When It Rains . . . Walls Come Tumbling Down

Rain-starved Big Spring got its full measure Saturday, and with such super-abundance and violence that it caved in the south wall of the Elrod Furniture Company at 806 E. 3rd Street. No accurate estimate of loss could be assessed Saturday.

but David Elrod said it would exceed $5,000. Several downtown stores had water damage. Streets washed badly, but in most of the rural areas, the rain meant ample planting moisture and hope of crops. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Flood Waters Collapse Furniture Store Wall

By PRESTON MAYNARD

Flood waters collapsed a portion of the rear wall of Elrod Furniture Store, 806 E. 3rd, Saturday afternoon and poured through the store. Damage may be more than $5,000, David Elrod, owner, estimated. A power failure cut off lights, causing employees to move from the rear to the front of the store just before the wall collapsed. Elsewhere water coursed through business buildings, poured into manholes and backed up sewers, washed out roads, snapped power poles and did all sorts of mischief. A group of some 25 employees and friends at Elrod's were working during the afternoon to clear the store of the water and its accompanying dirt and sand.

ANKLE DEEP

"Water stood ankle deep throughout the store," Elrod said. Two rolls of carpet were among items lost in the flood-damaged interior. About 50 feet of the rear wall buckled and partly collapsed inward, although items stored in the rear room prevented the wall from falling entirely. "If the lights hadn't been off we would have been in there one worker said. The store's lights had gone out during the thunderstorm and the workers had moved out of the back portion of the building. The wall's collapse came during the second downpour of the afternoon. Elrod added that the damage estimated could run higher if more rains fell during the afternoon. Chair cushions were being used as sandbags at the store's rear door to retain the water, which came into the store from a high hill south of the building.

SANDBAG STORES

Downtown merchants and employees sandbagged doors and matted brooms to keep water from flooding their stores and, in some instances, had to watch ankle-deep water ruin carpeting and damage fixtures. Water flooding northward down Johnson Street reportedly moved several cars out of their parked positions and shoved two cars into each other in the 200 block of Johnson. Several inches of water flooded the floor of a package store on the west side of the Settles Hotel. Hotel employees reported water came in the hotel's west door until a heavy piece of lumber was used to barricade the door. Rugs were rolled from the hotel lobby floor and placed on the stairways as a precaution and employees said some water got into the hotel's basement. Small damage was reported, however.

INTO OFFICES

In the 200 block of Johnson, water flooded the floors of the E. P. Driver Insurance Agency, the Joe Pond Agency office and into the front of Hester's Office Supply. "The water was coming down the street like an angry river," city commissioner John Stanley said. Water has run from curb to curb down the street before. Stanley said, but Saturday it ran over the sidewalks. Stanley said he and commissioner W. L. Thompson had driven over the city to survey the damage and that considerable damage had been received by some streets. Employees at the Kid's Shop, 201 E. 3rd, said the high water washed away heavy potted plants from the sidewalk on the Johnson Street entrance to the store. Sandbags were used to block the store's doors and no water damage was evidenced inside the store, they said. Water also crept inside the offices of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. building, 205 E. 4th.

SIGNALS OUT

Traffic signal lights on Third and Fourth Streets, through the downtown area and east, were out for a portion of the afternoon. Water in the 500 and 600 blocks of Main Street caused what appeared to be heavy damage to the Tate, Bristow and Parks Insurance Agency office, 508 Main, apparently pushing open a rear door to flood the firm with several feet of water. "You can't imagine how deep the water was coming down the alley," said Gil Jones, who with others worked to keep water out of the newly-constructed Caylor Building at the corner of Main and Fifth. Water moved into the building and flooded the floor of Zack's, women's apparel store, in amounts of less than an inch to two inches over the store. Damage was primarily to carpeting and to some fixtures.

Light Rainfall

GARDEN CITY — Garden City recorded .34 inch between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday, with off-and-on rainfall and only a small amount of hail reported, according to Glasscock County Judge Bryant Harris.

employees reported, with no clothing damaged.

ROOF GOES

High winds took several big chunks of a sheet-metal roof off the S. P. Jones Lumber Co. building, 409 Goliad. Police received reports of two electric light poles partially toppled during the afternoon, at Fifth and Goliad and on Wasson Road near the Jet Drive-In. Electric lines were also reported down at the Airport School, Air Base Road.

A small trailer house was reported turned over at 620 Caylor Street and another at 1424 Hilltop Road. Windows were broken out at the latter trailer, which was blown over by high winds and turned onto its top, witnesses reported. Both trailer houses were reported unoccupied at the time. Numerous reports were received of wash-outs in streets over the city. Public Works Director Ernest Lillard reported, including some on Wasson Road, Kentucky Way, Eleventh Place and on North Side streets.

CAVE-INS

Several holes were reported to police at intersections. A cave-in was barricaded at Second and Benton Street, where the installation was recently made of the Beals Branch Sewer line. A hole several feet across was reported at Bell and Northwest Fourth and chunks of asphalt were observed washed off some streets on the North Side. Water covered portions of the tracks of the Texas and Pacific Railroad between the Benton Street and Gregg Street viaducts.

Forty Feared Killed By Snowslide In Germany

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP) — A giant spring avalanche swept down the sun-drenched slopes of Mt. Zugspitze with a "doomsday roar" Saturday, burying scores of persons under tons of snow. As many as 40 persons were feared killed. By late Saturday night, 11 bodies had been dragged from the snow. Authorities said another 25 to 30 persons still were missing and presumed dead.

CASCADE DOWN

As torches and floodlights illuminated the disaster scene, a German army officer in charge of the rescue said: "The snow is as hard as reinforced concrete. No one can still be alive under those masses of snow."

Benefits Surpass Loss In Flooding

Rural Areas Get Enough For Planting

While rain and hail were buffeting and flooding areas of Big Spring Saturday afternoon, most of the rural areas got off lighter. However, there were exceptions, and all areas of Howard County came in for enough moisture to guarantee planting. Some got enough to insure the crop getting well along to maturity.

Coahoma had 1.50 inches of rain with considerable wind. Some trees were uprooted and a cotton trailer on the Guitar gin lot flipped over. Six miles northeast of Coahoma, on the Noble Read Ranch, an inch of rain fell. Eight miles southeast of Coahoma, 2.00 inches were gauged.

One mile west of Sand Springs, 2.50 inches fell. There was no hail damage.

FORSAN SOAKED

Forsan had another soaking rain and added another 1.50 inches to the rangeland in the area. Stock tanks are beginning to fill.

Lomax had .50 inch. Farmers said that with the rain earlier this week, they are now in a position to plant. Elbow with the same amount of rain as Lomax was in good shape to start seeding.

Knott, badly in need of rain, got 1.50 North and west, the fall dwindled. Ackerly, for example, had only .30 inch. Most of Dawson County missed out on the rain.

The Fairview area, left out in earlier rains, got its full share on Saturday afternoon. At the Fairview gin, 1.50 inches fell. On the Carl Hammack place, 5 miles north on the Lamesa highway, 3.50 inches of rain fell, accompanied by a heavy light hail. The hail drifted in fence corners like snow. Shallow lakes in the area filled and in some instances spread out to engulf borrow ditches on roads.

"BEST SINCE '63"

Leland Wallace, who ranches north and east of Big Spring, said Little Wild Horse Creek was running briskly early last night. His ranch had 2.60 inches. The other Wallace ranch, 10 miles northeast of the Wild Horse headquarters, reported 1.80 inches.

"It's the best rain I have had here on my land since 1963," said Wallace.

County Commissioner L. J. Davidson reported two inches of rain on his farm. He lives seven miles north and east on the Old Gail road.

On the extreme northwest edge of the county, the Wilson Ranches had from half to an inch of rain.

The Wilkinson Ranch, west on IS 20, Bill McIlvain reported, got 2.25 inches of moisture. Tanks are beginning to fill. McIlvain said the rains dwindled south of his place. He had no report from the northern ranch.

"Couldn't get there to see what happened," he explained. Between Hartwells in western Howard County and the CRMWD (See PLANTING, P. 8-A, Col. 4)

City Buffeted, Farms Helped

Lowering, boiling clouds turned Big Spring almost dark as night for a time early Saturday afternoon, then turned loose the heaviest rain in two years. Along with it came some hail and gusty, high winds to add to flood water damage.

But while Big Spring was taking a buffeting, the rural areas were getting generally lesser amounts but enough to insure planting of the cotton crop.

Some sections, in a strip about 10 miles wide through the center of the county from west to east, got good soakings.

TANKS FILLED

While county roads were washing badly, many fields had water in the furrows, and some were temporary lakes. Stock tanks filled in several sectors, and one rancher said a new tank filled instantly.

The big lake — J. B. Thomas — was not so fortunate. It gained only slightly. Observers generally agreed that benefits will far exceed the harm to come from the storm.

A tragedy was averted when Fermin Flores pulled little Rudy Hernandez from a raging drainage ditch on the North Side and likely saved him from drowning.

NO INJURIES

Luckily there were no injuries when a car driven by Scott B.

Smith, Lubbock, ran into a hailstorm on US 87 near Fairview. As he skidded on the ice, he collided with Jerry Neely, Ola, Ark.

What may have been two small twisters destroyed a pair of small buildings northeast of town. A metal building at the W. D. Caldwell Construction Company was picked up and slammed down a short distance away. At Center Point, a garage at the Vernon Kent home was blown down and two cars damaged.

Part of the downtown and other areas were without power for a time when a portion of the S. P. Jones Lumber Company roof at 409 Goliad blew off, hitting a pole and snapping it off. Two circuits went with it. A few other poles were broken or threatened to fall.

Water ran into businesses in the vicinity of Sixth and Main, and then along Runnels Street from Fourth to First.

DRIFTS AWAY

A motorist was reportedly washed off the Andrews highway about 18 miles west of here, and his car drifted a short distance away. He escaped without harm. Another attempted to cross a median on IS 20 north of town at the height of the storm and was hopelessly stuck.

In northwest Big Spring, flood waters poured into several homes. Four of them were in the 800 block of Wyoming Street and one reported water knee deep there.

Businesses at 10th and Johnson had to call out the mop brigade when waters poured into a manhole and sent flood waters coursing in through comedones into the establishments.

TRAILER UPSET

Capricious winds overturned at least one trailer house. Tons of earth and rock rolled on to streets, and at 2nd and Benton, where a sewer line had been laid recently, the fill caved in.

Detention dams undoubtedly spared the downtown and western lowlands areas complete disaster. The basin north of Cosper Clinic on Gregg and the one on Main immediately north of the Church of Christ, both caught level full and held back vast amounts of water. Three new detention structures in the western part of town along the Eleventh Place projection trapped considerable volume and spared the Galveston and Third Street low spot serious flooding. It was bad enough there as it was.

Most of the hail was marble size and did no great damage, but near Webb AFB and northward toward the Andrews highway, there were chunks de-

Alerts Touch Off Day Of Turbulence

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, large hail and heavy rain slammed portions of West Texas again Saturday as the U. S. Weather Bureau issued two severe thunderstorm forecasts for the state.

Twisters were reported by the Weather Bureau near Abilene, Coleman, and Jacksboro. Hailstones of up to an inch in diameter pelted Mineral Wells.

LASH AREAS

At dusk, heavy thunderstorms were reported lashing areas of West Central Texas and moving off to the northeast.

Three men were injured at Fort Phantom Hill 20 miles north of Abilene as a twister roared through the area about 4 p.m. Boats and boat docks were torn up, several boat houses were demolished and at least three trailer houses damaged.

Hospitalized in Abilene were

C-City Okays School Bonds

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City voters endorsed a $550,000 school bond proposal here Saturday by a margin of more than two to one.

The ballot contained two questions. Both were approved. The first proposal is to permit the Colorado City School District to raise its tax ceiling from $1.50 to $2. School officials have assured the patrons that the maximum will not be required.

The voters approved this proposal by a vote of 348 to 130.

The second proposal was the bond issue. It proposed issuing $550,000 in bonds to finance a renovation and expansion program for the school plants of the district. Most of the money will be spent on the high school.

A library, cafeteria, industrial arts and vocational building will be erected and extensive improvements on the gymnasium are scheduled. A track will be built as a part of the plan.

General improvement and repair on the other four buildings is also provided.

This was approved by a vote of 336 to 138.

Rain fell throughout the afternoon and may have tended to lessen the number of voters, observers said.

Max Kelly of Abilene, Eddie Shannon, 31, and Ray Moody, 35, both of Kermit. None was in serious condition.

WIDE SWATH

The latest severe forecast called for turbulence in a 120-mile swath from 40 miles southwest of Sherman to 30 miles north northeast of Fayetteville, Ark. till midnight. The area was just to the north of the Dallas-Fort Worth region.

Earlier, a large strip of West Texas went under severe forecast during a period in which downpours deluged Big Spring.

Explosions Rip Viet Air Base

SAIGON (AP) — A series of ambush site unscathed. Fighter aircraft and armed helicopters rushed to the scene but found no trace of the Reds, a U.S. spokesman said. Ground troops also were moved in, but there had been no reports of contact with the enemy.

The death of the two Americans raised the number of U.S. soldiers killed in Viet Nam since December 1961 to 376.

U.S. paratroopers made their first helicopter assault in Viet Nam on Saturday against suspected Communist Viet Cong positions northeast of the Bien Hoa air base, north of Saigon.

Only light sniper fire was encountered, and there were no casualties.

Sixteen U.S. Army helicopters sent about 200 paratroopers into action in two separate lifts from Bien Hoa. Paratroopers were dropped about five miles out from positions outside the Bien Hoa defense perimeter.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Last week brought both hope and despair—hope from desperately needed rains; despair from tragic deaths. The break in weather came first on Sunday when a thunderstorm slipped in before the forecasters could frighten it away. Big Spring and the south part of the county got an inch or more. Then cloudy weather set in, and finally on Thursday another booming thunderstorm brought rain, hail and a full quota of anxiety from those who listen to shortwave broadcasts. There were more reports of tornadoes than you could count, and virtually no really confirmed reports of any in this vicinity.

Perhaps you can credit the automobile show with Saturday's unexpected downpour. Despite forecasts to the contrary, this event seems to attract unusual weather, and we must say that this particular type of unusual weather appeals to us.

The big question is whether there is enough moisture to bring up a crop. There is no single answer. Based on reports before Saturday, possibly for about three-fourths of the county, yes; for the remainder, maybe to no. Pastures have been helped and already are "turning green." It will take more rain, however, to incur a grass crop.

Death came unexpectedly Tuesday morning to state Rep. Ed Carpenter, who was convalescing from a heart attack. He dropped dead in his Austin apartment, ending a career of public service and of neighborhood concern for his fellow man. Following services here Wednesday, speculation began immediately over a successor and a sizable field is not improbable when Gov. Connally sets a special election.

While Webb AFB looked back on its most successful Armed Forces Day observance in a number of years, an observance elsewhere brought tragic news. Capt. Michael O'Brien and Lt. Frances Hudd died when their T-38 crashed on takeoff at Duluth, Minn. They had gone from Webb to put a T-38 on display.

Ironically, the last fatality from Webb had occurred June 7, 1964, when Capt. E. C. Huffines died on a takeoff at Myrtle Beach, S.C. (See THE WEEK, P. 8-A, Col. 1)

T&P Rio Grande Division Gets Merit Safety Award

DALLAS—The Texas and Pacific Railway Company and two of its operating divisions received awards for achievements in railroad employee safety from the National Safety Council today.

The railroad won the Award of Honor for its overall safety record for working employees during 1964. Texas and Pacific's injury and casualty rate of 8.57 per million man-hours was adjudged 46 per cent better than the industry's par average, compared to statistics for line-haul operations during the years 1961 through 1963. The formula day was worked out by the National Safety Council from safety performance figures reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

T&P's Dallas-Fort Worth terminal Division, headed by Supt. L. B. Griffin, received an Award of Honor for its score of 66 per cent against an industry par of 51 per cent for switching and terminal operations.

Church To Ordain First Elders

Phillip Burcham Sr and J. E. Kennedy will be ordained Sunday morning as the first two elders in the history of the Anderson Street Church of Christ. David Tarbet, preacher for the church, said the ordination service will be at 11 a. m. Sunday morning. He urged all members of the congregation and all friends of the church to be on hand in about two weeks, he said. The church plans to ordain its first deacons.

The Rio Grande Division, Fort Worth to El Paso, headed by Supt. R. H. Blasingame, Big Spring, missed by three percentage points of achieving an honor award but won the Merit Award.

Neiman-Marcus Says Sales Up

DALLAS (AP) — Neiman-Marcus Co., which suffered a multimillion dollar fire in its downtown store last year, reports sales increased more than $500,000 the first quarter of this year compared to the same period in 1964.

South Africa Nazis Cited

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A Swedish daily said Saturday a German Nazi ex-officer, Gen. Raymond Kritzenger Rudman, is heading a "heavily armed" South African Nazi movement, equipped with two old German submarines.

The Expressen, continuing its series of unveiling a Swedish Nazi movement with international ties, also published a facsimile of a letter from Rudman to a contact man in Cairo. It came from the movement's headquarters in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, the newspaper said.

The letter was headed by the name "Die Boerenasie," an organization, described by the paper as "headed by a group of ex-officers in Hitler's army."

Rudman is also a grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, the daily said.

Actress Improved, Will Return Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal, who leaves for London Monday, plans a brief news conference prior to her departure — her first meeting with the press since she was partially paralyzed by three strokes Feb. 17.

Miss Neal's husband, British writer Ronald Dahl, disclosed their travel plans Friday saying: "We're going to have a short press conference so everyone can judge for himself how well she's recovered."

He said the 39-year-old Academy Award-winning actress would board the plane unassisted.

The Dahls and their three children are returning to their home in Great Missenden, Buckinghamshire, about 30 miles from London. The family will stop at Washington, D.C. en route to visit friends "and break up the journey."

