney Long of Gall were heard in recital at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of the high school at Gall. Those awarded silver trophies were Brenda Jackson and Diana Curry, and others who performed were Jerri Hodnett, Sandra Hancock and Nora Clayton Linda Perry, all voice students, also was heard on the program.

MRS. FRANK T. MARTINEZ

Miss Chavez Weds Frank T. Martinez

In a morning ceremony Saturday at St. Thomas Catholic Church Miss Grace Chavez became the bride of Frank T. Martinez.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Martinez of 1902 N. Runnels St. and Mr. and Mrs. Arcenio Chavez, 3916 Victoria, Abilene.

The altar was decorated with an arch of white flowers trimmed with the crest with white wedding bells. The background was of fern and other greenery.

The Rev. Robert McDermott officiated.

Mrs. Leslie Green was organist for the nuptial ceremony.

FORMAL GOWN
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie fashioned with scoop neckline, molded bodice and long sleeves that tapered over the hands. The bodice was trimmed with Alencon lace motifs and fastened with covered buttons. The detachable train was held to the modified belle skirt. A peau de soie bandeau bow lavished with lace and pearls held a pure silk butterfly veil. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with an orchid corsage.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Albert Deanda, wore a white floor-length brocade dress fashioned with a scooped neckline and cap sleeves and short jacket. Miss Aurora Morales, Miss Betty Dominguez, Miss Lupe Martinez, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Sulen Yanez and Miss Beatrice Torres were bridesmaids and wore floor length pink dresses. The junior maids, Rosalinda Zubiate and Josie Mendez wore aqua dresses in the fashion of the bridesmaids.

Albert Deanda was best man and groomsmen were Luis Sanchez of Midland, Humberto Hernandez, Manuel Gutierrez, John Fierro and Adolfo Larez.

Cathy Chavez, the bride's niece, was the ringbearer.

When the couple departed for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a lime knit suit with white accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will make a home at 206 NE Tenth St., when they return here.

The bride is a senior at Big Spring High School and will graduate this month. The bridegroom graduated from the local high school and is attending Howard County Junior College. He is employed at the Big Spring State Hospital.

RECEPTION
Following the ceremony guests were received by the parents and the bridal couple at a reception at noon held in the church hall. Mrs. Tony Chavez registered the guests. Refreshments were served from a table covered in white lace and centered by an arrangement of white carnations. A three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal pair. Serving punch and cake were Mrs. F. E. Morales, Mrs. Juana Vera, Mrs. R. G. Savala, Mrs. G. U. S. Ochotorena and Mrs. Manuela Trevino.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Savala and Mrs. R. G. Savala and Mrs. Mary Lou Mulendore, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Pool and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Martinez, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Rufino Corrales, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Benny Padilla and Nancy Sosa of Amarillo.

Furniture 'Eyed' By Newlyweds

June brides-to-be and their grooms will soon be furnishing their first homes. Often they have limited budgets and space, and buy their furnishings with a view to using them later as "extra" pieces when they move into larger homes.

Correlated mix-match chests and cabinets and sectional sofas are a good choice for the budget-minded couple. Particularly if their first home is small, these pieces can be lined up and stacked along one or two walls, taking up a minimum of room and providing a maximum of storage space. They can be arranged to fit rooms of any size or shape.

One typical arrangement is to start with two corner sectional love seats and working outward along each wall, add tables, cabinets, desk, chests and bookshelves in stacked units that look built-in.

Art Pupils Hold Tea

An art tea for students was given by Mrs. Ira Raley Friday evening. One hundred paintings were on display and an original water color decorated the registration book.

The table was covered with felt and net with a center-piece of an artist palette using spring flowers instead of paint.

Cohostesses were Mrs. John Annen, Mrs. Billy Cooney, Mrs. Ray McCann, Mrs. Charles Wash, Mrs. Bob Wash, Mrs. Paul Gaden, Mrs. Bob Simpson, Mrs. Martin L. Lewis, Mrs. Frosty Robison, Mrs. Joe Meador and Mrs. Wanda Collier. Miss Linda Meador assisted with the registration book.

Sound Of Music Marks New Era

The sound of music marks the fourth dimensional challenge presented by today's home interiors.

With 35 million amateur musicians making their own music and homes abounding with radio, stereo and hi-fi, the modern home often assumes the character of a series of miniature concert halls.

MARY MARGARET GARY

Miss Gary Competes For Maid Of Cotton

Miss Mary Margaret Gary, school annual, secretary of the Big Spring's 1964 Maid of Cotton, will be in Lubbock Monday and Tuesday to compete in the 1965 South Plains Maid of Cotton selection. The competition is a preliminary to the 1966 National Maid of Cotton selection to be held by the National Cotton Council in Memphis, Tenn., in late December of this year. The winner of the South Plains contest is an automatic finalist in the national selection.

Miss Gary, 19, a junior at North Texas State University, is the daughter of Mrs. Cornelia Gary, 1510 Nolan, a faculty member at Goliad Junior High School. She graduated from Big Spring Senior High School in 1963 and for a year was a student at Howard County Junior College.

ACTIVITIES

While in high school here, Miss Gary was art editor of the

Ladylike 'Look'

Ladylike handbags are somewhat smaller this spring, with rounded lines, jewelry-like closings and longer handles.

At the junior college, she was secretary of the freshman class and the Lasso Club, and was a member of the Shorthand Club. While there, too, she was named Ranch Queen by the freshman class.

She is majoring in advertising art at North Texas and is a member of the Student Association of Advertising Designers. She holds membership in the Women's Forum, also. While in

New Agent Will Work In Dawson

LAMESA—Mrs. Mildred Medlock will become the home demonstration agent for Dawson County on June 1, according to Mrs. Aubrey W. Russell, of Lubbock, district agent.

The new agent will replace Miss Bula Moudy, who is resigning May 31 to resume her work on an advanced degree at Texas Technological College.

Mrs. Medlock will work on an in-service training basis in Dawson County during May, Mrs. Russell said.

She was an Extension Home Management Specialist for the High Plains area for two years prior to her marriage to Kenneth Medlock, a resident of Lamesa.

Before working for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Mrs. Medlock served as a county home demonstration agent for two years in Lane County, Kans.

Mrs. Medlock holds a BS degree in Home Economics Education from Oklahoma A&M and an MS degree in the same field from Texas Tech College. She is a member of the American Home Economics Association, the Texas Home Economics Association, and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society.

Luncheon Honors Scout Leaders

A Girl Scout appreciation luncheon was held Thursday at the Cosden Country Club. Thirty-seven leaders from Big Spring and Lamesa were honored. Dancers from the Big Spring High School production of "Music Man" presented the program, and Mr. John Thomas gave a narration of the Broadway show.

Mrs. D. M. Costlow was mistress of ceremonies, and special guests were Mrs. Dick Ream, Mrs. Dick Wilson, Mrs. Gloria Zeriga and Mrs. Larson Lloyd.

Party Honors 1965 Graduates

Miss Sarah McWhorter was honored Saturday morning with a graduation cola party in the home of Mrs. Travis Carlton. Cohostess was Mrs. R. W. Andrews, and 25 were included on the guest list.

The centerpiece was a red rooster surrounded by red carnations and set on a blue table cloth. In the social hour, the girls told of their plans for the coming year and discussed a blue ribbon abstract flower arrangement.

Gonnie Carleton assisted in serving.

Founder's Day Banquet Held

"Girl of the Year" awards were made at the Beta Sigma Phi Founder's Day Banquet held Thursday evening at Cosden Country Club. Mrs. Rayford Gillihan, city council president, was mistress of ceremonies, and the banquet theme was "Invitation to Life."

Mrs. Ray Granbery, president of Mu Zeta Chapter presented the award to Mrs. Melvin Clark, and Mrs. Charles Dodson, president of Beta Omicron Chapter, gave the award to Mrs. Jimmy Taylor.

The BSP grace was worded by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Bob Kennemer gave the Founder's Day pledge. Mrs. Wade Choate read a message from the founder, Walter W. Ross.

Guest speaker for the evening was Roy Thurston, superintendent of the Garden City public schools, who was introduced by Mrs. Don Bailey.

The centerpiece for the head table was formed of cut flowers in shades of blue, orchid and white arranged with a small blue umbrella. The three BSP candles burned in black holders, and plate favors were small white umbrellas entwined with orchid and blue ribbons and flowers. Approximately 40 attended.

Suits Look Sporty

Shaping up in the sportswear picture are suit looks—jackets, skirts and tops to put together with ease.