Miss Neal came to Hollywood to play the role of a doctor in the film, "Seven Women." She was stricken when she returned home from her first big scene.

She was in critical condition for nearly a month at the UCLA Medical Center. Her right side was paralyzed and her speech was affected.

Oslo Reports Say Texas Klan, Neo-Nazis Linked

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Newspaper reports in Oslo and Stockholm say neo-Nazi groups operating throughout Scandinavia have links with the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama and Texas.

The Norwegian government organ Arbeiderbladet said here that a Scandinavian group called Nordiski Rikspartiet — Nordic Reich party — has a "fuehrer" in each of the Nordic countries.

SWEDISH FUEHRER
Citing Swedish informants the newspaper said the Swedish fuehrer is Goeran Assar Oredson and his Norwegian colleague is Hallvard N. Paasche.

Arbeiderbladet said Oredson sent a threatening letter to Swedish lecturer Joachim Israel last Oct. 1. The paper said the letter was accompanied by a Klan brochure containing pictures of German concentration camps with anti-Semitic captions.

Sweden's largest newspaper, Expressen, said the leader of a recently discovered neo-Nazi action group in Stockholm held membership in the Klan.

SECURITY POLICE
Expressen handed over documents and photographs to state and security police. Among them was a picture of a Klan membership card it said was issued to Bjorn Lundahls, the neo-Nazi leader. It bore the signature of "imperial wizard" Sherman Miller of Waco, Tex.

According to notes on the card, Lundahls had been appointed "grand dragon" of the "Aryan Knights" in the "realm of Sweden."

Trained Buffalo Due For Rodeo

By SAM BLACKBURN

A buffalo (bison, to you purists) is about the last animal anyone would attempt to train to do complicated tricks. Old timers, who hunted the big hairy beasts, have been outspoken in their insistence that the buffalo is about the stupidest, stubbornest critter on four legs. Of course, the old timers who had this somewhat biased opinion, had not met Pat when they made their critical comment on the intellectual capacity of the Bison.

PRIZE PROPERTY

Pat, now 13-years-old, is the prized property of LaRue Olson, Whitewood, S. D. He is the only trained buffalo in the world.

Pat will be a star attraction at the annual Howard County Rodeo which opens at the rodeo bowl, west of town, next Wednesday night. He weighs 1,400 pounds, has all of the usual characteristics of his tribe—except that Pat is an educated character who can do a whole hatfull of truly astounding tricks.

Olson, a rugged sort of character himself, bought Pat when he was just a spring calf Dec. 14, 1952. Pat was born on a ranch in Alzada, Mont. He was no different, probably, in his childhood than any other red-blooded American buffalo calf.

Olson, who had been a horse trainer, began Pat's education when the animal was about a year old.

FIRST SHOW

"He made his first show appearance after two years schooling," said Olson. "We found out that he wasn't ready. He needed more education."

He got that education. Now he is in his 11th year of professional appearances at rodeos and fairs. He has traveled all over the U.S. and in some parts of Canada. He has been featured in one movie and has been on television and radio.

PAT, THE BUFFALO, IS A SMART 'UN LaRue Olson and his famous trained American bison

Despite his fame, he isn't stuck up. Pat's a very agreeable fellow—for a buffalo, that is.

"He does a wide assortment of tricks," said his owner. "I never touch him when he is working his act. I give him his orders by voice. He responds as he should. I think the Big Spring rodeo fans will be amazed at some of the stunts that Pat can do."

Some Areas Now Ready For Cotton Planting

Rains of last week, long awaited, have opened the way for farmers in scattered sections of the county to plant their 1965 cotton crop. "I would say," Herb Helbig estimated, "that perhaps 35 to 40 per cent of the county's cotton farms can now be planted. This means there is enough moisture in the ground to get the plants up and give them a start in life. A little more rain from time to time in June and the summer and we might be on our way."

Helbig pointed out that this is the ideal season for Howard County cotton planting. Most farmers want to get their seed in before the end of May. Some say that cotton seeded as late as June 15 is all right. Helbig disagrees.

"Everything has to be just right," he said, "if cotton planted in mid-June pays off. Now is the best possible time to plant."

Ralph White, Coahoma, said he has cotton already up in fields on one of his farms. He said he planted on the heels of the rains in that area some time ago. The rains of last week came just right for his tender plants, he said. He didn't think he had any hail damage from the storm of last Thursday night.

Helbig said that he believed about all of the farms in the Lomax-Elbow area can plant now if farmers desire. Some fields, he said, are in better condition than others. As a general rule, however, most of the southwest quadrant of the county has enough moisture to make planting a good risk.

COAHOMA
Around Coahoma and for perhaps seven or eight miles in all directions, moisture is good enough to justify planting, he thinks.

A strip just north of Big Spring, perhaps four or five miles wide, extending almost across the county has not gotten as much rain as have other sections. This area includes the rich Fairview cotton belt and extends eastward through the Center Point district.

Northwest of this strip, in the Ackerly-Knott area, rains have been fair and possibly (with exception of certain farms in the Knott community), planting can be risked. In the Ackerly area itself heavy rains fell Thursday night and doubtless put enough needed wetness into the land to start the planters turning.

Vealmoor, while not so much farm country as ranchland, has had good rains and east of the community, cotton fields can be seeded. This condition extends southward through the Gay Hill district and applies, it is thought, to the Luther community. The upper northwest corner, in the vicinity of Vincent, has had fair to average rains.

FORSAN
Forsan and the southeast corner of the county has had about the average rain of any part of the county. This section, however, is almost 100 per cent ranching and little cotton is grown in the district.

Helbig stressed that to make a flat statement that cotton farmers living in any specified community can now plant is oversimplifying.

"The rains in this county fall in such varied pattern," he said, "that one farm may have plenty of moisture to justify seeding and the one across the fence not enough."

To say that the county has had 3.91 inches of rain so far in 1965 is not an accurate statement. Actually, this is the amount of rain gauged at the U. S. Experiment Station on the north edge of the city. It is agreed by most observers that many parts of town have received more rain than the station has reported; by the same token, less rain may have fallen in parts of town than the 3.91 inches reported.

The situation is true in the county. Some sections have received materially more rain than has fallen on other areas near by.

NOT ALL
"So," Helbig said, "while it may appear that a considerable part of the county is moist enough for planting, the spotted nature of the rains must be kept in mind."

"This is why I do not believe that more than 40 per cent of all the fields can be planted safely at this date."

Reading Clinic Draws Well

More than 75 persons registered Saturday for the reading instruction program conducted at Howard County Junior College by the Forsan Independent School District.

Darrel Flynt, principal of Forsan Junior High, presided for the program, which opened with a general session at the HJC auditorium Saturday morning, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, HJC president, welcomed those attending.

Teachers and administrators attended the one-day session from Sweetwater, Midland, Odessa, Crane, Lamesa, Stamford, McCamey, Coahoma, Ackerly, Colorado City, Big Spring and Forsan.

Eugene F. Matthews, of Sound Photo Company, spoke on the topic, "A Look at Reading Eyes" as part of the morning program. The delegates convened again at 1 p.m. and viewed a movie, "The Reading Laboratory." The film is based on the reading program at Ysleta High School, El Paso.

A series of sectional meetings were organized during the morning program, with about 15 to 20 persons placed in each section. Topics varied from controlled reading techniques and developing study skills to "listen and read." Each section meeting considered several of the topics in discussions.

King Named To School Post

FORT WORTH — A veteran Texas educator has been named to head the Masonic Home and School in Fort Worth. Robert R. King, who has been superintendent of schools in Vernon since 1963, will assume his new duties on July 1, according to an announcement by the board of directors of the home and school.

King replaces W. Z. Compton, who is retiring. The Masonic Home and School is maintained by 250,000 members of the Masonic Fraternity in Texas as care for children and grandchildren of Texas Masons whose families are disrupted. Some 300 students live on the campus. Prior to his service in Vernon, King was superintendent of schools in Haskell, Rochester and Girard, Texas. He has also served in other capacities in Spur, Silverton and Girard, Texas school systems since 1937.

Kiwanians Give Trophies To Junior College Netters

Louise Malaise and Taylor Smith, Howard County Junior College tennis team members, were presented with the Big Spring Kiwanis Club's worthy recognition trophies Thursday at the regular meeting of the club.

The occasion was the annual meeting of the Kiwanians at which the club honors the H.C.J.C. tennis and volleyball teams. This is the third year the club has made the awards.

CORSAGES

Miss Anna Smith, dean of women at the college, was also on hand. She introduced the members of her team who were present and also Mrs. Nony Michulka, who is her ex-officio assistant. Miss Smith and Mrs. Michulka were given corsages by the club.

Miss Malaise is a freshman at the college and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Malaise of Odessa.

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, 2801 Cactus.

Miss Smith spoke briefly commending the Kiwanians for their continuing support and interest in the college. She then showed slides of the recent tennis tournament staged on the Kiwanis Courts at the college. Taped interviews with the coaches featured her address.

Jack Alexander, acting for Mayor George Zachariah, who could not be present, read to the club a resolution of commendation to the Kiwanis Club for its civic and community activities. The resolution had been adopted by the city commission at a recent regular meeting.

SALES SLOW

Ticket sales for the annual Kiwanis Club Rodeo barbecue, to be served on the evening of May 19, are going slowly, the club was told. Members were asked to step up their sales efforts.

Committee assignments for the barbecue were also announced.

The club for the past five years has served a barbecue supper on the opening night of the annual Howard County Rodeo. It has an agreement with the Rodeo Association to provide barbecue dinners at the Rodeo Bowl for the association's special guests on opening night.

At the same time, the club serves barbecue dinners to the public at large at the Big Spring City Park. Tickets for the barbecue are $1 per plate. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. May 19 and end at 8 p.m. All profits from the barbecue go into the club's fund for the aid of underprivileged children.

Dave Dorchester is the chief cook for the barbecue. His aides are Delaine Crawford and Don Lovelady. He called for a large number of volunteers to man the barbecue pits on the night of May 18 when the beef is being cooked.

Service committee at the rodeo barn will be headed by Travis Waller, as chairman, and Harvey Clay as co-chairman. Kiwanians assigned to the rodeo grounds are Soc Walker, Bill Johnson, Wendal Parks, Noel Reed, Pete Hull, Norman Spencer, Ernest Welch, Clyde Hollingsworth, George Franks, T. B. Atkins, Jasper Atkins and Jack Alexander.

SERVERS

The servers at the City Park for the public at large are headed by Jim Thompson, chairman with Sherman Smith, co-chairman. Workers are Charles Warren, Bob Travis, Bob Stripling, Earl Stovall, Merle Stewart, Nat Shick, Horace Reagan, J. C. Pickle, Byron Orand, Roscoe Newell, Gibby Morehead, Ward Jackson, Garland Helton, Doc Hardy, Glenn Faison, Bill Cashion, John Coffee, Escoc Cowper, Bob Bradbury, Elmer Boatler and Jay Banks.

Stan Ballou and Paul Chappell are ticket committeemen.

Petitions Due Monday For Road Bond Election

Civic leaders are expected to lay a sheaf of signed petitions, asking that a $600,000 road bond election be called, before the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday.

A representative of Rauscher, Pierce and Co., who is to serve as fiscal agent for the county if the bond election program is adopted, will be in town Monday afternoon. He told the court last Monday that he would bring complete details on the bond issue election with him to the Monday conference.

The $600,000 bond issue will be proposed to finance the acquisition of right of way needed for the extension of FM 700 from US 87 westward to tie into US 80 and to extend the eastern leg of the road from IS 20 northward to the Snyder highway.

The petitions, which are being circulated, relate that the bond issue, if approved, carry not more than 5.5 per cent interest and mature serially over 30 years.

Appraisers have turned in tentative figures on the value of some of the property which will be needed for the road program and these proved that the county will have to spend at least $600,000 as its part of the road building project.

The law specifies that a petition signed by 50 property owners is sufficient to empower the county commissioners to call a bond election. However, the leaders in the program to get FM 700 completed across town are hoping to have at least a thousand signatures by Monday when the court convenes.

PUT YOUR NAME ON THEM

Applications Accepted For Special Auto Tags

By SAM BLACKBURN
Is it worth $10 a year to you to have your own individual car license plates with your name, nickname, your wife's name or your dog's name, instead of the millrun kind?

If it is, you can have just such a license.
You'll have to pay the regular license fee, of course, plus $10 for the prestige tag. But think how it will build you up in the eyes of other peasant motorists who can't afford the luxury.

CATCH

There's a little catch, though. If you happen to be named Smith, and want a special car plate with your name on it, you will have to be the first Smith in all of Texas to file an application with the State Motor Vehicle Division.

If your name happens to be Kuzin, very likely your application would be the first to reach the department. But you can have only six letters, numbers or combinations of both, on a prestige plate. So you'd have to settle for your first name, your nickname or just cut your surname to Kuzin.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that application forms for these special license plates are on hand at her office.

It all stems from a special bill recommended by the governor and adopted by the state legislature. The governor said the idea will bring in $5,000,000 a year to the state, and the funds will be used to finance the Texas program for tourism, recreation and state parks.

The bill does not become operative until 90 days after the legislature has closed its session. Nevertheless, the State Motor Vehicle department is already geared up to start work.

PAY FEE

Mrs. LeFevre says that the applicant must come prepared to pay his $10 fee for the special plate. A similar fee will be required each year, in addition to the normal registration charge, if the motorist wants to keep his personalized plates.

The applicant must state the vehicle for which the plate is desired. Only passenger cars, trucks, truck tractors, trailers (not exceeding 10,000 pounds), buses and house trailers can be accepted for the special plates.

You have to submit at least three choices with your application. Mrs. LeFevre says this means if your name is Brown, for example, another Brown's application may be ahead of yours. Therefore you submit several alternates — your first name, perhaps, the name of your wife, your town, etc. Preference will be given your first choice, but if that's already gone, your second will be considered, and so on.

The special plate will be processed and delivered to the office of the county tax assessor in the county where the applicant lives. He can claim it there by surrendering his regular plates. You can't transfer the special plate after you get it to another car without renewal. Unregistered new cars and used vehicles are not permitted to display the special plates.

RADIO HAMS

Radio hams, who already have special plates with their station call letters, cannot obtain these special new personalized plates.

Mrs. LeFevre said the officials think the biggest demand will be for monogram-type plates or those bearing the owners initials. Many will ask for plates bearing their nicknames. Gimmicks are possible. Suppose your birthday is Jan. 25. You can get a plate reading JAN 25. Three letter combinations may be followed only by numbers. Advertising gadgets can be worked in like CARPET, INSURE, and so forth.

Others may go in for slogans like CANCER or perhaps SAFETY. Maybe you want to plug your home town. You can if you stay inside six letters. Folk in Breckenridge will be a little hard pushed to qualify.

COMBINATIONS

Here are the letter-number combinations which can be used:

(a) One to six letters, such as "A" or "ROBERT."

(b) Two letters followed by one to four numbers, such as "AB 4" or "AB 2345."

(c) Three letters followed by a number from 1 through 9, such as "ABC 9."

(d) Four letters followed by one or two numbers, such as "ABCD 4" or "ABCD 45."

(e) Five letters followed by one number, such as "ABCDE 4."

(f) One number followed by one to five letters, such as "4 A" or "4ABCDE." (The suffix "PAR" will not be authorized.)

(g) Two numbers followed by one to four letters, such as "23 A" or "23 ABCD." (The suffix "PAR" will not be authorized.)

(h) Three numbers followed by one to three letters, such as "123 A" or "123 ABC."

(i) Four numbers followed by one or two letters, such as "1234 A" or "1234 AB."

(j) Five numbers followed by one letter, such as "12345 A."

So the time is at hand. If you want your own individual personalized car plate, make your application now. You'll get your fancy Dan, individual plate along about Aug. 24.

WINNING COMBINATION FOR DARLA MOORE
Pretty girl, pretty flowers and cotton

Darla Moore Is Maid Of Cotton

Darla Moore, 20-year-old Big Spring High School graduate, emerged from competition with 22 other contestants Friday night to become Howard County's reigning Maid of Cotton for 1965.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles E. Moore, 1500 Nolan, and she is employed by the First National Bank.

A former student of West Texas State University and Hardin - Simmons University, Miss Moore was chosen the county's Maid of Cotton from among five finalists.

A bouquet of red roses was presented by George True, crowning her the winner following a formal review of the contestants. Each girl appeared in formal evening attire for the review.

Her selection brings the opportunity to represent the county at numerous functions during the coming year, as well as to compete at the annual South Plains Maid of Cotton Pageant at Lubbock next spring.

The four other finalists who competed for the title were Diane Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brooks, Coahoma; Lynda Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Davidson; Paula Langston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Langston, and Kandis Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Long.

The final selection was made following the review and program at the studios of KWAB-TV, Elaine Clark, women's director for the station, narrated the review and Nancy Lynn Haralson, Miss Big Spring, presented the reading which she gave as her talent for the Miss Big Spring Pageant.

Herb Helbig, Howard County agent, talked on cotton and its importance as part of the program and music was furnished by Mrs. Gail Bonner.

Judges for the Maid of Cotton were Mrs. Dick Wilson, Mrs. Marian Russell and James Tidwell.

The pageant Friday night marked the highlight of the observance here of National Cotton Week.

In addition to competing in the South Plains Maid of Cotton Pageant, an opportunity

Just A Few Of His 1,248 Ballpoints

Fireman Robert H. (Moon) Mullins, left, shows six peg boards, containing 96 ballpoint pens each. He has 13 of these boards plus from 300 to 325 pencils. All are advertising pens and pencils, which he has collected over a period of three years, and he is still looking.

City Fireman Collects Ballpoint Pens--1,248

If you ever wondered what happened to all the advertising ballpoint pens in the country, take a look at some boards out at Fire Station No. 5 on Wasson Road.

Fireman Robert H. (Moon) Mullins has 1,248 of them, including a few pencils, mounted on peg boards — 96 to the board. And, believe it or not, he still wants more. It doesn't matter what part of the world they come from. It doesn't matter what advertiser put them out as long as there are no two with the same wording and colors.

"I don't know why I started this hobby," he said. "I once saved some for a man, and after that I just seemed to drift into the collection. Some of them come from specialty houses, some from salesmen who pass on left-over samples, some are traded from other collectors, and many are saved for me by business men and friends who know that I have the collection."

Mullins said the mounted pens would be at the No. 5 Station Sunday for those who would like to look them over. "Incidentally, if any one has one or more spare advertising pens he doesn't need, I would appreciate getting them," he said. "I would appreciate calls to me at AM 4-6707. I will pick them up — one or more."

Mullins has recorded every pen in a book and, even though cities don't all show on the mounting board, he can look in his book and tell where each is put out.

on the city golf course. He is married and he and Mrs. Mullins live at 3705 Dixon.

Coahoma Election Set For June 5

Coahoma Independent School District voters will decide June 5 whether to issue $395,000 in bonds for more than a dozen items of improvement.

In a special meeting Friday noon with all trustees present, the board acted on petitions and unanimously called the election. Later they plan to hold meetings to explain details of the program and answer questions about it.

Little time will be lost in setting up for the election. Absentee voting will begin Tuesday at the office of Supt. W. A. Wilson in Coahoma.

When the balloting comes on election day, it will be at Coahoma City Hall with Mrs. Donald Lay as judge and at the Vincent Baptist Church with Jim Hodnett as judge.

Preliminary plans had been developed on part of the program which was included in one submitted unsuccessfully in January. Therefore, if the bonds are approved, work on the most pressing elements such as remodeling of the old middle building to provide five additional classrooms can be accomplished with dispatch.

For this $25,000 has been set aside. Other items are Midway school improvements $5,000, additional classrooms (up to 12) as needed $110,000, land purchase west of football field, $20,000, band hall $25,000, elementary kitchen equipment $15,000, elementary junior high gymnasium $80,000, football stadium $35,000, track field $5,000, high school track and football field-house $25,000, enlarge junior high fieldhouse $5,000, architect fees $15,000, bond agent $4,000, furniture $7,000, utility extension $15,000, and fencing, concessions, restrooms $4,000.

Bar Members Begin Voting

AUSTIN — Members of the State Bar of Texas began voting Saturday for a president-elect, a vice president and congressional district nominees for nine places on the board of directors.

Election ballots, mailed from bar headquarters to some 16,000 lawyers, will be counted on June 5.

Nominees for president-elect are: Wilson H. Fox, Taylor, and W. O. Shafer, Odessa. Vice presidential nominees are: George T. Barrow, Houston, and John Louis (Tiny) Shook, Dallas. Nominees for directors from the 19th Congressional District are: Thomas J. Griffin and Travis D. Shelton, both of Lubbock.

Current president-elect Clint C. Small Jr., Austin, will succeed Joyce Cox, Houston, following the bar's annual convention at Fort Worth, June 30-July 3.

About 4,000 lawyers, less than 36 years of age, also will vote on 1965-66 officers of the State Junior Bar. Nominees are: O. F. Jones III, Victoria, and Ted M. Kerr, Midland, for president-elect; Bill Cox, Dallas, and Joseph Jaworski, Houston, for vice president; and Charles H. Clark, Tyler, and Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls.

Jack Rattikin Jr., Fort Worth, president-elect, will become president in July.

Theater Operators Battle Ordinance

SHARON HARRISON — Hostess for rodeo queen candidates

A schedule of activities has been approved for entertainment of the candidates for the four days, including entertainment and a dinner at Cosden Country Club Saturday.

THE WEEK

 the Beach, S. C. Sunday, his widow, Yvonne, and two children, Michael, 5, and Melissa, 3, were killed in a car collision north of Abilene. This left Allen, 2, as the only surviving member of the family.

Can you realize it—the 32nd annual showing of the Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo and Reunion begins Wednesday? This one looks like a real exciting one, and thanks to the rain the arena and parking area ought to be in excellent shape.

Overcast skies have kept the cleanup campaign under wraps during most of the past week. But now that rain has brightened everything, why not get your hoe and rake and get with it this week? Do the kind of a job that you would if the entire campaign depended on you.

Howard County Junior College is due to come in for about $80,000 more per annum in state support under the appropriations bill which was passed by both houses of the legislature last week. The bill has HCJC down for $247,700 as compared to the present $167,700. This is due to help on raising faculty pay.

More good news came with the actual completion of Shell No. 1 Clay Road, five miles northeast of Big Spring. Finished in the Pennsylvania at 9,127.45, it yielded 2,100,000 cubic feet of gas per day, plus 103 barrels of 52-gravity condensate. It should open possibilities for this area. A stepout to the Triple M field in northwestern Sterling County, about 30 miles from 6,720-52.

It's school bond issue time. Colorado City voted Saturday on $550,000 for school construction and improvements. Coahoma trustees Friday set June 5 as the date for a referendum on $205,000 for improvements. Howard County commissioners are expected Monday to fix a date for voting on $600,000 for roadway bonds so FM 700 can be completed from the Gail road to IS 20 and from US 87 south to US 80 west.

Rev. Francis Beasley was honored here Wednesday by friends, communicants and fellow brothers and sisters of the cloth. He has completed 25 years as a Catholic priest, seven years of it here. This summer he will have another great experience—that of a tour back to the old sod.

You don't have to wonder where elements of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron went. Little Debbie Rives, 11, our youngest ham radio operator, found out when she made contact with her father, M. Sgt. Marvin T. Rives, in Puerto Rico. Several other 331st families got to talk with their husbands and fathers.

The new Howard County Maid of Cotton—and a lovely one at that—is Daria Moore. Daria was chosen Friday evening in the contest that drew 22 entries.

The tourist school drew 70 participants here last week for two days of special instruction on knowing about your town, and then knowing how to tell others about it. This sort of course wouldn't hurt any of us.

A stall for horses will be reserved.
 The candidates must be single, ride in the parade, ride in the grand entry, and appear in arena once at each performance at the request of the announcer. Western dress will be worn, but candidates will not be required to dress differently for each appearance at the rodeo.

The winner will be awarded a trophy, to be presented after the grand entry and introduction of officials, Saturday night. Silver belt buckles will be presented to the two runners-up.

Judging, in naming the queen will be based on: Poise, personality, appearance, and horsemanship, 25 per cent each. A total of 10 points will be deducted.

RAIN BENEFITS

scribed as lemon-sized. In spotted areas of town, there were some reports of hail "like little oranges."

But what about the lakes? It just wasn't in the cards for them Saturday afternoon. Lake

J. B. Thomas had only half an inch, but during the past week it had picked up exactly one foot of water and was at elevation 2,241.86. This approximated 4,500 acre feet, or about 1.5 billion gallons. Moss Creek may have come in for an increase, but it was isolated and no late reports were available. The favored one was Cosden Lake south of town. From being almost empty, it suddenly was within about four feet of spillway.

PLANTING

McWhorter pump station in eastern Martin County, up to 3.50 and 4 inches fell. The pump station had 3.00. To the north, the McKaskle store on the Andrews highway had 2.00 but 2 1/2 miles north it dwindled to .60. Lenora in central Martin County had .50, the CRMWD Martin County pump station north of Courtney had 1.00 and in Stanton the fall exceeded half an inch.

Gay Hill reported 1.10 inches and eight miles northeast of the school, .80 inch fell.

Moss Creek Lake had .90 inch additional rain Saturday. Roads to the lake were reported impassable late Saturday night. "We may be holed up here for two or three days," a spokesman at the lake headquarters said. Beale Creek was rising.

Luther community had 1.10 inches. Vealmoor reported 1.50 inches. Rains seemed to be general in that area and of the same volume.

VARIES IN AREA
 In the extreme southeastern corner of the county, Chalk reported .90 inch of rain.

Texas Electric Service Company said that its station at Colorado City gauged 1.40 inches. The Big Spring switching station measured 2.50 inches.

Sweetwater station showed .90 inch. The Lamesa plant had but a sprinkle.

In the Silver Heels Addition to Big Spring, 1.60 inches of rain were reported. Heavy road washing was reported in this area.

The Big Spring Country Club, near the Silver Heels location, had 2.25 inches.

WASHED OFF
 There was a report of a motorist on the Andrews highway who was washed off the slab and carried several hundred feet along the route of the overflow. This mishap was said to have been near the Lee Castle place about 18 miles from Big Spring.

Farmers in all parts of the county said that the Saturday afternoon rains were the needed guarantee to kick off the cotton planting season.

There were comparatively few reports of washing in fields. All plowed land was transformed into lakes as the generally heavy rains filled the furrows.

Ranchers, already well pleased with rains which have nourished the thirsty grass, were elated with the heavier rains which fell in many sections. One rancher said that a new stock tank, just completed on his place, had nearly filled Saturday.

Lad Snatched From Swirling Waters, Residences Flooded

Quick action by an on-looker was credited Saturday afternoon with possibly saving the life of six-year-old youth, caught in swirling waters of a four-foot deep ditch at the intersection of Ruppels and North Tenth Streets.

Ferrin Flores, of 210 NE 10th, was credited by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hernandez, 908 N. Ruppels, with pulling their son, Rudy, from the waters.

"His brother had waded through the water and he tried to follow," Mrs. Hernandez said. The fast-moving water caught the youth and he couldn't get out. One on-looker tried to pull the boy out of the water, Mrs. Hernandez said, but lost the boy.

Flores, who was among a group of residents watching the waters flow down the street during a brief let-up in the afternoon downpour, then pulled the youth to safety, witnesses said.

Flores is an employee of the City of Big Spring.

Hernandez, who was away at the time, said witnesses reported the incident occurred about 3 p.m.

Waters which turned some North Side streets into semirivers Saturday afternoon poured into four residences in the 800 block of Wyoming Street and left two to three feet of water in the houses.

A half-inch of sand and dirt was left standing on carpeting and floors.

The houses are located just south of a high hill on Wyoming Street, north of the Lakeview School area.

A picket fence in the rear of 809 Wyoming was pushed over and part of a fence in front of the house swept down the street by the waters.

Mrs. Christine Mitchell, 811 Wyoming, said the water stood near knee deep in the houses.

Water was running out from under the front doors, Mrs. Marie Harper said, and apparently came in through the north walls.

Residents used shovels and brooms in attempting to remove sand from the floors after the water receded.

Debris and rocks were strewn in the yards of the houses at 805 807, 809 and 811 Wyoming, and along Wyoming Street.

Winds shortly after Saturday afternoon's first downpour of rain began demolished a small steel-frame truck shed at the W. D. Caldwell construction offices, three miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway.

R. T. (Boots) Caldwell, a truck driver for the firm from Sand Springs, had driven a grease truck into the shed when heavy winds picked the shed up from the ground and swept it away, slamming it down about 40 to 50 feet away. The shed was entirely demolished, he said. He was not injured and the truck escaped damage.

"It was a metal building, about 20 by 30 feet and in good shape," W. D. Caldwell said.

"The rain and wind were blowing hard and we couldn't hear anything," said Morris McAdoo, an accountant for the firm who was in an adjacent building at the time. He said the other buildings were not damaged.

McAdoo said the damage came probably from just strong winds, rather than any tornadoic wind. He said the driver, no relation to W. D. Caldwell, came into the nearby building and told them the shed had blown away.

"He was pretty shook up," said McAdoo.

A portion of the roof from the Jones Lumber Company at 409 Goliad blew off, hitting a Texas Electric Service Company pole and snapping it 15 feet above the ground. This took out two circuits, one of them carrying a substantial portion of the downtown area. Service was restored in less than two hours.

Raging water chewed out the base of a pole at the Jet Theater near the City Park and crews had to put in another pole for support. Near Interstate 20 east of town another pole broke, and one went down in Coahoma but without harm.

Harry Sawyer, Big Spring manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone, reported no loss service due to the rain.

"We had no poles, lines or circuits down because of the rain that I know of and none have been reported," said Sawyer. About one-half inch water did seep into the telephone office at 4th and Ruppels, but Sawyer said they kept it under control and it did no damage.

What seemed to be a small twister struck the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kent, who reside near the old Center Point School, about 1:30 p.m. Saturday and sent the two scurrying to a neighbor's storm cellar.

The wind destroyed one of their garages, uprooting 14-inch posts and slamming them into two of their cars, damaging them badly.

The Kent house escaped damage, although a television antenna was twisted. About three inches of rain fell at the Kent place and the roads around the farm were impassable for several hours.

A second garage owned by the Kents was damaged slightly.

A youthful Big Spring party, composed by L. Roger Dunn, Ken Nelson, Bill Smith and Mickey Shannon — returning from an outing at Lake J. B. Thomas — neared Big Spring just about the time the heavy rains hit.

They saw several people stranded in and atop their cars east of the Benton Street viaduct and used their boat and motor to effect several rescues.

The rushing waters were up to the window on several of the vehicles. The young men had a soggy time of it but escaped unharmed.

A fence belonging to Ambrosio Sanchez, 1319 Mobile, collapsed. A tree was also uprooted on his place.

The hail north of town caused at least one accident, Texas Highway Patrolman Jimmy Parks reported.

The mishap occurred about 2:40 p.m. 5.3 miles north of town on US Highway 87 when Scott Burnett Smith, of Lubbock, ran into a hail storm and skidded on the ice.

He touched his brakes but his vehicle slid into a car being driven by Jerry A. Neeley of Ola, Ark. The drivers escaped injury and only minor damage was done to the cars.

For several hours, one lane of Highway 87 was closed due to high water. Patrolmen were kept busy routing traffic over the other lane.

County Roads Are Damaged

County roads took a beating from rains Saturday.

L. J. Davidson, county commissioner, said that numerous highways in his district were washed badly and that he had men out Saturday night putting flares on danger spots.

One place noted as particularly dangerous, he said, was on the county road about one mile off US 87 near the Leo Hull Place. Mrs. Hull said a culvert washed out a mile west of U.S. 87. The rain was the first in the area this year.

Record Is Set For Deepest Producer

Jake L. Hamon of Midland is preparing to file a discovery completion as the deepest producer in the world for the No. 1 Waples-Platter, and Ellenburger wildcat 20 miles southeast of Pecos in Reeves County, and has staked a pair of 22,000-ft. Ellenburger wildcats as offsets to the opener.

No. 1 Waples-Platter, 1,320 from the south and west lines of section 22-50-T8, T&P has been in operation since October, 1963 and drilled to a total depth of 21,500. Its tests shows of possible gas production in nine separate intervals between 5,893 in the Delaware and 17,750 in an unidentified formation. No attempt will be made to complete in any of these sections.

Perforations are at 20,470-21,070, and this is 10 feet deeper than the bottom interval in the current record-holder, the Pure Oil Co. No. 1-2 W. C. Tyrrell Unit, the second well in the Gomez Ellenburger gas pool nine miles northwest of Fort Stockton in Pecos County. It is 23 miles northwest of that field.

Latest gauge on the deep interval was for 24 hours in which it flowed gas at the rate of 17,700 cubic feet per day under 16,000 surface flowing pressure through a pair of three-quarter inch chokes. It made 83 barrels of acid water and still has 915 barrels to recover from a 150,000 gallon acid treatment.

Unsuccessful tests were made on perforations deeper in the Ellenburger at three intervals between 21,100 and 21,600. All have been cemented off.

Both the new wildcat tests are slated to drill to 22,000 and are in block 50, T-8, T&P. No. 1 Reagan is 1 1/2 miles northwest of the discovery, 1,320 from the south and east lines of section 16, and No. 1 Gillespie is 3/4 miles south and is 1,320 from the north and west lines of section 27.

WORLD'S FIRST S-360 COMPUTER UNLOADED
Globe president Jay Miller and Elvin Wolf look over data unit

Globe To Use Computer In Earth Structure Study

Globe Exploration Company's new Data Center will process a wide range of data, both scientific and business generated by financial and educational institutions and business and industry throughout the Southwest according to Jay Miller, president. The System 360, Model 40, which will assist Globe scientists in their investigation of the earth's structure, will serve at the hub of these activities. The data center is located at 4805 Andrews Highway in Midland.

To further increase ability to provide a complete data processing service, Miller said his firm has ordered an IBM graphic data processing system. The graphic system will be delivered next year and linked to System 360.

Early next year, System 360, Model 40, will be replaced by a System 360, Model 50 which will provide even greater information storage and faster processing. All computer programs (the instructions which guide the computer in its work) written for the Model 40 can be used for the larger System 360 without revision. Globe is a subsidiary of Shell Oil Co.

RESEARCH

Projects Offer Hike Demand

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Progress reports are due this week on two oil industry projects designed to boost demand for petroleum products.

Refiners already are crediting the American Petroleum Institute's travel development program with boosting gasoline sales.

Research engineers still are at work on an oil burner they say will give the industry the first major improvements of combustion in domestic home oil burners in 30 years. The aim is expansion of the light fuel oil market.

The current status of both projects will be presented at mid-year meeting of the Institute's marketing division Wednesday's general session will be preceded by two days of committee huddles.

In addition to travel and oil burner development, subjects to be discussed include marketing research, service station trends and lubrication advances.

SMALL BURNERS
More than four years of research have emphasized new concepts to permit the design of small oil burners best suited to heat small homes and to fire water heaters.

The travel program the institute began in 1962 has organization of an automotive travel council as an ultimate goal.

Early efforts to persuade automobile and tire manufacturers to help organize and finance the council failed.

Institute officials have expressed hope the other industries eventually will take part. Meanwhile the institute has boosted its annual travel promotion advertising budget from $400,000 to more than $1 million.

A major part of the advertising campaign has linked a "see America best by car" slogan with promotion of "close to home" tours.

The 1965 campaign calls for promotion of 249 individual tours through advertisements published in 48 states. The 1963 campaign included only 76 tours in 20 states.