Jackets are cut longer, in take-your-pick designs, including belted and skinny, open and blazer, or precisely detailed and tailored. Some jackets show up sleeveless, the better to show off blouses with important, fuller sleeves and pretty neckline interest.

Spring's gentle, graceful motion is marvelously built into the coordinated skirts, which take their ease with gathers, low-placed flounces, pleats galore.

Baptist WMS Plans Mission Book Study

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Hoyt Roberts, president, presided during a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society at the Baptist Church Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Paul Byrd had charge of the program with Mrs. Homer Rice, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Charles Ranne assisting. Plans were made to study the mission book, "Go Home and Tell," in the near future.

The night circle of Woman's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Sam Scroggins. Mrs. Al Burkhardt gave the call to prayer and Mrs. Johnny Shackelford had charge of the program, "The Baptist World Alliance." Taking part on the program were Mrs. Shackelford, Mrs. Ralph Bryant, Mrs. Attila Clemmer, Mrs. Sam Scroggins, Mrs. Burkhardt, and Mrs. Herman Parsons. Plans were made to mark the plan of salvation in Bibles for distribution.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchins and family of Post visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hutchins at Lake Colorado City and in the Attila Clemmer home on Friday and Saturday. Doris Sweet was a guest in the W. C. Hutchins home Saturday.

Mrs. Altis Clemmer and Curtis Clemmer made a business trip to Abilene Friday.

Cutest Ham In Town Now Has Her License

By SAM BLACKBURN
In the colorful argot of the amateur radio clan, the abbreviation YL means that the voice coming through the receiver is that of a "young lady."

Hams in this area and in adjacent states, who happen to tune in on W5KQM will readily realize they are talking to a YL, but they will probably be astonished to learn just what a very "young lady" she is.

For the proud owner of Amateur Radio W5KQM is Miss Deborah D. Rives—better known as Debbie. Debbie has attained the ripe old age of 11 years and undoubtedly is one of the youngest ham radio operators in the area, and certainly one of the youngest girl hams to be found anywhere.

SIXTH GRADER

Debbie, a sixth grader at South Ward school, is the daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Marvin T. Rives, 3512 Drexel. She received her conditional amateur radio license only a week ago. She took the difficult examination about a month earlier with Lorraine Sims, (W5NUP) as examiner.

She qualified among other things as a radio telegrapher capable of sending and receiving 13 words a minute in International Morse code. She had to answer a long list of technical questions about radio and radio transmission.

The answers she gave, it seems, must have been right. Her license, good for five years, has been received and now Debbie is a full-fledged ham.

Her interest in amateur radio goes back about a year. She caught the fever from her father, who is one of the town's active hams. His call letters are W5EJ and he coached Debbie in her pursuit of knowledge in the field of ham radio operation.

CONTACTS

Since getting her license, Debbie has made 23 "contacts." This means she has carried on conversations with that many other amateur radio operators. The most distant of her contacts was with an amateur in Seattle, Wash. Four of her 23 contacts have been out of Texas. The others were with radio friends of hers and her father in towns over the state.

If you want to know about the equipment Debbie uses in her radio activity, she can tell you

There are five in the Rives family, Sgt. and Mrs. Rives, Debbie and two younger sisters.

REAL BUSY

"I was real busy about the time the bee was held," she explains, "working on my application for my radio license. Maybe I would have done better in the spelling bee, if I had more time to study."

So if you are an amateur radio operator and you pick up a "CQ" from W5KQM (king—queen—Mary) the YL whose voice you hear will be Debbie, who is probably one of the very youngest YL's anywhere.

And she's certainly one of the cutest.

Galveston Fights Litter

AUSTIN — Texas motorists paid for many miles of new highways last year. But they never were built.

Gov. John Connally emphasized this point in accepting the first of a quarter-million litter bags given to the Texas Highway Department by the Galveston Chamber of Commerce and the Galveston Convention and Tourist Bureau.

The bags will be distributed to motorists at each of the eight Tourists Information Centers located at points of entry on key highways of the state and in the capitol rotunda.

"The Texas Highway Department is charged with the construction and maintenance of the state's superb 66,000-mile highway system," Gov. Connally said. He added:

"But the truth is that more than $1.5 billion of taxes levied on highway users is wasted each year to pick up litter thrown along the right-of-way by careless motorists. This money could better be used to build more miles of new highways, and to protect the taxpayers' $4 billion investment in our existing system."

The bags were donated by the Galveston chamber to encourage litter control among out-of-state visitors. They also bear a message of invitation to visit the Galveston Island resort area.

D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, pointed out that approximately 12 million visitors come to Texas each year.

"These visitors represent an industry of more than one-half billion dollars a year," Greer said. "We hope that Texans will become conscious of our

Vets Urged To Keep In Touch

The main barrier to the smooth delivery of veterans' pension, compensation and insurance checks is the tendency of the American veteran to change his place of residence.

Ray Boren, contact representative at the Veterans Administration Hospital here, said today. More than half (53.9 per cent) of all the veterans in the United States were living in a different house in 1964 than in 1955, according to studies of the Bureau of the Census.

In addition, one veteran in every 10 was living in a different state, the VA representative said.

This shift in location would post no problem if the veterans would notify promptly the VA or their former postmasters of their new address. They don't, however, and, as a result, many VA pension, compensation or insurance checks are undeliverable and are returned to the Treasury disbursing office.

If the following month's check is also returned, no further monthly mailing may be made. Thus the veteran has unintentionally cut off his own VA payment, until he later makes his whereabouts known, Boren said.

During January, 1965, the records at the VA Data Processing Center, Hines, Ill., show that more than 60,000 veterans changed their addresses. Some of them notified VA or their former postmasters, but 24,372 checks were returned for lack of delivery information.

This oversight often works hardship, especially when widows with small children are relying on the checks as their main source of income.

Deputy Bails Out

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff James Scott of Wichita, Kan., bailed out moments before his single-engine plane crashed last week on the Willie Henk Ranch two miles southeast of San Marcos.

Boren said VA is joining with postal officials in urging all veterans or families of veterans planning to move to arrange to notify the VA or the Post Office immediately of their new address.

A Devotional For The Day

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love. (Romans 12:10)

PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for our homes and families. Help us to show such Christlike qualities as love and kindness in dealing one with another in our homes. In love may we all become members of Thy great family. We ask it through Christ Jesus, our Lord and Savior. Amen.

Project With Possibilities

The city has announced plans to employ the sanitary fill method of garbage disposal, and this project has some real possibilities.

For one thing, the site is in a badly eroded area immediately northeast of town, thus it is in proximity to the area from whence the garbage comes. The short haul means efficiency and greater economy.

For another, it is a proven method of disposal which avoids the problems of flies, and of burning with its attendant smoke and unpleasant fumes. When garbage is dumped, it is covered with earth, packed and left to decompose underground.

For still another, the method will be filling up some deep ravines, which will be bulldozed at intervals with old car bodies or some other device to hold the fill in place.

And finally, this plan will gradually mean that the ravines will be levelled and the area restored to usefulness and to attractiveness, and while this is going on, the heavy flow of flood waters will be held in check so that the tremendous erosion problem downstream will be mitigated if not all but controlled. Few people realize how much of the drainage problems of Big Spring, of the highway department in its planning and maintenance of interstate and state roads, are created by the erosion from the area set out for use in the sanitary fill project.

It will be interesting to watch how this progresses. If it turns out as we have every reason to hope, there may be other places where it can be applied effectively.

Visit Webb On Saturday

Big Spring and area have given good support in the past to the observance of Armed Forces Day, and we trust that this will be the case Saturday.

Once more Webb AFB will open its gates in order for citizens to get a glimpse of what their defense dollars are buying in just one part of the vineyard. There will be displays of equipment at the base, fly-overs with the T-37s and T-38s used in training and the F-104s used in round-the-clock defense of our southern border. In addition, there will be special displays such as the Hawk missile, plus a wing review, static displays and numerous other events.

Taking time to take advantage of this opportunity is more than expressing or reaffirming our keen interest in and close ties with Webb AFB. It is an expression of appreciation for men and women in general who have devoted themselves to careers in making our nation secure, and thus insure the personal safety of each of us. So visit Webb AFB Saturday, and as you see how men are trained and how other elements are alert to protect, remember that others are going elsewhere and in other branches of service. It's part of a team that ought to help you sleep better at night.

When World Peace Is At Stake

WASHINGTON — President Johnson felt that it was necessary to reiterate the American government's desire for peace negotiations to end the Viet Nam war, so he used a televised press conference on Tuesday — especially called for the occasion — to dramatize the issue.