The travel development committee is headed by Grant Young of the Marathon Oil Co.

"We've got a good thing going and it will be to our advantage and the oil industry's to keep it going," Young said at last year's marketing division meeting.

The oil burner development committee's research has been directed by a technical advisory group headed by Dr. Julius Heldman of Shell Oil Co. in New York City.

A year ago Heldman said the project was on schedule or ahead but a burner to end all burners was not just around the corner.

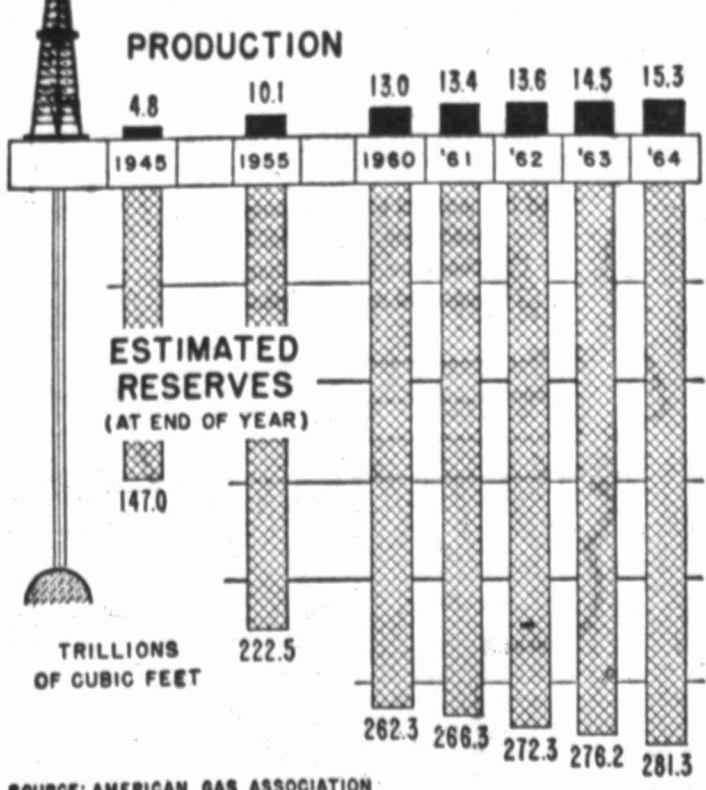

"We believe refined prototypes will have been developed by the end of 1965 but more extensive lab testing and, perhaps, debugging will be necessary before production designs can be completed with confidence," he said.

Cotton Skip-Row Decision Delayed

A decision on modification of skip-row cotton planting has been postponed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Rep. George Mahon said Friday that Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman announced the May 22 deadline for protests would be passed. Instead, he will wait until the House agriculture committee can consider the issue along with cotton subsidy legislation.

Carlton Chapman was to have left Monday for Washington to represent the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee in hearings Wednesday to protest the proposed modification. It would have penalized this area up to about 30 per cent on its cotton acreage.

FURORE

Since Freeman announced his plan to disallow the skip-row technique, an almost universal shout of protest has gone up from cotton growers and members of Congress.

Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, requested Rep. Harold Cooley (D-N.C.) to hold Agriculture Committee hearings on the changes to give cotton farmers a forum to express their sentiments.

The Agriculture committee chairman tentatively set Monday as the date for the hearings.

When Freeman decided to re-evaluate his decision on skip-row planting, Mahon agreed with committee members that the hearings should be postponed long enough for the panel to get cotton legislation in order.

DISAGREEMENT

Mahon said Congress and cotton producers are "a long way

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Webb's Libyan Student Likes Small Plane Flying

By M. A. WEBB
An exchange student pilot from the Libyan Air Force, who is taking a course in maintenance at Webb Air Force Base, took a flight in Webb Aero Club's Cessna 150 Wednesday, and wants more. A Webb Aero member went up with Libyan Airman Mabruk S. Gariani and said the young man wanted next to try the Cessna 172. He said he was near an American Air Base in Tripoli and was interested in trying for that base's aero club.

Not too much flying has been done around the air base this week because of the weather. The big aircraft, bringing in state officials for Rep. Ed Carpenter's funeral, came in despite the weather, and a couple of other transients were in, but local flying was off as well.

Howard Loyd, manager of Howard County Airport took off about noon Friday for a charter flight to Dallas, and was to return either late Friday or early Saturday.

Howard County Flying Club members using the Colt and Cherokee during the week were: Colt—Fay, Byrd (3), Dodson (cross country), Eaton (2), Garner (3), Donica, Waller (cross country), Cherokee 150 — Reed (3), Dotson (cross country), Ar-rick, McClure (2 and cross country).

Big Spring Flying Clubbers using the Colt and Skyhawk were: Colt—Norton (4), Allen, Johnson (2), Bartlett, Stewart, Skyhawk — Allen (3), Stewart (3), Maxson, Stanley and Bartlett (cross country).

Webb Aero members up were: Cessna 150—Morrell (cross country); Morrissey (2), Ames, Sammye (3), Milosovich, Druyun, Davidson (cross country), Whitlock (2), Paryum, Kathy, Gariani and Milosovich; Cessna 172 —Warren, McCombs (3-day cross country).

Anyone have an antique airplane? There will be an antique fly-in at the Arlington Airport May 22-23, and everybody is welcomed. Along with all kinds of entertainment, there will be trophies offered for the "antique" airplane, "antique" pilot, youngest pilot, longest distance, and others.

There will also be a fly-in breakfast at the Andrews Airport May 24, in keeping with Andrews County's billionth barrel of oil celebration and erection of historic sign.

Trans-Texas Airways boarded 204 passengers at Howard County Airport in April, up 25 over March.

TTA has also announced that the Convair 600, to be placed into service over the six-state system beginning this fall, was rolled out of its assembly building in San Diego, Calif., one week ahead of schedule.

A new Rolls-Royce powered version of the famous Convair-Liner series aircraft, the Convair 600 is being readied for its first test flight later this month.

The airline will have its entire fleet of convair 240s converted to the new prop-jet Convair 600, with conversion to be done at TTA's Houston base. One conversion every 30 days will be completed until the entire fleet is converted in about two years.

Two Local Men Enlist In Navy

M., May 12.

They chose the Navy Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., for their nine weeks of recruit training.

TOM ROLFE (6) FIRST IN PREAKNESS SPRINT
Beats Dapper Dan in 90th running of Pimlico event

Tom Rolfe Is Pimlico King

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Rolfe, a mighty mile from Raymond Guest's Powhatan Stables, came sweeping out of the pack on the final turn, took the lead one-eighth of a mile from home and survived a foul claim for a neck victory over Dapper Dan in the $180,000 Preakness at Pimlico Saturday.

Lucky Debonair, winner of the Kentucky Derby, wound up seventh in the nine-horse field after challenging for the lead until they hit the home stretch one-quarter of a mile from the finish line.

With Canadian Ronnie Tur-combe pounding away with his whip, Tom Rolfe assumed command about halfway down the stretch and opened up daylight advantage.

Dapper Dan, carrying the black and cherry silks of Ogen Phipps, came charging up along the rail to make the finish close just as he did two weeks ago in the Derby when he came in a neck back of Lucky Debonair with Tom Rolfe third.

Mrs. Ben Cohen's Hall to All, came in third Saturday, four lengths behind the leaders.

Then came Native Charger, Swift Ruler, Selari, Lucky Debonair, Needles' Count and Flag Raiser, who again faded after setting a burning early pace.

There was only one-sixteenth left in the 1 1/8-mile race when Tom Rolfe bore over slightly toward the rail as Milo Valenzuela brought Dapper Dan charging from behind.

Valenzuela lodged a claim of foul, but after viewing the pictures and conferring for 15 minutes, the stewards ruled Tom Rolfe the winner.

In scoring his first major triumph for his fifth victory in seven starts this year, the mid-gest son of Ribot-Pocahontas, earned $128,100 and ran his career bankroll to $251,605. He was the second choice of the crowd of 38,108. Lucky Debonair went off the 8-5 favorite.

The winner returned $9.20, $5 and $3.80 after stepping the distance on the lightning fast track in 1:56 1/5. This compared to the Preakness record of 1:54 3/5 set by Nashua in 1955.

Dapper Dan, who had lost some of his supporters after a slow workout early in the week, paid $7.20 and $4.60. Hall to All returned $5.60 to show.

Ferrera's Blow Opens Bruins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pinch hitter Al Ferrara slugged a three-run homer with one out in the eighth inning—the only hit off Chicago left-hander Dick Ellsworth — and propelled the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 3-1 victory over the Cubs Saturday.

Ellsworth, who had walked three men before the eighth inning but had not been in any serious trouble, combined with Ron Santo to contribute to his own downfall in a weird eighth inning.

Jeff Torborg led off for the Dodgers and reached base when third baseman Santo fumbled his routine grounder. Dick Tracowski bunted, and Ellsworth tried to force pinch runner Willie Crawford at second base but his throw was too late.

On the next play, Ellsworth wound up on the ground, knocked down by Santo as both hustled over to field a sacrifice by John Kennedy. Santo, however, made the play and retired Kennedy, the runners moving to second and third.

Ferrera, who was 3-for-13 going into the game, then stepped up as a pinch hitter for reliever Bob Miller and drilled a 1-1 pitch into the lower left field bleachers for his first homer of the season and only his second in the majors.

The Cubs had held a 1-0 lead since the fourth inning when Billy Williams doubled and Santo followed with a line drive that skipped by Derrell Griffith for another double as the Dodger outfielder tried for a shoestring catch.

Ellsworth, now 3-3, has won only three games in 17 decisions with the Dodgers during his career.

Glenn Beckert, the Cubs' rookie second baseman, had made a brilliant play in the fourth inning to keep Ellsworth's no-hit bid intact when he ranged far to his right, made a diving stop of a hard smash by Maury Wills and threw him out from a kneeling position.

Foyt, Gurney Set Fast Pace In Trial Heats

By RON GILBERT
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Defending champion A. J. Foyt and veterans Jim Clark and Dan Gurney set themselves in the front row for the 500-mile race May 31 with record-blasting qualification runs Saturday.

The three squeezed Mario Andretti into the second row in a furious half-hour after the 25-year-old rookie from Nazareth, Pa., had brought the crowd to a screaming peak of delight by breaking Clark's 1964 records for the qualifying run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Clark, 29-year-old former world champion from Duns, Scotland, followed Andretti on the track and snatched the record back.

Minutes later Foyt, 32-year-old two-time winner of the 500 from Houston, Tex., won the pole position with a scorching average of 161.233 miles per hour for the four trips around the 2 1/2 mile track. His best lap was turned at a record 161.958.

Gurney, 34, Costa Mesa, Calif., went almost unnoticed as he followed Foyt on the track and beat Andretti's time to grab the outside spot in the three-car front row for the race.

Parnell Jones of Torrance, Calif., winner of the pole in 1962 and 1963, had the top speed among the first 10 qualifiers but he wound up in the middle of the second row between Andretti and Billy Foster of Victoria, B.C.

Foyt, Clark, Gurney and

Jones all drove Lotus-Fords, and Andretti's car also is Ford-powered. Foster's is a rear-engine Offenhauser.

Qualifications will continue Sunday and next Saturday and Sunday, and only the 33 fastest cars in the four days of trials will start the race. The first day's group will start at the front, in the order of their speed. Each succeeding day's group will line up behind, in the order of their speeds.

Saturday's activity produced 19 qualifiers — enough to fill tentatively the first six rows and one spot in the seventh of the 11-row field for the race. The 19 qualifiers averaged 156.819.

Kindall Star In 2-0 Win For Twins

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jerry Kindall drove in both Minnesota runs with a homer and a single Saturday as the Twins defeated the Kansas City Athletics 2-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Dave Boswell and Mel Nelson.

Boswell allowed only three hits over the first seven innings and the A's were able to hit only two balls out of the infield. He ran into trouble in the eighth when Bill Bryan walked to open the inning and Dick Green singled with one away.

Nelson took over and brought the inning to a close on a double play bounce by Wayne Causey.

Devlin, Martindale Overtake Nicklaus

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Australian Bruce Devlin sank a 60-foot putt on the final hole for a 67 while Bill Martindale ran in three long snakers for a 68 Saturday to go ahead of Jack Nicklaus and take the lead in the $100,000 New Orleans Open Golf tournament.

Devlin and Martindale had 54-hole scores of 204, 12 under par, and a one-stroke margin over Dick Mayer, 1957 National Open champion, who came out of obscurity with a brilliant 66 for 205.

Nicklaus fell into a chipping and putting slump after two strong rounds and shot an even par 72, tying at 206 with Phil Rodgers, a 68-shooter for the third round.

Big Jack went 45 holes before he finally had a bogey. He picked up two at the 10th and 12th, and three-putted the 14th and 17th.

Arnold Palmer managed to scrape out a 70 for 213, leaving him well back going into Sunday's final round. Another favorite, British Open champion Tony Lema withdrew because of a bad back after playing nine holes.

It was still a wide open fight for the $20,000 first prize, with six players knotted at 207.

They included PGA champion

Bobby Nichols, 69; Canadian George Knudson, 70; Frank Wharton, 69; former Open champion Gene Littler, 69; Jacky Cupit, 70, and Miller Barber, 70.

Lamar Tech Is Links Champion

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Lamar Tech swept the first four individual positions and easily captured the Southland Conference golf championship here Saturday.

The Cardinals had a 54-hole score of 849, 15 shots under par.

Baseball Games Are Rained Out

All baseball games scheduled Saturday in District 2-AAAA were called off due to the tremendous rains the entire Permian Basin experienced.

Only one game, Odessa Permian at Abilene Cooper, got underway. It was all tied up, 3-3, in the sixth inning when the rains came. Big Spring was to have played Midland High, Abilene High was in Odessa and San Angelo at Midland Lee. None of the games will be rescheduled unless they have a bearing on the eventual district winner.

Lloyd Defeats Cliff Buchholz

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Andy Lloyd of Trinity University upset teammate Cliff Buchholz 3-6, 7-5, 6-1 for the singles championship in the Southland Conference tennis tournament.

Buchholz and Butch Newman teamed up to grab the doubles title with a 6-4, 6-8, 6-2 victory over Alfonso Ochoa and Jaime Subirats of Lamar Tech.

Trinity won the team championship with 13 points. Lamar Tech was second with 7 points. Arlington State and Abilene Christian College tied for third with one point each and Arkansas State did not score.

In doubles semifinals, Buchholz and Newman defeated Joe Casandri and Winfred Emmons of Lamar Tech, 6-0, 6-0.

Yanks Hang On To Trip Baltimore O's, 3 To 2

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mickey Mantle's opposite field homer run, his 50th lifetime homer against Baltimore, broke an eighth inning tie and gave the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory over the Orioles Saturday night.

Mantle's leadoff clout into the left field bleachers, while batting left-handed, came on a 2-2 pitch from Dick Hall — an old Yankee nemesis who had squelched a seventh inning rally when New York scored the tying run off Steven Barber.

New York tied the score and chased Barber in the seventh on a walk, a single by Doc Ed-

Sullivan New Boss Of A's

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mel McGaha, manager of the Kansas City Athletics, was fired Saturday and Haywood Sullivan, manager of the Vancouver club in the Pacific Coast League, was appointed to succeed him.

Sullivan was a catcher with the A's before being named to manage the club's Triple A farm club at Vancouver.

Announcement of the switch came from Hank Peters, general manager of the Athletics, following the club's 21st loss against only five victories. The A's are last in the American League standings.

McGaha had succeeded Ed Lopat during the 1964 season. He formerly managed the Cleveland Indians and had been a coach and front office executive for the A's before taking over management of the club.

Upwards to 20 teams have entered the third annual Big Spring Golf Open, which will be staged here June 11-12. player in the Open flight and $7.50 each in the True Amateur division. The six low teams in each division will be shooting for prizes. The pro on the winning team will earn $300 in cash. Registration deadline is 6 p.m., Thursday, June 10. Entries should be mailed or called into Jerry Green, pro at the Country Club, site of the tournament. The course has benefited from more than three inches of rain the past week. The showers have been spaced perfectly. Green said the course should be in near perfect shape for the tournament. Last year's champions, Eddie Jones, now of Casper, Wyo., and Jim Fullingim, Lorenzo, Texas, are due to return here to try and retain their title. Titlists the first year were Jack Montgomery, Fort Worth, and Frank Powell, Big Spring. Montgomery is now on the pro tour and probably won't be back. Powell will likely team up with some one else. Among outstanding linksters who have competed in the two previous meets, in addition to the aforementioned, are Charles Coody, Jack Williams, Roland Adams, Horace Moore, Labron Harris Sr., Bob Dickson, Dick Turner, John Gandy, Charles Hopkins, David Bois and the late Bill Craig. Entries will play over 36 holes — 18 each day.

Tourney Delayed
The Parent-Junior Golf tournament set for Saturday at the Big Spring Country Club has been postponed due to the rain. Club officials said the tournament would be re-scheduled for a later date.

Red Birds Rip Pittsburghers By 5-1 Tally

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pinch hitter Bob Skinner smacked a two-run triple and continued home on an error, capping a four-run outburst in the seventh inning that carried St. Louis past Pittsburgh 5-1 Saturday. Tracy Stallard pitched a six-inning shutout against the Pirates' 17th in their last 22 games. Successive singles by Dick Groat, Bill White and Tim McCarver started the uprising and scored one run. Skinner followed with his hit and came home on Gene Alley's throwing error. The Cards had jumped into a 1-0 lead on Curt Flood's first-inning homer, his fifth of the year.