For there is no doubt that the situation in Southeast Asia is causing anxiety and a feeling throughout this country that the war might be widened as well as lengthened. Mr. Johnson is well aware of the apprehensions that emerge as young men and their parents begin to wonder if troops will be required in larger numbers. So the President is wisely explaining the Viet Nam problem to the American people even though repeating what he has said many times before.

THE UNITED STATES finds itself criticized as an "aggressor" by the Communist countries, and it is necessary to emphasize the truth. This is that the Communists are continuing their aggression in South Viet Nam despite opportunities to settle the war by a peace conference. As the President says, there can be an end to the war and a peace agreement the moment the Communist countries decide not to send troops and supplies from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam.

MR. JOHNSON is careful to point out that the United States has no alternative to the bombing of bridges and supply lines in North Viet Nam. The President stressed the fact that the bombing is being conducted primarily against bridges and installations and that there is a minimum loss of life. The United States therefore, is not waging a war in which it is going to extremes. In fact, Mr. Johnson ruled out any possibility of using nuclear weapons to achieve the present objective and declared at his press conference that no steps involving nuclear weapons had ever been suggested by anybody in the government here.

THE WHOLE PURPOSE of the administration is to present to the other peoples of the world a true exposition of American policy in Viet Nam so that public opinion everywhere will begin to put pressure on both Red China and the Soviet Union to initiate the necessary steps to withdraw their guerrilla henchmen from South Viet Nam.

To a certain extent the President is also aiming at critics in this country who seem indifferent to the high principles of American policy and who would prefer to see their own government make peace at any price. While such a course has never repressed the appetite of aggressors, appeasement, if not virtual surrender on the main issues involved, seems nevertheless to be advocated, in effect, even by a few members of Congress. Some of these spokesmen evidently believe that an uninformed public regards the issue as one-sided and that the only thing to do for political reasons is to speak up on the pacifist side.

PAST EXPERIENCE, however, shows that an adversary interprets such an attitude as a reflection of the unwillingness of a nation to fight. The President said:

"From Munich until today we have learned that to yield to aggression brings only greater threats and brings even more destructive war. To stand firm is the only guarantee of a lasting peace."

A MAJOR PRINCIPLE of far-reaching consequence to world peace is really at stake. It is a source of much satisfaction to peace-loving peoples in all parts of the world that the United States is emerging as the champion of smaller nations under attack even though the United Nations has taken no protective steps and no other major nation has actually joined America in its military mission in Viet Nam.

Billy Graham

How can I, or anyone live a perfect life? Jesus says, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect." I maintain this can't be done. S.J.S. We read in the Bible, "With God all things are possible." (Matthew 19:26). Why should we doubt this truth, or question one of the commands of our Savior? Yet I am sure that an eagerness to know the full meaning of this passage prompted your question, so I would urge you to search the Scriptures further. Turn to the fifth chapter of Matthew and read again the verses which lead up to this verse, the 48th.

"Whoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him two miles. . . Love your enemies. . . do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you."

This calls for love, plus for mercy, plus it is not easy. But we do not have to rely on our own wills, or our own efforts. Christ walks beside us. If we keep our eyes fixed upon Him we'll be able to love as He loved, to give beyond what is expected of us, and to forgive when we know we have been wronged.

In the original this verse read, "Ye shall be perfect." The verb which was used referred to the future. It is quite plain that our Master was calling His followers to strive to reach the perfection of God. He did not expect them to attain it today. Nor tomorrow, but He wanted them to keep on trying.

We make an effort to be good, or to do good. Then we find ourselves saying an unkind word, or doing something which is mean or selfish. This tempts us to become discouraged, or to compromise our ideals.

We must not try; for our Master summons us to try again the new way, the Christ-way of life.

'YOU SAY—AMERICAN CAN'T HIT FAST BALL?'

High Corporate Income Generates Optimism

Call it President Johnson's luck or President Johnson's good signs continue to point to more prosperity.

The stock market climbed to new highs following the temporary settlement in steel. The boom in industrial expansion—technological improvement—continues virtually unabated. Evidence: The rise in machine tool orders in March.

AT ANNUAL meetings of corporations, optimism prevailed. Executives promised a continuance of recent gains.

The topper at the moment is corporate profits. And this speaks volumes for volume. But it also is a warning. When sales go up, it's hard to keep profits down. But when sales stop rising.

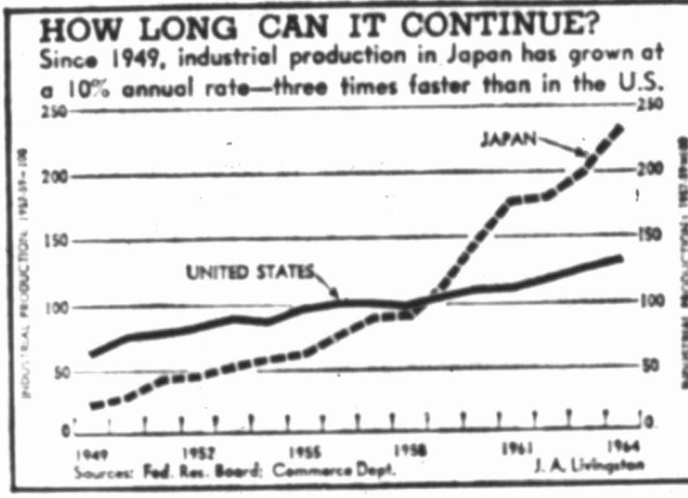

On a 16 per cent increase in dollar volume, General Motors turned in the highest quarterly net income of any corporation in history—$636,400,000. This was equal to $222 a share, a 19 per cent gain over the $187 earned in the first three months of 1964.

UNITED STATES Steel also confirmed the value of volume. Net income advanced to $1.25 a share, a 49 per cent gain over a year ago on a sales jump of 29 per cent.

But there was grumbling. Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., told stockholders that profit margins must be improved if the industry is to serve the nation properly.

No immediate letdown in steel production is in sight—as the steel executives see it. Reasoning: Steel users will hold onto their "excess inventories" until a final settlement is reached. Meanwhile, auto, appliance, machinery and other companies will continue to purchase steel in pace with consumption—which is high.

THIS PUTS OFF the inventory showdown—test—until fall, or about the time automobile companies will be working on 1966 models. And it extends prosperity's lease by a minimum of four months — and probably through the year. But how long can it continue?

Ever since the end of the war, expansion has been semi-continuous. The four recessions—1948-49, 1953-54, 1957-58, 1960-61—were so short and shallow that we can properly say that from 1945 to date the nation has had a 20-year up-cycle.

But U.S. expansion has not been as great as that of Japan, which, along with West Germany, has been a star in the non-Communist world. The slower rate of U.S. growth is traceable to this country's wider economic base. Example: A boom in television in the United States, for instance, can't create as large a percentage of jobs (relative to total employment) as a similar boom in Japan.

BUT NOW Japanese growth is stuttering. Does this signal a decline?

Japanese production has been on a slightly declining plateau since October. And the bankruptcy of three companies—Sanjo Special Steel, Nippon Special Steel and Sunwave Industry, a large manufacturer of kitchen equipment—has rocked the Tokyo stock exchange.

THE COMPANIES had over-expanded. When sales leveled off, they could not meet current obligations. The effort of banks to support stocks on the exchange—keep up the Dow Jones Average, so to speak—has so far been unsuccessful.

Rapid industrial expansions always come to an end. This could be happening in Japan. It's too early to be sure. But the same generalization can be made about the postwar expansion in the United States.

To Year-Round

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Shakespeare Festival is planning to become a year-round repertory theater.

Joseph Papp, founder of the enterprise 10 years ago, has chosen Gerald Freedman to share artistic direction with him. Freedman has staged several presentations for the company.

Papp explained that the intention is to develop a troupe capable of moving from Shakespeare to Beckett, from Sophocles to Brecht.

Who's That?

NEW YORK (AP)—Ellen Beamish, treasurer at Broadway's Golden Theater for 50 years, is going home nightly in a chauffeured limousine.

Victor Borge, whose "Comedy in Music" entertainment is now at the theater, gave Miss Beamish the unusual gift on her 75th birthday. The service continues until her retirement next August.

Fat A Factor In Diet After Removal Of Gall Bladder

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: How long does it take for the inside stitches to heal after a gall bladder operation?

How long must one stay on a strict low-fat diet afterwards? — MRS. B.D.M.

Strictly speaking, it's the incision that heals, not the stitches. In any event, healing inside, just like healing of the outer incision, is quite prompt.