Ruidoso Downs Opens 1965 Season Friday

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Picturesque Ruidoso Downs comes to life again this week looking for new records to conquer. This cool, colorful pari-mutuel playground opens its 19th season of summertime racing Friday, racing secretary Edgar "Red" Neal getting things rolling when he takes entries tomorrow for the 12-race inaugural program that will send the Southwest's finest thoroughbreds and quarter horses scooting after a fabulous $1.25 million in purse distribution over the 60-day season. Unquestionably, this represents the richest single purse activity ever offered by a track of this stature and it has been accomplished in a steady rise since a humble 1947 beginning, when only $322,608 was wagered in 10 days of racing. The sport long since has attained a record season play Friday, $1,185,958 here for 55 days of racing — another of the many records the sport will be assaulting come 1:30 p.m. Friday. The grand total wagered in Ruidoso Downs history stands at $106,327,961. There will be daily double wagering on the first two races, quinuelas on the fifth and 12th, and the ever-popular "Big Q" on the eighth and ninth races. The big incentives already are here — headed by good weather, popular American forms of wagering recognized by the New Mexico State Racing Commission, and no less than five racing jackpots worth $100,000 or more. Heading a stakes schedule that has catapulted Ruidoso Downs into the national limelight will be the seventh running of the $350,000 - estimated All-American Quarter Horse Futurity, which comes up for renewal Labor Day, Sept. 6, under worldwide television by NBC cameras. Other straightaway classics include the $170,000 estimated Ruidoso Rainbow Derby, $150,000 - estimated Ruidoso Rainbow Futurity, and $125,000 - estimated Kansas Futurity. Choice thoroughbred plums will be the $100,000-estimated Ruidoso Futurity, $25,000 - estimated Ruidoso Derby, $5,000-guaranteed Governor's Handicap, $5,000-added Jim Carter Handicap, and $5,000-added Ruidoso Mile. Racing will be on a Friday-Saturday-Sunday weekly schedule until July 15, when the sport adds seven consecutive Thurs-

Fred Hansen Says He'll Quit To Become Dentist

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Fred Hansen, world champion pole vaulter, said Saturday he was retiring and would enter dental school. Hansen, an Olympic gold medal winner, wants to devote full time to his studies. He vaulted 17-4 July 25 at the United States-Russian meet in Los Angeles and 16-5 1/2 at the Olympics in Tokyo. Of the five vaults in history of 17-0 or better Hansen has made four of them. The slender 6-foot former Rice University student said he felt it would be "financially impossible" for him to continue to compete in pole vaulting and keep up with his studies. He plans to enter Baylor Dental School in Dallas next September. "I hate to quit, but I feel it is the thing to do," he said at a news conference. "The only thing I care about right now is becoming a dentist." The 24-year-old Cuero, Tex., native said he made up his mind about a month ago to quit.

Ford Will Join Longhorn Staff

AUSTIN (AP)—Tommy Ford, star tailback on Texas' 1963 national championship team, will be named as a Longhorn assistant football coach soon, the Austin American said Saturday. Ford will replace Pat Culpeper, former Texas linebacker hired by Colorado University. Ford will work with Bob Schultze coaching the freshman teams.

FANS EXPECT TOO MUCH OF PAMPA PRODUCT

Aggie Hercules Doesn't Cherish New-Found Fame

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The feat of putting the shot an unbelievable 70 feet, 7 inches may have excited the rest of the sports world but not the young Texas giant who did it. "I always thought track meets were fun — now I'm afraid I won't enjoy them any more," sighed Randy Matson, the 20-year-old Texas A&M sophomore who has become the new Hercules of athletics. "The pressure on me is going to be terrific. I know. Every time I step into that steel ring people will be expecting me to throw the ball 70 feet and over. That's impossible. I sure hate to let them down."

"Dallas Long, when he was setting records and winning the Olympics, told me about it. I couldn't believe it. He was the king. In rain or sunshine, feeling good or bad, he could beat everybody. But he said he was miserable. Now I understand."

LEAST IMPRESSED
Matson, a towering specimen of strength and muscle from the Texas Panhandle, appears the least impressed of all by the record heave a week ago in the Southwest Conference meet here — an achievement rated more phenomenal than the cracking of the imaginary four-minute barrier in the mile and the 17-foot mark in the pole vault.

In New York, veteran AAU official Dan Ferris rated Matson's achievement as the greatest track effort of all time. "After Dr. Roger Bannister ran a mile in less than four minutes a decade ago," explained Ferris, "it became almost commonplace for other runners to do it. Even high school athletes have done it."

"I'm certain it will be years and years before anybody else surpasses Matson's 70-7 record."

"I never expected to do it, not this year, anyhow," the imposing athlete explained during a brief break in classes and training on the A&M campus. "I thought if I ever did reach 70 feet, I'd be thrilled to death. Funny, it wasn't that way at all. "I'm happy I did it, naturally. But now there's that sickening feeling of knowing I have to go back to the 60s and 67s, when everybody will be expecting me to do 75. There's one advantage. I don't have to press for the record. I have it. Now all I have to do is try to improve on my strength and technique and hope for the best." IMPOSING PHYSIQUE

Randy has almost a complex about his size, although he is an imposing athlete who stretches 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches and weighs 255 pounds. He would like to weigh 265 or 270 like his predecessors, Parry O'Brien and Dallas Long. He's embarrassed he can only lift 350 pounds in weights while Long, who beat him out for the Olympic gold medal at Tokyo, is able to hoist 510.

"As big as I am, I have to force myself to eat, and I'm working extra hard on the weights — about two hours a day," Matson said. "I would like to take it easy this summer, eat and lift weights and be at full strength by next winter."

Although Matson can devour a two-inch steak and a gallon of milk at a sitting, he still gorges himself on protein tablets and food supplements to try to add gristle and pounds. He doesn't have the look of a weight man. He has powerful shoulders and arms, a 47-inch chest that tapers to a 37-inch waist and the legs of a halfback.

He has virtually no neck and a head that seems small for his gigantic frame. Dark good looks and sensitive features give the impression of an overgrown schoolboy — and that's pretty much what Matson is. He doesn't drink or smoke. He is extremely quiet and reserved. He shuns the limelight and the kind of publicity that came as a natural aftermath of his remarkable record. A bit reluctantly he makes himself available for the flood of interviews and photo sessions. He answers questions with a polite, "Yes, sir." "No, sir."

"It's not that I mind these

distractions," Matson said. "They are necessary, I know, and people have been awfully nice. But it's near exam time. I'd like to get back to my lessons and training."

Randy is a B student as a business major. He rooms in the athletic dormitory with another track man from his home town. In a university, where football fever runs high, he is a campus hero.

When Randy works out, the rest of the track team stops to watch. As strangers pass in and out, they are stopped frequently by proud A&M students, who ask, "Are you going to do another big story on Randy?"

A wooden stick in a bald spot of muddy ground behind a goal post still marks the spot where the ball landed when Matson cut loose his fantastic 70-7 throw a week ago.

"All the crowd was crammed down at that end of the field," a student recalled. "You could have heard a pin drop when Randy got into the ring. Then when that 70-7 was announced, everybody went wild."

"IT FELT GOOD"
"It felt good but no better than my first throw of 68 feet, 8 1/2 inches," Randy said. He had consecutive puts of 68-8 1/2, 70-7, 67-9, 69-3 1/2, 68-3 1/2 — all but one of them better than the Dallas Long record of 67-10.

"Matson is the first man in track and field to lap a previous record-holder," an observer commented. The reference was to the first world record in the event—a put of 30 feet, 11 1/2 inches made by J.M. Mann in 1876. The real impact of Matson's feat is noted in a study of shot put marks down through the years.

The first man to exceed 40 feet was E. J. Bor, an Englishman, in 1880 with 42-5. Ralph Rose broke the 50-foot barrier in 1909 with 51 feet, a record that stood for 19 years before Germany's Emil Hirschfeld shattered it in 1924. His reign was broken by Long July 26, 1964 with 67-10.

Matson, silver medalist in the Tokyo Olympics with 66-3 1/2, bettered Long's mark with 67-11 1/2 in a quadrangular meet here April 9, then improved on it with 69-3 1/2 in a similar meet April 30.

"This thing runs in plateaus," Randy said. "For a while, you will be hitting 66 and then you may get up to 68, but inevitably you go back into a slump. That's what I'm afraid of now—a slump." Matson, born March 5, 1946, came from a family of big men. His father, who works for an oil company in Pampa, Tex., is 6-1 and weighs over 200 pounds but is the smallest of four brothers. Randy has three uncles 6-7 and 240 pounds, or better.

"I was 6-3 in the ninth grade," Matson recalled, "but I wasn't an oddity. There were some other kids in my class just as big or bigger."

ALL-AROUND STAR
Randy was an all-around athlete in both junior high school and high school. He played football and linebacker on the football team, forward on the basketball team and first base in baseball. He was a 10.2 sprinter. "I hurt both knees in football and decided to concentrate on track," he said.

While he was in the eighth grade, he caught eye of the high school coach at Pampa, Dwayne Lyons. Lyons spent considerable time with Randy in the late afternoon after he had finished with his regular team. "Coach Lyons taught me all I know," Matson said. "He got movies of O'Brien and Long and we studied them by the hours. I suppose you'd have to say that the techniques all of us use now are the O'Brien techniques."

"We start with our backs to the target area. Then we spin across the ring and let the shot go like a tight spring snapping loose."

"I think I use more wrist and fingers than either O'Brien or Long. They pushed the ball out. I push and give it an extra flip with my fingers. It's almost a case of not putting the shot as much as hurling it."

Matson doesn't subscribe to O'Brien's well-known yogi methods of going into a trance and deep concentration hours before a scheduled meet.

"On the day of the meet, I try not to think about it," the young Texan explained. "In the ring, I concentrate naturally. It's important. But until then, I want to be as loose and relaxed as possible. I never worry. "I know on the Saturday I did 70-7, I slept through breakfast, visited with my parents and then ran an errand. I was 15 minutes late for the meet. I'm often late."

Matson doesn't like to miss breakfast, or any meal, because he is determined to put on more weight. Why? The explanation is best given by Randy's weightlifting instructor, Emil Mamaliga, former Ohio State swim star, who says:

"You don't put a cannon on a PT boat—you put it on a battleship."

DEAR ABBY

Making The Ice Melt

DEAR ABBY: Don't expect jaking a shower, and pretend a signature at the end of this she's asleep when I get there. When you read it, you'll know why. The problem is my wife. She is very "cold-natured." If you know what I mean. She stays up until all hours of the night doing dishes, cleaning house, canning, mending—doing just about everything I can think of—and when she goes to bed, she'll rush to bed when I am on my own, tell me in plain English. KANSAS CITIAN DEAR KANSAS CITIAN: In plain English, your wife would rather do anything than go to bed with you. There may be nothing wrong with YOU, but there may be something wrong with your wife's attitude about the physical side of marriage. Both you and she should ask your family doctor to help you resolve this problem. If it's to be solved, it must be discussed candidly. P.S. Ice will melt under the proper conditions.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who has been a widow for almost 20 years, has had her brother living with her for the past year. He is a bachelor of 64 and he has money to burn. My mother wrote that he is getting on her nerves and she wishes one of us would invite him to visit us, and maybe fix him up with a nice woman so she could get him off her hands. He is not bad looking, but he is a first-class pain-in-the-neck. He isn't really tight, and could have any kind of house or apartment he wanted, but he prefers to live with a relative so he'll have someone to talk to. We don't want him staying with us because we could never get rid of him. What do we do now?

PIEDMONT DEAR ABBY: Don't invite him if you don't want him. And a man who has "money to burn" can usually find his own match.

Girl, Her Parents To Get Diplomas

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — Carol Ratliff will be joined in the Hobbs High School commencement diploma line May 25 by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Ratliff.

The parents are joining their daughter, not as guests but as graduates, after completing work in night school.

Ratliff, a lumber company assistant manager, said he quit school as a junior to join the Navy. His wife, Mary, said she had quit school to marry Ratliff.

Man Pulled From Perch

NEW YORK (AP)— An unemployed young bachelor from Brooklyn perched for 95 minutes on an outer beam of the world's largest suspension bridge Friday threatening to jump 260 feet into New York harbor. Two patrolmen finally pulled him off.

The man, identified as Frederick Korn, 21, was taken to Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn for observation.

Police Sgt. William Kennedy of the Triborough Bridge Authority, a priest and Korn's father, Nathan, who arrived later, kept up a banter of conversation with him until officers were able to pull him from the new Verrazano-Narrows Bridge. His was the first such threat since the bridge opened last Nov. 21.

Kennedy and the priest, who declined identity, engaged Korn in conversation for 35 minutes before he gave them a telephone number where his father could be reached.

Police said Korn, using telephones on the bridge, phoned them twice and told them he was going to jump.

During the tense moments, a police harbor patrol launch spread a net below Korn. Two police emergency crews and the Coast Guard also were on hand.

"WOMEN IN WHITE"

By JO BRIGHT

Nurses throughout the State of Texas were given recognition this week for their contribution to the health care of our people. Annually, the week containing May 12, the birthdate of Florence Nightingale, is set aside by the governor in order to give thanks to the nurses for valuable services they perform. During this period, National Hospital Week was also observed.

In his official memorandum, Gov. John Connally said, "All Texans recognize the dedicated contributions made to the health and welfare of our citizens by the nurses of Texas. In cooperation with the Texas Nurses' Association, the radio, press and television media of our state will honor the thousands of professional nurses throughout Texas May 9-15.

"This week special recognition is being paid the nurses of our state. We acknowledge the constant efforts of these guardians of our sick to perfect their skill in patient care, to increase their knowledge in nursing techniques, and to do all in their power to contribute to good health.

"THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of May 9-15, 1965, as TEXAS NURSE WEEK and commend to the attention of our

FAMILIAR FACES to local residents are two nurses who have spent many years tending to the needs of patients from the county area with friendships being formed from the associations. Miss Bertha Schuchert, left, took her training at Stamford Hospital in Stamford, and has been at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital since 1932. Mrs. Ben Asbury, right, is an orthopedic nurse who had her training at St. Paul Hospital, Dallas, and has worked here since 1939.

THE WOUNDS OF WAR may linger long after the sounds of battle cease, and nurses at the Veteran's Administration Hospital are quick to feel compassion for the casualties of combat. Shown checking supplies are Mrs. Dick Egan of Millard Fullmore School of Nursing, Buffalo, N. Y.; Miss Charlene Goins, Hotel Dieu, Beaumont; and Miss Priscilla Brown, Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, N. Y.

CHECKING CHARTS is a daily routine for Mrs. Delbert Hutchings, left, director of nurses at Cowper Clinic and Hospital, who confers with Mrs. Howard Christiansen concerning a patient's medication. Mrs. Hutchings was trained at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, and Mrs. Christiansen is a graduate of St. Luke's Hospital in Denver, Colo.

citizens the outstanding contributions of Texas' Women in White."
Mrs. Charles Condray, president of the Big Spring Chapter of the Texas Nurses' Association, said this week. "We do not forget our patients during Texas Nurse Week for much of our time is devoted to finding ways to improve nursing care and to telling the general public how we are trying to bring the best possible nursing care to all who need it. This is the time we concentrate on recruiting student nurses, too."
District 24 of the Texas Nurses Association, of which Big Spring is a part, became a provisional district in 1962 when enough interested nurses were contacted. Miss Bessie Love was the first president, having served as chairman for the provisional district.
The meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month. The program committee works hard to plan programs of interest to all members so they might benefit and grow in their professions. Some are group discussions, some presented by doctors regarding a specific health entity, and others by members of related fields such as social service and civil defense.
District 24 has been active in the community by assisting with the Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine clinics, the Boy Scout First Aid Training Exams and by keeping represented on the disaster plan committee of the community.
The current officers, elected in 1964, are Mrs. Charles Condray, president, Mrs. Melvin Crawford, first vice president; Mrs. Horace Smith, second vice president; and Miss Bo Bowen, secretary and treasurer.
Members have attended workshops in the area on subjects such as mental health, the role of the professional nurse and legal aspects.
The nurses are working now on a float depicting their profession which will appear in the rodeo parade.

Miss Beverly Ann Alexander Weds John Gerald Thomas

Miss Beverly Ann Alexander of Levelland and John Gerald Thomas of Denver were married at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon in a ceremony performed in the chapel of the First Methodist Church. Dr. Ray Neil Johnson of Levelland officiated at the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Alexander, 707 W. 18th, and the bridegroom is the son of John L. Thomas of Lubbock and the late Mrs. Thomas.

The altar was banked with fern and graced with massive arrangements of calla lilies and salal foliage designed in tall brass chalice vases flanking the prie dieu where the couple knelt. Candles on the altar were entwined with English ivy and calla lilies, and white wrought iron standards holding satin love knots marked the bridal aisle.

Mrs. Don Newsom sang "Because" and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" accompanied by Mrs. Royce Samford of Levelland. The couple knelt on the prie dieu as Mrs. Newsom sang "The Lord's Prayer."

IVORY GOWN
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal ivory gown of soie with a sculptured bateau neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The fitted bodice was fastened at the back with tiny self buttons and the princess style skirt swept into a chapel train. Her veil was an imported white mantilla edged with lace and mounted on a pillbox sprinkled with seed pearls.

Carried atop an heirloom Bible, the hand style wedding bouquet was formed of Stephanotis centered with a white orchid and showered with satin picot ribbon. The Bible was carried by the bride's great-great grandmother in her wedding. For the traditional items, the bride wore a blue garter and placed a penny in her shoe. For something borrowed, she wore white lace mitts worn by Mrs. Jack Gully in her wedding.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Sherri Alexander. She was attired in a formal gown of pink peau de soie, the belted skirt and shell top accented with an eyelet design. Her headpiece was a pink peau de soie rose touched with silk illusion, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of Elf pink roses showered with pink and white satin streamers.

The bridegroom was attended by Robert D. Steele of Midland. Ushers were Ray, Don and Mark Alexander, brothers of the bride, and the altar tapers were lighted by another brother, Mike.

Coahoma Pupils Give Program

Piano students of Mrs. R. L. Wood will present a musical program Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Coahoma High School auditorium. Each student will play a classical selection and will accompany the audience in the singing of a hymn. Several piano duets will be included in the program.