If stitches have to be removed, this usually takes place about the first week after surgery. Removal depends on the suture material used. Gut, of course, gradually absorbs and need not be removed, such as some other materials — silk, for example.

A specific answer would have to be given by your surgeon — but the practical answer is: Forget about it.

Except for just a few days immediately after surgery, you have no need to be on anything resembling a rigid diet.

After removal of the gall bladder, you no longer have a reservoir of EXTRA bile, the digestive juice produced by the liver. With the gall bladder, you store up bile between meals, and it is then released when you eat. Without a gall bladder, you depend (and very well, too!) on the amount being released continuously from the liver.

Bile is particularly necessary in digestion of fats. So it is only reasonable not to eat more fat at a sitting than the supply of bile can handle. Otherwise, little change in diet is necessary.

By the time you leave the hospital after the operation, you are back to a full, normal diet, except for keeping fats at a moderate level.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can an epileptic ever travel alone? — E. M.

Certainly. That doesn't mean that ALL epileptics can. Epilepsy is not one specific condition, any more than a respiratory infection is just one. For the latter, it can mean anything from double pneumonia down to a slight case of sniffles. It is the same with epilepsy. There can be cases in which the seizures are severe — the grand mal attacks, in which the patient goes into convulsions, falls to the ground, and is totally helpless for some minutes.

There are also types of epilepsy in which the individual attacks may be more frequent but are so mild that they may last only a second or so, or even less. This is the petit mal type, and may be evidenced by nothing but a brief pause in conversation.

Whether a person with epilepsy should travel depends entirely on the type of epilepsy, and the degree to which it is controlled.

Shingles can be a painful disease! To receive a copy of my booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

We Need To Fill The Cisterns

Well, it didn't rain enough last week to fill the cisterns.

And if you can't appreciate that, you just haven't lived where every drop of water is as valuable as a pearl, and at a time when water softeners and municipal services were unheard of.

WHEN I WAS a young spriggins, the old home town was a windmill town, and everybody had his own well to supply the cows and horses and chickens, to irrigate the orchard and garden, and—if there was any left—to take care of household needs.

Problem was that most of the water from these wells wasn't what you would call up to certified standards. Let's face it, the water was "hard." It was gypsy, and I don't know what else. Only consolation was that if it was the only water you knew, it seemed to be acceptable water.

EXCEPT WHEN there came those fine downpours that would flood the housepots. This is where and when the cisterns came in.

Some of us 'po' folks didn't have a cistern, and the best we could do was to spot No. 2 tubs under the various gutter drains, and catch all that prized rainwater that the tubs would hold.

This was water to be stingy with, and no matter if the tubs attracted mosquitos, the last drop of rainwater was to be saved for essential use.

MY OLDER SISTERS used to revel in the luxury of a shampoo (it was just hair-washing then) after the rains came. There was some special laundering and other vital uses of this oh, so soft water.

But the real thrifty people—those who knew a good thing when they found it—built big cisterns, underground, into which was channeled all the housepot run-off through the gutters and downspouts.

IF YOU HAD a cistern, you had class, man. A good-sized storage of rainwater may have been the mark of status in those times, for all I know.

I remember that the Adams family, who lived across the block, had what seemed to be a tremendously large tank under the floor of their back porch. This was a valuable adjunct in the water supply. You could just draw the soft water—via a hand pump—when you needed it, or when you just wanted to live it up.

HERE WAS GOOD rainwater for laundering, for dishwashing, for drinking even, and let the livestock and the chickens have that 'ol' gypsy stuff out of the well.

This made the Adams house a sort of attraction. A passel of kids could traipse onto their porch, draw up that cool cistern water, and think they were sharing in liquid gold.

COME TO THINK of it, there perhaps ought to be more cisterns today. If the weather keeps on like it has been, such a water supply would be better than Fort Knox.

Adam Clayton Powell In The Act

WASHINGTON — Two of Washington's star performers promise a drama that could be a spectacular. It has money, politics, status and, above all, the clash of conflicting personalities so seldom seen in Lyndon Johnson's consensus corral.

Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem's sensational gift to politics, and R. Sargent Shriver of the Peace Corps, the war on poverty in all its ramifications, the Neighborhood Youth Corps, Vista, Community Action, etc., have already played one scene. It was a great success. Cracking humor of the Broadway variety enlivened a hearing of Powell's House Education and Labor Committee on the poverty war.

POWELL HAD mounted an attack on the Community Action of the poverty program. He dropped in a headline phrase—this was "festa politics." And he marched his own supporters, witnesses from several cities who complained that they had been left out of the operation while old-line poils were taking over, across the stage.

But something went wrong with the supporting cast. Members of his committee who had done the spade work of investigation in a series of task forces around the country gave favorable reports on the program.

REP. SAM M. GIBBONS (D-Fla.) said he had taken soundings at Atlanta, Durham, N. C., and Miami. He found progress being made in each instance without undue interference by political grabbers. A similar report from Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins (D., Calif.), the second Negro on the committee, who had looked into the operation in West Coast cities.

As Shriver, runner-up for hardest-working man in government, noted the funny thing was that while Powell complained of "political fiestas" he argued that the program was puny and should be doubled at least. This raises the question of motive.

IT HAPPENS THAT in Powell's own bailiwick of Harlem there is a going anti-poverty program known as Haryou-Act. The charge is that Powell exercises political control over Haryou-Act, putting his own people in key spots and subjecting them to his orders. Although both Powell and the Haryou-Act people deny the charge, reports persist of a close communion between the Powell office in Washington and the agency that with a small federal grant has made a gallant initial attack on Harlem's desperate poverty.

NEW YORK is one of the few metropolitan areas that has not come up with a list of those ready to form a Community Action group. Without such a list approved by Shriver's office the city can get no funds for this phase of the program. Obviously, a new program would be a rival to Haryou-Act. It might indirectly enhance the political power of others and put Haryou-Act in the shade.

IN HIS dramatic role, as chairman of the powerful House Education and Labor Committee, Powell constantly teils off the moguls of government. If he decides to delay the aid-to-education bill he delays the hearings. If he feels it is time to harass Shriver, as king of the poverty program, then he puts on a show that gets him on television as the hero of the poor and the oppressed.

In the realm of drama Shriver is no match for such a glamorous star. But he has patience, persistence, an endless reserve of energy and, most important in the present drama, a strong sense of humor.

Let Us Reason Together

WASHINGTON—The border dispute between Pakistan and India has our State Department people worried silly, and every effort is being made, behind the scenes, to keep the two countries from going to war.

I haven't been privy to any of these discussions, but I can just imagine what is going on.

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is extremely worried about the Pakistani-Indian dispute and we urge you to refrain from doing anything rash that could lead to war."

"MR. SECRETARY, my country cannot stand by and see aggression committed by an enemy that has sworn to annihilate us."

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is well aware of the complex problems of the Pakistani-Indian dispute, but we are sure that both your countries should be able to negotiate your differences at the conference table."

"We refuse to negotiate until they get out of our territory."

"But the other side says that you are in their territory. Surely you must understand that, if both sides refuse to go to the conference table, the only alternative is an armed conflict."

"THEN WE ARE prepared to fight for our interests."

"But what kind of a world would we have if everybody felt that way? Where would the United Nations be?"

"We are behind the United Nations 100 per cent except where our own interests are concerned. I have incontrovertible evidence that the other side is planning to attack, and my country is issuing a white paper to that effect."

"MR. AMBASSADOR, it's obvious you don't realize the consequences of such a situation. If you send troops to the border, then the other side will send troops to the border. Then you will send tanks and the other side will send tanks, and pretty soon what is now a border dispute could turn into a full-size conflagration. Certainly you can see the dangers in such a situation."

"What choice do we have, Mr. Secretary?"

"You must find a peaceful solution. Nothing could be worth the risk of an all-out war."

"MR. SECRETARY, my country is willing to discuss unconditional negotiations providing the other side ceases immediately its flagrant operations in the Rann of Cutch." But at this time we have nothing to negotiate.

"Mr. Ambassador, the other side insists it cannot sit at the table with you until you stop your actions in the Rann of Cutch. Don't you see the impasse we're in? Surely you are too close to the situation to understand what we're trying to do."

"MR. SECRETARY, my country's whole future is at stake in this dispute. If we show any weakness, the other side will take advantage of it. Appeasement never got anyone anywhere."

"There's a difference between appeasement and common sense, Mr. Ambassador. If the United States took your attitude, we certainly would be in trouble now."

"What, and escalate the war?"

"I'm sorry, Mr. Secretary, but the only thing the United States could do to help us at this time is to give us some new jet fighter planes."