Piano pupils being presented will be Debbie Wood, Cheryle and Sandra Schaefer, Teresa Duke, Nancy and Dean Wood, Janet Atwell, Kathy Allen, Mark and Stanley Lowe, Phyllis Winn, Bennie Graves, Susan Balzer, Nan and Tim Whittington, Arlene Milliken and Elicia Keele.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Johnson, 1701 Abbott, Alamogordo, N. M., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sheron, to Tommy Crosby, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Crosby, 1425 Florida, Alamogordo. The couple plans to be married June 19 in the Heights Baptist Church there with the Rev. Paul L. Stanton, uncle of the bridegroom, officiating. The bride-elect is a former local resident and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Goss and L. S. Johnson of Big Spring.

MRS. JOHN GERALD THOMAS

her bouquet. The couple will be at home at 230-B Hickory, Levelland, where the bride is assistant county home demonstration agent for Hockley County and the bridegroom is employed by Texas and Pacific Oil Company.

RECEPTION
The reception was held in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club where the bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and appointed with silver. The centerpiece was a branched silver candelabrum entwined with English ivy and pink Elf roses. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of pink Elf roses and white Tiara roses, and the maid of honor's bouquet graced the register table. Rice bags were distributed to the guests by Rhonda and Carla Parker, nieces of the bridegroom; Rebecca Cowling, cousin of the bride, and Mary Jane Gulley. Guests were registered by Mrs. Eddie R. Parker, Crane, sister of the bridegroom.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Ben Cowling of Kermit and Mrs. Bernice Cochran of Denver City, aunts of the bride; Miss Sally Rucker, Levelland; Miss Melba Raines, and Mrs. Eddie Parker and Mrs. Carl Foster, sisters of the bridegroom; Lubbock; Mrs. Robert Steele, Midland; and Miss Sara King.

The bride, a graduate of Texas Tech, Lubbock, with a BS in Home Economics Education, is doing graduate work at Tech.

Miss Carpenter Becomes Bride Of Thomas E. Hollis

Miss Alla Faye Carpenter became the bride of Thomas Eston Hollis in a double ring ceremony performed at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Westside Baptist Church. The Rev. R. L. Butler, Sweetwater, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated for the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Carpenter, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hollis. Both families live on Jonesboro Road.

The bridal altar was centered with a white arch entwined with huckleberry and centered with 2 tall palm. On either side were large arrangements of Majestic daisies, and seven-branched candelabra, graced with emerald fern, held white cathedral tapers. Tall palms completed the arrangement.

Mrs. Jesse McCormick, organist, accompanied Miss Dixie Todd as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" "Ave Maria," and as the couple knelt on a prie dieu, "The Lord's Prayer."

CHANTILLY LACE

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, designed by her mother. Tiny pearls trimmed the fitted bodice, dramatized by a garland of cabbage roses which embraced the waistline. Re-embroidered scallops of lace accented the bouffant skirt and hemline which swept into a chapel train.

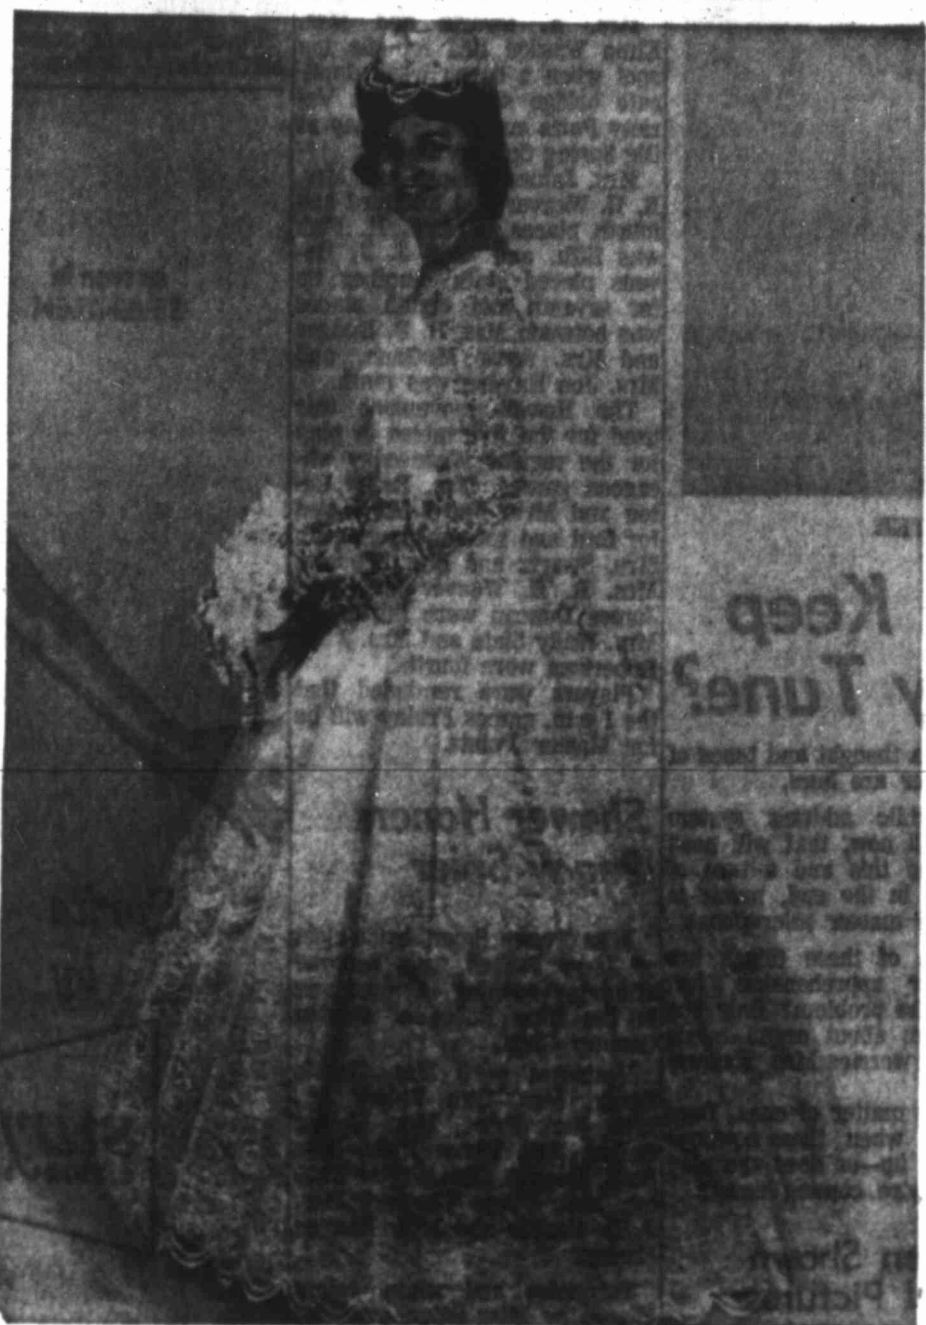

The headpiece was a satin cabbage rose atop a lace cap, enhanced with tiny pearls and attached to a veil of tulle. Following tradition, the bride carried a Bible borrowed from Mrs. Benny Welch of Stanton; her bridal gown was new and she wore a blue garter made by Mrs. Charles Powell of Stanton. Something old was a handkerchief which her sister, Mrs. G. W. Martin Jr., Stanton, had carried in her wedding, and in the bridal slippers were pennies with the birth dates of the couple.

The bride carried a cascade of white glamelias backed in tulle, pearl leaves and showered in picot satin.

Mrs. Martin attended her sister as matron of honor. She and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Jerry Baugh, Stanton, were identically dressed in maize dacon batiste, featuring scalloped sweetheart necklines and scalloped sleeves. Bouffant skirts joined the fitted bodices. The matching cabbage rose headpieces were scattered with seed pearls, and their flowers were small baskets of Marguerite daisies tied in yellow satin.

Serving as best man was Preston Hollis, Colby, Kans., twin brother of the bridegroom. Groomsman was James Hollis, another brother of the bridegroom. The guests were seated by Loyd Underwood, Esco Hamlin and Roger Long.

Lisa Ann and Susan Jan Martin, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They carried lace baskets of daisies and lily of the valley. Dennis Martin, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a heart-shaped satin and lace pillow. The altar tapers were lighted by Elaine Martin, niece of the bride, and Carolyn Roane, a cousin of the bride.

WEDDING TRIP.

For a trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride donned a two-piece suit of white and aqua. Her small hat was of black straw and she wore black patent accessories. The glamelia corsage was from her bridal bouquet. Upon returning, the couple will make a home in Silver Heels.

Both attended Howard County Junior College, and the bride attended Divide High School. Nolan, who is employed by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc., Stanton. The bridegroom attended Big Spring High School and is an employe of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company.

Following the exchange of vows, guests gathered in the fellowship hall where they were received by the newly-married pair, their parents and attendants.

On the bride's table was a Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crim, Roland Myrick, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Welch, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Eiland, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. G. B. Therwanger, Mrs. Nobye Hamilton and Lela, Mr. and Mrs. Tom, Ed Angel, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Simpson, Sam Houston and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Chandler; and Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, all of Stanton.

Also, Mrs. R. L. Butler, Sweetwater; G. W. Martin Jr., Ackery; Jerry Baugh, Stanton, Mrs. Mike Holcomb, Tarzan; and Mrs. Preston Hollis, Colby, Kans.

MRS. CHAMP RAINWATER

Will Cowboys Keep Time To Lively Tune?

By JO ANN PHINIZY

"There let the pealing organ blow, to the full-voiced quire below, in service high, and anthems clear."

John Milton said that, as late as 1674. This year, Mrs. Champ Rainwater wonders if he had even considered the problem of organ music at rodeos.

She has. Fact is, she has been wondering ever since she accepted an invitation from E. P. Drive, secretary of the Big Spring Rodeo Association to play the organ at the Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo and Reunion.

It's not that Mrs. Rainwater isn't familiar with rodeos and the western way of doing things. She was born in Bristow, Okla., and has been in Big Spring since "before most of the streets were paved." In her front yard, at 716 Hillside, she even has a few well-tended mesquite trees.

It's not that Mrs. Rainwater is worried about lack of experience. She was 15 years old when she first started playing the organ. She studied music at the Busch Conservatory, Chicago, Ill., and at Oklahoma State College.

In the silent movie days of 1928-29, very often Mrs. Rainwater was heard playing the musical backgrounds. Her Big Spring debut was at the 1949 Centennial celebration. That was back when the only "borrowable" organ in town belonged to Coy Nalley. Since then, Mrs. Rainwater, with an assist from traditional wedding music has escorted many a bride from church door to altar.

Experience is of no concern. What then is the problem? Is it the type of music required of a rodeo? Nope. Mrs. Rainwater's repertoire needs only the nudge of a thought and tunes of any caliber are hers.

The public address system then? Well now, that will need a touch of this and a turn of that. But in the end, music is certain to master microphone.

If none of these things are cause for apprehension, just what is the problem? Only one small item about organ music at rodeos worries Mrs. Rainwater.

It's this matter of cues. Does she play when those cowboys are going up—or does she play when they're coming down?

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Some people I know have been without the sight of rain for such a long time when the rain finally came Thursday night they thought it was just another sandstorm blowing up. Come to think of it, the late evening light behind the big show out our way did give it a pinkish appearance.

But it was wet . . . that I know for sure.

MR. and MRS. ROY PERCIEFIELD of Las Vegas, Nev., are taking credit for the rain. Seems that nearly every time they come here for a visit, rain also comes . . . which brings us to think they've been away too long. They are here for two weeks and will stay with the JONES LAMARS while getting in a good bit of visiting with other relatives and friends.

MRS. IRENE DEMPSEY is a patient in the Ector County Hospital in Odessa where she has been for several weeks. Her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Dempsey make their home in Odessa.

MR. and MRS. BOB BRANNON are in Waco for the weekend visiting former residents, MR. and MRS. COY CONNER.

When the ELMER BOATLERS were in Cerulean, Ky., last week they visited MRS. BROWNIE DUNNING RAWLS who has been hospitalized. Mrs. Rawls is a former resident of Big Spring who keeps in close touch with friends here.

Guests during the past week in the home of MR. and MRS. STEWART DICKSON, 1304 Ridgeroad, were her parents, MR. and MRS. OTHO CONAWAY of Westbrook. Also visiting were his parents, the Q. Q. DICKSONS of Colorado City and his grandmother, MRS. Q. Q. DICKSON SR., of Corsicana.

HELEN TRACY SMITH, who is a sister of Horace and Paul Reagan, has her book, "Basic Story Techniques," displayed in the top honor book exhibit all this month at the Chicago, Ill., Public Library. This is an annual exhibit sponsored by the Chicago Book Clinic, an organization interested in promoting the highest standards in craftsmanship. The books were judged by a reader, publisher, printer and designer. Oklahoma University Press (which published her book) had eight of the 42 books selected, the most of any. Mrs. Smith directs the correspondence school in the OU school for professional writers.

MRS. D. G. HARRIS was proud of her entry in KBYG's contest for Mother of the Year. . . . She had entered the name of her former Sunday school teacher as her choice for the honor by writing a letter to the station telling of the attributes

"Miss Ideal Nurse"

Mrs. Tommy Gilmore, Abilene, former Big Spring resident and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Mrs. Gilmore is a graduate of Forsan High School and will graduate from nurses training July 31.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLIE HARTZOG
No doubt it is purely coincidental, but this week when we are officially no longer president of the Officers Wives Club, happens to be National Pluck a Chicken Week. Our sympathies, poor chicken, we too have been stripped of our office, responsibilities, and after this column, also of our privilege of appearing in print. Plucked we do feel somewhat, a natural reaction, but also we feel grateful for all the help, encouragement and friends it has been our privilege to know this past year. Indeed, these past seven years in Big Spring, as we leave in July to return to South Carolina.

Mrs. T. C. Skancky will take over this column and we wish her well.
The Webb Ladies Golf Association will have their elections May 25th and will award the tournament trophies then if the weather permits such a tourney in the interim. A luncheon will be held, and Mrs. Barry Butler urges early reservations for those interested among the ladies who golf at Webb.

FIS TRIP
The current rainy weather of course brings mud, and "mud" is a middle name around the home of Capt. Joe Murphy of the 31st FIS. It seems that Mrs. Murphy, having bade fare well to the man of the house as his squadron left last week, decided to fight the lonesomeness by visiting relatives in Fort Worth, Alas, Capt. Murphy did not take off and returned home that afternoon... to TV dinners, no doubt, as his chief cook and bottle washer was well on the way by then to Fort Worth.

Meanwhile, the other wives in that squadron took all the children, dogs, family food, etc. and had a wingding of an old-fashioned picnic at the pavilion the day after their husbands left. Also on tap for the week was a social get-together at the home of Mrs. R. N. Mercer and a coffee at the home of Mrs. Jim Middleton. The best medicine as anyone knows is keeping busy, for self-pity and staying home only makes things worse. Also solving the problem is Mrs. Kirk whose husband is flight surgeon with the 331st Squadron. She has left for a spring-time visit in Lenoir City, Tenn., with her parents. Hope these girls don't have too much longer until their men come back again. Seems only the other day the Cuban crisis had taken them away for a while, and now as then, our heartfelt wishes go with them.

OWC BRIDGE
May 20 is the date for the Officers Wives Club bridge which will begin at 1 p.m. Note the date, for it is omitted from the calendar of the Officers Open Mess this month.

Mrs. Walter Putnam was honored with a baby shower by the wives of Class 66-D recently. Although baby isn't here yet, the hostesses gave her a tank to keep her tiger in... a playpen. Now it has to be a boy!

New members of the executive board are Mrs. G. H. Peron, parliamentarian; Mrs. Betty Picking, roster; Mrs. G. R. King, Thrift Shop; Mrs. R. Friedman, reservations; Mrs. J. B. Baird, coffees; Mrs. Gary Heartstill, special activities; Mrs. J. Fitzsimmons, luncheons; Mrs. L. L. Shane, nursery; Mrs. R. L. Gardner, welfare; Mrs. A. P. Keith, welcome; Mrs. R. G. Piland, bridge; and Mrs. W. E. Brown, hospital gifts. There are already some exciting new ideas to come from this new group of OWC board members, and the coming year promises to be a full one with many new activities and projects for everyone. Best wishes to Mrs. Timothy Thomas, new president, and her co-workers.

Monday will no doubt be windy, as we sign off our literary career and certain of the Herald folk utter sighs of relief. We have enjoyed twitting the patient souls there, and sincerely hope we haven't trod too many toes in the process. Thanks to you, one and all.

Wedding Held In Coahoma

Miss Linda Lee Painter and John Davis West exchanged wedding vows at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church of Coahoma. The single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Horace Whiteside. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. West, Coahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Painter, Gail Rt.

The bridal aisle led to an altar flanked with wedding palms and centered with a basket of white gladioli and candelabra holding white cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Harold Talbot, vocalist, and Mrs. Leslie Green, organist, presented a program of wedding music including "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white organza and lace. The princess bodice had a scalloped neckline and long lace sleeves. The full white organza skirt was edged with lace and caught at the hemline with bows. Her veil of illusion was of waist-length white net held with a pearl crown.

and each carried a bouquet of feathered chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom's brother, H. W. West of Coahoma, served as best man, and ushers were Horace Earl Puckett and Joe Robert Spencer.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was wearing a pink suit trimmed in white with white accessories. Their address will be Rt. 1, Box 180, Big Spring.

The bride attended Big Spring High School. She is now a student at Howard County Junior College where she is active in sports. The bridegroom attended Coahoma High School and is employed with Rayna Drilling Company.

The bride and bridegroom were honored at a reception in the church where they were joined in welcoming guests by their parents and attendants. The refreshment table featured a centerpiece made from the attendants' bouquets. The three-tiered white wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Theresa Foster and Miss Mildred Puckett served refreshments, and Miss Patty Jones was in charge of the register.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Painter, Louisville, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Painter and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Andrews, all of Odessa.

Receives Coveted Cap Of Registered Nurse

By JO BRIGHT

Three years ago, Mrs. E. C. Muskardin was recognized for being the second highest of 710 Texas women taking the state examinations for Licensed Vocational Nurse. Her 92.4 was the best made by a student in the Howard County Junior College LVN class.

At that time, Mrs. Muskardin determined to fulfill the life-time ambition to become a registered nurse, which somehow, other things had taken precedence over in earlier years. With singleness of purpose, and knowing it would not be an easy thing to accomplish, she set about earning the coveted Registered Nurse title she now holds.

Mrs. Muskardin was born in Kansas City, Mo., the only child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson, who still reside there. She was educated in Kansas, and eventually became an airline hostess with TWA, flying out of Kansas City.

Mrs. Muskardin came to Big Spring when her husband, a member of the Air Force, was stationed at Webb AFB. She did sales work here before deciding to enter LVN training.

After graduation from H.C.J.C., she continued her education at Odessa Junior College where she attended classes full time without a break in schedule. She carried 18 to 20 college hours plus the time spent in training at Medical Center Hospital.

LONG HOURS

It wasn't an easy schedule, Mrs. Muskardin said, that trainees were required to "dress in" at the hospital and be on the floor by 6:45 every morning and often had lecture classes which lasted as late as 5:30 p.m. This was the routine for five days a week. The weekends were free, but if you wanted to succeed, those days were spent preparing homework.

Mrs. Muskardin recalls that it was a difficult time. The course was hard—and the discipline harder, perhaps because it was a matter of self-discipline. Of the 40 women who were her classmates, only 17 completed the course to win their caps. The accelerated course meant that the trainees were completing in two years what had previously required three. They had to put in the same number of hours to pass the state board exams as those taking the longer course.

A member of Phi Theta Kappa national honorary society, Mrs. Muskardin attended the college on an academic scholarship throughout her training. This required at least a 2.5 level out of a three point program. She was graduated Aug. 29, 1964. When she took the state board exams, she made 97 on surgical, 96 on medical and 93 on psychology.

VA STAFF

Returning here in September of 1964, she did special duty at Howard County Hospital Foundation before becoming a staff nurse at the Veteran's Administration Hospital where she was assigned to medical service and rehabilitation. Her shift rotates in such a manner that she may work days for two months then take a night shift for the following month. She is working now through the Division of Extension, Texas Tech, on hours which will transfer later to Texas Christian University where she hopes to take advanced medical and surgical work.

Mrs. Muskardin's determination has proven an inspiration to at least one person. Her husband has retired after 21 years in service—and will enter nurse training this fall.

PERSON-TO-PERSON BANKING FACILITY
Only air curtain separates customer and teller

State National Units To Open

The State National Bank begins a new adventure in person-to-person banking Monday when it opens its new drive-in facilities immediately north of the existing bank plant at Second and Main.

The three new windows not only will speed up deposits for motorists, but they will make banking much easier. Tellers are not in cages, but they sit in work areas with open doors. They can, if they like, reach or step out to the car. This close contact eliminates the need for mechanical sound aid.

This additional service is part of an expansion program on the quarter of a block which the bank acquired last year to the immediate north. Another part of the improvements is a new glassed-in area which will accommodate at least two additional desks off the present banking area. The drive-in units are so arranged that they may be seen easily at all times from the glassed-in office.

OTHER AIDS
At the rear of the office area is the mechanical room, which supplies the vastly increased air conditioning demands. It also will provide more storage, and in it will be a second letter and night depository drop.

The present drive-in window which opens from the west end of the bank on to the alley between Main and Scurry Streets will be continued for commercial customers. This, with the three new ones, has stack-up space for 30 to 40 cars should the demand arise.

Entrance is either from the Main Street or Scurry Street sides, and cars using the new drive-in windows will exit into Main Street.

BANKING EASIER
The arrangement is designed to make banking as easy as talking with your service station attendant.

It is based on a unique arrangement which permits the sliding doors of the work units to remain wide open at all times and permit free, casual contact between teller and customer. The trick of it is an air curtain which takes the place of the door.

Coming from an overhead vent at a velocity up to 1,900 cfm, this indivisible shield of air is drawn from the bank's interior and therefore is compatible with both the exterior and the interior temperatures of the work unit. In summer it holds the cool air in the work unit, and in the winter, it holds the cold and the wind back.

Riding Club Picks Uniforms

GARDEN CITY — The Glasscock County Riding Club recently elected Shannon Branham as chief advisor and J. L. Sawyers and Johnny Sherrod as assistant advisors.

The club chose white western shirts with black vests as the official club uniform. The symbol of the club will be a circle with the club name across the top and bottom and a horse head in the center. The hats will be white with black hat bands.

The club is planning a playday June 27 and all area riding clubs are invited. They will meet on the first Thursdays of each month.

Methodists Plan Annual Meeting

LUBBOCK — Hundreds of Methodist pastors and lay leaders from the vast Northwest Texas Annual Conference of The Methodist Church will gather in Lubbock, May 24-28 for the 56th annual meeting of the Conference.

Dr. Dow Kirkpatrick, pastor of The First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill., and a leader in many phases of Methodist activity on the national scene, will be the conference preacher.

This year's conference will be held at First Methodist Church in Lubbock under the guidance and direction of Bishop O. Eugene Slater. This will be Bishop Slater's first full annual conference meeting since returning to the Northwest Texas section last June. He was pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo for 10 years and had been presiding bishop over the Kansas Area from 1960 to 1964.

Bishop Slater will formally open the 1965 Annual Conference at 7:30 p.m. on May 24 with a communion service, and the first business session will be held at 8:45 a.m. on Tuesday, May 25. The conference will run through Friday noon, May 28, with the reading of appointments scheduled late that morning.

Dr. Kirkpatrick's first sermon will be Tuesday night, May 25.

Indications are that this year's conference business sessions will be eventful. One of the first items of business is a proposal to reduce the number of districts in the Northwest Texas Conference from nine to seven. Stamford and Brownfield districts are rumored as subjects.

A special committee appointed at the last session of the Conference will make its recommendations concerning the number of districts. The proposal is to reduce the number from nine to eight for the 1965-66 year, and that the second district be eliminated as soon as flexibility in ministerial appointments makes it feasible, either this year or any year in the future.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes will propose construction of a Methodist retirement home in Abilene, the first unit of which would cost about $120,000.

The Northwest Texas Conference will further study plans to eliminate the Central Jurisdiction (Negro churches and conferences) and make its recommendations regarding absorption of these churches to the South Central Jurisdiction of The Methodist Church, the administrative body which coordinates work of the church in the Southwestern United States.

Spring Concert Of HCJC Choir Set For Monday

With music to suit most any taste, the Howard County Junior College Choir will be heard in its annual spring concert at 8 p.m. Monday in the College Auditorium.

In addition to the resonant religious works and then a menu of lighter and lifting music, the program will include a piano solo by Jack Hendrix, chairman of the music department, who will be making his last public appearance after 11 years at the college.

All proceeds from tickets ($1 adults, 50 cents students) will go to the college music scholarship fund.

Twenty-five voices will be under the direction of Gary Ebensberger. The opening passage will be "Agnus Dei," Pergolesi; "Thanks Be Unto Christ," Schütz; "Christ Atoned for Our Transgressions," Eberlin; "Cantique de Jean Racine," Faure; "The Eyes of All Wait Upon Thee," Berter.

Following the intermission the program takes an entirely different tack with "Everything's Coming Up Roses," from Gypsy. Then there will be four folk songs by Brahms, "In the Night," "I'm Going Away," "The Dead Youth," and "How Lovely is the Maytime."

Once again the tempo changes with Gershwin's "Oh Lawd, I'm on My Way," from Porgy and Bess; then "Tonight" from Bernstein's West Side Story with Marilyn Lawson as soprano soloist. For a touch of Rodgers and Hammerstein, there will be "Climb Every Mountain" from the "Sound of Music."

Dawson's "Soon Ah Will Be Done" will add a folksy, spiritual touch. Choral selections from Camelot include the title, plus "I Loved You Once in Silence," "How to Handle a Woman," and "If Ever I Would Leave You."

Choir personnel includes Judy Atkinson, Sandra Kaye Clark, Carol Sue Duncan, Beverly Ann Green, Marilyn Jo Lawson, and Joanna Patterson, sopranos; Kay Dyer, Sara Ann Gibbs, Jennie Lucile Johnson, Mary Frances Maline, Eunice Scurlark, altos; George Brent Bailey, James Bruce Frazier, Eddy Lee Nelson, Gery Lynn O'Dell and Milton Perkins, tenors; James Michael Barrett, Coye Lee Vurton, Robert Wayne Clay, Forrest Clinton Gambill II, Ronnie Mac Osburne, Donald Lee Pierce, Andrew J. Pirkle Jr., Albert J. Pruitt, and Carl Duke Reynolds.

A Devotional For The Day

I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Matthew 16:18)

PRAYER: O God, who willest not the death of a sinner, but that he should be converted and live, forgive the sins of us who turn to Thee with all our heart. Extend our vision and grant us eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Coahoma Needs School Improvements

Voters of the Coahoma Independent School District will be afforded an opportunity to vote on a $395,000 school bond issue on June 5. Every voter in the district has an obligation to cast a ballot on the issue the way he or she sees it. We hope a majority of voters will look with favor on the proposals.

In January, a $450,000 proposal was turned down by less than 2-1. Although it was on an entirely separate issue, the proposal of a swimming pool is conceded to have hurt the whole program in voter appeal (not that it should necessarily have, for there will come a time when this will be a must in larger physical education programs). At the same time, unity was lacking in some respects, and issues that had nothing to do with the building program got injected into the picture.

There is reason to believe that these obstacles have been largely overcome. Most people will agree that the Coahoma district needs improvements—some of them desperately so.

Coahoma is justly proud of its resurgence in the past decade and of its potential for growth. These, however, cannot far outstrip the schools, and this is why, from an objective point of view, we believe that patrons need to give earnest consideration to endorsing the bonds.

Top Flight Entertainment

For more than three decades Big Spring annually has had a major rodeo production, and Wednesday the first of four evening performances of the 1965 edition will be presented.

The fact that this show has continued through 32 years (with one year out during World War II) is ample proof that it has always been a top flight production.

The rodeo is put on by old pros who know how to keep a production moving crisply and to give the fans what they came for—rawbone action. It is staged in a plant that has few equals and no superior in the Southwest.

Many of the nation's best rodeo cowboys will be entered, but there will be enough of the young hopefuls who give it a college try and occasionally come through with sparkling times and rides.

It all adds up to a colorful bit of entertainment. You can't go wrong in recommending it, or best of all, attending it.

David Lawrence Monroe, Truman And Johnson

WASHINGTON — Maybe lots of people don't like to read what happened in yesteryears, and even some members of Congress would prefer to forget what their own government did in crises quite similar to those that are happening today. But, by coincidence, former President Harry S. Truman had his 81st birthday a few days ago, and this occasioned a re-reading of Mr. Truman's two volumes of memoirs, certain pages of which outline American foreign policy in words that read as if they had been written in 1965 in relation to Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

MR. TRUMAN was faced by a crisis in Greece and Turkey in 1946 and 1947. Both countries raised problems more than 3,000 miles away from our shores. The two nations were being challenged by Communist threats from within and without. Isolationists emerged at the time in

Billy Graham

A friend and I are high school students and have an opportunity to work on a farm out west this summer. Our parents are not very happy about the idea but we are. We have never worked on a farm, but have spent several summers in camp. What do you think about this?

R.N.

You have a very good idea, and I hope it will come to pass. You being away at camp during the past few summers has accustomed you to being away from home, so that homesickness should not be a problem to you.

Your plan has many advantages—travel on your own to some distant place, seeing a new part of the world, making new friends, being on your own after a fashion, learning what hard work really is, and getting close to Mother Nature herself. So much of our city life is detached from reality. Experience on a farm can be very informative and inspiring to you. Be sure that the work will not be easy; rather, the hours will be long, the duties heavy, the pace in time of harvest will be pretty swift, but you will be built up physically for fall sports more on the farm than in any way I can think of. The food will be good, and plenty of it, and it will not be all work and no fun.

Friends you find on the farm will prove to be some of the best you can ever have. I think every boy should have some time on a farm. Also it is easier to meditate on spiritual things on the farm. We are living in tense days. You should give plenty of thought to your relationship to Christ. Trust Him early in life—and the future will be bright.

HUNG JURY

J. A. Livingston Bulls Outnumber Bears 2 To 1 In Wall Street

PHILADELPHIA — Two-thirds bull, one-third bear. Can you picture such a beast? If yes, you have the "feel" of the 18th annual convention of The Financial Analysts Federation which starts here today.

The composite animal, straight out of Wall Street heraldy, sums up the response to my poll of financial analysts prior to their arrival in Philadelphia. Two questions were asked:

1. What's ahead for the stock market?
2. What's likely to be the trend in industrial production?

OF THE 410 analysts who responded, 270, or exactly 66 per cent, were classed as bulls because they forecast "a higher Dow Jones industrial average in December, 1966."

These bulls also envisioned a higher level in the Federal Reserve Board index of industrial production a year and a half hence—or with this difference: Forty-nine, or 18 per cent, did not attempt to estimate production. Perhaps these non-answerers are technicians who look at the stock market as an entity, in itself. They let the ticker tell its own story.

THE BULLS are not uniform in their optimism. They can be sub-divided. Nearly a third—31 per cent—are out-outers. They expect the Dow Jones average to be successively higher at the end of the year, at the end of June, 1966, and again at the end of December, 1966.

The majority of the bulls—69 per cent—foresee an interruption in the long advance, but differ as to timing.

Some (24 per cent) expect a stock market drop in the next six months (Period I—from now until the end of 1965). A greater proportion counts on a decline from January to June 30 next year (Period II), and a smaller but significant percentage in the last half of next year (Period III).

THE TWO-THIRDS bull, one-third-bear emblem fits not only this convention but also Wall Street in general. It has been more profitable to be bullish than bearish—historically. Therefore bulls tend to outnumber bears.

The bearish minority—to be successful—must be right in timing. Otherwise, the results are painful.

But because the profits are large and quick, some Wall Streeters will always try to pick the downturn. The survey indicates this anew.

AMONG 148 BEARS, only one out of five (19 per cent) was a down-down-down pessimist on stock prices. But on production, the proportion rose to one out of four.

And 47 per cent of the bears can be labeled "semi-optimists." They expect the worst to be over by June, 1966. Then, the stock market will turn up. In production, however, this proportion drops to 43 per cent.

However, and this is significant, more than half of the bears expect a downward trend in the last half of 1966.

PUTTING THE forecasts of bulls and bears together, getting a consensus, provides a rough measure of overall sentiment. But it has a disadvantage. The forecasts of the bears tend to

Around The Rim Helpful Advice On Lawn Care

It must be about time for a seasonal report on my tribulations with the lawn.

A lawn can best be defined as that wretched area surrounding a residence which is highly attractive to insects, weeds and various categories of poisonous matter; and the same time is abhorrent to grass.

BUT MAN, being a creature of habit, has never absorbed this definition. He thinks that if he struggles manfully enough, uses enough special treatments and even stubbornly consents to increasing his monetary outlay, he will come up with a lawn that resembles green grass.

Another thing that prompts him is the unstinted encouragement, another advice given by his fellow beings. There are two areas in which people will unhesitatingly give suggestions and recite personal triumph: One is telling what kind of medication to try for any given disease; the other is what to do to make your grass grow.

IT GOES BACK to the winter months. One helpful soul said you ought to skin off the top of the grass and give the roots a chance; no sooner than I had the top scraped, another knowledgeable fellow said this was a dreadful mistake. How do you get the top back on?

Fellow of another school of philosophy said burn the dead grass, by all means; makes the stuff come out more verdant than ever. About the time I finished the burning, a good advisor said that was a fatal mistake: now the roots are all burned. How do you undo a grass fire?

FURTHER HELP came in a suggestion to get the fertilizer on real early. No sooner said than done, when another counselor said you have put that stuff on too soon; you'll burn up the new shoots. How do you retrieve the plant food you have sprayed on your lawn?

We need not even mention those views which differ in that one favors chemical fertilizer, the other natural compost. The only out for that, of course, is to use 'em both.

GOOD ADVICE always comes on the method of irrigation. A knowledgeable citizen (who has a lovely lawn) said water lightly every day. Another knowledgeable citizen (he has a lovely lawn, too) said that's all wrong; you give it a real deep soaking once a week. If you try to satisfy both accounts—light sprinkling each day; heavy irrigation weekly—you find someone who will tell you that you are killing that grass with too much water.

There has been counsel on aerating the soil; and no sooner suggested than accomplished. Then comes word that this is over-exposure, and surely will set back the whole project.

THERE'S NO COUNT on how many ideas there are in setting a mower blade: high, low, medium rare and medium well. I just rotate the levels, and if that doesn't keep a lawn puzzled, what do you think does?

Varied expert(?) opinion exists on weeding, too. Brave souls will advise you to leave the spring weeds alone; when the grass comes out strong in the summer, it will choke all the weeds out.

TRIED THAT, too. And now have the prettiest weed lawn in all the city. Some people use concrete to whip the grass problem; others use ground pebbles, cactus plants and things. Me, I use weeds instead of grass. No cost, no trouble, no nothing.

Art Buchwald Foreign Policy On Campus

WASHINGTON — United States foreign policy is going through its most difficult phase. Not only are we having trouble convincing our Western allies and our South American friends that we are doing the right thing, but we're having a heck of a time persuading our own university students and professors.

The President has ordered truth squads sent out to American college campuses, and it is only the first of many plans in the works to get the students and professors back on our side.

The Under Secretary of State in Charge of University Relations recently made his report to the Cabinet. I managed to get hold of a transcript.