Fowl Talk

CHICAGO (AP)—Twenty, a parakeet won first prize in a talking-bird contest and a thank you note from L.B.J.

Twenty says things like "Vote for Johnson" and "I'm a Democrat" and "I'm a Texan."

"Of course, I was the one who wrote the President about Twenty," said Mrs. Leo L. Wexler, the bluish bird's owner.

Twenty competed with eight other parakeets. His first prize wasn't exactly big seed—$150.

Plans Being Made To Boost Cotton Week

Groundwork has been laid for a comprehensive observance in Howard County of National Cotton Week, May 10-15. Special committees, headed by George True, have mapped a number of activities. He is being assisted by Jimmy Taylor of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee.

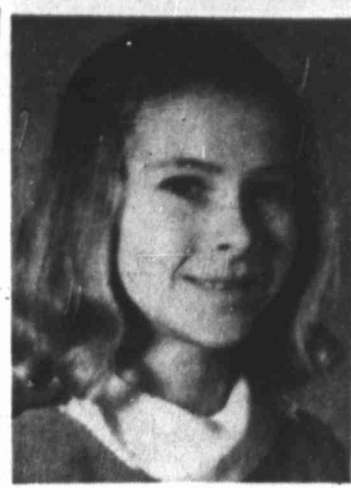

The week will be climaxed with an hour-long TV presentation on Channel 4, at 8 p.m. on May 14, when young women of the county will appear in a revue and contest to determine the county's "Maid of Cotton" for the next year. Girls will appear before the TV camera, and there will be narrators of special banner, streamers to tell the story of the importance of cotton.

Taylor is in charge of this program, and said the Maid of Cotton event is open to all single girls in Howard County, between the ages of 16 and 25. Those who wish to participate may get details from the chamber and arrange for registration there. True said that a heavy supply and placards should be received this week from the National Cotton Council, and these materials will be distributed to all merchants.

Merchants are being asked to put special emphasis on cotton product advertising, and to offer "Cotton Week" specials.

Bales of cotton will be distributed throughout the city during the week. The entire promotion, said True, is to familiarize the public of this area of the significance of cotton to the economy, and the corresponding importance of sale and use of cotton products.

County Clubs Sending 30 To Lubbock Contests

Howard County 4-H Clubs are sending 30 members to Lubbock May 8 to compete in the Extension Department District 2 elimination contests.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that both boys and girls will be competing in the events on the lengthy agenda to be carried out on the Texas Tech campus. Contests begin at 9 a.m. All first and second place winners get trips to the Texas 4-H Club Roundup at College Station in early June.

The winners are to be announced at Lubbock at 1:30 p.m.

Helbig, home demonstration agent Catherine Crawford, and assistant county agent Don Brandenburger will accompany the youngsters to Lubbock. A number of parents of club members will also attend.

The county will have a senior and junior livestock judging team. The senior team members are Mack Frazier, Gary McNew, Phil Richey, and Mike Brady. The junior team is Debra Buchanan, Daryle Coates, Terry Soechting and Jerry Webb.

Linda Crawford will compete in foods and nutrition education competition. Martha Couch in money management education; Kathy Shaw in the senior 4-H Club food show; Joan Crawford in junior clothing education; Carolyn Crawford, senior clothing education; Lawrence Long and James Haston, senior electric team demonstration; Kelly Gaskins and Bruce Nichols, junior safety demonstration; Larry Shaw, public speaking; Gary Riddle, senior share the fun; Danny Fryar, senior tractor driving; Debra Williams, Wanda Williams, Kayla Gaskins, Sherree Shaw, Angela Shaw, Johnny Peugh, Charles Williams, Keith Nichols; LaDeana Riddle and Sherry Riddle, junior share the fun competition.

Favors Meeting

BERLIN (AP) — A public opinion poll shows 74 per cent of the West Berliners favor further West German Parliament meetings here even if this would bring new Communist harassment.

The poll was conducted by the West Berlin city government after the recent Berlin sitting of Parliament here during Communist plane buzzings and road stoppages.

Promotions Announced For Davis, McAlister

Administrative promotions were announced Saturday by Math-Master Labs, Inc., and Gamco, Inc., related corporations dealing in a variety of educational aids.

Harold Davis was promoted to executive vice president of both corporations. He has had the title of vice president. Harold D. McAlister was named vice president of Gamco, Inc. Davis has been associated with the companies, founded by George McAlister, since 1960. Harold D. McAlister joined Gamco two years ago and has served as production superintendent. He will continue in this assignment as well as assuming additional administrative duties.

Police Quell Fracas, No Charges Are Filed

Officers were called to the 500 block of Northwest Fourth Friday night when a fight was reported. Henry Earl Jones, 18, was taken by Big Spring Ambulance Service to Cowper Clinic-Hospital for treatment of a cut on his hand.

Patrolmen Bennie Lockhart and Pete Stone investigated the incident and reported it apparently involved a family disagreement and that no one wished to file charges.

A burglary was reported at the Rannels Junior High School sometime Friday night. Officers said an unlocked window on the west side of the building was opened to gain entry and an undetermined amount of money taken from a soft drink machine. James Coats, a student at Howard County Junior College from Midland, told officers a suitcase and several articles of clothing were taken from his car while it was parked at 2005 Jennings.

Help Viet Cong

ROME (AP) — Italian Communists are selling souvenir money resembling dollars in booklets like travelers checks to raise funds for a mobile hospital unit for the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas in Viet Nam. The "dollars" go for 625 lire each—five lire over the going rate for real American dollars.

IMPROVED TECHNIQUES

Death Rate Decreasing Following Cancer Surgery

EDITOR'S NOTE: This final article in a six-part series about cancer control, concerns cancer from the surgical standpoint. It is written by Dr. Warren H. Cole, professor and head of the Department of Surgery, University of Illinois College of Medicine. Dr. Cole held the presidency of the American Cancer Society in 1963.

DR. WARREN H. COLE

By WARREN H. COLE, M.D. The greatest improvement made in the surgical treatment of cancer during the past few decades has been in decreasing the death rate following operation. This has been reduced to less than one-fourth the figure of 35 years ago, and is related to improvements in technique.

The use of silk instead of catgut in resection of cancer of the colon has been an important improvement in the prevention of leaks at the suture line. Improved techniques in anesthesia have been very important in lowering the complications after operation. A third factor is a greater knowledge in pre and post-operative care.

One of the other advances in the five-year survival rate following surgery. There are three or four reasons for this improvement.

OPERATIONS REVISED In the first place, we have revised our operations and are making the surgery more radical, although this increased extent of the excision has probably now reached its maximum. We are improving our technique to prevent spread of the cancer cells at the time of the operation. Surgeons are becoming more gentle about manipulation of the tumor area, and are being more meticulous about changing gloves, instruments, drapes, etc. at any time during the operation when they may be contaminated by cells from the tumor.

Certain principles in technique in cancer of the bowel such as tying off the intestine and its blood supply has been a factor in reducing the recurrence rate at the suture line and the incidence of metastases to other organs.

USE OF DRUGS

The adjunct use of anticancer drugs, or X-ray therapy, before or at the time of operation is promising; it is relatively new and the true value of this new procedure is as yet unknown.

We do know that the use of anticancer drugs at the time of operation for cancer of the colon and stomach are of no value to date.

However, the use of certain anticancer drugs (Thiotepa and nitrogen mustard) along with radical mastectomy for cancer of breast does show some benefit although it is still considered an experimental procedure. This benefit occurs mostly in young women with metastases to the axillary lymph nodes. There is evidence to show that the principle may be sound—but the drugs are not as yet sufficiently effective to yield the results we are hoping for.

X-RAY TREATMENT

The use of X-ray treatment including cobalt and the tetra-tron preceding the operation by a few weeks appears to be yielding better results in cases of lung cancer than resection of the lung alone. However, we will have to wait a few years before enough figures are available following this type of therapy to prove this point.

During the past 10 years, two new methods of treatment with the use of anticancer agents, other than systemic administration of the drugs, have been adopted. These new methods are perfusion and infusion.

By perfusion of an anticancer drug we mean the circulation of the drug into the blood through the tumor for a half hour or more. It is particularly indicated in advanced tumors of the extremities. Regressions have been reported in 25 to 35 per cent of cases, but the regression is not permanent and often the tumor does not disappear completely; therefore, we cannot hope for curative results until better agents are found.

INJECTION THERAPY

By infusion we mean the injection of an anticancer drug through an artery representing the blood supply to the tumor area. This type of injection therapy can be carried on for many days. Certain drugs lend themselves well to injection therapy because they are neutralized by the tissue shortly after their injection, and the toxic effect is, therefore, not as great as it is with other drugs. This relatively new procedure has resulted in regression of the tumor in 25 to 35 per cent of cases, although again there is no evidence that this regression is curative. Here to we need better drugs.

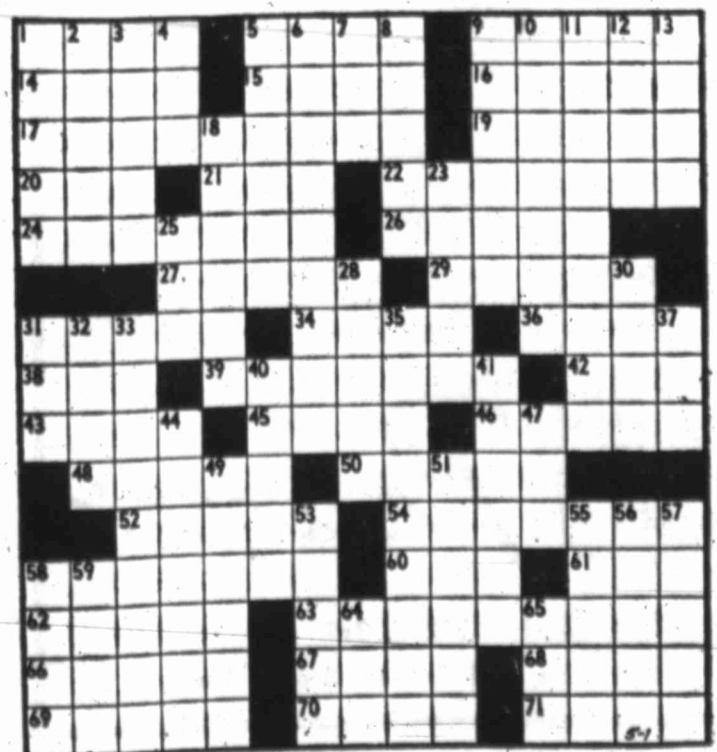

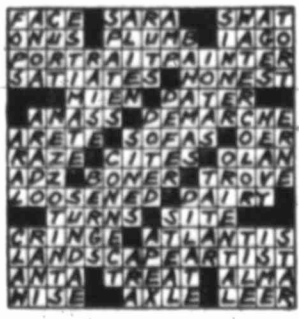

The question is often asked what can we expect in the future. As noted earlier, the adjunct use of drugs or X-ray treatment with operative removal of the tumor offers great possibilities when our anticancer drugs become more effective.

Obviously, if the anticancer drugs were extremely effective, then surgery could be avoided, and cure obtained by systemic use of the drug alone. Not many of us who have been following cancer treatment for the past few decades are of the opinion that complete cure by drug will be achieved in the next year or two. Much more work needs to be done.

YMCA Installs Officers At Candlelight Ceremony

New council officers were installed at a candlelight ceremony at the YMCA this week for the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs. Don White, retiring council president, conducted the program. The officers are Robert Gossett, president; Randy French, vice president; Patty Haralson, secretary; Lynn Heith, chaplain, and Donna Cobb, reporter. The Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. outstanding senior boy and girl award went to Don White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton White, and to Nancy Thomas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. The awards recognized their contributions to the YMCA, and leadership in activities during their past three years in high school. This award was created four years ago by the council to honor Mrs. Thomas, who served 15 years as an advisor. Selected

Cheerleaders, SC Officers To Be Elected

By LEITHA MASON

This week at Coahoma, classes chose the girls who will run for cheerleaders on May 8. Next year's freshmen, sophomores, and juniors selected three girls to run, while the seniors selected five. From these 14 girls, five cheerleaders will be elected; two from the senior class and one from each of the other three classes.

Chosen to run were: Diane Brooks, Nadine Honeycutt, Jolene Rogers, Sharon Lewis, and Brenda Harris, juniors; Terry Edens, Sarah Oakes, and Gina Williams, sophomores; Brenda Nichols, Peggy Shafer, and Alice Denning, freshmen; and Sandra Gross, Ronda Tiller, and Vickie Mosley, eighth graders.

New Student Council officers will also be elected on May 5.

Boys who will be going to the state meet in track from Coahoma are Mike Mosley in the 880 yard dash, and the mile relay team composed of Mike Mosley, Wayne Oglesby, Marshall Williams, and Johnny Gibson.

Larry Newman has been given an engraved slide rule from the Texas Chemical Council for being the outstanding graduating science student. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Newman. He is president of the Science Club and Student Council, played basketball, and was photographer for the football games. His sophomore a and junior years he won the senior division of the science fair and won the district slide rule contest.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held

By DARLENE WRIGHT

The Sands Junior-Senior Banquet was held in the Big Spring Country Club Saturday night at 8 p.m. The invocation was given by Mr. M. B. Maxwell, superintendent of Sands High School. Ann Lemon, president of the junior class, gave the welcome, and Ruth Lemon, senior class president, gave the response. The prophecy was given by Marie Newman. Group pictures and pictures of couples were taken.

The juniors received the traditional senior rings with red rubies this week. Alicia Acosta and Vickie Brinson attended the state FHA convention in Dallas, May 23-24. Alicia and Vickie are sophomores, and they were accompanied by Mrs. Julie Ayres, sponsor.

The Homemaking IV class has been studying and preparing foreign foods. Members of the class traveled to Midland this week to eat Chinese food at the Blue Star Inn. Mrs. Julie Ayres sponsored the group.

Senior invitations will be in Tuesday. Seniors are urged to bring the money due for them on that day.

DISC WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Winner of this week's 45 rpm record is Faye Langston. Faye is a junior at Flower Grove, and her address is Route 1, Ackerly.

Winner of the bonus LP for the month of April is Judy Hinds. Judy is a senior at BSHS, and she lives at 1603 Kentucky Way.

Garden City Elects New FHA Officers

LINDA CLEMENTS

Members of Garden City's FHA Chapter elected officers for next year Thursday. Sharon Jacob was chosen president; Lana Short, vice president; Carolyn Schrader, second vice president; Bonnie Glenn, secretary; Paula Hardy, treasurer; Dana West, reporter; Frances Cypert, parliamentarian; Ronda Green, historian; and Mickey Hill, song leader.

GARDEN CITY

Sharon Jacob and Paula Hardy reported on the state meeting, which was held last weekend in Dallas. The junior class served refreshments in the living room of the homemaking department. Monday the basketball girls received their sweaters for this year. They were presented by Coach Theora Calverley. Members of the senior class received their graduation caps and gowns this past week.

Goliad Profs Are Honored

By MARTHA JORDAN

The Goliad Student Council honored the teachers Thursday with the annual teacher appreciation day. The day included the presentation of red corsages and bouquets to teachers, and a teacher breakfast of coffee and doughnuts served while Student Council members relieved teachers' classes. At 11 a.m., the whole school joined in an assembly. A short skit entitled "School Daze of Yesterday," written by Martha Jordan, was presented by various members of the Council.

Mrs. Mable Logan and Miss Mayme Clanton were presented silver trays by the student body for their fine years of teaching. Mr. Marvin Tatum, freshman biology teacher, was named favorite teacher of the year and received an engraved desk set.

Mrs. Mable Logan's seventh grade Social Relations classes have set up displays in both of the Goliad showcases. The displays include information and maps concerning Texas geography.

Goliad seventh and eighth grade math teachers met at the central office Monday. Speaker for the occasion was a consultant from Holt, Rinehart and Winston Co. of New York.

Mrs. Wiley's science students have made projects as a part of this year's seventh grade scientific study. The projects are on display in the science room. Teachers or students interested in the projects can go by room 206 during the lunch hour.

Several ninth grade students entered The Heart Fund essay contest. All entries were turned in April 30. Winners in the county-wide contest for freshmen will be announced in the near future.

Geology Club Takes Trip

By BONNIE SIMPSON

Members of HCJC's Geology Club left Thursday at 10 a.m. for Palo Duro Canyon. Friday they inspected Capulin Mountain and traveled north into Colorado. They spent the night in the San Isabel Recreation Area. Royal Gorge was visited Saturday, and today members will visit Monarch Pass, Santa Fe, and will spend the night at Roswell, New Mexico. They will visit the Bottomless Pit Monday, and will return to Big Spring Monday afternoon.

HCJC

The Rodeo Club sponsored Western Days Thursday and Friday on the campus. Thursday at 5:30 p.m., a barbecue was held in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building, followed by a dance at 7 p.m. Prizes were given for the best dressed cowboy and cowgirl and contests were held.