HE SAID, "Gentlemen, I am happy to report that West Point and the Colorado School of Mines are supporting our action in the Dominican Republic."

"What about the University of Wisconsin?" someone asked.

"They're still holding out, as is the University of Michigan."

"What are we going to do about it?"

"The Air Force is planning to drop 80,000 leaflets on their campuses this morning. Radj' Free America has gone on a 24-hour schedule and the psychological warfare people are now on the scene stirring up rumors about a left-wing takeover of the schools."

"THAT'S ALL well and good," someone said, "but it seems to me we should bomb the schools with more than leaflets just to show them we mean business."

"We've thought about it, but don't forget we have our own truth squad people there, and besides we have to think of public reaction from Harvard, Yale, and Princeton."

"Couldn't we have the U. S. Marine occupy the campuses under the guise of protecting American lives and property?"

"THAT'S BEEN discussed, but if the other universities revolt, we'll run out of Marines in no time."

"Suppose we broke off diplomatic relations with Wisconsin and Michigan?"

"The CIA is against it. If we recalled our people, they would have to pull out and it would interfere with their plans."

"What plans?"

"They're planning to put in military juntas at Wisconsin and Michigan, made up of cadet colonies from the ROTC."

"Say, that's a good idea," someone said.

"IF IT WORKS. If it doesn't work, we're going to have to deny we had anything to do with it."

"Don't you think the overthrowing of student governments is a dangerous business?" one of the Doves said.

"Not if we have proof that they're left-wing controlled. I'd rather have a ROTC junta than a rabble of leftists running the school."

"Will we notify the American Association of University Professors of our plans?"

"WE DON'T have time. Once the juntas are in, we'll ask the professors to come in and help us. But if we ask them first, they'll debate the question to kingdom come."

"How can we persuade the schools that supporting our policies is to their best interests?"

"By giving each university a billion dollars if they go along with us."

"And if they don't?"

"Then we escalate. We will start by bombing the football stadiums and the highways leading to the schools."

Marquis Childs Mann And Latin-America

WASHINGTON — As the power behind the administration's Latin-American policy Thomas C. Mann carries a heavy burden. Part of that burden—he takes it with an outwardly casual air—is the blame put on him for hardening the American line in the southern half of the hemisphere.

He has been called a reactionary who undercut the Alliance for Progress that came out of the Kennedy years. His critics see his guiding hand in the takeover in the Dominican Republic and if a military junta is finally installed this will confirm their worst suspicions.

BUT HE HAS the complete confidence of President Johnson who has just moved him up from Assistant Secretary for Inter-American Affairs to be Under Secretary for Economic Affairs. With persistent rumors that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will step out some time this year, many observers think Mann is destined for the top spot.

He describes himself as a realist. The reality in the Dominican Republic was a complete breakdown of law and order, with anarchy and wholesale death by gunfire and disease imminent. Therefore, the Marines were the only recourse.

MANN INVARIABLY impresses congressional committees with his crisp, almost-brusque discourse on the virtues of free enterprise and the doubts and dangers of monopoly, socialism and other impediments to free competition. In a speech in Mexico when he was ambassador there he cited Adam Smith's "The Wealth of Nations," the bible of the doctrinaire free enterprisers, as establishing the philosophy of the individual and his triumph through competition.

Measured against the high productivity of the free enterprise system in North America the Adam Smith-Mann philosophy has a compelling logic. But whether it has any application to the impoverished lands south of the border, where there are a few very rich and a great mass of the very poor, is a question.

WHATEVER HIS ideological bent, the realist looking at Latin America can hardly take much comfort in what he sees. Mann cites Mexico as one country advancing toward a free enterprise system. But elsewhere the evidence of progress toward a viable capitalism is hard to find.

Whether the $10 billion Alliance For Progress program could work a transformation is certainly open to doubt. Mann speaks soberly of the greatest obstacle to progress—a population doubling every 20 years. New mouths to feed absorb any surplus that might go into new investment. The birth rate in Central America may well be the highest in the world—three per cent or more ahead of India and China.

FOR THE REALIST the political picture in Latin America offers no more consolation than the economic picture. In recent years six military coups have replaced duly elected governments. Delivering the commencement address at the University of Notre Dame a year ago, Mann said: "Unilateral intervention for the purpose of forcing constitutional change in another country does not always serve either the cause of democracy or the national security interests of the United States."

BY IMPLICATION, at least, Mann seemed to be saying that one-sided intervention may or may not serve the security interests of the United States. To prevent a rebellion judged Communist-dominated from taking over in the Dominican Republic would be a requirement of America's own security.

To Your Good Health Diabetics Need To Be Careful Concerning Teeth

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Some questions that have been asked convince me that a few words about diabetes and teeth are in order. The subject isn't mentioned much, but perhaps it should be.

First of all, any focus of infection in the body is harmful for diabetics. (It's harmful for anyone, but more so for diabetics.)

There was a time when some diagnosticians refused even to examine a patient until he first had his teeth checked. In those days focal infection was of prominent concern. Well, focal infection still exists, and still does its dirty work, often subtly.

In earlier years, diabetics had notoriously bad teeth. Today, with the widespread use of insulin as well as the sugar-lowering drugs, it is possible for diabetics to eat a well-balanced diet. Their teeth are much better. In fact, in many instances their teeth are better than average because they don't encounter the dental problems that come from eating sweets and candy.

Still a person with diabetes, like anyone else, can develop deep root abscesses or pyorrhea, both of which are infections. Either can creep up without being suspected at first by the patient. You don't have to have a roaring toothache you have a root infection, and you don't have to wait for a tooth to get loose before your dentist can detect gum infections.

So have dental checkups at regular intervals. This has been said so often that we (physicians I mean) take it for granted that everybody will do so. But the fact is that some don't.

Finally, tooth extraction may at times be necessary for a number of reasons having nothing to do directly with diabetes. In such cases, dentists take precautions against infection. But when the patient has diabetes, some added caution is wise, simply because infection getting into the system is doubly hazardous for a diabetic. I know of fine dentists who, when the patient has diabetes, double check in advance with the patient's medical doctor concerning the amount, type and timing of protective drugs (sulfas or antibiotics).

For the patient himself, if you are going to have an extraction, be sure your dentist knows about it. He can't know by looking at you that you have diabetes—so tell him!

Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor is giving me probenecid for gout but hasn't said anything about diet except to refrain from fatty food. What did your article mean by "red meats"? —R.M.F.

Red meats are beef, sweetbreads, liver, heart and other such organ meats. There used to be a great deal of emphasis on diet (avoiding foods high in purines) but that was when we did not have our modern medications. We tried to do the best we could, but unless one is a heavy eater, I don't think diet can be proved to have any very great effect. Follow your doctor's advice. It makes sense to me.

Shingles can be a painful disease! To receive a copy of my booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Sands High Elects Cheerleaders

Chosen to lead cheers at Sands High School next year are, from the left, Lynda Wasson, Kay Sample, Terry Hambrick, Brenda Ingram, and Honda Kemp.

Sands Elects Next Year's SC Prexy

By DARLENE WRIGHT

Wednesday afternoon Sands High held an election for cheerleaders and Student Council president. Ann Lemon, a senior, will be the new Student Council president for the coming school year. The five cheerleaders elected are Terry Hambrick, senior; Kay Sample and Lynda Wasson, juniors; Londa Kemp, sophomore; and Brenda Ingram, freshman. The Pep Club will elect a head cheerleader from these five.

Ann Lemon will give the farewell speech to the senior class at the high school graduation exercises. Ushers will be Linda Bowlin, Terry Hambrick, Thomas Stocks, and Alvino An-cira. The junior girls will sing at the baccalaureate services and the commencement exercises. The baccalaureate services will be at 8 p.m. May 16. The commencement is to be held May 20 at 8 p.m.

The sophomore class held a party Saturday. Entertainment was swimming at the Desert Sands Motel, followed by a picnic at the park.

The senior class left on their trip last Sunday at 12 a.m. After visiting New Orleans and Houston they arrived home Friday night. Eleven seniors and four sponsors made the trip on the chartered Greyhound bus.

The eighth graders went to Balmorhea, Fort Davis, and Prude's Dude Ranch. They were gone Friday and Saturday.

Runnels To Honor Pupils At Assembly

By LYNN PUCKETT

"Buddy Day" was observed Tuesday through Friday at Runnels. Seventh grade students were assigned a buddy for each sixth grade pupil who visited Runnels. The sixth graders attended classes with this seventh grade buddy. Students from the following schools were present: Gay Hill, Washington, Lakeview, Bauer, Cedar Crest, and Kate Morrison elementary school.

Thursday was "Dress-Up Day" at Runnels. Students and teachers observed the day, making the occasion a success. Awards Assembly will be held Thursday and Friday. Thursday the Physical Achievement awards will be given. Awards will be presented to students who have made 50th percentile on each phase of the Physical Fitness Tests. Awards will also be given to the 80th Percentile and top ten achievements in the Physical Fitness Test. Other awards will include most valuable volleyball players and most valuable football players.

Friday, the Academic Awards will be presented. The Merit Awards, no grade lower than a B, and the "Honor Awards" no grade lower than an A, will be given. The American Legion Award will be given to one boy and one girl. This award is given on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and citizenship.

The freshman class party was held Friday afternoon in the Runnels Gymnasium. Runnels' Junior High Band presented a program for Rotarians at Tuesday's meeting. Following the last number, "Slovak Folk Suite," the audience gave the band a standing ovation.

The band will perform for the elementary schools next week in the effort of gaining new band members for the 1965-66 band. The band was not able to perform for the schools last week because of bad weather.

Preparations are being made by the band for the annual Rodeo Parade Friday. All three bands of Big Spring will be present at the parade.

The advanced choir plans to have its party May 28 at Moss Creek.

BUGGIES to Bombers in a Lifetime

The other day Granddad read an account in our newspaper about the miraculous speed of a B-58 bomber. He contrasted this accomplishment with the experience in his youth when he spotted his first airplane five miles outside of town — and then rode a bicycle into town in time to see the plane circling the capitol building.

It seems incredible the technological advances mankind has made in the past fifty years. Men who rode to Sunday School by horse and buggy as boys, today follow the flight of astronauts on TV. Their wives do the family laundry with the twist of a dial, and their grandchildren learn Algebra from programmed textbooks.

One unchanging fact remains. Man still needs God as the center and circumference of his life. And the Church, as God's expression, remains constant in the teaching of His Truths.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Boston Pops Will Lead Off Season

Led by the famous Boston Pops Orchestra, the Big Spring Concert Association has lined up a slate of four top-flight programs for its 1965-66 season.

On Dec. 2, Nelson & Neal, a rapidly rising piano duo, will be presented.

Next will be something new for the association—the Les Feux-Follet, a Canadian troupe of dancers and singers who will present the native songs and dances of the various cultures which came to Canada — the Indian, Eskimo, French, English, Irish, and others.

The finale will see Carlos Montoya, the flamenco guitarist, who scored so heavily in the poll of requests from the membership recently. This will be a return visit for the man who has no peer on his instrument.

Since Fielder took the Boston Pops on its first tour, the organization has become the most popular touring orchestra of its kind in North America. In eight consecutive national tours, it has set record after record, and has had demands right and left for return appearances.

Fielder and the Boston Pops have been best sellers on RCA Victor records for over 25 years. "Jalousie" was the first RCA Victor Red Seal record by an orchestra to pass the one-million sales mark. Their albums of symphonic and ballet music, operas, folk music, waltzes, marches, polkas, show tunes and contemporary American and European works have continued to top sales marks. In fact, when Victor released its list of "101 all-time best sellers," Fielder and the Pops led the list with 16 different numbers.

STAMP NEWS

Rejected Design Now On New Aerogramme

By SYD KRONISH AP Newsfeatures

A rejected design for the original John F. Kennedy memorial stamp appears on the 11-cent JFK aerogramme scheduled for issuance in Boston on May 29. The lightweight "make-it-yourself" envelope provides low cost airmail service to anywhere in the world.

The Kennedy profile portrait appears over a silhouette of a jet plane. The first-day ceremony on May 29 occur on the 48th birthday anniversary of the late President.

Israel has issued two new stamps honoring Independence Day, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency. Depicted is a major Israeli feat — the irrigation of the desert. The 37 agorot stamp shows a cutaway of the National Water Carrier, a pipeline to transform the arid region of the Negev into fruitful communities.

Also issued by Israel is a new stamp commemorating the 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Nazi prison camps by Allied troops in 1945. Depicted are the gnarled hands of victims reaching for hope, the tattered sleeve of a prison uniform and the Yellow Star of David — a mockery of the religious symbol which Jews were forced to wear under the Nazi yoke.

Ghana marks the 100th anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln by issuing four stamps. Ghana previously honored the birth of Lincoln with a stamp set in 1958. The new stamps show Lincoln's home and a vignette portrait, a portion of his Inauguration Address and a bust portrait, a full view portrait over his signature and an adaptation of the U.S. 1869 Lincoln stamp.

Monaco soon will issue a 3 franc airmail stamp honoring the birthday of Princess Stephanie. The new stamp will illustrate Princess Stephanie at the right, her younger brother at the left and mother Princess Grace in the center.

Iran has issued two new stamps for the 14th anniversary of the nationalization of its oil industry. The stamps show the map of Iran, the portrait of the Shah in a medallion and the emblem of the National Iranian Oil Co. shown in a triangle. The values are 6 rials and 14 r.

'Harlow' Opens At Ritz Today

"Harlow," a recreation of the life and times of Jean Harlow, America's controversial sex symbol of the roaring '30s, starring Carol Lynley in the title role, opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

The presentation brings the story of the Hollywood personality called the platinum blonde bombshell to the screen for the first time. The film bridges the period of Jean Harlow's film debut and her climb to the top of the Hollywood acting ladder to her death at the pinnacle of fame.

Efram Zimbalist Jr., as Miss Harlow's love and Barry Sullivan as Bello, her step-father-co-star. Ginger Rogers is starred as Mama Jean, mother of Jean Harlow.

The Academy Award winning actress' most recent appearance was as the Queen in the CBS-TV spectacular, "Cinderella."

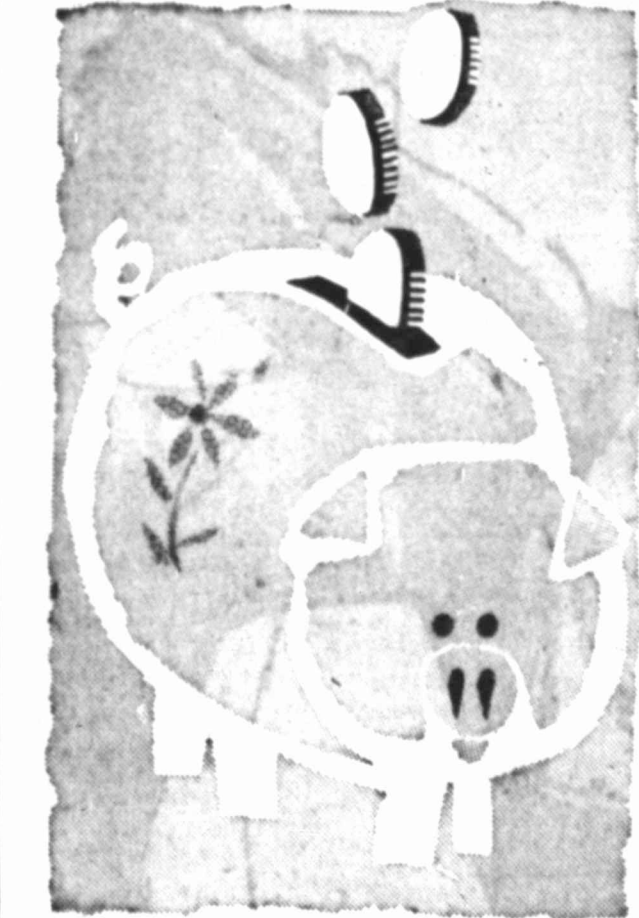

Hurd Hatfield, Lloyd Bochner, Hermione Baddeley, Audrey Totter, John Williams, Michael Dante and Jack Kruschen as Louis B. Mayer also star in the $2,000,000 film.

Nelson Riddle conducted and arranged the score for "Harlow."

Album of the main themes and score, including two top songs, "I Believed It All" and "With Open Arms," were recorded in what is believed to be the first time a sound track album has been recorded prior to filming of the picture.

'OF HUMAN BONDAGE' Kim Novak and Laurence Harvey

Kim Novak, L. Harvey Star In 'Human Bondage'

The dramatic and controversial story of a beautiful but calculating girl who plays cat-and-mouse with a man's love and comes close to ruining his career, "Of Human Bondage" stars Kim Novak and Laurence Harvey, opening Wednesday at the Ritz.

W. Somerset Maugham's story of unrequited love is set in Edwardian London. The costumes of the period, the settings of a picturesque gas-lit era, including a fireworks display at the Crystal Palace and backdrops ranging from interiors of St. Luke's teaching hospital, street scene and drawing rooms to the squalor of the Paddington slums, add variety and interest.

However, it is the heartbreaking relationship between the young medical student and the cheap Cockney waitress, who comes close to ruining his life, that holds the spectator's attention. Falling in love with the attractive but shallow girl, he neglects his studies, closes his eyes to her vulgarity and greed and subjects himself to rebuffs and humiliations. It is not until she tells him that she is going to marry another man that he resumes his work and passes his medical examinations, encouraged by the understanding of a youthful widow.

On the day when he returns to his lodgings to find her crouching on the staircase, deserted by the man who had promised to marry her and pregnant, he takes her back, resolved to take care of her child. But even now she cannot remain faithful to her benefactor and when he discovers that she is having an affair with his best friend he breaks with her again. In the story's final scenes when he, now an interne, comes upon a tragically altered Mildred who has turned to prostitution and is incurably ill, the drama reaches its climax.