The Spring Formal was held Saturday from 8-12 p.m. in the SUB. Music for the occasion was furnished by The Trales.

A WRA Banquet was held in the SUB parlor Tuesday night. Miss Arsh Phillips showed the group films on India. Sheryl Flowers entertained with her singing. Gail Watson, WRA president, presented Miss Anna Smith, sponsor, with a corsage and a gift certificate.

An Honors Day Assembly will be held in the auditorium at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday. The student body's choice for Favorite Teacher of the Year will be presented. All students whose names appear on the list on the bulletin board in the Administration Building be sure to attend.

The men's and women's tennis teams will be in Roswell, New Mexico May 7-8 for conference play-offs.

Runnels SC Plans Formal

By LYNN PUCKETT

Plans for the Spring Formal are being made by the Student Council at Runnels. The Spring Formal will be held at the Cosden Country Club, May 7. The theme for the occasion will be "Polynesian Night."

Texas area dialect tests were given to ninth grade students Wednesday. The tests are a study to examine the different ways people pronounce common words, and to examine deviations in general dialect.

The FHA department held a regular chapter meeting Friday. The topic of discussion was "Happiness is Making Others Happy." Refreshments were served after the program.

Parents' night for volleyball had a successful attendance Tuesday night, with almost 85 parents attending. An action packed volleyball game lasted nearly two hours. Parents enjoyed participating in regular gym activities.

The Runnels Junior High School Band attended Concert Contest in Odessa Saturday. Art classes are drawing still life pictures of fruit and flowers, and are also working with construction paper in designs.

The volleyball picnic is planned for May 15. Most valuable players will receive special recognition at this event. Pink slips were issued last week to those students who are faltering in their work.

The prom will be held May 8 at the Student Union Building at HCJC. Congratulations go to the Steerettes, who won the regional championship last week in Odessa. The state play-offs were held in Abilene this week-end.

Student Council Prexy, Cheerleaders Are Chosen

By SUSAN ELROD

This week has been a busy one at Forsan with campaigning for student council president and dressing for activity week. On famous people day, Orveta Fryar and Dick Ross won first place. Orveta came as Charlie Chan, and Dick Ross came as Caesar. Dick and Patsy Gooch were the winners on ambition day. Dick came as a rattlesnake and Patsy was a TV dinner. On dress up day, Donnie Simpson won first in the boys' division. Patsy Gooch and Orveta Fryar tied for first in the girls' division. Patsy Gooch and Dick Ross were the over-all winners and received five dollar gift certificates from the Student Council.

CINDY NOBLES

Thursday night was the Student Council picnic. There was entertainment followed by the announcing of the new president, Cindy Nobles.

The FHA sent two delegates to the state convention last week. Roberta Hammack and Sherye Kirkpatrick were the ones qualified to go to this meeting in Dallas. All FHA girls remember that Daddy-Dale-Night is Monday. Everyone bring your daddy to Lite Acres miniature golf course at 7:30 p.m.

"To keep ice cubes from sticking to the bottom of the tray after some have been removed, put aluminum foil in the bottom of the tray. Cubes come out easily."

"Contour sheets will go on the mattress much easier if you fix diagonally opposite corners first. Try it!"

"Dip a raw potato into scouring powder to scrub the corners of rusted cake and pie pans."

"Use stale beer to set your hair. It gives 'body'. Just dampen the hair and roll. The hair will not retain the beer odor when dry."

"If you want to be real fancy when having company, put a few dabs of cologne on a piece of cotton and wipe the phone. This leaves it shiny and free from dust, and it retains a delightful fragrance. The alcohol in the perfume also acts as an antiseptic!"

"Try making a small roast beef and a small roast pork together. The meats pick up the taste from each other and the gravy is out of this world."

"Having trouble drying your crinoline petticoats? Just put them over an open umbrella! Great!"

"When cutting marshmallows or chopping dates, if you dip your scissors into water and cut them wet, the goodies won't stick."

Trying Role For Beautiful Actress

Wanted — a girl who doesn't fear wild animals, looks beautiful clad in a tastefully abbreviated costume of fur, can hold her own in a roughhouse battle with a man and can portray all emotions without saying a single word.

Those were the requirements for the title role in "Mara of the Wilderness," unusual story of a girl reared by the white wolves of Alaska's primeval forest, opening Saturday at the Jet Theatre. More than 100 screen television and stage actresses, cover girls and dramatic school hopefuls were tested before producer Brice Mack selected Linda Saunders, former beauty contest winner who studied at Hollywood's Actors Theatre and gained experience playing modest roles in many television shows including the Ozzie and Harriet series, Surtside Six, the Danny Kaye Show and the Jack Parr Show.

An avid outdoors girl who loves motorcycle riding and skiing, Miss Saunders found the most trying facet of portraying "Mara" was learning to work with the wolves without revealing that she knew that at any moment they might revert to their predatory instincts. Another problem was a raccoon who insistently grabbed at her hair or her fur costume. Looking beautiful in the abbreviated costume was no chore because Linda as Miss Sacramento was runner-up to Miss California in the Miss America contest and had also been named Maid of California in another beauty pageant. Long sessions of studying dancing gave her the grace and stamina for the many sequences in which she has to race through the forest or climb rocky hillsides, as well as swim in an icy mountain stream.

Natural acting ability, however,

UNTAMED BEAUTY
Linda Saunders reared by wolves er, was necessary to enable Linda to cope with her wordless role. As the untamed girl of nature who has never seen or been seen by man, she had to express every emotion and thought in pantomime.

This runs the entire gamut of dramatics, because Mara is loved, hunted, captured and mistreated by either of the first two men who discover her. Only two other roles in recent years compare to "Mara" in this respect—Jane Wyman's "Johnny Belinda" and Patty Duke's debut in "The Miracle Worker."

Filmed in color, the unique story, the scenic grandeur, suspenseful action and wildlife sequences make "Mara of the Wilderness," entertainment for all ages. The two men who become rivals when the girl is first found are Adam West, who plays a forest ranger, and Theo Marcuse, menacing as a trapper who coldbloodedly plans to capture her for exhibition.

THE ARTS

Art Shows Flowering

Spring brings a flowering of art shows, and all over the state shows are being held or planned. The Texas Fine Arts Association circuit exhibition, containing 22 paintings—two by local painters—is hanging at Howard County Junior College and will be through April 20. Terry Patterson and Mrs. W. H. Unger have paintings chosen for this circuit. These may be seen any week day in the administration building, and of course there is no charge.

Several painters, Avery Falkner, Mrs. A. J. McClinton, Royce Flester, Mrs. D. F. Bigony, Mrs. Roland Howard, Mrs. Lynn Patton and Mrs. Unger, have entered paintings in the San Angelo College Area Art exhibition. Kenneth Fiske, University of Texas, judges the show, and winners will be named today. Mrs. Unger received a note from Mrs. Tincie Heddens of the SAC art department, that she had placed, and perhaps there are others here who also will share honors.

It's a pity that more music lovers did not turn out last Monday for the Big Spring High School mixed choir and a capella choir. The young singers made an excellent showing, which is all the more remarkable because Milvern Ivie, director, had to start from scratch on a choral program. This bodes good for the HCJC choir, for Big Spring High is the primary feeder for the college choir.

The Midland-Odesa Symphony and Choral, under direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard, will be presented Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in Lee High School auditorium at Midland. Norman Farrow, baritone, will be the featured soloist. Those who don't mind going a little distance for their music may want to remember the May 12-16 date in Dallas when the Metropolitan Opera Company will make its stand. "Tunadot" is set for May 12, "Madam Butterfly" May 13, "The Last Savage" May 14, "Tosca" May 15 matinee, "Rigoletto" May 15 night, and "The Flying Dutchman" for the finale on the May 16 matinee.

Don't forget that the traditional spring festival of light music presentation of the HCJC music department, is set for May 17, so circle that date. This is always a gay and melodious occasion. Incidentally, Jack Hendrix, head of the HCJC music department, will continue his work this summer toward his doctorate at the University of Indiana.

It's not too late to view the exhibition of paintings by Emily Guthrie Smith, noted American artist. The special showing continues through this afternoon in the Diamond M. Art Center at Snyder. Hours are from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Mrs. Smith, perhaps best known for her delicate portraits of children, has had more than a score of one-man shows. Among portraits she has painted are Paul White-man's Margo, the four grandchildren of Franklin Roosevelt, the youngest son and daughter of former Gov. and Mrs. Alan Shivers, Mary Martin and her daughter, Heiler. Her scope extends beyond portraiture to murals, mosaics and sculpture.

STAMP NEWS

Bismark's Birthday Honored By New Issue

By SYD KRONISH

The Federal Republic of West Germany has announced the issuance of three new stamps reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The stamps honor the 150th anniversary of Prince Otto von Bismark's birth, Youth Day 1965 and the First World Exhibition of Transport and Communications.

The Bismark stamps is 20 pfennig and depicts a bust of the Prussian statesman from a portrait by Franz Von Lenbach. The Youth Day set consists of four semipostals showing wild game birds. The 10 pfennig plus 5 shows the Eurasian Woodcock, 15 pf plus 5 the Ring-necked Pheasant, 20 pf plus 10 the Black Grouse and the 40 pf plus 20 the Capercaillie. The World Exhibition set has seven stamps from the 5 pfennigs to the 70 and illustrates various means of transport and communications.

Canada has issued a new stamp commemorating the International Cooperation Year. It shows three interlocked links with Canada's maple leaf in the center symbolic of Canada's role as a link in the world chain of nations. The upper right corner shows ICY symbol — the United Nations wreath encircling two clasped hands. Many nations, including the United States, have issued or announced the forthcoming issuance of the ICY Year stamps.

Greece honors Domenico

The Republic of China (Formosa) has issued a new set of seven definitive for high value airmail. The issuance date was March 29 which was Martyrs Day and honors the 72 young men who died in the uprising of 1911. Depicted is a carp known as a young dragon in China where the dragon is a highly respected symbol of strength.

Skin-Divers Plan Heist As A 'Perfect Crime'

A daring bank robbery is the subject of "Raiders From Beneath the Sea," adventure-drama filmed on Catalina Island and opening Friday at the State Theatre. Ken Scott and Merry Anders head a cast that includes Booth Colman, Garth Benton, Russ Bender and Walter Maslow.

The plot follows the adventures of four men who plot to rob $250,000 from a bank on Catalina. Their plan involves using skin-diving equipment and swimming to the island underwater, stealing the money, and then disappearing with it into the sea. To them, it looks like a perfect crime, but they are destined to learn that nothing is perfect, and certainly not crime.

Ken Scott plays the ringleader, master plotter and frustrated exdiver whose big plans have always failed, and who hopes to strike it rich with this one, big robbery. Scott is one of the biggest actors around (six-foot-five, 205 pounds) and this made his beginning in acting very difficult. Actors usually start with bit roles, and Scott would usuually tower over the stars of the productions he tried to join. Merry Anders, a very busy young actress these days, has the role of Ken Scott's wife, Like Scott, Merry was under contract and made eight pictures before leaving to become a freelance actress.

Parks Gets Lead Role In 1st Film

Michael Parks has attained what most actors work years to get. He is accorded the title role opposite established star in his first motion picture to reach the screen.

Occasionally, a successful individual in another area of entertainment — the stage, television, music or night clubs, for instance — will have the lead in his motion picture debut, but that accolade reflects the importance gained in the other media.

This is not so with Parks. He was selected for, and did portray the title role opposite Ann-Margret in the romantic drama "Bus Riley's Back in Town," which comes today to the Ritz Theatre, in color.

His role in the film was not an easy one. The story resolves itself into an emotional tug-of-war for Mike who has just returned from a stint in the Navy. He is pulled between an aggressive female, Ann-Margret, from whom he escaped originally by enlisting and who now uses every allurements with marked success, and the lovely "girl next door" portrayed by Janet Margolin, the lead in the recent art film, "David and Lisa." And for Parks, it becomes a tour-de-force which he carries off with flying colors.

Parks, born April 24, 1938, has come up the hard way to star in his first movie. No graduate of the Broadway stage or any other glamor background, Mike, a native of Corona, Calif., ran away from home at the age of 15, and has run the gamut of jobs since. As he says, he didn't leave home to run away from anything, but to it. What he sought was independence and opportunity.

Along the way, he found varied jobs to make a sometimes precarious living. He sold newspapers. He drove trucks. He became a State fire fighter. He picked peas and tomatoes. He upholstered caskets. He tried out for the Pittsburgh Pirates ball club, but had to turn down a recruit job with its San Jose, Calif., farm club because it would pay less than did casket upholstery.

MEN IN SERVICE

Capt. William E. Bowling, was decorated recently with the U. S. Air Force Distinguished Flying Cross at Hurlburt Field, Fla. Captain Bowling, a fighter pilot with a Tactical Air Command (TAC) unit, received the medal in recognition of outstanding achievement while participating in aerial flight under hazardous conditions in Vietnam last April. Despite being subjected to ground fire which damaged his aircraft and injured him, Capt. Bowling completed his mission. TAC provides airpower and other air support to U. S. Army forces. A graduate of Newburgh (N.Y.) Free Academy, the captain was commissioned through the aviation cadet program. His wife, Ruth, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Pratt, 706 N. 7th, Lamesa.

Army Pfc. Arthur G. Israel, 18, son of Mrs. Pauline Goolsby, 1212 N. 12th, Lamesa, took part in Exercise March Hare II, a major field training exercise conducted by the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Wash., April 2-9.

A rifleman in Company C, 2nd Battalion of the division's 12th Infantry at Fort Lewis, he entered the Army in June 1964.

Airman Larry D. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville W. Richardson, Lamesa, has completed Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex. Airman Richardson has been selected for technical training as a statistical data specialist at the Air Training Command (ATC) school at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

His new unit is part of the ATC system which trains airman and officers in the skills required by the nation's aerospace force. The airman, a 1961 graduate of Lamesa High School attended McMurry College at Abilene.

Cadet Sidney J. Lajzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Lajzer, 150-A Dow Drive, Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, represented his Arnold Air Society Squadron at the society's 17th Annual National Conclave in Washington, D.C.

Cadet Lajzer, a student at Baylor University, Waco, is one of more than 6,000 members of the honorary military society for outstanding U. S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) cadets.

The 20-year-old student met with other AFROTC cadets from more than 170 colleges and universities to discuss Arnold Air Society aims and policies for the coming year.

The society, established in 1947, was named for General of the Air Force H. H. "Hap" Arnold. Speakers and guests at the Washington event included Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert, General Thomas S. Power, retired commander of the Strategic Air Command and General Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the Air Force Systems Command.

Seaman Apprentice Vernon W. Jackson Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Jackson Sr., 2003 Main, Big Spring, departed San Pedro, Calif. April 10 for a six-month deployment in the Far East aboard the fleet oiler USS Cimarron. While overseas, the vessel will replenish fuel and lubricants to ships at sea of the U. S. Seventh Fleet.

Sonar Technician 2C Bobby D. Null, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Null, Coahoma, is serving aboard the ocean minesweeper USS Pluck, operating with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

MELVIN WILLIAMSON

Airman Melvin L. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon V. Williamson, 1608 Bluebird, Big Spring, has completed Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Airman Williamson is being assigned to an Air Defense Command (ADC) unit at Selfridge AFB, Mich., for training and duty as a metal repair specialist. His unit supports the ADC mission of defending the continental U. S. against enemy air attack. The airman is a 1963 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Army Pfc. Charlie Brown qualified as expert in firing the high-powered M-14 rifle at Fort Hood, Tex. The rating is the highest mark a soldier can achieve in his rifle qualification test.

Brown, a messenger in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the 1st Armored Division's 81st Armor at Fort Hood, entered the Army in October, 1963 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, La.

The 24-year-old soldier, son of Mrs. Amanda Brown, Lamesa, is a 1959 graduate of Blackshear High School in Lamesa.

Lewis Eugene Moss, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Moss, 2613 Larry Drive, was sworn in the Navy Reserve Saturday at Albuquerque, N. M.

He is a senior at Big Spring High School, and enlisted under the Navy's new program, where as he can graduate prior to reporting for his active duty. He enlisted through the local Navy Recruiting Station.

Pvt. A. R. Ballard Jr., son of Mrs. Jeri Daniels, 1105 Mesa Ave., Big Spring, completed a pay specialist course at the Army Adjutant General School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., April 27.

During the course Ballard received instruction in the preparation of Army pay records.

The 18-year-old soldier entered the Army in November 1964 and received basic training at Fort Polk, La.

He is a 1964 graduate of Big Spring High School.

DAVID B. ABREO

Spec. 5 David B. Abreo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sunday Abreo, Big Spring, was recently awarded the good conduct medal in Germany. In addition to his medal, Abreo was given a letter of commendation for the outstanding mess facilities of his unit. Abreo is a cook with an artillery battery. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School and will return from Germany later this month.
